Credit for reinsurance is allowed a domestic ceding insurer as either an asset or a deduction from liability on account of reinsurance ceded only if the reinsurer meets the requirements of subsection 1, 2, 3, 4, or 5. If the reinsurer meets the requirements of subsection 3 or 4, the requirements of subsection 6 must also be met.

1. Credit is allowed if the reinsurance is ceded to an assuming insurer which is licensed to transact the business of reinsurance in this state.

2. Credit is allowed if the reinsurance is ceded to an assuming insurer which is accredited as a reinsurer in this state. An accredited reinsurer is one which satisfies all of the following conditions:

a. Files with the commissioner evidence of submission to the jurisdiction of this state.

b. Submits to the authority of this state to examine its books and records.

c. Is licensed to transact reinsurance in at least one state, or in the case of a United States branch of an alien assuming insurer, is entered through and licensed to transact the business of reinsurance in at least one state.

d. Files annually with the commissioner a copy of its annual statement filed with the insurance department of its state of domicile and a copy of its most recent audited financial statement and does either of the following:

(1) Maintains a surplus with respect to policyholders in an amount which is not less than twenty million dollars and whose accreditation has not been denied by the commissioner within ninety days of its submission to the jurisdiction of this state.

(2) Maintains a surplus with respect to policyholders in an amount less than twenty million dollars and whose accreditation has been approved by the commissioner. Credit shall not be allowed a domestic ceding insurer, if the accreditation of the assuming insurer is revoked by the commissioner after notice and hearing.

To qualify as an accredited reinsurer, an assuming insurer must meet all of the requirements and the standards set forth in this subsection. If the commissioner determines that the assuming insurer has failed to continue to meet any of these requirements or standards, the commissioner may upon written notice and hearing revoke accreditation of the assuming insurer.

This section does not apply to reinsurance ceded and assumed pursuant to pooling arrangements among insurers in the same holding company system.

3. a. Credit is allowed if the reinsurance is ceded to an assuming insurer which is domiciled and licensed in, or in the case of a United States branch of an alien assuming insurer is entered through, a state which employs standards regarding credit for reinsurance substantially similar to those applicable under this section, and the assuming insurer or United States branch of an alien assuming insurer does both of the following:

(1) Maintains a surplus with respect to policyholders in an amount of not less than twenty million dollars.

(2) Submits to the authority of this state to examine its books and records.

b. However, the requirement of paragraph "a", subparagraph (1), does not apply to reinsurance ceded and assumed pursuant to a pooling arrangement among insurers in the same holding company system.

4. a. Credit is allowed if the reinsurance is ceded to an assuming insurer which maintains a trust fund in a qualified United States financial institution, as defined in section 521B.4, subsection 2, for the payment of the valid claims of its United States policyholders and ceding insurers, their assigns, and successors in interest. The assuming insurer shall report annually to the commissioner information substantially the same as that required to be reported on the national association of insurance commissioners' annual statement form by licensed insurers to enable the commissioner to determine the sufficiency of the trust fund. In the case of a single assuming insurer, the trust shall consist of a trusted account representing the liabilities of the assuming insurer attributable to business written in the United States and, in addition, the assuming insurer shall maintain a trusted surplus of not less than twenty million dollars. In the case of a group of individual unincorporated underwriters, the trust shall consist of a trusted account representing the liabilities of the group attributable to business written in the United States and, in addition, the group shall maintain a trusted surplus of which one hundred million dollars shall be held jointly for the benefit of United States ceding insurers of any member of the group. The group shall make available to the commissioner an annual certification of the solvency of each underwriter by the group's domiciliary regulator and its independent public accountants.

b. In the case of a group of incorporated insurers under common administration which complies with the filing requirements contained in paragraph "a", which is under the supervision of the department of trade and industry of the United Kingdom, which submits to the authority of this state to examine its books and records and bears the expense of the examination, and which has aggregate policyholders' surplus of at least ten billion dollars, the trust shall be in an amount equal to the several liabilities of the group attributable to business written in the United States. The group shall also maintain a joint trustee surplus of which one hundred million dollars shall be held jointly for the benefit of United States ceding insurers of any member of the group, and each member of the group shall make available to the commissioner an annual certification of the member's solvency by the member's domiciliary regulator and its independent public accountant.

c. Such trust shall be established in a form approved by the commissioner. The trust instrument shall provide that contested claims are valid and enforceable upon the final order of any court of competent jurisdiction in the United States. The trust vests legal title to its assets in the trustees of the trust for its United States policyholders and ceding insurers, their assigns, and successors in interest. The trust and the assuming insurer are subject to examination as determined by the commissioner. The trust described in this paragraph must remain in effect for as long as the assuming insurer has outstanding obligations due under the reinsurance agreements subject to the trust.

d. No later than February 28 of each year the trustees of the trust shall report to the commissioner in writing setting forth the balance of the trust and listing the trust's investments at the end of the preceding calendar year and shall certify the date of termination of the trust, if so planned, or certify that the trust shall not expire prior to the following December 31.

5. Credit is allowed if the reinsurance is ceded to an assuming insurer not meeting the requirements of subsection 1, 2, 3, or 4, but only with respect to the insurance of risks located in a jurisdiction where such reinsurance is required by applicable law or regulation of that jurisdiction. For purposes of this subsection, jurisdiction refers to a jurisdiction other than the United States, and any state, district, or territory of the United States. This subsection allows credit to ceding insurers which are mandated by such a jurisdiction to cede reinsurance to state owned or controlled insurance or reinsurance companies or to participate in pools, guaranty funds, or joint underwriting associations.

6. a. If the assuming insurer is not licensed or accredited to transact insurance or reinsurance in this state, the credit permitted by subsection 3 or 4 is not allowed unless the assuming insurer agrees in the reinsurance agreements to both of the following:

(1) That in the event of the failure of the assuming insurer to perform its obligations under the terms of the reinsurance agreement, the assuming insurer, at the request of the ceding insurer, shall submit to the jurisdiction of any court of competent jurisdiction in any state of the United States, shall comply with all requirements necessary to give such court jurisdiction, and shall abide by the final decision of such court or of any appellate court in the event of an appeal.

(2) That the commissioner or an attorney designated in the agreement is the true and lawful attorney of the assuming insurer upon whom may be served any lawful process in any action, suit, or proceeding instituted by or on behalf of the ceding company.

b. This subsection is not intended to conflict with or override the obligation of the parties to a reinsurance agreement to arbitrate their disputes, if such an obligation is created in the agreement.

521B.3 Reduction from liability for reinsurance ceded by a domestic insurer to an assuming insurer.

A reduction from liability for the reinsurance ceded by a domestic insurer to an assuming insurer not meeting the requirements of section 521B.2 is allowed in an amount not exceeding the liabilities carried by the ceding insurer and the reduction shall be in the amount of funds held by or on behalf of the ceding insurer, including funds held in trust for the ceding insurer, under a reinsurance contract with the assuming insurer as security for the payment of obligations under the reinsurance contract, if such security is held in the United States subject to withdrawal solely by, and under the exclusive control of, the ceding insurer, or in the case of a trust, held in a qualified United States financial institution, as defined in section 521B.4, subsection 2. This security may be held in the form of any of the following:

1. Cash.
2. Securities listed by the securities valuation office of the national association of insurance commissioners and qualifying as admitted assets.

3. Clean, irrevocable, unconditional letters of credit, issued or confirmed by a qualified United States financial institution, as defined in section 521B.4, subsection 2, no later than December 31 of the year for which filing is being made, and in the possession of the ceding insurer on or before the filing date of its annual statement.

Letters of credit meeting applicable standards of issuer acceptability as of the dates of their issuance or confirmation shall, notwithstanding the subsequent failure of the issuing or confirming institution or subsequent failure to meet applicable standards of issuer acceptability, continue to be acceptable as security until their expiration, extension, renewal, modification, or amendment, whichever first occurs.

4. Any other form of security acceptable to the commissioner.

521B.4 Qualified United States financial institutions.

1. For purposes of this chapter, a “qualified United States financial institution” means an institution that satisfies all of the following conditions:

a. The financial institution is organized or licensed under the laws of the United States or any state of the United States.

b. The financial institution is regulated, supervised, and examined by federal or state authorities having regulatory authority over banks and trust companies.

c. The financial institution has been determined by either the commissioner, or the securities valuation office of the national association of insurance commissioners, to meet such standards of financial condition and standing as are considered necessary and appropriate to regulate the quality of financial institutions whose letters of credit will be acceptable to the commissioner.

2. A “qualified United States financial institution” means, for purposes of those provisions of this chapter specifying those institutions that are eligible to act as a fiduciary of a trust, an institution that is both of the following:

a. Organized or licensed under the laws of the United States or any state of the United States, and has been granted authority to operate with fiduciary powers.

b. Regulated, supervised, and examined by federal or state authorities having regulatory authority over banks and trust companies.

521C.2 Definitions.

As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. “Actuary” means a person who is a member in good standing of the American academy of actuaries.

2. “Controlling person” means a person who directly or indirectly has the power to direct or cause to be directed, the management, control, or activities of the reinsurance intermediary.

3. “Insurer” means a person licensed to transact the business of insurance in this state.

4. “Licensed producer” means an agent, broker, or reinsurance intermediary licensed pursuant to the applicable provision of the insurance law of any jurisdiction.

5. “Reinsurance intermediary” means a reinsurance intermediary-broker or a reinsurance intermediary-manager.

6. “Reinsurance intermediary-broker” means a person, other than an officer or employee of the ceding insurer, who solicits, negotiates, or places reinsurance cessions or retrocessions on behalf of a ceding insurer without the authority or power to bind reinsurance on behalf of the ceding insurer.

7. “Reinsurance intermediary-manager” means a person who has authority to bind or manage all or part of the assumed reinsurance business of a reinsurer, including the management of a separate division, department, or underwriting office, and acts as an agent for the reinsurer whether known as a reinsurance intermediary-manager or manager, or known by any other similar term or title. However, for the purposes of this chapter, the following persons shall not be considered a reinsurance intermediary-manager, with respect to the reinsurer:

a. An employee of the reinsurer.

b. A manager of a United States branch of an alien reinsurer who resides in this country.

c. An underwriting manager who, pursuant to contract, manages all the reinsurance operations of the reinsurer, who is under common control with the reinsurer, subject to chapter 521A relating to the regulation of insurance holding company systems, and who is not compensated based upon the volume of premiums written.

d. The manager of a group, association, pool, or organization of insurers who engages in joint underwriting or joint reinsurance and who is subject to examination by the insurance commissioner of the state in which the manager’s principal business office is located.

8. “Reinsurer” means a person licensed in this state as a reinsurer with the authority to assume reinsurance.

9. “To be in violation” means that the reinsurance intermediary, insurer, or reinsurer for whom the reinsurance intermediary was acting failed to substantially comply with the provisions of this chapter.

10. “Qualified United States financial institution” means an institution that satisfies all of the following conditions:

a. The financial institution is organized or licensed under the laws of the United States or any state of the United States.

b. The financial institution is regulated, supervised, and examined by federal or state authorities having regulatory authority over banks and trust companies.

c. The financial institution has been determined by either the commissioner, or the securities valuation office of the national association of insurance commissioners, to meet such standards of financial condition and standing as are considered necessary and appropriate to regulate the quality of financial institutions whose letters of credit will be acceptable to the commissioner.

521C.3 Licensure.

1. A person shall not act as a reinsurance intermediary-broker in this state if the person maintains an office in this state or another state individually or as a member or employee of a firm or association, or as an officer, director, or employee of a corporation, unless the person is a licensed producer in this state or another state having a law substantially similar to this law, or the person is licensed in this state as a nonresident reinsurance intermediary.

2. A person shall not act as a reinsurance intermediary-manager in any of the following circumstances:

a. Where the reinsurer is domiciled in this state, unless the person is a licensed producer in this state.

b. Where the person maintains an office in this state individually or as a member or employee of a firm or association, or as an officer, director, or employee of a corporation in this state, unless the person is a licensed producer in this state.

c. Where the person would be acting in another state for a nondomestic insurer, unless the person is a licensed producer in this state or in another state having a law substantially similar to this law, or is licensed in this state as a nonresident reinsurance intermediary.

3. The commissioner may require a reinsurance intermediary-manager subject to subsection 2 to do one or more of the following:

a. File a bond in an amount determined by the commissioner from an insurer acceptable to the commissioner for the protection of each reinsurer represented by the reinsurance intermediary-manager.

b. Maintain an errors and omissions policy in an amount acceptable to the commissioner.

4. a. The commissioner may issue a reinsurance intermediary license to a person who has complied with the requirements of this chapter. Any such license issued to a firm or association will authorize all the members of the firm or association and any designated employees to act as reinsurance intermediaries under the license, and all such persons shall be named in the application and any supplements to the application. A license issued to a corporation shall authorize all of the officers, and any designated employees and directors of the corporation to act as reinsurance intermediaries on behalf of the corporation, and all such persons shall be named in the application and any supplements to the application.

b. If the applicant for a reinsurance intermediary license is a nonresident, such applicant, as a condition precedent to receiving or holding a license, shall designate the commissioner as agent for service of process, and also shall furnish the commissioner with the name and address of a resident of this state upon whom notices or orders of the commissioner or process affecting such nonresident reinsurance intermediary may be served. The licensee shall promptly notify the commissioner in writing of a change of the designated agent for service of process, and the change becomes effective upon acknowledgment by the commissioner.

5. The commissioner may refuse to issue a reinsurance intermediary license if, in the commissioner's judgment, any of the following conditions are present:

a. The applicant, anyone named in the application, or any member, principal, officer, or director of the applicant, is not trustworthy.

b. A controlling person of such applicant is not trustworthy to act as a reinsurance intermediary.

c. Conditions present in paragraph "a" or "b" have given cause for revocation or suspension of a license, or a person referred to in paragraph "a" or "b" has failed to comply with any prerequisite for the issuance of a license.

Upon written request, the commissioner shall furnish a written summary of the basis for refusal to issue a license, which document is privileged and not subject to disclosure under chapter 22.

6. A licensed attorney in this state when acting in a professional capacity as an attorney is exempt from the requirements of this section.

521C.4 Required contract provisions — reinsurance intermediary-brokers.

Transactions between a reinsurance intermediary-broker and the insurer that the reinsurance intermediary-broker represents in such capacity shall only be entered into pursuant to a written authorization, specifying the responsibilities of each party. The authorization shall, at a minimum, contain provisions that satisfy all of the following requirements:

1. The insurer may terminate the authority of the reinsurance intermediary-broker at any time.

2. The reinsurance intermediary-broker shall render accounts to the insurer accurately detailing all material transactions, including information necessary to support all commissions, charges, and other fees received by or owing to the reinsurance intermediary-broker, and shall remit all funds due to the insurer within thirty days of receipt.

3. All funds collected for the account of the insurer shall be held by the reinsurance intermediary-broker in a fiduciary capacity in a bank, as defined in section 524.103.

4. The reinsurance intermediary-broker shall comply with section 521C.5.

5. The reinsurance intermediary-broker shall comply with the written standards established by the insurer for the cession or retrocession of all risks.

6. The reinsurance intermediary-broker shall disclose to the insurer any relationship with any reinsurer to which business will be ceded or retroceded.

a. The type of contract, limits, underwriting restrictions, classes or risks, and territory.

b. The period of coverage, including effective and expiration dates, cancellation provisions, and notice required of cancellation.

c. The reporting and settlement requirements of balances.

d. The rate used to compute the reinsurance premium.

e. The names and addresses of assuming reinsurers.

g All related correspondence and memoranda.

h Proof of placement.

i The details regarding retrocessions handled by the reinsurance intermediary-broker including the identity of retrocessionaires and percentage of each contract assumed or ceded.

j Financial records, including but not limited to premium and loss accounts.

k If the reinsurance intermediary-broker procures a reinsurance contract on behalf of a licensed ceding insurer one or both of the following shall be included in the record:

(1) Directly from any assuming reinsurer, written evidence that the assuming reinsurer has agreed to assume the risk.

(2) If placed through a representative of the assuming reinsurer, other than an employee, written evidence that the assuming reinsurer has delegated binding authority to the representative.

2. The insurer has a right of access and the right to copy and audit all accounts and records maintained by the reinsurance intermediary-broker related to its business in a form usable by the insurer.

521C.7 Required contract provisions — reinsurance intermediary-managers.

Transactions between a reinsurance intermediary-manager and the reinsurer that the reinsurance intermediary-manager represents in such capacity shall only be entered into pursuant to a written contract, specifying the responsibilities of each party, which shall be approved by the reinsurer's board of directors. At least thirty days before the reinsurer assumes or cedes business through a reinsurance intermediary-manager, a true copy of the approved contract shall be filed with the commissioner for approval by the commissioner. The contract, at a minimum, shall contain the following provisions:

1. The reinsurer may terminate the contract for cause upon written notice to the reinsurance intermediary-manager. The reinsurer may suspend the authority of the reinsurance intermediary-manager to assume or cede business during the pendency of any dispute regarding the cause for termination.

2. The reinsurance intermediary-manager shall render accounts to the reinsurer accurately detailing all material transactions, including information necessary to support all commissions, charges, and other fees received by, or owing to the reinsurance intermediary-manager, and shall remit all funds due under the contract to the reinsurer on not less than a monthly basis.

3. All funds collected for the reinsurer's account shall be held by the reinsurance intermediary-manager in a fiduciary capacity in a bank which is a qualified United States financial institution, as defined in section 521C.2. The reinsurance intermediary-manager may retain no more than three months' estimated claims payments and allocated loss adjustment expenses. The reinsurance intermediary-manager shall maintain a separate bank account for each reinsurer that the reinsurance intermediary-manager represents.

4. For at least ten years after expiration of each contract of reinsurance transacted by the reinsurance intermediary-manager, the reinsurance intermediary-manager shall keep a complete record for each transaction showing all of the following:

a The type of contract, limits, underwriting restrictions, classes or risks, and territory.

b The period of coverage, including effective and expiration dates, cancellation provisions and notice required of cancellation, and disposition of outstanding reserves on covered risks.

c The reporting and settlement requirements of balances.

d The rate used to compute the reinsurance premium.

g Any related correspondence and memoranda.

h Proof of placement.

i The details regarding retrocessions handled by the reinsurance intermediary-manager, as permitted by section 521C.9, subsection 4, including the identity of retrocessionaires and percentage of each contract assumed or ceded.

j Financial records, including but not limited to premium and loss accounts.

k If the reinsurance intermediary-manager places a reinsurance contract on behalf of a ceding insurer one or both of the following shall be included in the record:

(1) Directly from any assuming reinsurer, written evidence that the assuming reinsurer has agreed to assume the risk.

(2) If placed through a representative of the assuming reinsurer, other than an employee, written evidence that the assuming reinsurer has delegated binding authority to the representative.

5. The reinsurer has a right of access and the right to copy all accounts and records maintained by the reinsurance intermediary-manager related to its business in a form usable by the reinsurer.

6. The contract cannot be assigned in whole or in part by the reinsurance intermediary-manager.

7. The reinsurance intermediary-manager shall comply with the written underwriting and rating standards established by the insurer for the acceptance, rejection, or cession of all risks.

8. The contract shall set forth the rates, terms, and purposes of commissions, charges, and other fees which the reinsurance intermediary-manager may levy against the reinsurer.

9. If the contract permits the reinsurance intermediary-manager to settle claims on behalf of the reinsurer, all of the following apply:

a. All claims shall be reported to the reinsurer in a timely manner.

b. A copy of the claim file shall be sent to the reinsurer at its request or as soon as it becomes known that the claim meets any or all of the following conditions:

(1) The claim has the potential to exceed the lesser of an amount determined by the commissioner or the limit set by the reinsurer.

(2) The claim involves a coverage dispute.

(3) The claim may exceed the claims settlement authority of the reinsurance intermediary-manager.

(4) The claim is open for more than six months.

(5) The claim is closed by payment of the lesser of an amount set by the commissioner or an amount set by the reinsurer.

c. All claim files shall be the joint property of the reinsurer and reinsurance intermediary-manager. However, upon an order of liquidation of the reinsurer the files shall become the sole property of the reinsurer or its estate. The reinsurance intermediary-manager shall have reasonable access to and the right to copy the files on a timely basis.

d. Any settlement authority granted to the reinsurance intermediary-manager may be terminated for cause upon the reinsurer's written notice to the reinsurance intermediary-manager or upon the termination of the contract. The reinsurer may suspend the settlement authority during the pendency of the dispute regarding the cause of termination.

10. If the contract provides for a sharing of interim profits by the reinsurance intermediary-manager, interim profits shall not be paid until one year after the end of each underwriting period for property insurance business and five years after the end of each underwriting period for casualty insurance business, or a later period as determined by the commissioner for each type of insurance, but in no case until the adequacy of reserves on remaining claims has been verified pursuant to section 521C.9, subsection 3.

11. The reinsurance intermediary-manager shall annually provide the reinsurer with a statement of its financial condition prepared by an independent certified accountant.

12. The reinsurer shall periodically, but not less than semiannually, conduct an on-site review of the underwriting and claims processing operations of the reinsurance intermediary-manager.

13. The reinsurance intermediary-manager shall disclose to the reinsurer any relationship the reinsurance intermediary-manager has with any insurer prior to ceding or assuming any business with the insurer pursuant to this contract.

14. The acts of the reinsurance intermediary-manager are deemed to be the acts of the reinsurer on whose behalf the reinsurance intermediary-manager is acting.

521C.8 Prohibited acts.

The reinsurance intermediary-manager shall not do any of the following:

1. Bind retrocessions on behalf of the reinsurer, except that the reinsurance intermediary-manager may bind facultative retrocessions pursuant to obligatory facultative agreements if the contract with the reinsurer contains reinsurance underwriting guidelines for such retrocessions. The guidelines shall include a list of reinsurers with which the automatic agreements are in effect, and for each reinsurer, the coverages and amounts or percentages that may be reinsured, and commission schedules.

2. Commit the reinsurer to participate in reinsurance syndicates.

3. Appoint any producer without assuring that the producer is licensed to transact the type of reinsurance for which the producer is appointed.

4. Without prior approval of the reinsurer, pay or commit the reinsurer to pay a claim, or a net amount of retrocessions, that exceeds the lesser of an amount specified by the reinsurer or one percent of the reinsurer's policyholder's surplus as of December 31 of the last complete calendar year.

5. Collect any payment from a retrocessionaire or commit the reinsurer to any claim settlement with a retrocessionaire, without prior approval of the reinsurer. If prior approval is given, a report must be promptly forwarded to the reinsurer.

6. Jointly employ an individual who is employed by the reinsurer.

2. The reinsurer shall annually obtain a copy of statements of the financial condition of each reinsurance intermediary-manager whom the reinsurer has engaged pursuant to subsection 1. The statements of financial condition shall be prepared by an independent certified accountant in a form acceptable to the commissioner.

3. If a reinsurance intermediary-manager establishes loss reserves, the reinsurer shall annually obtain the opinion of an actuary attesting to the adequacy of loss reserves established for losses incurred and outstanding on business produced by the reinsurance intermediary-manager. This opinion shall be in addition to any other required loss reserve certification.

4. Binding authority for all retrocessional contracts or participation in reinsurance syndicates shall rest with an officer of the reinsurer who shall not be affiliated with the reinsurance intermediary-manager.

5. Within thirty days of termination of a contract with a reinsurance intermediary-manager, the reinsurer shall provide written notification of the termination to the commissioner.

6. A reinsurer shall not appoint to its board of directors any officer, director, employee, controlling shareholder, or an agent of a producer of its reinsurance intermediary-manager. CHAPTER 523A

SALES OF FUNERAL SERVICES AND MERCHANDISE

523A.20 Insurance division's regulatory fund.

The insurance division may authorize the creation of a special revenue fund in the state treasury, to be known as the insurance division regulatory fund. Commencing July 1, 1990, and annually thereafter, the commissioner shall allocate from the fees paid pursuant to section 523A.2, one dollar for each agreement reported on an establishment permit holder's annual report for deposit to the regulatory fund. The remainder of the fees collected pursuant to section 523A.2 shall be deposited into the general fund of the state. However, if the balance of the regulatory fund on that July 1 exceeds two hundred thousand dollars, the allocation to the regulatory fund shall not be made and the total sum of the fees paid pursuant to section 523A.2 shall be deposited in the general fund of the state. The moneys in the regulatory fund shall be retained in the fund. The moneys are appropriated and, subject to authorization by the commissioner, may be used to pay investigative expenses and the expenses of receiverships established pursuant to section 523A.19. An annual assessment shall not be imposed if the current balance of the fund exceeds two hundred thousand dollars.

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITY PROMOTIONS

523B.1 Definitions.

1. "Administrator" means the commissioner of insurance or the deputy appointed under section 502.601.

2. "Advertising" means a circular, prospectus, advertisement, or other material, or a communication by radio, television, pictures, or similar means used in connection with an offer or sale of a business opportunity.

3. a. "Business opportunity" means a contract or agreement, between a seller and purchaser, express or implied, orally or in writing, at an initial investment exceeding five hundred dollars, where the parties agree that the seller or a person recommended by the seller is to provide to the purchaser any products, equipment, supplies, materials, or services for the purpose of enabling the purchaser to start a business, and the seller represents, directly or indirectly, orally or in writing, any of the following:

(1) The seller or a person recommended by the seller will provide locations or assist the purchaser in finding locations for the use or operation of vending machines, racks, display cases, or other similar devices, on premises which are not owned or leased by the purchaser or seller.

(2) The seller or a person recommended by the seller will provide or assist the purchaser in finding outlets or accounts for the purchaser's products or services.

(3) The seller or a person specified by the seller will purchase any or all products made, produced, fabricated, grown, bred, or modified by the purchaser.

(4) The purchaser will derive income from the business which exceeds the price paid to the seller.

(5) The seller will refund all or part of the price paid to the seller, or repurchase any of the products, equipment, or supplies provided by the seller or a person recommended by the seller, if the purchaser is dissatisfied with the business.

(6) The seller will provide a marketing plan.

b. "Business opportunity" does not include any of the following:

(1) An offer or sale of an ongoing business operated by the seller which is to be sold in its entirety.

(2) An offer or sale of a business opportunity to an ongoing business where the seller will provide products, equipment, supplies, or services which are substantially similar to the products, equipment, supplies, or services sold by the purchaser in connection with the purchaser's ongoing business.

(3) An offer or sale of a business opportunity which involves a marketing plan made in conjunction with the licensing of a federally registered trademark or federally registered service mark provided that the seller has a minimum net worth of one million dollars as determined on the basis of the seller's most recent audited financial statement prepared within thirteen months of the first offer in this state. Net worth may be determined on a consolidated basis if the seller is at least eighty percent owned by one person and that person expressly guarantees the obligations of the seller with regard to the offer or sale of a business opportunity claimed to be excluded under this subparagraph.

(4) An offer or sale of a business opportunity by an executor, administrator, sheriff, receiver, trustee in bankruptcy, guardian, or conservator, or a judicial offer or sale of a business opportunity.

(5) The renewal or extension of a business opportunity contract or agreement entered into under this chapter or prior to July 1, 1981.

4. "Franchise" means a contract or agreement between a seller and a purchaser, express or implied, orally or in writing, where the parties agree to both of the following:

(a) A franchisee is granted the right to engage in the business of offering, selling, or distributing goods or services under a marketing plan prescribed in substantial part by a franchisor.

(b) The operation of the franchisee's business pursuant to such a plan is substantially associated with the franchisor's business and trademark, service mark, trade name, logotype, advertising, or other commercial symbol designating the franchisor or its affiliate.

For the purposes of this subsection, "franchisee" means a person to whom a franchise is granted and "franchisor" means a person who grants a franchise.

5. "Initial investment" means the total amount a purchaser is obligated to pay under the terms of the business opportunity contract either prior to or at the time of the delivery of the merchandise or services or within six months of the purchaser commencing operation of the business opportunity. However, if payment is over a period of time, "initial investment" means the sum of the down payment and the total monthly payments specified in the contract.

6. "Marketing plan" means advice or training, provided to the purchaser by the seller or a person recommended by the seller, pertaining to the sale of any products, equipment, supplies, or services. The advice or training may include, but is not limited to, preparing or providing any of the following:

a. Promotional literature, brochures, pamphlets, or advertising materials.

b. Training regarding the promotion, operation, or management of the business opportunity.

c. Operational, managerial, technical, or financial guidelines or assistance.

7. "Offer" or "offer to sell" means an attempt to dispose of a business opportunity for value, or solicitation of an offer to purchase a business opportunity.

8. "Ongoing business" means an existing business that for at least six months prior to the offer, has been operated from a specific location, has been open for business to the general public, and has substantially all of the equipment and supplies necessary for operating the business.

9. "Person" means an individual, corporation, trust, partnership, incorporated or unincorporated association, or any other legal entity, provided, however, person does not include a government or governmental subdivision or agency.

10. "Purchaser" means a person who enters into a contract or agreement for the acquisition of a business opportunity or a person to whom an offer to sell a business opportunity is directed.

11. "Sale" or "sell" includes every contract or agreement of sale, contract to sell, or disposition of, a business opportunity or interest in a business opportunity for value.

12. "Seller" means a person who sells or offers to sell a business opportunity or an agent or other person who directly or indirectly acts on behalf of such a person. "Seller" does not include the media in or by which an advertisement appears or is disseminated.

523B.2 Registration.

1. Requirement. It is unlawful to offer or sell a business opportunity in this state unless the business opportunity is registered under this chapter or is exempt under section 523B.3.

2. Disclosure.

a. To register a business opportunity, the seller shall file with the administrator one of the disclosure documents as provided in paragraph "b" with the appropriate cover sheet as required by subsection 8, paragraph "b", a consent to service of process as specified in subsection 3, and the appropriate fee as required by subsection 7.

b. The disclosure document required in paragraph "a" shall be in one of the following forms:

(1) A uniform franchise offering circular prepared in accordance with the guidelines adopted by the North American securities administrators association, inc., as amended through September 21, 1983. The administrator may by rule adopt any amendment to the uniform franchise offering circular that has been adopted by the North American securities administrators association, inc.

(2) A disclosure document prepared pursuant to the federal trade commission rule entitled "Disclosure requirements and prohibitions concerning franchising and business opportunity ventures", 16 C.F.R. § 436 (1979). The administrator may by rule adopt any amendment to the disclosure document prepared pursuant to 16 C.F.R. § 436 (1979) that has been adopted by the federal trade commission.

(3) A disclosure document prepared pursuant to subsection 8.

3. Consent to service. A seller shall file, on a form as the administrator may prescribe, an irrevocable consent appointing the administrator or the administrator's successor in office to be the seller's attorney to receive service of any lawful process in a noncriminal suit, action, or proceeding against the seller or the seller's successor, executor, or administrator which arises under this chapter after the consent has been filed, with the same force and validity as if served personally on the person filing the consent. Service may be made by leaving a copy of the process in the office of the administrator, but is not effective unless the plaintiff or petitioner, who may be the administrator or the attorney general, in a suit, action, or proceeding, forthwith sends notice of the service and a copy of the process by registered or certified mail to the defendant's or respondent's address on file with the administrator, and the plaintiff's affidavit of compliance with this subsection is filed in the case on or before the return date of the process, if any, or within such further time as the court allows.

4. Effective date. A registration automatically becomes effective upon the expiration of the tenth full business day after the complete filing, provided that no order has been issued or proceeding is pending under subsection 10. The administrator may by order waive or reduce the time period prior to effectiveness, provided that a complete filing has been made. The administrator may by order defer the effective date until the expiration of the tenth full business day after the filing of an amendment.

5. Period. The registration is effective for one year commencing on the date the registration becomes effective and may be renewed annually upon the filing of a current disclosure document accompanied by any documents or information that the administrator may by rule or order require. Failure to renew upon the close of the one-year period of effectiveness will result in expiration of the registration. The administrator may by rule or order require the filing of a sales report.

6. Filing rule. The administrator may by rule require the filing of all proposed literature or advertising prior to its use.

7. Filing fee. The seller shall pay a five hundred dollar filing fee with the initial disclosure statement filed under subsection 2 and a two hundred fifty dollar annual renewal fee. The administrator shall by rule periodically revise these fees to ensure that they defray the costs of administration of this chapter.

8. Disclosure requirements.

a. It is unlawful to offer or sell a business opportunity required to be registered pursuant to this chapter unless a written disclosure document as filed under subsection 2 is delivered to each purchaser at least ten business days prior to the earlier of the execution by a purchaser of a contract or agreement imposing a binding legal obligation on the purchaser or the payment by a purchaser of any consideration in connection with the offer or sale of the business opportunity.

b. The disclosure document shall have a cover sheet which is entitled, in at least ten-point bold type, "DISCLOSURE REQUIRED BY IOWA LAW." Under the title shall appear the following statement in at least ten-point type: "The registration of this business opportunity does not constitute approval, recommendation, or endorsement by the state of Iowa. The information contained in this disclosure document has not been verified by this state. If you have any questions or concerns about this investment, seek professional advice before you sign a contract or make any payment. You are to be provided ten (10) business days to review this document before signing a contract or agreement or making any payment to the seller or the seller's representative."

The seller's name and principal business address, along with the date of the disclosure document, shall also be provided on the cover sheet. No other information shall appear on the cover sheet.

c. Unless the seller uses a disclosure document as provided in subsection 2, paragraphs "a" and "b", the disclosure document shall contain the following information:

(1) The names and residential addresses of those salespersons who will engage in the offer or sale of the business opportunity in this state.

(2) The name of the seller; whether the seller is doing business as an individual, partnership, corporation, or other entity; the names under which the seller has done, is doing, or intends to do business; and the name of any parent or affiliated company that will engage in business transactions with purchasers or that will take responsibility for statements made by the seller.

(3) The names, addresses, and titles of the seller's officers, directors, trustees, general managers, principal executives, agents, and any other persons charged with responsibility for the seller's business activities relating to the sale of the business opportunity.

(4) Prior business experience of the seller relating to business opportunities including all of the following:

(a) The name, address, and a description of any business opportunity previously offered by the seller.

(b) The length of time the seller has offered each such business opportunity.

(c) The length of time the seller has conducted the business opportunity currently being offered to the purchaser.

(5) With respect to each person identified in subparagraph (3), all of the following:

(a) A description of the person's business experience for the ten-year period preceding the filing date of this disclosure document. The description of business experience shall list principal occupations and employers.

(b) A listing of the person's educational and professional background, including the names of schools attended and degrees received, and any other information that will demonstrate sufficient knowledge and experience to perform the services proposed.

(6) Whether any of the following apply to the seller or any person identified in subparagraph (3):

(a) The seller or other person has been convicted of a felony, pleaded nolo contendere to a felony charge, or has been the subject of a criminal, civil, or administrative proceeding alleging the violation of a business opportunity law, securities law, commodities law, or franchise law, or alleging fraud or deceit, embezzlement, fraudulent conversion, restraint of trade, an unfair or deceptive practice, misappropriation of property, or making comparable allegations.

(b) The seller or other person has filed for bankruptcy, been adjudged bankrupt, or been reorganized due to insolvency, or was an owner, principal officer, or general partner of a person, or any other person that has filed for bankruptcy or was adjudged bankrupt, or been reorganized due to insolvency during the last seven years.

(7) The name of any person identified in subparagraph (6), the nature of and the parties to the action or proceeding, the court or other forum, the date of the institution of the action, the docket references to the action, the current status of the action or proceeding, the terms and conditions of any order or decree, and the penalties or damages assessed and terms of settlement.

(8) The initial payment required, or if the exact amount cannot be determined, a detailed estimate of the amount of the initial payment to be made to the seller.

(9) A detailed description of the actual services the seller agrees to perform for the purchaser.

(10) A detailed description of any training the seller agrees to provide for the purchaser.

(11) A detailed description of services the seller agrees to perform in connection with the placement of equipment, products, or supplies at a location, as well as any agreement necessary in order to locate or operate equipment, products, or supplies on premises which are not owned or leased by the purchaser or seller.

(12) A detailed description of any license or permit that will be necessary in order for the purchaser to engage in or operate the business opportunity.

(13) The business opportunity seller that is required to secure a bond pursuant to section 523B.4 shall include in the disclosure document the following statement: "As required by the state of Iowa, the seller has secured a bond issued by [insert name and address of surety company], a surety company, authorized to do business in this state. Before signing a contract or agreement to purchase this business opportunity, you should check with the surety company to determine the bond's current status."

(14) Any representations made by the seller to the purchaser concerning sales or earnings that may be made from this business opportunity, including, but not limited to the following:

(a) The bases or assumptions for any actual, average, projected, or forecasted sales, profits, income, or earnings.

(b) The total number of purchasers who, within a period of three years of the date of the disclosure document, purchased a business opportunity involving the product, equipment, supplies, or services being offered to the purchaser.

(c) The total number of purchasers who, within three years of the date of the disclosure document, purchased a business opportunity involving the product, equipment, supplies, or services being offered to the purchaser who, to the seller's knowledge, have actually received earnings in the amount or range specified.

(15) A detailed description of the elements of a guarantee made by a seller to a purchaser. The description shall include, but is not limited to, the duration, terms, scope, conditions, and limitations of the guarantee.

(16) A statement including all of the following:

(a) The total number of business opportunities that are the same or similar in nature to those being sold or organized by the seller.

(b) The names and addresses of purchasers who have requested a refund or rescission from the seller within the last twelve months and the number of those who have received the refund or rescission.

(c) The total number of business opportunities the seller intends to sell in this state within the next twelve months.

(d) The total number of purchasers known to the seller to have failed in the business opportunity.

(17) A statement describing any contractual restrictions, prohibitions, or limitations on the purchaser's conduct. Attach a copy of all business opportunities and other contracts or agreements proposed for use or in use in this state including, without limitation, all lease agreements, option agreements, and purchase agreements.

(18) The rights and obligations of the seller and the purchaser regarding termination of the business opportunity contract or agreement.

(19) A statement accurately describing the grounds upon which the purchaser may initiate legal action to terminate the business opportunity contract or agreement.

(20) A copy of the most recent audited financial statement of the seller, prepared within thirteen months of the first offer in this state, together with a statement of any material changes in the financial condition of the seller from that date. The administrator may allow the seller to submit a limited review in order to satisfy the requirements of subparagraph (13).

(21) A list of the states in which this business opportunity is registered.

(22) A list of the states in which this disclosure document is on file.

(23) A list of the states which have denied, suspended, or revoked the registration of this business opportunity.

(24) A section entitled "Risk Factors" containing a series of short concise statements summarizing the principal factors which make this business opportunity a high risk or one of a speculative nature. Each statement shall include a cross-reference to the page on which further information regarding that risk factor can be found in the disclosure document.

(25) Any additional information as the administrator may require by rule or order.

9 Contract or agreement provisions

a It is unlawful to offer or sell a business opportunity required to be registered unless the business opportunity contract or agreement is in writing and a copy of the contract or agreement is given to the purchaser at the time the purchaser signs the contract or agreement

b The contract or agreement is subject to this chapter and section 714 16

c Contracts or agreements shall set forth in at least ten point type or equivalent size, if handwritten, all of the following

(1) The terms and conditions of any and all payments due to the seller

(2) The seller's principal business address and the name and address of the seller's agent in this state authorized to receive service of process

(3) The business form of the seller, whether corporate, partnership, or otherwise

(4) The delivery date, or when the contract provides for a periodic delivery of items to the purchaser, the approximate delivery date of the product, equipment, or supplies the seller is to deliver to the purchaser to enable the purchaser to start business

(5) Whether the product, equipment, or supplies are to be delivered to the purchaser's home or business address or are to be placed or caused to be placed by the seller at locations owned or managed by persons other than the purchaser

(6) A statement that accurately states the purchaser's right to void the contract under the circumstances and in the manner set forth in section 523B 6

(7) The cancellation statement appearing in section 82 3

10 Denial, suspension, or revocation of registration

a The administrator may issue an order denying effectiveness to, or suspending or revoking the effectiveness of, any registration if the administrator finds that the order is in the public interest and any of the following

(1) The registration as of its effective date or as of any earlier date in the case of an order denying effectiveness, any amendment as of its effective date, or any report is incomplete in any material respect or contains any statement which is, in the light of the circumstances under which it was made, determined by the administrator to be false or misleading with respect to any material fact

(2) Any provision of this chapter or any rule, order, or condition lawfully imposed under this chapter has been willfully violated, in connection with the business opportunity, by either of the following

(a) The person filing the registration

(b) The seller, any partner, officer, or director of the seller, any person occupying a similar status or performing similar functions, or any person directly or indirectly controlling or controlled by the seller, but only if the person filing the registration is directly or indirectly controlled by or acting for the seller

(3) The business opportunity registered or sought to be registered is the subject of an administrative order denying, suspending, or revoking a registration or a permanent or temporary injunction of any court of competent jurisdiction However, the administrator shall not do either of the following

(a) Institute a proceeding against an effective registration under this paragraph more than one year from the date of the order or injunction relied on

(b) Enter an order under this paragraph on the basis of an order or injunction entered under any other state act unless that order or injunction was based on facts which would currently constitute a ground for an order under this section

(4) The seller's enterprise or method of business, or that of the business opportunity, includes or would include activities which are or would be illegal where performed

(5) The business opportunity or the offering of a business opportunity has worked or tended to work a fraud upon purchasers or would operate to work such a fraud

(6) There has been a failure to file any documents or information required under subsection 2

(7) The seller has failed to pay the proper filing fee However, the administrator shall vacate any order issued pursuant to this subparagraph when the deficiency has been corrected

(8) The seller's literature or advertising is misleading, incorrect, incomplete, or deceptive

b The administrator shall not institute a proceeding under this subsection against an effective registration on the basis of a fact or transaction known to the administrator when the registration became effective unless the proceeding is instituted thirty days after the effective date of the registration

c (1) The administrator may by order summarily postpone or suspend the effectiveness of the registration pending final determination of a proceeding under this subsection

(2) Upon the entry of a summary order, the administrator shall promptly notify the seller that the order has been entered and of the reasons for entering the order and that within fifteen days after the receipt of a written request the matter will be set down for hearing

(3) If no hearing is requested the order will remain in effect until it is modified or vacated by the administrator If a hearing is requested or ordered, the administrator may modify or vacate the order or extend the order until final determination

d A summary order shall not be entered under any part of this subsection, except under subparagraph (1) of paragraph "c", without appropriate notice to the seller, an opportunity for hearing, and written findings of fact and conclusions of law in accordance with chapter 17A

e The administrator may vacate or modify an order issued under this subsection if the administrator finds that the conditions which prompted its entry have changed or that it is otherwise in the public interest to do so.

1. Types of exemptions. The following business opportunities are exempt from the requirements of section 523B.2:

a. The offer or sale of a business opportunity if the purchaser is a bank, savings and loan association, trust company, insurance company, credit union, or investment company as defined by the federal Investment Company Act of 1940, a pension or profit-sharing trust, or other financial institution or institutional buyer, or a dealer registered pursuant to chapter 502, whether the purchaser is acting for itself or in a fiduciary capacity.

b. The offer or sale of a business opportunity which is defined as a franchise under section 523B.1, subsection 4, provided that the seller delivers to each purchaser at the earlier of the first personal meeting between the seller and the purchaser, or ten business days prior to the earlier of the execution by a purchaser of a contract or agreement imposing a binding legal obligation on the purchaser or the payment by a purchaser of any consideration in connection with the offer or sale of the business opportunity, one of the following disclosure documents:

(1) A uniform franchise-offering circular prepared in accordance with the guidelines adopted by the North American securities administrators association, inc., as amended through September 21, 1983.

(2) A disclosure document prepared pursuant to the federal trade commission rule entitled "Disclosure requirements and prohibitions concerning franchising and business opportunity ventures", 16 C.F.R. § 436 (1979).

For the purposes of this paragraph, a personal meeting means a face-to-face meeting between the purchaser and the seller or their representatives, which is held for the purpose of discussing the offer or sale of a business opportunity. The administrator may by rule adopt any amendment to the uniform franchise-offering circular that has been adopted by the North American securities administrators association, inc., or any amendment to the disclosure document prepared pursuant to the federal trade commission rule entitled "Disclosure requirements and prohibitions concerning franchising and business opportunity ventures", 16 C.F.R. § 436 (1979), that has been adopted by the federal trade commission.

c. The offer or sale of a business opportunity for which the cash payment made by a purchaser does not exceed five hundred dollars and the payment is made for the not-for-profit sale of sales demonstration equipment, material, or samples, or the payment is made for product inventory sold to the purchaser at a bona fide wholesale price.

d. The offer or sale of a business opportunity which the administrator exempts by order or a class of business opportunities which the administrator exempts by rule upon the finding that the exemption would not be contrary to public interest and that registration would not be necessary or appropriate for the protection of purchasers.

2. Denial or revocation of exemptions.

a. The administrator may by order deny or revoke an exemption specified in this section with respect to a particular offering of one or more business opportunities. An order shall not be entered without appropriate prior notice to all interested parties, opportunity for hearing, and written findings of fact and conclusions of law.

b. If the public interest or the protection of purchasers so requires, the administrator may by order summarily deny or revoke any of the specified exemptions pending final determination of any proceedings under this section. Upon entry of the order, the administrator shall promptly notify all interested parties that it has been entered and of the reasons for entering the order and that within fifteen days of the receipt of a written request the matter will be set down for hearing. If a hearing is not requested the order shall remain in effect until it is modified or vacated by the administrator. If a hearing is requested or ordered, the administrator shall not modify or vacate the order or extend it until final determination.

c. An order under this section shall not operate retroactively.

d. A person does not violate section 523B.2 by reason of an offer or sale effected after the entry of an order under paragraph "b" if the person sustains the burden of proof that the person did not know, and in the exercise of reasonable care could not have known, of the order.

3. Burden of proof. In an administrative, civil, or criminal proceeding related to this chapter, the burden of proving an exemption, an exception from a definition, or an exclusion from this chapter, is upon the person claiming it.

523B.4 Minimum net worth or bond requirement.

1. In connection with an offer or sale of a business opportunity, a seller shall not make or use any of the representations set forth in section 523B.1, subsection 3, paragraph "a", subparagraphs (4) and (5), unless the seller has at all times a minimum net worth of twenty-five thousand dollars as determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. In lieu of the minimum net worth requirement, the administrator may, by rule or order, require a business opportunity seller to obtain a surety bond issued by a surety company authorized to do business in this state. The surety bond must be in an amount not less than twenty-five thousand dollars and shall be for the benefit of any purchaser. The administrator may by rule or order increase the amount of the bond for the protection of purchasers and may require the seller to file reports of all sales in this state to determine the appropriate amount of bond.

2. If the seller is required to obtain a surety bond, the seller shall maintain a surety bond for the duration of the guarantee or representation giving rise to the surety bond requirement. Upon expiration of the period of the guarantee, the seller may allow the surety bond to lapse if the seller gives notice to the administrator and all business opportunity purchasers in this state at least thirty days prior to the lapse of the bond.

Section stricken and rewritten

1. A document is filed when the document is received by the administrator.

2. The administrator shall keep a register of all applications for registration and disclosure documents which are or have been effective under this chapter and all orders which have been entered under this chapter.

3. Unless otherwise provided by law, a registration statement, filing, application, or report filed with the administrator is open for public inspection.

4. The administrator may honor a written request from an interested person for an interpretative opinion upon the payment of a fee of one hundred dollars.

523B.7 Liability — remedies.

1. a. A person who violates section 523B.4 or section 523B.2, subsection 1, 8, or 9, is liable to the purchaser in an action for rescission of the agreement, or for recovery of all money or other valuable consideration paid for the business opportunity, and for actual damages together with interest as determined pursuant to section 668.13 from the date of sale, reasonable attorney's fees, and court costs.

b. A person who violates section 523B.12, subsection 2 or 3, is liable to the purchaser who may sue either at law or in equity for rescission, or for recovery of all money or other valuable consideration paid for the business opportunity, and for the recovery of treble damages together with interest as determined pursuant to section 668.13 from the date of sale, reasonable attorney's fees, and court costs.

c. A person who violates section 523B.2, subsection 8, or section 523B.12, subsection 2 or 3, or who breaches a business opportunity contract or agreement or an obligation arising under the contract or agreement, is liable to the purchaser who may sue the surety of the seller's bond, either at law or in equity, to recover all money or other valuable consideration paid for the business opportunity and actual damages, together with interest as determined pursuant to section 668.13 from the date of sale, reasonable attorney's fees, and court costs. The liability of the surety shall not exceed the amount of the bond.

2. Every person who directly or indirectly controls a party liable under this section, every partner in a partnership so liable, every principal executive officer or director of a corporation so liable, every person occupying a similar status in, or performing similar functions for, and every employee of, a party so liable who materially aids in the act or transaction constituting the violation is also liable jointly and severally with and to the same extent as the party, unless the person liable as a result of the person's relationship with the liable party as defined under this section proves that the person did not know, and in the exercise of reasonable care could not have known of the existence of the facts giving rise to the alleged liability. Among the persons held liable, a party paying more than the party's percentage share of damages may recover judgment for contribution upon motion to the court or in a separate action.

3. An action shall not be maintained under this section unless commenced within three years after the act or transaction constituting the violation, or within one year after the discovery of the facts constituting the violation, whichever period later expires.

4. The rights and remedies available pursuant to this chapter are in addition to any other rights or remedies that may exist at law or in equity.

523B.8 Powers of administrator.

1. If it appears to the administrator that a person has engaged, is engaging, or is about to engage in any act or practice constituting a violation of this chapter or a rule or order adopted or issued under this chapter, the administrator may issue an order directed at the person requiring the person to cease and desist from engaging in the act or practice. The person named in the order may, within fourteen days after receipt of the order, file a written request for a hearing. The hearing shall be held in accordance with chapter 17A.

Any consent agreement between the administrator and the seller may be filed in the miscellaneous docket of the clerk of the district court.

2. a. The administrator may do any of the following:

(1) Make public or private investigations within or outside of this state as the administrator deems necessary to determine whether a person has violated or is about to violate a provision of this chapter or a rule or order under this chapter, or to aid in the enforcement of this chapter or in the prescribing of rules and forms under this chapter.

(2) Require or permit a person to file a statement, under oath or otherwise as the administrator determines, as to all the facts and circumstances concerning the matter to be investigated.

(3) Publish information concerning a violation of this chapter or a violation of a rule or order under this chapter.

b. For the purpose of an investigation or proceeding under this chapter, the administrator or an officer designated by the administrator may administer oaths and affirmations, subpoena witnesses, compel the attendance of witnesses, take evidence and require the production of books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, agreements, or other documents or records which the administrator deems relevant or material to the inquiry.

c. If a person resists or refuses to obey a subpoena issued to that person, the district court upon application by the administrator may issue to the person an order requiring the person to appear before the administrator, to produce documentary evidence if so ordered, or to give evidence related to the matter under investigation. Failure to obey the order of the court is punishable as a contempt of court.

d. A person is not excused from attending and testifying or from producing a document or record before the administrator or an officer designated by the administrator, on the grounds that the testimony or evidence, documentary or otherwise, required by the administrator may tend to incriminate the person or subject the person to a penalty or forfeiture. However, an individual shall not be prosecuted or subjected to a penalty or forfeiture on account of a transaction, matter, or thing concerning which the person is compelled, after claiming the person's privilege against self-incrimination, to testify or produce, except that the individual testifying is not exempt from prosecution and punishment for perjury or contempt related to such testimony.

3. Judicial review of a decision of the administrator may be sought under chapter 17A.

4. If it appears to the administrator that a person has engaged, is engaged, or is about to engage in any act or practice constituting a violation of this chapter, or of a rule or order adopted or issued under this chapter, the administrator may take either or both of the following actions:

a. Notify the attorney general who shall bring an action in the district court to enjoin the acts or practices constituting the violation and to enforce compliance with this chapter or any rule or order adopted or issued pursuant to this chapter. Upon a proper showing a permanent or temporary injunction shall be granted and a receiver or conservator may be appointed for the defendant or the defendant's assets.

b. Sue on behalf of a purchaser to enforce the purchasers' rights.

523B.11 Penalties.

1. A seller who willfully violates section 523B.4, section 523B.2, subsection 1, 8, or 9, or section 523B.12, subsection 2, who willfully violates a rule under this chapter, who willfully violates an order of which the person has notice, or who violates section 523B.12, subsection 1, knowing that the statement made was false or misleading in any material respect, upon conviction, is guilty of a class "D" felony. Each of the acts specified constitutes a separate offense and a prosecution or conviction for any one of such offenses does not bar prosecution or conviction for any other offense.

2. A seller who willfully uses any device or scheme to defraud a person in connection with the advertisement, offer to sell or lease, sale, or lease of a business opportunity, or who willfully violates any other provision of this chapter, except as provided in subsections 1 and 3, is, upon conviction, guilty of a fraudulent practice.

3. A seller who violates a rule or order adopted or issued under this chapter is, upon conviction, guilty of an aggravated misdemeanor.

4. The administrator may refer available evidence concerning a possible violation of this chapter or of a rule or order issued under this chapter to the attorney general. The attorney general, with or without such a referral, may institute appropriate criminal proceedings or may direct the case to the appropriate county attorney to institute appropriate criminal proceedings.

523B.12 Fraudulent practices.

