DIVISION XIII DISSOLUTION

524.1301 Voluntary dissolution prior to commencement of business.

1. Subsequent to the issuance of the certificate of incorporation and prior to the issuance of the authorization to do business, a state bank which has not issued any shares may be voluntarily dissolved by its incorporators. In such case the articles of dissolution shall be prepared and filed in the manner provided in section 496A.79. The articles of dissolution shall be delivered to the superintendent, together with the applicable filing and recording fees, who shall deliver the same to the secretary of state for filing and recording in the office of the county recorder.

2. A state bank which has issued its shares, whether or not it has received an authorization to do business, but which has not commenced any business for which an authorization is required, may propose to dissolve by the affirmative vote of the holders of at least three-fourths of the shares entitled to vote thereon. After obtaining the approval of the superintendent to dissolve under this section the state bank shall deliver to the superintendent articles of dissolution which shall be executed by two duly authorized officers and which shall contain the date of incorporation, a statement that it has not transacted any business for which an authorization to do business is required, a statement that all liabilities of the state bank have been paid or provided for, a statement that all amounts received on account of capital, surplus and undivided profits, less any part thereof disbursed for necessary expenses, have been returned to the persons entitled thereto, and the number of shares entitled to vote on the dissolution and the number of shares voted for or against it respectively. If the superintendent finds that the articles of dissolution satisfy the requirements of this chapter, he shall deliver them to the secretary of state, with his written approval, and notify the state bank of his action. [C97, §1857; S13, §1857; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9277; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §528.76; 63GA, ch 273, §1301]

524.1302 Involuntary dissolution prior to commencement of business. Prior to the issuance of an authorization to do business, the superintendent may cause the dissolution of a state bank if there exists any reason why it should not have been incorporated under this chapter or if an authorization to do business has not been issued within one year after the date of its incorporation, or such longer time as the superintendent may allow for satisfaction of conditions precedent to its issuance. After giving the state bank adequate notice and an opportunity for hearing, the superintendent shall certify the applicable facts by the filing of a statement with the secretary of state, who shall thereafter issue a certificate of dissolution. Upon the issuance of such certificate of dissolution by the secretary of state, the corporate existence of the state bank shall cease. [C31, 35, §9142-c1; C39, §9142.1; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §524.14; 63GA, ch 273, §1302]

1. A state bank which has commenced business may propose to voluntarily dissolve upon the affirmative vote of the holders of at least three-fourths of the shares entitled to vote thereon, adopting a plan of dissolution involving both a provision for acquisition of its assets and assumption of its liabilities by another state bank or national bank and a provision for continuance of its business if acquisition of its assets and assumption of its liabilities is not effected, or any other plan of dissolution providing for full payment of its liabilities.

2. Upon receipt of an application for approval of a plan of dissolution the superintendent shall conduct such investigation as he may deem necessary to determine whether the plan adequately protects the interests of depositors, other creditors and shareholders and, if the plan involves an acquisition of assets and assumption of liabilities by another state bank, whether such acquisition and assumption would be consistent with adequate and sound banking and in the public interest, on the basis of factors substantially similar to those set forth in paragraph "d" of subsection 1 of section 524.1403. Within ninety days after receipt of the application, the superintendent shall approve or disapprove the application on the basis of his investigation. Before receiving the decision of the superintendent with respect to the pending application, the applying state bank shall, upon notice, reimburse the superintendent to the extent of the expenses incurred by him in connection with the application. Thereafter the superintendent shall give to the applying state bank written notice of his decision, and in the event of disapproval, a statement of the reasons for his decision. The decision of the superintendent shall be subject to review by the district court of Polk county upon petition by any interested party within thirty days after the superintendent notifies the applying bank of his decision. The decision of the superintendent shall be upheld unless unsupported by substantial evidence.

3. When a state bank has proposed to dissolve by adopting a plan of dissolution involving a provision for acquisition of its assets and assumption of its liabilities by another state bank, it shall publish a notice of the proposed transaction. The notice shall be published once each week for two successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in the municipal corporation or unincorporated area in which the dissolving bank has its principal place of business, and in the municipal corporation or unincorporated area in which the acquiring state bank has its principal place of business, or if there is none, a newspaper of general circulation published in the county or counties, or in a county adjoining the county or counties, in which the dissolving bank and the acquiring bank have their principal place of business. Such publication of notice shall be made within thirty days after making application to the superintendent for approval of the plan of dissolution, and proof of publication of the notice shall be delivered to the superintendent. The notice shall set forth the name of the dissolving state bank and of the acquiring state bank, the location and post-office address of the principal place of business of the dissolving state bank and of the acquiring state bank and of each office to be maintained by the acquiring state bank and a brief statement of the nature of the proposed transaction. Prior to making a determination on the pending application the superintendent shall, upon adequate notice, afford all interested parties an opportunity for a stenographically reported hearing during which such parties shall be allowed to present evidence in support of, or in opposition to, the pending application. If the superintendent finds that he must act immediately on the pending application in order to protect the interests of depositors or the assets of the dissolving bank, he may proceed without requiring publication of the notice and without providing for the hearing referred to in this subsection. [C97, §1857; S13, §1857; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9277; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §528.76; 63GA, ch 273, §1303]

2. If the statement of intent to dissolve satisfies the requirements of this section, the superintendent shall deliver the statement with his written approval to the secretary of state who shall issue to the state bank an approved copy of such statement. Upon the issuance of an approved copy of the statement of intent to dissolve, the state bank shall cease to accept deposits or carry on its business, except insofar as may be necessary for the proper winding up thereof in accordance with the approved plan, but its corporate existence shall continue until issuance of a certificate of dissolution pursuant to section 524.1308.

3. If the laws of the United States require approval by any federal agency, the superintendent shall withhold delivery of the approved statement of intent to dissolve until he receives notice of the decision of such agency. If the final approval of the agency is not given, the superintendent shall notify the applying state bank that the approval of the superintendent has been rescinded for that reason. [C97,§1857; S13,§1857; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9277; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§528.76; 63GA, ch 273,§1304, ch 1238,§7(12)]

1. The dissolution of a state bank, or the expiration of its period of duration, shall not take away or impair any remedy available to or against such state bank, its directors, officers, or shareholders, for any right or claim existing, or any liability incurred prior to such dissolution or expiration, if action or other proceeding thereon is commenced within two years after the date of such dissolution or expiration. Any such action or proceeding by or against the state bank may be prosecuted or defended by the state bank in its corporate name. The shareholders, directors and officers shall have power to take such corporate or other action as shall be appropriate to protect such remedy, right or claim.

2. Subsequent to the dissolution of a state bank, other than through the adoption of a plan involving a provision for acquisition of its assets and assumption of its liabilities by another state or national bank, the superintendent shall assume custody of the records of the state bank and shall retain them in accordance with the provisions of section 524.221. The superintendent may make copies of such records in accordance with the provisions of subsection 1 of section 524.221. [63GA, ch 273, §1314]

2. In the case of a state bank which is a party to the plan, if the proposed merger or consolidation will result in a state bank subject to this chapter, adoption of the plan by such state bank shall require the affirmative vote of at least a majority of the directors and approval by the shareholders, in the manner and according to the procedures prescribed in section 496A.70, at a meeting called in accordance with the terms of that section. In the case of a national bank, or if the proposed merger or consolidation will result in a national bank, adoption of the plan by each party thereto shall require the affirmative vote of at least such directors and shareholders whose affirmative vote thereon is required under the laws of the United States. d. Proof of publication of the notice required by subsection 4 of this section.

4. The notice shall be published once each week for two successive weeks, within thirty days after making application to the superintendent for approval of the plan. The notice shall set forth the names of the parties to the plan and the resulting state bank, the location and post-office address of the principal place of business of the resulting state bank and of each office to be maintained by the resulting state bank, the purpose or purposes of the resulting state bank, and the date of delivery of the articles of merger and consolidation to the superintendent.

524.1403 Approval of merger or consolidation by superintendent.

1. Upon receipt of an application for approval of a merger or consolidation and of the supporting items required by subsection 3 of section 524.1402, the superintendent shall conduct such investigation as he deems necessary to ascertain whether:

a. The articles of merger or consolidation and supporting items satisfy the requirements of this chapter.

b. The plan and any modification thereof adequately protects the interests of depositors, other creditors and shareholders.

c. The requirements for a merger or consolidation under all applicable laws have been satisfied and the resulting state bank would satisfy the requirements of this chapter with respect to it.

Referred to in §524.1303(2)

2. Within one hundred eighty days after receipt of the application, or within an additional period of not more than sixty days after receipt of an amendment of the application, the superintendent shall make a determination whether to approve or disapprove the application on the basis of his investigation. The plan shall not be modified at any time after approval of the application by the superintendent. Prior to making a determination on the pending application the superintendent shall, upon adequate notice, afford all interested persons an opportunity for a stenographically reported hearing during which such persons shall be allowed to present evidence in support of, or in opposition to, the pending application. If the superintendent finds that he must act immediately on the pending application in order to protect the interests of depositors or the assets of any party to the plan, he may proceed without requiring publication of the notice and without providing for the hearing referred to in this subsection. Before receiving the decision of the superintendent with respect to the pending application, the parties to the plan shall, upon notice, reimburse the superintendent to the extent of the expenses incurred by him in connection with the application. Thereafter the superintendent shall give to the parties to the plan written notice of his decision and, in the event of disapproval, a statement of the reasons for his decision. The decision of the superintendent shall be subject to review by the district court of Polk county upon petition by any interested person within thirty days after the superintendent notifies the parties to the plan of his decision. The decision of the superintendent shall be upheld unless unsupported by substantial evidence. [C54, 58, 62, 66, §528B.4; 63GA, ch 273, §1403]

524.1404 Procedure after approval by the superintendent—issuance of certificate of merger or consolidation. If the laws of the United States require the approval of the merger or consolidation by any federal agency, the superintendent shall, after his approval, retain the articles of merger or consolidation until he receives notice of the decision of such agency. If the final approval of the agency is not given, the superintendent shall notify the parties to the plan that the approval of the superintendent has been rescinded for that reason. If such agency gives its approval, the superintendent shall deliver the articles of merger or consolidation, with his approval indicated thereon, to the secretary of state, and shall notify the parties to the plan. The receipt of the approved articles of merger or consolidation by the secretary of state shall constitute filing thereof with that office. The secretary of state shall record the articles of merger or consolidation in his office, and the same shall be filed and recorded in the office of the county recorder in each county in which the parties to the plan had previously maintained a principal place of business and, in the case of a consolidation, in the county in which the new state bank is to maintain its principal place of business. On the date upon which the merger or consolidation is effective the secretary of state shall issue a certificate of merger or consolidation and send the same to the resulting state bank and a copy thereof to the superintendent. [C54, 58, 62, 66, §528B.6; 63GA, ch 273, §1404]

1. The merger or consolidation shall be effective upon the filing of the articles of merger or consolidation with the secretary of state, or at any later date and time specified by the superintendent in writing on the articles of merger or consolidation. The certificate of merger or consolidation shall be conclusive evidence of the performance of all conditions precedent to the merger or consolidation, and of the existence or creation of the resulting state bank, except as against the state.

2. When a merger or consolidation becomes effective, the existence of each party to the plan, except the resulting state bank, shall cease as a separate entity but shall continue in, and the parties to the plan shall be, a single corporation which shall be the resulting state bank and which shall have all the property, rights, powers, duties and obligations of each party to the plan, except that the resulting state bank shall have only the authority to engage in such business and exercise such powers as it would have, and shall be subject to the same prohibitions and limitations to which it would be subject, upon original incorporation under this chapter. A resulting state bank may, however, engage in any business and exercise any right that any party to the plan which was a state bank subject to this chapter could lawfully exercise or engage in immediately prior to the merger or consolidation.

3. No liability of any party to the plan or of its shareholders, directors or officers shall be affected, nor shall any lien on any property of a party to the plan be impaired, by the merger or consolidation. Any claim existing or action pending by or against any party to the plan may be prosecuted to judgment as if the merger or consolidation had not taken place, or the resulting state bank may be substituted in its place. The articles of incorporation of the resulting state bank shall be, in the case of a merger, the same as its articles of incorporation prior to the merger with any change stated in the articles of merger, and in the case of a consolidation, the provisions stated in the articles of consolidation shall be deemed to be the original articles of incorporation of the resulting state bank. [C54, 58, 62, 66, §528B.6, 528B.8; 63GA, ch 273, §1405]

1. A shareholder of a state bank, which is a party to a proposed merger or consolidation plan which will result in a state bank subject to this chapter, who objects to the plan in the manner prescribed by section 496A.78, shall be entitled to the rights and remedies of a dissenting shareholder as provided in that section. Shares acquired by a state bank pursuant to payment of the agreed value therefor or to payment of the judgment entered therefor, pursuant to section 496A.78, shall be sold at public or private sale, within one year from the time of their purchase or acquisition, unless the time is extended by the superintendent.

2. If a shareholder of a national bank which is a party to a proposed merger or consolidation plan which will result in a state bank, or a shareholder of a state bank which is a party to a plan which will result in a national bank, shall object to the plan and shall comply with the requirements of the applicable laws of the United States, the resulting state bank or national bank, as the case may be, shall be liable for the value of his shares as determined in accordance with such laws of the United States. Shares acquired by a state bank pursuant to this subsection shall be sold at public or private sale within one year from the time of their purchase or acquisition, unless the time is extended by the superintendent. [C54, 58, 62, 66, §528B.9; 63GA, ch 273, §1406] bank is similarly authorized, the resulting state or national bank shall be automatically substituted by reason of the merger or consolidation as fiduciary of all accounts held in that capacity by such party to the plan, without further action and without any order or decree of any court or public officer, and shall have all the rights and be subject to all the obligations of such party as fiduciary.

2. No designation, nomination or appointment as fiduciary of a party to a plan of merger or consolidation shall lapse by reason of the merger or consolidation. The resulting state or national bank shall, if authorized to act in a fiduciary capacity, be entitled to act as fiduciary pursuant to each such designation, nomination or appointment to the same extent as the party to the plan so named could have acted in the absence of the merger or consolidation.

3. Any person with an interest in an account held in a fiduciary capacity by a party to a plan of merger or consolidation may, within sixty days after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, apply to the district court in the county in which the resulting state or national bank has its principal place of business, for the appointment of a new fiduciary to replace the resulting state or national bank on the ground that the merger or consolidation will adversely affect the administration of the fiduciary account. The court shall have the discretion to appoint a new fiduciary to replace the resulting state or national bank if it should find, upon hearing after notice to all interested parties, that the merger or consolidation will adversely affect the administration of the fiduciary account and that the appointment of a new fiduciary will be in the best interests of the beneficiaries of the fiduciary account. This provision shall be in addition to any other provision of law governing the removal of fiduciaries and shall be subject to the terms upon which the party to the plan which held the fiduciary account was designated as fiduciary. [C54, 58, 62, 66, §528B.10; 63GA, ch 273, §1407]

The board of directors of the state bank shall approve a plan of merger, mail to shareholders of record of the subsidiary corporation and prepare and execute articles of merger in the manner provided for in section 496A.72. The articles of merger, together with the applicable filing and recording fees, shall be delivered to the superintendent who shall, if he approves of the proposed merger and if he finds the articles of merger satisfy the requirements of this section, deliver them to the secretary of state for filing and recording in his office, and the same shall be filed in the office of the county recorder. 3. The requirements for a conversion under all applicable laws have been satisfied and the resulting state bank would satisfy the requirements of this chapter applicable to it.

4. The resulting state bank will possess an adequate capital structure.

Within ninety days after receipt of the application the superintendent shall make a determination whether to approve or disapprove the pending application on the basis of his investigation. Before receiving the decision of the superintendent with respect to the pending application, the national bank shall, upon notice, reimburse the superintendent to the extent of the expenses incurred by him in connection with the application. Thereafter, the superintendent shall give the national bank written notice of his decision and, in the event of disapproval, a statement of the reasons for his decision. If the superintendent approves the pending application, he shall deliver the articles of conversion, with his approval indicated thereon, to the secretary of state. The secretary of state shall record the articles of conversion in his office, and the same shall be filed and recorded in the office of the county recorder in the county in which the resulting state bank has its principal place of business. On the date upon which the conversion is effective, the secretary of state shall issue a certificate of conversion and send the same to the resulting state bank and a copy thereof to the superintendent and the superintendent shall issue to the resulting state bank an authorization to do business. 1. The conversion shall be effective upon the filing of the articles of conversion with the secretary of state, or at any later date and time specified by the superintendent in writing on the articles of conversion. The certificate of conversion shall be conclusive evidence of the performance of all conditions required by this chapter for conversion of a national bank into a state bank, except as against the state.

2. When a conversion becomes effective, the existence of the national bank shall continue in the resulting state bank which shall have all the property, rights, powers and duties of the national bank, except that the resulting state bank shall have only the authority to engage in such business and exercise such powers as it would have, and shall be subject to the same prohibitions and limitations to which it would be subject, upon original incorporation under this chapter. A shareholder of a state bank which converts into a national bank, who votes against the plan of conversion or has given the state bank written notice that he dissents from the plan, at or prior to the meeting at which the plan is adopted in the manner prescribed by section 524.1416, shall be entitled to receive in cash the value of the shares held by him, if and when the conversion is consummated, upon written request made to the resulting national bank at any time within thirty days after the consummation of the conversion, accompanied by the surrender of his share certificates. The value of such shares shall be determined as of the date of the shareholders' meeting at which the conversion plan was adopted, by a committee of three persons, one to be selected by unanimous vote of the dissenting shareholders entitled to receive the value of their shares, one by the directors of the resulting national bank, and the third by the two so chosen. The valuation agreed upon by any two of three appraisers thus chosen shall govern. If the value so fixed shall not be satisfactory to any dissenting shareholder who has requested payment as provided herein, such shareholder may, within five days after being notified of the appraised value of his shares, appeal to the superintendent, who shall cause a reappraisal to be made, which shall be final and binding as to the value of the shares of the appellant. If, within ninety days from the date of consummation of the conversion, for any reason one or more of the appraisers is not selected as herein provided, or the appraisers fail to determine the value of such shares, the superintendent shall, upon written request of any interested party, cause an appraisal to be made which shall be final and binding on all parties. The expenses of the superintendent in making the reappraisal, or the appraisal as the case may be, shall be paid by the resulting national bank. The plan of conversion shall provide the manner of disposing of the shares of the resulting national bank not taken by the dissenting shareholders of the state bank.

2. If a shareholder of a national bank, which converts into a state bank, shall object to the plan of conversion and shall comply with the requirements of applicable laws of the United States, the resulting state bank shall be liable for the value of his shares as determined in accordance with such laws of the United States. Shares acquired by a state bank pursuant to this subsection shall be sold at public or private sale, within one year from the time of purchase or acquisition, unless the time is extended by the superintendent. [C54, 58, 62, 66, §528B.10; 63GA, ch 273, §1418]

524.1419 Offices of a resulting state bank. If a merger, consolidation or conversion results in a state bank subject to the provisions of this chapter, the resulting state bank shall, after the effective date of the merger, consolidation or conversion, be subject to all the provisions of sections 524.1201, 524.1202 and 524.1203 relating to the bank offices and parking lot offices. Any change in location of the principal place of business of a state bank subject to this section shall require amendment to the articles of incorporation in accordance with the provisions of sections 524.1502, 524.1504, and 524.1506. A state bank seeking approval of a change of location pursuant to this subsection shall publish a notice of the proposed change of location in a newspaper of general circulation published in the municipal corporation or unincorporated area in which the state bank has its principal place of business, or if there is none, in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county, or in a county adjoining the county, in which the state bank has its principal place of business, and in the municipal corporation in which it seeks to establish its principal place of business, or if there is none, in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county, or in a county adjoining the county, in which such municipal corporation is located. [63GA, ch 273,§1507]

524.1508 Restatement of articles of incorporation. A state bank may at any time restate its articles of incorporation, which may be amended by such restatement, so long as its articles of incorporation as so restated contain only such provisions as might be lawfully contained in original articles of incorporation at the time of making such restatement, by the adoption of restated articles of incorporation, including any amendments to its articles of incorporation to be made thereby, in the following manner:

1. The board of directors shall adopt a resolution setting forth the proposed restated articles of incorporation, which may include an amendment or amendments to the articles of incorporation of the state bank to be made thereby, and directing that such restated articles, including such amendment or amendments, be submitted to a vote at a meeting of shareholders, which may be either an annual meeting or a special meeting.

2. Written or printed notice setting forth the proposed restated articles or a summary of the provisions thereof shall be given to each shareholder of record entitled to vote thereon within the time and in the manner provided in section 524.509. If the meeting be an annual meeting, the proposed restated articles may be included in the notice of such annual meeting. If the restated articles include an amendment or amendments to the articles of incorporation to be made thereby, the notice shall separately set forth such amendment or amendments or a summary of the changes to be effected thereby.

3. At such meeting a vote of the shareholders entitled to vote thereon shall be taken on the proposed restated articles. The proposed restated articles shall be adopted upon receiving the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the shares entitled to vote thereon, unless such restated articles include an amendment to the articles of incorporation to be made thereby which, if contained in a proposed amendment to articles of incorporation to be made without restatement of the articles of incorporation, would entitle a class of shares to vote as a class thereon, in which event the proposed restated articles shall be adopted upon receiving the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of each class of shares entitled to vote thereon as a class, and of the total shares entitled to vote thereon.

Upon such approval, restated articles of incorporation shall be executed by the state bank by its president or vice-president and by its cashier or an assistant cashier, and verified by one of the officers signing the same, and shall set forth, as then stated in the articles of incorporation of the state bank and, if the restated articles of incorporation included an amendment or amendments to the articles of incorporation to be made thereby, as so amended, the material and contents described in section 524.302.

The restated articles of incorporation shall set forth also a statement that they correctly set forth the provisions of the articles of incorporation as theretofore or thereby amended, that they have been duly adopted as required by law and that they supersede the original articles of incorporation and all amendments thereto.

The restated articles of incorporation shall be delivered to the superintendent together with the applicable fees for the filing and recording of the restated articles of incorporation. The superintendent shall conduct such investigation and give his approval or disapproval, all as in the manner provided for in section 524.1505. If the superintendent shall approve the restated articles of incorporation he shall deliver them with his written approval to the secretary of state for filing and recording in his office and the same shall be filed and recorded in the office of the county recorder. The secretary of state upon filing the restated articles of incorporation shall issue a restated certificate of incorporation and send the same to the state bank or its representative.

Upon the issuance of the restated certificate of incorporation by the secretary of state, the restated articles of incorporation including any amendment or amendments to the articles of incorporation made thereby, shall become effective and shall supersede the original articles of incorporation and all amendments thereto.

No amendment shall affect the existing rights of persons other than shareholders, or any existing cause of action in favor of or against such state bank, or any pending suit to which such state bank shall be a party; and, in the event the corporate name shall be changed by amendment, no suit brought by or against such state bank under its former name shall abate for that reason. 533.1 Purpose — administration — organization.

Definition and purpose. A credit union is hereby defined as a co-operative, nonprofit association, incorporated in accordance with the provisions of this chapter for the purpose of creating a source of credit at a fair and reasonable rate of interest, of encouraging habits of thrift among its members and of providing the opportunity for people to use and control their savings for their mutual benefit.

Administration. The superintendent of banking shall be charged with the execution of the laws of this state relating to credit unions.

Organization. Any seven residents of the state of Iowa may apply to the superintendent of banking for permission to organize a credit union.

A credit union is organized in the following manner:

1. The applicants shall execute in duplicate articles of incorporation by the terms of which they agree to be bound. The articles shall state:

a. The name and location of the proposed credit union.

b. The names and addresses of the subscribers to the articles and the number of shares subscribed by each.

c. The par value of the shares of the credit union which shall be five dollars each.

2. Said applicants shall prepare and adopt bylaws for the general government of the credit union consistent with the provisions of this chapter, and execute the same in duplicate.

3. The articles and the bylaws, both executed in duplicate, shall be forwarded with a fee of ten dollars to the superintendent of banking.

4. The superintendent shall, within thirty days of the receipt of said articles and bylaws, determine whether they conform with the provisions of this chapter, and whether or not the organization of the credit union in question would benefit the members of it and be consistent with the purposes of this chapter.

5. The superintendent shall thereupon notify the applicants of his decision. If it is favorable he shall issue a certificate of approval, attached to the duplicate articles of incorporation and return the same, together with the duplicate bylaws to the applicants.

6. The applicants shall thereupon file the said duplicate of the articles of incorporation, with the certificate of approval attached thereto, with the county recorder of the county within which the credit union is to do business, who shall record and index the same and return it, with his certificate of record attached thereto, to the said superintendent of banking for permanent record.

7. The applicants shall thereupon become and be a credit union, incorporated in accordance with the provisions of this chapter.

In order to simplify the organization of credit unions, the superintendent of banking, upon the taking effect of this chapter, or as soon thereafter as sufficient fees shall have accumulated to liquidate the cost of same, shall cause to be prepared an approved form of articles of incorporation and a form of bylaws, consistent with this chapter which may be used by credit union incorporators for their guidance, and on written application of any seven residents of the state, shall supply them without charge with blank articles of incorporation and a copy of said form of

533.2 Amendments. The articles of incorporation or the bylaws may be amended by a favorable vote of three-fourths of the members present at any meeting, which number must constitute a quorum provided the proposed amendment was contained in the notice of the meeting. Any and all such amendments must be approved by the superintendent of banking before they become effective. [C27, 31, 35, §9305-a2; C39, §9305.02; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §533.2]

533.3 Restriction. No person, firm, corporation, copartnership, or association, except a credit union organized under the provisions of this chapter or under the federal credit union Act [12 U.S.C. §1751 et seq.] or except the Iowa credit union league, incorporated, or chapters of said league, shall use a name or title containing the words "credit union" or any derivation thereof or shall represent themselves, in their advertising or otherwise, as conducting business as a credit union.

Any person, firm, corporation, copartnership, or association, upon conviction of the violation of the provisions of this section shall be fined not more than five hundred dollars or imprisoned not more than one year or both; and may be enjoined from such continued use of said words, advertising or other representation. [C27, 31, 35, §9305-a3; C39, §9305.03; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §533.3]

3. Make loans to a co-operative society or other organization having membership in the credit union.

4. Deposit in state and national banks.

5. Make investments in:

a. Time deposits in national banks and in state banks, the deposits of which are insured by the federal deposit insurance corporation.

However, the aggregate amount invested pursuant to this subsection shall not exceed ten percent of the unimpaired legal reserve account of the credit union.

h. Any trust, or in any agency or association organized either as a stock company, mutual association, or membership corporation in an amount not to exceed twenty-five percent of the allocation to the legal reserve account of the credit union during any fiscal year, such amount to be transferred from the legal reserve account. However, the aggregate amount shall not exceed twenty-five percent of the unimpaired legal reserve account of the credit union, and such trust, company, agency, association, or membership corporation shall be controlled by credit unions, by one or more associations of credit unions, or by any organization controlled by credit unions, and the purposes of any such trust, company, agency, association, or membership corporation shall be designed to assist in establishing and maintaining liquidity, solvency, or security in credit union operations.

6. Borrow money as hereinafter indicated.

533.5 Membership. Credit union membership shall consist of the incorporators and such other persons as may be elected to membership and subscribe for at least one share, pay the installment thereon and the entrance fee. Organizations, incorporated or otherwise, composed for the most part of the same general group as the credit union membership may be members. Credit union organization shall be limited to groups having a common bond of occupation or association or to groups within a well-defined neighborhood, community, or rural district. [C27, 31, 35, §9305-a5; C39, §9305.05; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §533.5]

533.6 Reports—examinations.

1. Credit unions organized under this chapter shall report to the superintendent of banking annually on or before the first day of February on blanks supplied by him for that purpose. Additional reports may be required. If any report remains in arrears for more than five days, a fine of five dollars for each day such report remains in arrears may be levied against such offending credit union. If such report is not returned within thirty days of the due date, the superintendent of banking may, after written notice to the president of such credit union of his intention to do so, suspend or revoke the certificate of approval, take possession of the business and property of such credit union, and order its dissolution.

2. The superintendent of banking shall examine, or cause to be examined, each credit union annually. Each credit union and all of its officers and agents shall give to the representatives of said superintendent free access to all books, papers, securities, records and other sources of information under their control; and for the purposes of such examination said representatives shall have the power to subpoena witnesses, administer oaths, compel the giving of testimony, and require the submission of documents. A report of such examination shall be forwarded to the president of each credit union within thirty days after the completion of the examination. Within thirty days of the receipt of such report, a meeting of the directors shall be called to consider matters contained in the report and the action taken shall be set forth in the minutes of the board.

The superintendent of banking may require any credit union, whose records are inadequate or whose books have not been balanced as of the end of the month not less than thirty days previously or whose affairs are in an unfavorable condition, to submit to an additional examination each year.

Each credit union shall pay to the superintendent of banking a fee for making examinations, based on the actual cost of the operation of the credit union division of the department of banking and the proportionate share of administrative expenses in the operation of the department of banking, attributable to credit unions, to be determined by the superintendent of banking, in accordance with chapter 17A.

If it shall appear that any credit union is insolvent or that it has violated any of the provisions of this chapter, the superintendent of banking may, after hearing or giving opportunity for a hearing, order such credit union to correct such condition and shall grant it not less than sixty days within which to comply and failure so to do shall afford the said superintendent grounds to revoke the certificate of approval and to apply to the district court of the district in which such credit union is located for the appointment of a receiver to close up the affairs of such credit union. [C27, 31, 35, §9305-a6; C39, §9305.06; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §533.6]

533.7 Fiscal year — meetings. The fiscal year of all credit unions shall end December 31. Annual meetings shall be held, and special meetings may be held, in the manner indicated in the bylaws.

At all meetings no member shall have more than one vote regardless of the shares held by him. There shall be no voting by proxy. A member other than a natural person may cast a single vote through a delegated agent which agent shall be a member of the organization for which he acts. The majority of members present at any meeting may modify, amend or reverse any act of the board of directors or instruct it to take action not inconsistent with the bylaws or of this chapter. [C27, 31, 35, §9305-a7; C39, §9305.07; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §533.7]

533.8 Elections. At the organization meeting there shall be elected a board of directors of not less than nine members to hold office for such terms as the bylaws provide and until successors are elected and qualify. At each annual meeting there shall be elected one member to fill each position vacated by reason of expiring terms or other causes. A record of the names and addresses of the directors, officers and committee men shall be filed with the superintendent of banking within ten days following each election. [C27, 31, 35, §9305-a8; C39, §9305.08; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §533.8]

533.9 Directors and officers. Within five days following the organization meeting and each annual meeting the directors shall elect from their own number a president, vice-president, treasurer and secretary, of whom the last two may be the same individual, and also a credit committee of not less than three members and an auditing committee of not less than three members, and may also elect alternate members of the credit committee. It shall be the duty of the directors to have general management of the affairs of the credit union, particularly to:

1. Act on applications for membership. However, the board of directors may appoint a membership committee or a membership officer from among the members of the board of directors, other than the treasurer, assistant treasurer or loan officer, who may be authorized by the board to approve applications for membership under such conditions as the board may prescribe; except that the membership committee or the membership officer shall submit to the board at each monthly meeting a list of approved or pending applications for membership received since the previous monthly meeting.

2. Determine interest rates on loans and deposits.

3. Fix the amount of the surety bond which shall be required of all officers and employees handling money.

4. Declare dividends, interest refunds, and to transmit to the members recommended amendments to the bylaws.

5. Fill vacancies which occur in the board between meetings of the members until the next annual meeting and until successors are elected and qualify.

6. Determine the maximum individual share holdings and the maximum individual loan which can be made with and without security.

7. Have charge of investments other than loans to members.

The duties of the officers shall be determined in the bylaws, except that the treasurer shall be the general manager. No member of the board or of either committee shall, as such, be compensated. [C27, 31, 35, §9305-a9; C39, §9305.09; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §533.9]

533.10 Credit committee. The credit committee shall have the general supervision of all loans to members. Applications for loans shall be on a form, prepared by the credit committee, and all applications shall set forth the purpose for which the loan is desired, the security, if any, offered, and such other data as may be required. Within the meaning of this section an assignment of shares or deposits or the endorsement of a note may be deemed security. At least a majority of the members of the credit committee shall pass on all loans and may grant approval thereof, provided, however, that the credit committee of a credit union, with the approval of the board of directors, may appoint one or more loan officers, who may be the treasurer or assistant treasurer, and delegate to him or them, subject to conditions and regulations of the credit committee, power to approve loans up to the maximum which can be made without security, or in excess of such limit if such excess is fully secured by shares. Each loan officer shall furnish to the credit committee a record of each loan approved or not approved by him within seven days of the date of the filing of the application therefor. All loans not approved by a loan officer shall be acted upon by the credit committee. The credit committee shall meet as often as may be necessary after due notice to each member. [C27, 31, 35, §9305-a10; C39, §9305.10; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §533.10; 62GA, ch 381, §1]

533.11 Auditing committee. The auditing committee shall:

1. Make an examination of the affairs of the credit union at least quarterly, including an audit of its books and, in the event said committee feels such action to be necessary, it shall call the members together thereafter and submit to them its report.

2. Make an annual audit and report and submit the same at the annual meeting of the members.

3. By unanimous vote, if it deem such action to be necessary to the proper conduct of the credit union, suspend any officer, director, or member of committee and call the members together to act on such suspension. The members at said meeting may sustain such suspension and remove such officer permanently or may reinstate said officer.

By majority vote, the auditing committee may call a special meeting of the members to consider any matter submitted to it by said committee. [C27, 31, 35, §9305-a11; C39, §9305.11; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §533.11]

533.12 Capital. The capital of a credit union shall consist of the payments that have been made to it by the several members thereof on shares. The credit union shall have a lien on the shares and deposits of a member for any sum due to the credit union from said member or for any loan endorsed by him. A credit union may charge an entrance fee as may be provided by the bylaws. [C27, 31, 35, §9305-a12; C39, §9305.12; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §533.12]

533.13 Special shares and accounts.

1. Joint accounts. A member may designate any person or persons to hold shares, deposits, and thrift club accounts with him in joint tenancy with the right of survivorship, but no joint tenant, unless a member in his own right, shall be permitted to vote, obtain loans, or hold office or be required to pay an entrance fee. Payment of part or all of such accounts to any of the joint tenants shall, to the extent of such payment, discharge the liability to all.

2. Minors. Shares may be issued and deposits accepted in the name of a minor and such shares and deposits may be withdrawn by such minor and payments made on such withdrawals shall be valid. No such minor under sixteen years of age shall be entitled to vote in the meetings of the members either personally or through his parent or guardian, nor may he become a director until he shall have reached his eighteenth birthday.

3. Trust accounts. If shares and deposits are held in trust, the name and residence of the beneficiary shall be disclosed and the account shall be kept in the name of the holder as trustee for such beneficiary. Such shares and deposits may be withdrawn, upon the death of the trustee, by the beneficiary's legal representative. [C27, 31, 35, §9305-a13; C39, §9305.13; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §533.13]

533.14 Interest rates. Interest rates on loans made by a credit union shall not exceed one percent a month on unpaid balances. [C27, 31, 35, §9305-a14; C39, §9305.14; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §533.14]

533.15 Power to borrow. A credit union may borrow from any source in total sum which shall not exceed fifty percent of the sum of its share and deposit account balances. [C27, 31, 35, §9305-a15; C39, §9305.15; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §533.15]

533.16 Loans. A credit union may loan to members. Loans must be for a provident or productive purpose and are made subject to the conditions contained in the bylaws. A borrower may repay his loan in whole or in part any day the office of the credit union is open for business. No director, officer, or member of committee may borrow from the credit union in which he holds office beyond the amount of his holdings in it in shares and deposits, nor may he endorse for borrowers. Loans secured by a mortgage or deed of trust upon real property may be made only on unencumbered property located in Iowa and in bordering counties of adjacent states and every such loan shall comply with one of the following conditions:

1. If the terms of the instrument securing such loan call for payment at maturity the loan shall not be for a period in excess of five years and the amount loaned shall not exceed fifty percent of the appraised value of the property given as security.

2. If the terms of the instrument securing such loan call for installment payments which are sufficient to retire at least forty percent of the principal of the loan within ten years the amount loaned shall not exceed sixty percent of the appraised value of the property given as security and shall not be for a period in excess of ten years.

3. If the terms of the instrument securing such loan call for monthly installment payments, including principal and interest, at least equal to one percent of the principal of the loan, the amount loaned shall not exceed eighty percent of the appraised value of the property given as security.

The foregoing restrictions or limitations shall not prevent the renewal or extension of loans and shall not apply to loans which are secured under the provisions of the national housing Act, as amended.

No credit union shall loan to any one member more than one hundred dollars or ten percent of its total assets whichever is greater. [C27, 31, 35, §9305-a16; C39, §9305.16; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §533.16]

533.17 Reserves.

1. Legal reserve. All fees and fines shall, after the payment of organization expenses, be added to the legal reserve of the corporation.

In addition thereto, at the end of each fiscal year until such time as said legal reserve equals ten percent of the sum of the share and deposit account balances of the corporation, there shall be transferred to said reserve not less than ten percent of the corporation's gross income for the year. Thereafter there shall annually be added to said reserve at the end of each fiscal year such percent of the gross earnings, but not exceeding ten percent, as shall be required to maintain said reserve at ten percent of the sum of the said share and deposit account balances.

The legal reserve, including any excess which may be in said reserve at the time this amendment becomes effective, shall belong to the corporation, and shall not be distributed except on dissolution of the credit union. Said legal reserve shall be used to meet losses, except those resulting from an excess of expenses over income.

2. Special reserve. However, the superintendent of banking may require a credit union to set aside additional amounts as a special reserve if an examination of its assets should disclose that its legal reserve is inadequate. [C27, 31, 35, §9305-a17; C39, §9305.17; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §533.17]

533.18 Dividends. After transfers to required reserves, a credit union may declare a dividend from undivided earnings at the discretion of its board of directors and as its bylaws shall provide, which dividend shall be paid on all shares outstanding at the end of the period for which the dividend is declared. Shares which become fully paid up by the tenth day of any month of such dividend period may, by action of the board of directors, be entitled to a proportional part of said dividend calculated from the first day of the month in which the payment is made in full. At any meeting the members may establish a maximum dividend rate which shall be binding on the directors until changed at a subsequent meeting. [C27, 31, 35, §9305-a18; C39, §9305.18; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §533.18; 63GA, ch 275, §1]

533.19 Expulsion—withdrawal. A member may be expelled by a two-thirds vote of the members present at a special meeting called to consider the matter but only after a hearing. Any member may withdraw from the credit union at any time but notice of withdrawal may be required. All amounts paid on shares or as deposits of an expelled or withdrawing member, with any dividends or interest accrued thereto, to the date thereof, shall, as funds become available and after deducting all amounts due from the member to the credit union, be paid to him. The credit union may require sixty days' notice of intention to withdraw shares and thirty days' notice of intention to withdraw deposits. Withdrawing or expelled members shall have no further rights in the credit union but are not, by such expulsion or withdrawal, released from any remaining liability to the credit union. [C27, 31, 35, §9305-a19; C39, §9305.19; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §533.19]

1. At a meeting called for the purpose, notice of which purpose must be contained in the call, four-fifths of the entire membership of the credit union may vote to dissolve the credit union. Any member not present at such meeting may, within the next twenty days, vote in favor of dissolution by signing a statement in form approved by the superintendent of banking and such vote shall have as full force and effect as if cast at such meeting.

2. Thereupon they shall file with the superintendent of banking a statement of their consent to dissolution, attested by a majority of the officers and including the names and addresses of the officers and directors.

3. The superintendent shall determine whether or not the credit union is solvent. If such is the fact he shall issue in duplicate a certificate to the effect that this section has been complied with.

4. The certificate shall be filed with the county recorder of the county in which the credit union is located, whereupon the credit union shall be declared dissolved and shall cease to carry on business except for the purpose of liquidation.

5. The credit union shall continue in existence for three years for the purpose of discharging its debts, collecting and distributing its assets and doing all other acts required in order to wind up its business, and may sue and be sued for the purpose of enforcing such debts and obligations until its affairs are fully adjusted and wound up. [C27, 31, 35, §9305-a20; C39, §9305.20; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §533.20]

533.21 Change in place of business. A credit union may change its place of business on written notice to the superintendent of banking. [C27, 31, 35, §9305-a21; C39, §9305.21; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §533.21]

533.22 Taxation. A credit union shall be deemed an institution for savings and shall be subject to taxation only as to its real estate, tangible personal property, moneys and credits. The shares shall not be taxed.

The moneys and credits tax on credit unions is hereby imposed at a rate of five mills on each dollar of legal and special reserves of every credit union, and shall be levied by the board of supervisors, and placed upon the tax list and collected by the county treasurer, except that an exemption shall be given to each credit union in the amount of four thousand dollars and, in addition, any amount of the legal and special reserves which are invested in United States government securities. The amount collected in each taxing district within a city or town shall be apportioned twenty percent to the county general fund, thirty percent to the city or town general fund, and fifty percent to the basic school tax equalization fund, and the amount collected in each taxing district outside of cities and towns shall be apportioned fifty percent to the county general fund and fifty percent to the basic school tax equalization fund. The moneys and credits tax shall be collected at the location of the credit union as shown in its articles of incorporation. Nothing herein shall require credit unions to retain any class of records or files for the period of limitation of actions provided herein; but any records, files or class of records not deemed necessary for the conduct of the current business of credit unions, or future examinations thereof, or for defense in the event of litigation, may be destroyed within such period.

For the purpose of assisting credit unions in the retention of only necessary records and files, or for the destruction of those which are obsolete or unnecessary, credit unions are authorized to destroy such records and files or classes thereof within the period of limitation of actions upon the joint recommendation of the superintendent of banking and a credit union review board relating to records consisting of the directors of the Iowa credit union league. f. Nonprofit religious, fraternal or co-operative organizations, including credit unions, offering to debtors gratuitous debt-management service.

g. Those persons, associations, or corporations whose principal business is the origination of first mortgage loans on real estate for their own portfolios or for sale to institutional investors.

2. The application for such license shall be in writing, under oath, and in the form prescribed by the superintendent. The application shall contain the name of the applicant; date of incorporation, if incorporated, and the address where the business is to be conducted; and similar information as to any branch office of the applicant; the name and resident address of the owner or partners, or, if a corporation, association or agency, of the directors, trustees, principal officers, and agents, and such other pertinent information as the superintendent may require. If the applicant is a partnership, a copy of the certificate of assumed name or articles of partnership shall be filed with the application. If the applicant is a corporation, a copy of the articles of incorporation shall be filed with the application.

3. Each application shall be accompanied by a bond to be approved by the superintendent to the people of the state of Iowa in the penal sum of ten thousand dollars for each office, providing, however, the superintendent may require such bond to be raised to a maximum sum of twenty-five thousand dollars, and conditioned that the obligor will not violate any law pertaining to such business and upon the faithful accounting of all moneys collected upon accounts entrusted to such person engaged in debt management, and their employees and agents for the purpose of indemnifying debtors for loss resulting from conduct prohibited by this chapter. The aggregate liability of the surety to all debtors doing business with the office for which the bond is filed shall, in no event, exceed the penal sum of such bond. The surety on the bond shall have the right to cancel such bond upon giving thirty days' notice to the superintendent and thereafter shall be relieved of liability for any breach of condition occurring after the effective date of said cancellation. No individual, partnership, unincorporated association, agency or corporation shall engage in the business of debt management until a good and sufficient bond is filed in accordance with the provisions of this chapter.

4. Each applicant shall furnish with his application a copy of the contract he proposes to use between himself and the debtor, which shall contain a schedule of fees to be charged the debtor for his services.

5. At the time of making such application the applicant shall pay to the superintendent the sum of fifty dollars as a license fee for each of his offices and an investigation fee in the sum of one hundred dollars. A separate application shall be made for each office maintained by the applicant. [62GA, ch 380,§2]

533A.3 Investigation—hearing.

1. Upon the filing of each application and the payment of such fees, the superintendent shall fix a date and a time for a hearing upon such application, and shall make an investigation of the facts concerning the application and the requirements provided for in subsection 3 of this section.

2. The superintendent shall grant or deny each application for a license within sixty days from the filing thereof with the required fee, unless the period is extended by written agreement between the applicant and the superintendent.

3. a. If the superintendent shall find the experience, financial responsibility, character and general fitness of the applicant is such as to command the confidence of the public and to warrant belief that the business will be operated lawfully, honestly, fairly and efficiently within the purposes of this chapter, and that the applicant, or if the applicant is an unincorporated association, agency or partnership, then the individuals involved, or if the applicant is a corporation then the officers and directors thereof, have not been convicted of a felony or a misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, or have not had a record of having defaulted in payment of money collected for others, including the discharge of such debts through bankruptcy proceedings, the superintendent shall thereupon enter an order granting such application and forthwith issue and deliver a license to the applicant. The superintendent may require as part of the application a credit report and other information.

b. If the applicant has, at the time of the application, a license for an office located within ten statute miles of the location of the office named in the application, no license shall be issued unless the superintendent finds that public convenience will be served by the issuance of such license.

c. No license shall be transferable or assignable.

4. If the superintendent finds the applicant not qualified by subsection 3 of this section, he shall enter an order denying such application and forthwith notify the applicant of the denial, returning the license fee. Within fifteen days after the entry of such order, he shall prepare written findings and shall forthwith deliver a copy thereof to the applicant. [62GA, ch 380,§3]

Referred to in §533A.15

533A.4 Expiration date. The license issued under this chapter shall expire on July 1 next following its issuance unless sooner surrendered, revoked or suspended, but may be renewed as provided in this chapter. [62GA, ch 380,§4]

533A.5 Renewal. Each licensee on or before July 1 may make application to the superintendent for renewal of its license. A separate renewal application shall be made for each office maintained by the applicant. [62GA, ch 380,§5]

533A.6 Appointment of process agent.

1. No licensee shall transact business until it shall have first appointed in writing the superintendent as agent of the licensee for service of process in this state. Service upon the superintendent or, in his absence, any employee in charge of his office, shall be of the same legal force and validity as if served upon any licensee under this chapter.

2. Whenever lawful process against any licensee shall be served upon the superintendent, two copies shall be furnished and he shall forthwith forward a copy of the process served on him, by certified mail, postpaid and directed to the licensee. For each service of process the sum of two dollars shall be collected, which shall be paid by the plaintiff at the time of such service, the same to be recovered by him as part of the taxable costs, if he prevails in the suit. [62GA, ch 380,§6]

2. The denial, revocation or suspension shall be made only upon specific charges in writing, under oath, filed with the superintendent or by the superintendent whereupon a hearing shall be had as to the reasons for any denial, revocation or suspension and a certified copy of the charges shall be served on the licensee or applicant for license not less than ten days prior to the hearing. [62GA, ch 380,§7]

1. Each licensee shall make a written contract between himself and a debtor and shall immediately and before collecting any fee, furnish the debtor with a true copy of the contract. The contract shall set forth the complete list of creditors who are to receive payments under the contract, the total charges agreed upon for the services of the licensee, a statement of how the charges are to be paid, and the beginning and expiration date of the contract. No contract shall extend for a period longer than thirty-six months.

2. Each licensee shall maintain a separate bank trust account in which all payments received from debtors for the benefit of creditors shall be deposited and in which all payments shall remain until a remittance is made to either the debtor or the creditor. Every licensee shall keep, and use in his business, books, accounts and records which will enable the superintendent to determine whether such licensee is complying with the provisions of this chapter and with the rules and regulations of the superintendent. Every licensee shall preserve such books, accounts and records for at least seven years after making the final entry on any transaction recorded therein.

3. Each licensee shall keep complete and adequate records during the term of the contract and for a period of five years from the date of cancellation or completion of the contract with each debtor, which records shall contain complete information regarding the contract, extensions thereof, payments, disbursements, and charges, which records shall be open to inspection by the superintendent and his duly appointed agents during normal business hours.

4. Each licensee shall make remittances to creditors within forty-five days after initial receipt of funds, and thereafter remittances shall be made to creditors within thirty days of receipt, less fees and costs, unless the reasonable payment of one or more of the debtor's obligations requires that such funds be held for a longer period so as to accumulate a sum certain.

5. Each licensee shall, upon request, furnish the debtor a written statement of his account monthly or a verbal accounting at any time the debtor may request it during normal business hours. A monthly written statement of disbursements made and fees deducted from his account shall be made to the debtor, whether he requests it or not.

6. A licensee shall not receive any fee unless he has the consent of at least fifty percent of the total number of the creditors listed in the licensee's contract with the debtor, or such a like number of creditors have accepted a distribution of payment. The debtor shall be informed by the licensee of those creditors who have not agreed to the licensee's handling of the account. No licensee shall accept an account unless a written and thorough budget analysis has been performed which indicates that the debtor can meet the requirements determined by the budget analysis.

7. In the event a compromise of a debt is arranged by the licensee with any one or more creditors, the debtor shall have the full benefit of such compromise. [62GA, ch 380,§8]

533A.9 Fee agreed in advance. The fee of the licensee shall be agreed upon in advance and stated in the contract and provision for settlement in case of cancellation or prepayment shall be clearly stated herein. The fee of the licensee shall not exceed twelve and one-half percent of any payment made by the debtor and distributed to the creditors pursuant to the contract. In case of total payment of the contract before the contract period has expired, the licensee shall be entitled only to a fee of no more than three percent of such final payment. [62GA, ch 380,§9]

1. The superintendent may examine the condition and affairs of said licensee. The superintendent shall ascertain whether the licensee transacts its business in the manner prescribed by the law and the rules and regulations issued thereunder. The licensee shall pay the cost of the examination as determined by the superintendent, which fee shall not exceed the sum of one hundred dollars per day of examination. Failure to pay the examination fee within thirty days of receipt of demand from the superintendent shall automatically suspend the license until the fee is paid.

2. In the investigation of alleged violations of this chapter, the superintendent may compel the attendance of any person or the production of any books, accounts, records and files used therein, and may examine under oath all persons in attendance pursuant thereto.

The superintendent is authorized to make and promulgate as prescribed by law regulations necessary to carry out the purposes of this chapter. [62GA, ch 380,§10]

3. Approval of articles—certificate of authority.

a. The proposed articles of incorporation for any proposed new association, together with proposed bylaws, shall be presented to the auditor of state and by him submitted to the state executive council and if it finds that they are in conformity with the law and based upon a plan equitable in all respects to its members, and further finds from the best sources at its command and from such investigation as it may deem necessary, that the proposed incorporators are persons of good character, ability and responsibility; that a reasonable necessity exists for such new institution in the community to be served; that it can be established and operated without undue injury to existing local thrift and home financing institutions and that the proposed name of such institution is not similar to that of any other association operating in the same community and is not misleading or deceitful, the executive council shall attach thereto its certificate of approval and enter its approval of record, and thereupon such articles of incorporation shall be recorded in the office of the secretary of state and in the office of the recorder of the county in which the association's principal place of business is to be situated and then be filed in the office of the auditor of state who shall at that time issue a certificate authorizing the association to transact business as a building and loan or savings and loan association.

b. If the executive council does not affirmatively find as to each and all of the said requirements it shall enter its disapproval of record together with a statement of its findings and conclusions and a certificate of incorporation shall not be issued. Upon such disapproval the executive council shall, by registered mail, notify one, or all, of the proposed incorporators of its disapproval together with the reasons for such disapproval, and thereupon, the proposed incorporators, if not satisfied with such action, may within sixty days after the mailing of such notice appeal to the district court of Iowa in and for the county in which the principal place of business of the proposed association is to be located from such findings and disapproval by serving a notice of such appeal upon the auditor of state, setting forth in general terms the decisions appealed from and the grounds of the appeal and by filing with the clerk of the said court, within such sixty days, a duly verified petition stating the facts and the grounds of complaint and having attached thereto a copy of the proposed articles of incorporation and bylaws and a copy of the findings and conclusions of the executive council. Such appeal shall be triable as a mandamus proceeding in equity and the findings and decisions of the executive council shall be binding upon the court unless overcome by clear and convincing proof. Any party aggrieved by the order, judgment, or decree of the court may appeal therefrom to the supreme court of Iowa.

c. Before a certificate of authority to do business shall be issued to any such new association, the incorporators shall pay to the treasurer of the incorporators committee, in cash, an amount equal to not less than ten percent of the required minimum savings liability, which fund shall be in addition to the required minimum paid-in savings liability and shall, upon issuance of a certificate of incorporation, be paid to the association and shall be set up as a special reserve to be designated "reserve for the operating expenses". Such special reserve shall be used only for the purpose of paying the costs and expenses of organization and for paying or contributing toward payment of the operating expenses of such new association during any period or periods during which the association's earnings shall not be sufficient to pay all its expenses in addition to paying dividends to its members at such reasonable rate as shall be approved by the supervisor. Such "reserve for operating expenses" shall be used only for the purposes herein specified and shall be subject to be refunded in full or in part to the contributors as hereinafter provided.

d. After five years from the date of incorporation, the amounts contributed by the incorporators to such reserve for operating expenses may be refunded to the contributors thereto, but the amounts refunded shall at no time be in excess of accumulated net earnings remaining after paying all expenses and paying or making allowances for payment of reasonable dividends to shareholders since the date of incorporation, and crediting at least the minimum amount required to general reserve. In addition to refunding the amounts contributed to such "reserve for operating expenses", the association may also pay to such contributors interest on the amounts contributed, at rates not in excess of the dividend rates paid members since date of incorporation. No such refund shall be made, or interest paid, without first obtaining written approval of the supervisor.

e. In case of dissolution or liquidation of an association before such contributions to such "reserve for operating expenses" have been refunded, the contributors thereto shall be entitled to such refunds out of moneys or assets remaining, if any, after payment of all debts, expenses, costs, and other liabilities, including refund to all members of the amounts paid in and credited on their share accounts.

f. The corporate existence of an association shall begin when the articles have been submitted and approved as required by this section and when the secretary of state has issued a certificate of incorporation. The corporate existence shall be perpetual unless otherwise limited or unless terminated as provided for herein.

g. Amendments or renewed and substituted articles of incorporation may be approved from time to time at any regular or special meeting of stockholders and shall be submitted for approval and processed in the same general manner as outlined in subsection 3 of this section.

h. No notices of incorporation or amendments need be published.

i. The executive council shall keep a record of its proceedings with reference to such associations.

j. The executive council shall have the power and it shall be its duty, to revoke any certificate of authority given to any association whenever it appears to said council that said association is transacting business illegally, or is unjust and oppressive to its members or the public. Before any such revocation shall be declared, the executive council shall first give thirty days' written notice of its intentions to revoke to the association involved and to the federal home loan bank. Said notice shall fix a time and place for hearing on the intended revocation and a permanent record shall be made of the proceedings, hearing and findings and parties so involved and notified shall be furnished with a copy thereof. The association may appeal any such finding of revocation to the district court within ten days from receipt of a copy thereof. Trial shall be in equity and de novo. #### 534.4 Organization.

1. Incorporators committee—treasurer—cash payment—bond. The incorporators shall appoint an incorporators committee and a treasurer thereof. The subscribers to the savings shall pay in cash to such treasurer on their subscriptions, before a certificate of incorporation is issued, an aggregate amount to be determined in relation to the population of the city in which the home office of the association is to be located, on the following basis:

a. In cities having not to exceed ten thousand population the minimum paid-in savings liability shall be fifty thousand dollars.

b. In cities having more than ten thousand but less than fifty thousand population, the minimum paid-in savings liability shall be one hundred thousand dollars.

c. In cities having more than fifty thousand population and less than one hundred thousand population, the minimum paid-in savings liability shall be one hundred and fifty thousand dollars; and

Such bond shall assure the safekeeping and delivery to the association, after issuance of a certificate of incorporation, and after the association's authorized officers have filed the required bonds of all of such required paid-in savings liability and expense fund, or in the event of failure to complete organization, such bond shall assure the return to the persons providing such paid-in savings liability and expense funds of the amounts contributed thereto by them, less any necessary cost and expenses.

The requesting member or members shall then submit the communication to the supervisor who, if he finds it to be appropriate, truthful and in the best interests of the association and all its members, shall execute a certificate setting out such findings, forward the certificate together with the communications to the association, and direct that the communication be prepared and mailed by the association to the members upon the requesting member's or members' payment to it of the expenses of such preparation and mailing.

3. Applicability of section to federal associations. Insofar as the provisions of this section are not inconsistent with federal law, such provisions shall apply to federal savings and loan associations whose home offices are located in this state, and to the members thereof except that the communication provided for in subsection 2 shall be submitted to the federal home loan bank board, Washington, D. C., in the case of a federal savings and loan association and forwarded only upon that board's certificate and direction. [C97, §1904; C24, 27, 31, 35, §9357; C39, §§9315, 9357, C46, 50, 54, 58, §§534.10, 534.55; C62, 66, §534.5] bond is approved by the board of directors and by the auditor of state. Such bonds shall be deposited and filed with the auditor of state. Such associations may in connection with obtaining such bonds or insurance acquire and hold membership in mutual insurance or bonding companies. No such bond shall be terminated or canceled because of failure to pay premium or for any other cause until after ten days' written notice to the supervisor of intention to cancel such bond.

2. Additional bonds. All such bonds shall be increased or additional securities required by the board of directors or the auditor of state when it becomes necessary to protect the interests of the association or its members.

In the case of account holding members, the association shall obtain a card containing the signature of the owner of such account or his duly authorized representative and shall preserve such signature card in the records of the association.

3. Associations shall not be required to preserve or keep their records or files for a longer period than eleven years next after the first day of January of the year following the time of the making or filing of such records or files; provided, however, that ledger sheets showing unpaid accounts in favor of members of such savings and loan association shall not be destroyed.

4. No liability shall accrue against any association, destroying any such records after the expiration of the time provided in subsection 3, and in any cause or proceedings in which any such records or files may be called in question or be demanded of the association or any officer or employee thereof, a showing that such records and files have been destroyed in accordance with the terms of this chapter shall be a sufficient excuse for the failure to produce them.

5. All causes of action against an association based upon a claim or claims inconsistent with an entry or entries in any savings and loan association record or ledger, made in the regular course of business, shall be deemed to have accrued, and shall accrue, one year after the date of such entry or entries; and no action founded upon such a cause may be brought after the expiration of ten years from the date of such accrual.

6. The provisions of this chapter, so far as applicable, shall apply to the records of federal savings and loan associations.

Any association may cause any or all records kept by such association to be copied or reproduced by any photostatic, photographic or microfilming process which correctly and permanently copies, reproduces or forms a medium for copying or reproducing the original record on a film or other durable material and such association may thereafter dispose of the original record. Any such copy or reproduction shall be deemed to be an original record for all purposes and shall be treated as an original record in all courts or administrative agencies for the purpose of its admissibility in evidence. A facsimile, exemplification or certified copy of any such copy or reproduction reproduced from a film record shall, for all purposes, be deemed a facsimile, exemplification or certified copy of the original. [C97,§1904; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9357; C46, 50, 54, 58,§§534.55, 534.111-534.114; C62, 66,§534.9]

534.10 Savings liability. The savings liability of an association is not limited, but shall consist only of the aggregate amount of share accounts of its members, plus dividends credited to such accounts, less redemption and withdrawal payments. Except as limited by the board of directors from time to time, a member may make additions to his share account in such amounts and at such times as he may elect. Share accounts shall be opened for cash. The members of an association shall not be responsible for any losses which its savings liability shall not be sufficient to satisfy, and share accounts shall not be subject to assessment, nor shall the holders thereof be liable for any unpaid installments on their accounts. Dividends shall be declared in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. No association shall prefer one of its share accounts over any other share account as to the right to participate in dividends as to time or amount, excepting that an association may classify its savings accounts according to the character, amount or duration thereof, or regularity of additions thereto, and may agree in advance to pay an additional rate of earnings for particular classes of accounts such as a variable rate or bonus for saving larger amounts, or for maintaining such savings over a longer period of time or with regularity, as determined by the board of directors; however, all such accounts shall be available to all qualifying members. The board of directors may also determine that earnings shall not be paid on any such account which has a withdrawable value in an amount less than fifty dollars. No preference between share account members shall be created with respect to the distribution of assets upon voluntary or involuntary liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of an association. No association shall have power to contract with respect to the savings liability in a manner inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter. [S13,§1898-a; C24, 27, 31, 35,§9336; C39,§§9340.07, 9340.11; C46, 50, 54, 58,§§534.31, 534.35; C62, 66, §534.10; 62GA, ch 382,§2]

534.11 Share accounts.

1. Ownership. Share accounts may be opened and held solely and absolutely in his own right by, or in trust for, any person, including an adult or minor individual, male or female, single or married, a partnership, association, fiduciary corporation, or political subdivision or public or government unit or any other corporation or legal entity. Share accounts shall be represented only by the account of each share account holder on the books of the association, and shall be transferable only on the books of the association and upon proper application by the transferee and upon acceptance of the transferee as a member upon terms approved by the board of directors. The association may treat the holder of record of a share account as the owner thereof for all purposes without being affected by any notice to the contrary unless the association has acknowledged in writing notice of a pledge of such share account.

2. Evidence of ownership. An account book may be issued to each share account holder on the books of the association and such account books shall, if issued, indicate the withdrawal value of the share account. A separate certificate for a share account may be issued in lieu of an account book in form to be approved by the supervisor.

3. Duplicate account books and certificates. Upon the filing with an association by any one of the holders of record as shown by the books of the association, or by his legal representative, of an affidavit to the effect that the account book or certificate evidencing his share account with the association has been lost or destroyed, and that such account book or certificate has not been pledged or assigned in whole or in part, such association shall issue a new account book or certificate in the name of the holder or holders of record, such book stating that it is issued in lieu of one lost or destroyed, and the association shall in no way be liable thereafter on account of the original account book, provided that the board of directors shall, if in its judgment it is necessary, require a bond in an amount it deems sufficient to indemnify the association against any loss which might result from the issuance of such new account book or certificate.

4. Minors. An association and any federal savings and loan association may issue share accounts to any minor as the sole and absolute owner of such share account, and pay withdrawals and act with respect to such accounts on the order of such minor. Any payment or delivery of rights to any minor, or a receipt of acquittance signed by a minor, who holds a share account, shall be a valid and sufficient release and discharge of such institution for any payment so made or delivery of right to such minor. In the case of a minor, the receipt, acquittance or other action required by the institution to be taken by the minor shall be binding upon such minor with like effect as if he were of full age and legal capacity. The parent or guardian of such minor shall not in his capacity as parent or guardian have the power to attach or in any manner to transfer any share account issued to or in the name of such minor, provided, however, that in the event of the death of such minor the receipt of acquittance of either parent or of a person standing in loco parentis to such minor shall be a valid and sufficient discharge of such institution for any sum or sums not exceeding the aggregate one thousand dollars unless the minor shall have given written notice to the institution not to accept the signature of such parent or person.

5. Joint accounts. When a share account is opened in any association or federal savings and loan association in the name of two or more persons, whether minor or adult, in such form that the moneys in the account are payable to either or the survivor or survivors then such account and all additions thereto shall be the property of such persons as joint tenants. The moneys in such account may be paid to or on the order of any one of such persons during their lifetimes or to or on the order of any one of the survivors of them after the death of any one or more of them upon presentation of the pass or account book or other evidence of ownership as required by the articles or bylaws of the association. The opening of the account in such form shall, in the absence of fraud or undue influence, be conclusive evidence in any act or proceedings to which either the association or the surviving party or parties is a party, of the intention of all of the parties to the account to vest title to such account and the additions thereto in such survivor or survivors. By written instructions given to the institution by all the parties to the account, the signatures of more than one of such persons during their lifetime or of more than one of the survivors after the death of any one of them may be required on any check, receipt or withdrawal order, in which case the institution shall pay the moneys in the account only in accordance with such instructions, but no such instructions shall limit the right of the survivor or survivors to receive the moneys in the account.

Payment of all or any of the moneys in such account as provided in the preceding paragraph of this section shall discharge the institution from liability with respect to the moneys so paid, prior to receipt by the institution of a written notice from any one of them directing the institution not to permit withdrawals in accordance with the terms of the account or the instructions. After receipt of such notice an institution may refuse, without liability to honor any check, receipt, or withdrawal order on the account pending determination of the rights of the parties. No institution paying any survivor in accordance with the provisions of this subsection shall thereby be liable for any estate, inheritance or succession taxes which may be due this state.

6. Pledge to association of share account in joint tenancy. The pledge to any association or federal savings and loan association of all or part of a share account in joint tenancy signed by that person or those persons who are authorized in writing to make withdrawals from the account shall, unless the terms of the share account provide specifically to the contrary, be a valid pledge and transfer to the association of that part of the account pledged, and shall not operate to sever or terminate the joint and survivorship ownership of all or any part of the account.

7. Accounts of administrators, executors, guardians, custodians, trustees and other fiduciaries. Any association or federal savings and loan association may accept share accounts in the name of any administrator, custodian, executor, guardian, trustee, or other fiduciary in trust for a named beneficiary or beneficiaries. Any such fiduciary shall have power to vote as a member as if the membership were held absolutely, to open and to make additions to, and to withdraw any such account in whole or in part. The withdrawal value of such accounts, and dividends thereon, or other rights relating thereto may be paid or delivered, in whole or in part to such fiduciary without regard to any notice to the contrary as long as such fiduciary is living. The payment or delivery to any such fiduciary or a receipt or acquittance signed by any such fiduciary to whom any such payment or any such delivery of rights is made shall be a valid and sufficient release and discharge of an institution for the payment or delivery so made. Whenever a person holding an account in a fiduciary capacity dies and no written notice of the revocation or termination of the fiduciary relationship shall have been given to an institution and the institution has no notice of any other disposition of the beneficial estate, the withdrawal value of such account and dividends thereon, or other rights relating thereto may, at the option of an institution, be paid or delivered, in whole or in part, to the beneficiary or beneficiaries. Whenever an account shall be opened by any person, describing himself in opening such account as trustee for another and no other or further notice of the existence and terms of a legal and valid trust than such description shall have been given in writing to such association, in the event of the death of the person so described as trustee, the withdrawal value of such account or any part thereof, together with the dividends or interest thereon, may be paid to the person for whom the account was thus stated to have been opened, and such account and all additions thereto shall be the property of such person. The payment or delivery to any such beneficiary, beneficiaries or designated person, or a receipt or acquittance signed by such beneficiary, beneficiaries or designated person for any such payment or delivery shall be a valid and sufficient release and discharge of an institution for the payment or delivery so made. No institution paying any such fiduciary or beneficiary in accordance with the provisions of this subsection shall thereby be liable for any estate, inheritance or succession taxes which may be due this state.

8. Pay on death accounts. Any association and any federal savings and loan association may issue share accounts in the name of one or more persons with the provision that upon the death of the owner or owners thereof the proceeds thereof shall be the property of the person or persons designated by the owner or owners and shown by the record of such association, but such proceeds shall be subject to the debts of the decedent and the payment of Iowa inheritance tax, if any, provided, however, that six months after the date of the death of the owner the receipt or acquittance of the person so designated shall be a valid and sufficient release and discharge of such association for the delivery of such share account or the payment so made.

9. Powers of attorney or share account. Any association or federal savings and loan association may continue to recognize the authority of an attorney authorized in writing to manage or to make withdrawals either in whole or in part from the share account of a member until it receives written notice or is on clear actual notice of the revocation of his authority. For the purpose of this subsection, written notice of the death or adjudication of incompetency of such member shall constitute written notice of revocation of the authority of his attorney. No such institution shall be liable for damages, penalty or tax by reason of any payment made pursuant to this subsection.

for any purpose. [C97, §§1901, 1904; C24, 27, 31, §§9343, 9344, 9357; C35, §§9330-e1; C39, §§9330.1, 9340.10, 9343, 9344, 9357; C46, 50, 54, 58, §§534.21, 534.34, 534.42, 534.43, 534.55, 534.111-534.114; C62, 66, §534.11]

534.12 Members' general rights.

1. Voting. Each member shall have one vote for each one hundred dollars in his share account owned and held by him at any election, and may vote the same by proxy, but no person shall vote more than ten percent of the savings liability at the time of said election excepting that proxies held and voted by an individual member or a proxy committee shall not be included in said ten percent limitation. Every proxy shall be in writing and shall, unless otherwise specified in the proxy, continue in force for eleven months from date thereof. No proxies shall be voted at any meeting unless such proxies have been on file with the secretary of the association for verification at least five days before the date of the meeting. Anyone depositing or transferring savings as collateral security shall be deemed the owner of such share account within the meaning of this section. Notice of the regular annual meeting of members of an association shall be given by publishing said notice in a newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the office of said association is located at least thirty days before the date set for said annual meeting. Proxies may be revoked by any member upon written notice to the secretary of an association; by execution of a written proxy to another agent; or by personal attendance by the member at the members' meetings. Each member as defined by section 534.2, subsection 8, shall, regardless of shares, be entitled to at least one vote at any members' meeting.

2. Withdrawals. The terms of withdrawal of a member from such association shall be such that any withdrawing member shall receive a sum not less than he has paid into said association less withdrawals and legal charges against the account, unless losses have occurred to said association, during the time that said withdrawing member was a member, which exceed the amount of the profits, or any fund created with which to pay such losses, and in that case such withdrawing member shall be charged with his proportionate share of the excess of the losses over the profits, and no more. Such association may provide by its articles of incorporation or bylaws or by resolution of its board of directors, the order in which withdrawals shall be paid, and when dividends shall cease on share accounts on which withdrawal demands have been made and what portion of the association funds or receipts shall be used for payment of withdrawals.

3. Association lien on share accounts. Every such association shall at all times have a lien upon the savings of a member as security for repayment of money loaned him and as security for his other indebtedness to the association and such lien shall attach and continue without assignment or pledge to or possession by the association of any evidence of such ownership. Such lien may be enforced to satisfy any past due indebtedness by charging such indebtedness to the debtor's share account.

4. Redemption. At any time funds are on hand for the purpose the association shall have the right to redeem by lot or otherwise, as the board of directors may determine, all or any part of any of its share account on a dividend date by giving thirty days' notice by registered mail addressed to the account holders at their last addresses recorded on the books of the association. No association shall redeem any of its share accounts when the association is in an impaired condition or when it has applications for withdrawal which have been on file more than thirty days and have not been reached for payment. The redemption price of share accounts redeemed shall be the full value of the account redeemed, as determined by the board of directors, but in no event shall the redemption value be less than the withdrawal value. If the aforesaid notice of redemption shall have been duly given, and if on or before the redemption date the funds necessary for such redemption shall have been set aside so as to be and continue to be available therefor, dividends upon the accounts called for redemption shall cease to accrue from and after the dividend date specified as the redemption date, and all rights with respect to such accounts shall forthwith, after such redemption date, terminate, except only the right of the account holder of record to receive the redemption value without interest. All share accounts which have been validly called for redemption must be tendered for payment within ten years from the date of redemption designated in the redemption notice, otherwise they shall be canceled and forfeited for the use of the school fund of the county in which the association has its principal place of business and all claims of such account holders against the association shall be barred forever. Redemption shall not be made, however, of such share accounts held by a member-director which are necessary to qualify his acting as director. 534.19 General powers. Every such association shall have the following general powers:

5. Dealing with successors in interest. In the case of loans made under subsections 2, 3 and 4 of this section, in the event the ownership of the real estate security or any part thereof becomes vested in a person other than the party or parties originally executing the security instruments, and provided there is not an agreement in writing to the contrary, an association may, without notice to such party or parties, deal with successor or successors in interest with reference to said mortgage and the debt thereby secured in the same manner as with such party or parties, and may forbear to sue or may extend time for payment of or otherwise modify the terms of the debt secured thereby, without discharging or in any way affecting the original liability of such party or parties thereunder or upon the debt thereby secured.

6. Property improvement loans. To make property improvement loans to home owners and other property owners for maintenance, repair, modernization, improvement and equipment of their properties, and loans on mobile homes, with or without security provided that no such loan without security shall exceed five thousand dollars, and provided further that not in excess of fifteen percent of the

Such loans shall be amortized to mature in not to exceed eight years. Such loans may also be based on a discount charge of not to exceed six dollars per one hundred dollars face amount per year in lieu of straight interest otherwise provided by law.

7. Power to purchase and to lend upon loans. The power to make loans shall include (a) the power to purchase loans of any type that the association may make, (b) the power to make loans upon the security of loans of any type that the association may make, and (c) the power to sell any loans of the type the association is authorized to make. Loans under "a" and "c" may be outside regular lending area if restricted to loans insured partially by an instrumentality of the United States or by any other insurer approved by the federal home loan bank or the supervisor.

Under "a" and "c" above, the association may purchase an interest in loans which are insured as above set out from the United States or any agency or instrumentality thereof which has any function of examining or supervising of savings and loan associations; or the association may sell any of its loans to the United States or any such agency or instrumentality or to any broker or dealer registered with the securities and exchange commission.

8. Participation loans. An association may participate with other lenders in the origination or purchase of an interest in loans of any type that such an association may otherwise make, provided that the other participants are instrumentalities of or corporations owned wholly or in part by the United States or this state, or are associations or corporations insured by the federal savings and loan insurance corporation or the federal deposit insurance corporation or are life insurance companies with assets in excess of one hundred million dollars, such loans to be within or without the regular lending area of the association.

