b. A gas and electric utility required to be rate-regulated under this chapter shall assess potential energy and capacity savings available from actual and projected customer usage by applying commercially available technology and improved operating practices to energy-using equipment and buildings. The utility shall submit the assessment to the board. Upon receipt of the assessment, the board shall consult with the energy bureau of the division of energy and geological resources of the department of natural resources to develop specific capacity and energy savings performance standards for each utility. The utility shall submit an energy efficiency plan which shall include economically achievable programs designed to attain these energy and capacity performance standards.

c. The board shall conduct contested case proceedings for review of energy efficiency plans and budgets filed by gas and electric utilities required to be rate-regulated under this chapter. The board may approve, reject, or modify the plans and budgets. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 17A.19, subsection 5, in an application for judicial review of the board's decision concerning a utility's energy efficiency plan or budget, the reviewing court shall not order a stay. Whenever a request to modify an approved plan or budget is filed subsequently by the office of consumer advocate or a gas or electric utility required to be rate-regulated under this chapter, the board shall promptly initiate a formal proceeding if the board determines that any reasonable ground exists for investigating the request. The formal proceeding may be initiated at any time by the board on its own motion. Implementation of board-approved plans or budgets shall be considered continuous in nature and shall be subject to investigation at any time by the board or the office of the consumer advocate.

d. Notice to customers of a contested case proceeding for review of energy efficiency plans and budgets shall be in a manner prescribed by the board.

e. A gas or electric utility required to be rate-regulated under this chapter may recover, through an automatic adjustment mechanism filed pursuant to subsection 11, over a period not to exceed the term of the plan, the costs of an energy efficiency plan approved by the board, including amounts for a plan approved prior to July 1, 1996, in a contested case proceeding conducted pursuant to paragraph "c". The board shall periodically conduct a contested case proceeding to evaluate the reasonableness and prudence of the utility's implementation of an approved energy efficiency plan and budget. If a utility is not taking all reasonable actions to cost-effectively implement an approved energy efficiency plan, the board shall not allow the utility to recover from customers costs in excess of those costs that would be incurred under reasonable and prudent implementation and shall not allow the utility to recover future costs at a level other than what the board determines to be reasonable and prudent. If the result of a contested case proceeding is a judgment against a utility, that utility's future level of cost recovery shall be reduced by the amount by which the programs were found to be imprudently conducted. The utility shall not represent energy efficiency in customer billings as a separate cost or expense unless the board otherwise approves.

f. A rate-regulated utility required to submit an energy efficiency plan under this subsection shall, upon the request of a state agency or political subdivision to which it provides service, provide advice and assistance regarding measures which the state agency or political subdivision might take in achieving improved energy efficiency results. The cooperation shall include assistance in accessing financial assistance for energy efficiency measures.

20. Filing of forecasts. The board shall periodically require each rate-regulated gas or electric public utility to file a forecast of future gas requirements or electric generating needs and the board shall evaluate the forecast. The forecast shall include, but is not limited to, a forecast of the requirements of its customers, its anticipated sources of supply, and its anticipated means of addressing the forecasted gas requirements or electric generating needs.

21. Energy efficiency program financing. The board may require each rate-regulated gas or electric public utility to offer qualified customers the opportunity to enter into an agreement for the amount of moneys reasonably necessary to finance cost-effective energy efficiency improvements to the qualified customers' residential dwellings or businesses.

22. Allocation of replacement tax costs. The costs of the replacement tax imposed pursuant to chapter 437A shall be reflected in the charges of utilities subject to rate regulation, in lieu of the utilities' costs of property taxes. The imposition of the replacement taxes pursuant to chapter 437A is not intended to initiate any change in the rates and charges for the sale of electricity, the sale of natural gas, or the transportation of natural gas that is subject to regulation by the board and in effect on January 1, 1999.

The cost of the replacement taxes imposed by chapter 437A shall be allocated among and within customer classes in a manner that will replicate the tax cost burden of the current property tax on individual customers to the maximum extent practicable.

Upon the restructuring of the electric industry in this state so that individual consumers are given the right to choose their electric suppliers, replacement tax costs shall be assigned to the service corresponding to the individual generation, transmission, and delivery taxes. In all other respects, the allocation of the replacement tax costs among and within the customer classes shall remain the same to the maximum extent practicable.

Notwithstanding this subsection, the board may determine the amount of replacement tax properly included in retail rates subject to its jurisdiction. The board may determine whether the base rates or some other form of rate is most appropriate for recovery of the costs of the replacement tax, subject to the requirement that utility rates be reasonable and just. The board may also determine the appropriate allocation of the tax. Any significant modification to rate design relating to the replacement tax shall be made in a manner consistent with this subsection unless made in a contested case proceeding where the impact of such modification on competition and consumer costs is considered.

23. Replacement tax study committee. On or before July 1, 2000, the utilities board, in consultation with the department of revenue and finance, shall initiate and coordinate the establishment of a replacement tax study committee and provide staffing assistance to the committee. It is the intent of the general assembly that the committee include representatives of the utilities board, department of revenue and finance, department of management, investor-owned utilities, municipal utilities, cooperative utilities, local governments, major customer classes, and other stakeholders.

The committee shall study the effects of the replacement tax on both restructuring and the development of competition in the gas and electric industries in this state. The board shall report to the general assembly by January 1 of each year through 2003, the results of the study, and the committee's recommendations as to whether the replacement tax, in its then present form, should be continued, whether a different form of taxation of electric and gas utilities should be adopted in order to allow free and fair competition in the electric and gas industries, and fair competitive prices for all classes of consumers, whether a different basis for determination of the generation, transmission, and delivery taxes should be adopted or whether the relative share of the total replacement tax burden imposed on each of the generation, transmission, and delivery functions should be modified in order to allow free and fair competition in the electric and gas industries, and fair competitive prices for all classes of consumers, and whether the replacement tax in its then present form, appropriately accounts for the decline in value of electric power generating plants. The replacement tax study committee shall reconvene by January 1, 2006, to further study these same issues, and the board shall report the results of the study and the committee's recommendations to the general assembly by January 1, 2008.

Upon recommendation of the committee, the board may contract for services necessary to the implementation of this subsection with persons who are not state employees, including, but not limited to, facilitators, consultants, and other experts required to assist the committee. The cost of contracted services shall not be paid from appropriated funds, but shall be assessed to entities paying replacement tax pursuant to chapter 437A, subchapter II, pro rata, based on the amount of tax paid.

24. Recovery of management costs. A public utility which is assessed management costs by a local government pursuant to chapter 480A is entitled to recover those costs. If the public utility serves customers within the boundaries of the local government imposing the management costs, such costs shall be recovered exclusively from those customers.

476.7 Application by utility for review.

If there shall be filed with the board by any public utility an application requesting the board to determine the reasonableness of the utility's rates, charges, schedules, service or regulations, the board shall promptly initiate a formal proceeding. Such a formal proceeding may be initiated at any time by the board on its own motion. Whenever such a proceeding has been initiated upon application or motion, the board shall set the case for hearing and give such notice thereof as it deems appropriate. Whenever the board, after a hearing held after reasonable notice, finds any public util-ity's rates, charges, schedules, service or regulations are unjust, unreasonable, insufficient, discriminatory or otherwise in violation of any provision of law, the board shall determine just, reasonable, sufficient and nondiscriminatory rates, charges, schedules, service or regulations to be thereafter observed and enforced.

476.8 Utility charges and service.

Every public utility is required to furnish reasonably adequate service and facilities. "Reasonably adequate service and facilities" for public utilities furnishing gas or electricity includes programs for customers to encourage the use of energy efficiency and renewable energy sources. The charge made by any public utility for any heat, light, gas, energy efficiency and renewable energy programs, water or power produced, transmitted, delivered or furnished, or communications services, or for any service rendered or to be rendered in connection therewith shall be reasonable and just, and every unjust or unreasonable charge for such service is prohibited and declared unlawful. In determining reasonable and just rates, the board shall consider all factors relating to value and shall not be bound by rate base decisions or rulings made prior to the adoption of this chapter.

The board, in determining the value of materials or services to be included in valuations or costs of operations for rate-making purposes, may disallow any unreasonable profit made in the sale of materials to or services supplied for any public utility by any firm or corporation owned or controlled directly or indirectly by such utility or any affiliate, subsidiary, parent company, associate or any corporation whose controlling stockholders are also controlling stockholders of such utility. The burden of proof shall be on the public utility to prove that no unreasonable profit is made.

476.9 Accounts rendered to board.

1. Every public utility shall keep and render to the board in the manner and form prescribed by the board uniform accounts of all business transacted.

2. Every public utility engaged directly or indirectly in any other business than that of the production, transmission or furnishing of heat, light, water or power or furnishing communications services to the public shall, if required by the board, keep and render separately to the board in like manner and form the accounts of all such other business, in which case all the provisions of this chapter shall apply to the books, accounts, papers and records of such other business and all profits and losses may be taken into consideration by the board if deemed relevant to the general fiscal condition of the public utility.

3. Every public utility is required to keep and render its books, accounts, papers and records accurately and faithfully in the manner and form prescribed by the board, and to comply with all directions of the board relating to such books, accounts, papers and records.

4. The board shall consult with other state and federal regulatory bodies for the purpose of eliminating accounting discrepancies with regard to the keeping of public utility accounts before prescribing any system of accounts to be kept by the public utility.

476.10 Investigations — expense — appropriation.

When the board deems it necessary in order to carry out the duties imposed upon it by this chapter for the purpose of determining rate matters to investigate the books, accounts, practices, and activities of, or make appraisals of the property of any public utility, or to render any engineering or accounting services to any public utility, or to review the operations or annual reports of the public utility under section 476.31 or 476.32, or to evaluate a proposal for reorganization under section 476.77, the public utility shall pay the expense reasonably attributable to the investigation, appraisal, service, or review. The board shall ascertain the expenses including certified expenses incurred by the consumer advocate division of the department of justice directly chargeable to the public utility under section 475A.6, and shall render a bill to the public utility, either at the conclusion of the investigation, appraisal, services, or review, or from time to time during its progress, which bill is notice of the assessment and shall demand payment. The total amount of such expense in any one calendar year, for which any public utility shall become liable, shall not exceed two-tenths of one percent of its gross operating revenues derived from intrastate public utility operations in the last preceding calendar year.

The board shall ascertain the total of the division's expenditures during each year which are reasonably attributable to the performance of its duties under this chapter. The board shall add to this total the certified expenses of the consumer advocate as provided under section 475A.6 and shall deduct all amounts chargeable directly to any specific utility under any law. The remainder shall be assessed by the board to the public utilities in proportion to their respective gross operating revenues during the last calendar year derived from intrastate public utility operations and may be assessed by the board on a quarterly basis. Assessments may be made quarterly based upon estimates of the utilities division's and the consumer advocate's expenditures for the fiscal year. Beginning with the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1987, the first assessment for any fiscal year may be made by the utilities division by May 15 of the preceding fiscal year and shall be paid by the utility on or before the following July 1. Not more than ninety days following the close of the fiscal year, the utilities division shall conform the amount of the prior fiscal year's assessments to the requirements of this section. Public utilities exempt from rate regulation under this chapter shall not be assessed for remainder expenses incurred during review of rate-regulated public utilities under section 476.31 or 476.32, but such remainder expenses shall be assessed proportionally as provided in this section among only the rate-regulated public utilities. The total amount which may be assessed to the public utilities under authority of this paragraph shall not exceed two-tenths of one percent of the total gross operating revenues of the public utilities during the calendar year derived from intrastate public utility operations. However, the total amount which may be assessed in any one calendar year to a public utility under this section shall not exceed three-tenths of one percent of the utility's total gross operating revenues derived from intrastate public utility operation in the last preceding year. For public utilities exempted from rate regulation under this chapter, the assessments under this paragraph shall be computed at one-half the rate used in computing the assessment for other utilities.

Each utility shall pay the division the amount assessed against it within thirty days from the time the division mails notice to it of the amount due unless it shall file with the board objections in writing setting out the grounds upon which it claims that such assessment is excessive, erroneous, unlawful, or invalid. Upon the filing of such objections the board shall set the matter down for hearing and issue its order in accordance with its findings in such proceeding, which order shall be subject to review in the manner provided in this chapter. All amounts collected by the division pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be deposited with the state treasurer and credited to the general fund of the state. Such amounts shall be spent in accordance with the provisions of chapter 8.

Whenever the board shall deem it necessary in order to carry out the duties imposed upon it in connection with rate regulation under section 476.6, investigations under section 476.3, or review proceedings under section 476.31, the board may employ additional temporary or permanent staff, or may contract with persons who are not state employees for engineering, accounting, or other professional services, or both. The costs of these additional employees and contract services shall be paid by the public utility whose rates are being reviewed in the same manner as other expenses are paid under this section. Beginning on July 1, 1991, there is appropriated out of any funds in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, such sums as may be necessary to enable the board to hire additional staff and contract for services under this section. The board shall increase quarterly assessments specified in unnumbered paragraph 2, by amounts necessary to enable the board to hire additional staff and contract for services under this section. The authority to hire additional temporary or permanent staff that is granted to the board by this section shall not be subject to limitation by any administrative or executive order or decision that restricts the number of state employees or the filling of employee vacancies, and shall not be subject to limitation by any law of this state that restricts the number of state employees or the filling of employee vacancies unless that law is made applicable to this section by express reference to this section. Before the board expends or encumbers an amount in excess of the funds budgeted for rate regulation and before the board increases quarterly assessments pursuant to this paragraph, the director of the department of management shall approve the expenditure or encumbrance. Before approval is given, the director of the department of management shall determine that the expenses exceed the funds budgeted by the general assembly to the board for rate regulation and that the board does not have other funds from which the expenses can be paid. Upon approval of the director of the department of management the board may expend and encumber funds for the excess expenses, and increase quarterly assessments to raise the additional funds. The board and the office of consumer advocate may add additional personnel or contract for additional assistance to review and evaluate energy efficiency plans and the implementation of energy efficiency programs including, but not limited to, professionally trained engineers, accountants, attorneys, skilled examiners and inspectors, and secretaries and clerks. The board and the office of consumer advocate may also contract for additional assistance in the evaluation and implementation of issues relating to telecommunication competition. The board and the office of the consumer advocate may expend additional sums beyond those sums appropriated. However, the authority to add additional personnel or contract for additional assistance must first be approved by the department of management. The additional sums for energy efficiency shall be provided to the board and the office of the consumer advocate by the utilities subject to the energy efficiency requirements in this chapter. Telephone companies shall pay any additional sums needed for assistance with telecommunication competition issues. The assessments shall be in addition to and separate from the quarterly assessment.

Fees paid to the utilities division shall be deposited in the general fund of the state. These funds shall be used for the payment, upon appropriation by the general assembly, of the expenses of the uti-ilities division and the consumer advocate division of the department of justice. Subject to this section, the utilities division or the consumer advocate division may keep on hand with the treasurer of state funds in excess of the current needs of the utilities division or the consumer advocate division.

The administrator and consumer advocate shall account for receipts and disbursements according to the separate duties imposed upon the utilities and consumer advocate divisions by the laws of this state and each separate duty shall be fiscally self-sustaining.

All fees and other moneys collected under this section and sections 478.4, 479.16, and 479A.9 shall be deposited into the general fund of the state and expenses required to be paid under this section shall be paid from funds appropriated for those purposes. Moneys deposited into the general fund of the state pursuant to this section and sections 478.4, 479.16, and 479A.9 shall be subject to the requirements of section 8.60.

476.10A Funding for Iowa energy center and center for global and regional environmental research.

The board shall direct all gas and electric utilities to remit to the treasurer of state one-tenth of one percent of the total gross operating revenues during the last calendar year derived from their intrastate public utility operations. The board shall by rule provide a schedule for remittances which shall require that the first remittance be made not before July 1, 1991. The amounts collected pursuant to this section shall be in addition to the amounts permitted to be assessed pursuant to section 476.10. The board shall allow inclusion of these amounts in the budgets approved by the board pursuant to section 476.6, subsection 19, paragraph "c". Eighty-five percent of the remittances collected pursuant to this section is appropriated to the Iowa energy center created in section 266.39C. Fifteen percent of the remittances collected pursuant to this section is appropriated to the center for global and regional environmental research established by the state board of regents.

Notwithstanding section 8.33, any unexpended moneys remitted to the treasurer of state under this section shall be retained for the purposes designated. Notwithstanding section 12C.7, subsection 2, interest or earnings on investments or time deposits of the moneys remitted under this section shall be retained and used for the purposes designated.

The Iowa energy center and the center for global and regional environmental research shall each provide a written annual report to the utilities board which describes each center's activities and the results that each center has accomplished. Each report shall include an explanation of initiatives and projects of importance to the state of Iowa.

476.11 Telephone toll connections.

Whenever toll connection between the lines or facilities of two or more telephone companies has been made, or is demanded under the statutes of this state and the companies concerned cannot agree as to the terms and procedures under which toll communications shall be interchanged, the board upon complaint in writing, after hearing had upon reasonable notice, shall determine such terms and procedures.

The board may resolve complaints, upon notice and hearing, that a utility, operating under section 476.29, has failed to provide just, reasonable, and nondiscriminatory arrangements for interconnection of its telecommunications services with another telecommunications provider.

476.12 Rehearings before board.

Notwithstanding the Iowa administrative procedure Act, any party, as defined in the rules and regulations promulgated by the board as provided in section 476.2, to a contested case before the board may within twenty days after the issuance of the final decision apply for a rehearing. The board shall either grant or refuse an application for rehearing within thirty days after the filing of the application, or may after giving the interested parties notice and opportunity to be heard and after consideration of all the facts, including those arising since the making of the order, abrogate or modify its order. A failure by the board to act upon the application for rehearing within the above period shall be deemed a refusal of the application. Neither the filing of an application for rehearing nor the granting of the application shall stay the effectiveness of an order unless the board so directs.

476.13 Judicial review.

1. Notwithstanding the Iowa administrative procedure Act, the district court for Polk county or for the county in which a public utility maintains its principal place of business has exclusive venue for the judicial review under chapter 17A of actions of the board pursuant to rate-regulatory powers over that public utility.

2. Upon the filing of a petition for judicial review in an action referred to in subsection 1, the clerk of the district court shall notify the chief justice of the supreme court for purposes of assignment of a district judge under section 602.1212. The judicial review proceeding shall be heard by the district judge appointed by the supreme court under section 602.1212, but in the county of venue under subsection 1.

3. Notwithstanding the Iowa administrative procedure Act, if a public utility seeks judicial review of an order approving rates for the public utility, the level of rates that may be collected, under bond and subject to refund, while the appeal is pending shall be limited to the level of the temporary rates set by the board, or the level of the final rates set by the board, whichever is greater. During the period the judicial review proceeding is pending, the board shall retain jurisdiction to determine the rate of interest to be paid on any refunds eventually required on rates collected during judicial review.

476.14 Violations stopped.

Whenever the board shall be of the opinion that any public utility or any other person is violating this chapter or any order of the board, the board may commence an action in the district court for the county in which such violation is alleged to have occurred, to have such violation stopped and prevented by injunction, mandamus or other appropriate remedy.

476.16 Annual report.

The board shall include in its annual report required under sections 7A.1 and 7A.10 among other matters, to the extent such regulation is conferred upon the board by this chapter, the following:

1. A complete financial report of receipts and expenditures, including list of public utilities and separately the amount of total fees and assessments paid by each.

2. A list of the applications, subject and disposition of each docket number under this chapter, including board fees for such docket assessed by the board.

476.17 Peak-load energy conservation.

1. The board may promulgate rules pursuant to chapter 17A which require or authorize a public utility to establish peak-load management procedures.

2. Rules of the board shall relate to reducing or limiting the peak-load period consumption.

3. In promulgating rules under this section, the board is not bound by decisions, rulings or orders which relate to the definitions of types or classes of customers and which were issued by the Iowa state commerce commission prior to July 1, 1980.

476.18 Impermissible charges.

1. Public utilities subject to rate regulation are prohibited from including either directly or indirectly in their charges or rates to customers the costs of lobbying.

Every ad which is published, broadcast, or otherwise displayed or disseminated to the public by a public utility which is to be charged to the customers of the public utility and which is not required by the board or by other state or federal regulation shall include a statement in the ad that the costs of the ad are being charged to the customers of the public utility. This paragraph does not apply to a utility's product or service that is or becomes subject to competition as determined by the board.

4. This section does not apply to a rural electric cooperative.

476.20 Disconnection limited — notice — moratorium — deposits.

1. A utility shall not, except in cases of emergency, discontinue, reduce, or impair service to a community, or a part of a community, except for nonpayment of account or violation of rules and regulations, unless and until permission to do so is obtained from the board.

3. The board shall establish rules which shall be uniform with respect to all public utilities furnishing gas or electricity relating to disconnection of service. This subsection applies both to regulated utilities and to municipally owned utilities and unincorporated villages which own their own distribution systems, and violations of this subsection subject the utilities to civil penalties under section 476.51.

A qualified applicant for the low income home energy assistance program or the weatherization assistance program who is also a "head of household", as defined in section 422.4, subsection 7, shall be promptly certified by the local agency administering the applicant's program to the applicant's public utility that the resident is a "head of household" as defined in section 422.4, subsection 7, and is qualified for the low income home energy assistance program or weatherization assistance program. Notwithstanding subsection 1, a public utility furnishing gas or electricity shall not disconnect service from November 1 through April 1 to a residence which has a resident that has been certified under this paragraph.

4. A public utility which violates a provision of this section relating to the disconnection of service or which violates a rule of the board relating to disconnection of service is subject to civil penalties imposed by the board under section 476.51.

a. The deposit for a residential or commercial customer for a place which has previously received service shall not be greater than the highest billing of service for one month for the place in the previous twelve-month period.

b. The deposit for a residential or a commercial customer for a place which has not previously received service or for an industrial customer shall be the customer's projected one month's usage for the place to be serviced as determined by the public utility according to rules established by the board.

This subsection does not prohibit a public utility from requiring payment of a customer's past due account with the utility prior to reinstatement of service.

The rules shall allow a person other than the customer to pay the customer's deposit. Upon termination of service to such a customer, the deposit plus accumulated interest less any unpaid utility bill of the customer, shall be reimbursed to the person who made the deposit.

476.21 Discrimination prohibited.

A municipality, corporation or co-operative association providing electrical or gas service shall not consider the use of renewable energy sources by a customer as a basis for establishing discriminatory rates or charges for any service or commodity sold to the customer or discontinue services or subject the customer to any other prejudice or disadvantage based on the customer's use or intended use of renewable energy sources. As used in this section, "renewable energy sources" includes but is not limited to, solar heating, wind power and the conversion of urban and agricultural organic wastes into methane gas and liquid fuels.

ASSIGNED AREA OF SERVICE

476.22 Definition.

As used in sections 476.23 to 476.26, unless the context otherwise requires, “electric utility” includes a public utility furnishing electricity as defined in section 476.1 and a city utility as defined in section 390.1.

476.23 Electric service conflicts — certificates of authority.

1. An electric utility shall not construct or extend facilities or furnish or offer to furnish electric service to the existing point of delivery of any customer already receiving electric service from another electric utility without having first filed with the board the express written agreement of the electric utility presently serving this customer, except as otherwise provided in this section. Any municipal corporation, after being authorized by a vote of the people, or any electric utility may file a petition with the board requesting a certificate of authority to furnish electric service to the existing point of delivery of any customer already receiving electric service from another electric utility. If, after notice by the board to the electric utility currently serving the customer, objection to the petition is not filed and investigation is not deemed necessary, the board shall issue a certificate within thirty days of the filing of the petition. When an objection is filed, if the board, after notice and opportunity for hearing, determines that service to the customer by the petitioner is in the public interest, including consideration of any unnecessary duplication of facilities, it shall grant this certificate in whole or in part, upon such terms, conditions, and restrictions as may be justified. Whether or not an objection is filed, any certificate issued shall require that the petitioner pay to the electric utility presently serving the customer, the reasonable price for facilities serving the customer. This price determination by the board shall include due consideration of the cost of the facilities being acquired, any necessary generating capacity and transmission capacity dedicated to the customer, depreciation, loss of revenue, and the cost of facilities necessary to reintegrate the system of the utility after detaching the portion sold.

2. An electric utility shall not construct or extend facilities or furnish electric service to a prospective customer not presently being served, unless its existing service facilities are nearer the proposed point of delivery than the service facilities of any other utility. However, an electric utility may extend electric service and transmission lines if the electric utility closest to the delivery point consents to this extension in writing and a copy of the agreement is filed with the board or, if the board, after notice and opportunity for hearing and after giving due consideration to the prevention of unnecessary duplication of facilities, finds that service from an electric utility, other than the closest utility, is in the public interest. This subsection shall not apply if the prospective customers are within an exclusive service area assigned to an electric utility as provided in this division.

3. Notwithstanding subsections 1 and 2 of this section, any electric utility may extend electric service and transmission lines to its own utility property and facilities.

4. If not inconsistent with the provisions of this division:

a. All rights of municipal corporations under chapter 364 to grant a person a franchise to erect, maintain, and operate plants and systems for electric light and power within the corporate boundaries, and rights acquired by franchise or agreement shall be preserved in these municipal corporations;

b. All rights of city utilities under the city code shall be preserved in these city utilities;

c. All rights of city utilities and joint electric utilities under chapter 390 shall be preserved in these city utilities and joint electric utilities; and

d. All rights of cities under chapter 6B are preserved. However, prior to the institution of condemnation proceedings, the city shall obtain a certificate of authority from the board in accordance with this division and the board’s determination of price under this division shall be conclusive evidence of damages in these condemnation proceedings.