1. Misleading filings. It is unlawful to make or cause to be made, in a document filed with the administrator or in a proceeding under this chapter, a statement which is, at the time and in the light of the circumstances under which it is made, false or misleading in a material respect or, in connection with such a statement, to omit to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statement made, in the light of the circumstances under which it is made, not misleading.

2. Unlawful representations. The fact that an application for registration has been filed or the fact that a business opportunity is effectively registered does not constitute a finding by the administrator that a document filed under this chapter is true, complete, and not misleading. The fact that an application for registration has been filed, that a business opportunity is effectively registered, or that an exemption or exception is available for a business opportunity does not mean that the administrator has passed in any way upon the merits or qualifications of, or recommended or given approval to, a person or business opportunity. It is unlawful to make, or cause to be made, to a purchaser, any representation inconsistent with this subsection.

3. Advertising. It is unlawful for a seller, in connection with the offer or sale of a business opportunity in this state, to publish, circulate, or use advertising which contains an untrue statement of a material fact or omits to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements made, in the light of the circumstances under which they are made, not misleading.

523B.13 Scope — service of process.

1. The provisions of this chapter concerning sales and offers to sell apply to persons who sell or offer to sell a business opportunity when any of the following apply:

- a. An offer to sell is made in this state.
- b. An offer to purchase is made and accepted in this state.
- c. The purchaser is domiciled in this state and the business opportunity is or will be operated in this state.

2. For the purpose of this section, an offer to sell is made in this state, whether or not either party is then present in this state, when either of the following apply:

- a. The offer originates from this state.
- b. The offer is directed by the offeror to this state and received at the place to which the offer is directed or at a post office in this state in the case of a mailed offer.

3. For the purpose of this section, an offer to sell is accepted in this state when both of the following occur:

- a. The acceptance is communicated to the offeror in this state.
- b. The acceptance has not previously been communicated to the offeror, orally, or in writing, outside this state. For the purpose of this section the acceptance is communicated to the offeror in this state, when the offeree directs it to the offeror in this state reasonably believing the offeror to be in this state, and the acceptance is received at the place to which it is directed or at a post office in this state in the case of a mailed acceptance.

4. An offer to sell is not made in this state under either of the following circumstances:

- a. If the offer appears in a bona fide newspaper or other publication of general circulation which is not published in this state, or which is published in this state but has had more than two-thirds of its circulation outside this state during the past twelve months.

b. If the offer is made on a radio or television program originating outside this state which is received in this state.

5. A person who engages in conduct prohibited or made actionable under this chapter and who has not filed a consent to service of process is deemed to have appointed the administrator to be the person's attorney for purposes of service of any lawful process in a noncriminal suit, action, or proceeding against the person or the person's successor, executor, or administrator, which is the result of that conduct and which is brought under this chapter or is pursuant to a rule or order under this chapter. Service shall be made by leaving a copy of the process in the office of the administrator. The service is effective after both of the following have occurred:

a. The plaintiff, who may be the administrator, in a suit, action, or proceeding instituted by the administrator, sends notice of the service and a copy of the process by certified or registered mail to the defendant's or respondent's last known address or takes other steps which are reasonably calculated to give actual notice.

b. The plaintiff's affidavit of compliance with this subsection is filed on or before the return day of the process, if any, or within such further time as the court allows.

6. When process is served under this section, the court, or the administrator in a proceeding before the administrator, shall order such continuance as may be necessary to afford the defendant or respondent reasonable opportunity to defend.

RETIREMENT FACILITIES

523D.1 Definitions.

As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Commissioner" means the commissioner of insurance or the deputy appointed under section 502.601.

2. "Continuing care" means housing together with supportive services, nursing services, medical services, or other health related services, furnished to a resident, regardless of whether or not the lodging and services are provided at the same location, with or without other periodic charges, and pursuant to one or more contracts effective for the life of the resident or a period in excess of one year, including mutually cancellable contracts, and in consideration of an entrance fee.

3. "Continuing care retirement community" means a facility which provides continuing care to residents other than residents related by consanguinity or affinity to the person furnishing their care.

4. "Entrance fee" means an initial or deferred transfer to a provider of a sum of money or other property made or promised to be made as full or partial consideration for acceptance of a specified individual in a facility if the amount exceeds either of the following:

- a. Five thousand dollars.
 - b. The sum of the regular periodic charges for six months of residency.
5. "Facility" means the place or places in which a provider undertakes to provide continuing care or senior adult congregate living services to an individual.
6. "Living unit" means a room, apartment, cottage, or other area within a facility set aside for the exclusive use or control of one or more identified residents.
7. "New construction" means construction of a new facility or the expansion of an existing facility if the expansion involves an increase in the number of living units in excess of twenty-five percent.
8. "Provider" means a person undertaking through a lease or other type of agreement to provide care in a continuing care retirement community or senior adult congregate living facility, even if that person does not own the facility.
9. "Resident" means an individual, sixty years of age or older, entitled to receive care in a continuing care retirement community or a senior adult congregate living facility.
10. "Senior adult congregate living facility" means a facility which provides senior adult congregate living services to residents other than residents related by consanguinity or affinity to the person furnishing their care.
11. "Senior adult congregate living services" means housing and one or more supportive services furnished to a resident, with or without other periodic charges, in consideration of an entrance fee.
12. "Supportive services" includes but is not limited to one or any combination of the following services: laundry, maintenance, housekeeping, emergency nursing care, activity services, security, dining options, transportation, beauty and barber services, health care, and personal care, including personal hygiene, eating, bathing, dressing, and supervised medication administration.

523D.3 Disclosure statement.

1. At the time of, or prior to, the execution of a contract to provide continuing care or senior adult congregate living services, or at the time of, or prior to the provider's acceptance of part or all of the entrance fee by or on behalf of a prospective resident, whichever occurs first, the provider shall deliver a disclosure statement to the person, and to the person's personal representative if one is appointed, with whom the contract is to be entered into. Unless incorporated by reference, in whole or in part, the disclosure statement shall not constitute part of the contract between the resident and provider. The disclosure statement shall contain all of the following information unless the information is in the contract, a copy of which must be attached to the statement:

- a. The name and business address of the provider and a statement of whether the provider is a partnership, corporation, or other legal entity.
- b. The names and business addresses of the officers, directors, trustees, managing or general partners, and any person having a ten percent or greater equity or beneficial interest in the provider and a description of such person's interest in or occupation with the provider.
- c. With respect to each person covered by paragraph "b", and if the facility will be managed on a day-to-day basis by a person identified pursuant to paragraph "b", or with respect to the proposed manager, the following information:
 - (1) A description of the business experience of the person, if any, in the operation or management of similar facilities.
 - (2) The name and address of any professional service, or other entity in which the person has, or which has in the person, a ten percent or greater interest and which has provided goods, leases, or services to the facility of a value of five hundred dollars or more within the prior twelve months or which has contracted to provide goods, leases, or services to the facility of a value of five hundred dollars or more within a year, including a description of the goods, leases, or services and their actual or anticipated cost to the facility or provider.
 - (3) A description of any matter resulting in the person's conviction of a felony or a plea of nolo contendere to a felony charge, or a description of any matter where the person was found to be liable or enjoined in a civil action by final judgment if the felony or civil action involved fraud, embezzlement, fraudulent conversion, misappropriation of property, or a similar felony involving theft or dishonesty.
 - (4) A description of any matter in which the person is subject to a currently effective injunctive or restrictive order of a court, or a description of any matter within the past five years where the person has had a state or federal license or permit suspended or revoked as a result of an action brought by a governmental agency of this or any state or the division of insurance, arising out of or relating to business activity or health care, including, without limitation, actions affecting a license to operate a foster care facility, health care facility, retirement home, home for the aged, or facility licensed under this chapter or a similar law of another state.
- d. A statement, if applicable, containing the following:
 - (1) Whether the provider is or ever has been affiliated with a for-profit organization or with a religious, charitable, or other nonprofit organization.
 - (2) The nature of the affiliation.
 - (3) The extent to which the affiliate organization is responsible for the financial and contractual obligations of the provider.
 - (4) The provision of the federal Internal Revenue Code, if any, under which the provider or affiliate is exempt from the payment of federal income tax

e The location and description of the physical property or properties of the facility, existing or proposed, and, to the extent proposed, the estimated completion date or dates, whether or not construction has begun, and the contingencies subject to which construction may be deferred

f The services provided or proposed to be provided under contracts for continuing care or senior adult congregate living services at the facility, including the extent to which medical care is furnished. The disclosure statement shall clearly state which services are included in basic contracts and which services are made available at or by the facility at extra charge

g A description of all fees required of residents, including the entrance fee and periodic charges, if any. The description shall include the manner by which the provider may adjust periodic charges or other recurring fees and the limitations on such adjustments, if any

h The provisions which have been made or will be made, if any, to provide reserve funding or security to enable the provider to fully perform its obligations under contracts to provide continuing care or senior adult congregate living services at the facility, including the establishment of escrow accounts, trusts, or reserve funds, together with the manner in which the funds will be invested and the names and experience of persons who will make the investment decisions

i Certified financial statements of the provider, for all parts of an operation covered by the contract, including the health center or nursing home portion of the continuing care retirement community, if those services are included in the contract, but the disclosure statement may exclude services or operations not provided to residents as senior adult congregate living services under the contract, which shall include the following

(1) A balance sheet as of the end of the two most recent fiscal years

(2) Income statements of the provider for the two most recent fiscal years or the shorter period of time the provider has been in existence

j If operation of the facility has not yet commenced, a statement of the anticipated source and application of the funds used or to be used in the purchase or construction of the facility, including the following

(1) An estimate of the cost of purchasing or constructing and equipping the facility, including related costs such as financing expense, legal expense, land costs, occupancy development costs, and all other similar costs the provider expects to incur or become obligated for prior to the commencement of operations

(2) A description of any mortgage loan or other long-term financing intended to be used for the financing of the facility, including the anticipated terms and costs of the financing

(3) An estimate of the total entrance fees to be received from or on behalf of residents at or prior to commencement of operation of the facility

(4) An estimate of the funds, if any, anticipated to be necessary to fund start-up losses and provide reserve funds to assure full performance of the obligations of the provider under contracts for the provision of continuing care or senior adult congregate living services

(5) A projection of estimated income from fees and charges other than entrance fees, showing individual rates presently anticipated to be charged and including a description of the assumptions used for calculating the estimated occupancy rate of the facility and the effect on the income of the facility of government subsidies for health care services, if any, to be provided pursuant to contracts for continuing care or senior adult congregate living services

(6) A projection of estimated operating expenses of the facility, including a description of the assumptions used in calculating the expenses and separate allowances, if any, for the replacement of equipment and furnishings and anticipated major structural repairs or additions

(7) Identification of any assets pledged as collateral for any purpose

(8) An estimate of annual payments of principal and interest required by a mortgage loan or other long-term financing

k Other material information concerning the facility or the provider required by the division of insurance or which the provider wishes to include

l The cover page of the disclosure statement shall state, in a prominent location and type face, the date of the disclosure statement

m A copy of the standard form or forms of contract for continuing care or senior adult congregate living services used by the provider, attached as an exhibit to each disclosure statement

2 The provider shall file with the division of insurance, annually within five months following the end of the provider's fiscal year, an annual disclosure statement which shall contain the information required by this chapter for the initial disclosure statement. The annual disclosure statement shall also be accompanied by a narrative describing a Any material differences between the pro forma income statement filed pursuant to this chapter as part of the most recent annual disclosure statement and the actual results of operations during the fiscal year, if the material differences substantially affect the financial safety or soundness of the community

b Any material differences between the pro forma balance sheet and the actual results of operations during the fiscal year

The annual disclosure statement shall also contain a revised pro forma income statement for the next fiscal year

3 In the event an amendment is filed with the division of insurance pursuant to subsection 4, the provider shall deliver a copy of the amendment or the amended disclosure statement to a prospective resident and to a prospective resident's personal representative if one is appointed prior to the provider's acceptance of part or all of the entrance fee or the execution of the continuing care or senior congregate living services contract by the prospective resident.

4. In addition to filing the annual disclosure statement, the provider may amend its currently filed disclosure statement at any other time if, in the opinion of the provider, an amendment is necessary to prevent the disclosure statement and annual disclosure statement from containing any material misstatement of fact or omission to state a material fact required to be included in the statement. The amendment or amended disclosure statement shall be filed with the division of insurance before the statement is delivered to a resident or prospective resident and a personal representative of a resident or prospective resident and is subject to all the requirements, including those as to content and delivery, of this chapter.

523D.5 New construction.

1. Filing with insurance division. A provider shall not enter into a contract to provide continuing care or senior adult congregate living services that applies to a living unit that is part of a new facility or proposed expansion that is or will be located in this state unless the person has submitted an application on a form as required by the division of insurance accompanied by a fee of two hundred fifty dollars. The application at a minimum must include the following information:

a. A description of the new facility or the proposed expansion, including a description of the goods and services that will be offered to prospective residents.

b. A statement of the financial resources of the provider available for this project.

c. A statement of the capital expenditures necessary to accomplish this project.

d. A statement of financial feasibility for the new facility or proposed expansion in a form satisfactory to the commissioner, which includes a statement of future funding sources and shall identify the qualifications of the person or persons preparing the study.

e. A statement of the market feasibility for the new facility or proposed expansion in a form satisfactory to the commissioner, which identifies the qualifications of the person or persons preparing the study.

f. If the new facility or proposed expansion offers a promise to provide nursing or health care services to residents in the future, an actuarial forecast in a form satisfactory to the commissioner, which identifies the qualifications of the actuary or actuaries preparing the forecast.

g. Copies of the escrow agreements executed pursuant to this chapter or proof that an escrow is not required.

2. Determination of feasibility.

a. Existing facilities. If a filing is made under this section for an expansion of an existing facility, the determination of feasibility shall be based on consolidated information for the existing facility and the proposed expansion.

b. New facilities. If a filing is made under this section for a new facility, not part of an existing facility that will be constructed in more than one stage or phase, the initial stage or phase must evidence feasibility independent of any subsequent stage or phase and contain all of the facilities or components necessary to provide residents with all of the services and amenities promised by the provider.

3. Construction. New construction shall not begin until the filing required by this section has been made and at least fifty percent of the proposed number of independent living units in the initial stage or phase have been reserved pursuant to executed contracts and at least ten percent of the entrance fees required by those contracts are held in escrow pursuant to this chapter.

4. Escrow requirements. Unless proof has been submitted to the commissioner that conditions for the release of escrowed funds set forth in this section have already been met, the provider shall establish an interest-bearing escrow account at a state or federally regulated financial institution located within this state to receive any deposits or entrance fees or portions of deposits or fees for a living unit which has not been previously occupied by a resident for which an entry fee arrangement is used. The escrow account agreement shall be entered into between the financial institution and the provider with the financial institution as the escrow agent and as a fiduciary for the resident or prospective resident. The agreement shall state that the purpose of the escrow account is to protect the resident or prospective resident and that the funds deposited shall be kept and maintained in an account separate and apart from the provider's business accounts.

5. Release of escrowed funds. Funds held in escrow shall be released only as follows:

a. If the provider fails to meet the requirements for release of funds held in escrow pursuant to this section within a time period specified in the escrow agreement, which shall not exceed thirty-six months, these funds shall be returned by the escrow agent to the persons who have made payment to the provider.

b. Upon notice from the provider that a resident is entitled to a refund, the escrow agent shall refund the amount directly to the resident. The amount of the refund shall be included in the provider's notice to the escrow agent and shall be determined in compliance with this chapter and any applicable terms of the resident's contract.

c. Except as provided by paragraphs "a" and "b", amounts held in escrow shall be released only upon approval of the commissioner. The commissioner shall approve the release of funds only upon a determination that at least one of the following conditions has been satisfied:

(1) The facility has a minimum of fifty percent of the units reserved for which the provider is charging an entrance fee and the aggregate amount of the entrance fees received by or pledged to the provider, plus anticipated proceeds from any long-term financing commitment, plus funds from all other sources in the actual possession of the provider, equal not less than ninety percent of the aggregate cost of constructing or purchasing, equipping, and furnishing the facility.

(2) The resident has moved into the living unit, the cancellation period required by section 523D.6, subsection 2, has expired, construction of the facility or the portion of the facility under construction is complete, the facility has been adequately equipped and furnished, a certificate of occupancy or the equivalent has been issued by the appropriate local jurisdiction, and the provider has been issued all the appropriate licenses or permits needed to operate the facility and provide all of the promised services.

d. Upon receipt by the escrow agent of a request by the provider for the release of these escrowed funds, the escrow agent shall approve release of the funds within five working days unless the escrow agent finds that the requirements of this section have not been met and notifies the provider of the basis for this finding. The request for release of the escrowed funds shall be accompanied by any documentation the escrow agent requires.

523D.6 Contracts.

1. Disclosure. In addition to any other provisions prescribed by rules adopted under this chapter, each contract providing for continuing care or senior adult congregate living services by a provider shall be written in nontechnical language easily understood by a lay person and shall include all of the following:

a. The name and business address of the provider.

b. The name and address of the facility or facilities.

c. The identification of the living unit which the prospective resident will occupy.

d. A description of the total consideration paid by the resident, including the value of all property transferred.

e. A list of all of the continuing care or senior adult congregate living services which are to be provided by the provider to each resident. The list shall clearly identify the manner in which continuing care or senior adult congregate living services will be provided, including a statement whether the items will be provided for a designated time period or for life, and shall indicate which continuing care and senior adult congregate living services, if any, will be provided through an affiliate or third party. The description of any service charges or fees shall, in the event of multiple residents, be provided on an individual basis and shall include a description of any additional charges that will be assessed for occupancy by more than one resident.

f. A statement of the policy of the facility with regard to any health or financial conditions upon which the provider may require the resident to relinquish the resident's space in the designated facility.

g. A statement of the policy of the facility with regard to the health and financial conditions required for a person to continue as a resident.

h. A statement of the policy of the facility with regard to the conditions under which the resident is permitted to remain in the facility in the event of financial difficulties affecting the resident.

i. A statement of the terms concerning the entry of a person to the living unit and the consequences if a person does not meet the requirements for entry.

j. A statement of the policy of the facility with regard to changes in accommodations and a description of the procedures to be followed by the provider when the provider temporarily or permanently changes the resident's accommodations within the facility, transfers the resident from one level of care to another, or transfers the resident to another health facility.

k. A description in clear and understandable language, in at least ten-point type, of the terms governing the refund of any portion of the entrance fee in the event of discharge by the provider, or cancellation by the resident, and a statement that the provider shall not dismiss or discharge a resident from a facility prior to the expiration of a resident contract without just cause and sixty days written notice of intent to cancel. The notice of dismissal or discharge shall only be given upon a good faith determination that just cause exists, and the notice shall be given in writing, signed by the medical director, if any, and the administrator of the facility. In an emergency situation only such notice as is reasonable under the circumstances is required.

l. A description in clear and understandable language, in at least ten-point type, whether monthly fees, if charged, are subject to periodic increases.

m. A description of the facility's policies and procedures for handling grievances between the provider and residents.

n. A statement that residents living in the facility have the right of self-organization.

o. A statement that a prospective resident or resident shall be given the opportunity to appoint a personal representative in the prospective resident's or resident's contract. The personal representative shall receive copies of the contract and all notices, disclosures, or forms required by this chapter to be delivered to a prospective resident or resident. A personal representative appointed under this section has no legal authority to make any decision for the prospective resident appointing the person to be a personal representative. The personal representative may advise the prospective resident or resident as to the materials provided. A personal representative shall not be affiliated or associated with a provider or any person identified in section 523D.3, subsection 1, paragraph "b" or "c", and shall not be a prospective resident or resident.

p. A statement that if a resident dies or through illness, injury, or incapacity is precluded from becoming a resident under the terms of the contract before occupying the living unit, the contract is automatically rescinded and the resident or the resident's legal representative shall receive a full refund of all payments of money or transferred property to the facility, except those costs specifically incurred by the facility at the request of the resident and set forth in writing in a separate addendum, signed by both parties to the contract.

q. A statement that a resident has the right to rescind a contract for continuing care or senior adult congregate living services, without penalty or forfeiture, within three business days of the date the contract was executed or within thirty days after the date the resident received the disclosure statement required by section 523D.3, whichever is later.

2. Cancellation. The contract required by this section shall state the terms under which the contract can be canceled by the provider or the resident, including a statement of the refund rights of a resident, and shall include a completed, easily detachable form in duplicate, captioned "Notice of Cancellation", as an attachment, in ten-point boldface type, containing the following information and statements in substantially the following form and language:

NOTICE OF CANCELLATION

Date contract was executed.

Date disclosure statement was provided to resident.

You may rescind and cancel your contract, without any penalty or obligation, within three business days of the date the contract was executed or within thirty days after the date you received the disclosure statement required by Iowa Code section 523D.3, whichever is later. You are not required to move into the facility before the expiration of this cancellation period. However, if you do, the provider may retain the reasonable value of care and services actually provided to you, the resident, prior to your vacating the provider's facility. If you cancel this contract and you have already moved into the provider's facility, you must vacate your living unit within ten days after receipt by the provider of your cancellation notice.

If you cancel this contract, any payments of money or transfers of property you made to the provider must be returned as soon as reasonably possible by the provider following receipt by the provider of your cancellation notice, and any security interest arising out of the transaction is canceled, except that, as stated above, the provider may retain the reasonable value of care and services actually provided to you prior to your vacating the provider's facility.

To cancel this contract, mail by certified mail or hand deliver a signed and dated copy of this cancellation notice or any other written notice clearly indicating your intent to cancel the contract, or send a telegram, to (name of provider) at (address of provider's place of business). Your cancellation is effective upon mailing by certified mail, when transmitted by telegraph, or when actual notice is given to the provider, whichever is earlier.

523D.12 Filings and investigations.

1. The annual filing, and any amendments to the annual filing, shall be signed by the chief executive officer, stating that to the best of the officer's knowledge and belief, the items are correct.

2. The commissioner or the attorney general may, for the purpose of discovering or investigating violations of this chapter or rules adopted pursuant to this chapter do any or all of the following:

a. Investigate the business and examine the books, accounts, records, and files used by a provider. With the exception of an examination involving new construction, an examination involving a complaint by a resident or a prospective resident or where good cause exists for the lack of prior notice, as determined by the commissioner, the division of insurance shall provide at least seven days' prior notice to the facility before conducting an on-site examination.

b. Administer oaths and affirmations, subpoena witnesses, receive evidence, and require the production of documents and records in connection with an investigation or proceeding being conducted pursuant to this chapter.

c. Apply to the district court for issuance of an order requiring a person's appearance before the commissioner or attorney general. The person may also be required to produce documentary evidence germane to the subject of the investigation. Failure to obey a court order under this subsection constitutes contempt of court.

523D.14 Injunctions.

The attorney general may petition the district court in any county of the state for an injunction to restrain a person subject to this chapter and any agents, employees, or associates of the person from engaging in conduct or practices in violation of this chapter or rules adopted pursuant to this chapter. In a proceeding for an injunction, the attorney general may apply to the court for the issuance of a subpoena to require the appearance of a defendant and the defendant's agents and any documents, books, or records germane to the hearing upon the petition for an injunction. Upon proof of any of the violations described in the petition for injunction, the court may grant the injunction.

SALES OF CEMETERY MERCHANDISE

523E.20 Insurance division's regulatory fund.

The insurance division may authorize the creation of a special revenue fund in the state treasury, to be known as the insurance division regulatory fund. Commencing July 1, 1990, and annually thereafter, the commissioner shall allocate from the fees paid pursuant to section 523E.2, one dollar for each agreement reported on an establishment permit holder's annual report for deposit to the regulatory fund. The remainder of the fees collected pursuant to section 523E.2 shall be deposited into the general fund of the state. However, if the balance of the regulatory fund on that July 1 exceeds two hundred thousand dollars, the allocation to the regulatory fund shall not be made and the total sum of the fees paid pursuant to section 523E.2 shall be deposited in the general fund of the state. The moneys in the regulatory fund shall be retained in the fund. The moneys are appropriated and, subject to authorization by the commissioner, may be used to pay investigative expenses and the expenses of receiverships established pursuant to section 523E.19. An annual assessment shall not be imposed if the current balance of the fund exceeds two hundred thousand dollars.

IOWA BANKING LAW

Limited suspension of banking laws until July 1, 1992, 90 Acts, ch 1274, 91 Acts, ch 220, § 7 SF 507

524.207 Expenses of the banking division — fees.

All expenses required in the discharge of the duties and responsibilities imposed upon the banking division of the department of commerce, the superintendent, and the state banking board by the laws of this state shall be paid from fees provided by the laws of this state and appropriated by the general assembly from the fund established in this section. All of these fees are payable to the superintendent. The superintendent shall pay all the fees and other money received by the superintendent to the treasurer of state within the time required by section 12.10. The treasurer of state shall hold these funds in a banking revolving fund that shall be established in the name of the superintendent for the payment of the expenses of the division. This fund is subject at all times to the warrant of the department of revenue and finance, drawn upon written requisition of the superintendent or the superintendent's designated representative, for the payment of all salaries and other expenses necessary to carry out the duties of the banking division of the department of commerce. The superintendent may keep on hand with the treasurer of state funds in excess of the current needs of the division to the extent approved by the state banking board. Transfers shall not be made from the general fund of the state or any other fund for the payment of the expenses of the division. No part of the funds held by the treasurer of state for the account of the superintendent shall be transferred to the general fund of the state or any other fund, except as follows: Sixty thousand dollars each fiscal year shall be transferred to the general fund of the state. That amount shall be considered as one of the costs of the division. The funds held by the treasurer of state for the account of the superintendent shall be invested by the treasurer of state and the income derived from these investments shall be credited to the general fund of the state.

The authority to modify allotments provided in section 8.31 shall not apply to funds appropriated from the fund created in this section and held for the superintendent.

The superintendent shall account for receipts and disbursements according to the separate duties imposed upon the superintendent by the laws of this state and each separate duty shall be fiscally self-sustaining.

The banking division shall transfer at the beginning of each fiscal quarter from appropriated trust funds to the administrative services trust fund an amount which represents the division's share of the estimated cost of consolidated administrative services within the department of commerce, such share to be in the same proportion as established by agreement in the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1986, and ending June 30, 1987, with the first quarterly transfer to occur between July 1 and July 31 annually. At the close of the fiscal year, actual versus estimated expenditures shall be reconciled and any overpayment shall be returned to the division or any underpayment shall be paid by the division.

The banking division may expend additional funds, including funds for additional personnel, if those additional expenditures are actual expenses which exceed the funds budgeted for bank examinations and directly result from examinations of banks. Before the division expends or encumbers an amount in excess of the funds budgeted for examinations, the director of the department of management shall approve the expenditure or encumbrance. Before approval is given, the director of the department of management shall determine that the examination expenses exceed the funds budgeted by the general assembly to the division and that the division does not have other funds from which examination expenses can be paid. Upon approval of the director of the department of management, the division may expend and encumber funds for excess examination expenses. The amounts necessary to fund the excess examination expenses shall be collected from those banks being regulated which caused the excess expenditures, and the collections shall be treated as repayment receipts as defined in section 8.2, subsection 5.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this section directing that fees and other moneys received be deposited into the banking revolving fund and not be transferred to the general fund of the state, and directing that expenses be paid from the banking revolving fund, for the fiscal period beginning on July 1, 1991, and ending June 30, 1993, all fees and moneys collected shall be deposited into the general fund of the state and expenses required to be paid under this section shall be paid from funds appropriated for those purposes.

524.221 Preservation of bank records — statute of limitations.

1. A state bank is not required to preserve its records for a period longer than eleven years after the first day of January of the year following the time of the making or filing of such records, provided, however, that account records showing unpaid balances due to depositors shall not be destroyed. A copy of an original may be kept in lieu of any such original record. For purposes of this subsection, a copy includes any duplicate, rerecording or reproduction of an original record from any photograph, photostat, microfilm, microcard, miniature or microphotograph, computer printout, electronically stored data or image, or other process which accurately reproduces or forms a durable medium for accurately and legibly reproducing an unaltered image or reproduction of the original record.

2. All causes of action, other than actions for relief on the grounds of fraud or mistake, against a state bank based upon a claim or claims inconsistent with an entry or entries in a state bank record, made in the regular course of business, shall be deemed to have accrued, and shall accrue for the purpose of the statute of limitations one year after the date of such entry or entries. No action founded upon such a cause may be brought after the expiration of ten years from the date of such accrual.

3. The provisions of this section, insofar as applicable, shall apply to the records of a national bank.

524.227 Enforcement of Iowa consumer credit code.

1. The superintendent shall enforce the Iowa consumer credit code with respect to banks, as provided in sections 537.2303, 537.2305 and 537.6105.

2. The superintendent shall co-operate with the administrator, and shall assist the administrator whenever necessary to provide for the discharge of the duties of the administrator.

3. Notwithstanding other provisions of this chapter to the contrary, the superintendent shall authorize to be furnished to the administrator, access to or copies of records in the possession of the superintendent or other persons which relate to a bank when necessary to enable the administrator to enforce chapter 537.

4. The superintendent shall make an annual report in writing to the administrator. A copy of the report shall be furnished at cost by the superintendent to each bank or other person upon request. The annual report shall contain:

a. A summary of applications to engage in the business of banking approved or denied by the superintendent since the last report.

b. An estimate of the disbursements of agency funds for consumer credit protection during the calendar year ending the preceding December 31.

c. Information which the superintendent may deem appropriate and advisable to disclose.

d. Information which the administrator may require to be included.

524.228 Interim cease and desist order — final order — suspension.

1. If it appears to the superintendent that a state bank, or any director, officer, employee, or substantial shareholder of the state bank is engaging in or is about to engage in an unsafe or unsound practice or dishonest act in conducting the business of the state bank that is likely to cause insolvency or substantial dissipation of assets or earnings of the state bank, or is likely to seriously weaken the condition of the state bank or otherwise seriously prejudice the interests of its depositors prior to the completion of the proceedings conducted pursuant to section 524.223, 524.606, subsection 2, or 524.707, subsection 2, the superintendent may issue an interim order requiring the bank, director, officer, employee, or substantial shareholder to cease and desist from any such practice or act, and to take affirmative action, including suspension of the director, officer, or employee to prevent such insolvency, dissipation, condition, or prejudice pending completion of the proceedings. The interim order becomes effective upon service upon the state bank, or upon the director, officer, employee, or substantial shareholder of the state bank and, unless set aside, limited, or suspended by a court as provided in this chapter, remains effective and enforceable pending the completion of the administrative proceedings pursuant to the interim order and until such time as the superintendent dismisses the charges specified in the interim order, or, if a final cease and desist order is issued against the state bank or the director, officer, employee, or substantial shareholder until the effective date of the final order.

2. Within ten days after the state bank concerned or any director, officer, employee, or substantial shareholder is served with an interim order, the bank or such director, officer, employee, or substantial shareholder may apply to the district court in the county in which the bank has its principal place of business, for an injunction setting aside, limiting, or suspending the enforcement, operation, or effectiveness of such interim order pending the completion of the administrative proceedings. If serious prejudice to the interests of the superintendent, the state bank, the officer, director, employee, or substantial shareholder would result from such hearing, the court may order the judicial proceeding to be conducted in camera.

3. The interim order shall contain a concise statement of the facts constituting the alleged unsafe or unsound practice or alleged dishonest act, and shall fix a time and place at which a hearing will be held to determine whether a final order to cease and desist should issue against the state bank or any director, officer, employee, or substantial shareholder. The hearing shall be fixed for a date not later than thirty days after service of the interim order unless a later date is set at the request of the party so served. If the state bank, or the director, officer, employee, or substantial shareholder fails to appear at the hearing, the state bank, or the director, officer, employee, or substantial shareholder is deemed to have consented to the issuance of a cease and desist order. In the event of such consent, or if upon the record made at the hearing the superintendent finds that any unsafe or unsound practice or dishonest act specified in the interim order has been established, the superintendent may issue and serve upon the bank, or the director, officer, employee, or substantial shareholder a final order to cease and desist from any such practice or act. The order may require the state bank, or the director, officer, employee, or substantial shareholder to cease and desist from any such practice or act and, further, to take affirmative action, including suspension of the director, officer, or employee.

4. A hearing provided for in this section shall be presided over by an administrative law judge appointed in accordance with section 17A.11. The hearing shall be private, unless the superintendent determines after full consideration of the views of the party afforded the hearing, that a public hearing is necessary to protect the public interest. After the hearing, and within thirty days after the case has been submitted for decision, the superintendent shall review the proposed order of the administrative law judge and render a final decision, including findings of fact upon which the decision is predicated, and issue and serve upon each party to the proceeding an order consistent with this section.

5. Any final order issued by the superintendent pursuant to subsection 3 becomes effective upon service of the final order on the state bank, director, officer, employee, or substantial shareholder and shall remain effective except to the extent that it is stayed, modified, terminated, or set aside by action of the superintendent or of the district court of the county in which the state bank has its principal place of business in accordance with the terms of chapter 17A.

6. In the case of violation or threatened violation of, or failure to obey, an interim order issued pursuant to subsection 1 or a final order issued pursuant to subsection 3, the superintendent may apply to the district court of the county in which the state bank has its principal place of business for the enforcement of the order and such court shall have jurisdiction and power to order and require compliance with the interim order or final order.

7. For purposes of this section, “substantial shareholder” means a shareholder exercising a controlling influence over the management or policies of a state bank as determined by the superintendent.

524.306 Issuance of certificate of incorporation.

The receipt of the approved articles of incorporation of a state bank by the secretary of state constitutes filing with that office. The secretary of state shall record the articles of incorporation and forward a copy of them to the county recorder of the county in which the state bank is to have its principal place of business. The secretary of state upon the filing of the articles of incorporation shall issue a certificate of incorporation and send the certificate to the incorporators.

524.310 Name of state bank.

1. The name of a state bank originally incorporated after the effective date of this chapter shall include the word “bank” and may include the word “state” or “trust” in its name. If a state bank uses the word “trust” in its name, it must be authorized under this chapter to act in a fiduciary capacity.

2. The provisions of this section shall not require any state bank, existing and operating on January 1, 1970, to add to, modify or otherwise change its corporate name, either on January 1, 1970, or upon renewal of its corporate existence pursuant to section 524.106.

3. If a state bank existing and operating on January 1, 1970, causes its corporate name to be changed, the name as changed shall comply with subsection 1 of this section.

4. a. A person may reserve the exclusive use of a corporate name for a state bank by delivering an application to the secretary of state for filing. The application must set forth the name and address of the applicant and the name proposed to be reserved. If the secretary of state finds that the corporate name applied for is available, the secretary of state shall reserve the name for the applicant’s exclusive use for a nonrenewable one hundred twenty day period.

b. The owner of a reserved corporate name may transfer the reservation to another person by delivering to the secretary of state a signed notice of the transfer that states the name and address of the transferee.

NEW subsection 4

524.606 Removal of directors.

1. At a meeting of shareholders expressly called for that purpose, individual directors or the entire board of directors may be removed, with or without cause, by the affirmative vote of the holders of at least two-thirds of the shares entitled to vote at an election of directors. The vacancies created may be filled at the same meeting at which the removal proceedings take place.

2. When, in the opinion of the superintendent any director of a state bank has violated any law relating to such state bank or has engaged in unsafe or unsound practices in conducting the business of such state bank, the superintendent may cause notice to be served upon such director, to appear before the superintendent to show cause why the director should not be removed from office. A copy of such notice shall be sent to each director of the state bank affected, by registered or certified mail. If, after granting the accused director a reasonable opportunity to be heard, the superintendent finds that the director violated any law relating to such state bank or engaged in unsafe or unsound practices in conducting the business of such state bank, the superintendent, in the superintendent’s discretion, may order that such director be removed from office. A copy of the order shall be served upon such director and upon the state bank of which the person is a director at which time the person shall cease to be a director of the state bank.

The decision of the superintendent shall be subject to judicial review in accordance with the terms of the Iowa administrative procedure Act. No action taken by a director prior to the director’s removal shall be subject to attack on the ground of the director’s disqualification.

524.612 Director dealing with state bank.

1. The total obligations, as defined in subsection 1 of section 524.904, of a director to a state bank of which the person is a director shall not exceed twenty percent of the capital and surplus of the state bank except that the total obligations of a director to a state bank of which the person is a director shall not exceed forty percent of the capital and surplus of the state bank if the amount by which such obligations exceed twenty percent of the capital and surplus of the state bank shall consist of obligations described in paragraph “a” of subsection 2 of section 524.904. A majority of the board of directors, voting in the absence of the applying director, shall give its prior approval to any obligation, as defined in subsection 1 of section 524.904, of a director to the state bank of which the person is a director. The form of such approval shall be specified by the superintendent, and a copy recorded in the minutes of the board of directors.

2. A director shall not be permitted to receive any loan or extension of credit or use any property of a state bank of which the person is a director at a lower rate of interest or charge than the rate charged to other customers under similar circumstances.

3. A director shall not be paid a higher rate of interest on deposits by a state bank of which the person is a director than the rate paid to any other customer under similar circumstances.

4. A director shall not purchase or lease any assets from or sell or lease any assets to a state bank of which the person is a director except upon terms not less favorable to the state bank than those offered to or by other persons. All purchases or leases from and sales or leases to a director shall receive the prior approval of a majority of the board of directors voting in the absence of the interested director.

5. For the purpose of this section and section 524.706, any obligation, as defined in section 524.904, subsection 1, of the spouse, other than a spouse who is separated from the director or officer under a decree of divorce or separate maintenance, or minor children of a director or officer to the state bank in which the person is a director or officer is considered an obligation of such director or officer. However, an obligation of a spouse is not considered an obligation of the director or officer if the officer or director and the spouse of the director or officer maintain separate deposit accounts, for either personal or business purposes, and the funds obtained pursuant to the obligation of the spouse are not commingled with funds of, or used to directly benefit, the officer or director, and the obligation is not guaranteed by the director or officer.

Subsection 5 amended

524.701 Officers and employees.

A state bank shall have, as officers, a president, one vice president, and a cashier. As additional officers the state bank may have a chairperson, additional presidents, additional vice presidents, assistant vice presidents, assistant cashiers, and other officers as may be prescribed by the articles of incorporation or the bylaws. Upon notice by the superintendent, an individual who performs active executive or official duties for a state bank may be treated as an officer for the purpose of this chapter. A state bank may have a chairperson of the board of directors and one vice president who, if they do not perform executive or official duties or receive a salary, need not be treated as officers for the purpose of this chapter. All officers shall be elected by the board of directors. No more than two offices may be held by the same individual. All other individuals employed by a state bank, except directors who are not officers, are employees for the purpose of this chapter. The president of a state bank is a member of the board of directors.

91 Acts, ch 7, §1 HF 231
Section amended

524.706 Officer dealing with state bank.

1. a. An executive officer of a state bank may receive loans or extensions of credit from a state bank of which the person is an executive officer, resulting in obligations as defined in section 524.904, subsection 1, not exceeding, in the aggregate:

(1) An amount secured by a lien on a dwelling which is expected, after the obligation is incurred, to be owned by the executive officer and used as the officer's residence, provided that after the loan is made there is no other loan by the bank to the executive officer, under authority of this subparagraph, outstanding.

(2) An amount to finance the education of a child or children of the executive officer.

(3) Any other loans or extensions of credit which in the aggregate do not at any one time exceed the higher of twenty-five thousand or two point five percent of the bank's capital and surplus, but in no event more than one hundred thousand dollars.

(4) Other amounts which do not, in the aggregate, exceed the principal amounts of time certificates of deposit in the bank which are held in the name of the executive officer, if repayment of the loan or credit amounts is at all times secured by pledge of the certificates. An interest in or portion of a time certificate of deposit does not satisfy the requirements of this subparagraph if that interest or portion is also pledged to secure the payment of a debt or obligation of any person other than the executive officer.

b. A state bank shall not loan money or extend credit to an executive officer of such state bank, nor shall an executive officer of a state bank receive a loan or extension of credit from such state bank, exceeding the limitations imposed by this section or for a purpose other than that authorized by this section. Such loans or extensions of credit shall not exceed an amount totaling more than twenty percent of the capital and surplus of the state bank and any such loan on real property shall comply with section 524.905. A majority of the board of directors, voting in the absence of the applying officer, whether or not the officer is also a director, shall give its prior approval to any obligation of an executive officer to the state bank of which the person is an executive officer. The form of approval shall be specified by the superintendent, and a copy recorded in the minutes of the board of directors.

c. For the purposes of this subsection "executive officer" means an officer of a state bank who participates or has authority to participate, otherwise than in the capacity of a director, in major policymaking functions of the bank, regardless of whether the officer has an official title or whether the officer's title contains a designation of assistant and regardless of whether the officer is serving without salary or other compensation. The chairperson of the board, every president, every vice president, the cashier, secretary, and treasurer of a state bank are assumed to be executive officers, unless, by resolution of the board of directors or by the bank's bylaws, but subject to contrary notice by the superintendent as provided for in section 524.701, any such officer is excluded from participation in major policymaking functions, otherwise than in the capacity of a director of the bank, and the officer does not actually participate.

2. The provisions of section 524.612, subsections 2, 3 and 4, shall apply to officers.

3. If an individual is a director and an officer, the individual shall be subject to the limitations of subsection 1 of this section.

4. Whenever an officer of a state bank borrows from or otherwise becomes obligated to any person or persons other than the state bank of which the person is an officer, in a total amount equal to or exceeding twenty-five thousand dollars excluding such amounts as may be owing by the officer secured by a first lien on a dwelling which is used by the officer as the officer's residence, the officer shall report in writing to the superintendent that the officer is so obligated. Upon the request of the superintendent, an officer of a state bank shall submit to the superintendent, a personal financial statement which shall show the names of all persons to whom the officer is obligated, the dates, terms, and amounts of each loan or other obligation, the security therefor, and the purpose for which the proceeds of such loans or other obligations have been or are to be used.

91 Acts, ch 7, §2 HF 231
Subsection 1, paragraph c amended

524.707 Removal of officers.

1. Any officer may be removed by the board of directors whenever in its judgment the best interests of the state bank shall be served thereby, but such removal shall be without prejudice to the contract rights, if any, of the officer so removed. Election of an officer shall not of itself create contract rights.

2. Subsection 2 of section 524.606 providing for the removal of directors by the superintendent, shall have equal application to officers and employees.

524.816 Account insurance.

1. A bank organized under this chapter, as a condition of maintaining its privilege of organization after July 1, 1984 shall become an insured bank and shall acquire and maintain insurance to protect each depositor against loss of funds held on account by the bank. The insurance shall be obtained from the federal deposit insurance corporation or another insurance plan approved by the superintendent, provided that each bank shall acquire deposit insurance from the appropriate agency of the federal government.

2. The superintendent may furnish to an official of an insurance plan by which the accounts of the bank are insured, any information relating to examinations and reports of the status of that bank for the purpose of determining availability of insurance to that bank.

524.901 Investments.

1. A state bank may invest without limitation for its own account in the following bonds or securities:

a. Obligations of the United States and bonds and securities with respect to which the payment of principal and interest is fully and unconditionally guaranteed by the United States.

b. Obligations issued by any or all of the farm credit banks, any or all of the banks for co-operatives, and any or all of the federal home loan banks, organized under the laws of the United States.

c. Obligations issued by the federal national mortgage association, under the laws of the United States.

d. Any other bonds or securities which are the obligations of or the payment of principal and interest of which is fully and unconditionally guaranteed by a federal reserve bank or by any department, bureau, board, commission, agency or establishment of the United States, or any corporation owned directly or indirectly by the United States.

e. General obligations of the state of Iowa and of political subdivisions thereof.

2. A state bank may invest for its own account in other readily marketable bonds or securities, with investment characteristics as defined by the superintendent by general regulation applicable to all state banks, subject to the following limitations:

a. The total amount of the bonds or securities of any one issuer or obligor, other than revenue or improvement bonds issued by a municipality, the Iowa finance authority, or the agricultural development authority and subjected to separate investment limits under paragraph "b", "c", "d", "f", or "g" of this subsection, shall not exceed twenty percent of the capital and surplus of the state bank.

b. The total amount of special assessment improvement or refunding bonds which have been issued by a municipality under authority of section 384.68 and which are repayable from the proceeds of any one levy shall not exceed twenty percent of the capital and surplus of the state bank.

c. The total amount of revenue bonds and pledge orders which have been issued by a municipality under authority of chapter 384, division V, and which are repayable from the revenues of any one city utility, combined utility system, city enterprise or combined city enterprise shall not exceed twenty percent of the capital and surplus of the state bank.

d. The total amount of revenue bonds issued by a municipality pursuant to section 419.2 which have been issued on behalf of any one lessee, as defined in section 419 1, or which are guaranteed by any one guarantor, or which are issued on behalf of or guaranteed by a corporation, a ten percent or greater ownership interest in which is held by or in common with a lessee or guarantor, or any combination of the foregoing whereby the municipality could receive revenues for payment of such bonds from any one person or any group of persons under common control, shall not exceed twenty percent of the capital and surplus of the state bank

e No bond or security shall be eligible for investment by a state bank within this subsection if the bond or security has been in default either as to principal or interest at any time within five years prior to the date of purchase

f The total amount of bonds or notes issued by the agricultural development authority pursuant to chapter 175 which have been issued on behalf of any one beginning farmer, as defined in section 175 2, subsection 6, and the proceeds of which have been loaned to that beginning farmer shall not exceed twenty percent of the capital and surplus of the state bank

g The total amount of bonds or notes issued by the Iowa finance authority pursuant to chapter 220 which have been issued on behalf of any one small business as defined in section 220 1, subsection 28, or any one group home referred to in section 220 1, subsection 11, paragraph "a," and the proceeds of which have been loaned to that small business or group home shall not exceed twenty percent of the capital and surplus of the bank

h The total amount of bonds or notes issued by the agricultural development authority pursuant to chapter 175 which have been issued on behalf of any one owner or operator of agricultural land within the state, as provided for in section 175 34, and the proceeds of which have been loaned to that owner or operator, shall not exceed twenty percent of the capital and surplus of the state bank for each borrower

3 A state bank shall not, directly or indirectly, invest for its own account in the shares of any corporation except a Shares in a federal reserve bank

b Shares in the federal national mortgage association

c When approved by the superintendent, shares and obligations of a corporation engaged solely in making loans for agricultural purposes eligible to discount or sell loans to a farm credit bank, commonly known as an agricultural credit corporation, in amounts not to exceed twenty percent of the capital and surplus of the state bank

d Shares in a corporation which the state bank is authorized to acquire and hold pursuant to section 524 803, subsection 1, paragraphs "c", "d", "e", and "f" and section 524 825

e Shares in an economic development corporation organized under chapter 496B to the extent authorized by and subject to the limitations of such chapter

f When approved by the superintendent, shares of a small business investment company as defined by the laws of the United States, except that in no event shall any such state bank hold shares in small business investment companies in an amount aggregating more than two percent of its capital and surplus

g Shares or equity interests in venture capital funds which agree to invest an amount equal to at least fifty percent of the state bank's investment in small businesses having their principal offices within this state and having either more than one half of their assets within this state or more than one half of their employees employed within this state A state bank shall not invest more than a total of five percent of its capital and surplus in investments permitted under this paragraph and paragraph "h" For purposes of this paragraph, "venture capital fund" means a corporation, partnership, proprietorship, or other entity formed under the laws of the United States, or a state, district, or territory of the United States, whose principal business is or will be the making of investments in, and the provision of significant managerial assistance to, small businesses which meet the small business administration definition of small business "Equity interests" means limited partnership interests and other equity interests in which liability is limited to the amount of the investment, but does not mean general partnership interests or other interests involving general liability

h Shares or equity interests in small businesses having their principal offices within this state and having either more than one half of their assets within this state or more than one half of their employees employed within this state The total amount of a state bank's investments under this paragraph and paragraph "g" shall not exceed five percent of the state bank's capital and surplus The investment of a state bank in a small business under this paragraph shall be included with the obligations of the small business to the state bank that are incurred as a result of the exercise by the state bank of the powers conferred in section 524 902 for the purpose of determining the total obligations of the small business to the state bank at any one time under section 524 904 A state bank shall not invest in more than twenty percent of the total capital and surplus of any one small business under this paragraph For purposes of this paragraph, "small business" means a corporation, partnership, proprietorship, or other entity formed under the laws of the United States, or a state, district, or territory of the United States, which meets the appropriate small business administration definition of small business and which is principally engaged in the development or exploitation of inventions, technological improvements, new processes, or other products not previously generally available in this state or other investments which provide an economic benefit to the state, and "equity interests" means limited partnership interests and other equity interests in which liability is limited to the amount of the investment, but does not mean general partnership interests or other interests involving general liability.

i. Shares or units of investment companies or investment trusts registered under the federal Investment Company Act of 1940, 15 U.S.C. § 80a, the portfolio of which is limited to the United States obligations or Iowa general obligations described in subsection 1 or repurchase agreements fully collateralized by obligations described in subsection 1 if delivery of the collateral is taken either directly or through an authorized custodian, up to a maximum of twenty percent of capital and surplus of the state bank in any one company or trust.

j. Shares of investment companies whose portfolios contain investments which are subject to limitations pursuant to this section, provided that a state bank's investment in such shares does not exceed the limitation set forth in this section for the underlying instrument.

k. Shares in the federal agricultural mortgage corporation.

l. When approved by the superintendent, shares of a corporation certified by the federal agricultural mortgage corporation which is engaged solely in pooling agricultural loans for federal agricultural mortgage corporation guarantees, not to exceed twenty percent of the capital and surplus of the state bank.

m. Shares in a federal home loan bank.

4. A state bank may invest in participation certificates issued by one or more production credit associations chartered under the laws of the United States in an amount which does not exceed, in the aggregate with respect to all such associations, twenty percent of the capital and surplus of the state bank.

5. A state bank may invest for its own account in the shares of a bankers' bank or in the shares of a bank holding company which owns a bankers' bank. A state bank shall not invest in more than one bankers' bank or in more than one bank holding company which owns a bankers' bank. A state bank shall not invest an amount greater than ten percent of its capital and surplus in the shares of a bankers' bank or in the shares of a bank holding company which owns a bankers' bank. A state bank shall not invest any amount if after the investment the state bank would own or control more than five percent of any class of the voting shares of a bankers' bank or a bank holding company which owns a bankers' bank.

6. A state bank may, in the exercise of the powers granted in this chapter, purchase cash value life insurance contracts which may include provisions for the lump sum payment of premiums and which may include insurance against the loss of the lump sum payment. The cash value life insurance contracts purchased from any one company shall not exceed twenty percent of capital and surplus of the state bank and in the aggregate from all companies, shall not exceed twenty-five percent of total equity capital of the state bank unless the state bank has obtained the approval of the superintendent prior to the purchase of any cash value life insurance contract in excess of this limitation.

7. a. A state bank may invest in real estate as set forth in paragraph "b", subject to the following limitations:

(1) The investment shall be approved by the superintendent.

(2) The investment shall be for economic or community development purposes only.

(3) The total aggregate amount invested shall not exceed twenty percent of the capital and surplus of the state bank.

(4) The real estate purchased shall not be agricultural-zoned land.

b. The state bank may acquire real estate as follows:

(1) At a sheriff's sale or any other sale of real estate against which the state bank has a legal or equitable lien or claim.

(2) In satisfaction of any obligation to the state bank.

(3) Upon contracts for sale or improvement and sale, at the cost of the land and improvements, if the contracts are executed concurrently or prior to the purchase. However, the transaction is subject to the limitations on real estate loans.

(4) In exchange for real estate owned by the state bank.

(5) In connection with salvaging the value of property owned by the state bank.

(6) For the purpose of producing income through the improvement or erection of a building and the sale or rental of the property.

8. If approved by the superintendent, a state bank may invest in a community development corporation. A state bank shall have the same authority to invest in a community development corporation as does a federal bank pursuant to Title XII of the United States Code.

9. A state bank may invest without limitation for its own account in futures, forward, and standby contracts to purchase and sell any of the instruments eligible for state banks' purchase and sale, subject to the prior approval of the superintendent and pursuant to applicable federal laws and regulations governing such contracts. Purchase and sale of such contracts shall be conducted in accordance with safe and sound banking practices and with levels of the activity being reasonably related to the state bank's business needs and capacity to fulfill its obligations under the contracts.

524.1102 Loans and other transactions with affiliates.

No state bank shall make any loan or any extension of credit to, or purchase securities under repurchase agreement from, any of its affiliates, or invest any of its funds in the shares, bonds, capital securities, or other obligations of any such affiliate, or accept the shares, bonds, capital securities, or other obligations of any such affiliate as collateral security for advances made to any customer, if the aggregate amount of such loans, extensions of credit, repurchase agreements, investments and advances against such collateral security will exceed:

1. In the case of any one such affiliate, ten percent of the capital and surplus of the state bank. However, a state bank may invest its funds in shares of a bank service corporation pursuant to section 524.803, subsection 1, paragraph f, in an amount up to twenty percent of the capital and surplus of the state bank.