9. Servicing loans. To service mortgages subject to such regulations and restrictions as may be prescribed by the supervisor, provided such mortgages originally are made by such association and subsequently sold. The maximum principal amount of mortgages thus serviced by an association at any one time shall not exceed twenty-five percent of the amount of the savings liability of such association. To service contracts for sale of real estate, provided that one of the parties to said contract is a member of the servicing association and that such association shall not undertake in connection with such servicing to be responsible for more than bookkeeping or other perfunctory services in connection herewith.

10. Fiscal agent. Any such association which is a member of a federal home loan bank shall have power to act as fiscal agent of the United States and, when designated for the purpose by the secretary of the treasury, it shall perform under such regulations as he may prescribe all such reasonable duties as fiscal agent of the United States as he may require, and shall have power to act as agent for any United States government instrumentality. An association may also handle travelers checks and money orders.

11. Purchase of contracts. Any such association may buy and sell vendors' real estate contracts; provided, however, that all such contracts shall contain forfeiture provisions as provided for in chapter 656, and provided further that the requirements for loans as set forth in section 534.21 shall be applicable to making and buying of such contracts, except that at the time of purchase of such vendors' contracts the association shall not purchase any such contract for more than ninety percent of the value of the real estate therein described appraised as required by section 534.21. No association shall hereafter invest more than fifteen percent of its assets in such vendors' contracts authorized by this subsection. Said fifteen percent shall be considered as included within the thirty percent of assets lending power set out hereinafter.

12. Lock boxes. Any association may own, rent to its members, lock boxes for storage or safekeeping of securities and valuables.

13. Power to borrow. If and when an association is not a member of a federal home loan bank, it shall have power to borrow not more than an aggregate amount equal to one-fourth of its savings liability on the date of borrowing. If and when an association is a member of a federal home loan bank, it shall have power to secure advances of not more than an aggregate amount equal to one-half of its savings liability. Within such amount equal to one-half of its savings liability, the association may borrow from sources other than such federal home loan bank an aggregate amount not in excess of ten percent of its savings liability. A subsequent reduction of savings liability shall not affect in any way outstanding obligations for borrowed money. All such loans and advances may be secured by property of the association.

14. Automatic authorization. Any association may have the right to participate in any new or additional powers or activities hereafter granted to such association under this chapter immediately upon the effective date of such additional authority, if authorized by the articles of incorporation of such association.

15. Service corporations. Any association shall have the power to organize and own, alone or with any other similar corporation, a service corporation for the purpose of owning and operating automation or record-keeping equipment and other functions for the mutual good of said corporations. An association may invest in capital stock, obligations, or other securities of service corporations in an amount not to exceed one percent of the association's assets.

16. Urban renewal and public housing investments. Any association shall have the power to organize or purchase stock in a corporation for the purpose of lending, owning or constructing property in urban renewal areas or constructing property or making loans therein itself, so long as the total investment of such association does not exceed five percent of the assets of said association.

17. Educational loans. Any association is authorized to invest in loan, obligations, and advances of credit (all of which are hereinafter referred to in this subsection as "loans") made for the purpose of expenses of college or university education, but no association shall make any investment in loans under this paragraph if the principal amount of its investment in such loans, exclusive of any investment which is or which at the time of its making was otherwise authorized, would thereupon exceed five percent of its assets. Such loans may be secured, partly secured, or unsecured, and the association may require a comaker or comakers, insurance, guaranty under a governmental student loan guarantee plan, or other protection against contingencies. The borrower shall certify to the association that the proceeds of the loan are to be used by a full-time student solely for the payment of expenses of college or university education. For the purpose of this subsection, the term "college or university education" means education at an institution which provides an educational program for which it awards a bachelor's degree, or provides not less than a two-year program which is acceptable for full credit toward such a degree.

18. Operating under federal rules as to deposits and interest. A savings and loan association operating under this chapter may operate in a manner similar to federally chartered savings and loan associations regarding the use of the terms "deposit" and "interest" and with such other powers as have been authorized to federally chartered associations under the Homeowners Loan Act of 1933, Title 12, section 1464, United States Code, and as permitted under the rules and regulations of the federal home loan bank system and federal savings and loan insurance corporation, to the extent that similar rules and regulations have been adopted by the supervisor of savings and loan associations and have been filed with the secretary of state. This subsection shall not diminish or restrict the powers otherwise granted to such association by the laws of Iowa.

The adoption and filing of such rules or regulations by the supervisor shall not diminish or restrict the rights of associations which do not make the above determination.

19. Business development credit corporation. Any association whose general reserve, surplus and undivided profits aggregate a sum in excess of five percentum of its withdrawable accounts is authorized to invest in, to lend to, or to commit itself to lend to any business development credit corporation incorporated in the state in which the head office of such association is situated, but the aggregate amount of such investments, loans, and commitments, of any such association outstanding at any time shall not exceed one-half of one percentum of the total outstanding loans made by such association, or two hundred fifty thousand dollars, whichever is the lesser.

In addition to the above unsecured or secured borrowing, an association may issue such notes, bonds, debentures and other obligations or securities, except capital stock, as are approved by the supervisor of savings and loan associations, and if authorized by the regulations of the federal home loan bank, as long as the total amount of funds borrowed under this sentence shall not exceed five percent of the withdrawable accounts of the association and provided that such obligations and securities shall be subject to the priority of the rights of the owners of the savings and deposits of said association. [C73, §§1185, 1186; C97, §§1898, 1899; S13, §1898; C24, 27, 31, §§9329, 9331, 9340; C35, §§9329, 9330-e1, 9331, 9340; C39, §§9329, 9330.1, 9331, 9340.09, 9340.14; C46, 50, 54, 58, §§534.19, 534.21, 534.22, 534.33, 534.38; C62, 66, §534.19; 62GA, ch 382, §4; 63GA, ch 276, §1, ch 1252, §§1, 3]

534.20 Emergency operations. In the event an association's offices are destroyed by enemy attack or by natural disaster, such association may operate from such temporary headquarters as may be necessary until such time as it is again able to resume operations in its normal location.

Such association may, with the approval of the supervisor, make loans beyond its regular lending area within this state in the event of an emergency resulting in the destruction of home financing facilities in any community in this state. [C62, 66, §534.20]

534.21 Loan requirements.

1. Loan plans. Real estate loans may be made as authorized by this chapter, or upon any other loan plan approved by the supervisor. No real estate loan shall be made until two qualified persons or one professional appraiser selected by the board of directors shall have submitted a signed appraisal of the real estate securing such loan. If it is an uninsured mortgage no such loan shall be made to exceed ninety percent of said appraised value. Any loans insured by the federal housing administration or which are guaranteed by the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944 [58 Stat. L. 291; repealed; now covered by 37 U.S.C. §§1801 to 1824 inc.], as amended, or which are guaranteed or insured, in whole or in part, by any other duly constituted federal instrumentality or private corporation approved by the federal home loan bank or the supervisor which qualify for such insurance or guarantee, may be made regardless of the requirements for other loans otherwise contained in this section.

Payments on real estate loans shall be applied first to the payment of interest of the unpaid balance of the loan and the remainder to the reduction of principal; provided that if the loan is in default in any manner, payments may be applied by the mortgagee in any manner approved by the association and provided by the contract between the parties.

If agreed in writing by written instrument separate from the note and mortgage at any time after execution of the note and mortgage, any prepayment of an installment may be applied on the final installment of the note or other obligation until fully paid, and thereafter on the installments in the inverse order of their maturity.

2. Terms of loans. All installment loans shall be repayable within thirty years or, if an insured or guaranteed loan, within the period acceptable to the insuring or guaranteeing agency. Loans of any type that such an association may make on a monthly installment basis may also be made without full amortization of principal; provided, that except for insured or guaranteed loans, interest shall be payable at least semiannually and any such loan may be made for an amount not in excess of fifty percent of the value and for a term of not more than five years: And provided further, that if the members have authorized loans to be made without full amortization up to such higher percentage such loans may be made for an amount not in excess of sixty percent of the value and for a term of not more than three years: And provided further, that, if the members have authorized loans to be made without full amortization up to such higher percentage, such loans, if made, for the purpose of construction, may be made for an amount not in excess of eighty percent of the value and for a term of not more than one year.

3. Home loans. Every such association may originate and make first mortgage amortized real estate loans for not to exceed forty thousand dollars secured by home property situated within the regular lending area of the association. Such loans may also be made without the regular lending area but within the state of Iowa when the loans are insured wholly or partially by any instrumentality of the United States government. Home loans may be made in excess of the forty thousand dollar limitation when made under the forty percent of assets lending power hereinafter set out.

4. Other loans. Every such association may use an aggregate amount not exceeding forty percent of the assets at the time of such use, or a larger amount with the approval of the supervisor, to make loans as follows:

a. Home loans, which are either direct-reduction home loans or not, but which exceed forty thousand dollars each, regardless of where the home property securing the loan is situated so long as within this state.

b. Home loans of any amount, which are direct-reduction home loans, but which are secured by home property situated beyond the regular lending area.

c. Home loans of any amount which are not direct-reduction home loans, regardless of where the home property securing the loan is situated so long as within this state.

d. Other real estate loans, whether amortized or unamortized, regardless of amount thereof or location of real estate securing the loan so long as within this state.

This power is herein referred to as the "forty percent of assets lending power." A subsequent reduction of savings liability shall not affect in any way outstanding loans made under the forty percent of assets lending power.

5. Note. Every loan shall be evidenced by a note for the amount of the loan. The note shall specify the amount, rate of interest, terms of repayment and may contain all other terms of the loan contract. The notes evidencing loans may be in negotiable form.

6. Mortgage. Every real estate loan shall be secured by an instrument constituting a first lien upon the real estate securing the loan. Such instrument shall be considered a mortgage and shall provide specifically for full protection to the association with respect to such loan and additional advances and the usual insurance risks, taxes, assessments, other governmental levies, maintenance, and repairs. It may provide for an assignment of rents, which assignment shall be absolute upon the borrower's default, becoming operative upon written demand made by the association. All such mortgages shall be recorded in accordance with the law of this state.

7. Terms of mortgage. Any mortgage made by an association under the provisions of this chapter may be made to secure existing debts or obligations, to secure debts or obligations created simultaneously with the execution of the mortgage, to secure future advances necessary to protect the security, and to secure future advances to be made at the option of the parties up to a total amount stated in the mortgage, and all such debts, obligations and future advances shall, from and as of the time the mortgage is filed for record as provided by the laws of this state, be secured by such mortgage equally with, and have the same priority over the rights of all persons who subsequent to the recording of such mortgage acquire any rights in or liens upon the mortgaged real estate, as the debts and obligations secured thereby at the time of the filing of the mortgage for record.

8. Payment of charges. An association may pay taxes, assessments, insurance premiums, and other similar charges for the protection of its real estate loans. All such payments shall be added to the unpaid balance of the loan and shall be equally secured by the first lien on the property as provided above. An association may require life insurance to be assigned as additional collateral upon any real estate loan. In such event the association shall obtain a first lien upon such policy and may advance premiums thereon, and such premium advances shall be added to the unpaid balance of the loan and shall be equally secured by the first lien on the property as provided above. No association may require that any such insurance must be purchased from or through the association as a condition to any loan.

9. Payment by borrower. An association may require the borrower to pay monthly in advance, in addition to interest or interest and principal payments, the equivalent of one-twelfth of the estimated annual taxes, assessments, insurance premiums, and other charges upon the real estate securing a loan, or any of such charges, so as to enable the association to pay such charges as they become due from the funds so received. The amount of such monthly charges may be increased or decreased so as to provide reasonably for the payment of the estimated annual taxes, assessments, insurance premiums, and other charges. The association may carry such funds in trust in an account or may credit the same to the indebtedness and advance money for taxes, insurance or other charges. Every association shall keep a record of the status of taxes, assessment, insurance premiums, and other charges on all real estate securing its loans and on all real and other property owned by it.

10. Advance interest on prepayments. Real estate loans on one to four family dwellings may be repaid in part or in full at any time, excepting that the association may charge not to exceed six months advance interest on that part of the aggregate amount of all prepayments made on such loan in any twelve-month period which exceeds twenty percent of the original principal amount of the loan; and may charge any negotiated rate not to exceed three percent of the original principal for prepayment on other loans during the first three years of said loans, after which time the association may charge as above provided for on one to four family dwellings.

11. Expenses of loan. Every association may require borrowing members to pay all reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the making, closing, disbursing, extending, readjusting, or renewing of real estate loans. Every association also may require borrowing members to pay the cost of all other necessary and incidental services rendered by the association or by others for the association in connection with real estate loans in such reasonable amounts as may be fixed by the board of directors. No director, officer, or employee of an association shall receive any fee or other compensation of any kind in connection with procuring any loan for an association, except for services actually rendered as above provided. The association shall furnish a loan settlement statement to each borrower upon the closing of the loan, indicating the charges and fees such borrower has paid or obligated himself to pay the association or to any other person in connection with such loan. A copy of such statement shall be retained in the records of the association.

534.24 Conversion.

1. Conversion into federal savings and loan association. Any association of this state doing a home-financing business may convert itself into a federal savings and loan association or a federal savings association or other mutual savings association authorized under the laws of the United States, as now or hereafter amended, upon a vote of fifty-one percent or more of the votes of the members, in person or by proxy, such vote to be cast at an annual meeting or at any special meeting called to consider such action. A copy of the minutes of the proceedings of such meetings of the members, verified by the affidavit of the secretary or an assistant secretary, shall be filed in the office of the supervisor within ten days after the date of such meeting. A sworn copy of the proceedings of such meeting when so filed, shall be presumptive evidence of the holding and action of such meeting. Within three months after the date of such meeting, the association shall take such action in the manner prescribed and authorized by the laws of the United States as shall make it a federal savings and loan association. There shall be filed with the supervisor a copy of the charter issued to such federal savings and loan association by the federal home loan bank board or a certificate showing the organization of such association as a federal savings and loan association, certified by the secretary or assistant secretary of the federal home loan bank board. A similar copy of the charter, or of such certificate, shall be filed by the association with the secretary of state. No failure to file any such instruments either with the supervisor or the secretary of state shall affect the validity of such conversion. Upon the grant to any association of a charter by the federal home loan bank board, the association receiving such charter shall cease to be an association incorporated under this chapter and shall no longer be subject to the supervision and control of the supervisor. Upon the conversion of any association into a federal savings and loan association, the corporate existence of such association shall not terminate, but such federal association shall be deemed to be a continuation of the entity of the association so converted and all property of the converted association, including its rights, titles, and interests in and to all property of whatever kind, whether real, personal, or mixed, and things in action, and every right, privilege, interest and asset of any conceivable value or benefit then existing, or pertaining to it, or which would inure to it, shall immediately by act of law and without any conveyance or transfer and without any further act or deed remain and be vested in and continue and be the property of such federal association into which the state association has converted itself, and such federal association shall have, hold, and enjoy the same in its own right as fully and to the same extent as the same was possessed, held, and enjoyed by the converting association, and such federal association as of the time of the taking effect of such conversion shall continue to have and succeed to all the rights, obligations, and relations of the converting association. All pending actions and other judicial proceedings to which the converting state association is a party shall not be deemed to have abated or to have discontinued by reason of such conversion, but may be prosecuted to final judgment, order or decree in the same manner as if such conversion into such federal association had not been made and such federal association resulting from such conversion may continue such action in its corporate name as a federal association, and any judgment, order, or decree may be rendered for or against it which might have been rendered for or against the converting state association theretofore involved in such judicial proceedings. Any association or corporation, which has heretofore converted itself into a federal savings and loan association or a federal savings association or other mutual savings association authorized under the laws of the United States and has received a charter from the federal home loan bank board, shall hereafter be recognized as a federal savings and loan association, and its federal charter shall be given full credence by the courts of this state to the same extent as if such conversion had taken place under the provisions of this section; provided, however, that there shall have been compliance with the foregoing requirements with respect to the filing with the supervisor of a copy of the federal charter or a certificate showing the organization of such association as a federal savings and loan association. All such conversions are hereby ratified and confirmed, and all obligations of such an association which has so converted shall continue as valid and subsisting obligations of such federal savings and loan association, and the title to all of the property of such an association shall be deemed to have continued and vested, as of the date of issuance of such federal charter, in such federal savings and loan association as fully and completely as if such conversion had taken place since the enactment of this chapter pursuant to this section.

2. Conversion into state-chartered association. Any federal savings and loan association may convert itself into an association under this chapter upon a vote of fifty-one percent or more of the votes of members of such federal savings and loan association, in person or by proxy, such vote to be cast at an annual meeting or at any special meeting called to consider such action. Copies of the minutes of the proceedings of such meetings of members, verified by the affidavit of the secretary or an assistant secretary, shall be filed in the office of the supervisor and mailed to the federal home loan bank board, Washington, D. C., within ten days after such meeting. Such verified copies of the proceedings of the meetings when so filed shall be presumptive evidence of the holding and action of such meeting. At the meeting at which conversion is voted upon, the members shall also vote upon the directors who shall be the directors of the state-chartered association after conversion takes effect. Such directors then shall execute two copies of the petition for certificate of incorporation provided for in this chapter and two copies of the bylaws, as provided in this chapter. The supervisor may insert in the certificate of incorporation, at the end of the paragraph preceding the testimonium clause, the following:

"This association is incorporated by conversion from a federal savings and loan association."

Each of the directors chosen for the association shall sign and acknowledge the petition for certificate of incorporation as subscribed thereto and the proposed bylaws as incorporators of the association. The provisions of this chapter shall, so far as applicable, apply to such conversion under this section. The supervisor may provide, by regulation, for the procedure to be followed by any such federal savings and loan association converting into an association under this section. All the provisions regarding property and other rights contained in the preceding subsection shall apply, in reverse order, to the conversion of a federal savings and loan association into an association incorporated under this section, so that the state-chartered association shall be a continuation of the corporate entity of the converting federal association and continue to have all of its property and rights.

For the purposes of this entire section, wherever reference is made to "federal savings and loan association" it shall include any mutual or savings association authorized and chartered under the laws of the United States. [C35, §9402-f4; C39, §§9315.1, 9402.4; C46, 50, 54, 58, §§534.10, 534.105; C62, 66, §534.26]

534.27 Rights of creditors. The rights of creditors of a state association shall not be impaired by such transfer of assets to a federal savings and loan association and they shall have the same rights to follow and satisfy their claims out of all transferred assets as if no transfer had been made, or they may elect to accept the obligations of such federal savings and loan association in satisfaction of their claims against such state association. Such reorganization may include reduction of savings credits of its member, not pledged as security for real estate loans, and may also include segregation of assets of uncertain or doubtful value by transfer thereof to trustees for management and liquidation or by transfer to a separate fund within the association, to be managed and liquidated by the association for the benefit of the members whose savings credits have been reduced in connection with such segregation. 1. Supervisor. The auditor of state shall appoint as a deputy, to be known as "supervisor of savings and loan associations", a person who shall be required to have at least five years practical experience in savings and loan association management, examination or supervision. Commencing with July 4, 1959, said supervisor or his successors shall be appointed for a term of four years, subject to removal by the executive council for good cause, after due hearing. Such supervisor's salary shall be fixed by the auditor of state, subject to the approval of the comptroller and governor. In addition thereto he shall receive his necessary traveling expenses.

2. Authority—general. The supervisor of savings and loan associations shall have general supervision of all savings and loan associations doing business in this state.

He may, with the approval of the auditor of state, appoint examiners and assistants necessary to properly execute the duties of his office. Any examiner so appointed shall have had at least one year of actual experience as examiner, officer, or employee, of a savings and loan association. Such examiners' salaries shall be fixed by the auditor of state subject to the approval of the comptroller and governor, which salaries shall be commensurate with that in the range of other employees as prescribed by certain classifications in accordance with their experience and qualifications. In addition such examiners shall be reimbursed for their actual and necessary expense.

Before entering upon their duties, the supervisor of savings and loan associations and each examiner appointed by him shall take an oath of office and shall each give bond to the state, signed by a responsible surety company, in the penal sum of two thousand dollars, conditioned upon faithful and impartial discharge of his duty and on proper accounting for all funds and other valuables which may come into his hands. Such bonds shall be approved by and filed with the auditor of state, together with oaths of office of such officer.

The supervisor shall have the right to pass further regulations deemed necessary to enable savings and loan associations to properly carry on the activities authorized under this chapter and which are not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter.

3. Duties. The supervisor shall, at least once each year without previous notice, examine or cause examination and audit to be made into the affairs of every association subject to this chapter. If an association is insured under the provisions of title IV of the National Housing Act [48 Stat. L. 1246; 12 U. S. C., ch 13], as now or hereafter amended, the supervisor may, in lieu of such examination and audit accept any examination or audit made by the federal savings and loan insurance corporation. Any such association may, in lieu of such examination and audit by the supervisor, at the option of the supervisor be audited by a certified public accountant, or by a public accountant qualified and licensed to practice accountancy under the provisions of the Code of Iowa. At least two copies of each examination or audit report, signed and verified by the accountant making it, shall promptly be filed with the supervisor. Whenever, in the judgment of the supervisor, the condition of any association renders it necessary or expedient to make an extra examination or audit or to devote any extraordinary attention to its affairs, the supervisor shall cause such work to be done. A copy of every examination or audit report shall be furnished to the association examined, exclusive of confidential comments made by the examiner, and a copy of every report and comments and any other information pertaining to an association may be furnished to the federal home loan bank board, federal home loan bank, and federal savings and loan insurance corporation. A copy of such examination or audit report shall be presented to the board of directors at its next regular or special meeting and their action thereon shall be recorded in the minutes, and two certified copies of such minutes shall be transmitted to the supervisor.

4. Supervisor's authority — examinations. The supervisor and examiners shall have full access to all books and papers of an association which relate to its business, and to books, records, and papers kept by an officer, director, agent, or employee relating to, or upon which any record of its business is kept, and may summon witnesses and administer oaths or affirmations, in the examination of the directors, officers, agents, or employees of any such association, or any other person, in relation to its affairs, transactions and condition, and may require and compel the production of records, books, papers, contracts, or other documents by court order, if not voluntarily produced.

5. Expenses and per diem. Where the examination is made under the provisions of subsection 3 of this section, each examiner shall file with the auditor of state an itemized, certified and sworn voucher of his expense for the time such examiner is actually engaged in such examination. On the fifteenth and last days of each month each examiner shall file in triplicate with the auditor of state a certified statement of the actual days engaged in such examination. The salaries shall be included in a semimonthly payroll. Upon approval of the auditor of state the state comptroller is hereby authorized to issue warrants for the payment of said vouchers and salary payments, other than vacation or sick leave, from funds appropriated to the savings and loan division. Repayment to the state shall be made as provided by section 534.61, subsection 4.

6. Record required. A record of such examination shall be kept in the auditor's office, showing in detail as to each association all matters connected with the conduct of the business, its financial standing and everything touching its solvency, plan of business and integrity.

Such examinations and reports, and other information connected therewith, shall be kept confidential in the office of the auditor of state and the supervisor of savings and loan associations, and shall not be subject to publication or disclosure to others except as in this chapter provided. However, any evidence of felonious acts on the part of the officers, directors or employees of such association may be referred by the office of the auditor of state to proper authorities. Members of such associations, other than their officers and directors, shall not be entitled to inspection of any such records or information, and shall not be entitled to any information relative to the names of the members of any association, or the amounts invested by them, as disclosed in the auditor's office, or in the records of any such association.

7. Revocation of authority. If any such association refuse to submit to such examination, the auditor shall revoke its certificate of authority.

8. Supervisor's annual report. The supervisor of savings and loan associations shall, as of December 31 of each year, prepare and publish a report showing in general terms the condition of all savings and loan associations doing business in this state, and containing such other general information as in his judgment shall seem desirable. Such reports shall also list the names of all examiners and other assistants employed by him, together with the respective salaries and expenses, and shall list all receipts from savings and loan associations, and shall show all expenditures made on account of the supervision and examination of such associations. [C97,§§1904, 1906; C24, 27, 31,§§9354-9358, 9360; C35,§§9354, 9354-f1, 9355-9358, 9360; C39,§§9354, 9354.1, 9356-9358, 9360; C46, 50, 54, 58,§§534.52-534.57; C62, 66, §534.41]

Members shall participate in dividends in proportion to their respective investments therein. Dividends for a particular month may be paid on sums invested by a member by the tenth day of that month or by such later date of that month as is authorized by the supervisor of savings and loan associations, which shall in no event be later than the twentieth day of a particular month. If the tenth day of said month or other authorized date falls on a Sunday, holiday or another business day on which the particular association is normally closed, then money received by the next business day may earn dividends from the first of that month. The board of directors may also devise other methods of paying dividends, including payment of dividends from date of investment to date of withdrawal, subject to the approval of the supervisors. [C73,§1187; C97,§§1902, 1903; C24, 27, 31, 35,§§9347, 9350; C39,§9347; C46, 50,

The above action shall be taken March 31, June 30, September 30 and December 31 of each year and the dividends and reserve periods correspondingly adjusted if dividends are paid quarterly. If at any time thereafter such general reserve account shall on account of losses be reduced to less than five percent of the amount paid in and credited on share accounts, such transfers and credits thereto shall be resumed and continued until such reserve is again equal to at least five percent of the total amount paid in and credited on share accounts of members. The reserve account so established shall at all times be maintained and used for the sole purpose of absorbing losses incurred by the association and for no other purposes. An association may establish such other and additional special reserves as may be ordered by its board of directors. [C39,§9347.1; C46, 50, 54, 58,§534.46; C62, 66,§534.43]

534.44 Expenditures and expenses. All expenses for management in conducting the affairs of an association, excluding the cost of borrowed money, shall be paid from interest, service charges and other sources of profit. The said expense for an association in any one year shall not exceed three percent for associations with assets not to exceed eight hundred thousand dollars and two percent for those over such amount as shown by the associations in their last annual report. [S13,§1902-a; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9348; C46, 50, 54, 58,§534.47; C62, 66,§534.44; 62GA, ch 382,§9]

534.45 Compensation of officers and agents. No officers, employee, or agent of any association shall receive directly or indirectly any salary or other compensation, except for services actually rendered. Any compensation paid in violation of this section may be recovered by the association or by any shareholder or borrower, in the name and for the use of such association, within three years from the receipt of such illegal compensation, from the person accepting the same, or from any officer knowingly consenting to the allowance thereof. [S13,§1902-a; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9349; C46, 50, 54, 58,§534.48; C62, 66,§534.45]

4. Number of directors increased only by members. The number of directors within the limits hereinabove specified may be subsequently increased only by vote of the members.

5. Vacancy caused by increase filled. If the members fail to elect a director to fill each vacancy created by any such increase, the directors may fill such vacancy by electing a director to serve until the next annual meeting of the members, at which time a director shall be elected to fill the vacancy for the unexpired term for the class of director in which such vacancy exists.

6. Classifications of new directors. Whenever under the provisions hereof the number of directors is changed and vacancies caused by such change are filled, the directors so elected shall be classified in accordance with the provisions hereof, so that each of the three classes shall always contain numbers as nearly equal as possible.

7. Vacancy on board filled by directors. Any vacancy among directors, not so filled by the members, may be filled by a majority vote of the remaining directors, though less than a quorum, by electing a director to serve until the next annual meeting of the members, at which time a director shall be elected to fill the vacancy for the unexpired term for the class of director in which such vacancy exists. In event of a vacancy on the board of directors from any cause, the remaining directors shall have full power and authority to continue direction of the association until such vacancy is filled. [C97,§1892; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9312; C46, 50, 54, 58,§534.7; C62, 66,§534.67]

534.68 Right to declaratory judgment. At any time after any controversy has arisen between the supervisor and an association with respect to any question of law or regulation or with respect to any question involving immeasurable or irreparable damage to the association, and prior to an administrative or judicial hearing, the association or the supervisor may apply to any court of competent jurisdiction in the county in which the home office of the association is located for a declaratory judgment as to such question, and such court shall have and shall take jurisdiction and decide the controversy on its merits in accordance with the weight of the evidence, and such court shall have full power to enforce its orders. [C62, 66,§534.68]

534.69 Corporations heretofore incorporated.

1. Chapter applicable. The name, rights, powers, privileges, and immunities of every such corporation heretofore incorporated under the laws of this state repealed and revised by this chapter shall be governed, controlled, construed, extended, limited, and determined by the provisions of this chapter to the same extent and effect as if such corporation had been incorporated pursuant hereto, and the articles of association, certificate of incorporation, or charter, however entitled, bylaws and constitution, or other rules of every such corporation heretofore made or existing are hereby modified, altered, and amended to conform to the provisions of this chapter, as the same are inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter; except that the obligations of any such existing corporation, whether between such corporation and its members, or any of them, or any other person or persons, or any valid contract between the members of any such corporation, or between such corporation and any other person or persons, existing at the time this chapter takes effect, shall not be in any way impaired by the provisions of this chapter, and, with such exceptions, every such corporation shall possess the rights, powers, privileges and immunities and shall be subject to the duties, liabilities, disabilities, and restrictions conferred and imposed by this chapter notwithstanding anything to the contrary in its certificate of incorporation, bylaws, constitution or rules.

2. Prior obligations. All obligations heretofore contracted may be enforced. All obligations to any such corporation heretofore contracted shall be enforceable by it and in its name, and demands, claims, and rights of action against any such corporation may be enforced against it as fully and completely as they might have been enforced heretofore.

3. Chapter controlling. Insofar as the provisions of this chapter are inconsistent with the provisions of any other law affecting savings associations the provisions of this chapter shall control. [C58,§§534.112-534.114; C62, 66,§534.69]

535.2 Rate of interest.

535.3 Interest on judgments and decrees.

535.4 Illegal rate prohibited—usury.

535.5 Penalty for usury.

535.6 Interest in excess of two percent per month.

535.7 Assignee of usurious contract.

535.1 Denominations of money. The money of account of this state is the dollar, cent, and mill, and all public accounts, and the proceedings of all courts in relation to money, shall be kept and expressed in the above denominations. Demands expressed in money of another denomination shall not be affected by the provisions of this section, but in any action or proceeding based thereon it shall be reduced to and computed by the denominations given. [C51, §§943, 944; R60, §§1785, 1786; C73, §§2075, 2076; C97, §3037; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9403; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §535.1]

535.2 Rate of interest.

1. Except as provided in subsection 2 hereof, the rate of interest shall be five cents on the hundred by the year in the following cases, unless the parties shall agree in writing for the payment of interest not exceeding nine cents on the hundred by the year:

a. Money due by express contract.

b. Money after the same becomes due.

g. Money due, or to become due, where there is a contract to pay interest, and no rate is stipulated.

Excessive charges or premiums for credit life, accident or health insurance written in connection with money loaned shall be included in the rate of interest unless

a. the coverage of the debtor by the insurance is not a factor in the approval by the creditor of the extension of credit, and this fact is clearly disclosed in writing to the person applying for or obtaining the extension of credit; and

b. in order to obtain the insurance in connection with the extension of credit, the person to whom the credit is extended must give specific affirmative written indication of his desire to do so after written disclosure to him of the cost thereof.

The foregoing provision regarding excessive charges or premiums to be included in the rate of interest shall have application only to the original parties to an agreement and shall in no manner affect the negotiability of instruments or the rights of subsequent holders.

The insurance commissioner, after hearing where all interested parties shall be given an opportunity to be heard, shall approve a reasonable charge or premium for credit life and accident or health credit insurance. Such reasonable charge or premium shall allow a fair and reasonable return or profit for the risk involved in providing such coverage.

2. Any domestic or foreign corporation may agree in writing to pay any rate of interest in excess of the rate prescribed in subsection 1 hereof, and no such corporation so agreeing in writing shall plead or interpose the claim or defense of usury in any action or proceeding. [C51, §945; R60, §1787; C73, §2077; C97, §3038; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9404; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §535.2; 63GA, ch 277, §1]

money or in any other thing, or in any manner, any greater sum or value for the loan of money, or upon contract founded upon any sale or loan of real or personal property, than is in this chapter prescribed. [R60,§1790; C73, §2079; C97,§3040; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9406; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§535.4]

535.5 Penalty for usury. If it shall be ascertained in any action brought on any contract that a rate of interest has been contracted for, directly or indirectly, in money or in property, greater than is authorized by this chapter, the same shall work a forfeiture of eight cents on the hundred by the year upon the amount of the principal remaining unpaid upon such contract at the time judgment is rendered thereon, and the court shall enter final judgment in favor of the plaintiff and against the defendant for the principal sum so remaining unpaid without costs, and also against the defendant and in favor of the state, for the use of the school fund of the county in which the action is brought, for the amount of the forfeiture; and in no case where unlawful interest is contracted for shall the plaintiff have judgment for more than the principal sum, whether the unlawful interest be incorporated with the principal or not. corporation, or firm, and every agent of any person, persons, company, corporation, or firm, who shall take or receive, or agree to take or receive, directly or indirectly, by means of commissions or brokerage charges, or otherwise, for the forbearance or use of money in the sum or amount of more than five hundred dollars a rate greater than two percent per month, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, on conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine of not less than twenty-five dollars, nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not less than thirty days nor more than ninety days. Nothing herein contained shall be construed as authorizing a higher rate of interest than is now provided by law. Provided, however, this section shall not apply to lawful loans under chapter 536. of interest or consideration therefor than the lender would be permitted by law to charge if he were not a licensee hereunder except as authorized by this chapter and without first obtaining a license from the superintendent of banking, hereinafter called the superintendent. The word "person", when used hereinafter, shall include individuals, copartnerships, associations, and corporations unless the context requires a different meaning. [C24, 27, 31, §9410; C35, §9438-f1; C39, §9438.01; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §536.1]

Referred to in §§536.10, 536.13, subsection 1, 536.19

536.2 Application — fees. Application for such license shall be in writing, under oath, and in the form prescribed by the superintendent, and shall contain the name and the address (both of the residence and place of business) of the applicant, and if the applicant is a copartnership or association, of every member thereof, and if a corporation, of each officer and director thereof; also the county and municipality with street and number, if any, of the place where the business of making loans under the provisions of this chapter is to be conducted and such further relevant information as the superintendent may require. Such applicant at the time of making such application shall pay to the superintendent the sum of fifty dollars if the liquid assets of the applicant are not in excess of twenty thousand dollars, and the sum of one hundred dollars if the liquid assets of the applicant are in excess of twenty thousand dollars, as a fee for investigating the application and the additional sum of seventy-five dollars if the liquid assets of the applicant are not in excess of twenty thousand dollars, and one hundred fifty dollars if the liquid assets of the applicant are in excess of twenty thousand dollars, as an annual license fee.

Every applicant shall also prove, in form satisfactory to the superintendent, that he or it has available for the operation of such business at the place of business specified in the application, liquid assets of at least five thousand dollars, or that he or it has at least the said amount actually in use in the conduct of such business at such place of business. [C24, 27, 31, §9411, 9412; C35, §9438-f2; C39, §9438.02; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §536.2; 63GA, ch 1253, §1]

536.3 Bond. The applicant shall also at the same time file with the superintendent a bond to be approved by him in which the applicant shall be the obligor, with one or more sureties, in the sum of one thousand dollars. The said bond shall run to the state for the use of the state and of any person or persons who may have a cause of action against the obligor of said bond under the provisions of this chapter. Such bond shall be conditioned that said obligor will faithfully conform to and abide by the provisions of this chapter and of all rules and regulations lawfully made by the superintendent hereunder, and will pay to the state and to any such person or persons any and all moneys that may become due or owing to the state or to such person or persons from said obligor under and by virtue of the provisions of this chapter. [C24, 27, 31, §9413, 9414; C35, §9438-f3; C39, §9438.03; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §536.3]

536.4 Grant or refusal of license. Upon the filing of such application, the approval of such bond and the payment of such fees, the superintendent shall make a thorough and complete investigation of the facts as he may deem necessary or proper.

If the superintendent shall determine from such application and from such investigation that the applicant can have a reasonable expectancy of a successful lending business at the location of the office for which application is made, and that there is a real need and necessity in that community for additional lending facilities to adequately serve the local people, and that said applicant is one who will command the respect of and confidence from the people in that community; that the financial responsibility, experience, character, and general fitness of the applicant, and of the members thereof if the applicant be a copartnership or association, and of the officers and directors thereof if the applicant be a corporation, are such as to warrant the belief that the business will be operated lawfully, honestly, fairly, and efficiently within the purposes of this chapter, and if the superintendent shall find that the applicant has available or actually in use the assets described in section 536.2, he shall thereupon issue and deliver a license to the applicant to make loans in accordance with the provisions of this chapter at the place of business specified in the said application; if the superintendent shall not so find he shall not issue such license and he shall notify the applicant of the denial and return to the applicant the bond and the sum paid by the applicant as a license fee, retaining the investigation fee to cover the costs of investigating the application. The superintendent shall approve or deny every application for a license hereunder within sixty days from the filing of the application and the approved bond and the payment of the said fees.

If the application is denied the superintendent shall within twenty days thereafter file with the banking department a written transcript of the evidence and decision and findings with respect thereto containing the reasons supporting the denial, and forthwith serve upon the applicant a copy thereof. [C24, 27, 31, §9415; C35, §9438-f4; C39, §9438.04; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §536.4]

536.5 License—form—posting. Such license shall state the address of the place where the business of making such loans is to be conducted and shall state fully the name of the licensee, and if the licensee is a copartnership or association, the names of the members thereof, and if a corporation, the date and place of its incorporation. Such license shall be kept conspicuously posted in such place of business and shall not be transferable or assignable. [C24, 27, 31, §9411, 9418; C35, §9438-f5; C39, §9438.05; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §536.5]

536.6 Additional bond. If the superintendent shall find at any time that the bond is insecure or exhausted or otherwise of doubtful validity or collectibility, an additional bond to be approved by him, with one or more sureties and of the character specified in section 536.3, in the sum of not more than one thousand dollars, shall be filed by the licensee within ten days after written demand upon the licensee by the superintendent.

Every licensee shall have available at all times for each licensed place of business at least five thousand dollars in assets, either in liquid form or actually in use in the conduct of such business. [C24, 27, 31,§9437; C35,§9438-f6; C39,§9438.06; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§536.6]

536.7 Separate license—change of place of business. Not more than one place of business where such loans are made shall be maintained under the same license, but the superintendent may issue more than one license to the same licensee upon compliance, for each such additional license, with all the provisions of this chapter governing an original issuance of a license.

Whenever a licensee shall change such place of business to another location he shall at once give written notice thereof to the superintendent who shall attach to the license in writing his record of the change and the date thereof, which shall be authority for the operation of such business under such license at such new place of business. [C24, 27, 31,§§9416, 9419; C35,§9438-f7; C39,§9438.07; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§536.7]

536.8 Annual fee — payment — new bond. Every licensee shall, on or before the fifteenth day of each December, pay to the superintendent the sum as provided in section 536.2 as an annual license fee for the next succeeding calendar year and shall at the same time file with the superintendent a new bond or renewal of the old bond in the same amount and of the same character as required by section 536.3. [C35,§9438-f8; C39,§9438.08; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§536.8]

536.9 Suspension, revocation or surrender of license.

1. The superintendent may, upon at least twenty days' written notice to the licensee stating the contemplated action and grounds, and upon reasonable opportunity to be heard, revoke any license issued hereunder if he shall find that:

a. The licensee has failed, after ten days' notice of default, to pay the annual license fee or to maintain in effect the bond or bonds required under the provisions of this chapter or to comply with any rule or regulation of the superintendent lawfully made pursuant to and within the authority of this chapter; or that

b. The licensee has violated any provision of this chapter or any rule or regulation lawfully made by the superintendent under and within the authority of this chapter; or that

c. Any fact or condition exists which would clearly have warranted the superintendent in refusing originally to issue such license.

2. If the superintendent shall find that probable cause for revocation of any license exists and that the enforcement of the chapter requires immediate suspension of such license pending investigation, he may, upon five days' written notice and a hearing, suspend such license for a period not exceeding thirty days.

3. The superintendent may revoke or suspend only the particular license with respect to which grounds for revocation or suspension may occur or exist, or, if he shall find that such grounds for revocation or suspension are of general application to all licensed places of business, or to more than one licensed place of business, operated by such licensee, he shall revoke or suspend all of the licenses issued to such licensee or such licenses as such grounds apply to, as the case may be.

4. Any licensee may surrender any license by delivering to the superintendent written notice that he thereby surrenders such license, but such surrender shall not affect such licensee's civil or criminal liability for acts committed prior to such surrender.

5. No revocation or suspension or surrender of any license shall impair or affect the obligation of any pre-existing lawful contract between the licensee and any borrower.

6. Every license issued hereunder shall remain in force and effect until the same shall have been surrendered, revoked, or suspended in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. The superintendent shall have authority on his own initiative to reinstate suspended licenses or to issue new licenses to a licensee whose license or licenses shall have been revoked if no fact or condition then exists which would have warranted the superintendent in refusing originally to issue such license under this chapter.

7. Whenever the superintendent shall revoke or suspend a license issued under this chapter, he shall forthwith file with the banking department a written transcript of the evidence and order to that effect and findings with respect thereto containing the reasons supporting the revocation or suspension, and forthwith serve upon the licensee a copy thereof. [C24, 27, 31,§9436; C35,§9438-f9; C39, §9438.09; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§536.9]

536.10 Examination of business—fee. For the purpose of discovering violations of this chapter or securing information lawfully required by him hereunder, the superintendent may at any time, either personally or by an individual or individuals duly designated by him, investigate the loans and business and examine the books, accounts, records, and files used therein, of every licensee and of every person engaged in the business described in section 536.1, whether such person shall act or claim to act as principal or agent, or under or without the authority of this chapter. For that purpose the superintendent and his duly designated representatives shall have and be given free access to the place of business, books, accounts, papers, records, files, safes, and vaults of all such persons. The superintendent and all individuals duly designated by him shall have authority to require the attendance of and to examine under oath all individuals whomsoever whose testimony he may require relative to such loans or such business.

The superintendent shall make an examination of the affairs, place of business, and records of each licensed place of business at least once each year.

Every licensee subject to examination, supervision and regulation by the superintendent, shall pay to the superintendent an examination fee, based on the actual cost of the operation of the small loan division of the department of banking, and the proportionate share of administrative expenses in the operation of the department of banking attributable to the small loan division as determined by the superintendent of banking. Such fee shall apply equally to all licenses and shall not be changed more frequently than annually and when changed, shall be effective on January 1 of the year following the year in which the change is approved.

Upon completion of each examination required or allowed by this chapter, the examiner shall render a bill for such fee, in triplicate, and shall deliver one copy to the licensee and two copies to the superintendent. Failure to pay the fee to the superintendent within ten days after the date of the close of each such examination shall subject the licensee to an additional fee of five percent of the amount of such fee for each day the payment is delinquent. [C24, 27, 31, §9433; C35, §9438-f10; C39, §9438.10; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §536.10; 63GA, ch 1253, §2]

536.11 Records—annual report by licensee. The licensee shall keep such books, accounts, and records as the superintendent may require in order to determine whether such licensee is complying with the provisions of this chapter and with the rules and regulations lawfully made by the superintendent hereunder. Every licensee shall preserve for at least two years after making the last entry on any loan recorded therein all books, accounts, and records, including cards used in the card system, if any.

Each licensee shall annually on or before the fifteenth day of March file a report with the superintendent giving such relevant information as the superintendent reasonably may require concerning the business and operations during the preceding calendar year of the licensed places of business conducted by such licensee within the state. Such report shall be made under oath and shall be in the form prescribed by the superintendent who shall make and publish annually an analysis and recapitulation of such reports. [C24, 27, 31, §9434; C35, §9438-f11; C39, §9438.11; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §536.11]

536.12 False representations—miscellaneous restrictions. No licensee or other person shall advertise, print, display, publish, distribute, or broadcast or cause or permit to be advertised, printed, displayed, published, distributed, or broadcast, in any manner whatsoever, any statement or representation with regard to the rates, charges, terms, or conditions for the lending of money, credit, goods, or things in action in the amount or of the value of one thousand dollars or less, which is false, misleading, or deceptive. The superintendent may order any licensee to desist from any conduct which he shall find to be a violation of the foregoing provisions.

If any licensee refers in any advertising matter to the rate of charge to be made upon loans the superintendent may require such licensee to state such rate of charge fully and clearly in such manner as he may deem necessary to prevent misunderstanding thereof by prospective borrowers.

No licensee shall take a real estate mortgage as security for any loan made under the provisions of this chapter.

No licensee shall conduct the business of making loans under the provisions of this chapter within any office, room, suite, or place of business in which any other business is solicited or engaged in, or in association or conjunction therewith, except as may be authorized in writing by the superintendent upon his finding that the character of such other business is such that the granting of such authority would not facilitate evasions of this chapter or of the rules and regulations lawfully made by him hereunder.

No licensee shall make any loan provided for by this chapter under any other name or at any other place of business than that named in the license.

No licensee shall take any confession of judgment or any power of attorney to appear or to confess judgment on behalf of a borrower. No licensee shall take any note, promise to pay, or security that does not accurately disclose the actual amount of the loan, the time for which it is made, and the agreed rate of charge, nor any instrument in which blanks are left to be filled in after execution. [C24, 27, 31, §§9426, *9432; C35, §9438-f12; C39, §9438.12; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §536.12]

536.13 Banking board—report—additional restrictions.

1. It shall be the duty of the state banking board, hereinafter called the board, and it shall have power, jurisdiction, and authority, from time to time to investigate the conditions and find the facts with reference to the business of making small loans, as described in section 536.1, hereinafter referred to as small loans, and after making such investigation, report in writing their findings to the next regular session of the general assembly, and upon the basis of such facts:

a. To classify small loans by a regulation according to such system of differentiation as will reasonably distinguish such classes of loans for the purposes of this chapter, and

b. To determine and fix by a regulation such maximum rate of interest or charges upon each such class of small loans as will induce efficiently managed commercial capital to enter such business in sufficient amounts to make available adequate credit facilities to individuals without the security or financial responsibility usually required by banks.

Referred to in §536.14

2. The board may from time to time, commencing March 1, 1935, redetermine and refix by a regulation, in accordance with subsection 1 above, any maximum rate of interest or charges previously fixed by it, but such changed maximum rates shall not affect pre-existing loan contracts lawfully entered into between any licensee and any borrower; all regulations which the board may make respecting rates of interest or charges shall fix and contain the effective date thereof, which shall not be earlier than thirty days after notice to each licensee by mailing such notice to each licensed place of business.

3. Before fixing any classification of small loans or any maximum rate of interest or charges, or changing any such classification or rate under authority of this section, the board shall give reasonable notice of its intention to consider doing so to all licensees and a reasonable opportunity to be heard thereon and to introduce evidence with respect thereto.

4. Beginning July 4, 1965, and until such time as a different rate is fixed by the board, the maximum rate of interest or charges upon such class or classes of small loans shall be three percent per month on any part of the unpaid principal balance of the loan not exceeding one hundred and fifty dollars and two percent per month on any part of the loan in excess of one hundred fifty dollars, but not exceeding three hundred dollars, and one and one-half percent per month on any part of the unpaid principal balance of the loan in excess of three hundred dollars, but not exceeding seven hundred dollars, and one percent per month on any part of the unpaid principal balance of the loan in excess of seven hundred dollars.

5. Every licensee hereunder may lend any sum of money not exceeding one thousand dollars in amount and may charge, contract for, and receive thereon interest or charges at a rate not exceeding the maximum rate of interest or charges determined and fixed by the board under authority of this section or by the provisions of the preceding subsection 4.

Referred to in §536.14

6. The following provisions shall apply to any or all loans in the amount or of the value of one thousand dollars or less made by any licensee hereunder:

Interest shall not be paid, deducted or received in advance; shall not be compounded;

shall be computed only on unpaid principal balances for the number of days actually elapsed and for the purpose of such computations a month shall be any period of thirty consecutive days, but interest may be precomputed as provided in subsection 7 of this section. If part or all of the consideration for a loan contract is the unpaid principal balance of a prior loan with the same licensee, then the principal amount payable under such loan contract may include the amount due on a precomputed contract after giving the rebate required by subsection 7 of this section. No licensee shall induce or permit any borrower or borrowers to split up or divide any loan or loans for the purpose of evading any provision of this chapter nor shall any licensee knowingly permit any borrower, nor any husband and wife individually or together, to be indebted to him under more than one contract of loan at the same time. In addition to the rates of interest or charges herein provided for no further or other charge for examination, service, brokerage, commission, expense, fee, or bonus or other thing shall be directly or indirectly charged, contracted for, or received, except the lawful fees, if any, actually and necessarily paid out by the licensee to any public officer, for filing or recording or releasing in any public office any instrument securing the loan, which fees may be collected when the loan is made, or at any time thereafter. If any interest or charges in excess of these permitted by this chapter are charged, contracted for, or received, the contract of loan shall be void and the licensee shall have no right to collect or receive any principal, interest, or charges whatsoever.

7. Where the contract of loan requires repayment in substantially equal and consecutive monthly installments of principal and interest combined, the licensee may, at the time the loan is made, precompute the interest at the agreed monthly rate on scheduled unpaid principal balances according to the terms of the contract and add such interest to the principal of the loan and include it in the amount of the loan contract, but the principal excluding interest cannot exceed one thousand dollars. Every payment may be applied to the combined total of principal and precomputed interest until the contract is fully paid. All payments made on account of any loan except for default and deferment charges shall be deemed to be applied to the unpaid installments in the order in which they are due. The portion of the precomputed interest applicable to any particular month of the contract, as originally scheduled or following a deferment, shall be that proportion of such precomputed interest, excluding any adjustment made for a first installment period of more than one month and any adjustment made for deferment, which the balance of the contract scheduled to be outstanding during such month bears to the sum of all monthly balances originally scheduled to be outstanding by the contract. For the purpose of computation of precomputed interest, a month shall be that period of time from any date in a month to the corresponding date in the next month, but if there is no such corresponding date then to the last day of the next month and a day shall be considered one-thirtieth of a month when computation is made for a fraction of a month. All loan contracts made pursuant to this subsection shall be subject to the following adjustments:

a. Notwithstanding the requirement for substantially equal and consecutive monthly installments, the first installment period may exceed one month by as much as fifteen days and the interest for each day exceeding one month shall be one-thirtieth of the interest which would be applicable to a first installment period of one month. The interest for extra days in the first installment period may be added to the first installment and such interest for such extra days shall be excluded in computing any rebate except as provided in paragraph "b" hereof;

b. If prepayment in full by cash, a new loan, or otherwise occurs before the first installment due date, the interest shall be recomputed at the agreed rate upon the actual unpaid principal balances of the loan for the actual time outstanding by applying the payment, or payments, first to interest at the agreed rate and the remainder to the principal. The amount of interest so computed shall be retained in lieu of all precomputed interest;

c. If the contract is prepaid in full by cash, a new loan, or otherwise on or after the first installment due date but before the final installment due date, the borrower shall receive a rebate of an amount which shall be not less than that portion of the precomputed interest, excluding any adjustment for a first installment period of more than one month and any default and deferment charges, applicable to the installment periods scheduled to follow the installment date nearest the date of prepayment in full. For the purpose of computing the rebate, any prepayment in full made on or before the fifteenth day following an installment date shall be deemed to have been made on the installment date immediately preceding the date of prepayment in full and any prepayment in full made after such fifteenth day shall be deemed to have been made on the installment date immediately following the date of prepayment in full. Any default and deferment charges which are due and unpaid may be deducted from such rebate. No rebate shall be required for any partial installment prepayment. If judgment is obtained before the final installment date the contract balance shall be reduced by the rebate which would be required for prepayment in full as of the date judgment is obtained;

d. If any installment is unpaid in full for seven or more consecutive days, Sundays and holidays included, after it is due, the licensee may charge and collect a default charge not exceeding an amount equal to the portion of the precomputed interest applicable to the final installment period and a similar amount may be charged and collected for each succeeding full month from such due date that such installment remains wholly unpaid and outstanding. Such default charges may be collected when due or at any time thereafter;

e. If, as of an installment due date, the payment date of all wholly unpaid installments is deferred one or more full months and the maturity of the contract is extended for a corresponding period, the licensee may charge and collect a deferment charge not exceeding the interest applicable to the month preceding the first of the installments deferred, multiplied by the number of months in the deferment period. The deferment period is that period during which no payment is made or required by reason of such deferment. The deferment charge may be collected at the time of deferment or any time thereafter. The portion of the precomputed interest applicable to each deferred balance and installment period following the deferment period shall remain the same as that applicable to such balance and periods under the original contract of loan. No installment on which a default charge has been collected, or on account of which any partial payment has been made, shall be deferred or included in the computation of the deferment charge unless such default charge or partial payment is refunded to the borrower or credited to the deferment charge. Any payment received at the time of deferment may be applied first to the deferment charge and the remainder, if any, applied to the unpaid balance of the contract; provided, that if such payment is sufficient to pay, in addition to the appropriate deferment charge, any installment which is in default and the applicable default charge, it shall be first so applied and any such installment shall not be deferred or subject to the deferment charge. If a loan is prepaid in full during the deferment period, the borrower shall receive, in addition to the required rebate, a rebate of that portion of the deferment charge applicable to any unexpired full month or months of such deferment period; and

f. If two or more full installments are in default for one full month or more at any installment date and if the contract so provides, the licensee may reduce the contract balance by the rebate which would be required for prepayment in full as of such installment date and the amount remaining unpaid shall be deemed to be the unpaid principal balance and thereafter in lieu of charging, collecting, receiving and applying interest and charges as provided in this subsection, interest may be charged, collected, received and applied at the agreed rate as otherwise provided by this section until the loan is fully paid.

g. In all cases the loan contract shall show the total interest to be paid in stated dollar amount, or in terms of simple annual interest, which shall be separately stated immediately after the stated figure of the principal in such loan contract.

Referred to in §536.14

8. The default and deferment charges and rebates referred to herein are computed on the interest rates authorized herein and such terms shall not be construed to authorize charges incident to the loan of money, beyond the rates of interest authorized herein and for the periods of time authorized in subsection 7 of this section. 536.14 Statement given borrower — payments. Every licensee shall:

1. Deliver to the borrower at the time any loan is made a statement (upon which there shall be printed a copy of subsections 1, 5, and 6 of section 536.13) in the English language showing in clear and distinct terms the lawful maximum rate or rates of interest or charges in effect, the amount and date of the loan and of its maturity, the nature of the security, if any, for the loan, the name and address of the borrower and of the licensee, and the agreed rate of charge. When the loan is made pursuant to subsection 7 of section 536.13, the statement shall also contain a notice that default and deferment charges may be made and that a rebate of unearned interest may be made if the loan is prepaid prior to maturity.

2. Give to the borrower a plain and complete receipt for all payments made on account of any such loan at the time such payments are made, specifying the amount applied to interest or charges and the amount applied to principal; provided, however, if the interest has been precomputed the receipt need not be itemized and no receipt shall be required where payment is made by check or money order and the full amount of such check or money order is applied to the loan.

3. Permit payment to be made in advance in any amount on any contract of loan at any time, but the licensee may apply such payment first to all interest or charges up to the date of such payment.

4. Upon repayment of the loan in full, mark indelibly every obligation and security other than a mortgage* signed by the borrower with the word "paid" or "canceled", and release any security interest which no longer secures a loan to the licensee, restore any collateral, return any note and any assignment given to the licensee by the borrower.

5. Display prominently in each licensed place of business an accurate schedule, to be approved by the superintendent, of the charges currently to be made upon all loans. [C24, 27, 31,§9425; C35,§9438-f14; C39,§9438.14; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§536.14]

The foregoing prohibition shall also apply to any licensee who permits any person, as borrower or as endorser, guarantor, or surety for any borrower, or otherwise, to owe directly or contingently or both to the licensee at any time the sum of more than one thousand dollars for principal. [C24, 27, 31,§9424; C35,§9438-f15; C39,§9438.15; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§536.15]

536.17 Assignment of wages. A valid assignment or order for the payment of future salary, wages, commissions, or other compensation for services, may be given as security for a loan made by any licensee under this chapter, and under such assignment or order a sum not to exceed ten percent of the borrower's salary, wages, commissions, or other compensation for services shall be collectible from the employer of the borrower by the licensee at the time of each payment to the borrower of such salary, wages, commissions, or other compensation for services, from the time that a copy of such assignment, verified by the oath of the licensee or his agent, together with a similarly verified statement of the amount unpaid upon such loan, is served upon the employer. However, no such assignment or order shall be effective or binding upon the employer unless the employer has in writing agreed to accept and pay said assignment or order.

No assignment of or order for payment of any salary, wages, commissions, or other compensation for services, earned or to be earned, given to secure any loan made by any licensee under this chapter, shall be valid unless the amount of such loan is paid to the borrower simultaneously with its execution; nor shall any such assignment or order, or any security agreement on household furniture then in the possession and use of the borrower, be valid unless it is in writing, signed in person by the borrower, nor if the borrower is married unless it is signed in person by both husband and wife, provided, that written assent of a spouse shall not be required when husband and wife have been living separate and apart for a period of at least five months prior to the making of such assignment, order, mortgage, or lien. The foregoing prohibition shall apply to any person who, by any device, subterfuge, or pretense whatsoever, shall charge, contract for, or receive greater interest, consideration, or charges than authorized by this chapter for any such loan, use, or forbearance of money, goods, or things in action or for any such loan, use, or sale of credit.

536.26 Insured loans. No licensee shall, directly or indirectly, sell or offer for sale any insurance in connection with any loan made under this chapter except as and to the extent authorized by this section. Life, accident and health insurance, or any of them, may be written by a licensed insurance agent upon or in connection with any loan for a term not extending beyond the final maturity date of the loan contract but only upon one obligor on any one loan contract.

The amount of life insurance shall at no time exceed the unpaid balance of principal and interest combined which are scheduled to be outstanding under the terms of the loan contract or the actual amount unpaid on the loan contract, whichever is greater.

Accident and health insurance shall provide benefits not in excess of the unpaid balance of principal and interest combined which are scheduled to be outstanding under the terms of the loan contract and the amount of each periodic benefit payment shall not exceed the total amount payable divided by the number of installments and shall provide that if the insured obligor is disabled, as defined in the policy, for a period of more than fourteen days, benefits shall commence as of the first day of disability.

licensee shall cause to be delivered to the borrower a copy of the policy within fifteen days from the date such insurance is procured. No licensee shall decline new or existing insurance which meets the standards set out herein nor prevent any obligor from obtaining such insurance coverage from other sources.

If the loan contract is prepaid in full by cash, a new loan, or otherwise (except by the insurance) any life, accident and health insurance procured by or through a licensee shall be canceled and the unearned premium shall be refunded. The amount of such refund shall represent at least as great a proportion of the insurance premium or identifiable charge as the sum of the consecutive monthly balances of principal and interest of the loan contract originally scheduled to be outstanding after the installment date nearest the date of prepayment bears to the sum of all such monthly balances of the loan contract originally scheduled to be outstanding.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, any gain or advantage to the licensee or to any employee, affiliate, or associate of the licensee from such insurance or the sale or provision thereof shall not be deemed to be additional or further interest or charges in connection with such loan; nor shall any of the provisions pertaining to insurance contained in this section be deemed prohibited by any other provision of this chapter. engage in the business of operating an industrial loan company, and upon payment of the investigation fee and license fee as required by section 536A.7, the auditor shall cause an investigation to be made of the facts set forth in the application. If as the result of his preliminary investigation the auditor deems it proper, the auditor may hold a hearing at a time and place designated by him for the purpose of completing his investigation. [C66,§536A.9]

536A.10 Issuance of license. If the auditor shall find:

2. That a reasonable necessity exists for a new industrial loan company in the community to be served;

3. That the applicant has available for the operation of the business at the specified location paid-in capital and surplus as required by section 536A.8; and

If the application for a license is disapproved and a license is denied the auditor shall refund the annual license fee which was required to be deposited by section 536A.7 providing the cost of investigation does not exceed the investigation fee. If the cost of investigation exceeds the investigation fee, the excess cost shall be deducted from the license fee before any refund is made.

The decision and finding of facts of the auditor shall not become final if any applicant within thirty days from issuance of such decision and finding of facts, shall appeal to the district court of Polk county, Iowa. The district court shall have power to enter such orders as justice shall require, and shall set aside the decision of the auditor if it is found that:

1. The auditor acted arbitrarily, capriciously or in excess of his power.

2. The decision was obtained by fraud.

When a licensee shall change its place of business from one location to another in the same city or town it shall at once give written notice thereof to the auditor who shall attach to the license in writing his record of the change and the date thereof, which shall be authority for the operation of such business under such license at the new place of business.

The license fees provided in this section and the investigation and license fee provided for in section 536A.7, and the payment for the costs of examinations provided for in section 536A.15 shall constitute a revolving fund known as the "industrial loan law revolving fund." From this fund shall be paid all expenses incurred in the administration of this chapter. Any remainder in said fund at the end of each calendar year, exclusive of any license fees deposited for the succeeding year, shall revert to the general fund of the state. [C66,§536A.12; 63GA, ch 278,§2]

536A.13 Books and records. Each industrial loan company shall keep such books, accounts and records as will enable the auditor to determine whether or not the licensee is complying with the provisions of this chapter. Industrial loan companies shall not be required to preserve or keep their records or files for a longer period than eleven years next after the first day of January of the year following the time of the making or filing of such records or files. [C66,§536A.13]

536A.15 Examination of licensees. The auditor or his duly authorized representative shall, at least once each year without previous notice, examine and audit the books, accounts and records of each licensee engaged in the industrial loan business as defined by this chapter. Any licensee, in lieu of such examination and audit by the auditor or his duly authorized representative, at the option of the auditor, may be audited at the expense of the licensee by a certified public accountant licensed to practice in the state of Iowa. After receiving such an audit the auditor may make such further examination of the licensee as he may deem necessary. A record of each examination shall be kept in the auditor's office. Such examinations and reports, and other information connected therewith, shall be kept confidential in the office of the auditor and shall not be subject to publication or disclosure to others except as in this chapter provided. Any evidence of criminal acts committed by officers, directors or employees of any industrial loan association shall be reported by the auditor to the proper authorities. The licensee shall be charged and shall pay the actual costs of the examination. [C66, §536A.15]

536A.16 Cease and desist orders. Whenever the auditor has reasonable cause to believe that any licensee is violating any provision of this chapter, he may, after ten days' advance written notice, in addition to all actions provided for in this chapter, and without prejudice thereto, enter an order requiring such licensee to cease, desist and refrain from such violation. After receipt of the advance written notice as provided above, any licensee, within five days from the receipt of such notice may file with the auditor a written demand for a hearing. Such hearings shall promptly be held in the office of the auditor and no cease and desist order shall be issued until after the hearing during which the licensee shall be entitled to present evidence and the testimony of witnesses. [C66,§536A.17]

1. That the licensee has failed to pay the annual license fee required by this chapter.

2. That the licensee knowingly has violated any of the provisions of this chapter.

3. That the licensee has refused to submit to the examination required by this chapter.

4. That the licensee has neglected or refused for a period of more than thirty days to pay a final judgment rendered against it in the courts of this state.

5. That the licensee has become insolvent.

No suspension, revocation, relinquishment or expiration of any license shall invalidate, impair or affect the legality of obligations of any pre-existing contracts, or prevent the enforcement and collection thereof; and provided further that any such suspension or revocation shall not become final if any licensee, within thirty days from entry of such order suspending or revoking its license appeals to the district court of Polk county, Iowa.

The district court of Polk county, Iowa, shall have the power to enter such order as justice shall require pending the hearing of such appeal, and shall set aside the order or decision of the auditor if it be found that:

1. The auditor acted arbitrarily, capriciously or in excess of his power.

2. The order or decision was obtained by fraud.

3. The order or decision is contrary to law. [C66,§536A.18]

536A.19 Receivership—liquidation. If the auditor shall revoke the license of any industrial loan company he shall promptly report the revocation to the attorney general of Iowa who may apply to the district court of the county in which the licensee had conducted its business for the appointment of a receiver to take possession of the assets of the corporation for the purpose of liquidating its affairs. [C66,§536A.19]

536A.20 Advertising. No industrial loan company shall advertise, print, display, publish, distribute, broadcast or disseminate in any manner or cause or permit to be advertised, printed, displayed, published, distributed, or broadcast in any manner whatsoever, any false, misleading or deceptive statements or representations concerning rates, terms or conditions under this chapter. 536A.21 Other business in same office. A licensee engaged in the business of operating an industrial loan company under the provisions of this chapter may not conduct its business within any office, room, suite or place of business in which any other business is engaged in or conducted, unless specifically authorized to do so in writing by the auditor upon his finding that the character of the other business is such that its operation by the licensee would not facilitate evasions of this chapter or any other statute of the state of Iowa relating to the making of loans. [C66, §536A.21]

536A.23 Powers of industrial loan companies. No industrial loan company licensed under the provisions of this chapter shall have the power and authority to:

1. Charge, receive or collect interest at a rate greater than that authorized by section 535.2, except that the interest may be computed when the note is made on the full amount of the cash advanced on the loan from the date of the note to the date of the final installment thereof, and the interest so computed may be included in the note, notwithstanding any agreement to pay the entire amount in installments; or the interest may be computed on the amount of the note and discounted or collected in advance when the loan is made, notwithstanding any agreement to pay the entire amount in installments. If the note is repayable in other than equal monthly installments, the interest may be an amount computed on the basis of the effective rates permitted as provided above; provided, however, there shall be no compounding of interest and when an interest rate as authorized herein is advertised, or negotiated for with a prospective borrower, with intent that it be computed by either of the two methods authorized herein, they being the "add on" method or the "discount" method, in such case such rate shall be further described as to the method of computation to be used.

2. Charge, receive or collect in advance a service charge in excess of one dollar for each fifty dollars of the amount of the note, nor in excess of a total of forty dollars. The service charge authorized by this section shall not be charged, contracted for, collected or received on any loan which is renewed or rewritten within six months of the date of the original note; nor on that part of a new loan made to the same borrower by the same company which is used to discharge a prior loan made to the same borrower by the same company.

3. Charge or collect from the borrower or borrowers a delinquency charge in excess of five percent of any installment or portion thereof which is past due and not paid within ten days after its scheduled due date. There shall be only one delinquency charge on any one such installment. Such delinquency charge may be collected when due or at any time thereafter.

4. Charge or collect from the borrower or borrowers a deferment charge unless the payment due date on all unpaid installments, on which no delinquency charge has been collected, is deferred sixty days or more, in which event an industrial loan company may charge and collect a deferment charge not in excess of one percent of the balance of the loan at the time of deferment. There shall be only one deferment charge on any one loan.

5. Require any borrower to purchase insurance from the lender as a condition for obtaining a loan. However, an industrial loan company may collect from the borrower, at the option of the borrower, and transmit the premiums charged for insuring real or personal property used by the borrower as security for a loan and provided that such insurance is obtained from a licensed insurance agent for an insurance company authorized to do business in Iowa; and the premiums charged for insuring the life of one party on the loan in an amount not to exceed the total amount of the note or contract, including cash advance, interest and service charge, provided that no licensee shall require that the contract of life insurance be outstanding for more than the unpaid balance of the indebtedness and provided that such insurance is obtained from a licensed insurance agent for an insurance company authorized to do business in Iowa; and an industrial loan company may receive and transmit the premiums charged for accident and health insurance on the borrower, provided such insurance bears a reasonable relationship to the existing hazards or risk of loss, and the aggregate benefits of which shall not exceed the approximate amount of the contractual payments on the loan outstanding at the time of loss, and provided that such insurance is obtained from a licensed agent for an insurance company authorized to do business in Iowa. However, all life insurance rates in connection with industrial loans shall be subject to the rules and regulations of the insurance commissioner of the state of Iowa.

6. Collect from the borrower fees in excess of those actually paid to a public official for recording or filing a mortgage or for satisfying a judgment or lien on any real or personal property securing a loan, however, a licensee may collect the actual cost for the appraisal of real or personal property offered by the borrower as security for a loan, and may collect from the borrower a reasonable attorney's fee paid for an opinion as to the title to real property securing a loan. Industrial loan companies licensed under the provisions of this chapter may purchase notes, contracts, mortgages, accounts, receivables, leases and securities of a type and kind authorized by the auditor.

7. Loan money to any person without setting out in the contract of loan, or by separate statement delivered at the time said loan is made, an itemized list that shall set out separately all interest, discount, fees, compensation or charges made, pertaining to such loan. Such interest or discount shall be expressed in terms of simple annual interest in percentage form or in total dollars computed on the basis that payments on such instrument will be made at the scheduled times; and for a year in case such loan does not have a specified time or times of payment. [C66,§536A.23]

536A.24 Prohibited multiple loans. No industrial loan and investment company shall induce or permit any person, nor any husband and wife, jointly or severally, to become obligated, directly or contingently or both, under more than one contract of loan at the same time for the purpose of obtaining a higher rate of charge than would be permitted if all of the obligations of such person to such company were consolidated into one obligation. [C66, §536A.24]

536A.25 Restrictions. No industrial loan company licensed under this chapter shall make any loan of money or property to, or guarantee the obligations of, any of its directors or officers; or loan to any borrower, other than a subsidiary or affiliated corporation, more than twenty percent of its total capital, surplus and undivided profits. No licensee shall make any loan under any other name or at any other place of business than that named in the license. [C66,§536A.25]

536A.26 Prepayment. Notwithstanding the provisions of any note or contract to the contrary, a borrower may, at any time, prepay all or any part of the unpaid balance to become payable under any note or installment contract. If the borrower pays the time balance in full, before maturity, or accelerates the monthly or other periodic installments, the licensee shall refund to him a portion of the interest. The borrower shall receive for such anticipation of payments a refund in an amount which shall represent at least as great a proportion of the interest as the sum of the periodic time balances after the month in which prepayment is made to the extent of the accelerated installments, bears to the sum of all the periodic time balances under the schedule of payments in the original note or installment investment certificate; provided however, that no refund need be paid on the service charge; and provided that if the amount of the refund is less than one dollar no refund need be made, and that no refund for accelerated payments need be made on any installment payment made less than thirty-one days prior to the due date of said installment. 538.6 Offer in writing—effect.
538.7 Nonacceptance of tender.
538.8 Receipt—objection.

538.1 Demand required. No cause of action shall accrue upon a contract for labor or the payment or delivery of property other than money, where the time of performance is not fixed, until a demand of performance has been made upon the maker and refused, or a reasonable time for performance thereafter allowed. [C51, §959; R60, §1806; C73, §2097; C97, §3056; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9443; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §538.1]

538.4 Effect of tender. A tender of the property, as above provided, discharges the maker from the contract, and the property becomes vested in the payee or his assignee, and he may maintain an action therefor as in other cases. But if the property tendered be perishable, or requires feeding, or other care, and no person is found to receive it when tendered, the person making the tender shall preserve, feed, or otherwise take care of the same, and shall have a lien thereon for his reasonable expenses and trouble in so doing. [C51,§§963, 964; R60,§§1810, 1811; C73,§§2101, 2102; C97, §3059; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9446; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§538.4]

1. The maker deposits the amount due with the clerk of the district court in the county where the maker resided at the time of the making of the instrument, if he was then a resident of the state of Iowa, or if the maker was a nonresident of the state of Iowa at the time of making, with the clerk of the district court of Polk county, and

b. The maker within three days gives notice of such deposit by ordinary mail to the holder, if his identity and address are known.

Upon presentment of the instrument by the holder to the clerk, the clerk shall pay the holder of such instrument the funds in his hands. If such deposit is in full payment of the instrument the clerk shall deliver the instrument to the maker. If such deposit is a partial payment thereof the clerk shall endorse such payment thereon and return the instrument to the holder. [C51,§958; R60,§1805;

538.7 Nonacceptance of tender. When a tender of money or property is not accepted by the party to whom it is made, the party making it may, if he sees fit, retain it in his possession; but if afterwards the party to whom the tender was made concludes to accept it and gives notice thereof to the other party, and the subject of the tender is not delivered to him within a reasonable time, the tender shall be of no effect. [C51,§966; R60,§1815; C73,§2104; C97,§3062; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9449; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§538.7]

The person to whom a tender is made must, at the time, make any objection which he may have to the money, instrument, or property tendered, or he will be deemed to have waived it. Such permit, for the temporary period specified in the permit, shall have the same effect as a license and shall entitle and subject the person to whom the permit is issued to the same rights and duties as if he had obtained a license. If the commission determines that the public good requires it, it may upon the filing of the information or the complaint and without hearing, temporarily suspend a license pending the determination by it of the complaint. Any licensee aggrieved by the decision of the commission may appeal said decision to the district court by service of notice of appeal upon the commission within thirty days following the filing of the decision of the commission in the office of the commis-

If additional bond is not provided within thirty days after receiving notice by certified mail the warehouse license shall be suspended. If such additional bond is not filed within sixty days the warehouse license shall be automatically revoked. When a license is so revoked, the commission shall notify each holder of an outstanding warehouse receipt of such revocation. The commission shall further notify each receipt holder that his grain must be removed from the warehouse not later than the thirtieth day following the initial revocation as herein set forth. Such notice shall be by ordinary mail sent to the last known address of each receipt holder.

