

SUMMARY OF LEGISLATION APPROVED BY THE FIRST REGULAR SESSION OF THE SIXTY-SIXTH IOWA GENERAL ASSEMBLY
MEETING IN THE YEAR 1975

ISSUED BY THE IOWA LEGISLATIVE SERVICE BUREAU

This summary of legislation has been prepared for the use of legislators and other interested persons. The classifications of legislative enactments under specific subject headings and the summary descriptions are the work product of legislative staff personnel. It is recognized that the legislative enactments contained herein may logically fall under more than one subject heading in certain instances and perhaps differences of opinion may arise as to the summary descriptions. However, it is believed that the purpose of this compilation--that of providing interested persons with a quick reference to legislation enacted in specific areas and generally informing them of the contents of the legislation--will be served by this publication.

The various Legalizing Acts passed by the 1975 session are not included in this summary.

The compilation also contains a list of the sections of the Code of Iowa amended or repealed during the 1975 session.

- H.F. 185 By Husak, Crabb, Menke, Hutchins, and Bennett. Provides for the regulation of the transporting of live cattle, swine, sheep, or horses and carcasses thereof. The Act requires the Secretary of Agriculture to adopt and promulgate a transportation certificate which provides identification respecting the owner, shipper, transporter, destination, and cargo. Any person transporting the designated livestock is required to execute a transportation certificate when requested to do so by a law enforcement officer, and law enforcement officers are given the right to inspect, without consent of the operator, any vehicle containing the designated livestock. Penalties are provided for noncompliance. (Effective: January 1, 1976)
- H.F. 215 By Husak et al. Prohibits any processor or limited partnership with certain exceptions from owning, controlling or operating a feedlot in Iowa and calls for divestment of the property by July 1, 1985. The Act also provides for a one-year moratorium on the acquisition of agricultural land by corporations other than a family farm corporation or an authorized farm corporation, as defined in the Act, and requires reports from corporations, limited partnerships, fiduciaries, nonresident aliens and nonresident alien corporations on the agricultural activity in which they are engaged.
- H.F. 264 By Committee on Agriculture. Requires veterinarians, boarding kennels and commercial kennels to send written notice to the owners of animals not picked up by the agreed upon date. After fourteen days, the animal is deemed abandoned and the owner is deemed to have waived all rights to it. After seven more days, if after diligent effort the owner cannot be found, the veterinarian, boarding kennel, or commercial kennel may humanely destroy the animal. Patrons must be informed of the law.

chase when made on yield or grade and yield basis; increases the 100% bonding level from $200,000 to $400,000; limits to 120 days the time within which a seller may file a claim against the bank or trust company submitted by a broker or dealer; requires publication by the Secretary of Agriculture of notice of cancellation of a broker's or dealer's bond; requires all federally licensed brokers and dealers to register with the Secretary of Agriculture; and gives to the Secretary specific powers and authorities to obtain injunctions and to suspend and revoke licenses.

The Act also provides for the transfer of unobligated money between the County Brucellosis Eradication Fund and the County Tuberculosis Eradication Fund. It allows promotions to be filled from outside the civil service if a current employee does not pass one of two successive promotional examinations and otherwise qualify. The Act extends the probation period for all policemen and firemen from six months to one year. It revises the qualifications for civil service employment. The Act also changes the sanctions for a city employee running for a public elective office and grants the employee an automatic leave of absence without pay 30 days or less prior to the election.
- H.F. 723 By Committee on Cities and Towns. A number of minor changes are made in the City Code of Iowa in order to correct some errors where words or phrases were omitted or used inaccurately, or where requirements needed clarification. S.F. 526 By Committee on Cities. Changes procedures and requirements for cities under the City Code of Iowa. The law contains coordinating amendments with regard to officers' surety bonds. The power to meet federal requirements for funding is reinstated into the law. The law requires notice, hearing and a resolution, and permits extensions for agreements not to annex, and requires approval and filing of voluntary annexations and severances. The law also provides for making certain changes within forms of government, modifies the law on compensation changes for elected city officials, makes specific provision for dismissing city officials, amends procedures for adoption of ordinances and amendments, removes the mayor's right to veto if the mayor was entitled to vote on a measure, and limits the adoption of codes by reference to only those of recognized status. It modifies budgeting procedures for municipal utilities and for cities, and regulates bond issues for dams, airports, parks, TV translator systems and urban renewal, adding a reverse referendum option for urban renewal bonds and for limited amounts of general corporate purpose bonds. An inconsistent limitation in the special assessment division is eliminated, and a provision is restored to the effect that the 25% limit on special assessments does not apply in the case of underground utility connections. Provisions are added to permit cities to offer their bonds to the federal government to cover loans made by it, to make pledge orders negotiable, and to provide for a lien on the premises for unpaid charges for sewer service or solid waste disposal service so as to support revenue bonds. The provisions of chapter 415 of the Code, relating to restricted residence districts, which were formerly to be repealed, are reenacted as a new section in the city zoning chapter. The law also amends the industrial revenue bond chapter and sets limits on interest rates which cities may pay on bonds.

