14009. Rules of procedure. The record and case may be presented in the supreme court by printed abstracts, arguments, motions, and petitions for rehearing as provided by its rules; and the provisions of law in civil procedure relating to certification of the record and the filing of decisions and opinions of the supreme court shall apply in such cases. [C97, §5461; C24, 27, 31, §14009.]

14010. Decision of supreme court. If the appeal is taken by the defendant, the supreme court must examine the record, without regard to technical errors or defects which do not affect the substantial rights of the parties, and render such judgment on the record as the law demands; it may affirm, reverse, or modify the judgment, or render such judgment as the district court should have done, or order a new trial, or reduce the punishment, but cannot increase it. [C51, §§3097, 3098; R60, §4925; C73, §4538; C97, §5462; C24, 27, 31, §14010.]

Similar provision, §12871.
C97, §5462, editorially divided.

14011. Costs on reversal. In case the judgment of the trial court is reversed or modified in favor of the defendant, on the appeal of defendant, he shall be entitled to recover the cost of printing abstract and briefs, not exceeding one dollar for each page thereof, to be paid by the county from which the appeal was taken. [C97, §5462; C24, 27, 31, §14011.]

14012. Decisions in appeals by state. If the state appeals, the supreme court cannot reverse or modify the judgment so as to increase the punishment, but may affirm it, and shall point out any error in the proceedings or in the measure of punishment, and its decision shall be obligatory as law. [R60, §4926; C73, §4539; C97, §5463; C24, 27, 31, §14012.]

14013. Reversal—effect. If a judgment against the defendant is reversed, such reversal shall be deemed an order for a new trial, unless the supreme court shall direct that the defendant be discharged and his bail exonerated, or if money be deposited instead, that it be refunded to him. [C51, §3099; R60, §4927; C73, §4540; C97, §5464; C24, 27, 31, §14013.]

14014. Affirmance—effect. On a judgment of affirmance against the defendant, the original judgment shall be carried into execution as the supreme court shall direct, except as otherwise provided. [C51, §3100; R60, §4928; C73, §4541; C97, §5465; C24, 27, 31, §14014.]

14015. Opinion of supreme court. The opinion of the supreme court must be in writing, filed with its clerk, and recorded. [R60, §4924; C73, §4537; C97, §5460; C24, 27, 31, §14015.]

Similar provision, §12871.

14016. Decision recorded and transmitted. The decision of the supreme court, with any opinion filed or judgment rendered, must be recorded by its clerk, and, after the expiration of the period allowed for a rehearing, or as ordered by the court or provided by its rules, a certified copy of the decision and opinion shall be transmitted to the clerk of the trial court, filed and entered of record by him, and thereafter the jurisdiction of the supreme court shall cease, and all proceedings necessary for executing the judgment shall be had in the trial court, or by its clerk. [C51, §§3101, 3102; R60, §§4929, 4930; C73, §§4542, 4543; C97, §5466; C24, 27, 31, §14016.]

14017. Judgment enforced. Unless some proceeding in the district court is directed, a copy of the judgment of the trial court and decision on appeal, or of the judgment and decision on appeal certified by the clerk of the trial court, shall be delivered to the sheriff, or other proper officer, as an execution, and shall authorize him to execute the judgment of the court, or take any steps required to bring the action to a conclusion. [R60, §4931; C73, §4544; C97, §5467; C24, 27, 31, §14017.]

14018. Time of imprisonment deducted. If a defendant, imprisoned during the pendency of an appeal, upon a new trial ordered by the supreme court is again convicted, the period of his former imprisonment shall be deducted from the period of imprisonment to be fixed on the last verdict of conviction. [R60, §4933; C73, §4545; C97, §5468; C24, 27, 31, §14018.]

COMPROMISING CERTAIN OFFENSES

14019. Compromisable offenses.
14020. Procedure.

14019. Compromisable offenses. When a defendant is prosecuted in a criminal action for a misdemeanor, for which the person injured by the act constituting the offense has a remedy by a civil action, the offense may be compromised as provided in section 14020, except when it was committed:

1. By or upon an officer while in the execution of the duties of his office;
2. Riotously; or,
3. With an intent to commit a felony. [R60, §5106; C73, §4708; C97, §5622; C24, 27, 31, §14019.]

14020. Procedure. If the party injured in such a case appear before the court to which the papers on a preliminary examination are returned, at any time before trial on an indictment for the offense, or the trial of an appeal in the district court, and acknowledge in writing that he has received satisfaction for the

Referred to in §§14019, 14021.

14022. Limitation. No public offense can be compromised, nor can any proceedings for the prosecution or punishment thereof, upon a compromise, be stayed, except as provided in this chapter. [R60, §5109; C73, §4711; C97, §5625; C24, 27, 31, §14022.]

DISMISSAL OF CRIMINAL ACTIONS

14023. Failure to indict.
14024. Delay in trial.
14025. Discharge on undertaking.

14023. Failure to indict. When a person is held to answer for a public offense, if an indictment be not found against him at the next regular term of the court at which he is held to answer, the court must order the prosecution to be dismissed, unless good cause to the contrary be shown. [C51, §3248; R60, §5007; C73, §4613; C97, §5535; C24, 27, 31, §14023.]

Related provision, §13722.

14024. Delay in trial. [C51, §3249; R60, §5008; C73, §4614; C97, §5536; C24, 27, 31, §14024.]

14025. Discharge on undertaking. 14026. Discharge on dismissal. If the court direct the prosecution to be dismissed, the defendant, if in custody, must be discharged, or his bail, if any, exonerated, and if money has been deposited instead of bail, it must be refunded to him. 14027. Dismissal by court — effect. The court, upon its own motion or the application of the county attorney, in the furtherance of justice, may order the dismissal of any pending criminal prosecution, the reasons therefor being stated in the order and entered of record, and no such prosecution shall be discontinued or abandoned in any other manner. Such a dismissal is a bar to another prosecution for the same offense if it is a misdemeanor; but it is not a bar if the offense charged be a felony. STATUTES AND RULES
REGULATING PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE IN THE
SUPREME COURT OF IOWA

All changes made in these rules as to the preparation of briefs and arguments may be used in cases now pending, but these rules, as now adopted, must be complied with in all cases where brief and argument is filed after January 1, 1936.

ORGANIZATION

CODE SEC. 12801. The supreme court shall consist of nine judges, five of whom shall constitute a quorum to hold court, but one alone thereof may adjourn from day to day or to a certain day or until the next term.

DIVISION OF COURT

CODE SEC. 12802. The supreme court may be divided into two sections in such manner as it may by rule prescribe. Said sections may hold open court separately and cases may be submitted to each section separately, in accordance with such rules as the court may adopt.

Rule 1. The supreme court shall be divided into two divisions to be known as the first and the second. Each division shall consist of four judges and the chief justice. The personnel of the divisions shall not be permanent, but may be changed from time to time by the chief justice as exigencies may arise, or by affirmative vote by a majority of the justices.

Rule 2. Each division shall, except as hereinafter provided, hear and determine all motions and cases submitted to it, and all petitions for rehearing in cases decided by it, including motions for decrees to retax costs, and all other interlocutory matters.

Rule 3. All cases or other matters passed to another period shall go to and be heard by the division to which the cause was originally assigned; and causes or other matters "passed to last period" shall also be heard by the division to which the case was originally assigned, save where the matter is for the full bench, when it shall be passed to the last period and be heard at that time. The parties waive oral argument in all cases passed from one period to another of the term, except cases ordered submitted to the full bench.

Rule 4. Should there be a difference of opinion among the members of either division as to how a case should be decided, or as to the facts or the rules of law applicable thereto, any member of that division, or the chief justice, on his own motion, may call in the other division and the division thus called in shall consider the case and take part in the decision.

Rule 5. Should a member of a division get behind with his work for any reason, or be disqualified from sitting in any cause, the chief justice may call in a judge from another division who is up with his work to sit in place of the one who is behind or disqualified, and may also, in the event an entire division gets behind, make such a division of the cases for any period as will equalize matters between the two divisions.

Rule 6. Consultation may be had between the divisions at any time upon cases pending on motion, for original submission, or upon petitions for rehearing, upon request of any member of the court.

Rule 7. Where a chief justice retires and is re-elected, he shall take his place with the division from which his successor comes, and, if a new man takes his place, he too shall be assigned to the division from which the then chief justice is taken.

CHIEF JUSTICE

CODE SEC. 12804. Of the elected judges whose terms of office first expire, the senior in time of service shall be chief justice for six months and so on in rotation until all such judges shall have been chief justice. If two or more judges, who would otherwise be entitled to the position, are equal in time of service, then the right to the position and the order in which they shall serve shall be determined by seniority in age. At the last term of each year, the supreme court shall determine and enter of record who, under this statute, shall be chief justice for the six months' period beginning on January first thereafter. Likewise at the May term in each year and on or before June thirtieth, the supreme court shall determine and enter of record who, under this statute, shall be chief justice for the last six months of the year.