Whenever the commission shall receive notice from a surety that it has canceled the bond of a warehouseman, the commission shall automatically suspend the warehouse license if a new bond is not received by the commission within thirty days of receipt of the notice of cancellation. The commission shall cause an inspection of the licensed warehouse immediately at the end of such thirty-day period. If a new bond is not received within sixty days of receipt of the notice of cancellation the commission shall revoke the warehouse license. The commission shall cause a further inspection of the licensed warehouse at the end of such sixty-day period. When a license is so revoked the commission shall give notice of such revocation to each holder of an outstanding warehouse receipt. The commission shall further notify each receipt holder that his grain must be removed from the warehouse not later than the ninetieth day following receipt of notice of cancellation, by the

Any person applying for an amended license under the provisions of section 543.8 shall, as a condition to the granting of the amendment to his license, file such additional or substituted bond or such amendment to a bond already on file as will result in a bonded liability in total effect equivalent to the bonded liability which would be required if such person were applying for an original license for the storage of agricultural products of types and in amounts specified in the application for an amended license. [C24, 27, 31, §9723; C35, §9751-g5; C39, §9751.05; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §543.12]

543.14 Action on bond. Any person injured by the breach of any obligation of a warehouseman, for the performance of which a bond has been given under any of the provisions of this chapter, may sue on such bond in his own name in any court of competent jurisdiction to recover any damages he may have sustained by reason of such breach. [C24, 27, 31, §9749; C35, §9751-g31; C39, §9751.31; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §543.14]

543.15 Insurance required. All agricultural products in storage in a licensed warehouse, or a warehouse operated under temporary permit as provided in this chapter, and all agricultural products which have been deposited temporarily in a licensed warehouse pending storage or for purposes other than storage, shall be kept fully insured by the warehouseman for the current value of such agricultural products against loss by fire, inherent explosion, or windstorm. Such insurance shall be carried in an insurance company or companies authorized to do business in this state, and evidence of such insurance coverage in form to be approved by the commission shall be filed with the commission. No insurance policy shall be canceled by the insurance company on less than fifteen days' notice by certified mail to the commission and the principal unless such policy is being replaced with another policy and evidence of the new policy is filed with the commission at the time of cancellation of the policy on file. Such insurance shall be provided by, and carried in the name of, the warehouseman. Claimants against such insurance shall have precedence in the following order:

1. Holders of warehouse receipts other than the warehouseman and owners of bulk grain other than the warehouseman.

2. Owners of all other agricultural products as their interests appear.

3. Warehousemen who have warehouse receipts.

4. Warehousemen owners of bulk grain. [C24, 27, 31, §9725; C35, §9751-g7; C39, §9751.07; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §543.15; 62GA, ch 384, §5(1, 2)]

Referred to in §543.11

543.16 License required for the storage of bulk grain. It shall be unlawful for any person other than a licensed warehouseman to place in storage or to accept for storage any bulk grain, and it shall be unlawful for any person to place bulk grain in storage in a warehouse other than a licensed warehouse. This section shall not apply to the acceptance and storage of bulk grain by a person bonded and licensed under the provisions of a federal law, if and to the extent that such person is authorized under federal law to accept and store bulk grain, but such person shall comply with all other provisions of this chapter which do not conflict with such federal law. This section shall not apply to the storage of bulk grain owned by the person storing the same. [C24,

27, 31,§9722, 9724; C35,§9751-g2; C39,§9751.02; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§543.16]

543.17 Acceptance of bulk grain for purposes other than storage. Any warehouseman, whether or not licensed under the provisions of this chapter, may accept a deposit of bulk grain for the purpose of sale to the warehouseman, for the purpose of processing and cleaning, for the purpose of shipping by the warehouseman for the account of the depositor, or for any other purpose not inconsistent with other provisions of this chapter. Bulk grain deposited with a licensed warehouseman with instructions to hold for further instructions, or with instructions for any other disposition, may be retained by him in a licensed warehouse for a period of thirty days or more provided that any retention for a period of more than twenty-nine consecutive days shall, commencing with the thirtieth day, be deemed to be a retention for storage pending other disposition of the bulk grain and provided further that not later than the thirtieth day from date of deposit of the bulk grain such licensed warehouseman shall issue warehouse receipts therefor. Any grain, which has been received at any bonded warehouse and for which the actual sale price is not fixed and payment made therefor within thirty days after the receipt of said grain, is construed to be grain held in storage within the meaning of the Iowa bonded warehouse law and warehouse receipts shall be issued therefor to the depositor not later than the thirtieth day after the receipt thereof. Bulk grain deposited with an unlicensed warehouseman for the purpose of processing or cleaning shall be returned to the depositor or otherwise disposed of at his order within ten days from the date of deposit of the grain. Bulk grain deposited with an unlicensed warehouseman for the purpose of shipment for the account of the depositor must be actually shipped within ten days of the date of deposit of the grain. Any grain which has been received at any unlicensed warehouse, and for which the actual sale price is not fixed and payment made therefor within ten days after the receipt of said grain, is construed to be grain held in storage within the meaning of the Iowa bonded warehouse law. If bulk grain is deposited with an unlicensed warehouseman for any other purpose, such grain must be returned to the depositor or otherwise disposed of at his instructions within ten days from the date of deposit of the bulk grain. If bulk grain is deposited with an unlicensed warehouseman with instructions to hold for further instructions and such instructions have not been forthcoming the warehouseman on the tenth day shall return the bulk grain to the depositor, providing that a deposit of such bulk grain in a licensed warehouse for the account of the depositor shall be deemed to be a return to the depositor, or at the election of the warehouseman, may purchase such grain on the tenth day at not less than the local market price at the close of business on such tenth day.

Notwithstanding any of the above provisions of this section, a written agreement may be made at the time of the delivery of any bulk grain to the warehouseman that payment will be deferred to a future date. Such agreement shall contain a statement therein informing the seller that the warehouseman is not required to carry insurance or bond on such grain for the benefit of the seller and that the payment for such grain becomes a common claim against the warehouseman.

The agreement in addition to such other information as may be required shall contain the following:

1. The seller's, or depositor's, name and address.
2. The conditions of delivery.
3. The amount and kind of grain delivered.
4. The price per bushel or basis of value.
5. The date payment is to be made.

Such agreement must be signed by both parties and executed in triplicate. One copy shall be retained by the warehouseman, one copy shall be delivered to the seller and one copy shall be forwarded to the commission within five days from execution of such agreement. [C24, 27, 31,§9730; C35,§9751-g12; C39, §9751.12; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§543.17; 62GA, ch 384,§4(1-6), ch 385,§1(1,2)]

543.18 Issuance of warehouse receipts. For all agricultural products that become storage in a licensed warehouse, warehouse receipts signed by the licensed warehouseman or his authorized agent shall be issued by the licensed warehouseman. Such warehouse receipts shall be in the form required or permitted by Uniform Commercial Code, sections 554.7202 and 554.7204, provided, however, that each receipt issued for agricultural products, in addition to the matters specified in Uniform Commercial Code, section 554.7202 shall embody in its written or printed terms:

1. The delivery charge which will be made by the warehouseman.
2. The grade or other class of the agricultural products received and the standard or description in accordance with which such classification has been made; provided that such grade or other class shall be stated according to the official standard of the United States applicable to such agricultural products as the same may be fixed and promulgated; provided, further, that until such official standards of the United States for any agricultural product or products have been fixed and promulgated, the grade or other class thereof may be stated in accordance with any recognized standard or in accordance with such rules and regulations not inconsistent herewith as may be prescribed by the secretary of agriculture of the United States.

3. A statement that the receipt is issued subject to the Iowa bonded warehouse Act and the rules and regulations prescribed thereunder.

4. Such other terms and conditions as may be required by rules and regulations of the commission. [C24, 27, 31, §§9736, 9737; C35, §§9751-g17, 9751-g18; C39, §§9751.17, 9751.18; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §543.18]

Referred to in §§543.20, 543.22

543.19 Rights and obligations with respect to warehouse receipts—lost receipts. Insofar as not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter, original or duplicate receipts issued by licensed warehousemen shall be deemed to have been issued under the provisions of Uniform Commercial Code, chapter 554, article 7.

Duplicates and releases for lost, destroyed, or stolen warehouse receipts may be issued only in accordance with the provisions of section 554.7601. [C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §543.19; 63GA, ch 1258, §2]

Referred to in §543.20

543.20 Receipt by warehouseman to himself. A licensed warehouseman may issue a warehouse receipt for agricultural products owned by himself and dispose of the title to or interest in such products through the medium of such receipt. Such receipt shall be of the same standing as though it had been issued to a person other than the licensed warehouseman upon a rightful deposit of the products by such other person. Sections 543.18 and 543.19 shall be applicable to any such receipt. [62GA, ch 386, §1]

543.21 Repealed by 61GA, ch 413, §10102.

543.22 Receipt for nonfungible products. When requested by the depositor of other than fungible agricultural products, a non-negotiable receipt may be issued omitting the information specified in subsection 2 of section 543.18. [C24, 27, 31, §9738; C35, §9751-g20; C39, §9751.20; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §543.22; 62GA, ch 386, §1]

543.23 to 543.26, inc. Repealed by 61GA, ch 413, §10102.

543.27 Discrimination. Every warehouseman conducting a warehouse licensed under this chapter shall receive for storage therein, so far as its authorized storage capacity permits, any product of the kind he is permitted by his license to store, and which may be tendered to him in a suitable condition for warehousing, in the usual manner and in the ordinary and usual course of business, without making any discrimination between persons desiring to avail themselves of warehouse facilities. [C24, 27, 31, §9729; C35, §9751-g11; C39, §9751.11; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §543.27]

543.28 Rates. The commission may from time to time prescribe a minimum charge for storage and a minimum delivery charge. Unless and until otherwise specified by rule of the commission, the minimum storage charge for bulk grain shall be as follows:

1. For the first four months or any part thereof, one-thirtieth of a cent per day per bushel.

2. For the next four months or any part thereof, one thirty-sixth of a cent per day per bushel.

3. Thereafter the minimum rate shall be one forty-fifth of a cent per day per bushel.

The minimum delivery charge for bulk grain shall be two cents per bushel. No delivery charge shall be made for products sold to the warehouseman whether such product has been in storage or not. The specific delivery charge herein provided shall not be mandatory as to grain received into grain elevators from railroad cars nor as to grain sold by a warehouseman and carried as storage for the purchaser.

The storage charges herein provided for shall commence on the date of delivery to the warehouse. Provided, however, that a storage or delivery charge other than that specified above may be made, if such charge is required by the terms of a written contract with the United States government, any of its subdivisions or agencies, providing copy of such contract is filed with the commission.

Rates for storage, conditioning of stored products and delivery charges shall be just, reasonable, and nondiscriminatory, and every unjust, unreasonable, and discriminatory charge for such services or any part thereof and not in accordance with tariffs as herein provided, is prohibited and is hereby declared to be unlawful.

It shall be the duty of every warehouseman at the time of making application for a license, to file a tariff with the commission and to publish the same, which shall contain rates to be charged for storage, conditioning of stored products, and delivery charges, such publication of tariff to be made by the applicant by posting the same in a conspicuous place at the place of business of the applicant. Such tariff shall be in a form as prescribed by the commission and shall become effective at the time the license becomes effective.

In the event that a warehouseman desires to change, alter, or amend a tariff at any time during the period in which his license is in effect, he may do so by filing a new tariff with the commission and by publishing the same by posting in a conspicuous place at his place of business at which time the new tariff shall become effective. [C24, 27, 31, §9737; C35, §9751-g18; C39, §9751.18; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §543.28; 62GA, ch 384, §10]

2. For each examination or inspection of a licensed warehouse which has been structurally changed since issuance of the original license when such examination or inspection is made in connection with the commission's consideration of an application for an amended license, ten dollars.

3. For the renewal or extension of each license, twenty-four dollars.

4. For the issuance of a license, two dollars for each month or fraction thereof of the period of time for which such license is issued.

5. For the cost of maintaining an inspector at a licensed warehouse to supervise the correction of a deficiency, thirty dollars per day.

543.38 No obligation of state. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to imply any guarantee or obligation on the part of the state of Iowa, or any of its agencies, employees or officials, either elective or appointive, in respect of any agreement or undertaking to which the provisions of this chapter relate. 546A.5 Issuance of license. Upon the filing of such application and after the applicant has fully complied with all the provisions of this chapter, the board of supervisors, by its chairman, shall issue to the applicant a license authorizing the holding of such auction sale as proposed in said application. Such license shall not be transferable, and shall be valid only in the county where issued, and shall not be valid in any town or city in such county which has enacted an ordinance pursuant to section 368.6. 548.1 Definitions.
548.2 Registrability.
548.3 Application for registration.
548.4 Certificate of registration.
548.5 Duration and renewal.

548.10 Infringement.
548.11 Remedies.
548.12 Defenses.
548.13 Application.

548.1 Definitions. As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Applicant" means a person filing an application for registration of a mark under this chapter, his legal representative, successor, or assignee.

2. "Mark" means a word, name, symbol, device, or any combination of the foregoing in any form or arrangement used as a certification mark, collective mark, service mark, or trademark.

a. "Certification mark" means a mark used in connection with the goods or services of a person other than the certifier to indicate geographic origin, material, mode of manufacture, quality, accuracy, or other characteristics of the goods or services, or to indicate that the work or labor on the goods or services was performed by members of a union or other organization.

b. Displaying a mark in connection with the sale or advertising of services rendered. [63GA, ch 1255, §1]

548.2 Registrability.

1. A mark shall not be registered if it:

a. Consists of or comprises immoral, deceptive, or scandalous matter, or

b. Consists of or comprises matter which may disparage, bring into contempt or disrepute, or falsely suggest a connection with persons, living or dead, institutions, beliefs, or national symbols, or

c. Consists of or comprises the flag, or coat of arms, or other insignia of the United States, or of any state or municipality, or of any foreign nation, or any simulation thereof, or

d. Consists of, or comprises the name, signature, or portrait of any living individual, except with his written consent, or

e. Is merely descriptive or misdescriptive, or primarily geographically descriptive or geographically misdescriptive as applied to the goods or services of the applicant, or

f. Is primarily a surname; except nothing in this paragraph shall prevent the registration of a mark used in this state by the applicant, which has become distinctive of the applicant's goods or services. The secretary of state may accept as evidence that the mark has become distinctive proof of continuous use as a mark by the applicant in this state or elsewhere for the five years preceding the date of the filing of the application for registration, or

g. Resembles a mark registered in this state or a mark or trade name previously used in this state by another and not abandoned, so as to be likely, when applied to the goods or services of the applicant, to cause confusion, mistake, or deception of purchasers.

2. An applicant dissatisfied with a refusal of the secretary of state to issue registration may bring a civil action in the district court of the state for Polk county. The court shall review the secretary's decision and order registration if registration was improperly refused. [63GA, ch 1255,§2]

548.3 Application for registration. Subject to the limitations set forth in this chapter, any person who has previously adopted and used a mark in this state may file in the office of the secretary of state, in the manner prescribed by the secretary of state, duplicate originals of an application for the registration of the mark. The application shall include, but not be limited to, the following:

1. The name and business address of the applicant, and if a corporation, the state of incorporation.

2. The goods or services in connection with which the mark is in use, the mode or manner in which the mark is used in connection with those goods or services, and the class or classes in which such goods or services fall, as described in regulations promulgated by the secretary of state.

3. The date on which the mark was first used anywhere by the applicant or his predecessor in interest, and the date on which it was first used in this state.

4. A statement that the applicant is the owner of the mark in this state and that no other person has the right to use a mark in this state which purchasers would be likely to confuse or mistake for the applicant's mark.

5. The signature and verification of the applicant, a specimen or facsimile of the mark illustrating its present mode of use, and a filing fee of ten dollars for each class of goods or services for which registration is sought. [63GA, ch 1255,§3]

548.4 Certificate of registration. The secretary of state shall issue a certificate of registration to the applicant upon compliance with the requirements of this chapter. The certificate of registration shall be issued over the signature and seal of the secretary of state or his designee, bear the date of registration, and be affixed to a duplicate original application or a copy. A duplicate original application shall be retained by the secretary of state with respect to each registered mark. The retained duplicate original application or a copy shall be available for public examination.

A certificate of registration by the secretary of state, affixed to a duplicate original application or to a copy, shall be prima-facie evidence of the validity of registration and of the registrant's right to use the mark throughout this state in the manner described in the certificate of registration. [63GA, ch 1255,§4]

548.5 Duration and renewal. Registration of a mark under this chapter shall be effective for a term of ten years and may be renewed for successive ten-year periods. A renewal fee of ten dollars shall accompany an application for renewal of registration. Application for renewal shall be made within six months prior to the expiration of the registration on a form furnished by the secretary of state and shall include a verified statement that the mark is still in use in this state.

The secretary of state shall notify a registrant of the pending expiration of his registration. However, the failure of a registrant to receive due notice from the secretary of state shall not prevent expiration of a registration.

The term of any registration in force on the date on which this chapter becomes effective shall not be affected by this chapter, but any registration in force on said date can only be renewed under this chapter. [63GA, ch 1255,§5]

548.6 Assignment. Any mark registered under this chapter shall be assignable with the good will of the business in which the mark is used. A mark connected with a part of the good will of a business can be assigned with that part of the good will of the business. Assignment of a registration can only be effected by filing duplicate originals of an assignment, signed by the registrant, with the secretary of state together with a filing fee of three dollars. After filing the assignment, the secretary of state shall issue to the assignee, for the remainder of the term of the assigned registration, a new certificate attached to one of the duplicate originals. [63GA, ch 1255,§6]

1. Any registration under a prior law which has expired without being renewed under this chapter.

2. Any registration concerning which the secretary of state receives a voluntary request for cancellation from the registrant or the assignee of record.

3. Any registration granted under this chapter and not renewed in accordance with its provisions.

4. Any registration which a district court, in an action involving the registration and from which no appeal is or can be taken, finds:

a. That the registered mark has been abandoned, or

b. That the registrant is not the owner of the mark, or

c. That the registration was granted contrary to the provisions of this chapter, or

d. That the registration was obtained fraudulently, or

e. That the registered mark has become incapable of serving as a mark, or

f. That the registered mark is so similar to a mark registered in the United States patent office by another party to the litigation and not abandoned prior to the date of first use by the registrant under this chapter as to be likely to cause confusion, mistake, or deception of purchasers. However, registration under this chapter shall not be canceled if the registrant under this chapter proves that he has a concurrent registration for his mark in the United States patent office for an area including this state.

5. Any registration that a district court, from which no appeal is or can be taken, orders canceled on any ground. [63GA, ch 1255,§7]

548.8 Classification. The secretary of state shall establish a classification of goods and services for convenience in the administration of this chapter which shall not limit an applicant's or registrant's rights except as expressly provided by this chapter. [63GA, ch 1255,§8]

548.9 Fraudulent registration. Any person who, either for himself or on behalf of any other person, shall procure the registration of any mark under this chapter by knowingly making any false or fraudulent representation or declaration or by any other fraudulent means is liable for the damages caused by the fraudulent registration and in an action to recover these damages the court shall order cancellation of the fraudulently obtained registration. [63GA, ch 1255,§9]

548.10 Infringement. Any person who without the consent of the registrant uses any reproduction, counterfeit, copy, or colorable imitation of a mark registered under this chapter in a manner which is likely to cause confusion, mistake, or deception of purchasers; or reproduces, counterfeits, copies, or colorably imitates any registered mark and applies such reproduction, counterfeit, copy, or colorable imitation to labels, signs, prints, packages, wrappers, receptacles, or advertisements intended to be used in a manner which is likely to cause confusion, mistake, or deception of purchasers in this state; shall be liable in a civil action by the registrant of the mark, for any or all of the remedies provided in section 548.11. [63GA, ch 1255,§10]

1. The registrant of a mark that has been infringed may be granted an injunction against an infringer in accordance with the principles of equity. The court in its discretion may allow the registrant to recover the damages caused by the infringement or the profits of the infringer attributable to the infringement, or both. The court may order any counterfeits or imitations in the possession or under the control of an infringer to be destroyed and in exceptional cases the court may also award reasonable attorney fees to the prevailing party.

2. Dilution of distinctiveness of a mark registered under this chapter shall be a ground for injunctive relief according to the principles of equity. [63GA, ch 1255,§11]

Referred to in §548.10

548.12 Defenses. A registrant shall not use the letter "R" enclosed in a circle, thus ®, "Registered in the U. S. Patent Office" or "Reg. U. S. Patent Off." to give notice of registration under this chapter. Use of false notice of federal registration is an affirmative defense which precludes recovery of damages, profits, or injunctive relief under this chapter for the period during which false notice of federal registration is used. [63GA, ch 1255,§12]

548.13 Application. This chapter does not affect:

1. Rights, or the enforcement of rights, in marks or trade names acquired in good faith at any time at common law.

2. Rights, or the enforcement of rights in marks acquired under federal law.

3. Publishers, broadcasters, printers, or other persons engaged in the dissemination of information or reproduction of printed or pictorial matter who publish, broadcast, or reproduce material without knowledge of its infringing character.

4. Use of the Iowa certification mark as provided in section 28.7, subsection 4.

5. Marks for dairy products, as provided for in sections 192.23 through 192.39, inclusive. [63GA, ch 1255,§13]

2. In the absence of proof of the actual cost to a competing wholesaler or to a competing retailer, as the case may be, such cost shall be the lowest cost to wholesalers or the lowest cost to retailers, as the case may be, within the same trading area as determined by a cost survey made pursuant to section 551A.8, subsection 2. 2. Cost survey. Where a cost survey pursuant to recognized statistical and cost accounting practices has been made for the trading area in which a violation of this chapter is committed or charged, to determine and establish the lowest cost to wholesalers or the lowest cost to retailers within the area, the cost survey shall be deemed competent evidence in any action or proceeding under this chapter to establish actual cost to the wholesaler or actual cost to the retailer complained against. In such surveys to determine cost to the wholesaler or retailer there shall be included in the cost of doing business without limitation, labor, rent, depreciation, sales costs, compensation, maintenance of equipment, cartage, licenses, taxes, insurance and other expenses. The director of revenue may, upon notice and after hearing, suspend or revoke any permit issued under the provisions of the cigarette tax chapter and the rules and regulations of the director promulgated thereunder, for failure of the permit holder to comply with any provision of this unfair cigarette sales chapter or any rule or regulation adopted thereunder. PART 2

GENERAL DEFINITIONS AND PRINCIPLES OF INTERPRETATION

554.1201 General definitions. Subject to additional definitions contained in the subsequent Articles of this chapter which are applicable to specific Articles or Parts thereof, and unless the context otherwise requires, in this chapter:

1. "Action" in the sense of a judicial proceeding includes recoupment, counterclaim, setoff, suit in equity and any other proceedings in which rights are determined.

2. "Aggrieved party" means a party entitled to resort to a remedy.

3. "Agreement" means the bargain of the parties in fact as found in their language or by implication from other circumstances including course of dealing or usage of trade or course of performance as provided in this chapter (sections 554.1205 and 554.2208). Whether an agreement has legal consequences is determined by the provisions of this chapter, if applicable; otherwise by the law of contracts (section 554.1103). (Compare "Contract".)

Referred to in §554.9204, subsection 1

4. "Bank" means any person engaged in the business of banking.

5. "Bearer" means the person in possession of an instrument, document of title, or security payable to bearer or endorsed in blank.

6. "Bill of lading" means a document evidencing the receipt of goods for shipment issued by a person engaged in the business of transporting or forwarding goods, and includes an airbill. "Airbill" means a document serving for air transportation as a bill of lading does for marine or rail transportation, and includes an air consignment note or air waybill.

7. "Branch" includes a separately incorporated foreign branch of a bank.

8. "Burden of establishing" a fact means the burden of persuading the triers of fact that the existence of the fact is more probable than its nonexistence.

9. "Buyer in ordinary course of business" means a person who in good faith and without knowledge that the sale to him is in violation of the ownership rights or security interest of a third party in the goods buys in ordinary course from a person in the business of selling goods of that kind but does not include a pawnbroker. "Buying" may be for cash or by exchange of other property or on secured or unsecured credit and includes receiving goods or documents of title under a pre-existing contract for sale but does not include a transfer in bulk or as security for or in total or partial satisfaction of a money debt.

Referred to in §554.9307

10. "Conspicuous": A term or clause is conspicuous when it is so written that a reasonable person against whom it is to operate ought to have noticed it. A printed heading in capitals (as: "Nonnegotiable Bill of Lading") is conspicuous. Language in the body of a form is "conspicuous" if it is in larger or other contrasting type or color. But in a telegram any stated term is "conspicuous". Whether a term or clause is "conspicuous" or not is for decision by the court.

11. "Contract" means the total legal obligation which results from the parties' agreement as affected by this chapter and any other applicable rules of law. (Compare "Agreement".)

12. "Creditor" includes a general creditor, a secured creditor, a lien creditor and any representative of creditors, including an assignee for the benefit of creditors, a trustee in bankruptcy, a receiver in equity and a legal representative of a decedent's or incompetent's estate.

13. "Defendant" includes a person in the position of defendant in a cross-action or counterclaim.

14. "Delivery" with respect to instruments, documents of title, chattel paper or securities means voluntary transfer of possession.

15. "Document of title" includes bill of lading, dock warrant, dock receipt, warehouse receipt or order for the delivery of goods, and also any other document which in the regular course of business or financing is treated as adequately evidencing that the person in possession of it is entitled to receive, hold and dispose of the document and the goods it covers. To be a document of title a document must purport to be issued by or addressed to a bailee and purport to cover goods in the bailee's possession which are either identified or are fungible portions of an identified mass.

16. "Fault" means wrongful act, omission or breach.

17. "Fungible" with respect to goods or securities means goods or securities of which any unit is, by nature or usage of trade, the equivalent of any other like unit. Goods which are not fungible shall be deemed fungible for the purposes of this chapter to the extent that under a particular agreement or document unlike units are treated as equivalents.

18. "Genuine" means free of forgery or counterfeiting.

19. "Good faith" means honesty in fact in the conduct or transaction concerned.

20. "Holder" means a person who is in possession of a document of title or an instrument or an investment security drawn, issued or endorsed to him or to his order or to bearer or in blank.

 a. he has actual knowledge of it; or
 b. he has received a notice or notification of it; or

c. from all the facts and circumstances known to him at the time in question he has reason to know that it exists. A person "knows" or has "knowledge" of a fact when he has actual knowledge of it. "Discover" or "learn" or a word or phrase of similar import refers to knowledge rather than to reason to know. The time and circumstances under which a notice or notification may cease to be effective are not determined by this chapter.

26. A person "notifies" or "gives" a notice or notification to another by taking such steps as may be reasonably required to inform the other in ordinary course whether or not such other actually comes to know of it. A person "receives" a notice or notification when

a. it comes to his attention; or
 b. it is duly delivered at the place of business through which the contract was made or at any other place held out by him as the place for receipt of such communications.

27. Notice, knowledge or a notice or notification received by an organization is effective for a particular transaction from the time when it is brought to the attention of the individual conducting that transaction, and in any event from the time when it would have been brought to his attention if the organization had exercised due diligence. An organization exercises due diligence if it maintains reasonable routines for communicating significant information to the person conducting the transaction and there is reasonable compliance with the routines. Due diligence does not require an individual acting for the organization to communicate information unless such communication is part of his regular duties or unless he has reason to know of the transaction and that the transaction would be materially affected by the information.

28. "Organization" includes a corporation, government or governmental subdivision or agency, business trust, estate, trust, partnership or association, two or more persons having a joint or common interest, or any other legal or commercial entity.

29. "Party", as distinct from "third party", means a person who has engaged in a transaction or made an agreement within this chapter.

31. "Presumption" or "presumed" means that the trier of fact must find the existence of the fact presumed unless and until evidence is introduced which would support a finding of its nonexistence.

32. "Purchase" includes taking by sale, discount, negotiation, mortgage, pledge, lien, issue or reissue, gift or any other voluntary transaction creating an interest in property.

33. "Purchaser" means a person who takes by purchase.

34. "Remedy" means any remedial right to which an aggrieved party is entitled with or without resort to a tribunal.

35. "Representative" includes an agent, an officer of a corporation or association, and a trustee, executor or administrator of an estate, or any other person empowered to act for another.

36. "Rights" includes remedies.

37. "Security interest" means an interest in personal property or fixtures which secures payment or performance of an obligation. The retention or reservation of title by a seller of goods notwithstanding shipment or delivery to the buyer (section 554.2401) is limited in effect to a reservation of a "security interest". The term also includes any interest of a buyer of accounts, chattel paper, or contract rights which is subject to Article 9. The special property interest of a buyer of goods on identification of such goods to a contract for sale under section 554.2401 is not a "security interest", but a buyer may also acquire a "security interest" by complying with Article 9. Unless a lease or consignment is intended as security, reservation of title thereunder is not a "security interest" but a consignment is in any event subject to the provisions on consignment sales (section 554.2326). Whether a lease is intended as security is to be determined by the facts of each case; however, (a) the inclusion of an option to purchase does not of itself make the lease one intended for security, and (b) an agreement that upon compliance with the terms of the lease the lessee shall become or has the option to become the owner of the property for no additional consideration or for a nominal consideration does make the lease one intended for security. The term also includes any interest of an owner of farm products whose possession is entrusted to a person engaged in farming operations.

38. "Send" in connection with any writing or notice means to deposit in the mail or deliver for transmission by any other usual means of communication with postage or cost of transmission provided for and properly addressed and in the case of an instrument to an address specified thereon or otherwise agreed, or if there be none to any address reasonable under the circumstances. The receipt of any writing or notice within the time at which it would have arrived if properly sent has the effect of a proper sending.

39. "Signed" includes any symbol executed or adopted by a party with present intention to authenticate a writing.

40. "Surety" includes guarantor.

41. "Telegram" includes a message transmitted by radio, teletype, cable, any mechanical method of transmission, or the like.

42. "Term" means that portion of an agreement which relates to a particular matter.

43. "Unauthorized" signature or endorsement means one made without actual, implied or apparent authority and includes a forgery.

44. "Value". Except as otherwise provided with respect to negotiable instruments and bank collections (sections 554.3303, 554.4208 and 554.4209) a person gives "value" for rights if he acquires them

a. in return for a binding commitment to extend credit or for the extension of immediately available credit whether or not drawn upon and whether or not a charge-back is provided for in the event of difficulties in collection; or

b. as security for or in total or partial satisfaction of a pre-existing claim; or

c. by accepting delivery pursuant to a pre-existing contract for purchase; or

d. generally, in return for any consideration sufficient to support a simple contract.

45. "Warehouse receipt" means a receipt issued by a person engaged in the business of storing goods for hire.

46. "Written" or "writing" includes printing, typewriting or any other intentional reduction to tangible form. [S13,§§1889-a, 3060-a6, -a25, -a27, -a56, -a191, 3138-a1, -a58, -b, -b52; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§8245, 8297, 9266, 9466, 9485-9487, 9516, 9652, 9661, 9718, 9932, 9934, 9935, 10000, 10005; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§487.1, 487.54, 528.61, 541.6, 541.25-541.27, 541.56, 541.192, 542.1, 542.58, 554.3, 554.6, 554.7, 554.72, 554.77; C50, 54, 58, 62, §493A.22; C58, 62, §539.12; C66, §554.1201]

554.1202 Prima-facie evidence by third party documents. A document in due form purporting to be a bill of lading, policy or certificate of insurance, official weigher's or inspector's certificate, consular invoice, or any other document authorized or required by the contract to be issued by a third party shall be prima-facie evidence of its own authenticity and genuineness and of the facts stated in the document by the third party. [C66, §554.1202]

554.1203 Obligation of good faith. Every contract or duty within this chapter imposes an obligation of good faith in its performance or enforcement. [C66, §554.1203]

554.1204 Time — reasonable time — "seasonably".

1. Whenever this chapter requires any action to be taken within a reasonable time, any time which is not manifestly unreasonable may be fixed by agreement.

2. What is a reasonable time for taking any action depends on the nature, purpose and circumstances of such action.

3. An action is taken "seasonably" when it is taken at or within the time agreed or if no time is agreed at or within a reasonable time. [S13, §3060-a193; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9654, 9972; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§541.194, 554.44; C66, §554.1204]

554.1205 Course of dealing and usage of trade.

1. A course of dealing is a sequence of previous conduct between the parties to a particular transaction which is fairly to be regarded as establishing a common basis of understanding for interpreting their expressions and other conduct.

2. A usage of trade is any practice or method of dealing having such regularity of observance in a place, vocation or trade as to justify an expectation that it will be observed with respect to the transaction in question. The existence and scope of such a usage are to be proved as facts. If it is established that such a usage is embodied in a written trade code or similar writing the interpretation of the writing is for the court.

3. A course of dealing between parties and any usage of trade in the vocation or trade in which they are engaged or of which they are or should be aware give particular meaning to and supplement or qualify terms of an agreement.

4. The express terms of an agreement and an applicable course of dealing or usage of trade shall be construed wherever reasonable as consistent with each other; but when such construction is unreasonable express terms control both course of dealing and usage of trade and course of dealing controls usage of trade.

5. An applicable usage of trade in the place where any part of performance is to occur shall be used in interpreting the agreement as to that part of the performance.

6. Evidence of a relevant usage of trade offered by one party is not admissible unless and until he has given the other party such notice as the court finds sufficient to prevent unfair surprise to the latter. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9933, 9944, 9947, 10000; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.10, 554.16, 554.19, 554.72; C66, §554.1205]

1. Except in the cases described in subsection 2 of this section a contract for the sale of personal property is not enforceable by way of action or defense beyond five thousand dollars in amount or value of remedy unless there is some writing which indicates that a contract for sale has been made between the parties at a defined or stated price, reasonably identifies the subject matter, and is signed by the party against whom enforcement is sought or by his authorized agent.

2. Subsection 1 of this section does not apply to contracts for the sale of goods (section 554.2201) nor of securities (section 554.8319) nor to security agreements (section 554.9203). [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9933; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.4; C66, §554.1206]

554.1207 Performance or acceptance under reservation of rights. A party who with ex-

PLICIT reservation of rights performs or promises performance or assents to performance in a manner demanded or offered by the other party does not thereby prejudice the rights reserved. Such words as "without prejudice", "under protest" or the like are sufficient. [C66, §554.1207]

554.1208 Option to accelerate at will. A term providing that one party or his successor in interest may accelerate payment or performance or require collateral or additional collateral "at will" or "when he deems himself insecure" or in words of similar import shall be construed to mean that he shall have power to do so only if he in good faith believes that the prospect of payment or performance is impaired. The burden of establishing lack of good faith is on the party against whom the power has been exercised. [C66, §554.1208]

1. "Merchant" means a person who deals in goods of the kind or otherwise by his occupation holds himself out as having knowledge or skill peculiar to the practices or goods involved in the transaction or to whom such knowledge or skill may be attributed by his employment of an agent or broker or other intermediary who by his occupation holds himself out as having such knowledge or skill.

2. "Financing agency" means a bank, finance company or other person who in the ordinary course of business makes advances against goods or documents of title or who by arrangement with either the seller or the buyer intervenes in ordinary course to make or collect payment due or claimed under the contract for sale, as by purchasing or paying the seller's draft or making advances against it or by merely taking it for collection whether or not documents of title accompany the draft. "Financing agency" includes also a bank or other person who similarly intervenes between persons who are in the position of seller and buyer in respect to the goods (section 554.2707).

3. "Between merchants" means in any transaction with respect to which both parties are chargeable with the knowledge or skill of merchants. [S13, §§3138-b34, b36; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§8279, 8281; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§487.35, 487.37; C66, §554.2104]

554.2105 Definitions: transferability — "goods" — "future" goods—"lot"—"commercial unit".

1. "Goods" means all things (including specially manufactured goods) which are movable at the time of identification to the contract for sale other than the money in which the price is to be paid, investment securities (Article 8) and things in action. "Goods" also includes the unborn young of animals and growing crops and other identified things attached to realty as described in the section on goods to be severed from realty (section 554.2107).

2. Goods must be both existing and identified before any interest in them can pass. Goods which are not both existing and identified are "future" goods. A purported present sale of future goods or of any interest therein operates as a contract to sell.

3. There may be a sale of a part interest in existing identified goods.

4. An undivided share in an identified bulk of fungible goods is sufficiently identified to be sold although the quantity of the bulk is not determined. Any agreed proportion of such a bulk or any quantity thereof agreed upon by number, weight or other measure may to the extent of the seller's interest in the bulk be sold to the buyer who then becomes an owner in common.

5. "Lot" means a parcel or a single article which is the subject matter of a separate sale or delivery, whether or not it is sufficient to perform the contract.

6. "Commercial unit" means such a unit of goods as by commercial usage is a single whole for purposes of sale and division of which materially impairs its character or value on the market or in use. A commercial unit may be a single article (as a machine) or a set of articles (as a suite of furniture or an assortment of sizes) or a quantity (as a bale, gross, or carload) or any other unit treated in use or in the relevant market as a single whole. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9934, 9935, 10005; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.6, 554.7, 554.77; C66, §554.2105]

554.2106 Definitions: "contract" — "agreement"—"contract for sale"—"sale"—"present sale" — "conforming" to contract — "termination"—"cancellation".

1. In this Article unless the context otherwise requires "contract" and "agreement" are limited to those relating to the present or future sale of goods. "Contract for sale" includes both a present sale of goods and a contract to sell goods at a future time. A "sale" consists in the passing of title from the seller to the buyer for a price (section 554.2401). A "present sale" means a sale which is accomplished by the making of the contract.

2. Goods or conduct including any part of a performance are "conforming" or conform to the contract when they are in accordance with the obligations under the contract.

3. "Termination" occurs when either party pursuant to a power created by agreement or law puts an end to the contract otherwise than for its breach. On "termination" all obligations which are still executory on both sides are discharged but any right based on prior breach or performance survives.

4. "Cancellation" occurs when either party puts an end to the contract for breach by the other and its effect is the same as that of "termination" except that the canceling party also retains any remedy for breach of the whole contract or any unperformed balance. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9930, 9940; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.1, 554.12; C66, §2106]

554.2107 Goods to be severed from realty: recording.

1. A contract for the sale of timber, minerals or the like or a structure or its materials to be removed from realty is a contract for the sale of goods within this Article if they are to be severed by the seller but until severance a purported present sale thereof which is not effective as a transfer of an interest in land is effective only as a contract to sell.

2. A contract for the sale apart from the land of growing crops or other things attached to realty and capable of severance without material harm thereto but not described in subsection 1 is a contract for the sale of goods within this Article whether the subject matter is to be severed by the buyer or by the seller even though it forms part of the realty at the time of contracting, and the parties can by identification effect a present sale before severance.

3. The provisions of this section are subject to any third party rights provided by the law relating to realty records, and the contract for sale may be executed and recorded as a document transferring an interest in land and shall then constitute notice to third parties of the buyer's rights under the contract for sale. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10005; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.77; C66, §554.2107]

PART 2

FORM, FORMATION AND READJUSTMENT OF CONTRACT

554.2201 Formal requirements — statute of frauds.

1. Except as otherwise provided in this section a contract for the sale of goods for the price of five hundred dollars or more is not enforceable by way of action or defense unless there is some writing sufficient to indicate that a contract for sale has been made between the parties and signed by the party against whom enforcement is sought or by his authorized agent or broker. A writing is not insufficient because it omits or incorrectly states a term agreed upon but the contract is not enforceable under this paragraph beyond the quantity of goods shown in such writing.

2. Between merchants if within a reasonable time a writing in confirmation of the contract and sufficient against the sender is received and the party receiving it has reason to know its contents, it satisfies the requirements of subsection 1 against such party unless written notice of objection to its contents is given within ten days after it is received.

3. A contract which does not satisfy the requirements of subsection 1 but which is valid in other respects is enforceable

a. if the goods are to be specially manufactured for the buyer and are not suitable for sale to others in the ordinary course of the seller's business and the seller, before notice of repudiation is received and under circumstances which reasonably indicate that the goods are for the buyer, has made either a substantial beginning of their manufacture or commitments for their procurement; or

b. if the party against whom enforcement is sought admits in his pleading, testimony or otherwise in court that a contract for sale was made, but the contract is not enforceable under this provision beyond the quantity of goods admitted; or

c. with respect to goods for which payment has been made and accepted or which have been received and accepted (section 554.2606). [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9933; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.4; C66, §554.2201]

Referred to in §§554.1206, 554.2209, 554.2326, subsection 4

554.2202 Final written expression—parol or extrinsic evidence. Terms with respect to which the confirmatory memoranda of the parties agree or which are otherwise set forth in a writing intended by the parties as a final expression of their agreement with respect to such terms as are included therein may not be contradicted by evidence of any prior agreement or of a contemporaneous oral agreement but may be explained or supplemented

a. by course of dealing or usage of trade (section 554.1205) or by course of performance (section 554.2208); and

b. by evidence of consistent additional terms unless the court finds the writing to have been intended also as a complete and exclusive statement of the terms of the agreement. [C66, §554.2202]

Referred to in §§554.2316(1), 554.2326(4)

554.2203 Seals inoperative. The affixing of a seal to a writing evidencing a contract for sale or an offer to buy or sell goods does not constitute the writing a sealed instrument and the law with respect to sealed instruments does not apply to such a contract or offer. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9932; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.3; C66, §554.2203]

554.2204 Formation in general.

1. A contract for sale of goods may be made in any manner sufficient to show agreement, including conduct by both parties which recognizes the existence of such a contract.

2. An agreement sufficient to constitute a contract for sale may be found even though the moment of its making is undetermined.

3. Even though one or more terms are left open a contract for sale does not fail for indefiniteness if the parties have intended to make a contract and there is a reasonably certain basis for giving an appropriate remedy. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9930, 9932; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.1, 554.3; C66, §554.2204]

Referred to in §554.2311, subsection 1

554.2205 Firm offers. An offer by a merchant to buy or sell goods in a signed writing which by its terms gives assurance that it will be held open is not revocable, for lack of consideration, during the time stated or if no time is stated for a reasonable time, but in no event may such period of irrevocability exceed three months; but any such term of assurance on a form supplied by the offeree must be separately signed by the offeror. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9930, 9932; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.1, 554.3; C66, §554.2205]

554.2206 Offer and acceptance in formation of contract.

1. Unless otherwise unambiguously indicated by the language or circumstances

a. an offer to make a contract shall be construed as inviting acceptance in any manner and by any medium reasonable in the circumstances;

b. an order or other offer to buy goods for prompt or current shipment shall be construed as inviting acceptance either by a prompt promise to ship or by the prompt or current shipment of conforming or nonconforming goods, but such a shipment of nonconforming goods does not constitute an acceptance if the seller seasonably notifies the buyer that the shipment is offered only as an accommodation to the buyer.

2. Where the beginning of a requested performance is a reasonable mode of acceptance an offeror who is not notified of acceptance within a reasonable time may treat the offer as having lapsed before acceptance. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9930, 9932; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.1, 554.3; C66, §554.2206]

554.2207 Additional terms in acceptance or confirmation.

1. A definite and seasonable expression of acceptance or a written confirmation which is sent within a reasonable time operates as an acceptance even though it states terms additional to or different from those offered or agreed upon, unless acceptance is expressly made conditional on assent to the additional or different terms.

2. The additional or different terms are to be construed as proposals for addition to the contract. Between merchants such terms become part of the contract unless:

a. the offer expressly limits acceptance to the terms of the offer;

b. they materially alter it; or

c. notification of objection to them has already been given or is given within a reasonable time after notice of them is received.

3. Conduct by both parties which recognizes the existence of a contract is sufficient to establish a contract for sale although the writings of the parties do not otherwise establish a contract. In such case the terms of the particular contract consist of those terms on which the writings of the parties agree, together with any supplementary terms incorporated under any other provisions of this chapter. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9930, 9932; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.1, 554.3; C66, §554.2207]

554.2208 Course of performance or practical construction.

1. Where the contract for sale involves repeated occasions for performance by either party with knowledge of the nature of the performance and opportunity for objection to it by the other, any course of performance accepted or acquiesced in without objection shall be relevant to determine the meaning of the agreement.

2. The express terms of the agreement and any such course of performance, as well as any course of dealing and usage of trade, shall be construed whenever reasonable as consistent with each other; but when such construction is unreasonable, express terms shall control course of performance and course of performance shall control both course of dealing and usage of trade (section 554.1205).

3. Subject to the provisions of the next section on modification and waiver, such course of performance shall be relevant to show a waiver or modification of any term inconsistent with such course of performance. [C66, §554.2208]

Referred to in §§554.1201, subsection 3, 554.2202

554.2209 Modification, rescission and waiver.

1. An agreement modifying a contract within this Article needs no consideration to be binding.

2. A signed agreement which excludes modification or rescission except by a signed writing cannot be otherwise modified or rescinded, but except as between merchants such a requirement on a form supplied by the merchant must be separately signed by the other party.

3. The requirements of the statute of frauds section of this Article (section 554.2201) must be satisfied if the contract as modified is within its provisions.

4. Although an attempt at modification or rescission does not satisfy the requirements of subsection 2 or 3 it can operate as a waiver.

5. A party who has made a waiver affecting an executory portion of the contract may retract the waiver by reasonable notification received by the other party that strict performance will be required of any term waived, unless the retraction would be unjust in view of a material change of position in reliance on the waiver. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9990; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§554.62; C66,§554.2209]

1. A party may perform his duty through a delegate unless otherwise agreed or unless the other party has a substantial interest in having his original promisor perform or control the acts required by the contract. No delegation of performance relieves the party delegating of any duty to perform or any liability for breach.

2. Unless otherwise agreed all rights of either seller or buyer can be assigned except where the assignment would materially change the duty of the other party, or increase materially the burden or risk imposed on him by his contract, or impair materially his chance of obtaining return performance. A right to damages for breach of the whole contract or a right arising out of the assignor's due performance of his entire obligation can be assigned despite agreement otherwise.

3. Unless the circumstances indicate the contrary a prohibition of assignment of "the contract" is to be construed as barring only the delegation to the assignee of the assignor's performance.

4. An assignment of "the contract" or of "all my rights under the contract" or an assignment in similar general terms is an assignment of rights and unless the language or the circumstances (as in an assignment for security) indicate the contrary, it is a delegation of performance of the duties of the assignor and its acceptance by the assignee constitutes a promise by him to perform those duties. This promise is enforceable by either the assignor or the other party to the original contract.

5. The other party may treat any assignment which delegates performance as creating reasonable grounds for insecurity and may without prejudice to his rights against the assignor demand assurances from the assignee (section 554.2609). [C66,§554.2210]

PART 3

GENERAL OBLIGATION AND CONSTRUCTION OF CONTRACT

554.2301 General obligations of parties. The obligation of the seller is to transfer and deliver and that of the buyer is to accept and pay in accordance with the contract. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9940, 9970; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.12, 554.42; C66,§554.2301]

554.2302 Unconscionable contract or clause.

1. If the court as a matter of law finds the contract or any clause of the contract to have been unconscionable at the time it was made the court may refuse to enforce the contract, or it may enforce the remainder of the contract without the unconscionable clause, or it may so limit the application of any unconscionable clause as to avoid any unconscionable result.

2. When it is claimed or appears to the court that the contract or any clause thereof may be unconscionable the parties shall be afforded a reasonable opportunity to present evidence as to its commercial setting, purpose and effect to aid the court in making the determination. [C66,§554.2302]

554.2303 Allocation or division of risks.

Where this Article allocates a risk or a burden as between the parties "unless otherwise agreed", the agreement may not only shift the allocation but may also divide the risk or burden. [C66,§554.2303]

554.2304 Price payable in money, goods, realty, or otherwise.

1. The price can be made payable in money or otherwise. If it is payable in whole or in part in goods each party is a seller of the goods which he is to transfer.

2. Even though all or part of the price is payable in an interest in realty the transfer of the goods and the seller's obligations with reference to them are subject to this Article, but not the transfer of the interest in realty or the transferor's obligations in connection therewith. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9938; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§554.10; C66,§554.2304]

554.2305 Open price term.

1. The parties if they so intend can conclude a contract for sale even though the price is not settled. In such a case the price is a reasonable price at the time for delivery if

- a. nothing is said as to price; or
- b. the price is left to be agreed by the parties and they fail to agree; or
- c. the price is to be fixed in terms of some agreed market or other standard as set or recorded by a third person or agency and it is not so set or recorded.

2. A price to be fixed by the seller or by the buyer means a price for him to fix in good faith.

3. When a price left to be fixed otherwise than by agreement of the parties fails to be fixed through fault of one party the other may at his option treat the contract as canceled or himself fix a reasonable price.

4. Where, however, the parties intend not to be bound unless the price be fixed or agreed and it is not fixed or agreed there is no contract. In such a case the buyer must return any goods already received or if unable so to do must pay their reasonable value at the time of delivery and the seller must return any portion of the price paid on account. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9938, 9939; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§554.10, 554.11; C66,§554.2305]

554.2306 Output, requirements and exclusive dealings.

1. A term which measures the quantity by the output of the seller or the requirements of the buyer means such actual output or requirements as may occur in good faith, except that no quantity unreasonably disproportionate to any stated estimate or in the absence of a stated estimate to any normal or otherwise comparable prior output or requirements may be tendered or demanded.

2. A lawful agreement by either the seller or the buyer for exclusive dealing in the kind of goods concerned imposes unless otherwise agreed an obligation by the seller to use best efforts to supply the goods and by the buyer to use best efforts to promote their sale. [C66, §554.2306]

554.2307 Delivery in single lot or several lots. Unless otherwise agreed all goods called for by a contract for sale must be tendered in a single delivery and payment is due only on such tender but where the circumstances give either party the right to make or demand delivery in lots the price if it can be apportioned may be demanded for each lot. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9974; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.46; C66, §554.2307]

a. the place for delivery of goods is the seller's place of business or if he has none his residence; but

b. in a contract for sale of identified goods which to the knowledge of the parties at the time of contracting are in some other place, that place is the place for their delivery; and

c. documents of title may be delivered through customary banking channels. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9972; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.44; C66, §554.2308]

554.2309 Absence of specific time provisions—notice of termination.

1. The time for shipment or delivery or any other action under a contract if not provided in this Article or agreed upon shall be a reasonable time.

2. Where the contract provides for successive performances but is indefinite in duration it is valid for a reasonable time but unless otherwise agreed may be terminated at any time by either party.

3. Termination of a contract by one party except on the happening of an agreed event requires that reasonable notification be received by the other party and an agreement dispensing with notification is invalid if its operation would be unconscionable. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9972, 9974, 9976, 9977; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.44, 554.46, 554.48, 554.49; C66, §554.2309]

a. payment is due at the time and place at which the buyer is to receive the goods even though the place of shipment is the place of delivery; and

b. if the seller is authorized to send the goods he may ship them under reservation, and may tender the documents of title, but the buyer may inspect the goods after their arrival before payment is due unless such inspection is inconsistent with the terms of the contract (section 554.2513); and

c. if delivery is authorized and made by way of documents of title otherwise than by subsection "b" then payment is due at the time and place at which the buyer is to receive the documents regardless of where the goods are to be received; and

d. where the seller is required or authorized to ship the goods on credit the credit period runs from the time of shipment but postdating the invoice or delaying its dispatch will correspondingly delay the starting of the credit period. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9971, 9976; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.43, 554.48; C66, §554.2310]

554.2311 Options and co-operation respecting performance.

1. An agreement for sale which is otherwise sufficiently definite (subsection 3 of section 554.2204) to be a contract is not made invalid by the fact that it leaves particulars of performance to be specified by one of the parties. Any such specification must be made in good faith and within limits set by commercial reasonableness.

2. Unless otherwise agreed specifications relating to assortment of the goods are at the buyer's option and except as otherwise provided in subsections 1 "c" and 3 of section 554.2319 specifications or arrangements relating to shipment are at the seller's option.

3. Where such specification would materially affect the other party's performance but is not seasonably made or where one party's co-operation is necessary to the agreed performance of the other but is not seasonably forthcoming the other party in addition to all other remedies

a. is excused for any resulting delay in his own performance; and

b. may also either proceed to perform in any reasonable manner or after the time for a material part of his own performance treat the failure to specify or to co-operate as a breach by failure to deliver or accept the goods. [C66, §554.2311]

Referred to in §554.2319, subsection 3

554.2312 Warranty of title and against infringement — buyer's obligation against infringement.

1. Subject to subsection 2 there is in a contract for sale a warranty by the seller that

a. the title conveyed shall be good, and its transfer rightful; and

b. the goods shall be delivered free from any security interest or other lien or encumbrance of which the buyer at the time of contracting has no knowledge.

2. A warranty under subsection 1 will be excluded or modified only by specific language or by circumstances which give the buyer reason to know that the person selling does not claim title in himself or that he is purporting to sell only such right or title as he or a third person may have.

3. Unless otherwise agreed a seller who is a merchant regularly dealing in goods of the kind warrants that the goods shall be delivered free of the rightful claim of any third person by way of infringement or the like but a buyer who furnishes specifications to the seller must hold the seller harmless against any such claim which arises out of compliance with the specifications. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9942; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.14; C66, §554.2312]

Referred to in §554.2607, subsections 3(b), 5(b) and 6

554.2313 Express warranties by affirmation, promise, description, sample.

1. Express warranties by the seller are created as follows:

a. Any affirmation of fact or promise made by the seller to the buyer which relates to the goods and becomes part of the basis of the bargain creates an express warranty that the goods shall conform to the affirmation or promise.

b. Any description of the goods which is made part of the basis of the bargain creates an express warranty that the goods shall conform to the description.

c. Any sample or model which is made part of the basis of the bargain creates an express warranty that the whole of the goods shall conform to the sample or model.

2. It is not necessary to the creation of an express warranty that the seller use formal words such as "warranty" or "guarantee" or that he have a specific intention to make a warranty, but an affirmation merely of the value of the goods or a statement purporting to be merely the seller's opinion or commendation of the goods does not create a warranty. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9941, 9943, 9945; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.13, 554.15, 554.17; C66, §554.2313]

1. Unless excluded or modified (section 554.2316), a warranty that the goods shall be merchantable is implied in a contract for their sale if the seller is a merchant with respect to goods of that kind. Under this section the serving for value of food or drink to be consumed either on the premises or elsewhere is a sale.

2. Goods to be merchantable must be at least such as a. pass without objection in the trade under the contract description; and

b. in the case of fungible goods, are of fair average quality within the description; and

c. are fit for the ordinary purposes for which such goods are used; and

d. run, within the variations permitted by the agreement, of even kind, quality and quantity within each unit and among all units involved; and

e. are adequately contained, packaged, and labeled as the agreement may require; and

f. conform to the promises or affirmations of fact made on the container or label if any.

3. Unless excluded or modified (section 554.2316) other implied warranties may arise from course of dealing or usage of trade. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9944; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.16; C66, §554.2314]

554.2315 Implied warranty—fitness for particular purpose. Where the seller at the time of contracting has reason to know any particular purpose for which the goods are required and that the buyer is relying on the seller's skill or judgment to select or furnish suitable goods, there is unless excluded or modified under the next section an implied warranty that the goods shall be fit for such purpose. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9944; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.16; C66, §554.2315]

554.2316 Exclusion or modification of warranties.

1. Words or conduct relevant to the creation of an express warranty and words or conduct tending to negate or limit warranty shall be construed wherever reasonable as consistent with each other; but subject to the provisions of this Article on parol or extrinsic evidence (section 554.2202) negation or limitation is inoperative to the extent that such construction is unreasonable.

2. Subject to subsection 3, to exclude or modify the implied warranty of merchantability or any part of it the language must mention merchantability and in case of a writing must be conspicuous, and to exclude or modify any implied warranty of fitness the exclusion must be by a writing and conspicuous. Language to exclude all implied warranties of fitness is sufficient if it states, for example, that "There are no warranties which extend beyond the description on the face hereof."

3. Notwithstanding subsection 2

a. unless the circumstances indicate otherwise, all implied warranties are excluded by expressions like "as is", "with all faults" or other language which in common understanding calls the buyer's attention to the exclusion of warranties and makes plain that there is no implied warranty; and

b. when the buyer before entering into the contract has examined the goods or the sample or model as fully as he desired or has refused to examine the goods there is no implied warranty with regard to defects which an examination ought in the circumstances to have revealed to him; and

c. an implied warranty can also be excluded or modified by course of dealing or course of performance or usage of trade.

4. Remedies for breach of warranty can be limited in accordance with the provisions of this Article on liquidation or limitation of damages and on contractual modification of remedy (sections 554.2718 and 554.2719). [C66, §554.2316]

Referred to in §554.2314, subsections 1 and 3

554.2317 Cumulation and conflict of warranties express or implied. Warranties whether express or implied shall be construed as consistent with each other and as cumulative, but if such construction is unreasonable the intention of the parties shall determine which warranty is dominant. In ascertaining that intention the following rules apply:

a. Exact or technical specifications displace an inconsistent sample or model or general language of description.

b. A sample from an existing bulk displaces inconsistent general language of description.

c. Express warranties displace inconsistent implied warranties other than an implied warranty of fitness for a particular purpose. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9943-9945; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.15-554.17; C66, §554.2317]

554.2318 Third party beneficiaries of warranties express or implied. A seller's warranty whether express or implied extends to any natural person who is in the family or household of his buyer or who is a guest in his home if it is reasonable to expect that such person may use, consume or be affected by the goods and who is injured in person by breach of the warranty. A seller may not exclude or limit the operation of this section. [C66, §554.2318]

554.2319 F.O.B. and F.A.S. terms.

1. Unless otherwise agreed the term F.O.B. (which means "free on board") at a named place, even though used only in connection with the stated price, is a delivery term under which

a. when the term is F.O.B. the place of shipment, the seller must at that place ship the goods in the manner provided in this Article (section 554.2504) and bear the expense and risk of putting them into the possession of the carrier; or

b. when the term is F.O.B. the place of destination, the seller must at his own expense and risk transport the goods to that place and there tender delivery of them in the manner provided in this Article (section 554.2503);

c. when under either "a" or "b" the term is also F.O.B. vessel, car or other vehicle, the seller must in addition at his own expense and risk load the goods on board. If the term is F.O.B. vessel the buyer must name the vessel and in an appropriate case the seller must comply with the provisions of this Article on the form of bill of lading (section 554.2323).

Referred to in §554.2311, subsection 2

2. Unless otherwise agreed the term F.A.S. vessel (which means "free alongside") at a named port, even though used only in connection with the stated price, is a delivery term under which the seller must

a. at his own expense and risk deliver the goods alongside the vessel in the manner usual in that port or on a dock designated and provided by the buyer; and

b. obtain and tender a receipt for the goods in exchange for which the carrier is under a duty to issue a bill of lading.

3. Unless otherwise agreed in any case falling within subsection 1 "a" or "c" or subsection 2 the buyer must seasonably give any needed instructions for making delivery, including when the term is F.A.S. or F.O.B. the loading berth of the vessel and in an appropriate case its name and sailing date. The seller may treat the failure of needed instructions as a failure of co-operation under this Article (section 554.2311). He may also at his option move the goods in any reasonable manner preparatory to delivery or shipment.

Referred to in §554.2311, subsection 2

4. Under the term F.O.B. vessel or F.A.S. unless otherwise agreed the buyer must make payment against tender of the required documents and the seller may not tender nor the buyer demand delivery of the goods in substitution for the documents. [C66, §554.2319]

Referred to in §554.2311

554.2320 C.I.F. and C. & F. terms.

1. The term C.I.F. means that the price includes in a lump sum the cost of the goods and the insurance and freight to the named destination. The term C. & F. or C.F. means that the price so includes cost and freight to the named destination.

2. Unless otherwise agreed and even though used only in connection with the stated price and destination, the term C.I.F. destination or its equivalent requires the seller at his own expense and risk to

a. put the goods into the possession of a carrier at the port for shipment and obtain a negotiable bill or bills of lading covering the entire transportation to the named destination; and

b. load the goods and obtain a receipt from the carrier (which may be contained in the bill of lading) showing that the freight has been paid or provided for; and

c. obtain a policy or certificate of insurance, including any war risk insurance, of a kind and on terms then current at the port of shipment in the usual amount, in the currency of the contract, shown to cover the same goods covered by the bill of lading and providing for payment of loss to the order of the buyer or for the account of whom it may concern; but the seller may add to the price the amount of the premium for any such war risk insurance; and

d. prepare an invoice of the goods and procure any other documents required to effect shipment or to comply with the contract; and

e. forward and tender with commercial promptness all the documents in due form and with any endorsement necessary to perfect the buyer's rights.

3. Unless otherwise agreed the term C. & F. or its equivalent has the same effect and imposes upon the seller the same obligations and risks as a C.I.F. term except the obligation as to insurance.

4. Under the term C.I.F. or C. & F. unless otherwise agreed the buyer must make payment against tender of the required documents and the seller may not tender nor the buyer demand delivery of the goods in substitution for the documents. [C66, §554.2320]

554.2321 C.I.F. or C. & F. — “net landed weights”—“payment on arrival” — warranty of condition on arrival. Under a contract containing a term C.I.F. or C. & F.

1. Where the price is based on or is to be adjusted according to “net landed weights”, “delivered weights”, “out turn” quantity or quality or the like, unless otherwise agreed the seller must reasonably estimate the price. The payment due on tender of the documents called for by the contract is the amount so estimated, but after final adjustment of the price a settlement must be made with commercial promptness.

2. An agreement described in subsection 1 or any warranty of quality or condition of the goods on arrival places upon the seller the risk of ordinary deterioration, shrinkage and the like in transportation but has no effect on the place or time of identification to the contract for sale or delivery or on the passing of the risk of loss.

3. Unless otherwise agreed where the contract provides for payment on or after arrival of the goods the seller must before payment allow such preliminary inspection as is feasible; but if the goods are lost delivery of the documents and payment are due when the goods should have arrived. [C66,§554.2321]

554.2322 Delivery “ex-ship”.

1. Unless otherwise agreed a term for delivery of goods “ex-ship” (which means from the carrying vessel) or in equivalent language is not restricted to a particular ship and requires delivery from a ship which has reached a place at the named port of destination where goods of the kind are usually discharged.

2. Under such a term unless otherwise agreed

a. the seller must discharge all liens arising out of the carriage and furnish the buyer with a direction which puts the carrier under a duty to deliver the goods; and

b. the risk of loss does not pass to the buyer until the goods leave the ship's tackle or are otherwise properly unloaded. [C66,§554.2322]

554.2323 Form of bill of lading required in overseas shipment—“overseas”.

1. Where the contract contemplates overseas shipment and contains a term C.I.F. or C. & F. or F.O.B. vessel, the seller unless otherwise agreed must obtain a negotiable bill of lading stating that the goods have been loaded on board or, in the case of a term C.I.F. or C. & F., received for shipment.

2. Where in a case within subsection 1 a bill of lading has been issued in a set of parts, unless otherwise agreed if the documents are not to be sent from abroad the buyer may demand tender of the full set; otherwise only one part of the bill of lading need be tendered. Even if the agreement expressly requires a full set

a. due tender of a single part is acceptable within the provisions of this Article on cure of improper delivery (subsection 1 of section 554.2508); and

b. even though the full set is demanded, if the documents are sent from abroad the person tendering an incomplete set may nevertheless require payment upon furnishing an indemnity which the buyer in good faith deems adequate.

3. A shipment by water or by air or a contract contemplating such shipment is “overseas” insofar as by usage of trade or agreement it is subject to the commercial, financing or shipping practices characteristic of international deep water commerce. [C66, §554.2323]

Referred to in §§554.2103, subsection 2, 554.2319, subsection 1(c), 554.2503, subsection 5(a), 554.7102, subsection 3

554.2324 “No arrival, no sale” term. Under a term “no arrival, no sale” or terms of like meaning, unless otherwise agreed,

a. the seller must properly ship conforming goods and if they arrive by any means he must tender them on arrival but he assumes no obligation that the goods will arrive unless he has caused the nonarrival; and

b. where without fault of the seller the goods are in part lost or have so deteriorated as no longer to conform to the contract or arrive after the contract time, the buyer may proceed as if there had been casualty to identified goods (section 554.2613). [C66,§554.2324]

Referred to in §554.2613

554.2325 “Letter of credit” term — “confirmed credit”.

1. Failure of the buyer seasonably to furnish an agreed letter of credit is a breach of the contract for sale.

2. The delivery to seller of a proper letter of credit suspends the buyer's obligation to pay. If the letter of credit is dishonored, the seller may on reasonable notification to the buyer require payment directly from him.

3. Unless otherwise agreed the term “letter of credit” or “banker's credit” in a contract for sale means an irrevocable credit issued by a financing agency of good repute and, where the shipment is overseas, of good international repute. The term “confirmed credit” means that the credit must also carry the direct obligation of such an agency which does business in the seller's financial market. [C66, §554.2325]

Referred to in §554.2103, subsection 2

554.2326 Sale on approval and sale or return —consignment sales and rights of creditors.

1. Unless otherwise agreed, if delivered goods may be returned by the buyer even though they conform to the contract, the transaction is

a. a “sale on approval” if the goods are delivered primarily for use, and

b. a “sale or return” if the goods are delivered primarily for resale.

2. Except as provided in subsection 3, goods held on approval are not subject to the claims of the buyer's creditors until acceptance; goods held on sale or return are subject to such claims while in the buyer's possession.

3. Where goods are delivered to a person for sale and such person maintains a place of business at which he deals in goods of the kind involved, under a name other than the name of the person making delivery, then with respect to claims of creditors of the person conducting the business the goods are deemed to be on sale or return. The provisions of this subsection are applicable even though an agreement purports to reserve title to the person making delivery until payment or resale or uses such words as "on consignment" or "on memorandum". However, this subsection is not applicable if the person making delivery

a. complies with an applicable law providing for a consignor's interest or the like to be evidenced by a sign, or

b. establishes that the person conducting the business is generally known by his creditors to be substantially engaged in selling the goods of others, or

c. complies with the filing provisions of the Article on Secured Transactions (Article 9).

4. Any "or return" term of a contract for sale is to be treated as a separate contract for sale within the statute of frauds section of this Article (section 554.2201) and as contradicting the sale aspect of the contract within the provisions of this Article on parol or extrinsic evidence (section 554.2202). [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9948; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.20; C66, §554.2326]

Referred to in §§554.1201, subsection 37, 554.2103, subsection 2

554.2327 Special incidents of sale on approval and sale or return.

1. Under a sale on approval unless otherwise agreed

a. although the goods are identified to the contract the risk of loss and the title do not pass to the buyer until acceptance; and

b. use of the goods consistent with the purpose of trial is not acceptance but failure seasonably to notify the seller of election to return the goods is acceptance, and if the goods conform to the contract acceptance of any part is acceptance of the whole; and

c. after due notification of election to return, the return is at the seller's risk and expense but a merchant buyer must follow any reasonable instructions.

2. Under a sale or return unless otherwise agreed

a. the option to return extends to the whole or any commercial unit of the goods while in substantially their original condition, but must be exercised seasonably; and

b. the return is at the buyer's risk and expense. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9948; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.20; C66, §554.2327]

Referred to in §554.2509, subsection 4

554.2328 Sale by auction.

1. In a sale by auction if goods are put up in lots each lot is the subject of a separate sale.

2. A sale by auction is complete when the auctioneer so announces by the fall of the hammer or in other customary manner. Where a bid is made while the hammer is falling in acceptance of a prior bid the auctioneer may in his discretion reopen the bidding or declare the goods sold under the bid on which the hammer was falling.

3. Such a sale is with reserve unless the goods are in explicit terms put up without reserve. In an auction with reserve the auctioneer may withdraw the goods at any time until he announces completion of the sale. In an auction without reserve, after the auctioneer calls for bids on an article or lot, that article or lot cannot be withdrawn unless no bid is made within a reasonable time. In either case a bidder may retract his bid until the auctioneer's announcement of completion of the sale, but a bidder's retraction does not revive any previous bid.

4. If the auctioneer knowingly receives a bid on the seller's behalf or the seller makes or procures such a bid, and notice has not been given that liberty for such bidding is reserved, the buyer may at his option avoid the sale or take the goods at the price of the last good faith bid prior to the completion of the sale. This subsection shall not apply to any bid at a forced sale. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9950; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.22; C66, §554.2328]

PART 4

TITLE, CREDITORS AND GOOD FAITH PURCHASERS

554.2401 Passing of title—reservation for security—limited application of this section. Each provision of this Article with regard to the rights, obligations and remedies of the seller, the buyer, purchasers or other third parties applies irrespective of title to the goods except where the provision refers to such title. Insofar as situations are not covered by the other provisions of this Article and matters concerning title become material the following rules apply:

1. Title to goods cannot pass under a contract for sale prior to their identification to the contract (section 554.2501), and unless otherwise explicitly agreed the buyer acquires by their identification a special property as limited by this chapter. Any retention or reservation by the seller of the title (property) in goods shipped or delivered to the buyer is limited in effect to a reservation of a security interest. Subject to these provisions and to the provisions of the Article on Secured Transactions (Article 9), title to goods passes from the seller to the buyer in any manner and on any conditions explicitly agreed on by the parties.

2. Unless otherwise explicitly agreed title passes to the buyer at the time and place at which the seller completes his performance with reference to the physical delivery of the goods, despite any reservation of a security interest and even though a document of title is to be delivered at a different time or place; and in particular and despite any reservation of a security interest by the bill of lading

a. if the contract requires or authorizes the seller to send the goods to the buyer but does not require him to deliver them at destination, title passes to the buyer at the time and place of shipment; but

b. if the contract requires delivery at destination, title passes on tender there.

3. Unless otherwise explicitly agreed where delivery is to be made without moving the goods,

a. if the seller is to deliver a document of title, title passes at the time when and the place where he delivers such documents; or

b. if the goods are at the time of contracting already identified and no documents are to be delivered, title passes at the time and place of contracting.

4. A rejection or other refusal by the buyer to receive or retain the goods, whether or not justified, or a justified revocation of acceptance reverts title to the goods in the seller. Such reversion occurs by operation of law and is not a "sale". [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9946-9949; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.18-554.21; C66, §554.2401]

554.2402 Rights of seller's creditors against sold goods.

1. Except as provided in subsections 2 and 3, rights of unsecured creditors of the seller with respect to goods which have been identified to a contract for sale are subject to the buyer's rights to recover the goods under this Article (sections 554.2502 and 554.2716).

2. A creditor of the seller may treat a sale or an identification of goods to a contract for sale as void if as against him a retention of possession by the seller is fraudulent under any rule of law of the state where the goods are situated, except that retention of possession in good faith and current course of trade by a merchant-seller for a commercially reasonable time after a sale or identification is not fraudulent.

3. Nothing in this Article shall be deemed to impair the rights of creditors of the seller

a. under the provisions of the Article on Secured Transactions (Article 9); or

b. where identification to the contract or delivery is made not in current course of trade but in satisfaction of or as security for a pre-existing claim for money, security or the like and is made under circumstances which under any rule of law of the state where the goods are situated would apart from this Article constitute the transaction a fraudulent transfer or voidable preference. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9955; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.27; C66, §554.2402]

554.2403 Power to transfer—good faith purchaser of goods—"entrusting".

1. A purchaser of goods acquires all title which his transferor had or had power to transfer except that a purchaser of a limited interest acquires rights only to the extent of the interest purchased. A person with voidable title has power to transfer a good title to a good faith purchaser for value. When goods have been delivered under a transaction of purchase the purchaser has such power even though

a. the transferor was deceived as to the identity of the purchaser, or

b. the delivery was in exchange for a check which is later dishonored, or

c. it was agreed that the transaction was to be a "cash sale", or

d. the delivery was procured through fraud punishable as larcenous under the criminal law.

2. Any entrusting of possession of goods to a merchant who deals in goods of that kind gives him power to transfer all rights of the entruster to a buyer in ordinary course of business. However, any entrusting of farm products to a person engaged in farming operations shall not give the farmer the power to transfer all rights of the entruster to a buyer in the ordinary course of business if the entruster perfects a security interest as provided in Article 9.

3. "Entrusting" includes any delivery and any acquiescence in retention of possession regardless of any condition expressed between the parties to the delivery or acquiescence and regardless of whether the procurement of the entrusting or the possessor's disposition of the goods have been such as to be larcenous under the criminal law.

4. The rights of other purchasers of goods and of lien creditors are governed by the Articles on Secured Transactions (Article 9), Bulk Transfers (Article 6) and Documents of Title (Article 7). [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9949, 9952-9954; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.21, 554.24-554.26; C66, §554.2403]

Referred to in §§554.2103, subsection 2, 554.2702(3), 554.7503, subsection 1(a)

PART 5

PERFORMANCE

554.2501 Insurable interest in goods—manner of identification of goods.

1. The buyer obtains a special property and an insurable interest in goods by identification of existing goods as goods to which the contract refers even though the goods so identified are nonconforming and he has an option to return or reject them. Such identification can be made at any time and in any manner explicitly agreed to by the parties. In the absence of explicit agreement identification occurs

a. when the contract is made if it is for the sale of goods already existing and identified;

b. if the contract is for the sale of future goods other than those described in paragraph "c", when goods are shipped, marked or otherwise designated by the seller as goods to which the contract refers;

c. when the crops are planted or otherwise become growing crops or the young are conceived if the contract is for the sale of unborn young to be born within twelve months after contracting or for the sale of crops to be harvested within twelve months or the next normal harvest season after contracting whichever is longer.