476.24 Electric utility service area maps.

1. On or before July 1, 1977, and subsequently whenever requested by the board, electric utilities furnishing electricity to the public for compensation in this state shall file, jointly or severally, with the board detailed maps of their service area drawn to a scale of not less than one inch per mile or drawn to a larger scale if required for clarity showing all of the following:

a. The locations of an electric utility’s generation, franchised transmission lines, distribution lines, and related facilities as of January 1, 1976.

b. All state and federal highways and other public roads within the electric utility’s service area.

c. All section lines and numbers and township and range numbers within the electric utility’s service area.

d. The corporate boundaries of all cities within the electric utility’s service area.

e. All lakes and rivers within the electric utility's service area.

f. All railroads within the electric utility's service area.

g. Any additional information requested by the board.

2. On or before July 1, 1978, and subsequently when deemed by the board to be necessary, the board shall prepare or cause to have prepared a composite map of this state showing the service areas of electric utilities as submitted by the electric utilities. The form and detail of all maps shall be determined by the board.

476.25 Assigned service areas — electric utilities — legislative policy.

It is declared to be in the public interest to encourage the development of co-ordinated statewide electric service at retail, to eliminate or avoid unnecessary duplication of electric utility facilities, and to promote economical, efficient, and adequate electric service to the public. In order to effect that public interest, the board may establish service areas within which specified electric utilities shall provide electric service to customers on an exclusive basis. Except for good cause expressed through formal public statement, the board shall establish these exclusive service areas on or before July 1, 1979. These exclusive service area boundaries shall be established by the board upon the following basis:

portunity for hearing, may modify the boundaries of an electric utility exclusive service area which it has previously established if this modification, including consideration of the factors noted in this subsection, is found to be in the public interest.

2. Contracts between electric utilities to designate service areas and customers to be served by the electric utilities or for the exchange of customers between electric utilities, when approved by the board, shall be valid and enforceable and shall be incorporated into the appropriate exclusive service areas established pursuant to subsection 1 of this section. The board shall approve a contract if it finds that the contract will eliminate or avoid unnecessary duplication of facilities, will provide adequate electric service to all areas and customers affected, will promote the efficient and economical use and development of the electric systems of the contracting electric utilities, and is in the public interest.

3. An electric utility shall not serve or offer to serve electric customers in an exclusive service area assigned to another electric utility, nor shall an electric utility construct facilities to serve electric customers in an exclusive service area assigned to another electric utility. The state, an electric utility, or any other person who is injured or threatened with injury by conduct prohibited by this section may initiate a contested case proceeding with the board under chapter 17A. Upon finding a violation of this section the board shall order appropriate corrective action including discontinuance of the unlawful service to electric customers, removal of the unlawful facility, or other disposition the board deems just and reasonable.

476.26 Effect of incorporation, annexation or consolidation.

The inclusion by incorporation, consolidation, or annexation of any facilities or service area of an electric utility within the boundaries of any city shall not by such inclusion impair or affect in any respect the rights of the electric utility to continue to provide electric utility service and to extend service to prospective customers in accordance with the provisions of this division.

476.27 and 476.28 Reserved.

476.29 Certificates for providing local telecommunications services.

1. After September 30, 1992, a utility must have a certificate of public convenience and necessity issued by the board before furnishing land-line local telephone service in this state. No lines or equipment shall be constructed, installed, or operated for the purpose of furnishing the service before a certificate has been issued.

2. Except as provided in subsection 12, a certificate shall be issued by the board, after notice and opportunity for hearing, if the board determines that the service proposed to be rendered will promote the public convenience and necessity, provided that an applicant other than a local exchange carrier, as defined in section 476.96, shall not be denied a certificate if the board finds that the applicant possesses the technical, financial, and managerial ability to provide the service it proposes to render and the board finds the service is consistent with the public interest. The board shall make a determination within ninety days of the submission by the applicant of evidence of its technical, financial, and managerial ability, unless the board determines that additional time is necessary to consider the application, in which case the board may extend the time for making a determination for an additional sixty days. The board may establish reasonable conditions or restrictions on the certificate at the time of issuance.

3. A certificate is transferable, subject to approval of the board pursuant to section 476.20, subsection 1, and for purposes of a rate-regulated local exchange utility shall be treated by the board in the same manner as a reorganization pursuant to sections 476.76 and 476.77.

4. Each certificate shall define the service territory in which land-line local telephone service will be provided. The service territory shall be shown on maps and other documentation as the board may require to be filed with the board. The board shall, by rule, specify the style, size, and kind of map or other documentation, and the information to be shown.

5. Each local exchange utility has an obligation to serve all eligible customers within the utility's service territory, unless explicitly excepted from this requirement by the board.

6. The certificate and tariffs approved by the board are the only authority required for the utility to furnish land-line local telephone service. However, to the extent not inconsistent with this section, the power to regulate the conditions required and manner of use of the highways, streets, rights-of-way, and public grounds remains in the appropriate public authority.

7. The inclusion of any facilities or service territory of a local exchange utility within the boundaries of a city does not impair or affect the rights of the utility to provide land-line local telephone service in the utility's service territory.

8. An agreement between local exchange utilities to designate service territory boundaries and customers to be served by the utilities, or for exchange of customers between utilities, when approved by the board after notice to affected persons and opportunity for hearing, is valid and enforceable and shall be incorporated into the appropriate certificates. The board shall approve an agreement if the board finds the agreement will result in adequate service to all areas and customers affected and is in the public interest.

9. A certificate may, after notice and opportunity for hearing, be revoked by the board for failure of a utility to furnish reasonably adequate telephone service and facilities. The board may also order a revocation affecting less than the entire service territory, or may place appropriate conditions on a utility to ensure reasonably adequate telephone service. Prior to revocation proceedings, the board shall notify the utility of any inadequacies in its service and facilities and allow the utility a reasonable time to eliminate the inadequacies.

10. In the event that eighty percent or more of the subscribers in a community served by a local exchange utility sign a petition indicating they are adversely affected by school reorganization or economic dislocation and prefer to have their local telephone service provided by a different local exchange utility and file that petition with the board, the board, after notice and opportunity for hearing, shall determine whether the certificate held by the local exchange utility shall be revoked or conditioned as provided in subsection 9.

11. The board shall assure that all territory in the state is served by a local exchange utility. If at any time due to certificate revocation proceedings, discontinuance of service proceedings, or any other reason, it appears that a particular territory may not be served by any local exchange utility, the board may, after notice to interested persons and opportunity for hearing, include all or part of the territory in the certificate of another local exchange utility or utilities. In determining the local exchange utility or utilities to be authorized or required to serve, the board shall consider the willingness and ability of the utilities to serve, the location of existing service facilities, the community of interest of the customers involved, and any other factors deemed relevant to the public interest.

12. The board, on or prior to September 30, 1992, shall issue to each local exchange utility in the state, without a contested case proceeding, a nonexclusive certificate to serve the area included within the utility's service territory boundaries as shown by the service territory boundary maps on record with the board on January 1, 1992. The board shall adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A to implement the issuance of certificates.

a. A customer served by a local exchange utility, but outside the service territory of that utility when the utility's certificate is issued, shall continue to be served by that utility for as long as that customer remains eligible to receive and requests service.

b. If more than one utility has on file maps indicating service in the same territory, the board shall request the involved utilities to resolve the overlap. If the overlap is not resolved in a reasonable time, the board, after notice to interested persons and opportunity for hearing, shall determine the boundary, taking into consideration the criteria listed in subsection 11.

13. Notwithstanding other provisions of this section, approval by the voters of a city pursuant to section 388.2 of a proposal to establish or acquire a public utility providing communications services is conclusive evidence of the fact that the city has the technical, financial, and managerial ability to provide such service. Following the notice and opportunity for hearing in subsection 2, an applicant shall not be denied a certificate if the board finds the proposed service is consistent with the public interest.

14. This section does not prevent the board from adopting rules requiring or allowing local exchange utilities to provide extended area service or adjacent exchange service.

15. The board shall provide a written report to the general assembly no later than January 20, 2005, describing the current status of local telephone service in this state. The report shall include at a minimum the number of certificates of convenience issued, the number of current providers of local telephone service, and any other information deemed appropriate by the board.

RULES

476.31 Continuing audit of operation.

The board shall adopt not later than July 1, 1983, rules and policies to implement a program for the continuous review of operations of rate-regulated public utilities with respect to all matters that affect rates or charges for utility service.

476.32 Review of annual reports.

The board shall review annual reports submitted by rate-regulated public utilities. The board shall commence rate-review proceedings under this chapter if an annual report indicates that the earnings of the public utility are excessive.

476.33 Rules governing hearings.

1. The board shall adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A to provide for the completion of proceedings under section 476.3 within ten months after the date of the filing of a petition under section 476.3, subsection 2, and to provide for the completion of proceedings under section 476.6 within ten months after the date of filing of the new or changed rates, charges, schedules, or regulations under that section. These rules shall include reasonable time limitations for the submission or completion of comments and testimony, and exhibits, briefs, and hearings, and may provide for the granting of additional time upon the request of a party to the proceeding for good cause shown.

2. Additional time granted to a party under subsection 1 shall not extend the amount of time for which a utility is required to file a bond or other undertaking conditioned upon refund under section 476.3, subsection 2.

3. If in a proceeding under section 476.6 additional time is granted to a party under subsection 1, the board may extend the ten-month period during which a utility is prohibited from placing its entire rate increase request into effect under section 476.6, but an extension shall not exceed the aggregate amount of all additional time granted under subsection 1.

4. The board shall adopt rules that require the board, in rate regulatory proceedings under sections 476.3 and 476.6, to consider the use of the most current test period possible in determining reasonable and just rates, subject only to the availability of existing and verifiable data respecting costs and revenues, and in addition to consider verifiable data that exists as of the date of commencement of the proceedings respecting known and measurable changes in costs not associated with a different level of revenue, and known and measurable revenues not associated with a different level of costs, that are to occur at any time within twelve months after the date of commencement of the proceedings. For purposes of this subsection, a proceeding commences under section 476.6 upon the filing date of new or changed rates, charges, schedules or regulations. This subsection does not limit the authority of the board to consider other evidence in proceedings under sections 476.3 and 476.6.

ALTERNATE ENERGY PRODUCTION FACILITIES

476.41 Purpose.

It is the policy of this state to encourage the development of alternate energy production facilities and small hydro facilities in order to conserve our finite and expensive energy resources and to provide for their most efficient use.

83 Acts, ch 182, §2

476.42 Definitions.

As used in this division, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. “Alternate energy production facility” means any or all of the following:

a. A solar, wind turbine, waste management, resource recovery, refuse-derived fuel, agricultural crops or residues, or woodburning facility.

b. Land, systems, buildings, or improvements that are located at the project site and are necessary or convenient to the construction, completion, or operation of the facility.

c. Transmission or distribution facilities necessary to conduct the energy produced by the facility to users located at or near the project site.

A facility which is a qualifying facility under 18 C.F.R. part 292, subpart B is not precluded from being an alternate energy production facility under this division.

2. “Electric utility” means a public utility that furnishes electricity to the public for compensation.

3. “Next generating plant” means an electric utility’s assumed next coal-fired base load electric generating plant, whether planned or not, based on current technology and undiscounted current cost.

4. “Small hydro facility” means any or all of the following:

a. A hydroelectric facility at a dam.

b. Land, systems, buildings, or improvements that are located at the project site and are necessary or convenient to the construction, completion, or operation of the facility.

c. Transmission or distribution facilities necessary to conduct the energy produced by the facility to users located at or near the project site.

A facility which is a qualifying facility under 18 C.F.R. part 292, subpart B is not precluded from being a small hydro facility under this division.

476.43 Rates for alternate energy production facilities.

1. Subject to section 476.44, the board shall require electric utilities to enter into long-term contracts to do the following:

a. Purchase or wheel electricity from alternate energy production facilities or small hydro facilities located in the utility’s service area under the terms and conditions that the board finds are just and economically reasonable to the electric utilities’ ratepayers, are nondiscriminatory to alternate energy producers and small hydro producers and will further the policy stated in section 476.41.

b. Provide for the availability of supplemental or backup power to alternate energy production facilities or small hydro facilities on a nondiscriminatory basis and at just and reasonable rates.

2. Upon application by the owner or operator of an alternate energy production facility or small hydro facility or any interested party, the board shall establish for the affected public utility just and economically reasonable rates for electricity purchased under subsection 1, paragraph “a”. The rates shall be established at levels sufficient to stimulate the development of alternate energy production and small hydro facilities in Iowa and to encourage the continuation of existing capacity from those facilities.

3. The board may adopt individual utility or uniform statewide facility rates. The board shall consider the following factors in setting individual or uniform rates:

a. The estimated capital cost of the next generating plant, including related transmission facilities, to be placed in service by the electric utility serving the area.

b. The term of the contract between the electric utility and the seller.

c. A levelized annual carrying charge based upon the term of the contract and determined in a manner consistent with both the methods and the current interest or return requirements associated with the electric utility’s new construction program.

d. The electric utility’s annual energy costs, including current fuel costs, related operation and maintenance costs, and other energy-related costs considered appropriate by the board.

e. External factors, including but not limited to, environmental and economic factors.

f. Other relevant factors.

g. If the board adopts uniform statewide rates, the board shall use representative data in lieu of utility specific information in applying the factors listed in paragraphs “a” through “f”.

4. In the case of a utility that purchases all or substantially all of its electricity requirements, the rates established under this section must be based on the electric utility’s current purchased power costs.

5. In lieu of the other procedures provided by this section, an electric utility and an owner or operator of an alternate energy production facility or small hydro facility may enter into a long-term contract in accordance with subsection 1 and may agree to rates for purchase and sale transactions. A contract entered into under this subsection must be filed with the board in the manner provided for tariffs under section 476.4.

6. This section does not require an electric utility to construct additional facilities unless those facilities are paid for by the owner or operator of the affected alternate energy production facility or small hydro facility.

476.44 Exceptions.

1. The board shall not require an electric utility to purchase or wheel electricity from an alternate energy production facility or small hydro facility unless the facility is owned or operated by an individual, firm, copartnership, corporation, company, association, joint stock association, city, town, or county that meets both of the following:

a. Is not primarily engaged in the business of producing or selling electricity, gas, or useful thermal energy other than electricity, gas, or useful thermal energy sold solely from alternate energy production facilities or small hydro facilities.

b. Does not sell electricity, gas, or useful thermal energy to residential users other than the tenants or the owner or operator of the facility.

2. An electric utility subject to this division, except a utility which elects rate regulation pursuant to section 476.1A, shall not be required to purchase, at any one time, more than its share of one hundred five megawatts of power from alternative energy production facilities or small hydro facilities at the rates established pursuant to section 476.43. The board shall allocate the one hundred five megawatts based upon each utility's percentage of the total Iowa retail peak demand, for the year beginning January 1, 1990, of all utilities subject to this section. If a utility undergoes reorganization as defined in section 476.76, the board shall combine the allocated purchases of power for each utility involved in the reorganization.

Notwithstanding the one hundred five megawatt maximum, the board may increase the amount of power that a utility is required to purchase at the rates established pursuant to section 476.43 if the board finds that a utility, including a reorganized utility, exceeds its 1990 Iowa retail peak demand by twenty percent and the additional power the utility is required to purchase will encourage the development of alternate energy production facilities and small hydro facilities. The increase shall not exceed the utility's increase in peak demand multiplied by the ratio of the utility's share of the one hundred five megawatt maximum to its 1990 Iowa retail peak demand.

476.46 Alternate energy revolving loan program.

1. The Iowa energy center created under section 266.39C shall establish and administer an alternate energy revolving loan program to encourage the development of alternate energy production facilities and small hydro facilities within the state.

2. An alternate energy revolving loan fund is created in the office of the treasurer of state to be administered by the Iowa energy center. The fund shall include moneys remitted to the fund pursuant to subsection 3 and any other moneys appropriated or otherwise directed to the fund. Moneys in the fund shall be used to provide loans for the construction of alternate energy production facilities or small hydro facilities as defined in section 476.42. A gas or electric utility which is not required to be rate-regulated shall not be eligible for a loan under this section. A facility shall be eligible for no more than two hundred fifty thousand dollars in loans outstanding at any time under this program. Each loan shall be for a period not to exceed twenty years, shall bear no interest, and shall be repayable to the fund created under this section in installments as determined by the Iowa energy center. The interest rate upon delinquent payments shall accelerate immediately to the current legal usury limit. Any loan made pursuant to this program shall become due for payment upon sale of the facility for which the loan was made. Interest on the fund shall be deposited in the fund. Section 8.33 shall not apply to the moneys in the fund.

3. The board shall direct all gas and electric utilities required to be rate-regulated to remit to the treasurer of state by July 1, 1996, eighty-five one-thousandths of one percent of the total gross operating revenues during calendar year 1995 derived from their intrastate public utility operations, by July 1, 1997, eighty-five one-thousandths of one percent of the total gross operating revenues during calendar year 1996 derived from their intrastate public utility operations and by July 1, 1998, eighty-five one-thousandths of one percent of the total gross operating revenues during calendar year 1997 derived from their intrastate public utility operations. The amounts collected pursuant to this section shall be in addition to the amounts permitted to be assessed pursuant to section 476.10 and the amounts assessed pursuant to section 476.10A. The board shall allow inclusion of these amounts in the budgets approved by the board pursuant to section 476.6, subsection 19, paragraph "c".

PENALTY

476.51 Civil penalty.

A public utility which, after written notice by the board of a specific violation, violates the same provision of this chapter, the same rule adopted by the board, or the same provision of an order lawfully issued by the board, is subject to a civil penalty, which may be levied by the board, of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than two thousand five hundred dollars per violation.

A public utility which willfully, after written notice by the board of a specific violation, violates the same provision of this chapter, the same rule adopted by the board, or the same provision of an order lawfully issued by the board, is subject to a civil penalty, which may be levied by the board, of not less than one thousand dollars nor more than ten thousand dollars per violation. For the purposes of this section, “willful” means knowing and deliberate, with a specific intent to violate.

Each violation is a separate offense. In the case of a continuing violation, each day a violation continues, after the time specified for compliance in the written notice by the board, is a separate and distinct offense. Any civil penalty may be compromised by the board. In determining the amount of the penalty, or the amount agreed upon in a compromise, the board may consider the appropriateness of the penalty in relation to the size of the public utility, the gravity of the violation, and the good faith of the public utility in attempting to achieve compliance following notification of a violation, and any other relevant factors.

The written notice given by the board to a public utility under this section shall specify an appropriate time for compliance.

Civil penalties collected pursuant to this section shall be forwarded by the executive secretary of the board to the treasurer of state to be credited to the general fund of the state and to be used only for the low income home energy assistance program and the weatherization assistance program administered by the division of community action agencies of the department of human rights. Penalties paid by a rate-regulated public utility pursuant to this section shall be excluded from the utility’s costs when determining the utility’s revenue requirement, and shall not be included either directly or indirectly in the utility’s rates or charges to customers.

476.52 Management efficiency.

It is the policy of this state that a public utility shall operate in an efficient manner. If the board determines in the course of a proceeding conducted under section 476.3 or 476.6 that a utility is operating in an inefficient manner, or is not exercising ordinary, prudent management, or in comparison with other utilities in the state the board determines that the utility is performing in a less beneficial manner than other utilities, the board may reduce the level of profit or adjust the revenue requirement for the utility to the extent the board believes appropriate to provide incentives to the utility to correct its inefficient operation. If the board determines in the course of a proceeding conducted under section 476.3 or 476.6 that a utility is operating in such an extraordinarily efficient manner that tangible financial benefits result to the ratepayer, the board may increase the level of profit or adjust the revenue requirement for the utility. In making its determination under this section, the board may also consider a public utility’s pursuit of energy efficiency programs. The board shall adopt rules for determining the level of profit or the revenue requirement adjustment that would be appropriate.

The board shall also adopt rules establishing a methodology for an analysis of a utility’s management efficiency.

476.53 Excess capacity.

It is the intent of the general assembly of the state of Iowa to provide for the development of a fair resolution concerning the allocation of costs associated with excess electric generating capacity. It is the policy of this state that it is in the public interest that public utilities subject to rate regulation, at a minimum, be prohibited from including either directly or indirectly in their charges or rates to customers the return on common equity associated with excess electric generating capacity, however this shall not apply to rural electric cooperatives. The board shall not allow a return on common equity on that portion of a public utility’s electric generating capacity which is determined to be excess electric generating capacity. Excess electric generating capacity is that portion of the public utility’s electric generating capacity which exceeds the amount reasonably necessary to provide adequate and reliable service as determined by the board.

Electric generating capacity sold pursuant to the terms of contracts entered into between June 28, 1978 and June 30, 1978 for power delivered on or before May 1, 1983 to May 1, 1993, shall not be included in the determination of excess electric generating capacity.

Electric generating capacity purchased from qualifying cogeneration and small power production facilities shall not be included in the determination of excess electric generating capacity.

476.54 Delayed payment charges.

A public utility shall not apply delayed payment charges on a customer’s account if the scheduled payment was made by the customer within twenty days from the date the billing was sent to the customer. Delayed payment charges on a customer’s account shall not exceed one and one-half percent per month of the past-due amount.

476.55 Complaint of antitrust activities.

An application for new or changed rates, charges, schedules or regulations filed under this chapter, or an application for a certificate or an amendment to a certificate submitted under chapter 476A, by an electric transmission line utility or a gas pipeline utility or a subsidiary of either shall not be approved by the board if, upon complaint by an Iowa electric or gas utility, the board finds activities which create or maintain a situation inconsistent with antitrust laws and the policies which underlie them. The board may grant the rate or facility certification request once it determines that those activities which led to the antitrust complaint have been eliminated. However, this subsection does not apply to an application for new or changed rates, charges, schedules or regulations after the expiration of the ten-month limitation and applicable extensions.

476.56 Energy costs provided.

A gas or electric public utility shall provide, upon the request of a person who states in writing that the person is an owner of real property, or an interested prospective purchaser or renter of the property, which is or has been receiving gas or electric service from the public utility, the annual gas or electric energy costs for the property.

476.57 Limitations on use of ADAD equipment — penalty.

1. Definition. As used in this section, “ADAD equipment” means automatic dialing-announcing device equipment which is a device or system of devices used, either alone or in conjunction with other equipment, for the purpose of automatically selecting or dialing telephone numbers without the use of a live operator to disseminate prerecorded messages to the numbers selected or dialed.

2. Prohibition.

a. Except as provided in paragraph “b”, a person shall not use, employ, or direct another person to use, or contract for the use of ADAD equipment.

b. Except for ADAD equipment which randomly or sequentially selects the telephone numbers for calling, the prohibition in paragraph “a” does not apply to any of the following:

(1) Calls made with ADAD equipment by a nonprofit organization or by an individual using the calls other than for commercial profit-making purposes or fund-raising, if the calls do not involve the advertisement or offering for sale, lease, or rental of goods, services, or property.

(2) Calls made with ADAD equipment relating to payment for, service of, or warranty coverage of previously ordered or purchased goods or services or to persons or organizations with a prior business relationship with the persons or organizations using the calls.

(3) Calls made with ADAD equipment relating to the collection of lawful debts.

(4) Calls made with ADAD equipment to members or employees of the organization making the calls.

(5) Calls made with ADAD equipment which use an initial prerecorded message of a duration no greater than seven seconds prior to a live operator intercept, or calls which involve an initial message from a live operator.

3. Termination. Calls made with ADAD equipment must terminate the connection with any call within ten seconds after the person receiving the call acts to disconnect the call.

4. Penalty. A violation of this section is a serious misdemeanor.

CUSTOMER CONTRIBUTION FUND

476.66 Customer contribution fund.

1. The utilities board shall adopt rules which shall require each electric and gas public utility to establish a fund whose purposes shall include the receiving of contributions to assist the utility’s low-income customers with weatherization measures to improve energy efficiency related to winter heating and summer cooling, and to supplement the energy assistance received under the federal low-income heating energy assistance program for the payment of winter heating electric or gas utility bills.

2. The rules shall require each utility to periodically notify its customers of the availability and purpose of the fund and to provide them with forms on which they can authorize the utility to bill their contribution to the fund on a monthly basis.

3. The rules shall permit the fund to accept matching funds from persons or organizations who wish to provide assistance for customers of the utility.

4. The utility may be reimbursed by the fund for the administrative costs of the billings, disbursements, notices to customers, and financial recordkeeping. However, such reimbursement shall not exceed five percent of the total revenues collected.

5. The utility shall establish a board or committee to determine the appropriate distribution of the funds. The board or committee shall include representatives from community or regional organizations which are active in assisting citizens with payment of their winter heating bills.

6. The rules established by the utilities board shall require an annual report to be filed for each fund. The utilities board shall compile an annual statewide report of the fund results. The division of community action agencies of the department of human rights shall prepare an annual report of the unmet need for energy assistance and weatherization. Both reports shall be submitted to the appropriations committees of the general assembly on the first day of the following session.

7. Existing programs to receive customer contributions established by public utilities shall be construed to meet the requirements of this section. Such plans shall be subject to review by the utilities board. If determined not to be in compliance with the provisions of this section, they shall be given until July 1989 to modify their operation so as to be in compliance.

PUBLIC UTILITY AFFILIATES

476.71 Purpose.

It is the intent of the general assembly that a public utility should not directly or indirectly include in regulated rates or charges any costs or expenses of an affiliate engaged in any business other than that of utility business unless the affiliate provides goods or services to the public utility. The costs that are included should be reasonably necessary and appropriate for utility business. It is also the intent of the general assembly that a public utility should only provide nonutility services in a manner that minimizes the possibility of cross-subsidization or unfair competitive advantage.

89 Acts, ch 103, §2

476.72 Definitions.

As used in this division, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Affiliate" means a party that directly, or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with a rate-regulated public utility.

2. "Control" means the possession, direct or indirect, of the power to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of an enterprise through ownership, by contract or otherwise.

3. "Nonutility service" includes the sale, lease, or other conveyance of commercial and residential gas or electric appliances, interior lighting systems and fixtures, or heating, ventilating, or air conditioning systems and component parts or the servicing, repair, or maintenance of such equipment.

