Amendment effective July 1, 1975

68A.2 Citizen's right to examine. Every citizen of Iowa shall have the right to examine all public records and to copy such records, and the news media may publish such records, unless some other provision of the Code expressly limits such right or requires such records to be kept secret or confidential. The right to copy records shall include the right to make photographs or photographic copies while the records are in the possession of the lawful custodian of the records. All rights under this section are in addition to the right to obtain certified copies of records under section 622.46. [C71, 73, §68A.2]

68A.3 Supervision. Such examination and copying shall be done under the supervision of the lawful custodian of the records or his authorized deputy. The lawful custodian may adopt and enforce reasonable rules regarding such work and the protection of the records against damage or disorganization. The lawful custodian shall provide a suitable place for such work, but if it is impracticable to do such work in the office of the lawful custodian, the person desiring to examine or copy shall pay any necessary expenses of providing a place for such work. All expenses of such work shall be paid by the person desiring to examine or copy. The lawful custodian may charge a reasonable fee for the services of the lawful custodian or his authorized deputy in supervising the records during such work. [C71, 73, §68A.3]

68A.4 Hours when available. The rights of citizens under this chapter may be exercised at any time during the customary office hours of the lawful custodian of the records. However, if the lawful custodian does not have customary office hours of at least thirty hours per week, such right may be exercised at any time from nine o'clock a.m. to noon and from one o'clock p.m. to four o'clock p.m. Monday through Friday, excluding legal holidays, unless the citizen exercising such right and the lawful custodian agree on a different time. [C71, 73, §68A.4]

68A.5 Enforcement of rights. The provisions of this chapter and all rights of citizens under this chapter may be enforced by mandamus or injunction, whether or not any other remedy is also available. In the alternative, rights under this chapter also may be enforced by an action for judicial review according to the provisions of the Iowa administrative procedure Act, if the records involved are records of an "agency" as defined in that Act. [C71, 73, §68A.5; 65GA, ch 1090, §210]

68A.6 Penalty. It shall be unlawful for any person to deny or refuse any citizen of Iowa any right under this chapter, or to cause any such right to be denied or refused. Any person knowingly violating or attempting to violate any provision of this chapter shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars. [C71, 73, §68A.6]

68A.7 Confidential records. The following public records shall be kept confidential, unless otherwise ordered by a court, by the lawful custodian of the records, or by another person duly authorized to release information:

7. Appraisals or appraisal information concerning the purchase of real or personal property for public purposes, prior to public announcement of a project.

8. Iowa development commission information on an industrial prospect with which the commission is currently negotiating.

9. Criminal identification files of law enforcement agencies. However, records of current and prior arrests shall be public records.

68A.8 Injunction to restrain examination. In accordance with the rules of civil procedure the district court may grant an injunction restraining the examination (including copying) of a specific public record, if the petition supported by affidavit shows and if the court finds that such examination would clearly not be in the public interest and would substantially and irreparably injure any person or persons. The district court shall take into account the policy of this chapter that free and open examination of public records is generally in the public interest, even though such examination may cause inconvenience or embarrassment to public officials or others. Such injunction shall be subject to the rules of civil procedure except that the court in its discretion may waive bond. Reasonable delay by any person in permitting the examination of a record in order to seek an injunction under this section is not a violation of this chapter, if such person believes in good faith that he is entitled to an injunction restraining the examination of such record. [C71, 73, §68A.8]

68A.9 Denial of federal funds. If it is determined that any provision of this chapter would cause the denial of funds, services or essential information from the United States government which would otherwise definitely be available to an agency of this state, such provision shall be suspended as to such agency, but only to the extent necessary to prevent denial of such funds, services, or essential information. [C71, 73,§68A.9]

The governor in his discretion may accept or reject such resignation. If he accepts it, he shall notify such person, in writing, that his resignation is accepted pursuant to this section. The governor shall then make another appointment to such office. 76.1 Mandatory retirement. Hereafter issues of bonds of every kind and character by counties, cities, and school corporations shall be consecutively numbered. The annual levy shall be sufficient to pay the interest and approximately such portion of the principal of the bonds as will retire them in a period not exceeding twenty years from date of issue. Each issue of bonds shall be scheduled to mature serially in the same order as numbered. [C27, 31, 35,§1179-b1; C39,§1179.1; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§76.1; 65GA, ch 1087, §32]

Amendment effective July 1, 1975

76.2 Mandatory levy. The governing authority of these political subdivisions before issuing bonds shall, by resolution, provide for the assessment of an annual levy upon all the taxable property in such public corporation sufficient to pay the interest and principal of such bonds within a period named not exceeding twenty years. A certified copy of this resolution shall be filed with the county auditor or auditors of the counties, as the case may be, in which such public corporation is located; and the filing thereof shall make it a duty of such officer or officers to enter annually this levy for collection until funds are realized to pay the bonds in full.

If the resolution is so filed prior to April 1, said annual levy shall begin with the tax levy of the year of filing. If the resolution is filed after April 1 in any year, such levy shall begin with the levy of the fiscal year succeeding the year of the filing of such resolution. However, the governing authority of a political subdivision may adjust any levy of taxes made under the provisions of this section, for the purpose of adjusting the annual levies and collections in accordance with the provisions of this Act,* subject to the approval of the state comptroller. [C27, 31, 35,§1179-b2; C39, §1179.2; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§76.2; 64 GA, ch 1020,§21; 65GA, ch 1096,§§4, 10, 61]

76.3 Tax limitations. Tax limitations in any law for the issuance of bonds shall be based on the latest equalized actual valuation then existing and shall only restrict the amount of bonds which may be issued. For the sole purpose of computing the amount of bonds which may be issued as a result of the application of any such tax limitation, all interest on the bonds in excess of that accruing in the first twelve months may be excluded from the first annual levy of taxes, so that the need for including more than one year's interest in the first annual levy of taxes to pay the bonds and interest shall not operate to further restrict the amount of bonds which may be issued, and in certifying the annual levies to the county auditor or auditors such first annual levy of taxes shall be sufficient to pay all principal of and interest on said bonds becoming due prior to the next succeeding annual levy and the full amount of such first annual levy shall be entered for collection by said auditor or auditors, as provided in this chapter. [C31, 35,§1179-c1; C39,§1179.3; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§76.3]

76.4 Permissive application of funds. Whenever the governing authority of such political subdivision shall have on hand funds derived from any other source than taxation which may be appropriated to the payment either of interest or principal, or both principal and interest of such bonds, such funds may be so appropriated and used and the levy for the payment of the bonds correspondingly reduced. [C27, 31, 35,§1179-b3; C39,§1179.4; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§76.4]

76.5 Exceptions. The provisions of this chapter shall not apply to bonds, the interest or principal of which are payable out of the primary road fund or out of special assessments against benefited property. [C27, 31, 35, §1179-b4; C39,§1179.5; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§76.5]

76.6 Place of payment. The principal and interest of all bonds of a public corporation in this state are payable at the office of the treasurer or public official charged with the duty of making payment, unless the proceedings of the governing body authorizing the issuance of the bonds provide that the bonds and interest thereon may also be payable at one or more banks or trust companies within or without the state of Iowa or as may be otherwise provided by chapter 419. [C35, §1179-f1; C39,§1179.6; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§76.6]

EXTENSION OR RENEWAL OF BONDS

76.7 Particular bonds affected — payment. Counties, cities and school corporations may at any time or times extend or renew any legal indebtedness or any part thereof they may have represented by bonds or certificates where such indebtedness is payable from a limited annual tax or from a voted annual tax, and may by resolution fund or refund the same and issue bonds therefor running not more than twenty years to be known as funding or refunding bonds, and make provision for the payment of the principal and interest thereof from the proceeds of an annual tax for the period covered by such bonds similar to the tax authorized by law or by the electors for the payment of the indebtedness so extended or renewed. [C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §76.7; 65GA, ch 1087, §32]

Amendment effective July 1, 1975

76.8 Laws applicable. All laws relating to the issuance of funding or refunding bonds by counties, cities and school corporations, as the case may be, not inconsistent with the provisions herein contained and to the extent the same may be applicable, shall govern the issuance of the funding and refunding bonds for the purpose herein authorized. [C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §76.8; 65GA, ch 1087, §32]

76.9 No limit of former power. Sections 76.7 and 76.8 shall be construed as granting additional power without limiting the power already existing in counties, cities and school corporations. [C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §76.9; 65GA, ch 1087, §32]

Upon receiving an application for a transient merchant's license, the secretary of state shall investigate or cause to be investigated, the reputation and character of the applicant. If, upon making such investigation, the secretary of state is satisfied that the statements and representations contained in the application are true, and that the applicant is of good reputation and character, and the holder of an Iowa retailer's sales tax permit, and if a foreign corporation, has authority to do business in the state of Iowa, he shall issue to the applicant a license as a transient merchant upon payment of the fee as herein prescribed for the period of time requested in said application and for use at the location and place where it is stated in said application the sale will be held or the business conducted, both of which shall be set out in said license. Such license shall be valid only for the period of time and at the location and place described therein. [C58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §81A.5]

81A.7 Misrepresentation. It shall be unlawful for any transient merchant making sales or engaging in or conducting a business under a transient merchant's license to make any false or misleading statements or representation regarding any article sold or offered for sale by such transient merchant as to condition, quality, original cost, or cost to such transient merchant of any article sold or offered for sale or to sell or offer for sale goods, wares or merchandise of a value in excess of the value thereof as shown by said application, or to sell or offer for sale at retail any goods, wares or merchandise, or to engage in or conduct an intermittent or temporary business on any days or at any place other than those shown by such license. [C58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §81A.7]

81A.8 Revocation. The secretary of state may revoke any license issued under the provisions of this chapter after proper hearing before him, by the sending of due notice of said hearing by registered letter to the "transient merchant" at his last known address, return receipt requested, not less than twenty days before the date of said hearing, for any of the following causes:

1. For any violations of the provisions of this chapter.

2. For failure to pay the sales tax as provided by law or misrepresentation of the source, condition, quality, weight or measure of the product sold by the "transient merchant."

3. If any judgment recovered against any "transient merchant" with reference to the operation of his business remains unpaid for a period of six months provided such judgment be not stayed under a supersedeas bond upon appeal from such judgment.

The secretary of state shall give immediate notice of the revocation of any license issued under the provisions of this chapter to the surety or sureties furnishing the bond provided for herein.

In the event of such revocation, no other "transient merchant" license shall be issued to such applicant for a period of two years thereafter. [C58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §81A.8]

81A.9 Penalty. Any merchant, whether an individual person, a firm, corporation, partnership or association violating any of the provisions of this chapter shall, upon conviction, be fined in a sum not to exceed one hundred dollars, or be imprisoned not to exceed thirty days in jail. Each sale made in violation of the provisions hereof shall be and constitute a separate offense. [C58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §81A.9]

83A.1 Policy. It is hereby declared to be the policy of this state to provide for the rehabilitation and conservation of land affected by surface mining and thereby to preserve natural resources, protect and perpetuate the taxable value of property, and protect and promote the health, safety and general welfare of the people of this state. [C71, 73,§83A.1]

83A.2 Definitions. When used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Overburden" means all of the earth and other materials which lie above natural deposits of coal, gypsum, clay, stone, sand, gravel or other minerals, and includes all earth and other materials disturbed from their natural state in the process of surface mining.

2. "Surface mining" means the mining of coal, gypsum, clay, stone, sand, gravel or other ores or mineral solids for sale or for processing or consumption in the regular operation of a business by removing the overburden lying above natural deposits thereof and mining directly from the natural deposits thereby exposed, or by mining directly from deposits lying exposed in their natural state. Removal of overburden and mining of limited amounts of any ores or mineral solids shall not be considered surface mining when done only for the purpose and to the extent necessary to determine the location, quantity, or quality of any natural deposit, so long as no ores or mineral solids removed during exploratory excavation or mining are sold, processed for sale, or consumed in the regular operation of a business.

3. "Operator" means any person, firm, partnership, or corporation engaged in and controlling a mining operation but shall not include a political subdivision of the state of Iowa.

4. "Active site" means a site where surface mining is being conducted.

5. "Inactive site" means a site where surface mining is not being conducted but where overburden has been disturbed in the past for the purpose of conducting surface mining and an operator anticipates conducting further surface mining operations in the future.

6. "Pit" means a tract of land from which overburden has been or is being removed for the purpose of surface mining.

7. "Affected land" means the area of land from which overburden has been removed or upon which overburden has been deposited or both.

8. "Spoil bank" means overburden removed from its natural position and deposited elsewhere in the process of surface mining.

9. "Ridge" means a lengthened elevation of overburden removed from its natural position and deposited elsewhere in the process of surface mining.

10. "Peak" means a projecting point of overburden removed from its natural position and deposited elsewhere in the process of surface mining.

11. "Department" means the department of soil conservation.

12. "Committee" means the state soil conservation committee.

13. "Advisory board" means the "land rehabilitation advisory board" in the department.

14. "Administrator" means the administrative officer of the department responsible for administration or enforcement of this chapter or his designee.

15. "Mine" means any underground or surface mine developed and operated for the purpose of extracting any ores or mineral solids. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1244; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §82.27; C71, 73,§§82.27, 83A.2; 65GA, ch 139, §§3, 4]

Referred to in §83A.7

83A.3 Advisory board. There is hereby established within the department of soil conservation a land rehabilitation advisory board which shall consist of seven members appointed by the governor, as follows:

1. The state forester or a member educated and experienced in the field of forestry.

2. The state geologist or a member educated and experienced in the field of geology.

3. One member educated and experienced in the field of agronomy.

4. One member representing the state conservation commission.

5. One member representing the Iowa natural resources council.

6. Two members representing Iowa surface mining operators. The state association or groups representing each of the industries engaged in surface mining in Iowa, or their managing boards, may jointly submit to the governor in each year when an industry representative is to be appointed a list of two or more persons qualified for the appointment. If a list is submitted, the governor shall appoint to the advisory board at least one of the persons named on the list.

Members of the advisory board may at any time request representatives of any federal, state, local, or private agency or group to serve in a consulting capacity with the advisory board. [C71, 73,§83A.3; 65GA, ch 139,§§5, 6]

83A.4 Terms. Members of the advisory board shall serve for terms of three years.

Vacancies on the advisory board shall be filled for the unexpired term of the vacancy in the same manner as the original appointment. Members of the advisory board shall serve without compensation but shall be allowed actual and necessary expenses while engaged in official duties upon certification of the chairman of the advisory board to the department. [C71, 73,§83A.4; 65GA, ch 139,§7]

83A.5 Meetings of board. Prior to August 1 of each year, the advisory board shall meet and organize and shall elect a chairman and such other officers as advisory board members shall deem necessary. The chairman shall be responsible for calling meetings of the advisory board. Advisory board meetings shall be held at least quarterly and at such other times as the chairman of the advisory board or the chairman of the committee deems necessary or upon the request of four or more advisory board members. [C71, 73,§83A.5; 65GA, ch 139, §8]

83A.6 Duties of board. The advisory board shall:

1. Advise the department on any matter relating to administration and enforcement of this chapter.

2. Advise the department with respect to surface mined land rehabilitation demonstration projects.

3. Advise the department on the gathering, preparation, and dissemination of information on methods of rehabilitating land which has been surface mined and on any state, federal, or other financial assistance which may be available to assist in paying the cost of rehabilitation of the land.

4. Prepare and present to the general assembly, not later than January 1, 1973, a report on the extent of successful revegetation of land in Iowa rehabilitated pursuant to this chapter and recommendations for any legislation believed necessary to encourage and assist revegetation of surface mined land.

The department shall inform the advisory board of all complaints received relating to mining and mining operations. [C71, 73,§83A.6; 65GA, ch 139,§9, 10]

83A.7 Mining license. No person, firm, partnership, or corporation shall engage in surface mining or operation of an underground mine or mines, as defined by section 83A.2, without first obtaining a license from the department. Licenses shall be issued upon application submitted on a form provided by the department and shall be accompanied by a fee of fifty dollars. Each applicant shall be required to furnish on the form information necessary to identify the applicant. Licenses shall expire one year from date of issuance and shall be renewed by the department upon application submitted within thirty days prior to the expiration date and accompanied by a fee of ten dollars. [C71, 73,§83A.7; 65GA, ch 139,§11]

Referred to in §83A.14

83A.8 Suspension or revocation of license. The department may, with approval of the committee, commence proceedings to suspend, revoke, or refuse to renew a license of any licensee for repeated or willful violation of any of the provisions of this chapter or of the federal Coal Mine Health and Safety Act of 1969 or the federal Metal and Nonmetallic Mine Safety Act. The department shall by certified mail or personal service serve on the licensee notice in writing of the charges and grounds upon which the license is to be suspended, revoked, or will not be renewed. The notice shall include the time and the place at which a hearing shall be held before the committee to determine whether to suspend, revoke, or refuse to renew the license. The hearing shall be not less than fifteen nor more than thirty days after the mailing or service of the notice. [C71, 73,§83A.8; 65GA, ch 139, §12]

83A.9 Hearing — counsel. Any licensee whose license the department proposes to suspend, revoke, or refuse to renew shall have the right to counsel and may produce witnesses and present statements, documents, and other information in his behalf at the hearing. If after full investigation and hearing the licensee is found to have willfully or repeatedly violated any of the provisions of this chapter or of the federal Coal Mine Health and Safety Act of 1969 or the federal Metal and Nonmetallic Mine Safety Act, the committee may affirm or modify the proposed suspension, revocation, or refusal to renew the license. When the committee finds that a license should be suspended or revoked or should not be renewed, the department shall so notify the licensee in writing by certified mail or by personal service. [C71, 73,§83A.9; 65GA, ch 139,§13]

83A.10 Notice—effective date of suspension. Suspension or revocation of a license shall become effective thirty days after the mailing or service of notice to the licensee. When the department proposes to deny an application for renewal of a license and administrative proceedings relevant to the renewal application are pending or in progress on the date the license is to expire, the license shall remain in force until the proceedings have been completed if the licensee has paid the renewal fee. If the committee finds the license should not be renewed, the renewal fee shall be refunded and the license shall expire on the expiration date or thirty days after mailing or service of notice to the licensee, whichever is later. [C71, 73,§83A.10; 65GA, ch 139,§14]

83A.11 Judicial review. Judicial review of the action of the board or department may be sought in accordance with the terms of the Iowa administrative procedure Act. [C71, 73, §83A.11; 65GA, ch 1090,§42]

83A.12 Repealed by 65GA, ch 1090,§211, effective July 1, 1975.

83A.13 Registering site of mine. Within fifteen days after beginning mining or removal of overburden at any surface mining site not previously registered, an operator engaging in mining in this state shall register the site with the department. Application for registration shall be made upon a form provided by the department. The registration fee shall be established by the department in an amount equal to the cost of administering the registration provisions of this chapter, as estimated by the department. The application shall include a description of the tract or tracts of land where the site is located and the estimated number of acres at the site to be affected by the mine. The description shall include the section, township, range, and county in which the land is located and shall otherwise describe the land with sufficient certainty to determine the location and to distinguish the land to be registered from other lands. The application shall include a statement explaining the authority of the applicant's legal right to operate a mine on the land. [C71, 73,§83A.13; 65GA, ch 139,§15]

Referred to in §§83A.15, 83A.16, 83A.21, 83A.29

83A.14 Bond. The application for registration shall be accompanied by a bond or security as required under sections 83A.23 or 83A.24 if overburden is removed. After ascertaining that the applicant is licensed under section 83A.7 and is not in violation of this chapter with respect to any site previously registered with the department, the department shall register the site and shall issue the applicant written authorization to conduct surface mining on the site. [C71, 73,§83A.14]

Referred to in §§83A.15, 83A.16, 83A.21, 83A.24

83A.15 Amendment or cancellation. An operator may at any time apply for amendment or cancellation of registration of any site. The application for amendment or cancellation of registration shall be submitted by the operator on a form provided by the department and shall identify as required under section 83A.13 the tract or tracts of land to be added to or removed from registration. If the application is for an increase in the area of a registered site, the application shall be processed in the same manner as an application for original registration. If the application is to cancel registration of any or all of the unmined part of a site, the department shall after ascertaining that no overburden has been disturbed or deposited on the land order release of the bond or the security posted on the land being removed from registration and cancel or amend the operator's written authorization to conduct surface mining on the site. Fees for amendment or cancellation of registration shall be determined as provided in section 83A.14. No land where overburden has been disturbed or deposited shall be removed from registration or released from bond or security under this section. [C71, 73,§83A.15]

Referred to in §§83A.21, 83A.23, 83A.24

83A.16 Transfer to new operator. If control of an active site or the right to conduct any future mining at an inactive site is acquired by an operator other than the operator holding authorization to conduct surface mining on the site, the new operator shall within fifteen days apply for registration of the site in the new operator's name. The application shall be made and processed as provided under sections 83A.13 and 83A.14. The former operator's bond or security shall not be released until the new operator's bond or security has been accepted by the department. [C71, 73,§83A.16]

Referred to in §§83A.17, 83A.21

83A.17 Spoil banks. Every operator authorized under this chapter to engage in surface mining on a site where mining operations disturb overburden containing acid-forming materials shall, when feasible, avoid placing on the surfaces of spoil banks any materials likely to form acid in amounts which will prevent or impede establishment of desirable vegetation on the spoil banks. After completion of mining operations the operator shall within the time specified in section 83A.19:

1. Grade spoil banks to slopes having a maximum of one foot of vertical rise for each four feet of horizontal distance except that where the original topography of the affected land was steeper than one foot of vertical rise for each four feet of horizontal distance, the spoil bank shall be graded to blend with the surrounding terrain.

2. Construct an earth dam at any site where a lake or pond may be formed to properly control the drainage of acidic water from the site.

3. Provide for the vegetation of the spoil banks created by removal of overburden as prescribed by the department before release of the bond as provided in section 83A.19.

4. Cover, with at least two feet of earth or spoil material, acid-forming materials present in a mineral seam exposed by mining operations if the exposed acid-forming materials are not covered by impounded water.

A bond or security posted under this chapter to assure rehabilitation of land affected by surface mining shall not be released until all rehabilitation work required by this section has been performed to the department's satisfaction, except when a replacement bond or security is posted by a new operator under section 83A.16. [C71, 73,§83A.17; 65GA, ch 139, §§16, 17, ch 1109,§1]

Referred to in §§83A.19, 83A.21, 83A.23, 83A.28

83A.18 Periodic reports. Every operator shall file with the department a periodic report for each site under registration indicating whether the site is presently active or inactive. Each report shall make reference to the most recent registration of the site and shall show:

1. The location and extent of all land on the site affected by surface mining during the period covered by the report.

2. The extent to which removal of mineral products from all or any part of the affected land has been completed.

A report as prescribed by this section shall be filed not later than twelve months after original registration of the site and prior to the expiration of each subsequent twelve-month period thereafter. A report shall also be filed within thirty days after completion of all surface mining operations at the site regardless of the date of the last preceding report. Forms on which periodic reports required by this section shall be filed shall be provided by the department. [C71, 73,§83A.18]

83A.19 Rehabilitation of land. An operator of a surface mine shall rehabilitate land affected by surface mining within twenty-four months after the filing of a report required under section 83A.18 indicating the mining of any part of a site has been completed. Each operator, upon completion of any rehabilitation work required by section 83A.17, shall apply to the department in writing for approval of the work. The department shall within a reasonable time determined by departmental rule inspect the completed rehabilitation work. Upon determination by the department that the operator has satisfactorily completed all required rehabilitation work on the land included in the application, the department shall release the bond or security on the rehabilitated land, shall remove the land from registration, and shall terminate or amend as necessary the operator's authorization to conduct surface mining on the site. [C71, 73, §83A.19]

Referred to in §§83A.17, 83A.20, 83A.21, 83A.24

83A.20 Extension of time. The time for completion of rehabilitation work may be extended upon presentation by the operator of evidence satisfactory to the department that rehabilitation of affected land cannot be completed within the time specified by section 83A.19 without unreasonably impeding removal of mineral products from other parts of an active site or future removal of mineral products from an initiative site. [C71, 73, §83A.20]

83A.21 Political subdivision engaged in mining. Any political subdivision of the state of Iowa which engages or intends to engage in surface mining shall meet all requirements of sections 83A.13 to 83A.20 except the subdivision shall not be required to post bond or security on registered land. When a political subdivision engaging in surface mining violates any provision of this chapter or any rule adopted by the department pursuant to this chapter, the department shall notify the chief administrative officer or governing body of the subdivision. If after a reasonable time determined by the department, the subdivision has not commenced corrective measures approved by the department, the violation shall be referred to the committee. The chief administrative officer or governing body of the subdivision shall be notified in writing of the referral. [C71, 73, §83A.21; 65GA, ch 139, §18]

83A.22 Hearing on violation. Upon receipt of the referral, the committee shall schedule a hearing on the violation by the political subdivision within thirty days after the date of receipt. The committee shall upon written request from the chief administrative officer or governing board afford representatives of the subdivision the right to appear before the committee at the hearing. Representatives of the subdivision shall have the right to counsel, and may produce witnesses and present statements, documents, and other information with respect to the alleged violation for consideration of the committee at the hearing. If the committee determines the subdivision is in violation of any of the provisions of this chapter or of any rule adopted by the department pursuant to this chapter, the committee shall request the attorney general to institute proceedings to enjoin the subdivision from conducting further surface mining operations until the subdivision has completed corrective measures to the satisfaction of the department. [C71, 73, §83A.22; 65GA, ch 139, §19]

83A.23 Form of bond. Each bond filed with the department by an operator pursuant to this chapter shall be in a form prescribed by the department, payable to the state of Iowa, and conditioned upon faithful performance by the operator of all requirements of this chapter and all rules adopted by the department pursuant to this chapter. The bond shall be signed by the operator as principal and by a corporate surety licensed to do business in Iowa as surety. In lieu of a bond, the operator may deposit cash or government securities with the department on the same conditions as prescribed by this section for filing of bonds. The amount of the bond or other security required to be filed with an application for registration of a surface mining site, or to increase the area of a site previously registered, shall be equal to the estimated cost of rehabilitating the site as required under section 83A.17. The estimated cost of rehabilitation of each individual site shall be determined by the department on the basis of relevant factors including, but not limited to, topography of the site, mining methods being employed, depth and composition of overburden, and depth of the mineral deposit being mined. The department may require an applicant for registration or amendment of registration of a site to furnish information necessary to estimate the cost of rehabilitating the site. The penalty of the bond or the amount of cash or securities on deposit may be increased or reduced from time to time in accordance with section 83A.15. [C71, 73, §83A.23]

Referred to in §§83A.14, 83A.24

83A.24 Single bond for multiple sites. Any operator who registers with the department two or more surface mining sites may elect, at the time the second or any subsequent site is registered, to post a single bond in lieu of separate bonds on each site. Any single bond so posted shall be in an amount equal to the estimated cost of rehabilitating all sites the operator has registered, determined as provided in section 83A.23. The penalty of a single bond on two or more surface mining sites may be increased or decreased from time to time in accordance with sections 83A.14, 83A.15, and 83A.19. When an operator elects to post a single bond in lieu of separate bonds previously posted on individual sites, the separate bonds shall not be released until the new bond has been accepted by the department. [C71, 73, §83A.24]

83A.25 Cancellation of bond. No bond filed with the department by an operator pursuant to this chapter may be canceled by the surety without at least ninety days' notice to the department. If the license to do business in Iowa of any surety of a bond filed with the department is suspended or revoked, the operator, within thirty days after receiving notice thereof from the department, shall substitute for the surety a corporate surety licensed to do business in Iowa. Upon failure of the operator to make substitution of surety as herein provided, the department shall have the right to suspend the operator's authorization to conduct surface mining on the site covered by the bond until substitution has been made. The commissioner of insurance shall notify the department whenever the license of any surety to do business in Iowa is suspended or revoked. [C71, 73,§83A.25]

83A.26 Inspection of site. The administrator of the department or his designee may enter at all times upon any lands on which any operator is authorized to operate a mine for the purpose of determining whether the operator is or has been complying with the provisions of this chapter. The department shall give written notice to any operator who violates any of the provisions of this chapter or any rules adopted by the department pursuant to this chapter. If corrective measures approved by the department are not commenced within ninety days, the violation shall be referred to the committee. The operator shall be notified in writing of the referral. All operators shall co-operate with the department in seeking methods of operation which will cause minimum disruption to the land and property adjoining a mining operation. [C71, 73,§83A.26; 65GA, ch 139,§20]

83A.27 Hearing on violations. Upon receipt of the referral, the committee shall schedule a hearing on the violation by the operator within thirty days after the date of receipt. The committee shall upon written request afford the operator the right to appear before the committee at the hearing. The operator shall have the right to counsel, and may produce witnesses and present statements, documents, and other information with respect to the alleged violation. If the committee determines that the operator is in violation of this chapter or of any rule adopted by the department pursuant to this chapter, the committee shall request the attorney general to institute bond forfeiture proceedings. [C71, 73,§83A.27; 65GA, ch 139,§21]

83A.28 Forfeiture of bond. The attorney general, upon request of the committee, shall institute proceedings for forfeiture of the bond posted by an operator to guarantee rehabilitation of a site where the operator is in violation of any of the provisions of this chapter or any rule adopted by the department pursuant to this chapter. Forfeiture of the operator's bond shall fully satisfy all obligations of the operator to rehabilitate affected land covered by the bond. The department shall have the power to rehabilitate as required by section 83A.17 any surface mined land with respect to which a bond has been forfeited, using the proceeds of the forfeiture to pay for the necessary rehabilitation work. [C71, 73,§83A.28; 65GA, ch 139, §22]

83A.29 Penalty for failure to register. Any operator who fails to make timely application for registration of each site where mining is being conducted is guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars or by imprisonment not to exceed thirty days, or both such fine and imprisonment. Each day mining activities are conducted at a site for which no application for registration has been made as required under section 83A.13 shall constitute a separate violation. [C71, 73,§83A.29; 65GA, ch 139,§23]

83A.30 Governor's approval of rules. A plan or rules setting health and safety standards for surface mining within this state shall not be valid or effective until approved by the governor after ascertaining that proper funding for such a program is available and that such a program does not duplicate a program provided by any federal agency. [C71, 73,§83A.30]

84.1 Declaration of policy. It is hereby declared to be in the public interest to foster, to encourage, and to promote the development, production, and utilization of natural resources of oil and gas in the state in such a manner as will prevent waste; to authorize and to provide for the operation and development of oil and gas properties in such a manner that a greater ultimate recovery of oil and gas be had and that the correlative rights of all owners be fully protected; and to encourage and to authorize such measures as will result in the greatest possible economic recovery of oil and gas within the state to the end that the landowners, the royalty owners, the producers, and the general public realize and enjoy the greatest possible good from these vital natural resources. It is hereby further declared that the general welfare of the people requires that the underground and surface water of the state be protected from pollution and conserved in the best interests of the people of the state. [C39, §1360.01; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §84.1]

15. The word "and" includes the word "or" and the use of the word "or" includes the word "and". The use of the plural includes the singular and the use of the singular includes the plural.

84.3 Waste prohibited. Waste of oil and gas is prohibited. [C66, 71, 73, §84.3]

84.4 Jurisdiction of council. The council has the duty of administering the provisions of this chapter. The state geologist shall act as administrator with the duty and responsibility of enforcing the regulations and orders of the council applicable to the crude petroleum oil and natural gas resources of this state and the provisions of this chapter. The council has the duty and authority to make such investigations as it deems proper to determine whether waste exists or is imminent or whether other facts exist which justify action. The council acting through the office of the state geologist has the authority:

1. To require:

a. Identification of ownership of oil or gas wells, producing leases, tanks, plants, structures, and facilities for the refining or intrastate transportation of oil and gas;

b. The making and filing of all mechanical well logs and the filing of directional surveys if taken, and the filing of reports on well location, drilling and production, and the filing free of charge of samples and core chips and of complete cores less tested sections when requested in the office of the state geologist within six months after the completion or abandonment of the well;

c. The drilling, casing, operation, and plugging of wells in such manner as to prevent the escape of oil or gas out of one stratum into another, the intrusion of water into oil or gas stratum, the pollution of fresh water supplies by oil, gas, or highly mineralized water, to prevent blowouts, cavings, seepages, and fires, and to prevent the escape of oil, gas, or water into workable coal or other mineral deposits;

d. The furnishing of a reasonable bond with good and sufficient surety, conditioned upon the full compliance with the provisions of this chapter, and the rules of the council prescribed to govern the production of oil and gas on state and private lands within the state of Iowa;

e. That the production from wells be separated into gaseous and liquid hydrocarbons, and that each be accurately measured by such means and upon such standards as may be prescribed by the council;

f. The operation of wells with efficient gas-oil and water-oil ratios, and to fix these ratios;

g. Certificates of clearance in connection with the transportation or delivery of any native and indigenous Iowa produced crude oil, gas, or any product;

h. Metering or other measuring of any native and indigenous Iowa produced crude oil, gas, or product in pipe lines, gathering systems, barge terminals, loading racks, refineries, or other places; and

i. That every person who produces, sells, purchases, acquires, stores, transports, refines, or processes native and indigenous Iowa produced crude oil or gas in this state shall keep and maintain within this state complete and accurate records of the quantities thereof, which records shall be available for examination by the council or its agents at all reasonable times, and that every such person file with the council such reports as it may prescribe with respect to such oil or gas or the products thereof.

2. To regulate:

a. The drilling, producing, and plugging of wells, and all other operations for the production of oil or gas;

b. The shooting and chemical treatment of wells;

c. The spacing of wells;

d. Operations to increase ultimate recovery such as cycling of gas, the maintenance of pressure, and the introduction of gas, water, or other substances into producing formations; and

e. Disposal of highly mineralized water and oil field wastes.

3. To limit and to allocate the production of oil and gas from any field, pool, or area.

4. To classify wells as oil or gas wells for purposes material to the interpretation or enforcement of this chapter.

5. To promulgate and to enforce rules and orders to effectuate the purposes and the intent of this chapter.

6. To make rules or orders for the classification of wells as oil wells or dry natural gas wells; or wells drilled, or to be drilled, for geological information, or as wells for secondary recovery projects, or wells for the disposal of highly mineralized water, brine, or other oil field wastes, or wells for the storage of dry natural gas, or casinghead gas, or wells for the development of reservoirs for the storage of liquid petroleum gas. [C39, §§1360.04, 1360.05; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§84.4, 84.5; C66, 71, 73, §84.4]

84.5 Drilling permit required. It shall be unlawful to commence operations for the drilling of a well for oil or gas or commence operations to deepen any well to a different geological formation without first giving the state geologist notice of intention to drill, or without first obtaining a permit from the state geologist, under such rules as may be prescribed by the council and paying to the council a fee of fifty dollars for such well. Such fee shall be used by the council for administering this chapter, including the payment of expenses incurred in publishing legal notice. [C39, §1360.03; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §84.3; C66, 71, 73, §84.5]

84.6 Council shall determine market demand and regulate the amount of production. The council shall determine market demand for each marketing district and regulate the amount of production as follows:

1. The council shall limit the production of oil and gas within each marketing district to that amount which can be produced without waste, and which does not exceed the reasonable market demand.

2. Whenever the council limits the total amount of oil or gas which may be produced in the state or a marketing district, the council shall allocate or distribute the allowable production among the pools therein on a reasonable basis, giving, where reasonable under the circumstances to each pool with small wells of settled production, an allowable production which prevents the general premature abandonment of such wells in the pool.

3. Whenever the council limits the total amount of oil or gas which may be produced in any pool in this state to an amount less than that amount which the pool could produce if no restriction were imposed, which limitation is imposed either incidental to, or without, a limitation of the total amount of oil or gas produced in the marketing district wherein the pool is located, the council shall allocate or distribute the allowable production among the several wells or producing properties in the pool on a reasonable basis, preventing or minimizing reasonable avoidable drainage, so that each property will have the opportunity to produce or to receive its just and equitable share, subject to the reasonable necessities for the prevention of waste.

4. In allocating the market demand for gas as between pools within marketing districts, the council shall give due regard to the fact that gas produced from oil pools is to be regulated in a manner as will protect the reasonable use of its energy for oil production.

5. The council shall not be required to determine the reasonable market demand applicable to any single pool, except in relation to all other pools within the same marketing district, and in relation to the demand applicable to the marketing district. In allocating allowables to pools, the council may consider, but shall not be bound by nominations of purchasers to purchase from particular fields, pools, or portions thereof. The council shall allocate the total allowable for the state in such manner as prevents undue discrimination between marketing districts, fields, pools, or portions thereof resulting from selective buying or nomination by purchasers. [C66, 71, 73, §84.6]

84.7 Council shall set spacing units. The council shall set spacing units as follows:

1. When necessary to prevent waste, to avoid the drilling of unnecessary wells, or to protect correlative rights, the council shall establish spacing units for a pool. Spacing units when established shall be of uniform size and shape for the entire pool, except that when found to be necessary for any of the purposes above-mentioned, the council is authorized to divide any pool into zones and establish spacing units for each zone, which units may differ in size and shape from those established in any other zone.

2. The size and shape of spacing units are to be such as will result in the efficient and economical development of the pool as a whole.

3. An order establishing spacing units for a pool shall specify the size and shape of each unit and the location of the permitted well thereon in accordance with a reasonably uniform spacing plan. Upon application, if the state geologist finds that a well drilled at the prescribed location would not produce in paying quantities, or that surface conditions would substantially add to the burden or hazard of drilling such well, the state geologist is authorized to enter an order permitting the well to be drilled at a location other than that prescribed by such spacing order; however, the state geologist shall include in the order suitable provisions to prevent the production from the spacing unit of more than its just and equitable share of the oil and gas in the pool.

4. An order establishing units for a pool shall cover all lands determined or believed to be overlaid by such pool, and may be modified by the state geologist from time to time to include additional areas determined to be overlaid by such pool. When found necessary for the prevention of waste, or to avoid the drilling of unnecessary wells or to protect correlative rights, an order establishing spacing units in a pool may be modified by the state geologist to increase the size of spacing units in the pool or any zone thereof, or to permit the drilling of additional wells on a reasonable uniform plan in the pool, or any zone thereof. Orders of the state geologist may be appealed to the council within thirty days. [C39, §1360.02; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §84.2; C66, 71, 73, §84.7]

84.8 Integration of fractional tracts.

1. When two or more separately owned tracts are embraced within a spacing unit, or when there are separately owned interests in all or a part of the spacing unit, then the owners and royalty owners thereof may pool their interests for the development and operation of the spacing unit. In the absence of voluntary pooling the council upon the application of any interested person, shall enter an order pooling all interests in the spacing unit for the development and operations thereof. Each such pooling order shall be made after notice and hearing, and shall be upon terms and conditions that are just and reasonable, and that afford to the owner of each tract or interest in the spacing unit the opportunity to recover or receive, without unnecessary expense, his just and equitable share. Operations incident to the drilling of a well upon any portion of a spacing unit covered by a pooling order shall be deemed for all purposes, the conduct of such operations upon each separately owned tract in the drilling unit by the several owners thereof. That portion of the production allocated to each tract included in a spacing unit covered by a pooling order shall, when produced, be deemed for all purposes to have been produced from such tract by a well drilled thereon.

2. Each such pooling order shall make provision for the drilling and operation of a well on the spacing unit, and for the payment of the reasonable actual cost thereof by the owners of interests in the spacing unit, plus a reasonable charge for supervision. In the event of any dispute as to such costs the council shall determine the proper costs. If one or more of the owners shall drill and operate, or pay the expenses of drilling and operating the well for the benefit of others, then, the owner or owners so drilling or operating shall, upon complying with the terms of section 84.10, have a lien on the share of production from the spacing unit accruing to the interest of each of the other owners for the payment of his proportionate share of such expenses. All the oil and gas subject to the lien shall be marketed and sold and the proceeds applied in payment of the expenses secured by such lien as provided for in section 84.10. [C66, 71, 73,§84.8]

84.9 Voluntary agreements for unit operation valid. An agreement for the unit or co-operative development and operation of a field or pool, in connection with the conduct of a repressuring or pressure maintenance operations, cycling or recycling operations, including the extraction and separation of liquid hydrocarbons from natural gas in connection therewith, or any other method of operation, including water floods, is authorized and may be performed and shall not be held or construed to violate any of the statutes of this state relating to trusts, monopolies, or contracts and combinations in restraint of trade, if the agreement is approved by the council as being in the public interest, protective of correlative rights, and reasonably necessary to increase ultimate recovery or to prevent waste of oil or gas. Such agreements bind only the persons who execute them, and their heirs, successors, assigns, and legal representatives. [C66, 71, 73,§84.9]

84.10 Liens for development and operating costs. A person to whom another is indebted for expenses incurred in drilling and operating a well on a drilling unit required to be formed as provided for in section 84.8, may, in order to secure payment of the amount due, fix a lien upon the interest of the debtor in the production from the drilling unit or the unit area, as the case may be, by filing for record, with the recorder of the county where property involved, or any part thereof, is located, an affidavit setting forth the amount due and the interest of the debtor in such production. The person to whom the amount is payable may, at the expense of the debtor, store all or any part of the production upon which the lien exists until the total amount due, including reasonable storage charges, is paid or the commodity is sold at foreclosure sale and delivery is made to the purchaser. The lien may be foreclosed as provided for with respect to foreclosure of a lien on chattels. [C66, 71, 73,§84.10]

84.11 Rules covering practice before council.

1. The council shall prescribe rules governing the practice and procedure before it.

2. No order, or amendment thereof, except in an emergency, shall be made by the council without a public hearing upon at least ten days' notice. The public hearing shall be held at such time and place as may be prescribed by the council, and any interested person shall be entitled to be heard.

3. When an emergency requiring immediate action is found to exist the council is authorized to issue an emergency order without notice of hearing, which shall be effective upon promulgation. No emergency order shall remain effective for more than fifteen days.

4. Any notice required by this chapter shall be given at the election of the council either by personal service or by letter to the last recorded address and one publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the state capital city and in a newspaper of general circulation in the county where the land affected, or some part thereof, is situated. The notice shall issue in the name of the state, shall be signed by the state geologist, shall specify the style and number of the proceeding, the time and place of the hearing, and shall briefly state the purpose of the proceeding. Should the council elect to give notice by personal service, such service may be made by any officer authorized to serve process, or by any agent of the council, in the same manner as is provided by law for the service of original notices in civil actions in the district court of the state. Proof of the service by such agent shall be by the affidavit of the person making personal service.

5. All orders issued by the council shall be in writing, shall be entered in full and indexed in books to be kept by the state geologist for that purpose, and shall be public records open for inspection at all times during reasonable office hours. A copy of any rule or order certified by the state geologist or any officer of the council shall be received in evidence in all courts of this state with the same effect as the original.

6. The council may act upon its own motion, or upon the petition of any interested person. On the filing of a petition concerning any matter within the jurisdiction of the council, the council shall promptly fix a date for a hearing thereon, and shall cause notice of the hearing to be given. The hearing shall be held without undue delay after the filing of the petition. The council shall enter its order within thirty days after the hearing. [C66, 71, 73,§84.11]

84.12 Summoning witnesses, administering oaths, requiring production of records—hearing examiners appointed.

1. The council shall have the power to summon witnesses, to administer oaths, and require the production of records, books, and documents for examination at any hearing or investigation conducted. No person shall be excused from attending and testifying, or from producing books, papers, and records before the council or a court, or from obedience to the subpoena of the council or a court, on the ground or for the reason that the testimony or evidence, documentary or otherwise, required of him may tend to incriminate him or subject him to a penalty or forfeiture; provided, that nothing herein contained shall be construed as requiring any person to produce any books, papers, or records, or to testify in response to any inquiry not pertinent to some question lawfully before such council or court for determination. No natural person shall be subjected to criminal prosecution or to any penalty or forfeiture for or on account of any transaction, matter, or thing concerning which, in spite of his objections, he may be required to testify or produce evidence, documentary or otherwise, before the council or court, or in obedience to subpoena; provided, that no person testifying shall be exempted from prosecution and punishment for perjury committed in so testifying.

2. In case of failure or refusal on the part of any person to comply with the subpoena issued by the council, or in case of the refusal of any witness to testify as to any matter regarding which he may be interrogated, any court in the state, upon the application of the council, may issue an attachment for such person and compel him to comply with such subpoena, and to attend before the council and produce such records, books, and documents, for examination, and to give his testimony. Such courts shall have the power to punish for contempt as in the case of disobedience to a like subpoena issued by the court, or for refusal to testify therein.

3. The council may appoint a hearing examiner or examiners to conduct hearings required by this chapter. When so appointed, such hearing examiner or examiners shall have and exercise all of the powers delegated to the council by this section. [C66, 71, 73, §84.12]

84.13 Person adversely affected—rehearing. Any person adversely affected by any order of the council may within thirty days after its effective date apply to the council in writing for a rehearing. The application for rehearing shall be acted upon within fifteen days after its filing, and if granted, the rehearing shall be held without undue delay. [C66, 71, 73, §84.13]

84.14 Appeal to district court—procedure of appeal.

1. Judicial review of action of the council may be sought in accordance with the terms of the Iowa administrative procedure Act. Notwithstanding the terms of the Iowa administrative procedure Act, petitions for judicial review may be filed in the district court of Polk county or in the district court of any county in which the property affected or some portion thereof is located.

2. If at the time of filing of the petition for judicial review suspension of the order is asked for, the council shall enter an order fixing the amount of the supersedeas bond. Within ten days after the entry of an order by the council which fixes the amount of the bond, the petitioner must file with the council a supersedeas bond in the required amount and with proper surety; upon approval of the bond, the council shall suspend the order complained of until its final disposition upon review. The bond shall run in favor of the state of Iowa for the use and benefit of any person who may suffer damage by reason of the suspension of the order in the event the same is affirmed by the district court. If the order of the council is not superseded, it shall continue in force and effect as if no petition for judicial review was pending.

3. The district court shall, insofar as is practicable, give precedence to petitions for judicial review of orders of the council. [C66, 71, 73, §84.14; 65GA, ch 1090, §43]

Amendment effective July 1, 1975

84.15 Acquisition and handling illegal oil and gas prohibited—seizure of illegal oil and sale thereof.

1. The sale, purchase, acquisition, transportation, refining, processing, or handling of illegal oil, illegal gas, or illegal product is hereby prohibited. However, no penalty by way of fine shall be imposed upon a person who sells, purchases, acquires, transports, refines, processes, or handles illegal oil, illegal gas, or illegal product unless

a. Such person knows, or is put on notice, of facts indicating that illegal oil, illegal gas, or illegal product is involved, or

b. Such person fails to obtain a certificate of clearance with respect to such oil, gas, or product where prescribed by order of the council, or fails to follow any other method prescribed by an order of the council for the identification of such oil, gas or product.

2. Illegal oil, illegal gas, and illegal product are declared to be contraband and are subject to seizure and sale as herein provided; seizure and sale to be in addition to any and all other remedies and penalties provided in this chapter for violations relating to illegal oil, illegal gas, or illegal product. Whenever the council believes that any oil, gas or product is illegal, the council acting by the attorney general, shall bring a civil action in rem in the district court of the county where such oil, gas, or product is found, to seize and sell the same, or the council may include such an action in rem for the seizure and sale of illegal oil, illegal gas, or illegal product in any suit brought for an injunction or penalty involving illegal oil, illegal gas, or illegal product. Any person claiming an interest in oil, gas, or product affected by any such action shall have the right to intervene as an interested party in such action.

3. Actions for the seizure and sale of illegal oil, illegal gas, or illegal product shall be strictly in rem, and shall proceed in the name of the state as plaintiff against the illegal oil, illegal gas, or illegal products as defendant. No bond or similar undertaking shall be required of the plaintiff. Upon the filing of the petition for seizure and sale, the attorney general shall issue a notice, with a copy of the complaint attached thereto, which shall be served in the manner provided for service of original notices in civil actions, upon any and all persons having or claiming any interest in the illegal oil, illegal gas, or illegal products described in the petition. Service shall be completed by the filing of an affidavit by the person making the service, stating the time and manner of making such service. Any person who fails to appear and answer within the period of thirty days shall be forever barred by the judgment based on such service. If the court, on a properly verified petition, or affidavits, or oral testimony, finds that grounds for seizure and for sale exist, the court shall issue an immediate order of seizure, describing the oil, gas, or product to be seized and directing the sheriff of the county to take such oil, gas, or product into his custody, actual or constructive, and to hold the same subject to the further order of the court. The court, in such order of seizure, may direct the sheriff to deliver the oil, gas, or product seized by him under the order to an agent appointed by the court as the agent of the court; such agent to give bond in an amount and with such surety as the court may direct, conditioned upon his compliance with the orders of the court concerning the custody and disposition of such oil, gas, or product.

4. Any person having an interest in oil, gas, or product described in an order of seizure and contesting the right of the state to the seizure and sale thereof may, prior to the sale thereof as herein provided, obtain the release thereof, upon furnishing bond to the sheriff approved by the court, in an amount equal to one hundred fifty percent of the market value of the oil, gas, or product to be released, and conditioned as the court may direct upon re-delivery to the sheriff of such product released or upon payment to the sheriff of the market value thereof as the court may direct, if and when ordered by the court, and upon full compliance with the further orders of the court.

5. If the court, after a hearing upon a petition for the seizure and sale of oil, gas, or product, finds that such oil, gas, or product is contraband, the court shall order the sale thereof by the sheriff in the same manner and upon the same notice of sale as provided by law for the sale of personal property on execution of judgment entered in a civil action except that the court may order that the illegal oil, illegal gas, or illegal product be sold in specified lots or portions and at specified intervals. Upon such sale, title to the oil, gas, or product sold shall vest in the purchaser free of the claims of any and all persons having any title thereto or interest therein at or prior to the seizure thereof, and the same shall be legal oil, legal gas, or legal product, as the case may be, in the hands of the purchaser.

6. All proceeds derived from the sale of illegal oil, illegal gas, or illegal product, as above provided, after payment of costs of suit and expenses incident to the sale and all amounts paid as penalties provided for by this chapter shall be paid to the state treasurer and credited to the general fund. [C66, 71, 73, §84.15]

84.16 Penalties.

1. Any person who violates any provision of this chapter, or any rule or order of the council shall be subject to a penalty of not more than one thousand dollars for each act of violation and for each day that such violation continues, unless the penalty for such violation is otherwise specifically provided for and made exclusive in this chapter.

2. If any person, for the purpose of evading this chapter, or any rule or order of the council, shall make or cause to be made any false entry or statement in a report required by this chapter or by any such rule or order, or shall make or cause to be made any false entry in any record, account, or memorandum required by this chapter, or by any such rule or order, or shall omit, or cause to be omitted, from any such record, account, or memorandum, full, true, and correct entries as required by this chapter, or by any such rule or order, or shall remove from this state or destroy, mutilate, alter or falsify any such record, account, or memorandum, such person shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, shall be subject to a fine of not more than five thousand dollars or imprisonment in a county jail for a term not exceeding six months, or to both such fine and imprisonment.

3. Any person knowingly aiding or abetting any other person in the violation of any provision of this chapter, or any rule or order of the council shall be subject to the same penalty as that prescribed by this chapter for the violation by such other person.

4. The penalties provided in this section shall be recoverable by suit filed by the attorney general in the name and on behalf of the council, in the district court of the county in which the defendant resides, or in which any defendant resides, if there be more than one defendant, or in the district court of any county in which the violation occurred. The payment of any such penalty shall not operate to legalize any illegal oil, illegal gas, or illegal product involved in the violation for which the penalty is imposed, or to relieve a person on whom the penalty is imposed from liability to any other person for damages arising out of such violation. [C66, 71, 73,§84.16]

84.17 Action to restrain violation or threatened violation.

1. Whenever it appears that any person is violating or threatening to violate any provision of this chapter, or any rule or order of the council, the council shall bring suit against such person in the district court of any county where the violation occurs or is threatened, to restrain such person from continuing such violation or from carrying out the threat of violation. In any such suit, the court shall have jurisdiction to grant to the council, without bond or other undertaking, such prohibitory and mandatory injunctions as the facts may warrant, including temporary restraining orders, preliminary injunctions, temporary, preliminary, or final orders restraining the movement or disposition of any illegal oil, illegal gas, or illegal product, any of which the court may order to be impounded or placed in the custody of an agent appointed by the court.

2. If the council shall fail to bring suit to enjoin a violation or threatened violation of any provision of this chapter, or any rule or order of the council, within ten days after receipt of written request to do so by any person who is or will be adversely affected by such violation, the person making such request may bring suit in his own behalf to restrain such violation or threatened violation in any court in which the council might have brought suit. The council shall be made a party defendant in such suit in addition to the person violating or threatening to violate a provision of this chapter, or a rule or order of the council, and the action shall proceed and injunctive relief may be granted to the council or the petitioner without bond in the same manner as if suit had been brought by the council. [C66, 71, 73,§84.17]

84.18 Mineral rights taxed separately. All rights and interests in or to oil, gas or other minerals underlying land, whether created by or arising under deed, lease, reservation of rights, or otherwise, which rights or interests are owned by any person other than the owner of the land, shall be assessed and taxed separately to the owner of such rights or interests in the same manner as other real estate. The taxes on such rights or interests which are not owned by the owner of the land shall not be a lien on the land. [C66, 71, 73,§84.18]

85.1 To whom not applicable. Except as provided in subsection 5 of this section, this chapter shall not apply to:

1. Any employee engaged in any type of service in or about a private dwelling except that after July 1, 1974, this chapter shall apply to such persons who earn two hundred dollars or more from such employer for whom employed at the time of the injury during the thirteen consecutive weeks prior to the injury, provided said employee is not a regular member of the household. For purposes of this subsection "member of the household" is defined to be the spouse of the employer or relatives of either the employer or spouse residing on the premises of the employer.

2. Persons whose employment is purely casual and not for the purpose of the employer's trade or business, except that after July 1, 1974, this chapter shall apply to such employees who earn two hundred dollars or more from such employer for whom employed at the time of the injury during the thirteen consecutive weeks prior to the injury.

3. Persons engaged in agriculture, insofar as injuries shall be incurred by employees while engaged in agricultural pursuits or any operations immediately connected therewith, whether on or off the premises of the employer, except that commencing January 1, 1974, this chapter shall apply to such persons if at the time of injury such person is employed by an employer:

a. Whose total cash payments to one or more such persons amounted to two thousand five hundred dollars or more during the preceding calendar year, or

b. Who employs at least one person regularly. An employer shall be deemed to employ a person regularly if he employs at least one person for forty hours or more per week for thirteen consecutive weeks during any part of the preceding twelve months.

c. For purposes of paragraphs "a" and "b" of this subsection, commencing January 1, 1975, the following shall not be included within the classification of persons engaged in agriculture: (1) the spouse of the employer and relatives of either the employer or spouse residing on the premises of the employer, and (2) any person engaged in agriculture as an owner-operator or tenant-operator or spouse or relatives of either residing on the premises of such owner-operator or tenant-operator, while exchanging labor with an employer, or spouse, or relatives of either residing on the premises of such employer, for the mutual benefit of any or all of such persons.

4. As between a municipal corporation or city, and any person or persons receiving any benefits under, or who may be entitled to benefits from, any "firemen's pension fund" or "policemen's pension fund" of any municipal corporation or city, under the provisions of chapter 411, except volunteer firemen and except as otherwise provided by law.