- H.F. 12 See County Government. Relates to use of the county indemnification fund.
- H.F. 803 By Committee on Commerce. Provides various modifications in both common law and statutory law for the purpose of easing the medical malpractice problem. The Act creates a mandatory joint underwriting association composed of all liability insurers which is obliged to write malpractice insurance for health care providers whom the Commissioner of Insurance finds are unable to obtain insurance in the market at a reasonable cost. Policies written by the Association cannot be in effect after January 1, 1977. The Act also provides limited immunity from civil suit for any person serving on a medical profession peer review organization and modifies the "collateral source" rule by requiring that amounts received by an injured person from medical and hospital insurance, unemployment compensation, and similar sources be deducted from any jury or court award of damages prior to entry of judgment. It prohibits the inclusion in pleadings of the dollar amount sought in malpractice actions and modifies the doctrine of "informed consent" by providing for a written consent which creates a legal presumption that informed consent was obtained. The Act requires each court to determine the reasonableness of a plaintiff/attorney contingency fee agreement in any medical malpractice action. It changes the discovery rule with respect to the statute of limitations in medical malpractice actions by providing an absolute six-year limitation except where either the injured person is a minor, in which case the maximum time is one year after the person's 18th birthday, or where the injury is caused by a foreign object unintentionally left in the body, in which case the maximum time is two years from discovery. The Act updates the chapter of the Code which permits health care providers to organize and operate an insurance company for their own benefit.

Under the bill, small groups of employees are allowed to be served by an existing credit union without the requirement of a common bond with those employees. The members of the county compensation board shall serve four-year terms unless disqualified as provided under section 69.2 of the Code or if a member of the board ceases to hold the elective office under which he or she originally qualified for membership on the board. After a preliminary compensation schedule is agreed to by members of the county compensation board, the schedule must be published in a county newspaper with a comparison of any compensation recommendation study received from the General Assembly within the preceding five years. After the publication, a public hearing must be held before the final compensation schedule is recommended to the board of supervisors during the month of December, 1975 and each year thereafter. The board of supervisors may reduce the amount of compensation increases recommended by the county compensation board, but any reduction must be an equal percentage for each elected county officer. In addition, the Act provides compensation increases, effective July 1, 1975, not exceeding $1,000 for salaried members of the boards of supervisors and $1,500 for the other elective county officers. If a parent or guardian withholds consent and the judge finds the consent has been unreasonably withheld, the judge may approve the marriage without consent. The Act provides that if a marriage is solemnized without procuring a license, the parties married and all persons aiding them are guilty of a simple misdemeanor. - S.F. 499 By Committee on Human Resources. Revises Iowa's laws governing the hospitalization and treatment of persons for mental illness, and in particular, involuntary hospitalization or treatment. The county commissions of hospitalization are abolished, and the responsibility for deciding that an individual should be hospitalized or required to accept treatment for mental illness, against that individual's wishes, is transferred to the district court. A procedure which affords protection against arbitrary or ill-considered action in such cases is prescribed, and no person may be deprived of liberty by reason of mental illness without this procedure having been followed unless the court or a magistrate finds that the person involved presents a threat of physical harm to himself or herself or to others. Even then, the detention of the person may not continue beyond the time required to follow the prescribed legal procedure unless that procedure confirms the need for the person's hospitalization. Three other major provisions of the Act are the introduction to Iowa of the concept of court-ordered treatment on an out-patient basis which permits needed treatment to be provided with less disruption of the patient's life, authority for the appointment of special judicial officers to handle hospitalization cases in counties where district judges may not be sufficiently accessible to handle these cases expeditiously and a restriction against regarding a person hospitalized or treated for mental illness as legally incompetent or under a legal disability, e.g., the inability to obtain or keep a drivers license. The issue of a person's competence may be raised when a petition for his or her hospitalization is filed, but is not mandatory. (Effective: January 1, 1976)

ELECTIONS

H.F. 160 By Caffrey. Changes the requirements for canvass of votes for governor to conform with the four-year term of the Governor.

