Air Quality Application System — TRF

Purpose

This appropriation will support the acquisition of a new online permitting system. The Department of Natural Resources (DNR) grants operating permits under Title I and Title V of the federal Clean Air Act. The DNR has maintained an online application system in the past. However, the Department has stated that applicants rarely use the existing system due to the age of the system. Currently the majority of construction and operating permits are submitted to the DNR on paper, and these applications are manually input into the system. The DNR annually receives around 2,000 permits to construct (Title I, Clean Air Act) or operate (Title V, Clean Air Act).

Funding

This project received an appropriation of $954,000 in FY 2019 from the Technology Reinvestment Fund.