5. Employers, including employers of household or domestic servants, employers of persons whose employment is of a casual nature, employers of persons engaged in agriculture, and employers of persons not in the course of the employer's business, may assume with respect to any such employee or person or classification of employees not within the coverage of this chapter, as otherwise provided in subsections 1, 2, 3 and 4 of this section, other than any such employee or classification of employees with respect to whom a rule of liability or a method of compensation has been or may be established by the Congress of the United States, a liability for compensation imposed upon employers by this chapter for the benefit of employees within the coverage of this chapter. The purchase of and acceptance by any such employer of valid workmen's compensation insurance applicable to such employee or person or classification of employees shall constitute as to such employer an assumption by such employer of such liability without any further act on the part of such employer, but only with respect to such employee or person or such classification of employees as are within the coverage of the said workmen's compensation insurance contract. Whenever under the provisions of this subsection an employer voluntarily elects to assume the liability for the payment of compensation to such employees or persons or such classification of employees by the purchase of valid workmen's compensation insurance, the liability of such employer shall take effect and continue from the effective date of such workmen's compensation insurance contract as long only as such insurance contract shall be in force. Upon such an election, such employee or person or classification of employees shall accept compensation in the manner provided by the chapter and the employer shall be relieved from any other liability for recovery of damage, or other compensation for such injury. An employer, upon the election to assume liability by the purchase of workmen's compensation insurance under the provisions of this subsection, shall give notice thereof to the industrial commissioner by certified United States mail.

6. Persons entitled to benefits pursuant to chapter 411. [S13,§2477-m; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §1361; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85.1; 65GA, ch 144,§§1-3, ch 145,§1, ch 1087,§§29, 32, ch 1110,§§1-3]

Where the state, county, municipal corporation, school corporation, area education agency, or city under any form of government is the employer, the provisions of this chapter for the payment of compensation and amount thereof for an injury sustained by an employee of such employer shall be exclusive, compulsory, and obligatory upon both employer and employee, except as otherwise provided in section 85.1. For the purposes of this chapter elected and appointed officials shall be employees. [S13, §2477-m; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1362; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85.2; 65GA, ch 1172,§17]

2. Any employer who is a nonresident of the state, for whom services are performed within the state by employees entitled to rights under this or chapter 85A by virtue of having such services performed shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the industrial commissioner and to all of the provisions of this chapter, chapters 85A, 86, and 87, as to any and all personal injuries sustained by an employee arising out of and in the course of such employment within this state.

Such employer shall be deemed to have appointed the secretary of state of this state as its lawful attorney upon whom may be served any and all notices authorized or required by the provisions of this chapter, chapters 85A, 86, and 87 and to agree that any and all such services of notice on the secretary of state shall be of the same legal force and validity as if personally served upon such nonresident employer in this state. [S13,§2477-m; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1363; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §85.3]

85.17 Repealed by 63GA, ch 1051,§5.

85.18 Contract to relieve not operative. No contract, rule, or device whatsoever shall operate to relieve the employer, in whole or in part, from any liability created by this chapter except as herein provided. [S13,§2477-m7; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1378; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §85.18]

85.19 Repealed by 63GA, ch 1051,§5.

85.20 Rights of employee exclusive. The rights and remedies provided in this chapter or chapter 85A for an employee on account of injury or occupational disease for which benefits under this chapter or chapter 85A are recoverable, shall be the exclusive rights and remedies of such employee, his personal or legal representatives, dependents, or next of kin, at common law or otherwise, on account of such injury or occupational disease against his employer; or any other employee of such employer, provided that such injury or occupational disease arises out of and in the course of such employment and is not caused by the other employee's gross negligence amounting to such lack of care as to amount to wanton neglect for the safety of another. [S13,§2477-m2; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1380; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85.20; 65GA, ch 1111,§1]

85.21 Repealed by 63GA, ch 1051,§7.

85.22 Liability of others — subrogation. When an employee receives an injury or incurs an occupational disease for which compensation is payable under this chapter or chapter 85A, and which injury or occupational disease is caused under circumstances creating a legal liability against some person, other than his employer or any employee of such employer as provided in section 85.20 to pay damages, the employee, or his dependent, or the trustee of such dependent, may take proceedings against his employer for compensation, and the employee or, in case of death, his legal representative may also maintain an action against such third party for damages. When an injured employee or his legal representative brings an action against such third party, a copy of the original notice shall be served upon the employer by the plaintiff, not less than ten days before the trial of the case, but a failure to give such notice shall not prejudice the rights of the employer, and the following rights and duties shall ensue:

1. If compensation is paid the employee or dependent or the trustee of such dependent under this chapter, the employer by whom the same was paid, or his insurer which paid it, shall be indemnified out of the recovery of damages to the extent of the payment so made, with legal interest, except for such attorney fees as may be allowed, by the district court, to the injured employee's or his personal representative's attorney, and shall have a lien on the claim for such recovery and the judgment thereon for the compensation for which he is liable. In order to continue and preserve the lien, the employer or insurer shall, within thirty days after receiving notice of such suit from the employee, file, in the office of the clerk of the court where the action is brought, notice of the lien.

2. In case the employee fails to bring such action within ninety days, or where a city or a city under special charter is such third party, within thirty days after written notice so to do given by the employer or his insurer, as the case may be, then the employer or his insurer shall be subrogated to the rights of the employee to maintain the action against such third party, and may recover damages for the injury to the same extent that the employee might. In case of recovery, the court shall enter judgment for distribution of the proceeds thereof as follows:

a. A sum sufficient to repay the employer for the amount of compensation actually paid by him to that time.

b. A sum sufficient to pay the employer the present worth computed on a six percent basis of the future payments of compensation for which he is liable, but such sum thus found shall not be considered as a final adjudication of the future payments which the employee shall receive and the amount received by the employer, if any, in excess of that required to pay the compensation shall be paid to the employee.

c. The balance, if any, shall be paid over to the employee.

3. Before a settlement shall become effective between an employee or an employer and such third party who is liable for the injury, it must be with the written consent of the employee, in case the settlement is between the employer or insurer and such third person; and the consent of the employer or insurer, in case the settlement is between the employee and such third party; or on refusal of consent, in either case, then upon the written approval of the industrial commissioner. The industrial commissioner may compromise and settle on behalf of the state of Iowa any workmen's compensation cases of doubtful liability.

4. A written memorandum of any settlement, if made, shall be filed by the employer or insurance carrier in the office of the industrial commissioner.

5. For subrogation purposes hereunder, any payment made unto an injured employee, his guardian, parent, next friend, or legal representative, by or on behalf of any third party, his or its principal or agent liable for, connected with, or involved in causing an injury to such employee shall be considered as having been so paid as damages resulting from and because said injury was caused under circumstances creating a legal liability against said third party, whether such payment be made under a covenant not to sue, compromise settlement, denial of liability or otherwise.

6. When the state of Iowa has paid any compensation or benefits under the provisions of this chapter, the word "employer" as used in this section shall mean and include the state of Iowa. [S13,§2477-m8; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1382; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85.22; 65 GA, ch 1087,§32, ch 1111,§2]

85.23 Notice of injury—failure to give. Unless the employer or his representative shall have actual knowledge of the occurrence of an injury, or unless the employee or someone on his behalf or some of the dependents or someone on their behalf shall give notice thereof to the employer within fifteen days after the occurrence of the injury, then no compensation shall be paid until and from the date such notice is given or knowledge obtained; but if such notice is given or knowledge obtained within thirty days from the occurrence of the injury, no want, failure, or inaccuracy of a notice shall be a bar to obtaining compensation, unless the employer shall show that he was prejudiced thereby, and then only to the extent of such prejudice; but if the employee or beneficiary shall show that his failure to give prior notice was due to mistake, inadvertence, ignorance of fact or law, or inability, or to the fraud, misrepresentation, or deceit of another, or to any other reasonable cause or excuse, then compensation may be allowed, unless and then to the extent only that the employer shall show that he was prejudiced by failure to receive such notice; but unless knowledge is obtained or notice given within ninety days after the occurrence of the injury, no compensation shall be allowed. [S13,§2477-m8; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1383; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85.23]

85.29 Liability in case of no dependents. When the injury causes death of an employee who leaves no dependents, then the employer shall pay the reasonable expense of the employee's sickness, if any, and the expense of burial, as provided in sections 85.27 and 85.28, and this shall be the only compensation; provided that if, from the date of the injury until the date of the death, any weekly compensation shall have become due and unpaid up to the time of the death, the same shall be payable to the estate of the deceased employee. [S13,§2477-m9; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1389; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85.29]

85.30 Maturity date and interest. Compensation payments shall be made each week beginning on the fifteenth day after the injury, and each week thereafter during the period for which compensation is payable, and if not paid when due, there shall be added to such weekly compensation payments, interest at six percent from date of maturity. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1391; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §85.30]

85.31 Death cases—dependents.

1. When death results from the injury, the employer shall pay the dependents who were wholly dependent on the earnings of the employee for support at the time of his injury, during their lifetime, compensation upon the basis of eighty percent per week of the employee's average weekly spendable earnings, commencing from the date of his death as follows:

a. To the widow or widower for life or until remarriage, provided that upon remarriage two years' benefits shall be paid to the widow or widower in a lump sum, if there are no children entitled to benefits.

b. To any child of the deceased until the child shall reach the age of eighteen, provided that a child beyond eighteen years of age shall receive benefits to the age of twenty-five if actually dependent, and the fact that a child is under twenty-five years of age and is enrolled as a full-time student in any accredited educational institution shall be a prima facie showing of actual dependency.

c. To any child who was physically or mentally incapacitated from earning at the time of the injury causing death for the duration of the incapacity from earning.

d. To all other dependents as defined in section 85.44 for the duration of the incapacity from earning.

The weekly benefit amount shall not exceed a weekly benefit amount, rounded to the nearest dollar, equal to sixty-six and two-thirds percent of the state average weekly wage paid employees as determined by the Iowa employment security commission under the provisions of section 96.3 and in effect at the time of the injury, provided, that as of July 1, 1975; July 1, 1977; July 1, 1979; and July 1, 1981, the maximum weekly benefit amount rounded to the nearest dollar shall be increased so that it shall equal one hundred percent, one hundred thirty-three and one-third percent, one hundred sixty-six and two-thirds percent and two hundred percent, respectively, of the state average weekly wage as determined above; provided further, that such weekly compensation shall not be less than eighteen dollars per week, except if at the time of his injury his earnings are less than eighteen dollars per week, then the weekly compensation shall be a sum equal to the full amount of his weekly earnings. Such compensation shall be in addition to the benefits provided by sections 85.27 and 85.28.

2. When the injury causes the death of a minor employee whose earnings were received by the parent and such parent was wholly dependent upon the earnings of the minor employee for support at the time of his injury, the compensation to be paid such parent shall be the weekly compensation for an adult with like earnings. For the purposes of this section a stepparent shall be regarded as a parent only when the stepparent has actually received his principal support from the stepchild who died as a result of compensable injuries.

3. If the employee leaves dependents only partially dependent upon his earnings for support at the time of the injury, the weekly compensation to be paid as aforesaid, shall be equal to the same proportion of the weekly payments for the benefit of persons wholly dependent as the amount contributed by the employee to such partial dependents bears to the annual earnings of the deceased at the time of the injury.

4. Where an employee is entitled to compensation under this chapter for an injury received, and death ensues from any cause not resulting from the injury for which he was entitled to the compensation, payments of the unpaid balance for such injury shall cease and all liability therefor shall terminate.

5. Except as otherwise provided by treaty, whenever, under the provisions of this and chapters 86 and 87, compensation is payable to a dependent who is an alien not residing in the United States at the time of the injury, the employer shall pay fifty percent of the compensation herein otherwise provided to such dependent, and the other fifty percent shall be paid into the second injury fund in the custody of the treasurer of state. But if the nonresident alien dependent is a citizen of a government having a compensation law which excludes citizens of the United States, either resident or nonresident, from partaking of the benefits of such law in as favorable degree as herein extended to the nonresident alien, then said compensation which would otherwise be payable to such dependent shall be paid into the second injury fund in the custody of the treasurer of state. [S13,§§2477-m9-m10; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1392; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85.31; 63GA, ch 144,§6, ch 1110,§6]

Referred to in §§85.43, 85.45

85.32 When compensation begins. Except as to injuries resulting in permanent partial disability, compensation shall begin on the eighth day of disability after the injury.

If the period of incapacity extends beyond the twenty-eighth day following the date of injury, then the compensation for the fourth week shall be increased by adding thereto an amount equal to one-third of one week of compensation.

If the period of incapacity extends beyond the thirty-fifth day following the date of injury, then the compensation for the fifth week shall be increased by adding thereto an amount equal to one-third of one week of compensation.

If the period of incapacity extends beyond the forty-second day following the date of injury, then the compensation for the sixth week shall be increased by adding thereto an amount equal to one-third of one week of compensation.

If the period of incapacity extends beyond the forty-second day following the date of injury, then the compensation thereafter shall be only the weekly compensation. [S13,§2477-m9; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1393; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85.32]

Referred to in §85.33

85.33 Temporary disability. The employer shall pay to the employee for injury producing temporary disability and beginning upon the eighth day thereof, weekly compensation benefit payments for the period of his disability, including the periodical increase in cases to which section 85.32 applies. [S13,§2477-m9; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1394; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85.33; 65GA, ch 144,§7]

85.34 Permanent disabilities. Compensation for permanent disabilities and during a healing period for scheduled permanent partial disabilities shall be payable to an employee as provided in this section. In the event weekly compensation had been paid to any person under any provision of this chapter or chapter 85A other than is required by subsections 1 and 2 hereof, for the same injury producing a permanent partial disability, any such amounts so paid shall be deducted from the total amount of compensation payable for such permanent partial disability.

1. Healing period. If an employee has suffered a personal injury causing permanent partial disability for which compensation is payable as provided in subsection 2 of this section, the employer shall pay to the employee compensation for a healing period, as provided in section 85.37, beginning on the date of the injury, and until he has returned to work or competent medical evidence indicates that recuperation from said injury has been accomplished, whichever comes first.

2. Permanent partial disabilities. Compensation for permanent partial disability shall begin at the termination of the healing period provided in subsection 1 hereof. Such compensation shall be in addition to the benefits provided by sections 85.27 and 85.28. Such compensation shall be based upon the extent of such disability and upon the basis of eighty percent per week of the employee's average weekly spendable earnings, but not more than a weekly benefit amount, rounded to the nearest dollar, equal to sixty-one and one-third percent of the state average weekly wage paid employees as determined by the Iowa employment security commission under the provisions of section 96.3 and in effect at the time of the injury, provided that as of July 1, 1975; July 1, 1977; July 1, 1979; and July 1, 1981, the maximum weekly benefit amount rounded to the nearest dollar shall be increased so that it shall equal ninety-two percent, one hundred and twenty-two and two-thirds percent, one hundred fifty-three and one-third percent, and one hundred eighty-four percent, respectively, of the state average weekly wage as determined above; provided that no employee shall receive as compensation less than eighteen dollars per week, except if at the time of his injury his earnings are less than eighteen dollars per week, then the weekly compensation shall be a sum equal to the full amount of his weekly earnings; and for all cases of permanent partial disability such compensation shall be paid as follows:

a. For the loss of a thumb, weekly compensation during sixty weeks.

b. For the loss of a first finger, commonly called the index finger, weekly compensation during thirty-five weeks.

c. For the loss of a second finger, weekly compensation during thirty weeks.

d. For the loss of a third finger, weekly compensation during twenty-five weeks.

e. For the loss of a fourth finger, commonly called the little finger, weekly compensation during twenty weeks.

f. The loss of the first or distal phalange of the thumb or of any finger shall equal the loss of one-half of such thumb or finger and the weekly compensation shall be paid during one-half of the time but not to exceed one-half of the total amount for the loss of such thumb or finger.

g. The loss of more than one phalange shall equal the loss of the entire finger or thumb.

h. For the loss of a great toe, weekly compensation during forty weeks.

i. For the loss of one of the toes other than the great toe, weekly compensation during fifteen weeks.

j. The loss of the first phalange of any toe shall equal the loss of one-half of such toe and the weekly compensation shall be paid during one-half of the time but not to exceed one-half of the total amount provided for the loss of such toe.

k. The loss of more than one phalange shall equal the loss of the entire toe.

l. For the loss of a hand, weekly compensation during one hundred seventy-five weeks.

m. The loss of two-thirds of that part of an arm between the shoulder joint and the elbow joint shall equal the loss of an arm and the compensation therefor shall be weekly compensation during two hundred thirty weeks.

n. For the loss of a foot, weekly compensation during one hundred fifty weeks.

o. The loss of two-thirds of that part of a leg between the hip joint and the knee joint shall equal the loss of a leg, and the compensation therefor shall be weekly compensation during two hundred weeks.

p. For the loss of an eye, weekly compensation during one hundred twenty-five weeks.

q. For the loss of an eye, the other eye having been lost prior to the injury, weekly compensation during two hundred weeks.

r. For the loss of hearing in one ear, weekly compensation during fifty weeks, and for the loss of hearing in both ears, weekly compensation during one hundred seventy-five weeks.

s. The loss of both arms, or both hands, or both feet, or both legs, or both eyes, or any two thereof, caused by a single accident, shall equal five hundred weeks and shall be compensated as such, however, if said employee is permanently and totally disabled he may be entitled to benefits under subsection 3.

t. For permanent disfigurement of the face or head which shall impair the future usefulness and earnings of the employee in his occupation at the time of receiving the injury, weekly compensation, for such period as may be determined by the industrial commissioner according to the severity of the disfigurement, but not to exceed one hundred fifty weeks.

u. In all cases of permanent partial disability other than those hereinabove described or referred to in paragraphs "a" through "t" hereof, the compensation shall be paid during the number of weeks in relation to five hundred weeks as the disability bears to the body of the injured employee as a whole.

If it is determined that an injury has produced a disability less than that specifically described in said schedule, compensation shall be paid during the lesser number of weeks of disability determined, as will not exceed a total amount equal to the same percentage proportion of said scheduled maximum compensation.

In no case shall the weekly compensation payments exceed the amount determined by dividing the total number of weeks into the maximum total compensation stated herein.

Whenever an evaluation of permanent disability has been made by a physician retained by the employer, and the employee believes this evaluation to be too low, he shall have the right, upon application to the commissioner and at the same time delivery of a copy thereof to the employer, to be reimbursed by the employer the reasonable fee for a subsequent examination by a physician of his own choice, and such physician chosen by the employee shall have the right to confer with and obtain from the employer-retained physician sufficient history of the injury to make a proper examination.

3. Permanent total disability. Compensation for an injury causing permanent total disability shall be upon the basis of eighty percent per week of the employee's average weekly spendable earnings, but not more than a weekly benefit amount, rounded to the nearest dollar, equal to sixty-six and two-thirds percent of the state average weekly wage paid employees as determined by the Iowa employment security commission under the provisions of section 96.3 and in effect at the time of the injury provided that as of July 1, 1975; July 1, 1977; July 1, 1979; and July 1, 1981, the maximum weekly benefit amount rounded to the nearest dollar shall be increased so that it shall equal one hundred percent, one hundred thirty-three and one-third percent, one hundred sixty-six and two-thirds percent and two hundred percent, respectively, of the state average weekly wage as determined above. No employee shall receive as compensation less than eighteen dollars per week, except if at the time of his injury his earnings are less than eighteen dollars per week, then the weekly compensation shall be a sum equal to the full amount of his weekly earnings; said weekly compensation shall be payable during the period of his disability.

Such compensation shall be in addition to the benefits provided in sections 85.27 and 85.28. No compensation shall be payable under this subsection for any injury for which compensation is payable under subsection 2 of this section. In the event compensation has been paid to any person under any provision of this chapter or chapter 85A for the same injury producing a total permanent disability, any such amounts so paid shall be deducted from the total amount of compensation payable for such permanent total disability. [S13,§2477-m9; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§1394-1396; C46, 50, 54, 58, §§85.33-85.35; C62, 66, 71, 73,§85.34; 65GA, ch 144,§§8-11, ch 1112,§1]

85.35 Settlement in contested case. When no memorandum of agreement has been filed and approved by the industrial commissioner, the parties to a contested case may enter into a settlement of any claim arising under this chapter or chapter 85A, providing for final disposition of the claim. The settlement shall be in writing and submitted to the industrial commissioner for approval. The settlement shall not be approved unless evidence of a bona fide dispute exists concerning any of the following:

1. The claimed injury arose out of or in the course of the employment.
2. The injured employee gave notice under section 85.23.
3. The original proceeding was filed within two years from the date of the injury causing death or disability for which compensation is claimed.
4. The injury was caused by the employee's willful intent to injure himself or to willfully injure another.
5. Intoxication of the employee was the proximate cause of the injury.
6. The injury was caused by the willful act of a third party directed against the employee for reasons personal to such employee.
7. This chapter or chapter 85A applies to the injured party.

Approval by the industrial commissioner shall be binding on the parties and shall not be construed as an original proceeding. Notwithstanding any provisions of this chapter and chapters 85A, 86, and 87, an approved settlement shall constitute a final bar to any further rights arising under this chapter and chapters 85A, 86, and 87. Such payment shall not be construed as the payment of weekly compensation. [65GA, ch 1110,§4]

85.36 Basis of computation. The basis of compensation shall be the weekly earnings of the injured employee at the time of the injury. Weekly earnings means gross salary, wages, or earnings of an employee to which such employee would have been entitled had he worked the customary hours for the full pay period in which he was injured, as regularly required by his employer for the work or employment for which he was employed, computed or determined as follows and then rounded to the nearest dollar:

1. In the case of an employee who is paid on a weekly pay period basis, the weekly gross earnings.

2. In the case of an employee who is paid on a biweekly pay period basis, one-half of the biweekly gross earnings.

3. In the case of an employee who is paid on a semimonthly pay period basis, the semimonthly gross earnings multiplied by twenty-four and subsequently divided by fifty-two.

4. In the case of an employee who is paid on a monthly pay period basis, the monthly gross earnings multiplied by twelve and subsequently divided by fifty-two.

5. In the case of an employee who is paid on a yearly pay period basis, the weekly earnings shall be the yearly earnings divided by fifty-two.

6. In the case of an employee who is paid on a daily, or hourly basis, or by the output of the employee, the weekly earnings shall be computed by dividing by thirteen the earnings, not including overtime or premium pay, of said employee earned in the employ of the employer in the last completed period of thirteen consecutive calendar weeks immediately preceding the injury.

7. In the case of an employee who has been in the employ of the employer less than thirteen calendar weeks immediately preceding the injury, his weekly earnings shall be computed under subsection 6, taking the earnings, not including overtime or premium pay, for such purpose to be the amount he would have earned had he been so employed by the employer the full thirteen calendar weeks immediately preceding the injury and had worked, when work was available to other employees in a similar occupation.

8. If at the time of the injury the hourly earnings have not been fixed or cannot be ascertained, the earnings for the purpose of calculating compensation shall be taken to be the usual earnings for similar services where such services are rendered by paid employees.

9. In occupations which are exclusively seasonal and therefore cannot be carried on throughout the year, the weekly earnings shall be taken to be one-fiftieth of the total earnings which the employee has earned from all occupations during the twelve calendar months immediately preceding the injury.

10. In the case of an employee who earns either no wages or less than the usual weekly earnings of the regular full-time adult laborer in the line of industry in which he is injured in that locality, the weekly earnings shall be one-fiftieth of the total earnings which the employee has earned from all employment during the twelve calendar months immediately preceding the injury but shall be not less than forty-five dollars per week.

a. In computing the compensation to be allowed a volunteer fireman, his earnings as a fireman shall be disregarded and he shall be paid the maximum compensation allowable under the workmen's compensation law.

b. If the employee was an apprentice or trainee when injured, and it is established under normal conditions his earnings should be expected to increase during the period of disability, that fact may be considered in computing his weekly earnings.

c. In computing the compensation to be paid to any employee who, before the accident for which he claims compensation, was disabled and drawing compensation under the provisions of this chapter, the compensation for each subsequent injury shall be apportioned according to the proportion of disability caused by the respective injuries which he shall have suffered.

d. This subsection shall not apply to compensable injuries arising under the second injury compensation Act. [S13,§2477-m15; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1397; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §85.36; 65GA, ch 144,§12, ch 1110,§5]

85.37 Compensation schedule. In all cases where an employee receives a personal injury causing temporary disability, or causing a permanent partial disability for which compensation is payable during a healing period, compensation for such temporary disability or for such healing period shall be upon the basis provided herein. The weekly benefit amount payable to any employee for any one week shall be upon the basis of eighty percent of the employee's weekly spendable earnings, but shall not exceed an amount, rounded to the nearest dollar, equal to sixty-six and two-thirds percent of the state average weekly wage paid employees as determined by the Iowa employment security commission under the provisions of section 96.3 and in effect at the time of the injury provided that as of July 1, 1975; July 1, 1977; July 1, 1979; and July 1, 1981, the maximum weekly benefit amount rounded to the nearest dollar shall be increased so that it shall equal one hundred percent, one hundred thirty-three and one-third percent, one hundred sixty-six and two-thirds percent, and two hundred percent, respectively, of the state average weekly wage as determined above.

Total weekly compensation for any employee shall not exceed eighty percent per week of the employee's average weekly spendable earnings; provided further, that such compensation shall not be less than eighteen dollars per week, except if at the time of his injury his earnings are less than eighteen dollars per week, then he shall receive in weekly payments a sum equal to the full amount of his weekly earnings.

Such compensation shall be in addition to the benefits provided by sections 85.27 and 85.28. [S13,§2477-m9; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1390; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85.37; 65GA, ch 144,§13]

85.38 Reduction of obligations of employer.

1. Contributions or donations. The compensation herein provided shall be the measure of liability which the employer has assumed for injuries or death that may occur to employees in his employment subject to the provisions of this chapter, and it shall not be in anywise reduced by contribution from employees or donations from any source.

2. Credit for benefits paid under group plans. In the event the disabled employee shall receive any benefits, including medical, surgical or hospital benefits, under any group plan covering nonoccupational disabilities contributed to wholly or partially by the employer, which benefits should not have been paid or payable if any rights of recovery existed under this chapter or chapter 85A, then such amounts so paid to said employee from any such group plan shall be credited to or against any compensation payments, including medical, surgical or hospital, made or to be made under this chapter or chapter 85A. Such amounts so credited shall be deducted from the payments made under these chapters. Any nonoccupational plan shall be reimbursed in the amount so deducted. This section shall not apply to payments made under any group plan which would have been payable even though there was an injury under this chapter or an occupational disease under chapter 85A. Any employer receiving such credit shall keep such employee safe and harmless from any and all claims or liabilities that may be made against them by reason of having received such payments only to the extent of such credit. [S13, §2477-m12; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1398; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85.38]

85.39 Examination of injured employees.

After an injury, the employee, if so requested by his employer, shall submit himself for examination at some reasonable time and place within the state and as often as may be reasonably requested, to a physician or physicians authorized to practice under the laws of this state, without cost to the employee; but if the employee requests, he shall, at his own cost, be entitled to have a physician or physicians of his own selection present to participate in such examination. Whenever an employee is required to leave his work for which he is being paid wages to attend upon such requested examination, he shall be compensated at his regular rate for the time he shall have lost by reason thereof, and he shall be furnished transportation to and from the place of examination, or the employer may elect to pay him the reasonable cost of such transportation. The refusal of the employee to submit to such examination shall deprive him of the right to any compensation for the period of such refusal. When a right of compensation is thus suspended, no compensation shall be payable for the period of suspension. [S13,§2477-m11; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1399; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85.39]

85.40 Statement of earnings. The employer shall furnish, upon request of an injured employee or dependent or any legal representative acting for such person, a statement of the earnings, wages, or salary and other matters relating thereto during the year or part of the year that such employee was in the employment of such employer for the year preceding the injury; but not more than one report shall be required on account of any one injury. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1400; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85.40]

85.41 Refusal to furnish statement. On failure of the employer to furnish such statement of earnings for thirty days after receiving written request therefor from an injured employee, his agent, attorney, dependent, or legal representative, such employer shall pay a penalty of twenty-five dollars for each offense to be collected by the commissioner in any court having jurisdiction and paid into the state treasury. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1401; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85.41]

85.42 Conclusively presumed dependent. The following shall be conclusively presumed to be wholly dependent upon the deceased employee:

1. The surviving spouse, with the following exceptions:

a. When it is shown that at the time of the injury the surviving spouse had willfully deserted deceased without fault of the deceased, then such survivor shall not be considered as dependent in any degree.

b. When the surviving spouse was not married to the deceased at the time of the injury.

2. A child or children under eighteen years of age, and over said age if physically or mentally incapacitated from earning, whether actually dependent for support or not upon the parent at the time of his or her death. An adopted child or children shall be regarded the same as issue of the body. A child or children, as used herein, shall also include any child or children conceived but not born at the time of the employee's injury, and any compensation payable on account of any such child or children shall be paid from the date of their birth. A stepchild or stepchildren shall be regarded the same as issue of the body only when the stepparent has actually provided the principal support for such child or children. [S13,§2477-m16; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1402; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85.42; 65GA, ch 144,§§14, 15]

Referred to in §85.43

85.43 Payment to spouse. If the deceased employee leaves a surviving spouse qualified under the provisions of section 85.42, the full compensation shall be paid to her or him, as provided in section 85.31; provided that where a deceased employee leave a surviving spouse and a dependent child or children the industrial commissioner may make an order of record for an equitable apportionment of the compensation payments.

If the spouse dies, the benefits shall be paid to the person or persons wholly dependent on deceased, if any, share and share alike. If there are none wholly dependent, then such benefits shall be paid to partial dependents, if any, in proportion to their dependency for the periods provided in section 85.31.

If the deceased leaves dependent child or children who was or were such at the time of the injury, and the surviving spouse remarries, then and in such case, the payments shall be paid to the proper compensation trustee for the use and benefit of such dependent child or children for the period provided in section 85.31. [S13,§2477-m16; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §1403; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85.43; 65GA, ch 144,§16]

85.44 Payment to actual dependents. In all other cases, a dependent shall be one actually dependent or mentally or physically incapacitated from earning. Such status shall be determined in accordance with the facts as of the date of the injury. In such cases if there is more than one person, the compensation benefit shall be equally divided among them. If there is no one wholly dependent and more than one person partially dependent, the compensation benefit shall be divided among them in the proportion each dependency bears to their aggregate dependency. [S13,§2477-m16; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1404; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85.44; 65GA, ch 144,§17]

Referred to in §85.31

85.45 Commutation. Future payments of compensation may be commuted to a present worth lump sum payment on the following conditions:

1. When the period during which compensation is payable can be definitely determined.
2. When it shall be shown to the satisfaction of the industrial commissioner that such commutation will be for the best interest of the person or persons entitled to the compensation, or that periodical payments as compared with a lump sum payment will entail undue expense, hardship, or inconvenience upon the employer liable therefor.
3. When the recipient of commuted benefits is a minor employee, the industrial commissioner may order that such benefits be paid to a trustee as provided in section 85.49.

4. When a person seeking a commutation is a widow or widower, a permanently and totally disabled employee, or a dependent who is entitled to benefits as provided in section 85.31, subsection 1, paragraphs "c" and "d", the future payments which may be commuted shall not exceed the number of weeks which shall be indicated by probability tables designated by the industrial commissioner for death and remarriage, subject to the provisions of chapter 17A. [S13,§2477-m14; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1405; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85.45; 65GA, ch 144,§18]

85.46 Proceedings for commutation. A written petition for commutation may be made to the industrial commissioner. Notice of the filing or presentation of such petition shall be served upon the opposite party or parties as provided in section 86.36. [S13,§2477-m14; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1406; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85.46]

85.47 Basis of commutation. When the commutation is ordered, the industrial commissioner shall fix the lump sum to be paid at an amount which will equal the total sum of the probable future payments capitalized at their present value and upon the basis of interest, calculated at five percent per annum. Upon the payment of such amount the employer shall be discharged from all further liability on account of such injury or death, and be entitled to a duly executed release, upon filing which the liability of such employer under any agreement, award, finding, or judgment shall be discharged of record. [S13,§2477-m14; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1407; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §85.47]

85.48 Partial commutation. When partial commutation is ordered, the industrial commissioner shall fix the lump sum to be paid at an amount which will equal the future payments for the period commuted, capitalized at their present value upon the basis of interest calculated at five percent per annum, with provisions for the payment of weekly compensation not included in such commutation, subject to any provisions of the law applicable to such unpaid weekly payments; all remaining payments, if any, to be paid at the same time as though such commutation had not been made. [S13,§2477-m15; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §1408; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85.48]

85.49 Trustees for incompetent. When a minor dependent, or one mentally incompetent, is entitled to compensation under this chapter, payment shall be made to the clerk of the district court for the county in which the injury occurred, who shall act as trustee, and the money coming into his hands shall be expended for the use and benefit of the person entitled thereto under the direction and orders of a judge of the district court, in which such county is located. The clerk of the district court, as such trustee, shall qualify and give bond in such amount as the judge may direct, which may be increased or diminished from time to time as the court may deem best. The cost of such bond shall be paid by the county as the court may direct by written order directed to the auditor of the county who shall issue a warrant therefor upon the treasurer of the county. If the domicile or residence of such minor dependent or one mentally incompetent be in a county other than that in which the injury to the employee occurred the industrial commissioner may order and direct that compensation to such minors or incompetents be paid to the clerk of the district court of the county wherein they shall be domiciled or reside. [S13,§2477-m13; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §1409; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85.49]

Referred to in §85.45

85.50 Report of trustee. The clerk of the district court as such trustee shall, on or before September 30 of each year, make annual reports to the court of all money or property received or expended for each person for whom he is acting as trustee.

Every clerk of the district court of every county upon his completion of his term of office, or upon his resignation, removal from office or otherwise becoming disqualified as such clerk shall make an accounting and final report to be approved by a judge of the district court for said county and all funds and other property shall be delivered to the successor in the office of such clerk. [S13,§2477-m13; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1410; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §85.50]

85.51 Alien dependents in foreign country. In case a deceased employee for whose injury or death compensation is payable leaves surviving him an alien dependent or dependents residing outside the United States, the consul general, consul, vice-consul, or consular agent of the nation of which the said dependent or dependents are citizens, or the duly appointed representative of such consular official resident in the state of Iowa, shall be regarded as the exclusive representative of such dependent or dependents, and said consular officials or their representatives shall have the same rights and powers in all matters of compensation which said nonresident aliens would have if resident in the state of Iowa. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1411; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85.51]

85.52 Consular officer as trustee. Such consular officer or his duly appointed representative resident in the state of Iowa shall file in the district court of the county in which the accident occurred resulting in the death of said employee evidence of his authority, and thereupon the court shall appoint him a trustee for such nonresident alien dependents, and thereafter he shall be subject to the jurisdiction of said court until his final report of distribution and payment has been filed and approved. Such consular official or his said representative shall qualify as such trustee by giving bond with approved sureties in a sum to be fixed by said court, and the amount of said bond may be increased or decreased from time to time as said court may direct. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1412; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85.52]

85.53 Notice to consular officer. If such consular officer, or his duly appointed representative, shall file with the industrial commissioner evidence of his authority, the industrial commissioner shall notify such consular officer or his representative of the death of all employees leaving alien dependent, or dependents, residing in the country of said consular officer so far as same shall come to his knowledge. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1413; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85.53]

85.54 Contracts to avoid compensation. Any contract of employment, relief benefit, or insurance, or other device whereby the employee is required to pay any premium or premiums for insurance against the compensation provided for in this chapter, shall be null and void; and any employer withholding from the wages of any employee any amount for the purpose of paying any such premium shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punishable by a fine not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars for each offense. [S13,§2477-m17; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1414; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85.54]

85.55 Waivers prohibited—physical defects. No employee or dependent to whom this chapter applies, shall have power to waive any of the provisions of this chapter in regard to the amount of compensation which may be payable to such employee or dependent hereunder. However, any person who has some physical defect which increases the risk of injury, may, subject to the approval of the industrial commissioner, enter into a written agreement with his employer waiving compensation for injuries which may occur directly or indirectly because of such physical defect, provided, however, that such waiver shall not affect the employee's benefits to be paid from the second injury fund under the provisions of section 85.64. [S13,§2477-m17; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1415; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85.55]

85.56 Contracts presumed fraudulent. Any contract or agreement made by any employer or his agent or attorney with any employee or any other dependent under the provisions of this chapter within twelve days after the injury shall be presumed to be fraudulent. [S13, §2477-m18; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1416; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85.56]

85.57 Employees in interstate commerce. So far as permitted, or not forbidden, by any Act of Congress, employers engaged in interstate or foreign commerce and their employees working only in this state shall be bound by the provisions of this chapter in like manner and with the same force and effect in every respect as by this chapter provided for other employers and employees. [S13,§2477-m21; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1417; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §85.57]

85.58 Employees of state. All valid claims now due or which may hereafter become due employees of the state under the provisions of this chapter shall be paid out of any funds in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §1418; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §85.58]

85.59 Payment of state employees. The state comptroller is hereby authorized and directed to draw warrants on the state treasury for any and all amounts due state employees under the provisions of this chapter upon there being filed in his office, either a memorandum of settlement approved by the industrial commissioner or of an award made by a board of arbitration, for which no review is pending, or an order of the industrial commissioner from which judicial review has not been sought, or a judgment of any court of the state accompanied by a certificate of the industrial commissioner setting forth the amount of compensation due and the statutory provisions under which the same should be paid. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §1419; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §85.59; 65GA, ch 1090, §44]

85.60 Approval not required. Claims for compensation under sections 85.58 and 85.59 shall not require approval by the state comptroller. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §1420; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §85.60]

2. "Workman" or "employee" means a person who has entered into the employment of, or works under contract of service, express or implied, or apprenticeship, for an employer, every executive officer elected or appointed and empowered under and in accordance with the charter and bylaws of a corporation, including a person holding an official position, or standing in a representative capacity of the employer, and including officials elected or appointed by the state, counties, school districts, area education agencies, municipal corporations, or cities under any form of government, and including members of the Iowa highway safety patrol and conservation officers, except as hereinafter specified.

c. Partners; directors of any corporation who are not at the same time employees of such corporation; or directors, trustees, officers or other managing officials of any nonprofit corporation or association who are not at the same time full-time employees of such nonprofit corporation or association.

4. The term "workman" or "employee" shall include the singular and plural of both sexes. Any reference to a workman or employee who has been injured shall, when such workman or employee is dead, include his dependents as herein defined or his legal representatives; and where the workman or employee is a minor or incompetent, it shall include his guardian, next friend, or trustee. Notwithstanding any law prohibiting the employment of minors all minor employees shall be entitled to the benefits of this chapter and chapters 86 and 87 regardless of the age of such minor employee.

5. The words "injury" or "personal injury" shall be construed as follows:

a. They shall include death resulting from personal injury.

b. They shall not include a disease unless it shall result from the injury and they shall not include an occupational disease as defined in section 85A.8.

6. The words "personal injury arising out of and in the course of the employment" shall include injuries to employees whose services are being performed on, in, or about the premises which are occupied, used, or controlled by the employer, and also injuries to those who are engaged elsewhere in places where their employer's business requires their presence and subjects them to dangers incident to the business.

8. The term "volunteer firemen" shall mean any active member of an organized volunteer fire department in this state and any other person performing services as a volunteer fireman for a municipality at the request of the chief or other person in command of the fire department of such municipality, or of any other officer of such municipality having authority to demand such service, and who is not a full-time member of a paid fire department. A person performing such services shall not be classified as a casual employee.

9. "Pay period" means that period of employment for which the employer customarily or regularly makes payments to his employees for work performed or services rendered.

10. "Payroll taxes" means the following:

An amount equal to the amount which would be withheld under the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, and regulations pursuant thereto, as amended to July 1, 1973, as though the employee had elected to claim the maximum number of exemptions for actual dependency, blindness and old age to which the employee is entitled on the date on which he was injured, and

b. An amount equal to the amount which would be withheld under chapter 422, and any regulations pursuant thereto, as though the employee had elected to claim the maximum number of exemptions for actual dependency, blindness and old age to which the employee is entitled on the date on which he was injured; and

c. An amount equal to the amount required by the Social Security Act of 1935 as amended to July 1, 1973, to be deducted or withheld from the amount of earnings of the employee at the time of the injury as if the earnings were earned at the beginning of the calendar year in which he was injured.

11. "Spensible weekly earnings" is that amount remaining after payroll taxes are deducted from gross weekly earnings.

12. "Gross earnings" means recurring payments by employer to the employee for employment, before any authorized or lawfully required deduction or withholding of funds by the employer, excluding irregular bonuses, retroactive pay, overtime, penalty pay, reimbursement of expenses, expense allowances, and the employer's contribution for welfare benefits. Amendment effective July 1, 1975

85.62 Inmates of county jail. The county board of supervisors of any county may elect to include as an employee for purposes of this chapter any person confined as an inmate in a county jail or confined in any other facility in lieu of confinement in a county jail. If such election is made, the provisions of section 85.1, subsection 5, shall apply to such county. If an inmate in the performance of his work in connection with the maintenance of a county jail or other local facility, or in connection with any industry maintained therein, or with any highway or public works activity outside a county jail or other local facility sustains an injury arising out of and in the course thereof, he shall, be awarded and paid compensation at the minimum rate as provided in this chapter. If death results from such injury, death benefits shall be awarded and paid to the dependents of the inmate. If any such person is awarded weekly compensation under the provisions of this section and is still committed to the county jail or other facility, his compensation benefits under section 85.33 or section 85.34, subsection 1, shall be paid to the county for so long as he shall remain so committed. Weekly compensation benefits awarded pursuant to section 85.34, subsection 2, shall be held in trust and paid to such person as provided in this chapter upon his final discharge or parole, whichever occurs first. In the event such person is recommitted to the county jail or other facility prior to receiving in full, his weekly benefits pursuant to section 85.33 or section 85.34, subsection 1, such benefits shall again be paid to the county for so long as he shall remain so recommitted. Also, weekly benefits under section 85.34, subsection 2, shall be suspended and again held in trust until such person is again released by final discharge or parole, whichever first occurs. However, the industrial commissioner may, if he finds that dependents of the person awarded weekly compensation pursuant to section 85.33 or section 85.34, subsections 1 and 2, would require welfare aid as a result of terminating the compensation, order such weekly compensation to be paid to a responsible person for the use of his dependents. [C73,§85.62]

SECOND INJURY COMPENSATION ACT

85.63 Title of Act. This division shall be known and referred to as the "Second Injury Compensation Act." [C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85.63]

85.64 Limitation of benefits. If an employee who has previously lost, or lost the use of, one hand, one arm, one foot, one leg, or one eye, becomes permanently disabled by a compensable injury which has resulted in the loss of or loss of use of another such member or organ, the employer shall be liable only for the degree of disability which would have resulted from the latter injury if there had been no pre-existing disability. In addition to such compensation, and after the expiration of the full period provided by law for the payments thereof by the employer, the employee shall be paid out of the "Second Injury Fund" created by this division the remainder of such compensation as would be payable for the degree of permanent disability involved after first deducting from such remainder the compensable value of the previously lost member or organ.

Any benefits received by any such employee, or to which he may be entitled, by reason of such increased disability from any state or federal fund or agency, to which said employee has not directly contributed, shall be regarded as a credit to any award made against said second injury fund as aforesaid. [C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85.64]

85.65 Payments to second injury fund. The employer, or, if insured, his insurance carrier in each case of compensable injury causing death shall pay to the treasurer of state for the second injury fund the sum of one hundred dollars, said payment to be made at the time compensation payments are begun, or at the time the burial expenses are paid in a case where there are no dependents; provided, however, that such payments shall be required only in cases of injury resulting in death coming within the purview of this chapter and occurring after July 4, 1945. These payments shall be in addition to any payments of compensation to injured employees or their dependents, or of burial expenses as provided in this chapter. [C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §85.65]

and earnings, equals or exceeds fifty thousand dollars no further contributions to said fund shall be required; but whenever, thereafter, the amount of such sum shall be reduced below thirty thousand dollars by reason of payments made to employees pursuant to the provisions of this division, the said contributions shall be resumed forthwith and shall continue until such sum, together with accumulated interest and earnings, shall again amount to fifty thousand dollars. The industrial commissioner shall promulgate rules for the maintenance of the second injury fund and the making of contributions thereto, and shall determine when the contributions shall be made to said fund and when they shall be suspended; and he is hereby empowered and authorized to enforce said rules and the collection of said contributions.

Moneys so collected shall constitute a "Second Injury Fund", in the custody of the treasurer of state, to be disbursed only for the purposes stated in this division, and shall not at any time be appropriated or diverted to any other use or purpose. The treasurer of state shall invest any surplus moneys thereof in securities which constitute legal investments for state funds under the laws of this state, and may sell any of the securities in which said fund is invested, if necessary, for the proper administration or in the best interests of said fund. Disbursements from such fund shall be paid by the treasurer of state only upon the written order of the industrial commissioner. The treasurer of state as custodian of such fund shall quarterly furnish to the industrial commissioner a statement of the fund, setting forth the balance of moneys in said fund, the income of the fund, specifying the source of all income, the payments out of the fund, specifying the various items of such payments, and setting forth the balance of the fund remaining to its credit. Such statement shall be open to public inspection in the office of the industrial commissioner. [C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85.66]

85.67 Administration of fund—special counsel. The industrial commissioner shall be charged with the conservation of the assets of the second injury fund, and the collection of contributions thereto. In furtherance of this purpose, the attorney general shall appoint a member of his staff to represent the industrial commissioner and the fund in all proceedings and matters arising under this division. In his award the industrial commissioner shall specifically find the amount the injured employee shall be paid weekly, the number of weeks compensation which shall be paid by the employer, the date upon which payments out of the fund shall begin, and, if possible, the length of time such payments shall continue. The industrial commissioner shall administer the provisions of this division in connection with and under the same procedure as other cases arising under this chapter. [C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85.67]

85.68 Actions. The industrial commissioner, on behalf of the second injury fund created under the provisions of this division, shall have a cause of action under the provisions of section 85.22 to the same extent as an employer against any person not in the same employment by reason of whose negligence or wrong the subsequent injury of such previously disabled person was caused. Any such action shall be brought by the industrial commissioner on behalf of said fund, and any recovery, less the necessary and reasonable expenses incurred by the industrial commissioner, shall be paid to the treasurer of state and credited to said fund. [C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85.68]

85.69 Federal contributions. The treasurer of state is hereby authorized to receive and credit to said fund any sum or sums that may at any time be contributed to the state by the United States or any agency thereof, under any Act of Congress or otherwise, to which the state may be or become entitled by reason of any payments made to any previously disabled person out of said fund. [C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85.69]

This division is an amendment to this chapter. See 51GA, ch 81,§10

VOCATIONAL REHABILITATION PROGRAM

85.70 Additional payment for attendance. An employee who has sustained an injury resulting in permanent partial or permanent total disability, for which compensation is payable under this chapter, and who cannot return to gainful employment because of such disability, shall upon application to and approval by the industrial commissioner be entitled to a twenty-dollar weekly payment from the employer in addition to any other benefit payments, during each full week in which he is actively participating in a vocational rehabilitation program recognized by the state board for vocational education. The industrial commissioner's approval of such application for payment may be given only after a careful evaluation of available facts, and after consultation with the employer or the employer's representative. Judicial review of the decision of the industrial commissioner may be obtained in accordance with the terms of the Iowa administrative procedure Act and in section 86.26. Such additional benefit payment shall be paid for a period not to exceed thirteen consecutive weeks except that the industrial commissioner may extend the period of payment not to exceed an additional thirteen weeks if the circumstances indicate that a continuation of training will in fact accomplish rehabilitation. [C71, 73,§85.70; 65GA, ch 1090,§46]

EXTRATERRITORIAL EMPLOYMENT

85.71 Employment outside of state. If an employee, while working outside the territorial limits of this state, suffers an injury on account of which he, or in the event of his death, his dependents, would have been entitled to the benefits provided by this chapter had such injury occurred within this state, such employee, or in the event of his death resulting from such injury, his dependents, shall be entitled to the benefits provided by this chapter, provided that at the time of such injury:

1. His employment is principally localized in this state, that is, his employer has a place of business in this or some other state and he regularly works in this state, or if he is domiciled in this state, or

2. He is working under a contract of hire made in this state in employment not principally localized in any state, or

3. He is working under a contract of hire made in this state in employment principally localized in another state, whose workmen's compensation law is not applicable to his employer, or

4. He is working under a contract of hire made in this state for employment outside the United States. [65GA, ch 144,§29]

85A.1 Short title. This chapter shall be known and referred to as the "Iowa Occupational Disease Law". [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85A.1]

85A.2 Employers included. All employers as defined by the workmen's compensation law of Iowa and who are engaged in any business or industrial process hereinafter designated and described are employers within the provisions of this chapter and shall be subject thereto. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85A.2]

85A.3 Employees covered. All employees as defined by the workmen's compensation law of Iowa employed in any business or industrial process hereinafter designated and described and who in the course of their employment are exposed to an occupational disease as herein defined are subject to the provisions of this chapter. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85A.3]

85A.4 Disablement defined. Disablement as that term is used in this chapter is the event or condition where an employee becomes actually incapacitated from performing his work or from earning equal wages in other suitable employment because of an occupational disease as defined in this chapter in the last occupation in which such employee is injuriously exposed to the hazards of such disease. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85A.4; 65GA, ch 144, §22]

85A.5 Compensation payable. All employees subject to the provisions of this chapter who shall become disabled from injurious exposure to an occupational disease herein designated and defined within the conditions, limitations and requirements provided herein, shall receive compensation, reasonable surgical, medical, osteopathic, chiropractic, physical rehabilitation, nursing and hospital services and supplies thereof, and burial expenses as provided in the workmen's compensation law of Iowa except as otherwise provided in this chapter.

If, however, an employee incurs an occupational disease for which he would be entitled to receive compensation if he were disabled as provided herein, but is able to continue in employment and requires medical treatment for said disease, then he shall receive reasonable medical services therefor. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85A.5; 65GA, ch 144,§23]

85A.6 Dependents—defined. Dependents of a deceased employee whose death has been caused by an occupational disease as herein defined and under the provisions, conditions and limitations of this chapter shall be those persons defined as dependents under the workmen's compensation law of Iowa and such dependents shall receive compensation benefits as provided by said law. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85A.6]

85A.7 Limitations and exceptions. The provisions of this chapter providing payment of workmen's compensation on account of occupational disease as defined and set out in this chapter, shall be subject to the following limitations and exceptions:

1. No compensation shall be payable if the employee, at the time of entering the employment of the employer in writing falsely represented himself to said employer as not having been previously disabled, laid off or compensated, or having lost time by reason of an occupational disease.

2. No compensation for death because of an occupational disease shall be payable to any person whose relationship to the deceased employee arose subsequent to the beginning of the first compensable disability, except only after-born children of a marriage existing at the beginning of such disability.

3. When such occupational disease causes the death of an employee and there are no dependents entitled to compensation, then the employer shall pay the medical, hospital and burial expenses as is provided by the workmen's compensation law, and shall also pay to the treasurer of the state for the use and benefit of the second injury compensation fund such amount as is required by the second injury compensation law.

4. Where such occupational disease is aggravated by any other disease or infirmity not of itself compensable, or where disability or death results from any other cause not of itself compensable but is aggravated, prolonged or accelerated by such an occupational disease, and disability results such as to be compensable under the provisions of this chapter, the compensation payable shall be reduced and limited to such proportion only of the compensation that would be payable if the occupational disease was the sole cause of the disability or death, as such occupational disease bears to all the causes of such disability or death. Such reduction or limitation in compensation shall be effected by reducing either the number of weekly payments or the amount of such payments as the industrial commissioner may determine is for the best interests of the claimant or claimants.

5. No compensation shall be allowed or payable for any disease or death intentionally self-inflicted by the employee or due to his intoxication, or due to his being a narcotic drug addict, his commission of a misdemeanor or felony, his refusal to use a safety appliance or health protective, his refusal to obey a reasonable written or printed rule of the employer which has been posted in a conspicuous position in the place of work, or his failure or refusal to perform or obey any statutory duty. The burden of establishing any such ground shall rest upon the employer.

6. No compensation shall be payable or allowed in any case where the last injurious exposure to the hazards of such occupational disease occurred prior to the effective date of this chapter. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85A.7]

85A.8 Occupational disease defined. Occupational diseases shall be only those diseases which arise out of and in the course of the employee's employment. Such diseases shall have a direct causal connection with the employment and must have followed as a natural incident thereto from injurious exposure occasioned by the nature of the employment. Such disease must be incidental to the character of the business, occupation or process in which the employee was employed and not independent of the employment. Such disease need not have been foreseen or expected but after its contraction it must appear to have had its origin in a risk connected with the employment and to have resulted from that source as an incident and rational consequence. A disease which follows from a hazard to which an employee has or would have been equally exposed outside of said occupation is not compensable as an occupational disease. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85A.8; 65GA, ch 144,§24]

85A.9 Repealed by 65GA, ch 144,§30.

85A.10 Last exposure — employer liable. Where compensation is payable for an occupational disease, the employer in whose employment the employee was last injuriously exposed to the hazards of such disease, shall be liable therefor. The notice of injury and claim for compensation as hereinafter required shall be given and made to such employer, provided, that in case of pneumoconiosis, the only employer liable shall be the last employer in whose employment the employee was last injuriously exposed to the hazards of the disease during a period of not less than sixty days. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85A.10; 65GA, ch 144,§25]

85A.11 Diagnosis for brucellosis. When any employee is clinically diagnosed as having brucellosis (undulant fever), it shall not be considered that the employee has the disease unless the clinical diagnosis is confirmed by:

1. A positive blood culture for brucella organisms, or

2. A positive agglutination test which must be verified by not less than two successive positive agglutination tests, each of which tests shall be positive in a titer of one to one hundred sixty or higher. Said subsequent agglutination tests must be made of specimens taken not less than seven nor more than ten days after each preceding test.

The specimens for the tests required herein must be taken by a licensed practicing physician or osteopathic physician, and immediately delivered to the state hygienic laboratory of the state department of health at Iowa City, and each such specimen shall be in a container upon which is plainly printed the name and address of the subject, the date when the specimen was taken, the name and address of the subject's employer and a certificate by the physician or osteopathic physician that he took the specimen from the named subject on the date stated over his signature and his address.

The state hygienic laboratory shall immediately make the test and upon completion thereof it shall send a report of the result of such test to the physician or osteopathic physician from whom the specimen was received and also to the employer.

In the event of a dispute as to whether the employee has brucellosis, the matter shall be determined as any other disputed case. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §85A.11]

85A.12 Disablement or death following exposure—limitations. An employer shall not be liable for any compensation for an occupational disease unless such disease shall be due to the nature of an employment in which the hazards of such disease actually exist, and which hazards are characteristic thereof and peculiar to the trade, occupation, process, or employment, and such disease actually arises out of the employment, and unless disablement or death results within three years in case of pneumoconiosis, or within one year in case of any other occupational disease, after the last injurious exposure to such disease in such employment, or in case of death, unless death follows continuous disability from such disease commencing within the period above limited for which compensation has been paid or awarded or timely claim made as provided by this chapter and results within seven years after such exposure.