The presiding chief justice shall appoint one of the other members of the court to act in his place and stead in case of his absence or inability to act and, when so acting, such member shall have all the rights, duties and powers given by statute to the chief justice of the supreme court.

Rule 7-a. In case the chief justice is absent or ill or from any other disability is unable to act, he shall select some other member of the court to act as chief during his absence or disability, and in the event he is unable to make such selection, the court shall select one of its other members to act during the pendency of such disability.

In case the judge determined to be eligible as chief justice under the provisions of code section 12804, waives his right to the position and declines to act as chief justice, then the next judge eligible to said position under the provisions of said section of the code shall be selected to such position for the period of six months, and shall then be succeeded by the next judge entitled to said position under said statute.

FULL BENCH

Rule 8. All cases involving constitutional questions shall, upon timely application by either litigant, be heard by the full bench.

Rule 9. Any case may upon motion supported by showing be ordered by the court or the chief justice submitted to the full bench, or the court may, on its own motion, order such submission.

Rule 10. Assignment shall also be made of all motions, cases for original submission, and petitions for rehearing which are to go to the full bench, all under the orders and directions of the chief justice.

JURISDICTION

CONST., ART. V, SEC. 4. The supreme court shall have appellate jurisdiction only in cases in chancery, and shall constitute a court for the correction of errors at law, under such restrictions as the general assembly may, by law, prescribe; and shall have power to issue all writs and process necessary to secure justice to parties, and exercise a supervisory control over all inferior judicial tribunals throughout the state.

CODE SEC. 12822. The supreme court has appellate jurisdiction over all judgments and decisions of all courts of record, except as otherwise provided by law.

CODE SEC. 12823. An appeal may also be taken to the supreme court from:

1. An order made affecting a substantial right in an action, when such order, in effect, determines the action and prevents a judgment from which an appeal might be taken.

2. A final order made in special actions affecting a substantial right therein, or made on a summary application in an action after judgment.

3. An order which grants or refuses, continues or modifies, a provisional remedy; grants or refuses, dissolves or refuses to dissolve, an injunction or attachment; grants or refuses a new trial; sustains or overrules a demurrer in a law action; or sustains or overrules a motion to dismiss in an equitable action.

4. An intermediate order involving the merits or materially affecting the final decision.

5. An order or judgment on habeas corpus.

CODE SEC. 12824. If any of the above orders or judgments are made or rendered by a judge, the same are reviewable the same as if made by a court.

CODE SEC. 12828. The supreme court on appeal may review and reverse any judgment or order of the municipal, superior, or district court, although no motion for a new trial was made in such court.

CODE SEC. 12831. The court may issue all writs and processes necessary for the exercise and enforcement of its appellate jurisdiction.

CODE SEC. 12879. The supreme court may enforce its mandates upon inferior courts and officers by fine and imprisonment, which imprisonment may be continued until obeyed.

CODE SEC. 12885. All objections to the jurisdiction of the court to entertain an appeal must be made in written form stating specifically the ground thereof and served upon the appellant or his attorney of record not less than ten days before the date assigned for the submission of the cause.

TERMS

CODE SEC. 12805. The supreme court shall be held at the seat of government, and shall convene and hold three regular terms each year. The first term shall begin with the second Tuesday of January and end with the first Monday of May; the second shall begin with the first Tuesday after the first Monday of May and end with the third Monday of September; and the third shall begin with the first Tuesday after the third Monday of September and end with the third Saturday of December.

CODE SEC. 12806. Each of said terms of court shall be for the submission and determination of causes, and for the transaction of such other business as shall properly come before the court. All causes on the docket shall be heard at each term, unless continued or otherwise disposed of by order of the court. The court shall remain in session, so far as practicable, until it is determined what the opinion of the court shall be in all causes submitted to it, except in causes where reargument is ordered. Judgments of affirmance, rulings, and orders in causes submitted, and orders authorized by law may be made and entered by the court at any time, regardless of the terms of court.

Rule 11. Each term shall be so divided into periods that the last shall be for the consideration, by the full bench, of all motions, cases on original submission, petitions for rehearing, and other matters properly referable thereto; and all other periods shall be so divided that one division shall sit on the first Tuesday of the period for the submission of such motions, cases, and petitions for rehearing and other matters, as may be assigned to it, and the other shall sit for the hearing of matters assigned to it, on the second Tuesday of each period. And, to equalize the work, cases assigned for each period shall be divided, as nearly as practicable, into two equal parts, save that all cases and other matters for consideration by the entire bench shall be assigned for the last period of the term.

APPEALS IN CIVIL CASES

CODE SEC. 12832. Appeals from the district, superior, and municipal courts may be taken to the supreme court at any time within four months except as hereafter provided from the date of the entry of record of the judgment or order appealed from, and not afterwards; but, when a motion for new trial, or in arrest of judgment, or for judgment notwithstanding the verdict has been filed, such time for appeal shall be automatically extended so as to permit the same at any time within sixty days after the entry of the ruling upon such motion.

CODE SEC. 12832-d1. If the action challenges the legality, validity or constitutionality of a proposed constitutional amendment, notice of appeal may be taken within three days from and after the entry of the decree in district court, and not afterwards.

CODE SEC. 12833. No appeal shall be taken in any cause in which the amount in controversy between the parties as shown by the pleadings does not exceed one hundred dollars, unless the trial judge shall, during the term in which judgment or order is entered, certify that the cause is one in which the appeal should be allowed. Upon such certificate being filed the same shall be appealable regardless of the amount in controversy. Said limitation shall not affect the right of appeal in any action in which an interest in real estate is involved, nor shall the right of appeal be affected by the remission of any part of the verdict or judgment returned or rendered.

CODE SEC. 12828. The supreme court on appeal may review and reverse any judgment or order of the municipal, superior, or district court, although no motion for a new trial was made in such court.

CODE SEC. 12834. A part of several coparties may appeal, but in such case they must serve notice of such appeal upon those not joining therein, and file proof thereof with the clerk of the court from which the appeal is taken.

CODE SEC. 12835. Coparties, refusing to join in an appeal, cannot afterwards appeal, or derive any benefit therefrom, unless from the necessity of the case, but they shall be held to have joined, and be liable for their proportion of the costs, unless they appear and object thereto.

CODE SEC. 12837. An appeal is taken and perfected by the service of a notice in writing on the adverse party, his agent, or any attorney who appeared for him in the case in the court below, and by filing said notice with return of service indorsed thereon or attached thereto with the clerk of the court wherein the proceedings were had, stating the appeal from the same, or from some specific part thereof, defining such part.

CODE SEC. 12838. When such service cannot be made the trial court or judge on application shall direct what notice shall be sufficient.

CODE SEC. 12839. Notice of appeal shall not be held insufficient because served before the clerk of the trial court has spread the judgment entry upon the court record if it shall appear that such entry has been made in proper form before the appellant's abstract was filed in the office of the clerk of the supreme court.

CODE SEC. 12840. A notice of appeal shall be served and return made thereon in the same manner as an original notice in a civil action.

CODE SEC. 12841. All other notices connected with or growing out of the appeal shall be served and the return made in like manner, and filed in the office of the clerk of the supreme court.

CODE SEC. 12842. All notices provided for in sections 12840 and 12841 become a part of the record in the case on being filed.

CODE SEC. 12884. The death of one or all of the parties shall not cause the proceedings to abate, but the names of the proper persons shall be substituted, as is provided in such cases in the district court, and the case may proceed. The court may also, in such case, grant a continuance when such a course will be calculated to promote the ends of justice.

Rule 12. The attorneys and guardians ad litem of the respective parties in the court below shall be deemed the attorneys and guardians of the same parties respectively in this court until others are retained or appointed and notice thereof served on the adverse party.

SUPERSEDEAS BONDS

CODE SEC. 12858. No proceedings under a judgment or order, or any part thereof, shall be stayed by an appeal, unless the appellant executes a bond with one or more sureties, to be filed with and approved by the clerk of the court in which the judgment or order was rendered or made, to the effect that he will pay to the appellee all costs and damages that shall be adjudged against him on the appeal; and will satisfy and perform the judgment or order appealed from in case it shall be affirmed, and any judgment or order which the supreme court may render, or order to be rendered by the inferior court, not exceeding in amount or value the original judgment or order, and all rents of or damages to property during the pendency of the appeal out of the possession of which the appellee is kept by reason of the appeal.

