2. Misappropriates property which the person has in trust, or property of another which the person has in his or her possession or control, whether such possession or control is lawful or unlawful, by using or disposing of it in a manner which is inconsistent with or a denial of the trust or of the owner's rights in such property, or conceals found property, or appropriates such property to his or her own use, when the owner of such property is known to him or her. Failure by a bailee or lessee of personal property to return the property within seventy-two hours after a time specified in a written agreement of lease or bailment shall be evidence of misappropriation.

3. Obtains the labor or services of another, or a transfer of possession, control, or ownership of the property of another, or the beneficial use of property of another, by deception. Where compensation for goods and services is ordinarily paid immediately upon the obtaining of such goods or the rendering of such services, the refusal to pay or leaving the premises without payment or offer to pay or without having obtained from the owner or operator the right to pay subsequent to leaving the premises gives rise to an inference that the goods or services were obtained by deception.

4. Exercises control over stolen property, knowing such property to have been stolen, or having reasonable cause to believe that such property has been stolen, unless the person's purpose is to promptly restore it to the owner or to deliver it to an appropriate public officer. The fact that the person is found in possession of property which has been stolen from two or more persons on separate occasions, or that the person is a dealer or other person familiar with the value of such property and has acquired it for a consideration which is far below its reasonable value, shall be evidence from which the court or jury may infer that the person knew or believed that the property had been stolen.

5. Takes, destroys, conceals or disposes of property in which someone else has a security interest, with intent to defraud the secured party.

6. Makes, utters, draws, delivers, or gives any check, share draft, draft, or written order on any bank, credit union, person or corporation, and obtains property or service in exchange therefor, if the person knows that such check, share draft, draft or written order will not be paid when presented.

Whenever the drawee of such instrument has refused payment because of insufficient funds, and the maker has not paid the holder of the instrument the amount due thereon within ten days of the maker's receipt of notice from the holder that payment has been refused by the drawee, the court or jury may infer from such facts that the maker knew that the instrument would not be paid on presentation. Notice of refusal of payment shall be by certified mail, or by personal service in the manner prescribed for serving original notices.

Whenever the drawee of such instrument has refused payment because the maker has no account with the drawee, the court or jury may infer from such fact that the maker knew that the instrument would not be paid on presentation.

7. Any act that is declared to be theft by any provision of the Code. [C51,§2612, 2615-2618, 2620, 2621; R60,§806, 807, 4236, 4237, 4240-4243, 4245, 4246, 4251; C73,§3895, 3902, 3905-3911, 3915; C97, §4831, 4837-4842, 4844, 4845, 4850, 4852, 5076; S13,§4850, 4852-c, -d, -e; C24,§13005, 13010, 13014-13016, 13018, 13027, 13030, 13031, 13035-13037, 13042, 13046-13048, 13052;

714.2 Degrees of theft.

1. The theft of property exceeding five thousand dollars in value, or the theft of property from the person of another, or from a building which has been destroyed or left unoccupied because of physical disaster, riot, bombing, or the proximity of battle, or the theft of property which has been removed from a building because of a physical disaster, riot, bombing, or the proximity of battle, is theft in the first degree. Theft in the first degree is a class "C" felony.

2. The theft of any property not exceeding five hundred dollars in value by one who has before been twice convicted of theft, or the theft by any other person of property exceeding five hundred dollars but not exceeding five thousand dollars in value or theft of a motor vehicle as defined in chapter 321, irrespective of value, is theft in the second degree. Theft in the second degree is a class "D" felony.

3. The theft of property exceeding one hundred dollars but not exceeding five hundred dollars in value is theft in the third degree. Theft in the third degree is an aggravated misdemeanor.

4. The theft of property exceeding fifty dollars in value but not exceeding one hundred dollars in value is theft in the fourth degree. Theft in the fourth degree is a serious misdemeanor.

5. The theft of property not exceeding fifty dollars in value is theft in the fifth degree. Theft in the fifth degree is a simple misdemeanor. [C51,§2612, 2618; R60,§4237, 4243, 4247, 4251; C73,§3902, 3908, 3915; C97,§4831, 4840, 4846, 4850; S13,§4850; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13006, 13016, 13026, 13028; C46, 50, 54, 58,§709.2, 709.9, 709.19, 710.2; C62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§709.2, 709.9, 709.19, 709.20, 710.2; C79,§714.2]

714.3 Value. The value of property is its normal market or exchange value within the community at the time that it is stolen. If money or property is stolen by a series of acts from the same person or location, or from different persons by a series of acts which occur in approximately the same location or time period so that the thefts are attributable to a single scheme, plan or conspiracy, such acts may be considered a single theft and the value may be the total value of all the property stolen. [C51,§2625; R60,§4250; C73,§3909, 3914; C97,§4842, 4849; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13007, 13032; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§709.3, 710.6; C79,§714.3]

714.4 Claim of right. No person who takes, obtains, disposes of, or otherwise uses or acquires property, is guilty of theft by reason of such act if the person reasonably believes that he or she has a right, privilege or license to do so, or if the person does in fact have such right, privilege or license. [C79,§714.4]

714.5 Evidence of intention. The fact that a person has concealed library materials as defined in section 702.22 or unpurchased property of a store or other mercantile establishment, either on the premises or outside the premises, is material evidence of intent to deprive the owner, and the finding of library materials or unpurchased property concealed upon the person or among the belongings of the person, is material evidence of intent to deprive and, if the person conceals or causes to be concealed library materials or unpurchased property, upon the person or among the belongings of another, the finding of the same is also material evidence of intent to deprive on the part of the person concealing the library materials or goods.

The fact that a person fails to return library materials for six months after the date the person agreed to return the library materials is evidence of intent to deprive the owner, provided a reasonable attempt has been made to reclaim the materials. Notices stating the provisions of this section and of section 808.12 with regard to library materials shall be posted in clear public view in all public libraries, in all libraries of educational, historical or charitable institutions, organizations or societies, in all museums and in all repositories of public records.

In the case of lost library materials, arrangements may be made to make a monetary settlement. [C62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §709.21; C79, §714.5; 68GA, ch 145, §2]
Referred to in §808.12

714.6 Land. The mere trespass on or occupation of land, contrary to the rights of the owner thereof, is not theft. [C79, §714.6]

714.7 Operating vehicle without owner's consent. Any person who shall take possession or control of any railroad vehicle, or any self-propelled vehicle, aircraft, or motor boat, the property of another, without the consent of the owner of such, but without the intent to permanently deprive the owner thereof, shall be guilty of an aggravated misdemeanor. A violation of this section may be proved as a lesser included offense on an indictment or information charging theft. [C97, §4813, 4814; S13, §4823; C24, 27, 31, 35, §13092, 13125-13127; C39, §5006.05, 13125-13127; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §321.76, 716.13-716.15; C79, §714.7]

714.8 Fraudulent practices defined. A person who does any of the following acts is guilty of a fraudulent practice.

1. Makes, tenders or keeps for sale any warehouse receipt, bill of lading, or any other instrument purporting to represent any right to goods, with knowledge that the goods represented by such instrument do not exist.

2. Knowingly attaches or alters any label to any goods offered or kept for sale so as to materially misrepresent the quality or quantity of such goods, or the maker or source of such goods.

3. Knowingly executes or tenders any false affidavit or certificate, which is required by law, or which is given in support of any claim for compensation, indemnification, restitution, or other payment.

4. Makes any entry in or alteration of any public records, or any records of any corporation, partnership, or other business enterprise or nonprofit enterprise, knowing the same to be false.

5. Removes, alters or defaces any serial or other identification number, or any owners' identification mark, from any property not his or her own.

6. For the purpose of soliciting assistance, contributions, or other thing of value, falsely represents oneself to be a veteran of the armed forces of the United States, or a member of any fraternal, religious, charitable, or veterans organization, or any pretended organization of a similar nature, or to be acting on behalf of such person or organization.

7. Manufactures, sells, or keeps for sale any token or device suitable for the operation of a coin-operated device or vending machine, with the intent that such token or device may be so used, or with the representation that they can be so used; provided, that the owner or operator of any coin-operated device or vending machine may sell slugs or tokens for use in his or her own devices.

8. Manufactures or possesses any false or counterfeit label, with the intent that it be placed on merchandise to falsely identify its origin or quality, or who sells any such false or counterfeit label with the representation that it may be so used.

9. Alters or renders inoperative or inaccurate any meter or measuring device used in determining the value of or compensation for the purchase, use or enjoyment of property, with the intent to defraud any person.

10. Does any act expressly declared to be a fraudulent practice by any other section of the Code.

11. Removes, defaces, covers, alters, or destroys any component part number as defined in section 321.1, subsection 74, or vehicle identification number as defined in section 321.1, subsection 75, for the purpose of concealing or misrepresenting the identity of the component part or vehicle.

12. Knowingly transfers or assigns a legal or equitable interest in property, as defined in section 702.14, for less than fair consideration, with the intent to obtain public assistance under title XI, The Code, or accepts a transfer of or an assignment of a legal or equitable interest in property, as defined in section 702.14, for less than fair consideration, with the intent of enabling the party transferring the property to obtain public assistance under title XI, The Code. A transfer or assignment of property for less than fair consideration within one year prior to an application for public assistance benefits shall be evidence of intent to transfer or assign the property in order to obtain public assistance for which a person is not eligible by reason of the amount of the person's assets. If a person is found guilty of a fraudulent practice in the transfer or assignment of property under this subsection the maximum sentence shall be the penalty established for a serious misdemeanor and sections 714.9, 714.10 and 714.11 shall not apply. [C51, §2744, 2755; R60, §4394, 4405; C73, §4073, 4084, 4088; C97, §5041, 5056, 5068; C24, 27, §13045, 13058, 13059, 13071; C31, 35, §13045, 13058, 13059, 13071, 13092-d1; C39, §13045, 13058, 13059, 13071, 13092.1; C46, §713.1, 713.13, 713.14, 713.26, 714.12; C50, 54, 58,

Fraudulent practice in the fifth degree is a simple misdemeanor. [C79,§714.13]

714.14 Value for purposes of fraudulent practices. The value of property or service is its normal market or exchange value, if any, within the community at the time the fraudulent practice is committed.

If money or property or service is obtained by a series of acts from the same person or location, or from different persons by a series of acts which occur in approximately the same location or time period so that the fraudulent practices are attributable to a single scheme, plan, or conspiracy, such acts may be considered as a single fraudulent practice and the value may be the total value of all money, property, and service involved. [C79,§714.14]

Referred to in §96 16

714.15 Reproduction of sound recordings. For the purposes of this section:

"Person" shall mean person as defined in section 4.1, subsection 13.

"Owner" means any person who owns the original fixation of sounds embodied in the master phonograph record, master disc, master tape, master film or other device used for reproducing sounds on phonograph records, discs, tapes, films, or other articles upon which sound is recorded, and from which the transferred recorded sounds are derived.

1. Except as provided in subsection 3, it is unlawful for a person knowingly to:

a. Transfer or cause to be transferred any sounds recorded on a phonograph record, disc, wire, tape, film or other article without the consent of the owner; or

b. Sell; distribute; circulate; offer for sale, distribution or circulation; possess for the purpose of sale, distribution or circulation; or cause to be sold, distributed, circulated; offered for sale, distribution or circulation; or possessed for sale, distribution or circulation, any article or device on which sounds have been transferred without the consent of the person who owns the master phonograph record, master disc, master tape or other device or article from which the sounds are derived.

2. It is unlawful for a person to sell, distribute, circulate, offer for sale, distribution or circulation or possess for the purposes of sale, distribution or circulation, any phonograph record, disc, wire, tape, film or other article on which sounds have been transferred unless the phonograph record, disc, wire, tape, film or other article bears the actual name and address of the transferor of the sounds in a prominent place on its outside face or package.

3. This section does not apply to a person who transfers or causes to be transferred sounds intended for or in connection with radio or television broadcast transmission or related uses, synchronized sound tracks of motion pictures or sound tracks recorded for synchronizing with motion pictures, for archival purposes or for the personal use of the person transferring or causing the transfer and without any compensation being derived by the person from the transfer.

4. A person who violates the provisions of this section is guilty of theft. [C77,§713.44, 713.45; C79,§714.15]

See also 66GA, ch 250, §1, 2, 66GA, ch 1245(4), §515

714.16 Consumer frauds.

1. Definitions:

a. The term "advertisement" includes the attempt by publication, dissemination, solicitation or circulation to induce directly or indirectly any person to enter into any obligation or acquire any title or interest in any merchandise;

b. The term “merchandise” includes any objects, wares, goods, commodities, intangibles, securities, bonds, debentures, stocks, real estate or services;

c. The term “person” includes any natural person or his legal representative, partnership, corporation (domestic and foreign), company, trust, business entity or association, and any agent, employee, salesman, partner, officer, director, member, stockholder, associate, trustee or cestui que trust thereof;

d. The term “sale” includes any sale, offer for sale, or attempt to sell any merchandise for cash or on credit.

e. The term “subdivided lands” refers to improved or unimproved land or lands divided or proposed to be divided for the purpose of sale or lease, whether immediate or future, into five or more lots or parcels; provided, however, it does not apply to the leasing of apartments, offices, stores or similar space within an apartment building, industrial building or commercial building unless an undivided interest in the land is granted as a condition precedent to occupying space in said structure.

2. a. The act, use or employment by any person of any deception, fraud, false pretense, false promise, misrepresentation, or the concealment, suppression, or omission of any material fact with intent that others rely upon such concealment, suppression or omission, in connection with the sale or advertisement of any merchandise, whether or not any person has in fact been misled, deceived or damaged thereby, is declared to be an unlawful practice.

“Material fact” as used in this subsection does not include repairs of damage to or adjustments on or replacements of parts with new parts of otherwise new merchandise if the repairs, adjustments or replacements are made to achieve compliance with factory specifications and are made before sale of the merchandise at retail and the actual cost of any labor and parts charged to or performed by a retailer for any such repairs, adjustments and parts does not exceed three hundred dollars or ten percent of the actual cost to a retailer including freight of the merchandise, whichever is less, providing that the seller posts in a conspicuous place notice that repairs, adjustments or replacements will be disclosed upon request. The exemption provided in this paragraph does not apply to the concealment, suppression or omission of a material fact if the purchaser requests disclosure of any repair, adjustment or replacement.

b. The advertisement for sale, lease or rent, or the actual sale, lease, or rental of any merchandise at a price or with a rebate or payment or other consideration to the purchaser which is contingent upon the procurement of prospective customers provided by the purchaser, or the procurement of sales, leases, or rentals to persons suggested by the purchaser, is declared to be an unlawful practice rendering any obligation incurred by the buyer in connection therewith, completely void and a nullity. The rights and obligations of any contract relating to such contingent price, rebate, or payment shall be interdependent and inseverable from the rights and obligations relating to the sale, lease, or rental.

c. It shall be unlawful for any person to advertise the sale of merchandise at reduced rates due to the cessation of business operations and after the date of the first such advertisement remain in business under the same, or substantially the same, ownership, under the same, or substantially the same trade name, or continue to offer for sale the same type of merchandise at the same location for more than one hundred twenty days.

d. (1) No person shall offer or advertise within this state for sale or lease, any subdivided lands without first filing with the real estate commission, true and accurate copies of all road plans, plats, field notes and diagrams of water, sewage and electric power lines as they exist at the time of such filing, provided such filing shall not be required for a subdivision subject to section 306.21 or chapter 409. Each such filing shall be accompanied by a fee of fifty dollars for each subdivision included, payable to the real estate commission.

(2) False or misleading statements filed pursuant to subparagraph 1 of paragraph “d” of this subsection or section 306.21 or chapter 409, and advertising, offers to sell, or contracts not in substantial conformity with the filings made pursuant to section 306.21 or chapter 409 are unlawful.

e. Any violations of chapter 123 or any other provisions of law by a manufacturer, distiller, vintner, importer, or any other person participating in the distribution of alcoholic liquor or beer as defined in chapter 123.

3. When it appears to the attorney general that a person has engaged in, is engaging in, or is about to engage in any practice declared to be unlawful by this section or when he believes it to be in the public interest that an investigation should be made to ascertain whether a person in fact has engaged in, is engaging in or is about to engage in, any such practice, he may:

a. Require such person to file on such forms as he may prescribe a statement or report in writing under oath or otherwise, as to all the facts and circumstances concerning the sale or advertisement of merchandise by such person, and such other data and information as he may deem necessary;

b. Examine under oath any person in connection with the sale or advertisement of any merchandise;

c. Examine any merchandise or sample thereof, record, book, document, account or paper as he may deem necessary; and

d. Pursuant to an order of a district court impound any record, book, document, account, paper, or sample of merchandise that is produced in accordance with this section, and retain the same in his possession until the completion of all proceedings in connection with which the same are produced.

4. a. To accomplish the objectives and to carry out the duties prescribed by this section, the attorney general, in addition to other powers conferred upon him by this section, may issue subpoenas to any person, administer an oath or affirmation to any person, conduct hearings in aid of any investigation or inquiry, prescribe such forms and promulgate such rules as may be necessary, which rules shall have the force of law.

b. No information or evidence provided the attorney general by a person pursuant to subsections 3 and 4 of this section shall be admitted in evidence, or used in any manner whatsoever, in any criminal prosecution. If a criminal prosecution under the provisions of this section is initiated in a state court against a person who has provided information pursuant to subsections 3 and 4 of this section, the state shall have the burden of proof that the information so provided was not used in any manner to further the criminal investigation or prosecution.

c. In any civil action brought pursuant to this chapter, the attorney general shall have the right to require any defendant to give testimony, and no criminal prosecution based upon transactions or acts about which he is questioned and required to give testimony shall thereafter be brought against such defendant.

5. Service by the attorney general of any notice requiring a person to file a statement or report, or of a subpoena upon any person, shall be made personally within this state, but if such cannot be obtained, substituted service therefor may be made in the following manner:

a. Personal service thereof without this state; or

b. The mailing thereof by registered mail to the last known place of business, residence or abode within or without this state of such person for whom the same is intended; or

c. As to any person other than a natural person, in the manner provided in the Rules of Civil Procedure as if a petition had been filed; or

d. Such service as a district court may direct in lieu of personal service within this state.

6. If any person fails or refuses to file any statement or report, or obey any subpoena issued by the attorney general, the attorney general may, after notice, apply to a district court and, after hearing thereof, request an order:

a. Granting injunctive relief, restraining the sale or advertisement of any merchandise by such persons;

b. Dissolving a corporation created by or under the laws of this state or revoking or suspending the certificate of authority to do business in this state of a foreign corporation or revoking or suspending any other licenses, permits or certificates issued pursuant to law to such person which are used to further the allegedly unlawful practice; and

c. Granting such other relief as may be required; until the person files the statement or report, or obeys the subpoena.

7. Whenever it appears to the attorney general that a person has engaged in, is engaging in or is about to engage in any practice declared to be unlawful by this section he may seek and obtain in an action in a district court an injunction prohibiting such person from continuing such practices or engaging therein or doing any acts in furtherance thereof. The court may make such orders or judgments as may be necessary to prevent the use or employment by a person of any prohibited practices, or which may be necessary to restore to any person in interest any moneys or property, real or personal which may have been acquired by means of any practice in this section declared to be unlawful including the appointment of a receiver in cases of substantial and willful violation of the provisions of this section.

8. When a receiver is appointed by the court pursuant to this section, he shall have the power to sue for, collect, receive and take into his possession all the goods and chattels, rights and credits, moneys and effects, lands and tenements, books, records, documents, papers, choses in action, bills, notes and property of every description, derived by means of any practice declared to be illegal and prohibited by this section, including property with which such property has been mingled if it cannot be identified in kind because of such commingling, and to sell, convey, and assign the same and hold and dispose of the proceeds thereof under the direction of the court. Any person who has suffered damages as a result of the use or employment of any unlawful practices and submits proof to the satisfaction of the court that he has in fact been damaged, may participate with general creditors in the distribution of the assets to the extent he has sustained out-of-pocket losses. In the case of a partnership or business entity, the receiver shall settle the estate and distribute the assets under the direction of the court. The court shall have jurisdiction of all questions arising in such proceedings and may make such orders and judgments therein as may be required.

9. Subject to an order of the court terminating the business affairs of any person after receivership proceedings held pursuant to this section, the provisions of this section shall not bar any claim against any person who has acquired any moneys or property, real or personal, by means of any practice herein declared to be unlawful.

10. In any action brought under the provisions of this section, the attorney general is entitled to recover costs for the use of this state.

11. If any provision of this section or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid, the invalidity shall not affect other provisions of applications of the section which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application and to this end the provisions of this section are severable.

12. Nothing contained in this section shall apply to the owner or publisher of newspapers, magazines, publications or printed matter wherein such advertisement appears, or to the owner or operator of a radio or television station which disseminates such advertisement when the owner, publisher or operator has no knowledge of the intent, design or purpose of the advertiser; and provided, further, that nothing herein contained shall apply to any advertisement which complies with the rules and regulations of, and the statutes administered by the federal trade commission. [S13,§5051-a; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13069, 13070; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§713.24, 713.25; C66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§713.24; C79, §714.16; 68GA, ch 148,§1]

Real estate contracts, dual prohibited, §117 45

This section was not enacted as a part of the criminal code but was transferred here from §713 24, Code 1977

714.17 Unlawful advertising and selling courses of instruction. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, association, or corporation maintaining, advertising, or conducting in Iowa any course of instruction for profit, or for tuition charge, whether by classroom instructions or by correspondence, to:

1. Falsely advertise or represent to any person any matter material to such course of instruction. All advertising of such courses of instruction shall adhere to and comply with the rules and regulations of the federal trade commission as of July 4, 1965.

2. Collect tuition or other charges in excess of one hundred fifty dollars in the case of correspondence courses of study, in advance of the receipt and approval by the pupil of the first assignment or lesson of such course. Any contract providing for advance payment of more than one hundred fifty dollars shall be voidable on the part of the pupil or any person liable for the tuition provided for in the contract.

3. Promise or guarantee employment utilizing information, training, or skill purported to be provided or otherwise enhanced by a course, unless the promisor or guarantor offers the student or prospective student a bona fide contract of employment agreeing to employ said student or prospective student for a period of not less than one hundred twenty days in a business or other enterprise regularly conducted by the promisor or guarantor and in which such information, training, or skill is a normal condition of employment. [C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §713A.1; C79, §714.17]

Sections 714.17 to 714.22 were not enacted as a part of the criminal code but were transferred here from chapter 713A, Code 1977

714.18 Bond filed. Every person, firm, association, or corporation maintaining or conducting in Iowa any such course of instruction, by classroom instruction or by correspondence, or soliciting in Iowa the sale of such course, shall file with the superintendent of public instruction:

1. A continuous corporate surety bond to the state of Iowa in the sum of fifty thousand dollars conditioned for the faithful performance of all contracts and agreements with students made by such person, firm, association, or corporation, or their salesmen; provided, however, that the aggregate liability of the surety for all breaches of the conditions of the bond shall, in no event, exceed the sum of said bond. The surety on the bond shall have the right to cancel said bond upon giving thirty days' written notice to the superintendent of public instruction and thereafter shall be relieved of liability for any breach of condition occurring after the effective date of said cancellation.

2. A statement designating a resident agent for the purpose of receiving service in civil actions. In the absence of such designation, service may be had upon the superintendent of public instruction if service cannot otherwise be made in this state.

3. A copy of any catalog, prospectus, brochure, or other advertising material intended for distribution in Iowa. Such material shall state the cost of the course offered, the schedule of refunds for portions of the course not completed, and if no refunds are to be paid, the material shall so state. Any contract induced by advertising materials not previously filed as provided in this chapter shall be voidable on the part of the pupil or any person liable for the tuition provided for in the contract. [C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §713A.2; C79, §714.18]

Referred to in §714.19, 714.21, 714.22

714.19 Nonapplicability. None of the provisions of sections 714.17 to 714.22 shall apply to the following:

1. Colleges or universities authorized by the laws of Iowa or any other state or foreign country to grant degrees.

2. Schools of nursing accredited by the board of nurse examiners or an equivalent public board of another state or foreign country.

3. Public schools.

4. Private and nonprofit schools recognized by the state department of public instruction or a local school board for the purpose of complying with chapter 299 and employing certified teachers.

5. Nonprofit schools exclusively engaged in training physically handicapped persons in the state of Iowa.

6. Schools and educational programs conducted by firms, corporations, or persons for the training of their own employees, for which no fee is charged.

7. Seminars, refresher courses and schools of instruction sponsored by professional, business, or farming organizations or associations for the members and employees of members of such organizations or associations.

8. Private business schools accredited by the accrediting commission for business schools or an acknowledged accrediting agency.

9. Any school licensed under the provisions of section 157.8 or 158.7.

10. Private college preparatory schools approved or probationally approved under the provisions of section 257.25, subsection 13. [C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §713A.3; C79, §714.19]

Referred to in §714.22

714.20 One contract per person. It shall be unlawful to sell more than one lifetime contract to any one person. [C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §713A.4; C79, §714.20]

Referred to in §714.19, 714.21, 714.22

714.21 Penalty. Violation of any of the provisions of section 714.17, 714.18 or 714.20 shall be a serious misdemeanor. [C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §713A.5; C79, §714.21]

Referred to in §714.19, 714.22

Constitutionality, 61GA, ch 440, §6

714.22 Trade and vocational schools—exemption—conditions. The provisions of sections 714.17 to 714.22 shall not apply to trade or vocational schools if they meet either of the following conditions:

1. File a bond or a bond is filed on their behalf by a parent corporation with the superintendent of public instruction as required by section 714.18, subsection 2.

2. File an annual sworn statement, or such statement is filed on their behalf by a parent corporation, certified by a certified public accountant, showing all assets and liabilities of the trade or vocational school and the assets of a parent corporation. The statement shall show the trade or vocational school's net worth, or the net worth of the parent corporation, to be not less than five times the amount of the bond required by section 714.18, subsection 2. In the event that a parent corporation files such statement or its net worth is included therein to comply with this subsection, such parent corporation shall appoint a registered agent and otherwise be subject to section 714.18, subsection 2 and shall be liable for the breach of any contract or agreement with students as well as liable for any fraud in connection therewith or for any violation of section 714.16 by such trade or vocational school or any of its agents or salesmen. [C73, 75, 77, §713A.6; C79, §714.22]

Referred to in §714.19

CHAPTER 715

FALSE USE OF A FINANCIAL INSTRUMENT

Referred to in §701.1

See ch 718, §713.35, 713.39, Code 1977

Chapter 715, Code 1977, repealed by 66GA, ch 1245(4), §526

715.1 Financial instrument defined.

715.2 Use of a financial instrument defined.

715.3 Intent and knowledge.

715.4 Proof of intent.

715.5 Person defined.

715.6 False use of a financial instrument.

715.7 Filing multiple counts in one information, indictment, or complaint.

715.1 Financial instrument defined. A financial instrument is any of the following:

1. A check, bill note, draft, bond receipt, or any writing which ostensibly evidences an obligation of, or surrender of right or claim by, the person who has purportedly executed it or authorized its execution. "Writing" includes printing or any other method of recording information, money, coins, tokens, stamps, seals, credit cards, badges, trademarks, and other symbols of value, right, privilege, or identification.

2. Any deed, will or testamentary document, bill of sale, warehouse receipt, bill of lading, or any writing which purports to convey an interest in some property, or to be evidence of or to establish a right in some property.

3. Any letter, credit card, charge plate, or other device which is designed to identify the person tendering such device as one to whom credit may be extended, or as one to whom goods or services may be furnished and charged to the account of another.

4. Any endorsement, acceptance, acknowledgment, codicil, or any writing of any kind upon or ancillary to any financial instrument which does or purports to affect such instrument or the rights or obligations evidenced thereby. [C51, §2626, 2637; R60, §4253, 4264; C73, §3917, 3928; C97, §4853, 4864; S13, §4853; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13139, 13147; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §718.1, 718.9; C79, §715.1]

715.2 Use of financial instrument defined. One uses a financial instrument when he or she does any of the following:

1. Makes or executes such instrument or an endorsement thereon, or alters such instrument so as to materially change its nature or the right or obligation which it purports to represent.

2. Tenders or offers such instrument to another in the course of a financial or commercial transaction, with the representation, either express or by implication, that the instrument is what it purports to be and that he or she is a person who is shown on its face to be one who may rightfully so use such instrument.

3. Possesses such instrument, knowing it to be false or knowing that he or she has no right to use or possess it. [C51, §2630; R60, §4257; C73, §3921, 3925; C97, §4857, 4871; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13143, 13157; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §718.5, 718.19; C79, §715.2]

715.3 Intent and knowledge. The term "intent to obtain fraudulently anything of value" includes the intent to deliver a financial instrument to another, knowing that the other person intends to use the instrument to obtain fraudulently something of value.

One acts with knowledge of facts when the person has information which would put a reasonable person on inquiry as to such facts, but acts without making a reasonable inquiry. [C79, §715.3]

715.4 Proof of intent. The intent to obtain fraudulently anything of value shall not be proved by the mere possession of a falsified financial instrument or a financial instrument which the possessor has no right to use. [C79, §715.4]

715.5 Person defined. The term "person" as used in this chapter means a natural person, a fiduciary, a state, a private or public corporation or de facto corporation of any kind, or an officer or agent thereof, and includes fictitious persons or corporations. It is immaterial that any person whom the instrument on its face identifies as having the right to use it, does or does not have such a right, or whether such person does or does not actually exist. [C79, §715.5]

715.6 False use of a financial instrument. The use of a financial instrument with the intent to obtain fraudulently anything of value by one who knows that the instrument is not what it purports to be, or who knows that he or she is not the person nor the authorized agent of the person who, as shown on the instrument, has the right to so use the instrument, shall constitute the false use of a financial instrument. False use of a financial instrument is a class "C" felony. [C51, §2627, 2629, 2631, 2634-2636, 2641; R60, §4254, 4256, 4258, 4261-4263, 4268; C73, §3918, dictment, or complaint charging false use of a financial instrument may allege more than one such violation against a person. The multiple charges shall be set out in separate counts, and the accused person shall be acquitted or convicted upon each count by a separate verdict. A convicted person shall be sentenced upon each verdict of guilty. The court may consider separate verdicts of guilty returned at the same time as one offense for the purpose of sentencing. [C79,§715.7]

3920, 3922, 3925-3927, 3932; C97,§4854, 4856, 4858, 4861-4863, 4868, 5069; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13057, 13140, 13142, 13144, 13146, 13153-13155; C46,§713.12, 718.2, 718.4, 718.6, 718.8, 718.15-718.17; C50, 54, 58, 62,§713.12, 713.35, 718.2, 718.4, 718.6, 718.8, 718.15-718.17; C66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§713.12, 713.35, 713.39, 718.2, 718.4, 718.6, 718.8, 718.15-718.17; C79,§715.6]

CHAPTER 716

DAMAGE AND TRESPASS TO PROPERTY

Referred to in §701.1

Chapter 716, Code 1977, repealed by 66GA, ch 1245(4), §526; see §708.6, 714.7, 716.1, 716.3 and 727.8

716.1 Criminal mischief defined.

716.2 Multiple acts.

716.3 Criminal mischief in the first degree.

716.4 Criminal mischief in the second degree.

716.5 Criminal mischief in the third degree.

716.6 Criminal mischief in the fourth degree.

716.7 Trespass defined.

716.8 Penalties.

716.1 Criminal mischief defined. Any damage, defacing, alteration, or destruction of tangible property is criminal mischief when done intentionally by one who has no right to so act. [C51,§2679, 2681-2683, 2686-2688, 2690, 2715, 2753; R60,§1766, 4319, 4321-4323, 4326-4328, 4330-4332, 4357, 4403; C73,§1564, 3897-3899, 3978, 3980-3982, 3985-3987, 3989-3992, 4021, 4082; C97,§588, 2466, 4800-4806, 4808, 4809, 4812, 4822-4828, 5054; S13,§1989-a15, 4808, 4822, 4823, 4830-a, -b, -c; SS15,§2900-e; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13080, 13082, 13083, 13085, 13088-13091, 13093-13099, 13102, 13107, 13112-13117, 13122, 13124; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§714.1, 714.3-714.5, 714.8-714.11, 714.14-714.20, 714.23, 714.28, 716.1-716.6, 716.9, 716.12; C79,§716.1]

716.2 Multiple acts. Whenever criminal mischief is committed upon more than one item of property at approximately the same location or time period, so that all of these acts of mischief can be attributed to a single scheme, plan or conspiracy, such acts shall be considered as a single act of criminal mischief. [C79,§716.2]

716.3 Criminal mischief in the first degree. Criminal mischief is criminal mischief in the first degree if the cost of replacing, repairing, or restoring the property so damaged, defaced, altered, or destroyed is more than five thousand dollars, or if such acts are intended to or do in fact cause a substantial interruption or impairment of service rendered to the public by a gas, electric, steam or waterworks corporation, telephone or telegraph corporation, common carrier, or a public utility operated by a municipality. Criminal mischief in the first degree is a class "C" felony. [C51,§2680; R60,§4320; C73,§3979; C97,§4807; S13,§4807; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13120; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§716.7; C79,§716.3]

716.4 Criminal mischief in the second degree. Criminal mischief is criminal mischief in the second degree if the cost of replacing, repairing, or restoring the property so damaged, defaced, altered, or destroyed exceeds five hundred dollars but does not exceed five thousand dollars. Criminal mischief in the second degree is a class "D" felony. [C79,§716.4]

716.5 Criminal mischief in the third degree. Criminal mischief is criminal mischief in the third degree if the cost of replacing, repairing, or restoring the property so damaged, defaced, altered, or destroyed exceeds one hundred dollars, but does not exceed five hundred dollars, or if the property is a deed, will, commercial paper or any civil or criminal process or other instrument having legal effect, or if the act consists of rendering substantially less effective than before any light, signal, obstruction, barricade, or guard which has been placed or erected for the purpose of enclosing any unsafe or dangerous place or of alerting persons to an unsafe or dangerous condition. Criminal mischief in the third degree is an aggravated misdemeanor.

A person commits criminal mischief in the third degree who does either of the following:

1. Intentionally disinters human remains from a burial site without lawful authority.

2. Intentionally disinters human remains that have state and national significance from an historical or scientific standpoint for the inspiration and benefit of the United States without the permission of the state archaeologist. [C51,§2638, 2714, 2746; R60,§4265, 4356, 4396; C73,§3929, 4017, 4075; C97,§4865, 4945, 5043; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13050, 13100, 13148; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§713.5, 714.21, 718.10; C79,§716.5]

716.6 Criminal mischief in the fourth degree. All criminal mischief which is not criminal mischief in the first degree, second degree or third degree is criminal mischief in the fourth degree. Criminal mischief in the fourth degree is a simple misdemeanor. [C79,§716.6]

716.7 Trespass defined.

1. The term “property” shall include any land, dwelling, building, conveyance, vehicle, or other temporary or permanent structure whether publicly or privately owned.

2. The term “trespass” shall mean one or more of the following acts:

a. Entering upon or in property without justification or without the implied or actual permission of the owner, lessee, or person in lawful possession with the intent to commit a public offense or to use, remove therefrom, alter, damage, harass, or place thereon or therein anything animate or inanimate.

b. Entering or remaining upon or in property without justification after being notified or requested to abstain from entering or to remove or vacate therefrom by the owner, lessee, or person in lawful possession, or the agent or employee of the owner, lessee, or person in lawful possession, or by any peace officer, magistrate, or public employee whose duty it is to supervise the use or maintenance of the property.

c. Entering upon or in property for the purpose or with the effect of unduly interfering with the lawful use of the property by others.

d. Being upon or in property and wrongfully using, removing therefrom, altering, damaging, harassing, or placing thereon or therein anything animate or inanimate, without the implied or actual permission of the owner, lessee, or person in lawful possession.

3. The term “trespass” shall not mean entering upon the property of another for the sole purpose of retrieving personal property which has accidentally or inadvertently been thrown, fallen, strayed, or blown onto the property of another, provided that the person retrieving the property takes the most direct and accessible route to and from the property to be retrieved, quits the property as quickly as is possible, and does not unduly interfere with the lawful use of the property. [C51,§2684; R60,§4324; C73,§3983; C97,§4793, 4829; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13086, 13374; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§714.6, 729.1; C79,§716.7]

716.8 Penalties.

1. Any person who knowingly trespasses upon the property of another commits a simple misdemeanor.

2. Any person committing a trespass as defined in section 716.7 which results in injury to any person or damage in an amount more than one hundred dollars to anything, animate or inanimate, located thereon or therein commits a serious misdemeanor. [C73, 75, 77,§729.2, 729.3; C79,§716.8]

CHAPTER 717

INJURY TO ANIMALS

Referred to in §701 1

Animal defined, §702 3

717.1 Injury to animals.

717.2 Cruelty to animals.

717.3 Exhibitions and fights.

717.1 Injury to animals. Any person who, having no right to do so, shall maliciously kill, maim, or disfigure any animal of another, or maliciously administer poison to any such animal, or expose any poisonous substance with the intent that the same should be taken by any such animal, shall be guilty of an aggravated misdemeanor. [C51,§2678; R60,§4318; C73,§3977; C97,§4818; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13132; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79,§717.1]

717.2 Cruelty to animals. Any person who shall impound or confine or cause to be impounded or confined, in any place, any domestic animal, or fowl, or any dog or cat, and fail to supply such animal during confinement with a sufficient quantity of food and water, or who shall torture, torment, deprive of necessary sustenance, mutilate, overdrive, overload, drive when overloaded, beat, or kill any such animal by any means which shall cause unjustified pain, distress or suffering, whether intentionally or negligently, shall be guilty of a simple misdemeanor. [C51,§2716; R60,§4358; C73,§4031, 4034; C97,§4969, 4972; S13,§4969; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13133, 13134; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§717.2, 717.3; C79,§717.2]

717.3 Exhibitions and fights. A person who arranges, promotes, or stages an exhibition at which any animal is tormented, or any fight between animals or between a person and an animal, or who keeps a place where such exhibitions and fights are staged for the entertainment of spectators, commits a serious misdemeanor. ## OFFENSES AGAINST THE GOVERNMENT

Chapter 718, Code 1977, repealed by 66GA, ch 1245(4), §526, see ch 715, §716.5 and 720.5

- |  |   |
|--|---|
| 718.1 Insurrection.                    | 718.4 Harassment of public officers and employees.  |
| 718.2 Impersonating a public official. | 718.5 Falsifying public documents.                  |
| 718.3 Willful disturbance.             | 718.6 False reports to law enforcement authorities. |

718.1 Insurrection. An insurrection is three or more persons acting in concert and using physical violence against persons or property, with the purpose of interfering with, disrupting, or destroying the government of the state or any subdivision thereof, or to prevent any executive, legislative, or judicial officer or body from performing its lawful function. Participation in insurrection is a class "C" felony. [C51,§2565, 2567; R60,§4188, 4190; C73,§3845, 3847; C97, §4724, 4726; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§12397, 12898, 12900, 12904; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§689.1, 689.2, 689.4, 689.8; C79,§718.1]

718.2 Impersonating a public official. Any person who falsely holds himself or herself out or assumes to act as an elected or appointed officer, magistrate, peace officer, or person authorized to act on behalf of the state or any subdivision thereof, having no authority to do so, commits an aggravated misdemeanor. [C51,§2671, 2672; R60,§4298, 4299; C73,§3962, 3963; C97, §4901, 4902; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13306, 13307; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§740.4, 740.5; C79,§718.2]

718.3 Willful disturbance. Any person who willfully disturbs any deliberative body or agency of the state, or subdivision thereof, with the purpose of disrupting the functioning of such body or agency by tumultuous behavior, or coercing by force or the threat of force any official conduct or proceeding, commits a serious misdemeanor. [C79,§718.3]

718.4 Harassment of public officers and employees. Any person who willfully prevents or attempts to prevent any public officer or employee from performing the officer's or employee's duty commits a simple misdemeanor. [C79,§718.4]

718.5 Falsifying public documents. A person who, having no right or authority to do so, makes or alters any public document, or any instrument which purports to be a public document, or who possesses a seal or any counterfeit seal of the state or of any of its subdivisions, or of any officer, employee, or agency of the state or of any of its subdivisions, commits a class "D" felony. [C51,§2628, 2642, 2677; R60,§4255, 4269, 4304; C73,§3919, 3933, 3968; C97,§1136, 4855, 4869, 4907; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13141, 13156, 13283, 13314; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §718.3, 718.8, 738.21, 740.12; C79,§718.5]

718.6 False reports to law enforcement authorities. A person who reports or causes to be reported false information to a fire department or a law enforcement authority, knowing that the information is false, or who reports the alleged occurrence of a criminal act knowing the same did not occur, commits a simple misdemeanor. [R60,§1768; C73,§1566; C97,§2468; S13,§2468; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13110, 13111; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§714.31, 714.32; C71, 73, 75, 77,§714.31, 714.32, 714.42; C79,§718.6]

719.1 Interference with official acts. A person who knowingly resists or obstructs anyone known by the person to be a peace officer in the performance of any act which is within the scope of the officer's lawful duty or authority, or who knowingly resists or obstructs the service or execution by any authorized person of any civil or criminal process or order of any court, commits a simple misdemeanor. If a person commits an interference with official acts, as defined in this section, and in so doing purposely inflicts or attempts to inflict serious injury, or displays a dangerous weapon, or is armed with a firearm, that person commits an aggravated misdemeanor. [C51,§2669; R60,§4296; C73,§3960; C97,§4899; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13331; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§742.1; C79,§719.1]

Referred to in §29A.42

719.2 Refusing to assist officer. Any person who is requested or ordered by any magistrate or peace officer to render the magistrate or officer assistance in making or attempting to make an arrest, or to prevent the commission of any criminal act, shall render assistance as required. A person who, unreasonably and without lawful cause, refuses or neglects to render assistance when so requested commits a simple misdemeanor. [C51,§2670, 2793, 2795, 2799; R60,§4297, 4489, 4491, 4495; C73, §3961, 4145, 4147, 5149; C97,§4900, 5143, 5145, 5149; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13332, 13333, 13335, 13344; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§742.2, 742.3, 742.5, 743.6; C79,§719.2]

719.3 Preventing apprehension, obstructing prosecution, or obstructing defense. A person who, with intent to prevent the apprehension or obstruct the prosecution or defense of any person, knowingly does any of the following acts, commits an aggravated misdemeanor:

1. Destroys, alters, conceals or disguises physical evidence which would be admissible in the trial of another for a public offense, or makes available false evidence or furnishes false information with the intent that it be used in the trial of that case.

2. Induces a witness having knowledge material to the subject at issue to leave the state or conceal himself or herself, or to fail to appear when subpoenaed. [C51,§2654; R60,§4281; C73,§3946; C97,§4882; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13170; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§723.1; C79,§719.3]

1. A person convicted of a felony, or charged with the commission of a felony, who intentionally escapes from any detention facility or institution to which the person has been committed by reason of such conviction or charge, or from the custody of any public officer or employee to whom the person has been entrusted, commits a class "D" felony.

2. A person convicted or charged with a misdemeanor, who intentionally escapes from any detention facility or institution to which the person has been committed by reason of such conviction or charge, or from the custody of any public officer or employee to whom the person has been entrusted, commits a serious misdemeanor.

3. Any person who has been committed to any institution under the control of the division of adult corrections, or to any jail or correctional institution, who knowingly and voluntarily absents himself or herself from any place where the person is required to be, commits a serious misdemeanor.

4. A person who flees from the state to avoid prosecution for a public offense which is a felony or aggravated misdemeanor commits a class "D" felony. [C51,§2668; R60,§4295; C73,§3959; C97,§4898; S13,§4897-a, 4898; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13351, 13353,

13358; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§745.1, 745.3, 745.8; C79,§719.4]

Referred to in §218.91, 245.11, 356A.3, 901.8

719.5 Permitting prisoner to escape. Any jailer or other public officer or employee who voluntarily permits, aids or abets in the escape or attempted escape of any person in custody by reason of a conviction or charge of any crime, commits the crime of permitting a prisoner to escape which is subject to the following penalties:

1. If the prisoner is in custody by reason of a conviction or charge of a class "A" felony, the defendant commits a class "C" felony.

2. If the prisoner is in custody by reason of a conviction or charge of any public offense other than a class "A" felony, the defendant commits a class "D" felony. [C51,§2661-2663; R60,§4288-4290; C73,§3953-3955; C97,§4891-4893; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13359-13361; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§745.9-745.11; C79,§719.5]

719.6 Assisting prisoner to escape. Any person who introduces into any detention facility or correctional institution any weapon, explosive or incendiary substance, rope, ladder, or any instrument or device by which that person intends to facilitate the escape of any prisoner, or any person who, not being authorized by law, knowingly causes any such weapon, explosive or incendiary substance, rope, ladder, instrument or device to come into the possession of any prisoner, commits the crime of assisting a prisoner to escape which is subject to the following penalties:

1. If the prisoner was confined by reason of a conviction of a class "A" felony, the defendant commits a class "C" felony.

719.7 Furnishing intoxicant to inmates. Any person not authorized by law who furnishes or knowingly makes available any intoxicating beverage to any inmate at any detention facility, correctional institution or any institution under the management of the department of social services, or who introduces any intoxicating beverage into the premises of any such institution, commits a simple misdemeanor. [C73,§1663; C97,§2712; S13,§4913-a; SS15,§2713-n16; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13365, 13366, 13368; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§745.15, 745.16, 745.18; C79,§719.7]

CHAPTER 720

INTERFERENCE WITH JUDICIAL PROCESS

Referred to in §701.1

Chapter 720, Code 1977, repealed by 66GA, ch 1245(4), §526, see §711.4

- |  |   |
|--|---|
| 720.1 Compounding a felony.                              | 720.4 Tampering with witnesses or jurors.         |
| 720.2 Perjury, contradictory statements, and retraction. | 720.5 False representation of records or process. |
| 720.3 Suborning perjury.                                 | 720.6 Malicious prosecution.                      |

720.1 Compounding a felony. A person having knowledge of the commission by another of a felony indictable in this state who receives any consideration for a promise to conceal such crime, or not to prosecute or aid or give evidence to the prosecution of such crime, compounds that felony. Compounding any felony is an aggravated misdemeanor. [C51,§2659, 2660; R60,§4286, 4287; C73,§3951, 3952; C97, §4889, 4890; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13168, 13169; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§722.1, 722.2; C79,§720.1]

720.2 Perjury, contradictory statements, and retraction. A person who, while under oath or affirmation in any proceeding or other matter in which statements under oath or affirmation are required or authorized by law, knowingly makes a false statement of material facts or who falsely denies knowledge of material facts, commits a class "D" felony. Where, while under oath or affirmation, in the same proceeding or different proceedings where oath or affirmation is required, a person has made contradictory statements, the indictment will be sufficient if it states that one or the other of the contradictory statements was false, to the knowledge of such person, and it shall be sufficient proof of perjury that one of the statements must be false, and that the person making the statements knew that one of them was false when the person made the statement, provided that both statements have been made within the period prescribed by the applicable statute of limitations. No person shall be guilty of perjury if the person retracts the false statement in the course of the proceedings where it was made before the false statement has substantially affected the proceeding. [C51,§2644; R60,§4271; C73,§3936; C97,§4872; S13,§4919-c; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13165, 13290; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§721.1, 738.28; C79,§720.2]

720.3 Suborning perjury. A person who procures or offers any inducement to another to make a statement under oath or affirmation in any proceeding or other matter in which statements under oath or affirmation are required or authorized, with the intent that such person will make a false statement, or who procures or offers any inducement to one who the person reasonably believes will be called upon for a statement in any such proceeding or matter, to conceal material facts known to such person, commits a class "D" felony. [C51,§2645, 2646; R60,§4272, 4273; C73,§3937, 3938; C97, §4873, 4874; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13166, 13167; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§721.2, 721.3; C79,§720.3]

720.4 Tampering with witnesses or jurors. A person who offers any bribe to any person who he or she believes has been or may be summoned as a witness or juror in any judicial or arbitration proceeding, or any legislative hearing, or who makes any threats toward such person or who forcibly or fraudulently detains or restrains such person, with the intent to improperly influence such witness or juror with respect to his or her testimony or decision in such case, or to prevent such person from testifying or serving in such case, or who, in retaliation for anything lawfully done by any witness or juror in any case, harasses such witness or juror, commits an aggravated misdemeanor. [C51,§2646, 2652, 2654; R60,§4273, 4279, 4281; C73,§3938, 3944, 3946; C97,§4874, 4880, 4882; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13167, 13172, 13297; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§721.3, 723.1, 739.6; C79,§720.4]

720.5 False representation of records or process. Any person who represents any document or paper to be any public record or any civil or criminal process, when the person knows such representation to be false, commits a simple misdemeanor. [C51,§2627; R60,§4254; C73,§3918; C97,§4854; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13140; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62,§718.2; C66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§713.43, 718.2; C79,§720.5]

720.6 Malicious prosecution. A person who causes or attempts to cause another to be indicted or prosecuted for any public offense, having no reasonable grounds for believing that the person committed the offense commits a serious misdemeanor. [C51,§2757; R60,§4407; C73,§4086; C97,§5058; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13163; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§719.2; C79,§720.6]

723.2 Unlawful assembly.

723.3 Failure to disperse.

723.4 Disorderly conduct.

723.1 Riot. A riot is three or more persons assembled together in a violent manner, to the disturbance of others, and with any use of unlawful force or violence by them or any of them against another person, or causing property damage. A person who willingly joins in or remains a part of a riot, knowing or having reasonable grounds to believe that it is such, commits an aggravated misdemeanor. [C51,§2740, 2741, 2743; R60,§4388, 4389, 4391; C73,§4067, 4068, 4070; C97,§5031, 5032, 5035; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13340, 13341, 13347; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§743.2, 743.3, 743.9; C79,§723.1]

723.2 Unlawful assembly. An unlawful assembly is three or more persons assembled together, with them or any of them acting in a violent manner, and with intent that they or any of them will commit a public offense. A person who willingly joins in or remains a part of an unlawful assembly, knowing or having reasonable grounds to believe that it is such, commits a simple misdemeanor. [C51,§2739, 2741; R60,§4387, 4389; C73,§4066, 4068; C97, §5030, 5032; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13339, 13341; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§743.1, 743.3; C79,§723.2]

723.3 Failure to disperse. A peace officer may order the participants in a riot or unlawful assembly or persons in the immediate vicinity of a riot or unlawful assembly to disperse. Any person within hearing distance of such command, who refuses to obey, commits a simple misdemeanor. [C51,§2797, 2798, 2801; R60,§4493, 4494, 4497; C73,§4149, 4150, 4153; C97,§5147, 5148, 5151; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13342, 13343, 13346; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§743.4, 743.5, 743.8; C79,§723.3]

723.4 Disorderly conduct. A person commits a simple misdemeanor when the person does any of the following:

1. Engages in fighting or violent behavior in any public place or in or near any lawful assembly of persons, provided, that participants in athletic contests may engage in such conduct which is reasonably related to that sport.

2. Makes loud and raucous noise in the vicinity of any residence or hospital which causes unreasonable distress to the occupants thereof.

3. Directs abusive epithets or makes any threatening gesture which the person knows or reasonably should know is likely to provoke a violent reaction by another.

4. Without lawful authority or color of authority, the person disturbs any lawful assembly or meeting of persons by conduct intended to disrupt the meeting or assembly.

5. By words or action, initiates or circulates a report or warning of fire, epidemic, or other catastrophe, knowing such report to be false or such warning to be baseless.

6. Knowingly and publicly uses the flag of the United States in such a manner as to show disrespect for the flag as a symbol of the United States, with the intent or reasonable expectation that such use will provoke or encourage another to commit a public offense.

7. Without authority or justification, the person obstructs any street, sidewalk, highway, or other public way, with the intent to prevent or hinder its lawful use by others. [C51,§2718, 2738, 2742; R60,§1768, 4360, 4386, 4390; C73,§1566, 4023, 4065, 4069; C97,§2468, 4959, 5029, 5033, 5034; S13,§2468, 5034; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13110, 13111, 13221, 13226, 13348, 13349; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§714.31, 714.32, 727.1, 728.1, 744.1, 744.2; C71, 73, 75, 77,§714.31, 714.32, 714.42, 727.1, 728.1, 744.1, 744.2; C79,§723.4]

724.1 Offensive weapons. An offensive weapon is any device or instrumentality of the following types:

1. A machine gun. A machine gun is a firearm which shoots or is designed to shoot more than one shot, without manual reloading, by a single function of the trigger.

2. A short-barreled rifle or short-barreled shotgun. A short-barreled rifle or short-barreled shotgun is a rifle with a barrel or barrels less than sixteen inches in length or a shotgun with a barrel or barrels less than eighteen inches in length, as measured from the face of the closed bolt or standing breech to the muzzle, or any rifle or shotgun with an overall length less than twenty-six inches.

3. Any weapon other than a shotgun or muzzle loading rifle, cannon, pistol, revolver or musket, which fires or can be made to fire a projectile by the explosion of a propellant charge, which has a barrel or tube with the bore of more than six-tenths of an inch in diameter, or the ammunition or projectile therefor, but not including antique weapons kept for display or lawful shooting.

4. A bomb, grenade, or mine, whether explosive, incendiary, or poison gas; any rocket having a propellant charge of more than four ounces; any missile having an explosive charge of more than one-quarter ounce; or any device similar to any of these.

5. Any part or combination of parts either designed or intended to be used to convert any device into an offensive weapon as described in subsections 1 to 4 of this section, or to assemble into such an offensive weapon, except magazines or other parts, ammunition, or ammunition components used in common with lawful sporting firearms or parts including but not limited to barrels suitable for refitting to sporting firearms.

6. An offensive weapon or part or combination of parts therefor shall not include the following:

a. An antique firearm. An antique firearm is any firearm (including any firearm with a matchlock, flintlock, percussion cap, or similar type of ignition system) manufactured in or before 1898 or any firearm which is a replica of such a firearm if such replica is not designed or redesigned for using conventional rimfire or centerfire ammunition or which uses only rimfire or centerfire fixed ammunition which is no longer manufactured in the United States and which is not readily available in the ordinary channels of commercial trade.

b. A collector's item. A collector's item is any firearm other than a machine gun that by reason of its date of manufacture, value, design, and other characteristics is not likely to be used as a weapon. The commissioner of public safety shall designate by rule firearms which he or she determines to be collector's items and shall revise or update the list of firearms at least annually.

c. Any device which is not designed or redesigned for use as a weapon; any device which is designed solely for use as a signaling, pyrotechnic, line-throwing, safety, or similar device; or any firearm which is unserviceable by reason of being unable to discharge a shot by means of an explosive and is incapable of being readily restored to a firing condition. [C27, 31, 35, §12960-b1; C39, §12960.01; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §696.1; C71, 73, 75, 77, §696.1, 697.10, 697.11; C79, §724.1]

724.2 Authority to possess offensive weapons. Any of the following is authorized to possess an offensive weapon when his or her duties or lawful activities require or permit such possession:

1. Any peace officer.
2. Any member of the armed forces of the United States or of the national guard.
3. Any person in the service of the United States.

4. Any correctional officer, serving in an institution under the authority of the division of adult corrections.

5. Any person who under the laws of this state and the United States, is lawfully engaged in the business of supplying those authorized to possess such devices.

6. Any person, firm or corporation who under the laws of this state and the United States is lawfully engaged in the improvement, invention or manufacture of firearms.

7. Any museum or similar place which possesses, solely as relics, offensive weapons which are rendered permanently unfit for use. [C27, 31, 35, §12960-b4, 12960-b5, 12960-b7; C39, §12960.04, 12960.05, 12960.07; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §696.4-696.7; C79, §724.2]

724.3 Unauthorized possession of offensive weapons. Any person, other than a person authorized herein, who knowingly possesses an offensive weapon commits a class "D" felony. [C27, 31, 35, §12960-b3; C39, §12960.03; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, §696.3; C71, 73, 75, 77, §696.3, 697.11; C79, §724.3]

724.4 Carrying weapons. A person who goes armed with a dangerous weapon concealed on or about his or her person, or who, within the limits of any city, goes armed with a pistol or revolver, or any loaded firearm of any kind, whether concealed or not, or who knowingly carries or transports in a vehicle a pistol or revolver, commits an aggravated misdemeanor, provided that this section shall not apply to any of the following:

1. A person who goes armed with a dangerous weapon in his or her own dwelling or place of business, or on land owned or possessed by the person.

2. Any peace officer, when his or her duties require the person to carry such weapons.

3. Any member of the armed forces of the United States or of the national guard or person in the service of the United States, when the weapons are carried in connection with his or her duties as such.

4. Any correctional officer, when his or her duties require, serving under the authority of the division of adult corrections.

5. Any person who for any lawful purpose carries an unloaded pistol, revolver, or other dangerous weapon inside a closed and fastened container or securely wrapped package which is too large to be concealed on the person.

6. Any person who for any lawful purpose carries or transports an unloaded pistol or revolver in any vehicle inside a closed and fastened container or securely wrapped package which is too large to be concealed on the person or inside a cargo or luggage compartment where the pistol or revolver will not be readily accessible to any person riding in the vehicle or common carrier.

7. Any person while he or she is lawfully engaged in target practice on a range designed for that purpose or while actually engaged in lawful hunting.

8. Any person who has in his or her possession and who displays to any peace officer on demand a valid permit to carry weapons which has been issued to the person, and whose conduct is within the limits of that permit. No person shall be convicted of a violation of this section if the person produces at his or her trial a permit to carry weapons which was valid at the time of the alleged offense and which would have brought the person's conduct within this exception if the permit had been produced at the time of the alleged offense. [S13, §4775-1a, -3a, -4a, -7a, -11a; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §12936-12939; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §695.2-695.5; C79, §724.4; 68GA, ch 1015, §68]

724.5 Duty to carry permit to carry weapons. It shall be the duty of any person armed with a revolver, pistol, or pocket billy concealed upon his or her person to have in his or her immediate possession the permit provided for in section 724.4, subsection 8 and to produce same for inspection at the request of any peace officer. Failure to so produce such permit shall constitute a simple misdemeanor. [S13, §4775-8a; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §12947; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §695.15; C79, §724.5]

724.6 Professional permit to carry weapons. A person may be issued a permit to carry weapons when the person's employment as a peace officer, correctional officer, security guard, private detective licensed under chapter 80A, bank messenger or other person transporting property of a value requiring security, or in police work, reasonably justifies that person going armed. Such permits shall be on a form prescribed and published by the commissioner of public safety, shall identify the holder thereof, and shall state the nature of the employment requiring his or her going armed. A permit so issued, other than to a peace officer, shall authorize the person to whom it is issued to go armed anywhere in the state, only while engaged in such employment, and while going to and from the place of such employment. A permit issued to a certified peace officer shall authorize that peace officer to go armed anywhere in the state at all times. Any such permit shall expire twelve months after the date when issued. When such employment is terminated, the holder of such permit shall surrender his or her permit to the issuing officer for cancellation. [S13, §4775-4a, -7a; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §12939, 12943-12945; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §695.5, 695.11-695.13; C79, §724.6]

Referred to in §724.11, 724.13

724.7 Nonprofessional permit to carry weapons. Any person who can reasonably justify his or her going armed may be issued a nonprofessional permit to carry weapons. Such permits shall be on a form prescribed and published by the commissioner of public safety, which shall be readily distinguishable from the professional permit, and shall identify the holder thereof, and state the reason for the issuance of the permit, and the limits of the authority granted by such permit. All permits so issued shall be for a definite period as established by the issuing officer, but in no event shall exceed a period of twelve months. [S13, §4775-3a; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §12938, 12945; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §695.4, 695.13; C79, §724.7]

Referred to in §724.11, 724.13

724.8 Persons eligible for permit to carry weapons. No person shall be issued a professional or non-professional permit to carry weapons unless:

1. The person is eighteen years of age or older.
2. The person has never been convicted of a felony.
3. The person is not addicted to the use of alcohol or any controlled substance
4. The person has no history of repeated acts of violence.
5. The issuing officer reasonably determines that the applicant does not constitute a danger to any person.
6. The person has never been convicted of any crime defined in chapter 708, except "assault" as defined in section 708.1 and "harassment" as defined in section 708.7. [C79,§724.8]

Referred to in §724 11, 724 13, 724 25, 724 27

724.9 Firearm training program. A training program to qualify persons in the safe use of firearms shall be provided by the issuing officer of permits, as provided in section 724.11. The commissioner of public safety shall approve the training program, and the county sheriff or the commissioner of public safety conducting the training program within their respective jurisdictions may contract with a private organization or use the services of other agencies, or may use a combination of the two, to provide such training. Any person eligible to be issued a permit to carry weapons may enroll in such course. A fee sufficient to cover the cost of the program may be charged each person attending. Certificates of completion, on a form prescribed and published by the commissioner of public safety, shall be issued to each person who successfully completes the program. No person shall be issued either a professional or nonprofessional permit unless he or she has received a certificate of completion or is a certified peace officer. No peace officer or correctional officer, except a certified peace officer, shall go armed with a pistol or revolver unless he or she has received a certificate of completion, provided that this requirement shall not apply to persons who are employed in this state as peace officers on January 1, 1978 until July 1, 1978, or to peace officers of other jurisdictions exercising their legal duties within this state. [C79,§724.9]

Referred to in §724 11, 724 13

724.10 Application for permit to carry weapons. No person shall be issued a permit to carry weapons unless the person has completed and signed an application on a form to be prescribed and published by the commissioner of public safety. The application shall state the full name, social security number (optional), residence, and age of the applicant, and shall state whether the applicant has ever been convicted of a felony, whether the person is addicted to the use of alcohol or any controlled substance, and whether the person has any history of mental illness or repeated acts of violence. Any person who knowingly makes a false statement on such application commits an aggravated misdemeanor. [S13,§4775-4a, -7a; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§12939, 12940; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§695.5, 695.6; C79,§724.10]

Referred to in §724 11, 724 13

724.11 Issuance of permit to carry weapons. Applications for permits to carry weapons shall be made to the sheriff of the county in which the applicant resides. Applications from persons who are nonresidents of the state, or whose need to go armed arises out of employment by the state, shall be made to the commissioner of public safety. In either case, the issuance of the permit shall be by and at the discretion of the sheriff or commissioner, who shall, before issuing the permit, determine that the requirements of sections 724.6 to 724.10 have been satisfied. However, the training program requirements in section 724.9 may be waived for renewal permits. The issuing officer shall collect a fee of five dollars, except from a duly appointed peace officer or correctional officer, for each permit issued. Renewal permits or duplicate permits shall be issued for a fee of two dollars. The issuing officer shall notify the commissioner of public safety of the issuance of any permit at least monthly and forward to the commissioner an amount equal to two dollars for each permit issued and one dollar for each renewal or duplicate permit issued. All such fees received by the commissioner shall be paid to the treasurer of state and deposited in the operating account of the department of public safety to offset the cost of administering this chapter. Any unspent balance as of June 30 of each year shall revert to the general fund as provided by section 8.33. [S13,§4775-3a; C24, 27,§12941; C31, 35,§12941, 12941-c1, 12941-d1; C39,§12941, 12941.1, 12941.2; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§695.7-695.9; C79,§724.11]

Referred to in §724 9

724.12 Permit to carry weapons not transferable. Permits to carry weapons shall be issued to a specific person only, and may not be transferred from one person to another. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§12942; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§695.10; C79,§724.12]

724.13 Revocation of permit to carry weapons. The issuing officer may revoke any permit to carry weapons when the officer learns that any of the conditions required for the issuance of that permit as stated in sections 724.6 to 724.10 have ceased to exist, or when the officer learns that that permit was improperly issued. When the issuing officer revokes a permit, the officer shall notify the permit holder of such revocation on a form prescribed and published by the commissioner of public safety, and shall forward a copy of the form to the commissioner of public safety. From the time the permit holder receives notice of revocation, the permit shall cease to have any force or effect. Permit revocations may be reviewed by writ of certiorari. [S13,§4775-6a; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§12946; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§695.14; C79,§724.13]

724.14 Repealed by 67GA, ch 1174, §19.

724.15 Annual permit to acquire pistols or revolvers.

1. Any person who acquires ownership of any pistol or revolver shall first obtain an annual permit. An annual permit shall not be issued to any person unless:

- a. The person is twenty-one years of age or older.

b. The person has never been convicted of a felony.

c. The person is not addicted to the use of alcohol or a controlled substance.

d. The person has no history of repeated acts of violence.

e. The person has never been convicted of a crime defined in chapter 708, except "assault" as defined in section 708.1 and "harassment" as defined in section 708.7.

f. The person has never been adjudged mentally defective.

2. Any person who acquires ownership of a pistol or revolver shall not be required to obtain an annual permit if:

a. The person transferring the pistol or revolver and the person acquiring the pistol or revolver are licensed firearms dealers under federal law;

b. The pistol or revolver acquired is an antique firearm, a collector's item, a device which is not designed or redesigned for use as a weapon, a device which is designed solely for use as a signaling, pyrotechnic, line-throwing, safety, or similar device, or a firearm which is unserviceable by reason of being unable to discharge a shot by means of an explosive and is incapable of being readily restored to a firing condition; or

c. The person acquiring the pistol or revolver is authorized to do so on behalf of a law enforcement agency.

3. The annual permit to acquire pistols or revolvers shall authorize the permit holder to acquire one or more pistols or revolvers during the period that the permit remains valid. If the issuing officer determines that the applicant has become disqualified under the provisions of subsection 1, he or she may immediately invalidate the permit. [C79,§724.15]

Referred to in §724.19, 724.27

724.16 Annual permit to acquire required. Any person who acquires ownership of a pistol or revolver without a valid annual permit to acquire pistols or revolvers or any person who transfers ownership of a pistol or revolver to a person who does not have in his or her possession a valid annual permit to acquire pistols or revolvers is guilty of a simple misdemeanor. [C79,§724.16]

724.17 Application for annual permit to acquire. The application for an annual permit to acquire pistols or revolvers may be made to the sheriff of the county of the applicant's residence and shall be on a form prescribed and published by the commissioner of public safety. The application shall state the full name of the applicant, the social security number of the applicant, the residence of the applicant, and the age of the applicant. [C79,§724.17]

724.18 Procedure for making application for annual permit to acquire. A person may personally request the sheriff to mail an application for an annual permit to acquire pistols or revolvers, and the sheriff shall immediately forward to such person an application for an annual permit to acquire pistols or revolvers. A person shall upon completion of the application personally deliver such application to the sheriff who shall note the period of validity on the application and shall immediately issue the annual permit to acquire pistols or revolvers to the applicant. For the purposes of this section the date of application shall be the date on which the sheriff received the completed application. [C79,§724.18]

724.19 Issuance of annual permit to acquire. The annual permit to acquire pistols or revolvers shall be issued to the applicant immediately upon completion of the application unless the applicant is disqualified under the provisions of section 724.15 and shall be on a form prescribed and published by the commissioner of public safety. The permit shall contain the name of the permittee, the social security number of the permittee, the residence of the permittee, and the effective date of the permit. [C79,§724.19]

724.20 Validity of annual permit to acquire pistols or revolvers. The permit shall be valid throughout the state and shall be valid three days after the date of application and shall be invalid one year after the date of application. [C79,§724.20]

724.21 Giving false information when acquiring weapon. A person who gives a false name or presents false identification, or otherwise gives false information to one from whom the person seeks to acquire a pistol or revolver, commits an aggravated misdemeanor. [S13,§4775-10a; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§12955; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§695.23; C79,§724.21]

1. Except as provided in subsection 3, a person who sells, loans, gives, or makes available a rifle or shotgun or ammunition for a rifle or shotgun to a minor commits a simple misdemeanor.

2. Except as provided in subsections 4 and 5, a person who sells, loans, gives, or makes available a pistol or revolver or ammunition for a pistol or revolver to a person below the age of twenty-one commits a simple misdemeanor.

3. A parent, guardian, spouse who is eighteen years of age or older, or another with the express consent of the minor's parent or guardian or spouse who is eighteen years of age or older may allow a minor to possess a rifle or shotgun or the ammunition therefor which may be lawfully used.

4. A person eighteen, nineteen, or twenty years of age may possess a firearm and the ammunition therefor while on military duty or while a peace officer, security guard or correctional officer, when such duty requires the possession of such a weapon or while the person receives instruction in the proper use thereof from an instructor who is twenty-one years of age or older.

5. A parent or guardian or spouse who is twenty-one years of age or older, of a person fourteen years of age but less than twenty-one may allow the person to possess a pistol or revolver or the ammunition therefor for any lawful purpose while under the direct supervision of the parent or guardian or spouse who is twenty-one years of age or older, or while the person receives instruction in the proper use thereof from an instructor twenty-one years of age or older, with the consent of such parent, guardian or spouse.

6. For the purposes of this section, caliber .22 rimfire ammunition shall be deemed to be rifle ammunition. [C97,§5004; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§12958; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§695.26; C79,§724.22]

724.23 Records kept by commissioner. The commissioner of public safety shall maintain a permanent record of all permits to carry weapons and of permit revocations. [C79,§724.23; 68GA, ch 1015,§67]

724.24 Purchase or sale of firearms in contiguous states. A resident of Iowa not otherwise precluded by applicable law, may purchase rifles, shotguns, ammunition, reloading components, or firearms accessories in states contiguous to Iowa. This authorization is enacted in conformance with the gun control Act of 1968, 18 U.S.C., section 922(b)(3)(A). In the event that presently* enacted federal restrictions on the purchase of firearms, rifles, shotguns, ammunition, reloading components, or firearms accessories are repealed or set aside by courts of competent jurisdiction, this section shall in no way be interpreted to prohibit or restrict the purchase of firearms, shotguns, rifles, ammunition, reloading components, or firearms accessories by residents of Iowa otherwise competent to purchase the same in contiguous or other states.

A dealer licensed in Iowa may sell or deliver a rifle or shotgun, and a collector licensed in Iowa may sell or deliver a rifle or shotgun if it is a curio or relic, to a resident of an adjacent state, if the purchaser's state of residence permits such sale or delivery by law, the sale fully complies with the legal conditions of Iowa and the adjacent state, and the purchaser and licensee have, prior to the sale or delivery for sale of the rifle or shotgun, complied with all the requirements of the federal gun control Act of 1968. [C71, 73, 75, 77,§695.29; C79,§724.24]

724.25 Felony and antique firearm defined.

1. As used in sections 724.8, subsection 2, and 724.26, the word "felony" means any offense punishable in the jurisdiction where it occurred by imprisonment for a term exceeding one year.

2. As used in this chapter an antique firearm means any firearm (including any firearm with a matchlock, flintlock, percussion cap, or similar type of ignition system) manufactured in or before 1898. An antique firearm also means a replica of a firearm so described if the replica is not designed or redesigned for using rimfire or conventional centerfire fixed ammunition or if the replica uses rimfire or conventional centerfire fixed ammunition which is no longer manufactured in the United States and which is not readily available in the ordinary channels of commercial trade. [C79,§724.25]

724.26 Receipt, transportation, and possession of firearms and destructive devices by felons. Any person who is convicted of a felony in any state or federal court and who subsequently possesses, receives, or transports or causes to be transported a firearm or offensive weapon is guilty of an aggravated misdemeanor. [C79,§724.26]

Referred to in §724.25, 724.27

724.27 Exception to sections 724.8, subsection 2, 724.15, subsection 1, and 724.26. The provisions of sections 724.8, subsection 2, 724.15, subsection 1, paragraphs "b" and "e", and 724.26 shall not apply to a person who is pardoned or has had his or her civil rights restored by the President of the United States or the chief executive of a state and who is expressly authorized by the President of the United States or such chief executive to receive, transport, or possess firearms or destructive devices. [C79,§724.27]

Punishment, §725.16

725.12 Lotteries and lottery tickets—definition. If any person make or aid in making or establishing, or advertise or make public any scheme for any lottery; or advertise, offer for sale, sell, negotiate, dispose of, purchase, or receive any ticket or part of a ticket in any lottery or number thereof; or have in his or her possession any ticket, part of a ticket, or paper purporting to be the number of any ticket of any lottery, with intent to sell or dispose of the same on his own account or as the agent of another, the person commits a serious misdemeanor.

When used in this section, lottery shall mean any scheme, arrangement, or plan whereby a prize is awarded by chance or any process involving a substantial element of chance to a participant who has paid or furnished a consideration for such chance.

For the purpose of determining the existence of a lottery under this section, a consideration shall be deemed to have been paid or furnished only in such cases where as a direct or indirect requirement or condition of obtaining a chance to win a prize, the participants are required to make an expenditure of money or something of monetary value through a purchase, payment of an entry or admission fee, or other payment or the participants are required to make a substantial expenditure of effort; provided, however, that no substantial expenditure of effort shall be deemed to have been expended by any participant solely by reason of the registration of the participant's name, address, and related information, the obtaining of an entry blank or participation sheet, by permitting or taking part in a demonstration of any article or commodity, by making a personal examination of posted lists of prize winners, or by acts of a comparable nature, whether performed or accomplished in person at any store, place of business, or other designated location, through the mails, or by telephone; and further provided, that no participant shall be required to be present in person or by representative at any designated location at the time of the determination of the winner of the prize, and that the winner shall be notified either by the same method used to communicate the offering of the prize or by regular mail. [C51,§2730; R60,§4377; C73,§4043; C97,§5000; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13218; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§726.8; C79,§725.12]

Referred to in §725 15

725.13 and 725.14 Repealed by 67GA, ch 1187, §1.

725.15 Exceptions for legal gambling. Sections 725.5 to 725.10 and section 725.12 shall not apply to any game, activity or device when lawfully possessed, used, conducted or participated in pursuant to chapter 99B. [C75, 77,§726.11; C79,§725.15]

725.16 Gambling penalty. A person who commits an offense declared in chapter 99B to be a misdemeanor shall be guilty of a serious misdemeanor. [C51,§2721, 2730; R60,§4363, 4377; C73,§4026, 4043; C97, §4962, 5000; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13198, 13218; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§726.1, 726.8; C75,§99B.9, 726.1, 726.8; C77, §726.14; C79,§725.16]

725.17 Protection money prohibited. Any officer or employee of this state, or of a county, city, or judicial district who asks for, receives or collects any money or other consideration for and with the understanding that the officer or employee will aid, exempt, or otherwise protect another person from detection, arrest or conviction of any violation of this chapter or chapter 99B commits an aggravated misdemeanor. [C77,§726.15; C79,§725.17]

725.18 Collection service prohibited. Any person who knowingly offers, gives or sells his or her services for use in collecting or enforcing any debt arising from gambling, whether or not lawful gambling, commits an aggravated misdemeanor. [C77,§726.16; C79,§725.18]

CHAPTER 726

PROTECTION OF THE FAMILY

Referred to in §701 1

Chapter 726, Code 1977, transferred to §725 5 to 725 18

726.3 Abandonment of dependent person.

726.4 Husband or wife may be witness.

726.5 Nonsupport.

726.6 Wanton neglect of a minor.

726.7 Wanton neglect of a resident of a health care facility.

726.1 Bigamy. Any person, having a living husband or wife, who marries another, commits bigamy. Any of the following is a defense to the charge of bigamy:

1. The prior marriage was terminated in accordance with applicable law, or the person reasonably believes on reasonably convincing evidence that the prior marriage was so terminated.

2. The person believes, on reasonably convincing evidence, that the prior spouse is dead.

3. The person has, for three years, had no evidence by which he or she can reasonably believe that the prior spouse is alive.

Any person who marries another who the person knows has another living husband or wife commits bigamy. Bigamy is a serious misdemeanor. [C51,§2706-2708; R60,§4348-4350; C73,§4009-4011; C97, §4933-4935; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§12975-12977; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§703.1-703.3; C79,§726.1]

726.2 Incest. A person, except a child as defined in section 702.5, who has sexual intercourse with any person whom he or she knows to be related to him or her, either legitimately or illegitimately, as an ancestor, descendant, brother or sister of the whole or half blood, aunt, uncle, niece, or nephew, commits incest.

Incest is a class "D" felony. [R60,§4367-4369; C73,§4030; C97,§4936; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§12978; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§704.1; C79,§726.2]

Referred to in §232.68

726.3 Abandonment of dependent person. A person who is the father, mother, or some other person having custody of a child, or of any other person who by reason of mental or physical disability is not able to care for himself or herself, who knowingly or recklessly exposes such person to a hazard or danger against which such person cannot reasonably be expected to protect himself or herself or who deserts or abandons such person, knowing or having reason to believe that the person will be exposed to such hazard or danger, commits a class "C" felony. [C51,§2589; R60,§4212; C73,§3870; C97,§4766; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13236; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§731.7; C79,§726.3]

726.4 Husband or wife may be witness. In all prosecutions under section 726.3, 726.5 or 726.6, the husband or wife shall be a competent witness for the state and may testify to any relevant acts or communications between them, anything in previous statutes to the contrary notwithstanding, provided, however, that no husband or wife shall be called or compelled to testify against the other under section 726.3, 726.5 or 726.6 except upon consent of such witness. [S13,§4775-b; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13231; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§731.2; C79,§726.4]

726.5 Nonsupport. A person, who being able to do so, fails or refuses to provide support for his or her child or ward under the age of eighteen years commits nonsupport; provided that no person shall be held to have violated this section who fails to support any child or ward under the age of eighteen who has left the home of the parent or other person having legal custody of him or her without the consent of that parent or person having legal custody of him or her. Support, for the purposes of this section, means any support which has been fixed by court order, or, in the absence of any such order or decree, the minimal requirements of food, clothing or shelter. Nonsupport is a class "D" felony. [S13,§4775-a; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13230; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§731.1; C79,§726.5]

726.6 Wanton neglect of a minor. A person who is the parent or adoptive parent or any person having custody of any minor commits wanton neglect of a minor when the person does any of the following:

1. The person knowingly acts in a manner likely to be injurious to the physical, mental or moral welfare of such minor.

A parent or adoptive parent or person having custody who provides his or her minor child exclusively with nonmedical treatment by a religious method of healing permitted under the laws of this state shall not, for this reason alone, be considered in violation of this subsection.

2. The person abandons such minor to fend for himself or herself, knowing that the minor is unable to do so.

Wanton neglect of a minor is a serious misdemeanor. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§731A.1-731A.3; C79,§726.6]

Referred to in §726 4

726.7 Wanton neglect of a resident of a health care facility. A person commits wanton neglect of a resident of a health care facility when the person knowingly acts in a manner likely to be injurious to the physical, mental or moral welfare of a resident of a health care facility as defined in section 135C.1. Wanton neglect of a resident of a health care facility is a serious misdemeanor. [C79,§726.7]

CHAPTER 727

HEALTH, SAFETY AND WELFARE

Referred to in §701 1

Chapter 727, Code 1977, repealed by 66GA, ch 1245(4), §526, see §723 4

727.1	Distributing dangerous substances.	727.7	Publication required.
727.2	Fireworks.	727.8	Electronic and mechanical eavesdropping.
727.3	Abandoned or unattended refrigerators.	727.9	Transacting business without a license.
727.4	Exposing persons to X-ray radiation.	727.10	Exhibiting deformed or abnormal persons.
727.5	Obstructing emergency telephone calls.	727.11	Transferred to §135.21.
727.6	Falsely claiming emergency.

727.1 Distributing dangerous substances. Any person who distributes samples of any drugs or medicine, or any corrosive, caustic, poisonous or other injurious substance, commits a simple misdemeanor unless the person delivers such into the hands of a competent person, or otherwise takes reasonable precautions that the substance will not be taken by children or animals from the place where the substance is deposited. [S13,§4999-a42, 4999-a43; C24, 27,

31, 35, 39,§13244, 13245; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§732.8, 732.9; C79,§727.1]

727.2 Fireworks. The term "fireworks" shall mean and include any explosive composition, or combination of explosive substances, or article prepared for the purpose of producing a visible or audible effect by combustion, explosion, deflagration or detonation, and shall include blank cartridges, firecrackers, torpedoes, skyrocketes, roman candles, or other fireworks of like construction and any fireworks containing any explosive or inflammable compound, or other device containing any explosive substance. The term "fireworks" shall not include goldstar-producing sparklers on wires which contain no magnesium or chlorate or perchlorate, no flitter sparklers in paper tubes that do not exceed one-eighth of an inch in diameter, nor toy snakes which contain no mercury nor caps used in cap pistols. Except as hereinafter provided, any person, firm, copartnership, or corporation who offers for sale, exposes for sale, sells at retail, or uses or explodes any fireworks, commits a serious misdemeanor; provided the council of any city or the county board of supervisors may, upon application in writing, grant a permit for the display of fireworks by municipalities, fair associations, amusement parks, and other organizations or groups of individuals approved by such city or such county board of supervisors when such fireworks display will be handled by a competent operator but no such permit shall be required for such display of fireworks at the Iowa state fairgrounds by the Iowa state fair board nor of incorporated county fairs nor of district fairs receiving state aid. Sales of fireworks for such display may be made for that purpose only; provided further, that nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit any resident, dealer, manufacturer, or jobber from selling such fireworks as are not herein prohibited; or the sale of any kind of fireworks provided the same are to be shipped out of the state; or the sale or use of blank cartridges for a show or the theater, or for signal purposes in athletic sports or by railroads or trucks, for signal purposes, or by a recognized military organization; and provided further that nothing in this section shall apply to any substance or composition prepared and sold for medicinal or fumigation purposes. [C39,§13245.08-13245.10; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§732.17-732.19; C79,§727.2]

727.3 Abandoned or unattended refrigerators. Any person who abandons or otherwise leaves unattended any refrigerator, ice box, or similar container, with doors that may become locked, outside of buildings and accessible to children, or any person who allows any such refrigerator, ice box, or similar container, to remain outside of buildings on premises in the person's possession or control, abandoned or unattended and so accessible to children, commits a simple misdemeanor. [C58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§732.20-732.23; C79,§727.3]

727.4 Exposing persons to X-ray radiation. Any person other than one licensed to practice medicine, osteopathic medicine, chiropractic, or dentistry, or one acting under the direction of a person so licensed, who knowingly exposes any other person to X-ray radiation, commits a simple misdemeanor. [C62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§732.24; C79,§727.4]

727.5 Obstructing emergency telephone calls. An emergency call is any call to a fire department or police department for aid, or a call for medical aid or ambulance service, when human life or property is in jeopardy and the prompt summoning of aid is essential. Any person who fails to relinquish any telephone or telephone line which the person is using when informed that such phone or line is needed for an emergency call commits a simple misdemeanor. [C62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§714.33, 714.34; C79,§727.5]

Referred to in §727 7

727.6 Falsely claiming emergency. Any person who secures the use of a telephone or telephone line by falsely stating that such telephone or line is needed for an emergency call commits a simple misdemeanor. [C62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§714.35; C79,§727.6]

Referred to in §727 7

727.7 Publication required. Every telephone company doing business in this state shall print a copy of sections 727.5 and 727.6 in a prominent place in every telephone directory published by it. Any person, firm, or corporation providing telephone service which distributes or causes to be distributed in this state copies of a telephone directory which is subject to the provisions of this section which does not contain the notice herein provided for commits a simple misdemeanor. [C62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§714.36; C79,§727.7]

727.8 Electronic and mechanical eavesdropping. Any person, having no right or authority to do so, who taps into or connects a listening or recording device to any telephone or other communication wire, or who by any electronic or mechanical means listens to, records, or otherwise intercepts a conversation or communication of any kind, commits a serious misdemeanor; provided, that the sender or recipient of a message or one who is openly present and participating in or listening to a communication shall not be prohibited hereby from recording such message or communication; and further provided, that nothing herein shall restrict the use of any radio or television receiver to receive any communication transmitted by radio or wireless signal. [C97,§4816; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13121; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§716.8; C79,§727.8]

727.9 Transacting business without a license. Unless another penalty is specifically provided, any person who without a license carries on or transacts any business or occupation for which a license is required by any law of this state, commits a simple misdemeanor. [C51,§2737; R60,§4380; C73,§4046; C97,§5010; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13072; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§713.27; C79,§727.9]

727.10 Exhibiting deformed or abnormal persons. Any person who shall exhibit, place on exhibition, or cause to be exhibited any deformed, maimed, idiotic or abnormal person or human monstrosity without his or her consent, and receive any fee or compensation therefor, commits a serious misdemeanor. [S13,§4975-1a; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13197; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§725.12; C79,§727.10]

OBSCENITY

Referred to in §234.28, 701.1

Chapter 728, Code 1977, repealed by 66GA, ch 1245(4), §526, see §723.4

728.1	Definitions.	728.6	Civil suit to determine obscenity.
728.2	Dissemination and exhibition of obscene material to minors.	728.7	Exemptions for public libraries and educational institutions.
728.3	Admitting minors to premises where obscene material is exhibited.	728.8	Suspension of licenses or permits.
728.4	Sale of hard core pornography.	728.9	Evidence considered.
728.5	Public indecent exposure in certain establishments.	728.10	Affirmative defense.
		728.11	Uniform application.
		728.12	Sexual exploitation of children.

728.1 Definitions. As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Obscene material" is any material depicting or describing the genitals, sex acts, masturbation, excretory functions or sadomasochistic abuse which the average person, taking the material as a whole and applying contemporary community standards with respect to what is suitable material for minors, would find appeals to the prurient interest and is patently offensive; and the material, taken as a whole, lacks serious literary, scientific, political or artistic value.

2. "Material" means any book, magazine, newspaper or other printed or written material or any picture, drawing, photograph, motion picture, or other pictorial representation or any statue or other figure, or any recording, transcription or mechanical, chemical or electrical reproduction or any other articles, equipment, machines or materials.

3. "Disseminate" means to transfer possession, with or without consideration.

4. "Knowingly" means being aware of the character of the matter.

5. "Sadomasochistic abuse" means the infliction of physical or mental pain upon a person or the condition of a person being fettered, bound or otherwise physically restrained.

6. "Minor" means any person under the age of eighteen.

7. "Sex act" means any sexual contact, actual or simulated, either natural or deviate, between two or more persons, or between a person and an animal, by penetration of the penis into the vagina or anus, or by contact between the mouth or tongue and genitalia or anus, or by contact between a finger of one person and the genitalia of another person or by use of artificial sexual organs or substitutes therefor in contact with the genitalia or anus.

8. "Prohibited sexual act" means any of the following:

- A sex act as defined in section 702.17;
- An act of bestiality involving a child;

c. Fondling or touching the pubes or genitals of a child;

d. Fondling or touching the pubes or genitals of a person by a child;

e. Sadomasochistic abuse of a child for the purpose of arousing or satisfying the sexual desires of a person who may view a depiction of the abuse;

f. Sadomasochistic abuse of a person by a child for the purpose of arousing or satisfying the sexual desires of a person who may view a depiction of the abuse; or

g. Nudity of a child for the purpose of arousing or satisfying the sexual desires of a person who may view a depiction of the nude child. [C75, 77, §725.1; C79, §728.1]

728.2 Dissemination and exhibition of obscene material to minors. Any person, other than the parent or guardian of the minor, who knowingly disseminates or exhibits obscene material to a minor, including the exhibition of obscene material so that it can be observed by a minor on or off the premises where it is displayed, is guilty of a public offense and shall upon conviction be guilty of a serious misdemeanor. [C51, §2717; R60, §4359; C73, §4022; C97, §4951, 4955; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13189, 13193; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §725.4, 725.8; C75, 77, §725.2; C79, §728.2]

Referred to in §728.8, 728.9

728.3 Admitting minors to premises where obscene material is exhibited. Any person who knowingly sells, gives, delivers, or provides a minor with a pass or admits a minor to premises where obscene material is exhibited is guilty of a public offense and shall upon conviction be guilty of a serious misdemeanor. [C51, §2717; R60, §4359; C73, §4022; C97, §4951; S13, §4944-k; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13185, 13189; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §725.3, 725.4; C75, 77, §725.3; C79, §728.3]

728.4 Sale of hard core pornography. Any person who knowingly sells or offers for sale material depicting a sex act involving sadomasochistic abuse, excretory functions, a child, or bestiality which the average adult taking the material as a whole in applying contemporary community standards would find that it appeals to the prurient interest and is patently offensive; and the material, taken as a whole, lacks serious literary, scientific, political, or artistic value shall, upon conviction be guilty of a simple misdemeanor. Charges under this section may only be brought by a county attorney or by the attorney general. [C79,§728.4]

728.5 Public indecent exposure in certain establishments. A holder of a liquor license or beer permit or any owner, manager, or person who exercises direct control over any licensed premises defined in section 123.3, subsection 31 shall be guilty of a serious misdemeanor under any of the following circumstances:

1. If such person allow or permit the actual or simulated public performance of any sex act upon or in such licensed premises.

2. If such person allow or permit the exposure of the genitals or buttocks or female breast of any person who acts as a waiter or waitress.

3. If such person allow or permit the exposure of the genitals or female breast nipple of any person who acts as an entertainer, whether or not the owner of the licensed premises in which the activity is performed employs or pays any compensation to such person to perform such activity.

4. If such person allow or permit any person to remain in or upon the licensed premises who exposes to public view his or her genitals, pubic hair, or anus.

5. If such person allow or permit the displaying of moving pictures, films, or pictures depicting any sex act or the display of the pubic hair, anus, or genitals upon or in such licensed premises.

6. If such person advertises that any activity prohibited by this section is allowed or permitted in such licensed premises.

Provided that the provisions of this section shall not apply to a theater, concert hall, art center, museum, or similar establishment which is primarily devoted to the arts or theatrical performances and any of the circumstances contained in this section were permitted or allowed as part of such art exhibits or performances. [C79,§728.5]

728.6 Civil suit to determine obscenity. Whenever the county attorney of any county has reasonable cause to believe that any person is engaged or plans to engage in the dissemination or exhibition of obscene material within his or her county to minors the county attorney may institute a civil proceeding in the district court of the county to enjoin the dissemination or exhibition of obscene material to minors. Such application for injunction is optional and not mandatory and shall not be construed as a prerequisite to criminal prosecution for a violation of this chapter. [C75, 77,§725.4; C79,§728.6]

728.7 Exemptions for public libraries and educational institutions. Nothing in this chapter prohibits the use of appropriate material for educational purposes in any accredited school, or any public library, or in any educational program in which the minor is participating. Nothing in this chapter prohibits the attendance of minors at an exhibition or display of art works or the use of any materials in any public library. [C75, 77,§725.5; C79,§728.7]

728.8 Suspension of licenses or permits. Any person who knowingly permits a violation of section 728.2 or 728.3 to occur on premises under the person's control shall have all permits and licenses issued to the person under state or local law as a prerequisite for doing business on such premises revoked for a period of six months. The county attorney shall notify all agencies responsible for issuing licenses and permits of any conviction under section 728.2 or 728.3. [C75, 77,§725.6; C79,§728.8]

728.9 Evidence considered. At a trial for violation of section 728.2 or 728.3 the court may consider the material, and receive into evidence in addition to other competent evidence, the offered testimony of experts pertaining to:

1. The artistic, literary, political or scientific value, if any, of the challenged material.

2. The degree of public acceptance within the community of the material or material of similar character.

3. The intent of the author, artist, producer, publisher or manufacturer in creating the material.

4. The advertising promotion and other circumstances relating to the sale of the material. [C75, 77,§725.7; C79,§728.9]

728.10 Affirmative defense. In any prosecution for disseminating or exhibiting obscene material to minors, it is an affirmative defense that the defendant had reasonable cause to believe that the minor involved was eighteen years old or more and the minor exhibited to the defendant a draft card, driver's license*, birth certificate or other official or apparently official document purporting to establish that such minor was eighteen years old or more or was accompanied by a parent or spouse eighteen years of age or more. [C75, 77,§725.8; C79,§728.10]

728.11 Uniform application. In order to provide for the uniform application of the provisions of this chapter relating to obscene material applicable to minors within this state, it is intended that the sole and only regulation of obscene material shall be under the provisions of this chapter, and no municipality, county or other governmental unit within this state shall make any law, ordinance or regulation relating to the availability of obscene materials. All such laws, ordinances or regulations shall be or become void, unenforceable and of no effect on January 1, 1978. Nothing in this section shall restrict the zoning authority of cities and counties. [C75, 77,§725.9; C79,§728.11]

728.12 Sexual exploitation of children. A person commits a class "C" felony when he or she employs, uses, persuades, induces, entices, coerces, knowingly permits, or otherwise causes a child to engage in a prohibited sexual act or in the simulation of a prohibited sexual act if the person knows, has reason to know, or intends that the act or simulated act may be photographed, filmed, or otherwise preserved in a negative, slide, book, magazine, or other print or visual medium. [C79,§728.12]

CHAPTER 729

INFRINGEMENT OF CIVIL RIGHTS

Chapter 729, Code 1977, repealed by 66GA, ch 1245(4), §526, see §716 7 and 716 8

This chapter was not enacted as a part of the criminal code but was transferred here from ch 735, Code 1977

729.1 Religious test.
729.2 Evidence.

729.3 Penalty.
729.4 Fair employment practices.

729.1 Religious test. Any violation of section 4, Article I of the Constitution of Iowa is hereby declared to be a serious misdemeanor. [C35,§13252-f1; C39,§13252.1; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§735.3; C79,§729.1]

Referred to in §729 2, 729.3

729.2 Evidence. If any person, agency, bureau, corporation, or association employed or maintained to obtain, or aid in obtaining, positions for others in the public schools, or positions in any other public institutions in the state, or any individual or official connected with any public school or public institution shall ask, indicate, or transmit orally or in writing the religion or religious affiliations of any person seeking employment in the public schools or any other public institutions, it shall constitute evidence of a violation of section 729.1. [C35,§13252-f2; C39,§13252.2; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§735.4; C79,§729.2]

729.3 Penalty. Any person, agency, bureau, corporation, or association that violates provisions of sections 729.1 and 729.2 shall be guilty of a simple misdemeanor. [C35,§13252-f3; C39,§13252.3; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§735.5; C79,§729.3]

729.4 Fair employment practices.

1. Every person in this state is entitled to the opportunity for employment on equal terms with every other person. It shall be unlawful for any person or employer to discriminate in the employment of individuals because of race, religion, color, national origin or ancestry. However, as to employment such individual must be qualified to perform the services or work required.

2. It shall be unlawful for any labor union or organization or an officer thereof to discriminate against any person as to membership therein because of race, religion, color, national origin or ancestry.

3. Any person, employer, labor union or organization or officer of a labor union or organization convicted of a violation of subsections 1 or 2 shall be guilty of a simple misdemeanor. [C66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§735.6; C79,§729.4]

CHAPTER 730

BLACKLISTING EMPLOYEES

This chapter was not enacted as a part of the criminal code but was transferred here from ch 736, Code 1977

730.1 Punishment.
730.2 Blacklisting employees—treble damages.

730.3 False charges concerning honesty.

730.1 Punishment. If any person, agent, company, or corporation, after having discharged any employee from service, shall prevent or attempt to prevent, by word or writing of any kind, such discharged employee from obtaining employment with any other person, company, or corporation, except by furnishing in writing on request a truthful statement as to the cause of the person's discharge, such person, agent, company, or corporation shall be guilty of a serious misdemeanor and shall be liable for all damages sustained by any such person. [C97,§5027; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13253; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§736.1; C79,§730.1]

730.2 Blacklisting employees—treble damages. If any railway company or other company, partnership, or corporation shall authorize or allow any of its or their agents to blacklist any discharged employee, or attempt by word or writing or any other means whatever to prevent such discharged employee, or any employee who may have voluntarily left said company's service, from obtaining employment with any other person or company, except as provided for in section 730.1, such company or copartnership shall be liable in treble damages to such employee so prevented from obtaining employment. [C97,§5028; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13254; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§736.2; C79,§730.2]

730.3 False charges concerning honesty. Every person who shall by any letter, mark, sign, or designation whatever, or by any verbal statement, falsely and without probable cause, report to any railroad or any other company or corporation, or to any person or firm, or to any of the officers, servants, agents, or employees of any such corporation, person, or firm, that any conductor, brakeman, engineer, fireman, station agent, or any employee of such railroad company, corporation, person, or firm has received any money or thing of value for the transportation of persons or property or for other service for which the person has not accounted to such corporation, person, or firm, or shall falsely and without probable cause report that any conductor, brakeman, engineer, fireman, station agent, or other employee of any railroad company, corporation, firm, or person, neglected, failed, or refused to collect any money or ticket for transportation of persons or property or other service when it was their duty so to do, shall, on conviction, be guilty of a simple misdemeanor. [SS15,§5028-w1; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13255; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§736.3; C79,§730.3]

| 731.4 Union dues as prerequisite to employment—prohibited. | 731.8 Exception.                        |

731.1 Right to join union. It is declared to be the policy of the state of Iowa that no person within its boundaries shall be deprived of the right to work at his chosen occupation for any employer because of membership in, affiliation with, withdrawal or expulsion from, or refusal to join, any labor union, organization, or association, and any contract which contravenes this policy is illegal and void. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§736A.1; C79,§731.1]

tions, fines or assessments to any labor union, labor association or labor organization. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§736A.4; C79,§731.4]

731.2 Refusal to employ prohibited. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, association or corporation to refuse or deny employment to any person because of membership in, or affiliation with, or resignation or withdrawal from, a labor union, organization or association, or because of refusal to join or affiliate with a labor union, organization or association. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§736A.2; C79,§731.2]

731.5 Deducting dues from pay unlawful. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, association, labor organization or corporation to deduct labor organization dues, charges, fees, contributions, fines or assessments from an employee's earnings, wages or compensation, unless the employer has first been presented with an individual written order therefor signed by the employee, which written order shall be terminable at any time by the employee giving at least thirty days' written notice of such termination to the employer. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§736A.5; C79,§731.5]

731.3 Contracts to exclude unlawful. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, association, corporation or labor organization to enter into any understanding, contract, or agreement, whether written or oral, to exclude from employment members of a labor union, organization or association, or persons who do not belong to, or who refuse to join, a labor union, organization or association, or because of resignation or withdrawal therefrom. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§736A.3; C79,§731.3]

731.6 Penalty. Any person, firm, association, labor organization, or corporation or any director, officer, representative, agent or member thereof, who shall violate any of the provisions of this chapter or who shall aid and abet in such violation shall be guilty of a serious misdemeanor. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§736A.6; C79,§731.6]

731.4 Union dues as prerequisite to employment—prohibited. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, association, labor organization or corporation, or political subdivision, either directly or indirectly, or in any manner or by any means as a prerequisite to or a condition of employment to require any person to pay dues, charges, fees, contribu-

731.7 Injunction. Additional to the penal provisions of this chapter, any person, firm, corporation, association, or any labor union, labor association or labor organization, or any officer, representative, agent or member thereof may be restrained by injunction from doing or continuing to do any of the matters and things prohibited by this chapter, and all of the provisions of the law relating to the granting of restraining orders and injunctions, either temporary or permanent, shall be applicable. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§736A.7; C79,§731.7]

731.8 Exception. The provisions of this chapter shall not apply to employers or employees covered by the federal Railroad Labor Act.* [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66,

CHAPTER 801

CRIMINAL PROCEDURE SCOPE AND DEFINITIONS

Referred to in §801.1

801.1 Short title.

801.3 General purposes.

801.4 General definitions.

801.5 Applicability to offenses committed before the effective date.

801.1 Short title. Chapters 801 to 819 shall be known and may be cited as the “Iowa code of criminal procedure.” [C79,§801.1]

801.2 Scope. The provisions of the Iowa code of criminal procedure shall govern procedure in the courts of Iowa in all criminal proceedings except where a different procedure is specifically provided by law. [C79,§801.2]

801.3 General purposes. The provisions of the Iowa code of criminal procedure shall be liberally construed to give effect to the general purposes thereof, which shall be to provide for:

1. Simplicity in criminal procedure.
2. Fairness in administration of the criminal laws.
3. Elimination of unjustifiable delay in pretrial, trial, and post-trial proceedings.
4. Just determination of every criminal proceeding by a fair and impartial trial and review.
5. The effective apprehension and trial of persons suspected of committing public offenses without violation of fundamental human rights. [C79,§801.3]

801.4 General definitions. For the purposes of titles XXXV to XXXVII, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. “Attorney general” includes an authorized assistant of the attorney general.
2. “Charge” means a written statement presented to a court accusing a person of the commission of a public offense, including but not limited to a complaint, information, or indictment.
3. “County attorney” includes an authorized assistant of the county attorney.
4. “Court” means a place where justice is administered by a magistrate and includes such magistrate while acting in his or her judicial capacity.
5. “Criminal proceeding” is a proceeding in which a person is accused of a public offense.
6. “Magistrate” means all judges of the district court, including district associate judges and judicial magistrates throughout the state.
7. “Peace officers”, sometimes designated “law enforcement officers”, include:
  - a. Sheriffs and their regular deputies who are subject to mandated law enforcement training.
  - b. Marshals and policemen of cities.
  - c. Peace officer members of the department of public safety as defined in chapter 80.
  - d. Probation and parole agents acting pursuant to section 906.2.
  - e. Probation officers acting pursuant to section 231.10.

f. Special security officers employed by board of regent’s institutions as set forth in section 262.13.

g. Conservation officers as authorized by section 107.13.

h. Such employees of the department of transportation as are designated “peace officers” by resolution of the department under section 321.477.

i. Such persons as may be otherwise so designated by law.

8. “Prosecuting attorney”, sometimes designated “prosecutor”, means any attorney who is authorized by law to appear on the behalf of the state in a criminal case, and includes the attorney general, an assistant attorney general, the county attorney, an assistant county attorney, or a special or substitute prosecutor whose appearance is approved by a court having jurisdiction to try the defendant for the offense with which he or she is charged. In the case of prosecution for a municipal ordinance violation, “prosecuting attorney” means a city attorney or an assistant city attorney.

9. The words “accused person”, “accused”, “defendant”, and similar words mean an individual, a public or private corporation, a partnership, or an unincorporated or voluntary association.

10. “Indigent” is a person with insufficient resources as defined in section 336A.4.

11. “Complaint” means a statement in writing, under oath or affirmation, made before a magistrate or district court clerk or clerk’s deputy as the case may be, of the commission of a public offense, and accusing someone thereof. A complaint shall be substantially in the form provided in the Iowa rules of criminal procedure.

12. “Prosecution” means the commencement, including the filing of a complaint, and continuance of a criminal proceeding, and pursuit of that proceeding to final judgment on behalf of the state or other political subdivision.

13. “Indictable offense” means an offense other than a simple misdemeanor. [C51,§2778, 2822, 2823, 2830; R60,§4439, 4440, 4447, 4530; C73, §4108, 4109, 4111; C97,§5097, 5099, 5101; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13403, 13405, 13458; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§748.1, 748.3, 754.1; C79,§801.4]

801.5 Applicability to offenses committed before the effective date.

1. Except as provided in subsections 2 and 3 of this section, titles XXXV to XXXVII do not apply to offenses committed before January 1, 1978. Prosecutions for offenses committed before that date are governed by the prior law, which is continued in effect for that purpose, as if these titles were not in force. For purposes of this section, an offense is committed before said date if any of the elements of the offense occurred before that date.

2. In any case pending on or commenced after said date, involving an offense committed before that date:

a. Upon the request of the defendant a defense or mitigation under said titles, whether specifically provided for herein or based upon the failure of said statutes to define an applicable offense, shall apply; and

b. Upon the request of the defendant and the approval of the court:

(1) Procedural provisions of said titles shall apply insofar as they are justly applicable; and

(2) The court may impose a sentence or suspended imposition of a sentence under the provisions of said titles applicable to the offense and the offender.

3. Provisions of said titles governing the release or discharge of prisoners, probationers, and parolees shall apply to persons under sentence for offenses committed before January 1, 1978, except that the minimum or maximum period of their detention or supervision shall in no case be increased, nor shall the provisions of said titles affect the substantive or procedural validity of any judgment of conviction entered before said date, regardless of the fact that appeal time has not run or that an appeal is pending. [C79,§801.5]

CHAPTER 802

LIMITATION OF CRIMINAL ACTIONS

Referred to in §801.1

- 802.1 Murder.
- 802.2 Sexual abuse.
- 802.3 Felony—aggravated or serious misdemeanor.
- 802.4 Simple misdemeanor—ordinance.
- 802.5 Extension for fraud, fiduciary breach.

- 802.6 Periods excluded from limitation.
- 802.7 Continuing crimes.
- 802.8 Time of finding indictment and information.
- 802.9 Indictment or information where a defect is found.

802.1 Murder. A prosecution for murder in the first or second degree may be commenced at any time after the death of the victim. [C51,§2811; R60,§4513; C73,§4165; C97,§5163; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13442; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§752.1; C79,§802.1]

Referred to in §802.3

802.2 Sexual abuse. An indictment or information for sexual abuse or its attempt shall be found within eighteen months after its commission. [C51,§2812; R60,§4514; C73,§4166; C97,§5164; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13443; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§752.2; C79,§802.2]

Referred to in §802.3, 802.5

802.3 Felony—aggravated or serious misdemeanor. In all cases, except those enumerated in sections 802.1 and 802.2, an indictment or information for a felony or aggravated or serious misdemeanor shall be found within three years after its commission. [C51,§2813; R60,§4515; C73,§4167; C97,§5165; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13444; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§752.3; C79,§802.3]

Referred to in §802.5

802.4 Simple misdemeanor—ordinance. A prosecution for a simple misdemeanor or violation of a municipal or county rule or ordinance shall be commenced within one year after its commission. [C73,§4168; C97,§5166; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13445; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79,§752.4; C79,§802.4]

Referred to in §802.5

802.5 Extension for fraud, fiduciary breach. If the period prescribed in sections 802.2, 802.3 and 802.4 has expired, prosecution may nevertheless be commenced for any offense a material element of which is either fraud or a breach of fiduciary obligation within one year after discovery of the offense by an aggrieved party or by a person who has legal duty to represent an aggrieved party and who is himself or herself not a party to the offense, but in no case shall this provision extend the period of limitation otherwise applicable by more than three years. [C79,§802.5]

802.6 Periods excluded from limitation.

1. When a person leaves the state with the intention of avoiding prosecution, the indictment or prosecution may be found or commenced within the time herein limited after his or her coming into the state, and no period during which the party charged was not publicly resident within the state is a part of the limitation.

2. The time within which an indictment or information must be found shall not include the time during which the defendant is a public officer or employee and the offense arises from misconduct relating to the duties and trust of that office or employment. [C51,§2814; R60,§4516; C73,§4169; C97,§5167; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13446; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§752.5; C79,§802.6]

802.7 Continuing crimes. When an offense is based on a series of acts committed at different times, the period of limitation prescribed by this division shall commence upon the commission of the last of such acts. [C79,§802.7]

802.8 Time of finding indictment and information. Within the meaning of this chapter:

1. An indictment is found when it is duly presented by the grand jury in open court and filed.

2. An information is found when it is filed. [C51,§2815; R60,§4517; C73,§4170; C97,§5168; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13447; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§752.6; C79,§802.8]

802.9 Indictment or information where a defect is found. If a defect, error, or irregularity is discovered in any indictment or information which, on motion of either party, causes same to be dismissed or the prosecution to be set aside or reversed on appeal, a new indictment or information may be found within thirty days after such action notwithstanding the time limitations enumerated in this chapter. [C51,§2949, 3251, 3252; R60,§4699, 4711, 4712, 5011–5013; C73, §4344, 4356, 4357, 4617–4619; C97,§5326, 5331, 5539; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13788, 13796, 13797, 14027; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§776.9, 777.8, 777.9, 795.5; C79,§802.9]

JURISDICTION OF PUBLIC OFFENSES AND PLACE OF TRIAL

Referred to in §801 1

803.1 State criminal jurisdiction.

803.2 Place of trial—general.

803.3 Place of trial—special provisions.

803.4 Bar to action.

803.1 State criminal jurisdiction.

1. A person is subject to prosecution in this state for an offense which the person commits within or outside this state, by the person's own conduct or that of another for which he or she is legally accountable, if:

a. The offense is committed either wholly or partly within this state.

b. Conduct of the person outside the state constitutes an attempt to commit an offense within this state.

c. Conduct of the person outside the state constitutes a conspiracy to commit an offense within this state.

d. Conduct of the person within this state constitutes an attempt, solicitation or conspiracy to commit an offense in another jurisdiction, which conduct is punishable under the laws of both this state and such other jurisdiction.

2. An offense may be committed partly within this state if conduct which is an element of the offense, or a result which constitutes an element of the offense, occurs within this state. If the body of a murder victim is found within the state, the death is presumed to have occurred within the state.

3. An offense which is based on an omission to perform a duty imposed upon a person by the law of this state is committed within the state, regardless of the location of the person at the time of the omission. [C51,§2803; R60,§4500; C73,§4155; C97,§5153; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13448; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§753.1; C79,§803.1]

803.2 Place of trial—general. Criminal actions shall be tried in the county in which the crime is committed, except as otherwise provided by law. All objections to place of trial are waived by a defendant unless the defendant objects thereto prior to trial. [R60,§4502; C73,§4156; C97,§5154; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13449; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§753.2; C79,§803.2]

1. If conduct or results which constitute elements of an offense occur in two or more counties, prosecution of the offense may be had in any of such counties. In such cases, where a dominant number of elements occur in one county, that county shall have the primary right to proceed with prosecution of the offender.

2. If an offense commenced outside the state is consummated within this state, trial of the offense shall be held in the county or counties in which the offense is consummated or the interest protected by the involved penal statute is impaired.

3. If an offense is committed in or upon any conveyance in transit, and it cannot readily be determined in which county the offense was committed, trial of the offense may be held in any county through or over which the conveyance passed in the course of its journey.

4. If an offense is committed on the boundary of two or more counties, and it cannot readily be determined within which county the commission took place, trial of the offense may be held in any of the counties concerned.

5. If the offense is a traffic offense, or a scheduled offense under section 805.8, section 805.13 shall apply. [C51,§2804, 2806–2808; R60,§4505, 4507–4509; C73,§4157, 4159–4161; C97,§5155, 5157–5159; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13450, 13451–13453; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71,§753.3–753.6; C73, 75, 77,§753.3; C79,§803.3; 68GA, ch 1012,§68]

803.4 Bar to action. A conviction or acquittal of an offense in a court having jurisdiction thereof is a bar to a prosecution of the offense in another court. [R60,§4512; C73,§4164; C97,§5162; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13457; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71,§753.10; C73, 75, 77,§753.4; C79,§803.4]

CHAPTER 804

COMMENCEMENT OF ACTIONS—ARREST— DISPOSITIONS OF PRISONERS

Referred to in §602 62, 801 1, 805 6(1)“a”, 805 9, R Cr P 7(3)“a”, 39

See ch 805

- 804.1 Arrest by warrant—complaint and citation defined.
- 804.2 Contents of arrest warrant.
- 804.3 Order for bail—endorsed on warrant.
- 804.4 Manner of executing warrant.
- 804.5 Arrest defined.
- 804.6 Persons authorized to make an arrest.
- 804.7 Arrests by peace officers.
- 804.8 Use of force by peace officer making an arrest.
- 804.9 Arrests by private persons.
- 804.10 Use of force in arrest by private person.
- 804.11 Arrest of material witness.
- 804.12 Use of force in resisting arrest.
- 804.13 Use of force in preventing an escape.
- 804.14 Manner of making arrest.
- 804.15 Breaking and entering premises—demand to enter.
- 804.16 Time of arrest.
- 804.17 Summoning aid.
- 804.18 Taking weapons.
- 804.19 Receipt given.
- 804.20 Communications by arrested persons.
- 804.21 Initial appearance before magistrate—arrest by warrant.
- 804.22 Initial appearance before magistrate—arrest without warrant.
- 804.23 Initial appearance of arrested material witness before magistrate.
- 804.24 Arrests by private persons—disposition of prisoner.

- 804.27 Conveying prisoner to jail—fees and expenses.
- 804.28 Department of public safety prisoners.
- 804.29 Confidentiality.
- 804.30 Strip searches.

804.1 Arrest by warrant—complaint and citation defined. A criminal proceeding may be commenced by the filing of a complaint before a magistrate. When such complaint is made, charging the commission of some designated public offense in which such magistrate has jurisdiction, and it appears from the complaint or from affidavits filed with it that there is probable cause to believe an offense has been committed and a designated person has committed it, the magistrate shall, except as otherwise provided, issue a warrant for the arrest of such person.

Whenever the complaint charges a simple misdemeanor, the magistrate may issue a citation instead of a warrant of arrest. The citation shall set forth substantially the nature of the offense and shall command the person against whom the complaint was made to appear before the magistrate issuing the citation at a time and place stated therein.

The citation may be served in the same manner as an original notice in a civil action.

If the person named in the citation is actually served as provided herein and willfully fails without good cause to appear as commanded by the citation, the person shall be guilty of a simple misdemeanor and the magistrate may issue a warrant of arrest for the offense originally charged.

If after issuing a citation the magistrate becomes satisfied that the person to whom such citation has been directed will not appear, the magistrate may at once issue a warrant of arrest without waiting for the date mentioned in the citation. [C51,§2822; R60,§4530; C73,§4111, 4185; C97,§5101, 5182; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13458–13460; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§754.1–754.3; C79,§804.1]

804.2 Contents of arrest warrant. The warrant must be directed to any peace officer in the state; give the name of the defendant, if known to the magistrate; if unknown, may designate “name unknown”; and must state by name or general description an offense which authorizes a warrant to issue, the date of issuing it, the county or city where issued, and be signed by the magistrate with the magistrate’s name of office. [C51,§2828, 2829; R60,§4535, 4536; C73,§4187, 4188; C97, §5184; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13462; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§754.5; C79,§804.2]

See Form 2, Appendix of forms, R Cr P 30

804.3 Order for bail—endorsed on warrant. If the offense stated in the warrant be bailable, the magistrate issuing it must make an endorsement thereon as follows: “Let the defendant, when arrested, be (admitted to bail in the sum of . . . . . dollars) or (stating other conditions of release).” [R60,§4537; C73,§4189; C97,§5185; C24 27, 31, 35, 39,§13463; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§754.6; C79,§804.3]

See Form 3, Appendix of forms, R Cr P 30

804.4 Manner of executing warrant. The warrant may be delivered to any peace officer for execution, and served in any county in the state. [R60,§4538; C73,§4190; C97,§5186; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13464; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§754.7; C79,§804.4]

804.5 Arrest defined. Arrest is the taking of a person into custody when and in the manner authorized by law, including restraint of the person or his or her submission to custody. [C51,§2837, 2838, 2850; R60,§4545, 4551, 4557–4559; C73,§4197, 4203, 4209–4211; C97,§5193, 5194; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13465, 13466; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§755.1, 755.2; C79,§804.5]

804.6 Persons authorized to make an arrest. An arrest pursuant to a warrant shall be made only by a peace officer; in other cases, an arrest may be made by a peace officer or by a private person as provided in this chapter. [R60,§4546; C73,§4198; C97,§5195; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13467; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§755.3; C79,§804.6]

804.7 Arrests by peace officers. A peace officer may make an arrest in obedience to a warrant delivered to the peace officer; and without a warrant:

1. For a public offense committed or attempted in the peace officer's presence.
2. Where a public offense has in fact been committed, and the peace officer has reasonable ground for believing that the person to be arrested has committed it.
3. Where the peace officer has reasonable ground for believing that an indictable public offense has been committed and has reasonable ground for believing that the person to be arrested has committed it.

4. Where the peace officer has received from the department of public safety, or from any other peace officer of this state or any other state or the United States an official communication by bulletin, radio, telegraph, telephone, or otherwise, informing the peace officer that a warrant has been issued and is being held for the arrest of the person to be arrested on a designated charge. [C51,§2840; R60,§4547, 4548; C73,§4199, 4200; C97,§5196; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13468; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§755.4; C79,§804.7]

See Form 3, Appendix of forms, R Cr P 30

804.8 Use of force by peace officer making an arrest. A peace officer, while making a lawful arrest, is justified in the use of any force which the peace officer reasonably believes to be necessary to effect the arrest or to defend any person from bodily harm while making the arrest. However, the use of deadly force is only justified when a person cannot be captured any other way and either

1. The person has used or threatened to use deadly force in committing a felony or
2. The peace officer reasonably believes the person would use deadly force against any person unless immediately apprehended.

A peace officer making an arrest pursuant to an invalid warrant is justified in the use of any force which the peace officer would be justified in using if the warrant were valid, unless the peace officer knows that the warrant is invalid. [C51,§2844; R60,§4553; C73,§4205; C97,§5200; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13472; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§755.8; C79,§804.8]

Referred to in §704.12

See §704.1—704.3

804.9 Arrests by private persons. A private person may make an arrest:

1. For a public offense committed or attempted in the person's presence.
2. When a felony has been committed, and the person has reasonable ground for believing that the person to be arrested has committed it. [C51,§2846; R60,§4549; C73,§4201; C97,§5197; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,

804.10 Use of force in arrest by private person. A private person who makes or assists another private person in making a lawful arrest is justified in using any force which the person reasonably believes to be necessary to make the arrest or which he or she reasonably believes to be necessary to prevent serious injury to any person.

A private person who is summoned or directed by a peace officer to assist in making an arrest may use whatever force the peace officer could use under the circumstances, provided that, if the arrest is unlawful, the private person assisting the officer shall be justified as if the arrest were a lawful arrest, unless the person knows that the arrest is unlawful.

Referred to in §704.12

See §704.1—704.3

804.11 Arrest of material witness. When a law enforcement officer has probable cause to believe that a person is a necessary and material witness to a felony and that such person might be unavailable for service of a subpoena, the officer may arrest such person as a material witness with or without an arrest warrant.

At the time of the arrest, the law enforcement officer shall inform the person of:

1. His or her identity as a law enforcement officer; and
2. The reason for the arrest which is that the person is believed to be a material witness to an identified felony and that the person might be unavailable for service of a subpoena. [C51,§2876-2879; R60,§4601-4604; C73,§4248-4251; C97, §5232-5235; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13547-13550; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§761.21-761.24; C79,§804.11]

See R Cr P 19(1), §815.6

804.12 Use of force in resisting arrest. A person is not authorized to use force to resist an arrest, either of himself, herself, or another which the person knows is being made either by a peace officer or by a private person summoned and directed by a peace officer to make the arrest, even if the person believes that the arrest is unlawful or the arrest is in fact unlawful. [C51,§2669; R60,§4296; C73,§3960; C97,§4899; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13331; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§742.1; C79,§804.12]

804.13 Use of force in preventing an escape. A peace officer or other person who has an arrested person in his or her custody is justified in the use of such force to prevent the escape of the arrested person from custody as he or she would be justified in using if he or she were arresting such person. [C51,§2844; R60,§4553; C73,§4205; C97,§5200; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13472; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§755.8; C79,§804.13]

804.14 Manner of making arrest. The person making the arrest must inform the person to be arrested of the intention to arrest him or her, the reason for arrest, and that he or she is a peace officer, if such be the case, and require him or her to submit to the person's custody, except when the person to be arrested is actually engaged in the commission of or attempt to commit an offense, or escapes, so that there is no time or opportunity to do so; if acting under the authority of a warrant, the law enforcement officer need not have the warrant in his or her possession at the time of the arrest, but upon request the officer shall show the warrant to the person being arrested as soon as possible. If the officer does not have the warrant in his or her possession at the time of arrest, the officer shall inform the person being arrested of the fact that a warrant has been issued. [C51,§2839, 2841, 2847; R60,§4552; C73,§4204; C97,§5199; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13471; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§755.7; C79,§804.14]

804.15 Breaking and entering premises—demand to enter. If a law enforcement officer has reasonable cause to believe that a person whom the officer is authorized to arrest is present on any private premises, the officer may upon identifying himself or herself as such, demand that he or she be admitted to such premises for the purpose of making the arrest. If such demand is not promptly complied with, the officer may thereupon enter such premises to make the arrest, using such force as is reasonably necessary. [C51,§2843, 2848; R60,§4554; C73,§4206; C97,§5201; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13473; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §755.9; C79,§804.15]

804.16 Time of arrest. An arrest may be made on any day and at any time of the day or night. [C51,§2837, 2850; R60,§4545, 4551; C73,§4197, 4203; C97, §5193; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13465; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§755.1; C79,§804.16]

804.17 Summoning aid. Any peace officer making a legal arrest may orally summon as many persons as the officer reasonably finds necessary to aid him or her in making the arrest. [R60,§4556; C73,§4208; C97,§5203; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13475; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§755.11; C79,§804.17]

804.18 Taking weapons. Any person who makes an arrest may take from the person arrested all items which are capable of causing bodily harm which the arrested person may have within his or her control to be disposed of according to law. [R60,§4560; C73,§4212; C97,§5204; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13476; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§755.12; C79,§804.18]

804.19 Receipt given. When money or other property is taken from the defendant arrested on a charge of a public offense, the officer taking it shall, at the time, give duplicate receipts therefor, specifying particularly the amount of money and the kind of property taken; one of which receipts he or she must deliver to the defendant, and the other he or she must forthwith file with the clerk of the district court of the county where the depositions and statements are to be sent by the magistrate. [C79,§804.19]

804.20 Communications by arrested persons. Any peace officer or other person having custody of any person arrested or restrained of his or her liberty for any reason whatever, shall permit that person, without unnecessary delay after arrival at the place of detention, to call, consult, and see a member of his or her family or an attorney of his or her choice, or both. Such person shall be permitted to make a reasonable number of telephone calls as may be required to secure an attorney. If a call is made, it shall be made in the presence of the person having custody of the one arrested or restrained. If such person is intoxicated, or a person under eighteen years of age, the call may be made by the person having custody. An attorney shall be permitted to see and consult confidentially with such person alone and in private at the jail or other place of custody without unreasonable delay. A violation of this section shall constitute a simple misdemeanor. [C62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§755.17; C79,§804.20]

1. Any person arrested in obedience to a warrant shall, without unnecessary delay, be taken before the nearest or most accessible magistrate to the place where the arrest occurred, and the officer must at the same time deliver to the magistrate the warrant with the officer's return thereon endorsed and subscribed by the officer with his or her official title.

2. Where the offense is bailable, the magistrate shall fix bail giving due consideration to the bail endorsed on the warrant or other conditions stipulated on the warrant for the defendant's appearance in the court which issued the warrant; if such person is not released on bail, the magistrate must redeliver the warrant to the officer, and the officer shall retain custody of the arrested person until his or her removal to appear before the magistrate who issued the warrant.

