Hon. W. B. Lewis, one of the oldest citizens of Brighton township, died at his home over the river last Monday. He was 81 years of age and had been a member of the Iowa Legislature in an early day. Sam and Porte Lewis are his sons.

Heacock's Brighton ENTERPRISE is six years old; has prospered and is making him money, which is more than the numerous newspaper enterprises that have had life there have done. He is a good writer and knocks hard.—[Ainsworth Clipper.

Senator Woolson sends us state documents. We see by the Senate Journal that on Friday he presented a petition from C. K. Brown and sixty-six others from Brighton, in favor of a 2-cent fare law; also a like petition from W. P. Young and seventy-five others of Henry Co.

C. K. Brown received word that his brother, George, died of brain affection last Sunday at Geneseeo, Ill. He was a prosperous farmer of Cass Co., this state, and was on his way to Chicago with a load of cattle when he was suddenly stricken down with the disease. His wife arrived at Geneseeo before he died.

The county temperance alliance convention has been postponed from Monday to Tuesday next on account of a local entertainment, "Deestrict Skewl," to be given at Graham's opera house Monday night, in which all Washington either belong to the company or want to go and see it. Admission only 25 cents, and Cap. Kellogg is to teach. Save us a front seat.

On Tuesday occurred the wooden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. James Bidwell. About noon they were very agreeably surprised by a party of relatives and friends bouncing in upon them armed with baskets and buckets containing some of the good things of