CODE SEC. 12859. If the bond is intended to stay proceedings on only a part of the judgment or order, it shall be varied so as to secure the part stayed alone.

CODE SEC. 12860. When thus filed and approved, the clerk shall issue a written order requiring the appellee and all others to stay all proceedings under such judgment or order, or so much thereof as is superseded thereby.

CODE SEC. 12861. No appeal or stay shall vacate or affect such judgment or order.

CODE SEC. 12865. If a party has perfected his appeal, and the clerk of the lower court refuses for any reason to approve the bond, or requires an excessive penalty, or unjust or improper conditions, he may apply to the district court or judge thereof, who shall fix the amount and conditions of the bond and approve the same. Pending the application, the judge may, by a written order, recall and stay all proceedings under the order or judgment appealed from until the decision of the application. The bond thus approved shall be filed with the clerk, who shall issue a written order to stay proceedings.

CODE SEC. 12866. The appellee may move the court rendering the judgment or making the order appealed from, or the supreme court, or a judge of either court, if in vacation, upon ten days' notice in writing to appellant, to discharge the bond on account of defect in substance or insufficiency in security, which motion if well taken shall be sustained, unless appellant shall, within a day to be fixed in the order made and filed therein, give a new and sufficient bond as required by said order. If the new bond is not given, proceedings shall be had in the lower court as though no bond had been given, but a new and sufficient bond may be given at any time with like effect and results as though given in the first instance.

CODE SEC. 12867. If the judgment or order is for the payment of money, the penalty shall be in at least twice the amount of the judgment and costs. If not for the payment of money, the penalty shall be sufficient to save the appellee harmless from the consequences of taking the appeal, but in no case shall the penalty be less than one hundred dollars.

CODE SEC. 12872. The supreme court, if it affirms the judgment, shall also, if the appellee asks or moves therefor, render judgment against the appellant and his sureties on the appeal bond for the amount of the judgment, damages, and costs referred to therein in case such damages can be accurately known to the court without an issue and trial.

DOCKETING OF CAUSES

CODE SEC. 12830. The cause on appeal shall be docketed as it was in the court below, and the party taking the appeal shall be called the appellant, and the other party the appellee.

CODE SEC. 12843. The clerk shall docket the causes as they are filed in his office and shall, under order of the chief justice, arrange and set a proper number for trial for each day of the term, placing together as far as practicable those from the same judicial district, and shall cause notice thereof to be published and distributed as the court may direct.

CODE SEC. 12844. No case shall be docketed until the fees [$3.00] provided by law therefor have been paid.

CODE SEC. 12848-b1. If the abstract is filed forty days before the convening of the first term which follows the taking and perfecting of the appeal, the cause shall be placed on the calendar for said first term, and shall come on for hearing; unless otherwise ordered by the court.

CODE SEC. 1456. An appeal may be taken to the supreme court [in a workmen's compensation case] from any final order, judgment, or decree of the district court, but such appeal shall be docketed, placed upon the term calendar, and submitted in the same time and manner as criminal cases in said court.

Rule 13. Immediately after the time expires during which causes may be docketed for trial at a term of court, the clerk shall make and cause to be printed, without delay, the docket for the term, which shall give all causes, whether continuances or appearances, for trial at such term, and which shall designate the number, the party appealing, the court and county from which the appeal is brought, the counsel of the parties, the period for which each cause is assigned for trial, whether noticed for oral argument, the causes continued by reason of the provisions of Rule 15, and such other matter for the information of the court and attorneys as may be conveniently given, and so assign motions and petitions for rehearing as that the same will be submitted to and reach the proper divisions. He shall forward to each judge of the court, to each attorney having causes at the term, and to the clerk of the district, municipal, and superior courts of each county, a copy of said docket.

ADVANCING CAUSES

Rule 14. If a cause involves the decision of a question of public importance, or rights which are likely to be lost or greatly impaired by delay, the court will, in its discretion, upon motion supported by affidavit duly served, order the submission of the cause at a term in advance of that at which it would otherwise be submitted.

ABSTRACTS

CODE SEC. 12845. Printed abstracts of the record shall be filed by the appellant in the office of the clerk of the supreme court.

CODE SEC. 12845-b1. Abstracts shall be presumed to contain the record, unless denied or corrected by subsequent abstracts.

CODE SEC. 12845-b2. Denials of abstracts, additional abstracts and transcripts may also be filed.

CODE SEC. 12847. An abstract must be filed within one hundred twenty days except as hereafter provided after the appeal is taken and perfected unless further time is given before the expiration of said time by the supreme court or a judge thereof for good cause shown.

CODE SEC. 12847-d1. If the action challenges the legality, validity or constitutionality of a proposed constitutional amendment, an abstract of record shall be filed within five days after the service of notice of appeal, unless additional time, not to exceed three days, be granted by the chief justice.

Rule 14-a1. An extension of time within which to file abstract will be granted only upon reasonable notice to the adverse party or his attorney, proof of which service shall accompany the application; provided that any justice, may, for good cause in his discretion, grant such extension conditionally within the statutory time without notice, subject to the right of the opposing litigant to have such order set aside upon a showing that sufficient ground for refusal of such order existed at the time the order was made.

Rule 15. In making up the docket for the term, the clerk shall place thereon all cases in which the abstract has been served and filed forty days or more before the first day of said term, unless otherwise ordered by the court; but all cases, in which abstracts have not been served and filed seventy days or more before the time designated by the clerk for the hearing of causes from the judicial district in which said cause was tried, shall ipso facto stand continued until the next term of this court and shall be so marked by the clerk upon the docket. There shall be no waiver of oral argument by reason of such continuance, herein mentioned, if notice in writing or in print, of intention to argue the case orally be served upon an attorney for the adverse party and filed with the clerk of this court at least twenty days before the first day of the term to which continued.

Rule 15-a. The appellant shall serve upon each appellee or his attorney a copy of the abstract, which shall be prepared according to these rules. In case of cross appeals, the party first giving notice of appeal shall under this rule be considered the appellant. Appellant shall also file with the clerk eighteen copies of said abstract, including the service copy.

This rule as to number of copies to be filed, including service copy, shall also apply to all denials and additional abstracts, appellant's brief and argument, appellee's brief and argument, the reply, petition for rehearing and the resistance to the same.

Service of abstracts or of any of the other aforesaid documents may be made as follows:

(1) By delivering copy to the opposing litigant or to his attorney of record;

(2) By mailing copy properly addressed to the proper post office address of such counsel, with postage prepaid, and by registered mail;

Proof of service and the method thereof may be made by appropriate acceptance or affidavit indorsed upon one printed copy and filed as the "service copy" with the clerk of this court. If service be by registered mail the receipt therefor shall be attached as a part of the affidavit of service.

Rule 16. If it appear from an inspection of the abstract that the appellant has negligently or intentionally failed to comply with the rule requiring only so much of the record as may be necessary to a full understanding of the question presented for decision to be included therein, the court may, in its discretion, order a new abstract prepared in conformity with such rule or affirm the judgment of the lower court without considering the appeal.

Rule 17. Every denial shall point out as specifically as the case will permit the defects alleged to exist in the abstract. A denial by appellee shall be taken as true unless the appellant sustains his abstract by a certification of the record. Should the appellee deem the appellant's abstract incorrect or unfair he may prepare such additional abstract as he shall deem necessary to a full understanding of the questions presented to the court for decision. A denial by the appellant of such additional abstract, if not confessed, will be disregarded unless sustained by a certification of the record. The appellee shall serve one printed copy of his additional abstract or denial on each appellant or his attorney and deliver eighteen printed copies thereof, including the service copy, to the clerk within fifteen days after receiving appellant's argument, and a denial by the appellant shall be served on the appellee and eighteen printed copies thereof, including the service copy, shall be delivered to the clerk within five days after service of the additional abstract.

Rule 18. Abstracts of record shall be made in substantially the following form:

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF IOWA

JANUARY TERM, 19....

vs.
JOHN DOE, Appellant. } "In Equity" or "At Law."
Appeal from Van Buren District Court.
JOHN SMITH, Judge.

J. C. K., of Des Moines, for the Appellant.

Due, timely, and legal service of the within abstract is hereby acknowledged this.....day of....., 19.....

Attorneys for Appellee

On the.....day of....., 19....., the plaintiff filed in the Van Buren district court a stating his cause of action as follows:

[Set out all of petition necessary to an understanding of the questions to be presented to this court, and no more. In setting out exhibits, omit all merely formal irrelevant parts, as, for example, if the exhibit be a deed or mortgage and no question is raised as to the acknowledgment, omit the acknowledgment. When the defendant has appeared it is useless to encumber the record with the original notice or the return of the officer.]