3. If the magistrate who issued the warrant is absent or unable to act, the arrested person shall be taken to the nearest or most accessible magistrate in the judicial district where the offense occurred, and all documents on which the warrant was issued must be sent to such magistrate, or if they cannot be procured, the informant and his or her witnesses must be subpoenaed to make new affidavits. [C51,§2831-2836; R60,§4539-4544, 4565; C73,§4191-4196, 4217; C97,§5187-5192, 5207; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13480-13487; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§757.1-757.8; C79,§804.21]

804.22 Initial appearance before magistrate—arrest without warrant. When an arrest is made without a warrant, the person arrested shall, without unnecessary delay, be taken before the nearest or most accessible magistrate in the judicial district in which such arrest was made, and the grounds on which the arrest was made shall be stated to the magistrate by complaint, subscribed and sworn to by the complainant, or supported by the complainant's affirmation, and such magistrate shall proceed as follows:

1. If the magistrate believes from such complaint that the offense charged is triable in his or her court, the magistrate shall proceed with the case.

2. If the magistrate believes from such complaint that the offense charged is triable in another court, the magistrate shall by written order, commit the person arrested to a peace officer, to be taken before the appropriate magistrate in the district in which the offense is triable, and shall fix the amount of bail or other conditions of release which the person arrested may give for his or her appearance at the other court. [R60,§4566, 4567, 4569; C73,§4218, 4219, 4221; C97,§5208, 5209, 5211; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13488, 13489, 13492; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§758.1, 758.2, 758.5; C79,§804.22]

See R Cr P 35, §804.1, 805.1, 805.4, 805.6, ch 811

804.23 Initial appearance of arrested material witness before magistrate. The officer shall, without unnecessary delay, take the person arrested pursuant to section 804.11 before the nearest or most accessible magistrate to the place where the arrest occurred.

At the appearance before the magistrate, the law enforcement officer shall make a showing to the magistrate, by sworn affidavit, that probable cause exists to believe that a person is a necessary and material witness to a felony and that such person might be unavailable for service of a subpoena. The magistrate may order the person released pursuant to section 811.2. [C51,§2876–2879; R60,§4601–4604; C73,§4248–4251; C97, §5232–5235; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13547–13550; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§761.21–761.24; C79,§804.23]

804.24 Arrests by private persons—disposition of prisoner. A private citizen who has arrested another for the commission of an offense must, without unnecessary delay, take the arrested person before a magistrate, or deliver the arrested person to a peace officer, who may take the arrested person before a magistrate, but the person making the arrest must also accompany the officer before the magistrate. [C51,§2842, 2849; R60,§4562–4564; C73,§4214–4216; C97,§5206; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13478; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§755.14; C79,§804.24]

Referred to in §815.8

804.25 Bail—discharge. Any magistrate who receives bail as provided for in sections 804.21, subsection 2, and 804.22, subsection 2, shall endorse, on the order of commitment or on the warrant, an order for the discharge from custody of the arrested person, who shall forthwith be discharged, and shall transmit by mail, or otherwise, as soon as it can be conveniently done, to the court at which the person is bound to appear, the affidavits, order of commitment or warrant, and discharge, together with the undertaking of bail. [C51,§2833; R60,§4541, 4570; C73,§4193, 4222; C97,§5189, 5212; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13483, 13493; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§757.4, 758.6; C79,§804.25]

See Forms 6 and 7, Appendix of forms, R Cr P 30

804.26 Officer's return. In all cases, the peace officer, when he or she takes a person committed to the officer under an order as provided in this chapter before a magistrate, either for the purpose of giving bail, if bail be taken, or for trial or preliminary examination, must make his or her return on such order, and sign such return with his or her name of office, and deliver the same to the magistrate. [R60,§4573; C73,§4225; C97,§5215; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13496; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§758.9; C79,§804.26]

804.27 Conveying prisoner to jail—fees and expenses. Every officer or person who shall arrest anyone with a warrant or order issued by any court or officer, or who shall be required to convey a prisoner to such jail on an order of commitment, may be allowed the same fees and expenses as provided for in case of such services by the sheriff. [C73,§3820; C97,§1292; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13479; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§755.15; C79,§804.27]

804.28 Department of public safety prisoners. The sheriff of any county shall accept for custody in the county jail of the sheriff's respective county any person handed over to him or her for safekeeping and lodging by any member of the department of public safety. [C39,§13479.1; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§755.16; C79,§804.28]

804.29 Confidentiality. All information filed with the court for the purpose of securing a warrant for an arrest, including but not limited to a citation and affidavits, shall be a confidential record until such time as a peace officer has made the arrest and has made his or her return on the warrant. During the period of time that information is confidential, it shall be sealed by the court and the information contained therein shall not be disseminated to any person other than a peace officer, magistrate, or another court employee, in the course of official duties. [C79,§804.29]

804.30 Strip searches. A person arrested for a scheduled violation or a simple misdemeanor shall not be subjected to a strip search unless there is probable cause to believe the person is concealing a weapon or contraband. A strip search pursuant to this section shall not be conducted except under all of the following conditions:

1. Written authorization of the supervisor on duty is obtained.
2. A search warrant is obtained for the probing of any body cavity other than the mouth, ears or nose.
3. A visual search or probing of any body cavity shall be performed under sanitary conditions. A physical probe of a body cavity other than the mouth, ears or nose shall be performed only by a licensed physician unless voluntarily waived in writing by the arrested person.
4. The search is conducted in a place where it cannot be observed by persons not conducting the search.
5. The search is conducted by a person of the same sex as the arrested person, unless conducted by a physician.

Subsequent to a strip search a written report shall be prepared which includes the written authorization required by subsection 1, the name of the person subjected to the search, the names of the persons conducting the search, the time, date and place of the search and, if required by subsection 2, a copy of the search warrant authorizing the search. A copy of the report shall be provided to the person searched. [68GA, ch 1188,§2]

- 805.12 Disposition of traffic fines and costs.
- 805.13 Venue.
- 805.14 Credit cards.
- 805.15 Other citation forms.

POLICE CITATIONS

805.1 When police citation may issue. Whenever it would be lawful for a peace officer to arrest a person without a warrant, the officer may issue a citation instead of making the arrest and taking the person before a magistrate. [C73, 75, 77,§753.5; C79,§805.1]

Referred to in §364.17
See §804 1, 804 7, 805 6

805.2 Form. The citation shall include the name and address of the person, the nature of the offense, the time and place at which the person is to appear in court, and the penalty for nonappearance. [C73, 75, 77,§753.6; C79,§805.2]

Referred to in §364 17, 805 6(1)“a”

805.3 Procedure. Before he or she is released, the cited person shall sign the citation as a written promise to appear in court at the time and place specified. A copy of the citation shall be given to the person. [C73, 75, 77,§753.7; C79,§805.3]

Referred to in §364 17, 805 6(1)“a”

805.4 Complaint. The law enforcement officer issuing the citation shall cause to be filed a complaint in the court in which the cited person is required to appear, as soon as practicable, charging the crime stated in said notice. [C73, 75, 77,§753.8; C79,§805.4]

See §804.1, R.Cr.P 35

805.5 Failure to appear. Any person who willfully fails to appear in court as specified by the citation shall be guilty of a simple misdemeanor. Where a defendant fails to make a required court appearance, the court shall issue an arrest warrant for the offense of failure to appear, and shall forward the warrant and the original citation to the clerk. The clerk shall enter a transfer to the issuing agency on the docket, and shall return the warrant with the original citation attached to the law enforcement agency which issued the original citation for enforcement of the warrant. Upon arrest of the defendant, the warrant and the original citation shall be returned to the court, and the offenses shall be heard and disposed of simultaneously. [C73, 75, 77,§753.9; C79,§805.5]

Referred to in §364 17

TRAFFIC AND SCHEDULED VIOLATIONS

805.6 Uniform citation and complaint.

1. a. The commissioner of public safety and the state conservation director, acting jointly, shall adopt a uniform, combined citation and complaint which shall be used for charging all traffic violations in Iowa under state law or local regulation or ordinance, and which shall be used for charging all other violations which are designated by section 805.8 to be scheduled violations. This subsection shall not be deemed to prevent the charging of any of those violations by information, by private complaint filed under the provisions of chapter 804, or by a simple notice of fine where permitted by section 321.236, subsection 1. Each uniform citation and complaint shall be serially numbered and shall be in quintuplicate, and the officer shall deliver the original and a copy to the court where the defendant is to appear, two copies to the defendant, and a copy to the law enforcement agency of the officer. The court shall forward the copy of the uniform citation and complaint in accordance with section 321.207 when applicable. The uniform citation and complaint shall contain spaces for the parties names; the address of the alleged offender; the registration number of the offender's vehicle; the information required by section 805.2; a promise to appear as provided in section 805.3 and a place where the cited person may sign the promise to appear; a list of the scheduled fines prescribed by section 805.8, either separately or by group, and a statement that the court costs in scheduled offense cases, whether or not a court appearance is required or is demanded, shall be six dollars; a brief explanation of sections 805.9 and 805.10; a space where the defendant may sign an admission of the violation when permitted by section 805.9; and the uniform citation and complaint shall require that the defendant appear before a court at a specified time and place. The uniform citation and complaint also may contain a space for the imprint of a credit card, and may contain any other information which the commissioner of public safety and the state conservation director may determine.

b. The uniform citation and complaint shall contain the following statement with a space immediately below it for the signature of the person being charged:

"I hereby give my unsecured appearance bond in the amount of . . . . . dollars and enter my written appearance. I agree that if I fail to appear in person or by counsel to defend against the offense charged in this citation the court is authorized to enter a conviction and render judgment against me for the amount of my appearance bond in satisfaction of the penalty plus court costs."

c. Unless the officer issuing the citation arrests the alleged offender, or permits admission or requires submission of bail as provided in section 805.9, subsection 3, the officer shall enter in the blank contained in the statement required by paragraph "b" one of the following amounts and shall require the person to sign the written appearance:

(1) If the offense is one to which a scheduled fine is applicable, an amount equal to one and one-half times the scheduled fine plus five dollars costs; or

(2) If the violation charged involved or resulted in an accident or injury to property and the total damages are less than two hundred fifty dollars, the amount of fifty dollars and five dollars costs. If the violation is for any offense for which a court appearance is mandatory, the amount of one hundred dollars plus five dollars costs.

d. The written appearance defined in paragraph "b" shall not be used for any offense other than a simple misdemeanor.

2. In addition to those violations which are required by subsection 1 to be charged upon a uniform citation and complaint, a violation of chapter 321 which is punishable as a simple, serious, or aggravated misdemeanor may be charged upon a uniform citation and complaint, whether or not the alleged offender is arrested by the officer making the charge.

3. Supplies of the uniform citation and complaint for municipal corporations and county agencies shall be paid for out of the court expense fund of the county. Supplies of the uniform citation and complaint for all other agencies shall be paid for out of the budget of the agency concerned.

4. The uniform citation and complaint shall contain a place for the verification of the officer issuing the complaint. The complaint may be verified before the chief officer of the law enforcement agency, or his or her designee, and the chief officer of each law enforcement agency of the state is authorized to designate specific individuals to administer oaths and certify verifications.

5. The commissioner of public safety and the state conservation director, acting jointly, shall design and publish a compendium of scheduled violations and scheduled fines, containing other information which they deem appropriate, and shall distribute copies to all courts and law enforcement officers and agencies of the state upon request. The cost of the publication shall be paid out of the budget of the department of public safety and out of the budget of the state conservation commission, each budget being liable for half of those costs. Copies shall be made available to individuals upon request, and a charge may be collected which does not exceed the cost of printing.

6. Nothing contained in this section shall be deemed to invalidate forms of uniform citation and complaint in existence prior to January 1, 1978. Existing forms may be used until supplies are exhausted. [C73, 75, 77, §753.13; C79, §805.6; 68GA, ch 1014, §41, ch 1103, §20]

805.7 Traffic and scheduled violations offices—fine collection boxes.

1. Offices. Each district court clerk's office shall constitute a traffic and scheduled violations office of the district court. Additional offices may be established at other locations, as needed, if authorized by the chief judge of the district.

2. Collection boxes. The chief judge of the district may permit the maintenance of locked collection boxes to be used at weigh stations. Such boxes shall be used solely for the deposit of fines and costs received upon written admissions of those scheduled violations applicable to commercial carriers. The collection boxes shall remain locked at all times and shall be opened only by the clerk of the district court or his or her designee. The chief judge of the district may prescribe procedures for the system and may discontinue its use if necessary. [C73, 75, 77, §753.14; C79, §805.7]

This section was not enacted as a part of the criminal code but was transferred here from §753 14, Code 1977

805.8 Scheduled violations.

1. Application. Except as otherwise indicated, violations of sections of the Code specified in this section shall be scheduled violations, and the scheduled fine for each of those violations shall be as provided in this section, whether the violation is of state law or of county resolution or city ordinance.

2. Traffic violations.

a. For parking violations under sections 321.236, 321.239, 321.358, 321.360, and 321.361, the scheduled fine is five dollars: However, violations charged by a city upon simple notice of a fine instead of a uniform citation and complaint as permitted by section 321.236, subsection 1, paragraph "a", are not scheduled violations, and this section shall not apply to any offense charged in that manner. For a parking violation under section 111.38 or 321.362 the scheduled fine is ten dollars.

b. For registration violations under sections 321.32, 321.34, 321.37, 321.38, 321.41, and 321.189, subsection 3, the scheduled fine is five dollars. For violations of sections 321.32 and 321.189, subsection 3, the case shall be dismissed without imposition of fine or costs if a license or registration valid at the time of the issuance of the citation is presented by the defendant to the magistrate or scheduled violations office.

c. For improperly used or nonused, or defective or improper equipment, other than brakes, driving lights and brakelights, under sections 321.317, 321.387, 321.388, 321.389, 321.390, 321.391, 321.392, 321.393, 321.422, 321.432, 321.436, 321.437, 321.438, 321.439, 321.440, 321.441, 321.442, 321.444, 321.445 and 321.447, the scheduled fine is ten dollars.

d. For improperly used or nonused or defective or improper equipment under sections 321.383, 321.384, 321.385, 321.386, 321.398, 321.402, 321.403, 321.404, 321.409, 321.419, 321.420, 321.423, 321.430, 321.433, 321.448, 321.449 and 321.450, the scheduled fine is twenty dollars.

e. For violations of a restricted license under sections 321.180, 321.193 and 321.194, the scheduled fine is twenty dollars.

f. For excessive speed violations when not more than five miles per hour in excess of the limit under sections 111.36, 321.236, subsections 5 and 11, 321.285, 321.286 and 321.287, the scheduled fine is ten dollars.

Excessive speed in conjunction with a violation of section 321.278 is not a scheduled violation, whatever the amount of excess speed.

For excessive speed violations when in excess of the limit under those sections by five or less miles per hour the fine is ten dollars, by more than five and not more than ten miles per hour the fine is twenty dollars, by more than ten and not more than fifteen miles per hour the fine is thirty dollars, by more than fifteen and not more than twenty miles per hour the fine is forty dollars, and by more than twenty miles per hour the fine is forty dollars plus two dollars for each mile per hour of excessive speed over twenty miles per hour over the limit.

Excessive speed in whatever amount by a school bus is not a scheduled violation under any section listed in a subparagraph of this paragraph "f".

g. For operating, passing, turning and standing violations under sections 321.225, 321.236, subsections 3, 4, 9 and 12, 321.275, 321.295, 321.297, 321.299, 321.303, 321.304, subsections 1 and 2, 321.305, 321.306, 321.311, 321.312, 321.314, 321.315, 321.316, 321.318, 321.323, 321.340, 321.344, 321.353, 321.354, 321.363, 321.364, 321.365, 321.366, 321.368, 321.382 and 321.395, the scheduled fine is fifteen dollars.

h. For violations involving failures to yield or to observe pedestrians and other vehicles under sections 321.257, subsections 1 and 4, 321.288, 321.298, 321.300, 321.307, 321.308, 321.313, 321.319, 321.320, 321.321, 321.329, 321.333, and 321.367, the scheduled fine is twenty dollars.

i. For violations by pedestrians and bicyclists under sections 321.236, subsection 10, 321.325, 321.326, 321.328, 321.331, 321.332, 321.397 and 321.434, the scheduled fine is ten dollars.

j. For violations by operators of school buses and emergency vehicles, and for violations by other motor vehicle operators when in vicinity, under sections 321.231, 321.324, 321.372 and 321.377, the scheduled fine is twenty-five dollars: However, excessive speed by a school bus in excess of ten miles over the limit is not a scheduled violation.

k. For violations of traffic signs and signals, and for failure to obey an officer under sections 321.229, 321.236, subsections 2 and 6, 321.256, 321.257, subsections 2 and 3, 321.258, 321.294, 321.304, subsection 3, 321.322, 321.341, 321.342, 321.343 and 321.345, the scheduled fine is twenty dollars.

l. For height, weight, length, width and load violations and towed vehicle violations under sections 321.309, 321.310, 321.381, 321.394, 321.437, 321.454, 321.455, 321.456, 321.457, 321.458, 321.461, 321.462 and 321.474, the scheduled fine is twenty-five dollars. For weight violations under sections 321.459 and 321.466, the scheduled fine is twenty dollars for each two thousand pounds or fraction thereof of overweight.

m. For violation of display of identification required by section 326.22 and violation of trip permits as prescribed by section 326.23, the scheduled fine is twenty dollars.

n. For violation of registration provisions under section 321.17; violation of intrastate hauling on foreign registration under sections 321.54 and 321.55; use of registration under section 321.99; and display of registration or plates under section 321.98, the scheduled fine is twenty dollars.

For no evidence or improper evidence of intrastate authority carried or displayed under section 325.34; operation of vehicle by an unqualified driver under sections 325.34 and 327.22; and operating a vehicle in violation of maximum hours of service or failure to maintain and display evidence of hours of service under sections 325.34 and 327.22, the scheduled fine is twenty-five dollars.

For no or improper carrier identification markings under section 327B.1, the scheduled fine is fifteen dollars.

For no or improper evidence of interstate authority carried or displayed under section 327B.1, the scheduled fine is one hundred dollars.

o. For violations of section 324.14, 324.52 or 324.74, subsections 2 and 6, the scheduled fine is ten dollars.

p. Violations of the schedule of axle and tandem axle and gross or group of axle weight violations in section 321.463 shall be scheduled violations subject to the provisions, procedures and exceptions contained in sections 805.6 to 805.11, irrespective of the amount of the fine under that schedule. Violations of the schedule of weight violations shall be chargeable, where the fine charged does not exceed one hundred dollars, only by uniform citation and complaint. Violations of the schedule of weight violations, where the fine charged exceeds one hundred dollars:

(1) Shall, when the violation is admitted and section 805.9 applies, be chargeable upon uniform citation and complaint, indictment, or county attorney's information,

(2) but otherwise, shall be chargeable only upon indictment or county attorney's information. In all cases of charges under the schedule of weight violations, the charge shall specify the amount of fine charged under the schedule. Where a defendant is convicted and the fine under the foregoing schedule of weight violations exceeds one hundred dollars, the conviction shall be of an indictable offense although section 805.9 is employed and whether the violation is charged upon uniform citation and complaint, indictment, or county attorney's information.

q. For failure to have a valid license or permit for operating a motor vehicle on the highways of this state, the scheduled fine is fifteen dollars.

3. Violations of navigation laws.

a. For violations of registration, inspection, identification and record provisions under sections 106.4, 106.5, 106.10, 106.35, and 106.37, the scheduled fine is five dollars.

b. For unused or improper or defective lights and warning devices under sections 106.9, subsections 2, 4, 5, 9, 10 and 13, and 106.11, the scheduled fine is ten dollars.

c. For unused or improper or defective equipment under section 106.9, subsections 6, 7 and 8, the scheduled fine is twenty dollars.

d. For operating violations under sections 106.12, 106.26, 106.31, whether of state law or local ordinance, and 106.33, the scheduled fine is twenty dollars: However, violation of section 106.12, subsection 2, is not a scheduled violation.

e. For operating violations under sections 106.15, subsection 1, 106.24 and 106.34, the scheduled fine is twenty-five dollars.

f. For violations of use, location and storage of vessels, devices and structures under sections 106.27, 106.28 and 106.32, the scheduled fine is fifteen dollars.

g. For violations of all subdivision ordinances under section 106.17, subsection 2, except those relating to matters subject to regulation by authority of subsection 5 of section 106.31, the scheduled fine is ten dollars, whether or not a different scheduled fine is prescribed elsewhere in this subsection.

4. Snowmobile violations.

a. For registration and identification violations under sections 321G.3 and 321G.5, the scheduled fine is five dollars.

b. For operating violations under sections 321G.9, subsections 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 7, 321G.11, and 321G.13, subsections 4 and 9, the scheduled fine is twenty dollars.

c. For improper or defective equipment under section 321G.12, the scheduled fine is ten dollars.

d. For violations of section 321G.19, the scheduled fine is fifteen dollars.

5. Fish and game law violations.

a. For violations of section 110.1, the scheduled fine is twenty dollars: However, engaging without a license in any activity the license fee for which is greater than twenty dollars is not a scheduled violation.

b. For violations of sections 109.54, 109.80, first paragraph, 109.82, 109.91, 109.122, 109.123 and 110.19, the scheduled fine is twenty dollars.

c. For hunting or taking a raccoon during a closed season in violation of sections 109.38 and 109.39 or administrative orders or rules adopted under those sections, the scheduled fine is fifty dollars.

6. Violations relating to the use and misuse of parks and preserves.

a. For violations under sections 111.39, 111.45 and 111.50, the scheduled fine is ten dollars.

b. For violations under sections 111.40, 111.43, 111.46 and 111.49, the scheduled fine is fifteen dollars.

7. Description of violations. The descriptions of offenses used in this section are for convenience only and shall not be construed to define any offense or to include or exclude any offense other than those specifically included or excluded by reference to the Code. A reference to a section or subsection of the Code without further limitation includes every offense defined by that section or subsection.

8. Energy emergency violations. For violations of an executive order issued by the governor under the provisions of section 93.8, the scheduled fine is fifty dollars. [C73, 75, 77, §753.15; 68GA, ch 149, §1, 2, ch 1012, §69, ch 1015, §69, ch 1027, §4, ch 1094, §43, 44, ch 1103, §21, 22]

805.9 Admission of scheduled violations.

1. In cases of scheduled violations, the defendant, before the time specified in the citation and complaint for appearance before the court, may sign the admission of violation on the citation and complaint and deliver or mail the citation and complaint, together with the minimum fine for the violation, plus five dollars costs, to a scheduled violations office in the county. The office shall, if the offense is a moving violation under chapter 321, forward a copy of the citation and complaint and admission to the department of transportation as required by section 321.207. Thereupon the defendant shall not be required to appear before the court. The admission shall constitute a conviction.

2. A defendant charged with a scheduled violation by information may obtain two copies of the information from the court and, before the time he or she is required to appear before the court, deliver or mail such copies, together with his or her admission, fine, and five dollars costs, to the scheduled violations office in the county. The procedure, fine, and costs shall be the same as when the charge is by citation and complaint, with the admission and the number of the defendant's operator's or chauffeur's license placed upon the information, when the violation involves the use of a motor vehicle.

3. When section 805.8 and this section are applicable but the officer does not deem it advisable to release the defendant and no court in the county is in session:

a. If the defendant wishes to admit the violation, the officer may release the defendant upon observing the person mail the citation and complaint, admission, and minimum fine, together with five dollars costs, to a traffic violations office in the county, in an envelope furnished by the officer. The admission shall constitute a conviction and judgment in the amount of the scheduled fine plus five dollars costs. The officer may allow the defendant to use a credit card pursuant to rules adopted pursuant to section 805.14 by the department of public safety or to mail a check in the proper amount in lieu of cash. If the check is not paid by the drawee for any reason, the defendant may be held in contempt of court. The officer shall advise the defendant of the penalty for nonpayment of the check.

b. If the defendant does not comply with paragraph "a" of this subsection, the officer may release the defendant upon observing him mail to a court in the county the citation and complaint and one and one-half times the minimum fine together with five dollars costs, or in lieu of one and one-half times the fine and the costs, a guaranteed arrest bond certificate as provided in section 321.1, subsection 71, as bail together with the following statement signed by the defendant:

"I agree that either (1) I will appear pursuant to this citation or (2) if I do not appear in person or by counsel to defend against the offense charged in this citation the court is authorized to enter a conviction and render judgment against me for the amount of one and one-half times the scheduled fine plus five dollars costs.”

c. If the defendant does not comply with paragraph “a” or “b”, or in any event when section 804.7 is applicable, the officer may arrest and confine the defendant if authorized by the latter section, and proceed with him according to chapter 804.

4. Any defendant who admits a scheduled violation may nevertheless appear before court. The procedure, costs, and fine, without suspension of the fine, after the hearing shall be the same as in the traffic violations office.

5. A defendant charged with a scheduled violation who does not fully comply with subsection 1, 2, 3, or 4 of this section before the time required to appear before the court must, at that time, appear before the court. If such defendant admits the violation, the procedure and fine, without suspension, after the hearing shall be the same before the court as before the traffic violations office with five dollars court costs, without prejudice, when applicable, to proceedings under section 321.487.

6. The five dollars in costs imposed by this section shall be the total costs collectible from any defendant upon either an admission of a violation without hearing, or upon a hearing pursuant to subsection 4. Fees shall not be imposed upon or collected from any defendant for the purposes specified in section 606.15, subsection 9, 10 or 20. [C73, 75, 77,§753.16; C79,§805.9]

Sections 805 9 to 805 14 were not enacted as a part of the criminal code but were transferred here from §753 16 to 753 21, Code 1977

805.10 Required court appearance. Section 805.9 shall not apply to a scheduled violation in any of the following circumstances:

1. When the violation charged involved or resulted in an accident or injury to property, and the total damages are two hundred fifty dollars or more or in injury to person.

2. When the violation involved the use of a motor vehicle and the officer believed the defendant did not have in force a valid operator's or chauffeur's license or permit.

3. When the violation created an immediate threat to the safety of other persons or property because of highway conditions, visibility, traffic, repetition, or other circumstances.

4. When the violation charged is being in excess of the speed limit by more than twenty miles per hour.

In such cases, the defendant shall appear before the court and regular procedure shall apply. If an information is used the officer shall endorse thereon, “Court appearance required.” If a citation and complaint is used, the officer shall strike out the space in which the defendant may admit the violation before a scheduled violations office and shall endorse thereon “Court appearance required” and the defendant shall appear before the court either in person or by attorney. [C73, 75, 77,§753.17; C79,§805.10; 68GA, ch 1103,§23, 24]

Referred to in §321 236, 805 6, 805 8, 805 11, 805 13, 805 15

805.11 Other penalties. If the defendant is convicted of a scheduled violation, the penalty shall be the scheduled fine, without suspension of the fine prescribed in section 805.8 together with costs assessed and distributed as prescribed by section 602.63, unless it appears from the evidence that the violation was of the type set forth in section 805.10, subsection 1 or 3, in which event the scheduled fine shall not apply and the penalty shall be increased within the limits provided by law for the offense.

Upon the conviction of a defendant of a violation specified in section 805.8 or 805.10, fees shall not be imposed or collected for the purposes specified in section 606.15, subsection 9, 10 or 20. [C73, 75, 77,§753.18; C79,§805.11]

Referred to in §321 236, 805 8, 805 15

805.12 Disposition of traffic fines and costs. Fines, forfeiture of bail, fees, and costs collected for all traffic violations, whether or not scheduled, and for all other scheduled violations shall be remitted in accordance with section 602.55. [C73, 75, 77,§753.19; C79,§805.12]

Referred to in §321 236, 805 15

805.13 Venue.

1. Traffic violations, whether or not scheduled, and all other scheduled violations may be tried before the nearest magistrate in the judicial district in which the offense is committed.

2. Upon written consent of the defendant and the officer issuing the citation, traffic violations, whether or not scheduled, and any other scheduled violations, other than those for which a court appearance is required under section 805.10 may be prosecuted in any county in the state irrespective of where committed, and in such event the documents in the case shall be sent to the court or traffic and scheduled violations office designated by the defendant and the officer. [C73, 75, 77,§753.20; C79,§805.13]

Referred to in §321 236, 803 3, 805 15

805.14 Credit cards. Fines for scheduled traffic violations enumerated in section 805.8 may be paid by credit cards, as defined in section 537.1301, subsection 17, approved for that purpose by the commissioner of public safety. The commissioner shall enter agreements with financial institutions extending credit through the use of credit cards to insure reimbursement of the amount of the fine plus appropriate costs to the proper traffic violations office in the state. The commissioner shall adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A to implement the provisions of this section. [C77,§753.21; C79,§805.14]

Referred to in §805 9, 805 15, 811 9

805.15 Other citation forms. The provisions of sections 321.485 to 321.487 shall govern with respect to offenses charged in the manner provided in section 321.485. The provisions of sections 805.6 to 805.14 shall govern with respect to offenses chargeable upon a uniform citation and complaint. [C79,§805.15]

CHAPTER 806

UNIFORM FRESH PURSUIT LAW

Referred to in §602 62, 801 1

- 806.1 Authority of officers from another state.
- 806.2 Procedure following arrest.
- 806.3 Construction of statute.
- 806.4 Officers from District of Columbia.
- 806.5 Definitions of terms.
- 806.6 Chapter title.

806.1 Authority of officers from another state. Any member of a duly organized state, county, or municipal law enforcing unit of another state of the United States who enters this state in fresh pursuit, and continues within this state in such fresh pursuit, of a person in order to arrest the person on the ground that the person is believed to have committed a felony in such other state, shall have the same authority to arrest and hold such person in custody, as has any member of any duly organized state, county, or municipal law enforcing unit of this state, to arrest and hold in custody a person on the ground that the person is believed to have committed a felony in this state. [C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§756.1; C79,§806.1]

Referred to in §806 2, 806 3

806.2 Procedure following arrest. If an arrest is made in this state by an officer of another state in accordance with the provisions of section 806.1, the officer shall without unnecessary delay take the person arrested before a magistrate of the county in which the arrest was made, who shall conduct a hearing for the purpose of determining the lawfulness of the arrest. If the magistrate determines that the arrest was lawful the magistrate shall commit the person arrested to await for a reasonable time the issuance of an extradition warrant by the governor of this state or admit the person to bail for such purpose. If the magistrate determines that the arrest was unlawful the magistrate shall discharge the person arrested.

806.3 Construction of statute. Section 806.1 shall not be construed so as to make unlawful any arrest in this state which would otherwise be lawful. [C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§756.3; C79,§806.3]

806.4 Officers from District of Columbia. For the purpose of this division the word "state" shall include the District of Columbia. [C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§756.4; C79,§806.4]

806.5 Definitions of terms. The term "fresh pursuit" as used in this division shall include fresh pursuit as defined by the common law, and also the pursuit of a person who has committed a felony or who is reasonably suspected of having committed a felony. It shall also include the pursuit of a person suspected of having committed a supposed felony, though no felony has actually been committed, if there is reasonable ground for believing that a felony has been committed. Fresh pursuit as used herein shall not necessarily imply instant pursuit, but pursuit without unreasonable delay. [C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§756.5; C79,§806.5]

806.6 Chapter title. This chapter may be cited as the "Uniform Act on Fresh Pursuit." [C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§756.6; C79,§806.6]

CHAPTER 807

PROCEEDINGS AGAINST CORPORATIONS

Referred to in §801 1, R Cr P 40

- 807.1 Summons upon a complaint against a corporation, by whom issued, and when returnable.
- 807.2 Form of the summons.
- 807.3 When and how served.
- 807.4 Examination of the charge.
- 807.5 Bringing an indicted corporation into court.
- 807.6 Collection of fines.
- 807.7 Attachment.

807.1 Summons upon a complaint against a corporation, by whom issued, and when returnable. Upon the filing of a complaint against a corporation, the magistrate shall issue a summons, signed by the magistrate, requiring the corporation to appear before the magistrate, at a specified time and place, to answer the charge, the time to be not less than twenty days after the issuing of the summons. [C79,§807.1]

807.2 Form of the summons. The summons may be in substantially the following form:
 County of . . . . . (as the case may be).
 In the name of the people of the State of Iowa:
 To the (naming the corporation).
 You are hereby summoned to appear before me, at (naming the place) on (specifying the day and hour), to answer a charge made against you, upon the complaint of A.B., for (designating the offense, generally).

Dated at the city of . . . . ., the . . . . . day of . . . . ., . . . . .

G.H. Magistrate

(or as the case may be).

[C79,§807.2]

807.3 When and how served. The summons for the appearance of a corporation shall be served in the manner provided for service of original notice upon a corporation in a civil action. [C79,§807.3]

807.4 Examination of the charge. At the time appointed in the summons, the magistrate shall proceed to investigate the charge, in the same manner as in the case of a natural person brought before the magistrate, so far as those proceedings are applicable. If the corporation does not appear or plead at the time and place specified in the summons, the court shall make inquiry into the service of process, and being satisfied that same has been carried out as provided herein, the court may proceed with the matter without further process. [C79,§807.4]

807.5 Bringing an indicted corporation into court. When an indictment or a trial information is filed against any corporation, such corporation shall be arraigned thereon. Prior to arraignment the court shall proceed as follows:

1. The clerk of the court wherein such indictment is found or the information filed, or the judge, must issue a summons signed by him or her with his or her name of office, requiring such corporation to appear and plead to the indictment, at a time and place to be specified in such summons, such time to be not less than twenty days after the issue thereof. The summons may be substantially in the following form:

District Court, . . . . . County.

The People of the State of Iowa vs.

The A.B. Company,

You are hereby summoned to appear in this court at (naming the place) on (stating the day and hour), and plead to an indictment filed against you by the grand jury of this county, on the . . . . . day of . . . . ., charging you with the crime of (designating the offense, generally), and in case of your failure to so appear and answer, judgment will be pronounced against you.

Dated at the city of . . . . ., the . . . . . day of . . . . ., . . . . .

C.D.,
Clerk of the District Court.
(or by order of the court)

2. The summons shall be served at least ten days before the appearance fixed therein, in the same manner as is provided for the service of an original notice upon a corporation in a civil action; and if the corporation does not appear or plead at the time and place specified in the summons, the court may proceed to trial and judgment without further process.

3. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed as preventing the appearance of a corporation by counsel to plead to an indictment, with or without the issuance or service of the summons provided herein. And when an indictment shall have been filed against a corporation it may voluntarily appear and plead to the same by counsel duly authorized to so appear for it. [C79,§807.5]

Referred to in R Cr P 7(2)“b”

807.6 Collection of fines. When a corporation is convicted of an offense and the court imposes a fine as a penalty, it may be collected in the same manner as a judgment in a civil action. [C79,§807.6]

807.7 Attachment. Upon the filing of a complaint or indictment, the court wherein same is filed shall have authority to issue a writ of attachment to secure the maximum fine allowable by law for the offense charged, and costs. [C79,§807.7]

808.1 Definitions. For purposes of this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. “Search warrant” means an order in writing pursuant to the requirements of section 808.3, in the name of the state, signed by a magistrate, and directed to a peace officer commanding him or her to search a person, premises, or thing.

2. “Affidavit” means a written declaration or statement of fact made under oath, or legally sufficient affirmation, before any person authorized to administer oaths within or without the state. [C51,§3291; R60,§5024; C73,§4629; C97,§5545; C24, 27, 31,§13418; C35,§13441-g1; C39,§13441.01; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§751.1; C79,§808.1]

See §622.85, Form 1, Appendix of forms, R.Cr P 30

808.2 Authorization. A search warrant may be issued:

1. For property which has been obtained in violation of law.
2. For property, the possession of which is unlawful.
3. For property used or possessed with the intent to be used as the means of committing a public offense or concealed to prevent an offense from being discovered.
4. For any other property relevant and material as evidence in a criminal prosecution. [C51,§3292; R60,§5025; C73,§4630; C97,§5546; C24, 27, 31,§13419; C35,§13441-g3; C39,§13441.03; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§751.3; C79,§808.2]

808.3 Application for search warrant. Any person may make application for the issuance of a search warrant by submitting before any magistrate a written application, supported by the person's oath or affirmation, and setting forth therein facts, information, and circumstances tending to establish sufficient grounds for granting the application, and probable cause for believing that such grounds exist. The application shall describe the person, place, or thing to be searched and the property to be seized with such specificity so as to enable an independent reasonable man with reasonable effort to ascertain and identify such person, place, or thing. If the magistrate thereafter issues the search warrant, the magistrate shall endorse on the application the name and address of all persons upon whose sworn testimony the magistrate relied to issue such warrant together with the abstract of each witness' testimony, or his or her affidavit. However, if the grounds for issuance are supplied by an informant, the magistrate shall identify only the peace officer to whom the information was given. The magistrate may in his or her discretion require that any witness upon whom the applicant relies for information appear personally and be examined concerning such information. [C51,§2722; R60,§1565, 4364; C73,§1544, 1545, 4027; C97, §2413, 2414, 4963; S13,§4965-b, 5007-a; SS15,§2413; C24, 27, 31,§1578, 1968, 1969, 13200, 13211; C35,§13441-g4; C39,§13441.04; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§751.4; C79,§808.3]

808.4 Issuance. Upon a finding of probable cause for grounds to issue a search warrant, the magistrate shall issue a warrant, signed by the magistrate with his or her name of office, directed to any peace officer, commanding that peace officer forthwith to search the named person, place, or thing within the state for the property specified, and to bring any property seized before the magistrate. [C51,§2722, 3294-3296; R60,§1565, 4364, 5027-5029; C73,§1544, 4027, 4632-4634; C97,§2413, 4963, 5548-5550; S13,§5007-a; SS15,§2413; C24, 27, 31,§1578, 1970,

13200, 13421, 13423; C35, §13441-g5; C39,§13441.05; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§751.5; C79,§808.4]

See Form 1, Appendix of forms, R Cr P 30

808.5 Execution. A search warrant may be executed by any peace officer. No persons other than those authorized by this section shall execute search warrants except in aid of those so authorized and on such authorized person's request, the authorized person being present and acting. The warrant may be executed in the daytime or in the nighttime. The warrant, when executed, shall be forthwith returned to the issuing magistrate. Where the property to be seized has been, or is susceptible of being, removed from the officer's jurisdiction, the officer executing the warrant may pursue it and search for property designated in the warrant. [C51,§3297; R60,§1565, 5032, 5035; C73,§1544, 4637, 4640; C97,§2413, 5552, 5555; S13,§5007-a; SS15,§2413, 2415; C24, 27, 31,§1578, 1970, 1971, 13425, 13428; C35,§13441-g7, -g8; C39, §13441.07, 13441.08; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§751.7, 751.8; C79,§808.5]

808.6 Forcible execution. The officer may break into any structure or vehicle where reasonably necessary to execute the warrant if, after notice of this authority and purpose the officer's admittance has not been immediately authorized. The officer may use reasonable force to enter a structure or vehicle to execute a search warrant without notice of the officer's authority and purpose in the case of vacated or abandoned structures or vehicles.

The officer executing a search warrant may break restraints when necessary for the officer's own liberation or to effect the release of a person who has entered a place to aid the officer. [C51,§3298; R60,§5033, 5034; C73,§4638, 4639; C97,§5553, 5554; C24, 27, 31,§13426, 13427; C35,§13441-g9, -g10; C39, §13441.09, 13441.10; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§751.9, 751.10; C79,§808.6]

808.7 Detention and search of persons on premises. In the execution of a search warrant the person executing the same may reasonably detain and search any person or thing in the place at the time for any of the following reasons:

1. To protect himself or herself from attack.
2. To prevent the disposal or concealment of any property subject to seizure described in the warrant.
3. To remove any item which is capable of causing bodily harm that the person may use to resist arrest or effect his or her escape. [C79,§808.7]

808.8 Return. A search warrant shall be executed within ten days from its date; failure to execute within that period shall void the warrant. Property seized and its containers, if any, shall be safely kept by the officer, and incident thereto:

1. Upon such seizure the officer shall furnish an itemized receipt for such property to the person from whom taken or in whose possession it was found, if such person can be located, or a copy of the inventory may be left on the premises searched.
2. The officer must file, with his or her return, a complete inventory of the property taken, and state under oath that it is accurate to the best of the officer's knowledge. The magistrate must, if requested, deliver a copy of the inventory of seized property to the person from whose possession it was taken and to the applicant for the warrant. [C51,§3299-3302; R60,§1565, 5036-5039; C73,§1544, 4641-4644; C97,§2413, 2415, 5556-5559; SS15,§2413, 2415; C24, 27, 31,§1581, 1971, 13429-13432; C35,§13441-g12-15; C39, §13441.12-13441.15; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§751.12-751.15; C79,§808.8]

808.9 Safekeeping of seized property. Property of an evidentiary nature seized in the execution of a search warrant shall be safely kept, subject to the orders of any court having jurisdiction to try any offense involved therewith, so long as reasonably necessary to enable its production at trials. The disposition of such property shall be in accordance with chapter 809. [R60,§5048; C73,§4653; C97,§5568; C24, 27, 31,§13441; C35,§13441-g36; C39,§13441.36; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§751.36; C79,§808.9]

808.10 Maliciously suing out a warrant—officer exceeding authority. Whoever maliciously and without just cause procures a search warrant to be issued and executed is guilty of a serious misdemeanor. Anyone who, in executing a search warrant, willfully exceeds his or her authority, or exercises it with unnecessary severity, is guilty of a serious misdemeanor. [C51,§3308; R60,§5045, 5046; C73,§4650, 4651; C97,§5565, 5566; C24, 27, 31,§13438, 13439; C35,§13441-g38, -g39; C39,§13441.38, 13441.39; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§751.38, 751.39; C79,§808.10]

808.11 Transmission of papers to district court clerk. The magistrate who has issued a search warrant shall attach to the warrant a copy of the return, inventory and all other papers in connection therewith and shall file them with the clerk of the district court for the county in which the property was seized. [C79,§808.11]

808.12 Detention and search in theft of library materials and shoplifting.

1. Persons concealing property as set forth in section 714.5, may be detained and searched by a peace officer, person employed in a facility containing library materials, merchant, or merchant's employee, provided that the detention is for a reasonable length of time and that the search is conducted in a reasonable manner by a person of the same sex and according to subsection 2 of this section.

2. No search of the person under this section shall be conducted by any person other than someone acting under the direction of a peace officer except where permission of the one to be searched has first been obtained.

3. The detention or search under this section by a peace officer, person employed in a facility containing library materials, merchant, or merchant's employee does not render the person liable, in a criminal or civil action, for false arrest or false imprisonment provided the person conducting the search or detention had reasonable grounds to believe the person detained or searched had concealed or was attempting to conceal property as set forth in section 714.5. [C62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§709.22-709.24; C79,§808.12; 68GA, ch 145,§3]

Referred to in §714 5

808.13 Confidentiality. All information filed with the court for the purpose of securing a warrant for a search, including but not limited to an application and affidavits, shall be a confidential record until such time as a peace officer has executed the warrant and has made return thereon. During the period of time that information is confidential it shall be sealed by the court, and the information contained therein shall not be disseminated to any person other than a peace officer, magistrate, or another court employee, in the course of official duties. [C79,§808.13]

CHAPTER 809

DISPOSITION OF SEIZED PROPERTY

Referred to in §204 505, 455B 3, 691 9, 725 8, 801 1, 808 9

809.1 Seized property.
809.2 Notice of hearing.
809.3 Claimant.
809.4 Hearing.

809.5 Return.
809.6 Other disposition.
809.7 Appeal.

809.1 Seized property. For the purposes of this chapter, "seized property" means all property or any part thereof seized in the execution of a search warrant, arrest warrant, or arrest without warrant; and includes the following:

1. Property which has been obtained in violation of law.
2. Property, the possession of which is unlawful.
3. Property used or possessed with the intent to be used as the means of committing a public offense or concealed to prevent the offense from being discovered.

4. Property subject to forfeiture except such property described in chapters 127 and 204.

5. Other property relevant and material as evidence in a criminal prosecution. [C51,§3292; R60,§5025; C73,§4630; C97,§5546; C24, 27, 31,§13419; C35,§13441-g3; C39,§13441.03; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§751.3; C79,§809.1]

809.2 Notice of hearing. The clerk of court shall issue a notice of a hearing, containing a reasonable

description of the property and the time, place, and cause of its seizure, within forty-eight hours of the time of its seizure. Such notice shall be reasonably calculated to apprise affected persons of the pendency of the hearing. [R60,§1566; C73,§1546; C97,§2415; S13,§4965-b; SS15, §2415; C24, 27, 31,§1972, 13204, 13205, 13213; C35,§13441-g16; C39, §13441.16; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§751.16; C79,§809.2]

809.3 Claimant. Any person claiming the right to possession of seized property may make application for its return in the office of the clerk of court for the county in which it was seized. [R60,§1566; C73,§1546; C97,§2415; SS15,§2415; C24, 27, 31,§1974, 13206; C35,§13441-g21; C39,§13441.21; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§751.21; C79,§809.3]

809.4 Hearing. All claims made for the return of the seized property shall be set for hearing and such hearing shall be held not less than five nor more than thirty days after the filing of the first claim. [R60,§1566; C73,§1546; C97,§2415; S13,§4965-b; SS15, §2415; C24, 27, 31,§1972, 1974, 13204-13206, 13213; C35,§13441-g16, -g21; C39,§13441.16, 13441.21; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§751.16, 751.21; C79,§809.4]

809.5 Return.

1. Property not required for evidence or use in further investigation may be returned by the officer to the person from whom it was seized without the requirement of a hearing, providing that that person's right of possession is not prohibited by law.

2. In the event that the finding of the right to possess is in favor of a claimant, other than the state, the magistrate shall order the return of the property, providing that:

a. Possession of such property by the claimant is not prohibited by law; and

b. The property is not needed as evidence in any judicial proceedings; or, if needed, satisfactory arrangements have been made for its return for subsequent use as evidence. If such proceedings have not been completed, the magistrate shall make satisfactory arrangements for return of the property upon their completion. [C51,§3305, 3306; R60,§1567, 5042,

5043, 5048; C73,§1547, 4647, 4648, 4653; C97,§2416, 5562, 5563, 5568; S13,§4965-b, 5007-a; C24, 27, 31,§1579, 1988, 1989, 13206, 13214, 13435, 13436, 13441; C35, §13441-g23, -g24, -g27, -g30, -g36; C39,§ 13441.23, 13441.24, 13441.27, 13441.30, 13441.36; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §751.23, 751.24, 751.27, 751.30, 751.36; C79,§809.5]

809.6 Other disposition.

1. Forfeiture. Unless otherwise specified by law, the magistrate shall order the immediate destruction of all forfeited property of an illegal nature or character. When the forfeited property is not of an illegal nature or character, the magistrate shall order all such property or the proceeds of its sale to be applied to the court fund of the county.

2. No claimant. Where there is no claimant or where the right to possession cannot be determined, nonperishable property shall be held for a period of six months from the date of filing of the return, pending claim. Thereafter, the magistrate or other officer having the property in his or her custody shall, on payment of the necessary expenses incurred for its preservation, deliver it to the treasurer of the county, to be credited to the court fund. [C51,§22722; R60,§1566, 4364, 5048; C73,§1546, 4027, 4653; C97,§2415, 4963, 5568; S13,§4965-b, 5007-a; SS15,§2415; C24 27, 31,§1579, 1979, 1993, 1996, 13201, 13208, 13215, 13441; C35,§13441-g25, -g26; C39, §13441.25, 13441.26; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§751.25, 751.26; C79,§809.6]

809.7 Appeal. When the judgment of rightful possession or of forfeiture is not made by a district judge, appeal to a district judge may be made in the manner of other appeals from judgments of judicial magistrates. Such appeal shall be filed with the magistrate within two days of the judgment. The appellant, other than the state, shall post a bond in such a reasonable sum as the magistrate may fix and approve, conditioned to pay all costs of the proceedings in case the appellant is unsuccessful on appeal. [R60,§1566; C73,§1546; C97, SS15,§2415; C24, 27, 31,§1981, 1982; C35,§13441-g40, -g41, -g42; C39, §13441.40-13441.42; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§751.40-751.42; C79,§809.7]

CHAPTER 810

NONTTESTIMONIAL IDENTIFICATION

Referred to in §801.1

810.1 Definition.

810.1 Definition. As used in this chapter, the term "nontestimonial identification" includes, but is not limited to, identification by fingerprints, palm prints, footprints, measurements, hair strands, handwriting samples, voice samples, photographs, blood and saliva samples, ultraviolet or black-light examinations, paraffin tests, and lineups. [C79,§810.1]

810.2 Nontestimonial identification order at request of defendant. A person arrested for or charged with an offense may request a district court judge to order a nontestimonial identification procedure. If it appears that the results of specific nontestimonial identification procedures will be of material aid in determining whether the defendant committed the offense, the judge shall order such identification procedures involving the defendant under such terms and conditions as the judge shall prescribe. [C79,§810.2]

CHAPTER 811

BAIL

Referred to in §602.62, 801.1, 812.1, R Cr P 43, 54(2)a

- |       |  |       |                                |
|-------|--|-------|--------------------------------|
| 811.1 | Bailable and nonbailable offenses.             | 811.6 | Forfeiture of bail.            |
| 811.2 | Release of defendants—conditions of bail bond. | 811.7 | Recommitment after bail.       |
| 811.3 | Qualification and examination of surety.       | 811.8 | Surrender of defendant.        |
| 811.4 | Undertaking of bail as liens on real estate.   | 811.9 | Forfeiture of appearance bond. |
| 811.5 | Bail on appeal.                                |       |                                |

811.1 Bailable and nonbailable offenses. All defendants are bailable both before and after conviction, by sufficient surety, or subject to release upon condition or on their own recognizance, except that the following defendants shall not be admitted to bail:

1. A defendant awaiting judgment of conviction and sentencing for a class "A" felony.

2. A defendant appealing a conviction of a class "A" felony. [C51,§3211-3213; R60,§4885,4962; C73,§3845, 4107, 4511; C97, §5096, 5442; S13,§5096; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13609, 13610, 13966; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§763.1, 763.2, 789.19; C79,§811.1; 68GA, ch 150,§1]

Referred to in §811.2, 811.5

See Form 5, Appendix of forms, R Cr P 30

811.2 Release of defendants—conditions of bail bond.

1. Conditions for release of defendant. All bailable defendants shall be ordered released from custody pending judgment on their personal recognizance, or upon the execution of an unsecured appearance bond in an amount specified by the magistrate unless the magistrate determines in the exercise of his or her discretion, that such a release will not reasonably assure the appearance of the defendant as required. When such determination is made, the magistrate shall, either in lieu of or in addition to the above methods of release, impose the first of the following conditions of release which will reasonably assure the appearance of the person for trial or, if no single condition gives that assurance, any combination of the following conditions:

a. Place the defendant in the custody of a designated person or organization agreeing to supervise the defendant.

b. Place restrictions on the travel, association or place of abode of the defendant during the period of release.

c. Require the execution of an appearance bond in a specified amount and the deposit with the clerk of court in cash or other qualified security of a sum not to exceed ten percent of the amount of the bond, such deposit to be returned to the defendant upon the performance of the appearances as required in section 811.6.

d. Require the execution of a bail bond with sufficient surety, or the deposit of cash in lieu thereof, provided that, except as provided in section 811.1, bail initially given shall remain valid until final disposition of the offense. If the amount of bail is deemed insufficient by the court before whom the offense is pending, the court may order an increase thereof and the defendant must provide the additional undertaking, written or cash, to secure his or her release.

e. Impose any other condition deemed reasonably necessary to assure appearance as required, including a condition requiring that the defendant return to custody after specified hours.

2. Determination of conditions. In determining which conditions of release will reasonably assure appearance, the magistrate shall, on the basis of available information, take into account the nature and circumstances of the offense charged, the defendant's family ties, employment, financial resources, character and mental condition, the length of his or her residence in the community, the defendant's record of convictions, and the defendant's record of appearance at court proceedings or of flight to avoid prosecution or failure to appear at court proceedings.

3. Statement to all defendants. When a defendant appears before a magistrate pursuant to R.Cr.P. 2 or 3, the defendant shall be informed of the defendant's right to have said conditions of release reviewed. If the defendant indicates he or she desires such a review and is indigent and unable to retain legal counsel, the magistrate shall appoint an attorney to represent the defendant for the purpose of such review. Unless the conditions of release are amended and the defendant is thereupon released, the magistrate shall set forth in writing the reasons for requiring conditions imposed. A defendant who is ordered released by a magistrate other than a district court judge or district associate judge on a condition which required that the defendant return to custody after specified hours, shall, upon application, be entitled to review by the magistrate who imposed the condition in the same manner as a defendant who remains in full-time custody. In the event that the magistrate who imposed conditions of release is not available, any other magistrate in the judicial district may review such conditions.

4. Statement of conditions when defendant is released. A magistrate authorizing the release of a defendant under this section shall issue a written order containing a statement of the conditions imposed if any, shall inform the defendant of the penalties applicable to violation of the conditions of his or her release and shall advise the defendant that a warrant for the defendant's arrest will be issued immediately upon such violation.

5. Amendment of release conditions. A magistrate ordering the release of the defendant on any conditions specified in this section may at any time amend his or her order to impose additional or different conditions of release, provided that, if the imposition of different or additional conditions results in the detention of the defendant as a result of the defendant's inability to meet such conditions, the provisions of subsection 3 of this section shall apply.

6. Appeal from conditions of release.

a. A defendant who is detained, or whose release on a condition requiring the defendant to return to custody after specified hours is continued, after review of the defendant's application pursuant to subsection 3 or 5 of this section, by a magistrate, other than a district judge or district associate judge having original jurisdiction of the offense with which the defendant is charged, may make application to a district judge or district associate judge having jurisdiction to amend the order. Said motion shall be promptly set for hearing and a record made thereof.

b. In any case in which a court denied a motion under paragraph "a" of this subsection to amend an order imposing conditions of release, or a defendant is detained after conditions of release have been imposed or amended upon such a motion, an appeal may be taken from the district court. The appeal shall be determined summarily, without briefs, on the record made. However, the defendant may elect to file briefs and may be heard in oral argument, in which case the prosecution shall have a right to respond as in an ordinary appeal from a criminal conviction. The appellate court may, on its own motion, order the parties to submit briefs and set the time in which such briefs shall be filed. Any order so appealed shall be affirmed if it is supported by the proceeding below. If the order is not so supported, the court may remand the case for a further hearing or may, with or without additional evidence, order the defendant released pursuant to subsection 1 of this section.

7. Failure to appear—penalty. Any person who, having been released pursuant to this section, willfully fails to appear before any court or magistrate as required shall, in addition to the forfeiture of any security given or pledged for the person's release, if he or she was released in connection with a charge which constitutes a felony, or while awaiting sentence or pending appeal after conviction of any public offense, be guilty of a class "D" felony. If the defendant was released before conviction or acquittal in connection with a charge which constitutes any public offense not a felony, the defendant shall be guilty of a serious misdemeanor. If the person was released for appearance as a material witness, the person shall be guilty of a simple misdemeanor. In addition, nothing herein shall limit the power of the court to punish for contempt. ### 811.3 Qualification and examination of surety.

1. Insurance companies doing business in this state under the provisions of section 515.48, subsection 2, may act as surety. Resident owners of property which is located within the state and which is worth the amount specified in the undertaking, may act as surety, and must in all cases justify by an affidavit taken before an officer authorized to administer oaths that such surety possesses such qualifications.

2. In taking bail each signer may justify severally in amounts less than that expressed in the undertaking, if the whole justification be equivalent to one sufficient bail.

3. The court in which the action is pending, or the clerk thereof, or magistrate may require the personal appearance of sureties offered, and may thereupon further examine them upon oath concerning their sufficiency, and may also receive other evidence for or against the sufficiency of the bail. When such examination is closed, the official conducting such examination must make an order, either allowing or disallowing the bail, and forthwith cause the same, with the affidavits or justification and undertaking of bail, to be filed with the clerk of the court to which the papers on the preliminary examination are required to be sent. [C51,§3220-3224; R60,§4969-4973; C73,§4575-4579; C97, §5507-5510; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13619-13622; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§763.11-763.14; C79,§811.3]

811.4 Undertaking of bail as liens on real estate.

Undertakings of bail, immediately after such undertakings are filed with the clerk of the district court, shall be docketed as liens on real estate, entered upon the lien index as required for judgments in civil cases, and from the time of such entries, shall be liens upon real estate of the persons executing the same. Attested copies of such undertakings may be filed in the office of the clerk of the district court of the county in which the real estate is situated, in the same manner and with like effect as attested copies of civil judgments, and shall be immediately docketed and indexed in the same manner. [R60,§5000-5002; C73,§4606-4608; C97,§5513, 5514; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13625, 13626; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§764.1, 764.2; C79,§811.4]

811.5 Bail on appeal. After conviction, upon appeal to the appellate court, the defendant must be admitted to bail, if it be from the judgment imposing a fine, upon the undertaking of bail that the defendant will, in all respects, abide the orders and the judgment of the appellate court upon appeal; if from a judgment of imprisonment, except as provided in section 811.1 upon the undertaking of bail that the defendant will surrender in execution of the judgment and direction of the appellate court, and in all respects abide the orders and judgment of the appellate court upon the appeal. Such bail may be taken, either by the court where the judgment was rendered, or the district court of the county in which the defendant is imprisoned, or by the appellate court, or a judge or clerk of any of such courts. Provided, that in lieu of bail, bailable defendants as described herein may be released in accordance with the provisions of section 811.2. [R60,§4966, 4981; C73,§4587; C97,§5506; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13617, 13618; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§763.9, 763.10; C79,§811.5]

811.6 Forfeiture of bail.

1. A defendant released pursuant to this chapter shall appear at arraignment, trial, judgment, or such other proceedings where the defendant's appearance is required. If the defendant fails to appear at the time and place when his or her personal appearance is lawfully required, or to surrender himself or herself in execution of the judgment, the court must direct an entry of the failure to be made of record, and the undertaking of the defendant's bail, or the money deposited, is thereupon forfeited. As a part of the entry, except as provided in R.Cr.P. 53, the court shall direct the sheriff of the county to give ten days' notice in writing to the defendant and his or her sureties to appear and show cause, if any, why judgment should not be entered for the amount of bail. If such appearance is not made, judgment shall be entered by the court. If appearance is made, the court shall set the case down for immediate hearing as an ordinary action.

2. Where a forfeiture and judgment have been entered as provided in this section, and the amount of the judgment has been paid to the clerk, the clerk shall hold the same as funds of his or her office for a period of sixty days from the date of judgment.

3. The court may, upon application, set aside such judgment if, within sixty days from the date thereof, the defendant shall voluntarily surrender himself or herself to the sheriff of the county, or his or her sureties shall, at their own expense, deliver the defendant to the custody of the sheriff. Such judgment shall not be set aside, however, unless as a condition precedent thereto, the defendant and the defendant's sureties shall have paid all costs and expenses incurred in connection therewith. [R60,§4990-4994; C73,§4596-4600; C97,§5515-5517, 5519; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13631, 13633, 13635, 13636; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§766.1-766.3, 766.5, 766.6; C79,§811.6; 68GA, ch 1012,§70]

811.7 Recommitment after bail.

1. The magistrate may, by an order entered on the record, direct the defendant to be arrested and committed to jail until legally discharged, after the defendant has given bail or deposited money in lieu thereof, or otherwise is released pursuant to this chapter, when it satisfactorily appears to the court that the defendant has failed to appear as required, or the defendant has violated a condition of release, or when, after the filing of an indictment or information, the court finds the bail taken or money deposited is insufficient.

2. Such order for recommitment must recite generally the facts upon which it is founded, and must direct that the defendant be arrested and committed to the custody of the sheriff of the county in which such order is entered. The defendant may be arrested pursuant to such order, upon a certified copy thereof, in any county of the state.

3. If the order recite, as the ground on which it is made, the failure of the defendant to appear for judgment upon conviction, the defendant must be committed according to the requirements of the order; if made for any other cause and the offense is bailable, the court must cause a direction to be inserted in the order that the defendant be admitted to bail, in a sum to be stated in the order. [C51,§3243-3247; R60,§4995-4999; C73,§4601-4605; C97,§5520-5523; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13637-13640; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§767.1-767.4; C79,§811.7]

811.8 Surrender of defendant.

1. At any time before the forfeiture of the undertaking, the surety may surrender the defendant, or the defendant may surrender himself or herself, to the officer to whose custody the defendant was committed at the time of giving bail, and such officer shall detain the defendant as upon a commitment and must, upon such surrender and the receipt of a certified copy of the undertaking of bail, acknowledge the surrender by a certificate in writing.

2. Upon the filing of the undertaking and the certificate of the officer, or the certificate of the officer alone if money has been deposited instead of bail, the court or clerk shall immediately order return of the money deposited to the person who deposited the same, or order an exoneration of the surety.

3. For the purpose of surrendering the defendant, the surety, at any time before finally charged and at any place within the state, may arrest the defendant, or, by a written authority endorsed on a certified copy of the undertaking, may empower any person of suitable age and discretion to do so. [C51,§3236-3238; R60,§4987-4989; C73,§4593-4595; C97, §5528-5530; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13641-13643; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§768.1-768.3; C79,§811.8]

Referred to in §811.9, 812.2(5)

811.9 Forfeiture of appearance bond. Sections 811.6 through 811.8 shall not apply in a case where a simple misdemeanor is charged upon a uniform citation and complaint and where the defendant has submitted an unsecured appearance bond or has submitted bail in the form of cash, check, credit card as provided in section 805.14, or guaranteed arrest bond certificate as defined in section 321.1. When a defendant fails to appear as required in such cases, the court shall enter a judgment of forfeiture of the bond or bail. The judgment shall be final upon entry and shall not be set aside. [C79,§811.9; 68GA, ch 1103,§25]

CHAPTER 812

CONFINEMENT OF MENTALLY ILL OR DANGEROUS PERSONS

Referred to in §801.1

812.1 When detention allowed.

812.2 Hearing.

812.3 Mental incompetency of accused.

812.4 Cessation of criminal prosecution.

812.5 Effect of restoration of mental capacity.

812.1 When detention allowed. When a person is awaiting sentence after conviction of a felony or following sentence of confinement is pursuing an appeal in such case, and the person would be otherwise eligible for release under chapter 811, but it appears by clear and convincing evidence that if released the person is likely to pose a danger to another person or to the property of others, such person may be detained under the authority of this chapter. [C79,§812.1]

812.2 Hearing. The following procedures shall apply to detention hearings held pursuant to this chapter:

1. The prosecuting attorney may initiate a detention hearing by ex parte written motion. Upon such motion, the district court may issue a warrant for the arrest of the person, if the person is not in custody.

2. The detention hearing shall be held immediately upon the person being brought before the district court for such hearing unless the person or the prosecuting attorney moves for a continuance. A continuance granted on motion of the person shall not exceed three calendar days. A continuance on motion of the prosecuting attorney shall be granted only upon good cause shown and shall not exceed three calendar days. The person may be detained pending the hearing.

3. The person shall be entitled to representation by counsel, including appointed counsel for indigent persons, and shall be entitled to the right of cross-examination and to present information, to testify, and to present witnesses in his or her own behalf.

4. Information stated in, or offered in connection with, any order entered pursuant to this section need not conform to the formal rules of evidence.

5. Testimony of the person given during the hearing shall not be admissible on the issue of guilt in any other judicial proceeding, subject only to the following exceptions: Such testimony shall be admissible in proceedings under sections 811.2, subsection 7 and 811.8, and in perjury proceedings.

6. Unless the defendant otherwise requests in writing, the district court shall conduct the hearing as a private hearing, and any order entered shall remain confidential as to the public generally until the conclusion of the trial.

7. Appeals from orders of detention may be taken in the manner provided under section 811.2, subsection 6.

8. If the trial court issues an order of detention, it shall be accompanied by a written finding of fact and the reasons for the detention order.

9. For the purposes of such proceedings, the trial court is not divested of jurisdiction by the filing of a notice of appeal. [C79,§812.2]

812.3 Mental incompetency of accused. If at any stage of a criminal proceeding it reasonably appears that the defendant is suffering from a mental disorder which prevents him or her from appreciating the charge, understanding the proceedings, or assisting effectively in the defense, further proceedings must be suspended and a hearing had upon that question. [C51,§3260, 3261; R60,§5015, 5016; C73,§4620, 4621; C97, §5540; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13905; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§783.1; C79,§812.3]

Referred to in §812.4

812.4 Cessation of criminal prosecution. If, upon hearing conducted by the court, the accused is found to be incapacitated in the manner described in section 812.3, no further proceedings shall be taken under the complaint or indictment until the accused's capacity is restored, and, if his or her release will endanger the public peace or safety, the court must order him or her committed to the custody of the department of social services. [C51,§3262, 3263; R60,§5018, 5019; C73,§4623, 4624; C97, §5542; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13907; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§783.3; C79,§812.4]

812.5 Effect of restoration of mental capacity. If the accused is committed to the department of social services, after the expiration of a period not to exceed six months, the court shall upon hearing review the confinement and determine whether there is a substantial probability the prisoner will regain capacity within a reasonable time. If not, the state shall be directed to institute civil commitment proceedings. When it thereafter appears that the accused can effectively assist in his or her defense, that department shall give notice to the sheriff and county attorney of the proper county of such fact, and the sheriff, without delay, must receive and hold the accused in custody until he or she is brought to trial or judgment, as the case may be, or is legally discharged, the expense for conveying and returning the accused, or any other, to be paid in the first instance by the county from which the accused is sent, but such county may recover the same from another county or municipal body bound to provide for or maintain the accused elsewhere, and the sheriff shall be allowed for his or her services the same fees as are allowed for conveying convicts to the penitentiary. [C51,§3264-3267; R60,§5020-5023; C73,§4625-4628; C97, §5543; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13908; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§783.4; C79,§812.5]

814.1 Definition of appeal and discretionary review. For the purposes of this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. “Appeal” is the right of both the defendant and the state to have specified actions of the district court considered by an appellate court.

2. “Discretionary review” is the process by which an appellate court may exercise its discretion, in like manner as under the rules pertaining to interlocutory appeals and certiorari in civil cases, to review specified matters not subject to appeal as a matter of right. The supreme court may adopt additional rules to control access to discretionary review. [R60,§4904, 4905; C73,§4520, 4521; C97,§5448; S13,§5448; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13994; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§793.1; C79,§814.1]

814.3 Appeals in cases involving more than one defendant. When defendants are tried jointly, they may seek discretionary review or may appeal separately or may join. The appellate court may, in the interest of justice, consolidate appeals or applications for discretionary review. [R60,§4917; C73,§4526; C97,§5451; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13996; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§793.3; C79,§814.3]

814.4 Perfection of an appeal and application for discretionary review. An appeal is perfected by filing a written notice within sixty days after judgment or order with the clerk of the district court wherein the judgment or order was issued. Application for discretionary review is made by filing a written notice within ten days after judgment or order with the clerk of the district court wherein the judgment or order was issued. [R60,§4907, 4908; C73,§4523, 4524; C97,§5449; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13997; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§793.4; C79,§814.4]

Referred to in R Cr P 22, Court Rule 14

814.5 The state as appellant or applicant.

1. Right of appeal is granted the state from:
  - a. An order dismissing an indictment, information, or any count thereof.
  - b. A judgment for the defendant on a motion to the indictment or the information.
  - c. An order arresting judgment or granting a new trial.
2. Discretionary review may be available in the following cases:
  - a. An order dismissing an arrest or search warrant.
  - b. An order suppressing or admitting evidence.
  - c. An order granting or denying a change of venue.
  - d. A final judgment or order raising a question of law important to the judiciary and the profession. [C79,§814.5]

814.6 The defendant as appellant or applicant.

1. Right of appeal is granted the defendant from:
  - a. A final judgment of sentence, except in case of simple misdemeanor and ordinance violation convictions.
  - b. An order for the commitment of the defendant for insanity or drug addiction.
2. Discretionary review may be available in the following cases:
  - a. An order suppressing or admitting evidence.
  - b. An order granting or denying a change of venue.
  - c. An order denying probation.
  - d. Simple misdemeanor and ordinance violation convictions.
  - e. An order raising a question of law important to the judiciary and the profession. [C79,§814.6]

Referred to in R Cr P 54(1)

814.7 Duty of clerk when appeal is perfected or application made. When an appeal or an application for discretionary review is filed, the clerk of the court in which the judgment or order was rendered shall:

1. Immediately prepare and transmit to the adverse party and his or her attorney of record, and if the defendant is the moving party, to the attorney general and the clerk of the appellate court, a true copy of the notice of appeal or application, together with the date of filing.
2. Immediately prepare and transmit to the clerk of the appellate court and the attorney general a transcript of all record entries relevant to the appeal or application, together with copies of all papers in the case on file in the clerk's office, except those returned by the examining magistrate on the preliminary examination, all duly certified under seal of his or her court. [R60,§4909; C73,§4525; C97,§5450; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13998; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§793.6; C79,§814.7]

Referred to in §814.15, 814.16, R App P 103

814.8 Duties of prosecuting attorney.

1. When an appeal is taken or an application made by the state or the defendant the prosecuting attorney shall promptly prepare and deliver to the attorney general so much of the proceedings as are material to the proper disposition of the matter.

2. When a notice of appeal or application has been filed by an adverse party, the prosecuting attorney shall immediately furnish the attorney general with a copy of said notice. [C97,§301; SS15,§301; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13999; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§793.7; C79,§814.8]

814.9 Indigent's right to transcript on appeal. If a defendant in a criminal cause has perfected an appeal from a judgment against him or her and shall satisfy the judge of the district court that he or she is indigent, such judge may order the transcript made at the expense of the county where the defendant was tried. When an attorney of record is representing such indigent, said attorney shall make application to the district court for the transcript. [C73,§3777; C97,§254; SS15,§254-a2; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §14000; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§793.8; C79,§814.9]

Referred to in R Cr P 22

814.10 Indigent's application for transcript in other cases. If a defendant in a criminal cause has been granted discretionary review from an action of the district court and the appellate court deems a transcript or portions thereof are necessary to proper review of the question or questions raised, the district court shall order the transcript made at the expense of the county where the defendant was tried, if the defendant is indigent. [C79,§814.10]

814.11 Indigent's right to counsel. An indigent defendant is entitled to appointed counsel on the appeal of all indictable offenses. Such appointment is subject to rules of the supreme court. [C79,§814.11]

Referred to in R Cr P 22

814.12 Appeal by the state—effect. An appeal taken by the state does not stay the operation of a judgment in favor of the defendant, nor does an application for discretionary review. [R60,§4911; C73,§4527; C97,§5452; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§14001; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§793.9; C79,§814.12]

814.13 Appeal or application by the defendant—effect. An appeal or application for discretionary review taken by the defendant does not stay the execution of the judgment unless the defendant is released on bail or otherwise as provided by law. [R60,§4914, 4915; C73,§4528, 4529; C97,§5453; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §14002; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§793.10; C79,§814.13]

814.14 Certificate of release. When an appeal is taken by the defendant and the defendant is released, the clerk of the district court must give to the defendant or the defendant's attorney a certificate, under the seal of the court, that an appeal has been taken and the defendant released. The sheriff or other officer having the defendant in custody must, upon receipt of this certificate, discharge the defendant from custody and return to the clerk of court who issued it the execution under which he or she acted with his or her return thereon. [R60,§4916; C73,§4530; C97,§5454; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§14003; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§793.11; C79,§814.14]

814.15 Appeals and applications—when docketed—when determined. When a proper appeal is perfected in a criminal case and the clerk's transcript of the record as required by section 814.7 is filed in the appellate court, the cause shall be docketed. Such causes shall take precedence over other business, and the appellate court shall hear and determine appeals in criminal actions at the earliest time it may be done considering the rights of parties and proper administration of justice. A similar rule shall apply to applications for discretionary review. [R60,§4818, 4819; C73,§4531, 4532; C97,§5455; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§14004; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§793.12; C79,§814.15]

814.16 Failure of clerk to transmit papers as required. Failure of the clerk of the district court to transmit all the papers as required in section 814.7 shall not prejudice the rights of the parties. [C79,§814.16]

814.17 Personal appearance of the defendant. The personal appearance of the defendant in the appellate court on the trial of an appeal, or upon the hearing of a matter of discretionary review, is in no case necessary. [R60,§4920; C73,§4533; C97,§5456; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§14005; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§793.13; C79,§814.17]

814.18 Closing argument. The defendant is entitled to close the argument. [R60,§4923; C73,§4536; C97,§5459; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§14008; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§793.16; C79,§814.18]

814.19 Hearing in the appellate court—rules of procedure. The record and case shall be presented to the appellate court as provided in the rules of appellate procedure; the provisions of law in civil procedure relating to the filing of decisions and opinions of the appellate court shall apply in such cases. [C97,§5461; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§14009; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§793.17; C79,§814.19]

814.20 Decisions on appeals or applications by defendant. An appeal or application taken by the defendant shall not be dismissed for an informality or defect in taking it if corrected as directed by the appellate court. The appellate court, after an examination of the entire record, may dispose of the case by affirmation, reversal or modification of the district court judgment. It may also dismiss the appeal or application if it determines that there has been no substantial miscarriage of justice, and no violation of the rights of the accused, and that the arguments do not present definite grounds for a hearing. The appellate court may also order a new trial, or reduce the punishment, but cannot increase it. [C51,§3097, 3098; R60,§4921, 4925; C73,§4534, 4538; C97, §5457, 5462;

C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§14006, 14010; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§793.14, 793.18; C79,§814.20]

814.21 Costs to the successful defendant. If on appeal or application by the defendant, the judgment of the trial court is reversed or modified in the defendant's favor, the defendant shall recover the cost of printing abstract and briefs (to a maximum of one dollar per page) to be paid by the county wherein the trial occurred. [C97,§5462; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§14011; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§793.19; C79,§814.21]

814.22 Reversal—effect. If a judgment against the defendant is reversed, such reversal shall be deemed an order for a new trial, unless the appellate court shall direct a different disposition. In reversing the case, the appellate court may direct that the defendant be discharged and the defendant's bail exonerated, or if money is deposited instead, that it be returned to the defendant. [C51,§3099; R60,§4927; C73,§4540; C97,§5464; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§14013; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§793.21; C79,§814.22]

814.23 Affirmance—effect. On a judgment of affirmance against the defendant, the original judgment shall be carried into execution as the appellate court shall direct. [C51,§3100; R60,§4928; C73,§4541; C97,§5465; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§14014; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§793.22; C79,§814.23]

814.24 Decision recorded and transmitted. The decision of the appellate court with any opinion filed or judgment rendered must be recorded by its clerk. After the expiration of the period allowed for a rehearing, or as ordered by the court or provided by its rules, a certified copy of the decision and opinion shall be transmitted to the clerk of the district court, filed and entered of record by the clerk. [C51,§3101, 3102; R60,§4929, 4930; C73,§4542, 4543; C97, §5466; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§14016; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§793.24; C79,§814.24]

814.25 Jurisdiction of appellate court ceases after judgment. The jurisdiction of the appellate court shall cease after the certified copy of the decision and opinion is transmitted to the clerk of the district court. All proceedings for executing the judgment shall be had in the district court or by its clerk. [C51,§3101, 3102; R60,§4929, 4930; C73,§4542, 4543; C97, §5466; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§14016; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§793.24; C79,§814.25]

814.26 Judgment enforced. Unless some proceeding in the district court is directed, copies of the judgment of the district court and of the decision on appeal or review, or a copy of the judgment and decision on appeal or review, certified by the clerk of the district court, shall be delivered to the sheriff or proper officer as an execution. He or she shall be authorized to execute the judgment of the court or take any legal measures required to bring the action to a conclusion. [R60,§4931; C73,§4544; C97,§5467; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§14017; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§793.25; C79,§814.26]

814.27 Time of confinement deducted. A defendant, confined during the pendency of an unsuccessful review or appeal, or convicted at a new trial or dered by the appellate court, shall have the period of his or her former confinement deducted from the period of confinement fixed on the last verdict of conviction by the district court. [R60,§4933; C73,§4545; C97,§5468; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§14018; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§793.26; C79,§814.27]

CHAPTER 815

COSTS OF PROCEEDINGS AND COMPENSATION OF GRAND JURY CLERKS, ATTORNEYS, WITNESSES AND OTHERS

- |       |   |       |   |
|-------|---|-------|---|
| 815.1 | Costs payable by state in special cases.            | 815.5 | Expert witnesses for state and defense. |
| 815.2 | Grand jury clerks and other officers.               | 815.6 | Fees to material witnesses.             |
| 815.3 | Witnesses called to county attorney investigations. | 815.7 | Fees to attorneys.                      |
| 815.4 | Special witnesses for indigents.                    | 815.8 | Sheriff's fees.                         |

815.1 Costs payable by state in special cases. All costs and fees, including any award of attorney fees to a court-appointed attorney, incurred in any parole revocation proceedings or in any criminal case brought against an inmate of any state institution for a crime committed while confined in such institution, or for a crime committed by such inmate while placed outside the walls or confines of the institution under the control and direction of a warden, supervisor, officer, or employee thereof, or for a crime committed by such inmate during an escape or other unauthorized departure from such institution or from the control of a warden, supervisor, officer, or employee thereof, wherever the said inmate may have been placed by authorized personnel thereof, shall be paid out of the state treasury from the general fund in case the prosecution fails, or where such costs and fees, including an award of attorney fees to a court-appointed attorney, cannot be made from the person liable to pay the same, the facts being certified by the clerk of the district court under his or her seal of office to the state comptroller, including a statement of the amount of fees or costs incurred, such statement to be approved by the presiding judge in writing appended thereto or endorsed thereon. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13968; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§789.20; C79,§815.1]

815.2 Grand jury clerks and other officers. The clerk of the grand jury and any assistant clerks and bailiffs of the grand jury appointed by the court, shall receive such compensation as may be set by the court with the approval of the county board of supervisors for time actually and necessarily employed in the performance of the duties prescribed in R.Cr.P. 3. [C97,§5256; S13,§5256; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13696, 13699; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§770.19, 770.22; C79,§815.2]

815.3 Witnesses called to county attorney investigations. Witnesses subpoenaed by the county attorney pursuant to R.Cr.P. 5 shall receive the same fees and mileage as are allowed witnesses in the district court, and shall be paid in the same manner in which witnesses before the grand jury are paid except that such fees and mileage shall be certified only by the county attorney. [C79,§815.3]

815.4 Special witnesses for indigents. Witnesses secured for indigent defendants under R.Cr.P. 19 must file a claim for compensation supported by an affidavit specifying the time expended, services rendered, and expenses incurred on behalf of the defendant. [C79,§815.4]

Referred to in §815.5

815.5 Expert witnesses for state and defense. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 622.72, reasonable compensation as determined by the court shall be awarded expert witnesses, expert witnesses for indigents referred to in section 815.4, or called by the state in criminal cases. [C79,§815.5]

See R Cr P 19(4)

815.6 Fees to material witnesses. Persons confined as material witnesses shall, for each day of confinement, receive such fees as are set by the district court. [C79,§815.6]

815.7 Fees to attorneys. An attorney appointed by the court to represent any person charged with a crime in this state shall be entitled to a reasonable compensation which shall be the ordinary and customary charges for like services in the community to be decided in each case by a judge of the district court, including such sum or sums as the court may determine are necessary for investigation in the interests of justice and in the event of appeal the cost of obtaining the transcript of the trial and the printing of the trial record and necessary briefs in behalf of the defendant. Such attorney need not follow the case into another county or into the appellate court unless so directed by the court at the request of the defendant, where grounds for further litigation are not capricious or unreasonable, but if such attorney does so his or her fee shall be determined accordingly. Only one attorney fee shall be so awarded in any one case except that in class "A" felony cases, two may be authorized. [C51,§2561-2563; R60,§1578, 4168-4170; C73,§3829-3831; C97,§5314; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13774; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§775.5; C79,§815.7]

Referred to in §229.8, 336A.7, R Cr P 26.3

815.8 Sheriff's fees. For delivering prisoners under the change of venue provisions of R.Cr.P. 10 or transferring prisoners under section 804.24, sheriffs are entitled to the same fees as are allowed for the conveyance of convicts to the penitentiary. [C51,§3277; R60,§4741; C73,§4382; C97,§5355; C24 27, 31, 35, 39,§13825; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§778.16; C79,§815.8]

CHAPTER 816

DOUBLE JEOPARDY

Referred to in §801.1

816.1 Conviction or acquittal—when a bar.
816.2 Prosecutions barred.

816.3 A prosecution is not barred.
816.4 Trial of former jeopardy issue.

816.1 Conviction or acquittal—when a bar. A conviction or acquittal by a judgment upon a verdict shall bar another prosecution for the same offense, notwithstanding a defect in form or substance in the indictment on which the conviction or acquittal took place. [R60,§4719; C73,§4364; C97,§5339; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13807; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§777.20; C79,§816.1]

816.2 Prosecutions barred. When a defendant has been convicted or acquitted upon an indictment for an offense consisting of different degrees, the conviction or acquittal shall be a bar to another indictment for the same offense charged in the former or for any lower degree of that offense, or for an offense necessarily included therein. [R60,§4720; C73,§4365; C97,§5340; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13808; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§777.21; C79,§816.2]

816.3 A prosecution is not barred.

1. By a former prosecution before a court which lacked jurisdiction over the defendant or the offense.
2. By a former prosecution procured by the defendant without the knowledge of a prosecuting officer authorized to commence a prosecution for the maximum offense which might have been charged on the facts known to the defendant, and with the purpose of avoiding the sentence which otherwise might be imposed.

3. If subsequent proceedings resulted in the invalidation, setting aside, reversal or vacating of the conviction, unless the defendant was adjudged not guilty; but in no case where a conviction for a lesser included crime has been invalidated, set aside, reversed or vacated shall the defendant be subsequently prosecuted for a higher degree of the crime for which he or she was originally convicted. [C79,§816.3]

816.4 Trial of former jeopardy issue. When the defendant's only plea to the indictment is a former conviction or acquittal, the order of trial prescribed in R.Cr.P. 18 shall be reversed, and the defendant shall first offer evidence in support of the defense. [R60,§4787; C73,§4422; C97,§5374; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13855; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§780.14; C79,§816.4]

CHAPTER 817

SPECIAL POWERS OF POLICE, GOVERNOR, AND ATTORNEY GENERAL

Referred to in §801.1

817.1 Photographs—measurements—Bertillon system.

817.2 Power of governor and attorney general.

817.1 Photographs — measurements — Bertillon system. It shall be lawful for the sheriff of any county or the chief of police in any city in this state, to take or procure the taking of the photograph of any person held to answer on a charge of any felony, such person being in the custody of such officer, or to make and record any measurements of such prisoner, by the Bertillon or other system, and to exchange such photographs, or measurements, or copies of the same, with other sheriffs and police officers, or to distribute the same by mail for the purpose of securing evidence for the identification of such person held to answer, if the identity and past record of the said person are unknown to him or her; and the cost of such photographs and measurements, and of distributing the same, may be allowed by the court as a part of the costs in the case. [S13,§5499-a; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13904; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§782.8; C79,§817.1]

817.2 Power of governor and attorney general. The governor and attorney general shall each have the power to call to their aid in the enforcement of the law any peace officer; and when such officers are so called upon it shall be their duty faithfully to render such assistance as may be required, in any part of the state, and such peace officers while so acting shall have the same powers throughout the state as possessed by the sheriff of the county in which such peace officer is acting. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13411; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§748.6; C79,§817.2]

CHAPTER 818

INTERSTATE EXTRADITION COMPACT

Referred to in §801.1

See ch 820

818.1	Agreement with other states.	818.13	Review—habeas corpus hearing.
818.2	Findings.	818.14	Bail.
818.3	Definitions.	818.15	Interstate crimes.
818.4	Demand for return.	818.16	Expenses and costs.
818.5	Contents of demand.	818.17	Administrator's duties.
818.6	Arrest of fugitive.	818.18	Administrator of interstate extradition.
818.7	Procedure after arrest.	818.19	Effective date—withdrawal.
818.8	Confinement of fugitive.	818.20	Uniform criminal extradition Act unaffected.
818.9	Warrant for conveyance.	818.21	Construction—validity—constitutionality.
818.10	Surrender of fugitive.	818.22	Enforcement.
818.11	Prosecution pending.	818.23	Copies of compact transmitted.
818.12	Extradition during imprisonment.	818.24	Short title.

818.1 Agreement with other states. The interstate extradition compact is hereby enacted into law and entered into by this state with all other jurisdictions legally joining therein in the form substantially as follows:

INTERSTATE EXTRADITION COMPACT*

The contracting states solemnly agree that:

*68GA, ch 1245(2), §1801-1824

818.2 Findings. The states which are parties to this agreement find that existing* extradition procedures are cumbersome, costly and frequently result in unnecessary delay in the extradition of fugitives. They find further that the provisions of the United States Constitution and United States Code relating to extradition are meant to facilitate the return of fugitives; do not prescribe the exclusive means for return of fugitives; and do not prevent the states from establishing other procedures for this purpose. [C79,§818.2]

818.3 Definitions. As used in this compact, unless the context clearly requires otherwise:

1. "State" means any state of the United States; the United States of America; a territory or possession of the United States; the District of Columbia; the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

2. "Demanding state" means the state in which a crime has been committed and where a charge has been filed against a fugitive whose return for trial is sought.

3. "Asylum state" means the state in which a person for whom the warrant was issued has been found or arrested and from which the person's return to the demanding state is sought.

4. "Fugitive" means any person who is charged with a crime in the demanding state, or any person who has been convicted of a crime in the demanding state and has escaped from confinement or has broken the terms of his or her bail, probation or parole, and is no longer within the demanding state, whether the person's leaving the demanding state was voluntary or involuntary. For purposes of this division the term "fugitive" further includes a person in the asylum state charged with committing a crime in the demanding state by the doing of an intentional act outside the demanding state which resulted in such crime, as set forth in section 818.15.

5. "Local prosecuting authority" means the chief prosecuting attorney or his or her designee, of the governmental unit of the demanding state which has jurisdiction over the crime committed by the fugitive. When the return to the demanding state is required of a person who has been convicted of a crime in the demanding state and the fugitive has escaped from confinement or broken the terms of his or her bail, probation or parole, the term "local prosecuting authority" includes the chief prosecuting attorney of the county in which the offense was committed, the parole board, and in the case of escapes the warden of the institution or the sheriff of the county from which the escape was made, and in such cases these officials may make demand for return of the fugitive in accordance with the provisions of this compact.

6. "Chief law enforcement officer" means county sheriff, chief of police or other chief law enforcement officer in the local governmental unit wherein the fugitive is located, and when the fugitive is confined in a penitentiary or reformatory, it includes the warden or chief administrative officer of that institution. [C79,§818.3]

818.4 Demand for return. The local prosecuting authority of the demanding state shall have the authority to issue a demand for the return of a fugitive. The demand shall be made to a chief law enforcement officer of the local governmental unit in the asylum state where the accused has been found. [C79,§818.4]

818.5 Contents of demand. Demand for the extradition of a fugitive under this chapter shall be in writing or by other official communication setting forth the crime with which the fugitive is charged, or that the fugitive has escaped confinement or broken the terms of his or her bail, probation, or parole. Said demand shall allege that a crime was committed in the demanding state and that the person sought is a fugitive within the meaning of this compact. [C79,§818.5]

Referred to in §818.13, 818.15

818.6 Arrest of fugitive. A chief law enforcement officer of the local governmental unit in the asylum state who receives the demand is authorized to cause the arrest of the fugitive in accordance with the laws of the asylum state. [C79,§818.6]

818.7 Procedure after arrest. When an arrest has been made the fugitive shall be taken for an appearance before a judge of court of record who shall inform the fugitive of the demand made for his or her surrender and of the crime with which he or she is charged, or other reason for the demand as set forth in section 818.15. Said judge shall apprise the fugitive of the fugitive's legal rights and shall advise said fugitive of the fugitive's right to apply for a writ of habeas corpus. [C79,§818.7]

818.8 Confinement of fugitive. If, at the fugitive's appearance, it appears that the person held is the person charged with having committed the crime alleged or has escaped confinement or broken the terms of his or her bail, probation, or parole and, except in cases arising under section 818.15, that the fugitive has fled from justice, the judge or magistrate before whom the fugitive is taken must, by warrant reciting the accusation, commit the fugitive to jail. Such commitment shall occur unless the accused give bail as provided in section 818.14 or is otherwise legally discharged. When the accused is confined pursuant to this section, said confinement shall be for the time specified in the warrant, but not exceeding fifteen days, as will enable the arrest of the fugitive to be made under a warrant issued by the authorities of the state having jurisdiction of the crime. If a writ of habeas corpus is applied for, the time established in this section shall be extended until such writ is disposed of. [C79,§818.8]

818.9 Warrant for conveyance. The local prosecuting authority of the demanding state shall cause a warrant to be issued to an agent, commanding the agent to receive the fugitive when delivered to the agent and convey the fugitive to the proper office of the local jurisdiction in the demanding state. [C79,§818.9]

818.10 Surrender of fugitive. Said designated agent of the demanding state may at all times enter the asylum state for the purpose of making demand for the surrender of the fugitive. Upon demand and proof of authority, the fugitive shall be released and surrendered to the agent's custody subject to the provisions of sections 818.11 and 818.12 unless a petition for habeas corpus has been applied for and is pending before the court. All requirements to obtain extradition other than provided in this compact are hereby waived on the part of the state party hereto as to such fugitive. [C79,§818.10]

818.11 Prosecution pending. If a criminal prosecution has been instituted against the fugitive under the laws of the asylum state and is still pending, the prosecuting authority of the asylum state in its discretion may either surrender the fugitive on demand or hold the fugitive until he or she has been tried and discharged or convicted and punished in the asylum state. [C79,§818.11]

Referred to in §818.10

818.12 Extradition during imprisonment. When it is desired to have returned to the demanding state a person sentenced in the asylum state with a crime, and such person is imprisoned, the governor of the asylum state may agree with the governor of the demanding state for the extradition of such person before the conclusion of his or her term or sentence upon condition that such person be returned to the asylum state as soon as the prosecution in the demanding state is terminated. [C79,§818.12]

Referred to in §818.10

818.13 Review—habeas corpus hearing. The guilt or innocence of the fugitive as to the crime of which he or she is charged is not reviewable by any official of the asylum state or in any proceeding in the asylum state after the demand for extradition. When a habeas corpus hearing is held pursuant to section 818.5, the judge shall cause to be presented to the fugitive a certified copy of the indictment found or information from the state having jurisdiction of the crime, or a copy of any warrant which was issued thereupon; or a copy of a judgment of conviction or of a sentence imposed in execution thereof, together with a statement by the local prosecuting authority of the demanding state that the fugitive has escaped from confinement or has broken the terms of his or her bail, probation or parole. Notice of such habeas corpus hearing including the time and place thereof shall be given to the local prosecuting authority of the demanding state. [C79,§818.13]

818.14 Bail. Unless the crime with which the prisoner is charged is shown to be an offense punishable by death or life imprisonment under the laws of the demanding state, a judge or magistrate in the asylum state may admit the person arrested to bail by bond with sufficient sureties, and in such sum as the judge or magistrate deems proper, conditioned for the prisoner's appearance before the judge or magistrate at a time specified in such bond, and for the prisoner's surrender. In the event of a violation of the conditions of said bond, forfeiture thereof and recovery thereon may be had as in the case of appearance bonds given by accused persons in criminal proceedings in the asylum state. [C79,§818.14]

Referred to in §818.8

818.15 Interstate crimes. A chief law enforcement officer of the local governmental unit in the asylum state may surrender, on demand of the local prosecuting authority of the demanding state, any person in the asylum state charged in the demanding state in the manner provided in section 818.5 with committing an act in the asylum state, or in a third state, intentionally resulting in a crime in the demanding state. The provisions of this compact not otherwise inconsistent shall apply to such cases, even though the accused was not in the demanding state at the time of the commission of the crime, and has not fled therefrom. [C79,§818.15]

Referred to in §818 3, 818 7, 818 8

818.16 Expenses and costs. The expenses incurred in extradition shall be assessed to the governmental unit of the demanding state seeking the return of the fugitive, but this provision shall not be construed to alter or affect any internal arrangements between a party state and its subdivisions as to the payment of costs or responsibilities therefor. These expenses shall include fees paid to the officers of the asylum state and all necessary and actual traveling expenses incurred in returning the prisoner. [C79,§818.16]

818.17 Administrator's duties. Each state party to this compact shall designate an officer who, acting jointly with like officers of other party states, shall promulgate rules and regulations to carry out more effectively the terms and provisions of this compact, and who shall provide, within and without the state, information necessary to the effective operation of this compact. [C79,§818.17]

Referred to in §818 18

818.18 Administrator of interstate extradition. The governor of this state shall appoint an administrator of interstate extradition to serve in such capacity for a period and under terms determined by the governor. Said administrator shall fulfill the duties set forth in section 818.17 and such other necessary duties as may be required for the administration of this compact. [C79,§818.18]

818.19 Effective date—withdrawal. This compact shall enter into full force and effect as to a party state when such state has enacted the same into law. A state party to this compact may withdraw herefrom by enacting a statute repealing the same. However, the withdrawal of any state shall not affect the status of any proceedings already initiated at the time such withdrawal takes effect. [C79,§818.19]

of a fugitive may proceed under this compact, or under the uniform criminal extradition Act. Where another state seeks return of a fugitive under this compact, the governor of this state may intervene at any time prior to surrender of the fugitive and require the proceedings to be stayed subject to investigation and appropriate orders relating to custody of the fugitive by the governor. [C79,§818.20]

818.21 Construction—validity—constitutionality. This compact shall be liberally construed so as to effectuate its purposes. The provisions of this compact shall be severable and if any phrase, clause, sentence or provision of this compact is declared to be contrary to the constitution of any party state or of the United States or the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person or circumstance is held invalid, the validity of the remainder of this compact and the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person or circumstance shall not be affected thereby. If this compact shall be held contrary to the constitution of any state party hereto, the compact shall remain in full force and effect as to the remaining states and in full force and effect as to the state affected as to all severable matters. [C79,§818.21]

818.22 Enforcement. All courts, departments, agencies, officers and employees of this state and its political subdivisions are hereby directed to enforce the interstate extradition compact and to co-operate with one another and with other party states in enforcing the compact and effectuating its purpose. [C79,§818.22]

818.23 Copies of compact transmitted. Copies of this chapter shall, upon its approval, be transmitted to the governor of each state, the attorney general and the administrator of general services of the United States, and the council of state governments. [C79,§818.23]

818.24 Short title. This compact may be cited as the interstate extradition compact. [C79,§818.24]

CHAPTER 819

UNIFORM ACT TO SECURE WITNESSES FROM WITHOUT THE STATE

Referred to in §801 1, R Cr P 19(2)

819.1 Witnesses required to testify in another state.
819.2 Witnesses from another state required to testify in this state.

819.3 Fees and enforcement of order.
819.4 Exemptions—arrest—service of process.
819.5 Definition of state.

819.1 Witnesses required to testify in another state. A person residing or physically present within this state may be required to attend as a witness in a criminal action pending or grand jury investigation commenced in another state if compliance with the following criteria is accomplished:

1. The laws of such other state require or command persons residing or physically present within that state to attend and testify in this state.

2. A judge of a court of record in the other state certifies under the seal of such court that there is a criminal action pending in such court or that a grand jury investigation has commenced; that a person residing or physically present within this state is a material witness in such action or grand jury investigation; and that the person's presence will be required for a number of days which shall be specified in such certification.

3. The certification described in subsection 2 of this section shall have been presented to any judge of the district court of the county in which the prospective witness is found.

4. The judge described in subsection 3 of this section shall make an order directing the witness to appear at a specific time and place for the hearing. If at the hearing the judge determines that the witness is material and necessary, either for the prosecution or defense in a criminal action, or for a grand jury investigation, and that it will not cause undue hardship to the witness to be compelled to attend and testify in such proceedings and that the provisions of subsections 2 and 3 of this section are complied with, the judge shall make an order, with a copy of the certificate attached, directing the witness to attend and testify in the court where the action is pending or the place where such grand jury has commenced at the time and place specified in the certificate. [S13,§5499-b; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13893; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§781.14; C79,§819.1]

819.2 Witnesses from another state required to testify in this state. If a person, in any state whose law makes provision for commanding persons within that state to attend and testify in criminal actions pending or grand jury investigations commenced in this state, is a material witness in a district court action pending or a grand jury investigation commenced in this state, a judge of such court shall, in order to obtain the presence of such witness, issue a certificate under the seal of the court stating these facts and specifying the number of days the witness will be required. [S13,§5499-d; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13895;

819.3 Fees and enforcement of order. A witness named in an order described in section 819.2 shall be entitled to ten cents per mile for each mile traveled by the most direct route to and from the proceedings the witness is required to attend, and shall also be entitled to ten dollars per day for each day spent in such travel or in attending the proceedings as a witness. Such amounts shall, upon proper claim being made, be paid from the court expense fund of the county.

If such witness fails without good cause to attend and testify as directed by such order the witness shall forfeit his or her right to receive mileage and per diem, and shall be guilty of contempt of court for which he or she may be punished accordingly. [S13,§5499-e; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13896; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§781.17; C79,§819.3]

819.4 Exemptions—arrest—service of process. If a person comes into this state in obedience to an order directing the person to attend and testify in this state, the person shall not while in this state pursuant to such order be subject to arrest or the service of process, civil or criminal, in connection with matters which arose before the person's entrance into this state under the order.

If a person passes through this state while going to another state in obedience to an order to attend and testify in that state or while returning therefrom, the person shall not while so passing through this state be subject to arrest or the service of process, civil or criminal, in connection with matters which arose before the person's entrance into this state pursuant to the order to testify. [S13,§5499-e; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13896; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§781.17; C79,§819.4]

819.5 Definition of state. The word "state" shall include any state or territory of the United States and the District of Columbia. [C79,§819.5]

820.1 Definitions. Where appearing in this chapter, the term "governor" includes any person performing the functions of governor by authority of the law of this state. The term "executive authority" includes the governor, and any person performing the functions of governor in a state other than this state, and the term "state", referring to a state other than this state, includes any other state or territory, organized or unorganized, of the United States of America. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §759.1; C79, §820.1]

820.2 Arrest of fugitives. Subject to the provisions of this chapter, the provisions of the Constitution of the United States controlling, and any and all Acts of Congress enacted in pursuance thereof, it is the duty of the governor of this state to have arrested and delivered up to the executive authority of any other state of the United States any person charged in that state with treason, felony, or other crime, who has fled from justice and is found in this state. [C51, §3283; R60, §4522; C73, §4175; C97, §5172; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13502; C46, §759.6; C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §759.2; C79, §820.2]

820.3 Demand in writing. No demand for the extradition of a person charged with crime in another state shall be recognized by the governor unless in writing alleging, except in cases arising under section 820.6, that the accused was present in the demanding state at the time of the commission of the alleged crime, and that thereafter he fled from the state, and accompanied by a copy of an indictment found or by information supported by affidavit in the state having jurisdiction of the crime, or by a copy of an affidavit made before a magistrate there, together with a copy of any warrant which was issued thereupon; or by a copy of a judgment of conviction or of a sentence imposed in execution thereof, together with a statement by the executive authority of the demanding state that the person claimed has escaped from confinement or has broken the terms of his bail, probation or parole. The indictment, information, or affidavit made before the magistrate must substantially charge the person demanded with having committed a crime under the law of that state; and the copy of indictment, information, affidavit, judgment of conviction or sentence must be authenticated by the executive authority making the demand. [R60, §4521; C73, §4174; C97, §5171; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13501; C46, §759.5; C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §759.3; C79, §820.3]

Referred to in §820.6

820.4 Investigation by attorney general. When a demand shall be made upon the governor of this state by the executive authority of another state for the surrender of a person so charged with crime, the governor may call upon the attorney general or any prosecuting officer in this state to investigate or assist in investigating the demand, and to report to him the situation and circumstances of the person so demanded, and whether he ought to be surrendered. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §759.4; C79, §820.4]

820.5 Persons imprisoned in another state. When it is desired to have returned to this state a person charged in this state with a crime, and such person is imprisoned or is held under criminal proceedings then pending against him in another state, the governor of this state may agree with the executive authority of such other state for the extradition of such person before the conclusion of such proceedings or his term of sentence in such other state, upon condition that such person be returned to such other state at the expense of this state as soon as the prosecution in this state is terminated.

The governor of this state may also surrender on demand of the executive authority of any other state any person in this state who is charged in the manner provided in section 820.23 with having violated the laws of the state whose executive authority is making the demand, even though such person left the demanding state involuntarily. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §759.5; C79, §820.5]

820.6 Criminal acts committed in third state. The governor of this state may also surrender, on demand of the executive authority of any other state, any person in this state charged in such other state in the manner provided in section 820.3 with committing an act in this state, or in a third state, intentionally resulting in a crime in the state whose executive authority is making the demand, and the provisions of this chapter not otherwise inconsistent, shall apply to such cases, even though the accused was not in that state at the time of the commission of the crime, and has not fled therefrom. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §759.6; C79, §820.6]

Referred to in §820.3, 820.13, 820.15

820.7 Warrant for arrest. If the governor decides that the demand should be complied with, he shall sign a warrant of arrest, which shall be sealed with the state seal, and be directed to any peace officer or other person whom he may think fit to entrust with the execution thereof. The warrant must substantially recite the facts necessary to the validity of its issuance. [C51, §3283; R60, §4522; C73, §4175; C97, §5172; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13502; C46, §759.6; C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §759.7; C79, §820.7]

Referred to in §820.25

820.8 Authority of warrant. Such warrant shall authorize the peace officer or other person to whom directed to arrest the accused at any time and any place where he may be found within the state and to command the aid of all peace officers or other persons in the execution of the warrant, and to deliver the accused, subject to the provisions of this chapter to the duly authorized agent of the demanding state. [C51, §3283, 3289; R60, §4522, 4528; C73, §4175, 4181; C97, §5172, 5178; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13502, 13508;

C46,§759.6, 759.12; C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§759.8; C79,§820.8]

Referred to in §820.25

820.9 Authority of peace officer. Every such peace officer or other person empowered to make the arrest, shall have the same authority, in arresting the accused, to command assistance therein, as peace officers have by law in the execution of any criminal process directed to them, with like penalties against those who refuse their assistance. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§759.9; C79,§820.9]

820.10 Testing legality of arrest. No person arrested upon such warrant shall be delivered over to the agent whom the executive authority demanding him shall have appointed to receive him unless he shall first be taken forthwith before a judge of a court of record in this state, who shall inform him of the demand made for his surrender and of the crime with which he is charged, and that he has the right to demand and procure legal counsel; and if the prisoner or his counsel shall state that he or they desire to test the legality of his arrest, the judge of such court of record shall fix a reasonable time to be allowed him within which to apply for a writ of habeas corpus. When such writ is applied for, notice thereof, and of the time and place of hearing thereon, shall be given to the prosecuting officer of the county in which the arrest is made and in which the accused is in custody, and to the said agent of the demanding state. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§759.10; C79,§820.10]

820.11 Penalty for willful disobedience. Any officer who shall deliver to the agent for extradition of the demanding state a person in the officer's custody under the governor's warrant, in willful disobedience to the last section, shall be guilty of a simple misdemeanor. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§759.11; C79,§820.11]

820.12 Confinement in jail. The officer or persons executing the governor's warrant of arrest, or the agent of the demanding state to whom the prisoner may have been delivered may, when necessary, confine the prisoner in the jail of any county or city through which he may pass; and the keeper of such jail must receive and safely keep the prisoner until the officer or person having charge of him is ready to proceed on his route, such officer or person being chargeable with the expense of keeping.

The officer or agent of a demanding state to whom a prisoner may have been delivered following extradition proceedings in another state, or to whom a prisoner may have been delivered after waiving extradition in such other state, and who is passing through this state with such a prisoner for the purpose of immediately returning such prisoner to the demanding state may, when necessary, confine the prisoner in the jail of any county or city through which he may pass; and the keeper of such jail must receive and safely keep the prisoner until the officer or agent having charge of him is ready to proceed on his route, such officer or agent, however, being chargeable with the expense of keeping; provided, however, that such officer or agent shall produce and show to the keeper of such jail satisfactory written evidence of the fact that he is actually transporting such prisoner to the demanding state after a requisition by the executive authority of such demanding state. Such prisoner shall not be entitled to demand a new requisition while in this state. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13512; C46,§759.16; C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§759.12; C79,§820.12]

820.13 Arrest on affidavit. Whenever any person within this state shall be charged on the oath of any credible person before any judge or magistrate of this state with the commission of any crime in any other state and, except in cases under section 820.6, with having fled from justice, or with having been convicted of a crime in that state and having escaped from confinement, or having broken the terms of his bail, probation or parole, or whenever complaint shall have been made before any judge or magistrate in this state setting forth on the affidavit of any credible person in another state that a crime has been committed in such other state and that the accused has been charged in such state with the commission of the crime, and, except in cases arising under section 820.6, has fled from justice, or with having been convicted of a crime in that state and having escaped from confinement, or having broken the terms of his bail, probation or parole and is believed to be in this state, the judge or magistrate shall issue a warrant directed to any peace officer commanding him to apprehend the person named therein, wherever he may be found in this state, and to bring him before the same or any other judge, magistrate or court who or which may be available in or convenient of access to the place where the arrest may be made, to answer the charge or complaint and affidavit, and a certified copy of the sworn charge or complaint and affidavit upon which the warrant is issued shall be attached to the warrant. [C51,§3284; R60,§4523; C73,§4176; C97,§5173; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13503; C46,§759.7; C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§759.13; C79,§820.13]

820.14 Arrest without warrant. The arrest of a person may be lawfully made also by any peace officer or a private person, without a warrant upon reasonable information that the accused stands charged in the courts of a state with a crime punishable by death or imprisonment for a term exceeding one year, but when so arrested the accused must be taken before a judge or magistrate with all practicable speed and complaint must be made against him under oath setting forth the ground for the arrest as in the preceding section; and thereafter his answer shall be heard as if he had been arrested on a warrant. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§759.14; C79,§820.14]

of the state having jurisdiction of the offense, unless the accused give bail as provided in the next section, or until he shall be legally discharged. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §759.15; C79, §820.15]

820.16 Bail—exceptions. Unless the offense with which the prisoner is charged is shown to be an offense punishable by death or life imprisonment under the laws of the state in which it was committed, a judge or magistrate in this state may admit the person arrested to bail by bond, with sufficient sureties, and in such sum as he deems proper, conditioned for his appearance before him at a time specified in such bond, and for his surrender, to be arrested upon the warrant of the governor of this state. [C51, §3285, 3286; R60, §4524, 4525; C73, §4177, 4178; C97, §5174, 5175; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13504, 13505; C46, §759.8, 759.9; C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §759.16; C79, §820.16]

Referred to in §820.17

820.17 Discharge or recommitment. If the accused is not arrested under warrant of the governor by the expiration of the time specified in the warrant or bond, a judge or magistrate may discharge or recommit the accused for a further period not to exceed sixty days, or a judge or magistrate may again take bail for the accused's appearance and surrender, as provided in section 820.16, but within a period not to exceed sixty days after the date of such new bond. [C51, §3288; R60, §4527; C73, §4180; C97, §5177; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13507; C46, §759.11; C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §759.17; C79, §820.17]

820.18 Forfeiture of bond. If the prisoner is admitted to bail, and fails to appear and surrender himself according to the conditions of his bond, the judge, or magistrate by proper order, shall declare the bond forfeited and order his immediate arrest without warrant if he be within this state. Recovery may be had on such bond in the name of the state as in the case of other bonds given by the accused in criminal proceedings within this state. [C51, §3287; R60, §4526; C73, §4179; C97, §5176; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13506; C46, §759.10; C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §759.18; C79, §820.18]

820.19 Criminal prosecution pending. If a criminal prosecution has been instituted against such person under the laws of this state and is still pending the governor, in his discretion, either may surrender him on demand of the executive authority of another state or hold him until he has been tried and discharged or convicted and punished in this state. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §759.19; C79, §820.19]

820.20 Guilt or innocence of person held. The guilt or innocence of the accused as to the crime of which he is charged may not be inquired into by the governor or in any proceeding after the demand for extradition accompanied by a charge of crime in legal form as above provided shall have been presented to the governor, except as it may be involved in identifying the person held as the person charged with the crime. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §759.20; C79, §820.20]

820.21 Warrant recalled. The governor may recall his warrant of arrest or may issue another warrant whenever he deems proper. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §759.21; C79, §820.21]

820.22 Receiving person extradited. Whenever the governor of this state shall demand a person charged with crime or with escaping from confinement or breaking the terms of his bail, probation or parole in this state, from the executive authority of any other state, or from the chief justice or an associate justice of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia authorized to receive such demand under the laws of the United States, he shall issue a warrant under the seal of this state, to some agent, commanding him to receive the person so charged if delivered to him and convey him to the proper officer of the county in this state in which the offense was committed. [C51, §3282; R60, §4518; C73, §4171; C97, §5169; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13497; C46, §759.1; C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §759.22; C79, §820.22]

820.23 Application for extradition. When the return to this state of a person charged with crime in this state is required, the prosecuting attorney shall present to the governor his written application for a requisition for the return of the person charged, in which application shall be stated the name of the person so charged, the crime charged against him, the approximate time, place and circumstances of its commission, the state in which he is believed to be, including the location of the accused therein at the time the application is made and certifying that, in the opinion of the said prosecuting attorney the ends of justice require the arrest and return of the accused to this state for trial and that the proceeding is not instituted to enforce a private claim.

When the return to this state is required of a person who has been convicted of a crime in this state and has escaped from confinement or broken the terms of his bail, probation or parole, the prosecuting attorney of the county in which the offense was committed, the parole board, or the warden of the institution or sheriff of the county, from which escape was made, shall present to the governor a written application for a requisition for the return of such person, in which application shall be stated the name of the person, the crime of which he was convicted, the circumstances of his escape from confinement or of the breach of the terms of his bail, probation or parole, the state in which he is believed to be, including the location of the person therein at the time application is made.

The application shall be verified by affidavit, shall be executed in duplicate and shall be accompanied by two certified copies of the indictment returned, or information and affidavit filed, or of the complaint made to the judge or magistrate, stating the offense with which the accused is charged, or of the judgment of conviction or of the sentence. The prosecuting officer, parole board, warden or sheriff may also attach such further affidavits and other documents in duplicate as he shall deem proper to be submitted with such application. One copy of the application, with the action of the governor indicated by endorsement thereon, and one of the certified copies of the indictment, complaint, information, and affidavits or of the judgment of conviction or of the sentence shall be filed in the office of the governor to remain of record in that office. The other copies of all papers shall be forwarded with the governor's requisition. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §759.23; C79, §820.23]

Referred to in §820.5

820.24 Expenses—how paid. When the punishment of the crime shall be the confinement of the criminal in the penitentiary, the expenses shall be paid out of the state treasury, on the certificate of the governor and warrant of the comptroller; and in all other cases they shall be paid out of the county treasury in the county wherein the crime is alleged to have been committed. The expenses shall be the fees paid to the officers of the state on whose governor the requisition is made, and all necessary and actual traveling expenses incurred in returning the prisoner. [C51, §3282; R60, §4518; C73, §4171, 4184; C97, §5169, 5181; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13498, 13499, 13511; C46, §759.2, 759.3, 759.15; C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §759.24; C79, §820.24]

820.25 Waiver by person arrested. Any person arrested in this state charged with having committed any crime in another state or alleged to have escaped from confinement, or broken the terms of his bail, probation or parole may waive the issuance and service of the warrant provided for in sections 820.7 and 820.8 and all other procedure incidental to extradition proceedings, by executing or subscribing in the presence of a judge of any court of record within this state a writing which states that he consents to return to the demanding state; provided, however, that before such waiver shall be executed or subscribed by such person it shall be the duty of such judge to inform such person of his rights to the issuance and service of a warrant of extradition and to obtain a writ of habeas corpus as provided for in section 820.10.

If and when such consent has been duly executed it shall forthwith be forwarded to the office of the governor of this state and filed therein. The judge shall direct the officer having such person in custody to deliver forthwith such person to the duly accredited agent or agents of the demanding state, and shall deliver or cause to be delivered to such agent or agents a copy of such consent; provided, however, that nothing in this section shall be deemed to limit the rights of the accused person to return voluntarily and without formality to the demanding state, nor shall this waiver procedure be deemed to be an exclusive procedure or to limit the powers, rights or duties of the officers of the demanding state or of this state. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §759.25; C79, §820.25]

820.26 State's rights not deemed waived. Nothing in this chapter contained shall be deemed to constitute a waiver by this state of its right, power or privilege to try such demanded person for crime committed within this state, or of its right, power or privilege to regain custody of such person by extradition proceedings or otherwise for the purpose of trial, sentence or punishment for any crime committed within this state, nor shall any proceedings had under this chapter which result in, or fail to result in, extradition be deemed a waiver by this state of any of its rights, privileges or jurisdiction in any way whatsoever. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §759.26; C79, §820.26]

820.27 Trial for other crimes. After a person has been brought back to this state by, or after waiver of extradition proceedings, he may be tried in this state for other crimes which he may be charged with having committed here as well as that specified in the requisition for his extradition. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §759.27; C79, §820.27]

820.28 Construction of chapter. The provisions of this chapter shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purposes to make uniform the law of those states which enact it. [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §759.28; C79, §820.28]

820.29 Title. This chapter may be cited as the "Uniform Criminal Extradition Act." [C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §759.29; C79, §820.29]

CHAPTER 821

AGREEMENT ON DETAINERS COMPACT

Referred to in §602.62

This chapter was not enacted as a part of the criminal code but was transferred here from chapter 759A, Code 1977

- 821.1 Agreement with other states.
- 821.2 Court defined.
- 821.3 Co-operation.
- 821.4 Habitual criminals.

- 821.5 Escape in another state.
- 821.6 Transfer of custody.
- 821.7 Detainer administrator.
- 821.8 Copies of law transmitted.

821.1 Agreement with other states. The agreement on detainers is hereby enacted into law and entered into by this state with all other jurisdictions legally joining therein in the form substantially as follows:

The contracting states solemnly agree that:

ARTICLE I

The party states find that charges outstanding against a prisoner, detainees based on untried indictments, informations or complaints, and difficulties in securing speedy trial of persons already incarcerated in other jurisdictions, produce uncertainties which obstruct programs of prisoner treatment and rehabilitation. Accordingly, it is the policy of the party states and the purpose of this agreement to encourage the expeditious and orderly disposition of such charges and determination of the proper status of any and all detainees based on untried indictments, informations or complaints. The party states also find that proceedings with reference to such charges and detainees, when emanating from another jurisdiction, cannot properly be had in the absence of co-operative procedures. It is the further purpose of this agreement to provide such co-operative procedures.

ARTICLE II

As used in this agreement:

a. "State" shall mean a state of the United States; the United States of America; a territory or possession of the United States; the District of Columbia; the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

b. "Sending state" shall mean a state in which a prisoner is incarcerated at the time that he initiates a request for final disposition pursuant to Article III hereof or at the time that a request for custody or availability is initiated pursuant to Article IV hereof.

c. "Receiving state" shall mean the state in which trial is to be had on an indictment, information or complaint pursuant to Article III or Article IV hereof.

ARTICLE III

Referred to in Articles II, V and VI

a. Whenever a person has entered upon a term of imprisonment in a penal or correctional institution of a party state, and whenever during the continuance of the term of imprisonment there is pending in any other party state any untried indictment, information or complaint on the basis of which a detainer has been lodged against the prisoner, he shall be brought to trial within one hundred eighty days after he shall have caused to be delivered to the prosecuting officer and the appropriate court of the prosecuting officer's jurisdiction written notice of the place of his imprisonment and his request for a final disposition to be made of the indictment, information or complaint: Provided that for good cause shown in open court, the prisoner or his counsel being present, the court having jurisdiction of the matter may grant any necessary or reasonable continuance. The request of the prisoner shall be accompanied by a certificate of the appropriate official having custody of the prisoner, stating the term of commitment under which the prisoner is being held, the time already served, the time remaining to be served on the sentence, the amount of good time earned, the time of parole eligibility of the prisoner, and any decisions of the state parole agency relating to the prisoner.

b. The written notice and request for final disposition referred to in paragraph "a" hereof shall be given or sent by the prisoner to the warden, commissioner of corrections or other official having custody of him, who shall promptly forward it together with the certificate to the appropriate prosecuting official and court by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested.

c. The warden, commissioner of corrections or other official having custody of the prisoner shall promptly inform him of the source and contents of any detainer lodged against him and shall also inform him of his right to make a request for final disposition of the indictment, information or complaint on which the detainer is based.

d. Any request for final disposition made by a prisoner pursuant to paragraph "a" hereof shall operate as a request for final disposition of all untried indictments, informations or complaints on the basis of which detainees have been lodged against the prisoner from the state to whose prosecuting official the request for final disposition is specifically directed. The warden, commissioner of corrections or other official having custody of the prisoner shall forthwith notify all appropriate prosecuting officers and courts in the several jurisdictions within the state to which the prisoner's request for final disposition is being sent of the proceeding being initiated by the prisoner. Any notification sent pursuant to this paragraph shall be accompanied by copies of the prisoner's written notice, request, and the certificate. If trial is not had on any indictment, information or complaint contemplated hereby prior to the return of the prisoner to the original place of imprisonment, such indictment, information or complaint shall not be of any further force or effect, and the court shall enter an order dismissing the same with prejudice.

e. Any request for final disposition made by a prisoner pursuant to paragraph "a" hereof shall also be deemed to be a waiver of extradition with respect to any charge or proceeding contemplated thereby or included therein by reason of paragraph "d" hereof, and a waiver of extradition to the receiving state to serve any sentence there imposed upon him, after completion of his term of imprisonment in the sending state. The request for final disposition shall also constitute a consent by the prisoner to the production of his body in any court where his presence may be required in order to effectuate the purposes of this agreement and a further consent voluntarily to be returned to the original place of imprisonment in accordance with the provisions of this agreement. Nothing in this paragraph shall prevent the imposition of a concurrent sentence if otherwise permitted by law.

f. Escape from custody by the prisoner subsequent to his execution of the request for final disposition referred to in paragraph "a" hereof shall void the request.

ARTICLE IV

Referred to in Articles II, V and VI

a. The appropriate officer of the jurisdiction in which an untried indictment, information or complaint is pending shall be entitled to have a prisoner against whom he has lodged a detainer and who is serving a term of imprisonment in any party state made available in accordance with Article V "a" hereof upon presentation of a written request for temporary custody or availability to the appropriate authorities of the state in which the prisoner is incarcerated: Provided that the court having jurisdiction of such indictment, information or complaint shall have duly approved, recorded and transmitted the request: And provided further that there shall be a period of thirty days after receipt by the appropriate authorities before the request be honored, within which period the governor of the sending state may disapprove the request for temporary custody or availability, either upon his own motion or upon motion of the prisoner.

b. Upon receipt of the officer's written request as provided in paragraph "a" hereof, the appropriate authorities having the prisoner in custody shall furnish the officer with a certificate stating the term of commitment under which the prisoner is being held, the time already served, the time remaining to be served on the sentence, the amount of good time earned, the time of parole eligibility of the prisoner, and any decisions of the state parole agency relating to the prisoner. Said authorities simultaneously shall furnish all other officers and appropriate courts in the receiving state who have lodged detainers against the prisoner with similar certificates and with notices informing them of the request for custody or availability and of the reasons therefor.

c. In respect of any proceeding made possible by this Article, trial shall be commenced within one hundred twenty days of the arrival of the prisoner in the receiving state, but for good cause shown in open court, the prisoner or his counsel being present, the court having jurisdiction of the matter may grant any necessary or reasonable continuance.

d. Nothing contained in this Article shall be construed to deprive any prisoner of any right which he may have to contest the legality of his delivery as provided in paragraph "a" hereof, but such delivery may not be opposed or denied on the ground that the executive authority of the sending state has not affirmatively consented to or ordered such delivery.

e. If trial is not had on any indictment, information or complaint contemplated hereby prior to the prisoner's being returned to the original place of imprisonment pursuant to Article V "e" hereof, such indictment, information or complaint shall not be of any further force or effect, and the court shall enter an order dismissing the same with prejudice.

ARTICLE V

Referred to in Article IV (a, e)

a. In response to a request made under Article III or Article IV hereof, the appropriate authority in a sending state shall offer to deliver temporary custody of such prisoner to the appropriate authority in the state where such indictment, information or complaint is pending against such person in order that speedy and efficient prosecution may be had. If the request for final disposition is made by the prisoner, the offer of temporary custody shall accompany the written notice provided for in Article III of this agreement. In the case of a federal prisoner, the appropriate authority in the receiving state shall be entitled to temporary custody as provided by this agreement or to the prisoner's presence in federal custody at the place for trial, whichever custodial arrangement may be approved by the custodian.

b. The officer or other representative of a state accepting an offer of temporary custody shall present the following upon demand:

(1) Proper identification and evidence of his authority to act for the state into whose temporary custody the prisoner is to be given.

(2) A duly certified copy of the indictment, information or complaint on the basis of which the detainer has been lodged and on the basis of which the request for temporary custody of the prisoner has been made.

c. If the appropriate authority shall refuse or fail to accept temporary custody of said person, or in the event that an action on the indictment, information or complaint on the basis of which the detainer has been lodged is not brought to trial within the period provided in Article III or Article IV hereof, the appropriate court of the jurisdiction where the indictment, information or complaint has been pending shall enter an order dismissing the same with prejudice, and any detainer based thereon shall cease to be of any force or effect.

d. The temporary custody referred to in this agreement shall be only for the purpose of permitting prosecution on the charge or charges contained in one or more untried indictments, informations or complaints which form the basis of the detainer or detainers or for prosecution on any other charge or charges arising out of the same transaction. Except for his attendance at court and while being transported to or from any place at which his presence may be required, the prisoner shall be held in a suitable jail or other facility regularly used for persons awaiting prosecution.

e. At the earliest practicable time consonant with the purposes of this agreement, the prisoner shall be returned to the sending state.

f. During the continuance of temporary custody or while the prisoner is otherwise being made available for trial as required by this agreement, time being served on the sentence shall continue to run but good time shall be earned by the prisoner only if, and to the extent that, the law and practice of the jurisdiction which imposed the sentence may allow.

g. For all purposes other than that for which temporary custody as provided in this agreement is exercised, the prisoner shall be deemed to remain in the custody of and subject to the jurisdiction of the sending state and any escape from temporary custody may be dealt with in the same manner as an escape from the original place of imprisonment or in any other manner permitted by law.

h. From the time that a party state receives custody of a prisoner pursuant to this agreement until such prisoner is returned to the territory and custody of the sending state, the state in which the one or more untried indictments, informations or complaints are pending or in which trial is being had shall be responsible for the prisoner and shall also pay all costs of transporting, caring for, keeping and returning the prisoner. The provisions of this paragraph shall govern unless the states concerned shall have entered into a supplementary agreement providing for a different allocation of costs and responsibilities as between or among themselves. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to alter or affect any internal relationship among the departments, agencies and officers of and in the government of a party state, or between a party state and its subdivisions, as to the payment of costs, or responsibilities therefor.