2. The seller retains an insurable interest in goods so long as title to or any security interest in the goods remains in him and where the identification is by the seller alone he may until default or insolvency or notification to the buyer that the identification is final substitute other goods for those identified.

3. Nothing in this section impairs any insurable interest recognized under any other statute or rule of law. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9946, 9948; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.18, 554.20; C66, §554.2501]

554.2502 Buyer's right to goods on seller's insolvency.

1. Subject to subsection 2 and even though the goods have not been shipped a buyer who has paid a part or all of the price of goods in which he has a special property under the provisions of the immediately preceding section may on making and keeping good a tender of any unpaid portion of their price recover them from the seller if the seller is insolvent at the time of receipt of the first installment on their price or becomes insolvent within ten days thereafter.

2. If the identification creating his special property has been made by the buyer he acquires the right to recover the goods only if they conform to the contract for sale. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9946-9948; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.18-554.20; C66, §554.2502]

554.2503 Manner of seller's tender of delivery.

1. Tender of delivery requires that the seller put and hold conforming goods at the buyer's disposition and give the buyer any notification reasonably necessary to enable him to take delivery. The manner, time and place for tender are determined by the agreement and this Article, and in particular

a. tender must be at a reasonable hour, and if it is of goods they must be kept available for the period reasonably necessary to enable the buyer to take possession; but

b. unless otherwise agreed the buyer must furnish facilities reasonably suited to the receipt of the goods.

2. Where the case is within the next section respecting shipment tender requires that the seller comply with its provisions.

3. Where the seller is required to deliver at a particular destination tender requires that he comply with subsection 1 and also in any appropriate case tender documents as described in subsections 4 and 5 of this section.

4. Where goods are in the possession of a bailee and are to be delivered without being moved

a. tender requires that the seller either tender a negotiable document of title covering such goods or procure acknowledgment by the bailee of the buyer's right to possession of the goods; but

b. tender to the buyer of a nonnegotiable document of title or of a written direction to the bailee to deliver is sufficient tender unless the buyer seasonably objects, and receipt by the bailee of notification of the buyer's rights fixes those rights as against the bailee and all third persons; but risk of loss of the goods and of any failure by the bailee to honor the non-negotiable document of title or to obey the direction remains on the seller until the buyer has had a reasonable time to present the document or direction, and a refusal by the bailee to honor the document or to obey the direction defeats the tender.

Referred to in §554.2509, subsection 2(c)

5. Where the contract requires the seller to deliver documents

a. he must tender all such documents in correct form except as provided in this Article with respect to bills of lading in a set (subsection 2 of section 554.2323); and

b. tender through customary banking channels is sufficient and dishonor of a draft accompanying the documents constitutes non-acceptance or rejection. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9940, 9948, 9949, 9972, 9975, 9980; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.12, 554.20, 554.21, 554.44, 554.47, 554.52; C66, §554.2503]

Referred to in §§554.2319, subsection 1(b), 554.2509, subsection 2(c)

554.2504 Shipment by seller. Where the seller is required or authorized to send the goods to the buyer and the contract does not require him to deliver them at a particular destination, then unless otherwise agreed he must

a. put the goods in the possession of such a carrier and make such a contract for their transportation as may be reasonable having regard to the nature of the goods and other circumstances of the case; and

b. obtain and promptly deliver or tender in due form any document necessary to enable the buyer to obtain possession of the goods or otherwise required by the agreement or by usage of trade; and

c. promptly notify the buyer of the shipment. Failure to notify the buyer under paragraph "c" or to make a proper contract under paragraph "a" is a ground for rejection only if material delay or loss ensues. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9975; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.47; C66, §554.2504]

554.2505 Seller's shipment under reservation.

1. Where the seller has identified goods to the contract by or before shipment:

a. his procurement of a negotiable bill of lading to his own order or otherwise reserves in him a security interest in the goods. His procurement of the bill to the order of a financing agency or of the buyer indicates in addition only the seller's expectation of transferring that interest to the person named.

b. a nonnegotiable bill of lading to himself or his nominee reserves possession of the goods as security but except in a case of conditional delivery (subsection 2 of section 554.2507) a nonnegotiable bill of lading naming the buyer as consignee reserves no security interest even though the seller retains possession of the bill of lading.

2. When shipment by the seller with reservation of a security interest is in violation of the contract for sale it constitutes an improper contract for transportation within the preceding section but impairs neither the rights given to the buyer by shipment and identification of the goods to the contract nor the seller's powers as a holder of a negotiable document. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9949; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.21; C66, §554.2505]

554.2506 Rights of financing agency.

1. A financing agency by paying or purchasing for value a draft which relates to a shipment of goods acquires to the extent of the payment or purchase and in addition to its own rights under the draft and any document of title securing it any rights of the shipper in the goods including the right to stop delivery and the shipper's right to have the draft honored by the buyer.

2. The right to reimbursement of a financing agency which has in good faith honored or purchased the draft under commitment to or authority from the buyer is not impaired by subsequent discovery of defects with reference to any relevant document which was apparently regular on its face. [S13, §3138-b36; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8231; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §487.37; C66, §554.2506]

554.2507 Effect of seller's tender—delivery on condition.

1. Tender of delivery is a condition to the buyer's duty to accept the goods and, unless otherwise agreed, to his duty to pay for them. Tender entitles the seller to acceptance of the goods and to payment according to the contract.

2. Where payment is due and demanded on the delivery to the buyer of goods or documents of title, his right as against the seller to retain or dispose of them is conditional upon his making the payment due. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9940, 9970, 9971, 9998; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.12, 554.42, 554.43, 554.70; C66, §554.2507]

Referred to in §554.2505, subsection 1(b)

554.2508 Cure by seller of improper tender or delivery—replacement.

1. Where any tender or delivery by the seller is rejected because nonconforming and the time for performance has not yet expired, the seller may seasonably notify the buyer of his intention to cure and may then within the contract time make a conforming delivery.

2. Where the buyer rejects a nonconforming tender which the seller had reasonable grounds to believe would be acceptable with or without money allowance the seller may if he seasonably notifies the buyer have a further reasonable time to substitute a conforming tender. [C66, §554.2508]

554.2509 Risk of loss in the absence of breach.

1. Where the contract requires or authorizes the seller to ship the goods by carrier

a. if it does not require him to deliver them at a particular destination, the risk of loss passes to the buyer when the goods are duly delivered to the carrier even though the shipment is under reservation (section 554.2505); but

b. if it does require him to deliver them at a particular destination and the goods are there duly tendered while in the possession of the carrier, the risk of loss passes to the buyer when the goods are there duly so tendered as to enable the buyer to take delivery.

2. Where the goods are held by a bailee to be delivered without being moved, the risk of loss passes to the buyer

a. on his receipt of a negotiable document of title covering the goods; or

b. on acknowledgment by the bailee of the buyer's right to possession of the goods; or

c. after his receipt of a nonnegotiable document of title or other written direction to deliver, as provided in subsection 4 "b" of section 554.2503.

3. In any case not within subsection 1 or 2, the risk of loss passes to the buyer on his receipt of the goods if the seller is a merchant; otherwise the risk passes to the buyer on tender of delivery.

4. The provisions of this section are subject to contrary agreement of the parties and to the provisions of this Article on sale on approval (section 554.2327) and on effect of breach on risk of loss (section 554.2510). [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9951; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.23; C66, §554.2509]

554.2510 Effect of breach on risk of loss.

1. Where a tender or delivery of goods so fails to conform to the contract as to give a right of rejection the risk of their loss remains on the seller until cure or acceptance.

2. Where the buyer rightfully revokes acceptance he may to the extent of any deficiency in his effective insurance coverage treat the risk of loss as having rested on the seller from the beginning.

3. Where the buyer as to conforming goods already identified to the contract for sale repudiates or is otherwise in breach before risk of their loss has passed to him, the seller may to the extent of any deficiency in his effective insurance coverage treat the risk of loss as resting on the buyer for a commercially reasonable time. [C66, §554.2510]

554.2511 Tender of payment by buyer—payment by check.

1. Unless otherwise agreed tender of payment is a condition to the seller's duty to tender and complete any delivery.

2. Tender of payment is sufficient when made by any means or in any manner current in the ordinary course of business unless the seller demands payment in legal tender and gives any extension of time reasonably necessary to procure it.

3. Subject to the provisions of this chapter on the effect of an instrument on an obligation (section 554.3802), payment by check is conditional and is defeated as between the parties by dishonor of the check on due presentment. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9971; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.43; C66, §554.2511]

554.2512 Payment by buyer before inspection.

1. Where the contract requires payment before inspection nonconformity of the goods does not excuse the buyer from so making payment unless

a. the nonconformity appears without inspection; or

b. despite tender of the required documents the circumstances would justify injunction against honor under the provisions of this chapter (section 554.5114).

2. Payment pursuant to subsection 1 does not constitute an acceptance of goods or impair the buyer's right to inspect or any of his remedies. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9976, 9978; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.48, 554.50; C66, §554.2512]

1. Unless otherwise agreed and subject to subsection 3, where goods are tendered or delivered or identified to the contract for sale, the buyer has a right before payment or acceptance to inspect them at any reasonable place and time and in any reasonable manner. When the seller is required or authorized to send the goods to the buyer, the inspection may be after their arrival.

2. Unless otherwise agreed expenses of inspection must be borne by the buyer but may be recovered from the seller if the goods do not conform and are rejected.

3. Unless otherwise agreed and subject to the provisions of this Article on C.I.F. contracts (subsection 3 of section 554.2321), the buyer is not entitled to inspect the goods before payment of the price when the contract provides

a. for delivery "C.O.D." or on other like terms; or

b. for payment against documents of title, except where such payment is due only after the goods are to become available for inspection.

4. A place or method of inspection fixed by the parties is presumed to be exclusive but unless otherwise expressly agreed it does not postpone identification or shift the place for delivery or for passing the risk of loss. If compliance becomes impossible, inspection shall be as provided in this section unless the place or method fixed was clearly intended as an indispensable condition failure of which avoids the contract. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9976; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.48; C66, §554.2513]

Referred to in §554.2310

554.2514 When documents deliverable on acceptance—when on payment. Unless otherwise agreed documents against which a draft is drawn are to be delivered to the drawee on acceptance of the draft if it is payable more than three days after presentment; otherwise, only on payment. [S13, §3138-b40; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8285; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §487.41; C66, §554.2514]

554.2515 Preserving evidence of goods in dispute. In furtherance of the adjustment of any claim or dispute

a. either party on reasonable notification to the other and for the purpose of ascertaining the facts and preserving evidence has the right to inspect, test and sample the goods including such of them as may be in the possession or control of the other; and

b. the parties may agree to a third party inspection or survey to determine the conformity or condition of the goods and may agree that the findings shall be binding upon them in any subsequent litigation or adjustment. [C66, §554.2515]

PART 6

BREACH, REPUDIATION AND EXCUSE

554.2601 Buyer's rights on improper delivery. Subject to the provisions of this Article on breach in installment contracts (section 554.2612) and unless otherwise agreed under the sections on contractual limitations of remedy (sections 554.2718 and 554.2719), if the goods or the tender of delivery fail in any respect to conform to the contract, the buyer may

a. reject the whole; or

b. accept the whole; or

c. accept any commercial unit or units and reject the rest. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9940, 9973, 9998; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.12, 554.45, 554.70; C66, §554.2601]

554.2602 Manner and effect of rightful rejection.

1. Rejection of goods must be within a reasonable time after their delivery or tender. It is ineffective unless the buyer seasonably notifies the seller.

Referred to in §554.2606, subsection 1(b)

2. Subject to the provisions of the two following sections on rejected goods (sections 554.2603 and 554.2604),

a. after rejection any exercise of ownership by the buyer with respect to any commercial unit is wrongful as against the seller; and

b. if the buyer has before rejection taken physical possession of goods in which he does not have a security interest under the provisions of this Article (subsection 3 of section 554.2711), he is under a duty after rejection to hold them with reasonable care at the seller's disposition for a time sufficient to permit the seller to remove them; but

c. the buyer has no further obligations with regard to goods rightfully rejected.

3. The seller's rights with respect to goods wrongfully rejected are governed by the provisions of this Article on Seller's remedies in general (section 554.2703). [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9979; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.51; C66, §554.2602]

Referred to in §554.2606, subsection 1(b)

554.2603 Merchant buyer's duties as to rightfully rejected goods.

1. Subject to any security interest in the buyer (subsection 3 of section 554.2711), when the seller has no agent or place of business at the market of rejection a merchant buyer is under a duty after rejection of goods in his possession or control to follow any reasonable instructions received from the seller with respect to the goods and in the absence of such instructions to make reasonable efforts to sell them for the seller's account if they are perishable or threaten to decline in value speedily. Instructions are not reasonable if on demand indemnity for expenses is not forthcoming.

2. When the buyer sells goods under subsection 1, he is entitled to reimbursement from the seller or out of the proceeds for reasonable expenses of caring for and selling them, and if the expenses include no selling commission then to such commission as is usual in the trade or if there is none to a reasonable sum not exceeding ten percent on the gross proceeds.

3. In complying with this section the buyer is held only to good faith and good faith conduct hereunder is neither acceptance nor conversion nor the basis of an action for damages. [C66, §554.2603]

Referred to in §554.2602, subsection 2

554.2604 Buyer's options as to salvage of rightfully rejected goods. Subject to the provisions of the immediately preceding section on perishables if the seller gives no instructions within a reasonable time after notification of rejection the buyer may store the rejected goods for the seller's account or reship them to him or resell them for the seller's account with reimbursement as provided in the preceding section. Such action is not acceptance or conversion. [C66, §554.2604]

554.2605 Waiver of buyer's objections by failure to particularize.

1. The buyer's failure to state in connection with rejection a particular defect which is ascertainable by reasonable inspection precludes him from relying on the unstated defect to justify rejection or to establish breach

a. where the seller could have cured it if stated seasonably; or

b. between merchants when the seller has after rejection made a request in writing for a full and final written statement of all defects on which the buyer proposes to rely.

2. Payment against documents made without reservation of rights precludes recovery of the payment for defects apparent on the face of the documents. [C66, §554.2605]

554.2606 What constitutes acceptance of goods.

1. Acceptance of goods occurs when the buyer

a. after a reasonable opportunity to inspect the goods signifies to the seller that the goods are conforming or that he will take or retain them in spite of their nonconformity; or

b. fails to make an effective rejection (subsection 1 of section 554.2602), but such acceptance does not occur until the buyer has had a reasonable opportunity to inspect them; or

c. does any act inconsistent with the seller's ownership; but if such act is wrongful as against the seller it is an acceptance only if ratified by him.

2. Acceptance of a part of any commercial unit is acceptance of that entire unit. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9977; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.49; C66, §554.2606]

Referred to in §§554.2103, subsection 2, 554.2201, subsection 3(c)

554.2607 Effect of acceptance—notice of breach—burden of establishing breach after acceptance—notice of claim or litigation to person answerable over.

1. The buyer must pay at the contract rate for any goods accepted.

2. Acceptance of goods by the buyer precludes rejection of the goods accepted and if made with knowledge of a nonconformity cannot be revoked because of it unless the acceptance was on the reasonable assumption that the nonconformity would be seasonably cured but acceptance does not of itself impair any other remedy provided by this Article for nonconformity.

3. Where a tender has been accepted.

a. the buyer must within a reasonable time after he discovers or should have discovered any breach notify the seller of breach or be barred from any remedy; and

b. if the claim is one for infringement or the like (subsection 3 of section 554.2312) and the buyer is sued as a result of such a breach he must so notify the seller within a reasonable time after he receives notice of the litigation or be barred from any remedy over for liability established by the litigation.

Referred to in §554.2714

4. The burden is on the buyer to establish any breach with respect to the goods accepted.

5. Where the buyer is sued for breach of a warranty or other obligation for which his seller is answerable over

a. he may give his seller written notice of the litigation. If the notice states that the seller may come in and defend and that if the seller does not do so he will be bound in any action against him by his buyer by any determination of fact common to the two litigations, then unless the seller after seasonable receipt of the notice does come in and defend he is so bound.

b. If the claim is one for infringement or the like (subsection 3 of section 554.2312) the original seller may demand in writing that his buyer turn over to him control of the litigation including settlement or else be barred from any remedy over and if he also agrees to bear all expense and to satisfy any adverse judgment, then unless the buyer after reasonable receipt of the demand does turn over control the buyer is so barred.

6. The provisions of subsections 3, 4 and 5 apply to any obligation of a buyer to hold the seller harmless against infringement or the like (subsection 3 of section 554.2312). [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9970, 9978, 9998; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.42, 554.50, 554.70; C66, §554.2607]

554.2608 Revocation of acceptance in whole or in part.

1. The buyer may revoke his acceptance of a lot or commercial unit whose nonconformity substantially impairs its value to him if he has accepted it

a. on the reasonable assumption that its nonconformity would be cured and it has not been seasonably cured; or

b. without discovery of such nonconformity if his acceptance was reasonably induced either by the difficulty of discovery before acceptance or by the seller's assurances.

2. Revocation of acceptance must occur within a reasonable time after the buyer discovers or should have discovered the ground for it and before any substantial change in condition of the goods which is not caused by their own defects. It is not effective until the buyer notifies the seller of it.

3. A buyer who so revokes has the same rights and duties with regard to the goods involved as if he had rejected them. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9998; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.70; C66, §554.2608]

554.2609 Right to adequate assurance of performance.

1. A contract for sale imposes an obligation on each party that the other's expectation of receiving due performance will not be impaired. When reasonable grounds for insecurity arise with respect to the performance of either party the other may in writing demand adequate assurance of due performance and until he receives such assurance may if commercially reasonable suspend any performance for which he has not already received the agreed return.

2. Between merchants the reasonableness of grounds for insecurity and the adequacy of any assurance offered shall be determined according to commercial standards.

3. Acceptance of any improper delivery or payment does not prejudice the aggrieved party's right to demand adequate assurance of future performance.

4. After receipt of a justified demand failure to provide within a reasonable time not exceeding thirty days such assurance of due performance as is adequate under the circumstances of the particular case is a repudiation of the contract. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9982-9984, 9992; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.54-554.56, 554.64; C66, §554.2609]

Referred to in §§554.2210(6), 554.2611(2)

554.2610 Anticipatory repudiation. When either party repudiates the contract with respect to a performance not yet due the loss of which will substantially impair the value of the contract to the other, the aggrieved party may

a. for a commercially reasonable time await performance by the repudiating party; or

b. resort to any remedy for breach (section 554.2703 or 554.2711), even though he has notified the repudiating party that he would await the latter's performance and has urged retraction; and

c. in either case suspend his own performance or proceed in accordance with the provisions of this Article on the seller's right to identify goods to the contract notwithstanding breach or to salvage unfinished goods (section 554.2704). [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9992, 9994; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.64, 554.66; C66, §554.2610]

554.2611 Retraction of anticipatory repudiation.

1. Until the repudiating party's next performance is due he can retract his repudiation unless the aggrieved party has since the repudiation canceled or materially changed his position or otherwise indicated that he considers the repudiation final.

2. Retraction may be by any method which clearly indicates to the aggrieved party that the repudiating party intends to perform, but must include any assurance justifiably demanded under the provisions of this Article (section 554.2609).

3. Retraction reinstates the repudiating party's rights under the contract with due excuse and allowance to the aggrieved party for any delay occasioned by the repudiation. [C66, §554.2611]

554.2612 "Installment contract"—breach.

1. An "installment contract" is one which requires or authorizes the delivery of goods in separate lots to be separately accepted, even though the contract contains a clause "each delivery is a separate contract" or its equivalent.

2. The buyer may reject any installment which is nonconforming if the nonconformity substantially impairs the value of that installment and cannot be cured or if the nonconformity is a defect in the required documents; but if the nonconformity does not fall within subsection 3 and the seller gives adequate assurance of its cure the buyer must accept that installment.

3. Whenever nonconformity or default with respect to one or more installments substantially impairs the value of the whole contract there is a breach of the whole. But the aggrieved party reinstates the contract if he accepts a nonconforming installment without seasonably notifying of cancellation or if he brings an action with respect only to past installments or demands performance as to future installments. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9974; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.46; C66, §554.2612]

Referred to in §§554.2103(2), 554.2601, 554.2616, 554.2708, 554.2711(1)

554.2613 Casualty to identified goods. Where the contract requires for its performance goods identified when the contract is made, and the goods suffer casualty without fault of either party before the risk of loss passes to the buyer, or in a proper case under a "no arrival, no sale" term (section 554.2324) then

a. if the loss is total the contract is avoided; and

b. if the loss is partial or the goods have so deteriorated as no longer to conform to the contract the buyer may nevertheless demand inspection and at his option either treat the contract as avoided or accept the goods with due allowance from the contract price for the deterioration or the deficiency in quantity but without further right against the seller. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9936, 9937; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.8, 554.9; C66, §554.2613]

554.2614 Substituted performance.

1. Where without fault of either party the agreed berthing, loading, or unloading facilities fail or an agreed type of carrier becomes unavailable or the agreed manner of delivery otherwise becomes commercially impracticable but a commercially reasonable substitute is available, such substitute performance must be tendered and accepted.

2. If the agreed means or manner of payment fails because of domestic or foreign governmental regulation, the seller may withhold or stop delivery unless the buyer provides a means or manner of payment which is commercially a substantial equivalent. If delivery has already been taken, payment by the means or in the manner provided by the regulation discharges the buyer's obligation unless the regulation is discriminatory, oppressive or predatory. [C66, §554.2614]

554.2615 Excuse by failure of presupposed conditions. Except so far as a seller may have assumed a greater obligation and subject to the preceding section on substituted performance:

a. Delay in delivery or nondelivery in whole or in part by a seller who complies with paragraphs "b" and "c" is not a breach of his duty under a contract for sale if performance as agreed has been made impracticable by the occurrence of a contingency the nonoccurrence of which was a basic assumption on which the contract was made or by compliance in good faith with any applicable foreign or domestic governmental regulation or order whether or not it later proves to be invalid.

b. Where the causes mentioned in paragraph "a" affect only a part of the seller's capacity to perform, he must allocate production and deliveries among his customers but may at his option include regular customers not then under contract as well as his own requirements for further manufacture. He may so allocate in any manner which is fair and reasonable.

c. The seller must notify the buyer seasonably that there will be delay or nondelivery and, when allocation is required under paragraph "b", of the estimated quota thus made available for the buyer. [C66, §554.2615]

554.2616 Procedure on notice claiming excuse.

1. Where the buyer receives notification of a material or indefinite delay or an allocation justified under the preceding section he may by written notification to the seller as to any delivery concerned, and where the prospective deficiency substantially impairs the value of the whole contract under the provisions of this Article relating to breach of installment contracts (section 554.2612), then also as to the whole,

a. terminate and thereby discharge any unexecuted portion of the contract; or

b. modify the contract by agreeing to take his available quota in substitution.

2. If after receipt of such notification from the seller the buyer fails so to modify the contract within a reasonable time not exceeding thirty days the contract lapses with respect to any deliveries affected. [C66, §554.2616]

REMEDIES

554.2701 Remedies for breach of collateral contracts not impaired. Remedies for breach of any obligation or promise collateral or ancillary to a contract for sale are not impaired by the provisions of this Article. [C66, §554.2701]

554.2702 Seller's remedies on discovery of buyer's insolvency.

1. Where the seller discovers the buyer to be insolvent he may refuse delivery except for cash including payment for all goods theretofore delivered under the contract, and stop delivery under this Article (section 554.2705).

2. Where the seller discovers that the buyer has received goods on credit while insolvent he may reclaim the goods upon demand made within ten days after the receipt, but if misrepresentation of solvency has been made to the particular seller in writing within three months before delivery the ten-day limitation does not apply. Except as provided in this subsection the seller may not base a right to reclaim goods on the buyer's fraudulent or innocent misrepresentation of solvency or of intent to pay.

3. The seller's right to reclaim under subsection 2 is subject to the rights of a buyer in ordinary course or other good faith purchaser or lien creditor under this Article (section 554.2403). Successful reclamation of goods excludes all other remedies with respect to them. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9982, 9983, 9986; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.54, 554.55, 554.58; C66, §554.2702]

Referred to in §554.2705, subsection 1

554.2703 Seller's remedies in general. Where the buyer wrongfully rejects or revokes acceptance of goods or fails to make a payment due on or before delivery or repudiates with respect to a part or the whole, then with respect to any goods directly affected and, if the breach is of the whole contract (section 554.2612), then also with respect to the whole undelivered balance, the aggrieved seller may

- a. withhold delivery of such goods;
- b. stop delivery by any bailee as hereafter provided (section 554.2705);
- c. proceed under the next section respecting goods still unidentified to the contract;
- d. resell and recover damages as hereafter provided (section 554.2706);
- e. recover damages for nonacceptance (section 554.2708) or in a proper case the price (section 554.2709);
- f. cancel.

Referred to in §§554.2602, subsection 3, 554.2610, 554.2706, subsection 1

554.2704 Seller's right to identify goods to the contract notwithstanding breach or to salvage unfinished goods.

1. An aggrieved seller under the preceding section may

- a. identify to the contract conforming goods not already identified if at the time he learned of the breach they are in his possession or control;
- b. treat as the subject of resale goods which have demonstrably been intended for the particular contract even though those goods are unfinished.

2. Where the goods are unfinished an aggrieved seller may in the exercise of reasonable commercial judgment for the purposes of avoiding loss and of effective realization either complete the manufacture and wholly identify the goods to the contract or cease manufacture and resell for scrap or salvage value or proceed in any other reasonable manner. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9992, 9993; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.64, 554.65; C66, §554.2704]

554.2705 Seller's stoppage of delivery in transit or otherwise.

1. The seller may stop delivery of goods in the possession of a carrier or other bailee when he discovers the buyer to be insolvent (section 554.2702) and may stop delivery of carload, truckload, planeload or larger shipments of express or freight when the buyer repudiates or fails to make a payment due before delivery or if for any other reason the seller has a right to withhold or reclaim the goods.

2. As against such buyer the seller may stop delivery until

- a. receipt of the goods by the buyer; or
- b. acknowledgment to the buyer by any bailee of the goods except a carrier that the bailee holds the goods for the buyer; or
- c. such acknowledgment to the buyer by a carrier by reshipment or as warehouseman; or
- d. negotiation to the buyer of any negotiable document of title covering the goods.

3. a. To stop delivery the seller must so notify as to enable the bailee by reasonable diligence to prevent delivery of the goods.

b. After such notification the bailee must hold and deliver the goods according to the directions of the seller but the seller is liable to the bailee for any ensuing charges or damages.

c. If a negotiable document of title has been issued for goods the bailee is not obliged to obey a notification to stop until surrender of the document.

d. A carrier who has issued a nonnegotiable bill of lading is not obliged to obey a notification to stop received from a person other than the consignor. [S13, §3138-a9, -a11, -a49, -b11, -b13, -b41; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§8256, 8258, 8286, 9669, 9671, 9709, 9986-9988; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§487.12, 487.14, 487.42, 542.9, 542.11, 542.49, 554.58-554.60; C66, §554.2705]

Referred to in §§554.2702, 554.2708, 554.2707, 554.7403, subsection 1(d), 554.7504, subsection 4

554.2706 Seller's resale including contract for resale.

1. Under the conditions stated in section 554.2703 on seller's remedies, the seller may resell the goods concerned or the undelivered balance thereof. Where the resale is made in good faith and in a commercially reasonable manner the seller may recover the difference between the resale price and the contract price together with any incidental damages allowed under the provisions of this Article (section 554.2710), but less expenses saved in consequence of the buyer's breach.

2. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 3 or unless otherwise agreed resale may be at public or private sale including sale by way of one or more contracts to sell or of identification to an existing contract of the seller. Sale may be as a unit or in parcels and at any time and place and on any terms but every aspect of the sale including the method, manner, time, place and terms must be commercially reasonable. The resale must be reasonably identified as referring to the broken contract, but it is not necessary that the goods be in existence or that any or all of them have been identified to the contract before the breach.

3. Where the resale is at private sale the seller must give the buyer reasonable notification of his intention to resell.

4. Where the resale is at public sale

- a. only identified goods can be sold except where there is a recognized market for a public sale of futures in goods of the kind; and

b. it must be made at a usual place or market for public sale if one is reasonably available and except in the case of goods which are perishable or threaten to decline in value speedily the seller must give the buyer reasonable notice of the time and place of the resale; and

c. if the goods are not to be within the view of those attending the sale the notification of sale must state the place where the goods are located and provide for their reasonable inspection by prospective bidders; and

d. the seller may buy.

5. A purchaser who buys in good faith at a resale takes the goods free of any rights of the original buyer even though the seller fails to comply with one or more of the requirements of this section.

6. The seller is not accountable to the buyer for any profit made on any resale. A person in the position of a seller (section 554.2707) or a buyer who has rightfully rejected or justifiably revoked acceptance must account for any excess over the amount of his security interest, as hereinafter defined (subsection 3 of section 554.2711). [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9989; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.61; C66, §554.2706]

554.2707 "Person in the position of a seller".

1. A "person in the position of a seller" includes as against a principal an agent who has paid or become responsible for the price of goods on behalf of his principal or anyone who otherwise holds a security interest or other right in goods similar to that of a seller.

2. A person in the position of a seller may as provided in this Article withhold or stop delivery (section 554.2705) and resell (section 554.2706) and recover incidental damages (section 554.2710). [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9981; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.53; C66, §554.2707]

Referred to in §§554.2103, subsection 2, 554.2104, subsection 2, 554.2706, subsection 6, 554.5115

554.2708 Seller's damages for nonacceptance or repudiation.

1. Subject to subsection 2 and to the provisions of this Article with respect to proof of market price (section 554.2723), the measure of damages for nonacceptance or repudiation by the buyer is the difference between the market price at the time and place for tender and the unpaid contract price together with any incidental damages provided in this Article (section 554.2710), but less expenses saved in consequence of the buyer's breach.

2. If the measure of damages provided in subsection 1 is inadequate to put the seller in as good a position as performance would have done then the measure of damages is the profit (including reasonable overhead) which the seller would have made from full performance by the buyer, together with any incidental damages provided in this Article (section 554.2710), due allowance for costs reasonably incurred and due credit for payments or proceeds of resale. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9993; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.65; C66, §554.2708]

554.2709 Action for the price.

1. When the buyer fails to pay the price as it becomes due the seller may recover, together with any incidental damages under the next section, the price

a. of goods accepted or of conforming goods lost or damaged within a commercially reasonable time after risk of their loss has passed to the buyer; and

b. of goods identified to the contract if the seller is unable after reasonable effort to resell them at a reasonable price or the circumstances reasonably indicate that such effort will be unavailing.

2. Where the seller sues for the price he must hold for the buyer any goods which have been identified to the contract and are still in his control except that if resale becomes possible he may resell them at any time prior to the collection of the judgment. The net proceeds of any such resale must be credited to the buyer and payment of the judgment entitles him to any goods not resold.

3. After the buyer has wrongfully rejected or revoked acceptance of the goods or has failed to make a payment due or has repudiated (section 554.2610), a seller who is held not entitled to the price under this section shall nevertheless be awarded damages for nonacceptance under the preceding section. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9992; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.64; C66, §554.2709]

Referred to in §554.2703

554.2710 Seller's incidental damages. Incidental damages to an aggrieved seller include any commercially reasonable charges, expenses or commissions incurred in stopping delivery, in the transportation, care and custody of goods after the buyer's breach, in connection with return or resale of the goods or otherwise resulting from the breach. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9993, 9999; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.65, 554.71; C66, §554.2710]

554.2711 Buyer's remedies in general—buyer's security interest in rejected goods.

1. Where the seller fails to make delivery or repudiates or the buyer rightfully rejects or justifiably revokes acceptance then with respect to any goods involved, and with respect to the whole if the breach goes to the whole contract (section 554.2612), the buyer may cancel and whether or not he has done so may in addition to recovering so much of the price as has been paid

a. "cover" and have damages under the next section as to all the goods affected whether or not they have been identified to the contract; or

b. recover damages for nondelivery as provided in this Article (section 554.2713).

2. Where the seller fails to deliver or repudiates the buyer may also

a. if the goods have been identified recover them as provided in this Article (section 554.2502); or

b. in a proper case obtain specific performance or replevy the goods as provided in this Article (section 554.2716).

3. On rightful rejection or justifiable revocation of acceptance a buyer has a security interest in goods in his possession or control for any payments made on their price and any expenses reasonably incurred in their inspection, receipt, transportation, care and custody and may hold such goods and resell them in like manner as an aggrieved seller (section 554.2706). [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9998; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.70; C66, §554.2711]

Referred to in §§554.2602, subsection 2(b), 554.2603, subsection 1, 554.2610, 554.2706, subsection 6

1. After a breach within the preceding section the buyer may "cover" by making in good faith and without unreasonable delay any reasonable purchase of or contract to purchase goods in substitution for those due from the seller.

2. The buyer may recover from the seller as damages the difference between the cost of cover and the contract price together with any incidental or consequential damages as hereinafter defined (section 554.2715), but less expenses saved in consequence of the seller's breach.

3. Failure of the buyer to effect cover within this section does not bar him from any other remedy. [C66, §554.2712]

554.2713 Buyer's damages for nondelivery or repudiation.

1. Subject to the provisions of this Article with respect to proof of market price (section 554.2723), the measure of damages for nondelivery or repudiation by the seller is the difference between the market price at the time when the buyer learned of the breach and the contract price together with any incidental and consequential damages provided in this Article (section 554.2715), but less expenses saved in consequence of the seller's breach.

2. Market price is to be determined as of the place for tender or, in cases of rejection after arrival or revocation of acceptance, as of the place of arrival. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9996; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.68; C66, §554.2713]

Referred to in §§554.2711, subsection 1(b), 554.2723

554.2714 Buyer's damages for breach in regard to accepted goods.

1. Where the buyer has accepted goods and given notification (subsection 3 of section 554.2607) he may recover as damages for any nonconformity of tender the loss resulting in the ordinary course of events from the seller's breach as determined in any manner which is reasonable.

2. The measure of damages for breach of warranty is the difference at the time and place of acceptance between the value of the goods accepted and the value they would have had if they had been as warranted, unless special circumstances show proximate damages of a different amount.

3. In a proper case any incidental and consequential damages under the next section may also be recovered. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9998; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.70; C66, §554.2714]

554.2715 Buyer's incidental and consequential damages.

1. Incidental damages resulting from the seller's breach include expenses reasonably incurred in inspection, receipt, transportation and care and custody of goods rightfully rejected, any commercially reasonable charges, expenses or commissions in connection with effecting cover and any other reasonable expense incident to the delay or other breach.

2. Consequential damages resulting from the seller's breach include a. any loss resulting from general or particular requirements and needs of which the seller at the time of contracting had reason to know and which could not reasonably be prevented by cover or otherwise; and

b. injury to person or property proximately resulting from any breach of warranty. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9998, 9999; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.70, 554.71; C66, §554.2715]

Referred to in §§554.2712, 554.2713

554.2716 Buyer's right to specific performance or replevin.

1. Specific performance may be decreed where the goods are unique or in other proper circumstances.

2. The decree for specific performance may include such terms and conditions as to payment of the price, damages, or other relief as the court may deem just.

3. The buyer has a right of replevin for goods identified to the contract if after reasonable effort he is unable to effect cover for such goods or the circumstances reasonably indicate that such effort will be unavailing or if the goods have been shipped under reservation and satisfaction of the security interest in them has been made or tendered. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9995, 9997; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.67, 554.69; C66, §554.2716]

Referred to in §§554.2402, 554.2711, subsection 2(b)

554.2717 Deduction of damages from the price. The buyer on notifying the seller of his intention to do so may deduct all or any part of the damages resulting from any breach of the contract from any part of the price still due under the same contract. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9998; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §554.70; C66, §554.2717]

554.2718 Liquidation or limitation of damages—deposits.

1. Damages for breach by either party may be liquidated in the agreement but only at an amount which is reasonable in the light of the anticipated or actual harm caused by the breach, the difficulties of proof of loss, and the inconvenience or nonfeasibility of otherwise obtaining an adequate remedy. A term fixing unreasonably large liquidated damages is void as a penalty.

2. Where the seller justifiably withholds delivery of goods because of the buyer's breach, the buyer is entitled to restitution of any amount by which the sum of his payments exceeds

a. the amount to which the seller is entitled by virtue of terms liquidating the seller's damages in accordance with subsection 1, or

b. in the absence of such terms, twenty percent of the value of the total performance for which the buyer is obligated under the contract or five hundred dollars, whichever is smaller.

3. The buyer's right to restitution under subsection 2 is subject to offset to the extent that the seller establishes a. a right to recover damages under the provisions of this Article other than subsection 1, and

b. the amount or value of any benefits received by the buyer directly or indirectly by reason of the contract.

4. Where a seller has received payment in goods their reasonable value or the proceeds of their resale shall be treated as payments for the purposes of subsection 2; but if the seller has notice of the buyer's breach before reselling goods received in part performance, his resale is subject to the conditions laid down in this Article on resale by an aggrieved seller (section 554.2706). [C66,§554.2718]

Referred to in §§554.2316, subsection 4, 554.2601

554.2719 Contractual modification or limitation of remedy.

1. Subject to the provisions of subsections 2 and 3 of this section and of the preceding section on liquidation and limitation of damages,

a. the agreement may provide for remedies in addition to or in substitution for those provided in this Article and may limit or alter the measure of damages recoverable under this Article, as by limiting the buyer's remedies to return of the goods and repayment of the price or to repair and replacement of nonconforming goods or parts; and

b. resort to a remedy as provided is optional unless the remedy is expressly agreed to be exclusive, in which case it is the sole remedy.

2. Where circumstances cause an exclusive or limited remedy to fall of its essential purpose, remedy may be had as provided in this chapter.

3. Consequential damages may be limited or excluded unless the limitation or exclusion is unconscionable. Limitation of consequential damages for injury to the person in the case of consumer goods is prima-facie unconscionable but limitation of damages where the loss is commercial is not. [C66,§554.2719]

Referred to in §§554.2316, subsection 4, 554.2601

554.2720 Effect of "cancellation" or "rescission" on claims for antecedent breach. Unless the contrary intention clearly appears, expressions of "cancellation" or "rescission" of the contract or the like shall not be construed as a renunciation or discharge of any claim in damages for an antecedent breach. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9990; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§554.62; C66, §554.2720]

554.2721 Remedies for fraud. Remedies for material misrepresentation or fraud include all remedies available under this Article for non-fraudulent breach. Neither rescission or a claim for rescission of the contract for sale nor rejection or return of the goods shall bar or be deemed inconsistent with a claim for damages or other remedy. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9990; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§554.62; C66,§554.2721]

554.2722 Who can sue third parties for injury to goods. Where a third party so deals with goods which have been identified to a contract for sale as to cause actionable injury to a party to that contract

a. a right of action against the third party is in either party to the contract for sale who has title to or a security interest in a special property or an insurable interest in the goods; and if the goods have been destroyed or converted a right of action is also in the party who either bore the risk of loss under the contract for sale or has since the injury assumed that risk as against the other;

b. if at the time of the injury the party plaintiff did not bear the risk of loss as against the other party to the contract for sale and there is no arrangement between them for disposition of the recovery, his suit or settlement is, subject to his own interest, as a fiduciary for the other party to the contract;

c. either party may with the consent of the other sue for the benefit of whom it may concern. [C66,§554.2722]

554.2723 Proof of market price—time and place.

1. If an action based on anticipatory repudiation comes to trial before the time for performance with respect to some or all of the goods, any damages based on market price (section 554.2708 or 554.2713) shall be determined according to the price of such goods prevailing at the time when the aggrieved party learned of the repudiation.

2. If evidence of a price prevailing at the times or places described in this Article is not readily available the price prevailing within any reasonable time before or after the time described or at any other place which in commercial judgment or under usage of trade would serve as a reasonable substitute for the one described may be used, making any proper allowance for the cost of transporting the goods to or from such other place.

3. Evidence of a relevant price prevailing at a time or place other than the one described in this Article offered by one party is not admissible unless and until he has given the other party such notice as the court finds sufficient to prevent unfair surprise. [C66, §554.2723]

554.2724 Admissibility of market quotations. Whenever the prevailing price or value of any goods regularly bought and sold in any established commodity market is in issue, reports in official publications or trade journals or in newspapers or periodicals of general circulation published as the reports of such market shall be admissible in evidence. The circumstances of the preparation of such a report may be shown to affect its weight but not its admissibility. [C66, §554.2724]

554.2725 Statute of limitations in contracts for sale.***

1. By the original agreement the parties may reduce the period of limitation to not less than one year but may not extend it.

2. A cause of action accrues when the breach occurs, regardless of the aggrieved party's lack of knowledge of the breach. A breach of warranty occurs when tender of delivery is made, except that where a warranty explicitly extends to future performance of the goods and discovery of the breach must await the time of such performance the cause of action accrues when the breach is or should have been discovered.

3. Where an action commenced within the time limited by law* or by agreement as provided in subsection 1 is so terminated as to leave available a remedy by another action for the same breach such other action may be commenced after the expiration of the time limited and within six months after the termination of the first action unless the termination resulted from voluntary discontinuance or from dismissal for failure or neglect to prosecute.

4. This section does not alter the law on tolling of the statute of limitations nor does it apply to causes of action which have accrued before this chapter becomes effective. [C66, §554.2725]

1. Any writing to be a negotiable instrument within this Article must 554.3105 When promise or order unconditional.

1. A promise or order otherwise unconditional is not made conditional by the fact that the instrument

- a. is subject to implied or constructive conditions; or
- b. states its consideration, whether performed or promised, or the transaction which gave rise to the instrument, or that the promise or order is made or the instrument matures in accordance with or “as per” such transaction; or
- c. refers to or states that it arises out of a separate agreement or refers to a separate agreement for rights as to prepayment or acceleration; or

- h. is limited to payment out of the entire assets of a partnership, unincorporated association, trust or estate by or on behalf of which the instrument is issued.

2. A promise or order is not unconditional if the instrument

1. An instrument is payable in money if the medium of exchange in which it is payable is money at the time the instrument is made. An instrument payable in “currency” or “current funds” is payable in money.

2. A promise or order to pay a sum stated in a foreign currency is for a sum certain in money and, unless a different medium of payment is specified in the instrument, may be satisfied by payment of that number of dollars which the stated foreign currency will purchase at the buying sight rate for that currency on the day on which the instrument is payable or, if payable on demand, on the day of demand. If such an instrument specifies a foreign currency as the medium of payment the instrument is payable in that currency. [S13,§3060-a6; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9466; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§541.6; C66,§554.3107]

- b. at a fixed period after sight; or
- c. at a definite time subject to any acceleration; or
- d. at a definite time subject to extension at the option of the holder, or to extension to a further definite time at the option of the maker or acceptor or automatically upon or after a specified act or event.

2. An instrument which by its terms is otherwise payable only upon an act or event uncertain as to time of occurrence is not payable at a definite time even though the act or event has occurred. [S13,§3060-a4,-a17; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§9464, 9477; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§541.4, 541.17; C66,§554.3109]

554.3110 Payable to order.

1. An instrument is payable to order when by its terms it is payable to the order or assigns of any person therein specified with reasonable certainty, or to him or his order, or when it is conspicuously designated on its face as "exchange" or the like and names a payee. It may be payable to the order of

- a. the maker or drawer; or
- b. the drawee; or
- c. a payee who is not maker, drawer or drawee; or
- d. two or more payees together or in the alternative; or
- e. an estate, trust or fund, in which case it is payable to the order of the representative of such estate, trust or fund or his successors; or
- f. an office, or an officer by his title as such in which case it is payable to the principal but the incumbent of the office or his successors may act as if he or they were the holder; or
- g. a partnership or unincorporated association, in which case it is payable to the partnership or association and may be endorsed or transferred by any person thereto authorized.

2. An instrument not payable to order is not made so payable by such words as "payable upon return of this instrument properly endorsed."

3. An instrument made payable both to order and to bearer is payable to order unless the bearer words are handwritten or typewritten. [S13,§3060-a8; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9468; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§541.8; C66,§554.3110]

554.3111 Payable to bearer. An instrument is payable to bearer when by its terms it is payable to

- a. bearer or the order of bearer; or
- b. a specified person or bearer; or
- c. "cash" or the order of "cash", or any other indication which does not purport to designate a specific payee. [S13,§3060-a9; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9469; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§541.9; C66, §554.3111]

554.3112 Terms and omissions not affecting negotiability.

1. The negotiability of an instrument is not affected by

- a. the omission of a statement of any consideration or of the place where the instrument is drawn or payable; or
- b. a statement that collateral has been given to secure obligations either on the instrument or otherwise of an obligor on the instrument or that in case of default on those obligations the holder may realize on or dispose of the collateral; or

c. a promise or power to maintain or protect collateral or to give additional collateral; or

d. a term authorizing a confession of judgment on the instrument if it is not paid when due; or

e. a term purporting to waive the benefit of any law intended for the advantage or protection of any obligor; or

f. a term in a draft providing that the payee by endorsing or cashing it acknowledges full satisfaction of an obligation of the drawer; or

g. a statement in a draft drawn in a set of parts (section 554.3801) to the effect that the order is effective only if no other part has been honored.

2. Nothing in this section shall validate any term which is otherwise illegal. [S13,§3060-a5,-a6; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§9465, 9466; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§541.5, 541.6; C66,§554.3112]

554.3113 Seal. An instrument otherwise negotiable is within this Article even though it is under a seal. [S13,§3060-a5,-a6; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§9465, 9466; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§541.5, 541.6; C66,§554.3113]

554.3114 Date, antedating, postdating.

1. The negotiability of an instrument is not affected by the fact that it is undated, antedated or postdated.

2. Where an instrument is antedated or postdated the time when it is payable is determined by the stated date if the instrument is payable on demand or at a fixed period after date.

3. Where the instrument or any signature thereon is dated, the date is presumed to be correct. [S13,§3060-a6,-a11,-a12,-a17; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§9466, 9471, 9472, 9477; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§541.6, 541.11, 541.12, 541.17; C66,§554.3114]

554.3115 Incomplete instruments.

1. When a paper whose contents at the time of signing show that it is intended to become an instrument is signed while still incomplete in any necessary respect it cannot be enforced until completed, but when it is completed in accordance with authority given it is effective as completed.

2. If the completion is unauthorized the rules as to material alteration apply (section 554.3407), even though the paper was not delivered by the maker or drawer; but the burden of establishing that any completion is unauthorized is on the party so asserting. [S13, §3060-a13,-a14,-a15; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§9473-9475; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§541.13-541.15; C66, §554.3115]

554.3116 Instruments payable to two or more persons. An instrument payable to the order of two or more persons

a. if in the alternative is payable to any one of them and may be negotiated, discharged or enforced by any of them who has possession of it;

b. if not in the alternative is payable to all of them and may be negotiated, discharged or enforced only by all of them. [S13,§3060-a41; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9501; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §541.41; C66,§554.3116]

554.3117 Instruments payable with words of description. An instrument made payable to a named person with the addition of words describing him

a. as agent or officer of a specified person is payable to his principal but the agent or officer may act as if he were the holder;

b. as any other fiduciary for a specified person or purpose is payable to the payee and may be negotiated, discharged or enforced by him;

c. in any other manner is payable to the payee unconditionally and the additional words are without effect on subsequent parties. [S13,§3060-a42; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9502; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§541.42; C66,§554.3117]

554.3118 Ambiguous terms and rules of construction. The following rules apply to every instrument:

a. Where there is doubt whether the instrument is a draft or a note the holder may treat it as either. A draft drawn on the drawer is effective as a note.

b. Handwritten terms control typewritten and printed terms, and typewritten control printed.

c. Words control figures except that if the words are ambiguous figures control.

d. Unless otherwise specified a provision for interest means interest at the judgment rate at the place of payment from the date of the instrument, or if it is undated from the date of issue.

e. Unless the instrument otherwise specifies two or more persons who sign as maker, acceptor or drawer or endorser and as a part of the same transaction are jointly and severally liable even though the instrument contains such words as "I promise to pay."

f. Unless otherwise specified consent to extension authorizes a single extension for not longer than the original period. A consent to extension, expressed in the instrument, is binding on secondary parties and accommodation makers. A holder may not exercise his option to extend an instrument over the objection of a maker or acceptor or other party who in accordance with section 554.3604 tenders full payment when the instrument is due. [S13,§3060-a17,-a68,-a192; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§9477, 9528, 9653; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§541.17, 541.68, 541.193; C66,§554.3118]

554.3119 Other writings affecting instrument.

1. As between the obligor and his immediate obligee or any transferee the terms of an instrument may be modified or affected by any other written agreement executed as a part of the same transaction, except that a holder in due course is not affected by any limitation of his rights arising out of the separate written agreement if he had no notice of the limitation when he took the instrument.

2. A separate agreement does not affect the negotiability of an instrument. [C66,§554.3119]

554.3120 Instruments "payable through" bank. An instrument which states that it is "payable through" a bank or the like designates that bank as a collecting bank to make presentment but does not of itself authorize the bank to pay the instrument. [C66,§554.3120]

554.3121 Instruments payable at bank. A note or acceptance which states that it is payable at a bank is not of itself an order or authorization to the bank to pay it. [S13,§3060-a87; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9548; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §541.88; C66,§554.3121]

554.3122 Accrual of cause of action.

1. A cause of action against a maker or an acceptor accrues

a. in the case of a time instrument on the day after maturity;

b. in the case of a demand instrument upon its date or, if no date is stated, on the date of issue.

2. A cause of action against the obligor of a demand or time certificate of deposit accrues upon demand, but demand on a time certificate may not be made until on or after the date of maturity.

3. A cause of action against a drawer of a draft or an endorser of any instrument accrues upon demand following dishonor of the instrument. Notice of dishonor is a demand.

4. Unless an instrument provides otherwise, interest runs at the rate provided by law for a judgment

a. in the case of a maker, acceptor or other primary obligor of a demand instrument, from the date of demand;

b. in all other cases from the date of accrual of the cause of action. [C66,§554.3122]

PART 2

TRANSFER AND NEGOTIATION

554.3201 Transfer—right to endorsement.

1. Transfer of an instrument vests in the transferee such rights as the transferor has therein, except that a transferee who has himself been a party to any fraud or illegality affecting the instrument or who as a prior holder had notice of a defense or claim against it cannot improve his position by taking from a later holder in due course.

2. A transfer of a security interest in an instrument vests the foregoing rights in the transferee to the extent of the interest transferred.

3. Unless otherwise agreed any transfer for value of an instrument not then payable to bearer gives the transferee the specifically enforceable right to have the unqualified endorsement of the transferor. Negotiation takes effect only when the endorsement is made and until that time there is no presumption that the transferee is the owner. [S13,§3060-a27, -a49,-a58; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9487, 9509, 9518; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§541.27, 541.49, 541.58; C66, §554.3201]

554.3202 Negotiation.

1. Negotiation is the transfer of an instrument in such form that the transferee becomes a holder. If the instrument is payable to order it is negotiated by delivery with any necessary endorsement; if payable to bearer it is negotiated by delivery.

2. An endorsement must be written by or on behalf of the holder and on the instrument or on a paper so firmly affixed thereto as to become a part thereof.

3. An endorsement is effective for negotiation only when it conveys the entire instrument or any unpaid residue. If it purports to be of less it operates only as a partial assignment.

4. Words of assignment, condition, waiver, guaranty, limitation or disclaimer of liability and the like accompanying an endorsement do not affect its character as an endorsement. [S13,§3060-a30,-a31,-a32; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9490-9492; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§541.30-541.32; C66, §554.3202]

Referred to in §554.3102, subsection 2

554.3203 Wrong or misspelled name. Where an instrument is made payable to a person under a misspelled name or one other than his own he may endorse in that name or his own or both; but signature in both names, may be required by a person paying or giving value for the instrument. [S13,§3060-a43; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9503; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §541.43; C66, §554.3203]

554.3204 Special endorsement — blank endorsement.

1. A special endorsement specifies the person to whom or to whose order it makes the instrument payable. Any instrument specially endorsed becomes payable to the order of the special endorsee and may be further negotiated only by his endorsement.

2. An endorsement in blank specifies no particular endorsee and may consist of a mere signature. An instrument payable to order and endorsed in blank becomes payable to bearer and may be negotiated by delivery alone until specially endorsed.

3. The holder may convert a blank endorsement into a special endorsement by writing over the signature of the endorser in blank any contract consistent with the character of the endorsement. [S13,§3060-a9,-a33,-a34,-a35,-a36,-a40; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9469, 9493-9496, 9500; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§541.9, 541.33-541.36, 541.40; C66, §554.3204]

a. is conditional; or

b. purports to prohibit further transfer of the instrument; or

c. includes the words "for collection", "for deposit", "pay any bank", or like terms signifying a purpose of deposit or collection; or

d. otherwise states that it is for the benefit or use of the endorser or of another person. [S13,§3060-a36,-a37,-a39; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9496, 9497, 9499; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§541.36, 541.37, 541.39; C66, §554.3205]

Referred to in §§554.3102, subsection 2, 554.3206, subsections 3 and 4, 554.3419, subsection 4

554.3206 Effect of restrictive endorsement.

1. No restrictive endorsement prevents further transfer or negotiation of the instrument.

2. An intermediary bank, or a payor bank which is not the depository bank, is neither given notice nor otherwise affected by a restrictive endorsement of any person except the bank's immediate transferor or the person presenting for payment.

3. Except for an intermediary bank, any transferee under an endorsement which is conditional or includes the words "for collection", "for deposit", "pay any bank", or like terms (subparagraphs "a" and "c" of section 554.3205) must pay or apply any value given by him for or on the security of the instrument consistently with the endorsement and to the extent that he does so he becomes a holder for value. In addition such transferee is a holder in due course if he otherwise complies with the requirements of section 554.3302 on what constitutes a holder in due course.

4. The first taker under an endorsement for the benefit of the endorser or another person (subparagraph "d" of section 554.3205) must pay or apply any value given by him for or on the security of the instrument consistently with the endorsement and to the extent that he does so he becomes a holder for value. In addition such taker is a holder in due course if he otherwise complies with the requirements of section 554.3302 on what constitutes a holder in due course. A later holder for value is neither given notice nor otherwise affected by such restrictive endorsement unless he has knowledge that a fiduciary or other person has negotiated the instrument in any transaction for his own benefit or otherwise in breach of duty (subsection 2 of section 554.3304). [S13, §3060-a36,-a37,-a39,-a47; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9496, 9497, 9499, 9507; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§541.36, 541.37, 541.39, 541.47; C66, §554.3206]

554.3207 Negotiation effective although it may be rescinded.

1. Negotiation is effective to transfer the instrument although the negotiation is

a. made by an infant, a corporation exceeding its powers, or any other person without capacity; or

b. obtained by fraud, duress or mistake of any kind; or

c. part of an illegal transaction; or

d. made in breach of duty.

2. Except as against a subsequent holder in due course such negotiation is in an appropriate case subject to rescission, the declaration of a constructive trust or any other remedy permitted by law. [S13,§3060-a22,-a58,-a59; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§9482, 9518, 9519; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§541.22, 541.58, 541.59; C66,§554.3207]

554.3208 Reacquisition. Where an instrument is returned to or reacquired by a prior party he may cancel any endorsement which is not necessary to his title and reissue or further negotiate the instrument, but any intervening party is discharged as against the reacquiring party and subsequent holders not in due course and if his endorsement has been canceled is discharged as against subsequent holders in due course as well. [S13,§3060-a48,-a50,-a121; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§9508, 9510, 9582; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§541.48, 541.50, 541.122; C66, §554.3208]

Referred to in §554.3601, subsection 1(e)

554.3301 Rights of a holder. The holder of an instrument whether or not he is the owner may transfer or negotiate it and, except as otherwise provided in section 554.3603 on payment or satisfaction, discharge it or enforce payment in his own name. [S13,§3060-a51; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§9511; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§541.51; C66,§554.3301]

1. A holder in due course is a holder who takes the instrument

- a. for value; and
- b. in good faith; and

c. without notice that it is overdue or has been dishonored or of any defense against or claim to it on the part of any person.

2. A payee may be a holder in due course.

3. A holder does not become a holder in due course of an instrument:

- a. by purchase of it at judicial sale or by taking it under legal process; or
- b. by acquiring it in taking over an estate; or

c. by purchasing it as part of a bulk transaction not in regular course of business of the transferor.

4. A purchaser of a limited interest can be a holder in due course only to the extent of the interest purchased. [S13,§3060-a52,-a54; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§9512, 9514; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§541.52, 541.54; C66,§554.3302]

Referred to in §§554.3102, subsection 2, 554.3206, subsections 3 and 4, 554.4104, subsection 3, 554.4209, 554.5103, subsection 3, 554.5114, subsection 2(a), 554.9105, subsection 3, 554.9309

b. when he takes the instrument in payment of or as security for an antecedent claim against any person whether or not the claim is due; or

c. when he gives a negotiable instrument for it or makes an irrevocable commitment to a third person. [S13,§3060,-a25,-a26,-a27; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§9485-9487; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§541.25-541.27; C66,§554.3303]

Referred to in §554.1201, subsection 44

554.3304 Notice to purchaser.

1. The purchaser has notice of a claim or defense if

a. the instrument is so incomplete, bears such visible evidence of forgery or alteration, or is otherwise so irregular as to call into question its validity, terms or ownership or to create an ambiguity as to the party to pay; or

b. the purchaser has notice that the obligation of any party is voidable in whole or in part, or that all parties have been discharged.

2. The purchaser has notice of a claim against the instrument when he has knowledge that a fiduciary has negotiated the instrument in payment of or as security for his own debt or in any transaction for his own benefit or otherwise in breach of duty.

Referred to in §554.3206, subsection 4

3. The purchaser has notice that an instrument is overdue if he has reason to know

a. that any part of the principal amount is overdue or that there is an uncured default in payment of another instrument of the same series; or

b. that acceleration of the instrument has been made; or

c. that he is taking a demand instrument after demand has been made or more than a reasonable length of time after its issue. A reasonable time for a check drawn and payable within the states and territories of the United States and the District of Columbia is presumed to be thirty days.

4. Knowledge of the following facts does not of itself give the purchaser notice of a defense or claim

a. that the instrument is antedated or postdated;

b. that it was issued or negotiated in return for an executory promise or accompanied by a separate agreement, unless the purchaser has notice that a defense or claim has arisen from the terms thereof;

c. that any party has signed for accommodation;

d. that an incomplete instrument has been completed, unless the purchaser has notice of any improper completion;

e. that any person negotiating the instrument is or was a fiduciary;

f. that there has been default in payment of interest on the instrument or in payment of any other instrument, except one of the same series.

5. The filing or recording of a document does not of itself constitute notice within the provisions of this Article to a person who would otherwise be a holder in due course.

6. To be effective notice must be received at such time and in such manner as to give a reasonable opportunity to act on it. [S13, §3060-a45,-a54,-a55,-a56; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§9505,

9514-9516; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§541.45, 541.54-541.56; C66, §554.3304]

554.3305 Rights of a holder in due course. To the extent that a holder is a holder in due course he takes the instrument free from

1. all claims to it on the part of any person; and

2. all defenses of any party to the instrument with whom the holder has not dealt except

a. infancy, to the extent that it is a defense to a simple contract; and

b. such other incapacity, or duress, or illegality of the transaction, as renders the obligation of the party a nullity; and

c. such misrepresentation as has induced the party to sign the instrument with neither knowledge nor reasonable opportunity to obtain knowledge of its character or its essential terms; and

d. discharge in insolvency proceedings; and

e. any other discharge of which the holder has notice when he takes the instrument. [S13, §3060-a15, a16, a57, a117; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9475, 9476, 9517, 9578; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§541.15, 541.16, 541.57, 541.118; C66, §554.3305]

Referred to in §554.3408

554.3306 Rights of one not holder in due course. Unless he has the rights of a holder in due course any person takes the instrument subject to

a. all valid claims to it on the part of any person; and

b. all defenses of any party which would be available in an action on a simple contract; and

c. the defenses of want or failure of consideration, nonperformance of any condition precedent, nondelivery, or delivery for a special purpose (section 554.3408); and

d. the defense that he or a person through whom he holds the instrument acquired it by theft, or that payment or satisfaction to such holder would be inconsistent with the terms of a restrictive endorsement. The claim of any third person to the instrument is not otherwise available as a defense to any party liable thereon unless the third person himself defends the action for such party. [S13, §3060-a16, a28, a58, a59; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9476, 9488, 9518, 9519; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§541.16, 541.28, 541.58, 541.59; C66, §554.3306]

554.3307 Burden of establishing signatures, defenses and due course.

1. Unless specifically denied in the pleadings each signature on an instrument is admitted. When the effectiveness of a signature is put in issue

a. the burden of establishing it is on the party claiming under the signature; but

b. the signature is presumed to be genuine or authorized except where the action is to enforce the obligation of a purported signer who has died or become incompetent before proof is required.

2. When signatures are admitted or established, production of the instrument entitles a holder to recover on it unless the defendant establishes a defense.

3. After it is shown that a defense exists a person claiming the rights of a holder in due course has the burden of establishing that he or some person under whom he claims is in all respects a holder in due course. [S13, §3060-a59; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9519; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §541.59; C66, §554.3307]

PART 4

LIABILITY OF PARTIES

554.3401 Signature.

1. No person is liable on an instrument unless his signature appears thereon.

2. A signature is made by use of any name, including any trade or assumed name, upon an instrument, or by any word or mark used in lieu of a written signature. [S13, §3060-a18; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9478; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §541.18; C66, §554.3401]

Referred to in §554.3102, subsection 2

554.3402 Signature in ambiguous capacity. Unless the instrument clearly indicates that a signature is made in some other capacity it is an endorsement. [S13, §3060-a17, a63; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9477, 9523; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§541.17, 541.63; C66, §554.3402]

554.3403 Signature by authorized representative.

1. A signature may be made by an agent or other representative, and his authority to make it may be established as in other cases of representation. No particular form of appointment is necessary to establish such authority.

2. An authorized representative who signs his own name to an instrument

a. is personally obligated if the instrument neither names the person represented nor shows that the representative signed in a representative capacity;

b. except as otherwise established between the immediate parties, is personally obligated if the instrument names the person represented but does not show that the representative signed in a representative capacity, or if the instrument does not name the person represented but does show that the representative signed in a representative capacity.

3. Except as otherwise established the name of an organization preceded or followed by the name and office of an authorized individual is a signature made in a representative capacity. [S13, §§1889-a, 3060-a19, a20, a21; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9266, 9479-9481; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§528.61, 541.19-545.21; C66, §554.3403]

554.3404 Unauthorized signatures.

1. Any unauthorized signature is wholly inoperative as that of the person whose name is signed unless he ratifies it or is precluded from denying it; but it operates as the signature of the unauthorized signer in favor of any person who in good faith pays the instrument or takes it for value.

2. Any unauthorized signature may be ratified for all purposes of this Article. Such ratification does not of itself affect any rights of the person ratifying against the actual signer. [S13,§3060-a23; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9483; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§541.23; C66,§554.3404]

1. An endorsement by any person in the name of a named payee is effective if

a. an imposter by use of the mails or otherwise has induced the maker or drawer to issue the instrument to him or his confederate in the name of the payee; or

b. a person signing as or on behalf of a maker or drawer intends the payee to have no interest in the instrument; or

c. an agent or employee of the maker or drawer has supplied him with the name of the payee intending the latter to have no such interest.

2. Nothing in this section shall affect the criminal or civil liability of the person so endorsing. [S13,§§1889-a, 3060-a9; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9266, 9469; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§528.61, 541.9; C66,§554.3405]

554.3406 Negligence contributing to alteration or unauthorized signature. Any person who by his negligence substantially contributes to a material alteration of the instrument or to the making of an unauthorized signature is precluded from asserting the alteration or lack of authority against a holder in due course or against a drawee or other payor who pays the instrument in good faith and in accordance with the reasonable commercial standards of the drawee's or payor's business. [S13,§1889-a; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9266; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §528.61; C66,§554.3406]

1. Any alteration of an instrument is material which changes the contract of any party thereto in any respect, including any such change in

a. the number or relations of the parties; or

b. an incomplete instrument, by completing it otherwise than as authorized; or

c. the writing as signed, by adding to it or by removing any part of it.

2. As against any person other than a subsequent holder in due course

a. alteration by the holder which is both fraudulent and material discharges any party whose contract is thereby changed unless that party assents or is precluded from asserting the defense;

b. no other alteration discharges any party and the instrument may be enforced according to its original tenor, or as to incomplete instruments according to the authority given.

3. A subsequent holder in due course may in all cases enforce the instrument according to its original tenor, and when an incomplete instrument has been completed, he may enforce it as completed. [S13,§3060-a14,-a15,-a124,-a125; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§9474, 9475, 9585, 9586;

Referred to in §§554.3102, subsection 2, 554.3115, 554.3601, subsection 1(f)

554.3408 Consideration. Want or failure of consideration is a defense as against any person not having the rights of a holder in due course (section 554.3305), except that no consideration is necessary for an instrument or obligation thereon given in payment of or as security for an antecedent obligation of any kind. Nothing in this section shall be taken to displace any statute outside this chapter under which a promise is enforceable notwithstanding lack or failure of consideration. Partial failure of consideration is a defense pro tanto whether or not the failure is in an ascertained or liquidated amount. [S13,§3060-a24,-a25,-a28; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§9484, 9485, 9488; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§541.24, 541.25, 541.28; C66, §554.3408]

Referred to in §554.3806

554.3409 Draft not an assignment.

1. A check or other draft does not of itself operate as an assignment of any funds in the hands of the drawee available for its payment, and the drawee is not liable on the instrument until he accepts it.

2. Nothing in this section shall affect any liability in contract, tort or otherwise arising from any letter of credit or other obligation or representation which is not an acceptance. [S13,§3060-a127,-a189; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§9588, 9650; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§541.128, 541.190; C66, §554.3409]

554.3410 Definition and operation of acceptance.

1. Acceptance is the drawee's signed engagement to honor the draft as presented. It must be written on the draft, and may consist of his signature alone. It becomes operative when completed by delivery or notification.

2. A draft may be accepted although it has not been signed by the drawer or is otherwise incomplete or is overdue or has been dishonored.

3. Where the draft is payable at a fixed period after sight and the acceptor fails to date his acceptance the holder may complete it by supplying a date in good faith. [S13,§3060-a132,-a133,-a134,-a135,-a136,-a137,-a138,-a161,-a162,-a163,-a164,-a165,-a166,-a167,-a168,-a169,-a170; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§9593-9599, 9622-9631; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§541.133-541.139, 541.162-541.171; C66, §554.3410]

554.3411 Certification of a check.

1. Certification of a check is acceptance. Where a holder procures certification the drawer and all prior endorsers are discharged.

2. Unless otherwise agreed a bank has no obligation to certify a check.

3. A bank may certify a check before returning it for lack of proper endorsement. If it does so the drawer is discharged. [S13,§3060-a187,-a188; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§9648, 9649; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§541.188, 541.189; C66,§554.3411]

Referred to in §§554.3102, subsection 2, 554.3601, subsection 1(g), 554.4104, subsection 2

554.3412 Acceptance varying draft.

1. Where the drawee's proffered acceptance in any manner varies the draft as presented the holder may refuse the acceptance and treat the draft as dishonored in which case the drawee is entitled to have his acceptance canceled.

2. The terms of the draft are not varied by an acceptance to pay at any particular bank or place in the United States, unless the acceptance states that the draft is to be paid only at such bank or place.

3. Where the holder assents to an acceptance varying the terms of the draft each drawer and endorser who does not affirmatively assent is discharged. [S13,§3060-a139,-a140,-a141,-a142; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§9600-9603; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§541.140-541.143; C66,§554.3412]

1. The maker or acceptor engages that he will pay the instrument according to its tenor at the time of his engagement or as completed pursuant to section 554.3115 on incomplete instruments.

2. The drawer engages that upon dishonor of the draft and any necessary notice of dishonor or protest he will pay the amount of the draft to the holder or to any endorser who takes it up. The drawer may disclaim this liability by drawing without recourse.

3. By making, drawing or accepting the party admits as against all subsequent parties including the drawee the existence of the payee and his then capacity to endorse. [S13, §3060-a60,-a61,-a62; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§9520-9522; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§541.60-541.62; C66, §554.3413]

554.3414 Contract of endorser — order of liability.

1. Unless the endorsement otherwise specifies (as by such words as "without recourse") every endorser engages that upon dishonor and any necessary notice of dishonor and protest he will pay the instrument according to its tenor at the time of his endorsement to the holder or to any subsequent endorser who takes it up, even though the endorser who takes it up was not obligated to do so.

2. Unless they otherwise agree endorser's are liable to one another in the order in which they endorse, which is presumed to be the order in which their signatures appear on the instrument. [S13,§3060-a38,-a44,-a66,-a67,-a68,-a84; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§9498, 9504, 9526-9528, 9544; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§541.38, 541.44, 541.66-541.68, 541.84; C66,§554.3414]

554.3415 Contract of accommodation party.

1. An accommodation party is one who signs the instrument in any capacity for the purpose of lending his name to another party to it.

2. When the instrument has been taken for value before it is due the accommodation party is liable in the capacity in which he has signed even though the taker knows of the accommodation.

3. As against a holder in due course and without notice of the accommodation oral proof of the accommodation is not admissible to give the accommodation party the benefit of discharges dependent on his character as such. In other cases the accommodation character may be shown by oral proof.

4. An endorsement which shows that it is not in the chain of title is notice of its accommodation character.

5. An accommodation party is not liable to the party accommodated, and if he pays the instrument has a right of recourse on the instrument against such party. [C73,§2094; C97, §3053; S13,§§3053, 3060-a28,-a29,-a64; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§9488, 9489, 9524, 9545; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§541.28, 541.29, 541.64, 541.85; C66,§554.3415]

554.3416 Contract of guarantor.

1. "Payment guaranteed" or equivalent words added to a signature mean that the signer engages that if the instrument is not paid when due he will pay it according to its tenor without resort by the holder to any other party.

2. "Collection guaranteed" or equivalent words added to a signature mean that the signer engages that if the instrument is not paid when due he will pay it according to its tenor, but only after the holder has reduced his claim against the maker or acceptor to judgment and execution has been returned unsatisfied, or after the maker or acceptor has become insolvent or it is otherwise apparent that it is useless to proceed against him.

3. Words of guaranty which do not otherwise specify guarantee payment.

4. No words of guaranty added to the signature of a sole maker or acceptor affect his liability on the instrument. Such words added to the signature of one of two or more makers or acceptors create a presumption that the signature is for the accommodation of the others.

5. When words of guaranty are used presentment, notice of dishonor and protest are not necessary to charge the user.

6. Any guaranty written on the instrument is enforceable notwithstanding any statute of frauds. [C73,§2094; C97,§3053; S13,§3053; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§9545; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§541.85; C66,§554.3416]

554.3417 Warranties on presentment and transfer.

1. Any person who obtains payment or acceptance and any prior transferor warrants to a person who in good faith pays or accepts that

a. he has a good title to the instrument or is authorized to obtain payment or acceptance on behalf of one who has a good title; and

b. he has no knowledge that the signature of the maker or drawer is unauthorized, except that this warranty is not given by a holder in due course acting in good faith

i. to a maker with respect to the maker's own signature; or

ii. to a drawer with respect to the drawer's own signature, whether or not the drawer is also the drawee; or

iii. to an acceptor of a draft if the holder in due course took the draft after the acceptance or obtained the acceptance without knowledge that the drawer's signature was unauthorized; and

c. the instrument has not been materially altered, except that this warranty is not given by a holder in due course acting in good faith

i. to the maker of a note; or

ii. to the drawer of a draft whether or not the drawer is also the drawee; or

iii. to the acceptor of a draft with respect to an alteration made prior to the acceptance if the holder in due course took the draft after the acceptance, even though the acceptance provided "payable as originally drawn" or equivalent terms; or

iv. to the acceptor of a draft with respect to an alteration made after the acceptance.

2. Any person who transfers an instrument and receives consideration warrants to his transferee and if the transfer is by endorsement to any subsequent holder who takes the instrument in good faith that

a. he has a good title to the instrument or is authorized to obtain payment or acceptance on behalf of one who has a good title and the transfer is otherwise rightful; and

b. all signatures are genuine or authorized; and

c. the instrument has not been materially altered; and

d. no defense of any party is good against him; and

e. he has no knowledge of any insolvency proceeding instituted with respect to the maker or acceptor or the drawer of an unaccepted instrument.

3. By transferring "without recourse" the transferor limits the obligation stated in subsection 2 "d" to a warranty that he has no knowledge of such a defense.