2. In the case of all such affiliates, twenty percent of the capital and surplus of such state bank.

Within the foregoing limitations, each loan or extension of credit of any kind or character to an affiliate shall be secured by collateral in the form of shares of stock, bonds, capital securities or other such obligations having a market value at the time of making the loan or extension of credit of at least twenty percent more than the amount of the loan or extension of credit, or of at least ten percent more than the amount of the loan or extension of credit if it is secured by obligations of any state, or of any political subdivision or agency of the state, or of at least one hundred percent of the amount of the loan or extension of credit if it is secured by a segregated, earmarked deposit account with the state bank.

A loan or extension of credit to a director, officer, clerk or other employee or any representative of any such affiliate shall be deemed a loan to the affiliate to the extent that the proceeds of such loan are used for the benefit of, or transferred to, the affiliate.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to loans or extensions of credit fully secured by obligations of the United States, or the farm credit banks, or the federal home loan banks, or obligations fully guaranteed by the United States as to principal and interest. The provisions of this section shall likewise not apply to indebtedness of any affiliate for unpaid balances due a state bank on assets purchased from such bank.

For the purposes of this section, the terms "extension of credit" and "extensions of credit" shall be deemed to include any purchase of securities, other assets or obligations under repurchase agreement, and the discount of promissory notes, bills of exchange, conditional sales contracts, or similar paper, whether with or without recourse.

524.1201 General provisions.

A bank shall not open or maintain a branch bank. A state bank may establish and operate bank offices subject to approval and regulation of the superintendent and to the restrictions upon location and number imposed by section 524.1202. A bank office may furnish all banking services ordinarily furnished to customers and depositors at the principal place of business of the state bank which operates the office, and a bank office manager or an officer of the bank shall be physically present at each bank office during a majority of its business hours. The central executive and official business and principal recordkeeping functions of a state bank shall be exercised only at its principal place of business, except that data processing services referred to in section 524.804 may be performed for the state bank at some other point. All transactions of a bank office shall be immediately transmitted to the principal place of business of the state bank which operates the office, and no current recordkeeping functions shall be maintained at a bank office except to the extent the state bank which operates the office deems it desirable to keep there duplicates of the records kept at the principal place of business of the state bank. Notwithstanding any of the other provisions of this section, original trust recordkeeping functions may be centrally located at an authorized bank office, and original loan documentation recordkeeping functions may be located at an authorized bank office or at the office of the holding company of a state bank, subject to the approval of the superintendent.

CHAPTER 527

ELECTRONIC TRANSFER OF FUNDS

527.2 Definitions.

As used in this chapter, the following definitions shall apply unless the context otherwise requires

1 “Access device” means a card, code, or other mechanism, or any combination thereof, that may be used by a customer for the purpose of initiating a transaction by means of a satellite terminal which will affect a customer asset account

2 “Administrator” means and includes the superintendent of banking, the superintendent of savings and loan associations, and the superintendent of credit unions within the department of commerce and the supervisor of industrial loan companies within the office of the superintendent of banking. However, the powers of administration and enforcement of this chapter shall be exercised only as provided in sections 527 3, 527 5, subsection 7, 527 11, 527 12, and any other pertinent provision of this chapter

3 “Batch basis” means the delivery of an accumulation of messages representing multiple transactions after completion of the transactions

4 “Central routing unit” means any facility where electronic impulses or other indicia of a transaction originating at a satellite terminal are received and are routed and transmitted to a financial institution, or to a data processing center, or to another central routing unit, wherever located

5 “Completion of the transaction” means when the presence of the customer at a satellite terminal is no longer needed to consummate the sale of goods or services, to grant to the seller the right to receive payment for the goods or services, and to issue a receipt to the customer

6 “Customer asset account” or “account” means a demand deposit, share, checking, savings, or other customer account, other than an occasional or incidental credit balance in a credit plan, which represents a liability of the financial institution which maintains such account at a business location or office located in this state, either directly or indirectly for the benefit of a customer

7 “Data processing center” means a facility, wherever located, at which electronic impulses or other indicia of a transaction originating at a satellite terminal are received and are processed in order to enable the satellite terminal to perform any function for which it is designed. However, “data processing center” does not include a facility which is directly connected to a satellite terminal and which performs only the functions of direct transmission of all requested transactions from that terminal to a data processing facility without performing any review of the requested transactions for the purpose of categorizing, separating, or routing “Categorizing” means the process of reviewing and grouping of requested electronic funds transfer transactions according to the source or nature of the requested transaction “Separating” means the process of interpreting and segregating requested electronic funds transfer transactions, or portions of such transactions, to provide for processing of information relating to such requested transactions or portions of such transactions “Routing” means the process of interpreting and transmitting requested electronic funds transfer transactions to a destination selected at the time of interpretation and transmission from two or more alternative destinations

8 “Electronic personal identifier” means a personal and confidential code or other security mechanism which has been designated by a financial institution issuing an access device to a customer to serve as a supplemental means of access to a customer’s account that may be used by the customer in conjunction with an access device for the purpose of initiating a transaction by means of a satellite terminal

9 “Financial institution” means and includes any bank incorporated under the provisions of any state or federal law, any savings and loan association incorporated under the provisions of any state or federal law, any credit union organized under the provisions of any state or federal law, any corporation licensed as an industrial loan company under chapter 536A, and any affiliate of a bank, savings and loan association, credit union, or industrial loan company

10 “Limited function terminal” means an on line point-of-sale terminal or an off-line point of-sale terminal which satisfies the requirements of section 527 4, subsection 3, paragraph “d”, or a multiple use terminal, which is not operated in a manner to accept an electronic personal identifier, and which is not operated to distinguish between transactions which affect a customer asset account and transactions which do not affect a customer asset account. Except as otherwise provided, a limited function terminal shall not be subject to the requirements imposed upon other satellite terminals pursuant to sections 527 4 and 527 5, subsections 1, 2, 3, 7, and 9

11 “Multiple use terminal” means any machine or device to which all of the following are applicable

a The machine or device is established and owned or operated by a person who primarily engages in a service, business or enterprise, including but not limited to the retail sale of goods or services, but who is not organized under the laws of this state or under federal law as a bank, savings and loan association, or credit union;

b. The machine or device is used by the person by whom it is owned or operated in some capacity other than as a satellite terminal; and

c. A financial institution proposes to contract or has contracted to utilize that machine or device as a satellite terminal.

12. "Municipal corporation" means an incorporated city.

13. "Office" means and includes any business location in this state of a financial institution at which is offered the services of accepting deposits, originating loans, and dispensing cash, by financial institution personnel in the office.

14. "Off-line point-of-sale terminal" means a satellite terminal that satisfies the requirements of section 527.4, subsection 3, paragraph "d" and is other than an on-line point-of-sale terminal.

15. "On-line point-of-sale terminal" means a satellite terminal that satisfies the requirements of section 527.4, subsection 3, paragraph "d" and is operated on an on-line real time basis.

16. "On-line real time basis" means the delivery or return of a message initiated at a satellite terminal through transmission of electronic impulses to or from a location remote from the location of the satellite terminal prior to completion of the transaction.

17. "Personal terminal" means and includes a satellite terminal located in a personal residence and a telephone, wherever located, operated by a customer of a financial institution for the purpose of initiating a transaction affecting a noncommercial account of the customer.

18. "Premises" means and includes only those locations where, by applicable law, financial institutions are authorized to maintain a principal place of business and other offices for the conduct of their respective businesses; provided that with respect to an industrial loan company, "premises" means only a location where business may be conducted under a single license issued to the industrial loan company.

19. "Reciprocal basis" means that a financial institution whose licensed or principal place of business is located in this state has the express authority under the laws of a state other than Iowa to conduct business under qualifications and conditions which are no more restrictive than those imposed by the laws of the other state on financial institutions whose licensed or principal place of business is located in the other state, as determined by the administrator, and the laws of Iowa are no more restrictive of financial institutions whose licensed or principal place of business is located in such other state than they are of financial institutions whose licensed or principal place of business is located in this state.

20. "Satellite terminal" means and includes any machine or device located off the premises of a financial institution, and any machine or device located on the premises of a financial institution only if the machine or device is available for use by customers of other financial institutions, whether attended or unattended, by means of which the financial institution and its customers utilizing an access device may engage through either the immediate transmission of electronic impulses to or from the financial institution or the recording of electronic impulses or other indicia of a transaction for delayed transmission to the financial institution, in transactions which affect a customer asset account and which otherwise are specifically permitted by applicable law. However, the term "satellite terminal" does not include any such machine or device, wherever located, if that machine or device is not generally accessible to persons other than employees of a financial institution or an affiliate of a financial institution.

527.3 Enforcement.

1. For purposes of this chapter the superintendent of banking only has the power to issue rules applicable to, to accept and approve or disapprove applications or informational statements from, to conduct hearings and revoke any approvals relating to, and to exercise all other supervisory authority created by this chapter with respect to banks; the superintendent of savings and loan associations only shall have and exercise such powers and authority with respect to savings and loan associations; the superintendent of credit unions only has such powers and authority with respect to credit unions; and the superintendent of banking or the superintendent's designee only has such powers and authority with respect to industrial loan companies.

2. The administrator shall have the authority to examine any person who operates a multiple use terminal, limited-function terminal, or other satellite terminal, and any other device or facility with which such terminal is interconnected, as to any transaction by, with, or involving a financial institution which affects a customer asset account. Information obtained in the course of such an examination shall not be disclosed, except as provided by law.

3. Nothing contained in this chapter shall authorize the administrator to regulate the conduct of business functions or to obtain access to any business records, data, or information of a person who operates a multiple use terminal, except those pertaining to a financial transaction engaged in through a satellite terminal, or as may otherwise be provided by law.

4. Nothing contained in this chapter shall be construed to prohibit or to authorize the administrator to prohibit an operator of a multiple use terminal, other than a financial institution, or an operator of any other device or facility with which such terminal is interconnected, other than a central routing unit or data processing center (as defined in section 527.2) from using those facilities to perform internal proprietary functions, including the extension of credit pursuant to an open end credit arrangement.

5. An administrator may conduct hearings and exercise any other appropriate authority conferred by this chapter regarding the operation or control of a satellite terminal upon the written request of a person, including but not limited to, a retailer, financial institution, or consumer.

6. The authority of an administrator pursuant to section 527.5, subsection 2, paragraph "a", to approve access cards issued by a financial institution for use as an access device includes the requirement that a registration statement shall be filed with the administrator and be maintained on a current basis by each financial institution issuing access cards within the state. The registration statement shall be in writing on a form prescribed by the administrator, and contain the name and address of the registrant, a depiction of both sides of the access card, and any other information the administrator deems relevant relating to the access card and transactions utilizing the access card which affect a customer asset account.

7. A financial institution shall not be required to join, be a member or shareholder of, or otherwise participate in, any corporation, association, partnership, cooperative, or other enterprise as a condition of the financial institution's utilization of any satellite terminal located within this state.

527.4 Establishment of satellite terminals — restrictions.

1. A satellite terminal shall not be established within this state except by a financial institution whose principal place of business is located in this state, one which has a business location licensed in this state under chapter 536A, or one which has an office located in this state and which meets the requirements of subsection 4.

2. A financial institution whose licensed or principal place of business is located in this state shall not establish a satellite terminal at any location outside of this state unless the other state provides for the establishment of satellite terminals by Iowa financial institutions on a reciprocal basis.

3. A financial institution whose licensed or principal place of business is located within this state may establish any number of satellite terminals in any of the following locations:

a. Within the boundaries of a municipal corporation if the principal place of business or an office of the financial institution is also located within the boundaries of the municipal corporation.

b. Within the boundaries of an urban complex composed of two or more Iowa municipal corporations each of which is contiguous to or corners upon at least one of the other municipal corporations within the urban complex if the principal place of business or an office of the financial institution is also located in the urban complex.

c. Within the Iowa county in which the financial institution has its principal place of business or an office.

d. At any location in this state off the premises of the financial institution if all of the following apply:

(1) The satellite terminal is not operated to accept deposits or to dispense scrip or other negotiable instruments.

(2) The satellite terminal is not operated to dispense cash except when operated by a person other than the customer initiating the transaction.

(3) The satellite terminal is utilized for the purpose of making payment to the provider of goods or services purchased or provided at the location of the satellite terminal.

A financial institution shall not establish a satellite terminal at any other location except pursuant to an agreement with a financial institution which is authorized by this subsection to establish a satellite terminal at that location and which will utilize the satellite terminal at that location. This subsection does not amend, modify, or supersede any provision of chapter 524 regulating the number or locations of bank offices of a state or national bank, or authorize the establishment by a financial institution of any offices or other facilities except satellite terminals at locations permitted by this subsection.

4. A financial institution whose licensed or principal place of business is not located in this state may establish, control, maintain, or operate any number of satellite terminals at the locations identified in subsection 3, paragraphs "a", "b", "c", and "d" if both of the following apply:

a. The other state provides for the establishment, control, maintenance, or operation of satellite terminals by a financial institution, whose licensed or principal place of business is located in this state, on a reciprocal basis.

b. All satellite terminals, wherever located, that are owned, controlled, maintained, or operated by the financial institution are available for use on a nondiscriminatory basis by any other financial institution which engages in electronic transactions in this state and by all customers who have minimum contact with this state and who have been designated by a financial institution using the satellite terminal and who have been provided with an access device, approved by the administrator, by which to engage in electronic transactions by means of the satellite terminal.

 Subsection 3, paragraph d amended

527.5 Satellite terminal requirements.

A satellite terminal may be utilized by a financial institution to the extent permitted in this chapter only if the satellite terminal is utilized and maintained in compliance with the provisions of this chapter and only if all of the following are complied with:

1. A satellite terminal in this state may be established by one or more financial institutions. The establishing financial institutions shall designate a single controlling financial institution which shall maintain the location, use, and operation of the satellite terminal, wherever located, in compliance with this chapter. The use and operation of a satellite terminal shall be governed by a written agreement between the controlling financial institution and the person controlling the physical location at which the satellite terminal is placed. The written agreement shall specify all of the terms and conditions, including any fees and charges, under which the satellite terminal is placed at that location. If the satellite terminal is a multiple use terminal, the written agreement shall specify, and may limit, the specific types of transactions incidental to the conduct of the business of a financial institution which may be engaged in through that terminal.

2. a. A satellite terminal shall be available for use on a nondiscriminatory basis by any other financial institution which has its principal place of business within this state, and by all customers who have been designated by a financial institution using the satellite terminal and who have been provided with an access device, approved by the administrator, by which to engage in electronic transactions by means of the satellite terminal.

b. For the purposes of complying with paragraph "a", an on-line point-of-sale terminal is not required to be available for use by customers of a financial institution by means of an access device by which an off-line point-of-sale terminal can be used to engage in electronic transactions.

c. All off-line point-of-sale terminals located at the retail location or retail locations within this state of a single retailer are exempt from paragraph "a" if electronic transactions can be initiated at each of such terminals only by an access device unique to the retailer.

d. Paragraph "a" applies to a financial institution whose licensed or principal place of business is located in a state other than Iowa if all satellite terminals owned, controlled, operated, or maintained by the financial institution, wherever located, are available on a reciprocal basis to any financial institution whose licensed or principal place of business is located in this state, and to all customers who have been designated by a financial institution using the satellite terminal and who have been provided with an access device.

3. An informational statement shall be filed and shall be maintained on a current basis with the administrator by the financial institution controlling a satellite terminal in this state, which sets forth all of the following:

a. The name and business address of the controlling financial institution.

b. The location of the satellite terminal.

c. A schedule of the charges which will be required to be paid by a financial institution utilizing the satellite terminal.

d. An agreement with the administrator that the financial institution controlling the satellite terminal will maintain that satellite terminal in compliance with this chapter.

The informational statement shall be accompanied by a copy of the written agreement required by subsection 1. The informational statement also shall be accompanied by a statement or copy of any agreement, whether oral or in writing, between the controlling financial institution and a data processing center or a central routing unit, unless operated by or solely on behalf of the controlling financial institution, by which transactions originating at that terminal will be received.

4. A satellite terminal in this state shall not be attended or operated at any time by an employee of a financial institution or an affiliate of a financial institution, except for the purpose of instructing customers, on a temporary basis, in the use of the satellite terminal, for the purpose of testing the terminal, or for the purpose of transacting business on the employee's own behalf.

5. A satellite terminal in this state shall bear a sign or label identifying each type of financial institution utilizing the terminal. A satellite terminal location in this state shall not be used to advertise individual financial institutions or a group of financial institutions. However, a satellite terminal shall bear a sign or label no larger than three inches by two inches identifying the name, address, and telephone number of the owner of the satellite terminal. The administrator may authorize methods of identification the administrator deems necessary to enable the general public to determine the accessibility of a satellite terminal.

6. The charges required to be paid by any financial institution which utilizes the satellite terminal for transactions involving an access device shall not exceed a pro rata portion of the costs, determined in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, of establishing, operating and maintaining the satellite terminal, plus a reasonable return on these costs to the owner of the satellite terminal.

7. If the administrator finds grounds, under any applicable law or rule, for denying establishment of a satellite terminal the administrator shall notify the person filing the informational statement or an amendment thereto, within thirty days of the filing thereof, of the existence of such grounds. If such notification is not given by the administrator, the administrator shall be considered to have expressly approved the establishment and operation of the satellite terminal as described in the informational statement or amendment and according to the agreements attached thereto, and operation of the satellite terminal in accordance therewith may commence on or after the thirtieth day following such filing. However, this subsection shall not be construed to prohibit the administrator from enforcing the provisions of this chapter, nor shall it be construed to constitute a waiver of any prohibition, limitation or obligation imposed by this chapter.

8. a. A satellite terminal in this state shall not be operated in a manner to permit a person to deposit funds into a demand deposit account, savings account, share account, or any other account representing a liability of a financial institution, if the business location of the financial institution where the original records pertaining to the person's account are maintained is located outside of this state.

b. Paragraph "a" of this subsection does not apply to a corporation licensed under chapter 536A. A satellite terminal shall not be operated in any manner to permit a person to deposit funds into an account representing a liability of a corporation licensed under chapter 536A, if the business location of the corporation where the original records pertaining to the person's account are maintained is located outside of this state.

9. a. Satellite terminals located in this state shall be directly connected to either of the following:

(1) A central routing unit approved pursuant to this chapter.

(2) A data processing center which is directly connected to a central routing unit approved pursuant to this chapter.

b. If a data processing center which is directly connected to a satellite terminal located in this state does not authorize or reject a transaction originated at that terminal, the transaction shall be immediately transmitted by the data processing center to a central routing unit approved pursuant to this chapter, unless one of the following applies:

(1) The transaction is not authorized because of a mechanical failure of the data processing center or satellite terminal.

(2) The transaction does not affect a customer asset account held by a financial institution.

c. This subsection does not limit the authority of a data processing center to authorize or reject transactions requested by customers of a financial institution pursuant to an agreement whereby the data processing center authorizes or rejects requested transactions on behalf of the financial institution and provides to the financial institution, on a batch basis and not on an on-line real time basis, information concerning authorized or rejected transactions of customers of the financial institution.

10. A personal terminal may be utilized by a financial institution to the extent permitted by this chapter if the use and operation of the personal terminal is governed by a written agreement between the controlling financial institution and its customer and if the personal terminal is utilized and maintained in compliance with subsection 9 and all other applicable sections of this chapter. A telephone located at other than a personal residence and used primarily as a personal terminal must be utilized and maintained in compliance with this section.

11. Any person, as defined in section 4.1, subsection 13, establishing a limited-function terminal within this state, except for a multiple use terminal, which is utilized to initiate transactions affecting a customer asset account shall file with the administrator and shall maintain on a current basis a registration statement on a form prescribed by the administrator containing the name and address of the registrant, the location of the limited-function terminal, and any other information the administrator deems relevant. All limited-function terminals established in this state prior to July 1, 1991, shall be registered in a similar manner by the establishing person no later than July 1, 1992.

12. If at any time, a limited-function terminal is upgraded, altered, or modified to be operated in a manner to accept the use of an electronic personal identifier or to distinguish between transactions which affect customer asset accounts and transactions which do not affect customer asset accounts, all requirements of a satellite terminal in this chapter apply. A financial institution not eligible to establish satellite terminals within this state, which has established a limited-function terminal which is subsequently upgraded, altered, or modified as contemplated in this subsection, shall enter into an agreement with a financial institution which is authorized to establish a satellite terminal within this state to comply with the requirements of section 527.4 and this subsection.

13. Effective July 1, 1993, any transaction engaged in with a retailer through a satellite terminal located in this state by means of an access device which results in a debit to a customer asset account shall be cleared and paid at par to the retailer during the settlement of such transaction to the retailer. Processing fees and charges for such transactions to the retailer shall not be based on a percentage of the amount of the transaction. All accounting documents reflecting such fees and charges shall separately identify transactions which have resulted in a debit to a customer asset account and the charges imposed. The provisions of this subsection shall apply to all satellite terminals, including limited-function terminals and multiple use terminals.

527.7 Records maintained.

All transactions engaged in through a satellite terminal shall be recorded in a form from which it will be possible to produce a humanly readable record of any transaction, and these recordings shall be retained by the utilizing financial institutions for the periods required by law.

The machine receipt provided to a satellite account transaction card user by a satellite terminal shall be admissible as evidence in any legal action or proceeding and shall constitute prima-facie proof of the transaction evidence by that receipt.

A financial institution shall provide each of its satellite account holders with a periodic account statement that shall contain a brief description of all satellite terminal transactions sufficient to enable the account holder to identify any transaction and to relate it to machine receipts provided by satellite terminals.

When a periodic account statement includes both satellite terminal transactions and other nonsatellite terminal transactions, all satellite terminal transactions shall be indicated as such, and shall be accompanied by the description required by this subsection.

The administrator may provide by rule for the recording and maintenance, by any financial institution utilizing a satellite terminal, of amounts involved in a transaction engaged in through the satellite terminal which are of a known tax consequence to the customer initiating the transaction. For the purpose of this paragraph "known tax consequences" means and includes but shall not be limited to the following:

1. An amount directly or indirectly received from a customer and applied to a loan account of the customer which represents interest paid by the customer to the financial institution.
2. In any transaction where the total amount involved is deducted from funds in a customer's account and is simultaneously paid either directly or indirectly by the financial institution to the account of a third party, any portion of the transaction amount which represents a sales or other tax imposed upon or included within the transaction and collected by that third party from the customer, or any portion of the transaction amount which represents interest paid to the third party by the customer.
3. Any other transaction which the administrator determines to have direct tax consequences to the customer. The administrator also may provide for the periodic distribution to customers of summaries of transactions having known tax consequences.

527.9 Central routing units.

1. A central routing unit shall not be operated in this state unless written approval for that operation has been obtained from the administrator.

2. A person desiring to operate a central routing unit shall submit to the administrator an application which shall contain all of the following information:

- a. The name and business address of the owner of the proposed unit.
- b. The name and business address of each data processing center and other central routing unit with which the proposed central routing unit will have direct electronic communication.
- c. The location of the proposed central routing unit.

d. A schedule of the charges which will be required to be paid to that applicant by each financial institution which utilizes the proposed central routing unit.

The application shall be accompanied by all agreements between the proposed central routing unit and all data processing centers and other central routing units respecting the transmission of transaction data; and a copy of any agreement between the proposed central routing unit and any financial institution establishing a satellite terminal unless that agreement theretofore has been filed with the administrator pursuant to section 527.5.

e. An agreement by the applicant that the proposed central routing unit will be capable of accepting and routing, and will be operated to accept and route, transmissions of data originating at any satellite terminal located in this state, except limited-function terminals, whether receiving from that terminal or from a data processing center or other central routing unit.

f. A representation and undertaking that the proposed central routing unit is directly connected to every data processing center that is directly connected to a satellite terminal located in this state, and that the proposed central routing unit will provide for direct connection in the future with any data processing center that becomes directly connected to a satellite terminal located in this state. This representation and undertaking is not required of a central routing unit with respect to limited-function terminals.

3. The administrator shall approve or disapprove an application for operation of a central routing unit within sixty days after receipt.

4. A central routing unit operating under the approval of the administrator shall be subject to examination by the administrator for the purpose of determining compliance with this chapter.

5. a. Effective July 1, 1987, a person owning or operating a central routing unit authorized under this section shall include public representation on any board setting policy for the central routing unit. Four or five public members shall be appointed to the board in the following manner:

(1) Two members shall be appointed by the superintendent of banking.

(2) One member shall be appointed by the superintendent of credit unions.

(3) One member shall be appointed by the superintendent of savings and loan associations.

(4) If an industrial loan company is connected to the central routing unit, one member shall be appointed by the superintendent of banking.

b. The superintendent of banking, superintendent of credit unions, and superintendent of savings and loan associations shall form a committee to set, in conjunction with the entity owning or operating the central routing unit, the term of office, the rate of compensation, and the rate of reimbursement for each public member. However, the public members shall be entitled to reasonable compensation and reimbursement from the board.

c. Each public member is entitled to all the rights of participation and voting as any other member of the board. The public members are to represent the interest of consumers and the business and agricultural communities in establishing policies for the central routing unit.

d. It is the intention of the general assembly that the ratio of public members to the overall membership of the board shall not be less than one public member for each seven members of the board. If the number of members on the board is increased, then the number of members appointed pursuant to paragraph "a" shall be increased to maintain the minimum ratio. In this event, a committee composed of the superintendent of banking, the superintendent of credit unions, and the superintendent of savings and loan associations shall appoint additional public members in order to maintain the minimum ratio.

e. An individual shall not be appointed as a public member pursuant to this subsection if the individual is a director of a financial institution or is directly employed by a financial institution doing business in this state.

CREDIT UNIONS

533.26 Preservation of records.

The superintendent shall prescribe by rule the period of preservation of records or files for credit unions. A copy of an original may be kept in lieu of any original records. For purposes of this section, a copy includes any duplicate, rerecording or reproduction of an original record from any photograph, photostat, microfilm, microcard, miniature or microphotograph, computer printout, electronically stored data or image, or other process which accurately reproduces or forms a durable medium for accurately and legibly reproducing an unaltered image or reproduction of the original record.

533.64 Account insurance.

Except as provided in section 533.12, subsection 2, a credit union organized under this chapter, as a condition of maintaining its privilege of organization after December 31, 1980, shall acquire and maintain insurance to protect each shareholder and each depositor against loss of funds held on account by the credit union. The insurance shall be obtained from the national credit union administrator or from some other share guarantor or insurance plan approved by the Iowa commissioner of insurance and the superintendent, provided that each credit union shall acquire deposit insurance from the appropriate agency of the federal government.

The superintendent may furnish to any official of an insurance plan by which the accounts of a credit union are insured, any information relating to examinations and reports of the status of that credit union for the purpose of availability of insurance to that credit union.

533.67 Expenses of the credit union division — fees.

All expenses required in the discharge of the duties and responsibilities imposed upon the credit union division, the superintendent, and the credit union review board by the laws of this state shall be paid from fees provided by the laws of this state and appropriated by the general assembly from the fund established in this section. All of these fees are payable to the superintendent. The superintendent shall pay all the fees and other money received by the superintendent to the treasurer of state within the time required by section 12.10. The treasurer of state shall hold these funds in a credit union revolving fund that shall be established in the name of the superintendent for the payment of the expenses of the division. This fund is subject at all times to the warrant of the department of revenue and finance, drawn upon written requisition of the superintendent or the superintendent's designated representative, for the payment of all salaries and other expenses necessary to carry out the duties of the division. The superintendent may keep on hand with the treasurer of state funds in excess of the current needs of the division to the extent approved by the credit union review board. No transfers shall be made from the general fund of the state or any other fund for the payment of the expenses of the division. No part of the funds held by the treasurer of state for the account of the superintendent shall be transferred to the general fund of the state or any other fund, except as follows: Thirty thousand dollars each fiscal year shall be transferred to the general fund of the state. The amount shall be considered as one of the costs of the division. The funds held by the treasurer of state for the account of the superintendent shall be invested by the treasurer of state and the income derived from these investments shall be credited to the general fund of the state.

The authority to modify allotments provided in section 8.31 shall not apply to funds appropriated from the fund created in this section and held for the superintendent.

The superintendent shall account for receipts and disbursements according to the separate duties imposed upon the superintendent by the laws of this state and each separate duty shall be fiscally self-sustaining.

The credit union division shall transfer at the beginning of each fiscal quarter from appropriated trust funds to the administrative services trust fund an amount which represents the division's share of the estimated cost of consolidated administrative services within the department of commerce, such share to be in the same proportion as established by agreement in the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1986, and ending June 30, 1987, with the first quarterly transfer to occur between July 1 and July 31 annually. At the close of the fiscal year, actual versus estimated expenditures shall be reconciled and any overpayment shall be returned to the division or any underpayment shall be paid by the division.

The credit union division may expend additional funds, including funds for additional personnel, if those additional expenditures are actual expenses which exceed the funds budgeted for credit union examinations and directly result from examinations of credit unions. Before the division expends or encumbers an amount in excess of the funds budgeted for examinations, the director of the department of management shall approve the expenditure or encumbrance. Before approval is given, the director of the department of management shall determine that the examination expenses exceed the funds budgeted by the general assembly to the division and that the division does not have other funds from which examination expenses can be paid. Upon approval of the director of the department of management, the division may expend and encumber funds for excess examination expenses. The amounts necessary to fund the excess examination expenses shall be collected from those credit unions being regulated which caused the excess expenditures, and the collections shall be treated as repayment receipts as defined in section 8.2, subsection 5.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this section directing that fees and other moneys received be deposited into the credit union revolving fund and not be transferred to the general fund of the state, and directing that expenses be paid from the credit union revolving fund, for the fiscal period beginning on July 1, 1991, and ending June 30, 1993, all fees and other moneys collected shall be deposited into the general fund of the state and expenses required to be paid under this section shall be paid from funds appropriated for those purposes.

The division may accept reimbursement of expenses related to the examination of a credit union from the national credit union administration or any other share guarantor or insurance plan authorized by this chapter.

CHAPTER 534

SAVINGS AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS

534.102 Definitions.

When used in this chapter, the following words and phrases shall have the following meanings, except to the extent that any such word or phrase is specifically qualified by its context:

1. "Administrator" means the person designated in section 537.6103.
2. "Association" or "state association" means a corporation holding a certificate of authority to operate under this chapter as either a mutual association or a stock association.
3. "Association holding company" means a person other than an individual that directly or indirectly owns, controls or votes more than twenty-five percent of any class of voting stock of a stock association or that controls in any manner the election of a majority of the directors of a stock association or mutual association.

4. "Bank" means any person who is authorized under chapter 524 to engage in the business of banking in this state.

5. "Bank holding company" means a bank holding company as defined in section 524.1801 that is authorized under chapter 524, division XVIII, to do business in this state as a bank holding company.

6. "Dividend" shall mean that part of the net earnings of an association which is declared payable on share accounts from time to time by the board of directors and is the cost of savings money to the association

7 "Federal association" means a corporation operating under the federal Home Owners' Loan Act of 1933 as either a mutual association or a stock association

8 "Foreign association" means a building and loan or savings and loan association, incorporated by the laws of another state or country, which as of January 1, 1984 did not have an office, agency, or agent operating in this state

9 "Gross income" shall mean the sum for an accounting period of the following

- a Operating income
- b Real estate income

c All profits actually received during such accounting period from the sale of securities, real estate or other property

- d Other nonrecurring income

10 "Home loan" shall mean a real estate loan on a dwelling or dwellings for not more than four families, the principal use of which is for residential purposes. A "home" is the same as "home property" and constitutes the homestead of the owner. A home on a farm is a home.

11 "Impaired condition" shall mean a condition in which the assets of an association do not have an aggregate value equal to the aggregate amount of liabilities of the association to its creditors, its members and all other persons.

12 "Insured", when used in conjunction with the words "association", "state association", "foreign association", or "federal association", means an institution whose deposits are insured in part by the savings association insurance fund of the federal deposit insurance corporation or another insurance plan approved by the superintendent.

13 "Insured mortgage" is a mortgage covered in part by insurance, which insurance has been formally submitted to and approved by the superintendent or by the federal home loan bank of the area in which the association is located.

14 "Member" shall mean a person owning a share account of an association, and a person borrowing from or assuming or obligated upon a loan held by an association, or purchasing property securing a loan held by an association and any contract purchaser from the association. A joint and survivorship relationship, whether of investors or borrowers, constitutes a single membership.

15 "Mutual association" means a corporation organized on a mutual ownership basis without shareholders.

16 "Net earnings" shall mean gross income for an accounting period less the aggregate of the following

- a Operating expenses
- b Real estate expenses

c All losses actually sustained during such accounting period from the sale of securities, real estate or other property, or such portion of such losses as shall not have been charged to reserves, pursuant to the provisions of this chapter.

d All interest paid, or due but unpaid, on borrowed money.

e Other nonrecurring income.

17 "Operating expenses" shall mean all expenses actually paid, or due but unpaid, by an association during an accounting period, excluding the following

- a Real estate expenses
- b Other nonrecurring charges

That portion of prepaid expenses which is not apportionable to the period may be excluded from operating expenses, in which event operating expenses for future periods shall exclude that portion of such prepaid expenses apportionable thereto.

18 "Operating income" shall mean all income actually received by an association during an accounting period, excluding the following

- a Foreclosed real estate income
- b Other nonrecurring income

19 "Real estate expenses" shall mean all expenses actually paid, or due but unpaid, in connection with the ownership, maintenance, and sale of real estate (other than office building or buildings and real estate held for investment) by an association during an accounting period, excluding capital expenditures and losses on the sale of real estate.

20 "Real estate income" shall mean all income actually received by an association during an accounting period from real estate owned (other than from office building or buildings and real estate held for investment) excluding profit from sales of real estate.

21 "Real estate loan" shall mean any loan or other obligation secured by real estate, whether in fee or in a leasehold extending or renewable automatically for a period of at least fifty years or ten years beyond the maturity date of the loan.

22 "Regular lending area" shall mean the entire area within this state and an area which is outside this state and which is within one hundred miles from any approved office.

23 "Savings account" means a deposit account in a stock association or mutual association or a withdrawable share account or time share account in a mutual association.

24 "Savings liability" shall mean the aggregate amount of share accounts of members, including dividends credited to such accounts, less redemptions and withdrawals.

25 "Service corporation" means a corporation which is organized under chapter 490 and which is owned in any part by one or more state associations or federal associations or a combination of these.

26 "Share account or shares" shall mean that part of the savings liability of the association which is credited to the account of the holder thereof.

27 "Stock association" means a corporation owned by shareholders.

28 "Superintendent" means the superintendent of savings and loan associations who is the director of the department of commerce.

29 "Supervised financial organization" as de-financed and used in the Iowa consumer credit code includes a person organized pursuant to this chapter.

30. “Supervised organization” means an association, association holding company, service corporation, licensed foreign association, or a subsidiary of an association, holding company, service corporation, or licensed foreign association.

31. “Withdrawal value” shall mean the amount deducted to a share account of a member, less lawful deductions therefrom, as shown by the records of the association.

91 Acts, ch 92, §2, 3 SF 494
Subsections 12 and 28 amended

534.103 General powers.

Every such association shall have the following general powers:

1. General corporate power. To sue and be sued, complain and defend in any court of law or equity; to purchase, acquire, hold, and convey real and personal estate consistent with its objects and powers; to mortgage, pledge, or lease any real or personal estate owned by the association and to authorize a pledgee to repledge the property; to take property by gift, devise, or bequest; to have a corporate seal, which may be affixed by imprint, facsimile, or otherwise; to appoint officers, agents, and employees as its business requires and allow them suitable compensation; to provide for life, health, and casualty insurance for its officers and employees and to adopt and operate reasonable bonus plans and retirement benefits for the officers and employees to enter into payroll savings plans; to adopt and amend bylaws; to insure its accounts with the savings association insurance fund of the federal deposit insurance corporation and qualify as a member of a federal home loan bank; to become a member of, deal with, or make contributions to any organization to the extent that the organization assists in furthering or facilitating the association’s purposes or powers and to comply with conditions of membership; to accept savings as provided in this chapter together with other powers otherwise expressly provided for in this chapter, together with implied powers as reasonably necessary for the purpose of carrying out the express powers granted in this chapter.

2. Fiscal agent. Any such association which is a member of a federal home loan bank shall have power to act as fiscal agent of the United States and, when designated for the purpose by the secretary of the treasury, it shall perform under such regulations as the secretary may prescribe all such reasonable duties as fiscal agent of the United States as the secretary may require, and shall have power to act as agent for any United States government instrumentality. An association may also handle travelers checks and money orders.

3. Lock boxes. Any association may own, rent to its members, lock boxes for storage or safekeeping of securities and valuables.

4. Power to borrow. Except as provided by its articles of incorporation, an association may borrow not more than an aggregate amount equal to its savings liability on the date of borrowing. A subsequent reduction of savings liability shall not affect in any way outstanding obligations for borrowed money. All loans and advances may be secured by property of the association. In addition to the above unsecured or secured borrowing, an association may issue notes, bonds, debentures and other obligations or securities approved by the superintendent, and if authorized by the regulations of the federal home loan bank. However, the obligations and securities are subject to the priority of the rights of the owners of the savings and deposits of the association.

5. Service corporations. Any association may organize and own, alone or with any other similar corporation, a service corporation for the mutual good of the associations. The superintendent shall have the right to examine service corporations.

6. Limited trust powers. An association incorporated under this chapter may act as trustee for trusts which are created or organized in the United States, and which form part of a stock bonus, pension, or profit sharing plan which qualifies for special tax treatment under section 401(d) or subsection (a) of section 408 of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended, or as trustee with no active fiduciary duties, if the funds of the trust are invested only in savings accounts or deposits in the association or in obligations or securities issued by the association. All funds held in such a fiduciary capacity by an association may be commingled for appropriate purposes of investment, but individual records shall be kept by the fiduciary for each participant and shall show in proper detail all transactions engaged in under the authority of this subsection.

The superintendent is authorized to grant by special permit to an association the right to act as trustee, executor, administrator, guardian, or in any other fiduciary capacity. However, this authority is available only for periods of time when federally chartered savings and loan associations operating in this state are granted similar authority, and the state authorization is subject to the rights and limitations established in rules adopted by the superintendent, which shall be consistent with the rights and limitations for federally chartered associations engaged in this type of activity.

7. Tax and loan accounts. To act as depository for receipt of payments of federal or state taxes and loan funds from persons other than the state or subdivisions, agencies or instrumentalities of the state, and satisfy any federal or state statutory or regulatory requirements in connection therewith, including pledging of assets as collateral, payment of earnings at prescribed rates and, notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, issuing such accounts subject to the right of immediate withdrawal.

8. Leasing of personal property. To acquire, upon the specific request of and for the use of a customer, and lease, personal property pursuant to a binding arrangement for the leasing of the property to the customer upon terms requiring payment to the association, during the minimum period of the lease, of rentals which in the aggregate, when added to the estimated tax benefits to the association resulting from the ownership of the leased property plus the estimated residual market value of the leased property at the expiration of the initial term of the lease, will be at least equal to the total expenditures by the association for, and in connection with, the acquisition, ownership, maintenance, and protection of the property. A lease made under authority of this section shall have the prior approval of the superintendent or be made pursuant to personal property lease guidelines approved by the superintendent for use by the lessor association or pursuant to a personal property lease guideline rule of general applicability for use by all associations.

9. Electronic transactions. Engage in any transaction otherwise permitted by this chapter and applicable law, by means of either the direct transmission of electronic impulses to or from the association or the recording of electronic impulses or other indicia of a transaction for delayed transmission to the association. Subject to the provisions of chapter 527, an association may utilize, establish or operate, alone or with one or more other associations, banks incorporated under the provisions of chapter 524 or federal law, credit unions incorporated under the provisions of chapter 533 or federal law, corporations licensed under chapter 536A, or third parties, the satellite terminals permitted under chapter 527, by means of which the association may transmit to or receive from any member electronic impulses constituting transactions pursuant to this subsection. However, such utilization, establishment or operation shall be lawful only when in compliance with chapter 527. Nothing in this subsection shall be construed as authority for any association or other person to engage in transactions not otherwise permitted by applicable law, nor shall anything in this subsection be deemed to repeal, replace or in any other way affect any applicable law or rule regarding the maintenance of or access to financial information maintained by any association.

10. Automatic authorization. Any association may have the right to participate in any new or additional powers or activities hereafter granted to such association under this chapter immediately upon the effective date of such additional authority, if authorized by the articles of incorporation of such association.

91 Acts, ch 92, §4 SF 494
Subsection 1 amended

534.106 Records.

1. Complete and adequate records of all accounts and of all minutes of proceedings of the members, directors and executive committee shall be maintained at all times at the office of the association.

2. Every association shall maintain membership records, which shall show the name and address of the member, whether the member is a share account holder, or a borrower, or a share account holder and borrower, and the date of membership thereof. In the case of account holding members, the association shall obtain a card containing the signature of the owner of such account or the owner's duly authorized representative and shall preserve such signature card in the records of the association.

3. Associations shall not be required to preserve or keep their records or files for a longer period than eleven years next after the first day of January of the year following the time of the making or filing of such records or files; provided, however, that ledger sheets showing unpaid accounts in favor of members of such savings and loan association shall not be destroyed.

4. No liability shall accrue against any association, destroying any such records after the expiration of the time provided in subsection 3, and in any cause or proceedings in which any such records or files may be called in question or be demanded of the association or any officer or employee thereof, a showing that such records and files have been destroyed in accordance with the terms of this chapter shall be a sufficient excuse for the failure to produce them.

5. All causes of action against an association based upon a claim or claims inconsistent with an entry or entries in any savings and loan association record or ledger, made in the regular course of business, shall be deemed to have accrued, and shall accrue, one year after the date of such entry or entries; and no action founded upon such a cause may be brought after the expiration of ten years from the date of such accrual.

6. The provisions of this chapter, so far as applicable, shall apply to the records of federal savings and loan associations.

7. A copy of an original may be kept by an association in lieu of any original records. For purposes of this section, a copy includes any duplicate, rerecording or reproduction of an original record from any photograph, photostat, microfilm, microcard, miniature or microphotograph, computer printout, electronically stored data or image, or other process which accurately reproduces or forms a durable medium for accurately and legibly reproducing an unaltered image or reproduction of the original record. Any such copy or reproduction is deemed to be an original record for all purposes and shall be treated as an original record in all courts or administrative agencies for the purpose of its admissibility in evidence. A facsimile, exemplification or certified copy of any such copy or reproduction reproduced from a film record shall, for all purposes, be deemed a facsimile, exemplification or certified copy of the original.

Subsection 7 amended

534.111 Rights of federal associations — reciprocity.

Every federal savings and loan association incorporated under the Home Owners' Loan Act of 1933,

12 U S C § 1461-1468, as amended, and the holders of share accounts issued by any such association have all the rights, powers, and privileges and are entitled to the same exemptions and immunities, as savings and loan associations organized under the laws of this state and members thereof are entitled

Every association organized under this chapter has all the rights, powers, and privileges not in conflict with the laws of this state, which are conferred upon federal savings and loan associations by the Home Owners' Loan Act of 1933, 12 U S C § 1464, and conferred by regulations adopted by the federal home loan bank board and the federal office of thrift supervision

Section amended

534.112 Regulatory capital.

An association shall maintain regulatory capital in the amount required by regulations of the federal office of thrift supervision. For the purpose of this section, "regulatory capital" means the sum of all reserve accounts (except specific reserves established to offset actual or anticipated losses), undivided profits, surplus, capital stock, and any other non-withdrawable accounts

91 Acts ch 92 §6 SF 494
Section amended

534.205 Required real estate loan practices.

Real estate loans must meet the following requirements

1 Appraisal A qualified person shall conduct an inspection of the property securing the loan and submit a signed appraisal of the market value of that property. However, an appraisal is only required if the loan is secured by a first lien. An appraisal must conform to the standards promulgated by the federal office of thrift supervision as mandated by Title XI of the federal Financial Institutions Reform, Recovery, and Enforcement Act of 1989

2 Note A note shall be signed by the borrower and delivered to the association

3 Lien The loan shall be secured by a mortgage, deed of trust or similar instrument constituting a lien or claim upon real estate. Such instrument shall provide for the full protection of the association in the event of default

4 Payment terms The loan shall provide for repayment upon those terms set forth in the note signed by the borrower

5 Loan settlement statement The borrower shall receive a statement setting forth in detail the charges and fees the borrower has paid or is obligated to pay in connection with the loan

6 Balloon payments An association shall mail to the borrower an offer to refinance a balloon payment under a loan at least twenty days before the balloon payment date if at that time no payments under the loan are delinquent. The offer shall be at an interest rate no greater than one percent per annum above the index rate and with monthly payments no greater than those necessary to fully amortize the amount of the balloon payment plus interest over a term which, when added together with the term representing the number of monthly payments made before the most recent notice to refinance, is not less than the original loan term. The association must offer to the borrower a term of at least one year before the next balloon payment. If the balloon payment is due one month after the preceding monthly payment date, the association may require the borrower to make a payment equal to the preceding monthly payment on the balloon payment date if the first payment under the note to refinance the balloon note is one month after the balloon payment date. The association may offer repayment plans to refinance a balloon payment in addition to the plan required by this subsection. For purposes of this subsection, "loan" means the same as defined in section 535 8, subsection 1, "balloon payment" means a payment which is more than three times as big as the mean average of the payments which precede it, and "index rate" means the national average mortgage contract rate for major lenders on the purchase of previously occupied homes which is most recently published in final form by the federal home loan bank board not more than four months before the date on which the balloon payment is due, or, alternatively, a rate based upon any other independently verifiable index approved by the superintendent

Subsection 1 amended

534.213 Investment in securities and real estate.

Every association shall have power to invest in securities and real estate as follows

1 General investment powers An association may invest without limit, except as expressly stated, in any of the following securities a Obligations of, or obligations which are guaranteed as to principal and interest by, the United States or this state

b Stock of a federal home loan bank of which the association is eligible to be a member and any obligation or consolidated obligations of any federal home loan bank or banks

c Stock, obligations, or other instruments of the federal national mortgage association, the government national mortgage association, the federal home loan mortgage corporation, or any successor

d Demand time or savings deposits, or bankers acceptances with any bank or trust company the deposits of which are insured by the federal deposit insurance corporation

e Stock or obligations of any corporation or agency of the United States or this state or deposits of the corporation or agency to the extent that the corporation or agency assists in furthering or facilitating the association's purposes or powers

f Savings accounts of any savings and loan association the deposits of which are insured by the federal deposit insurance corporation

g Bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness which are a general obligation of a city, village, county, school district, or other municipal or political subdivision so long as the total investment under this paragraph does not exceed five percent of the assets of the association, except that any investments which are securities or obligations which are evidence of first mortgage liens on real estate are exempt from the five percent limitation

h Bonds or bond instruments secured by an interest in real estate

i Capital stock, obligations, or other securities of service corporations, however, the aggregate investment in service corporations shall not exceed ten percent of the assets of the association

j An open end management investment company registered under the federal Investment Company Act of 1940, the portfolio of which is restricted to investments in which an association may invest, however, the association's total investment in the shares of any one such company shall not exceed five percent of the association's assets without prior notification of the superintendent, who may prohibit exceeding the five percent limit by order

k Shares or equity interests in venture capital funds which agree to invest an amount equal to at least fifty percent of the association's investment in small businesses having their principal offices within this state and having either more than one half of their assets within this state or more than one half of their employees employed within this state. An association shall not invest more than a total of five percent of its assets in investments permitted under this paragraph or paragraph "l" For purposes of this paragraph, "venture capital fund" means a corporation, partnership, proprietorship, or other entity formed under the laws of the United States, or a state, district, or territory of the United States, whose principal business is or will be the making of investments in, and the provisions of significant managerial assistance to, small businesses which meet the small business administration definition of small business "Equity interests" means limited partnership interests and other equity interests in which liability is limited to the amount of the investment, but does not mean general partnership interests or other interests involving general liability l Shares or equity interests in small businesses having their principal offices within this state and having either more than one half of their assets within this state or more than one half of their employees employed within this state. The total amount of an association's investments under this paragraph shall not exceed five percent of the association's capital and surplus. An association shall not invest in more than twenty percent of the total capital and surplus of any one small business under this paragraph. For purposes of this paragraph, "small business" means a corporation, partnership, proprietorship, or other entity formed under the laws of the United States, or a state, district, or territory of the United States, which meets the appropriate small business administration definition of small business and which is principally engaged in the development or exploitation of inventions, technological improvements, new processes, or other products not previously generally available in this state or other investments which provide an economic benefit to the state, and "equity interests" means limited partnership interests and other equity interests in which liability is limited to the amount of investment, but does not mean general partnership interests or other interests involving general liability

m In addition to other investments authorized in this section, an association may invest and may continue previous investments in capital stock, obligations, or other securities of finance subsidiaries and may exercise powers with respect to finance subsidiaries to the same extent as a federal association is permitted under the Home Owners' Loan Act of 1933, 12 U S C § 1464, and regulations adopted thereunder by the federal home loan bank board up to and including January 1, 1985. Investments authorized by this paragraph shall not be counted in applying the limitations on investments in service corporations in paragraph "i" n In addition to other investments authorized in this section, an association may invest and may continue previous investments in capital stock, obligations, or other securities of corporations which are wholly owned by the association and which exercise only those powers which may be exercised by an association under this chapter. Investments authorized by this paragraph shall not be counted in applying the limitations on investments in service corporations in paragraph "i"

o Commercial paper and corporate debt securities with investment characteristics as defined by rules adopted by the superintendent

2 Investment in real estate In real estate purchased at sheriff's sale or at any other sale, public or private, judicial or otherwise, upon which the association has a lien or claim, legal or equitable, in real estate accepted by the association in satisfaction of any obligation, in real estate purchased for sale or improvement and sale, upon contracts, at the cost of land and improvements, when such contracts are executed concurrently with or prior to such purchase, such transactions to be subject to all the limitations herein provided with respect to real estate loans, in real estate acquired by the association in exchange for real estate owned by the association, in real estate acquired by the association in connection with salvaging the value of property owned by the association, an amount not exceeding the sum of its reserves and undivided profits in the purchase and development of real estate for the purpose of producing income or for sale or for improvement thereof and the erection of buildings thereon for sale or rental purposes. Title to all real estate shall be taken and held in the name of the association and such title shall immediately be recorded in accordance with law. No association shall invest in any loan at any time when its liquid assets are less than five percent of its savings liability, unless the superintendent shall have issued written approval

3 Investment in EFT organizations Subject to the prior approval of the superintendent, in shares in a corporation engaged in providing and operating facilities through which an association and its members may engage, by means of either the direct transmission of electronic impulses to and from the association or the recording of electronic impulses or other indicia of a transaction for delayed transmission to the association, in transactions in which the association is otherwise permitted to engage pursuant to applicable law

4 Deposits of funds by associations Funds of such associations may be deposited in any state or national bank insured by the federal deposit insurance corporation on certificate of deposit, or the usual bank pass book credit, subject to check by the proper designated officers of such association or in the federal home loan bank of the district in which Iowa is located

5 Investment in home office buildings Any such association may invest an amount not to exceed five percent of its paid-in savings liability or such additional amounts as are authorized by the superintendent in unencumbered real estate for use wholly or partly as its business office

534.214 Investment in and by banks.

1 Investment in banks A holding company, association, or service corporation may invest in the capital stock, obligations, or other securities of a bank with the prior approval of the superintendent of savings and loan associations

2 Investment by banks Notwithstanding sections 524 802 and 524 901, subsection 3, a bank holding company, bank, or bank service corporation may, with the prior approval of the superintendent of banking, invest in the capital stock, obligations or other securities of a state association

The superintendent of banking shall not approve an investment under this subsection if upon making the investment the entity making the investment directly or indirectly would own or control more than twenty-five percent of the voting shares of a savings and loan association or would have the power to control in any manner the election of a majority of the directors of a savings and loan association, unless the superintendent of banking first determines either that the association in which the investment is to be made has only those office locations which a bank would be authorized under section 524 1202 to apply for and have approved on the effective date of the proposed investment, or that all nonconforming office locations were in existence and operating on July 1, 1982 If such an investment is approved by the superintendent of banking, the association so owned or controlled shall not subsequently establish any additional office locations except one which a bank would be authorized under section 524 1202 to apply for and have approved on the date which the proposed office location would commence operations

3 Contingencies An association or service corporation may make an investment under subsection 1 only if at the time of the investment either an insured bank or a bank service corporation owned by one or more insured banks would be permitted to make an investment under substantially the same circumstances in an insured state association under all applicable laws and regulations of the United States A bank or bank service corporation may make an investment under subsection 2 only if at the time of the investment either an insured state association or a service corporation owned by one or more insured associations would be permitted to make an investment under substantially the same circumstances in an insured bank under all applicable laws and regulations of the United States The ability of an organization to merge with another organization is not relevant in determining whether an organization is permitted to invest in another organization

4 Bank as holding company No bank shall directly or indirectly acquire ownership or control of more than twenty-five percent of the voting shares of any savings and loan association, or the power to control in any manner the election of a majority of the directors of any savings and loan association, if upon such acquisition the associations so owned or controlled by the bank would have, in the aggregate, more than eight percent of the total deposits, both time and demand, of all associations in this state, as determined by the superintendent of banking on the basis of the most recent reports of the associations in the state to their supervisory authorities which are available at the time of the acquisition

5 Definitions For purposes of this section an "insured bank" is a bank whose deposits are insured in part by the bank insurance fund of the federal deposit insurance corporation, a "bank service corporation" is as defined by, and in accordance with, the laws of the United States, and the "superintendent of banking" is the person appointed pursuant to section 524 201

6 Findings required The superintendent of savings and loan associations shall not grant an approval under subsection 1, and the superintendent of banking shall not grant an approval under subsection 2 except after making one of the two following findings

a Based upon a preponderance of the evidence presented, the proposed investment will not have the immediate effect of significantly reducing competition between depository financial institutions located in the same community as the institution whose shares would be acquired b Based upon a preponderance of the evidence presented, the proposed investment would have the anticompetitive effect specified in paragraph "a" of this subsection, but that other factors, to be specifically cited, outweigh the anticompetitive effect so that there would be a net public benefit as a result of the investment.