ARTICLE VI

a. In determining the duration and expiration dates of the time periods provided in Articles III and IV of this agreement, the running of said time periods shall be tolled whenever and for as long as the prisoner is unable to stand trial, as determined by the court having jurisdiction of the matter.

b. No provision of this agreement, and no remedy made available by this agreement, shall apply to any person who is adjudged to be mentally ill.

ARTICLE VII

Each state party to this agreement shall designate an officer who, acting jointly with like officers of other party states, shall promulgate rules and regulations to carry out more effectively the terms and provisions of this agreement, and who shall provide, within and without the state, information necessary to the effective operation of this agreement.

ARTICLE VIII

This agreement shall enter into full force and effect as to a party state when such state has enacted the same into law. A state party to this agreement may withdraw herefrom by enacting a statute repealing the same. However, the withdrawal of any state shall not affect the status of any proceedings already initiated by inmates or by state officers at the time such withdrawal takes effect, nor shall it affect their rights in respect thereof.

ARTICLE IX

This agreement shall be liberally construed so as to effectuate its purposes. The provisions of this agreement shall be severable and if any phrase, clause, sentence or provision of this agreement is declared to be contrary to the Constitution of any party state or of the United States or the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person or circumstance is held invalid, the validity of the remainder of this agreement and the applicability thereof to any government, agency, person or circumstance shall not be affected thereby. If this agreement shall be held contrary to the Constitution of any state party hereto, the agreement shall remain in full force and effect as to the remaining states and in full force and effect as to the state affected as to all severable matters. [C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §759A.1; C79, §821.1]

821.2 Court defined. The phrase "appropriate court" as used in the agreement on detainers shall, with reference to the courts of this state, mean any court with criminal jurisdiction in the matter involved. [C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §759A.2; C79, §821.2]

821.3 Co-operation. All courts, departments, agencies, officers, and employees of this state and its political subdivisions are hereby directed to enforce the agreement on detainers and to co-operate with one another and with other party states in enforcing the agreement and effectuating its purpose. [C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §759A.3; C79, §821.3]

821.4 Habitual criminals. Nothing in this chapter or in the agreement on detainers shall be construed to require the application of section 902.8 to any person on account of any conviction had in a proceeding brought to final disposition by reason of the use of this agreement. [C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §759A.4; C79, §821.4]

821.5 Escape in another state. Escape from custody while in another state, pursuant to this agreement on detainers shall constitute an offense against the laws of this state to the same extent and degree as an escape from the institution in which the prisoner was confined immediately prior to having been sent to another state pursuant to the provisions of the agreement on detainers and shall be punishable in the same manner as an escape from said institution. [C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §759A.5; C79, §821.5]

821.6 Transfer of custody. It shall be lawful and mandatory upon the warden or other official in charge of a penal or correctional institution in this state to give over the person of any inmate thereof whenever so required by the operation of the agreement on detainers. [C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §759A.6; C79, §821.6]

821.7 Detainer administrator. Pursuant to the agreement on detainers, the governor is hereby authorized to designate an officer or alternate who shall be the central administrator of and information agent for the agreement on detainers and who, acting jointly with like officers of other party states, shall have power to formulate rules and regulations to carry out more effectively the terms of the agreement, and shall serve subject to the pleasure of the governor. [C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §759A.7; C79, §821.7]

821.8 Copies of law transmitted. Copies of this chapter shall, upon its approval, be transmitted to the governor of each state, the attorney general, and the administrator of general services of the United States, and the council of state governments. [C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §759A.8; C79, §821.8]

901.1 Short title. Chapters 901 to 909 shall be known and may be cited as the "Iowa Corrections Code." [C79,§901.1]

901.2 Presentence investigation. Upon a plea of guilty, a verdict of guilty, or a special verdict upon which a judgment of conviction of any public offense may be rendered, the court shall receive from the state, from the judicial district department of correctional services, and from the defendant any information which may be offered which is relevant to the question of sentencing. The court may consider information from other sources. The court shall order a presentence investigation when the offense is a class "B," class "C," or class "D" felony. The court may order a presentence investigation when the offense is an aggravated or serious misdemeanor.

The court may withhold execution of any judgment or sentence for such time as shall be reasonably necessary for an investigation with respect to deferment of judgment, deferment of sentence, or suspension of sentence and probation. The investigation shall be made by the judicial district department of correctional services. [S13,§5447-a; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§3800; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§247.20; C75, 77,§789A.3; C79,§901.2] any such examination or evaluation shall be included in the report of the investigator. [C75, 77,§789A.4; C79,§901.3; 68GA, ch 1192,§1]

901.4 Presentence investigation report confidential. The court may, in its discretion, make the presentence investigation report or parts of it available to the defendant, or the court may make the report or parts of it available while concealing the identity of the person who provided confidential information. The report of any medical examination or psychiatric evaluation shall be made available to the attorney for the state and to the defendant upon request. Such reports shall be part of the record but shall be sealed and opened only on order of the court. In any case where the defendant is committed to the custody of the division of adult corrections and is not a class "A" felon, a copy of the presentence investigation report shall be sent to the director at the time of commitment. [C75, 77,§789A.5; C79,§901.4]

901.5 Pronouncing judgment and sentence. After receiving and examining all pertinent information, including the presentence investigation report, if any, the court shall consider the following sentencing options. The court shall determine which of them is authorized by law for the offense, and of the authorized sentences, which of them or which combination of them, in the discretion of the court, will provide maximum opportunity for the rehabilitation of the defendant, and for the protection of the community from further offenses by the defendant and others.

At the time fixed by the court for pronouncement of judgment and sentence, the court shall act accordingly:

1. If authorized by section 907.3, the court may defer judgment and sentence for an indefinite period in accordance with chapter 907.

2. If the defendant is not an habitual offender as defined by section 902.8, the court may pronounce judgment and impose a fine.

3. The court may pronounce judgment and impose a fine or sentence the defendant to confinement, or both, and suspend the execution of the sentence or any part of it as provided in chapter 907.

4. The court may pronounce judgment and impose a fine or sentence the defendant to confinement, or both.

5. If authorized by section 907.3, the court may defer the sentence and assign the defendant to the judicial district department of correctional services.

6. The court may pronounce judgment and sentence the defendant to confinement and then reconsider the sentence as provided by section 902.4 or 903.2. [C79,§901.5]

Referred to in §907.3

901.6 Judgment entered. If judgment is not deferred, and no sufficient cause is shown why judgment should not be pronounced and none appears to the court upon the record, judgment shall be pronounced and entered. In every case in which judgment is entered, the court shall include in the judgment entry the number of the particular section of the Code under which the defendant is sentenced and a statement of the days credited pursuant to section 246.38 shall be incorporated into the sentence. [C51,§3066; R60,§4873, 4874; C73,§4506, 4507; C97,§5438; C24,§13958; C27, 31, 35,§13958-a1; C39, §13958.2; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§789.11; C71, 73, 75, 77,§789.11, 791.8; C79,§901.6]

901.7 Commitment to custody. In imposing a sentence of confinement for more than one year, the court shall commit the defendant to the custody of the director of the division of adult corrections. Upon entry of judgment and sentence, the clerk of the district court immediately shall notify the director of such commitment. The court shall make such order as is appropriate for the temporary custody of the defendant pending the defendant's transfer to the custody of the director. The court shall order the county where a person was convicted to pay the cost of temporarily confining the person and of transporting the person to the state institution where he or she is to be confined in execution of the judgment. [C79,§901.7]

Referred to in §908.6

901.8 Consecutive sentences. If a person is sentenced for two or more separate offenses, the sentencing judge may order the second or further sentence to begin at the expiration of the first or succeeding sentence. If a person is sentenced for escape under section 719.4 or for a crime committed while confined in a detention facility or penal institution, the sentencing judge shall order the sentence to begin at the expiration of any existing sentence. If the person is presently in the custody of the director of the division of adult corrections, the sentence shall be served at the facility or institution in which the person is already confined unless the person is transferred by the director. If consecutive sentences are specified in the order of commitment, the several terms shall be construed as one continuous term of imprisonment. [S13,§5718-a13; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §13961; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§789.14; C79,§901.8; 68GA, ch 1193,§1]

FELONIES

Referred to in §901.1

902.1 Class "A" felony.
902.2 Record of class "A" felon reviewed.
902.3 Indeterminate sentence.
902.4 Reconsideration of felon's sentence.
902.5 Place of confinement.

902.6 Release.
902.7 Minimum sentence—use of a firearm.
902.8 Minimum sentence—habitual offender.
902.9 Maximum sentence for felons.
902.10 Application for involuntary hospitalization.

902.1 Class "A" felony. Upon a plea of guilty, a verdict of guilty, or a special verdict upon which a judgment of conviction of a class "A" felony may be rendered, the court shall enter a judgment of conviction and shall commit the defendant into the custody of the director of the division of adult corrections for the rest of the defendant's life. Nothing in the Iowa corrections code pertaining to deferred judgment, deferred sentence, suspended sentence or reconsideration of sentence shall apply to a class "A" felony, and no person convicted of a class "A" felony shall be released on parole unless the governor commutes the sentence to a term of years. [C79,§902.1]

902.2 Record of class "A" felon reviewed. The board shall interview a class "A" felon within five years of his or her confinement and regularly thereafter. If, in the opinion of the board, the person should be considered for release on parole, the board shall recommend to the governor that the person's sentence be commuted to a term of years. If the person's sentence is so commuted, the person shall be eligible for parole as provided in chapter 906. [S13,§5718-a18; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§3786; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§247.5; C79,§902.2]

902.3 Indeterminate sentence. When a judgment of conviction of a felony other than a class "A" felony is entered against any person, the court, in imposing a sentence of confinement, shall commit the person into the custody of the director of the division of adult corrections for an indeterminate term, the maximum length of which shall not exceed the limits as fixed by section 902.9 nor shall the term be less than the minimum term imposed by law, if a minimum sentence is provided. [S13,§5718-a13; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13960; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§789.13; C79,§902.3]

902.4 Reconsideration of felon's sentence. For a period of ninety days from the date when a person convicted of a felony, other than a class "A" felony or a felony for which a minimum sentence of confinement is imposed, begins to serve a sentence of confinement, the court, on its own motion or on the recommendation of the commissioner of social services, may order the person to be returned to the court, at which time the court may review its previous action and reaffirm it or substitute for it any sentence permitted by law. The court's final order in any such proceeding shall be delivered to the defendant personally or by certified mail. Such action is discretionary with the court, and its decision to take such action or not to take such action is not subject to appeal. The provisions of this section notwithstanding, for the purposes of appeal, a judgment of conviction of a felony is a final judgment when pronounced. [C79,§902.4]

902.5 Place of confinement. The director of the division of adult corrections shall determine the appropriate place of confinement of any person committed to the director's custody, in any institution administered by the director, and may transfer the person from one institution to another during the person's period of confinement. [S13,§5718-a5; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13963; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§789.16; C79,§902.5]

902.6 Release. A person who has been committed to the custody of the director of the division of adult corrections shall remain in such custody until released by the order of the board of parole, in accordance with the law governing paroles, or by order of the judge after reconsideration of a felon's sentence pursuant to section 902.4 or until the maximum term of the person's confinement, as fixed by law, has been completed. [S13,§5718-a18; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§3786; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§247.5; C79,§902.6]

902.7 Minimum sentence—use of a firearm. At the trial of a person charged with participating in a forcible felony, if the trier of fact finds beyond a reasonable doubt that the person is guilty of a forcible felony and that the person represented that he or she was in the immediate possession and control of a firearm, displayed a firearm in a threatening manner, or was armed with a firearm while participating in the forcible felony the convicted person shall serve a minimum of five years of the sentence imposed by law. A person sentenced pursuant to this section shall not be eligible for parole until he or she has served the minimum sentence of confinement imposed by this section. [C79,§902.7]

imum of five years of the sentence imposed by law. A person sentenced pursuant to this section shall not be eligible for parole until he or she has served the minimum sentence of confinement imposed by this section. [C79,§902.7]

Definition of forcible felony, §702 11

902.8 Minimum sentence—habitual offender. An habitual offender is any person convicted of a class "C" or a class "D" felony, who has twice before been convicted of any felony in a court of this or any other state, or of the United States. An offense is a felony if, by the law under which the person is convicted, it is so classified at the time of his or her conviction. A person sentenced as an habitual offender shall not be eligible for parole until he or she has served the minimum sentence of confinement of three years. [S13,§4871-a, 5091-a; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13396, 13400; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§747.1, 747.5; C79,§902.8]

Referred to in §246 38, 246 39, 246 43, 821 4, 901 5

902.9 Maximum sentence for felons. The maximum sentence for any person convicted of a felony shall be that prescribed by statute or, if not prescribed by statute, if other than a class "A" felony shall be determined as follows:

1. A class "B" felon shall be confined for no more than twenty-five years.
2. An habitual offender shall be confined for no more than fifteen years.
3. A class "C" felon, not an habitual offender, shall be confined for no more than ten years, and in addition may be sentenced to a fine of not more than five thousand dollars.
4. A class "D" felon, not an habitual offender, shall be confined for no more than five years, and in addition may be sentenced to a fine of not more than one thousand dollars. [C79,§902.9]

Referred to in §902 3
Habitual offender, §902 8

902.10 Application for involuntary hospitalization. For the purposes of chapter 229, the director of the division of corrections shall be considered an interested person and all applicable provisions of chapter 229, relating to involuntary hospitalization, shall apply to any persons who have been committed to the custody of the division of corrections as a result of a conviction of a public offense. [C79,§902.10]

CHAPTER 903

MISDEMEANORS

Referred to in §901 1

- 903.1 Maximum sentence for misdemeanants
- 903.2 Reconsideration of misdemeanant's sentence.
- 903.3 Work release.

- 903.4 Providing place of confinement.
- 903.5 Local facilities preferred for misdemeanants.
- 903.6 Segregation of prisoners.

903.1 Maximum sentence for misdemeanants. When a person is convicted of a misdemeanor and a specific penalty is not provided for, the court shall determine the sentence, and shall fix the period of confinement or the amount of fine, if such be the sentence, within the following limits:

1. For an aggravated misdemeanor, imprisonment not to exceed two years, or a fine not to exceed five thousand dollars, or both.

2. For a serious misdemeanor, imprisonment not to exceed one year, or a fine not to exceed one thousand dollars, or both.

3. For a simple misdemeanor, imprisonment not to exceed thirty days, or a fine not to exceed one hundred dollars. [C51,§2676; R60,§4303; C73,§3967; C97,§4906; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§12894; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§687.7; C79,§903.1]

Referred to in §83 15

903.2 Reconsideration of misdemeanant's sentence. For a period of thirty days from the date when a person convicted of a misdemeanor begins to serve a sentence of confinement, the court may order the person to be returned to the court, at which time the court may review its previous action and reaffirm it or substitute for it any sentence permitted by law. The court's final order in any such proceeding shall be delivered to the defendant personally or by certified mail. Such action is discretionary with the court and its decision to take such action or not to take such action is not subject to appeal. The provisions of this section notwithstanding, for the purposes of appeal a judgment of conviction is a final judgment when pronounced. [C79,§903.2]

Referred to in §901 5

903.3 Work release. The court may direct that a prisoner sentenced to confinement for ninety days or less, or a prisoner who has served all but ninety days or less of his or her sentence, be released from custody during specified hours, as provided by sections 356.26 to 356.35. [C79,§903.3]

See ch 247A

903.4 Providing place of confinement. All persons sentenced to confinement for a period of one year or less shall be confined in a place to be furnished by the county where the conviction was had unless the person is presently committed to the custody of the director of the division of adult corrections, in which case the provisions of section 901.8 apply. All persons sentenced to confinement for a period of more than one year shall be committed to the custody of the director of the division of adult corrections to be confined in a place to be designated by the director and the cost of such confinement shall be borne by the state. The director may contract with local governmental units for the use of detention or correctional facilities maintained by such units for the confinement of such persons. [C79,§903.4; 68GA, ch 1193,§2]

903.5 Local facilities preferred for misdemeanants. In designating places of confinement of misdemeanants, the department shall make optimum use of local facilities offering correctional programs, where such are available. Where a choice of facilities is offered, a choice of the facility nearest the prisoner's home shall be preferred, if such choice is compatible with the rehabilitation of the prisoner. [C79,§903.5]

903.6 Segregation of prisoners. In any detention facility, persons who are serving a sentence of confinement shall be segregated from persons who are being detained for any other purpose, whenever such is possible. [C79,§903.6]

CHAPTER 904

BOARD OF PAROLE

Referred to in §901 1

904.1 Board of parole.

904.2 Appointment to board of parole.

904.3 Transition.

904.4 Expenses of members and others.

904.5 Administration of board of parole.

904.1 Board of parole. The board of parole shall consist of five electors of the state. Not more than three members shall belong to the same political party. At least two members shall be practicing attorneys-at-law at the time of appointment. Each member shall serve a term of five years beginning and ending as provided by section 69.19, except appointees to fill vacancies who shall serve for the balance of the unexpired term. The chairperson of the board shall be elected by the members of the board to a term of one year and may serve more than one term. A majority of the members of the board constitutes a quorum to transact business. [S13,§5718-a14; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§3782; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§247.1; C79,§904.1; 68GA, ch 1010,§83]

Referred to in §904 3

904.2 Appointment to board of parole. The governor shall appoint, subject to confirmation by the senate, a successor to that member of the board whose term will expire as provided by section 69.19. Vacancies shall be filled as regular appointments are made for the unexpired portion of the regular term. [S13,§5718-a14; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§3783; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§247.2; C79,§904.2; 68GA, ch 1010,§84]

Confirmation, §2 32

904.3 Transition. Persons serving on the board of parole on June 30, 1978 shall continue as members of the board of parole until they have served the term for which they were appointed with the conditions and salary of the initial appointment, and shall be deemed to fill a membership position as provided by section 904.1. Initial appointment to fill the additional membership positions created by section 904.1 shall serve as follows:

1. One member shall serve until June 30, 1980.
2. The other member shall serve until June 30, 1982. [C79,§904.3]

904.4 Expenses of members and others. Each member of the board, the executive secretary, and all other employees shall, in addition to salary, be entitled to receive their necessary maintenance and traveling expenses while engaged in official business. [S13,§5718-a16; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§3784; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66,§247.3; C71, 73, 75, 77,§247.2; C79,§904.4]

904.5 Administration of board of parole. The board of parole shall be responsible directly to the governor. The board of parole shall appoint an executive secretary and employ a clerical staff sufficient to carry on the necessary duties of the board. The board shall employ not less than four persons who shall serve as liaison personnel between the board, inmates and staff at the state's penal and correctional facilities and who shall perform other duties designated by the board of parole. The board shall submit to the state comptroller an estimate of the funds needed for salaries, maintenance, and office supplies at the time and in the manner provided by section 8.23. [C71, 73, 75, 77,§247.3; C79,§904.5]

|--|---|

1. “Administrative agent” means the county selected by the district board to perform accounting, budgeting, personnel, facilities management, insurance, payroll and other supportive services on the behalf of the district board.
2. “Community-based correctional program” means correctional programs and services designed to supervise and assist individuals who are charged with or have been convicted of a felony, an aggravated misdemeanor or a serious misdemeanor, or who are on probation in lieu of or as a result of a sentence of incarceration imposed upon conviction of any of these offenses.
3. “Director” means the director of a judicial district department of correctional services.
4. “District board” means the board of directors of a judicial district department of correctional services.
5. “District department” means a judicial district department of correctional services, established as required by section 905.2.
6. “Project” means a locally functioning part of a community-based correctional program, officed and operating in a physical location separate from the offices of the district department.
7. “Project advisory committee” means a committee of no more than seven persons which shall act in an advisory capacity to the director on matters pertaining to the planning, operation and other pertinent functions of each project in the judicial district. The members of the project advisory committee for each such project shall be initially appointed by the director from among the general public. No member of the project advisory committee shall hold public office or public employment during membership on such committee. The terms of the initial members of the project advisory committee shall be staggered to permit the terms of just over half of the members to expire in two years and those of the remaining members to expire in one year. Subsequent appointments to the project advisory committee shall be by vote of a majority of the whole project advisory committee for two-year terms. [C75, 77,§217.24, 217.25; C79,§905.1]

905.2 District departments established. There shall be established in each judicial district in this state a public agency to be known as the “. . . judicial district department of correctional services.” Each district department shall furnish or contract for those services necessary to provide a community-based correctional program which meets the needs of that judicial district. The district department shall be under the direction of a board of directors, selected as provided in section 905.3, and shall be administered by a director employed by the board. [C79,§905.2]

Probation, see §907 1

905.3 Board of directors—executive committee—expenses reimbursed.

1. The board of directors of each district department shall be composed as follows:
  - a. One member shall be chosen from and by the board of supervisors of each county in the judicial dis-district and shall be so designated annually by the respective boards of supervisors at the organizational meetings held under section 331.13.

b. One member shall be chosen from each of the project advisory committees within the judicial district, which person shall be designated annually, no later than January 15 by and from the project advisory committee.

c. A number of members equal to the number of authorized board members from project advisory committees shall be appointed by the judges of the judicial district no later than January 15 of each year.

Within thirty days after the members of the district board have been so designated for the year, the district board shall organize by election of a chairperson, a vice chairperson and members of the executive committee as required by subsection 2. The district board shall meet at least quarterly during the calendar year but may meet more frequently upon the call of the chairperson or upon a call signed by a majority, determined by weighted vote computed as in subsection 4 hereinafter, of the members of the board.

2. Each district board shall have an executive committee consisting of the chairperson and vice chairperson and at least one but no more than five other members of the district board. Either the chairperson or the vice chairperson shall be a supervisor, and the remaining representation on the executive committee shall be divided as equally as possible among supervisor members, project advisory committee members, and judicially appointed members. The executive committee may exercise all of the powers and discharge all of the duties of the district board, as prescribed by this chapter, except those specifically withheld from the executive committee by action of the district board.

3. The members of the district board and of the executive committee shall be reimbursed from funds of the district department for travel and other expenses necessarily incurred in attending meetings of those bodies, or while otherwise engaged on business of the district department.

4. Each member of the district board shall have one vote on the board. However, upon the request of any supervisory member, the vote on any matter before the board shall be taken by weighted vote. In each such case, the vote of the supervisor representative of the least populous county in the judicial district shall have a weight of one unit, and the vote of each of the other supervisor members shall have a weight which bears the same proportion to one unit as the population of the county that supervisor member represents bears to the population of the least populous county in the district. In the event of weighted vote, the vote of each member appointed from a project advisory committee and each judicially appointed member shall have a weight of one unit.

Referred to in §905.2

905.4 Duties of the board. The district board shall:

1. Adopt bylaws and rules for the conduct of its own business and for the government of the district department's community-based correctional program.

2. Employ a director having the qualifications required by section 905.6 to head the district department's community-based correctional program and, within a range established by the state department of social services, fix the compensation of and have control over the director and the district department's staff. For purposes of collective bargaining under chapter 20, employees of the district board who are not exempt from chapter 20 shall be employees of the state, and the employees of all of the district boards shall be included within one collective bargaining unit.

3. Designate one of the counties in the judicial district to serve as the district department's administrative agent and to provide, in that capacity, all accounting, personnel, facilities management and supportive services needed by the district department, on such terms as may be mutually agreeable in regard to advancement of funds to the county for the added expense it incurs as a result of being so designated.

4. File with the board of supervisors of each county in the district and with the state department of social services, within thirty days after the close of each fiscal year, a report covering the district board's proceedings and a statement of receipts and expenditures during the preceding fiscal year.

5. Arrange for, by contract or on such alternative basis as may be mutually acceptable, and equip suitable quarters at one or more sites in the district as may be necessary for the district department's community-based correctional program, provided that the board shall to the greatest extent feasible utilize existing facilities and shall keep capital expenditures for acquisition, renovation and repair of facilities to a minimum.

6. Have authority to accept property by gift, devise, bequest or otherwise and to sell or exchange any property so accepted and apply the proceeds thereof, or the property received in exchange therefor, to the purposes enumerated in subsection 5.

7. Recruit, promote, accept and use local financial support for the district department's community-based correctional program from private sources such as community service funds, business, industrial and private foundations, voluntary agencies and other lawful sources.

8. Accept and expend state and federal funds available directly to the district department for all or any part of the cost of its community-based correctional program.

9. Arrange, by contract or on such alternative basis as may be mutually acceptable, and with approval of the director of the division of adult corrections of the department of social services or that director's designee for utilization of existing local treatment and service resources, including but not limited to employment, job training, general, special or remedial education; psychiatric and marriage counseling; and alcohol and drug abuse treatment and counseling. It is the intent of this chapter that a district board shall approve the development and maintenance of such resources by its own staff only if the resources to be so developed and maintained are otherwise unavailable to the district department within reasonable proximity to the community where these services are needed in connection with the community-based correctional program. [C79,§905.4]

905.5 Functions of counties designated administrative agents.

1. The county designated under section 905.4, subsection 3, as administrative agent for each district department shall submit that district department's budget and supporting information to the state department of social services in accordance with the provisions of chapter 8. The state department shall incorporate the budgets of each of the district departments into its own budget request, to be processed as prescribed by the uniform budget, accounting and administrative procedures established by the state comptroller. Funds appropriated pursuant to the budget requests of the respective district departments shall be allocated on a quarterly basis, and the state comptroller shall authorize advancement of the funds so allocated to each district department's administrative agent at the beginning of each fiscal quarter.

2. For all administrative purposes, other than negotiations regarding the terms and conditions of employment, all employees of each district department shall be considered employees of the county designated by the district board as the administrative agent for that district department.

3. The administrative agent shall perform only those administrative functions assigned to it by the district board and shall not perform any activity unless especially directed to do so by the district board. [C79,§905.5]

905.6 Duties of director. The director employed by the district board under section 905.4, subsection 2, shall be qualified in the administration of correctional programs. The director shall:

1. Perform the duties and have the responsibilities delegated by the district board or specified by the state department of social services pursuant to this chapter.

2. Manage the district department's community-based correctional program, in accordance with the policies of the district board and the state department of social services.

3. Employ, with approval of the district board, and supervise the employees of the district department.

4. Assist the county serving as administrative agent for the district department to prepare all budgets and fiscal documents, and certify for payment all expenses and payrolls lawfully incurred by the district department.

5. Act as secretary to the district board, prepare its agenda and record its proceedings.

6. Develop and submit to the district board a plan for the establishment, implementation and operation of a community-based correctional program in that judicial district, which program conforms to the guidelines drawn up by the state department of social services under this chapter.

7. Negotiate and, upon approval by the district board, implement contracts or other arrangements for utilization of local treatment and service resources authorized by section 905.4, subsection 9. [C79,§905.6]

Referred to in §905.4

905.7 Assistance by state department. The state department of social services shall provide assistance and support to the respective judicial districts to aid them in complying with this chapter, and shall promulgate rules pursuant to chapter 17A establishing guidelines in accordance with and in furtherance of the purposes of this chapter. The guidelines so adopted shall include, but need not be limited to, requirements that each district department:

1. Provide pretrial release, presentence investigations, probation services, and residential treatment centers throughout the district, as necessary.

2. Locate community-based correctional program services in or near municipalities providing a substantial number of treatment and service resources.

3. Follow practices and procedures which maximize the availability of federal funding for the district department's community-based correctional program.

4. Provide for gathering and evaluating performance data relative to the district department's community-based correctional program.

5. Maintain personnel and fiscal records on a uniform basis. [C75, 77,§217.26, 217.28, 217.29; C79,§905.7]

Referred to in §905.8, 905.9

905.8 State funds allocated. The state department of social services shall provide for the allocation among judicial districts in the state of any state funds appropriated for the establishment, operation, support and evaluation of community-based correctional programs and services. However, no state funds shall be allocated under this section to any judicial district unless the state department has reviewed and approved that district department's community-based correctional program for compliance with the requirements of this chapter and the guidelines adopted under section 905.7. [C75, 77,§217.27; C79,§905.8]

Referred to in §905.9

905.9 Report of review—sanction. Upon completion of a review of a district community-based correctional program, made under section 905.8, the state department of social services shall submit its findings to the district board in writing. If the state department concludes that the district department's community-based correctional program fails to meet any of the requirements of this chapter and of the guidelines adopted under section 905.7, it shall also request in writing a response to this finding from the district board. If no response is received within sixty days after the date of that request, or if the response is unsatisfactory, the state department may call a public hearing on the matter. If after the hearing, the state department is not satisfied that the district's community-based correctional program will expeditiously be brought into compliance with the requirements of this chapter and of the guidelines adopted under section 905.7, it may assume responsibility for administration of the district's community-based correctional program on an interim basis. [C79,§905.9]

905.10 Post-institutional programs and services. Persons participating in post-institutional services shall remain under the jurisdiction of the state department of social services' division of corrections. The state department shall maintain adequate personnel to provide post-institutional residential services, parole services, and supervision of persons transferred into the state under the interstate compact for supervision of parolees and probationers. [C79,§905.10]

906.1 Definition of parole. Parole is the release of a person who has been committed to the custody of the commissioner of social services by reason of the person's commission of a public offense prior to the expiration of the person's term, subject to supervision by the department of social services and on conditions imposed by the department. [C79,§906.1]

906.2 Parole officers and probation officers. Parole officers and probation officers, while performing their duties as such, are peace officers and have all the powers and authority of peace officers. Parole officers and probation officers shall investigate all persons referred to them for investigation by the chief parole officer or by any court to which they may be assigned or by the director of a judicial district department of correctional services. They shall furnish to each person released under their supervision a written statement of conditions. They shall keep informed of each person's conduct and condition and shall use all suitable methods to aid and encourage the person to bring about improvement in his or her conduct or condition. Parole officers and probation officers shall keep records of their work, shall make reports as required by the court, and shall perform other such duties as may be assigned to them by the chief parole officer or the court or the director of a judicial district department of correctional services. They shall co-ordinate their work with that of other social welfare agencies which offer services of a corrective nature operating in the area to which they are assigned. [S13,§5447-a, 5718-a19, -a26; C24, 27,§3793, 3804; C31, 35,§3793, 3803-c1, 3804; C39,§3793, 3803.1, 3804; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§247.13, 247.24, 247.25; C79,§906.2]

Referred to in §801.4(7) "d"

906.3 Authority of parole board. The board of parole shall promulgate regulations regarding a system of paroles from correctional institutions, and shall direct, control, and supervise the administration of such system of paroles. The board shall determine which of those persons who have been committed to the custody of the director of the division of adult corrections, by reason of their conviction of a public offense, shall be released on parole. The grant or denial of parole shall not be deemed a contested case as defined in section 17A.2. [S13,§5718-a18; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§3786, 3787; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§247.5, 247.6; C79,§906.3]

Parole board, ch 904

906.4 Standards for release on parole. A parole shall be ordered only for the best interest of society, not as an award of clemency. The board shall release on parole any person whom it has the power to so release, when in its opinion there is reasonable probability that such person can be released without detriment to the community or to himself or herself. A person's release is not a detriment to the community or the person when he or she is able and willing to fulfill the obligations of a law-abiding citizen, as the board shall determine. [C79,§906.4]

906.5 Record reviewed—eligibility of prior forcible felon for parole—rules. Within one year after the commitment of any person other than a class "A" felon to the custody of the director of the division of adult corrections, a member of the board shall interview the person. Thereafter, at regular intervals, not to exceed one year, the board shall interview the person and consider his or her prospects for parole. At such time, the board shall consider all pertinent information regarding this person, including the circumstances of the person's offense, any presentence report which may be available, the previous social history and criminal record of such person, the person's conduct, employment and attitude in prison, and the reports of such physical and mental examinations as have been made.

If the person who is under consideration for parole is serving a sentence for conviction of a felony and has a criminal record of one or more prior convictions for a forcible felony or a crime of a similar gravity in this or any other state, parole shall be denied unless the defendant has served at least one-half of the maximum term of his or her sentence.

Every person while on parole shall be under the supervision of the department of social services, which shall prescribe regulations for governing persons on parole. The board may adopt other rules not inconsistent with the above as it may deem proper or necessary for the performance of its functions. [S13,§5718-a18; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§3787, 3790; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§247.6, 247.9; C79,§906.5; 68GA, ch 1012,§71]

Definition of forcible felony, §702.11

906.6 Co-operation of correction personnel. It shall be the duty of all persons employed in any correctional institution to grant to the members of the board of parole, or its properly accredited representatives, access at all reasonable times to any person over whom the board has jurisdiction, to provide for the board or such representatives facilities for communicating with and observing such person, and to furnish to the board such reports as the board shall require concerning the conduct and character of any person in their custody and any other facts deemed by the board pertinent in determining whether the person shall be released on parole. [S13,§5718-a19, -a26; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§3793; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§247.13; C79,§906.6]

906.7 Information from other sources—written statements. The board shall not be required to hear oral statements or arguments either by attorneys or other persons. All persons presenting information or arguments to the board shall put their statements in writing, and shall submit therewith an affidavit stating whether any fee has been paid or is to be paid for their services in the case, and by whom such fee is paid or to be paid. [C79,§906.7]

906.8 Subpoena powers. The board shall have power to issue subpoenas requiring the attendance of such witnesses and the production of such records, books, papers and documents as it may deem necessary for investigation of the case of any person before it. Subpoenas so issued may be served by any peace officer, in the same manner as similar processes in the district court. Any person who testifies falsely or fails to appear when subpoenaed, or fails or refuses to produce such material pursuant to the subpoena, shall be subject to the same orders and penalties to which a person before a court is subject. Any district court in this state, upon application of the board, may compel the attendance of witnesses, the production of such material, and the giving of testimony before the board, by an attachment for contempt or otherwise in the same manner as production of evidence may be compelled before such district court. [C79,§906.8]

906.9 Clothing, transportation, and money. When an inmate is discharged, paroled, or placed on work release, the warden or superintendent shall furnish the inmate, at state expense, appropriate clothing and transportation to the place in this state indicated in the inmate's discharge, parole, or work release plan. When an inmate is discharged, paroled, or placed on work release, the warden or superintendent shall provide the inmate, at state expense, money in accordance with the following schedule:

1. Upon discharge or parole, one hundred dollars.
2. Upon being placed on work release, fifty dollars.
3. Upon going from an educational work release to parole or discharge, fifty dollars.

Those inmates receiving payment under subsection 2 or 3 of this section shall not be eligible for payment under subsection 1 of this section unless they are returned to the institution. The warden or superintendent shall maintain an account of all funds expended pursuant to this section. [C51,§3150; R60,§5163; C73,§4779; C97,§5684; S13,§5718-a22; SS15,§2713-n14; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§3737, 3779, 3796; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75,§245.14, 246.44, 247.16; C77,§245.14, 246.44; C79,§906.9]

906.10 Parole relief fund. There is hereby established, from any unappropriated funds in the state treasury, a fund of twelve hundred fifty dollars which shall be known as the parole relief fund. The treasurer of the state shall continue to maintain said fund in said amount. Said fund may be used for the relief of paroled prisoners who are in distress because of illness, loss of employment, or conditions creating personal need. In no instance shall the total amount advanced to a prisoner exceed one hundred dollars. The prisoner, at the time of receiving an advancement, shall execute and deliver to his or her parole officer his or her written obligation to repay the same during the period of the prisoner's parole. When so paid, the amount shall be deposited with the treasurer of the state and credited to the fund from which drawn. Such fund shall be drawn on vouchers executed by the director of the bureau of adult corrections in favor of said needy person. Each voucher shall show that the advancement was ordered by the chief parole officer. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§3797-3799; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§247.17-247.19; C79,§906.10]

906.11 Assignment to parole officer. A person released on parole shall be assigned to a parole officer by the chief parole officer. Both the person and his or her parole officer shall be furnished with the conditions of his or her parole and the regulations which the person will be required to observe, in writing. The parole officer shall explain these conditions and regulations to the person, and supervise, assist, and counsel the person during the term of his or her parole. [C79,§906.11]

906.12 Parole outside state authorized. The parole may be to a place outside the state when the board of parole shall determine it to be to the best interest of the state and the prisoner, under such rules as the board of parole may impose. [S13,§5718-a18;

C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §3786; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §247.5; C79, §906.12]

906.13 Reciprocal agreements with other states. The governor of the state of Iowa is hereby authorized and empowered to enter into compacts and agreements with other states, through their duly constituted authorities, in reference to reciprocal supervision of persons on parole or probation and for the reciprocal return of such persons to the contracting states for violation of the terms of their parole or probation. [C39, §3790.1; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §247.10; C79, §906.13]

906.14 Detainers. Prisoners against whom detainers have been filed, may, after serving a portion of their sentence, be released by parole to the institution or authorities filing the detainer.

Any detainer filed against a prisoner must within six months be supported by a grand jury indictment or county attorney's information. In the event such indictment is returned or information is filed, the prisoner shall have the right to demand immediate trial at the next term of court where the charge is filed. The prosecuting agency shall pay all costs of transportation, necessary expenses incurred by the prisoner and such guards and other safety measures as the warden shall deem necessary for the prisoner to appear at his or her trial.

In the event a detainer is not supported within six months by a county attorney's information or grand jury indictment, or in the event the prosecuting agency refuses or fails to give the prisoner immediate trial, or refuses or fails to furnish transportation and pay all other necessary and related costs incident to the prisoner appearing at his or her trial, the detainer shall be held to be invalid and the parole board shall disregard such detainer in considering a prisoner for parole. [C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §247.5; C79, §906.14]

906.15 Discharge from parole. Unless sooner discharged, a person released on parole shall be discharged when his or her term of parole equals the period of imprisonment specified in the person's sentence, less all time served in confinement. Discharge from parole may be granted prior to such time, when an early discharge is appropriate. The board shall periodically review all paroles, and when it shall determine that any person on parole is able and willing to fulfill the obligations of a law-abiding citizen without further supervision, it shall discharge the person from parole. In either event, discharge from parole shall terminate the person's sentence. [C62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §247.5; C79, §906.15]

906.16 Parole time counted. The time when a prisoner is on parole from the institution shall be held to apply upon the sentence against the parolee even if the parole is subsequently revoked, except that the time when the parolee is in violation of the terms of the parole agreement shall not apply upon the sentence.

The time when a prisoner is absent from the institution by reason of an escape shall not apply upon the sentence against the prisoner. [S13, §5718-a18; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §3792; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, §247.12; C79, §906.16]

906.17 Alleged parole violators—reimbursement to counties for temporary confinement. The division of adult corrections shall reimburse a county for the temporary confinement of alleged parole violators. The amount to be reimbursed shall be determined by multiplying the number of days so confined by the average daily cost of confining a person in the county facility as negotiated by the department. Payment shall be made upon submission of a voucher executed by the sheriff and approved by the director of the division of adult corrections. The money shall be deposited in the county general fund to be credited to the jail account. [C79, §906.17]

907.1 Definition of probation. Probation is the procedure under which a defendant, against whom a judgment of conviction of a public offense may be entered, is released by the court subject to supervision by a resident of this state or by the judicial district department of correctional services.* [C79, §907.1]

*See §905.2

907.2 Probation service. Pursuant to designation by the court, probation services shall be provided by the judicial district department of correctional services. Probation officers shall perform the duties assigned to them by law and by the director of the judicial district department of correctional services.*

Probation officers, §906 2

907.3 Deferred judgment, deferred sentence or suspended sentence. Pursuant to section 901.5, the trial court may, upon a plea of guilty, a verdict of guilty, or a special verdict upon which a judgment of conviction may be rendered, exercise any of the options contained in subsections 1 and 2 of this section. However, this section shall not apply to a forcible felony.

1. With the consent of the defendant, the court may defer judgment and place the defendant on probation upon such conditions as it may require, or defer sentence and assign the defendant to the judicial district department of correctional services. Upon a showing that such person is not co-operating with the program or is not responding to it, the court may withdraw the person from the program and impose any sentence authorized by law. Before taking such action, the court shall give the person an opportunity to be heard on any matter relevant to the proposed action. Upon fulfillment of the conditions of probation, the defendant shall be discharged without entry of judgment. Upon violation of the conditions of probation, the court may proceed as provided in chapter 908.

However, this subsection shall not apply if any of the following is true:

a. The offense is a violation of section 709.8 and the child is twelve years of age or under.

b. The defendant previously has been convicted of a felony. "Felony" means a conviction in a court of this or any other state or of the United States, of an offense classified as a felony by the law under which he or she was convicted at the time of the defendant's conviction.

c. Prior to the commission of the offense the defendant had been granted a deferred judgment or similar relief, two or more times anywhere in the United States.

d. Prior to the commission of the offense the defendant had been granted a deferred judgment or similar relief in a felony prosecution anywhere in the United States within the preceding five years, measured from the date of granting of deferment of judgment to the date of commission of the offense.

2. By record entry at the time of or after sentencing, the court may suspend the sentence and place the defendant on probation upon such terms and conditions as it may require including commitment to an alternate jail facility or a community correctional residential treatment facility for a specific number of days to be followed by a term of probation as specified in section 907.7. A person so committed who has probation revoked shall be given credit for such time served. [S13,§5447-a; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§3800; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73,§247.20; C75, 77,§789A.1; C79,§907.3; 68GA, ch 1036,§32]

907.4 Deferred judgment docket. Any deferment of judgment under section 907.3 shall be reported promptly by the clerk of the district court to the supreme court administrator who shall maintain a permanent record thereof including the name of the defendant, the district court docket number, the nature of the offense, and the date of the deferment. Before granting deferment in any case, the court shall request of the supreme court administrator a search of the deferred judgment docket and shall consider any prior record of a deferment of judgment against the defendant. The permanent record provided for in this section shall constitute a confidential record exempted from public access under section 68A.7 and shall be available only to justices of the supreme court, judges of the court of appeals, district judges, district associate judges, and judicial magistrates requesting information pursuant to this section or the designee of such justice, judge, or magistrate. [C75, 77,§789A.1; C79,§907.4]

Referred to in §907 9

907.5 Standards for release on probation—written reasons. Before deferring judgment, deferring sentence, or suspending sentence, the court first shall determine which option, if available, will provide maximum opportunity for the rehabilitation of the defendant and protection of the community from further offenses by the defendant and others. In making this determination the court shall consider the age of the defendant; the defendant's prior record of convictions and prior record of deferments of judgment if any; the defendant's employment circumstances; the defendant's family circumstances; the nature of the offense committed; and such other factors as are appropriate. The court shall file a specific written statement of its reasons for and the facts supporting its decision to defer judgment, to defer sentence, or to suspend sentence, and its decision on the length of probation. [C75, 77,§789A.1(2); C79,§907.5]

907.6 Conditions of probation. The court, in ordering probation, may impose any reasonable rules and conditions which will promote rehabilitation of the defendant and protection of the community, including adherence to regulations generally applicable to persons released on parole. [C79,§907.6]

Referred to in §907 12

907.7 Length of probation. The length of the probation shall be for such term as the court may fix but not to exceed five years if the offense is a felony or not to exceed two years if the offense is a misdemeanor.

The length of the probation shall not be less than one year if the offense is a misdemeanor and shall not be less than two years if the offense is a felony. However, the court may subsequently reduce the length of the probation if the court determines that the purposes of probation have been fulfilled. The purposes of probation are to provide maximum opportunity for the rehabilitation of the defendant and to protect the community from further offenses by the defendant and others.

In determining the length of the probation, the court shall determine what period is most likely to provide maximum opportunity for the rehabilitation of the defendant, to allow enough time to determine whether or not rehabilitation has been successful, and to protect the community from further offenses by the defendant and others. [C66, 71, 73, §247.20; C75, 77, §789A.2; C79, §907.7]

Referred to in §907.3

907.8 Supervision during probationary period. A person released on probation shall be assigned to a probation officer. Both the person and his or her probation officer shall be furnished with the conditions of the person's probation and the regulations which the person will be required to observe, in writing. The probation officer shall explain these conditions and regulations to the person and shall supervise, assist, and counsel the person during the term of his or her probation.

When probation is granted, the court shall order said person committed to the custody, care, and supervision:

1. Of any suitable resident of this state; or
2. Of the judicial district department of correctional services.*

Jurisdiction of these persons shall remain with the sentencing court.

In each case wherein the court shall order said person committed to the custody, care, and supervision of the judicial district department of correctional services, the clerk of the district court shall at once furnish the director of the judicial district department of correctional services with certified copies of the indictment or information, the minutes of testimony attached thereto, the judgment entry if judgment is not deferred, and the original mittimus. The county attorney shall at once advise the director, by letter, that the defendant has been placed under the supervision of the judicial district department of correctional services and give him or her a detailed statement of the facts and circumstances surrounding the crime committed and the record and history of the defendant as may be known to the county attorney. If the defendant is confined in the county jail at the time of sentence, the court may order the defendant held until arrangements are made by the judicial district department of correctional services for the defendant's employment and he or she has signed the necessary probation papers. If the defendant is not confined in the county jail at the time of sentence, the court may order the defendant to remain in the county wherein the defendant has been convicted and sentenced and report to the sheriff as to his or her whereabouts. [S13, §5447-a; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §3801; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §247.21; C75, 77, §789A.7; C79, §907.8]

907.9 Discharge from probation. At any time that the court determines that the purposes of probation have been fulfilled, the court may order the discharge of any person from probation. At the expiration of the period of probation, in cases where the court fixes the term of probation, the court shall order the discharge of such person from probation, and the court shall forward to the governor a recommendation for or against restoration of citizenship rights to such person. A person who has been discharged from probation shall no longer be held to answer for his or her offense. Upon discharge from probation, if judgment has been deferred under section 907.3, the court's criminal record with reference to the deferred judgment shall be expunged. The record maintained by the supreme court administrator as required by section 907.4 shall not be expunged. The court's record shall not be expunged in any other circumstances. [S13, §5447-a; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §3800; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, §247.20; C75, 77, §789A.6; C79, §907.9]

907.10 Release on probation after completing program. When the court has determined that any person ordered to participate in a locally administered correctional program, pursuant to section 907.3, subsection 1, has successfully completed such program, the court shall order such person to be released on probation. [C79, §907.10]

907.11 Maximum period of confinement. In no case shall the total time served in confinement and in any locally administered correctional program exceed the maximum period of confinement authorized for the public offense of which the defendant stands convicted. [C79, §907.11]

907.12 Restitution.

1. As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

a. "Victim" means any person who has suffered pecuniary damages as a result of the defendant's criminal activities. However, with respect to any part of a victim's pecuniary damages paid by an insurer, the insurer shall be regarded as the victim only if the insurer has no right of subrogation and the insured has no duty to pay the proceeds of restitution to the insurer.

b. "Pecuniary damages" means all damages which a victim could recover against the defendant in a civil action arising out of the same facts or event, except punitive damages and damages for pain, suffering, mental anguish, and loss of consortium. Without limitation, "pecuniary damages" includes damages for wrongful death.

c. "Criminal activities" includes any crime for which there is a plea of guilty, verdict of guilty, or special verdict upon which a judgment of conviction may be rendered and any other crime committed after July 1, 1972 which is admitted or not contested by the defendant, whether or not prosecuted. However, "criminal activities" does not include simple misdemeanors under chapter 321.

d. "Restitution" means full or partial payment of pecuniary damages to a victim.

2. It is the policy of this state that restitution be made by each violator of the criminal laws to the victims of his or her criminal activities to the extent that the violator is reasonably able to do so. This section shall be interpreted and administered to effectuate this policy.

3. If the trial court exercises any of the sentencing options under section 907.3, the court shall require as a condition of probation that the defendant, in co-operation with the probation officer assigned to the defendant, promptly prepare a plan of restitution, including a specific amount of restitution to each victim and a schedule of restitution payments. If the defendant is presently unable to make any restitution but there is a reasonable possibility that the defendant may be able to do so at some time during the probation period, the plan of restitution shall also state the conditions under which or the event after which the defendant will make restitution. If the defendant believes that the defendant will not be able to make any restitution, the defendant shall so state and shall specify the reasons. If the defendant believes that no person suffered pecuniary damages as a result of the defendant's criminal activities, the defendant shall so state.

4. The defendant's plan of restitution and the comments of the defendant's probation officer shall be submitted promptly to the court. The court shall promptly enter an order approving the plan or modifying it and providing for restitution payments to the extent that the defendant is or may become reasonably able to make restitution, taking into account the factors enumerated in subsection 5 of this section. Compliance with the plan of restitution as approved or modified by the court shall be a condition of the defendant's probation. Restitution payments shall be made to the clerk unless otherwise directed by the court. The court thereafter may modify the plan at any time upon the defendant's request or upon the court's own motion. If the plan as approved or modified does not require full payment of pecuniary damages to all victims, or if the court determines that the defendant is not able and will not be able to make any restitution at any time during the defendant's probation period or that no person suffered pecuniary damages as a result of the defendant's criminal activities, the court shall file a specific written statement of its reasons for and the facts supporting its action or determination.

5. The probation officer when assisting the defendant in preparing the plan of restitution, and the court before approving or modifying the plan of restitution, shall consider the physical and mental health and condition of the defendant, the defendant's age, the defendant's education, the defendant's employment circumstances, the defendant's potential for employment and vocational training, the defendant's family circumstances, the defendant's financial condition, the number of victims, the pecuniary damages of each victim, what plan of restitution will most effectively aid the rehabilitation of the defendant, and such other factors as shall be appropriate. The probation officer shall attempt to determine the name and address of each victim and the amount of his or her pecuniary damages.

6. The clerk shall mail to each known victim a copy of the court's order approving or modifying the plan of restitution, including the court's statement, if any, under subsection 4 of this section.

7. At any time during the probation period the defendant may request and the court shall grant a hearing on any matter related to the plan of restitution.

8. Failure of the defendant to comply with subsection 3 of this section or to comply with the plan of restitution as approved or modified by the court shall constitute a violation of the conditions of probation. Without limitation, the court may modify the plan of restitution or extend the period of time for restitution, but not beyond the maximum probation period specified in section 907.6.

9. This section and proceedings under this section shall not limit or impair the rights of victims to sue and recover damages from the defendant in a civil action. However, any restitution payment by the defendant to a victim shall be set off against any judgment in favor of the victim in a civil action arising out of the same facts or event. The fact that restitution was required or made shall not be admissible as evidence in a civil action unless offered by such defendant. [C75, 77, §789A.8; C79, §907.12]

CHAPTER 908

VIOLATIONS OF PAROLE OR PROBATION

Referred to in §901.1, 907.3

- |       |                                    |        |  |
|-------|------------------------------------|--------|--|
| 908.1 | Arrest of alleged parole violator. | 908.7  | Action by parole board.                      |
| 908.2 | Initial appearance.                | 908.8  | Proceeding without arrest or probable cause. |
| 908.3 | Place of probable cause hearing.   | 908.9  | Disposition of violator.                     |
| 908.4 | Probable cause hearing.            | 908.10 | Conviction of other offense as violation.    |
| 908.5 | Waiver of probable cause hearing.  | 908.11 | Violation of probation.                      |
| 908.6 | Disposition by liaison officer.    |        |  |

908.1 Arrest of alleged parole violator. A parole officer having probable cause to believe that any person released on parole has violated the conditions of his or her parole may arrest such person, or the parole officer may make a complaint before a magistrate, charging such violation, and if it appears from such complaint, or from affidavits filed with it, that there is probable cause to believe that such person has violated the terms of his or her parole, the magistrate shall issue a warrant for the arrest of such person. [C79, §908.1]

908.2 Initial appearance. An officer making an arrest of an alleged parole violator shall take the arrested person before a magistrate without unnecessary delay for an initial appearance. At that time the alleged parole violator shall be furnished with a written notice of the claimed violation, shall be advised of his or her right to appointed counsel under rule 26 of the rules of criminal procedure, and shall be given notice that a hearing will take place and that its purpose is to determine whether there is probable cause to believe that he or she has committed a parole violation.

The magistrate may order the alleged parole violator confined in the county jail or may order the alleged parole violator released on bail under such terms and conditions as the magistrate may require. Admittance to bail is discretionary with the magistrate and is not a matter of right. [C79,§908.2]

Referred to in §908.6

908.3 Place of probable cause hearing. The probable cause hearing shall be held in the same county as the alleged parole violator had his or her initial appearance. [C79,§908.3]

908.4 Probable cause hearing. At the probable cause hearing, a liaison officer appointed pursuant to section 904.5 and who is an attorney shall determine whether there is probable cause to believe that the alleged parole violator has violated parole. The alleged parole violator shall be informed of the inculpatory evidence. The alleged parole violator shall be given an opportunity to be heard in person and to present witnesses and other evidence. The alleged parole violator shall have the right to confront and cross-examine adverse witnesses, except where the liaison officer finds that a witness would be subjected to risk or harm if the witness' identity were disclosed. [C79,§908.4]

908.5 Waiver of probable cause hearing. The alleged parole violator may waive the probable cause hearing, in which event the liaison officer shall proceed as upon a finding of probable cause. Before accepting a waiver of hearing, the liaison officer shall inform the alleged violator of the charge, of the alleged violator's right to a hearing to determine whether there is probable cause to believe that parole has been violated, and that if the hearing is waived, the alleged violator will be committed to the custody of the department of social services without further proceedings, to await the determination of the parole board. The liaison officer shall make a verbatim record of the proceedings in which the hearing is waived. [C79,§908.5]

908.6 Disposition by liaison officer. If it appears from the evidence that there is no probable cause to believe that the arrested person has violated the conditions of parole, the liaison officer shall order the arrested person to be released from custody and continued on parole. If it appears that there is probable cause to believe that the arrested person has violated the conditions of parole, the liaison officer shall commit the arrested person to the custody of the department of social services, and the procedure prescribed in section 901.7 shall apply to such commitment; or the liaison officer may recommend that the arrested person be admitted to bail as provided in section 908.2. The liaison officer shall make a summary of the testimony and other evidence considered and a statement of the facts relied on as a basis for the finding of probable cause or no probable cause, and shall without delay forward them together with all documents relating to the matter to the executive secretary of the parole board. If the alleged parole violator has waived the probable cause hearing, the verbatim record of that proceeding shall be forwarded in lieu of the summary of evidence and statement of facts. [C79,§908.6]

908.7 Action by parole board. Upon a finding of probable cause to believe that a parole violation has occurred, the board of parole shall proceed without unreasonable delay to hear the charge of parole violation. Upon receipt of the record prepared and forwarded by the liaison officer, the board shall fix a time and place for such hearing and shall notify in writing the alleged violator, the alleged violator's attorney of record, if any, and the department of social services of such hearing and the claimed violation of parole. The alleged violator shall be given an opportunity to be heard by the board under such rules as the board shall adopt. The inquiry shall be limited to the following two matters: 1. Did the alleged parole violation actually occur? 2. If the violation did occur, should the violator's parole be revoked? If the board determines that the parole should be revoked, it shall make an order revoking the parole. The board shall furnish the violator with a written statement of the facts relied upon to establish a violation and the reasons for revoking parole. [C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§3807; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§247.28; C79,§908.7]

908.8 Proceeding without arrest or probable cause. The board of parole may receive from a parole officer a charge or complaint of parole violation against any parolee and may proceed to a hearing on such charge in any case where the alleged violator has not been arrested or has been arrested and discharged by the liaison officer on a finding of no probable cause. The presence of the alleged violator at such hearing shall be secured by summons. A statement of the charge against the alleged violator shall accompany the summons, and the parole officer shall give the alleged violator such assistance as is needed to get to the place of the hearing. Travel expenses, if any, shall be paid by the board. If the alleged violator fails without good cause to appear as commanded by the summons, such failure shall be considered a violation of the parole, and the board may proceed to revoke parole. If the parole is revoked, the board shall issue a warrant for the person's arrest and return to the custody of the department of social services. Upon his or her return to custody, the board shall, upon request, give the person an opportunity to present any matters in defense or mitigation of the conduct. [C79,§908.8]

908.9 Disposition of violator. If the parole of any parole violator is revoked, the violator shall remain in the custody of the department of social services under the terms of the parolee's original commitment. If the parole of any parole violator is not revoked, the board shall order his or her release subject to the terms of his or her parole with any modifications that the board shall determine proper. [C79,§908.9]

908.10 Conviction of other offense as violation. When the alleged violation consists of a conviction of a public offense in this or any other state, such conviction shall be proved by a certified copy of the judgment of conviction, together with evidence that the alleged violator is the person against whom the judgment was rendered. Neither the liaison officer, court, nor board of parole shall retry the facts underlying such conviction. [C79,§908.10]

908.11 Violation of probation. A probation officer or the judicial district department of correctional services having probable cause to believe that any person released on probation has violated the conditions of probation shall proceed by arrest or summons as in the case of a parole violation. The functions of the liaison officer and the board of parole shall be performed by the judge or magistrate who placed the alleged violator on probation if that judge or magistrate is available, otherwise by another judge or magistrate who would have had jurisdiction to try the original offense. Where the probation officer proceeds by arrest, any magistrate may receive the complaint, issue an arrest warrant, or conduct the initial appearance and probable cause hearing where it is not convenient for the judge who placed the alleged violator on probation to do so. The initial appearance, probable cause hearing, and probation revocation hearing, or any of them, may at the discretion of the court be merged into a single hearing when it appears that the alleged violator will not be prejudiced thereby. If the violation is established, the court may continue the probation with or without an alteration of the conditions of probation, or may revoke the probation and require the defendant to serve the sentence imposed or any lesser sentence, and, if imposition of sentence was deferred, may impose any sentence which might originally have been imposed. [S13,§5447-b; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§3805, 3806; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§247.26, 247.27; C79,§908.11]

CHAPTER 909

FINES

Referred to in §901.1

- 909.1 Fine without imprisonment.
- 909.2 Fine in addition to imprisonment.
- 909.3 Payment in installments or on a fixed date.

- 909.4 Treble damage liability for corporations, partnerships and associations.
- 909.5 Nonpayment of fines—contempt.
- 909.6 Fine as judgment.

909.1 Fine without imprisonment. Upon a verdict or plea of guilty of any public offense for which a fine is authorized, the court may impose a fine instead of any other sentence where it appears that the fine will be adequate to deter the defendant and to discourage others from similar criminal activity. [C79,§909.1]

909.2 Fine in addition to imprisonment. The court may impose a fine in addition to confinement, where such is authorized. [C79,§909.2]

909.3 Payment in installments or on a fixed date. The court may, in its discretion, order a fine to be paid in installments, or may fix a date in the future for the payment of the fine, whenever it appears that the defendant cannot make immediate payment, or should not be made to do so. [C51,§3071, 3349; R60,§4881, 5084; C73,§4509, 4689; C97, §5440, 5604; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13588, 13964; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§762.32, 789.17; C79,§909.3]

909.4 Treble damage liability for corporations, partnerships and associations. Whenever a corporation, partnership or other association, not subject to imprisonment is found guilty of any public offense, the court may impose a fine within the limits authorized by law. In addition to such fine, if the offense be a felony or aggravated misdemeanor, the corporation, partnership or association shall be liable as follows:

1. Any person who has suffered loss because of the public offense may recover from the corporation, partnership or association in an action at law damages equal to three times the amount of such loss.

2. If the corporation, partnership or association has received pecuniary benefit from the commission of the offense, the attorney general may recover from such corporation, partnership or association in an action at law for the use of the state damages equal to three times the amount of such benefit, provided, that any amount which is recovered under subsection 1 of this section shall be subtracted from the damages recovered by the state. [C79,§909.4]

Liability of corporations, partnerships and voluntary associations, §703.5

909.5 Nonpayment of fines—contempt. Any person who is able to pay a fine, or an installment of a fine, and who refuses to do so, or who fails to make a good faith effort to pay his or her fine, or any installment thereof, shall be held in contempt of court. [C51,§3071, 3349; R60,§4881, 5084; C73,§4509, 4689; C97, §5440, 5604; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13588, 13964; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§762.32, 789.17; C79,§909.5]

909.6 Fine as judgment. Whenever a court has imposed a fine on any defendant, the judgment in such case shall state the amount of the fine, and shall have the force and effect of a judgment against the defendant for the amount of the fine. The law relating to judgment liens, executions, and other process available to creditors for the collection of debts shall be applicable to such judgments; provided, that no law exempting the personal property of the defendant from any lien or legal process shall be applicable to such judgments. [R60,§4902, 5003; C73,§4518, 4609; C97,§5446, 5531; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39,§13969, 13976; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77,§790.1, 791.6; C79,§909.6]

RULES OF CIVIL PROCEDURE

Sections 684.18 and 684.19, The Code, provide as follows:

684.18 Rules for actions and proceedings.

1. The supreme court shall have the power to prescribe all rules of pleading, practice and procedure, and the forms of process, writs and notices, for all proceedings of a civil nature in all courts of this state, for the purpose of simplifying the same, and of promoting the speedy determination of litigation upon its merits. Said rules shall neither abridge, enlarge, nor modify the substantive rights of any litigant.

2. The supreme court shall have the power to prescribe rules of appellate procedure relating to appeals to and review by the supreme court, discretionary review by the courts of small claims actions, review by the supreme court by writ of certiorari to inferior courts, and appeal or review by the court of appeals of a matter transferred to that court by the supreme court. Rules prescribed pursuant to this subsection shall be known as “Rules of Appellate Procedure”, and shall be codified apart from rules of civil procedure applicable in the district court and other rules prescribed by the supreme court.

3. Rules prescribed pursuant to this section shall be subject to section 684.19.

684.19 Report to general assembly—enrollment. Any such rules and forms prescribed by the supreme court shall be reported by it to the general assembly within twenty days after the commencement of either regular session and shall take effect July 1 following the date of their submission with such changes, if any, as may have been enacted at such session; and thereafter all laws in conflict therewith shall be of no further force or effect.

At adjournment of the general assembly where such report has been filed, an enrolled copy thereof, together with any changes, shall be made in substantially the same manner as Acts are enrolled. The enrolled copy shall be certified as to whether or not any action was taken by the general assembly and if any, what action, and thereupon it shall be filed with the secretary of state and bound with the Acts of the general assembly. [First report in 1943; 68GA, ch 143, §1]

But an executor, administrator, guardian, trustee of an express trust; or a party with whom or in whose name a contract is made for another's benefit, or a party specially authorized by statute, may sue in his own name without joining the party for whose benefit the action is prosecuted. [Report 1943]

3. Public bond. When a bond or other instrument given to the state, county, school or other municipal corporation, or to any officer or person, is intended for the security of the public generally, or of particular individuals, action may be brought thereon, in the name of any person intended to be thus secured, who has sustained an injury in consequence of a breach thereof, except when otherwise provided. [Report 1943]

4. Partnerships. Actions may be brought by or against partnerships as such; or against any or all partners with or without joining the firm. Judgment against a partnership may be enforced against partnership property and that of any partner served or appearing in the suit. A new action will lie on the original cause against any partner not so served or appearing. The court may order absent partners brought in. [Report 1943]

5. Foreign corporations. Foreign corporations may sue and be sued in their corporate name, except as prohibited by statute. [Report 1943]

See §494 9

6. Seduction. An unmarried female may sue for her own seduction. [Report 1943]

7. Assignees—exception. In cases not governed by the uniform commercial code the assignment of a thing in action shall be without prejudice to any defense, counterclaim or cause of action matured or not, if matured when pleaded, existing against the assignor in favor of the party pleading it. [Report 1943; amendment 1967]

Assignment of accounts and nonnegotiable instruments, §539 1—539 6

8. Injury or death of a minor. A parent, or the parents, may sue for the expense and actual loss of services, companionship and society resulting from injury to or death of a minor child. [Report 1943; amendment 1973]

9. Actions by and against state. The state may sue in the same way as an individual. No security shall be required of it. [Report 1943; amendment 1974]

Action to abate nuisance, §469 16

Attachment by state, ch 641

Right to bid under execution sale, ch 569

10. Married women—husband and wife. A married woman may sue or be sued without joining her husband. If both are sued, she may defend in her own right; and if either fails to defend, the other may defend for both. [Report 1943]

11. Desertion of family. When a husband has deserted his family, the wife may prosecute or defend in his name any action which he might have prosecuted or defended, and shall have the same powers and rights therein as he might have had; under like circumstances the husband shall have the same right. [Report 1943]

12. Minors—incapacitated. An action of a minor or any person judicially adjudged incompetent shall be brought by his guardian if he have one; otherwise the minor may sue by a next friend, and the incompetent by a guardian appointed by the court for that purpose. The court may dismiss such action or substitute another guardian or friend for the ward's benefit. [Report 1943]

Referred to in RCP 298

13. Defense by incompetent, prisoner, etc. No judgment without a defense shall be entered against a party then a minor, or confined in a penitentiary, reformatory or any state hospital for the mentally ill, or one judicially adjudged incompetent, or whose physician certifies to the court that he appears to be mentally incapable of conducting his defense. Such defense shall be by guardian ad litem; but the regular guardian or the attorney appearing for a competent party may defend unless the court supersedes him by a guardian ad litem appointed in the ward's interest. [Report 1943; amended, 58GA, ch 152, §199]

Referred to in RCP 14, 298

14. Guardian ad litem. If a party, served with original notice, appears to be subject to R.C.P. 13, the court may appoint a guardian ad litem for him, or substitute another, in the ward's interest. Application for such appointment or substitution may be by the ward, if competent, or a minor over fourteen years old; otherwise by his regular guardian or if there be none by any friend, or any party to the action. [Report 1943]

As to mental illness, etc., occurring pending suit, see R.C.P. 17.

For class actions, see R.C.P. 42.

For answer of guardian ad litem, see R.C.P. 71.

Referred to in RCP 71, 298

(B) Substitution of parties

15. Substitution at death—limitation. Any substitution of legal representatives or successors in interest of a deceased party, permitted by statute, must be ordered within two years after the death of the original party. If his right survives entirely to those already parties, the action shall continue among the surviving parties without substitution. [Report 1943]

16. Transfer of interest. Transfer of an interest in a pending action shall not abate it, but may be the occasion for bringing in new parties. [Report 1943]

17. Incapacity pending action. If, during pendency of an action, a party is judicially adjudged incompetent, or confined in any state hospital for the mentally ill, or if his physician certifies to the court that he appears to be mentally incapable of acting in his own behalf, his guardian shall be joined with him, or, if there be none the court shall appoint a guardian ad litem for any party thus adjudged, confined or certified. [Report 1943; amended 58GA, ch 152, §200]

18. Nonabatement in case of guardianship. When a guardianship shall cease by the death of the guardian, his removal, or otherwise, or by the decease of his ward, any action or proceeding then pending shall not abate, but his successor or the person for whom he was guardian, or the executor or administrator of such person, as the case may require, shall be substituted or joined as a party thereto; or, if no application is made for substitution, the court may, on its own motion, appoint a special guardian or administrator to represent the deceased party in the action. [Report 1943]

19. Majority of minor. If a minor party attains legal majority, he shall continue as a party in his own right. [Report 1943]

20. Officers—representatives. When any public official, or any administrator, express trustee or other person in a representative capacity, ceases to be such while a party to a suit, the court may order his successor brought in and substituted for him. [Report 1943]

21. Notice to substituted party. The order for substitution shall fix the time when the substituted party shall appear, and the notice to be given him. In case of substitution of a legal representative of a deceased party the notice shall be served as in case of original notices. In all other cases a shorter time may be prescribed. [Report 1943]

(C) Joinder—misjoinder and nonjoinder

22. Actions joined. A single plaintiff may join in the same petition as many causes of action, legal or equitable, independent or alternative, as he may have against a single defendant. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R.C.P. 31

23. Multiple plaintiffs. Any number of persons who claim any relief, jointly, severally or alternatively, arising out of or respecting the same transaction, occurrence or series of transactions or occurrences, may join as plaintiffs in a single action, when it presents or involves any question of law or fact common to all of them. They may join any causes of action, legal or equitable, independent or alternative, held by any one or more of them which arise out of such transaction, occurrence or series, and which present or involve any common question of law or fact. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R.C.P. 31

24. Permissive joinder of defendants. Any number of defendants may be joined in one action which asserts against them, jointly, severally or in the alternative, any right to relief in respect of, or arising out of the same transaction, occurrence, or series of transactions or occurrences, when any question of law or fact common to all of them is presented or involved. [Report 1943]

25. Necessary parties—nonjoinder.

(a) Remedy for nonjoinder as plaintiff. Except as provided in this rule, all persons having a joint interest in any action shall be joined on the same side, but such persons failing to join as plaintiffs may be made defendants. This rule does not apply to class actions under R.C.P. 42.1 to 42.20, nor affect the options permitted by sections 613.1 and 613.2. The Code.

(b) Definition of indispensable party. A party is indispensable if his interest is not severable, and his absence will prevent the court from rendering any judgment between the parties before it; or if notwithstanding his absence his interest would necessarily be inequitably affected by a judgment rendered between those before the court.

(c) Indispensable party not before court. If an indispensable party is not before the court, it shall order him brought in. When persons are not before the court who, although not indispensable, ought to be parties if complete relief is to be accorded between those already parties, and when necessary jurisdiction can be obtained by service of original notice in any manner provided by these rules or by statute, the court shall order their names added as parties and original notice served upon them. If such jurisdiction cannot be had except by their consent or voluntary appearance, the court may proceed with the hearing and determination of the cause, but the judgment rendered therein shall not affect their rights or liabilities. [Report 1943]

26. Parties partly interested. A party need not be interested in obtaining or defending against all the relief demanded. Judgment may be given respecting one or more parties according to their respective rights or liabilities. [Report 1943]

See R.C.P. 121 and 186.

27. Remedy for misjoinder.

(a) Parties. Misjoinder of parties is no ground for dismissal of the action, but parties may be dropped by order of the court on its own motion or that of any party at any stage of the action, on such terms as are just, or any claim against a party improperly joined may be severed and proceeded with separately.

For separate trials as to separate parties, see R.C.P. 186.

(b) Actions. The only remedy for improper joinder of actions shall be by motion. On such motion the court shall either order the causes docketed separately or strike those causes which should be stricken, always retaining at least one cause docketed in the original case. Before ruling on such motion, the party whose pleading is attacked may withdraw any of the causes claimed to be misjoined. [Report 1943]

28. Dependent remedies joined. An action heretofore cognizable only after another has been prosecuted to conclusion may be joined with the latter; and the court shall grant relief according to the substantive rights of the parties. But there shall be no joinder of an action against an indemnitor or insurer with one against the indemnified party, unless a statute so provides. [Report 1943]

(D) Counterclaims and cross-claims

29. Compulsory counterclaims. A pleading must contain a counterclaim for every cause of action then matured, and not the subject of a pending action, held by the pleader against any opposing party and arising out of the transaction or occurrence that is the basis of such opposing party's claim, unless its adjudication would require the presence of indispensable parties of whom jurisdiction cannot be acquired. A final judgment on the merits shall bar such a counterclaim, although not pleaded. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R.C.P. 34; §631 7

30. Permissive counterclaims. Unless prohibited by rule or statute, a party may counterclaim against an opposing party on any cause of action held by him when the action was originally commenced, and matured when pleaded. [Report 1943]

For prohibited counterclaims, see Code sec. 643.2 on replevin and R.C.P. 275 on partition.

31. Joinder of counterclaims. A party pleading a counterclaim shall have the same right to join more than one cause of action as a plaintiff is granted under R.C.P. 22 and 23. [Report 1943]

See also R.C.P. 72 and 74.

32. Counterclaim not limited. A counterclaim may, but need not, diminish or defeat recovery sought by the opposing party. It may claim relief in excess of, or different from, that sought in the opponent's pleadings. [Report 1943]

33. Cross-claim against coparty. A pleading may state as a cross-claim any claim by one party against a coparty arising out of the transaction or occurrence that is the subject matter either of the original action or a counter-claim therein or relating to any property that is the subject matter of the original action. Such cross-claim may include a claim that the party against whom it is asserted is or may be liable to the cross-claimant for all or part of a claim asserted in the action against the cross-claimant. [Report 1943; amendment 1973; amendment 1976]

(Substance of Federal Rule 13-g)
Referred to in R.C.P. 34, 74

34. Third party practice.

(a) When defendant may bring in third party. At any time after commencement of the action a defending party, as a third-party plaintiff, may file a cross-petition and cause an original notice to be served upon a person not a party to the action who is or may be liable to him for all or part of the plaintiff's claim against him. The third-party plaintiff need not obtain leave to make the service if he files the cross-petition not later than ten days after he files his original answer. Otherwise he must obtain leave on motion upon notice to all parties to the action. The person served with the original notice, hereinafter called the third-party defendant, shall make his defenses to the third-party plaintiff's claim as provided in R.C.P. 85 and his counterclaims against the third-party plaintiff as provided in R.C.P. 29 and cross-claims against other third-party defendants as provided in R.C.P. 33. The third-party defendant may assert against the plaintiff any defenses which the third-party plaintiff has to the plaintiff's claim. The third-party defendant may also assert any claim against the plaintiff arising out of the transaction or occurrence that is the subject matter of the plaintiff's claim against the third-party plaintiff, and the plaintiff thereupon shall assert his defenses as provided in R.C.P. 85 and his counterclaims under R.C.P. 29. Any party may move to strike the third-party claim or for its severance or for separate trial. A third-party defendant may proceed under this rule against any person not a party to the action who is or may be liable to him for all or part of the claim made in the action against the third-party defendant.

(b) When plaintiff may bring in third party. When a counterclaim is asserted against a plaintiff, he may cause a third party to be brought in under circumstances which under this rule would entitle a defendant to do so. [Report 1943; amendment 1973;

65GA, ch 315,§1]

(E) Interpleader

35. Right of interpleader. A person who is or may be exposed to multiple liability or vexatious litigation because of several claims against him for the same thing, may bring an equitable action of interpleader against all such claimants. Their claims or titles need not have a common origin, nor be identical, and may be adverse to, or independent of each other. Such person may dispute his liability, wholly or in part. [Report 1943]

36. By defendants. A defendant to an action which exposes him to similar liability or litigation may obtain such interpleader by counterclaim or cross-petition. Any claimant not already before the court may be brought in to maintain or relinquish his claim to the subject of the action, and on his default after due service, the court may decree him barred of such claim. [Report 1943]

For procedure to bring in, see R.C.P. 34.

37. Deposit—discharge. If a party initiating interpleader admits liability for, or nonownership of, any property or amount involved, the court may order it deposited in court or otherwise preserved, or secured by bond. After such deposit the court, on hearing all parties, may absolve the depositor from obligation to such parties as to the property or amount deposited, before determining the rights of the adverse claimants. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R.C.P. 38

38. Substitution of claimant. If a defendant seeks an interpleader involving a third person, the latter may appear and make himself a defendant in lieu of the original defendant, who may then be discharged on complying with R.C.P. 37. [Report 1943]

39. Injunction. After petition and returns of original notices are filed in an interpleader, the court may enjoin all parties before it from beginning or prosecuting any other suit as to the subject of the interpleader until its further order. [Report 1943]

40. Costs. Costs may be taxed against the unsuccessful claimant in favor of the successful claimant and the party initiating the interpleader. [Report 1943]

41. Sheriff or officer—creditor. When a sheriff or other officer is sued for taking personal property under a writ, or for the property so taken, he may exhibit such writ to the court, with his affidavit that the property involved was taken under it. The attaching or execution creditor shall then be joined with the officer as a defendant; or may join on his own application. Any judgment against the officer and creditor shall provide that the latter's property be first exhausted to discharge it. [Report 1943]

See R.C.P. 224.

General reference R.C.P. 42.19 and 42.20

42. Stricken by amendment in 1980.

42.1. Commencement of a class action. One or more members of a class may sue or be sued as representative parties on behalf of all in a class action if:

1. The class is so numerous or so constituted that joinder of all members, whether or not otherwise required or permitted, is impracticable; and

2. There is a question of law or fact common to the class. [Report 1980]

Referred to in R.C.P. 25(a) 42.2, 42.19, 42.20

42.2. Certification of class action.

(a) Unless deferred by the court, as soon as practicable after the commencement of a class action the court shall hold a hearing and determine whether or not the action is to be maintained as a class action and by order certify or refuse to certify it as a class action.

(b) The court may certify an action as a class action, if it finds that (1) the requirements of R.C.P. 42.1 have been satisfied, (2) a class action should be permitted for the fair and efficient adjudication of the controversy, and (3) the representative parties fairly and adequately will protect the interests of the class.

(c) If appropriate, the court may (1) certify an action as a class action with respect to a particular claim or issue, (2) certify an action as a class action to obtain one or more forms of relief, equitable, declaratory, or monetary, or (3) divide a class into subclasses and treat each subclass as a class. [Report 1980]

Referred to in R.C.P. 25(a) 42.3, 42.12, 42.13, 42.17, 42.18, 42.19, 42.20

42.3. Criteria considered.

(a) In determining whether the class action should be permitted for the fair and efficient adjudication of the controversy, as appropriately limited under R.C.P. 42.2 "c", the court shall consider, and give appropriate weight to, the following and other relevant factors:

(1) Whether a joint or common interest exists among members of the class;

(2) Whether the prosecution of separate actions by or against individual members of the class would create a risk of inconsistent or varying adjudications with respect to individual members of the class that would establish incompatible standards of conduct for a party opposing the class;

(3) Whether adjudications with respect to individual members of the class as a practical matter would be dispositive of the interests of other members not parties to the adjudication or substantially impair or impede their ability to protect their interests;

(4) Whether a party opposing the class has acted or refused to act on grounds generally applicable to the class, thereby making final injunctive relief or corresponding declaratory relief appropriate with respect to the class as a whole;

(5) Whether common questions of law or fact predominate over any questions affecting only individual members;

(6) Whether other means of adjudicating the claims and defenses are impracticable or inefficient;

(7) Whether a class action offers the most appropriate means of adjudicating the claims and defenses;

(8) Whether members not representative parties have a substantial interest in individually controlling the prosecution or defense of separate actions;

(9) Whether the class action involves a claim that is or has been the subject of a class action, a government action, or other proceeding;

(10) Whether it is desirable to bring the class action in another forum;

(11) Whether management of the class action poses unusual difficulties;

(12) Whether any conflict of laws issues involved pose unusual difficulties; and

(13) Whether the claims of individual class members are insufficient in the amounts or interests involved, in view of the complexities of the issues and the expenses of the litigation, to afford significant relief to the members of the class.

(b) In determining under R.C.P. 42.2 "b" that the representative parties fairly and adequately will protect the interests of the class, the court must find that:

(1) The attorney for the representative parties will adequately represent the interests of the class;

(2) The representative parties do not have a conflict of interest in the maintenance of the class action; and

(3) The representative parties have or can acquire adequate financial resources, considering R.C.P. 42-17, to assure that the interests of the class will not be harmed. [Report 1980]

Referred to in R.C.P. 25(a) 42.4, 42.8, 42.19, 42.20

42.4. Order on certification.

(a) The order of certification shall describe the class and state: (1) the relief sought, (2) whether the action is maintained with respect to particular claims or issues, and (3) whether subclasses have been created.

(b) The order certifying or refusing to certify a class action shall state the reasons for the court's ruling and its findings on the facts listed in R.C.P. 42.3 "a".

(c) An order certifying or refusing to certify an action as a class action is appealable.

(d) Refusal of certification does not terminate the action, but does preclude it from being maintained as a class action. [Report 1980]

Referred to in R.C.P. 25(a) 42.19, 42.20

42.5. Amendment of certification order.

(a) The court may amend the certification order at any time before entry of judgment on the merits. The amendment may (1) establish subclasses, (2) eliminate from the class any class member who was included in the class as certified, (3) provide for an adjudication limited to certain claims or issues, (4) change the relief sought, or (5) make any other appropriate change in the order.

(b) If notice of certification has been given pursuant to R.C.P. 42.7, the court may order notice of the amendment of the certification order to be given in terms and to any members of the class the court directs.

(c) The reasons for the court's ruling shall be set forth in the amendment of the certification order.

(d) An order amending the certification order is appealable. An order denying the motion of a member of a defendant class, not a representative party, to amend the certification order is appealable if the court certifies it for immediate appeal. [Report 1980]

Referred to in R.C.P. 25(a) 42 19, 42 20

42.6. Jurisdiction over multistate classes.

(a) A court of this state may exercise jurisdiction over any person who is a member of the class suing or being sued if:

(1) A basis for jurisdiction exists or would exist in a suit against the person under the law of this state; or

(2) The state of residence of the class member, by class action law similar to subdivision "b", has made its residents subject to the jurisdiction of the courts of this state.

(b) A resident of this state who is a member of a class suing or being sued in another state is subject to the jurisdiction of that state if by similar class action law it extends reciprocal jurisdiction to this state. [Report 1980]

Referred to in R.C.P. 25(a) 42 19, 42 20

42.7. Notice of action.

(a) Following certification, the court by order, after hearing, shall direct the giving of notice to the class.

(b) The notice, based on the certification order and any amendment of the order, shall include:

(1) A general description of the action, including the relief sought, and the names and addresses of the representative parties;

(2) A statement of the right of a member of the class under R.C.P. 42.8 to be excluded from the action by filing an election to be excluded, in the manner specified, by a certain date;

(3) A description of possible financial consequences on the class;

(4) A general description of any counterclaim being asserted by or against the class, including the relief sought;

(5) A statement that the judgment, whether favorable or not, will bind all members of the class who are not excluded from the action;

(6) A statement that any member of the class may enter an appearance either personally or through counsel;

(7) An address to which inquiries may be directed; and

(8) Other information the court deems appropriate.

(c) The order shall prescribe the manner of notification to be used and specify the members of the class to be notified. In determining the manner and form of the notice to be given, the court shall consider the interests of the class, the relief requested, the cost of notifying the members of the class, and the possible prejudice to members who do not receive notice.

(d) Each member of the class, not a representative party, whose potential monetary recovery or liability is estimated to exceed one hundred dollars shall be given personal or mailed notice if his identity and whereabouts can be ascertained by the exercise of reasonable diligence.

(e) For members of the class not given personal or mailed notice under subdivision "d", the court shall provide, as a minimum, a means of notice reasonably calculated to apprise the members of the class of the pendency of the action. Techniques calculated to assure effective communication of information concerning commencement of the action shall be used. The techniques may include personal or mailed notice, notification by means of newspaper, television, radio, posting in public or other places, and distribution through trade, union, public interest, or other appropriate groups.

(f) The plaintiff shall advance the expense of notice under this rule if there is no counterclaim asserted. If a counterclaim is asserted the expense of notice shall be allocated as the court orders in the interest of justice.

(g) The court may order that steps be taken to minimize the expense of notice. [Report 1980]

Referred to in R.C.P. 25(a) 42 5, 42 11, 42 13, 42 14, 42 15, 42 19, 42 20

42.8. Exclusion.

(a) A member of a plaintiff class may elect to be excluded from the action unless (1) he is a representative party, (2) the certification order contains an affirmative finding under paragraph (1), (2), or (3) of R.C.P. 42.3 "a", or (3) a counterclaim under R.C.P. 42.11 is pending against the member or his class or subclass.

(b) Any member of a plaintiff class entitled to be excluded under subdivision "a" who files an election to be excluded, in the manner and in the time specified in the notice, is excluded from and not bound by the judgment in the class action.

(c) The elections shall be made a part of the record in the action.

(d) A member of a defendant class may not elect to be excluded. [Report 1980]

Referred to in R.C.P. 25(a) 42 7, 42 11, 42 13, 42 19, 42 20

42.9. Conduct of action.

(a) The court on motion of a party or its own motion may make or amend any appropriate order dealing with the conduct of the action including, but not limited to, the following: (1) determining the course of proceedings or prescribing measures to prevent undue repetition or complication in the presentation of evidence or argument; (2) requiring, for the protection of the members of the class or otherwise for the fair conduct of the action, that notice be given as the court directs, of (i) any step in the action, (ii) the proposed extent of the judgment, or (iii) the opportunity of members to signify whether they consider the representation fair and adequate, to enter an appearance and present claims or defenses, or otherwise participate in the action; (3) imposing conditions on the representative parties or on intervenors; (4) inviting the attorney general to participate with respect to the question of adequacy of class representation; (5) making any other order to assure that the class action proceeds only with adequate class representation; and (6) making any order to assure that the class action proceeds only with competent representation by the attorney for the class.

(b) A class member not a representative party may appear and be represented by separate counsel. [Report 1980]

42.10. Discovery by or against class members.

(a) Discovery may be used only on order of the court against a member of the class who is not a representative party or who has not appeared. In deciding whether discovery should be allowed the court shall consider, among other relevant factors, the timing of the request, the subject matter to be covered, whether representatives of the class are seeking discovery on the subject to be covered, and whether the discovery will result in annoyance, oppression, or undue burden or expense for the member of the class.

(b) Discovery by or against representative parties or those appearing is governed by the rules dealing with discovery by or against a party to a civil action. [Report 1980]

42.11. Counterclaims.

(a) A defendant in an action brought by a class may plead as a counterclaim any claim the court certifies as a class action against the plaintiff class. On leave of court, the defendant may plead as a counterclaim a claim against a member of the class or a claim the court certifies as a class action against a subclass.

(b) Any counterclaim in an action brought by a plaintiff class must be asserted before notice is given under R.C.P. 42.7.

(c) If a judgment for money is recovered against a party on behalf of a class, the court rendering judgment may stay distribution of any award or execution of any portion of a judgment allocated to a member of the class against whom the losing party has pending an action in or out of state for a judgment for money, and continue the stay so long as the losing party in the class action pursues the pending action with reasonable diligence.

(d) A defendant class may plead as a counterclaim any claim on behalf of the class that the court certifies as a class action against the plaintiff. The court may certify as a class action a counterclaim against the plaintiff on behalf of a subclass or permit a counterclaim by a member of the class. The court shall order that notice of the counterclaim by the class, subclass, or member of the class be given to the members of the class as the court directs, in the interest of justice.

(e) A member of a class or subclass asserting a counterclaim shall be treated as a member of a plaintiff class for the purpose of exclusion under R.C.P. 42.8.

(f) The court's refusal to allow, or the defendant's failure to plead, a claim as a counterclaim in a class action does not bar the defendant from asserting the claim in a subsequent action. [Report 1980]

42.12. Dismissal or compromise.

(a) Unless certification has been refused under R.C.P. 42.2, a class action, without the approval of the court after hearing, may not be (1) dismissed voluntarily, (2) dismissed involuntarily without an adjudication on the merits, or (3) compromised.

(b) If the court has certified the action under R.C.P. 42.2, notice of hearing on the proposed dismissal or compromise shall be given to all members of the class in a manner the court directs. If the court has not ruled on certification, notice of hearing on the proposed dismissal or compromise may be ordered by the court which shall specify the persons to be notified and the manner in which notice is to be given.

(c) Notice given under subdivision "b" shall include a full disclosure of the reasons for the dismissal or compromise including, but not limited to, (1) any payments made or to be made in connection with the dismissal or compromise, (2) the anticipated effect of the dismissal or compromise on the class members, (3) any agreement made in connection with the dismissal or compromise, (4) a description and evaluation of alternatives considered by the representative parties and (5) an explanation of any other circumstances giving rise to the proposal. The notice also shall include a description of the procedure available for modification of the dismissal or compromise.

(d) On the hearing of the dismissal or compromise, the court may:

(1) As to the representative parties or a class certified under R.C.P. 42.2, permit dismissal with or without prejudice or approve the compromise;

(2) As to a class not certified, permit dismissal without prejudice;

(3) Deny the dismissal;

(4) Disapprove the compromise; or

(5) Take other appropriate action for the protection of the class and in the interest of justice.

(e) The cost of notice given under subdivision "b" shall be paid by the party seeking dismissal, or as agreed in case of a compromise, unless the court after hearing orders otherwise. [Report 1980]

42.13. Effect of judgment on class. In a class action certified under R.C.P. 42.2 in which notice has been given under R.C.P. 42.7 or 42.12, a judgment as to the claim or particular claim or issue certified is binding, according to its terms, on any member of the class who has not filed an election of exclusion under R.C.P. 42.8. The judgment shall name or describe the members of the class who are bound by its terms. [Report 1980]

42.14. Costs.

(a) Only the representative parties and those members of the class who have appeared individually are liable for costs assessed against a plaintiff class.

(b) The court shall apportion the liability for costs assessed against a defendant class.

(c) Expenses of notice advanced under R.C.P. 42.7 are taxable as costs in favor of the prevailing party. [Report 1980]

Referred to in R C P 25(a) 42 19, 42 20

42.15. Relief afforded.

(a) The court may award any form of relief consistent with the certification order to which the party in whose favor it is rendered is entitled including equitable, declaratory, monetary, or other relief to individual members of the class or the class in a lump sum or installments.

(b) Damages fixed by a minimum measure of recovery provided by any statute may not be recovered in a class action.

(c) If a class is awarded a judgment for money, the distribution shall be determined as follows:

(1) The parties shall list as expeditiously as possible all members of the class whose identity can be determined without expending a disproportionate share of the recovery.

(2) The reasonable expense of identification and distribution shall be paid, with the court's approval, from the funds to be distributed.

(3) The court may order steps taken to minimize the expense of identification.

(4) The court shall supervise, and may grant or stay the whole or any portion of, the execution of the judgment and the collection and distribution of funds to the members of the class as their interests warrant.

(5) The court shall determine what amount of the funds available for the payment of the judgment cannot be distributed to members of the class individually because they could not be identified or located or because they did not claim or prove the right to money apportioned to them. The court after hearing shall distribute that amount, in whole or in part, to one or more states as unclaimed property or to the defendant.

(6) In determining the amount, if any, to be distributed to a state or to the defendant, the court shall consider the following criteria: (i) any unjust enrichment of the defendant; (ii) the willfulness or lack of willfulness on the part of the defendant; (iii) the impact on the defendant of the relief granted; (iv) the pendency of the other claims against the defendant; (v) any criminal sanction imposed on the defendant; and (vi) the loss suffered by the plaintiff class.

(7) The court, in order to remedy or alleviate any harm done, may impose conditions on the defendant respecting the use of the money distributed to him.

(8) Any amount to be distributed to a state shall be distributed as unclaimed property to any state in which are located the last known addresses of the members of the class to whom distribution could not be made. If the last known addresses cannot be ascertained with reasonable diligence, the court may determine by other means what portion of the unidentified or unlocated members of the class were residents of a state. A state shall receive that portion of the distribution that its residents would have received had they been identified and located. Before entering an order distributing any part of the amount to a state, the court shall give written notice of its intention to make distribution to the attorney general of the state of the residence of any person given notice under R.C.P. 42.7 or 42.12 and shall afford the attorney general an opportunity to move for an order requiring payment to the state. [Report 1980]

42.16. Attorney's fees.

(a) Attorney's fees for representing a class are subject to control of the court.

(b) If under an applicable provision of law a defendant or defendant class is entitled to attorney's fees from a plaintiff class, only representative parties and those members of the class who have appeared individually are liable for those fees. If a plaintiff is entitled to attorney's fees from a defendant class, the court may apportion the fees among the members of the class.

(c) If a prevailing class recovers a judgment for money or other award that can be divided for the purpose, the court may order reasonable attorney's fees and litigation expenses of the class to be paid from the recovery.

(d) If the prevailing class is entitled to declaratory or equitable relief, the court may order the adverse party to pay to the class its reasonable attorney's fees and litigation expenses if permitted by law in similar cases not involving a class or the court finds that the judgment has vindicated an important public interest. However, if any monetary award is also recovered, the court may allow reasonable attorney's fees and litigation expenses only to the extent that a reasonable proportion of that award is insufficient to defray the fees and expenses.

(e) In determining the amount of attorney's fees for a prevailing class the court shall consider the following factors:

(1) The time and effort expended by the attorney in the litigation, including the nature, extent, and quality of the services rendered;

(2) Results achieved and benefits conferred upon the class;

(3) The magnitude, complexity, and uniqueness of the litigation;

(4) The contingent nature of success;

(5) In cases awarding attorney's fees and litigation expenses under subdivision "d" because of the vindication of an important public interest, the economic impact on the party against whom the award is made; and

(6) Appropriate criteria in the Iowa Code of Professional Responsibility for Lawyers. [Report 1980]

42.17. Arrangements for attorney's fees and expenses.

(a) Before a hearing under R.C.P. 42.2 "a" or at any other time the court directs, the representative parties and the attorney for the representative parties shall file with the court, jointly or separately: (1) a statement showing any amount paid or promised them by any person for the services rendered or to be rendered in connection with the action or for the costs and expenses of the litigation and the source of all of the amounts; (2) a copy of any written agreement, or a summary of any oral agreement, between the representative parties and their attorney concerning financial arrangements or fees and (3) a copy of any written agreement, or a summary of any oral agreement, by the representative parties or the attorney to share these amounts with any person other than a member, regular associate, or an attorney regularly of counsel with his law firm. This statement shall be supplemented promptly if additional arrangements are made.

(b) Upon a determination that the costs and litigation expenses of the action cannot reasonably and fairly be defrayed by the representative parties or by other available sources, the court by order may authorize and control the solicitation and expenditure of voluntary contributions for this purpose from members of the class, advances by the attorneys or others, or both, subject to reimbursement from any recovery obtained for the class. The court may order any available funds so contributed or advanced to be applied to the payment of any costs taxed in favor of a party opposing the class. [Report 1980]

42.18. Statute of limitations. The statute of limitations is tolled for all class members upon the commencement of an action asserting a class action. The statute of limitations resumes running against a member of a class:

- (1) Upon his filing an election of exclusion;
- (2) Upon entry of an order of certification, or of an amendment thereof, eliminating him from the class;
- (3) Except as to representative parties, upon entry of an order under R.C.P. 42.2 refusing to certify an action as a class action; and
- (4) Upon dismissal of the action without an adjudication on the merits. [Report 1980]

43. Virtual representation. Where persons composing a class which may be increased by others later born, do or may make a claim affecting specific property involved in an action to which all living members of the class are parties, any others later born shall also be deemed to have been parties to the action and bound by any decree rendered therein. [Report 1943]

44. Shareholder's actions. Shareholders in an incorporated or unincorporated association, who sue to enforce its rights because of its failure to do so, shall support their petition by affidavit, and allege their efforts to have the directors, trustees or other shareholders bring the action or enforce the right, or a sufficient reason for not making such effort. 48. Commencement of actions. A civil action is commenced by filing a petition with the court. [Report 1943; amendment 1975]

49. Original notice—issuance and form.

(a) Written directions for the service of the original notice and copy of petition shall be delivered to the clerk with the petition. There shall also be delivered to the clerk with the petition the original notice to be served and sufficient copies of both. The original notice shall contain the name of the court and the names of the parties, be directed to the defendant, state the name and address of the plaintiff's attorney, if any, otherwise the plaintiff's address, and the time within which these rules require the defendant to serve, and within a reasonable time thereafter file, a written special appearance, motion or answer, and shall notify defendant that in case of defendant's failure to do so judgment by default will be rendered against the defendant for the relief demanded in the petition.

(b) Upon the filing of the petition the clerk shall forthwith deliver for service the original notice and copies, copies of the petition, and the directions for service to the sheriff, to a person specially appointed to serve it, or other appropriate person. Upon request of the plaintiff, separate or additional original notices shall issue against any defendants.

(c) The original notice shall be signed by the clerk and be under the seal of the court. The clerk may require the party delivering the original notice to the clerk to advance reasonable costs of service. [Report 1943; amendment 1951; amendment 1974; amendment 1975; Report 1978, effective July 1, 1979]

50. Serving copies of original notice and petition. The original notice and copy of petition shall be served together except when service is by publication. If service is by publication the original notice alone shall be published and shall also contain a general statement of the claim or claims and the relief demanded, and, if for money, the amount thereof. 51. Notice of no personal claim. A defendant who unreasonably defends when the original notice states that no personal judgment is asked against him, shall pay the costs occasioned thereby. [Report 1943]

52. By whom served. Original notices may be served by any person who is neither a party nor the attorney for a party to the action. A party, his agent or attorney may take an acknowledgment of service and deliver copy of notice in connection therewith, and may mail copy of original notice when mailing is required or permitted under any rule or statute. [Report 1943; amendment 1951]

Referred to in §631 4

53. Time for special appearance, motion or answer. A defendant served as provided in these rules by publication or by publication and mailing must serve, and within a reasonable time thereafter file, a written special appearance, motion or answer on or before the date fixed in the notice as published, which date shall not be less than twenty days after the date of last publication.

A defendant served in a manner prescribed by a statute or order of court shall serve, and within a reasonable time thereafter file, a written special appearance, motion or answer on or before the date fixed as provided by said statute or order of court.

In the event service of process is made by mail under R.C.P. 56.2 the date for such action shall be on the date fixed in the original notice which shall not be less than sixty days following the date of mailing.

In all other cases the defendant shall serve, and within a reasonable time thereafter file, a written special appearance, motion or answer within twenty days after the service of the original notice and petition upon such defendant. [Report 1943; amendment 1951; amendment 1975; Report 1978, effective July 1, 1979]

54. Special cases—response of garnishee.

(a) Any statute of Iowa which specially requires response by a particular defendant, or in a particular action, within a specified time, shall govern the time for serving, and within a reasonable time thereafter filing, a written special appearance, motion or answer in such cases, rather than R.C.P. 53.

(b) The officer serving a writ of attachment or execution shall garnish such persons as the plaintiff may direct as supposed debtors, or having in possession property of the principal defendant, which shall be effected by a notice served in the manner and as an original notice in civil actions, forbidding his paying any debt owing such defendant, due or to become due, and requiring him to retain possession of all property of the defendant in his hands or under his control, to the end that the same may be dealt with according to law, and, unless answers are required to be taken as provided by statute, it shall cite the garnishee to appear in not less than ten days after service of the notice and at a time specified when court will be in session and a judge will be present, and answer such interrogatories as may be propounded, or he will be liable to pay any judgment which the plaintiff may obtain against the defendant. [Report 1943; amendment 1945; Report 1978, effective July 1, 1979]

Referred to in R.C.P. 230

55. Tolling limitations. For the purpose of determining whether an action has been commenced within the time allowed by statutes for limitation of actions, whether the limitation inheres in the statutes creating the remedy or not, the filing of a petition shall be deemed a commencement of the action. [Report 1943; amendment 1951; amendment 1974; amendment, 1975]

56.1. Personal service. Original notices are "served" by delivering a copy to the proper person. Personal service may be made as follows:

(a) Upon any individual aged eighteen years or more who has not been adjudged incompetent, either by taking his signed, dated acknowledgment of service endorsed on the notice; or by serving him personally; or by serving, at his dwelling house or usual place of abode, any person residing therein who is at least eighteen years old, but if such place is a rooming house, hotel, club or apartment building, the copy shall there be delivered to such a person who is either a member of his family or the manager, clerk, proprietor or custodian of such place.

Referred to in §626 78, R.C.P. 59(b), 233

(b) Upon a minor under eighteen years old, by serving either the guardian of his person or property, unless the notice is served on behalf of such guardian, or his parent, or some person aged eighteen years or more who has his care and custody, or with whom he resides, or in whose service he is employed. Where the notice upon a minor is served on behalf of one who is the guardian or other fiduciary and the guardian or other fiduciary is the only person who would be available upon whom service could be made, the court or a judge shall appoint, without prior notice on the ward, a guardian ad litem upon whom service shall be made and who shall defend for the minor.

(c) Upon any person judicially adjudged incompetent but not confined in a state hospital for the mentally ill, by serving the guardian of his person or property, unless the notice is served on behalf of such guardian, or his spouse, or some person aged eighteen years or more who has his care and custody, or with whom he resides. Where the notice upon an incompetent is served on behalf of one who is the guardian or other fiduciary and the guardian or other fiduciary is the only person who would be available upon whom service could be made, the court or a judge shall appoint, without prior notice to the ward, a guardian ad litem upon whom service shall be made and who shall defend for the incompetent.

(d) Any person, whether competent or not, confined in a county home, or in any state hospital for the mentally ill, or any patient in the State University of Iowa hospital or its psychopathic ward, or any patient or inmate of any institution in the control of a director of a division of the department of social services or of the United States, may be served by the official in charge of such institution or his assistant. Proof of such service may be made by the certificate of such official, if the institution is in Iowa, or his affidavit if it is out of Iowa.

Referred to in R.C.P. 59(a)

(e) If any defendant is a patient in any state or federal hospital for the mentally ill, in or out of Iowa, or has been adjudged incompetent and is confined to a county home*, the official in charge of such institution or his assistant shall accept service on his behalf, if in his opinion direct service on the defendant would injuriously affect him, which shall be stated in such acceptance.

Referred to in R.C.P. 59(a)

*County care facility

(f) Upon a partnership, or an association suable under a common name, or a domestic or foreign corporation, by serving any present or acting or last known officer thereof, or any general or managing agent, or any agent or person now authorized by appointment or by law to receive service of original notice, or on the general partner of a partnership.

(g) If the action, whether against an individual, corporation, partnership or other association suable under a common name, arises out of or is connected with the business of any office or agency maintained by the defendant in a county other than where the principal resides, by serving any agent or clerk employed in such office or agency.

(h) Upon any city or town* by serving its mayor or clerk.

(i) Upon any county by serving its auditor or the chairman of its board of supervisors.

(j) Upon any school district, school township or school corporation by serving its president or secretary.

(k) Upon the state, where made a party pursuant to statutory consent or authorization for suit in the manner provided by such statute or any statute applicable thereto.

(l) Upon any individual, corporation, partnership or association suable under a common name which shall have filed in this state a consent to service, or shall be subject to service, in any special manner provided by the statutes of this state, either as provided in these rules or as provided in any such consent to service, or in accordance with any such statute relating thereto.

(m) Upon a governmental board, commission or agency, by serving its presiding officer, clerk or secretary.

(n) If service cannot be made by any of the methods provided by this rule, any defendant may be served as provided by court order, consistent with due process of law. [Report 1943; amendment 1945; amended 58GA, ch 152,§201; amended 62GA, ch 209,§443; amendment 1974; amendment 1975]

*Abolished by Home Rule Act

56.2. Alternate method of service. Every corporation, individual, personal representative, partnership or association that shall have the necessary minimum contact with the state of Iowa shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the courts of this state, and the courts of this state shall hold such corporation, individual, personal representative, partnership or association amenable to suit in Iowa in every case not contrary to the provisions of the constitution of the United States.

Service may be made on any such corporation, individual, personal representative, partnership or association (a) as provided in R.C.P. 56.1 within or without the state, or (b) if such service cannot be so made, in any manner consistent with due process of law prescribed by order of the court in which the action is brought.

Nothing herein shall limit or affect the right to serve an original notice upon any corporation, individual, personal representative, partnership or association within or without this state in any manner now or hereafter permitted by statute or rule. [Report 1975]

58. Member of general assembly. No member of the general assembly shall be held to specially appear, move or answer in any civil action in any court in this state while such general assembly is in session. [Report 1943; Report 1978, effective July 1, 1979]

59. Returns of service.

(a) Signature—fees. Iowa officers may make unsworn returns of original notices served by them, as follows: Any sheriff or deputy sheriff, as to service in his own or a contiguous county; any other peace officer, or bailiff or marshal, as to service in his own territorial jurisdiction. The court shall take judicial notice of such signatures. All other returns, except those specified in R.C.P. 56.1 "d" and 56.1 "e", shall be proved by the affidavit of the person making the service. If served in the state of Iowa by a person other than such peace officer acting within the territories above defined or in another state by a person other than a sheriff or other peace officer, no fees or mileage shall be allowed therefor.

(b) Contents. A return of personal service shall state the time, manner, and place thereof and name the person to whom copy was delivered; and if delivered under R.C.P. 56.1 "a" to a person other than defendant, it must also state the facts showing compliance with said rule.

(c) Endorsement and filing. If a sheriff receives the notice for service, he shall note thereon the date when received, and serve it without delay in his own or a contiguous county, and upon receiving his fees, shall either file it and his return with the clerk, or deliver it by mail or otherwise to the person from whom he received it.

(d) Proof of service. The person serving the process shall make proof of service thereof to the court promptly and in any event within the time during which the person served must respond to the process. Failure to make proof of service does not affect the validity of the service.

(e) By mail. Where service includes notice by mail, proof of such mailing shall be by affidavit. The affidavit, with a duplicate copy of the papers referred to in the affidavit attached thereto, shall be forthwith filed with the court. [Report 1943; amendment 1975]

Referred to in §631 5(4), R H M 1 8

59.1. Amendment of process or proof of service. At any time in its discretion and upon such terms as it deems just, the court may allow any process or proof of service thereof to be amended, unless it clearly appears that material prejudice would result to the substantial rights of the party against whom the process issued. [Report 1975]

Referred to in R H M 1 9

60. Service by publication—what cases. After filing an affidavit that personal service cannot be had on an adverse party in Iowa, the original notice may be served by publication, in any action brought:

(a) For recovery of real property or any estate or interest therein;

(b) For the partition of real or personal property in Iowa;

(c) To foreclose a mortgage, lien, encumbrance or charge on real or personal property;

(d) For specific performance of a contract for sale of real estate;

(e) To establish, set aside or construe a will, if defendant resides out of Iowa, or if his residence is unknown;

(f) Against a nonresident of Iowa or a foreign corporation which has property, or debts owing to it in Iowa, sought to be taken by any provisional remedy, or appropriated in any way;

(g) Against any defendant who, being a nonresident of Iowa, or a foreign corporation, has or claims any actual or contingent interest in or lien on real or personal property in Iowa which is the subject of such action, or to which it relates; or where the action seeks to exclude such defendant from any lien, interest or claim therein;

(h) Against any resident of the state who has departed therefrom, or from the county of his residence, with intent to delay or defraud his creditors, or to avoid service, or who keeps himself concealed with like intent;

(i) For dissolution of marriage or separate maintenance or to modify a decree in such action, or to annul an illegal marriage, against a defendant who is a nonresident of Iowa or whose residence is unknown;

(j) To quiet title to real estate, against a defendant who is a nonresident of Iowa, or whose residence is unknown;

(k) Against a partnership, corporation or association suable under a common name, when no person can be found on whom personal service can be made;

(l) To vacate or modify a judgment or for a new trial under R.C.P. 252 and 253. [Report 1943; amendment 1945; Report 1978, effective July 1, 1979]

60.1. Known defendants.

(a) In every case where service of original notice is made upon a known defendant by publication, copy of the notice shall also be sent by ordinary mail addressed to such defendant at his last known mailing address, unless an affidavit of a party or his attorney is filed stating that no mailing address is known and that diligent inquiry has been made to ascertain it.

(b) Such copy of notice shall be mailed by the party, his agent or attorney not less than twenty days before the date set for written special appearance, motion or answer.

(c) Proof of such mailing shall be by affidavit, and such affidavit or the affidavit referred to in subdivision "a" of this rule shall be filed before the entry of judgment or decree. The court, in its judgment or decree, or prior thereto, shall make a finding that the address to which such copy was directed is the last known mailing address, or that no such address is known, after diligent inquiry. [Report 1951; Report 1978, effective July 1, 1979]

Referred to in R C P 234, 251

61. Unknown defendants. The original notice against unknown defendants shall be directed to the unknown claimants of the property involved, describing it. It shall otherwise comply with R.C.P. 50. [Report 1943]

62. How published. Publication of original notice shall be made after the filing of the petition, once each week for three consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation, published in the county where the petition is filed; such newspaper to be selected by the plaintiff or his attorney. [Report 1943; amendment 1951]

See also §618 9

63. Proof of publication. Before default is taken, proof of such publication shall be filed, sworn to by the publisher or an employee of the newspaper. [Report 1943]

Proof of publication, §622 92

64. Actual service. Service of original notice in or out of Iowa according to R.C.P. 56.1 supersedes the need of its publication. [Report 1943]

65. Appearances. An attorney making an appearance shall, either by filing written appearance or by signature to the first pleading or motion filed by the attorney, clearly indicate the attorney or attorneys in charge of the case and shall not sign in the name of the firm only. Such appearance shall entitle the attorney to service as provided in R.C.P. 82. [Report 1943; amendment 1976; Report 1978, effective July 1, 1979]

See R.C.P. 87 limiting the effect of appearance alone.

66. Special appearance. A defendant may appear specially for the sole purpose of attacking the jurisdiction of the court, but only before taking any part in a hearing or trial of the case, personally or by attorney, or filing a motion, written appearance, or pleading. The special appearance shall be in writing, filed with the clerk and shall state the grounds thereof. If the special appearance is erroneously overruled, defendant may plead to the merits or proceed to trial without waiving such error. [Report 1943; amendment 1976]

67. Technical forms abolished. All common counts, general issues, demurrers, fictions and technical forms of action or pleading, are abolished. The form and sufficiency of all motions and pleadings shall be determined by these rules, construed and enforced to secure a just, speedy and inexpensive determination of all controversies on their merits. [Report 1943]

68. Allowable pleadings. There shall be a petition and an answer; a reply to a counterclaim denominated as such; an answer to a cross-claim, if the answer contains a cross-claim; a cross-petition, if a person who was not an original party is summoned under the provisions of R.C.P. 34; and an answer to cross-petition, if a cross-petition is served. [Report 1943; amendment 1974; Report 1978, effective July 1, 1979]

For counterclaims, see R.C.P. 29—32. For cross-petitions, see R.C.P. 33, 34.

69. General rules of pleading.

(a) Claims for relief. A pleading which sets forth a claim for relief, whether an original claim, counterclaim, cross-claim or cross-petition, shall contain (1) a short and plain statement of the claim showing that the pleader is entitled to relief, and (2) a demand for judgment for the relief to which he deems himself entitled. Relief in the alternative or of several different types may be demanded.

(b) Pleading to be concise and direct—consistency. (1) Each averment of a pleading shall be simple, concise, and direct. No technical forms of pleadings or motions are required. (2) A party may set forth two or more statements of a claim or defense alternately or hypothetically, either in one count or defense or in separate counts or defenses. When two or more statements are made in the alternative and one of them if made independently would be sufficient, the pleading is not made insufficient by the insufficiency of one or more of the alternative statements. A party may also state as many separate claims or defenses as he has regardless of consistency and whether based on legal or equitable grounds. "Pleadings" as used in these rules do not include motions. [Report 1943; amendment 1976; amended by 66GA, ch 1264,§1; Report 1978, effective July 1, 1979]

70. Petition. The petition shall state whether it is at law or in equity. [Report 1943; amendment 1976]

For title, signature, etc., see R.C.P. 78.

Referred to in §618 13

71. Answers for ward. All answers by guardians or guardians ad litem, or filed under R.C.P. 14, shall state whether there is a return on file, showing that proper service has been had on the ward; and they shall deny all material allegations prejudicial to the ward. [Report 1943]

72. Answer. The answer shall show on whose behalf it is filed, and specifically admit or deny each allegation or paragraph of the petition, which denial may be for lack of information. It must state any additional facts deemed to show a defense. It may raise points of law appearing on the face of the petition to which it responds. It may contain as many defenses, legal or equitable, as the pleader may claim, which may be inconsistent. It may contain a counterclaim which must be in a separate division. [Report 1943]

For counterclaims, see R.C.P. 29 et seq. See also R.C.P. 79, 103, 105, 110 and 176.

73. Reply. The court may order a reply to an answer or to an answer to a cross-petition. [Report 1943; amendment 1974; Report 1978, effective July 1, 1979]

Under R.C.P. 102 facts asserted in a reply are denied by operation of law.

For disposition of points of law raised by reply, see R.C.P. 105, 176.

74. Cross-claim, cross-petition—judgment. Any cross-claim under R.C.P. 33 or cross-petition under R.C.P. 34, and the answer and reply to it, shall be governed by these rules. Where judgment in the original case can be entered without prejudice to the rights in issue under a cross-petition, cross-claim or counterclaim, it shall not be delayed thereby. [Report 1943; amendment 1973; amended by 65GA, ch 315,§1; amendment 1976]

See also R.C.P. 186, 221.

75. Interventions. Any person interested in the subject matter of the litigation, or the success of either party to the action, or against both parties, may intervene at any time before trial begins, by joining with plaintiff or defendant or claiming adversely to both. [Report 1943]

Intervention in attachment, §639 60

76. Manner. Every intervenor shall file a petition, and a separate copy for each party against whom he asserts a right. The clerk shall transmit such copy to the attorney for the adversary party, who shall, without further notice, move or plead thereto within seven days from the date of filing unless the court fixes a shorter time and notice thereof is given. [Report 1943]

Time computed, §4 1(22)

77. Disposition. The intervenor shall have no right to delay, and shall pay the costs of the intervention unless he prevails. [Report 1943]

78. Caption and signature. Each appearance, notice, motion, or pleading shall be captioned with the title of the case, naming the court, parties, and instrument, and shall bear the signature and address of the party or attorney filing it. After the petition, the caption need name only the first of several coparties. [Report 1943]

79. Paragraphs—separate statements. All averments of claim or defense shall be made in numbered paragraphs, the contents of each of which shall be limited as far as practicable to a statement of a single set of circumstances; and a paragraph may be referred to by number in all succeeding pleadings. Each claim founded upon a separate transaction or occurrence and each defense other than denials shall be stated in a separate count or defense whenever a separation facilitates the clear presentation of the matters set forth. [Report 1943; amendment 1976]

80. Verification abolished—affidavits.

(a) Pleadings need not be verified unless special statutes so require and, where a pleading is verified, it is not necessary that subsequent pleadings be verified unless special statutes so require. Counsel's signature to every motion or pleading shall be deemed his certificate that there are good grounds for making the claims therein, and that it is not interposed for delay.

(b) Any motion asserting facts as the basis of the order it seeks, and any pleading seeking interlocutory relief, shall contain affidavit of the person or persons knowing the facts requisite to such relief. A similar affidavit shall be appended to all petitions which special statutes require to be verified. [Report 1943; amendment 1945]

Referred to in R C P 253
See also R C P 88

81. Correcting or recasting pleadings. On its own motion or that of any party, the court may order any prolix, confused or multiple pleading, to be recast in a concise single document within such time as the order may fix. In like manner, it may order any pleading not complying with these rules to be corrected on such terms as it may impose. [Report 1943]

82. Service and filing of pleadings and other papers.

(a) When service required. Everything required by these rules to be filed, every order required by its terms to be served, every pleading subsequent to the original petition unless the court otherwise orders because of numerous defendants, every paper relating to discovery required to be served upon a party unless the court otherwise orders, every written motion other than one which may be heard ex parte, and every written notice, appearance, demand, offer of judgment, and similar paper shall be served upon each of the parties. No service need be made on any party against whom a default has been entered except that pleadings asserting new or additional claims for relief against them shall be served upon them in the manner provided for service of original notice in R.C.P. 56.1.

In an action begun by seizure of property, in which no person need be or is named as defendant, any service required to be made prior to the filing of an answer, claim, or appearance shall be made upon the person having custody or possession of the property at the time of its seizure.

(b) Same: How made. Service upon a party represented by an attorney shall be made upon the attorney unless service upon the party himself is ordered by the court. Service upon the attorney or upon a party shall be made by delivering a copy to him or by mailing it to him at his last known address or, if no address is known, by leaving it with the clerk of court. Delivery of a copy within this rule means handing it to the attorney or to the party; or leaving it at his office with his clerk or other person in charge thereof; or, if there is no one in charge, leaving it in a conspicuous place therein; or, if the office is closed or the person to be served has no office, leaving it at his dwelling house or usual place of abode with some person of suitable age and discretion then residing therein. Service by mail is complete upon mailing.

(c) Same: Numerous defendants. In any action in which there are unusually large numbers of defendants, the court, upon motion or of its own initiative, may order that service of the pleadings of the defendants and replies thereto need not be made as between the defendants and that any cross-claim, counterclaim, or matter constituting an avoidance or affirmative defense contained therein shall be deemed to be denied or avoided by all other parties and that the filing of any such pleading and service thereof upon the plaintiff constitutes due notice of it to the parties. A copy of every such order shall be served upon the parties in such manner and form as the court directs.

(d) Filing. All papers after the petition required to be served upon a party shall be filed with the court either before service or within a reasonable time thereafter. Whenever these rules or the rules of appellate procedure require a filing with the district court or its clerk within a certain time, the time requirement shall be tolled when service is made, provided the actual filing is done within a reasonable time thereafter.

(e) Filing with the court defined. The filing of pleadings and other papers with the court as required by these rules shall be made by filing them with the clerk of the court, except that the judge may permit the papers to be filed with him, in which event he shall note thereon the filing date and forthwith transmit them to the office of the clerk.

(f) Notice of orders or judgments. Immediately upon the entry of an order or judgment the clerk shall serve a notice of the entry by mail in the manner provided for in this rule upon each party except a party against whom a default has been entered and shall make a note in the docket of the mailing. In the event a case involves an appeal or review relating to an administrative agency, officer, commissioner, board, administrator, or judge, the clerk shall mail without cost to the applicable administrative agency, officer, commissioner, board, administrator, or judge a copy of any remand order, final judgment or decision in the case and a copy of any procedendo from the supreme court. Such mailing is sufficient notice for all purposes for which notice of the entry of an order is required by these rules; but any party may in addition serve a notice of such entry in the manner provided in this rule for the service of papers. Lack of notice of the entry by the clerk does not affect the time to appeal or relieve or authorize the court to relieve a party for failure to appeal within the time allowed.

(g) Proof of service. Proof of service of all papers required or permitted to be served, shall be filed in the clerk's office promptly, and, in any event, before action is to be taken thereon by the court or the parties. The proof shall show the time and manner of service and may be by written acknowledgment of service, by certification of a member of the bar of this state, by affidavit of the person who served the papers, or by any other proof satisfactory to the court. [Report 1943; amendment 1974; amendment 1975; Report 1978, effective July 1, 1979; amendment 1979]

83. Enlargement; additional time after service by mail.

(a) Enlargement. When by these rules or by a notice given thereunder or by order of court an act is required or allowed to be done at or within a specified time, the court for cause shown may at any time in its discretion (1) with or without motion or notice order the period enlarged if request therefor is made before the expiration of the period originally prescribed or as extended by a previous order, or (2) upon motion made after the expiration of the specified period permit the act to be done where the failure to act was the result of excusable neglect; but it may not extend the time for taking any action under R.C.P. 241, 243 and 244, except to the extent and under the conditions stated in them.

(b) Additional time after service by mail. Whenever a party has the right or is required to do some act or take some proceedings within a prescribed period after the service of a notice or other paper upon him and the notice or paper is served upon him by mail, three days shall be added to the prescribed period. Such additional time shall not be applicable where a court has prescribed the method of service of notice and the number of days to be given. [Report 1943; amendment 1974; amendment 1975]

84. Stricken by amendment 1980.

85. Time to move or plead.

(a) Motions. Motions attacking a pleading must be served before responding to a pleading or, if no responsive pleading is required by these rules, upon motion made by a party within twenty days after the service of the pleading on such party.

(b) Pleading. Answer to a petition must be served on or before the date prescribed in accordance with R.C.P. 53. A party served with a pleading stating a cross-claim against the party shall serve an answer thereto within twenty days after the service of the pleading upon the party. The plaintiff shall serve a reply to a counterclaim in the answer within twenty days after service of the answer, or if a reply is ordered by the court, within twenty days after service of the order, unless the order otherwise directs.

(c) Time after filing motions or special appearances. The service of a motion or special appearance permitted under these rules alters these periods of time as follows, unless a different time is fixed by order of the court.

If the motion or special appearance is so disposed of as to require further pleading, such pleading shall be served within ten days after notice of the court's action.

(d) Response to amendments. A party shall plead in response to an amended pleading within the time remaining for response to the original pleading or within ten days after service of the amended pleading, whichever period may be the longer, unless the court otherwise orders.

(e) Shortening time. The court may order any motion or pleading to be filed within a shorter time than specified above.

(f) Extending time. For good cause, but not ex parte, the court may extend the time to answer or reply for not more than thirty days beyond the times above specified. For good cause but not ex parte, and upon such terms as the court prescribes, the court may grant a party the right to file a motion, answer or reply where the time to file same has expired.

(g) Petition for removal to federal court. The filing of a petition for removal to the federal court, accompanied by the bond required by the Removal Act, shall suspend the time for filing any motions or pleadings until an order of the federal court is filed in the state court, remanding the cause, or until it is made to appear the removal has not been perfected, whereupon the times hereinabove fixed for motions or pleadings shall begin anew. [Report 1943;

amendment 1945; amendment 1976; amendment 1977; Report 1978, effective July 1, 1979]

See R.C.P. 86 as to when time for repleader begins to run.

Referred to in R C P 34
Time computed, §4 1(22)

86. Pleading over—election to stand. If a party is required or permitted to plead further by an order or ruling, the clerk shall forthwith mail or deliver notice of such order or ruling to the attorneys of record. Presence of counsel when the court announces such ruling or order shall be the equivalent of such mailing or delivery. Unless otherwise provided by order or ruling, such party shall file such further pleading within seven days after such mailing or delivery; and if such party fails to do so within such time, he thereby elects to stand on the record theretofore made. On such election, the ruling shall be deemed a final adjudication in the trial court without further judgment or order; reserving only such issues, if any, which remain undisposed of by such ruling and election. [Report 1943; amendment 1945]

Time computed, §4 1(22)

87. Appearance alone. An appearance without motion or pleading shall have the effect only of submitting to the jurisdiction. The court shall have no power to treat such appearance as sufficient to delay or prevent a default or any other order which would be made in absence thereof, or of timely pleading. Notice and opportunity to respond to any motion for judgment under R.C.P. 232 "b" shall be given to any party who has appeared. [Report 1943; Report 1978, effective July 1, 1979]

For time of pleading, see R.C.P. 85 (a, b).