4. A selling agent or broker who does not disclose the fact that he is acting only as such gives the warranties provided in this section, but if he makes such disclosure warrants only his good faith and authority. [S13,§3060-a65, -a69; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§9525, 9529; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§541.65, 541.69; C66,§554.3417]

554.3418 Finality of payment or acceptance. Except for recovery of bank payments as provided in the Article on Bank Deposits and Collections (Article 4) and except for liability for breach of warranty on presentment under the preceding section, payment or acceptance of any instrument is final in favor of a holder in due course, or a person who has in good faith changed his position in reliance on the payment. [S13,§3060-a62; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9522; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§541.62; C66,§554.3418]

554.3419 Conversion of instrument — innocent representative.

1. An instrument is converted when

a. a drawee to whom it is delivered for acceptance refuses to return it on demand; or

b. any person to whom it is delivered for payment refuses on demand either to pay or to return it; or

c. it is paid on a forged endorsement.

2. In an action against a drawee under subsection 1 the measure of the drawee's liability is the face amount of the instrument. In any other action under subsection 1 the measure of liability is presumed to be the face amount of the instrument.

3. Subject to the provisions of this chapter concerning restrictive endorsements a representative, including a depository or collecting bank, who has in good faith and in accordance with the reasonable commercial standards applicable to the business of such representative dealt with an instrument or its proceeds on behalf of one who was not the true owner is not liable in conversion or otherwise to the true owner beyond the amount of any proceeds remaining in his hands.

4. An intermediary bank or payor bank which is not a depository bank is not liable in conversion solely by reason of the fact that proceeds of an item endorsed restrictively (sections 554.3205 and 554.3206) are not paid or applied consistently with the restrictive endorsement of an endorser other than its immediate transferor. [S13,§3060-a137; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9508; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§541.138; C66, §554.3419]

PART 5

PRESENTMENT, NOTICE OF DISHONOR AND PROTEST

554.3501 When presentment, notice of dishonor, and protest necessary or permissible.

1. Unless excused (section 554.3511) presentment is necessary to charge secondary parties as follows:

a. presentment for acceptance is necessary to charge the drawer and endorsers of a draft where the draft so provides, or is payable elsewhere than at the residence or place of business of the drawee, or its date of payment depends upon such presentment. The holder may at his option present for acceptance any other draft payable at a stated date;

b. presentment for payment is necessary to charge any endorser;

c. in the case of any drawer, the acceptor of a draft payable at a bank or the maker of a note payable at a bank, presentment for payment is necessary, but failure to make presentment discharges such drawer, acceptor or maker only as stated in section 554.3502 subsection 1 "b".

2. Unless excused (section 554.3511)

a. notice of any dishonor is necessary to charge any endorser;

b. in the case of any drawer, the acceptor of a draft payable at a bank or the maker of a note payable at a bank, notice of any dishonor is necessary, but failure to give such notice discharges such drawer, acceptor or maker only as stated in section 554.3502 subsection 1 "b".

3. Unless excused (section 554.3511) protest of any dishonor is necessary to charge the drawer and endorsers of any draft which on its face appears to be drawn or payable outside of the states, territories, dependencies and possessions of the United States, the District of Columbia and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico. The holder may at his option make protest of any dishonor of any other instrument and in the case of a foreign draft may on insolvency of the acceptor before maturity make protest for better security.

4. Notwithstanding any provision of this section, neither presentment nor notice of dishonor nor protest is necessary to charge an endorser who has endorsed an instrument after maturity. [S13, §§3060-a70, a89, a117, a118, a129, a143, a144, a150, a151, a152, a157, a158, a186; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9530, 9550, 9578, 9579, 9590, 9604, 9605, 9611-9613, 9618, 9619, 9647; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§541.70, 541.90, 541.118, 541.119, 541.130, 541.144, 541.145, 541.151-541.153, 541.158, 541.159, 541.187; C66, §554.3501]

554.3502 Unexcused delay—discharge.

1. Where without excuse any necessary presentment or notice of dishonor is delayed beyond the time when it is due

a. any endorser is discharged; and

b. any drawer or the acceptor of a draft payable at a bank or the maker of a note payable at a bank who because the drawee or payor bank becomes insolvent during the delay is deprived of funds maintained with the drawee or payor bank to cover the instrument may discharge his liability by written assignment to the holder of his rights against the drawee or payor bank in respect of such funds, but such drawer, acceptor or maker is not otherwise discharged.

2. Where without excuse a necessary protest is delayed beyond the time when it is due any drawer or endorser is discharged. [S13, §§3060-a7, a70, a89, a144, a150, a152, a186; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9467, 9530, 9550, 9605, 9611, 9613, 9647; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§541.7, 541.70, 541.90, 541.145, 541.151, 541.153, 541.187; C66, §554.3502]

Referred to in §§554.3501, subsections 1(c) and 2(b), 554.3601, subsection 1(i)

554.3503 Time of presentment.

1. Unless a different time is expressed in the instrument the time for any presentment is determined as follows:

a. where an instrument is payable at or a fixed period after a stated date any presentment for acceptance must be made on or before the date it is payable;

b. where an instrument is payable after sight it must either be presented for acceptance or negotiated within a reasonable time after date or issue whichever is later;

c. where an instrument shows the date on which it is payable presentment for payment is due on that date;

d. where an instrument is accelerated presentment for payment is due within a reasonable time after the acceleration;

e. with respect to the liability of any secondary party presentment for acceptance or payment of any other instrument is due within a reasonable time after such party becomes liable thereon.

2. A reasonable time for presentment is determined by the nature of the instrument, any usage of banking or trade and the facts of the particular case. In the case of an uncertified check which is drawn and payable within the United States and which is not a draft drawn by a bank the following are presumed to be reasonable periods within which to present for payment or to initiate bank collection:

a. with respect to the liability of the drawer, thirty days after date or issue whichever is later; and

b. with respect to the liability of an endorser, seven days after his endorsement.

3. Where any presentment is due on a day which is not a full business day for either the person making presentment or the party to pay or accept, presentment is due on the next following day which is a full business day for both parties.

4. Presentment to be sufficient must be made at a reasonable hour, and if at a bank during its banking day. [C73, §2094; C97, §3053; S13, §§3053, 3060-a71, a72, a75, a85, a86, a144, a145, a146, a186; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9531, 9532, 9535, 9545-9547, 9605-9607, 9647; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§541.71, 541.72, 541.75, 541.85-541.87, 541.145-541.147, 541.187; C66, §554.3503]

554.3504 How presentment made.

1. Presentment is a demand for acceptance or payment made upon the maker, acceptor, drawee or other payor by or on behalf of the holder.

2. Presentment may be made a. by mail, in which event the time of presentment is determined by the time of receipt of the mail; or

b. through a clearing house; or

c. at the place of acceptance or payment specified in the instrument or if there be none at the place of business or residence of the party to accept or pay. If neither the party to accept or pay nor anyone authorized to act for him is present or accessible at such place presentment is excused.

3. It may be made a. to any one of two or more makers, acceptors, drawees or other payors; or

b. to any person who has authority to make or refuse the acceptance or payment.

4. A draft accepted or a note made payable at a bank in the United States must be presented at such bank.

5. In the cases described in section 554.4210 presentment may be made in the manner and with the result stated in that section. [S13, §3060-a72,-a73,-a76,-a77,-a78,-a145; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9532, 9533, 9536-9538, 9606; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§541.72, 541.73, 541.76-541.78, 541.146; C66, §554.3504]

Referred to in §§554.8102, subsection 2, 554.4104, subsection 3

554.3505 Rights of party to whom presentment is made.

1. The party to whom presentment is made may without dishonor require a. exhibition of the instrument; and

b. reasonable identification of the person making presentment and evidence of his authority to make it if made for another; and
c. that the instrument be produced for acceptance or payment at a place specified in it, or if there be none at any place reasonable in the circumstances; and

d. a signed receipt on the instrument for any partial or full payment and its surrender upon full payment.

2. Failure to comply with any such requirement invalidates the presentment but the person presenting has a reasonable time in which to comply and the time for acceptance or payment runs from the time of compliance. [S13, §3060-a74; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9534; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §541.74; C66, §554.3505]

Referred to in §554.4210(1), (2)

554.3506 Time allowed for acceptance or payment.

1. Acceptance may be deferred without dishonor until the close of the next business day following presentment. The holder may also in a good faith effort to obtain acceptance and without either dishonor of the instrument or discharge of secondary parties allow postponement of acceptance for an additional business day.

2. Except as a longer time is allowed in the case of documentary drafts drawn under a letter of credit, and unless an earlier time is agreed to by the party to pay, payment of an instrument may be deferred without dishonor pending reasonable examination to determine whether it is properly payable, but payment must be made in any event before the close of business on the day of presentment. [S13, §3060-a136; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9597; C46, §541.137; C50, 54, 58, 62, §§541.137, 541.201; C66, §554.3506]

1. An instrument is dishonored when
a. a necessary or optional presentment is duly made and due acceptance or payment is refused or cannot be obtained within the prescribed time or in case of bank collections the instrument is seasonably returned by the midnight deadline (section 554.4301); or

b. presentment is excused and the instrument is not duly accepted or paid.

2. Subject to any necessary notice of dishonor and protest, the holder has upon dishonor an immediate right of recourse against the drawers and endorsers.

3. Return of an instrument for lack of proper endorsement is not dishonor.

4. A term in a draft or an endorsement thereof allowing a stated time for re-presentment in the event of any dishonor of the draft by non-acceptance if a time draft or by nonpayment if a sight draft gives the holder as against any secondary party bound by the term an option to waive the dishonor without affecting the liability of the secondary party and he may present again up to the end of the stated time. [C73, §2094; C97, §3053; S13, §§3053, 3060-a83,-a149; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9543, 9545, 9610; C46, §§541.83, 541.85, 541.150; C50, 54, 58, 62, §§541.83, 541.85, 541.150, 541.201; C66, §554.3507]

1. Notice of dishonor may be given to any person who may be liable on the instrument by or on behalf of the holder or any party who has himself received notice, or any other party who can be compelled to pay the instrument. In addition an agent or bank in whose hands the instrument is dishonored may give notice to his principal or customer or to another agent or bank from which the instrument was received.

2. Any necessary notice must be given by a bank before its midnight deadline and by any other person before midnight of the third business day after dishonor or receipt of notice of dishonor.

3. Notice may be given in any reasonable manner. It may be oral or written and in any terms which identify the instrument and state that it has been dishonored. A misdescription which does not mislead the party notified does not vitiate the notice. Sending the instrument bearing a stamp, ticket or writing stating that acceptance or payment has been refused or sending a notice of debit with respect to the instrument is sufficient.

4. Written notice is given when sent although it is not received.

5. Notice to one partner is notice to each although the firm has been dissolved.

6. When any party is in insolvency proceedings instituted after the issue of the instrument notice may be given either to the party or to the representative of his estate.

7. When any party is dead or incompetent notice may be sent to his last known address or given to his personal representative.

8. Notice operates for the benefit of all parties who have rights on the instrument against the party notified. [S13, §§3060-a90,-a91,-a92,-a93,-a94,-a95,-a96,-a97,-a98,-a99,-a100,-a101,-a102,-a103,-a104,-a105,-a106,-a107,-a108; C24, 27, 31,

35, 39, §§9551-9569; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§541.91-541.109; C66, §554.3508]

554.3509 Protest—noting for protest.

1. A protest is a certificate of dishonor made under the hand and seal of a United States consul or vice consul or a notary public or other person authorized to certify dishonor by the law of the place where dishonor occurs. It may be made upon information satisfactory to such person.

2. The protest must identify the instrument and certify either that due presentment has been made or the reason why it is excused and that the instrument has been dishonored by nonacceptance or nonpayment.

3. The protest may also certify that notice of dishonor has been given to all parties or to specified parties.

4. Subject to subsection 5 any necessary protest is due by the time that notice of dishonor is due.

5. If, before protest is due, an instrument has been noted for protest by the officer to make protest, the protest may be made at any time thereafter as of the date of the noting. [C51, §§82, 2414; R60, §§199, 4011; C73, §3668; C97, §4624; S13, §3060-a153, -a154, -a155, -a156, -a158, -a160; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9614-9617, 9619, 9621, 11284; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§541.154-541.157, 541.159, 541.161, 622.31; C66, §554.3509]

Referred to in §§554.3102(2), 554.4104(8)

554.3510 Evidence of dishonor and notice of dishonor. The following are admissible as evidence and create a presumption of dishonor and of any notice of dishonor therein shown:

a. a document regular in form as provided in the preceding section which purports to be a protest;

b. the purported stamp or writing of the drawee, payor bank or presenting bank on the instrument or accompanying it stating that acceptance or payment has been refused for reasons consistent with dishonor;

c. any book or record of the drawee, payer bank, or any collecting bank kept in the usual course of business which shows dishonor, even though there is no evidence of who made the entry. [C51, §§82, 2414; R60, §§199, 4011; C73, §3668; C97, §4624; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §11284; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §622.31; C66, §554.3510]

554.3511 Waived or excused presentment, protest or notice of dishonor or delay therein.

1. Delay in presentment, protest or notice of dishonor is excused when the party is without notice that it is due or when the delay is caused by circumstances beyond his control and he exercises reasonable diligence after the cause of the delay ceases to operate.

2. Presentment or notice or protest as the case may be is entirely excused when

a. the party to be charged has waived it expressly or by implication either before or after it is due; or

b. such party has himself dishonored the instrument or has countermanded payment or otherwise has no reason to expect or right to require that the instrument be accepted or paid; or

c. by reasonable diligence the presentment or protest cannot be made or the notice given.

3. Presentment is also entirely excused when

a. the maker, acceptor or drawee of any instrument except a documentary draft is dead or in insolvency proceedings instituted after the issue of the instrument; or

b. acceptance or payment is refused but not for want of proper presentment.

4. Where a draft has been dishonored by nonacceptance a later presentment for payment and any notice of dishonor and protest for nonpayment are excused unless in the meantime the instrument has been accepted.

5. A waiver of protest is also a waiver of presentment and of notice of dishonor even though protest is not required.

6. Where a waiver of presentment or notice or protest is embodied in the instrument itself it is binding upon all parties; but where it is written above the signature of an endorser it binds him only. [S13, §3060-a79, -a80, -a81, -a82, -a109, -a110, -a111, -a112, -a113, -a114, -a115, -a116, -a130, -a147, -a148, -a150, -a151, -a159; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9539-9542, 9570-9577, 9591, 9608, 9609, 9611, 9612, 9620; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§541.79-541.82, 541.110-541.117, 541.131, 541.148, 541.149, 541.151, 541.152, 541.160; C66, §554.3511]

Referred to in §554.3501, subsections 1, 2 and 3

PART 6
DISCHARGE

554.3601 Discharge of parties.

1. The extent of the discharge of any party from liability on an instrument is governed by the sections on

a. payment or satisfaction (section 554.3603); or

b. tender of payment (section 554.3604); or

c. cancellation or renunciation (section 554.3605); or

d. impairment of right of recourse or of collateral (section 554.3606); or

e. reacquisition of the instrument by a prior party (section 554.3208); or

f. fraudulent and material alteration (section 554.3407); or

g. certification of a check (section 554.3411); or

h. acceptance varying a draft (section 554.3412); or

i. unexcused delay in presentment or notice of dishonor or protest (section 554.3502).

2. Any party is also discharged from his liability on an instrument to another party by any other act or agreement with such party which would discharge his simple contract for the payment of money.

3. The liability of all parties is discharged when any party who has himself no right of action or recourse on the instrument

a. reacquires the instrument in his own right; or

b. is discharged under any provision of this Article, except as otherwise provided with respect to discharge for impairment of recourse or of collateral (section 554.3606). [S13, §3060-a119-a121; SS15, §3060-a120; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9580-9582; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§541.120-541.122; C66, §554.3601]

554.3602 Effect of discharge against holder in due course. No discharge of any party provided by this Article is effective against a subsequent holder in due course unless he has notice thereof when he takes the instrument. [S13, §3060-a117; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9578; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §541.118; C66, §554.3602]

554.3603 Payment or satisfaction.

1. The liability of any party is discharged to the extent of his payment or satisfaction to the holder even though it is made with knowledge of a claim of another person to the instrument unless prior to such payment or satisfaction the person making the claim either supplies indemnity deemed adequate by the party seeking the discharge or enjoins payment or satisfaction by order of a court of competent jurisdiction in an action in which the adverse claimant and the holder are parties. This subsection does not, however, result in the discharge of the liability

a. of a party who in bad faith pays or satisfies a holder who acquired the instrument by theft or who (unless having the rights of a holder in due course) holds through one who so acquired it; or

b. of a party (other than an intermediary bank or a payor bank which is not a depository bank) who pays or satisfies the holder of an instrument which has been restrictively endorsed in a manner not consistent with the terms of such restrictive endorsement.

2. Payment or satisfaction may be made with the consent of the holder by any person including a stranger to the instrument. Surrender of the instrument to such a person gives him the rights of a transferee (section 554.3201). [S13, §3060-a51, -a88, -a119, -a121, -a171, -a172, -a173, -a174, -a175, -a176, -a177; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9511, 9549, 9580, 9582, 9632-9638; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§541.51, 541.89, 541.120, 541.122, 541.172-541.178; C66, §554.3603]

554.3604 Tender of payment.

1. Any party making tender of full payment to a holder when or after it is due is discharged to the extent of all subsequent liability for interest, costs and attorney's fees.

2. The holder's refusal of such tender wholly discharges any party who has a right of recourse against the party making the tender.

3. Where the maker or acceptor of an instrument payable otherwise than on demand is able and ready to pay at every place of payment specified in the instrument when it is due, it is equivalent to tender.

4. Tender shall be made as provided by section 538.5. [S13, §§3060-a70, -a120; C24, 27, 31,

35, 39, §§9530, 9581; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§541.70, 541.121; C66, §554.3604]

Referred to in §§554.3118, 554.3601, subsection 1(b)

554.3605 Cancellation and renunciation.

1. The holder of an instrument may even without consideration discharge any party

a. in any manner apparent on the face of the instrument or the endorsement, as by intentionally canceling the instrument or the party's signature by destruction or mutilation, or by striking out the party's signature; or

b. by renouncing his rights by a writing signed and delivered or by surrender of the instrument to the party to be discharged.

2. Neither cancellation nor renunciation without surrender of the instrument affects the title thereto. [S13, §3060-a48, -a119, -a120, -a122, -a123; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9508, 9580, 9581, 9583, 9584; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§541.48, 541.120, 541.121, 541.123, 541.124; C66, §554.3605]

Referred to in §554.3601, subsection 1(c)

554.3606 Impairment of recourse or of collateral.

1. The holder discharges any party to the instrument to the extent that without such party's consent the holder

a. without express reservation of rights releases or agrees not to sue any person against whom the party has to the knowledge of the holder a right of recourse or agrees to suspend the right to enforce against such person the instrument or collateral or otherwise discharges such person, except that failure or delay in effecting any required presentment, protest or notice of dishonor with respect to any such person does not discharge any party as to whom presentment, protest or notice of dishonor is effective or unnecessary; or

b. unjustifiably impairs any collateral for the instrument given by or on behalf of the party or any person against whom he has a right of recourse.

2. By express reservation of rights against a party with a right of recourse the holder preserves

a. all his rights against such party as of the time when the instrument was originally due; and

b. the right of the party to pay the instrument as of that time; and

c. all rights of such party to recourse against others. [S13, SS15, §3060-a120; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9581; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §541.121; C66, §554.3606]

Referred to in §554.3601, subsections 1(d) and 3(b)

PART 7

ADVICE OF INTERNATIONAL SIGHT DRAFT

554.3701 Letter of advice of international sight draft.

1. A "letter of advice" is a drawer's communication to the drawee that a described draft has been drawn.

2. Unless otherwise agreed when a bank receives from another bank a letter of advice of an international sight draft the drawee bank may immediately debit the drawer's account and stop the running of interest pro tanto. Such a debit and any resulting credit to any account covering outstanding drafts leaves in the drawer full power to stop payment or otherwise dispose of the amount and creates no trust or interest in favor of the holder.

3. Unless otherwise agreed and except where a draft is drawn under a credit issued by the drawee, the drawee of an international sight draft owes the drawer no duty to pay an unadvised draft but if it does so and the draft is genuine, may appropriately debit the drawer's account. [C66,§554.3701]

PART 8
MISCELLANEOUS

554.3801 Drafts in a set.

1. Where a draft is drawn in a set of parts, each of which is numbered and expressed to be an order only if no other part has been honored, the whole of the parts constitutes one draft but a taker of any part may become a holder in due course of the draft.

2. Any person who negotiates, endorses or accepts a single part of a draft drawn in a set thereby becomes liable to any holder in due course of that part as if it were the whole set, but as between different holders in due course to whom different parts have been negotiated the holder whose title first accrues has all rights to the draft and its proceeds.

3. As against the drawee the first presented part of a draft drawn in a set is the part entitled to payment, or if a time draft to acceptance and payment. Acceptance of any subsequently presented part renders the drawee liable thereon under subsection 2. With respect both to a holder and to the drawer payment of a subsequently presented part of a draft payable at sight has the same effect as payment of a check notwithstanding an effective stop order (section 554.4407).

4. Except as otherwise provided in this section, where any part of a draft in a set is discharged by payment or otherwise the whole draft is discharged. [S13,§3060-a178,-a179,-a180,-a181,-a182,-a183; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§9639-9644; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§541.179-541.184; C66, §554.3801]

Referred to in §554.3112, subsection 1(g)

554.3802 Effect of instrument on obligation for which it is given.

1. Unless otherwise agreed where an instrument is taken for an underlying obligation

a. the obligation is pro tanto discharged if a bank is drawer, maker or acceptor of the instrument and there is no recourse on the instrument against the underlying obligor; and

b. in any other case the obligation is suspended pro tanto until the instrument is due or if it is payable on demand until its presentment. If the instrument is dishonored action may be maintained on either the instrument or the obligation; discharge of the underlying obligor on the instrument also discharges him on the obligation.

2. The taking in good faith of a check which is not postdated does not of itself so extend the time on the original obligation as to discharge a surety. [C66,§554.3802]

Referred to in §554.2511

554.3803 Notice to third party. Where a defendant is sued for breach of an obligation for which a third person is answerable over under this Article he may give the third person written notice of the litigation, and the person notified may then give similar notice to any other person who is answerable over to him under this Article. If the notice states that the person notified may come in and defend and that if the person notified does not do so he will in any action against him by the person giving the notice be bound by any determination of fact common to the two litigations, then unless after seasonable receipt of the notice the person notified does come in and defend he is so bound. [C66,§554.3803]

554.3804 Lost, destroyed or stolen instruments. The owner of an instrument which is lost, whether by destruction, theft or otherwise, may maintain an action in his own name and recover from any party liable thereon upon due proof of his ownership, the facts which prevent his production of the instrument and its terms. The court may require security indemnifying the defendant against loss by reason of further claims on the instrument. [C66,§554.3804]

554.3805 Instruments not payable to order or to bearer. This Article applies to any instrument whose terms do not preclude transfer and which is otherwise negotiable within this Article but which is not payable to order or to bearer, except that there can be no holder in due course of such an instrument. [C66, §554.3805]

ARTICLE 4 BANK DEPOSITS AND COLLECTIONS

Referred to in §§554.3108, 554.3418, 554.5111

PART 1
GENERAL PROVISIONS AND DEFINITIONS

554.4101 Short title. This Article shall be known and may be cited as Uniform Commercial Code—Bank Deposits and Collections. [C66, §554.4101]

554.4102 Applicability.

1. To the extent that items within this Article are also within the scope of Articles 3 and 8, they are subject to the provisions of those Articles. In the event of conflict the provisions of this Article govern those of Article 3 but the provisions of Article 8 govern those of this Article.

2. The liability of a bank for action or non-action with respect to any item handled by it for purposes of presentment, payment or collection is governed by the law of the place where the bank is located. [C66,§554.4102]

554.4103 Variation by agreement—measure of damages—certain action constituting ordinary care.

1. The effect of the provisions of this Article may be varied by agreement except that no agreement can disclaim a bank's responsibility for its own lack of good faith or failure to exercise ordinary care or can limit the measure of damages for such lack or failure; but the parties may by agreement determine the standards by which such responsibility is to be measured if such standards are not manifestly unreasonable.

2. Federal Reserve regulations and operating letters, clearing house rules, and the like, have the effect of agreements under subsection 1, whether or not specifically assented to by all parties interested in items handled.

3. Action or nonaction approved by this Article or pursuant to Federal Reserve regulations or operating letters constitutes the exercise of ordinary care and, in the absence of special instructions, action or nonaction consistent with clearing house rules and the like or with a general banking usage not disapproved by this Article, prima facie constitutes the exercise of ordinary care.

4. The specification or approval of certain procedures by this Article does not constitute disapproval of other procedures which may be reasonable under the circumstances.

5. The measure of damages for failure to exercise ordinary care in handling an item is the amount of the item reduced by an amount which could not have been realized by the use of ordinary care, and where there is bad faith it includes other damages, if any, suffered by the party as a proximate consequence. [C66,§554.4103]

554.4106 Separate office of a bank. A separate office of a bank is a separate bank for the purpose of computing the time within which and determining the place at or to which action may be taken or notices or orders shall be given under this Article and under Article 3. [C66,§554.4106]

554.4107 Time of receipt of items.

1. For the purpose of allowing time to process items, prove balances and make the necessary entries on its books to determine its position for the day, a bank may fix an afternoon hour of two P.M. or later as a cutoff hour for the handling of money and items and the making of entries on its books.

2. Any item or deposit of money received on any day after a cutoff hour so fixed or after the close of the banking day may be treated as being received at the opening of the next banking day. [C66,§554.4107]

1. Unless otherwise instructed, a collecting bank in a good faith effort to secure payment may, in the case of specific items and with or without the approval of any person involved, waive, modify or extend time limits imposed or permitted by this chapter for a period not in excess of an additional banking day without discharge of secondary parties and without liability to its transferor or any prior party.

2. Delay by a collecting bank or payor bank beyond time limits prescribed or permitted by this chapter or by instructions is excused if caused by interruption of communication facilities, suspension of payments by another bank, war, emergency conditions or other circumstances beyond the control of the bank provided it exercises such diligence as the circumstances require. [C66,§554.4108]

- c. affixing a "paid" or other stamp;
- d. entering a charge or entry to a customer's account;
- e. correcting or reversing an entry or erroneous action with respect to the item. [C66,§554.4109]

PART 2

COLLECTION OF ITEMS: DEPOSITARY AND COLLECTING BANKS

554.4201 Presumption and duration of agency status of collecting banks and provisional status of credits—applicability of Article—item endorsed "pay any bank".

1. Unless a contrary intent clearly appears and prior to the time that a settlement given by a collecting bank for an item is or becomes final (subsection 3 of section 554.4211 and sections 554.4212 and 554.4213) the bank is an agent or subagent of the owner of the item and any settlement given for the item is provisional. This provision applies regardless of the form of endorsement or lack of endorsement and even though credit given for the item is subject to immediate withdrawal as of right or is in fact withdrawn; but the continuance of ownership of an item by its owner and any rights of the owner to proceeds of the item are subject to rights of a collecting bank such as those resulting from outstanding advances on the item and valid rights of set-off. When an item is handled by banks for purposes of presentment, payment and collection, the relevant provisions of this Article apply even though action of parties clearly establishes that a particular bank has purchased the item and is the owner of it.

2. After an item has been endorsed with the words "pay any bank" or the like, only a bank may acquire the rights of a holder

a. until the item has been returned to the customer initiating collection; or

b. until the item has been specially endorsed by a bank to a person who is not a bank. [C66,§554.4201]

554.4202 Responsibility for collection — when action seasonable.

1. A collecting bank must use ordinary care in a. presenting an item or sending it for presentment; and

b. sending notice of dishonor or nonpayment or returning an item other than a documentary draft to the bank's transferor or directly to the depository bank under subsection 2 of section 554.4212 after learning that the item has not been paid or accepted, as the case may be; and

c. settling for an item when the bank receives final settlement; and

d. making or providing for any necessary protest; and

e. notifying its transferor of any loss or delay in transit within a reasonable time after discovery thereof.

2. A collecting bank taking proper action before its midnight deadline following receipt of an item, notice or payment acts seasonably; taking proper action within a reasonably longer time may be seasonable but the bank has the burden of so establishing.

3. Subject to subsection 1 "a" a bank is not liable for the insolvency, neglect, misconduct, mistake or default of another bank or person or for loss or destruction of an item in transit or in the possession of others. [C66,§554.4202]

554.4203 Effect of instructions. Subject to the provisions of Article 3 concerning conversion of instruments (section 554.3419) and the provisions of both Article 3 and this Article concerning restrictive endorsements only a collecting bank's transferor can give instructions which affect the bank or constitute notice to it and a collecting bank is not liable to prior parties for any action taken pursuant to such instructions or in accordance with any agreement with its transferor. [C66,§554.4203]

554.4204 Methods of sending and presenting—sending direct to payor bank.

1. A collecting bank must send items by reasonably prompt method taking into consideration any relevant instructions, the nature of the item, the number of such items on hand, and the cost of collection involved and the method generally used by it or others to present such items.

2. A collecting bank may send

- a. any item direct to the payor bank;
- b. any item to any nonbank payor if authorized by its transferor; and
- c. any item other than documentary drafts to any nonbank payor, if authorized by Federal Reserve regulation or operating letter, clearing house rule or the like.

3. Presentment may be made by a presenting bank at a place where the payor bank has requested that presentment be made. [C66, §554.4204]

554.4205 Supplying missing endorsement—no notice from prior endorsement.

1. A depository bank which has taken an item for collection may supply any endorsement of the customer which is necessary to title unless the item contains the words "payee's endorsement required" or the like. In the absence of such a requirement a statement placed on the item by the depository bank to the effect that the item was deposited by a customer or credited to his account is effective as the customer's endorsement.

2. An intermediary bank, or payor bank which is not a depository bank, is neither given notice nor otherwise affected by a restrictive endorsement of any person except the bank's immediate transferor. [C66, §554.4205]

554.4206 Transfer between banks. Any agreed method which identifies the transferor bank is sufficient for the item's further transfer to another bank. [C66, §554.4206]

554.4207 Warranties of customer and collecting bank on transfer or presentment of items—time for claims.

1. Each customer or collecting bank who obtains payment or acceptance of an item and each prior customer and collecting bank warrants to the payor bank or other payor who in good faith pays or accepts the item that

a. he has a good title to the item or is authorized to obtain payment or acceptance on behalf of one who has a good title; and

b. he has no knowledge that the signature of the maker or drawer is unauthorized, except that this warranty is not given by any customer or collecting bank that is a holder in due course and acts in good faith

i. to a maker with respect to the maker's own signature; or

ii. to a drawer with respect to the drawer's own signature, whether or not the drawer is also the drawee; or

iii. to an acceptor of an item if the holder in due course took the item after the acceptance or obtained the acceptance without knowledge that the drawer's signature was unauthorized; and

c. the item has not been materially altered, except that this warranty is not given by any customer or collecting bank that is a holder in due course and acts in good faith

i. to the maker of a note; or

ii. to the drawer of a draft whether or not the drawer is also the drawee; or

iii. to the acceptor of an item with respect to an alteration made prior to the acceptance if the holder in due course took the item after the acceptance, even though the acceptance provided "payable as originally drawn" or equivalent terms; or

iv. to the acceptor of an item with respect to an alteration made after the acceptance.

2. Each customer and collecting bank who transfers an item and receives a settlement or other consideration for it warrants to his transferee and to any subsequent collecting bank who takes the item in good faith that

a. he has a good title to the item or is authorized to obtain payment or acceptance on behalf of one who has a good title and the transfer is otherwise rightful; and

b. all signatures are genuine or authorized; and

c. the item has not been materially altered; and

d. no defense of any party is good against him; and

e. he has no knowledge of any insolvency proceeding instituted with respect to the maker or acceptor or the drawer of an unaccepted item.

In addition each customer and collecting bank so transferring an item and receiving a settlement or other consideration engages that upon dishonor and any necessary notice of dishonor and protest he will take up the item.

3. The warranties and the engagement to honor set forth in the two preceding subsections arise notwithstanding the absence of endorsement or words of guaranty or warranty in the transfer or presentment and a collecting bank remains liable for their breach despite remittance to its transferor. Damages for breach of such warranties or engagement to honor shall not exceed the consideration received by the customer or collecting bank responsible plus finance charges and expenses related to the item, if any.

4. Unless a claim for breach of warranty under this section is made within a reasonable time after the person claiming learns of the breach, the person liable is discharged to the extent of any loss caused by the delay in making claim. [C66, §554.4207]

Referred to in §554.4302

554.4208 Security interest of collecting bank in items, accompanying documents and proceeds.

1. A bank has a security interest in an item and any accompanying documents or the proceeds of either

a. in case of an item deposited in an account to the extent to which credit given for the item has been withdrawn or applied;

b. in case of an item for which it has given credit available for withdrawal as of right, to the extent of the credit given whether or not the credit is drawn upon and whether or not there is a right of charge-back; or

c. if it makes an advance on or against the item.

2. When credit which has been given for several items received at one time or pursuant to a single agreement is withdrawn or applied in part the security interest remains upon all the items, any accompanying documents or the proceeds of either. For the purpose of this section, credits first given are first withdrawn.

3. Receipt by a collecting bank of a final settlement for an item is a realization on its security interest in the item, accompanying documents and proceeds. To the extent and so long as the bank does not receive final settlement for the item or give up possession of the item or accompanying documents for purposes other than collection, the security interest continues and is subject to the provisions of Article 9 except that

a. no security agreement is necessary to make the security interest enforceable (subsection 1 "b" of section 554.9203); and

b. no filing is required to perfect the security interest; and

c. the security interest has priority over conflicting perfected security interests in the item, accompanying documents or proceeds. [C66,§554.4208]

Referred to in §§554.1201, subsection 44, 554.9208, subsection 1, 554.9302, subsection 1(f), 554.9312, subsection 1

554.4209 When bank gives value for purposes of holder in due course. For purposes of determining its status as a holder in due course, the bank has given value to the extent that it has a security interest in an item provided that the bank otherwise complies with the requirements of section 554.3302 on what constitutes a holder in due course. [S13,§3060-a27; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9487; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §541.27; C66,§554.4209]

Referred to in §554.1201, subsection 44

554.4210 Presentment by notice of item not payable by, through or at a bank—liability of secondary parties.

1. Unless otherwise instructed, a collecting bank may be present an item not payable by, through or at a bank by sending to the party to accept or pay a written notice that the bank holds the item for acceptance or payment. The notice must be sent in time to be received on or before the day when presentment is due and the bank must meet any requirement of the party to accept or pay under section 554.3505 by the close of the bank's next banking day after it knows of the requirement.

2. Where presentment is made by notice and neither honor nor request for compliance with a requirement under section 554.3505 is received by the close of business on the day after maturity or in the case of demand items by the close of business on the third banking day after notice was sent, the presenting bank may treat the item as dishonored and charge any secondary party by sending him notice of the facts. [C73,§2094; C97,§3053; S13,§3053; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9545; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§541.85; C66, §554.4210]

554.4211 Media of remittance—provisional and final settlement in remittance cases.

1. A collecting bank may take in settlement of an item

a. a check of the remitting bank or of another bank on any bank except the remitting bank; or

b. a cashier's check or similar primary obligation of a remitting bank which is a member of or clears through a member of the same clearing house or group as the collecting bank; or

c. appropriate authority to charge an account of the remitting bank or of another bank with the collecting bank; or

d. if the item is drawn upon or payable by a person other than a bank, a cashier's check, certified check or other bank check or obligation.

2. If before its midnight deadline the collecting bank properly dishonors a remittance check or authorization to charge on itself or presents or forwards for collection a remittance instrument of or on another bank which is of a kind approved by subsection 1 or has not been authorized by it, the collecting bank is not liable to prior parties in the event of the dishonor of such check, instrument or authorization.

3. A settlement for an item by means of a remittance instrument or authorization to charge is or becomes a final settlement as to both the person making and the person receiving the settlement

a. if the remittance instrument or authorization to charge is of a kind approved by subsection 1 or has not been authorized by the person receiving the settlement and in either case the person receiving the settlement acts seasonably before its midnight deadline in presenting, forwarding for collection or paying the instrument or authorization,—at the time the remittance instrument or authorization is finally paid by the payor by which it is payable;

b. if the person receiving the settlement has authorized remittance by a nonbank check or obligation or by a cashier's check or similar primary obligation of or a check upon the payor or other remitting bank which is not of a kind approved by subsection 1 "b",—at the time of receipt of such remittance check or obligation; or

c. if in a case not covered by subparagraphs "a" or "b" the person receiving the settlement fails to seasonably present, forward for collection, pay or return a remittance instrument or authorization to it to charge before its midnight deadline,—at such midnight deadline. [C66,§554.4211]

Referred to in §§554.4201, subsection 1, 554.4212, subsection 1, 554.4213, subsection 3, 554.4214, subsection 3

1. If a collecting bank has made provisional settlement with its customer for an item and itself fails by reason of dishonor, suspension of payments by a bank or otherwise to receive a settlement for the item which is or becomes final, the bank may revoke the settlement given by it, charge back the amount of any credit given for the item to its customer's account or obtain refund from its customer whether or not it is able to return the items if by its midnight deadline or within a longer reasonable time after it learns the facts it returns the item or sends notification of the facts. These rights to revoke, charge-back and obtain refund terminate if and when a settlement for the item received by the bank is or becomes final (subsection 3 of section 554.4211 and subsections 2 and 3 of section 554.4213).

2. Within the time and manner prescribed by this section and section 554.4301, an intermediary or payor bank, as the case may be, may return an unpaid item directly to the depository bank and may send for collection a draft on the depository bank and obtain reimbursement. In such case, if the depository bank has received provisional settlement for the item, it must reimburse the bank drawing the draft and any provisional credits for the item between banks shall become and remain final.

Referred to in §554.4202, subsection 1(b)

3. A depository bank which is also the payor may charge-back the amount of an item to its customer's account or obtain refund in accordance with the section governing return of an item received by a payor bank for credit on its books (section 554.4301).

4. The right to charge-back is not affected by a. prior use of the credit given for the item; or

b. failure by any bank to exercise ordinary care with respect to the item but any bank so failing remains liable.

5. A failure to charge-back or claim refund does not affect other rights of the bank against the customer or any other party.

6. If credit is given in dollars as the equivalent of the value of an item payable in a foreign currency the dollar amount of any charge-back or refund shall be calculated on the basis of the buying sight rate for the foreign currency prevailing on the day when the person entitled to the charge-back or refund learns that it will not receive payment in ordinary course. [C66,§554.4212]

Referred to in §§554.4201, subsection 1, 554.4202, subsection 1(b)

554.4213 Final payment of item by payor bank—when provisional debits and credits become final—when certain credits become available for withdrawal.

1. An item is finally paid by a payor bank when the bank has done any of the following, whichever happens first:

a. paid the item in cash; or

b. settled for the item without reserving a right to revoke the settlement and without having such right under statute, clearing house rule or agreement; or

c. completed the process of posting the item to the indicated account of the drawer, maker or other person to be charged therewith; or

d. made a provisional settlement for the item and failed to revoke the settlement in the time and manner permitted by statute, clearing house rule or agreement.

Upon a final payment under subparagraphs "b", "c" or "d" the payor bank shall be accountable for the amount of the item.

Referred to in §554.4301

2. If provisional settlement for an item between the presenting and payor banks is made through a clearing house or by debits or credits in an account between them, then to the extent that provisional debits or credits for the item are entered in accounts between the presenting and payor banks or between the presenting and successive prior collecting banks seriatim, they become final upon final payment of the item by the payor bank.

Referred to in §§554.4212, subsection 1, 554.4214, subsection 3

3. If a collecting bank receives a settlement for an item which is or becomes final (subsection 3 of section 554.4211, subsection 2 of this section) the bank is accountable to its customer for the amount of the item and any provisional credit given for the item in an account with its customer becomes final.

Referred to in §§554.4212, subsection 1, 554.4214, subsection 3

4. Subject to any right of the bank to apply the credit to an obligation of the customer, credit given by a bank for an item in an account with its customer becomes available for withdrawal as of right

a. in any case where the bank has received a provisional settlement for the item,—when such settlement becomes final and the bank has had a reasonable time to learn that the settlement is final;

b. in any case where the bank is both a depository bank and a payor bank and the item is finally paid,—at the opening of the bank's second banking day following receipt of the item.

5. A deposit of money in a bank is final when made but, subject to any right of the bank to apply the deposit to an obligation of the customer, the deposit becomes available for withdrawal as of right at the opening of the bank's next banking day following receipt of the deposit. [C66,§554.4213]

554.4214 Insolvency and preference.

1. Any item in or coming into the possession of a payor or collecting bank which suspends payment and which item is not finally paid shall be returned by the receiver, trustee or agent in charge of the closed bank to the presenting bank or the closed bank's customer.

2. If a payor bank finally pays an item and suspends payments without making a settlement for the item with its customer or the presenting bank which settlement is or becomes final, the owner of the item has a preferred claim against the payor bank.

3. If a payor bank gives or a collecting bank gives or receives a provisional settlement for an item and thereafter suspends payments, the suspension does not prevent or interfere with the settlement becoming final if such finality occurs automatically upon the lapse of certain time or the happening of certain events (subsection 3 of section 554.4211, subsections 1 "d", 2 and 3 of section 554.4213).

4. If a collecting bank receives from subsequent parties settlement for an item which settlement is or becomes final and suspends payments without making a settlement for the item with its customer which is or becomes final, the owner of the item has a preferred claim against such collecting bank. [C66, §554.4214]

PART 3

COLLECTION OF ITEMS: PAYOR BANKS

554.4301 Deferred posting—recovery of payment by return of items—time of dishonor.

1. Where an authorized settlement for a demand item (other than a documentary draft) received by a payor bank otherwise than for immediate payment over the counter has been made before midnight of the banking day of receipt the payor bank may revoke the settlement and recover any payment if before it has made final payment (subsection 1 of section 554.4213) and before its midnight deadline it

a. returns the item; or

b. sends written notice of dishonor or non-payment if the item is held for protest or is otherwise unavailable for return; and the item or notice includes the reason for dishonor.

2. If a demand item is received by a payor bank for credit on its books it may return such item or send notice of dishonor and may revoke any credit given or recover the amount thereof withdrawn by its customer, if it acts within the time limit and in the manner specified in the preceding subsection.

3. Unless previous notice of dishonor has been sent an item is dishonored at the time when for purposes of dishonor it is returned or notice sent in accordance with this section.

4. An item is returned:

a. as to an item received through a clearing house, when it is delivered to the presenting or last collecting bank or to the clearing house or is sent or delivered in accordance with its rules; or

b. in all other cases, when it is sent or delivered to the bank's customer or transferor or pursuant to his instructions. [C66, §554.4301]

Referred to in §§554.3507, subsection 1(a), 554.4212, subsections 2 and 3

554.4302 Payor bank's responsibility for late return of item. In the absence of a valid defense such as breach of a presentment warranty (subsection 1 of section 554.4207), settlement effected or the like, if an item is presented on and received by a payor bank the bank is accountable for the amount of

a. a demand item other than a documentary draft whether properly payable or not if the bank, in any case where it is not also the depository bank, retains the item beyond midnight of the banking day of receipt without settling for it or, regardless of whether it is also the depository bank, does not pay or return the item or send notice of dishonor until after its midnight deadline; or

b. any other properly payable item unless within the time allowed for acceptance or payment of that item the bank either accepts or pays the item or returns it and accompanying documents. [C66,§554.4302]

Referred to in §554.4303

554.4303 When items subject to notice, stop order, legal process or setoff—order in which items may be charged or certified.

1. Any knowledge, notice or stop order received by, legal process served upon or setoff exercised by a payor bank, whether or not effective under other rules of law to terminate, suspend or modify the bank's right or duty to pay an item or to charge its customer's account for the item, comes too late to so terminate, suspend or modify such right or duty if the knowledge, notice, stop order or legal process is received or served and a reasonable time for the bank to act thereon expires or the setoff is exercised after the bank has done any of the following:

a. accepted or certified the item;

b. paid the item in cash;

c. settled for the item without reserving a right to revoke the settlement and without having such right under statute, clearing house rule or agreement;

d. completed the process of posting the item to the indicated account of the drawer, maker or other person to be charged therewith or otherwise has evidenced by examination of such indicated account and by action its decision to pay the item; or

e. become accountable for the amount of the item under subsection 1 "d" of section 554.4213 and section 554.4302 dealing with the payor bank's responsibility for late return of items.

2. Subject to the provisions of subsection 1 items may be accepted, paid, certified or charged to the indicated account of its customer in any order convenient to the bank. [C31, 35, §9266-d1; C39,§9266.1; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§528.62; C66,§554.4303]

PART 4

RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN PAYOR BANK AND ITS CUSTOMER

554.4401 When bank may charge customer's account.

1. As against its customer, a bank may charge against his account any item which is otherwise properly payable from that account even though the charge creates an overdraft.

2. A bank which in good faith makes payment to a holder may charge the indicated account of its customer according to

a. the original tenor of his altered item; or

b. the tenor of his completed item, even though the bank knows the item has been completed unless the bank has notice that the completion was improper. [C66,§554.4401]

554.4402 Bank's liability to customer for wrongful dishonor. A payor bank is liable to its customer for damages proximately caused by the wrongful dishonor of an item. When the dishonor occurs through mistake liability is limited to actual damages proved. If so proximately caused and proved damages may include damages for an arrest or prosecution of the customer or other consequential damages. Whether any consequential damages are proximately caused by the wrongful dishonor is a question of fact to be determined in each case. [C66,§554.4402]

1. A customer may by order to his bank stop payment of any item payable for his account but the order must be received at such time and in such manner as to afford the bank a reasonable opportunity to act on it prior to any action by the bank with respect to the item described in section 554.4303.

2. An oral order is binding upon the bank only for fourteen calendar days unless confirmed in writing within that period. A written order is effective for only six months unless renewed in writing.

3. The burden of establishing the fact and amount of loss resulting from the payment of an item contrary to a binding stop payment order is on the customer. [C31, 35,§9266-d1; C39,§9266.1; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§528.62; C66, §554.4403]

554.4404 Bank not obligated to pay check more than six months old. A bank is under no obligation to a customer having a checking account to pay a check, other than a certified check, which is presented more than six months after its date, but it may charge its customer's account for a payment made thereafter in good faith. [C66,§554.4404]

554.4405 Death or incompetence of customer.

1. A payor or collecting bank's authority to accept, pay or collect an item or to account for proceeds of its collection if otherwise effective is not rendered ineffective by incompetence of a customer of either bank existing at the time the item is issued or its collection is undertaken if the bank does not know of an adjudication of incompetence. Neither death nor incompetence of a customer revokes such authority to accept, pay, collect or account until the bank knows of the fact of death or of an adjudication of incompetence and has reasonable opportunity to act on it.

2. Even with knowledge a bank may for ten days after the date of death pay or certify checks drawn on or prior to that date unless ordered to stop payment by a person claiming an interest in the account. [S13,§3060-a76; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9536; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§541.76; C66,§554.4405]

554.4406 Customer's duty to discover and report unauthorized signature or alteration.

1. When a bank sends to its customer a statement of account accompanied by items paid in good faith in support of the debit entries or holds the statement and items pursuant to a request or instructions of its customer or otherwise in a reasonable manner makes the statement and items available to the customer, the customer must exercise reasonable care and promptness to examine the statement and items to discover his unauthorized signature or any alteration on an item and must notify the bank promptly after discovery thereof.

2. If the bank establishes that the customer failed with respect to an item to comply with the duties imposed on the customer by subsection 1 the customer is precluded from asserting against the bank

a. his unauthorized signature or any alteration on the item if the bank also establishes that it suffered a loss by reason of such failure; and

b. an unauthorized signature or alteration by the same wrongdoer on any other item paid in good faith by the bank after the first item and statement was available to the customer for a reasonable period not exceeding fourteen calendar days and before the bank receives notification from the customer of any such unauthorized signature or alteration.

3. The preclusion under subsection 2 does not apply if the customer establishes lack of ordinary care on the part of the bank in paying the item(s).

4. Without regard to care or lack of care of either the customer or the bank a customer who does not within one year from the time the statement and items are made available to the customer (subsection 1) discover and report his unauthorized signature or any alteration on the face or back of the item or does not within three years from that time discover and report any unauthorized endorsement is precluded from asserting against the bank such unauthorized signature or endorsement or such alteration.

5. If under this section a payor bank has a valid defense against a claim of a customer upon or resulting from payment of an item and waives or fails upon request to assert the defense the bank may not assert against any collecting bank or other prior party presenting or transferring the item a claim based upon the unauthorized signature or alteration giving rise to the customer's claim. [C66, §554.4406]

554.4407 Payor bank's right to subrogation on improper payment. If a payor bank has paid an item over the stop payment order of the drawer or maker or otherwise under circumstances giving a basis for objection by the drawer or maker, to prevent unjust enrichment and only to the extent necessary to prevent loss to the bank by reason of its payment of the item, the payor bank shall be subrogated to the rights

a. of any holder in due course on the item against the drawer or maker; and

b. of the payee or any other holder of the item against the drawer or maker either on the item or under the transaction out of which the item arose; and

c. of the drawer or maker against the payee or any other holder of the item with respect to the transaction out of which the item arose. [C66, §554.4407]

Referred to in §554.3801

PART 5

COLLECTION OF DOCUMENTARY DRAFTS

554.4501 Handling of documentary drafts—duty to send for presentment and to notify customer of dishonor. A bank which takes a documentary draft for collection must present or send the draft and accompanying documents for presentment and upon learning that the draft has not been paid or accepted in due course must seasonably notify its customer of such fact even though it may have discounted or bought the draft or extended credit available for withdrawal as of right. [C66, §554.4501]

554.4502 Presentment of "on arrival" drafts. When a draft or the relevant instructions require presentment "on arrival", "when goods arrive" or the like, the collecting bank need not present until in its judgment a reasonable time for arrival of the goods has expired. Refusal to pay or accept because the goods have not arrived is not dishonor; the bank must notify its transferor of such refusal but need not present the draft again until it is instructed to do so or learns of the arrival of the goods. [C66, §554.4502]

554.4503 Responsibility of presenting bank for documents and goods—report of reasons for dishonor—referee in case of need. Unless otherwise instructed and except as provided in Article 5 a bank presenting a documentary draft

a. must deliver the documents to the drawee on acceptance of the draft if it is payable more than three days after presentment; otherwise, only on payment; and

b. upon dishonor, either in the case of presentment for acceptance or presentment for payment, may seek and follow instructions from any referee in case of need designated in the draft or if the presenting bank does not choose to utilize his services it must use diligence and good faith to ascertain the reason for dishonor, must notify its transferor of the dishonor and of the results of its effort to ascertain the reasons therefor and must request instructions.

But the presenting bank is under no obligation with respect to goods represented by the documents except to follow any reasonable instructions seasonably received; it has a right to reimbursement for any expense incurred in following instructions and to prepayment of or indemnity for such expenses. [S13, §§3060-a131, 3138-b40; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§8285, 9592; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§487.41, 541.132; C66, §554.4503]

554.4504 Privilege of presenting bank to deal with goods—security interest for expenses.

1. A presenting bank which, following the dishonor of a documentary draft, has seasonably requested instructions but does not receive them within a reasonable time may store, sell, or otherwise deal with the goods in any reasonable manner.

2. For its reasonable expenses incurred by action under subsection 1 the presenting bank has a lien upon the goods or their proceeds, which may be foreclosed in the same manner as an unpaid seller's lien. [C66, §554.4504]

554.5104 Formal requirements—signing.

1. Except as otherwise required in subsection 1 "c" of section 554.5102 on scope, no particular form of phrasing is required for a credit. A credit must be in writing and signed by the issuer and a confirmation must be in writing and signed by the confirming bank. A modification of the terms of a credit or confirmation must be signed by the issuer or confirming bank.

554.5105 Consideration. No consideration is necessary to establish a credit or to enlarge or otherwise modify its terms. [C66,§554.5105]

554.5106 Time and effect of establishment of credit.

a. as regards the customer as soon as a letter of credit is sent to him or the letter of credit or an authorized written advice of its issuance is sent to the beneficiary; and

b. as regards the beneficiary when he receives a letter of credit or an authorized written advice of its issuance.

2. Unless otherwise agreed once an irrevocable credit is established as regards the customer it can be modified or revoked only with the consent of the customer and once it is established as regards the beneficiary it can be modified or revoked only with his consent.

3. Unless otherwise agreed after a revocable credit is established it may be modified or revoked by the issuer without notice to or consent from the customer or beneficiary.

4. Notwithstanding any modification or revocation of a revocable credit any person authorized to honor or negotiate under the terms of the original credit is entitled to reimbursement for or honor of any draft or demand for payment duly honored or negotiated before receipt of notice of the modification or revocation and the issuer in turn is entitled to reimbursement from its customer. [C66,§554.5106]

554.5107 Advice of credit — confirmation — error in statement of terms.

1. Unless otherwise specified an advising bank by advising a credit issued by another bank does not assume any obligation to honor drafts drawn or demands for payment made under the credit but it does assume obligation for the accuracy of its own statement.

2. A confirming bank by confirming a credit becomes directly obligated on the credit to the extent of its confirmation as though it were its issuer and acquires the rights of an issuer.

3. Even though an advising bank incorrectly advises the terms of a credit it has been authorized to advise the credit is established as against the issuer to the extent of its original terms.

4. Unless otherwise specified the customer bears as against the issuer all risks of transmission and reasonable translation or interpretation of any message relating to a credit. [C66,§554.5107]

554.5108 "Notation credit" — exhaustion of credit.

1. A credit which specifies that any person purchasing or paying drafts drawn or demands for payment made under it must note the amount of the draft or demand on the letter or advice of credit is a "notation credit".

2. Under a notation credit

a. a person paying the beneficiary or purchasing a draft or demand for payment from him acquires a right to honor only if the appropriate notation is made and by transferring or forwarding for honor the documents under the credit such a person warrants to the issuer that the notation has been made; and

b. unless the credit or a signed statement that an appropriate notation has been made accompanies the draft or demand for payment the issuer may delay honor until evidence of notation has been procured which is satisfactory to it but its obligation and that of its customer continue for a reasonable time not exceeding thirty days to obtain such evidence.

3. If the credit is not a notation credit

a. the issuer may honor complying drafts or demands for payment presented to it in the order in which they are presented and is discharged pro tanto by honor of any such draft or demand;

b. as between competing good faith purchasers of complying drafts or demands the person first purchasing has priority over a subsequent purchaser even though the later purchased draft or demand has been first honored. [C66,§554.5108]

Referred to in §554.5103, subsection 2

554.5109 Issuer's obligation to its customer.

1. An issuer's obligation to its customer includes good faith and observance of any general banking usage but unless otherwise agreed does not include liability or responsibility

a. for performance of the underlying contract for sale or other transaction between the customer and the beneficiary; or

b. for any act or omission of any person other than itself or its own branch or for loss or destruction of a draft, demand or document in transit or in the possession of others; or

1. Unless otherwise specified a credit may be used in portions in the discretion of the beneficiary.

2. Unless otherwise specified a person by presenting a documentary draft or demand for payment under a credit relinquishes upon its honor all claims to the documents and a person by transferring such draft or demand or causing such presentment authorizes such relinquishment. An explicit reservation of claim makes the draft or demand noncomplying. [C66,§554.5110]

554.5111 Warranties on transfer and presentment.

1. Unless otherwise agreed the beneficiary by transferring or presenting a documentary draft or demand for payment warrants to all interested parties that the necessary conditions of the credit have been complied with. This is in addition to any warranties arising under Articles 3, 4, 7 and 8.

2. Unless otherwise agreed a negotiating, advising, confirming, collecting or issuing bank presenting or transferring a draft or demand for payment under a credit warrants only the matters warranted by a collecting bank under Article 4 and any such bank transferring a document warrants only the matters warranted by an intermediary under Articles 7 and 8. [C66,§554.5111]

554.5112 Time allowed for honor or rejection—withholding honor or rejection by consent—"presenter".

1. A bank to which a documentary draft or demand for payment is presented under a credit may without dishonor of the draft, demand or credit

a. defer honor until the close of the third banking day following receipt of the documents; and

b. further defer honor if the presenter has expressly or impliedly consented thereto.

Failure to honor within the time here specified constitutes dishonor of the draft or demand and of the credit except as otherwise provided in subsection 4 of section 554.5114 on conditional payment.

2. Upon dishonor the bank may unless otherwise instructed fulfill its duty to return the draft or demand and the documents by holding them at the disposal of the presenter and sending him an advice to that effect.

3. "Presenter" means any person presenting a draft or demand for payment for honor under a credit even though that person is a confirming bank or other correspondent which is acting under an issuer's authorization. [C66,§554.5112]

Referred to in §554.5103, subsection 2

554.5113 Indemnities.

1. A bank seeking to obtain (whether for itself or another) honor, negotiation or reimbursement under a credit may give an indemnity to induce such honor, negotiation or reimbursement.

2. An indemnity agreement inducing honor, negotiation or reimbursement

a. unless otherwise explicitly agreed applies to defects in the documents but not in the goods; and

b. unless a longer time is explicitly agreed expires at the end of ten business days following receipt of the documents by the ultimate customer unless notice of objection is sent before such expiration date. The ultimate customer may send notice of objection to the person from whom he received the documents and any bank receiving such notice is under a duty to send notice to its transferor before its midnight deadline. [C66,§554.5113]

554.5114 Issuer's duty and privilege to honor—right to reimbursement.

1. An issuer must honor a draft or demand for payment which complies with the terms of the relevant credit regardless of whether the goods or documents conform to the underlying contract for sale or other contract between the customer and the beneficiary. The issuer is not excused from honor of such a draft or demand by reason of an additional general term that all documents must be satisfactory to the issuer, but an issuer may require that specified documents must be satisfactory to it.

2. Unless otherwise agreed when documents appear on their face to comply with the terms of a credit but a required document does not in fact conform to the warranties made on negotiation or transfer of a document of title (section 554.7507) or of a security (section 554.8306) or is forged or fraudulent or there is fraud in the transaction

a. the issuer must honor the draft or demand for payment if honor is demanded by a negotiating bank or other holder of the draft or demand which has taken the draft or demand under the credit and under circumstances which would make it a holder in due course (section 554.3302) and in an appropriate case would make it a person to whom a document of title has been duly negotiated (section 554.7502) or a bona fide purchaser of a security (section 554.8302); and

b. in all other cases as against its customer, an issuer acting in good faith may honor the draft or demand for payment despite notification from the customer of fraud, forgery or other defect not apparent on the face of the documents but a court of appropriate jurisdiction may enjoin such honor.

3. Unless otherwise agreed an issuer which has duly honored a draft or demand for payment is entitled to immediate reimbursement of any payment made under the credit and to be put in effectively available funds not later than the day before maturity of any acceptance made under the credit.

4. When a credit provides for payment by the issuer on receipt of notice that the required documents are in the possession of a correspondent or other agent of the issuer

a. any payment made on receipt of such notice is conditional; and

b. the issuer may reject documents which do not comply with the credit if it does so within three banking days following its receipt of the documents; and

c. in the event of such rejection, the issuer is entitled by charge-back or otherwise to return of the payment made.

Referred to in §554.5112

5. In the case covered by subsection 4 failure to reject documents within the time specified in subparagraph "b" constitutes acceptance of the documents and makes the payment final in favor of the beneficiary. [C66,§554.5114]

Referred to in §§554.2512[1, b], 554.5112

1. When an issuer wrongfully dishonors a draft or demand for payment presented under a credit the person entitled to honor has with respect to any documents the rights of a person in the position of a seller (section 554.2707) and may recover from the issuer the face amount of the draft or demand together with incidental damages under section 554.2710 on seller's incidental damages and interest but less any amount realized by resale or other use or disposition of the subject matter of the transaction. In the event no resale or other utilization is made the documents, goods or other subject matter involved in the transaction must be turned over to the issuer on payment of judgment.

2. When an issuer wrongfully cancels or otherwise repudiates a credit before presentation of a draft or demand for payment drawn under it the beneficiary has the rights of a seller after anticipatory repudiation by the buyer under section 554.2610 if he learns of the repudiation in time reasonably to avoid procurement of the required documents. Otherwise the beneficiary has an immediate right of action for wrongful dishonor. [C66,§554.5115]

554.5116 Transfer and assignment.

1. The right to draw under a credit can be transferred or assigned only when the credit is expressly designated as transferable or assignable.

2. Even though the credit specifically states that it is nontransferable or nonassignable the beneficiary may before performance of the conditions of the credit assign his right to proceeds. Such an assignment is an assignment of a contract right under Article 9 on Secured Transactions and is governed by that Article except that

a. the assignment is ineffective until the letter of credit or advice of credit is delivered to the assignee which delivery constitutes perfection of the security interest under Article 9; and

Referred to in §554.9805

b. the issuer may honor drafts or demands for payment drawn under the credit until it receives a notification of the assignment signed by the beneficiary which reasonably identifies the credit involved in the assignment and contains a request to pay the assignee; and

c. after what reasonably appears to be such a notification has been received the issuer may without dishonor refuse to accept or pay even to a person otherwise entitled to honor until the letter of credit or advice of credit is exhibited to the issuer.

3. Except where the beneficiary has effectively assigned his right to draw or his right to proceeds, nothing in this section limits his right to transfer or negotiate drafts or demands drawn under the credit. [C66, §554.5116]

554.5117 Insolvency of bank holding funds for documentary credit.

1. Where an issuer or an advising or confirming bank or a bank which has for a customer procured issuance of a credit by another bank becomes insolvent before final payment under the credit and the credit is one to which this Article is made applicable by paragraphs "a" or "b" of section 554.5102 subsection 1 on scope, the receipt or allocation of funds or collateral to secure or meet obligations under the credit shall have the following results:

a. to the extent of any funds or collateral turned over after or before the insolvency as indemnity against or specifically for the purpose of payment of drafts or demands for payment drawn under the designated credit, the drafts or demands are entitled to payment in preference over depositors or other general creditors of the issuer or bank; and

b. on expiration of the credit or surrender of the beneficiary's rights under it unused any person who has given such funds or collateral is similarly entitled to return thereof; and

c. a change to a general or current account with a bank if specifically consented to for the purpose of indemnity against or payment of drafts or demands for payment drawn under the designated credit falls under the same rules as if the funds had been drawn out in cash and then turned over with specific instructions.

2. After honor or reimbursement under this section the customer or other person for whose account the insolvent bank has acted is entitled to receive the documents involved. [C66, §554.5117]

ARTICLE 6 BULK TRANSFERS

Referred to in §§554.2403(4), 554.9111

554.6101 Short title. This Article shall be known and may be cited as Uniform Commercial Code—Bulk Transfers. [C66, §554.6101]

554.6102 "Bulk transfers"—transfers of equipment—enterprises subject to this Article—bulk transfers subject to this Article.

1. A "bulk transfer" is any transfer in bulk and not in the ordinary course of the transferor's business of a major part in value of the materials, supplies, merchandise or other inventory (section 554.9109) of an enterprise subject to this Article.

2. A transfer of a substantial part of the equipment (section 554.9109) of such an enterprise is a bulk transfer if it is made in connection with a bulk transfer of inventory, but not otherwise.

3. The enterprises subject to this Article are all those whose principal business is the sale of merchandise from stock, including those who manufacture what they sell.

4. Except as limited by the following section all bulk transfers of goods located within this state are subject to this Article. [S13, §2911-c; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10009; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §555.2; C66, §554.6102]

Referred to in §554.1105, subsection 2

554.6103 Transfers excepted from this Article. The following transfers are not subject to this Article:

1. Those made to give security for the performance of an obligation;

2. General assignments for the benefit of all the creditors of the transferor, and subsequent transfers by the assignee thereunder;

3. Transfers in settlement or realization of a lien or other security interest;

4. Sales by executors, administrators, receivers, trustees in bankruptcy, or any public officer under judicial process;

5. Sales made in the course of judicial or administrative proceedings for the dissolution or reorganization of a corporation and of which notice is sent to the creditors of the corporation pursuant to order of the court or administrative agency;

6. Transfers to a person maintaining a known place of business in this state who becomes bound to pay the debts of the transferor in full and gives public notice of that fact, and who is solvent after becoming so bound;

7. A transfer to a new business enterprise organized to take over and continue the business, if public notice of the transaction is given and the new enterprise assumes the debts of the transferor and he receives nothing from the transaction except an interest in the new enterprise junior to the claims of creditors;

8. Transfers of property which is exempt from execution. Public notice under subsection 6 or subsection 7 may be given by publishing once a week for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation where the transferor had its principal place of business in this state an advertisement including the names and addresses of the transferor and transferee and the effective date of the transfer. [S13, §2911-c; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10010; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §555.3; C66, §554.6103]

Referred to in §554.9111

554.6104 Schedule of property, list of creditors.

1. Except as provided with respect to auction sales (section 554.6108), a bulk transfer subject to this Article is ineffective against any creditor of the transferor unless:

a. The transferee requires the transferor to furnish a list of his existing creditors prepared as stated in this section; and

b. The parties prepare a schedule of the property transferred sufficient to identify it; and

c. The transferee preserves the list and schedule for six months next following the transfer and permits inspection of either or both and copying therefrom at all reasonable hours by any creditor of the transferor, or files the list and schedule in the office of the Recorder in the county or counties where the goods are located.

2. The list of creditors must be signed and sworn to or affirmed by the transferor or his agent. It must contain the names and business addresses of all creditors of the transferor, with the amounts when known, and also the names of all persons who are known to the transferor to assert claims against him even though such claims are disputed. If the transferor is the obligor of an outstanding issue of bonds, debentures or the like as to which there is an indenture trustee, the list of creditors need include only the name and address of the indenture trustee and the aggregate outstanding principal amount of the issue.

3. Responsibility for the completeness and accuracy of the list of creditors rests on the transferor, and the transfer is not rendered ineffective by errors or omissions therein unless the transferee is shown to have had knowledge. [SS15, §§2911-a, b; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10008; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §555.1; C66, §554.6104]

Referred to in §§554.6107, subsections 2(b) and 3, 554.6108

554.6105 Notice to creditors. In addition to the requirements of the preceding section, any bulk transfer subject to this Article except one made by auction sale (section 554.6108) is ineffective against any creditor of the transferor unless at least ten days before he takes possession of the goods or pays for them, whichever happens first, the transferee gives notice of the transfer in the manner and to the persons hereafter provided (section 554.6107). [SS15, §§2911-a, b; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10008; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §555.1; C66, §554.6105]

Referred to in §§554.6107, subsection 1, 554.6109

554.6106 This section reserved for future use.

554.6107 The notice.

1. The notice to creditors (section 554.6105) shall state:

a. that a bulk transfer is about to be made; and

b. the names and business addresses of the transferor and transferee, and all other business names and addresses used by the transferor within three years last past so far as known to the transferee; and

c. whether or not all the debts of the transferor are to be paid in full as they fall due as a result of the transaction, and if so, the address to which creditors should send their bills.

2. If the debts of the transferor are not to be paid in full as they fall due or if the transferee is in doubt on that point then the notice shall state further:

a. the location and general description of the property to be transferred and the estimated total of the transferor's debts;

b. the address where the schedule of property and list of creditors (section 554.6104) may be inspected;

c. whether the transfer is to pay existing debts and if so the amount of such debts and to whom owing;

d. whether the transfer is for new consideration and if so the amount of such consideration and the time and place of payment.

3. The notice in any case shall be delivered personally or sent by registered or certified mail to all the persons shown on the list of creditors furnished by the transferor (section 554.6104) and to all other persons who are known to the transferee to hold or assert claims against the transferor. [SS15, §§2911-a, b; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10008; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §555.1; C66, §554.6107]

Referred to in §§554.6105, 554.6109

1. A bulk transfer is subject to this Article even though it is by sale at auction, but only in the manner and with the results stated in this section.

2. The transferor shall furnish a list of his creditors and assist in the preparation of a schedule of the property to be sold, both prepared as before stated (section 554.6104).

3. The person or persons other than the transferor who direct, control or are responsible for the auction are collectively called the "auctioneer". The auctioneer shall:

a. receive and retain the list of creditors and prepare and retain the schedule of property for the period stated in this Article (section 554.6104);

b. give notice of the auction personally or by registered or certified mail at least ten days before it occurs to all persons shown on the list of creditors and to all other persons who are known to him to hold or assert claims against the transferor.

4. Failure of the auctioneer to perform any of these duties does not affect the validity of the sale or the title of the purchasers, but if the auctioneer knows that the auction constitutes a bulk transfer such failure renders the auctioneer liable to the creditors of the transferor as a class for the sums owing to them from the transferor up to but not exceeding the net proceeds of the auction. If the auctioneer consists of several persons their liability is joint and several. [C66, §554.6108]

Referred to in §§554.6104, subsection 1, 554.6105

554.6109 What creditors protected. The creditors of the transferor mentioned in this Article are those holding claims based on transactions or events occurring before the bulk transfer, but creditors who become such after notice to creditors is given (sections 554.6105 and 554.6107) are not entitled to notice. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10012; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §555.5; C66, §554.6109]

554.6110 Subsequent transfers. When the title of a transferee to property is subject to a defect by reason of his noncompliance with the requirements of this Article, then:

1. a purchaser of any of such property from such transferee who pays no value or who takes with notice of such noncompliance takes subject to such defect, but

2. a purchaser for value in good faith and without such notice takes free of such defect. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10010; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §555.4; C66, §554.6110]

554.6111 Limitation of actions and levies. No action under this Article shall be brought nor levy made more than six months after the date on which the transferee took possession of the goods unless the transfer has been concealed. If the transfer has been concealed, actions may be brought or levies made within six months after its discovery. [C66, §554.6111]

ARTICLE 7 WAREHOUSE RECEIPTS, BILLS OF LADING AND OTHER DOCUMENTS OF TITLE

PART 1 GENERAL

554.7101 Short title. This Article shall be known and may be cited as Uniform Commercial Code—Documents of Title. [S13, §3138-b56; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8299; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §487.55; C66, §554.7101]

554.7102 Definitions and index of definitions.

1. In this Article, unless the context otherwise requires:

a. "Bailee" means the person who by a warehouse receipt, bill of lading or other document of title acknowledges possession of goods and contracts to deliver them.

b. "Consignee" means the person named in a bill to whom or to whose order the bill promises delivery.

c. "Consignor" means the person named in a bill as the person from whom the goods have been received for shipment.

d. "Delivery order" means a written order to deliver goods directed to a warehouseman, carrier or other person who in the ordinary course of business issues warehouse receipts or bills of lading.

e. "Document" means document of title as defined in the general definitions in Article 1 (section 554.1201).

f. "Goods" means all things which are treated as movable for the purposes of a contract of storage or transportation.

g. "Issuer" means a bailee who issues a document except that in relation to an unac-cepted delivery order it means the person who orders the possessor of goods to deliver. Issuer includes any person for whom an agent or employee purports to act in issuing a document if the agent or employee has real or apparent authority to issue documents, notwithstanding that the issuer received no goods or that the goods were misdescribed or that in any other respect the agent or employee violated his instructions.

h. "Warehouseman" is a person engaged in the business of storing goods for hire.

2. Other definitions applying to this Article or to specified Parts thereof, and the sections in which they appear are:

"Duly negotiate". Section 554.7501.

3. Definitions in other Articles applying to this Article and the sections in which they appear are:

"Contract for sale". Section 554.2106.

"Overseas". Section 554.2323.

"Receipt" of goods. Section 554.2103.

Referred to in §554.2103, subsection 3

554.7103 Relation of Article to treaty, statute, tariff, classification or regulation. To the extent that any treaty or statute of the United States, regulatory statute of this state or tariff, classification or regulation filed or issued pursuant thereto is applicable, the provisions of this Article are subject thereto. [C66, §554.7103]

554.7104 Negotiable and nonnegotiable warehouse receipt, bill of lading or other document of title.

1. A warehouse receipt, bill of lading or other document of title is negotiable

a. if by its terms the goods are to be delivered to bearer or to the order of a named person; or

b. where recognized in overseas trade, if it runs to a named person or assigns.

2. Any other document is nonnegotiable. A bill of lading in which it is stated that the goods are consigned to a named person is not made negotiable by a provision that the goods are to be delivered only against a written order signed by the same or another named person. [S13, §§3138-a2-a5, -a7, -b1-b4, -b7, -b8, -b52; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§8246-8249, 8253, 8254, 8297, 9662-9665, 9667, 9956, 9959, 10005; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§487.2-487.5, 487.8, 487.9, 487.54, 542.2-542.5, 542.7, 554.28, 554.31, 554.77; C66, §554.7104]

554.7105 Construction against negative implication. The omission from either Part 2 or Part 3 of this Article of a provision corresponding to a provision made in the other Part does not imply that a corresponding rule of law is not applicable. [C66,§554.7105]

PART 2

WAREHOUSE RECEIPTS: SPECIAL PROVISIONS

Referred to in §§428.16, 554.7106

1. A warehouse receipt may be issued by any warehouseman.

2. Where goods including distilled spirits and agricultural commodities are stored under a statute requiring a bond against withdrawal or a license for the issuance of receipts in the nature of warehouse receipts, a receipt issued for the goods has like effect as a warehouse receipt even though issued by a person who is the owner of the goods and is not a warehouseman. [S13,§3138-a1; C24, 27, 31, §§9661, 9740; C35,§§9661, 9751-g23; C39,§§9661, 9751.23; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§542.1, 543.20; C66, §554.7201]

Referred to in §§427.1(29), 428.9

554.7202 Form of warehouse receipt—essential terms—optional terms.

1. A warehouse receipt need not be in any particular form.

2. Unless a warehouse receipt embodies within its written or printed terms each of the following, the warehouseman is liable for damages caused by the omission to a person injured thereby:

- a. the location of the warehouse where the goods are stored;
- b. the date of issue of the receipt;
- c. the consecutive number of the receipt;
- d. a statement whether the goods received will be delivered to the bearer, to a specified person, or to a specified person or his order;
- e. the rate of storage and handling charges, except that where goods are stored under a field warehousing arrangement a statement of that fact is sufficient on a nonnegotiable receipt;
- f. a description of the goods or of the packages containing them;
- g. the signature of the warehouseman, which may be made by his authorized agent;
- h. if the receipt is issued for goods of which the warehouseman is owner, either solely or jointly or in common with others, the fact of such ownership; and
- i. a statement of the amount of advances made and of liabilities incurred for which the warehouseman claims a lien or security interest (section 554.7209). If the precise amount of such advances made or of such liabilities incurred is, at the time of the issue of the receipt, unknown to the warehouseman or to his agent who issues it, a statement of the fact that advances have been made or liabilities incurred and the purpose thereof is sufficient.