7. Competition preserved. The subsequent liquidation of a bank or state association whose shares are acquired under this section shall not prevent the subsequent incorporation of another bank in the same community, and the superintendent of banking shall not find the liquidation to be grounds for disapproving the incorporation of another bank in the same community under section 524.305, and shall not prevent the subsequent incorporation of another association in the same community, and the superintendent of savings and loan associations shall not find the liquidation to be grounds for disapproving the incorporation of another association in the same community under this chapter.

534.301 Savings account authority.

1. Deposit accounts. A stock association or mutual association may receive money for deposit.

2. Share accounts. A mutual association may receive money to be held in withdrawable share accounts and time share accounts.

3. NOW accounts. An association may offer savings accounts under which the owner of the account may order or authorize the withdrawal of part or all of the savings account by means of a negotiable or nonnegotiable draft or similar instrument payable to the owner or to third parties or their order.

4. Terms and conditions. An association shall establish the interest rate, method of computing interest, service charges, and other terms and conditions of each type of savings account it will accept. These terms and conditions shall be consistent with this chapter, and shall be applied equally to all similar accounts. An association shall furnish a copy of the terms and conditions of a savings account upon request. An association shall give reasonable notice of any change in the terms and conditions to the owners of each type of savings account which is changed, provided that notice of changes in interest rates or methods of computing interest may be provided by posting a conspicuous notice of the change in each of the association's offices. The terms and conditions of an account established for a specified time period cannot be changed during that time period except with mutual consent or according to the original terms.

5. Inducements. An association may give inducements for the opening of a savings account or the making of additions to a savings account.

6. Operating under federal rules as to deposits and interest. A savings and loan association operating under this chapter may operate in a manner similar to federally chartered savings and loan associations regarding the use of the terms "deposit" and "interest" and with such other powers as have been authorized to federally chartered associations under the Homeowners' Loan Act of 1933, 12 U.S.C.

§ 1464, and as permitted under the rules and regulations of the federal home loan bank system and the federal office of thrift supervision, to the extent that similar rules and regulations have been adopted by the superintendent and have been filed with the secretary of state. This subsection does not diminish or restrict the powers otherwise granted to such association by the laws of Iowa.

The adoption and filing of such rules or regulations by the superintendent shall not diminish or restrict the rights of associations which do not make the above determination.

7. Limitation on members' savings. Associations having assets of five hundred thousand dollars or less shall not accept from any one member savings liability of more than ten thousand dollars. Associations having assets in excess of five hundred thousand dollars shall not accept from any one member savings liability in excess of ten percent of its assets. These limitations shall not apply to share accounts issued to the United States government, or to any other federal government agency or instrumentality.

534.309 Adverse claims to deposits.

1. An association is not required, in the absence of a court order or indemnity required by this section, to recognize any claim to, or any claim of authority to exercise control over, a deposit account made by a person or persons other than:

a. The customer in whose name the account is held by the association.

b. An individual or group of individuals who are authorized to draw on or control the account pursuant to certified corporate resolution or other written arrangement with the customer, currently on file with the association, which has not been revoked by valid corporate action in the case of a corporation, or by a valid agreement or other valid action appropriate for the form of legal organization of any other customer, of which the association has received notice and which is not the subject of a dispute known to the association as to its original validity. The deposit account records of an association are presumptive evidence as to the identity of the customer on whose behalf the money is held.

2. To require an association to recognize an adverse claim to, or adverse claim of authority to control, a deposit account, whoever makes the claim must do either of the following:

a. Obtain and serve on the association an appropriate court order or judicial process directed to the association, restraining any action with respect to the account until further order of such court or instructing the association to pay the balance of the account, in whole or in part, as provided in the order or process.

b. Deliver to the association a bond, in form and amount and with sureties satisfactory to the association, indemnifying the association against any liability, loss, or expense which the association might incur because of its recognition of the adverse claim or because of its refusal by reason of such claim to honor any check or other order of anyone described in subsection 1, paragraphs "a" and "b".

534.401 Division of savings and loan associations.

1. Division of savings and loan associations created — superintendent. A savings and loan association division is created within the department of commerce. The superintendent of savings and loan associations is the chief administrative officer of the division.

2. General supervisory power. The superintendent has general supervision over all supervised organizations.

The superintendent may appoint examiners and assistants necessary to properly execute the duties of the office.

Before entering upon their duties, the superintendent and each examiner appointed by the superintendent shall take an oath of office and shall each give bond to the state, signed by a responsible surety company, in the penal sum of two thousand dollars, conditioned upon faithful and impartial discharge of the person's duty and on proper accounting for all funds and other valuables which may come into the person's hands. The bonds shall be approved by and filed with the auditor of state, together with oaths of office of the officers.

The superintendent may adopt further rules deemed necessary to enable savings and loan associations to properly carry on the activities authorized under this chapter.

3. Duties. The superintendent shall, at least once each year, cause examination and audit to be made of the affairs of every association subject to this chapter. If an association is insured under Title IV of the National Housing Act, 12 U.S.C. ch. 13, the superintendent may, in lieu of examination and audit, accept an examination or audit made by the federal office of thrift supervision. An association may, in lieu of examination and audit by the superintendent, at the option of the superintendent be audited by a certified public accountant, or by a public accountant qualified and licensed to practice accountancy under the Code of Iowa. At least two copies of each examination or audit report, signed and verified by the accountant making it, shall promptly be filed with the superintendent. When, in the judgment of the superintendent, the condition of an association renders it necessary or expedient to make an extra examination or audit or to devote extraordinary attention to its affairs, the superintendent shall cause such work to be done. A copy of every examination or audit report shall be furnished to the association examined, exclusive of confidential comments made by the examiner, and a copy of every report and comments and any other information pertaining to an association may be furnished to the federal home loan bank board, federal home loan bank, and federal office of thrift supervision. A copy of an examination or audit report shall be presented to the board of directors at its next regular or special meeting, their action on it shall be recorded in the minutes, and two certified copies of the minutes shall be transmitted to the superintendent.

4. Superintendent's annual report. The superintendent, as of December 31 of each year, shall prepare and publish a report showing in general terms the condition of all savings and loan associations doing business in this state, and containing other general information as in the superintendent's judgment seems desirable. The reports shall also list the names of all examiners and other assistants appointed by the superintendent, together with their respective salaries and expenses, shall list all receipts from savings and loan associations, and shall show all expenditures made on account of the supervision and examination of the associations.

1. Superintendent's authority — examinations. The superintendent and examiners shall have full access to all books and papers of an association which relate to its business, and to books, records, and papers kept by an officer, director, agent, or employee relating to, or upon which any record of its business is kept, and may summon witnesses and administer oaths or affirmations in the examination of the directors, officers, agents, or employees of an association, or any other person, in relation to its affairs, transactions, and condition, and may require and compel the production of records, books, papers, contracts, or other documents by court order, if not voluntarily produced.

2. Expenses, per diem, vacation, and sick leave. If the examination is made under section 534.401, subsection 3, each examiner shall file with the superintendent an itemized, certified, and sworn voucher of the examiner's expense for the time the examiner is actually engaged in an examination. On the fifteenth and last days of each month each examiner shall file in triplicate with the superintendent a certified statement of the actual days engaged in examinations. The salaries shall be included in a two-week payroll period. Upon approval of the superintendent, the director of revenue and finance is authorized to issue warrants for payment of the vouchers and salaries, including a prorated amount for vacation and sick leave. Repayment to the state shall be made as provided by section 534.408, subsection 4. Savings and loan examiners shall be paid salaries at rates commensurate with, and shall be reimbursed for meals and lodging at the same rate and in the same manner as, that which is received by federal examiners operating under the federal home loan bank board.

3. Record required. A record of all examinations, reports, and related information shall be kept in the superintendent's office, showing in detail as to each association all matters connected with the conduct of its business, its financial standing, and everything touching its solvency, plan of business, and integrity.

The examinations, reports, and information shall be kept confidential in the office of the superintendent, and are not subject to publication or disclosure to others except as provided in this chapter. However, the superintendent may furnish any examination, report, or information to the federal office of thrift supervision, federal deposit insurance corporation, or a successor deposit insurance instrumentality, federal home loan bank board, or financial institution regulatory authorities of any state. Any evidence of felonious acts on the part of the officers, directors, or employees of an association may be referred by the superintendent to proper authorities. Members of associations, other than their officers and directors, are not entitled to inspection of any such records or information, and are not entitled to any information relative to the names of the members of an association, or the amounts invested by them, as disclosed in the superintendent's office, or in the records of an association.

4. Revocation of authority. If an association refuses to submit to examination, the superintendent shall revoke its certificate of authority.

If the superintendent, as a result of any examination or from a report made to the superintendent finds that a savings and loan association is violating a provision of its certificate of incorporation, or by-laws, or the laws of this state, or of the United States, or a lawful order of the superintendent, or is conducting its business in an unsafe manner, the superintendent may by an order direct discontinuance of the violation or unsafe practice, and conformance with all requirements of law. A conservator shall not be appointed for a solvent association if a violation or unsafe practice can be corrected otherwise. If an association refuses or neglects to comply with the order within the time specified in it, or if it appears to the superintendent that an association is in an unsafe condition or is conducting its business in an unsafe manner, or if the superintendent finds that an impairment of capital exists to such extent that it threatens loss to the members, or if an association refuses to submit its books, papers, and accounts to the inspection of the superintendent or the superintendent's representative, the superintendent, by written order signed by the superintendent, may appoint a conservator to take charge of the association and manage its business until the superintendent permits the board of directors to resume management of the business or reorganizes the association, or until a receiver is appointed to liquidate its affairs.

A conservator so appointed has, subject to approval of the superintendent, all the rights, powers, and privileges possessed by the officers, board of directors, and members of the association. The conservator shall not retain special counsel or other experts, or incur any expenses other than normal operating expenses, or liquidate assets, except in the ordinary course of operations. The directors and officers shall remain in office and the employees shall remain in their respective positions, but the superintendent may remove any director, officer, or employee. While the association is in the charge of a conservator, members of the association shall continue to make payments to the association in accordance with the terms of their contracts and the conservator, in the conservator's discretion, may permit members to withdraw in the ordinary course of business, or under and subject to rules the superintendent may prescribe.

The conservator may accept savings but savings received by the conservator may be segregated if the superintendent so orders in writing and if so ordered such savings are not subject to offset and shall not be used to liquidate an indebtedness of the association existing at the time the conservator was appointed for it, or any subsequent indebtedness incurred for the purpose of liquidating the indebtedness of the association existing at the time a conservator was appointed. All expenses of the association during conservatorship shall be paid by the association.

The appointment of a conservator shall be evidenced by the superintendent issuing a certificate, signed by the superintendent, delivered to the president, or the vice president, or to at least three members of the board of directors of the association, certifying that a conservator has been appointed pursuant to this section. Within six months from the date upon which the conservator takes charge of an association, the superintendent shall determine whether to restore the management of the association to the board of directors. The determination shall be evidenced by the superintendent's certificate under the seal of the office, delivered to the president, or vice president, or to the board of directors of the association, that the conservator is redelivering the management of the association to the board of directors of the association then in office.

After the management of the association has been redelivered to the board of directors of an association, the association shall be managed and operated as though no conservator had been appointed. At any time prior to the redelivery of the management to the board of directors, the superintendent shall determine whether the association shall be required to reorganize. That determination shall be evidenced by a certificate, signed by the superintendent, under the seal of the office, delivered to an executive officer of the association, stating that unless the association reorganizes under the laws of this state within a period of sixty days from the date of the certificate, or within such further time as the superintendent approves, the superintendent shall liquidate the association.

If the association has the insurance protection provided by Title IV of the National Housing Act, 12 U.S.C. ch. 13, a signed and sealed copy of each order and certificate mentioned in this section shall be promptly sent by the superintendent by registered mail to the federal office of thrift supervision, Washington, D.C. If the association is insured by the savings association insurance fund of the federal deposit insurance corporation, the resolution trust corporation shall be named receiver if the superintendent has determined the need for a receivership.

Actions taken by the superintendent under this section are not subject to section 17A.18, subsection 3.

534.408 Supervisory fees.

1. Payable to division. Associations shall pay fees by delivering to the superintendent a check payable to the savings and loan division of the department of commerce. All fees collected under this chapter shall be deposited with the treasurer of state in the general fund of the state.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this subsection and section 534.403 directing that fees and other moneys received be deposited into the savings and loan revolving fund and not be transferred to the general fund of the state, and directing that expenses be paid from the savings and loan revolving fund, for the fiscal period beginning on July 1, 1991, and ending June 30, 1993, all fees and other moneys collected shall be deposited into the general fund of the state and expenses required to be paid under this subsection and section 534.403 shall be paid from funds appropriated for those purposes.*

2. Incorporation fee. Simultaneously with the filing with the superintendent of a certificate of incorporation, the corporation shall pay an incorporation fee of one hundred dollars.

3. Change of location or change of name. A fee of fifty dollars shall accompany each application to the superintendent for permission to change the location of the home office or to change the name of the association.

4. Supervision and examination fee. At the time of filing its annual report each association shall pay to the superintendent an annual filing fee of fifty dollars. The superintendent shall assess against an association the actual and necessary expenses incidental to examinations, or to supervision, or to a special audit made pursuant to an order of the superintendent acting under authority of this chapter. The annual assessment to each association shall also include a fair proportion of the cost of administration of the savings and loan division.

5. Merger fee. At the time of filing with the superintendent a merger agreement, the association proposing to merge shall submit a fee of one hundred fifty dollars, which fee shall be paid in equal parts by the associations which are parties to the proposed merger.

6. For reorganization, transfer of assets, and dissolution. A fee of fifty dollars shall accompany a proposed plan of reorganization, a proposal for the transfer of assets in bulk, and a certificate of dissolution, filed with the superintendent for approval.

7. For approval of superintendent. The superintendent, in the superintendent's discretion, may charge a fee of not exceeding ten dollars upon each application for the superintendent's approval, as provided by this chapter.

534.519 Mutual holding companies.

1. An association may reorganize as a mutual holding company in the manner and with the effect provided in the federal National Housing Act of 1934, 12 U.S.C. § 1730a(s). The mutual holding company may engage in activities permitted by the federal National Housing Act of 1934, 12 U.S.C. § 1730a(s). For purposes of 12 U.S.C. § 1730a(s)(5)(D), investments in service corporations shall be deemed available for purchase without regard to the limitation contained in section 534.213, subsection 1, paragraph "i", on the amount of such investments.

2. A mutual holding company shall be deemed a mutual association for purposes of sections 534.401, 534.403, 534.501, 534.502, 534.503, 534.505, 534.509, 534.510, 534.511, 534.512, 534.513, 534.514, 534.601, 534.602, 534.603, 534.604, 534.605, 534.606, 534.701, 534.702, 534.703, 534.704, and 534.705.

3. Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, a mutual holding company has all powers set forth in section 490.302.

4. The superintendent may adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A pertaining to mutual holding companies.
5. Proxies of the association shall continue in

MONEY AND INTEREST

535.15 Open-end credit and credit card disclosure.

1. As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

a. "Financial institution" means as defined in section 535A.1.

b. "Credit card", "finance charge", and "open-end credit" mean as defined in section 537.1301.

2. A financial institution which accepts an application for open-end credit from a person who resides in this state shall annually disclose pursuant to this section the following information for each type of open-end account granted:

a. The annual percentage rate charged on the open-end credit account.

b. The amount of fee charged or assessed, if any, by the person as a condition for granting or opening the open-end credit account and the frequency the fee is assessed.

c. A description of when the finance charge begins to accrue against charges made on the open-end credit account.

3. A person who accepts an application for a credit card from a person who resides in this state shall annually disclose the following information for each type of credit card granted, unless the information is disclosed under subsection 1:

a. The annual percentage rate charged on the credit card.

b. The amount of fee charged or assessed, if any, by the person as a condition for issuing the credit card and the frequency the fee is assessed.

c. A description of when the finance charge begins to accrue against charges made on the credit card.

4. A person who is obligated to disclose information under this section shall file a written report disclosing the information with the treasurer of state by July 1 of each year. If a person filing under this section makes any changes subsequent to July 1 but prior to January 1 to any of the information for which disclosure is required relating to credit cards, the person shall file an amended written report with the treasurer of state by January 1 following the change.

5. The treasurer of state shall adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A to implement this section including, but not limited to, both of the following:

a. Procedures for receiving the reports.

b. Procedures for publicizing and making the information filed readily available to the public.

As used in this chapter unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Mortgage banker" means a person who does one or more of the following:

a. Makes at least four first mortgage loans on residential real property located in this state in a calendar year.

b. Originates at least four first mortgage loans on residential real property located in this state in a calendar year and sells four or more such loans in the secondary market.

c Services at least four first mortgage loans on residential real property located in this state. However, a natural person, who services less than fifteen first mortgage loans on residential real estate within the state and who does not sell or transfer first mortgage loans, is exempt from this paragraph if that person is otherwise exempt from the provisions of this chapter.

2 “Mortgage broker” means a person who arranges or negotiates, or attempts to arrange or negotiate, at least four first mortgage loans or commitments for four or more such loans on residential real property located in this state in a calendar year.

3 “Residential real property” means real property, which is an owner-occupied single-family or two-family dwelling, located in this state, occupied or used or intended to be occupied or used for residential purposes, including an interest in any real property covered under chapter 499B.

4 “Person” means an individual, an association, joint venture or joint stock company, partnership, limited partnership, business corporation, nonprofit corporation, or any other group of individuals however organized.

“Natural person” means an individual who is not an association, joint venture, or joint stock company, partnership, limited partnership, business corporation, nonprofit corporation, other business entity, or any other group of individuals or business entities, however organized.

5 “Licensee” means a person licensed under this chapter, however, any individual who is acting solely as an employee or agent of a mortgage banker or broker licensed under this Act need not be separately licensed.

6 “Administrator” means the superintendent of the division of banking of the department of commerce.

7 “First mortgage loan” means a loan of money secured by a first lien on residential real property and includes a refinancing of a contract of sale, an assumption of a prior loan, and a refinancing of a prior loan.

8 “Registrant” means a person registered under section 535B.3.

Subsection 6 amended

535B.13 Enforcement.

1 The administrator has cease and desist powers as follows:

a For the purposes of this subsection, “administrator” means either the superintendent of banking or the official or agency charged with enforcing this chapter, or parts thereof, against the person under investigation.

b If the administrator has reason to believe that a person has been or is in violation of this chapter or rules adopted under this chapter, after notice and hearing, the administrator may order a person to cease and desist from violating any provision of this chapter or rules adopted under this chapter.

c The administrator, upon such hearing, may administer oaths, examine and cross-examine witnesses, receive evidence, and shall have the power to subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, and require the production of all records or other documents which the administrator deems relevant to the inquiry. In case of a refusal of a person to comply with a subpoena issued under this section or to testify with respect to any matter relevant to the proceeding, on application of the administrator, the district court of Polk county may issue an order requiring the person to comply with the subpoena and to testify. A failure to obey an order of the court to comply with the subpoena may be punished by the court as a civil contempt. A cease and desist hearing need not observe any formal rules of pleading or evidence.

d If after the hearing, the administrator finds that the person charged has violated this chapter or rules adopted under this chapter, the administrator shall issue written findings, a copy of which shall be served upon the person charged with the violations, along with an order requiring the person to cease and desist from engaging in the violations.

e A person aggrieved by a cease and desist order of the administrator may obtain judicial review of the order and the administrator may obtain an order of the Polk county district court for the enforcement of the cease and desist order.

f A proceeding for review must be initiated within thirty days after the aggrieved person receives the cease and desist order. If no proceeding is initiated, the administrator may obtain a decree of the Polk county district court for enforcement of the cease and desist order.

g A person who violates a cease and desist order of the administrator may, after notice and hearing, and upon further order of the administrator, be subject to a penalty of not more than five thousand dollars for each act or violation of the cease and desist order.

2 The administrator may request the attorney general to enforce the provisions of this chapter. A civil enforcement action by the attorney general may be filed in equity in either the county in which the violation occurred or Polk county. A civil enforcement action by the attorney general may seek any or all of the following:

a Temporary and permanent injunctive relief.
b Restitution for a mortgagor aggrieved by a violation of this chapter.
c Costs for the investigation and prosecution of the enforcement action including attorneys fees.

3 This chapter does not limit the power of the attorney general to determine that any other practice is unlawful under the Iowa consumer fraud Act, section 714.16, and to file an action under that section.

CHAPTER 537

CONSUMER CREDIT CODE

537.3205 Change in terms of open end credit accounts.

1. Whether or not a change is authorized by prior agreement, a creditor may make a change in the terms of an open end credit account applying to any balance incurred after the effective date of the change only if the creditor delivers or mails to the consumer a written disclosure of the change at least sixty days before the effective date of the change.

2. Unless authorized by this chapter or unless agreed to by the consumer, a creditor shall not change the terms of an open end credit account, with respect to a balance incurred before the effective date of the change, which results in an increase of the rate of the finance charge or other charge or an increase in the amount of a periodic payment due, or which otherwise adversely affects the interests of the consumer with respect to the balance. The use by the consumer of an open-end account after the effective date of the change constitutes the agreement of the consumer if the consumer is notified as provided in subsection 1 that the use will constitute the agreement of the consumer.

3. Notwithstanding subsection 2, a creditor may make a change in the terms of an open end credit account with respect to a balance incurred before the effective date of the change if the creditor gives a written disclosure as provided in subsection 1 and if the credit card account is part of a portfolio of credit card accounts acquired in a bulk acquisition of the portfolio.

4. A disclosure provided for in subsection 1 is mailed to the consumer when mailed to the consumer at the consumer's address used by the creditor for mailing the consumer periodic billing statements.

5. If a creditor attempts to make a change in the terms of an open end credit account without complying with this section, any additional cost or charge to the consumer resulting from the change is an excess charge and is subject to the remedies available to the consumer under section 537.5201 and to the administrator under section 537.6113.

537.6104 Powers of administrator — reliance on rules — duty to report.

1. The administrator, within the limitations provided by law, may:

- a. Receive and act on complaints.
 - b. Take action designed to obtain voluntary compliance with this chapter.
 - c. Commence proceedings on the administrator's own initiative.
 - d. Counsel persons and groups on their rights and duties under this chapter.
 - e. Establish programs for the education of consumers with respect to credit practices and problems.
 - f. Make studies appropriate to effectuate the purposes and policies of this chapter and make the results available to the public.
 - g. Maintain offices within this state.
2. The administrator may enforce the Truth in Lending Act to the fullest extent provided by law.

3. To keep the administrator's rules in harmony with the rules of administrators in other jurisdictions which enact the uniform consumer credit code, the administrator, so far as is consistent with the purposes, policies and provisions of this chapter, shall do both of the following:

a. Before adopting, amending and repealing rules, advise and consult with administrators in other jurisdictions which enact the uniform consumer credit code.

b. In adopting, amending, and repealing rules, take into consideration the rules of administrators in other jurisdictions which enact the uniform consumer credit code.

4. Except for refund of an excess charge, no liability is imposed under this chapter for an act done or omitted in conformity with a rule of the administrator notwithstanding that after the act or omission the rule is amended or repealed or determined by judicial or other authority to be invalid for any reason.

5. The administrator shall report annually on or before January 1 to the general assembly on the operation of the consumer credit protection bureau and the other agencies of this state charged with administering this chapter, and on the problems of persons of small means obtaining credit from persons regularly engaged in extending sales or loan credit. For the purpose of making the report, the administrator may conduct research and make appropriate studies. The report shall include, for the consumer credit protection bureau and for other state agencies enforcing this chapter, a description of the examination and investigation procedures and policies, a statement of policies followed in deciding whether to investigate or examine the offices of credit suppliers subject to this chapter, a statement of the number and percentages of offices which are periodically investigated or examined, a statement of the types of consumer credit problems of both creditors and consumers which have come to the administrator's attention through the administrator's examinations and investigations and the disposition of them under existing law, and recommendations, if any, for legislation to deal with those problems within the administrator's general jurisdiction, a statement of the extent to which the rules of the administrator pursuant to this chapter are not in harmony with the rules of administrators in other jurisdictions which enact the uniform consumer credit code and the reasons for the variations, and a general statement of the activities of the administrator's office and of others to promote the purposes of this chapter. The report shall not identify the creditors against whom action is taken.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

546.3 Banking division.

The banking division shall regulate and supervise banks under chapter 524, regulated loan companies under chapter 536, and industrial loan companies under chapter 536A, and shall perform other duties assigned to the division by law. The division is headed by the superintendent of banking who is appointed pursuant to section 524.201. The state banking board shall perform duties within the division as prescribed by law.

91 Acts, ch 63, §5 SF 310
Section amended

546.7 Utilities division.

The utilities division shall regulate and supervise public utilities operating in the state. The division shall enforce and implement chapters 476, 476A, 478, 479, and 479A and shall perform other duties assigned to it by law. The division is headed by the administrator of public utilities who shall be appointed by the governor pursuant to section 474.1.

91 Acts, ch 97, §58 HF 198
Section amended

546.10 Professional licensing and regulation division — administrative services cost — revolving fund.

1. The professional licensing and regulation division shall administer and coordinate the licensing and regulation of several professions by bringing together the following licensing boards:

- a. The engineering and land surveying examining board created pursuant to chapter 114.
- b. The accountancy examining board created pursuant to chapter 116.
- c. The real estate commission created pursuant to chapter 117.
- d. The architectural examining board created pursuant to chapter 118.
- e. The landscape architectural examining board created pursuant to chapter 118A.

2. The division is headed by the administrator of professional licensing and regulation who shall be appointed by the governor subject to confirmation by the senate and shall serve a four-year term that begins and ends as provided in section 69.19. A vacancy shall be filled for the unexpired portion of the term in the same manner as a full-term appointment is made. The administrator shall appoint and supervise staff and shall coordinate activities for the licensing boards within the division. The administrator shall act as a staff person to one or more of the licensing boards.

3. The licensing and regulation examining boards included in the division pursuant to subsection 1 retain the powers granted them pursuant to the chapters in which they are created, except for budgetary and personnel matters which shall be handled by the administrator. Each licensing board shall adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A. Decisions by a licensing board are final agency actions for purposes of chapter 17A.

4. The professional licensing and regulation division of the department of commerce may expend additional funds, including funds for additional personnel, if those additional expenditures are directly the cause of actual examination expenses exceeding funds budgeted for examinations. Before the division expends or encumbers an amount in excess of the funds budgeted for examinations, the director of the department of management shall approve the expenditure or encumbrance. Before approval is given, the director of the department of management shall determine that the examination expenses exceed the funds budgeted by the general assembly to the division and the division does not have other funds from which the expenses can be paid. Upon approval of the director of the department of management, the division may expend and encumber funds for excess examination expenses. The amounts necessary to fund the examination expenses shall be collected as fees from additional examination applicants and shall be treated as repayment receipts as defined in section 8.2, subsection 8.

5. The professional licensing and regulation division shall transfer at the beginning of each fiscal quarter from appropriated trust funds to the administrative services trust fund an amount which represents the division's share of the estimated cost of consolidated administrative services within the department, such share to be in the same proportion as established by agreement in the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1986, and ending June 30, 1987, with the first quarterly transfer to occur between July 1 and July 31 annually. At the close of the fiscal year, actual versus estimated expenditures shall be reconciled and any overpayment shall be returned to the division or any underpayment shall be paid by the division.

6. There is created in the office of the treasurer of state a professional licensing revolving fund. Fees collected under chapters 114, 116, 117, 117B, 118, and 118A shall be paid to the treasurer of state and credited to the professional licensing revolving fund. All expenses required in the discharge of the duties and responsibilities imposed upon the professional licensing division of the department of commerce, the administrator, and the licensing boards by the laws of this state shall be paid from the revolving fund and appropriated by the general assembly from the fund. Transfers shall not be made from the general fund of the state or any other fund for the payment of expenses of the division. Fees collected by the division shall not be transferred to the general fund. The funds held by the treasurer of state for the professional licensing division of the department of commerce shall be invested by the treasurer of state and the income derived from the investments shall be credited to the general fund of the state.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this subsection and sections 114.12, 116.3, 117.14, 117B.6, 118.11, and 118A.14 directing that fees and other moneys be deposited into the professional licensing revolving fund and not to be transferred to the general fund of the state, and directing that expenses be paid from the professional licensing revolving fund, for the fiscal period beginning on July 1, 1991, and ending June 30, 1993, all fees collected under those sections shall be deposited into the general fund of the state and expenses required to be paid under this subsection shall be paid from funds appropriated for those purposes.

546.11 Administrative services trust fund created.

There is created in the office of the treasurer of state for the department of commerce an administrative services trust fund. Moneys paid to the department by the divisions for administrative services shall be credited to the fund. All costs for administrative services provided by the department to the respective divisions shall be paid from this fund, subject to appropriation by the general assembly.

Notwithstanding this section and sections 476.10, 524.207, 533.67, 534.408, 546.9, and 546.10 directing the utilities division, banking division, credit union division, savings and loan division, alcoholic beverages division, and the professional licensing division to transfer from appropriated trust funds to the administrative services trust fund the division's share of administrative services and directing that costs for administrative services provided by the department to the divisions be paid from the administrative services trust fund, for the fiscal period beginning on July 1, 1991, and ending June 30, 1993, all expenses for administrative services shall be paid from appropriations made from the general fund of the state for these expenses.

Subsection 1 paragraph c amended

554.9401 Place of filing — erroneous filing — removal of collateral.

1 The proper place to file in order to perfect a security interest is as follows a when the collateral is timber to be cut or is minerals or the like (including oil and gas), or accounts subject to section 554 9103, subsection 5, or when the financing statement is filed as a fixture filing (section 554 9313) and the collateral is goods which are or are to become fixtures, then in the office where a mortgage on the real estate would be filed or recorded,

b when the collateral is consumer goods and when the debtor resides in this state, then in the office of the recorder in the county of the debtor's residence, c in all other cases, in the office of the secretary of state

2 A filing which is made in good faith in an improper place or not in all of the places required by this section is nevertheless effective with regard to any collateral as to which the filing complied with the requirements of this Article and is also effective with regard to collateral covered by the financing statement against any person who has knowledge of the contents of such financing statement

3 A filing which is made in the proper place in this state continues effective even though the debtor's residence or place of business or the location of the collateral or its use, whichever controlled the original filing, is thereafter changed

4. The rules stated in section 554.9103 determine whether filing is necessary in this state.

5. Notwithstanding the preceding subsections, and subject to section 554.9302, subsection 3, the proper place to file in order to perfect a security interest in collateral, including fixtures, of a transmitting utility is the office of the secretary of state. This filing constitutes a fixture filing (section 554.9313) as to the collateral described therein which is or is to become fixtures.

6. Of each fee collected by the county recorder under sections 570A.4, 554.9403, 554.9405, and 554.9406, the county recorder shall remit five dollars, if filed on a standard form or six dollars otherwise, to the office of the treasurer of state for deposit in the general fund of the state.

91 Acts, ch 267, §618 HF 479
NEW subsection 6

554.9403 What constitutes filing — duration of filing — effect of lapsed filing — duties of filing officer.

1. Presentation for filing of a financing statement and tender of the filing fee or acceptance of the statement by the filing officer constitutes filing under this Article.

2. Except as provided in subsection 6, a filed financing statement is effective for a period of five years from the date of filing. The effectiveness of a filed financing statement lapses on the expiration of the five-year period unless a continuation statement is filed prior to the lapse. If a security interest perfected by filing exists at the time insolvency proceedings are commenced by or against the debtor, the security interest remains perfected until termination of the insolvency proceedings and thereafter for a period of sixty days or until expiration of the five-year period, whichever occurs later. Upon lapse the security interest becomes unperfected, unless it is perfected without filing. If the security interest becomes unperfected upon lapse, it is deemed to have been unperfected as against a person who became a purchaser or lien creditor before lapse.

3. A continuation statement may be filed by the secured party within six months prior to the expiration of the five-year period specified in subsection 2. Any such continuation statement must be signed by the secured party, identify the original statement by file number and state that the original statement is still effective. A continuation statement signed by a person other than the secured party of record must be accompanied by a separate written statement of assignment signed by the secured party of record and complying with section 554.9405, subsection 2, including payment of the required fee. Upon timely filing of the continuation statement, the effectiveness of the original statement is continued for five years after the last date to which the filing was effective whereupon it lapses in the same manner as provided in subsection 2 unless another continuation statement is filed prior to such lapse. Succeeding continuation statements may be filed in the same manner to continue the effectiveness of the original statement. Unless a statute on disposition of public records provides otherwise, the filing officer may remove a statement from the files and destroy it immediately if the filing officer has retained a microfilm or other photographic record, or in other cases after one year after the lapse.

4. Except as provided in subsection 7, a filing officer shall mark each statement with a file number and with the date and hour of filing and shall hold the statement or a microfilm or other photographic copy thereof for public inspection. In addition the filing officer shall index the statements according to the name of the debtor and shall note in the index the file number and the address of the debtor given in the statement.

5. The uniform fee for filing and indexing and for stamping a copy furnished by the secured party to show the date and place of filing shall be as follows:

a. Ten dollars for an original financing statement if the statement is in the standard form prescribed by the secretary of state, and otherwise twelve dollars.

b. Ten dollars for a continuation statement if the statement is in the standard form prescribed by the secretary of state, and otherwise twelve dollars.

6. If the debtor is a transmitting utility (section 554.9401, subsection 5), and a filed financing statement so states, or if a filed financing statement relates to a lien, pledge, or security interest incident to bonds issued under chapter 419 and the filed financing statement so states, it is effective until a termination statement is filed. A real estate mortgage which is effective as a fixture filing under section 554.9402, subsection 6, remains effective as a fixture filing until the mortgage is released or satisfied of record or its effectiveness otherwise terminates as to the real estate.

7. When a financing statement covers timber to be cut or covers minerals or the like (including oil and gas) or accounts subject to section 554.9103, subsection 5, or is filed as a fixture filing, it shall be filed for record and the filing officer shall index it under the names of the debtor and any owner of record shown on the financing statement in the same fashion as if they were the mortgagors in a mortgage of the real estate described, and, to the extent that the law of this state provides for indexing of mortgages under the name of the mortgagee, under the name of the secured party as if the secured party were the mortgagee thereunder, or where indexing is by description in the same fashion as if the financing statement were a mortgage of the real estate described.

Subsection 5, paragraphs a and b amended

554.9404 Termination statement.

1. If a financing statement covering consumer goods is filed on or after January 1, 1975, then within one month or within ten days following written demand by the debtor after there is no outstanding secured obligation and no commitment to make advances, incur obligations, or otherwise give value, the secured party must file with each filing officer with whom the financing statement was filed, a termination statement to the effect that the secured party no longer claims a security interest under the financing statement, which shall be identified by file number. If a financing statement covering farm products is filed, then within sixty days, or within ten days following written demand by the debtor, after there is no outstanding secured obligation and no commitment to make advances, incur obligations, or otherwise give value, the secured party shall file with each filing officer with whom the financing statement was filed, a termination statement to the effect that the secured party no longer claims a security interest under the financing statement, which shall be identified by file number. In other cases if there is no outstanding secured obligation and no commitment to make advances, incur obligations, or otherwise give value, the secured party must on written demand by the debtor send the debtor, for each filing officer with whom the financing statement was filed, a termination statement to the effect that the secured party no longer claims a security interest under the financing statement, which shall be identified by file number. A termination statement signed by a person other than the secured party of record must be accompanied by a separate written statement of assignment signed by the secured party of record complying with section 554.9405, subsection 2, including payment of the required fee. If the affected secured party fails to file a termination statement as required by this subsection, or to send such a termination statement within ten days after proper demand for it, the affected secured party is liable to the debtor for one hundred dollars, and in addition for any loss caused to the debtor by the failure.

2. On presentation to the filing officer of such a termination statement the filing officer must note it in the index. If the filing officer has received the termination statement in duplicate, the filing officer shall return one copy of the termination statement to the secured party stamped to show the time of receipt thereof.

3. There shall be a ten-dollar fee for filing a termination statement.

91 Acts ch 267 §620 HF 479
Subsection 3 amended

554.9405 Assignment of security interest — duties of filing officer — fees.

1. A financing statement may disclose an assignment of a security interest in the collateral described in the financing statement by indication in the financing statement of the name and address of the assignee or by an assignment itself or a copy thereof on the face or back of the statement. On presentation to the filing officer of such a financing statement the filing officer shall mark the same as provided in section 554.9403, subsection 4. The uniform fee for filing, indexing and furnishing filing data for a fi-ancing statement so indicating an assignment on a form conforming to standards prescribed by the secretary of state shall be ten dollars, or if such statement otherwise conforms to the requirements of this section, twelve dollars.

2. A secured party may assign of record all or a part of the rights under a financing statement by the filing in the place where the original financing statement was filed of a separate written statement of assignment signed by the secured party of record and setting forth the name of the secured party of record and the debtor, the file number and the date of filing of the financing statement and the name and address of the assignee and containing a description of the collateral assigned. A copy of the assignment is sufficient as a separate statement if it complies with the preceding sentence. On presentation to the filing officer of such a separate statement, the filing officer shall mark such separate statement with the date and hour of the filing. The filing officer shall note the assignment on the index of the financing statement, or in the case of a fixture filing, or a filing covering timber to be cut, or covering minerals or the like (including oil and gas) or accounts subject to section 554.9103, subsection 5, the filing officer shall index the assignment under the name of the assignor as grantor and, to the extent that the law of this state provides for indexing the assignment of a mortgage under the name of the assignee, the filing officer shall index the assignment of the financing statement under the name of the assignee. The uniform fee for filing, indexing and furnishing filing data about such a separate statement of assignment on a form conforming to standards prescribed by the secretary of state shall be ten dollars, or if such statement otherwise conforms to the requirements of this section, twelve dollars. Notwithstanding the provisions of this subsection, an assignment of record of a security interest in a fixture contained in a mortgage effective as a fixture filing (section 554.9402, subsection 6), may be made only by an assignment of the mortgage in the manner provided by the law of this state other than this chapter.

For financing statements covering fixture filings, changes in the filings, and termination of the filings, an additional fee shall be charged for recording in an amount specified in section 331.604.

3. After the disclosure or filing of an assignment under this section, the assignee is the secured party of record.

91 Acts ch 267 §621 HF 479
Subsections 1 and 2 amended

554.9406 Release of collateral — duties of filing officer — fees.

A secured party of record may by a signed statement release all or a part of any collateral described in a filed financing statement. The statement of release is sufficient if it contains a description of the collateral being released, the name and address of the debtor, the name and address of the secured party, and the file number of the financing statement. A statement of release signed by a person other than the secured party of record must be accompanied by a separate written statement of assignment signed by the secured party of record and complying with section 554.9405, subsection 2, including payment of the required fee. Upon presentation of such a statement of release the filing officer shall mark the statement with the hour and date of filing and shall note the same upon the margin of the index of the filing of the financing statement. The uniform fee for filing and noting such a statement of release on a form conforming to standards prescribed by the secretary of state shall be ten dollars, or if such statement otherwise conforms to the requirements of this section, twelve dollars.

CHAPTER 556

DISPOSITION OF UNCLAIMED PROPERTY

556.2 Property held by banking or financial organizations or by business associations.

The following property held or owing by a banking or financial organization or by a business association is presumed abandoned:

1. Any demand, savings, or matured time deposit made in this state with a banking organization, together with any interest or dividend, excluding any charges that may lawfully be withheld, unless the owner has, within three years:

a Increased or decreased the amount of the deposit, or presented the passbook or other similar evidence of the deposit for the crediting of interest.

b Corresponded in writing with the banking organization concerning the deposit.

c Otherwise indicated an interest in the deposit as evidenced by a memorandum on file with the banking organization. Such memorandum shall be dated and may have been prepared by the banking organization, in which case it shall be signed by an official of the bank, or it may have been prepared by the owner.

d Had another relationship with the bank in which the owner has:

(1) Communicated in writing with the bank.

(2) Otherwise indicated an interest as evidenced by a memorandum or other record on file prepared by an employee of the bank and if the bank communicates in writing with the owner with regard to the property that would otherwise be abandoned under this subsection at the address to which communications regarding the other relationship are regularly sent.

e Been sent any written correspondence, notice or information by first class mail regarding the deposit by the banking organization on or after July 1, 1985, if the correspondence, notice or information is not returned to the bank organization for nondelivery and if the bank organization maintains a record of all returned mail.

2. Any funds paid in this state toward the purchase of shares or other interest in a financial organization or any deposit made in this state, and any interest or dividends, excluding any charges that may lawfully be withheld, unless the owner has within three years:

a Increased or decreased the amount of the funds or deposit, or presented an appropriate record for the crediting of interest or dividends.

b Corresponded in writing with the financial organization concerning the funds or deposit.

c Otherwise indicated an interest in the funds or deposit as evidenced by a memorandum on file with the financial organization. Such memorandum shall be dated and may have been prepared by the financial organization, in which case it shall be signed by an officer of the financial organization, or it may have been prepared by the owner.

d Had another relationship with the financial organization in which the owner has:

(1) Communicated in writing with the financial organization.

(2) Otherwise indicated an interest as evidenced by a memorandum or other record on file prepared by an employee of the financial organization and if the financial organization communicates in writing with the owner with regard to the property that would otherwise be abandoned under this subsection at the address to which communications regarding the other relationship are regularly sent.

e Been sent any written correspondence, notice or information by first class mail regarding the funds or deposits by the financial organization on or after July 1, 1985, if the correspondence, notice or information is not returned to the financial organization for nondelivery and if the financial organization maintains a record of all returned mail.

3. Any property described in subsections 1 and 2 which is automatically renewable is matured for purposes of subsections 1 and 2 upon the expiration of its initial time period, but in the case of any renewal to which the owner consents at or about the time of renewal by communicating in writing with the banking or financial organization or otherwise indicating consent as evidenced by a memorandum or other record on file prepared by an employee of the organization, the property is matured upon the expiration of the last time provided for which consent was given. If at the time period for delivery in section 556.13, a penalty or forfeiture in the payment of interest would result from the delivery of the property, the time period for delivery is extended until the time when no penalty or forfeiture would result.

4. Any sum payable on checks certified in this state or on written instruments issued in this state on which a banking or financial organization or business association is directly liable, including, by way of illustration but not of limitation, certificates of deposit, drafts, money orders, and traveler's checks, that, with the exception of traveler's checks, has been outstanding for more than three years from the date it was payable, or from the date of its issuance if payable on demand, or, in the case of traveler's checks, that has been outstanding for more than fifteen years from the date of its issuance, unless the owner has within three years, or within fifteen years in the case of traveler's checks, corresponded in writing with the banking or financial organization or business association concerned, or otherwise indicated an interest as evidenced by a memorandum on file with the banking or financial organization or business association. The memorandum shall be dated and may have been prepared by the banking or financial organization or business association, in which case it shall be signed by an officer of the banking or financial organization, or a member of the business association, or it may have been prepared by the owner.

5. Any funds or other personal property, tangible or intangible, removed from a safe deposit box or any other safekeeping repository or agency or collateral deposit box in this state on which the lease or rental period has expired due to nonpayment of rental charges or other reason, or any surplus amounts arising from the sale thereof pursuant to law, that have been unclaimed by the owner for more than three years from the date on which the lease or rental period expired.

6. A banking organization or financial organization shall send to the owner of each account, to which none of the actions specified in paragraphs "a" through "d" of subsection 1 or "a" through "d" of subsection 2 have occurred during the preceding three calendar years, a notice by certified mail stating in substance the following:

According to our records, we have had no contact with you regarding (describe account) for more than three years. Under Iowa law, if there is a period of three years without contact, we may be required to transfer this account to the custody of the treasurer of state of Iowa as unclaimed property. You may prevent this by taking some action, such as a deposit or withdrawal, which indicates your interest in this account or by signing this form and returning it to us.

I desire to keep the above account open and active.

Subsection 2, unnumbered paragraph 1 amended
Subsections 4, 5 and 6 amended

556.3 Unclaimed funds held by life insurance corporations.

1. "Unclaimed funds," as defined in this section, held and owing by a life insurance corporation shall be presumed abandoned if the last known address, according to the records of the corporation, of the person entitled to the funds is within this state. If a person other than the insured or annuitant is entitled to the funds and no address of such person is known to the corporation or if it is not definite and certain from the records of the corporation what person is entitled to the funds, it is presumed that the last known address of the person entitled to the funds is the same as the last known address of the insured or annuitant according to the records of the corporation.

2. "Unclaimed funds," as used in this section, means all moneys held and owing by any life insurance corporation unclaimed and unpaid for more than three years after the moneys became due and payable as established from the records of the corporation under any life or endowment insurance policy or annuity contract which has matured or terminated. A life insurance policy not matured by actual proof of the death of the insured is deemed to be matured and the proceeds thereof are deemed to be due and payable if the policy was in force when the insured attained the limiting age under the mortality table on which the reserve is based and shall be presumed abandoned and to be unclaimed funds as defined in this section if unclaimed and unpaid for more than two years thereafter, unless the person appearing entitled thereto has within the two-year period assigned, readjusted, or paid premiums on the policy, or subjected the policy to loan or corresponded in writing with the life insurance corporation concerning the policy. Moneys otherwise payable according to the records of the corporation are deemed due and payable although the policy or contract has not been surrendered as required.

Subsection 2 amended

556.4 Deposits and refunds held by utilities.

The following funds held or owing by any utility are presumed abandoned:

1. Any deposit made by a subscriber with a utility to secure payment for, or any sum paid in advance for, utility services to be furnished in this state, less any lawful deductions, that has remained unclaimed by the person appearing on the records of the utility entitled to the deposit for more than one year after the termination of the services for which the deposit or advance payment was made.

2. Any sum which a utility has been ordered to refund and which was received for utility services rendered in this state, together with any interest on the refund, less any lawful deductions, that has remained unclaimed by the person appearing on the records of the utility entitled to the refund for more than one year after the date it became payable in accordance with the final determination or order providing for the refund.

556.5 Stocks and other intangible interests in business associations.

1. Except as provided in subsections 2 and 5, stock or other intangible ownership interest in a business association, the existence of which is evidenced by records available to the association, is presumed abandoned and, with respect to the interest, the association is the holder, if a dividend, distribution, or other sum payable as a result of the interest has remained unclaimed by the owner for seven years and the owner within seven years has not:

a. Communicated in writing with the association regarding the interest or a dividend, distribution, or other sum payable as a result of the interest.

b. Otherwise communicated with the association regarding the interest or a dividend, distribution, or other sum payable as a result of the interest, as evidenced by a memorandum or other record on file with the association prepared by an employee of the association.

2. At the expiration of a seven-year period following the failure of the owner to claim a dividend, distribution, or other sum payable to the owner as a result of the interest, the interest is not presumed abandoned unless there have been at least seven dividends, distributions, or other sums paid during the period, none of which has been claimed by the owner. If seven dividends, distributions, or other sums are paid during the seven-year period, the period leading to a presumption of abandonment commences on the date payment of the first unclaimed dividend, distribution, or other sum became due and payable. If seven dividends, distributions, or other sums are not paid during the presumptive period, the period continues to run until there have been seven dividends, distributions, or other sums that have not been claimed by the owner.

3. The running of the seven-year period of abandonment ceases immediately upon the occurrence of a communication referred to in subsection 1. If any future dividend, distribution, or other sum payable to the owner as a result of the interest is subsequently not claimed by the owner, a new period of abandonment commences and relates back to the time a subsequent dividend, distribution, or other sum became due and payable.

4. At the time an interest is presumed abandoned under this section, any dividend, distribution, or other sum then held for or owing to the owner as a result of the interest, and not previously abandoned, is presumed abandoned.

5. This section does not apply to any stock or other intangible ownership of interest enrolled in a plan that provides for the automatic reinvestment of dividends, distributions, or other sums payable as a result of the interest unless the records available to the treasurer of state show, with respect to any intangible ownership interest not enrolled in the reinvestment plan, that the owner has not within seven years communicated in any manner described in subsection 1.

6. Any stock or other certificate of ownership, or any dividend, profit, distribution, interest, payment on principal, or other sum held or owing by a business association for or to a shareholder, certificate holder, member, bondholder, or other security holder, or a participating patron of a cooperative, who has not claimed it, or corresponded in writing with the business association concerning it, within three years after the date prescribed for payment or delivery, is presumed abandoned.

Subsection 6 amended

556.7 Property held by fiduciaries.

All intangible personal property and any income or increment thereon, held in a fiduciary capacity for the benefit of another person is presumed abandoned unless the owner has, within three years after it becomes payable or distributable, increased or decreased the principal, accepted payment of principal or income, corresponded in writing concerning the property, or otherwise indicated an interest as evidenced by a memorandum on file with the fiduciary which shall have been dated and may have been prepared by the fiduciary or by the owner:

1. If the property is held by a banking organization or a financial organization, or by a business association organized under the laws of or created in this state; or

2. If it is held by a business association, doing business in this state, but not organized under the laws of or created in this state, and the records of the business association indicate that the last known address of the person entitled thereto is in this state; or

3. If it is held in this state by any other person.

556.18 Deposit of funds.

1. Except as provided in subsection 3, all funds received under this chapter, including the proceeds from the sale of abandoned property under section 556.17, shall be deposited monthly by the treasurer of state in the general fund of the state. However, the treasurer of state shall retain in a separate trust fund an amount not exceeding two hundred thousand dollars from which the treasurer of state shall make prompt payment of claims duly allowed under section 556.20. Before making the deposit, the treasurer of state shall record the name and last known address of each person appearing from the holders' reports to be entitled to the abandoned property and of the name and last known address of each insured person or annuitant, and with respect to each policy or contract listed in the report of a life insurance corporation, its number, the name of the corporation, and the amount due. The record shall be available for public inspection at all reasonable business hours.

2. Before making any deposit to the credit of the general funds, the state treasurer may deduct:

a. Any costs in connection with sale of abandoned property.

b. Any costs of mailing and publication in connection with any abandoned property.

c. Reasonable service charges.

3. After July 1, 1988, the treasurer of state shall annually credit all moneys received under section 556.4 to the energy research and development fund established in the energy conservation trust under section 93.11.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this subsection directing that moneys received under section 556.4 be deposited into the energy research and development fund, for the fiscal period beginning on July 1, 1991, and ending June 30, 1993, all funds received shall be deposited into the general fund of the state.

CHAPTER 557C

MINERAL INTERESTS IN COAL

557C.1 Lapse of mineral interests in coal — prevention.

A mineral interest in coal shall be extinguished twenty years after its creation, transfer, or preservation, unless a statement of claim is filed in accordance with section 557C.3, and the ownership shall revert to the person who was then the owner of the interest from which the mineral interest in coal was created, transferred, or preserved. Upon the filing of a statement of claim within the specified period, the mineral interest shall be deemed to have been preserved for an additional period of twenty years, or a shorter period as may be specified in the instrument creating the interest.

NEW section

557C.2 Mineral interest — definition.

A mineral interest in coal means an interest created by an instrument which creates or transfers either by grant, assignment, reservation, or otherwise, an interest of any kind in coal, as described in chapter 83, without limitation on the manner of mining the coal.

91 Acts, ch 183, §3 HF 618
NEW section

557C.3 Statement of claim — filing requirement.

The statement of claim provided in section 557C.1 shall be filed by the owner of the mineral interest in coal prior to the end of the twenty-year period set forth in section 557C.1 or by July 1, 1994, whichever is later. The statement of claim shall contain the name and address of the owner of the mineral interest in coal, and a description of the real estate on, or under, which the mineral interest in coal is located. The statement of claim shall be filed in the office of the recorder in the county in which the real estate is located.

91 Acts, ch 183, §4 HF 618
NEW section

557C.4 Statement of claim — recorder's duty.

Upon the filing of the statement of claim provided for in section 557C.3 in the recorder's office for the county where the real estate on, or under, which the mineral interest in coal exists, is located, the recorder shall record the statement of claim and index it in the claimant's book.

91 Acts, ch 183, §5 HF 618

557C.5 Reservation in other conveyance.

A reservation of a mineral interest in coal or an exception of a mineral interest in coal, contained in a conveyance of the interest out of which it is carved, by a nonowner of the mineral interest in coal shall not be deemed to satisfy the requirements of this chapter or as a revival of a mineral interest in coal otherwise extinguished under this chapter.

91 Acts, ch 183, §6 HF 618
NEW section

557C.6 Exemption.