H.F. 700 By Committee on State Government. Revises a number of Iowa's election laws, perhaps most importantly those relating to hours of voting and to registration of voters. Polls will now be open from 7:00 a.m. until 9:00 p.m. (rather than 8:00 p.m.) on election day. It is now possible to register by mail if this is done at least 25 days before the earliest election in which the registrant wishes to vote; the deadline of ten days prior to an election is retained for registration at the county auditor's office or by mobile deputy registrar. The number of mobile deputy registrars who may be appointed in each county is increased. Also, a uniform system is established for handling challenges to the right of an individual to vote; a challenge which is not withdrawn after preliminary investigation at the polling place is referred to the central county absentee ballot election board for a final decision, and the challenged voter's ballot is counted by that board if his or her right to vote is upheld. The ballot is segregated in a sealed envelope, but is handled in such a way that if it is counted the voter cannot be identified.

Other major features of the Act are:

A requirement that special elections be held only on Tuesdays, and not within two weeks before or after the statewide primary or the general elections;

A uniform and orderly procedure for filling vacancies which occur on the primary or the general election ballot, as late as this can be done without interfering with preparation of ballots and mailing of absentee ballots;

Provisions for filing, at the intervening general election, the unexpired portion of the terms of most partisan political offices in which vacancies occur during the first half of a four-year term;

Requirements that independent candidates file affidavits promising to serve if elected, as has previously been required of political party candidates;

Authorization for the Board of Examiners for Voting Machines and Electronic Voting Systems (formerly the Voting Machine Commissioners) to approve for use in Iowa any electronic voting system meeting certain standards; and Clarification that all school districts are entitled to use the optional procedures authorized in 1974 for the purpose of reducing the cost of local elections.

Gasoline cannot be placed in plastic containers and bottles unless they are approved by the State Fire Marshal and posted with such approval. The section doesn't apply to vehicle cargo or supply tanks or underground storage or storage tanks, but requires the tagging of outlet faucets or valves.

- S.F. 358 By Kelly, Doderer, DeKoster, and Schwengels. Provides that only a juvenile who has committed a criminal offense is a delinquent child and an allegation of delinquency must be proven beyond a reasonable doubt. The Act establishes a "child in need of assistance" definition which includes dependent children, neglected children, and the status offenses of delinquency. - S.F. 456 By Committee on Judiciary. Provides that all inmates of an adult correctional institution shall, upon discharge, be furnished with the sum of $100, transportation to any place within the state of the inmate's choice, and appropriate clothing.

Child day care does not include care provided by a relative or in a public or private school system approved by the Department of Public Instruction or the State Board of Regents, and does not include church-related and short-term classes under certain conditions. Child day care provided to less than seven children in a family day care home is not subject to licensing requirements, but a person who operates or establishes a family day care home may apply to the Department of Social Services for a registration certificate. The department is authorized to promulgate rules for the operation of child care centers and registered family day care homes.

S.F. 499 See Courts. Relates to commitment of mentally ill persons.

S.F. 518 By Committee on Human Resources. Creates a child support recovery unit within the Department of Social Services to provide support collection and paternity determination services. The services are available to all individuals. However, a distinction is drawn between the level of services offered to public assistance recipients and other individuals. An application fee not exceeding $20 and an additional fee not to exceed 10% of the amount of support money collected by the unit may be charged to defray the unit's expenses in providing the services. The Act also allows the assignment of a welfare recipient's rights to support payments to the Department of Social Services rather than to county boards of social welfare, thereby eliminating the necessity for agreements with the courts to implement the assignment procedure. In addition, this bill eliminates the ambiguous statement which presently provides "Such sums may serve to reduce the amount of the welfare payments granted to such recipient." Under the assignment, the Department rather than the recipient receives the child support and the recipient's grant should not be reduced.