In any case where disablement or death was caused by latent or delayed pathological conditions, blood, or other tissue changes or malignancies due to occupational exposure to X rays, radium, radioactive substances or machines, or ionizing radiation, the employer shall not be liable for any compensation unless claim is filed within ninety days after disablement or death or after the employee had knowledge or in the exercise of reasonable diligence should have known his disablement was caused by overexposure to ionizing radiation or radioactive substances, and its relation to employment. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §85A.12; 65GA, ch 144, §26]

85A.13 Provisions relating to pneumoconiosis.

1. Pneumoconiosis defined. Whenever used in this chapter, "pneumoconiosis" shall mean the characteristic fibrotic condition of the lungs caused by the inhalation of dust particles.

2. Presumptions. In the absence of conclusive evidence in favor of the claim, disability or death from pneumoconiosis shall be presumed not to be due to the nature of any occupation within the provisions of this chapter unless during the ten years immediately preceding the disablement of the employee who has been exposed to the inhalation of dust particles over a period of not less than five years, two years of which shall have been in employment in this state.

3. Compensation payable. Except as in this chapter otherwise provided, compensation for disability from uncomplicated pneumoconiosis shall be payable in accordance with the provisions hereof; provided, however, that no compensation shall be payable for disability from pneumoconiosis of less than thirty-three and one-third percent of total, and provided further that, during the transitory period, the aggregate compensation payable to employees and their dependents for disability and death for uncomplicated pneumoconiosis shall be limited as follows: If disablement occurs or in case of no claim for prior disablement, if death occurs in the third calendar month after October 1, 1947, the total compensation and death benefits payable shall not exceed the sum of five hundred dollars. If disablement occurs or in case of no claim for prior disablement, if death occurs during the next calendar month, the total compensation and death benefits payable shall not exceed five hundred fifty dollars. Thereafter, the total amount or limit of the compensation and death benefits payable for disability and death shall be increased at the rate of fifty dollars per month, the aggregate payable in each case to be limited according to the foregoing formula for the month in which disability occurs, or, in case of no claim for prior disablement, in which death occurs. Such progressive increase in the limits of the aggregate compensation and benefits for disability and death shall continue until the limit upon such benefits fixed in the workmen's compensation law is reached, and thereafter the total aggregate of such compensation and benefits shall be the total compensation and benefits otherwise provided in the workmen's compensation law.

4. Pneumoconiosis complicated with other diseases. In case of disability or death from pneumoconiosis complicated with tuberculosis of the lungs, compensation shall be payable as for uncomplicated pneumoconiosis, provided, however, that the pneumoconiosis was an essential factor in causing such disability or death. In case of disability or death from pneumoconiosis complicated with any other disease, or from any other disease complicated with pneumoconiosis, the compensation shall be reduced as herein provided. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §85A.13; 65GA, ch 144, §27]

85A.14 Restriction on liability. No compensation shall be payable under this chapter for any condition of physical or mental ill-being, disability, disablement, or death for which compensation is recoverable on account of injury under the workmen's compensation law. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §85A.14]

85A.15 Employers limit of liability. Payments of compensation and compliance with other provisions herein by the employer or his insurance carrier in accordance with the findings and orders of the industrial commissioner or the court in judicial review proceedings, shall discharge such employer from any and all further obligation. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85A.15; 65GA, ch 1090,§45]

85A.16 Reference to compensation law. The provisions of the workmen's compensation law, so far as applicable, and not inconsistent herewith, shall apply in cases of compensable occupational diseases as specified and defined herein. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85A.16]

85A.17 Disability. Compensation payable under this chapter for temporary disability, permanent total disability or permanent partial disability, shall be such amounts as are provided under the workmen's compensation law. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85A.17]

85A.18 Notice of disability or death—filing of claims. Except as herein otherwise provided, procedure with respect to notice of disability or death, as to the filing of claims and determination of claims shall be the same as in cases of injury or death arising out of and in the course of employment under the workmen's compensation law. Written notice shall be given to the employer of an occupational disease by the employee within ninety days after the first distinct manifestation thereof, and in the case of death from such an occupational disease, written notice of such claim shall also be given to the employer within ninety days thereafter. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85A.18]

85A.19 Autopsy. Upon the filing of a claim for compensation for death from an occupational disease where an autopsy is necessary in order to accurately and scientifically ascertain and determine the cause of death, such autopsy shall be ordered by the industrial commissioner and shall be made under the supervision of the medical examiner of the county in which death occurs or in any county where the body of such employee may be taken.

The industrial commissioner may designate a duly licensed physician to perform or attend such autopsy and to certify his findings thereon. Such findings shall be filed in the office of the industrial commissioner. The industrial commissioner may also exercise such authority on his own motion or on application made to him at any time, upon the presentation of facts showing that a controversy may exist in regard to the cause of death or the existence of any occupational disease. All proceedings for compensation shall be suspended upon refusal of a claimant or claimants to permit such autopsy when so ordered and no compensation shall be payable. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85A.19]

85A.20 Medical board. There is hereby created a medical board for occupational diseases which shall consist of the industrial hygiene physician of the state department of health and two physicians selected by the dean of the college of medicine of the state University of Iowa, from the staff of said college, who shall be qualified to diagnose and report on occupational diseases. The medical board shall have the use, without charge, of all necessary laboratory and other facilities of the college of medicine and of the university hospital at the state University of Iowa, and of the state department of health in performing its duties prescribed herein. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85A.20]

85A.21 Controverted medical questions. Controversial medical questions may be referred by the industrial commissioner to the medical board for investigation and report to the industrial commissioner when agreed to by the parties or on his own motion. No award shall be made in any case where controversial medical questions have been referred to the board until the board shall have duly investigated the case and made its report with respect to all such medical questions. The date of disablement, if in dispute, shall be deemed a medical question. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85A.21]

85A.22 Examination of employee by medical board. The medical board, upon reference to it by the industrial commissioner of a claim for occupational disease, shall notify the claimant or claimants and the employer or his insurance carrier to appear before the medical board at a time and place stated in the notice. If the employee be living, he shall appear before the medical board at the time and place specified to submit to such clinical and X-ray examinations as the medical board may require. The claimant and the employer shall each be entitled, at his own expense, to have present at all examinations conducted by the medical board, a physician admitted to practice in the state, who shall be given every reasonable facility for participating in every such examination. If a physician admitted to practice in the state shall certify that the employee is physically unable to appear at the time and place designated by the medical board, such board shall, on notice to the parties, change the time and place of examination to such other time and place as may reasonably facilitate the examination of the employee. Proceedings shall be suspended and no compensation be payable for any period during which the employee may refuse to submit to such examination. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85A.22]

85A.23 Medical board's report—date of disablement. The medical board shall, as soon as practicable after it has completed its consideration of the case, report in writing its findings and conclusions on every medical question in controversy. If the date of disablement is controverted and cannot be fixed exactly, the medical board shall fix the most probable date having regard to all the circumstances of the case. The medical board shall also include in its report the name and address of the physician or physicians if any who appeared before it and what if any medical reports and X-rays were considered by it. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85A.23]

85A.24 Findings and report. The medical board shall file its report in triplicate with the industrial commissioner who shall mail or deliver a certified copy thereof to the claimant and to the employer. The report of the medical board shall become a part of the record of the case. The industrial commissioner shall make his decision or award in the case based upon the entire record. The report of the medical board in any case may be remanded by the commissioner to the board for reconsideration and further report. The members of the medical board shall not be prohibited from testifying before the industrial commissioner, board of arbitration, or any other person, commission or court as to the results of the examination or the condition of any employee examined by the board. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85A.24]

85A.25 Existing diseases barred. There shall be no liability for the payment of compensation under the provisions of this chapter to any person who on October 1, 1947 is suffering with an occupational disease. An employer may at his own expense require his employees to submit to a physical examination prior to October 1, 1947, and in the case of new employees employed after July 4, 1947, within ninety days of the commencement of the employment of such new employees, for the purpose of determining whether any such person is affected with or has an occupational disease. In the event it is determined by such examination that any employee is suffering from or is affected with an occupational disease, the employer may require the employee to waive in writing any claim for compensation under the provisions of this chapter on account thereof as a condition to continuing in the employment of the employer.

In cases of dispute as to the existence of the disease the controversy may be referred to the industrial commissioner who shall decide the matter and who may, upon his own motion or by agreement of the parties, submit the controverted question to the medical board provided herein for its investigation and report, and said board shall immediately proceed with the investigation and with the examination of the employee and forthwith make its report to the industrial commissioner. Said examination shall be made and the investigation conducted in the same manner as is provided herein as to other controverted medical questions. The industrial commissioner shall then make his decision on the matter, and said decision shall have the same force and effect and be subject to all the other provisions of law applicable the same as any other decision of the industrial commissioner. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85A.25]

85A.26 Insurance contracts. No policy of insurance in effect at the time of the enactment of this chapter covering the liability of an employer under the workmen's compensation law, shall be construed to cover the liability of such employer under this chapter for any occupational disease unless such liability is expressly accepted by the insurance carrier issuing such policy and is indorsed thereon. The insurance or security in force to cover compensation liability under this chapter shall be separate and distinct from the insurance or security under the workmen's compensation law and any insurance contract covering liability under either this chapter or the workmen's compensation law need not cover any liability under the other. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85A.26]

85A.27 Administration. The industrial commissioner shall have jurisdiction over the operation and administration of the compensation provisions of this chapter and said commissioner shall perform all of the duties imposed upon him by this chapter and such further duties as may hereafter be imposed by law. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§85A.27]

In case the injured employee is a minor, either he or his trustee may give a valid and binding release for the compensation paid on his account.

86.14 Failure to reach agreement. If the employer and injured employee or his representatives or dependents fail to reach an agreement in regard to compensation, either party may file with the industrial commissioner a petition for arbitration together with two copies thereof, stating therein his or her claims in general terms. Thereupon the commissioner or one of the deputies shall in writing notify the parties that the defendant is given at least ten days in which to answer said petition or otherwise plead. A defense other than a general denial of claimant's alleged facts must be pleaded as a special defense. [C35,§1477-g2; C39,§1477.2; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§87.13]

87.16 Bond in lieu of insurance. Any employer who has more than five persons engaged in hazardous employment, except the employments recited in section 85.1, and who has failed, omitted, and neglected to secure the payment of compensation by carrying insurance or is not relieved therefrom as by the statutes in such cases provided, shall furnish a bond approved by the industrial commissioner, as to form and security, conditioned to secure and pay workmen's compensation in accordance with the law; such bond shall be in such amount as may be fixed by the industrial commissioner having due regard for the number of employees and considering the industrial experience in such industry as a class. commissioner of any employer failing to comply with sections 87.16 and 87.17, he shall at once notify such employer by certified mail; that unless such employer comply with the requirements of law, legal proceedings will be instituted to enforce such compliance.

Unless such employer comply with the provisions of the law within fifteen days after the giving of such notice, the industrial commissioner shall report such failure to the attorney general, whose duty it shall be to bring an action in a court of equity to enjoin the further violation. Upon decree being entered for a temporary or permanent injunction, a violation shall be a contempt of court and punished as provided for contempt of court in other cases. [C31, 35, §1477-c4; C39, §1477.8; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §87.19; 65GA, ch 139, §24]

a. That the injury to the employee was the direct result and growing out of the negligence of the employer.

b. That such negligence was the proximate cause of the injury.

2. The burden of proof shall rest upon the employer to rebut the presumption of negligence, and the employer shall not be permitted to plead or rely upon any defense of the common law, including the defenses of contributory negligence, assumption of risk and the fellow servant rule. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §1479; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §87.21] carrier, on the hearing in such a judicial review proceeding in the district court, shall, notwithstanding the terms of the Iowa administrative procedure Act have the right of trial by jury upon the issues of fact tendered and allowable within the terms of chapters 85, 86, and 87, and made of record in arbitration proceedings or upon hearing before the industrial commissioner. 87.25 Evidence — instructions. Notwithstanding the terms of the Iowa administrative procedure Act, on the trial of the case in the district court with a jury, the record of the case in the agency, when certified by the industrial commissioner or his deputy shall be the only competent, relevant and material evidence in the case which shall be read from the record thus certified, subject to the rulings of the trial judge upon objections made in the commissioner's court and urged in the district court. But the law of procedure and evidence, as provided in section 86.18, shall apply and govern insofar as reasonably applicable. The trial judge shall give the jury written instruction on the law of the case, but the jury shall determine the facts upon the issues submitted. [C35,§1481-e2; C39,§1481.2;

87.26 Waiver of jury. With respect to questions of law raised in the district court, the judicial review proceeding in such cases shall be considered as based upon one or more of the grounds for such review as provided in section 17A.19, subsection 8. If demand in writing for a jury trial has not been made and filed with the clerk of the court to which the petition for judicial review is taken, within five days before the case is assigned for hearing, it shall be conclusively presumed that the party entitled thereto has waived a jury trial, and in such case the hearing of the case and appeals to the supreme court of Iowa shall, in all respects, be governed by the rules of law and procedure applicable to workmen's compensation cases to which section 87.21 does not apply. [C35, §1481-e3; C39,§1481.3; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§87.26; 65GA, ch 1090,§57]

Amendment effective July 1, 1975

87.27 Appeal. 1. Encouraging employers and employees in their efforts to reduce the number of occupational safety and health hazards at their places of employment, and to stimulate employers and employees to institute new and perfect existing programs for providing safe and healthful working conditions.

2. Providing that employers and employees have separate but dependent responsibilities and rights with respect to achieving safe and healthful working conditions.

3. Authorizing the labor commissioner to set mandatory occupational safety and health standards applicable to businesses, and by creating an occupational safety and health

8. Providing for training programs to increase the number and competence of personnel engaged in the field of occupational safety and health.

10. Providing an effective enforcement program which shall include a prohibition against giving advance notice of any inspection and sanctions for an individual violating this prohibition.

12. Encouraging joint labor-management efforts to reduce injuries and disease arising out of employment.

13. Devoting adequate funds to the administration and enforcement of occupational safety and health standards and rules promulgated by the labor commissioner. [C66, 71, §88A.1; C73, §88.1]

4. In carrying out his responsibilities under this chapter, the commissioner is authorized to enter into contracts with any state agency, with or without reimbursement, for the purpose of obtaining the services, facilities, and personnel of such agency and with the consent of any state agency or any political subdivision of the state, accept and use the services, facilities, and personnel of any agency of the state or political subdivision, and employ experts and consultants or organizations, in order to expeditiously, efficiently and economically effectuate the purposes of this chapter. The provisions of this subsection are subject to approval of the executive council where required by law.

5. The commissioner, the governor, and the state comptroller are hereby authorized to obtain and accept federal grants to the state to be used in connection with the funds appropriated for the administration of this chapter and federal funds in addition thereto. [SS15, §4999-a5; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §1482; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §88.1; C73, §88.2]

88.5 Occupational safety and health standards.

1. Promulgation of rules.

a. As soon as practicable following July 1, 1972, the commissioner shall by rule, adopt and promulgate those occupational safety and health standards, which would result in improved safety or health for employees; provided, that the commissioner shall adopt no such standard unless the same has been adopted and promulgated as a permanent standard by the secretary in accordance with the procedures set forth in the federal law. In the event that any such federal standard is subsequently amended, modified, repealed, or substituted by a new standard, the commissioner shall, within ninety days, review such amendment, modification, repeal or substitution, and take such action with respect to the state standards, including the repeal or substitution of the same, as will conform the state standards to those federal standards then in effect.

b. Before promulgating, modifying, or revoking any standard pursuant to this section, the commissioner shall hold a public hearing on the subject matter of the proposed promulgation, modification, or revocation. Any interested person may appear and be heard at such hearing, in person or by agent or counsel. The commissioner shall maintain a mailing list for hearings, and at least thirty days before the hearing the commissioner shall mail a notice of the hearing by ordinary mail to each person on the mailing list. Such notice shall include a copy of the proposed promulgation, modification, or revocation. When the commissioner receives a written request from any person to be placed on the mailing list for hearings, the commissioner shall add such person to the mailing list. At the end of each calendar year, the commissioner may remove any person from the mailing list if the commissioner has not received from such person during the last three months of such calendar year a written request to be placed on the mailing list for the following year. The commissioner shall cause to be published a notice of each hearing in one or more newspapers in the state having a statewide circulation. The provisions of this section are in addition to the requirements of chapter 17A.

c. Notwithstanding other provisions of this section, upon or following July 1, 1972, the commissioner may adopt as interim standards those standards adopted by the secretary in conformance with section 6(a) of the federal law, provided that any such standard so adopted shall cease to be effective on April 28, 1973, unless the commissioner shall have initiated the procedures for adopting a permanent standard in conformance with and following the procedures set forth in this section, in which case the interim standard shall remain in effect pending the adoption of the permanent standard. In the event that any such federal interim standard is subsequently amended, modified, repealed, or substituted by a new interim standard, the commissioner shall, within thirty days, review such amendment, modification, repeal or substitution, and take such action with respect to the state interim standards, including the repeal or substitution of the same, as will conform the state interim standards to those federal interim standards then in effect.

2. Toxic materials and other harmful physical agents. The commissioner, in promulgating standards dealing with toxic materials or harmful physical agents under this subsection, shall set the standard which most adequately assures, to the extent feasible, on the basis of the best available evidence, that no employee will suffer material impairment of health or functional capacity even if such employee has regular exposure to the hazard dealt with by such standard for the period of his working life. Development of standards under this subsection shall be based upon research, demonstrations, experiments, and such other information as may be appropriate, but in any event shall conform with the provisions of subsection 1 of this section. In addition to the attainment of the highest degree of health and safety protection for the employee, other considerations shall be the latest available scientific data in the field, the feasibility of the standards, and experience gained under this and other health and safety laws. Whenever practicable, a standard promulgated shall be expressed in terms of objective criteria and of the performance desired.

a. Any employer may apply to the commissioner for a temporary order granting a variance from a standard or any provision thereof promulgated under this section. Such temporary order shall be granted only if the employer files an application which meets the requirements of paragraph "b" of this subsection and establishes that he is unable to comply with the standard by its effective date because of unavailability of professional or technical personnel or of materials and equipment needed to come into compliance with the standards or because necessary construction or operation of the facilities cannot be completed by the effective date, that he is taking all available steps to safeguard his employees against the hazards that are covered by the standard, and that he has an effective program for coming into compliance with this standard as quickly as practicable. Any temporary order issued under this paragraph shall prescribe the practices, means, methods, operations, and processes which the employer must adopt and use while the order is in effect and state in detail his program for coming into compliance with the standard. Such a temporary order may be granted only after notice to employees and an opportunity for a hearing, provided that the commissioner may issue one interim order to be effective until a decision is made on the basis of the hearing. No temporary order may be in effect longer than the period needed by the employer to achieve compliance with the standard, or one year, whichever is shorter except that such an order may be renewed not more than twice so long as the requirements of this paragraph are met and an application for renewal is filed at least ninety days prior to the expiration date of the order. No interim renewal of an order may remain in effect for longer than one hundred and eighty days.

b. An application for a temporary order under this subsection shall contain:

(1) A specification of the standard or portion thereof from which the employer seeks a variance.

(2) A representation by the employer, supported by representations from qualified persons having firsthand knowledge of the fact represented, that he is unable to comply with the standard or portion thereof and a detailed statement of those reasons therefor.

(3) A statement of the steps he has taken and will take (with specific dates) to protect employees against the hazard covered by the standard.

(4) A statement of when he expects to be able to comply with the standard and what steps he has taken and what steps he will take (with dates specified) to come into compliance with the standard.

(5) A certification that he has informed his employees of any application by giving a copy thereof to their authorized employee representative, posting a statement giving a summary of the application and specifying where a copy may be examined at the place or places where notices to employees are normally posted, and by other reasonably appropriate means as may be directed by the commissioner.

(6) A description of how employees have been informed shall be contained in the certification. The information to employees shall also inform them of their right to petition the commissioner for a hearing.

4. Labels, warnings, protective equipment. Any standard promulgated under this section shall prescribe the use of labels or other appropriate forms of warning as are necessary to insure that employees are appraised of all hazards to which they are exposed, relevant symptoms and appropriate emergency treatment, and proper conditions and precautions of safe use or exposure. Where appropriate, such standard shall also prescribe suitable protective equipment and control or technological procedures to be used in connection with such hazards and shall provide for monitoring or measuring employee exposure at such locations and intervals, and in such manner as may be necessary for the protection of employees. In addition, where appropriate, any such standard shall prescribe the type and frequency of medical examinations or other tests which shall be made available, by the employer or at his cost, to employees exposed to such hazard in order to most effectively determine whether the health of such employee is adversely affected by such exposure. The results of such examinations or tests, if released by the employee, shall be furnished to the employee's physician, the employer's physician, and the commissioner.

5. Emergency temporary standards. The commissioner shall provide for an emergency temporary standard to take immediate effect if he determines that employees are exposed to grave danger from exposure from substances or agents determined to be toxic or physically harmful or from new hazards and if such emergency temporary standard is necessary to protect the employees from such danger. Such emergency standard shall cease to be effective and shall no longer be applicable after the lapse of six-months following the effective date thereof unless the commissioner has initiated the procedures provided for under this chapter, for the purpose of promulgating a permanent standard as provided in subsection 1 of this section in which case the emergency temporary standard will remain in effect until the permanent standard is adopted and becomes effective. Abandonment of the procedure for such promulgation by the commissioner shall terminate the effectiveness and applicability of the emergency temporary standard.

6. Permanent variance. Any affected employer may apply to the commissioner for a rule or order for a permanent variance from a standard promulgated under this section. Affected employees shall be given notice of each such application and an opportunity to participate in a hearing. The commissioner shall issue such rule or order if he determines on the record, after opportunity for an inspection where appropriate and a hearing, that the proponent of the variance has demonstrated by a preponderance of the evidence that the conditions, practices, means, methods, operations, or processes used or proposed to be used by an employer will provide employment and places of employment to his employees which are as safe and healthful as those which would prevail if he complied with the standard. The rule or order so issued shall prescribe the conditions the employer must maintain, and the practices, means, methods, operations, and processes which he must adopt and utilize to the extent that they differ from the standard in question. Such a rule or order may be modified or revoked upon application by an employer, employees, or by the commissioner on his own motion, in the manner prescribed for its issuance under this subsection at any time after six months from its issuance.

7. Special variance. Where there are conflicts with standards, rules promulgated by any federal agency other than the United States department of labor, special variances from standards, rules promulgated under this chapter shall be granted to avoid such regulatory conflicts. Such variances shall take into consideration the safety of the employees involved. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, and with respect to this paragraph, any employer seeking relief under this provision must file an application therefor with the commissioner and the commissioner shall forthwith hold a hearing at which employees or other interested persons, including representatives of the federal regulatory agencies involved, may appear and upon the showing that such a conflict indeed exists the commissioner shall issue a special variance until the conflict is resolved.

8. Priority for setting standards. In determining the priorities for establishing standards under this section, the commissioner shall give due regard to the urgency of the need for mandatory safety and health standards for particular industries, trades, crafts, occupations, businesses, workplaces or work environments.

9. Product safety. Standards promulgated under this chapter shall not be different from federal standards applying to products distributed or used in interstate commerce unless such standards are required by compelling local conditions and do not unduly burden interstate commerce. This provision does not apply to customized products or parts not normally available on the open market, or to optional parts or additions to products which are ordinarily available with such optional parts or additions.

10. Judicial review before enforcement. The provisions of the Iowa administrative procedure Act shall apply to judicial review of standards issued under this section. Notwithstanding any provision of the Iowa administrative procedure Act to the contrary, a person who is aggrieved or adversely affected by a standard issued under this section must seek judicial review of such standard prior to the sixtieth day after such standard becomes effective. All determinations of the commissioner shall be conclusive if supported by substantial evidence in the record as a whole. [C66, 71, §§88A.11-88A.13; C73, §88.5; 65GA, ch 1090, §§58, 59]

Referred to in §§88.6, 88.7, 88.14

88.6 Inspections, investigations, and record-keeping.

1. Entrance and inspections. In order to carry out the purposes of this chapter, the commissioner or his representative, upon presenting appropriate credentials to the owner, operator, or agent in charge, is authorized:

a. To enter without delay and at reasonable times any factory, plant, establishment, construction site, or other area, workplace or environment where work is performed by an employee of an employer.

b. To inspect and investigate during regular working hours and at other reasonable times, and within reasonable limits and within a reasonable manner, any such place of employment and all pertinent conditions, structures, machines, apparatus, devices, equipment, and materials therein, and to question privately any such employer, owner, operator, agent or employee.

2. Subpoena of witness and evidence. In making his inspections and investigations under this chapter, the commissioner may require the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of evidence under oath. Witnesses shall be paid the same fees and mileage that are paid witnesses in the district courts of this state. In case of contumacy, failure, or refusal of any person to obey such an order, any appropriate district court within the jurisdiction of which such person is found, or resides, or transacts business, upon the application by the commissioner, shall have jurisdiction to issue to such person an order requiring such person to appear, to produce evidence, if, as, and when so ordered and to give testimony relating to the matter under investigation or in question, and any failure to obey such order of the court may be punished by said court as a contempt thereof.

3. Accident and illness records.

a. Each employer shall make, keep and preserve, and make available to the commissioner such records regarding his activities relating to this chapter as the commissioner may prescribe by regulation as necessary or appropriate for the enforcement of this chapter or for developing information regarding the causes and prevention of occupational accidents and illnesses. In order to carry out the provisions of this paragraph such regulations may include provisions requiring employers to conduct periodic inspections. The commissioner shall also issue regulations requiring that employers, through posting of notices or other appropriate means, keep their employees informed of their protection and obligations under this chapter, including the provisions of applicable standards.

b. The commissioner shall prescribe regulations requiring an employer to maintain accurate records of, and to make periodic reports on, work related deaths, injuries, and illnesses other than minor injuries requiring only first aid treatment and which do not involve medical treatment, loss of consciousness, restriction of work or motion, or transfer to another job.

c. The commissioner shall issue regulations requiring employers to maintain accurate records of employee exposures to potentially toxic materials or harmful physical agents which are required to be monitored or measured under section 88.5, subsection 2. Such regulations shall provide employees or their authorized employee representative with an opportunity to observe such monitoring or measuring, and to have access to the records thereof. Such regulations shall also make appropriate provisions for each employee or former employee to have access to such records that will indicate his own exposure to toxic materials or harmful physical agents. Each employer shall promptly notify any employee who has been or is being exposed to toxic materials or harmful physical agents in concentrations or at levels which exceed those prescribed by an applicable occupational safety and health standard promulgated under section 88.5, subsection 2, and shall inform any employee who is being thus exposed of the corrective action being taken.

d. All employers in the state of Iowa are required to make all reports to the secretary required by federal law as if this chapter were not in effect.

e. The commissioner will make such reports to the secretary in such form and containing such information, as the secretary shall from time to time require pursuant to federal law.

f. The regulations referred to in this subsection shall not prescribe requirements different from those provided by the federal law and regulations.

4. Representatives of employers and employees. Subject to regulations issued by the commissioner, a representative of the employer and an authorized employee representative shall be given an opportunity to accompany the commissioner or his authorized representative during the physical inspection of any workplace under subsection 1 of this section, for the purpose of aiding such inspection. Where there is no authorized employee representative, the commissioner or his authorized representative shall consult with a reasonable number of employees concerning matters of health and safety in the workplace.

5. Special inspections. Any employees or authorized employee representative who believes that a violation of a safety or health standard exists that threatens physical harm, or that an imminent danger exists, may request an inspection by giving notice to the commissioner or his authorized representative of such violation or danger. Any such notice shall be reduced to writing, shall set forth with reasonable particularity the grounds for the notice, and shall be signed by the employees or authorized employee representative, and a copy shall be provided the employer or his agent no later than at the time of inspection, except that upon the request of the person giving such notice his name and the names of individual employees referred to therein shall not appear in such copy or on any record published, released, or made available pursuant to this section. If, upon receipt of such notification, the commissioner determines that there are reasonable grounds to believe that such violation or danger exists, he shall make a special inspection in accordance with the provisions of this section as soon as practicable, to determine if such violation or danger exists. If the commissioner determines that there is no reasonable grounds to believe that a violation or danger exists, he shall notify the employees or authorized employee representative in writing of such determination.

6. Notice of violations. During any inspection of a workplace, any employee or representative of employees employed in such workplace may notify the commissioner or any representative of the commissioner responsible for conducting the inspection, in writing, of any violation of this chapter which they have reason to believe exists in such workplace. The commissioner shall, by regulation, establish procedures for an informal review of any refusal by a representative of the commissioner to issue a citation with respect to any such alleged violation and shall furnish the employees or authorized employee representative requesting such review a written statement of the reason for the commissioner's final disposition of the case.

7. General. Any information obtained by the commissioner under this chapter shall be obtained with a minimum burden upon employers. Except for the purpose of administration of this chapter, no information received by the commissioner or his representative from an employer, in compliance with and pursuant to this chapter, shall be admissible in any action brought by or for the benefit of any person. Unnecessary duplication of efforts in obtaining information shall be reduced to the maximum extent feasible. [C66.71,§§88.11, 88.12, 88A.10, 88A.14; C73,§88.6]

1. Issuance by commissioner.

a. If, upon inspection or investigation, the commissioner or his authorized representative believes that an employer has violated the requirements of section 88.4, of any standard, rule or rules promulgated pursuant to section 88.5, or of any regulations prescribed pursuant to this chapter, he shall with reasonable promptness issue a citation to the employer. Each citation shall be in writing and shall describe with particularity the nature of the violation, including a reference to the provision of the chapter, standard, rules or order alleged to have been violated. In addition, the citation shall fix a reasonable time for the abatement of the violation. The commissioner shall prescribe procedures for the issuance of a notice in lieu of a citation with respect to de minimus violations which have no direct or immediate relationship to safety and health.

b. If, upon inspection or investigation, the commissioner or his authorized representative believes that an employee, under his own violation, has violated the requirements of section 88.4 of any standard, rule or rules promulgated pursuant to section 88.5, or of any regulations prescribed pursuant to this chapter, he shall with reasonable promptness issue a citation to the employee. Each citation shall be in writing and shall describe with particularity the nature of the violation, including a reference to the provision of the chapter, standard, rules, regulations or order alleged to have been violated. The commissioner shall prescribe procedures for the issuance of a notice in lieu of a citation with respect to de minimus violations which have no direct or immediate relationship to safety and health.

2. Posting of citation. Each citation issued under this section, or a copy or copies thereof, shall be prominently posted, as prescribed in regulations issued by the commissioner, at or near each place a violation referred to in the citation occurred.

88.8 Procedure for enforcement.

1. Postinspection penalty notice. If, after an inspection or an investigation, the commissioner issues a citation under section 88.7, he shall within a reasonable time after the termination of such inspection or investigation notify the employer by certified mail of the penalty, if any, proposed to be assessed under section 88.14 and that the employer has fifteen working days within which to notify the commissioner that he wishes to contest the citation or proposed assessment of penalties. If, within fifteen working days from the receipt of the notice issued by the commissioner, the employer fails to notify the commissioner that he intends to contest the citation or proposed assessment of penalty, and no notice is filed by any employees or authorized employee representative under subsection 3 of this section within such time, the citation and the assessment, as proposed, shall be deemed a final order of the commission and not subject to review by any court or agency.

2. Noncompliance notice. If the commissioner has reason to believe that an employer has failed to correct the violation for which a citation has been issued within the period permitted for its correction (which period shall not begin to run until the entry of a final order by the commission in the case of any review proceedings under this section initiated by the employer in good faith and not solely for delay or avoidance of penalties), the commissioner shall notify the employer by certified mail of such failure and of the penalty proposed to be assessed under section 88.14 by reason of such failure, and that the employer has fifteen working days within which to notify the commissioner that he wishes to contest the commissioner's notification or the proposed assessment of penalty. If, within fifteen working days from the receipt of notification issued by the commissioner, the employer fails to notify the commissioner that he intends to contest the notification or proposed assessment of penalty, the notification and assessment, as proposed, shall be deemed the final order of the commission and not subject to review by any court or agency.

3. Contested notice. If an employer notifies the commissioner that he intends to contest a citation issued under section 88.7 or notification issued under subsection 1 or 2 of this section or if, within fifteen working days of the issuance of a citation under section 88.7, any employee or authorized employee representative files a notice with the commissioner alleging that the period of time fixed in the citation for the abatement of the violation is unreasonable, the commissioner shall immediately advise the commission of such notification, and the commission shall afford an opportunity for a hearing. The commission shall thereafter issue an order, based on findings of fact, affirming, modifying, or vacating the commissioner's citation or proposed penalty or directing other appropriate relief, and such order shall become final thirty days after its issuance. Upon a showing by an employer of a good faith effort to comply with the abatement requirements of a citation, and that abatement has not been completed because of factors beyond his reasonable control, the commissioner, after an opportunity for a hearing shall issue an order affirming or modifying the abatement requirements in such citation. The rules of procedure prescribed by the commission shall provide affected employees or representatives of affected employees an opportunity to participate as parties to hearings under this subsection, and shall conform to rules of procedure promulgated and adopted under the federal law by federal authorities insofar as the same do not conflict with state law. 88.9 Judicial review.

1. Aggrieved persons. Judicial review of any order of the commission issued under section 88.8, subsection 3, may be sought in accordance with the terms of the Iowa administrative procedure Act. Notwithstanding the terms of the Iowa administrative procedure Act, petitions for judicial review may be filed in the district court of the county in which the violation is alleged to have occurred or where the employer has its principal office and may be filed within sixty days following the issuance of such order. The commission's copy of the testimony shall be available to all parties for examination at all reasonable times, without cost, and for the purpose of judicial review of the commission's orders.

2. Uncontested commission orders. The commissioner may also obtain review or enforcement of any final order of the commission by filing a petition for such relief in the district court of the county in which the alleged violation occurred or in which the employer has its principal office and the judicial review provisions of the Iowa administrative procedure Act shall govern such proceedings to the extent applicable. If no petition for judicial review is filed within sixty days after service of the commission's order, the commission's findings of fact and order shall be conclusive in connection with any petition for enforcement which is filed by the commissioner after the expiration of such sixty-day period. In any such case, as well as in the case of a noncontested citation or notification by the commissioner which has become a final order of the commission under section 88.8, subsection 1 or 2, the clerk of court, unless otherwise ordered by the court, shall forthwith enter a decree enforcing the order and shall transmit a copy of such decree to the commission and the employer named in the petition. In any contempt proceeding brought to enforce a decree of a district court entered pursuant to this subsection or subsection 1 of this section, the district court may assess the penalties provided in section 88.14 in addition to invoking any other available remedies.

3. Discrimination and discharge. No person shall discharge or in any manner discriminate against any employee because such employee has filed any complaint or instituted or caused to be instituted any proceeding under or related to this chapter or has testified or is about to testify in any such proceeding or because of the exercise by such employee on behalf of himself or others of any right afforded by this chapter. Any employee who believes that he has been discharged or otherwise discriminated against by any person in violation of this subsection may, within thirty days after such violation occurs, file a complaint with the commissioner alleging such discrimination. Upon receipt of such complaint, the commissioner shall cause such investigation to be made as he deems appropriate. If upon such investigation, the commissioner determines that the provisions of this subsection have been violated, he shall bring an action in the appropriate district court against such person. In any such action, that district court shall have jurisdiction, for cause shown to restrain violations of this subsection and order all appropriate relief including rehiring or reinstatement of the employee to his former position with back pay. Within ninety days of the receipt of a complaint filed under this subsection the commissioner shall notify the complainant of his determination under this subsection. 88.11 Procedures to counteract imminent dangers.

1. Imminent danger orders. The district court of the county in which the imminent danger is alleged to exist shall have jurisdiction, upon petition of the commissioner, to restrain any conditions or practices in any place of employment which are such that a danger exists which will reasonably be expected to cause death or serious physical harm immediately or before the imminence of such danger can be eliminated through the enforcement procedures otherwise provided by this chapter. In the event the appropriate trial judge is not available, any judge of the judicial district in which such county is located shall have authority to issue orders under this section. Any order issued under this section may require such steps to be taken as may be necessary to avoid, correct, or remove such imminent danger and prohibit the employment or presence of any individual in locations or under conditions where such imminent danger exists, except individuals whose presence is necessary to avoid, correct or remove such imminent danger or to maintain the capacity of a continuous process operation to resume normal operations without a complete cessation of operations, or where a cessation of operations is necessary, to permit such to be accomplished in a safe and orderly manner.

2. Imminent danger proceedings. Upon the filing of any such petition the said district court shall have jurisdiction to grant such injunctive relief or temporary restraining order pending the outcome of an enforcement proceeding pursuant to this chapter. The proceedings shall be as provided by the Iowa rules of civil procedure. No temporary restraining order issued without notice shall be effective for a period longer than five days.

3. Notification. Whenever and as soon as an inspector concludes that the conditions or practices described in subsection 1 of this section exist in any place of employment, he shall inform the affected employees and employers of the danger and that he is recommending to the commissioner that relief be sought. The commissioner shall adopt rules prescribing the procedures in enforcing imminent danger orders which procedures shall reasonably conform to those promulgated under the federal law insofar as the same do not conflict with state law.

4. Employee's rights. If the commissioner arbitrarily or capriciously fails to seek relief under this section, any employee who may be injured by reason of such failure, or the authorized employee representative, may bring an action against the said commissioner in the district court of the county in which the imminent danger is alleged to exist or the employer has his principal office, for a writ of mandamus to compel the commissioner to seek such an order and for such further relief as may be appropriate. [C66, 71,§88A.17; C73, §88.11]

10. Assessment of penalties. The commissioner shall have the authority to assess all civil penalties provided in this section, giving due consideration to the appropriateness of the penalty with respect to the size of the business of the employer being charged, the gravity of the violation, the good faith of the employer, and the history of previous violations.

11. Definition of serious violation. For purposes of this section, a serious violation shall be deemed to exist in a place of employment if there is a substantial probability that death or serious physical harm could result from a condition which exists, or from one or more practices, means, methods, operations, or processes which have been adopted or are in use, in such place of employment unless the employer did not, and could not with the exercise of reasonable diligence, know of the presence of the violation.

12. Collection of penalties. Civil penalties owed under this chapter shall be paid to the commissioner for deposit with the treasurer of state and shall accrue to the state and may be recovered in a civil action in the name of the state brought in the district court of the county where the violation is alleged to have occurred or where the employer has its principal office. 1. Annually prepare a state policy for the development, utilization, and conservation of all energy sources in the state and submit the same to the governor and the general assembly by January 15 of each year. The council shall evaluate the future energy needs of Iowa. This study shall include, but is not limited to:

a. the historical use and distribution of energy in Iowa,

b. determining the growth rate of energy consumption in Iowa,

c. projecting Iowa's energy needs at least ten years in the future,

2. The council shall exchange information with other states on energy and especially on the allocation of fuel and shall request all information necessary to determine the reasonableness of any reduction of Iowa's fuel allocation.

3. Establish a central depository within the state for energy data. The council may require a supplier to provide information pertaining to the supply, storage, distribution and sale of energy sources in this state. The information shall be furnished on a periodic basis, shall be of a nature which directly relates to the supply, storage, distribution and sale of energy sources, and shall not include any records, documents, books or other data which relate to the financial position of the supplier. Provided the council, prior to requiring any supplier to furnish it with such information, shall make every reasonable effort to determine if the same is available from any other governmental source. If it finds such information is available, the council shall not require submission of the same from a supplier. Notwithstanding the provisions of chapter 68A, information and reports obtained under this section shall be confidential except when used for statistical purposes without identifying a specific supplier and when release of the information will not give an advantage to competitors and serves a public purpose.

The council may subpoena witnesses, administer oaths and require the production of records, books, and documents for examination in order to obtain information required to be submitted under this section. In case of failure or refusal on the part of any person to comply with a subpoena issued by the council, or in case of the refusal of any witness to testify as to any matter regarding which he may be interrogated under this chapter, the district court, upon the application of the council, may order the person to show cause why the person should not be held in contempt for failure to testify or comply with a subpoena, and may order the person to produce the records, books, and documents for examination, and to give his testimony. 10. Promulgate rules necessary to carry out the provisions of this chapter, subject to review in accordance with chapter 17A. Before a proposed rule is submitted to the departmental* rules review committee, a public hearing shall be held in regard to the rule, and members of the departmental rules review committee shall be notified of the hearing as required in section 17A.16. Rules promulgated by the governor pursuant to a proclamation issued under the provisions of section 93.8 shall not be subject to review or a public hearing as required in this subsection. *Administrative 93.8 Emergency powers. If the council by resolution determines the health, safety, or welfare of the people of this state is threatened by an actual or impending acute shortage of usable energy, it shall transmit the resolution to the governor together with its recommendation on the declaration of an emergency by the governor and recommended actions, if any, to be undertaken. Within thirty days of the date of the resolution, the governor may issue a proclamation of emergency which shall be filed with the secretary of state. The proclamation shall state the facts relied upon and the reasons for the proclamation.

Pursuant to the proclamation of an emergency, the governor by executive order may:

1. Regulate the operating hours of energy consuming instrumentalities of state government, political subdivisions, private institutions and business facilities to the extent the regulation is not hazardous or detrimental to the health, safety, or welfare of the people of this state. However, the governor shall have no authority to suspend, amend or nullify any service being provided by a public utility pursuant to an order or rule of a federal agency which has jurisdiction over the public utility.

2. Establish a system for the distribution and supply of energy. The system shall not include a coupon rationing program, unless the program is federally mandated.

3. Curtail public and private transportation utilizing energy sources. Curtailment may include measures designed to promote the use of car pools and mass transit systems.

4. Delegate any administrative authority vested in him to the council or the director.

5. Provide for the temporary transfer of directors, personnel, or functions of state departments and agencies, for the purpose of performing or facilitating emergency measures pursuant to subsections 1 and 2.

If the general assembly is in session, it may revoke by concurrent resolution any proclamation of emergency issued by the governor. If the general assembly is not in session, the proclamation of emergency by the governor may be revoked by a majority vote of the standing membership of the legislative council. Such revocation shall be effective upon receipt of notice of the revocation by the secretary of state and any functions being performed pursuant to the governor's proclamation shall cease immediately. [65GA, ch 1113, §8]

93.9 Aid to railways. The energy policy council shall identify those segments of branch line railroad trackage which, if improved, may provide increased transportation services for the citizens of this state. The council shall develop and implement programs to encourage the improvement of railfreight services on such railroad trackage. If the council determines that public assistance is in the best interest of the citizens of this state, the council may, in emergencies, provide financial assistance on behalf of the citizens of this state to railroad companies, which assistance shall be used exclusively to upgrade branch line railroad roadbeds in order to improve the freight-carrying capacity of the railroad and to increase the speed limitations of the railroad trackage. In the alternative, there is granted a tax exemption to the branch line railroad roadbeds if the council determines that there is a need for continuation of rail transportation services to the area and communities served by the railroad, that discontinuance of rail services will not be in the best interest of the citizens of this state who reside in the area or community served, that an undue economic hardship will result in that area or community if service is discontinued, and that other transportation facilities are not available or are inadequate to meet the economic needs of the area or community. Before granting the tax exemption, the council shall require and the railroad company shall agree that an amount equal to the amount which would otherwise be paid for taxes if the tax exemption was not granted, shall be expended by the railroad company to upgrade the railroad roadbed for which the tax exemption is granted. [65GA, ch 1113,§9]

93.10 Tax exemption. If the energy policy council determines that a tax exemption shall be granted for certain branch line railroad trackage, the council shall notify the county auditor of the county in which the railroad trackage is located of such fact not later than October 1 of each year. The exemption shall be granted on the valuation of the railroad trackage as of January 1 of the year in which the exemption is granted and such exemption shall be for a period of one year. The county auditor shall reduce by fifty percent the valuation of all railroad trackage which has been granted a tax exemption by the energy policy council. [65GA, ch 1113,§10]

93.11 Reduced levy by auditor. Each year in which a tax exemption is granted for branch line railroad trackage in the county and the county auditor receives notice from the energy policy council to reduce the valuation on railroad trackage by fifty percent, the county auditor shall levy the taxes against the reduced value of the property and give notice of the assessment to the energy policy council and to the state comptroller. [65GA, ch 1113, §11]

93.12 Tax equivalent paid by council. The energy policy council shall pay all taxes due because of the reduced valuation of branch line railroad trackage granted an exemption from property taxes by the council. The council shall not grant exemptions for railroad trackage for which the council has insufficient funds under the provisions of this chapter to reimburse counties for that portion of the taxes levied against railroad trackage in the counties which would be reimbursed by the state. [65GA, ch 1113,§12]

93.13 Study of railways. The state department of transportation shall conduct a study of the state's rail transportation and mass transit systems. In conducting the study, the department shall:

1. Determine the existing plant, equipment, and facilities of each railroad company providing rail service in the state.

2. Determine the type of rail service presently provided in this state by each railroad company.

3. Determine the economic and energy requirements for alternative transportation modes in the movement of passengers and commodities within the state.

4. Develop a cost-benefit analysis to determine the effect of state financial assistance on rail transportation in this state.

5. Develop a comprehensive plan for a system of rail transportation which will best serve the economic and social needs of the citizens of this state.

6. Determine the feasibility of providing railroad passenger service in this state. The study shall also include a cost analysis of and the procedures for providing such service and the availability and conditions of the railroad trackage over which railroad passenger service may be provided.

7. Determine the problems of mass transit facilities in this state and the role of the state in providing adequate mass transit services for the urban and rural areas of the state.

The state department of transportation shall submit a report of its findings and specific recommendations to the governor and the general assembly not later than March 1, 1975. [65GA, ch 1113,§16]

SHORT TITLE

96.1 Name. This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the "Iowa Employment Security Law." [C39,§1551.07; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§96.1]

DECLARATION OF STATE PUBLIC POLICY

96.2 Guide for interpretation. As a guide to the interpretation and application of this chapter, the public policy of this state is declared to be as follows: Economic insecurity due to unemployment is a serious menace to the health, morals, and welfare of the people of this state. Involuntary unemployment is therefore a subject of general interest and concern which requires appropriate action by the legislature to prevent its spread and to lighten its burden which now so often falls with crushing force upon the unemployed worker and his family. The achievement of social security requires protection against this greatest hazard of our economic life. This can be provided by encouraging employers to provide more stable employment and by the systematic accumulation of funds during periods of employment to provide benefits for periods of unemployment, thus maintaining purchasing power and limiting the serious social consequences of poor relief assistance. The legislature, therefore, declares that in its considered judgment the public good, and the general welfare of the citizens of this state require the enactment of this measure, under the police powers of the state, for the compulsory setting aside of unemployment reserves to be used for the benefit of persons unemployed through no fault of their own. [C39,§1551.08; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§96.2]

96.3 How paid and amounts.

1. Payment. Twenty-four months after the date when contributions first accrue under this chapter, benefits shall become payable from the fund; provided, that wages earned for services defined in section 96.19, subsection 7, paragraph "g" (3), irrespective of when performed, shall not be included for purposes of determining eligibility, under section 96.4 or full-time weekly wages, under subsection 4 of this section, for the purposes of any benefit year commencing on or after July 1, 1939, nor shall any benefits with respect to unemployment occurring on and after July 1, 1939, be payable under subsection 5 of this section on the basis of such wages. All benefits shall be paid through employment offices in accordance with such regulations as the commission may prescribe.

2. Total unemployment. Each eligible individual who is totally unemployed in any week shall be paid with respect to such week benefits in an amount which shall be equal to his weekly benefit amount.

3. Partial unemployment. Each eligible individual who is partially unemployed in any week shall be paid with respect to such weekly benefits in an amount equal to his weekly benefit amount less the total amount of wages earned in such week reduced by six dollars.

4. Determination of benefits. An individual's weekly benefit amount shall be an amount equal to one-twentieth of his total wages in insured work paid during that quarter of his base period in which such total wages were highest, subject to the following limitation: The commission shall determine annually a maximum weekly benefit amount by computing fifty-five* percent of the average weekly wage paid to employees in insured work which shall be effective the first day of the first full week in July. Such maximum weekly benefit amount, if not a multiple of one dollar shall be rounded to the nearest multiple of one dollar.

Such computation shall be made by determining gross wages as paid for insured work by employers in each preceding twelve-month period ending on December 31 and dividing said gross wages by a figure resulting from fifty-two times the average of mid-month employment reported by employers for the same period.

5. Duration of benefits. The maximum total amount of benefits payable to any eligible individual during any benefit year shall not exceed the total of the wage credits accrued to his account during his base period, or twenty-six times his weekly benefit amount, whichever is the lesser. The commission shall maintain a separate account for each individual who earns wages in insured work. The commission shall compute wage credits for each individual by crediting his account with one-third of the wages for insured work paid him during his base period. Benefits paid to an eligible individual shall be charged against the base period wage credits in his account which have not been previously charged hereunder, in the same chronological order as the wages on which such wage credits are based were paid.

6. Part-time workers.

a. As used in this subsection the term "part-time worker" means an individual whose normal work is in an occupation in which his services are not required for the customary scheduled full-time hours prevailing in the establishment in which he is employed, or who, owing to personal circumstances, does not customarily work the customary scheduled full-time hours prevailing in the establishment in which he is employed.

b. The commission shall prescribe fair and reasonable general rules applicable to part-time workers, for determining their full-time weekly wage, and the total wages in employment by employers required to qualify such workers for benefits. [C39,§1551.09; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§96.3]

BENEFIT ELIGIBILITY CONDITIONS

96.4 Required findings. An unemployed individual shall be eligible to receive benefits with respect to any week only if the commission finds that:

1. He has registered for work at and thereafter has continued to report at an employment office in accordance with such regulations as the commission may prescribe.

2. He has made a claim for benefits in accordance with the provisions of section 96.6, subsection 1.

3. He is able to work, is available for work, and is earnestly and actively seeking work.

4. Prior to any week, in any benefit year, for which he claims benefits he has been totally unemployed for a waiting period of one week (and for the purposes of this subsection, two weeks of partial unemployment shall be deemed to be equivalent to one week of total unemployment). Such weeks of total or partial unemployment or both need not be consecutive. The one-week waiting period shall be waived and become compensable after unemployment during which benefits are payable for five consecutive weeks. No week shall be counted as a week of total unemployment for the purposes of this subsection:

a. If benefits have been paid with respect thereto;

b. Unless the individual was eligible for benefits with respect thereto in all respects except for the requirements of subsections 2 and 5 of this section;

c. Unless it occurs after benefits first could become payable to any individual under this chapter.

5. He has been paid wages for insured work of not less than two hundred dollars in that calendar quarter in his base period in which his wages were the highest, and also he has been paid wages for insured work of not less than one hundred dollars in a calendar quarter in his base period other than the calendar quarter in which his wages were the highest; and provided further if he has drawn benefits in any benefit year, he must during or subsequent to that year, be paid wages in insured work totaling one hundred dollars as a condition to receive benefits in the next benefit year.

6. Benefits based on service in employment, defined in section 96.19, subsection 7, shall be payable in the same amount, on the same terms and subject to the same conditions as compensation payable on the basis of other service subject to this chapter; except that benefits based on service in an instructional, research, or principal administrative capacity in an institution of higher education shall not be paid to an individual for any week of unemployment which begins during the period between two successive academic years or during a similar period between two regular terms, whether or not successive, or during a period of paid sabbatical leave provided for in the individual's contract if the individual has a contract or contracts to perform services in any such capacity for any institution or institutions of higher education for both such academic years or both such terms.

Referred to in §96.8(3)

7. Notwithstanding any other provisions in this subsection, no otherwise eligible individual shall be denied benefits for any week because he is in training with the approval of the commission, nor shall such individual be denied benefits with respect to any week in which he is in training with the approval of the commission by reason of the application of the provision in subsection 3 of this section relating to availability for work, and an active search for work or the provision of section 96.5, subsection 3, relating to failure to apply for or a refusal to accept suitable work. [C39, §1551.10; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §96.4; 65GA, ch 1114, §1]

DISQUALIFICATION FOR BENEFITS

96.5 Causes. An individual shall be disqualified for benefits:

1. Voluntary quitting. If he has left his work voluntarily without good cause attributable to his employer, if so found by the commission. But he shall not be disqualified if the commission finds that:

a. He left his employment in good faith for the sole purpose of accepting better employment, which he did accept, and that he remained continuously in said new employment for not less than six weeks. Wages earned with the employer that he has left shall, for the purpose of computing and charging benefits, be deemed wages earned from the employer with whom the individual accepted better employment and benefits shall be charged to the employer with whom he accepted better employment. The commission shall advise the chargeable employer of the name and address of the other employer, the period covered, and the extent of benefits which may be charged to the account of the chargeable employer. In those cases where the new employment is in another state, no employer's account shall be charged with benefits so paid except that employers who are required by law or by their election to reimburse the fund for benefits paid shall be charged with benefits under this paragraph.

b. He has been laid off from his regular employment and has sought temporary employment, and has notified his temporary employer that he expected to return to his regular job when it became available, and the temporary employer employed him under these conditions, and the worker did return to his regular employment with his regular employer as soon as it was available.

c. He left his employment for the necessary and sole purpose of taking care of a member of his immediate family who was then injured or ill, and if after said member of his family sufficiently recovered, he immediately returned to and offered his services to his employer, provided, however, that during such period he did not accept any other employment.

d. He left his employment because of illness or injury upon the advice of a licensed and practicing physician, and upon knowledge of the necessity for such absence immediately notified his employer, or his employer consented to such absence, and after recovering from such illness or injury when recovery is certified by a licensed and practicing physician, he returned to his employer and offered his service and his regular work or comparable suitable work was not available, if so found by the commission, provided he is otherwise eligible.

e. He left his employment upon the advice of a licensed and practicing physician, for the sole purpose of taking a member of his family to a place having a different climate, during which time he shall be deemed unavailable for work, and notwithstanding during such absence he secures temporary employment, and returned to his regular employer and offered his services and his regular work or comparable work was not available, provided he is otherwise eligible.

f. He is the principal support of his family, or is a widow, widower, legally separated from his spouse, or a single person, and he left his employing unit for not to exceed ten working days, or such additional time as may be allowed by his employer, for compelling personal reasons (if so found by the commission), and prior to such leaving had informed his employer of such compelling personal reasons, and immediately after such compelling personal reasons ceased to exist he returned to his employer and offered his services and his regular or comparable work was not available, provided he is otherwise eligible; except that during the time he is away from his work because of the continuance of such compelling personal reasons, he shall not be eligible for benefits.

g. In the case where he left his work voluntarily without good cause attributable to his employer under circumstances which did or would disqualify him for benefits, under this subsection he, subsequent to such leaving, worked in and was paid wages for insured work in an amount not less than nine times the claimant's weekly benefit amount, provided he is otherwise eligible, but in the event extended benefits are in effect as provided for by this chapter, then benefits shall not be withheld after twelve consecutive weeks of unemployment from the date he quits, during which time he shall be actively and earnestly seeking employment.

h. "Principal support" shall mean exclusive of the earnings of any child of the wage earner.

Referred to in §96.22

2. Discharge for misconduct. If the commission shall find that he has been discharged for misconduct in connection with his employment, he shall forfeit four to nine weeks' benefits.