The filing of the statement of claim required under section 557C 3 to preserve the mineral interest in coal shall not be required of an owner if the mineral interest was separately taxed for real estate tax purposes at any time after July 1, 1971

CHAPTER 558

CONVEYANCES

558.5 Contract for deed — presumption of abandonment.

When the record shows that a contract or bond for a deed has been executed more than ten years earlier, and the record discloses no performance of the same and that more than ten years have elapsed since the contract by its terms was to be performed, the contract shall be deemed abandoned and of no effect and the land shall be freed from any lien or defect on account of the contract

On and after July 1, 1992, this section shall apply to a contract or bond described in this section, if the contract or bond is not filed of record but referred to in another instrument which is filed of record The contract or bond shall be deemed abandoned ten years from the date that the contract or bond is to be performed according to the recorded instrument However, if the recorded instrument does not refer to a performance date for the contract or bond, the contract or bond shall be deemed abandoned ten years after the date that the instrument containing the reference is recorded

Section amended

558.14 Grantor described as “spouse” or “heir” — presumption.

All conveyances or the record title thereof of real estate executed more than ten years earlier, wherein the grantor or grantors described themselves as the surviving spouse, heir at law, heirs at law, surviving spouse and heir at law, or surviving spouse and heirs at law, of some person deceased in whom the record title or ownership of said real estate previously vested, shall be conclusive evidence of the facts so recited as far as they relate to the right of the grantor or grantors to convey, as fully as if the record title of said grantor or grantors had been established by due probate proceedings in the county wherein the real estate is situated

91 Acts ch 183 §9 HF 618
Section amended

558.42 Acknowledgment as condition precedent.

It shall not be deemed lawfully recorded, unless it has been previously acknowledged or proved in the manner prescribed in this chapter or chapter 77A, except that affidavits, and certified copies of petitions in bankruptcy with or without the schedules appended, of decrees of adjudication in bankruptcy, and of orders approving trustees' bonds in bankruptcy, and Uniform Commercial Code financing statements and financing statement changes need not be thus acknowledged

561.13 Conveyance or encumbrance.

A conveyance or encumbrance of, or contract to convey or encumber the homestead, if the owner is married, is not valid, unless and until the spouse of the owner executes the same or a like instrument, or a power of attorney for the execution of the same or a like instrument, and the instrument or power of attorney sets out the legal description of the homestead. However, when the homestead is conveyed or encumbered along with or in addition to other real estate, it is not necessary to particularly describe or set aside the tract of land constituting the homestead, whether the homestead is exclusively the subject of the contract or not, but the contract may be enforced as to real estate other than the homestead at the option of the purchaser or encumbrancer. If a spouse who holds only homestead rights and surviving spouse's statutory share in the homestead specifically relinquishes homestead rights in an instrument, including a power of attorney constituting the other spouse as the husband's or wife's attorney in fact, as provided in section 597.5, it is not necessary for the spouse to join in the granting clause of the same or a like instrument.

CHAPTER 566

CEMETERIES AND MANAGEMENT THEREOF

MANAGEMENT BY POLITICAL SUBDIVISIONS

566.14 Political subdivisions as trustees.

Counties, cities, irrespective of their form of government, boards of trustees of cities to whom the management of municipal cemeteries has been transferred by ordinance, and civil townships wholly outside of any city, are trustees in perpetuity, and are required to accept, receive, and expend all mon-neys and property donated or left to them by bequest for perpetual care, and that portion of cemetery lot sales or permanent charges made against cemetery lots which has been set aside in a perpetual care fund for which there is no other acting trustee, to be used in caring for the property of the donor or lot owner who by purchase or otherwise has provided for the perpetual care of a cemetery lot in any cemetery, or in accordance with the terms of the donation, bequest, or agreement for sale and purchase of a cemetery lot, and the money or property thus received shall be used for no other purpose.

91 Acts, ch 188, §3 HF 237
Section amended

566.15 Authority to invest funds — current care charge payments.

The board of supervisors, mayor and council, or other elected governmental body, as the case may be, has the authority to receive and invest all moneys and property, donated or bequeathed, and that portion of cemetery lot sales and permanent charges made against cemetery lots which have been set aside in a perpetual care fund, in investments for which they have exercised the judgment and care, under the circumstances then prevailing, which persons of prudence, discretion, and intelligence exercise in the management of their affairs. The income from the investment shall be used in caring for the property of the donor in any cemetery, or as shall be provided in the terms of the gift or donations or agreement for sale and purchase of a cemetery lot.

All current charges received shall be allocated to the perpetual care fund or to the fund paying the costs of cemetery operation. Care charge payments received one year or more after the date they were incurred shall be used to fund the cost of operating the cemetery. Care charge payments received one year or more in advance of their due date shall be deposited in the perpetual care fund. Interest from the perpetual care fund shall be used for the maintenance of both occupied and unoccupied lots or spaces. Any remaining interest may be used for costs of access roads and paths, fencing, and general maintenance of the cemetery. Lots under perpetual care shall be maintained in accordance with the cemetery covenants of sale.

566.16 Resolution of acceptance — interest.

Before any part of the principal may be invested or used, the county, city, board of trustees of a city to whom the management of a municipal cemetery has been transferred by ordinance, or civil township shall, by resolution, accept the moneys described in section 566.14 and, by resolution, shall provide for the payment of interest annually to the appropriate fund, or to the cemetery association, or the person in charge of the cemetery, to be used in caring for or maintaining the individual property of the donor in the cemetery, or lots which have been sold if provision was made for perpetual care, all in accordance with the terms of the donation or bequest, or the terms of the sale or purchase of a cemetery lot.

If there is no cemetery association or person in charge of the cemetery, the income from the fund shall be expended under the direction of the board of supervisors, city council, board of trustees, or civil township trustees, as the case may be, in accordance with the terms of the donation or bequest, or the terms of the sale or purchase of a cemetery lot.

566.21 Presumption of abandonment.

The continued failure by the owner to maintain or care for an unoccupied cemetery lot or space not under perpetual care, or to pay the annual care fee, for a period of ten years shall create the presumption that the lot or space has been abandoned. A lot with empty space under perpetual care which has not had a burial for seventy-five years shall create a presumption that the empty space has been abandoned.

91 Acts, ch 188, §7 HF 237

566.22 Notice of abandonment.

Abandonment shall not be deemed complete unless after the ten-year or seventy-five year period, whichever is applicable, there is given by the reversionary owner to the recorded owner, or if the recorded owner is deceased or the recorded owner's whereabouts are unknown, to the heirs of the recorded owner, notice declaring the lot to be abandoned.

91 Acts, ch 188, §8 HF 237
Section amended

566.24 Overcoming presumption of abandonment.

If within one year from the time of serving the notice, the recorded owner or the owner's heirs pay the past due annual care charges against the lot, then the presumption of abandonment shall no longer exist and the recorded owner may be required to make full payment for future perpetual care.

91 Acts, ch 188, §9 HF 237
Section amended

566.26 Use of funds.

Any funds realized from the sale of all or a part of an unoccupied lot not under perpetual care which has reverted shall be allocated to the perpetual care fund and to the fund paying the costs of cemetery operation.

Section stricken and rewritten

566.27 Abandonment if perpetual care provided by will, court order, or contract.

After the seventy-five year period, sections 566.20 through 566.26 are applicable to an unoccupied lot or space for which perpetual care has been provided by will, court order, contract, or as provided by law. However, the reversionary owner shall not acquire the absolute right to sell the unoccupied lot or space until three years after the date notice was served on the recorded owner or the recorded owner's heirs.

CHAPTER 566A

CEMETERY REGULATIONS

566A.1 Applicability of chapter — requirements for certain organizations.

1. A corporation or other form of organization engaging in the business of the ownership, maintenance, or operation of a cemetery, which provides lots or other interment space for the remains of human bodies is subject to this chapter. However, a church, religious organization, or established fraternal society is subject only to subsection 2 of this section. Political subdivisions of the state are exempt from this chapter.

2. An organization which establishes a fund for the perpetual care of a cemetery shall establish the fund as an irrevocable trust to provide for the care and maintenance of the cemetery for which it was established, and shall provide for the appointment of a trustee, with perpetual succession, in case the organization is dissolved or ceases to be responsible for the cemetery's care and maintenance.

AGRICULTURAL SUPPLY DEALER'S LIEN

570A.4 Perfection of lien.

1. In order to perfect the lien created by section 570A.3, the agricultural supply dealer entitled to the lien shall file a verified lien statement with the office of the secretary of state. The lien statement may be filed at the time the agricultural chemical, seed, feed, or petroleum product is purchased or delivered but not later than thirty-one days after the first date on which payment is due under the terms of payment agreed to by the farmer and the agricultural supply dealer. The lien statement shall disclose all of the following:

a. The name and address of the agricultural supply dealer claiming the lien.

b. An itemized declaration of the nature and retail cost of the agricultural chemical, seed, feed, or petroleum product which has been or may be furnished pursuant to the certified request or the combined certified request and waiver of confidentiality.

c. The last date through which the agricultural supply dealer claiming the lien has agreed to furnish agricultural chemicals, seed, feed, or petroleum products as stated in the certified request or the combined certified request and waiver of confidentiality.

d. The first date on which payment was due, according to the terms of payment, from the farmer for whom the agricultural chemical, seed, feed, or petroleum product was furnished or may be furnished pursuant to the certified request or the combined certified request and waiver of confidentiality.

e. The name and address of the farmer for whom the agricultural chemical, seed, feed, or petroleum product was furnished or may be furnished pursuant to the certified request or the combined certified request and waiver of confidentiality.

f. A description of the real property on which the crops to which the lien attaches are growing or are to be grown or the description of the livestock to which the lien attaches.

2. The secretary of state shall enter on the lien statement the time of day and date of filing.

3. If an agricultural supply dealer fails to file the lien statement within the time required by subsection 1, the lien and all benefits under this chapter are forfeited.

4. The secretary of state shall note the filing of a lien statement under this section in the manner provided by chapter 554, the uniform commercial code, and shall charge a fee as provided under section 554.9403.

5. An agricultural supply dealer filing a verified lien statement shall request from the secretary of state a certificate showing any effective financing statement or verified lien statements naming the debtor and the crops or livestock to which the lien attaches. The agricultural supply dealer shall notify by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, any other creditor who holds a lien or security interest which is subordinate or equal to the agricultural supply dealer's lien.

CHAPTER 573

LABOR AND MATERIAL ON PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS

573.12 Payments and retention from payments on contracts.

1. Retention. Payments made under contracts for the construction of public improvements, unless provided otherwise by law, shall be made on the basis of monthly estimates of labor performed and material delivered, as determined by the project architect or engineer. The public corporation shall retain from each monthly payment not more than five percent of that amount which is determined to be due according to the estimate of the architect or engineer. However, institutions governed pursuant to chapter 262 may, on contracts where a bond is required under section 573.2, make payments under this section without retention until ninety-five percent of the contract amount has been paid and the remaining five percent of the contract amount shall be paid as provided under section 573.14.

The contractor may retain from each payment to a subcontractor not more than the lesser of five percent or the amount specified in the contract between the contractor and the subcontractor.

2. Prompt payment.

a. (1) Interest shall be paid to the contractor on any progress payment that is approved as payable by the public corporation's project architect or engineer and remains unpaid for a period of fourteen days after receipt of the payment request at the place, or by the person, designated in the contract, or by the public corporation to first receive the request, or for a time period greater than fourteen days, unless a time period greater than fourteen days is specified in the contract documents, not to exceed thirty days, to afford the public corporation a reasonable opportunity to inspect the work and to determine the adequacy of the contractor's performance under the contract.

(2) Interest shall accrue during the period commencing the day after the expiration of the period defined in subparagraph (1) and ending on the date of payment. The rate of interest shall be determined as set forth in section 573.14.

b. A progress payment or final payment to a subcontractor for satisfactory performance of the subcontractor's work shall be made no later than one of the following, as applicable:

(1) Seven days after the contractor receives payment for that subcontractor's work.

(2) A reasonable time after the contractor could have received payment for the subcontractor's work, if the reason for nonpayment is not the subcontractor's fault.

A contractor's acceptance of payment for one subcontractor's work is not a waiver of claims, and does not prejudice the rights of the contractor, as to any other claim related to the contract or project.

3. Interest payments.

a. If the contractor receives an interest payment under section 573.14, the contractor shall pay the subcontractor a share of the interest payment proportional to the payment for that subcontractor's work.

b. If a public corporation other than a school corporation, county, or city retains funds, the interest earned on those funds shall be payable at the time of final payment on the contract in accordance with the schedule and exemptions specified by the public corporation in its administrative rules. The rate of interest shall be determined by the period of time during which interest accrues, and shall be the same as the rate of interest that is in effect under section 453.6 as of the day interest begins to accrue.

Subsection 2 amended

573.14 Retention of unpaid funds.

The fund provided for in section 573.13 shall be retained by the public corporation for a period of thirty days after the completion and final acceptance of the improvement. If at the end of the thirty-day period claims are on file as provided the public corporation shall continue to retain from the unpaid funds a sum equal to double the total amount of all claims on file. The remaining balance of the unpaid fund, or if no claims are on file, the entire unpaid fund, shall be released and paid to the contractor.

The public corporation shall order payment of any amount due the contractor to be made in accordance with the terms of the contract. Except as provided in section 573.12 for progress payments, failure to make payment pursuant to this section, of any amount due the contractor, within forty days, unless a greater time period not to exceed fifty days is specified in the contract documents, after the work under the contract has been completed and if the work has been accepted and all required materials, certifications, and other documentations required to be submitted by the contractor and specified by the contract have been furnished the awarding public corporation by the contractor, shall cause interest to accrue on the amount unpaid to the benefit of the unpaid party. Interest shall accrue during the period commencing the thirty-first day following the completion of work and satisfaction of the other requirements of this paragraph and ending on the date of payment. The rate of interest shall be determined by the period of time during which interest accrues, and shall be the same as the rate of interest that is in effect under section 453.6, as of the day interest begins to accrue, for a deposit of public funds for a comparable period of time. This paragraph does not abridge any of the rights set forth in section 573.16. Except as provided in sections 573.12 and 573.16, interest shall not accrue on funds retained by the public corporation to satisfy the provisions of this section regarding claims on file. This chapter does not apply if the public corporation has entered into a contract with the federal government or accepted a federal grant which is governed by federal law or rules that are contrary to the provisions of this chapter.

573.16 Optional and mandatory actions — bond to release.

The public corporation, the principal contractor, any claimant for labor or material who has filed a claim, or the surety on any bond given for the performance of the contract, may, at any time after the expiration of thirty days, and not later than sixty days, following the completion and final acceptance of said improvement, bring action in equity in the county where the improvement is located to adjudicate all rights to said fund, or to enforce liability on said bond.

Upon written demand of the contractor served, in the manner prescribed for original notices, on the person filing a claim, requiring the claimant to commence action in court to enforce the claim, an action shall be commenced within thirty days, otherwise the retained and unpaid funds due the contractor shall be released. Unpaid funds shall be paid to the contractor within twenty days of the receipt by the public corporation of the release as determined pursuant to this section. Failure to make payment by that date shall cause interest to accrue on the unpaid amount. Interest shall accrue during the period commencing the twenty-first day after the date of release and ending on the date of the payment. The rate of interest shall be determined pursuant to section 573.14. After an action is commenced, upon the general contractor filing with the public corporation or person withholding the funds, a surety bond in double the amount of the claim in controversy, conditioned to pay any final judgment rendered for the claims so filed, the public corporation or person shall pay to the contractor the amount of funds withheld.

Unnumbered paragraph 2 amended

573.18 Adjudication — payment of claims.

The court shall adjudicate all claims for which an action is filed under section 573.16. Payments from the retained percentage, if still in the hands of the public corporation, shall be made in the following order:

1. Costs of the action.
2. Claims for labor.
3. Claims for materials.
4. Claims of the public corporation.

Upon settlement or adjudication of a claim and after judgment is entered, unpaid funds retained with respect to the claim which are not necessary to satisfy the judgment shall be released and paid to the contractor within twenty days of receipt by the public corporation of evidence of entry of judgment or settlement of the claim. Failure to make payment by that date shall cause interest to accrue on the unpaid amount. Interest shall accrue during the period commencing on the twenty-first day after receipt by the public corporation of evidence of entry of judgment and ending on the date of payment. The rate of interest shall be determined as set forth in section 573.14.

CHAPTER 577

ARTISAN'S LIEN

577.1 Nature of lien — generally — aircraft and equipment.

1. Any person who renders any service or furnishes any material in the making, repairing, improving, or enhancing the value of any inanimate personal property, with the assent of the owner, express or implied, shall have a lien thereon for the agreed or reasonable compensation for the service and material while such property is lawfully in the person's possession, which possession the person may retain until such compensation is paid, but such lien shall be subject to all prior liens of record, unless notice is given to all lienholders of record and written consent is obtained from all lienholders of record to the making, repairing, improving, or enhancing the value of any inanimate personal property and in this event the lien created under this section shall be prior to liens of record.

2. The assent of the owner shall be implied, for purposes of determining whether a lien on inanimate personal property exists, if all of the following are established:

a. The inanimate personal property is a multi-engine aircraft, eligible for registration under section 501 of the federal Aviation Act of 1958, 49 U.S.C. § 1401.

b. The aircraft is either owned, leased, operated, or on order by an air carrier certified under section 604(b) of the federal Aviation Act of 1958, 49 U.S.C. § 1424(b), or by any other person that rents or leases commercial airliners to certified air carriers in the regular course of business.

c. The material furnished is new electronic navigation or communications aviation equipment.

d. The equipment is delivered for installation on the aircraft at the request of a lessee, operator, or other person, or an agent of the lessee, operator, or other person, who has an interest in or exercises control over the aircraft.

The aircraft and equipment shall be deemed, for purposes of determining priority over perfected security interests, to be in the possession of the person who furnished the equipment, if the person either manufactures or sells the equipment in the regular course of business and allows the equipment to be made available for installation on the aircraft by releasing it for delivery. Possession of the aircraft and equipment shall be deemed to continue up to, and including, ninety days after the equipment is fully installed on the aircraft, except that if a notice of lien is filed with the federal aviation administration, and no subsequent release of the lien is on file, it shall be deemed to continue indefinitely. A notice of lien under this section is not required to be verified or notarized, but shall be signed by the lienholder, the lienholder's designated agent, or the lienholder's attorney and must identify the aircraft which is the subject of the lien. Notwithstanding subsection 1, liens obtained under this subsection attach and take priority over all other prior liens of record without the giving of prior notice or the obtaining of consent and are enforceable against all persons, including a bona fide purchaser.

CHAPTER 587

JUDGMENTS AND DECREES LEGALIZED

587.10 Affidavit of publication of notice by assistant publisher.

All affidavits of proof of publication of any notice or original notice made by the assistant publisher of any newspaper of general circulation, which were executed and filed more than ten years earlier, are hereby legalized, declared valid, binding, and of full force and effect.

91 Acts, ch 183, §10 HF 618
Section amended

CHAPTER 589

REAL PROPERTY LEGALIZING ACTS

589.1 Acknowledgments — seal not affixed.

All deeds, mortgages, or other instruments in writing for the conveyance of lands which have been made and executed more than ten years earlier, and the officer taking the acknowledgment has not affixed the officer's seal to the acknowledgment; the acknowledgment is, nevertheless, good and valid in law and equity, any other provision of law to the contrary notwithstanding.

91 Acts, ch 183, §11 HF 618
Section amended

589.2 Conveyances by county.

All deeds executed more than ten years earlier, by a court or the chairperson of the board of supervisors of a county, and to which the officer executing the deed has failed or omitted to affix the county seal, and all deeds where the clerk has failed or omitted to countersign when required so to do, are legalized and valid as though the law had in all respects been fully complied with.

91 Acts, ch 183, §12 HF 618

589.3 Absence of or defective acknowledgments.

Any instrument in writing affecting the title to real estate within the state of Iowa, to which is attached no certificate of acknowledgment, or to which is attached a defective certificate of acknowledgment, which was, more than ten years earlier, recorded or spread upon the records in the office of the recorder of the county in which the real estate described in the instrument is located, is, together with the recording and the record of the recording, valid, legal, and binding as if the instrument had been properly acknowledged and legally recorded.

91 Acts, ch 183, §13 HF 618

589.4 Acknowledgments by corporation officers.

The acknowledgments of all deeds, mortgages, or other instruments in writing taken or certified more than ten years earlier, which instruments have been recorded in the recorder's office of any county of this state, including acknowledgments of instruments made by a corporation, or to which the corporation was a party, or under which the corporation was a beneficiary, and which have been acknowledged before or certified by a notary public who was at the time of the acknowledgment or certifying a stockholder or officer in the corporation, are legal and valid official acts of the notaries public, and entitle the instruments to be recorded, anything in the laws of the state of Iowa in regard to acknowledgments to the contrary notwithstanding. This section does not affect pending litigation.

91 Acts, ch 183, §14 HF 618

589.5 Acknowledgments by stockholders.

All deeds and conveyances of lands within this state executed more than ten years earlier, but which have been acknowledged or proved according to and in compliance with the laws of this state before a notary public or other official authorized by law to take acknowledgments who was, at the time of the acknowledgment, an officer or stockholder of a corporation interested in the deed or conveyance, or otherwise interested in the deeds or conveyances, are, if otherwise valid, valid in law as though acknowledged or proved before an officer not interested in the deeds or conveyances; and if recorded more than ten years earlier, in the respective counties in which the lands are, the records are valid in law as though the deeds and conveyances, so acknowledged or proved and recorded, had, prior to being recorded, been acknowledged or proved before an officer having no interest in the deeds or conveyances.

91 Acts, ch 183, §15 HF 618

589.6 Instruments affecting real estate.

All instruments in writing executed by a corporation more than ten years earlier, conveying, encumbering, or affecting real estate, including releases, satisfactions of mortgages, judgments, or any other liens by entry of the release or satisfaction upon the page where the lien appears recorded or entered, where the corporate seal of the corporation has not been affixed or attached, and which are otherwise legally and properly executed, are legal, valid, and binding as though the corporate seal had been attached or affixed.

91 Acts, ch 183, §16 HF 618
Section amended

589.8 Mortgages, trust deeds and realty liens — releases.

A release or satisfaction of a mortgage or trust deed, or of an instrument in writing creating a lien upon real estate where the release or satisfaction has been recorded in the recorder's office of the county in this state, or upon the margin of the record, where the original instrument was recorded and which release or satisfaction was made by an individual, association, copartnership, assignee, corporation, attorney in fact, or by a resident or foreign executor, administrator, referee, receiver, trustee, guardian, or commissioner, and which release or satisfaction was executed, filed, and recorded more than ten years earlier, is valid, legal and binding, any defects in the execution, acknowledgment, recording, filing, or otherwise of the releases or satisfactions to the contrary notwithstanding.

91 Acts, ch 183, §17 HF 618

589.9 Marginal releases of school-fund mortgages.

The release or satisfaction of a school-fund mortgage entered on the margin of the record of the mortgage by the auditor of the county more than ten years earlier, is legalized as though the auditor had, at the time of entering the release or satisfaction, the same power thereafter conferred upon the auditor by chapter 53 of the Acts of the Twenty-fifth General Assembly.

91 Acts, ch 183, §18 HF 618
Section amended

589.10 Marginal assignment of mortgage or lien.

If an assignment of a mortgage or other recorded lien on real estate has been executed more than ten years earlier, by written assignment on the margin of the record where the mortgage or other lien is recorded or entered, the assignment passed all the right, title, and interest in the real estate, which the assignor at the time had, with like force and effect as if the assignment had been made by separate instrument duly acknowledged and recorded; and an assignment or a duly authenticated copy of an assignment when accompanied by a duly authenticated copy of the record of the instrument or lien it purports to assign, is admissible in evidence as provided by law for the admission of the records of deeds and mortgages.

91 Acts, ch 183, §19 HF 618

589.11 Conveyances by fiduciaries.

If an executor, administrator, trustee, guardian, assignee, receiver, referee, or commissioner, acting in that capacity in this or any state, has conveyed in the trust capacity real estate lying in this state and the conveyance has been of record for more than ten years, in the county where the real estate so conveyed is located and which conveyance purports to sustain the title in the present record owner, the conveyance is not void or insufficient because due and legal notice of all proceedings with reference to the making of the conveyance was not served upon all interested or necessary parties, or that the executor, administrator, trustee, guardian, assignee, receiver, referee, or commissioner is not shown to have been duly authorized by an order of court to make and execute the conveyance, that a bond was not given, or that a report of the sale was not made; or the sale or deed of conveyance was not approved by order of court, or a foreign executor, administrator, trustee, guardian, assignee, receiver, referee, or commissioner was not appointed or qualified in the state of Iowa prior to the making of the conveyance, or the record fails to disclose compliance with any law, and all such conveyances are valid, legal, and binding. Allotments by referees in partition are conveyances within the meaning of this section.

91 Acts, ch 183, §20 HF 618

589.12 Sheriffs' deeds.

A sheriff's deed executed more than ten years earlier which purports to sustain the record title is not ineffectual on account of the failure of the record to show that any of the steps in obtaining the judgment or in the sale of the property were complied with. The proceedings are legalized as if the record showed that the law has been complied with.

91 Acts, ch 183, §21 HF 618
Section amended

589.13 Sheriff's deed executed by deputy.

All conveyances of land in this state, executed in this state by a deputy sheriff, and properly recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county where the land is located, more than ten years earlier, have the same force and effect as though the conveyance had been executed by the sheriff.

91 Acts, ch 183, §22 HF 618

589.14 Defective tax deeds.

A tax deed executed more than ten years earlier which purports to sustain the record title, is not ineffectual because of the failure of the record to show that any of the steps in the sale and deeding of the property were complied with and these proceedings are legalized and valid as if the record showed that the law had been complied with.

91 Acts, ch 183, §23 HF 618

589.17 Conveyances by spouse under power.

A conveyance of real estate executed more than ten years earlier, in which the husband or wife conveyed or contracted to convey the inchoate right of dower through the other spouse, acting as the attorney in fact, by virtue of a power of attorney executed by the spouse, the power of attorney not having been executed as a part of a contract of separation, are not invalid.

91 Acts, ch 183, §24 HF 618

589.18 Conveyances by foreign executors.

All conveyances of real property executed more than ten years earlier, by executors or trustees under foreign wills and prior to the date upon which the will was admitted to probate in Iowa or prior to the expiration of three months after the recording of a duly authenticated copy of the will, original record of appointment, qualification, and bond, and in which the will was, subsequent to the conveyance, probated in Iowa, and in which a duly authenticated copy of the will, original record of appointment, qualification, and bond was, subsequent to the conveyance, made a matter of record as provided in those sections, are legalized and valid in law and in equity as though the will had been probated in Iowa prior to the conveyance. However, this section does not affect pending litigation.

91 Acts, ch 183, §25 HF 618

589.19 Conveyances under school-fund foreclosures.

If the title to real estate has been conveyed more than ten years earlier, by the sheriff of a county pursuant to sheriff's sale under the foreclosure of permanent school-fund mortgages to the state, or to the state for the use of the school fund, or to the county for the school fund; and the land has been sold under authority of the board of supervisors of the county and conveyed under its authority, more than ten years earlier, and the full purchase price paid and credited to, and used by, the county for the permanent school fund of the county, all right, title, or interest of the state in and to the real estate is relinquished and quitclaimed to the purchaser or the purchaser's grantees forever, and the title confirmed in the purchaser, or the purchaser's grantees insofar as the erroneous conveyance is concerned.

91 Acts, ch 183, §26 HF 618
Section amended

589.20 Conveyances according to law of other states. Repealed by 91 Acts, ch 183, § 40.589.21 Releases and discharges.

All releases and discharges of judgments, mortgages, or deeds of trust affecting property in this state executed more than ten years earlier, by administrators, executors, or guardians appointed by the court of any other state or country are legalized, valid and effective in law and in equity. However, this section does not affect pending litigation.

91 Acts, ch 183, §27 HF 618
Section amended

589.23 Descriptions referring to defective plats.

The description of land in all instruments, conveyances, and encumbrances describing lots in or referring to plats of survey or to plats made by a county auditor, or by a county surveyor for the owner, and placed of record by a county recorder more than ten years earlier, are legalized, valid and binding.

91 Acts, ch 183, §28 HF 618

589.24 Defective instruments.

A deed of conveyance, or other instrument purporting to convey real estate within the state, where the deed or instrument has been recorded in the office of the recorder of any county in which the real estate is situated, and the deed or instrument was executed by a county treasurer under a tax sale, a sheriff under execution sale, or by a resident or foreign executor, administrator, referee, receiver, trustee, guardian, commissioner, individual, copartnership, association, or corporation, and was executed and recorded more than ten years earlier, and if the grantee named in the deed or conveyance, or other instrument, or the grantee's heirs or devisees, by direct line of title or conveyance have been in the actual, open, adverse possession of the premises since that date, is legalized, valid, and binding, notwithstanding defects in the execution of the deed or instrument.

91 Acts, ch 183, §29 HF 618

589.25 Sales of real estate by school district.

All deeds and conveyances of land executed by or purporting to be executed by a school district or by the board of directors of a school district, and placed of record more than ten years earlier, which deeds or conveyances purport to sustain the record title, are legalized and valid, even though the record fails to show that all necessary steps in the sale and deeding of the property were complied with. The deeds and conveyances are legalized and valid as if the record showed that the law had been complied with, and that the sales had been duly authorized by the electors of the school district.

91 Acts, ch 183, §30 HF 618
Section amended

589.26 Land transfers by the department of human services legalized.

Every deed, release or other instrument in writing purporting to transfer any interest in land held or claimed by the department of human services or a predecessor agency, which is signed by a departmental official, and which was filed of record more than ten years earlier, in the office of the auditor or recorder or clerk of the district court of any county is legalized and shall be good and valid in law and in equity as fully as if the record expressly showed that it in all respects complied with and was fully authorized as provided in any statute pertaining to such instrument, any other provision of law to the contrary notwithstanding.

91 Acts, ch 183, §31 HF 618
Section amended

CHAPTER 592

CITIES AND TOWNS — LEGALIZING ACTS

592.3 City and town plats.

1. In all cases where, prior to January 1, 1980, any person has laid out any parcel of land into town or city lots and the plat of the lots has been recorded and the plat appears to be insufficient because of failure to show certificates of the county clerk of the district court, county treasurer, or county recorder, or the affidavit and bond, if any, and the certificate of approval of the local governing body or because the certificates are defective, or because of a failure to fully comply with all of the provisions of chapter 409A of the Code in effect at the time of the recording of the plat, or corresponding statutes of earlier Codes, or because the plat failed to show signatures or acknowledgment of proprietors as provided by law, or because the acknowledgment was defective, and subsequent to the platting, lots or subdivisions of the lots have been sold and conveyed, all such said plats which have not been vacated, are legalized as of the date of the recording of the plat, the same as though all certificates have been attached and all the other necessary steps taken as provided by law, and the record of the plat shall be conclusive evidence that the person was the proprietor of the tract of land and the owner of the tract at the time of the platting, and that the tract of land was free and clear of all encumbrances unless an affidavit to the contrary was filed at the time of recording the plat.

After July 1, 1992, no action shall be brought on any cause arising more than ten years earlier or which has been in existence for more than ten years, to establish, enforce, or recover any right, title, interest, lien, or condition existing at the time of the platting, and adverse to a clear and unqualified title in fee simple in the owner unless on or before July 1, 1992, there is filed in the office of county recorder of the county where the real estate involved is located a written statement, acknowledged by the claimant, definitely describing the real estate involved, stating the nature and extent of the right or interest claimed, and stating the facts upon which the claim is based.

2. After July 1, 1992, in all cases where more than ten years earlier, a plat of lots from a parcel of land which has been laid into town or city lots has been recorded and the plat appears to be insufficient, the plat is legalized as of the date of the recording of the plat to the same extent as if the plat did not appear insufficient, if subsequent to the platting, the lots or a subdivision of the lots have been sold and conveyed, and the plats have not been vacated. A plat shall appear insufficient because of one of the following:

a. A failure to show or a deficiency in a certificate of the county clerk of the district court, county treasurer, or county recorder, or an affidavit and bond, or a certificate of approval of a local governing body.

b. A failure to fully comply with Code provisions in effect at the time of the recording of the plat.

c. A failure to show or a deficiency in a signature or acknowledgment of a proprietor as provided by law.

The record of the plat shall be conclusive evidence that the person was the proprietor of the tract of land and the owner of the tract at the time of the platting, and that the tract of land was free and clear of all encumbrances unless an affidavit to the contrary was filed at the time of recording the plat.

595.3 License.

Previous to the solemnization of any marriage, a license for that purpose must be obtained from the clerk of the district court. Such license must not be granted in any case:

1. Where either party is under the age necessary to render the marriage valid.
2. Where either party is under eighteen years of age, unless the marriage is approved by a judge of the district court as provided by section 595.2, subsection 2.
3. Where either party is disqualified from making any civil contract.
4. Where the parties are within the degrees of consanguinity or affinity in which marriages are prohibited by law.
5. Where either party is a ward under a guardianship and the court has made a finding that the ward lacks the capacity to contract a valid marriage.

91 Acts, ch 93, §2 SF 495
Subsection 5 amended

595.4 Age and qualification — verified application — waiting period — exception.

Previous to the issuance of any license to marry, the parties desiring such license shall sign and file a verified application with the clerk of the court which application either may be mailed to the parties at their request or may be signed by them at the office of the clerk of the district court in the county in which the license is to be issued. Such application shall set forth at least one affidavit of some competent and disinterested person stating such facts as to age and qualification of the parties as the clerk may deem necessary to determine the competency of the parties to contract a marriage. Upon the filing of the application for a license to marry, the clerk of the district court shall file the application in a record kept for that purpose.

After expiration of three days from the date of filing the application by the parties, the clerk shall issue the license if the clerk is satisfied as to the competency of the parties to contract a marriage. If the license has not been issued within six months from the date of the application, the application is void.

A license to marry may be issued prior to the expiration of three days from the date of filing the application for the license in cases of emergency or extraordinary circumstances. An order authorizing the issuance of a license may be granted by a judge of the district court under conditions of emergency or extraordinary circumstances upon application of the parties filed with the clerk of court. No such order may be granted unless the parties have filed an application for a marriage license in a county within the judicial district. An application for such an order shall be made on forms furnished by the clerk at the same time the application for the license to marry is made. If after examining the application for the marriage license the clerk is satisfied as to the competency of the parties to contract a marriage, the clerk shall refer the parties to a judge of the district court for action on the application for an order authorizing the issuance of a marriage license prior to expiration of three days from the date of filing the application for the license. The judge shall, if satisfied as to the existence of an emergency or extraordinary circumstances, grant an order authorizing the issuance of a license to marry prior to the expiration of three days from the date of filing the application for the license to marry. The clerk shall issue a license to marry upon presentation by the parties of the order authorizing a license to be issued. A fee of five dollars shall be paid to the clerk at the time the application for the order is made, which fee is in addition to the fee prescribed by law for the issuance of a marriage license.

CHAPTER 596

PREMARITAL AGREEMENTS

Chapter applies to premarital agreements executed on or after January 1, 1992; agreements entered into prior to that date not affected, § 596.12

596.1 Definitions.

As used in this chapter:

1. “Premarital agreement” means an agreement between prospective spouses made in contemplation of marriage and to be effective upon marriage.
2. “Property” means an interest, present or future, legal or equitable, vested or contingent, in real or personal property.

91 Acts ch 77 §1 HF 357
NEW section

596.2 Construction and application.

This chapter shall be construed and applied to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law with respect to premarital agreements.

91 Acts ch 77 §2 HF 357
NEW section

596.3 Short title.

This chapter may be cited as the Iowa uniform premarital agreement Act.

91 Acts ch 77 §3 HF 357
NEW section

596.4 Formalities.

A premarital agreement must be in writing and signed by both prospective spouses. It is enforceable without consideration other than the marriage. Both parties to the agreement shall execute all documents necessary to enforce the agreement.

91 Acts ch 77 §4 HF 357
NEW section

596.5 Content.

1. Parties to a premarital agreement may contract with respect to the following:

- a The rights and obligations of each of the parties in any of the property of either or both of them whenever and wherever acquired or located.
- b The right to buy, sell, use, transfer, exchange, abandon, lease, consume, expend, assign, create a security interest in, mortgage, encumber, dispose of, or otherwise manage and control property.
- c The disposition of property upon separation, dissolution of the marriage, death, or the occurrence or nonoccurrence of any other event.
- d The making of a will, trust, or other arrangement to carry out the provisions of the agreement.
- e The ownership rights in and disposition of the death benefit from a life insurance policy.
- f The choice of law governing the construction of the agreement.

g Any other matter, including the personal rights and obligations of the parties, not in violation of public policy or a statute imposing a criminal penalty.

2. The right of a spouse or child to support shall not be adversely affected by a premarital agreement.

91 Acts ch 77 §5 HF 357
NEW section

596.6 Effective date of agreement.

A premarital agreement becomes effective upon the marriage of the parties.

91 Acts ch 77 §6 HF 357
NEW section

596.7 Revocation.

After marriage, a premarital agreement may be revoked only as follows:

1. By a written agreement signed by both spouses. The revocation is enforceable without consideration.

2. To revoke a premarital agreement without the consent of the other spouse, the person seeking revocation must prove one or more of the following:

- a The person did not execute the agreement voluntarily.
- b The agreement was unconscionable when it was executed.

c Before the execution of the agreement the person was not provided a fair and reasonable disclosure of the property or financial obligations of the other spouse; and the person did not have, or reasonably could not have had, an adequate knowledge of the property or financial obligations of the other spouse.

91 Acts ch 77 §7 HF 357
NEW section

596.8 Enforcement.

A premarital agreement is not enforceable if the person against whom enforcement is sought proves any of the following:

1. The person did not execute the agreement voluntarily.
2. The agreement was unconscionable when it was executed.
3. Before the execution of the agreement the person was not provided a fair and reasonable disclosure of the property or financial obligations of the other spouse; and the person did not have, or reasonably could not have had, an adequate knowledge of the property or financial obligations of the other spouse.

If a provision of the agreement or the application of the provision to a party is found by the court to be unenforceable, the provision shall be severed from the remainder of the agreement and shall not affect the provisions, or application, of the agreement which can be given effect without the unenforceable provision.

NEW section

596.9 Unconscionability.

In any action under this chapter to revoke or enforce a premarital agreement the issue of unconscionability of a premarital agreement shall be decided by the court as a matter of law.

91 Acts ch 77 §9 HF 357
NEW section

596.10 Enforcement — void marriage.

If a marriage is determined to be void, an agreement that would otherwise have been a premarital agreement is enforceable only to the extent necessary to avoid an inequitable result.

91 Acts ch 77 §10 HF 357
NEW section

596.11 Limitation of actions.

Any statute of limitations applicable to an action asserting a claim for relief under a premarital agreement is tolled during the marriage of the parties to the agreement. However, equitable defenses limiting the time for enforcement, including laches and estoppel, are available to either party.

91 Acts ch 77 §11 HF 357
NEW section

596.12 Effective date.

This chapter takes effect on January 1, 1992, and applies to any premarital agreement executed on or after that date. This chapter does not affect the validity under Iowa law of any premarital agreement entered into prior to January 1, 1992.

CHAPTER 598

DISSOLUTION OF MARRIAGE

598.22A Satisfaction of support payments.

Notwithstanding sections 252B.14 and 598.22, support payments ordered pursuant to any support chapter for orders entered on or after July 1, 1985, which are not made pursuant to the provisions of section 252B.14 or 598.22, shall be credited only as provided in this section.

1. For payment made pursuant to an order, the clerk of the district court or collection services center shall record a satisfaction as a credit on the official support payment record if its validity is confirmed by the court upon submission of an affidavit by the person entitled to receive the payment, after notice is given to all parties.

If a satisfaction recorded on the official support payment record by the clerk of the district court or collection services center prior to July 1, 1991, was not confirmed as valid by the court, and a party to the action submits a written affidavit objecting to the satisfaction, notice of the objection shall be mailed to all parties at their last known addresses. After all parties have had sufficient opportunity to respond to the objection, the court shall either require the satisfaction to be removed from the official support payment record or confirm its validity.

2. For purposes of this section, the state is a party to which notice shall be given when public funds have been expended pursuant to chapter 234, 239, or 249A, or similar statutes in another state. If proper notice is not given to the state when required, any order of satisfaction is void.

3. The court shall not enter an order for satisfaction of payments not made through the clerk of the district court or collection services center if those payments have been assigned as a result of public funds expended pursuant to chapter 234, 239, or 249A, or similar statutes in other states.

91 Acts, ch 177, §7 HF 558
Subsection 1 amended

598.26 Record — impounding — violation indictable.

The record and evidence in each case of marriage dissolution shall be kept pursuant to the following provisions:

1. Until a decree of dissolution has been entered, the record and evidence shall be closed to all but the court, its officers, and the child support recovery unit of the department of human services pursuant to section 252B.9. No other person shall permit a copy of any of the testimony, or pleading, or the substance thereof, to be made available to any person other than a party to the action or a party's attorney. Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to prohibit publication of the original notice as provided by the rules of civil procedure.

2. The court shall, in the absence of objection by another party, grant a motion by a party to require the sealing of an answer to an interrogatory or of a financial statement filed pursuant to section 598.13. The court may in its discretion grant a motion by a party to require the sealing of any other information which is part of the record of the case except for court orders, decrees and any judgments. If the court grants a motion to require the sealing of information in the case, the sealed information shall not thereafter be made available to any person other than a party to the action or a party's attorney except upon order of the court for good cause shown.

3. If the action is dismissed, judgment for costs shall be entered in the judgment docket and lien index. The clerk shall maintain a separate docket for dissolution of marriage actions.

4. Violation of the provisions of this section shall be a serious misdemeanor.

91 Acts, ch 177, §8 HF 558
Subsection 1 amended

598.29 Annuling illegal marriage — causes.

Marriage may be annulled for the following causes:

1. Where the marriage between the parties is prohibited by law.

2. Where either party was impotent at the time of marriage.

3. Where either party had a husband or wife living at the time of the marriage, provided they have not, with a knowledge of such fact, lived and cohabited together after the death or marriage dissolution of the former spouse of such party.

4. Where either party was a ward under a guardianship and was found by the court to lack the capacity to contract a valid marriage.

91 Acts, ch 93, §3 SF 495
Subsection 4 amended

598.42 Notice of certain orders by clerk of court.

The clerk of the district court shall provide oral or other notice and copies of temporary or permanent protective orders and orders to vacate the homestead entered pursuant to this chapter to the applicable law enforcement agencies and the twenty-four hour dispatcher for the law enforcement agencies, in the manner provided for protective orders under section 236.5. The clerk shall provide oral or other notice and copies of modifications or vacations of these orders in the same manner.

CHAPTER 600

ADOPTION

600.16 Termination and adoption record.

1. Any information compiled under section 600.8, subsection 1, paragraph "c", subparagraphs (1) and (2) shall be made available at any time by the clerk of the court, the department, or any agency which made the placement to:

a. The adopting parents.

b. The adopted person, provided that person is an adult at the time the request for information is made.

c. Any person approved by the department if the person uses this information solely for the purposes of conducting a legitimate research project or of treating a patient in a medical facility.

Information regarding an adopted person's existing medical and developmental history and family medical history, which meets the definition of background information in section 600.8, subsection 1, paragraph "c", but which was compiled prior to July 1, 1976, shall be made available as provided in this subsection. However, the identity of the adopted person's natural parents shall not be disclosed.

2. The permanent termination of parental rights record of the juvenile court under chapter 600A and the permanent adoption record of the court shall be sealed by the clerk of the juvenile court and the clerk of court, as appropriate, when they are complete and after the time for appeal has expired. All papers and records pertaining to a termination of parental rights under chapter 600A and to an adoption, whether a part of the permanent termination and adoption records of the juvenile court and of the court or on file with a guardian, guardian ad litem, custodian, person who placed a minor person, or the department shall not be open to inspection and the identity of the natural parents of an adopted person shall not be revealed. However, an agency involved in placement shall contact the adopting parents or the adult adopted child regarding eligibility of the adopted child for benefits based on entitlement of benefits or inheritance from the terminated natural parents. Also, the clerk of the court or county recorder shall, upon application to and order of the court for good cause shown, open the permanent adoption record of the court for the adopted person who is an adult and reveal the names of either or both of the natural parents.

An adopted person whose adoption became final prior to July 4, 1941, and whose adoption record was not required to be sealed at the time when the adoption record was completed, shall not be required to show good cause for an order opening the adoption record under this subsection, provided that the court shall consider any affidavit filed under this subsection.

A natural parent may file an affidavit requesting that the court reveal or not reveal the parent's name. The court shall consider any such affidavit in determining whether there is good cause to order opening of the records. If the adopted person who applies for revelation of the natural parents' name has a sibling who is a minor and who has been adopted by the same parents, the court may deny the application on the grounds that revelation to the applicant may also indirectly and harmfully permit the same revelation to the applicant's minor sibling. To facilitate the natural parents in filing an affidavit, the department shall, upon request of a natural parent, file an affidavit in the court in which the adoption records have been sealed.

3. Notwithstanding any other provision in this section, the juvenile court or court may, upon competent medical evidence, open termination or adoption records if opening is shown to be necessary to save the life of or prevent irreparable physical harm to an adopted person or the person's offspring. The juvenile court or court shall make every reasonable effort to prevent the identity of the natural parents from becoming revealed under this subsection to the adopted person. The juvenile court or court may, however, permit revelation of the identity of the natural parents to medical personnel attending the adopted person or the person's offspring. These medical personnel shall make every reasonable effort to prevent the identity of the natural parents from becoming revealed to the adopted person.

4. Any person, other than the adopting parents or the adopted person, who discloses information in violation of the provisions of this section shall be, upon conviction, guilty of a simple misdemeanor.

Subsection 2, NEW unnumbered paragraph 2

CHAPTER 601A

CIVIL RIGHTS COMMISSION

601A.2 Definitions.

When used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires

1 “Commission” means the Iowa state civil rights commission created by this chapter

2 “Commissioner” means a member of the commission

3 “Court” means the district court in and for the judicial district of the state of Iowa in which the alleged unfair or discriminatory practice occurred or any judge of said court if the court is not in session at that time

4 “Disability” means the physical or mental condition of a person which constitutes a substantial handicap, and the condition of a person with a positive human immunodeficiency virus test result, a diagnosis of acquired immune deficiency syndrome, a diagnosis of acquired immune deficiency syndrome-related complex, or any other condition related to acquired immune deficiency syndrome. The inclusion of a condition related to a positive human immunodeficiency virus test result in the meaning of “disability” under the provisions of this chapter does not preclude the application of the provisions of this chapter to conditions resulting from other contagious or infectious diseases

5 “Employee” means any person employed by an employer

6 “Employer” means the state of Iowa or any political subdivision, board, commission, department, institution, or school district thereof, and every other person employing employees within the state

7 “Employment agency” means any person undertaking to procure employees or opportunities to work for any other person or any person holding itself to be equipped to do so

8 “Familial status” means one or more individuals under the age of eighteen domiciled with one of the following a A parent or another person having legal custody of the individual or individuals

b The designee of the parent or the other person having custody of the individual or individuals, with the written permission of the parent or other person c A person who is pregnant or is in the process of securing legal custody of the individual or individuals

9 “Labor organization” means any organization which exists for the purpose in whole or in part of collective bargaining, of dealing with employers concerning grievances, terms, or conditions of employment, or of other mutual aid or protection in connection with employment

10 “Person” means one or more individuals, partnerships, associations, corporations, legal representatives, trustees, receivers, and the state of Iowa and all political subdivisions and agencies thereof

11 “Public accommodation” means each and every place, establishment, or facility of whatever kind, nature, or class that caters or offers services, facilities, or goods for a fee or charge to nonmembers of any organization or association utilizing the place, establishment, or facility, provided that any place, establishment, or facility that caters or offers services, facilities, or goods to the nonmembers gratuitously shall be deemed a public accommodation if the accommodation receives governmental support or subsidy. Public accommodation shall not mean any bona fide private club or other place, establishment, or facility which is by its nature distinctly private, except when such distinctly private place, establishment, or facility caters or offers services, facilities, or goods to the nonmembers for fee or charge or gratuitously, it shall be deemed a public accommodation during such period.

“Public accommodation” includes each state and local government unit or tax-supported district of whatever kind, nature, or class that offers services, facilities, benefits, grants or goods to the public, gratuitously or otherwise. This paragraph shall not be construed by negative implication or otherwise to restrict any part or portion of the pre-existing definition of the term “public accommodation”

12 “Unfair practice” or “discriminatory practice” means those practices specified as unfair or discriminatory in sections 601A 6, 601A 7, 601A 8, 601A 9, 601A 10 and 601A 11

91 Acts ch 184 §1 HF 656
Subsection 8 amended

601A.5 Powers and duties.

The commission shall have the following powers and duties

1 To prescribe the duties of a director and appoint and prescribe the duties of such investigators and other employees and agents as the commission shall deem necessary for the enforcement of this chapter

2 To receive, investigate, and finally determine the merits of complaints alleging unfair or discriminatory practices

3 To investigate and study the existence, character, causes, and extent of discrimination in public accommodations, employment, apprenticeship programs, on-the-job training programs, vocational schools, credit practices, and housing in this state and to attempt the elimination of such discrimination by education and conciliation

4 To seek a temporary injunction against a respondent when it appears that a complainant may suffer irreparable injury as a result of an alleged violation of this chapter. A temporary injunction may only be issued ex parte, if the complaint filed with the commission alleges discrimination in housing. In all other cases a temporary injunction may be issued only after the respondent has been notified and afforded the opportunity to be heard.

5 To hold hearings upon any complaint made against a person, an employer, an employment agency, or a labor organization, or the employees or members thereof, to subpoena witnesses and compel their attendance at such hearings, to administer oaths and take the testimony of any person under oath, and to compel such person, employer, employment agency, or labor organization, or employees or members thereof to produce for examination any books and papers relating to any matter involved in such complaint. The commission shall issue subpoenas for witnesses in the same manner and for the same purposes on behalf of the respondent upon the respondent's request. Such hearings may be held by the commission, by any commissioner, or by any hearing examiner appointed by the commission. If a witness either fails or refuses to obey a subpoena issued by the commission, the commission may petition the district court having jurisdiction for issuance of a subpoena and the court shall in a proper case issue the subpoena. Refusal to obey such subpoena shall be subject to punishment for contempt.

6 To issue such publications and reports of investigations and research as in the judgment of the commission shall tend to promote good will among the various racial, religious, and ethnic groups of the state and which shall tend to minimize or eliminate discrimination in public accommodations, employment, apprenticeship and on-the-job training programs, vocational schools, or housing because of race, creed, color, sex, national origin, religion, ancestry or disability.

7 To prepare and transmit to the governor and to the general assembly from time to time, but not less often than once each year, reports describing its proceedings, investigations, hearings conducted and the outcome thereof, decisions rendered, and the other work performed by the commission.

8 To make recommendations to the general assembly for such further legislation concerning discrimination because of race, creed, color, sex, national origin, religion, ancestry or disability as it may deem necessary and desirable.

9 To co-operate, within the limits of any appropriations made for its operation, with other agencies or organizations, both public and private, whose purposes are consistent with those of this chapter, and in the planning and conducting of programs designed to eliminate racial, religious, cultural, and intergroup tensions.

10 To adopt, publish, amend, and rescind regulations consistent with and necessary for the enforcement of this chapter.

11 To receive, administer, dispense and account for any funds that may be voluntarily contributed to the commission and any grants that may be awarded the commission for furthering the purposes of this chapter.

12 To defer a complaint to a local civil rights commission under commission rules promulgated pursuant to chapter 17A.

13 To issue subpoenas and order discovery as provided by this section in aid of investigations and hearings of alleged unfair or discriminatory housing or real property practices. The subpoenas and discovery may be ordered to the same extent and are subject to the same limitations as subpoenas and discovery in a civil action in district court.

14 To defer proceedings and refer a complaint to a local commission that has been recognized by the United States department of housing and urban development as having adopted ordinances providing fair housing rights and remedies that are substantially equivalent to those granted under federal law.

91 Acts ch 184 §2 HF 656
NEW subsections 13 and 14

601A.8A Additional unfair or discriminatory practices — housing.

1 A person shall not induce or attempt to induce another person to sell or rent a dwelling by representations regarding the entry or prospective entry into a neighborhood of a person of a particular race, color, creed, sex, religion, national origin, disability, or familial status.

2 A person shall not represent to a person of a particular race, color, creed, sex, religion, national origin, disability, or familial status that a dwelling is not available for inspection, sale, or rental when the dwelling is available for inspection, sale, or rental.

3 a A person shall not discriminate in the sale or rental or otherwise make unavailable or deny a dwelling to a buyer or renter because of a disability of any of the following persons:

(1) That buyer or renter

(2) A person residing in or intending to reside in that dwelling after it is sold, rented, or made available.

(3) A person associated with that buyer or renter.

b A person shall not discriminate against another person in the terms, conditions, or privileges of sale or rental of a dwelling or in the provision of services or facilities in connection with the dwelling because of a disability of any of the following persons:

(1) That person

(2) A person residing in or intending to reside in that dwelling after it is sold, rented, or made available.