Referred to in R C P 230

88. Amendments. A party may amend a pleading once as a matter of course at any time before a responsive pleading is served or, if the pleading is one to which no responsive pleading is required and the action has not been placed upon the trial calendar, the party may so amend it at any time within twenty days after it is served. Otherwise, a party may amend a pleading only by leave of court or by written consent of the adverse party. Leave to amend, including leave to amend to conform to the proof, shall be freely given when justice so requires. [Report 1943; amendment 1976; amendment 1977]

Amendment to cure defect, R C P 249

89. Making and construing amendments. All amendments must be on a separate paper, duly filed, without interlining or expunging prior pleadings. Whenever the claim or defense asserted in the amended pleading arose out of the conduct, transaction, or occurrence set forth or attempted to be set forth in the original pleading, the amendment relates back to the date of the original pleading. An amendment changing the party against whom a claim is asserted relates back if the foregoing provision is satisfied and, within the period provided by law for commencing the action against him, the party to be brought in by amendment (1) has received such notice of the institution of the action that he will not be prejudiced in maintaining his defense on the merits, and (2) knew or should have known that, but for a mistake concerning the identity of the proper party, the action would have been brought against him. [Report 1943; amendment 1976]

90. Supplemental pleadings. By leave of court, upon reasonable notice and upon such terms as are just, or by written consent of the adverse party, a party may serve and file a supplemental pleading setting forth transactions or occurrences or events which have happened since the date of the pleading sought to be supplemented. Leave may be granted even though the original pleading is defective in its statement of a claim for relief or defense. No responsive pleading to the supplemental pleading is required unless the court, upon its own motion or the motion of a party, so orders, specifying the time therefor. [Report 1943; amendment 1976]

91. Contract. Every pleading referring to a contract must state whether it is written or oral. If the contract is the basis of the action or defense, it must be set forth in full. [Report 1943]

92. Allegation of time or place. When time is not material, it need not be averred, and if averred, need not be proved. When it is material, the date or duration of a continuous act, must be alleged. The place need be alleged only when it is part of the substance of the issue. [Report 1943]

93. Exception. A claim in derogation of general law, or founded on any kind of exception, shall be so pleaded as to set forth such claim or exception. [Report 1943]

94. Judicial notice—statutes. Matters of which judicial notice is taken, including statutes of Iowa, need not be stated in any pleading. A pleading asserting any statute of another state, territory or jurisdiction of the United States, or a right derived therefrom, shall refer to such statute by plain designation and if such reference is made the court shall judicially notice such statute. [Report 1943; amendment 1963]

95. Unliquidated damages. No order shall require any pleading to itemize or apportion unliquidated damages claimed therein, nor to attribute any part thereof to any portion of the claim asserted. [Report 1943]

96. Malice. A party intending to prove malice to affect damages must aver the same. [Report 1943]

97. Negligence—mitigation. In an action by an employee against an employer, or by a passenger against a common carrier to recover for negligence, plaintiff need not plead or prove his freedom from contributory negligence, but defendant may plead and prove contributory negligence in mitigation of damages. [Report 1943]

Contributory and comparative negligence, §327D 188

98. Permissible conclusions—denials thereof. Partnership, corporate or representative capacity; or corporate authority to sue or do business in Iowa; or performance of conditions precedent; or judgments of a court, board or officer of special jurisdiction, may be pleaded as legal conclusions, without averring the facts comprising them. It shall not be sufficient to deny such averment in terms contradicting it, but the facts relied on must be stated. [Report 1943]

99. Account—bill of particulars—denial. A pleading founded on an account shall contain a bill of particulars thereof, by consecutively numbered items, which shall define and limit the proof, and may be amended as other pleadings. A pleading controverting such account, must specify the items denied, and any items not thus specified shall be deemed admitted. [Report 1943]

For affidavit required for default, see R.C.P. 232(a).

100. Denying signature.

(a) By party. If a pleading copies a writing purporting to be signed by an adverse party, such signature shall be deemed genuine for all purposes in the case, unless such party shall not only deny it, but support his denial by his own affidavit that it is not his genuine or authorized signature. He may, on application made during his time to plead, procure an inspection of the original writing.

(b) By nonparty. If a pleading copies a nonnegotiable writing purporting to be signed by a nonparty to the action, such signature shall be deemed genuine, unless a party denies it, and supports his denial by affidavit, which denial, may be for lack of information. [Report 1943]

101. Defenses to be specially pleaded. Any defense that a contract or writing sued on is void or voidable, or was delivered in escrow, or which alleges any matter in justification, excuse, release or discharge, or which admits the facts of the adverse pleading but seeks to avoid their legal effect, must be specially pleaded. [Report 1943]

102. What admitted. Every fact pleaded and not denied in a subsequent pleading as permitted by these rules shall be deemed admitted except (1) allegations of value or amount of damage, (2) averments in a pleading to which no responsive pleading is required or permitted, and (3) facts not previously pleaded that are set forth in pleadings filed subsequent to the seventh day preceding the trial, all of which shall be deemed denied by operation of law. [Report 1943; amendment 1955; amendment 1974]

103. All defenses in answer. Every defense in bar or abatement, or to the jurisdiction after a general appearance, shall be made in the answer or reply, save as allowed by R.C.P. 104. No such defense shall overrule any other. But a party who presents and tries a defense in abatement alone, shall not thereafter be allowed to plead in bar. [Report 1943]

See R.C.P. 72, 73, 104.

104. Exceptions. Every defense in law or fact to any pleading must be asserted in the pleading responsive thereto, if one is required, or if none is required, then at the trial, except that:

(a) Want of jurisdiction of the person, or insufficiency of the original notice, or its service must be raised by special appearance before any other appearance, motion or pleading is filed; and want of jurisdiction of the subject matter may be so raised;

See also R.C.P. 66.

(b) Failure to state a claim on which any relief can be granted, may be raised by motion to dismiss such claim, filed before answer.

(c) Sufficiency of any defense may be raised by motion to strike it, filed before pleading to it.

(d) Such motions must specify wherein the pleading they attack is claimed to be insufficient. [Report 1943]

Referred to in RCP 103

105. Separate adjudication of law points. The court may in its discretion, and must on application of either party, made after issues joined and before trial, separately hear and determine any point of law raised in any pleading which goes to the whole or any material part of the case. It shall enter an appropriate final order before trial of the remaining issues, adjudicating the point so determined, which shall not be questioned on the trial of any part of the case of which it does not dispose. If such ruling does not dispose of the whole case, it shall be deemed interlocutory for purposes of appeal. [Report 1943]

See also last sentence of R.C.P. 176.

106. Variance—failure of proof. No variance between pleading and proof shall be deemed material unless it is shown to have misled the opposite party to his prejudice in maintaining his cause of action or defense. But where an allegation or defense is unproved in its general meaning, this shall not be held a mere variance but a failure of proof. [Report 1943]

107. Special action—proper remedy awarded. In any case of mandamus, certiorari, appeal to the district court, or for specific equitable relief, where the facts pleaded and proved do not entitle the petitioner to the specific remedy asked, but do show him entitled to another remedy, the court shall permit him on such terms, if any, as it may prescribe, to amend by asking for such latter remedy, which may be awarded. [Report 1943]

108. Lost pleading—substitution. If an original pleading is lost or withheld, the court may order a copy substituted, or a substituted pleading filed. [Report 1943]

109. Motion defined. A motion is an application made by any party or interested person for an order. It may contain several objects which grow out of, or are connected with, the action. It is not a "pleading". [Report 1943]

110. Failure to move—effect of overruling motion. No pleading shall be held sufficient for failure to move to strike or dismiss it. If such motion is filed and overruled, error in such ruling is not waived by pleading over or proceeding further; and the moving party may always question the sufficiency of the pleading during subsequent proceedings. [Report 1943]

See also RCP 87

111. Motions combined. Motions to strike, for a more specific statement, and to dismiss, shall be contained in a single motion and only one such motion assailing the same pleading shall be permitted, unless the pleading is amended thereafter. [Report 1943]

112. Motion for more specific statement. A party may move for a more specific statement of any matter not pleaded with sufficient definiteness to enable him to plead to it and for no other purpose. It shall point out the insufficiency claimed and particulars desired. [Report 1943]

113. Striking improper matter. Improper or unnecessary matter in a pleading may be stricken out on motion of the adverse party. [Report 1943]

114. Notice of motion days unnecessary. A party who has been served with original notice or has appeared, shall take notice of the regular motion day on which motions will be heard. [Report 1943; amendment 1974]

For motion days and submission and determination of motions, see R.C.P. 117.

115. Discretionary notice. The court may require counsel to be apprised, in any manner it directs, of the time and place at which it will hear or act on any motion, application or other matter other than at the regular motion day or pursuant to general assignment. This rule shall be applied to expedite, not to delay, hearings and submissions. [Report 1943]

116. Proof of facts in motions. Evidence to sustain or resist a motion may be by affidavit or in any other form to which the parties agree or the court directs. The court may require any affiant to appear for cross-examination. [Report 1943]

Referred to in RCP 167, 245

117. Motion days—disposition of motions.

(a) The chief judge of each judicial district shall provide by order for at least one motion day to be held each month in each county, when all motions made prior to trial on issues of fact on file ten days or more shall be deemed submitted unless by other rule, statute or order of court entered for good cause shown another time for submission is fixed. Such motions not orally argued for any reason shall be deemed submitted without argument unless they are then, or have previously been, set down for argument at some time somewhere in the judicial district not more than ten days thereafter, when they must be submitted without further postponement. Each motion filed shall set out the specific points upon which it is based. A concise memorandum brief may be appended if it is desired to cite supporting rules, statutes or other authorities.

(b) The court may hear and rule on any motion prior to motion day so as not to delay completing the issues or trial of the case.

(c) The trial court shall rule on all motions within thirty days after their submission, unless it extends the time for reasons stated of record.

(d) A "motion" within this rule is any paper denominated as such, or any other matter requiring attention or order of court before the trial of the issues on their merits, including a special appearance and objections to interrogatories.

(e) The clerk of each court shall maintain a motion calendar on which every "motion" within the purview of "d", above, shall be entered. It shall be arranged to show (1) docket, page and cause number of action in which filed, (2) abbreviated title of the case with surname of the first-named party on each side, (3) counsel of record for parties, (4) denomination of the "motion," (5) date filed, (6) party by whom filed, (7) date entered on calendar, and (8) date of disposition by ruling, order or otherwise. Separate motion calendars for law, equity or other divisions may be maintained. [Report 1943; amendment 1945; amendment 1961; amendment 1967; amendment 1969; amendment 1975]

Referred to in R C P 238

118. Specific rulings required. A motion, or other matter involving separate grounds or parts, shall be disposed of by separate ruling on each and not sustained generally. [Report 1943]

119. Order defined. Every direction of the court, made in writing and not included in the judgment or decree, is an order. [Report 1943]

120. When and how entered. A judge may enter judgments, orders or decrees at any time after the matter has been submitted, effective when filed with the clerk, regardless of where signed. The clerk shall promptly mail or deliver notice of such entry, or copy thereof, to each party appearing, or to one of his attorneys. [Report 1943]

DIVISION V DISCOVERY AND INSPECTION

See also chapter 619 The Code Ct R 118 6

121. Discovery methods. Parties may obtain discovery by one or more of the following methods: Depositions upon oral examination or written questions; written interrogatories; production of documents or things or permission to enter upon land or other property, for inspection and other purposes; physical and mental examinations; and requests for admission. Unless the court orders otherwise under R.C.P. 123, the frequency of use of these methods is not limited. [Report 1943; amendment 1957; amendment 1967; amendment 1973]

Referred to in Ct R 118 6

Remnant of common law bill of discovery, §611 16

122. Scope of discovery. Unless otherwise limited by order of the court in accordance with these rules, the scope of discovery is as follows:

(a) In general. Parties may obtain discovery regarding any matter, not privileged, which is relevant to the subject matter involved in the pending action, whether it relates to the claim or defense of the party seeking discovery or to the claim or defense of any other party, including the existence, description, nature, custody, condition and location of any books, documents, or other tangible things and the identity and location of persons having knowledge of any discoverable matter. It is not ground for objection that the information sought will be inadmissible at the trial if the information sought appears reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence.

(b) Insurance agreements. A party may obtain discovery of the existence and contents of any insurance agreement under which any person carrying on an insurance business may be liable to satisfy part or all of a judgment which may be entered in the action or to indemnify or reimburse for payments made to satisfy the judgment. Information concerning the insurance agreement is not by reason of disclosure admissible in evidence at trial. For purposes of this paragraph, an application for insurance shall not be treated as part of an insurance agreement.

(c) Trial preparation—materials. Subject to the provisions of subdivision "d" of this rule, a party may obtain discovery of documents and tangible things otherwise discoverable under subdivision "a" of this rule and prepared in anticipation of litigation or for trial by or for another party or by or for that other party's representative (including his attorney, consultant, surety, indemnitor, insurer, or agent) only upon a showing that the party seeking discovery has substantial need of the materials in the preparation of his case and that he is unable without undue hardship to obtain the substantial equivalent of the materials by other means. In ordering discovery of such materials when the required showing has been made, the court shall protect against disclosure of the mental impressions, conclusions, opinions, or legal theories of an attorney or other representative of a party concerning the litigation.

A party may obtain without the required showing a statement concerning the action or its subject matter previously made by that party. Upon request, a person not a party may obtain without the required showing a statement concerning the action or its subject matter previously made by that person. If the request is refused, the person may move for a court order. The provisions of R.C.P. 134 "a" (4) apply to the award of expenses incurred in relation to the motion. For purposes of this paragraph, a statement previously made is

(1) A written statement signed or otherwise adopted or approved by the person making it, or

(2) A stenographic, mechanical, electrical, or other recording, or a transcription thereof, which is a substantially verbatim recital of an oral statement by the person making it and contemporaneously recorded.

(d) Trial preparation—experts. Except as provided in R.C.P. 133, discovery of facts known and opinions held by experts, otherwise discoverable under the provisions of subdivision "a" of this rule and acquired or developed in anticipation of litigation or for trial, may be obtained only as follows:

(1) (A) A party may through interrogatories require any other party to identify each person whom the other party expects to call as an expert witness at trial, to state the subject matter on which the expert is expected to testify, and to state the substance of the facts and opinions to which the expert is expected to testify and a summary of the grounds for each opinion.

(B) Upon motion, the court may order further discovery by other means, subject to such restrictions as to scope and such provisions, pursuant to subdivision "d" (3) of this rule, concerning fees and expenses as the court may deem appropriate.

(2) A party may discover facts known or opinions held by an expert who has been retained or specially employed by another party in anticipation of litigation or preparation for trial and who is not expected to be called as a witness at trial, only as provided in R.C.P. 133 or upon a showing of exceptional circumstances under which it is impracticable for the party seeking discovery to obtain facts or opinions on the same subject by other means.

(3) Unless manifest injustice would result, (A) the court shall require that the party seeking discovery pay the expert a reasonable fee for time spent in responding to discovery under subdivisions "d" (1) B and "d" (2) of this rule; and (B) with respect to discovery obtained under subdivision "d" (1) B of this rule the court may require, and with respect to discovery obtained under subdivision "d" (2) of this rule the court shall require, the party seeking discovery to pay the other party a fair portion of the fees and expenses reasonably incurred by the latter party in obtaining facts and opinions from the expert.

(e) No motion relating to depositions or discovery shall be filed by the clerk or considered by the court unless the motion alleges that counsel for the moving party has made a good faith but unsuccessful attempt to resolve the issues raised by the motion with opposing counsel without intervention of the court. [Report 1943; amendment 1973; amended by 65GA, ch 315,§3; amendment 1980]

Referred to in R C P 126, 127, 129, 143, Ct R 118 6

123. Protective orders. Upon motion by a party or by the person from whom discovery is sought or by any person who may be affected thereby, and for good cause shown, the court in which the action is pending or alternatively, on matters relating to a deposition, the court in the district where the deposition is to be taken, may make any order which justice requires to protect a party or person from annoyance, embarrassment, oppression, or undue burden or expense, including one or more of the following:

- (a) That the discovery not be had;
- (b) That the discovery may be had only on specified terms and conditions, including a designation of the time or place;
- (c) That the discovery may be had only by a method of discovery other than that selected by the party seeking discovery;
- (d) That certain matters not be inquired into, or that the scope of the discovery be limited to certain matters;
- (e) That discovery be conducted with no one present except persons designated by the court;
- (f) That a deposition after being sealed be opened only by order of the court;
- (g) That a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information not be disclosed or be disclosed only in a designated way;

(h) That the parties simultaneously file specified documents or information enclosed in sealed envelopes to be opened as directed by the court.

If the motion for a protective order is denied in whole or in part, the court may, on such terms and conditions as are just, order that any party or person provide or permit discovery. The provisions of R.C.P. 134 "a" (4) apply to the award of expenses incurred in relation to the motion. [Report 1943; amendment 1965; amendment 1970; amendment 1973]

Referred to in R C P 121, 134(a, d), 148, Ct R 118 6

124. Sequence and timing of discovery. Unless the court upon motion orders otherwise for the convenience of parties and witnesses and in the interests of justice, methods of discovery may be used in any sequence and the fact that a party is conducting discovery, whether by deposition or otherwise, shall not operate to delay any other party's discovery. [Report 1943; amendment 1957; amendment 1973]

Referred to in Ct R 118 6

124.1. Stipulations regarding discovery procedure. Unless the court orders otherwise, the parties may by written stipulation (a) provide that depositions may be taken before any qualified person, at any time or place, upon any notice, and in any manner and when so taken may be used like other depositions, and (b) modify the procedures provided by these rules for other methods of discovery, except that stipulations extending the time provided in R.C.P. 126, 127 and 130 for responses to discovery must be filed with the court and may be superseded by court order, in which event the time shall be extended to twenty days after notice of the court's action. [Report 1975; amended by 66GA, ch 259,§1; amendment 1976]

125. Supplementation of responses. A party who has responded to a request for discovery with a response that was complete when made is under no duty to supplement his response to include information thereafter acquired, except as follows:

- (a) A party is under a duty seasonably to supplement his response with respect to any question directly addressed to
  - (1) The identity and location of persons having knowledge of discoverable matters, and
  - (2) The identity of each person expected to be called as an expert witness at trial, the subject matter on which he is expected to testify, and the substance of his testimony.
- (b) A party is under a duty seasonably to amend a prior response if he obtains information upon the basis of which
  - (1) He knows that the response was incorrect when made, or
  - (2) He knows that the response though correct when made is no longer true and the circumstances are such that a failure to amend the response is in substance a knowing concealment.

(c) A duty to supplement responses may be imposed by order of the court, agreement of the parties, or at any time prior to trial through new requests for supplementation of prior responses. [Report 1943; amendment 1957; amendment 1973]

Referred to in Ct R 118 6

126. Interrogatories to parties.

(a) Availability—procedures for use. Except in small claims, any party may serve written interrogatories to be answered by another party or, if the other party is a public or private corporation or a partnership or association or governmental agency, by any officer or agent, who shall furnish such information as is available to the party. Copies of interrogatories and answers shall be served on each adverse party. Interrogatories may, without leave of court, be directed to the plaintiff after commencement of the action and upon any other party with or after service of the original notice upon that party.

Each interrogatory shall be followed by a reasonable space for insertion of the answer. An interrogatory which does not comply with this requirement shall be subject to objection.

Each interrogatory shall be answered separately and fully in writing under oath, unless it is objected to, in which event the reasons for objection shall be stated in lieu of an answer. A party answering interrogatories must answer in the space provided or must set out each interrogatory immediately preceding the answer to it. A failure to comply with this rule shall be deemed a failure to answer and shall be subject to sanctions as provided in R.C.P. 134. The answers are to be signed by the person making them. The party to whom the interrogatories are directed shall file the answers, and objections if any, within thirty days after they are served, except that a defendant may file answers or objections within forty-five days after service of the original notice upon that defendant. The court may allow a shorter or longer time. The party submitting the interrogatories may move for an order under R.C.P. 134 "a" with respect to any objection to or other failure to answer an interrogatory. Copies of answers shall be delivered as provided in R.C.P. 82.

A party shall not serve more than thirty interrogatories on any other party except upon agreement of the parties or leave of court granted upon a showing of good cause. A motion for leave of court to serve more than thirty interrogatories must be in writing and shall set forth the proposed interrogatories and the reasons establishing good cause for their use.

(b) Scope—use at trial. Interrogatories may relate to any matters which can be inquired into under R.C.P. 122, and the answers may be used to the extent permitted by the rules of evidence.

An interrogatory otherwise proper is not necessarily objectionable merely because an answer to the interrogatory involves an opinion or contention that relates to fact or the application of law to fact, but the court may order that such an interrogatory need not be answered until after designated discovery has been completed or until a pretrial conference or other later time.

(c) Option to produce business records. Where the answer to an interrogatory may be derived or ascertained from the business records of the party upon whom the interrogatory has been served or from an examination, audit or inspection of such business records, or from a compilation, abstract or summary based thereon, and the burden of deriving or ascertaining the answer is substantially the same for the party serving the interrogatory as for the party served, it is a sufficient answer to such interrogatory to specify the records from which the answer may be derived or ascertained and to afford to the party serving the interrogatory reasonable opportunity to examine, audit or inspect such records and to make copies, compilations, abstracts or summaries.

(d) Notwithstanding the provisions of R.C.P. 82 "d", copies of the interrogatories which are served need not be filed with the clerk. Parties who serve interrogatories shall serve and file a notice of serving interrogatories stating the parties upon whom interrogatories were served, the numbers of the interrogatories, and the date of service. [Report 1943; amendment 1957; amendment 1973; amendment 1975; amendment 1976; amendment 1980]

127. Requests for admission. A party may serve upon any other party a written request for the admission, for purposes of the pending action only, of the truth of any matters within the scope of R.C.P. 122 set forth in the request that relate to statements or opinions of fact or of the application of law to fact, including the genuineness of any documents described in the request. Copies of documents shall be served with the request unless they have been or are otherwise furnished or made available for inspection and copying. The request may, without leave of court, be served upon the plaintiff after commencement of the action and upon any other party with or after service of the original notice upon that party.

Each matter of which an admission is requested shall be separately set forth. The matter is admitted unless, within thirty days after service of the request, or within such shorter or longer time as the court may on motion allow, the party to whom the request is directed serves upon the party requesting the admission a written answer or objection addressed to the matter, signed by the party or by his attorney, but, unless the court shortens the time, a defendant shall not be required to serve answers or objections before the expiration of forty-five days after service of the original notice upon him. If objection is made, the reasons therefor shall be stated. The answer shall specifically deny the matter or set forth in detail the reasons why the answering party cannot truthfully admit or deny the matter. A denial shall fairly meet the substance of the requested admission, and when good faith requires that a party qualify his answer or deny only a part of the matter of which an admission is requested, he shall specify so much of it as is true and qualify or deny the remainder. An answering party may not give lack of information or knowledge as a reason for failure to admit or deny unless he states that he has made reasonable inquiry and that the information known or readily obtainable by him is insufficient to enable him to admit or deny. A party who considers that a matter of which an admission has been requested presents a genuine issue for trial may not, on that ground alone, object to the request; he may, subject to the provisions of R.C.P. 134 "c", deny the matter or set forth reasons why he cannot admit or deny it.

The party who has requested the admission may move to determine the sufficiency of the answers or objections. Unless the court determines that an objection is justified, it shall order that an answer be served. If the court determines that an answer does not comply with the requirements of this rule, it may order either that the matter is admitted or that an amended answer be served. The court may, in lieu of these orders, determine that final disposition of the request be made at a pretrial conference or at a designated time prior to trial. The provisions of R.C.P. 134 "a" (4) apply to the award of expenses incurred in relation to the motion. [Report 1943; amendment 1957; amendment 1973]

Referred to in R.C.P. 124 1, 134(c), Ct R 118 6

128. Effect of admission. Any matter admitted under this rule is conclusively established in the pending action unless the court on motion permits withdrawal or amendment of the admission. Subject to the provisions of R.C.P. 138 governing amendment of a pretrial order, the court may permit withdrawal or amendment when the presentation of the merits of the action will be subserved thereby and the party who obtained the admission fails to satisfy the court that withdrawal or amendment will prejudice him in maintaining his action or defense on the merits. Any admission made by a party under this rule may be used as an evidentiary admission only in any other proceeding. [Report 1943; amendment 1957; amendment 1973]

Referred to in Ct R 118 6

129. Production of documents and things and entry upon land for inspection and other purposes. Any party may serve on any other party a request

(a) To produce and permit the party making the request, or someone acting on his behalf, to inspect and copy, any designated documents (including writings, drawings, graphs, charts, photographs, phonorecords, and other data compilations from which information can be obtained, translated, if necessary, by the respondent through detection devices into reasonably usable form), or to inspect and copy, test, or sample any tangible things which constitute or contain matters within the scope of R.C.P. 122 and which are in the possession, custody or control of the party upon whom the request is served; or

(b) Except as otherwise provided by statute, to permit entry upon designated land or other property in the possession or control of the party upon whom the request is served for the purpose of inspection and measuring, surveying, photographing, testing, or sampling the property or any designated object or operation thereon, within the scope of R.C.P. 122. [Report 1943; amendment 1973]

130. Procedure under R.C.P. 129. The request may, without leave of court, be served upon the plaintiff after commencement of the action and upon any other party with or after service of the original notice upon that party. The request shall set forth the items to be inspected either by individual item or by category, and describe each item and category with reasonable particularity. The request shall specify a reasonable time, place, and manner of making the inspection and performing the related acts.

The party upon whom the request is served shall serve a written response within thirty days after the service of the request, except that a defendant may serve a response within forty-five days after service of the original notice upon that defendant. The court may allow a shorter or longer time. The response shall state, with respect to each item or category, that inspection and related activities will be permitted as requested, unless the request is objected to, in which event the reasons for objection shall be stated. If objection is made to part of an item or category, the part shall be specified. The party submitting the request may move for an order under R.C.P. 134 with respect to any objection to or other failure to respond to the request or any part thereof, or any failure to permit inspection as requested. [Report 1943; amendment 1973]

131. Action for production or entry against persons not parties. R.C.P. 129 and 130 do not preclude an independent action against a person not a party for production of documents and things and permission to enter upon land. [Report 1943; amendment 1957; amendment 1973]

Referred to in Ct R 118.6

132. Physical and mental examination of persons. When the mental or physical condition (including the blood group) of a party, or of a person in the custody or under the legal control of a party, is in controversy, the court in which the action is pending may order the party to submit to a physical or mental examination by a physician or to produce for examination the person in his custody or legal control. The order may be made only on motion for good cause shown and upon notice to the person to be examined and to all parties and shall specify the time, place, manner, conditions, and scope of the examination and the person or persons by whom it is to be made. [Report 1943; amendment 1957; amendment 1973]

Referred to in R.C.P. 133, 134(b, 2), Ct R 118 6

133. Report of examining physician.

(a) If requested by the party against whom an order is made under R.C.P. 132 or the person examined, the party causing the examination to be made shall deliver to him a copy of a detailed written report of the examining physician setting out his findings, including results of all tests made, diagnosis and conclusions, together with like reports of all earlier examinations of the same condition. After delivery the party causing the examination shall be entitled upon request to receive from the party against whom the order is made a like report of any examination, previously or thereafter made, of the same condition, unless, in the case of a report of examination of a person not a party, the party shows that he is unable to obtain it. The court on motion may make an order against a party requiring delivery of a report on such terms as are just, and if a physician fails or refuses to make a report the court may exclude his testimony if offered at the trial.

(b) By requesting and obtaining a report of the examination so ordered or by taking the deposition of the examiner, the party examined waives any privilege he may have in that action or any other involving the same controversy, regarding the testimony of every other person who has examined or may thereafter examine him in respect of the same mental or physical condition.

(c) This rule applies to examination made by agreement of the parties, unless the agreement expressly provides otherwise. This rule does not preclude discovery of a report of an examining physician or the taking of a deposition of the physician in accordance with the provisions of any other rule or statute. [Report 1943; amendment 1973]

Referred to in R.C.P. 122(d), Ct.R. 118.6

134. Failure to make discovery—consequences.

(a) Motion for order compelling discovery. A party, upon reasonable notice to other parties and all persons affected thereby, may apply for an order compelling discovery as follows:

(1) Appropriate court. An application for an order to a party may be made to the court in which the action is pending, or, on matters relating to a deposition, to the court in the district where the deposition is being taken. An application for an order to a deponent who is not a party shall be made to the court in the district where the deposition is being taken.

(2) Motion. If a deponent fails to answer a question propounded or submitted under R.C.P. 140 or 150, or a corporation or other entity fails to make a designation under R.C.P. 147 “e”, or a party fails to answer an interrogatory submitted under R.C.P. 126, or if a party, in response to a request for inspection submitted under R.C.P. 129, fails to respond that inspection will be permitted as requested or fails to permit inspection as requested, the discovering party may move for an order compelling an answer, or a designation, or an order compelling inspection in accordance with the request. When taking a deposition on oral examination, the proponent of the question may complete or adjourn the examination before he applies for an order.

In ruling on such motion, the court may make such protective order as it would have been empowered to make on a motion pursuant to R.C.P. 123.

(3) Evasive or incomplete answer. For purposes of this subdivision an evasive or incomplete answer is to be treated as a failure to answer.

(4) Award of expenses of motion. If the motion is granted, the court shall, after opportunity for hearing, require the party or deponent whose conduct necessitated the motion or the party or attorney advising such conduct or both of them to pay to the moving party the reasonable expenses incurred in obtaining the order, including attorney’s fees, unless the court finds that the opposition to the motion was substantially justified or that other circumstances make an award of expenses unjust.

If the motion is denied, the court shall, after opportunity for hearing, require the moving party or the attorney advising the motion or both of them to pay to the party or deponent who opposed the motion the reasonable expenses incurred in opposing the motion, including attorney’s fees, unless the court finds that the making of the motion was substantially justified or that other circumstances make an award of expenses unjust.

If the motion is granted in part and denied in part, the court may apportion the reasonable expenses incurred in relation to the motion among the parties and persons in a just manner.

(b) Failure to comply with order.

(1) Sanctions by court in district where deposition is taken. If a deponent fails to be sworn or to answer a question after being directed to do so by the court in the district in which the deposition is being taken, the failure may be considered a contempt of that court.

(2) Sanctions by court in which action is pending. If a party or an officer, director, or managing agent of a party or a person designated under R.C.P. 147 “e” to testify on behalf of a party fails to obey an order to provide or permit discovery, including an order made under subdivision “a” of this rule or R.C.P. 132, the court in which the action is pending may make such orders in regard to the failure as are just, and among others the following:

(A) An order that the matters regarding which the order was made or any other designated facts shall be taken to be established for the purposes of the action in accordance with the claim of the party obtaining the order;

(B) An order refusing to allow the disobedient party to support or oppose designated claims or defenses, or prohibiting him from introducing designated matters in evidence;

(C) An order striking out pleadings or parts thereof, or staying further proceedings until the order is obeyed, or dismissing the action or proceeding or any part thereof, or rendering a judgment by default against the disobedient party;

(D) In lieu of any of the foregoing orders or in addition thereto, an order treating as a contempt of court the failure to obey any orders except an order to submit to a physical or mental examination.

In lieu of any of the foregoing orders or in addition thereto, the court shall require the party failing to obey the order or the attorney advising him or both to pay the reasonable expenses, including attorney’s fees, caused by the failure, unless the court finds that the failure was substantially justified or that other circumstances make an award of expenses unjust.

(c) Expenses on failure to admit. If a party fails to admit the genuineness of any document or the truth of any matter as requested under R.C.P. 127, and if the party requesting the admissions thereafter proves the genuineness of the document or the truth of the matter, he may apply to the court for an order requiring the other party to pay him the reasonable expenses incurred in making that proof, including reasonable attorney’s fees. The court shall make the order unless it finds that

(1) The request was held objectionable pursuant to R.C.P. 127, or

(2) The admission sought was of no substantial importance, or

(3) The party failing to admit had reasonable ground to believe that he might prevail on the matter, or

(4) There was other good reason for the failure to admit.

(d) Failure of party to attend at own deposition or serve answers to interrogatories or respond to request for inspection. If a party or an officer, director, or managing agent of a party or a person designated under R.C.P. 147 "e" to testify on behalf of a party fails

(1) To appear before the officer who is to take his deposition, after being served with a proper notice, or

(2) To serve answers or objections to interrogatories submitted under R.C.P. 126, after proper service of the interrogatories, or

(3) To serve a written response to a request for inspection submitted under R.C.P. 129, after proper service of the request, the court in which the action is pending on motion may make such orders in regard to the failure as are just, and among others it may take any action authorized under paragraphs "A", "B", and "C" of subdivision "b" (2) of this rule. In lieu of any order or in addition thereto, the court shall require the party failing to act or the attorney advising him or both to pay the reasonable expenses, including attorney's fees, caused by the failure, unless the court finds that the failure was substantially justified or that other circumstances make an award of expenses unjust.

The failure to act described in this subdivision may not be excused on the ground that the discovery sought is objectionable unless the party failing to act has applied for a protective order as provided by R.C.P. 123. [Report 1943; amendment 1957; amendment 1973]

DIVISION VI PRETRIAL PROCEDURE

See also chapter 621 The Code

135. Pretrial calendar. The court may provide for a pretrial calendar in any county, which may extend to all actions, or be limited either to jury or nonjury actions. [Report 1943]

136. Readiness schedule, pretrial conference.

(a) Readiness schedule. After issues are joined a party may move for an order setting dates for closing of pleadings and completion of discovery. The motion shall contain suggested dates and a concise supporting explanation. Any response to the motion shall suggest alternative dates, if desired, and shall, in that event, also include a concise supporting explanation. Upon submission of the motion, the court shall fix dates for closing of pleadings and completion of discovery, which shall not be extended except upon a showing of good cause.

(b) Pretrial conference. After issues are joined the court may in its discretion, and shall on written request of any attorney in the case, direct all attorneys in the action to appear before it for a conference to consider, so far as applicable to the particular case:

(1) The necessity or desirability of amending pleadings by formal amendment or pretrial order;

(2) Agreeing to admissions of facts, documents or records not really controverted, to avoid unnecessary proof;

(3) Limiting the number of expert witnesses;

(4) Settling any facts of which the court is to be asked to take judicial notice;

(5) Stating and simplifying the factual and legal issues to be litigated;

(6) Specifying all damage claims in detail as of the date of the conference;

(7) All proposed exhibits and mortality tables and proof thereof;

(8) Consolidation, separation for trial, and determination of points of law;

(9) Questions relating to voir dire examination of jurors and selection of alternate jurors, to serve if a juror becomes incapacitated;

(10) Possibility of settlement;

(11) Filing of advance briefs when required;

(12) Setting dates for closing of pleadings and discovery;

(13) Assigning a date for trial;

(14) Any other matter which may aid, expedite or simplify the trial of any issue.

The pretrial judge may direct the parties to the action to be present or immediately available at the time of conference. [Report 1943; amendment 1961; amendment 1979]

Referred to in R C P 181

137. Pretrial conference—record. On the request of any interested counsel or the court, the reporter must record the entire conference, or any designated part thereof. [Report 1943]

138. Orders. The court shall make an order reciting any action taken at the conference which will control the subsequent course of the action relative to matters it includes, unless modified to prevent manifest injustice. [Report 1943; amendment 1957]

Referred to in R C P 128

139. Restriction on orders. The court shall not, under any pretrial procedure or other rules, require a party to list or name the witnesses he expects to call to testify at the trial. [Report 1943; amendment 1957]

DIVISION VII DEPOSITION AND PERPETUATION OF TESTIMONY

See also chapter 622 of the Code, Ct R 118 6

(A) Depositions

140. Depositions upon oral examination.

(a) When depositions may be taken. After commencement of the action, any party may take the testimony of any person, including a party, by deposition upon oral examination. Leave of court, granted with or without notice, must be obtained only if the plaintiff seeks to take a deposition prior to the expiration of ten days after the date for special appearance, motion or answer for any defendant, except that leave is not required:

(1) If a defendant has served a notice of taking deposition or otherwise sought discovery, or

(2) If special notice is given as provided in subdivision "b" (2) of this rule. The attendance of witnesses may be compelled by subpoena as provided in R.C.P. 155. The deposition of a person confined in prison may be taken only by leave of court on such terms as the court prescribes.

(b) Notice of examination—general requirements—special notice — nonstenographic recording—production of documents and things—deposition of organization.

(1) A party desiring to take the deposition of any person upon oral examination shall give reasonable notice in writing to every other party to the action. The notice shall state the time and place for taking the deposition and the name and address of each person to be examined, if known, and, if the name is not known, a general description sufficient to identify him or the particular class or group to which he belongs. If a subpoena duces tecum is to be served on the person to be examined, the designation of the materials to be produced as set forth in the subpoena shall be attached to or included in the notice.

(2) Leave of court is not required for the taking of a deposition by plaintiff if the notice

(A) States that the person to be examined is about to go out of the state and will be unavailable for examination unless his deposition is taken before expiration of the thirty-day period, and

(B) Sets forth facts to support the statement. The plaintiff's attorney shall sign the notice, and his signature constitutes a certification by him that to the best of his knowledge, information, and belief the statement and supporting facts are true.

If a party shows that when he was served with notice under this subdivision "b" (2) he was unable through the exercise of diligence to obtain counsel to represent him at the taking of the deposition, the deposition may not be used against him.

(3) The court may for cause shown enlarge or shorten the time for taking the deposition.

(4) The court may upon motion order that the testimony at a deposition be recorded by other than stenographic means, in which event the order shall designate the manner of recording, preserving, and filing the deposition, and may include other provisions to assure that the recorded testimony will be accurate and trustworthy. If the order is made, a party may nevertheless arrange to have a stenographic transcription made at his own expense.

(5) The notice to a party deponent may be accompanied by a request made in compliance with R.C.P. 129 and 130 for the production of documents and tangible things at the taking of the deposition. The procedure of R.C.P. 130 shall apply to the request.

(c) Failure to attend or to serve subpoena—expenses.

(1) If the party giving the notice of the taking of a deposition fails to attend and proceed therewith and another party attends in person or by attorney pursuant to the notice, the court may order the party giving the notice to pay to such other party the reasonable expenses incurred by him and his attorney in attending, including reasonable attorney's fees.

(2) If the party giving the notice of the taking of a deposition of a witness fails to serve a subpoena upon him and the witness does not attend because of such failure, and if another party attends in person or by attorney because he expects the deposition of that witness to be taken, the court may order the party giving the notice to pay to such other party the reasonable expenses incurred by him and his attorney attending, including reasonable attorney's fees. [Report 1943; amendment 1957; amendment 1973; Report 1978, effective July 1, 1979]

Referred to in §29B 50, R.C.P. 134(a, 2), 148, Ct R. 118 6

141. Restrictions. In small claims, depositions for discovery may not be taken unless leave of court is first obtained on notice and showing of just cause therefor and upon such terms as justice may require. [Report 1943; amendment 1957; amendment 1973]

Referred to in §29B 50, Ct R. 118 6

142. Defaults—notice. If a party requires proof to obtain a judgment upon a default, he may take depositions, after serving notice on the attorney of record for the defaulted party, or, if none, on the clerk. Parties in default need not be given notice as to depositions taken under any other rule. [Report 1943]

Referred to in §29B 50

143. Witness lists. Except as provided in R.C.P. 122, a party shall not be required to list the witnesses expected to be called at trial. [Report 1943; amendment 1957; amendment 1973]

Referred to in §29B 50, Ct R. 118 6

144. Use of depositions. Any part of a deposition, so far as admissible under the rules of evidence, may be used upon the trial or at an interlocutory hearing or upon the hearing of a motion in the same action against any party who appeared when it was taken, or stipulated therefor, or had due notice thereof, either:

(a) To impeach or contradict deponent's testimony as a witness; or

(b) For any purpose if, when it was taken, deponent was a party adverse to the offeror, or was an officer, partner or managing agent of any adverse party which is not a natural person; or

(c) For any purpose, if the court finds that the offeror was unable to procure deponent's presence at the trial by subpoena; or that deponent is out of the state or more than one hundred miles distant from the trial, and such absence was not procured by the offeror; or that deponent is dead, or unable to testify because of age, illness, infirmity or imprisonment.

(d) On application and notice, the court may also permit a deposition to be used for any purpose, under exceptional circumstances making it desirable in the interests of justice; having due regard for the importance of witnesses testifying in open court. [Report 1943; amendment 1957]

Referred to in §29B 50, R.C.P. 145, Ct R. 118 6

145. Effect of taking or using.

(a) If a party offers only part of a deposition, his adversary may require him to offer all of it relevant to the portion offered; and any other party may offer other relevant parts.

(b) A party does not make deponent his own witness by taking his deposition or using it solely under R.C.P. 144 "a" or 144 "b". A party introducing a deposition for any other purpose makes the deponent his witness, but may contradict his testimony by relevant evidence. [Report 1943]

Referred to in §29B 50, Ct R. 118 6

146. Substituted parties—successive actions. Substitution of parties does not prevent use of depositions previously taken and filed in the action. If an action is dismissed, depositions legally taken therein may be used in any subsequent action involving the same subject matter, between the same parties, their representatives or successors in interest. [Report 1943]

Referred to in §29B 50, Ct R 118 6

147. Oral examination—notice.

(a) Oral depositions may be taken only in this state, or outside it at a place within one hundred miles from the nearest Iowa point. But, on hearing, on notice, of a motion of a party desiring it, the court may order it orally taken at any other specified place, if the issue is sufficiently important and the testimony cannot reasonably be obtained on written interrogatories.

(b) The party taking an oral deposition must first serve reasonable notice on all other parties except a party against whom a default has been entered, stating the time and place thereof and the name and address of the deponent, or if that is unknown, a description identifying him or the class or group to which he belongs. The court, on motion of any party so served, may for good cause enlarge or shorten the time.

(c) No subpoena is necessary to require the appearance of a party for a deposition. Service on the party or his attorney of record of notice of the taking of the deposition of the party or of an officer, partner or managing agent of any party who is not a natural person, as provided in "b" hereof, is sufficient to require the appearance of a deponent for the deposition.

(d) If the deponent is a party or the officer, partner or managing agent of a party which is not a natural person, the deponent shall be required to submit to examination in the county where the action is pending, unless otherwise ordered by the court.

(e) A party may in his notice and in a subpoena name as the deponent a public or private corporation or a partnership or association or governmental agency and describe with reasonable particularity the matters on which examination is requested. In that event, the organization so named shall designate one or more officers, directors, or managing agents, or other persons who consent to testify on its behalf, and may set forth, for each person designated, the matters on which he will testify. A subpoena shall advise a nonparty organization of its duty to make such a designation. The persons so designated shall testify as to matters known or reasonably available to the organization. This paragraph does not preclude taking a deposition by any other procedure authorized in these rules [Report 1943; amendment 1957; amendment 1973; Report 1978, effective July 1, 1979; amendment 1980]

On objecting to notice, see R.C.P. 158 "a."

Referred to in §29B 50, R C P 134(a, b, d), 155, Ct R 118 6

148. Conduct of oral examination.

(a) Examination and cross-examination—record of examination—oath—objections. Examination and cross-examination of witnesses may proceed as permitted at the trial. The officer before whom the deposition is to be taken shall put the witness on oath and shall personally, or by someone acting under his direction and in his presence, record the testimony of the witness. The testimony shall be taken stenographically or recorded by any other means ordered in accordance with R.C.P. 140 "b"(4). If requested by one of the parties, the testimony shall be transcribed. All objections made at the time of the examination to the qualifications of the officer taking the deposition, or to the manner of taking it, or to the evidence presented, or to the conduct of any party, and any other objection to the proceedings, shall be noted by the officer upon the deposition. Evidence objected to shall be taken subject to the objections. In lieu of participating in the oral examination, parties may serve written questions in a sealed envelope on the party taking the deposition and he shall transmit them to the officer, who shall propound them to the witness and record the answers verbatim.

(b) Motion to terminate or limit examination. At any time during the taking of the deposition, on motion of a party or of the deponent and upon a showing that the examination is being conducted in bad faith or in such manner as unreasonably to annoy, embarrass, or oppress the deponent or party, the court in which the action is pending or the court in the district where the deposition is being taken may order the officer conducting the examination to cease forthwith from taking the deposition, or may limit the scope and manner of the taking of the deposition as provided in R.C.P. 123. If the order made terminates the examination, it shall be resumed thereafter only upon the order of the court in which the action is pending. Upon demand of the objecting party or deponent, the taking of the deposition shall be suspended for the time necessary to make a motion for an order. The provisions of R.C.P. 134 "a"(4) apply to the award of expenses incurred in relation to the motion. [Report 1943; amendment 1957; amendment 1973]

149. Reading and signing.

(a) No oral deposition reported and transcribed by an official court reporter or certified shorthand reporter of Iowa need be submitted to, read or signed by the deponent.

(b) Submission to witness—changes, signing. In other cases, when the testimony is fully transcribed the deposition shall be submitted to the witness for examination and shall be read to or by him, unless such examination and reading are waived by the witness and by the parties. Any changes in form or substance which the witness desires to make shall be entered upon the deposition by the officer with a statement of the reasons given by the witness for making them. If "a" is not applicable, the deposition shall then be signed by the witness, unless the parties by stipulation waive the signing or the witness is ill or dead or cannot be found or refuses to sign. If the deposition is not signed by the witness within thirty days of its submission to him, the officer shall sign it and state on the record the fact of the waiver or of the illness, death, or absence of the witness or the fact of the refusal to sign together with the reason, if any, given therefor; and the deposition may then be used as fully as though signed unless on a motion to suppress under R.C.P. 158 "f" the court holds that the reason given for the refusal to sign require rejection of the deposition in whole or in part. [Report 1943; amendment 1963; amendment 1973]

Referred to in §29B 50, R.C.P. 151, 164, Ct R 118 6

150. On written interrogatories.

(a) A party may take depositions on written interrogatories after first serving all other parties not in default for want of appearance with copies thereof and with a notice stating the name, or title, and address of the officer to take them, and the name and address of the deponents.

(b) The adversary parties may thereafter serve successive interrogatories on each other, but only as follows: Cross-interrogatories within ten days after the notice; redirect interrogatories within five days after the latter service; and recross interrogatories within three days thereafter. On application of any party, the court may, for good cause shown, shorten or enlarge the time for serving any such succeeding interrogatories.

(c) Within the time required for cross-interrogatories, the adverse party may elect instead, to appear and orally cross-examine, by serving notice thereof on the party taking the deposition. The latter shall then within five days serve the former with notice of the date, hour and place where the deposition will be taken, which shall allow a reasonable time to enable the adverse party to attend; and may also waive his original written interrogatories and examine the deponent orally. [Report 1943]

Referred to in §29B 50, R.C.P. 134(a), 155, 158, 164, Ct R 118 6

151. Answers to interrogatories. The party taking a deposition on written interrogatories shall promptly transmit a copy of the notice and all interrogatories to the officer designated in the notice. The officer shall promptly take deponent's answers thereto and complete the deposition, all as provided in R.C.P. 148 and 149, except that answers need not be taken stenographically. [Report 1943]

Referred to in §29B 50, R.C.P. 164, Ct R 118 6

152. Certification and return—copies.

(a) The officer shall certify on the deposition that the witness was duly sworn by him and that the deposition is a true record of the testimony given by the witness. When the deposition is transcribed the officer shall file in the action a certificate showing the name of the witness deposed, the cost of reporting and transcribing the deposition, and to whom the original and copies were delivered. Documents and things produced for inspection during the examination of the witness shall, upon the request of a party, be marked for identification and annexed to and returned with the deposition, and may be inspected and copied by any party, except that

(1) The person producing the materials may substitute copies to be marked for identification, if he affords to all parties fair opportunity to verify the copies by comparison with the originals, and

(2) If the person producing the materials requests their return, the officer shall mark them, give each party an opportunity to inspect and copy them, and return them to the person producing them, and the materials may then be used in the same manner as if annexed to and returned with the deposition. Any party may move for an order that the original be annexed to and returned with the deposition to the court, pending final disposition of the case.

(b) Depositions may be filed, but filing is not required unless requested by the court. If requested by the court, the party who ordered the original of the deposition shall promptly file the original. Any party may file a deposition, which may be a copy.

(c) Upon payment of reasonable charges therefor, the officer shall furnish a copy of the deposition to any party or to the deponent. [Report 1943; amendment 1973; amendment 1980]

Referred to in §29B 50, R.C.P. 164, Ct R 118 6

153. Before whom taken.

(a) No deposition shall be taken before any party, or any person financially interested in the action, or an attorney or employee of any party, or any person related by consanguinity or affinity within the fourth degree to any party, his attorney, or an employee of either of them.

(b) Depositions within the United States or a territory or insular possession thereof may be taken before any person authorized to administer oaths, by the laws of the United States or of the place where the examination is held.

(c) Depositions in a foreign land may be taken before a secretary of embassy or legation, or a consul, vice consul, consul-general or consular agent of the United States, or under R.C.P. 154.

(d) When the witness is in the military or naval service of the United States, his deposition may be taken before any commissioned officer under whose command he is serving, or any commissioned officer in the judge advocate general's department. [Report 1943; amendment 1945]

Referred to in §29B 50, R.C.P. 164, Ct R 118 6

Depositions ordered by magistrate, §761 8 et seq

Referred to in §29B 50, R.C.P. 153, Ct R 118 6

155. Subpoena.

(a) On application of any party, or proof of service of a notice to take depositions under R.C.P. 147 or R.C.P. 150, the clerk of court where the action is pending shall issue subpoenas for persons named in and described in said notice or application. Subpoenas may also be issued as provided by statute:

(b) No resident of Iowa shall be thus subpoenaed to attend out of the county where he resides, or is employed, or transacts his business in person.

(c) A subpoena may also command the person to whom it is directed to produce the books, papers, documents or tangible things designated therein; but the court, upon motion promptly made by the person to whom the subpoena is directed, or by any other person stating an interest in the documents affected, and in any event at or before the time specified in the subpoena for compliance therewith, may

(1) Quash or modify the subpoena if it is unreasonable and oppressive or

(2) Condition denial of the motion upon the advancement by the person in whose behalf the subpoena is issued of the reasonable cost of producing the books, papers, documents or tangible things.

156. Notice—service. Stricken by amendment 1974.

Service generally, see R.C.P. 56 1 and 56 2

157. Costs.

(a) Generally. Costs of taking and proceeding to procure a deposition shall be advanced by the party taking it, and he cannot use it in evidence until such costs are paid. The costs shall be noted in the return or certificate, and taxed by the clerk. The judgment shall award against the losing party only such portion of these costs as were necessarily incurred for testimony offered and admitted upon the trial.

(b) Failure to attend. The court may order the party taking a deposition to pay the adverse party his costs and expenses, including reasonable attorney fees, for attending at the specified time and place for oral cross-examination (being entitled thereto), if the deposition is not then taken for absence of the party, or of the witness due to the party's failure to subpoena him. [Report 1943]

Referred to in §29B 50, Ct R 118 6

158. Irregularities—objections.

(a) Notice. All objections to any notice of taking any depositions are waived unless promptly served in writing upon the party giving the notice.

(b) Officer. Objections to the officer's qualification to take a deposition is waived unless made before such taking begins, or as soon thereafter as objector knows it or could discover it with reasonable diligence.

(c) Interrogatories. All objections to the form of any written interrogatory served under R.C.P. 150 are waived unless the objector serves them on the interrogating party in the time allowed him for serving succeeding interrogatories and, as to the last interrogatories authorized, within three days after the service thereof.

(d) Taking deposition. Errors or irregularities occurring during an oral deposition as to any conduct or manner of taking it, or the oath, or the form of any question or answer; and any other errors which might thereupon have been cured, obviated or removed, are waived unless seasonably objected to when it is taken.

(e) Testimony. Except as above provided, testimony taken by deposition may be objected to at the trial on any ground which would require its exclusion if given by a witness in open court, and objections to testimony, or competency of a witness, need not be made prior to or during the deposition, unless the grounds thereof could then have been obviated or removed.

(f) Motion to suppress. All objections to the manner of transcribing the testimony, or to preparing, signing, certifying, sealing, endorsing, transmitting, filing the deposition, or the officer's dealing with it, are waived unless made by motion to suppress it, or the part complained of, filed with reasonable promptness after the objector knows of, or could with reasonable diligence discover, the defect. No such motion shall be sustained unless the defect is substantial and materially affects the right of some party. [Report 1943]

(B) Perpetuating testimony

159. Common law preserved. The following rules do not limit the court's common law powers to entertain actions to perpetuate testimony. [Report 1943]

Referred to in §29B 50, Ct R 118 6

160. Before action—application. An application to take depositions to perpetuate testimony for use in an action not yet pending, shall be entitled in the name of the applicant, be supported by affidavit, and show:

(a) That he expects to be a party to an action cognizable in some court of record of Iowa, which he is then unable to bring or cause to be brought;

(b) The subject matter of such action, and his interest therein;

(c) The facts to be shown by the proposed testimony, and his reasons for desiring to perpetuate it;

(d) The name or description of each expected adverse party, with address if known;

(e) The name and address of each deponent and the substance of his testimony. It shall be filed in the court where the prospective action might be brought. [Report 1943]

Referred to in §29B 50, Ct R 118 6

Transaction with deceased, §622 4, affidavits, §622 85

161. Notice. The petitioner shall thereafter serve a notice upon each person named in the petition as an expected adverse party, together with a copy of the petition, stating that the petitioner will apply to the court, at a time and place named therein, for the order described in the petition. At least twenty days before the date of hearing, the notice shall be served as provided for the service of original notices other than by publication; but if such service cannot with due diligence be so made upon any expected adverse party named in the petition, the court may make such order as is just for service by publication or otherwise, or the court upon a showing of extraordinary circumstances may prescribe a hearing upon less than twenty days' notice. [Report 1943]

Referred to in §29B 50, Ct R 118 6

Time computed, §4 1(22)

162. Guardian ad litem. Before hearing the application, the court shall appoint some attorney to act as guardian ad litem for any party under legal disability or not personally served with notice, who shall cross-examine for his ward if any deposition is ordered, and unless an attorney has been so appointed the deposition shall not be admissible against such party in any subsequent action. [Report 1943]

Referred to in §29B 50, Ct R 118 6

163. When ordered—who not examined. If satisfied that the petition is not for the purpose of discovery, and that its allowance may prevent future delay or failure of justice, and that applicant is unable to bring the contemplated action or cause it to be brought, the court shall order the testimony perpetuated, designating the deponents, the subject matter of their examination, when, where and before whom their deposition shall be taken, and whether orally or on written interrogatories. [Report 1943]

Referred to in §29B 50, R C P 166, Ct R 118 6

164. Taking and filing testimony. Depositions shall be taken as directed in said order; and shall be otherwise governed by R.C.P. 148 to 153 and 158. For the purpose of applying these rules to depositions for perpetuating testimony, each reference therein to the court in which the application was filed shall be deemed to refer to the court in which the petition for such deposition was filed. Unless the court enlarges the time, all such depositions must be filed therein within thirty days after the date fixed for taking them, and if not so filed cannot be later received in evidence. [Report 1943]

Time computed, §4 1(22)

165. Use—limitation. Any party to any later action involving any expected adverse party who was named in the application, and served with notice as hereinbefore required, or involving his privies or successors in interest, may use such deposition, or a certified copy thereof, if the deponent is dead or mentally ill or his attendance cannot be obtained. [Report 1943; amended by 58GA, ch 152, §202]

Referred to in §29B 50, Ct R 118 6

166. Perpetuating testimony pending appeal. During the time allowed for taking an appeal from judgment of a court of record or during the pendency of such appeal, that court may, on motion, allow testimony to be perpetuated for use in the event of further proceedings before it. The motion shall state the name and address of each proposed deponent, the substance of his expected testimony, and the reason for perpetuating it. If the court finds such perpetuation is proper to avoid a failure or delay of justice, and the depositions are not sought for discovery, it may order them taken as in R.C.P. 163 and 164. When taken and filed as thus provided, they shall be used and treated as though they had been taken pending the trial of the action. [Report 1943]

Referred to in §29B 50, Ct R 118 6

DIVISION VIII CHANGE OF VENUE

167. Grounds for change. On motion, the place of trial may be changed as follows:

(a) County. If the county where the case would be tried is a party and the motion is by an adverse party, the issue being triable by a jury, and a jury having been demanded;

(b) Interest of judge. Where the trial judge is directly interested in the action, or related by consanguinity or affinity within the fourth degree to any party so interested;

(c) Prejudice or influence. If the trial judge, or the inhabitants of the county, are so prejudiced against the moving party, or if an adverse party has such undue influence over such inhabitants, that the movant cannot obtain a fair trial. The motion in such case shall be supported by affidavit of the movant and three disinterested persons, none being his agent, servant, employee or attorney, nor related to him by consanguinity or affinity within the fourth degree. The other party shall have a reasonable time to file counter affidavits. Affiants may be examined pursuant to R.C.P. 116;

(d) Agreement. Pursuant to written agreement of the parties;

(e) Fraud in contract. A defendant, sued in a county where he does not reside, on a written contract expressly performable in such county, who has filed a sworn answer claiming fraud in the inception of said contract as a complete defense thereto, may have the case transferred to the county of his residence. Within ten days after the transfer is ordered, he must file a bond in an amount fixed by the court, with sureties approved by the clerk, for payment of all costs; and any judgment rendered against him shall include in such costs a reasonable amount fixed by the court for expenses incurred by plaintiff and his attorney by reason of the change. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R C P 168, 169, 171, 172, 174; §421 20

Change when action in wrong county, R C P 175

168. Limitations. Change of venue shall not be allowed:

(a) In an appeal from a justice of the peace; or

(b) Under R.C.P. 167 "c" where the issues are triable to the court alone, except for prejudice of the judge; or

(c) Until the issues are made up, unless the objection is to the judge; or

(d) After a continuance, except for a cause arising since such continuance or not known to movant prior thereto; or

(e) After one change, for any cause then existing, and known or ascertainable with reasonable diligence.

In no event shall more than two changes be allowed to any party. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R C P 169

169. Subsequent change. Where the case is tried after a change of place of trial, and the jury disagrees or a new trial is granted, the court may in its discretion allow a subsequent change, under R.C.P. 167 "a", "b", "c" or "d"; subject to R.C.P. 168. [Report 1943]

170. Of whole case. A change may be granted on motion of one of several coparties; and the whole cause shall then be transferred, unless separate trials are granted under R.C.P. 186. [Report 1943]

171. Where tried. Unless the change is under R.C.P. 167 "e", the court granting it shall order the trial held in a convenient county in the judicial district, or if the ground applies to all such counties, then of another judicial district. If the ground applies only to a judge, the court in its discretion may refuse a change and procure another judge to try the case where it was brought, or the supreme court may designate such other judge. [Report 1943]

172. Costs. Unless the change is under R.C.P. 167 "d" or 167 "e", the order shall designate generally all costs occasioned by the change, which movant must pay before the change is perfected. Failure to make such payment within ten days from the order waives the change of venue. [Report 1943]

173. Transferring cause. When a change is ordered and the required costs paid, the clerk shall forthwith transmit to the proper court his transcript of the proceedings, with any original papers, of which he shall retain an authenticated copy. The case shall be docketed in the second court without fee and shall proceed. [Report 1943]

174. Jury fees. If trial is by a jury after change pursuant to R.C.P. 167 the court shall certify the amount of county expenses incurred for meals, lodging, mileage and fees of jurors and the county where the action was brought shall pay the county where it was tried the difference between the sum so certified and the jury fee taxable as a part of the costs in the action. [Report 1943; amendment 1961; amendment 1963]

175. Action brought in wrong county.

(a) An action brought in the wrong county may be prosecuted there until termination, unless a defendant, before answer, moves for its change to the proper county. Thereupon the court shall order the change at plaintiff's costs, which may include reasonable compensation for defendant's trouble and expense, including attorney's fees, in attending in the wrong county.

(b) If all such costs are not paid within a time to be fixed by the court, or the papers are not filed in the proper court within twenty days after such order, the action shall be dismissed. [Report 1943]

DIVISION IX TRIAL AND JUDGMENT

See also chapter 624 of the Code

(A) Trials

176. Trials and issues. A trial is a judicial examination of issues in an action, whether of law or fact. Issues arise where a pleading of one party maintains a claim controverted by an adverse party. Issues are either of law or fact. An issue of fact arises on a material allegation of fact in a pleading which is denied in an adversary's pleading or by operation of law. All other issues are issues of law which must be tried first. [Report 1943]

For allegations and denials of fact, see R.C.P. 70—76, 100.

177. Demand for jury trial.

(a) Jury trial is waived if not demanded according to this rule; but a demand once filed may not be withdrawn without consent of all parties not in default.

(b) A party desiring jury trial of an issue must make written demand therefor by filing a separate instrument clearly designating such demand not later than ten days after the last pleading directed to that issue. If filed with the petition, the jury demand shall be served with the original notice and petition. If filed after the petition, the jury demand shall be served and filed in accordance with R.C.P. 82.

(c) Unless limited to a specific issue, every such demand shall be deemed to include all issues triable to a jury. If a limited demand is filed, any other party may, within ten days thereafter or such shorter time as the court may order, file his demand for a jury trial of some or all other issues.

(d) Notwithstanding the failure of a party to demand a jury in an action in which such demand might have been made of right, the court, in its discretion on motion and for good cause shown, but not ex parte, and upon such terms as the court prescribes, may order a trial by jury of any or all issues. [Report 1943; amendment 1945; amendment 1961; amendment 1979]

Referred to in R.C.P. 232

See also §633 447, 633 555

Time computed, §4 1(22)

178. To court or jury. All issues shall be tried to the court except those for which a jury is demanded. Issues for which a jury is demanded shall be tried to a jury unless the court finds that there is no right thereto or all parties appearing at the trial waive a jury in writing or orally in open court. [Report 1943]

178.1. Reporter's fee—small cases. No court reporter shall be provided in the trial of actions when the amount in controversy as shown by the pleadings is less than one thousand dollars, unless the party demanding one shall pay the clerk in advance the taxable fee of the reporter for one day, at the beginning of each day. Amounts so paid shall be taxed as costs in the case, unless otherwise ordered by the court. [Report 1961; amendment 1970]

179. Findings by court.

(a) The court trying an issue of fact without a jury, whether by equitable or ordinary proceedings, shall find the facts in writing, separately stating its conclusions of law; and direct an appropriate judgment. No request for findings is necessary for purposes of review. Findings of a master shall be deemed those of the court to the extent it adopts them.

(b) On motion joined with or filed within the time allowed for a motion for new trial, the findings and conclusions may be enlarged or amended and the judgment or decree modified accordingly or a different judgment or decree substituted. But a party, on appeal, may challenge the sufficiency of the evidence to sustain any finding without having objected to it by such motion or otherwise. [Report 1943; amendment 1973]

Referred to in R.C.P. 237, 333, R App P 5

180. Exceptions unnecessary. Exceptions to rulings or orders of court are unnecessary whenever a matter has been called to the attention of the court, by objection, motion or otherwise and the court has ruled thereon. [Report 1943]

This rule has nothing to do with bills of exceptions to complete an otherwise incomplete record, for which see R.C.P. 241.

181. Trial certificate, response.

(a) When a trial certificate is filed in any action, the action shall be entered on the Trial Certificate List. The certificate shall be in the following form:

IN THE IOWA DISTRICT COURT
FOR ..... COUNTY

(Caption) Law } TRIAL CERTIFICATE Equity }
Probate } Filed by .....
(Party)

1. The above party believes the issues are joined and states that such party (a) is ready for trial, or (b) will be ready for trial by .....

(date)

2. Discovery has been completed except as follows:

3. Pretrial conference (a) is, or (b) is not requested.

4. Assignment for trial (a) by jury, or (b) by the court, is requested.

5. Names, addresses and telephone numbers of other attorneys and parties appearing pro se:

Dated this ..... day of ....., 19.....
.....
Attorney for .....
P.O. Address .....
.....
Telephone No. ....

(b) The opposing party shall be deemed to agree with the trial certificate in all respects, unless such party files a response within fourteen days after its service, stating the points of disagreement.

(c) After a trial certificate is served and filed, a pretrial conference of the case will be held under R.C.P. 136, if requested by a party or ordered by the court. [Report 1943; amendment 1961; amendment 1977; Report 1978, effective July 1, 1979; amendment 1979]

Time computed, §4.1(22)

181.1. Trial Certificate List. The clerk shall maintain a current list of pending actions wherein a trial certificate has been filed. It shall be known as the Trial Certificate List and be available for public examination. It shall be arranged in columnar form to show: (1) Caption of cause, (2) docket, page and cause number, (3) date of filing of trial certificate, (4) jury or nonjury case, and (5) if removed from list, date of such removal. If removed by order of court the clerk may relist it only upon the filing of a new trial certificate. If not so removed, actions will remain on list until final disposition. [Report 1961; amendment 1979]

181.2. Trial assignments.

(a) Civil cases. On each motion day, the clerk of court shall present to the court the file in each civil case in which a trial certificate has been on file, without objection, for more than twenty days. The case shall then be scheduled for pretrial conference, if requested by a party or ordered by the court. At the pretrial conference the court shall determine whether the case is ready for trial. If it is ready, the case shall be assigned for trial. If it is not ready, the court shall fix the date by which the case will be ready. On the first motion day after that date, unless it is extended for good cause, the clerk shall return the file to the court and the case shall be assigned for trial. If there is no pretrial conference, the court shall, nevertheless, obtain the information necessary to make the same determinations and the same assignment procedure shall be followed.

Any civil case may be assigned for trial even though a trial certificate has not been served and filed.

(b) Small claims appeals. On each motion day, the clerk of court shall present to the presiding judge the file and any transcript or exhibits in each small claims case in which appeal was taken more than twenty days previously. The judge will decide the appeal upon the record without oral argument unless, within twenty days after the appeal was taken, a party filed with the clerk of court a written request for oral argument specifying the issues to be argued, in which event the judge shall schedule oral argument. Additional evidence shall not be received except as authorized by statute. [Report 1961; amended by 62GA, ch 474,§1; amendment 1969; amendment 1979]

181.3. Duty to notify court.

(a) Of settlements. Whenever a case assigned for trial has been settled it shall be the duty of the attorneys or parties appearing in person to so notify the court immediately.

(b) Of conflicting engagements and termination thereof. When a case assigned for trial is reached and an attorney of record therein is then actually engaged in a trial in another court, it shall be his duty to so inform the court who may hold the trial of such case in abeyance until the engagement is concluded. As soon as the attorney is free from such engagement it shall be his duty to notify the court immediately and stand ready to proceed with trial of the case. [Report 1961]

182. Motions for continuance.

(a) Motions for continuance shall be filed without delay after the grounds therefor become known to the party or his counsel. Such a motion may be amended only to correct a clerical error.

(b) A case shall not lose its place on the calendar when a party applies for time to seek a continuance, unless it is then continued at the option of the other party at applicant's costs, whereupon the clerk shall forthwith enter judgment for costs unless otherwise ordered by the court or agreed by the parties. [Report 1943]

That the motion need not be served, see R.C.P. 115.

183. Causes for continuance.

(a) A continuance may be allowed for any cause not growing out of the fault or negligence of the applicant, which satisfies the court that substantial justice will be more nearly obtained. It shall be allowed if all parties so agree and the court approves.

(b) All such motions based on absence of evidence must be supported by affidavit of the party, his agent or attorney, and must show: (1) The name and residence of the absent witness, or, if unknown, that affiant has used diligence to ascertain them; (2) what efforts, constituting due diligence, have been made to obtain such witness or his testimony, and facts showing reasonable grounds to believe the testimony will be procured by a certain specified date; (3) what particular facts, distinct from legal conclusions, affiant believes the witness will prove, and that he believes them to be true and knows of no other witness by whom they can be fully proved. If the court finds such motion sufficient, the adverse party may avoid the continuance by admitting that the witness if present, would testify to the facts therein stated, as the evidence of such witness. [Report 1943; amendment 1961; amendment 1980]

184. Objections—ruling—costs. The adverse party may at once, or within such reasonable time as the court allows, file specific written objections to the motion for continuance, which shall be part of the record. Where the defenses are distinct, the cause may be continued as to any one or more defendants. Every continuance shall be at the cost of the movant unless otherwise ordered by the court. [Report 1943]

185. Consolidation. Unless some party shows he will be prejudiced thereby the court may consolidate separate actions which involve common questions of law or fact or order a single trial of any or all issues therein. In such cases it may make such orders concerning the proceedings as tend to avoid unnecessary cost or delay. [Report 1943; amendment 1955]

See also ch 619

186. Separate trials. In any action the court may, for convenience or to avoid prejudice, order a separate trial of any claim, counterclaim, cross-claim, or of any separate issue of fact, or any number of any of them. Any claim against a party may be thus severed and proceeded with separately. [Report 1943]

As to separate adjudication of points of law, see R.C.P. 105.

Referred to in R.C.P. 170

See also R.C.P. 74

187. Impaneling jury.

(a) Selection. The clerk shall prepare and deposit in a box separate ballots containing the names of all persons returned or added as jurors. At each jury trial he shall select sixteen jurors by closing and shaking the box to intermingle the ballots, and drawing them from the box without seeing the names. He shall list all jurors so drawn. Before drawing begins, either party may require that the names of all jurors be called, and have an attachment for those absent who are not engaged in other trials; but the court may wait for its return or not, in its discretion.

(b) Oath or examination. The prospective jurors shall be sworn. The parties may then examine those drawn. The court may conduct such examination as it deems proper. It may on its own motion exclude any juror.

(c) Challenges. Challenges are objections to trial jurors for cause, and may be either to the panel or to an individual juror. The court shall determine the law and fact as to all challenges, and must either allow or deny them.

(d) To panel. Before any juror is sworn, either party may challenge the panel, in writing, distinctly specifying the grounds, which can be founded only on a material departure from the statutory requirements for drawing or returning the jury. On trial thereof, any officer, judicial or ministerial, whose irregularity is complained of, and any other persons, may be examined concerning the facts specified. If the court sustains the challenge it shall discharge the jury, no member of which can serve at that trial.

(e) To juror. Challenge to an individual juror must be made before the jury is sworn to try the case. On demand of either party to a challenge, the juror shall answer every question pertinent to the inquiry, and other evidence may be taken.

(f) For cause. A juror may be challenged by either party for any of the following causes: (1) Conviction of a felony; (2) want of any statutory qualification required to make him a competent juror; (3) physical or mental defects rendering him incapable of performing the duties of a juror; (4) consanguinity or affinity within the ninth degree to the adverse party; (5) being guardian, ward, master, servant, landlord or tenant of the adverse party, or a member of his family or in his employ; or being a client of any attorney engaged in the cause; (6) being a party adverse to the challenging party in any civil action; or having complained of or been accused by him in a criminal prosecution; (7) having already sat upon a trial of the same issues; (8) having served as a grand or trial juror in a criminal case based on the same transaction; (9) when it appears the juror has formed or expressed an unqualified opinion on the merits of the controversy, or shows a state of mind which will prevent him from rendering a just verdict; (10) being interested in a question like the issue to be tried; (11) having requested, directly, or indirectly, that his name be returned as a juror for the regular biennial period; (12) having served in the district court as a grand or petit juror during the last preceding calendar year.

Exemption from jury service is not a ground of challenge, but the privilege of the person exempt.

(g) Number—striking. Each side must strike four jurors. Where there are two or more parties represented by different counsel, the court in its discretion may authorize and fix an additional number of jurors to be impaneled and strikes to be exercised. After all challenges are completed, plaintiff and defendant shall alternately exercise their strikes.

(h) Vacancies. After a challenge is sustained, another juror shall be called and examined and shall be subject to being challenged or stricken as are other jurors.

(i) Jury sworn. The clerk shall read the names of the eight jurors who remain on the list after all others have been stricken. These shall constitute the jury and shall be sworn substantially as follows:

“You and each of you do solemnly swear (or affirm) that you will well and truly try the issues wherein . . . . . is plaintiff and . . . . . is dependant, and a true verdict render; and that you will do so solely on the evidence introduced and in accordance with the instructions of the court; so help you God." [Report 1943; amendment 1980]

Referred to in §29B.42
See also chs 607—609

188. Saturday a religious day. No juror whose religious faith requires him to keep the seventh day of the week can be compelled to attend on that day, prior to final submission of the case. [Report 1943]

189. Juror incapacity—minimum number of jurors.

(a) Juror incapacity. In the event any juror becomes unable to act, or is disqualified, before the jury retires the remaining jurors shall continue to try the case.

(b) Minimum of six jurors required. In the event more than two jurors become unable to act, or are disqualified, before the jury retires and renders a verdict, the court shall declare a mistrial. [Report 1943; amendment 1980]

190. Returning ballots to box. When a jury is sworn, the ballots containing the names of those absent or excused from the trial shall be immediately returned to the box. Those containing the names of jurors sworn shall be set aside, and returned to the box immediately on the discharge of that jury. [Report 1943]

191. Procedure after jury sworn. After the jury is sworn, the trial shall proceed in the following order:

(a) The party having the burden of proof on the whole action may briefly state his claim, and by what evidence he expects to prove it;

(b) The other party may similarly state his defense and evidence;

(c) The first above party must then produce his evidence; to be followed by that of the adverse party;

(d) The parties will be confined to rebutting evidence, unless the court in furtherance of justice, permits them to offer evidence in their original case;

(e) But one counsel on each side shall examine the same witness, unless otherwise permitted by the court. [Report 1943]

192. Further testimony for mistake. At any time before final submission, the court may allow any party to offer further testimony to correct an evident oversight or mistake, imposing such terms as it deems just. [Report 1943]

193. Adjournments. After trial begins, the court may, in furtherance of justice, adjourn it for such time, and on such conditions as to costs or otherwise, as it deems just. [Report 1943]

For admonishing jury on adjournment, see R.C.P. 199 "a."

194. View. When the court deems proper, it may order an officer to conduct the jury in a body to view any real or personal property, or any place where a material fact occurred, and to show it to them. No other person shall speak to them during their absence on any subject connected with the trial. [Report 1943]

195. Arguments. The parties may either submit the case or argue it. The party with the burden of the issue shall have the opening and closing arguments. In opening, he shall disclose all points he relies on, and if his closing argument refers to any new material point or fact not so disclosed, the adverse party may reply thereto, which shall close the argument. A party waiving opening argument is limited, in closing, to reply to the adverse argument; otherwise the adverse party shall have the closing argument. The court may limit the time for argument to itself, but not for arguments to the jury. [Report 1943]

196. Instructions. The court shall instruct the jury as to the law applicable to all material issues in the case and such instructions shall be in writing, in consecutively numbered paragraphs, and shall be read to the jury without comment or explanation; provided, however, that in actions triable to a jury where the amount in controversy as shown by the pleadings is less than one thousand dollars, and in any action where the parties so agree, the instructions may be oral. At the close of the evidence, or such prior time as the court may reasonably fix, any party may file written requests that the jury be instructed as set forth in such requests. Before argument to the jury begins, the court shall furnish counsel with a preliminary draft of instructions which it expects to give on all controversial issues, which shall not be part of the record. Before jury arguments, the court shall give to each counsel a copy of its instructions in their final form, noting this fact of record and granting reasonable time for counsel to make objections, which shall be made and ruled on before arguments to the jury. Within such time, all objections to giving or failing to give any instruction must be made in writing or dictated into the record, out of the jury's presence, specifying the matter objected to and on what grounds. No other grounds or objections shall be asserted thereafter, or considered on appeal. But if the court thereafter revises or adds to the instructions, similar specific objection to the revision or addition may be made in the motion for new trial, and if not so made shall be deemed waived. All instructions and objections, except as above provided, shall be part of the record. [Report 1943; amendment 1961; amendment 1970; amendment 1973; amended by 65GA, ch 315,§2]

197. Additional instructions. While the jury is deliberating, the court may in its discretion further instruct the jury, in the presence of or after notice to counsel. Such instruction shall be in writing, be filed as other instructions in the case, and be a part of the record and any objections thereto shall be made in a motion for a new trial. [Report 1943]

198. What jury may take. When retiring to deliberate, the jury shall take with them all exhibits in evidence except as otherwise ordered. Depositions shall not be so taken unless all the evidence is in writing and none has been stricken out. [Report 1943]

199. Separation and deliberation of jury.

(a) A jury once sworn shall not separate unless so ordered by the court, who must then advise them that it is the duty of each juror not to converse with any other juror or person, nor suffer himself to be addressed on the subject of the trial; and that, during the trial it is the duty of each juror to avoid, as far as possible, forming any opinion thereon until the cause is finally submitted to him.

(b) On final submission, the jury shall retire for deliberation, and be kept together in charge of an officer until they agree on a verdict or are discharged by the court, unless the court permits the jurors to separate temporarily overnight, on weekends or holidays, or in emergencies. During their deliberations, the officer in charge must not suffer any communication to be made to them, nor make any himself, except to ask them if they have agreed on a verdict, unless by order of court; nor communicate to any person the state of their deliberations, or the verdict agreed upon before it is rendered. [Report 1943; amendment 1967]

See R.C.P. 203 for less than unanimous verdict

200. Discharge—retrial. The court may discharge a jury because of any accident or calamity requiring it, or by consent of all parties, or when on an amendment a continuance is ordered, or if they have deliberated until it satisfactorily appears that they cannot agree. The case shall be retried immediately or at a future time, as the court directs. [Report 1943]

201. Court open for verdict. The court may adjourn as to other business while the jury is absent, but shall be open for every purpose connected with the cause submitted to the jury until it returns a verdict or is discharged. [Report 1943]

202. Food and lodging. The court may order the sheriff to provide suitable food and lodging at the expense of the county for a jury being kept together to try or deliberate on a cause. [Report 1943]

203. Rendering verdict and answering interrogatories.

(a) Number. Before a general verdict, special verdicts, or answers to interrogatories are returned, the parties may stipulate that the finding may be rendered by a stated majority of the jurors. In the absence of such stipulation, a general verdict, special verdicts, or answers to interrogatories must be rendered unanimously. However, a general verdict, special verdict, or answers to interrogatories may be rendered by all jurors excepting one of the jurors if the jurors have deliberated for a period of not less than six hours after the issues to be decided have been submitted to them.

(b) Return—poll. The jury agreeing on a general verdict, special verdicts, or answers to interrogatories shall bring the finding into court where it shall be read to the jury and inquiry made if it is the jury's finding. A party may then require a poll, whereupon the court or clerk shall ask each juror if it is his finding. If the required number of jurors do not express agreement, the jury shall be sent out for further deliberation; otherwise, the finding is complete and the jury shall be discharged.

(c) Sealed. When, by consent of the parties and the court, the jury has been permitted to seal its finding and separates before it is rendered, such sealing is equivalent to a rendition and a recording thereof in open court, and such jury shall not be polled or permitted to disagree with respect thereto. [Report 1943; amendment 1973; amended by 65GA, ch 315,§4; amendment 1980]

204. Form and entry of verdicts. General verdicts, special verdicts, and answers to interrogatories shall be in writing. When unanimous they shall be signed by the foreman chosen by the jury, and when they are not unanimous they shall be signed by all jurors concurring therein. They shall be sufficient in form if they express the intent of the jury. They shall be filed with the clerk and be entered of record after being put in form by the court if need be. [Report 1943; amendment 1973]

205. Special verdicts. The court may require that the verdict consist wholly of special written findings on each issue of fact. It shall then submit in writing questions susceptible of categorical or brief answers, or forms of several special findings that the jury might properly make under the issues and evidence, or submit the issues and require the findings in any other appropriate manner. It shall so instruct the jury as to enable it to find upon each issue submitted. If the submission omits any issue of fact, any party not demanding submission of such issue before the jury retires waives jury trial thereof, and the court may find upon it; failing which, it shall be deemed found in accord with the judgment on the special verdict. The court shall direct such judgment on the special verdict and answers as is appropriate thereto. [Report 1943]

See federal rule 49

206. Interrogatories. The jury in any case in which it renders a general verdict may be required by the court, and must be so required on the request of any party to the action, to find specially upon any particular questions of fact, to be stated to it in writing, which questions of fact shall be submitted to the attorneys of the adverse party before argument to the jury is commenced. The instructions shall be such as will enable the jury to answer the interrogatories and return the verdict. If both are harmonious, the court shall order the appropriate judgment. If the answers are consistent with each other, but any is inconsistent with the general verdict, the court may order judgment appropriate to the answers notwithstanding the verdict, or a new trial, or send the jury back for further deliberation. If the answers are inconsistent with each other, and any is inconsistent with the verdict, the court shall not order judgment, but either send the jury back or order a new trial. [Report 1943]

See federal rule 49

207. Reference. A "master" includes a referee, auditor or examiner. On a showing of exceptional conditions requiring it, the court may appoint a master as to any issues not to be tried to a jury. The clerk shall forthwith furnish the master with a copy of the order appointing him. [Report 1943]

208. Compensation. The court shall fix the master's compensation and order it paid or advanced by such parties, or from such fund or property, as it may deem just. Execution may issue on such order at the master's demand. He shall not retain his reports as security for his compensation. [Report 1943]

209. Powers. The order may specify or limit the master's powers or duties or the issue on which he is to report, or the time within which he shall hold hearings or file his report; or specify that he merely take and report evidence. But except as so limited he shall have and exercise power to regulate all proceedings before him; to administer oaths and to do all acts and take all measures appropriate for the efficient performance of his duties; to compel production before him of any witness or party, whom he may himself examine, or of any evidence on any matters embraced in the reference, and to rule on admissibility of evidence. He shall, on request, make a record of evidence offered and excluded. He may appoint a shorthand reporter whose fees shall be advanced by the requesting party. [Report 1943]

210. Speedy hearing. Upon his appointment the master shall forthwith notify the parties of the time and place of their first meeting before him, which shall be within twenty days or such other time as the court's order may fix. If a party so notified fails to appear, the master may proceed ex parte, or, in his discretion, adjourn to a future day, giving notice thereof to the absent party. It is the duty of the master to proceed with all reasonable diligence; and the court, after notice to the master and the parties, may order him to expedite proceedings or make his report. [Report 1943]

211. Witnesses. Any party may subpoena witnesses before a master as for trial in open court; and a witness failing to appear or testify without good cause shall be subject to the same punishment and consequences. [Report 1943]

212. Accounts. The master may prescribe the form for submission of accounts which are in issue before him. In any proper case he may require or receive in evidence the statement of a certified public accountant who testifies as a witness. If any item submitted or stated is objected to, or shown insufficient in form, the master may require that a different form be furnished, or that the accounts or any item thereof be proved by oral testimony or written interrogatories of the accounting parties, or in such other manner as he directs. [Report 1943]

213. Filing report. The master shall file with the clerk the original exhibits, and a transcript of the proceedings and evidence before him, if there be one, otherwise his summary thereof, with his report on the matters submitted to him in the order of reference, including separate findings and conclusions if so ordered. He may previously submit a draft of his report to counsel for their suggestions. [Report 1943]

214. Disposition. The clerk shall forthwith mail notice of filing the report to all attorneys of record; and within ten days thereafter, unless the court enlarges the time, any party may file written objections to it. Application for action on said report, or objections, shall be by motion, to be heard on such notice as the court prescribes. The report shall have the same effect whether or not the reference was by consent; but where parties stipulate that the master's findings shall be final, only questions of law arising upon the report shall thereafter be considered. The court shall accept the master's findings of fact unless clearly erroneous; and may adopt, reject or modify the report wholly or in any part, or recommit it with instructions. [Report 1943]

Time computed, §4 1(22)

215. Voluntary dismissal. A party may, without order of court, dismiss his own petition, counterclaim, cross-petition or petition of intervention, at any time before the trial has begun. Thereafter a party may dismiss his action or his claim therein only by consent of the court which may impose such terms or conditions as it deems proper; and it shall require the consent of any other party asserting a counterclaim against the movant, unless that will still remain for an independent adjudication. A dismissal under this rule shall be without prejudice, unless otherwise stated; but if made by any party who has previously dismissed an action against the same defendant, in any court of any state or of the United States, including or based on the same cause, such dismissal shall operate as an adjudication against him on the merits, unless otherwise ordered by the court, in the interests of justice. [Report 1943]

Referred to in §606 22; R C P 217

215.1. Uniform rule for dismissal for want of prosecution. It is the declared policy that in the exercise of reasonable diligence every civil and special action, except under unusual circumstances, shall be brought to issue and tried within one year from the date it is filed and docketed and in most instances within a shorter time.

All cases at law or in equity where the petition has been filed more than one year prior to July 15 of any year shall be for trial at any time prior to January 1 of the next succeeding year. The clerk shall prior to August 15 of each year give notice to counsel of record as provided in R.C.P. 82 of:

- (a) the docket number,
- (b) the names of parties,
- (c) counsel appearing,
- (d) date of filing petition, and the notice shall state that such case will be for trial and subject to dismissal if not tried prior to January 1 of the next succeeding year pursuant to this rule. All such cases shall be assigned and tried or dismissed without prejudice at plaintiff's costs unless satisfactory reasons for want of prosecution or grounds for continuance be shown by application and ruling thereon after notice and not ex parte. This rule shall not apply to cases (a) pending on appeal from a court of record to a higher court or under order of submission to the court; (b) in which proceedings subsequent to judgment or decree are pending; (c) which have been stayed pursuant to the Soldiers and Sailors Civil Relief Act [40 Stat. L. 440; now covered by 50 USC App. §501 et seq.]; (d) where a party is paying a claim pursuant to written stipulation on file or court order; and (e) awaiting the action of a referee, master or other court appointed officer; provided, however, that a finding as to "a" through "e" is made and entered of record. The case shall not be dismissed if there is a timely showing that the original notice and petition have not been served and that the party resisting dismissal has used due diligence in attempting to cause process to be served.

No continuance under this rule shall be by stipulation of parties alone but must be by order of court. Where appropriate the order of continuance shall be to a date certain.

The trial court may, in its discretion, and shall upon a showing that such dismissal was the result of oversight, mistake or other reasonable cause, reinstate the action or actions so dismissed. Application for such reinstatement, setting forth the grounds therefor, shall be filed within six months from the date of dismissal. [Report 1961; amended by 61GA, ch 487, §2; amendment 1969; amendment 1975]

216. Involuntary dismissal. A party may move for dismissal of any action or claim against him or for any appropriate order of court, if the party asserting it fails to comply with these rules or any order of court. After the plaintiff has completed his evidence, a defendant may move for dismissal because plaintiff has shown no right to relief, under the law or facts, without waiving his right to offer evidence thereafter. [Report 1943; amendment 1967]

217. Effect of dismissal. All dismissals not governed by R.C.P. 215 or not for want of jurisdiction or improper venue, shall operate as adjudications on the merits unless they specify otherwise. [Report 1943]

218. Costs of previously dismissed action. Where a plaintiff sues on a cause of action that was previously dismissed against the same defendant in any court of any state or the United States the court may stay such suit until the costs of the prior action are paid. [Report 1943]

(B) Judgments generally

219. Judgment defined. Every final adjudication of any of the rights of the parties in an action is a judgment. [Report 1943]

220. For part—in abatement. A party who succeeds in part only may have judgment expressly for the part on which he succeeds, and against him as to the rest. The findings and judgment must distinguish between matter in abatement and bar; and a judgment in abatement and not on the merits must so declare. [Report 1943]

Bar or abatement, see also R.C.P. 103.

221. As to some parties only. Where the action involves two or more parties, the court may, in its discretion, and though it has jurisdiction of them all, render judgment for or against some of them only, whenever the prevailing party would have been entitled thereto had the action involved him alone, or whenever a several judgment is proper; leaving the action to proceed as to the other parties. [Report 1943]

See also R.C.P. 74.

222. Judgment on the pleadings, etc. Any party may, at any time, on motion, have any judgment to which he is entitled under the uncontroverted facts stated in all the pleadings, or on any portion of his claim or defense which is not controverted, leaving the action to proceed as to any other matter of which such judgment does not dispose. [Report 1943]

223. On verdict. The clerk must forthwith enter judgment upon a verdict when filed, unless it is special, or the court has ordered the case reserved for future argument or consideration. [Report 1943]

For judgment on election by standing on or failing to amend pleading, see R.C.P. 87.

Referred to in R.C.P. 250

224. Principal and surety—order of liability. A judgment against principal and surety shall recite the order of their liability upon it. A "surety" includes all persons whose liability on the claim is posterior to that of another. [Report 1943]

See R.C.P. 41.

Similar provisions, §626 17, 626 64

225. On counterclaim—excess. If any party recovers judgment against an adverse party in excess of a judgment recovered by the latter against him, judgment shall be given for the excess, with any other affirmative relief to which either may be entitled. [Report 1943]

226. By agreement. Except in actions for dissolution of marriage, separate maintenance and annulment of marriage, the clerk shall forthwith enter any judgment upon which all parties agree in open court, or by writing filed with the clerk; and execution may issue forthwith unless otherwise agreed. [Report 1943; Report 1978, effective July 1, 1979]

227. Entry. All judgments and orders must be entered on the record of the court and clearly specify the relief granted or the order made. [Report 1943]

227.1. Taxation of costs. Where an action is disposed of without payment, or provision for assessment, of court costs the clerk shall at once enter judgment for costs against the plaintiff. [Report 1961]

228. Notes surrendered. The clerk shall not, unless by special order of the court, enter or record any judgment based on a note or other written evidence of indebtedness until such note or writing is first filed with him for cancellation. [Report 1943; amendment 1945]

229. Affidavit of identity. The clerk shall not enter a personal judgment until the creditor, his agent or attorney, files an affidavit stating the full name, occupation and residence of the judgment debtor, to affiant's information and belief. If such residence is in an incorporated place of more than five thousand population, the affidavit shall include the street number of debtor's residence and business address, if any. But a judgment entered or recorded without such affidavit shall not be invalid. [Report 1943]

(C) Defaults and judgments thereon

230. Default defined. A party shall be in default whenever he (a) fails to serve, and within a reasonable time thereafter file, a written special appearance, motion or answer as required in R.C.P. 53 or 54, or, has appeared, without thereafter serving any motion or pleading as stated in R.C.P. 87; or (b) fails to move or plead further as required in R.C.P. 86, unless judgment has already resulted under R.C.P. 87; or (c) withdraws his pleading without permission to replead, or withdraws his appearance or fails to present himself for trial; or (d) fails to comply with any order of court or do any act which permits entry of default against him, under any rule or statute. [Report 1943; Report 1978, effective July 1, 1979]

Referred to in R C P 87, 231

231. How entered. If a party not under legal disability or not a prisoner in a reformatory or penitentiary is in default under R.C.P. 230 "a", the clerk, on demand of the adverse party, must forthwith enter such default of record without any order of court. All other defaults shall be entered by the court. [Report 1943]

232. Judgment on default. Judgment upon a default shall be rendered as follows:

(a) Where the claim is for a sum certain, or which by computation, can be made certain, the clerk, upon request, shall make such computation as may be necessary, and upon affidavit that the amount is due shall enter judgment for that amount, and costs against the party in default.

(b) In all cases the court on motion of the prevailing party, shall order the judgment to which he is entitled, and the clerk shall enter the judgment so ordered. If no judge is holding court in the county, such order may be made by a judge anywhere in the judicial district as provided in R.C.P. 120. The court may, and on demand of any party not in default shall, either hear any evidence or accounting required to warrant the judgment or refer it to a master; or submit it to a jury if proper demand has been made therefor under R.C.P. 177. [Report 1943; Report 1978, effective July 1, 1979]

See R.C.P. 13, 14, 17 and 71 as to hearings on default against incompetents, prisoners, etc., and guardians ad litem therein.

See R.C.P. 46 and 47 as to required hearing in defaulted class suit.

Referred to in R C P 87

233. Notice—notice of default in certain cases. When any judgment other than one in rem has been taken by default against a party served with notice delivered to another person as provided in R.C.P. 56.1 "a", the clerk shall immediately give written notice thereof, by ordinary mail to such party at his last known address, or the address where such service was had. The clerk shall make a record of such mailing. Failure to give such notice shall not invalidate the judgment. [Report 1943]

234. On published service. No personal judgment shall be entered against a person served only by publication or by publication and mailing, as provided in R.C.P. 60.1, unless he has appeared. [Report 1943; amendment 1951]

235. Relief in other cases. The judgment may award any relief consistent with the petition and embraced in its issues; but unless the defaulting party has appeared, it cannot exceed what is demanded against him in the petition as limited by the original notice. [Report 1943]

236. Setting aside default. On motion and for good cause shown, and upon such terms as the court prescribes, but not ex parte, the court may set aside a default or the judgment thereon, for mistake, inadvertence, surprise, excusable neglect or unavoidable casualty. Such motion must be filed promptly after the discovery of the grounds thereof, but not more than sixty days after entry of the judgment. Its filing shall not affect the finality of the judgment or impair its operation. [Report 1943]

For new trial after 60 days, see R.C.P. 251—253.

Referred to in R C P 253

(D) Summary judgments

237. On what claims. Summary judgment may be had under the following conditions and circumstances:

(a) For claimant. A party seeking to recover upon a claim, counterclaim, or cross-claim or to obtain a declaratory judgment may, at any time after the appearance day or after the filing of a motion for summary judgment by the adverse party, move with or without supporting affidavits for a summary judgment in his favor upon all or any part thereof.

(b) For defending party. A party against whom a claim, counterclaim, or cross-claim is asserted or a declaratory judgment is sought may, at any time, move with or without supporting affidavits for a summary judgment in his favor as to all or any part thereof.

(c) Motion and proceedings thereon. The motion shall be filed at least ten days before the time fixed for the hearing. The adverse party prior to the day of hearing may file opposing affidavits. The judgment sought shall be rendered forthwith if the pleadings, depositions, answers to interrogatories, and admissions on file, together with the affidavits, if any, show that there is no genuine issue as to any material fact and that the moving party is entitled to a judgment as a matter of law. A summary judgment, interlocutory in character, may be rendered on the issue of liability alone although there is a genuine issue as to the amount of damages. If summary judgment is rendered on the entire case, R.C.P. 179 "b" shall apply.

(d) Case not fully adjudicated on motion. If on motion under this rule judgment is not rendered upon the whole case or for all the relief asked and a trial is necessary, the court at the hearing of the motion, by examining the pleadings and the evidence before it and by interrogating counsel, shall if practicable ascertain what material facts exist without substantial controversy and what material facts are actually and in good faith controverted. It shall thereupon make an order specifying the facts that appear without substantial controversy, including the extent to which the amount of damages or other relief is not in controversy, and directing such further proceedings in the action as are just. Upon the trial of the action the facts so specified shall be deemed established, and the trial shall be conducted accordingly.

(e) Form of affidavits—further testimony—defense required. Supporting and opposing affidavits shall be made on personal knowledge, shall set forth such facts as would be admissible in evidence, and shall show affirmatively that the affiant is competent to testify to the matters stated therein. Sworn or certified copies of all papers or parts thereof referred to in an affidavit shall be attached thereto or filed therewith. The court may permit affidavits to be supplemented or opposed by depositions, answers to interrogatories, further affidavits, or oral testimony. When a motion for summary judgment is made and supported as provided in this rule, an adverse party may not rest upon the mere allegations or denials of his pleading, but his response, by affidavits or as otherwise provided in this rule, must set forth specific facts showing that there is a genuine issue for trial. If he does not so respond, summary judgment, if appropriate, shall be entered against him.

(f) When affidavits are unavailable. Should it appear from the affidavits of a party opposing the motion that he cannot for reasons stated present by affidavit facts essential to justify his opposition, the court may refuse the application for judgment or may order a continuance to permit affidavits to be obtained or depositions to be taken or discovery to be had or may make such other order as is just.

(g) Affidavits made in bad faith. Should it appear to the satisfaction of the court at any time that any of the affidavits presented pursuant to this rule are presented in bad faith or solely for the purpose of delay, the court shall forthwith order the party employing them to pay to the other party the amount of the reasonable expenses which the filing of the affidavits caused him to incur, including reasonable attorney's fees, and any offending party or attorney may be adjudged guilty of contempt.

(h) Supporting statement and memorandum. Upon any motion for summary judgment pursuant to this rule, there shall be annexed to the motion a separate, short and concise statement of the material facts as to which the moving party contends there is no genuine issue to be tried, including specific reference to those parts of the pleadings, depositions, answers to interrogatories, admissions on file and affidavits which support such contentions and a memorandum of authorities. [Report 1943; amendment 1967; amendment 1975; amendment 1980]

Referred to in R.C.P. 238, 240

238. Procedure. Motions and affidavits relating to any claim under R.C.P. 237 shall be filed and copies delivered as provided in R.C.P. 82 and hearing shall be had thereon as provided in R.C.P. 117. [Report 1943; amendment 1967]

Time computed, §4 1(22)

239. On motion in other cases. Judgments may be obtained on motion by sureties against principals or cosureties for money due because paid by them as such; by clients against attorneys, by plaintiffs in execution against sheriffs, constables or other officers for money or property collected by them, and for damages; and in all other cases specially authorized by statute. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R.C.P. 240

See also §626 19

240. Procedure. If motion under R.C.P. 239 is filed in an action already pending, the procedure shall be as in R.C.P. 237. Otherwise notice shall be served on the party against whom relief is sought at least ten days before the hearing thereof, stating when the motion will be filed and, in plain ordinary language, its nature and grounds, fixing the time and place of the hearing thereon. If the motion is not filed by the day specified it shall be deemed abandoned, if it is filed the court shall hear it at the time fixed in the notice without further pleadings, and give judgment according to the very right of the matter. [Report 1943; amendment 1967]

For declaratory judgments, a species of special action, see R.C.P. 261, et seq.

DIVISION X PROCEEDINGS AFTER JUDGMENT

241. Bill of exceptions.

(a) When necessary. A bill of exceptions shall be necessary only to effect a showing of material portions of the record of the cause not shown by the court files, entries, or legally certified shorthand notes of the trial, if any.

(b) Affidavits. Not more than five affidavits in support of any exception may be filed with the bill. Controverting affidavits, not exceeding five, may be filed within seven days thereafter; the court, for good cause shown, may extend the time for filing such affidavits.

(c) Certification—judge—bystanders. The proposed bill of exceptions shall be promptly presented to the trial judge, who shall sign it if it fairly presents the facts. If he refuses, and counsel so certifies, and at least two bystanders attest in writing that the exceptions are correctly stated, the bill thus certified and attested shall be filed and become part of the record.

(d) Disability. Whenever the judge or master who tried the cause is for any reason unable to sign a bill of exceptions or certify the shorthand reporter's record, the same may be done by his successor, or by any judge of the court in which the proceeding was pending. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R.C.P. 83, 247, R App P 10

242. New trial defined. A new trial is the re-examination in the same court of any issue of fact or part thereof, after a verdict, or master's report, or a decision of the court. [Report 1943]

243. Judgment notwithstanding verdict, etc. Any party may, on motion, have judgment in his favor despite an adverse verdict, or the jury's failure to return any verdict:

(a) If the pleadings of the opposing party omit to aver some material fact or facts necessary to constitute a complete cause of action or defense and the motion clearly specifies such failure or omission; or

See also R.C.P. 244 (i).

(b) If the movant was entitled to have a verdict directed for him at the close of all the evidence, and moved therefor, and the jury did not return such verdict, the court may then either grant a new trial or enter judgment as though it had directed a verdict for the movant. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R.C.P. 83, 244—250, R.App.P. 26

244. New trial. The aggrieved party may, on motion, have an adverse verdict, decision or report or some portion thereof vacated and a new trial granted, for any of the following causes, but only if they materially affected his substantial rights:

(a) Irregularity in the proceedings of the court, jury, master, or prevailing party; or any order of the court or master or abuse of discretion which prevented the movant from having a fair trial;

(b) Misconduct of the jury or prevailing party;

(c) Accident or surprise which ordinary prudence could not have guarded against;

(d) Excessive or inadequate damages appearing to have been influenced by passion or prejudice;

(e) Error in fixing the amount of the recovery, whether too large or too small, in an action upon contract or for injury to or detention of property;

(f) That the verdict, report or decision is not sustained by sufficient evidence, or is contrary to law;

(g) Material evidence, newly discovered, which could not with reasonable diligence have been discovered and produced at the trial;

(h) Errors of law occurring in the proceedings, or mistakes of fact by the court;

(i) On any ground stated in R.C.P. 243, the motion specifying the defect or cause giving rise thereto. [Report 1943; amendment 1945]

For setting aside defaults, see R.C.P. 236; other new trials, see R.C.P. 251 and 252.

Referred to in R.C.P. 83, 245—250, 252, 253

245. Motion—affidavits. Motion under R.C.P. 243 and 244 shall be in writing; and if based on grounds stated in R.C.P. 244 (b), 244 (c), or 244 (g) may be sustained and controverted by affidavits and heard pursuant to R.C.P. 116. [Report 1943]

246. Stay. If motions under R.C.P. 243 or 244 or petition under R.C.P. 252 are timely filed, the court may, in its discretion and on such terms, if any, as it deems proper order a stay of any or all further proceedings, executions or process to enforce the judgment, pending disposition of such motion or petition. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R.C.P. 253

247. Time for motions and exceptions. Motions under R.C.P. 243 and 244 and bills of exception under R.C.P. 241 must be filed within ten days after the verdict, report or decision is filed, or the jury is discharged, as the case may be, unless the court, for good cause shown and not ex parte, grants an additional time not to exceed thirty days. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R.App.P. 5

Time computed, §4 1(22)

248. Conditional rulings on grant of motion. Any motion may be filed under R.C.P. 243 or 244 without waiving the right to file or rely on any other of such motions.

(a) If the motion for judgment notwithstanding the verdict provided for in R.C.P. 243 is granted, the court shall also rule on the motion for a new trial, if any, by determining whether it should be granted if the judgment is thereafter vacated or reversed, and shall specify the grounds for granting or denying the motion for the new trial. If the motion for a new trial is thus conditionally granted, the order thereon does not affect the finality of the judgment. In case the motion for a new trial has been conditionally granted and the judgment is reversed on appeal, the new trial shall proceed unless otherwise ordered by the supreme court. In case the motion for a new trial has been conditionally denied, the appellee on appeal may assert error in that denial; and if the judgment is reversed on appeal, subsequent proceedings shall be in accordance with the order of the supreme court.

(b) The party whose verdict has been set aside on motion for judgment notwithstanding the verdict may file a motion for a new trial pursuant to R.C.P. 244, not later than ten days after the entry of the judgment notwithstanding the verdict. [Report 1943; amendment 1953; amendment 1973]

249. Issues tried by consent—amendment. In deciding motions under R.C.P. 243 or 244, the court shall treat issues actually tried by express or implied consent of the parties but not embraced in the pleadings, as though they had been pleaded. Either party may then amend to conform his pleadings to such issues and the evidence upon them; but failure so to amend shall not affect the result of the trial. [Report 1943]

Amendments generally, R.C.P. 88

250. Conditional new trial. The court may permit a party to avoid a new trial under R.C.P. 243 or 244 by agreeing to such terms or conditions as it may impose, which shall then be shown of record and a judgment entered accordingly.

Any such term or condition or judgment entered pursuant thereto shall be deemed of no force and effect and the original judgment entered pursuant to R.C.P. 223 shall be deemed reinstated in the event of an appeal. [Report 1943; amendment 1953]

251. Retrial after published notice.

(a) Retrial. Except in actions for dissolution of marriage and annulment of marriage, if judgment is entered against a defendant who did not appear and was served only by publication or by publication and mailing, as provided in R.C.P. 60.1, he or any person legally representing him may apply for retrial within six months after entry of judgment, and on giving security for costs is then entitled to his defense and trial as though there were no judgment.

(b) New judgment. After such retrial, the court may confirm the judgment, or modify or set it aside and order a party to restore any money or property remaining in his possession under it, or to repay the value of any money or property he thus received. [Report 1943; amendment 1951; Report 1978, effective July 1, 1979]

For effect on title of good faith purchaser, see R.C.P. 254.

Referred to in R.C.P. 254 §647 2
Time computed §4 1(22)

252. Judgment vacated or modified—grounds. Upon timely petition and notice under R.C.P. 253 the court may correct, vacate or modify a final judgment or order, or grant a new trial on any of the following grounds:

- (a) Mistake, neglect or omission of the clerk;
- (b) Irregularity or fraud practiced in obtaining the same;
- (c) Erroneous proceedings against a minor or person of unsound mind, when such errors or condition of mind do not appear in the record;
- (d) Death of a party before entry of the judgment or order, and its entry without substitution of his proper representative;
- (e) Unavoidable casualty or misfortune preventing the party from prosecuting or defending;
- (f) Material evidence, newly discovered, which could not with reasonable diligence have been discovered and produced at the trial, and was not discovered within the time for moving for new trial under R.C.P. 244. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R.C.P. 60 246 253 254 255

253. Petition, notice, trial.

(a) Petition. A petition for relief under R.C.P. 252 must be filed in the original action within one year after the rendition of the judgment or order involved. It shall state the grounds for relief, and, if it seeks a new trial, show that they could not have been discovered in time to proceed under R.C.P. 236 or 244, and were discovered afterwards. Unless the pleadings in the original action alleged a meritorious action or defense the petition shall do so. It shall be supported by affidavit as provided in R.C.P. 80 "b".

(b) Notice. After filing the petition, and also within the year aforesaid, petitioner must serve the adverse party with an original notice in the manner provided in division III of these rules.

(c) Trial. The court shall promptly assign the petition for trial, not less than twenty days after notice is served. The petition shall stand denied without answer; otherwise the issues and pleadings, and form and manner of the trial shall be the same, as nearly as may be, as in the trial of an ordinary action to the court, and with the same right of appeal. No new cause of action shall be introduced.

(d) Preliminary determination. The court may try and determine the validity of the grounds to vacate or modify a judgment or order before trying the validity of the cause of action or defense claimed.

(e) Judgment. After a stay under R.C.P. 246 if the original judgment or order is affirmed, additional judgment shall be entered against the petitioner for the costs of the trial, and also, in the court's discretion, for damages not exceeding ten percent of the judgment affirmed. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R.C.P. 60 252, 254 255
See also ch 683

253.1. Disposition of exhibits. One year after the final determination of a case, the clerk may destroy all exhibits filed with him provided that he shall notify counsel of record in writing that the exhibits will be destroyed unless receipted for within sixty days thereafter. [Report 1965]

See also ch 683

254. Titles and liens protected.

(a) The title of a good faith purchaser to property sold under the original judgment shall not be affected or impaired by any judgment, order or proceeding under R.C.P. 251 to 253, inclusive.

(b) If the original judgment is merely modified pursuant to either of said rules, all liens or securities obtained under it shall be preserved in the modified judgment. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R.C.P. 265
See also ch 683

255. Other proceedings not invoked. Code sections 12255-12257, inclusive [Code 1939] shall not be invoked. R.C.P. 252, 253 and 254 shall apply in lieu thereof. [Report 1943]

See also ch 646

256. Judgment discharged on motion. Where matter in discharge of a judgment has arisen since its rendition, the defendant or any interested person may, on motion in a summary way, have the same discharged in whole or in part, according to the circumstances. [Report 1943]

257. Fraudulent assignment—motion. The court may, on motion, inquire into the assignment of a judgment, or its entry to the use of any party, and cancel the assignment or strike out such use, in whole or in part, whenever it determines the same to be inequitable, fraudulent or done in bad faith. [Report 1943]

258. Execution—duty of officer. An officer receiving an execution must execute it with diligence. He shall levy on such property of the judgment debtor as is likely to bring the exact amount, as nearly as practicable. He may make successive levies if necessary. He shall collect the things in action, by suit in his own name if need be, or sell them. He shall sell sufficient property levied on to satisfy the execution, paying the proceeds, less his own costs, to the clerk. [Report 1943]

Analogous provision §639 26

See also ch 626

259. Endorsement. The officer shall endorse on the execution, the day and hour he receives it; and the levy, sale, or other act done by virtue of it, with the date thereof; and the date and amount of any receipts or payments toward its satisfaction. Each endorsement shall be made at the time of the act or receipt; but no levy or sale under the execution shall be impaired by failure to make any such endorsement at the time here provided. [Report 1943]

Sales legalized §588 1

See also ch 626

260. Levy on personalty. Levy on personalty may be made under an attachment or general execution by either of the following methods, but no lien is created until compliance with one of them.

(a) By the officer taking possession of the property, and appending to the execution its exact description at length, with the date of the levy, and affixing his signature; or

(b) If the creditor or his agent first so requests in writing, the officer may view the property, inventory its exact description at length, and append such inventory to the execution, with his signed statement of the number and title of the case, the amount claimed under the execution, the exact location of the property and in whose possession and the last known address of the judgment debtor; and, if the property is consumer goods or if the judgment debtor is not a resident of this state, file with the county recorder of the county where the property is located his certified transcript of such inventory and statement; and, in all other cases, file with the secretary of state his certified transcript of such inventory and statement. Such filing shall be accepted by the county recorder or the secretary of state as a financing statement and shall be marked, indexed and certified in the same manner, and shall be constructive notice of the levy to all persons. Whenever the writ is satisfied or the levy discharged the officer shall file a termination statement with the county recorder or secretary of state. The fees normally charged by the county recorder or secretary of state for the filing of a financing statement and the filing of a termination statement shall be paid by the officer and shall be taxed by him as a part of his costs of the levy. [Report 1943; amendment 1967; amendment 1975]

See also ch 626

DIVISION XI DECLARATORY JUDGMENTS

261. Declaratory judgments permitted. Courts of record within their respective jurisdictions shall declare rights, status, and other legal relations whether or not further relief is or could be claimed. It shall be no objection that a declaratory judgment or decree is prayed for. The declaration may be either affirmative or negative in form or effect, and such declarations shall have the force and effect of a final decree. The existence of another remedy does not preclude a judgment for declaratory relief in cases where it is appropriate. The enumeration in the next three rules does not limit or restrict the exercise of the general power herein referred to. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R C P 267, 268, 269

262. Construing contracts, etc. Any person interested in a contract, oral or written, or a will, or whose rights, status or other legal relations are affected by a statute, or any municipal ordinance, rule, regulation, contract or franchise, may have determined any question of the construction or validity thereof or arising thereunder, and obtain a declaration of rights, status or legal relations thereunder. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R C P 267, 268, 269

263. Before or after breach. A contract may be construed either before or after there has been a breach thereof. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R C P 267, 268, 269

264. Fiduciaries, beneficiaries. Any person interested as or through an executor, administrator, trustee, guardian or other fiduciary, creditor, devisee, legatee, heir, next of kin or cestui que trust, in the administration of a trust or the estate of a decedent, insolvent, an infant or other person for whom a guardian has been appointed, may have a declaration of rights or legal relations in respect thereto:

(a) To ascertain any class of creditors, devisees, legatees, heirs, next of kin or others; or

(b) To direct executors, administrators, guardians, trustees or other fiduciaries, to do or abstain from doing any particular act in their fiduciary capacity; or

(c) To determine any question arising in the administration of the estate, guardianship or trust, including questions of construction of wills and other writings. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R C P 267, 268, 269

265. Discretionary. The court may refuse to render a declaratory judgment or decree where it would not, if rendered, terminate the uncertainty or controversy giving rise to the proceeding. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R C P 267, 268, 269

266. Supplemental relief. Supplemental relief based on a declaratory judgment may be granted wherever necessary or proper. The application therefor shall be by petition in the original case. If the court deems the petition sufficient, it shall, on such reasonable notice as it prescribes, require any adverse party whose rights have been adjudicated to show cause why such relief should not be granted forthwith. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R C P 267, 268, 269

267. Review. All orders, judgments or decrees under R.C.P. 261—266 inclusive, may be reviewed as other judgments, orders or decrees. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R C P 268, 269

268. Jury trial. The right of trial by jury shall not be abridged or extended by R.C.P. 261—267. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R C P 269

269. "Person." The word "person", in R.C.P. 261—268, shall include any individual or entity capable of suing or being sued under the laws of Iowa. [Report 1943]

DIVISION XII PARTITION OF REAL AND PERSONAL PROPERTY

See also chapter 651 of the Code

270. The action—pending probate. Real or personal property may be partitioned by equitable proceedings. Where the entire interest in real estate is owned by a decedent on whose estate administration or probate is pending, the action cannot be begun until six months after the second publication of the notice of the appointment of the personal representative, nor at any time while an application for authority to sell such real estate is pending in the probate proceeding. [Report 1943; amendment 1967]

271. Petition. The petition shall describe the property and plaintiff's interest therein. It shall name the other owners and all indispensable lienholders as defined in R.C.P. 273 "a", and state the nature and extent of each interest or lien, all so far as known. [Report 1943]

272. Abstracts. The court may order a complete abstract to be filed covering any real estate involved, requiring that any party produce any abstract he has or controls, and that plaintiff complete the same, or supply the whole if no part is available. The expense thereof shall be taxed as costs. Such abstracts shall be available for use of the court or any party during the proceedings. A like order may be made as to plats and surveys. [Report 1943]

273. Parties.

(a) Indispensable parties. All owners of undivided interests, and all holders of liens against less than the entire property are indispensable parties to any partition. All holders of any liens on personalty are also indispensable to its partition.

(b) Optional parties. Other persons having actual, apparent, claimed or contingent interests, and holders of liens on the entire real estate, may also be made parties. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R.C.P. 271

274. Early appearance. After a petition is filed seeking partition of personalty only, the court may order appearance and hearing at any specified time and place in the judicial district on not less than five days' personal service of original notice on all defendants. [Report 1943]

275. Joinder and counterclaim. Except as permitted by this rule there shall be no joinder of any other cause of action and no counterclaim. But any party may perfect or quiet title to the property, or have an adjudication of the rights of any or all parties as to any or all matters growing out of or connected with it, including liens between them. Real and personal property owned by the same persons may be partitioned in the same action; and the same referee may act as to both. [Report 1943]

276. Jurisdiction of property—proceeds. The property or its proceeds shall be subject to the order of the court until the right becomes fully vested. After a sale, each party, including holders of liens from which the property has been freed by the sale, shall have the same rights or interests in the proceeds as they had in the property sold, subject to a prior charge for costs. [Report 1943]

277. Estate less than fee. The court shall make suitable provision as to the proceeds of any share held for life or years or in remainder, which may be done by appointing a trustee for the proceeds involved. [Report 1943]

278. Division or sale. Property shall be partitioned by sale and division of the proceeds, unless a party prays for partition in kind by its division into parcels, and shows that such partition is equitable and practicable. But personalty which is subject to any lien on the whole or any part can only be partitioned by sale. [Report 1943]

279. Decree. The decree shall establish the shares and interests of the owners in the property. A decree for partition in kind shall appoint three referees unless the parties agree on a smaller number. A decree ordering a sale shall appoint one or more referees, and three disinterested freeholders to appraise the property, and may direct either a public or private sale. All other matters involved in the cause, including those relating to liens, may be determined by the same decree, or later supplemental decree or decrees. [Report 1943]

280. Liens. The court shall by supplemental decree, adjudge the nature, extent, priority or validity of any lien of any party, not previously determined, after causing the referees to give such notice to the interested parties as it may prescribe, and upon issues made up as the court directs. No partition in kind shall be had until after such adjudication; but a sale need not wait thereon, and the pendency of any such controversy shall not delay distribution of the proceeds to any party not affected by the lien. [Report 1943]

281. Sale free of liens. Personalty must be sold free of liens. Real property must be sold free of all liens, except those which are held against the entire property sold. [Report 1943]

For initial or supplemental decree as to liens, see R.C.P. 279 and 280.

282. Possession and preservation of property. The court may order the referee to lease or take possession of any property involved in the action. It may also preserve the property either by injunction or by any other appropriate provision for its care and custody. Expenses incurred under this rule, when allowed by the court, shall be part of the costs. [Report 1943]

283. Referees to divide—oath—inability. Referees authorized to make partition in kind shall qualify by taking oath and need give no bond. If they are unable to make such division, they shall so report to the court, which will then order a sale of personal property without further notice. As to real estate, such report will be heard under R.C.P. 286, whereupon any further decree of sale or otherwise, may be made which is proper under the exigencies of the case. [Report 1943]

284. Partition in kind. The referees who partition real estate in kind shall mark out each parcel by visible monuments, and file report thereof. They may employ a surveyor or assistants to aid them, if necessary, whose fees and expenses, when allowed by the court, shall be part of the costs. [Report 1943]

285. Specific allotment. The court may, for good reasons shown, order referees making a partition in kind to allot a particular tract or article to a particular party. [Report 1943]

286. Report—notice—hearing. Referees shall file a report of their proposed partition in kind, describing with reasonable particularity the respective shares and the specific property allotted to each owner, with a plat of any real estate involved. The court shall promptly fix a time and place of hearing thereon, and the referee shall give at least ten days' notice thereof in such manner as the court directs. On hearing, the court may approve, modify or disapprove the report, and refer it to the same or different referees or order a sale. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R.C.P. 283

287. Decree—recording.

(a) Decree—costs. On approving a partition in kind, the court shall enter a decree allotting each party the property or share set off to him, apportioning the costs among the allottees and entering judgment against each for his share thereof, which shall be a lien on the property allotted to him, and for which special execution may issue on demand of anyone interested.

Further as to costs, see R.C.P. 293.

(b) Recording. If the decree involves real estate, the clerk shall file with the recorder of his own county and each other county where any of the real estate lies, a certified transcript of so much of the decree as shows the book and page where it is recorded, the confirmation of the shares and interests in the property apportioned, the names of the parties found entitled to share therein, and an accurate description of each parcel allotted to each several owner. Such transcript shall be presented to the county auditor for transfer, and recorded in the deed records, and indexed as a conveyance of each parcel, with the name of the allottee as grantee and names of all other parties as grantors. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R C P 293

288. Referees to sell—bond. A referee to make sale shall qualify by taking oath. No bond shall be required before the referee conveys real estate unless he is to sell personally or take possession of real estate or is to receive a payment on the sale before conveyance, in which case, he shall give such bond as the court directs. Before conveying real estate, he shall also give bond for one hundred twenty-five percent of the total sale price, payable to the parties entitled to the proceeds, conditioned for the faithful discharge of his duties in connection with the sale and its proceeds. [Report 1943; amendment 1945]

289. Sales—notice—expense—approval.

(a) Approval. All sales shall be subject to the approval of the court, unless it dispenses with approval of a public sale of personalty, which may then be sold on full payment of the price bid.

(b) Expense. If authorized by the court, referees may advertise the sale beyond the required notice, or employ an auctioneer, clerk or assistant; and the expense thereof when allowed by the court, shall be part of the costs.

(c) Notice of public sale. The referees shall give notice of the time and place of any public sale, by two publications, at least six days apart, in some newspaper of general circulation in the county where the sale is to be held. The last publication shall be at least seven days prior to the sale in case of real estate, and at least four days prior thereto in case of personalty. [Report 1943]

Notice, §626 74 et seq

290. Report of sale—notice.

(a) Generally. The referees shall report all proposed sales to the court, which in its discretion, may require a hearing thereon at a specified time and place, in which event the referees shall give notice to the interested parties as the court then directs.

(b) Notice mandatory. Such notice and hearing must be accorded to any party who, before the report is approved, files with the clerk, a duplicate request therefor, bearing his name and the address to which notice is to be sent. The clerk shall docket the request, and transmit the copy to any referee forthwith, or if none has been appointed, then as soon as appointment is made. The referee shall mail notice of the hearing to such party at his address shown in the request within a time prescribed by the court, which may direct that other parties be also notified. [Report 1943]

291. Approving sale—conveyance. The court by express order may approve a private sale though it be for less than the appraised value. No real estate shall be conveyed until the sale is approved by the court; and no conveyance shall be made until the price is fully paid. [Report 1943]

292. Deed—validity. A referee's deed, recorded in the county where the land lies, shall be valid against all subsequent purchasers, and against all persons interested at the time, who were parties to the proceeding. [Report 1943]

293. Costs. All costs shall be advanced by the plaintiff, but eventually paid by all parties proportionately to their interests; except costs created by contests, which shall be taxed against the losing contestant unless otherwise ordered. No contest shall deprive plaintiff's attorney of the fee specified in R.C.P. 294. If partition is in kind, costs shall be adjudged, and may be collected as provided in R.C.P. 287 "a". If partition is by sale, the costs shall be paid from the proceeds and deducted from the shares of the parties against whom they are taxed. These remedies for collecting costs shall be cumulative of other remedies. [Report 1943]

294. Attorney fees. On partition of real estate, but not of personalty, the court shall fix, and tax as costs, a fee in favor of plaintiff's attorney, which cannot exceed the following amount, computed on the sale price, or by appraisal if no sale is made:

1. On the first two hundred dollars or fraction thereof obtained, ten percent;
2. On the excess of two hundred to five hundred dollars, five percent;
3. On the excess of five hundred to one thousand dollars, three percent; and
4. On all sums in excess of one thousand dollars, two percent. Provided further that in contested partition cases, plaintiff's attorney shall receive such additional reasonable compensation as the court may allow, to be taxed as part of the costs. [Report 1943; amendment 1955]

Referred to in R C P 293

295. Other fees. Appraisers and referees in all partition suits, as well as any attorney employed by a referee with approval of the court, shall receive such reasonable compensation as the court allows, which shall be part of the costs. [Report 1943]

296. Final reports. Unless all interested parties waive it in writing, the court shall fix a time and place of hearing the referee's final report, and prescribe the time and manner of notice which the referees shall give to all interested persons. [Report 1943]

297. Paying small sums. Whenever a minor, having no legal guardian, is entitled to proceeds of a partition sale, not in excess of one thousand dollars, the court may order the referee discharged of all liability therefor, by paying them to the minor's parent or natural guardian, or the person with whom he resides, for the use of such minor, and taking a receipt therefor. [Report 1943; amendment 1961; amendment 1973]

See also §633 108 633 676 633 678 633 681

298. Unborn parties. When a person not in being may have a contingent or a prospective vested interest as a cotenant of real estate, the court shall have jurisdiction over the interest of such person, and shall appoint a suitable guardian ad litem, to act for him in such proceeding, and R.C.P. 12 to 14 shall apply in such cases. The decree of partition and the division or sale thereunder shall be of the same force and effect as to all such persons, or persons claiming by, through or under them, as though they were in being when the decree was entered, and the property or proceeds of the interest of such person shall be subject to the order of the court until the right thereto becomes fully vested. [Report 1943]

DIVISION XIII QUO WARRANTO

See also chapter 660 of the Code

299. For what causes. A civil action in the nature of quo warranto, triable by equitable proceedings, may be brought in the name of the state against any defendant who is:

(a) Unlawfully holding or exercising any public office or franchise in Iowa, or an office in any Iowa corporation; or

(b) A public officer who has done or suffered to be done, an act which works a forfeiture of his office; or

(c) Acting as a corporation in Iowa without being authorized by law so to act; or

(d) A corporation exercising powers not conferred by law, or doing or omitting acts, which work a forfeiture of its corporate rights or privileges; or

(e) A person or corporation claiming under a patent, permit, certificate of convenience and necessity or license of any nature which was granted by the state because of fraud, or mistake or ignorance of a material fact, or the terms of which have expired or been violated by the defendant, or which the defendant has in any manner forfeited. The action in such cases shall be to annul or vacate the patent, permit, certificate or license in question. [Report 1943]

300. By whom brought.

(a) The county attorney of the county where the action lies may bring it in his discretion, and must do so when directed by the governor, general assembly or the supreme or district court, unless he may be a defendant, in which event the attorney general may, and shall when so directed, bring the action.

(b) If on demand of any citizen of the state, the county attorney fails to bring the action, the attorney general may do so, or such citizen may apply to the court where the action lies for leave to bring it. On leave so granted, and after filing bond for costs in an amount fixed by the court, with sureties approved by the clerk, the citizen may bring the action and prosecute it to completion. [Report 1943]

301. No joinder or counterclaim. In such action there shall be no joinder of any other cause of action, and no counterclaim. [Report 1943]

302. Petition. The petition shall state the grounds on which the action is brought, and if it involves an office, franchise or right claimed by others than the defendant, it shall name them; and they may be made parties. [Report 1943]

303. Judgment.

(a) The judgment shall determine all rights and claims of all parties respecting the matters involved, and shall include any provision necessary to enforce their rights as so determined, or to accomplish the objects of the decision.