4. "Public utility" includes only gas or electric rate-regulated public utilities and rate-regulated telephone utilities providing local exchange telecommunication service.

5. "Utility business" means the generation or transmission of electricity or furnishing of gas or furnishing electricity or furnishing rate-regulated communications services to the public for compensation.

89 Acts, ch 103, §3

476.73 Affiliate records.

1. Access to records. Every public utility and affiliate through the public utility shall provide the board with access to books, records, accounts, documents, and other data and information which the board finds necessary to effectively implement and effectuate the provisions of this chapter.

2. Separate records. The board may require affiliates of a public utility to keep separate records and the board may provide for the examination and inspection of the books, accounts, papers, and records, as may be necessary to enforce this chapter.

3. Allocation permitted. The board may inquire as to and prescribe, for ratemaking purposes, the allocation of capitalization, earnings, debts, and expenses related to ownership, operation, or management of affiliates.

476.74 Affiliate information required to be filed.

1. Goods and services. All contracts or arrangements providing for the furnishing or receiving of goods and services including but not limited to the furnishing or receiving of management, supervisory, construction, engineering, accounting, legal, financial, marketing, data processing, or similar services made or entered into on or after July 1, 1989, between a public utility and any affiliate shall be filed annually with the board.

2. Sales, purchases, and leases. All contracts or arrangements for the purchase, sale, lease, or exchange of any property, right, or thing made or entered into on or after July 1, 1989, between a public utility and any affiliate shall be filed annually with the board.

3. Loans. All contracts or arrangements providing for any loan of money or an extension or renewal of any loan of money or any similar transaction made or entered into on or after July 1, 1989, between a public utility and any affiliate, whether as guarantor, endorser, surety, or otherwise, shall be filed annually with the board.

4. Verified copies required. Every public utility shall file with the board a verified copy of the contract or arrangement referred to in this section, or a verified summary of the unwritten contract or arrangement, and also of all the contracts and arrangements or a verified summary of the unwritten contracts or arrangements, whether written or unwritten, entered into prior to July 1, 1989, and in force and effect at that time. Any contract or agreement determined by the board to be a confidential record pursuant to section 22.7 shall be returned to the public utility filing the confidential record within sixty days after the contract or agreement is filed.

5. Exemption. The provisions of this section requiring filing of contracts or agreements with the board shall not apply to transactions with an affiliate where the amount of consideration involved is not in excess of fifty thousand dollars or five percent of the capital equity of the utility, whichever is smaller. However, regularly recurring payments under a general or continuing arrangement which aggregate a greater annual amount shall not be broken down into a series of transactions to come within this exemption. In any proceeding involving the rates, charges or practices of the public utility, the board may exclude from the accounts of the public utility any unreasonable payment or compensation made pursuant to any contract or arrangement which is not required to be filed under this subsection.

6. Continuing jurisdiction. The board shall have the same jurisdiction over modifications or amendments of contracts or arrangements in this section as it has over the original contracts or arrangements. Any modification or amendment of contracts or arrangements shall also be filed annually with the board.

7. Sanction. For ratemaking purposes, the board may exclude the payment or compensation to an affiliate or adjust the revenue received from an affiliate associated with any contract or arrangement required to be filed with the board if the contract or arrangement is not so filed.

8. Alternative information. The board shall consult with other state and federal regulatory agencies for the purpose of eliminating duplicate or conflicting filing requirements and may adopt rules which provide that comparable information required to be filed with other state or federal regulatory agencies may be accepted by the board in lieu of information required by this section.

9. Reasonableness required. In any proceeding, whether upon the board's own motion or upon application or complaint involving the rates, charges, or practices of any public utility, the board, for ratemaking purposes may exclude from the accounts of the public utility or adjust any payment or compensation related to any transaction with an affiliate for any services rendered or for any property or service furnished or received, as described in this section, under contracts or arrangements with an affiliate unless and upon inquiry the public utility shall establish the reasonableness of the payment or compensation.

10. Exemption by rule or waiver. The board may adopt rules which exempt any public utility or class of public utility or class of contracts or arrangements from this section or waive the requirements of this section if the board finds that the exemption or waiver is in the public interest.

476.75 Audits required.

The board may periodically retain a nationally or regionally recognized independent auditing firm to conduct an audit of the transactions between a public utility and its affiliates. An affiliate transaction audit shall not be conducted more frequently than every three years, unless ordered by the board for good cause. The cost of the audit shall be paid by the public utility to the independent auditing firm and shall be included in its regulated rates and charges, unless otherwise ordered by the board for good cause after providing the public utility the opportunity for a hearing on the board's decision.

476.76 Reorganization defined.

For purposes of this division unless the context otherwise requires, "reorganization" means either of the following:

1. The acquisition, sale, lease, or any other disposition, directly or indirectly, including by merger or consolidation, of the whole or any substantial part of a public utility's assets.

2. The purchase or other acquisition or sale or other disposition of the controlling capital stock of any public utility, either directly or indirectly.

89 Acts, ch 103, §7

476.77 Time and standards for review.

1. A reorganization shall not take place if the board disapproves. Prior to reorganization, the applicant shall file with the board a proposal for reorganization with supporting testimony and evidence to establish that the reorganization is not contrary to the interests of the public utility's ratepayers and the public interest.

2. A proposal for reorganization shall be deemed to have been approved unless the board disapproves the proposal within ninety days after its filing. The board, for good cause shown, may extend the deadline for acting on an application for an additional period not to exceed ninety days. However, the board shall not disapprove a proposal for reorganization without providing for notice and opportunity for hearing. The notice of hearing shall be provided no later than fifty days after the proposal for reorganization has been filed.

3. In its review of a proposal for reorganization, the board may consider all of the following:

a. Whether the board will have reasonable access to books, records, documents, and other information relating to the public utility or any of its affiliates.

b. Whether the public utility's ability to attract capital on reasonable terms, including the maintenance of a reasonable capital structure, is impaired.

c. Whether the ability of the public utility to provide safe, reasonable, and adequate service is impaired.

d. Whether ratepayers are detrimentally affected.

e. Whether the public interest is detrimentally affected.

4. The board may adopt rules which exempt a public utility or class of public utility or class of reorganization from this section if the board finds that with respect to the public utility or class of public utility or class of reorganization review is not necessary in the public interest. The board may adopt rules necessary to protect the interest of the customers of the exempt public utility. These rules may include, but are not limited to, notification of a proposed sale or transfer of assets or stock. The board may waive the requirements of this section, if the board finds that board review is not necessary in the public interest.

476.78 Cross-subsidization prohibited.

A rate-regulated gas or electric public utility shall not directly or indirectly include any costs or expenses attributable to providing nonutility service in regulated rates or charges. Except for contracts existing as of July 1, 1996, a rate-regulated gas or electric public utility or its affiliates shall not use vehicles, service tools and instruments, or employees, the costs, salaries, or benefits of which are recoverable in the regulated rates for electric service or gas service to install, service, or repair residential or commercial gas or electric heating, ventilating, or air conditioning systems, or interior lighting systems and fixtures; or to sell at retail heating, ventilating, air conditioning, or interior lighting equipment. For the purpose of this section, "commercial" means a place of business primarily used for the storage or sale, at wholesale or retail, of goods, wares, services, or merchandise. Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit a rate-regulated gas or electric public utility from using its utility vehicles, service tools and instruments, and employees to market systems, services, and equipment, to light pilots, or to eliminate a customer emergency or threat to public safety.

476.79 Provision of nonutility service.

1. A rate-regulated gas or electric public utility providing any nonutility service to its customers shall keep and render to the board separate records of the nonutility service. The board may provide for the examination and inspection of the books, accounts, papers, and records of the nonutility service, as may be necessary, to enforce any provisions of this chapter.

2. The board shall adopt rules which specify the manner and form of the accounts relating to providing nonutility services which the rate-regulated gas or electric utility shall maintain.

476.80 Additional requirements.

A rate-regulated gas or electric public utility which engages in a systematic marketing effort as defined by the board, other than on an incidental or casual basis, to promote the availability of nonutility service from the public utility shall make available at reasonable compensation on a nondiscriminatory basis to all persons engaged primarily in providing the same competitive nonutility services in that area all of the following services to the same extent utilized by the public utility in connection with its nonutility services:

1. Access to and use of the public utility's customer lists.

2. Access to and use of the public utility's billing and collection system.

3. Access to and use of the public utility's mailing system.

89 Acts, ch 103, §11

476.81 Audit required.

The board may periodically retain a nationally or regionally recognized independent auditing firm to conduct an audit of the nonutility services provided by a rate-regulated gas or electric public utility subject to the provisions of section 476.80. A nonutility service audit shall not be conducted more frequently than every three years, unless ordered by the board for good cause. The cost of the audit shall be paid by the public utility to the independent auditing firm and shall be included in its regulated rates and charges, unless otherwise ordered by the board for good cause after providing the public utility the opportunity for a hearing on the board's decision.

476.82 Exemption — energy efficiency.

Notwithstanding any language to the contrary, nothing in this division shall prohibit a public utility from participating in or conducting energy efficiency projects or programs established or approved by the board or required by statute. A public utility participating in or conducting energy efficiency projects or programs established or approved by the board or required by statute shall not be subject to the provisions of sections 476.80 and 476.81 for those energy efficiency projects or programs.

476.83 Complaints.

Any person may file a written complaint with the board requesting that the board determine compliance by a rate-regulated gas or electric public utility with the provisions of section 476.78, 476.79, or 476.80, or any validly adopted rules to implement these sections. Upon the filing of a complaint, the board may promptly initiate a formal complaint proceeding and give notice of the proceeding and the opportunity for hearing. The formal complaint proceeding may be initiated at any time by the board on its own motion. The board shall render a decision in the proceeding within ninety days after the date the written complaint was filed, unless additional time is requested by the complainant.

COMPETITIVE NATURAL GAS PROVIDERS

476.86 Definitions.

As used in this section and section 476.87, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. “Aggregator” means a person who combines retail end users into a group and arranges for the acquisition of competitive natural gas services without taking title to those services.

2. “Competitive natural gas provider” means a person who takes title to natural gas and sells it for consumption by a retail end user in the state of Iowa. “Competitive natural gas provider” includes an affiliate of an Iowa gas utility.

“Competitive natural gas provider” does not include the following:

a. A public utility which is subject to rate regulation under this chapter.

b. A municipally owned utility which provides natural gas service within its incorporated area or within the municipal natural gas competitive service area, as defined in section 437A.3, subsection 21, paragraph “a”, subparagraph (1), in which the municipally owned utility is located.

476.87 Certification of competitive natural gas providers.

1. The board shall certify all competitive natural gas providers and aggregators providing natural gas services in this state. In an application for certification, a competitive natural gas provider or aggregator must reasonably demonstrate managerial, technical, and financial capability sufficient to obtain and deliver the services such provider or aggregator proposes to offer. The board may establish reasonable conditions or restrictions on the certificate at the time of issuance. The board shall adopt rules to establish specific criteria for certification. The board shall make a determination on an application for certification within ninety days of its submission, unless the board determines that additional time is necessary to consider the application, in which case the board may extend the time for making a determination for an additional sixty days.

2. The board may resolve disputes involving the provision of natural gas services by a competitive natural gas provider or aggregator.

3. The board shall allocate the costs and expenses reasonably attributable to certification and dispute resolution in this section to persons identified as parties to such proceeding who are engaged in or who seek to engage in providing natural gas services or other persons identified as participants in such proceeding. The funds received for the costs and the expenses of certification and dispute resolution shall be remitted to the treasurer of state for deposit in the general fund of the state as provided in section 476.10.

476.88 through 476.90 Reserved.

ALTERNATIVE OPERATOR SERVICES

476.91 Alternative operator services.

1. Definitions. As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

a. “Alternative operator services company” means a nongovernmental company which receives more than half of its Iowa intrastate telecommunications services revenues from calls placed by end-user customers from telephones other than ordinary residence or business telephones. The definition is further limited to include only companies which provide operator assistance, either through live or automated intervention, on calls placed from other than ordinary residence or business telephones, and does not include services provided under contract to rate-regulated local exchange utilities.

b. “Contracting entity” means an entity providing telephones other than ordinary residence or business telephones for use by end-user customers which has contracted with an alternative operator services company to provide telecommunications services to those telephones.

c. "End-user customer" means a person who places a local or toll call.

d. "Other than ordinary residence or business telephones" means telephones other than the residence or business telephones of the customary users of the telephones, including but not limited to pay telephones and telephones in motel, hotel, hospital, and college dormitory rooms.

2. Jurisdiction. Notwithstanding any finding by the board that a service or facility is subject to competition and should be deregulated pursuant to section 476.1, all intrastate telecommunications services provided by alternative operator services companies to end-user customers, using other than ordinary residence or business telephones, are subject to the jurisdiction of the board and shall be rendered pursuant to tariffs approved by the board. Alternative operator services companies shall be subject to all requirements and sanctions provided in this chapter. Contracting entities shall be subject to the requirements of any board regulations concerning telecommunications services provided by alternative operator services companies.

3. Requirements. The board shall adopt and enforce requirements for the provision of services by alternative operator services companies and contracting entities.

4. Billing by local exchange utilities. Notwithstanding any finding by the board that a service or facility is subject to competition and should be deregulated pursuant to section 476.1, a regulated local exchange utility shall not perform billing and collection functions relating to regulated telecommunications services provided by an alternative operator services company, unless the alternative operator services company has filed a statement with the local exchange utility signed by a corporate officer, or other authorized person having personal knowledge, that all regulated telecommunications services to be billed shall be rendered pursuant to tariffs approved by the board.

PRICE REGULATION FOR TELECOMMUNICATIONS SERVICES PROVIDERS

476.95 Findings — statement of policy.

The general assembly finds all of the following:

1. Communications services should be available throughout the state at just, reasonable, and affordable rates from a variety of providers.

2. In rendering decisions with respect to regulation of telecommunications companies, the board shall consider the effects of its decisions on competition in telecommunications markets and, to the extent reasonable and lawful, shall act to further the development of competition in those markets.

3. In order to encourage competition for all telecommunications services, the board should address issues relating to the movement of prices toward cost and the removal of subsidies in the existing price structure of the incumbent local exchange carrier.

4. Regulatory flexibility is appropriate when competition provides customers with competitive choices in the variety, quality, and pricing of communications services, and when consistent with consumer protection and other relevant public interests.

5. The board should respond with speed and flexibility to changes in the communications industry.

6. Economic development can be fostered by the existence of advanced communications networks.

95 Acts, ch 199, §6

476.96 Definitions.

As used in section 476.95, this section, and sections 476.97 through 476.102, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Basic communications service" includes at a minimum, basic local telephone service, switched access, 911 and E-911 services, and dual party relay service. The board is authorized to classify by rule at any time, any other two-way switched communications services as basic communications services consistent with community expectations and the public interest.

2. "Basic local telephone service" means the provision of dial tone access and usage, for the transmission of two-way switched communications within a local exchange area, including, but not limited to, the following:

a. Residence service and business services, including flat rate or local measured service, private branch exchange trunks, trunk type hunting services, direct inward dialing, and the network access portion of central office switched exchange service.

b. Extended area service.

c. Touch tone service when provided separately.

d. Call tracing.

e. Calling number blocking on either a per call or a per line basis.

f. Local exchange white pages directories.

g. Installation and repair of local network access.

h. Local operator services, excluding directory assistance.

i. Toll service blocking and 1-900 and 1-976 access blocking.

3. "Competitive local exchange service provider" means any person, including a municipal utility, that provides local exchange services, other than a local exchange carrier or a nonrate-regulated wireline provider of local exchange services under an authorized certificate of public convenience and necessity within a specific geographic area described in maps filed with and approved by the board as of September 30, 1992.

4. "Interim number portability" means one or more mechanisms by which a local exchange customer at a particular location may change the customer's local exchange services provider without any change in the local exchange customer's telephone number, while experiencing as little loss of functionality as is feasible using available technology.

5. "Local exchange carrier" means any person that was the incumbent and historical rate-regulated wireline provider of local exchange services or any successor to such person that provides local exchange services under an authorized certificate of public convenience and necessity within a specific geographic area described in maps filed with and approved by the board as of September 30, 1992.

6. "Nonbasic communications services" means all communications services subject to the board's jurisdiction which are not deemed either by statute or by rule to be basic communications services, including any service offered by the local exchange carrier for the first time after July 1, 1995. A service is not considered new if it constitutes the bundling, unbundling, or repricing of an already existing service. Consistent with community expectations and the public interest, the board may reclassify by rule as nonbasic those two-way switched communications services previously classified by rule as basic.

7. "Provider number portability" means the capability of a local exchange customer to change the customer's local exchange services provider at the customer's same location without any change in the local exchange customer's telephone number, while preserving the full range of functionality that the customer currently experiences. "Provider number portability" includes the equal availability of information concerning the local exchange provider serving the number to all carriers, and the ability to deliver traffic directly to that provider without having first to route traffic to the local exchange carrier or otherwise use the services, facilities, or capabilities of the local exchange carrier to complete the call, and without the dialing of additional digits or access codes.

476.97 Price regulation.

1. Notwithstanding contrary provisions of this chapter relating to rate regulation, the board may approve a plan for price regulation submitted by a rate-regulated local exchange carrier. The plan for price regulation is not effective until the approval by the board of tariffs implementing the unbundling of essential facilities pursuant to section 476.101, subsection 4, except for a local exchange carrier with less than seventy-five thousand access lines whose plan for price regulation will be effective concurrent with the approval of its plan. The board may approve a plan for price regulation prior to the adoption of rules related to the unbundling of essential facilities or concurrent with a rate proceeding under section 476.3, 476.6, or 476.7. During the term of the plan, the board shall regulate the prices of the local exchange carrier's basic and nonbasic communications services pursuant to the requirements of the price regulation plan approved by the board. The local exchange carrier shall not be subject to rate of return regulation during the term of the plan.

2. The board, after notice and opportunity for hearing, may approve, modify, or reject the plan. The board shall approve, modify, or reject the plan by no later than ninety days after the date the plan is filed. The local exchange carrier shall have ten days to accept or reject any board modifications to its plan. If the local exchange carrier rejects a modification to its plan, the board shall reject the plan without prejudice to the local exchange carrier to submit another plan.

3. A price regulation plan, at a minimum, shall include provisions, consistent with the provisions of this section and any rules adopted by the board, for the following:

a. (1) Establishing and changing prices, terms, and conditions for basic communications services. The initial plan for price regulation must include a proposal, which the board shall approve, for reducing the local exchange carrier's average intrastate access service rates to the local exchange carrier's average interstate access service rates in effect as of the last day of the calendar year immediately preceding the date of filing of the plan, as follows:

(a) A local exchange carrier with five hundred thousand or more access lines in this state shall reduce its average intrastate access service rates by at least one hundred percent of the difference between average intrastate access service rates and average interstate access service rates as of the date that the plan becomes effective.

(b) A local exchange carrier with fewer than five hundred thousand but seventy-five thousand or more access lines in this state shall reduce its average intrastate access service rates to its average interstate access service rates in increments of at least twenty-five percent, with the initial reduction to take effect on approval of the plan and equal annual reductions on each anniversary of the approval during the first three years that its plan is in effect.

(c) A local exchange carrier with fewer than seventy-five thousand access lines in this state shall reduce its average intrastate access service rates to its average interstate access service rates with equal annual reductions during a period beginning no more than two years and ending no more than five years from the plan's inception.

(2) The board, during the term of the plan for a local exchange carrier with five hundred thousand or more access lines in this state, may consider further reductions toward economic costs in the local exchange carrier's average intrastate access service rates. The board may consider offsetting such reductions by an explicit subsidy replacement to the extent that such offsets are competitively neutral. In determining economic costs of access service the board shall consider all relevant costs of the service including shared and common costs of the local exchange carrier.

(3) This section shall not be construed to do either of the following:

(a) Prohibit an additional decrease in a carrier's average intrastate access service rate during the term of the plan.

(b) Permit any increase in a carrier's average intrastate access service rates during the term of the plan.

(4) The plan shall also provide that the initial prices for basic communications services shall be three percent less than the rates approved and in effect at the time the local exchange carrier files its plan. A local exchange carrier which elects to reduce its rates by three percent shall not, at a later time, increase its rates for basic communications services as a result of the carrier's compliance with the board's rules relating to unbundling. In lieu of the three percent reduction, and prior to the adoption of rules relating to unbundling pursuant to section 476.101, subsection 4, paragraph "a", subparagraph (1), the local exchange carrier may request and the board may establish a regulated revenue requirement in a rate proceeding under section 476.3 or 476.6 commenced after July 1, 1995. After the determination of the local exchange carrier's regulated revenue requirement pursuant to the rate proceeding, the local exchange carrier shall not immediately implement rates designed to recover that regulated revenue requirement. Following the adoption of rules relating to unbundling pursuant to section 476.101, subsection 4, paragraph "a", subparagraph (1), the local exchange carrier shall commence a tariff proceeding for the approval of tariffs implementing such unbundling. The board has six months to complete this tariff proceeding and determine the local exchange carrier's final unbundled rates. The local exchange carrier shall carry forward the regulated revenue requirement determined by the board pursuant to the rate proceeding and design rates that comply with the board's rules relating to unbundling that recover the regulated revenue requirement, and that implement the board's approved rate design established in the tariff proceeding.

In lieu of taking the three percent reduction, a local exchange carrier that submits a plan for price regulation after the board adopts rules relating to unbundling may file a rate proceeding under section 476.3 or 476.6 and the board may approve rates designed to comply with those rules which allow the carrier to recover the established regulated revenue requirement and that implement the board's approved rate design established in the tariff proceeding.

(5) The plan shall provide for both increases and decreases in the prices for basic communications services reflecting annual changes in inflation and productivity. Prior to January 1, 2000, the board shall use the gross domestic product price index, as published by the federal government, for an inflation measure, and two and six-tenths percentage points for a productivity measure. On or after January 1, 2000, the board by rule may adopt current measures of inflation and productivity.

(6) The plan may provide that price increases for basic communications services which are permitted under this section may be deferred and accumulated for a maximum of three years into a single price increase, provided that a deferred and accumulated price increase under this section shall not at any time exceed six percent. A price decrease for basic communications services shall not be deferred or accumulated, except that price decreases of less than two percent may be deferred by the local exchange carrier for one year. A price decrease required under this section may be offset by a price increase for a basic communications service that would have been permitted under this section in the previous twelve-month period, but which was deferred by the local exchange carrier.

b. Establishing and changing prices, terms, and conditions for nonbasic communications services.

c. Reporting new service offerings to the board.

d. Reflecting in rates any changes in revenues, expenses, and investment due to exogenous factors beyond the control of the local exchange carrier.

e. Providing notice to customers, the board, and the consumer advocate of changes in prices, terms, or conditions for basic and nonbasic communications services.

4. The board shall consider the extent to which a proposed plan complies with the requirements of subsection 3 and achieves the following:

a. Just, nondiscriminatory, and reasonable rates.

b. High quality, universally available communications services.

c. Encouragement of investment in communications infrastructure, efficiency improvements, and technological innovation.

d. The introduction of new communications products and services from a variety of sources.

e. Regulatory efficiency including reduction of regulatory costs and delays. A plan shall not provide for waiver of, release from, or delay in implementing the provisions of this section, section 476.101 or 476.102 or any rules adopted by the board pursuant to those sections.

5. Notwithstanding an approved plan for price regulation, the board shall continue to have regulatory authority over the following:

a. The level, extent, and timing of the unbundling of essential facilities offered by a local exchange carrier.

b. Ensuring against cross-subsidization between nonbasic communications services and basic communications services.

6. Any person, including the consumer advocate, a body politic, or the board on its own motion, may file a written complaint pursuant to section 476.3, subsection 1, regarding a local exchange carrier's implementation, operation under, or satisfaction of the purposes of its price regulation plan.

7. The consumer advocate may represent consumers before the board regarding any rule, order, or proceeding pertaining to price regulation. The consumer advocate may act as attorney for and represent consumers generally before any state or federal court concerning a board rule, order, or proceeding pertaining to price regulation.

8. In implementing price regulation, the board shall consider competitively neutral methods to assist lower-income Iowans to secure and retain telephone services.

9. The board shall determine the duration of any plan. The board shall review a local exchange carrier's operation under its plan, with notice and an opportunity for hearing, within four years of the initiation of the plan and prior to the termination of the plan. The local exchange carrier, consumer advocate, or any person may propose, and the board may approve, any reasonable modifications to a local exchange carrier's plan as a result of the review, except that such modifications shall not require a reduction in the rates for any basic communications service.

10. The board, in determining whether to file a written complaint pursuant to subsection 6 or prior to reviewing a local exchange carrier's operation pursuant to subsection 9, may request that such carrier provide any information which the board deems necessary to make such determination or conduct such review. The carrier shall provide the requested information upon receipt of the request from the board.

11. a. Notwithstanding subsections 1 through 10, a local exchange carrier with fewer than five hundred thousand access lines in this state shall have the option to be regulated pursuant to subsections 1 through 10 or pursuant to this subsection. A local exchange carrier which elects to become price regulated under this subsection shall also be subject to subsections 5 through 8 and subsection 10 in the same manner as a local exchange carrier which operates under an approved plan of price regulation submitted pursuant to subsection 1.

b. A local exchange carrier which elects to become price regulated under this subsection shall give written notice to the board of such election not less than thirty days prior to the date such regulation is to commence.

c. Upon election of a local exchange carrier to become price-regulated under this subsection, the carrier shall reduce its rates for basic local telephone service an average of three percent. In lieu of the three percent reduction, the local exchange carrier may establish its rates for basic local telephone service in a rate proceeding under section 476.3 or 476.6 commenced after July 1, 1995.

d. Initial prices for basic communications services, other than basic local telephone service, shall be set at the rates in effect as of the first of July prior to the date such regulation is to commence.

e. (1) A price-regulated local exchange carrier shall not increase its rates for basic communications services, for a period of twelve months after electing to become price regulated. To the extent necessary, rates for basic services may be increased to carry out the purpose of any rules that may be adopted by the board relating to the terms and conditions of unbundled services and interconnection. A price-regulated local exchange carrier may increase its rates for basic communications services following the initial twelve-month period, to the extent that the change in rate does not exceed two percentage points less than the most recent annual change in the gross domestic product price index, as published by the federal government. If application of such formula achieves a negative result, prices shall be reduced so that the cumulative price change for basic services, including prior price reductions in these services, achieves the negative result. After January 1, 2000, the board by rule may adopt different measures of inflation and productivity if they are found to be more reflective of the individual price-regulated carriers.