(3) A person associated with that person.

c For the purposes of this subsection only, discrimination includes any of the following circumstances:

(1) A refusal to permit, at the expense of the disabled person, reasonable modifications of existing premises occupied or to be occupied by the person if the modifications are necessary to afford the person full enjoyment of the premises.

In the case of a rental, a landlord may, where reasonable to do so, condition permission for a modification on the renter's agreement to restore the interior of the premises to the condition that existed before the modification, reasonable wear and tear excepted.

(2) A refusal to make reasonable accommodations in rules, policies, practices, or services, when the accommodations are necessary to afford the person equal opportunity to use and enjoy a dwelling.

(3) In connection with the design and construction of covered multifamily dwellings for first occupancy after January 1, 1992, a failure to design and construct those dwellings in a manner that meets the following requirements:

(a) The public use and common use portions of the dwellings are readily accessible to and usable by disabled persons.

(b) All doors designed to allow passage into and within all premises within the dwellings are sufficiently wide to allow passage by disabled persons in wheelchairs.

(c) All premises within the dwellings contain the following features of adaptive design:

(i) An accessible route into and through the dwelling.

(ii) Light switches, electrical outlets, thermostats, and other environmental controls in accessible locations.

(iii) Reinforcements in bathroom walls to allow later installation of grab bars.

(iv) Usable kitchens and bathrooms so that a person in a wheelchair can maneuver about the space.

d. Compliance with the appropriate requirements of the American national standard for buildings and facilities providing accessibility and usability for physically handicapped people, commonly cited as "ANSI A 117.1", satisfies the requirements of paragraph "c", subparagraph (3), subparagraph subdivision (c).

e. Nothing in this subsection requires that a dwelling be made available to a person whose tenancy would constitute a direct threat to the health or safety of other persons or whose tenancy would result in substantial physical damage to the property of others.

4. a. A person whose business includes engaging in residential real estate related transactions shall not discriminate against a person in making a residential real estate related transaction available or in terms or conditions of a residential real estate related transaction because of race, color, creed, sex, religion, national origin, disability, or familial status.

b. For the purpose of this subsection, "residential real estate related transaction" means any of the following:

(1) To make or purchase loans or provide other financial assistance to purchase, construct, improve, repair, or maintain a dwelling, or to secure residential real estate.

(2) To sell, broker, or appraise residential real estate.

5. A person shall not deny another person access to, or membership or participation in, a multiple-listing service, real estate brokers' organization or other service, organization, or facility relating to the business of selling or renting dwellings, or discriminate against a person in terms or conditions of access, membership, or participation in such organization because of race, color, creed, sex, religion, national origin, disability, or familial status.

601A.11 Aiding, abetting, or retaliation.

It shall be an unfair or discriminatory practice for:

1. Any person to intentionally aid, abet, compel, or coerce another person to engage in any of the practices declared unfair or discriminatory by this chapter.

2. Any person to discriminate or retaliate against another person in any of the rights protected against discrimination by this chapter because such person has lawfully opposed any practice forbidden under this chapter, obeys the provisions of this chapter, or has filed a complaint, testified, or assisted in any proceeding under this chapter.

91 Acts, ch 94, §1 HF 324

601A.11A Housing discrimination, threat of force or intimidation — penalty.

1. A person commits a public offense if the person, whether or not acting under color of law, by force or threat of force, intentionally intimidates or interferes with or attempts to interfere with a person under any of the following circumstances:

a. Because of the person's race, color, creed, sex, religion, national origin, disability, or familial status, and because the person is or has been selling, purchasing, renting, occupying, or financing, contracting for, or negotiating for the sale, purchase, rental, or occupation of any dwelling, or applying for or participating in a service, organization, or facility relating to the business of selling or renting dwellings.

b. Because the person is or has been doing any of the following:

(1) Participating, without discrimination because of race, color, creed, sex, religion, national origin, disability, or familial status, in an activity, service, organization, or facility described in paragraph "a".

(2) Affording another person the opportunity or protection to so participate.

(3) Lawfully aiding or encouraging other persons to participate, without discrimination because of race, color, creed, sex, religion, national origin, disability, or familial status, in an activity, service, organization, or facility described in paragraph "a".

2. A person violating this section is guilty of a serious misdemeanor.

601A.12 Exceptions.

The provisions of section 601A.8 shall not apply to:

1. Any bona fide religious institution with respect to any qualifications it may impose based on religion, when such qualifications are related to a bona fide religious purpose.

2. The rental or leasing of a housing accommodation in a building which contains housing accommodations for not more than two families living independently of each other, if the owner or members of the owner's family reside in one of such housing accommodations.

3. The rental or leasing of less than four rooms within a single housing accommodation by the occupant or owner of such housing accommodation, if the occupant or owner or members of that person's family reside in the accommodation.

4. The rental or leasing of a housing accommodation within which residents of both sexes must share a common bathroom facility on the same floor of the building.

5. Housing accommodations provided under any state or federal program specifically designed and operated to assist elderly persons, as defined in the state or federal program, and housing for older persons. As used in this subsection, "housing for older persons" means housing communities consisting of accommodations intended for either of the following:

a. For eighty percent occupancy by at least one person fifty-five years of age or older per unit, and providing significant facilities and services specifically designed to meet the physical or social needs of such persons.

b. For and occupied solely by persons sixty-two years of age or older.

6. The rental or leasing of a housing accommodation in a building which contains housing accommodations for not more than four families living independently of each other, if the owner resides in one of the housing accommodations for which the owner qualifies for the homestead tax credit under section 425.1.

601A.15A Additional proceedings — housing discrimination.

1. a. The commission may join a person not named in the complaint as an additional or substitute respondent if in the course of the investigation, the commission determines that the person should be alleged to have committed a discriminatory housing or real estate practice.

b. In addition to the information required in the notice, the commission shall include in a notice to a respondent joined under this subsection an explanation of the basis for the determination under this subsection that the person is properly joined as a respondent.

2. a. The commission shall, during the period beginning with the filing of a complaint and ending with the filing of a charge or a dismissal by the commission, to the extent feasible, engage in mediation with respect to the complaint.

b. A mediation agreement is an agreement between a respondent and the complainant and is subject to commission approval.

c. A mediation agreement may provide for binding arbitration or other method of dispute resolution. Dispute resolution that results from a mediation agreement may authorize appropriate relief, including monetary relief.

d. A mediation agreement shall be made public unless the complainant and respondent agree otherwise, and the commission determines that disclosure is not necessary to further the purposes of this chapter relating to unfair or discrimination in housing or real estate.

e. The proceedings or results of mediation shall not be made public or used as evidence in a subsequent proceeding under this chapter without the written consent of the persons who are party to the mediation.

f. After the completion of the commission's investigation, the commission shall make available to the aggrieved person and the respondent information derived from the investigation and the final investigation report relating to that investigation.

3. a. If the commission concludes, following the filing of a complaint, that prompt judicial action is necessary to carry out the purposes of this chapter relating to unfair or discriminatory housing or real estate practices, the commission may authorize a civil action for appropriate temporary or preliminary relief pending final disposition of the complaint.

b. On receipt of the commission's authorization, the attorney general shall promptly file the action.

c. A temporary restraining order or other order granting preliminary or temporary relief under this section is governed by the applicable Iowa rules of civil procedure.

d. The filing of a civil action under this section does not affect the initiation or continuation of administrative proceedings in regard to an administrative hearing.

4. a. The commission shall prepare a final investigative report.

b. A final report under this section may be amended by the commission if additional evidence is discovered.

5. a. The commission shall determine based on the facts whether probable cause exists to believe that a discriminatory housing or real estate practice has occurred or is about to occur.

b. The commission shall make its determination under paragraph “a” not later than one hundred days after a complaint is filed unless any of the following applies:

(1) It is impracticable to make the determination within that time period.

(2) The commission has approved a mediation agreement relating to the complaint.

c. If it is impracticable to make the determination within the time period provided by paragraph “b”, the commission shall notify the complainant and respondent in writing of the reasons for the delay.

d. If the commission determines that probable cause exists to believe that a discriminatory housing or real estate practice has occurred or is about to occur, the commission shall immediately issue a determination unless the commission determines that the legality of a zoning or land use law or ordinance is involved as provided in subsection 7.

6. a. A determination issued under subsection 5 must include all of the following:

(1) Must consist of a short and plain statement of the facts on which the commission has found probable cause to believe that a discriminatory housing or real estate practice has occurred or is about to occur.

(2) Must be based on the final investigative report.

(3) Need not be limited to the facts or grounds alleged in the complaint.

b. Not later than twenty days after the commission issues a determination, the commission shall send a copy of the determination with information concerning the election under section 601A.16A to all of the following persons:

(1) Each respondent, together with a notice of the opportunity for a hearing as provided under subsection 10.

(2) Each aggrieved person on whose behalf the complaint was filed.

7. If the commission determines that the matter involves the legality of a state or local zoning or other land use ordinance, the commission shall not issue a determination and shall immediately refer the matter to the attorney general for appropriate action.

8. a. If the commission determines that no probable cause exists to believe that a discriminatory housing or real estate practice has occurred or is about to occur, the commission shall promptly dismiss the complaint.

b. The commission shall make public disclosure of each dismissal under this section.

9. The commission shall not issue a determination under this section regarding an alleged discriminatory housing or real estate practice after the beginning of the trial of a civil action commenced by the aggrieved party under federal or state law seeking relief with respect to that discriminatory housing or real estate practice.

10. a. If a timely election is not made under section 601A.16A, the commission shall provide for a hearing on the charges in the complaint.

b. Except as provided by paragraph “c”, the hearing shall be conducted in accordance with chapter 17A for contested cases.

c. A hearing under this section shall not be continued regarding an alleged discriminatory housing or real estate practice after the beginning of the trial of a civil action commenced by the aggrieved person under federal or state law seeking relief with respect to that discriminatory housing or real estate practice.

11. a. If the commission determines at a hearing under subsection 10 that a respondent has engaged or is about to engage in a discriminatory housing or real estate practice, the commission may order the appropriate relief, including actual damages, reasonable attorney’s fees, court costs, and other injunctive or equitable relief.

b. To vindicate the public interest, the commission may assess a civil penalty against the respondent in an amount that does not exceed the following applicable amount:

(1) Ten thousand dollars if the respondent has not been adjudged by the order of the commission or a court to have committed a prior discriminatory housing or real estate practice.

(2) Except as provided by paragraph “c”, twenty-five thousand dollars if the respondent has been adjudged by order of the commission or a court to have committed one other discriminatory housing or real estate practice during the five-year period ending on the date of the filing of the complaint.

(3) Except as provided by paragraph “c”, fifty thousand dollars if the respondent has been adjudged by order of the commission or a court to have committed two or more discriminatory housing or real estate practices during the seven-year period ending on the date of the filing of the complaint.

c. If the acts constituting the discriminatory housing or real estate practice that is the object of the complaint are committed by the same natural person who has been previously adjudged to have committed acts constituting a discriminatory housing or real estate practice, the civil penalties in paragraph “b”, subparagraphs (2) and (3) may be imposed without regard to the period of time within which any other discriminatory housing or real estate practice occurred.

d. At the request of the commission, the attorney general shall initiate legal proceedings to recover a civil penalty due under this section. Funds collected under this section shall be paid to the treasurer of state for deposit in the state treasury to the credit of the general fund.

601A.16A Civil action elected — housing.

1 a A complainant, a respondent, or an aggrieved person on whose behalf the complaint was filed may elect to have the charges asserted in the complaint decided in a civil action as provided by section 601A 17A

b The election must be made not later than twenty days after the date of receipt by the electing person of service under section 601A 15, subsection 5, or in the case of the commission, not later than twenty days after the date the determination was issued c The person making the election shall give notice to the commission and to all other complainants and respondents to whom the election relates

2 a An aggrieved person may file a civil action in district court not later than two years after the occurrence of the termination of an alleged discriminatory housing or real estate practice, or the breach of a mediation agreement entered into under this chapter, whichever occurs last, to obtain appropriate relief with respect to the discriminatory housing or real estate practice or breach

b The two-year period does not include any time during which an administrative hearing under this chapter is pending with respect to a complaint or charge based on the discriminatory housing or real estate practice. This subsection does not apply to actions arising from a breach of a mediation agreement

c An aggrieved person may file an action under this section whether or not a discriminatory housing or real estate complaint has been filed under section 601A 15A, and without regard to the status of any discriminatory housing or real estate complaint filed under that section

d If the commission has obtained a mediation agreement with the consent of an aggrieved person, the aggrieved person shall not file an action under this section with respect to the alleged discriminatory practice that forms the basis for the complaint except to enforce the terms of the agreement

e An aggrieved person shall not file an action under this section with respect to an alleged discriminatory housing or real estate practice that forms the basis of a charge issued by the commission if the commission has begun a hearing on the record under this chapter with respect to the charge

601A.17A Civil proceedings — housing.

1 a If timely election is made under section 601A 16A, subsection 1, the commission shall authorize, and not later than thirty days after the election is made, the attorney general shall file a civil action on behalf of the aggrieved person in a district court seeking relief

b Venue for an action under this section is in the county in which the alleged discriminatory housing or real estate practice occurred

c An aggrieved person may intervene in the action

d If the district court finds that a discriminatory housing or real estate practice has occurred or is about to occur, the district court may grant as relief any relief that a court may grant in a civil action under subsection 6

e If monetary relief is sought for the benefit of an aggrieved person who does not intervene in the civil action, the district court shall not award the monetary relief if that aggrieved person has not complied with discovery orders entered by the district court

2 A commission order under section 601A 15A, subsection 11, does not affect a contract, sale, encumbrance, or lease that was consummated before the commission issued the order and involved a bona fide purchaser, encumbrancer, or tenant who did not have actual notice of the charge issued under this chapter

3 If the commission issues an order with respect to a discriminatory housing practice that occurred in the course of a business subject to a licensing or regulation by a governmental agency, the commission, not later than thirty days after the date of issuance of the order, shall do all of the following a Send copies of the findings and the order to the governmental agency

b Recommend to the governmental agency appropriate disciplinary action

4 If the commission issues an order against a respondent against whom another order was issued within the preceding five years under section 601A 15A, subsection 11, the commission shall send a copy of each order issued under that section to the attorney general

5 On application by a person alleging a discriminatory housing practice or by a person against whom a discriminatory practice is alleged, the district court may appoint an attorney for the person

6 In an action under this section, if the district court finds that a discriminatory housing or real estate practice has occurred or is about to occur, the district court may award or issue to the plaintiff one or more of the following a Actual and punitive damages

b Reasonable attorney's fees

c Court costs

d Subject to subsection 7, any permanent or temporary injunction, temporary restraining order, or other order, including an order enjoining the defendant from engaging in the practice or ordering appropriate affirmative action

7 Relief granted under this section does not affect a contract, sale, encumbrance, or lease that was consummated before the granting of the relief and involved a bona fide purchaser, encumbrancer, or tenant who did not have actual notice of the filing of a complaint under this chapter or a civil action under this section

8 a On the request of the commission, the attorney general may intervene in an action under this section if the commission certifies that the case is of general public importance

b. The attorney general may obtain the same relief available to the attorney general under subsection 9.

9. a. On the request of the commission, the attorney general may file a civil action in district court for appropriate relief if the commission has reasonable cause to believe that any of the following applies:

(1) A person is engaged in a pattern or practice of resistance to the full enjoyment of any housing right granted by this chapter.

(2) A person has been denied any housing right granted by this chapter and that denial raises an issue of general public importance.

b. In an action under this section, the district court may do any of the following:

(1) Order preventive relief, including a permanent or temporary injunction, restraining order, or other order against the person responsible for a violation of housing rights as necessary to assure the full enjoyment of the housing rights granted by this chapter.

(2) Order another appropriate relief, including the awarding of monetary damages, reasonable attorney's fees, and court costs.

(3) To vindicate the public interest, assess a civil penalty against the respondent in an amount that does not exceed any of the following:

(a) Fifty thousand dollars for a first violation.

(b) One hundred thousand dollars for a second or subsequent violation.

c. A person may intervene in an action under this section if the person is any of the following:

(1) An aggrieved person to the discriminatory housing or real estate practice.

(2) A party to a mediation agreement concerning the discriminatory housing or real estate practice.

10. The attorney general, on behalf of the commission or other party at whose request a subpoena is issued, may enforce the subpoena in appropriate proceedings in district court.

11. A court in a civil action brought under this section or the commission in an administrative hearing under section 601A.15A, subsection 11, may award reasonable attorney's fees to the prevailing party and assess court costs against the nonprevailing party.

RIGHTS OF BLIND, PARTIALLY BLIND AND PHYSICALLY DISABLED

601D.11 Service dogs and assistive animals.

1. For purposes of this section "service dog" means a dog specially trained at a recognized training facility to assist a disabled or handicapped person, whether described as a service dog, a support dog, an independence dog, or otherwise. "Assistive animal" means a simian or other animal specially trained or in the process of being trained under the auspices of a recognized training facility to assist a disabled or handicapped person.

2. A disabled or handicapped person or person training an assistive animal has the right to be accompanied by a service dog or an assistive animal, under control, in any of the places listed in sections 601D.3 and 601D.4 without being required to make additional payment for the service dog or assistive animal. A landlord shall waive lease restrictions on the keeping of animals for the service dog or assistive animal of a disabled or handicapped person. The person is liable for damage done to any premises or facility by a service dog or assistive animal.

3. A person who knowingly denies or interferes with the right of a person under this section is, upon conviction, guilty of a simple misdemeanor.

CHAPTER 601J

TRANSPORTATION PROGRAMS

601J.4 Federal, state, local and private aid — report.

1. The department shall compile and maintain current information on available and pending federal, state, local, and private aid affecting urban and rural public transit programs. Public, private, and private nonprofit organizations applying for or receiving federal, state or local aid for providing transit services shall provide a copy of their fiscal year operating budget annually prior to June 1 depicting funds used for public transit programs and such other information as the department may require prior to receiving any federal or state funds or any aid from a political subdivision of the state. The operating budget shall list all of the funding sources of the organization along with the listing of funds expended by that organization during the preceding fiscal year. The department, in co-operation with the regional planning agencies as the responsible agency for annual updating the regional transit development programs, shall compile this information annually. Any state agency or organization administering funds for transit services is required to submit all funding requests through the regional and state clearinghouse and the state department of transportation. Any organization, state agency, political subdivision, and public transit system, except public school transportation, receiving federal, state or local aid to provide or contract for public transit services or transportation to the general public and specific client groups, must coordinate and consolidate funding and resulting service, to the maximum extent possible, with the urban or regional transit system.

2. Upon request, the department shall provide assistance to political subdivisions, state agencies, and organizations affected by this chapter for federal aid applications for urban and rural transit system program aid. The department, in co-operation with the regional planning agencies, shall maintain current information reflecting the amount of federal, state and local aid received by the public and private nonprofit organizations providing public transit services and the purpose for which the aid is received. The department shall annually prepare a report to be submitted to the general assembly, the department of management, and to the governor, prior to February 1 of each year, stating the receipts and disbursements made during the preceding fiscal year and the adequacy of programs financed by federal, state, local, and private aid in the state. The department shall analyze the programs financed and recommend methods of avoiding duplication and increasing the efficacy of programs financed. The department shall receive comments from the department of human services, department of elder affairs, and the officers and agents of the other affected state and local government units relative to the department's analysis. The department shall use the following criteria to adopt rules to determine compliance with and exceptions to subsection 1:

a Elimination of duplicative and inefficient administrative costs, policies and management.

b Utilization of resources for transportation services effectively and efficiently.

c Elimination of duplicative and inefficient transportation services.

d Development of transportation services which meet the needs of the general public and insure services adequate to the needs of transportation disadvantaged persons.

e Protection of the rights of private enterprise public transit providers.

f Coordination of planning for transportation services at the urban and regional level by all agencies or organizations receiving public funds that are purchasing or providing transportation services.

g Management of equipment and facilities purchased with public funds so that efficient and routine maintenance and replacement is accomplished.

h Training of transit management, drivers and maintenance personnel to provide safe, efficient, and economical transportation services.

Eligibility to receive or expend federal, state or local funds for transportation services by all agencies or organizations purchasing or providing these services shall be contingent upon compliance with these criteria as determined by the department, except that services provided by or purchased by the department of human services, which include transportation, shall be subject to section 601J.5, subsection 3, paragraph "c"

3. The department shall receive and distribute federal aid to public transit systems unless precluded by federal statute; however, the department shall not retain or redirect any portion of funds received by the department for a particular public transit system except that the department may redirect unused funds after a project is completed in order to prevent the lapse of funds. The department may designate the public transit systems as the direct recipients of federal aid.

91 Acts ch 27 §5 HF 307
Subsection 3 amended

601J.6 Public transit assistance fund established.

1. There is established a public transit assistance fund in the office of the treasurer of state. Moneys in this fund shall be expended for providing assistance to public transit for the development, improvement, and maintenance of public transit systems. Unencumbered moneys appropriated by the general assembly for the implementation of a state assistance plan shall be deposited in the public transit assistance fund. Moneys received by the department by agreements, grants, gifts, or other means from individuals, companies or other business entities, or cities and counties for the purposes stated in this section shall be credited to the public transit assistance fund.

Notwithstanding the provisions of this section and section 312.2, subsection 15, directing that moneys be deposited into the public transit assistance fund, for the fiscal period beginning on July 1, 1991, and ending June 30, 1993, all such moneys under these sections shall be deposited into the general fund of the state. There is appropriated during this fiscal period from moneys received by the department by agreements, grants, gifts, or other means and deposited into the state general fund as a result of this paragraph to the department for purposes of this subsection. Moneys appropriated from the general fund under this paragraph and section 312.2, subsection 15, shall not be deposited into the public transit assistance fund.

2. The department may enter into agreements with public transit systems, the United States government, cities, counties, business entities, or other persons for carrying out the purposes of this section.

3. The department may accept federal funds to carry out this section. Federal funds received under this section are appropriated for the purposes set forth in the federal grants.

4. Moneys deposited in the public transit assistance fund are not subject to sections 8.33 and 8.39.

5. Notwithstanding chapter 8, funds appropriated for public transit purposes to implement a state assistance plan shall be allocated in whole or in part to a public transit system prior to the time actual expenditures are incurred if the allocation is first approved by the department. A public transit system shall make application for advance allocations to the department specifically stating the reasons why an advance allocation is required and this allocation shall be included in the total to be audited.

DEPARTMENT FOR THE BLIND

601L.3 Commission duties.

The commission shall:

1. Prepare and maintain a complete register of the blind of the state which shall describe the condition, cause of blindness, ability to receive education and industrial training, and other facts the commission deems of value.

2. Assist in marketing of products of blind workers of the state.

3. Ameliorate the condition of the blind by promoting visits to them in their homes for the purpose of instruction and by other lawful methods as the commission deems expedient.

4. Make inquiries concerning the causes of blindness to ascertain what portion of cases are preventable, and cooperate with the other organized agents of the state in the adoption and enforcement of proper preventive measures.

5. Provide for suitable vocational training if the commission deems it advisable and necessary. The commission may establish workshops for the employment of the blind, paying suitable wages for work under the employment. The commission may provide or pay for, during their training period, the temporary lodging and support of persons receiving vocational training. The commission may use receipts or earnings that accrue from the operation of workshops as provided in this chapter, but a detailed statement of receipts or earnings and expenditures shall be made monthly to the director of the department of management.

6. Establish, manage, and control a special training, orientation, and adjustment center or centers for the blind. Training in the centers shall be limited to persons who are sixteen years of age or older, and the department shall not provide or cause to be provided any academic education or training to children under the age of sixteen except that the commission may provide library services to these children. The commission may provide for the maintenance, upkeep, repair, and alteration of the buildings and grounds designated as centers for the blind including the expenditure of funds appropriated for that purpose. Nonresidents may be admitted to Iowa centers for the blind as space is available, upon terms determined by rule.

7. Establish and maintain offices for the department and commission.

8. Accept gifts, grants, devises, or bequests of real or personal property from any source for the use and purposes of the department. Notwithstanding sections 8.33 and 453.7, the interest accrued from moneys received under this section shall not revert to the general fund of the state.

9. Provide library services to blind and physically handicapped persons.

10. Act as a bureau of information and industrial aid for the blind, such as assisting the blind in finding employment.

11. Be responsible for the budgetary and personnel decisions for the department and commission.

12. Manage and control the property, both real and personal, belonging to the department. The commission shall, according to the schedule established in this subsection, when the price is reasonably competitive and the quality as intended, purchase soybean-based inks and starch-based plastics, including but not limited to starch-based garbage can liners.

a. By July 1, 1989, a minimum of fifty percent of the purchases of inks which are used for newsprint paper for printing services performed internally or contracted for by the commission shall be soybean-based. The percentage of purchases by the commission of soybean-based inks used for newsprint printing services shall increase by July 1, 1991, to one hundred percent of the total purchases of inks used for newsprint printing services.

b. By July 1, 1989, a minimum of fifteen percent of the purchases of garbage can liners made by the commission shall be starch-based plastic garbage can liners. The percentage purchased shall increase by five percent annually until fifty percent of the purchases of garbage can liners are purchases of starch-based plastic garbage can liners.

c. By July 1, 1991, a minimum of twenty-five percent of the purchases of inks, other than inks which are used for newsprint printing services, and which are used internally or contracted for by the commission, shall be soybean-based to the extent formulations for such inks are available. The percentage of purchases by the commission of the soybean-based inks, to the extent formulations for such inks are available, shall increase by July 1, 1992, to fifty percent of the total purchases of the inks, and shall increase by July 1, 1993, to one hundred percent of the total purchases of the inks.

d. The commission shall report to the general assembly on February 1 of each year, the following:

(1) Plastic products which are regularly purchased by the commission for which starch-based product alternatives are available. The report shall also include the cost of the plastic products purchased and the cost of the starch-based product alternatives.

(2) Information relating to soybean-based inks and starch-based garbage can liners regularly purchased by the commission. The report shall include the cost of purchasing soybean-based inks and starch-based garbage can liners, the percentage of inks purchased which are soybean-based and the percentage of liners purchased which are starch-based.

e. The department of natural resources shall review the procurement specifications currently used by the commission to eliminate, wherever possible, discrimination against the procurement of products manufactured with starch-based plastics and soybean-based inks.

f. The department of natural resources shall assist the commission in locating suppliers of starch-based plastics and soybean-based inks, and collecting data on recycled content, starch-based plastic, and soybean-based ink purchases.

g. The commission, in conjunction with the department of natural resources, shall adopt rules to carry out the provisions of this section.

h. The department of natural resources shall cooperate with the commission in all phases of implementing this section.

13. In conjunction with the recommendations made by the department of natural resources, purchase and use recycled printing and writing paper in accordance with the schedule established in section 18.18; establish a wastepaper recycling program, by January 1, 1990, in accordance with the recommendations made by the department of natural resources and requirements of section 18.20; comply with the recycling goal, recycling schedule, and ultimate termination of purchase and use of polystyrene products for the purpose of storing, packaging, or serving food for immediate consumption pursuant to section 455D.16; and, in accordance with section 18.6, require product content statements, the provision of information regarding on-site review of waste management in product bidding and contract procedures, and compliance with requirements regarding contract bidding.

14. Develop a plan to provide telephone yellow pages information without charge to persons declared to be blind under the standards in section 422.12, subsection 1, paragraph "e". The department may apply for federal funds to support the service. The program shall be limited in scope by the availability of funds.

15. A motor vehicle purchased by the commission shall not operate on gasoline other than gasoline blended with at least ten percent ethanol. A state issued credit card used to purchase gasoline shall not be valid to purchase gasoline other than gasoline blended with at least ten percent ethanol. The motor vehicle shall also be affixed with a brightly visible sticker which notifies the traveling public that the motor vehicle is being operated on gasoline blended with ethanol.

THE COURTS

602.1301 Budget and fiscal procedures.

1. The supreme court shall prepare an annual operating budget for the department, and shall submit a budget request to the general assembly for the fiscal period for which the general assembly is appropriating funds.

2. a. As early as possible, but not later than December 1, the supreme court shall submit to the legislative fiscal bureau the annual budget request and detailed supporting information for the judicial department. The submission shall be designed to assist the legislative fiscal bureau in its preparation for legislative consideration of the budget request. The information submitted shall contain and be arranged in a format substantially similar to the format specified by the director of management and used by all departments and establishments in transmitting to the director estimates of their expenditure requirements pursuant to section 8.23, except the estimates of expenditure requirements shall be based upon one hundred percent of funding for the current fiscal year accounted for by program, and using the same line item definitions of expenditures as used for the current fiscal year's budget request, and the remainder of the estimate of expenditure requirements prioritized by program. The supreme court shall also make use of the department of management's automated budget system when submitting information to the director of management to assist the director in the transmittal of information as required under section 8.35A. The supreme court shall budget and track expenditures by the following separate organization codes:

- (1) Iowa court information system.
- (2) Appellate courts.
- (3) Central administration.
- (4) District court administration.
- (5) Judges and magistrates.
- (6) Court reporters.
- (7) Juvenile court officers.
- (8) District court clerks.
- (9) Jury and witness fees.

b. Before December 1, the supreme court shall submit to the director of management an estimate of the total expenditure requirements of the judicial department. The director of management shall submit this estimate received from the supreme court to the governor for inclusion without change in the governor's proposed budget for the succeeding fiscal year. The estimate shall also be submitted to the chairpersons of the committees on appropriations.

3. The state court administrator shall prescribe the procedures to be used by the operating components of the department with respect to the following:

a. The preparation, submission, review, and revision of budget requests.

b. The allocation and disbursement of funds appropriated to the department.

c. The purchase of forms, supplies, equipment, and other property.

d. Other matters relating to fiscal administration.

4. The state court administrator shall prescribe practices and procedures for the accounting and internal auditing of funds of the department, including uniform practices and procedures to be used by judicial officers and court employees with respect to all funds, regardless of source.

Subsection 2, paragraph a, subparagraph (1) stricken and rewritten

602.1401 Personnel system.

1. The supreme court shall establish, and may amend, a personnel system and a pay plan for court employees. The personnel system shall include a designation by position title, classification, and function of each position or class of positions within the department. Reasonable efforts shall be made to accommodate the individual staffing and management practices of the respective clerks of the district court. The personnel system, in the employment of court employees, shall not discriminate on the basis of race, creed, color, sex, national origin, religion, physical disability, or political party preference. The supreme court, in establishing the personnel system, shall implement the comparable worth directives issued by the state court administrator under section 602.1204, subsection 2.

2. The supreme court shall compile and publish all documents that establish the personnel system, and shall distribute a copy of the compilation and all amendments to each operating component of the department.

3. The state court administrator is the public employer of judicial department employees for purposes of chapter 20, relating to public employment relations.

For purposes of chapter 20, the certified representative, which on July 1, 1983 represents employees who become judicial department employees as a result of 1983 Iowa Acts, chapter 186, shall remain the certified representative when the employees become judicial department employees and thereafter, unless the public employee organization is decertified in an election held under section 20.15 or amended or absorbed into another certified organization pursuant to chapter 20. Collective bargaining negotiations shall be conducted on a statewide basis and the certified employee organizations which engage in bargaining shall negotiate on a statewide basis, although bargaining units shall be organized by judicial district. The public employment relations board shall adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A to implement this subsection.

4. The supreme court may establish reasonable classes of employees and a pay plan for the classes of employees as necessary to accomplish the purposes of the personnel system.

5. The pay plan shall set the compensation of court employees within the funds appropriated by the general assembly.

602.6306 Jurisdiction, procedure, appeals.

1. District associate judges have the jurisdiction provided in section 602.6405 for magistrates, and when exercising that jurisdiction shall employ magistrates' practice and procedure.

2. District associate judges also have jurisdiction in civil actions for money judgment where the amount in controversy does not exceed five thousand dollars, jurisdiction over involuntary commitment, treatment, or hospitalization proceedings under chapters 125 and 229, jurisdiction of indictable misdemeanors, and felony violations of section 321J.2, and the jurisdiction provided in section 602.7101 when designated as a judge of the juvenile court. While presiding in these subject matters a district associate judge shall employ district judges' practice and procedure.

3. When a district judge is unable to serve as a result of temporary incapacity, a district associate judge may, by order of the chief judge of the judicial district enrolled in the records of the clerk of the district court, temporarily exercise any judicial authority within the jurisdiction of a district judge during the time of incapacity with respect to the matters or classes of matters specified in that order.

4. Appeals from judgments or orders of district associate judges while exercising the jurisdiction of magistrates shall be governed by the laws relating to appeals from judgments and orders of magistrates. Appeals from judgments or orders of district associate judges while exercising any other jurisdiction shall be governed by the laws relating to appeals from judgments or orders of district judges.

b. For payment in advance of various services and docketing procedures, excluding those for small claims actions and small claims actions on appeal and simple misdemeanor actions and simple misdemeanor actions on appeal, twenty-five dollars.

c. For filing, entering, and endorsing a mechanic's lien, three dollars, and if a suit is brought, the fee is taxable as other costs in the action.

d. For filing and entering an agricultural supply dealer's lien, three dollars.

e. For filing and entering any statutory lien not specifically enumerated in this section, three dollars.

f. For a certificate and seal, two dollars.

g. For receiving and filing a declaration of intention and issuing a duplicate, two dollars. For making, filing, and docketing the petition of an alien for admission as a citizen of the United States and for the final hearing, four dollars; and for entering the final order and the issuance of the certificate of citizenship, if granted, four dollars.

h. In addition to the fees required in paragraph "g", the petitioner shall, upon the filing of a petition to become a citizen of the United States, deposit with the clerk money sufficient to cover the expense of subpoenaing and paying the legal fees of witnesses for whom the petitioner may request a subpoena, and upon the final discharge of the witnesses they shall receive, if they demand it from the clerk, the customary and usual witness fees from the moneys collected, and the residue, if any, except the amount necessary to pay the cost of serving the subpoenas, shall be returned by the clerk to the petitioner.

i. For a certificate and seal to an application to procure a pension, bounty, or back pay for a soldier or other person, no charge.

j. For making out a transcript in a criminal case appealed to the supreme court, for each one hundred words, fifty cents.

k. In criminal cases, the same fees for the same services as in civil cases, and an additional five dollar fee to be remitted to the treasurer of state by the clerk of the district court for deposit in the general fund of the state, to be paid by the county or city, which has the duty to prosecute the criminal action, payable as provided in section 602.8109. When judgment is rendered against the defendant, costs collected from the defendant shall be paid to the county or city which has the duty to prosecute the criminal action to the extent necessary for reimbursement for fees paid. However, the fees which are payable by the county to the clerk of the district court for services rendered in criminal actions prosecuted under state law and in habitual offender actions pursuant to section 321.556, and the court costs taxed in connection with the trial of those actions or appeals from the judgments in those actions are waived.

l. For filing an application for a license to marry, thirty dollars. For issuing an application for an order of the district court authorizing the issuance of a license to marry prior to the expiration of three days from the date of filing the application for the license, five dollars. The court shall authorize the issuance of a marriage license without the payment of any fees imposed by this paragraph upon a showing that the applicant is unable to pay the fees.

m. For entering a final decree of dissolution of marriage, thirty dollars. It is the intent of the general assembly that the funds generated from the dissolution fees be appropriated and used for sexual assault and domestic violence centers.

n. For certifying a change in title of real estate, two dollars.

o. In addition to all other fees, for making a complete record in cases where a complete record is required by law or directed by an order of the court, for every one hundred words, twenty cents.

p. For providing transcripts, certificates, other documents, and services in probate matters, the fees specified in section 633.31.

q. The jury fee and court reporter fee specified in chapter 625.

r. For filing and docketing a transcript of judgment from another county, two dollars. However, transcripts of judgments submitted by the United States shall be docketed without payment of the fee at the time of filing, and the fee shall be paid by the judgment debtor at the time of filing the satisfaction of judgment.

s. For entering a judgment by confession, two dollars.

t. Other fees provided by law.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, including but not limited to the other provisions of this section, five dollars of the fees imposed pursuant to paragraph "a", the five dollar additional fee imposed pursuant to paragraph "k", and fifteen dollars of the fees imposed pursuant to paragraphs "l" and "m" shall be remitted to the treasurer of state for deposit into the general fund of the state, and shall not be deposited in the court revenue distribution account, and shall not be deposited in the judicial retirement fund.

2. The fees collected by the clerk as provided in subsection 1 shall be deposited in the court revenue distribution account established under section 602.8108, except as otherwise provided by that section or by applicable law.

3. The clerk shall keep an accurate record of the fees collected in a fee book, and make a quarterly report of the fees collected to the supreme court.

4. The clerk shall pay to the treasurer of state all fees which have come into the clerk's possession and which are unclaimed pursuant to section 556.8 accompanied by a form prescribed by the treasurer. Claims for payment of the moneys must be filed pursuant to chapter 556.

LIMITATIONS OF ACTIONS

614.1 Period.

Actions may be brought within the times herein limited, respectively, after their causes accrue, and not afterwards, except when otherwise specially declared:

1. Penalties or forfeitures under ordinance. Those to enforce the payment of a penalty or forfeiture under an ordinance, within one year.

2. Injuries to person or reputation — relative rights — statute penalty. Those founded on injuries to the person or reputation, including injuries to relative rights, whether based on contract or tort, or for a statute penalty, within two years.

3. Against sheriff or other public officer. Those against a sheriff or other public officer for the non-payment of money collected on execution within three years of collection.

4. Unwritten contracts — injuries to property — fraud — other actions. Those founded on unwritten contracts, those brought for injuries to property, or for relief on the ground of fraud in cases heretofore solely cognizable in a court of chancery, and all other actions not otherwise provided for in this respect, within five years, except as provided by subsections 8 and 10.

5. Written contracts — judgments of courts not of record — recovery of real property. Those founded on written contracts, or on judgments of any courts except those provided for in the next subsection, and those brought for the recovery of real property, within ten years.

6. Judgments of courts of record. Those founded on a judgment of a court of record, whether of this or of any other of the United States, or of the federal courts of the United States, within twenty years.

7. Judgment quieting title. No action shall be brought to set aside a judgment or decree quieting title to real estate unless the same shall be commenced within ten years from and after the rendition thereof.

8. Wages. Those founded on claims for wages or for a liability or penalty for failure to pay wages, within two years.

9. Malpractice. Those founded on injuries to the person or wrongful death against any physician and surgeon, osteopath, osteopathic physician and surgeon, dentist, podiatrist, optometrist, pharmacist, chiropractor, or nurse, licensed under chapter 147, or a hospital licensed under chapter 135B, arising out of patient care, within two years after the date on which the claimant knew, or through the use of reasonable diligence should have known, or received notice in writing of the existence of, the injury or death for which damages are sought in the action, whichever of the dates occurs first, but in no event shall any action be brought more than six years after the date on which occurred the act or omission or occurrence alleged in the action to have been the cause of the injury or death unless a foreign object unintentionally left in the body caused the injury or death.

10. Secured interest in farm products. Those founded on a secured interest in farm products, within two years from the date of sale of the farm products against the secured interest of the creditor.

11. Improvements to real property. In addition to limitations contained elsewhere in this section, an action arising out of the unsafe or defective condition of an improvement to real property based on tort and implied warranty and for contribution and indemnity, and founded on injury to property, real or personal, or injury to the person or wrongful death, shall not be brought more than fifteen years after the date on which occurred the act or omission of the defendant alleged in the action to have been the cause of the injury or death. However, this subsection does not bar an action against a person solely in the person's capacity as an owner, occupant, or operator of an improvement to real property.

12. Sexual abuse by a counselor or therapist. An action for damages for injury suffered as a result of sexual abuse by a counselor or therapist shall be brought within five years of the date the victim was last treated by the counselor or therapist.

614.14 Recovery by beneficiary of trust.

1. In all cases where a deed of trust or declaration of trust has been executed and the real estate affected by the deed or declaration has been conveyed by the trustee or the surviving spouse or heirs of the trustee and the conveyance was recorded in the proper county prior to March 1, 1982, and the interest of the beneficiary of the trust in the real estate has not been conveyed or established by proper proceedings in court, by the beneficiary, an action, suit or proceeding shall not be commenced or maintained to foreclose the same, or to establish or recover the interest of the beneficiary in the real estate, or of the surviving spouse or heirs of the beneficiary, unless the action, suit, or proceeding is commenced by filing petition and service of notice not later than March 1, 1992.

2. In all cases where a deed of trust or declaration of trust has been executed, no legal action shall be commenced or maintained to foreclose real estate or establish or recover the interest of a beneficiary or of the surviving spouse or an heir of the beneficiary in the real estate, if all the following conditions are satisfied:

a. The real estate affected by the deed or declaration of trust has been conveyed by the trustee or the surviving spouse or heir of the trustee.

b. The conveyance was recorded in the proper county for more than ten years.

c. The interest of the beneficiary of the trust and the real estate has not been conveyed or established by the proper proceedings in court.

However, this section shall not apply if the legal action is commenced by filing a petition of service of notice within ten years of the recording of the conveyance.

614.15 Spouse failing to join in conveyance.

1. In all cases where the holder of the legal or equitable title or estate to real estate situated within this state, prior to July 1, 1981, conveyed the real estate or any interest in the real estate by deed, mortgage, or other instrument, and the spouse failed to join in the conveyance, the spouse or the heirs at law, personal representatives, devisees, grantees, or assignees of the spouse are barred from recovery unless suit is brought for recovery within one year after July 1, 1991. But in case the right to the distributive share has not accrued by the death of the spouse executing the instrument, then the one not joining is authorized to file in the recorder's office of the county where the land is situated, a notice with affidavit setting forth affiant's claim, together with the facts upon which the claim rests, and the residence of the claimants. If the notice is not filed within two years from July 1, 1991, the claim is barred forever. Any action contemplated in this section may include land situated in different counties, by giving notice as provided by section 617.13.

2. In all cases where the holder of the legal or equitable title or estate to real estate situated within this state, after July 1, 1991, conveyed the real estate or any interest in the real estate by deed, mortgage, or other instrument, and spouse failed to join in the conveyance, the spouse or the heirs at law, personal representative, devisees, grantees, or assignees of the spouse are barred from recovery unless suit is brought for recovery within ten years from the date of the conveyance. However, in the case where the right to the distributive share has not accrued by the death of the spouse executing the instrument, then the party not joining is authorized to file in the recorder's office in the county where the land is situated, a notice with affidavit setting forth the affiant's claim, together with the facts upon which the claim is based, and the residence of the claimants. If the notice is not filed within ten years from the date of the execution of the instrument the claim is barred forever. Any action contemplated in this section may include land situated in different counties by giving notice as provided in section 617.13. The effect of filing the notice with affidavit shall extend for a further period of ten years the time within which the action may be brought. Successive notices may be filed extending this period.

614.17 Claims to real estate antedating 1980.

An action based upon a claim arising or existing prior to January 1, 1980, shall not be maintained, either at law or in equity, in any court to recover real estate in this state or to recover or establish any interest in or claim to real estate, legal or equitable, against the holder of the record title to the real estate in possession, when the holder of the record title and the holder's immediate or remote grantors are shown by the record to have held chain of title to the real estate, since January 1, 1980, unless the claimant in person, or by the claimant's attorney or agent, or if the claimant is a minor or under legal disability, by the claimant's guardian, trustee, or either parent, within one year from and after July 1, 1991, files in the office of the recorder of deeds of the county in which the real estate is situated, a statement in writing, which is duly acknowledged, definitely describing the real estate involved, the nature and extent of the right or interest claimed, and stating the facts upon which the claim is based.

For the purposes of this section, section 614.17A, and sections 614.18 to 614.20, a person who holds title to real estate by will or descent from a person who held the title of record to the real estate at the date of that person's death or who holds title by decree or order of a court, or under a tax deed, trustee's, referee's, guardian's, executor's, administrator's, receiver's, assignee's, master's in chancery, or sheriff's deed, holds chain of title the same as though holding by direct conveyance.

For the purposes of this section and section 614.17A, such possession of real estate may be shown of record by affidavits showing the possession, and when the affidavits have been filed and recorded, it is the duty of the recorder to enter upon the margin of the record, a certificate to the effect that the affidavits were filed by the owner in possession, as named in the affidavits, or by the owner's attorney in fact, as shown by the records and in like manner, the affidavits may be filed and recorded where any action was barred on any claim by this section as in force prior to July 1, 1991.

1 After July 1, 1992, an action shall not be maintained in a court, either at law or in equity, in order to recover or establish an interest in or claim to real estate if all the following conditions are satisfied a The action is based upon a claim arising more than ten years earlier or existing for more than ten years

b The action is against the holder of the record title to the real estate in possession

c The holder of the record title to the real estate in possession and the holder's immediate or remote grantors are shown by the record to have held chain of title to the real estate for more than ten years

2 The claimant within ten years of the date on which the claim arose or first existed must file with the county recorder in the county where the real estate is located a written statement which is duly acknowledged and definitely describes the real estate involved, the nature and extent of the right of interest claimed, and the facts upon which the claim is based. The claimant must file the statement in person or by the claimant's attorney or agent. If the claimant is a minor or under a legal disability, the statement must be filed by the claimant's guardian, trustee, or by either parent.

The filing of a claim shall extend for a further period of ten years the time within which such action may be brought by any person entitled to bring the claim. The person may file extensions for successive claims.

614.22 Action affecting ancient deeds.

1 An action shall not be maintained to set aside, cancel, annul, declare void or invalid, or to redeem from a tax deed, guardian's deed, executor's deed, administrator's deed, receiver's deed, referee's deed, assignee's deed or sheriff's deed which has been recorded in the office of the recorder of the county or counties in this state in which the land described in the deed is situated prior to January 1, 1980, unless the action is commenced prior to January 1, 1992, and if an action to set aside, cancel, annul, declare void or invalid, or to redeem from the deed is not commenced prior to January 1, 1992, then the deed and all the proceedings upon which the deed is based are valid and unimpeachable and effective to convey title as stated in the deed, without exception for infancy, mental illness, absence from the state, or other disability or cause, provided that this section and section 614 23 do not apply to real property described in a deed which is not on July 1, 1991, in the possession of those claiming title under the deed.

2 On and after January 1, 1992, an action shall not be maintained to set aside, cancel, annul, or void a deed, and an action shall not be maintained to redeem from such deed, if the deed has been recorded in the office of the recorder for more than ten years. The deed must be recorded in the office of the recorder of the county or counties in which the land described in the deed is situated. If an action under this subsection is not commenced within ten years of the recording of the deed, then the deed and all proceedings upon which the deed is based are valid and unimpeachable and effective to convey title as stated in the deed, without exception for infancy, mental illness, absence from the state, or other disability or cause. As used in this subsection "deed" means a tax deed, guardian's deed, executor's deed, administrator's deed, receiver's deed, referee's deed, assignee's deed, or sheriff's deed.

However, this subsection and section 614 23 do not apply to real property described in any deed which is for more than ten years in the possession of a person claiming title under the deed.

EVIDENCE

622.10 Communications in professional confidence — exceptions — application to court.

A practicing attorney, counselor, physician, surgeon, physician's assistant, mental health professional, or the stenographer or confidential clerk of any such person, who obtains information by reason of the person's employment, or a member of the clergy shall not be allowed, in giving testimony, to disclose any confidential communication properly entrusted to the person in the person's professional capacity, and necessary and proper to enable the person to discharge the functions of the person's office according to the usual course of practice or discipline. The prohibition does not apply to cases where the person in whose favor the prohibition is made waives the rights conferred; nor does the prohibition apply to physicians or surgeons, physician's assistants, mental health professionals, or to the stenographer or confidential clerk of any physicians or surgeons, physician's assistants, or mental health professionals, in a civil action in which the condition of the person in whose favor the prohibition is made is an element or factor of the claim or defense of the person or of any party claiming through or under the person. The evidence is admissible upon trial of the action only as it relates to the condition alleged.

If an adverse party desires the oral deposition, either discovery or evidentiary, of a physician or surgeon, physician's assistant, or mental health professional to which the prohibition would otherwise apply or the stenographer or confidential clerk of a physician or surgeon, physician's assistant, or mental health professional or desires to call a physician or surgeon, physician's assistant, or mental health professional to which the prohibition would otherwise apply or the stenographer or confidential clerk of a physician or surgeon, physician's assistant, or mental health professional as a witness at the trial of the action, the adverse party shall file an application with the court for permission to do so. The court upon hearing, which shall not be ex parte, shall grant permission unless the court finds that the evidence sought does not relate to the condition alleged and shall fix a reasonable fee to be paid to the physician or surgeon, physician's assistant, or mental health professional by the party taking the deposition or calling the witness.

For the purposes of this section, "mental health professional" means a psychologist licensed under chapter 154B, a registered nurse licensed under chapter 152, a social worker licensed under chapter 154C, a marital and family therapist licensed under chapter 154D, a mental health counselor licensed under chapter 154D, or an individual holding at least a master's degree in a related field as deemed appropriate by the board of behavioral science examiners.

No qualified school guidance counselor, who has met the certification and accreditation standards of the department of education as provided in section 256.11, subsection 10, who obtains information by reason of the counselor's employment as a qualified school guidance counselor shall be allowed, in giving testimony, to disclose any confidential communications properly entrusted to the counselor by a pupil or the pupil's parent or guardian in the counselor's capacity as a qualified school guidance counselor and necessary and proper to enable the counselor to perform the counselor's duties as a qualified school guidance counselor.

In all cases where depositions are taken by either method provided by law, outside of the county in which the case is for trial where books of account are competent evidence in the case, the party desiring to offer the entries of said books as evidence may cause the same to be photographed by or under the direction of the officer taking the deposition and such photographic copy when certified by such officer with the officer's seal attached shall be attached to the deposition, and if the record shows affirmatively the preliminary proof required by section 622.28, such copy shall be admitted in evidence with the same force and effect as the original.

2. If any business, institution, member of a profession or calling, or any department or agency of government, in the regular course of business or activity has kept or recorded any memorandum, writing, entry print, representation or combination thereof, of any act, transaction, occurrence or event and in the regular course of business has caused any or all of the same to be recorded, copied, or reproduced by any photographic, photostatic, microfilm, microcard, miniature photographic, electronic imaging, electronic data processing, or other process which accurately reproduces or forms a durable medium for accurately and legibly reproducing an unaltered image or reproduction of the original, the original may be destroyed in the regular course of business unless held in a custodial or fiduciary capacity or unless its preservation is required by law, except if the originals are records, reports, or other papers of a county officer they shall not be destroyed until they have been preserved for ten years. Such reproduction, when satisfactorily identified, is as admissible in evidence as the original itself in any judicial or administrative proceeding whether the original is in existence or not and an enlargement or facsimile of such reproduction is likewise admissible in evidence if the original recording, copy, or reproduction is in existence and available for inspection under direction of court. The introduction of a reproduced record, enlargement or facsimile, does not preclude admission of the original.

SMALL CLAIMS

631.6 Fees and costs.

All fees and costs required to be paid in small claims actions shall be paid in advance, and shall be assessed as costs in the action.

1. The filing fee for a small claims action is twenty-five dollars. The fee shall be deposited in the court revenue distribution account as established in section 602.8108. Of the amount of the fee paid into the state treasury, one dollar shall be deposited in the judicial retirement fund established in section 602.9104 to be used to pay retirement benefits of the judicial retirement system.

The clerk shall collect an additional fee of five dollars upon docketing a small claims action, and shall remit the fee to the treasurer of state for deposit in the general fund of the state. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, including but not limited to the other provisions of this section, the additional fee of five dollars imposed in this paragraph shall not be deposited in the court revenue distribution account, and shall not be deposited in the judicial retirement fund.

2. Postage charged for the mailing of original notices shall be the actual cost of the postage.

3. Fees for personal service by peace officers or other officials of the state are the amounts specified by law.

4. Fees for service of notice on nonresidents are as provided in section 617.3.

All fees and costs collected in small claims actions, shall be deposited in the court revenue distribution account established under section 602.8108, except that the fee specified in subsection 4 shall be remitted to the secretary of state.

CHAPTER 633

PROBATE CODE

633.10 Jurisdiction.

The district court sitting in probate shall have jurisdiction of:

1. Estates of decedents and absentees.

The probate and contest of wills; the appointment of personal representatives; the granting of letters testamentary and of administration; the administration, settlement and distribution of estates of decedents and absentees, whether such estates consist of real or personal property or both.

2. Construction of wills and trust instruments.

The construction of wills and trust instruments during the administration of the estate or trust, whether said construction be incident to such administration, or as a separate proceeding.

3. Conservatorships and guardianships.

The appointment of conservators and guardians; the granting of letters of conservatorship and guardianship; the administration, settlement and closing of conservatorships and guardianships.

4. Trusts and trustees.

a. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, the appointment of trustees; the granting of letters of trusteeship; the administration of testamentary trusts; the administration of express trusts where jurisdiction is specifically conferred on the court by the trust instrument; the administration of express trusts where the administration of the court is invoked by the trustee, beneficiary, or any interested party; the administration of trusts which are established by a decree of court and result in the administration thereof by the court; and the settlement and closing of all such trusts.

b. A trust which is administered solely or jointly by a bank or trust company referred to in section 633.63, subsection 2, is not subject to the jurisdiction of the court unless jurisdiction is invoked by the trustee or beneficiary, or if otherwise provided by the governing instrument. Upon application by a bank or trust company administering a trust which was in existence on May 20, 1985, and is subject to the court's jurisdiction, and following notice to the beneficiaries as provided in section 633.40, subsection 4, the court shall release the trust from further jurisdiction unless one or more beneficiaries object, on the condition that jurisdiction may be thereafter invoked by the trustee or beneficiary.

c. The provisions of paragraph "b" shall be effective for applications filed on or after July 1, 1991.