On the.....day of....., 19....., the defendant filed a to said petition setting up the following grounds:

[State only the grounds of demurrer, omitting the formal parts. If the pleading was a motion and the ruling therein is one of the questions to be considered, set it out in the same way and continue.]

And on the.....day of....., 19....., the same was submitted to the court, and the court made the following ruling thereon:

[Here set out the ruling. In every instance let the abstract be made in the chronological order of the events in the case; let each ruling appear in the proper connection. If the defendant pleaded over, and thereby waived his right to appeal from these rulings, no mention of them should be made in the abstract but it should continue.]

And on the.....day of....., 19....., the defendant filed his

to the petition, setting up the following defenses:

[Here set out the defenses, omitting all formal parts. If motions or demurrers were interposed to this pleading, proceed as directed with reference to the petition. Frame the record so that it will properly present all questions to be reviewed and raised before issue is joined. When the abstract shows issue joined, proceed.]

EVIDENCE

[Here set out so much of the evidence and proceedings as is necessary to show the rulings of the court to which exceptions were taken during the progress of the trial.]

INSTRUCTIONS

After the evidence and the arguments of counsel were concluded the plaintiff (or defendant, as the case may be) asked the court to give each of the following instructions to the jury:

[Set out instructions referred to, and continue.]

Which the court refused as to each instruction, to which several rulings the plaintiff (or defendant) excepted as follows:

[Set out the exceptions.]

And thereupon the court gave the following instructions to the jury:

[Set out the instructions.]

To the giving of those numbered (give the numbers) and to the giving of each thereof the plaintiff (or defendant) excepted, as follows:

[Set out the exceptions.]

[Set out the record of the ruling.]

To which the plaintiff (or defendant) at the time excepted.

JUDGMENT

On the..... day of....., 19....., the following judgment was rendered and entered of record:

[Set out the judgment entry appealed from.]

NOTICE OF APPEAL

[If supersedeas bond was filed, state the fact.]

INDEX

Abstracts and all amendments thereto must be accompanied by a brief index of their contents. The pleadings should be indicated therein, not alphabetically, but in the order of their filing.

The names of witnesses should be set forth therein, not alphabetically, but in the order in which their testimony appears in the abstract.

All exhibits must be referred to in the index by letter or number and a brief description of each exhibit shall be included therein.

This outline is presented for the purpose of indicating the character of the abstract contemplated by the rule, which, like all the rules, is to be substantially complied with. Of course, no formula can be laid down applicable to all cases. The rule to be observed in abstracting a case is: Preserve everything material to the questions to be decided and omit everything else.

CERTIFICATION OF RECORD

CODE SEC. 12849. Any party may cause a certified copy of the record in the lower court or any part of the same to be filed in the office of the clerk of the supreme court for its consideration.

CODE SEC. 12850. Upon application to the supreme court or any judge thereof, the clerk of the court from which appeal is taken may be ordered to file such certified copy.

CODE SEC. 12851. The original transcript of evidence may be sent up, but shall be returned to the clerk of the proper county after the cause has been determined by the supreme court.

CODE SEC. 12854. Where a view of an original paper or exhibit in the action may be important to a correct decision of the appeal, the court or any judge thereof may order the clerk of the court below to transmit the same, which he shall do in the manner provided for the transmission of certifications of the record.

CODE SEC. 12857. The lower court, the supreme court, or a judge of either court, may make any necessary orders to secure a perfect record or transcript thereof, upon a showing by affidavit or otherwise, and upon such notice as it or he may prescribe.

DISMISSAL OF APPEALS, OR AFFIRMANCE OF JUDGMENTS

CODE SEC. 12848. If the abstract is not filed within one hundred twenty days after the appeal is taken and perfected or is not filed within the further time as fixed by the court or judge, the appellee may file an abstract of such matters of record as are necessary, or may file a copy of the final judgment or order appealed from, or other matters required, certified to by the clerk of the trial court, and cause the case to be docketed, and the appeal upon motion shall be dismissed, or the judgment or order affirmed.

CODE SEC. 12886. Where appellant has no right, or no further right, to prosecute the appeal, the appellee may move to dismiss it, and if the grounds of the motion do not appear in the record, or by a writing purporting to have been signed by the appellant and filed, they must be verified by affidavit.

CODE SEC. 12887. The appellee may, by answer or abstract filed and verified by himself, agent, or attorney, plead any facts which render the taking of the appeal improper or destroy the appellant's right of further prosecuting the same, to which the appellant may file a reply or abstract likewise verified by himself, his agent, or attorney, and the question of law or fact therein shall be determined by the court upon such evidence and in such form as it may prescribe.

MOTIONS

CODE SEC. 12870. All motions must be in writing and entered upon the motion book, and be heard upon such notice and argument, if any, as the court by rule may prescribe, but no motion shall be submitted without being publicly called by the court, unless the parties otherwise agree.

Rule 19. Motions must be served by copy of the same and of all affidavits or documents upon which they are based, upon the opposite party or attorney, ten days before the morning on which the causes for the district are set for hearing. Such opposite party shall then have five days to file papers in resistance to the same, copies of which must be served upon the other party or attorney, and no papers will be regarded which do not appear to have been so served. This rule shall not apply to motions the causes whereof arise after the filing of the abstract, but in such cases timely notice of such motions shall be given to the opposite attorneys. Nor shall this rule apply, as to time of service, to motions for continuance, or to advance.

Rule 20. Motions made in a cause after judgment rendered by the supreme court, or after the time assigned for the hearing of causes from the district from which it was appealed, will be heard only upon proof of service of reasonable notice of such motion upon the adverse party or his attorney. Service of all other motions shall be such as is prescribed by the court or a judge thereof.

Rule 21. Arguments in support of motions, if any, must be in writing or print, and shall be filed before the morning of the day set for the hearing of the cause, and served by copy upon the opposite party or attorney when the motion is served; and arguments in resistance, if any, must be in writing or print and filed before the morning of the day set for the hearing of the cause, and served by copy on the opposite party or attorney when the papers in resistance are served.

Rule 22. If a difference of opinion should arise upon the disposition of a motion, the chief justice shall call in the other division, which shall take part in the determination thereof.

Rule 23. Tuesday of each period shall be "motion day" for the submission of motions to the proper division of the court, or to the full bench.

BRIEFS AND ARGUMENTS

CODE SEC. 12871. The parties to an appeal may be heard orally and in writing, subject to such rules as the court may prescribe; and all causes docketed, not continued by consent or upon cause shown, shall be submitted in the order assigned, unless otherwise directed by the court or the judges thereof. * * *

CODE SEC. 12871-d1. If the action challenges the legality, validity or constitutionality of a proposed constitutional amendment, the appellant shall file a written argument within ten days after the filing of the abstract and appellee shall file his argument within ten days thereafter, and appellant shall then file his reply within three days. The cause shall then be submitted to the supreme court in regular or special full bench session as soon thereafter as the chief justice may order.

Rule 24. When the appeal presents only questions of law upon rulings of the court below, appellant shall open and close the argument, and must, at least forty days before the day assigned for the hearing of the case, serve upon an attorney for each appellee copies of his brief of points, authorities and argument. If appellee desires to be heard, he shall, at least fifteen days prior to the time set for hearing, serve upon an attorney for each appellant copies of his brief or argument; and the printed reply, if any, shall be served at least three days before the case is to be finally submitted. If the trial in the supreme court is de novo, and appellant has the burden, he shall observe the foregoing rules. If appellee has the burden, he may waive his right to open the argument; and if he fails to serve and file his brief within the time hereinbefore provided, he shall be held to have waived the right. Appellant will then be entitled to open the argument, and must serve copies of his brief upon an attorney for each appellee fifteen days before the hearing. Appellee may then, and at least three days before the submission, serve upon an attorney for each appellant copies of his argument, which must be strictly confined to matters in reply to appellant's argument. A failure to comply with the above requirements will entitle the party not in default, unless the court shall, for sufficient cause, otherwise order, to a continuance or to have the case submitted at his option upon the briefs and arguments on file when the default occurred.

Rule 25. All printed briefs and arguments, except upon motions, shall be prepared as required by these rules, and each party shall file with the clerk eighteen printed copies of each brief and argument, including the service copy.

Rule 26. Notice in writing, or in print, of intention to argue a case orally, shall be served upon an attorney for the adverse party and filed with the clerk of this court twenty days before the first day of the term, and the party who fails to serve and file such notice shall not be entitled to argue orally, except in reply to an oral argument for the adverse party.