3. Failure to accept work. If the commission finds that he has failed, without good cause, either to apply for available, suitable work when so directed by the employment office or the commission or to accept suitable work when offered him, or to return to his customary self-employment, if any.

a. In determining whether or not any work is suitable for an individual, the commission shall consider the degree of risk involved to his health, safety, and morals, his physical fitness and prior training, his experience and prior earnings, his length of unemployment and prospects for securing local work in his customary occupation, and the distance of the available work from his residence, and any other factor which it finds bears a reasonable relation to the purposes of this subsection.

b. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, no work shall be deemed suitable and benefits shall not be denied under this chapter to any otherwise eligible individual for refusing to accept new work under any of the following conditions:

(1) If the position offered is vacant due directly to a strike, lockout, or other labor dispute;

(2) If the wages, hours, or other conditions of the work offered are substantially less favorable to the individual than those prevailing for similar work in the locality;

(3) If as a condition of being employed, the individual would be required to join a company union or to resign from or refrain from joining any bona fide labor organization.

4. Labor disputes. For any week with respect to which the commission finds that his total or partial unemployment is due to a stoppage of work which exists because of a labor dispute at the factory, establishment, or other premises at which he is or was last employed, provided that this subsection shall not apply if it is shown to the satisfaction of the commission that:

a. He is not participating in or financing or directly interested in the labor dispute which caused the stoppage of work; and

b. He does not belong to a grade or class of workers of which, immediately before the commencement of the stoppage, there were members employed at the premises at which the stoppage occurs, any of whom are participating in or financing or directly interested in the dispute.

Provided, that if in any case separate branches of work which are commonly conducted as separate businesses in separate premises are conducted in separate departments of the same premises, each such department shall, for the purposes of this subsection, be deemed to be a separate factory, establishment, or other premises.

5. Other compensation. For any week with respect to which he is receiving, has received, or is entitled to receive payment in the form of:

a. Wages in lieu of notice;

b. Compensation for temporary disability under the workmen's compensation law of any state or under a similar law of the United States;

c. Old-age benefits under title II of the Social Security Act (42 USC, chapter 7), as amended, or similar retirement payments under any Act of Congress; provided that the commission shall withhold payments under this chapter if it has reason to believe a claimant is entitled to benefits under title II of the Social Security Act of the United States or any similar payments under any other Act of Congress, until such time as the claimant files with the commission satisfactory evidence that he is not entitled to such benefits;

d. Benefits paid as retirement pay or as private pension.

Provided, that if such remuneration is less than the benefits which would otherwise be due under this chapter, he shall be entitled to receive for such week, if otherwise eligible, benefits reduced by the amount of such remuneration. Provided further, if benefits were paid for any week under this chapter for a period when benefits, remuneration or compensation under paragraphs "a", "b", "c", or "d", of this subsection were paid on a retroactive basis for the same period, or any part thereof, the commission shall recover any such excess amount of benefits paid by the commission for such period, and no employer's account shall be charged with benefits so paid, provided further, however, that retirement pay or compensation for service-connected disabilities or pensions and compensation for accrued leave based on military service, by the beneficiary, with the armed forces of the United States, irrespective of the amount of the benefit, shall in no way disqualify any individual, otherwise qualified, from any of the benefits contemplated herein.

a. When an employer makes a payment or becomes obligated to make a payment to an individual for vacation pay, or for vacation pay allowance, or as pay in lieu of vacation, such payment or amount shall be deemed "wages" as defined in section 96.19, subsection 13, and shall be applied as provided in paragraph "c" hereof.

b. Whenever, in connection with any separation or layoff of an individual, his employer makes a payment or payments to him, or becomes obligated to make such payment to him as, or in the nature of, vacation pay, or vacation pay allowance, or as pay in lieu of vacation, and within seven calendar days after notification of the filing of his claim, designates by notice in writing to the commission the period to which such payment shall be allocated; provided, that if such designated period is extended by the employer, he may again similarly designate an extended period, by giving notice thereof in writing to the commission not later than the beginning of the extension of such period, with the same effect as if such period of extension were included in the original designation. The amount of any such payment or obligation to make payment, shall be deemed "wages" as defined in section 96.19, subsection 13, and shall be applied as provided in paragraph "c" of this subsection 7.

Any individual receiving or entitled to receive wages as provided herein shall be ineligible for benefits for any week in which the sums, so designated or attributed to such normal workdays, equal or exceed his weekly benefit amount. 1. Filing. Claims for benefits shall be made in accordance with such regulations as the commission may prescribe.

Referred to in §§96.4(2), 96.19(16)

2. Initial determination. A representative designated by the commission shall promptly notify all interested parties to the claim of the filing thereof, and said parties shall have seven days from the date of mailing the notice of the filing of said claim by ordinary mail to the last known address to protest payment of benefits to said claimant. The representative shall promptly examine the claim and any protest thereto and, on the basis of the facts found by him, shall either determine whether or not such claim is valid, the week with respect to which benefits shall commence, the weekly benefit amount payable and the maximum duration thereof, and whether any disqualification shall be imposed, or shall refer such claim or any question involved therein to an appeal tribunal or to the commission, which shall make its determination with respect thereto in accordance with the procedure described in subsection 3 of this section, except that in any case in which the payment or denial of benefits will be determined by the provisions of section 96.5, subsection 4, the representative shall promptly transmit his full findings of fact with respect to that subsection to the commission, which, on the basis of the evidence submitted and such additional evidence as it may require, shall affirm, modify, or set aside such findings of fact and transmit to the representative a decision upon the issues involved under that subsection. The representative shall promptly notify the claimant and any other interested party of the decision and the reasons therefor. Unless the claimant or other interested party, after notification or within ten calendar days after such notification was mailed to his last known address, files an appeal from such decision, such decision shall be final and benefits shall be paid or denied in accordance therewith. If an appeal tribunal affirms a decision of the representative, or the commission affirms a decision of an appeal tribunal, allowing benefits, such benefits shall be paid regardless of any appeal which may thereafter be taken, but if such decision is finally reversed, no employer's account shall be charged with benefits so paid.

3. Appeals. Unless such appeal is withdrawn, an appeal tribunal, after affording the parties reasonable opportunity for fair hearing, shall affirm or modify the findings of fact and decision of the deputy. The parties shall be duly notified of such tribunal's decision, together with its reasons therefor, which shall be deemed to be the final decision of the commission, unless within fifteen days after the date of notification or mailing of such decision, further appeal is initiated pursuant to subsection 5 of this section.

No person shall participate on behalf of the commission in any case in which he is an interested party. The commission may designate alternates to serve in the absence or disqualification of any member of an appeal tribunal. The chairman shall act alone in the absence or disqualification of any other member and his alternates. In no case shall the hearings proceed unless the chairman of the appeal tribunal is present.

5. Commission review. The commission may on its own motion affirm, modify, or set aside any decision of an appeal tribunal on the basis of the evidence previously submitted in such case, or direct the taking of additional evidence, or may permit any of the parties to such decision to initiate further appeals before it. The commission shall permit such further appeal by any of the parties interested in a decision of an appeal tribunal and by the deputy whose decision has been overruled or modified by an appeal tribunal. The commission may remove to itself or transfer to another appeal tribunal the proceedings on any claim pending before an appeal tribunal. Any proceeding so removed to the commission shall be heard in accordance with the requirements of subsection 3, by the full membership of the commission, or, in the absence or disqualification of the labor representative or the employer representative on the commission, by the public representative acting alone. The commission shall promptly notify the interested parties of its findings and decision.

6. Procedure. The manner in which disputed claims shall be presented, the reports thereon required from the claimant and from employers, and the conduct of hearings and appeals shall be in accordance with rules prescribed by the commission for determining the rights of the parties, whether or not such rules conform to common law or statutory rules of evidence and other technical rules of procedure. A full and complete record shall be kept of all proceedings in connection with a disputed claim. All testimony at any hearing upon a disputed claim shall be recorded, but need not be transcribed unless the disputed claim is further appealed.

7. Witness fees. Witnesses subpoenaed pursuant to this section shall be allowed fees and necessary traveling expenses at a rate fixed by the commission, which fees shall be charged to the unemployment compensation administration fund of the commission.

8. Judicial review. A decision of the commission shall become final ten days after the date of notification or mailing thereof. Judicial review of any decision of the commission may be sought in accordance with the terms of the Iowa administrative procedure Act. The commission may be represented in any such judicial review proceeding by any qualified attorney who is a regular salaried employee of the commission or who has been designated by the commission for that purpose, or at the commission's request, by the attorney general. Notwithstanding the terms of the Iowa administrative procedure Act, petitions for judicial review may be filed in the district court of the county in which the claimant was last employed or resides, provided that if the claimant does not reside in the state of Iowa the action shall be brought in the district court of Polk county, Iowa, and any other party to the proceeding before the commission shall be named in the petition. The commission may also, in its discretion, certify to such courts, questions of law involved in any decision by it. Petitions for judicial review and the questions so certified shall be given precedence over all other civil cases except cases arising under the workmen's compensation law of this state. No bond shall be required for entering an appeal from any final order, judgment or decree of the district court to the supreme court. 1. Payment.

a. On and after July 1, 1936, contributions shall accrue on all taxable wages paid by an employer for insured work.

b. Such contributions shall become due and be paid to the commission for the fund at such times and in such manner as the commission by regulation prescribes.

c. In the payment of any contribution the fractional part of a cent shall be disregarded unless it amounts to one-half cent or more in which case it shall be increased to one cent.

d. Contributions required from an employer shall not be deducted in whole or in part from the wages paid to individuals in his employ.

Referred to in §96.19(21)

2. Rate of contribution by employers. Each employer shall pay contributions equal to the following percentages of wages payable by him with respect to employment:

a. One and eight-tenths percent with respect to employment for the six months' period beginning July 1, 1936, provided that if the total of such contributions at such one and eight-tenths percent rate equals less than nine-tenths of one percent of the annual payroll of any employer for the calendar year 1936, such employer shall pay, at such time as the commission shall prescribe, an additional lump-sum contribution with respect to employment for such six months' period beginning July 1, 1936, equal to the difference between nine-tenths of one percent of his annual payroll for the calendar year 1936 and the total of his contributions at such one and eight-tenths percent rate for such six months' period beginning July 1, 1936, and provided further that in no event shall employers' contributions at such one and eight-tenths percent rate exceed nine-tenths of one percent of his annual payroll for the calendar year 1936;

c. Two and seven-tenths percent with respect to employment during the calendar years 1938, 1939, 1940; and ber 31, 1940, except as may be otherwise prescribed in subsection 3 of this section.

Referred to in §96.19(21)

3. Future rates based on benefit experience.

a. (1) The commission shall maintain a separate account for each employer and shall credit his account with all contributions which he has paid or which have been paid on his behalf.

(2) The amount of regular benefits plus fifty percent of the amount of extended benefits, as determined under section 96.29, paid to an eligible individual shall be charged against the account of the employers in the base period in the inverse chronological order in which the employment of such individual occurred. Provided, that in any case in which a claimant to whom such benefits are paid is in the employ of a base period employer at the time he is receiving such benefits, and he is receiving the same employment from such employer that he received during his base period, then no charge of benefits paid to such claimant shall be made against the account of such employer.

(3) The amount of regular benefits so charged in any calendar quarter against the account of any employer shall not exceed the amount of such individual's wage credits based on employment with such employer during such quarter. The amount of extended benefits so charged in any calendar quarter against the account of any employer shall not exceed an additional fifty percent of the amount of such individual's wage credits based on employment with such employer during such quarter.

(4) The commission shall by general rule prescribe the manner in which benefits shall be charged against the accounts of several employers for whom an individual performed employment during the same calendar quarter.

(5) Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to grant any employer or the individuals in his service prior claims or rights to the amounts paid by him into the fund either on his own behalf or on behalf of such individuals.

(6) As soon as practicable after the close of each calendar quarter, and in any event within forty days after the close of such quarter, the commission shall notify each employer of the amount that has been charged to his account for benefits paid during such quarter. This statement to the employer shall show the name of each claimant to whom such benefit payments were made, the claimant's social security number, and the amount of benefits paid to such claimant. Any employer who has not been notified as provided in section 96.6, subsection 2, of the allowance of benefits to such claimants may within thirty days after the receipt of such statement appeal to the commission for a hearing to determine the eligibility of the claimant to receive such benefits. The commission may hear the case or may refer the same to an appeal tribunal for hearing. In either case both the employer and the claimant shall receive notice of the time and place of such hearing.

(7) Any employer may at any time make voluntary payments to his account in excess of the other requirements of this chapter, and all such payments shall be considered on any computation date as contributions required under the provisions of this chapter if they are paid by the employer not later than the next March 15 after such computation date.

b. In any case in which the enterprise or business for which contributions have been paid has been sold or otherwise transferred to a subsequent employing unit, or in any case in which one or more employing units have been reorganized or merged into a single employing unit and the successor employer continues to operate such enterprise, such successor employer shall assume the position of the predecessor employer or employers with respect to such predecessors' payrolls, contributions, accounts and contribution rates to the same extent as if there had been no change in the ownership or control of such enterprise or business.

In any case in which a clearly segregable and identifiable part of an enterprise or business for which contributions have been paid has been sold or otherwise transferred to a subsequent employing unit, and such successor employing unit having qualified as an "employer" as defined under section 96.19, subsection 6, paragraph "b", continues to operate such enterprise or business, such successor shall assume the position of the predecessor employer with respect to such predecessor's payrolls, contributions, accounts and contribution rates which are attributable to the part of the enterprise or business transferred to the same extent as if there has been no change in the ownership or control of such enterprise or business.

The contribution rate to be assigned to the acquiring employer for the period beginning not earlier than the date of the transfer and ending not later than the next following effective date of contribution rates, shall be the contribution rate applicable to the transferring employer with respect to the period immediately preceding the date of the transfer, provided that the acquiring employer was not, prior to the transfer, a subject employer, and only one transferring employer, or only transferring employers having identical rates, are involved; or a newly computed rate based on the experience of the transferring employer attributable to the part of the business transferred to the acquiring employer combined with the experience of the acquiring employer as of the last computation date.

The contribution rate to be assigned to the acquiring employer for the next following regular rate year, is a contribution rate based on the experience of the acquiring employer and only so much of the experience of the transferring employer as is attributable to the part of the business transferred.

Provided, however, that application for such transfer of partial record is made within sixty days from the date of transfer and meets the approval of the predecessor and the commission, and provided further that such partial record shall include sufficient information for the proper administration of this chapter with respect to payment of unemployment benefits and computation of future rates based on benefit experience.

In determining each employer's rate of contribution for the calendar year 1945, and for each year thereafter, such employer shall be given full credit for the payrolls, contributions, accounts and contribution rates of his predecessor employer or employers to the same extent as if there had been no change in the organization or the ownership of the business. Provided, that in any case in which such sale, transfer, merger or reorganization has taken place in any year after the predecessor employer's rate of contribution (hereafter called rate) has been determined for such year the employer's rate for the remainder of such year, shall, upon his application to the commission be determined in the following manner:

(1) If the successor employer has no rate or if he has a rate and it is the same rate as that of his predecessor employer or employers, their rates being the same rate, his rate shall be that of the predecessor employer or employers.

(2) If the rate or rates of the predecessor employers are not the same rate, and that of the successor employer if he has a rate is not the same rate as that of the predecessor employer then the rate of the successor employer shall be redetermined under the combined experience of the predecessor employer or employers and the successor employers.

Referred to in §96.8(4)

c. Each contributing employer's rate of contribution shall be two and seven-tenths percent except as otherwise provided in this chapter. No reduced rate of contribution shall be granted to a contributing employer until there shall have been twelve consecutive calendar quarters immediately preceding the first computation date throughout which his account has been chargeable with benefit payments. Provided, that with respect to the calendar year commencing January 1, 1972, and each calendar year thereafter, except as provided in paragraphs "d" and "e" of this subsection, a contributing employer who has not been subject to this chapter for a sufficient period of time to meet the twelve-quarter requirement shall qualify for a computed rate of contribution if there shall have been a lesser period throughout which his account has been chargeable, but in no event less than eight consecutive calendar quarters immediately preceding the computation date; provided further, that with respect to the calendar year commencing January 1, 1972, and each calendar year thereafter, except as provided in paragraphs "d" and "e" of this subsection, each contributing employer newly subject to this chapter shall pay contributions at the rate of one and five-tenths percent until the end of the calendar year in which the employer shall have had eight consecutive calendar quarters immediately preceding the computation date throughout which his account has been chargeable with benefit payments, thereafter his contribution rate shall be determined in accordance with paragraphs "d" and "e" of this subsection.

d. The commission shall determine the rate table to be in effect for the calendar year following the rate computation date for such year, by determining the ratio of the current reserve fund ratio to the minimum adequate reserve fund ratio as of the rate computation date.

(1) The current reserve fund ratio shall be computed by dividing the total trust funds available for payment of benefits, on the computation date, by the total wages paid in covered employment during the four calendar quarters ending the June 30 immediately preceding the computation date.

(2) The minimum adequate reserve fund ratio shall be computed by multiplying the highest benefit cost rate by one point five.

(3) The highest benefit cost rate shall be the highest of the resulting ratios computed by dividing the total benefit payments during each consecutive twelve-month period, during the fifteen-year period ending on the computation date, by the total wages paid in the four calendar quarters ending nearest and prior to the last day of such twelve-month period.

If the current reserve fund ratio, divided by the minimum adequate reserve fund ratio:

2.5	3.0	4

Each employer's rate for each calendar year after December 31, 1971, shall be determined on the basis of his record and the record of the predecessor owner of such enterprise, if any, up to the computation date for such year. If, on the computation date, the total of all contributions paid to an employer's account for all past periods to and including those for the quarter ending September 30 immediately preceding the computation date exceeds the total benefits charged to such account for all past periods to and including those for the quarter ending September 30 immediately preceding the computation date, such employer's contribution rate subject to the adjustment hereinafter provided, shall be fixed in accordance with the following effective table. Percentage of excess in said table means the percentage resulting from dividing the excess of contributions paid over benefits charged by the employer's average annual payroll.

Contribution Rates Shall Be %	If the percentage of excess is:

If, on the computation date, the total of all benefits paid from an employer's account for all past periods to and including those for the quarter ending September 30 immediately preceding the computation date, exceeds the total contributions paid to such account for all past periods to and including those for the quarter ending September 30 immediately preceding the computation date, such employer's contribution rate shall be:

Contribution Rate	Percentage of Excess Is
4.0%	0.5% or more
3.5%	0.1% but less than 0.5%
3.0%	0.0% but less than 0.1%

Provided, that the maximum contribution rate of any employer for the calendar year 1966 shall not be more than three percent, and for the calendar year 1967 shall not be more than three and five-tenths percent. Provided, however, that notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, any employer which employs individuals in the construction, erection, demolition, alteration or repair of roads and highways, or of bridges, buildings, factories, residences, earthwork, grading, river work, or any other construction project, and who has not qualified for an experience rating shall pay three percent in the calendar year 1966, three and five-tenths percent in the calendar year 1967, and four point zero percent in the calendar year 1968 and every calendar year thereafter until such time as he has qualified for an experience rating entitling said employer to a lesser rate of contribution. Except that such employer shall not qualify for a lesser rate of contribution until there shall have been twelve consecutive calendar quarters immediately preceding the computation date throughout which his account has been chargeable with benefit payments. Provided further, that in no event shall any employer's contribution rate be more than two and seven-tenths percent of the first ten thousand dollars of wages for insured work paid during any calendar quarter.

On or before the fifth day of December of each calendar year, beginning in 1971, the commission shall make available to employers the table which will apply to the contribution rates in the following calendar year.

e. No employer's rate for the period of twelve months commencing January 1 of any calendar year after December 31, 1937, shall be less than two and seven-tenths percent, unless the total assets of the fund, excluding contributions not yet paid at the beginning of such calendar year, exceed the total benefits paid from the fund within the last preceding calendar year; and no employer's rate shall be less than one and eight-tenths percent unless such assets at such time were at least twice the total benefits paid from the fund within such last preceding year.

f. Based upon the formula above provided in this section the commission shall fix the rate of contribution for each employer. The commission shall notify the employer of the rate so fixed. An employer may appeal to the commission for a revision of the rate of contribution so fixed within thirty days from the date of the notice to such employer. The commission after such hearing may set aside its former determination or modify it and may grant the employer a new rate of contribution. The commission shall notify the employer of this determination by certified mail. Judicial review of action of the commission may be sought in accordance with the terms of the Iowa administrative procedure Act.

Referred to in §96.9(5)

4. Determination and assessment of contributions.

a. As soon as practicable and in any event within two years after an employer has filed reports, as required by the commission pursuant to section 96.11, subsection 7, the commission shall examine such reports and determine the correct amount of contributions due, and the amount so determined by the commission shall be the contributions payable. If the contributions found due shall be greater than the amount theretofore paid, the excess, together with interest as provided in this chapter, shall be paid by the employer within thirty days after the commission shall have given notice thereof to the employer by certified mail.

b. If the commission discovers from the examination of the reports or otherwise that wages payable for employment, or any part thereof, have not been listed in the reports, or that no reports were filed when due, or that reports have been filed showing contributions due but no contributions in fact have been paid, it may at any time within five years after the time such reports were due, determine the correct amount of contributions payable, together with interest as provided in this chapter. The amount so determined shall be paid within thirty days after the commission shall have given notice thereof to the employer by certified mail.

c. The certificate of the commission to the effect that contributions have not been paid, that reports have not been filed, or that information has not been furnished, as required under the provisions of this chapter shall be prima-facie evidence thereof.

5. Revision of contributions. An employer may appeal to the commission for revision of the contributions and interest assessed against such employer at any time within thirty days from the date of the notice of the assessment of such contributions and interest. The commission shall grant a hearing thereon and if, upon such hearing, it shall determine that the amount of contributions payable with interest thereon is incorrect, it shall revise the same according to the law and the facts and adjust the computation of the contributions and interest accordingly. The commission shall notify the employer by certified mail of its findings.

6. Judicial review. Notwithstanding the terms of the Iowa administrative procedure Act, petitions for judicial review may be filed in the district court of the county in which such employer resides, or in which such employer's principal place of business is located, or in the case of a nonresident not maintaining a place of business in this state either in any county in which the wages payable for employment were earned or paid or in Polk county, within thirty days after the date of the notice to such employer notifying such employer of his rate of contribution, or of the commission's determination as provided for in subsection 3 of this section or subsection 5 of this section.

The petitioner shall file with the clerk of said court a bond for the use of the respondent, with sureties approved by the clerk, in penalty to be fixed and approved by the clerk of said court. In no case shall the bond be less than fifty dollars conditioned that the petitioner shall perform the orders of the court. In all other respects, the judicial review shall be in accordance with the terms of the Iowa administrative procedure Act.

An appeal may be taken by the employer or the commission to the supreme court of this state, irrespective of the amount involved.

7. Jeopardy assessments. If the commission believes that the assessment or collection of contributions payable or benefits reimbursable will be jeopardized by delay, the commission may immediately make an assessment of the estimated amount of contributions due or benefits reimbursable, together with all interest and penalty thereon as provided by this chapter, and demand payment thereof from the employer. If such payment is not made, a distress warrant may be issued or a lien filed against such employer immediately.

The commission shall be permitted to accept a bond from the employer to satisfy collection until the amount of contributions legally due shall be determined. Such bond to be in an amount deemed necessary, but not more than double the amount of the contributions involved, and with securities satisfactory to the commission.

8. Financing benefits paid to state employees. Any state agency, board, commission, department, or instrumentality thereof, other than state-owned hospitals and institutions of higher education, which, pursuant to section 96.19, subsection 6, paragraph "h", is, or becomes, subject to this chapter on or after January 1, 1972, shall pay to the commission for the unemployment fund an amount equal to the amount of regular benefits and of one-half of the extended benefits paid, that is attributable to service in the employ of such state agency, board, commission, department, or instrumentality thereof. Such payments shall be made in accordance with the provisions of subsection 9, paragraph "b" hereof. State agencies, boards, commissions, and departments, except board of regents institutions and the state fair board, shall, after approving the billing provided for in subsection 9, paragraph "b", submit the billing to the state comptroller to be paid out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated. The state comptroller shall be reimbursed for payments made on behalf of agencies, boards, commissions, or departments which have revolving, special, trust or federal funds from which the payments can be made.

9. Financing benefits paid to employees of nonprofit organizations. Benefits paid to employees of nonprofit organizations or of any state-owned hospital or institution of higher education shall be financed in accordance with the provisions of this subsection. For the purpose of this subsection and section 96.19, a nonprofit organization is an organization described in the U. S. Internal Revenue Code, 26

a. Any state-owned hospital or institution of higher education, which, pursuant to section 96.19, subsection 6, paragraph "h", or any nonprofit organization which, pursuant to section 96.19, subsection 6, paragraph "i", is, or becomes, subject to this chapter on or after January 1, 1972, shall pay contributions under the provisions of subsections 1, 2, and 3 of this section, unless it elects, in accordance with this paragraph, to pay to the commission for the unemployment fund an amount equal to the amount of regular benefits and of one-half of the extended benefits paid, that is attributable to service in the employ of such nonprofit organization, to individuals for weeks of unemployment which begin during the effective period of such election.

(1) Any nonprofit organization or any state-owned hospital or institution of higher education which is, or becomes, subject to this chapter on January 1, 1972, may elect to become liable for payments in lieu of contributions for a period of not less than two calendar years commencing January 1, 1972, provided it files with the commission a written notice of its election within the thirty-day period immediately following such date or within a like period immediately following the effective date of this Act*, whichever occurs later.

(2) Any nonprofit organization or any state-owned hospital or institution of higher education, which becomes subject to this chapter after January 1, 1972, may elect to become liable for payments in lieu of contributions for a period of not less than two calendar years following the date on which such subjectivity begins by filing a written notice of its election with the commission not later than thirty days immediately following the date of the determination of such subjectivity.

(3) Any nonprofit organization or any state-owned hospital or institution of higher education, which makes an election in accordance with subparagraphs (1) or (2) of this paragraph shall continue to be liable for payments in lieu of contributions until it files with the commission a written notice terminating its election not later than thirty days prior to the beginning of the taxable year for which such termination shall first be effective.

(4) Any nonprofit organization or any state-owned hospital or institution of higher education, which has been paying contributions under this chapter for a period on or after January 1, 1972, may change to a reimbursable basis by filing with the commission not later than thirty days prior to the beginning of any taxable year a written notice of election to become liable for payments in lieu of contributions. Such election shall not be terminable by the organization for that and the next year.

(5) The commission may for good cause extend the period within which a notice of election, or a notice of termination, must be filed and may permit an election to be retroactive but not any earlier than with respect to benefits paid after December 31, 1969.

(6) The commission, in accordance with such regulations as it may prescribe, shall notify each nonprofit organization of any determination which it may make of its status as an employer and of the effective date of any election which it makes and of any termination of such election. Such determinations shall be subject to reconsideration, appeal and review in accordance with the provisions of subsections 5 and 6 of this section.

b. Payments in lieu of contributions shall be made in accordance with the following:

(1) At the end of each calendar quarter, or at the end of any other period as determined by the commission, the commission shall bill each nonprofit organization which has elected to make payments in lieu of contributions for an amount equal to the full amount of regular benefits plus one-half of the amount of extended benefits paid during such quarter or other prescribed period that is attributable to service in the employ of such organization.

(2) Payment of any bill rendered shall be made not later than thirty days after such bill was mailed to the last known address of the nonprofit organization or was otherwise delivered to it, unless there has been an application for review and redetermination in accordance with subparagraph (4) of this paragraph.

(3) Payments made by any nonprofit organization under the provisions of this subsection shall not be deducted or deductible, in whole or in part, from the remuneration of individuals in the employ of the organization.

(4) The amount due specified in any bill from the commission shall be conclusive on the organization unless, not later than fifteen days following the date the bill was mailed to its last known address or otherwise delivered to it, the organization files an application for redetermination by the commission setting forth the grounds for such application. The commission shall promptly review and reconsider the amount due specified in the bill and shall thereafter issue a redetermination in any case in which such application for redetermination has been filed. Any such redetermination shall be conclusive on the organization unless, not later than sixty days after the redetermination was mailed to its last known address or otherwise delivered to it, the organization files an appeal to the district court pursuant to subsection 6 of this section.

(5) The provisions for collection of contributions under section 96.14 shall be applicable to payments in lieu of contributions.

Referred to in §96.8(3)

10. Provision of bond or other security. In the discretion of the commission, any nonprofit organization that elects to become liable for payments in lieu of contributions shall be required within thirty days after the effective date of its election to execute and file with the commission a surety bond approved by the commission or it may elect instead to deposit with the commission money or securities. The amount of such bond or deposit shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of this subsection.

a. The amount of the bond or deposit required by this subsection shall be equal to two and seven-tenths percent of the organization's total taxable wages paid for employment for the four calendar quarters immediately preceding the effective date of the election, the renewal date in the case of a bond, or the biennial anniversary of the effective date of election in the case of a deposit of money or securities, whichever date shall be most recent and applicable. If the nonprofit organization did not pay wages in each of such four calendar quarters, the amount of the bond or deposit shall be as determined by the commission.

b. Any bond deposited under this subsection shall be in force for a period of not less than two taxable years and shall be renewed with the approval of the commission, at such times as the commission may prescribe, but not less frequently than at two-year intervals as long as the organization continues to be liable for payments in lieu of contributions. The commission shall require adjustments to be made in a previously filed bond as it deems appropriate. If the bond is to be increased, the adjusted bond shall be filed by the organization within thirty days of the date notice of the required adjustment was mailed or otherwise delivered to it. Failure by any organization covered by such bond to pay the full amount of payments in lieu of contributions when due, together with any applicable interest and penalties provided for in section 96.14 shall render the surety liable on said bond to the extent of the bond, as though the surety was such organization.

c. Any deposit of money or securities in accordance with this subsection shall be retained by the commission in an escrow account until liability under the election is terminated, at which time it shall be returned to the organization, less any deductions as hereinafter provided. The commission may deduct from the money deposited under this paragraph by a nonprofit organization or sell the securities it has so deposited to the extent necessary to satisfy any due and unpaid payments in lieu of contributions and any applicable interest and penalties provided for in section 96.14. The commission shall require the organization within thirty days following any deduction from a money deposit or sale of deposited securities under the provisions of this paragraph to deposit sufficient additional money or securities to make whole the organization's deposit at the prior level. Any cash remaining from the sale of such securities shall be a part of the organization's escrow account. The commission may, at any time, review the adequacy of the deposit made by any organization. If, as a result of such review, it determines that an adjustment is necessary, it shall require the organization to make additional deposit within thirty days of written notice of its determination or shall return to it such portion of the deposit as it no longer considers necessary, whichever action is appropriate. Disposition of income from securities held in escrow shall be governed by the applicable provisions of the Code.

11. Authority to terminate elections. If any nonprofit organization fails to file a bond or make a deposit, or to file a bond in an increased amount or to increase or make whole the amount of a previously made deposit, the commission may terminate such organization's election to make payments in lieu of contributions and such termination shall continue for not less than the four-consecutive-calendar-quarter period beginning with the quarter in which such termination becomes effective; provided, that the commission may extend for good cause the applicable filing, deposit, or adjustment period by not more than thirty days.

12. Allocation of benefit cost. Each employer that is liable for payments in lieu of contributions shall pay to the commission for the fund the amount of regular benefits plus the amount of one-half of extended benefits paid during each quarter that are attributable to service in the employ of such employer. If benefits paid to an individual are based on wages paid by more than one employer and one or more of such employers are liable for payments in lieu of contributions, the amount payable to the fund by each employer that is liable for such payment shall be payable each quarter by the base period employers in inverse chronological order in which the employment of such individual occurred. Provided, that the amount of any such employer's liability in any calendar quarter shall not exceed the amount of such individual's wage credits plus one-half the amount of extended benefits based on employment with such employer during such quarter of the base period.

13. Group accounts. Two or more employers that have become liable for payments in lieu of contributions, in accordance with the provisions of subsection 9, paragraph "a", of this section or in accordance with section 96.8, subsection 3, paragraph "c", may file a joint application to the commission for the establishment of a group account for the purpose of sharing the cost of benefits paid that are attributable to service in the employ of such employers. Each such application shall identify and authorize a group representative to act as the group's agent for the purposes of this subsection. Upon its approval of the application, the commission shall establish a group account for such employers effective as of the beginning of the calendar quarter in which it receives the application and shall notify the group's representative of the effective date of the account. Such account shall remain in effect for not less than one year and thereafter until terminated at the discretion of the commission or upon application by the group. Upon establishment of the account, each member of the group shall be liable for payments in lieu of contributions with respect to each calendar quarter in the amount that bears the same ratio to the total benefits paid in such quarter that are attributable to service performed in the employ of all members of the group as the total wages paid for service in employment by such member in such quarter bear to the total wages paid during such quarter for service performed in the employ of all members of the group. The commission shall prescribe such regulations as it deems necessary with respect to applications for establishment, maintenance and termination of group accounts that are authorized by this subsection, for addition of new members to, and withdrawal of active members from, such accounts, and for the determination of the amounts that are payable under this subsection by members of the group and the time and manner of such payments.

14. Nonprofit organization election. Notwithstanding any provisions in subsection 9 of this section, any nonprofit organization that prior to January 1, 1969, paid contributions required by this section and, pursuant to subsection 9 of this section, elects, within thirty days after the effective date of this Act* to make payments in lieu of contributions, shall not be required to make any such payment on account of any regular or extended benefits paid, on the basis of wages paid by such organization to individuals for weeks of unemployment which begin on or after the effective date of such election until the total amount of such benefits equals the amount of the positive balance in the experience rating account of such organization. PERIOD, ELECTION, AND TERMINATION OF EMPLOYER'S COVERAGE

96.8 Conditions and requirements.

1. Period of coverage. Any employing unit which is or becomes an employer subject to this chapter within any calendar year shall be subject to this chapter during the whole of such calendar year.

2. Voluntary termination. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3 of this section, an employing unit shall cease to be an employer subject to this chapter, as of the first day of January of any calendar year, if it files with the commission, prior to the fifteenth day of February of such year, a written application for termination of coverage, and the commission finds that such employing unit did not meet any of the qualifying liability requirements as provided under section 96.19, subsection 6, paragraphs "a," "b," "c," "d," "e," "f," or "g," and section 96.19, subsection 6, paragraphs "h" or "i" in the preceding calendar year.

3. Election by employer.

a. An employing unit, not otherwise subject to this chapter, which files with the commission its written election to become an employer subject hereto for not less than two calendar years, shall with the written approval of such election by the commission, become an employer subject hereto to the same extent as all other employers, as of the date stated in such approval, and shall cease to be subject hereto as of January 1 of any calendar year subsequent to such two calendar years, only if prior to the fifteenth day of February of such year, it has filed with the commission a written notice to that effect.

b. Any employing unit for which services that do not constitute employment as defined in this chapter are performed, may file with the commission a written election that all such services performed by individuals in its employ in one or more distinct establishments or places of business shall be deemed to constitute employment for all the purposes of this chapter for not less than two calendar years. Upon the written approval of such election by the commission, such services shall be deemed to constitute employment subject to this chapter from and after the date stated in such approval. Such services shall cease to be deemed employment subject hereto as of January 1 of any calendar year subsequent to such two calendar years, only if prior to the fifteenth day of February of such year such employing unit has filed with the commission a written notice to that effect.

c. Any political subdivision of this state may elect to cover under this chapter service performed by employees in all of the hospitals and institutions of higher education operated by such political subdivision. Election is to be made by filing with the commission a notice of such election at least thirty days prior to the effective date of such election. The election may exclude any services described in section 96.19, subsection 7, paragraph "g", subparagraph (7). Any political subdivision electing coverage under this paragraph shall make payments in lieu of contributions with respect to benefits attributable to such employment as provided with respect to nonprofit organizations in section 96.7, subsection 9, paragraph "b". The provisions in section 96.4, subsections 6 and 7, with respect to benefit rights based on service for state and nonprofit institutions of higher education shall be applicable also to service covered by an election under this section.

The amounts required to be paid in lieu of contributions by any political subdivision under this paragraph shall be billed and payment made as provided in section 96.7, subsection 9, paragraph "b", with respect to similar payments by nonprofit organizations.

An election under this section may be terminated, by filing with the commission written notice not later than thirty days preceding the last day of the calendar year in which the termination is to be effective. Such termination becomes effective as of the first day of the next ensuing calendar year with respect to services performed after that date.

4. Transfer or discontinuance of business.

a. In any case in which the enterprise or business of a subject employer has been sold or otherwise transferred to a subsequent employing unit or reorganized or merged into a single employing unit under the provisions of section 96.7, subsection 3, paragraph "b", the account of the transferring employer shall terminate as of the date on which such transfer, reorganization or merger was completed.

b. In any case in which the enterprise or business of a subject employer has been discontinued otherwise than by sale or transfer to a subsequent employing unit and such employer has had no employment for a period of one year, the commission may, on its own motion, terminate said account. UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION FUND

96.9 Control, management, and use.

1. Establishment and control. There is hereby established as a special fund, separate and apart from all public moneys or funds of this state, an unemployment compensation fund, which shall be administered by the commission exclusively for the purposes of this chapter. This fund shall consist of:

a. All contributions collected under this chapter,

b. Interest earned upon any moneys in the fund,

c. Any property or securities acquired through the use of moneys belonging to the fund,

d. All earnings of such property or securities, and

e. All money credited to this state's account in the unemployment trust fund pursuant to section 903 of the Social Security Act [42USC §§501 to 503, 1103 to 1105, 1321 to 1324]. All moneys in the unemployment compensation fund shall be mingled and undivided.

2. Accounts and deposits. The state treasurer shall be ex officio treasurer and custodian of the fund and shall administer such fund in accordance with the directions of the commission. The state comptroller shall issue warrants upon the fund pursuant to the order of the commission and such warrants shall be paid from the fund by the treasurer. The treasurer shall maintain within the fund three separate accounts:

a. A clearing account.

b. An unemployment trust fund account.

c. A benefit account. All moneys payable to the unemployment compensation fund and all interest and penalties on delinquent contributions and reports shall, upon receipt thereof by the commission, be forwarded to the treasurer who shall immediately deposit them in the clearing account, but the interest and penalties on delinquent contributions and reports shall not be deemed to be a part of the fund. Refunds of contributions payable pursuant to section 96.14 shall be paid by the treasurer from the clearing account upon warrants issued by the comptroller under the direction of the commission. After clearance thereof, all other moneys in the clearing account, except interest and penalties on delinquent contributions and reports, shall be immediately deposited with the secretary of the treasury of the United States to the credit of the account of this state in the unemployment trust fund, established and maintained pursuant to section 904 of the Social Security Act as amended, any provisions of law in this state relating to the deposit, administration, release or disbursement of moneys in the possession or custody of this state to the contrary notwithstanding. Interest and penalties on delinquent contributions and reports collected from employers shall be transferred from the clearing account to the special employment security contingency fund. The benefit account shall consist of all moneys requisitioned from this state's account in the unemployment trust fund for the payment of benefits. Except as herein otherwise provided moneys in the clearing and benefit account may be deposited by the treasurer, under the direction of the commission, in any bank or public depository in which general funds of the state may be deposited, but no public deposit insurance charge or premium shall be paid out of the fund. The treasurer shall give a separate bond conditioned upon the faithful performance of his duties as custodian of the fund in an amount fixed by the governor and in form and manner prescribed by law. Premiums for said bond shall be paid from the administration fund.

Interest paid upon the trust fund deposited with the secretary of the treasury of the United States under the provisions of this subsection 2 of this section for any calendar year shall be allocated and credited to and become a part of each employer's reserve account, said allocation to be made in the following manner: For the calendar year 1950 and each calendar year thereafter, the commission shall add and credit to each employer's reserve account, the percentage of the total interest paid upon the aggregate of the reserve accounts of all of the employers in the state in said year that each such employer's individual reserve account bears to said aggregate reserve account. Said interest shall be credited and applied in the same manner as a voluntary contribution made by each such employer.

3. Withdrawals. Moneys shall be requisitioned from this state's account in the unemployment trust fund solely for the payment of benefits and in accordance with regulations prescribed by the commission, except that money credited to this state's account pursuant to section 903 of the Social Security Act may, subject to the conditions prescribed in subsection 4 of this section, be used for the payment of expenses incurred for the administration of this chapter. The commission shall from time to time requisition from the unemployment trust fund such amounts, not exceeding the amounts standing to the account of this state therein, as the commission deems necessary for the payment of benefits for a reasonable future period. Upon receipt thereof the treasurer shall deposit such moneys in the benefit account, and shall disburse such moneys upon warrants drawn by the comptroller pursuant to the order of the commission for the payment of benefits solely from such benefit account. Expenditures of such moneys from the benefit account and refunds from the clearing account shall not be subject to any provisions of law requiring specific appropriations or other formal release by state officers of money in their custody. All warrants issued by the comptroller for the payment of benefits and refunds shall bear the signature of the comptroller. Any balance of moneys requisitioned from the unemployment trust fund which remains unclaimed or unpaid in the benefit account after the expiration of the period for which such sums were requisitioned shall either be deducted from estimates for, and may be utilized for the payment of, benefits during succeeding periods, or, in the discretion of the commission, shall be redeposited with the secretary of the treasury of the United States, to the credit of this state's account in the unemployment trust fund, as provided in subsection 2 of this section.

a. Money credited to the account of this state in the unemployment trust fund by the secretary of the treasury of the United States pursuant to section 903 of the Social Security Act may not be requisitioned from this state's account or used except for the payment of benefits and for the payment of expenses incurred for the administration of this chapter. Such money may be requisitioned pursuant to subsection 3 of this section for the payment of benefits. Such money may also be requisitioned and used for the payment of expenses incurred for the administration of this chapter but only pursuant to a specific appropriation by the legislature and only if the expenses are incurred and the money is requisitioned after the enactment of an appropriation law which (1) specifies the purposes for which such money is appropriated and the amounts appropriated therefor, (2) limits the period within which such money may be obligated to a period ending not more than two years after the date of the enactment of the appropriation law, and (3) limits the amount which may be obligated during a twelve-month period beginning on July 1 and ending on the next June 30 to an amount which does not exceed the amount by which (i) the aggregate of the amounts credited to the account of this state pursuant to section 903 of the Social Security Act during the same twelve-month period and the twenty-four preceding twelve-month periods, exceeds (ii) the aggregate of the amounts obligated for administration and paid out for

b. Amounts credited to this state's account in the unemployment trust fund under section 903 of the Social Security Act which are obligated for administration or paid out for benefits shall be charged against equivalent amounts which were first credited and which are not already so charged; except that no amount obligated for administration during a twelve-month period specified herein may be charged against any amount credited during such a twelve-month period earlier than the twenty-fourth preceding such period.

c. Money requisitioned as provided herein for the payment of expenses of administration shall be deposited in the employment security administration fund, but, until expended, shall remain a part of the unemployment compensation fund. The treasurer of state shall maintain a separate record of the deposit, obligation, expenditure and return of funds so deposited. Any money so deposited which either will not be obligated within the period specified by the appropriation law or remains unobligated at the end of the period, and any money which has been obligated within the period but will not be expended, shall be returned promptly to the account of this state in the unemployment trust fund.

5. Administration expenses excluded. Any amount credited to this state's account in the unemployment trust fund under section 903 of the Social Security Act which has been appropriated for expenses of administration pursuant to subsection 4 of this section, whether or not withdrawn from such account, shall not be deemed assets of the unemployment compensation fund for the purpose of computing contribution rates under section 96.7, subsection 3, of this chapter.

6. Management of funds in the event of discontinuance of unemployment trust fund. The provisions of subsections 1, 2, and 3 to the extent that they relate to the unemployment trust fund shall be operative only so long as such unemployment trust fund continues to exist and so long as the secretary of the treasury of the United States continues to maintain for this state a separate book account of all funds deposited therein by this state for benefit purposes, together with this state's proportionate share of the earnings of such unemployment trust fund, from which no other state is permitted to make withdrawals. If and when such unemployment trust fund ceases to exist, or such separate book account is no longer maintained, all moneys, properties, or securities therein, belonging to the unemployment compensation fund of this state shall be transferred to the treasurer of the unemployment compensation fund, who shall hold, invest, transfer, sell, deposit, and release such moneys, properties, or securities in a manner approved by the commission, in accordance with the provisions of this chapter: Provided, that such moneys shall be invested in the following readily marketable classes of securities; such securities as are authorized by the laws of the state of Iowa for the investment of trust funds. The treasurer shall dispose of securities and other properties belonging to the unemployment compensation fund only under the direction of the commission.

7. Transfer to railroad account. Notwithstanding any requirements of the foregoing subsections of this section, the commission shall, prior to July 1, 1939, authorize and direct the secretary of the treasury of the United States to transfer from this state's account in the unemployment trust fund, established and maintained pursuant to section 904 of the Social Security Act as amended, to the railroad unemployment insurance account, established and maintained pursuant to section 10 of the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act*, an amount hereinafter referred to as the preliminary amount; and shall, prior to January 1, 1940, authorize and direct the secretary of the treasury of the United States to transfer from this state's account in said unemployment trust fund to said railroad unemployment insurance account an additional amount, hereinafter referred to as the liquidating amount. The social security board shall determine both such amounts after consultation with the commission and the railroad retirement board. The preliminary amount shall consist of that proportion of the balance in the unemployment compensation fund as of June 30, 1939, as the total amount of contributions collected from "employers" as the term "employer" is defined in section 1 "a" of the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act, and credited to the unemployment compensation fund bears to all contributions theretofore collected under this chapter and credited to the unemployment compensation fund. The liquidating amount shall consist of the total amount of contributions collected from "employers" as the term "employer" is defined in section 1 "a" of the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act pursuant to the provisions of this chapter during the period July 1, 1939, to December 31, 1939.

8. Cancellation of warrants. The state comptroller, as of January 1, April 1, July 1, and October 1 of each year, shall stop payment on all warrants for the payment of benefits which have been outstanding and unredeemed by the state treasurer for six months or longer. Should the original warrants subsequently be presented for payment, warrants in lieu thereof shall be issued by the state comptroller at the discretion of and certification by the commission. During his term of membership on the commission no member shall serve as an officer or committee member of any political party organization, and not more than two members of the commission shall be members of the same political party. Each of the three members of the commission shall be appointed by the governor immediately after the effective date of this chapter, subject to approval by a two-thirds vote of the members of the senate, and shall serve for a term of six years, or until his successor is appointed and qualified, except that

a. Any member appointed to fill a vacancy occurring prior to the expiration of the term for which his predecessor was appointed shall be appointed for the remainder of such term, and

b. The terms of the members first appointed after the date of enactment of this chapter shall expire, as designated by the governor at the time of appointment, one member on June 30, 1939, and one member on June 30, 1941, and one member on June 30, 1943, or in each of the foregoing instances until his successor is appointed and qualified.

The governor may at any time, after notice and hearing, remove any commissioner for gross inefficiency, neglect of duty, malfeasance, misfeasance, or nonfeasance in the performance of his duties as a member of the commission. Before entering upon the discharge of his official duties, each member of the commission shall take and subscribe to an oath of office, which shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state. Any vacancy occurring for any cause in the membership of this commission shall be filled for the unexpired term by appointment by the governor subject to approval by a two-thirds vote of the members of the legislature. Each member of the commission shall be entitled to receive as compensation for his services the sum of five thousand* dollars per year, payable monthly. In addition to the compensation hereinbefore prescribed, each member of the commission shall be entitled to receive the amount of his traveling and other necessary expenses actually incurred while engaged in the performance of his official duties. For the purposes of this chapter the first meeting in July shall be designated the annual meeting. Two members of the commission shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. At its first meeting, and at each annual meeting held thereafter, the commission shall organize by the election of a chairman and vice-chairman from its own number, each of whom, except those first elected, shall serve for a term of one year and until his successor is elected. The commission shall adopt and use an official seal for the authentication of its orders and records. The commission shall establish and maintain its principal place of business in the city of Des Moines.

ADMINISTRATION

96.11 Powers, rules and personnel.

1. Duties and powers of commission. It shall be the duty of the commission to administer this chapter; and it shall have power and authority to adopt, amend, or rescind such rules and regulations, to employ such persons, make such expenditures, require such reports, make such investigations, and take such other action as it deems necessary or suitable to that end. Such rules and regulations shall be effective upon compliance with chapter 17A. Not later than the fifteenth day of December of each year, the commission shall submit to the governor a report covering the administration and operation of this chapter during the preceding fiscal year and shall make such recommendations for amendments to this chapter as the commission deems proper. Such report shall include a balance sheet of the moneys in the fund. Whenever the commission believes that a change in contribution or benefit rates will become necessary to protect the solvency of the fund, it shall promptly so inform the governor and the legislature, and make recommendations with respect thereto.

2. General and special rules. General and special rules may be adopted, amended, or rescinded by the commission only after public hearing or opportunity to be heard thereon, of which proper notice has been given. Special rules shall become effective ten days after notification to or mailing to the last known address of the individuals or concerns affected thereby. Regulations may be adopted, amended, or rescinded by the commission. Each employer shall post and maintain printed statements of all regulations in places readily accessible to individuals in his service, and shall make available to each such individual at the time he becomes unemployed a printed statement of such regulations relating to the filing of claims for benefits. Such printed statements shall be supplied by the commission to each employer without cost to him.

Referred to in §96.19 [7, g (3)]

3. Publication. The commission shall cause to be printed for distribution to the public the text of this chapter, the commission's regulations and general rules, its annual reports to the governor, and any other material the commission deems relevant and suitable and shall furnish the same to any person upon application therefor.

4. Personnel. Subject to other provisions of this chapter, the commission is authorized to appoint, fix the compensation, and prescribe the duties and powers of such officers, accountants, attorneys, experts, and other persons as may be necessary in the performance of its duties. The commission shall classify its positions and shall establish salary schedules and minimum personnel standards for the positions so classified. All positions shall be filled by persons selected and appointed on the basis of competency and fitness for the position to be filled. The commission shall not appoint or employ any person who is an officer or committee member of any political party organization or who holds or is a candidate for any elective public office. The commission shall establish and enforce fair and reasonable regulations for appointments, promotions and demotions based upon ratings of efficiency and fitness and for terminations for cause. The commission may delegate to any such person so appointed such power and authority as it deems reasonable and proper for the effective administration of this chapter, and may in its discretion bond any person handling moneys or signing checks hereunder.

5. Advisory councils. The commission may appoint a state advisory council and local advisory councils, composed in each case of an equal number of employer representatives and employee representatives who may fairly be regarded as representatives because of their vocation, employment, or affiliations, and of such members representing the general public as the commission may designate. Such councils shall aid the commission in formulating policies and discussing problems related to the administration of this chapter and in assuring impartiality and freedom from political influence in the solution of such problems. Such advisory councils shall serve without compensation, but shall be reimbursed for any necessary expenses.

6. Employment stabilization. The commission with the advice and aid of such advisory councils as it may appoint, and through its appropriate divisions, shall take all appropriate steps to reduce and prevent unemployment; to encourage and assist in the adoption of practical methods of vocational training, retraining and vocational guidance; to investigate, recommend, advise, and assist in the establishment and operation, by municipalities, counties, school districts, and the state, of reserves for public works to be used in times of business depression and unemployment; to promote the re-employment of unemployed workers throughout the state in every other way that may be feasible; and to these ends to carry on and publish the results of investigations and research studies.

7. Records and reports. Each employing unit shall keep true and accurate work records, containing such information as the commission may prescribe. Such records shall be open to inspection and be subject to being copied by the commission or its authorized representatives at any reasonable time and as often as may be necessary. The commission may require from any employing unit any sworn or unsworn reports, with respect to persons employed by it, which the commission deems necessary for the effective administration of this chapter. Information thus obtained shall not be published or be open to public inspection, other than to public employees in the performance of their public duties or to an agent of the commission designated as such in writing for the purpose of accomplishing certain functions of the commission, in any manner revealing the employing unit's identity, but any claimant at a hearing before an appeal tribunal or the commission shall be supplied with information from such records to the extent necessary for the proper presentation of his claim. Any employee or member of the commission who violates any provision of this section shall be fined not less than twenty dollars nor more than two hundred dollars, or imprisoned for not longer than ninety days, or both.

8. Oaths and witnesses. In the discharge of the duties imposed by this chapter, the chairman of an appeal tribunal and any duly authorized representative or member of the commission shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations, take depositions, certify to official acts, and issue subpoenas to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, and other records deemed necessary as evidence in connection with a disputed claim or the administration of this chapter.

9. Subpoenas. In case of contumacy by, or refusal to obey a subpoena issued to any person, any court of this state within the jurisdiction of which the inquiry is carried on or within the jurisdiction of which said person guilty of contumacy or refusal to obey is found or resides or transacts business, upon application by the commission, or appeal tribunal, or any member or duly authorized representative thereof, shall have jurisdiction to issue to such person an order requiring such person to appear before the commission, or an appeal tribunal, there to produce evidence if so ordered or there to give testimony touching the matter under investigation or in question; any failure to obey such order of the court may be punished by said court as a contempt thereof. Any person who shall without just cause fail or refuse to attend and testify or to answer any lawful inquiry or to produce books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, and other records, if it is in his power to do so, in obedience to a subpoena, shall be punished by a fine of not more than two hundred dollars or by imprisonment, for not longer than sixty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and each day such violation continues shall be deemed to be a separate offense.

10. Protection against self-incrimination. No person shall be excused from attending and testifying or from producing books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, and other records before the commission, or an appeal tribunal, or in obedience to a subpoena in any cause or proceeding provided for in this chapter, on the ground that the testimony or evidence, documentary or otherwise, required of him may tend to incriminate him or subject him to a penalty for forfeiture; but no individual shall be prosecuted or subjected to any penalty of forfeiture for or on account of any transaction, matter, or thing concerning which he is compelled, after having claimed his privilege against self-incrimination, to testify or produce evidence, documentary or otherwise, except that such individual so testifying shall not be exempt from prosecution and punishment for perjury committed in so testifying.

11. State-federal co-operation. In the administration of this chapter, the commission shall co-operate with the United States department of labor to the fullest extent consistent with the provisions of this chapter, and shall take such action, through the adoption of appropriate rules, regulations, administrative methods and standards, as may be necessary to secure to this state and its citizens all advantages available under the provisions of the Social Security Act that relates to unemployment compensation, the federal Unemployment Tax Act, the Wagner-Peyser Act, and the Federal-State Extended Unemployment Compensation Act of 1970.

In the administration of the provisions of section 96.29 which are enacted to conform with the requirements of the Federal-State Extended Unemployment Compensation Act of 1970, the commission shall take such action as may be necessary to insure that the provisions are so interpreted and applied as to meet the requirements of such federal Act as interpreted by the United States department of labor, and to secure to this state the full reimbursement of the federal share of extended benefits paid under this chapter that are reimbursable under the federal Act.

The commission shall make such reports, in such form and containing such information as the United States department of labor may from time to time require, and shall comply with such provisions as the United States department of labor may from time to time find necessary to assure the correctness and verification of such reports; and shall comply with the regulations prescribed by the United States department of labor governing the expenditures of such sums as may be allotted and paid to this state under Title III of the Social Security Act for the purpose of assisting in administration of this chapter.

The commission may make its records relating to the administration of this chapter available to the railroad retirement board, and may furnish the railroad retirement board such copies thereof as the railroad retirement board deems necessary for its purposes. The commission may afford reasonable co-operation with every agency of the United States charged with the administration of any unemployment insurance law. The railroad retirement board or any other agency requiring such services and reports from the commission shall pay the commission such compensation therefor as the commission determines to be fair and reasonable.

