Sec. 107. Section 554.12103, Code 2024, is amended to read as follows:

554.12103 Payment order — definitions.

1. In this Article unless the context otherwise requires:

~~1. a. “Payment order” means an instruction of a sender to a receiving bank, transmitted orally, electronically, or in writing or in a record, to pay, or to cause another bank to pay, a fixed or determinable amount of money to a beneficiary if all of the following apply:~~

~~(1) The instruction does not state a condition to payment to the beneficiary other than time of payment;~~

~~(2) The receiving bank is to be reimbursed by debiting an account of, or otherwise receiving payment from, the sender; and~~

~~(3) The instruction is transmitted by the sender directly to the receiving bank or to an agent, funds-transfer system, or communication system for transmittal to the receiving bank.~~

~~b. A payment order instructing more than one payment to be made to a beneficiary is a separate payment order with respect to each payment.~~

~~c. A payment order is issued when it is sent to the receiving bank.~~

~~2. b. “Beneficiary” means the person to be paid by the beneficiary’s bank.~~

~~3. c. “Beneficiary’s bank” means the bank identified in a payment order in which an account of the beneficiary is to be credited pursuant to the order or which otherwise is to make payment to the beneficiary if the order does not provide for payment to an account.~~

~~4. d. “Receiving bank” means the bank to which the sender’s instruction is addressed.~~

~~5. e. “Sender” means the person giving the instruction to the receiving bank.~~

2. If an instruction complying with subsection 1, paragraph “a”, is to make more than one payment to a beneficiary, the instruction is a separate payment order with respect to each payment.

3. A payment order is issued when it is sent to the receiving bank.

Sec. 108. Section 554.12201, Code 2024, is amended to read as follows:

554.12201 Security procedure.

“Security procedure” means a procedure established by agreement between a customer and a receiving bank for the purpose of verifying that a payment order or communication amending or canceling a payment order is that of the customer, or detecting error in the transmission or the content of the payment order or communication. A security procedure may impose an obligation on the receiving bank or the customer and may require the use of algorithms or other codes, identifying words, or numbers, symbols, sounds, biometrics, encryption, callback procedures, or similar security devices. Comparison of a signature on a payment order or communication with an authorized specimen signature of the customer or requiring a payment order to be sent from a known electronic mail address, internet protocol address, or telephone number is not by itself a security procedure.

Sec. 109. Section 554.12202, subsections 2 and 3, Code 2024, are amended to read as follows:

2. If a bank and its customer have agreed that the authenticity of payment orders issued to the bank in the name of the customer as sender will be verified pursuant to a security procedure, a payment order received by the receiving bank is effective as the order of the customer, whether or not authorized, if the security procedure is a commercially reasonable method of providing security against unauthorized payment orders, and the bank proves that it accepted the payment order in good faith and in compliance with the bank’s obligations under the security procedure and any written agreement or instruction of the customer, evidenced by a record, restricting acceptance of payment orders issued in the name of the customer. The bank is not required to follow an instruction that violates a written an agreement with the customer, evidenced by a record, or notice of which is not received at a time and in a manner affording the bank a reasonable opportunity to act on it before the payment order is accepted.

3. Commercial reasonableness of a security procedure is a question of law to be determined by considering the wishes of the customer expressed to the bank, the circumstances of the customer known to the bank, including the size, type, and frequency of payment orders normally issued by the customer to the bank, alternative security procedures offered to the customer, and security procedures in general use by customers and receiving banks similarly situated. A security procedure is deemed to be commercially reasonable if the security procedure was chosen by the customer after the bank offered, and the customer refused, a security procedure that was commercially reasonable for that customer, and the customer expressly agreed in writing a record to be bound by any payment order, whether or not authorized, issued in the customer’s name and accepted by the bank in compliance with the bank’s obligations under the security procedure chosen by the customer.

Sec. 110. Section 554.12203, Code 2024, is amended to read as follows:

554.12203 Unenforceability of certain verified payment orders.

1. If an accepted payment order is not, under section 554.12202, subsection 1, an authorized order of a customer identified as sender pursuant to section 554.12202, subsection 1, but is effective as an order of the customer pursuant to section 554.12202, subsection 2, the following rules apply:

1. a. By express written agreement, evidenced by a record the receiving bank may limit the extent to which it is entitled to enforce or retain payment of the payment order.