633.123 Model prudent person investment Act.

1. Investments by fiduciaries. When investing, reinvesting, purchasing, acquiring, exchanging, selling, and managing property for the benefit of another, a fiduciary shall exercise the care, skill, prudence, and diligence under the circumstances then prevailing that a prudent person acting in a like capacity and familiar with such matters would use to attain the purposes of the account. This standard requires that when making investment decisions, a fiduciary shall consider the role that the investment plays within the account's portfolio of assets and may consider the general economic conditions, the anticipated tax consequences of the investment, the anticipated duration of the account, and the needs of all beneficiaries of the account.

The propriety of an investment decision is to be determined by what the fiduciary knew or should have known at the time of the decision about the inherent nature and expected performance of the investment, the attributes of the account portfolio, the general economy, and the needs and objectives of the beneficiaries of the account as they existed at the time of the investment decision.

2. Actions pursuant to governing instrument. A fiduciary acting under a governing instrument is not liable to anyone whose interests arise from the instrument for the fiduciary's good faith reliance on the express provisions of the instrument. In the absence of an express provision to the contrary in the governing instrument, a fiduciary shall not be deemed to have breached the person's fiduciary duties for continuing to hold property received into an account at the account's inception or subsequently added to the account or acquired pursuant to proper authority if the fiduciary, in good faith and with reasonable prudence, considers that retention is in the best interest of the trust or estate or in furtherance of the goals of the governing instrument.

If a fiduciary is expressly directed or permitted by a will, agreement, court order, or other instrument creating or defining the fiduciary's duties and powers, to invest in United States government obligations, the fiduciary may, in the absence of an express prohibition in the instrument, invest in and hold such obligations either directly or in the form of interests in an investment company or investment trust registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940, 15 U.S.C. § 80a, the portfolio of which is limited to United States government obligations and to repurchase agreements fully collateralized by United States government obligations, if the investment company or investment trust takes delivery of the collateral either directly or through an authorized custodian.

3. Powers of court to authorize investment. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed as restricting the power of the court, after such notice as the court may prescribe, to permit a fiduciary to deviate from the terms of any will, agreement, or other instrument relating to the acquisition, investment, reinvestment, exchange, retention, sale or management of fiduciary property.

4. Scope of application. The provisions of this section shall govern all fiduciaries acting under the jurisdiction of the court whether the wills, agreements or other instruments under which they are acting now exist, or are hereafter made.

633.175 Waiver of bond by court.

The court may, for good cause shown, exempt any fiduciary from giving bond, if the court finds that the interests of creditors and distributees will not thereby be prejudiced. However, the court shall not exempt a conservator from giving bond in a conservatorship with total assets of more than ten thousand dollars, excluding real property, unless it is a voluntary conservatorship in which the petitioner is eighteen years of age or older and has waived bond in the petition.

633.356 Distribution of property by affidavit.

1. When the gross value of the decedent's personal property does not exceed ten thousand dollars and there is no real property or the real property passes to a surviving spouse as joint tenant with right of survivorship, and if forty days have elapsed since the death of the decedent, the successor of the decedent as defined in subsection 2 may, by filing an affidavit prepared pursuant to subsection 3, and without procuring letters of appointment, do any of the following with respect to one or more particular items of personal property:

a. Receive any particular item of property that is tangible personal property of the decedent.

b. Have any particular item of property that is evidence of a debt, obligation, interest, right, security, or chose in action belonging to the decedent transferred.

c. Collect the proceeds from any life insurance policy or any other item of property for which a beneficiary has not been designated.

2. "Successor of the decedent" means:

a. If the decedent died testate, the beneficiary or beneficiaries who succeeded to the particular item of property of the decedent under the decedent's will. For the purposes of this subsection the trustee of a trust created during the decedent's lifetime is a beneficiary under the decedent's will if the trust succeeds to the particular item of property under the decedent's will.

b. If the decedent died intestate, the person or persons who succeeded to the particular item of property of the decedent under the laws of intestate succession of this state.

3. To collect money, receive tangible personal property, or have evidences of intangible personal property transferred under this chapter, the successor of the decedent shall furnish to the holder of the decedent's property an affidavit under penalty of perjury stating all of the following:

a. The decedent's name and the date and place of the decedent's death.

b. That at least forty days have elapsed since the death of the decedent, as shown by an attached certified copy of the death certificate of the decedent.

c. That the gross value of the decedent's personal property does not exceed ten thousand dollars and there is no real property or the real property passes to a surviving spouse as joint tenant with right of survivorship

d A description of the property of the decedent that is to be paid, transferred, or delivered to the successor

e The name, address, and social security number of the successor of the decedent to the described property, and whether the successor is under a legal disability

f If applicable, that attached copy of the decedent's will is the last will of the decedent and has been admitted to probate or otherwise filed in the office of a clerk of the district court

g That no persons other than those listed in the affidavit have a right to the interest of the decedent in the described property

h That the affiant requests that the described property be paid, delivered, or transferred to the successors of the decedent to the described property

i That the affiant affirms under penalty of perjury that the affidavit is true and correct

More than one person may execute an affidavit under this subsection

4 If the decedent had evidence of ownership of the property described in the affidavit and the holder of the property would have the right to require presentation of the evidence of ownership before the duty of the holder to pay, deliver, or transfer the property to the decedent would have arisen, the evidence of the ownership, if available, shall be presented with the affidavit to the holder of the decedent's property

If the evidence of ownership is not presented to the holder of the property, the holder may require, as a condition for the payment, delivery, or transfer of the property, that the successor provide the holder with a bond in a reasonable amount determined by the holder to be sufficient to indemnify the holder against all liability, claims, demands, loss, damages, costs, and expenses that the holder may incur or suffer by reason of the payment, delivery, or transfer of the property. This subsection does not preclude the holder and the successor from dispensing with the requirement that a bond be provided, and instead entering into an agreement satisfactory to the holder concerning the duty of the successor to indemnify the holder

Judgments rendered by any court in this state and mortgages belonging to a decedent whose personal property is being distributed pursuant to this section may, without prior order of court, be released, discharged, or assigned, in whole or in part, as to any particular property, and deeds may be executed in performance of real estate contracts entered into by the decedent, where an affidavit made pursuant to subsection 3 is filed in the office of the county recorder of the county wherein any judgment, mortgage, or real estate contract appears of record

5 Reasonable proof of the identity of each successor of the decedent seeking distribution by virtue of the affidavit shall be provided to the satisfaction of the holder of the decedent's property

6 If the requirements of this section are satisfied

a The property described in the affidavit shall be paid, delivered, or transferred to the successor of the decedent's interest in the property

b A transfer agent of a security described in the affidavit shall change registered ownership on the books of the corporation from the decedent to the person listed on the affidavit as the successor of the decedent's interest

If the holder of the decedent's property refuses to pay, deliver, or transfer any property or evidence thereof to the successor of the decedent within a reasonable time, the successor may recover the property or compel its payment, delivery, or transfer in an action brought for that purpose against the holder of the property. If an action is brought against the holder under this subsection, the court shall award attorney's fees to the person bringing the action if the court finds that the holder of the decedent's property acted unreasonably in refusing to pay, deliver, or transfer the property to the person as required by this subsection

7 If the requirements of this section are satisfied, receipt by the holder of the decedent's property of the affidavit constitutes sufficient acquittance for the payment of money, delivery of property, or transferring the registered ownership of property pursuant to this chapter and discharges the holder from any further liability with respect to the money or property. The holder may rely in good faith on the statements in the affidavit and has no duty to inquire into the truth of any statement in the affidavit

If the requirements of this section are satisfied, the holder is not liable for any debt owed by the decedent by reason of paying money, delivering property, or transferring registered ownership of property pursuant to this chapter

8 When a deceased distributee is entitled to money or property claimed in an affidavit presented under this section with respect to a deceased person whose estate is being administered in this state, the personal representative of the person whose estate is being administered shall present the affidavit to the court in which the estate is being administered. The court shall direct the personal representative to pay the money or deliver the property to the person identified by the affidavit as the successor of the deceased distributee to the extent that the court determines that the deceased distributee was entitled to the money or property under the will or the laws of intestate succession

9 The procedure provided by this section may be used only if no administration of the decedent's estate is pending

1. A guardian may be granted the following powers and duties which may be exercised without prior court approval:

a. Providing for the care, comfort and maintenance of the ward, including the appropriate training and education to maximize the ward's potential.

b. Taking reasonable care of the ward's clothing, furniture, vehicle and other personal effects.

c. Assisting the ward in developing maximum self-reliance and independence.

d. Ensuring the ward receives necessary emergency medical services.

e. Ensuring the ward receives professional care, counseling, treatment or services as needed.

f. Any other powers or duties the court may specify.

2. A guardian may be granted the following powers which may only be exercised upon court approval:

a. Changing, at the guardian's request, the ward's permanent residence if the proposed new residence is more restrictive of the ward's liberties than the current residence.

b. Arranging the provision of major elective surgery or any other nonemergency major medical procedure.

c. Consent to the withholding or withdrawal of life-sustaining procedures in accordance with chapter 144A.

3. The court may take into account all available information concerning the capabilities of the ward and any additional evaluation deemed necessary, and may direct that the guardian have only a specially limited responsibility for the ward. In that event, the court shall state those areas of responsibility which shall be supervised by the guardian and all others shall be retained by the ward. The court may make a finding that the ward lacks the capacity to contract a valid marriage.

4. From time to time, upon a proper showing, the court may alter the respective responsibilities of the guardian and the ward, after notice to the ward and an opportunity to be heard.

CHAPTER 654

FORECLOSURE OF REAL ESTATE MORTGAGES

654.2B Requirements of notice of right to cure.

The notice of right to cure shall be in writing and shall conspicuously state the name, address, and telephone number of the creditor or other person to which payment is to be made, a brief identification of the obligation secured by the deed of trust or mortgage and of the borrower's right to cure the default, a statement of the nature of the right to cure the default, a statement of the nature of the alleged default, a statement of the total payment, including an itemization of any delinquency or deferral charges, or other performance necessary to cure the alleged default, and the exact date by which the amount must be paid or performance tendered and a statement that if the borrower does not cure the alleged default the creditor or a person acting on behalf of the creditor is entitled to proceed with initiating a foreclosure action or procedure. The failure of the notice of right to cure to comply with one or more provisions of this section is not a defense or claim in any action pursuant to this chapter and does not invalidate any procedure pursuant to chapter 655A, unless the person asserting the defense, claim, or invalidity proves that the person was substantially prejudiced by such failure.

91 Acts, ch 46, §1 HF 567

654.2D Nonagricultural land — notice, right to cure default.

1. Except as provided in section 654.2A, a creditor shall comply with this section before initiating an action pursuant to this chapter or initiating the procedure established pursuant to chapter 655A to foreclose on a deed of trust or mortgage.

2. A creditor who believes in good faith that a borrower on a deed of trust or mortgage on a homestead is in default shall give the borrower a notice of right to cure as provided in section 654.2B. A creditor gives the notice when the creditor delivers the notice to the consumer or mails the notice to the borrower's residence as defined in section 537.1201, subsection 4.

3. The borrower has a right to cure the default within thirty days from the date the creditor gives the notice.

4. a. The creditor shall not accelerate the maturity of the unpaid balance of the obligation, demand or otherwise take possession of the land, otherwise than by accepting a voluntary surrender of it, or otherwise attempt to enforce the obligation until thirty days after a proper notice of right to cure is given.

b. Until the expiration of thirty days after notice is given, the borrower may cure the default by tendering either the amount of all unpaid installments due at the time of tender, without acceleration, or the amount stated in the notice of right to cure, whichever is less, or by tendering any other performance necessary to cure a default which is described in the notice of right to cure.

5. The act of curing a default restores to the borrower the borrower's rights under the obligation and the deed of trust or mortgage.

6. This section does not prohibit the creditor from enforcing the creditor's interest in the land at any time after the creditor has complied with this section and the borrower did not cure the alleged default.

7. A borrower has a right to cure the default unless the creditor has given the borrower a proper notice of right to cure with respect to a prior default which occurred within three hundred sixty-five days of the present default.

8. This section does not apply if the creditor is an individual or individuals, or if the mortgaged property is property other than a one-family or two-family dwelling which is the residence of the mortgagor.

9. An affidavit signed by an officer of the creditor that the creditor has complied with this section is deemed to be conclusive evidence of compliance by all persons other than the creditor and the mortgagor.

10. As used in this section, "creditor" includes a person acting on behalf of a creditor.

CHAPTER 656

FORFEITURE OF REAL ESTATE CONTRACTS

656.2 Notice.

1. The forfeiture shall be initiated by the vendor by serving on the vendee a written notice which shall:

a. Reasonably identify the contract and accurately describe the real estate covered.

b. Specify the terms of the contract with which the vendee has not complied.

c. State that unless, within thirty days after the completed service of the notice, the vendee performs the terms in default and pays the reasonable costs of serving the notice, the contract will be forfeited.

d. Specify the amount of attorney fees claimed by the vendor pursuant to section 656.7 and state that payment of the attorney fees is not required to comply with the notice and prevent forfeiture.

2. The vendor shall also serve a copy of the notice required in subsection 1 on the person in possession of the real estate, if different than the vendee; on all the vendee's mortgagees of record; and on a person who asserts a claim against the vendee's interest, except a government or governmental subdivision or agency holding a lien for real estate taxes or assessments, if the person has done both of the following:

a. Requested, on a form which substantially complies with the following form, that notice of forfeiture be served on the person at an address specified in the request.

REQUEST FOR NOTICE PURSUANT TO IOWA CODE SECTION 656.2, SUBSECTION 2

CAUTION: Your name and address must be correct. If not correct, you will not receive notice requested because notice need only be served on you at the above address. If your address changes, a new request for notice must be filed.

The request for notice shall be indexed pursuant to section 558.50.

b. Filed the request form for record in the office of the county recorder after acquisition of the vendee's interest but prior to the date of recording of the proof and record of service of notice of forfeiture required by section 656.5 and paid a fee of five dollars.

The request for notice is valid for a period of five years from the date of filing with the county recorder. The request for notice may be renewed for additional periods of five years by the procedure specified in this subsection. The request for notice may be amended at any time by the procedure specified in this subsection.

The vendee's mortgagees of record include all assignees of record for collateral purposes.

3. As used in this section, the terms "vendor" and "vendee" include a successor in interest but the term "vendee" excludes a vendee who assigned or conveyed of record all of the vendee's interest in the real estate.

CRIMINAL HISTORY AND INTELLIGENCE DATA

692.2 Dissemination of criminal history data — fees.

1. Except in cases in which members of the department are participating in an investigation or arrest, the department and bureau may provide copies or communicate information from criminal history data only to the following:

- a* Criminal justice agencies.
- b* Other public agencies as authorized by the commissioner of public safety.

c The department of human services for the purposes of section 218.13, section 232.71, subsection 16, section 232.142, section 237.8, subsection 2, section 237A.5, section 237A.20, and section 600.8, subsections 1 and 2.

e The state lottery division for purposes of section 99E.9, subsection 2.

f The Iowa department of public health for the purposes of screening employees and applicants for employment in substance abuse treatment programs which admit juveniles and are licensed under chapter 125.

g. Licensed private child-caring and child-placing agencies and certified adoption investigators for the purpose of section 237.8, subsection 2, and section 600.8, subsections 1 and 2.

h. A psychiatric medical institution for children licensed under chapter 135H for the purposes of section 237.8, subsection 2 and section 600.8, subsections 1 and 2.

i. The board of educational examiners for the purpose of carrying out duties imposed under section 260.2, subsection 14.

2. The bureau shall maintain a list showing the individual or agency to whom the data is disseminated and the date of dissemination.

3. Persons authorized to receive information under subsection 1 shall request and may receive criminal history data only when both of the following apply:

a. The data is for official purposes in connection with prescribed duties or required pursuant to section 237.8, subsection 2 or section 237A.5.

b. The request for data is based upon name, fingerprints, or other individual identifying characteristics.

4. The provisions of this section and section 692.3 which relate to the requiring of an individually identified request prior to the dissemination or re-dissemination of criminal history data do not apply to the furnishing of criminal history data to the federal bureau of investigation or to the dissemination or re-dissemination of information that an arrest warrant has been or will be issued, and other relevant information including but not limited to, the offense and the date and place of alleged commission, individually identifying characteristics of the person to be arrested, and the court or jurisdiction issuing the warrant.

5. Notwithstanding other provisions of this section, the department and bureau may provide copies or communicate information from criminal history data to any youth service agency approved by the commissioner of public safety. The department shall adopt rules to provide for the qualification and approval of youth service agencies to receive criminal history data.

The criminal history data to be provided by the department and bureau to authorized youth service agencies shall be limited to information on applicants for paid or voluntary positions, where those positions would place the applicant in direct contact with children.

6. The department may charge a fee to any non-law-enforcement agency to conduct criminal history record checks and otherwise administer this section and other sections of the Code providing access to criminal history records. The fee shall be set by the commissioner of public safety equal to the cost incurred not to exceed twenty dollars for each individual check requested. Notwithstanding any other limitation, the department is authorized to use revenues generated from the fee to employ clerical personnel to process criminal history checks for nonlaw-enforcement purposes.

In cases in which members of the department are participating in the investigation or arrest, or where officers of other criminal justice agencies participating in the investigation or arrest consent, the department may disseminate criminal history data and intelligence data when the dissemination complies with section 692.3.

CHAPTER 702

DEFINITIONS

702.11 Forcible felony.

A “forcible felony” is any felonious child endangerment, assault, murder, sexual abuse, kidnapping, robbery, arson in the first degree, or burglary in the first degree. However, sexual abuse in the third degree committed between spouses, sexual abuse in violation of section 709.4, subsection 2, paragraph “c”, subparagraph (4), or sexual exploitation by a counselor or therapist in violation of section 709.15, is not a “forcible felony”.

CHAPTER 708

708.2A Domestic abuse assault — mandatory minimums, penalties enhanced.

1. For the purposes of this chapter, “domestic abuse assault” means an assault, as defined in section 708.1, which is domestic abuse as defined in section 236.2.

2. On a first offense of domestic abuse assault, the person commits:

a. A simple misdemeanor for a domestic abuse assault, except as otherwise provided.

b. A serious misdemeanor, if the domestic abuse assault is committed without the intent to inflict a serious injury upon another, and the assault causes bodily injury or disabling mental illness.

c. An aggravated misdemeanor, if the domestic abuse assault is committed with the intent to inflict a serious injury upon another, or if the person uses or displays a dangerous weapon in connection with the assault. This paragraph does not apply if section 708.6 or 708.8 applies.

3. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, on a second or subsequent domestic abuse assault, a person commits:

a. A serious misdemeanor, if the first offense was classified as a simple misdemeanor, and the second offense would otherwise be classified as a simple misdemeanor.

b. An aggravated misdemeanor, if the first offense was classified as a simple or aggravated misdemeanor, and the second offense would otherwise be classified as a serious misdemeanor, or the first offense was classified as a serious or aggravated misdemeanor, and the second offense would otherwise be classified as a simple or serious misdemeanor.

A conviction for, deferred judgment for, or plea of guilty to, a violation of this section which occurred more than six years prior to the date of the violation charged shall not be considered in determining that the violation charged is a second or subsequent offense. For the purpose of determining if a violation charged is a second or subsequent offense, deferred judgments issued pursuant to section 907.3 for violations of section 708.2 or this section, which were issued on domestic abuse assaults, and convictions or the equivalent of deferred judgments for violations in any other states under statutes substantially corresponding to this section shall be counted as previous offenses. The courts shall judicially notice the statutes of other states which define offenses substantially equivalent to the offenses defined in this section and can therefore be considered corresponding statutes. Each previous violation on which conviction or deferral of judgment was entered prior to the date of the offense charged shall be considered and counted as a separate previous offense. An offense shall be considered a prior offense regardless of whether it was committed upon the same victim.

4. A person convicted of violating this section shall serve a minimum term of two days of the sentence imposed by law, and shall not be eligible for suspension of the minimum sentence. The minimum term shall be served on consecutive days. This section does not prohibit the court from sentencing and the defendant from serving the maximum term of confinement or from paying the maximum fine permitted pursuant to chapters 902 and 903, and does not prohibit the court from entering a deferred judgment or sentence pursuant to section 907.3, if the defendant has not previously received a deferred sentence or judgment for a violation of section 708.2 or this section which was issued on a domestic abuse assault. However, once the defendant has received one deferred sentence or judgment involving a violation of section 708.2 or this section which was issued on a domestic abuse assault, the defendant shall not be eligible to receive another deferred sentence or judgment for a violation of this section.

5. The clerk of the district court shall provide oral or other notice and copies of a judgment entered under this section to the applicable law enforcement agencies and the twenty-four hour dispatcher for the law enforcement agencies, in the manner provided for protective orders under section 236.5. The clerk shall provide oral or other notice and copies of modifications of the judgment in the same manner.

6. In addition to the mandatory minimum term of confinement imposed by this section, the court shall order the defendant to participate in a batterers' treatment program as required under section 708.2B. In addition, as a condition of deferring judgment or sentence pursuant to section 907.3, the court shall order the defendant to participate in a batterers' treatment program. The clerk of the district court shall send a copy of the judgment or deferred judgment to the judicial district department of correctional services.

708.2B Treatment of domestic abuse offenders.

As used in this section, "district department" means a judicial district department of correctional services, established pursuant to section 905.2. A person convicted of, or receiving a deferred judgment for, domestic abuse assault shall report to the district department in order to participate in a batterers' treatment program for domestic abuse offenders. Participation in the batterers' treatment program shall not require a person to be placed on probation, but a person on probation may participate in the program. The district departments may contract for services in completing the duties relating to the batterers' treatment programs. The district departments shall assess the fees for participation in the program, and shall either collect or contract for the collection of the fees to recoup the costs of treatment, but may waive the fee or collect a lesser amount upon a showing of cause. The fees shall be used by each of the district departments or contract service providers for the establishment, administration, coordination, and provision of direct services of the batterers' treatment programs.

709.15 Sexual abuse by a counselor or therapist.

1. As used in this section:

a. "Counselor or therapist" means a physician, psychologist, nurse, professional counselor, social worker, marriage or family therapist, alcohol or drug counselor, member of the clergy, or any other person, whether or not licensed or registered by the state, who provides or purports to provide mental health services.

b. "Emotionally dependent" means that the nature of the patient's or client's or former patient's or client's emotional condition or the nature of the treatment provided by the counselor or therapist is such that the counselor or therapist knows or has reason to know that the patient or client or former patient or client is significantly impaired in the ability to withhold consent to sexual conduct, as described in paragraph "f", by the counselor or therapist.

For the purposes of paragraph "f", a former patient or former client is presumed to be dependent for one year following the termination of the provision of mental health services.

c “Former patient or client” means a person who received mental health services from the counselor or therapist

d “Mental health service” means the treatment, assessment, or counseling of another person for a cognitive, behavioral, emotional, mental, or social dysfunction, including an intrapersonal or interpersonal dysfunction

e “Patient or client” means a person who receives mental health services from the counselor or therapist

f “Sexual abuse by a counselor or therapist” occurs when either or both of the following are found

(1) A pattern or practice or scheme of conduct to engage in any of the conduct described in subparagraph (2) or (3)

(2) Any sexual conduct, with a patient or client or emotionally dependent former patient or client for the purpose of arousing or satisfying the sexual desires of the counselor or therapist or the patient or client or emotionally dependent former patient or client, which includes but is not limited to the following kissing, touching of the clothed or unclothed inner thigh, breast, groin, buttock, anus, pubes, or genitals, or a sex act as defined in section 702 17

(3) Any sexual conduct with a patient or client or former patient or client within one year of the termination of the provision of mental health services by the counselor or therapist for the purpose of arousing or satisfying the sexual desires of the counselor or therapist or the patient or client or former patient or client which includes but is not limited to the following kissing, touching of the clothed or unclothed inner thigh, breast, groin, buttock, anus, pubes, or genitals, or a sex act as defined in section 702 17

“Sexual abuse by a counselor or therapist” does not include touching which is part of a necessary examination or treatment provided a patient or client by a counselor or therapist acting within the scope of the practice or employment in which the counselor or therapist is engaged

2 A counselor or therapist who commits sexual abuse in violation of subsection 1, paragraph “f”, subparagraph (1), commits a class “D” felony

3 A counselor or therapist who commits sexual abuse in violation of subsection 1, paragraph “f”, subparagraph (2), commits an aggravated misdemeanor

4 A counselor or therapist who commits sexual abuse in violation of subsection 1, paragraph “f”, subparagraph (3), commits a serious misdemeanor In lieu of the sentence provided for under section 903 1, subsection 1, paragraph “b”, the offender may be required to attend a sexual abuser treatment program

CHAPTER 714

THEFT, FRAUD, AND RELATED OFFENSES

714.8 Fraudulent practices defined.

A person who does any of the following acts is guilty of a fraudulent practice

1 Makes, tenders or keeps for sale any warehouse receipt, bill of lading, or any other instrument purporting to represent any right to goods, with knowledge that the goods represented by such instrument do not exist

2 Knowingly attaches or alters any label to any goods offered or kept for sale so as to materially misrepresent the quality or quantity of such goods, or the maker or source of such goods

3 Knowingly executes or tenders a false certification under penalty of perjury, false affidavit, or false certificate, if the certification, affidavit, or certificate is required by law or given in support of a claim for compensation, indemnification, restitution, or other payment

4 Makes any entry in or alteration of any public records, or any records of any corporation, partnership, or other business enterprise or nonprofit enterprise, knowing the same to be false

5 Removes, alters or defaces any serial or other identification number, or any owners' identification mark, from any property not the person's own

6 For the purpose of soliciting assistance, contributions, or other thing of value, falsely represents oneself to be a veteran of the armed forces of the United States, or a member of any fraternal, religious, charitable, or veterans organization, or any pretended organization of a similar nature, or to be acting on behalf of such person or organization.

7. Manufactures, sells, or keeps for sale any token or device suitable for the operation of a coin-operated device or vending machine, with the intent that such token or device may be so used, or with the representation that they can be so used; provided, that the owner or operator of any coin-operated device or vending machine may sell slugs or tokens for use in the person's own devices.

8. Manufactures or possesses any false or counterfeit label, with the intent that it be placed on merchandise to falsely identify its origin or quality, or who sells any such false or counterfeit label with the representation that it may be so used.

9. Alters or renders inoperative or inaccurate any meter or measuring device used in determining the value of or compensation for the purchase, use or enjoyment of property, with the intent to defraud any person.

10. Does any act expressly declared to be a fraudulent practice by any other section of the Code.

11. Removes, defaces, covers, alters, or destroys any component part number as defined in section 321.1, subsection 73, or vehicle identification number as defined in section 321.1, subsection 74, for the purpose of concealing or misrepresenting the identity of the component part or vehicle.

12. Knowingly transfers or assigns a legal or equitable interest in property, as defined in section 702.14, for less than fair consideration, with the intent to obtain public assistance under title XI, The Code, or accepts a transfer of or an assignment of a legal or equitable interest in property, as defined in section 702.14, for less than fair consideration, with the intent of enabling the party transferring the property to obtain public assistance under title XI, The Code. A transfer or assignment of property for less than fair consideration within one year prior to an application for public assistance benefits shall be evidence of intent to transfer or assign the property in order to obtain public assistance for which a person is not eligible by reason of the amount of the person's assets. If a person is found guilty of a fraudulent practice in the transfer or assignment of property under this subsection the maximum sentence shall be the penalty established for a serious misdemeanor and sections 714.9, 714.10 and 714.11 shall not apply.

13. Fraudulent practices in connection with targeted small business programs.

a. Knowingly transfers or assigns assets, ownership, or equitable interest in property of a business to a woman or minority person primarily for the purpose of obtaining benefits under targeted small business programs if the transferor would otherwise not be qualified for such programs.

b. Solicits and is awarded a state contract on behalf of a targeted small business for the purpose of transferring the contract to another for a percentage if the person transferring or intending to transfer the work had no intention of performing the work.

c. Knowingly falsifying information on an application for the purpose of obtaining benefits under targeted small business programs.

A violation under this subsection is grounds for decertification of the targeted small business connected with the violation. Decertification shall be in addition to any penalty otherwise authorized by this section.

14. Makes payment pursuant to an agreement with a dealer or market agency for livestock held by the dealer or market agency by use of a financial instrument which is a check, share draft, draft, or written order on any financial institution, as defined in section 543.1, if after seven days from the date that possession of the livestock is transferred pursuant to the purchase, the financial institution refuses payment on the instrument because of insufficient funds in the maker's account.

This subsection is not applicable if the maker pays the holder of the instrument the amount due on the instrument within one business day from a receipt of notice by certified mail from the holder that payment has been refused by the financial institution.

As used in this subsection, "dealer" means a person engaged in the business of buying or selling livestock, either on the person's own account, or as an employee or agent of a vendor or purchaser. "Market agency" means a person engaged in the business of buying or selling livestock on a commission basis.

NEW subsection 14

Subsection 14, unnumbered paragraph 1 amended

714.16 Consumer frauds.

1. Definitions:

a. The term "advertisement" includes the attempt by publication, dissemination, solicitation or circulation to induce directly or indirectly any person to enter into any obligation or acquire any title or interest in any merchandise;

b. The term "merchandise" includes any objects, wares, goods, commodities, intangibles, securities, bonds, debentures, stocks, real estate or services;

c. The term "person" includes any natural person or the person's legal representative, partnership, corporation (domestic and foreign), company, trust, business entity or association, and any agent, employee, salesperson, partner, officer, director, member, stockholder, associate, trustee or cestui que trust thereof;

d. The term "sale" includes any sale, offer for sale, or attempt to sell any merchandise for cash or on credit;

e. The term "subdivided lands" refers to improved or unimproved land or lands divided or proposed to be divided for the purpose of sale or lease, whether immediate or future, into five or more lots or parcels; provided, however, it does not apply to the leasing of apartments, offices, stores or similar space within an apartment building, industrial building or commercial building unless an undivided interest in the land is granted as a condition precedent to occupying space in said structure.

f. “Unfair practice” means an act or practice which causes substantial, unavoidable injury to consumers that is not outweighed by any consumer or competitive benefits which the practice produces.

g. “Deception” means an act or practice which has the tendency or capacity to mislead a substantial number of consumers as to a material fact or facts.

h. “Water treatment system” means a device or assembly for which a claim is made that it will improve the quality of drinking water by reducing one or more contaminants through mechanical, physical, chemical, or biological processes or combinations of the processes. As used in this paragraph and in subsection 2, paragraph “h”, each model of a water treatment system shall be deemed a distinct water treatment system.

i. “Contaminant” means any particulate, chemical, microbiological, or radiological substance in water which has a potentially adverse health effect and for which a maximum contaminant level (MCL) has been specified in the national primary drinking water regulations.

j. “Label”, as used in subsection 2, paragraph “h”, means the written, printed, or graphic matter permanently affixed or attached to or printed on the water treatment system.

k. “Manufacturer’s performance data sheet” means a booklet, document, or other printed material containing, at a minimum, the information required pursuant to section 714.16, subsection 2, paragraph “h”.

l. “Seller”, as used in subsection 2, paragraph “h”, means the person offering the water treatment system for sale, lease, or rent.

m. “Buyer”, as used in subsection 2, paragraph “h”, means the person to whom the water system is being sold, leased, or rented.

n. “Consummation of sale” means completion of the act of selling, leasing, or renting.

o. “Consumer information pamphlet” means a publication which explains water quality, health effects, quality expectations for drinking water, and the effectiveness of water treatment systems.

2. a. The act, use or employment by a person of an unfair practice, deception, fraud, false pretense, false promise, or misrepresentation, or the concealment, suppression, or omission of a material fact with intent that others rely upon the concealment, suppression, or omission, in connection with the lease, sale, or advertisement of any merchandise or the solicitation of contributions for charitable purposes, whether or not a person has in fact been misled, deceived, or damaged, is an unlawful practice.

It is deceptive advertising within the meaning of this section for a person to represent in connection with the lease, sale, or advertisement of any merchandise that the advertised merchandise has certain performance characteristics, accessories, uses, or benefits or that certain services are performed on behalf of clients or customers of that person if, at the time of the representation, no reasonable basis for the claim existed. The burden is on the person making the representation to demonstrate that a reasonable basis for the claim existed.

A retailer who uses advertising for a product, other than a drug or other product claiming to have a health related benefit or use, prepared by a supplier shall not be liable under this section unless the retailer participated in the preparation of the advertisement; knew or should have known that the advertisement was deceptive, false, or misleading; refused to withdraw the product from sales upon the request of the attorney general pending a determination of whether the advertisement was deceptive, false, or misleading; refused upon the request of the attorney general to provide the name and address of the supplier; or refused to cooperate with the attorney general in an action brought against the supplier under this section.

“Material fact” as used in this subsection does not include repairs of damage to or adjustments on or replacements of parts with new parts of otherwise new merchandise if the repairs, adjustments or replacements are made to achieve compliance with factory specifications and are made before sale of the merchandise at retail and the actual cost of any labor and parts charged to or performed by a retailer for any such repairs, adjustments and parts does not exceed three hundred dollars or ten percent of the actual cost to a retailer including freight of the merchandise, whichever is less, providing that the seller posts in a conspicuous place notice that repairs, adjustments or replacements will be disclosed upon request. The exemption provided in this paragraph does not apply to the concealment, suppression or omission of a material fact if the purchaser requests disclosure of any repair, adjustment or replacement.

b. The advertisement for sale, lease or rent, or the actual sale, lease, or rental of any merchandise at a price or with a rebate or payment or other consideration to the purchaser which is contingent upon the procurement of prospective customers provided by the purchaser, or the procurement of sales, leases, or rentals to persons suggested by the purchaser, is declared to be an unlawful practice rendering any obligation incurred by the buyer in connection therewith, completely void and a nullity. The rights and obligations of any contract relating to such contingent price, rebate, or payment shall be interdependent and inseverable from the rights and obligations relating to the sale, lease, or rental.

c. It is an unlawful practice for any person to advertise the sale of merchandise at reduced rates due to the cessation of business operations and after the date of the first such advertisement remain in business under the same or substantially the same ownership, or under the same or substantially the same trade name, or to continue to offer for sale the same type of merchandise at the same location for more than one hundred twenty days. As used in this paragraph “person” includes a person who acquires an ownership interest in the business either within sixty days before the initial advertisement of the sale or at any time after the initial advertisement of the sale. In addition, a person acquiring an ownership interest shall comply with paragraph "g" if the person adds additional merchandise to the sale.

d (1) No person shall offer or advertise within this state for sale or lease, any subdivided lands without first filing with the real estate commission true and accurate copies of all road plans, plats, field notes, and diagrams of water, sewage, and electric power lines as they exist at the time of the filing, however, this filing is not required for a subdivision subject to section 306.21 or chapter 409A. A filing shall be accompanied by a fee of fifty dollars for each subdivision included, payable to the real estate commission.

(2) False or misleading statements filed pursuant to subparagraph (1) or section 306.21 or chapter 409A, and advertising, offers to sell, or contracts not in substantial conformity with the filings made pursuant to section 306.21 or chapter 409A are unlawful.

e Any violations of chapter 123 or any other provisions of law by a manufacturer, distiller, vintner, importer, or any other person participating in the distribution of alcoholic liquor or beer as defined in chapter 123.

f A violation of a provision of sections 535C.1 through 535C.10 is an unlawful practice.

g It is an unlawful practice for a person to acquire directly or indirectly an interest in a business which has either gone out of business or is going out of business and conduct or continue a going-out-of-business sale where additional merchandise has been added to the merchandise of the liquidating business for the purposes of the sale, unless the person provides a clear and conspicuous notice in all advertisements that merchandise has been added. The advertisement shall also state the customary retail price of the merchandise that has been added or brought in for the sale. The person acquiring the interest shall obtain a permit to hold the sale before commencing the sale. If the sale is to be held in a city which has an ordinance regulating going-out-of-business sales, then the permit shall be obtained from the city. If the sale is to be located outside of a city or in a city which does not have an ordinance regulating going-out-of-business sales, then the permit shall be obtained from the county in which the proposed sale is to be held. The county board of supervisors shall prescribe the procedures necessary to obtain the permit. The permit shall state the percentage of merchandise for sale that was obtained from the liquidating business and the percentage of merchandise for sale that was added from other sources. The permit or an accurate reproduction of the permit shall be clearly and conspicuously posted at all entrances to the site of the sale and at all locations where sales are consummated. A person who violates this paragraph, including any misrepresentation of the presence and the percentage of additional merchandise that had been added to that of the liquidating company, is liable for a civil penalty of not to exceed one thousand dollars for each day of each violation. The civil penalties collected shall be deposited in the general fund of the political entity which prosecutes the violation. The civil penalty is in addition to and not in lieu of any criminal penalty. A political entity enforcing this paragraph may obtain a preliminary injunction without posting a bond to enjoin a violation of paragraph "c" and this paragraph pending a hearing.

This paragraph does not prohibit a city or county from adopting an ordinance prohibiting the conducting of a going-out-of-business sale in which additional merchandise is added to the merchandise of the liquidating business for the purposes of the sale.

h It is an unlawful practice for a person to sell, lease, rent, or advertise the sale, lease, or rental of a water treatment system in this state, for which claims or representations of removing health-related contaminants are made, unless the water treatment system:

(1) Has been performance tested by a third-party testing agency that has been authorized by the Iowa department of public health. Alternatively, in lieu of third-party performance testing of the manufacturer's water treatment system, the manufacturer may rely upon the manufacturer's own test data after approval of the data by an accepted third-party evaluator as provided in this subparagraph. The Iowa department of public health shall review the qualifications of a third-party evaluator proposed by the manufacturer. The department may accept or reject a proposed third-party evaluator based upon the required review. If a third-party evaluator, accepted by the Iowa department of public health, finds that the manufacturer's test data is reliable, adequate, and fairly presented, the manufacturer may rely upon that data to satisfy the requirements of this subparagraph after filing a copy of the test data and the report of the third-party evaluator with the Iowa department of public health. The testing agency shall use, or the evaluator shall review for the use of, approved methods of performance testing determined to be appropriate by the state hygienic laboratory.

(2) Has met the performance testing requirements specified in the testing protocol.

(3) Bears a conspicuous and legible label stating, "IMPORTANT NOTICE - Read the Manufacturer's Performance Data Sheet" and is accompanied by a manufacturer's performance data sheet.

The manufacturer's performance data sheet shall be given to the buyer and shall be signed and dated by the buyer and the seller prior to the consummation of the sale of the water treatment system. The manufacturer's performance data sheet shall contain information including, but not limited to:

(a) The name, address, and telephone number of the seller.

(b) The name, brand, or trademark under which the unit is sold, and its model number.

(c) Performance and test data including, but not limited to, the list of contaminants certified to be reduced by the water treatment system; the test influent concentration level of each contaminant or surrogate for that contaminant; the percentage reduction or effluent concentration of each contaminant or surrogate; where applicable, the maximum contaminant level (MCL) specified in the national primary drinking water regulations; where applicable, the approximate capacity in gallons; where applicable, the period of time during which the unit is effective in reducing contaminants based upon the contaminant or surrogate influent concentrations used for the performance tests; where applicable, the flow rate, pressure, and operational temperature of the water during the performance tests.

(d) Installation instructions.

(e) The recommended operational procedures and requirements necessary for the proper operation of the unit including, but not limited to, electrical requirements; maximum and minimum pressure; flow rate; temperature limitations; maintenance requirements; and where applicable, replacement frequencies.

(f) The seller's limited warranty.

(4) Is accompanied by the consumer information pamphlet compiled by the Iowa department of public health.

The consumer information pamphlet provided to the buyer of a water treatment system shall be compiled by the Iowa department of public health, reviewed annually, and updated as necessary. The consumer information pamphlet shall be distributed to persons selling water treatment systems and the costs of the consumer information pamphlet shall be borne by persons selling water treatment systems. The Iowa department of public health shall adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A and charge all fees necessary to administer this section.

i. It is an unlawful practice for a person to sell, lease, rent, or advertise the sale, lease, or rental of a water treatment system in this state for which false or deceptive claims or representations of removing health-related contaminants are made.

j. It is an unlawful practice for a person to make any representation or claim that the seller's water treatment system has been approved or endorsed by any agency of the state.

k. It is an unlawful practice for a supplier to commit a deceptive act or practice under chapter 537B.

l. It is an unlawful practice for a repair facility or manufacturer or distributor of aftermarket crash parts, as defined in section 537B.4, to commit a deceptive act or practice under chapter 537B.

m. It is an unlawful practice for a person to advertise the sale of wood products without disclosing information which may affect the price of the product.

An advertisement for all plywood and dimension lumber products shall include the grade and species, in accordance with federal products standards 1 and 20, and the measure. The products advertised shall also be labeled according to the federal products standards.

An advertisement for any other wood product shall include the grade and species, according to the applicable federal product standards, and the measure. These products need not be labeled.

An advertisement for any wood products must also include the following:

(1) The condition of the wood product, including but not limited to the following designations:

(a) Green.

(b) Kiln-dried.

(c) Air-dried or partially air-dried.

(2) Whether the wood product consists of seconds, culls, shop grade, or ungraded material.

Use of any contrived or unrecognized grading standard is prohibited, and any factors affecting the final delivered price of the products shall be disclosed and displayed in a conspicuous place.

This paragraph applies only to persons who offer wood products for sale in the ordinary course of business, except that this paragraph does not apply to any person who produces rough-sawed lumber, commonly referred to as native lumber, in this state. For purposes of this paragraph:

"Dimension lumber" means softwood lumber nominally referred to as "two inch by four inch" or greater.

"Labeling" means all labels and other written, printed, branded, or graphic matter upon any building material.

"Plywood" means a structural material consisting of sheets or chips of wood glued or cemented together.

"Wood products" means any wood products derived from trees as a result of any work or manufacturing process upon the wood, and intended primarily for use as a building material.

3. When it appears to the attorney general that a person has engaged in, is engaging in, or is about to engage in any practice declared to be unlawful by this section or when the attorney general believes it to be in the public interest that an investigation should be made to ascertain whether a person in fact has engaged in, is engaging in or is about to engage in, any such practice, the attorney general may:

a. Require such person to file on such forms as the attorney general may prescribe a statement or report in writing under oath or otherwise, as to all the facts and circumstances concerning the sale or advertisement of merchandise by such person, and such other data and information as the attorney general may deem necessary;

b. Examine under oath any person in connection with the sale or advertisement of any merchandise;

c. Examine any merchandise or sample thereof, record, book, document, account or paper as the attorney general may deem necessary; and

d. Pursuant to an order of a district court impound any record, book, document, account, paper, or sample of merchandise that is produced in accordance with this section, and retain the same in the attorney general's possession until the completion of all proceedings in connection with which the same are produced.

4. a. To accomplish the objectives and to carry out the duties prescribed by this section, the attorney general, in addition to other powers conferred upon the attorney general by this section, may issue subpoenas to any person, administer an oath or affirmation to any person, conduct hearings in aid of any investigation or inquiry, prescribe such forms and promulgate such rules as may be necessary, which rules shall have the force of law.

b. No information or evidence provided the attorney general by a person pursuant to subsections 3 and 4 of this section shall be admitted in evidence, or used in any manner whatsoever, in any criminal prosecution. If a criminal prosecution under the provisions of this section is initiated in a state court against a person who has provided information pursuant to subsections 3 and 4 of this section, the state shall have the burden of proof that the information so provided was not used in any manner to further the criminal investigation or prosecution.

c. In any civil action brought pursuant to this chapter, the attorney general shall have the right to require any defendant to give testimony, and no criminal prosecution based upon transactions or acts about which the defendant is questioned and required to give testimony shall thereafter be brought against such defendant.

5. Service by the attorney general of any notice requiring a person to file a statement or report, or of a subpoena upon any person, shall be made personally within this state, but if such cannot be obtained, substituted service therefor may be made in the following manner:

a. Personal service thereof without this state; or

b. The mailing thereof by registered mail to the last known place of business, residence or abode within or without this state of such person for whom the same is intended; or

c. As to any person other than a natural person, in the manner provided in the Rules of Civil Procedure as if a petition had been filed; or

d. Such service as a district court may direct in lieu of personal service within this state.

6. If any person fails or refuses to file any statement or report, or obey any subpoena issued by the attorney general, the attorney general may, after notice, apply to a district court and, after hearing thereof, request an order:

a. Granting injunctive relief, restraining the sale or advertisement of any merchandise by such persons;

b. Dissolving a corporation created by or under the laws of this state or revoking or suspending the certificate of authority to do business in this state of a foreign corporation or revoking or suspending any other licenses, permits or certificates issued pursuant to law to such person which are used to further the allegedly unlawful practice; and

c. Granting such other relief as may be required; until the person files the statement or report, or obeys the subpoena.

7. A civil action pursuant to this section shall be by equitable proceedings. If it appears to the attorney general that a person has engaged in, is engaging in, or is about to engage in a practice declared to be unlawful by this section, the attorney general may seek and obtain in an action in a district court a temporary restraining order, preliminary injunction, or permanent injunction prohibiting the person from continuing the practice or engaging in the practice or doing an act in furtherance of the practice. The court may make orders or judgments as necessary to prevent the use or employment by a person of any prohibited practices, or which are necessary to restore to any person in interest any moneys or property, real or personal, which have been acquired by means of a practice declared to be unlawful by this section, including the appointment of a receiver in cases of substantial and willful violation of this section. Except in an action for the concealment, suppression, or omission of a material fact with intent that others rely upon it, it is not necessary in an action for restitution or an injunction, to allege or to prove reliance, damages, intent to deceive, or that the person who engaged in an unlawful act had knowledge of the falsity of the claim or ignorance of the truth. A claim for restitution may be proved by any competent evidence, including evidence that would be appropriate in a class action.

In addition to the remedies otherwise provided for in this subsection, the attorney general may request and the court may impose a civil penalty not to exceed forty thousand dollars per violation against a person found by the court to have engaged in a method, act, or practice declared unlawful under this section; provided, however, a course of conduct shall not be considered to be separate and different violations merely because the conduct is repeated to more than one person. In addition, on the motion of the attorney general or its own motion, the court may impose a civil penalty of not more than five thousand dollars for each day of intentional violation of a temporary restraining order, preliminary injunction, or permanent injunction issued under authority of this section. A penalty imposed pursuant to this subsection is in addition to any penalty imposed pursuant to section 537.6113. Civil penalties ordered pursuant to this subsection shall be paid to the treasurer of state to be deposited in the general fund of the state.

8. When a receiver is appointed by the court pursuant to this section, the receiver shall have the power to sue for, collect, receive and take into possession all the goods and chattels, rights and credits, moneys and effects, lands and tenements, books, records, documents, papers, choses in action, bills, notes and property of every description, derived by means of any practice declared to be illegal and prohibited by this section, including property with which such property has been mingled if it cannot be identified in kind because of such commingling, and to sell, convey, and assign the same and hold and dispose of the proceeds thereof under the direction of the court. Any person who has suffered damages as a result of the use or employment of any unlawful practices and submits proof to the satisfaction of the court that the person has in fact been damaged, may participate with general creditors in the distribution of the assets to the extent the person has sustained out-of-pocket losses. In the case of a partnership or business entity, the receiver shall settle the estate and distribute the assets under the direction of the court. The court shall have jurisdiction of all questions arising in such proceedings and may make such orders and judgments therein as may be required.

9 Subject to an order of the court terminating the business affairs of any person after receivership proceedings held pursuant to this section, the provisions of this section shall not bar any claim against any person who has acquired any moneys or property, real or personal, by means of any practice herein declared to be unlawful.

10 A civil action pursuant to this section may be commenced in the county in which the person against whom it is brought resides, has a principal place of business, or is doing business, or in the county where the transaction or any substantial portion of the transaction occurred, or where one or more of the victims reside.

11 In an action brought under this section, the attorney general is entitled to recover costs of the court action and any investigation which may have been conducted, including reasonable attorneys' fees, for the use of this state.

12 If any provision of this section or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid, the invalidity shall not affect other provisions of applications of the section which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application and to this end the provisions of this section are severable.

13 The attorney general or the designee of the attorney general is deemed to be a regulatory agency under chapter 692 for the purpose of receiving criminal intelligence data relating to violations of this section.

14 This section does not apply to the newspaper, magazine, publication, or other print media in which the advertisement appears, or to the radio station, television station, or other electronic media which disseminates the advertisement if the newspaper, magazine, publication, radio station, television station, or other print or electronic media has no knowledge of the fraudulent intent, design, or purpose of the advertiser at the time the advertisement is accepted, and provided, further, that nothing herein contained shall apply to any advertisement which complies with the rules and regulations of, and the statutes administered by the federal trade commission.

Subsection 2 NEW paragraph m

714.16A Additional civil penalty for consumer frauds committed against elderly — fund established.

lation is committed against an older person, in addition to any other civil penalty, the court may impose an additional civil penalty not to exceed five thousand dollars for each such violation.

A civil penalty imposed pursuant to this section shall be paid to the treasurer of state, who shall deposit the money in the elderly victim fund, a separate fund created in the state treasury and administered by the attorney general for the investigation and prosecution of frauds against the elderly. Notwithstanding section 8.33, any balance in the fund on June 30 of any fiscal year shall not revert to the general fund of the state. An award of restitution pursuant to section 714.16 has priority over a civil penalty imposed by the court pursuant to this subsection.

2 In determining whether to impose a civil penalty under subsection 1, and the amount of any such penalty, the court shall consider the following:

b Whether the defendant knew or should have known that the defendant's conduct was directed to an older person.

c Whether the older person was substantially more vulnerable to the defendant's conduct because of age, poor health, infirmity, impaired understanding, restricted mobility, or disability, than other persons.

3 As used in this section, "older person" means a person who is sixty-five years of age or older.

1 A person offering a course of instruction at the postsecondary level, for profit, that is more than four months in length and leads to a degree, diploma, or license, shall make a pro rata refund of no less than ninety percent of the tuition for a terminating student to the appropriate agency based upon the ratio of completed number of scheduled school days to sixty percent of the scheduled school days of the school term or course.

2 Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection 1, the following refund policy shall apply:

a If a terminating student has completed sixty percent or more of a school term or course that is more than four months in length, the person offering the course of instruction is not required to refund tuition for the student. However, if, at any time, a student terminates a school term or course that is more than four months in length due to the student's physical incapacity or due to the transfer of the student's spouse's employment to another city, the terminating student shall receive a refund of tuition in an amount which equals the amount of tuition multiplied by the ratio of the remaining number of school days to the total school days of the school term or course.

b A refund of ninety percent of the tuition for a terminating student shall be paid to the appropriate agency based upon the ratio of completed number of school days to the total school days of the school term or course. This paragraph applies to those persons offering courses of instruction at the postsecondary level, for profit, whose cohort default rate for students under the Stafford loan program as defined by the United States department of education is more than one hundred ten percent of the national average cohort default rate for that program for that period or six percent, whichever is higher.

3. If the financial obligations of a student are for three or fewer months duration, this section does not apply.

4. Refunds shall be paid to the appropriate agency within thirty days following the student's termination.

5. A student who terminates a course of instruction or term shall not be charged any fee or other monetary penalty for terminating a course of instruction or term other than a reduction in tuition refund as specified in this section.

6. A violation of this section is a simple misdemeanor.

CHAPTER 714A

PAY-PER-CALL SERVICE

714A.1 Definitions.

As used in this chapter:

1. "Advertisement" means advertisement as defined in section 714.16, subsection 1, paragraph "a". However, for purposes of this chapter, advertisement does not include a residential listing or a listing in any section of the directory in which businesses or professions are listed alphabetically rather than grouped by subject category, or a standard listing in the subject category section of a telephone directory. Advertisement also does not include a display advertisement or a listing which is made to appear more conspicuous than other listings in the subject category section of a telephone directory, provided that such display advertisement or listing includes a conspicuous disclosure that the call is a pay-per-call service and refers a reader in a clear and conspicuous manner to a page number of the directory where the reader may find an explanation of pay-per-call services. Such explanation of pay-per-call services shall include all of the following:

- a. The disclosure and preamble requirements under the law.
- b. The availability and costs of blocking options, if any.
- c. Whether a consumer's phone service may be terminated for failure to pay for pay-per-call services.
- d. The procedures for handling consumer inquiries and complaints.

2. "Amount of time necessary to complete a call" means for purposes of a fixed length call, the total length of the call in minutes, and for purposes of a variable length call, a reasonable, good faith estimate in minutes of the likely length of the call.

3. "Merchandise" means merchandise as defined in section 714.16, subsection 1, paragraph "b".

4. a. "Pay-per-call service" means electronic communications products and services which are provided to end users by information or service providers, and which meet all of the following requirements:

(1) The end users send or receive information, services, or communications whose general subject matter is determined or influenced by the service provider.