(2) Price increases for basic communications services which are permitted under this subsection may be deferred and accumulated for a maximum of three years into a single price increase, provided that a deferred and accumulated price increase under this subsection shall not at any time exceed six percent. A price decrease for basic communications services shall not be deferred or accumulated, except that price decreases of less than two percent may be deferred by the local exchange carrier for one year. A price decrease required under this section may be offset by a price increase for a basic communications service that would have been permitted under this section in the previous twelve-month period, but which was deferred by the local exchange carrier. A rate change pursuant to this subsection may take effect thirty days after the notification of the board and consumers.

(3) A price-regulated local exchange carrier shall not increase its aggregate revenue weighted prices for nonbasic communications services more than six percent in any twelve-month period.

(5) A price-regulated local exchange carrier may offer new service alternatives for any basic communications services on thirty days prior notice to the board, provided that the preexisting basic communications service rate structure continues to be offered to customers. New telecommunications services shall be considered nonbasic communications services as defined in section 476.96, subsection 6.

(6) A price-regulated local exchange carrier must reduce the average intrastate access service rates to the carrier's average interstate access service rates. Such carrier shall reduce the average intrastate access service rates by at least twenty-five percent of the difference of such rates within ninety days of the election to be price-regulated and twenty-five percent each of the next three years.

f. A local exchange carrier shall notify customers of a rate change under this subsection at least thirty days prior to the effective date of the rate change.

g. A local exchange carrier which elects to become price regulated under this subsection shall also be subject to the following:

(1) The local exchange carrier shall not be subject to rate-of-return regulation while operating under price regulation.

(2) All regulated services shall be provided pursuant to board-approved tariffs.

(3) All new regulated service offerings shall be reported to the board.

(4) Rates may be adjusted by the board to reflect any changes in revenues, expenses, and investment due to exogenous factors beyond the control of the local exchange carrier.

h. The board may review a local exchange carrier's operation under this subsection, with notice and an opportunity for hearing, after four years of the carrier's election to be price-regulated. The local exchange carrier, consumer advocate, or any person may propose, and the board may approve, any reasonable modifications to the price-regulation requirements in this subsection as a result of the specific carrier review, except that such modifications shall not require a reduction in the rates for any basic communications service or a return to rate-base, rate-of-return regulation.

i. This subsection shall not be construed to prohibit an additional decrease or to permit any increase in a local exchange carrier's average intrastate access service rates during the term of the local exchange carrier's operation under price regulation.

476.98 Earnings calculation and report.

The consumer advocate shall calculate an estimate of the return of a local exchange carrier operating under price regulation pursuant to section 476.97 as if the carrier were subject to rate-of-return regulation. The calculation shall be based upon the annual report of such carrier and other information provided to the consumer advocate by the carrier. The calculation shall be made every two years beginning following the end of the second calendar year after the year in which the plan becomes effective. Notwithstanding section 476.1D, subsection 4, the consumer advocate shall make two calculations pursuant to this section with one calculation taking into account the investment, revenues, and expenses associated with the sale of classified directory advertising, and one calculation not taking into account such investment, revenues, and expenses. The consumer advocate shall provide a written report to the general assembly including the results of this calculation on or before July 1 of the year immediately following the two-year period for which a calculation is made. If, after a review of the information used to make the calculation required in this section, the consumer advocate determines that the public interest would be better served by a different form of rate regulation, the consumer advocate shall provide a recommendation that the general assembly direct the utilities board to implement a different form of rate regulation.

476.99 Additional price regulation plan provisions.

In addition to the provisions required in section 476.97, a local exchange carrier, prior to operating under price regulation, shall make provision for the following:

1. Reflecting in rates any changes due to changes in the average cost of the local exchange carrier resulting from the sale of an exchange in this state.

2. Encouraging modernization of the local exchange carrier's telecommunications infrastructure. This provision shall include a requirement that the local exchange carrier develop and file with the board an increased modernization plan.

95 Acts, ch 199, §10

LOCAL EXCHANGE COMPETITION

476.100 Prohibited acts.

A local exchange carrier shall not do any of the following:

1. Discriminate against another provider of communications services by refusing or delaying access to the local exchange carrier's services.
2. Discriminate against another provider of communications services by refusing or delaying access to essential facilities on terms and conditions no less favorable than those the local exchange carrier provides to itself and its affiliates. A local telecommunications facility, feature, function, or capability of the local exchange carrier's network is an essential facility if all of the following apply:
 - a. Competitors cannot practically or economically duplicate the facility, feature, function, or capability, or obtain the facility, feature, function, or capability from another source.
 - b. The use of the facility, feature, function, or capability by potential competitors is technically and economically feasible.
 - c. Denial of the use of the facility, feature, function, or capability by competitors is unreasonable.
 - d. The facility, feature, function, or capability will enable competition.
3. Degrade the quality of access or service provided to another provider of communications services.
4. Fail to disclose in a timely manner, upon reasonable request and pursuant to a protective agreement concerning proprietary information, all information reasonably necessary for the design of network interface equipment, network interface services, or software that will meet the specifications of the local exchange carrier's local exchange network.
5. Unreasonably refuse or delay interconnections or provide inferior interconnections to another provider.
6. Use basic exchange service rates, directly or indirectly, to subsidize or offset the costs of other products or services offered by the local exchange carrier.
7. Discriminate in favor of itself or an affiliate in the provision and pricing of, or extension of credit for, any telephone service.

476.101 Local exchange competition.

1. A certificate of public convenience and necessity to provide local telephone service shall not be interpreted as conveying a monopoly, exclusive privilege, or franchise. A competitive local exchange service provider shall not be subject to the requirements of this chapter, except that a competitive local exchange service provider shall obtain a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 476.29, file tariffs, notify affected customers prior to any rate increase, file reports, information, and pay assessments pursuant to section 476.2, subsection 4, and sections 476.9, 476.10, 476.16, 476.102, and 477C.7, and shall be subject to the board's authority with respect to adequacy of service, interconnection, discontinuation of service, civil penalties, and complaints. If, after notice and opportunity for hearing, the board determines that a competitive local exchange service provider possesses market power in its local exchange market or markets, the board may apply such other provisions of this chapter to a competitive local exchange service provider as it deems appropriate.

2. The duty of a local exchange carrier includes the duty, in accordance with requirements prescribed by the board pursuant to subsection 3 and other laws, to provide equal access to, and interconnection with, its facilities so that its network is fully interoperable with the telecommunications services and information services of other providers, and to offer unbundled essential facilities.

3. A local exchange carrier shall provide reasonable access to ducts, conduits, rights-of-way, and other pathways owned or controlled by the local exchange carrier to which reasonable access is necessary to a competitive local exchange service provider in order for a competitive local exchange service provider to provide service and is feasible for the local exchange carrier.

Upon application of a local exchange carrier or a competitive local exchange service provider, the board shall determine any matters concerning reasonable access to ducts, conduits, rights-of-way, and other pathways owned or controlled by the local exchange carrier upon which agreement cannot be reached, including but not limited to, matters regarding valuation, space, and capacity restraints, and compensation for access.

4. a. Prior to September 1, 1995, the board shall initiate a rulemaking proceeding to adopt rules that satisfy the requirements enumerated in subparagraphs (1) through (4). The rulemaking proceeding shall be completed as promptly as possible. The board, upon petition or on its own motion, may conduct a separate evidentiary hearing on the same or related subjects. The evidence from a hearing may be considered by the board during the rulemaking proceeding, provided that the board announces its intention to do so prior to the oral presentation in the rulemaking proceeding. The rules shall do the following:

- (1) Require a local exchange carrier to provide unbundled essential facilities of its network, and allow reasonable and nondiscriminatory equal access to, use of, and interconnection with, those unbundled essential facilities on reasonable, cost-based, and tariffed terms and conditions. The board's rules must require a local exchange carrier, including those operating under a plan of price regulation, to file tariffs implementing the unbundled essential facilities within ninety days of the board's final order adopting such rules, except for local exchange carriers with less than seventy-five thousand access lines which must file such tariffs within two years of July 1, 1995. Such access, use, and interconnection shall be on terms and conditions no less favorable than those the local exchange carrier provides to itself and its affiliates for the provision of local exchange, access, and toll services. This subsection shall not be construed to establish a presumption as to the level of interconnection charges, if any, to be determined by the board pursuant to subparagraph (2).

(2) Establish reciprocal cost-based compensation for termination of telecommunications services between local exchange carriers and competitive local exchange service providers.

(3) Require local exchange carriers to make interim number portability available on request of a competitive local exchange service provider, and to implement provider number portability as soon as the availability of necessary technology makes provider number portability economically and technically feasible, as determined by the board. The rules shall also devise a reasonable and non-discriminatory mechanism for the recovery of all recurring and nonrecurring costs of interim and provider number portability.

(4) Develop the cost methodology appropriate for a competitive telecommunications environment.

b. The rules adopted in paragraph "a", subparagraphs (2) and (3), do not apply to local exchange carriers with less than seventy-five thousand access lines until a competitive local exchange service provider has filed for a certificate to provide basic communications services in an exchange or exchanges of the local exchange carrier, or the board determines that competitive necessity requires the implementation of the rules in paragraph "a", subparagraphs (2) and (3), by the local exchange carrier.

5. Local exchange carriers shall file tariffs or price lists in accordance with board rules with respect to the services, features, functions, and capabilities offered to comply with board rules on unbundling of essential facilities and interconnection. Local exchange carriers shall submit with the tariffs or price lists for basic communications services and toll services supporting information that is sufficient for the board to determine the relationship between the proposed charges and the costs of providing such services, features, functions, or capabilities, including the imputed cost of intrastate access service rates in toll service rates pursuant to existing board orders. The board shall review the tariffs or price lists to ensure that the charges are cost-based and that the terms and conditions contained in the tariffs or price lists unbundled any essential facilities in accordance with the board's rules and any other applicable laws.

6. This section shall not be construed to prohibit the board from enforcing rules or orders entered in contested cases pending on July 1, 1995, to the extent that such rules and orders are consistent with the provisions of this section.

7. Except as provided under section 476.29, subsection 2, and this section, the board shall not impose or allow a local exchange carrier to impose restrictions on the resale of local exchange services, functions, or capabilities. The board may prohibit residential service from being resold as a different class of service.

8. Any person may file a written complaint with the board requesting the board to determine compliance by a local exchange carrier with the provisions of sections 476.96 through 476.100, 476.102, and this section, or any board rules implementing those sections. Upon the filing of such complaint, the board may promptly initiate a formal complaint proceeding and give notice of the proceeding and the opportunity for hearing. The formal complaint proceeding may be initiated at any time by the board on its own motion. The board shall render a decision in the proceeding within ninety days after the date the written complaint was filed.

9. A telecommunications carrier, as defined in the federal Telecommunications Act of 1996, shall not do any of the following:

a. Use customer information in a manner which is not in compliance with 47 U.S.C. § 222.

b. Disparage the services offered by another telecommunications carrier through false or misleading statements.

c. Take any action that disadvantages a customer who has chosen to receive services from another telecommunications carrier.

10. In a proceeding associated with the granting of a certificate under section 476.29, approving maps and tariffs for competitive local exchange providers provided for in this section, or in resolving a complaint filed pursuant to subsection 8 and proceedings under 47 U.S.C. § 251-254, the board shall allocate the costs and expenses of the proceedings to persons identified as parties in the proceeding who are engaged in or who seek to engage in providing telecommunications services or other persons identified as participants in the proceeding. The funds received for the costs and the expenses shall be remitted to the treasurer of state for deposit in the general fund of the state as provided in section 476.10.

476.102 Universal service.

1. The board shall initiate a proceeding to preserve universal service such that it shall be maintained in a competitively neutral fashion. As a part of this proceeding, the board shall determine the difference between the cost of providing universal service and the prices determined to be appropriate for such service.

2. The board shall base policies for the preservation of universal service on the following principles:

a. A plan adopted by the board should ensure the continued viability of universal service by maintaining quality services at just and reasonable rates.

b. The plan should define the nature and extent of the service encompassed within any entities' universal service obligations.

c. The plan should establish specific and predictable mechanisms to provide competitively neutral support for universal service. Those mechanisms shall include a nondiscriminatory mechanism by which funds to support universal service shall be collected, and a mechanism for disbursement of support funds to eligible subscribers, either directly to those subscribers, or to the subscriber's provider of local exchange services chosen by the subscriber.

d. The plan should be based on other principles as the board determines are necessary and appropriate for the protection of the public interest, convenience, and necessity and consistent with the purposes of sections 476.95 through 476.101 and this section.

95 Acts, ch 199, §13

CHANGE IN SERVICE

476.103 Unauthorized change in service — civil penalty.

1. Notwithstanding the deregulation of a communications service or facility under section 476.1D, the board may adopt rules to protect consumers from unauthorized changes in telecommunications service. Such rules shall not impose undue restrictions upon competition in telecommunications markets.

2. As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

a. "Change in service" means the designation of a new provider of a telecommunications service to a consumer, including the initial selection of a service provider, and includes the addition or deletion of a telecommunications service for which a separate charge is made to a consumer account.

b. "Consumer" means a person other than a service provider who uses a telecommunications service.

c. "Executing service provider" means, with respect to any change in telecommunications service, a service provider who executes an order for a change in service received from another service provider.

d. "Service provider" means a person providing a telecommunications service.

e. "Submitting service provider" means a service provider who requests another service provider to execute a change in service.

f. "Telecommunications service" means a local exchange or long distance telephone service other than commercial mobile radio service.

3. The board shall adopt rules prohibiting an unauthorized change in telecommunications service. The rules shall be consistent with federal communications commission regulations regarding procedures for verification of customer authorization of a change in service. The rules, at a minimum, shall provide for all of the following:

a. (1) A submitting service provider shall obtain verification of customer authorization of a change in service before submitting such change in service.

(2) Verification appropriate under the circumstances for all other changes in service.

(3) The verification may be in written, oral, or electronic form and may be performed by a qualified third party.

(4) The reasonable time period during which the verification is to be retained, as determined by the board.

b. A customer shall be notified of any change in service.

c. Appropriate compensation for a customer affected by an unauthorized change in service.

d. Board determination of potential liability, including assessment of damages, for unauthorized changes in service among the customer, previous service provider, executing service provider, and submitting service provider.

e. A provision encouraging service providers to resolve customer complaints without involvement of the board.

f. The prompt reversal of unauthorized changes in service.

g. Procedures for a customer, service provider, or the consumer advocate to submit to the board complaints of unauthorized changes in service.

4. a. In addition to any applicable civil penalty set out in section 476.51, a service provider who violates a provision of this section, a rule adopted pursuant to this section, or an order lawfully issued by the board pursuant to this section, is subject to a civil penalty, which, after notice and opportunity for hearing, may be levied by the board, of not more than ten thousand dollars per violation. Each violation is a separate offense.

b. A civil penalty may be compromised by the board. In determining the amount of the penalty, or the amount agreed upon in a compromise, the board may consider the size of the service provider, the gravity of the violation, any history of prior violations by the service provider, remedial actions taken by the service provider, the nature of the conduct of the service provider, and any other relevant factors.

c. A civil penalty collected pursuant to this subsection shall be forwarded by the executive secretary of the board to the treasurer of state to be credited to the general fund of the state and to be used only for consumer education programs administered by the board.

d. A penalty paid by a rate-of-return regulated utility pursuant to this section shall be excluded from the utility's costs when determining the utility's revenue requirement, and shall not be included either directly or indirectly in the utility's rates or charges to its customers.

e. The board shall not commence an administrative proceeding to impose a civil penalty under this section for acts subject to a civil enforcement action pending in court under section 714D.7.

5. If the board determines, after notice and opportunity for hearing, that a service provider has shown a pattern of violations of the rules adopted pursuant to this section, the board may by order do any of the following:

a. Prohibit any other service provider from billing charges to residents of Iowa on behalf of the service provider determined to have engaged in such a pattern of violations.

b. Prohibit certificated local exchange service providers from providing exchange access services to the service provider.

c. Limit the billing or access services prohibition under paragraph "a" or "b" to a period of time. Such prohibition may be withdrawn upon a showing of good cause.

d. Revoke the certificate of public convenience and necessity of a local exchange service provider.

6. The board has primary jurisdiction over a complaint pursuant to this section initiated by a service provider.

7. Subsection 6 does not preclude proceedings before the federal communications commission to enforce applicable federal law. However, a service provider or a consumer, for the same alleged acts, shall not pursue a complaint both before the federal communications commission and pursuant to this section.

8. The board shall adopt competitively neutral rules establishing procedures for the solicitation, imposition, and lifting of preferred carrier freezes. A valid preferred carrier freeze prevents a change in service unless the subscriber gives the service provider from whom the freeze was requested the subscriber's express consent.

476A.1 Definitions.

As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Agency" means an agency as defined in section 17A.2, subsection 1.

2. "Board" means the utilities board within the utilities division of the department of commerce.

3. "Certificate" means a certificate of public convenience, use and necessity issued pursuant to section 476A.6.

4. "Commence to construct" means significant alteration of a site to install permanent equipment or structures but does not include activities incident to preliminary engineering, environmental studies or acquisition of a site for a facility.

5. "Facility" means any electric power generating plant or a combination of plants at a single site, owned by any person, with a total capacity of twenty-five megawatts of electricity or more and those associated transmission lines connecting the generating plant to either a power transmission system or an interconnected primary transmission system or both. Transmission lines subject to the provisions of this chapter shall not require a franchise under chapter 478.

6. "Regulatory agency" means an agency which issues licenses or permits required for the construction, operation or maintenance of a facility pursuant to statutes or rules in effect on the date on which an application for a certificate is accepted by the utilities board.

476A.2 Certificate required.

1. Commencing January 1, 1977, a person shall not commence to construct a facility except as provided in section 476A.9 unless a certificate for the facility has been issued by the board. This chapter shall not apply to persons who prior to July 1, 1976:

- a. Have acquired a site for a facility; and,
- b. Have publicly announced the intention to construct a facility; and,
- c. Have let contracts for major components of a facility.

2. Any significant alteration, as determined by the board, in the location, construction, maintenance, or operation of a facility whether constructed before or after July 1, 1976 shall require an application for an amendment to a certificate or a certificate, whichever is appropriate. "Significant alteration" shall include but shall not be limited to a change in the type of fuel used by the major electric generating facility.

3. Any person required to obtain a certificate or an amendment to a certificate shall construct, operate and maintain the facility according to the terms of the certificate and any amendments to the certificate. A certificate shall only be issued pursuant to this chapter.

4. This chapter shall not apply to an electric power generating plant, or combination of plants at a single site, with a total capacity of more than twenty-five but less than one hundred megawatts of electricity if the owner or operator prior to January 1, 1990, has met all of the following conditions:

- a. Acquired a site for the facility.
- b. Publicly announced the intention to construct a facility at that site.
- c. Let contracts for major components of the facility.

476A.3 Application submitted — review.

An application for a certificate or an amendment to a certificate shall be submitted to the board on such forms as the board may prescribe. Copies of the application shall be forwarded to regulatory agencies. Regulatory agencies receiving a copy of the application shall conduct a preliminary review of the contents and shall evaluate the application for completeness and compliance with the regulatory agency's permit and licensing requirements within a reasonable amount of time.

476A.4 Hearing scheduled — notice.

1. The proceeding for the issuance of a certificate or an amendment to a certificate shall be treated in the same manner as a contested case pursuant to the provisions of chapter 17A. Upon acceptance of an application by the board, a public hearing shall be scheduled.

2. The board shall serve notice of the proceeding on the following:

a. Interested agencies, as determined by the board, and regulatory agencies.

b. County and city zoning authorities from the area in which the proposed site is located.

c. Owners of record of real property located within one thousand linear feet of the proposed site.

3. Notice of the proceeding in the form provided in section 17A.12, subsection 2, shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation in each county in which the proposed site is located once a week for two consecutive weeks with the second publication being at least twenty days prior to the date of the hearing. The board shall be responsible for publication and delivery of notices required by this section.

4. The board shall conduct the hearing, as described in subsection 1, in the county in which the construction of the greater portion of the facility is being proposed.

476A.5 Proceeding — role of regulatory agencies and local authorities.

1. The board shall conduct the contested case proceeding. Regulatory agencies which appear on record at the proceeding shall state whether the application meets their permit and licensing requirements. If the application does not meet such requirements, the regulatory agency shall recommend amendments to the application which outline actions necessary to bring the applicant in compliance with the regulatory agency's permit and licensing requirements. The board shall not issue a certificate for a facility which does not meet the permit and licensing requirements of a regulatory agency.

3. City and county zoning authorities designated as parties to the proceeding may appear on record and may state whether the facility meets city, county and airport zoning requirements. The failure of a facility to meet zoning requirements established pursuant to chapters 329, 335 and 414 shall not preclude the board from issuing the certificate and to that extent the provisions of this subsection shall supersede the provisions of chapters 329, 335 and 414.

476A.6 Decision — criteria.

The board shall render a decision on the application in an expeditious manner. A certificate shall be issued to the applicant if the board finds all of the following:

1. The services and operations resulting from the construction of the facility are required by the present or future public convenience, use and necessity.

2. The applicant is willing to perform such services and construct, maintain, and operate the facility pursuant to the provisions of the certificate and this chapter.

3. The construction, maintenance, and operation of the facility will cause minimum adverse land use, environmental, and aesthetic impact and are consonant with reasonable utilization of air, land and water resources for beneficial purposes considering available technology and the economics of available alternatives.

4. The applicant, if a public utility as defined in section 476.1, has in effect a comprehensive energy management program designed to reduce peak loads and to increase efficiency of use of energy by all classes of customers of the utility, and the facility in the application is necessary notwithstanding the existence of the comprehensive energy management program. As used in this subsection, a “comprehensive energy management program” includes at a minimum the following:

a. Establishment of load management and interruptible service programs, where cost effective.

b. Development of wheeling agreements and other energy sharing agreements, where cost effective with utilities that have available capacity.

c. Establishment of cost-effective energy efficiency and renewable energy services and programs.

d. Compliance with board rules on energy management procedures.

5. The applicant, if a public utility as defined in section 476.1, shall demonstrate to the board that the utility has considered sources for long-term electric supply from either purchase of electricity or investment in facilities owned by other persons.

476A.7 Issuance of certificate — effect.

1. Issuance of a certificate by the board:

a. Authorizes construction of the facility on the site designated in the certificate according to the terms and conditions stated in the certificate and licenses and permits issued by regulatory agencies during the proceeding; and,

b. Gives the applicant the power of eminent domain to the extent and under such conditions as the board may approve, prescribe and find necessary for the public convenience, use and necessity, proceeding in the manner of works of internal improvement under chapter 6B. The burden of proving the necessity for the exercise of the power of eminent domain shall be on the person issued the certificate.

2. A certificate may be transferred, subject to the approval of the board, to a person who agrees to comply with the terms of the certificate including any amendments to the certificate. Certificates shall be transferable by operation of law to any receiver, trustee or similar assignee under a mortgage, deed of trust or similar instrument.

476A.8 Further approvals prohibited — exception.

Upon issuance of a certificate, notwithstanding any provision of law except statutory requirements relating to the protection of employees engaged in the construction of the facility, a regulatory agency, city or county shall not require any further approval, permit or license for the construction of the facility.

476A.9 Advance site preparation.

Subsequent to the hearing held pursuant to section 476A.5 and in the event of extensive delay in the issuance of a certificate, the board may permit an applicant having an application docketed for hearing to begin work to prepare the site for construction of the facility. Any activities conducted pursuant to this section shall have no probative value in the board’s decision concerning the actual issuance of a certificate.

476A.10 Costs of proceeding.

The applicant for a certificate, or an amendment to certificate, shall pay all the costs and expenses incurred by the division in reaching a decision on the application including the costs of examinations of the site, the hearing, publishing of notice, division staff salaries, the cost of consultants employed by the division, and other expenses reasonably attributable to the proceeding.

476A.11 Single hearing — judicial review.

Notwithstanding the provisions of chapter 17A:

1. Any proceeding or oral presentation held on an application for a certificate or an amendment to a certificate shall be held in lieu of any other proceeding or oral presentation required for a license or permit necessary for the construction, maintenance or operation of a facility.

2. The decision of the board shall be considered a single agency action. The agency action shall be subject to judicial review in the manner provided in chapter 17A.

3. Only parties to the proceeding before the board may seek judicial review of the final order of the board.

476A.12 Rules.

The board shall adopt rules pursuant to chapter 17A necessary to implement the provisions of this chapter including but not limited to the promulgation of facility siting criteria, the form for an application for a certificate and an amendment to a certificate, the description of information to be furnished by the applicant, the determination of what constitutes a significant alteration to a facility, and the establishment of minimum guidelines for public participation in the proceeding.

476A.13 Staff assistance — federal pre-emption.

1. The board may request staff assistance from other federal, state and local agencies, pursuant to chapter 28D, to assist in discharging the responsibilities assigned to the board pursuant to this chapter. The board may exercise the powers and responsibilities assigned to the board under this chapter jointly with other governmental agencies pursuant to chapter 28E.

2. This chapter shall not apply to any facility over which an agency of the federal government has exclusive jurisdiction. When concurrent jurisdiction exists with certain powers reserved to the state, the state shall exercise those powers with respect to facilities operating within this state to the full extent permitted by the Constitution and the laws of the United States.