12. Destruction of records. The Iowa employment security commission may destroy or dispose of such original reports or records as have been properly recorded or summarized in the permanent records of the commission and are deemed by the commission and the state records commission to be no longer necessary to the proper administration of this chapter. Wage records of the individual worker or transcripts therefrom may be destroyed or disposed of, if approved by the state records commission, two years after the expiration of the period covered by such wage records or upon proof of the death of the worker. Such destruction or disposition shall be made only by order of the Iowa employment security commission in consultation with the state records commission and such order shall be spread on the minutes of the Iowa employment security commission. Any moneys received from the disposition of such records shall be deposited to the credit of the employment security administration fund. [C39, §1551.17; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §96.11; 65 GA, ch 148, §1, ch 1176, §18]

EMPLOYMENT SERVICE

96.12 State employment service.

1. Duties of commission. The employment security commission shall establish and maintain free public employment offices in such number and in such places as may be necessary for the proper administration of this chapter and for the purpose of performing such duties as are within the purview of the Act of Congress entitled "An Act to provide for the establishment of a national employment system and for co-operation with the states in the promotion of such system, and for other purposes", approved June 6, 1933, as amended, and known as the Wagner-Peyser Act [48 Stat. L. 113; 29 USC§49]. All duties and powers conferred upon any other department, agency, or officer of this state relating to the establishment, maintenance, and operation of free employment offices shall be vested in the commission. The provisions of the said Act of Congress, as amended, are hereby accepted by this state, in conformity with section 4 of said Act, and this state will observe and comply with the requirements thereof. The commission is hereby designated and constituted the agency of this state for the purpose of said Wagner-Peyser Act. If this chapter shall become inoperative for the reason prescribed in section 96.21, the Iowa state employment division shall not be affected thereby, but such division shall, upon the happening of such contingency, be deemed to be a division of the bureau of labor of the state of Iowa, with the same force and effect as if this chapter had not been passed, and that all funds and property made available to the Iowa state employment service division under this chapter shall under such contingency become, and shall be declared to be, the funds and property of the Iowa state employment service of the bureau of labor of Iowa. The commission may cooperate with or enter into agreements with the railroad retirement board with respect to the establishment, maintenance, and use of employment service facilities. The railroad retirement board shall compensate the commission for such services or facilities in the amount determined by the commission to be fair and reasonable.

2. Financing. For the purpose of establishing and maintaining free public employment offices, the commission is authorized to enter into agreements with the railroad retirement board, or any other agency of the United States charged with the administration of an employment security law, with any political subdivision of this state, or with any private, nonprofit organization, and as a part of any such agreement the commission may accept moneys, services, or quarters as a contribution to the employment security administration fund. [C39,§1551.18; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§96.12]

EMPLOYMENT SECURITY ADMINISTRATION FUND
96.13 Control and use.

1. Special fund. There is hereby created in the state treasury a special fund to be known as the "Employment Security Administration Fund". All moneys which are deposited or paid into this fund are hereby appropriated and made available to the commission. All moneys in this fund, except money received pursuant to section 96.9, subsection 4, which are received from the federal government or any agency thereof or which are appropriated by the state for the purposes described in section 96.12 shall be expended solely for the purposes and in the amounts found necessary by the secretary of labor for the proper and efficient administration of this chapter. This fund shall consist of all moneys appropriated by this state, and all moneys received from the United States, or any agency thereof, including the department of labor, the railroad retirement board, the United States employment service, established under the Wagner-Peyser Act, or from any other source for such purpose. Moneys received from the railroad retirement board, or any other agency, as compensation for services or facilities supplied to said board or agency shall be paid to the commission, and the commission shall allocate said moneys to the employment security administration fund. All moneys in this fund shall be deposited, administered, and disbursed, in the same manner and under the same conditions and requirements as is provided by law for special funds in the state treasury. Any balances in this fund shall not lapse at any time, but shall be continuously available to the commission for expenditure consistent with this chapter. The state treasurer shall give a separate and additional bond conditioned upon the faithful performance of his duties in connection with the employment security administration fund in an amount and with such sureties as shall be fixed and approved by the governor. The premiums for such bond and the premiums for the bond given by the treasurer of the unemployment compensation fund under section 96.9, shall be paid from the moneys in the employment security administration fund. Notwithstanding any provision of this section, all money requisitioned and deposited in this fund pursuant to section 96.9, subsection 4, paragraph "c", shall remain part of the unemployment compensation fund and shall be used only in accordance with the conditions specified in section 96.9, subsection 4.

2. Replenishment of lost funds. If any moneys received after June 30, 1941, from the social security board under Title III of the Social Security Act, or any unencumbered balances in the unemployment compensation administration fund as of that date, or any moneys granted after that date to this state pursuant to the provisions of the Wagner-Peyser Act, or any moneys made available by this state or its political subdivisions and matched by such moneys granted to this state pursuant to the provisions of the Wagner-Peyser Act, are found by the social security board, because of any action or contingency, to have been lost or been expended for purposes other than or in amounts in excess of, those found necessary by the social security board for the proper administration of this chapter, it is the policy of this state that such moneys shall be replaced by moneys appropriated for such purpose from the general funds of this state to the unemployment compensation administration fund for expenditure as provided in subsection 1 of this section. Upon receipt of notice of such a finding by the social security board, the commission shall promptly report the amount required for such replacement to the governor and the governor shall at the earliest opportunity, submit to the legislature a request for the appropriation of such amount. This subsection shall not be construed to relieve this state of its obligation with respect to funds received prior to July 1, 1941, pursuant to the provisions of Title III of the Social Security Act.

3. Special employment security contingency fund. There is hereby created in the state treasury a special fund to be known as the special employment security contingency fund. All interest, fines, and penalties, regardless of when the same become payable, collected from employers under the provisions of section 96.14 subsequent to July 1, 1970, shall be paid into this fund. Said moneys shall not be expended or available for expenditure in any manner which would permit their substitution for federal funds which would in the absence of said moneys be available to finance expenditures for the administration of the employment security law. Nothing in this section shall prevent said moneys from being used as a revolving ing fund to cover expenditures for which federal funds have been duly requested but not yet received, subject to the charging of such expenditures against such funds when received. Said fund may be used for the payment of costs of administration which are found not to have been properly and validly chargeable against federal grants or other funds, received for or in the employment security administration fund. The moneys in this fund are hereby specifically made available to replace, within a reasonable time, any moneys received by this state in the form of grants from the federal government for administrative expenses which because of any action or contingency have been expended for purposes other than, or in excess of, those necessary for the proper administration of the employment security law. All moneys in the special employment security contingency fund shall be deposited, administered, and disbursed in the same manner and under the same conditions and requirements as are provided by law for other special funds in the state treasury.

The treasurer of state shall be the custodian of said funds and shall give a separate and additional bond conditioned upon the faithful performance of his duties in connection with the special employment security contingency fund in an amount and with such sureties as shall be fixed and approved by the governor. The premiums for such bonds shall be paid from the moneys in the special employment security contingency fund. All sums recovered on such bond for losses sustained by the special employment security contingency fund shall be deposited in the fund. Refunds of interest and penalties collected on or after July 1, 1970, pursuant to this chapter shall be paid only from this fund.

Balances to the credit of the special employment security contingency fund shall not lapse at any time but shall continuously be available to the commission for expenditures consistent herewith. However, if on July 1 of any year the balance in the special employment security contingency fund exceeds fifty thousand dollars by ten thousand dollars or more, the treasurer of state shall promptly transfer the entire amount over fifty thousand dollars to the unemployment compensation fund established in section 96.9 unless the commission determines that such transfer should not be made because of immediate obligations to be met from the fund. [C39, §1551.19; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §96.13]

COLLECTION OF CONTRIBUTIONS

96.14 Priority—refunds.

1. Interest. Any employer who shall fail to pay any contribution and at the time required by this chapter and the rules of the commission, shall pay to the commission in addition to such contribution, interest thereon at the rate of one percent per month and one-thirtieth of one percent for each day or fraction thereof computed from the date upon which said contribution should have been paid.

2. Penalties. Any employer who shall fail to file a report of wages paid to each of his employees for any period in the manner and within the time required by this chapter and the rules and regulations of the commission or any extension of such time, shall pay to the commission a penalty in a sum equal to two percent of the contributions required to be paid by such employer for each month or part thereof, for failure to file such report, provided that the total of such penalties shall not exceed ten percent of the amount of such contributions. If the commission finds that any such report is insufficient, it shall notify the employer in writing to file a sufficient report. If such employer shall fail to file a sufficient report within thirty days after the mailing of such notice to him, he shall, in addition to any amount otherwise payable by him under the provisions of this chapter, pay to the commission, a penalty equal to two percent of the contributions for such period unpaid by him at the time of the mailing of each notice, for each month or part thereof of such failure to file a sufficient report, provided that the total penalties shall not exceed ten percent of the amount of such contribution.

If the commission finds that any employer has willfully failed to pay any contribution or part thereof when required by this chapter and the rules of the commission, with intent to defraud the commission, then such employer shall in addition to such contribution or part thereof, pay a contribution equal to fifty percent of the amount of such contribution or part thereof, as the case may be.

However, in the event an employer is not required to make a contribution, the penalties for failure to file a report when due, or an insufficient report when due, shall be an amount equal to two percent of the contributions which would have been required to be paid had the employer's rate been one percent of his taxable payroll, for each month or part thereof for failure to file such report, provided that the total of such penalties shall not exceed ten percent of the contribution so determined. After December 31, 1971, no penalty or penalties shall be less than ten dollars.

The commission may cancel any interest or penalties if it is shown to the satisfaction of the commission that the failure to pay a required contribution or to file a required report was not the result of negligence, fraud, or intentional disregard of the law or the rules of the commission.

3. Lien of contributions—collection. Whenever any employer liable to pay contributions refuses or neglects to pay the same, the amount, including any interest, together with the costs that may accrue in addition thereto, shall be a lien in favor of the state upon all property and rights to property, whether real or personal, belonging to said employer.

The lien aforesaid shall attach at the time the contributions become due and payable and shall continue until the liability for such amount is satisfied.

In order to preserve the aforesaid lien against subsequent mortgagees, purchasers or judgment creditors, for value and without notice of the lien, on any property situated in a county, the commission shall file with the recorder of the county, in which said property is located, a notice of said lien.

The county recorder of each county shall prepare and keep in his office a book to be known as "index of unemployment contribution liens", so ruled as to show in appropriate columns the following data, under the names of employers, arranged alphabetically:

- a. The name of the employer.
- b. The name "State of Iowa" as claimant.
- c. Time notice of lien was received.
- d. Date of notice.
- e. Amount of lien then due.
- f. When satisfied.

The recorder shall endorse on each notice of lien the day, hour, and minute when received and shall forthwith index said notice in said index book and shall forthwith record said lien in the manner provided for recording real estate mortgages, and the said lien shall be effective from the time of the indexing thereof.

The commission shall pay a recording fee as provided in section 335.14, for the recording of such lien, or for the satisfaction thereof.

Upon the payment of contributions as to which the commission has filed notice with a county recorder, the commission shall forthwith file with said recorder a satisfaction of said contributions and the recorder shall enter said satisfaction on the notice on file in his office and indicate said fact on the index aforesaid.

The commission shall, substantially as provided in sections 445.6 and 445.7, proceed to collect all contributions as soon as practicable after the same become delinquent, except that no property of the employer shall be exempt from the payment of said contributions.

If, after due notice, any employer defaults in any payment of contributions or interest thereon, the amount due may be collected by civil action in the name of the commission and the employer adjudged in default shall pay the costs of such action. Civil actions brought under this section to collect contributions or interest thereon from an employer shall be heard by the court at the earliest possible date and shall be entitled to preference upon the calendar of the court over all other civil actions except petitions for judicial review under this chapter and cases arising under the workmen's compensation law of this state.

It is expressly provided that the foregoing remedies of the state shall be cumulative and that no action taken by the commission shall be construed to be an election on the part of the state or any of its officers to pursue any remedy hereunder to the exclusion of any other remedy provided by law.

The courts of this state shall recognize and enforce liabilities for unemployment contributions, penalties, interest and benefit overpayments imposed by other states which extend a like comity to this state. The commission is hereby empowered to sue in the courts of any other jurisdiction which extends such comity to collect unemployment contributions, penalties, interest and benefit overpayments due this state. The officials of other states which, by statute or otherwise, extend a like comity to this state may sue in the district court to collect for such contributions, penalties, interest and benefit overpayments. In any such case the chairman of the commission of this state, as agent for and on behalf of any other state, may institute and conduct such suit for such other state. Venue of such proceedings shall be the same as for actions to collect delinquent contributions, penalties, interest and benefit overpayments due under this chapter. A certificate by the secretary of any such state attesting the authority of such official to collect the contributions, penalties, interest and benefit overpayments, is conclusive evidence of such authority. The requesting state shall pay the court costs.

4. Priorities under legal dissolutions or distributions. In the event of any distribution of an employer's assets pursuant to an order of any court under the laws of this state, including any receivership, assignment for benefit of creditors, adjudicated insolvency, composition, or similar proceeding, contributions then or thereafter due shall be paid in full prior to all other claims except taxes and claims for wages preferred as provided by statute. In the event of an employer's adjudication in bankruptcy, judicially confirmed extension proposal, or composition, under the federal Bankruptcy Act of 1898, as amended, contributions then or thereafter due shall be entitled to such priority as is provided in section 64 "a" of that Act [11 U.S.C., §104 "b", as amended].

5. Refunds, compromises and settlements. In any case in which the commission finds that an employer has paid contributions or interest thereon, which have been erroneously paid, and who has filed an application for adjustment thereof, the commission shall make such adjustment, compromise, settlement, and make such refund of erroneous payments as it finds just and equitable in the premises. Refunds so made shall be charged to the fund to which the erroneous collections have been credited, and shall be paid to the claimant without interest. Any claim for such refund shall be made within three years from the date of payment. For like cause, adjustments, compromises or refunds may be made by the commission on its own initiative. In any case in which the commission finds that the contribution that has been assessed against an employer is of doubtful collectibility or may not be collected in full, the commission may institute a proceeding in the district court in the county in which the enterprise against which such tax is levied is located, requesting authority to compromise such contribution. Notice of the filing of such application shall be given to the interested parties as the court may prescribe. The court upon such hearing shall have power to authorize the commission to compromise and settle its claim for such contribution and shall fix the amount to be received by the commission in full settlement of such claim and shall authorize the release of the commission's lien for such contribution.

Referred to in §96.19(7)

6. Nonresident employing units. Any employing unit which is a nonresident of the state of Iowa and for which services are performed in insured work within the state of Iowa by having such services performed within the state of Iowa shall be deemed:

a. To agree that such employing unit shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the district court of the state of Iowa over all civil actions and proceedings against such employing unit for all purposes of this chapter, and

b. To appoint the secretary of state of this state as its lawful attorney upon whom may be served all original notices of suit and other legal processes pertaining to such actions and proceedings, and

c. To agree that any original notice of suit or any other legal process so served upon such nonresident employing unit shall be of the same legal force and validity as if personally served on it in this state.

7. Original notice—form. The original notice of suit filed with the secretary of state shall be in form and substance the same as now provided in suits against residents of this state, except that that part of said notice pertaining to the return day shall be in substantially the following form, to wit:

8. Manner of service. Plaintiff in any such action shall cause the original notice of suit to be served as follows:

a. By filing a copy of said original notice of suit with said secretary of state, together with a fee of two dollars, and

10. Optional notification. In lieu of mailing said notification to the defendant in a foreign state, plaintiff may cause said notification to be personally served in the foreign state on the defendant by any adult person not a party to the suit, by delivering said notification to the defendant or by offering to make such delivery in case defendant refuses to accept delivery.

11. Proof of service. Proof of the filing of a copy of said original notice of suit with the secretary of state, and proof of the mailing or personal delivery of said notification to said nonresident shall be made by affidavit of the party doing said acts. All affidavits of service shall be endorsed upon or attached to the originals of the papers to which they relate. All proofs of service, including the restricted certified mail return receipt, shall be forthwith filed with the clerk of the district court.

12. Actual service within this state. The foregoing provisions relative to service of original notice of suit on nonresidents shall not be deemed to prevent actual personal service in this state upon the nonresident in the time.. manner, form, and under the conditions provided for service on residents.

13. Venue of actions. Actions against nonresidents as contemplated by this law may be brought in Polk county, or in the county in which such services were performed.

Provided, however, that if an employer subject to contributions solely because of the terms of this subsection shall establish proper proof to the satisfaction of the commission that his employees have been and will be duly covered and insured under the unemployment compensation law of another jurisdiction such employer shall not be deemed an employer and such services shall not be deemed employment under this chapter.

"Exhaustee" means an individual who, with respect to any week of unemployment in his eligibility period has received, prior to such week, all of the regular benefits that were available to him under this chapter or any other state law (including dependents' allowances and benefits payable to federal civilian employees and ex-servicemen under 5 U.S.C., chapter 85) in his current benefit year that includes such weeks. Provided that for the purposes of this subsection an individual shall be deemed to have received all of the regular benefits that were available to him, although as a result of a pending appeal with respect to wages that were not considered in the original monetary determination in his benefit year he may subsequently be determined to be entitled to add regular benefits, or:

a. His benefit year having expired prior to such week, has no, or insufficient, wages and on the basis of which he could establish a new benefit year that would include such week, and

b. He has no right to unemployment benefits or allowances under the Railroad Unemployment Insurance Act, the Trade Expansion Act of 1962, the Automotive Products Trade Act of 1965, and such other federal laws as are specified in regulations issued by the United States secretary of labor, and he has not received and is not seeking unemployment benefits under the unemployment compensation law of the Virgin Islands or of Canada, but if he is seeking such benefits and the appropriate agency finally determines that he is not entitled to benefits under such law he is considered an exhaustee.

36. "State law" means the unemployment insurance law of any state, approved by the United States secretary of labor under 26 U.S.C. 3304. [C39, §1551.25; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §96.19; 65GA, ch 140, §6, ch 1114, §§10-12]

96.20 Reciprocal benefit arrangements.

1. The commission is hereby authorized to enter into arrangements with the appropriate agencies of other states, or a contiguous country with which the United States has an agreement with respect to unemployment compensation or the federal government whereby potential rights to benefits accumulated under the unemployment compensation laws of several states or under such a law of the federal government, or both, may constitute the basis for the payment of benefits through a single appropriate agency under terms which the commission finds will be fair and reasonable as to all affected interests and will not result in any substantial loss to the fund.

2. The commission may enter into arrangements with the appropriate agencies of other states, or a contiguous country with which the United States has an agreement with respect to unemployment compensation or of the federal government (a) whereby wages or services, upon the basis of which an individual may become entitled to benefits under the unemployment compensation law of another state or of the federal government, shall be deemed to be wages for employment by employers for the purposes of section 96.3 and section 96.4, subsection 5; provided such other state agency or agency of the federal government has agreed to reimburse the fund for such portion of benefits paid under this chapter upon the basis of such wages or services as the commission finds will be fair and reasonable as to all affected interests, and (b) whereby the commission will reimburse other state or federal agencies charged with the administration of unemployment compensation laws with such reasonable portion of benefits, paid under the law of any such other states or of the federal government upon the basis of employment or wages for employment by employers, as the commission finds will be fair and reasonable as to all affected interests. Reimbursements so payable shall be deemed to be benefits for the purposes of section 96.3, subsection 5, and section 96.9, but no reimbursement so payable shall be charged against any employer's account for the purposes of section 96.7, unless wages so transferred are sufficient to establish a valid claim in Iowa, and that such charges shall not exceed the amount that would have been charged on the basis of a valid claim. The commission is hereby authorized to make to other state or federal agencies and receive from such other state or federal agencies, reimbursements from or to the fund, in accordance with arrangements pursuant to this section. The commission shall participate in any arrangements for the payment of compensation on the basis of combining an individual's wages and employment covered under this Act with his wages and employment covered under the unemployment compensation laws of other states which are approved by the United States secretary of labor in consultation with the state unemployment compensation agencies as reasonably calculated to assure the prompt and full payment of compensation in such situations and which include provisions for: Applying the base period of a single state law to a claim involving the combining of an individual's wages and employment covered under two or more state unemployment compensation laws, and avoiding the duplication use of wages and employment by reason of such combining.

3. The commission is hereby authorized to enter into agreements with the appropriate agencies of other states, or a contiguous country with which the United States has an agreement with respect to unemployment compensation or the federal government administering unemployment compensation laws to provide that contributions on wages for services performed by an individual in more than one state for the same employer may be paid to the appropriate agency of one state. If at any time Title IX of the Social Security Act, as amended, shall be amended or repealed by Congress or held unconstitutional by the supreme court of the United States, with the result that no portion of the contributions required under this chapter may be credited against the tax imposed by said Title IX, in any such event the operation of the provisions of this chapter requiring the payment of contributions and benefits shall immediately cease, the commission shall thereupon requisition from the unemployment trust fund all moneys therein standing to its credit, and such moneys, together with any other moneys in the unemployment compensation fund shall be refunded, without interest and under regulations prescribed by the commission, to each employer by whom contributions have been paid, proportionately to his pro rata share of the total contributions paid under this chapter. Any interest or earnings of the fund shall be available to the commission to pay for the costs of making such refunds. When the commission shall have executed the duties prescribed in this section and performed such other acts as are incidental to the termination of its duties under this chapter, the provisions of this chapter, in their entirety, shall cease to be operative. 4. Rules. The board of trustees shall, from time to time, establish such rules not inconsistent with this chapter, for the administration of funds created by this chapter and as may be necessary or appropriate for the transaction of its business.

5. Employees. The board of trustees shall appoint a secretary who may, but need not be, one of its members. It shall engage such stenographic, clerical and other services as shall be required to transact the business of the system. The compensation of all persons engaged by the board of trustees, and all other expenses of said board necessary for the operation of the retirement system, shall be paid at such rates and in such amounts as said board of trustees shall approve.

The board of trustees shall biennially make a report to the state legislature showing the fiscal transactions of the system for the preceding biennium, the amount of the accumulated cash and securities of the system, and the last balance sheet showing the financial condition of the system by means of an actuarial valuation of the assets and liabilities of the system.

7. Legal advisor. The attorney general of the state of Iowa shall be the legal advisor for the board of trustees.

8. Medical board. The board of trustees shall designate a medical board to be composed of three physicians who shall arrange for and pass upon the medical examinations required under the provisions of this chapter and shall report in writing to the board of trustees, its conclusions and recommendations upon all matters duly referred to it.

9. Duties of commissioner of insurance. The state commissioner of insurance shall be the technical advisor of the board of trustees on matters regarding the operation of the funds created by the provisions of this chapter and shall perform such other duties as are required in connection therewith.

10. Tables—rates. Immediately after the establishment of this system, the state commissioner of insurance shall make such investigation of the mortality, service and compensation experience of the members of the system as he shall recommend and the board of trustees shall authorize, and on the basis of such investigation he shall recommend for adoption by the board of trustees such tables and such rates as are required in subsection 11 of this section. The board of trustees shall adopt tables and certify rates of contributions to be used by the system.

11. Actuarial investigation. In the year 1952, and at least once in each two-year period thereafter, the state commissioner of insurance shall make an actuarial investigation in the mortality, service and compensation experience of the members and beneficiaries of the system and shall make a valuation of the assets and liabilities of the funds of the system, and taking into account the results of such investigation and valuation, the board of trustees shall:

97A.6 Benefits.

1. Service retirement benefit. Retirement of a member on a service retirement allowance shall be made by the board of trustees as follows:

a. Any member in service may retire upon his written application to the board of trustees, setting forth at what time, not less than thirty nor more than ninety days subsequent to the execution and filing therefor, he desires to be retired, provided, that the said member at the time so specified for his retirement shall have attained the age of fifty-five and shall have completed twenty-two years or more of creditable service, and notwithstanding that, during such period of notification, he may have separated from the service.

b. Any member in service who has attained the age of sixty-five years, shall be retired forthwith, provided, that upon the request of the commissioner of public safety, the board of trustees may permit such member to remain in service for periods not to exceed one year from the date of the last request from the commissioner of public safety.

2. Allowance on service retirement. Upon retirement from service, a member shall receive a service retirement allowance which shall consist of:

a. An annuity which shall be the actuarial equivalent of his accumulated contributions at the time of his retirement; and

b. A pension given by the state in addition to his annuity which together with his annuity shall make a total service retirement allowance equal to one-half of his average final compensation.

3. Ordinary disability retirement benefit. Upon the application of a member in service or of the commissioner of public safety, any member who has had five or more years of membership service shall be retired by the board of trustees, not less than thirty and not more than ninety days next following the date of filing such application, on an ordinary disability retirement allowance, provided, that the medical board after a medical examination of such member shall certify that said member is mentally or physically incapacitated for further performance of duty, that such incapacity is likely to be permanent and that such member should be retired.

4. Allowance on ordinary disability retirement. Upon retirement for ordinary disability a member shall receive a service retirement allowance if he has attained the age of fifty-five, otherwise he shall receive an ordinary disability retirement allowance which shall consist of:

a. An annuity which shall be the actuarial equivalent of his accumulated contributions at the time of retirement; and

b. A pension which together with his annuity shall make a total retirement allowance equal to ninety percent of one-seventieth of his average final compensation multiplied by the number of years of membership service, if such retirement allowance exceeds one-half of his average final compensation, otherwise a pension which together with his annuity shall provide a total retirement allowance equal to one-half of his average final compensation.

5. Accidental disability benefit. Upon application of a member in service or of the commissioner of public safety, any member who has become totally and permanently incapacitated for duty as the natural and proximate result of an injury, disease or exposure occurring or aggravated while in the actual performance of duty at some definite time and place shall be retired by the board of trustees, provided, that the medical board shall certify that such member is mentally or physically incapacitated for further performance of duty, that such incapacity is likely to be permanent and that such member should be retired. Should a member in service become incapacitated for duty as a natural and proximate result of an injury, disease, or exposure incurred or aggravated while in the actual performance of duty at some definite time or place, he shall, upon being found to be temporarily incapacitated following an examination by the board of trustees, be entitled to receive his fixed pay and allowances until re-examined by the board and found to be fully recovered or permanently disabled. Disease under this section shall mean heart disease or any disease of the lungs or respiratory tract and shall be presumed to have been contracted while on active duty as a result of strain, exposure, or the inhalation of noxious fumes, poison, or gases.

6. Retirement after accident. Upon retirement for accidental disability a member shall receive a service retirement allowance if he has attained the age of fifty-five, otherwise he shall receive an accidental disability retirement allowance which shall consist of:

a. An annuity which shall be the actuarial equivalent of his accumulated contributions at the time of his retirement; and

b. A pension, in addition to the annuity, of sixty-six and two-thirds percent of his average final compensation.

7. Re-examination of beneficiaries retired on account of disability. Once each year during the first five years following the retirement of a member on a disability retirement allowance, and once in every three-year period thereafter, the board of trustees may, and upon his application shall, require any disability beneficiary who has not yet attained age fifty-five to undergo a medical examination at a place designated by the medical board. Such examination shall be made by the medical board or in special cases, by an additional physician or physicians designated by such board. Should any disability beneficiary who has not attained the age of fifty-five refuse to submit to such medical examination, his allowance may be discontinued until his withdrawal of such refusal, and should his refusal continue for one year all rights in and to his pension may be revoked by the board of trustees.

a. Should any beneficiary for disability not incurred in line of duty, be engaged in a gainful occupation paying more than the difference between his retirement allowance and his average final compensation, then the amount of his pension shall be reduced to an amount which together with his annuity and the amount earned by him shall equal the amount of his average final compensation. Should his earning capacity be later changed, the amount of his pension may be further modified, provided, that the new pension shall not exceed the amount of the pension originally granted nor an amount which, when added to the amount earned by the beneficiary together with his annuity, equals the amount of his average final compensation. A beneficiary restored to active service at a salary less than the average final compensation upon the basis of which he was retired at age fifty-five or greater, shall not again become a member of the retirement system and shall have his retirement allowance suspended while in active service.

b. Should a disability beneficiary under age fifty-five be restored to active service at a compensation not less than his average final compensation, his retirement allowance shall cease, he shall again become a member and he shall contribute thereafter at the same rate he paid prior to disability, and any former service on the basis of which his service was computed at the time of his retirement shall be restored to full force and effect and upon his subsequent retirement he shall be credited with all his service as a member, and also with the period of disability retirement, provided that during such period of disability he has not engaged in a gainful occupation from which his net earnings exceeded the difference between his disability retirement allowance and the amount he would have received for said period if his compensation at the time of disability had continued.

c. The commissioner of public safety may, subject to approval of the medical board, assign any former member of the division of highway safety and uniformed force or the division of criminal investigation and bureau of identification who is retired and drawing a pension for disability under the provisions of this chapter, to the performance of light duties in such division.

8. Ordinary death benefit. Upon the receipt of proper proofs of the death of a member in service, there shall be paid to such person having an insurable interest in his life as he shall have nominated by written designation duly executed and filed with the board of trustees:

a. His accumulated contributions and, if the member has had one or more years of membership service and no pension is payable under the provisions of subsection 9 of this section, in addition thereto—

b. An amount equal to fifty percent of the compensation earned by him during the year immediately preceding his death; or

If there be no such nomination of beneficiary, the benefits provided in paragraphs "a" and "b" of this subsection 8 shall be paid to his estate; or in lieu thereof, at the option of the following beneficiaries, respectively, even though nominated as such, there shall be paid a pension which, together with the actuarial equivalent of his accumulated contributions, shall be equal to one-fourth of the average final compensation of such member, but in no instance less than fifty dollars per month;

c. To the surviving spouse to continue so long as said partner remains unmarried; or

d. If there be no surviving spouse, or if the spouse dies or remarries before any child of such deceased member shall have attained the age of eighteen years, then to the guardian of the member's child or children under said age, divided in such manner as the board of trustees in its discretion shall determine, to continue as a joint and survivor pension until every such child dies or attains the age of eighteen; or

e. If there be no surviving spouse or child under age eighteen, then to the member's dependent father or mother, as the board of trustees in its discretion shall determine, to continue until remarriage or death.

f. In addition to the benefits herein enumerated, there shall also be paid for each child of a member under the age of eighteen years the sum of twenty dollars per month.

9. Accidental death benefit. If, upon the receipt of evidence and proof that the death of a member was the natural and proximate result of an accident or exposure occurring at some definite time and place while the member was in the actual performance of duty, the board of trustees shall decide that death was so caused in the performance of duty there shall be paid, in lieu of the ordinary death benefit provided in subsection 8 of this section, to his estate or to such person having an insurable interest in his life as he shall have nominated by written designation duly executed and filed with the board of trustees:

a. His accumulated contributions; and in addition thereto—

b. A pension equal to one-half of the average final compensation of such member shall be paid to the surviving spouse, children or dependent parents as provided in paragraphs "c", "d", and "e" of subsection 8 of this section.

c. If there be no surviving spouse, children under the age of eighteen years or dependent parent surviving such deceased member, the death shall be treated as an ordinary death case and the benefit payable in accordance with the provisions of subsection 8, paragraph "b" of this section, in lieu of the pension provided in paragraph "b" of this subsection 9, shall be paid to the member's estate.

d. In addition to the benefits for the surviving spouse herein enumerated, there shall also be paid for each dependent child of a member under the age of eighteen years the sum of twenty dollars per month.

10. Return of accumulated contributions. Should a member cease to be a peace officer in the division of highway safety and uniformed force or the division of criminal investigation and bureau of identification in the department of public safety except by death or retirement, he shall be paid on demand the amount of his accumulated contributions standing to the credit of his individual account in the annuity savings fund.

11. Optional allowance. With the provision that no optional selection shall be effective in case a beneficiary dies within thirty days after retirement, in which event such a beneficiary shall be considered as an active member at the time of death, until the first payment on account of any benefit becomes normally due, any beneficiary may elect to receive his benefit in a retirement allowance payable throughout life, or he may elect to receive the actuarial equivalent at that time of his retirement allowance in a lesser retirement allowance payable throughout life with the provision that an amount in money not exceeding the amount of his accumulated contributions shall be immediately paid in cash to such member or some other benefit or benefits shall be paid either to the member or to such person or persons as he shall nominate, provided such cash payment or other benefit or benefits, together with the lesser retirement allowance, shall be certified by the state commissioner of insurance to be of equivalent actuarial value to his retirement allowance and shall be approved by the board of trustees; provided, that a cash payment to such member or beneficiary at the time of retirement of an amount not exceeding fifty percent of his accumulated contributions shall be made by the board of trustees upon said member's or beneficiary's election.

12. Pensions offset by compensation benefits. Any amounts which may be paid or payable by the state under the provisions of any workmen's compensation or similar law to a member or to the dependents of a member on account of any disability or death, shall be offset against and payable in lieu of any benefits payable out of funds provided by the state under the provisions of this chapter on account of the same disability or death. In case the present value of the total commuted benefits under said workmen's compensation or similar law is less than the pension reserve on the benefits otherwise payable from funds provided by the state under this chapter, then the present value of the commuted payments shall be deducted from the pension reserve and such benefits as may be provided by the pension reserve so reduced shall be payable under the provisions of this chapter.

13. Pension to surviving spouse and children of deceased pensioned member. In the event of the death of any member receiving a retirement allowance under the provisions of subsections 2, 4 or 6 of this section there shall be paid a pension:

a. To the member's surviving spouse to continue so long as said party remains unmarried, equal to one-half the amount received by such deceased beneficiary, but in no instance less than fifty dollars per month, and in addition thereto the sum of twenty dollars per month for each child under eighteen years of age; or

b. In the event of the death of the spouse either prior or subsequent to the death of the member, to the guardian of each surviving child under eighteen years of age, in the sum of twenty dollars per month for the support of such child.

14. Judicial review of action of the board of trustees. Judicial review of any action of the board of trustees may be sought in accordance with the terms of the Iowa administrative procedure Act. Notwithstanding the terms of the Iowa administrative procedure Act, the petition for judicial review must be filed within thirty days after the member receives written notice of the trustees' action. The board of trustees shall be represented by the attorney general. An appeal may be taken by the petitioner or the board of trustees to the supreme court of this state irrespective of the amount involved.

15. Pensions payable under this section shall be adjusted as follows:

a. As of the first of July of each year, the monthly pensions authorized in this section payable to each retired member and to each beneficiary, except children, of a deceased member shall be recomputed. The formula authorized in this section which was used to compute the retired member's or beneficiary's pension at the time of retirement or death including all amendments to the formula which may be adopted subsequent to the member's retirement or death, shall be used in the recomputation, except the pension compensation shall be used in lieu of the average final compensation which the retired or deceased member was receiving at the time of retirement or death. The adjusted monthly pension shall be the amount payable at the member's retirement or death adjusted by forty-five percent of the difference between the recomputed pension and the amount payable at the member's retirement or death. At no time shall the monthly pension or payment to the beneficiary be less than the amount which was paid at the time of the member's retirement or death.

b. As of the first of July of each year, the monthly pension payable to each surviving child in accordance with subsections 8, 9, and 13 of this section shall be adjusted to equal six percent of the monthly salary payable on such July 1 to an active member having the rank of senior patrolman of the Iowa highway safety patrol. If the monthly pension so computed is less than the amounts provided in subsections 8, 9, and 13 of this section, the amounts provided for in said subsection shall be payable.

c. All monthly pensions adjusted as provided in this subsection shall be payable beginning on July 1 of the year in which the adjustment is made and shall continue in effect until the next following July 1 at which time the monthly pensions shall again be recomputed and all monthly pensions adjusted in accordance with the recomputations.

d. The adjustment of pensions required by this subsection shall recognize the retired or deceased member's position on the salary scale within his rank at the time of his retirement or death. In the event that the rank or position held by the retired or deceased member at the time of retirement or death is subsequently abolished, adjustments in the pensions of the member or of the member's spouse or children shall be computed by the board of trustees as though such rank or position had not been abolished and salary increases had been granted to such rank or position on the same basis as increases granted to other ranks and positions in the department. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §97A.6; 65GA, ch 1090, §64, ch 1093, §§20-22]

97A.7 Management of funds.

1. The board of trustees shall be the trustees of the several funds created by this chapter as provided in section 97A.8 and shall have full power to invest and reinvest such funds subject to the terms, conditions, limitations and restrictions imposed by subsection 2 of this section, and subject to like terms, conditions, limitations, and restrictions said trustees shall have full power to hold, purchase, sell, assign, transfer, or dispose of any of the securities and investments in which any of the funds created herein shall have been invested, as well as of the proceeds of said investments and any moneys belonging to said funds. The board of trustees may authorize the treasurer of state to exercise any of the duties of this section. When so authorized the treasurer of state shall report any transactions to the board of trustees at its next monthly meeting.

2. The several funds created by this chapter may be invested in:

a. Bonds or other evidences of indebtedness issued, assumed, or guaranteed by the United States of America, or by any agency or instrumentality thereof.

b. In savings accounts or time deposits in Iowa banks approved as depositories by the executive council.

c. In any investments authorized for the Iowa public employees' retirement system in section 97B.7, subsection 2, paragraph "b".

3. The board of trustees annually shall allow regular interest on the mean amount for the preceding year in each of the funds with the exception of the expense fund. The amount so allowed shall be due and payable to said funds and shall be annually credited thereto by the board of trustees from interest and other earnings on the moneys and other assets of the system. Any additional amount required to meet the interest on the funds of the system shall be paid by the state of Iowa and any excess of earnings over such amount required shall be deductible from the amounts to be contributed by the state of Iowa.

4. The treasurer of the state shall be the custodian of the several funds. All payments from said funds shall be made by him only upon vouchers signed by two persons designated by the board of trustees. A duly attested copy of the resolution of the board of trustees designating such persons and bearing on its face specimen signatures of such persons shall be filed with the treasurer of state as his authority for making payments on such vouchers. No voucher shall be drawn unless it shall previously have been allowed by resolution of the board of trustees.

5. No trustee and no employee of the board of trustees shall have any direct interest in the gains or profits of any investment made by the board of trustees. No trustee shall receive any pay or emolument for his services except as secretary. No trustee or employee of the board of trustees shall directly or indirectly for himself or as agent in any manner use the assets of the system except to make such current and necessary payments as are authorized by the board of trustees, nor shall any trustee or employee of the board become an endorser or surety or become in any manner an obligor for moneys loaned by or borrowed from the board of trustees. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§97A.7]

97A.8 Method of financing. All the assets of the system created and established by this chapter shall be credited according to the purpose for which they are held to one of five funds, namely, the annuity savings fund, the annuity reserve fund, the pension accumulation fund, the pension reserve fund, and the expense fund.

1. Annuity savings fund.

a. The annuity savings fund shall be the fund in which shall be accumulated contributions from the compensation of the members to provide for their annuities. The rates of contributions payable by members according to their ages when becoming members shall be as follows:

Age when becoming a member	Rate of contribution
21	4.97%
22	5.04%
23	5.11%
24	5.18%
25	5.26%
26	5.33%
28	5.48%
29	5.56%
30	5.64%
32	5.80%
36	6.14%
37	6.22%
38	6.31%

b. The proportions so computed for a person at age forty shall be applied to a member who attains a greater age before he becomes a member. The board of trustees shall certify to the state comptroller and the state comptroller shall cause to be deducted from the salary of each member on each and every payroll for each and every pay period, the proportion of the compensation of each member so computed.

c. The deductions provided for herein shall be made notwithstanding that the minimum compensation provided by law for any member shall be reduced thereby. Every member shall be deemed to consent to the deductions made and provided for herein, and shall receipt for his full salary or compensation, and payment of salary or compensation less said deduction shall be a full and complete discharge and acquittance of all claims and demands whatsoever for services rendered during the period covered by the payment except as to benefits provided by this chapter. The state comptroller shall certify to the board of trustees on each and every payroll, or in such other manner as the board of trustees shall prescribe, the amount deducted from each member's salary, and such amounts shall be paid into the respective annuity savings fund and shall be credited together with regular interest thereon to the individual account of the member from whose compensation said deduction was made.

d. All taxes or contributions heretofore paid into the old-age and survivors' insurance trust fund by a member of the system, together with all taxes or contributions heretofore paid by the member's employers into said fund because of such member's employment in public service, are hereby transferred therefrom and shall be paid into the annuity savings fund and shall be credited to the individual account of such member therein. The state treasurer shall ascertain the amount heretofore paid by such member and employers as aforesaid and transfer the amount so paid to the annuity savings fund created by this chapter.

e. The accumulated contributions of a member withdrawn by him or paid to his estate or designated beneficiary in the event of his death shall be paid from the annuity savings fund. Upon the retirement of a member his accumulated contributions shall be transferred from the annuity savings fund to the annuity reserve fund.

2. Annuity reserve fund. The annuity reserve fund shall be the fund from which shall be paid all annuities and all benefits in lieu of annuities payable as provided in this chapter. Should a beneficiary retired on account of disability be restored to active service and again become a member of the system, his annuity reserve shall be transferred from the annuity reserve fund to the annuity savings fund and credited to his individual account therein.

3. Pension accumulation fund. The pension accumulation fund shall be the fund in which shall be accumulated all reserves for the payment of all pensions and other benefits payable from contributions made by the state and from which shall be paid the lump-sum death benefits for all members payable from the said contributions. Contributions to and payments from the pension accumulation fund shall be as follows:

a. On account of each member there shall be paid annually into the pension accumulation fund by the state of Iowa an amount equal to a certain percentage of the earnable compensation of the member to be known as the "normal contribution". The rate percent of such contribution shall be fixed on the basis of the liabilities of the retirement system as shown by actuarial valuations. Until the first valuation the normal contribution shall be eight percent.

b. On the basis of regular interest and of such mortality and other tables as shall be adopted by the board of trustees, the state commissioner of insurance shall make each valuation required by this chapter and shall immediately after making such valuation, determine the uniform and constant percentage of the earnable compensation of the average new entrant, which, if contributed throughout his entire period of active service, would be sufficient to provide for the payment of any death benefit or pension payable on this account. The rate percent so determined shall be known as the "normal contribution rate". The normal contribution rate shall be the rate percent of the earnable compensation of all members obtained by deducting from the total liabilities of the fund the amount of the funds in hand to the credit of the fund and dividing the remainder by one percent of the present value of the prospective future compensation of all members as computed on the basis of mortality and service tables adopted by the board of trustees and regular interest. The normal rate of contribution shall be determined by the state commissioner of insurance after each valuation.

c. The total amount payable in each year to the pension accumulation fund shall not be less than the rate percent known as the normal contribution rate of the total compensation earnable by all members during the year, provided, however, that the aggregate payment by the state shall be sufficient when combined with the amount in the fund to provide the pensions and other benefits payable out of the fund during the then current year.

d. All lump-sum death benefits on account of death in active service payable from contributions of the state shall be paid from the pension accumulation fund.

e. Upon the retirement or death of a member an amount equal to the pension reserve on any pension payable to him or on account of his death shall be transferred from the pension accumulation fund to the pension reserve fund.

4. Pension reserve fund. The pension reserve fund shall be the fund in which shall be held the reserves on all pensions granted to members or to their beneficiaries and from which such pensions and benefits in lieu thereof shall be paid. Should a beneficiary retired on account of disability be restored to active service and again become a member of the system, his pension reserve shall be transferred from the pension reserve fund to the pension accumulation fund. Should the pension of a disability beneficiary be reduced as a result of an increase in his amount earned, the amount of the annual reduction in his pension shall be paid annually into the pension accumulation fund during the period of such reduction.

5. Expense fund. The expense fund shall be the fund to which shall be credited all money provided by the state of Iowa to pay the administration expenses of the system and from which shall be paid all the expenses necessary in connection with the administration and operation of the system. Biennially the board of trustees shall estimate the amount of money necessary to be paid into the expense fund during the ensuing biennium to provide for the expense of operation of the system. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §97A.8]

97A.9 Military service exceptions. Any member who is absent from duty as a peace officer while serving in the armed services of the United States or its allies and is discharged or separated therefrom under honorable conditions shall have any such period or periods of absence while serving in such armed services on other than a voluntary basis and one such period of absence, not in excess of four years, while serving in such armed forces on a voluntary basis included as part of his period of service in the department. Such member shall not be required to continue the contributions required of him under section 97A.8, during such period of military service, provided that he shall, within six months after he has been discharged or separated under honorable conditions from such military service return and resume his duties in the department, and provided further, that such member shall be declared physically capable of resuming such duties upon examination by the medical board. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §97A.9]

Referred to in §97A.10

97A.10 Creation of fund to pay contributions of absent members. The state shall create a fund for the purpose of paying the contributions to this system of those members who voluntarily or by induction enter the military service or who are serving in the armed forces. Such funds shall be used for the purpose of paying the contributions which are required of the members, but which under the provisions of section 97A.9 are waived during periods of military service as defined by section 97A.9 and six months thereafter following discharge or separation under honorable conditions. Should any member fail to return to service with his division within six months after his honorable discharge from the military service, the amount credited to his account in this fund by the state shall revert back to the state and such member or his representative shall not be entitled to claim any interest in the contribution so made by the state. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §97A.10]

97B.2 Purpose of chapter. The purpose of this chapter is to promote economy and efficiency in the public service by providing an orderly means whereby employees who become superannuated may, without hardship or prejudice, be replaced by more capable employees, and to that end providing a retirement system which will provide for the payment of annuities to public employees, thereby enabling the employees to care for themselves in retirement, and which by its provisions will improve public employment within the state, reduce excessive personnel turnover and offer suitable attraction to high-grade men and women to enter public service in the state. [C46, 50,§97.2; C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§97B.2]

97B.3 Administration. The Iowa employment security commission, hereinafter called the "commission", shall be vested with authority to administer the Iowa public employees' retirement system. [C46, 50,§97.3; C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§97B.3]

97B.4 Powers and duties. It shall be the duty of the commission to administer this chapter; and it shall have power and authority to adopt, amend, or rescind such rules, to employ such persons, make such expenditures, require such reports, make such investigations, and take such other action as it deems necessary or suitable to that end. Such rules shall be effective upon complying with chapter 17A. Not later than the fifteenth day of December of each year, the commission shall submit to the governor a report covering the administration and operation of this chapter during the preceding fiscal year and shall make such recommendations for amendments to this chapter as the commission deems proper. Such report shall include a balance sheet of the moneys in the Iowa public employees' retirement fund. [C46, 50,§§97.4, 97.23; C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§97B.4]

See chapter 17A for rules
See §§96.4-96.11

97B.5 Officers and employees. Subject to other provisions of this chapter, the commission is authorized to appoint, fix the compensation, and prescribe the duties and powers of such officers, accountants, attorneys, experts, actuaries, and other persons as may be necessary in the performance of its duties. The commission shall classify its positions and shall establish salary schedules and minimum personnel standards for the positions so classified. All positions shall be filled by persons selected and appointed on the basis of competency and fitness for the position to be filled. The commission shall not appoint or employ any person who is an officer or committee member of any political party organization or who holds or is a candidate for any elective public office. The commission shall establish and enforce fair and reasonable regulations based upon ratings of efficiency and fitness and for terminations for cause. The commission may delegate to any such person so appointed such power and authority as it deems reasonable and proper for the effective administration of this chapter, and may in its discretion bond any person handling moneys or signing checks hereunder. The commission is authorized to enter into arrangements with the federal bureau of employment security whereby services performed by the commission and its employees both under this chapter and under the Iowa employment security chapter shall be equitably apportioned between the funds provided for the administration of said chapters. That money spent for rentals, supplies and equipment used by both agencies shall be equitably apportioned and charged against said funds. [C46, 50,§97.38; C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§97B.5]

97B.6 Old records. The Iowa employment security commission may destroy or dispose of such original reports or records as have been properly recorded or summarized in the permanent records of the commission and are deemed by the commission and state records commission to be no longer necessary to the proper administration of this chapter. Such destruction or disposition shall be made only by order of the Iowa employment security commission and such order shall be spread on the minutes of the Iowa employment security commission. Any moneys received from the disposition of such records shall be deposited to the credit of the public employees' retirement fund. [C46, 50, §§97.25, 97.26; C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §97B.6; 65GA, ch 1176, §19]

97B.7 Fund created—trustee's duties.

1. There is hereby created as a special fund, separate and apart from all other public moneys or funds of this state, the "Iowa Public Employees' Retirement Fund", hereafter called the "retirement fund". This fund shall consist of all moneys collected under this chapter, together with all interest, dividends and rents thereon, and shall also include all securities or investment income and other assets acquired by and through the use of the moneys belonging to this fund and any other moneys that have been paid into this fund.

2. The treasurer of the state of Iowa is hereby made the custodian and trustee of this fund and shall administer the same in accordance with the directions of the commission. It shall be the duty of the trustee:

a. To hold said trust funds.

b. Invest such portion of said trust funds as in the judgment of the commission are not needed for current payment of benefits under this chapter in interest-bearing securities issued by the United States, or interest-bearing bonds issued by the state of Iowa, or bonds issued by counties, school districts or general obligations or limited levy bonds issued by municipal corporations in this state as authorized by law, or other investments authorized for life insurance companies in this state including common stocks issued or guaranteed by a corporation created or existing under the laws of the United States or any state, district, or territory thereof subject to the following restrictions:

(1) That for a period of five fiscal years for which the necessary statistical data are available next preceding the date of investment, the corporation had an average annual net income plus fixed charges, or in the case of consolidated earnings statements of parent and subsidiary corporations such corporations had an average annual net income plus fixed charges and the preferred dividend requirement, if any, of the subsidiaries, at least equal to one and one-half times the sum of the corporation's average annual dividend requirement for preferred stock and the average annual fixed charges for the same period; provided, during neither of the last two years of such period shall the sum of the corporation's annual net income and annual fixed charges have been less than one and one-half times the sum of the corporation's dividend requirements for preferred stock and fixed charges for the same period. Fixed charges mean interest on funded or unfunded debt, contingent interest charges, amortization of debt discount, and expenses and rentals for leased property.

(2) That the corporation has no arrears of dividends on preferred stock.

(3) That the common stock is registered on a national securities exchange as provided in the "Securities Exchange Act of 1934," 48 Stat. 881, 15 U.S.C. 77"b", as amended through December 31, 1966, but such registration shall not be required of the common stock of a bank which is a member of the federal deposit insurance corporation and has capital funds, represented by capital, surplus, and undivided profits, of at least twenty million dollars, the common stock of a life insurance company which has capital funds, represented by capital, special surplus funds and unassigned surplus, of at least fifty million dollars, or the common stock of a fire or casualty insurance company, or a combination thereof, which has capital funds represented by capital, net surplus, and voluntary reserves, of at least fifty million dollars.

(4) That the corporation, having no preferred stock outstanding, had earnings for the five fiscal years next preceding the date of investment of at least twice the interest on all mortgages, bonds, debentures, and funded debts, if any, after deduction of the proper charges for replacements, depreciation, and obsolescence.

(5) That the corporation paid a cash dividend on issued common stock in each year of the ten-year period next preceding the date of investment and the aggregate net earnings available for dividends on the common stock of such corporation for the whole of such period were at least equal to the amount of dividends paid.

(6) That in applying the earnings test under this division to any issuing, assuming, or guaranteeing corporation, where such corporation acquired all or any substantial part of the property held by the corporation within a five-year period immediately preceding the date of investment by consolidation, merger, or by the purchase of all or a substantial portion of the property of any other corporation or corporations, or acquired the assets of any unincorporated business enterprise by purchase or otherwise, net income, fixed charges, and preferred dividends of the several predecessor or constituent corporations or enterprises shall be consolidated and adjusted so as to ascertain whether or not compliance has been made with the applicable requirements of this section.

(7) The total cost price of common stocks held by the retirement fund shall not exceed twenty-five percent of the total value of the retirement fund. The cost price of stock investments in any one corporation shall not exceed five percent of the maximum amount which may be invested in stocks. Not more than five percent of the issued stock of any one corporation may be owned by the fund. For purposes of this chapter value consists of cash, the par value or unpaid balance of all unmaturing or unpaid investments requiring the payment of a fixed amount at payment date, and the cost price of all other investments. The total cost of common stocks purchased during any year shall not exceed twenty-five percent of all moneys collected under chapter 97B together with investment income received by the system during that year.

In the event of loss on the redemption or sale of securities, where invested as prescribed by law, neither the treasurer nor the commission shall be personally liable, but such loss shall be charged against the retirement fund and there is hereby appropriated from such fund an amount as may be so required. Expenses incurred in the sale and purchase of securities belonging to the retirement fund shall be charged to the retirement fund and there is hereby appropriated from such fund an amount as may be so required and investment management expenses shall be charged to the investment income of the retirement fund and such expense shall otherwise be budgeted and appropriated in the same manner as administrative expenses for the rest of the system.

d. To sell any securities or other property in the trust fund and reinvest the proceeds in accordance with the direction of the commission when such action may be deemed advisable by the commission for the protection of the trust fund or the preservation of the value of the investment. Such sale of securities or other property of the trust fund shall only be made after advice from the advisory board in the manner and to the extent provided in this chapter in regard to the purchase of investments.

e. To subscribe, in accordance with the direction of the commission, for the purchase of securities for future delivery in anticipation of future income. Such securities shall be paid for by such anticipated income or from funds from the sale of securities or other property held by the fund.

f. To pay for securities directed to be purchased by the commission on the receipt of the purchasing bank's paid statement or paid confirmation of purchase.

3. All moneys which are paid or deposited into this fund are hereby appropriated and made available to the commission to be used only for the purposes herein provided:

Contributions unpaid on the date on which they are due and payable as prescribed by the commission, shall bear interest at the rate of one-half of one per centum per month from and after such date until payment plus accrued interest is received by the commission, provided that the commission may prescribe fair and reasonable regulations pursuant to which such interest shall not accrue with respect to contributions required. Interest collected pursuant to this section shall be paid into the Iowa public employees' retirement fund.

1. If within thirty days after due notice the employer defaults in payment of contributions or interest thereon, the amount due shall be collected by civil action in the name of the commission, and the employer adjudged in default shall pay the costs of such action. Civil actions brought under this section to collect contributions or interest thereon shall be heard by the court at the earliest possible date and shall be entitled to preference upon the calendar of the court over all other civil actions.

2. The employer shall pay its contribution from funds available and is directed to pay same from tax money or from any other income of the political subdivision; provided, however, the contributions shall be paid from the same fund as the employee salary.