(2) The end users send or receive the information, services, or communications via a telephone connection using audio input which is not modulated or demodulated by the end user.

(3) The charge to the end user for the information, services, or communications is determined by the information or service provider and is made on a per-call or per-minute basis.

b. (1) Where the requirements under paragraph "a" are met, pay-per-call service includes, but is not limited to, the following:

(a) Information retrieval from a remote database.

(b) Information collection for polling and data entry.

(c) Services offered for public entertainment in which users participate in or listen to a conversation.

(2) Pay-per-call service does not include electronic communication for the purpose of conducting financial transactions, or any service the price of which is established pursuant to a tariff approved by a regulatory agency.

5. "Person" means person as defined in section 714.16, subsection 1, paragraph "c", and includes a

714A.2 Disclosure of charges.

With respect to each pay-per-call service, the call shall contain an introductory disclosure message that specifies clearly, and at the same audio volume of the ensuing program, if the charge for the call is on a flat rate basis, the total charge for the call, or if charged on a per-minute basis, the charge per minute for the call, the charge for each additional minute, and the amount of time necessary to complete the call, and all other fees, and which informs the caller of the option to disconnect the call at the end of the introductory message without incurring a charge. However, an introductory message is not required if the total charge for the call is one dollar or less.

714A.3 Advertisements.

Advertisements for pay-per-call service shall clearly state if the charge for the service is on a flat rate basis, the total charge for the call or, if charged on a per-minute basis, the charge per minute for the call, the charge for each additional minute, and the amount of time necessary to complete the call. Additionally, if in order to obtain the full advertised services or other merchandise, a caller will be required to make any payments in addition to the cost of the initial call, that fact shall be disclosed, along with the amounts of such additional payments. If the advertisement is oral, all cost information must be disclosed clearly and at the same audio volume of the ensuing program prior to providing the pay per call number and each time the number is mentioned.

714A.4 Billing and collection.

A person shall not bill or collect for a pay-per-call service if such person has actual knowledge of the failure of the pay per-call service to comply with the requirements of this chapter. A person shall cease billing and collecting for a pay per call service which fails to comply with the requirements of this chapter as soon as practicable, but in no event more than thirty days, after acquiring knowledge of the non compliance. Billing and collection contracts shall contain a provision which refers the pay-per call service to chapter 714A, which provides for an introductory disclosure message and the requirements for such message.

Additionally, a person shall not bill or collect a charge for a pay-per-call service unless the call for which the charge is being made is completed.

CHAPTER 717A

OFFENSES RELATING TO ANIMAL FACILITIES

1 As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires a "Animal" means a warm- or cold-blooded animal, including an animal belonging to the bovine, canine, feline, equine, ovine, or porcine species, or an animal which belongs to a species of poultry or fish, or an animal which is an invertebrate

b "Animal facility" means any of the following

(1) A location where an animal is maintained for agricultural production, including an operation dedicated to farming as defined in section 172C 1, a live stock market, exhibition, or a vehicle used to transport the animal

(2) A location where an animal is maintained for educational or scientific purposes, including an institution as defined in section 351A 1, a research facility as defined in section 162 2, an exhibition, or a vehicle used to transport the animal

(3) A location which is a facility operated by a person licensed to prescribe veterinary medicine pursuant to chapter 169.

(4) A pound as defined in section 162.2.

(5) An animal shelter as defined in section 162.2.

(6) A pet shop as defined in section 162.2.

(7) A boarding kennel as defined in section 162.2.

(8) A commercial kennel as defined in section 162.2.

c. "Consent" means express or apparent assent by a person authorized to provide such assent.

d. "Deprive" means to do any of the following:

(1) Withhold an animal or property belonging to or maintained by an animal facility for a period of time sufficient to significantly reduce the value or enjoyment of the animal or property.

(2) Withhold an animal or property for ransom or upon condition to restore the animal or property in return for compensation.

(3) Dispose of an animal or property of an owner in a manner that makes recovery of the animal or property by the owner unlikely.

e. "Maintain" means to keep, handle, house, exhibit, breed, or offer for sale, or sell an animal.

f. "Owner" means a person who has a legal interest in an animal or property or who is authorized by the holder of the legal interest to act on the holder's behalf.

2. A person shall not, without the consent of the owner, do any of the following:

a. Willfully destroy property of an animal facility, or injure an animal maintained at an animal facility.

b. Exercise control over an animal facility including property of the animal facility, or an animal maintained at an animal facility, with intent to deprive the animal facility of an animal or property.

c. Enter onto or into an animal facility, or remain on or in an animal facility, if the person has notice that the facility is not open to the public, if the person has an intent to do one of the following:

(1) Disrupt operations conducted at the animal facility, if the operations directly relate to agricultural production, animal maintenance, educational or scientific purposes, or veterinary care.

(2) Injure an animal maintained at the animal facility.

A person has notice that an animal facility is not open to the public if the person is provided notice before entering onto or into the facility, or the person refuses to immediately depart from the facility after being informed to leave. The notice may be in the form of a written or verbal communication by the owner, a fence or other enclosure designed to exclude intruders or contain animals, or a sign posted which is reasonably likely to come to the attention of an intruder and which indicates that entry is forbidden.

3. A person suffering damages resulting from an action which is in violation of subsection 2 may bring an action in the district court against the person causing the damage to recover all of the following:

a. An amount equaling three times all actual and consequential damages.

b. Court costs and reasonable attorney fees.

4. A person violating this section is guilty of the following penalties:

a. A person who violates subsection 2, paragraph "a", is guilty of a class "C" felony if the injury to an animal or damage to property exceeds fifty thousand dollars, a class "D" felony if the injury to an animal or damage to property exceeds five hundred dollars but does not exceed fifty thousand dollars, an aggravated misdemeanor if the injury to an animal or damage to property exceeds one hundred dollars but does not exceed five hundred dollars, a serious misdemeanor if the injury to an animal or damage to property exceeds fifty dollars but does not exceed one hundred dollars, or a simple misdemeanor if the injury to an animal or damage to property does not exceed fifty dollars.

b. A person who violates subsection 2, paragraph "b", is guilty of a class "D" felony.

c. A person who violates subsection 2, paragraph "c", is guilty of an aggravated misdemeanor.

5. This section does not prohibit any conduct of a person holding a legal interest in an animal or property which is superior to the interest held by a person suffering from damages resulting from the conduct. The section does not apply to activities of a governmental agency.

CHAPTER 719

OBSTRUCTING JUSTICE

719.1 Interference with official acts.

1. A person who knowingly resists or obstructs anyone known by the person to be a peace officer or fire fighter, whether paid or volunteer, in the performance of any act which is within the scope of the lawful duty or authority of that officer or fire fighter, whether paid or volunteer, or who knowingly resists or obstructs the service or execution by any authorized person of any civil or criminal process or order of any court, commits a simple misdemeanor. However, if a person commits an interference with official acts, as defined in this subsection, and in so doing inflicts bodily injury other than serious injury, that person commits a serious misdemeanor. If a person commits an interference with official acts, as defined in this subsection, and in so doing inflicts or attempts to inflict serious injury, or displays a dangerous weapon, as defined in section 702.7, or is armed with a firearm, that person commits an aggravated misdemeanor.

2. A person under the custody, control, or supervision of the department of corrections who knowingly resists, obstructs, or interferes with a correctional officer, agent, employee, or contractor, whether paid or volunteer, in the performance of the person's official duties, commits a serious misdemeanor. If a person violates this subsection and in so doing commits an assault, as defined in section 708.1, the person commits an aggravated misdemeanor. If a person violates this subsection and in so doing inflicts or attempts to inflict bodily injury other than serious injury to another, displays a dangerous weapon, as defined in section 702.7, or is armed with a firearm, the person commits a class "D" felony. If a person violates this subsection and uses or attempts to use a dangerous weapon, as defined in section 702.7, or inflicts serious injury to another, the person commits a class "C" felony.

3. The terms "resist" and "obstruct", as used in this section, do not include verbal harassment unless the verbal harassment is accompanied by a present ability and apparent intention to execute a verbal threat physically.

Applications for permits to carry weapons shall be made to the sheriff of the county in which the applicant resides. Applications from persons who are nonresidents of the state, or whose need to go armed arises out of employment by the state, shall be made to the commissioner of public safety. In either case, the issuance of the permit shall be by and at the discretion of the sheriff or commissioner, who shall, before issuing the permit, determine that the requirements of sections 724.6 to 724.10 have been satisfied. However, the training program requirements in section 724.9 may be waived for renewal permits. The issuing officer shall collect a fee of ten dollars, except from a duly appointed peace officer or correctional officer, for each permit issued. Renewal permits or duplicate permits shall be issued for a fee of five dollars. The issuing officer shall notify the commissioner of public safety of the issuance of any permit at least monthly and forward to the director an amount equal to two dollars for each permit issued and one dollar for each renewal or duplicate permit issued. All such fees received by the commissioner shall be paid to the treasurer of state and deposited in the operating account of the department of public safety to offset the cost of administering this chapter. Any unspent balance as of June 30 of each year shall revert to the general fund as provided by section 8.33.

CITATIONS IN LIEU OF ARREST

805.6 Uniform citation and complaint.

1. a. The commissioner of public safety, the director of transportation, and the director of natural resources, acting jointly, shall adopt a uniform, combined citation and complaint which shall be used for charging all traffic violations in Iowa under state law or local regulation or ordinance, and which shall be used for charging all other violations which are designated by section 805.8 to be scheduled violations. The filing fees and court costs in cases of parking meter and overtime parking violations which are denied are as stated in section 602.8106, subsection 1. The court costs in scheduled violation cases where a court appearance is not required are ten dollars. The court costs in scheduled violation cases where a court appearance is required are fifteen dollars. This subsection does not prevent the charging of any of those violations by information, by private complaint filed under chapter 804, or by a simple notice of fine where permitted by section 321.236, subsection 1. Each uniform citation and complaint shall be serially numbered and shall be in quintuplicate, and the officer shall deliver the original and a copy to the court where the defendant is to appear, two copies to the defendant, and a copy to the law enforcement agency of the officer. The court shall forward an abstract of the uniform citation and complaint in accordance with section 321.491 when applicable.

The uniform citation and complaint shall contain spaces for the parties’ names; the address of the alleged offender; the registration number of the offender’s vehicle; the information required by section 805.2; a promise to appear as provided in section 805.3 and a place where the cited person may sign the promise to appear; a list of the scheduled fines prescribed by section 805.8, either separately or by group, and a statement of the court costs payable in scheduled violation cases, whether or not a court appearance is required or is demanded; a brief explanation of sections 805.9 and 805.10; and a space where the defendant may sign an admission of the violation when permitted by section 805.9; and the uniform citation and complaint shall require that the defendant appear before a court at a specified time and place. The uniform citation and complaint also may contain a space for the imprint of a credit card, and may contain any other information which the commissioner of public safety and the director of natural resources may determine.

b. The uniform citation and complaint shall contain the following statement with a space immediately below it for the signature of the person being charged:

I hereby give my unsecured appearance bond in the amount of dollars and enter my written appearance. I agree that if I fail to appear in person or by counsel to defend against the offense charged in this citation the court is authorized to enter a conviction and render judgment against me for the amount of my appearance bond in satisfaction of the penalty plus court costs.

c. Unless the officer issuing the citation arrests the alleged offender, or permits admission or requires submission of bail as provided in section

805.9, subsection 3, the officer shall enter in the blank contained in the statement required by paragraph "b" one of the following amounts and shall require the person to sign the written appearance:

(1) If the offense is one to which a scheduled fine is applicable, an amount equal to one and one-half times the scheduled fine plus court costs.

(2) If the violation charged involved or resulted in an accident or injury to property and the total damages are less than five hundred dollars, the amount of fifty dollars plus court costs.

(3) If the violation is for any offense for which a court appearance is mandatory, the amount of one hundred dollars plus court costs.

d. The written appearance defined in paragraph "b" shall not be used for any offense other than a simple misdemeanor.

2. In addition to those violations which are required by subsection 1 to be charged upon a uniform citation and complaint, a violation of chapter 321 which is punishable as a simple, serious, or aggravated misdemeanor may be charged upon a uniform citation and complaint, whether or not the alleged offender is arrested by the officer making the charge.

3. Supplies of the uniform citation and complaint for municipal corporations and county agencies shall be paid for out of the budget of the municipal corporation or county receiving the fine resulting from use of the citation and complaint. Supplies of the uniform citation and complaint form used by other agencies shall be paid for out of the budget of the agency concerned and not out of the budget of the judicial department.

4. The uniform citation and complaint shall contain a place for the verification of the officer issuing the complaint. The complaint may be verified before the chief officer of the law enforcement agency, or the chief officer's designee, and the chief officer of each law enforcement agency of the state is authorized to designate specific individuals to administer oaths and certify verifications.

5. The commissioner of public safety and the director of the department of natural resources, acting jointly, shall design and publish a compendium of scheduled violations and scheduled fines, containing other information which they deem appropriate, and shall distribute copies to all courts and law enforcement officers and agencies of the state upon request. The cost of the publication shall be paid out of the budget of the department of public safety and out of the budget of the department of natural resources, each budget being liable for half of those costs. Copies shall be made available to individuals upon request, and a charge may be collected which does not exceed the cost of printing.

1 The court, for cause and upon its own motion or upon application by an indigent person or a public defender, shall appoint the state public defender or the state public defender's designee pursuant to section 13B 4, or an attorney pursuant to section 13B 9 to represent an indigent person at any stage of the criminal or juvenile proceedings or on appeal of any criminal or juvenile action in which the indigent person is entitled to legal assistance at public expense. However, in juvenile cases the court may directly appoint an existing nonprofit corporation established for and engaged in the provision of legal services for juveniles. An appointment shall not be made unless the person is determined to be indigent under section 815 9.

2 If a court finds that a person desires legal assistance and is not indigent, but refuses to employ an attorney, the court shall appoint the state public defender or the state public defender's designee pursuant to section 13B 4, or an attorney pursuant to section 13B 9 to represent the person. The cost of providing legal assistance shall be taxed as a court cost against the person.

3 An attorney other than a public defender or a contract attorney who is appointed by the court under this section shall apply to the district court for compensation and for reimbursement of costs incurred. The amount of compensation due shall be determined in accordance with section 815 7.

JUDGMENT AND SENTENCING PROCEDURES

If a presentence investigation is ordered by the court, the investigator shall promptly inquire into all of the following:

1 The defendant's characteristics, family and financial circumstances, needs, and potentialities, including the presence of any previously diagnosed mental disorder.

2 The defendant's criminal record and social history.

3 The circumstances of the offense.

4 The time the defendant has been in detention.

5 The harm to the victim, the victim's immediate family, and the community. Additionally, the presentence investigator shall provide a victim impact statement form to each victim, if one has not already been provided, and shall file the completed statement or statements with the presentence investigation report.

6 The defendant's potential as a candidate for the community service sentence program established pursuant to section 907 13.

All local and state mental and correctional institutions, courts, and police agencies shall furnish to the investigator on request the defendant's criminal record and other relevant information. With the approval of the court, a physical examination or psychiatric evaluation of the defendant may be ordered, or the defendant may be committed to an inpatient or outpatient psychiatric facility for an evaluation of the defendant's personality and mental health. The results of any such examination or evaluation shall be included in the report of the investigator

MISDEMEANORS

903.1 Maximum sentence for misdemeanants.

1 If a person eighteen years of age or older is convicted of a simple or serious misdemeanor and a specific penalty is not provided for or if a person under eighteen years of age has been waived to adult court pursuant to section 232.45 on a felony charge and is subsequently convicted of a simple, serious, or aggravated misdemeanor, the court shall determine the sentence, and shall fix the period of confinement or the amount of fine, if such be the sentence, within the following limits

a For a simple misdemeanor, imprisonment not to exceed thirty days, or a fine not to exceed one hundred dollars

b For a serious misdemeanor, imprisonment not to exceed one year, or a fine not to exceed one thousand dollars, or both

2 When a person is convicted of an aggravated misdemeanor, and a specific penalty is not provided for, the maximum penalty shall be imprisonment not to exceed two years, or a fine not to exceed five thousand dollars, or both. When a judgment of conviction of an aggravated misdemeanor is entered against any person and the court imposes a sentence of confinement for a period of more than one year the term shall be an indeterminate term

3 A person under eighteen years of age convicted of a simple misdemeanor under chapter 98, 106, 106A, 109, 109A, 110, 110A, 110B, 111, 321, or 321G, or a violation of a county or municipal curfew or traffic ordinance, except for an offense subject to section 805.8, may be required to pay a fine, not to exceed one hundred dollars, as fixed by the court, or may be required to perform community service as ordered by the court

The criminal penalty surcharge required by section 911.2 shall be added to a fine imposed on a misdemeanant, and is not a part of or subject to the maximums set in this section

CHAPTER 905

COMMUNITY-BASED CORRECTIONAL PROGRAM

905.1 Definitions.

As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires

1 "Administrative agent" means the county selected by the district board to perform accounting, budgeting, personnel, facilities management, insurance, payroll and other supportive services on the behalf of the district board, or the district department itself, if so designated by the district board

2 "Community based correctional program" means correctional programs and services designed to supervise and assist individuals who are charged with or have been convicted of a felony, an aggravated misdemeanor or a serious misdemeanor, or who are on probation or parole in lieu of or as a result of a sentence of incarceration imposed upon conviction of any of these offenses, or who are contracted to the district department for supervision and housing while on work release

3 "Director" means the director of a judicial district department of correctional services

4 "District board" means the board of directors of a judicial district department of correctional services

5. “District department” means a judicial district department of correctional services, established as required by section 905.2.

6. “Project” means a locally functioning part of a community-based correctional program, officed and operating in a physical location separate from the offices of the district department.

7. “Project advisory committee” means a committee of no more than seven persons which shall act in an advisory capacity to the director on matters pertaining to the planning, operation, and other pertinent functions of each project in the judicial district. The members of the project advisory committee for each project shall be initially appointed by the director from among the general public. Not more than one half of the project advisory committee shall hold public office or public employment during membership on the committee. A person who holds public office as a county supervisor and serves on the board of directors under section 905.3 shall not be a member of a project advisory committee under this section. The terms of the initial members of the project advisory committee shall be staggered to permit the terms of just over half of the members to expire in two years and those of the remaining members to expire in one year. Subsequent appointments to the project advisory committee shall be by vote of a majority of the whole project advisory committee for two-year terms.

The district board shall:

1. Adopt bylaws and rules for the conduct of its own business and for the government of the district department’s community-based correctional program.

2. Employ a director having the qualifications required by section 905.6 to head the district department’s community-based correctional program and, within a range established by the Iowa department of corrections, fix the compensation of and have control over the director and the district department’s staff. For purposes of collective bargaining under chapter 20, employees of the district board who are not exempt from chapter 20 are employees of the state, and the employees of all of the district boards shall be included within one collective bargaining unit.

3. Designate one of the counties in the judicial district to serve as the district department’s administrative agent to provide, in that capacity, all accounting, personnel, facilities management and supportive services needed by the district department, on terms mutually agreeable in regard to advancement of funds to the county for the added expense it incurs as a result of being so designated. However, the district board may designate the district department itself as the district department’s administrative agent, if the district board determines that it would be more efficient and less costly than designating a county as the administrative agent.

4. File with the board of supervisors of each county in the district and with the Iowa department of corrections, within ninety days after the close of each fiscal year, a report covering the district board’s proceedings and a statement of receipts and expenditures during the preceding fiscal year.

5. Arrange for, by contract or on such alternative basis as may be mutually acceptable, and equip suitable quarters at one or more sites in the district as may be necessary for the district department’s community-based correctional program, provided that the board shall to the greatest extent feasible utilize existing facilities and shall keep capital expenditures for acquisition, renovation and repair of facilities to a minimum. The district board shall not enter into lease-purchase agreements for the purposes of constructing, renovating, expanding, or otherwise improving a community-based correctional facility or office unless express authorization has been granted by the general assembly, and current funding is adequate to meet the lease-purchase obligation.

6. Have authority to accept property by gift, devise, bequest or otherwise and to sell or exchange any property so accepted and apply the proceeds thereof, or the property received in exchange thereof, to the purposes enumerated in subsection 5.

7. Recruit, promote, accept and use local financial support for the district department’s community-based correctional program from private sources such as community service funds, business, industrial and private foundations, voluntary agencies and other lawful sources.

8. Accept and expend state and federal funds available directly to the district department for all or any part of the cost of its community-based correctional program.

9. Arrange, by contract or on an alternative basis mutually acceptable, and with approval of the director of the Iowa department of corrections or that director’s designee for utilization of existing local treatment and service resources, including but not limited to employment, job training, general, special, or remedial education; psychiatric and marriage counseling; and alcohol and drug abuse treatment and counseling. It is the intent of this chapter that a district board shall approve the development and maintenance of such resources by its own staff only if the resources are otherwise unavailable to the district department within reasonable proximity to the community where these services are needed in connection with the community-based correctional program.

10. Establish a project advisory committee to act in an advisory capacity on matters pertaining to the planning, operation, and other pertinent functions of each project in the judicial district.

905.6 Duties of director.

The director employed by the district board under section 905 4, subsection 2, shall be qualified in the administration of correctional programs. The director shall

1 Perform the duties and have the responsibilities delegated by the district board or specified by the Iowa department of corrections pursuant to this chapter

2 Manage the district department's community-based correctional program, in accordance with the policies of the district board and the Iowa department of corrections

3 Employ, with approval of the district board, and supervise the employees of the district department

4 Prepare all budgets and fiscal documents, and certify for payment all expenses and payrolls lawfully incurred by the district department. The director may invest funds which are not needed for current expenses, jointly with one or more cities, city utilities, or counties pursuant to a joint investment agreement

5 Act as secretary to the district board, prepare its agenda and record its proceedings. The district shall provide a copy of minutes from each meeting of the district board to the legislative fiscal bureau

6 Develop and submit to the district board a plan for the establishment, implementation, and operation of a community-based correctional program in that judicial district, which program conforms to the guidelines drawn up by the Iowa department of corrections under this chapter and which conform to rules, policies, and procedures pertaining to the supervision of parole and work release adopted by the director of the Iowa department of corrections concerning the community based correctional program

7 Negotiate and, upon approval by the district board, implement contracts or other arrangements for utilization of local treatment and service resources authorized by section 905 4, subsection 9

DEFERRED JUDGMENT, DEFERRED OR SUSPENDED SENTENCE AND PROBATION

907.3 Deferred judgment, deferred sentence or suspended sentence.

Pursuant to section 901.5, the trial court may, upon a plea of guilty, a verdict of guilty, or a special verdict upon which a judgment of conviction may be rendered, exercise any of the options contained in this section. However, this section does not apply to a forcible felony.

1. With the consent of the defendant, the court may defer judgment and place the defendant on probation upon such conditions as it may require. Upon a showing that the defendant is not co-operating with the program of probation or is not responding to it, the court may withdraw the defendant from the program, pronounce judgment, and impose any sentence authorized by law. Before taking such action, the court shall give the defendant an opportunity to be heard on any matter relevant to the proposed action. Upon fulfillment of the conditions of probation, the defendant shall be discharged without entry of judgment. Upon violation of the conditions of probation, the court may proceed as provided in chapter 908.

However, this subsection shall not apply if any of the following is true:

a. The offense is a violation of section 709.8 and the child is twelve years of age or under.

b. The defendant previously has been convicted of a felony. "Felony" means a conviction in a court of this or any other state or of the United States, of an offense classified as a felony by the law under which the defendant was convicted at the time of the defendant's conviction.

c. Prior to the commission of the offense the defendant had been granted a deferred judgment or similar relief, two or more times anywhere in the United States.

d. Prior to the commission of the offense the defendant had been granted a deferred judgment or similar relief in a felony prosecution anywhere in the United States within the preceding five years, measured from the date of granting of deferment of judgment to the date of commission of the offense.

e. The defendant committed an assault as defined in section 708.1, against a peace officer in the performance of the peace officer's duty.

f. The defendant is a corporation.

g. The offense is a violation of section 321J.2 and, within the previous six years, the person has been convicted of a violation of that section or the person's driver's license has been revoked pursuant to section 321J.4, 321J.9, or 321J.12.

h. Prior to the commission of the offense the defendant had been granted a deferred judgment or deferred sentence for a violation of section 708.2 or 708.2A which was issued on a domestic abuse assault, or was granted similar relief anywhere in the United States concerning that jurisdiction's statutes which substantially correspond to domestic abuse assault as provided in section 708.2A, and the current offense is a violation of section 708.2A.

2. At the time of or after pronouncing judgment and with the consent of the defendant, the court may defer the sentence and assign the defendant to the judicial district department of correctional services. However, the court shall not defer the sentence for a violation of section 708.2A if the defendant has previously received a deferred judgment or sentence for a violation of section 708.2 or 708.2A which was issued on a domestic abuse assault, or if similar relief was granted anywhere in the United States concerning that jurisdiction's statutes which substantially correspond to domestic abuse assault as provided in section 708.2A. Upon a showing that the defendant is not fulfilling the conditions of probation, the court may revoke probation and impose any sentence authorized by law. Before taking such action, the court shall give the defendant an opportunity to be heard on any matter relevant to the proposed action. Upon violation of the conditions of probation, the court may proceed as provided in chapter 908.

3. By record entry at the time of or after sentencing, the court may suspend the sentence and place the defendant on probation upon such terms and conditions as it may require including commitment to an alternate jail facility or a community correctional residential treatment facility for a specific number of days to be followed by a term of probation as specified in section 907.7. A person so committed who has probation revoked shall be given credit for such time served. However, the court shall not suspend the minimum term of two days imposed pursuant to section 708.2A.

At any time that the court determines that the purposes of probation have been fulfilled, the court may order the discharge of a person from probation. At any time that a probation officer determines that the purposes of probation have been fulfilled, the officer may order the discharge of a person from probation after approval of the district director, and notification of the sentencing court and county attorney who prosecuted the case. The sentencing judge, unless the judge is no longer serving or is otherwise unable to, may order a hearing on its own motion, or shall order a hearing upon the request of the county attorney, for review of such discharge. If the sentencing judge is no longer serving or unable to order such hearing, the chief judge of the district or the chief judge's designee shall order any hearing pursuant to this section. Following the hearing, the court shall approve or rescind such discharge. If a hearing is not ordered within thirty days after notification by the probation officer, the person shall be discharged and the probation officer shall notify the state court administrator of such discharge. At the expiration of the period of probation, in cases where the court fixes the term of probation, the court shall order the discharge of the person from probation, and the court shall forward to the governor a recommendation for or against restoration of citizenship rights to that person. A person who has been discharged from probation shall no longer be held to answer for the person's offense. Upon discharge from probation, if judgment has been deferred under section 907.3, the court's criminal record with reference to the deferred judgment shall be expunged. The record maintained by the state court administrator as required by section 907.4 shall not be expunged. The court's record shall not be expunged in any other circumstances.

A probation officer or the director of the judicial district department of correctional services who acts in compliance with this section is acting in the course of the person's official duty and is not personally liable, either civilly or criminally, for the acts of a person discharged from probation by the officer after such discharge, unless the discharge constitutes willful disregard of the person's duty.

VIOLATIONS OF PAROLE OR PROBATION

908.9 Disposition of violator.

If the parole of a parole violator is revoked, the violator shall remain in the custody of the Iowa department of corrections under the terms of the parolee's original commitment. The violator may be placed in a violator facility established pursuant to section 246.207 if the parole revocation officer or board panel determines that placement in a violator facility is necessary. If the parole of a parole violator is not revoked, the parole revocation officer or board panel shall order the person's release subject to the terms of the person's parole with any modifications that the parole revocation officer or board panel determines proper.

908.11 Violation of probation.

A probation officer or the judicial district department of correctional services having probable cause to believe that any person released on probation has violated the conditions of probation shall proceed by arrest or summons as in the case of a parole violation. The functions of the liaison officer and the board of parole shall be performed by the judge or magistrate who placed the alleged violator on probation if that judge or magistrate is available, otherwise by another judge or magistrate who would have had jurisdiction to try the original offense. If the probation officer proceeds by arrest, any magistrate may receive the complaint, issue an arrest warrant, or conduct the initial appearance and probable cause hearing if it is not convenient for the judge who placed the alleged violator on probation to do so. The initial appearance, probable cause hearing, and probation revocation hearing, or any of them, may at the discretion of the court be merged into a single hearing when it appears that the alleged violator will not be prejudiced thereby. If the violation is established, the court may continue the probation with or without an alteration of the conditions of probation. If the defendant is an adult the court may hold the defendant in contempt of court and sentence the defendant to a jail term while continuing the probation, order the defendant to be placed in a violator facility established pursuant to section 246.207 while continuing the probation, or revoke the probation and require the defendant to serve the sentence imposed or any lesser sentence, and, if imposition of sentence was deferred, may impose any sentence which might originally have been imposed.

CHAPTER 910

VICTIM RESTITUTION

910.1 Definitions.

As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Criminal activities" means any crime for which there is a plea of guilty, verdict of guilty, or special verdict upon which a judgment of conviction is rendered and any other crime committed after July 1, 1982, which is admitted or not contested by the offender, whether or not prosecuted. However, "criminal activities" does not include simple misdemeanors under chapter 321.

2. "Pecuniary damages" means all damages to the extent not paid by an insurer, which a victim could recover against the offender in a civil action arising out of the same facts or event, except punitive damages and damages for pain, suffering, mental anguish, and loss of consortium. Without limitation, "pecuniary damages" includes damages for wrongful death and expenses incurred for psychiatric or psychological services or counseling or other counseling for the victim which became necessary as a direct result of the criminal activity.

3. "Restitution" means payment of pecuniary damages to a victim in an amount and in the manner provided by the offender's plan of restitution. Restitution also includes the payment of crime victim assistance reimbursements, court costs, court-appointed attorney's fees or the expense of a public defender, and the performance of a public service by an offender in an amount set by the court when the offender cannot reasonably pay all or part of the court costs, court-appointed attorney's fees or the expense of a public defender.

4. "Victim" means a person who has suffered pecuniary damages as a result of the offender's criminal activities. However, for purposes of this chapter, an insurer is not a victim and does not have a right of subrogation. The crime victim compensation program is not an insurer for purposes of this chapter, and the right of subrogation provided by section 912.12 does not prohibit restitution to the crime victim compensation program.

The county attorney shall prepare a statement of pecuniary damages to victims of the defendant and, if applicable, any award by the crime victim assistance programs and shall provide the statement to the presentence investigator or submit the statement to the court at the time of sentencing. The clerk of court shall prepare a statement of court-appointed attorney's fees, the expense of a public defender and court costs, which shall be provided to the presentence investigator or submitted to the court at the time of sentencing. If these statements are provided to the presentence investigator, they shall become a part of the presentence report. If pecuniary damage amounts are not available at the time of sentencing, the county attorney shall provide a statement of pecuniary damages incurred up to that time to the clerk of court. The statement shall be provided no later than thirty days after sentencing. If a defendant believes no person suffered pecuniary damages, the defendant shall so state. If the defendant has any mental or physical impairment which would limit or prohibit the performance of a public service, the defendant shall so state. The court may order a mental or physical examination, or both, of the defendant to determine a proper course of action. At the time of sentencing or at a later date to be determined by the court, the court shall set out the amount of restitution including the amount of public service to be performed as restitution and the persons to whom restitution must be paid. If the full amount of restitution cannot be determined at the time of sentencing, the court shall issue a temporary order determining a reasonable amount for pecuniary damages incurred up to that time, any award by the crime victim assistance programs, court-appointed attorney's fees or the expense of a public defender, and court costs. At a later date as determined by the court, the court shall issue a permanent, supplemental order, setting the full amount of restitution. The court shall enter further supplemental orders, if necessary. These court orders shall be known as the plan of restitution.

910.9 Collection of payments — payment by clerk of court.

An offender making restitution pursuant to a restitution plan of payment shall make the payment monthly to the clerk of court of the county from which the offender was sentenced, unless the restitution plan of payment provides otherwise.

The clerk of court shall maintain a record of all receipts and disbursements of restitution payments and shall disburse all moneys received to the victims designated in the plan of restitution. If there is more than one victim, disbursements to the victims shall be on the basis of the victim's percentage of the total owed by the offender to all victims, except that the clerk of court may decide the allocation of payments of twenty dollars or less.

Court costs, court-appointed attorney's fees, and expenses for public defenders, shall not be withheld by the clerk of court until all victims have been paid in full. Payments to victims shall be made by the clerk of court at least quarterly. Payments by a clerk of court shall be made no later than the last business day of the quarter, but may be made more often at the discretion of the clerk of court. The clerk of court receiving final payment from an offender, shall notify all victims that full restitution has been made, and a copy of the notice shall be sent to the sentencing court. Each office or individual charged with supervising an offender who is required to perform community service as full or partial restitution shall keep records to assure compliance with the portions of the plan of restitution and restitution plan of payment relating to community service and, when the offender has complied fully with the community service requirement, notify the sentencing court.

910.10 Restitution lien.

1 The state or a person entitled to restitution under a court order may file a restitution lien.

2 The restitution lien shall set forth all of the following information, if known:

a The name and date of birth of the person whose property or other interests are subject to the lien.

b The present address of the residence and principal place of business of the person named in the lien.

c The criminal proceeding pursuant to which the lien is filed, including the name of the court, the title of the action, and the court's file number.

d The name and business address of the attorney representing the state in the proceeding pursuant to which the lien is filed or the name and residence and business address of each person entitled to restitution pursuant to a court order.

e A statement that the notice is being filed pursuant to this section.

f The amount of restitution the person has been ordered to pay or is likely to be ordered to pay.

3 A restitution lien may be filed by either of the following:

a A prosecuting attorney in a criminal proceeding in which restitution is likely to be sought after the filing of an information or indictment. At the time of arraignment, the prosecuting attorney shall give the defendant notice of any restitution lien filed.

b A victim in a criminal proceeding after restitution is determined and ordered by the trial court following pronouncement of the judgment and sentence.

4 The filing of a restitution lien in accordance with this section creates a lien in favor of the state and the victim in any personal or real property identified in the lien to the extent of the interest held in that property by the person named in the lien.

5 This section does not limit the right of the state or any other person entitled to restitution to obtain any other remedy authorized by law.

1. Prior to the governor granting a reprieve, pardon, or commutation to an offender convicted of a violent crime, the governor shall notify a registered victim that the victim's offender has applied for a reprieve, pardon, or commutation. The governor shall notify a registered victim regarding the application not less than forty-five days prior to issuing a decision on the application. The governor shall inform the victim that the victim may submit a written opinion concerning the application.

2. The county attorney may notify an offender being considered for a reprieve, pardon, or commutation of sentence of a victim's registration with the county attorney and the substance of any opinion submitted by the victim concerning the reprieve, pardon, or commutation of sentence.

91 Acts, ch 181, §6 HF 430

910A.11 Civil injunction to restrain harassment or intimidation.

1. Upon application, the court shall issue a temporary restraining order prohibiting the harassment or intimidation of a victim or witness in a criminal case if the court finds, from specific facts shown by affidavit or by verified complaint, that there are reasonable grounds to believe that harassment or intimidation of an identified victim or witness in a criminal case exists or that the order is necessary to prevent and restrain an offense under this chapter.

A temporary restraining order may be issued under this subsection without written or oral notice to the adverse party or the party's attorney in a civil action under this section or in a criminal case if the court finds, upon written certification of facts, that the notice should not be required and that there is a reasonable probability that the party will prevail on the merits. The temporary restraining order shall set forth the reasons for the issuance of the order, be specific in terms, and describe in reasonable detail the act or acts being restrained.

A temporary restraining order issued without notice under this section shall be endorsed with the date and hour of issuance and be filed immediately in the office of the clerk of the court issuing the order.

A temporary restraining order issued under this section shall expire at such time as the court directs, not to exceed ten days from issuance. The court, for good cause shown before expiration of the order, may extend the expiration date of the order for up to ten days, or for a longer period agreed to by the adverse party.

When a temporary restraining order is issued without notice, the motion for a protective order shall be set down for hearing at the earliest possible time and takes precedence over all matters except older matters of the same character. If the party does not proceed with the application for a protective order when the motion is heard, the court shall dissolve the temporary restraining order.

If, after two days' notice to the party or after a shorter notice as the court prescribes, the adverse party appears and moves to dissolve or modify the temporary restraining order, the court shall proceed to hear and determine the motion as expeditiously as possible.

2. Upon motion of the party, the court shall issue a protective order prohibiting the harassment or intimidation of a victim or witness in a criminal case if the court, after a hearing, finds by a preponderance of the evidence that harassment or intimidation of an identified victim or witness in a criminal case exists or that the order is necessary to prevent and restrain an offense under this chapter.

At the hearing, any adverse party named in the complaint has the right to present evidence and cross-examine witnesses.

A protective order shall set forth the reasons for the issuance of the order, be specific in terms, and describe in reasonable detail the act or acts being restrained.

The court shall set the duration of the protective order for the period it determines is necessary to prevent the harassment or intimidation of the victim or witness, but the duration shall not be set for a period in excess of one year from the date of the issuance of the order. The party, at any time within ninety days before the expiration of the order, may apply for a new protective order under this section.

3. Violation of a restraining or protective order issued under this section constitutes contempt of court, and may be punished by contempt proceedings.

4. An application may be made pursuant to this section in a criminal case, and if made, a district associate judge or magistrate having jurisdiction of the highest offense charged in the criminal case or a district judge shall have jurisdiction to enter an order under this section.

5. The clerk of court shall provide oral or other notice and copies of restraining orders issued pursuant to this section in a criminal case involving an alleged violation of section 708.2A to the applicable law enforcement agencies and the twenty-four hour dispatcher for the law enforcement agencies, in the manner provided for protective orders under section 236.5. The clerk shall provide oral or other notice and copies of modifications or vacations of these orders in the same manner.

911.2 Surcharge.

When a court imposes a fine or forfeiture for a violation of a state law, or of a city or county ordinance except an ordinance regulating the parking of motor vehicles, the court shall assess an additional penalty in the form of a surcharge equal to thirty percent of the fine or forfeiture imposed. In the event of multiple offenses, the surcharge shall be based upon the total amount of fines or forfeitures imposed for all offenses. When a fine or forfeiture is suspended in whole or in part, the surcharge shall be reduced in proportion to the amount suspended.

The surcharge is subject to the provisions of chapter 909 governing the payment and collection of fines, as provided in section 909.8.

CHAPTER 912

CRIME VICTIM COMPENSATION PROGRAM

912.1 Definitions.

As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Compensation" means moneys awarded by the department as authorized by this chapter.
2. "Crime" means conduct that occurs or is attempted in this state, poses a substantial threat of personal injury or death, and is punishable as a felony or misdemeanor, or would be so punishable but for the fact that the person engaging in the conduct lacked the capacity to commit the crime under the laws of this state. "Crime" does not include conduct arising out of the ownership, maintenance, or use of a motor vehicle, motorcycle, motorized bicycle, train, boat, or aircraft except for violations of section

106.14, 321.261, 321.277, 321J.2, or 707.6A, or when the intention is to cause personal injury or death. A license revocation under section 321J.9 or 321J.12 shall be considered by the department as evidence of a violation of section 321J.2 for the purposes of this chapter.

3. "Department" means the department of justice.

4. "Dependent" means a person wholly or partially dependent upon a victim for care or support and includes a child of the victim born after the victim's death.

5. "Victim" means a person who suffers personal injury or death as a result of any of the following:

- a A crime.

b. The good faith effort of a person attempting to prevent a crime.

c. The good faith effort of a person to apprehend a person suspected of committing a crime.

912.2 Award of compensation.

The department shall award compensation authorized by this chapter if the department is satisfied that the requirements for compensation have been met.

91 Acts, ch 181, §16 HF 430
Section amended to change terminology

912.2A Crime victim assistance board.

1. A crime victim assistance board is established, and shall consist of the following members to be appointed pursuant to rules adopted by the department:

- a. A county attorney or assistant county attorney.
- b. Two persons engaged full time in law enforcement.
- c. A public defender or an attorney practicing primarily in criminal defense.
- d. A hospital medical staff person involved with emergency services.
- e. Two public members who have received victim services.
- f. A victim service provider.
- g. A person licensed pursuant to chapter 154B or 154C.
- h. A person representing the elderly.

Board members shall be reimbursed for expenses actually and necessarily incurred in the discharge of their duties.

2. The board shall adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A relating to program policies and procedures.

3. A victim aggrieved by the denial or disposition of the victim's claim may appeal to the district court within thirty days of receipt of the board's decision.

91 Acts, ch 181, §11 HF 430
Subsection 1, paragraph e amended 912.3 Duties of department.

The department shall:

1. Adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A relating to the administration of the crime victim compensation program, including the filing of claims pursuant to the program, and the hearing and disposition of the claims.

2. Hear claims, determine the results relating to claims, and reinvestigate and reopen cases as necessary.

3. Publicize through the department, county sheriff departments, municipal police departments, county attorney offices, and other public or private agencies, the existence of the crime victim compensation program, including the procedures for obtaining compensation under the program.

4. Request from the department of human services, the divisions of job service and industrial services of the department of employment services, the department of public safety, the county sheriff departments, the municipal police departments, the county attorneys, or other public authorities or agencies reasonable assistance or data necessary to administer the crime victim compensation program.

5. Require medical examinations of victims as needed. The victim shall be responsible for the cost of the medical examination if compensation is made. The department shall be responsible for the cost of the medical examination from funds appropriated to the department for the crime victim compensation program if compensation is not made to the victim unless the cost of the examination is payable as a benefit under an insurance policy or subscriber contract covering the victim or the cost is payable by a health maintenance organization.

6. Receive moneys collected pursuant to section 246.702 for the purpose of compliance with Pub. L. 98-473.

91 Acts, ch 181, §16 HF 430
Section amended to change terminology

912.4 Application for compensation.

1. To claim compensation under the crime victim compensation program, a person shall apply in writing on a form prescribed by the department and file the application with the department within two years after the date of the crime, the discovery of the crime, or the date of death of the victim.

2. A person is not eligible for compensation unless the crime was reported to the local police department or county sheriff department within seventy-two hours of its occurrence. If the crime cannot reasonably be reported within that time period, the crime shall have been reported within seventy-two hours of the time a report can reasonably be made.

3. Notwithstanding subsection 2, a victim under the age of eighteen or dependent adult as defined in section 235B.1 who has been sexually abused or subjected to any other unlawful sexual conduct under chapter 709 or 726 or who has been the subject of a forcible felony is not required to report the crime to the local police department or county sheriff department to be eligible for compensation if the crime was allegedly committed upon a child by a person responsible for the care of a child, as defined in section 232.68, subsection 7, or upon a dependent adult by a caretaker as defined in section 235B.1, and was reported to an employee of the department of human services and the employee verifies the report to the department.

4. When immediate or short-term medical services or mental health services are provided to a victim under section 910A.16, the department of human services shall file the claim for compensation as provided in subsection 3 for the victim.

5. When immediate or short-term medical services to a victim are provided pursuant to section 910A.16 by a professional licensed or certified by the state to provide such services, the professional shall file the claim for compensation, unless the department of human services is required to file the claim under this section. The requirement to report the crime to the local police department or county sheriff department under subsection 2 does not apply to this subsection.

6. The victim shall cooperate with reasonable requests by the appropriate law enforcement agencies in the investigation or prosecution of the crime.

91 Acts, ch 181, §12 HF 430
Section amended

912.5 Compensation payable.

The department may order the payment of compensation:

1. To or for the benefit of the person filing the claim.

2. To a person responsible for the maintenance of the victim who has suffered pecuniary loss or incurred expenses as a result of personal injury to the victim.

3. To or for the benefit of one or more dependents of the victim, in the case of death of the victim. If two or more dependents are entitled to compensation, the compensation may be apportioned by the department as the department determines to be fair and equitable among the dependents.

4. To a victim of an act committed outside this state who is a resident of this state, if the act would be compensable had it occurred within this state and the act occurred in a state that does not have an eligible crime victim compensation program, as defined in the federal Victims of Crime Act of 1984, Pub. L. 98-473, section 1403(b), as amended and codified in 42 U.S.C. § 10602(b).

Section amended to change terminology

912.6 Computation of compensation.

The department shall award compensation, as appropriate, for any of the following economic losses incurred as a direct result of an injury to or death of the victim:

1. Reasonable charges incurred for medical care not to exceed ten thousand five hundred dollars. Reasonable charges incurred for mental health care not to exceed one thousand five hundred dollars which includes services provided by a psychologist licensed under chapter 154B, a person holding at least a master's degree in social work or counseling and guidance, or a victim counselor as defined in section 236A.1.

2. Loss of income from work the victim would have performed and for which the victim would have received remuneration if the victim had not been injured not to exceed two thousand dollars.

3. Reasonable replacement value of clothing that is held for evidentiary purposes not to exceed one hundred dollars.

4. Reasonable funeral and burial expenses not to exceed two thousand five hundred dollars.

5. Loss of support for dependents resulting from death or a period of disability of the victim of sixty days or more not to exceed two thousand dollars per dependent or a total of six thousand dollars.

6. In the event of a victim's death, reasonable charges incurred for counseling the victim's spouse, children, parents, siblings, or persons cohabiting with or related by blood or affinity to the victim if the counseling services are provided by a psychologist licensed under chapter 154B, a victim counselor as defined in section 236A.1, subsection 1, or an individual holding at least a master's degree in social work or counseling and guidance, and reasonable charges incurred by such persons for medical care counseling provided by a psychiatrist licensed under chapter 147 or 150A. The allowable charges under this subsection shall not exceed five hundred dollars per person or a total of two thousand dollars per victim death.

91 Acts, ch 181, §13 HF 430
Section amended

912.7 Reductions and disqualifications.

Compensation is subject to reduction and disqualification as follows:

1. Compensation shall be reduced by the amount of any payment received, or to be received, as a result of the injury or death:

a. From or on behalf of, a person who committed the crime or who is otherwise responsible for damages resulting from the crime.

b. From an insurance payment or program, including but not limited to workers' compensation or unemployment compensation.

c. From public funds.

d. As an emergency award under section 912.11.

2. Compensation shall not be made when the bodily injury or death for which a benefit is sought was caused by any of the following:

a. Consent, provocation, or incitement by the victim.

b. The victim assisting, attempting, or committing a criminal act.

91 Acts, ch 181, §14 HF 430
Section amended

912.8 Compensation when money insufficient.

Notwithstanding this chapter a victim otherwise qualified for compensation under the crime victim compensation program, is not entitled to the compensation when there is insufficient money from the appropriation for the program to pay the compensation.

91 Acts, ch 181, §16 HF 430
Section amended to change terminology

912.9 Erroneous or fraudulent payment — penalty.

1. If a payment or overpayment of compensation is made because of clerical error, mistaken identity, innocent misrepresentation by or on behalf of the recipient, or other circumstances of a similar nature, not induced by fraud by or on behalf of the recipient, the recipient is liable for repayment of the compensation. The department may waive, decrease, or adjust the amount of the repayment of the compensation. However, if the department does not notify the recipient of the erroneous payment or overpayment within one year of the date the compensation was made, the recipient is not liable for the repayment of the compensation.

2. If a payment or overpayment has been induced by fraud by or on behalf of a recipient, the recipient is liable for repayment of the compensation.

91 Acts, ch 181, §16 HF 430
Section amended to change terminology

912.10 Release of information.

A person in possession or control of investigative or other information pertaining to an alleged crime or a victim filing for compensation shall allow the inspection and reproduction of the information by the department upon the request of the department, to be used only in the administration and enforcement of the crime victim compensation program. Information and records which are confidential under section 22.7 and information or records received from the confidential information or records remain confidential under this section.

A person does not incur legal liability by reason of releasing information to the department as required under this section.

91 Acts, ch 181, §16 HF 430
Section amended to change terminology

912.11 Emergency payment compensation.

If the department determines that compensation may be made and that undue hardship may result to the person if partial immediate payment is not made, the department may order emergency compensation to be paid to the person, not to exceed five hundred dollars.

91 Acts, ch 181, §15 HF 430
Section amended

912.12 Right of action against perpetrator — subrogation.

A right of legal action by the victim against a person who has committed a crime is not lost as a consequence of a person receiving compensation under the crime victim compensation program. If a person receiving compensation under the program seeks indemnification which would reduce the compensation under section 912.7, subsection 1, the department is subrogated to the recovery to the extent of payments by the department to or on behalf of the person. The department has a right of legal action against a person who has committed a crime resulting in payment of compensation by the department to the extent of the compensation payment. However, legal action by the department does not affect the right of a person to seek further relief in other legal actions.

Section amended to change terminology

912.14 Victim compensation fund.

A victim compensation fund is established as a separate fund in the state treasury. Moneys deposited in the fund shall be administered by the department and dedicated to and used for the purposes of section 709.10 and this chapter. Notwithstanding section 8.33, any balance in the fund on June 30 of any fiscal year shall not revert to the general fund of the state.

CODE EDITOR'S NOTES

Code Section

- 15.287 The 1991 amendments do not conflict, so they were harmonized to give effect to each, as required by Code section 4.11. In some cases where this section is referred to, the amendments are identical. It was generally assumed that a strike or repeal prevails over an amendment to the same material and does not create a conflict.
- 43.42 It appears that the last unnumbered paragraph of section 43.42, Code 1991, was inadvertently omitted when the section was stricken and rewritten; corrective legislation is pending.
- 45.3 Although 1991 Acts, chapter 129, section 9, purports to insert new material after unnumbered paragraph 2, the material appears to be more appropriately inserted after the first paragraph of the form, which is unnumbered paragraph 3 of the section, and it was so codified.
- 93.11 Although the lead-in of 1991 Acts, chapter 253, section 5, indicates that it amends subsection 6, it appears from the text of the amendment that only unnumbered paragraph 1 of the subsection was intended, and the amendment was so codified.
- 99D.15 1991 Acts, chapter 166, section 6, and chapter 268, section 427, both amend subsection 3, paragraph c. In the codification they have been harmonized to give effect to both. However, 1991 Acts, chapter 166, section 6, adds a new subparagraph (1) which is not effective until January 1, 1993, and to avoid confusion with the rest of that amendment the new subparagraph was also codified, but without changing the word "track" to "licensee", as was done in the rest of the section. This change will be proposed in corrective legislation.
- 135B.7 Although the lead-in of 1991 Acts, chapter 218, section 3, indicates the addition of a new unnumbered paragraph to section 135B.6, it appears that the new paragraph as enacted is more appropriately placed in section 135B.7 and the paragraph was so codified.
- 155A.15 Although the lead-in of 1991 Acts, chapter 233, section 2, indicates that it amends subsection 2, paragraph d, subparagraph (4), it appears from the text of the amendment that the last part of paragraph d was also amended, and that part was codified as an unnumbered paragraph in paragraph d.
- 246.108 1991 Acts, chapter 218, section 37, provided that 1991 Acts, chapter 218, section 18, adding new paragraphs p and q to subsection 1 of section 246.108, would take effect only upon enactment of a specific appropriation for that purpose during the 1991 regular session. Since no such appropriation was enacted, the new paragraphs were considered ineffective and were not codified. For the text of the proposed paragraph p, as amended, see 1991 Acts, chapter 219, section 5. For the text of the proposed paragraph q, see 1991 Acts, chapter 218, section 18.
- 312.2 Although 1991 Acts, chapter 264, section 906, purports to amend all of subsection 13, an earlier enactment, 1991 Acts, chapter 260, section 1223, added another paragraph to the subsection. Both amendments have been codified in order to give effect to both and carry out the apparent intent.

- 324.3 1991 Acts, chapter 87, section 4, and 1991 Acts, chapter 254, section 20, both amend the last unnumbered paragraph. They could not be harmonized in every detail to give effect to both, so the later enactment, 1991 Acts, chapter 254, section 20, was codified.
- 331.233 Although the lead-in of 1991 Acts, chapter 256, section 5, indicates that it amends subsection 1, it appears from the text of the amendment that only unnumbered paragraph 1 of the subsection was intended, and the amendment was so codified.
- 331.247 Although the lead-in of 1991 Acts, chapter 256, section 20, indicates that it amends section 331.247 in its entirety, it appears from the text of the amendment that only subsections 1 through 3 were intended, and the amendment was so codified.
- 411.2 Although 1991 Acts, chapter 52, section 8, did not, by direct terms, amend section 411.2, it repeated the language there with the addition of the May 3, 1990, retroactive applicability date, so that date has been codified.
- 425A.4 The amendments in 1991 Acts, chapter 97, section 51, and 1991 Acts, chapter 267, section 614, could not be harmonized. The later amendment, 1991 Acts, chapter 267, section 614, struck and rewrote subsection 1, so it was codified.
- 455A.19 Although the amendments in 1991 Acts, chapter 146, section 5, effective July 1, 1991, and 1991 Acts, chapter 191, section 120, effective April 1, 1992, were technically in conflict, they were harmonized as required by Code section 4.11.
- 546.11 1991 Acts, chapter 260, section 1247, adds a new unnumbered paragraph to section 546.11, which appears to be moot as to section 534.408 because of amendments in 1991 Acts, chapter 92, section 15 that struck former provisions relating to the savings and loan revolving fund and transfers to the administrative services trust fund. See also the footnote to section 534.408, subsection 1, unnumbered paragraph 2.