S.F. 525 By Committee on Human Resources. Revises and adds to the state law governing licensing and operation of health care facilities (commonly referred to as nursing homes and custodial homes). The bill has two major purposes. First, it overhauls the system of categories under which health care facilities are presently licensed. One category, the adult foster family home (essentially a family-like living situation for one or a very few persons) is deleted from the scope of this law. The six remaining categories are consolidated to three, known as residential care facilities, intermediate care facilities and skilled nursing facilities. Second, the Act establishes a system of citations and monetary penalties for violations of the law and the rules made pursuant to law which govern the licensing and operation of health care facilities. The intent of this step is to make available to the Department of Health a sanction for violations which is less drastic than suspension or revocation of a license (i.e., closing the facility) but is sufficiently effective to be a useful enforcement tool. This part of the Act also authorizes any person to file a complaint that a health care facility is violating a law or rule, and thereby bring about an inspection to check on the alleged violation (unless it is concluded that the complaint is without any reasonable basis or is intended as harrassment). (Effective: January 1, 1976)

S.F. 548 See General Assembly. Relates to special mental health study.

The Act authorizes the Commissioner of Social Services to provide services for eligible persons by contract with nonprofit legal aid organizations under a state plan funded in part by the federal government. The Act provides that money paid to a hospital-school from any source other than state funds, if the cost would otherwise be paid from state or county funds or from the patient's funds, not be deemed money belonging to the patient and be deducted from the charge to the county, and allows the Department to determine within priorities listed in the law which persons will receive medical assistance based on income levels established by the Department. Maximum reimbursement for intermediate care facilities is increased to $19 per day, and the maximum reimbursement of allowable cost for custodial care is set at $11 per day. If sufficient funds were appropriated for medical assistance, the program shall be expanded to offer only the six basic services to all or a portion of the persons who would qualify for categorical assistance except for income. The Department is directed to move towards development of the two hospital-schools as intermediate care facilities for the mentally retarded and to amend the Medicaid State Plan to include mentally retarded individuals who reside in intermediate care facilities for the mentally retarded. The Department is directed to implement a cost related system for financial supplementation to individuals who need custodial care and have insufficient resources to purchase the care needed and to report to the subcommittee on Human Resources of the Committees on Appropriations by January 15, 1976 on progress. The daily per diem for the state mental health institutes and the hospital-schools is to be billed to the counties at 80%.

(Emergency: Effective May 16, 1975)
- H.F. 351 By Committee on Labor and Industrial Relations. Establishes certain standard means and forms for payment of wages and reimbursement of expenses. It prohibits certain deductions from being made from wages and requires certain records relating to wages and expenses to be kept by an employer, some record-keeping being contingent upon whether an employer has previously violated provisions of the Act. It requires employers to pay any wages or expenses conceded to be due even if they are a portion of total wages or expenses in dispute. It allows an employee to judicially collect double damages for wages or expenses that were due but unpaid. The Act further gives the Commissioner of Labor power to take and settle or bring a court action on an unpaid wage or expense assignment. It makes an employer subject to a $100 civil penalty for each violation of the Act's requirements and prohibits an employer from discriminating against an employee who has utilized the Act to recover wages or expenses.
- H.F. 395 See Cities. Relates to duties of city civil service commissions.

Upon application, the board may make grants to state and local governments and private businesses to create new employment opportunities. Hiring preference is to be given to persons whose unemployment benefits have expired or who are ineligible for benefits, and to unemployed heads of households. - S.F. 485 By Committee on Labor and Industrial Relations. Changes the unemployment compensation law by changing the computation of weekly benefits from 55% to 66 2/3% of the statewide average wage paid to employees in insured work. It raises wage credits for each individual by crediting his account with 1/2 of the wages for insured work paid to the worker during his base period rather than 1/3. If the state and national indicators are in effect, the maximum benefits payable are extended to 39 times the weekly benefit amount, not to exceed the total wage credits accrued. If a worker is temporarily unemployed, he is not subject to all provisions of the unemployment law. Benefits are not charged to any employer's account if a worker left his employment for better employment and is laid off after one week, but prior to the expiration of six weeks. Pregnancy is not grounds for disqualification for benefits. Only 50% of Old Age benefits payable under Title II of the Social Security Act can be deducted from a worker's weekly benefit. Employing unit was amended to include this state and its political subdivisions, including agencies, boards, commissions, and instrumentalities. The term employment was amended to delete elected officials only. An administrative penalty for fraud was added to the Act.