(b) The judgment shall also determine which party, if any, is entitled to hold any office in controversy.

(c) If a party is unlawfully holding or exercising any office, franchise or privilege, or if a corporation has violated the law by which it exists or been guilty of any act or omission which amounts to a surrender or forfeiture of its privileges, the judgment shall oust such party from such office or franchise, or forfeit such privilege, and forbid such party to exercise or use any such office, franchise or privilege.

(d) If a party has merely exercised powers or privileges to which he was not entitled, but which does not warrant forfeiture under the law, the judgment shall prohibit him from the further exercise thereof. [Report 1943]

Manner of qualifying, ch 63

304. Costs.

(a) Judgment against any defendant or intervenor shall include judgment for the costs of the action. Judgment against a pretended corporation shall adjudge the costs against the person or persons acting as such.

(b) If the action fails, the court may adjudge the costs against any private individual who brought it; otherwise they shall be paid as provided by the statutes governing costs in criminal cases. [Report 1943]

305. Corporation dissolved. If the judgment dissolves a corporation, the court shall make appropriate orders for the dissolution as provided by the statutes in force. [Report 1943]

DIVISION XIV CERTIORARI

306. When writ may issue. A writ of certiorari shall only be granted when specifically authorized by statute; or where an inferior tribunal, board or officer, exercising judicial functions, is alleged to have exceeded its, or his proper jurisdiction or otherwise acted illegally. [Report 1943]

Referred to in Ct R. 14

307. Title. The petition shall be entitled in the name of the petitioner as plaintiff, against the inferior tribunal, board or officer as defendant. [Report 1943]

308. Other remedies. The writ shall not be denied or annulled because plaintiff has another plain, speedy or adequate remedy; but the relief by way of certiorari shall be strictly limited to questions of jurisdiction or illegality of the acts complained of, unless otherwise specially provided by statute. [Report 1943]

See also R.C.P. 107 as to treating petition as one for other proper relief.

309. The writ. The writ may be granted only by the district court acting through a district judge unless it is directed to that court, a district judge, a district associate judge, or a full-time magistrate appointed pursuant to section 602.51 or section 602.59, The Code, and then by the supreme court or a justice thereof. Only the district court acting through a district judge may grant the writ directed at a part-time judicial magistrate appointed pursuant to section 602.50 or section 602.58, The Code. The writ shall be issued by the clerk of the court where the petition is filed, under its seal. It shall command the defendant to certify to that court, at a specified time and place, a transcript of so much of defendant's records and proceedings as are complained of in the petition or as may be pertinent thereto, together with the facts of the case, describing or referring to them or any of them with convenient certainty; and also to have then and there the writ. [Report 1943; Report 1978, effective July 1, 1979]

310. Stay—bond. The court or justice granting the writ may, in its or his discretion, stay the original proceedings, though no stay is asked. Such stay, when sought by plaintiff, can be granted only on his filing bond with penalty and conditions, including security for costs, prescribed by such court or justice, and sureties approved by it or its clerk. [Report 1943]

311. Notice of issuing writ. The writ may issue without notice on filing the petition, unless it is filed before a final order or decree in the original proceedings, or the plaintiff seeks a stay. Before issuing the writ in the latter cases, the court or justice shall, and in any case may in his discretion, fix a time and place for hearing and prescribe reasonable notice to defendant thereof. Such hearing shall be confined to the sufficiency of the petition, what records or proceedings shall be certified, and the terms of any bond to be given. [Report 1943]

312. Service of writ. Unless the defendant accepts service of the writ, it shall be served by a sheriff or deputy sheriff. If directed to a court, service shall be on a judge or clerk thereof; if to a board or other tribunal on its secretary, clerk or any member. Service shall be by delivery of the original writ; and a copy, with return of service, shall be returned to the office of its issuance. [Report 1943]

Personal service, R.C.P. 56 1

313. Return to writ—by whom. Where the writ is directed to a court, return thereto, if practicable, shall be made and signed by the judge whose action is complained of, otherwise by any judge of that court; where directed to an officer, he shall make and sign the return; where directed to a board or tribunal, return thereto shall be made and signed by its presiding officer, or its clerk or secretary. [Report 1943]

314. Defective return. If the return is defective, the court or justice who issued the writ, on his own motion or that of any party, may order a further return; or compel obedience to the writ or to such order, by attachment or citation for contempt. [Report 1943]

315. Trial. When full return has been made, the court shall fix a time and place of hearing, and hear the parties upon the record made by the return. In its discretion, it may receive any transcript of the evidence taken in the original proceeding, and such other oral or written evidence as is explanatory of the matters contained in the return. Such transcript and additional evidence shall be considered for the sole purpose of determining the legality of the proceedings, and the sufficiency of the evidence before the original tribunal, board or officer to sustain its, or his action, unless otherwise specially provided by statute. [Report 1943]

316. Judgment limited. Unless otherwise specially provided by statute, the judgment on certiorari shall be limited to sustaining the proceedings below, or annulling the same wholly or in part, to the extent that they were illegal or in excess of jurisdiction, and prescribing the manner in which either party may proceed further, nor shall such judgment substitute a different or amended decree or order for that being reviewed. [Report 1943]

317. Nature of proceeding. The action shall be by ordinary proceedings, so far as applicable. [Report 1943]

318. Appeal. Appeal to the supreme court lies from a judgment of the district court in a certiorari proceeding, and will be governed by the rules applicable to appeals in ordinary actions. [Report 1943]

319. Limitation. No writ of certiorari shall issue or be sustained unless the petition is filed within thirty days from the time the inferior tribunal, board or officer exceeded its jurisdiction or otherwise acted illegally. [Report 1943; amendment 1973]

Referred to in R.App P 301
Time computed, §4 1(22)

DIVISION XV INJUNCTIONS

320. Independent or auxiliary remedy. An injunction may be obtained as an independent remedy by an action in equity, or as an auxiliary remedy in any action. In either case, the party applying therefor may claim damages or other relief in the same action. An injunction may be granted as part of the judgment; or may be granted by order at any prior stage of the proceedings, and is then known as a temporary injunction. [Report 1943]

Referred to in §20 11, 20 12

321. Temporary—when allowed. A temporary injunction may be allowed:

(a) When the petition, supported by affidavit, shows the plaintiff is entitled to relief which includes restraining the commission or continuance of some act which would greatly or irreparably injure him, or,

(b) Where, during the litigation, it appears that a party is doing, procuring or suffering to be done, or threatens or is about to do, an act violating the other party's right respecting the subject of the action and tending to make the judgment ineffectual, or,

(c) In any case specially authorized by statute. [Report 1943]

Referred to in §20 11, 20 12

322. Endorsing refusal. A court, or justice of the supreme court, refusing a temporary injunction shall endorse the refusal on the petition therefor. [Report 1943]

Referred to in §20 11, 20 12

323. Statement re prior presentation. A petition seeking a temporary injunction shall state, or the attorney shall certify thereon, whether a petition for the same relief, or part thereof, has been previously presented to and refused by any court or justice, and if so, by whom and when. [Report 1943]

Referred to in §20 11, 20 12

324. Outside district. No temporary injunction shall be granted by a district court different from the one where the action is, or will be, pending, except upon affidavit that the application therefor cannot be promptly made to the latter court. [Report 1943]

Referred to in R C P 325, 328, §20 11, 20 12

325. By whom granted. A temporary injunction may be granted by:

(a) The court in which the action is or will be pending;

(b) The supreme court or a justice thereof;

(c) Any other district court, when permitted by R.C.P. 324. [Report 1943]

Referred to in §20 11, 20 12

326. Notice. Before granting a temporary injunction, the court may require reasonable notice of the time and place of hearing therefor to be given the party to be enjoined. Such notice and hearing must be had for a temporary injunction to stop the general and ordinary business of a corporation, or the operations of a railway or of a municipal corporation, or the erection of a building or other work, or the board of supervisors of a county, or to restrain a nuisance. [Report 1943]

Referred to in §20 11, 20 12

327. Bond. The order directing a temporary injunction must require that before the writ issues, a bond be filed, with a penalty to be specified in the order, which shall be one hundred twenty-five percent of the probable liability to be incurred. Such bond with sureties to be approved by the clerk, shall be conditioned to pay all damages which may be adjudged against the petitioner by reason of the injunction. But in actions for dissolution of marriage, separate maintenance or annulment of marriage, the court in its discretion may waive any bond, or fix its penalty in any amount deemed just and reasonable. [Report 1943; Report 1978, effective July 1, 1979]

Referred to in §20 11, 20 12

328. Dissolution. A party against whom a temporary injunction is issued without notice may, at any time, move the court where the action is pending to dissolve, vacate or modify it. Such motion shall be submitted to that court. But if the injunction was granted by a justice or court of a different district under R.C.P. 324, the court or justice that ordered it shall hear the motion, if it be shown by affidavit, that prompt hearing cannot be obtained in the court where the action is pending. [Report 1943]

Referred to in §20 11, 20 12

329. Enjoining proceedings or judgment—venue—bond. An action seeking to enjoin proceedings in a civil action, or on a judgment or final order, must be brought in the county and court where such proceedings are pending or such judgment or order was obtained, unless that be the supreme court, in which case the action must be brought in the court from which appeal was taken. Any bond in such action must be further conditioned to pay or comply with such judgment or order, or to pay any judgment that may be recovered against the petitioner on the cause of action enjoined. [Report 1943]

Referred to in §20 11, 20 12

330. Violation as contempt. Violation of any provision of any temporary or permanent injunction shall constitute contempt and be punished accordingly. [Report 1943]

Referred to in §20 11, 20 12

Contempts, ch 665

DIVISION XVI

R C P 331 to 353—Appellate Procedure—stricken in 1977, see Rules of Appellate Procedure preceding Supreme Court Rules herein

PROCEEDINGS FOR JUDICIAL REVIEW OF AGENCY ACTION

331. Applicability of rules. Except to the extent that they are inconsistent with any provision of the Iowa Administrative Procedure Act, chapter 17A, The Code, or with the rules specifically set forth in this division, the rules of civil procedure shall be applicable to proceedings for judicial review of agency action brought under that Act. [Report 1980]

332. Time for special appearance, motion or answer. Respondent shall, within twenty days from the date of mailing of a petition for judicial review under section 17A.19(2), The Code, serve upon petitioner and all others upon whom the petition is required to be served, and within a reasonable time thereafter file, a written special appearance, motion, or answer. [Report 1980]

333. Contested case proceedings—intervention, schedule, applicability of R.C.P. 179(b). In proceedings for judicial review of agency action in a contested case pursuant to section 17A.19, The Code:

(a) An intervenor may join with petitioner or respondent or claim adversely to both.

(b) Upon request of any party the reviewing court shall, or upon its own motion may, establish a schedule for the conduct of the proceeding.

(c) The provisions of R.C.P. 179(b) shall apply. [Report 1980]

DIVISIONS XVII and XVIII

R C P 354 to 365
Abolished July 1, 1973

DIVISION XIX
RULES OF A GENERAL NATURE

366. Computing time—holidays. In computing time under these rules the provisions of Code section 4.1, subsection 22, shall govern. [Report 1943; amendment 1967]

367. Death, retirement or disability of judge.

(a) In the event of the death or disability of a judge in the course of a proceeding at which he is presiding, or while a motion for new trial or for judgment notwithstanding the verdict, or for other relief, is pending, any other judge of the district may hear or act upon the same, and, if in his opinion he can proceed with the matter or determine the motion he shall do so; otherwise, he may order a continuance, declare a mistrial, order a new trial of all or any of the issues, or make such disposition of the matter as the situation warrants.

(b) In the event of the death or disability of a judge who has under advisement an undecided motion, or case tried to him without a jury, any other judge of the district may be called in, or a judge from another district may be appointed by the chief justice of the supreme court to consider the same, and, if by a review of the transcript or a reargument he can, in his opinion, sufficiently inform himself to enable him to render a decision, he shall do so; otherwise he may order a continuance, declare a mistrial, or order a new trial of all or any of the issues, or direct the recalling of any witnesses, or make such disposition of the matter as the situation warrants.

(c) In the event of the death, disability or retirement of a judge before the record for appeal in any case tried by him shall have been settled, the same shall be settled by another judge of the district, or by a judge of another district appointed for that purpose by the chief justice of the supreme court. [Report 1943; amendment 1945]

See also ch 605

368. Appeal to district court from administrative body. Where appeal to the district court from an action or decision of any officer, body or board is provided for by statute and the statute does not provide for the formulation of the issues either before such officer, body or board, or in the district court, the appellant shall file a petition in the district court within ten days after perfecting the appeal, or within such time as may be prescribed by the court. The appellee shall file motion or an answer to such petition within ten days thereafter, or within such further time as may be prescribed by the court. Thereafter the rules of pleading and procedure in actions in the district court shall be applicable. [Report 1943]

See also ch 605
Time computed, §4 1(22)

369. Effect of notice by posting. Notice by posting shall not have legal effect except where expressly authorized by statute. [Report 1943; amendment 1945; amendment 1973]

370. General provisions, comments and footnotes.

(a) The past, present and future tense shall each include the others; the masculine, feminine and neuter gender shall include the others; and the singular and plural number shall each include the other.

(b) Rule and subdivision headings do not in any manner affect the scope, meaning or intent of the provisions of these rules.

(c) All references to sources, comments, and footnotes are incorporated solely for convenience in the use of the rules and do not form a part thereof. [Report 1943; amendment 1961]

371. Power of supreme court to change. Stricken by Report 1978, effective July 1, 1979.

372. Rules by trial courts. Each district court, by action of a majority of its district judges, may from time to time make and amend rules governing its practice and administration not inconsistent with these rules. A copy of all rules in effect July 4, 1961, and any amendments thereafter made by any such court shall be transmitted to the clerk of the supreme court. In all cases not provided for by rule, courts may regulate their practice in any manner not inconsistent with these rules. [Report 1961; amendment 1969; amendment 1979]

Referred to in §602 42

373. Purpose of administrative rules. The purpose of all rules for court administration shall be to provide for the administration of justice in an orderly, efficient and effective manner, in accordance with the highest standards of justice and judicial service. [Report 1969]

Referred to in R C P 377, 380

374. Supervision of courts. The supreme court, by and through the chief justice, shall exercise supervisory and administrative control over all trial courts in the state, and over the judges and other personnel thereof, including but not limited to authority to make and issue any order a chief judge may make under R.C.P. 377, or to modify, amend or revoke any such order or court schedule. [Report 1969]

375. Recall and transfer of judges. The supreme court by and through the chief justice may at any time order the recall of eligible retired judges for active service, and the transfer of active judges and other court personnel from one judicial district to another to provide a sufficient number of judges to handle the judicial business in all districts promptly and efficiently. [Report 1969]

376. Selection of chief judges. Not later than December 15 in each odd-numbered year the chief justice, with the approval of the supreme court, shall appoint from the district judges of each district one of their number to serve as chief judge. The judge so appointed shall serve for a two-year term and shall be eligible for reappointment. Vacancies in the office of chief judge shall be filled in the same manner within thirty days after the vacancy occurs. Provided if there is a vacant judgeship in a district, the chief judge therein shall be appointed within thirty days after such vacancy is filled by qualification of the appointee. During any period of vacancy the judge of longest service in the district shall be the acting chief judge. [Report 1969]

377. Duties and powers of chief judges. In addition to their ordinary judicial duties, chief judges shall exercise continuing administrative supervision within their respective districts over all district courts, judges, magistrates, officials and employees thereof for the purposes stated in R.C.P. 373. They shall by order fix times and places of holding court and designate the respective presiding judges and magistrates; they shall supervise and direct the performance of all administrative business of their district courts; they may conduct judicial conferences of their district judges, district associate judges, and magistrates to consider, study and plan for improvement of the administration of justice; and may make such administrative orders as necessary. No chief judge shall at any time direct or influence any judge or magistrate in any ruling or decision in any proceeding or matter whatsoever.

The chief judge of a judicial district may appoint from the other district judges an assistant or assistants to serve on a judicial district-wide basis and at his pleasure. When so acting, such an assistant shall have those powers and duties given to the chief judge by statute or rule of court which are specified in the order of his appointment. Such appointment shall by general order be made a matter of record in each county in the judicial district. [Report 1969; amendment 1972; amendment 1979]

Referred to in R.C.P. 374

378. Court and trial sessions. Chief judges shall by order provide for:

(a) A court session by a district judge at least once each week in each county of the district, announced in advance in the form of a written or printed schedule, provided that, if in the opinion of the chief judge more efficient operations in the district will result, such court sessions may be at different intervals than once each week.

(b) Additional sessions in each county for the trial of cases, and other judicial matters, of such duration and frequency as will best serve to expeditiously dispose of pending cases ready for trial, and other pending judicial matters. [Report 1969]

379. Order appointing chief judges. The order appointing chief judges shall be filed with the clerk of the supreme court who shall mail certified copies to the clerk of each district court. [Report 1969]

380. Judicial council. There is hereby created a judicial council composed of all chief judges of the judicial districts and chief judge of the court of appeals, and the chief justice of the supreme court, or his designee, who shall be the chairman. The council shall convene not less than twice each year at such times and places as the chairman shall order. The council shall consider all court administrative rules, directives and regulations for the achievement of the purposes stated in R.C.P. 373 and may propose to the supreme court such rules as deemed appropriate. [Report 1969; Report 1978, effective July 1, 1979]

381. Forms. The forms contained in the Appendix of Forms following this rule are for use and are sufficient under the Iowa Rules of Civil Procedure. [Report 1976; Report 1978, effective July 1, 1979]

INDICTABLE OFFENSES

[R.C.R.P. 1 TO 30 ARE REPRINTED FROM 66GA, CH 1245, subchapter 2, AS AMENDED.]

- Rule 1. Scope of rules and definitions.
  - 1. Scope. The rules in this section provide procedures applicable to indictable offenses.
  - 2. Definitions.
    - a. "Committing magistrate" means judicial magistrates, district associate judges, and district judges.

b. "Judicial officer" means justices of the supreme court, justices of the court of appeals and committing magistrates.

c. "Unnecessary delay" is any unexcused delay longer than twenty-four hours, and consists of a shorter period whenever a magistrate is accessible and available. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1301; 67GA, ch 153,§2, 3]

Rule 2. Proceedings before the magistrate.

1. Initial appearance of defendant. An officer making an arrest with or without a warrant shall take the arrested person without unnecessary delay before a committing magistrate as provided by law. When a person arrested without a warrant is brought before a magistrate, a complaint shall be filed forthwith. If the defendant received a citation or was arrested without a warrant, the magistrate shall, prior to further proceedings in the case, make an initial, preliminary determination from the complaint, or from an affidavit or affidavits filed with the complaint or from an oral statement under oath or affirmation from the arresting officer or other person, whether there is probable cause to believe that an offense has been committed and that the defendant has committed it. The magistrate's decision in this regard shall be entered in the magistrate's record of the case.

2. Statement by the magistrate. The magistrate shall inform a defendant who appears before the magistrate after arrest, complaint, summons, or citation of the complaint against the defendant, of the defendant's right to retain counsel, of the defendant's right to request the appointment of counsel if the defendant is unable by reason of indigency to obtain counsel, of the general circumstances under which the defendant may secure pretrial release, of the defendant's right to review of any conditions imposed on the defendant's release and shall provide the defendant with a copy of the complaint. The magistrate shall also inform the defendant that he or she is not required to make a statement and that any statement made by the defendant may be used against him or her. The magistrate shall allow the defendant reasonable time and opportunity to consult counsel.

3. Counsel. The magistrate shall have authority to appoint counsel to represent the defendant in the event the defendant requests representation by counsel and is entitled to same. Counsel will be assigned to assist the defendant only upon a showing as required in section 336A.4, The Code. Counsel so appointed may make application in the district court for compensation for such services.

4. Preliminary hearing. The defendant shall not be called upon to plead and the magistrate shall proceed as follows:

a. Preliminary hearing. The magistrate shall inform the defendant that he or she is entitled to a preliminary hearing unless the defendant is indicted by a grand jury or a trial information is filed against the defendant or unless he or she waives the preliminary hearing in writing or on the record. If the defendant waives preliminary hearing, the magistrate shall order the defendant held to answer in further proceedings. If the defendant does not waive the preliminary hearing, the magistrate shall schedule a preliminary hearing and inform the defendant of the date of the preliminary hearing. Such hearing shall be held within a reasonable time but in any event not later than ten days following the initial appearance if the defendant is in custody and no later than twenty days if he or she is not in custody. Upon showing of good cause, the time limits specified in this paragraph may be extended by the magistrate.

b. Probable cause finding. If from the evidence it appears that there is probable cause to believe that an offense has been committed and that the defendant committed it, the magistrate shall order the defendant held to answer in further proceedings. The finding of probable cause shall be based upon substantial evidence, which may be hearsay in whole or in part, provided there is a substantial basis for believing the source of the hearsay to be credible and for believing that there is a factual basis for the information furnished. The defendant may cross-examine witnesses against him or her and may introduce evidence in his or her own behalf.

c. Constitutional objections. Rules excluding evidence on the ground that it was acquired by unlawful means are not applicable. Motions to suppress must be made to the trial court as provided in R.Cr.P. 10(2).

d. Private hearing. The magistrate must also, upon request of the defendant, exclude from the hearing all persons except the magistrate, the magistrate's clerk, the peace officer who has custody of the defendant, a court reporter, the attorney or attorneys representing the state, a peace officer selected by the attorney representing the state, the defendant and the defendant's counsel.

e. Discharge of defendant. If from the evidence it appears that there is no probable cause to believe that an offense has been committed or that the defendant committed it, the magistrate shall dismiss the complaint and discharge the defendant. The discharge of the defendant shall not preclude the government from instituting a subsequent prosecution for the same offense.

f. Transmission of magistrate's record entries. After concluding the proceedings the magistrate shall transmit forthwith to the clerk of the district court all papers and recordings in the proceeding.

g. Preliminary hearing testimony preserved by stenographer or tape recorder; production prior to trial. Proceedings at the preliminary hearing shall be taken down by a court reporter or recording equipment and shall be made available on the following basis:

(1) On timely application to a magistrate, for good cause shown, and subject to the availability of facilities, the attorney for a defendant in a criminal case may be given the opportunity to have the recorded tape of the hearing on preliminary examination replayed for his or her information in connection with any further hearing or in connection with his or her preparation for trial.

(2) On application of a defendant addressed to a district judge, showing that the record of preliminary hearing, in whole or in part, should be made available to the defendant's counsel, an order may issue that the clerk make available a copy of the record, or of a portion thereof, to defense counsel. Such order shall provide for prepayment of costs of such record by the defendant unless the defendant makes a sufficient affidavit that he or she is unable to pay or to give security therefor, in which case the expense shall be paid by the county. The prosecution may move also that a copy of the record, in whole or in part, be made available to it, for good cause shown, and an order may be entered granting such motion in whole or in part, on appropriate terms, except that the government need not prepay costs nor furnish security therefor.

(3) The copy of the record of such proceedings furnished pursuant to subparagraph (2) of this paragraph may consist of a tape of the recorded proceedings or a stenographic transcript of the proceedings.

If the record is ordered, the court shall specify in its order to the magistrate an appropriate method of making the record available. If, in any circumstance, a typewritten transcript is furnished counsel, a copy thereof shall be filed with the clerk of court [66GA, ch 1245(2), §1301, 67GA, ch 153, §4 to 7].

Referred to in §602.62 811.2 R Cr P 42

Rule 3. The grand jury.

1 Drawing grand jurors At such times as prescribed by the chief judge of the district court in the public interest, the names of the twelve persons constituting the panel of the grand jury shall be placed by the clerk in a container, and after thoroughly mixing the same, in open court the clerk shall draw therefrom seven names, and the persons so drawn shall constitute the grand jury. Should any of the persons so drawn be excused by the court or fail to attend on the day designated for their appearance, the clerk shall draw additional names until the seven grand jurors are secured.

If the panel is insufficient to provide and maintain a grand jury of seven members, the panel shall be refilled from the jury box by the clerk of the court under direction of the court, additional grand jurors shall be selected until a grand jury of seven grand jurors is secured, and they shall be summoned in the manner as those originally drawn.

2 Challenge to grand jury

a Challenge to array A defendant held to answer for a public offense may, before the grand jury is sworn, challenge the panel or the grand jury, only for the reason that it was not composed or drawn as prescribed by law. If the challenge be sustained, the court shall thereupon proceed to take remedial action to compose a proper grand jury panel or grand jury.

b Challenge to individual jurors A challenge to an individual grand juror may be made before the grand jury is sworn as follows:

(1) By the state or the defendant, because the grand juror does not possess the qualifications required by law.

(2) By the state only because

(a) The juror is related either by affinity or consanguinity nearer than in the fifth degree, or stands in the relation of agent, clerk, servant, or employee, to any person held to answer for a public offense, whose case may come before the grand jury.

(b) The juror is bail for anyone held to answer for a public offense, whose case may come before the grand jury.

(c) The juror is defendant in a prosecution similar to any prosecution to be examined by the grand jury.

(d) The juror is, or within one year preceding has been, engaged or interested in carrying on any business, calling, or employment the carrying on of which is a violation of law, and for which the juror may be indicted by the grand jury.

(3) By the defendant only because

(a) The juror is a complainant upon a charge against the defendant.

(b) The juror has formed or expressed such an opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the defendant as would prevent the juror from rendering a true indictment upon the evidence submitted.

c Decision by court Challenges to the panel or to an individual grand juror shall be decided by the court.

d Motion to dismiss A motion to dismiss the indictment may be based on challenges to the array or to an individual juror, if the grounds for challenge which are alleged in the motion of the defendant have not previously been determined pursuant to a challenge asserted by the defendant pursuant to paragraph "a" or paragraph "b" of this subsection.

3 Discharging and summoning jurors

a Discharge A grand jury, on the completion of its business, shall be discharged by the court. The grand jury shall serve until discharged by the court, and the regular term of service by a grand jury should not exceed one calendar year. However, when an investigation which has been undertaken by the grand jury is incomplete, the court may by order extend the eligibility of a grand juror beyond one year, to the completion of the investigation.

b Summoning jurors Upon order of the court the clerk shall issue his precept or precepts to the sheriff, commanding the sheriff to summon the grand juror or jurors. Upon a failure of a grand juror to obey such summons without sufficient cause, he may be punished for contempt.

c Excusing jurors If the court excuses a juror, the court may impanel another person in place of the juror excused. If the grand jury has been reduced to a less number than seven by reason of challenges to individual jurors being allowed, or from any other cause, the additional jurors required to fill the panel shall be summoned, first, from such of the twelve jurors originally summoned which were not drawn on the grand jury as first impaneled, and if they are exhausted the additional number required shall be drawn from the grand jury list. If a challenge to the array is allowed, a new grand jury shall be impaneled to inquire into the charge against the defendant in whose behalf the challenge to the array has been allowed, and they shall be summoned in the manner prescribed in this rule.

4 Oaths and procedure

a Foreman From the persons impaneled as grand jurors the court shall appoint a foreman, or when the foreman already appointed is discharged, excused, or from any cause becomes unable to act before the grand jury is finally discharged, an acting foreman may be appointed.

The foreman of the grand jury may administer the oath to all witnesses produced and examined before it.

b. Clerks and bailiffs. The court may appoint as clerk of the grand jury a competent person who is not a member thereof. In addition thereto the court may, if it deems it necessary, appoint assistant clerks of the grand jury. If no such appointments are made by the court, the grand jury shall appoint as its clerk one of its own number who is not its foreman. In like manner the court may appoint bailiffs for the grand jury to serve with the powers of a peace officer while so acting.

c. Oaths administered to grand jury, clerk, and bailiff. The following oath shall be administered to the grand jury: "Do each of you, as the grand jury, solemnly swear or affirm that you will diligently inquire and true presentment make of all public offenses against the people of this state, triable on indictment within this county, of which you have or can obtain legal evidence; you shall present no person through malice, hatred, or ill will, nor leave any unrepresented through fear, favor, or affection, or for any reward, or the promise or hope thereof, but in all your presentments that you shall present the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, according to the best of your skill and understanding?"

Any clerk, assistant clerk, or bailiff appointed by the court must be given the following oath: "Do you solemnly swear that you will faithfully and impartially perform the duties of your office, that you will not reveal to anyone its proceedings or the testimony given before it and will abstain from expressing any opinion upon any question before it, to or in the presence or hearing of the grand jury or any member thereof?"

d. Secrecy of proceedings. Every member of the grand jury, and its clerks and bailiffs, shall keep secret the proceedings of that body and the testimony given before it, except as provided in R.Cr.P. 13. No such person shall disclose the fact that an indictment has been found except when necessary for the issuance and execution of a warrant or summons, and such duty of nondisclosure shall continue until the indicted person has been arrested. The prosecuting attorney shall be allowed to appear before the grand jury on his or her own request for the purpose of giving information or for the purpose of examining witnesses, and the grand jury may at all reasonable times ask the advice of the prosecuting attorney or the court. However, neither the prosecuting attorney nor any other officer or person except the grand jury may be present when the grand jury is voting upon the finding of an indictment.

e. Securing witnesses and records. The clerk of the court must, when required by the foreman of the grand jury or prosecuting attorney, issue subpoenas including subpoenas duces tecum for witnesses to appear before the grand jury. The grand jury is entitled to free access at all reasonable times to county institutions and places of confinement, and to the examination without charge of all public records within the county.

f. Minutes. The clerk of the grand jury shall take and preserve minutes of the proceedings and of the evidence given before it, except the votes of its individual members on finding an indictment.

g. Evidence for defendant. The grand jury is not bound to hear evidence for the defendant, but may do so, and must weigh all the evidence submitted to it, and when it has reason to believe that other evidence within its reach will explain away the charge, it may order the same produced.

h. Refusal of witness to testify. When a witness under examination before the grand jury refuses to testify or to answer a question, it shall proceed with the witness before a district judge, and the foreman shall then distinctly state before a district judge the question and the refusal of the witness, and if upon hearing the witness the court decides that the witness is bound to testify or answer the question propounded, the judge shall inquire of the witness if he or she persists in his or her refusal, and, if he or she does, shall proceed with the witness as in cases of similar refusal in open court.

i. Effect of refusal to indict. If, upon investigation, the grand jury refuses to find an indictment against one charged with a public offense, it shall return all papers to the clerk, with an endorsement thereon, signed by the foreman, to the effect that the charge is ignored. Thereupon, the district judge must order the discharge of the defendant from custody if in jail, and the exoneration of bail if bail be given. Upon good cause shown, the district judge may direct that the charge again be submitted to the grand jury. Such ignoring of the charge does not prevent the cause from being submitted to another grand jury as the court may direct; but without such direction, it cannot again be submitted.

j. Duty of grand jury. The grand jury shall inquire into all indictable offenses brought before it which may be tried within the county, and present them to the court by indictment. The grand jury shall meet at times specified by order of a district judge. In addition to those times, the grand jury shall meet at the request of the county attorney or upon the request of a majority of the grand jurors.

It is made the special duty of the grand jury to inquire into:

(1) The case of every person imprisoned in the detention facilities of the county on a criminal charge and not indicted.

(2) The condition and management of the public prisons, county institutions and places of detention within the county.

(3) The unlawful misconduct in office in the county of public officers and employees.

(4) The detailed minutes and tape recordings sealed pursuant to section 28A.5. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1301; 67GA, ch 153,§8 to 11, ch 1037,§11; amendment 1980]

Referred to in §609.26, 811.2 815.2

Rule 4. Indictment.

1. Defined. An indictment is an accusation in writing, found and presented by a grand jury legally impaneled and sworn to the court in which it is impaneled, charging that the person named therein has committed an indictable public offense.

2. Use of indictment. Criminal offenses in which the punishment exceeds a fine of one hundred dollars or exceeds imprisonment for thirty days may be prosecuted to final judgment either on indictment or on information as provided in R.Cr.P. 5.

3. Evidence to support. An indictment should be found when all the evidence, taken together, is such as in the judgment of the grand jury, if unexplained, would warrant a conviction by the trial jury; otherwise it shall not. An indictment can be found only upon evidence given by witnesses produced, sworn, and examined before the grand jury, or furnished by legal documentary evidence, or upon the stenographic or taped record of evidence given by witnesses before a committing magistrate. If an indictment is found in whole or in part upon testimony taken before a committing magistrate, the clerk of the grand jury shall write out a brief minute of the substance of such evidence, and the same shall be returned to the court with the indictment.

4. Vote necessary. An indictment cannot be found without the concurrence of five grand jurors. Every indictment must be endorsed "a true bill" and the endorsement signed by the foreman of the grand jury.

5. Presentation and filing. An indictment, when found by the grand jury and properly endorsed, shall be presented to the court with the minutes of evidence of the witnesses relied on. The presentation shall be made by the foreman of the grand jury in the presence of the members of the grand jury. The indictment, minutes of evidence, and all exhibits relating thereto shall be transmitted to the clerk of the court and filed by the clerk.

6. Minutes.

a. A minute of evidence shall consist of a notice in writing stating the name, place of residence, and occupation of the witness upon whose testimony the indictment is found, and a full and fair statement of the witness' testimony before the grand jury and a full and fair statement of additional expected testimony at trial.

b. Copy to defense. Such minutes of evidence shall not be open for the inspection of any person except the judge of the court, the prosecuting attorney, or the defendant and his or her counsel. The clerk of the court must, on demand made, furnish the defendant or his or her counsel a copy thereof without charge.

c. Minutes used again. A grand jury may consider minutes of testimony previously heard by the same or another grand jury. In any case, a grand jury may take additional testimony.

7. Contents of indictment. An indictment is a plain, concise, and definite statement of the offense charged. The indictment shall be signed by the foreman of the grand jury. The names of all witnesses on whose evidence the indictment is found must be endorsed thereon. The indictment may be in the general indictment form set forth in the illustrative table of forms appended to the Iowa rules of criminal procedure. The indictment shall include the following:

a. The name of the accused, if known, and if not known, designation of the accused by any name by which the accused may be identified.

b. The name and if provided by law the degree of the offense, identifying by number the statutory provision or provisions alleged to have been violated.

c. Where the time or place is a material ingredient of the offense a brief statement of the time or place of the offense if known.

d. Where the means by which the offense is committed are necessary to charge an offense, a brief statement of the acts or omissions by which the offense is alleged to have been committed.

No indictment is invalid or insufficient, nor can the trial, judgment, or other proceeding thereon be affected by reason of any defect or imperfection in a matter of form which does not prejudice a substantial right of the defendant.

8. Amendment.

a. Generally. The court may, on motion of the state, either before or during the trial, order the indictment amended so as to correct errors or omissions in matters of form or substance. Amendment is not allowed if substantial rights of the defendant are prejudiced by the amendment, or if a wholly new and different offense is charged.

b. Amendment before trial. If the application for an amendment be made before the commencement of the trial, the application and a copy of the proposed amendment shall be served upon the defendant, or upon the defendant's attorney of record, and an opportunity given the defendant to resist the same.

c. Amendment during trial. If the application be made during the trial, the application and the amendment may be dictated into the record in the presence of the defendant and the defendant's counsel, and such record shall constitute sufficient notice to the defendant.

d. Continuance. When an application for amendment is sustained, no continuance or delay in trial shall be granted because of such amendment unless it appears that defendant should have additional time to prepare because of such amendment.

e. Amendment of minutes. Minutes may be amended in the same manner and to the same extent that an indictment may be amended. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1301; 67GA, ch 153,§12, 13; amendment 1979; amendment 1980]

Rule 5. Information.

1. Prosecution on information. All indictable offenses may be prosecuted by a trial information. An information charging a person with an indictable offense may be filed with the clerk of the district court at any time, whether or not the grand jury is in session. The county attorney shall have the authority to file such a trial information except as herein provided or unless that authority is specifically granted to other prosecuting attorneys by statute.

The attorney general, unless otherwise authorized by law, shall have the authority to file such a trial information upon the request of the county attorney and the determination of the attorney general that a criminal prosecution is warranted.

2. Endorsement. An information shall be endorsed "a true information" and shall be signed by the prosecuting attorney.

3. Witness names and minutes. The prosecuting attorney shall, at the time of filing such information, endorse or cause to be endorsed thereon the names of the witnesses whose evidence the prosecuting attorney expects to introduce and use on the trial of the same, and shall also file with such information the minutes of evidence of such witness which shall consist of a notice in writing stating the name, place of residence and occupation of each witness upon whose expected testimony the information is based, and a full and fair statement of the witness' expected testimony.

4. Approval by judge. Prior to the filing of the information, a district judge, district associate judge or magistrate having jurisdiction of the offense must approve the information by a finding that the evidence contained in the information and the minutes of evidence, if unexplained, would warrant a conviction by the trial jury. If not approved, the charge may be presented to the grand jury for consideration. At any time after judicial approval of an information, and prior to the commencement of trial, the court, on its own motion, may order said information set aside and said case submitted to the grand jury.

5. Indictment rules applicable. The information shall be drawn and construed, in matters of substance, as indictments are required to be drawn and construed. The term "indictment" embraces the trial information, and all provisions of law applying to prosecutions on indictments apply also to informations, except where otherwise provided for by statute or in these rules, or when the context requires otherwise.

6. Investigation by prosecuting attorney. The clerk of the district court, on written application of the prosecuting attorney and the approval of the court, shall issue subpoenas including subpoenas duces tecum for such witnesses as the prosecuting attorney may require in investigating an offense, and in such subpoenas shall direct the appearance of said witnesses before the prosecuting attorney at a specified time and place. Such application and judicial order of approval shall be maintained by the clerk in a confidential file until a charge is filed, in which event disclosure shall be made, unless the court in an in camera hearing orders that it be kept confidential. The prosecuting attorney shall have the authority to administer oaths to said witnesses and shall have the services of the clerk of the grand jury in those counties in which such clerk is regularly employed. The rights and responsibilities of such witnesses and any penalties for violations thereof shall otherwise be the same as a witness subpoenaed to the grand jury. [66GA, ch 1245(2), §1301; 67GA, ch 153, §14, 15; Report 1978, effective July 1, 1979; amendment 1979]

Rule 6. Pleading special matters in indictments and informations—multiple offenses or defendants; pleading prior convictions; pleading statutes.

1. Multiple offenses. When the conduct of a defendant may establish the commission of more than one public offense arising out of the same transaction or occurrence, the defendant may be prosecuted for each of such offenses. Each of such offenses may be alleged and prosecuted as separate counts in a single complaint, information or indictment, unless, for good cause shown, the trial court in its discretion determines otherwise. Where the public offense which is alleged carries with it certain lesser included offenses, the latter should not be charged, and it is sufficient to charge that the accused committed the major offense.

2. Prosecution and judgment. Upon prosecution for a public offense, the defendant may be convicted of either the public offense charged or an included offense, but not both.

3. Duty of court to instruct. In cases where the public offense charged may include some lesser offense it is the duty of the trial court to instruct the jury, not only as to the public offense charged but as to all lesser offenses of which the accused might be found guilty under the indictment and upon the evidence adduced, even though such instructions have not been requested.

4. Charging multiple defendants.

a. Multiple defendants. Two or more defendants may be charged in the same indictment, information, or complaint if they are alleged to have participated in the same act or the same transaction or occurrence out of which the offense or offenses arose. Such defendants may be charged in one or more counts together or separately, and all the defendants need not be charged in each count.

b. Prosecution and judgment. When an indictment charges a defendant with a felony, and the same indictment charges two or more defendants, those defendants jointly charged may be tried jointly, if in the discretion of the court a joint trial will not result in prejudice to one or more of the parties; otherwise the defendants shall be tried separately. Where jointly tried, each defendant shall be judged separately on each count.

5. Allegations of prior convictions. If the offense charged is one for which the defendant, if convicted, will be subject by reason of the Code, to an increased penalty because of prior convictions, the allegation of such convictions, if any, shall be contained in the indictment. A supplemental indictment shall be prepared for the purpose of trial of the facts of the current offense only, and shall satisfy all pertinent requirements of the Code, except that it shall make no mention, directly or indirectly, of the allegation of the prior convictions, and shall be the only indictment read or otherwise presented to the jury prior to conviction of the current offense. The effect of this subdivision shall be to alter the procedure for trying, in one criminal proceeding, the offenses appropriate to its provisions, and not to alter in any manner the basic elements of an offense as provided by law.

6. Allegations of use of a firearm. If the offense charged is one for which the defendant, if convicted, will be subject by reason of the Code* to a minimum sentence because of use of a firearm, the allegation of such use, if any, shall be contained in the indictment. If use of a firearm is alleged as provided by this rule, and if the allegation is supported by the evidence, the court shall submit to the jury a special interrogatory concerning this matter, as provided in R.Cr.P. 21(2). [Report 1980]

7. Pleading statutes. A pleading asserting any statute of another state, territory or jurisdiction of the United States, or a right derived therefrom, shall refer to such statute by plain designation and if such reference is made, the court shall judicially notice such statute. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1301; 67GA, ch 153,§16; amendment 1980]

Rule 7. Proceedings after indictment or information.

1. Issuance. Upon the request of the prosecuting attorney the court shall issue a warrant for each defendant named in the indictment or information. The clerk shall issue a summons instead of a warrant upon the request of the prosecuting attorney or by direction of the court. The warrant or summons shall be delivered to a person authorized by law to execute or serve it. If a defendant fails to appear in response to the summons, a warrant shall issue.

2. Form.

a. Warrant. The warrant shall be signed by the judge or clerk; it shall describe the offense charged in the indictment; and it shall command that the defendant shall be arrested and brought before the court. The amount of bail may be fixed by the court and endorsed on the warrant. The warrant may be substantially in the form described in the table of forms to the Iowa rules of criminal procedure. The warrant may be served in any county in the state.

b. Summons. The summons shall be in the form described in section 804.2, The Code, except that it shall be signed by the clerk. A summons to a corporation shall be in the form prescribed in section 807.5, The Code.

3. Execution, service, and return.

a. Execution or service. The warrant shall be executed or the summons served as provided in chapter 804, The Code. Upon the return of an indictment or upon the filing of trial information against a person confined in any penal institution, the court to which such indictment is returned may enter an order directing that such person be produced before it for trial. The sheriff shall execute such order by serving a copy thereof on the warden having such accused person in custody and thereupon such person shall be delivered to such sheriff and conveyed to the place of trial.

b. Return. The officer executing a warrant, or the person to whom a summons was delivered for service shall make return thereof to the court. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1301; 67GA, ch 153,§17, 18]

Rule 8. Arraignment and plea.

1. Conduct of arraignment. Arraignment shall be conducted in open court as soon as practicable. If the defendant appears for arraignment without counsel, the defendant must, before proceeding therewith, be informed by the court of the right thereto, and be asked if he or she desires counsel; and if he or she does, and is unable by reason of indigency to employ any, the court must appoint defense counsel, who shall have free access to the defendant at all reasonable hours. Arraignment shall consist of reading the indictment to the defendant or stating to the defendant the substance of the charge and calling on the defendant to plead thereto. The defendant shall be given a copy of the indictment or information before he or she is called upon to plead.

The defendant must be informed that if the name by which he or she is indicted or informed against is not his or her true name, he or she must then declare what his or her true name is, or be proceeded against by the name in the indictment. If the defendant gives no other name or gives his or her true name, the defendant is thereafter precluded from objecting to the indictment or information upon the ground of being therein improperly named. If the defendant alleges that another name is his or her true name, the court must direct an entry thereof in the minutes of the arraignment, and the subsequent proceedings on the indictment shall be had against the defendant by that name, and the indictment amended accordingly.

2. Pleas to the indictment or information.

a. In general. A defendant may plead guilty, not guilty, or former conviction or acquittal. If the defendant fails or refuses to plead at arraignment, or if the court refuses to accept a guilty plea, the court shall enter a plea of not guilty. At any time before judgment, the court may permit a guilty plea to be withdrawn and a not guilty plea substituted.

b. Pleas of guilty. The court may refuse to accept a plea of guilty, and shall not accept such plea without first addressing the defendant personally and determining that the plea is made voluntarily and intelligently and has a factual basis.

Before accepting a plea of guilty, the court must address the defendant personally in open court and inform the defendant of, and determine that the defendant understands, the following:

(1) The nature of the charge to which the plea is offered.

(2) The mandatory minimum punishment, if any, and the maximum possible punishment provided by the statute defining the offense to which the plea is offered.

(3) That the defendant has the right to be tried by a jury, and at such trial has the right to assistance of counsel, the right to confront and cross-examine witnesses against him or her, and the right not to be compelled to incriminate himself or herself.

(4) That if the defendant pleads guilty there will not be a further trial of any kind, so that by pleading guilty the defendant waives the right to a trial.

c. Inquiry regarding plea agreement. The court shall also inquire as to whether the defendant's willingness to plead guilty results from prior discussions between the attorney for the state and the defendant or the defendant's attorney. The terms of any plea agreement shall be disclosed of record as provided in R.Cr.P. 9(2).

d. Challenging pleas of guilty. The court shall inform the defendant that any challenges to a plea of guilty based on alleged defects in the plea proceedings must be raised in a motion in arrest of judgment and that failure to so raise such challenges shall preclude the right to assert them on appeal.

3. Record of proceedings. A verbatim record of the proceedings at which the defendant enters a plea shall be made. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1301; 67GA, ch 153, §19 to 23; Report 1978, effective July 1, 1979; amendment 1979]

Referred to in R Cr P 10(1) 44 §36B 2

Rule 9. Plea bargaining.

1. In general. The prosecuting attorney and the attorney for the defendant may engage in discussions with a view toward reaching an agreement that, upon the entering of a plea of guilty to a charged offense or to a lesser or related offense, the prosecuting attorney will make a charging or sentencing concession.

2. Advising court of agreement. If a plea agreement has been reached by the parties the court shall require the disclosure of the agreement in open court at the time the plea is offered. Thereupon, if the agreement is conditioned upon concurrence of the court in the charging or sentencing concession made by the prosecuting attorney, the court may accept or reject the agreement, or may defer its decision as to acceptance or rejection until receipt of a presentence report.

3. Acceptance of plea agreement. When the plea agreement is conditioned upon the court's concurrence, and the court accepts the plea agreement, the court shall inform the defendant that it will embody in the judgment and sentence the disposition provided for in the plea agreement or another disposition more favorable to the defendant than that provided for in the plea agreement. In that event, the court may accept a waiver of the presentence investigation, the right to file a motion in arrest of judgment, and time for entry of judgment, and proceed to judgment.

4. Rejection of plea agreement. If, at the time the plea of guilty is tendered, the court refuses to be bound by or rejects the plea agreement, the court shall inform the parties of this fact, afford the defendant the opportunity to then withdraw his or her plea, and advise the defendant that if he or she persists in his or her guilty plea the disposition of the case may be less favorable to the defendant than that contemplated by the plea agreement. If the defendant persists in his or her guilty plea and it is accepted by the court, the defendant shall not have the right subsequently to withdraw the plea except upon a showing that withdrawal is necessary to correct a manifest injustice.

5. Inadmissibility of plea discussions. If a plea discussion does not result in a plea of guilty, or if a plea of guilty is not accepted or is withdrawn, or if judgment on a plea of guilty is reversed on direct or collateral review, neither the plea discussion nor any resulting agreement, plea, or judgment shall be admissible in any criminal or civil action or administrative proceeding. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1301; 67GA, ch 153,§24; amendment 1979]

Referred to in R Cr P 8(2)

Rule 10. Motions and pleadings.

1. Pleadings and motions. Pleadings in criminal proceedings shall be the indictment and the information, and the pleas entered pursuant to R.Cr.P. 8. Demurrers, motions to quash, and motions to set aside are abolished, and defenses and objections raised before trial which heretofore could have been raised under them shall be raised by motion to dismiss, or a motion to grant appropriate relief as the case may be.

2. Pretrial motions. Any defense, objection, or request which is capable of determination without the trial of the general issue may be raised before trial by motion. The following must be raised prior to trial:

a. Defenses and objections based on defects in the institution of the prosecution.

b. Defenses and objections based on defects in the indictment or information (other than that it fails to show jurisdiction in the court or to charge an offense which objections shall be noticed by the court at any time during the pendency of the proceeding).

c. Motions to suppress evidence on the ground that it was illegally obtained including, but not limited to, motions on any ground listed in R.Cr.P. 11.

d. Requests for discovery.

e. Requests for a severance of charges or defendants.

f. Motions for change of venue or change of judge.

g. Motion in limine.

Referred to in R Cr P 2(4)

3. Effect of failure to raise defenses or objections. Failure of the defendant to timely raise defenses or objections or to make requests which must be made prior to trial under this rule shall constitute waiver thereof, but the court for good cause shown, may grant relief from such waiver.

4. Time of filing. Motions hereunder, except a motion for a bill of particulars, shall be filed either* within forty days after arraignment, unless the period for filing is extended by the court for good cause shown.

*The Supreme Court has indicated that it intended the word "either" to be omitted. An official report of this intention will be reported to the legislature in January 1981 [Editor's note]

5. Bill of particulars. When an indictment or information charges an offense in accordance with this rule but fails to specify the particulars of the offense sufficiently to fairly enable the defendant to prepare his or her defense, the court may, on written motion of the defendant, require the prosecuting attorney to furnish the defendant with a bill of particulars containing such particulars as may be necessary for the preparation of the defense. A motion for a bill of particulars may be made any time prior to or within ten days after arraignment unless the time be extended by the court for good cause shown. A plea of not guilty at arraignment does not waive the right to move for a bill of particulars if such motion is timely filed within this rule. The prosecuting attorney may furnish a bill of particulars on the prosecuting attorney's own motion, or the court may order a bill of particulars without motion. Supplemental bills of particulars may be likewise ordered by the court or voluntarily furnished, or a new bill may be substituted for a bill already furnished. At the trial the state's evidence shall be confined to the particulars of the bill or bills.

6. Dismissing indictment or information.

a. In general. If it appears from the bill of particulars furnished pursuant to this rule that the particulars stated do not constitute the offense charged in the indictment or information, or that the defendant did not commit that offense or that a prosecution for that offense is barred by the statute of limitations, the court may and on motion of defendant shall dismiss the indictment or information unless the prosecuting attorney shall furnish another bill of particulars which so states the particulars as to cure the defect.

b. Indictment. A motion to dismiss the indictment may be made on one or more of the following grounds:

(1) When the minutes of the evidence of witnesses examined before the grand jury are not returned therewith.

(2) When it has not been presented and marked "filed" as prescribed.

(3) When any person other than the grand jurors was present before the grand jury when the question was taken upon the finding of the indictment.

(4) When any person other than the grand jurors was present before the grand jury during the investigation of the charge, except as required or permitted by law.

(5) That the grand jury was not selected, drawn, summoned, impaneled, or sworn as prescribed by law.

c. Information. A motion to dismiss the information may be made on one or more of the following grounds:

(1) When the minutes of evidence have not been filed with the information.

(2) When the information has not been filed in the manner required by law.

(3) When the information has not been approved as required under R.Cr.P. 5(4).

d. Time of motion. Entry of a plea of not guilty at arraignment does not waive the right to move to dismiss the indictment or information if such motion is timely filed within this rule.

7. Effect of determination. If the court grants a motion based on a defect in the institution of the prosecution or in the indictment or information, it may also order that the defendant be held in custody or that the defendant's bail be continued for a specified period pending the filing of a new indictment or information if the same was dismissed by the court, or the amendment of any such pleading if the defect is subject to correction by amendment. The new information or indictment must be filed within twenty days of the dismissal of the original indictment or information. The ninety-day period under R.Cr.P. 27(2) "b" for bringing a defendant to trial shall commence anew with the filing of the new indictment or information.

8. Ruling on motion. A pretrial motion shall be determined without unreasonable delay. Where factual issues are involved in determining a motion, the court shall state its essential findings on the record.

9. Motion for change of venue or change of judge.

a. Form of motion. A motion for change of venue or change of judge shall be verified on information and belief by the movant.

b. Venue. If the court is satisfied from a motion for change of venue and evidence adduced in support thereof that such prejudice exists in the county in which the trial is to be had that there is a substantial likelihood a fair and impartial trial cannot be had there, the court shall transfer the proceeding to another county in which no such situation exists.

c. Change of judge. If the court is satisfied from a motion for change of judge and evidence is adduced in support thereof that prejudice of the judge exists, the chief judge of the district shall name a new presiding judge. The trial need not be moved to a different county.

d. Proceedings on transfer. When a transfer of the case is ordered to another county the clerk shall transmit to the clerk of the court to which the proceeding is transferred all papers in the proceeding or duplicates thereof and any bail taken, and the prosecution shall continue in that county. If the defendant is in custody, the court may order the defendant to be delivered to the sheriff of the county to which transfer of the case is allowed, and upon such delivery with a certified copy of the order therefor, the sheriff last mentioned must receive and detain the defendant. All expenses attendant upon the change of venue and trial, including the costs of keeping the defendant, which shall be allowed by the court trying the case, may be recovered by the county to which the case is transferred from the county in which the prosecution was commenced. The prosecuting attorney in the original county shall be responsible for the prosecution in such other county.

(1) Notice. A defendant who intends to offer evidence of an alibi defense shall, within the time provided for the making of pretrial motions or at such later time as the court shall direct, file written notice of such intention. The notice shall state the specific place or places at which the defendant claims to have been at the time of the alleged offense and the names and addresses of the witnesses upon whom the defendant intends to rely to establish such alibi. In the event that a defendant shall file such notice the prosecuting attorney shall file written notice of the names and addresses of the witnesses the state proposes to offer in rebuttal to discredit the defendant's alibi. Such notice shall be filed not less than ten days after filing of defendant's witness list, or within such other time as the court may direct.

(2) Failure to comply. If either party shall fail to abide by the time periods heretofore described, such party may not offer evidence on the issue of alibi without leave of court for good cause shown. In granting leave, the court may impose terms and conditions including a delay or continuance of trial. The right of a defendant to give evidence of alibi in his own testimony is not limited by the provisions of this rule.

(1) Defense of insanity and diminished responsibility. If a defendant intends to rely upon the defense of insanity or diminished responsibility at the time of the alleged crime, the defendant shall, within the time provided for the filing of pretrial motions file written notice of such intention. The court may for good cause shown allow late filing of the notice or grant additional time to the parties to prepare for trial or make such other order as may be appropriate.

(2) State's right to expert examination. Where a defendant has given notice of the use of the defense of insanity or diminished responsibility and intends to call an expert witness or witnesses on that issue at trial the defendant shall within the time provided for the filing of pretrial motions file written notice of the name of each such witness. Upon such notice or as otherwise appropriate the court may upon application order the examination of the defendant by a state-named expert or experts whose names shall be disclosed to the defendant prior to examination. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1301; 67GA, ch 153,§25 to 36; amendment 1980]

Referred to in R Cr P 2(4) 11(1) 18(11) 46 §815 8

Rule 11. Suppression of evidence obtained by an unlawful search and seizure.

1. Motion to suppress evidence. A person aggrieved by an unlawful search and seizure may move to suppress for use as evidence anything so obtained on any of the following grounds:

- a. The property was illegally seized without a warrant.
- b. The warrant is insufficient on its face.
- c. The property seized is not that described in the warrant.
- d. There was not probable cause for believing the existence of the grounds on which the warrant was issued.
- e. The warrant was illegally executed. The court shall receive evidence on any issue of fact necessary to the decision of the motion. If the motion is granted the property shall be restored to its owner or legal custodian unless otherwise subject to lawful detention, and it shall not be admissible in evidence at any hearing or trial.

The motion shall be made pursuant to R.Cr.P. 10(3) and (4).

2. Discretionary review of interlocutory order. Any party aggrieved by an interlocutory order affecting the validity of a search warrant or the suppression of evidence, except in simple misdemeanors, may apply for discretionary review of the order in advance of trial. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1301; 67GA, ch 153,§37; amendment 1979; amendment 1980]

Referred to in R Cr P 10(2)

Rule 12. Depositions.

1. By defendant. A defendant in a criminal case, may examine all witnesses listed by the state on the indictment or information or notice of additional witnesses, conditionally or on notice or commission, in the same manner and with like effect and with the same limitations as in civil actions except as otherwise provided by statute and these rules. Depositions before indictment or trial information is filed may only be had with leave of court.

When the state receives notice that a deposition will be taken of a witness listed on the indictment, information or notice of additional witnesses, the state may object that the witness is (a) a foundation witness or (b) has been adequately examined on preliminary hearing. The court shall immediately determine whether discovery of said witness or witnesses is necessary in the interest of justice and shall allow or disallow said deposition.

2. Special circumstances. Whenever due to special circumstances of the case it is in the interest of justice that the testimony of a prospective witness not included in subsection 1 or 3 of this rule be taken and preserved for use at trial, the court may upon motion of a party and notice to the parties order that testimony of such witness be taken by deposition and that any designated book, paper, document, record, recording, or other material not privileged, be produced at the same time and place.

For purposes of this subsection, special circumstances shall be deemed to exist, and the court shall order that depositions be taken, only upon the showing of necessity arising from either the following circumstances:

- a. The information sought by way of deposition cannot adequately be disclosed by a bill of particulars, or by voluntary statements.
  - b. Other just cause necessitating discovery by deposition.
3. By state. At the taking of a deposition by a defendant under subsection 1 or 2 of this rule, the defendant shall list all witnesses expected to be called for the defense. There shall be a continuing duty throughout trial to disclose additional defense witnesses, and such witnesses shall be subject to being deposed by the state.

4. Perpetuating testimony. A person apprehensive of a criminal prosecution may perpetuate testimony in his or her favor in the same manner and with like effect, as may be done in apprehension of any civil action.

5. Time of taking. Depositions taken hereunder shall be taken within thirty days after arraignment, unless the period for taking is extended by the court for good cause shown. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1301; 67GA, ch 153,§38; amendment 1980]

Rule 13. Discovery.

1. Witnesses examined by the prosecuting attorney. When a witness subpoenaed by the prosecuting attorney pursuant to R.Cr.P. 5 is summoned by the prosecuting attorney after complaint, indictment or information, the defendant shall have a right to be present and have the opportunity to cross-examine any witnesses whose appearance before the county attorney is required by this rule.

2. Disclosure of evidence by the state upon defense motion or request.

a. Disclosure required upon request.

(1) Upon pretrial motion of a defendant the court shall order the attorney for the state to permit the defendant to inspect and copy or photograph: Any relevant written or recorded statements made by the defendant or copies thereof, within the possession, custody or control of the state, unless same shall have been included with the minutes of evidence accompanying the indictment or information; the substance of any oral statement made by the defendant which the state intends to offer in evidence at the trial, including any voice recording of same; and the transcript or record of testimony of the defendant before a grand jury, whether or not the state intends to offer same in evidence upon trial.

(2) When two or more defendants are jointly charged, upon motion of any defendant the court shall order the attorney for the state to permit the defendant to inspect and copy or photograph any written or recorded statement of a codefendant which the state intends to offer in evidence at the trial, and the substance of any oral statement which the state intends to offer in evidence at the trial made by a codefendant whether before or after arrest in response to interrogation by any person known to the codefendant to be a state agent.

(3) Upon motion of the defendant, the court shall order the state to furnish to defendant such copy of the defendant's prior criminal record, if any, as is then available to the state.

b. Discretionary discovery.

(1) Upon motion of the defendant the court may order the attorney for the state to permit the defendant to inspect, and where appropriate, to subject to scientific tests, items seized by the state in connection with the alleged crime. The court may further allow the defendant to inspect and copy books, papers, documents, statements, photographs or tangible objects which are within the possession, custody or control of the state, and which are material to the preparation of his or her defense, or are intended for use by the state as evidence at the trial, or were obtained from or belong to the defendant.

(2) Upon motion of a defendant the court may order the attorney for the state to permit the defendant to inspect and copy or photograph any results or reports of physical or mental examinations, and of scientific tests or experiments, made in connection with the particular case, or copies thereof, within the possession, custody or control of the state.

a. Documents and tangible objects. If the court grants the relief sought by the defendant under subsection 2, paragraph "b," subparagraph (1), of this rule, the court may, upon motion of the state, order the defendant to permit the state to inspect and copy books, papers, documents, statements other than those of the accused, photographs or tangible objects which are not privileged and are within the possession, custody or control of the defendant and which the defendant intends to introduce in evidence at trial.

b. Reports of examinations and tests. If the court grants relief sought by the defendant under subsection 2, paragraph "b," subparagraph (1), of this rule, the court may, upon motion of the state, order the defendant to permit the state to inspect and copy the results or reports of physical or mental examinations and of scientific tests or experiments made in connection with the particular case, or copies thereof, within the possession or control of the defendant and which the defendant intends to introduce in evidence at the trial or which were prepared by a witness whom the defendant intends to call at the trial when such results or reports relate to his or her testimony.

c. Time of motion. A motion for the relief provided under subsection 3 of this rule shall be made, if at all, within five days after any order granting similar relief to the defendant.

4. Failure to employ evidence. When evidence intended for use and furnished under this rule is not actually employed at the trial, that fact shall not be commented upon at trial.

5. Continuing duty to disclose. If, subsequent to compliance with an order issued pursuant to this rule, either party discovers additional evidence, or decides to use evidence which is additional to that originally intended for use, and such additional evidence is subject to discovery under this rule, the party shall promptly file written notice of the existence of the additional evidence to allow the other party to make an appropriate motion for additional discovery.

6. Regulation of discovery.

a. Protective orders. Upon a sufficient showing the court may at any time order that the discovery or inspection be denied, restricted or deferred, or make such other order as is appropriate. In addition to any other grounds for issuing an order pursuant to this paragraph, the court may limit or deny discovery or inspection, or limit the number of depositions to be taken if the court determines that any of the following exist:

(1) That granting the motion will unfairly prejudice the nonmoving party and will deny that party a fair trial.

(2) That the motion is intended only as a fishing expedition and that granting the motion will unduly delay the trial and will result in unjustified expense.

(3) That the granting of the motion will result in the disclosure of privileged information.

b. Time, place and manner of discovery and inspection. An order of the court granting relief under this rule shall specify the time, place and manner of making the discovery and inspection permitted and may prescribe such terms and conditions as are just.

c. Failure to comply. If at any time during the course of the proceedings it is brought to the attention of the court that a party has failed to comply with this rule or with an order issued pursuant to this rule, the court may upon timely application order such party to permit the discovery or inspection, grant a continuance, or prohibit the party from introducing any evidence not disclosed, or it may enter such other order as it deems just under the circumstances.

d. Secrecy of grand jury. Except where specific provisions require otherwise, grand jury proceedings remain confidential. However, any member of the grand jury and the clerk thereof, and any officer of the court, may be required by the court or any legislative committee duly authorized to inquire into the conduct or acts of any state officer which might be the basis for impeachment proceedings, to disclose the testimony of a witness examined before the grand jury for the purpose of ascertaining whether it is consistent with that given by the witness before the court or legislative committee, or to disclose the same upon a charge of perjury against the witness, or when in the opinion of the court or legislative committee such disclosure is necessary in the administration of justice.

No grand juror shall be questioned for anything he or she may say or any vote the juror may give in the grand jury relative to a matter legally pending before it, except for perjury of which the juror may have been guilty in making an accusation, or in giving testimony to his or her fellow jurors. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1301; 67GA, ch 153,§39, 40, 41]

Rule 14. Subpoenas.

1. For witnesses. A magistrate in a criminal action before him or her, and the clerk of court in any criminal action pending therein, shall issue blank subpoenas for witnesses, signed by him or her, with the seal of the court if by the clerk, and deliver as many of them as requested to the defendant or the defendant's attorney or the attorney for the state.

2. For production of documents—duces tecum. A subpoena may contain a clause directing the witness to bring with him or her any book, writing, or other thing under the witness' control which he or she is bound by law to produce as evidence. The court on motion may dismiss or modify the subpoena if compliance would be unreasonable or oppressive.

3. Service. A subpoena may be served in any part of the state. It may be served by any adult person. A peace officer making service in a criminal case must serve without delay in his or her county or city any subpoena delivered to him or her for service and make a written return stating the time, place, and manner of service. When service is made by other than a peace officer, proof thereof shall be by affidavit. Service is made by showing the original to the witness and delivering a copy to him or her.

4. Depositions. An order to take a deposition authorizes the clerk of the court for the county in which the deposition is to be taken to issue subpoenas for the persons named or described therein.

5. Sanctions for refusing to appear or testify. Disobedience to a subpoena, or refusal to be sworn or to answer as a witness, may be punished by the court or magistrate as a contempt. The attendance of a witness who so fails to appear may be coerced by warrant. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1301; 67GA, ch 153,§42]

Referred to in §622A.3

Rule 15. Pretrial conference.

1. When held. Where a plea of not guilty to an indictment or trial information is entered on behalf of the defendant, the court may order all parties to the action to appear before it for a conference to consider such matters as will promote a fair and expeditious trial.

2. Discussions and record. The conference may explore such matters as amendment of pleadings, agreement to the introduction into evidence of photographs or other exhibits to which there is no objection, submission of requested jury instructions, and any other matters appropriate for discussion which may aid and expedite trial of the case.

3. Stipulations and orders. The court shall make an order reciting any action taken at the conference which will control the subsequent course of the action relative to matters it includes, unless modified to prevent manifest injustice. A stipulation entered into at such conference shall bind the defendant at trial, on appeal, or in a post-conviction proceeding only if signed by both the defendant and the defendant's attorney and filed with the clerk. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1301; 67GA, ch 153,§43]

Rule 16. Trial by jury or court.

1. Trial by court allowed. Cases required to be tried by jury shall be so tried unless the defendant waives a jury trial in a reported proceeding in open court.

2. Findings. In a case tried without a jury the court shall find the facts specially and on the record, separately stating its conclusions of law and directing an appropriate judgment. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1301; 67GA, ch 153,§44]

Rule 17. Juries.

1. Selection. The clerk shall prepare and deposit in a box separate ballots containing the names of all persons returned or added as jurors. At each jury trial he shall select sixteen jurors by closing and shaking the box to intermingle the ballots, and drawing them from the box without seeing the names. He shall list all jurors so drawn. Before drawing begins, either party may require that the names of all jurors be called, and have an attachment for those absent who are not engaged in other trials; but the court may wait for its return or not, in its discretion.

2. Depletion of panel. If for any reason the regular panel is exhausted without a jury being selected, it shall be completed in the manner provided in the chapters upon selecting, drawing, and summoning juries.

3. Challenges to the panel. Before any juror is sworn, either party may challenge the panel, in writing, distinctly specifying the grounds, which can be founded only on a material departure from the statutory requirements for drawing or returning the jury. On trial thereof, any officer, judicial or ministerial, whose irregularity is complained of, and any other persons, may be examined concerning the fact specified. If the court sustains the challenge it shall discharge the jury, no member of which can serve at the trial.

4. Challenges to individual juror. A challenge to an individual juror is an objection which may be taken orally, and is either for cause or peremptory.

5. Challenges for cause. A challenge for cause may be made by the state or defendant, and must distinctly specify the facts constituting the causes thereof. It may be made for any of the following causes:

a. A previous conviction of the juror of a felony.

b. A want of any of the qualifications prescribed by statute to render a person a competent juror.

c. Unsoundness of mind, or such defects in the faculties of the mind or the organs of the body as render the juror incapable of performing the duties of a juror.

d. Affinity or consanguinity, within the fourth degree, to the person alleged to be injured by the offense charged, or on whose complaint, or at whose instance, the prosecution was instituted, or to the defendant, to be computed according to the rule of the civil law.

e. Standing in the relation of guardian and ward, attorney and client, employer and employee, or landlord and tenant, or being a member of the family of the defendant, or of the person alleged to be injured by the offense charged, or on whose complaint, or at whose instance, the prosecution was instituted, or in his or her employ on wages.

f. Being a party adverse to the defendant in a civil action, or having been the prosecutor against or accused by the defendant in a criminal prosecution.

g. Having served on the grand jury which found the indictment.

h. Having served on a trial jury which has tried another defendant for the offense charged in the indictment.

i. Having been on a jury formerly sworn to try the same indictment and whose verdict was set aside, or which was discharged without a verdict after the cause was submitted to it.

j. Having served as a juror, in a civil action brought against the defendant, for the act charged as an offense.

k. Having formed or expressed such an opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the prisoner as would prevent the juror from rendering a true verdict upon the evidence submitted on the trial.

l. Because of the juror being bail for any defendant in the indictment.

m. Because the juror is defendant in a similar indictment, or complainant against the defendant or any other person indicted for a similar offense.

n. Because the juror is, or within a year preceding has been, engaged or interested in carrying on any business, calling, or employment, the carrying on of which is a violation of law, where the defendant is indicted for a like offense.

o. Because the juror has been a witness, either for or against the defendant, on the preliminary hearing or before the grand jury.

p. Having requested, directly or indirectly, that his or her name be returned as a juror for the regular biennial period.

6. Examination of jurors. Upon examination the jurors shall be sworn. If an individual juror is challenged, the juror may be examined as a witness to prove or disprove the challenge, and must answer every question pertinent to the inquiry thereon, but the juror's answer shall not afterwards be testimony against him or her. Other witnesses may also be examined on either side. The rules of evidence applicable to the trial of other issues shall govern the admission or exclusion of testimony on the trial of the challenge, and the court shall determine the law and the facts, and must allow or disallow the challenge.

7. Order of challenges for cause. The state shall first complete its challenge for cause, and the defendant afterwards, until sixteen jurors have been obtained against whom no cause of challenge has been found to exist.

8. Order of challenges in general. The challenges of either party need not be all taken at once, but separately, in the following order, including in each challenge all the causes of challenge belonging to the same class: To the panel; to an individual juror for cause; to an individual juror peremptorily.

9. Peremptory challenges. Peremptory challenges must be made before the jury is sworn to try the case. A juror peremptorily challenged must be excused without reasons being given. After all challenges for cause are completed, the state and defendant shall alternately make or waive their peremptory challenges by appropriate notations on the jury list.

10. Peremptory challenges—number. If the offense charged in the indictment or information is a class "A" felony, the state and defendant shall each have the right to peremptorily challenge eight jurors and shall strike two jurors.

If the offense charged be any other felony, the state and the defendant shall each have the right to peremptorily challenge four jurors and shall strike two jurors.

If the offense charged is a misdemeanor, the state and the defendant shall each have the right to peremptorily challenge two jurors and shall strike two jurors.

11. Multiple charges. If the indictment charges different offenses in different counts, the state and the defendant shall each have that number of peremptory challenges which they would have if the highest grade of offense charged in the indictment were the only charge.

12. Multiple defendants. In a case where two or more defendants are tried, each defendant shall have one-half the number of challenges allowed in subdivision 11 of this rule. The state shall be limited to the challenges and strikes specified in subdivision 11. The defendants collectively shall be limited to two strikes.

13. Clerk to prepare list—procedure. The clerk shall prepare a list of jurors called; and, after all challenges for cause are exhausted or waived, the parties, commencing with the state, shall alternately challenge peremptorily or waive by indicating any such challenge upon the list opposite the name of the juror challenged, or by indicating the number of waiver elsewhere on the list.

14. Vacancy filled. After each challenge, sustained for cause, or made peremptorily as indicated on the list, another juror shall be called and examined for challenge for cause before a further challenge is made; and any new juror thus called may be challenged for cause and shall be subject to peremptory challenge or to being struck from the list as other jurors.

15. Reading of names. After all challenges have thus been exercised or waived and four jurors have been struck from the list the clerk shall read the names of the twelve jurors remaining who shall constitute the jury selected.

16. Jurors sworn. When twelve jurors are accepted they shall be sworn to try the issues.

17. Alternate jurors. The court may impanel one or more alternate jurors whose qualifications, powers, functions, facilities, and privileges shall be the same as regular jurors. After the regular jury is selected, the clerk shall draw the names of three more persons if one alternate juror is desired, or four more persons if two alternate jurors are desired, and so on in like proportion, who are to serve under this rule, who shall be sworn and subject to examination and challenge for cause as provided in this rule. Each side must then strike off one such name, and the one or two or appropriate number remaining shall be sworn to try the case with the regular jury, and sit at the trial. Alternate jurors shall, in the order they were drawn, replace any juror who becomes unable to act, or is disqualified, before the jury retires, and if not so needed shall then be discharged.

[66GA, ch 1245(2),§1301; 67GA, ch 153,§45 to 49; Report 1978, effective July 1, 1979; amendment 1980]

Referred to in R.Cr.P. 48

Rule 18. Trial.

1. Trial assignments.

a. Trials. Upon entry of a plea of not guilty, every criminal case shall be assigned for trial.

b. Appeals, waiver of jury. On each motion day, the clerk of court shall deliver to the presiding judge the file in each nonindictable criminal case in which an appeal was taken more than ten days previously. The judge shall assign the case for trial. Unless the defendant filed a written demand for jury within ten days after taking the appeal, he shall be deemed to have waived trial by jury.

2. Continuance of trial. The provisions of the rules of civil procedure relative to the continuances of the trial of civil causes shall apply to the continuance of criminal actions, but no judgment for costs shall be rendered against a defendant on account thereof, except as in this Code otherwise provided.

3. Order of trial and arguments.

a. Order of trial. The jury having been impaneled and sworn, the trial must proceed in the following order:

(1) Reading indictment and plea. The clerk or prosecuting attorney must read the accusation from the indictment or the supplemental indictment, as appropriate, and state the defendant's plea to the jury.

(2) Statement of state's evidence. The prosecuting attorney may briefly state the evidence by which he or she expects to sustain the indictment.

(3) Statement of defendant's evidence. The attorney for the defendant may then briefly state his or her defense, or the attorney for the defendant may waive the making of such statement; the attorney for the defendant may reserve the right to make such statement to a time immediately prior to presentation of defendant's evidence.

(4) Offer of state's evidence. The state may then offer the evidence in support of the indictment.

(5) Offer of defendant's evidence. The defendant or the defendant's counsel may then offer evidence in support of his or her defense.

(6) Rebutting or additional evidence. The parties may then, respectively, offer rebutting evidence only, unless the court, for good reasons, in furtherance of justice, permit them to offer evidence upon their original case.

b. Order of argument. When the evidence is concluded, unless the case is submitted to the jury on both sides without argument, the prosecuting attorney must commence, the defendant follow by one or two counsel, at the defendant's option, unless the court permits the defendant to be heard by a larger number, and the prosecuting attorney conclude, confining himself to a response to the arguments of the defendant's counsel. Where two or more defendants are on trial for the same offense, they may be heard by one counsel each.

4. Advance notice of evidence supporting indictments or informations. The prosecuting attorney, in offering trial evidence in support of an indictment, shall not be permitted to introduce any witness the minutes of whose testimony was not presented with the indictment to the court; in the case of informations, a witness may testify in support thereof if the witness' identity and a minute of the witness' evidence has been given pursuant to these rules. However, these provisions are subject to the following exception: Additional witnesses in support of the indictment or trial information may be presented by the prosecuting attorney if he or she has given the defendant's attorney of record, or the defendant if he or she has no attorney, a minute of such witness' evidence, as defined in R.Cr.P. 4(6) "a" or R.Cr.P. 5(3), at least ten days before the commencement of the trial.

5. Failure to give notice. Whenever the prosecuting attorney desires to call witnesses to support the indictment, of which he or she shall not have given ten days' notice because of insufficient time therefor since the prosecutor learned said testimony could be obtained, the prosecutor may move the court for leave to introduce such testimony, giving the same particulars as in the former case, and showing diligence, supported by affidavit or other evidence. Except where the testimony goes to merely formal matters, if the court sustains said motion, the defendant shall elect whether said cause shall be continued on his motion, or the witness shall then testify. If said defendant shall not elect to have said cause continued, the prosecuting attorney may examine said witness in the same manner and with the same effect as though ten days' notice had been given defendant or the defendant's attorney as hereinbefore provided, except the prosecuting attorney, in the examination of witnesses, shall be strictly confined to the matters set out in his or her motion.

6. Reporting of trial. All the provisions relating to mode and manner of the trial of civil actions, report thereof, translation of the shorthand reporter's notes, the making of such reports and translation of the record, and in all other respects, apply to the trial of criminal actions. Upon request of any party, final arguments shall be reported. [Transcript fee, see Code §605.11] ##### a. View.

(1) When taken. Upon motion made, when the court is of the opinion that it is proper, the jury may view the place where the offense is charged to have been committed, or where any other material fact occurred. The court may order the jury to be conducted in a body, in the custody of proper officers, to the place, which shall be shown them by a person appointed by the court for that purpose.

(2) Attending officers. The officers must be sworn to suffer no person to speak to or communicate with the jury on any subject connected with the trial, or to do so themselves, except the person appointed by the court for that purpose, and that only to show the place to be viewed, and to return them into court without unreasonable delay at a specified time.

b. Juror may not be witness. A member of the jury may not testify as a witness in the trial of the case in which he or she is sitting as a juror. If the juror is called to testify, the opposing party shall be afforded an opportunity to object out of the presence of the jury.

c. Separation of jurors. The jurors shall be kept together unless the court permits the jurors to separate as in civil cases; and the officers having charge of the jury shall be sworn to suffer no person to communicate with them except as provided for in civil cases.

d. Admonition to jurors. The jury, whether permitted to separate or kept together in charge of sworn officers, must be admonished by the court that it is their duty not to permit any person to speak to or communicate with them on any subject connected with the trial, and that any and all attempts to do so should be immediately reported by them to the court, and that they should not converse among themselves on any subject connected with the trial, or form or express an opinion thereon, until the cause is finally submitted to them, that they should not make an unauthorized visit to the scene of the alleged offense, and that they should refrain from conducting any unauthorized experiments or tests relating to the alleged offense. Said admonition must be given or referred to by the court at each adjournment during the progress of the trial previous to the final submission of the cause to the jury.

e. Notes taken by jurors during trial; exhibits used during deliberations. Notes may be taken by jurors during the testimony of witnesses. All jurors shall have an equal opportunity to take notes. The court shall instruct the jury to mutilate and destroy any notes taken during the trial at the completion of the jury's deliberation. Upon retiring for deliberations the jury may take with it all papers and exhibits which have been received in evidence, and the court's instructions. Provided, however, the jury shall not take with it depositions, nor shall it take original public records and private documents as ought not, in the opinion of the court, to be taken from the person having them in possession.

f. Instructions. Upon the conclusion of the arguments, the court shall charge the jury in writing, without oral explanation or qualification, stating the law of the case. The rules relating to the instruction of juries in civil cases shall be applicable to the trial of criminal prosecutions. After hearing the charge, the jury shall retire for deliberation.

g. Report for information. After the jury has retired for deliberation, if there be any disagreement as to any part of the testimony, or if it desires to be informed on any point of law arising in the cause, it must require the officer to conduct it into court, and, upon its being brought in, the information required may be given, in the discretion of the trial court. Where further information as to the testimony which was given at trial is taken by the jury, this shall be accomplished by the court reporter or other appropriate official reading from the reporter's notes. Where the court gives the jury additional instructions, this shall appear of record. Provided, that the procedures described in this section shall take place in the presence of defendant and counsel for the defense and prosecution, unless such presence is waived.

h. Jury deliberations. On final submission, the jury shall retire for deliberation, and be kept together in charge of an officer until they agree on a verdict or are discharged by the court, unless the court permits the jurors to separate temporarily overnight, on weekends or holidays, or in emergencies. The officer in charge must be sworn to not suffer any communication to be made to them during their deliberations, nor to make any himself or herself, except to ask them if they have agreed on a verdict, unless by order of court; nor to communicate to any person the state of their deliberations, or the verdict agreed upon before it is rendered.

8. Retrial of defendants when original jury is discharged, and in other cases.

a. Illness of jurors and other cases. The court may discharge a jury because of any accident or calamity requiring it, or by consent of all parties, or when on an amendment a continuance is ordered, or if they have deliberated until it satisfactorily appears that they cannot agree. The case shall be retried within ninety days unless good cause for further delay is shown.

b. Lack of jurisdiction; no offense charged. The court may also discharge the jury when it appears that it has no jurisdiction of the offense, or that the facts as charged in the indictment do not constitute an offense punishable by law.

c. Crime committed in another state. If the jury be discharged because the court lacks jurisdiction of the offense charged in the indictment, the offense being committed out of the jurisdiction of this state, the defendant must be discharged, or ordered to be retained in custody a reasonable time until the prosecuting attorney shall have a reasonable opportunity to inform the chief executive of the state in which the offense was committed of the facts, and for said officer to require the delivery of the offender.

d. No offense charged—resubmission. If the jury be discharged because the facts set forth do not constitute an offense punishable by law, the court must order the defendant discharged and his or her bail, if any, exonerated, or, if the defendant has deposited money instead of bail, that the money deposited be refunded, or that any conditions upon the defendant's release from custody be discharged. If in the court's opinion a new indictment can be framed upon which the defendant can be legally convicted, the court may direct that the case be submitted to the same or another grand jury.

9. The trial judge.

a. Competency of judge as witness. The judge presiding at the trial shall not testify in that trial as a witness. If the judge is called to testify, no objection need be made in order to preserve the point.

b. Disability of trial judge.

(1) During trial. If by reason of death, sickness or other disability the judge before whom a jury trial has commenced is unable to proceed with the trial, any other judge regularly sitting in or assigned to the court, upon certifying that he or she has familiarized himself or herself with the record of the trial, may proceed with and finish the trial.

(2) After verdict or finding of guilt. If by reason of absence, death, sickness or other disability the judge before whom the defendant has been tried is unable to perform the duties to be performed by the court after a verdict or finding of guilty, any other judge regularly sitting in or assigned to the court may perform those duties; but if such other judge is satisfied that he or she cannot perform those duties because he or she did not preside at the trial or for any other reason, he or she may in his or her discretion grant a new trial.

c. Adjournments declared by trial court. While the jury is absent, the court may adjourn from time to time for other business, but it shall be nevertheless deemed open for every purpose connected with the cause submitted to the jury until a verdict is rendered or the jury is discharged.

10. Motion for judgment of acquittal.

a. Motion before submission to jury. The court on motion of a defendant or on its own motion shall order the entry of judgment of acquittal of one or more offenses charged in the indictment after the evidence on either side is closed if the evidence is insufficient to sustain a conviction of such offense or offenses. If a defendant's motion for judgment of acquittal at the close of the evidence offered by the prosecuting attorney is not granted, the defendant may offer evidence without having waived his or her right to rely on such motion.

b. Reservation of decision on motion. If a motion for judgment of acquittal is made at the close of all the evidence, the court may reserve decision on the motion, submit the case to the jury and decide the motion either before the jury returns a verdict or after it returns a verdict or is discharged without having returned a verdict.

11. Trial of questions involving prior convictions. After conviction of the primary or current offense, but prior to pronouncement of sentence, if the indictment or information alleges one or more prior convictions which by the Code subjects the offender to an increased sentence, the offender shall have the opportunity in open court to affirm or deny that he or she is identical with the person previously convicted, or that he or she was not represented by counsel and did not waive counsel. If the offender denies he or she is the person previously convicted, sentence shall be postponed for such time as to permit a trial before a jury on the issue of the offender's identity with the person previously convicted. Other objections shall be heard and determined by the court, and these other objections shall be asserted prior to trial of the substantive offense in the manner presented in R.Cr.P. 10. On the issue of identity, the court may in its discretion reconvene the jury which heard the current offense or dismiss that jury and submit the issue to another jury to be later impaneled. If the offender is found by the jury to be the person previously convicted, or if the offender acknowledged that he or she is such person, the offender shall be sentenced as prescribed in the Code. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1301; 67GA, ch 153,§50 to 57; Report 1978, effective July 1, 1979; amendment 1979]

Rule 19. Witnesses.

1. Competency of witnesses; cross-examination of the accused. The rules for determining the competency of witnesses in civil actions are, so far as they are in their nature applicable, extended also to criminal actions and proceedings, except as otherwise provided. A defendant in a criminal action or proceeding shall be a competent witness in his or her own behalf, but cannot be called by the state. If the defendant offers himself or herself as a witness, the defendant may be cross-examined as an ordinary witness, but the state shall be strictly confined therein to the matters testified to in the examination in chief.

2. Compelling attendance of witnesses from without the state to proceedings in Iowa. The presence and testimony of a witness located outside the state may be secured through the uniform Act to secure witnesses from without the state set forth in chapter 819, The Code.

3. Immunity.

a. Before any witness shall be compelled to answer or to produce evidence in any judicial proceeding after having asserted that such answer or evidence would tend to render him or her criminally liable, incriminate him or her or violate his or her right to remain silent, the witness must knowingly waive his right or:

(1) A county attorney or the attorney general must file with a district judge a verified application setting forth that:

The testimony of the witness, or the production of documents or other evidence in the possession of such witness, or both, is necessary and material; and

The witness has refused to testify, or to produce documents or other evidence, or both, upon the ground that such testimony or evidence would tend to incriminate him or her; and

It is the considered judgment of the county attorney or attorney general that justice and the public interest require the testimony, documents or evidence in question.

(2) The application, transcripts and orders required by this subsection shall be filed as a separate case in the criminal docket entitled "In the matter of the testimony of . . . . . (Name of witness)" and shall be indexed in the criminal index under the name of the witness. Any testimony given in support of the application for immunity shall be reported and a transcript of the testimony shall be filed with the application.

(3) Upon consideration of such application the judge shall enter an order granting the witness immunity to prosecution for any crime or public offense concerning which the witness was compelled to give competent and relevant testimony or to produce competent and relevant evidence.

(4) Testimony, documents or evidence which has been given by a witness granted immunity shall not be used against the witness in any trial or proceeding, or subject the witness to any penalty or forfeiture; provided, that such immunity shall not apply to any prosecution or proceeding for a perjury or a contempt of court committed in the course of or during the giving of such testimony.

b. A complete verbatim transcript of testimony given pursuant to an order of immunity shall be made and filed with the application and the order of court. The application, order granting immunity and all transcripts filed shall be sealed upon motion of the defendant, county attorney, or attorney general and shall be opened only by order of the court. This section shall not bar the use of the transcript as evidence in any proceeding except the transcript shall not be used in any proceeding against the witness except for perjury or contempt.

c. Whoever shall refuse to testify or to produce evidence after having been granted immunity as aforesaid shall be subject to punishment for contempt of court as in the case of any witness who refuses to testify, a claim to privilege against self-incrimination notwithstanding.

4. Witnesses for indigents. Counsel for a defendant who is financially unable to obtain expert or other witnesses necessary to an adequate defense of the case may request compensation in a written application. Upon finding, after appropriate inquiry, that the services are necessary and that the defendant is financially unable to provide compensation, the court shall authorize counsel to obtain such witnesses on behalf of the defendant. The court shall determine reasonable compensation for the services and direct payment to the person who rendered them pursuant to chapter 815, The Code. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1301; 67GA, ch 153,§58 to 60]

Referred to in §815.4

Rule 20. Evidence.

1. Rules. The rules of evidence prescribed in civil procedure shall apply to criminal proceedings as far as applicable and not inconsistent with the provisions of statutes and these rules.

2. Questions of law and fact. Upon jury trial of a criminal case, questions of law are to be decided by the court, saving the right of the defendant and state to object; questions of fact are to be tried by jury.

3. Corroboration of accomplice or person solicited. A conviction cannot be had upon the testimony of an accomplice or a solicited person, unless corroborated by other evidence which shall tend to connect the defendant with the commission of the offense; and the corroboration is not sufficient if it merely shows the commission of the offense or the circumstances thereof.

4. Confession of defendant. The confession of the defendant, unless made in open court, will not warrant a conviction, unless accompanied with other proof that the defendant committed the offense.

5. Evidence of past sexual conduct in trials of sexual abuse. In prosecutions for the crime of sexual abuse, evidence of the prosecuting witness' previous sexual conduct shall not be admitted, nor reference made thereto in the presence of the jury, except as provided herein. Evidence of the prosecuting witness' previous sexual conduct shall be admissible upon appropriate order of the court if the defendant shall make application to the court not later than five days before trial.

The court shall conduct a hearing in camera as to the relevancy of such evidence of previous sexual conduct, and shall limit the questioning and control the admission and exclusion of evidence upon trial.

In no event shall such evidence of previous sexual conduct of the prosecuting witness committed more than one year prior to the date of the alleged crime be admissible upon the trial, except previous sexual conduct with the defendant. Nothing in this rule shall limit the right of either the state or the accused to impeach credibility by the showing of prior felony convictions which are otherwise admissible. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1301; 67GA, ch 153,§61 to 63]

Rule 21. Verdict.

1. Form of verdicts. In open court the jury must render a verdict of "guilty", which imports a conviction, or "not guilty" or "not guilty by reason of insanity" or "not guilty by reason of diminished responsibility" which imports acquittal, on the material allegations in the charge. The jury shall return a verdict determining the degree of guilt in cases submitted to determine the grade of the offense.

2. Answers to interrogatories. It must also return with the general verdict answers to special interrogatories submitted by the court upon its own motion, or at the request of the defendant in prosecutions where the defense is an affirmative one, or it is claimed any witness is an accomplice, or there has been a failure to corroborate where corroboration is required.

Where a defendant is alleged to be subject to the minimum sentence provisions of section 902.7, The Code (use of firearms), and the allegation is supported by the evidence, the court shall submit a special interrogatory concerning that matter to the jury.

3. Finding offense of different degree; included offenses. Upon trial of an offense consisting of different degrees, the jury may find the defendant not guilty of the degree charged in the indictment or information, and guilty of any degree inferior thereto, or of an attempt to commit the offense when such attempt is prohibited by law. In all cases, the defendant may be found guilty of any offense the commission of which is necessarily included in that with which the defendant is charged.

4. Several defendants. On an indictment or information against several defendants, if the jury cannot agree upon a verdict as to all, it may render a verdict as to those in regard to whom it does agree, on which a judgment shall be entered accordingly, and the case as to the rest may be tried by another jury. Upon an indictment or information against several defendants, any one or more may be convicted or acquitted.

5. Return of jury; reading and entry of verdict; unanimous verdict. The jury, agreeing on a verdict unanimously, shall bring the verdict into court, where it shall be read to them, and inquiry made if it is their verdict. A party may then require a poll asking each juror if it is his or her verdict. If any juror express disagreement on such poll or inquiry, the jury shall be sent out for further deliberation; otherwise, the verdict is complete and the jury shall be discharged. When the verdict is given and is such as the court may receive, the clerk may enter it in full upon the record.

6. Verdict insufficient; reconsideration; informal verdict. If the jury renders a verdict which is in none of the forms specified in this rule, or a verdict of guilty in which it appears to the court that the jury was mistaken as to the law, the court may direct the jury to reconsider it, and it shall not be recorded until it is rendered in some form from which the intent of the jury can be clearly understood. If the jury persists in finding an informal verdict, from which, however, it can be understood that the intention is to find for the defendant upon the issue, it shall be entered in the terms in which it is found, and the court must give judgment of acquittal.

7. Defendant discharged on acquittal. If judgment of acquittal is given on a general verdict of not guilty, and the defendant is not detained for any other legal cause, the defendant must be discharged as soon as the judgment is given.

8. Acquittal on ground of insanity or diminished responsibility; commitment. If the defense is insanity or diminished responsibility of the defendant, the jury must be instructed, if it acquits the defendant on that ground, to state that fact in its verdict. Upon hearing, the court may thereupon, if the defendant is found to be dangerous to the public peace and safety, order the defendant committed to one of the mental health institutes or the Iowa security medical facility, or retained in custody, until he or she demonstrates good mental health and is considered no longer dangerous to the public peace and safety or to himself.

9. Proof necessary to sustain verdict of guilty.

a. Reasonable doubt. Where there is a reasonable doubt of the defendant being proven to be guilty, the defendant is entitled to an acquittal.

b. Reasonable doubt as to degree. Where there is a reasonable doubt of the degree of the offense of which the defendant is proved to be guilty, the defendant shall only be convicted of the degree as to which there is no reasonable doubt. [66GA, ch 1245(2), §1301; 67GA, ch 153, §64, 65; amendment 1980]

Rule 22. Judgment.

1. Entry of judgment of acquittal or conviction. Upon a verdict of not guilty for the defendant, or special verdict upon which a judgment of acquittal must be given, the court must render judgment of acquittal immediately. Upon a plea of guilty, verdict of guilty, or a special verdict upon which a judgment of conviction may be rendered, the court must fix a date for pronouncing judgment, which must be within a reasonable time but not less than fifteen days after the plea is entered or the verdict is rendered, unless defendant consents to a shorter time.

2. Forfeiture of bail; warrant of arrest. If the defendant has been released on bail, or has deposited money instead thereof, and does not appear for judgment when the defendant's personal appearance is necessary, the court, in addition to the forfeiture of the undertaking of bail or money deposited, may make an order directing the clerk, on the application of the county attorney at any time thereafter, to issue a warrant into one or more counties for the defendant's arrest, which may be substantially in the form illustrated in the appendix of forms to these rules. The warrant may be served in any county in the state. The officer must arrest the defendant and bring the defendant before the court, or commit the defendant to the officer mentioned in the warrant.

3. Imposition of sentence.

a. Informing the defendant. When the defendant appears for judgment, he or she must be informed by the court or the clerk under its direction, of the nature of the indictment, his or her plea, and the verdict, if any thereon, and be asked whether he or she has any legal cause to show why judgment should not be pronounced against him.

b. What may be shown for cause. The defendant may show for cause against the judgment that he or she is insane, or any sufficient ground for a new trial, or in arrest of judgment.

c. Insanity. If the court is of the opinion that there is reasonable ground for believing the defendant insane, the question of the defendant's insanity shall be determined as provided in the Code, and if the defendant is found to be insane, such proceedings shall be had as are herein directed.

d. Judgment entered. If no sufficient cause is shown why judgment should not be pronounced, and none appears to the court upon the record, judgment shall be rendered. Prior to such rendition, counsel for the defendant, and the defendant personally, shall be allowed to address the court where either wishes to make a statement in mitigation of punishment. In every case the court shall include in the judgment entry the number of the particular section of the Code under which the defendant is sentenced. The court shall state on the record its reason for selecting the particular sentence.

e. Notification of right to appeal. After imposing sentence in a case, the court shall advise the defendant of his or her statutory right to appeal and the right of a person who is unable to pay the costs of appeal to apply to the court for appointment of counsel and the furnishing of a transcript of the evidence as provided in sections 814.9 and 814.11, The Code.

Such notification shall advise defendant that filing a notice of appeal within the time and in the manner specified in section 814.4, The Code, is jurisdictional and failure to comply with these provisions shall preclude defendant's right of appeal.

The trial court shall make compliance with this rule a matter of record.

f. Exercise of right to appeal. After notifying the defendant of his or her statutory right to appeal, the trial court may ask the defendant if he or she desires to appeal. If, after appropriate consultation with counsel the defendant responds affirmatively, the court shall direct defense counsel to file notice of appeal forthwith and, if the defendant is indigent, shall at once order the transcript and appoint appellate counsel, without awaiting application therefor under sections 814.9 and 814.11, The Code.

g. Clerical mistakes. Clerical mistakes in judgments, orders or other parts of the record and errors in the record arising from oversight or omission may be corrected by the court at any time and after such notice, if any, as the court orders. [66GA, ch 1245(2), §1301; 67GA, ch 153, §66 to 68; Report 1978, effective July 1, 1979]

Referred to in R Cr P 26 1(2) §229 20(2)

Rule 23. Motions after trial.

1. In general. Permissible motions after trial include motions for new trial, motions in arrest of judgment, and motions to correct a sentence.

2. New trial.

a. Procedural steps in seeking or ordering new trial. The application for a new trial can be made only by the defendant and shall be made not later than forty-five days after plea of guilty, verdict of guilty, or special verdict upon which a judgment of conviction may be rendered, but in any case not later than five days before the date set for pronouncing judgment, but where based upon newly discovered evidence may be made after judgment as well. After giving the parties notice and an opportunity to be heard on the matter, the court may grant a motion for a new trial, timely served, for a reason not stated in the motion. In any case the court shall specify in the order the grounds therefor.

b. Grounds.

The court may grant a new trial for any or all of the following causes:

(1) When the trial has been held in the absence of the defendant, in cases where such presence is required by law, except as provided in R.Cr.P. 25.

(2) When the jury has received any evidence, paper or document out of court not authorized by the court.

(3) When the jury have separated without leave of court, after retiring to deliberate upon their verdict, or have been guilty of any misconduct tending to prevent a fair and just consideration of the case.

(4) When the verdict has been decided by lot, or by means other than a fair expression of opinion on the part of all jurors.

(5) When the court has misdirected the jury in a material matter of law, or has erred in the decision of any question of law during the course of the trial, or when the prosecuting attorney has been guilty of prejudicial misconduct during the trial thereof before a jury.

(6) When the verdict is contrary to law or evidence.

(7) When the court has refused properly to instruct the jury.

(8) When the defendant has discovered important and material evidence in his or her favor since the verdict, which the defendant could not with reasonable diligence have discovered and produced at the trial. A motion based upon this ground shall be made without unreasonable delay and, in any event, within two years after final judgment, but such motion may be considered thereafter upon a showing of good cause. When a motion for a new trial is made upon the ground of newly discovered evidence, the defendant must produce at the hearing, in support thereof, the affidavits or testimony of the witnesses by whom such evidence is expected to be given, and if time is required by the defendant to procure such affidavits or testimony, the court may postpone the hearing of the motion for such length of time as, under all circumstances of the case, may be reasonable.

(9) When from any other cause the defendant has not received a fair and impartial trial.

c. Trials without juries. On a motion for a new trial in an action tried without a jury, the court may where appropriate, in lieu of granting a new trial, vacate the judgment if entered, take additional testimony, amend findings of fact and conclusions of law or make new findings and conclusions, and enter judgment accordingly.

d. Effect of a new trial. Upon a new trial, the former verdict cannot be used or referred to either in evidence or argument.

e. Time of decision. A motion for new trial shall be heard and determined by the court within thirty days from the date it is filed, except upon good cause entered in the record.

3. Arrest of judgment.

a. Motion in arrest of judgment; definition and grounds. A motion in arrest of judgment is an application by the defendant that no judgment be rendered on a finding, plea, or verdict of guilty. Such motion shall be granted when upon the whole record no legal judgment can be pronounced. A defendant's failure to challenge the adequacy of a guilty plea proceeding by motion in arrest of judgment shall preclude his or her right to assert such challenge on appeal.

b. Time of making motion by party. The motion must be made not later than forty-five days after plea of guilty, verdict of guilty, or special verdict upon which a judgment of conviction may be rendered, but in any case not later than five days before the date set for pronouncing judgment.

c. On motion of court. The court may also, upon its own observation of any of these grounds, arrest the judgment on its own motion.

d. Effect of order arresting judgment. The effect of an order arresting judgment is to place the defendant in the same situation in which he or she was immediately before the indictment was found or the information filed.

e. Proceedings after order arresting judgment. If, from the evidence on the trial, there is reasonable ground to believe the defendant guilty, and a new indictment or information can be framed, the court may order the defendant to be recommitted to the officer of the proper county, or admitted to bail or otherwise released anew, to answer the new indictment. In such case the order arresting judgment shall not be a bar to another prosecution. But if the evidence upon trial appears to the trial court insufficient to charge the defendant with any offense, the defendant must, if in custody, be released; or, if admitted to bail, his or her bail be exonerated; or if money has been deposited instead of bail, it must be refunded to the defendant or to the person or persons found by the court to have deposited said money on behalf of said defendant.

f. Time of decision. A motion in arrest of judgment shall be heard and determined by the court within thirty days from the date it is filed, except upon good cause entered in the record.

4. General principles.

a. Extensions. The time for filing motions for new trial or in arrest of judgment may be extended to such further time as the court may fix.

b. Disposition. If the defendant moves for a new trial, or in arrest of judgment, the court shall defer the judgment and proceed to hear and decide the motions.

c. Appeal. Appeal from an order granting or denying a motion for new trial or in arrest of judgment may be taken by the state or the defendant. Where the court has denied the motion for new trial or in arrest of judgment, or both, appeal may be had only after judgment is pronounced.

d. Custody pending appellate determination. Pending determination by the appellate court of such appeal, the trial court shall determine whether the defendant shall remain in custody, or whether, if in custody, the defendant should be released on bail or his or her own recognizance. Where the trial court has arrested judgment and an appeal is taken by the state, and it further appears to the trial court that there is no evidence sufficient to charge the defendant with an offense, the defendant shall not be held in custody.

e. Reinstatement of verdict. In the event the appellate court reverses the order of the trial court arresting judgment or granting a new trial, it shall order that the verdict be reinstated, unless the appellate court finds other reversible errors, in which event it may enter an appropriate different order.

5. Correction of sentence.

a. Time when correction of sentence may be made. The court may correct an illegal sentence at any time.

b. Credit for time served. The defendant shall receive full credit for time spent in custody under the sentence prior to correction or reduction. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1301; 67GA, ch 153,§69 to 73; Report 1978, effective July 1, 1979]

Referred to in R Cr P 25(3), 55

Rule 23.1. Bill of exceptions.

1. Purpose. The office of a bill of exceptions is to make the proceedings or evidence appear of record which would not otherwise so appear.

2. What constitutes record; exceptions unnecessary. All papers pertaining to the cause and filed with the clerk, and all entries made by him or her in the record book pertaining to them, and showing the action or decision of the court upon them or any part of them, and the judgment, are to be deemed parts of the record, and it is not necessary to except to any action or decision of the court so appearing of record.

3. Grounds for exceptions. On the trial of an indictable offense, exceptions may be taken by the state or by the defendant to any decision of the court upon matters of law, in any of the following cases:

a. In disallowing a challenge to an individual juror.

b. In admitting or rejecting witnesses or evidence on the trial of any challenge to an individual juror.

c. In admitting or rejecting witnesses or evidence.

d. In deciding any matter of law, not purely discretionary on the trial of the issue.

Exceptions may also be taken to any action or decision of the court which affects any other material or substantial right of either party, whether before or after the trial of the indictment, or on the trial.

4. Bill by judge. Either party may take an exception to any decision or action of the court, in any stage of the proceedings, not required to be and not entered in the record book, and reduce the same to writing, and tender the same to the judge, who shall sign it if true, and if signed it shall be filed with the clerk and become part of the record of the cause.

5. Bill by bystanders. If the judge refuses to sign it, such refusal must be stated at the end thereof, and it may then be signed by two or more attorneys or officers of the court or disinterested bystanders, and sworn to by them, and filed with the clerk, and it shall thereupon become a part of the record of the cause.

6. Time to approve bill. The judge shall be allowed one court day to examine the bill of exceptions, and the party excepting shall be allowed three court days thereafter to procure the signatures and file the same.

7. Modification of bill. If the judge and the party excepting can agree in modifying the bill of exceptions, it shall be modified accordingly.

8. Time allowed to prepare bill. Time must be given to prepare the bill of exceptions when it is necessary; if it can reasonably be done, it shall be settled at the time of taking the exception. [Report 1979]

Rule 24. Execution and stay thereof.

1. Mechanics of execution.

a. Copy of judgment. When a judgment of confinement, either in the penitentiary or county jail or other detention facility, is pronounced, an execution, consisting of a certified copy of the entry of judgment must be forthwith furnished to the officer whose duty it is to execute the same, who shall proceed and execute it accordingly, and no other warrant or authority is necessary to justify or require its execution.

b. Execution and return within county; confinement. A judgment for confinement to be executed in the county where the trial is had shall be executed by the sheriff thereof, and return made upon the execution, which shall be delivered to and filed by the clerk of said court.

c. Executions outside county; confinement.

(1) Under all other judgments for confinement, the sheriff shall deliver a certified copy of the execution with the body of the defendant to the keeper of the jail or penitentiary in which the defendant is to be confined in execution of the judgment, and take his or her receipt therefor on a duplicate copy thereof, which the sheriff must forthwith return to the clerk of the court in which the judgment was rendered, with the sheriff's return thereon, and a minute of said return shall be entered by the clerk as a part of the record of the proceedings in the cause in which the execution issued.

(2) When such defendant is discharged from custody, the jailer or warden of the place of confinement shall make return of such fact to the proper court, and an entry thereof shall be made by its clerk as is required in the first instance.

d. Execution for fine.

(1) Upon a judgment for a fine, an execution may be issued as upon a judgment in a civil case, and return thereof shall be made in like manner.

(2) Judgments for fines, in all criminal actions rendered, are liens upon the real estate of the defendant, and shall be entered upon the lien index in the same manner and with like effect as judgments in civil actions.

e. Execution in other cases. When the judgment is for the abatement or removal of a nuisance, or for anything other than confinement or payment of money by the defendant, an execution consisting of a certified copy of the entry of such judgment, delivered to the sheriff of the proper county, shall authorize and require the sheriff to execute such judgment, and he or she shall return the same, with the sheriff's doings under the same thereon endorsed, to the clerk of the court in which the judgment was rendered, within a time specified by the court but not exceeding seventy days after the date of the certificate of such certified copy.

f. Days in jail before trial credited. The defendant shall receive full credit for time spent in custody on account of the offense for which he or she is convicted.

a. Confinement. A sentence of confinement shall be stayed if an appeal is taken and the defendant is released pending disposition of appeal pursuant to chapter 814, The Code.

b. Fine and other cases. The defendant may have a stay of execution for the same length of time and in the same manner as provided by law in civil actions, and with like effect, and the same proceedings may be had therein.

c. Probation. An order placing the defendant on probation may be stayed if an appeal is taken. If not stayed, the court shall specify when the term of probation shall commence. If the order is stayed the court shall fix the terms of the stay. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1301; 67GA, ch 153,§74]

Rule 25. Presence of defendant; regulation of conduct by the court.

1. Felony or misdemeanor. In felony cases the defendant shall be present at the arraignment, at the time of the plea, at every stage of the trial including the impaneling of the jury and the return of the verdict, and at the imposition of sentence, except as otherwise provided by this rule. In other cases the defendant may appear by counsel.

2. Continued presence not required. In all cases, the progress of the trial or any other proceeding shall not be prevented whenever a defendant, initially present, does one of the following:

a. Voluntarily absents himself or herself after the trial or other proceeding has commenced.

b. Engages in conduct which is such as to justify the defendant being excluded from the courtroom.

3. Presence not required. A defendant need not be present in the following situations:

a. A corporation may appear by counsel for all purposes.

b. The defendant's presence is not required at a reduction of sentence under R.Cr.P. 23.

4. Regulation of conduct in the courtroom.

a. When a defendant engages in conduct seriously disruptive of judicial proceedings, one or more of the following steps may be employed to ensure decorum in the courtroom:

(1) Cite the defendant for contempt.

(2) Take the defendant out of the courtroom until he or she promises to conduct himself or herself properly.

(3) Bind and gag the defendant, thereby keeping the defendant present.

b. When a magistrate reasonably believes a person who is present in the courtroom has a weapon in his or her possession, the magistrate may direct that such person be searched, and any weapon be retained subject to order of the court.

c. The magistrate may cause to have removed from the courtroom any person whose exclusion is necessary to preserve the integrity or order of the proceedings. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1301; 67GA, ch 153,§75, 76]

Referred to in R Cr P 23(2)

Rule 26. Right to appointed counsel.

1. Representation. Every defendant who is an indigent as defined in section 336A.4, The Code, shall be entitled to have counsel appointed to represent him or her at every stage of the proceedings from the defendant's initial appearance before the magistrate or the court through appeal, including probation and parole revocation hearings, unless the defendant waives such appointment.

2. Compensation. When counsel is appointed to represent an indigent defendant, compensation shall be paid as directed in chapter 815, The Code. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1301; 67GA, ch 153,§77]

Referred to in §908 2

Rule 26.1. Appointment of appellate counsel in criminal cases.

1. An indigent defendant, as defined in section 336A.4, The Code, convicted of an indictable offense or a simple misdemeanor where defendant faces the possibility of imprisonment, is entitled to appointment of counsel on appeal or application for discretionary review to the supreme court. Application for appointment of appellate counsel shall be made to the trial court, which shall retain authority to act on such application after notice of appeal or application for discretionary review has been filed. The supreme court, or a justice thereof, shall have authority to appoint counsel in the event the trial court fails or refuses to appoint and it becomes necessary to further provide for counsel.

2. Defendant may make oral application that appellate counsel be appointed only at the time specified in R.Cr.P. 22(3)"f". Upon such oral application if the trial court determines defendant is an indigent, the court shall proceed pursuant to R.Cr.P. 22(3)"f".

3. At all subsequent times defendant shall apply for appointment of appellate counsel in writing to the trial court, which shall by order either approve or deny such application no later than seven days after it is filed.

4. If the trial court finds defendant is ineligible for appointment of appellate counsel, it shall include in the record a statement of the reasons why counsel was not appointed. Defendant may apply to the supreme court for review of a trial court order denying defendant appointed counsel. Such application must be filed with the supreme court within ten days of the filing of the trial court order denying defendant's request for appointed counsel.

5. If defendant has proceeded as an indigent in the trial court and a financial statement required by section 336B.2, The Code, has been filed pursuant to section 336B.4, The Code, such defendant, upon mak- ing application for appointment of appellate counsel, shall be presumed to be an indigent, and an additional financial statement shall not be required to be submitted to the court, unless evidence is offered that defendant is not an indigent. In all other cases defendant shall be required to submit a financial statement to the trial court. Defendant and appointed appellate counsel shall be under a continuing obligation to inform the trial court of any change in circumstances that would make defendant ineligible to qualify as an indigent.

6. Trial counsel shall continue as defendant's appointed appellate counsel unless the trial court or supreme court orders otherwise. Selection of appointed appellate counsel shall be the responsibility of the trial court. Defendant shall not have the right to select the attorney to be assigned; however, defendant's request for particular counsel shall be given consideration by the trial court. [Report 1980]

Rule 26.2. Waiver of right to appellate counsel in criminal cases. An indigent defendant may waive his or her right to have appellate counsel appointed if defendant does so in writing and the trial court finds of record that defendant has acted with full awareness of his or her rights and of the consequences of a waiver and if the waiver is otherwise made according to law. Defendant may withdraw a waiver of his or her right to appellate counsel at any time. Such withdrawal and subsequent appointment of counsel shall not affect any prior appellate proceedings in which defendant acted pro se and shall not extend any appellate deadlines, unless the appropriate appellate court otherwise orders. Notwithstanding a waiver by defendant, the trial court, after notice of appeal or application for discretionary review has been filed, may appoint counsel to advise defendant during appellate proceedings if it appears to the court that, because of the gravity of the offense and other circumstances affecting defendant, the failure to appoint counsel may result in injustice to the defendant. [Report 1980]

Rule 26.3. Compensation of appointed appellate counsel. Appointed appellate counsel's compensation shall be determined by the trial court pursuant to the provisions of section 815.7, The Code. [Report 1980]

Rule 27. Dismissal of prosecutions; right to speedy trial.

1. Dismissal generally; effect. The court, upon its own motion or the application of the prosecuting attorney, in the furtherance of justice, may order the dismissal of any pending criminal prosecution, the reasons therefor being stated in the order and entered of record, and no such prosecution shall be discontinued or abandoned in any other manner. Such a dismissal is a bar to another prosecution for the same offense if it is a simple or serious misdemeanor; but it is not a bar if the offense charged be a felony or an aggravated misdemeanor.

2. Speedy trial. It is the public policy of the state of Iowa that criminal prosecutions be concluded at the earliest possible time consistent with a fair trial to both parties. Applications for dismissals under this subsection may be made by the prosecuting attorney or the defendant or by the court on its own motion.

a. When an adult is arrested for the commission of a public offense, or, in the case of a child, when the juvenile court enters an order waiving jurisdiction pursuant to section 232.45, The Code, and an indictment is not found against him within forty-five days, the court must order the prosecution to be dismissed, unless good cause to the contrary is shown or the defendant waives his right thereto.

b. If a defendant indicted for a public offense has not waived his right to a speedy trial he must be brought to trial within ninety days after indictment is found or the court must order the indictment to be dismissed unless good cause to the contrary be shown.

c. All criminal cases must be brought to trial within one year after the defendant's initial arraignment unless an extension is granted by the court, upon a showing of good cause.

d. If the court direct the prosecution to be dismissed, the defendant, if in custody, must be discharged, or his bail, if any, exonerated, and if money has been deposited instead of bail, it must be refunded to the defendant. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1301; amendment 1979; amendment 1980]

Referred to in R.Cr.P. 10(7)

Rule 28. Motions and other papers.

1. Motions. An application to the court for an order shall be by motion. A motion other than one made during a trial or hearing shall be in writing unless the court permits it to be made orally. It shall state the grounds upon which it is made and shall set forth the relief or order sought. It may be supported by affidavit.

2. Service of motions and papers. Service and filing of written motions, notices and other similar papers shall be in the manner provided in civil actions. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1301]

Rule 29. Rules of court.

1. District court practice rules. The supreme court and district court shall have authority to adopt rules governing practice in the district court which are not inconsistent with these rules and applicable statutes.

2. Procedures not specified therein. If no procedure is specifically prescribed by these rules or by statute, the court may proceed in any lawful manner not inconsistent with same. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1301; 67GA, ch 153,§78]

Rule 30. Forms. The forms contained in the appendix of forms are illustrative and not mandatory, and any particular instrument may be in more or less the form illustrated. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1301]

Rule 31. Repealed by 67GA, ch 153, §79; see section 813.1, The Code.

The clerk of court shall docket this application upon its receipt and promptly bring it to the attention of the court and deliver a copy to the county attorney and the attorney general. See §663A.3, The Code. [Report 1980]

SIMPLE MISDEMEANORS

Rule 32. Scope. The rules set forth in this section shall apply to trials of simple misdemeanors, and attendant proceedings and to appeals from conviction in such cases. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1302]

Referred to in §602.62

Rule 33. Applicability of indictable offense rules. Procedures not provided for herein shall be governed by the provisions of these rules which are by their nature applicable relating to trial of indictable offenses, and by the statutes of the state of Iowa. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1302; 67GA, ch 153,§81]

Referred to in §602.62

Rule 34. To whom tried. Judicial magistrates and district associate judges may hear, try and determine simple misdemeanors. District judges may transfer any simple misdemeanors pending before them to the nearest judicial magistrate or district associate judge. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1302; 67GA, ch 153,§82]

Referred to in §602.62

Rule 35. The charge. Prosecutions for simple misdemeanors must be commenced by filing a subscribed and sworn to complaint with a magistrate or district court clerk or the clerk's deputy. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1302]

Referred to in §602.62

Rule 36. Contents of the complaint. The complaint shall contain:

1. The name of the county and of the court where the complaint is filed.
2. The names of the parties, if the defendants be known, and if not, then such names as may be given them by the complainant.
3. A concise statement of the act or acts constituting the offense, including the time and place of its commission as near as may be, and identifying by number the provision of law alleged to be violated.

4. The provisions of section 769.6* [See R.Cr.P. 6(5)] shall be applicable to the prosecution before a magistrate of cases within the magistrate's jurisdiction. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1302; 67GA, ch 153,§83]

Referred to in §602.62

*Repealed by 66GA, ch 1245(4), §526

Rule 37. Filing of complaint. The magistrate or district court clerk or the clerk's deputy must file the complaint and mark thereon the time of filing the same. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1302]

Referred to in §602.62

Rule 38. Warrant of arrest. Immediately upon filing the complaint, the magistrate or district court clerk or the clerk's deputy may issue a warrant of arrest or may issue a citation instead of a warrant for arrest and deliver it to a peace officer. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1302]

Referred to in §602.62

Rule 39. Arrest. The officer who receives the warrant shall arrest the defendant and bring the defendant before the magistrate without unnecessary delay or serve the citation in the manner provided in chapter 804, The Code. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1302; 67GA, ch 153,§84]

Referred to in §602.62

Rule 40. Prosecution of corporations. In prosecutions against corporations the corporation may be proceeded against by summons as set forth in chapter 807, The Code. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1302]

Referred to in §602.62

Rule 41. Appearance of defendant. When the defendant first appears, the charge against the defendant must be distinctly read to him or her, and a copy given the defendant, and the defendant shall be asked whether he or she is charged under his or her right name. If the defendant objects that he or she is wrongly named in the complaint, the defendant must give his or her right name, and if the defendant refuses to do so, or does not object that he or she is wrongly named, the magistrate shall make an entry thereof in his or her docket, and the defendant is thereafter precluded from making any such objection. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1302]

Referred to in §602.62

Rule 42. Rights of defendant. The court shall inform the defendant:

1. Of the defendant's right to counsel.
2. Of the circumstances under which the defendant might secure pretrial release, and of the defendant's right to review any conditions imposed on his or her release.
3. That the defendant is not required to make a statement and that if he or she does, it may be used against him or her.

In cases where the defendant faces the possibility of imprisonment, the court shall appoint counsel for an indigent defendant in accordance with procedures established under R.Cr.P. 2(3). The magistrate shall allow the defendant reasonable time and opportunity to consult with counsel, in the event the defendant expresses a desire to do so. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1302; 67GA, ch 153,§85]

Referred to in §602.62

Rule 43. Bail. Admission to bail shall be as provided for in chapter 811, The Code. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1302]

Referred to in §602.62

Rule 44. Plea. The defendant shall be required to enter a plea to the complaint, and permissible pleas include those allowed when the defendant is indicted, as set forth in R.Cr.P. 8. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1302]

Referred to in §602.62

Rule 45. Trial date. Upon a plea other than guilty the magistrate shall set a trial date which shall be at least fifteen days after the plea is entered. The magistrate shall notify the prosecuting attorney of the trial date and shall advise the defendant that the trial will be without a jury unless demand for jury trial is made at least ten days prior to the date set for trial. Failure to make a jury demand in the manner prescribed herein constitutes a waiver of jury. If demand is made, the action shall be tried by a jury of six members. Upon the request of the defendant, the magistrate may set the date of trial at a time less than fifteen days after a plea other than guilty is entered. The magistrate shall notify the defendant that a request for earlier trial date shall constitute a waiver of jury. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1302]

Referred to in §602.62

Rule 46. Change of venue. A change of place of trial may be applied for in the manner prescribed in R.Cr.P. 10, and the papers transmitted in similar manner as described therein to the judicial officer or clerk of the court to which change is allowed. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1302]

Referred to in §602.62

Rule 47. Bailiff obtained. If trial by jury is demanded, the magistrate shall notify the sheriff who shall furnish a bailiff at that time and place to act as officer of the court. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1302]

Rule 48. Selection of jury; trial.

1. Selection of panel. If a trial by jury is demanded, the magistrate shall notify the clerk of the district court of the time and place of trial. The clerk shall thereupon select by lot fourteen names from the district court jury panel. The clerk shall notify these jurors of the time and place for trial.

2. Challenges. Except where inconsistent with this rule, R.Cr.P. 17 shall apply, but no challenge to the panel is allowed.

3. Completion of panel. If for any reason the panel as chosen by the clerk becomes insufficient to obtain a jury, the magistrate may direct the officer of the court to summon any bystander or others who may be competent, and against whom no sufficient cause of challenge appears, to act as jurors.

4. Strikes. If, after all challenges and strikes as noted in R.Cr.P. 17 have been exercised, the remaining jurors number more than six, the parties shall continue to strike jurors in order, commencing with the defendant, until the panel is reduced to six jurors.

5. Alternate jurors. No alternate jurors shall be chosen.

6. Jury of six. When six jurors appear and are accepted, they shall constitute the jury.

7. Oath of jurors. The magistrate must thereupon administer to them the following oath or affirmation: "You do swear (or, you do solemnly affirm, as the case may be) that you will well and truly try the issue between the state of Iowa and the defendant, and a true verdict give according to the law and evidence."

8. Trial. The court shall conduct the trial in the manner of indictable cases in accordance with R.Cr.P. 18.

9. Record. The proceedings upon trial shall not be reported, unless a party provides a reporter at such party's expense. By agreement of the parties the magistrate may cause the proceedings upon trial to be reported electronically. If the proceedings are being electronically recorded both parties shall be notified in advance of that recording. If the defendant is indigent and requests that the proceedings upon trial be reported, the judicial magistrate shall cause them to be reported by a reporter, or electronically, at public expense. If the proceedings are not reported electronically, the judicial magistrate shall make minutes of the testimony of each witness and append the exhibits or copies thereof. If the proceedings have been reported electronically the recording shall be retained under the jurisdiction of the magistrate and upon request shall be transcribed only by a person designated by the court under the supervision of the magistrate. The transcription shall be provided anyone requesting it upon payment of actual cost of transcription or to an indigent defendant as hereinabove provided. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1302; 67GA, ch 153,§86]

Rule 49. Judgment. When the defendant is acquitted, he or she must be immediately discharged. When the defendant pleads guilty or is convicted, the magistrate may render judgment thereon as the case may require, being governed by the rules prescribed for the trial of indictable offenses, as far as the same are applicable. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1302]

Rule 50. Costs taxed to prosecuting witness. If the prosecuting witness fails without good cause to appear or give evidence on the trial, and defendant is discharged on account of such failure, the magistrate may, in his or her discretion, tax the costs of the proceeding against such prosecuting witness and render judgment therefor; and if defendant is acquitted, the magistrate shall, if satisfied that the prosecution is malicious or without probable cause, so tax the costs and render judgment therefor. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1302]

Rule 51. Suppression of evidence and disposition of seized property. Motions to suppress evidence shall proceed in the manner provided for the trial of indictable offenses, and any property seized dealt with in the manner provided in indictable offenses. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1302]

Rule 52. Joint trials. Unless it shall result in prejudice to a party, the court may order two or more complaints to be tried together if the defendant is the same; or if there is more than one defendant, but all defendants so joined are alleged to have participated in the same act or transaction or in the same series of acts or transactions constituting an offense or offenses. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1302]

Rule 53. Forfeiture of collateral in lieu of appearance. In a specified simple misdemeanor other than one charged upon a uniform citation and complaint a court may accept a forfeiture of collateral security in lieu of appearance, as a proper disposition of a case. Each judicial district, by action of a majority of the district judges, may determine the misdemeanors subject to such disposition and promulgate by rule a list of same and disseminate to all magistrates in the district. A copy of such rule shall be transmitted to the clerk of the supreme court. Prior to termination of the case by forfeiture under this rule, the defendant must execute a written request for same. Unless vacated upon application within thirty days of the forfeiture, such forfeiture shall constitute a conviction in satisfaction.

In the event a simple misdemeanor is charged upon the uniform citation and complaint defined in section 805.6, The Code, and the defendant either has submitted unsecured appearance bond as provided in that section or has submitted bail as provided in section 805.9, subsection 3, The Code, the court may enter a conviction pursuant to his or her written appearance and may enter a judgment of forfeiture of the collateral in satisfaction of the judgment and sentence; provided that if the defendant submitted unsecured appearance bond or if bail remains uncollected, execution may issue upon the judgment of the court at any time after entry of the judgment. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1302; 67GA, ch 147,§54]

Referred to in §811 6

Rule 54. Appeals.