476A.14 Penalties.

1. Any person who commences to construct a facility as provided in this chapter without having first obtained a certificate, or who constructs, operates or maintains any facility other than in compliance with a certificate issued by the board or a certificate amended pursuant to this chapter, or who causes any of these acts to occur, shall be liable for a civil penalty of not more than ten thousand dollars for each violation or for each day of continuing violation. Civil penalties collected pursuant to this subsection shall be forwarded by the clerk of court to the treasurer of state for deposit in the general fund of the state.

2. The district court shall have exclusive jurisdiction to grant restraining orders and temporary or permanent injunctive relief as may be necessary to obtain compliance with this chapter.

3. Persons convicted of violating any provision of this chapter shall be guilty of a simple misdemeanor.

476A.15 Waiver.

The board, if it determines that the public interest would not be adversely affected, may waive any of the requirements of this chapter for facilities with a capacity of one hundred or fewer megawatts.

477.7 Mistakes and delays.

The proprietor of a telegraph or telephone line is liable for all mistakes in transmitting or receiving messages made by any person in the proprietor's employment, or for any unreasonable delay in their transmission or delivery, and for all damages resulting from failure to perform the foregoing or any other duty required by law, the provisions of any contract to the contrary notwithstanding.

477.8 Negligence presumed.

In any action against any telegraph or telephone company for damages caused by erroneous transmission of a message, or by unreasonable delay in delivery of a message, negligence on the part of the telegraph or telephone company shall be presumed upon proof of erroneous transmission or of unreasonable delay in delivery, and the burden of proof that such error or delay was not due to negligence upon its part shall rest upon such company.

477.9 Presentation of claim.

No action for the recovery of such damages shall be maintained unless a claim therefor is presented in writing to such company, officer or agent thereof within sixty days from time cause of action accrues.

477.9A Deregulated services.

A telegraph or telephone company whose services are deregulated by the board under section 476.1D may use public notice as a means of conveying terms and conditions to customers where identification of those customers is infeasible or impractical. Public notice may also be used to convey changes in terms and conditions, other than price increases or limitations of liability, to all other customers, but only if those customers were put on notice that this means would be used to convey subsequent changes. Notwithstanding section 477.7, when services are deregulated by the board under section 476.1D, a telegraph or telephone company, in any contract, agreement, or by means of public notice, may reasonably limit its liability under section 477.7 in the course of providing the deregulated communications services to its customers, except for acts of willful misconduct. However, this section does not allow a greater limitation on liability than exists in any contract or approved tariff as of the effective date of the deregulation of the services.

RECIPROCAL SERVICE

477.10 Definitions.

1. “Local exchange”, within the meaning of this Act,* shall refer to a telephone line or lines or to a telephone switchboard or switchboards operating by virtue of a franchise granted by a city furnishing telephonic communication between two or more members of the public within the same city, village, community, locality or neighborhood, which said line or lines or switchboard or switchboards shall be under the same management and control.

“Local exchange” within the meaning of this Act shall not include or refer to privately owned or leased lines or switchboards, operated and used by members of the public other than telephone or telegraph companies as a public utility by which the public is offered telephonic service.

2. “Local exchange company” within the meaning of this Act, shall refer to any one or more individuals, firms or corporations operating one or more local exchanges as herein defined.

3. “Long distance company” within the meaning of this Act shall refer to and include one or more persons, firms or corporations operating connecting lines between two or more local exchanges, one or more of which local exchanges are owned by a local telephone company other than such person, firm or corporation, over which line or lines telephonic communication is had between members of the public connected with said local exchanges.

DUAL PARTY RELAY SERVICE

477C.1	Dual party relay service — purpose.	477C.5	Dual party relay council.

477C.3	Dual party relay service.	477C.7	Funding.
477C.4	Telecommunications devices for the deaf.

477C.1 Dual party relay service — purpose.

The general assembly finds that the provision of a statewide dual party relay service will further the public interest and protect the health, safety, and welfare of the people of Iowa through an increase in the usefulness and availability of the telephone system. Many persons who are deaf, hard-of-hearing, or have speech impairments are not able to utilize the telephone system without this type of service. Therefore, it is the purpose of this chapter to enable the orderly development, operation, promotion, and funding of a statewide dual party relay service.

477C.2 Definitions.

As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. “Board” means the utilities board within the department of commerce created in section 474.1.

2. “Communication impairment” means the inability to use the telephone for communication without a telecommunications device for the deaf.

3. “Council” means the dual party relay council established in section 477C.5.

4. “Dual party relay service” or “relay service” means a communication service which provides communication-impaired persons access to the telephone system functionally equivalent to the access available to persons not communication-impaired.

5. “Telecommunications device for the deaf” means any specialized or supplemental telephone equipment used by communication-impaired persons to provide access to the telephone system.

91 Acts, ch 194, §2

477C.3 Dual party relay service.

With the advice of the council, the board shall plan, establish, administer, and promote a statewide program to provide dual party relay service as follows:

1. The board may enter into the necessary contracts and arrangements with private entities to provide for the delivery of relay service.

2. The relay service, to the extent reasonably possible, shall allow persons with communication impairments to use the telephone system in a manner and at a rate equivalent to persons without communication impairments.

3. The relay service may be provided on a stand-alone basis within the state, with other states, or with telephone utilities providing relay service in other states.

4. The board may employ additional personnel, pursuant to section 476.10, to plan, establish, administer, and promote the relay service.

477C.4 Telecommunications devices for the deaf.

With the advice of the council, the board may plan, establish, administer, and promote a program to secure, finance, and distribute telecommunications devices for the deaf. The board may establish eligibility criteria for persons to receive telecommunications devices for the deaf, including, but not limited to, requiring certification that the recipient cannot use the telephone for communication without a telecommunications device for the deaf.

477C.5 Dual party relay council.

1. A dual party relay council is established, consisting of eleven members appointed by the board. The council shall advise the board on all matters concerning relay service and equipment distribution programs.

2. The council shall consist of:

a. Six consumers who have communication impairments.

b. Two representatives from telephone companies.

c. One representative from the division of deaf services of the department of human rights.

d. One representative from the office of the consumer advocate of the department of justice.

e. One member of the board or a designee of the board.

3. Council members who are not state or local government officers or employees shall be reimbursed for their necessary and actual expenses incurred in performance of their duties and shall receive a per diem of fifty dollars when the council is meeting, payable from moneys available to the board pursuant to section 477C.7.

477C.6 Budget.

The board shall review and approve the proposed annual budget of the relay service program authorized in section 477C.3 and the equipment distribution program authorized in section 477C.4.

91 Acts, ch 194, §6

477C.7 Funding.

The board shall impose an annual assessment to fund the programs upon all telephone utilities providing service in the state as follows:

1. The total assessment shall be allocated one-half to local exchange telephone utilities and one-half to the following telephone utilities:

a. Interexchange carriers.

b. Centralized equal access providers.

c. Alternative operator services companies.

2. The assessment shall be levied upon revenues from all intrastate regulated, deregulated, and exempt telephone services under sections 476.1 and 476.1D.

3. The telephone utilities shall remit the assessed amounts quarterly to a special fund, as defined under section 8.2, subsection 9. The moneys in the fund are appropriated solely to plan, establish, administer, and promote the relay service and equipment distribution programs.

4. The telephone utilities subject to assessment shall provide the information requested by the board necessary for implementation of the assessment.

5. The local exchange telephone utilities shall not recover from intrastate access charges any portion of such utilities assessment imposed under this section.

478.1 Franchise.

A person shall not construct, erect, maintain, or operate a transmission line, wire, or cable which is capable of operating at an electric voltage of thirty-four and one-half kilovolts or more along, over, or across any public highway or grounds outside of cities for the transmission, distribution, or sale of electric current, without first procuring from the utilities board within the utilities division of the department of commerce a franchise granting authority as provided in this chapter. However, a franchise shall not be required for electric lines constructed entirely within the boundaries of property owned by a person primarily engaged in the transmission or distribution of electric power or entirely within the boundaries of property owned by the end user of the electric power.

If the transmission line, wire, or cable is capable of operating only at an electric voltage of less than thirty-four and one-half kilovolts, no franchise is required. However, the utilities board shall retain jurisdiction over all such lines, wires, or cables. A person who seeks to construct, erect, maintain, or operate a transmission line, wire, or cable which will operate at an electric voltage of less than thirty-four and one-half kilovolts outside of cities and which cannot secure the necessary voluntary easements to do so may petition the board pursuant to section 478.3, subsection 1, for a franchise granting authority for such construction, erection, maintenance, or operation, and for the use of the right of eminent domain.

478.2 Petition for franchise — informational meetings held.

Any person, corporation, or company authorized to transact business in the state including cities may file a verified petition asking for a franchise to erect, maintain, and operate a line or lines for the transmission, distribution, use, and sale of electric current outside cities and for such purpose to erect, use, and maintain poles, wires, guy wires, towers, cables, conduits, and other fixtures and appliances necessary for conducting electric current for light, heat, or power over, along, and across any public lands, highways, streams, or the lands of any person, company, or corporation, and to acquire necessary interests in real estate for such purposes.

As conditions precedent to the filing of a petition with the utilities board requesting a franchise for a new transmission line, and not less than thirty days prior to the filing of such petition, the person, company, or corporation shall hold informational meetings in each county in which real property or rights therein will be affected. A member of the board, the counsel of the board, or a hearing examiner designated by the board shall serve as the presiding officer at each meeting, shall present an agenda for such meeting which shall include a summary of the legal rights of the affected landowners, and shall distribute and review the statement of individual rights required under section 6B.2A, subsection 1. A formal record of the meeting shall not be required.

The meeting shall be held at a location reasonably accessible to all persons, companies, or corporations which may be affected by the granting of the franchise.

The person, company, or corporation seeking the franchise for a new transmission line shall give notice of the informational meeting to each person, company, or corporation determined to be the landowner affected by the proposed project and any person, company, or corporation in possession of or residing on the property. For the purposes of this section, “landowner” means a person, company, or corporation listed on the tax assessment rolls as responsible for the payment of real estate taxes imposed on the property and “transmission line” means any line capable of operating at thirty-four and one-half kilovolts or more and extending a distance of not less than one mile across privately owned real estate.

The notice shall set forth the name of the applicant; state the applicant’s principal place of business; state the general description and purpose of the proposed project; state the general nature of the right-of-way desired; state the possibility that the right-of-way may be acquired by condemnation if approved by the utilities board; provide a map showing the route of the proposed project; provide a description of the process used by the utilities board in making a decision on whether to approve a franchise or grant the right to take property by eminent domain; advise that the landowner has the right to be present at such meetings and to file objections with the utilities board; designate the place and time of the meeting; be served not less than thirty days prior to the time set for the meeting by certified mail with return receipt requested; and be published once in a newspaper of general circulation in the county at least one week and not more than three weeks before the time of the meeting and such publication shall be considered notice to landowners whose residence is not known.

No person, company, or corporation seeking rights under this chapter shall negotiate or purchase any easements or other interests in land in any county known to be affected by the proposed project prior to the informational meeting.

478.3 Petition — requirements.

1. All petitions shall set forth:

- a. The name of the individual, company, or corporation asking for the franchise.
- b. The principal office or place of business.
- c. The starting points, routes, and termini of the proposed lines, accompanied with a map or plat showing such details.
- d. A general description of the public or private lands, highways, and streams over, across, or along which any proposed line will pass.
- e. General specifications as to materials and manner of construction.
- f. The maximum voltage to be carried over each line.
- g. Whether or not the exercise of the right of eminent domain will be used and, if so, a specific reference to the lands described in paragraph "d" which are sought to be subject thereto.
- h. An allegation that the proposed construction is necessary to serve a public use.

2. Petitions for transmission lines capable of operating at thirty-four and one-half kilovolts or more and extending a distance of not less than one mile across privately owned real estate shall also set forth an allegation that the proposed construction represents a reasonable relationship to an overall plan of transmitting electricity in the public interest and substantiation of such allegations, including but not limited to, a showing of the following:

- a. The relationship of the proposed project to present and future economic development of the area.
- b. The relationship of the proposed project to comprehensive electric utility planning.
- c. The relationship of the proposed project to the needs of the public presently served and future projections based on population trends.

d. The relationship of the proposed project to the existing electric utility system and parallel existing utility routes.

e. The relationship of the proposed project to any other power system planned for the future.

f. The possible use of alternative routes and methods of supply.

g. The relationship of the proposed project to the present and future land use and zoning ordinances.

h. The inconvenience or undue injury which may result to property owners as a result of the proposed project.

The utilities board may waive the proof required for such allegations which are not applicable to a particular proposed project.

The petition shall contain an affidavit stating that informational meetings were held in each county which the proposed project will affect and the time and place of each meeting.

478.4 Franchise — hearing.

The utilities board shall consider the petition and any objections filed to it in the manner provided. It shall examine the proposed route or cause any engineer selected by it to do so. If a hearing is held on the petition it may hear testimony as may aid it in determining the propriety of granting the franchise. It may grant the franchise in whole or in part upon the terms, conditions, and restrictions, and with the modifications as to location and route as may seem to it just and proper. Before granting the franchise, the utilities board shall make a finding that the proposed line or lines are necessary to serve a public use and represents a reasonable relationship to an overall plan of transmitting electricity in the public interest. A franchise shall not become effective until the petitioners shall pay, or file an agreement to pay, all costs and expenses of the franchise proceeding, whether or not objections are filed, including costs of inspections or examinations of the route, hearing, salaries, publishing of notice, and any other expenses reasonably attributable to it. The funds received for the costs and the expenses of the franchise proceeding shall be remitted to the treasurer of state for deposit in the general fund of the state as provided in section 476.10.

478.5 Notice — objections filed.

paper located in each such county for two consecutive weeks. Said notice shall contain a general statement of the contents and purpose of the petition, a general description of the lands and highways to be traversed by the proposed line or lines, and shall state that any objections thereto must be filed in writing with the board not later than twenty days after the date of last publication of the notice. Any person, company, city or corporation whose rights may be affected, shall have the right to file written objections to the proposed improvement or to the granting of such franchise; such objections shall be filed with the board not later than twenty days after the date of last publication and shall state the grounds therefor. The board may allow objections to be filed later in which event the applicant must be given reasonable time to meet such late objections.

478.6 Taking under eminent domain.

Upon the filing of objections or when a petition involves the taking of property under the right of eminent domain, the utilities board shall set the matter for hearing and fix a time and place for the hearing. The hearing shall be not less than thirty days from the date of last publication and, where a new proposed transmission line exceeds one mile in length, shall be held in the county seat of the county located at the midpoint of the proposed electric transmission line. Written notice of the time and place of the hearing shall be served by the board, by ordinary mail, on the applicant, and those having filed objections. If no objections are filed and the petition does not involve the taking of property under the right of eminent domain, the board may grant a franchise without a hearing; however, the board may conduct a hearing if the board deems it necessary.

Where a petition seeks the use of the right of eminent domain over specific parcels of real property, the board shall prescribe the notice to be served upon the owners of record and parties in possession of the property over which the use of the right of eminent domain is sought. The notice shall include the statement of individual rights required pursuant to section 6B.2A, subsection 1.

When the board grants a franchise to any person, company, or corporation for the construction, erection, maintenance, and operation of transmission lines, wires, and cables for the transmission of electricity, such person, company, or corporation shall be vested with the power of condemnation to such extent as the board may approve and find necessary for public use.

478.7 Form of franchise.

The general counsel for the utilities board shall prepare a blank form of franchise, which shall provide space for a general description of the improvement authorized, the name and address of the person or corporation to whom granted, the general terms and conditions upon which the franchise is granted, and other things as necessary. This blank form shall be filled out and signed by the chairperson of the utilities board which grants the franchise, and the official seal shall be attached. The franchise is subject to regulations and restrictions as the general assembly prescribes, and to rules, not inconsistent with statutes, as the utilities board may establish.

478.8 Valuation of franchise.

No financial consideration shall be charged for such franchise. In fixing the value for rate-making purposes of the property of any person, company, or corporation owning it or operating under it no account shall be taken of, and no increased value shall be allowed for, any such franchise, except that the reasonable cost to the petitioners of obtaining said franchise may be included in the cost of constructing said line.

478.9 Exclusive rights — duration of franchise.

No exclusive right shall ever be given by franchise or otherwise to any person, company, corporation or city to conduct electrical energy, or to place electric wires, along or over or across any public highway or public place or ground; and no franchise or privilege shall ever be granted for any such purpose for a longer period than twenty-five years.

478.10 Franchise transferable — notice.

When any such electric transmission line or lines are sold and transferred either by voluntary or judicial sale, such transfer shall carry with it the franchise under which the said improvement is owned, maintained, or operated. If a transfer of such franchise is made before the improvement for which it was issued is constructed, in whole or in part, such transfer shall not be effective till the person, company, or corporation to whom it was issued shall file in the office of the utilities board granting the franchise a notice in writing stating the date of such transfer and the name and address of the transferee.

478.11 Record of franchises.

The utilities board shall keep a record of all such franchises granted and issued by it, when and to whom issued, with a general statement of the location, route, and termini of the transmission line or lines covered thereby. When any transfer of such franchise has been made as provided in this chapter, the board shall also make note upon its record of the date of such transfer and the name and address of the transferee.

478.12 Acceptance of franchise.

Any person, company, or corporation obtaining a franchise as in this chapter provided, or owning or operating under one, shall be conclusively held to an acceptance of the provisions thereof and of all laws relating to the regulation, supervision, or control thereof which are now in force or which may be hereafter enacted, and to have consented to such reasonable regulation as the utilities board may, from time to time, prescribe. The provisions of this chapter shall apply equally to assignees as well as to original owners.

478.13 Extension of franchise — public notice.

Any person, firm, or corporation owning a franchise granted under this chapter or previously existing law, desiring to acquire extensions of such franchise, may petition the utilities board in the manner provided for the granting of a franchise and the proceeding shall be conducted in the same manner as an original application, including the assessing of costs provided by section 478.4. If the extension of franchise is sought for all lines in a given county or counties, the published notice need not contain a general description of the lands and highways traversed by the lines, but in lieu of containing such description the petitioner may offer to provide to any interested party, free of charge and within ten working days, a current, accurate map showing the location of the lines for which the franchise extension is sought. The public notice shall advise the citizens of the county or counties affected of the availability of such map. If this alternate procedure is not followed the publication of the description of the lands and highways traversed by the lines shall be done in the manner as in an original application for franchise. In any event an extension under this section shall be granted only for a valid, existing franchise and the lands, roads, or streams covered by the franchise over, through, or upon which electric transmission lines have in fact been erected or constructed and are in use or operation at the time of the application for the extension of franchise. Such petition shall be accompanied by the written consent of the applicant that the provisions of all laws relating to public utilities, franchises, and transmission lines, or to the regulation, supervision, or control thereof which are then in force or which may be hereafter enacted, shall apply to its existing line or lines, franchises, and rights with the same force and effect as if such franchise had been granted or such lines had been constructed or rights had been obtained under the provisions of this chapter.

An extension of a franchise is not required for an electric transmission line which has been permanently retired from operation at thirty-four and one-half kilovolts or more but which remains in service at a lower voltage. The board shall be notified of changes in operating status.

478.14 Service furnished.

Any city which owns or operates a system for the distribution of electric light or power, and which has obtained electric energy for such distribution from any person or firm or corporation owning or operating an electric light and power plant or transmission line, shall be entitled to have the service reasonably needed by such municipality and its patrons continued at and for a reasonable rate and charge and under reasonable rules of service.

It shall be unlawful for the owner or operator of such light and power plant or transmission line to disconnect or discontinue such service (except during nonpayment of reasonable charges) so long as such operator holds or enjoys any franchise to go upon or use any public streets, highways, or grounds.

Until the municipality and the operator shall agree upon a rate or charge for such service the municipality shall pay and the operator shall accept the rate provided in the expired contract if any existed, and if none existed then the rate before paid. This shall be without prejudice, however, to the right of either party to test in court or before any lawfully constituted rate-making tribunal the reasonableness of such rate.

This section shall not apply if the original service to the municipality was given in case of emergency or for any other temporary purpose.

478.15 Eminent domain — procedure — entering on land — reversion on nonuse.

Any person, company, or corporation having secured a franchise as provided in this chapter, shall thereupon be vested with the right of eminent domain to such extent as the utilities board may approve, prescribe and find to be necessary for public use, not exceeding one hundred feet in width for right of way and not exceeding one hundred sixty acres in any one location, in addition to right of way, for the location of electric substations to carry out the purposes of said franchise; provided however, that where two hundred K V lines or higher voltage lines are to be constructed, the person, company, or corporation may apply to the board for a wider right of way not to exceed two hundred feet, and the board may for good cause extend the width of such right of way for such lines to the person, company, or corporation applying for the same. The burden of proving the necessity for public use shall be on the person, company or corporation seeking the franchise. A homestead site, cemetery, orchard or schoolhouse location shall not be condemned for the purpose of erecting an electric substation. If agreement cannot be made with the private owner of lands as to damages caused by the construction of said transmission line, or electric substations, the same proceedings shall be taken as provided for taking private property for works of internal improvement.

Any person, company or corporation proposing to construct a transmission line or other facility which involves the taking of property under the right of eminent domain and desiring to enter upon the land, which it proposes to appropriate, for the purpose of examining or surveying the same, shall first file with the utilities board, a written statement under oath setting forth the proposed routing of the line or facility including a description of the lands to be crossed, the names and addresses of owners, together with request that a permit be issued by said board authorizing said person, company or corporation or its duly appointed representative to enter upon the land for the purpose of examining and surveying and to take and use thereon any vehicle and surveying equipment necessary in making the survey. Said board shall within ten days after said request issue a permit, accompanied by such bond in such amount as the board shall approve, to the person, company or corporation making said application, if in its opinion the application is made in good faith and not for the purpose of harassing the owner of the land. If the board is of the opinion that the application is not made in good faith or made for the purpose of harassment to the owner of said land it shall set the matter for hearing and it shall be heard not more than twenty days after filing said application. Notice of the time and place of hearing shall be given by said board, to the owner of said land by registered mail with a return receipt requested, not less than ten days preceding date of hearing.

Any person, company or corporation that has obtained a permit in the manner herein prescribed may enter upon said land or lands, as above provided, and shall be liable for actual damages sustained in connection with such entry. An action in damages shall be the exclusive remedy.

If an electric transmission line right of way, or any part thereof, is wholly abandoned for public utility purposes by the relocation of the transmission lines, is not used or operated for a period of five years, or if its construction has been commenced and work has ceased and has not in good faith been resumed for five years, the right of way shall revert to the person or persons who, at the time of the abandonment or reversion, are the owners of the tract from which such right of way was taken. Following such abandonment of right of way, the owner or holder of purported fee title to such real estate may serve notice upon the owner of such right of way easement, or the owner's successor in interest, and upon any party in possession of said real estate, a written notice which shall (1) accurately describe the real estate in question, (2) set out the facts concerning ownership of the fee, ownership of the right of way easement, and the period of abandonment, and (3) notify said parties that such reversion shall be complete and final, and that the easement or other right shall be forfeited, unless said parties shall, within one hundred twenty days after the completed service of notice, file an affidavit with the county recorder of the county in which the real estate is located disputing the facts contained in said notice.

Said notice shall be served in the same manner as an original notice under the Iowa rules of civil procedure, except that when notice is served by publication no affidavit therefor shall be required before publication. If no affidavit disputing the facts contained in the notice is filed within one hundred twenty days, the party serving the notice may file for record in the office of the county recorder a copy of the notice with proofs of service attached thereto or endorsed thereon, and when so recorded, the record shall be constructive notice to all persons of the abandonment, reversion, and forfeiture of such right-of-way.

Individuals or corporations operating such transmission lines shall have reasonable access to the same for the purpose of constructing, reconstructing, enlarging, repairing, or locating the poles, wires, or construction and other devices used in or upon such line, but shall pay to the owner of such lands and of crops thereon all damages to said lands or crops caused by entering, using, and occupying said lands for said purposes. Nothing herein contained shall prevent the execution of an agreement between the person or company owning or operating such line and the owner of said land or crops with reference to the use thereof.

478.18 Supervision of construction — location.

The utilities board shall have power of supervision over the construction of said transmission line and over its future operation and maintenance. Said transmission line shall be constructed near and parallel to the right of way of the railways of the state or along the division lines of the lands, according to the government survey thereof, wherever the same is practicable and reasonable, and so as not to interfere with the use by the public of the highways or streams of the state, nor unnecessarily interfere with the use of any lands by the occupant thereof.

478.19 Manner of construction.

Such lines shall be built of strong and proper wires attached to strong and sufficient supports properly insulated at all points of attachment; all wires, poles, and other devices which by ordinary wear or other causes are no longer safe shall be removed and replaced by new wires, poles, or other devices, as the case may be, and all abandoned wires, poles, or other devices shall be at once removed. Where wires carrying current are carried across, either above or below wires used for other service, the said transmission line shall be constructed in such manner as to eliminate, so far as practicable, damages to persons or property by reason of said crossing. There shall also be installed sufficient devices to automatically shut off electric current through said transmission line whenever connection is made whereby current is transmitted from the wires of said transmission line to the ground, and there shall also be provided a safe and modern improved device for the protection of said line against lightning. The utilities board shall have power to make and enforce such further and additional rules relating to location, construction, operation and maintenance of said transmission line as may be reasonable.

All transmission lines, wires or cables outside of cities for the transmission, distribution or sale of electric current at any voltage shall be constructed and maintained in accordance with standards adopted by rule by the utilities board.

478.20 Distance from buildings.

No transmission line shall be constructed, except by agreement, within one hundred feet of any dwelling house or other building, except where said line crosses or passes along a public highway or is located alongside or parallel with the right of way of any railway company. In addition to the foregoing, each person, company, or corporation shall conform to any other rules, regulations, or specifications established by the utilities board, in the construction, operation, or maintenance of such lines.