3. A warehouseman may insert in his receipt any other terms which are not contrary to the provisions of this chapter and do not impair his obligation of delivery (section 554.7403) or his duty of care (section 554.7204). Any contrary provisions shall be ineffective. [S13, §§3138-a2,-a7; C24, 27, 31, 35,§975-g19; C39,§§9662, 9667, 9751.19; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§542.2, 542.7, 543.21; C66,§554.7202]

Referred to in §543.18

554.7203 Liability for nonreceipt or misdescription. A party to or purchaser for value in good faith of a document of title other than a bill of lading relying in either case upon the description therein of the goods may recover from the issuer damages caused by the nonreceipt or misdescription of the goods, except to the extent that the document conspicuously indicates that the issuer does not know whether any part or all of the goods in fact were received or conform to the description, as where the description is in terms of marks or labels or kind, quantity or condition, or the receipt or description is qualified by "contents, condition and quality unknown", "said to contain" or the like, if such indication be true, or the party or purchaser otherwise has notice. [S13,§3138-a20; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9680; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§542.20; C66,§554.7203]

554.7204 Duty of care—contractual limitation of warehouseman's liability.

1. A warehouseman is liable for damages for loss of or injury to the goods caused by his failure to exercise such care in regard to them as a reasonably careful man would exercise under like circumstances but unless otherwise agreed he is not liable for damages which could not have been avoided by the exercise of such care.

2. Damages may be limited by a term in the warehouse receipt or storage agreement limiting the amount of liability in case of loss or damage, and setting forth a specific liability per article or item, or value per unit of weight, beyond which the warehouseman shall not be liable; provided, however, that such liability may on written request of the bailor at the time of signing such storage agreement or within a reasonable time after receipt of the warehouse receipt be increased on part or all of the goods thereunder, in which event increased rates may be charged based on such increased valuation, but that no such increase shall be permitted contrary to a lawful limitation of liability contained in the warehouseman's tariff, if any. No such limitation is effective with respect to the warehouseman's liability for conversion to his own use.

3. Reasonable provisions as to the time and manner of presenting claims and instituting actions based on the bailment may be included in the warehouse receipt or tariff. [S13,§§3138-a3,-a21,-a24; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§9663, 9681, 9684; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§542.3, 542.21, 542.24; C66, §554.7204]

Referred to in §§543.18, 554.7202, subsection 3

554.7205 Title under warehouse receipt defeated in certain cases. A buyer in the ordinary course of business of fungible goods sold and delivered by a warehouseman who is also in the business of buying and selling such goods takes free of any claim under a warehouse receipt even though it has been duly negotiated. [C66,§554.7205]

Referred to in §554.7502

1. A warehouseman may on notifying the person on whose account the goods are held and any other person known to claim an interest in the goods require payment of any charges and removal of the goods from the warehouse at the termination of the period of storage fixed by the document, or, if no period is fixed, within a stated period not less than thirty days after the notification. If the goods are not removed before the date specified in the notification, the warehouseman may sell them in accordance with the provisions of the section on enforcement of a warehouseman's lien (section 554.7210).

2. If a warehouseman in good faith believes that the goods are about to deteriorate or decline in value to less than the amount of his lien within the time prescribed in subsection 1 for notification, advertisement and sale, the warehouseman may specify in the notification any reasonable shorter time for removal of the goods and in case the goods are not removed, may sell them at public sale held not less than one week after a single advertisement or posting.

3. If as a result of a quality or condition of the goods of which the warehouseman had no notice at the time of deposit the goods are a hazard to other property or to the warehouse or to persons, the warehouseman may sell the goods at public or private sale without advertisement on reasonable notification to all persons known to claim an interest in the goods. If the warehouseman after a reasonable effort is unable to sell the goods he may dispose of them in any lawful manner and shall incur no liability by reason of such disposition.

4. The warehouseman must deliver the goods to any person entitled to them under this Article upon due demand made at any time prior to sale or other disposition under this section.

5. The warehouseman may satisfy his lien from the proceeds of any sale or disposition under this section but must hold the balance for delivery on the demand of any person to whom he would have been bound to deliver the goods. [S13,§3138-a34; C24, 27, 31,§9694; C35, §9694, 9751-g21; C39,§9694, 9751.21; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§542.34, 543.23; C66,§554.7206]

554.7207 Goods must be kept separate—fungible goods.

1. Unless the warehouse receipt otherwise provides, a warehouseman must keep separate the goods covered by each receipt so as to permit at all times identification and delivery of those goods except that different lots of fungible goods may be commingled.

2. Fungible goods so commingled are owned in common by the persons entitled thereto and the warehouseman is severally liable to each owner for that owner's share. Where because of overissue a mass of fungible goods is insufficient to meet all the receipts which the warehouseman has issued against it, the persons entitled include all holders to whom overissued receipts have been duly negotiated. [S13,§3138-a22,-a23,-a24; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9682-9684; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§542.22-542.24; C66,§554.7207]

554.7208 Altered warehouse receipts. Where a blank in a negotiable warehouse receipt has been filled in without authority, a purchaser for value and without notice of the want of authority may treat the insertion as authorized. Any other unauthorized alteration leaves any receipt enforceable against the issuer according to its original tenor. [S13,§3138-a13; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9673; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §542.13; C66,§554.7208]

1. A warehouseman has a lien against the bailor on the goods covered by a warehouse receipt or on the proceeds thereof in his possession for charges for storage or transportation (including demurrage and terminal charges), insurance, labor, or charges present or future in relation to the goods, and for expenses necessary for preservation of the goods or reasonably incurred in their sale pursuant to law. If the person on whose account the goods are held is liable for like charges or expenses in relation to other goods whenever deposited and it is stated in the receipt that a lien is claimed for charges and expenses in relation to other goods, the warehouseman also has a lien against him for such charges and expenses whether or not the other goods have been delivered by the warehouseman. But against a person to whom a negotiable warehouse receipt is duly negotiated a warehouseman's lien is limited to charges in an amount or at a rate specified on the receipt or if no charges are so specified then to a reasonable charge for storage of the goods covered by the receipt subsequent to the date of the receipt.

2. The warehouseman may also reserve a security interest against the bailor for a maximum amount specified on the receipt for charges other than those specified in subsection 1, such as for money advanced and interest. Such a security interest is governed by the Article on Secured Transactions (Article 9).

3. A warehouseman's lien for charges and expenses under subsection 1 or a security interest under subsection 2 is also effective against any person who so entrusted the bailor with possession of the goods that a pledge of them by him to a good faith purchaser for value would have been valid but is not effective against a person as to whom the document confers no right in the goods covered by it under section 554.7503.

4. A warehouseman loses his lien on any goods which he voluntarily delivers or which he unjustifiably refuses to deliver. [R60, §§1898, 1899; C73, §§2177, 2178; C97, §3130; S13, §§3138-a27, -a28, -a29, -a30, -a31, -a32; C24, 27, 31, §§9687-9692, 9741, 10326; C35, §§9687-9692, 9751-g24, 10326; C39, §§9687-9692, 9751.24, 10326; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§542.27-542.32, 543.24, 543.25, 575.2; C66, §554.7209]

554.7210 Enforcement of warehouseman's lien.

1. Except as provided in subsection 2, a warehouseman's lien may be enforced by public or private sale of the goods in block or in parcels, at any time or place and on any terms which are commercially reasonable, after notifying all persons known to claim an interest in the goods. Such notification must include a statement of the amount due, the nature of the proposed sale and the time and place of any public sale. The fact that a better price could have been obtained by a sale at a different time or in a different method from that selected by the warehouseman is not of itself sufficient to establish that the sale was not made in a commercially reasonable manner. If the warehouseman either sells the goods in the usual manner in any recognized market therefor, or if he sells at the price current in such market at the time of his sale, or if he has otherwise sold in conformity with commercially reasonable practices among dealers in the type of goods sold, he has sold in a commercially reasonable manner. A sale of more goods than apparently necessary to be offered to insure satisfaction of the obligation is not commercially reasonable except in cases covered by the preceding sentence.

2. A warehouseman's lien on goods other than goods stored by a merchant in the course of his business may be enforced only as follows:

a. All persons known to claim an interest in the goods must be notified.

b. The notification must be delivered in person or sent by registered or certified letter to the last known address of any person to be notified.

c. The notification must include an itemized statement of the claim, a description of the goods subject to the lien, a demand for payment within a specified time not less than ten days after receipt of the notification, and a conspicuous statement that unless the claim is paid within that time the goods will be advertised for sale and sold by auction at a specified time and place.

d. The sale must conform to the terms of the notification.

e. The sale must be held at the nearest suitable place to that where the goods are held or stored.

f. After the expiration of the time given in the notification, an advertisement of the sale must be published once a week for two weeks consecutively in a newspaper of general cir-ulation where the sale is to be held. The advertisement must include a description of the goods, the name of the person on whose account they are being held, and the time and place of the sale. The sale must take place at least fifteen days after the first publication. If there is no newspaper of general circulation where the sale is to be held, the advertisement must be posted at least ten days before the sale in not less than six conspicuous places in the neighborhood of the proposed sale.

Referred to in §554.7308, subsection 7

3. Before any sale pursuant to this section any person claiming a right in the goods may pay the amount necessary to satisfy the lien and the reasonable expenses incurred under this section. In that event the goods must not be sold, but must be retained by the warehouseman subject to the terms of the receipt and this Article.

4. The warehouseman may buy at any public sale pursuant to this section.

5. A purchaser in good faith of goods sold to enforce a warehouseman's lien takes the goods free of any rights of persons against whom the lien was valid, despite noncompliance by the warehouseman with the requirements of this section.

6. The warehouseman may satisfy his lien from the proceeds of any sale pursuant to this section but must hold the balance, if any, for delivery on demand to any person to whom he would have been bound to deliver the goods.

7. The rights provided by this section shall be in addition to all other rights allowed by law to a creditor against his debtor.

8. Where a lien is on goods stored by a merchant in the course of his business the lien may be enforced in accordance with either subsection 1 or 2.

9. The warehouseman is liable for damages caused by failure to comply with the requirements for sale under this section and in case of willful violation is liable for conversion. [R60, §§1899-1904; C73, §§2177-2181; C97, §§3130-3133; S13, §§3131, 3138-a33, -a35, -a36; C24, 27, 31, §§9693, 9695, 9696, 9741, 10327-10330, 10333-10335; C35, §§9693, 9695, 9696, 9751-g24, 10327-10330, 10333-10335; C39, §§9646, 9693, 9695, 9751.24, 10327, 10330, 10333-10335; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§542.33, 542.35, 542.36, 543.24-543.26, 575.3-575.6, 575.9-575.11; C66, §554.7210]

PART 3

BILLS OF LADING: SPECIAL PROVISIONS

554.7301 Liability for nonreceipt or misdescription—"said to contain"—"shipper's load and count"—improper handling.

1. A consignee of a nonnegotiable bill who has given value in good faith or a holder to whom a negotiable bill has been duly negotiated relying in either case upon the description therein of the goods, or upon the date therein shown, may recover from the issuer damages caused by the misdating of the bill or the nonreceipt or misdescription of the goods, except to the extent that the document indicates that the issuer does not know whether any part or all of the goods in fact were received or conform to the description, as where the description is in terms of marks or labels or kind, quantity, or condition or the receipt or description is qualified by "contents or condition of contents of packages unknown", "said to contain", "shipper's weight, load and count" or the like, if such indication be true.

2. When goods are loaded by an issuer who is a common carrier, the issuer must count the packages of goods if package freight and ascertain the kind and quantity if bulk freight. In such cases "shipper's weight, load and count" or other words indicating that the description was made by the shipper are ineffective except as to freight concealed by packages.

3. When bulk freight is loaded by a shipper who makes available to the issuer adequate facilities for weighing such freight, an issuer who is a common carrier must ascertain the kind and quantity within a reasonable time after receiving the written request of the shipper to do so. In such cases "shipper's weight" or other words of like purport are ineffective.

4. The issuer may by inserting in the bill the words "shipper's weight, load and count" or other words of like purport indicate that the goods were loaded by the shipper; and if such statement be true the issuer shall not be liable for damages caused by the improper loading. But their omission does not imply liability for such damages.

5. The shipper shall be deemed to have guaranteed to the issuer the accuracy at the time of shipment of the description, marks, labels, number, kind, quantity, condition and weight, as furnished by him; and the shipper shall indemnify the issuer against damage caused by inaccuracies in such particulars. The right of the issuer to such indemnity shall in no way limit his responsibility and liability under the contract of carriage to any person other than the shipper. [S13, §§2074-b, 3138-b22; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§8267, 10980; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§487.23, 613.6; C66, §554.7301]

554.7302 Through bills of lading and similar documents.

1. The issuer of a through bill of lading or other document embodying an undertaking to be performed in part by persons acting as its agents or by connecting carriers is liable to anyone entitled to recover on the document for any breach by such other persons or by a connecting carrier of its obligation under the document but to the extent that the bill covers an undertaking to be performed overseas or in territory not contiguous to the continental United States or an undertaking including matters other than transportation this liability may be varied by agreement of the parties.

2. Where goods covered by a through bill of lading or other document embodying an undertaking to be performed in part by persons other than the issuer are received by any such person, he is subject with respect to his own performance while the goods are in his possession to the obligation of the issuer. His obligation is discharged by delivery of the goods to another such person pursuant to the document, and does not include liability for breach by any other such persons or by the issuer.

3. The issuer of such through bill of lading or other document shall be entitled to recover from the connecting carrier or such other person in possession of the goods when the breach of the obligation under the document occurred, the amount it may be required to pay to anyone entitled to recover on the document therefor, as may be evidenced by any receipt, judgment, or transcript thereof, and the amount of any expense reasonably incurred by it in defending any action brought by anyone entitled to recover on the document therefor. [C66, §554.7302]

554.7303 Diversion—reconsignment—change of instructions.

1. Unless the bill of lading otherwise provides, the carrier may deliver the goods to a person or destination other than that stated in the bill or may otherwise dispose of the goods on instructions from

- a. the holder of a negotiable bill; or
- b. the consignor on a nonnegotiable bill notwithstanding contrary instructions from the consignee; or
- c. the consignee on a nonnegotiable bill in the absence of contrary instructions from the consignor, if the goods have arrived at the billed destination or if the consignee is in possession of the bill; or
- d. the consignee on a nonnegotiable bill if he is entitled as against the consignor to dispose of them.

2. Unless such instructions are noted on a negotiable bill of lading, a person to whom the bill is duly negotiated can hold the bailee according to the original terms. [C66, §554.7303]

Referred to in §554.7403, subsection 1(e)

554.7304 Bills of lading in a set.

1. Except where customary in overseas transportation, a bill of lading must not be issued in a set of parts. The issuer is liable for damages caused by violation of this subsection.

2. Where a bill of lading is lawfully drawn in a set of parts, each of which is numbered and expressed to be valid only if the goods have not been delivered against any other part, the whole of the parts constitute one bill.

3. Where a bill of lading is lawfully issued in a set of parts and different parts are negotiated to different persons, the title of the holder to whom the first due negotiation is made prevails as to both the document and the goods even though any later holder may have received the goods from the carrier in good faith and discharged the carrier's obligation by surrender of his part.

4. Any person who negotiates or transfers a single part of a bill of lading drawn in a set is liable to holders of that part as if it were the whole set.

5. The bailee is obliged to deliver in accordance with Part 4 of this Article against the first presented part of a bill of lading lawfully drawn in a set. Such delivery discharges the bailee's obligation on the whole bill. [S13,§3138-b5; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§8250; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§487.6; C66,§554.7304]

554.7305 Destination bills.

1. Instead of issuing a bill of lading to the consignor at the place of shipment a carrier may at the request of the consignor procure the bill to be issued at destination or at any other place designated in the request.

2. Upon request of anyone entitled as against the carrier to control the goods while in transit and on surrender of any outstanding bill of lading or other receipt covering such goods, the issuer may procure a substitute bill to be issued at any place designated in the request. [C66,§554.7305]

554.7306 Altered bills of lading. An unauthorized alteration or filling in of a blank in a bill of lading leaves the bill enforceable according to its original tenor. [S13,§3138-b15; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§8260; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §487.16; C66,§554.7306]

554.7307 Lien of carrier.

1. A carrier has a lien on the goods covered by a bill of lading for charges subsequent to the date of its receipt of the goods for storage or transportation (including demurrage and terminal charges) and for expenses necessary for preservation of the goods incident to their transportation or reasonably incurred in their sale pursuant to law. But against a purchaser for value of a negotiable bill of lading a carrier's lien is limited to charges stated in the bill or the applicable tariffs, or if no charges are stated then to a reasonable charge.

2. A lien for charges and expenses under subsection 1 on goods which the carrier was required by law to receive for transportation is effective against the consignor or any person entitled to the goods unless the carrier had notice that the consignor lacked authority to subject the goods to such charges and expenses. Any other lien under subsection 1 is effective against the consignor and any person who permitted the bailor to have control or possession of the goods unless the carrier had notice that the bailor lacked such authority.

3. A carrier loses his lien on any goods which he voluntarily delivers or which he unjustifiably refuses to deliver. [R60,§§1898, 1899; C73,§§2177, 2178; C97,§3130; S13,§§3138-a27-32,-b25; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§8270, 9687-9692, 10326;

554.7308 Enforcement of carrier's lien.

1. A carrier's lien may be enforced by public or private sale of the goods, in bloc or in parcels, at any time or place and on any terms which are commercially reasonable, after notifying all persons known to claim an interest in the goods. Such notification must include a statement of the amount due, the nature of the proposed sale and the time and place of any public sale. The fact that a better price could have been obtained by a sale at a different time or in a different method from that selected by the carrier is not of itself sufficient to establish that the sale was not made in a commercially reasonable manner. If the carrier either sells the goods in the usual manner in any recognized market therefor or if he sells at the price current in such market at the time of his sale or if he has otherwise sold in conformity with commercially reasonable practices among dealers in the type of goods sold he has sold in a commercially reasonable manner. A sale of more goods than apparently necessary to be offered to ensure satisfaction of the obligation is not commercially reasonable except in cases covered by the preceding sentence.

2. Before any sale pursuant to this section any person claiming a right in the goods may pay the amount necessary to satisfy the lien and the reasonable expenses incurred under this section. In that event the goods must not be sold, but must be retained by the carrier subject to the terms of the bill and this Article.

3. The carrier may buy at any public sale pursuant to this section.

4. A purchaser in good faith of goods sold to enforce a carrier's lien takes the goods free of any rights of persons against whom the lien was valid, despite noncompliance by the carrier with the requirements of this section.

5. The carrier may satisfy his lien from the proceeds of any sale pursuant to this section but must hold the balance, if any, for delivery on demand to any person to whom he would have been bound to deliver the goods.

6. The rights provided by this section shall be in addition to all other rights allowed by law to a creditor against his debtor.

7. A carrier's lien may be enforced in accordance with either subsection 1 or the procedure set forth in subsection 2 of section 554.7210.

8. The carrier is liable for damages caused by failure to comply with the requirements for sale under this section and in case of willful violation is liable for conversion. [R60,§§1899-1904; C73,§§2177-2181; C97,§§3130-3133; S13,§§3131, 3138-a33,-b26; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§8271, 9693, 10327-10336; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§487.27, 542.33, 575.3-575.7, 575.9-575.12; C66,§554.7308]

1. A carrier who issues a bill of lading whether negotiable or nonnegotiable must exercise the degree of care in relation to the goods which a reasonably careful man would exercise under like circumstances. This subsection does not repeal or change any law or rule of law which imposes liability upon a common carrier for damages not caused by its negligence.

2. Damages may be limited by a provision that the carrier's liability shall not exceed a value stated in the document if the carrier's rates are dependent upon value and the consignor by the carrier's tariff is afforded an opportunity to declare a higher value or a value as lawfully provided in the tariff, or where no tariff is filed he is otherwise advised of such opportunity; but no such limitation is effective with respect to the carrier's liability for conversion to its own use.

3. Reasonable provisions as to the time and manner of presenting claims and instituting actions based on the shipment may be included in a bill of lading or tariff. [S13, §§2074-b, 3138-b2; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§8247, 10980; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§487.3, 613.6; C66, §554.7309]

PART 4*WAREHOUSE RECEIPTS AND BILLS OF LADING: GENERAL OBLIGATIONS

Referred to in §554.7503, subsection 3

554.7401 Irregularities in issue of receipt or bill or conduct of issuer. The obligations imposed by this Article on an issuer apply to a document of title regardless of the fact that

a. the document may not comply with the requirements of this Article or of any other law or regulation regarding its issue, form or content; or

b. the issuer may have violated laws regulating the conduct of his business; or

c. the goods covered by the document were owned by the bailee at the time the document was issued; or

d. the person issuing the document does not come within the definition of warehouseman if it purports to be a warehouse receipt. [S13, §§3138-a20, -b22; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§8267, 9680; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§487.23, 542.20; C66, §554.7401]

554.7402 Duplicate receipt or bill—over-issue. Neither a duplicate nor any other document of title purporting to cover goods already represented by an outstanding document of the same issuer confers any right in the goods, except as provided in the case of bills in a set, overissue of documents for fungible goods and substitutes for lost, stolen or destroyed documents. But the issuer is liable for damages caused by his overissue or failure to identify a duplicate document as such by conspicuous notation on its face. [S13, §§3138-a6, -a15, -b6, -b17; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§8251, 8262, 9666, 9675; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§487.7, 487.18, 542.6, 542.15, 543.20; C66, §554.7402]

554.7403 Obligation of warehouseman or carrier to deliver—excuse.

1. The bailee must deliver the goods to a person entitled under the document who complies with subsections 2 and 3, unless and to the extent that the bailee establishes any of the following:

a. delivery of the goods to a person whose receipt was rightful as against the claimant;

b. damage to or delay, loss or destruction of the goods for which the bailee is not liable, but the burden of establishing negligence in such cases is on the person entitled under the document;

c. previous sale or other disposition of the goods in lawful enforcement of a lien or on warehouseman's lawful termination of storage;

d. the exercise by a seller of his right to stop delivery pursuant to the provisions of the Article on Sales (section 554.2705);

e. a diversion, reconsignment or other disposition pursuant to the provisions of this Article (section 554.7303) or tariff regulating such right;

f. release, satisfaction or any other fact affording a personal defense against the claimant;

g. any other lawful excuse.

2. A person claiming goods covered by a document of title must satisfy the bailee's lien where the bailee so requests or where the bailee is prohibited by law from delivering the goods until the charges are paid.

3. Unless the person claiming is one against whom the document confers no right under section 554.7503 subsection 1, he must surrender for cancellation or notation of partial deliveries any outstanding negotiable document covering the goods, and the bailee must cancel the document or conspicuously note the partial delivery thereon or be liable to any person to whom the document is duly negotiated.

4. "Person entitled under the document" means holder in the case of a negotiable document, or the person to whom delivery is to be made by the terms of or pursuant to written instructions under a nonnegotiable document. [S13, §§3138-a8, -a9, -a10, -a11, -a12, -a16, -a19, -b10, -b11, -b12, -b13, -b14, -b18, -b21; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§8255-8259, 8263, 8266, 9668-9672, 9676, 9679; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§487.11-487.15, 487.19, 487.22, 542.8-542.12, 542.16, 542.19; C66, §554.7403]

Referred to in §§554.7102, subsection 2, 554.7202, subsection 3, 554.7508, subsection 1(a)

554.7404 No liability for good faith delivery pursuant to receipt or bill. A bailee who in good faith including observance of reasonable commercial standards has received goods and delivered or otherwise disposed of them according to the terms of the document of title or pursuant to this Article is not liable therefor. This rule applies even though the person from whom he received the goods had no authority to procure the document or to dispose of the goods and even though the person to whom he delivered the goods had no authority to receive them. [S13, §§2074-b, 3138-a10, -b12; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§8257, 9670, 10980; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§487.13, 542.10, 613.6; C66, §554.7404]

PART 5

WAREHOUSE RECEIPTS AND BILLS OF LADING: NEGOTIATION AND TRANSFER

554.7501 Form of negotiation and requirements of "due negotiation".

1. A negotiable document of title running to the order of a named person is negotiated by his endorsement and delivery. After his endorsement in blank or to bearer any person can negotiate it by delivery alone.

2. a. A negotiable document of title is also negotiated by delivery alone when by its original terms it runs to bearer.

b. When a document running to the order of a named person is delivered to him the effect is the same as if the document had been negotiated.

3. Negotiation of a negotiable document of title after it has been endorsed to a specified person requires endorsement by the special endorsee as well as delivery.

4. A negotiable document of title is "duly negotiated" when it is negotiated in the manner stated in this section to a holder who purchases it in good faith without notice of any defense against or claim to it on the part of any person and for value, unless it is established that the negotiation is not in the regular course of business or financing or involves receiving the document in settlement or payment of a money obligation.

5. Endorsement of a nonnegotiable document neither makes it negotiable nor adds to the transferee's rights.

6. The naming in a negotiable bill of a person to be notified of the arrival of the goods does not limit the negotiability of the bill nor constitute notice to a purchaser thereof of any interest of such person in the goods. [S13, §§3138-a37, -a38, -a39, -a40, -a47, -b27, -b28, -b29, -b30, -b37; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§8272-8275, 8282, 9697-9700, 9707, 9957-9961, 9967; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§487.28-487.31, 487.38, 542.37-542.40, 542.47, 554.29-554.32, 554.39; C66, §554.7501]

554.7502 Rights acquired by due negotiation.

1. Subject to the following section and to the provisions of section 554.7205 on fungible goods, a holder to whom a negotiable document of title has been duly negotiated acquires thereby:

- a. title to the document;
- b. title to the goods;
- c. all rights accruing under the law of agency or estoppel, including rights to goods delivered to the bailee after the document was issued; and
- d. the direct obligation of the issuer to hold or deliver the goods according to the terms of the document free of any defense or claim by him except those arising under the terms of the document or under this Article. In the case of a delivery order the bailee's obligation accrues only upon acceptance and the obligation acquired by the holder is that the issuer and any endorser will procure the acceptance of the bailee.

2. Subject to the following section, title and rights so acquired are not defeated by any stoppage of the goods represented by the document or by surrender of such goods by the bailee, and are not impaired even though the negotiation or any prior negotiation constituted a breach of duty or even though any person has been deprived of possession of the document by misrepresentation, fraud, accident, mistake, duress, loss, theft or conversion, or even though a previous sale or other transfer of the goods or document has been made to a third person. [S13, §§3138-a41, -a47, -a48, -a49, -b31, -b37, -b38, -b39, -b41; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§8276, 8282-8284, 8286, 9701, 9707-9709, 9949, 9954, 9962, 9967, 9991; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§487.32, 487.38-487.40, 487.42, 542.41, 542.47-542.49, 554.21, 554.26, 554.34, 554.39, 554.63; C66, §554.7502]

554.7503 Document of title to goods defeated in certain cases.

1. A document of title confers no right in goods against a person who before issuance of the document had a legal interest or a perfected security interest in them and who neither

a. delivered or entrusted them or any document of title covering them to the bailor or his nominee with actual or apparent authority to ship, store or sell or with power to obtain delivery under this Article (section 554.7403) or with power of disposition under this chapter (sections 554.2403 and 554.9307) or other statute or rule of law; nor

b. acquiesced in the procurement by the bailor or his nominee of any document of title.

2. Title to goods based upon an unaccepted delivery order is subject to the rights of anyone to whom a negotiable warehouse receipt or bill of lading covering the goods has been duly negotiated. Such a title may be defeated under the next section to the same extent as the rights of the issuer or a transferee from the issuer.

3. Title to goods based upon a bill of lading issued to a freight forwarder is subject to the rights of anyone to whom a bill issued by the freight forwarder is duly negotiated; but delivery by the carrier in accordance with Part 4 of this Article pursuant to its own bill of lading discharges the carrier's obligation to deliver. [S13, §§3138-a41, -b31, -b42; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§8276, 8287, 9701, 9962; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§487.32, 487.43, 542.41, 554.34; C66, §554.7503]

554.7504 Rights acquired in the absence of due negotiation—effect of diversion—seller's stoppage of delivery.

1. A transferee of a document, whether negotiable or nonnegotiable, to whom the document has been delivered but not duly negotiated, acquires the title and rights which his transferor had or had actual authority to convey.

2. In the case of a nonnegotiable document, until but not after the bailee receives notification of the transfer, the rights of the transferee may be defeated

a. by those creditors of the transferor who could treat the sale as void under section 554.2402; or

b. by a buyer from the transferor in ordinary course of business if the bailee has delivered the goods to the buyer or received notification of his rights; or

c. as against the bailee by good faith dealings of the bailee with the transferor.

3. A diversion or other change of shipping instructions by the consignor in a nonnegotiable bill of lading which causes the bailee not to deliver to the consignee defeats the consignee's title to the goods if they have been delivered to a buyer in ordinary course of business and in any event defeats the consignee's rights against the bailee.

4. Delivery pursuant to a nonnegotiable document may be stopped by a seller under section 554.2705, and subject to the requirement of due notification there provided. A bailee honoring the seller's instructions is entitled to be indemnified by the seller against any resulting loss or expense. [S13, §§3138-a41, -a42, -b31, -b32; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§8276, 8277, 9701, 9702, 9959, 9963; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§487.32, 487.33, 542.41, 542.42, 554.31, 554.35; C66, §554.7504]

554.7505 Endorser not a guarantor for other parties. The endorsement of a document of title issued by a bailee does not make the endorser liable for any default by the bailee or by previous endorsers. [S13, §§3138-a45, -b35; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§8280, 9705, 9966; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§487.36, 542.45, 554.38; C66, §554.7505]

554.7506 Delivery without endorsement — right to compel endorsement. The transferee of a negotiable document of title has a specifically enforceable right to have his transferor supply any necessary endorsement but the transfer becomes a negotiation only as of the time the endorsement is supplied. [S13, §§3138-a43, -b33; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§8278, 9703, 9964; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§487.34, 542.43, 554.36; C66, §554.7506]

554.7507 Warranties on negotiation or transfer of receipt or bill. Where a person negotiates or transfers a document of title for value otherwise than as a mere intermediary under the next following section, then unless otherwise agreed he warrants to his immediate purchaser only in addition to any warranty made in selling the goods

a. that the document is genuine; and

b. that he has no knowledge of any fact which would impair its validity or worth; and

c. that his negotiation or transfer is rightful and fully effective with respect to the title to the document and the goods it represents. [S13, §§3138-a44, -b34, -b36; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§8279, 8281, 9704, 9965; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§487.35, 487.37, 542.44, 554.37; C66, §554.7507]

Referred to in §554.5114, subsection 2

554.7508 Warranties of collecting bank as to documents. A collecting bank or other intermediary known to be entrusted with documents on behalf of another or with collection of a draft or other claim against delivery of documents warrants by such delivery of the documents only its own good faith and authority. This rule applies even though the intermediary has purchased or made advances against the claim or draft to be collected. [S13, §3138-a46; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9706; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §542.46; C66, §554.7508]

554.7509 Receipt or bill: when adequate compliance with commercial contract. The question whether a document is adequate to fulfill the obligations of a contract for sale or the conditions of a credit is governed by the Articles on Sales (Article 2) and on Letters of Credit (Article 5). [C66, §554.7509]

PART 6

WAREHOUSE RECEIPTS AND BILLS OF LADING: MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

554.7601 Lost and missing documents.

1. If a document has been lost, stolen or destroyed, a court may order delivery of the goods or issuance of a substitute document and the bailee may without liability to any person comply with such order. If the document was negotiable the claimant must post security approved by the court to indemnify any person who may suffer loss as a result of nonsurrender of the document. If the document was not negotiable, such security may be required at the discretion of the court. The court may also in its discretion order payment of the bailee's reasonable costs and counsel fees.

2. A bailee who without court order delivers goods to a person claiming under a missing negotiable document is liable to any person injured thereby, and if the delivery is not in good faith becomes liable for conversion. Delivery in good faith is not conversion if made in accordance with a filed classification or tariff or, where no classification or tariff is filed, if the claimant posts security with the bailee in an amount at least double the value of the goods at the time of posting to indemnify any person injured by the delivery who files a notice of claim within one year after the delivery.

3. If a warehouse receipt has been lost or destroyed, the warehouseman shall issue a duplicate upon receipt of:

a. An affidavit that the warehouse receipt has been lost or destroyed.

b. A bond in an amount at least double the value of the goods at the time of posting the bond, to indemnify any person injured by issuance of the duplicate warehouse receipt who files a notice of claim within one year after delivery of the goods.

A duplicate warehouse receipt shall be plainly marked to indicate that it is a duplicate. A receipt plainly marked as a duplicate is a representation and warranty by the warehouseman that the duplicate receipt is an accurate copy of an original receipt properly issued and uncanceled at the date of the issue of the duplicate, but shall impose upon him no other liability.

A warehouseman who in good faith delivers goods to the holder of a duplicate receipt issued in accordance with this subsection is liable to any person injured by the delivery, but only to the extent of the security posted in accordance with paragraph "b" of this subsection.

4. If a warehouse receipt has been lost or destroyed, the depositor may either remove the goods from the warehouse or sell the goods to the warehouseman after executing a lost warehouse receipt release on a form prescribed by the Iowa state commerce commission. The form shall include an affidavit stating that the warehouse receipt has been lost or destroyed, and the depositor's undertaking to indemnify the warehouseman for any loss incurred as a result of the loss or destruction of the warehouse receipt. The form shall be filed with the commerce commission.

5. If a warehouse receipt has been lost or destroyed by a warehouseman after delivery of the goods or purchase of the goods by the warehouseman, he shall execute and file with the Iowa state commerce commission a notarized affidavit stating that the warehouse receipt has been lost or destroyed by him after delivery or purchase of the goods by him. The form of the affidavit shall be prescribed by the Iowa state commerce commission. [S13, §§3138-a14, b16; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§8261, 9674; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§487.17, 542.14; C66, §554.7601; 63GA, ch 1258, §1]

Referred to in §543.19

554.7602 Attachment of goods covered by a negotiable document. Except where the document was originally issued upon delivery of the goods by a person who had no power to dispose of them, no lien attaches by virtue of any judicial process to goods in the possession of a bailee for which a negotiable document of title is outstanding unless the document be first surrendered to the bailee or its negotiation enjoined, and the bailee shall not be compelled to deliver the goods pursuant to process until the document is surrendered to him or impounded by the court. One who purchases the document for value without notice of the process or injunction takes free of the lien imposed by judicial process. [S13, §§3138-a25, b23, b24; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§8268, 8269, 9685, 9968,

9969; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§487.24, 487.25, 542.25, 554.40, 554.41; C66, §554.7602]

554.7603 Conflicting claims — interpleader. If more than one person claims title or possession of the goods, the bailee is excused from delivery until he has had a reasonable time to ascertain the validity of the adverse claims or to bring an action to compel all claimants to interplead and may compel such interpleader, either in defending an action for nondelivery of the goods, or by original action, whichever is appropriate. [S13, §§3138-a16, a17, a18, b19, b20, b42; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§8264, 8265, 8287, 9676-9678; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§487.20, 487.21, 487.43, 542.16-542.18; C66, §554.7603]

PART 2

ISSUE—ISSUER

1. With respect to obligations on or defenses to a security "issuer" includes a person who

a. places or authorizes the placing of his name on a security (otherwise than as authenticating trustee, registrar, transfer agent or the like) to evidence that it represents a share, participation or other interest in his property or in an enterprise or to evidence his duty to perform an obligation evidenced by the security; or

b. directly or indirectly creates fractional interests in his rights or property which fractional interests are evidenced by securities; or

c. becomes responsible for or in place of any other person described as an issuer in this section.

2. With respect to obligations on or defenses to a security a guarantor is an issuer to the extent of his guaranty whether or not his obligation is noted on the security.

3. With respect to registration of transfer (Part 4 of this Article) "issuer" means a person on whose behalf transfer books are maintained. [S13, §§3060-a29, -a60, -a61, -a62; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9489, 9520-9522; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§541.29, 541.60-541.62; C66, §554.8201]

1. Even against a purchaser for value and without notice, the terms of a security include those stated on the security and those made part of the security by reference to another instrument, indenture or document or to a constitution, statute, ordinance, rule, regulation, order or the like to the extent that the terms so referred to do not conflict with the stated terms. Such a reference does not of itself charge a purchaser for value with notice of a defect going to the validity of the security even though the security expressly states that a person accepting it admits such notice.

2. a. A security other than one issued by a government or governmental agency or unit even though issued with a defect going to its validity is valid in the hands of a purchaser for value and without notice of the particular defect unless the defect involves a violation of constitutional provisions in which case the security is valid in the hands of a subsequent purchaser for value and without notice of the defect.

b. The rule of subparagraph "a" applies to an issuer which is a government or governmental agency or unit only if either there has been substantial compliance with the legal requirements governing the issue or the issuer has received a substantial consideration for the issue as a whole or for the particular security and a stated purpose of the issue is one for which the issuer has power to borrow money or issue the security.

3. Except as otherwise provided in the case of certain unauthorized signatures on issue (section 554.8205), lack of genuineness of a security is a complete defense even against a purchaser for value and without notice.

4. All other defenses of the issuer including nondelivery and conditional delivery of the security are ineffective against a purchaser for value who has taken without notice of the particular defense.

5. Nothing in this section shall be construed to affect the right of a party to a "when, as and if issued" or a "when distributed" contract to cancel the contract in the event of a material change in the character of the security which is the subject of the contract or in the plan or arrangement pursuant to which such security is to be issued or distributed. [S13, §§3060-a16, -a23, -a28, -a56, -a57, -a60, -a61, -a62; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9476, 9483, 9488, 9516, 9517, 9520-9522; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§541.16, 541.23, 541.28, 541.56, 541.57, 541.60-541.62; C66, §554.8202]

554.8203 Staleness as notice of defects or defenses.

1. After an act or event which creates a right to immediate performance of the principal obligation evidenced by the security or which sets a date on or after which the security is to be presented or surrendered for redemption or exchange, a purchaser is charged with notice of any defect in its issue or defense of the issuer

a. if the act or event is one requiring the payment of money or the delivery of securities or both on presentation or surrender of the security and such funds or securities are available on the date set for payment or exchange and he takes the security more than one year after that date; and

b. if the act or event is not covered by paragraph "a" and he takes the security more than two years after the date set for surrender or presentation or the date on which such performance became due.

2. A call which has been revoked is not within subsection 1. [S13, §§3060, -a52, -a53; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9512, 9513; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§541.52, 541.53; C66, §8203]

554.8204 Effect of issuer's restrictions on transfer. Unless noted conspicuously on the security a restriction on transfer imposed by the issuer even though otherwise lawful is ineffective except against a person with actual knowledge of it. [C50, 54, 58, 62, §493A.15; C66, §554.8204]

554.8205 Effect of unauthorized signature on issue. An unauthorized signature placed on a security prior to or in the course of issue is ineffective except that the signature is effective in favor of a purchaser for value and without notice of the lack of authority if the signing has been done by a. an authenticating trustee, registrar, transfer agent or other person entrusted by the issuer with the signing of the security or of similar securities or their immediate preparation for signing; or b. an employee of the issuer or of any of the foregoing entrusted with responsible handling of the security. [S13, §3060-a23; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9483; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§541.23; C66, §554.8205]

Referred to in §554.8202, subsection 3

554.8206 Completion or alteration of instrument.

1. Where a security contains the signatures necessary to its issue or transfer but is incomplete in any other respect a. any person may complete it by filling in the blanks as authorized; and b. even though the blanks are incorrectly filled in, the security as completed is enforceable by a purchaser who took it for value and without notice of such incorrectness.

2. A complete security which has been improperly altered even though fraudulently remains enforceable but only according to its original terms. [S13, §§3060-a14, -a15, -a124; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9474, 9475, 9585; C46, §§541.14, 541.15, 541.25; C50, 54, 58, 62, §§493A.16, 541.14, 541.15, 541.125; C66, §554.8206]

554.8207 Rights of issuer with respect to registered owners.

1. Prior to due presentment for registration of transfer of a security in registered form the issuer or indenture trustee may treat the registered owner as the person exclusively entitled to vote, to receive notifications and otherwise to exercise all the rights and powers of an owner.

2. Nothing in this Article shall be construed to affect the liability of the registered owner of a security for calls, assessments or the like. [C50, 54, 58, 62, §§493A.3, 493A.21; C66, §554.8207]

554.8208 Effect of signature of authenticating trustee, registrar or transfer agent.

1. A person placing his signature upon a security as authenticating trustee, registrar, transfer agent or the like warrants to a purchaser for value without notice of the particular defect that

a. the security is genuine; and

b. his own participation in the issue of the security is within his capacity and within the scope of the authorization received by him from the issuer; and

c. he has reasonable grounds to believe that the security is in the form and within the amount the issuer is authorized to issue.

2. Unless otherwise agreed, a person by so placing his signature does not assume responsibility for the validity of the security in other respects. [C66, §554.8208]

PURCHASE

554.8301 Rights acquired by purchaser — "adverse claim"—title acquired by bona fide purchaser.

1. Upon delivery of a security the purchaser acquires the rights in the security which his transferor had or had actual authority to convey except that a purchaser who has himself been a party to any fraud or illegality affecting the security or who as a prior holder had notice of an adverse claim cannot improve his position by taking from a later bona fide purchaser. "Adverse claim" includes a claim that a transfer was or would be wrongful or that a particular adverse person is the owner of or has an interest in the security.

2. A bona fide purchaser in addition to acquiring the rights of a purchaser also acquires the security free of any adverse claim.

3. A purchaser of a limited interest acquires rights only to the extent of the interest purchased. [S13, §§3060-a52, a57, a58, a59; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9512, 9517-9519; C46, §§541.52, 541.57-541.59; C50, 54, 58, 62, §§493A.4, 493A.7, 541.52, 541.57-541.59; C66, §554.8301]

Referred to in §§554.8102, subsection 5, 554.8320, subsection 8, 554.9309

554.8302 "Bona fide purchaser." A "bona fide purchaser" is a purchaser for value in good faith and without notice of any adverse claim who takes delivery of a security in bearer form or of one in registered form issued to him or endorsed to him or in blank. [S13, §§3060-a52; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9512; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §541.52; C66, §554.8302]

Referred to in §§554.6114, subsection 2(a), 554.8102, subsection 5

554.8303 "Broker." "Broker" means a person engaged for all or part of his time in the business of buying and selling securities, who in the transaction concerned acts for, or buys a security from or sells a security to a customer. Nothing in this Article determines the capacity in which a person acts for purposes of any other statute or rule to which such person is subject. [C66, §554.8303]

Referred to in §554.8102, subsection 5

554.8304 Notice to purchaser of adverse claims.

1. A purchaser (including a broker for the seller or buyer but excluding an intermediary bank) of a security is charged with notice of adverse claims if

a. the security whether in bearer or registered form has been endorsed "for collection" or "for surrender" or for some other purpose not involving transfer; or

b. the security is in bearer form and has on it an unambiguous statement that it is the property of a person other than the transferor. The mere writing of a name on a security is not such a statement.

2. The fact that the purchaser (including a broker for the seller or buyer) has notice that the security is held for a third person or is registered in the name of or endorsed by a fiduciary does not create a duty of inquiry into the rightfulness of the transfer or constitute notice of adverse claims. If, however, the purchaser (excluding an intermediary bank) has knowledge that the proceeds are being used or that the transaction is for the individual benefit of the fiduciary or otherwise in breach of duty, the purchaser is charged with notice of adverse claims. [S13, §§3060-a37, a56; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9497, 9516; C46, §§541.37, 541.56; C50, 54, 58, 62, §§493A.8, 541.37, 541.56; C66, §554.8304]

Referred to in §554.8310

554.8305 Staleness as notice of adverse claims. An act or event which creates a right to immediate performance of the principal obligation evidenced by the security or which sets a date on or after which the security is to be presented or surrendered for redemption or exchange does not of itself constitute any notice of adverse claims except in the case of a purchase

a. after one year from any date set for such presentment or surrender for redemption or exchange; or

b. after six months from any date set for payment of money against presentation or surrender of the security if funds are available for payment on that date. [S13, §§3060-a52, -a53; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9512, 9513; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§541.52, 541.53; C66, §554.8305]

554.8306 Warranties on presentment and transfer.

1. A person who presents a security for registration of transfer or for payment or exchange warrants to the issuer that he is entitled to the registration, payment or exchange. But a purchaser for value without notice of adverse claims who receives a new, reissued or reregistered security on registration of transfer warrants only that he has no knowledge of any unauthorized signature (section 554.8311) in a necessary endorsement.

2. A person by transferring a security to a purchaser for value warrants only that

- a. his transfer is effective and rightful; and
- b. the security is genuine and has not been materially altered; and
- c. he knows no fact which might impair the validity of the security.

3. Where a security is delivered by an intermediary known to be entrusted with delivery of the security on behalf of another or with collection of a draft or other claim against such delivery, the intermediary by such delivery warrants only his own good faith and authority even though he has purchased or made advances against the claim to be collected against the delivery.

4. A pledgee or other holder for security who redelivers the security received, or after payment and on order of the debtor delivers that security to a third person makes only the warranties of an intermediary under subsection 3.

5. A broker gives to his customer and to the issuer and a purchaser the warranties provided in this section and has the rights and privileges of a purchaser under this section. The warranties of and in favor of the broker acting as an agent are in addition to applicable warranties given by and in favor of his customer. [S13,§§3060-a65,-a66,-a67,-a69; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§9525-9527, 9529; C46,§§541.65-541.67, 541.69; C50, 54, 58, 62,§§493A.6, 493A.11, 493A.12, 541.65-541.67, 541.69; C66,§554.8306]

554.8307 Effect of delivery without endorsement—right to compel endorsement. Where a security in registered form has been delivered to a purchaser without a necessary endorsement he may become a bona fide purchaser only as of the time the endorsement is supplied, but against the transferor the transfer is complete upon delivery and the purchaser has a specifically enforceable right to have any necessary endorsement supplied. [S13,§3060-a49; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9509; C46,§541.49; C50, 54, 58, 62,§§493A.9, 541.49; C66,§554.8307]

554.8308 Endorsement, how made — special endorsement—endorser not a guarantor—partial assignment.

1. An endorsement of a security in registered form is made when an appropriate person signs on it or on a separate document an assignment or transfer of the security or a power to assign or transfer it or when the signature of such person is written without more upon the back of the security.

2. An endorsement may be in blank or special. An endorsement in blank includes an endorsement to bearer. A special endorsement specifies the person to whom the security is to be transferred, or who has power to transfer it. A holder may convert a blank endorsement into a special endorsement.

3. "An appropriate person" in subsection 1 means

a. the person specified by the security or by special endorsement to be entitled to the security; or

b. where the person so specified is described as a fiduciary but is no longer serving in the described capacity,—either that person or his successor; or

c. where the security or endorsement so specifies more than one person as fiduciaries and one or more are no longer serving in the described capacity,—the remaining fiduciary or fiduciaries, whether or not a successor has been appointed or qualified; or

d. where the person so specified is an individual and is without capacity to act by virtue of death, incompetence, infancy or otherwise,—his executor, administrator, guardian or like fiduciary; or

e. where the security or endorsement so specifies more than one person as tenants by the entirety or with right of survivorship and by reason of death all cannot sign,—the survivor or survivors; or

f. a person having power to sign under applicable law or controlling instrument; or

g. to the extent that any of the foregoing persons may act through an agent,—his authorized agent.

4. Unless otherwise agreed the endorser by his endorsement assumes no obligation that the security will be honored by the issuer.

5. An endorsement purporting to be only of part of a security representing units intended by the issuer to be separately transferable is effective to the extent of the endorsement.

6. Whether the person signing is appropriate is determined as of the date of signing and an endorsement by such a person does not become unauthorized for the purposes of this Article by virtue of any subsequent change of circumstances.

7. Failure of a fiduciary to comply with a controlling instrument or with the law of the state having jurisdiction of the fiduciary relationship, including any law requiring the fiduciary to obtain court approval of the transfer, does not render his endorsement unauthorized for the purposes of this Article. [S13, §§3060-a31, -a32, -a33, -a34,-a35,-a36,-a37,-a64,-a65, -a66,-a67,-a68,-a69; C24, 27,§§9491-9497, 9524-9529; C31, 35,§§8385-d2, 9491-9497, 9524-9529; C39, §§8385.2, 9491-9497, 9524-9529; C46,§§491.49, 541.31-541.37, 541.64-541.69; C50, 54, 58, 62,

554.8309 Effect of endorsement without delivery. An endorsement of a security whether special or in blank does not constitute a transfer until delivery of the security on which it appears or if the endorsement is on a separate document until delivery of both the document and the security. [S13,§3060-a30; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9490; C46,§541.30; C50, 54, 58, 62,§§493A.1, 493A.10, 541.30; C66,§554.8309]

554.8310 Endorsement of security in bearer form. An endorsement of a security in bearer form may give notice of adverse claims (section 554.8304) but does not otherwise affect any right to registration the holder may possess. [S13,§3060-a40; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9500; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§541.40; C66,§554.8310]

554.8311 Effect of unauthorized endorsement. Unless the owner has ratified an unauthorized endorsement or is otherwise precluded from asserting its ineffectiveness

a. he may assert its ineffectiveness against the issuer or any purchaser other than a purchaser for value and without notice of adverse claims who has in good faith received a new, reissued or reregistered security on registration of transfer; and

b. an issuer who registers the transfer of a security upon the unauthorized endorsement is subject to liability for improper registration (section 554.8404). [S13,§3060-a23; C24, 27, 31, §9483; C35,§§9483, 9385-d2; C39,§§9385.2, 9483; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§491.49, 541.23; C66,§554.8311]

Referred to in §§554.8306, subsection 1, 554.8315

554.8312 Effect of guaranteeing signature or endorsement.

1. Any person guaranteeing a signature of an endorser of a security warrants that at the time of signing

a. the signature was genuine; and

b. the signer was an appropriate person to endorse (section 554.8308); and

c. the signer had legal capacity to sign. But the guarantor does not otherwise warrant the rightfulness of the particular transfer.

2. Any person may guarantee an endorsement of a security and by so doing warrants not only the signature (subsection 1) but also the rightfulness of the particular transfer in all respects. But no issuer may require a guarantee of endorsement as a condition to registration of transfer.

3. The foregoing warranties are made to any person taking or dealing with the security in reliance on the guarantee and the guarantor is liable to such person for any loss resulting from breach of the warranties. [C31, 35,§8385-d2; C39,§8385.2; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§491.49; C66, §554.8312]

Referred to in §554.8402, subsection 1(a)

554.8313 When delivery to the purchaser occurs—purchaser's broker as holder.

1. Delivery to a purchaser occurs when

a. he or a person designated by him acquires possession of a security; or

b. his broker acquires possession of a security specially endorsed to or issued in the name of the purchaser; or

c. his broker sends him confirmation of the purchase and also by book entry or otherwise identifies a specific security in the broker's possession as belonging to the purchaser; or

d. with respect to an identified security to be delivered while still in the possession of a third person when that person acknowledges that he holds for the purchaser; or

e. appropriate entries on the books of a clearing corporation are made under section 554.8320.

2. The purchaser is the owner of a security held for him by his broker, but is not the holder except as specified in subparagraphs "b", "c" and "e" of subsection 1. Where a security is part of a fungible bulk the purchaser is the owner of a proportionate property interest in the fungible bulk.

3. Notice of an adverse claim received by the broker or by the purchaser after the broker takes delivery as a holder for value is not effective either as to the broker or as to the purchaser. However, as between the broker and the purchaser the purchaser may demand delivery of an equivalent security as to which no notice of an adverse claim has been received. [C50, 54, 58, 62,§§493A.5, 493A.22; C66,§554.8313]

554.8314 Duty to deliver, when completed.

1. Unless otherwise agreed where a sale of a security is made on an exchange or otherwise through brokers

a. the selling customer fulfills his duty to deliver when he places such a security in the possession of the selling broker or of a person designated by the broker or if requested causes an acknowledgment to be made to the selling broker that it is held for him; and

b. the selling broker including a correspondent broker acting for a selling customer fulfills his duty to deliver by placing the security or a like security in the possession of the buying broker or a person designated by him or by effecting clearance of the sale in accordance with the rules of the exchange on which the transaction took place.

2. Except as otherwise provided in this section and unless otherwise agreed, a transferor's duty to deliver a security under a contract of purchase is not fulfilled until he places the security in form to be negotiated by the purchaser in the possession of the purchaser or of a person designated by him or at the purchaser's request causes an acknowledgment to be made to the purchaser that it is held for him. Unless made on an exchange a sale to a broker purchasing for his own account is within this subsection and not within subsection 1. [C66,§554.8314]

554.8315 Action against purchaser based upon wrongful transfer.

1. Any person against whom the transfer of a security is wrongful for any reason, including his incapacity, may against anyone except a bona fide purchaser reclaim possession of the security or obtain possession of any new security evidencing all or part of the same rights or have damages.

2. If the transfer is wrongful because of an unauthorized endorsement, the owner may also reclaim or obtain possession of the security or new security even from a bona fide purchaser if the ineffectiveness of the purported endorsement can be asserted against him under the provisions of this Article on unauthorized endorsements (section 554.8311).

3. The right to obtain or reclaim possession of a security may be specifically enforced and its transfer enjoined and the security impounded pending the litigation. [C50, 54, 58, 62, §493A.7; C66,§554.8315]

554.8316 Purchaser's right to requisites for registration of transfer on books. Unless otherwise agreed the transferor must on due demand supply his purchaser with any proof of his authority to transfer or with any other requisite which may be necessary to obtain registration of the transfer of the security but if the transfer is not for value a transferor need not do so unless the purchaser furnishes the necessary expenses. Failure to comply with a demand made within a reasonable time gives the purchaser the right to reject or rescind the transfer. [C97,§1626; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§8387; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§491.51; C66, §554.8316]

554.8317 Attachment or levy upon security.

1. No attachment or levy upon a security or any share or other interest evidenced thereby which is outstanding shall be valid until the security is actually seized by the officer making the attachment or levy but a security which has been surrendered to the issuer may be attached or levied upon at the source.

2. A creditor whose debtor is the owner of a security shall be entitled to such aid from courts of appropriate jurisdiction, by injunction or otherwise, in reaching such security or in satisfying the claim by means thereof as is allowed at law or in equity in regard to property which cannot readily be attached or levied upon by ordinary legal process. [C51, §1859, 1860; R60,§3194; C73,§2967; C97,§3894; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§12098; C46,§639.22; C50, 54, 58, 62,§493A.13, 493A.14; C66,§554.8317]

554.8318 No conversion by good faith delivery. An agent or bailee who in good faith (including observance of reasonable commercial standards if he is in the business of buying, selling or otherwise dealing with securities) has received securities and sold, pledged or delivered them according to the instructions of his principal is not liable for conversion or for participation in breach of fiduciary duty although the principal had no right to dispose of them. [C66,§554.8318]

554.8319 Statute of frauds. A contract for the sale of securities is not enforceable by way of action or defense unless

a. there is some writing signed by the party against whom enforcement is sought or by his authorized agent or broker sufficient to indicate that a contract has been made for sale of a stated quantity of described securities at a defined or stated price; or

b. delivery of the security has been accepted or payment has been made but the contract is enforceable under this provision only to the extent of such delivery or payment; or

c. within a reasonable time a writing in confirmation of the sale or purchase and sufficient against the sender under paragraph "a" has been received by the party against whom enforcement is sought and he has failed to send written objection to its contents within ten days after its receipt; or

d. the party against whom enforcement is sought admits in his pleading, testimony or otherwise in court that a contract was made for sale of a stated quantity of described securities at a defined or stated price. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9933; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§554.4; C66, §554.8319]

Referred to in §554.1206, subsection 2

554.8320 Transfer or pledge within a central depository system.

1. If a security

a. is in the custody of a clearing corporation or of a custodian bank or a nominee of either subject to the instructions of the clearing corporation; and

b. is in bearer form or endorsed in blank by an appropriate person or registered in the name of the clearing corporation or custodian bank or a nominee of either; and

c. is shown on the account of a transferor or pledgor on the books of the clearing corporation;

then, in addition to other methods, a transfer or pledge of the security or any interest therein may be effected by the making of appropriate entries on the books of the clearing corporation reducing the account of the transferor or pledgor and increasing the account of the transferee or pledgee by the amount of the obligation or the number of shares or rights transferred or pledged.

2. Under this section entries may be with respect to like securities or interests therein as a part of a fungible bulk and may refer merely to a quantity of a particular security without reference to the name of the registered owner, certificate or bond number or the like and, in appropriate cases, may be on a net basis taking into account other transfers or pledges of the same security.

3. A transfer or pledge under this section has the effect of a delivery of a security in bearer form or duly endorsed in blank (section 554.8301) representing the amount of the obligation or the number of shares or rights transferred or pledged. If a pledge or the creation of a security interest is intended, the making of entries has the effect of a taking of delivery by the pledgee or a secured party (sections 554.9304 and 554.9305). A transferee or pledgee under this section is a holder.

4. A transfer or pledge under this section does not constitute a registration of transfer under Part 4 of this Article.

5. That entries made on the books of the clearing corporation as provided in subsection 1 are not appropriate does not affect the validity or effect of the entries nor the liabilities or obligations of the clearing corporation to any person adversely affected thereby. [C66, §554.8320]

PART 4

REGISTRATION

Referred to in §§554.8201, subsection 3, 554.8320, subsection 4

554.8401 Duty of issuer to register transfer.

1. Where a security in registered form is presented to the issuer with a request to register transfer, the issuer is under a duty to register the transfer as requested if

a. the security is endorsed by the appropriate person or persons (section 554.8308); and

b. reasonable assurance is given that those endorsements are genuine and effective (section 554.8402); and

c. the issuer has no duty to inquire into adverse claims or has discharged any such duty (section 554.8403); and

d. any applicable law relating to the collection of taxes has been complied with; and

e. the transfer is in fact rightful or is to a bona fide purchaser.

2. Where an issuer is under a duty to register a transfer of a security the issuer is also liable to the person presenting it for registration or his principal for loss resulting from any unreasonable delay in registration or from failure or refusal to register the transfer. [C66, §554.8401]

554.8402 Assurance that endorsements are effective.

1. The issuer may require the following assurance that each necessary endorsement (section 554.8308) is genuine and effective

a. in all cases, a guarantee of the signature (subsection 1 of section 554.8312) of the person endorsing; and

b. where the endorsement is by an agent, appropriate assurance of authority to sign;

c. where the endorsement is by a fiduciary, appropriate evidence of appointment or incumbency;

d. where there is more than one fiduciary, reasonable assurance that all who are required to sign have done so;

e. where the endorsement is by a person not covered by any of the foregoing, assurance appropriate to the case corresponding as nearly as may be to the foregoing.

2. A "guarantee of the signature" in subsection 1 means a guarantee signed by or on behalf of a person reasonably believed by the issuer to be responsible. The issuer may adopt standards with respect to responsibility provided such standards are not manifestly unreasonable.

3. "Appropriate evidence of appointment or incumbency" in subsection 1 means

a. in the case of a fiduciary appointed or qualified by a court, a certificate issued by or under the direction or supervision of that court or an officer thereof and dated within sixty days before the date of presentation for transfer; or

b. in any other case, a copy of a document showing the appointment or a certificate issued by or on behalf of a person reasonably believed by the issuer to be responsible or, in the absence of such a document or certificate, other evidence reasonably deemed by the issuer to be appropriate. The issuer may adopt standards with respect to such evidence provided such standards are not manifestly unreasonable. The issuer is not charged with notice of the contents of any document obtained pursuant to this paragraph "b" except to the extent that the contents relate directly to the appointment or incumbency.

4. The issuer may elect to require reasonable assurance beyond that specified in this section but if it does so and for a purpose other than that specified in subsection 3 "b" both requires and obtains a copy of a will, trust, indenture, articles of copartnership, by-laws or other controlling instrument it is charged with notice of all matters contained therein affecting the transfer. [C66, §554.8402]

Referred to in §§554.8102, subsection 5, 554.8401, 554.8403, subsections 1(b) and 3

554.8403 Limited duty of inquiry.

1. An issuer to whom a security is presented for registration is under a duty to inquire into adverse claims if

a. a written notification of an adverse claim is received at a time and in a manner which affords the issuer a reasonable opportunity to act on it prior to the issuance of a new, re-issued or registered security and the notification identifies the claimant, the registered owner and the issue of which the security is a part and provides an address for communications directed to the claimant; or

b. the issuer is charged with notice of an adverse claim from a controlling instrument which it has elected to require under subsection 4 of section 554.8402.

2. The issuer may discharge any duty of inquiry by any reasonable means, including notifying an adverse claimant by registered or certified mail at the address furnished by him or if there be no such address at his residence or regular place of business that the security has been presented for registration of transfer by a named person, and that the transfer will be registered unless within thirty days from the date of mailing the notification, either

a. an appropriate restraining order, injunction or other process issues from a court of competent jurisdiction; or

b. an indemnity bond sufficient in the issuer's judgment to protect the issuer and any transfer agent, registrar or other agent of the issuer involved, from any loss which it or they may suffer by complying with the adverse claim is filed with the issuer.

3. Unless an issuer is charged with notice of an adverse claim from a controlling instrument which it has elected to require under subsection 4 of section 554.8402 or receives notification of an adverse claim under subsection 1 of this section, where a security presented for registration is endorsed by the appropriate person or persons the issuer is under no duty to inquire into adverse claims. In particular

a. an issuer registering a security in the name of a person who is a fiduciary or who is described as a fiduciary is not bound to inquire into the existence, extent, or correct description of the fiduciary relationship and thereafter the issuer may assume without inquiry that the newly registered owner continues to be the fiduciary until the issuer receives written notice that the fiduciary is no longer acting as such with respect to the particular security;

b. an issuer registering transfer on an endorsement by a fiduciary is not bound to inquire whether the transfer is made in compliance with a controlling instrument or with the law of the state having jurisdiction of the fiduciary relationship, including any law requiring the fiduciary to obtain court approval of the transfer; and

c. the issuer is not charged with notice of the contents of any court record or file or other recorded or unrecorded document even though the document is in its possession and even though the transfer is made on the endorsement of a fiduciary to the fiduciary himself or to his nominee. [C66,§554.8403]

554.8404 Liability and nonliability for registration.

1. Except as otherwise provided in any law relating to the collection of taxes, the issuer is not liable to the owner or any other person suffering loss as a result of the registration of a transfer of a security if

a. there were on or with the security the necessary endorsements (section 554.8308); and

b. the issuer had no duty to inquire into adverse claims or has discharged any such duty (section 554.8403).

2. Where an issuer has registered a transfer of a security to a person not entitled to it the issuer on demand must deliver a like security to the true owner unless

a. the registration was pursuant to subsection 1; or

b. the owner is precluded from asserting any claim for registering the transfer under subsection 1 of the following section; or

c. such delivery would result in overissue, in which case the issuer's liability is governed by section 554.8104. [C66,§554.8404]

554.8405 Lost, destroyed and stolen securities.

1. Where a security has been lost, apparently destroyed or wrongfully taken and the owner fails to notify the issuer of that fact within a reasonable time after he has notice of it and the issuer registers a transfer of the security before receiving such a notification, the owner is precluded from asserting against the issuer any claim for registering the transfer under the preceding section or any claim to a new security under this section.

2. Where the owner of a security claims that the security has been lost, destroyed or wrongfully taken, the issuer must issue a new security in place of the original security if the owner

a. so requests before the issuer has notice that the security has been acquired by a bona fide purchaser; and

b. files with the issuer a sufficient indemnity bond; and

c. satisfies any other reasonable requirements imposed by the issuer.

3. If, after the issue of the new security, a bona fide purchaser of the original security presents it for registration of transfer, the issuer must register the transfer unless registration would result in overissue, in which event the issuer's liability is governed by section 554.8104. In addition to any rights on the indemnity bond, the issuer may recover the new security from the person to whom it was issued or any person taking under him except a bona fide purchaser. ### SECURED TRANSACTIONS—SALES OF ACCOUNTS, CONTRACT RIGHTS AND CHATTEL PAPER

Referred to in §§321.45, subsection 2(b), 321.50, subsection 5, 554.1201, subsection 37, 554.2326, subsection 3(c), 554.2401, subsection 1, 554.2402, subsection 3(a), 554.2409, subsections 2 and 4, 554.3103, 554.4208, subsection 3, 554.5116, 554.7209, subsection 2

SHORT TITLE, APPLICABILITY AND DEFINITIONS

554.9101 Short title. This Article shall be known and may be cited as Uniform Commercial Code—Secured Transactions. [C66, §554.9101]

554.9102 Policy and scope of Article.

1. Except as otherwise provided in section 554.9103 on multiple state transactions and in section 554.9104 on excluded transactions, this Article applies so far as concerns any personal property and fixtures within the jurisdiction of this state

a. to any transaction (regardless of its form) which is intended to create a security interest in personal property or fixtures including goods, documents, instruments, general intangibles, chattel paper, accounts or contract rights; and also

b. to any sale of accounts, contract rights or chattel paper.

2. This Article applies to security interests created by contract including pledge, assignment, chattel mortgage, chattel trust, trust deed, factor's lien, equipment trust, conditional sale, trust receipt, bailment, other lien or title retention contract and lease or consignment intended as security. This Article does not apply to statutory liens except as provided in section 554.9310.

3. The application of this Article to a security interest in a secured obligation is not affected by the fact that the obligation is itself secured by a transaction or interest to which this Article does not apply. [C73, §§1922, 3307; C97, §§2053, 2905, 4273, 4285; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§10016, 10032, 10039, 12352, 12364; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§556.4, 556.21, 556.28, 652.1, 653.1; C66, §554.9102]

Referred to in §554.1105, subsection 2

554.9103 Accounts, contract rights, general intangibles and equipment relating to another jurisdiction—and incoming goods already subject to a security interest.

1. If the office where the assignor of accounts or contract rights keeps his records concerning them is in this state, the validity and perfection of a security interest therein and the possibility and effect of proper filing is governed by this Article; otherwise by the law (including the conflict of laws rules) of the jurisdiction where such office is located.

2. If the chief place of business of a debtor is in this state, this Article governs the validity and perfection of a security interest and the possibility and effect of proper filing with regard to general intangibles or with regard to goods of a type which are normally used in more than one jurisdiction (such as automotive equipment, rolling stock, airplanes, road building equipment, commercial harvesting equipment, construction machinery and the like) if such goods are classified as equipment or classified as inventory by reason of their being leased by the debtor to others. Otherwise, the law (including the conflict of laws rules) of the jurisdiction where such chief place of business is located shall govern. If the chief place of business is located in a jurisdiction which does not provide for perfection of the security interest by filing or recording in that jurisdiction, then the security interest may be perfected by filing in this state. For the purpose of determining the validity and perfection of a security interest in an airplane, the chief place of business of a debtor who is a foreign air carrier under the Federal Aviation Act of 1958 [49 U. S. C. §1301 et seq.], as amended, is the designated office of the agent upon whom service of process may be made on behalf of the debtor.

3. If personal property other than that governed by subsections 1 and 2 is already subject to a security interest when it is brought into this state, the validity of the security interest in this state is to be determined by the law (including the conflict of laws rules) of the jurisdiction where the property was when the security interest attached. However, if the parties to the transaction understood at the time that the security interest attached that the property would be kept in this state and it was brought into this state within thirty days after the security interest attached for purposes other than transportation through this state, then the validity of the security interest in this state is to be determined by the law of this state. If the security interest was already perfected under the law of the jurisdiction where the property was when the security interest attached and before being brought into this state, the security interest continues perfected in this state for four months and also thereafter if within the four month period it is perfected in this state. The security interest may also be perfected in this state after the expiration of the four month period; in such case perfection dates from the time of perfection in this state. If the security interest was not perfected under the law of the jurisdiction where the property was when the security interest attached and before being brought into this state, it may be perfected in this state; in such case perfection dates from the time of perfection in this state.

4. Notwithstanding subsections 2 and 3, if personal property is covered by a certificate of title issued under a statute of this state or any other jurisdiction which requires indication on a certificate of title of any security interest in the property as a condition of perfection, then the perfection is governed by the law of the jurisdiction which issued the certificate.

5. Notwithstanding subsection 1 and section 554.9302, if the office where the assignor of accounts or contract rights keeps his records concerning them is not located in a jurisdiction which is a part of the United States, its territories or possessions, and the accounts or contract rights are within the jurisdiction of this state or the transaction which creates the security interest otherwise bears an appropriate relation to this state, this Article governs the validity and perfection of the security interest and the security interest may only be perfected by notification to the account debtor. [C66,§554.9103]

Referred to in §§321.50, subsection 1, 554.1105, subsection 2, 554.9102, subsection 1, 554.9401, subsection 4

b. to a landlord's lien; or

c. to a lien given by statute or other rule of law for services or materials except as provided in section 554.9310 on priority of such liens; or

f. to a sale of accounts, contract rights or chattel paper as part of a sale of the business out of which they arose, or an assignment of accounts, contract rights or chattel paper which is for the purpose of collection only, or a transfer of a contract right to an assignee who is also to do the performance under the contract; or

g. to a transfer of an interest or claim in or under any policy of insurance; or

h. to a right represented by a judgment; or

i. to any right of setoff; or

j. except to the extent that provision is made for fixtures in section 554.9313, to the creation or transfer of an interest in or lien on real estate, including a lease or rents thereunder; or

k. to a transfer in whole or in part of any of the following: any claim arising out of tort; any deposit, savings, passbook or like account maintained with a bank, savings and loan association, credit union or like organization. [C51,§1193; R60,§2201; C73,§1923; C97,§2906; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10013; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §556.1; C66,§554.9104]

554.9105 Definitions and index of definitions.

1. In this Article unless the context otherwise requires:

a. "Account debtor" means the person who is obligated on an account, chattel paper, contract right or general intangible;

b. "Chattel paper" means a writing or writings which evidence both a monetary obligation and a security interest in or a lease of specific goods. When a transaction is evidenced both by such a security agreement or a lease and by an instrument or a series of instruments, the group of writings taken together constitutes chattel paper;

c. "Collateral" means the property subject to a security interest, and includes accounts, contract rights and chattel paper which have been sold;

d. "Debtor" means the person who owes payment or other performance of the obligation secured, whether or not he owns or has rights in the collateral, and includes the seller of accounts, contract rights or chattel paper. Where the debtor and the owner of the collateral are not the same person, the term "debtor" means the owner of the collateral in any provision of the Article dealing with the collateral, the obligor in any provision dealing with the obligation, and may include both where the context so requires;

e. "Document" means document of title as defined in the general definitions of Article 1 (section 554.1201);

f. "Goods" includes all things which are movable at the time the security interest attaches or which are fixtures (section 554.9313), but does not include money, documents, instruments, accounts, chattel paper, general intangibles, contract rights and other things in action. "Goods" also include the unborn young of animals and growing crops;

g. "Instrument" means a negotiable instrument (defined in section 554.3104), or a security (defined in section 554.8102) or any other writing which evidences a right to the payment of money and is not itself a security agreement or lease and is of a type which is in ordinary course of business transferred by delivery with any necessary endorsement or assignment;

h. "Security agreement" means an agreement which creates or provides for a security interest;

i. "Secured party" means a lender, seller or other person in whose favor there is a security interest, including a person to whom accounts, contract rights or chattel paper have been sold. When the holders of obligations issued under an indenture of trust, equipment trust agreement or the like are represented by a trustee or other person, the representative is the secured party.