1. Notice of appeal. An appeal may be taken by the plaintiff only upon a finding of invalidity of an ordinance or statute. In all other cases, an appeal may only be taken by the defendant and only upon a judgment of conviction. Execution of the judgment shall be stayed upon the filing with the clerk of the district court an appeal bond with surety approved by the clerk, in the sum specified in the judgment. The defendant may take an appeal, by giving notice orally to the magistrate that he or she appeals, or by delivering to the magistrate not later than ten days thereafter, a written notice of the defendant's appeal, and in either case the magistrate must make an entry on its docket of the giving of such notice. Payment of fine or service of a sentence of imprisonment does not waive the right to appeal, nor render the appeal moot. When an appeal is taken, the magistrate shall forward to the appropriate district court clerk a copy of the docket entries in the magistrate's court, together with copies of the complaint, warrant, motions, pleadings, the magistrate's minutes of the witness' testimony and the exhibits or copies thereof and all other papers in the case. A district judge shall promptly hear the appeal upon the record thus filed without further evidence if the original action was tried by a district judge or district associate judge, unless the district judge hearing the appeal either upon application of any party or on the district judge's own motion orders the appeal tried anew on the grounds the record is inadequate. If the original action was tried by a judicial magistrate, the district judge shall promptly try the case anew. Within ten days after an appeal is taken, unless extended by order of a district judge or by stipulation of the parties, any party may file with the clerk, as a part of the record, a transcript of the official report, if any, and, in the event the report was made electronically, the tape or other medium on which the proceedings were preserved. If the original action was tried before a district judge acting as a judicial magistrate, the appeal shall be to a different district judge. The judge shall decide the appeal without regard to technicalities or defects. Judgment shall be rendered as though the case were being originally tried. The right to further appeal is governed by section 814.6, The Code.

2. Bail.

a. Admission to bail. Admission to bail shall be as provided for in chapter 811, The Code. Execution of the judgment shall not be stayed unless the defendant is admitted to bail.

b. Officers authorized to take bail. Bail may be taken by the magistrate who rendered the judgment, or by any magistrate in the county of the district court of that county. The magistrate taking bail shall remit it to the clerk of the district court who shall give receipt therefor.

3. Counsel. In appropriate cases, the magistrate shall appoint counsel on appeal. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1302; 67GA, ch 153,§87, 88; amendment 1979; 68GA, ch 1022,§22]

Rule 55. New trial. The magistrate, on motion of a defendant, may grant a new trial pursuant to the grounds set forth in R.Cr.P. 23 except that a motion for a new trial based on newly discovered evidence must be made within six months after the final judgment. A motion for a new trial based on any other grounds shall be made within seven days after a finding of guilty or within such further time as the court may fix during the seven-day period. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1302; 67GA, ch 153,§89]

Rule 56. Correction or reduction of sentence. The magistrate may correct an illegal sentence at any time and may correct a sentence imposed in an illegal manner within the time provided herein for the reduction of sentence. The magistrate may reduce a sentence within ten days after the sentence is imposed or within ten days after the receipt by the magistrate of a mandate issued upon affirmance of the judgment or dismissal of the appeal, or within ten days after entry of any order or judgment of the appellate court denying review of, or having the effect of upholding, a judgment of conviction. The court may also reduce a sentence upon revocation of probation as provided by law. [66GA, ch 1245(2),§1302; 67GA, ch 153,§90]

I. APPEALS IN CIVIL CASES

Rule 1. From final judgment.

(a) All final judgments and decisions of the district court and any final adjudication in the district court under R.C.P. 86, involving the merits or materially affecting the final decision, may be appealed to the supreme court, except as provided in this rule and in rule 3, rules of appellate procedure. For the purpose of this rule any order granting a new trial (not including an order setting aside a judgment by default other than in actions for dissolution of marriage or annulment) and any order denying a new trial shall be deemed a final decision. Any order setting aside a default decree of dissolution of marriage or annulment shall also be deemed a final decision.

(b) No interlocutory ruling or decision may be appealed except as provided in rule 2, rules of appellate procedure, until after the final judgment or order. No error in such interlocutory ruling or decision is waived by pleading over or proceeding to trial. On appeal from the final judgment, appellant may assign as error such interlocutory ruling or decision or any final adjudication in the trial court under R.C.P. 86, from which no appeal has been taken, where such ruling, decision or final adjudication is shown to have substantially affected the rights of the complaining party.

(c) If an appeal to the supreme court is improvidently taken because the order from which appeal is taken is interlocutory, this alone shall not be ground for dismissal. The papers upon which the appeal was taken shall be regarded and acted upon as an application for interlocutory appeal under rule 2, rules of appellate procedure, as if duly presented to the supreme court at the time the appeal was taken. [Report 1977; amendment 1980]

Referred to in R App P 2, 5, 701

Rule 2. From interlocutory orders.

(a) Any party aggrieved by an interlocutory ruling or decision, including one appearing specially whose objections to jurisdiction have been overruled, may apply to the supreme court or any justice thereof to grant an appeal in advance of final judgment. Such appeal may be granted, after service of the application and hearing as provided in rules 22 and 30, rules of appellate procedure, on finding that such ruling or decision involves substantial rights and will materially affect the final decision and that a determination of its correctness before trial on the merits will better serve the interests of justice. No such application is necessary where the appeal is, pursuant to rule 1, rules of appellate procedure, from a final adjudication in the trial court under R.C.P. 86.

(b) The order granting such appeal may be on terms advancing it for prompt submission. It shall stay further proceedings below and may require bond. [Report 1977]

Referred to in R App P 1, 5, 6, 304, 701

Rule 3. Amount in controversy. Subject to section 631.16, The Code, and except where the action involves an interest in real estate, no appeal shall be taken in any case where the amount in controversy, as shown by the pleadings, is less than three thousand dollars unless the trial judge, within thirty days after the judgment or order is entered, certifies that the cause is one in which appeal should be allowed. The right of appeal is not affected by any remission of any part of the verdict or judgment. [Report 1977]

Referred to in R App P 1, 701

Rule 4. Scope of review. Review in equity cases shall be de novo. In all other cases the appellate courts shall constitute courts for correction of errors at law, and findings of fact in jury-waived cases shall have the effect of a special verdict. [Report 1977]

Referred to in R.App P 701

Rule 5. Time for appeal.

(a) Appeals to the supreme court must be taken within, and not after, thirty days from the entry of the order, judgment or decree, unless a motion for new trial or judgment notwithstanding the verdict as provided in R.C.P. 247, or a motion as provided in R.C.P. 179 "b", is filed, and then within thirty days after the entry of the ruling on such motion; provided however that where an application to the supreme court or any justice thereof to grant an appeal under rule 2, rules of appellate procedure, is made within thirty days from the date of such ruling or decision, any appeal allowed upon such application shall be deemed timely taken.

Provided further that if the supreme court or any justice determines that the order or decision from which application to appeal under rule 2, rules of appellate procedure, is timely made is a final judgment or decision from which appeal would lie under rule 1, rules of appellate procedure, an appeal therefrom shall also be deemed timely taken and perfected when the order making such determination is filed with the clerk of the supreme court, and rule 6 "b", rules of appellate procedure, shall apply.

A cross-appeal may be taken within the thirty days for taking an appeal or in any event within five days after the appeal is taken.

(b) Notwithstanding these rules, an order disposing of an action as to fewer than all of the parties to the suit, even if their interests are severable, may be appealed within the time for appeal from the order, judgment or decree finally disposing of the action as to remaining parties.

(c) No appeal from a judgment, ruling or order taken after it has actually been made by the trial court shall be held insufficient because the clerk of the trial court has not recorded such judgment, ruling or order upon the court records at the time the appeal is taken, if it shall appear that such record has been made prior to ten days after the date on which the appeal is docketed [Report 1977, amendment 1980]

Rule 6. How taken.

(a) An appeal other than those allowed by order under rule 2 or rule 5, rules of appellate procedure, is taken and perfected by filing a notice with the clerk of the court where the order, judgment or decree was entered, signed by appellant or his attorney. It shall specify the parties taking the appeal and the decree, judgment, order or part thereof appealed from. The appellant shall serve a copy of the notice on each other party or his counsel in the manner prescribed in R.C.P. 82 "b". The notice presented to the clerk of the trial court for filing shall be accompanied by a proof of service in the form prescribed in R.C.P. 82 "g". Promptly after filing the notice of appeal with the clerk of the trial court appellant shall mail or deliver to the clerk of the supreme court a copy of such notice for his information.

(b) An interlocutory appeal under rule 2, rules of appellate procedure, shall be deemed taken and perfected when the order allowing it is filed with the clerk of the supreme court. No notice of such appeal is necessary. The time for any further proceeding on such appeal which would run from the notice of appeal shall run from the date such order is so filed. The clerk of the supreme court shall promptly transmit a copy of such order to the attorneys of record and the clerk of the trial court. [Report 1977]

Referred to in R.App.P. 5, 701

Rule 7. Supersedeas bond.

(a) No appeal shall stay proceedings under a judgment or order unless appellant executes a bond with sureties, to be filed with and approved by the clerk of the court where the judgment or order was entered. The condition of such bond shall be that appellant will satisfy and perform the judgment if affirmed, or any judgment or order, not exceeding in amount or value the obligation of the judgment or order appealed from, which an appellate court may render or order to be rendered by the trial court; and also all costs and damages adjudged against him on the appeal, and all rents of or damage to property during the pendency of the appeal of which appellee is deprived by reason of the appeal.

(b) If the judgment or order appealed from be for money, the penalty of such bond shall be one hundred twenty-five percent of the amount thereof, including costs, unless, in exceptional cases, the trial court fixes a larger amount; in all other cases, an amount sufficient to save appellee harmless from the consequences of the appeal; but in no event less than three hundred dollars.

(c) No appeal shall vacate or affect the judgment or order appealed from; but the clerk shall issue a written order requiring appellee and all others to stay proceedings under it or such part of it as has been appealed from, when the appeal bond is filed and approved. [Report 1977]

Regarding stays when child custody is involved, see C R 15

Rule 8. Bond—hearing on sufficiency. If any party to an appeal is aggrieved by the clerk's approval of, or refusal to approve, a supersedeas bond tendered by appellant, he may apply to the trial court, on at least three days' notice to the adverse party, to review the clerk's action. Pending such hearing, the court may recall or stay all proceedings under the order or judgment appealed from. On such hearing, the trial court shall determine the sufficiency of the bond, and if the clerk has not approved the bond, the court shall, by written order, fix its conditions and determine the sufficiency of the security; or if the court determines that a bond approved by the clerk is insufficient in security or defective in form, it shall discharge such bond and fix a time for filing a new one, all as appears by the circumstances shown at the hearing. [Report 1977]

Referred to in R.App.P. 701

Rule 9. Judgment on bond. If an appellate court affirms the judgment appealed from, it may, on motion of appellee, render judgment against appellant and the sureties on the appeal bond for the amount of the judgment, with damages and costs; or it may remand the cause to the trial court for the determination of such damages and costs and entry of judgment on the bond. [Report 1977]

Rule 10. Record on appeal.

(a) Composition of record on appeal. The original papers and exhibits filed in the trial court, the transcript of proceedings, if any, and a certified copy of the docket and court calendar entries prepared by the clerk of the trial court shall constitute the record on appeal in all cases.

(b) Transcript; duty of appellant to order; notice if partial transcript ordered. Within ten days after filing the notice of appeal, appellant shall order from the reporter a transcript of such parts of the proceedings not already on file as he deems necessary for inclusion in the record. If appellant intends to urge on appeal that a finding or conclusion is unsupported by the evidence or is contrary to the evidence, he shall include in the record a transcript of all evidence relevant to such finding or conclusion. Unless all of the proceedings are to be transcribed, appellant shall also within such ten days file with the clerk of the trial court and serve on appellee a description of the parts of the proceedings which he has ordered transcribed. With that description appellant shall file and serve a statement of the issues he intends to present on appeal. If appellee deems a transcript of other parts of the proceedings to be necessary, he shall, within ten days after the service of the statement of appellant, file with the clerk of the trial court and serve an appellant a designation of additional parts to be included. If appellant shall within four days fail or refuse to order such parts, appellee shall either order the parts or apply to the trial court to compel appellant to do so. The ordering party must make satisfactory arrangements with the reporter for payment of the transcript costs.

The reporter's transcript shall be filed with the clerk of the trial court within the time fixed or allowed for docketing the appeal; and these rules relative to such transcript shall also apply to bills of exceptions under R.C.P. 241. The cost of the transcript shall be taxed in the trial court.

(c) Statement of the evidence or proceedings when no report was made or when the transcript is unavailable. If no report of the evidence or proceedings at a hearing or trial was made, or if a transcript is unavailable, appellant may prepare a statement of the evidence or proceedings from the best available means, including his recollection. The statement shall be filed with the clerk of the trial court and served on appellee within twenty days after the filing of the notice of appeal. Appellee may file with the clerk of the trial court and serve on appellant objections or proposed amendments to the statement within ten days after service of appellant's statement. Thereupon the statement and any objections or proposed amendments shall be submitted to the trial court for settlement and approval and as settled and approved shall be included in the record on appeal.

(d) Correction or modification of the record. If any difference arises as to whether the record truly discloses what occurred in the trial court, the difference shall be submitted to and settled by that court and the record made to conform to the truth. If anything material to either party is omitted from the record by error or accident or is misstated therein, the parties by stipulation or the trial court, either before or after the record is transmitted to the supreme court, or the appropriate appellate court on proper suggestion or on its own initiative, may direct that the omission or misstatement be corrected and if necessary that a supplemental record be certified and transmitted. All other questions as to the form and content of the record shall be presented to the supreme court, unless the questions arise after the case has been transferred to the court of appeals, in which event, they shall be presented to that court. [Report 1977]

Referred to in R App P 11, 12

Rule 11. Transmission of record.

(a) Time for transmission of docket entries. Within fourteen days after the filing of the notice of appeal, the clerk of the trial court shall transmit a certified copy of the docket and calendar entries in the proceeding in the trial court to the clerk of the supreme court and all parties or their attorneys. The clerk of the supreme court shall thereupon prepare a docket page and assign a number to the case.

(b) Transmission of remaining record. Within seven days after all required briefs and the appendix have been served or at such earlier time as the parties may agree or the supreme court may order, appellant shall request the clerk of the trial court to transmit immediately to the clerk of the supreme court the remaining record not already transmitted, including the original papers and exhibits filed in the trial court and any reporter's transcript of proceedings. Appellant shall take all action necessary to enable the clerk of the trial court to assemble and timely transmit the remaining record. If more than one appeal is taken, each appellant shall comply with the provisions of rule 10 "b", rules of appellate procedure, and this subdivision.

When request is made by either party for transmission to the supreme court of portions of the record in addition to the certified copy of the docket and calendar entries, the clerk of the trial court shall number the documents comprising the remaining record and shall transmit the same to the clerk of the supreme court. The clerk of the trial court shall transmit with the remaining record a list of the documents correspondingly numbered and identified with reasonable definiteness. Documents of unusual bulk or weight and physical exhibits other than documents shall not be transmitted by the clerk unless he is directed to do so by a party or by the clerk of the supreme court. A party must make advance arrangements with the clerks for the transportation and receipt of exhibits of unusual bulk or weight.

Transmission of the record is effected when the clerk of the trial court mails or otherwise forwards the record to the clerk of the supreme court. The clerk of the trial court shall indicate, by endorsement on the face of the record or otherwise, the date upon which the record is transmitted to the supreme court.

(c) Retention of trial record in trial court. If the record or any part thereof is required in the trial court for use pending the appeal, the trial court may make an order to that effect, and the clerk of the trial court shall retain the record or parts thereof subject to the request of an appellate court, and shall transmit a copy of the order and of the docket and calendar entries together with such parts of the original record as the parties may designate and as the trial court shall allow. The parts of the record not transmitted to the clerk of the supreme court shall nevertheless be part of the record on appeal for all purposes.

(d) Portions of record not transmitted. Any parts of the record which have not been transmitted to the clerk of the supreme court shall, on the order of an appellate court or on the request of any party, be transmitted by the clerk of the trial court to the clerk of the supreme court. [Report 1977]

Referred to in R App P 12

Rule 12. Docketing appeal; filing record.

(a) Docketing the appeal. Within forty days after the filing of the notice of appeal, unless the time is shortened or extended by an order under rule 20, rules of appellate procedure, appellant shall pay the docket fee to the clerk of the supreme court, and the clerk shall thereupon enter the appeal upon the docket. If appellant is authorized by the trial court or supreme court to prosecute the appeal without prepayment of fees, the clerk shall enter the appeal upon the docket at the request of the party within such forty days. Simultaneously with such payment of the fee or request for docketing without fee, appellant shall serve on appellee and file with the clerk of the supreme court a statement as to whether the appeal does or does not involve a contest as to child custody to which rule 17, rules of appellate procedure, applies. An appeal shall be docketed under the title given to the action in the trial court, with appellant identified as such, but if such title does not contain the name of appellant, his name identified as appellant shall be added to the title. The clerk of the supreme court shall immediately give notice to all parties or their attorneys of the date on which the appeal is entered on the docket.

(b) Certificate of ordering transcript. Within fourteen days after filing notice of appeal appellant shall file with the clerk of the supreme court and serve on appellee a certificate of ordering transcript. The certificate shall include the name of the reporter, the date on which the transcript was ordered, a description of the portions of proceedings ordered transcribed and a statement regarding the arrangements made with the reporter for payment of the cost of the transcript. The certificate shall be signed by appellant or his attorney.

If for any reason a transcript has not been ordered within ten days after the filing of the notice of appeal, appellant shall file with the clerk of the supreme court and serve on appellee within such fourteen days a certificate so stating with a statement of the reason a transcript cannot or will not be prepared.

If, after the filing of the certificate of ordering transcript, a transcript of additional portions of the proceedings is ordered under rule 10 "b", rules of appellate procedure, or otherwise, the party so ordering shall within four days file with the supreme court clerk and serve on the other party a supplemental certificate so stating.

(c) Dismissal for failure to docket. If appellant shall fail to pay the docket fee when required, any ap-pellee may file a motion in the supreme court to dismiss the appeal. The motion shall be supported by a certificate of the clerk of the trial court showing the date and substance of the judgment or order from which the appeal was taken and the date on which the notice of appeal was filed. Appellant may respond by written resistance within fourteen days of service of the motion by appellee. The clerk shall docket the appeal for the purpose of permitting the supreme court to entertain the motion without requiring payment of the docket fee, but appellant shall not be permitted to respond without payment of the fee unless he is otherwise exempt from prepayment.

(d) Dismissal for failure to transmit remaining record. If appellant shall fail to cause timely transmission of the remaining portions of the record as required by rule 11 "b", rules of appellate procedure, any appellee may file a motion in the supreme court to dismiss the appeal. The motion shall state on what dates required briefs and the appendix were served on the parties and filed with the clerk of the supreme court. The motion shall be supported by a certificate of the clerk of the trial court showing the date and substance of the judgment or order from which the appeal was taken, the date on which the notice of appeal was filed and the expiration date of any order retaining the record or parts thereof in trial court or of any order extending the time for transmitting the record or parts thereof. Appellant may respond by written resistance within fourteen days of service of the motion by appellee.

(e) Restoring trial court jurisdiction. After an appeal is taken, the filing with the clerk of the trial court of a stipulation in which all parties agree to a dismissal of an appeal shall restore jurisdiction to the trial court for the entry of an order of dismissal of the appeal, which will be a final adjudication. The clerk of the trial court shall forward a copy of such stipulation and order to the clerk of the supreme court.

(f) Limited remand. The appropriate appellate court during appeal or pending application for appeal may remand the cause to the trial court, which shall have jurisdiction for such specific proceedings as may be directed by the appellate court. Notwithstanding such remand, jurisdiction of the appeal shall remain in the appellate court which ordered the remand. [Report 1977]

Rule 13. Filing and service of briefs and amendments.

(a) Time for serving and filing briefs. Appellant shall serve and file his brief within fifty days after the date on which the appeal is docketed. Appellee shall serve and file his brief within thirty days after service of the brief of appellant. If appellant serves and files a reply brief, he shall do so within fourteen days after service of the brief of appellee. The supreme court may shorten these periods for serving and filing briefs, either by rule for all cases or for classes of cases or by order in specific cases.

(b) Cross-appeals. In the event of a cross-appeal, appellant shall serve and file his brief within fifty days after the date on which the appeal is docketed. Appellee (cross-appellant) shall serve and file his brief within thirty days after service of the brief of appellant. Appellant (cross-appellee) shall serve and file his responsive reply brief within thirty days after service of the brief of appellee. Appellee (cross-appellant) may serve and file a reply brief under rule 14 "c", rules of appellate procedure, within fourteen days after service of appellant's reply brief.

(c) Multiple adverse parties. If the time for doing any act prescribed by these rules is measured from the date of service of a paper by an adverse party, then in the case of multiple adverse parties the time for doing such act shall be measured from the date of service of the last timely served paper by an adverse party or the date of expiration of time within which the adverse parties had to serve the paper.

(d) Amendments. An appellant may amend his required brief once within fifteen days after serving the brief, provided no brief has been served in response to his brief. The time for serving and filing of appellee's brief shall be measured from the date of service of the amendment to appellant's brief. An appellee may amend his brief once within ten days after serving his brief, provided no brief has been served in reply to his brief. The time for serving and filing appellant's reply brief shall be measured from the date of service of the amendment to appellee's brief. A reply brief may be amended at any time prior to seven days before submission of the appeal to the appellate court. Any other or further amendments to the briefs may be made only with leave of the appropriate appellate court. An amendment may be conditionally filed with a motion for leave.

(e) Number of copies to be filed and served. Eighteen copies of each brief or amendment thereto shall be filed with the clerk of the supreme court, unless the court by order in a particular case shall direct a different number, and two copies shall be served on counsel for each party separately represented. If a party is allowed by order of the supreme court to file typewritten ribbon and carbon copies of a brief, the original and five legible copies shall be filed with the clerk and one copy shall be served on counsel for each party separately represented.

(f) Consequence of failure to file briefs. If appellant fails to file his brief within the time provided by this rule, or within the time as extended, appellee may move for dismissal of the appeal. If appellee fails to timely file his brief, he will not be heard at oral argument except by special permission of the appropriate appellate court. [Report 1977]

Referred to in R App P 14(i), 15(c), 17, 22(h), 27, 454

Rule 14. Briefs.

(a) Appellant's brief. The brief of appellant shall contain under appropriate headings and in the following order:

- (1) A table of contents with page references.
- (2) A table of cases (alphabetically arranged), statutes and other authorities cited, with references to all pages of the brief where they are cited.
- (3) A statement of the issues presented for review. Under each issue separately stated shall be a list of all cases, statutes and other authorities referred to in the argument covering that issue. The authorities which are considered to be the most pertinent and convincing shall be indicated by underlining. Not less than one nor more than four authorities under each separately stated issue shall be so indicated. Failure in the brief to state, to argue or to cite authority in support of an issue may be deemed waiver of that issue.

(4) A statement of the case. The statement shall first indicate briefly the nature of the case, the course of proceedings and the disposition of the case in the trial court. It shall then recite the facts relevant to the issues presented for review. All portions of the statement shall be supported by appropriate references to the record or the appendix in accordance with subdivision "g".

(5) An argument. The argument may be preceded by a summary. The argument shall contain in separately numbered divisions corresponding to the separately stated issues the contentions of appellant with respect to the issues presented and the reasons therefor, with citations to the authorities relied on and to the pertinent parts of the record in accordance with subdivision "g".

(6) A short conclusion stating the precise relief sought.

(b) Appellee's brief. The brief of appellee shall conform to the requirements of subdivision "a" (1) to (6), except that a statement of the case need not be made unless appellee is dissatisfied with the statement of appellant.

(c) Reply brief. Appellant may file a brief in reply to the brief of appellee, and if appellee has cross-appealed, he may file a brief in reply to the brief of appellant responding to the issues presented by the cross-appeal. No further briefs may be filed except with leave of the appropriate appellate court.

Referred to in R.App.P. 13

(d) References in briefs to parties. In their briefs and oral arguments counsel should minimize references to parties by such designations as "appellant" and "appellee" and should use the actual names of the parties or descriptive terms such as "plaintiff", "defendant", "the employee", "the injured person", "the taxpayer", "the decedent".

(e) References in briefs to legal authorities. In citing cases the names of parties must be given. In citing Iowa cases, reference must be made to the volume and page where the case may be found in the Iowa Reports, if reported therein, and in the North Western Reporter, if reported therein. In citing cases reference must be made to the court that rendered the opinion and the volume and page where the same may be found in the National Reporter System, if reported therein. E.g., ___Iowa___, ___N.W.__(19___); ___N.W.2d__(Iowa 19___); ___N.W.2d__(Iowa Ct. App. 19___); ___S.W.2d___ (Mo. Ct. App. 19___); ___U.S.___, ___S.Ct.___, L.Ed.2d__(19___); ___F.2d___ (___Cir. 19___); ___F. Supp.__(S.D.Cal. 19___). When quoting from authorities or referring to a specific point within an authority, the specific page or pages quoted or relied upon shall be given in addition to the required page references. Unpublished opinions of the Iowa appellate courts may not be cited as authority. When treatises or textbooks are cited, the edition must be designated. In citing authorities other than cases, references shall be made as follows: Codes, to section number; treatises, textbooks and encyclopedias, to section and page; all others, to page or pages. Use of the "supra" and "infra" forms of citation is discouraged.

(f) References in briefs to legal propositions. The following propositions are deemed so well established that authorities need not be cited in support of any of them:

(1) Findings of fact in a law action, which means generally any action triable by ordinary proceedings, are binding upon the appellate court if supported by substantial evidence.

(2) In considering the propriety of a motion for directed verdict the court views the evidence in the light most favorable to the party against whom the motion was made.

(3) In ruling upon motions for new trial the trial court has a broad but not unlimited discretion in determining whether the verdict effectuates substantial justice between the parties.

(4) The court is slower to interfere with the grant of a new trial than with its denial.

(5) Ordinarily the burden of proof on an issue is upon the party who would suffer loss if the issue were not established.

(6) In civil cases the burden of proof is measured by the test of preponderance of the evidence.

(7) In equity cases, especially when considering the credibility of witnesses, the court gives weight to the fact findings of the trial court, but is not bound by them.

(8) The party who so alleges must, unless otherwise provided by statute, prove negligence and proximate cause, by a preponderance of the evidence.

(9) A motorist upon a public highway has a right to assume that others using the road will obey the law, including statutes, rules of the road and necessity for due care, at least until he knows or in the exercise of due care should have known otherwise.

(10) Generally questions of negligence, contributory negligence and proximate cause are for the jury; it is only in exceptional cases that they may be decided as matters of law.

(11) Reformation of written instruments may be granted only upon clear, satisfactory and convincing evidence of fraud, deceit, duress or mutual mistake.

(12) Written instruments affecting real estate may be set aside only upon evidence that is clear, satisfactory and convincing.

(13) In construing statutes the court searches for the legislative intent as shown by what the legislature said, rather than what it should or might have said.

(14) In the construction of written contracts, the cardinal principle is that the intent of the parties must control; and except in cases of ambiguity, this is determined by what the contract itself says.

(15) In child custody cases the first and governing consideration of the courts is the best interest of the child.

(16) Direct and circumstantial evidence are equally probative.

(17) Even when the facts are not in dispute or contradicted, if reasonable minds might draw different inferences from them a jury question is engendered.

(g) References in briefs to the record. References in the briefs to parts of the record reproduced in the appendix filed with the brief of appellant (see rule 15, rules of appellate procedure) shall be to the pages of the appendix at which those parts appear. If the appendix is deferred, references in the briefs to portions of the record to be reproduced in the appendix shall be made in the manner stated in rule 15“c”, rules of appellate procedure. If references are made in the briefs to parts of the record not reproduced in the appendix, the references shall be to the pages of the parts of the record involved, e.g., Answer p. 7, Motion for Judgment p. 2, Transcript p. 231. Intelligible abbreviations may be used. If reference is made to evidence the admissibility of which is in controversy, reference shall be made to the pages of the appendix or of the transcript at which the evidence was identified, offered and received or rejected.

(h) Length of briefs. Except by permission of the supreme court, required briefs shall not exceed fifty pages exclusive of the table of contents and table of authorities and reply briefs shall not exceed twenty-five pages. Such permission may be granted ex parte.

(i) Briefs in cross-appeals. If a cross-appeal is filed, the party who first filed his notice of appeal shall be deemed appellant for the purposes of this rule and rules 13 and 15, rules of appellate procedure, unless the parties otherwise agree or the supreme court otherwise orders. The brief of appellee shall contain the issues and argument involved in his cross-appeal as well as his response to the brief of appellant.

(j) Multiple appellants or appellees. In cases involving more than one appellant or appellee, including cases consolidated for purposes of the appeal, any number of either may join in a single brief, and any appellant or appellee may adopt by reference any part of the brief of another. Parties may similarly join in reply briefs. [Report 1977; amendment by Court Order July 24, 1980]

Referred to in R.App.P. 13, 22(h), 454

Rule 15. Appendix to briefs.

(a) Duty of appellant; content; time; number. Appellant shall prepare and file an appendix to the briefs which shall contain: (1) The relevant docket entries in the trial court proceeding; (2) any relevant portions of the pleadings, transcript, instructions, findings, conclusions and opinion; (3) the judgment, order or decision in question; (4) the notice of appeal, and (5) any other parts of the record to which the parties wish to direct the particular attention of the court. Portions of the record shall be set out verbatim in the appendix. Summaries, abstracts or narratives shall not be used unless the parties prepare an agreed statement of the case pursuant to subdivision “f” of this rule. The fact that parts of the record are not included in the appendix shall not prevent the parties or the courts from relying on such parts.

Unless filing is to be deferred pursuant to the provisions of subdivision “c” of this rule, appellant shall serve and file the appendix with his brief. Eighteen copies of the appendix, and of any amendments thereto, shall be filed with the clerk of the supreme court and two copies shall be served on counsel for each party separately represented unless the court shall by rule or order direct the filing of a different number. The appendix may be amended by agreement of all the parties at any time prior to assignment of the appeal for submission to an appellate court. The written consent of all the parties must be filed with the amendment. In absence of agreement or after assignment, the appendix may be amended only with leave of the appropriate appellate court. An amendment to the appendix may be conditionally filed with a motion for leave.

(b) Determination of contents; cost of producing. The parties are encouraged to agree as to the contents of the appendix. If the parties do agree on such contents, they shall file a short memorandum of that agreement with the clerk of the supreme court within fourteen days after the date on which the appeal is docketed. If the parties do not so agree, appellant shall, not later than fourteen days after the date on which the appeal is docketed, serve on appellee and file with the clerk of the supreme court a designation of the parts of the record which he intends to include in the appendix and a statement of the issues which he intends to present for review. If appellee desires to direct the particular attention of the court to parts of the record not designated by appellant, he shall, within ten days after service of the designation, file with the clerk of the supreme court and serve upon appellant a designation of those parts. Appellant shall include in the appendix the parts thus designated. In designating parts of the record for inclusion in the appendix, the parties shall consider the fact that the entire record is available to the appellate courts for examination and shall not engage in unnecessary designation. Unless the parties otherwise agree, the cost of producing the appendix shall initially be paid by appellant, but if appellant considers that parts of the record designated by appellee for inclusion are unnecessary for the determination of the issues presented, he may so advise appellee and appellee shall advance the cost of including such parts. The cost of producing the appendix shall be taxed as costs in the case, but if either party shall cause matters to be unnecessarily included in the appendix the appropriate appellate court may impose the cost of producing such parts on that party.

(c) Alternative method of designating contents. Preparation of the appendix may be deferred by appellant until after typewritten or page proof copies of all the briefs have been filed. If the preparing and filing of the appendix is thus deferred, the provisions of subdivision “b” of this rule shall apply, except that the designations referred to therein shall be made by each party at the time his required brief is initially served and filed, and a statement of the issues presented shall be unnecessary. Appellant shall, not later than ten days after the date on which the appeal is docketed, file with the clerk of the supreme court and serve on appellee a notification of his election to defer the appendix.

If a deferred appendix authorized by this subdivision is employed, each party shall serve and file typewritten or page proof copies of his brief or briefs within the time required by rule 13 “a”, rules of appellate procedure. One typewritten carbon copy or page proof copy of each brief shall be served on opposing counsel and two copies shall be filed with the clerk of the supreme court. The initial copies of the briefs shall contain appropriate references to the pages of the parts of the record involved, e.g., Petition p. 6, Judgment p. 5, Transcript p. 298. Within twenty-one days after service of the initial copy of appellee's brief, appellant shall file and serve the appendix. Within fourteen days after the appendix is served, each party shall serve and file copies of his brief or briefs in the form prescribed by rule 16 "a", rules of appellate procedure, containing references to the pages of the appendix in place of or in addition to the initial references to the pages of the parts of the record involved. No other changes may be made in the briefs as initially served and filed, except that typographical errors may be corrected.

Referred to in R.App.P. 14(g), 17, 105

(d) Arrangement of the appendix. At the beginning of the appendix shall be inserted a list of the parts of the record which it contains, in the order in which the parts are set out therein, with references to the pages of the appendix at which each part begins. The relevant docket entries shall be set out following the list of contents. Thereafter, other parts of the record shall be set out in chronological order. Portions of the reporter's transcript of proceedings shall be inserted in chronological order based on the date the transcribed proceedings took place rather than on the date the completed transcript was filed. When matter contained in the transcript is set out in the appendix, the original pagination of that matter shall be indicated in the appendix by placing in brackets the number of each page of the transcript at the place in the appendix where that transcript page begins. Omissions in the text of papers, of exhibits or of the transcript, regardless of size, must be indicated by a set of three asterisks. Immaterial formal matter, such as captions, subscriptions and acknowledgments, shall be omitted. A question and its answer may be contained in a single paragraph.

(e) Reproduction of exhibits. Exhibits or relevant portions thereof designated for inclusion in the appendix may be contained in a separate volume or volumes, suitably indexed. Eighteen copies thereof shall be filed with the appendix and two copies shall be served on counsel for each party separately represented. Relevant portions of the transcript of a proceeding before an administrative agency, board, commission or officer, used in an action in the trial court, may be regarded as an exhibit for the purpose of this subdivision.

(f) Agreed statement of the case filed as the appendix. In lieu of an appendix with contents as specified in subdivision "a" and arranged as specified in subdivision "d", the parties may prepare an agreed statement of the case which shall not incorporate by reference any part of the record. The statement shall be in narrative form, shall show how the issues presented by the appeal arose and how they were decided and shall set forth only so many of the facts averred and proved or sought to be proved as are essential to a decision of the issues presented. The original agreed statement shall be signed by all parties to the appeal or their counsel, and one copy thereof shall be filed with the clerk of the supreme court within fourteen days after the appeal is docketed. As the appendix, appellant shall file and serve with his brief printed or duplicated copies of the agreed statement in the form required by rule 16 "a", rules of appellate procedure. [Report 1977]

Rule 16. Form of briefs, appendix and other papers.

(a) Form of briefs and appendix. Briefs and the appendix may be produced by standard typographic printing or by any duplicating or copying process which produces a clear black image on white paper. The appendix and briefs shall be printed or duplicated on both sides of the sheet. Carbon copies of briefs and the appendix may not be submitted without permission of the court. All printed or duplicated matter must appear in at least 11 point (small pica) type on opaque, unglazed paper. When utilizing a process which duplicates or copies a typewritten original, lines of typewritten text shall be double spaced. Briefs and the appendix shall be bound on the left in volumes having pages 8½ by 11 inches and type matter 6 by 8½ inches. Margins on the bound side of the sheets shall be not less than 1⅛ inches suitable for permanent binding procedures. Copies of the reporter's transcript of proceedings and other papers reproduced in a manner authorized by this rule may be inserted in the appendix, but not in such manner as to prevent subsequent uniform permanent binding. Such papers may be informally renumbered and asterisks may be added informally if necessary.

If briefs are produced by commercial printing or duplicating firms, or, if produced otherwise and colored covers are available, the cover of the brief of appellant should be blue; that of appellee, red; that of an intervenor or amicus curiae, green; that of a reply brief, gray. The cover of the appendix should be white. The cover of an amendment should be the same color as the document which it amends. The front covers of the briefs and the appendix, and amendments thereto, shall contain: (1) the name of the court and the appellate number of the case; (2) the title of the case (see rule 12 "a", rules of appellate procedure); (3) the nature of the proceeding in court (e.g., Appeal, Certiorari) and the name of the court (and judge), agency or board whose decision is under review; (4) the title of the document (e.g., Brief for Appellant, Appendix), and (5) the name and address of counsel representing the party on whose behalf the document is filed.

(b) Form of other papers. Motions and other papers may be produced in the manner prescribed by subdivision "a", or they may be typewritten upon opaque, unglazed paper 8½ by 11 inches in size. Lines of typewritten text shall be double spaced. Consecutive sheets shall be attached at the left margin. Carbon copies may be used for filing and service if legible.

A motion or other paper addressed to an appellate court shall contain a caption setting forth the name of the court, the title of the case, the file number and a brief descriptive title indicating the purpose of the paper. Three copies of motions and other papers addressed to the appropriate appellate court shall be filed with the clerk of the supreme court and one copy shall be served on each party separately represented unless the appropriate appellate court by order directs otherwise.

(c) Printing taxed as costs. The amount actually paid for printing or otherwise producing necessary copies of briefs and the appendix or copies of records authorized by these rules, exclusive of stenographic expense, shall be certified by the attorney, and to the extent reasonable, shall be taxed in the appellate court as costs. Reasonable printing or duplicating costs shall not exceed four dollars per page unless otherwise ordered by the appropriate appellate court. [Report 1977; amendment by Court Order October 1, 1980, effective January 1, 1981]

Rule 17. Child custody cases. In appeals involving a contest as to custody of children, adoption or termination of parent-child relationship, and in juvenile court proceedings affecting child placement, the times prescribed in rule 13, rules of appellate procedure, for serving and filing briefs shall be reduced by one-half. Reply briefs are unnecessary. If filing of the appendix is deferred pursuant to rule 15 "c", rules of appellate procedure, the appendix shall be served and filed not more than fifteen days after service of appellee's initial brief and printed or duplicated copies of all the briefs shall be served and filed within seven days after service of the appendix. Court reporters shall give priority to transcription of proceedings in these cases over other civil transcripts. These appeals shall be accorded submission precedence over other civil cases. [Report 1977]

Referred to in R App P 12, 20, 22(h)

Rule 18. Brief of amicus curiae. A brief of an amicus curiae may be filed only by leave of the appropriate appellate court granted on motion, at the request of the appropriate appellate court or when accompanied by the written consent of all parties. The brief may be conditionally filed with a motion for leave. A motion for leave shall identify the interest of the applicant and shall state the reasons a brief of an amicus curiae is desirable. Any amicus curiae shall file his brief within the time allowed the party whose position as to affirmation or reversal the brief will support. The appropriate appellate court for cause shown may grant leave for later filing, specifying the period within which an opposing party may respond. A request by an amicus curiae to participate in oral argument will not be granted except for extraordinary reasons. [Report 1977]

Referred to in R App P 22(h), 460

Rule 19. Failure to prosecute. When an appellant fails to comply with an appellate rule, the clerk shall notify appellant and his counsel in accordance with rule 30 "c", rules of appellate procedure, that upon the expiration of fifteen days from service of notification the appeal will be dismissed for want of prosecution unless appellant remedies the default within such period. Should the appellant fail to comply, the clerk shall enter an order dismissing the appeal for want of prosecution and shall issue a certified copy thereof to the clerk of the district court as the procedendo. Appellant shall not be entitled to remedy his default after a dismissal under this rule, unless by order of the appropriate appellate court. The dismissal of an appeal shall not limit the authority of the supreme court to take disciplinary action against defaulting counsel.

An appeal may be dismissed, with or without notice of default, for failure to comply with an appellate rule, upon the motion of a party or of the appropriate appellate court. [Report 1977]

Rule 20. Shortening or enlarging time. The supreme court, and the court of appeals as to appeals transferred to it, may upon its own motion or on motion of a litigant shorten or enlarge the time prescribed by the rules of appellate procedure or by the rules of the court or its order for doing any act, or may permit an act to be done after the expiration of such time, but such courts may not enlarge the time for filing a notice of appeal. In cases where rule 17, rules of appellate procedure, applies the motion shall so state. [Report 1977]

Referred to in R App P 12, 22(e), 22(h), 104(e)

Rule 21. Oral argument; submission.

(a) A party desiring to be heard orally shall so state at the end of his brief; and unless he does so he will not be heard orally except by special permission or order of the appropriate appellate court.

(b) In cases submitted with oral argument, ordinarily the opening argument of appellant shall not exceed twenty-five minutes, the argument of appellee shall not exceed twenty-five minutes and appellant's reply argument shall not exceed ten minutes. The chief justice or chief judge of the appropriate appellate court may extend or shorten the time for oral argument.

(c) The appropriate appellate court may conclude, prior to submission, that even though a substantial issue exists, oral argument would not be of assistance or should be shortened. In such event counsel will be advised accordingly before submission.

(d) Failure to argue orally points properly made in the briefs shall not be deemed waiver thereof.

(e) Appeals shall be submitted to the supreme court or transferred to the court of appeals substantially in the order they are made ready except when advance submission is accorded by statute, rule or order of the supreme court.

(f) If an appeal involves questions of public importance or rights which are likely to be lost or greatly impaired by delay, the supreme court may upon the motion of a party or on its own motion order the submission or transfer of the cause in advance of the time at which it would otherwise be submitted or transferred. [Report 1977]

Referred to in R App P 457

Rule 22. Writs, motions, orders.

(a) Writs and process, supreme court. The supreme court shall issue all writs and process necessary for the exercise and enforcement of its appellate jurisdiction and in the furtherance of its supervisory and administrative control over all inferior judicial tribunals and officers thereof throughout the state; and may enforce its mandates by fine and imprisonment, and imprisonment may be continued until obeyed.

(b) Writs and process, court of appeals. The court of appeals shall issue writs and other process necessary for the exercise and enforcement of its jurisdiction, but a writ, order or other process in any appeal not transferred to the court of appeals by the supreme court shall be of no effect.

(c) Motions in supreme court and court of appeals. Unless another form is prescribed by these rules, an application for an order or other relief, including an order to dismiss or affirm, shall be made by serving a motion on all other parties to the appeal and filing it with the clerk of the supreme court. The motion shall contain or be accompanied by any matter required by a specific provision of these rules governing such a motion, shall state with particularity the grounds on which it is based and shall set forth the order or precise relief sought. Any briefs, affidavits or other papers supporting a motion shall be served and filed with the motion. Except as to motions under rule 22 "e", rules of appellate procedure, any party may serve and file a resistance to a motion within fourteen days after service of the motion, unless otherwise ordered by the appropriate appellate court. A reply to the resistance may be served and filed within three days after the service of the resistance.

(d) Rulings, hearings. Resisted motions will be ruled on by the appropriate appellate court or a justice or judge thereof after the expiration of at least seven days from serving the resistance, unless such court, justice or judge orders a different time for submission of the motion. Unresisted motions will be ruled on after the expiration of at least three days from the last day for filing a resistance unless a different time for submission is ordered. Motions in which all parties join may be ruled on at any time. The court, justice or judge may require briefs to be filed with respect to a motion, and may set any motion for hearing and prescribe notice to be given.

(e) Motions for procedural or temporary orders. Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivisions "c" and "d" as to motions generally, motions for procedural orders, including any motion under rule 20, rules of appellate procedure, and motions for temporary orders in which it appears that rights would be lost or greatly impaired by delay, may be ruled upon at any time without awaiting a resistance thereto. Any party adversely affected by such ruling may within fourteen days request reconsideration, vacation or modification of the ruling.

(f) Authority of a single justice to entertain motions. In addition to any authority expressly conferred by rule or by statute, a single justice of the supreme court may entertain any motion in an appeal or original proceeding in the supreme court and grant or deny any relief which may properly be sought by motion, except that a single justice may not dismiss, affirm or otherwise determine an appeal or original proceeding. The action of a single justice may be reviewed by the supreme court.

(g) Authority of court of appeals and its judges to entertain motions. The court of appeals and its judges may entertain motions only in appeals which the supreme court has transferred to that court. In such appeals, a single judge of the court of appeals may entertain any motion and grant or deny any relief which may properly be sought by motion, except that a single judge may not dismiss, affirm or otherwise determine an appeal. The action of a single judge may be reviewed by the court of appeals.

(h) Authority of clerk to entertain motions for procedural orders. The clerk of the supreme court or his deputy is authorized, in his discretion and subject to review by the supreme court, to take appropriate action for the supreme court on motions for procedural orders upon which the court pursuant to rule 22 "e", rules of appellate procedure, could rule without awaiting a resistance. Such motions include, but are not limited to, the following: A motion to authorize prosecution of an appeal without payment of fees pursuant to rule 12 "a", rules of appellate procedure; a motion for leave to amend a brief pursuant to rule 13 "d", rules of appellate procedure; a motion for permission to file an overlength brief pursuant to rule 14 "h", rules of appellate procedure; a motion for leave to amend the appendix pursuant to rule 15 "a", rules of appellate procedure; a motion for leave to file an amicus curiae brief pursuant to rule 18, rules of appellate procedure; and a motion to shorten or enlarge time pursuant to rule 20, rules of appellate procedure, except in cases governed by rule 17, rules of appellate procedure. The clerk may grant a motion only for good cause shown and when the prejudice to the non-moving party is not great. Good cause for an extension of time includes the illness of counsel, the unavailability of counsel due to unusual and compelling circumstances, the unavailability of a necessary transcript or other portion of the record due to circumstances beyond the control of counsel, and a reasonably good possibility of settlement within the time as extended. The clerk may grant a maximum of two extensions of time of not more than thirty days each for any act (other than filing notice of appeal) required to be done within a certain time by the rules of appellate procedure, except in cases governed by rule 17, rules of appellate procedure. An order of the clerk entered under this subdivision shall state it is entered pursuant to rule 22 "h", rules of appellate procedure. An order of the clerk entered pursuant to this subdivision may be reviewed by the supreme court or a justice thereof upon the motion of an adversely affected party filed within fourteen days after the entry of the order.

(i) Authority of clerk to set motions for hearing. The clerk of the supreme court is authorized, subject to the control and direction of the supreme court, to set any motion or similar paper pending in the supreme court for hearing or nonoral consideration and set the time allowed for resistance to the motion subject to the following limitations: The time set for filing and serving resistance shall be not less than seven days nor more than twenty-one days after the date of the order setting the motion for hearing or consideration, and the time set for hearing or nonoral consideration shall be not less than three days nor more than ten days after the last day permitted by the order for filing and serving resistance. [Report 1977; amendment by Court Order October 13, 1978]

Rule 23. Motions to dismiss or affirm.

(a) Motions to dismiss. A motion to dismiss may be served and filed without payment of the docket fee, but appellant shall not be permitted to respond without payment of the fee unless he is otherwise exempt from payment. After consideration, the appropriate appellate court may rule on the motion or may order the motion submitted with the appeal.

(b) Motions to affirm. Appellee may move the supreme court to affirm the appeal on the ground that the issues raised by the appeal are frivolous and the appeal was taken solely for the purpose of delay. The motion shall be served and filed within seven days after service of appellant's brief and shall be supported by so much of the record as necessary to show the ground for the motion. One justice of the supreme court may overrule, but only the supreme court may sustain, a motion to affirm.

(c) Excluding time. The time between the service of a motion to dismiss or affirm and an order overruling it or ordering a motion to dismiss to be submitted with the appeal shall be excluded in measuring the time within which subsequent acts required by these rules must be done. [Report 1977]

Referred to in C.T.R. 14

Rule 24. Affirmed or enforced without opinion.

When the supreme court determines that any of the following circumstances exists and is dispositive of a matter submitted to the court for decision: (a) A judgment of the district court is correct; (b) the evidence in support of a jury verdict is sufficient; (c) the order of an administrative agency is supported by substantial evidence, or (d) no error of law appears; and the supreme court also determines that the questions are not of sufficient importance to justify an opinion and that an opinion would not have precedential value, the judgment or order may be affirmed or enforced without opinion.

In such case, the supreme court may in its discretion enter the following order: "AFFIRMED, see rule 24, rules of appellate procedure." [Report 1977]

Referred to in R.App.P. 25

Rule 25. Quarterly publication. A list indicating the disposition of all decisions rendered by the supreme court per curiam or under rule 24, rules of appellate procedure, shall be published quarterly in the North Western Reporter, except for such of those decisions as the supreme court specially orders to be published in the regular manner. Such decisions published quarterly shall not be cited or relied upon as authority in any litigation in any court in Iowa except when the decision establishes the law of the case, res judicata or collateral estoppel, or in a criminal action or proceeding involving the same defendant or a disciplinary action or proceeding involving the same respondent. [Report 1977]

Rule 26. Remands. When a judgment is reversed for error in overruling a motion to direct a verdict, a motion for judgment under rule 243 "b", rules of civil procedure, or a motion to withdraw an issue from the consideration of the jury, and the granting of the motion would have terminated the case in favor of appellant, the appellate court may enter or direct the trial court to enter final judgment as if such motion had been initially sustained; provided that if it appears from the record that the material facts relating thereto were not fully developed at the trial or if in the opinion of the appellate court the ends of justice will be served thereby, a new trial shall be awarded of such issue or of the whole case. [Report 1977]

Rule 27. Petition for rehearing in supreme court.

(a) Time for filing; content; answer; action by supreme court if granted. Except as stated in rule 402 "e", rules of appellate procedure, a petition for rehearing may be filed within fourteen days after the filing of an opinion by the supreme court unless the time is shortened or enlarged by order of that court. The petition shall state with particularity the points of law or fact which in the opinion of the petitioner the supreme court has overlooked or misapprehended and shall contain such argument in support of the petition as the petitioner desires to present. Oral argument in support of the petition will not be permitted. No answer to a petition for rehearing will be received unless requested by the supreme court, but a petition for rehearing will ordinarily not be granted in the absence of such a request. If a petition for rehearing is granted, the supreme court may make a final disposition of the cause without reargument, may order reargument or resubmission or may make such other order as is deemed appropriate under the circumstances.

(b) Form of petition; length. The petition shall be in the form prescribed by rule 16 "a", rules of appellate procedure, and copies shall be served and filed as prescribed by rules 13 "e" and 30, rules of appellate procedure, for the service and filing of briefs. Except by permission of the court, a petition for rehearing shall not exceed ten pages. [Report 1977]

Referred to in C.T.R. 82

Rule 28. Costs. All fees and costs shall abide the result of the appeal and be taxed to the unsuccessful party, unless otherwise ordered by the appropriate appellate court. [Report 1977]

Rule 29. Procedendo. Unless otherwise ordered by the supreme court, no procedendo shall issue for fifteen days after an opinion of the supreme court is filed, nor thereafter while a petition for rehearing, filed according to these rules, is pending. Unless otherwise ordered by the court of appeals, no procedendo shall issue for twenty-one days after an opinion of the court of appeals is filed, nor thereafter while an application for further review by the supreme court is pending. [Report 1977]

Rule 30. Filing and service.

(a) Filing. Papers required or permitted to be filed in the supreme court or in the court of appeals shall be filed with the clerk of the supreme court. Filing may be accomplished by mail addressed to the clerk of the supreme court, and shall be deemed filed on the day of mailing. To be deemed filed on the day of mailing a paper must contain or be accompanied by a certificate signed by the person who will actually mail the paper. The certificate shall specify the paper filed and the date the paper will be deposited in the United States mail. Papers received by the clerk of the supreme court without a certificate shall be deemed filed when received by that clerk. When these rules or an order of an appellate court require multiple copies of a paper to be filed, filing shall not be complete until all required copies are filed. If a motion requests relief which may be granted by a single justice of the supreme court, the justice may permit the motion to be filed with him, in which event he shall note thereon the date of filing and shall thereafter transmit it to the clerk of the supreme court.

(b) Service of all papers required. Copies of all papers filed by any party and not expressly required by these rules to be served by the clerk shall, at or before the time of filing, be served by a party or person acting for him on all other parties to the appeal or review. Service on a party represented by counsel shall be made on counsel.

(c) Manner of service. Service may be personal or by mail. Personal service includes delivery of the copy to a clerk or other responsible person at the office of counsel. Service by mail is complete on mailing.

(d) Proof of service. Papers presented for filing shall contain an acknowledgment of service by the person served or proof of service in the form of a statement of the date and manner of service and of the names of the persons served, certified by the person who made service. Proof of service may appear on or be affixed to the papers filed. The clerk of the supreme court may permit papers to be filed without acknowledgment or proof of service but shall require such proof to be filed promptly thereafter.

(e) Additional time after service by mail. Whenever a party is required or permitted to do an act within a prescribed period after service of a paper upon him and the paper is served by mail, three days shall be added to the prescribed period.

(f) Applicability. This rule shall govern filing and service of papers required or permitted to be filed with the clerk of the supreme court under the rules of appellate procedure. [Report 1977]

Referred to in R App P 2, 19, 27, (C.R. 14 15)

Rule 31. Attorneys and guardians ad litem.

(a) The attorneys and guardians ad litem of the respective parties in the district court shall be deemed the attorneys and guardians ad litem of the same parties respectively in the appellate court until others are retained or appointed and notice thereof is given the other parties and the clerk of the supreme court; but the authority of an attorney appointed pursuant to section 598.12, The Code, terminates when an appeal is taken unless the district court appoints the attorney, or a successor, to appear on appeal.

(b) An attorney may not withdraw from representation of a party before an appellate court without permission of that court unless another attorney is appearing or simultaneously appears for the party. [Amendment by Court Order September 19, 1979]

Rule 32. Frivolous postconviction remedy appeals, withdrawal of counsel. Rule 104 of the rules of appellate procedure applies to appeals to the supreme court under section 663A.9 of the Uniform Postconviction Procedure Act. [Amendment by Court Order January 10, 1980]

II APPEALS IN CRIMINAL CASES

Rule 101. Perfecting appeal. Appeal in a criminal action shall be taken and perfected within the time and in the manner prescribed by statute. [Report 1977]

Rule 102. Procedure. All procedure after the perfection of an appeal in a criminal case shall be governed by the rules of appellate procedure to the full extent not inconsistent with statute. The appendix prescribed by the rules of appellate procedure shall constitute the abstract. Papers required to be served on the state shall be served upon the attorney general. [Report 1977]

Rule 103. Docketing criminal appeals. Upon receipt of the transcript of all record entries required by section 814.7, the clerk of the supreme court shall prepare a docket page and assign a number to the case. For purposes of determining the times for acts computed from the date of docketing, criminal appeals shall be docketed as provided in rule 12, rules of appellate procedure. If a defendant appeals and trial court has found him to be indigent and appointed appeal counsel for him, the appeal shall be docketed upon defendant's request without payment of the docket fee. [Report 1977; amendment by Court Order December 16, 1977]

Rule 104. Frivolous appeals; withdrawal of counsel.

(a) If counsel appointed to represent a convicted indigent defendant in an appeal to the supreme court is convinced after conscientious investigation of the trial transcript that the appeal is frivolous and that he cannot, in good conscience, proceed with the appeal, he may move the supreme court in writing to withdraw. The motion must be accompanied by a brief referring to anything in the record that might arguably support the appeal.

(b) Prior to filing any motion to withdraw from an appeal, counsel shall advise his client in writing of the decision as to frivolity accompanied by a copy of counsel's motion and brief, and counsel shall attach to the filed motion a certificate showing service thereof. Counsel's notice to his client shall further advise the client that if he agrees with counsel's decision and does not desire to proceed further with the appeal, the client shall within thirty days from service of the motion and brief clearly and expressly communicate such desire, in writing signed by him, to the supreme court.

(c) Receipt of such communication shall result in the appeal being forthwith dismissed.

(d) Counsel's notice to his client shall further advise the client that in the event he desires to proceed with the appeal he shall within such thirty days give like communication to the supreme court, raising any points he chooses. The supreme court will then proceed, after a full examination of all the proceedings, to decide whether the appeal is wholly frivolous. If it so finds, it may grant counsel's motion to withdraw and dismiss the appeal.

(e) In order to protect his client's rights, counsel desiring to withdraw shall within the time permitted for docketing the appeal under rule 12, rules of appellate procedure, make application pursuant to rule 20, rules of appellate procedure, for extension of time in which to docket the appeal.

(f) If however, the supreme court finds the legal points to be arguable on their merits and therefore not frivolous, it may grant counsel's motion to withdraw but will prior to submission of the appeal afford the indigent the assistance of new counsel, to be appointed by the trial court. Such new counsel shall proceed with the appeal pursuant to the rules of appellate procedure. Appellant's brief shall raise any issues counsel believes to be meritorious after a conscientious examination of the record. Counsel shall also inform the court in appellant's brief of the issues his client raises and otherwise cause the case to be reviewed in accordance with the rules of appellate procedure.

(g) Defendant's failure to communicate to the supreme court within the time provided in this rule or any extension thereof his disagreement with counsel's decision that the appeal is frivolous, or of defendant's desire to proceed with the appeal, shall be deemed an election by him to agree with counsel's decision. [Report 1977]

Referred to in R App P 32, C R 14

Rule 105. Appeals from conviction and sentence on a plea of guilty or from sentence only. In appeals from conviction and sentence upon a plea of guilty or from sentence only, the time for docketing an appeal under rule 12 "a" and the times for serving and filing briefs shall be reduced by one-half. Reply briefs are unnecessary. If filing of the appendix is deferred pursuant to rule 15 "c", rules of appellate procedure, the appendix shall be served and filed not more than fifteen days after service of appellee's initial brief and printed or duplicated copies of all briefs shall be served and filed within seven days after service of the appendix. [Report 1977; amendment by Court Order November 22, 1977]

Effective November 22, 1977 and shall apply to criminal actions in which appeals are taken after this date

III. DISCRETIONARY REVIEW

Rule 201. Application. An application for discretionary review shall be filed within the time and in the manner prescribed by statute. Simultaneously the applicant shall also mail a copy of the application to the clerk of the supreme court and pay to such clerk a filing fee in the amount prescribed by the supreme court for filing an application for permission to appeal. The filing fee shall be waived in a criminal proceeding for discretionary review if the trial court found defendant indigent and appointed appeal counsel for him. [Report 1977]

Referred to in C R 14

Rule 202. Resistance; ruling. The application may be resisted and ruled on in the manner prescribed in the rules of appellate procedure relating to motions unless otherwise ordered by the supreme court or a justice thereof. [Report 1977]

Rule 203. Procedure; docketing. If an application for discretionary review is granted, further proceedings shall be had pursuant to the rules of appellate procedure to the full extent not inconsistent with statute. The time for any further proceeding which would run from the notice of appeal shall run from the filing date of the order granting the application for discretionary review. Within forty days after the filing of such order appellant shall pay the docket fee or, if the fee has been waived, request that the proceeding be docketed. The docket fee shall be waived in a criminal proceeding for discretionary review if the trial court found defendant indigent and appointed appeal counsel for him. [Report 1977]

IV ORIGINAL CERTIORARI PROCEEDINGS

Rule 301. Petition for writ of certiorari. A petition for a writ of certiorari directed to the district court, a district judge, a district associate judge, or a full-time magistrate shall be filed with the clerk of the supreme court or a justice thereof within the time prescribed by R.C.P. 319. Copies of the petition shall be filed and served in the manner prescribed by the rules of appellate procedure for the filing and serving of motions. [Report 1977; amendment by Court Order June 1, 1979]

Referred to in C R 11

Rule 302. Resistance; ruling. The petition may be resisted and ruled on in the manner prescribed in the rules of appellate procedure relating to motions unless otherwise ordered by the supreme court or a justice thereof. [Report 1977]

Rule 303. Original certiorari procedure. The procedure under writs of certiorari granted by the supreme court or a justice thereof shall be as prescribed by the rules of appellate procedure to the full extent those rules are not inconsistent with this rule or statute. The proceeding shall be entitled in the name of the petitioner as plaintiff and the district court as defendant. The rules of appellate procedure applicable to appellants shall apply to plaintiffs and those applicable to appellees shall apply to defendants. The times specified in those rules which in appeals run from the filing of notice of appeal shall run from the filing of the order granting the writ, except that plaintiff shall cause the proceeding to be docketed within ten days after the writ is granted. Defendant shall make full return to the writ when requested to do so by plaintiff. Such request shall be made by plaintiff within seven days after all required briefs and the appendix have been served or at such earlier date as the parties may agree or the supreme court or a justice thereof may order. [Report 1977]

Rule 304. Appeal or certiorari. If any case is brought by appeal or certiorari and the appellate court is of the opinion that the other of these remedies was the proper one, the case shall not be dismissed, but shall proceed as though the proper form of review had been sought.

A petition for writ of certiorari may under this rule be treated by the supreme court as an application to grant an appeal pursuant to rule 2, rules of appellate procedure, and conversely an application to grant an appeal may be treated as a petition for certiorari.

Nothing in this rule shall operate to extend the time within which an appeal may be taken. [Report 1977]

V TRANSFER AND FURTHER REVIEW

Rule 401. Transfer of cases to court of appeals.

(a) The supreme court may by order, on its own motion, transfer to the court of appeals for decision any case filed in the supreme court except a case in which provisions of the Iowa Constitution or statutes grant exclusive jurisdiction to the supreme court.

(b) The supreme court shall ordinarily retain the following types of cases: (1) Cases involving substantial constitutional questions as to the validity of a statute, ordinance or court or administrative rule; (2) cases involving substantial issues in which there is or is claimed to be a conflict with a published decision of the court of appeals or supreme court; (3) cases involving substantial issues of first impression; (4) cases involving fundamental and urgent issues of broad public importance requiring prompt or ultimate determination by the supreme court; (5) cases in which life imprisonment has been imposed; (6) cases involving lawyer discipline, and (7) cases appropriate for summary disposition.

(c) Other cases shall ordinarily be retained by the supreme court or be transferred to the court of appeals as follows: (1) Cases which involve substantial questions of enunciating or changing legal principles shall be retained and (2) cases which involve questions of applying existing legal principles shall be transferred. [Report 1977]

Rule 402. Application for further review.

(a) No fee. No fee shall be required for filing an application to the supreme court for further review of a decision of the court of appeals.

(b) Grounds. An application to the supreme court for further review shall allege precisely and in what manner the court of appeals: (1) Has erred; (2) has rendered a decision which is in conflict with a prior holding of a published court of appeals decision or published supreme court decision; (3) has not considered a potentially controlling constitutional provision in rendering its opinion, or (4) has decided a case which should have been retained by the supreme court.

(c) Form and length of application and resistance and number to be filed. Each copy of the application for further review shall contain or be accompanied by a copy of the opinion of the court of appeals, showing the date of its filing. The application shall be a single document including a brief in support of the request for review. All contentions in support of the application shall be included therein, including all legal authorities and argument. A party who desires to file a resistance shall do so within ten days after service of the application. The resistance shall be a single document which includes all contentions in opposition to the application. No authorities or argument may be incorporated into the application or the resistance by reference to another document. An application or resistance shall be in the form prescribed by rule 16 "a", rules of appellate procedure, except that it may be printed or duplicated on one side of the sheet. The application or resistance shall not exceed twenty pages exclusive of the court of appeals opinion, index of contents, table of authorities and permitted evidentiary exhibits and trial court orders. No materials shall be annexed to or filed with an application or resistance other than the opinion of the court of appeals, except that, if it is of unusual significance, an evidentiary exhibit not exceeding ten pages and a trial court order not exceeding that length may be annexed. Eighteen copies of an application or a resistance shall be filed. In addition, two copies shall be served on each other party separately represented.

(d) Supplemental briefs. If an application for further review is granted, the supreme court may require the parties to file supplemental briefs on the merits of all or some of the issues to be reviewed.

(e) Procedendo. When an application for further review is denied by order of the supreme court or by operation of law, the clerk of the supreme court shall immediately issue procedendo. [Report 1977]

VI CERTIFICATION OF QUESTIONS OF LAW

Rule 451. Procedure for certification of question of law. The procedure for answering and certifying questions of law shall be as provided in the Uniform Certification of Questions of Law Act, Laws of the 1979 Regular Session of the Sixty-eighth General Assembly, chapter 144 [chapter 684A, The Code], and this division VI of the rules of appellate procedure [Report 1980]

Rule 452. Contents of certification order. The certification order shall contain the matter required by section 3 of the Uniform Certification of Questions of Law Act [684A.3, The Code] and shall be captioned as the matter was in the certifying court with the party, if any, who moved for certification of the question identified as the "movant." If the question is certified on the court's own motion, the certification order shall specify which party is to file a brief first. The certification order shall contain the names and addresses of the interested parties or their counsel if they are represented by counsel. [Report 1980]

Rule 453. Docketing. Upon receipt of a certified question the clerk of the supreme court shall prepare a docket page and assign a number to the matter. Within ten days after the filing of the certification order the movant or party who is to file his brief first shall pay to the clerk of the supreme court the docket fee in the amount prescribed pursuant to section 685.3, The Code, for docketing an appeal from a final judgment or decree. Upon receipt of the docket fee, the clerk of the supreme court shall enter the matter upon the docket and give notice to the certifying court and all parties or their attorneys of the date on which the matter is entered on the docket. [Report 1980]

Rule 454. Briefs. The movant or party who is to file his brief first shall file and serve the initial brief within twenty days after the matter is entered upon the docket. The responding party shall file and serve a responsive brief within twenty days after service of the initial brief. A reply brief may be filed and served within ten days after service of the responsive brief. Rules 13 "e", 14, and 16 "a", rules of appellate procedure, shall apply to briefs with those portions applicable to appellant's briefs applying to briefs of the movant or the party who is to file a brief first and those portions applicable to appellee's brief applying to the brief of the responding party. [Report 1980]

Rule 455. Appendix. The movant or party who is to file his brief first shall file and serve with his initial brief an appendix to the briefs. The appendix shall contain the certification order and such portions of the record relevant to the question as the parties by agreement or the certifying court by order may determine. Rules 15 "a", 15 "d", 15 "e", and 16 "a", rules of appellate procedure, shall apply to the appendix to the greatest extent possible. [Report 1980]

Rule 456. Record. The certifying court shall attach to its certification order a copy of the portions of the record made in that court which it deems necessary for a full understanding of the question. If the entire record is not included, the supreme court may, in its discretion, order that a copy of all or any portion of the remaining record be filed with its clerk. [Report 1980]

Rule 457. Submission and oral argument. The matter shall be considered ready for submission after the certification order, initial brief, appendix, and responding brief have been filed. Rule 21, rules of appellate procedure, shall apply. [Report 1980]

Rule 458. Opinion and rehearing. Upon the filing of an opinion on a certified question the clerk of the supreme court shall comply with section 7 [684A.7, The Code] of the Uniform Certification of Questions of Law Act. A petition for rehearing shall not be allowed. [Report 1980]

Rule 459. Costs and fees. Printing costs shall be certified by the parties as provided in rule 16 "e", rules of appellate procedure. Upon the filing of the supreme court's opinion on a certified question, its clerk shall prepare and transmit to the clerk of the certifying court a bill of costs indicating the docket fee and reasonable printing costs and the parties who paid them. The clerk of the certifying court shall be responsible for collecting and apportioning the fee and costs pursuant to section 5 [684A.5, The Code] of the Uniform Certification of Questions of Law Act. [Report 1980]

Rule 460. State as amicus curiae. When the constitutionality of an Act of the legislature of this state affecting the public interest is drawn in question in a certification to which the State of Iowa or an officer, agency, or employee thereof is not a party, the supreme court shall notify the attorney general and shall permit the State of Iowa to file an amicus curiae brief pursuant to rule 18, rules of appellate procedure, on the question of constitutionality. [Report 1980]

Rule 461. Changes in rules. Rules of procedure concerning the answering and certification of questions of law may be revoked, changed, or supplemented as provided in rule 701, rules of appellate procedure. [Report 1980]

VII. OTHER PROCEEDINGS

Rule 501. Procedure in other proceedings. Procedure in all other proceedings in the appellate courts shall, unless otherwise ordered, be the procedure prescribed in the rules of appellate procedure to the full extent not inconsistent with rules specifically prescribing the procedure or with statute. An appendix under the rules of appellate procedure shall be deemed an abstract of record. [Report 1977]

VIII. FORMS

Rule 601. Forms. The supreme court may by order prescribe forms for use under the rules of appellate procedure. [Report 1977]

IX. CHANGES AND EFFECTIVE DATES

Rule 701. Changes. The supreme court shall have power, by order, to revoke, change or supplement the rules of appellate procedure, except for rules 1 to 9, inclusive. Such changes or additions shall take effect at such time as the supreme court shall prescribe. [Report 1977]

Referred to in R.App.P. 461

Rule 702. Effective and governance dates. The rules of appellate procedure shall take effect on July 1, 1977. They shall govern appeals and proceedings in the appellate courts after they take effect, and also all further acts in appeals and proceedings then pending except to the extent that in the opinion of the appropriate appellate court or a justice or judge thereof their application in a particular appeal or proceeding would be infeasible or unjust, in which event the previous rules shall apply. ### MEMORANDUM FOR PURPOSES OF FURTHER REVIEW

ORGANIZATION OF SUPREME COURT

Court Rule 1. Sitting in divisions or en banc.

(a) The supreme court may sit in divisions. The personnel of a division shall not be permanent but may be changed from time to time by the chief justice or by vote of a majority of the justices. The chief justice shall preside on any division on which he sits. On the divisions on which the chief justice does not sit, the justice senior in service on the court shall preside, of justices with equal seniority, the eldest shall preside.

(b) Each division may hear and determine all matters submitted to it. The entire supreme court may participate in the decision of causes submitted to a division whether on original submission or petition for rehearing.

(c) Any member of a division may sit with another division at any time and shall do so when requested by the chief justice.

(d) The supreme court shall sit in divisions or en banc at such times as it may by majority vote determine or as the chief justice may direct by assignment [Court order September 19, 1979]

Court Rule 2. Absence of chief justice. If the chief justice is absent or ill or from any other disability is unable to act and does not select some other member of the supreme court to act as chief justice during his absence or disability, the court shall select one of its other members to act during such time [Court order September 19, 1979]

ORGANIZATION OF COURT OF APPEALS

Court Rule 3. Sitting en banc. The court of appeals shall not sit in divisions [Court order September 19, 1979]

APPELLATE OPERATING PROCEDURES

Court Rule 4. Allocation of proceedings (cases).

(a) Initial review and preparation of case statements. All appellate proceedings shall be filed in the office of the supreme court clerk. An initial screening and evaluation of all cases shall be undertaken by central staff research attorneys of the supreme court. Staff attorneys shall not make any recommendation as to the determination of a case. A case statement shall be prepared by staff attorneys for each case. Appendix 1 is the form of a case statement.

Case statements shall describe the status, facts and legal issues of the proceeding. Legal issues shall be discussed and analyzed only when necessary to an understanding of them.

Case statements shall also contain recommendations regarding the routing of the case consistent with criteria set forth by rule for transfer of proceedings to the court of appeals, regarding the necessity and estimated amount of time for oral argument, and regarding en banc or divisional submission of cases retained by the supreme court.

Recommendations in the case statement are tentative only. All routing decisions shall be made by justices of the supreme court. Decisions concerning the necessity and time allocated for oral argument shall be decided in the appropriate appellate court in accordance with the Rules of Appellate Procedure.

The cover page of a case statement through the general case description may be made available to the public. The remainder of the case statement shall be confidential.

(b) Review by supreme court panel. All proceedings and case statements shall be reviewed by a rotating panel of three justices of the supreme court to determine initially whether a case shall be retained by the supreme court for full appellate review, transferred to the court of appeals or decided by summary disposition by the supreme court. The panel shall allocate cases according to transfer criteria set forth by rule; it shall also initially determine whether cases retained by the supreme court shall be submitted to a division of that court or en banc.

(c) Summary disposition. Cases appropriate for summary disposition shall be retained by the supreme court for disposition by a division of the court by a brief per curiam opinion. [Court order September 19, 1979]

Court Rule 5. Submissions to supreme court. Causes not fully argued at the period for which assigned may be passed to a later period or be continued on the supreme court's own motion or on motion by a party. [Court order September 19, 1979]

Court Rule 6. Submissions to court of appeals. The court of appeals may schedule submissions of cases at any time except when the supreme court courtroom is being used by the supreme court. [Court order September 19, 1979]

Court Rule 7. Oral argument.

(a) Governing principle. Oral argument in both the supreme court and court of appeals shall be governed by the Rules of Appellate Procedure and these guidelines.

(b) Limitations on oral argument. Oral argument shall not be granted as a matter of right. Time limitations shall be imposed upon oral argument when:

- (1) the dispositive issue or set of issues has been recently authoritatively decided, or
- (2) the facts are simple and determination of the appeal rests upon application of settled rules of law.

(c) Notification. If the supreme court or the court of appeals tentatively decides to submit a case without oral argument, the chief justice or chief judge shall notify the parties of the possibility of nonoral submission and offer them the opportunity to file statements of reasons oral argument is needed and should be granted. [Court order September 19, 1979]

Court Rule 8. Participation in opinions. Each opinion of the supreme court and court of appeals shall show the justices or judges who participated in it. [Court order September 19, 1979]

Court Rule 8.1. Correction of opinions. The author of an opinion or the appropriate appellate court may correct typographical, grammatical or other formal errors in the opinion by filing a correction notice with the clerk of the supreme court. The correction notice shall be filed and kept with the opinion, and the author or appropriate appellate court shall cause the corrections to be inserted in the original opinion. If the opinion is to be published in the North Western Reporter and has not yet been published in a bound volume, and if the correction did not originate with West Publishing Company, the author or appropriate appellate court shall cause a copy of the correction notice to be transmitted immediately to West Publishing Company for insertion of the correction in the published opinion.

Changes in the substance of a supreme court opinion can be made only by action of that court before procedendo has been issued, and shall be made only by filing an order, amended opinion, or substituted opinion. The original opinion shall remain on file with the clerk and shall not be altered by interlining, expunging prior language, or any other means.

Changes in the substance of a court of appeals opinion cannot be made after the opinion is filed. [Court order December 5, 1979, effective January 1, 1980]

Court Rule 8.2. Consideration of petitions for rehearing. Immediately upon the filing of a petition for rehearing pursuant to rule 27, Rules of Appellate Procedure, the clerk shall deliver copies of the petition to all justices of the supreme court. All petitions for rehearing shall be considered by the supreme court en banc. [Court order June 27, 1980]

Court Rule 9. Memorandum opinions.

(a) When appropriate. A short memorandum opinion may be utilized to dispose of a proceeding when:

- (1) the issues involve only the application of well-settled rules of law to a recurring fact situation;
- (2) the issue is whether the evidence is sufficient to support a jury verdict, a trial judge's finding of fact or an administrative agency's finding, and the evidence is sufficient;
- (3) disposition of the proceeding is clearly controlled by a prior published holding of the court deciding the case or of a higher court;
- (4) the record of the proceeding includes an opinion of the court or agency whose decision is being reviewed, the opinion identifies and considers all the issues presented and the appellate court approves of the reasons and conclusions in the opinion, or
- (5) a full opinion would not augment or clarify existing case law.

Memorandum opinions shall be utilized by the court of appeals to dispose of most of the cases it decides. They may be used by the supreme court when appropriate.

(b) Contents. Memorandum opinions should contain:

- (1) the name and number of the case;

- (2) appellant's contentions when appropriate;
- (3) the reasons for the result, briefly stated, and
- (4) the disposition. [Court order September 19, 1979]

Court Rule 10. Publication of court of appeals opinions.

(a) Approval by supreme court. An opinion of the court of appeals shall be published only upon approval of the supreme court. A request to the supreme court to approve publication of an opinion may be made by the court of appeals not later than ten days after the opinion becomes final.

(b) Criteria for publication. An opinion of the court of appeals may be published only when at least one of the following criteria is satisfied:

- (1) the case resolves an important legal issue;
- (2) the case concerns a factual situation of broad public interest, or
- (3) the case involves legal issues which have not been previously decided by the Iowa Supreme Court.

(c) Manner of publication. Opinions of the court of appeals which are approved for publication by the supreme court shall be published in the North Western Reporter.

(d) Abstracts of opinions not otherwise published. The court administrator shall cause to be published an abstract of each opinion of the court of appeals not approved by the supreme court for publication. The abstracts shall consist of the title, docket number, date of decision and disposition of each case. The abstracts shall be published quarterly in the North Western Reporter.

(e) Citation of opinions. An unpublished opinion of the court of appeals may not be cited by a court or by a party in any other action or proceeding except when the opinion establishes the law of the case, res judicata or collateral estoppel, or in a criminal action or proceeding involving the same defendant or a disciplinary action or proceeding involving the same respondent. [Court order September 19, 1979]

Court Rule 11. Costs in court of appeals. Costs in the court of appeals shall be the same as in the supreme court. [Court order September 19, 1979]

Court Rule 12. Application to supreme court for further review.

(a) Preparation of memoranda. Central staff research attorneys of the supreme court shall prepare a memorandum on each application for further review of a court of appeals decision. Appendix 2 is the form of a memorandum.

The memorandum shall describe the status, issues and facts involved in the application and analyze the issues presented.

The memorandum shall also contain recommendations regarding a ruling on the application, the scope of submission, whether supplemental briefs should be required, the manner of submission and the amount of oral argument which should be allowed.

The memorandum only constitutes the staff attorney's views. The recommendation to the supreme court shall be made independently by a panel of justices of the supreme court under subdivisions (b) and

(c) of this rule. The memorandum shall not contain a recommendation as to the ultimate result if further review is granted.

The memorandum shall be circulated to all members of the supreme court.

The cover page of a memorandum through the general case description may be made available to the public. The remainder of the memorandum shall be confidential.

(b) Review by rotating panel. Each application for further review, resistance, previously filed briefs and appendix, and memorandum shall be examined by a rotating panel of three justices, which shall make a recommendation to the supreme court. If granting is recommended, the scope and manner of submission also shall be recommended.

(c) Court conference. The supreme court en banc shall consider each application for further review, resistance and memorandum in a conference. The affirmative vote of at least five justices shall be required to grant an application for further review. If an application is granted, the supreme court shall determine the scope and manner of submission. [Court order September 19, 1979]

Court Rule 13. Distribution of printed papers.

For cases retained by the supreme court or in which an application for further review was granted, the clerk of the supreme court shall make the following distribution of the papers which are printed or duplicated in the manner prescribed in rule 16(a), Rules of Appellate Procedure: A copy to each justice of the supreme court, the state law library, the library of The University of Iowa College of Law and the law library of Drake University. The remainder of such papers shall be placed in the clerk's office, with one copy to be kept permanently there or in the state historical department archives. For cases transferred to the court of appeals in which an application for further review was not granted, the clerk shall distribute a copy of the printed or duplicated papers to each judge of that court and to the state law library; the remainder shall be placed in the clerk's office, with one copy to be kept permanently there or in the state historical department archives. When a court of appeals opinion is approved for publication by the supreme court, the clerk shall make the following additional distribution of the printed or duplicated papers in the case: a copy to the library of The University of Iowa College of Law and to the law library of Drake University. [Court order September 19, 1979]

Court Rule 14. Petitions, applications, requests and motions in supreme court.

(a) Clerk's examination of papers. The clerk of the supreme court or the deputy clerk shall examine each petition, application, request, motion or similar paper (called "motions" in this rule) filed in the clerk's office regarding matters in the supreme court to determine whether (1) the clerk or deputy has authority to rule on the motion pursuant to rule 22(h), Rules of Appellate Procedure, or (2) the motion may be resisted and be ruled upon pursuant to rules 22(c) and 22(d), Rules of Appellate Procedure, or (3) the motion demands the immediate attention of the supreme court.

(b) Motions for procedural orders. If the clerk or the deputy clerk determines that a motion is for a procedural order and that he may rule on it under rule 22(h), Rules of Appellate Procedure, he shall (1) promptly rule on the motion and send copies of his order to the interested parties or their attorneys of record, (2) if he determines a resistance would be helpful, set the matter for nonoral consideration pursuant to rule 22(i), Rules of Appellate Procedure, before he rules on the motion or forwards it to the chief justice, (3) request the assistance of central staff research attorneys, before he rules on the motion or forwards it to the chief justice or (4) forward the motion to the chief justice with a request that a justice rule on the motion and a statement of the reason for the request.

(c) Substantive motions which may be resisted. Motions which the nonmoving parties should have an opportunity to resist pursuant to rule 22(c), Rules of Appellate Procedure, include, but are not limited to, the following when they do not involve matters of great urgency: (1) applications to grant an appeal in advance of final judgment pursuant to rule 2, Rules of Appellate Procedure, (2) motions to dismiss pursuant to rule 23(a), Rules of Appellate Procedure, (3) motions to affirm pursuant to rule 23(b), Rules of Appellate Procedure, (4) motions by counsel to withdraw from an alleged frivolous criminal appeal, pursuant to rule 104, Rules of Appellate Procedure, (5) applications for discretionary review pursuant to rule 201, Rules of Appellate Procedure, and section 631.16 or 814.4, The Code, (6) petitions for writs of certiorari pursuant to rule 301, Rules of Appellate Procedure, or rule 306, Rules of Civil Procedure, and (7) motions for a stay of proceedings in the district court, for support, for injunctive relief or for other substantive relief pending appeal. If the clerk determines that the nonmoving parties should have the opportunity to resist, that no prejudice will result from the time schedule specified in rules 22(c) and 22(d), Rules of Appellate Procedure, and that oral argument on the motion would not be of assistance, he shall promptly mail to the parties a courtesy notice that the motion may be resisted and will be ruled upon pursuant to rules 22(c) and 22(d), Rules of Appellate Procedure. If the clerk determines that the nonmoving parties should have the opportunity to resist, that fourteen days for resistance is unnecessarily long or short in the circumstances or that oral argument on the motion would be helpful, he shall enter an order pursuant to rule 22(i), Rules of Appellate Procedure, providing for an appropriate resistance schedule and setting a date for oral hearing or nonoral consideration of the motion. The clerk shall then mail copies of the order to the parties and, if time for resistance is ten days or less, he shall also notify the parties by telephone of the content of the order.

When all the nonmoving parties have resisted or the time for resistance has expired, the clerk shall immediately deliver the motion and all relevant papers to central staff research attorneys, who shall prepare a memorandum and proposed order on the motion. The memorandum shall be confidential. The staff attorneys, before the date set for oral hearing or nonoral consideration, shall send to the justice to whom the motion is assigned two copies of the motion, resistance and attachments filed by the parties; any transcript or other relevant papers, and an original and one copy of the memorandum and proposed order.

If the memorandum recommends relief that cannot be granted by a single justice under rule 22(f), Rules of Appellate Procedure, the staff attorneys shall send copies of the motion, resistance, attachments, memorandum and proposed order to two other justices to participate in the consideration of the motion. The justices will then consider the motion and the justice to whom the motion is assigned will sign the proposed order, or draft and sign an order. The order shall recite the names of the three justices considering the motion. If the three justices do not agree on a ruling, the court administrator shall be notified and the motion shall be considered at the next conference of the supreme court and be decided by the court.

If the justice signing the order maintains his office in Des Moines, he shall return the file to the author of the memorandum, who shall remove the memorandum and any other confidential matter from the file, make and mail to the parties copies of the order and return the file to the clerk's office for entry of the order on the docket. If the justice signing the order maintains his office outside of Des Moines, he may make copies of the order, mail them to the parties, indicate on the original of the order the date copies of the order were mailed and return the file to the author of the memorandum, or he may instruct the author of the memorandum to proceed as with a justice who maintains his office in Des Moines.

In all cases the staff attorney shall provide each justice participating in the ruling with a copy of the order.

If a motion which should proceed pursuant to rules 22(c) and 22(d), Rules of Appellate Procedure, is filed directly with a justice, the justice will note on the original the date of filing and transmit the original to the clerk in accordance with rule 30(a), Rules of Appellate Procedure. The clerk and staff attorneys shall then proceed with the motion pursuant to this subdivision unless otherwise directed by the justice.

(d) Motions demanding immediate attention. Motions demanding the immediate attention of the supreme court include, but are not limited to, the following: Motions for an immediate temporary stay of proceedings pending consideration of request for a stay during appeal; motions for immediate temporary injunctive relief; motions for an order affecting the immediate custody of a child; motions for any temporary relief when substantial rights would otherwise apparently be lost or be greatly impaired by delay, and motions requesting relief of an emergency nature. If the clerk or his deputy determines that a motion demands the immediate attention of the court, he shall immediately deliver the motion and relevant papers for appropriate disposition to a justice who maintains his office in Des Moines with an explanation of the urgency involved. The clerk and staff attorneys shall provide assistance on request.

(e) Motion calendar. The clerk shall maintain a confidential calendar of motions requiring action by one or more justices, in substantially the following form:

Docket number	Case Name	Name of motion indicating relief sought	Date of filing motion	Justice, if any, with whom filed	Justice to whom assigned	Any other participating justices	Date of ruling on motion
---------------	-----------	---	-----------------------	----------------------------------	--------------------------	----------------------------------	--------------------------

(f) Justices to whom motions are assigned. The justice to whom a motion is assigned shall be determined at random but in a manner to ensure substantially equal division of work. A motion filed directly with a justice shall be assigned to that justice unless he requests otherwise. When necessary or desirable, additional justices will participate in considering a motion. [Court order September 19, 1979; October 1, 1979]

[Court Rules 1-23 as of September 19, 1979, revoked by Court Order effective October 1, 1979]

Court Rule 15. Stays involving child custody. A supersedeas bond filed pursuant to rule 7, Rules of Appellate Procedure, shall not stay an order, judgment, decree, or portion thereof affecting the custody of a child. Upon application in a pending appeal, the appellate court may, in its discretion, stay any trial court order, judgment, decree, or portion thereof affecting the custody of a child and provide for the custody of the child during the pendency of the appeal. The application for such a stay order and any briefs or other papers in support thereof shall be filed with the clerk of the supreme court and served in the manner provided in rule 30, Rules of Appellate Procedure.

An application for a stay pending appeal of any order, judgment, or decree affecting the custody of a child may be resisted and will be ruled upon without oral argument as provided in rules 22(c) and 22(d), Rules of Appellate Procedure, unless otherwise ordered. Pending consideration of the application for a stay pending appeal, the appellate court may immediately order a temporary stay pursuant to rule 22(e), Rules of Appellate Procedure.

The best interests of the child shall be the primary consideration in deciding whether to grant the application for a stay order. The best interests of the child likewise shall be paramount in determining where to place custody of the child during the pendency of the appeal. Additional considerations include, but are not limited to, the following factors when they appear: (1) The circumstances giving rise to the adjudication being appealed; (2) the safety and protection of the child; (3) the safety and protection of the community and the likelihood of serious violence; (4) the need to quickly begin treatment or rehabilitation of the child; (5) the likelihood of the child fleeing or being removed from the jurisdiction during the pendency of the appeal or not appearing at further court proceedings; (6) the availability of custody placement alternatives; (7) the child's family ties, employment, school attendance, character, length of residence in the community, and juvenile court record; and (8) the likelihood of a reversal of the trial court order, judgment, or decree on appeal. The applicant seeking the stay order shall have the burden of showing that such a stay or alternative custody placement of the child pending appeal is in the affected child's best interests. ## ADMISSION TO THE BAR

Court Rule 100. The board of law examiners shall consist of five persons admitted to practice law in this state and two persons not admitted to practice law in this state. Members shall be appointed by the supreme court. A member admitted to practice law shall be actively engaged in the practice of law in this state.

Appointment shall be for three-year terms and shall commence on July 1 of the year in which the appointment is made. Vacancies shall be filled for the unexpired term by appointment of the supreme court. Members shall serve no more than three terms or nine years, whichever is less.

The members thus appointed shall subscribe an oath in writing to faithfully and impartially discharge the duties of the office, and shall file the oath in the office of the clerk of the supreme court. They shall be compensated for their services in accordance with the provisions of section 610.6, The Code.

The supreme court may appoint from time to time, when necessary, temporary examiners to assist the board, who shall receive their actual and necessary expenses to be paid from funds appropriated to the board.

The members of the board authorized to grade examinations shall make the final decision on passage or failure of each applicant, subject to the rules of the supreme court. The board shall, also, recommend to the supreme court for admission to practice law in this state all applicants who pass the examination and who meet the requisite character requirements. The supreme court shall make the final decision in determining who shall be admitted.

The members of the board of law examiners and the temporary examiners shall be paid a per diem in an amount to be set by the supreme court for each day spent in conducting the examinations of the applicants for admission to the bar and in performing and conducting administrative duties and shall also be reimbursed for additional expenses necessarily incurred in the performance of such duties. [Court Order July 2, 1975; September 20, 1976]

Court Rule 101. Written examinations for admission to the bar shall be held at Des Moines, Iowa, on the second Monday of June in each even-numbered year, and on the second Monday in January in each odd-numbered year.

Such examinations shall be held in Iowa City, Iowa, on the second Monday in June in each odd-numbered year and on the second Monday in January in each even-numbered year.

Each examination shall be for a period of not less than three days, the subjects for the examination to be determined by the board of law examiners. Twenty-five questions must be answered. A grade of fifteen points for an answer is a passing grade for that answer. The board shall not recommend anyone for admission who does not receive on the foregoing basis a grade of at least 375 points. All passes and all failures shall be on a vote of at least four members of the board of law examiners admitted to practice law in Iowa. No candidate shall fail unless those members of the board of law examiners admitted to practice law in Iowa shall have reviewed the answers and grades of that candidate. [Court Order, July 2, 1975]

Court Rule 102. The bar examination shall consist of twenty-five questions, five questions to be covered at each of the five sessions of the examination. The examination shall cover the following basic subjects:

- (1) Civil procedure (Iowa and federal)
- (2) Constitutional law (federal)
- (3) Contracts
- (4) Corporations (rights and liabilities of officers, directors and stockholders)
- (5) Criminal law and procedure (Iowa)
- (6) Evidence (Iowa and federal)
- (7) Federal income taxation of individuals
- (8) Ethics and professional responsibility
- (9) Basic real property
- (10) Torts
- (11) Probate (wills and administration of decedent's estates, excluding guardianships, conservatorship and trusts)
- (12) Conflicts of laws
- (13) Family law

(Except where noted otherwise, the common law shall apply.)

There shall be two questions on each of the basic subjects except that there shall be one only on ethics and professional responsibility.

In addition, the Iowa board of law examiners shall have the discretion to examine on the following additional subjects:

- (1) Administrative law
- (2) Federal estate and gift taxation
- (3) Future interests
- (4) Uniform commercial code (Article 9 only)
- (5) Examination of abstracts of title to real estate
- (6) Labor law
- (7) Bankruptcy law
- (8) Trial court practice (Iowa and federal)
- (9) Federal jurisdiction
- (10) Trusts

Provided, however, that at any given session of the bar examination, not more than two of the questions shall be taken from the list of additional subjects and that when additional subjects are used, the examinee shall have the option at each session to select the five questions he or she desires to answer.

The question on legal ethics and professional responsibility must be answered by every student taking the bar examination.

If questions are to be included on the bar examination from the list of additional subjects, the board of law examiners shall notify the deans of the University of Iowa College of Law and the School of Law of Drake University and the clerk of the Iowa supreme court at least four weeks prior to the date of the bar examination so that examinees may obtain knowledge of this fact. [Court Order July 2, 1975]

Court Rule 103. The board of law examiners and the clerk of this court shall prepare such forms as may be necessary, for application for examination which application shall require the applicant to demonstrate the applicant is a person of honesty, integrity, trustworthiness, truthfulness, and one who appreciates and will adhere to the code of professional responsibility as adopted by the supreme court, together with such other information as the board and clerk determine necessary and proper.

The board, subject to the approval of the supreme court, may make such rules not inconsistent with the rules of this court, with reference to the method of conducting the examination herein provided for, as it may deem expedient.

Every applicant for admission to the bar shall make application, under oath, and upon the form prescribed, which will be furnished by the clerk of the supreme court, upon request, and shall file his application with the clerk of the supreme court at least ninety days before the first day of the next bar examination. A new and complete application shall be filed for each examination for admission. [Court Order October 14, 1968; July 2, 1975; November 21, 1977]

Reference to C.R. 112

Court Rule 104. The Iowa board of law examiners shall make an investigation of the moral fitness of any applicant and may procure the services of any bar association, agency, organization, or individual qualified to make a moral or character report.

The Iowa board of law examiners shall, subject to review by the supreme court, determine whether or not the applicant is of good moral character. [Court Order July 2, 1975]

Court Rule 105. Proof of qualifications as to inhabitanacy, place and period of residence, place of parents' residence, and time and place of study shall be by affidavit made before some officer authorized to administer oaths and having a seal. Proof of term of study shall be shown by the affidavit of the dean of such law school; such affidavits must show that the applicant has actually, and in good faith, pursued the study of law in the manner, and for the time prescribed by statute and the rules of the supreme court; and must also show that the affiant is a dean of the law school at which the applicant studied.

In order to be admitted to the bar in the state of Iowa, the applicant shall be an inhabitant of the state of Iowa.

Applicants who are not inhabitants of the state of Iowa may be given permission to take the bar examination upon proper showing of bona fide intention to immediately become inhabitants of Iowa, but admission will be delayed until after the applicant has established a bona fide inhabitanacy in Iowa. [Court Order July 2, 1975; November 21, 1977]

Court Rule 106. No person shall be permitted to take the examination for admission without proof that he has received the degree of LL.B. or J.D. from a reputable law school; provided however, that a student in a reputable law school who expects to receive the degree of LL.B. or J.D. within seventy-five days from the first day of the June or January examination shall be permitted to take such examination upon the filing of an affidavit by the dean of said school stating that he expects such student to receive such degree within said time. The requirement of such affidavit is in addition to the other requirements of statute or court rule. No certificate of admission or license to practice law shall be issued until the applicant has received the required degree.

A law school fully approved by the American Bar Association or the Iowa supreme court shall be deemed a reputable law school. [Court Order July 15, 1963; February 9, 1967; December 30, 1971; February 15, 1973; July 2, 1975; November 21, 1977]

Referred to in Ct R 120

Court Rule 107. Each applicant permitted to take the bar examination shall draw a number at the beginning of the examination, by which number he or she shall be known throughout the examination. [Court Order July 2, 1975]

Court Rule 108. Either the clerk of the Iowa supreme court or the Iowa supreme court administrator, or their representatives, shall prepare a list of the applicants, showing the number drawn by each at the beginning of the examination, certify to such facts, seal said list in an envelope immediately after the beginning of said examination and retain the same sealed, in his possession, unopened until after the written examination has been completed and the applicant's score properly recorded. On such completion, the envelope shall be opened in the presence of the Iowa board of law examiners and the correct name entered opposite the number drawn by each applicant, in the presence of the Iowa board of law examiners. [Court Order July 2, 1975]

Court Rule 109. The Iowa board of law examiners is authorized to employ the character investigation services of the National Conference of Bar Examiners, the Bureau of Criminal Identification or any other agency. Such character investigation and report shall be procured in all cases where application for admission on motion is made, and where the required investigation fee has been paid by the applicant. Such service may be utilized in cases of applications for admission upon examination where the same is deemed necessary by the Iowa board of law examiners. [Court Order July 2, 1975]

Court Rule 110. The authority to pass on the sufficiency of applications for permission to take the bar examination is vested in the Iowa board of law examiners, subject, however, to review by the Iowa supreme court. [Court Order July 2, 1975]

Before 1975 this rule was Ct.R 112

Court Rule 111. Immediately upon the filing of the application, the chairman of the Iowa board of law examiners shall notify the president of the county bar association, and the county attorney of the county in which the applicant resides, of the filing of the application. If either of said officers is possessed of information which reflects adversely on the moral character of the applicant, such information shall be transmitted to the chairman of the board of law examiners not less than sixty days in advance of the holding of the examination. [Court Order July 2, 1975; September 20, 1976; November 21, 1977]

Court Rule 112. Registration by law students.

(1) Every person intending to apply for admission to the bar of this state by examination shall, within sixty days following the commencement of the study of law in an accredited law school, register with the Iowa board of law examiners on forms furnished by the board and by paying the required fee of ten dollars.

(2) If any person shall fail to so register, but shall do so at least ninety days prior to the date established by Court Rule 103 for filing an application to take the bar examination, the board may, if it finds that a strict enforcement of this rule would work a hardship and that sufficient excuse exists for failing to comply with paragraph (1) hereof, waive the requirements of this rule as to date of filing. Refusal of the board to waive such requirement shall be subject to review by the supreme court.

A late registration filed under this provision shall be accompanied by a fee of fifty dollars, which shall be in addition to the fee required under Court Rule 113.

(3) The registration as a law student under this rule is not deemed an application for permission to take the bar examination.

(4) The registration shall be accompanied by letters prepared by three persons not related to applicant by consanguinity or affinity attesting the registrant's good moral character.

(5) The board shall review such registration at such time and in such manner as it may elect, and may require the personal presence of any registrant at such time and place as the board may prescribe for interview and examination concerning the registrant's character and fitness. The board may at any time find it advisable to make further inquiry into the character, fitness and general qualifications of the registrant, and with regard to each registration, the board shall have all of the powers given it in respect to inquiry and investigation of candidates for admission to the bar.

(6) The requirements of this rule shall not be applicable to any person who has commenced the study of law in an accredited law school prior to August 1, 1975. [Court Order July 2, 1975; September 20, 1976]

Court Rule 113. Every applicant for admission to the bar upon examination shall, as a part of his application, remit to the Iowa board of law examiners a fee in the amount of fifty dollars. [Court Order July 2, 1975]

Referred to in Ct R 112

Court Rule 114. Any person a resident of this state, having been admitted to the bar of any other of the United States or the District of Columbia, may, in the discretion of the court, be admitted to practice in this state, without examination or proof of period of study. Such person, in his application for admission to practice law in this state, in addition to all other requirements of law, shall establish: That he has practiced law five full years under license in such jurisdiction within the seven years immediately preceding the date of his application and still holds a license, provided that the teaching of law as a full-time instructor in a law school approved by the section of legal education and admissions to the bar of the American Bar Association in this state or some other state shall, for the purposes of this rule, be deemed the practice of law, provided further that the period during which such person shall have discharged actual legal duties as a member of one of the armed services of the United States shall be considered as the practice of law for the purposes of this rule, if certified to as such by the judge advocate general of such service. Any person applying for admission pursuant to this rule shall pay to the clerk of the supreme court at the time of filing application for admission, a fee of one hundred seventy-five dollars. The portion of the fee so paid which exceeds the admission fee now required by law shall be considered an investigation fee. No part of the fee paid to the clerk of the supreme court shall be refunded to a person making application under this rule. [Court Order July 2, 1975; September 20, 1976]

Court Rule 115. The following proofs must be filed with the Iowa board of law examiners to qualify an applicant for admission under the last preceding Court Rule:

- (1) Certificate of admission in state of former residence;
- (2) Certificate of clerk or judge of a court of record in such state that he was regularly engaged in practice of law in said state for five years;
- (3) Certificate of judge or clerk of district court where applicant intends to practice in this state that he is of good moral character;
- (4) Affidavits of two citizens and affidavit of applicant as to residence in this state.

Applicants must appear for admission in open session of the supreme court. [Court Order July 2, 1975]

Court Rule 116. Attorneys not admitted in Iowa—appointment of local attorney—contested cases before administrative agency. Any attorney admitted to practice in any state and not admitted in Iowa, may commence an action in an Iowa court and may, further, in the discretion of the court in which the action is pending, be permitted to conduct such cause or other matter pending, including the defense of a cause without being admitted to practice in Iowa providing that he promptly files with the clerk of such court the written appearance of a resident attorney admitted to practice in this state upon whom service may be had in all matters connected with said cause or matter with the same effect as if personally made upon the attorney not admitted to practice in Iowa. In case of failure to file and maintain such appearance, the court before which the matter is pending shall notify the attorney not admitted to practice in Iowa and the parties he represents to comply with section 610.13, The Code, within twenty days of the date of the notice. In event of failure to comply within such period, the court, on its motion or on motion of the adverse party or parties, may dismiss the action, or strike the pleadings of the noncomplying party from the files, and enter thereafter such judgment as is then appropriate.

Any attorney admitted to practice in any state and not admitted in Iowa may represent others in a contested case before an administrative agency of this state, at the discretion of such agency, providing that such attorney promptly files with the agency the written appearance of a resident attorney admitted to practice in Iowa upon whom service may be had in all matters connected with said case with the same effect as if personally made on the attorney not admitted to practice in Iowa. The terms "agency" and "contested case" as used in this rule are defined in section 17A.2, The Code. [Court Order July 2, 1975; June 22, 1976]

Court Rule 117. Any attorney who has been disbarred by a court of this state, or who has surrendered his certificate to practice law, shall, upon application for readmission to the bar, be subject to the following rules:

- (1) A proceeding for reinstatement as a member of the bar must be commenced by a written application to this court, which must be filed with the clerk of this court, and it shall state the age of the applicant, the date of the original admission, the date of disbarment, or surrender of certificate of applicant, and the same shall be verified by the oath of the applicant as to the truth of the statements made therein and shall be accompanied by a recommendation of at least three reputable attorneys practicing in the judicial district in which the applicant then lives, and has lived at least one year prior to filing application. If the applicant lives in a judicial district other than the district in which he lived at the time of the disbarment or surrender of his certificate, he shall file a recommendation of three reputable practicing attorneys in such district.

(2) Upon filing of such application and recommendations with the clerk of this court, the clerk shall give written notice thereof to the attorney general, to the county attorney of the county in which the applicant resides, to the county attorney where applicant resided at the time of disbarment or surrender of certificate, to the chairman of the Iowa board of law examiners, and to each of the judges of the district in which the applicant resided at the time of disbarment or surrender of certificate, and to the president of the county bar association, and to the president of the state bar association, of the residence of the applicant, and of the county where applicant resided when disbarred or when he surrendered his certificate.

(3) Such notice shall contain the date of the disbarment or of the cancellation of the certificate; the date of filing the application, and the date of hearing thereon fixed by the court, which shall in no case be less than sixty days after the filing of such application for reinstatement.

(4) If an attorney is reinstated it shall be upon such conditions as this court shall prescribe. [Court Order July 2, 1975]

Referred to in C R 118 13 118 14 118 17

Court Rule 117.1. Review and appeal. Review of final action by the Iowa board of law examiners shall be as follows:

(1) The following rules shall govern the review of examinations of unsuccessful applicants for admission:

(a) An applicant who has failed the Iowa Bar Examination but once shall have no right of review except the opportunity to apply to take the examination at some subsequent regular examination.

(b) An applicant who has failed the bar examinations two or more times shall have the rights herein-after set forth.

(c) Such applicant, and attorneys for such applicant, may examine applicant's examination papers in the office of the clerk of the supreme court of Iowa and obtain copies thereof at the expense of applicant.

(d) Applicant's attorneys shall be attorneys admitted to practice law in the state of Iowa.

(e) Within forty-five days from the last day of the bar examination failed by the applicant, the applicant shall file a petition for review with the chairman of the board. The petition shall be typed or printed, shall state specifically wherein the board is alleged to have erred, and shall contain a legible copy of all of the bar examination answers of applicant. Said petition shall be signed by the applicant, and if applicant has engaged an attorney, it shall also be signed by said attorney.

(f) With the petition, applicant shall also file a typed or printed brief of law and applicable authorities in support of each allegation of claimed error.

(g) Eight copies of said petition and brief shall be served upon the chairman of the board by taking the written acknowledgement of the chairman of the delivery of the petition and brief, with the necessary copies, or by mailing the same by certified mail to said chairman at the address supplied by the clerk of the supreme court of Iowa.

(h) No review and no relief shall be granted to any applicant who fails to comply substantially with these rules.

(i) Upon substantial compliance with these rules, the board shall fix the time and place of hearing on the review, and shall notify either applicant or applicant's attorney of said time and place, by mailing a notice in writing to the person and at the address designated in the petition for such purpose, such mailing to be completed not less than ten days prior to the date of the hearing.

(j) Applicant shall be personally present at said hearing, may be represented by counsel, and may produce witnesses and introduce relevant material and competent evidence confined to the errors claimed in the petition filed. At the request of applicant, the board may waive the personal appearance of applicant.

(k) The board, at its expense, shall provide a reporter to report the evidence and the arguments of applicant during the hearing, and the board and applicant shall each bear the expense of the reporter for such typed transcripts thereof as the respective parties may require.

(l) Subsequent to said hearing, the board shall review the examination answers of said applicant and its previous decision, and either affirm its previous decision or recommend to the supreme court of Iowa that the applicant be admitted to practice law in Iowa. The decision shall be in writing, addressed to the supreme court of the state of Iowa, and the original filed in the office of the clerk of said court, and thereafter said court shall enter such order as in its judgment is proper. A copy of said decision shall be mailed by certified mail to the person and at the address designated in the petition for such purpose.

(m) The board for such hearing shall be at least three of the five attorneys and one of the lay persons, but the lay members of the board shall have no vote in the decision rendered.

(n) Any further review of an applicant who has, on a second or subsequent attempt, failed the bar examination, shall be governed by court rule 117.1(2), infra.

(2) Any applicant aggrieved by the final action of the Iowa board of law examiners in refusing to recommend to the supreme court of Iowa, the admission of the applicant to practice law in Iowa, for any reason other than the failure to pass the examination as set forth in paragraph (1) may, within twenty days of such final determination by said board, file a petition with the supreme court of Iowa requesting a review by said court of such final determination. Said petition shall set forth therein specifically the reasons, in fact or law, assigned as error in the board's determination. The court may order further consideration of the application. On receipt of such an order, the chairman of the board of law examiners shall promptly transmit to the court the complete file relating to such applicant and his application, including the transcript of the record of any hearing held by the Iowa board of law examiners relating thereto. Thereafter, the court shall enter such order as in its judgment is proper. Said order shall thereupon become final, without further review or appeal. [Court Order July 2, 1975; September 20, 1976]

Court Rule 118. Complaint procedure.

Referred to in Rules EC 2—11, DR 2-101, DR 2-105, Disciplinary Guidelines, Grievance Committee Rules 3 and 7, Ethics Procedure Rule 3.2, Court Rules 121.2 “c”(5), 121.3 “r”(8), 121.4 “d”(2), 121.5 “a”(2), 123.5 “b”, R P P 5 “d”

118.1. Grievance commission. There is hereby created the Grievance Commission of the Supreme Court of Iowa whose members shall be the Committee on Grievances of the Iowa State Bar Association and their successors as confirmed by order of this court. Such members are appointed commissioners of this court. The grievance commission, or a duly appointed division thereof shall hold hearings and receive evidence concerning alleged violations, wherever such violations occur, of the Iowa Code of Professional Responsibility for Lawyers or laws of the United States, and the laws of the state of Iowa or any other state or territory within their respective jurisdictions by lawyers who are members of the bar of this court. The grievance commission shall have such other powers and duties as are provided in these rules.

118.2. Processing of complaints. The members of the Committee on Professional Ethics and Conduct of the Iowa State Bar Association and their successors, as confirmed by order of this court are appointed commissioners of this court to initiate or receive, and process complaints against any attorney licensed to practice law in this state for alleged violations of the Iowa Code of Professional Responsibility for Lawyers and laws of the United States or the state of Iowa. Upon completion of any such investigation the committee on professional ethics and conduct shall either dismiss the complaint made, or admonish or reprimand the complained against attorney, or file and prosecute the complaint before the grievance commission or any division thereof.

Referred to in R P P 5 “d”

118.3. Reprimand. In event an attorney is reprimanded by the committee on professional ethics and conduct, a copy of the reprimand shall be filed with the clerk of the grievance commission who shall immediately forward a copy thereof, by restricted certified mail, to the attorney reprimanded, therein stating that he or she has thirty days from the date of receipt thereof to file exceptions thereto with the clerk of the grievance commission. If the attorney fails to file an exception such failure shall constitute a waiver of any further proceedings and a consent that the reprimand be final and public. In that event, the clerk of the grievance commission shall cause a copy of the reprimand to be forwarded to the clerk of this court, together with proof of the aforesaid service thereof and a statement that no exceptions had been filed within the time prescribed. This court shall thereupon cause the reprimand to be spread upon the records of the court as a public document. In event, however, the attorney concerned files timely exception to the reprimand, no report of the reprimand shall be made to the clerk of this court and the reprimand shall be stricken from the records. The committee on professional ethics and conduct may, however, proceed further with any complaint against such attorney before the grievance commission. When a reprimand has been filed but exception is duly taken thereto such reprimand shall not be admissible in evidence in any hearing before the grievance commission.

118.4. Rules. The grievance commission and the committee on professional ethics and conduct shall each adopt reasonable rules prescribing the procedure to be followed in all disciplinary proceedings before each such body, which rules shall be subject to approval by this court.

118.5. Complaints. Every complaint filed against an attorney with the grievance commission shall be signed and sworn to by the chairman of the committee on professional ethics and conduct and served upon the attorney concerned as provided by the rules of the grievance commission. Such complaints shall be sufficiently clear and specific in their charges to reasonably inform the attorney against whom the complaint is made of the misconduct he or she is alleged to have committed. All complaints, motions, pleadings, records, reports, exhibits, evidence and all other documents or things filed under this rule or received in evidence in a hearing before the grievance commission shall be filed with and preserved by the secretary of the grievance commission in Des Moines, Iowa, all of which shall at all times be available to this court or anyone designated by this court.

Referred to in Grievance Committee Rule 5

118.6. Discovery. In any disciplinary proceeding or action taken by the committee on professional ethics and conduct, discovery shall be permitted as provided in R.C.P. 121 to 134 inclusive; 140 and 141; and in 143 to 158. The attorney against whom a complaint has been filed, in addition to the restriction stated in R.C.P. 122 (a) shall not be required to answer an interrogatory pursuant to R.C.P. 126; a request for admission pursuant to R.C.P. 127; a question upon oral examination pursuant to R.C.P. 140; or a question upon written interrogatories, pursuant to R.C.P. 150; if the answer would be self-incriminatory. In addition thereto, evidence and testimony may be perpetuated as provided in R.C.P. 159 to 166. If either party is to utilize discovery, it must be commenced within thirty days after the date the complaint was filed. The commission may permit amendments to the complaint to conform to the proof or to raise new matters as long as the respondent has notice thereof and a reasonable time to prepare his defense thereto prior to the date set for hearing. The grievance commission, or any division thereof, shall receive an application and may enter an order to enforce discovery or to perpetuate any evidence.

118.7. Hearing. After a complaint has been filed with the grievance commission and an answer filed thereto pursuant to its rules or the time provided for such answer has expired, the grievance commission shall immediately upon the expiration of thirty days from the date the complaint was filed set the matter for hearing and notify all parties thereof at least ten days prior to the date set for such hearing, by restricted certified mail or personal service. If neither party has commenced any discovery within thirty days of the filing of the complaint, the hearing date shall be set not less than forty-five days nor more than sixty days after the filing of the complaint. If a party has commenced discovery, the hearing date shall be set not less than sixty days nor more than seventy-five days from the date the complaint is filed. The commission may grant reasonable continuances but only upon written application supported by affidavit. Proceedings and hearings before the grievance commission or any division thereof shall be confidential unless the attorney involved requests otherwise.

118.8. Subpoenas. The clerk of the district court of the county in which any disciplinary hearing is to be held shall issue subpoenas of all kinds upon request of the grievance commission, the complainant, or the attorney against whom a complaint has been filed. Any member of the grievance commission is hereby empowered to administer oaths to all witnesses, and shall cause such testimony to be officially reported by a court reporter. The grievance commission shall report to the supreme court of Iowa the failure or refusal of any person to attend or testify in response to any subpoena or any ruling of said commission.

118.9. Decision. At the conclusion of a hearing upon any complaint against an attorney the grievance commission shall dismiss the complaint, or reprimand the attorney, or recommend to this court that the license to practice law of the accused attorney be suspended or revoked. If the grievance commission reprimands the attorney or recommends suspension or revocation of the attorney's license, it shall report to this court, in writing, its findings of fact, conclusions of law, and recommendations. The commissions may permit a reasonable time for the parties to file post hearing briefs and arguments. The disposition or report of the commission shall be made or filed with this court within thirty days of the date set for the filing of the last responsive brief and argument. If the commission cannot reasonably make its determination or file its report within such time limit, it shall report that fact and the reasons therefor to the parties and the clerk of this court. Any determination or report of the commission need only be concurred in by a majority of the commissioners sitting. Any commissioner has the right to file with this court his or her dissent from the majority determination or report. Such matter shall then stand for final disposition in this court. If the grievance commission dismisses the complaint, no report shall be made to this court, except as provided in rule 118.20. Any report of reprimand or recommendations for license suspension or revocation shall be a public document upon the filing thereof with the clerk of this court.

118.10. Disposition by the supreme court. Any report filed by the grievance commission with this court shall be served upon the attorney concerned as provided by the rules of the grievance commission. Such report shall be entitled in the name of the complainant versus the accused attorney as the respondent. If no exceptions are filed or no appeal is taken as hereinafter provided in these rules, the court shall proceed to determine the matter.

This court may revoke or suspend the license of an attorney admitted to practice in Iowa upon any of the following grounds: Conviction of a felony, conviction of a misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, violation of any provision of the Iowa Code of Professional Responsibility for Lawyers, or any cause now or hereafter provided by statute or these rules.

118.11. Exceptions and appeal. The respondent shall have twenty days to file with the clerk of this court a statement of exceptions to such report filed by the grievance commission pursuant to rule 118.9 and to give notice of appeal therefrom to this court. Such appeal shall thereafter be reviewed de novo by this court upon the record made before the grievance commission, and shall proceed as provided for appeals of civil cases. The complainant, within twenty days after filing of final disposition of a case by the grievance commission may apply to this court for permission to appeal from a ruling, report, or recommendation of the grievance commission. This court may grant such appeal, but not ex parte, and if the appeal is granted, it shall proceed as provided in appeals of civil cases. If such appeal is from the grievance commission's dismissal of a complaint, or of any charge contained therein, such appeal shall remain confidential. In event, however, this court reverses or modifies the report of the grievance commission, such court order of reversal or modification shall become a public record.

118.12. Suspension. In event an order of this court provides for the suspension of the license of an attorney to practice law, such suspension shall continue for the minimum time specified in such order and until this court has approved the attorney's written application for reinstatement.

Any attorney suspended shall refrain, during such suspension, from all facets of the ordinary law practice including but not limited to the examination of abstracts, consummation of real estate transactions, preparation of legal briefs, deeds, buy and sell agreements, contracts, wills and tax returns.

118.13. Application for reinstatement. An application for reinstatement from any suspension shall be filed with the clerk of this court not more than sixty days prior to expiration of such suspension or time fixed for making application therefor in accordance with the provisions of court rule 117. In addition thereto the applicant shall state, in said application, that he or she has complied in all respects with the orders and judgments of this court relating to the suspension. The applicant shall also submit to this court satisfactory proof that he or she, at time of the appliation, is of good moral character and in all respects worthy of the right to practice law.

118.14. Conviction of a crime. Upon receipt by this court of satisfactory evidence that an attorney had pled guilty to, or nolo contendere to, or has been convicted of a crime which would be grounds for license suspension or revocation, such attorney may be temporarily suspended from the practice of law by this court regardless of the pendency of an appeal. Not less than twenty days prior to the effective date of such suspension, the attorney concerned shall be notified, in writing directed by restricted certified mail to his last address as shown by the records accessible to this court, that he has a right to appear before one or more justices of this court at a specified time, at a designated place and show cause why such suspension should not take place. Any hearing so held shall be informal and the strict rules of evidence shall not apply. The decision rendered may simply state the conclusion and decision of the participating justice or justices and may be orally delivered to the attorney at the close of the hearing or sent to him in written form at a later time.

Any attorney suspended pursuant to this rule shall refrain, during such suspension, from all facets of the ordinary law practice including but not limited to the examination of abstracts, consummation of real estate transactions, preparation of legal briefs, deeds, buy and sell agreements, contracts, wills and tax returns.

For good cause shown, this court may set aside an order temporarily suspending an attorney from the practice of law as hereinabove provided, upon application by such attorney and hearing thereon in accordance with court rule 117, but such reinstatement shall neither terminate a disciplinary proceeding then pending nor stand as a bar to any such proceeding thereafter instituted against such attorney.

An attorney temporarily suspended under the aforesaid provisions of this rule shall be promptly reinstated upon the filing of a good and sufficient certificate disclosing the underlying conviction of a crime has been finally reversed or set aside, but such reinstatement shall neither terminate a disciplinary proceeding then pending nor stand as a bar to any such proceeding thereafter instituted against such attorney.

The clerk of any court in this state in which an attorney has pled guilty or nolo contendere to, or been convicted of a crime as aforesaid shall, within ten days thereafter transmit a certificate thereof to the clerk of this court.

118.15. Disbarment on consent. An attorney subject to investigation or a pending proceeding involving allegations of misconduct subject to disciplinary action may acquiesce in his or her disbarment, but only by delivering to the grievance commission an affidavit stating he or she consents to disbarment and that (1) the consent is freely and voluntarily given absent any coercion or duress, with full recognition of all implication attendant upon such consent; (2) he or she is aware of a presently pending investigation into, or proceeding involving allegations that there exist grounds for discipline the nature of which shall be specifically set forth; (3) he or she acknowledges the material facts so alleged are true; and (4) in event proceedings were instituted upon the matters under investigation, or if existent proceedings were pursued, he or she could not successfully defend against same.

Upon receipt of such affidavit the grievance commission shall cause same to be filed with the clerk of this court whereupon this court shall enter an order disbarring such attorney on consent.

Any order disbarring an attorney on consent shall be a matter of public record. However, the affidavit required as aforesaid shall not be publicly disclosed or made available for use in any other proceeding except upon order of this court.

118.16. Disability suspension. In event an attorney shall at any time in any jurisdiction be duly adjudicated a mentally incapacitated person, or an alcoholic, or a drug addict, or shall be committed to an institution or hospital for treatment thereof, the clerk of any court in Iowa in which any such adjudication or commitment is entered shall, within ten days thereafter, certify same to the clerk of this court.

Upon the filing of any such certificate or a like certificate from another jurisdiction this court may enter an order suspending the license of such attorney to practice law in this state until further order of this court. Not less than twenty days prior to the effective date of such suspension, the attorney concerned or his or her guardian and the director of the institution or hospital to which such attorney has been committed, if any, shall be notified, in writing directed by restricted certified mail to his last address as shown by the records accessible to this court, that he has a right to appear before one or more justices of this court at a specified time, at a designated place and show cause why such suspension should not take place. Any hearing so held shall be informal and the strict rules of evidence shall not apply. The decision rendered may simply state the conclusion and decision of the participating justice or justices and may be orally delivered to the attorney at the close of the hearing or sent to him in written form at a later time. A copy of such suspension order shall be given the suspended attorney, or to his or her guardian and the director of the institution or hospital to which such suspended attorney has been committed, if any, by restricted mail or personal service as this court may direct.

Any attorney suspended pursuant to this rule shall refrain, during such suspension, from all facets of the ordinary law practice including but not limited to the examination of abstracts, consummation of real estate transactions, preparation of legal briefs, deeds, buy and sell agreements, contracts, wills and tax returns.

No attorney suspended due to disability under the aforesaid provisions of this rule may engage in the practice of law in this state until reinstated by order of this court. Any attorney so suspended shall be entitled to apply for reinstatement to active status once each year or at such shorter intervals as this court may, in the suspension order, provide or specify. An attorney suspended due to any aforesaid disability may be reinstated by this court upon a showing, by clear and convincing evidence, that the attorney's disability has been removed and he or she is fully qualified to resume the practice of law. Upon the filing of an application for reinstatement this court may take or direct any action deemed necessary or proper to determine whether such suspended attorney's disability has been removed, including a direction for an examination of the applicant by such qualified medical experts as this court shall designate. In its discretion this court may direct that the expenses of such an examination be paid by the petitioning attorney.

The filing of an application for reinstatement to active status by an attorney suspended due to disability shall constitute a waiver of any doctor-patient privilege with regard to any treatment of the petitioning attorney during the period of his or her disability. Such attorney shall also set forth in his or her application for reinstatement the name of every psychiatrist, psychologist, physician and hospital or any other institution by whom or in which the petitioning attorney has been examined or treated since his or her suspension due to disability, and shall also furnish to this court written consent that any such psychiatrist, psychologist, physician and hospital or other institution by whom or in which the petitioner has been examined or treated as aforesaid may divulge any and all information and records requested by this court or any court-appointed medical experts.

Where an attorney has been suspended due to any aforesaid disability and thereafter, in proceedings duly had, he or she shall be judicially held to be competent or cured, this court may dispense with further evidence regarding removal of his or her disability and may order his or her reinstatement to active status upon such terms as are deemed reasonably proper and advisable.

118.17. Reciprocal discipline. Any attorney admitted to practice in this state, upon being subjected to professional disciplinary action in another jurisdiction or in any federal court, shall promptly advise the grievance commission, in writing, of such action. Upon being informed that an attorney admitted to practice in this state has been subjected to discipline in another jurisdiction or any federal court, the grievance commission shall obtain a certified copy of such disciplinary order and cause same to be filed in the office of the clerk of this court.

Upon receipt of a certified copy of an order disclosing an attorney admitted to practice in this state has been disciplined in another jurisdiction or any federal court, this court shall promptly give notice thereof by restricted certified mail or personal service directed to such attorney containing: (1) A copy of said disciplinary order from the other jurisdiction or federal court, and (2) an order directing that such disciplined attorney inform this court, within thirty days after receipt of said notice, of any claim by such attorney that imposition of identical discipline in this state would be too severe, too lenient or otherwise unwarranted, giving the specific reasons therefor. A like notice shall be mailed to the committee on professional ethics and conduct of the Iowa State Bar Association.

If either party so informs this court, the matter shall be set for hearing before five or more justices of this court and the parties notified thereof by restricted certified mail at least ten days prior to the date set. At such hearing a certified copy of the testimony, transcripts, exhibits, affidavits and other matters introduced into evidence in such jurisdiction or federal court shall be admitted into evidence as well as any findings of fact, conclusions of law, decision and orders decided or issued. Any such findings of fact shall be conclusive and not subject to readjudication. Thereafter, the court shall enter such findings, conclusions and orders that it deems appropriate. If neither party so informs this court within thirty days from service of notice issued pursuant to the foregoing provisions hereof, this court may impose the identical discipline, unless this court finds that on the face of the record upon which the discipline is predicated it clearly appears: (1) The disciplinary procedure was so lacking in notice and opportunity to be heard as to constitute a deprivation of due process; or (2) there was such infirmity of proof establishing misconduct as to give rise to the clear conviction that this court could not, conscientiously, accept as final the conclusion on that subject; or (3) the misconduct established warrants substantially different discipline in this state.