478.21 Nonuser.

If the improvement for which a franchise is granted is not constructed in whole or in part within two years from the date the franchise is granted, the franchise shall be forfeited and the utilities board which granted the franchise shall revoke the franchise and make a record of the revocation, unless the person holding the franchise petitions the board for an extension of time. Upon a showing of sufficient justification for the delay of construction, the board may grant an extension of time for not more than an additional two years. An extension of time shall only be allowed for franchises granted on or after July 1, 1994.

478.22 Action for violation.

478.23 Prior franchises — legislative control.

Any such franchise heretofore granted under previously existing law shall not be abrogated by the provisions of this chapter, but all such franchises and all franchises granted under the provisions of this chapter shall be subject to further legislative control.

478.24 Violations.

Any person, company or corporation constructing or undertaking to construct or maintain any electric transmission line, without first procuring a franchise for such purpose in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, shall be guilty of a serious misdemeanor; and for violating any of the other provisions of this chapter relating to electric transmission lines or disobeying any order or rule made by the utilities board in relation thereto, shall be guilty of a simple misdemeanor.

478.25 Wire crossing railroads — supervision.

The utilities board shall have general supervision over any and all wires whatsoever crossing under or over any railway track and shall make rules prescribing the manner in which such wires shall cross such track; but in no case shall the board prescribe a less height for any wire than twenty-two feet above the top of the rails of any railroad track.

478.26 Wires across railroad right of way at highways.

The utilities board shall prescribe the manner for the crossing of wires over and across railroad rights of way at highways and other places within the state.

478.27 Wires — how strung.

No corporation or person shall place or string any such wire for transmitting electric current or any wire whatsoever across any track of a railroad except in the manner prescribed by the utilities board.

[S13, §2120-f; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8335; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, §489.26; C66, 71, 73, 75, §489.27; C77, 79, 81, §478.27]

478.28 Examination of existing wires.

The utilities board shall, either by personal examination or otherwise, obtain information where railroad tracks are crossed by wires contrary to, or not in compliance with, the rules prescribed by it. It shall order such change or changes to be made by the persons or corporations owning or operating such wires as may be necessary to make the same comply with said rules and within such reasonable time as it may prescribe.

478.29 Civil penalties.

A person who violates a provision of this chapter is subject to a civil penalty, which may be levied by the board, of not more than one hundred dollars per violation or one thousand dollars per day of a continuing violation, whichever is greater. Civil penalties collected pursuant to this section shall be forwarded by the executive secretary of the board to the treasurer of state to be credited to the Iowa energy center created in section 266.39C.

Any civil penalty may be compromised by the board. In determining the amount of the penalty, or the amount agreed upon in compromise, the board shall consider the appropriateness of the penalty to the size of the business of the person charged, the gravity of the violation, and the good faith of the person charged in attempting to achieve compliance after notification of a violation.

478.30 Crossing highway.

Nothing in this chapter shall prevent any such individual or corporation having its high tension line on its own private right of way on both sides of any highway, from crossing such public highway under such rules and regulations as the utilities board may prescribe, and subject from time to time to legislative control as to duration and use.

478.31 Temporary permits for lines less than one mile.

Notwithstanding the provisions of section 478.1 any person, company or corporation proposing to construct an electric transmission line not exceeding one mile in length and which does not involve the taking of property under the right of eminent domain may obtain a temporary construction permit from the utilities board by proceeding in the manner hereinafter set forth. Said person, company or corporation shall first file with the board a verified petition setting forth the requirements of section 478.3, subsection 1, paragraphs "a" through "h", with the further allegation that the petitioner is the nearest electric utility to the proposed point of service.

The petition shall also state that the filing thereof constitutes an application for a temporary construction permit and shall also have endorsed thereon the approval of the appropriate highway authority or railroad concerned if such line is to be constructed over, across or along a public highway or railroad.

Upon receipt of such petition the utilities board shall consider same and may grant a temporary construction permit in whole or in part or upon such terms, conditions and restrictions, and with such modifications as to location as may seem to it just and proper, however, no finding of public use will be made at the time of the issuance of the permit, such finding to be made, if substantiated by petitioner, at the subsequent consideration of the propriety of granting a franchise for the line subject to the permit. The signature of one utilities board member on such permit shall be sufficient. The issuance of such permit shall constitute temporary authority for the permit holder to construct the line for which the permit is granted.

Upon the granting of such temporary construction permit the utilities board shall cause the publication of notice required by section 478.5 and all other requirements shall be complied with as in the manner provided for the granting of a franchise. If a hearing is required then the petitioner shall make a sufficient and proper showing thereat before a franchise will be issued for the line. Any franchise issued will be subject to all applicable provisions of this chapter.

Notwithstanding anything foregoing, if the utilities board shall determine that a franchise should not be granted, or that further restrictions, conditions or modifications are required, or if the petitioner shall fail to make a sufficient and proper showing of the necessity for the granting of a franchise within six months of the granting of the temporary construction permit, the permit issued hereunder shall become null and void and the permit holder may be required to take such action deemed necessary by the board to remove, modify or relocate the construction undertaken by virtue of the temporary permit issued hereunder.

478.32 Rehearing — judicial review.

Any person, company, or corporation aggrieved by the action of the utilities board in granting or failing to grant a franchise under the provisions of this chapter, shall be entitled to the rehearing procedure provided in section 476.12. Judicial review of actions of the board may be sought in accordance with the terms of the Iowa administrative procedure Act.

See §476.13

478.33 Cancellation.

A person seeking to acquire an easement or other property interest for the construction, maintenance or operation of an electric transmission line shall:

2. Provide the landowner or a person serving in a fiduciary capacity in the landowner's behalf with a form in duplicate for the notice of cancellation.

3. Not record any agreement until after the period for cancellation has expired.

4. Not include in the agreement any waiver of the right to cancel in accordance with this section. The landowner or a person serving in a fiduciary capacity in the landowner's behalf may exercise the right of cancellation only once for each transmission line project.

478.34 and 478.35 Reserved.

GAS LAMPS

478A.7 Decorative gas lamps.

478A.7 Decorative gas lamps.

1. Commencing January 1, 1979 a person shall not sell or offer for sale in this state a decorative gas lamp manufactured after December 31, 1978.

2. As used in this section “decorative gas lamp” means a device installed for the purpose of producing illumination by burning natural, mixed or liquid petroleum gas and utilizing either a mantle or an open flame, but does not include portable camp lanterns or gas lamps.

3. Persons convicted of violating this section shall be guilty of a simple misdemeanor.

4. Notwithstanding subsection 1, commencing January 1, 1990, a person may sell or offer for sale in this state a decorative gas lamp manufactured after December 31, 1978, if the utilities board within the utilities division of the department of commerce determines, after notice and an opportunity for interested persons to comment at an oral presentation, that the sale or offer for sale of decorative gas lamps does not violate the public interest.

479.1 Purpose — applicability.

It is the purpose of the general assembly in enacting this law to confer upon the utilities board the power and authority to supervise the transportation or transmission of any solid, liquid, or gaseous substance, except water, within or through this state by pipeline, whether specifically mentioned in this chapter or not, and the power and authority to supervise the underground storage of gas, to protect the safety and welfare of the public in its use of public or private highways, grounds, waters, and streams of any kind in this state. However, this chapter does not apply to interstate natural gas or hazardous liquid pipelines, pipeline companies, and underground storage, as these terms are defined in chapters 479A and 479B.

[C35, §8338-f14; C39, §8338.22; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, §490.1; C77, 79, 81, §479.1]
88 Acts, ch 1074, §27; 95 Acts, ch 192, §5

479.2 Definitions.

As used in this chapter:

1. “Board” means the utilities board within the utilities division of the department of commerce.

2. “Pipeline” means a pipe, pipes, or pipelines used for the transportation or transmission of a solid, liquid, or gaseous substance, except water, within or through this state. However, the term does not include interstate pipe, pipes, or pipelines used for the transportation or transmission of natural gas or hazardous liquids.

3. “Pipeline company” means a person engaged in or organized for the purpose of owning, operating, or controlling pipelines for the transportation or transmission of any solid, liquid, or gaseous substance, except water, within or through this state. However, the term does not include a person owning, operating, or controlling interstate pipelines for the transportation or transmission of natural gas or hazardous liquids.

4. “Underground storage” means storage of gas in a subsurface stratum or formation of the earth.

88 Acts, ch 1074, §28; 95 Acts, ch 192, §6

479.3 Conditions attending operation.

No pipeline company shall construct, maintain or operate any pipeline or lines under, along, over or across any public or private highways, grounds, waters or streams of any kind in this state except in accordance with the provisions of this chapter.

479.4 Dangerous construction — inspection.

The board is vested with power and authority and it shall be its duty to supervise all pipelines and underground storage and pipeline companies and shall from time to time inspect and examine the construction, maintenance and the condition of said pipelines and underground storage facilities and whenever said board shall determine that any pipeline and underground storage facilities or any apparatus, device or equipment used in connection therewith is unsafe and dangerous it shall immediately in writing notify said pipeline company, constructing or operating said pipeline and underground storage facilities, device, apparatus or other equipment to repair or replace any defective or unsafe part or portion of said pipeline and underground storage facilities, device, apparatus or equipment.

All faulty construction, as determined by the inspector, shall be repaired immediately by the contractor operating for the pipeline company and the cost of such repairs shall be paid by said contractor. If such repairs are not made by contractor, the board shall proceed to collect under the provisions of section 479.26.

See also §479.29

479.5 Application for permit.

A pipeline company doing business in this state shall file with the board its verified petition asking for a permit to construct, maintain and operate its pipeline or lines along, over or across the public or private highways, grounds, waters and streams of any kind of this state. Any pipeline company now owning or operating a pipeline in this state shall be issued a permit by the board upon supplying the information as provided for in section 479.6.

A pipeline company doing business in this state and proposing to engage in underground storage of gas within this state shall file with the board its verified petition asking for a permit to construct, maintain and operate facilities for the underground storage of gas to include the construction, placement, maintenance and operation of machinery, appliances, fixtures, wells, pipelines, and stations necessary for the construction, maintenance and operation of the gas underground storage facilities.

A pipeline company shall hold informational meetings in each county in which real property or property rights will be affected at least thirty days prior to filing the petition for a new pipeline. A member of the board or a person designated by the board shall serve as the presiding officer at each meeting, shall present an agenda for the meeting which shall include a summary of the legal rights of the affected landowners, and shall distribute and review the statement of individual rights required under section 6B.2A. A formal record of the meeting shall not be required.

The meeting shall be held at a location reasonably accessible to all persons, companies, or corporations which may be affected by the granting of the permit.

The pipeline company seeking the permit for a new pipeline shall give notice of the informational meeting to each person determined to be a landowner affected by the proposed project and each person in possession of or residing on the property. For the purposes of the informational meeting, “landowner” means a person listed on the tax assessment rolls as responsible for the payment of real estate taxes imposed on the property and “pipeline” means a line transporting a solid, liquid, or gaseous substance, except water, under pressure in excess of one hundred fifty pounds per square inch and extending a distance of not less than five miles or having a future anticipated extension of an overall distance of five miles.

The notice shall set forth the name of the applicant; the applicant’s principal place of business; the general description and purpose of the proposed project; the general nature of the right-of-way desired; the possibility that the right-of-way may be acquired by condemnation if approved by the utilities board; a map showing the route of the proposed project; a description of the process used by the utilities board in making a decision on whether to approve a permit including the right to take property by eminent domain; that the landowner has a right to be present at such meeting and to file objections with the board; and a designation of the time and place of the meeting. The notice shall be served by certified mail with return receipt requested not less than thirty days previous to the time set for the meeting, and shall be published once in a newspaper of general circulation in the county. The publication shall be considered notice to landowners whose residence is not known and to each person in possession of or residing on the property provided a good faith effort to notify can be demonstrated by the pipeline company.

A pipeline company seeking rights under this chapter shall not negotiate or purchase any easements or other interests in land in any county known to be affected by the proposed project prior to the informational meeting.

Unnumbered paragraphs 3 and 6 amended 479.6 Petition.

Said petition shall state:

1. The name of the individual, firm, corporation, company, or association asking for said permit.
2. The applicant's principal office and place of business.
3. A legal description of the route of said proposed line or lines, together with a map thereof.
4. A general description of the public or private highways, grounds and waters, streams and private lands of any kind along, over or across which said proposed line or lines will pass.
5. The specifications of material and manner of construction.
6. The maximum and normal operating pressure under which it is proposed to transport any solid, liquid, or gaseous substance, except water.
7. If permission is sought to construct, maintain and operate facilities for the underground storage of gas said petition shall include the following information in addition to that stated above:
 - a. A description of the public or private highways, grounds and waters, streams and private lands of any kind under which such storage is proposed, together with a map thereof.
 - b. Maps showing the location of proposed machinery, appliances, fixtures, wells and stations necessary for the construction, maintenance and operation of such gas underground storage facilities.
8. The possible use of alternative routes.

9. The relationship of the proposed project to the present and future land use and zoning ordinances.

10. The inconvenience or undue injury which may result to property owners as a result of the proposed project.

479.7 Hearing — notice.

Upon the filing of said petition the board shall fix a date for hearing thereon and shall cause notice thereof to be published in some newspaper of general circulation in each county through which said proposed line or lines or gas storage facilities will extend; said notice to be published for two consecutive weeks.

Where a petition seeks the use of the right of eminent domain over specific parcels of real property, the board shall prescribe the notice to be served upon the owners of record and parties in possession of the property over which the use of the right of eminent domain is sought. The notice shall include the statement of individual rights required pursuant to section 6B.2A.

NEW unnumbered paragraph 2

479.8 Time and place.

The hearing shall not be less than ten days nor more than thirty days from the date of the last publication and where the proposed new pipeline would operate under pressure exceeding one hundred fifty pounds per square inch and exceed five miles in length, shall be held in the county seat of the county located at the midpoint of the proposed line or lines or the county in which the proposed gas storage facility would be located.

[C31, §8338-d6; C35, §8338-f21; C39, §8338.29; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, §490.8; C77, 79, 81, §479.8; 81 Acts, ch 159, §10]

479.9 Objections.

Any person, corporation, company or city whose rights or interests may be affected by said pipeline or lines or gas storage facilities may file written objections to said proposed pipeline or lines or gas storage facilities or to the granting of said permit.

479.10 Filing.

All such objections shall be on file in the office of said board not less than five days before the date of hearing on said application but said board may permit the filing of said objections later than five days before said hearing, in which event the applicant must be granted a reasonable time to meet said objections.

479.11 Examination — testimony.

The said board may examine the proposed route of said pipeline or lines and location of said gas storage area, or may cause such examination to be made by an engineer selected by it. At said hearing the said board shall consider said petition and any objections filed thereto and may in its discretion hear such testimony as may aid it in determining the propriety of granting such permit.

479.12 Final order — condition.

The board may grant a permit in whole or in part upon terms, conditions, and restrictions as to safety requirements and as to location and route as determined by it to be just and proper. Before a permit is granted to a pipeline company, the board, after a public hearing as provided in this chapter, shall determine whether the services proposed to be rendered will promote the public convenience and necessity, and an affirmative finding to that effect is a condition precedent to the granting of a permit.

479.13 Costs and fees.

The applicant shall pay all costs of the informational meetings, hearing, and necessary preliminary investigation including the cost of publishing notice of hearing, and shall pay the actual unrecovered costs directly attributable to construction inspections conducted by the board or the board's designee.

[C31, §8338-d11, -d12; C35, §8338-f26; C39, §8338.34; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, §490.13; C77, 79, 81, §479.13]

88 Acts, ch 1074, §31

479.14 Inspection fee.

A pipeline company shall pay an annual inspection fee of fifty cents per mile of pipeline or fraction thereof for each inch of diameter of the pipeline located in the state, the inspection fee to be paid to the board for the calendar year in advance between January 1 and February 1 of each year.

[C31, §8338-d13; C35, §8338-f27; C39, §8338.35; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, §490.14; C77, 79, 81, §479.14]

88 Acts, ch 1074, §32

479.15 Failure to pay.

It shall be the duty of the board to collect all inspection fees provided in this chapter, and failure to pay any such inspection fee within thirty days after the time the same shall become due shall be cause for revocation of the permit.

479.16 Receipt of funds.

All moneys received under this chapter shall be remitted monthly to the treasurer of state and credited to the general fund of the state as provided in section 476.10.

479.18 Permit.

The board shall prepare and issue any permit granted in accordance with section 479.12. Said permit shall show the name and address of the pipeline company to which it is issued and identify by reference thereto the decision and order of the board under which said permit is issued. It shall be signed by the chairperson of the board and the official seal of the board shall be affixed thereto.

479.19 Limitation on grant.

No exclusive right shall ever be granted to any pipeline company to construct, maintain, and operate its pipeline or lines along, over or across any public highway, grounds or waters and no such permit shall ever be granted for a longer period than twenty-five years.

479.20 Sale of permit.

No permit shall be sold until the sale is approved by the board.

479.21 Transfer of permit.

If a transfer of such permit is made before the construction for which it was issued is completed in whole or in part such transfer shall not be effective until the person, company or corporation to whom it was issued shall file in the office of said board a notice in writing stating the date of such transfer and the name and address of said transferee.

479.22 Records.

The board shall keep a record of all permits granted and issued by it, showing when and to whom issued and the location and route of said pipeline or lines or gas storage area covered thereby. When any transfer of such permit has been made as provided in this chapter the said board shall also note upon its record the date of such transfer and the name and address of such transferee.

479.24 Eminent domain.

A pipeline company granted a pipeline permit under this chapter shall be vested with the right of eminent domain* to the extent necessary and as prescribed and approved by the board, not exceeding seventy-five feet in width for right-of-way and not exceeding one acre in any one location in addition to right-of-way for the location of pumps, pressure apparatus, or other stations or equipment necessary to the proper operation of its pipeline. The board may grant additional eminent domain rights where the pipeline company has presented sufficient evidence to adequately demonstrate that a greater area is required for the proper construction, operation, and maintenance of the pipeline or for the location of pumps, pressure apparatus, or other stations or equipment necessary to the proper operation of its pipeline.

A pipeline company having secured a permit for underground storage of gas shall be vested with the right of eminent domain to the extent necessary and as prescribed and approved by the board in order to appropriate for its use for the underground storage of gas any subsurface stratum or formation in any land which the board shall have found to be suitable and in the public interest for the underground storage of gas, and may appropriate other interests in property, as may be required to adequately examine, prepare, maintain, and operate the underground gas storage facilities. This chapter does not authorize the construction of a pipeline longitudinally on, over or under any railroad right-of-way or public highway, or at other than an approximate right angle to a railroad track or public highway without the consent of the railroad company, the state department of transportation, or the county board of supervisors, and this chapter does not authorize or give the right of condemnation or eminent domain for such purposes.

A pipeline company operating a pipeline or a gas storage area shall have reasonable access to the pipeline or gas storage area for the purpose of constructing, operating, maintaining, or locating pipes, pumps, pressure apparatus or other stations, wells, devices, or equipment used in or upon the pipeline or gas storage area; shall pay the owner of the land for the right of entry and the owner of crops for all damages caused by entering, using, or occupying the land; and shall pay to the owner all damages caused by the completion of construction of the pipeline due to wash or erosion of the soil at or along the location of the pipeline and due to the settling of the soil along and above the pipeline. However, this section shall not prevent the execution of an agreement between the pipeline company and the owner of land or crops with reference to the use of the land.

479.26 Financial condition of permittee — bond.

Before any permit is granted under this chapter the applicant must satisfy the board that the applicant has property within this state other than pipelines, subject to execution of a value in excess of two hundred fifty thousand dollars, or the applicant must file and maintain with the board a surety bond in the penal sum of two hundred fifty thousand dollars with surety approved by the board, conditioned that the applicant will pay any and all damages legally recovered against it growing out of the construction or operation of its pipeline and gas storage facilities in the state of Iowa. When the pipeline company deposits with the board security satisfactory to the board as a guaranty for the payment of the damages, or furnishes to the board satisfactory proofs of its solvency and financial ability to pay the damages, the pipeline company is relieved of the provisions requiring bond.

In all cases arising under this chapter, the district court of any county in which property of a pipeline company is located shall have jurisdiction.

479.28 Orders — enforcement.

If said pipeline company fails to obey an order within a time prescribed by the said board the said board may commence an equitable action in the district court of the county where said defective, unsafe, or dangerous portion of said pipeline, device, apparatus or equipment is located to compel compliance with its said order. If, after due trial of said action the court finds that said order is reasonable, equitable and just, it shall decree a mandatory injunction compelling obedience to and compliance with said order and may grant such other relief as may be just and proper. Appeal from said decree may be taken in the same manner as in other actions.

479.29 Land restoration.

1. The board shall, pursuant to chapter 17A, adopt rules establishing standards for the restoration of agricultural lands during and after pipeline construction. In addition to the requirements of section 17A.4, the board shall distribute copies of the notice of intended action and opportunity for oral presentations to each county board of supervisors. Any county board of supervisors may, under the provisions of chapter 17A, and subsequent to the rulemaking proceedings, petition under those provisions for additional rulemaking to establish standards for land restoration after pipeline construction within that county. Upon the request of the petitioning county, the board shall schedule a hearing to consider the merits of the petition. Rules adopted under this section shall not apply to land located within city boundaries unless the land is used for agricultural purposes. Rules adopted under this section shall address, but are not limited to, all of the following subject matters:

- a. Topsoil separation and replacement.
- b. Temporary and permanent repair to drain tile.
- c. Removal of rocks and debris from the right-of-way.
- d. Restoration of areas of soil compaction.
- e. Restoration of terraces, waterways, and other erosion control structures.
- f. Revegetation of untilled land.
- g. Future installation of drain tile or soil conservation structures.
- h. Restoration of land slope and contour.
- i. Restoration of areas used for field entrances and temporary roads.
- j. Construction in wet conditions.
- k. Designation of a pipeline company point of contact for landowner inquiries or claims.

2. The county board of supervisors shall cause an on-site inspection for compliance with the standards adopted under this section to be performed at any pipeline construction project in the county. A licensed professional engineer familiar with the standards adopted under this section and registered under chapter 542B shall be responsible for the inspection. A county board of supervisors may contract for the services of a licensed professional engineer for the purposes of the inspection. The reasonable costs of the inspection shall be borne by the pipeline company.

3. If the inspector determines that there has been a violation of the standards adopted under this section, of the land restoration plan, or of an independent agreement on land restoration or line location executed in accordance with subsection 10, the inspector shall give oral notice, followed by written notice, to the pipeline company and the contractor operating for the pipeline company and order corrective action to be taken in compliance with the standards. The costs of the corrective action shall be borne by the contractor operating for the pipeline company.

4. An inspector shall adequately inspect underground improvements altered during construction of pipeline. An inspection shall be conducted at the time of the replacement or repair of the underground improvements. An inspector shall be present on the site at all times at each phase and separate activity of the opening of the trench, the restoration of underground improvements, and backfilling. The pipeline company and its contractor shall keep an inspector continually informed of the work schedule and any schedule changes. If proper notice is given, construction shall not be delayed due to an inspector's failure to be present on the site.

5. If the pipeline company or its contractor does not comply with the requirements of this section, with the land restoration plan, or with an independent agreement on land restoration or line location executed in accordance with subsection 10, the county board of supervisors may petition the board for an order requiring corrective action to be taken. In addition, the county board of supervisors may file a complaint with the board seeking imposition of civil penalties pursuant to section 479.31.

6. The pipeline company shall allow landowners and the inspector to view the proposed center line of the pipeline prior to commencing trenching operations to insure that construction takes place in its proper location.

7. An inspector may temporarily halt the construction if the construction is not in compliance with this chapter and the standards adopted pursuant to this chapter, the land restoration plan, or the terms of an independent agreement with the pipeline company regarding land restoration or line location executed in accordance with subsection 10, until the inspector consults with the supervisory personnel of the pipeline company.

8. The board shall instruct inspectors appointed by the board of supervisors regarding the content of the statutes and rules and the inspectors' responsibility to require construction conforming with the standards provided by this chapter.

9. Petitioners for a permit for pipeline construction shall file with the petition a written land restoration plan showing how the requirements of this section, and of rules adopted pursuant to this section, will be met. The petitioners shall provide copies of the plan to all landowners of property that will be disturbed by the construction.

10. This section does not preclude the application of provisions for protecting or restoring property that are different than those prescribed in this section, in rules adopted pursuant to this section, or in the land restoration plan, if the alternative provisions are contained in agreements independently executed by the pipeline company and landowner, and if the alternative provisions are not inconsistent with state law or with rules adopted by the board. Independent agreements on land restoration or line location between the landowner and pipeline company shall be in writing and a copy provided to the county inspector.

11. For purposes of this section, "construction" includes the removal of a previously constructed pipeline.

12. The requirements of this section shall apply only to pipeline construction projects commenced on or after June 1, 1999.

479.30 Entry for land surveys.

After the informational meeting or after the filing of a petition if no informational meeting is required, a pipeline company may enter upon private land for the purpose of surveying and examining the land to determine the direction or depth of a pipeline by giving ten days' written notice by restricted certified mail to the landowner as defined in section 479.5 and to any person residing on or in possession of the land. The entry for land surveys authorized in this section shall not be deemed a trespass and may be aided by injunction. The pipeline company shall pay the actual damages caused by the entry, survey, and examination.

479.31 Civil penalty.

A person who violates this chapter or any rule or order issued pursuant to this chapter shall be subject to a civil penalty levied by the board not to exceed ten thousand dollars for each violation. Each day that the violation continues shall constitute a separate offense. However, the maximum civil penalty shall not exceed five hundred thousand dollars for any related series of violations. Civil penalties collected pursuant to this section shall be credited to and are appropriated for the Iowa energy center created in section 266.39C.