Referred to in §554.9105, subsection 2

554.9107 Definitions: "Purchase money security interest". A security interest is a "purchase money security interest" to the extent that it is

- taken or retained by the seller of the collateral to secure all or part of its price; or
- taken by a person who by making advances or incurring an obligation gives value to enable the debtor to acquire rights in or the use of collateral if such value is in fact so used. [C66,§554.9107]

Referred to in §554.9105, subsection 2

554.9108 When after-acquired collateral not security for antecedent debt. Where a secured party makes an advance, incurs an obligation, releases a perfected security interest, or otherwise gives new value which is to be secured in whole or in part by after-acquired property his security interest in the after-acquired collateral shall be deemed to be taken for new value and not as security for an antecedent debt if the debtor acquires his rights in such collateral either in the ordinary course of his business or under a contract of purchase made pursuant to the security agreement within a reasonable time after new value is given. [C66,§554.9108]

554.9109 Classification of goods—"consumer goods"—"equipment"—"farm products"—"inventory". Goods are

1. "consumer goods" if they are used or bought for use primarily for personal, family or household purposes;

2. "equipment" if they are used or bought for use primarily in business (including farming or a profession) or by a debtor who is a nonprofit organization or a governmental subdivision or agency or if the goods are not included in the definitions of inventory, farm products or consumer goods;

3. "farm products" if they are crops or livestock or supplies used or produced in farming operations or if they are products of crops or livestock in their unmanufactured states (such as ginned cotton, wool clip, maple syrup, milk and eggs), and if they are in the possession of a debtor engaged in raising, fattening, grazing or other farming operations. If goods are farm products they are neither equipment nor inventory;

4. "inventory" if they are held by a person who holds them for sale or lease or to be furnished under contracts of service or if he has so furnished them, or if they are raw materials, work in process or materials used or consumed in a business. Inventory of a person is not to be classified as his equipment. [C97, §2051; S13,§2051; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10033; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§556.22; C66,§554.9109]

Referred to in §§554.2103, subsection 3, 554.6102, 554.9105, subsection 2

554.9110 Sufficiency of description. For the purposes of this Article any description of personal property or real estate is sufficient whether or not it is specific if it reasonably identifies what is described. [C66,§554.9110]

554.9111 Applicability of bulk transfer laws. The creation of a security interest is not a bulk transfer under Article 6 (see section 554.6103). [C66,§554.9111]

554.9112 Where collateral is not owned by debtor. Unless otherwise agreed, when a secured party knows that collateral is owned by a person who is not the debtor, the owner of the collateral is entitled to receive from the secured party any surplus under section 554.9502 subsection 2 or under section 554.9504 subsection 1, and is not liable for the debt or for any deficiency after resale, and he has the same right as the debtor

a. to receive statements under section 554.9208;

b. to receive notice of and to object to a secured party's proposal to retain the collateral in satisfaction of the indebtedness under section 554.9505;

c. to redeem the collateral under section 554.9506;

d. to obtain injunctive or other relief under section 554.9507 subsection 1; and

554.9113 Security interests arising under Article on sales. A security interest arising solely under the Article on Sales (Article 2)

is subject to the provisions of this Article except that to the extent that and so long as the debtor does not have or does not lawfully obtain possession of the goods

a. no security agreement is necessary to make the security interest enforceable; and

b. no filing is required to perfect the security interest; and

c. the rights of the secured party on default by the debtor are governed by the Article on Sales (Article 2). [C66,§554.9113]

Referred to in §§554.9203(1), 554.9302[1 (f)]

PART 2

VALIDITY OF SECURITY AGREEMENT AND RIGHTS OF PARTIES THERETO

554.9201 General validity of security agreement. Except as otherwise provided by this chapter a security agreement is effective according to its terms between the parties, against purchasers of the collateral and against creditors. Nothing in this Article validates any charge or practice illegal under any statute or regulation thereunder governing usury, small loans, retail installment sales, or the like, or extends the application of any such statute or regulation to any transaction not otherwise subject thereto. [C66, §554.9201]

554.9202 Title to collateral immaterial. Each provision of this Article with regard to rights, obligations and remedies applies whether title to collateral is in the secured party or in the debtor. [C66,§554.9202]

554.9203 Enforceability of security interest—proceeds, formal requisites.

1. Subject to the provisions of section 554.4208 on the security interest of a collecting bank and section 554.9113 on a security interest arising under the Article on Sales, a security interest is not enforceable against the debtor or third parties unless

a. the collateral is in the possession of the secured party; or

b. the debtor has signed a security agreement which contains a description of the collateral and in addition, when the security interest covers crops or oil, gas or minerals to be extracted or timber to be cut, a description of the land concerned. In describing collateral, the word "proceeds" is sufficient without further description to cover proceeds of any character.

Referred to in §554.4208, [3(a)]

2. A transaction, although subject to this Article, is also subject to chapters 322, 535, 536 and section 524.906 and in the case of conflict between the provisions of this Article and any such statute, the provisions of such statute control. Failure to comply with any applicable statute has only the effect which is specified therein. [C66,§554.9203; 63GA, ch 1238,§4, ch 1259,§1]

Referred to in §§554.1206, 554.4208, [3(a)]

554.9204 When security interest attaches—after-acquired property—future advances.

1. A security interest cannot attach until there is agreement (subsection 3 of section 554.1201) that it attach and value is given and the debtor has rights in the collateral. It attaches as soon as all of the events in the preceding sentence have taken place unless explicit agreement postpones the time of attaching.

2. For the purposes of this section the debtor has no rights

a. in crops until they are planted or otherwise become growing crops, in the young of livestock until they are conceived;

b. in fish until caught, in oil, gas or minerals until they are extracted, in timber until it is cut;

c. in a contract right until the contract has been made;

d. in an account until it comes into existence.

3. Except as provided in subsection 4 a security agreement may provide that collateral, whenever acquired, shall secure all obligations covered by the security agreement.

4. No security interest attaches under an after-acquired property clause to consumer goods other than accessions (section 554.9314) when given as additional security unless the debtor acquires rights in them within ten days after the secured party gives value.

5. Obligations covered by a security agreement may include future advances or other value whether or not the advances or value are given pursuant to commitment. [C58, 62, §539.9; C66,§554.9204]

Referred to in §554.9312, [5(a, b, c)]

554.9205 Use or disposition of collateral without accounting permissible. A security interest is not invalid or fraudulent against creditors by reason of liberty in the debtor to use, commingle or dispose of all or part of the collateral (including returned or repossessed goods) or to collect or compromise accounts, contract rights or chattel paper, or to accept the return of goods or make repossessions, or to use, commingle or dispose of proceeds, or by reason of the failure of the secured party to require the debtor to account for proceeds or replace collateral. This section does not relax the requirements of possession where perfection of a security interest depends upon possession of the collateral by the secured party or by a bailee. [C66,§554.9205]

5. Obligations covered by a security agreement may include future advances or other value whether or not the advances or value are given pursuant to commitment. [C58, 62, §539.9; C66,§554.9204]

554.9206 Agreement not to assert defenses against assignee—modification of sales warranties where security agreement exists.

1. Subject to any statute or decision which establishes a different rule for buyers or lessees of consumer goods, an agreement by a buyer or lessee that he will not assert against an assignee any claim or defense which he may have against the seller or lessor is enforceable by an assignee who takes his assignment for value, in good faith and without notice of a claim or defense, except as to defenses of a type which may be asserted against a holder in due course of a negotiable instrument under the Article on Commercial Paper (Article 3). A buyer who as part of one transaction signs both a negotiable instrument and a security agreement makes such an agreement.

2. When a seller retains a purchase money security interest in goods the Article on Sales (Article 2) governs the sale and any disclaimer, limitation or modification of the seller's warranties. [C66,§554.9206]

554.9207 Rights and duties when collateral is in secured party's possession.

1. A secured party must use reasonable care in the custody and preservation of collateral in his possession. In the case of an instrument or chattel paper reasonable care includes taking necessary steps to preserve rights against prior parties unless otherwise agreed.

2. Unless otherwise agreed, when collateral is in the secured party's possession

a. reasonable expenses (including the cost of any insurance and payment of taxes or other charges) incurred in the custody, preservation, use or operation of the collateral are chargeable to the debtor and are secured by the collateral;

b. the risk of accidental loss or damage is on the debtor to the extent of any deficiency in any effective insurance coverage;

c. the secured party may hold as additional security any increase or profits (except money) received from the collateral, but money so received, unless remitted to the debtor, shall be applied in reduction of the secured obligation;

d. the secured party must keep the collateral identifiable but fungible collateral may be commingled;

e. the secured party may repledge the collateral upon terms which do not impair the debtor's right to redeem it.

3. A secured party is liable for any loss caused by his failure to meet any obligation imposed by the preceding subsections but does not lose his security interest.

4. A secured party may use or operate the collateral for the purpose of preserving the collateral or its value or pursuant to the order of a court of appropriate jurisdiction or, except in the case of consumer goods, in the manner and to the extent provided in the security agreement. [C51,§2071; R60, §3649; C73, §3307; C97,§4273; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§12352; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§652.1; C66,§554.9207]

Referred to in §554.9501, subsections 1 and 2

554.9208 Request for statement of account or list of collateral.

1. A debtor may sign a statement indicating what he believes to be the aggregate amount of unpaid indebtedness as of a specified date and may send it to the secured party with a request that the statement be approved or corrected and returned to the debtor. When the security agreement or any other record kept by the secured party identifies the collateral a debtor may similarly request the secured party to approve or correct a list of the collateral.

2. The secured party must comply with such a request within two weeks after receipt by sending a written correction or approval. If the secured party claims a security interest in all of a particular type of collateral owned by the debtor he may indicate that fact in his reply and need not approve or correct an itemized list of such collateral. If the secured party without reasonable excuse fails to comply he is liable for any loss caused to the debtor thereby; and if the debtor has properly included in his request a good faith statement of the obligation or a list of the collateral or both the secured party may claim a security interest only as shown in the statement against persons misled by his failure to comply. If he no longer has an interest in the obligation or collateral at the time the request is received he must disclose the name and address of any successor in interest known to him and he is liable for any loss caused to the debtor as a result of failure to disclose. A successor in interest is not subject to this section until a request is received by him.

3. A debtor is entitled to such a statement once every six months without charge. The secured party may require payment of a charge not exceeding ten dollars for each additional statement furnished. [C58, 62,§539.11; C66, §554.9208]

Referred to in §554.9112

PART 8

RIGHTS OF THIRD PARTIES—PERFECTED AND UNPERFECTED SECURITY INTERESTS—RULES OF PRIORITY

554.9301 Persons who take priority over unperfected security interests—"lien creditor".

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, an unperfected security interest is subordinate to the rights of

a. persons entitled to priority under section 554.9312;

b. a person who becomes a lien creditor without knowledge of the security interest and before it is perfected;

c. in the case of goods, instruments, documents, and chattel paper, a person who is not a secured party and who is a transferee in bulk or other buyer not in ordinary course of business to the extent that he gives value and receives delivery of the collateral without knowledge of the security interest and before it is perfected;

d. in the case of accounts, contract rights, and general intangibles, a person who is not a secured party and who is a transferee to the extent that he gives value without knowledge of the security interest and before it is perfected.

2. If the secured party files with respect to a purchase money security interest before or within ten days after the collateral comes into possession of the debtor, he takes priority over the rights of a transferee in bulk or of a lien creditor which arise between the time the security interest attaches and the time of filing.

3. A "lien creditor" means a creditor who has acquired a lien on the property involved by attachment, levy or the like and includes an assignee for benefit of creditors from the time of assignment, and a trustee in bankruptcy from the date of the filing of the petition or a receiver in equity from the time of appointment. Unless all the creditors represented had knowledge of the security interest such a representative of creditors is a lien creditor without knowledge even though he personally has knowledge of the security interest. [C58, 62, §§539.7, 539.9; C66, §554.9301]

554.9302 When filing is required to perfect security interest—security interests to which filing provisions of this Article do not apply.

1. A financing statement must be filed to perfect all security interests except the following:

a. a security interest in collateral in possession of the secured party under section 554.9305;

b. a security interest temporarily perfected in instruments or documents without delivery under section 554.9304 or in proceeds for a ten-day period under section 554.9306;

c. a purchase money security interest in farm equipment having a purchase price not in excess of one thousand dollars; but filing is required for a fixture or for a vehicle required to be licensed;

d. a purchase money security interest in consumer goods; but filing is required for a fixture or for a vehicle required to be licensed;

e. an assignment of accounts or contract rights which does not alone or in conjunction with other assignments to the same assignee transfer a significant part of the outstanding accounts or contract rights of the assignor;

f. a security interest of a collecting bank (section 554.4208) or arising under the Article on Sales (see section 554.9113) or covered in subsection 3 of this section.

2. If a secured party assigns a perfected security interest, no filing under this Article is required in order to continue the perfected status of the security interest against creditors of and transferees from the original debtor.

3. The filing provisions of this Article do not apply to a security interest in property subject to a statute

a. of the United States which provides for a national registration or filing of all security interests in such property; or

b. of this state which provides for central filing of security interests in such property, or in a vehicle which is not inventory held for sale for which a certificate of title is required under the statutes of this state if a notation of such a security interest can be indicated by a public official on a certificate or a duplicate thereof.

Referred to in §555.2

4. A security interest in property covered by a statute described in subsection 3 can be perfected only by registration or filing under that statute or by indication of the security interest on a certificate of title or a duplicate thereof by a public official. [C58, 62, §§539.7-539.9, 539.13; C66, §554.9302; 62GA, ch 389, §§1,2]

554.9303 When security interest is perfected—continuity of perfection.

1. A security interest is perfected when it has attached and when all of the applicable steps required for perfection have been taken. Such steps are specified in sections 554.9302, 554.9304, 554.9305 and 554.9306. If such steps are taken before the security interest attaches, it is perfected at the time when it attaches.

2. If a security interest is originally perfected in any way permitted under this Article and is subsequently perfected in some other way under this Article, without an intermediate period when it was unperfected, the security interest shall be deemed to be perfected continuously for the purposes of this Article. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10023; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §556.12; C58, 62, §539.8; C66, §554.9303]

554.9304 Perfection of security interest in instruments, documents, and goods covered by documents—perfection by permissive filing—temporary perfection without filing or transfer of possession.

1. A security interest in chattel paper or negotiable documents may be perfected by filing. A security interest in instruments (other than instruments which constitute part of chattel paper) can be perfected only by the secured party's taking possession, except as provided in subsections 4 and 5.

2. During the period that goods are in the possession of the issuer of a negotiable document therefor, a security interest in the goods is perfected by perfecting a security interest in the document, and any security interest in the goods otherwise perfected during such period is subject thereto.

3. A security interest in goods in the possession of a bailee other than one who has issued a negotiable document therefor is perfected by issuance of a document in the name of the secured party or by the bailee's receipt of notification of the secured party's interest or by filing as to the goods.

4. A security interest in instruments or negotiable documents is perfected without filing or the taking of possession for a period of twenty-one days from the time it attaches to the extent that it arises for new value given under a written security agreement.

5. A security interest remains perfected for a period of twenty-one days without filing where a secured party having a perfected security interest in an instrument, a negotiable document or goods in possession of a bailee other than one who has issued a negotiable document therefor

a. makes available to the debtor the goods or documents representing the goods for the purpose of ultimate sale or exchange or for the purpose of loading, unloading, storing, shipping, transshipping, manufacturing, processing or otherwise dealing with them in a manner preliminary to their sale or exchange; or b. delivers the instrument to the debtor for the purpose of ultimate sale or exchange or of presentation, collection, renewal or registration of transfer.

6. After the twenty-one day period in subsections 4 and 5 perfection depends upon compliance with applicable provisions of this Article. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10023; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §556.12; C66, §554.9304]

Referred to in §§554.8320, subsection 3, 554.9302, subsection 1(b), 554.9303, 554.9308, 554.9312, subsection 1

554.9305 When possession by secured party perfects security interest without filing. A security interest in letters of credit and advices of credit (subsection 2 "a" of section 554.5116), goods, instruments, negotiable documents or chattel paper may be perfected by the secured party's taking possession of the collateral. If such collateral other than goods covered by a negotiable document is held by a bailee, the secured party is deemed to have possession from the time the bailee receives notification of the secured party's interest. A security interest is perfected by possession from the time possession is taken without relation back and continues only so long as possession is retained, unless otherwise specified in this Article. The security interest may be otherwise perfected as provided in this Article before or after the period of possession by the secured party. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§9968, 10023; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§554.40, 556.12; C66, §554.9305]

Referred to in §§554.8320, subsection 3, 554.9302, subsection 1(a), 554.9303

554.9306 "Proceeds"—secured party's rights on disposition of collateral.

1. "Proceeds" includes whatever is received when collateral or proceeds is sold, exchanged, collected or otherwise disposed of. The term also includes the account arising when the right to payment is earned under a contract right. Money, checks and the like are "cash proceeds". All other proceeds are "noncash proceeds".

Referred to in §554.9105, subsection 2

2. Except where this Article otherwise provides, a security interest continues in collateral notwithstanding sale, exchange or other disposition thereof by the debtor unless his action was authorized by the secured party in the security agreement or otherwise, and also continues in any identifiable proceeds including collections received by the debtor.

3. The security interest in proceeds is a continuously perfected security interest if the interest in the original collateral was perfected but it ceases to be a perfected security interest and becomes unperfected ten days after receipt of the proceeds by the debtor unless a. a filed financing statement covering the original collateral also covers proceeds; or b. the security interest in the proceeds is perfected before the expiration of the ten-day period.

4. In the event of insolvency proceedings instituted by or against a debtor, a secured party with a perfected security interest in proceeds has a perfected security interest

a. in identifiable noncash proceeds;

b. in identifiable cash proceeds in the form of money which is not commingled with other money or deposited in a bank account prior to the insolvency proceedings;

c. in identifiable cash proceeds in the form of checks and the like which are not deposited in a bank account prior to the insolvency proceedings; and

d. in all cash and bank accounts of the debtor, if other cash proceeds have been commingled or deposited in a bank account, but the perfected security interest under this paragraph "d" is i. subject to any right of setoff; and

ii. limited to an amount not greater than the amount of any cash proceeds received by the debtor within ten days before the institution of the insolvency proceedings and commingled or deposited in a bank account prior to the insolvency proceedings less the amount of cash proceeds received by the debtor and paid over to the secured party during the ten-day period.

5. If a sale of goods results in an account or chattel paper which is transferred by the seller to a secured party, and if the goods are returned to or are repossessed by the seller or the secured party, the following rules determine priorities:

a. If the goods were collateral at the time of sale for an indebtedness of the seller which is still unpaid, the original security interest attaches again to the goods and continues as a perfected security interest if it was perfected at the time when the goods were sold. If the security interest was originally perfected by a filing which is still effective, nothing further is required to continue the perfected status; in any other case, the secured party must take possession of the returned or repossessed goods or must file.

b. An unpaid transferee of the chattel paper has a security interest in the goods against the transferor. Such security interest is prior to a security interest asserted under paragraph

"a" to the extent that the transferee of the chattel paper was entitled to priority under section 554.9308.

c. An unpaid transferee of the account has a security interest in the goods against the transferor. Such security interest is subordinate to a security interest asserted under paragraph "a".

d. A security interest of an unpaid transferee asserted under paragraph "b" or "c" must be perfected for protection against creditors of the transferor and purchasers of the returned or repossessed goods. [C66,§554.9306]

Referred to in §§554.9106, subsection 2, 554.9302, subsection 1(b), 554.9303, 554.9308, 554.9312, subsection 1, 554.9402, subsection 2(b), 554.9502(1)

554.9307 Protection of buyers of goods.

1. A buyer in ordinary course of business (subsection 9 of section 554.1201) other than a person buying farm products subject to a perfected security interest from a person engaged in farming operations takes free of a security interest created by his seller even though the security interest is perfected and even though the buyer knows of its existence.

2. In the case of consumer goods and in the case of farm equipment having an original purchase price not in excess of one thousand dollars (other than fixtures), a buyer takes free of a security interest even though perfected if he buys without knowledge of the security interest, for value and for his own personal, family or household purposes or his own farming operations unless prior to the purchase the secured party has filed a financing statement covering such goods. [C66, §554.9307]

554.9308 Purchase of chattel paper and non-negotiable instruments. A purchaser of chattel paper or a nonnegotiable instrument who gives new value and takes possession of it in the ordinary course of his business and without knowledge that the specific paper or instrument is subject to a security interest has priority over a security interest which is perfected under section 554.9304 (permissive filing and temporary perfection). A purchaser of chattel paper who gives new value and takes possession of it in the ordinary course of his business has priority over a security interest in chattel paper which is claimed merely as proceeds of inventory subject to a security interest (section 554.9306), even though he knows that the specific paper is subject to the security interest. [C66,§554.9308]

Referred to in §§554.9306, subsection 5(b), 554.9312, subsection 1

554.9309 Protection of purchasers of instruments and documents. Nothing in this Article limits the rights of a holder in due course of a negotiable instrument (section 554.3302) or a holder to whom a negotiable document of title has been duly negotiated (section 554.7501) or a bona fide purchaser of a security (section 554.8301) and such holders or purchasers take priority over an earlier security interest even though perfected. Filing under this Article does not constitute notice of the security interest to such holders or purchasers. [C66,§554.9309]

Referred to in §554.9312, subsection 1

554.9310 Priority of certain liens arising by operation of law. When a person in the ordinary course of his business furnishes services or materials with respect to goods subject to a security interest, a lien upon goods in the possession of such person given by statute or rule of law for such materials or services takes priority over a perfected security interest unless the lien is statutory and the statute expressly provides otherwise. [C66,§554.9310]

Referred to in §§554.9102, subsection 2, 554.9104, 554.9312, subsection 1

554.9311 Alienability of debtor's rights: judicial process. The debtor's rights in collateral may be voluntarily or involuntarily transferred (by way of sale, creation of a security interest, attachment, levy, garnishment or other judicial process) notwithstanding a provision in the security agreement prohibiting any transfer or making the transfer constitute a default. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§9968; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§554.40; C66,§554.9311]

554.9312 Priorities among conflicting security interests in the same collateral.

1. The rules of priority stated in the following sections shall govern where applicable: section 554.4208 with respect to the security interest of collecting banks in items being collected, accompanying documents and proceeds; section 554.9301 on certain priorities; section 554.9304 on goods covered by documents; section 554.9306 on proceeds and repossessions; section 554.9307 on buyers of goods; section 554.9308 on possessory against nonpossessory interests in chattel paper or nonnegotiable instruments; section 554.9309 on security interests in negotiable instruments, documents or securities; section 554.9310 on priorities between perfected security interests and liens by operation of law; section 554.9313 on security interests in fixtures as against interests in real estate; section 554.9314 on security interests in accessions as against interest in goods; section 554.9315 on conflicting security interests where goods lose their identity or become part of a product; and section 554.9316 on contractual subordination.

2. A perfected security interest in crops for new value given to enable the debtor to produce the crops during the production season and given not more than three months before the crops become growing crops by planting or otherwise takes priority over an earlier perfected security interest to the extent that such earlier interest secures obligations due more than six months before the crops become growing crops by planting or otherwise, even though the person giving new value had knowledge of the earlier security interest.

3. A purchase money security interest in inventory collateral has priority over a conflicting security interest in the same collateral if

a. the purchase money security interest is perfected at the time the debtor receives possession of the collateral; and

b. any secured party whose security interest is known to the holder of the purchase money security interest or who, prior to the date of the filing made by the holder of the purchase money security interest, had filed a financing statement covering the same items or type of inventory, has received notification of the purchase money security interest before the debtor receives possession of the collateral covered by the purchase money security interest; and

c. such notification states that the person giving the notice has or expects to acquire a purchase money security interest in inventory of the debtor, describing such inventory by item or type.

4. A purchase money security interest in collateral other than inventory has priority over a conflicting security interest in the same collateral if the purchase money security interest is perfected at the time the debtor receives possession of the collateral or within ten days thereafter.

5. In all cases not governed by other rules stated in this section (including cases of purchase money security interests which do not qualify for the special priorities set forth in subsections 3 and 4 of this section), priority between conflicting security interests in the same collateral shall be determined as follows:

a. in the order of filing if both are perfected by filing, regardless of which security interest attached first under section 554.9204 subsection 1 and whether it attached before or after filing;

b. in the order of perfection unless both are perfected by filing, regardless of which security interest attached first under section 554.9204 subsection 1 and, in the case of a filed security interest, whether it attached before or after filing; and

c. in the order of attachment under section 554.9204 subsection 1 so long as neither is perfected.

6. For the purpose of the priority rules of the immediately preceding subsection, a continuously perfected security interest shall be treated at all times as if perfected by filing if it was originally so perfected and it shall be treated at all times as if perfected otherwise than by filing if it was originally perfected otherwise than by filing. [C58, 62, §539.9; C66, §554.9312]

Referred to in §554.9301, subsection 1(a)

554.9313 Priority of security interests in fixtures. Nothing in this chapter governs the priority between a security interest in goods which are or are to become fixtures and the claims of any person who has an interest in the real estate. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10032; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §550.21; C66, §554.9313]

Referred to in §§554.9104, 554.9105, subsection 1(f), 554.9312, subsection 1

554.9314 Accessions.

1. A security interest in goods which attaches before they are installed in or affixed to other goods takes priority as to the goods installed or affixed (called in this section "accessions") over the claims of all persons to the whole except as stated in subsection 3 and subject to section 554.9315 subsection 1.

2. A security interest which attaches to goods after they become part of a whole is valid against all persons subsequently acquiring interests in the whole except as stated in subsection 3 but is invalid against any person with an interest in the whole at the time the security interest attaches to the goods who has not in writing consented to the security interest or disclaimed an interest in the goods as part of the whole.

3. The security interests described in subsections 1 and 2 do not take priority over a. a subsequent purchaser for value of any interest in the whole; or

b. a creditor with a lien on the whole subsequently obtained by judicial proceedings; or

c. a creditor with a prior perfected security interest in the whole to the extent that he makes subsequent advances;

if the subsequent purchase is made, the lien by judicial proceedings obtained or the subsequent advance under the prior perfected security interest is made or contracted for without knowledge of the security interest and before it is perfected. A purchaser of the whole at a foreclosure sale other than the holder of a perfected security interest purchasing at his own foreclosure sale is a subsequent purchaser within this section.

4. When under subsections 1 or 2 and 3 a secured party has an interest in accessions which has priority over the claims of all persons who have interests in the whole, he may on default subject to the provisions of Part 5 remove his collateral from the whole but he must reimburse any encumbrancer or owner of the whole who is not the debtor and who has not otherwise agreed for the cost of repair of any physical injury but not for any diminution in value of the whole caused by the absence of the goods removed or by any necessity for replacing them. A person entitled to reimbursement may refuse permission to remove until the secured party gives adequate security for the performance of this obligation. [C66, §554.9314]

554.9315 Priority when goods are commingled or processed.

1. If a security interest in goods was perfected and subsequently the goods or a part thereof have become part of a product or mass, the security interest continues in the product or mass if

a. the goods are so manufactured, processed, assembled or commingled that their identity is lost in the product or mass; or

b. a financing statement covering the original goods also covers the product into which the goods have been manufactured, processed or assembled.

In a case to which paragraph "b" applies, no separate security interest in that part of the original goods which has been manufactured, processed or assembled into the product may be claimed under section 554.9314.

2. When under subsection 1 more than one security interest attaches to the product or mass, they rank equally according to the ratio that the cost of the goods to which each interest originally attached bears to the cost of the total product or mass. [C66,§554.9315]

Referred to in §§554.9812(1), 554.9814(1)

554.9316 Priority subject to subordination. Nothing in this Article prevents subordination by agreement by any person entitled to priority. [C66,§554.9316]

Referred to in §554.9812, subsection 1

554.9317 Secured party not obligated on contract of debtor. The mere existence of a security interest or authority given to the debtor to dispose of or use collateral does not impose contract or tort liability upon the secured party for the debtor's acts or omissions. [C66,§554.9317]

554.9318 Defenses against assignee—modification of contract after notification of assignment—term prohibiting assignment ineffective—identification and proof of assignment.

1. Unless an account debtor has made an enforceable agreement not to assert defenses or claims arising out of a sale as provided in section 554.9206 the rights of an assignee are subject to

a. all the terms of the contract between the account debtor and assignor and any defense or claim arising therefrom; and

b. any other defense or claim of the account debtor against the assignor which accrues before the account debtor receives notification of the assignment.

2. So far as the right to payment under an assigned contract right has not already become an account, and notwithstanding notification of the assignment, any modification or substitution for the contract made in good faith and in accordance with reasonable commercial standards is effective against an assignee unless the account debtor has otherwise agreed but the assignee acquires corresponding rights under the modified or substituted contract. The assignment may provide that such modification or substitution is a breach by the assignor.

3. The account debtor is authorized to pay the assignor until the account debtor receives notification that the account has been assigned and that payment is to be made to the assignee. A notification which does not reasonably identify the rights assigned is ineffective. If requested by the account debtor, the assignee must seasonably furnish reasonable proof that the assignment has been made and unless he does so the account debtor may pay the assignor.

4. A term in any contract between an account debtor and an assignor which prohibits assignment of an account or contract right to which they are parties is ineffective. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10024; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§556.13; C66, §554.9318]

PART 4

FILING

554.9401 Place of filing—erroneous filing—removal of collateral.

1. The proper place to file in order to perfect a security interest is as follows:

a. when the collateral is equipment used in farming operations, or farm products, or accounts, contract rights or general intangibles arising from or relating to the sale of farm products by a farmer, or consumer goods, then in the office of the Recorder in the county of the debtor's residence or if the debtor is not a resident of this state then in the office of the Recorder in the county where the goods are kept, and in addition when the collateral is crops in the office of the Recorder in the county where the land on which the crops are growing or to be grown is located;

b. when the collateral is goods which at the time the security interest attaches are or are to become fixtures, then in the office where a mortgage on the real estate concerned would be filed or recorded;

c. in all other cases, in the office of the Secretary of State.

Referred to in §555.2

2. A filing which is made in good faith in an improper place or not in all of the places required by this section is nevertheless effective with regard to any collateral as to which the filing complied with the requirements of this Article and is also effective with regard to collateral covered by the financing statement against any person who has knowledge of the contents of such financing statement.

3. A filing which is made in the proper place in this state continues effective even though the debtor's residence or place of business or the location of the collateral or its use, whichever controlled the original filing, is thereafter changed.

4. If collateral is brought into this state from another jurisdiction, the rules stated in section 554.9103 determine whether filing is necessary in this state. [C51,§1193; R60,§2201; C73,§1923; C97,§2052, 2906; S13,§2052; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§10015, 10036; C39,§10021.1; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §556.3, 556.10, 556.25; C66,§554.9401]

554.9402 Formal requisites of financing statement—amendments.

1. A financing statement is sufficient if it is signed by the debtor and the secured party, gives an address of the secured party from which information concerning the security interest may be obtained, gives a mailing address of the debtor and contains a statement indicating the types, or describing the items, of collateral. A financing statement may be filed before a security agreement is made or a security interest otherwise attaches. When the financing statement covers crops growing or to be grown or goods which are or are to become fixtures, the statement must also contain a description of the real estate concerned. A copy of the security agreement is sufficient as a financing statement if it contains the above information and is signed by both parties.

2. A financing statement which otherwise complies with subsection 1 is sufficient although it is signed only by the secured party when it is filed to perfect a security interest in

a. collateral already subject to a security interest in another jurisdiction when it is brought into this state. Such a financing statement must state that the collateral was brought into this state under such circumstances.

b. proceeds under section 554.9306 if the security interest in the original collateral was perfected. Such a financing statement must describe the original collateral.

3. A form substantially as follows is sufficient to comply with subsection 1:

Name of debtor (or assignor) .....
Address .....
Name of secured party (or assignee) .....
Address .....

(1) This financing statement covers the following types (or items) of property:

(Describe) .....

(2) (If collateral is crops) The above described crops are growing or are to be grown on:

(Describe Real Estate) .....

(3) (If collateral is goods which are or are to become fixtures) The above described goods are affixed or to be affixed to:

(Describe Real Estate) .....

(4) (If proceeds or products of collateral are claimed) Proceeds—Products of the collateral are also covered.

Signature of Debtor (or Assignor) .....
Signature of Secured Party (or Assignee)...

4. The term "financing statement" as used in this Article means the original financing statement and any amendments but if any amendment adds collateral, it is effective as to the added collateral only from the filing date of the amendment.

5. A financing statement substantially complying with the requirements of this section is effective even though it contains minor errors which are not seriously misleading. [C51,§1193;R60,§2201; C73,§1923; C97,§2906; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10015; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§556.3; C66,§554.9402]

Referred to in §555.2

1. Presentation for filing of a financing statement and tender of the filing fee or acceptance of the statement by the filing officer constitutes filing under this Article.

2. A filed financing statement which states a maturity date of the obligation secured of five years or less is effective until such maturity date and thereafter for a period of sixty days. Any other filed financing statement is effective for a period of five years from the date of filing. The effectiveness of a filed financing statement lapses on the expiration of such sixty-day period after a stated maturity date or on the expiration of such five-year period, as the case may be, unless a continuation statement is filed prior to the lapse. Upon such lapse the security interest becomes unperfected. A filed financing statement which states that the obligation secured is payable on demand is effective for five years from the date of filing.

3. A continuation statement may be filed by the secured party (i) within six months before and sixty days after a stated maturity date of five years or less, and (ii) otherwise within six months prior to the expiration of the five-year period specified in subsection 2. Any such continuation statement must be signed by the secured party, identify the original statement by file number and state that the original statement is still effective. Upon timely filing of the continuation statement, the effectiveness of the original statement is continued for five years after the last date to which the filing was effective whereupon it lapses in the same manner as provided in subsection 2 unless another continuation statement is filed prior to such lapse. Succeeding continuation statements may be filed in the same manner to continue the effectiveness of the original statement. Unless a statute on disposition of public records provides otherwise, the filing officer may remove a lapsed statement from the files and destroy it.

4. A filing officer shall mark each statement with a consecutive file number and with the date and hour of filing and shall hold the statement for public inspection. In addition the filing officer shall index the statements according to the name of the debtor and shall note in the index the file number and the address of the debtor given in the statement.

Referred to in §554.9405

5. The uniform fee for filing, indexing and furnishing filing data for an original or a continuation statement on a form conforming to standards prescribed by the secretary of state shall be one dollar and fifty cents. If the statement is not on a form conforming to standards prescribed by the secretary of state but otherwise conforms to the requirements of the law, the fee shall be two dollars and fifty cents. [C51,§1193-1195; R60,§2201-2203; C73,§1923-1925; C97,§2906-2908; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,

§§10015, 10017, 10018, 10020, 10021, 10021.1, 10031; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§556.3, 556.5, 556.6, 556.8-556.10, 556.20; C58, 62, §539.14; C66, §554.9403; 62GA, ch 390, §1]

554.9404 Termination statement.

1. Whenever there is no outstanding secured obligation and no commitment to make advances, incur obligations or otherwise give value, the secured party must on written demand by the debtor send the debtor a statement that he no longer claims a security interest under the financing statement, which shall be identified by file number. A termination statement signed by a person other than the secured party of record must include or be accompanied by the assignment or a statement by the secured party of record that he has assigned the security interest to the signer of the termination statement. The uniform fee for filing and indexing such an assignment or statement on a form conforming to standards prescribed by the secretary of state shall be one dollar and fifty cents, or if the assignment or statement thereof otherwise conforms to the requirements of this section, two dollars and fifty cents. If the affected secured party fails to send such a termination statement within ten days after proper demand therefor he shall be liable to the debtor for one hundred dollars, and in addition for any loss caused to the debtor by such failure.

2. On presentation to the filing officer of such a termination statement he must note it in the index. The filing officer shall remove from the files, mark "terminated" and send or deliver to the secured party the financing statement and any continuation statement, statement of assignment or statement of release pertaining thereto.

3. Either the original secured party or the assignee may sign this statement as the secured party. On presentation to the filing officer of such a financing statement the filing officer shall mark the same as provided in section 554.9403 subsection 4. The uniform fee for filing, indexing and furnishing filing data for a financing statement so indicating an assignment on a form conforming to standards prescribed by the secretary of state shall be one dollar and fifty cents, or if such statement otherwise conforms to the requirements of this section, two dollars and fifty cents.

2. A secured party may assign of record all or a part of his rights under a financing statement by the filing of a separate written statement of assignment signed by the secured party of record and setting forth the name of the secured party of record and the debtor, the file number and the date of filing of the financing statement and the name and address of the assignee and containing a description of the collateral assigned. A copy of the assignment is sufficient as a separate statement if it complies with the preceding sentence. On presentation to the filing officer of such a separate statement, the filing officer shall mark such separate statement with the date and hour of the filing. He shall note the assignment on the index of the financing statement. The uniform fee for filing, indexing and furnishing filing data about such a separate statement of assignment on a form conforming to standards prescribed by the secretary of state shall be one dollar and fifty cents, or if such statement otherwise conforms to the requirements of this section, two dollars and fifty cents.

3. After the disclosure or filing of an assignment under this section, the assignee is the secured party of record. [C51, §1196; R60, §2204; C73, §1926; C97, §2910; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§10019, 10024, 10031; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§556.7, 556.13, 556.20; C66, §554.9405; 62GA, ch 390, §3(1, 2)]

The statement of release is sufficient if it contains a description of the collateral being released, the name and address of the debtor, the name and address of the secured party, and the file number of the financing statement. Upon presentation of such a statement to the filing officer he shall mark the statement with the hour and date of filing and shall note the same upon the margin of the index of the filing of the financing statement. The uniform fee for filing and noting such a statement of release on a form conforming to standards prescribed by the secretary of state shall be one dollar and fifty cents, or if such statement otherwise conforms to the requirements of this section, two dollars and fifty cents. [C97, §2052; S13, §2052; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§10028, 10037; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§556.17, 556.26; C66, §554.9406; 62GA, ch 390, §4]

2. Upon request of any person, the filing officer shall issue his certificate showing whether there is on file on the date and hour stated therein, any presently effective financing statement naming a particular debtor and any statement of assignment thereof and if there is, giving the date and hour of filing of each such statement and the names and addresses of each secured party therein. ### PART 5

DEFAULT

554.9501 Default—procedure when security agreement covers both real and personal property.

1. When a debtor is in default under a security agreement, a secured party has the rights and remedies provided in this Part and except as limited by subsection 3 those provided in the security agreement. He may reduce his claim to judgment, foreclose or otherwise enforce the security interest by any available judicial procedure. If the collateral is documents the secured party may proceed either as to the documents or as to the goods covered thereby. A secured party in possession has the rights, remedies and duties provided in section 554.9207. The rights and remedies referred to in this subsection are cumulative.

2. After default, the debtor has the rights and remedies provided in this Part, those provided in the security agreement and those provided in section 554.9207.

3. To the extent that they give rights to the debtor and impose duties on the secured party, the rules stated in the subsections referred to below may not be waived or varied except as provided with respect to compulsory disposition of collateral (subsection 1 of section 554.9505) and with respect to redemption of collateral (section 554.9506) but the parties may by agreement determine the standards by which the fulfillment of these rights and duties is to be measured if such standards are not manifestly unreasonable:

a. subsection 2 of section 554.9502 and subsection 2 of section 554.9504 insofar as they require accounting for surplus proceeds of collateral;

b. subsection 3 of section 554.9504 and subsection 1 of section 554.9505 which deal with disposition of collateral;

c. subsection 2 of section 554.9505 which deals with acceptance of collateral as discharge of obligation;

d. section 554.9506 which deals with redemption of collateral; and

e. subsection 1 of section 554.9507 which deals with the secured party's liability for failure to comply with this Part.

4. If the security agreement covers both real and personal property, the secured party may proceed under this Part as to the personal property or he may proceed as to both the real and the personal property in accordance with his rights and remedies in respect of the real property in which case the provisions of this Part do not apply.

5. When a secured party has reduced his claim to judgment the lien of any levy which may be made upon his collateral by virtue of any execution based upon the judgment shall relate back to the date of the perfection of the security interest in such collateral. A judicial sale, pursuant to such execution, is a foreclosure of the security interest by judicial procedure within the meaning of this section, and the secured party may purchase at the sale and thereafter hold the collateral free of any other requirements of this Article. [C51,§2071; R60,§3649; C73,§3307; C97,§§4273, 4285; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§12352, 12364, 12365; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§§652.1, 653.1, 653.2; C66,§554.9501]

554.9502 Collection rights of secured party.

1. When so agreed and in any event on default the secured party is entitled to notify an account debtor or the obligor on an instrument to make payment to him whether or not the assignor was theretofore making collections on the collateral, and also to take control of any proceeds to which he is entitled under section 554.9306.

2. A secured party who by agreement is entitled to charge back uncollected collateral or otherwise to full or limited recourse against the debtor and who undertakes to collect from the account debtors or obligors must proceed in a commercially reasonable manner and may deduct his reasonable expenses of realization from the collections. If the security agreement secures an indebtedness, the secured party must account to the debtor for any surplus, and unless otherwise agreed, the debtor is liable for any deficiency. But, if the underlying transaction was a sale of accounts, contract rights, or chattel paper, the debtor is entitled to any surplus or is liable for any deficiency only if the security agreement so provides. [C51,§2072; R60,§3650; C73,§3308; C97, §4274; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§§12353; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§652.2; C66,§554.9502]

554.9503 Secured party's right to take possession after default. Unless otherwise agreed a secured party has on default the right to take possession of the collateral. In taking possession a secured party may proceed without judicial process if this can be done without breach of the peace or may proceed by action. If the security agreement so provides the secured party may require the debtor to assemble the collateral and make it available to the secured party at a place to be designated by the secured party which is reasonably convenient to both parties. Without removal a secured party may render equipment unusable, and may dispose of collateral on the debtor's premises under section 554.9504. [C66,§9503]

1. A secured party after default may sell, lease or otherwise dispose of any or all of the collateral in its then condition or following any commercially reasonable preparation or processing. Any sale of goods is subject to the Article on Sales (Article 2). The proceeds of disposition shall be applied in the order following to

a. the reasonable expenses of retaking, holding, preparing for sale, selling and the like and, to the extent provided for in the agreement and not prohibited by law, the reasonable attorneys' fees and legal expenses incurred by the secured party;

b. the satisfaction of indebtedness secured by the security interest under which the disposition is made;

c. the satisfaction of indebtedness secured by any subordinate security interest in the collateral if written notification of demand therefor is received before distribution of the proceeds is completed. If requested by the secured party, the holder of a subordinate security interest must seasonably furnish reasonable proof of his interest, and unless he does so, the secured party need not comply with his demand.

Referred to in §554.9112

2. If the security interest secures an indebtedness, the secured party must account to the debtor for any surplus, and, unless otherwise agreed, the debtor is liable for any deficiency. But if the underlying transaction was a sale of accounts, contract rights, or chattel paper, the debtor is entitled to any surplus or is liable for any deficiency only if the security agreement so provides.

Referred to in §554.9501, subsection 3

3. Disposition of the collateral may be by public or private proceedings and may be made by way of one or more contracts. Sale or other disposition may be as a unit or in parcels and at any time and place and on any terms but every aspect of the disposition including the method, manner, time, place and terms must be commercially reasonable. Unless collateral is perishable or threatens to decline speedily in value or is of a type customarily sold on a recognized market, reasonable notification of the time and place of any public sale or reasonable notification of the time after which any private sale or other intended disposition is to be made shall be sent by the secured party to the debtor, and except in the case of consumer goods to any other person who has a security interest in the collateral and who has duly filed a financing statement indexed in the name of the debtor in this state or who is known by the secured party to have a security interest in the collateral. The secured party may buy at any public sale and if the collateral is of a type customarily sold in a recognized market or is of a type which is the subject of widely distributed standard price quotations he may buy at private sale.

4. When collateral is disposed of by a secured party after default, the disposition transfers to a purchaser for value all of the debtor's rights therein, discharges the security interest under which it is made and any security interest or lien subordinate thereto. The purchaser takes free of all such rights and interests even though the secured party fails to comply with the requirements of this Part or of any judicial proceedings

a. in the case of a public sale, if the purchaser has no knowledge of any defects in the sale and if he does not buy in collusion with the secured party, other bidders or the person conducting the sale; or

b. in any other case, if the purchaser acts in good faith.

5. A person who is liable to a secured party under a guaranty, endorsement, repurchase agreement or the like and who receives a transfer of collateral from the secured party or is subrogated to his rights has thereafter the rights and duties of the secured party. Such a transfer of collateral is not a sale or disposition of the collateral under this Article. [C51, §§2071-2077; R60, §§3649-3655; C73, §§3307-3313; C97, §§4273-4280, 4285; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§12352-12359, 12369, 12370; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§652.1-652.8, 653.6, 653.7; C66, §554.9504]

1. If the debtor has paid sixty percent of the cash price in the case of a purchase money security interest in consumer goods or sixty percent of the loan in the case of another security interest in consumer goods, and has not signed after default a statement renouncing or modifying his rights under this Part a secured party who has taken possession of collateral must dispose of it under section 554.9504 and if he fails to do so within ninety days after he takes possession the debtor at his option may recover in conversion or under section 554.9507 subsection 1 on secured party's liability.

2. In any other case involving consumer goods or any other collateral a secured party in possession may, after default, propose to retain the collateral in satisfaction of the obligation. Written notice of such proposal shall be sent to the debtor and except in the case of consumer goods to any other secured party who has a security interest in the collateral and who has duly filed a financing statement indexed in the name of the debtor in this state or is known by the secured party in possession to have a security interest in it. If the debtor or other person entitled to receive notification objects in writing within thirty days from the receipt of the notification or if any other secured party objects in writing within thirty days after the secured party obtains possession the secured party must dispose of the collateral under section 554.9504. In the absence of such written objection the secured party may retain the collateral in satisfaction of the debtor's obligation. [C51, §§2071, 2072; R60, §§3649, 3650; C73, §§3307, 3308; C97, §§4273, 4274, 4285; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§12352, 12353, 12370; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §§652.1, 652.2, 653.7; C66, §554.9505]

Referred to in §§554.9112, 554.9501, subsection 3, 554.9506

554.9506 Debtor's right to redeem collateral. At any time before the secured party has disposed of collateral or entered into a contract for its disposition under section 554.9504 or before the obligation has been discharged under section 554.9505 subsection 2 the debtor or any other secured party may unless otherwise agreed in writing after default redeem the collateral by tendering fulfillment of all obligations secured by the collateral as well as the expenses reasonably incurred by the secured party in retaking, holding and preparing the collateral for disposition, in arranging for the sale, and to the extent provided in the agreement and not prohibited by law, his reasonable attorneys' fees and legal expenses. [C66, §554.9506]

1. If it is established that the secured party is not proceeding in accordance with the provisions of this Part disposition may be ordered or restrained on appropriate terms and conditions. If the disposition has occurred the debtor or any person entitled to notification or whose security interest has been made known to the secured party prior to the disposition has a right to recover from the secured party any loss caused by a failure to comply with the provisions of this Part. If the collateral is consumer goods, the debtor has a right to recover in any event an amount not less than the credit service charge plus ten percent of the principal amount of the debt or the time price differential plus ten percent of the cash price.

2. The fact that a better price could have been obtained by a sale at a different time or in a different method from that selected by the secured party is not of itself sufficient to establish that the sale was not made in a commercially reasonable manner. If the secured party either sells the collateral in the usual manner in any recognized market therefor or if he sells at the price current in such market at the time of his sale or if he has otherwise sold in conformity with reasonable commercial practices among dealers in the type of property sold he has sold in a commercially reasonable manner. The principles stated in the two preceding sentences with respect to sales also apply as may be appropriate to other types of disposition. A disposition which has been approved in any judicial proceeding or by any bona fide creditors' committee or representative of creditors shall conclusively be deemed to be commercially reasonable, but this sentence does not indicate that any such approval must be obtained in any case nor does it indicate that any disposition not so approved is not commercially reasonable. [C66, §554.9507]

2. This chapter does not repeal sections 633.130 to 633.138, inclusive, and if in any respect there is any inconsistency between those sections and the Article of this chapter on investment securities (Article 8) the provisions of the said sections shall control. [C66, §554.10104]

1. Unclaimed funds, as defined in this section, held and owing by a life insurance corporation shall be presumed abandoned if the last known address, according to the records of the corporation, of the person entitled to the funds is within this state. If a person other than the insured or annuitant is entitled to the funds and no address of such person is known to the corporation or if it is not definite and certain from the records of the corporation what person is entitled to the funds, it is presumed that the last known address of the person entitled to the funds is the same as the last known address of the insured or annuitant according to the records of the corporation.

A life insurance policy not matured by actual proof of the death of the insured is deemed to be matured and the proceeds thereof are deemed to be due and payable if such policy was in force when the insured attained the limiting age under the mortality table on which the reserve is based, unless the person appearing entitled thereto has within the preceding ten years, (a) assigned, readjusted, or paid premiums on the policy, or subjected the policy to loan, or (b) corresponded in writing with the life insurance corporation concerning the policy. Referred to in §556.10

556.7 Property held by fiduciaries. All intangible personal property and any income or increment thereon, held in a fiduciary capacity for the benefit of another person is presumed abandoned unless the owner has, within ten years after it becomes payable or distributable, increased or decreased the principal, accepted payment of principal or income, corresponded in writing concerning the property, or otherwise indicated an interest as evidenced by a memorandum on file with the fiduciary which shall have been dated and may have been prepared by the fiduciary or by the owner:

1. If the property is held by a banking organization or a financial organization, or by a business association organized under the laws of or created in this state; or

2. If it is held by a business association, doing business in this state, but not organized under the laws of or created in this state, and the records of the business association indicate that the last known address of the person entitled thereto is in this state; or

3. If it is held in this state by any other person. [62GA, ch 391,§7]

1. It may be claimed as abandoned or escheated under the laws of such other state; and

2. The laws of such other state make reciprocal provision that similar specific property is not presumed abandoned or escheatable by such other state when held for or owed or distributable to an owner whose last known address is within this state by a holder who is subject to the jurisdiction of this state. [62GA, ch 391,§10]

556.11 Report of abandoned property.

1. Every person holding funds or other property, tangible or intangible, presumed abandoned under this chapter shall report to the state treasurer with respect to the property as hereinafter provided.

2. The report shall be verified and shall include:

4. The report shall be filed before November 1 of each year as of June 30 next preceding, but the report of life insurance corporations shall be filed before May 1 of each year as of December 31 next preceding. The state treasurer may postpone the reporting date upon written request by any person required to file a report.

5. If the holder of property presumed abandoned under this chapter knows the whereabouts of the owner and if the owner's claim has not been barred by the statute of limitations, the holder shall, before filing the annual report, communicate with the owner and take necessary steps to prevent abandonment from being presumed. The holder shall exercise due diligence to ascertain the whereabouts of the owner.

6. Verification, if made by a partnership, shall be executed by a partner; if made by an unincorporated association or private corporation, by an officer; and if made by a public corporation, by its chief fiscal officer.

7. The initial report filed under this chapter shall include all items of property that would have been presumed abandoned if this chapter had been in effect during the ten-year period preceding its effective date. [62GA, ch 391, §11]

Referred to in §§556.12(1), (4), 556.13, 556.22

556.12 Notice and publication of lists of abandoned property.

1. Within one hundred twenty days from the final date for filing of the report required by section 556.11, the state treasurer shall cause notice to be published at least once each week for two successive weeks in an English language newspaper of general circulation in the county in this state in which is located the last known address of any person to be named in the notice. If no address is listed or if the address is outside this state, the notice shall be published in the county in which the holder of the abandoned property has his principal place of business within this state.

2. The published notice shall be entitled "Notice of Names of Persons Appearing to be Owner of Abandoned Property" and shall contain:

a. The names in alphabetical order and last known addresses, if any, of persons listed in the report and entitled to notice within the county as hereinbefore specified.

b. A statement that information concerning the amount or description of the property and the name and address of the holder may be obtained by any persons possessing an interest in the property by addressing an inquiry to the state treasurer.

c. A statement that if proof of claim is not presented by the owner to the holder and if the owner's right to receive the property is not established to the holder's satisfaction within sixty-five days from the date of the second published notice, the abandoned property will be placed not later than eighty-five days after such publication date in the custody of the state treasurer to whom all further claims must thereafter be directed.

3. The state treasurer is not required to publish in such notice any item of less than twenty-five dollars unless he deems such publication to be in the public interest.

4. Within one hundred twenty days from the receipt of the report required by section

5. The mailed notice shall contain:

a. A statement that, according to a report filed with the state treasurer, property is being held to which the addressee appears entitled.

b. The name and address of the person holding the property and any necessary information regarding changes of name and address of the holder.

c. A statement that, if satisfactory proof of claim is not presented by the owner to the holder by the date specified in the published notice, the property will be placed in the custody of the state treasurer to whom all further claims must be directed.

556.13 Payment or delivery of abandoned property. Every person who has filed a report under section 556.11, within twenty days after the time specified in section 556.12 for claiming the property from the holder, or in the case of sums payable on traveler's checks or money orders presumed abandoned under section 556.2 within twenty days after the filing of the report, shall pay or deliver to the state treasurer all abandoned property specified in this report, except that, if the owner establishes his right to receive the abandoned property to the satisfaction of the holder within the time specified in section 556.12, or if it appears that for some other reason the presumption of abandonment is erroneous, the holder need not pay or deliver the property, which will no longer be presumed abandoned, to the state treasurer, but in lieu thereof shall file a verified written explanation of the proof of claim or of the error in the presumption of abandonment. [62GA, ch 391, §13]

556.14 Relief from liability by payment or delivery. Upon the payment or delivery of abandoned property to the state treasurer, the state shall assume custody and shall be responsible for the safekeeping thereof. Any person who pays or delivers abandoned property to the state treasurer under this chapter is relieved of all liability to the extent of the value of the property so paid or delivered for any claim which then exists or which thereafter may arise or be made in respect to the property. Any holder who has paid moneys to the state treasurer pursuant to this chapter, may make payment to any person appearing to such holder to be entitled thereto, and upon proof of such payment and proof that the payee was entitled thereto, the state treasurer shall forthwith reimburse the holder for the payment. 556.16 Periods of limitation not a bar. The expiration of any period of time specified by statute or court order, during which an action or proceeding may be commenced or enforced to obtain payment of a claim for money or recovery of property, shall not prevent the money or property from being presumed abandoned property, nor affect any duty to file a report required by this chapter or to pay or deliver abandoned property to the state treasurer. [62GA, ch 391, §16]

All abandoned property other than money delivered to the state treasurer under this chapter shall within one year after the delivery be sold by him to the highest bidder at public sale in whatever city in the state affords in his judgment the most favorable market for the property involved. The state treasurer may decline the highest bid and reoffer the property for sale if he considers the price bid insufficient. He need not offer any property for sale if, in his opinion, the probable cost of sale exceeds the value of the property.

2. Any sale held under this section shall be preceded by a single publication of notice thereof at least three weeks in advance of sale in an English language newspaper of general circulation in the county where the property is to be sold.

3. Before making the deposit, he shall record the name and last known address of each person appearing from the holders' reports to be entitled to the abandoned property and of the name and last known address of each insured person or annuitant, and with respect to each policy or contract listed in the report of a life insurance corporation, its number, the name of the cor-

2. Before making any deposit to the credit of the general funds, the state treasurer may deduct:

Referred to in §§524.1305(5), 524.1310

556.22 Election to take payment or delivery.

The state treasurer, after receiving reports of property deemed abandoned pursuant to this chapter, may decline to receive any property reported which he deems to have a value less than the cost of giving notice and holding sale, or he may, if he deems it desirable because of the small sum involved, postpone taking possession until a sufficient sum accumulates. Unless the holder of the property is notified to the contrary within one hundred twenty days after filing the report required under section 556.11, the state treasurer shall be deemed to have elected to receive the custody of the property. ##### GENERAL PRINCIPLES

557.1 Who deemed seized. All persons owning real estate not held by an adverse possessor shall be deemed to be seized and possessed of the same. [C51,§1199; R60,§2207; C73,§1928; C97,§2912; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10040; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§557.1]

557.2 Estate in fee simple. The term "heirs" or other technical words of inheritance are not necessary to create and convey an estate in fee simple. [C51,§1200; R60,§2208; C73,§1929; C97,§2913; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10041; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§557.2]

557.3 Conveyance passes grantor's interest. Every conveyance of real estate passes all the interest of the grantor therein, unless a contrary intent can be reasonably inferred from the terms used. [C51,§1201; R60,§2209; C73, §1930; C97,§2914; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10042; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§557.3]

557.4 After-acquired interest — exception. Where a deed purports to convey a greater interest than the grantor was at the time possessed of, any after-acquired interest of such grantor, to the extent of that which the deed purports to convey, inures to the benefit of the grantee. But if the wife or husband of such grantor joins in such conveyance for the purpose of relinquishing dower or homestead only, and subsequently acquires an interest therein as above defined, it shall not be held to inure to the benefit of the grantee. [C51, §1202; R60,§2210; C73,§1931; C97,§2915; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10043; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§557.4]

557.5 Adverse possession. Adverse possession of real estate does not prevent any person from selling his interest in the same. [C51, §1203; R60,§2211; C73,§1932; C97,§2916; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10044; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§557.5]

557.6 Future estates. Estates may be created to commence at a future day. [C51,§1204; R60,§2212; C73,§1933; C97,§2917; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10045; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§557.6]

557.7 Contingent remainders. A contingent remainder shall take effect, notwithstanding any determination of the particular estate, in the same manner in which it would have taken effect if it had been an executory devise or a springing or shifting use, and shall, as well as such limitations, be subject to the rule respecting remoteness known as the rule against perpetuities, exclusive of any other supposed rule respecting limitations to successive generations or double possibilities. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10046; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§557.7]

557.9 Defeating expectant estate. No expectant estate shall be defeated or barred by an alienation or other act of the owner of the precedent estate, nor by the destruction of such precedent estate by disseizin, forfeiture, surrender, or merger; provided that on the petition of the life tenant, with the consent of the holder of the reversion, the district court may order the sale of the property in such estate and the proceeds shall be subject to the order of court until the right thereto becomes fully vested. The proceedings shall be as in an action for partition. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10048; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §557.9]

557.10 Declarations of trust. Declarations or creations of trusts or powers in relation to real estate must be executed in the same manner as deeds of conveyance; but this provision does not apply to trusts resulting from the operation or construction of law. [C51, §1205; R60, §2213; C73, §1934; C97, §2918; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10049; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §557.10]

559.4 Limiting release.
559.5 Disclaimer.

559.6 Delivery.
559.7 Other lawful means.

If such instrument shall be executed and acknowledged in the manner provided for the execution and acknowledgment of instruments affecting real estate and recorded with the county recorder in the county in which the donee of the power resides or the county of last residence of the donor of the power or the county in which any real estate which may be subject to the power is located, such recording shall be deemed a sufficient delivery of such release.

A power to appoint described herein is releasable with respect to the whole or any part of the property subject to such power and is also releasable in such manner as to reduce or limit the persons or objects, or classes of persons or objects in whose favor such power would otherwise be exercisable.

It is hereby declared that such releases are in accordance with the public policy of this state and are valid and effectual whether heretofore or hereafter made. [C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§559.1]

559.2 Definition—scope of power. The term "power to appoint" as used in section 559.1, shall mean and include all powers which are in substance and effect powers of appointment, regardless of the language used in creating them and whether they are (1) general, special or otherwise, (2) vested, contingent or conditional, (3) in gross, appendant, simply collateral, in trust or in the nature of a trust or otherwise, (4) exercisable by an instrument amending, revoking, altering or terminating a trust or an estate, or an interest thereunder or otherwise, (5) exercisable presently or in the future, (6) exercisable in an individual or a fiduciary capacity whether alone or in conjunction with one or more other persons or corporations, (7) powers to invade or consume property, or (8) powers remaining after one or more partial releases have heretofore or hereafter been made with respect to a power to appoint. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§559.2]

559.3 Release by one donee exclusive of others. If a power to appoint is or may be exercisable by two or more persons either in an individual or fiduciary capacity in conjunction with one another or successively, a release or disclaimer of the power in whole or in part executed by any one of the donees of the power shall be effective to release or disclaim, to the extent therein provided, all right of such person to exercise or to participate in the exercise of the said power, but unless the instrument creating the power otherwise provides, shall not prevent or limit the exercise or participation in the exercise thereof by the other donee or donees. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §559.3]

559.4 Limiting release. A release of a power to appoint may also be made for life or lives or for a specified period of time. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§559.4]

559.5 Disclaimer. A donee of a power to appoint may disclaim the same at any time, wholly or in part, in the same manner and to the same extent as he might release it. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§559.5]

559.8 Declaration of common law. This chapter shall be deemed declaratory of the common law of this state and it shall be liberally construed so as to effectuate the intent that all powers to appoint whatsoever shall be releasable. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§559.8]

560.2 "Color of title" defined. Persons of each of the classes hereinafter enumerated shall be deemed to have color of title within the meaning of this chapter, but nothing contained herein shall be construed as giving a tenant color of title against his landlord:

1. Purchaser at judicial or tax sale. A purchaser in good faith at any judicial or tax sale made by the proper officer, whether said officer had sufficient authority to make said sale or not, unless want of authority in such officer was known to the purchaser at the time of the sale.

The issue joined thereon must be tried as in ordinary actions and the value of the real estate and of such improvements separately ascertained. Should he fail to make such payment within such reasonable time as the court may fix, the occupying claimant may pay to the clerk of the court, within such time as the court may fix, for the use of the owner of the land, the value of the property exclusive of the improvements and take and retain the property together with the improvements. [C51, §§1236-1238, 1243; R60, §§2267, 2272; C73, §§1979-1981, 1986; C97, §§2966, 2970; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10131; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §560.4]

Referred to in §560.5

561.1 "Homestead" defined. The homestead must embrace the house used as a home by the owner, and, if he has two or more houses thus used, he may select which he will retain. It may contain one or more contiguous lots or tracts of land, with the building and other appurtenances thereon, habitually and in good faith used as part of the same homestead. [C51, §§1250, 1251; R60, §§2282, 2283; C73, §§1994, 1995; C97, §2977; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10135; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §561.1]

561.4 Selecting—platting. The owner, husband, or wife, may select the homestead and cause it to be platted, but a failure to do so shall not render the same liable when it otherwise would not be, and a selection by the owner shall control. When selected, it shall be designated by a legal description, or if incapable thereof it shall be marked off by permanent, visible monuments, and the description thereof shall give the direction and distance of the starting point from some corner of the dwelling, which description, with the plat, shall be filed and recorded by the recorder of the proper county in the homestead book, which shall be, as nearly as may be, in the form of the record books for deeds, with an index kept in the same manner. [C51, §§1254, 1255; R60, §§2286, 2287; C73, §§1998, 1999; C97, §2979; S13, §2979; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10138; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §561.4]

561.7 Changes—nonconsenting spouse. The owner may, from time to time, change the limits of the homestead by changing the metes and bounds, as well as the record of the plat and description, or vacate it.

Such changes shall not prejudice conveyances or liens made or created previously thereto.

No such change of the entire homestead, made without the concurrence of the husband or wife, shall affect his or her rights, or those of the children. [C51, §§1256, 1257; R60, §§2288, 2289; C73, §§2000, 2001; C97, §2981; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10141; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §561.7]

561.8 Referees to determine exemption. When a disagreement takes place between the owner and any person adversely interested, as to whether any land or buildings are properly a part of the homestead, the sheriff shall, at the request of either party, summon nine disinterested persons having the qualifications of jurors. The parties then, commencing with the owner, shall in turn strike off one person each, until three remain. Should either party fail to do so, the sheriff may act for him, and the three as referees shall proceed to examine and ascertain all the facts of the case, and report the same, with their opinion thereon, to the court from which the execution or other process may have issued within thirty days after their qualification as referees. [C51, §§1258, 1259; R60, §§2290, 2291; C73, §§2002, 2003; C97, §2982; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10142; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §561.8; 62GA, ch 400, §124]

561.9 Referring back—marking off—costs. The court in its discretion may refer the whole or any part of the matter back to the same or other referees, to be selected in the same manner, or as the parties agree, giving them directions as to the report required of them. When the court is sufficiently advised in the case, it shall make its decision, and may direct the homestead to be marked off anew, or a new plat and description to be made and recorded, and take such other steps as shall be lawful and expedient in attaining the purpose of this chapter. It shall also award costs in accordance with the practice in other cases, as nearly as may be. [C51, §§1260, 1261; R60, §§2292, 2293; C73, §§2004, 2005; C97, §2983; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10143; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §561.9]

561.10 Change of circumstances. The extent or appurtenances of the homestead thus established may be called in question in like manner, whenever a change in value or circumstances will justify such new proceedings. 561.11 Occupancy by surviving spouse. Upon the death of either husband or wife, the survivor may continue to possess and occupy the whole homestead until it is otherwise disposed of according to law, but the setting off of the distributive share of the husband or wife in the real estate of the deceased shall be such a disposal of the homestead as is herein contemplated. 40GA, ch 287, §11, editorially divided

561.13 Conveyance or encumbrance. No conveyance or encumbrance of, or contract to convey or encumber the homestead, if the owner is married, is valid, unless the husband and wife join in the execution of the same joint instrument, and the instrument sets out the legal description of the homestead, provided however that where the homestead is conveyed or encumbered along with or in addition to other real estate it shall not be necessary to particularly describe or set aside the tract of land constituting such homestead, whether the homestead is exclusively the subject of the contract or not; but such contracts may be enforced as to real estate other than the homestead at the option of the purchaser or encumbrancer. If a spouse who holds only homestead and inchoate dower rights in said homestead specifically relinquishes homestead rights in said instrument it shall not be necessary for such spouse to join in the granting clause of the instrument. - 563.12 Special agreements—evidence.

563.1 Resting wall on neighbor's land. Where building lots have been surveyed and plats thereof recorded, anyone who is about to build contiguous to the land of another may, if there be no wall on the line between them, build a brick, reinforced concrete, or stone wall thereon, when the whole thickness of such wall above the cellar wall does not exceed eighteen inches exclusive of the plastering, and rest one-half thereof on the adjoining land, but the adjoining owner shall not be compelled to contribute to the expense of building said wall. [R60,§1914; C73,§2019; C97, §2994; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10163; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§563.1]

563.2 Contribution by adjoining owner. If the adjoining owner contributes one-half of the expense of building such wall, then it is a wall in common between them, but if he refuses to contribute, he shall have the right to make it a wall in common by paying to the person who erected or maintained it one-half of its appraised value at the time of using it. [R60,§1915; C73,§2020; C97,§2995; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10164; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§563.2]

563.3 Openings in walls. No wall shall be built by any person partly on the land of another with any openings therein, and every separating wall between buildings shall, as high as the upper part of the first story, be presumed to be a wall in common, if there be no titles, proof, or mark to the contrary, and if any wall is erected which, under the provisions of this chapter, becomes, or may become, at the option of another, a wall in common, such person shall not be compelled to contribute to the expense of closing any openings therein, but this shall be done at the expense of the owner of such wall. [R60,§1916; C73, §2021; C97,§2996; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10165; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§563.3]

563.4 Repairs—apportionment. The repairs and rebuilding of walls in common are to be made at the expense of all who have a right to them, and in proportion to the interest of each therein, but every coproprietor of a wall in common may be exonerated from contributing to the same by giving up his right in common, if no building belonging to him is actually supported by such wall. [R60,§1917; C73,§2022; C97,§2997; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10166; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§563.4]

563.5 Beams, joists and flues. Every coproprietor may build against a wall held in common, and cause beams or joists to be placed therein; and any person building such a wall shall, on being requested by his coproprietor, make the necessary flues, and leave the necessary bearings for joists or beams, at such height and distance apart as shall be specified by his coproprietor. [R60,§1918; C73, §2023; C97,§2998; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10167; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§563.5]

563.6 Increasing height of wall. Every coproprietor may increase the height of a wall in common at his sole expense, and he shall repair and keep in repair that part of the same above the part held in common. [R60, §1919; C73,§2024; C97,§2999; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10168; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§563.6]

C97,§2999, editorially divided

563.7 Rebuilding in order to heighten. If the wall so held in common cannot support the wall to be raised upon it, one who wishes to have it made higher must rebuild it anew and at his own expense, and the additional thickness of the wall must be placed entirely on his own land. [R60,§1920; C73,§2025; C97, §2999; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10169; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§563.7]

563.8 Heightened wall made common. The person who did not contribute to the heighten-

563.9 Paying for share of adjoining wall. Every proprietor joining a wall has the right of making it a wall in common, in whole or in part, by repaying to the owner thereof one-half of its value, or one-half of the part which he wishes to hold in common, and one-half of the value of the ground on which it is built, if the person who has built it has laid the foundation entirely upon his own ground. [R60, §1922; C73,§2027; C97,§3000; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10171; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§563.9]

563.10 Openings in walls—fixtures. Adjoining owners of walls held in common shall not make openings or cavities therein, nor affix nor attach thereto any work or structure, without the consent of the other, or upon his refusal, without having taken all necessary precautions to guard against injury to the rights of the other, to be ascertained by persons skilled in building. [R60,§1923; C73,§2028; C97,§3001; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10172; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§563.10]

563.11 Disputes—delay—bonds. No dispute between adjoining owners as to the amount to be paid by one or the other, by reason of any of the matters provided in this chapter, shall delay the execution of the provisions of the same, if the party on whom the claim is made shall enter into bonds, with security, to the satisfaction of the clerk of the district court of the proper county, conditioned that he shall pay to the claimant whatever may be found to be his due on the settlement of the matter between them, either in a court of justice or elsewhere; upon the presentation of such a bond, the clerk shall endorse his approval thereon, and retain the same until demanded by the party for whose benefit it is executed. 563.12 Special agreements—evidence. This chapter shall not prevent adjoining proprietors from entering into special agreements about walls on the lines between them, but no evidence thereof shall be competent unless in writing, signed by the parties thereto or their lawfully authorized agents, or the guardian of either, if a minor, who shall have full authority to act for his ward in all matters relating to walls in common without an order of court therefor. 2. A "bank" is a bank, trust company, national banking association, savings bank or industrial bank.

3. A "broker" is a person lawfully engaged in the business of effecting transactions in securities for the account of others. The term includes a bank which effects such transactions. The term also includes a person lawfully engaged in buying and selling securities for his own account, through a broker or otherwise, as a part of a regular business.

4. "Court" means the supreme court, district courts, and such other courts, inferior to the supreme court, as the general assembly may establish or has established.

5. "The custodial property" includes:

a. All securities and money under the supervision of the same custodian for the same minor as a consequence of a gift or gifts made to the minor in a manner prescribed in this chapter;

b. The income from the custodial property; and

c. The proceeds, immediate and remote, from the sale, exchange, conversion, investment, reinvestment or other disposition of such securities, money and income.

6. A "custodian" is a person so designated in a manner prescribed in this chapter.

7. A "guardian" of a minor includes the general guardian, guardian, tutor or curator of his property, estate or person.

8. An "issuer" is a person who places or authorizes the placing of his name on a secu-

The term does not include a security of which the donor is the issuer. A security is in "registered form" when it specifies a person entitled to it or to the rights it evidences and its transfer may be registered upon books maintained for that purpose by or on behalf of the issuer.

13. A "transfer agent" is a person who acts as authenticating trustee, transfer agent, registrar or other agent for an issuer in the registration of transfers of its securities or in the issue of new securities or in the cancellation of surrendered securities.

565A.2 Gifts—how made.

a. If the subject of the gift is a security in registered form, by registering it in the name of the donor, another adult person or a trust company, followed, in substance, by the words: "as custodian for .....

(Name of minor)

under the Iowa Uniform Gifts to Minors Act".

2. Any gift made in a manner prescribed in subsection 1 may be made to only one minor and only one person may be the custodian.

3. A donor who makes a gift to a minor in a manner prescribed in subsection 1 shall promptly do all things within his power to put the subject of the gift in the possession and control of the custodian, but neither the donor's failure to comply with this subsection, nor his designation of an ineligible person as custodian affects the consummation of the gift. [C62, 66,§565A.2; 63GA, ch 273,§1857]

565A.3 Gifts irrevocable.

1. A gift made in a manner prescribed in this chapter is irrevocable and conveys to the minor indefeasibly vested legal title to the security or money given, but no guardian of the minor has any right, power, duty or authority with respect to the custodial property except as provided in this chapter.

2. By making a gift in a manner prescribed in this chapter, the donor incorporates in his gift all the provisions of this chapter and grants to the custodian, and to any issuer, transfer agent, bank, broker or third person dealing with a person designated as custodian, the respective powers, rights and immunities provided in this chapter. [C62, 66,§565A.3]

565A.4 Custodian.

1. The custodian shall collect, hold, manage, invest and reinvest the custodial property.

2. The custodian shall pay over to the minor for expenditure by him, or expend for the minor's benefit, so much of or all the custodial property as the custodian deems advisable for the support, maintenance, education and benefit of the minor in the manner, at the time or times, and to the extent that the custodian in his discretion deems suitable and proper, with or without court order, with or without regard to the duty of himself or of any other person to support the minor or his ability to do so, and with or without regard to any other income or property of the minor which may be applicable or available for any such purpose.

3. The court, on the petition of a parent or guardian of the minor or of the minor, if he has attained the age of fourteen years, may order the custodian to pay over to the minor for expenditure by him or to expend so much of or all the custodial property as is necessary for the minor's support, maintenance or education.

4. To the extent that the custodial property is not so expended, the custodian shall deliver or pay it over to the minor on his attaining the age of twenty-one years or, if the minor dies before attaining the age of twenty-one years, he shall thereupon deliver or pay it over to the estate of the minor.