Where this court determines that any of the aforesaid factors exist, such order as is deemed appropriate may be entered by this court. Rule 117 shall apply to any subsequent reinstatement or reduction or stay of discipline.

118.18. Notification of clients and counsel. In every case in which a respondent is ordered to be disbarred or suspended, the respondent shall:

(a) Within fifteen days in the absence of co-counsel, notify his or her clients in all pending matters to seek legal advice elsewhere, calling attention to any urgency in seeking the substitution of another lawyer;

(b) Within fifteen days deliver to all clients being represented in pending matters any papers or other property to which they are entitled or notify them and any co-counsel of a suitable time and place where the papers and other property may be obtained, calling attention to any urgency for obtaining the papers or other property;

(c) Within thirty days refund any part of any fees paid in advance that have not been earned;

(d) Within fifteen days notify opposing counsel in pending litigation or, in the absence of such counsel, the adverse parties, of the respondent's disbarment or suspension and consequent disqualification to act as a lawyer after the effective date of such discipline or transfer to disability inactive status;

(e) Within fifteen days file with the court, agency, or tribunal before which the litigation is pending a copy of the notice to opposing counsel or adverse parties;

(f) Keep and maintain records of the steps taken to accomplish the foregoing; and

(g) Within thirty days file proof with this court and with the Committee on Professional Ethics and Conduct of complete performance of the foregoing, and this shall be a condition for application for readmission to practice.

118.19. Immunity. Complaints submitted to the grievance commission or testimony with respect thereto shall be privileged and no lawsuit predicated thereon may be instituted.

Members of the grievance commission, members of the committee on professional ethics and conduct, and their respective staffs shall be immune from suit for any conduct in the course of their official duties.

A true copy of any complaint against a member of the grievance commission or the committee on professional ethics and conduct involving alleged violations of the attorney's oath of office or of the Iowa Code of Professional Responsibility for Lawyers and laws of the United States or state of Iowa shall be promptly forwarded to the chief justice of this court.

118.20. Reports. The chairman of the grievance commission and the chairman of the committee on professional ethics and conduct shall, on July 1 of each year, submit to this court a report of the number of complaints received and processed during the prior period, a synopsis of each such complaint, and the disposition thereof. In event such disposition was by way of dismissal of the complaint, the name of the attorney charged shall be omitted, but a synopsis of the charges made and by whom and a report of disposition shall be included.

Referred to in CTR 118.9 RPP 5 d

118.21. Effective dates. These rules shall have prospective and retrospective application to all alleged violations, complaints, hearings, and dispositions thereof on which a hearing has not actually been commenced before the grievance commission prior to the effective date of these rules.

GUIDELINES CONCERNING DISCIPLINARY PROCEEDINGS
UNDER SUPREME COURT RULE 118

[See order of June 23, 1975 creating Grievance Commission rules]

There are two methods for disciplinary procedure in Iowa. One is under Iowa supreme court rule 118, and the other is under chapter 610, Code of Iowa, 1977.

The procedure under chapter 610 provides for the filing of a complaint in the district court, and pleadings and trial as with ordinary public litigation, before a three-judge court appointed by the chief justice of the Iowa supreme court. This statement of chapter 610 proceedings is abbreviated because it is not used very much, since rule 118 has become so effective. These guidelines concern themselves with the rule 118 procedure.

Complaints may be filed either with the county or district bar association or directly with the state. There is enclosed herewith a copy of the complaint form used by the state.

Nowhere, either by statute or supreme court rule is there provision defining the authority of a local committee. Traditionally local committees have:

1. Investigated complaints.
2. By personal admonition or in writing warned members of their Bar concerning activities considered improper.
3. Forwarded the material to the state committee for attention. Local committees can, and for many years past have played a very important role in discipline, by meeting with the complainants, hearing "their side" and explaining the whole problem. Often this is all the complainants want and all that is needed. There also is great value in these committees meeting with the lawyer, hearing his side and, where indicated, influencing him to adjust his fee, correct a minor error, or caution him against certain practices.

If discipline more serious than an admonition is indicated, it is suggested that under existing rules the matter be forwarded to the committee on professional ethics and conduct of the Iowa state bar association. It is entirely possible that that committee will request additional investigation or action from the local committee thereafter.

The members of the committee on professional ethics and conduct are appointed by the president of the Iowa state bar association and confirmed as commissioners of the supreme court. Upon receipt of complaints by that committee, they are investigated to the extent deemed necessary and then acted upon by the committee.

The committee has the authority to:

1. Dismiss the complaint.
2. Admonish (a private communication spelling out the violation that has occurred and cautioning against its repetition).
3. Reprimand. (This is a written reprimand which becomes filed with the clerk of the supreme court and thus becomes a public record unless excepted to by respondent). See rule 118.3.

4. File a formal complaint with the grievance commission.

The members of the grievance commission are appointed by the president of the Iowa state bar association and confirmed as commissioners of the supreme court. The grievance commission receives formal complaints filed by the committee on professional ethics and conduct and may:

1. Dismiss the complaint.
2. Admonish the respondent.
3. Recommend reprimand.
4. Recommend suspension for a certain period of time.
5. Recommend disbarment.

The findings and recommendations of the grievance commission are filed with the clerk of the supreme court. Under rule 118 procedure, this is the first time they become a public record.

The respondent may take exception, and if this is done, the court considers the matter de novo, on the record. Whether or not exception is taken, final action on the recommendation of the grievance commission is by the supreme court, on its order.

There are attached hereto a copy of supreme court rule 118, a copy of the rules of the committee on professional ethics and conduct, and a copy of the rules of the grievance commission.

Local committees are encouraged to confer with the Iowa state bar association committee on professional ethics and conduct whenever in their opinion it seems desirable.

RULES OF THE GRIEVANCE COMMISSION OF THE SUPREME COURT OF IOWA

[Adopted by Supreme Court Order June 23, 1975]

The following shall be the rules of the grievance commission of the supreme court of Iowa:

1. The grievance commission of the supreme court of Iowa is hereafter referred to as the commission, and the members thereof are referred to as the commissioners. The commissioners shall elect from their members one to serve as chairman and one as vice chairman and shall appoint a clerk and assistant clerk who shall serve as secretary and assistant secretary of the commission. In the absence or inability to act, of the chairman, the vice chairman shall perform all duties of the chairman.

2. The commissioners may act as a body or in such divisions as the chairman may direct. Until otherwise directed the commission shall consist of four divisions designated first, second, third and fourth, and each division shall consist of five members. The personnel of each division shall be selected and designated by the chairman for each complaint as required. He shall appoint one of said members to serve as president of said division. One additional member shall be selected as an alternate.

3. All complaints made in accordance with court rule 118 shall be filed with the secretary, who shall refer the same to the committee on professional ethics and conduct, hereafter referred to as the committee.

4. Any complaint filed by the committee shall be filed in the name of the committee as complainant and against the attorney named in said charges as respondent. Thereafter such complaint and charges referred to therein shall be prosecuted by said committee before the commission until final disposition thereof.

5. The secretary shall cause each such complaint to be separately numbered and filed and all subsequent motions, pleadings, orders or other documents relating thereto shall be made part of such file. The secretary shall also provide for a permanent docket to be kept as required by court rule 118.5. All complaints filed by or on behalf of the committee shall be docketed therein and such file and docket shall be kept in substantially the same manner as the records relating to civil action in district court.

6. The secretary shall report the filing of each such complaint to the chairman of the commission, who shall thereupon by written order filed in the cause direct that the same be heard by the commission as a whole or a specified division thereof.

7. Upon the filing of such complaint, the secretary shall also cause a written notice thereof with a copy of said complaint, a copy of court rule 118, and a copy of these rules attached to be served upon the respondent by personal service in the manner of an original notice in civil suits or by restricted certified mail. Said notice shall include a recommendation that the respondent select an attorney to represent him or request the chief justice of the supreme court to appoint counsel on his behalf. Said notice shall also notify said respondent to file a written answer to said complaint within fifteen days after completed service of said notice. Written return of service shall be made by the person making the service if by personal service, or by the secretary with postal receipts attached if by restricted certified mail, and such return of service shall be filed in the cause. Service shall be deemed complete on the date of personal service or date shown by the postal receipt of delivery of said notice to the respondent. Said notice shall be deemed sufficient if substantially in the form set out in Appendix "A", made a part hereof.

8. The respondent shall file a written answer to such complaint within fifteen days from the completed service of said notice. If he fails or refuses to file such answer within the time specified, the allegations of said complaint shall be considered denied and the commission or a division thereof may proceed as if a formal denial were filed.

9. The chairman of the commission or the president of any division thereof to which a complaint has been referred, shall direct a hearing to be held upon such complaint within a reasonable time, in the county of respondent's residence or at the discretion of the chairman within any other judicial district as shall most nearly serve the convenience of the parties, and shall designate by written order the time and place for such hearing and the personnel of the commission or division. The secretary shall mail a copy of said order to all parties and attorneys at least ten days before the date set for said hearing. If the respondent files written objections to the hearing of said complaint in the county of his residence, the hearing shall be held at such other place as the chairman or division president shall direct by written order in which case a new notice shall be given as above prescribed.

10. No hearing shall be continued except for good cause. Except in case of emergency, any motion for continuance shall be filed at least seven days before the day of hearing. Any objections to continuance shall be filed promptly thereafter.

11. The chairman of the commission or president or any member of a division to which a complaint has been referred, or any attorney against whom a complaint has been filed, may request the clerk of the district court of the county in which any disciplinary hearing is held to issue subpoenas of every kind in all matters pending before the commission or division thereof and the clerk shall issue same. Any member of the grievance commission is hereby empowered to administer oaths to all witnesses and shall cause such testimony to be officially reported by a court reporter.

12. All answers, motions, applications, petitions, and pleadings in connection with a complaint shall be filed in duplicate with the secretary at his office in Des Moines, Iowa, and the secretary shall prepare and mail copies thereof to the respondent, the chairman of the committee, attorneys of record, and to the chairman of the commission if sitting as a whole, or to the president of a division thereof to whom such complaint has been referred; provided, however, that on and after the day fixed for hearing any such papers may be filed in duplicate with the chairman of the commission or the president of the division, as the case may be, who shall notify all parties and attorneys of the filing thereof and a copy shall be filed with the secretary.

13. If prompt written request is filed by or on behalf of any party for a hearing upon any preliminary motion or application filed in connection with a complaint, the chairman of the commission sitting as a whole or the president of the division to whom such complaint has been referred shall by written order fix a time and place of hearing upon such motion or application and shall notify all parties and attorneys. After such hearing or if none is requested, such chairman or president of a division as the case may be, or any member of the commission or division designated by such chairman or president, shall file his written ruling upon such motion or application and thereafter all parties shall promptly comply with the terms and conditions thereof.

14. The respondent may challenge the impartiality of any member of the commission or division by motion setting forth the grounds therefor and filed within the time allowed for filing answer to the complaint. Said motion shall be disposed of as provided in rule 13 and if the challenge is sustained the vacancy thus created shall be filled as provided in rule 17.

15. At the time and place fixed for the hearing upon any complaint, the commission or division thereof shall proceed to hear the evidence, briefs of authorities and arguments in connection therewith. The hearing shall be private unless a written request for a public hearing is filed by the respondent. All witnesses shall be sworn by a person authorized by law to administer oaths or any member of the grievance commission and their testimony shall be taken in writing by a duly qualified reporter. The rules governing procedures and the order and admissibility of evidence in causes tried in district court without a jury shall be adhered to as nearly as practicable. All questions of procedure, including objections to evidence, shall be determined by the chairman of the commission or president of the division, as the case may be.

16. At the conclusion of a hearing upon any complaint against an attorney before such commissioners, the commissioners are empowered to dismiss such complaint or to reprimand the accused, and in the event of such reprimand, the commissioners shall promptly file their report of such action with the clerk of the supreme court, or if action by the supreme court of suspension or revocation of the license of such attorney to practice in the courts of this state is recommended, the commissioners shall make a report to the supreme court of their recommendations and conclusions of fact and law concerning the complaint, answer and proof within a reasonable time of the date of the last responsive brief and argument and thereupon such matters shall stand for hearing and disposition in the supreme court. Any member of the commission has the right to file with the supreme court his or her dissent from the majority determination or report.

The secretary shall cause a copy of any such report to be served on the respondent in the manner prescribed by rule 353* of the Iowa rules of civil procedure except that such service and proof thereof may be made by the secretary or by an attorney in the case or his clerk. Such report and recommendation of the commissioners shall be filed with the supreme court, together with proof of service of a copy thereof upon the respondent, and entered on the docket, entitled in the name of the respondent in the matter, as provided by rule 353* of the Iowa rules of civil procedure, and the respondent therein shall have twenty days from the date of such filing to file exceptions thereto, and shall, within sixty days after the filing of such exceptions, file with the supreme court the pleadings, the transcript and exhibits. The secretary, upon request of the respondent and payment of the actual cost thereof, shall certify to the supreme court the pleadings, transcript and exhibits. Within thirty days after the filing of such certified pleadings, transcript and exhibits, the respondent shall file his printed brief.

If the charges are dismissed by the commissioners, no publicity shall be given to any of the proceedings except at the request of the respondent. All reports and recommendations of the commissioners shall be concurred in by at least three members of the division or at least twelve members of the commission as the case may be, all of whom shall have been present throughout the proceedings.

*Revoked by Court Order, June 1, 1977

17. In case of the absence or inability of the chairman and vice chairman of the commission sitting as a whole to perform any of the duties provided for herein, said commission may designate some other member to perform such duties as acting chairman. In case of the absence or inability of the president of a division to perform any of the duties provided for herein, said division may designate some other member thereof as acting president to perform such duties. If a vacancy occur in any division from any cause, the same shall be filled by the chairman, vice chairman or acting chairman of the commission.

18. No omission, irregularity or other defect in procedure shall render void or ineffective any act of the commission or a division or any member thereof unless substantial prejudice is shown to have resulted therefrom.

GRIEVANCE COMMISSION RULES

APPENDIX "A"

BEFORE THE GRIEVANCE COMMISSION OF THE SUPREME COURT OF IOWA

Committee on Professional Ethics and Conduct of The Iowa State Bar Association, Complainant,

vs.

John Doe, Attorney at Law, of . . . . ., Iowa,

Respondent.
.....

NOTICE OF COMPLAINT

To John Doe,

Respondent above named:

You are hereby notified that there is now on file with the Secretary of the Grievance Commission of the Supreme Court of Iowa at his office at 1101 Fleming Building in the City of Des Moines, Iowa, a complaint alleging that you have committed unethical practices as an attorney and counsellor at law as described therein.

A copy of said complaint, a copy of Court Rule 118, and a copy of the rules of said commission relating to hearing said complaint are attached hereto and made a part of this notice.

You are further notified to file your written answer to said complaint within fifteen days from the completed service of this notice and to abide by the further orders of said commission made in accordance with said rules.

You are further notified that you may forthwith select an attorney to represent you in connection with said complaint or make application to the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court for the appointment of an attorney to represent you in said matter.

You are further notified that said commission will hear said complaint in accordance with said rules and will take such action thereon as may be warranted by the facts and circumstances disclosed at the hearing thereon.

Dated this . . . . . day of . . . . ., 19 . . . . .

.....
Secretary of the Grievance Commission

Des Moines, Iowa 50309

RULES OF PROCEDURE
PROFESSIONAL ETHICS AND CONDUCT COMMITTEE OF THE IOWA STATE BAR ASSOCIATION

[Adopted by Supreme Court Order December 12, 1974]

1.1 Complaints. Complaint forms shall be available to the public from the secretary of the Iowa state bar association or the chairman of the committee.

1.2 Filing. Complaints shall be accepted from any person, firm or other entity believing that an Iowa lawyer has been guilty of a disciplinary infraction.

a. Complaint must be sworn to, except when filed by an officer of the court.

b. Complaints shall include whatever exhibits complainant desires to submit.

c. They shall be filed, without charge, with the secretary of the Iowa state bar association.

d. The committee may, upon its own motion, initiate any investigation or disciplinary action. [Court Order June 20, 1980]

2.1 Secretary's procedure. Upon receiving a complaint in proper form as provided in section 1 hereof, the secretary of the Iowa state bar association shall:

a. Make a card record indicating the date filed, name and address of complainant, name and address of respondent lawyer, with a brief statement of the charges made. This card ultimately also shall show the final disposition of the matter when it is completed.

b. Forward the original and a duplicate for each lawyer charged in such complaint to the chairman of the committee.

c. The secretary shall keep all files in permanent form and confidential, unless otherwise provided or directed in writing by the chairman of the committee for disciplinary purposes or by a specific rule of the supreme court of Iowa; provided, however, that all such files shall be available for examination and for reproduction therefrom, by the designated officer or agent of the client security and attorney disciplinary commission, pursuant to proceedings under supreme court rule 121.

d. Any such files shall be open to the inspection of the lawyer complained against.

3.1 Committee procedure. Upon receipt of any complaint the chairman of the committee shall notify the complainant in writing that the complaint has been received and will be acted upon.

3.2 The chairman shall forward to the respondent by restricted, certified mail, marked "Confidential", a copy of the complaint, requesting a written response thereto, and copies of the committee rules and of supreme court rule 118.

3.3 If after thirty days, no such response from respondent has been received, he shall be notified by restricted certified mail that unless he responds thereto within ten days from receipt of notice, complaint may be filed with the grievance commission for failure so to respond, and concerning all or any portion of the matter about which complaint was made, and the committee shall proceed therewith thereafter, if no response is received.

3.4 Upon receipt of response the committee shall:

a. Dismiss the complaint, and so notify complainant and respondent in writing, or

b. Cause the case to be docketed for consideration of the committee at its next hearing-meeting, or

c. Arrange for investigation of the complaint either by a member of the young lawyers section of the Iowa state bar association, the committee counsel or another person, whichever in the judgment of the chairman is appropriate.

3.5 When the report and recommendation of investigator is returned to the committee, which shall be within a reasonable time, the committee shall:

a. Dismiss the complaint, and so notify complainant and respondent, or

b. Cause the case to be docketed for consideration of the committee at its next hearing-meeting.

3.6 If either witnesses or the respondent or complainant or any of them is required to give testimony before the committee, such person or persons shall be given at least seven days' written notice in advance of the hearing-meeting at which they are requested to attend and testify.

4.1 Hearing-meeting. Hearing-meetings shall be held quarterly, as nearly as possible. A majority of the committee shall constitute a quorum. The chairman or his designate shall see to the preparation of a record of such meetings which shall become a part of the permanent files of the Iowa state bar association. Any evidence taken shall be under oath and may be made of record. Upon completion of the consideration of any matter before the committee, the members, by majority vote of those present shall:

4.2 Continue the matter if necessary for appropriate reasons or purposes, or

4.3 Dismiss the complaint, or

4.4 Admonish the lawyer or lawyers concerned, or

4.5 Reprimand the lawyer or lawyers involved, or 4.6 File complaint before the grievance commission of the supreme court of Iowa, as complainant, and, thereafter shall:

47 In cases of dismissal, so notify complainant and respondent

48 In cases of admonition, notify complainant that "appropriate action has been taken"

49 In cases where complaint is filed before the grievance commission, prosecute said complaint to final determination

51 Any member of the bar desiring to expand the information authorized for disclosure pursuant to the provisions of DR 2-101 or DR 2-105, Iowa Code of Professional Responsibility for Lawyers, or to provide for its dissemination through forums other than therein authorized or otherwise to change those rules, may apply to the committee. Such application shall be made in writing by restricted, certified mail, and shall include such documentation as the applicant deems appropriate. The committee thereafter shall determine, on the basis of documentation at hand, further investigation, or whatever hearings it deems to be necessary, whether all or any part of the proposal is necessary in the light of existing provisions of the code, accords with the standards of accuracy, reliability, and truthfulness, and would facilitate the process of informed selection of lawyers by potential consumers of legal services

52 If the committee is of the opinion that no relief should be granted in response to any such application and no changes are necessary, it shall make a determination to that effect and then shall proceed as provided hereinafter

53 If the committee concludes that relief should be granted in response to such application, it shall make its determination to that effect and submit the same to the supreme court by filing the same with the clerk of the court as a recommended amendment to the Iowa Code of Professional Responsibility for Lawyers, universally applicable to all lawyers admitted to practice in Iowa

54 Within ten days after the committee has made its determination under paragraphs 51 and 52 herein-above, it shall notify applicant of its determination by furnishing said applicant a copy thereof by restricted, certified mail. Applicant shall have thirty days from the date of the said mailing by the committee to the applicant to take exception to all or any part of the determination of the committee. Said exceptions shall be taken by filing with the committee within said thirty-day period, complete written notice and documentation of the exceptions and the reasons therefor, which shall be forwarded to the committee by restricted, certified mail

55 Within thirty days from the receipt of the exceptions, the committee shall file with the clerk of the court a copy of said exceptions and documentations attached thereto, together with any written response which the committee seeks to make to the court together with a certification of its mailing to the applicant a copy of its response to the exceptions, in order that the court may determine the whole matter, with or without hearing, as to the court may appear appropriate and desirable

56 Nothing herein contained shall permit any publication other than provided in DR 2-101 or DR 2-105 unless and until said DR 2-101 or DR 2-105 shall be amended by the court. No applicant for expanded information for disclosure or other publication under the said rules shall make such disclosure or publication until the same specifically has been approved by rule of the court. [Adopted by Supreme Court Order May 18 1978]

IOWA CODE OF JUDICIAL CONDUCT

CANON 1

A Judge Should Uphold the Integrity and Independence of the Judiciary

An independent and honorable judiciary is indispensable to justice in our society. A judge should participate in establishing, maintaining, and enforcing, and should himself observe, high standards of conduct so that the integrity and independence of the judiciary may be preserved. The provisions of this Code should be construed and applied to further that objective.

CANON 2

*A Judge Should Avoid
Impropriety and the Appearance of Impropriety in All His Activities*

- A. A judge should respect and comply with the law and should conduct himself at all times in a manner that promotes public confidence in the integrity and impartiality of the judiciary.
- B. A judge should not allow his family, social, or other relationships to influence his judicial conduct or judgment. He should not lend the prestige of his office to advance the private interests of others; nor should he convey or permit others to convey the impression that they are in a special position to influence him. He should not testify voluntarily as a character witness.

CANON 3

A Judge Should Perform the Duties of His Office Impartially and Diligently

The judicial duties of a judge take precedence over all his other activities. His judicial duties include all the duties of his office prescribed by law. In the performance of these duties, the following standards apply:

A. Adjudicative Responsibilities.

- (1) A judge should be faithful to the law and maintain professional competence in it. He should be unswayed by partisan interests, public clamor, or fear of criticism.
- (2) A judge should maintain order and decorum in proceedings before him.
- (3) A judge should be patient, dignified, and courteous to litigants, jurors, witnesses, lawyers, and others with whom he deals in his official capacity, and should require similar conduct of lawyers, and of his staff, court officials, and others subject to his direction and control.
- (4) A judge should accord to every person who is legally interested in a proceeding, or his lawyer, full right to be heard according to law, and except as authorized by law, neither initiate nor consider ex parte or other communications concerning a pending or impending proceeding. A judge, however, may obtain the advice of a disinterested expert on the law applicable to a proceeding before him if he gives notice to the parties of the person consulted and the substance of the advice, and affords the parties reasonable opportunity to respond.
- (5) A judge should dispose promptly of the business of the court.
- (6) A judge should abstain from public comment about a pending or impending proceeding in any court, and should require similar abstention on the part of court personnel subject to his direction and control. This subsection does not prohibit judges from making public statements in the course of their official duties or from explaining for public information the procedures of the court.
- (7) A judge should prohibit broadcasting, televising, recording, or taking photographs in the courtroom and areas immediately adjacent thereto during sessions of court or recesses between sessions, except that a judge may authorize:
  - (a) The use of electronic or photographic means for the presentation of evidence, for the perpetuation of a record, or for other purposes of judicial administration;
  - (b) the broadcasting, televising, recording, or photographing of investitive, ceremonial, or naturalization proceedings;
  - (c) the photographic or electronic recording and reproduction of appropriate court proceedings under the following conditions:
    - (I) the means of recording will not distract participants or impair the dignity of the proceedings;
    - (II) the parties have consented, and the consent to being depicted or recorded has been obtained from each witness appearing in the recording and reproduction;

- (III) the reproduction will not be exhibited until after the proceeding has been concluded and all direct appeals have been exhausted; and
- (IV) the reproduction will be exhibited only for the instructional purposes in educational institutions.

B. Administrative Responsibilities.

- (1) A judge should diligently discharge his administrative responsibilities, maintain professional competence in judicial administration, and facilitate the performance of the administrative responsibilities of other judges and court officials.
- (2) A judge should require his staff and court officials subject to his direction and control to observe the standards of fidelity and diligence that apply to him.
- (3) A judge should take or initiate appropriate disciplinary measures against a judge or lawyer for unprofessional conduct of which the judge may become aware.
- (4) A judge should not make unnecessary appointments. He should exercise his power of appointment only on the basis of merit, avoiding nepotism and favoritism. He should not approve compensation of appointees beyond the fair value of services rendered.

C. Disqualification.

- (1) A judge should disqualify himself in a proceeding in which his impartiality might reasonably be questioned, including but not limited to instances where:
  - (a) he has a personal bias or prejudice concerning a party, or personal knowledge of disputed evidentiary facts concerning the proceeding;
  - (b) he served as lawyer in the matter in controversy, or a lawyer with whom he previously practiced law served during such association as a lawyer concerning the matter, or the judge or such lawyer has been a material witness concerning it;
  - (c) he knows that he, individually or as a fiduciary, or his spouse or minor child residing in his household, has a financial interest in the subject matter in controversy or in a party to the proceeding, or any other interest that could be substantially affected by the outcome of the proceeding;
  - (d) he or his spouse, or a person within the third degree of relationship to either of them, or the spouse of such a person;
    - (I) is a party to the proceeding, or an officer, director, or trustee of a party;
    - (II) is acting as a lawyer in the proceeding;
    - (III) is known by the judge to have an interest that could be substantially affected by the outcome of the proceeding;

- (IV) is to the judge's knowledge likely to be a material witness in the proceeding;
- (2) A judge should inform himself about his personal and fiduciary financial interests, and make a reasonable effort to inform himself about the personal financial interests of his spouse and minor children residing in his household.
- (3) For the purposes of this section:
  - (a) the degree of relationship is calculated according to the civil law system;
  - (b) "fiduciary" includes such relationships as executor, administrator, trustee, and guardian;
  - (c) "financial interest" means ownership of a legal or equitable interest, however small, or a relationship as director, advisor, or other active participant in the affairs of a party, except that:
    - (I) ownership in a mutual or common investment fund that holds securities is not a "financial interest" in such securities unless the judge participates in the management of the fund;
    - (II) an office in an educational, religious, charitable, fraternal, or civic organization is not a "financial interest" in securities held by the organization;
    - (III) the proprietary interest of a policyholder in a mutual insurance company, or a depositor in a mutual savings association, or a similar proprietary interest, is a "financial interest" in the organization only if the outcome of the proceeding could substantially affect the value of the interest;
    - (IV) ownership of government securities is a "financial interest" in the issuer only if the outcome of the proceeding could substantially affect the value of the securities.

D. Remittal of Disqualification. A judge disqualified by the terms of Canon 3C(1)(c) or Canon 3C(1)(d) may, instead of withdrawing from the proceeding, disclose on the record the basis of his disqualification. If, based on such disclosure, the parties and lawyers, independently of the judge's participation, all agree in writing that the judge's relationship is immaterial or that his financial interest is insubstantial, the judge is no longer disqualified, and may participate in the proceeding. The agreement, signed by all parties and lawyers, shall be incorporated in the record of the proceeding.

CANON 4

A Judge May Engage in Activities to Improve the Law, the Legal System, and the Administration of Justice

A judge, subject to the proper performance of his judicial duties, may engage in the following quasi-judicial activities, if in doing so he does not cast doubt on his capacity to decide impartially any issue that may come before him:

- A. He may speak, write, lecture, teach, and participate in other activities concerning the law, the legal system, and the administration of justice.
- B. He may appear at a public hearing before an executive or legislative body or official on matters concerning the law, the legal system, and the administration of justice, and he may otherwise consult with an executive or legislative body or official, but only on matters concerning the administration of justice.
- C. He may serve as a member, officer, or director of an organization or governmental agency devoted to the improvement of the law, the legal system, or the administration of justice. He may assist such an organization in raising funds and may participate in their management and investment, but should not personally participate in public fund raising activities. He may make recommendations to public and private fund-granting agencies on projects and programs concerning the law, the legal system, and the administration of justice.

CANON 5

A Judge Should Regulate His Extra-Judicial Activities to Minimize the Risk of Conflict with His Judicial Duties

- A. Avocational Activities. A judge may write, lecture, teach, and speak on nonlegal subjects, and engage in the arts, sports, and other social and recreational activities, if such avocational activities do not detract from the dignity of his office or interfere with the performance of his judicial duties.
- B. Civic and Charitable Activities. A judge may participate in civic and charitable activities that do not reflect adversely upon his impartiality or interfere with the performance of his judicial duties. A judge may serve as an officer, director, trustee, or nonlegal advisor of an educational, religious, charitable, fraternal, or civic organization not conducted for the economic or political advantage of its members, subject to the following limitations:
  - (1) A judge should not serve if it is likely that the organization will be engaged in proceedings that would ordinarily come before him or will be regularly engaged in adversary proceedings in any court.
  - (2) A judge should not solicit funds for any educational, religious, charitable, fraternal, or civic organization, or use or permit the use of the prestige of his office for that purpose, but he may be listed as an officer, director, or trustee of such an organization. He should not be a speaker or the guest of honor at an organization's fund raising events, but he may attend such events.

- (3) A judge should not give investment advice to such an organization, but he may serve on its board of directors or trustees even though it has the responsibility for approving investment decisions.

C. Financial Activities.

- (1) A judge should refrain from financial and business dealings that tend to reflect adversely on his impartiality, interfere with the proper performance of his judicial duties, exploit his judicial position, or involve him in frequent transactions with lawyers or persons likely to come before the court on which he serves.
  - (2) Subject to the requirements of subsection (1), a judge may hold and manage investments, including real estate, and engage in other remunerative activity, but should not serve as an officer, director, manager, advisor, or employee of any business.
  - (3) A judge should manage his investments and other financial interests to minimize the number of cases in which he is disqualified. As soon as he can do so without serious financial detriment, he should divest himself of investments and other financial interests that might require frequent disqualification.
  - (4) Neither a judge nor a member of his family residing in his household should accept a gift, bequest, favor, or loan from anyone except as follows:
    - (a) a judge may accept a gift incident to a public testimonial to him; books supplied by publishers on a complimentary basis for official use; or an invitation to the judge and his spouse to attend a bar-related function or activity devoted to the improvement of the law, the legal system, or the administration of justice;
    - (b) a judge or a member of his family residing in his household may accept ordinary social hospitality; a gift, bequest, favor, or loan from a relative; a wedding or engagement gift; a loan from a lending institution in its regular course of business on the same terms generally available to persons who are not judges; or a scholarship or fellowship awarded on the same terms applied to other applicants;
    - (c) a judge or a member of his family residing in his household may accept any other gift, bequest, favor, or loan only if the donor is not a party or other person whose interests have come or are likely to come before him, and, if its value exceeds $100, the judge reports it in the same manner as he reports compensation in Canon 6C.
- See also Court Rule 204
- (5) For the purposes of this section "member of his family residing in his household" means any relative of a judge by blood or marriage, or a person treated by a judge as a member of his family, who resides in his household.

- (6) A judge is not required by this Code to disclose his income, debts, or investments, except as provided in this Canon and Canons 3 and 6.
- (7) Information acquired by a judge in his judicial capacity should not be used or disclosed by him in financial dealings or for any other purpose not related to his judicial duties.

D. Fiduciary Activities. A judge should not serve as the executor, administrator, trustee, guardian, or other fiduciary, except for the estate, trust, or person of a member of his family, and then only if such service will not interfere with the proper performance of his judicial duties. "Member of his family" includes a spouse, child, grandchild, parent, grandparent, or other relative or person with whom the judge maintains a close familial relationship. As a family fiduciary a judge is subject to the following restrictions:

- (1) He should not serve if it is likely that as a fiduciary he will be engaged in proceedings that would ordinarily come before him, or if the estate, trust, or ward becomes involved in adversary proceedings in the court on which he serves or one under its appellate jurisdiction.
- (2) While acting as a fiduciary a judge is subject to the same restrictions on financial activities that apply to him in his personal capacity.

E. Arbitration. A judge should not act as an arbitrator or mediator.

F. Practice of Law. A judge should not practice law after assuming judicial duties. See Iowa Supreme Court Rule 201. [Court Order, April 29, 1980]

G. Extra-judicial Appointments. A judge should not accept appointment to a governmental committee, commission, or other position that is concerned with issues of fact or policy on matters other than the improvement of the law, the legal system, or the administration of justice. A judge, however, may represent his country, state, or locality on ceremonial occasions or in connection with historical, educational, and cultural activities.

Referred to in Canon 7

CANON 6

*A Judge Should Regularly
File Reports of Compensation Received for Quasi-Judicial and Extra-Judicial Activities*

A judge may receive compensation and reimbursement of expenses for the quasi-judicial and extra-judicial activities permitted by this Code, if the source of such payments does not give the appearance of influencing the judge in his judicial duties or otherwise give the appearance of impropriety, subject to the following restrictions:

A. Compensation. Compensation should not exceed a reasonable amount nor should it exceed what a person who is not a judge would receive for the same activity.

B. Expense Reimbursement. Expense reimbursement should be limited to the actual cost of travel, food, and lodging reasonably incurred by the judge and, where appropriate to the occasion, by his spouse. Any payment in excess of such an amount is compensation.

C. Public Reports. A judge should report the date, place, and nature of any activity for which he received compensation, and the name of the payor and the amount of compensation so received. Compensation or income of a spouse attributed to the judge by operation of a community property law is not extra-judicial compensation to the judge. His report should be made at least annually and should be filed as a public document in the office of Clerk of the Supreme Court of Iowa by April 1 each year for the last preceding calendar year. See also Court Rule 204.

CANON 7

A Judge Should Refrain from Political Activity Inappropriate to His Judicial Office

A. Political Conduct in General.

- (1) A judge should not:
  - (a) act as a leader or hold any office in a political organization;
  - (b) make speeches for a political organization or candidate or publicly endorse a candidate for public office;
  - (c) solicit funds for or pay an assessment or make a contribution to a political organization or candidate, attend political gatherings, or purchase tickets for political party dinners, or other functions.
- (2) A judge should resign his office when he becomes a candidate either in a party primary or in a general election for a nonjudicial office, except that he may continue to hold his judicial office while being a candidate for election to or serving as a delegate in a state constitutional convention, if he is otherwise permitted by law to do so.
- (3) A judge should not engage in any political activity except on behalf of measures to improve the law, the legal system, or the administration of justice except as provided in section B hereof.

B. Campaign Conduct.

A judge who is a candidate for retention in judicial office:

- (a) should maintain the dignity appropriate to judicial office, and should encourage members of his family to adhere to the same standards of political conduct that apply to him;
- (b) should prohibit public officials or employees subject to his direction or control from doing for him what he is prohibited from doing under this Canon; and except to the extent authorized under subsection B (2), he should not allow any other person to do for him what he is prohibited from doing under this Canon;
- (c) should not make pledges or promises of conduct in office other than the faithful and impartial performance of the duties of the office; announce his views on disputed legal or political issues; or misrepresent his identity, qualifications, present position, or other fact.

(2) A judge who is a candidate for retention in office without a competing candidate, and whose candidacy has drawn active opposition, may campaign in response thereto and may establish committees of responsible persons to obtain publicly stated support and campaign funds.

(2) should not practice law in the court on which he or she serves or in any court subject to the appellate jurisdiction of the court on which he or she serves, or act as a lawyer in a proceeding in which he or she has served as a judge or in any other proceeding related thereto.

A part-time judicial magistrate should not practice law at the part-time magistrate level in the county of his or her residence or represent a client directly appealing or seeking other direct review of a decision made at the part-time magistrate level in the county of his or her residence. The same prohibitions shall exist regarding the practice of law in any other county to which a part-time magistrate is regularly assigned to hold court. [Court Order December 19, 1979]

B. Senior or Retired Judge. A senior judge or a retired judge who is eligible for recall to judicial service should comply with all the provisions of this Code except Canon 5G, but shall not hold an extra-judicial appointment prohibited by Canon 5G while assigned to judicial service or which will interfere with an assignment to judicial service. [Court Order December 19, 1979]

*Referee in bankruptcy and court commissioner omitted as not applicable in Iowa
Interpretive memorandum of December 14, 1973 withdrawn, December 19, 1979

Compliance with the Code of Judicial Conduct

Anyone, whether or not a lawyer, who is an officer of a judicial system performing judicial functions, including an officer such as a special master or magistrate*, is a judge for the purpose of this Code. All judges should comply with this Code except as provided below.

A. Part-time Judge. A part-time judge is a judge who serves on a continuing or periodic basis, but is permitted by law to devote time to some other profession or occupation and whose compensation for that reason is less than that of a full-time judge. A part-time judge:

(1) is not required to comply with Canon 5C(2), D, E, F, and G, and Canon 6C;

Effective Date of Compliance

A person to whom this Code becomes applicable should arrange his affairs as soon as reasonably possible to comply with it. If, however, the demands on his time and the possibility of conflicts of interest are not substantial, a person who holds judicial office on the date this Code becomes effective may:

- (a) continue to act as an officer, director, or non-legal advisor of a family business;
- (b) continue to act as an executor, administrator, trustee, or other fiduciary for the estate or person of one who is not a member of his family.

PERMITTED PRACTICE BY LAW STUDENTS

Court Rule 120. A law student enrolled in a reputable law school as defined by Court Rule 106 and Iowa Code section 610.2 certified to the supreme court of Iowa by the dean of the school to have completed satisfactorily not less than the equivalent of one and one-half years of the work required by the school to qualify for the J.D. or LL.B. degree, may appear as counsel in the trial or appellate courts of this state under the following conditions:

(1) Appearance by students as defense counsel in a criminal matter in any court shall be confined to misdemeanors and shall be under direct supervision of licensed Iowa counsel who shall be personally present.

(2) Appearance by students in matters before the court of appeals or supreme court of Iowa shall be under direct supervision of licensed Iowa counsel who shall be personally present.

(3) Appearance by students in other matters shall be under general supervision of licensed Iowa counsel, but they need not be present in court unless required by order of the court.

(4) No student shall appear as counsel in any court of this state unless such appearance (a) is part of an educational program approved by the faculty of the student's law school and not disapproved by the supreme court of the state of Iowa, and (b) such program is supervised by at least one member of the law school's faculty.

(5) A student shall not receive compensation for court appearance. This prohibition shall not prevent a student from receiving general compensation from an employer-attorney or from a law school administered fund. [Court Order April 4, 1967; May 15, 1972; January 14, 1974; April 8, 1975 [withdrawn]; April 9, 1975; April 8, 1980]

Court Rule 121. Client security and attorney disciplinary system.

Referred to in Ethics Procedure Rule 2.1

PREAMBLE

WHEREAS, the Constitution of the State of Iowa, Article III, Section 1, declares:

"The powers of the government of Iowa shall be divided into three separate departments—the Legislative, the Executive, and the Judicial; and no person charged with the exercise of powers properly belonging to one of these departments shall exercise any function appertaining to either of the others, except in cases hereinafter expressly directed or permitted."

and,

WHEREAS, this court is not only constitutionally vested with judicial power but charged by the constitution with exercising a supervisory control over all inferior judicial tribunals throughout the state, and,

WHEREAS, lawyers have the professional responsibility and role of officers of the judicial department and its courts and necessarily are subject to the discipline of those charged with the exercise of constitutional judicial power,

THEREFORE,

This court declares that it has inherent and exclusive power to supervise the conduct of attorneys who are its officers and to prescribe reasonable conditions upon which persons may be admitted and permitted to practice in the courts of this state. The supreme court in the exercise of this power has the duty to protect insofar as reasonably possible those persons who may be injured by attorney defalcations. [Court Order, December 5, 1973]

Court Rule 121.1. Client security and attorney disciplinary commission.

(a) Commission. There is hereby created a Client Security and Attorney Disciplinary Commission, hereinafter referred to as "commission," which shall have the duties and powers provided in these rules.

(b) Duties of commission. The commission shall have the following duties and powers as hereinafter limited and defined in these rules:

(1) To examine lawyer defalcations and breaches of the Iowa Code of Professional Responsibility for Lawyers, the rules of this court relating to the discipline of members of the Iowa bar, and to make recommendations to this court concerning rule changes deemed necessary or desirable in this area.

(2) To assist the court in administering both preventive and remedial attorney disciplinary procedures contained in this or other court rules, or rules hereafter adopted.

(3) To administer and operate the Clients' Security Fund of the Bar of Iowa, as hereinafter created, designated as the "fund."

(c) Appointment of commissioners. This court shall appoint five members of the bar of this state and two residents of this state who are not lawyers, representing the public, to the commission. The original appointment shall be two commissioners for a one-year term, two for a two-year term, one for a three-year term, one for a four-year term and one for a five-year term. At the expiration of such terms all subsequent appointments shall be for a term of five years, and no commissioner who has served two five-year terms shall be eligible for reappointment. A vacancy occurring during a term shall be filled by the court for the unexpired portion thereof.

(d) Organization and meetings. The commissioners shall organize annually and shall then elect from among their number a chairman and a treasurer to serve for a one-year term and such other officers for such terms as they deem necessary or appropriate. Meetings thereafter shall be held at the call of the chairman or of the majority of the commissioners. Five commissioners shall constitute a quorum and may transact all business except as may be otherwise provided by these rules or by regulations promulgated by the commission.

(e) Regulations. The commission shall adopt regulations, consistent with these rules and subject to the approval of this court, concerning all of the powers and duties granted to and imposed upon the commission by these rules.

(f) Reimbursement. The commissioners shall serve without compensation but shall be entitled to reimbursement from the fund hereinafter created, for their expenses reasonably incurred in the performance of their duties. [Court Order, December 5, 1973]

Court Rule 121.2. Assistant court administrator for the disciplinary system.

(a) Appointment. This court will appoint an assistant court administrator for the disciplinary system (hereinafter "assistant administrator") to serve at its pleasure as the principal executive officer of the disciplinary system. He shall file a bond annually with the commission with such surety as may be approved by it and in such amount as it may fix. Premiums on said bond shall be paid by the fund.

(b) Compensation. The assistant administrator shall receive such compensation and expenses reasonably incurred in the performance of his duties as the court shall fix upon recommendations of the commission. His compensation and expenses shall be paid from the fund.

(c) Duties of assistant administrator. Subject to the supervision of this court and the commission, the assistant administrator shall:

(1) Collect attorney assessments for the fund, hereinafter created, and report to the commission the names and addresses of all attorneys who fail to pay said assessment;

(2) Serve as executive secretary to the commission and assist in the operation and administration of the fund;

(3) Conduct investigations and audits of attorneys' accounts and office procedures to determine compliance with these rules, the Iowa Code of Professional Responsibility for Lawyers, and specifically Canon 9 and DR 9-102; and to report violations to the commission;

(4) Maintain an office in such place as the court shall designate, act as a liaison between this court, the commission, and other commissions, committees and personnel serving a function in the disciplinary system, and maintain for this court records of disciplinary proceedings and such other information and data as the court shall require;

(5) Upon request of the commission, institute disciplinary proceedings before the grievance commission pursuant to court rule 118;

(6) Perform such other functions and duties as may be directed by this court. [Court Order, December 5, 1973]

Court Rule 121.3. Clients' security trust fund of the bar of Iowa.

(a) Creation, operation and purpose. A trust fund, to be known as the "Clients' Security Trust Fund of the Bar of Iowa" (hereinafter, the "Fund") is hereby authorized and created.

(b) Administration. The fund shall be operated and administered by the commission in accordance with these rules.

(c) Purpose. The purpose of the fund shall be to prevent defalcations by members of the Iowa bar, and insofar as practicable, to provide for the indemnification by the profession for losses caused to the public by the dishonest conduct of members of the bar of this state.

(d) Powers and duties of commission relating to the fund. The commission, in addition to the powers granted elsewhere in these rules, shall have the following powers and duties:

(1) To receive, hold, manage, and distribute, pursuant to these rules, the moneys raised hereunder, and any other amounts that may be received by the fund through voluntary contributions or otherwise;

(2) To adopt, subject to the approval of the court, regulations for the administration of the fund and the procedures for presentation, consideration, recognition, rejection and payment of claims, and for conducting business. A copy of such regulations shall be filed with the clerk of this court;

(3) To enforce claims for restitution, arising by subrogation or assignment or otherwise;

(4) To invest the fund, or any portion thereof, in those investments and in the percentages authorized by section 97B.7, The Code, 1973, as amended (investments for Iowa public employees' retirement system); provided, however, the commission shall not be required to invest such portions of the fund as it may deem necessary to be currently available for payment of claims and other expenses required by these rules. All interest or other income received in the operation of the fund shall become a part of the fund;

(5) To employ and compensate consultants, agents, legal counsel and employees;

(6) To delegate the power to perform routine acts which may be necessary or desirable for the operation of the fund, including the power to authorize disbursements for routine operating expenses of the fund, and all necessary expenses of the assistant administrator and his staff in the performance of their duties; but authorization for payment of claims shall be made only by the commission under the provisions of these rules;

(7) To sue in the name of the commission without joining any or all individual commissioners;

(8) To purchase complementary fidelity coverage for the fund in such amount and with such limitations or deductible limits as in its discretion it determines proper.

(e) Audit and report. At least once a year, and at such additional times as the supreme court may order, the commission shall file with the supreme court a written report reviewing in detail the administration of the fund during the year together with an audit of the fund, its operation, its assets and liabilities certified by a certified public accountant licensed to practice in Iowa.

(f) Applications to the supreme court. The commission may apply to the supreme court for interpretations of these rules and of the extent of their powers thereunder and for advice regarding the proper administration of the fund. Interpretations of this court shall be obligatory when rendered.

(g) Treasurer's duties. The treasurer elected by the commission shall maintain the assets of the fund in a separate account and shall disburse moneys from the fund only upon the action of the commission pursuant to these rules. He shall file a bond annually with the commission with such surety as may be approved by it and in such amount as it may fix. Premiums on said bond shall be paid by the fund.

(h) Budget. At least sixty days prior to the commencement of each calendar year, the commission shall submit to this court its budget of operations of such year, which may be amended thereafter as necessity dictates.

(i) Payment to the fund, enforcement.

(1) As a condition to continuing membership in the bar of this court, including the right to practice law before Iowa courts, every bar member, except one to whom a certificate of exemption has been issued pursuant to the provisions of subsection (4) hereof, shall pay to the commission through the office of the assistant administrator the assessment hereinafter specified [subject to subsections (2), (3), and (5) below] annually after the adoption of this rule. Assessments shall be due on or before March 1 of each year, for that calendar year. A calendar year is defined as the period of time from January 1 through December 31.

For the calendar year of the member's admission on examination to the bar of Iowa, and for the calendar year thereafter . . . . . None.

For the calendar year of member's admission on motion to the bar of Iowa . . . . . $50.

For the years other than those heretofore exempted, up to and including the fifth calendar year of admission to the bar of Iowa . . . . . $50 annually.

For the years after the fifth calendar year of admission to the bar of Iowa . . . . . $100 annually.

In making any of the above calculations, time spent full time in the military service of the United States following admission to the Iowa Bar and during the years under consideration shall be excluded.

WHEREAS this court and the bar initially determined a Clients' Security Trust Fund in the sum of $600,000 would adequately provide public protection and would reach said amount within two years, at which time the assessments would be reduced for those lawyers who had paid a $200 minimum into the fund, and,

WHEREAS it appears imposition of the full Court Rule 121.3(i) assessment schedule will generate a fund exceeding $800,000 in 1976, more than $200,000 in excess of the amount this court and the bar deemed adequate,

WHEREAS the modified assessment for 1976 hereinafter provided should generate the desired goal of $600,000 in the trust fund during the year 1976,

NOW THEREFORE it is ordered that the assessment provisions of Court Rule 121.3(i) are hereby modified for the calendar year 1976 as follows

- (1) Each member of the bar obligated to pay any assessment to the fund in 1976 whose paid assessments in 1974 and 1975 totaled $200 shall pay only a $15 assessment on or before March 1, 1976, for the calendar year 1976
- (2) All other members of the bar obligated to pay any assessment in 1976 shall pay pursuant to applicable provisions of Court Rule 121.3(i), but in no event pay an amount which would make his or her total payments into the Fund since its inception, including the 1976 assessment, exceed $215

(2) Any member of the bar of this court may, at his or her election, instead of the fixed sum set forth in the above schedule, pay to the commission, as his or her assessment for the purposes of the fund for any particular calendar year, an amount equal to one percent of his or her net income derived from the practice of law in Iowa for the preceding calendar year, but in no event less than twenty-five dollars. Net income from the practice of law shall be for the purposes of this section that amount shown on the federal income tax return of such member for the appropriate year as "profit or loss from business or profession." The commission may require any member so electing to submit to the commission a copy of his or her federal income tax return for the appropriate year to substantiate the amount due hereunder.

(3) The commission shall determine the net value of the cash and securities in the fund as of December 1 of each year. Whenever the value of such assets shall equal $600,000 after deducting all claims and requests for reimbursement against the fund, not disposed of at the date of valuation, and all expenses properly chargeable against the fund, the commission shall file with this court prior to December 31 of such year a certificate to that effect which shall be known as a certificate of sufficiency. When a certificate of sufficiency is filed with this court, the annual assessment of the fund for the next calendar year after the date of evaluation in said certificate shall be ten dollars for each member of the bar obligated under the above schedule to pay any amount and who has paid assessments to the fund in the total sum of two hundred dollars in prior years notwithstanding anything heretofore or hereinafter provided.

(4) A member of the bar of this court who is not engaged in the practice of law in the state of Iowa may be granted a certificate of exemption by the commission, and thereafter no assessment shall be required from such member unless he or she thereafter engages in the practice of law in the state of Iowa, in which case the certificate of exemption shall without further order of court stand revoked and the member shall file at once the statement required by rule 121.3(i)(6), below, and the questionnaire required by rule 121.4(b) and pay the assessment due. A member of the bar requesting a certificate of exemption shall file with the assistant administrator the statement required by rule 121.3(i)(6), below, and such part of the rule 121.4(b) questionnaire as the assistant administrators may deem necessary to enable him to determine the member's status. The practice of law as that term is employed in these rules includes the examination of abstracts, consummation of real estate transactions, preparation of legal briefs, deeds, buy and sell agreements, contracts, wills and tax returns as well as the representation of others in any Iowa courts, the right to represent others in any Iowa courts, or to regularly prepare legal instruments, secure legal rights, advise others as to their legal rights or the effect of contemplated actions upon their legal rights, or to hold oneself out to do so; or to be one who instructs others in legal rights; or to be a judge or one who rules upon the legal rights of others unless neither the state nor federal law requires the person so judging or ruling to hold a license to practice law.

(5) In lieu of the payments otherwise required by this rule, any member of the bar of this court who certifies in writing to the commission that he or she is a justice, judge, associate judge, or full-time magistrate of any court, or one who performs legal services only for a governmental unit, or one who performs legal services only for a particular person, firm or corporation (other than a professional legal corporation or a law firm) and stands in the legal capacity with such person, firm or corporation as an employee, shall pay to the commission the sum of twenty-five dollars annually during the time he or she is so engaged, provided that if under court rule 121.3(i)(3) the commission has filed a certificate of sufficiency with the court then the annual assessment for each bar member referred to herein who has paid to the commission a total of two hundred dollars shall be reduced to ten dollars for each year that the certificate of sufficiency is filed by the commission. Provided, however, that a retired judge or justice recalled for temporary service shall not be required to pay an assessment or surrender his certificate of exemption.

(6) To facilitate the collection of the annual assessment provided for above, all members of the Iowa bar required by this rule to pay an assessment, and those exempted other than by (i)(4), above, shall, on or before March 1 of each year, commencing March 1, 1974, file a statement, on a form prescribed by the assistant administrator, setting forth his or her date of admission to practice before this court, his or her current residence and office addresses, and such other information as the assistant administrator may from time to time direct. In addition to such statement, every bar member shall file a supplemental statement of any change in the information previously submitted within thirty days of such change. All persons admitted to practice before this court after January 1, 1974 shall file the statement required by this rule at the time of admission but no annual fee shall be payable until the time above provided. All attorneys failing to file the required statement by March 1 of each year shall, in addition to the annual assessment provided for above, pay a penalty of twenty-five dollars if the envelope containing the statement is post-marked after March 1.

Referred to in Ct R 121.4(b)(1)

(7) Any attorney who fails to timely pay the assessment required under the above rule, or fails to file the statement or supplement thereto provided in the last subparagraph may have his or her right to practice law suspended by this Court, provided that at least thirty days prior to such suspension, a notice of delinquency has been served upon him or her in the manner provided for the service of original notices in rule 56.1, Iowa Rules of Civil Procedure, or has been forwarded to him or her by restricted certified mail, return receipt requested, addressed to him or her at his or her last known address. Such person shall be given the opportunity during said thirty days to file in duplicate in the office of the Clerk of this Court an affidavit disclosing facts demonstrating his or her noncompliance was not willful and tendering such documents and sums and penalties which, if accepted, would cure the delinquency, or to file in duplicate in the office of the Clerk of this Court a request for hearing to show cause why his or her license to practice law should not be suspended. A hearing shall be granted if requested. If, after hearing, or failure to cure the delinquency by satisfactory affidavit and compliance, such person is suspended, he or she shall be notified thereof by either of the two methods above provided for notice of delinquency.

Any attorney suspended pursuant to this rule shall:

(A) Within fifteen days in the absence of co-counsel, notify his or her clients in all pending matters to seek legal advice elsewhere, calling attention to any urgency in seeking the substitution of another lawyer;

(B) Within fifteen days deliver to all clients being represented in pending matters any papers or other property to which they are entitled or notify them and any co-counsel of a suitable time and place where the papers and other property may be obtained, calling attention to any urgency for obtaining the papers or other property;

(C) Within thirty days refund any part of any fees paid in advance that have not been earned;

(D) Within fifteen days notify opposing counsel in pending litigation or, in the absence of such counsel, the adverse parties, of his or her suspension and consequent disqualification to act as a lawyer after the effective date of such discipline;

(E) Within fifteen days file with the court, agency, or tribunal before which the litigation is pending a copy of the notice to opposing counsel or adverse parties;

(F) Keep and maintain records of the steps taken to accomplish the foregoing; and

(G) Within thirty days file proof with this court and with the Committee on Professional Ethics and Conduct of complete performance of the foregoing, and this shall be a condition for application for readmission to practice.

Any attorney suspended pursuant to this rule shall refrain, during such suspension, from all facets of the ordinary law practice including but not limited to the examination of abstracts, consummation of real estate transactions, preparation of legal briefs, deeds, buy and sell agreements, contracts, wills and tax returns.

Referred to in Ct R 121 4f(1)

(8) Any person who has been suspended pursuant to these rules or who currently holds a certificate of exemption and who practices law or who holds himself or herself out as being authorized to practice law in this state is engaged in the unauthorized practice of law and may also be held in contempt of the court or may be subject to disciplinary action as provided by court rule 118.

(9) An attorney who has been suspended under the provisions of this rule solely for failure to pay the annual assessment may be reinstated upon a showing such failure was not willful and upon paying the assessment prescribed for the period of his or her suspension. An attorney suspended under these rules solely for failure to file the statement, or supplement, or questionnaire required by these rules may be reinstated upon a showing such failure was not willful and upon filing such statement, supplement or questionnaire.

(j) Claims.

(1) The commission shall consider for payment all claims resulting from the dishonest conduct of a member of the bar of this state acting either as an attorney or fiduciary, provided that:

a. Said conduct was engaged in while the attorney was a practicing member of the bar of this state and the claim arises out of the practice of law in this state;

b. Such defalcation or dishonest conduct occurred after January 1, 1974;

c. The claim is made within one year after the client's discovery of the loss; provided, however, such time limitation in unusual circumstances may be extended by the commission in its discretion for good cause shown;

d. The claim is made directly by or on behalf of the injured client or his personal representative or, if a corporation, by or on behalf of itself or its successors in interest;

e. The commission is satisfied that there is no other source or collateral source for the reimbursement of the loss; and

f. Claims shall not be paid which arise out of an employer-employee relationship as distinguished from a lawyer-client relationship or a fiduciary relationship.

(2) The commission is invested with the power, which it shall exercise in its sole discretion, to determine whether a claim merits reimbursement from the fund, and if so, the amount of such reimbursement, the time, place and manner of its payment, the conditions upon which payment shall be made, and the order in which payment shall be made. The commission's powers in this respect may be exercised only by the affirmative vote of at least four commissioners. In making such determinations the commission shall consider among other appropriate factors, the following:

a. The amounts available and likely to become available to the fund for the payment of claims and the size and number of claims which are likely to be presented;

b. The total amount of reimbursable losses in previous years for which total reimbursement has not been made, if any, and the total assets of the fund;

c. The amount of the claimant's loss as compared to the amount of losses sustained by other eligible claimants;

d. The degree of hardship suffered by the claimant as a result of the loss;

e. The degree of negligence, if any, of the claimant which may have contributed to the loss;

f. The total amount of losses caused by defalcations of any one attorney or associated group of attorneys.

(3) The commission shall, by regulation approved by the court, fix the maximum amount which any one claimant may recover from the fund and the aggregate maximum amount which may be recovered because of the dishonest conduct of any one attorney.

(4) No claimant or any other person or organization shall have any right in the fund as third party beneficiary or otherwise. Reimbursement by claim on the fund shall be a matter of grace and not of right.

(5) The commission may require as a condition to payment that the claimant execute an assignment of claimant's right against the defaulting lawyer.

(6) No claimant need be represented by counsel before the commission. No attorney representing a claimant shall receive a fee for his services from the fund. Any agreement for compensation between a claimant and any attorney retained for prosecution of the claim shall be subject to the approval of the commission.

(7) The commission may request individual lawyers, bar associations, and other organizations of lawyers to assist the commission in the investigation of claims.

(8) The payment or denial of any claim filed under the provisions of this rule shall be inadmissible as evidence in any disciplinary or contempt proceeding. #### Court Rule 121.4. Investigations, audits and annual questionnaire.

(a) Investigations and audits.

(1) Each member of the bar of Iowa, in filing the statement required by court rule 121.3 (i)(6), shall authorize the assistant administrator to investigate, audit and verify all funds, securities, and other property held in trust by the member, and all related accounts, safe deposit boxes and any other form of maintaining trust property as required by the Iowa Code of Professional Responsibility for Lawyers, including but not restricted to DR 9-102, together with deposit slips, canceled checks and all other records pertaining to transactions concerning such property.

(2) Each member of the bar of Iowa shall comply promptly with any request by the assistant administrator to execute and deliver to him a written authorization, directed to any bank or depository, for the assistant administrator to audit and inspect such accounts, safe deposit boxes, securities and other forms of maintaining trust property by the member in such bank or other depository.

(3) Each member of the bar of Iowa shall cooperate fully in any investigation, audit, or verification by the assistant administrator of funds, securities and property held in trust by the member, and shall cooperate fully with the assistant administrator and answer all questions pertaining thereto unless the member claims the privilege against self-incrimination. Each bar member, in implementation of DR 9-102(B)(3), Iowa Code of Professional Responsibility for Lawyers, shall retain complete records of all trust fund transactions for a period of five years from the conclusion of each such transaction.

(4) The commission with the approval of this court may retain, compensate from the fund, and furnish as staff for the assistant administrator, such public or certified accountants, investigators or attorneys as may be deemed necessary to carry out the duties and functions imposed upon him, and when acting under his supervision and direction such staff personnel shall have all the powers granted to the assistant administrator by these rules.

(5) When the investigation, audit or verification provided in the above provisions of this rule disclose, in the opinion of the assistant administrator, a violation of the Iowa Code of Professional Responsibility for Lawyers, or when the member of the bar of Iowa affected by the investigation, audit or verification has refused to comply with the provisions of this rule, the assistant administrator shall promptly report such circumstances to the commission. A copy of such report shall be furnished to the member affected.

Provided, however, client trust funds and property held by an Iowa licensed attorney whose law office is situated in another state shall not be subject to investigation, audit or verification except to the extent such funds and property are related to matters affecting Iowa clients. State or federal funds or property subject to state or federal auditing procedures and in control of an Iowa licensed attorney employed full or part time by a state or the United States shall not be subject to investigation, audit or verification under the provisions of these rules.

(b) Annual questionnaire.

(1) The assistant administrator under the supervision of this court and the commission shall prepare a questionnaire to be annually submitted to and completed by each member of the bar of Iowa except those who have been issued, a certificate of exemption pursuant to court rule 121.3(i)(4). Said questionnaire may be (but is not required to be) incorporated as a part of the annual statement provided in court rule 121.3(i)(6). This questionnaire shall elicit information to determine whether the member is complying with the Iowa Code of Professional Responsibility for Lawyers, including but not restricted to DR 9-102, filing state and federal income tax returns as required, and other relevant data.

(2) A failure to complete and return a questionnaire shall be dealt with as provided in court rule 121.4(c).

(c) Failure of bar members to co-operate.

(1) The continued right of a member of the Iowa bar to practice law in this state is conditioned upon the member executing and delivering the authorization provided in court rule 121.4(a)(2), furnishing the co-operation required in court rule 121.4(a)(3) and completing and returning the annual questionnaire described in court rule 121.4(b). Upon failure of a member of the Iowa bar to comply with any of the rules specified in this paragraph, his or her membership in the Iowa bar and right to practice law before Iowa courts may be suspended, following the procedure specified in court rule 121.3(i)(7).

(2) A member of the bar of Iowa who willfully fails to comply with those rules enumerated in the last paragraph [court rule 121.4(c)(1)] may be held in contempt of this court or may be subject to disciplinary action as provided in court rule 118.

(d) Violation of Iowa Code of Professional Responsibility.

(1) When the audit, investigation or verification of funds, securities or other property held in trust by any member of the bar of Iowa, or a return of any member on the annual questionnaire, discloses an apparent violation of the Iowa Code of Professional Responsibility for Lawyers the assistant administrator upon request of the commission, or the commission, may institute disciplinary proceedings under court rule 118 for the suspension or revocation of the member's license to practice law in this state.

(2) All information obtained by the assistant administrator and his staff by virtue of the audits, investigations and verifications, and annual questionnaire, shall be held in strict confidence by them and by the court and the commission unless otherwise directed by the court or unless proceedings are initiated pursuant to court rule 118. [Court Order, December 5, 1973; September 19, 1974; October 16, 1974; April 9, 1975]

Referred to in C.R. 121.3(i)(1)

Court Rule 121.5. Attorneys acting as fiduciaries.

(a) Surety bonds.

(1) After January 1, 1974 unless a lawyer is the spouse of or is the son-in-law or daughter-in-law of or is related by consanguinity or affinity, within the third degree, to the decedent in an estate, the ward in a guardianship or a conservatorship, the settlor or beneficiary of a trust, or unless such attorney is co-executor, cotrustee, coconservator or coguardian with another party or parties and such other party or parties will receive and pay out any of the funds, securities or other property of the estate, trust, guardianship or conservatorship, such lawyer shall not be appointed by a court in any fiduciary capacity for an estate, trust, guardianship or conservatorship until he has posted a fidelity bond in an amount to be determined by the court with sureties approved by the court, and no waiver of such bond shall be recognized by any court of this state. In the event the surety on the bond posted by the lawyer is not a corporate surety, the surety thereon shall not be the ward, any beneficiary or distributee or be related to the lawyer, the ward, or any beneficiary or distributee within the third degree of consanguinity or affinity.

(2) A lawyer who willfully fails to comply with the provisions of this rule may be held in contempt of this court, or may be subject to disciplinary action as provided in court rule 118.

(b) Delinquent inventories and reports. On January 1 and July 1 of each year, each clerk of the district court shall report to the commission all delinquent inventories or reports in estates, trusts, guardianships or conservatorships in which an attorney is acting as fiduciary. [Court Order, December 5, 1973; December 26, 1973; May 18, 1976]

REGULATIONS OF THE CLIENT SECURITY AND ATTORNEY DISCIPLINARY COMMISSION

Section 1. Definitions. For the purpose of these regulations, the following definitions shall apply:

(a) The "commissioner" shall mean the commissioners of the Client Security and Attorney Disciplinary Commission.

(b) The "fund" shall mean the Clients' Security Trust Fund of the bar of Iowa.

(c) A "lawyer" shall mean one who, at the time of the act complained of, had the right to practice law in Iowa. The fact that the act complained of took place outside the state of Iowa does not necessarily mean that the lawyer was not engaged in the practice of law in the state of Iowa.

(d) "Reimbursable losses" are only those losses as set out in rule 121.3 "j".

(e) "Dishonest conduct" shall mean wrongful acts committed by a lawyer against a person in the manner of defalcation or embezzlement of money, or the wrongful taking or conversion of money, property or other things of value.

Sec. 2. Applications for reimbursement.

(a) The commissioners shall prepare a form of application for reimbursement; in their discretion, the commissioners may waive a requirement that a request be filed on such form.

(b) The form shall require, as minimum information:

- (1) The name and address of the lawyer.
  - (2) The amount of the alleged loss claimed.
  - (3) The date or period of time during which the alleged loss was incurred.
  - (4) Name and address of the party requesting reimbursement.
  - (5) The general statement of facts relative to the request for reimbursement.
  - (6) Verification by the party requesting reimbursement.
- (c) The form or application shall contain the following statement in bold type:

"IN ESTABLISHING THE CLIENTS' SECURITY TRUST FUND OF THE BAR OF IOWA THE SUPREME COURT OF IOWA DID NOT CREATE, NOR ACKNOWLEDGE ANY LEGAL RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE ACTS OF INDIVIDUAL LAWYERS IN THE PRACTICE OF LAW. ALL REIMBURSEMENTS OF LOSSES OF THE CLIENTS' SECURITY TRUST FUND SHALL BE A MATTER OF GRACE IN THE SOLE DISCRETION OF THE COMMISSIONERS ADMINISTERING THE FUND AND NOT AS A MATTER OF RIGHT. NO CLIENT OR ANY OTHER PERSON OR ORGANIZATION SHALL HAVE ANY RIGHT IN THE FUND AS A THIRD PARTY BENEFICIARY OR OTHERWISE."

(d) Applications shall be in the form attached and shall be addressed to the office of the Client Security and Attorney Disciplinary Commission, Care of the Assistant Administrator of the Supreme Court, Statehouse, Des Moines, Iowa 50319.

Sec. 3. Processing applications.

(a) The chairman shall cause each such application to be sent to the commissioners or other parties or organizations for investigation and report. A copy shall be served upon or sent by certified mail to the lawyer, at his last known address, who it is claimed committed the dishonest act. Whenever feasible, any lawyer to whom such application is referred shall not practice in the county wherein the alleged defalcating attorney practiced. From time to time, the chairman may request of the applicant further information with respect to the alleged claim.

(b) When, in the opinion of the person or persons to whom the application has been referred the application is clearly not for a reimbursable loss, no further investigation need be conducted, but a report with respect to such application shall be made to the commission.

(c) The person or persons to whom a report is referred for investigation shall conduct such investigation as to them seems necessary and desirable in order to determine whether the same is for a reimbursable loss and in order to guide the commissioners in determining the extent, if any, to which the claim shall be reimbursed from the fund. Any information so obtained by the person or persons shall be used solely by or for the commissioners and shall otherwise constitute confidential information.

(d) Reports with respect to applications shall be submitted by the person or persons to whom they have been referred for investigation to the chairman as soon as reasonably possible. The chairman shall summarize each report in detail as to him shall seem necessary and shall send to each member of the commission a copy of such summary.

(e) At the meetings of the commission the commissioners will conduct such investigation or review as seems necessary or desirable in order to determine whether the applications are for a reimbursable loss, and to guide the commissioners in determining the extent, if any, to which the applicant shall be reimbursed. After studying the summaries or applications to be processed, any commissioner may request that testimony be presented. Absent such recommendation or request, applications shall be processed on the basis of information contained in the report of the person or persons who investigated such application and in the summary. In all cases, the alleged defalcating attorney or his personal representative shall be given an opportunity to be heard by the commissioners if he or she so requests.

(f) The commission in its sole discretion, shall determine the amount of loss, if any, for which any person shall be reimbursed from the fund. [See Supreme Court Rule 121.3(j)(2)]

(1) The maximum amount which any one claimant may recover from the fund shall be $25,000.00 and the aggregate maximum amount which may be recovered from the fund because of the dishonest conduct of any one attorney shall be $100,000.00.

Sec. 4. Subrogation for reimbursement made. In the event reimbursement is made to a person or organization, the fund shall be subrogated to his or its rights in said amount and may bring such action as is deemed advisable against the lawyer, his assets or his estate, either in the name of the person, or in the name of the Clients' Security Trust Fund of the bar of Iowa. The party receiving funds shall be required to execute a subrogation agreement in said regard. Upon commencement of an action by the fund pursuant to its subrogation rights, it shall advise the reimbursed party at his or her last known address. That party may then join in such action to press a claim for his or her loss in excess of the amount of the above reimbursement, but the fund shall have first priority to any recovery on such suit.

Sec. 5. General purposes. In any given case, the commissioners may waive technical adherence to these regulations in order to achieve the objectives of the fund.

Sec. 6. General provisions. The annual report of the commissioners to the court shall be public information after it is filed with the court. Upon prior approval of the commission, such information as the commission may approve concerning payments made to applicants for reimbursement, including information with regard to the lawyer involved and the facts upon which the reimbursement is made, may be released as public information. Other than as set out above, other information regarding applications for reimbursement, payments made by the fund or any actions of the commissioners shall not be public information without the express prior approval of the court. [Regulation January 4, 1974; February 15, 1979]

Sec. 7. Copy of application for reinstatement. An attorney who has been summarily suspended under this Rule 121.3 must file an application with the clerk of the supreme court for reinstatement and a copy of said application shall be forwarded to the assistant court administrator and to the Committee on Professional Ethics and Conduct of The Iowa State Bar Association at least ten days prior to any action upon the application. [Regulation Order, October 28, 1976]

Sec. 8. Organizations which recommend, furnish or pay for legal services—regulations.

(a) A bona fide organization that recommends, furnishes or pays for legal services to its members or beneficiaries is referred to as "the organization."

(b) The organization shall be developed, administered and operated so as to prevent:

(1) A third party from interfering with or controlling the performance of duties of lawyers, and

(2) A third party receiving any part of the consideration paid to lawyers for furnishing legal services, and

(3) All publicizing and soliciting activities concerning the arrangement except by means of simple, dignified announcements setting the purpose and activities of the organization or the nature and extent of the benefits pursuant to the arrangement or both without any identification of the lawyers rendering or to render legal service, provided that all such publicizing and soliciting activities are in good faith engaged in solely for the purpose of developing, administering or operating the arrangement, and not for the purpose of soliciting business for any specific lawyer.

(4) Nothing in this rule shall prohibit a statement in response to individual inquiries as to the identity of the lawyer or lawyers rendering or to render services giving the name or names, addresses, and telephone number of such lawyer or lawyers.

(c) The organization shall permit any member or beneficiary to obtain legal services independently of the arrangement, from any attorney of his choice.

(d) The annual report of the organization shall be filed with the Client Security and Attorney Disciplinary Commission on or before September 1, 1977 and thereafter on or before July 1 of each year, on a form approved by the commission. If it appears from such annual report or any other source that the organization is not operating in accordance with the rules of the Iowa Supreme Court and these regulations, such facts shall be reported to the Iowa Supreme Court for such action as the court may deem appropriate. [Approved by Supreme Court June 28, 1977]

There is no assessment for 1980 for those attorneys who have previously paid in $200.00 to the Client Security Trust Fund. Court Order June 13, 1979

RESOLUTION ADOPTED BY CLIENT SECURITY AND ATTORNEY DISCIPLINARY COMMISSION

September 10, 1976

Sums received as retainer fees shall remain in the trust account and not withdrawn until earned except (1) that when the amount paid is $300 or less it may be deposited in a regular account but the attorney still has a duty of performing the services and except (2) when the retainer is received from the client on a regular and continuing basis.

Court Rule 122. Reserved.

Court Rule 123. Continuing legal education of the members of the bar of Iowa.

123.1. Purpose.

Only by continuing their legal education throughout their period of the practice of law can attorneys fulfill their obligation competently to serve their clients. Failure to do so shall be grounds for disciplinary action by this court. This rule establishes minimum requirements for such continuing legal education and the means by which the requirements shall be enforced.

123.2. Continuing legal education commission.

There is hereby established a commission on continuing legal education consisting of twelve members. This court shall appoint to the commission ten resident members of this state who are currently licensed to practice law in the state of Iowa, and two residents of this state who are not lawyers. This court shall designate from among the members of the commission a chairman who shall serve as such at the pleasure of the court. Of the members first appointed to the commission four shall serve a term of three years, four shall serve a term of four years and four shall serve a term of five years. Members thereafter appointed, except for those appointed to fill unexpired terms, shall be appointed for a term of three years. No member shall serve more than two consecutive complete terms as a member of the commission. This court shall adopt rules and regulations governing the operations and activities of the commission.

The commission shall have the following duties:

(a) To exercise general supervisory authority over the administration of this rule.

(b) To accredit sponsors of courses, programs and other educational activities which will satisfy the educational requirements of this rule or in the event that the sponsor is not accredited the commission shall accredit courses, programs and other educational activities which will satisfy the educational requirements of this rule; all being subject to continuous review by the commission.

(c) To foster and encourage the offering of such courses, programs and educational activities.

(d) To submit to the court proposed rules and regulations* not inconsistent with this rule to govern the operations and activities of the commission.

*See Regulations following this rule 123

(e) Subject to the approval of this court, to employ such persons as it deems necessary for the proper administration of this rule.

(f) To report at least annually to the court concerning its activities and, from time to time, to make recommendations to the court concerning this rule and the enforcement thereof; to present an annual budget and a recommended annual fee* for costs of administering this rule.

*The fee for 1979 is $5; No fee for 1980

(g) To report promptly to the court concerning any violation of this rule by any member of the bar of this state.

Members of the commission shall not be compensated but shall be reimbursed for expenses incurred by them in the performance of their duties upon vouchers approved by this court.

Referred to in continuing education, sec. 4

123.3. Continuing legal education requirement.

Commencing January 1, 1976, each attorney admitted to practice in this state shall complete a minimum of fifteen hours of legal education accredited by the commission, during each calendar year. The commission is authorized, pursuant to guidelines established by the court, to determine the number of hours for which credit will be given for particular courses, programs or other legal education activities. Under rules to be promulgated by the court, an attorney may be given credit in one or more succeeding calendar years, not exceeding two such years, for completing more than fifteen hours of accredited education during any one calendar year. [Court Order December 6, 1978]

Referred to in Ct R. 123.4. continuing education, sec. 2

Amendment dated December 6, 1978 changed number of years for carry-over credit from three years to two years, effective with hours completed after December 31, 1978

123.4. Annual fee and report by attorneys to commission.

(a) On or before March 1 of each year, commencing March 1, 1976, each attorney admitted to practice in this state shall pay to the commission a prescribed fee for costs of administering this rule.

(b) On or before March 1 of each year, commencing March 1, 1977, each attorney admitted to practice in this state shall make a written report to the commission, in such form as the commission shall prescribe, concerning his or her completion of accredited legal education during the preceding calendar year; provided, however, that an attorney shall not be required to comply with this subparagraph (b) nor comply with the continuing legal education requirement set forth in 123.3 for the year during which he or she was admitted to practice. Each annual report shall be accompanied by proof satisfactory to the commission that he or she has met the requirements for continuing legal education for the calendar year for which such report is made.

(c) All attorneys who fail by March 1 of each year to file the annual report or to pay the prescribed fee shall, in addition, pay a penalty of twenty-five dollars unless the envelope containing the annual report and prescribed fee is postmarked on or before March 1. [Court Order August 12, 1980]

Referred to in Ct R. 123.5. continuing education, sec. 11

123.5. Penalty for failure to satisfy continuing legal education requirements.

(a) Any attorney who fails to comply with the provisions of rule 123.4 or who files a report showing on its face that he or she has failed to complete the required number of hours of continuing legal education may have his or her right to practice law suspended by this court, provided that at least thirty days prior to such suspension, notice of such delinquency has been served upon him or her in the manner provided for the service of original notices in R.C.P. 56.1 or has been forwarded to him or her by restricted certified mail, return receipt requested, addressed to him or her at his or her last known address. Such person shall be given the opportunity during said thirty days to file in the office of the clerk of this court an affidavit disclosing facts demonstrating his or her noncompliance was not willful and tendering such documents and sums and penalties which, if accepted, would cure the delinquency, or to file in duplicate in the office of clerk of this court a request for hearing to show cause why his or her license to practice law should not be suspended. A hearing shall be granted if requested. If, after hearing, or failure to cure the delinquency by satisfactory affidavit and compliance, such person is suspended, he or she shall be notified thereof by either of the two methods above provided for notice of delinquency.

Any attorney suspended pursuant to this rule shall:

(1) Within fifteen days in the absence of co-counsel, notify his or her clients in all pending matters to seek legal advice elsewhere, calling attention to any urgency in seeking the substitution of another lawyer; (2) Within fifteen days deliver to all clients being represented in pending matters any papers or other property to which they are entitled or notify them and any co-counsel of a suitable time and place where the papers and other property may be obtained, calling attention to any urgency for obtaining the papers or other property; (3) Within thirty days refund any part of any fees paid in advance that have not been earned; (4) Within fifteen days notify opposing counsel in pending litigation or, in the absence of such counsel, the adverse parties, of his or her suspension and consequent disqualification to act as a lawyer after the effective date of such discipline; (5) Within fifteen days file with the court, agency, or tribunal before which the litigation is pending a copy of the notice to opposing counsel or adverse parties; (6) Keep and maintain records of the steps taken to accomplish the foregoing; and (7) Within thirty days file proof with this court and with the Committee on Professional Ethics and Conduct of complete performance of the foregoing, and this shall be a condition for application for readmission to practice.

Any attorney suspended pursuant to this rule shall refrain, during such suspension, from all facets of the ordinary law practice including but not limited to the examination of abstracts, consummation of real estate transactions, preparation of legal briefs, deeds, buy and sell agreements, contracts, wills and tax returns.

(b) In addition, any attorney who willfully fails to comply with this rule 123 may be subject to disciplinary action as provided in court rule 118, upon report filed by the commission with the committee on professional ethics and conduct.

(c) For good cause shown, the commission may, in individual cases involving hardship or extenuating circumstances, grant waivers of the minimum educational requirements or extensions of time within which to fulfill the same or make the required reports. [Court Order November 21, 1977; December 6, 1978; January 15, 1979; August 12, 1980]

123.6. Confidentiality.

Unless otherwise directed by this court, the files, records and proceedings of the commission, as they relate to or arise out of any failure of any attorney to satisfy the requirements of this rule, shall be deemed confidential and shall not be disclosed, except in furtherance of its duties or upon the request of the attorney affected, or as they may be introduced in evidence or otherwise produced in proceedings taken in accordance with this rule.

123.7. Inactive practitioners.

A member of the bar who is not engaged in the practice of law in the state of Iowa as defined in rule 121.3(i)(4),* upon application to the commission, may be granted a waiver of compliance with this rule and obtain a certificate of exemption. No person holding such certificate of exemption shall practice law in this state until reinstated. This court will make rules and regulations governing the continuing legal education requirements for reinstatement of attorneys who, for any reason, have not theretofore been entitled to practice law in this state for any period of time subsequent to their admission to the bar.

*See portion of Rule 121.3(i)(4) at end of these court rules

123.8. Application of this rule.

This rule shall apply to every person licensed to practice law in the state of Iowa. [Court Order April 9, 1975; August 28, 1975; November 21, 1977; December 6, 1978; January 15, 1979]

REGULATIONS OF THE COMMISSION ON CONTINUING LEGAL EDUCATION

(See Court Rule 123.2 (d))

Section 1. Definitions. For the purpose of these regulations, the following definitions shall apply:

(a) An "attorney" shall mean any person licensed to practice law in the state of Iowa.

(b) An "hour" of continuing legal education shall mean a clock-hour spent after December 31, 1975 by an attorney in actual attendance at or completion of an accredited legal education activity.

(c) An "accredited sponsor" shall mean an organization or person sponsoring continuing legal education activities which has been accredited by the commission as a sponsor pursuant to section 4(a) hereof. During the time an organization or person is an accredited sponsor all continuing legal education activities of such organization or person shall be deemed automatically accredited.

(d) An "accredited program or activity" shall mean a continuing legal education activity meeting the standards set forth in section 3 hereof which has received advanced accreditation by the commission pursuant to section 4 hereof.

(e) The "commission" shall mean the Commission on Continuing Legal Education or any division thereof.

(f) A "quorum" of the entire commission shall mean six or more members of the commission.

Sec. 2. Continuing legal education requirement.

A minimum of fifteen hours of continuing legal education must be completed by each attorney for each calendar year in the manner stated in court rule 123.3.

Hours of continuing legal education credit may be obtained by attending or participating in a continuing legal education activity, either previously accredited by the commission or which otherwise meets the requirements herein and is retroactively accredited by the commission pursuant to section 4(c) of these regulations.

An attorney desiring to obtain credit for one or more succeeding calendar years, not exceeding two* such years, for completing more than fifteen hours of accredited legal education during any one calendar year shall report such "carry-over" credit at the time of filing the annual report to the commission on or before March 1 of the year following the calendar year during which the claimed additional legal education hours were completed. [Amended by Court Order December 6, 1978]

*Amendment dated December 6, 1978, changed number of years for carry-over credit from three years to two years, effective with hours completed after December 31, 1978

Sec. 3. Standards for accreditation. A continuing legal education activity qualifies for accreditation if the commission determines that:

(a) It constitutes an organized program of learning (including a workshop or symposium) which contributes directly to the professional competency of an attorney; and

(b) It pertains to common legal subjects or other subject matters which integrally relate to the practice of law; and

(c) It is conducted by attorneys or individuals who have a special education, training and experience by reason of which said individuals should be considered experts concerning the subject matter of the program, and preferably is accompanied by a paper, manual or written outline which substantively pertains to the subject matter of the program.

No activity will be accredited which involves solely self-study, including TV viewing, video or sound recorded programs, or correspondence work, except as may be allowed pursuant to section 5 hereof.

Sec. 4. Accreditation of sponsors, programs and activities.

(a) Accreditation of sponsors. An organization or person not previously accredited by the commission, which desires accreditation as a sponsor of courses, programs, or other legal education activities satisfying court rule 123.2, shall apply for accreditation to the commission stating its legal education history for the preceeding two years, including approximate dates, subjects offered, total hours of instruction presented, and the names and qualifications of speakers. By January 31 of each year, commencing January 31, 1977, all accredited sponsors shall report to the commission in writing the legal education programs conducted during the preceding calendar year on a form approved by the commission.

The commission may at any time re-evaluate an accredited sponsor. If after such re-evaluation, the commission finds there is basis for consideration of revocation of the accreditation of an accredited sponsor, the commission shall give notice by ordinary mail to that sponsor of a hearing on such possible revocation at least thirty days prior to said hearing. The decision of the commission after such hearing shall be final.

(b) Prior accreditation of activities. An organization or person other than an accredited sponsor, which desires prior accreditation of a course, program or other legal education activity satisfying court rule 123.2, or an attorney who desires to establish accreditation of such activity prior to attendance thereat, shall apply for accreditation to the commission at least sixty days in advance of the commencement of the activity on a form provided by the commission. The commission shall approve or deny such application in writing within thirty days of receipt of such application. The application shall state the dates, subjects offered, total hours of instruction, names and qualifications of speakers and other pertinent information.

(c) Post accreditation of activities. An attorney seeking credit for attendance at or participation in an educational activity which was not conducted by an accredited sponsor nor otherwise accredited shall submit to the commission, within thirty days after completion of such activity, a request for credit, including a brief resume of the activity, its dates, subjects, instructors and their qualifications and the number of credit hours requested therefor. Within thirty days after receipt of such application the commission shall advise the attorney in writing by ordinary mail whether the activity is accredited and the number of hours allowed therefor. An attorney not complying with the requirements of this subparagraph may be denied credit for such activity.

Sec. 5. Hardships or extenuating circumstances.

The commission may, in individual cases involving hardship or extenuating circumstances, grant waivers of the minimum educational requirements or extensions of time within which to fulfill the same or make the required reports. No waiver or extension of time shall be granted unless written application therefor shall be made on forms prescribed by the commission. A twenty-five dollar fee will be assessed on all waiver or extension of time applications received after January 15 of the year following the year in which the alleged hardship occurred.

Waivers of the minimum educational requirements may be granted by the commission for any period of time not to exceed one year. In the event that the hardship or extenuating circumstances upon which a waiver has been granted continue beyond the period of the waiver, the attorney must reapply for an extension of the waiver. The commission may, as a condition of any waiver granted, require the applicant to make up a certain portion or all of the minimum educational requirements waived by such methods as may be prescribed by the commission.

Extensions of time within which to fulfill the minimum educational requirements may, in individual cases involving hardship or extenuating circumstances, be granted by the commission for a period not to exceed six months immediately following expiration of the year in which the requirements were not met. Hours of minimum educational requirement completed within such an extension period shall be applied first to the minimum educational requirement for the preceding year and shall be applied to the current or following year only to the extent that such hours are not required to fulfill the minimum educational requirement for the preceding year. [Court Order August 12, 1980]

Sec. 6. Exemptions for inactive practitioners.

A member of the bar who is not engaged in the practice of law in the state of Iowa as defined in court rule 121.3(i)(4)* residing within or without the state of Iowa may be granted a waiver of compliance and obtain a certificate of exemption upon written application to the commission. The application shall contain a statement that the applicant will not engage in the practice of law in Iowa, as defined in court rule 121.3(i)(4),* without first complying with all regulations governing reinstatement after exemption. The application for a certificate of exemption shall be submitted upon the form prescribed by the commission.

*See portion of Rule 121.3(i)(4) at end of these court rules

Sec. 7. Reinstatement of inactive practitioners.

Inactive practitioners who have been granted a waiver of compliance with these regulations and obtained a certificate of exemption shall, prior to engaging in the practice of law in the state of Iowa as defined in court rule 121.3(i)(4),* satisfy the following requirements for reinstatement:

(a) Submit written application for reinstatement to the commission upon forms prescribed by the commission together with a reinstatement fee of twenty-five dollars, and

(b) Furnish in the application evidence of one of the following:

1. The full time practice of law, as defined in court rule 121.3(i)(4),* in another state of the United States or the District of Columbia and completion of continuing legal education for each year of inactive status substantially equivalent in the opinion of the commission to that required under court rule 123.

2. Successful completion of an Iowa state bar examination conducted within one year immediately prior to the submission of such application for reinstatement.

3. Completion of a total number of hours of accredited continuing legal education computed by multiplying fifteen by the number of years a certificate of exemption shall have been in effect for such applicant.

Notwithstanding that an applicant for reinstatement has not fully complied with the requirements for reinstatement set forth in subparagraph "b" of this section, the commission may conditionally reinstate such applicant on such terms and conditions as it may prescribe regarding the period of time in which the applicant shall furnish evidence of compliance with the requirements of subparagraph "b" of this section. [Amended July 28, 1977]

*See portion of Rule 121.3(i)(4) at end of these court rules

Sec. 8. Staff. The commission may, subject to the approval of the court, employ a director and such other employees as the commission deems necessary to carry out its duties under court rule 123, who shall perform such duties as the commission may from time to time direct.

Sec. 9. Divisions. The commission may organize itself into divisions of not fewer than three members for the purpose of considering and deciding matters assigned to them.

Sec. 10. Hearings. In the event of denial, in whole or in part, of any application, the applicant shall have the right, within twenty days after the sending of the notification of the denial by ordinary mail, to request in writing a hearing before the commission which shall be held within ninety days after receipt of the request for hearing. The decision of the commission after such hearing shall be final. Any hearing on a revocation of the accreditation of an accredited sponsor, the denial of a hardship application, or a recommendation for disciplinary action under court rule 123.5 "b" shall be before a quorum of the entire commission.

Sec. 11. Notice of failure to comply. In the event an attorney fails to comply with the provisions of court rule 123.4 or files a report showing on its face failure to complete the required number of accredited hours of continuing legal education, the commission shall notify said attorney in writing of such apparent noncompliance and said attorney shall have fifteen days from the mailing of said notice to cure said failure to comply or make an appropriate application under section 5 of these regulations. If the failure to comply is not cured or such application not approved, the commission shall report promptly to the court the failure of the attorney to comply with court rule 123. [Above regulations adopted by the Supreme Court November 25, 1975]

Excerpt from Court Rule 121.3(i)(4):

The practice of law as that term is employed in these rules includes the examination of abstracts, consummation of real estate transactions, preparation of legal briefs, deeds, buy and sell agreements, contracts, wills and tax returns as well as the representation of others in any Iowa courts, the right to represent others in any Iowa courts, or to regularly prepare legal instruments, secure legal rights, advise others as to their legal rights or the effect of contemplated actions upon their legal rights, or to hold oneself out to so do; or to be one who instructs others in legal rights; or to be a judge or one who rules upon the legal rights of others unless neither the state nor federal law requires the person so judging or ruling to hold a license to practice law.

JUDICIAL ADMINISTRATION

Court Rule 200. Judges—monthly report. Each district judge, district associate judge and judicial magistrate shall report monthly to the supreme court, through the office of the court administrator of the judicial department, all matters taken under advisement in any case for longer than sixty days, together with an explanation of the reasons for the delay and an expected date of decision. If no matters have been taken under advisement over sixty days, the report shall state "none".

Any submission shall be reported when all hearings have been completed and the matter awaits decision without further appearance of the parties or their attorney. A matter shall be deemed submitted even though briefs or transcripts have been ordered but have not yet been filed.

The report shall be due on the tenth day of each calendar month for the period ending with the last day of the preceding calendar month. The first report shall be due January 10, 1978. The report shall be signed by the judge or magistrate and submitted on a form prescribed by the court administrator.

The court administrator shall promptly cause all reports received to be filed in the office of the clerk of the supreme court as records available for public inspection. [Court Order December 15, 1977]

Court Rule 201. Practice of law by judges.

(a) A newly appointed full-time magistrate, district associate judge, district court judge, court of appeals judge, or supreme court justice (hereinafter, judge) may have thirty days from the date of qualifying for office pursuant to section 63.6, The Code, in which to terminate any private law practice before assuming judicial duties. No newly appointed judge shall be placed on the state payroll or assume judicial duties until such private practice is concluded.

(b) In terminating a law practice, the newly appointed judge shall undertake no new matters, shall conclude those matters which can be completed within thirty days, and shall transfer those matters which cannot be concluded within thirty days or which require trial. While in the process of terminating a private practice, the newly appointed judge shall keep court appearances to a minimum.

(c) Upon good cause shown a newly appointed judge may request the Supreme Court to extend the time in which to comply with this rule.

(d) After assuming judicial duties and being placed on the payroll, the new judge shall not engage in the practice of law while holding such office. The practice of law includes but is not limited to the examination of abstracts, consummation of real estate transactions, preparation of legal briefs, deeds, buy and sell agreements, contracts, wills and tax returns. [Court Order April 29, 1980]

Court Rule 202. Judicial vacation.

(a) Full-time judicial officers. Supreme court justices, court of appeals judges, district court judges, district associate judges, and full-time judicial magistrates are entitled to twenty working days of vacation per year.

Vacation schedules of district judges, district associate judges, and full-time magistrates shall be coordinated through the office of the chief judge of the district. The chief judge shall cause a record to be kept of the amount of vacation taken by each judicial officer in the district.

No more than twenty working days of accrued, unused vacation from a prior year may be carried into a calendar year. Separation from judicial office shall cancel all unused vacation time. No compensation shall be granted for unused vacation time remaining at the time of separation.

(b) Part-time judicial officers. Schedules for part-time judicial magistrates should be arranged by the chief judge of each district to accommodate a reasonable vacation period; however, a part-time judicial magistrate shall not be entitled to any specific vacation days for which compensation may be granted, nor may compensation be granted for days not taken prior to separation from judicial service. [Court Order May 20, 1980, readopting judicial vacation rules adopted by previous supervisory order effective January 1, 1980]

Court Rule 203. Quasi-judicial business. In addition to those days spent in attendance at the semi-annual judicial conferences each supreme court justice, court of appeals judge, district court judge, district associate judge, and full-time magistrate may take up to ten working days per year for the purpose of quasi-judicial business. This right is subject to the ability of the chief judge of each district to make necessary scheduling adjustments to accommodate requests. The chief justice of the supreme court may authorize exceptions to this rule.

"Quasi-judicial business" includes teaching, speaking, and attending related educational programs, courses or seminars. [Court Order May 20, 1980]

Court Rule 204. Reporting of gifts.

(a) As used in this rule the words "gifts" and "immediate family member" shall have the meanings specified in Acts of the 1980 Session of the Sixty-eighth General Assembly, House File 687[ch 1015], Section 6.

(b) An official or employee of the judicial department of this state who receives or whose immediate family receives a gift in any one occurrence which has a value in excess of fifteen dollars shall file a written report of the gift with the office of the court administrator of the judicial department.

(c) A report required to be filed by these rules shall be filed by the fifteenth day of the month following the month in which the gift was received. The report shall show the donor, donee, nature, value and date of the gift. The report shall also show the street address, city and state of residence of the donor.

(d) If a gift is made to an official or employee of the judicial department or an immediate family member and others which cannot be precisely attributed to each recipient the report shall average the cost of the gift upon all the recipients if the average exceeds fifteen dollars per recipient. The fact that averaging was used shall be disclosed.

(f) Regarding the reporting of gifts to judges, this rule is in addition to, and not in lieu of, Canon 5(C)(4)(c) of the Iowa Code of Judicial Conduct. [Court Order June 30, 1980]

(e) The court administrator shall promptly cause all reports received to be filed in the office of the clerk of the supreme court as records available for public inspection. The court administrator shall prepare forms for the filing of these reports and make them available, upon request, to any person required to file a report.

Court Rule 205. Form of affidavit of financial status. The clerk of district court shall furnish without charge to parties in a dissolution of marriage action the following form of affidavit of financial status which includes the statement of net worth required by section 598.13, The Code, and other information deemed pertinent when a party is seeking or resisting alimony or support allowances:

DEFINITIONS

IOWA CODE OF PROFESSIONAL RESPONSIBILITY FOR LAWYERS

CANON 1

A Lawyer Should Assist in Maintaining the Integrity and Competence of the Legal Profession

ETHICAL CONSIDERATIONS

EC 1-1 A basic tenet of the professional responsibility of lawyers is that every person in our society should have ready access to the independent professional services of a lawyer of integrity and competence. Maintaining the integrity and improving the competence of the bar to meet the highest standards is the ethical responsibility of every lawyer.

EC 1-2 The public should be protected from those who are not qualified to be lawyers by reason of a deficiency in education or moral standards or of other relevant factors but who nevertheless seek to practice law. To assure the maintenance of high moral and educational standards of the legal profession, lawyers should affirmatively assist courts and other appropriate bodies in promulgating, enforcing, and improving requirements for admission to the bar. In like manner, the bar has a positive obligation to aid in the continued improvement of all phases of pre-admission and post-admission legal education.

EC 1-3 Before recommending an applicant for admission, a lawyer should satisfy himself that the applicant is of good moral character. Although a lawyer should not become a self-appointed investigator or judge of applicants for admission, he should report to proper officials all unfavorable information he possesses relating to the character or other qualifications of an applicant.

EC 1-4 The integrity of the profession can be maintained only if conduct of lawyers in violation of the Disciplinary Rules is brought to the attention of the proper officials. A lawyer should reveal voluntarily to those officials all unprivileged knowledge of conduct of lawyers which he believes clearly to be in violation of the Disciplinary Rules. A lawyer should, upon request, serve on and assist committees and boards having responsibility for the administration of the Disciplinary Rules.

EC 1-5 A lawyer should maintain high standards of professional conduct and should encourage fellow lawyers to do likewise. He should be temperate and dignified, and he should refrain from all illegal and morally reprehensible conduct. Because of his position in society, even minor violations of law by a lawyer may tend to lessen public confidence in the legal profession. Obedience to law exemplifies respect for law. To lawyers especially, respect for the law should be more than a platitude.

EC 1-6 An applicant for admission to the bar or a lawyer may be unqualified, temporarily or permanently, for other than moral and educational reasons, such as mental or emotional instability. Lawyers should be diligent in taking steps to see that during a period of disqualification such person is not granted a license or, if licensed, is not permitted to practice. In like manner, when the disqualification has terminated, members of the bar should assist such person in being licensed, or, if licensed, in being restored to his full right to practice.

DISCIPLINARY RULES

DR 1-101 Maintaining Integrity and Competence of the Legal Profession.

- (A) A lawyer is subject to discipline if he has made a materially false statement in, or if he has deliberately failed to disclose a material fact requested in connection with, his application for admission to the bar.
- (B) A lawyer shall not further the application for admission to the bar of another person known by him to be unqualified in respect to character, education, or other relevant attribute.

DR 1-102 Misconduct.

- (A) A lawyer shall not:
  - (1) Violate a Disciplinary Rule.
  - (2) Circumvent a Disciplinary Rule through actions of another.
  - (3) Engage in illegal conduct involving moral turpitude.
  - (4) Engage in conduct involving dishonesty, fraud, deceit, or misrepresentation.
  - (5) Engage in conduct that is prejudicial to the administration of justice.
  - (6) Engage in any other conduct that adversely reflects on his fitness to practice law.

Referred to in DR 1-103

DR 1-103 Disclosure of Information to Authorities.

- (A) A lawyer possessing unprivileged knowledge of a violation of DR 1-102 shall report such knowledge to a tribunal or other authority empowered to investigate or act upon such violation.
- (B) A lawyer possessing unprivileged knowledge or evidence concerning another lawyer or a judge shall reveal fully such knowledge or evidence upon proper request of a tribunal or other authority empowered to investigate or act upon the conduct of lawyers or judges.
- (C) A lawyer possessing unprivileged knowledge or evidence that another lawyer or judge is suffering from such mental or emotional instability as renders him unfit or unable to furnish competent legal services shall report such knowledge to a tribunal or other authority empowered to investigate or act upon the conduct of lawyers or judges.

CANON 2

A Lawyer Should Assist the Legal Profession in Fulfilling Its Duty to Make Legal Counsel Available

ETHICAL CONSIDERATIONS

EC 2-1 The need of members of the public for legal services is met only if they recognize their legal problems, appreciate the importance of seeking assistance, and are able to obtain the services of acceptable legal counsel. Hence, important functions of the legal profession are to educate laymen to recognize their problems, to facilitate the process of intelligent selection of lawyers, and to assist in making legal services fully available.

Recognition of Legal Problems

EC 2-2 The legal profession should assist laypersons to recognize legal problems because such problems may not be self-revealing and often are not timely noticed. Therefore, lawyers should encourage and participate in educational and public relations programs concerning our legal system with particular reference to legal problems that frequently arise. Preparation of advertisements and professional articles for lay publications and participation in seminars, lectures, and civic programs should be motivated by a desire to educate the public to an awareness of legal needs and to provide information relevant to the selection of the most appropriate counsel rather than to obtain publicity for particular lawyers. [Court Order February 17, 1978]

EC 2-3 Whether a lawyer acts properly in volunteering in-person advice to a layperson to seek legal services depends upon the circumstances. The giving of advice that one should take legal action could well be in fulfillment of the duty of the legal profession to assist laypersons in recognizing legal problems. The advice is proper only if motivated by a desire to protect one who does not recognize that he may have legal problems or who is ignorant of his legal rights or obligations. It is improper if motivated by a desire to obtain personal benefit, secure personal publicity, or cause legal action to be taken merely to harass or injure another. A lawyer should not initiate an in-person contact with a nonclient, personally or through a representative, for the purpose of being retained to represent him for compensation. [Court Order February 17, 1978]

EC 2-4 Since motivation is subjective and often difficult to judge, the motives of a lawyer who volunteers in-person advice likely to produce legal controversy may well be suspect if he receives professional employment or other benefits as a result. A lawyer who volunteers in-person advice that one should obtain the services of a lawyer generally should not himself accept employment, compensation, or other benefit in connection with that matter. However, it is not improper for a lawyer to volunteer such advice and render resulting legal services to close friends, relatives, former clients (in regard to matters germane to former employment), and regular clients. [Court Order February 17, 1978]

EC 2-5 A lawyer who writes or speaks for the purpose of educating members of the public to recognize their legal problems should carefully refrain from giving or appearing to give a general solution applicable to all apparently similar individual problems since slight changes in fact situations may require a material variance in the applicable advice; otherwise, the public may be misled and misadvised. Talks and writings by lawyers for laypersons should caution them not to attempt to solve individual problems upon the basis of the information contained therein. [Court Order February 17, 1978]

Selection of a Lawyer: Generally

EC 2-6 Formerly a potential client usually knew the reputations of local lawyers for competency and integrity and therefore could select a practitioner in whom he had confidence. This traditional selection process worked well because it was initiated by the client and the choice was an informed one.

EC 2-7 Changed conditions, however, have seriously restricted the effectiveness of the traditional selection process. Often the reputations of lawyers are not sufficiently known to enable laypersons to make intelligent choices. The law has become increasingly complex and specialized. Few lawyers are willing and competent to deal with every kind of legal matter, and many laypersons have difficulty in determining the competence of lawyers to render different types of legal services. The selection of legal counsel is particularly difficult for transients, persons moving into new areas, persons of limited education or means, and others who have little or no contact with lawyers. Lack of information about the availability of lawyers, the qualifications of particular lawyers, and the expense of legal representation may induce laypersons to avoid seeking needed legal advice. [Court Order February 17, 1978]

EC 2-8 The attorney client relationship is, in the highest degree, one of trust and confidence. The duty of a lawyer to the client is one of great delicacy and responsibility and, sometimes, of apparent hardship. Every consideration of personal advantage or profit must be subordinated to the interest and welfare of the client. The trust that a client places in a lawyer makes the client peculiarly susceptible to the lawyer's influence. The public expects any lawyer licensed by the supreme court to practice law to be a person of ability and integrity. The supreme court, therefore, has a compelling interest to ensure the public that its trust has not been misplaced. [Court Order May 6, 1980]

EC 2-8, Code 1979, transferred to EC 2-9

EC 2-9 Selection of a lawyer by a layperson should be made on an informed basis. Advice and recommendation of third parties—relatives, friends, acquaintances, business associates, or other lawyers—and disclosure of relevant information about the lawyer and his practice may be helpful. A layperson is best served if the recommendation is disinterested and informed. In order that the recommendation be disinterested, a lawyer should not seek to influence another to recommend his employment. A lawyer should not compensate another person for recommending him, for influencing a prospective client to employ him, or to encourage future recommendations. Advertisements and public communications, whether in reputable legal directories, telephone directories, or newspapers, should be formulated to convey only information that is necessary to make an appropriate selection. [Court Order February 17, 1978; May 6, 1980]

EC 2-9, Code 1979, transferred to EC 2-11

Selection of a Lawyer: Lawyer Advertising

EC 2-10 Competency may be a factor in the selection of a lawyer. However, competency cannot be determined from an advertisement. The cost of legal services may also be a factor in the selection of a lawyer. It might aid a layperson in the selection of a lawyer if the costs of legal services were available for comparison or could be considered in an atmosphere conducive to logic, reason, and reflection. This factual information can be made available through advertising. Care must be exercised to ensure that there is a proper basis for the comparison of costs communicated in a manner that will truthfully inform, and not mislead, a prospective client as to the total costs. For example, to state an hourly charge and to characterize it as a "reasonable fee" is misleading because the total cost or fee can vary greatly depending upon the number of hours spent. [Court Order May 6, 1980]

EC 2-10, Code 1979, transferred to EC 2-12

EC 2-11 The lack of sophistication on the part of many members of the public concerning legal services, and the importance of the interests affected by the choice of a lawyer require that special care be taken by lawyers to avoid misleading the public and to assure that the information set forth in any advertising is relevant to the selection of a lawyer. The lawyer must be mindful that the benefits to the public of lawyer advertising depend upon its reliability and accuracy. Advertising marked by excesses of content, volume, scope or frequency, or which unduly emphasizes unrepresentative biographical information, does not provide that public benefit. Fee advertising involves special concerns. With rare exception, lawyers render unique and varied services for each client, even as to so-called "routine" matters. When consulted about any matter, whether or not "routine", a lawyer should make relevant inquiries which may uncover the need for different services than those which the client originally sought. These factors make it difficult to set a fixed fee or a range of fees for a specific legal service in advance of rendering the service and provide temptation to depart from an advertised fee or to fail to render a needed service. Thus, a lawyer who advertises a fee for a service should exercise particular caution to avoid misleading prospective clients and should include appropriate disclaimers. He should also scrupulously avoid the use of fee advertising as an indirect means of attracting clients for whom he hopes to perform other, more lucrative, legal services. If any doubt exists as to the propriety of a proposed advertisement by a lawyer he should seek the opinion of the committee on professional ethics and conduct of the Iowa State Bar Association acting as a commission of the supreme court pursuant to court rule 118, and, if he disagrees with such opinion, he may follow the provisions of its rules of procedure regarding proposed changes in rules concerning lawyer advertising. [Court Order February 17, 1978; May 6, 1980]

EC 2-11, Code 1979, transferred to EC 2-13

EC 2-12 A lawyer should ensure that the information contained in any advertising which the lawyer publishes, or causes to be published is relevant, is dignified, is disseminated in an objective and understandable fashion, and would facilitate the prospective client's ability to make an informed choice of a lawyer to represent him. A lawyer should strive to communicate such information without undue emphasis upon style and advertising stratagems which serve to hinder rather than to facilitate intelligent selection of counsel. Appeal should not be made to the prospective client's emotions, prejudices, or personal likes or dislikes. Care should be exercised to ensure that false hopes of success or undue expectations are not communicated. The desirability of affording the public access to information relevant to legal rights has resulted in some relaxation of the former restrictions against advertising by lawyers. Historically, those restrictions were imposed to prevent deceptive publicity that would mislead laypersons, cause distrust of the law and lawyers, and undermine public confidence in the legal system, and all lawyers should remain vigilant to prevent such results. Only unambiguous information relevant to a layperson's decision regarding his legal rights or his selection of counsel, provided in ways that comport with the dignity of the profession and do not demean the administration of justice, is appropriate in public communications. [Court Order February 17, 1978; May 6, 1980]

EC 2-12, Code 1979, transferred to EC 2-14

EC 2-13 The name under which a lawyer conducts his practice may be a factor in the selection process. The use of a trade name or an assumed name could mislead laypersons concerning the identity, responsibility, and status of those practicing thereunder. Accordingly, a lawyer in private practice should practice only under a designation containing his own name, the name of a lawyer employing him, the name of one or more of the lawyers practicing in a partnership or the name of a professional corporation, which should be clearly designated as such. For many years some law firms have used a firm name retaining one or more names of deceased or retired partners and such practice is not improper if the firm is a bona fide successor of a firm in which the deceased or retired person was a member, if the use of the name is authorized by law or by contract, and if the public is not misled thereby. However, the name of a partner who withdraws from a firm but continues to practice law should be omitted from the firm name in order to avoid misleading the public. [Court Order February 17, 1978; May 6, 1980]

EC 2-13, Code 1979, transferred to EC 2-15

EC 2-14 A lawyer occupying a judicial, legislative, or public executive or administrative position who has the right to practice law concurrently may allow his name to remain in the name of the firm if he actively continues to practice law as a member thereof. Otherwise, his name should be removed from the firm name, and he should not be identified as a past or present member of the firm; and he should not hold himself out as being a practicing lawyer. [Court Order May 6, 1980]

EC 2-14, Code 1979, transferred to EC 2-16

EC 2-15 In order to avoid the possibility of misleading persons with whom he deals, a lawyer should be scrupulous in the representation of his professional status. He should not hold himself out as being a partner or associate of a law firm if he is not one in fact, and thus should not hold himself out as a partner or associate if he only shares offices with another lawyer. [Court Order May 6, 1980]

EC 2-15, Code 1979, transferred to EC 2-17

EC 2-16 In some instances a lawyer limits his practice to, or practices primarily in, certain fields of law. In the absence of controls to ensure the existence of special competence, a lawyer should not be permitted to hold himself out as a specialist or as having special training or ability other than in the fields of trademark and patent law where a holding out as a specialist historically has been permitted. However, a lawyer who complies with DR 2-105 may hold himself out publicly as practicing in, or limiting his practice to, certain fields of law. [Court Order February 17, 1978; May 6, 1980]

EC 2-16, Code 1979, transferred to EC 2-18

EC 2-17 The legal profession has developed lawyer referral systems designed to aid individuals who are able to pay fees but need assistance in locating lawyers competent to handle their particular problems. Use of a lawyer referral system enables a layman to avoid an uninformed selection of a lawyer because such a system makes possible the employment of competent lawyers who have indicated an interest in the subject matter involved. Lawyers should support the principle of lawyer referral systems and should encourage the evolution of other ethical plans which aid in the selection of qualified counsel. [Court Order May 6, 1980]

EC 2-17, Code 1979, transferred to EC 2-19

EC 2-18 The legal profession cannot remain a viable force in fulfilling its role in our society unless its members receive adequate compensation for services rendered, and reasonable fees should be charged in appropriate cases to clients able to pay them. Nevertheless, persons unable to pay all or a portion of a reasonable fee should be able to obtain necessary legal services, and lawyers should support and participate in ethical activities designed to achieve that objective. [Court Order May 6, 1980]

EC 2-18, Code 1979, transferred to EC 2-20

Financial Ability to Employ Counsel: Persons Able to Pay Reasonable Fees

EC 2-19 The determination of a proper fee requires consideration of the interests of both client and lawyer. A lawyer should not charge more than a reasonable fee, for excessive cost of legal service would deter laymen from utilizing the legal system in protection of their rights. Furthermore, an excessive charge abuses the professional relationship between lawyer and client. On the other hand, adequate compensation is necessary in order to enable the lawyer to serve his client effectively and to preserve the integrity and independence of the profession. [Court Order May 6, 1980]

EC 2-19, Code 1979, transferred to EC 2-21

EC 2-20 The determination of the reasonableness of a fee requires consideration of all relevant circumstances, including those stated in the Disciplinary Rules. The fees of a lawyer will vary according to many factors, including the time required, his experience, ability, and reputation, the nature of the employment, the responsibility involved, and the results obtained. Suggested fee schedules and economic reports of state and local bar associations provide some guidance on the subject of reasonable fees. It is a commendable and long-standing tradition of the bar that special consideration is given in the fixing of any fee for services rendered a brother lawyer or a member of his immediate family. [Court Order May 6, 1980]

EC 2-20, Code 1979, transferred to EC 2-22

EC 2-21 As soon as feasible after a lawyer has been employed, it is desirable that he reach a clear agreement with his client as to the basis of the fee charges to be made. Such a course will not only prevent later misunderstanding but will also work for good relations between the lawyer and the client. It is usually beneficial to reduce to writing the understanding of the parties regarding the fee, particularly when it is contingent. A lawyer should be mindful that many persons who desire to employ him may have had little or no experience with fee charges of lawyers, and for this reason he should explain fully to such persons the reasons for the particular fee arrangement he proposes. [Court Order May 6, 1980]

EC 2-21, Code 1979, transferred to EC 2-23

EC 2-22 Contingent fee arrangements in civil cases have long been commonly accepted in the United States in proceedings to enforce claims. The historical bases of their acceptance are that (1) they often, and in a variety of circumstances, provide the only practical means by which one having a claim against another can economically afford, finance, and obtain the services of a competent lawyer to prosecute his claim, and (2) a successful prosecution of the claim produces a res out of which the fee can be paid. Because of the human relationships involved and the unique character of the proceedings, contingent fee arrangements in domestic relation cases are rarely justified. In administrative agency proceedings contingent fee contracts should be governed by the same consideration as in other civil cases. Public policy properly condemns contingent fee arrangements in criminal cases, largely on the ground that legal services in criminal cases do not produce a res with which to pay the fee. [Court Order May 6, 1980]

EC 2-22, Code 1979, transferred to EC 2-24

EC 2-23 A lawyer should not accept compensation or any thing of value incident to his employment or services from one other than his client without the knowledge and consent of his client after full disclosure. [Court Order May 6, 1980]

EC 2-23, Code 1979, transferred to EC 2-25

EC 2-24 Without the consent of his client, a lawyer should not associate in a particular matter with another lawyer outside his firm. A fee may properly be divided between lawyers properly associated if the division is in proportion to the services performed and the responsibility assumed by each lawyer and if the total fee is reasonable. [Court Order May 6, 1980]

EC 2-24, Code 1979, transferred to EC 2-26

EC 2-25 A lawyer should be zealous in his efforts to avoid controversies over fees with clients and should attempt to resolve amicably any differences on the subject. He should not sue a client for a fee unless necessary to prevent fraud or gross imposition by the client. [Court Order May 6, 1980]

EC 2-25, Code 1979, transferred to EC 2-27

Financial Ability to Employ Counsel: Persons Unable to Pay Reasonable Fees

EC 2-26 A layman whose financial ability is not sufficient to permit payment of any fee cannot obtain legal services, other than in cases where a contingent fee is appropriate, unless the services are provided for him. Even a person of moderate means may be unable to pay a reasonable fee which is large because of the complexity, novelty, or difficulty of the problem or similar factors. [Court Order May 6, 1980]

EC 2-26, Code 1979, transferred to EC 2-28

EC 2-27 Historically, the need for legal services of those unable to pay reasonable fees has been met in part by lawyers who donated their services or accepted court appointments on behalf of such individuals. The basic responsibility for providing legal services for those unable to pay ultimately rests upon the individual lawyer, and personal involvement in the problems of the disadvantaged can be one of the most rewarding experiences in the life of a lawyer. Every lawyer, regardless of professional prominence or professional workload, should find time to participate in serving the disadvantaged. The rendition of free legal services to those unable to pay reasonable fees continues to be an obligation of each lawyer, but the efforts of individual lawyers are often not enough to meet the need. Thus it has been necessary for the profession to institute additional programs to provide legal services. Accordingly, legal aid offices, lawyer referral services, and other related programs have been developed, and others will be developed, by the profession. Every lawyer should support all proper efforts to meet this need for legal services. [Court Order May 6, 1980]

EC 2-27, Code 1979, transferred to EC 2-29

Acceptance and Retention of Employment

EC 2-28 A lawyer is under no obligation to act as adviser or advocate for every person who may wish to become his client; but in furtherance of the objective of the bar to make legal services fully available, a lawyer should not lightly decline proffered employment. The fulfillment of this objective requires acceptance by a lawyer of his share of tendered employment which may be unattractive both to him and the bar generally. [Court Order May 6, 1980]

EC 2-28, Code 1979, transferred to EC 2-30

EC 2-29 History is replete with instances of distinguished and sacrificial services by lawyers who have represented unpopular clients and causes. Regardless of his personal feelings, a lawyer should not decline representation because a client or a cause is unpopular or community reaction is adverse. [Court Order May 6, 1980]

EC 2-29, Code 1979, transferred to EC 2-31

EC 2-30 The personal preference of a lawyer to avoid adversary alignment against judges, other lawyers, public officials, or influential members of the community does not justify his rejection of tendered employment. [Court Order May 6, 1980]

EC 2-30, Code 1979, transferred to EC 2-32

EC 2-31 When a lawyer is appointed by a court or requested by a bar association to undertake representation of a person unable to obtain counsel, whether for financial or other reasons, he should not seek to be excused from undertaking the representation except for compelling reasons. Compelling reasons do not include such factors as the repugnance of the subject matter of the proceeding, the identity or position of a person involved in the case, the belief of the lawyer that the defendant in a criminal proceeding is guilty, or the belief of the lawyer regarding the merits of the civil case. [Court Order May 6, 1980]

EC 2-31, Code 1979, transferred to EC 2-33

EC 2-32 Employment should not be accepted by a lawyer when he is unable to render competent service or when he knows or it is obvious that the person seeking to employ him desires to institute or maintain an action merely for the purpose of harassing or maliciously injuring another. Likewise, a lawyer should decline employment if the intensity of his personal feeling, as distinguished from a community attitude, may impair his effective representation of a prospective client. If a lawyer knows a client has previously obtained counsel, he should not accept employment in the matter unless the other counsel approves or withdraws, or the client terminates the prior employment. [Court Order May 6, 1980]

EC 2-32, Code 1979, transferred to EC 2-34

EC 2-33 Full availability of legal counsel requires both that persons be able to obtain counsel and that lawyers who undertake representation complete the work involved. Trial counsel for a convicted defendant should continue to represent his client by advising whether to take an appeal and, if the appeal is prosecuted, by representing him through the appeal unless new counsel is substituted or withdrawal is permitted by the appropriate court. [Court Order May 6, 1980]

EC 2-34 A decision by a lawyer to withdraw should be made only on the basis of compelling circumstances, and in a matter pending before a tribunal he must comply with the rules of the tribunal regarding withdrawal. A lawyer should not withdraw without considering carefully and endeavoring to minimize the possible adverse effect on the rights of his client and the possibility of prejudice to his client as a result of his withdrawal. Even when he justifiably withdraws, a lawyer should protect the welfare of his client by giving due notice of his withdrawal, suggesting employment of other counsel, delivering to the client all papers and property to which the client is entitled, co-operating with counsel subsequently employed, and otherwise endeavoring to minimize the possibility of harm. Further, he should refund to the client any compensation not earned during the employment. [Court Order May 6, 1980]

DISCIPLINARY RULES

DR 2-101 Publicity.

(A) A lawyer shall not, on behalf of himself, his partner, associate or any other lawyer affiliated with him or his firm, use, or participate in the use of, any form of public communication which contains a false, fraudulent, misleading, deceptive, self-laudatory or unfair statement, which contains any statement or claim relating to the quality of his legal services, which appeals to the emotions, prejudices, or likes or dislikes of a person, or which contains any claim that is not verifiable; nor shall he use or participate in the use of any form of public communication, calculated to attract clients, which contains any information not hereafter specifically permitted. In all communications under DR 2-101 and DR 2-102 the lawyer shall avoid all subjective characterizations of his rates or fees, such as, but not limited to, "cut-rate," "lowest," "reasonable," "moderate," "very reasonable," "give-away," "below-cost," "special"; and shall further avoid the use of all signs and symbols such as, but not limited to, logos, trademarks, graphics, design work, and pictures.

(B) The following information, in words and numbers only, may be communicated to the public in newspapers or periodicals of general circulation in the geographic area in which the lawyer maintains offices or in which a significant part of the lawyer's clientele resides or in the classified advertising section of the telephone directory distributed in the geographic area in which the lawyer maintains offices or in which a significant part of the lawyer's clientele resides or in reputable legal directories generally available in such area. The same information, in words and numbers only, articulated only by a single nondramatic voice, not that of the lawyer, and with no other background sound, may be communicated by radio. The same information, in words and numbers only, articulated by a single nondramatic voice, not that of the lawyer, and with no other background sound, may be communicated on television. In the case of television, no visual display shall be allowed except that allowed in print as articulated by the announcer. All such communications on radio and television, to the extent possible, shall be made only in the geographic area in which the lawyer maintains offices or in which a significant part of the lawyer's clientele resides. Any such information shall be presented in a dignified manner:

- (1) Name, including name of law firm and names of professional associates, addresses and telephone numbers and the designation "lawyer", "attorney", "law firm" or the like;
- (2) Fields of practice, limitation of practice or specialization, but only to the extent permitted by DR 2-105;
- (3) Date and place of birth;
- (4) Date and place of admission to the bar of state and federal courts;
- (5) Schools attended, with dates of graduation, degrees and other scholastic distinctions;
- (6) Public or quasi-public offices;
- (7) Military service;
- (8) Legal authorships;
- (9) Legal teaching position;
- (10) Memberships, offices and committee assignments in bar associations;
- (11) Membership and offices in legal fraternities and legal societies;
- (12) Technical and professional licenses;
- (13) Memberships in scientific, technical and professional associations and societies;
- (14) Foreign language ability;
- (15) Names and addresses of bank references;
- (16) With their written consent, names of clients regularly represented;
- (17) Subject to DR 2-103, prepaid or group legal services programs in which the lawyer participates;
- (18) Whether credit cards or other credit arrangements are accepted;
- (19) Office and telephone answering service hours.

Nothing contained herein shall prohibit a lawyer from permitting the inclusion in reputable law lists and law directories intended primarily for the use of the legal profession of such information as traditionally has been included in these publications.

Referred to in DR 2-101(H), DR 2-105

- (C) The following fee information, in words and numbers only, may be communicated to the public in newspapers or periodicals of general circulation which are published at least once each month and which are distributed in the geographic area in which the lawyer maintains offices or in which a significant part of the lawyer's clientele resides or in the classified section of the telephone directory distributed in the geographic area in which the lawyer maintains offices or in which a significant part of the lawyer's clientele resides. The same information in words and numbers only, articulated only by a single nondramatic voice, not that of the lawyer, and with no other background sound may be communicated by radio. The same information, in words and numbers only, articulated by a single nondramatic voice, not that of the lawyer, and with no other background sound may be communicated on television. In the case of television, no visual display shall be allowed except that which is allowed in print as articulated by the announcer. All such communications on radio and television, to the extent possible, shall be made only in the geographic area in which the lawyer maintains offices or in which a significant part of the lawyer's clientele resides. Any such information shall be presented in a dignified manner:
- (1) Fee for an initial consultation;
  - (2) Availability upon request of either a written schedule of fees or an estimate of the fee to be charged for specific services, or both;
  - (3) Contingent fee rates subject to DR 2-106(C), provided that the statement discloses whether percentages are computed before or after deduction of costs;
  - (4) Fixed fees or range of fees for specific legal services or hourly fee rates provided that, in print size at least equivalent to the largest print used in setting forth the fee information, the statement discloses:
    - (a) that the stated fixed fees or range of fees will be available only to clients whose matters are encompassed within the described services, and
    - (b) if the client's matters are not encompassed within the described services, or if an hourly fee rate is stated, the client is entitled, without obligation, to a specific written estimate of the fees likely to be charged.
- (D) For purposes of this rule, the term "specific legal services" shall be limited to the following services:
- (1) Abstract examinations and title opinions not including services in clearing title;
  - (2) Uncontested dissolutions of marriage involving no disagreement concerning custody of children, alimony, child support or property settlement [see DR 5-105(A)];

- (3) Wills leaving all property outright to one beneficiary and contingently to one beneficiary or one class of beneficiaries;
- (4) Income tax returns for wage earners;
- (5) Uncontested personal bankruptcies;
- (6) Changes of name;
- (7) Simple residential deeds;
- (8) Residential purchase and sale agreements;
- (9) Residential leases;
- (10) Residential mortgages and notes;
- (11) Powers of attorney;
- (12) Bills of sale.