3. Every political subdivision is hereby authorized and directed to levy a tax sufficient to meet its obligations under the provisions of this chapter if any tax is needed. [C46, 50, §§97.6, 97.8, 97.9, 97.12; C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §97B.9]

Refunds so made shall be charged to the fund to which the erroneous collections have been credited and shall be paid to the claimant without interest. The employer shall furnish to all employees a written statement in a form prescribed by the commission suitable for retention by the employee, showing the wages paid to the employee for each year after July 1, 1953. Each statement shall cover a calendar year, or one, two or three quarters, whether or not within the same calendar year, and shall show the name of the employee, the period covered by the statement, the total amount of wages paid within such period, and the amount of contribution required by this chapter with respect to such wages. Each statement shall be furnished to the employee not later than thirty days following the period covered by the statement, except that if the employee leaves the employ of the employer, this final statement shall be furnished within thirty days after the last payment of wages is made to the employee. The employer may, at its option, furnish such a statement to any employee at the time of each payment of wages to the employee during any calendar quarter, in lieu of a statement covering each quarter, and, in such case, the statement may show the date of payment of wages in lieu of the period covered by the statement. [C46, 50,§97.11; C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§97B.12]

97B.15 Rules. The commission shall have full power and authority to make rules and to establish procedures, not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter, which are necessary or appropriate to carry out such provisions and shall adopt reasonable and proper rules to regulate and provide for the nature and extent of the proofs and evidence and the method of taking and furnishing the same in order to establish the right to benefits hereunder. [C46, 50,§97.23; C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§97B.15]

97B.16 Hearings. The commission is directed to make findings of fact, and decisions as to the rights of any individual applying for a payment under this chapter. Whenever requested by any such individual or by any other person who makes a showing in writing that his or her rights may be prejudiced by any decision the commission has rendered, it shall give such applicant and such other individual reasonable notice and opportunity for a hearing with respect to such decision, and, if a hearing is held, shall, on the basis of evidence adduced at the hearing, affirm, modify, or reverse its findings of fact and such decision. The commission is further authorized, on its own motion, to hold such hearings and to conduct such investigations and other proceedings as it may deem necessary or proper for the administration of this chapter. In the course of any hearing, investigation, or other proceedings, it may administer oaths and affirmations, examine witnesses, and receive evidence. Evidence may be received at any hearing before the commission even though inadmissible under rules of evidence applicable to court procedure. [C46, 50,§97.24; C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§97B.16]

later than June 30 of the succeeding calendar year. The employer shall distribute such statements to its employees, and the records of the commission as shown by said statement as to the wages of such individual for such year and the periods of payment shall be conclusive for the purpose of this chapter, except as hereinafter provided. [C46, 50,§§97.11, 97.25; C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§97B.18]

97B.19 Revision for error. If, prior to the expiration of six months following the delivery of such statement, it is brought to the attention of the commission that any entry of such wages in such records is erroneous, or that any item of such wages has been omitted from the records, the commission may correct such entry or include such omitted item in its records, as the case may be. Written notice of any revision of any such entry which is adverse to the interest of any individual shall be given to such individual in any case where such individual has previously been notified by the commission of the amount of wages and of the period of payments shown by such entry. Upon request in writing made prior to the expiration of six months immediately following the giving of the statement provided for in section 97B.18, the commission shall afford any individual, or after his death shall afford his beneficiary or any other person so entitled in the judgment of the commission, reasonable notice and opportunity for hearing with respect to any entry or alleged omission of wages of such individual in such record, or any revision of any such entry. If a hearing is held, the commission shall make findings of fact and a decision based upon the evidence adduced at such hearing and shall revise its records accordingly. Judicial review of action of the commission under this section and section 97B.20 may be sought in accordance with the terms of the Iowa administrative procedure Act and section 97B.29. The amount so credited shall, after such transfer, be considered as a contribution to the system made as of July 4, 1953, by the member and shall be included as such in the determination of the amount of any accumulated contributions payable under this chapter in the event of the death prior to retirement or termination of employment of the member, but shall not be included in the accumulated contributions of the member in the determination of the amount of any retirement allowance payable under this chapter. Provided, however, an employee who was under a contract of employment as a teacher in the public schools of the state of Iowa at the end of the school year 1952-1953, or any person covered by the provisions of "c" or "d" of subsection 14, of section 97B.41, shall be considered as in service as of July 4, 1953, if they were members of the abolished system.

Any person with a record of thirty years as a public employee in the state of Iowa prior to July 1, 1947, and who is not eligible for prior service credit under other provisions of this section, shall be entitled to a credit for years of prior service in the determination of the retirement allowance payment under any of the provisions of this chapter, provided such public employee makes application to the employment security commission for such credit for prior public service, accompanied by such verification of his claim as the commission may require. His allowance for prior service credits shall be computed in the same manner as otherwise provided in this section, but shall not exceed the sum of four hundred fifty dollars nor be less than three hundred dollars per annum. Any such person shall be entitled to receive retirement allowances contributed as provided by this chapter, effective

Any individual who as of July 1, 1973, is a retired member and who made application for and received a refund of contributions made under the abolished system, may, by filing a written election with the commission between July 1, 1973, and July 1, 1974, have the commission retain fifty percent of the monthly increase in retiree benefits that will accrue to the individual because of prior service. If the monthly increase in retirement benefits is less than ten dollars, the commission shall retain five dollars of the scheduled increase, and if the monthly increase is less than five dollars, the provisions of this paragraph shall not apply. The commission shall continue to retain such funds until the withdrawn contributions, together with interest accrued to July 1, 1973, have been repaid. Due notice of this provision shall be sent to all retired members as of July 1, 1973. However, this paragraph shall not apply to any person who received a refund of any membership service contributions. The interest to be paid into the fund shall be compounded at the rates credited to member accounts from the date of payment of the refund of contributions under the abolished system to the date the member redeposits the refunded amount. The provisions of the first paragraph of this section relating to the consideration given to credited amounts shall apply to the redeposited amounts or to amounts left on deposit. 97B.48 Payment of allowances—re-employment.

1. Retirement allowances shall be paid monthly, except that an allowance of less than one hundred twenty dollars a year shall be paid as a lump sum in an actuarial equivalent amount. Receipt of the lump sum payment by a member shall terminate any and all entitlement for the period of service covered of the said member under this chapter.

2. The first monthly payment of a normal retirement allowance shall be paid as of the normal retirement effective date, which date shall be the later of the normal retirement date or the first day of the sixth calendar month preceding the month in which written notice of normal retirement is submitted to the commission. Payment of an early retirement allowance or an allowance for retirement after the normal retirement date shall be paid as of the effective date of retirement subject to the provisions of sections 97B.45, 97B.46 or 97B.47. The payments shall be continued thereafter for the lifetime of the retired member except as provided in subsection 3.

3. If at any time after the first day of the month coinciding with or next following his fifty-fifth birthday and until his sixty-fifth birthday, a member who is retired under this chapter is in regular full-time employment, his retirement allowance shall be suspended for as long as he remains in employment. However, employment shall not be regarded as full-time employment until he receives remuneration in an amount in excess of two thousand one hundred dollars for any calendar year. Effective the first of the month coinciding with or next following his sixty-fifth birthday, a retired member shall be entitled to receive a retirement allowance after return to covered employment regardless of the amount of remuneration received. 97B.49 Monthly payments of allowance.

Each member shall, upon retirement on or after his normal retirement date, be entitled to receive a monthly retirement allowance determined under subsections 1, 2, and 3 of this section. Any retirement allowance which is in addition to the amount being paid to retired members as of June 30, 1973, shall become effective with payments as of July 1, 1973. For members retiring on and after July 1, 1973, the retirement allowance as determined herein shall commence on the effective date of retirement.

1. For each active member retiring from employment after July 1, 1973, with four or more complete years of service, a formula benefit shall be determined. The amount of the monthly formula benefit for each such active member who retired on or after July 1, 1973, shall be equal to one-twelfth of one and fifty-seven hundredths percent per year of membership service multiplied by his average annual covered wages; but in no case shall the amount of monthly formula benefit accrued for membership service prior to July 1, 1967, be less than the monthly annuity at the normal retirement date determined by applying the sum of the member's accumulated contributions, his employer's matching accumulated contributions on or before June 30, 1967, and any retirement dividends standing to his credit on or before December 31, 1966, to the annuity tables in use by the commission with due regard to the benefits payable from such accumulated contributions under sections 97B.52 and 97B.53. Commencing July 1, 1973, for each member who retired and commenced receiving, or who became vested in, a retirement allowance before July 1, 1973, the amount of regular monthly retirement allowance attributable to membership service that he received, for June, 1973, or was vested in as of June 30, 1973, shall be increased in the same proportion as the increase granted under this subsection for active members retiring after July 1, 1973.

2. For each active member retiring with less than four complete years of service and who therefore cannot have his benefit determined under the formula benefit of subsection 1 of this section and for each vested member a monthly annuity for membership service shall be determined by applying the member's accumulated contributions and his employer's matching accumulated contributions as of his effective retirement date and any retirement dividends standing to his credit on or before December 31, 1966, to the annuity tables in use by the commission according to his age determined as follows:

a. If his normal retirement date coincides with or follows July 1, 1967, his age on his normal retirement date.

b. If his normal retirement date precedes July 1, 1967, and his effective date of retirement coincides with or follows July 1, 1967, his age on July 1, 1967.

3. For each member who has qualified for prior service credit in accordance with the first paragraph of section 97B.43, there shall be determined a benefit of eight-tenths of one percent per year of prior service credit multiplied by the monthly rate of the member's total remuneration not in excess of three thousand dollars annually during the twelve consecutive months of his prior service for which such total remuneration was the highest. An additional three-tenths of one percent of such remuneration not in excess of three thousand dollars annually shall be payable for prior service during each year in which the accrued liability for benefit payments created by the abolished system is funded by appropriation from the general fund of the state of Iowa as provided under section 97B.56.

4. For each active member retiring on or after June 30, 1973, and who has completed ten or more years of membership service, the total amount of monthly benefit payable at the normal retirement date for prior service and membership service shall not be less than fifty dollars per month. If benefits commence on an early retirement date, the amount of benefit shall be reduced in accordance with section 97B.50. If an optional allowance is selected under section 97B.51, the amount payable shall be the actuarial equivalent of the minimum benefit. An employee who is in employment on a school year or academic year basis, will be considered to be an active member as of June 30, 1973, if he completes the 1972-1973 school year or academic year. [C46, 50, §§97.5, 97.45; C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §97B.49; 65GA, ch 149, §§11-13]

97B.51 Optional allowance. Each member shall have the right at any time prior to his retirement date to elect to have his retirement allowance payable under one of the options hereinafter set forth in this section in lieu of the retirement allowance otherwise payable to him upon retirement under any of the provisions of the retirement system. The amount of any optional retirement allowance shall be the actuarial equivalent of the amount of such retirement allowance otherwise payable to him. The member shall make such an election by written request to the commission and such an election will be subject to the approval of the commission.

1. A member may elect to receive a decreased retirement allowance during his lifetime and have such decreased retirement allowance (or a designated fraction thereof) continued after his death to another person, called a contingent annuitant, during the lifetime of the contingent annuitant. In case of such an election, no death benefits, as might otherwise be provided by this chapter, will be payable upon the death of either the member or the contingent annuitant after the member's retirement.

2. The election by a member or the contingent annuitant of the option stated under subsection 1 of this section shall be null and void if the member dies prior to retirement.

3. A member who had elected to take the option stated in subsection 1 of this section may, at any time prior to his retirement, revoke such an election by written notice to the commission.

4. A member may elect to receive an increased retirement allowance during his lifetime with no death benefit after his retirement date.

5. A member may elect to receive a decreased retirement allowance during his lifetime with a death benefit after his retirement date equal to the excess, if any, of the accumulated contributions by the member and employer as of said date, over the total monthly retirement allowances received by him under the retirement system. Such death benefit shall be paid to his beneficiary.

6. A member may elect to receive a decreased retirement allowance during his lifetime with provision that in event of his death during the first one hundred twenty months of his retirement, monthly payments of his decreased retirement allowance shall be made to his beneficiary until a combined total of one hundred twenty monthly payments have been made to him and his beneficiary. [C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §97B.51]

Referred to in §§97B.49, 97B.52

97B.52 Payment to beneficiary.

1. If a member dies prior to the date his first retirement allowance is payable under the retirement system, the accumulated contributions by the member and employer at date of death shall be payable to his beneficiary in one of the following forms:

a. A lump sum.

b. A monthly life annuity, commencing on the first day of the month following the member's date of death and continuing for the beneficiary's lifetime thereafter, equal to the actuarial equivalent of the lump-sum amount otherwise payable in accordance with paragraph "a" of this subsection.

c. A monthly life annuity, commencing on the first day of the month following the member's date of death and continuing for the beneficiary's lifetime thereafter, with provision that in event of the beneficiary's death before receiving one hundred twenty monthly payments, the monthly payment shall be continued until a total of one hundred twenty monthly annuity payments have been made to the person or persons designated by the beneficiary or to his estate if no person was designated or no designated person survives until a total of one hundred twenty monthly annuity payments have been made. The monthly annulty payable under this paragraph shall be the actuarial equivalent of the lump-sum amount otherwise payable in accordance with paragraph "a" of this subsection.

The member may, by election in writing to the commission prior to his death, specify which of the three forms of payment authorized under this subsection is to be made to his designated beneficiary upon his death prior to retirement. Such election shall become irrevocable upon death of the member. If the member does not make such election, his beneficiary may elect any one of the three payment forms authorized under this subsection. If the beneficiary does not make such election within one hundred eighty days of the member's date of death, the payment form prescribed in paragraph "a" shall apply.

If either of the payment forms prescribed in paragraphs "b" and "c" is elected by the member or his beneficiary and the monthly annuity payment thereunder would be less than ten dollars, the commission may require application of the payment form prescribed in paragraph "a" in lieu of either of the elected payment forms.

Referred to in §97B.53(4)

2. If a member dies after the date his first retirement allowance is payable under the retirement system, the excess, if any, of the accumulated contributions by the member as of said date, over the total monthly retirement allowances received by him under the retirement system will be paid to his beneficiary unless the retirement allowance is then being paid in accordance with subsections 1, 4, 5 or 6 of section 97B.51.

3. Other than as provided above in subsections 1 and 2 of this section, or section 97B.51, all rights to any benefits under the retirement system will cease upon the death of a member. [C46, 50, §97.14-97.18, 97.39; C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §97B.52]

97B.53 Termination of employment. All rights to all benefits under the retirement system will cease upon a member's termination of employment with the employer prior to his retirement, other than by death, except as provided hereafter:

1. Upon the termination of employment with the employer prior to retirement other than by death of a member, the accumulated contributions by the member at the date of such termination will be paid to such member, except as may be provided in subsection 2, subsection 5 and subsection 6 of this section.

2. If the employment with the employer of a member is terminated prior to his retirement, other than by death, but after he has either

a. Completed at least four years of service, or

b. Has attained the age of fifty-five, he shall receive a monthly retirement allowance commencing on the first day of the month next following or coinciding with the date he attains the age of sixty-five, if he is then alive, or, if the member so elects in accordance with section 97B.47, commencing on the first day of any month coinciding or next following the date he attains the age of fifty-five and prior to the date he attains the age of sixty-five, and continuing on the first day of each month thereafter during his lifetime, provided the member does not receive prior to the date his retirement allowance is to commence a refund of accumulated contributions under any of the provisions of this chapter. The amount of each such monthly retirement allowance shall be determined as provided in either section 97B.49 or in section 97B.50, whichever is applicable.

3. The accumulated contributions of a terminated member who is entitled to the benefits of subsection 2 of this section shall be credited with interest, including interest dividends.

4. A member who is entitled to the benefits of subsection 2 of this section shall have the right, prior to the commencement of his retirement allowance, to receive a refund of his accumulated contributions, and in the event of the death of the member prior to the commencement of his retirement allowance and prior to the receipt of any such refund the benefits of subsection 1 of section 97B.52 shall be paid. No member shall be entitled to any refund based upon any credit for prior service as determined under the provisions of section 97B.43 or for any portion of any contribution made by an employer unless otherwise provided by this chapter.

5. A member shall not be considered as having terminated his employment if he accepts other employment in the state of Iowa under which he is eligible to membership in the Iowa public employees' retirement system, within three months after he has left public employment.

Any member who does not withdraw his accumulated contributions upon termination of employment may at any time request the return of his accumulated contributions, but if he receives such return of contributions he shall be deemed to have waived all claims for any other benefits from the fund.

6. Any member who terminates employment before he is entitled to the benefits of subsection 2 of this section and who does not claim and receive a refund of his accumulated contributions within five years of his date of termination shall, in event he makes claim for such refund more than five years after his date of termination, be required to submit proof satisfactory to the commission of his entitlement to such refund, but in no case shall interest be allowed upon his accumulated contributions for any period he is not an employee. The commission shall be under no obligation to maintain the accumulated contribution accounts of such former members for more than five years after their dates of termination.

Any person who made contributions to the abolished system who is entitled to a refund in accordance with the provisions of this chapter and who has not claimed and received such refund prior to January 1, 1964, shall, in event he makes a claim for such refund after January 1, 1964, be required to submit proof satisfactory to the commission of his entitlement to such refund. The commission shall be under no obligation to maintain the contribution accounts of such persons after January 1, 1964.

7. Any member whose employment is terminated after one year of employment but before he has accumulated four or more years of employment, either under the provisions of this chapter or as a result of prior service credits, may elect to leave his accumulated contributions in the retirement fund. In the event he returns to public employment at any time within four years after this termination of employment, he shall be entitled to resume membership in the system with the same credits for prior service and accumulated contributions that he had earned when his original employment was terminated. No interest shall be credited on his accumulated contributions nor on his employer's accumulated contributions during the period from the time of his termination of employment to his resumption of employment.

Any member who has resumed employment under the provisions of this subsection shall not be eligible for any second period of absence from membership as a result of termination of service.

8. If an employee hired to fill a permanent position terminates his employment within six months from the date of employment, the employer may file a claim with the commission for a refund of the matching funds contributed to the commission by the employer for the employee. [C46, 50,§§97.6, 97.13, 97.45; C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§97B.53; 65GA, ch 149,§14]

The unfunded accrued liability at any particular time shall be the excess, if any, of the present value of retirement allowances due to prior service, over the sum of (1) the net total accumulated accrued liability contributions (after adjustment for retirement allowance payments due to prior service) and (2) any assets transferred to the retirement fund in accordance with section 97B.56, with interest on such sum at the rates of interest earned each year on the retirement fund. The dividend rate for a calendar year shall be the excess of the average rate of interest earned for the year over the statutory two percent rate plus twenty-five hundredths of one percent. The average rate of interest earned and the interest dividend rate in percent shall be calculated to the nearest one hundredth; i.e., to two decimal places.

3. Interest and interest dividends shall be credited to the contributions of active members and inactive vested members until the first of the month coinciding with or next following the member's retirement date. [C66, 71, 73, §97B.70; 65GA, ch 149, §15]

1. The term "wages" means all remuneration for employment as defined herein, including the cash value of all remuneration paid in any medium other than cash, except that such term shall not include that part of such remuneration which, even if it were for "employment" within the meaning of the federal Insurance Contribution Act, would not constitute "wages" within the meaning of that Act.

2. The term "employment" means any service performed by an employee in the employ of the state, or any political subdivision thereof, for such employer, except (1) service which in the absence of an agreement entered into under this chapter would constitute "employment" as defined in the Social Security Act; or (2) service which under the Social Security Act may not be included in an agreement between the state and the federal security administrator entered into under this chapter.

3. The term "employee" includes elective and appointive officials of the state or any political subdivision thereof, except members of the general assembly, elective officials in positions, the compensation for which is on a fee basis, elective officials of school districts, elective officials of townships, and elective officials of other political subdivisions who are in part-time positions; provided that no member of a county board of supervisors shall be deemed to be an elective official in a part-time position, but every member of a county board of supervisors shall be deemed to be an employee within the purview of this chapter and shall be eligible to receive all of the benefits provided by this chapter to which he may be entitled as an employee.

4. The term "employer" means the state of Iowa and all of its political subdivisions which employ persons eligible to coverage under an agreement entered into by this state and the federal security administrator under the provisions of the Social Security Act, Title II, of the Congress of the United States as amended.

Referred to in §97C.10

division and only if its employees are not by virtue of their relation to such juristic entity employees of the state or subdivisions.

Referred to in §473A.1

7. The term "Social Security Act" means the Act of Congress approved August 14, 1935, Chapter 531, 49 Stat. 620, officially cited as the "Social Security Act," Title II, (including regulations and requirements issued pursuant thereto) as such Act has been and may from time to time be amended.

9. Referred to in §§97C.3, 97C.10, 473A.1

97C.3 Federal-state agreement. The state agency, with the approval of the governor and the attorney general, is hereby authorized to enter on behalf of the state into an agreement with the federal security administrator, consistent with the terms and provisions of this chapter, for the purpose of extending the benefits of the federal old-age and survivors' insurance system to employees of the state or any political subdivision thereof with respect to services specified in such agreement which constitute "employment" as defined in section 97C.2 of this chapter. Such agreement may contain such provisions relating to coverage, benefits, contributions, effective date, modification and termination of the agreement, administration, and other appropriate provisions as the state agency and federal security administrator shall agree upon, but, except as may be otherwise required by or under the Social Security Act, Title II, as to the services to be covered, such agreement shall provide in effect that:

1. Benefits will be provided for employees whose services are covered by the agreement (and their dependents and survivors) on the same basis as though such services constituted employment within the meaning of Title II of said Social Security Act.

2. The state will pay to the secretary of the treasury, at such time or times as may be prescribed under the Social Security Act, Title II, contributions with respect to wages (as defined in section 97C.2 of this chapter), equal to the sum of taxes which would be imposed by sections 1400 and 1410 of the federal Insurance Contributions Act, if the services covered by the agreement constituted employment within the meaning of that Act.

3. Such agreement shall be effective with respect to services in employment covered by the agreement performed after a date specified therein, but in no event may it be effective with respect to any such services performed prior to the first day of the calendar year in which such agreement is entered into or in which the modification of the agreement making it applicable to such services is entered into, provided that in the case of an agreement or modification made after the effective date of this chapter [May 3, 1953] and prior to January 1, 1954, such agreement or modification of the agreement shall be made effective with respect to any such services performed on or after January 1, 1951.

4. All services which constitute employment as defined in section 97C.2, and are performed in the employ of the state, or any political subdivision, by employees of the state, or of any political subdivision, shall be covered by the agreement. [C46, 50,§97.45; C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§97C.3]

Referred to in §§97C.4, 97C.5, 97C.13, 97C.14, 97C.15, 97C.17

97C.4 Other states—joint agreements. Any instrumentality jointly created by this state and any other state or states is hereby authorized, upon the granting of like authority by such other state or states, (1) to enter into an agreement with the federal security administrator whereby the benefits of the federal old-age and survivors' insurance system shall be extended to employees of such instrumentality, (2) to require its employees to pay (and for that purpose to deduct from their wages) contributions equal to the amounts which they would be required to pay under section 97C.5 if they were covered by an agreement made pursuant to section 97C.3, and (3) to make payments to the secretary of the treasury in accordance with such agreement, including payments from its own funds, and otherwise to comply with such agreements. Such agreement shall, to the extent practicable, be consistent with the terms and provisions of section 97C.3 and other provisions of this chapter. [C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§97C.4]

credit of the contribution fund established by section 97C.12 of this chapter. [C46, 50,§97.9; C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§97C.5]

97C.6 Collection of tax. The tax imposed by sections 97C.5 and 97C.14 shall be collected by each employer from the employee by deducting the amount of the tax from wages as and when paid, but failure to make such deduction shall not relieve the employee from liability for such taxes. [C46, 50,§§97.7, 97.9, 97.45; C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§97C.6]

97C.8 Statement to employees. The employer shall furnish to all employees a written statement in a form prescribed by the state agency suitable for retention by the employees, showing the wages paid to the employee after January 1, 1953. Each statement shall cover a calendar year, or one, two or three quarters, whether or not within the same calendar year, and shall show the name of the employee, the period covered by the statement, the total amount of wages paid within such period, and the amount of tax imposed by this chapter with respect to such wages. Each statement shall be furnished to the employee not later than thirty days following the period covered by the statement, except that, if the employee leaves the employ of the employer, this final statement shall be furnished within thirty days after the last payment of wages is made to the employee. The employer may, at its option, furnish such a statement to any employee at the time of each payment of wages to the employee during any calendar quarter, in lieu of a statement covering such quarter, and, in such case, the statement may show the date of payment of wages in lieu of the period covered by the statement. [C46, 50,§97.11; C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§97C.8]

97C.9 Adjustments or refund. If more or less than the correct amount of the tax imposed by section 97C.5 is paid or deducted with respect to any remuneration, proper adjustments, or refund if adjustment is impracticable, shall be made in such manner and at such times as the state agency shall prescribe. [C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§97C.9]

if such tax levy is necessary because other funds are not available. [C46, 50,§97.12; C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§97C.10]

Referred to in §97C.12

97C.11 Payment — adjustment or refund. Such taxes as deducted by the employer from the earnings of employees or upon the employers shall be paid in such manner, at such times and under such conditions as may be prescribed by the state agency. If more or less than the correct amount of the tax imposed upon the employer is paid or deducted, proper adjustments or refund, if adjustment is impracticable, shall be made in such manner and at such times as the state agency shall prescribe. [C46, 50,§97.7; C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§97C.11]

Referred to in §97C.12

97C.12 Contribution fund. There is hereby established in the office of the treasurer of state a special fund to be known as the contribution fund. Such fund shall consist of, and there shall be deposited in such fund: (1) all taxes, interest, and penalties collected under sections 97C.5, 97C.10, and 97C.11; (2) all moneys appropriated thereto under this chapter; (3) any property or securities and earnings thereof acquired through the use of moneys belonging to the fund; (4) interest earned upon any moneys in the fund, and (5) all sums recovered upon the bond of the custodian or otherwise for losses sustained by the fund and all other moneys received for the fund from any other source. Subject to the provisions of this chapter, the state agency is vested with full power, authority and jurisdiction over the fund, including all moneys and property or securities belonging thereto, and may perform any and all acts whether or not specifically designated, which are necessary to the administration thereof and are consistent with the provisions of this chapter. All moneys in this fund shall be mingled and undivided. [C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§97C.12]

Referred to in §§97C.5, 97C.14

97C.13 Fund kept separate. The contribution fund shall be established and held separate and apart from any other funds or moneys of the state and shall be used and administered exclusively for the purpose of this chapter. Withdrawals from such fund shall be made for, and solely for, payment of amounts required to be paid to the secretary of the treasury pursuant to an agreement entered into under section 97C.3, or the payment of refunds provided for in this chapter. [C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§97C.13]

97C.14 Elected officials — retroactive payments. Any elective official of the state of Iowa, or any of its political subdivisions, who becomes subject to federal social security coverage under the provisions of the agreement referred to in section 97C.3 shall, not later than October 1, 1953, pay into the contribution fund established by section 97C.12 a tax sufficient to pay in his behalf an amount equal to three percent of his compensation received as a public official for each year or portion thereof that he has served as a public elective official since January 1, 1951, not to exceed thirty-six hundred dollars for any year of service. The employment security commission shall collect the tax hereby imposed and the proceeds from such tax shall be used for the purpose of obtaining retroactive federal social security coverage for elective officials, for the period beginning January 1, 1951, in the same manner as is provided in the case of other public employees by the provisions in subsection 2 of section 97.51 in order to obtain retroactive federal social security coverage during this period of time, such contribution to be collected and guaranteed by the employer. The employment security commission will pay any such amount contributed to provide for retroactive federal social security coverage for the individual in question in the same manner as other payments are made for retroactive coverage of public employees. Provided that no member of a county board of supervisors shall be deemed to be an elective official in a part-time position, but every member of a county board of supervisors shall be deemed to be an employee within the purview of this chapter and shall be eligible to receive all of the benefits provided by this chapter to which he may be entitled as an employee. [C46, 50,§§97.7, 97.45; C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§97C.14]

97C.16 Custodian of fund. The treasurer of state shall be ex officio treasurer and custodian of the contribution fund and shall administer such fund in accordance with the provisions of this chapter and the directions of the state agency and shall pay all warrants drawn upon it in accordance with the provisions of this section and with such regulations as the state agency may prescribe pursuant thereto. [C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§97C.16]

97C.17 Standing appropriation. There is hereby authorized to be appropriated annually from the general fund of the state of Iowa to the contribution fund, in addition to the taxes collected and paid into the contribution fund, such additional sums as are found to be necessary in order to make payments to the secretary of the treasury of the United States which the state is obliged to make pursuant to any agreement entered into under section 97C.3. [C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§97C.17]

97C.18 Rules. The state agency shall make and publish such rules, not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter, as it finds necessary or appropriate to the efficient administration of the functions with which it is charged under this chapter, and the state agency shall comply with regulations relating to payments and reports as may be prescribed by the federal security administrator. [C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§97C.18]

97C.19 Apportionment of expense. 97C.20 Referenda by governor. With respect to employees of the state the governor is empowered to authorize a referendum, and with respect to the employees of any political subdivision he shall authorize a referendum upon request of the governing body of such subdivision; and in either case the referendum shall be conducted, and the governor shall designate an agency or individual to supervise its conduct, in accordance with the requirements of section 218 "d" (3) of the Social Security Act, on the question of whether service in positions covered by a retirement system established by the state or by a political subdivision thereof should be excluded from or included under an agreement under this chapter. The notice of referendum required by section 218 "d" (3) (C) of the Social Security Act to be given to employees shall contain or shall be accomplished by a statement, in such form and such detail as the agency or individual designated to supervise the referendum shall deem necessary and sufficient, to inform the employees of the rights which will accrue to them and their dependents and survivors, and the liabilities to which they will be subject, if their services are included under an agreement under this chapter.

Upon receiving evidence satisfactory to him that with respect to any such referendum the conditions specified in section 218 "d" (3) of the Social Security Act have been met, the governor shall so certify to the secretary of health, education, and welfare. [C58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§97C.20]

In making such refund, the department shall prepare a voucher showing the amount of refund due and to whom payable and the comptroller shall then issue a warrant upon order of the director to pay such refund out of any funds in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Such stamps shall be affixed within forty-eight hours, exclusive of Sundays and legal holidays, from the hour the cigarettes were received, and shall be affixed before such distributor sells, offers for sale, consumes, or otherwise distributes or transports the same. It shall be unlawful for any person, other than a distributing agent or distributor, bonded pursuant to section 98.14, or common carrier to receive or accept delivery of any cigarettes without stamps affixed to evidence the payment of the tax, or without having in his possession the requisite amount or number of stamps necessary to stamp such cigarettes, and the possession of any unstamped cigarettes, without the possession of the requisite amount or number of stamps, shall be prima-facie evidence of the violation of this provision. In the event the director decides to purchase such machines they shall be paid for upon order of the director out of any funds in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated.

The machines or devices shall be so constructed as to record or meter the number of impressions or indicia made and shall at all times be open for inspection by the department.

All of the provisions of this chapter relating to the collection of the tax by means of the sale and affixation of stamps shall apply in the use of the stamping machines or devices, including the right of refund as provided herein. [C39,§1556.07; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§98.12]

Cities may issue retail permits to dealers within their respective limits. Upon issuance of a retail permit by a city council or board of supervisors, such council or board shall forthwith certify to the department the action so taken.

3. Fees—expiration. All permits provided for in this chapter shall expire on June 30 of each year. No permit shall be granted or issued until the applicant shall have paid for the period ending June 30 next, to the department or the city or county granting such permit, the fees provided for in this chapter. The annual state permit fee for a distributor, cigarette vendor, and wholesaler shall be one hundred dollars when the permit is granted during the months of July, August, or September, provided that whenever a state permit holder shall operate more than one place of business, a duplicate state permit shall be issued for each additional place of business on payment of five dollars for each such duplicate state permit, but refunds as provided in this chapter shall not apply to any duplicate permit issued.

The fee for retail permits to be issued under the provisions of this chapter shall be as follows when the permit is granted during the months of July, August, or September:

- a. In places outside any city, fifty dollars.
- b. In cities of less than fifteen thousand population, seventy-five dollars.
- c. In cities of fifteen thousand or more population, one hundred dollars.

If any permit is granted during the months of October, November, or December, the said fee shall be three-fourths of the above maxi-imum schedule; if granted during the months of January, February, or March, one-half of said maximum schedule, and if granted during the months of April, May, or June, one-fourth of the said maximum schedule.

4. Refunds.

a. An unrevoked permit for which the holder has paid the full annual fee may be surrendered during the first nine months of said year to the officer issuing it, and the department, or the city or county granting the permit shall make refunds to the said holder as follows:

Three-fourths of the annual fee if the surrender is made during July, August, or September.

One-half of the annual fee if the surrender is made during October, November, or December.

One-fourth of the annual fee if the surrender is made during January, February, or March.

b. An unrevoked permit for which the holder has paid three-fourths of a full annual fee may be so surrendered during the first six months of the period covered by said payment and the said department, city or county shall make refunds to the holder as follows:

A sum equal to one-fourth of an annual fee if the surrender is made during January, February or March.

c. An unrevoked permit for which the holder has paid one-half of a full annual fee may be so surrendered during the first three months of the period covered by said payment, and the department, city or county, shall refund to the holder a sum equal to one-fourth of an annual fee.

5. Application—bond. Said permits shall be issued only upon applications accompanied by the fee indicated above, and by an adequate bond as provided in section 98.14, and upon forms furnished by the department upon written request. The failure to furnish such forms shall be no excuse for the failure to file the same unless absolute refusal is shown. Said forms shall set forth:

a. The manner under which such distributor, wholesaler, or retailer, transacts or intends to transact such business as distributor, wholesaler, or retailer.

b. The principal office, residence, and place of business in Iowa, for which the permit is to apply.

d. Such other information as the director shall by rules prescribe.

been filed and the fee prescribed paid for a permit and until such permit is obtained and only while such permit is unrevoked and unexpired.

7. Number of permits—trucks. An application shall be filed and a permit obtained for each place of business owned or operated by a distributor, wholesaler, or retailer, excepting that no permit need be obtained for a delivery or sales truck of a distributor or wholesaler holding a permit, provided that the director may by regulation require that said truck bear the distributor's or wholesaler's name, and that the permit number of the place of business for and from which it operates be conspicuously displayed on the outside of the body of the truck, immediately under the name.

8. Group business. Any person who operates both as a distributor and wholesaler in the same place of business shall only be required to obtain a state permit for the particular place of business where such operation of said business is conducted. A separate retail permit, however, shall be required if any distributor or wholesaler sells cigarettes at both retail and wholesale.

9. Permit—form and contents. Each permit issued shall describe clearly the place of business for which it is issued, shall be nonassignable, consecutively numbered, designating the kind of permit, and shall authorize the sale of cigarettes in this state subject to the limitations and restrictions herein contained. The retail permits shall be upon forms furnished by the department.

10. Permit displayed. The permit shall, at all times, be publicly displayed by the distributor, wholesaler, or retailer, at his place of business, so as to be easily seen by the public and the persons authorized to inspect the same. The proprietor or keeper of any building or place wherein cigarettes shall be kept for sale, or with intent to sell, shall upon request of any agent of the department or any peace officer exhibit his permit to so keep and sell. His refusal or failure to so exhibit such permit shall be prima-facie evidence that such cigarettes are kept for sale or with intent to sell in violation of the provisions of this chapter. Said bonds shall be on forms prescribed by the director and in the following amounts:

a. State permit, not less than five hundred dollars.

b. Manufacturer's permit, not less than five thousand dollars.

Said bond shall be approved by the director and payable to the state in Des Moines, Polk county, and conditioned upon the payment of taxes, damages, fines, penalties, and costs adjudged against the permit holder for violation of any of the requirements of this chapter affecting said distributor or other person, on a form prescribed by the director.

3. An additional bond or a new bond may be required by the director at any time an existing bond becomes insufficient or the surety thereon becomes unsatisfactory, which additional bond, or new bond, shall be supplied within ten days after demand. On failure to supply a new bond or additional bond within ten days after demand, the director may cancel any existing bond made and secured by and for said distributor or other person. In the event said bond is canceled, said distributor or other person shall within forty-eight hours after receiving cigarettes or forty-eight hours after said cancellation, excluding Sundays and legal holidays, cause any cigarettes in his possession to have the requisite amount of stamps affixed to represent the tax as herein provided. The director may also require each permit holder to keep and retain in his possession evidence on prescribed forms of all transactions involving the purchase and sale of cigarettes or the purchase and use of stamps as herein provided. All of such evidence shall be kept for a period of two years from the date of each transaction, for the inspection at all times by the department.

2. Where a state permit holder sells cigarettes at retail, he shall be required to issue an invoice to his retail department for cigarettes to be sold at retail and such cigarette invoices shall be kept separate and apart.

3. The director may by regulation require every holder of a manufacturer's or state per-

4. Every permit holder shall, when requested by the department, make such additional reports as the department deems necessary and proper and shall at the request of the department furnish full and complete information pertaining to any transaction of the permit holder involving the purchase or sale or use of cigarettes or purchase of cigarette stamps.

5. Every person engaged in the business of selling cigarettes in interstate commerce only, who has, by furnishing the bond required in section 98.14, been permitted to set aside or store cigarettes in this state for the conduct of such interstate business without the stamps affixed thereto, shall be required to keep such records and make such reports to the department as are required by the department.

6. If any distributor or other person fails or refuses to pay any tax, penalties, or cost of audit hereinafter provided, and it becomes necessary to bring suit or to intervene in any manner for the establishment or collection of said claims, in any judicial proceedings, any report filed in the office of the director by such distributor or other person, or his representative, or a copy thereof, certified to by the director, showing the number of cigarettes sold by such distributor or his representative, upon which such tax, penalty or cost of audit has not been paid, or any audit made by the department from the books or records of said distributor or other person when signed and sworn to by the agent of the department making the audit as being made from the records of said distributor or person from or to whom such distributor or other person has bought, received, or delivered cigarettes, whether from a transportation company or otherwise, such report or audit shall be admissible in evidence in such proceedings and shall be prima-facie evidence of the contents thereof; provided, however, that the incorrectness of said report or audit may be shown. The failure to furnish shall be no excuse for the failure to file the same unless an absolute refusal is shown. Said form shall set forth the name under which such distributing agent transacts or intends to transact such business as a distributing agent, the principal office and place of business in Iowa to which the permit is to apply, and if other than an individual, the principal officers or members thereof and their addresses. The director may require any other information in said application. No distributing agent shall engage in such business until such application has been filed and fee in the sum of one hundred dollars paid for the permit and until the permit has been obtained. Such permit shall expire on June 30 following the date of issuance. All of the provisions of the last two paragraphs of section 98.14, relative to bonds, are incorporated herein and by this reference made applicable to distributing agents. [C39,§1556.14; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §98.19]

If such person violates any other provision of this chapter, or any rule promulgated hereunder, the department may revoke the permit issued to said person, after giving such permit holder an opportunity to be heard upon five days' written notice stating the reason for such contemplated revocation and the time and place at which he may appear and be heard. The said hearing shall be held in the county of the permit holder's place of business, or in a county in or through which it transacts business. Such notice shall be given by mailing a copy thereof by certified mail to the permit holder's place of business as the same appears on his application for a permit. 98.45 Licensees, duties.

1. Every distributor shall keep at each licensed place of business complete and accurate records for that place of business, including itemized invoices, of tobacco products held, purchased, manufactured, brought in or caused to be brought in from without the state, or shipped or transported to retailers in this state, and of all sales of tobacco products made, except sales to the ultimate consumer.

When a licensed distributor sells tobacco products exclusively to the ultimate consumer at the address given in the license, no invoice of those sales shall be required, but itemized invoices shall be made of all tobacco products transferred to other retail outlets owned or controlled by that licensed distributor. All books, records and other papers and documents required by this subdivision to be kept shall be preserved for a period of at least one year after the date of the documents, as aforesaid, or the date of the entries thereof appearing in the records, unless the director, in writing, authorized their destruction or disposal at an earlier date. At any time during usual business hours, the director, or his duly authorized agents or employees, may enter any place of business of a distributor, without a search warrant, and inspect the premises, the records required to be kept under this subdivision, and the tobacco products contained therein, to determine whether or not all the provisions of this division are being fully complied with. If the director, or any such agent or employee, is denied free access or is hindered or interfered with in making such examination, the license of the distributor at such premises shall be subject to revocation by the director.

2. Every person who sells tobacco products to persons other than the ultimate consumer shall render with each sale itemized invoices showing the seller's name and address, the purchaser's name and address, the date of sale, and all prices and discounts. He shall preserve legible copies of all such invoices for one year from the date of sale.

3. Every retailer and subjobber shall procure itemized invoices of all tobacco products purchased. The invoices shall show the name and address of the seller and the date of purchase. The retailer and subjobber shall preserve a legible copy of each such invoice for one year from the date of purchase. Invoices shall be available for inspection by the director or his authorized agents or employees at the retailer's or subjobber's place of business.

4. Records of all deliveries or shipments of tobacco products from any public warehouse of first destination in this state which is subject to the provisions of and licensed under chapter 554 shall be kept by the warehouse and be available to the director for inspection. They shall show the name and address of the consignee, the date, the quantity of tobacco products delivered, and such other information as the commissioner may require. These records shall be preserved for one year from the date of delivery of the tobacco products.

5. The transportation of tobacco products into this state by means other than common carrier must be reported to the director within thirty days with the following exceptions:

a. The transportation of not more than fifty cigars, not more than ten ounces of snuff or snuff powder, or not more than one pound of smoking or chewing tobacco or other tobacco products not specifically mentioned herein;

b. Transportation by a person with a place of business outside the state, who is licensed as a distributor under section 98.44, or tobacco products sold by such person to a retailer in this state.

Such report shall be made on forms provided by the director.

Common carriers transporting tobacco products into this state shall file with the director reports of all such shipments other than those which are delivered to public warehouses of first destination in this state which are licensed under the provisions of chapter 554. Such reports shall be filed on or before the tenth day of each month and shall show with respect to deliveries made in the preceding month; the date, point of origin, point of delivery, name of consignee, description and quantity of tobacco products delivered, and such information as the director may otherwise require.

Any person who fails or refuses to transmit to the director the required reports or whoever refuses to permit the examination of the records by the director shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. [C71, 73, §98.45]

98.46 Distributors, monthly returns.

1. On or before the twentieth day of each calendar month every distributor with a place of business in this state shall file a return with the director showing the quantity and wholesale sales price of each tobacco product (a) brought, or caused to be brought, into this state for sale; and (b) made, manufactured or fabricated in this state for sale in this state, during the preceding calendar month. Every licensed distributor outside this state shall in like manner file a return showing the quantity and wholesale sales price of each tobacco product shipped or transported to retailers in this state to be sold by those retailers, during the preceding calendar month. Returns shall be made upon forms furnished and prescribed by the director and shall contain such other information as the director may require. Each return shall be accompanied by a remittance for the full tax liability shown therein, less a discount as fixed by the director not to exceed five percent of the tax.

2. As soon as practicable after any return is filed, the director shall examine each return and correct it, if necessary, according to his best judgment and information. If the director finds that any amount of tax is due from the taxpayer and unpaid, he shall notify the taxpayer of the deficiency, stating that he proposes to assess the amount due together with interest and penalties as hereinafter provided. If a deficiency disclosed by the director's examination cannot be allocated by him to a particular month or months, he shall notify the taxpayer of the deficiency, stating his intention to assess the amount due for a given period without allocating it to any particular month or months. If any taxpayer making any return shall die or shall become incompetent at any time before the director issues his notice that he proposes to assess an amount due, that notice shall be issued to the administrator, executor, or other legal representative, as such, of that taxpayer.

3. If, within twenty days after mailing of notice of the proposed assessment, the taxpayer or his legal representative shall file a protest to said proposed assessment and request a hearing thereon, the director shall give notice to that taxpayer or legal representative of the time and place fixed for the hearing, shall hold a hearing on such protest, and shall issue a final assessment to the taxpayer or legal representative for the amount found to be due as a result of the hearing. This hearing shall be held within forty-five days after filing of the protest. If a protest is not filed within the time herein prescribed, the director shall issue a final assessment to the taxpayer or legal representative, as such. Any such assessment made by the director shall be prima-facie correct and valid, and the taxpayer shall have the burden of establishing its incorrectness or invalidity in any action or proceedings in respect thereto.

4. If any taxpayer required by this division to file any return shall fail to do so within the time prescribed by this division, he shall, on the written demand of the director, file such return within twenty days after the mailing of such written demand and at the same time pay the tax due on the basis thereof. If such taxpayer shall fail within that time to file such return, the director shall make for him a return, from his own knowledge and from such information as he can obtain through testimony, or otherwise, and assess a tax on the basis thereof, which tax shall be paid within ten days after the director has mailed to such taxpayer a written notice of the amount thereof and demand for its payment. Any such return or assessment made by the director on account of the failure of the taxpayer to make a return shall be prima-facie correct and valid, and the taxpayer shall have the burden of establishing its incorrectness or invalidity in any action or proceeding in respect thereto.

5. All taxes shall be due and payable not later than the twentieth day of the month following the calendar month in which they were incurred, and thereafter shall bear interest at the rate of one percent per month.

Where, under the provisions of subsections 2 and 3 of this section, the amount of tax due for a given period is assessed without allocating it to any particular month or months, the interest shall commence to run from the date of such assessment.

The director shall have power to reduce or abate interest when in his opinion the facts warrant such reduction or abatement. The exercise of this power shall be subject to the approval of the attorney general.

6. The director in issuing his final assessment pursuant to subsection 3 shall add to the amount of tax found due and unpaid a penalty of ten percent thereof, except that, if he finds that the taxpayer has made a false and fraudulent return with intent to evade the tax imposed by this division, the penalty shall be twenty-five percent of the entire tax as shown by the return as corrected. The director in assessing a tax on the basis of a return made pursuant to subsection 4 shall add to the amount of tax found due and unpaid a penalty of twenty-five percent thereof.

The director shall have power to abate penalties, when in his opinion their enforcement would be unjust and inequitable. The exercise of this power shall be subject to the approval of the attorney general.

7. The director may recover the amount of any tax due and unpaid, interest, and any penalty in a civil action. The collection of such a tax, interest, or penalty shall not be a bar to any prosecution under this division.

8. On or before the twentieth day of each calendar month, every consumer who, during the preceding calendar month, has acquired title to or possession of tobacco products for use or storage in this state, upon which tobacco products the tax imposed by section 98.43 has not been paid, shall file a return with the director showing the quantity of tobacco products so acquired. The return shall be made upon a form furnished and prescribed by the director, and shall contain such other information as the director may require. The return shall be accompanied by a remittance for the full unpaid tax liability shown by it. [C71, 73, §98.46]

98.47 Refunds, credits. Where tobacco products upon which the tax imposed by this division has been reported and paid, are shipped or transported by the distributor to consumers, to be consumed without the state, or to retailers or subjobbers without the state, to be sold by those retailers, or subjobbers without the state, or are returned to the manufacturer by the distributor or destroyed by the distributor, refund of such tax or credit may be made to the distributor in accordance with regulations prescribed by the director. Any overpayment of the tax imposed under section 98.43 may be made to the taxpayer in accordance with regulations prescribed by the director. The director shall cause any such refund of tax to be paid out of the general revenue fund, and so much of said fund as may be necessary is hereby appropriated for that purpose. [C71, 73, §98.47]

98.48 Investigations and hearings, testimonial powers.

1. The director, or his duly authorized agents, may conduct investigations, inquiries, and hearings for the purpose of enforcing the provisions of this division, and, in connection with such investigations, inquiries, and hearings, he and his duly authorized agents shall have all the powers conferred upon him and his examiners by Iowa statutes, and the provisions of such shall apply to all such investigations, inquiries and hearings.

2. Every hearing conducted under this division shall be preceded by ten days' notice in writing of the subject of the hearing, including, in the case of suspension or revocation, of a license, a statement of the nature of the charges against the licensee. The notice shall be sent by registered mail to the last known address of the licensee or other person involved in the hearing, and the service shall be complete upon mailing. After every hearing the director shall make his findings and his order in writing. The findings and order shall be filed in the office of the director, and a copy sent by mail or otherwise to the person to whom the notice was directed.

3. The director may exchange information with the officers and agencies of other states administering laws relating to the taxation of tobacco products.

4. No person shall be excused from testifying or from producing, pursuant to a subpoena, any books, papers, records or memoranda in any investigation or upon any hearing, upon the ground that the testimony or evidence, documentary or otherwise, may tend to incriminate him or subject him to a criminal penalty, but no person shall be prosecuted or subjected to any criminal penalty for or on account of any transaction made or thing concerning which he may testify or produce evidence, documentary or otherwise, before the director or an employee or agent thereof; provided that such immunity shall extend only to a natural person who, in obedience to a subpoena, gives testimony under oath or produces evidence, documentary or otherwise, pursuant to a subpoena. No person so testifying shall be exempt from prosecution and punishment for perjury committed in so testifying.

5. Any person aggrieved by an order of the director fixing a tax, penalty or interest under section 98.43 may, within thirty days from the date of notice of the order, appeal to the board of review in the manner provided by law. Judicial review of any other action of the director may be sought in accordance with the terms of the Iowa administrative procedure Act. [C71, 73,§98.48; 65GA, ch 1090,§72]

Any such lien imposed while the tax books are in the hands of the auditor shall be immediately entered therein. 99A.2 Intentional possession. The intentional possession or willful keeping of a gambling device upon any licensed premises is cause for the revocation of any license upon the premises where the gambling device is found. Possession by an employee of the licensee on the premises of the licensee shall give rise to the presumption of intentional possession by the licensee.

All licenses of any licensed business shall be revoked if the intentional possession or willful keeping of any such gambling device upon the licensed premises is established, not-

The order to show cause shall be served upon the licensee as an original notice, or by certified mail, not less than eight days before the date fixed for the hearing thereof. A copy of the order shall forthwith be mailed to the owner of the premises, as shown by the records in the office of the county recorder at his last known post-office address. A copy of the order shall at the same time be mailed to any other issuing authority, of which the authority issuing the order to show cause has knowledge, by which other licenses to that licensee may have been issued, and any such other authority may participate in the revocation proceedings after notifying the licensee and the officer or authority holding the hearing of its intention so to do on or before the date of hearing, and after the hearing take such action as it could have taken had it instituted the revocation proceedings in the first instance. [C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §99A.5]

99A.6 Licenses revoked—appeal. If, upon the hearing of the order to show cause, the issuing authority finds that the licensee intentionally possessed or willfully kept upon his licensed premises any gambling device, then the license or licenses under which the licensed business is operated, or used in the operation of such business on the licensed premises, shall be revoked.

Judicial review of actions of the issuing authorities may be sought in accordance with the terms of the Iowa administrative procedure Act. If the licensee has not filed a petition for judicial review in district court, revocation shall date from the thirty-first day following the date of the order of the issuing authority. If the licensee has filed a petition for judicial review, revocation shall date from the thirty-first day following entry of the order of the district court, if action by the district court is adverse to the licensee.

No new license or licenses shall be granted the licensee, nor for the same business if it is established that the owner had actual knowledge of the existence of the gambling devices resulting in the license revocation, upon the same premises, for the period of one year following the date of revocation. [C54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §99A.6; 65GA, ch 1090, §73]

As to any rule the need for compliance with which is conditioned on local factors, the rules shall provide, as a condition precedent to evaluation or issuance of a compliance order, for reasonable notice to the proprietor of the facility affected of intention to evaluate the need and of the time and place at which he may appear and offer evidence thereon. Provided, further, that the size, weight and cargo carried by vehicles used in the transportation or delivery of flammable liquids or liquefied petroleum gas shall be governed by the uniform provisions of the motor vehicle and highway traffic laws of this state and local ordinances therein authorized. The term "explosives" includes all material which is classified as class A, class B, and class C explosives by the United States department of transportation, and includes, but is not limited to, dynamite, black powder, pellet powders, initiating explosives, blasting caps, electric blasting caps, safety fuse, fuse lighters, fuse igniters, squibs, cordeau detonative fuse, instantaneous fuse, igniter cord, igniters, smokeless propellant, cartridges for propellant-actuated power devices and cartridges for industrial guns, but shall not include "fireworks" as defined and regulated pursuant to sections 732.17 through 732.19 nor ammunition or small arms primers manufactured for use in shotguns, rifles, and pistols. Commercial explosives are those explosives which are intended to be used in commercial or industrial operations.

2. "Blasting agent" means any material or mixture consisting of a fuel and oxidizer, intended for blasting but not otherwise classified as an explosive, in which none of the finished products as mixed and packaged for use or shipment can be detonated by means of a number eight test blasting cap when unconfined.

3. "Commercial license" or "license" means a license issued by the commissioner of public safety pursuant to this chapter.

4. "Licensee" means a person holding a commercial license issued by the commissioner of public safety pursuant to this chapter.

5. "User's permit" or "permit" means a permit issued by a county sheriff or chief of police of a city of ten thousand or more population, pursuant to this chapter.

6. "Permittee" means a person holding a user's permit issued pursuant to this chapter.

7. "Import" and "importation" means transfer into the state of Iowa.

8. "Explosive materials" means explosives or blasting agents.

9. "Magazine" means any building or structure, other than an explosives manufacturing building, approved by the commissioner of public safety or his designated agent for the storage of explosive materials.

10. "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, or association. [C73,§101A.1]

101A.2 Commercial license — how issued — violation.

1. The commissioner of public safety shall issue commercial licenses for the manufacture, importation, distribution, sale, and commercial use of explosives to persons who, in the commissioner's discretion are of good character and sound judgment, and have sufficient knowledge of the use, handling, and storage of explosive materials to protect the public safety. Licenses shall be issued for a period of one year, but may be issued for shorter periods, and may be revoked or suspended by the commissioner of public safety for any of the following reasons:

a. Falsification of information submitted in the application for a license.

b. Proof that the licensee has violated any provisions of this chapter or any rules prescribed by the commissioner of public safety pursuant to the provisions of this chapter.

2. Licenses shall be issued by the commissioner of public safety upon payment to him of a fee of sixty dollars, valid for a period of one calendar year, commencing on January 1 and terminating on December 31; however, an initial license may be issued during any calendar year for the number of months remaining in such calendar year, computed to the first day of the month when the application for the license is approved. The license fee shall be charged on a pro rata basis for the number of months remaining in the year of issue. Applications for renewal of licenses shall be submitted within thirty days prior to the license expiration date and shall be accompanied by payment of the prescribed annual fee.

3. Except as permitted in section 101A.3 and sections 101A.9 to 101A.11, it shall be unlawful for any person to willfully manufacture, import, store, detonate, sell, or otherwise transfer any explosive materials unless such person is the holder of a valid license issued pursuant to this section.

4. Commercial dealers having a federal firearms license shall be exempt from the requirement or the commercial license requirement of this chapter for importation, distribution, sale, transportation, storage and possession of smokeless powder propellants or black sporting powder propellants provided that such dealer must conform and comply to rules, or ordinances of federal, state or city authorities having jurisdiction of such powder. 101A.3 User's permit — how issued — violation.

1. User's permits to purchase, possess, transport, store, and detonate explosive materials shall be issued by the sheriff of the county or the chief of police of a city of ten thousand population or more where the possession and detonation will occur. If the possession and detonation are to occur in more than one county or city, then such permits must be issued by the sheriff or chief of police of each of such counties or cities, except in counties and cities in which the explosives are possessed for the sole purpose of transporting them through such counties and cities. A permit shall not be issued unless the sheriff or chief of police having jurisdiction is satisfied that possession and detonation of explosive materials is necessary to the applicant's business or to improve his property. Permits shall be issued only to persons who, in the discretion of the sheriff or chief of police, are of good character and sound judgment, and have sufficient knowledge of the use and handling of explosive materials to protect the public safety. The commissioner of public safety shall prescribe, have printed, and distribute permit application forms to all local permit issuing authorities.

2. The user's permit shall state the quantity of explosive materials which the permittee may purchase, the amount he may have in his possession at any one time, the amount he may detonate at any one time, and the period of time during which the purchase, possession, and detonation of explosive materials is authorized. The permit shall also specify the place where detonation may occur, the location and description of the place where the explosive materials will be stored, if such be the case, and shall contain such other information as may be required under the rules and regulations of the commissioner of public safety. The permit shall not authorize purchase, possession, and detonation of a quantity of explosive materials in excess of that which is necessary in the pursuit of the applicant's business or the improvement of his property, nor shall such purchase, possession, and detonation be authorized for a period longer than is necessary for the specified purpose. In no event shall the permit be valid for more than thirty days from date of issuance but it may be renewed upon proper showing of necessity.