Rule 27. If the case is triable upon errors assigned and not de novo and appellant has given notice of oral argument, he will be entitled to open and close. If appellee alone gave the notice he will be entitled to open the argument and appellant must confine his remarks strictly to a reply. If the cause is triable de novo the party upon whom rests the burden of the proof may, if he has given the requisite notice, open and close the argument. If he has not given notice he will be confined strictly to an answer to the argument for the other side. No oral argument shall exceed one-half hour in length, unless an extension of time be granted before the argument is commenced or it becomes apparent during the course of the argument that more time is necessary, whereupon the court may grant additional time. On original submission two attorneys may be heard on each side; but in the event counsel opening the argument is not entitled to reply, but one attorney shall be heard for either party. Reply arguments shall be limited to fifteen minutes. On petitions for rehearing only one attorney shall be heard for either party, the petitioner to have not exceeding twenty and the respondent not more than fifteen minutes, unless extensions be granted by the court.

Rule 28. Oral argument shall be confined to a discussion of the proposition and authorities contained in the briefs. Failure to discuss in oral argument points properly made in the briefs shall not be deemed a waiver of such points, but they will be fully considered in determining the cause.

Rule 29. Before taking up the assignment for the several periods a preliminary call of all causes included in that assignment will be made; but the submission of a cause shall not be taken on this call if any party thereto objects. The court will hear all causes included in the assignment and take the submission thereof in the order in which they are assigned, excepting those which have been continued or otherwise disposed of.

Rule 30. The brief of the appellant shall contain a short and clear statement showing:

First. The nature of the action. For example: A suit on a promissory note.

Second. The nature of the defense. For example: A plea of payment.

Third. How the case was decided.

Fourth. A brief statement of the main facts as claimed by the appellant.

Fifth. The appellant shall then state his first error relied upon for a reversal, and shall set out so much of the record as refers thereto, together with the ruling of the court thereon; and shall then point out specifically and in concise language, the complaint against the ruling of the court. This shall be followed by a brief of authorities in support of his contention, without quotation therefrom. Then shall follow his argument, in the usual form, supporting the errors thus claimed, in which, among other things, reference to and quotations from the authorities set out may be made or elaborated. This shall constitute the first division of his brief and argument.

Appellant shall then pass to the next error relied upon for reversal, which shall be stated in like manner as above specified and supported by citation of authorities and argument.

Appellant shall proceed thereafter in the same manner as to each and all claimed errors relied upon for reversal, setting out each error, together with brief and argument thereon, in separate divisions.

A compliance with the following form, as nearly as practicable, will be deemed sufficient:

First. NATURE OF THE ACTION.

Suit on a promissory note.

Second. NATURE OF THE DEFENSE.

Plea of forgery and plea of payment.

DECISION

In favor of the plaintiff on the verdict of the jury.

STATEMENT OF FACT

Plaintiff's evidence tends to show that he sold a horse to the defendant for $150 and took defendant's promissory note therefor. Defendant's testimony, while admitting the purchase of the horse, tends to show that he did not execute a promissory note therefor, and the signature on the note introduced by the plaintiff was a forgery; and, further, that he paid cash for the horse.

DIVISION I

During the trial, the court erred in not admitting the testimony of John Smith as to the genuineness of the defendant's signature. This witness was asked whether or not, in his opinion, the signature of John Smith attached to the note in controversy was the genuine signature of John Smith. The objection thereto was that the witness was incompetent because it was not shown that he was qualified to testify as an expert. (Abs. p.... l.....)

That this witness was duly qualified so to testify, see, Abs. p.... l..... [Set out the record showing qualification.]

Due exception was taken to the ruling of the court. (Abs. p.... l.....) [Here set out authorities relied upon to support this claimed error.]

ARGUMENT

DIVISION II

The court erred in giving instruction No. 3, reading as follows: [Here set out the instruction. Abs. p.... l.....]

Due exception was taken thereto. (Abs. p.... l.....)

This instruction was erroneous in that it told the jury that the burden of proof was upon the defendant to show the genuineness of the signature in the face of the fact that the signature was denied under oath.

(See ground 3, motion for a new trial, Abs. p.... l.....)

[Here set out authorities on this proposition.]

ARGUMENT

DIVISION III

The court erred in overruling ground 3 of defendant's motion for a directed verdict on the question of payment, which was as follows:

[Here set out the ground.]

The error consists in the refusal of the court to direct a verdict in favor of the defendant on the plea of payment because the testimony of the defendant is in no way contradicted by the plaintiff.

[Here set out authorities on the proposition.]

ARGUMENT

DIVISION IV

The court erred in overruling ground 3 of the defendant's motion in arrest of judgment, which is as follows:

[Set out this ground of the motion. Abs. p.... l.....]

For the reason that the petition of the plaintiff does not contain the allegation that the plaintiff made, executed, and delivered said note, or that the same was due and unpaid.

[Here set out what is wanting. Cite authorities.]

ARGUMENT

DIVISION V

The court erred in holding that the evidence was not sufficient to carry the case to the jury on the defendant's plea of payment.

(See ground 4 of motion for a new trial. Abs. p.... l.....)

Because there was no evidence in the case tending to show payment on the part of the defendant. (Abs. p.... l.....)

[Citation of authorities.]

ARGUMENT

And so continuing, treating each error claimed in a separate division, following, as nearly as practicable, the form herein set out.

Where the same error occurs at different places in the proceedings, or where several errors have occurred which are related to each other and are controlled by the same rules of law, they may be treated in one division, but so much of the record as is necessary to an understanding thereof shall be set out and the page and line of the abstract where the error occurred shall be specified.

Any error relied upon for reversal, not argued in the argument in chief, shall be deemed to have been waived.

After the above has been complied with, the appellant may add a division or divisions summarizing his argument or elaborating thereon; and the appellee shall have the privilege of doing the same.

Rule 31. The appellee's brief shall, in form, correspond to that of the appellant. Each division of the appellant's argument shall be answered in a separate division by the appellee, first pointing out any omission or inaccuracy in the appellant's statement of the record, followed by a short and clear statement of the proposition by which appellee seeks to meet each alleged error, or by which such error is claimed to be obviated, followed by a citation of authority and then by argument.

After the divisions of the appellant's argument are thus met, the appellee shall then, in separate divisions (following the form hereinbefore marked out), set out the parts of the record, if any, followed by any new proposition or propositions, stated in separate divisions, which he claims are controlling in the case, together with his citation of authority and argument on each proposition separately. The briefs and arguments of appellee on cross-appeal, shall be treated in the same manner as required of appellant's brief and argument, and the brief and argument of appellant, in answer to the cross-appeal, shall be prepared in the same manner as required of appellee in his brief and argument to appellant's original brief and argument. Reply briefs and arguments may be filed, which shall, in separate divisions, meet any of the propositions advanced by the appellee.

Rule 31-a. Stricken by the court.

Rule 31-b. In the appeal of equity actions, two conditions may arise. (See The Exchange Bank v. Pottorfe, 96 Iowa 354.)

First. Where issues of fact have been joined and evidence taken, and the case is triable anew in this court, then the party having the burden of proof shall make a brief and argument in the following manner:

- (a) State the nature of the action.
- (b) The nature of the defense.
- (c) How the case was decided.
- (d) A statement of the main facts relied upon.

He shall then state, in separate divisions, each of the propositions of law or fact which he claims sustain his position, and, following each proposition, he shall set out authorities and follow with an argument on the propositions urged. He shall also, when referring to fact propositions, refer to the pages and lines of the abstract where the same may be found. The answer, and reply briefs and arguments, shall follow, as nearly as practicable, the provisions of Rule 31 hereof. When the appeal is triable de novo, no errors need be assigned.

Second. Where the appeal is for the correction of errors of law only, the errors must be pointed out, and the method of making a brief and argument thereon shall be the same as provided in Rule 30 hereof.

APPEALS IN CRIMINAL ACTIONS

CODE SEC. 13994. The mode of reviewing in the supreme court any judgment, action, or decision of the district court in a criminal case is by appeal. Either the defendant or state may appeal.

CODE SEC. 13995. An appeal can only be taken from the final judgment, and within sixty days thereafter.

CODE SEC. 13996. When several defendants are indicted and tried jointly, any one or more of them may join in taking the appeal, but those of their codefendants who do not join shall take no benefit therefrom, yet they may appeal afterwards.

CODE SEC. 13997. An appeal is taken and perfected by the party or his attorney serving on the adverse party or his attorney of record in the district court at the time of the rendition of the judgment, a notice in writing of the taking of the appeal, and filing the same with such clerk, with evidence of service thereof indorsed thereon or annexed thereto.

CODE SEC. 13997-b1. When an appeal has been taken by the defendant in a criminal case, all filings by the appellant on appeal shall be served on the attorney general.