The committee on professional ethics and conduct of the Iowa State Bar Association, acting as commissioners of the supreme court as provided by court rule 118, on its own motion or upon the request of a lawyer admitted to practice in this state, shall, from time to time, consider and recommend to the court proposed amendments to the Code, expanding or constricting the above list of "specific legal services". In considering such amendments the committee shall apply the following criteria which have guided the supreme court in determining which services should be included in the above list:

- (1) The description of the service would not be misunderstood by the average layperson or be misleading or deceptive;
- (2) Substantially all of the service normally can be performed in the lawyer's office with the aid of standardized forms and office procedures;
- (3) The service does not normally involve a substantial amount of legal research, drafting of unique documents, investigation, court appearances or negotiation with other parties or their attorneys; and
- (4) Competent performance of the service normally does not depend upon ascertainment and consideration of more than a few varying factual circumstances.

The committee shall adopt regulations, subject to the approval of the supreme court, to provide a procedure to receive and consider such requests from lawyers, and for the prompt submission to this court of any appeal from a determination adverse to such request. Said committee may further issue, subject to the approval of the supreme court, regulations further defining or describing "specific legal services" within the meaning of this rule.

- (E) Unless otherwise specified in the public communication concerning fees, the lawyer shall be bound, in the case of fee advertising in the classified section of the telephone directory, for a period of at least the time between printings of the directory in which the fee advertisement appears and in the case of all other fee advertising for a period of at least ninety days thereafter, to render the stated legal service for the fee stated in the communication unless the client's matters do not fall into the described services. In that event or if a range of fees is stated, he shall render the service for the estimated fee given the client in advance of rendering the service.

(F) A lawyer shall not, on behalf of himself, his partners, associates or any other lawyer affiliated with him or his firm, use the public communication of fee information concerning specific legal services as an indirect means of attracting clients for whom he performs other legal services not related to the specific legal services publicized; nor may the term "clinic" or any similar term be used in any communication to the public unless the practice of the lawyer or his firm is limited to routine matters for which costs of rendering the service can be substantially reduced because of the repetitive nature of the services performed and the use of standardized forms and office procedures. Whether or not it contains fee information, a lawyer shall preserve in his office a copy of each advertisement placed in a newspaper, the classified section of the telephone directory, or periodical and a tape of the radio or television commercial or recording for at least three years and a record of the date or dates and name of the publication in which it appeared or the name of the station upon which it was aired.

(G) A lawyer recommended by, paid by or whose legal services are furnished by, a qualified legal assistance organization may authorize or permit or assist such organization to use means of dignified commercial publicity, which does not identify any lawyer by name, to describe the availability or nature of its legal services or legal service benefits.

(H) This rule does not prohibit limited and dignified identification of a lawyer as a lawyer as well as by name:

- (1) In political advertisements when his professional status is germane to the political campaign or to a political issue;
- (2) In public notices when the name and profession of a lawyer are required or authorized by law or are reasonably pertinent for a purpose other than the attraction of potential clients;
- (3) In routine reports and announcements of a bona fide business, civic, professional, or political organization in which he serves as a director or officer;
- (4) In and on legal documents prepared by him;
- (5) In and on legal textbooks, treatises, and other legal publications, and in dignified advertisements thereof; and
- (6) In communications by a qualified legal assistance organization, along with the biographical information permitted under DR 2-101(B), directed to a member or beneficiary of such organization.

(I) A lawyer shall not compensate or give anything of value to representatives of the press, radio, television or other communication medium in anticipation of or in return for professional publicity in a news item nor voluntarily give any information to such representatives which, if published in a news item, would be in violation of DR 2-101(A). [Court Order February 28, 1977; February 17, 1978; July 24, 1979; May 6, 1980]

DR 2-102 Professional Notices, Letterheads, Offices and Signs.

(A) A lawyer or law firm shall not use professional cards, signs, letterheads, or similar professional notices or devices, except that the following may be used if they are in dignified form:

(1) A professional card of a lawyer identifying him by name and as a lawyer, and giving his addresses, telephone numbers, the name of his law firm, and any information permitted under DR 2-105. A professional card of a law firm may also give the names of members and associates. Such cards may be used for identification.

(2) A brief professional announcement card stating new or changed associations or addresses, change of firm name, or similar matters pertaining to the professional office of a lawyer or law firm, which may be mailed to lawyers, clients, former clients, personal friends, and relatives. It shall not state biographical data except to the extent reasonably necessary to identify the lawyer or to explain the change in his association, but it may state the immediate past position of the lawyer. It may give the names and dates of predecessor firms in a continuing line of succession. It shall not state the nature of the practice except as permitted under DR 2-105.

(3) A sign on or near the door of the office and in the building directory identifying the law office. The sign shall not state the nature of the practice, except as permitted under DR 2-105.

(4) A letterhead of a lawyer identifying him by name and as a lawyer, and giving his addresses, telephone numbers, the name of his law firm, associates and any information permitted under DR 2-105. A letterhead of a law firm may also give the names of members and associates, and names and dates related to deceased and retired members. A lawyer may be designated "Of Counsel" on a letterhead if he has a continuing relationship with a lawyer or law firm, other than as a partner or associate. A lawyer or law firm may be designated as "General Counsel" or by similar professional reference on stationery of a client if he or the firm devotes a substantial amount of professional time in the representation of that client. The letterhead of a law firm may give the names and dates of predecessor firms in a continuing line of succession.

(5) An alphabetical listing of the office of a lawyer or law firm in the alphabetical section and classified section of the telephone directory or directories for the geographical area or areas in which the lawyer resides or maintains offices or in which a significant part of his clientele resides and in the city directory of the city in which the lawyer's or the firm's office is located may be in the usual boldface type permitted by the publisher. A law firm may have a listing in the firm name which also lists the names and individual telephone numbers, if any, of its members and associates. With respect to listings in compliance with DR 2-105, one disclaimer per page, prominently displayed, shall be adequate. Nothing in this subparagraph (5) prohibits advertising permitted by DR 2-101.

- (B) A lawyer in private practice shall not practice under a trade name, a name that is misleading as to the identity of the lawyer or lawyers practicing under such name, or a firm name containing names other than those of one or more of the lawyers in the firm, except that the name of a professional corporation or professional association may contain "P.C." or "P.A." or similar symbols indicating the nature of the organization, and if otherwise lawful a firm may use as, or continue to include in, its name, the name or names of one or more deceased or retired members of the firm or of a predecessor firm in a continuing line of succession. A lawyer who assumes a judicial, legislative, or public executive or administrative post or office shall not permit his name to remain in the name of a law firm or to be used in professional notices of the firm during any significant period in which he is not actively and regularly practicing law as a member of the firm, and during such period other members of the firm shall not use his name in the firm name or in professional notices of the firm.
- (C) A lawyer shall not hold himself out as having a partnership with one or more other lawyers unless they are in fact partners.
- (D) A partnership shall not be formed or continued between or among lawyers licensed in different jurisdictions unless all enumerations of the members and associates of the firm on its letterhead and in other permissible public communications and listings make clear the jurisdictional limitations on those members and associates of the firm not licensed to practice in all listed jurisdictions; however, the same firm name may be used in each jurisdiction.
- (E) A lawyer who is engaged both in the practice of law and another profession or business shall not so indicate on his letterhead, office sign, or professional card, nor shall he identify himself as a lawyer in any publication in connection with his other profession or business.
- (F) The text of a lawyer's letterhead, office sign, professional card or other authorized notice or listing shall not violate the provisions of DR 2-101(A). [Court Order February 17, 1978; May 6, 1980; August 12, 1980]

DR 2-103 Recommendation of Professional Employment.

- (A) A lawyer shall not, except as authorized in DR 2-101, recommend employment, as a private practitioner, of himself, his partner, or associate or a nonlawyer who has not sought his advice regarding employment of a lawyer.

- (B) A lawyer shall not compensate or give anything of value to a person or organization to recommend or secure his employment by a client, or as a reward for having made a recommendation resulting in his employment by a client, except that he may pay the usual and reasonable fees or dues charged by any of the organizations listed in DR 2-103(D).
- (C) A lawyer shall not request a person or organization to recommend or promote the use of his services or those of his partner or associate, or any other lawyer affiliated with him or his firm, as a private practitioner, except as authorized in DR 2-101, and except that:
  - (1) He may request referrals from a lawyer referral service operated, sponsored, or approved by the bar association and may pay its fees incident thereto.
  - (2) He may co-operate with the legal service activities of any of the offices or organizations enumerated in DR 2-103(D)(1) through (4) and may perform legal services for those to whom he was recommended by it to do such work if:
    - (a) The person to whom the recommendation is made is a member or beneficiary of such office or organization; and
    - (b) The lawyer remains free to exercise his independent professional judgment on behalf of his client.
- (D) A lawyer shall not knowingly assist a person or organization that furnishes or pays for legal services to others to promote the use of his services or those of his partner or associate or any other lawyer affiliated with him or his firm, except as permitted in DR 2-101. However, this does not prohibit a lawyer or his partner or associate or any other lawyer affiliated with him or his firm from being recommended, employed or paid by, or co-operating with, one of the following offices or organizations that promote the use of his services or those of his partner or associate or any other lawyer affiliated with him or his firm if there is no interference with the exercise of independent professional judgment on behalf of his client:
  - (1) A legal aid office or public defender office:
    - (a) Operated or sponsored by a duly accredited law school.
    - (b) Operated or sponsored by a bona fide nonprofit community organization.
    - (c) Operated or sponsored by a governmental agency.
    - (d) Operated, sponsored, or approved by a bar association.
  - (2) A military legal assistance office.
  - (3) A lawyer referral service operated, sponsored or approved by a bar association.
  - (4) Any bona fide organization that recommends, furnishes or pays for legal services to its members or its beneficiaries provided the following conditions are satisfied:

- (a) Such organization, including any affiliate is so organized and operated that no profit is derived by it from the rendition of legal services by lawyers, and that, if the organization is organized for profit, the legal services are not rendered by lawyers employed, directed, supervised or selected by it except in connection with matters where such organization bears ultimate liability of its member or beneficiary.
- (b) Neither the lawyer, nor his partner, nor associate, nor any other lawyer affiliated with him or his firm, nor any nonlawyer, shall have initiated or promoted such organization for the primary purpose of providing financial or other benefit to such lawyer, partner, associate or affiliated lawyer.
- (c) Such organization is not operated for the purpose of procuring legal work or financial benefit for any lawyer as a private practitioner outside of the legal services program of the organization.
- (d) The member or beneficiary to whom the legal services are furnished, and not such organization, is recognized as the client of the lawyer in the matter.
- (e) Any member or beneficiary who is entitled to have legal services furnished or paid for by the organization may, if such member or beneficiary so desires, and at his own expense, select counsel other than that furnished, selected or approved by the organization for the particular matter involved.
- (f) The legal service plan of such organization provides appropriate relief for any member or beneficiary who asserts a claim that the representation by counsel furnished, selected or approved would be unethical, improper or inadequate under the circumstances of the matter involved and the plan provides an appropriate procedure for seeking such relief.
- (g) The lawyer does not know or have cause to know that such organization is in violation of applicable laws, rules of court and other legal requirements that govern its legal service operations.
- (h) Such organization has filed with the client security and attorney disciplinary commission at least annually a report with respect to its legal service plan, if any, showing its terms, its schedule of benefits, its subscription charges, agreements with counsel, and financial results of its legal service activities or, if it has failed to do so, the lawyer does not know or have cause to know of such failure.

Referred to in DR 2-103(B), DR 2-104

- (E) A lawyer shall not accept employment when he knows or it is obvious that the person who seeks his services does so as a result of conduct prohibited under this disciplinary rule. [Court Order February 28, 1977; February 17, 1978]

DR 2-104 Suggestion of Need of Legal Services.

- (A) A lawyer who has given in-person unsolicited advice to a lay person that he should obtain counsel or take legal action shall not accept employment resulting from that advice, except that:
  - (1) A lawyer may accept employment by a close friend, relative, former client (if the advice is germane to the former employment), or one whom the lawyer reasonably believes to be a client.
  - (2) A lawyer may accept employment that results from his participation in activities designed to educate lay persons to recognize legal problems, to make intelligent selection of counsel, or to utilize available legal services if such activities are conducted or sponsored by any of the offices or organizations enumerated in DR 2-103(D)(1) through (4), to the extent and under the conditions prescribed therein.
  - (3) A lawyer who is recommended, furnished or paid by a qualified legal assistance organization enumerated in DR 2-103(D)(1) through (4) may represent a member or beneficiary thereof, to the extent and under the conditions prescribed therein.
  - (4) Without affecting his right to accept employment, a lawyer may speak publicly or write for publication on legal topics so long as he does not emphasize his own professional experience or reputation and does not undertake to give individual advice.
  - (5) If success in asserting rights or defenses of his client in litigation in the nature of a class action is dependent upon the joinder of others, a lawyer may accept, but shall not seek, employment from those contacted for the purpose of obtaining their joinder. [Court Order February 28, 1977; February 17, 1978]

DR 2-105 Description and Limitation of Practice.

- (A) A lawyer may hold himself out publicly as practicing in or limiting his practice to certain fields of law as follows:
  - (1) A lawyer admitted to practice before the United States Patent and Trademark Office may use the designation "Patents", "Patent Attorney", "Patent Lawyer", or "Registered Patent Attorney" or any combination of those terms, on his professional card, letterhead, office sign, professional notice or announcement, and telephone directory listings, all as otherwise allowed by DR 2-102(A), and in newspapers, periodicals and legal directories, as otherwise allowed by DR 2-101(B). In addition to use of the designation "Patents", "Patent Attorney", "Patent Lawyer", and "Registered Patent Attorney", a lawyer admitted to practice before the United States Patent and Trademark Office may use the designation "Trademarks", "Trademarks and Copyright Matters", "Trademark Attorney", "Trademark Lawyer", or any combination of those terms on his professional card, letterhead, office sign, professional notice or announcement and telephone directory listing, all as otherwise allowed by DR 2-102(A), and in newspapers, periodicals and legal directories as otherwise allowed by DR 2-101(B), provided the lawyer satisfies the eligibility requirements of DR 2-105(A)(4) in any one of the fields of practice of "Patents, Trademarks or Copyright Matters" or combination thereof.

- (2) An individual lawyer who, in fact, limits his practice to certain fields of law or who is limiting his practice primarily to certain fields of law, and who satisfies the eligibility requirements of DR 2-105(A)(4), may indicate such limitation or description of his practice by listing, in the manner provided by DR 2-105(A)(3), not more than three of the following fields of law practice on his professional card, letterhead, professional announcement, and the classified section of the telephone directory, all as otherwise allowed by DR 2-102(A), and in newspapers, periodicals and legal directories, as otherwise allowed by DR 2-101(B):

- Administrative Agency Matters

Workers Compensation

The committee on professional ethics and conduct of the Iowa State Bar Association, acting as commissioners of the supreme court as provided by court rule 118, on its own motion or upon the request of a lawyer admitted to practice in this state, shall, from time to time, consider and recommend to the court proposed amendments to the Code expanding or restricting the permitted list of fields of law practice.

- (3) Description or indication of limitation of practice permitted by DR 2-105(A)(2) shall be only in the following manner:
  - (a) If the lawyer accepts only legal matters in his listed fields of law practice, such listing of fields of law practice shall be preceded by the words "Practice limited to . . ."; or
  - (b) If the lawyer is practicing primarily in his listed fields of law practice but he also accepts other types of legal matters, such listing of fields of law practice shall be preceded by the words "Practicing primarily in . . .";

and shall, in the case of a description or indication of limitation of practice communicated to the public in the classified section of telephone directories, or in newspapers, periodicals and legal directories, contain within such communication, or have prominently displayed on the same page of such communication, a "Notice to Public" in the following form:

- (c) "A description or indication of limitation of practice does not mean that any agency or board has certified such lawyer as a specialist or expert in an indicated field of law practice nor does it mean that such lawyer is necessarily any more expert or competent than any other lawyer. All potential clients are urged to make their own independent investigation and evaluation of any lawyer being considered. This notice is required by rule of the Supreme Court of Iowa."

In the case of a description or indication of limitation of practice communicated to the public in the classified section of telephone directories, a lawyer shall not permit his name to be listed under a heading or classification other than "Attorneys" or "Lawyers".

- (4) Prior to communication of a description or indication of limitation of practice permitted by DR 2-105(A)(2), a lawyer shall report his compliance with the following eligibility requirements each year in the written report required to be submitted to the Commission on Continuing Legal Education:
  - (a) The lawyer must have devoted the greater of 200 hours or twenty percent of his time spent in actual law practice to each separate indicated field of practice for each of the last two calendar years; and

- (b) The lawyer must have completed at least ten hours of accredited Continuing Legal Education courses of study in each separate indicated field of practice during the preceding calendar year.

The first report of compliance may be made in 1979. In reporting compliance with subsection (a), a statement of compliance is sufficient. In reporting compliance with subsection (b), the lawyer shall identify the specific courses and hours which apply to each indicated field of practice. Contents of the portion of the report required by this rule shall be public information.

Referred to in Definitions

- (B) A lawyer may communicate the name of state and federal courts in which he or she is currently permitted to practice on his professional card, letterhead, office sign, professional notice or announcement, and telephone directory listings, all as otherwise allowed by DR 2-102(A), and in newspapers, periodicals and legal directories, as otherwise allowed by DR 2-101(B).

If, due to hardship or extenuating circumstances, a lawyer is unable to complete the hours of accredited continuing legal education during the preceding calendar year as required by DR 2-105(A)(4)(b), the lawyer may apply to the Commission on Continuing Legal Education for an extension of time in which to complete the hours. No extension of time shall be granted unless written application therefor shall be made on forms prescribed by the commission. Extensions of time within which to fulfill the minimum educational requirements may, in individual cases involving hardship or extenuating circumstances, be granted by the commission for a period not to exceed six months immediately following expiration of the year in which the requirements were not met. #### DR 2-106 Fees for Legal Services.

- (A) A lawyer shall not enter into an agreement for, charge, or collect an illegal or clearly excessive fee.
- (B) A fee is clearly excessive when, after a review of the facts, a lawyer of ordinary prudence would be left with a definite and firm conviction that the fee is in excess of a reasonable fee. Factors to be considered as guides in determining the reasonableness of a fee include the following:
- (1) The time and labor required, the novelty and difficulty of the questions involved, and the skill requisite to perform the legal service properly.
  - (2) The likelihood, if apparent to the client, that the acceptance of the particular employment will preclude other employment by the lawyer.

- (3) The fee customarily charged in the locality for similar legal services.
  - (4) The amount involved and the results obtained.
  - (5) The time limitations imposed by the client or by the circumstances.
  - (6) The nature and length of the professional relationship with the client.
  - (7) The experience, reputation, and ability of the lawyer or lawyers performing the services.
  - (8) Whether the fee is fixed or contingent.
- (C) A lawyer shall not enter into an arrangement for, charge or collect a contingent fee for representing a defendant in a criminal case, or either party in any action involving domestic relations.

Referred to in DR 2-101(C)

DR 2-107 Division of Fees Among Lawyers.

- (A) A lawyer shall not divide a fee for legal services with another lawyer who is not a partner in or associate of his law firm or law office, unless:
- (1) The client consents to employment of the other lawyer after a full disclosure that a division of fees will be made.
  - (2) The division is made in proportion to the services performed and responsibility assumed by each.
  - (3) The total fee of the lawyers does not clearly exceed reasonable compensation for all legal services they rendered the client.
- (B) This Disciplinary Rule does not prohibit payment to a former partner or associate pursuant to a separation or retirement agreement.

DR 2-108 Agreements Restricting the Practice of a Lawyer.

- (A) A lawyer shall not be a party to or participate in a partnership or employment agreement with another lawyer that restricts the right of a lawyer to practice law after the termination of a relationship created by the agreement, except as a condition to payment of retirement benefits.
- (B) In connection with the settlement of a controversy or suit, a lawyer shall not enter into an agreement that restricts his right to practice law.

DR 2-109 Acceptance of Employment.

- (A) A lawyer shall not accept employment on behalf of a person if he knows or it is obvious that such person wishes to:
- (1) Bring a legal action, conduct a defense, or assert a position in litigation, or otherwise have steps taken for him, merely for the purpose of harassing or maliciously injuring any person.
  - (2) Present a claim or defense in litigation that is not warranted under existing law, unless it can be supported by good faith argument for an extension, modification, or reversal of existing law.

DR 2-110 Withdrawal from Employment.

(A) In general.

- (1) If permission for withdrawal from employment is required by the rules of a tribunal, a lawyer shall not withdraw from employment in a proceeding before that tribunal without its permission.
- (2) In any event, a lawyer shall not withdraw from employment until he has taken reasonable steps to avoid foreseeable prejudice to the rights of his client, including giving due notice to his client, allowing time for employment of other counsel, delivering to the client all papers and property to which the client is entitled, and complying with applicable laws and rules.
- (3) A lawyer who withdraws from employment shall refund promptly any part of a fee paid in advance that has not been earned.

(B) Mandatory withdrawal.

A lawyer representing a client before a tribunal, with its permission if required by its rules, shall withdraw from employment, and a lawyer representing a client in other matters shall withdraw from employment, if:

- (1) He knows or it is obvious that his client is bringing the legal action, conducting the defense, or asserting a position in the litigation, or is otherwise having steps taken for him, merely for the purpose of harassing or maliciously injuring any person.
- (2) He knows or it is obvious that his continued employment will result in violation of a Disciplinary Rule.
- (3) His mental or physical condition renders it unreasonably difficult for him to carry out the employment effectively.
- (4) He is discharged by his client.

(C) Permissive withdrawal.

If DR 2-110 (B) is not applicable, a lawyer may not request permission to withdraw in matters pending before a tribunal, and may not withdraw in other matters, unless such request or such withdrawal is because:

- (1) His client:
  - (a) Insists upon presenting a claim or defense that is not warranted under existing law and cannot be supported by good faith argument for an extension, modification, or reversal of existing law.
  - (b) Personally seeks to pursue an illegal course of conduct.
  - (c) Insists that the lawyer pursue a course of conduct that is illegal or that is prohibited under the Disciplinary Rules.
  - (d) By other conduct renders it unreasonably difficult for the lawyer to carry out his employment effectively.
  - (e) Insists, in a matter not pending before a tribunal, that the lawyer engage in conduct that is contrary to the judgment and advice of the lawyer but not prohibited under the Disciplinary Rules.

- (f) Deliberately disregards an agreement or obligation to the lawyer as to expenses or fees.
- (2) His continued employment is likely to result in a violation of a Disciplinary Rule.
- (3) His inability to work with co-counsel indicates that the best interests of the client likely will be served by withdrawal.
- (4) His mental or physical condition renders it difficult for him to carry out the employment effectively.
- (5) His client knowingly and freely assents to termination of his employment.
- (6) He believes in good faith, in a proceeding pending before a tribunal, that the tribunal will find the existence of other good cause for withdrawal.

CANON 3

A Lawyer Should Assist in Preventing the Unauthorized Practice of Law

ETHICAL CONSIDERATIONS

EC 3-1 The prohibition against the practice of law by a layman is grounded in the need of the public for integrity and competence of those who undertake to render legal services. Because of the fiduciary and personal character of the lawyer-client relationship and the inherently complex nature of our legal system, the public can better be assured of the requisite responsibility and competence if the practice of law is confined to those who are subject to the requirements and regulations imposed upon members of the legal profession.

EC 3-2 The sensitive variations in the considerations that bear on legal determinations often make it difficult even for a lawyer to exercise appropriate professional judgment, and it is therefore essential that the personal nature of the relationship of client and lawyer be preserved. Competent professional judgment is the product of a trained familiarity with law and legal processes, a disciplined, analytical approach to legal problems, and a firm ethical commitment.

EC 3-3 A nonlawyer who undertakes to handle legal matters is not governed as to integrity or legal competence by the same rules that govern the conduct of a lawyer. A lawyer is not only subject to that regulation but also is committed to high standards of ethical conduct. The public interest is best served in legal matters by a regulated profession committed to such standards. The Disciplinary Rules protect the public in that they prohibit a lawyer from seeking employment by improper overtures, from acting in cases of divided loyalties, and from submitting to the control of others in the exercise of his judgment.

Moreover, a person who entrusts legal matters to a lawyer is protected by the attorney-client privilege and by the duty of the lawyer to hold inviolate the confidences and secrets of his client.

EC 3-4 A layman who seeks legal services often is not in a position to judge whether he will receive proper professional attention. The entrustment of a legal matter may well involve the confidences, the reputation, the property, the freedom, or even the life of the client. Proper protection of members of the public demands that no person be permitted to act in the confidential and demanding capacity of a lawyer unless he is subject to the regulations of the legal profession.

EC 3-5 It is neither necessary nor desirable to attempt the formulation of a single, specific definition of what constitutes the practice of law. However, the practice of law includes, but is not limited to, representing another before the courts; giving of legal advice and counsel to others relating to their rights and obligations under the law; and preparation or approval of the use of legal instruments by which legal rights of others are either obtained, secured or transferred even if such matters never become the subject of a court proceeding. Functionally, the practice of law relates to the rendition of services for others that call for the professional judgment of a lawyer. The essence of the professional judgment of the lawyer is his educated ability to relate the general body and philosophy of law to a specific legal problem of a client; and thus, the public interest will be better served if only lawyers are permitted to act in matters involving professional judgment. Where this professional judgment is not involved, nonlawyers, such as court clerks, police officers, abstracters, and many governmental employees, may engage in occupations that require a special knowledge of law in certain areas. But the services of a lawyer are essential in the public interest whenever the exercise of professional legal judgment is required.

EC 3-6 A lawyer often delegates tasks required in performance of legal services to his clients to clerks, secretaries and other nonlawyer personnel whom he employs. Such delegation which extends beyond duties merely ministerial in nature is proper under the following circumstances:

- (1) If it is for the purposes of (a) investigation of a factual situation or consultation with a lawyer's client for the purpose, only, of obtaining factual information; or (b) legal research; or (c) preparation or selection of legal instruments and documents, provided, however, that in each such situation the delegated work will assist the employer-lawyer in carrying the matter to a completed service either through the lawyer's personal examination and approval thereof or by other additional participation by the lawyer. However, the delegated work must be such as loses its separate identity and becomes the service or is merged in the service of the lawyer.
- (2) The lawyer must maintain an initial, continuing and direct relationship with his client, directly supervise the delegated work, and assume complete professional responsibility for the work product. This requirement must not be ignored by a lawyer or given superficial recognition.

- (3) The lawyer shall not permit employed lay persons to counsel the lawyer's clients about legal matters, appear in any court or administrative proceeding except to the extent authorized by court rule or administrative rule or regulation, or otherwise engage in the unauthorized practice of law. A lawyer should recognize the importance of being present, if practicable, when a client executes a will, contract, deed or other legal document, to insure that it is executed in compliance with the law and to answer the client's questions. A lawyer has a continuing affirmative duty to preserve and enhance the public's confidence in the legal profession. This is best accomplished when the client has direct access to a lawyer for the purpose of asking for and receiving legal advice prior to or at the time the client takes any contemplated legal action.
- (4) A nonlawyer employed by a lawyer, law firm, agency or other employer may be referred to as a legal assistant if the majority of his or her job responsibilities include duties as defined in EC 3-6(1). Such legal assistant and the responsible supervising lawyer are at all times subject to all the provisions of EC 3-6. Such a legal assistant may be furnished with, and use, a professional card. The card must contain the following information on its face: Name; "Legal Assistant" centered immediately below the name; the name of the lawyer, law firm, agency or other employer whose lawyer is authorizing the issuance of the card; name of the employer or agency, if applicable; address and telephone number of the attorney, law firm, agency or other employer.
- (5) When communicating with persons outside the law office, including other lawyers, a nonlawyer employed by a lawyer must disclose his status as such. The disclosure must be made in a way that avoids confusion. With respect to oral communications, disclosure must be made at the outset of the conversation. It is permissible for lay person office personnel to sign letters on the firm's stationery as long as the nonlawyer status is clearly indicated.
- (6) The supervising lawyer must exercise care to insure his lay person-employees comply with all applicable provisions of the Code of Professional Responsibility. This includes the obligation referred to in DR 4-101 (D) and EC 4-2 to see that such employees preserve and refrain from using the confidence and secrets of the lawyer's clients. [Court Order September 12, 1980]

EC 3-7 The prohibition against a nonlawyer practicing law does not prevent a layman from representing himself, for then he is ordinarily exposing only himself to possible injury. The purpose of the legal profession is to make educated legal representation available to the public; but anyone who does not wish to avail himself of such representation is not required to do so. Even so, the legal profession should help members of the public to recognize legal problems and to understand why it may be unwise for them to act for themselves in matters having legal consequences.

EC 3-8 Since a lawyer should not aid or encourage a layman to practice law, he should not practice law in association with a layman or otherwise share legal fees with a layman. This does not mean, however, that the pecuniary value of the interest of a deceased lawyer in his firm or practice may not be paid to his estate or specified persons such as his widow or heirs. In like manner, profit-sharing retirement plans of a lawyer or law firm which include nonlawyer office employees are not improper. These limited exceptions to the rule against sharing legal fees with laymen are permissible since they do not aid or encourage laymen to practice law.

EC 3-9 Regulation of the practice of law is accomplished principally by the respective states. Authority to engage in the practice of law conferred in any jurisdiction is not per se a grant of the right to practice elsewhere, and it is improper for a lawyer to engage in practice where he is not permitted by law or by court order to do so. However, the demands of business and the mobility of our society pose distinct problems in the regulation of the practice of law by the states. In furtherance of the public interest, the legal profession should discourage regulation that unreasonably imposes territorial limitations upon the right of a lawyer to handle the legal affairs of his client or upon the opportunity of a client to obtain the services of a lawyer of his choice in all matters including the presentation of a contested matter in a tribunal before which the lawyer is not permanently admitted to practice.

DISCIPLINARY RULES

DR 3-101 Aiding Unauthorized Practice of Law.

- (A) A lawyer shall not aid a nonlawyer in the unauthorized practice of law.
- (B) A lawyer shall not practice law in a jurisdiction where to do so would be in violation of regulations of the profession in that jurisdiction.

DR 3-102 Dividing Legal Fees with a Nonlawyer.

- (A) A lawyer or law firm shall not share legal fees with a nonlawyer, except that:
  - (1) An agreement by a lawyer with his firm, partner, or associate may provide for the payment of money, over a reasonable period of time after his death, to his estate or to one or more specified persons.
  - (2) A lawyer who undertakes to complete unfinished legal business of a deceased lawyer may pay to the estate of the deceased lawyer that proportion of the total compensation which fairly represents the services rendered by the deceased lawyer.
  - (3) A lawyer or law firm may include nonlawyer employees in a retirement plan, even though the plan is based in whole or in part on a profit-sharing arrangement.

DR 3-103 Forming a Partnership with a Nonlawyer.

- (A) A lawyer shall not form a partnership with a nonlawyer if any of the activities of the partnership consist of the practice of law.

DR 3-104 Nonlawyer Personnel.

- (A) A lawyer or law firm may employ nonlawyer personnel to perform delegated functions under the direct supervision of a licensed attorney, but shall not permit such nonlawyer personnel to (i) counsel clients about legal matters, (ii) appear in court or in proceedings which are a part of the judicial process (except as permitted by Court Rule 120 or rules of this or other courts or agencies), or (iii) otherwise engage in the unauthorized practice of law.
- (B) A lawyer or law firm employing nonlawyer personnel shall not permit any representation that such nonlawyer is a member of the Iowa Bar.
- (C) A lawyer or law firm employing nonlawyer personnel shall exercise care to assure compliance by the nonlawyer personnel with all applicable provisions of the Code of Professional Responsibility. The initial and continuing relationship with the client must be the responsibility of the employing lawyer or law firm.
- (D) The delegated work of nonlawyer personnel shall be such that it will assist only the employing lawyer or law firm and will be merged into the lawyer's completed work product. A lawyer shall examine, supervise and be responsible for all work delegated to nonlawyer personnel.
- (E) The lawyer or law firm employing nonlawyer personnel shall not permit such nonlawyer to communicate with clients or the public, including lawyers outside his firm, without first disclosing his nonlawyer status.

CANON 4

A Lawyer Should Preserve the Confidences and Secrets of a Client

ETHICAL CONSIDERATIONS

EC 4-1 Both the fiduciary relationship existing between lawyer and client and the proper functioning of the legal system require the preservation by the lawyer of confidences and secrets of one who has employed or sought to employ him. A client must feel free to discuss whatever he wishes with his lawyer and a lawyer must be equally free to obtain information beyond that volunteered by his client. A lawyer should be fully informed of all the facts of the matter he is handling in order for his client to obtain the full advantage of our legal system. It is for the lawyer in the exercise of his independent professional judgment to separate the relevant and important from the irrelevant and unimportant. The observance of the ethical obligation of a lawyer to hold inviolate the confidences and secrets of his client not only facilitates the full development of facts essential to proper representation of the client but also encourages laymen to seek early legal assistance.

EC 4-2 The obligation to protect confidences and secrets obviously does not preclude a lawyer from revealing information when his client consents after full disclosure, when necessary to perform his professional employment, when permitted by a Disciplinary Rule, or when required by law. Unless the client otherwise directs, a lawyer may disclose the affairs of his client to partners or associates of his firm. It is a matter of common knowledge that the normal operation of a law office exposes confidential professional information to nonlawyer employees of the office, particularly secretaries and those having access to the files; and this obligates a lawyer to exercise care in selecting and training his employees so that the sanctity of all confidences and secrets of his clients may be preserved. If the obligation extends to two or more clients as to the same information, a lawyer should obtain the permission of all before revealing the information. A lawyer must always be sensitive to the rights and wishes of his client and act scrupulously in the making of decisions which may involve the disclosure of information obtained in his professional relationship. Thus, in the absence of consent of his client after full disclosure, a lawyer should not associate another lawyer in the handling of a matter; nor should he, in the absence of consent, seek counsel from another lawyer if there is a reasonable possibility that the identity of the client or his confidences or secrets would be revealed to such lawyer. Both social amenities and professional duty should cause a lawyer to shun indiscreet conversations concerning his clients.

Referred to in EC 3-6

EC 4-3 Unless the client otherwise directs, it is not improper for a lawyer to give limited information from his files to an outside agency necessary for statistical, bookkeeping, accounting, data processing, banking, printing, or other legitimate purposes, provided he exercises due care in the selection of the agency and warns the agency that the information must be kept confidential.

EC 4-4 The attorney-client privilege is more limited than the ethical obligation of a lawyer to guard the confidences and secrets of his client. This ethical precept, unlike the evidentiary privilege, exists without regard to the nature or source of information or the fact that others share the knowledge. A lawyer should endeavor to act in a manner which preserves the evidentiary privilege; for example, he should avoid professional discussions in the presence of persons to whom the privilege does not extend. A lawyer owes an obligation to advise the client of the attorney-client privilege and timely to assert the privilege unless it is waived by the client.

EC 4-5 A lawyer should not use information acquired in the course of the representation of a client to the disadvantage of the client and a lawyer should not use, except with the consent of his client after full disclosure, such information for his own purposes. Likewise, a lawyer should be diligent in his efforts to prevent the misuse of such information by his employees and associates. Care should be exercised by a lawyer to prevent the disclosure of the confidences and secrets of one client to another, and no employment should be accepted that might require such disclosure.

EC 4-6 The obligation of a lawyer to preserve the confidences and secrets of his client continues after the termination of his employment. Thus a lawyer should not attempt to sell a law practice as a going business because, among other reasons, to do so would involve the disclosure of confidences and secrets. A lawyer should also provide for the protection of the confidences and secrets of his client following the termination of the practice of the lawyer, whether termination is due to death, disability, or retirement. For example, a lawyer might provide for the personal papers of the client to be returned to him and for the papers of the lawyer to be delivered to another lawyer or to be destroyed. In determining the method of disposition, the instructions and wishes of the client should be a dominant consideration.

DISCIPLINARY RULES

DR 4-101 Preservation of Confidences and Secrets of a Client.

- (A) "Confidence" refers to information protected by the attorney-client privilege under applicable law, and "secret" refers to other information gained in the professional relationship that the client has requested be held inviolate or the disclosure of which would be embarrassing or would be likely to be detrimental to the client.
- (B) Except when permitted under DR 4-101 (C), a lawyer shall not knowingly:
- (1) Reveal a confidence or secret of his client.
  - (2) Use a confidence or secret of his client to the disadvantage of the client.
  - (3) Use a confidence or secret of his client for the advantage of himself or of a third person, unless the client consents after full disclosure.
- (C) A lawyer may reveal:
- (1) Confidences or secrets with the consent of the client or clients affected, but only after a full disclosure to them.
  - (2) Confidences or secrets when permitted under Disciplinary Rules or required by law or court order.
  - (3) The intention of his client to commit a crime and the information necessary to prevent the crime.
  - (4) Confidences or secrets necessary to establish or collect his fee or to defend himself or his employees or associates against an accusation of wrongful conduct.

- (D) A lawyer shall exercise reasonable care to prevent his employees, associates, and others whose services are utilized by him from disclosing or using confidences or secrets of a client, except that a lawyer may reveal the information allowed by DR 4-101 (C) through an employee.

CANON 5

A Lawyer Should Exercise Independent Professional Judgment on Behalf of a Client

ETHICAL CONSIDERATIONS

EC 5-1 The professional judgment of a lawyer should be exercised, within the bounds of the law, solely for the benefit of his client and free of compromising influences and loyalties. Neither his personal interests, the interests of other clients, nor the desires of third persons should be permitted to dilute his loyalty to his client.

Interests of a Lawyer That May Affect His Judgment

EC 5-2 A lawyer should not accept proffered employment if his personal interests or desires will, or there is reasonable probability that they will, affect adversely the advice to be given or services to be rendered the prospective client. After accepting employment, a lawyer carefully should refrain from acquiring a property right or assuming a position that would tend to make his judgment less protective of the interests of his client.

EC 5-3 The self-interest of a lawyer resulting from his ownership of property in which his client also has an interest or which may affect property of his client may interfere with the exercise of free judgment on behalf of his client. If such interference would occur with respect to a prospective client, a lawyer should decline employment proffered by him. After accepting employment, a lawyer should not acquire property rights that would adversely affect his professional judgment in the representation of his client. Even if the property interests of a lawyer do not presently interfere with the exercise of his independent judgment, but the likelihood of interference can reasonably be foreseen by him, a lawyer should explain the situation to his client and should decline employment or withdraw unless the client consents to the continuance of the relationship after full disclosure. A lawyer should not seek to persuade his client to permit him to invest in an undertaking of his client nor make improper use of his professional relationship to influence his client to invest in an enterprise in which the lawyer is interested.

EC 5-4 If, in the course of his representation of a client, a lawyer is permitted to receive from his client a beneficial ownership in publication rights relating to the subject matter of the employment, he may be tempted to subordinate the interests of his client to his own anticipated pecuniary gain. For example, a lawyer in a criminal case who obtains from his client television, radio, motion picture, newspaper, magazine, book, or other publication rights with respect to the case may be influenced, consciously or unconsciously, to a course of conduct that will enhance the value of his publication rights to the prejudice of his client. To prevent these potentially differing interests, such arrangements, should be scrupulously avoided prior to the termination of all aspects of the matter giving rise to the employment, even though his employment has previously ended.

EC 5-5 A lawyer should not suggest to his client that a gift be made to himself or for his benefit. If a lawyer accepts a gift from his client, he is peculiarly susceptible to the charge that he unduly influenced or overreached the client. If a client voluntarily offers to make a gift to his lawyer, the lawyer may accept the gift, but before doing so, he should urge that his client secure disinterested advice from an independent, competent person who is cognizant of all the circumstances. [Court Order December 16, 1977]

EC 5-6 A lawyer should not consciously influence a client to name him as executor, trustee, or lawyer in an instrument. In those cases where a client wishes to name his lawyer as such, care should be taken by the lawyer to avoid even the appearance of impropriety.

EC 5-7 The possibility of an adverse effect upon the exercise of free judgment by a lawyer on behalf of his client during litigation generally makes it undesirable for the lawyer to acquire a proprietary interest in the cause of his client or otherwise to become financially interested in the outcome of the litigation. However, it is not improper for a lawyer to protect his right to collect a fee for his services by the assertion of legally permissible liens, even though by doing so he may acquire an interest in the outcome of litigation. Although a contingent fee arrangement gives a lawyer a financial interest in the outcome of litigation, a reasonable contingent fee is permissible in civil cases because it may be the only means by which a layman can obtain the services of a lawyer of his choice. But a lawyer, because he is in a better position to evaluate a cause of action, should enter into a contingent fee arrangement only in those instances where the arrangement will be beneficial to the client.

EC 5-8 A financial interest in the outcome of litigation also results if monetary advances are made by the lawyer to his client. Although this assistance generally is not encouraged, there are instances when it is not improper to make loans to a client. For example, the advancing or guaranteeing of payment of the costs and expenses of litigation by a lawyer may be the only way a client can enforce his cause of action, but the ultimate liability for such costs and expenses must be that of the client.

EC 5-9 Occasionally a lawyer is called upon to decide in a particular case whether he will be a witness or an advocate. If a lawyer is both counsel and witness, he becomes more easily impeachable for interest and thus may be a less effective witness. Conversely, the opposing counsel may be handicapped in challenging the credibility of the lawyer when the lawyer also appears as an advocate in the case. An advocate who becomes a witness is in the unseemly and ineffective position of arguing his own credibility. The roles of an advocate and of a witness are inconsistent; the function of an advocate is to advance or argue the cause of another, while that of a witness is to state facts objectively.

EC 5-10 Problems incident to the lawyer-witness relationship arise at different stages; they relate either to whether a lawyer should accept employment or should withdraw from employment. Regardless of when the problem arises, his decision is to be governed by the same basic considerations. It is not objectionable for a lawyer who is a potential witness to be an advocate if it is unlikely that he will be called as a witness because his testimony would be merely cumulative or if his testimony will relate only to an uncontested issue. In the exceptional situation where it will be manifestly unfair to the client for the lawyer to refuse employment or to withdraw when he will likely be a witness on a contested issue, he may serve as advocate even though he may be a witness. In making such decision, he should determine the personal or financial sacrifice of the client that may result from his refusal of employment or withdrawal therefrom, the materiality of his testimony, and the effectiveness of his representation in view of his personal involvement. In weighing these factors, it should be clear that refusal or withdrawal will impose an unreasonable hardship upon the client before the lawyer accepts or continues the employment. Where the question arises, doubts should be resolved in favor of the lawyer testifying and against his becoming or continuing as an advocate.

EC 5-11 A lawyer should not permit his personal interests to influence his advice relative to a suggestion by his client that additional counsel be employed. In like manner, his personal interests should not deter him from suggesting that additional counsel be employed; on the contrary, he should be alert to the desirability of recommending additional counsel when, in his judgment, the proper representation of his client requires it. However, a lawyer should advise his client not to employ additional counsel suggested by the client if the lawyer believes that such employment would be a disservice to the client, and he should disclose the reasons for his belief.

EC 5-12 Inability of co-counsel to agree on a matter vital to the representation of their client requires that their disagreement be submitted by them jointly to their client for his resolution, and the decision of the client shall control the action to be taken.

EC 5-13 A lawyer should not maintain membership in or be influenced by any organization of employees that undertakes to prescribe, direct, or suggest when or how he should fulfill his professional obligations to a person or organization that employs him as a lawyer. Although it is not necessarily improper for a lawyer employed by a corporation or similar entity to be a member of an organization of employees, he should be vigilant to safeguard his fidelity as a lawyer to his employer, free from outside influences.

Interests of Multiple Clients

EC 5-14 Maintaining the independence of professional judgment required of a lawyer precludes his acceptance or continuation of employment that will adversely affect his judgment on behalf of or dilute his loyalty to a client. This problem arises whenever a lawyer is asked to represent two or more clients who may have differing interests, whether such interests be conflicting, inconsistent, diverse, or otherwise discordant.

EC 5-15 If a lawyer is requested to undertake or to continue representation of multiple clients having potentially differing interests, he must weigh carefully the possibility that his judgment may be impaired or his loyalty divided if he accepts or continues the employment. He should resolve all doubts against the propriety of the representation. A lawyer should never represent in litigation multiple clients with differing interests; and there are few situations in which he would be justified in representing in litigation multiple clients with potentially differing interests. If a lawyer accepted such employment and the interests did become actually differing, he would have to withdraw from employment with likelihood of resulting hardship on the clients; and for this reason it is preferable that he refuse the employment initially. On the other hand, there are many instances in which a lawyer may properly serve multiple clients having potentially differing interests in matters not involving litigation. If the interests vary only slightly, it is generally likely that the lawyer will not be subjected to an adverse influence and that he can retain his independent judgment on behalf of each client; and if the interests become differing, withdrawal is less likely to have a disruptive effect upon the causes of his clients.

EC 5-16 In those instances in which a lawyer is justified in representing two or more clients having differing interests, it is nevertheless essential that each client be given the opportunity to evaluate his need for representation free of any potential conflict and to obtain other counsel if he so desires. Thus before a lawyer may represent multiple clients, he should explain fully to each client the implications of the common representation and should accept or continue employment only if the clients consent. If there are present other circumstances that might cause any of the multiple clients to question the undivided loyalty of the lawyer, he should also advise all of the clients of those circumstances.

EC 5-17 Typically recurring situations involving potentially differing interests are those in which a lawyer is asked to represent co-defendants in a criminal case, co-plaintiffs in a personal injury case, an insured and his insurer, and beneficiaries of the estate of a decedent. Whether a lawyer can fairly and adequately protect the interests of multiple clients in these and similar situations depends upon an analysis of each case. In certain circumstances, there may exist little chance of the judgment of the lawyer being adversely affected by the slight possibility that the interests will become actually differing; in other circumstances, the chance of adverse effect upon his judgment is not unlikely.

EC 5-18 A lawyer employed or retained by a corporation or similar entity owes his allegiance to the entity and not to a stockholder, director, officer, employee, representative, or other person connected with the entity. In advising the entity, a lawyer should keep paramount its interests and his professional judgment should not be influenced by the personal desires of any person or organization. Occasionally a lawyer for an entity is requested by a stockholder, director, officer, employee, representative, or other person connected with the entity to represent him in an individual capacity; in such case the lawyer may serve the individual only if the lawyer is convinced that differing interests are not present.

EC 5-19 A lawyer may represent several clients whose interests are not actually or potentially differing. Nevertheless, he should explain any circumstances that might cause a client to question his undivided loyalty. Regardless of the belief of a lawyer that he may properly represent multiple clients, he must defer to a client who holds the contrary belief and withdraw from representation of that client.

EC 5-20 A lawyer is often asked to serve as an impartial arbitrator or mediator in matters which involve present or former clients. He may serve in either capacity if he first discloses such present or former relationships. After a lawyer has undertaken to act as an impartial arbitrator or mediator, he should not thereafter represent in the dispute any of the parties involved.

Desires of Third Persons

EC 5-21 The obligation of a lawyer to exercise professional judgment solely on behalf of his client requires that he disregard the desires of others that might impair his free judgment. The desires of a third person will seldom adversely affect a lawyer unless that person is in a position to exert strong economic, political, or social pressures upon the lawyer. These influences are often subtle, and a lawyer must be alert to their existence. A lawyer subjected to outside pressures should make full disclosure of them to his client; and if he or his client believes that the effectiveness of his representation has been or will be impaired thereby, the lawyer should take proper steps to withdraw from representation of his client.

EC 5-22 Economic, political, or social pressures by third persons are less likely to impinge upon the independent judgment of a lawyer in a matter in which he is compensated directly by his client and his professional work is exclusively with his client. On the other hand, if a lawyer is compensated from a source other than his client, he may feel a sense of responsibility to someone other than his client.

EC 5-23 A person or organization that pays or furnishes lawyers to represent others possesses a potential power to exert strong pressures against the independent judgment of those lawyers. Some employers may be interested in furthering their own economic, political, or social goals without regard to the professional responsibility of the lawyer to his individual client. Others may be far more concerned with establishment or extension of legal principles than in the immediate protection of the rights of the lawyer's individual client. On some occasions, decisions on priority of work may be made by the employer rather than the lawyer with the result that prosecution of work already undertaken for clients is postponed to their detriment. Similarly, an employer may seek, consciously or unconsciously, to further its own economic interests through the actions of the lawyers employed by it. Since a lawyer must always be free to exercise his professional judgment without regard to the interests or motives of a third person, the lawyer who is employed by one to represent another must constantly guard against erosion of his professional freedom.

EC 5-24 To assist a lawyer in preserving his professional independence, a number of courses are available to him. For example, a lawyer should not practice with or in the form of a professional legal corporation, even though the corporate form is permitted by law, if any director, officer, or stockholder of it is a nonlawyer. Although a lawyer may be employed by a business corporation with nonlawyers serving as directors or officers, and they necessarily have the right to make decisions of business policy, a lawyer must decline to accept direction of his professional judgment from any layman. Various types of legal aid offices are administered by boards of directors composed of lawyers and laymen. A lawyer should not accept employment from such an organization unless the board sets only broad policies and there is no interference in the relationship of the lawyer and the individual client he serves. Where a lawyer is employed by an organization, a written agreement that defines the relationship between him and the organization and provides for his independence is desirable since it may serve to prevent misunderstanding as to their respective roles. Although other innovations in the means of supplying legal counsel may develop, the responsibility of the lawyer to maintain his professional independence remains constant, and the legal profession must insure that changing circumstances do not result in loss of the professional independence of the lawyer.

DISCIPLINARY RULES

DR 5-101 Refusing Employment When the Interests of the Lawyer May Impair His Independent Professional Judgment.

- (A) Except with the consent of his client after full disclosure, a lawyer shall not accept employment if the exercise of his professional judgment on behalf of his client will be or reasonably may be affected by his own financial, business, property, or personal interests.
- (B) A lawyer or the lawyer's partners or associates shall not prepare an instrument in which a client desires to name the lawyer beneficially unless the lawyer is the spouse of, or is the son-in-law or daughter-in-law of, or is otherwise related by consanguinity or affinity, within the third degree, to the client.
- (C) A lawyer shall not accept employment in contemplated or pending litigation if he knows or it is obvious that he or a lawyer in his firm ought to be called as a witness, except that he may undertake the employment and he or a lawyer in his firm may testify:
  - (1) If the testimony will relate solely to an uncontested matter.
  - (2) If the testimony will relate solely to a matter of formality and there is no reason to believe that substantial evidence will be offered in opposition to the testimony.
  - (3) If the testimony will relate solely to the nature and value of legal services rendered in the case by the lawyer or his firm to the client.
  - (4) As to any matter, if refusal would work a substantial hardship on the client because of the distinctive value of the lawyer or his firm as counsel in the particular case. [Court Order December 16, 1977]

Referred to in DR 5-102

DR 5-102 Withdrawal as Counsel When the Lawyer Becomes a Witness.

- (A) If, after undertaking employment in contemplated or pending litigation, a lawyer learns or it is obvious that he or a lawyer in his firm ought to be called as a witness on behalf of his client, he shall withdraw from the conduct of the trial and his firm, if any, shall not continue representation in the trial, except that he may continue the representation and he or a lawyer in his firm may testify in the circumstances enumerated in DR 5-101 (C) (1) through (4).
- (B) If, after undertaking employment in contemplated or pending litigation, a lawyer learns or it is obvious that he or a lawyer in his firm may be called as a witness other than on behalf of his client, he may continue the representation until it is apparent that his testimony is or may be prejudicial to his client.

Referred to in DR 7-101

DR 5-103 Avoiding Acquisition of Interest in Litigation.

- (A) A lawyer shall not acquire a proprietary interest in the cause of action or subject matter of litigation he is conducting for a client, except that he may:
  - (1) Acquire a lien granted by law to secure his fee or expenses.
  - (2) Contract with a client for a reasonable contingent fee in a civil case.
- (B) While representing a client in connection with contemplated or pending litigation, a lawyer shall not advance or guarantee financial assistance to his client, except that a lawyer may advance or guarantee the expenses of litigation, including court costs, expenses of investigation, expenses of medical examination, and costs of obtaining and presenting evidence, provided the client remains ultimately liable for such expenses.

DR 5-104 Limiting Business Relations with a Client.

- (A) A lawyer shall not enter into a business transaction with a client if they have differing interests therein and if the client expects the lawyer to exercise his professional judgment therein for the protection of the client, unless the client has consented after full disclosure.
- (B) Prior to conclusion of all aspects of the matter giving rise to his employment, a lawyer shall not enter into any arrangement or understanding with a client or a prospective client by which he acquires an interest in publication rights with respect to the subject matter of his employment or proposed employment.

DR 5-105 Refusing to Accept or Continue Employment if the Interests of Another Client May Impair the Independent Professional Judgment of the Lawyer.

- (A) In no event shall a lawyer represent both parties in dissolution of marriage proceedings whether or not contested or involving custody of children, alimony, child support or property settlement.
- (B) A lawyer shall decline proffered employment if the exercise of his independent professional judgment in behalf of a client will be or is likely to be adversely affected by the acceptance of the proffered employment, except to the extent permitted under DR 5-105 (D).
- (C) A lawyer shall not continue multiple employment if the exercise of his independent professional judgment in behalf of a client will be or is likely to be adversely affected by his representation of another client, except to the extent permitted under DR 5-105 (D).
- (D) In the situations covered by DR 5-105 (B) and (C), a lawyer may represent multiple clients if it is obvious that he can adequately represent the interest of each and if each consents to the representation after full disclosure of the possible effect of such representation on the exercise of his independent professional judgment on behalf of each.

- (E) If a lawyer is required to decline employment or to withdraw from employment under DR 5-105, no partner or associate of his or his firm may accept or continue such employment. [Court Order February 17, 1978]

Referred to in DR 7-101

DR 5-106 Settling Similar Claims of Clients.

- (A) A lawyer who represents two or more clients shall not make or participate in the making of an aggregate settlement of the claims of or against his clients, unless each client has consented to the settlement after being advised of the existence and nature of all the claims involved in the proposed settlement, of the total amount of the settlement, and of the participation of each person in the settlement.

DR 5-107 Avoiding Influence by Others Than the Client.

- (A) Except with the consent of his client after full disclosure, a lawyer shall not:
- (1) Accept compensation for his legal services from one other than his client.
  - (2) Accept from one other than his client any thing of value related to his representation of or his employment by his client.
- (B) A lawyer shall not permit a person who recommends, employs, or pays him to render legal services for another to direct or regulate his professional judgment in rendering such legal services.
- (C) A lawyer shall not practice with or in the form of a professional corporation or association authorized to practice law for a profit, if:
- (1) A nonlawyer owns any interest therein, except that a fiduciary representative of the estate of a lawyer may hold the stock or interest of the lawyer for a reasonable time during administration;
  - (2) A nonlawyer is a corporate director or officer thereof; or
  - (3) A nonlawyer has the right to direct or control the professional judgment of a lawyer.

CANON 6

A Lawyer Should Represent a Client Competently

ETHICAL CONSIDERATIONS

EC 6-1 Because of his vital role in the legal process, a lawyer should act with competence and proper care in representing clients. He should strive to become and remain proficient in his practice and should accept employment only in matters which he is or intends to become competent to handle.

EC 6-2 A lawyer is aided in attaining and maintaining his competence by keeping abreast of current legal literature and developments, participating in continuing legal education programs, concentrating in particular areas of the law, and by utilizing other available means. He has the additional ethical obligation to assist in improving the legal profession, and he may do so by participating in bar activities intended to advance the quality and standards of members of the profession. Of particular importance is the careful training of his younger associates and the giving of sound guidance to all lawyers who consult him. In short, a lawyer should strive at all levels to aid the legal profession in advancing the highest possible standards of integrity and competence and to meet those standards himself.

EC 6-3 While the licensing of a lawyer is evidence that he has met the standards then prevailing for admission to the bar, a lawyer generally should not accept employment in any area of the law in which he is not qualified. However, he may accept such employment if in good faith he expects to become qualified through study and investigation, as long as such preparation would not result in unreasonable delay or expense to his client. Proper preparation and representation may require the association by the lawyer of professionals in other disciplines. A lawyer offered employment in a matter in which he is not and does not expect to become so qualified should either decline the employment or, with the consent of his client, accept the employment and associate a lawyer who is competent in the matter.

EC 6-4 Having undertaken representation, a lawyer should use proper care to safeguard the interests of his client. If a lawyer has accepted employment in a matter beyond his competence but in which he expected to become competent, he should diligently undertake the work and study necessary to qualify himself. In addition to being qualified to handle a particular matter, his obligation to his client requires him to prepare adequately for and give appropriate attention to his legal work.

EC 6-5 A lawyer should have pride in his professional endeavors. His obligation to act competently calls for higher motivation than that arising from fear of civil liability or disciplinary penalty.

EC 6-6 A lawyer should not seek, by contract or other means, to limit his individual liability to his client for his malpractice. A lawyer who handles the affairs of his client properly has no need to attempt to limit his liability for his professional activities and one who does not handle the affairs of his client properly should not be permitted to do so. A lawyer who is a stockholder in or is associated with a professional legal corporation may, however, limit his liability for malpractice of his associates in the corporation, but only to the extent permitted by law.

DISCIPLINARY RULES

DR 6-101 Failing to Act Competently.

- (A) A lawyer shall not:

- (1) Handle a legal matter which he knows or should know that he is not competent to handle, without associating with him a lawyer who is competent to handle it.
- (2) Handle a legal matter without preparation adequate in the circumstances.
- (3) Neglect a legal matter entrusted to him.

Referred to in R.P.P. 5 "d"

DR 6-102 Limiting Liability to Client.

- (A) A lawyer shall not attempt to exonerate himself from or limit his liability to his client for his personal malpractice.

CANON 7

A Lawyer Should Represent a Client Zealously Within the Bounds of the Law

ETHICAL CONSIDERATIONS

EC 7-1 The duty of a lawyer, both to his client and to the legal system, is to represent his client zealously within the bounds of the law, which includes Disciplinary Rules and enforceable professional regulations. The professional responsibility of a lawyer derives from his membership in a profession which has the duty of assisting members of the public to secure and protect available legal rights and benefits. In our government of laws and not of men, each member of our society is entitled to have his conduct judged and regulated in accordance with the law; to seek any lawful objective through legally permissible means; and to present for adjudication any lawful claim, issue, or defense.

EC 7-2 The bounds of the law in a given case are often difficult to ascertain. The language of legislative enactments and judicial opinions may be uncertain as applied to varying factual situations. The limits and specific meaning of apparently relevant law may be made doubtful by changing or developing constitutional interpretations, inadequately expressed statutes or judicial opinions, and changing public and judicial attitudes. Certainty of law ranges from well-settled rules through areas of conflicting authority to areas without precedent.

EC 7-3 Where the bounds of law are uncertain, the action of a lawyer may depend on whether he is serving as advocate or adviser. A lawyer may serve simultaneously as both advocate and adviser, but the two roles are essentially different. In asserting a position on behalf of his client, an advocate for the most part deals with past conduct and must take the facts as he finds them. By contrast, a lawyer serving as adviser primarily assists his client in determining the course of future conduct and relationships. While serving as advocate, a lawyer should resolve in favor of his client doubts as to the bounds of the law. In serving a client as adviser, a lawyer in appropriate circumstances should give his professional opinion as to what the ultimate decisions of the courts would likely be as to the applicable law.

Duty of the Lawyer to a Client

EC 7-4 The advocate may urge any permissible construction of the law favorable to his client, without regard to his professional opinion as to the likelihood that the construction will ultimately prevail. His conduct is within the bounds of the law, and therefore permissible, if the position taken is supported by the law or is supportable by a good faith argument for an extension, modification, or reversal of the law. However, a lawyer is not justified in asserting a position in litigation that is frivolous.

EC 7-5 A lawyer as adviser furthers the interest of his client by giving his professional opinion as to what he believes would likely be the ultimate decision of the courts on the matter at hand and by informing his client of the practical effect of such decision. He may continue in the representation of his client even though his client has elected to pursue a course of conduct contrary to the advice of the lawyer so long as he does not thereby knowingly assist the client to engage in illegal conduct or to take a frivolous legal position. A lawyer should never encourage or aid his client to commit criminal acts or counsel his client on how to violate the law and avoid punishment therefor.

EC 7-6 Whether the proposed action of a lawyer is within the bounds of the law may be a perplexing question when his client is contemplating a course of conduct having legal consequences that vary according to the client's intent, motive, or desires at the time of the action. Often a lawyer is asked to assist his client in developing evidence relevant to the state of mind of the client at a particular time. He may properly assist his client in the development and preservation of evidence of existing motive, intent, or desire; obviously, he may not do anything furthering the creation or preservation of false evidence. In many cases a lawyer may not be certain as to the state of mind of his client, and in those situations he should resolve reasonable doubts in favor of his client.

EC 7-7 In certain areas of legal representation not affecting the merits of the cause or substantially prejudicing the rights of a client, a lawyer is entitled to make decisions on his own. But otherwise the authority to make decisions is exclusively that of the client and, if made within the framework of the law, such decisions are binding on his lawyer. As typical examples in civil cases, it is for the client to decide whether he will accept a settlement offer or whether he will waive his right to plead an affirmative defense. A defense lawyer in a criminal case has the duty to advise his client fully on whether a particular plea to a charge appears to be desirable and as to the prospects of success on appeal, but it is for the client to decide what plea should be entered and whether an appeal should be taken.

EC 7-8 A lawyer should exert his best efforts to insure that decisions of his client are made only after the client has been informed of relevant considerations. A lawyer ought to initiate this decision-making process if the client does not do so. Advice of a lawyer to his client need not be confined to purely legal considerations. A lawyer should advise his client of the possible effect of each legal alternative. A lawyer should bring to bear upon this decision-making process the fullness of his experience as well as his objective viewpoint. In assisting his client to reach a proper decision, it is often desirable for a lawyer to point out those factors which may lead to a decision that is morally just as well as legally permissible. He may emphasize the possibility of harsh consequences that might result from assertion of legally permissible positions. In the final analysis, however, the lawyer should always remember that the decision whether to forego legally available objectives or methods because of nonlegal factors is ultimately for the client and not for himself. In the event that the client in a nonadjudicatory matter insists upon a course of conduct that is contrary to the judgment and advice of the lawyer but not prohibited by Disciplinary Rules, the lawyer may withdraw from the employment.

EC 7-9 In the exercise of his professional judgment on those decisions which are for his determination in the handling of a legal matter, a lawyer should always act in a manner consistent with the best interests of his client. However, when an action in the best interest of his client seems to him to be unjust, he may ask his client for permission to forego such action.

EC 7-10 The duty of a lawyer to represent his client with zeal does not militate against his concurrent obligation to treat with consideration all persons involved in the legal process and to avoid the infliction of needless harm.

EC 7-11 The responsibilities of a lawyer may vary according to the intelligence, experience, mental condition or age of a client, the obligation of a public officer, or the nature of a particular proceeding. Examples include the representation of an illiterate or an incompetent, service as a public prosecutor or other government lawyer, and appearances before administrative and legislative bodies.

EC 7-12 Any mental or physical condition of a client that renders him incapable of making a considered judgment on his own behalf casts additional responsibilities upon his lawyer. Where an incompetent is acting through a guardian or other legal representative, a lawyer must look to such representative for those decisions which are normally the prerogative of the client to make. If a client under disability has no legal representative, his lawyer may be compelled in court proceedings to make decisions on behalf of the client. If the client is capable of understanding the matter in question or of contributing to the advancement of his interests, regardless of whether he is legally disqualified from performing certain acts, the lawyer should obtain from him all possible aid. If the disability of a client and the lack of a legal representative compel the lawyer to make decisions for his client, the lawyer should consider all circumstances then prevailing and act with care to safeguard and advance the interests of his client. But obviously a lawyer cannot perform any act or make any decision which the law requires his client to perform or make, either acting for himself if competent, or by a duly constituted representative if legally incompetent.

EC 7-13 The responsibility of a public prosecutor differs from that of the usual advocate; his duty is to seek justice, not merely to convict. This special duty exists because: (1) the prosecutor represents the sovereign and therefore should use restraint in the discretionary exercise of governmental powers, such as in the selection of cases to prosecute; (2) during trial the prosecutor is not only an advocate but he also may make decisions normally made by an individual client, and those affecting the public interest should be fair to all; and (3) in our system of criminal justice the accused is to be given the benefit of all reasonable doubts. With respect to evidence and witnesses, the prosecutor has responsibilities different from those of a lawyer in private practice: the prosecutor should make timely disclosure to the defense of available evidence, known to him, that tends to negate the guilt of the accused, mitigate the degree of the offense, or reduce the punishment. Further, a prosecutor should not intentionally avoid pursuit of evidence merely because he believes it will damage the prosecutor's case or aid the accused.

EC 7-14 A government lawyer who has discretionary power relative to litigation should refrain from instituting or continuing litigation that is obviously unfair. A government lawyer not having such discretionary power who believes there is lack of merit in a controversy submitted to him should so advise his superiors and recommend the avoidance of unfair litigation. A government lawyer in a civil action or administrative proceeding has the responsibility to seek justice and to develop a full and fair record, and he should not use his position or the economic power of the government to harass parties or to bring about unjust settlements or results.

EC 7-15 The nature and purpose of proceedings before administrative agencies vary widely. The proceedings may be legislative or quasi-judicial or a combination of both. They may be ex parte in character, in which event they may originate either at the instance of the agency or upon motion of an interested party. The scope of an inquiry may be purely investigative or it may be truly adversary looking toward the adjudication of specific rights of a party or of classes of parties. The foregoing are but examples of some of the types of proceedings conducted by administrative agencies. A lawyer appearing before an administrative agency, regardless of the nature of the proceeding it is conducting, has the continuing duty to advance the cause of his client within the bounds of the law. Where the applicable rules of the agency impose specific obligations upon a lawyer, it is his duty to comply therewith, unless the lawyer has a legitimate basis for challenging the validity thereof. In all appearances before administrative agencies, a lawyer should identify himself, his client if identity of his client is not privileged, and the representative nature of his appearance. It is not improper, however, for a lawyer to seek from an agency information available to the public without identifying his client.

EC 7-16 The primary business of a legislative body is to enact laws rather than to adjudicate controversies, although on occasion the activities of a legislative body may take on the characteristics of an adversary proceeding, particularly in investigative and impeachment matters. The role of a lawyer supporting or opposing proposed legislation normally is quite different from his role in representing a person under investigation or on trial by a legislative body. When a lawyer appears in connection with proposed legislation, he seeks to affect the lawmaking process, but when he appears on behalf of a client in investigatory or impeachment proceedings, he is concerned with the protection of the rights of his client. In either event, he should identify himself and his client, if identity of his client is not privileged, and should comply with applicable laws and legislative rules.

EC 7-17 The obligation of loyalty to his client applies only to a lawyer in the discharge of his professional duties and implies no obligation to adopt a personal viewpoint favorable to the interests or desires of his client. While a lawyer must act always with circumspection in order that his conduct will not adversely affect the rights of a client in a matter he is then handling, he may take positions on public issues and espouse legal reforms he favors without regard to the individual views of any client.

EC 7-18 The legal system in its broadest sense functions best when persons in need of legal advice or assistance are represented by their own counsel. For this reason a lawyer should not communicate on the subject matter of the representation of his client with a person he knows to be represented in the matter by a lawyer, unless pursuant to law or rule of court or unless he has the consent of the lawyer for that person. If one is not represented by counsel, a lawyer representing another may have to deal directly with the unrepresented person; in such an instance, a lawyer should not undertake to give advice to the person who is attempting to represent himself, except that he may advise him to obtain a lawyer.

Duty of the Lawyer to the Adversary System of Justice

EC 7-19 Our legal system provides for the adjudication of disputes governed by the rules of substantive, evidentiary, and procedural law. An adversary presentation counters the natural human tendency to judge too swiftly in terms of the familiar that which is not yet fully known; the advocate, by his zealous preparation and presentation of facts and law, enables the tribunal to come to the hearing with an open and neutral mind and to render impartial judgments. The duty of a lawyer to his client and his duty to the legal system are the same: to represent his client zealously within the bounds of the law.

EC 7-20 In order to function properly, our adjudicative process requires an informed, impartial tribunal capable of administering justice promptly and efficiently according to procedures that command public confidence and respect. Not only must there be competent, adverse presentation of evidence and issues, but a tribunal must be aided by rules appropriate to an effective and dignified process. The procedures under which tribunals operate in our adversary system have been prescribed largely by legislative enactments, court rules and decisions, and administrative rules. Through the years certain concepts of proper professional conduct have become rules of law applicable to the adversary adjudicative process. Many of these concepts are the bases for standards of professional conduct set forth in the Disciplinary Rules.

EC 7-21 The civil adjudicative process is primarily designed for the settlement of disputes between parties, while the criminal process is designed for the protection of society as a whole. Threatening to use, or using, the criminal process to coerce adjustment of private civil claims or controversies is a subversion of that process; further, the person against whom the criminal process is so misused may be deterred from asserting his legal rights and thus the usefulness of the civil process in settling private disputes is impaired. As in all cases of abuse of judicial process, the improper use of criminal process tends to diminish public confidence in our legal system.

EC 7-22 Respect for judicial rulings is essential to the proper administration of justice; however, a litigant or his lawyer may, in good faith and within the framework of the law, take steps to test the correctness of a ruling of a tribunal.

EC 7-23 The complexity of law often makes it difficult for a tribunal to be fully informed unless the pertinent law is presented by the lawyers in the cause. A tribunal that is fully informed on the applicable law is better able to make a fair and accurate determination of the matter before it. The adversary system contemplates that each lawyer will present and argue the existing law in the light most favorable to his client. Where a lawyer knows of legal authority in the controlling jurisdiction directly adverse to the position of his client, he should inform the tribunal of its existence unless his adversary has done so; but, having made such disclosure, he may challenge its soundness in whole or in part.

EC 7-24 In order to bring about just and informed decisions, evidentiary and procedural rules have been established by tribunals to permit the inclusion of relevant evidence and argument and the exclusion of all other considerations. The expression by a lawyer of his personal opinion as to the justness of a cause, as to the credibility of a witness, as to the culpability of a civil litigant, or as to the guilt or innocence of an accused is not a proper subject for argument to the trier of fact. It is improper as to factual matters because admissible evidence possessed by a lawyer should be presented only as sworn testimony. It is improper as to all other matters because, were the rule otherwise, the silence of a lawyer on a given occasion could be construed unfavorably to his client. However, a lawyer may argue, on his analysis of the evidence, for any position or conclusion with respect to any of the foregoing matters.

EC 7-25 Rules of evidence and procedure are designed to lead to just decisions and are part of the framework of the law. Thus while a lawyer may take steps in good faith and within the framework of the law to test the validity of rules, he is not justified in consciously violating such rules and he should be diligent in his efforts to guard against his unintentional violation of them. As examples, a lawyer should subscribe to or verify only those pleadings that he believes are in compliance with applicable law and rules; a lawyer should not make any prefatory statement before a tribunal in regard to the purported facts of the case on trial unless he believes that his statement will be supported by admissible evidence; a lawyer should not ask a witness a question solely for the purpose of harassing or embarrassing him; and a lawyer should not by subterfuge put before a jury matters which it cannot properly consider.

EC 7-26 The law and Disciplinary Rules prohibit the use of fraudulent, false, or perjured testimony or evidence. A lawyer who knowingly participates in introduction of such testimony or evidence is subject to discipline. A lawyer should, however, present any admissible evidence his client desires to have presented unless he knows, or from facts within his knowledge should know, that such testimony or evidence is false, fraudulent, or perjured.

EC 7-27 Because it interferes with the proper administration of justice, a lawyer should not suppress evidence that he or his client has a legal obligation to reveal or produce. In like manner, a lawyer should not advise or cause a person to secrete himself or to leave the jurisdiction of a tribunal for the purpose of making him unavailable as a witness therein.

EC 7-28 Witnesses should always testify truthfully and should be free from any financial inducements that might tempt them to do otherwise. A lawyer should not pay or agree to pay a nonexpert witness an amount in excess of reimbursement for expenses and financial loss incident to his being a witness; however, a lawyer may pay or agree to pay an expert witness a reasonable fee for his services as an expert. But in no event should a lawyer pay or agree to pay a contingent fee to any witness. A lawyer should exercise reasonable diligence to see that his client and lay associates conform to these standards.

EC 7-29 To safeguard the impartiality that is essential to the judicial process, veniremen and jurors should be protected against extraneous influences. When impartiality is present, public confidence in the judicial system is enhanced. There should be no extrajudicial communication with veniremen prior to trial or with jurors during trial by or on behalf of a lawyer connected with the case. Furthermore, a lawyer who is not connected with the case should not communicate with or cause another to communicate with a venireman or a juror about the case. After the trial, communication by a lawyer with jurors is permitted so long as he refrains from asking questions or making comments that tend to harass or embarrass the juror or to influence actions of the juror in future cases. Were a lawyer to be prohibited from communicating after trial with a juror, he could not ascertain if the verdict might be subject to legal challenge, in which event the invalidity of a verdict might go undetected. When an extrajudicial communication by a lawyer with a juror is permitted by law, it should be made considerately and with deference to the personal feelings of the juror.

EC 7-30 Vexatious or harassing investigations of veniremen or jurors seriously impair the effectiveness of our jury system. For this reason, a lawyer or anyone on his behalf who conducts an investigation of veniremen or jurors should act with circumspection and restraint.

EC 7-31 Communications with or investigations of members of families of veniremen or jurors by a lawyer or by anyone on his behalf are subject to the restrictions imposed upon the lawyer with respect to his communications with or investigations of veniremen and jurors.

EC 7-32 Because of his duty to aid in preserving the integrity of the jury system, a lawyer who learns of improper conduct by or towards a venireman, a juror, or a member of the family of either should make a prompt report to the court regarding such conduct.

EC 7-33 A goal of our legal system is that each party shall have his case, criminal or civil, adjudicated by an impartial tribunal. The attainment of this goal may be defeated by dissemination of news or comments which tend to influence judge or jury. Such news or comments may prevent prospective jurors from being impartial at the outset of the trial and may also interfere with the obligation of jurors to base their verdict solely upon the evidence admitted in the trial. The release by a lawyer of out-of-court statements regarding an anticipated or pending trial may improperly affect the impartiality of the tribunal. For these reasons, standards for permissible and prohibited conduct of a lawyer with respect to trial publicity have been established.

EC 7-34 The impartiality of a public servant in our legal system may be impaired by the receipt of gifts or loans. A lawyer, therefore, is never justified in making a gift or a loan to a judge, a hearing officer, or an official or employee of a tribunal.

EC 7-35 All litigants and lawyers should have access to tribunals on an equal basis. Generally, in adversary proceedings a lawyer should not communicate with a judge relative to a matter pending before, or which is to be brought before, a tribunal over which he presides in circumstances which might have the effect or give the appearance of granting undue advantage to one party. For example, a lawyer should not communicate with a tribunal by a writing unless a copy thereof is promptly delivered to opposing counsel or to the adverse party if he is not represented by a lawyer. Ordinarily an oral communication by a lawyer with a judge or hearing officer should be made only upon adequate notice to opposing counsel, or, if there is none, to the opposing party. A lawyer should not condone or lend himself to private importunities by another with a judge or hearing officer on behalf of himself or his client.

EC 7-36 Judicial hearings ought to be conducted through dignified and orderly procedures designed to protect the rights of all parties. Although a lawyer has the duty to represent his client zealously, he should not engage in any conduct that offends the dignity and decorum of proceedings. While maintaining his independence, a lawyer should be respectful, courteous, and aboveboard in his relations with a judge or hearing officer before whom he appears. He should avoid undue solicitude for the comfort or convenience of judge or jury and should avoid any other conduct calculated to gain special consideration.

EC 7-37 In adversary proceedings, clients are litigants and though ill feeling may exist between clients, such ill feeling should not influence a lawyer in his conduct, attitude, and demeanor towards opposing lawyers. A lawyer should not make unfair or derogatory personal reference to opposing counsel. Haranguing and offensive tactics by lawyers interfere with the orderly administration of justice and have no proper place in our legal system.

EC 7-38 A lawyer should be courteous to opposing counsel and should accede to reasonable requests regarding court proceedings, settings, continuances, waiver of procedural formalities, and similar matters which do not prejudice the rights of his client. He should follow local customs of courtesy or practice, unless he gives timely notice to opposing counsel of his intention not to do so. A lawyer should be punctual in fulfilling all professional commitments.

EC 7-39 In the final analysis, proper functioning of the adversary system depends upon co-operation between lawyers and tribunals in utilizing procedures which will preserve the impartiality of tribunals and make their decisional processes prompt and just, without impinging upon the obligation of lawyers to represent their clients zealously within the framework of the law.

DISCIPLINARY RULES

DR 7-101 Representing a Client Zealously.

- (A) A lawyer shall not intentionally:
- (1) Fail to seek the lawful objectives of his client through reasonably available means permitted by law and the Disciplinary Rules, except as provided by DR 7-101 (B). A lawyer does not violate this Disciplinary Rule, however, by acceding to reasonable requests of opposing counsel which do not prejudice the rights of his client, by being punctual in fulfilling all professional commitments, by avoiding offensive tactics, or by treating with courtesy and consideration all persons involved in the legal process.

- (2) Fail to carry out a contract of employment entered into with a client for professional services, but he may withdraw as permitted under DR 2-110, DR 5-102, and DR 5-105.
  - (3) Prejudice or damage his client during the course of the professional relationship, except as required under DR 7-102 (B).
- (B) In his representation of a client, a lawyer may:
- (1) Where permissible, exercise his professional judgment to waive or fail to assert a right or position of his client.
  - (2) Refuse to aid or participate in conduct that he believes to be unlawful, even though there is some support for an argument that the conduct is legal.

DR 7-102 Representing a Client Within the Bounds of the Law.

- (A) In his representation of a client, a lawyer shall not:
- (1) File a suit, assert a position, conduct a defense, delay a trial, or take other action on behalf of his client when he knows or when it is obvious that such action would serve merely to harass or maliciously injure another.
  - (2) Knowingly advance a claim or defense that is unwarranted under existing law, except that he may advance such claim or defense if it can be supported by good faith argument for an extension, modification, or reversal of existing law.
  - (3) Conceal or knowingly fail to disclose that which he is required by law to reveal.
  - (4) Knowingly use perjured testimony or false evidence.
  - (5) Knowingly make a false statement of law or fact.
  - (6) Participate in the creation or preservation of evidence when he knows or it is obvious that the evidence is false.
  - (7) Counsel or assist his client in conduct that the lawyer knows to be illegal or fraudulent.
  - (8) Knowingly engage in other illegal conduct or conduct contrary to a Disciplinary Rule.
- (B) A lawyer who receives information clearly establishing that:
- (1) His client has, in the course of the representation, perpetrated a fraud upon a person or tribunal shall promptly call upon his client to rectify the same, and if his client refuses or is unable to do so, he shall reveal the fraud to the affected person or tribunal in all circumstances except when barred from doing so by section 622.10, The Code. If he is barred from doing so by section 622.10, he shall immediately withdraw from representation of the client unless the client fully discloses the fraud to the person or tribunal.

- (2) A person other than his client has perpetrated a fraud upon a tribunal shall promptly reveal the fraud to the tribunal. [Court Order January 21, 1980]

Referred to in DR 7-101

DR 7-103 Performing the Duty of Public Prosecutor or Other Government Lawyer.

- (A) A public prosecutor or other government lawyer shall not institute or cause to be instituted criminal charges when he knows or it is obvious that the charges are not supported by probable cause.
- (B) A public prosecutor or other government lawyer in criminal litigation shall make timely disclosure to counsel for the defendant, or to the defendant if he has no counsel, of the existence of evidence, known to the prosecutor or other government lawyer, that tends to negate the guilt of the accused, mitigate the degree of the offense, or reduce the punishment.

DR 7-104 Communicating With One of Adverse Interest.

- (A) During the course of his representation of a client a lawyer shall not:
- (1) Communicate or cause another to communicate on the subject of the representation with a party he knows to be represented by a lawyer in that matter unless he has the prior consent of the lawyer representing such other party or is authorized by law to do so.
- (2) Give advice to a person who is not represented by a lawyer, other than the advice to secure counsel, if the interests of such person are or have a reasonable possibility of being in conflict with the interests of his client.

DR 7-105 Threatening Criminal Prosecution.

- (A) A lawyer shall not present, participate in presenting, or threaten to present criminal charges solely to obtain an advantage in a civil matter.

DR 7-106 Trial Conduct.

- (A) A lawyer shall not disregard or advise his client to disregard a standing rule of a tribunal or a ruling of a tribunal made in the course of a proceeding, but he may take appropriate steps in good faith to test the validity of such rule or ruling.
- (B) In presenting a matter to a tribunal, a lawyer shall disclose:
- (1) Legal authority in the controlling jurisdiction known to him to be directly adverse to the position of his client and which is not disclosed by opposing counsel.

- (2) Unless privileged or irrelevant, the identities of the clients he represents and of the persons who employed him.
- (C) In appearing in his professional capacity before a tribunal, a lawyer shall not:
- (1) State or allude to any matter that he has no reasonable basis to believe is relevant to the case or that will not be supported by admissible evidence.
- (2) Ask any question that he has no reasonable basis to believe is relevant to the case and that is intended to degrade a witness or other person.
- (3) Assert his personal knowledge of the facts in issue, except when testifying as a witness.
- (4) Assert his personal opinion as to the justness of a cause, as to the credibility of a witness, as to the culpability of a civil litigant, or as to the guilt or innocence of an accused; but he may argue, on his analysis of the evidence, for any position or conclusion with respect to the matters stated herein.
- (5) Fail to comply with known local customs of courtesy or practice of the bar or a particular tribunal without giving to opposing counsel timely notice of his intent not to comply.
- (6) Engage in undignified or discourteous conduct which is degrading to a tribunal.
- (7) Intentionally or habitually violate any established rule of procedure or of evidence.

DR 7-107 Trial Publicity.

- (A) A lawyer participating in or associated with the investigation of a criminal matter shall not make or participate in making an extrajudicial statement that a reasonable person would expect to be disseminated by means of public communication and that does more than state without elaboration:
- (1) Information contained in a public record.
- (2) That the investigation is in progress.
- (3) The general scope of the investigation including a description of the offense and, if permitted by law, the identity of the victim.
- (4) A request for assistance in apprehending a suspect or assistance in other matters and the information necessary thereto.
- (5) A warning to the public of any dangers.
- (B) A lawyer or law firm associated with the prosecution or defense of a criminal matter shall not, from the time of the filing of a complaint, information, or indictment, the issuance of an arrest warrant, or arrest until the commencement of the trial or disposition without trial, make or participate in making an extrajudicial statement that a reasonable person would expect to be disseminated by means of public communication and that relates to:
- (1) The character, reputation, or prior criminal record (including arrests, indictments, or other charges of crime) of the accused.
- (2) The possibility of a plea of guilty to the offense charged or to a lesser offense.

- (3) The existence or contents of any confession, admission, or statement given by the accused or his refusal or failure to make a statement.
- (4) The performance or results of any examinations or tests or the refusal or failure of the accused to submit to examinations or tests.
- (5) The identity, testimony, or credibility of a prospective witness.
- (6) Any opinion as to guilt or innocence of the accused, the evidence, or the merits of the case.
- (C) DR 7-107 (B) does not preclude a lawyer during such period from announcing:
- (1) The name, age, residence, occupation, and family status of the accused.
  - (2) If the accused has not been apprehended, any information necessary to aid in his apprehension or to warn the public of any dangers he may present.
  - (3) A request for assistance in obtaining evidence.
  - (4) The identity of the victim of the crime.
  - (5) The fact, time, and place of arrest, resistance, pursuit, and use of weapons.
  - (6) The identity of investigating and arresting officers or agencies and the length of the investigation.
  - (7) At the time of seizure, a description of the physical evidence seized, other than a confession, admission, or statement.
  - (8) The nature, substance, or text of the charge.
  - (9) Quotations from or references to public records of the court in the case.
  - (10) The scheduling or result of any step in the judicial proceedings.
  - (11) That the accused denies the charges made against him.
- (D) During the selection of a jury or the trial of a criminal matter, a lawyer or law firm associated with the prosecution or defense of a criminal matter shall not make or participate in making an extrajudicial statement that a reasonable person would expect to be disseminated by means of public communication and that relates to the trial, parties, or issues in the trial or other matters that are reasonably likely to interfere with a fair trial, except that he may quote from or refer without comment to public records of the court in the case.
- (E) After the completion of a trial or disposition without trial of a criminal matter and prior to the imposition of sentence, a lawyer or law firm associated with the prosecution or defense shall not make or participate in making an extrajudicial statement that a reasonable person would expect to be disseminated by public communication and that is reasonably likely to affect the imposition of sentence.
- (F) The foregoing provisions of DR 7-107 also apply to professional disciplinary proceedings and juvenile disciplinary proceedings when pertinent and consistent with other law applicable to such proceedings.
- (G) A lawyer or law firm associated with a civil action shall not during its investigation or litigation make or participate in making an extrajudicial statement, other than a quotation from or reference to public records, that a reasonable person would expect to be disseminated by means of public communication and that relates to:
- (1) Evidence regarding the occurrence or transaction involved.
  - (2) The character, credibility, or criminal record of a party, witness, or prospective witness.
  - (3) The performance or results of any examinations or tests or the refusal or failure of a party to submit to such.
  - (4) His opinion as to the merits of the claims or defenses of a party, except as required by law or administrative rule.
  - (5) Any other matter reasonably likely to interfere with a fair trial of the action.
- (H) During the pendency of an administrative proceeding, a lawyer or law firm associated therewith shall not make or participate in making a statement, other than a quotation from or reference to public records, that a reasonable person would expect to be disseminated by means of public communication if it is made outside the official course of the proceeding and relates to:
- (1) Evidence regarding the occurrence or transaction involved.
  - (2) The character, credibility, or criminal record of a party, witness, or prospective witness.
  - (3) Physical evidence or the performance or results of any examinations or tests or the refusal or failure of a party to submit to such.
  - (4) His opinion as to the merits of the claims, defenses, or positions of an interested person.
  - (5) Any other matter reasonably likely to interfere with a fair hearing.
- (I) The foregoing provisions of DR 7-107 do not preclude a lawyer from replying to charges of misconduct publicly made against him or from participating in the proceedings of legislative, administrative, or other investigative bodies.
- (J) A lawyer shall exercise reasonable care to prevent his employees and associates from making an extrajudicial statement that he would be prohibited from making under DR 7-107.
- DR 7-108 Communication with or Investigation of Jurors.
- (A) Before the trial of a case a lawyer connected therewith shall not communicate with or cause another to communicate with anyone he knows to be a member of the venire from which the jury will be selected for the trial of the case.
  - (B) During the trial of a case:
    - (1) A lawyer connected therewith shall not communicate with or cause another to communicate with any member of the jury.
    - (2) A lawyer who is not connected therewith shall not communicate with or cause another to communicate with a juror concerning the case.
  - (C) DR 7-108 (A) and (B) do not prohibit a lawyer from communicating with veniremen or jurors in the course of official proceedings.

- (D) After discharge of the jury from further consideration of a case with which the lawyer was connected, the lawyer shall not ask questions of or make comments to a member of that jury that are calculated merely to harass or embarrass the juror or to influence his actions in future jury service.
- (E) A lawyer shall not conduct or cause, by financial support or otherwise, another to conduct a vexatious or harassing investigation of either a venireman or a juror.
- (F) All restrictions imposed by DR 7-108 upon a lawyer also apply to communications with or investigations of members of a family of a venireman or a juror.
- (G) A lawyer shall reveal promptly to the court improper conduct by a venireman or a juror, or by another toward a venireman or a juror or a member of his family, of which the lawyer has knowledge.

DR 7-109 Contact with Witnesses.

- (A) A lawyer shall not suppress any evidence that he or his client has a legal obligation to reveal or produce.
- (B) A lawyer shall not advise or cause a person to secrete himself or to leave the jurisdiction of a tribunal for the purpose of making him unavailable as a witness therein.
- (C) A lawyer shall not pay, offer to pay, or acquiesce in the payment of compensation to a witness contingent upon the content of his testimony or the outcome of the case. But a lawyer may advance, guarantee, or acquiesce in the payment of:
  - (1) Expenses reasonably incurred by a witness in attending or testifying.
  - (2) Reasonable compensation to a witness for his loss of time in attending or testifying.
  - (3) A reasonable fee for the professional services of an expert witness.

DR 7-110 Contact with Officials.

- (A) A lawyer shall not give or lend anything of substantial value to a judge, official or employee of a tribunal.
- (B) In an adversary proceeding, a lawyer shall not communicate, or cause another to communicate, as to the merits of the cause with a judge or an official before whom the proceeding is pending, except:
  - (1) In the course of official proceedings in the cause.
  - (2) In writing if he promptly delivers a copy of the writing to opposing counsel or to the adverse party if he is not represented by a lawyer.
  - (3) Orally upon adequate notice to opposing counsel or to the adverse party if he is not represented by a lawyer.
  - (4) As otherwise authorized by law.

CANON 8

A Lawyer Should Assist in Improving the Legal System

ETHICAL CONSIDERATIONS

EC 8-1 Changes in human affairs and imperfections in human institutions make necessary constant efforts to maintain and improve our legal system. This system should function in a manner that commands public respect and fosters the use of legal remedies to achieve redress of grievances. By reason of education and experience, lawyers are especially qualified to recognize deficiencies in the legal system and to initiate corrective measures therein. Thus they should participate in proposing and supporting legislation and programs to improve the system, without regard to the general interests or desires of clients or former clients.

EC 8-2 Rules of law are deficient if they are not just, understandable, and responsive to the needs of society. If a lawyer believes that the existence or absence of a rule of law, substantive or procedural, causes or contributes to an unjust result, he should endeavor by lawful means to obtain appropriate changes in the law. He should encourage the simplification of laws and the repeal or amendment of laws that are outmoded. Likewise, legal procedures should be improved whenever experience indicates a change is needed.

EC 8-3 The fair administration of justice requires the availability of competent lawyers. Members of the public should be educated to recognize the existence of legal problems and the resultant need for legal services, and should be provided methods for intelligent selection of counsel. Those persons unable to pay for legal services should be provided needed services. Clients and lawyers should not be penalized by undue geographical restraints upon representation in legal matters, and the bar should address itself to improvements in licensing, reciprocity, and admission procedures consistent with the needs of modern commerce.

EC 8-4 Whenever a lawyer seeks legislative or administrative changes, he should identify the capacity in which he appears, whether on behalf of himself, a client, or the public. A lawyer may advocate such changes on behalf of a client even though he does not agree with them. But when a lawyer purports to act on behalf of the public, he should espouse only those changes which he conscientiously believes to be in the public interest.

EC 8-5 Fraudulent, deceptive, or otherwise illegal conduct by a participant in a proceeding before a tribunal or legislative body is inconsistent with fair administration of justice, and it should never be participated in or condoned by lawyers. Unless constrained by his obligation to preserve the confidences and secrets of his client, a lawyer should reveal to appropriate authorities any knowledge he may have of such improper conduct.

EC 8-6 Judges and administrative officials having adjudicatory powers ought to be persons of integrity, competence, and suitable temperament. Generally, lawyers are qualified, by personal observation or investigation, to evaluate the qualifications of persons seeking or being considered for such public offices, and for this reason they have a special responsibility to aid in the selection of only those who are qualified. It is the duty of lawyers to endeavor to prevent political considerations from outweighing judicial fitness in the selection of judges. Lawyers should protest earnestly against the appointment or election of those who are unsuited for the bench and should strive to have elected or appointed thereto only those who are willing to forego pursuits, whether of a business, political, or other nature, that may interfere with the free and fair consideration of questions presented for adjudication. Adjudicatory officials, not being wholly free to defend themselves, are entitled to receive the support of the bar against unjust criticism. While a lawyer as a citizen has a right to criticize such officials publicly, he should be certain of the merit of his complaint, use appropriate language, and avoid petty criticisms, for unrestrained and intemperate statements tend to lessen public confidence in our legal system. Criticisms motivated by reasons other than a desire to improve the legal system are not justified.

EC 8-7 Since lawyers are a vital part of the legal system, they should be persons of integrity, of professional skill, and of dedication to the improvement of the system. Thus a lawyer should aid in establishing, as well as enforcing, standards of conduct adequate to protect the public by insuring that those who practice law are qualified to do so.

EC 8-8 Lawyers often serve as legislators or as holders of other public offices. This is highly desirable, as lawyers are uniquely qualified to make significant contributions to the improvement of the legal system. A lawyer who is a public officer, whether full or part-time, should not engage in activities in which his personal or professional interests are or foreseeably may be in conflict with his official duties.

EC 8-9 The advancement of our legal system is of vital importance in maintaining the rule of law and in facilitating orderly changes; therefore, lawyers should encourage, and should aid in making, needed changes and improvements.

DISCIPLINARY RULES

DR 8-101 Action as a Public Official.

- (A) A lawyer who holds public office shall not:
- (1) Use his public position to obtain, or attempt to obtain, a special advantage in legislative matters for himself or for a client under circumstances where he knows or it is obvious that such action is not in the public interest.

- (2) Use his public position to influence, or attempt to influence, a tribunal to act in favor of himself or of a client.
- (3) Accept any thing of value from any person when the lawyer knows or it is obvious that the offer is for the purpose of influencing his action as a public official.

DR 8-102 Statements Concerning Judges and Other Adjudicatory Officers.

- (A) A lawyer shall not knowingly make false statements of fact concerning the qualifications of a candidate for election or appointment to a judicial office.
- (B) A lawyer shall not knowingly make false accusations against a judge or other adjudicatory officer.

CANON 9

A Lawyer Should Avoid Even the Appearance of Professional Impropriety

Referred to in Court Rule 121.2 (c)(3)

ETHICAL CONSIDERATIONS

EC 9-1 Continuation of the American concept that we are to be governed by rules of law requires that the people have faith that justice can be obtained through our legal system. A lawyer should promote public confidence in our system and in the legal profession.

EC 9-2 Public confidence in law and lawyers may be eroded by irresponsible or improper conduct of a lawyer. On occasion, ethical conduct of a lawyer may appear to laymen to be unethical. In order to avoid misunderstandings and hence to maintain confidence, a lawyer should fully and promptly inform his client of material developments in the matters being handled for the client. While a lawyer should guard against otherwise proper conduct that has a tendency to diminish public confidence in the legal system or in the legal profession, his duty to clients or to the public should never be subordinate merely because the full discharge of his obligation may be misunderstood or may tend to subject him or the legal profession to criticism. When explicit ethical guidance does not exist, a lawyer should determine his conduct by acting in a manner that promotes public confidence in the integrity and efficiency of the legal system and the legal profession.

EC 9-3 After a lawyer leaves judicial office or other public employment, he should not accept employment in connection with any matter in which he had substantial responsibility prior to his leaving, since to accept employment would give the appearance of impropriety even if none exists.

EC 9-4 Because the very essence of the legal system is to provide procedures by which matters can be presented in an impartial manner so that they may be decided solely upon the merits, any statement or suggestion by a lawyer that he can or would attempt to circumvent those procedures is detrimental to the legal system and tends to undermine public confidence in it.

EC 9-5 Separation of the funds of a client from those of his lawyer not only serves to protect the client but also avoids even the appearance of impropriety, and therefore commingling of such funds should be avoided.

EC 9-6 Every lawyer owes a solemn duty to uphold the integrity and honor of his profession; to encourage respect for the law and for the courts and the judges thereof; to observe the Code of Professional Responsibility; to act as a member of a learned profession, one dedicated to public service; to co-operate with his brother lawyers in supporting the organized bar through the devoting of his time, efforts, and financial support as his professional standing and ability reasonably permit; to conduct himself so as to reflect credit on the legal profession and to inspire the confidence, respect, and trust of his clients and of the public; and to strive to avoid not only professional impropriety but also the appearance of impropriety.

DISCIPLINARY RULES

DR 9-101 Avoiding Even the Appearance of Impropriety.

- (A) A lawyer shall not accept private employment in a matter upon the merits of which he has acted in a judicial capacity.
- (B) A lawyer shall not accept private employment in a matter in which he had substantial responsibility while he was a public employee.
- (C) A lawyer shall not state or imply that he is able to influence improperly or upon irrelevant grounds any tribunal, legislative body, or public official.

DR 9-102 Preserving Identity of Funds and Property of a Client.

- (A) All funds of clients paid to a lawyer or law firm, other than advances for costs and expenses, shall be deposited in one or more identifiable bank accounts maintained in the state in which the law office is situated and no funds belonging to the lawyer or law firm shall be deposited therein except as follows:
  - (1) Funds reasonably sufficient to pay bank charges may be deposited therein.
  - (2) Funds belonging in part to a client and in part presently or potentially to the lawyer or law firm must be deposited therein, but the portion belonging to the lawyer or law firm may be withdrawn when due unless the right of the lawyer or law firm to receive it is disputed by the client, in which event the disputed portion shall not be withdrawn until the dispute is finally resolved.

- (B) A lawyer shall:
  - (1) Promptly notify a client of the receipt of his funds, securities, or other properties.
  - (2) Identify and label securities and properties of a client promptly upon receipt and place them in a safe deposit box or other place of safekeeping as soon as practicable.
  - (3) Maintain complete records of all funds, securities, and other properties of a client coming into the possession of the lawyer and render appropriate accounts to his client regarding them.
  - (4) Promptly pay or deliver to the client as requested by a client the funds, securities, or other properties in the possession of the lawyer which the client is entitled to receive.

Referred to in Ct R 121 2 and 121 4

DEFINITIONS*

As used in the Disciplinary Rules of the Code of Professional Responsibility:

- (1) "Differing interests" include every interest that will adversely affect either the judgment or the loyalty of a lawyer to a client, whether it be a conflicting, inconsistent, diverse, or other interest.
- (2) "Law firm" includes a professional legal corporation.
- (3) "Person" includes a corporation, an association, a trust, a partnership, and any other organization or legal entity.
- (4) "Professional legal corporation" means a corporation, or an association treated as a corporation, authorized by law to practice law for profit.
- (5) "State" includes the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, and other federal territories and possessions.
- (6) "Tribunal" includes all courts and all other adjudicatory bodies.
- (7) "A Bar Association" includes a bar association of specialists as referred to in DR 2-105 (A) (1) or (4).
- (8) "Qualified legal assistance organization" means an office or organization of one of the four types listed in DR 2-103(D)(1)—(4), inclusive that meets all the requirements thereof.
- (9) A "reputable legal directory" is a publication which contains a list of lawyers or law firms in designated geographical areas, contains only the information permitted under DR 2-101, presents such information for each lawyer in the same size and style of type and in a dignified manner and the sole purpose of which is to assist laypersons and lawyers in selecting a lawyer in the geographical area which it covers. A directory which charges a fee for a listing is not reputable unless it makes a listing available to every practicing lawyer in the geographical area on the same terms and conditions as every other lawyer in

RULES FOR HOSPITALIZATION OF MENTALLY ILL

[Forms included at end of rules]

See section 229.40 The Code

EXHIBIT A

1. A form for application seeking the involuntary hospitalization or treatment of any person on grounds of serious mental impairment may be obtained from the clerk of court in a county in which the person whose hospitalization is sought resides or is presently located. Such application may be filled out and presented to the clerk by any person who has an interest in the treatment of another for serious mental impairment and who has sufficient contact with or knowledge about that person to provide the information required on the face of the application and by section 229.6, The Code. The clerk or clerk's designee shall provide the forms required by section 229.6, The Code, to the person who desires to file the application for involuntary commitment. The clerk shall see that all the necessary information required by section 229.6, The Code, accompanies the application. [Supreme Court Report 1979]

See Forms 1, 2

2. If the judge or referee determines that insufficient grounds to warrant a hearing on the respondent's serious mental impairment appear on the face of the application and supporting documentation, the judge or referee shall order the proceedings terminated, so notify the applicant, and all papers and records pertaining thereto shall be confidential and subject to the provisions of section 229.24, The Code. [Supreme Court Report 1979]

3. If the judge or referee determines that sufficient grounds to warrant a hearing on the respondent's serious mental impairment appear on the face of the application and supporting documentation, the sheriff or sheriff's deputy shall immediately serve notice, personally and not by substitution, on the respondent. Pursuant to section 229.9, The Code, notice shall also be served on respondent's attorney as soon as he or she is identified or appointed by the judge or referee.

A. If the respondent is being taken into immediate custody pursuant to section 229.11, The Code, the notice shall include a copy of the order required by section 229.11, The Code, and rule 14 of these rules.

See Form 4

B. The notice of procedures required under section 229.7, The Code, shall inform the respondent of: (1) His or her immediate right to counsel, at county expense if necessary; (b) the right to request an examination by a physician of his or her choosing, at county expense if necessary; (c) the right to be present at the hearing; (d) the right to a hearing within five days if the respondent is taken into immediate custody pursuant to section 229.11, The Code; (e) the right not to be forced to hearing sooner than forty-eight hours after notice, unless respondent waives such minimum prior notice requirement.

The notice shall also inform the respondent of: (a) His or her duty to remain in the jurisdiction and the consequences of an attempt to leave; and (b) his or her duty to submit to examination by a physician appointed by the court. [Supreme Court Report 1979]

Referred to in rule 7

See Form 3

4. The respondent may waive the minimum prior notice requirement only in writing and only if the judge or referee determines that the respondent's best interests will not be harmed by such waiver. [Supreme Court Report 1979]

5. At the request of the respondent or his or her attorney, the hearing provided in section 229.12, The Code, may be continued beyond the statutory limit in order that the respondent's attorney has adequate time to prepare his or her case, and in such instances custody pursuant to section 229.11 [The Code] may be extended by court order until the hearing is held. The continuance shall be no longer than five days beyond the statutory limit, unless respondent gives written consent to the longer continuance. [Supreme Court Report 1979; amendment 1980]

6. If the respondent is involuntarily confined prior to the hearing pursuant to a determination under section 229.11, The Code, the respondent's attorney may apply to the judge or referee for an opportunity to confer with the respondent, in a place other than the place of confinement, in advance of the hearing provided for in section 229.12, The Code. The order shall provide for transportation and the type of custody and responsibility therefor during the period the respondent is away from the place of confinement under this rule. [Supreme Court Report 1979; amendment 1980]

7. If personal service as defined in rule 3 cannot be made, any respondent may be served as provided by court order, consistent with due process of law. [Supreme Court Report 1979]

8. Returns of service of notice shall be made as provided in R.C.P. 59. [Supreme Court Report 1979]

9. Amendment of process of proof of service shall be allowed in the manner provided in R.C.P. 59.1. [Supreme Court Report 1979]

10. If practicable the court should allow the respondent's attorney to present evidence and argument prior to the judge's determination under section 229.11, The Code. [Supreme Court Report 1979]

11. If the respondent's attorney is afforded no opportunity to present evidence and argument prior to the determination under section 229.11, The Code, the attorney shall be entitled to do so after the determination during the course of respondent's confinement pursuant to an order issued under that section. [Supreme Court Report 1979]

12. The clerk shall furnish the respondent's attorney with a copy of the examination report filed pursuant to section 229.10(2), The Code, as soon as possible after receipt. In ruling on any request for an extension of time under section 229.10(4), The Code, the court shall consider the time available to the respondent's attorney after receipt of the examination report to prepare for the hearing and to prepare responses from physicians engaged by the respondent, where relevant. Respondent's attorney shall promptly file a copy of a report of any physician who has examined respondent and whose evidence the attorney expects to use at the hearing. The clerk shall provide the court and the county attorney with a copy thereof when filed. [Supreme Court Report 1979; amendment 1980]

13. The court-designated physician shall submit a written report of the examination as required by section 229.10(2), The Code, on the form designated for use by the supreme court. The report shall contain the following information, or as much thereof as is available to the physician making the report: (1) Respondent's name; (2) Address; (3) Date of birth; (4) Place of birth; (5) Sex; (6) Occupation; (7) Marital status; (8) Number of children and names; (9) Nearest relative's name, relationship, and address; and (10) The physician's diagnosis and recommendations with a detailed statement of the facts, symptoms and overt acts observed or described to him or her, which led to the diagnosis. [Supreme Court Report 1979; amendment 1980]

14. The judge's or referee's immediate custody order under section 229.11, The Code, shall include a finding of probable cause to believe that the respondent is seriously mentally impaired and is likely to injure himself or herself or others if allowed to remain at liberty. [Supreme Court Report 1979]

Referred to in rule 3(A)

15. If the respondent is detained in a facility for persons accused of or convicted of crimes, the 24-hour detention limitation of section 229.11(3), The Code, shall be strictly enforced and procedures for placement of the respondent in a proper facility described in section 229.11, The Code, shall be instituted immediately. [Supreme Court Report 1979]

16. The hearing provided in section 229.12, The Code, shall be held in the county where the application was filed unless the judge or referee finds that the best interests of the respondent would be served by transferring the proceedings to a different location. [Supreme Court Report 1979]

17. The hearing required by section 229.12, The Code, may be held at a hospital or other treatment facility, provided a proper room is available and provided such a location would not be detrimental to the best interests of the respondent. [Supreme Court Report 1979]

18. The respondent's rights as set out in rule 3(B) and the possible consequences of the procedures shall be explained to him or her by his or her attorney to the extent possible. Prior to the commencement of the hearing under section 229.12, The Code, the judge or referee shall ascertain whether the respondent has been so informed. [Supreme Court Report 1979; amendment 1980]

19. Subpoena power shall be available to all parties participating in the proceedings, and subpoenas or other investigative demands may be enforced by the judge or referee. [Supreme Court Report 1979]

20. The person(s) filing the application and any physician or mental health professionals who have examined respondent and have submitted a written examination of the respondent in connection with the hospitalization proceedings must be present at the hearing conducted under section 229.12, The Code, unless (1) their presence is waived by the respondent's attorney or (2) the judge or referee finds their presence is not necessary. The respondent must be present at the hearing unless prior to the hearing the respondent's attorney stipulates in writing to his or her absence, such stipulation to state (1) that the attorney has conversed with the respondent, (2) that in the attorney's judgment the respondent can make no meaningful contribution to the hearing, and (3) the basis for such conclusions. A stipulation to the respondent's absence shall be reviewed by the judge or referee before the hearing, and may be rejected if it appears that insufficient grounds are stated or that the respondent's interests would not be served by his or her absence. [Supreme Court Report 1979; amendment 1980]

Referred to in Form 20

21. An electronic recording or other verbatim record of the hearing provided in section 229.12, The Code, shall be made and retained for three years or until the respondent has been discharged from involuntary custody for ninety days, whichever is longer. [Supreme Court Report 1979]

22. If the respondent is in custody in another county prior to the hearing provided in section 229.12, The Code, respondent's attorney may request that the respondent be delivered to the county in which the hearing will be held prior thereto in order to facilitate preparation by respondent's attorney. Such requests should be denied only if they are unreasonable and if the denial would not harm respondent's interests in representation by counsel. This rule is not intended to authorize permanent transfer of the respondent to another facility without conformance to appropriate statutory procedures. [Supreme Court Report 1979; amendment 1980]

23. If the respondent is found by the court to be seriously mentally impaired following a hearing under section 229.12, The Code, evaluation and treatment shall proceed as set out in section 229.13, The Code. [Supreme Court Report 1979; amendment 1980]

24. If, pursuant to section 229.13, The Code, the chief medical officer requests an extension of time for evaluation beyond fifteen days, he or she shall file application in the form prescribed by these rules with the clerk of court in the county in which the hearing was held. The application shall contain a statement by the chief medical officer or his or her designee identifying with reasonable particularity the facts and reasons in support of the request for extension. The clerk shall immediately notify the respondent's attorney of the request and shall furnish a copy of the application to him or her. The clerk shall also immediately furnish a copy of the application to the respondent's advocate, if one has been appointed. [Supreme Court Report 1979]

See Form 17

25. The findings of the chief medical officer pursuant to section 229.14, The Code, must state with reasonable particularity on the form prescribed by these rules the facts and basis for the diagnostic conclusions concerning the respondent's serious mental impairment and recommended treatment, including but not limited to: The basis for his or her conclusion as to respondent's mental illness, judgmental capacity concerning need for treatment; treatability; and dangerousness; and the basis for his or her conclusions concerning recommended treatment including the basis for the judgment that his or her treatment recommendation is the least restrictive alternative treatment pursuant to options (1), (2), (3), or (4) of section 220.14, The Code. [Supreme Court Report 1979]

Referred to in rule 26
See Form 18

26. The clerk shall promptly furnish copies of all reports issued under section 229.15, The Code, to the patient's attorney or advocate or to both if they both are serving in their respective capacities at the same time, and such reports shall comply substantially with the requirements of rule 25. [Supreme Court Report 1979]

27. The clerk shall institute an orderly system for filing periodic reports required under section 229.15, The Code, and shall in timely fashion ascertain when a report is overdue. In the event a report is not filed, the clerk shall contact the chief medical officer of the treatment facility and obtain a report. [Supreme Court Report 1979]

28. If the magistrate does not immediately proceed to the facility where a person is detained pursuant to section 229.22, The Code, the magistrate shall verbally communicate approval or disapproval of the detention and such communication shall be duly noted by the chief medical officer of the facility on the form prescribed by these rules. [Supreme Court Report 1979]

See Form 24

29. If the facility to which the respondent is delivered pursuant to section 229.22, The Code, lacks a chief medical officer, the person then in charge of the facility shall, if treatment appears necessary to protect the respondent, immediately notify a physician. The person in charge of the facility shall then immediately notify the magistrate. [Supreme Court Report 1979]

See Forms 24, 25

30. As soon as practicable after the respondent's delivery to a facility under section 229.22, The Code, the magistrate shall identify or appoint an attorney for the respondent and shall immediately notify such attorney of respondent's emergency detention. If counsel can be identified at the time of respondent's arrival at a facility, or if legal services are available through a Legal Aid or public defender office, the magistrate must immediately notify such counsel and such counsel shall be afforded an opportunity to see the respondent and to make such preparation as is appropriate before or after the magistrate's order is issued. [Supreme Court Report 1979]

31. When chemotherapy has been instituted prior to a hearing under section 229.12, The Code, the chief medical officer of the facility where the respondent is hospitalized shall, prior to the hearing, submit to the clerk of the district court where the hearing is to be held, a report in writing listing all types of chemotherapy given for purposes of affecting the respondent's behavior or mental state during any period of custody authorized by section 229.4(3), 229.11 or 229.22, The Code. For each type of chemotherapy the report shall indicate either (1) the chemotherapy was given with the consent of the patient or the patient's next of kin or guardian or (2) the way the chemotherapy was "necessary to preserve the patient's life or to appropriately control behavior by the person which is likely to result in physical injury to that person or others if allowed to continue." The report shall also include the effect of the chemotherapy on the respondent's behavior or mental state. The clerk shall file the original report in the court file, advise the judge or referee and the respondent's attorney accordingly and provide a copy of the report to respondent's attorney if so requested. Respondent.

TO: . . . . .

You are hereby notified that there is now on file in the office of the Clerk of District Court of . . . . . County, Iowa, a verified application alleging that: . . . . . is seriously mentally impaired and a fit subject for custody and treatment, as shown by the application and (Report of the Physician) (Supporting Affidavits) on file in this proceeding, copies of which are attached; and that said matter will come on for hearing on said application before said Court at the . . . . . County, Iowa, on the . . . . . day of . . . . ., 19. . . . ., at . . . . . o'clock . . . . . M.; and that such Order will be on said Hearing as may appear to the Court to be for the best interest of said person.

You are further notified you have the following rights in connection with this matter:

1. THE RIGHT TO THE ASSISTANCE OF AN ATTORNEY. If you cannot afford an attorney, one will be appointed for you at county expense.

2. THE RIGHT TO AN EXAMINATION BY A PHYSICIAN OF YOUR OWN CHOOSING. If you cannot afford an examination by your physician, you may have such an examination at county expense.

3. THE RIGHT TO A HEARING WITHIN 5 DAYS, and no sooner than 48 hours (except Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays) if you are presently in custody.

4. THE RIGHT TO A HEARING NO SOONER THAN 48 HOURS AFTER SERVICE OF THIS NOTICE (except Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays) if you are not presently in custody.

5. THE RIGHT TO BE PRESENT AT THE HEARING.

You are hereby advised that:

1. You must not leave the county while awaiting hearing. If you leave the county, you may be taken into custody.

2. You must submit to an examination by a physician appointed by the court. If you do not, the court may order you to do so.

ORDER FOR IMMEDIATE CUSTODY PURSUANT TO SECTION 229.11, THE CODE.

A request has been presented that respondent should be immediately detained due to serious mental impairment. After review of the application and supporting documentation, I find there is probable cause to believe respondent is seriously mentally impaired and is likely to injure himself or herself or others if allowed to remain at liberty.

This finding is based on the following facts:

*1. I hereby order that respondent shall be detained in the custody of . . . . . until the hearing date pursuant to section 229.11(1), The Code.

*2. Because I find the less restrictive alternative of custody pursuant to section 229.11(1), The Code, will not be sufficient to protect respondent from himself or herself or others, I hereby order that respondent shall be detained at . . . . . until the hearing date pursuant to section 229.11(2), The Code.

*3. Because I find that an actual emergency exists and there is no other secure facility available besides a facility for the confinement of persons accused of or convicted of crime, I hereby order that respondent shall be detained at . . . . . for a period of not more than 24 hours pursuant to section 229.11(3), The Code. I furthermore order that respondent shall be kept under close

RULES OF PROBATE PROCEDURE

[Rules filed prior to November 14, 1979 are revoked]

Rule 1. Effective removal order—turnover.

When the court orders the removal of a fiduciary under section 633.65, The Code, such order, unless expressly providing otherwise, shall be effective as a turnover order under section 633.70, The Code, and without further order the fiduciary so removed shall turn over all personal property, money or securities to or for his successor at the clerk's office within five days after such order is filed. [Court Order November 14, 1979]

Rule 2. Fees in probate.

(a) Every report or application requesting an allowance of fees for personal representatives or their attorneys shall be written and verified as provided in section 633.35, The Code.

(b) When fees for ordinary services are sought pursuant to sections 633.197 and 633.198, The Code, proof of the nature and extent of responsibilities assumed and services rendered shall be required. Unless special circumstances should be called to the court's attention, the contents of the court probate file may be relied upon as such proof.

(c) When an allowance for extraordinary expenses or services is sought pursuant to section 633.199, The Code, the request shall include a written statement showing (1) the necessity for such expenses or services, (2) the responsibilities assumed, and (3) the amount of extra time or expense involved. In appropriate cases, the statement shall also explain the importance of the matter to the estate and describe the results obtained. The request may be made in the final report or by separate application. It shall be set for hearing upon reasonable notice, specifying the amounts claimed, unless waivers of notice identifying the amounts claimed are filed by all interested persons. The applicant shall have the burden of proving such allowance should be made.

(d) One half of the fees for ordinary services may be paid when the federal estate tax return, if required, and Iowa inheritance tax return, if required, are prepared. When an inheritance tax return is not required, an inheritance tax clearance must be filed. When a federal estate tax return is not required, the one-half fee may be paid when the Iowa inheritance tax return is prepared or, when it is not required, when the inheritance tax clearance is filed. The remainder of the fees may be paid when the final report is prepared and the costs have been paid. The schedule for paying fees may be different when so provided by order of the court for good cause.

(e) Every report or application requesting compensation for other fiduciaries and their attorneys pursuant to section 633.200, The Code, shall be written and verified.

(f) When compensation has been allowed to a person employed by the fiduciary or attorney to assist the estate pursuant to section 633.84, The Code, the request for fees by the fiduciary shall disclose the identity of such person and the amount allowed, for consideration by the court in determining fees for the fiduciary pursuant to section 633.86, The Code. [Court Order November 14, 1979]

Rule 3. District court rules in probate.

After ninety days from the effective date* of these rules, no district court rule of probate and administration shall be valid until it has been filed with the clerk of the supreme court and approved by that court. [Court Order November 14, 1979]

*November 14, 1979

[Court Order November 14, 1979]

Rule 5. Reports of delinquent inventories or reports.

(a) The clerk's report required by section 633.32, The Code, of all delinquent inventories or reports in estates, trusts, guardianships or conservatorships shall contain, in addition to the information required by section 633.32(3), The Code, a copy of each delinquency notice and, if they do not appear on the face of the delinquency notice, the following information for each delinquent inventory or report:

- (1) The probate number of the matter,
- (2) The title of the matter,
- (3) An indication of whether the matter is an estate, trust, guardianship, or conservatorship,
- (4) The name and address of the fiduciary,
- (5) The name and address of the attorney, if any, for the fiduciary,
- (6) Type of the delinquent inventory or report,
- (7) The date notice of delinquency was given,
- (8) A statement that the required report or inventory or an order extending time for a specified period was not filed within sixty days after the giving of notice of delinquency,
- (9) The date the matter was opened,
- (10) The name of the last paper filed by the fiduciary or attorney and the date of filing such paper,
- (11) The number, including "zero" if appropriate, of previous delinquency notices given in the matter and ignored.

(b) The clerk shall submit a copy of the report to the chief judge of the judicial district and administrator of the judicial department in addition to the presiding judge as required by section 633.32(2), The Code. If an order extending time for a specified period was filed but not complied with, the clerk shall proceed as in instances in which an order is not filed.

(c) The court administrator of the judicial department shall utilize the reports in the discharge of the duties prescribed in section 685.8, The Code, and, in addition, shall prepare a list of the attorneys for fiduciaries who have received and ignored a notice of delinquency. The court administrator shall transmit the list of attorneys, together with other relevant information, to the committee on professional ethics and conduct of the Iowa state bar association and to the client security and attorney disciplinary commission.

(d) The committee on professional ethics and conduct of the Iowa state bar association, as a commission of the supreme court of Iowa pursuant to supreme court rule 118.2, shall communicate with each attorney licensed to practice law in Iowa whose name appears on the list transmitted to the committee pursuant to subdivision "c" hereof. If the committee determines there is reasonable cause to believe an attorney for fiduciary has violated DR 6-101(A)(3) or other provision of the Iowa code of professional responsibility for lawyers for failure to file a required inventory or report within sixty days after receiving notice of delinquency, or within an extension of time for a specified period granted by order, the committee shall initiate and process a complaint against the attorney pursuant to supreme court rule 118. The committee chairman shall include the number of attorneys investigated and complaints initiated and processed pursuant to this subdivision, a synopsis of each such complaint, and the disposition thereof, in the annual committee report to the supreme court required by supreme court rule 118.20.

(e) The assistant court administrator of the disciplinary system is authorized to inquire into the status of any delinquent probate inventory or report. [Court Order March 13, 1980]

SUPREME COURT RULES ON THE QUALIFICATIONS AND COMPENSATION OF INTERPRETERS FOR HEARING IMPAIRED PERSONS

Exhibit "A"

Rule 1. Appointment and qualifications of interpreters. When required to appoint an interpreter for a hearing impaired person pursuant to section 622B.2, The Code [Acts of the 1980 Session of the 68th General Assembly, Senate File No. 2306 (ch 1179), Section 5], the court or administrative agency shall select an interpreter from the current directory of qualified interpreters for hearing impaired persons furnished by the service program for the deaf of the Iowa state department of health and available from the department of health or the supreme court administrator's office. Interpreters listed in the directory shall be certified under the National Evaluation System of the Registry of Interpreters for the Deaf and shall hold a valid comprehensive skills certificate (CSC), a master comprehensive skills certificate (MCSC), or a specialist certificate: legal (SC:L), commensurate with their training and experience. Selection of a particular interpreter shall be based on availability, proximity to the venue of the proceeding, and the level of interpreter expertise needed regarding the complexity of the proceeding and the hearing impaired person's role in the proceeding. [Court Order June 23, 1980]

Rule 2. Compensation—appointment of more than one interpreter. After selecting an appropriate interpreter, the court or administrative agency shall enter an order appointing the interpreter and setting the level of compensation for the interpreter. Where the hearing impaired person is a party to a complex proceeding or is a witness giving lengthy testimony, the court or administrative agency may, in its discretion, appoint more than one interpreter. An interpreter, other than a state employee, appointed under section 622B.2, The Code [Acts of the 1980 Session of the 68th General Assembly, Senate File No. 2306 (ch 1179), Section 5], shall be entitled to reasonable compensation. Appointed interpreters are also entitled to compensation for mileage at the same rate paid witnesses in district court. [Court Order June 23, 1980]

Rule 3. Claim for compensation. After the close of proceedings the interpreter shall submit to the court or administrative agency a voucher specifically listing the hours spent on the appointment and any mileage claims. Upon review and approval of the voucher, the court or administrative agency shall enter an order setting the total amount of compensation due the interpreter and directing such compensation paid out of court funds or administrative agency funds, or charged as costs as provided in section 622B.7, The Code [Acts of the 1980 Session of the 68th General Assembly, Senate File No. 2306 (ch 1179), Section 10]. [Court Order June 23, 1980]

MORTALITY TABLES

The American Experience Table of Mortality was published in the Code of 1939. As stated in the heading to said table it is "no part of any statute and is set out as a convenience only to meet numerous requests therefor."

From information obtained from the Commissioner of Insurance and numerous experts on insurance law, the Code Editor is advised that the American Experience Table of Mortality is outmoded. Longevity has increased and greater scientific study has been made of the subject of mortality tables since that table was prepared. The results have been that new and more modern tables have been made which are known as the Commissioners 1941 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table and the Commissioners 1958 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table. The tables have been prepared under the supervision of the National Association of Insurance Commissioners and have been adopted by statute or by the approval of the Insurance Commissioners in practically all of the states including Iowa.

The Code Editor is authorized by the Commissioner of Insurance to say that they are approved by him and used and accepted by him in his official work. They are included herein as a matter of convenience to those who may have use for such tables. [ August 1980 ]

See sections 508.36 and 508.37 of the Code for reference to other Mortality tables under the "Standard Valuation and Nonforfeiture Law". Also, see the State Revenue Department's table at the end of chapter 450 of the Code adopted pursuant to the Inheritance Tax Law.