3. The user's permit may be revoked for any of the reasons specified in section 101A.2, subsection 1, for suspension or revocation of a commercial license.

4. It shall be unlawful for a person to willfully purchase, possess, transport, store, or detonate explosive materials unless such person is the holder of a valid permit issued pursuant to this section or a valid license issued pursuant to section 101A.2. [C73,§101A.3]

Referred to in §§101A.2, 101A.14

101A.4 Refusal to grant license or permit—appeal.

1. Judicial review of the action of the commissioner may be sought in accordance with the terms of the Iowa administrative procedure Act.

2. A person who is refused issuance of a user's permit by a local permit issuing authority may appeal the authority's decision to the county board of supervisors or the city council of the county or city where the permit is sought, and de novo to the district court. [C73, §101A.4; 65GA, ch 1090,§80]

Amendment effective July 1, 1975

101A.5 Rules. The commissioner of public safety shall prepare, adopt, and distribute to permit issuing authorities and other interested persons, without cost, rules in accordance with provisions of chapter 17A, pertaining to the manufacture, transportation, storage, possession, and use of explosive materials. Rules adopted by the commissioner of public safety shall be compatible with, but not limited to the National Fire Protection Association's pamphlet number 495 and federal rules pertaining to commerce, possession, storage, and use of explosive materials. Such rules shall:

1. Prescribe reasonable standards for the safe transportation and handling of explosive materials so as to prevent accidental fires and explosions and prevent theft and unlawful or unauthorized possession of explosive materials.

2. Prescribe procedures and methods of inventory so as to assure accurate records of all explosive materials manufactured or imported into the state and records of the disposition of such explosive materials, including records of the identity of persons to whom sales and transfers are made, and the time and place of any loss or destruction of explosive materials which might occur.

3. Prescribe reasonable standards for the safe storage of explosive materials as may be necessary to prevent accidental fires and explosions and prevent thefts and unlawful or unauthorized possession of explosive materials.

4. Require such reports from licensees, permittees, sheriffs, and chiefs of police as may be necessary for the commissioner of public safety to discharge his duties pursuant to this chapter.

5. Prescribe the form and content of license and permit applications.

6. Conduct such inspections of licensees and permittees as may be necessary to enforce the provisions of this chapter. [C73,§101A.5]

101A.6 Notice of storage required. A licensee shall notify the sheriff of the county and the local police authority of any city in which explosive materials will be stored, and shall also notify such authorities when the storage is terminated. [C73,§101A.6; 65GA, ch 1087,§32]

101A.7 Inspection of storage facility. The licensee's or permittee's explosive storage facility shall be inspected at least once every six months by either the sheriff of the county where the facility is located or by the local police authority if the facility is located within a city of over ten thousand population. The facility may be examined at other times by the sheriff if he considers it necessary.

If the sheriff or local police authority find the facility to be improperly secured, the licensee or permittee shall immediately correct the improper security and, if not so corrected, the sheriff or local police authority shall immediately confiscate the stored explosives. If the explosives are confiscated by the local police authority, they shall be delivered to the sheriff. The sheriff shall hold confiscated explosives for a period of thirty days under proper security unless the period of holding is shortened pursuant to this section.

If the licensee or permittee corrects the improper security within such thirty-day period, the explosives shall be returned to the licensee or permittee after he has made such correction and after he has paid into the county fund an amount equal to the expense incurred by the county in storing the explosives during the period of confiscation. The amount of such expense shall be determined by the sheriff.

If the improper security is not corrected during the thirty-day period, the sheriff shall deliver the explosives to the fire marshal for disposal and the license or permit shall be canceled. Such canceled license or permit shall not be reissued for a period of two years from the date of cancellation.

The licensee or permittee may obtain possession of the explosives from the sheriff during the thirty-day period for the purpose of disposing of them. The disposal procedure shall conform to the provisions of section 101A.9. The licensee or permittee shall first pay into the county fund an amount equal to the expense incurred by the county in storing the explosives during the period of confiscation. The amount of the expense shall be determined by the sheriff. [C73,§101A.7]

101A.8 Report of theft or loss required.

Any theft or loss of explosive materials, whether from a storage magazine, a vehicle in which they are being transported, or from a site on which they are being used, or from any other location, shall immediately be reported by the person authorized to possess such explosives to the local police or county sheriff. The local police or county sheriff shall immediately transmit a report of such theft or loss of explosive materials to the commissioner of public safety. [C73,§101A.8]

101A.9 Disposal regulated. No person shall abandon or otherwise dispose of any explosives in any manner which might, as the result of such abandonment or disposal, create any danger or threat of danger to life or property. Any person in possession or control of explosives shall, when the need for such explosives no longer exists, dispose of them in accordance with rules prescribed by the commissioner of public safety. [C73,§101A.9]

peace officer to enforce provisions of this chapter when he is acting pursuant to such authority, however, other agencies of the state or any of its political subdivisions desiring to purchase, possess, transport, or use explosive materials for construction or other purposes shall be required to obtain user's permits. [C73,§101A.10]

101A.11 Explosive materials exempt. This chapter shall not apply to the possession or use of twenty-five pounds or less of smokeless powder, or five pounds or less of black sporting powder, provided that:

1. Smokeless powder is intended for handloading or reloading of ammunition for small arms with bores equivalent to ten gauge or less.

2. Black sporting powder is intended for handloading or reloading ammunition for small arms with bores equivalent to ten gauge or less, loading black ammunition, loading cap and ball revolvers, loading muzzle loading arms, or loading muzzle loading cannon.

3. All such powder is for private use and not for commercial resale, and in the case of black sporting powder or smokeless powder the sharing with or disposition to another person is permitted if otherwise lawful.

4. The storage, use, and handling of smokeless and black powder conforms to rules or ordinances of authorities having jurisdiction for fire prevention and suppression purposes in the area of such storage, use, and handling. [C73,§101A.11]

101A.12 Use of fees. The fees collected by the commissioner of public safety in issuing licenses shall be deposited in a special fund in the state treasury to be used by the commissioner in administering and enforcing the provisions of this chapter. [C73,§101A.12]

103.13 Building inspectors.
103.14 Powers and duties.
103.15 Notice to owner.
103.16 Appeal.
103.17 Violations.
103.18 Conflicting statutes.

103.1 Fire escapes. Every church, school, hotel, theater, amphitheater, asylum, hospital, health care facility as defined in section 135C.1, college or university building, lodge hall, club room, public meeting place, and all other structures in which persons congregate from time to time, whether publicly or privately owned, shall have at least two means of exit from each story. All such buildings shall be equipped with such protection from fire, and means of escape therefrom, as in this chapter provided.

After the thirty-first day of December, 1957, every such new or remodeled building, except private one- or two-family dwellings and farm buildings, shall have at least two means of exit from each story and shall be equipped with such protection from fire, and means of escape therefrom, as in this chapter provided. [SS15,§4999-a6; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1660; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§103.1]

Referred to in §103.3

103.2 Terms defined. The word "building" as used in this chapter shall include all structures or enclosures of each of the classes mentioned or referred to herein. The word "story"

shall include a basement story when such basement story is on the average five feet or more above the ground. The word "exit" shall mean a doorway or doorways or windows, or such doorways together with connecting hallways or stairways, either interior or exterior, or fire escapes, by means of which occupants may proceed safely from a room or space to a street or to a space which provides safe access to a street. Two or more separate exit ways may use the same corridor or hallway. [SS15,§4999-a6; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1661; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§103.2]

103.3 Fire escapes required. In addition to the requirements of section 103.1, every building coming under the provisions of this chapter shall have at least the number of exits of the kind prescribed by law and as determined by the following formula:

Number of exits shall equal C times P.

P equals the average maximum number of persons on the story with the highest number above the first story.

C is a coefficient and is fixed, and shall be taken for the various classes of buildings as follows:

1. Buildings having wooden or combustible walls, C equals .020.
2. Buildings having brick or combustible walls with combustible interior, C equals .014.
3. Buildings having brick or incombustible walls and incombustible roof and slow-burning construction, C equals .012.
4. Buildings of fireproof construction throughout, C equals .007.
5. Buildings of wooden or combustible walls equipped with efficient water sprinkler system, C equals .014.
6. Buildings having brick or incombustible walls with combustible interior equipped with efficient water sprinkler system, C equals .008.
7. Buildings having brick or incombustible walls and incombustible roof and slow-burning construction equipped with efficient water sprinkler system, C equals .006.
8. Fireproof buildings equipped with efficient water sprinkler system, C equals .003.

Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to permit less than two exits from each story of every building except private one- or two-family dwellings and farm buildings. When the result of said formula is two or less than two, the number of exits shall be two. The number of additional exits required shall include any fraction as a unit, except when such fraction shall be thirty-three hundredths or less, in which case the fraction may be dropped if permitted by the inspector. [SS15,§4999-a7; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1662; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§103.3]

103.4 Location of fire escapes and exits. The following regulations as to location of fire escapes and exits are hereby established:

1. The second exit required by law shall be placed as far as possible from the existing inside stairway or passage to the lower floors of the building, taking into account the hazard and the path or route of access to the escape from such stairway.

2. The distance to the nearest fire escape from any inside stairway or passage to the lower floor shall not exceed two hundred feet by way of the path or route of access to such fire escape from such stairway or passage.

3. Additional fire escapes to those otherwise provided by law shall be provided wherever it is necessary to pass within twenty feet of any stairway or elevator shaft from any portion of the building more than twenty feet from such stairway or shaft to reach the fire escape required by the provisions of law and where there are peculiar, unusual, or extreme hazards, additional fire escapes may be required by those authorized by law to regulate and fix the number and requirements of fire escapes.

4. When the inspector shall deem it necessary on account of the height of any building or on account of the number of persons ordinarily occupying said building, either permanently or temporarily in the course of business, such building shall be equipped with a sufficient number of fire escapes to permit the exit of all occupants within the following periods of time:

- a. Buildings with wooden or combustible walls, two minutes.
- b. Buildings having brick or incombustible walls with combustible interior, three minutes.
- c. Buildings having brick or incombustible walls and incombustible roof and slow-burning interior construction, four minutes.
- d. Buildings of fireproof construction throughout, fifteen minutes; or a less period of time if hazard of merchantable contents of such building may so require.

In estimating the period of time required the rate of descent on the fire escapes shall not be taken in excess of one and five-tenths feet of vertical distance, or height, per second, when said fire escapes are fully loaded, which rate of descent shall be estimated to permit the exit of not to exceed one person per second; but the time of complete exit as herein provided may be increased where efficient sprinkler systems are installed, such increase of time to be determined by the character and efficiency of the sprinkling system unless peculiar or unusual hazards exist. [SS15,§4999-a7; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1663; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§103.4]

103.5 How constructed. All fire escapes shall be constructed as described in the following classifications:

Class A. Fire escapes of this class shall consist of those more safe and efficient than outside ladders and stairways and which shall have been approved as such by the state fire marshal, and may include inside stairways and means of escape in fireproof buildings when approved by said fire marshal.

Class B. Fire escapes of this class shall consist of a suitable outside stairway of not less than twenty-two inches clear width of steel or wrought iron constructed with platform and with stationary stairway carried down to within six and one-half feet of the ground, or with a drop or counterbalanced stairway from the second story platform or balcony to the ground.

Class C. Fire escapes of this class shall consist of at least one ladder, not less than eighteen inches in width, of steel or wrought iron construction, of sufficient size and strength for safety, attached to the outside walls of the building and provided with platforms of steel or wrought iron enclosed by suitable railings and of such dimensions and in such proximity to the windows of each story above the first as to render access to the ladder from each story easy and safe, the said ladder to extend to within six and one-half feet of the ground or to be provided with a drop ladder hung at the second story in such a manner that it can be easily lowered for use. [SS15,§4999-a8; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1664; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §103.5]

1. All of the above classes of fire escapes shall be of suitable material, construction, arrangement, and location to make the same safe and efficient and no fire escape of a higher class shall be less safe and efficient than one of a lower class and the provisions of each lower class with respect to platform, access to windows and openings, and sufficiency of strength shall apply to the upper class except where allowed to be modified by those having authority.

2. All fire escapes reaching the top floor shall have suitable extensions reaching from the upper platform to safe landing on the roof of the building; but the state fire marshal may waive this provision when on examination he finds that such ladder would be an element of danger.

3. All fire escapes of any of the foregoing classes shall have such windows or openings leading to the platform or balconies of the same as shall be necessary to make the same safe and efficient, and all routes or paths of access to said fire escapes shall be safe and sufficient, with all doors of rooms leading to fire escapes one-half glass and equipped with mortise latches or equivalent so that the same may be easily and quickly opened by breaking the glass and turning the latches from the inside of the doors, all so as to render access to the fire escape from each floor above the first easy and safe. No window or door leading to the platform of a fire escape shall be fastened against exit.

4. The attachment of all fire escapes shall be made in a thorough and substantial manner and sufficient to carry the full load that may be placed on said fire escapes when the same are crowded, with a factor of safety of not less than four.

5. Suitable signs indicating the location of fire escapes shall be posted at all entrances to elevators, stairways, landings, and in all rooms.

6. In all buildings which are used for lodging or sleeping purposes, and in opera houses, theaters, and public assembly halls, and other buildings occupied or used at night where, in the judgment of the state fire marshal, this provision should apply, red lights shall be maintained at night or when the buildings are darkened, to indicate the place or opening through which access to the fire escape is obtained. Red lights shall not be used for lighting purposes in such buildings at locations where they may be mistaken for an exit light. [SS15,§4999-a8; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1665; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§103.6]

1. Hotels, lodging houses, tenements, apartment buildings, schools, retail or department stores, seminaries, college buildings, office buildings, hospitals, asylums, opera houses, theaters, assembly halls, and factories required by law to be equipped with fire escapes shall be equipped with those of class "A" or class "B". All other buildings and structures required to be equipped with fire escapes shall be equipped with those of class "A", "B" or "C", or with a combination of such classes.

2. Class "C" shall not be used on any building over three stories in height in which more than five persons are at any one time allowed upon any one of the floors above said third story nor where any of the persons allowed upon any floor above the third story are minors; but the state fire marshal may under peculiar conditions and where the hazards are not great:

a. Permit fire escapes of class "C" to be used on buildings of more than three stories, but when ladder fire escapes are permitted on buildings more than three stories in height the ladders thereof must offset at the platforms and must not continue in the same line for more than one story.

b. Permit fire escapes of class "C" or other approved means of escape to be used on an ordinary dwelling of not more than three stories in height and temporarily used in part for lodging purposes when not more than five persons, none of whom are under sixteen years of age, occupy the third floor.

3. Where stairways not less than forty-four inches in clear width are provided they shall be taken as the equivalent of two or more single stairways in proportion to their width, provided the means of escape and efficiency and safety of said escapes are not thereby diminished. 2. Any building or structure constructed in conformance with the provisions of the state building code, shall be deemed to comply with all state, county, and municipal building regulations, and the owner, builder, architect, lessee, tenant, or their agents, or other interested person shall be entitled, upon a showing of compliance with the code, to demand and obtain, upon proper payment being made in appropriate cases, any permit, certificate, authorization, or other required document, the issuance of which is authorized pursuant to any state or local buildings or structure regulation, and it shall be the duty of the appropriate state or local officer having jurisdiction over the issuance to issue the permit, certificate, authorization, or other required document, as provided herein, whenever the code is operative in the governmental subdivision. *Indictment, ch 773

2. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed as abrogating or impairing the power of any governmental subdivision or local building department to enforce the provisions of any building regulations, or the applicable provisions of the state building code, or to prevent violations or punish violators except as otherwise expressly provided in this chapter.

3. The powers enumerated in this chapter shall be interpreted liberally to effectuate the purposes thereof and shall not be construed as a limitation of powers. [C73,§103A.22]

104.3 Promulgation of rules.

1. The commissioner may adopt rules governing maintenance, construction, alteration, and installation of facilities, and the inspection and testing of new and existing installations as necessary to provide for the public safety, and to protect the public welfare.

The commissioner shall adopt, amend, or repeal rules pursuant to chapter 17A as he deems necessary for the execution of his duties under this chapter, which shall include, but not be limited to, rules providing for:

- a. Classifications of types of facilities.
- b. Maintenance, inspection, testing, and operation of the various classes of facilities.
- c. Construction of new facilities.

- e. Minimum safety requirements for all existing facilities.
- f. Control or prevention of access to facilities or dormant facilities.
- g. The reporting of accidents and injuries arising from the use of facilities.
- h. The specification of hearing and appeal procedures used by the commissioner.
- i. Qualifications for obtaining an inspector's license.
- j. The adoption of procedures for the issuance of variances.
- k. The amount of fees charged and collected for inspection, permits, and licenses.

2. Insofar as applicable, rules adopted for facilities installed after January 1, 1975, shall be based on the American National Standard Safety Code for Elevators, Dumbwaiters, Escalators, and Moving Walks, and supplements thereto, A.17.1. The commissioner shall adopt rules for facilities installed prior to January 1, 1975, according to the applicable provisions of such American National Standard Safety Code as he deems necessary. In adopting rules the commissioner may adopt the American National Standard Safety Code, or any part thereof, by reference. Before adopting, amending, or repealing any rule, the commissioner shall hold a public hearing on the proposed rule, amendment or repeal. The commissioner shall notify in writing each permit holder and any other person requesting notification of each hearing at least thirty days in advance of the hearing date. Any interested person may appear and be heard at the hearing in person or by agent or counsel. The commissioner shall give the news media notice of each hearing at least thirty days in advance of the hearing date and shall make available a copy of the proposed rule or amendment to a rule to any person requesting same.

3. The commissioner shall furnish copies of the rules adopted by the commissioner to any person who requests them, without charge, or upon payment of a charge not to exceed the actual cost of printing of the rules. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§1678; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §104.1; 65GA, ch 1118,§3]

tion of facilities, the owner of every existing facility, whether or not dormant, shall register each such facility with the commissioner, giving type, contract load and speed, name of manufacturer, its location and the purpose for which it is used, and such other information as the commissioner may require. Registration shall be made on a form to be furnished by the division upon request. Facilities the construction of which is commenced subsequent to the date of adoption of those rules shall be registered in the manner prescribed by the commissioner. [65GA, ch 1118,§5]

104.6 Inspection of facilities. All new and existing facilities, except dormant facilities, shall be tested and inspected in accordance with the following schedule:

1. Every new or altered facility shall be inspected and tested before the operating permit is issued.

2. Every existing facility registered with the commissioner shall be inspected within one year after the effective date of the registration, except that the commissioner may, at his discretion, extend by rule the time specified for making inspections.

3. Every facility shall be inspected not less frequently than annually.

4. The inspections required by subsections 1 to 3 shall be made only by inspectors or special inspectors. An inspection by a special inspector may be accepted by the commissioner in lieu of a required inspection by an inspector.

5. A report of every inspection shall be filed with the commissioner by the inspector or special inspector, on a form approved by and containing all information required by the commissioner, after the inspection has been completed and within the time provided by rule, but not to exceed thirty days. The report shall include all information required by the commissioner to determine whether the owner of the facility has complied with applicable rules. For the inspection required by subsection 1, the report shall indicate whether the facility has been installed in accordance with the detailed plans and specifications approved by the commissioner, and meets the requirements of the applicable rules.

6. In addition to the inspections required by subsections 1 to 3, the commissioner may provide by rule for additional inspections as he deems necessary to enforce the provisions of this chapter. [65GA, ch 1118,§6]

104.7 Alteration permits. On and after the effective date of rules relating to alterations, detailed plans of each facility to be altered shall be submitted to the commissioner, together with an application for an alteration permit, on forms to be furnished or approved by the commissioner. Repairs or replacements necessary for normal maintenance are not alterations, and may be made on existing installations with parts equivalent in material, strength and design to those replaced and no plans or specifications or application need be filed for such repairs or replacements. However, nothing in this section shall authorize the use of any facility contrary to an order issued pursuant to section 104.10, subsections 2 and 3. [65GA, ch 1118,§7]

104.8 New installation permits. A permit shall be issued by the commissioner before construction on a new installation is begun. The division shall issue a permit for relocation or installation, as applicable, if the plans and specifications indicate compliance with applicable rules.

If such plans and specifications indicate a failure of compliance with applicable rules, the division shall give notice of necessary changes to the person filing the application. After such changes have been made and approved, the division shall issue a permit.

Plans shall be submitted in triplicate and shall be accompanied by an application for the permit on a form to be furnished by the commissioner. The plans shall include:

1. Sectional plan of car and hoistway.

2. Sectional plan of machine room.

3. Sectional elevation of hoistway and machine room, including the pit, bottom and top clearance of car, and counterweight.

4. Size and weight of guide rails, and guide rail bracket spacing.

5. Other information which the division may require. [65GA, ch 1118,§8]

104.9 Operating permits. Operating permits shall be issued by the commissioner to the owner of every facility when the inspection report indicates compliance with the applicable provisions of this chapter. However, no permits shall be issued if the fees required by section 104.14 have not been paid. Permits shall be issued within thirty days after filing of the inspection report required by section 104.6, unless the time is extended for cause by the division. No facility shall be operated after the thirty days or after any extension granted by the commissioner has expired, unless an operating permit has been issued.

The operating permit shall indicate the type of equipment for which it is issued, and in the case of elevators shall state whether passenger or freight, and also shall state the contract load and speed for each facility. The permit shall be posted conspicuously in the car of an elevator, or on or near a dumbwaiter, escalator, moving walk or manlift. [65GA, ch 1118, §9]

1. If an inspection report indicates a failure to comply with applicable rules, or with the detailed plans and specifications approved by the commissioner, the commissioner may, upon giving notice, order the owner thereof to make the changes necessary for compliance.

2. If the owner does not make the changes necessary for compliance as required in subsection 1 within the period specified by the commissioner, the commissioner, upon notice and hearing, may suspend or revoke the operating permit, or may refuse to issue the operating permit for the facility. The commissioner shall notify the owner of any action to suspend, revoke or refuse to issue an operating permit and the reason therefor by certified mail. Any owner who, after hearing before the commissioner, is aggrieved by a suspension, revocation or refusal to issue an operating permit may appeal to the occupational safety and health review commission established under chapter 88. Notice of appeal shall be filed with the occupational safety and health review commission within thirty calendar days from receipt of the notice of the commissioner's action. Any party adversely affected or aggrieved by an order of the occupational safety and health review commission issued under this subsection may obtain a review of such order in the district court of the county in which the facility is located by filing in such court within sixty days following the issuance of such order a written petition that the order be modified or set aside. A copy of such petition shall be forthwith transmitted by the clerk of the court to the occupational safety and health review commission and to all other parties, and thereupon the occupational safety and health review commission shall promptly file in the court the transcript of record in the proceedings. Upon filing of the petition, the court shall have jurisdiction of the proceedings and of the questions determined therein, and shall have power to grant such temporary relief or restraining order as it deems just and proper, and to make and enter upon the pleadings, testimony and proceedings set forth in such record a decree affirming, modifying or setting aside in whole or in part, the order of the occupational safety and health review commission and enforcing the same to the extent that such order is affirmed, modified or denied. No proceedings before the commissioner or his agents, the occupational safety and health review commission or any district court of this state shall be deemed to deny any owner his operating permit until there is a final adjudication of the matter. No objection which has not been urged before the occupational safety and health review commission shall be considered by the court, unless the failure or neglect to urge such objection shall be excused because of extraordinary circumstances. The findings of the occupational safety and health review commission with respect to questions of fact, if supported by substantial evidence on the record considered as a whole, shall be conclusive. The occupational safety and health review commission's copy of the testimony shall be available to all parties for examination at all reasonable times, without cost, and for the purpose of judicial review of the occupational safety and health review commission's orders.

Upon the filing of the record with it, the jurisdiction of the court shall be exclusive and its judgment and decree shall be final, except that the same shall be subject to review by the Iowa supreme court.

3. If the commissioner has reason to believe that the continued operation of a facility constitutes an imminent danger which could reasonably be expected to seriously injure or cause death to members of the public, the commissioner may apply to the district court in the county in which such imminently dangerous condition exists for a temporary order for the purpose of enjoining such imminently dangerous facility. Upon hearing, if deemed appropriate by the court, a permanent injunction may be issued to insure that such imminently dangerous facility be prevented or controlled. Upon the elimination or rectification of such imminently dangerous condition the temporary or permanent injunction shall be vacated. [65GA, ch 1118,§10]

Referred to in §§104.7, 104.11

104.11 Nonconforming facilities. The commissioner, pursuant to rule, may grant exceptions and variances from the requirements of rules adopted for any facility existing on January 1, 1975. Exceptions or variations shall be reasonably related to the age of the facility, and may be conditioned upon a repair or modification of the facility deemed necessary by the commissioner to assure reasonable safety. However, no exception or variance may be granted except to prevent undue hardship, and no exception or variation shall be granted for a period extending beyond five years from the effective date of applicable rules. Such facilities shall be subject to orders issued pursuant to section 104.10. [65GA, ch 1118,§11]

104.12 Access to facilities. Every owner of a facility subject to regulation by this chapter shall grant access to that facility to the commissioner and bureau of labor personnel administering the provisions of this chapter. Inspections shall be permitted at reasonable times, with or without prior notice. [65GA, ch 1118,§12]

104.13 Fees. The commissioner, pursuant to chapter 17A, shall adopt rules to charge and collect fees for inspection, permits and licenses. Fees may be set by rule not more than once each year, and shall be effective from the first day of January next following the date of adoption of the rule. Fees established by the commissioner shall be based upon the costs of administering the provisions of this chapter, and shall give due regard to the time spent by bureau of labor personnel in performing duties, and to any travel expenses incurred. Before adopting any rule to establish or increase any fees for inspection, permits or licenses, the commissioner shall hold a public hearing on the proposed rule or amendment. The commissioner shall notify in writing each permit holder and any other person requesting notification of each hearing at least thirty days in advance of the hearing date. Any interested person may appear and be heard at the hearing in person or by agent or counsel. [65GA, ch 1118,§13]

104.14 Continuing duty of owner. Every facility shall be maintained by the owner in a safe operating condition and in conformity with the rules adopted by the commissioner. [65GA, ch 1118,§14]

104.15 Inspections by local authorities. No city or other governmental subdivision shall make or maintain any ordinance, bylaw or resolution providing for the licensing of special inspectors. An ordinance or resolution relating to the inspection, construction, installation, alteration, maintenance or operation of facilities within the limits of the city or governmental subdivision, which conflicts with this chapter or with rules adopted by the commissioner is void. The commissioner, in his discretion, may accept inspections by local authorities in lieu of inspections required by section 104.6, but only upon a showing by the local authority that applicable laws and rules will be consistently and literally enforced, and that inspections will be performed by special inspectors. [65GA, ch 1087,§32, ch 1118,§15]

Amendment effective July 1, 1975

104.16 Prosecution of offenses. The division shall cause prosecution for the violation of the provisions of this chapter to be instituted by the attorney general in the county in which the violation occurred. [65GA, ch 1118,§16]

104.17 Penalties.

1. Any owner who violates any of the provisions of this chapter shall be punished for each offense by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment for not more than thirty days in the county jail, unless otherwise specifically provided in this chapter.

2. Any person who bribes or attempts to bribe an inspector shall be subject to criminal proceedings under section 739.1. [65GA, ch 1118,§17]

104.18 Short title. This chapter shall be known as the "Iowa State Elevator Code". [65GA, ch 1118,§19]

104A.6 Conforming standards.

104A.1 Intent of chapter. It is the intent of this chapter that standards and specifications are followed in the construction of public and private buildings and facilities which are intended for use by the general public to ensure that these buildings and facilities are accessible to and functional for the physically handicapped. Notwithstanding the standards set forth in section 104A.6, in every multiple-dwelling-unit building containing five or more individual dwelling units the requirements of this chapter which apply to apartment units shall be met by at least one dwelling unit or by at least ten percent of the dwelling units, whichever is the greater number, on the ground floor level and on each of the other

floor levels in the building which are accessible to the physically handicapped. [C66, 71, 73,§104A.2; 65GA, ch 1119,§2]

104A.3 Requirements. Whenever any building or facility as described in section 104A.2 is constructed, provision shall be made in the construction that:

1. The site on which the facility is constructed shall be graded so that the ground shall attain a level with at least one normal entrance which shall make the facility accessible to individuals with handicaps.

2. At least one public walk to the primary entrance at grade level as described in subsection 1 of this section shall be accessible for individuals with physical handicaps. Such walk shall be at least forty-eight inches wide, shall have a gradient not greater than five percent, shall be of a continuing common surface, and shall not be interrupted by steps or abrupt changes in level.

Every undocumented vessel on the waters of this state under the jurisdiction of the state conservation commission and waters specifically delegated to local authorities shall be numbered. No person shall operate, maintain or give permission for the operation or maintenance of any such vessel on such waters unless the vessel is numbered in accordance with this chapter or in accordance with applicable federal laws or in accordance with a federally approved numbering system of another state and unless the certificate of number awarded to such vessel is in full force and effect and the identifying number set forth in the certificate of number is displayed on each side of the bow of such vessel. [C97,§2512; S13,§2512; C24, 27, 31,§1692; C35,§§1703-e2, 1703-e7; C39,§§1703.02, 1703.07; C46, 50, 54, 58,§§106.2, 106.7; C62, 66, 71, 73, §106.4; 65GA, ch 1121,§1]

1. The owner of each vessel required to be numbered by this state shall register it every two years with the county recorder of the county in which the owner resides, or, if the owner is a nonresident, he shall register it in the county in which such vessel is principally used. The commission shall have supervisory responsibility over the registration of all vessels and shall provide each county recorder with registration forms and certificates and shall allocate identification numbers to each county.

The owner of such vessel shall file an application for registration with the appropriate county recorder on forms provided by the commission. The application shall be completed and signed by the owner of the vessel and shall be accompanied by a fee of eight dollars for each motorboat or sailboat, four dollars for any other vessel without sail or motor, and a writing fee of fifty cents. Upon receipt of the application in approved form accompanied by the required fees, the county recorder shall enter the same upon the records of his office and shall issue to the applicant a pocket-size registration certificate. The certificate shall be executed in triplicate, one copy to be delivered to the owner, one copy to the commission, and one copy to be retained on file by the county recorder. The registration certificate shall bear thereon the number awarded to such vessel, the passenger capacity of such vessel and the name and address of the owner. The registration certificate shall be carried either in the vessel or on the person of the operator of such vessel when in use.

The owner shall cause the identification number to be painted on or attached to each side of the bow of the vessel in such size and manner as may be prescribed by the rules of the commission and shall be maintained in a legible condition at all times.

No number, other than the number awarded to a vessel under the provisions of this chapter or granted reciprocity pursuant to this chapter, shall be painted, attached or otherwise displayed on either side of the bow of such vessel.

The owner of each vessel must display and maintain, in a legible manner and in a prominent spot on the exterior of such vessel, other than the bow, the passenger capacity of the vessel which must conform with the passenger capacity designated on the registration certificate.

2. When an agency of the United States government shall have in force an overall system of identification numbering for vessels, the numbering system prescribed by the commission pursuant to this chapter, shall be in conformity therewith.

3. Every registration certificate and number issued hereunder shall become delinquent at midnight April 30, 1975, and every two years thereafter unless sooner terminated or discontinued in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. After the first day of January in odd-numbered years any unregistered vessels and renewals of registrations may be so registered for the subsequent biennium beginning May 1. After the first day of January in even-numbered years any unregistered motorboat or sailboat may be registered at the rate of four dollars and any other unregistered vessel without sail or motor may be registered at the rate of two dollars for the remainder of the current biennium, plus a writing fee of fifty cents for each registration. All registrations shall become delinquent as hereinabove stated. Registration certificates and numbers may be renewed upon application of the owner in the same manner as provided for in securing the original registration.

If a timely application for renewal is made, the applicant shall receive the same registration number allocated to him for the previous registration period. If the application for registration for the biennium is not made before May 1 of each odd-numbered year, the applicant shall be charged a penalty of one dollar for each six months, or any portion thereof, he is delinquent. Provided, however, that if the registration is not renewed for two consecutive registration periods, the number of said delinquent registration may be assigned to another applicant, and upon application for registration by said delinquent registrant, he shall be assigned a new registration number and shall not be charged any penalties.

4. Whenever any person, after registering a vessel, moves from the address shown on the registration certificate, he shall, within ten days, notify the county recorder in writing of his old and new address. If appropriate, the county recorder shall forward all past records of such vessel to the recorder of the county in which the owner resides.

Whenever the name of any person, who has registered a vessel, is thereafter changed, he shall, within ten days, notify the county recorder of such former and new name.

No fee shall be paid to the county recorder for making the aforementioned changes, unless the owner requests a new registration certificate showing the change, in which case a fee of one dollar plus a twenty-five-cent writing fee shall be paid to the recorder.

If a registration certificate is lost, mutilated or becomes illegible, the owner shall immediately make application for and obtain a duplicate registration certificate by furnishing information satisfactory to the county recorder.

A fee of one dollar plus a twenty-five-cent writing fee shall be paid to the county recorder for a duplicate registration certificate.

If a vessel, registered under the provisions of this chapter, is destroyed or abandoned, such destruction or abandonment shall be reported to the county recorder and the registration certificate shall be forwarded to the office of the county recorder within ten days after such destruction or abandonment.

5. All records of the commission and the county recorder, other than those declared by law to be confidential for the use of the commission and the county recorder, shall be open to public inspection during office hours. [C39, §§1703.16, 1703.22; C46, 50, 54, 58, §§106.16, 106.22; C62, 66, 71, 73, §106.6]

He shall also give his name, address and identification of his vessel in writing to any person injured and to the owner of any property damaged in the collision, accident or other casualty.

2. Whenever any vessel is involved in a collision, accident or casualty, except one which results only in property damage not exceeding one hundred dollars, a report thereof shall be filed with the commission. The report shall be filed by the operator of the vessel and shall contain such information as the commission may, by rule, require. Said report shall be submitted without delay in death or disappearance cases and within five days in all other cases.

3. Every law enforcement officer who, in the regular course of duty, investigates an occurrence which is required to be reported by this section, shall, after completing such investigation, forward a report of such occurrence to the commission.

4. All reports shall be in writing, and the written report shall be without prejudice to the individual so reporting and shall be for the confidential use of the commission. Provided however, upon the request of any person involved in an occurrence covered under the provisions of this section, or the attorney for such person, the commission shall disclose the identity of the person involved in the occurrence and his address. A written report filed with the commission shall not be admissible in or used in evidence in any civil action arising out of the facts on which the report is based.

5. Failure of the operator of any vessel involved in a collision, reportable accident, or other casualty, to offer assistance and aid to other persons affected by such collision, accident, or casualty, as set forth in this chapter, shall be punishable by a fine of not more than one thousand dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail for not more than one year, or both. [C39, §§1703.21, 1703.23; C46, 50, 54, 58, §§106.21, 106.23; C62, 66, 71, 73, §106.7; 65GA, ch 154, §1]

The said side lights shall be fitted with inboard screens of sufficient height so set as to prevent these lights from being seen across the bow.

c. Vessels of classes I and II, when propelled by sail alone, shall carry the combined lantern, but not the white light aft prescribed by this section. Vessels of classes III and IV when so propelled, shall carry the colored side lights, suitably screened, but not the white lights required by this section.

The operator of a motorboat, while engaged in such race, must wear a crash helmet and life preserver.

9. Every motorboat shall have the carburetor or carburetors of every engine therein, except outboard motors, using a liquid of a volatile nature as fuel, equipped with such efficient flame arrestor, backfire trap or other similar device as may be prescribed by the rules and regulations of the commission.

Every such owner shall file in the office of the commission, an application for inspection of such vessels on a blank furnished by the commission for that purpose.

Officers appointed by the commission shall have the power and authority to determine whether such vessel is safe for the transportation of passengers or cargo and upon what waters it may be used. They may determine and designate the number of passengers or cargo, including crew, that may be carried and determine whether the machinery, equipment and all appurtenances are such as to make said vessels seaworthy, where used, and such other matters as are pertinent.

After such vessels have been inspected as provided herein, a current inspection seal or tag shall be issued by the commission and shall be kept posted in a conspicuous place upon or in such vessel. Any inspection seal or tag shall be in effect only for the calendar year for which the inspection seal or tag is issued.

Private vessels may also be inspected to determine their seaworthiness at any time by representatives of the commission. [C97, §§2511, 2512, 2513; S13, §§2512, 2513; C24, 27, 31, §§1691, 1692, 1694; C35, §§1703-e1-e3, 1703-e5; C39, §§1703.01-1703.03, 1703.05; C46, 50, 54, 58, §§106.1-106.3, 106.5; C62, 66, 71, §§106.19, 106.20; C73, §106.20]

Such fee shall be computed at the rate of fifty cents per person capacity, except rowboats, but shall be not less than one dollar and shall not exceed the maximum of twenty dollars. The fee for inspecting rowboats shall be one dollar per boat.

The annual fee for pilot's license is one dollar.

The provisions of this section shall be applicable to all vessels which are rented to the public for hire, including vessels furnished with leased cottages. If such vessels are found to be in satisfactory condition, the inspecting officer shall attach thereto a small plate or inspection seal, indicating the date of inspection and the passenger-carrying capacity. The owner of such vessel shall not offer it for hire or allow it to be so used until such inspection has been made and the vessel found to be in satisfactory condition.

There shall be no fee charged for the inspection of private vessels not used for hire.

The inspecting officer shall collect all inspection fees and forward them to the commission.

All fees collected shall be forwarded by the commission to the treasurer of the state, who shall place such money in a conservation fund. A pilot's license is required for any person who has charge of the steering or directing of the vessel's course or who does the steering or directs the vessel's course. An engineer's license is required for all operators who have charge of or operate the equipment by which the boat is propelled. If one person acts in a dual or alternate capacity, he shall first obtain both an engineer's and pilot's license.

Any person desiring a pilot's or engineer's license shall file an application with the commission upon forms prepared and furnished by the commission. Such license may be issued by the commission only upon recommendation of an officer duly authorized by the commission. Before the officer recommends such a license, he shall investigate the competency of the applicant, his acquaintance with and experience in boat work, his habits as to sobriety, his mental and physical qualifications for the work, his acquaintance with the waters for which application to operate upon is made, his familiarity with the laws and regulations pertaining to the vessel operation and all other pertinent matters. 1. The commission may upon its own motion and after an investigation, alter, limit, or restrict the methods or means employed and the instruments or equipment used in taking deer, raccoon, wild turkey, trout or rough fish, if the investigation reveals that such action would be desirable or beneficial in promoting the interests of conservation, or the commission may, after an investigation when it is found there is imminent danger of loss of fish through natural causes, authorize the taking of fish by such means as they may deem advisable to salvage such imperiled fish populations.

2. If following an investigation the commission finds that the number of hunters licensed to take deer or wild turkey should be limited or further regulated, the commission shall conduct a drawing to determine which applicants shall receive a license. If the quota has not been filled, licenses shall then be issued in the order in which such applications are received and shall continue to be issued until such quota has been met or until a date fifteen days prior to the opening day of the season, whichever first occurs. If an applicant fails to receive a deer license by either of the methods provided herein, such applicant shall receive a certificate at the time his application and monetary remittance is returned to him which shall entitle him to a license the following year before the drawing is conducted by the commission. 109.39 Biological balance maintained. The open seasons, closed seasons, bag limits, size limits, catch limits, possession limits and territorial limitations set forth herein pertaining to fish, game and various species of wildlife are based upon a proper biological balance as hereinafter defined being maintained for each species or kind. The seasons, catch limits, bag limits, size limits, possession limits and territorial limitations set forth herein shall prevail and be in force and effect for each and every species of wildlife to which they pertain as long as the biological balance for each species or kind remain such as to assure the maintenance of an adequate supply of such species. The commission is designated the sole agency to determine the facts as to whether such biological balance does or does not exist. If the commission, after investigation finds that the number or the number and sex of each or any species or kind of wildlife is at variance to aforesaid condition, the commission shall, by administrative rule, extend, shorten, open or close seasons and set, increase or reduce catch limits, bag limits, size limits, possession limits, or territorial limitations in accordance with said findings. For the purpose of this section biological balance is defined as that condition when all losses to population are compensated by natural reproductive activity or artificial replenishment, replacement or stocking.

If the commission finds that the biological balance of deer cannot be maintained on land owned by the federal government because of hunting prohibitions on weekdays, the commission may extend the open season for deer hunting within such areas for one or more weekends beyond the regular season as established by the commission. The total number of days of deer hunting permitted in areas owned by the federal government shall not exceed the total number of days authorized for deer hunting in the state, or that part of the state in which the federal-owned land is located, as established by the commission. 110A.2 Boundaries posted.

110A.4 Manner of release—records.

110A.5 Tags and other markings.

110A.6 Seasons—hunting license.

110A.7 Special wardens.

110A.8 License refusal.

110A.9 Violations—penalty.

110A.1 License requirements. Any person owning, holding or controlling by lease or otherwise, which possession must be for a term of five or more years, any contiguous tract of land having an area of not less than three hundred twenty acres, and not more than twelve hundred eighty acres, and providing that there shall be no more than one such area in any township and that not more than three percent of the land area of any county shall be so licensed, who desires to establish a game breeding and shooting preserve area, to propagate, preserve and shoot game birds thereon under the regulations as hereinafter provided, shall make application to the state conservation commission for a license as herein provided. Such application shall be made under oath of the applicant or under oath of one of its principal officers if the applicant is an association, club or corporation. The application shall be accompanied by a license fee of fifty dollars. Upon receipt of such application, the state conservation commission shall inspect the proposed licensed area described in such application and the premises and facilities where game birds are to be propagated, raised or liberated and the cover for game birds in such area and the ability of the applicant to operate a property of this character. If the commission finds that the area contains not less than three hundred twenty acres and not more than twelve hundred eighty acres, is contiguous, there is no other licensed area in the township and that the licensing of the proposed area will not exceed the three percent county limitation, and has the proper requirements for the operation of such a property; that the game birds propagated or released thereon are not likely to be a menace to other game; that the proposed area will not interfere with the normal activities of migratory birds; that the operation of such property will not work a fraud upon persons who may be permitted to hunt thereon; and that the issuing of the license will otherwise be in the public interest; the commission shall approve such application and issue a game breeding and shooting preserve area license for the operation of such property on the tract described in such application with the rights and subject to the limitations in this chapter prescribed. All game breeding and shooting preserve area licenses expire on March 31 of each year. [C58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §110A.1]

110A.2 Boundaries posted. Upon receipt of such license, the licensee shall promptly post such licensed areas at intervals of not more than five hundred feet with signs to be prescribed by the commission. The boundaries of such licensed game breeding and shooting preserve areas shall also be clearly defined by natural or artificial boundaries or by signs. [C58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §110A.2]

110A.3 What birds released. The licensee of any licensed game breeding and shooting preserve area may take, or authorize to be taken within the season hereinafter fixed and designated, and in such numbers as herein provided:

Pen-reared game birds, as defined in section 109.41, released on licensed area may be taken during the shooting season provided in this chapter but not to exceed eighty percent of the total number of the species of said game birds released. Pen-reared waterfowl, two generations removed from the wild and chukar partridge may be released at any time of year for shooting purposes and one hundred percent may be harvested by shooting. The word waterfowl shall be defined as those birds constituting the Anatidae as listed in section 109.41. All birds so released shall be at least twelve weeks of age before liberation date. A minimum of one hundred pen-reared birds of each species to be shot shall be released during the open season. Experimental releases of less than one hundred birds of each species shall require a special permit from the conservation commission. [C58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §110A.3]

110A.4 Manner of release—records. For the purpose of this chapter, game birds shall be released upon licensed game breeding and shooting preserve areas in a manner satisfactory to the commission. The licensee shall keep a register which shall clearly show the number and kind of game birds released and propagated each year, the date of release, and also the number and kind of game birds taken, the date when taken and the disposition made of such game birds, and shall make such reports under oath as to game birds released, propagated and taken, at such times and in such manner as may be required by the commission. The commission shall keep an adequate record of the number of birds released and propagated on each licensed game breeding and shooting preserve area in each year and of the birds taken. [C58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §110A.4]

110A.5 Tags and other markings. The commission shall prepare special tags suitable for use upon legs of game birds, which tags shall be of a type not removable without breaking and mutilating the tag, such tags, to be used to designate birds taken upon a licensed game breeding and shooting preserve area. Upon application and payment of a fee of five cents for each such tag, the commission shall furnish licensees with such tags; provided that the commission shall not in any year furnish any licensee a number of tags in excess of the number of game birds which may lawfully be taken from such licensed area as hereinbefore provided. One of such tags shall be securely affixed to one of the legs of each game bird taken before removing same from such licensed area, and such tag shall remain upon the leg of such game bird until such bird is finally prepared for consumption.

All waterfowl released for shooting purposes shall be marked in a manner prescribed by the state conservation commission so as to provide for permanent identification. [C58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §110A.5]

110A.6 Seasons—hunting license. No person shall take any game bird upon a game breeding and shooting preserve area, by shooting in any manner, except between September 1, and March 31, of each year, both dates inclusive.

Waterfowl may not be shot over any water area wherein pen-reared birds might serve as live decoys for wild waterfowl.

Every person taking game birds upon such licensed game breeding and shooting preserve area shall secure a hunting license so to do in accordance with the provisions of the game laws of Iowa, with the exception that a non-resident may secure a hunting license restricted to shooting preserve areas for a license fee of five dollars per year. [C58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §110A.6]

110A.7 Special wardens. The commission may designate any operator of a licensed game breeding and shooting preserve area or any of his or its agents or employees as a special representative of the commission with power to enforce the game laws and to prevent trespassing upon such property and to hunt and trap rodents and other mammals or birds which are destroying or likely to destroy the game birds raised or liberated on such area.

Such special representative shall be subject to rules and regulations to be prescribed by the commission and shall serve without compensation from the commission. [C58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§110A.7]

110A.8 License refusal. The commission may either refuse to issue or refuse to renew or may suspend or may revoke any game breeding and shooting preserve area license if the commission finds that such licensed area or the operator thereof is not complying or does not comply with the provisions of this chapter, or that such property, or area is operated in violation of other provisions of

110A.9 Violations — penalty. Any licensee or any other person, who willfully and intentionally transfers or permits the transfer of the tags issued to the operator of one licensed game breeding and shooting preserve area to the operator of another licensed game breeding and shooting preserve area, or to any other person, or who affixes such tags to game birds not taken from a licensed game breeding and shooting preserve area or to game birds taken from any area other than the area for which such tags were issued, is guilty of a misdemeanor. [C66, 71, 73, §111.74]

111.75 Condemnation of land. Whenever a permit has been granted as provided in section 111.70 and the state conservation commission finds that the municipality or corporation owning such permit cannot acquire at a reasonable cost any necessary land or interest therein, the state conservation commission, with the approval of the executive council, may condemn such land or interest therein as provided in chapter 472. However, such condemnation shall be limited to land and interests therein which will be permanently subject to and available for free public access and use, as provided in section 111.71, or which will be required for a dam or other facilities necessary for the water recreational area. All costs of such condemnation, including all costs occasioned by appeal as set out in section 472.33, and including the award and compensation for such land or interest therein, shall be paid by such municipality or corporation. The state conservation commission may permit such municipality or corporation to use such land or interest therein for the purposes of this division, upon such terms, conditions and restrictions as the state conservation commission shall determine to be just and proper and for free public access and use. Such contracts or agreements shall be in writing and may be made prior to or after the establishment of a water recreational area. If made prior to the establishment of a water recreational area they may be made conditional upon the final establishment of such area and if conditional upon such final establishment may be entered into prior to the hearing provided for in section 111.63.

Such contracts or agreements may embrace any of the following subjects:

1. For the impoundment of drainage waters to create artificial lakes or ponds.

5. For the control of water levels in lakes, ponds or impoundments of water to avoid damage to or malfunction of drainage facilities.

6. For the construction of additional drainage facilities promoting the interests of either or both of the contracting parties.

7. For the granting of easements or licenses by one party to the other.

8. For the payment of money by one contracting party to the other in consideration of acts or performance of the other party required by such contract or agreement.

When any expenditure of levee or drainage district funds is proposed by the authority contained in this section and where the estimated expenditure will exceed fifty percent of the original total cost of the district and subsequent improvements therein as defined by section 455.135, the same procedure respecting notice and hearing shall be followed as is provided in said section 455.135, for repair proposals where the estimated cost of the repair exceeds fifty percent of the original total cost of the district and subsequent improvements therein. [C66, 71, 73, §111.76]

111.77 Prohibited near borders of state. In order to reduce the possibility of affecting conservation measures to flood control projects which may be in progress in other states, water recreational areas shall not be established hereunder within seventy miles of the border of any other state. [C66, 71, 73, §111.77]

111.78 Method not exclusive. This division shall not be the exclusive method for establishing a water recreational area. [C66, 71, 73, §111.78]

In acquiring or accepting land, due consideration shall be given to its scenic, historic, archaeological, recreational or other special features, and no land shall be acquired or accepted which in the opinion of the board and the state conservation commission is of low value from the standpoint of its proposed use.

3. The county conservation board shall file with and obtain approval of the state conservation commission on all proposals for acquisition of land, and all general development plans and programs for the improvement and maintenance thereof before any such program is executed. Approval of the state conservation commission shall not be necessary unless the cost of the proposed acquisition or development program exceeds twenty-five hundred dollars.

5. To accept in the name of the county gifts, bequests, contributions and appropriations of money and other personal property for conservation purposes.

6. To employ and fix the compensation of an executive officer who shall be responsible to the county conservation board for the carrying out of its policies. The said executive officer shall have the power, subject to the approval of said board, to employ and fix the compensation of such assistants and employees as may be deemed necessary for carrying out the purposes and provisions of this chapter, but not in excess of those paid state conservation officers and employees for like services.

7. To charge and collect reasonable fees for the use of such facilities, privileges and conveniences as may be provided and for admission to amateur athletic contests, demonstrations and exhibits and other noncommercial events.

8. To operate concessions or to lease concessions and to let out and rent privileges in or upon any property under its control upon such terms and conditions as are deemed by it to be in the public interest.

9. To participate in watershed projects of soil conservation districts and the federal government and in projects of drainage districts organized under the provisions of chapters 455, 457, 461, 466 and 467C for the purpose of increasing the recreational resources of the county.

11. To appropriate from the county conservation fund created pursuant to section 111A.6 an amount, not to exceed two thousand dollars per annum, for the use of a local, nonprofit historical society, organized pursuant to chapter 504 or 504A, for the purpose of collecting and preserving historical materials of the area, maintaining a historical library and collections, conducting historical studies and researches, issuing publications, providing public lectures of historical interest, and otherwise disseminating a knowledge of the history of the area to the general public. If such appropriation is made, the historical society shall present to the county conservation board an annual report describing in detail its use of the funds appropriated. 111A.5 Rules and regulations—officers. The county conservation board may make, alter, amend or repeal rules and regulations for the protection, regulation and control of all museums, parks, preserves, parkways, playgrounds, recreation centers, and other property under its control. No rules and regulations adopted shall be contrary to, or inconsistent with, the laws of the state of Iowa. Such rules and regulations shall not take effect until ten days after their adoption by said board and after their publication once a week for two weeks in at least one paper circulating in the county and after a copy thereof has been posted near each gate or principal entrance to the public ground to which they apply. After such publication and posting, any person violating any provision of such rules and regulations which are then in effect shall, upon conviction, be fined not more than one hundred dollars or be imprisoned in the county jail not more than thirty days. The board may designate the executive officer and such employees as he may designate as police officers who shall have all the powers conferred by law on police officers, peace officers, or sheriffs in the enforcement of the laws of the state of Iowa and the apprehension of violators thereof. 111A.6 Funds — tax levy — gifts — anticipatory bonds. Upon the adoption of any county of the provisions of this chapter, the county board of supervisors of such county may by resolution appropriate an amount of money from the general fund of the county for the payment of expenses incurred by the county conservation board in carrying out its powers and duties, and it may levy or cause to be levied an annual tax, in addition to all other taxes, of not more than twenty-seven cents per thousand dollars of the assessed value of all real and personal property subject to taxation within such county, upon proper certification by said county conservation board made pursuant to and in compliance with all of the provisions of chapter 24, which tax shall be collected by the county treasurer as other taxes are collected, and shall be paid into a separate and distinct fund to be known as the county conservation fund, to be paid out upon the warrants drawn by the county auditor upon requisition of the county conservation board for the payment of expenses incurred in carrying out the powers and duties of said conservation board. The county conservation board shall have no power or authority to contract any debt or obligation in any year in excess of the moneys in the hands of the county treasurer immediately available for such purposes, except the board of supervisors may authorize deferred payments for land acquisition purchases not to exceed one-fourth of the annual conservation fund levy nor to extend over a period of ten years. Any single expenditure of, or contract to expend, a sum of five thousand dollars shall be subject to the provisions of chapter 23. Gifts, contributions and bequests of money and all rent, licenses, fees and charges and other revenue or money received or collected by the board shall be deposited in the county conservation fund to be used for the purchase of land, property and equipment and the payment of expenses incurred in carrying out the activities of the board, except that moneys given, bequeathed, or contributed upon specified trusts shall be held and applied in accordance with the trust specified.

In order to make immediately available to the county conservation board the proceeds of the annual tax hereinbefore authorized to be levied for recreation and conservation purposes, bonds of any county may be issued in anticipation of the collection of such tax in the manner hereinafter provided. Upon the filing of a petition by the conservation board with the county board of supervisors asking that bonds be issued in a specified amount for the purpose of paying the cost of acquiring land and developing the same for public museum, park, parkway, preserve, playground, or other recreation or conservation purposes within the county, then the board of supervisors may call a special election to be held in the county to vote on the proposition of issuing such bonds. Notice of such election shall be published once each week for at least four consecutive weeks in one of the official county newspapers, and the election shall be held on a day not less than five nor more than twenty days after the last publication of such notice. Voting machines may be used for the purpose of voting on said proposition or, in the discretion of the board of supervisors, the proposition may be submitted to the voters on paper ballots. The proposition shall be submitted in substantially the following form:

The expenses incurred in connection with the conduct of such election shall be paid by the conservation board from the county conservation fund. If the vote in favor of issuing the bonds is equal to at least sixty percent of the total votes cast for and against the proposition, the board of supervisors shall issue the bonds in the amount voted, and shall provide for the levy of an annual tax, within the limits of the special tax hereinbefore authorized, sufficient to pay said bonds and the interest thereon as the same respectively become due. Said bonds shall mature in not more than twenty years, shall bear interest at a rate or rates not exceeding seven percent per annum, shall be in such form as the board of supervisors shall by resolution provide, and shall be payable as to both principal and interest from the proceeds of the annual levy of the tax hereinbefore authorized to be levied for recreation and conservation purposes, or so much thereof as will be sufficient to pay the principal thereof and interest thereon, and prior to the authorization and issuance of such bonds the board of supervisors may, with or without notice, negotiate and enter into an agreement or agreements with any bank, investment banker, trust company or insurance company or group thereof whereunder the marketing of such bonds may be assured and consummated. The proceeds of such bonds shall be deposited in a special fund, to be kept separate and apart from all other funds of the county, and shall be paid out upon warrants drawn by the county auditor upon requisition of the conservation board to pay the cost of acquiring land and developing the same for recreation and conservation purposes as specified in the election proposition.