5. The custodian, notwithstanding statutes restricting investments by fiduciaries, shall invest and reinvest the custodial property as would a prudent man of discretion and intelligence who is seeking a reasonable income and the preservation of his capital, except that he may, in his discretion and without liability to the minor or his estate, retain a security given to the minor in a manner prescribed in this chapter.

6. The custodian may sell, exchange, convert or otherwise dispose of custodial property in the manner, at the time or times, for the price or prices and upon the terms he deems advisable. He may vote in person or by general or limited proxy a security which is custodial property. He may consent, directly or through a committee or other agent, to the reorganization, consolidation, merger, dissolution or liquidation of an issuer, a security which is custodial property, and to the sale, lease, pledge or mortgage of any property by or to such an issuer, and to any other action by such an issuer. He may execute and deliver any and all instruments in writing which he deems advisable to carry out any of his powers as custodian.

7. The custodian shall register each security which is custodial property and in registered form in the name of the custodian, followed, in substance, by the words: "as custodian for ..... under the Iowa Uniform Gifts (Name of minor) to Minors Act". The custodian shall hold all money which is custodial property in an account with a broker or in a bank or in share accounts in savings and loan associations in the name of the custodian, followed, in substance, by the words: "as custodian for ..... (Name of minor) under the Iowa Uniform Gifts to Minors Act". The custodian shall keep all other custodial property separate and distinct from his own property in a manner to identify it clearly as custodial property.

8. The custodian shall keep records of all transactions with respect to the custodial property and make them available for inspection at reasonable intervals by a parent or legal representative of the minor or by the minor, if he has attained the age of fourteen years.

9. A custodian has, with respect to the custodial property, in addition to the rights and powers provided in this chapter, all the rights and powers which a guardian has with respect to property not held as custodial property. [C62, 66,§565A.4]

565A.5 Compensation—bond—liability.

1. A custodian may act without compensation for his services.

2. Unless he is a donor, a custodian is entitled to reimbursement from the custodial property for his reasonable expenses incurred in the performance of his duties and may receive from the custodial property reasonable compensation for his services determined by a direction by the donor when the gift is made; or, if no such direction, by order of the court after submission by the custodian of an itemized claim or report setting forth his services, from time to time, as long as such custodian continues to serve.

3. Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, a custodian shall not be required to give a bond for the performance of his duties.

4. A custodian not compensated for his services is not liable for losses to the custodial property unless they result from his bad faith intentional wrongdoing or gross negligence or from his failure to maintain the standard of prudence in investing the custodial property provided in this chapter. [C62, 66,§565A.5]

565A.6 Responsibility of others.

No issuer, transfer agent, bank, broker or other person acting on the instructions of or otherwise dealing with any person purporting to act as a donor or in the capacity of a custodian is responsible for determining whether the person designated by the purported donor or purporting to act as a custodian has been duly designated or whether any purchase, sale or transfer to or by or any other act of any person purporting to act in the capacity of custodian is in accordance with or authorized by this chapter, or is obliged to inquire into the validity or propriety under this chapter of any instrument or instructions executed or given by a person purporting to act as a donor or in the capacity of a custodian, or is bound to see to the application by any person purporting to act in the capacity of a custodian of any money or other property paid or delivered to him. [C62, 66,§565A.6]

565A.7 Successors to custodian.

1. Only an adult member of the minor's family, a guardian of the minor or a trust company is eligible to become successor custodian. A successor custodian has all the rights, powers, duties and immunities of a custodian designated in a manner prescribed by this chapter.

2. A custodian, other than the donor, may resign and designate his successor by:

a. Executing an instrument of resignation designating the successor custodian; and

b. Causing each security which is custodial property and in registered form to be registered in the name of the successor custodian followed, in substance, by the words: "as custodian for .....under the Iowa

(Name of minor) Uniform Gifts to Minors Act"; and

c. Delivering to the successor custodian the instrument of resignation, each security registered in the name of the successor custodian and all other custodial property, together with any additional instruments required for the transfer thereof.

3. A custodian, whether or not a donor, may petition the court for permission to resign and for the designation of a successor custodian.

4. If the person designated as custodian is not eligible, renounces or dies before the minor attains the age of twenty-one years, the guardian of the minor shall be successor custodian. If the minor has no guardian, a donor, his legal representative, the legal representative of the custodian, an adult member of the minor's family, or the minor, if he has attained the age of fourteen years, may petition the court for the designation of a successor custodian.

5. A donor, the legal representative of a donor, an adult member of the minor's family, a guardian of the minor or the minor, if he has attained the age of fourteen years, may petition the court that, for cause shown in the petition, the custodian be removed and a successor custodian be designated or, in the alternative, that the custodian be required to give bond for the performance of his duties.

6. Upon the filing of a petition as provided in this section, the court shall grant an order, directed to the custodian and all other interested persons and returnable on such notice as the court may require, to show cause why the relief prayed for in the petition should not be granted and, in due course, grant such relief as the court finds to be in the best interests of the minor. [C62, 66,§565A.7]

565A.8 Accounting.

1. The minor, if he has attained the age of fourteen years, or the legal representative of the minor, an adult member of the minor's family, or a donor or his legal representative may petition the court for an accounting by the custodian or his legal representative.

2. The court, in a proceeding under this chapter or otherwise, may require or permit the custodian or his legal representative to account and, if the custodian is removed, shall so require and order delivery of all custodial property to the successor custodian and the execution of all instruments required for the transfer thereof. [C62, 66,§565A.8]

565A.9 Construction.

1. This chapter shall be so construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it.

568.8 Contract for survey. The secretary of state shall make a contract with some surveyor for making such survey; the surveyor to furnish all the chainmen and other attendants and pay all necessary expenses, which contract before it becomes binding shall be submitted to and approved by the executive council. [S13,§2900-a6; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10228; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§568.8]

If no application has been filed by such bona fide occupant within the sixty-day period above provided, then the secretary of state shall advertise the sale of such land once each week for four consecutive weeks in two newspapers of general circulation published in the county wherein the land is situated, and proof of publication shall be filed with the secretary of state. The sale shall be made upon written bids addressed to the secretary of state and the advertisements shall fix the time when such bids will be received and opened. All bids shall be opened by the secretary of state or by the clerk of the state land office at the time fixed, and the land thereupon may be sold to the highest bidder and at not less than the appraised value.

Any such sale shall be subject to the permanent right of a utility association, company or corporation to continue in possession of a right of way for its underground and aerial plant, including cables, wires, poles, fixtures, piers and abutments, where such right of way has existed on lands which have become subject to sale under section 568.1. 568.11 Lease authorized—lands readvertised—sale. If no application is filed for the purchase of the land within the sixty-day period by a bona fide occupant, and if no bids are received for the purchase thereof, on or before the date of the sale as advertised, then the secretary of state is authorized to lease the land for a period of from one to five years, upon as favorable terms as he can obtain. At the expiration of such lease he shall readvertise the land for sale in the manner provided in section 568.10. If no bids for the purchase of the land are received on the date of the second advertised sale, then the secretary of state shall submit the matter to the executive council, and they may either order the land reappraised in the manner provided in section 568.7, and then advertised and sold in the manner provided in section 568.10, or if they deem it advisable, they may authorize the secretary of state to sell the land for less than the appraised value. In such event the secretary of state shall readvertise the land for sale in the manner provided in section 568.10, and such advertisement shall also state that the land will be sold to the highest bidder without restrictions as to the appraised value. A record of such conveyance shall be made and kept by the clerk of the state land office of the secretary of state. [S13, §2900-a9; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10232; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §568.12]

a court of record, and the record of such survey has been duly made and preserved, then and in that event, in the discretion of the secretary of state, a duly certified transcript of such record, together with the field notes accompanying the same, if obtainable, may be filed with the clerk of the state land office in the office of secretary of state, and when so filed shall obviate the necessity for any further survey of such land except when such survey becomes necessary for the purpose of execution of conveyance thereof, and the record of such transcript, when filed, shall constitute the official survey of such land. [S13, §2900-a10; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10233; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §568.13]

The report of the commissioners with a statement of their findings shall be submitted to the executive council, who shall file the same with the clerk of the state land office in the office of the secretary of state. The line so ascertained and located shall constitute the true and permanent boundary line between this state and such other state to the extent such line shall be so ascertainable and located. [S13, §2900-a11; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10234; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §568.14]

568.16 Purchase money refunded. If the grantee of the state, or his successors, administrators, or assigns, shall be deprived of the land conveyed by the state under this chapter by the final decree of a court of record for the reason that the conveyance by the state passed no title whatever to the land therein described, because title thereto had previously for any reason been vested in others, then the money so paid the state for the said land shall be refunded by the state to the person or persons entitled thereto, provided the said grantee, or his successors, administrators, or assigns, shall file a certified copy of the transcript of the said final decree with the executive council within one year from the date of the issuance of such decree, and shall also file satisfactory proof with the executive council that the action over the title to the land was commenced within ten years from the date of the issuance of patent or deed by the state. The amount of money to be refunded under the provisions of this section shall be certified by the executive council to the state comptroller, who shall draw his warrant therefor, and the same shall be paid out of the general fund. [S13,§2900-a16; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10238; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§568.18]

If the person, company, or corporation in possession of such land shall, after the court has determined the value thereof as herein provided, tender to the secretary of state the amount adjudged to be the value of said lands, exclusive of improvements made thereon by the occupant or by his or its grantors or predecessors in interest, a deed or patent of such land shall be executed by the governor, attested by the secretary of state, and delivered to the person, company, or corporation making such tender, as provided by law. If the person, company, or corporation so in possession shall fail to pay to the state the amount so adjudged within six months after the final determination of the action so brought by the state, then said lands shall be subject to the other provisions of this chapter. [S13,§2900-a17; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10239; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§568.19]

If the party making such application, or his assignee, does not desire to prosecute his application, or if he does not purchase the land under this chapter, then all of the money deposited by him with the secretary of state under the provisions of this chapter shall be repaid to said applicant by the secretary of state; and if any part of the money so deposited has been expended by the secretary of state, then the amount so expended shall be certified by the secretary of state to the state comptroller, who shall draw his warrant upon the general fund in favor of the person entitled thereto. The land composing the island shall then be appraised by a commission appointed by the governor, consisting of three disinterested freeholders of the state, who shall report their appraisement to the executive council. The sale of the island shall then be advertised once each week for four consecutive weeks in some newspaper

570.1 Lien created—property subjected. A landlord shall have a lien for his rent upon all crops grown upon the leased premises, and upon any other personal property of the tenant which has been used or kept thereon during the term and which is not exempt from execution. [C51,§1270; R60,§2302; C73,§2017; C97,§2992; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10261; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§570.1]

570.2 Duration of lien. Such lien shall continue for the period of one year after a year's rent, or the rent of a shorter period, falls due. But in no case shall such lien continue more than six months after the expiration of the term. [C51,§1270; R60,§2302; C73,§2017; C97, §2992; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10262; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§570.2]

570.3 Limitation on lien in case of sale under judicial process. In the event that a stock of goods or merchandise, or a part thereof, subject to a landlord's lien, shall be sold under judicial process, order of court, or by an assignee under a general assignment for benefit of creditors, the lien of the landlord shall not be enforceable against said stock or portion thereof, except for rent due for the term already expired, and for rent to be paid for the use of demised premises for a period not exceeding six months after date of sale, any agreement of the parties to the contrary notwithstanding. [C97,§2992; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10263; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§570.3]

570.4 Limitation on lien in case of crop failure. In cases of farm leases involving the rental of farm lands of forty acres or more, where the tenant has defaulted in the payment of his rent and suit has been commenced aided by landlord's attachment for the enforcement of the landlord's lien, the defendant may file as a defense that the default or inability to pay is caused or brought about by reason of drought, flood, hail, storms, or other climatic conditions or infestation of pests affecting the crops in controversy. When such a defense has been filed, the issue as to the cause for the default shall be triable as an equitable action. Upon the hearing, if the court finds that the default or inability to pay is due to drought, flood, hail, storm, or other climatic conditions or infestation of pests affecting the crops in controversy, the court may enter a decree pursuant thereto with his finding of fact. Where a decree has been entered finding that the inability to pay was brought about by any of the conditions named in this section, the landlord's lien shall be confined to all of the crops grown and raised upon the premises and to all increase in livestock and hogs raised upon the premises.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to any farm leases executed prior to July 4, 1941. [C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§570.4]

570.5 Enforcement—proceeding by attachment. The lien may be enforced by the commencement of an action, within the period above prescribed, for the rent alone, in which action the landlord shall be entitled to a writ of attachment, upon filing with the clerk or justice a verified petition, stating that the action is commenced to recover rent accrued within one year previous thereto upon premises described in the petition; and the procedure thereunder shall be the same, as nearly as may be, as in other cases of attachment, except no bond shall be required. [C51,§1271; R60,§2303; C73,§2018; C97,§2993; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10264; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§570.5]

Homestead liable, §561.21

572.3 Collateral security before completion of work. No person shall be entitled to a mechanic's lien who, at the time of making a contract for furnishing material or performing labor, or during the progress of the work, shall take any collateral security on such contract. [C51, §1009; R60, §1845; C73, §2129; C97, §3088; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10272; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §572.3]

572.4 Security after completion of work. After the completion of such work, the taking of security of any kind shall not affect the right to establish a mechanic's lien unless such new security shall, be express agreement, be given and received in lieu of such lien. [C97, §3088; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10273; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §572.4]

572.5 Extent of lien. The entire land upon which any building or improvement is situated, including that portion not covered therewith, shall be subject to a mechanic's lien to the extent of the interest therein of the person for whose benefit such material was furnished or labor performed. [R60, §1854; C73, §2140; C97, §3090; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10274; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §572.5]

572.6 In case of leasehold interest. When the interest of such person is only a leasehold, the forfeiture of the lease for the nonpayment of rent, or for noncompliance with any of the other conditions therein, shall not forfeit or impair the mechanic's lien upon such building or improvement; but the same may be sold to satisfy such lien, and removed by the purchaser within thirty days after the sale thereof. [R60,§1854; C73,§2140; C97,§3090; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10275; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§572.6]

572.7 In case of internal improvement. When the lien is for material furnished or labor performed in the construction, repair, or equipment of any railroad, canal, viaduct, or other similar improvement, said lien shall attach to the erections, excavations, embankments, bridges, roadbeds, rolling stock, and other equipment and to all land upon which such improvements or property may be situated, except the easement or right of way. [C73,§2132; C97,§3091; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10276; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§572.7]

572.8 Perfection of lien. Every person who wishes to avail himself of a mechanic's lien shall file with the clerk of the district court of the county in which the building, land, or improvement to be charged with the lien is situated a verified statement or account of the demand due him, after allowing all credits, setting forth:

1. The time when such material was furnished or labor performed, and when completed.

2. The correct description of the property to be charged with the lien. [R60,§1851; C73, §2137; C97,§3092; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10277; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§572.8]

Referred to in §572.9

572.9 Time of filing. The statement or account required by section 572.8 shall be filed by a principal contractor within ninety days, and by a subcontractor within sixty days, from the date on which the last of the material was furnished or the last of the labor was performed. A failure to file the same within said periods shall not defeat the lien, except as otherwise provided in this chapter. [R60,§1851; C73,§2137; C97,§3092; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10278; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§572.9]

Referred to in §572.10

572.10 Perfecting subcontractor's lien after lapse of sixty days. After the lapse of the sixty days prescribed in section 572.9, a subcontractor may perfect a mechanic's lien by filing his claim with the clerk of the district court and giving written notice thereof to the owner, his agent, or trustee. Such notice may be served by any person in the manner original notices are required to be served. If the party to be served, his agent, or trustee, is out of the county wherein the property is situated, a return of that fact by the person charged with making such service shall constitute sufficient service from and after the time it was filed with the clerk of the district court. [C73,§2133; C97, §3094; SS15,§3094; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10279; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§572.10]

Service of notice, R.C.P. 56(a)

572.11 Extent of lien filed after sixty days. Liens perfected under section 572.10 shall be enforced against the property or upon the bond, if given, by the owner, as hereinafter provided, only to the extent of the balance due from the owner to the contractor at the time of the service of such notice; but if the bond was given by the contractor, or person contracting with the subcontractor filing the claim for a lien, such bond shall be enforced to the full extent of the amount found due the subcontractor. [C73,§2133; C97,§3094; SS15, §3094; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10280; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§572.11]

572.12 Time of filing against railway. Where a lien is claimed upon a railway, the subcontractor shall have sixty days from the last day of the month in which such labor was done or material furnished within which to file his claim therefor. [R60,§1851; C73,§2137; C97, §3092; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10281; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§572.12]

572.13 Liability of owner to original contractor. No owner of any building, land, or improvement upon which a mechanic's lien of a subcontractor may be filed, shall be required to pay the original contractor for compensation for work done or material furnished for said building, land, or improvement until the expiration of sixty days from the completion of said building, or improvement unless the original contractor shall furnish to the owner:

1. Receipts and waivers of claims for mechanics' liens, signed by all persons who furnished any material or performed any labor for said building, land, or improvement, or

2. A good and sufficient bond to be approved by said owner, conditioned that said owner shall be held harmless from any loss which he may sustain by reason of the filing of mechanics' liens by subcontractors. [R60,§1847; C73, §2131; C97,§3093; S13,§3093; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10282; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§572.13]

572.14 Liability to subcontractor after payment to original contractor. Payment to the original contractor by the owner of any part or all of the contract price of such building, or improvement before the lapse of the sixty days allowed by law for the filing of a mechanic's lien by a subcontractor, will not relieve the owner from liability to the subcontractor for the full value of any material furnished or labor performed upon said building, land, or improvement if the subcontractor file his lien within the time provided by law for the filing of the same. [S13,§3093; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10283; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§572.14]

572.15 Discharge of subcontractor's lien. Every mechanic's lien of a subcontractor may be discharged at any time by the owner, principal contractor, or intermediate subcontractor filing with the clerk of the district court of the county in which the property is located a bond in twice the amount of the sum for which the claim for the lien is filed, with surety or sureties, to be approved by said clerk, conditioned for the payment of any sum for which the claimant may obtain judgment upon his claim. [C97,§3093; S13,§3093; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10284; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§572.15]

572.16 Rule of construction. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed to require the owner to pay a greater amount or at an earlier date than is provided in his contract with the principal contractor, unless said owner pays a part or all of the contract price to the original contractor before the expiration of the sixty days allowed by law for the filing of a mechanic's lien by a subcontractor. [C97,§3093; S13,§3093; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10285; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§572.16]

572.17 Priority of mechanics' liens between mechanics. Mechanics' liens shall have priority over each other in the order of the filing of the statements or accounts as herein provided. [R60,§§1853, 1855; C73,§§2139, 2141; C97,§3095; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10286; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §572.17]

572.18 Priority over other liens. Mechanics' liens shall be preferred to all other liens which may attach to or upon any building or improvement and to the land upon which it is situated, except liens of record prior to the time of the original commencement of the work or improvements; but the rights of purchasers, encumbrancers, and other persons who acquire interests in good faith and for a valuable consideration, and without notice, after the expiration of the time for filing claims for such liens, shall be prior to the claims of all contractors or subcontractors who have not, at the dates such rights and interests were acquired, filed their claims for such liens. [R60,§§1851, 1853, 1855; C73,§§2137, 2139, 2141; C97,§§3092, 3095; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10287; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§572.18]

572.19 Priority over garnishments of the owner. Mechanics' liens shall take priority of all garnishments of the owner for the contract debts, whether made prior or subsequent to the commencement of the furnishing of the material or performance of the labor, without regard to the date of filing the claim for such lien. [C97,§3095; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10288; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§572.19]

572.20 Priority as to buildings over prior liens upon land. Mechanics' liens, including those for additions, repairs, and betterments, shall attach to the building or improvement for which the material or labor was furnished or done, in preference to any prior lien, encumbrance, or mortgage upon the land upon which such building or improvement was erected or situated. [R60,§§1853, 1855; C73,§§2139, 2141; C97,§3095; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10289; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§572.20] or mortgage upon the land the following regulations shall govern:

1. Lien on original and independent building or improvement. If such material was furnished or labor performed in the construction of an original and independent building or improvement commenced after the attaching or execution of such prior lien, encumbrance, or mortgage, the court may, in its discretion, order such building or improvement to be sold separately under execution, and the purchaser may remove the same in such reasonable time as the court may fix. If the court shall find that such building or improvement should not be sold separately, it shall take an account of and ascertain the separate values of the land, and the building or improvement, and order the whole sold, and distribute the proceeds of such sale so as to secure to the prior lien, encumbrance, or mortgage priority upon the land, and to the mechanic's lien priority upon the building or improvement.

2. Lien on existing building or improvement for repairs or additions. If the material furnished or labor performed was for additions, repairs, or betterments upon any building or improvement, the court shall take an accounting of the values before such material was furnished or labor performed, and the enhanced value caused by such additions, repairs, or betterments; and upon the sale of the premises, distribute the proceeds of such sale so as to secure to the prior mortgagee or lienholder priority upon the land and improvements as they existed prior to the attaching of the mechanic's lien, and to the mechanic's lienholder priority upon the enhanced value caused by such additions, repairs, or betterments. In case the premises do not sell for more than sufficient to pay off the prior mortgage or other lien, the proceeds shall be applied on the prior mortgage or other liens. [R60,§§1853, 1855; C73,§§2139, 2141; C97,§3095; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10290; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §572.21]

572.22 Record of claim. The clerk of the court shall endorse upon every claim for a mechanic's lien filed in his office the date and hour of filing and make an abstract thereof in the mechanic's lien book kept for that purpose. Said book shall be properly indexed and shall contain the following items concerning each claim:

1. The name of the person by whom filed.
2. The date and hour of filing.
3. The amount thereof.
4. The name of the person against whom filed.
5. The description of the property to be charged therewith. [R60,§1852; C73,§2138; C97, §3100; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10291; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§572.22]

572.23 Acknowledgment of satisfaction of claim. When a mechanic's lien is satisfied by payment of the claim, the claimant shall acknowledge satisfaction thereof upon the mechanic's lien book, or otherwise in writing, and, if he neglects to do so for thirty days after demand in writing, he shall forfeit and pay twenty-five dollars to the owner or contractor, and be liable to any person injured to the extent of his injury. [R60, §§1867-1869; C73, §2145; C97, §3101; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10292; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §572.23]

572.24 Time of bringing action—court. An action to enforce a mechanic's lien, or an action brought upon any bond given in lieu thereof, may be commenced in the district or superior court after said lien is perfected. [R60, §1856; C73, §§2142, 2143; C97, §3098; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10293; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §572.24]

572.25 Place of bringing action. An action to enforce a mechanic's lien shall be brought in the county in which the property to be affected, or some part thereof, is situated. [C73, §§2142, 2578; C97, §§3098, 3493; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10294; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §572.25]

572.26 Kinds of action—amendment. An action to enforce a mechanic's lien shall be by equitable proceedings, and no other cause of action shall be joined therewith.

572.27 Limitation on action. An action to enforce a mechanic's lien may be brought within two years from the expiration of the sixty or ninety days, as the case may be, for filing the claim as provided in this chapter and not afterwards. In making said payments, there shall be retained ten percent of each said monthly estimate by the public corporation; provided, however, that if the contract is for more than fifty thousand dollars, and if the public corporation at any time after fifty percent of the improvement has been completed finds that satisfactory progress is being made, the public corporation may authorize any of such remaining payments to be made in full. 573.15 Exception. No part of the unpaid fund due the contractor shall be retained as provided in this chapter on claims for material furnished, other than materials ordered by the general contractor or his authorized agent, unless such claims are supported by a certified statement that the general contractor had been notified within thirty days after the materials are furnished or by itemized invoices rendered to contractor during the progress of the work, of the amount, kind, and value of the material furnished for use upon the said public improvement, and no part of such unpaid fund due the contractor shall be retained as provided in this chapter because of the commencement of any action by the contractor against the Iowa state highway commission under authority granted in section 613.11. Provided that upon written demand of the contractor served on the person or persons filing said claims requiring him to commence action in court to enforce his claim in the manner as prescribed for original notices, such action shall be commenced within thirty days thereafter, otherwise such retained and unpaid funds due the contractor shall be released; and it is further provided that, after such action is commenced, upon the general contractor filing with the public corporation or person withholding such funds, a surety bond in double the amount of the claim in controversy, conditioned to pay any final judgment rendered for such claims so filed, said public corporation or person shall pay to the contractor the amount of such funds so withheld. 573.22 Unpaid claimants — judgment on bond. If, after the said retained percentage has been applied to the payment of duly filed and established claims, there remain any such claims unpaid in whole or in part, judgment shall be entered for the amount thereof against the principal and sureties on the bond. In case the said percentage has been paid over as herein provided, judgment shall be entered against the principal and sureties on all such claims. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10319; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§573.22]

573.23 Abandonment of public work—effect. When a contractor abandons the work on a public improvement or is legally excluded therefrom, the improvement shall be deemed completed for the purpose of filing claims as herein provided, from the date of the official cancellation of the contract. The only fund available for the payment of the claims of persons for labor performed or material furnished shall be the amount then due the contractor, if any, and if said amount be insufficient to sat-

The court may make such an order when a claim for temporary support is made by the petitioner in the petition, or upon application of either party, after service of the original notice and when no application is made in the petition; however, no such order shall be entered until at least five days' notice of hearing, and opportunity to be heard, is given the other party. Such attorney shall be empowered to make independent investigations and to cause witnesses to appear and testify before the court on matters pertinent to the interests of the children. The court shall enter an order in favor of such attorney for fees and disbursements, which amount shall be charged against the party responsible for court costs unless the court determines that the party responsible for costs is indigent in which event the fees shall be borne by the county. [63GA, ch 1266, §13]

Referred to in §598.16

598.13 Financial statements filed. All applications for temporary or permanent support of a party or minor children shall be accompanied by the financial statement of the applicant. The respondent shall file a financial statement whenever the respondent desires to resist any application for support by the petitioner, or when the court so orders.

Financial statements shall be set forth by affidavit and shall be contained in two divisions. Division one shall contain the affiant's income from salary, wages or other source, personal expenses, and necessary payments on debts, and also the best estimates of such income, personal expenses, and necessary payments on debts of the other party, as well as all family living expenses. Such financial information shall be calculated on either a weekly or monthly basis, and shall not contain debts to be paid subsequent to the anticipated pendency of the action. Division two shall contain all other joint or separate assets and liabilities of the parties, including ownership of realty and tangible or intangible personalty and all debts to be paid subsequent to the anticipated pendency of the action. [63GA, ch 1266, §14]

598.14 How temporary order made — changes. In making temporary orders, the court shall take into consideration the age and sex of the applicant, the physical and pecuniary condition of the parties, and such other matters as are pertinent, which may be shown by affidavits, as the court may direct; however, the hearing on the application shall be limited to matters set forth in such application, the affidavits of the parties, and the required statements of income. The court shall not hear any other matter relating to the petition, respondent's answer, or any pleadings connected therewith.

After notice and hearing subsequent changes in temporary orders may be made by the court on application of either party demonstrating a substantial change in the circumstances occurring subsequent to the issuance of such order. If the order is not so modified it shall continue in force and effect until the action is dismissed or a decree is entered dissolving the marriage. [C73, §2228; C97, §3179; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10480; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §598.13; 63GA, ch 1266, §15]

598.15 Attachment. The petition may be presented to the court for the allowance of an order of attachment, which, by endorsement thereon, may direct such attachment and fix the amount for which it may issue, and the amount of the bond, if any, that shall be given. Any property taken by virtue thereof shall be held to satisfy the judgment or decree of the court, but may be discharged or released as in other cases. [C73, §2227; C97, §3178; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10479; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §598.12; 63GA, ch 1266, §16]

598.16 Conciliation. A majority of the judges in any judicial district, with the cooperation of any county board of social welfare in such district, may establish a domestic relations division of the district court of the county where such board is located. Said division shall offer counseling and related services to persons before such court.

The court shall require such parties to undergo conciliation for a period of at least ninety days from the issuance of an order setting forth the conciliation procedure and the conciliator. Such conciliation procedures may include, but shall not be limited to, referrals to the domestic relations division of the court, if established, public or private marriage counselors, family service agencies, community mental health centers, physicians and clergymen. Conciliation may be waived by the court upon a showing of good cause; provided, however, that it shall not be waived if either party or the attorney appointed pursuant to section 598.12 objects.

The costs of any such conciliation procedures shall be paid by the parties; however, if the court determines that such parties will be unable to pay the costs without prejudicing their financial ability to provide themselves and any minor children with economic necessities, such costs may be paid from the court expense fund. [63GA, ch 1266, §17]

598.17 Dissolution of marriage—evidence. A decree dissolving the marriage may be entered when the court is satisfied from the evidence presented that there has been a breakdown of the marriage relationship to the extent that the legitimate objects of matrimony have been destroyed and there remains no reasonable likelihood that the marriage can be preserved.

The court shall, based upon competent and relevant evidence, in such decree provide for the division of the assets of the parties and reasonable support or maintenance of any dependent children or either spouse.

No marriage dissolution granted due to the mental illness of one of the spouses shall relieve the other spouse of any obligation imposed by law as a result of the marriage for the support of the mentally ill spouse, and the court may make an order for such support. [63GA, ch 1266,§18]

598.18 Recrimination not a bar to dissolution of marriage. If, upon the trial of an action for dissolution of marriage, both of the parties are found to have committed an act or acts which would support or justify a decree of dissolution of marriage, such dissolution may be decreed, and the acts of one party shall not negate the acts of the other, nor serve to bar the dissolution decree in any way. [63GA, ch 1266,§19]

598.19 Waiting period before decree. No decree dissolving a marriage shall be granted in any proceeding before ninety days shall have elapsed from the day the original notice is served, or from the last day of publication of notice, or from the date that waiver or acceptance of original notice is filed or until after conciliation is completed, whichever period shall be longer. However, the court may in its discretion, on written motion supported by affidavit setting forth grounds of emergency or necessity and facts which satisfy the court that immediate action is warranted or required to protect the substantive rights or interests of any party or person who might be affected by the decree, hold a hearing and grant a decree dissolving the marriage prior to the expiration of the applicable period, provided that requirements of notice have been complied with. In such case the grounds of emergency or necessity and the facts with respect thereto shall be recited in the decree unless otherwise ordered by the court. [C58, 62, 66,§598.25; 63GA, ch 1266,§20]

598.20 Forfeiture of marital rights. When a dissolution of marriage is decreed the parties shall forfeit all rights acquired by marriage which are not specifically preserved in the decree. This provision shall not obviate any of the provisions of section 598.21. [C51,§1486; C73,§2230; C97,§3181; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10483; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§598.16; 63GA, ch 1266, §21]

598.21 Alimony — custody of children — changes. When a dissolution of marriage is decreed, the court may make such order in relation to the children, property, parties, and the maintenance of the parties as shall be justified.

Subsequent changes may be made by the court in these respects when circumstances render them expedient. [C51,§1485; R60,§2537; C73,§2229; C97,§3180; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10481; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§598.14; 63GA, ch 1266, §22]

Referred to in §§598.20, 598.22

598.22 Support payments—clerk of court—defaults. All orders or judgments providing for temporary or permanent support payments shall direct the payment of such sums to the clerk of the court for the use of the person for whom the same have been awarded. An order or judgment entered by the court for temporary or permanent support shall be filed with the court clerk. Such orders shall have the same force and effect as judgments when entered in the judgment docket and lien index and shall be a record open to the public. The clerk shall disburse the payments received pursuant to such orders or judgments. All moneys received or disbursed under this section shall be entered in a record book kept by the clerk, which shall be open to inspection by the parties to the action and their attorneys.

If the sums ordered to be paid are not paid to the clerk at the time provided in said order or judgment, the clerk shall certify a default to the court which may, on its own motion, proceed as provided in section 598.23.

Prompt payment of sums required to be paid under sections 598.11 and 598.21 shall be the essence of such orders or judgments and the court may act pursuant to section 598.23 regardless of whether the amounts in default are paid prior to the contempt hearing. [63GA, ch 1266,§23, ch 1267,§1(1)]

Referred to in §598.34

598.23 Contempt proceedings — alternative to jail sentence. If any party against whom any temporary order or final decree has been entered shall willfully disobey the same, or secrete his property, he may be cited and punished by the court for contempt and be committed to the county jail for a period of time not to exceed thirty days for each offense.

The court may, as an alternative to punishment for contempt, make an order directing the defaulting party to assign a sufficient amount in salary or wages due, or to become due in the future, from an employer or successor employers, to the clerk of the court where the order or judgment was granted for the purpose of paying the sums in default as well as those to be made in the future. The assignment order shall not be binding upon the employer, but the court shall send a copy of the order, signed by the employee, to the employer and request his co-operation in deducting support payments. For each payment deducted in compliance with such request, the employer shall receive one dollar to cover the expense created by the deduction, which amount shall be deducted from the money due the employee. Compliance by an employer with the court's request shall operate as a discharge of his liability to the employee as to the affected portion of the employee's wages.

Any employer who dismisses an employee due to the entry of an assignment order commits a public offense and upon conviction shall be fined not more than one hundred dollars. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10482; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §598.15; 63GA, ch 1266,§24]

Referred to in §598.22

598.24 Contempt proceedings initiated by interested party — costs taxable to party in default. Nothing in this chapter shall prohibit the party entitled to support payments, or an interested party from initiating contempt proceedings on his own motion. If the defaulting party is found to be in contempt, the costs of such proceedings, including attorney's fees for the party initiating the proceedings in an amount deemed reasonable by the court, shall be taxed against such party. [63GA, ch 1266, §25]

Referred to in §598.34

598.25 Termination of jurisdiction of court granting marriage dissolution decree. Whenever a proceeding is initiated in a court for adoption involving the children of parents or guardians whose marriage has been dissolved, or for modification of a judgment of alimony, child support, or custody granted in an action for dissolution of marriage, the following requirements must be met if such proceedings are initiated in a court other than the court which granted the dissolution decree.

1. The party initiating such proceedings must present to the court the names and addresses of the parties to the dissolution decree if known, as well as the name and place of the court which granted the dissolution decree.

2. The court in which the proceedings are initiated shall, if possible, cause notice of such proceedings to be served upon the parties to the original action.

Such court, or either of the parties to the dissolution decree, may request that a copy of the transcript of the proceedings of the court which granted the dissolution decree be made available for consideration in the new proceedings. [63GA, ch 1266, §26]

598.26 Record — impounding — violation indictable. The record and evidence in all cases where a marriage dissolution is sought shall be closed to all but the court and its officers, and access thereto shall be refused until a decree of dissolution has been entered. If the action is dismissed judgment for costs shall be entered in the judgment docket and lien index. The clerk shall maintain a separate docket for dissolution of marriage actions. No officer or other person shall permit a copy of any of the testimony, or pleading, or the substance thereof, to be made available to any person other than a party or attorney to the action. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit publication of the original notice as provided by the rules of civil procedure. Violation of the provisions of this section shall be a public offense, punishable by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail not more than thirty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. [63GA, ch 1266, §27, ch 1267, §1(2, 3)]

598.27 Remarriage. In every case in which a marriage dissolution is decreed, neither party shall marry again within a year from the date of the filing of said decree unless permission to do so is granted by the court. Nothing herein contained shall prevent the persons whose marriage has been dissolved from remarrying each other. Any person marrying contrary to the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished accordingly. [S13, §3181; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§10484, 10485; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §§598.17, 598.18; 63GA, ch 1266, §28]

Punishment 687.7

598.28 Separate maintenance and annulment. A petition shall be filed in separate maintenance and annulment actions as in actions for dissolution of marriage, and all applicable provisions of this chapter in relation thereto shall apply to separate maintenance and annulment actions. [C73, §2232; C97, §3183; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10487; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §598.20; 63GA, ch 1266, §29]

598.29 Annuling illegal marriage — causes. Marriage may be annulled for the following causes:

1. Where the marriage between the parties is prohibited by law.

2. Where either party was impotent at the time of marriage.

3. Where either party had a husband or wife living at the time of the marriage, provided they have not, with a knowledge of such fact, lived and cohabited together after the death or marriage dissolution of the former spouse of such party.

4. Where either party was mentally ill or a mental retardate at the time of the marriage. [C73, §2231; C97, §3182; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10486; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §598.19; 63GA, ch 1266, §30]

598.30 Validity determined. When the validity of a marriage is doubted, either party may file a petition, and the court shall decree it annulled or affirmed according to the proof. [C73, §2233; C97, §3184; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §10488; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §598.21; 63GA, ch 1266, §31]

598.31 Children—legitimacy. Children born to the parties, or to the wife, in a marriage relationship which may be terminated or annulled pursuant to the provisions of this chapter shall be legitimate as to both parties, unless the court shall decree otherwise according to the proof. [C73, §§2234, 2235; C97, §§3185, 3186; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §§10489, 10490; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §§598.22, 598.23; 63GA, ch 1266, §32, ch 1267, §1(4)]

598.32 Alimony. In case either party entered into the contract of marriage in good faith, supposing the other to be capable of contracting, and the marriage is declared a nullity, such fact shall be entered in the decree, and the court may decree such innocent party compensation as in case of dissolution of marriage. Such sums may serve to reduce the amount of the welfare payments granted such recipient. The board of social welfare shall have the right to secure support payments in default through proceedings provided for in chapter 252A or section 598.24.

MINORS

599.1 Period of minority.

599.2 Contracts—disaffirmance.

599.3 Misrepresentations — engaging in business.

599.4 Payments.

599.5 Veterans minority disabilities.

599.1 Period of minority. The period of minority extends to the age of twenty-one years, but all minors attain their majority by marriage, and females, after reaching the age of eighteen years, may make valid contracts for marriage the same as adults. [C51,§1487; R60,§2539; C73,§2237; C97,§3188; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10492; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§599.1]

599.2 Contracts—disaffirmance. A minor is bound not only by contracts for necessities, but also by his other contracts, unless he disaffirms them within a reasonable time after he attains his majority, and restores to the other party all money or property received by him by virtue of the contract, and remaining within his control at any time after his attaining his majority except as otherwise provided. [C51,§1488; R60,§2540; C73,§2238; C97,§3189; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10493; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§599.2]

599.3 Misrepresentations—engaging in business. No contract can be thus disaffirmed in cases where, on account of the minor's own misrepresentations as to his majority, or from his having engaged in business as an adult, the other party had good reason to believe him capable of contracting. [C51,§1489; R60,§2541; C73,§2239; C97,§3190; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10494; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§599.3]

599.4 Payments. Where a contract for the personal services of a minor has been made with him alone, and the services are afterwards performed, payment therefor made to him, in accordance with the terms of the contract, is a full satisfaction therefor, and the parent or guardian cannot recover a second time. [C51,§1490; R60,§2542; C73,§2240; C97, §3191; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§10495; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§599.4]

599.5 Veterans minority disabilities. The disability of minority of any person otherwise eligible for guaranty or insurance of a loan pursuant to the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944*, as amended and of the minor spouse of any eligible veteran, irrespective of his or her age, in connection with any transaction entered into pursuant to said Act, as amended, is hereby removed for all purposes in connection with such transaction, including, but not limited to, incurring of indebtedness or obligations, and acquiring, encumbering, selling, releasing or conveying property or any interest therein, and litigating or settling controversies arising therefrom, if all or part of any obligations incident to such transaction be guaranteed or insured by the administrator of veterans affairs pursuant to such Act; provided, nevertheless, that this section shall not be construed to impose any other or greater rights or liabilities than would exist if such person and such spouse were under no such disability. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§599.5]

600.1 Who may adopt—petition. Any person of lawful age may petition the district court of the county in which he or the child resides for permission to adopt any child not his own, but no person other than the parent of a child may assume the permanent care and custody of a child under fourteen years of age except in accordance with the provisions of this chapter or chapter 238. If the petitioner be married, the spouse shall join in the petition unless such spouse is a natural parent of the child. An adult may be adopted, and only such provisions of this chapter shall apply thereto as the court may order. The judges of the district court may designate a municipal court judge to act as judge in adoption matters with jurisdiction in cases arising in the county in which such municipal court is organized.

The petition for adoption shall be verified and filed in triplicate and shall state the name, age, race, residence and religious faith as nearly as may be of the petitioner or petitioners and of the child; the marital status of the petitioner or petitioners; the property rights of the child; the name to be given the child after adoption; if the child be an orphan the name and place of residence of its guardian, if any, and if none, of its next of kin; the name of any licensed child-placing agency as defined in chapter 238, to which such child has been permanently committed or released; the relationship of the child to the petitioner or petitioners; and the facts disclosing consent as required in this section and in section 600.3 and the information required pursuant to section 144.20 or a statement that such information is not available after diligent inquiry. The clerk of the court shall forthwith transmit two copies of said petition to the director of the division of child and family services of the department of social services, or the designated qualified person or agency as directed by the court except in cases of children under the jurisdiction and control of a director of a division of the department of social services, and excepting adult adoptions and cases where the investigation is waived by the court as authorized by this chapter. Provided that where the director of the division of child and family services does not otherwise receive the petition, the clerk shall immediately forward one copy thereof to such director. Relinquishment of custody, §238.26 et seq.

600.2 Investigation — minimum residence. The state department of social services, or a qualified person or agency named by the court, after an order of the court, shall proceed to verify the allegations of the petition; to investigate the conditions and antecedents of the child for the purpose of ascertaining whether he is a proper subject for adoption; and to make appropriate inquiry to determine whether the proposed foster home is a suitable one for the child. The investigation shall be completed and a report with recommendations made to the court within sixty days from the date of the filing of the petition. No petition shall be granted until the investigation is completed. Nothing herein contained shall prevent the court from conducting any other investigation which it may deem necessary or proper. No petition shall be granted until the child shall have lived for twelve months in the proposed home. Such period of residence may be shortened by the court upon good cause shown when satisfied that the proposed home and the child are suited to each other. The state department of social services may, and upon order of the court shall, make a further investigation during the period of residence and a final report with recommendations to the court. The investigation and period of residence may be waived by the court where the petitioner or one of the petitioners is related to the child within the third degree of consanguinity or where the petitioner is married to a natural parent of the child. [C27, 31, 35,§10501-b2; C39,§10501.2; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§600.2; 63GA, ch 152,§66]

600.3 Consent to adoption. No person may assign, relinquish, or otherwise transfer to another his rights or duties with respect to the permanent care or custody of a child under fourteen years of age except in accordance with this chapter. The consent of both parents shall be given to such adoption unless one is dead, or is considered hopelessly mentally ill, or is imprisoned for a felony, or is an inmate or keeper of a house of ill fame, or unless the parents are not married to each other, or unless the parent or parents have signed a release of the child in accordance with the statute on child placing. If the relationship between a parent and a child has been terminated as provided in chapter 232 or terminated under a law or court decision of another state, by final court order which is not then appealable, the consent of such parent shall not be necessary; and in lieu of the consent of such parent, consent to such adoption may be given by the person, department, agency, or institution to which guardianship of the child has been transferred or by the court terminating such parent-child relationship if the court has not transferred such guardianship. If not married to each other, the parent having the care and providing for the wants of the child may give consent. If the child is not in the custody of either parent, but is in the care of a duly appointed guardian, then the consent of such guardian shall be necessary. Where the child is a ward of the state in a state institution the consent of the director of a division of the department of social services in control of such institution shall be first obtained before said adoption shall be effective. If the child has been given by written release to a licensed child welfare agency in accordance with the statute on child placing, the consent of the agency to whom the release was made shall be necessary. When the child adopted is fourteen years of age or over, his consent shall also be necessary. The consent shall be in writing and verified and a copy shall be attached to the petition. The consent shall refer to and be applicable only to the specific adoption proposed by such petition. Minority of a parent shall not invalidate a consent. [R60,§2601; C73,§2308; C97,§3251; C24, §10497; C27, 31, 35,§10501-b3; C39,§10501.3; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§600.3; 62GA, ch 209,§441, ch 396,§1(1, 2); 63GA, ch 285,§1]

600.4 Notice of hearing. When the parents of any minor child are dead or have abandoned him, and he has no guardian in the state, the court may order such notice of a hearing on such petition as he may determine or such notice may be waived. The court shall provide for such hearings in adoption proceedings as may be necessary and shall prescribe notice thereof. All hearings in adoption proceedings shall be private and conducted only in the presence of those persons designated by the court. Upon the time of filing said petition of adoption, such notice of pendency of adoption proceedings as the court shall prescribe shall be given to a divorced parent not having custody of the child. [C27, 31, 35,§10501-b4; C39, §10501.4; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§600.4]

600.5 Decree—change of name. If upon the hearing the court shall be satisfied as to the identity and relationship of the persons concerned, and that the petitioners are able to properly rear and educate the child, and that the petition should be granted, a decree shall be entered in the office of the clerk, setting forth the facts including as far as known the name of the child, of its parents and of the persons adopting it, and the name under which the child is thereafter to be known, and ordering that from the date thereof, the child shall be the child of the petitioners. The clerk shall deliver to the foster parents a certified copy of the decree. If desired, the court, in and by said decree, may change the name of the child. [R60,§2601; C73,§2308; C97,§3251; C24,§10498; C27, 31, 35,§10501-b5; C39,§10501.5; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§600.5]

600.6 Status of the adopted child. Upon the entering of such decree, the rights, duties, and relationships between the child and parent by adoption shall be the same that exist between parents and child by lawful birth and the right of inheritance from each other shall be the same as between parent and children born in lawful wedlock. [R60,§2603; C73,§2310; C97, §3253; S13,§3253; C24,§10500; C27, 31, 35,§10501-b6; C39,§10501.6; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§600.6]

600.7 Annulment. If within five years after the adoption, a child develops mental retardation, epilepsy, mental illness, or venereal infection, or an otherwise permanent and serious disability as a result of conditions existing prior to the adoption, and of which the adopting parent has no knowledge or notice, a petition setting forth such facts may be filed with the district court of the county where the adoptive parents are residing. If upon hearing the facts alleged are proved, the court may annul the adoption and refer the child to the juvenile court or take such other action as the case may require. In every such proceeding it shall be the duty of the county attorney to represent the interests of the child. [C27, 31, 35,§10501-b7; C39,§10501.7; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§600.7]

600.8 Records of adoption. The findings of the court in any petition for adoption shall be made a complete record and same shall be filed as are other records of the court, but in addition thereto, the clerk of court shall cause two copies thereof to be sent to the director of the division of child and family services of the department of social services and also to the appropriate director of the division of the department of social services in control of the institution from which such child was obtained if the child for adoption is a ward of the state. 600.9 Sealing record—order of court to open. The complete record in adoption proceedings, after filing with the clerk of the court, shall be sealed by said clerk, and the record shall not thereafter be opened except on order of the court. [C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §600.9]

600.10 Disclosure—penal provisions. Every person, excepting adopting parents or adopted child, who discloses any information contained in any adoption papers or proceedings except as may be authorized by order of court and every person who violates any of the pro-

JOINDER OF ACTIONS

Rule—Actions joined, R.C.P. 22.

Rule—Actions joined — multiple plaintiffs, R.C.P. 23.

Rule—Permissive joinder of defendants, R.C.P. 24.

Rule—Necessary parties—nonjoinder, R.C.P. 25.

Rule—Parties partly interested, R.C.P. 26.

Rule—Remedy for misjoinder, R.C.P. 27.

Rule—Dependent remedies joined, R.C.P. 28.

RULE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE No. 22

Actions joined. A single plaintiff may join in the same petition as many causes of action, legal or equitable, independent or alternative, as he may have against a single defendant. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R.C.P. 31

RULE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE No. 23

Actions joined — multiple plaintiffs. Any number of persons who claim any relief, jointly, severally or alternatively, arising out of or respecting the same transaction, occurrence or series of transactions or occurrences, may join as plaintiffs in a single action, when it presents or involves any question of law or fact common to all of them. They may join any causes of action, legal or equitable, independent or alternative, held by any one or more of them which arise out of such transaction, occurrence or series, and which present or involve any common question of law or fact. [Report 1943]

Permissive joinder of defendants.

(a) Generally. Any number of defendants may be joined in one action which asserts against them, jointly, severally or in the alternative, any right to relief in respect of, or arising out of the same transaction, occurrence, or series of transactions or occurrences, when any question of law or fact common to all of them is presented or involved.

(b) Special provisions—joint common carriers. Sections 613.3* to 613.6*, inclusive, of the Code, relating to joint common carriers shall remain in force. [Report 1943]

*Repealed by 61GA, ch 413, §10102; see ch 554

Necessary parties—nonjoinder.

(a) Except as provided in this rule, all persons having a joint interest in any action shall be joined on the same side, but such persons failing to join as plaintiffs may be made defendants. This rule does not apply to class actions under rules 42-47, nor affect the options permitted by sections 613.1 and 613.2 of the Code.

(b) A party is indispensable if his interest is not severable, and his absence will prevent the court from rendering any judgment between the parties before it; or if notwithstanding his absence his interest would necessarily be inequitably affected by a judgment rendered between those before the court.

(c) If an indispensable party is not before the court, it shall order him brought in. When persons are not before the court who, although not indispensable, ought to be parties if complete relief is to be accorded between those already parties, and when necessary jurisdiction can be obtained by service of original notice in any manner provided by these rules or by statute, the court shall order their names added as parties and original notice served upon them. If such jurisdiction cannot be had except by their consent or voluntary appearance, the court may proceed with the hearing and determination of the cause, but the judgment rendered therein shall not affect their rights or liabilities. [Report 1943]

For method of bringing in parties, see rule 34

RULE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE No. 26

Parties partly interested. A party need not be interested in obtaining or defending against all the relief demanded. Judgment may be given respecting one or more parties according to their respective rights or liabilities. [Report 1943]

See rules 121 and 186

RULE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE No. 27

Remedy for misjoinder.

(a) Parties. Misjoinder of parties is no ground for dismissal of the action, but parties may be dropped by order of the court on its own motion or that of any party at any stage of the action, on such terms as are just, or any claim against a party improperly joined may be severed and proceeded with separately.

For separate trials as to separate parties, see rule 186

(b) Actions. The only remedy for improper joinder of actions shall be by motion. On such motion the court shall either order the causes docketed separately or strike those causes which should be stricken, always retaining at least one cause docketed in the original case. Before ruling on such motion, the party whose pleading is attacked may withdraw any of the causes claimed to be misjoined. [Report 1943]

RULE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE No. 28

Dependent remedies joined. An action heretofore cognizable only after another has been prosecuted to conclusion may be joined with the latter; and the court shall grant relief according to the substantive rights of the parties. But there shall be no joinder of an action against an indemnitor or insurer with one against the indemnified party, unless a statute so provides. [Report 1943]

[Report 1943; amended by legislative Act, 58GA, ch 152,§200]

RULE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE No. 35

Right of interpleader. A person who is or may be exposed to multiple liability or vexatious litigation because of several claims against him for the same thing, may bring an equitable action of interpleader against all such claimants. Their claims or titles need not have a common origin, nor be identical, and may be adverse to, or independent of each other. Such person may dispute his liability, wholly or in part. [Report 1943]

RULE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE No. 36

By defendants. A defendant to an action which exposes him to similar liability or litigation may obtain such interpleader by counterclaim or cross-petition. [Report 1943]

For procedure to bring in, see rule 34

RULE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE No. 37

Deposit—discharge. If a party initiating interpleader admits liability for, or nonownership of, any property or amount involved, the court may order it deposited in court or otherwise preserved, or secured by bond. After such deposit the court, on hearing all parties, may absolve the depositor from obligation to such parties as to the property or amount deposited, before determining the rights of the adverse claimants. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R.C.P. 38

RULE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE No. 38

Substitution of claimant. If a defendant seeks an interpleader involving a third person, the latter may appear and make himself a defendant in lieu of the original defendant, who may then be discharged on complying with rule 37. [Report 1943]

RULE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE No. 39

Injunction. After petition and returns of original notices are filed in an interpleader, the court may enjoin all parties before it from beginning or prosecuting any other suit as to the subject of the interpleader until its further order. [Report 1943]

For injunctions generally, see rule 320 et seq.

RULE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE No. 40

Sheriff or officer—creditor. When a sheriff or other officer is sued for taking personal property under a writ, or for the property so taken, he may exhibit such writ to the court, with his affidavit that the property involved was taken under it. The attaching or execution creditor shall then be joined with the officer as a defendant; or may join on his own application. Any judgment against the officer and creditor shall provide that the latter's property be first exhausted to discharge it. [Report 1943]

See rule 224

613.16 Parental responsibility for actions of children.

1. The parent or parents of an unemancipated minor child under the age of eighteen years shall be liable for actual damages to person or property caused by unlawful acts of such child. However, a parent who is not entitled to legal custody of the minor child at the time of the unlawful act shall not be liable for such damages.

a. Not more than one thousand dollars for any one act.

b. Not more than two thousand dollars, payable to the same claimant, for two or more acts.

3. The word "person" for the purpose of this section shall include firm, association, partnership or corporation.

4. When an action is brought on parental responsibility for acts of their children, the parents shall be named as defendants therein and, in addition, the minor child shall be named as a defendant. The filing of an answer by the parents shall remove any requirement that a guardian ad litem be required. [63GA, ch 291,§1]

Referred to in §624.38

613.17 Emergency assistance in an accident.

Any person, who in good faith renders emergency care or assistance without compensation at the place of an emergency or accident, shall not be liable for any civil damages for acts or omissions unless such acts or omissions constitute recklessness. [63GA, ch 292,§1]

CHAPTER 613A

613A.1 Definitions.

613A.2 Liability imposed.

613A.3 Actual knowledge of defect as defense.

613A.4 Claims exempted.

613A.5 Limitation of actions.

613A.6 Death—claim presented by another.

613A.7 Insurance.

613A.8 Officers and employees defended.

613A.9 Compromise and settlement.

613A.10 Tax to pay judgment or settlement.

613A.11 Claims not retrospective.

613A.1 Definitions. As used in this chapter, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

1. "Municipality" means city, town, county, township, school district, and any other unit of local government.

2. "Governing body" means the council of a city or town, county board of supervisors, board of township trustees, local school board, and other boards and commissions exercising quasi-legislative, quasi-executive, and quasi-judicial power over territory comprising a municipality.

3. "Tort" means every civil wrong which results in wrongful death or injury to person or injury to property and includes but is not restricted to actions based upon negligence, breach of duty, and nuisance. [62GA, ch 405,§1]

613A.2 Liability imposed. Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, every municipality is subject to liability for its torts and those of its officers, employees, and agents acting within the scope of their employment or duties, whether arising out of a governmental or proprietary function. [62GA, ch 405,§2]

Referred to in §§613A.4, 613A.5, 613A.7, 613A.9, 613A.10

613A.3 Actual knowledge of defect as defense. In any action subject to the provisions of this chapter or section 389.12, an affirmative showing that the injured party had actual knowledge of the existence of the alleged obstruction, disrepair, defect, accumulation, or nuisance at the time of the occurrence of the injury, and a further showing that an alternate safe route was available and known to the injured party, shall constitute a defense to the action. [62GA, ch 405,§3]

613A.4 Claims exempted. The liability imposed by section 613A.2 shall have no application to any claim enumerated in this section. As to any such claim, a municipality shall be liable only to the extent liability may be imposed by the express statute dealing with such claims and, in the absence of such express statute, the municipality shall be immune from liability.

1. Any claim by an employee of the municipality which is covered by the Iowa workmen's compensation law.

2. Any claim in connection with the assessment or collection of taxes.

3. Any claim based upon an act or omission of an officer or employee, exercising due care, in the execution of a statute, ordinance, or officially adopted resolution, rule, or regulation of a governing body.

4. Any claim against a municipality as to which the municipality is immune from liability by the provisions of any other statute or where the action based upon such claim has been barred or abated by operation of statute or rule of civil procedure.

The remedy against the municipality provided by section 613A.2 for injury or loss of property or personal injury or death resulting from any act or omission of an officer or employee in the execution of a statute or ordinance, or officially adopted resolution, rule or regulation of a governing body while acting in the scope of his office or employment shall hereafter be exclusive of any other civil action or proceeding by reason of the same subject matter against the officer or employee whose act or omission gave rise to the claim, or his estate. [62GA, ch 405,§4]

Referred to in §613A.7

613A.5 Limitation of actions. Every person who claims damages from any municipality for or on account of any wrongful death, loss or injury within the scope of section 613A.2 shall commence an action therefor within three months, unless said person shall cause to be presented to the governing body of the municipality within sixty days after the alleged wrongful death, loss or injury a written notice stating the time, place, and circumstances thereof and the amount of compensation or other relief demanded. Failure to state the amount of compensation or other relief demanded shall not invalidate the notice; providing, the claimant shall furnish full information regarding the nature and extent of the injuries and damages within fifteen days after demand by the municipality. No action therefor shall be maintained unless such notice has been given and unless the action is commenced within two years after such notice. The time for giving such notice shall include a reasonable length of time, not to exceed ninety days, during which the person injured is incapacitated by his injury from giving such notice. [62GA, ch 405,§5]

613A.6 Death—claim presented by another. When the claim is one for death by wrongful act or omission, the notice may be presented by the personal representative, surviving spouse, or next of kin, or the consular officer of the foreign country of which the deceased was a citizen, within one year after the alleged injury resulting in such death; but if the person for whose death the claim is made has presented a notice that would have been sufficient had he lived, an action for wrongful death may be brought without additional notice. [62GA, ch 405,§6]

liability insurance within the field of its operation. The procurement of such insurance constitutes a waiver of the defense of governmental immunity as to those exceptions listed in section 613A.4 to the extent stated in such policy but shall have no further effect on the liability of the municipality beyond the scope of this chapter. The existence of any insurance which covers in whole or in part any judgment or award which may be rendered in favor of the plaintiff, or lack of any such insurance, shall not be material in the trial of any action brought against the governing body of any municipality, or their officers, employees or agents and any reference to such insurance, or lack of same, shall be grounds for a mistrial. [62GA, ch 405,§7]

613A.8 Officers and employees defended. The governing body shall defend any of its officers and employees, whether elected or appointed and, except in cases of malfeasance in office or willful or wanton neglect of duty, shall save harmless and indemnify such officers and employees against any tort claim or demand, whether groundless or otherwise, arising out of an alleged act or omission occurring in the performance of duty. Any independent or autonomous board or commission of a municipality having authority to disburse funds for a particular municipal function without approval of the governing body shall similarly defend, save harmless and indemnify its officers and employees against such tort claims or demands. This section is intended to confer power in addition to that conferred by section 368A.1. [62GA, ch 405,§8]

Referred to in §§260.27, 613A.9, 613A.10

613A.9 Compromise and settlement. The governing body of any municipality may compromise, adjust and settle tort claims against the municipality, its officers, employees and agents, for damages under sections 613A.2 or 613A.8 and may appropriate money for the payment of amounts agreed upon. [62GA, ch 405,§9]

613A.10 Tax to pay judgment or settlement. When a final judgment is entered against or a settlement is made by a municipality for a claim within the scope of sections 613A.2 or 613A.8, payment shall be made and the same remedies shall apply in the case of nonpayment as in the case of other judgments against the municipality. If said judgment or settlement is unpaid at the time of the adoption of the annual budget, it shall budget an amount sufficient to pay the judgment or settlement together with interest accruing thereon to the expected date of payment. Such tax may be levied in excess of any millage limitation imposed by statute. [62GA, ch 405,§10]

613A.11 Claims not retrospective. This chapter shall have no application to any occurrence or injury claim or action arising prior to January 1, 1968. [62GA, ch 405,§11]

MARKETABLE RECORD TITLE

614.29 Definitions. As used in this division:

1. "Marketable record title" means a title of record, as indicated in section 614.31, which operates to extinguish such interests and claims, existing prior to the effective date of the root of title, as are stated in section 614.33.
2. "Records" includes probate and other official public records, as well as records in the office of the county recorder.
3. "Recording", when applied to the official public records of a probate or other court, includes filing.
4. "Person dealing with the land" includes a purchaser of any estate or interest therein, a mortgagee, a levying or attaching creditor, a land contract vendee, or any other person, corporation, or entity seeking to acquire an estate or interest therein, or impose a lien thereon.
5. "Root of title" means that conveyance or other title transaction or other link in the chain of title of a person, purporting to create the interest claimed by such person, upon which he relies as a basis for the marketability of his title, and which was the most recent to be recorded or established as of a date forty years prior to the time when marketability is being determined. The effective date of the "root of title" is the date on which it is recorded.

6. "Title transaction" means any transaction affecting title to any interest in land, including title by will or descent, title by tax deed, or deed by trustee, referee, guardian, executor, administrator, master in chancery, sheriff, or any other form of deed, or decree of any court, as well as warranty deed, quitclaim deed, mortgage, or transfer or conveyance of any kind. [63GA, ch 281,§1]

Referred to in §614.81

614.30 Construction liberal. This division shall be liberally construed to effect the legislative purpose of simplifying and facilitating land title transactions by allowing persons to rely on a record chain of title as described in section 614.31, subject only to such limitations as appear in section 614.32. [63GA, ch 281,§2]

614.31 Forty-year chain of title. Any person who has an unbroken chain of title of record to any interest in land for forty years or more, shall be deemed to have a marketable record title to such interest as defined in section 614.29, subject only to the matters stated in section 614.32. A person shall be deemed to have such an unbroken chain of title when the official public records disclose a conveyance or other title transaction, of record not less than forty years at the time the marketability is to be determined, which said conveyance or other title transaction purports to create such interest, either in:

1. The person claiming such interest, or

2. Some other person from whom, by one or more conveyances or other title transactions of record, such purported interest has become vested in the person claiming such interest; with nothing appearing of record, in either case, purporting to divest such claimant of such purported interest. [63GA, ch 281,§3]

Referred to in §§614.29, 614.30

614.32 What interests and rights subject. Such marketable record title shall be subject to:

1. All interests and defects which are inherent in the muniments of which such chain of record title is formed; provided however, that a general reference in such muniments, or any of them, to easements, use restrictions or other interests created prior to the root of title shall not be sufficient to preserve them, unless specific identification be made therein of a recorded title transaction which creates such easement, use restriction, or other interest.

2. All interest preserved by the filing of proper notice or by possession by the same owner continuously for a period of forty years or more, in accordance with section 614.34.

3. The rights of any person arising from a period of adverse possession or user, which was in whole or in part subsequent to the effective date of the root of title.

4. Any interest arising out of a title transaction which has been recorded subsequent to the effective date of the root of title from which the unbroken chain of title of record is started; provided such recording shall not revive or give validity to any interest which has been extinguished prior to the time of the recording by the operation of section 614.33.

5. The exceptions as stated and set forth in section 614.36. [63GA, ch 281,§4]

Referred to in §§614.30, 614.81, 614.33

614.33 Free and clear of other interests not stated. Subject to the matters stated in section 614.32, such marketable record title shall be held by its owner and shall be taken by any person dealing with the land free and clear of all interests, claims or charges whatsoever, the existence of which depends upon any act, transaction, event or omission that occurred prior to the effective date of the root of title. All such interests, claims or charges, however denominated, whether legal or equitable, present or future, whether such interest, claims or charges are asserted by a person able to assert a claim on his own behalf or under a disability, whether such person is within or without the state, whether such person is natural or corporate, or is private or governmental, are hereby declared to be null and void. [63GA, ch 281,§5]

Referred to in §§614.29, 614.32

614.34 Preserving interest during forty-year period.

1. Any person claiming an interest in land may preserve and keep effective such interest by filing for record during the forty-year period immediately following the effective date of the root of title of the person whose record title would otherwise be marketable, a notice in writing duly verified by oath or affirmation setting forth the nature of the claim. No disability or lack of knowledge of any kind on the part of anyone shall suspend the running of said forty-year period. Such notice may be filed for record by the claimant or by any other person acting on behalf of any claimant who is:

a. Under a disability,

b. Unable to assert a claim on his own behalf, or

c. One of a class, but whose identity cannot be established or is uncertain at the time of filing such notice of claim for record.

2. If the same record owner of any possessory interest in land has been in possession of such land continuously for a period of forty years or more, during which period no title transaction with respect to such interest appears of record in his chain of title, and no notice has been filed by him or on his behalf as provided in subsection 1, and such possession continues to the time when marketability is being determined, such period of possession shall be deemed equivalent to the filing of the notice immediately preceding the termination of the forty-year period described in subsection 1. [63GA, ch 281,§6]

Referred to in §614.82

614.35 Recording interest. To be effective and to be entitled to record the notice above referred to shall contain an accurate and full description of all land affected by such notice which description shall be set forth in particular terms and not by general inclusions; but if said claim is founded upon a recorded instrument, then the description in such notice may be the same as that contained in such recorded instrument. Such notice shall be filed for record in the office of the county recorder of the county or counties where the land described therein is situated. The recorder of each county shall accept all such notices presented to him which describe land located in the county in which he serves and shall enter and record full copies thereof in the same way that deeds and other instruments are recorded, and each recorder shall be entitled to charge the same fees for the recording thereof as are charged for recording deeds. In indexing such notices in his office each recorder shall enter such notices under the grantee indexes of deeds in the names of the claimants appearing in such notices. Such notices shall also be indexed under the description of the real estate involved in a book set apart for that purpose to be known as the "claimant's book." [63GA, ch 281,§7]

614.36 Lessors, reversioners and easements. This division shall not be applied to bar any lessor or his successor as a reversioner of his right to possession on the expiration of any lease; or to bar or extinguish any easement or interest in the nature of an easement, the existence of which is apparent from or can be proved by physical evidence of its use; or to bar any right, title or interest of the United States, by reason of failure to file the notice herein required. [63GA, ch 281,§8]

Referred to in §614.32

614.37 Limitation statutes not extended. Nothing contained in this division shall be construed to extend the period for the bringing of an action or for the doing of any other required act under any statutes of limitations, nor, except as herein specifically provided, to effect the operation of any statutes governing the effect of the recording or the failure to record any instrument affecting land. It is intended that nothing contained in this division be interpreted to revive or extend the period of filing a claim or bringing an action that may be limited or barred by any other statute. [63GA, ch 281,§9]

614.38 Period extension in certain cases. If the forty-year period specified in this division shall have expired prior to one year after July 1, 1969, such period shall be extended one year after July 1, 1969. [63GA, ch 281,§10]

If a foreign corporation makes a contract with a resident of Iowa to be performed in whole or in part by either party in Iowa, or if such foreign corporation commits a tort in whole or in part in Iowa against a resident of Iowa, such acts shall be deemed to be doing business in Iowa by such foreign corporation for the purpose of service of process or original notice on such foreign corporation under this section, and, if the corporation does not have a registered agent or agents in the state of Iowa, shall be deemed to constitute the appointment of the secretary of state of the state of Iowa to be its true and lawful attorney upon whom may be served all lawful process or original notice in actions or proceedings arising from or growing out of such contract or tort. If a nonresident person makes a contract with a resident of Iowa to be performed in whole or in part by either party in Iowa, or if such person commits a tort in whole or in part in Iowa against a resident of Iowa, such acts shall be deemed to be doing business in Iowa by such person for the purpose of service of process or original notice on such person under this section, and shall be deemed to constitute the appointment of the secretary of state of the state of Iowa to be the true and lawful attorney of such person upon whom may be served all lawful process or original notice in actions or proceedings arising from or growing out of such contract or tort. The term "nonresident person" shall include any person who was, at the time of the tort, a resident of the state of Iowa but who removed from the state before the commencement of such action or proceedings and ceased

Such notification shall be mailed to each such foreign corporation at the address of its principal office in the state or country under the laws of which it is incorporated and to each such nonresident person at his address in the state of his residence. The defendant shall have sixty days from the date of such filing with the secretary of state within which to appear. Proof of service shall be made by filing in court the duplicate copy of the process or original notice with the secretary of state's certificate of filing, and the affidavit of the plaintiff or his attorney of compliance herewith.

The secretary of state shall keep a record of all processes or original notices so served upon him, recording therein the time of service and his actions with reference thereto, and he shall promptly return one of said duplicate copies to the plaintiff or his attorney, with a certificate showing the time of filing thereof in his office.

For the purpose of determining whether an action has been commenced within the time allowed by statutes for limitation of actions, the filing of the original notice with the secretary of state shall be deemed a commencement of the action.

The original notice of suit filed with the secretary of state shall be in form and substance the same as provided in suits against residents of this state, except that that part of said notice pertaining to the return day shall be in substantially the following form, to wit:

Copies of the documents shall be filed with the request unless copies have already been furnished. Within ten days after the filing thereof, or within such shorter or longer time as the court may allow on motion and notice, the party to whom the request is directed shall file in duplicate either (a) a sworn statement specifically admitting or denying the matters of which an admission is requested or setting forth in detail the reasons why he cannot truthfully admit or deny those matters, or (b) written objections on the ground that some or all of the requested admissions are privileged or irrelevant or that the request is otherwise improper in whole or in part. If written objections are filed to any of the requests, the time for answering all the requests shall be suspended until the objections are ruled on. At the hearing upon the objections, if it is determined that any of the requests shall be answered, the court shall fix the time within which answers shall be made. A denial shall fairly meet the substance of the requested admission, and when good faith requires that a party qualify his answer or deny only a part of the matter of which an admission is requested, he shall specify so much of it as is true and deny only the remainder. If the adverse party is an individual, he need only furnish information which is within his personal knowledge. If the adverse party is a public or private corporation or a partnership or association, the sworn statement shall be by an officer, partner or managing agent thereof on the basis of such information as is available to the party. (b) If the party examined thus requests and obtains the examiner's report, or takes the examiner's deposition, he waives any privilege in that action or any other involving the same controversy, regarding the testimony of any physician or other person as to the condition for which the examination was ordered.

Thereafter, on reasonable notice to all persons affected thereby, he may apply to the court in which the action is pending or to a court of record in the district where the deposition is taken for an order compelling an answer. Upon the refusal of a deponent to answer any interrogatory submitted under rule 150 or upon the refusal of a party to answer any interrogatory submitted under rule 121, the proponent of the question may on like notice make like application for such an order. If the motion is granted, and if the court finds that the refusal was without substantial justification, the court shall require the refusing party or deponent or the party advising the refusal, or any of them, to pay the examining party the amount of the reasonable expenses incurred in obtaining the order, including reasonable attorney fees. If the motion is denied, and if the court finds that the motion was made without substantial justification, the court shall require the examining party advising the motion to pay to the refusing party or witness the amount of the reasonable expenses incurred in opposing the motion, including reasonable attorney fees.

(b) Failure to comply with order.

(1) Contempt. If a party or other witness refuses to be sworn or refuses to answer any question after being directed to do so by the court, the refusal may be considered a contempt of that court.

(2) Other consequences. If any party or an officer, partner or managing agent of a party refuses to obey an order made under subdivision (a) of this rule requiring him to answer designated questions, or an order made under rules 129, 130 and 131, to produce any document or other thing for inspection, copying or photographing, or to permit it to be done, or to permit entry upon land or other property, or an order made under rules 132 and 133 requiring him to submit to a physical or mental examination, the court may make such orders in regard to the refusal as are just, and among others the following:

An order refusing to allow the disobedient party to support or oppose designated claims or defenses, or prohibiting him from introducing in evidence designated documents or things or items of testimony, or from introducing evidence of physical or mental condition;

An order striking out pleadings or parts thereof, or staying further proceedings until the order is obeyed, or dismissing the action or proceeding or any part thereof, or rendering a judgment by default against the disobedient party.

(c) Expenses on refusal to admit. If a party, after being served with a request under rules 127 and 128 to admit the genuineness of any documents or the truth of any matters of fact, serves a sworn denial thereof, and if the party requesting the admissions thereafter proves the genuineness of any such document or the truth of any such matter of fact, he may apply to the court for an order requiring the other party to pay him the reasonable expenses incurred in making such proof, including reasonable attorney fees. No expenses as aforesaid shall be allowed unless the court finds that the admissions sought were of substantial importance and the denial was not made in good faith.

(d) Failure of party to attend or file answers. If a party or an officer, partner or managing agent of a party willfully fails to appear before the officer who is to take his deposition or submit to the taking thereof after being served with a proper notice, or willfully fails to continue the taking of his deposition after the commencement thereof, or fails to file answers to interrogatories submitted under rule 121, the court on motion and notice may strike out all or any part of any pleading of that party, or dismiss the action or proceeding or any part

If any business, institution, member of a profession or calling, or any department or agency of government, in the regular course of business or activity has kept or recorded any memorandum, writing, entry print, representation or combination thereof, of any act, transaction, occurrence or event and in the regular course of business has caused any or all of the same to be recorded, copied or reproduced by any photographic, photostatic, microfilm, microcard, miniature photographic, or other process which accurately reproduces or forms a durable medium for so reproducing the original, the original may be destroyed in the regular course of business unless held in a custodial or fiduciary capacity or unless its preservation is required by law, except if the originals are records, reports or other papers of a county officer they shall not be destroyed until they have been preserved for ten years. Such reproduction, when satisfactorily identified, is as admissible in evidence as the original itself in any judicial or administrative proceeding whether the original is in existence or not and an enlargement or facsimile of such reproduction is likewise admissible in evidence if the original reproduction is in existence and available for inspection under direction of court. The introduction of a reproduced record, enlargement or facsimile, does not preclude admission of the original. [S13,§4623; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§11283; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§622.30]
