Department of Human Rights — Central Administration

Purpose and History

The Department of Human Rights (DHR) receives a General Fund appropriation for Central Administration in the Administration and Regulation Appropriations Act each year. This appropriation funds the centralized administrative operations of the Department. Duties of the Central Administration Division include:

- Promoting the services of other DHR divisions/programs among their respective clientele and the general public.
- Maintaining fiscal accountability for all funds received by the Department.
- Approving and processing personnel transactions and payroll.
- Coordinating purchasing activities.
- Providing administrative and clerical support.
- Promoting cooperative efforts among staff and programs.
- Supporting the various divisions in the development of their respective administrative rules.
- Assisting in the development, compilation, and dissemination of information to and from the DHR divisions on issues regarding their operations, activities, and special populations they serve.

The Iowa DHR includes the following Divisions and Commissions:

- Division of Criminal and Juvenile Justice Planning \(CJJP\)
- Division of Community Action Agencies
- Division of Community Advocacy and Services \(CAS\)