CODE SEC. 13998. When an appeal is taken, the clerk of the court in which the judgment was rendered shall:

1. Forthwith prepare and transmit to the attorney general a certified copy of the notice of appeal, together with the date of the service and filing thereof.

2. Promptly prepare and transmit to the clerk of the supreme court a transcript of all record entries in the cause, together with copies of all papers in the case on file in his office, except those returned by the examining magistrate on the preliminary examination, all duly certified under the seal of his court.

CODE SEC. 14000. If a defendant in a criminal cause has perfected an appeal from a judgment against him and shall satisfy a judge of the district court from which the appeal is taken that he is unable to pay for a transcript of the evidence, such judge may order the same made at the expense of the county where said defendant was tried.

CODE SEC. 14001. An appeal taken by the state in no case stays the operation of a judgment in favor of the defendant.

CODE SEC. 14002. An appeal taken by the defendant does not stay the execution of the judgment, unless bail is put in; but where the judgment is imprisonment in the penitentiary, and an appeal is taken within the time provided after judgment is rendered, and the defendant is unable to give bail, and that fact is satisfactorily shown to the court, or judge thereof, it may, in its discretion, order the sheriff or officer having the defendant in custody to detain him in custody, without taking him to the penitentiary, to abide the judgment on the appeal, if the defendant desires it.

CODE SEC. 14003. When an appeal is taken by the defendant, and bail is given, the clerk must give to the defendant, or his attorney, a certificate, under the seal of the court, that an appeal has been taken and bail given, and the sheriff or other officer having the defendant in custody must, upon receiving it, discharge the defendant from custody and cease all further proceedings in execution thereof, and forthwith return to the clerk of the court who issued it the execution under which he acted, with his return thereon; and if it has not been issued, it shall not be until after final judgment on the appeal.

CODE SEC. 14004. The party appealing is the appellant, the adverse party the appellee, but the title of the action shall not be changed on the appeal, and the cause shall be so docketed at the commencement of the period assigned for trying causes from the judicial district from which the appeal comes, which causes shall take precedence of all other business, be tried at the term at which the transcript is filed, unless continued for cause or by consent of the parties, and be decided, if practicable, at the same term.

CODE SEC. 14005. The personal appearance of the defendant in the supreme court on the trial of an appeal is in no case necessary.

CODE SEC. 14006. An appeal shall not be dismissed for any informality or defect in taking it, if corrected in a reasonable time; and the supreme court must direct how it shall be corrected.

CODE SEC. 14007. No assignment of error is necessary.

CODE SEC. 14008. The defendant is entitled to close the argument.

CODE SEC. 14009. The record and case may be presented in the supreme court by printed abstracts, arguments, motions, and petitions for rehearing as provided by its rules; and the provisions of law in civil procedure relating to certification of the record and the filing of decisions and opinions of the supreme court shall apply in such cases.

CODE SEC. 14010. If the appeal is taken by the defendant, the supreme court must examine the record, without regard to technical errors or defects which do not affect the substantial rights of the parties, and render such judgment on the record as the law demands; it may affirm, reverse, or modify the judgment, or render such judgment as the district court should have done, or order a new trial, or reduce the punishment, but cannot increase it.

CODE SEC. 14011. In case the judgment of the trial court is reversed or modified in favor of the defendant, on the appeal of defendant, he shall be entitled to recover the cost of printing abstract and briefs, not exceeding one dollar for each page thereof, to be paid by the county from which the appeal was taken.

Rule 32. If the appellant desires to submit a criminal case upon a printed abstract and brief and argument, he shall serve on the attorney general and upon the clerk of this court a notice to that effect and shall file the same with the clerk of this court before the day set for the submission of said case, and said cause shall then be automatically continued for submission to the next succeeding term of this court. In that event the appellant shall serve and file his abstract and his brief and argument at least 30 days before the day then assigned for the submission of said cause, and the appellee shall serve and file its denial or amendment to the abstract and its brief and argument at least 15 days before the day assigned for the submission of said cause. If no such notice, as herein provided, is served, or if the appellant fails to serve and file his abstract and his brief and argument as provided herein said cause shall be submitted upon the record unless an extension of time to file has been previously granted.

The provisions of the code and rules of this court in civil procedure relating to the printing, serving, and filing of abstracts, denials, arguments, petitions for rehearing, notice thereof and of oral arguments, motions and resistances thereto, the certification of the record and the filing of decisions and opinions, shall apply in criminal cases in so far as the same are consistent with section 14004 of the code and this rule, and section 12847 of the code shall apply to the filing of the abstract in a criminal case.

CODE SEC. 14012. If the state appeals, the supreme court cannot reverse or modify the judgment so as to increase the punishment, but may affirm it, and shall point out any error in the proceedings or in the measure of punishment, and its decision shall be obligatory as law.

CODE SEC. 14013. If a judgment against the defendant is reversed, such reversal shall be deemed an order for a new trial, unless the supreme court shall direct that the defendant be discharged and his bail exonerated, or if money be deposited instead, that it be refunded to him.

CODE SEC. 14014. On a judgment of affirmance against the defendant, the original judgment shall be carried into execution as the supreme court shall direct, except as otherwise provided.

CODE SEC. 14016. The decision of the supreme court, with any opinion filed or judgment rendered, must be recorded by its clerk, and, after the expiration of the period allowed for a rehearing, or as ordered by the court or provided by its rules, a certified copy of the decision and opinion shall be transmitted to the clerk of the trial court, filed and entered of record by him, and thereafter the jurisdiction of the supreme court shall cease, and all proceedings necessary for executing the judgment shall be had in the trial court, or by its clerk.

CODE SEC. 14017. Unless some proceeding in the district court is directed, a copy of the judgment of the trial court and decision on appeal, or of the judgment and decision on appeal certified by the clerk of the trial court, shall be delivered to the sheriff, or other proper officer, as an execution, and shall authorize him to execute the judgment of the court, or take any steps required to bring the action to a conclusion.

CODE SEC. 14018. If a defendant, imprisoned during the pendency of an appeal, upon a new trial ordered by the supreme court is again convicted, the period of his former imprisonment shall be deducted from the period of imprisonment to be fixed on the last verdict of conviction.

CONSTRUCTION AND MODIFICATION OF RULES

Rule 33. When, by reason of peculiar circumstances, the foregoing rules relating to the abstract, preparation, and argument of causes, ought to be waived or modified in any case, the party desiring such waiver or modification may, upon reasonable notice to the adverse party, apply to any judge of this court in vacation, or to the court in term time, for an order directing the waiver or modification desired. The application shall be in writing, shall set out the peculiar facts relied upon by the applicant, and shall be verified by the party or person having knowledge of the facts, and certified by counsel as being true and made in good faith. The order upon such application shall be in writing, and shall be filed with the clerk of this court. In no case will these rules be waived or modified upon agreement of counsel alone.

PRINTING ABSTRACTS, BRIEFS, ARGUMENTS, AND PETITIONS FOR REHEARING

Rule 34. All abstracts, denials of abstracts, briefs, arguments, and petitions for rehearing shall be printed upon unruled, unglazed writing paper, with type commonly known as small pica, leaded lines, the printed page to be four inches wide by seven inches long, with a margin of two inches; but the type in which extracts are printed may be small pica solid or brevier with leaded lines. The lines of abstracts must be numbered consecutively on each page.

CONTINUANCES

Rule 35. Causes not fully argued at the period of the term to which they are assigned may be continued on the court's own motion. Causes may also be continued upon stipulation of parties. If notice of oral argument has been given, the cause will be for oral argument at the term to which continued.

DECISIONS AND OPINIONS

CODE SEC. 12871. * * * The court may reverse, modify, or affirm the judgment, decree, or order appealed from, or render such as the inferior court should have done. No cause is decided until the written decision is filed with the clerk.

CODE SEC. 12810. When the court is equally divided in opinion, the judgment of the court below shall stand affirmed, but the decision is of no further force or authority, but in such cases opinions may be filed.

CODE SEC. 12813. The decisions of the court on all questions passed upon by it, including motions and points of practice, shall be specifically stated, and shall be accompanied with an opinion upon all such as are deemed of sufficient importance, together with any dissent therefrom, which dissent may be stated with or without an opinion. All decisions and opinions shall be in writing and filed with the clerk, except that rulings upon motions may be entered upon the announcement book.

CODE SEC. 12814. The records and reports must in all cases show whether a decision was made by a full bench, and whether any and, if so, which of the judges dissented from the decision.

Rule 36. Each and every opinion filed shall show, on its face, what judges participated therein.

Rule 37. No procedendo shall issue in any case until the expiration of thirty days from the filing of the opinion, except upon an order of the court, or a judge thereof, upon cause shown, and except in criminal cases and cases where petitions for rehearing have been overruled.