2. b. The receiving bank is not entitled to enforce or retain payment of the payment order if the customer proves that the order was not caused, directly or indirectly, by a person entrusted at any time with the authority to act for the customer with respect to payment orders or the security procedure, or who obtained access to transmitting facilities of the customer or who obtained, from a source controlled by the customer and without authority of the receiving bank, information facilitating breach of the security procedure, regardless of how the information was obtained or whether the customer was at fault. Information includes any access device, computer software, or similar items.

3. 2. This section applies to amendments of payment orders in the same manner it applies to payment orders.

Sec. 111. Section 554.12207, subsection 3, paragraph b, Code 2024, is amended to read as follows:

b. If the originator is not a bank and proves that the person identified by number was not entitled to receive payment from the originator, the originator is not ~~obligated~~ obliged to pay ~~the originator's~~ its order unless the originator's bank proves that the originator ~~had notice~~, before acceptance ~~by of the originator's bank of the originator's order~~, had notice that payment of a payment order issued by the originator might be made by the beneficiary's bank on the basis of an identifying or bank account number even if it identifies a person different from the named beneficiary. Proof of notice may be made by any admissible evidence. The originator's bank satisfies the burden of proof if it proves that the originator, before the payment was accepted, signed a writing record stating the information to which the notice relates ~~before the payment order was accepted~~.

Sec. 112. Section 554.12208, subsection 2, paragraph b, Code 2024, is amended to read as follows:

b. If the sender is not a bank and the receiving bank proves that the sender, before the payment order was accepted, had notice that the receiving bank might rely on the number as the proper identification of the intermediary or beneficiary's bank even if it identifies a person different from the bank identified by name, the rights and obligations of the sender and the receiving bank are governed by paragraph "a", as though the sender were a bank. Proof of notice may be made by any admissible evidence. The receiving bank satisfies the burden of proof if it proves that the sender, before the payment order was accepted, signed a writing record stating the information to which the notice relates.

Sec. 113. Section 554.12210, subsection 1, Code 2024, is amended to read as follows:

1. A payment order is rejected by the receiving bank by a notice of rejection transmitted to the sender orally, ~~electronically~~, or in writing a record. A notice of rejection need not use any particular words and is sufficient if the notice indicates that the receiving bank is rejecting the order or will not execute or pay the order. Rejection is effective when the notice is given if transmission is by a means that is reasonable under the circumstances. If notice of rejection is given by a means that is not reasonable, rejection is effective when the notice is received. If an agreement of the sender and receiving bank establishes the means to be used to reject a payment order, any means complying with the agreement is reasonable and any means not complying is not reasonable unless no significant delay in receipt of the notice resulted from the use of the noncomplying means.

Sec. 114. Section 554.12211, subsection 1, Code 2024, is amended to read as follows:

1. A communication of the sender of a payment order canceling or amending the order may be transmitted to the receiving bank orally, ~~electronically~~, or in writing a record. If a security procedure is in effect between the sender and the receiving bank, the communication is not effective to cancel or amend the order unless the communication is verified pursuant to the security procedure or the bank agrees to the cancellation or amendment.

Sec. 115. Section 554.12305, subsections 3 and 4, Code 2024, are amended to read as follows:

3. In addition to the amounts payable under subsections 1 and 2, damages, including consequential damages, are recoverable to the extent provided in an express written agreement of the receiving bank, evidenced by a record.

4. If a receiving bank fails to execute a payment order that the receiving bank was obligated by express agreement to execute, the receiving bank is liable to the sender for the sender's expenses in the transaction and for incidental expenses and interest losses resulting from the failure to execute. Additional damages, including consequential damages, are recoverable to the extent provided in an express written agreement of the receiving bank, evidenced by a record, but are not otherwise recoverable.

554.13102 Scope.

1. This Article applies to any transaction, regardless of form, that creates a lease and, in the case of a hybrid lease, it applies to the extent provided in subsection 2.