Any civil penalty may be compromised by the board. In determining the amount of the penalty, or the amount agreed upon in compromise, the appropriateness of the penalty to the size of the business of the person charged, the gravity of the violation, and the good faith of the person charged in attempting to achieve compliance, after notification of a violation, shall be considered. The amount of the penalty, when finally determined, or the amount agreed upon in compromise, may be deducted from any sums owed by the state to the person charged, or may be recovered in a civil action.

479.32 Rehearing — judicial review.

Rehearing procedure for any person, company or corporation aggrieved by the action of the board in granting or failing to grant a permit under the provisions of this chapter shall be as provided in section 476.12. Judicial review may be sought in accordance with the terms of the Iowa administrative procedure Act.

479.33 Authorized federal aid.

The board may enter into agreements with and receive moneys from the United States department of transportation for the inspection of pipelines to determine compliance with applicable standards of pipeline safety, and for enforcement of the applicable standards of pipeline safety as provided by Pub. L. No. 103-272, as codified in 49 U.S.C. § 60101–60125.

479.34 Cancellation.

A person seeking to acquire an easement or other property interest for the construction, maintenance or operation of a pipeline shall:

2. Provide the landowner or a person serving in a fiduciary capacity in the landowner's behalf with a form in duplicate for the notice of cancellation.

3. Not record any agreement until after the period for cancellation has expired.

4. Not include in the agreement any waiver of the right to cancel in accordance with this section. The landowner or a person serving in a fiduciary capacity in the landowner's behalf may exercise the right of cancellation only once for each pipeline project.

479.35 to 479.40 Reserved.

479.41 Arbitration agreements.

If an easement or other written agreement between a landowner and a pipeline company provides for the determination through arbitration of the amount of monetary damages sustained by a landowner and caused by the construction, maintenance, or repair of a pipeline, and if either party has not appointed its arbitrator or agreed to an arbitrator under the agreement within thirty days after the other party has invoked the arbitration provisions of the agreement by written notice to the other party by restricted certified mail, the landowner or the pipeline company may petition a judicial magistrate in the county where the real property is located for the appointment of an arbitrator to serve in the stead of the arbitrator who would have been appointed or agreed to by the other party. Before filing the petition the landowner or pipeline company shall give notice of the petitioning of the judicial magistrate by restricted certified mail to the other party and file proof of mailing with the petition. If after hearing, the magistrate finds that the landowner or pipeline company has not been diligent in appointing or reasonable in agreeing to an arbitrator, the magistrate shall appoint an impartial arbitrator who shall have all of the powers and duties of an arbitrator appointed or agreed to by the other party under the agreement.

For purposes of this section only, "landowner" means the persons who signed the easement or other written agreement, their heirs, successors, and assigns.

95 Acts, ch 192, §15

479.42 Subsequent pipelines.

A pipeline company shall not install a subsequent pipeline upon its existing easement when a damage claim from the installation of its previous pipeline on that easement has not been resolved, unless the damage claim is under litigation, arbitration, or a proceeding pursuant to section 479.46.

With the exception of claims for damage to drain tile and future crop deficiency, for this section to apply, landowners and tenants must submit in writing their claims for damages caused by installation of the pipeline within one year of final clean-up on the real property.

95 Acts, ch 192, §16

479.43 Damage agreement.

A pipeline company shall not install a pipeline until there is a written statement on file with the board as to how damages resulting from the construction of the pipeline shall be determined and paid, except in cases of eminent domain. The company shall provide a copy of the statement to the landowner.

479.44 Negotiated fee.

In lieu of a one-time lump sum payment for an easement or other property interest allowing a pipeline to cross the property, a landowner and the pipeline company may negotiate an annual fee, to be paid over a fixed number of years. Unless the easement provides otherwise, the annual fee shall run with the land and shall be payable to the owner of record.

479.45 Particular damage claims.

1. Compensable losses shall include, but are not limited to, all of the following:

a. Loss or reduced yield of crops or forage on the pipeline right-of-way, whether caused directly by construction or from disturbance of usual farm operations.

b. Loss or reduced yield of crops or yield from land near the pipeline right-of-way resulting from lack of timely access to the land or other disturbance of usual farm operations, including interference with irrigation.

c. Fertilizer, lime, or organic material applied by the landowner to restore land disturbed by construction to full productivity.

d. Loss of or damage to trees of commercial or other value that occurs at the time of construction, restoration, or at the time of any subsequent work by the pipeline company.

e. The cost of or losses in moving or relocating livestock, and the loss of gain by or the death or injury of livestock caused by the interruption or relocation of normal feeding.

f. Erosion on lands attributable to pipeline construction.

g. Damage to farm equipment caused by striking a pipeline, debris, or other material reasonably associated with pipeline construction while engaged in normal farming operations as defined in section 480.1.

2. A claim for damage for future crop deficiency within the easement strip shall not be precluded from renegotiation under section 6B.52 on the grounds that it was apparent at the time of settlement unless the settlement expressly releases the pipeline company from claims for damage to the productivity of the soil. The landowner shall notify the company in writing fourteen days prior to harvest in each year to assess crop deficiency.

[81 Acts, ch 159, §2, 7]

479.46 Determination of installation damages.

1. The county board of supervisors shall determine when installation of a pipeline has been completed in that county for the purposes of this section. Not less than ninety days after the completion of installation, and if an agreement cannot be made as to damages, a landowner whose land was affected by the installation of the pipeline or a pipeline company may file with the board of supervisors a petition asking that a compensation commission determine the damages arising from the installation of the pipeline.

2. If the board of supervisors by resolution approves the petition, the landowner or pipeline company shall commence the proceeding by filing an application with the chief judge of the judicial district of the county for the appointment of a compensation commission as provided in section 6B.4.

The application shall contain the following:

a. The name and address of the applicant and a description of the land on which the damage is claimed to have occurred.

b. A description of the nature of the damage claimed to have occurred and the amount of the damage claimed.

c. The name and address of the pipeline company claimed to have caused the damage or the name and address of the affected landowner.

3. After the commissioners have been appointed, the applicant shall serve notice on the pipeline company or the landowner stating the following:

a. That a compensation commission has been appointed to determine the damages caused by the installation of the pipeline.

b. The name and address of the applicant and a description of the land on which the damage is claimed to have occurred.

If more than one landowner petitions the county board of supervisors, the application to the chief judge, notice to the pipeline company, and appraisal of damages shall be consolidated into one application, notice, and appraisal. The county attorney may assist in coordinating the consolidated application and notice, but does not become an attorney for the landowners by doing so.

4. The commissioners shall view the land at the time provided in the notice and assess the damages sustained by the landowner by reason of the installation of the pipeline and they shall file their report with the sheriff. The appraisal of damages returned by the commissioners is final unless appealed. After the appraisal of damages has been delivered to the sheriff by the compensation commission, the sheriff shall give written notice by ordinary mail to the pipeline company and the landowner of the date the appraisal of damages was made, the amount of the appraisal, and that any interested party may appeal to the district court within thirty days of the date of mailing. The sheriff shall endorse the date of mailing of notice on the original appraisal of damages. At the time of appeal, the appealing party shall give written notice to the adverse party or the party's attorney and the sheriff.

5. Chapter 6B applies to this section to the extent it is applicable and consistent with this section.

6. The pipeline company shall pay all costs of the assessment made by the commissioners and reasonable attorney fees and costs incurred by the landowner as determined by the commissioners if the award of the commissioners exceeds one hundred ten percent of the final offer of the pipeline company prior to the determination of damages; if the award does not exceed one hundred ten percent, the landowners shall pay the fees and costs incurred by the pipeline company. The pipeline company shall file with the sheriff an affidavit setting forth the most recent offer made to the landowner. Commissioners shall receive a per diem of fifty dollars and actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their official duties. The pipeline company shall also pay all costs occasioned by the appeal, including reasonable attorney fees to be taxed by the court, unless on the trial of the appeal the same or a lesser amount of damages is awarded than was allowed by the commission from which the appeal was taken.

7. As used in this section, “damages” means compensation for damages to the land, crops, and other personal property caused by the construction activity of installing a pipeline and its attendant structures but does not include compensation for a property interest, and “landowner” includes a farm tenant.

8. The provisions of this section do not apply if the easement provides for any other means of negotiation or arbitration.

479.47 Subsequent tiling.

All additional costs of new tile construction caused by an existing pipeline shall be paid by the pipeline company. To receive compensation under this section, the landowner or agent of the landowner shall either present an invoice specifying the additional costs caused by the presence of the pipeline which is accompanied by a written verification of the additional costs by the county engineer or soil and water conservation district conservationist or reach an agreement with the pipeline company on the project design and share of the cost to be paid by the pipeline company during the planning of the tiling project.

479.48 Reversion on nonuse.

1. If a pipeline right-of-way, or any part of a pipeline right-of-way, is wholly abandoned for pipeline purposes by the relocation of the pipeline, is not used or operated for a period of five consecutive years, or if the construction of the pipeline has been commenced and work has ceased and has not in good faith resumed for five years, the right-of-way may revert as provided in this section to the person who, at the time of the abandonment or nonuse, is the owner of the tract from which such right-of-way was taken. For purposes of this section, a pipeline or a pipeline right-of-way is not considered abandoned or unused if it is transporting product or is being actively maintained with reasonable anticipation of a future use.

2. To effect a reversion on nonuse of right-of-way, the owner or holder of purported fee title to such real estate shall serve notice upon the owner of such right-of-way easement and, if filed of record, successors in interest and upon any party in possession of the real estate. The written notice shall accurately describe the real estate and easement in question, set out the facts concerning ownership of the fee, ownership of the right-of-way easement, and the period of abandonment or nonuse, and notify the parties that such reversion shall be complete and final, and that the easement or other right shall be forfeited, unless the parties shall, within one hundred twenty days after the completed service of notice, file an affidavit with the county recorder of the county in which the real estate is located disputing the facts contained in the notice.

3. The notice shall be served in the same manner as an original notice under the Iowa rules of civil procedure, except that when notice is served by publication an affidavit shall not be required before publication. If an affidavit disputing the facts contained in the notice is not filed within one hundred twenty days, the party serving the notice may file for record in the office of the county recorder a copy of the notice with proofs of service attached and endorsed, and when so recorded, the record shall be constructive notice to all persons of the abandonment, reversion, and forfeiture of such right-of-way.

4. Upon reversion of the easement, the landowner may require the pipeline company to remove any pipe or pipeline facility remaining on the property. Provisions of this chapter relating to damages shall apply when the pipeline is removed.

5. Unless otherwise agreed to in writing by the landowner and the pipeline company, if a pipeline right-of-way is abandoned for pipeline use, but the pipe is not removed from the right-of-way, the pipeline company shall remain subject to section 479.49, shall remain responsible for the additional costs of subsequent tiling as provided for in section 479.47, shall mark the location of the line in response to a notice of proposed excavation in accordance with chapter 480, and shall remain subject to the damage provisions of this chapter in the event access to or excavation relating to the pipe is required. The landowner shall provide reasonable access to the pipeline in order to carry out the responsibilities of this subsection.

479.49 Farmland improvements.

A landowner or contractor may require a representative of the pipeline company to be present on site, at no charge to the landowner, at all times during each phase and separate activity related to a farmland improvement within fifty feet of either side of a pipeline. If the pipeline company and the landowner or contractor constructing the farmland improvement mutually agree that a representative of the pipeline company is not required to be present, the requirements of this section are waived in relation to the farmland improvement which would have otherwise made the requirements of this section applicable. A farmland improvement includes, but is not limited to, the terracing of farmland and tiling.

479A.1 Purpose.

It is the purpose of the general assembly in enacting this law to confer upon the utilities board the power and authority to implement certain controls over the transportation of natural gas to protect landowners and tenants from environmental or economic damages which may result from the construction, operation, or maintenance of a pipeline within the state. It is also the purpose of the general assembly in enacting this law to provide for the board to act as an agent for the federal government in determining pipeline company compliance with the standards of the federal government for pipelines within the boundaries of the state.

479A.2 Definitions.

As used in this chapter, unless the context requires otherwise:

1. “Board” means the utilities board within the utilities division of the department of commerce.

2. “Pipeline” means an interstate pipe, pipes, or pipelines used for the transportation or transmission of natural gas within or through this state.

3. “Pipeline company” means a person engaged in or organized for the purpose of owning, operating, or controlling pipelines.

4. “Underground storage” means the storage of natural gas in a subsurface stratum or formation of the earth by a pipeline company.

479A.3 Conditions attending operation.

A pipeline company shall not construct, maintain, or operate pipeline under, along, over, or across any public or private highways, grounds, waters, or streams of any kind in this state except in accordance with this chapter.

479A.4 Construction inspection.

The board shall supervise pipelines, pipeline companies, and underground storage, and shall inspect the construction, maintenance, and condition of pipelines and underground storage facilities in accordance with section 479A.18. When inspecting for safety standard compliance, the board shall apply only United States department of transportation safety standards.

479A.5 Notice prior to construction.

Before beginning construction in this state, a pipeline company shall provide an adequate opportunity for state inspection, by giving written notice to the chairperson of the board stating the time, date, location, and nature of the construction. The notice shall be filed with the chairperson of the board not less than five business days before commencement of the construction.

479A.6 Cost of construction inspection.

A pipeline company shall pay actual unrecovered costs directly attributable to construction inspections conducted by the board or the board's designee.

88 Acts, ch 1074, §6

479A.7 Annual inspection fee.

A pipeline company shall pay an annual inspection fee of fifty cents per mile of pipeline or fraction thereof for each inch of diameter of the pipeline located in this state. The annual inspection fee shall be paid for the calendar year in advance between January 1 and February 1 of each year.

479A.8 Failure to pay — penalties.

The board shall collect the inspection fees, and failure to pay an inspection fee within thirty days after the time the fee becomes due is cause for the assessment of civil penalties in accordance with section 479A.16.

88 Acts, ch 1074, §8

479A.9 Deposit of funds.

Moneys received under this chapter shall be credited to the general fund of the state as provided in section 476.10.

479A.10 Rules.

The board shall adopt rules, pursuant to chapter 17A for the enforcement of this chapter.

479A.11 Damages.

A pipeline company operating pipelines or underground storage shall be given reasonable access to the pipelines and storage areas for the purpose of constructing, operating, maintaining, or locating their pipes, pumps, pressure apparatus, or other stations, wells, devices, or equipment used in or upon a pipeline or storage area, but shall pay the owner of the lands for the right of entry and the owner of crops on the land all damages caused by entering, using, or occupying the lands for these purposes; and shall pay to the owner of the lands, after the completion of construction of the pipeline or storage, all damages caused by settling of the soil along and above the pipeline, and wash or erosion of the soil along the pipeline due to the construction of the pipeline. However, this section does not prevent the execution of an agreement with other terms between the pipeline company and the owner of the land or crops with reference to their use.

479A.12 Financial condition of company — bond or other security.

Before construction is begun by a pipeline company, the company shall satisfy the board that the company has property subject to execution within this state other than pipelines, of a value in excess of two hundred fifty thousand dollars, or the company must file and maintain with the board a surety bond in the penal sum of two hundred fifty thousand dollars with surety approved by the board, conditioned that the company will pay any and all damages legally recovered against it growing out of the construction, abandonment, or operation of its pipeline and underground storage facilities in this state, or the company shall deposit with the board security satisfactory to the board as a guaranty for the payment of that amount of damages, or furnish to the board satisfactory proofs of its solvency and financial ability to pay that amount of damages.

479A.13 Jurisdiction.

In all cases arising under this chapter, the district court of any county in which property of a pipeline company is located has jurisdiction of a case involving that company.

479A.14 Land restoration — standards — inspection.

1. The board shall adopt rules establishing standards for the restoration of agricultural lands during and after pipeline construction. In addition to the requirements of section 17A.4, the board shall distribute copies of the notice of intended action and opportunity for oral presentations to each county board of supervisors. A county board of supervisors may, under chapter 17A and subsequent to the rulemaking proceedings, petition for additional rulemaking to establish standards for land restoration after pipeline construction within that county. Upon the request of the petitioning county, the board shall schedule a hearing to consider the merits of the petition. Rules adopted under this section shall not apply to land located within city boundaries unless the land is used for agricultural purposes. Rules adopted under this section shall address, but are not limited to, all of the following subject matters:

- a. Topsoil separation and replacement.
- b. Temporary and permanent repair to drain tile.
- c. Removal of rocks and debris from the right-of-way.
- d. Restoration of areas of soil compaction.
- e. Restoration of terraces, waterways, and other erosion control structures.
- f. Revegetation of untilled land.
- g. Future installation of drain tile or soil conservation structures.
- h. Restoration of land slope and contour.
- i. Restoration of areas used for field entrances and temporary roads.
- j. Construction in wet conditions.
- k. Designation of a pipeline company point of contact for landowner inquiries or claims.

2. The county board of supervisors shall cause an on-site inspection for compliance with the standards adopted under this section to be performed at any pipeline construction project in the county. A licensed professional engineer familiar with the standards adopted under this section and registered under chapter 542B shall be responsible for the inspection. The reasonable costs of the inspection shall be borne by the pipeline company.

4. An inspector shall adequately inspect underground improvements altered during construction of a pipeline. An inspection shall be conducted at the time of the replacement or repair of the underground improvements. An inspector shall be present on the site at all times at each phase and separate activity of the opening of the trench, the restoration of underground improvements, and backfilling. The pipeline company and its contractor shall keep an inspector continually informed of the work schedule and any schedule changes. If proper notice is given, construction shall not be delayed due to an inspector's failure to be present on the site.

5. If the pipeline company or its contractor does not comply with the requirements of this section, with the land restoration plan, or with an independent agreement on land restoration executed in accordance with subsection 10, the county board of supervisors may petition the board for an order requiring corrective action to be taken. In addition, the county board of supervisors may file a complaint with the board seeking imposition of civil penalties pursuant to section 479A.16.

6. The pipeline company shall allow landowners and the inspector to view the proposed center line of the pipeline before commencing trenching operations to ensure that construction takes place in the proper location.

7. An inspector may temporarily halt the construction if the construction is not in compliance with this chapter and the standards adopted under this chapter, the land restoration plan approved by the board, or the terms of an independent agreement with the pipeline company regarding line location or land restoration executed in accordance with subsection 10, until the inspector consults with the supervisory personnel of the pipeline company.

8. The board shall instruct inspectors appointed by the county board of supervisors regarding the content of this chapter and the standards and the inspectors' responsibility to require construction conforming with them.

9. Prior to the initiation of construction, the pipeline company shall file a written land restoration plan with the board describing the methods and procedures by which compliance with this section and the standards adopted under this section will be achieved. The board shall review this plan to insure that the requirements of this section and rules adopted pursuant to this section are met. After board review, the pipeline company shall provide copies of the plan to all landowners of property that will be disturbed by the construction. The requirements of this subsection may be waived by the board to the extent an environmental impact statement addressing the land restoration subjects in subsection 1 was prepared by the federal energy regulatory commission.

10. This section does not preclude the application of provisions for protecting or restoring property that are different than those prescribed in this section, in rules adopted pursuant to this section, or in the land restoration plan if the alternative provisions are contained in agreements independently executed by the pipeline company and the landowner, and if the alternative provisions are not inconsistent with state law or with rules adopted by the board. Independent agreements on land restoration or line location between the landowner and pipeline company shall be in writing and a copy provided to the county inspector.

11. For the purposes of this section, "construction" includes the removal of a previously constructed pipeline.

88 Acts, ch 1074, §14; 95 Acts, ch 192, §21; 99 Acts, ch 85, §4, 11; 2000 Acts, ch 1080, §1

Subsection 12 stricken

479A.15 Entry for land surveys.

A pipeline company may enter upon private land for the purpose of surveying and examining the land to determine direction or depth of a pipeline by giving ten days' written notice by restricted certified mail to the landowner and to any person residing on or in possession of the land. For purposes of this section only, “landowner” means a person listed on the tax assessment rolls as responsible for the payment of real estate taxes imposed on the property. The entry for land surveys authorized in this section is not a trespass and may be aided by injunction. The pipeline company shall pay the actual damages caused by the entry and survey.

479A.16 Civil penalty.

A person who violates this chapter or a rule or an order issued pursuant to this chapter is subject to a civil penalty levied by the board not to exceed one thousand dollars for each violation. Each day that the violation continues constitutes a separate offense. However, the civil penalty shall not exceed two hundred thousand dollars for any related series of violations. Civil penalties collected pursuant to this section shall be credited to and are appropriated for the Iowa energy center created in section 266.39C.

A civil penalty may be compromised by the board. In determining the amount of the penalty, or the amount agreed upon in compromise, the appropriateness of the penalty to the size of the business of the person charged, the gravity of the violation, and the good faith of the person charged in attempting to achieve compliance after notification of a violation, shall be considered. The amount of the penalty, when finally determined, or the amount agreed upon in compromise, may be deducted from any sums owed by the state to the person charged, or may be recovered in a civil action.

479A.17 Rehearing — judicial review.

Rehearing procedure for a person aggrieved by the action of the board in assessing or failing to assess civil penalties under this chapter shall be as provided in section 476.12. Judicial review may be sought in accordance with chapter 17A.

479A.18 Federal inspection.

The board may enter into agreements with and receive moneys from the United States department of transportation for the inspection of pipelines to determine compliance with the applicable standards of pipeline safety as provided by Pub. L. No. 103-272, as codified in 49 U.S.C. § 60101-60125.

479A.19 Right to cancel agreement.

capacity in the landowner’s behalf to cancel an agreement granting an easement or other interest by certified mail with return requested to the company’s principal place of business if received by the company within seven days, excluding Saturday and Sunday, of the date of the contract; shall inform the landowner or fiduciary in writing of the right to cancel prior to the signing of the agreement by the landowner or fiduciary; and shall provide the landowner or fiduciary with a form in duplicate for the notice of cancellation.

3. The landowner or a person serving in a fiduciary capacity in the landowner’s behalf may exercise the right of cancellation only once for each pipeline project.

479A.20 Arbitration agreements.

Notwithstanding conflicting provisions of chapter 679A, if an easement or other written agreement between a landowner and a pipeline company provides for the determination through arbitration of the amount of monetary damages sustained by a landowner and caused by the construction, maintenance, or repair of a pipeline, and if either party has not appointed its arbitrator or agreed to an arbitrator under the agreement within thirty days after the other party has invoked the arbitration provisions of the agreement by written notice to the other party by restricted certified mail, the landowner or the pipeline company may petition a magistrate in the county where the real property is located for the appointment of an arbitrator to serve in place of the arbitrator who would have been appointed or agreed to by the other party. Before filing the petition the landowner or pipeline company shall give notice of the petitioning of the magistrate by restricted certified mail to the other party and file proof of mailing with the petition. If, after hearing, the magistrate finds that the landowner or pipeline company has not been diligent in appointing or reasonable in agreeing to an arbitrator, the magistrate shall appoint an impartial arbitrator who shall have all of the powers and duties of an arbitrator appointed or agreed to by the other party under the agreement.

For purposes of this section only, “landowner” means the persons who signed the easement or other written agreement, their heirs, successors, and assigns.

479A.21 Subsequent pipelines.

A pipeline company shall not install a subsequent pipeline upon its existing easement when a damage claim from the installation of its previous pipeline on that easement has not been resolved unless that claim is under litigation or arbitration or is the subject of a proceeding pursuant to section 479A.25.

479A.22 Damage statement.

A pipeline company shall not install a pipeline unless there is a written statement on file with the board as to how damages resulting from the construction of the pipeline shall be determined and paid, except in cases of eminent domain. The company shall provide a copy of the statement to the landowner.

88 Acts, ch 1074, §22

479A.23 Negotiated annual fee.

In lieu of a one-time lump sum payment for an easement or other property interest allowing a pipeline to cross property, a landowner and the pipeline company may negotiate an annual fee, to be paid over a fixed number of years. Unless the easement provides otherwise, the annual fee shall run with the land and shall be payable to the owner of record.

88 Acts, ch 1074, §23

479A.24 Particular damage claims.

1. Compensable losses shall include, but are not limited to, all of the following:

a. Loss or reduced yield of crops or forage on the pipeline right-of-way, whether caused directly by construction or from disturbance of usual farm operations.

b. Loss or reduced yield of crops or yield from land near the pipeline right-of-way resulting from lack of timely access to the land or other disturbance of usual farm operations, including interference with irrigation.

c. Fertilizer, lime, or organic material applied by the landowner to restore land disturbed by construction to full productivity.

d. Loss of or damage to trees of commercial or other value that occurs at the time of construction, restoration, or at the time of any subsequent work by the pipeline company.

f. Erosion on lands attributable to pipeline construction.

g. Damage to farm equipment caused by striking a pipeline, debris, or other material reasonably associated with pipeline construction while engaged in normal farming operations as defined in section 480.1.

2. A claim for damage for future crop deficiency within the easement strip shall not be precluded from renegotiation under section 6B.52 on the grounds that it was apparent at the time of settlement unless the settlement expressly releases the pipeline company from claims for damage to the productivity of the soil. The landowner shall notify the company in writing fourteen days prior to harvest in each year to assess crop deficiency.

3. With the exception of claims for damage to drain tile and future crop deficiency, landowners and tenants must submit in writing their claims for damages caused by installation of the pipeline within one year of completion of installation of a pipeline as determined by the county board of supervisors.

479A.25 Determination of installation damages.

1. The county board of supervisors shall determine when installation of a pipeline has been completed in that county for the purposes of this section. Not less than ninety days after the completion of installation, and if an agreement cannot be made as to damages, a landowner whose land was affected by the installation of the pipeline or the pipeline company may file with the board of supervisors a petition asking that a compensation commission determine the damages arising from the installation of the pipeline.

2. If the board of supervisors by resolution approves the petition, the landowner or pipeline company shall commence the proceeding by filing an application with the chief judge of the judicial district of the county for the appointment of a compensation commission as provided in section 6B.4.

The application shall contain all of the following:

a. The name and address of the applicant and a description of the land on which the damage is claimed to have occurred.

b. A description of the nature of the damage claimed to have occurred and the amount of the damage claimed.

c. The name and address of the pipeline company claimed to have caused the damage or the name and address of the affected landowner.