REHEARINGS

CODE SEC. 12881. Written notice of intention to petition for a rehearing shall be served on the opposite party or his attorney and the clerk of the supreme court within thirty days after the filing of the opinion, or within such time as the court may by rule prescribe.

CODE SEC. 12882. Such petition shall be printed, and, with proof of service thereof on the opposite party or his attorney, shall be filed with said clerk within sixty days after the opinion is filed.

CODE SEC. 12883. The petition may be made the argument or a brief of authorities relied upon for rehearing. The adverse party may file a printed argument in response. If the party applying for a rehearing shall give notice of oral argument in his petition, then both parties shall be entitled to be heard orally, unless the party giving notice waives argument.

CODE SEC. 12880. If a petition for rehearing is filed, it shall suspend the decision, if the court or one of the judges upon its presentation so order, until after the final decision on the rehearing.

Rule 38. The petition shall include a copy of the opinion or decision of the court to which objection is made, or reference to the volume and page of the Northwestern Reporter in which it has been printed. Eighteen copies of the petition and argument in support thereof, including service copy, shall be filed with the clerk.

Rule 39. If there be a printed argument in resistance to the petition, a copy thereof shall be served upon the opposing litigant or his attorney, and filed ten days before the day fixed for the hearing of the cause, and eighteen copies, including the service copy, shall be filed with the clerk of this court.

Rule 40. The cause shall be placed on the docket for hearing at the next period commencing not less than thirty days after the service and filing of the petition, and shall be heard by the division to which the case was originally submitted.

EXECUTIONS

CODE SEC. 12875. If the supreme court affirms the judgment or order, it may send the cause to the court below to have the same carried into effect, or may issue the necessary process for this purpose, directed to the sheriff of the proper county, as the party may require.

CODE SEC. 12876. If remanded to the inferior court to be carried into effect, such decision and the order of the court thereon, being certified thereto and entered on the records thereof, shall have the same force and effect as if made and entered during the session of that court.

CODE SEC. 12877. If, by the decision of the supreme court, the appellant becomes entitled to a restoration of any part of the money or property that was taken from him by means of such judgment or order, either the supreme court or the court below may direct execution or writ of restitution to issue for the purpose of restoring to him such property or its value.

CODE SEC. 12888. Executions issued from the supreme court shall be like those from the district court, attended with the same consequences, and returnable in the same time.

DISTRIBUTION OF PRINTED MATTER

Rule 41. The clerk shall make the following distribution of all printed abstracts, denials of abstracts, briefs, and arguments received under the foregoing rules: One copy to each judge of the court, one copy to the state library, one copy to the law department of the state university, one copy to the law department of Drake university, and the remainder shall be placed in his office, one copy of which shall remain permanently among the files.

RETURN OF PAPERS AND EXHIBITS

CODE SEC. 12856. If a new trial is granted by the supreme court, the clerk, as soon as the cause is at an end therein, shall transmit to the clerk of the court below all original papers or exhibits certified up from said court, and may at any time return any such papers when no new trial is awarded.

Rule 42. If decree is entered in this court, either party desiring to withdraw any of the said files may, by motion, showing proper grounds therefor, and upon five days' notice to the other party or his attorney, secure an order from the court or a judge thereof, allowing him to do so upon filing a receipt for the same with the clerk of this court.

COSTS

CODE SEC. 12874. The supreme court must provide by rule for taxing as costs all printing authorized upon the trial of appeals. The court shall also tax the costs of any translation of the shorthand notes filed as provided in this chapter, and also any translation of the shorthand notes which has been made of record in the court below, upon the certificate of the clerk of such court as to the amount of such costs.

CODE SEC. 12846. If any denial or abstract is filed without good and sufficient cause, the costs of the same or any part thereof, and of any transcript thereby made necessary, shall be taxed to the party causing the same.

Rule 43. When the parties or their attorneys shall furnish printed abstracts, denials of abstracts, amendments, briefs, arguments, or petitions for rehearing in conformity to these rules, the clerk will tax the actual cost of printing the same, which shall not exceed one dollar for each page embraced in a single copy thereof, and when not so prepared and printed shall not exceed the sum of one dollar for every three hundred and seventy-five words, which in no event shall exceed one dollar per page, against the unsuccessful party not furnishing the document, to be collected and paid to the successful party as other costs. It is made the duty of every party who files any printed matter for which cost of printing is claimed, to state at the end of the document in writing or in print and have certified by his attorney as being correct, the true and actual cost of the printing of the same and no costs will be taxed for such printing unless this statement and certificate be made.

Rule 44. Whenever the translation of the shorthand notes is required to be filed in this court, the clerk shall tax as part of the costs in the case the expense of procuring the same, which shall not exceed the rate of five cents per hundred words. If the amount paid or agreed to be paid is not stated in the translation so filed, the clerk shall tax at the statutory rate.

Rule 45. All other taxable fees and costs shall abide the result of the appeal and be taxed to the unsuccessful party, unless otherwise ordered.

Rule 46. Written notice of intention to petition for a rehearing shall be served on the opposite party, or his attorney, and the clerk of this court, and filed with the clerk within thirty days after filing of the opinion or decision, and if no such notice is served a petition for rehearing shall not be filed after the expiration of such thirty days.

Rule 47. Immediately after it is determined by this court which cases shall be submitted at the succeeding term thereof, the clerk of this court shall promptly notify all the attorneys, who have appeared in any pending case, of the cases which are to be thus submitted.

TABLE OF
CORRESPONDING SECTIONS
OF THE
FORTY-FIRST GENERAL ASSEMBLY

This table shows the sections of the code which correspond in subject matter with the sections of the acts of the 41st general assembly which constituted new or substituted legislation. The table also shows the sections of the code which contain the amendments of said general assembly.

[An asterisk (*) indicates that the session law citation thus marked is an amendment to some section of the code, and that the code section indicated in the right-hand column shows such section of law as amended by said session law citation, plus such changes as are indicated in the right-center column. A dagger (†) shows part of citation treated as amendment to existing law and part treated as new legislation. The session law citations which are not marked with an asterisk (*) or dagger (†) consist of either new or substituted legislation.

The omission of a chapter or section number from either of the two left-hand columns, unless otherwise indicated, shows that the same is temporary, special, legalizing, or repealing in character and, therefore, does not appear in the code.

FORTY-SECOND GENERAL ASSEMBLY

This table shows the sections of the code which correspond in subject matter with the sections of the acts of the 42nd general assembly, which constituted new or substituted legislation. The table also shows the sections of the code which contain the amendments of said general assembly.

[The omission of a chapter or section number from the left-hand or center columns, unless otherwise indicated, shows that the same is temporary, special, legalizing, or repealing in character and does not appear in the code.

An asterisk (*) indicates that the session law citation thus marked is an amendment to some section of the code, or acts of the 41st general assembly, and that the section indicated in the right-hand column shows such section of law as amended by said session law citation. A dagger (†) shows part of citation treated as amendment to existing law and part treated as new legislation. The session law citations which are not marked with an asterisk (*) or dagger (†) consist of either new or substituted legislation.]

AMENDMENT TO CONSTITUTION OF IOWA

Art. III, Sec. 34. Agreed to by 41st and 42nd G. A. Ratified at general election in 1928.

TABLE OF
CORRESPONDING SECTIONS
OF THE
FORTY-THIRD GENERAL ASSEMBLY

This table shows the sections of the code which correspond in subject matter with the sections of the acts of the 43rd general assembly which constituted new or substituted legislation. The table also shows the sections of the code which contain the amendments of said general assembly.

[An asterisk (*) indicates that the session law citation thus marked is an amendment to some section of the code, and that the code section indicated in the right-hand column shows such section of law as amended by said session law citation, plus such changes as are indicated in the right-center column. A dagger (†) shows part of citation treated as amendment to existing law and part treated as new legislation. The session law citations which are not marked with an asterisk (*) or dagger (†) consist of either new or substituted legislation.

The omission of a chapter or section number from either of the two left-hand columns, unless otherwise indicated, shows that the same is temporary, special, legalizing, or repealing in character and, therefore, does not appear in the code.

An entry in the right-center column shows an amendment, substitute, or repeal of the session law citation in the left-hand column. "A." indicates an amendment; "R&S." indicates a repeal and substitution.]

TABLE OF
CORRESPONDING SECTIONS
OF THE
FORTY-FOURTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY

This table shows the sections of the code which correspond in subject matter with the sections of the acts of the 44th general assembly, which constituted new or substituted legislation. The table also shows the sections of the code which contain the amendments of said general assembly.

[The omission of a chapter or section number from the left-hand or center columns, unless otherwise indicated, shows that the same is temporary, special, legalizing or repealing in character and does not appear in the code.