2. In a hybrid lease:

a. if the lease-of-goods aspects do not predominate:

(1) only the provisions of this Article which relate primarily to the lease-of-goods aspects of the transaction apply, and the provisions that relate primarily to the transaction as a whole do not apply;

(2) section 554.13209 applies if the lease is a finance lease; and

(3) section 554.13407 applies to the promises of the lessee in a finance lease to the extent the promises are consideration for the right to possession and use of the leased goods; and

b. if the lease-of-goods aspects predominate, this Article applies to the transaction, but does not preclude application in appropriate circumstances of other law to aspects of the lease which do not relate to the lease of goods.

Sec. 117. Section 554.13103, subsection 1, Code 2024, is amended by adding the following new paragraph:

NEW PARAGRAPH. 0i. “Hybrid lease” means a single transaction involving a lease of goods and:

(1) the provision of services;

(2) a sale of other goods; or

(3) a sale, lease, or license of property other than goods.

Sec. 118. Section 554.13107, Code 2024, is amended to read as follows:

554.13107 Waiver or renunciation of claim or right after default.

Any claim or right arising out of an alleged default or breach of warranty may be discharged in whole or in part without consideration by a ~~written~~ waiver or renunciation in a signed and record delivered by the aggrieved party.

Sec. 119. Section 554.13201, subsections 1, 3, and 5, Code 2024, are amended to read as follows:

1. A lease contract is not enforceable by way of action or defense unless:

a. the total payments to be made under the lease contract, excluding payments for options to renew or buy, are less than one thousand dollars; or

b. there is a writing record, signed by the party against whom enforcement is sought or by that party’s authorized agent, sufficient to indicate that a lease contract has been made between the parties and to describe the goods leased and the lease term.

3. A writing record is not insufficient because it omits or incorrectly states a term agreed upon, but the lease contract is not enforceable under subsection 1, paragraph “b”, beyond the lease term and the quantity of goods shown in the writing record.

5. The lease term under a lease contract referred to in subsection 4 is:

a. if there is a writing record signed by the party against whom enforcement is sought or by that party’s authorized agent specifying the lease term, the term so specified;

b. if the party against whom enforcement is sought admits in that party’s pleading, testimony, or otherwise in court a lease term, the term so admitted; or

c. a reasonable lease term.

Sec. 120. Section 554.13202, Code 2024, is amended to read as follows:

554.13202 Final written expression — parol or extrinsic evidence.

Terms with respect to which the confirmatory memoranda of the parties agree or which are otherwise set forth in a writing record intended by the parties as a final expression of their agreement with respect to such terms as are included therein may not be contradicted by evidence of any prior agreement or of a contemporaneous oral agreement but may be explained or supplemented:

1. by course of dealing or usage of trade or by course of performance; and
2. by evidence of consistent additional terms unless the court finds the writing record to have been intended also as a complete and exclusive statement of the terms of the agreement.

Sec. 121. Section 554.13203, Code 2024, is amended to read as follows:

554.13203 Seals inoperative.

The affixing of a seal to a writing record evidencing a lease contract or an offer to enter into a lease contract does not render the writing record a sealed instrument and the law with respect to sealed instruments does not apply to the lease contract or offer.

Sec. 122. Section 554.13205, Code 2024, is amended to read as follows:

554.13205 Firm offers.

An offer by a merchant to lease goods to or from another person in a signed writing record that by its terms gives assurance it will be held open is not revocable, for lack of consideration, during the time stated or, if no time is stated, for a reasonable time, but in no event may the period of irrevocability exceed three months. Any such term of assurance on a form supplied by the offeree must be separately signed by the offeror.

Sec. 123. Section 554.13208, subsection 2, Code 2024, is amended to read as follows:

2. A signed lease agreement that excludes modification or rescission except by a signed writing record shall not be otherwise modified or rescinded, but, except as between merchants, such a requirement on a form supplied by a merchant must be separately signed by the other party.

a. is a perfected security interest until the earlier of the time perfection would have ceased under the law in effect immediately before the effective date of this Act or July 1, 2025;

b. remains enforceable thereafter only if the security interest satisfies the requirements for enforceability under section 554.9203, as amended by this Act, before July 1, 2025; and