Nothing herein contained shall be construed to limit the authority of the board of supervisors to levy the full recreation and conservation tax, but if and to whatever extent said tax is levied in any year in excess of the amount of the principal and interest falling due in such year on said bonds, the first available proceeds thereof, to an amount sufficient to meet maturing installments of principal and interest on such bonds, shall be paid into the sinking fund for such bonds before any of such taxes are deposited in the county conservation fund or are otherwise made available to the county conservation board, and the amount required to be annually set aside to pay the principal of and interest on the bonds shall constitute a first charge upon all of the proceeds of such annual special tax, which tax shall be pledged to pay said bonds and the interest thereon.

This law shall be construed as supplemental and in addition to existing statutory authority and as providing an independent method of financing the cost of acquiring land and developing the same for public museum, park, parkway, preserve, playground, or other recreation or conservation purposes, and for the issuance and sale of bonds in connection therewith, and shall not be construed as subject to the provisions of any other law. The aggregate amount of bonds issued and outstanding at any time hereunder shall not exceed one million dollars in any single county. The fact that a county may have bonds previously issued and outstanding under authority of this law shall not prevent such county from issuing additional bonds hereunder, provided that the aggregate amount of such bonds does not exceed the maximum hereinbefore established. All acts and proceedings heretofore taken by any county conservation board or board of supervisors for the exercise of any of the powers herein granted are hereby legalized and validated in all respects. The board's interest or interests in any area designated as a preserve shall not be taken under the condemnation statutes of this state without such a finding of imperative and unavoidable public necessity by the board, and with the consent of the state conservation commission and the governor.

The board, with the approval of the governor, may enter into amendments to any articles of dedication upon its finding that such amendment will not permit an impairment, disturbance, or development of the area inconsistent with the purposes of this chapter.

Before the board shall make a finding of imperative and unavoidable public necessity, or shall enter into any amendment to articles of dedication, it shall provide notice of such proposal and opportunity for any person to be heard. Such notice shall be published at least once in a newspaper with a general circulation in the county or counties wherein the area directly affected is situated, and mailed within ten days of such published notice to all persons who have requested notice of all such proposed actions. Designation of an area as a preserve within the system shall not void or replace any protected status under law which the area would have were it not so designated. [C66, 71, 73, §111B.13]

After such action, the commission may thereupon adopt a final plan for the project, and proceed with its construction, or it may dismiss the entire proceedings. All damages assessed and all costs occasioned under this chapter shall be paid from the funds of the commission. Renewal may be effected by the payment of a fee the amount of which shall be determined by the board. The failure on the part of any registrant to renew his certificate annually in the month of expiration as required above shall not deprive such a person of the right of renewal. A person who fails to renew his certificate by the expiration date shall be allowed to do so within thirty days following its expiration, but the board may assess a reasonable penalty. For the duration of any war in which the United States is engaged the board may, in its discretion, defer the collection of renewal fees without penalty, which have or may become due from registered professional engineers who are employed in the war effort, and residing outside the state, or who are members of the armed forces of the United States, and may renew the engineering certificates of said registered professional engineers. Any transmittal letters and titles to financial statements included in reports prepared by accounting practitioners shall be labeled as unaudited. [65GA, ch 1129,§2]

1. There is established a board of accountancy. The board of accountancy shall consist of seven members, five of whom shall be certified public accountants and two members who shall not be certified public accountants and who shall represent the general public. A certified member shall be actively engaged in practice as a certified public accountant and shall have been so engaged for five years preceding his appointment, the last two of which shall have been in Iowa. Professional associations or societies composed of certified public accountants may recommend the names of potential board members to the governor, but the governor shall not be bound by the recommendations. A board member shall not be required to be a member of any professional association or society composed of certified public accountants. Members shall be appointed by the governor, subject to the approval of two-thirds of the members of the senate. The term "board" as used in this chapter means the board of accountancy established by this section. Within sixty days after July 1, 1975, the governor shall appoint the certified public accountant members of the board for terms as follows: Two members for a term ending June 30, 1976, and two members for a term ending June 30, 1977, one member for a term ending June 30, 1978. Within sixty days after July 1, 1975, the governor shall appoint the members representing the general public, one member for a term ending June 30, 1976 and one member for a term ending June 30, 1978. Upon the expiration of each of the terms and of each succeeding term, a successor shall be appointed for a term of three years. Members shall serve a maximum of three terms or nine years, whichever is less. Vacancies occurring in the membership of the board for any cause shall be filled in the same manner by the governor for the unexpired term and shall be subject to senate confirmation. The public members of the board of accountancy shall not participate in devising, administering or grading of examinations referred to in section 116.5.

A member of the board whose term has expired shall continue to serve until his successor is appointed and qualified.

The governor shall remove from the board any member whose certificate as a certified public accountant has been revoked or suspended.

2. The board shall elect annually a chairman, a secretary, and a treasurer from its members.

The board shall meet as often as deemed necessary, but shall hold at least one meeting per year at the seat of government.

The board may adopt regulations for the orderly conduct of its affairs and for the administration of this chapter.

A majority of the members of the board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business.

The board shall keep records of its proceedings, and in any proceeding in court arising out of or founded upon any provision of this chapter, copies of its records certified as correct shall be admissible in evidence to prove the contents of the records.

The board shall have printed and published for public distribution, in October of each year, an annual register which shall contain the names, arranged alphabetically by classifications, of all persons, partnerships, and corporations registered or licensed under this chapter; the names of the members of the board; and such other matters as may be deemed proper by the board. Copies of the registers shall be mailed to each person, partnership and corporation named.

The board may employ such personnel and arrange for such assistance as it may require for the performance of its duties.

Each member of the board shall be paid a per diem set by the board in an amount not to exceed forty dollars per day for each day the member is performing official duties and shall be reimbursed for his actual and necessary expenses, including travel, incurred in the discharge of his official duties.

3. All fees and other moneys received by the board, pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, shall be paid monthly to the treasurer of state.

Warrants for the payment of the expenses of the board or its members provided by this chapter shall be issued by the state comptroller drawn upon funds appropriated to the board upon presentation of vouchers drawn by the chairman of the board and authorized by the members of the board.

The board shall make a biennial report to the governor of its proceedings, with an account of all moneys received and disbursed, a list of the names of certified public accountants, public accountants, and accounting practitioners whose certificates, permits to practice, or licenses have been revoked or suspended, and such other information as it may deem proper or the governor requests.

4. The board may promulgate rules of professional conduct appropriate to establishing and maintaining high standards of integrity and dignity in the practice as a certified public accountant, public accountant, or accounting practitioner. Rules shall be adopted relating to the following matters:

a. Rules relating to the propriety of opinions on financial statements by a certified public accountant or public accountant who is not independent.

b. Actions discreditable to the practice as a certified public accountant, public accountant, or accounting practitioner.

c. Rules relating to the professional confidences between a certified public accountant, public accountant, or accounting practitioner and his client.

d. Contingent fees.

b. Directly or indirectly accept commission, brokerage, or other participation in the fees, charges or profits of work recommended or turned over to the laity as incident to services for clients.

c. Permit others to carry out on his behalf, either with or without compensation, acts which, if carried out by him, would place him in violation of rules of the board adopted pursuant to this chapter.

6. The board shall establish rules relative to the conduct of practice as a certified public accountant, public accountant, and accounting practitioner in respect to the enumerated items in subsections 4 and 5, but such direction shall not be construed as a limitation upon the rights of the board to make and adopt any rules and regulations relating to the rules of conduct of certified public accountants, public accountants, or accounting practitioners, which are not specifically enumerated in this chapter.

7. The board may issue further rules and regulations, including but not limited to rules of professional conduct, pertaining to corporations practicing public accounting, which it deems consistent with or required by the public welfare. The board may prescribe rules governing the style, name, and title of corporations and governing the affiliation of corporations with other organizations.

116.4 Applications. Applications for certification as a certified public accountant shall be on forms prescribed and furnished by the board and the board may require that the application contain a recent photograph of the applicant. An applicant shall not be ineligible for certification because of age, citizenship, sex, race, religion, marital status or national origin although the application may require citizenship information. The board may consider the past felony record of an applicant only if the felony conviction relates directly to the practice of accountancy. Character references may be required, but shall not be obtained from certified public accountants. [65GA, ch 1129, §4]

116.5 Granting the certificate. The certificate of "certified public accountant" shall be granted by the board to any person who meets all of the following requirements:

1. Is a resident of this state or has a place of business in this state, or, as an employee, is regularly employed in this state.

2. Has a baccalaureate degree conferred by a college or university recognized by the board, with a concentration in accounting, or what the board determines to be substantially the equivalent of those requirements; or with a nonaccounting concentration, supplemented by what the board determines to be substantially the equivalent of an accounting concentration, including related courses in other areas of business administration; or is a graduate of a high school having at least a four-year course of study or its equivalent as determined by the board of accountancy and has had three years' continuous experience under the direct supervision of a certified public accountant holding a current permit to practice, which experience shall include a significant amount of accounting work involving third-party reliance on financial statements.

3. Has passed a written examination in accounting and auditing, and such related subjects as the board determines to be appropriate.

None of the education or experience requirements in subsection 2 shall apply to a candidate who within four years after July 1, 1975, fulfills the education and experience requirements provided for by law prior to the effective date of this chapter and passes the examination required in subsection 3.

The examination described in subsection 3 shall be conducted by the certified public accountant members of the board and shall take place as often as the board shall determine to be desirable, but shall be held at least once each year. All examinations in theory shall be in writing and the identity of the person taking the examination shall be concealed until after the examination papers have been graded. Applicants who fail the examination once shall be allowed to take the examination at the next scheduled time. Thereafter, the applicant shall be allowed to take the examination at the discretion of the board. An applicant who has failed the examination may request in writing information from the board concerning his examination grade and subject areas or questions which he failed to answer correctly, except that if the board administers a uniform, standardized examination, the board shall only be required to provide the examination grade and such other information concerning the applicant's examination results which are available to the board.

The board shall make such use of all or any part of the uniform certified public accountants' examination or advisory grading service, or both, as it deems appropriate to assist it in performing its duties under this chapter.

The board may admit to the examination described in subsection 3 any candidate who will complete the educational requirements for a baccalaureate degree within one hundred twenty days immediately following the date of the examination. However, the board shall not report the results of the examination until the candidate has met the educational requirements.

A candidate for the certificate of certified public accountant who has successfully completed the examination under subsection 3 and the educational requirements under subsection 2 shall receive a certificate as a certified public accountant.

The board may by rule provide for granting a credit to a candidate for satisfactory completion of a written examination in one or more of the subjects prescribed by the board in this state, but conducted by the licensing authority in another state, if when the candidate took the examination in another state, he was not a resident of this state, had no place of business in this state, and, as an employee, was not employed regularly in this state.

Such rules shall include such requirements as the board determines to be appropriate in order that any examination approved as a basis for any such credit shall, in the judgment of the board, be at least as thorough as that included in the most recent examination given by the board at the time of the granting of such credit.

The board may by rule prescribe the terms and conditions under which a candidate who passes one or more subjects of the examination prescribed by the board may be re-examined in only the remaining subjects, with credit for the subjects previously passed.

It may also provide by rule for a reasonable waiting period for a candidate's re-examination in a subject he has failed.

The board shall charge each candidate an examination fee, to be determined by the board which shall be based upon the annual cost of administering the examination. Fees for re-examination or partial examination under subsection 3 shall also be charged by the board in amounts determined by it. The applicable fee shall be paid by the candidate at the time he applies for examination or re-examination.

Any person who has received from the board a certificate as a certified public accountant and who is currently registered under section 116.20, shall be styled and known as a "certified public accountant", and may also use the abbreviation "CPA".

Persons who, on July 1, 1975, hold certified public accountant certificates issued under the laws of this state shall not be required to obtain additional certificates under this chapter, but shall otherwise be subject to all provisions of this chapter; and such certificates shall, for all purposes, be considered certificates issued under this chapter, and subject to the provisions of this chapter.

The board may, in its discretion, waive the examinations under subsection 3 and may issue a certificate as certified public accountant to any person possessing what the board determines to be substantially equivalent of the applicable qualifications under subsection 2 and who is the holder of a certificate as a certified public accountant, then in full force and effect, issued under the laws of another state, or is the holder of a certificate, license or degree in a foreign country constituting a recognized qualification for the practice of public accounting in such country, comparable to that of a certified public accountant of this state, which is then in full force and effect; or who, as a holder of such certificate, license, or degree shall have been in continuous practice thereunder for at least seven years. [SS15, §§2620-a, -d, -f; C24, 27, §§1890-1892, 1895, 1896; C31, 35, §§1905-c7, -c8, -c9, -c12; C39, §§1905.07-1905.10; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §§116.7-116.10; 65GA, ch 140, §7, ch 1086, §§26, 27, ch 1129, §5]

116.9 Advisory committee. There is established an accounting practitioner advisory committee with whom the board shall consult on matters relating to the qualifications, examination, licensing, and practice of accounting practitioners. The advisory committee shall consist of three members appointed by the governor who shall be licensed accounting practitioners. A member shall be actively engaged in the practice of accounting and shall have been so engaged for five years preceding his appointment, the last two of which shall have been in Iowa. Professional associations or societies composed of accounting practitioners may recommend the names of potential committee members to the governor, but the governor shall not be bound by the recommendations. A committee member shall not be required to be a member of any professional association or society composed of accounting practitioners. The initial appointees shall possess the basic qualifications set forth in section 116.7 and shall be eligible for licensure. For the initial committee, one member shall serve a term of one year, one member shall serve a term of two years, and one member shall serve a term of three years. Thereafter, members shall serve three-year terms. Members shall serve a maximum of three terms or nine years, whichever is less. Any vacancy occurring during a term shall be filled by the governor for the remainder of the unexpired term. Upon completion of his term, a member shall continue to serve until his successor is appointed and qualified. The governor shall remove from office any member whose license to practice has become void, or has been suspended or revoked, and may, after a hearing, remove any member from office for neglect of duty or other just cause.

Members of the advisory committee shall set their own per diem compensation not exceeding forty dollars per day for each day spent in the discharge of their official duties, and shall be reimbursed for actual and necessary expenses. [65GA, ch 1129,§9]

116.10 Applications. Applications for licensure as accounting practitioners shall be on forms prescribed by the board. The board may require that the application contain a recent photograph of the applicant. An applicant shall not be ineligible for licensure because of age, citizenship, sex, race, religion, marital status or national origin although the application may require citizenship information. The board may consider the past felony record of an applicant only if the felony conviction relates directly to practice as an accounting practitioner. Character references may be required, but shall not be obtained from licensed accounting practitioners. [65GA, ch 1129,§10]

116.11 Examinations. Each applicant for a license to practice as an accounting practitioner shall pay to the board an examination fee before being examined. The amount of the fee shall be set by the board based upon the annual cost of administering the examination.

Examinations shall be conducted by the board as often as deemed necessary, but not less than one time per year.

Each examination shall be designed and given in a manner as to fairly test the applicant's knowledge of accounting theory and accounting practice as prescribed by the board. The examination shall not include questions relating to the subject of auditing.

The board shall make use of all or any part of standard or uniform examinations and advisory grading services which are provided or furnished by national accounting organizations or societies as the board deems appropriate to assist it in performing its duties as provided in this chapter. All examinations in theory shall be in writing and the identity of the person taking the examination shall be concealed until after the examination papers have been graded.

If an applicant has partially passed an examination given in another state, under requirements which the board finds to be substantially equivalent to those required in examinations given in this state, the results of the other state examination shall be accepted as though given in this state.

Every applicant successfully passing all subjects in which examined shall be granted and issued a license as an accounting practitioner by the board. The cost of the license shall be based upon the administrative costs of the board and advisory committee and the costs of issuing the license.

An applicant who fails the examination once shall be allowed to take the examination at the next scheduled time. Thereafter, the applicant shall be allowed to take the examination at the discretion of the board. An applicant who passes a portion of the examination shall have the right to be re-examined in the remaining subjects at a future examination, and if he passes in the remaining subjects, he shall be considered to have passed the entire examination. 1. The commission or the attorney general at the request of the commission may cause an investigation and inspection to be made of any subdivided land proposed to be offered for sale or lease in this state pursuant to this chapter and may make a report of the findings thereon.

2. Where an inspection is to be made of subdivided land situated outside of this state and offered for sale in this state, said inspection as authorized by subsection 1 shall be made at the expense of the subdivider. After the application required by section 117A.2 is filed and after the filing fee required by section 117A.8 is received the commission may decide whether or not an inspection pursuant to this subsection is to be made. If the commission requires an inspection, the commission, or the attorney general at the request of the commission shall so notify the subdivider and the subdivider shall remit to the commission an amount equivalent to the round trip cost of travel from this state to the location of the project, as estimated by the commission or the attorney general and a further amount estimated to be necessary to cover the additional expenses of such inspection but not to exceed fifty dollars a day for each day incurred in the examination of the project. The costs of any subsequent inspections deemed necessary shall be paid for by the subdivider. At the completion of any inspection trip the commission or the attorney general shall furnish the subdivider a statement as to the costs of the inspection trip and should said costs be less than the amount advanced by the subdivider to the commission or the attorney general the remaining balance will be refunded to the subdivider.

protection of purchasers of units, parcels, or lots, in such amount and subject to such terms as the commission deems necessary for the protection of such purchasers with respect to construction of such improvements, or place in an escrow account in a depository acceptable to the commission, that portion of the sums paid or advanced by purchasers which the commission deems necessary for the protection of such purchasers with respect to construction of such improvements.

5. Where the land to be subdivided is subject to a mortgage, lien, or encumbrance securing or evidencing the payment of money, other than taxes levied or assessments made, or where the interest of the owner, the subdivider or an agent is held under option or contract of purchase or in trust, it shall be unlawful to sell any land in such subdivision unless a provision in such mortgage, lien, encumbrance, option, contract, or trust agreement, or a provision in an agreement supplementary thereto, enables the vendor to convey valid title to each parcel so sold or leased free of such mortgage, lien, encumbrance, option, contract, or trust agreement upon completion of all payments and the performance of all the terms and conditions required to be made and performed by the vendee under the agreement of sale.

Where the consideration price for a lot sold has been amortized to an extent that the balance due and owing thereunder equals an amount required to release such lot or lots from any existing mortgage, lien, encumbrance, tax, assessment, option, contract, or trust agreement, and the initial cost for said land has not been paid for by the owner or subdivider, all moneys thereafter received by the owner or subdivider shall be segregated and kept in a separate account as a trust which shall be applied toward the clearance of title of the land intended to be conveyed to the purchaser. Certified or verified copies of documents containing such provisions shall be filed with the commission prior to the sale or lease, or offer of sale or lease, or advertisement for sale or lease, of any part of the subdivision. [65GA, ch 160,§6]

1. The attorney general shall prosecute all violations of this chapter. Prosecutions shall be instituted by the attorney general upon the written request of the commission. In all criminal proceedings the attorney general may appear before any court or any grand jury and exercise all the powers and perform all the duties in respect to such actions or proceedings which the county attorney would otherwise be authorized or required to exercise or perform. In lieu thereof the attorney general may transmit evidence, proof, and information pertaining to such offense to the county attorney of the county in which the alleged violation occurred, and such county attorney shall prosecute for such violation. In any such proceeding in which the attorney general has appeared, the county attorney shall only exercise such powers and perform such duties as are required of him by the attorney general. The attorney general shall, within ten days after a conviction for a violation of any provision of this chapter, file with the commission a detailed report showing the date of the conviction, name of the person convicted, and the specific nature of the charge.

2. Whenever it appears to the commission that any person, officer, director, agent, or employee of a company, firm, partnership, association, or corporation offering to sell or lease, or selling or leasing, subdivided land, has committed or is about to commit a violation of this chapter or any rule or order issued by the commission hereunder, the commission may apply to the district court of the county in which the principal office of the subdivider is located or if such subdivider has no such office in this state then to the district court of Polk county for an order enjoining such subdivider or such officer, director, agent, or employee thereof from violating or continuing to violate this chapter or any such rule or order, and for such other equitable relief as the nature of the case and the interests of the public may require.

3. Any false statement contained in any statement filed with the commission pursuant to the requirements of this chapter, or in any affidavit attached thereto, shall constitute a violation of this chapter.

4. In any action brought under the provisions of this chapter, the attorney general is entitled to recover costs for the use of this state. [65GA, ch 160,§7]

117A.8 Filing fees. Each initial filing made pursuant to section 117A.2 shall be accompanied by a basic filing fee of one hundred dollars, plus twenty-five dollars for every one hundred lots, units, parcels, portions, or interests included in the offering. A registration fee shall be paid with the filing of an application for registration consolidating additional lots with a prior registration and shall be set by rule which shall provide a basic fee of fifty dollars, plus an additional fee of twenty-five dollars for every one hundred lots, units, parcels, portions, or interests included in the offering. A fee shall not be charged for amendments to the property report as a result of amendments to the initial filing, unless the department determines the amendments are made for the purpose of avoiding the payment of a fee, in which event the amendment may be treated as an application for registration consolidating additional lots with a prior registration. The filing fee to be paid with each annual current offering statement is as established by section 117A.3, subsection 8.

not an individual, has been convicted of any violation of the laws of this state with reference to the sale of alcoholic liquors or beer within the three years preceding the date of the affidavit.

If the director is satisfied that the facts stated in such affidavit are true and that the applicant is a person fit and proper to be entrusted with the permit applied for, it shall be issued upon the filing by the applicant of a bond in the penal sum of two thousand dollars, with approved sureties, conditioned that the applicant will faithfully observe the provisions of this chapter.

Such special permit shall entitle the holder to import into the state, or purchase from licensed distillers within the state or from the department, alcoholic liquors for use in manufacture in accordance with the terms of said permit, and to sell the product of such manufacture.

It shall be the duty of every manufacturer holding a special permit under the provisions of this subsection, whenever such manufacturer purchases alcoholic liquor from any source other than the department, to immediately file with the department a report of the receipt of such liquor in accordance with rules adopted by the director.

Every person holding a special liquor permit under this chapter shall fill out in duplicate, on forms furnished by the department, the amount and kinds of liquors purchased, and shall retain one copy in his establishment for a period of two years. The vendor of the state liquor store at which the purchase was made shall monthly forward the other copy to the department.

123.32 Action by authorities on applications for liquor control licenses and beer permits.

1. Filing of application. An application for a class "A", class "B", or class "C" liquor control license, and for a retail beer permit as provided in sections 123.128 and 123.129, accompanied by the required fee and bond, shall be filed with the appropriate city council if the premises for which the license or permit is sought are located within the corporate limits of a city, or with the board of supervisors if the premises for which the license or permit is sought are located outside the corporate limits of a city. An application for a class "D" liquor control license and for a class "A" beer permit, accompanied by the required fee and bond, shall be filed with the department, which shall proceed in the same manner as in the case of an application approved by local authorities.

2. Action by local authorities. The local authority shall either approve or disapprove the issuance of a liquor control license or retail beer permit, and shall endorse such approval or disapproval on the application and forward same along with the required fee and bond to the department. Upon the initial issuance of a liquor control license or retail beer permit, the fact that the local authority determines that no liquor control license or retail beer permit shall be issued shall not be held to be arbitrary, capricious, or without reasonable cause. There shall be no limit upon the number of liquor control licenses or retail beer permits which may be approved for issuance by local authorities.

3. Action by director. Upon receipt of an application having been disapproved by the local authority, the director shall disapprove the application, so notify the applicant by registered mail, and return the fee and bond to the applicant. Upon receipt of an application having been approved by the local authority, the director shall make such investigation as he deems necessary and may require the applicant to appear before him and be examined under oath regarding any matters pertinent to the application, in which case a record shall be made of all testimony or evidence and the same shall become a part of the application. If the application is approved by the director, the license or permit applied for shall be issued. If the application is disapproved by the director, the applicant and the appropriate local authority shall be so notified by restricted certified mail, and the fee and bond returned to the applicant.

4. Appeal to hearing board. Any applicant for a liquor control license or beer permit may appeal to the department hearing board, established pursuant to section 123.15, from the director's disapproval of an application for a license or permit. If, upon such appeal the hearing board shall determine that the local authority acted arbitrarily, capriciously, or without reasonable cause in disapproving the application, or that, where the local authority approved the application, the director's own disapproval should be reversed, it shall order issuance of a license or permit. The same right of appeal to the hearing board shall be afforded a liquor control licensee or beer permittee whose license or permit has been suspended or revoked under this chapter, and the hearing board shall reduce the period of suspension or order reinstatement of such license or permit for good cause shown.

5. Judicial review. Judicial review of the action of the department hearing board may be sought in accordance with the terms of the Iowa administrative procedure Act. Notwithstanding the terms of said Act, petitions for judicial review may be filed in the district court of the county wherein the premises covered by the application are situated.

Where the hearing board on an appeal by an applicant finds that the local authority acted arbitrarily, capriciously, or without reasonable cause in disapproving an application and the director issues a license or permit, the local authority may seek judicial review of such decision according to the terms of the Iowa administrative procedure Act within thirty days. [C35,§1921-f27; C39,§1921.027; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71,§123.27; C73,§123.32; 65GA, ch 1087, §32, ch 1090,§88]

123.33 Records. Every holder of a liquor control license shall keep a daily record of the gross receipts of his business. Each bottle emptied, except beer bottles, shall be broken immediately by the licensee or his agent into a container provided for that purpose. The records herein required and the premises of the licensee shall be open to agents of the division of beer and liquor law enforcement of the department of public safety during normal business hours of the licensee. [C35,§1921-f22; C39,§1921.022; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71,§123.22; C73,§123.33]

123.34 Expiration—seasonal license or permit. All liquor control licenses and beer permits, unless sooner suspended or revoked, shall expire one year from date of issuance. The director shall cause sixty days' notice of such expiration to be given to each licensee or permittee in writing. However, the director may issue six-month or eight-month seasonal licenses or class "B" beer permits for a proportionate part of the license or permit fee. No refund shall be made for seasonal licenses or permits. No seasonal license or permit shall be renewed except after a period of two months. [C35,§§1921-f27, 1921-f100; C39, §§1921.027, 1921.100; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §§123.27, 124.6; C73,§123.34]

Referred to in §123.36

123.35 Simplified renewal procedure. The director shall prescribe simplified application forms for the renewal of liquor control licenses and beer permits issued under the provisions of this chapter, which may be filed by licensees and permittees in lieu of a detailed renewal application form when qualifications and qualification information have not changed since the original issuance of the license or permit. Such simplified form shall require the licensee or permittee to verify under oath that the information contained in the original application remains current, and that no reason exists for the department's refusal to renew the license or permit as originally issued.

Such application, accompanied by the required fee and bond, shall be filed in the same manner as is provided for filing the initial application. [C73,§123.35]

1. Special liquor permits, the sum of five dollars.

2. Class "A" liquor control licenses, the sum of six hundred dollars, except that for class "A" licenses in cities of less than two thousand population, and for clubs of less than two hundred fifty members, the license fee shall be four hundred dollars; however, the fee shall be two hundred dollars for any club which is a post, branch, or chapter of a veterans organization chartered by the Congress of the United States, if such club does not sell or permit the consumption of alcoholic beverages or beer on the premises more than one day in any week, and if the application for a license states that such club does not and will not sell or permit the consumption of alcoholic beverages or beer on the premises more than one day in any week.

3. Class "B" liquor control licenses, the sum as follows:

4. Class "C" liquor control licenses, the sum as follows:

a. Commercial establishments located within the corporate limits of cities of ten thousand population and over, one thousand three hundred dollars.

b. Commercial establishments located within the corporate limits of cities of over fifteen hundred and less than ten thousand population, nine hundred fifty dollars.

d. Commercial establishments located outside the corporate limits of any city, a sum equal to that charged in the incorporated city located nearest the premises to be licensed, and in case there is doubt as to which of two or more differing corporate limits are the nearest, the license fee which is the larger shall prevail.

5. Class "D" liquor control licenses, the following sums:

a. For watercraft, one hundred fifty dollars.

b. For tractors, five hundred dollars.

c. For air common carriers, each company shall pay a base annual fee of five hundred dollars and, in addition, shall quarterly remit to the department an amount equal to seven dollars for each gallon of alcoholic liquor sold, given away, or dispensed in or over this state during the preceding calendar quarter. The class "D" license fee and tax for air common carriers shall be in lieu of any other fee or tax collected from such carriers in this state for the possession and sale of alcoholic liquor and beer.

6. Any club, hotel, motel, or commercial establishment holding a liquor control license for whom the sale of goods and services other than alcoholic liquor or beer constitutes fifty percent or more of the gross receipts from the licensed premises, subject to the provisions of section 123.49, subsection 2, paragraph "b", may sell and dispense alcoholic liquor and beer to patrons on Sunday for consumption on the premises only. For this privilege the liquor control license fee of the applicant shall be increased by twenty percent of the regular fee prescribed for the license pursuant to this section, and the privilege shall be noted on the liquor control license. The department shall prescribe the nature and the character of the evidence which shall be required of the applicant under this subsection.

7. Holders of liquor control licenses and beer permits may sell alcoholic beverages or beer on Sunday pursuant to this section, section 123.134 and section 123.49, except subsection 4, only if the governing body of the city in which the premises covered by the license or permit are located, or the board of supervisors if the premises so covered are not located in a city, specifically approves authority to sell on Sunday in the area subject to its jurisdiction.

The governing body or board of supervisors at any time may repeal the authorization to sell on Sunday. Any license or permit for which the increased fee for Sunday sales has been paid and which is in effect at the time of such repeal shall remain effective until its date of expiration under section 123.34 unless sooner suspended or revoked.

The department shall credit all fees to the beer and liquor control fund and shall remit to the appropriate local authority, a sum equal to sixty-five percent of the fees collected for each class "A", class "B", or class "C" license covering premises located within their respective jurisdictions. However, that amount remitted to the appropriate local authority out of the fee collected for the privilege authorized under subsection 6 shall be deposited in the county mental health and institutions fund to be used only for the care and treatment of persons admitted or committed to the alcoholic treatment center at Oakdale or any facilities as provided in chapter 125. [C35,§1921-f28; C39,§1921.028; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §123.38; C73,§123.36; 65GA, ch 163,§§1, 2, 7, ch 164,§1, ch 1087,§32, ch 1131,§35]

123.37 Power to license and levy taxes. The power to establish licenses and permits and levy taxes as imposed in title VI of the Code is vested exclusively with the state. Unless specifically provided, no local authority shall levy a local tax on the sale of alcoholic beverages or beer, require the obtaining of a special license or permit for such sale on any establishment, or require the obtaining of a license by any person as a condition precedent to his employment in the sale, serving, or handling of alcoholic beverages or beer within an establishment operating under a license or permit. [C73,§123.37]

123.38 Nature of permit or license. A special liquor permit, liquor control license, or beer permit shall be a purely personal privilege and be revocable for cause. It shall not constitute property nor be subject to attachment and execution nor be alienable nor assignable, and in any case it shall cease upon the death of the permittee or licensee. However, the director may in his discretion allow the executor or administrator of a permittee or licensee to operate the business of the decedent for a reasonable time not to exceed the expiration date of the permit or license. Every permit or license shall be issued in the name of the applicant and no person holding a permit or license shall allow any other person to use same.

Any such licensee or permittee, or his executor, administrator, or any person duly appointed by the court to take charge of and administer the property or assets of the licensee or permittee for the benefit of his creditors, may voluntarily surrender such license or permit to the department and when so surrendered the department shall notify the local authority, and the department and such local authority, or the local authority by itself in the case of a retail beer permit, shall refund to the person so surrendering the license or permit a proportionate amount of the fee paid for such license or permit as follows: If surrendered during the first three months of the period for which said license or permit was issued the refund shall be three-fourths of the amount of the fee; if surrendered more than three months but not more than six months after issuance the refund shall be one-half of the amount of the fee; if surrendered more than six months but not more than nine months after issuance the refund shall be one-fourth of the amount of the fee. No refund shall be made, however, for any special liquor permit, nor for a liquor control license or beer permit surrendered more than nine months after issuance. No refund shall be made to any licensee or permittee, upon the surrender of his license or permit, if there is at the time of said surrender a complaint filed with the department or local authority, charging him with a violation of the provisions of this chapter. If upon hearing on any such complaint the license or permit is not revoked or suspended, then the licensee or permittee shall be eligible, upon surrender of his license or permit, to receive a refund as herein provided. But if his license or permit is revoked or suspended upon such hearing he shall not be eligible for the refund of any portion of his license or permit fee.

The local authority may in its discretion authorize a licensee or permittee to transfer the license or permit from one location to another within the same incorporated city, or within a county outside the corporate limits of a city, provided that the premises to which the transfer is to be made would have been eligible for a license or permit in the first instance and such transfer will not result in the violation of any law. All transfers authorized, and the particulars of same, shall be reported to the director by the local authority.

The director may by rule establish a uniform transfer fee to be assessed by all local authorities upon licensees or permittees to cover the administrative costs of such transfers, such fee to be retained by the local authority involved. [C35, §§1921-f29, f100; C39, §§1921.029, 1921.100; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, §§123.29, 124.6; C73, §123.38; 65GA, ch 1087, §32]

Amendment effective July 1, 1975

Any liquor control license or beer permit issued under this chapter may, after notice in writing to the licensee or permit holder and reasonable opportunity for hearing, and subject to section 123.50 where applicable, be suspended for a period not to exceed one year or revoked by the local authority or the director for any of the following causes:

1. Misrepresentation of any material fact in the application for such license or permit.

2. Violation of any of the provisions of this chapter.

3. Any change in the ownership or interest in the business operated under a class "A", class "B", or class "C" liquor control license, or any beer permit which change was not previously reported to and approved by the local authority and the department.

4. An event which would have resulted in disqualification from receiving such license or permit when originally issued.

5. Any sale, hypothecation, or transfer of such license or permit.

6. The failure or refusal on the part of any licensee or permittee to render any report or remit any taxes to the department under this chapter when due.

Local authorities shall have the power to suspend any retail beer permit or liquor control license for a violation of any ordinance or regulation adopted by such local authority. Local authorities are empowered to adopt ordinances or regulations for the location of the premises of retail beer and liquor control licensed establishments and are empowered to adopt ordinances, not in conflict with the provisions of this chapter and that do not diminish the hours during which beer or alcoholic beverages may be sold or consumed at retail, governing any other activities or matters which may affect the retail sale and consumption of beer and alcoholic liquor and the health, welfare and morals of the community involved. has been revoked shall not be issued a liquor control license or beer permit, and no liquor control license or beer permit shall be issued which covers any business in which such person has a financial interest for a period of two years from the date of such revocation. In the event a license or permit is revoked the premises which had been covered by such license or permit shall not be relicensed for one year. As a condition precedent to the approval and granting of any license to a manufacturer or wholesaler, there shall be filed with the department a statement under oath that the applicant is a bona fide manufacturer or wholesaler of alcoholic liquors, and that the applicant will faithfully observe and comply with all rules and regulations of the department and that he will in all respects comply with the provisions of this chapter, together with a bond in the penal sum of five thousand dollars for a manufacturer and one thousand dollars for a wholesaler with a surety to be approved by the director; said bond to be in favor of the state of Iowa for the benefit of the state in case of any violation of this chapter. No person engaged in the business of manufacturing, bottling, or wholesaling alcoholic beverages or beer, nor any jobber or agent of such person, shall directly or indirectly supply, furnish, give, or pay for any furnishings, fixtures, or equipment used in the storage, handling, serving, or dispensing of alcoholic beverages, beer, or food within the place of business of a licensee or permittee authorized under the provisions of this chapter, to sell at retail; nor shall he directly or indirectly extend any credit for alcoholic beverages or beer or pay for any such license or permit, nor directly or indirectly be interested in the ownership, conduct, or operation of the business of another licensee or permittee authorized under the provisions of this chapter to sell at retail. 2. The director periodically shall inspect facilities and shall fix the fees to be charged for the inspection.

3. The director shall maintain a list of approved facilities.

4. Each facility shall file with the director on request, data, statistics, schedules and information the commission reasonably requires. A facility that without good cause fails to furnish any data, statistics, schedules or information as requested, or files fraudulent returns thereof, shall be removed from the list of approved facilities.

5. The director may grant or, after holding a hearing, may suspend, revoke, limit or restrict an approval, or refuse to grant an approval, for failure to meet the standards of the commission.

6. A district court judge may restrain any violation of this section, review any denial, restriction or revocation of approval, and grant other relief required to enforce its provisions.

7. Upon petition of the director and after a hearing held upon reasonable notice to the facility, the district court may issue an order to an officer or employee of the division authorizing him to enter and inspect at reasonable times, and examine the books and accounts of, a facility refusing to consent to inspection or examination by the director or which the director has reasonable cause to believe is operating in violation of this chapter. [65GA, ch 1131,§13]

3. A private institution conducted by and for persons who adhere to a religious faith or belief for the purpose of providing nonmedical services to alcoholics, and who rely primarily on prayer or other spiritual means for healing in the practice of their religion.

4. An agency, institution or program which, in the judgment of the director, provides services which are only informational or educational in nature. [65GA, ch 1131,§14]

Referred to in §§123.36, 123.143, 125.3, 125.7, 125.15, 125.28, 321.283(3)

125.15 Acceptance for treatment—rules. The commission shall adopt and may amend and repeal rules for acceptance of persons into the treatment program, subject to the provisions of chapter 17A, considering available treatment resources and facilities, for the purpose of early and effective treatment of alcoholics and intoxicated persons. In establishing the rules the commission shall be guided by the following standards:

1. If possible a patient shall be treated on a voluntary rather than an involuntary basis.

2. A patient shall be initially assigned or transferred to outpatient or intermediate treatment, unless he is found to require inpatient treatment.

3. A person shall not be denied treatment solely because he has withdrawn from treatment against medical advice on a prior occasion or because he has relapsed after earlier treatment.

4. An individualized treatment plan shall be prepared and maintained on a current basis for each patient.

5. Provision shall be made for a continuum of co-ordinated treatment services, so that a person who leaves a facility or a form of treatment will have available and may utilize other appropriate treatment. [65GA, ch 1131,§15]

125.16 Voluntary treatment of alcoholics.

1. An alcoholic may apply for voluntary treatment directly to a facility. If the proposed patient is a minor or an incompetent person, he, a parent, a legal guardian or other legal representative may make the application.

2. Subject to rules adopted by the commission, the administrator in charge of a facility may determine who shall be admitted for treatment. If a person is refused admission, the administrator, subject to rules adopted by the commission, shall refer the person to another facility for treatment if possible and appropriate.

3. If a patient receiving inpatient care leaves a facility, he shall be encouraged to consent to appropriate outpatient or intermediate treatment. If it appears to the administrator in charge of the facility that the patient is an alcoholic who requires help, the director may arrange for assistance in obtaining supportive services and residential facilities.

4. If a patient leaves a facility, with or against the advice of the administrator in charge of the facility, the director may make reasonable provisions for his transportation to another facility or to his home. If he has no home he shall be assisted in obtaining shelter. If he is a minor or an incompetent person the request for discharge from an inpatient facility shall be made by a parent, legal guardian or other legal representative or by the minor or incompetent if he was the original applicant. [65GA, ch 1131,§16]

125.17 Treatment and services for intoxicated persons and persons incapacitated by alcohol

1. An intoxicated person may come voluntarily to a facility for emergency treatment. A person who appears to be intoxicated or incapacitated by alcohol in a public place and in need of help may be taken to a facility by a peace officer or the alcoholism service unit. If the person refuses the proffered help, he may be arrested and charged with intoxication.

2. If no facility is readily available the person may be taken to an emergency medical service customarily used for incapacitated persons. The peace officer or the alcoholism service unit, in detaining the person and in taking him to a facility, is taking him into protective custody and shall make every reasonable effort to protect his health and safety. In taking the person into protective custody, the detaining officer may take reasonable steps to protect himself. A taking into protective custody under this section is not an arrest and no entry or other record shall be made to indicate that the person who is taken into protective custody has been arrested or charged with a crime.

3. A person who comes voluntarily or is brought to a facility shall be examined by a licensed physician as soon as possible, but not later than twelve hours after the person comes voluntarily or is brought to the facility. He may then be admitted as a patient or referred to another health facility. The referring facility shall arrange for his transportation.

4. A person who by medical examination is found to be intoxicated or incapacitated by alcohol at the time of his admission or is found to have become incapacitated at any time after his admission, shall be required to remain at the facility until he is no longer intoxicated or incapacitated by alcohol, but no longer than three days from the time of his admission as a patient unless he is committed under section 125.18. A person may consent to remain in the facility as long as the physician in charge believes appropriate.

5. If a patient is admitted to a facility, his family or next of kin shall be notified as promptly as possible. If an adult patient who is not incapacitated requests that there be no notification, his request shall be respected.

6. A peace officer or member of the alcoholism service unit who acts in compliance with this section is acting in the course of his official duty and is not criminally or civilly liable therefor, unless such acts constitute willful malice or abuse.

7. If the physician in charge of the facility determines it is for the patient's benefit, the patient shall be encouraged to agree to further diagnosis and appropriate voluntary treatment. [65GA, ch 1131,§17]

1. An intoxicated person who has threatened, attempted, or inflicted physical harm on himself or another and is likely to inflict physical harm on himself or another unless committed, or who is incapacitated by alcohol, may be committed to a facility for emergency treatment. A refusal to undergo treatment does not constitute evidence of lack of judgment as to the need for treatment.

2. The certifying physician, spouse, guardian or relative of the person to be committed, or any other responsible person, may make a written application for commitment under this section, directed to the administrator of the facility. The application shall state facts to support the grounds for commitment established in subsection 1.

3. Upon approval of the application by the administrator in charge of the facility, the person shall be brought to the facility by a peace officer, health officer, alcoholism service unit, the applicant for commitment, the patient's spouse, the patient's guardian or any other interested person. The person shall be retained at the facility to which he was admitted, or transferred to another facility, until discharged under subsection 5.

4. The administrator in charge of a facility shall refuse an application if in his opinion the application and certificate fail to sustain the grounds for commitment.

5. When on the advice of the medical staff the administrator determines that the grounds for commitment no longer exist, he shall discharge a person committed under this section. No person committed under this section may be detained in any treatment facility for more than five days. If a petition for involuntary commitment under section 125.19 has been filed within the five days and the administrator in charge of a facility finds that grounds for emergency commitment still exist, he may detain the person until the petition has been heard and determined, but no longer than ten days after filing the petition.

6. A copy of the written application for commitment and a written explanation of the person's right to counsel, shall be given to the person within twenty-four hours after commitment by the administrator, who shall provide a reasonable opportunity for the person to consult counsel. [65GA, ch 1131,§18]

125.19 Involuntary commitment of alcoholics.

1. A person may be committed to the custody of the division by the district court upon the petition of his spouse or guardian, a relative, the certifying physician, or the administrator in charge of a facility. The petition shall allege that the person is an alcoholic who habitually lacks self-control as to the use of alcoholic beverages, and (a) that he has threatened, attempted or inflicted physical harm on another and that he is likely to inflict physical harm on himself or another unless committed; or (b) that he is incapacitated by alcohol. A refusal to undergo treatment does not constitute evidence of lack of judgment as to the need for treatment. The petition shall be accompanied by a certificate of a licensed physician who has examined the person within two days before submission of the petition, unless the person whose commitment is sought has refused to submit to a medical examination or was unavailable for examination, in which case the fact of refusal or unavailability shall be alleged in the petition. The certificate shall set forth the physician's findings in support of the allegations of the petition. A physician employed by the admitting facility or the division is not eligible to be the certifying physician.

2. Upon the filing of the petition, the court shall fix a date for a hearing no later than ten days after the date the petition was filed. A copy of the petition and the notice of hearing shall be served in the manner of an original notice on the person whose commitment is sought and upon a parent or legal guardian if the person is a minor. A copy of the petition and the notice of hearing shall be mailed or delivered in the manner provided for motions in civil cases to the petitioner, the next of kin of the person other than the petitioner, the administrator of the facility to which the person has been committed for emergency care, and any other person the court believes should receive copies. A petition shall have attached a copy of the certificate specified in this section.

3. At the hearing the court shall hear all relevant testimony, including, if possible, the testimony of at least one licensed physician who has examined the person whose commitment is sought. The person shall be present unless the court believes that his presence is likely to be injurious to him; in this event the court shall appoint a guardian ad litem to represent him throughout the proceeding. The court shall examine the person in open court, or if advisable, shall examine the person out of court. If the person has refused to be examined by a licensed physician, he shall be given an opportunity to be examined by a court-appointed licensed physician. If he refuses and there is sufficient evidence to believe that the allegations of the petition are true, or if the court believes that more medical evidence is necessary, the court may make a temporary order committing him to the division for a period of not more than five days for purposes of a diagnostic examination.

4. If after hearing all relevant evidence, including the results of any diagnostic examination, the court finds that the allegations of the petition have been established by clear and convincing proof, it shall make an order of commitment to the division. It may not order commitment of a person unless it determines that the division is able to provide adequate and appropriate treatment for him and the treatment is likely to be beneficial.

5. A person committed under this section shall remain in the custody of the division for treatment for a period of thirty days unless sooner discharged. At the end of the thirty-day period, he shall be discharged automatically unless the director before expiration of the period petitions the court for an order for his recommitment upon the grounds set forth in subsection 1 for a further period not to exceed ninety days.

6. A person recommitted under subsection 5 who has not been discharged by the division before the end of the ninety-day period shall be discharged at the expiration of that period unless the director, before expiration of the period, obtains a court order on the grounds set forth in subsection 1 for recommitment for a further period not to exceed ninety days.

7. Upon the filing of a petition for recommitment under subsections 5 or 6, the court shall fix a date for hearing no later than ten days after the date the petition was filed. A copy of the petition and the notice of hearing shall be served in the manner of an original notice on the person whose commitment is sought, and upon a parent or legal guardian if the person is a minor. A copy of the petition and the notice of hearing shall be mailed or delivered in the manner provided for motions in civil cases to the petitioner, the next of kin of the person other than the petitioner, the administrator of the facility to which the person has been committed for emergency care, and any other person the court believes should receive copies. A petition shall have attached a copy of the certificate specified in this section. At the hearing the court shall proceed as provided in subsection 3.

8. The director shall provide for adequate and appropriate treatment of a person committed to the custody of the division. The director may transfer any person committed to the custody of the division from one facility to another if transfer is medically advisable, and if notice is provided to the court of commitment, the counselor advocate, and the spouse or next of kin of the person.

9. A person committed to the custody of the commission for treatment shall be discharged at any time before the end of the period for which he has been committed if either of the following conditions is met:

a. In case of an alcoholic committed under subsection 1, paragraph "a", that he is no longer an alcoholic or the likelihood no longer exists.

b. In case of an alcoholic committed under subsection 1, paragraph "b", that the incapacity no longer exists, that further treatment will not be likely to bring about significant improvement in the person's condition, or that treatment is no longer adequate or appropriate.

10. The court shall inform the person whose commitment or recommitment is sought of his right to contest the application, to be represented by council at every stage of any proceedings relating to his commitment and recommitment, and to have counsel appointed by the court or provided by the court, if he wants the assistance of counsel and is unable to obtain counsel. If the court believes that the person needs the assistance of counsel, the court shall require, by appointment if necessary, counsel for him regardless of his wishes. The person whose commitment or recommitment is sought shall be informed of his right to be examined by a licensed physician of his choice. If the person is unable to obtain a licensed physician and requests examination by a physician, the court shall employ a licensed physician.

11. If the administrator of a private treatment facility consents to the request of a competent patient or his parent, sibling, adult child, or guardian to accept the patient for treatment, the administrator of the public treatment facility may transfer him to the private treatment facility.

12. A person committed under this chapter may at any time seek to be discharged from commitment by writ of habeas corpus.

13. The venue for proceedings under this section is the place in which a person to be committed resides or is present. [65GA, ch 1131, §19]

125.20 Records of alcoholics and intoxicated persons.

1. The registration and other records of facilities shall remain confidential and are privileged to the patient.

1. Subject to reasonable rules regarding hours of visitation which the commission may adopt, a patient in a facility shall be granted an opportunity for adequate consultation with counsel, and for continuing contact with family and friends consistent with an effective treatment program.

2. Neither mail nor other communication to or from a patient in a facility may be intercepted, read or censored, except that the commission may adopt reasonable rules regarding the use of telephones by patients in facilities and the delivery of controlled substances and other intoxicants.

3. The patient shall be provided an opportunity to receive prompt evaluation, emergency services and care as indicated by sound medical practice and treatment which, in the judgment of the chief medical officer of a facility, is most likely to result in the individual's recovery or in the mitigation of his condition to an extent sufficient to permit his discharge from the facility. [65GA, ch 1131, §21]

Referred to in §§123.36, 123.143, 125.3, 125.7, 125.28, 321.283(3)

1. The division, regional alcoholism centers, counties and cities may establish alcoholism service units. A unit consists of persons trained to give assistance in the streets and in other public places to persons who are intoxicated. Members of an alcoholism service unit shall be capable of providing first aid in emergency situations and shall transport intoxicated persons to their homes and to and from facilities.

2. The commission shall adopt rules for the establishment, training, and conduct of alcoholism service units. [65GA, ch 1131, §22]

125.26 Funding at mental health institutes. Chapter 230 shall govern the determination of the costs and payment for treatment provided to alcoholics in a mental health institute under the department of social services, except that the charges shall not constitute a lien on any real estate owned by persons legally liable for support of the alcoholic and the daily per diem shall be billed at twenty-five percent. Beginning July 1, 1976, the superintendent of a state hospital shall total only those expenditures which can be attributed to the cost of providing inpatient treatment to alcoholics and intoxicated persons for purposes of determining the daily per diem. The provisions of section 125.31 shall govern the determination of who is legally liable for the cost of care, maintenance, and treatment of an alcoholic and of the amount for which the person is liable. [65GA, ch 1131,§32]

125.27 Contract for care — rules adopted. The director shall enter into written agreements with a facility as defined in section 125.2 to pay for seventy-five percent of the cost of the care, maintenance and treatment of an alcoholic. Such contracts shall be for a period of no more than one year. The commission shall review and evaluate at least once each year all such agreements and determine whether or not they shall be continued.

The contract may be in such form and contain provisions as agreed upon by the parties. Such contract shall provide that the facility shall admit and treat alcoholics whose legal settlement is in counties other than the contracting county. If one payment for care, maintenance, and treatment is not made by the patient or those legally liable therefor within thirty days after discharge the payment shall be made by the division directly to the facility. Payments shall be made each month and shall be based upon the facility's average daily per patient charge. Provisions of this section shall not pertain to patients treated at the mental health institutes.

If the appropriation to the commission is insufficient to meet the requirements of this section, the commission shall request a transfer of funds and section 8.39 shall apply. [C71, 73,§123B.4; 65GA, ch 1131,§37]

Referred to in §125.12

125.28 Counties to share cost. Except as provided in section 125.26, counties shall pay for the remaining twenty-five percent of the cost of the care, maintenance, and treatment of an alcoholic from the county mental health and institutions fund as provided in section 444.12. However, a county shall not expend from the county general fund or the county mental health and institutions fund, for programs implemented pursuant to sections 125.1 to 125.26, an amount in excess of the total amount spent from these funds by the county on alcoholism programs for the calendar year ending December 31, 1973, without the approval of the board of supervisors. The commission shall establish guidelines for use by the counties in estimating the amount of expense which the county will incur each year. The facility shall certify to the county of the alcoholic's legal settlement once each month twenty-five percent of the unpaid cost of the care, maintenance, and treatment of an alcoholic. Such county shall pay the cost so certified to the facility from its county mental health and institutions fund. However, the approval of the board of supervisors shall be required before payment is made by a county for costs incurred which exceed a total of five hundred dollars for one year for treatment provided to any one alcoholic or intoxicated person, except that such approval is not required for the cost of treatment provided to an alcoholic or intoxicated person who is committed pursuant to sections 125.18 and 125.19. A facility may, upon approval of the board of supervisors, submit to a county a billing for the aggregate amount of all care, maintenance, and treatment of alcoholics for each month. The board of supervisors may demand an itemization of such billings at any time or may audit the same. [C71, 73,§123B.5; 65GA, ch 1131,§38]

125.29 Legal settlement determined. The facility shall, when an alcoholic is admitted, or as soon thereafter as it receives the proper information, determine and enter upon its records whether the legal settlement of such alcoholic is in the county where the facility is located, or in some other county, state, or country, or is unknown. [C71, 73,§123B.6]

125.30 Disputed settlement. In the event any county to which certification of the cost of care, maintenance, and treatment of an alcoholic is made, disputes that such alcoholic has his legal settlement in that county, it shall immediately notify the facility that such dispute exists. The director shall immediately investigate the facts and determine in which county the patient has legal settlement. The director shall certify his determination to the county wherein it is found the patient has legal settlement and to the facility. The county of legal settlement shall reimburse the facility as provided in this chapter. If the director finds that the legal settlement of an alcoholic at the time of admission was in another state or country or was unknown, then the division shall pay for that portion of his care, maintenance, and treatment that his county of legal settlement would have been liable to pay. For purposes of this section, a "facility" does not include a mental health institute under the control of the department of social services. [C71, 73,§123B.7; 65GA, ch 1131,§39]

125.31 Legal liability for care. The alcoholic and any person, firm, corporation, or insurance company bound by contract to provide support, hospitalization, or medical services for the alcoholic shall be legally liable to the county of the alcoholic's legal settlement for twenty-five percent of the total amount and to the division for seventy-five percent of the total amount of the cost of providing care, maintenance, and treatment for the alcoholic while a voluntary or committed patient in a facility, except when the state pays the total cost of care in which case liability of one hundred percent shall be to the state. Nothing in this section shall prohibit any individual from paying any portion of the cost of treatment. [C71, 73, §123B.8; 65GA, ch 1131, §40]

125.32 Transfer from institutional fund. The county auditor upon receipt of such certification by the facility shall enter the same to the credit of the facility and issue a notice to the county treasurer, authorizing him to transfer the amount from the county mental health and institutions fund to the state general fund, which notice shall be filed by the treasurer as his authority for making such transfer, and shall include the amount transferred in his next remittance to the facility. [C71, 73, §123B.9]

125.33 County auditor to keep accounts. The auditor of each county shall keep an accurate account of the total cost of the care, maintenance, and treatment of any alcoholic and keep an index of the names of the alcoholics admitted from such county. [C71, 73, §123B.11; 65GA, ch 1131, §41]

125.34 Collection of claims by board of supervisors. The board of supervisors shall collect the total amount of all such claims and direct the county attorney to proceed with the collection of such claims as a part of the duties of his office. The county shall be entitled to keep the total amount of all such claims collected. The county attorney, with the consent of the board of supervisors, may execute an agreement providing for the acceptance of a lesser amount owed by an alcoholic, his spouse, or estate to the county. The execution of such agreement may provide that the same is in satisfaction of all moneys owed the county. [C71, 73, §123B.12; 65GA, ch 1131, §42]

125.35 Presumption certificate is correct. In any action to enforce the liability imposed by this chapter, the certificate from the facility to the county auditor stating the sums charged in such cases shall be presumed correct. [C71, 73, §123B.13]

125.36 Claim against estate. On the death of the person who receives assistance under the provisions of this chapter, the total amount paid for his care, maintenance, and treatment shall be allowed as a claim of the second class against the estate of such person. [C71, 73, §123B.16]