An asterisk (*) indicates that the session law citation thus marked is an amendment to some section of the code, or acts of the 43rd general assembly, and that the section indicated in the right-hand column shows such section of law as amended by said session law citation. A dagger (†) shows part of citation treated as amendment to existing law and part treated as new legislation. The session law citations which are not marked with an asterisk (*) or dagger (†) consist of either new or substituted legislation.]

TABLE OF
CORRESPONDING SECTIONS
OF THE
FORTY-FIFTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY

This table shows the sections of the code which correspond in subject matter with the sections of the acts of the 45th general assembly which constituted new or substituted legislation. The table also shows the sections of the code which contain the amendments of said general assembly.

[An asterisk (*) indicates that the session law citation thus marked is an amendment to some section of the code, and that the code section indicated in the right-hand column shows such section of law as amended by said session law citation, plus such changes as are indicated in the right-center column. A dagger (†) shows part of citation treated as amendment to existing law and part treated as new legislation. The session law citations which are not marked with an asterisk (*) or dagger (†) consist of either new or substituted legislation.

The omission of a chapter or section number from either of the two left-hand columns, unless otherwise indicated, shows that the same is temporary, special, legalizing, or repealing in character and, therefore, does not appear in the code.

An entry in the right-center column shows an amendment, substitute, or repeal of the session law citation in the left-hand column. "A." indicates an amendment; "R&S." indicates a repeal and substitution.]

TABLE OF
CORRESPONDING SECTIONS
OF THE
FORTY-FIFTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY
EXTRA SESSION

This table shows the sections of the code which correspond in subject matter with the sections of the acts of the 45th extra general assembly which constituted new or substituted legislation. The table also shows the sections of the code which contain the amendments of said general assembly.

[An asterisk (*) indicates that the session law citation thus marked is an amendment to some section of the code, and that the code section indicated in the right-hand column shows such section of law as amended by said session law citation, plus such changes as are indicated in the right-center column. A dagger (†) shows part of citation treated as amendment to existing law and part treated as new legislation. The session law citations which are not marked with an asterisk (*) or dagger (†) consist of either new or substituted legislation.

The omission of a chapter or section number from either of the two left-hand columns, unless otherwise indicated, shows that the same is temporary, special, legalizing, or repealing in character and, therefore, does not appear in the code.

An entry in the right-center column shows an amendment, substitute, or repeal of the session law citation in the left-hand column. "A." indicates an amendment; "R&S." indicates a repeal and substitution.]

TABLE OF
CORRESPONDING SECTIONS
OF THE
FORTY-SIXTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY

This table shows the sections of the code which correspond in subject matter with the sections of the acts of the 46th general assembly, which constituted new or substituted legislation. The table also shows the sections of the code which contain the amendments of said general assembly.

[The omission of a chapter or section number from the left-hand or center columns, unless otherwise indicated, shows that the same is temporary, special, legalizing or repealing in character and does not appear in the code.

An asterisk (*) indicates that the session law citation thus marked is an amendment to some section of the code, or acts of the 45th or 45th extra general assembly, and that the section indicated in the right-hand column shows such section of law as amended by said session law citation. A dagger (†) shows part of citation treated as amendment to existing law and part treated as new legislation. The session law citations which are not marked with an asterisk (*) or dagger (†) consist of either new or substituted legislation.]

TABLE OF CORRESPONDING SECTIONS

OF THE

CODE, 1924, AND CODE, 1927

This table shows the sections of the Code of 1924 which were amended, repealed, or substituted by the 41st and 42nd general assemblies, and the section or sections in the Code of 1927 which correspond in subject matter.

The table also shows, at the proper places by entries in italics, the numbers given to the new legislation enacted by the 41st and 42nd general assemblies. This table, however, is not to be used for the purpose of finding such legislation in the Code, 1927, as there are special tables for this purpose (pp. 1891-1899) preceding this table. The omission of a section number in the left-hand column indicates that the omitted section appears in the Code, 1927, in identically the same form as in the Code, 1924.

TABLE OF CORRESPONDING SECTIONS

OF THE

CODE, 1927, AND CODE, 1931

This table shows the sections of the Code of 1927 which were amended, repealed, or substituted by the 42nd extra, 43rd and 44th general assemblies, and the section or sections in the Code of 1931 which correspond in subject matter.

The table also shows, at the proper places by entries in italics, the numbers given to the new legislation enacted by the 42nd extra, 43rd and 44th general assemblies. This table, however, is not to be used for the purpose of finding such legislation in the Code, 1931, as there are special tables for this purpose (pp. 1899-1911) preceding this table. The omission of a section number in the left-hand column indicates that the omitted section appears in the Code, 1931, in identically the same form as in the Code, 1927.

["A." indicates an amendment; "R&S." indicates a repeal and substitution; "R." indicates repeal.]

TABLE OF CORRESPONDING SECTIONS

OF THE CODE, 1931, AND CODE, 1935

This table shows the sections of the Code of 1931 which were amended, repealed, or substituted by the 45th, 45th extra, and 46th general assemblies, and the section or sections in the Code of 1935 which correspond in subject matter.

The table also shows, at the proper places by entries in italics, the numbers given to the new legislation enacted by the 45th, 45th extra, and 46th general assemblies. This table, however, is not to be used for the purpose of finding such legislation in the Code, 1935, as there are special tables for this purpose (pp. 1912-1926) preceding this table. The omission of a section number in the left-hand column indicates that the omitted section appears in the Code, 1935, in identically the same form as in the Code, 1931.

INDEX TO CODE

1935

INDEXER'S PREFATORY NOTE, CODE, 1935

The index to the code of 1924 was compiled and edited by Mr. J. Van der Zee of the college of law of the state university. The index herewith submitted is, to a substantially large measure, taken from that index. To quote Mr. Van der Zee in his prefatory note to the 1924 index,

"It has been prepared on the general assumption that its users have never taken a course of training in the manipulation of indexes. As far as was reasonably possible, the compiler has tried to insure searchers for the law against the necessity of minutely analyzing and classifying the law before consulting the index."

However, Mr. Van der Zee's simple rules to guide the searcher have been slightly modified, partly because of the insertion of the new material of the seven subsequent sessions of the legislature, to wit:

1. Large subjects like Cities, Railroad Corporations, Taxation, and many others have been divided whenever possible and appear consecutively under separate index heads. Examples: CITY (OR TOWN), CITY ATTORNEY, CITY (OR TOWN) BONDS, CITY (OR TOWN) BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS, CITY (OR TOWN) FUNDS, CITY (OR TOWN) ORDINANCES, CITY (OR TOWN) TREASURER, and the like; RAILROAD CORPORATIONS, RAILROAD CROSSINGS, RAILROAD RATES AND CHARGES, RAILROAD SHIPMENTS, and RAILROAD TRAINS; TAX ASSESSMENTS, TAX COLLECTIONS BY COUNTY TREASURER, TAX DEEDS, TAX EXEMPTIONS, TAX LEVIES OF CITIES AND TOWNS, TAX LEVIES OF COUNTIES, and TAX LIENS.

2. Civil Procedure and Criminal Procedure have been broken up into their elements and presented under appropriate heads throughout the index. Examples: CHANGE OF VENUE, CONTINUANCES, INSTRUCTIONS TO JURY, JOINDER OF ACTIONS, MOTIONS, PARTIES TO ACTIONS, PLEADINGS, TRIAL OF CIVIL ACTIONS, VERDICTS, WITNESSES, and the like.

3. The headings are in general stated in the form of nouns, the suggestive word coming first. Examples: DEAF, SCHOOL FOR; EDUCATION, STATE BOARD OF.

4. Adjectives appear first only when they are the significant or key words of the matter looked for. Examples: ORIGINAL NOTICE, CITY (OR TOWN) CLERK, COUNTY AUDITOR, DISTRICT COURT, SCHOOL DIRECTORS, INSURANCE DEPARTMENT, DISTRIBUTIVE SHARE.

5. All law applicable to special charter cities is grouped under one head, CITY UNDER SPECIAL CHARTER.

6. Criminal law appears under such particular index heads as ARSON, MURDER, and the like; also under such heads as DAIRY PRODUCTS, subhead "Penal provisions"; EMPLOYERS, subhead "Penal offenses"; CORPORATIONS, subhead "Penal offenses".

Again to quote Mr. Van der Zee,

"If any matter is found to be too deeply submerged in this index and can be made more readily accessible or if errors are discovered, kindly notify the code editor whose duty it is to prepare and publish a new code index every four years. Constructive criticism and concrete suggestions are invited and needed in order to have a better index in the future."

U. G. WHITNEY,
Code Editor.