3. After the commissioners have been appointed, the applicant shall serve notice on the pipeline company or the landowner stating all of the following:

a. That a compensation commission has been appointed to determine the damages caused by the installation of the pipeline.

b. The name and address of the applicant and a description of the land on which the damage is claimed to have occurred.

If more than one landowner petitions the county board of supervisors, the application to the chief judge, notice to the pipeline company, and appraisal of damages shall be consolidated into one application, notice, and appraisal. The county attorney may assist in coordinating the consolidated application and notice, but does not become an attorney for the landowners by doing so.

4. The commissioners shall view the land at the time provided in the notice and assess the damages sustained by the landowner by reason of the installation of the pipeline. The commissioners shall file their report with the sheriff. The appraisal of damages returned by the commissioners is final unless appealed. After the appraisal of damages has been delivered to the sheriff by the compensation commission, the sheriff shall give written notice by ordinary mail to the pipeline company and the landowner of the date the appraisal of damages was made, the amount of the appraisal, and that any interested party may appeal to the district court within thirty days of the date of mailing. The sheriff shall endorse the date of mailing of notice on the original appraisal of damages. At the time of appeal, the appealing party shall give written notice to the adverse party or the party's attorney and the sheriff.

5. Chapter 6B applies to this section to the extent it is applicable and consistent with this section.

6. The pipeline company shall pay all costs of the assessment made by the commissioners and reasonable attorney fees and costs incurred by the landowner as determined by the commissioners, if the award of the commissioners exceeds one hundred ten percent of the final offer of the pipeline company prior to the determination of damages. If the award does not exceed one hundred ten percent, the landowners shall pay the fees and costs incurred by the pipeline company. The pipeline company shall file with the sheriff an affidavit setting forth the most recent offer made to the landowner. Commissioners shall receive a per diem of fifty dollars and actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their official duties. The pipeline company shall also pay all costs occasioned by the appeal, including reasonable attorney fees to be taxed by the court, unless on the trial of the appeal the same or a lesser amount of damages is awarded than was allowed by the commission from which the appeal was taken.

7. As used in this section, "damages" means compensation for damages to the land, crops, and other personal property caused by the construction activity of installing a pipeline and its attendant structures but does not include compensation for a property interest, and "landowner" includes a tenant.

8. This section does not apply if the easement provides for any other means of negotiation or arbitration.

Subsection 3, unnumbered paragraph 2 amended

479A.26 Subsequent tiling.

Additional costs of new tile construction caused by an existing pipeline shall be paid by the pipeline company. To receive compensation under this section, the landowner or agent of the landowner shall either present an invoice specifying the additional costs caused by the presence of the pipeline which is accompanied by a written verification of the additional costs by the county engineer or soil and water conservation district conservationist or reach an agreement with the pipeline company on the project design and share of the cost to be paid by the pipeline company during the planning of the tiling project.

479A.27 Reversion on nonuse.

1. If a pipeline right-of-way, or any part of a pipeline right-of-way, is wholly abandoned for pipeline purposes by the relocation of the pipeline, is not used or operated for a period of five consecutive years, or if the construction of the pipeline has been commenced and work has ceased and has not in good faith resumed for five years, the right-of-way may revert as provided in this section to the person who, at the time of the abandonment or nonuse, is the owner of the tract from which such right-of-way was taken. Abandonment of pipeline facilities requires approval from the federal energy regulatory commission prior to this provision taking effect.

2. To effect a reversion on nonuse of right-of-way, the owner or holder of purported fee title to such real estate shall serve notice upon the owner of such right-of-way easement and, if filed of record, successors in interest and upon any party in possession of the real estate. The written notice shall accurately describe the real estate and easement in question, set out the facts concerning ownership of the fee, ownership of the right-of-way easement, and the period of abandonment or nonuse, and notify the parties that such reversion shall be complete and final, and that the easement or other right shall be forfeited, unless the parties shall, within one hundred twenty days after the completed service of notice, file an affidavit with the county recorder of the county in which the real estate is located disputing the facts contained in the notice.

before publication. If an affidavit disputing the facts contained in the notice is not filed within one hundred twenty days, the party serving the notice may file for record in the office of the county recorder a copy of the notice with proofs of service attached and endorsed, and when so recorded, the record shall be constructive notice to all persons of the abandonment, reversion, and forfeiture of such right-of-way.

4. Upon reversion of the easement, the landowner may require the pipeline company to remove any pipe or pipeline facility remaining on the property to the extent such removal is in accordance with the terms of the abandonment authority from the federal energy regulatory commission. Provisions of this chapter relating to damages shall apply when the pipeline is removed.

5. Unless otherwise agreed to in writing by the landowner and the pipeline company, if a pipeline right-of-way is abandoned for pipeline use, but the pipe is not removed from the right-of-way, the pipeline company shall remain subject to section 479A.28, shall remain responsible for the additional costs of subsequent tiling as provided for in section 479A.26, shall mark the location of the line in response to a notice of proposed excavation in accordance with chapter 480, and shall remain subject to the damage provisions of this chapter in the event access to or excavation relating to the pipe is required. The landowner shall provide reasonable access to the pipeline in order to carry out the responsibilities of this subsection.

 Subsection 5 amended

479A.28 Farmland improvements.

A landowner or contractor may require a representative of the pipeline company to be present on site, at no charge to the landowner, at all times during each phase and separate activity related to a farmland improvement within fifty feet of either side of a pipeline. If the pipeline company and the landowner or contractor constructing the farmland improvement mutually agree that a representative of the pipeline company is not required to be present, the requirements of this section are waived in relation to the farmland improvement which would have otherwise made the requirements of this section applicable. A farmland improvement includes, but is not limited to, the terracing of farmland and tiling.

479B.1 Purpose — authority.

It is the purpose of the general assembly in enacting this law to grant the utilities board the authority to implement certain controls over hazardous liquid pipelines to protect landowners and tenants from environmental or economic damages which may result from the construction, operation, or maintenance of a hazardous liquid pipeline or underground storage facility within the state, to approve the location and route of hazardous liquid pipelines, and to grant rights of eminent domain where necessary.

95 Acts, ch 192, §28

479B.2 Definitions.

As used in this chapter, unless the context appears otherwise:

1. “Board” means the utilities board within the utilities division of the department of commerce.

2. “Hazardous liquid” means crude oil, refined petroleum products, liquefied petroleum gases, anhydrous ammonia, liquid fertilizers, liquefied carbon dioxide, alcohols, and coal slurries.

3. “Pipeline” means an interstate pipe or pipeline and necessary appurtenances used for the transportation or transmission of hazardous liquids.

4. “Pipeline company” means a person engaged in or organized for the purpose of owning, operating, or controlling pipelines for the transportation or transmission of any hazardous liquid or underground storage facilities for the underground storage of any hazardous liquid.

5. “Underground storage” means storage of hazardous liquid in a subsurface stratum or formation of the earth.

6. “Utilities division” means the utilities division of the department of commerce.

95 Acts, ch 192, §29

479B.3 Conditions attending operation.

A pipeline company shall not construct, maintain, or operate a pipeline or underground storage facility under, along, over, or across any public or private highways, grounds, waters, or streams of any kind in this state except in accordance with this chapter.

95 Acts, ch 192, §30

479B.4 Application for permit — informational meeting — notice.

A pipeline company doing business in this state shall file a verified petition with the board asking for a permit to construct, maintain, and operate a new pipeline along, over, or across the public or private highways, grounds, waters, and streams of any kind in this state. Any pipeline company now owning or operating a pipeline or underground storage facility in this state shall be issued a permit by the board upon supplying the information as provided for in section 479B.5, subsections 1 through 5, and meeting the requirements of section 479B.13.

A pipeline company doing business in this state and proposing to store hazardous liquid underground within this state shall file with the board a verified petition asking for a permit to construct, maintain, and operate facilities for the underground storage of hazardous liquid which includes the construction, placement, maintenance, and operation of machinery, appliances, fixtures, wells, pipelines, and stations necessary for the construction, maintenance, and operation of the underground storage facilities.

The pipeline company shall hold informational meetings in each county in which real property or property rights will be affected at least thirty days prior to filing the petition for a new pipeline. A member of the board, or a person designated by the board, shall serve as the presiding officer at each meeting and present an agenda for the meeting which shall include a summary of the legal rights of the affected landowners. No formal record of the meeting shall be required. The meeting shall be held at a location reasonably accessible to all persons who may be affected by granting the permit.

The pipeline company seeking the permit for a new pipeline shall give notice of the informational meeting to each landowner affected by the proposed project and each person in possession of or residing on the property. For the purposes of the informational meeting, “landowner” means a person listed on the tax assessment rolls as responsible for the payment of real estate taxes imposed on the property and “pipeline” means a line transporting a hazardous liquid under pressure in excess of one hundred fifty pounds per square inch and extending a distance of not less than five miles or having a future anticipated extension of an overall distance of five miles.

The notice shall set forth the following: the name of the applicant, the applicant’s principal place of business, the general description and purpose of the proposed project, the general nature of the right-of-way desired, a map showing the route or location of the proposed project, that the landowner has a right to be present at the meeting and to file objections with the board, and a designation of the time and place of the meeting. The notice shall be sent by restricted certified mail and shall be published once in a newspaper of general circulation in the county not less than thirty days before the date set for the meeting. The publication shall be considered notice to landowners whose residence is not known and to each person in possession of or residing on the property provided a good faith effort to notify can be demonstrated by the pipeline company.

A pipeline company seeking rights under this chapter shall not negotiate or purchase an easement or other interest in land in a county known to be affected by the proposed project prior to the informational meeting.

95 Acts, ch 192, §31

479B.5 Petition.

A petition for a permit shall state all of the following:

1. The name of the individual, firm, corporation, company, or association applying for the permit.

2. The applicant's principal office and place of business.

3. A legal description of the route of the proposed pipeline and a map of the route.

4. A general description of the public or private highways, grounds, waters, streams, and private lands of any kind along, over, or across which the proposed pipeline will pass.

5. If permission is sought to construct, maintain, and operate facilities for the underground storage of hazardous liquids the petition shall include the following additional information:

a. A description and a map of the public or private highways, grounds, waters, streams, and private lands of any kind under which the storage is proposed.

b. Maps showing the location of proposed machinery, appliances, fixtures, wells, and stations necessary for the construction, maintenance, and operation of the hazardous liquid storage facilities.

6. The possible use of alternative routes.

7. The relationship of the proposed project to the present and future land use and zoning ordinances.

8. The inconvenience or undue injury which may result to property owners as a result of the proposed project.

9. An affidavit attesting to the fact that informational meetings were held in each county affected by the proposed project and the time and place of each meeting.

95 Acts, ch 192, §32

479B.6 Hearing — notice.

After the petition is filed, the board shall fix a date for a hearing and shall publish notice for two consecutive weeks, in a newspaper of general circulation in each county through which the proposed pipeline or hazardous liquid storage facilities will extend.

The hearing shall not be less than ten days nor more than thirty days from the date of the last publication of the notice. If the pipeline exceeds five miles in length, the hearing shall be held in the county seat of the county located at the midpoint of the proposed pipeline or the county in which the proposed hazardous liquid storage facility would be located.

479B.7 Objections.

A person, including a governmental entity, whose rights or interests may be affected by the proposed pipeline or hazardous liquid storage facilities may file written objections.

All objections shall be on file with the board not less than five days before the date of hearing on the application. However, the board may permit the filing of the objections later than five days before the hearing, in which event the applicant must be granted a reasonable time to meet the objections.

95 Acts, ch 192, §34

479B.8 Examination — testimony.

The board may examine the proposed route of the pipeline and location of the underground storage facility. At the hearing the board shall consider the petition and any objections and may hear testimony to assist the board in making its determination regarding the application.

95 Acts, ch 192, §35

479B.9 Final order — condition.

The board may grant a permit in whole or in part upon terms, conditions, and restrictions as to location and route as it determines to be just and proper. A permit shall not be granted to a pipeline company unless the board determines that the proposed services will promote the public convenience and necessity.

95 Acts, ch 192, §36

479B.10 Costs and fees.

The applicant shall pay all costs of the informational meetings, hearing, and necessary preliminary investigation including the cost of publishing notice of hearing, and shall pay the actual unrecovered costs directly attributable to inspections conducted by the board.

479B.11 Inspection fee.

If the board enters into agreements with the United States department of transportation pursuant to section 479B.23, a pipeline company shall pay an annual fee of fifty cents per mile of pipeline or fraction thereof for each inch of diameter of the pipeline located in the state. The inspection fee shall be paid to the board between January 1 and February 1 for the calendar year.

The board shall collect all fees. Failure to pay any fee within thirty days from the due date shall be grounds for revocation of the permit or assessment of civil penalties.

479B.12 Use of funds.

All moneys received under this chapter, other than civil penalties collected pursuant to section 479B.21, shall be remitted monthly to the treasurer of state and credited to the general fund of the state.

95 Acts, ch 192, §39

479B.13 Financial condition of permittee — bond.

Before a permit is granted under this chapter the applicant must satisfy the board that the applicant has property within this state other than pipelines or underground storage facilities, subject to execution of a value in excess of two hundred fifty thousand dollars, or the applicant must file and maintain with the board a surety bond in the penal sum of two hundred fifty thousand dollars with surety approved by the board, conditioned that the applicant will pay any and all damages legally recovered against it growing out of the construction, maintenance, or operation of its pipeline or underground storage facilities in this state. When the pipeline company deposits with the board security satisfactory to the board as a guaranty for the payment of the damages, or furnishes to the board satisfactory proofs of its solvency and financial ability to pay the damages, the pipeline company is relieved of the provisions requiring bond.

479B.14 Permits — limitations — sale or transfer — records — extension.

The board shall prepare and issue permits. The permit shall show the name and address of the pipeline company to which it is issued and identify the decision and order of the board under which the permit is issued. The permit shall be signed by the chairperson of the board and the official seal of the board shall be affixed to it.

The board shall not grant an exclusive right to any pipeline company to construct, maintain, or operate its pipeline along, over, or across any public or private highway, grounds, waters, or streams. The board shall not grant a permit for longer than twenty-five years.

A permit shall not be sold until the sale is approved by the board.

If a transfer of a permit is made before the construction for which it was issued is completed in whole or in part, the transfer shall not be effective until the pipeline company to which it was issued files with the board a notice in writing stating the date of the transfer and the name and address of the transferee.

The board shall keep a record of all permits granted by it, showing when and to whom granted and the location and route of the pipeline or underground storage facility, and if the permit has been transferred, the date and the name and address of the transferee.

A pipeline company may petition the board for an extension of a permit granted under this section by filing a petition containing the information required by section 479B.5, subsections 1 through

5, and meeting the requirements of section 479B.13.

479B.15 Entry for land surveys.

After the informational meeting or after the filing of a petition if no informational meeting is required, a pipeline company may enter upon private land for the purpose of surveying and examining the land to determine direction or depth of pipelines by giving ten days' written notice by restricted certified mail to the landowner as defined in section 479B.4 and to any person residing on or in possession of the land. The entry for land surveys shall not be deemed a trespass and may be aided by injunction. The pipeline company shall pay the actual damages caused by the entry, survey, and examination.

479B.16 Eminent domain.

A pipeline company granted a pipeline permit shall be vested with the right of eminent domain, to the extent necessary and as prescribed and approved by the board, not exceeding seventy-five feet in width for right-of-way and not exceeding one acre in any one location in addition to right-of-way for the location of pumps, pressure apparatus, or other stations or equipment necessary to the proper operation of its pipeline. The board may grant additional eminent domain rights where the pipeline company has presented sufficient evidence to adequately demonstrate that a greater area is required for the proper construction, operation, and maintenance of the pipeline or for the location of pumps, pressure apparatus, or other stations or equipment necessary to the proper operation of its pipeline.

A pipeline company granted a permit for underground storage of hazardous liquid shall be vested with the right of eminent domain to the extent necessary and as prescribed and approved by the board in order to appropriate for its use for the underground storage of hazardous liquid any subsurface stratum or formation in any land which the board shall have found to be suitable and in the public interest for the underground storage of hazardous liquid, and may appropriate other interests in property, as may be required adequately to examine, prepare, maintain, and operate the underground storage facilities.

This chapter does not authorize the construction of a pipeline longitudinally on, over, or under any railroad right-of-way or public highway, or at other than an approximate right angle to a railroad track or public highway without the consent of the railroad company, the state department of transportation, or the county board of supervisors, and this chapter does not authorize or give the right of condemnation or eminent domain for such purposes.

95 Acts, ch 192, §43

479B.17 Damages.

A pipeline company operating a pipeline or an underground storage facility shall have reasonable access to the pipeline or underground storage facility for the purpose of constructing, operating, maintaining, or locating pipes, pumps, pressure apparatus, or other stations, wells, devices, or equipment used in or upon the pipeline or underground storage facility. A pipeline company shall pay the owner of the land for the right of entry and the owner of crops for all damages caused by entering, using, or occupying the lands and shall pay to the owner all damages caused by the completion of construction of the pipeline due to wash or erosion of the soil at or along the location of the pipeline and due to the settling of the soil along and above the pipeline. However, this section does not prevent the execution of an agreement between the pipeline company and the owner of the land or crops with reference to the use of the land.

479B.18 Venue.

In all cases arising under this chapter, the district court of any county in which property of a pipeline company is located has jurisdiction of a case involving the pipeline company.

479B.19 Orders — enforcement.

If the pipeline company fails to obey an order within the period of time determined by the board, the board may commence an equitable action in the district court of the county where the pipeline, device, apparatus, equipment, or underground storage facility is located to compel compliance with its order. If, after trial, the court finds that the order is reasonable, equitable, and just, the court shall decree a mandatory injunction compelling obedience to and compliance with the order and may grant other relief as may be just and proper. Appeal from the decree may be taken in the same manner as in other actions.

479B.20 Land restoration standards.

1. The board, pursuant to chapter 17A, shall adopt rules establishing standards for the restoration of agricultural lands during and after pipeline or underground storage facility construction. In addition to the requirements of section 17A.4, the board shall distribute copies of the notice of intended action and opportunity for oral presentations to each county board of supervisors. Any county board of supervisors may, under the provisions of chapter 17A, and subsequent to the rulemaking proceedings, petition under those provisions for additional rulemaking to establish standards for land restoration after pipeline construction within that county. Upon the request of the petitioning county, the board shall schedule a hearing to consider the merits of the petition. Rules adopted under this section shall not apply to land located within city boundaries unless the land is used for agricultural purposes. Rules adopted under this section shall address, but are not limited to, all of the following subject matters:

- a. Topsoil separation and replacement.
- b. Temporary and permanent repair to drain tile.
- c. Removal of rocks and debris from the right-of-way.
- d. Restoration of areas of soil compaction.
- e. Restoration of terraces, waterways, and other erosion control structures.
- f. Revegetation of untilled land.
- g. Future installation of drain tile or soil conservation structures.
- h. Restoration of land slope and contour.
- i. Restoration of areas used for field entrances and temporary roads.
- j. Construction in wet conditions.
- k. Designation of a pipeline company point of contact for landowner inquiries or claims.

3. If the inspector determines that there has been a violation of the standards adopted under this section, of the land restoration plan, or of an independent agreement on land restoration or line location executed in accordance with subsection 10, the inspector shall give oral notice, followed by written notice, to the pipeline company and the contractor operating for the pipeline company and order corrective action to be taken in compliance with the standards. The costs of the corrective action shall be borne by the contractor operating for the pipeline company.

4. An inspector shall adequately inspect underground improvements altered during construction of the pipeline. An inspection shall be conducted at the time of the replacement or repair of the underground improvements. An inspector shall be present on the site at all times at each phase and separate activity of the opening of the trench, the restoration of underground improvements, and backfilling. The pipeline company and its contractor shall keep an inspector continually informed of the work schedule and any schedule changes. If proper notice is given, construction shall not be delayed due to an inspector's failure to be present on the site.

5. If the pipeline company or its contractor does not comply with the requirements of this section, with the land restoration plan or line location, or with an independent agreement on land restoration executed in accordance with subsection 10, the county board of supervisors may petition the board for an order requiring corrective action to be taken. In addition, the county board of supervisors may file a complaint with the board seeking imposition of civil penalties under section 479B.21.

6. The pipeline company shall allow landowners and the inspector to view the proposed center line of the pipeline prior to commencing trenching operations to ensure that construction takes place in its proper location.

7. An inspector may temporarily halt the construction if the construction is not in compliance with this chapter and the standards adopted pursuant to this chapter, the land restoration plan, or the terms of an independent agreement with the pipeline company regarding land restoration or line location executed in accordance with subsection 10, until the inspector consults with the supervisory personnel of the pipeline company.

8. The board shall instruct inspectors appointed by the board of supervisors regarding the content of the statutes and rules and the inspectors' responsibility to require construction conforming with the standards provided by this chapter.

9. Petitioners for a permit for pipeline construction shall file with the petition a written land restoration plan showing how the requirements of this section, and of rules adopted pursuant to this section, will be met. The company shall provide copies of the plan to all landowners of property that will be disturbed by the construction.

10. This section does not preclude the application of provisions for protecting or restoring property that are different than those prescribed in this section, in rules adopted under this section, or in the land restoration plan, if the alternative provisions are contained in agreements independently executed by the pipeline company and the landowner, and if the alternative provisions are not inconsistent with state law or with rules adopted by the board. Independent agreements on land restoration or line location between the landowner and pipeline company shall be in writing and a copy provided to the county inspector.

11. For the purposes of this section, "construction" includes the removal of a previously constructed pipeline.

12. The requirements of this section shall apply only to pipeline construction projects commenced on or after June 1, 1999.

95 Acts, ch 192, §47; 99 Acts, ch 85, §7, 11

479B.21 Civil penalty.

A person who violates this chapter or any rule or order issued pursuant to this chapter shall be subject to a civil penalty levied by the board in an amount not to exceed one thousand dollars for each violation. Each day that the violation continues shall constitute a separate offense. However, the maximum civil penalty shall not exceed two hundred thousand dollars for any related series of violations. Civil penalties collected pursuant to this section shall be credited to and are appropriated for the use of the Iowa energy center created in section 266.39C.

A civil penalty may be compromised by the board. In determining the amount of the penalty, or the amount agreed upon in compromise, the appropriateness of the penalty to the size of the pipeline company charged, the gravity of the violation, and the good faith of the person charged in attempting to achieve compliance, after notification of a violation, shall be considered. The amount of the penalty, when finally determined, or the amount agreed upon in compromise, may be deducted from any sums owed by the state to the person charged, or may be recovered in a civil action.

479B.22 Rehearing — judicial review.

Rehearing procedure for any person aggrieved by actions of the board under this chapter shall be as provided in section 476.12. Judicial review may be sought in accordance with the terms of chapter 17A.

95 Acts, ch 192, §49

479B.23 Authorized federal aid.

The board may enter into agreements with and receive moneys from the United States department of transportation for the inspection of pipelines to determine compliance with applicable standards of pipeline safety, and for enforcement of the applicable standards of pipeline safety as provided by 49 U.S.C. § 60101 et seq.

95 Acts, ch 192, §50

479B.24 Cancellation.

A pipeline company seeking to acquire an easement or other property interest for the construction, maintenance, or operation of a pipeline or underground storage facility shall do all of the following:

1. Allow the landowner or a person serving in a fiduciary capacity on the landowner's behalf to cancel an agreement granting an easement or other interest by restricted certified mail to the pipeline company's principal place of business if received by the pipeline company within seven days, excluding Saturday and Sunday, of the date of the agreement and inform the landowner or the fiduciary in writing of the right to cancel prior to the signing of the agreement by the landowner or the fiduciary.

2. Provide the landowner or a person serving in a fiduciary capacity in the landowner's behalf with a form in duplicate for the notice of cancellation.

3. Not record an agreement until after the period for cancellation has expired.

4. Not include in the agreement a waiver of the right to cancel in accordance with this section. The landowner or a person serving in a fiduciary capacity in the landowner's behalf may exercise the right of cancellation only once for each pipeline project.

479B.25 Arbitration agreements.

If an easement or other written agreement between a landowner and a pipeline company provides for the determination through arbitration of the amount of monetary damages sustained by a landowner and caused by the construction, maintenance, or repair of a pipeline or underground storage facility, and if either party has not appointed its arbitrator or agreed to an arbitrator under the agreement within thirty days after the other party has invoked the arbitration provisions of the agreement by written notice to the other party by restricted certified mail, the landowner or the pipeline company may petition a magistrate in the county where the real property is located for the appointment of an arbitrator to serve in the stead of the arbitrator who would have been appointed or agreed to by the other party. Before filing the petition the landowner or pipeline company shall give notice of the petitioning of the magistrate by restricted certified mail to the other party and file proof of mailing with the petition.

If after hearing, the magistrate finds that the landowner or pipeline company has not been diligent in appointing or reasonable in agreeing to an arbitrator, the magistrate shall appoint an impartial arbitrator who shall have all of the powers and duties of an arbitrator appointed or agreed to by the other party under the agreement.

For purposes of this section only, "landowner" means the person who signed the easement or other written agreement, or the person's heirs, successors, and assigns.

95 Acts, ch 192, §52, 62

479B.26 Subsequent pipeline or underground storage facility.

A pipeline company shall not construct a subsequent pipeline or underground storage facility upon its existing easement when a damage claim from the installation of its previous pipeline on that easement has not been resolved unless that claim is under litigation or arbitration, or is the subject of a proceeding pursuant to section 479B.30.

With the exception of claims for damage to drain tile and future crop deficiency, for this section to apply, landowners and tenants must submit their claims in writing for damages caused by construction of the pipeline or underground storage facility within one year of final cleanup on the real property by the pipeline company.

479B.27 Damage agreement.

A pipeline company shall not construct a pipeline or underground storage facility until a written statement is on file with the board as to how damages resulting from the construction of the pipeline shall be determined and paid, except in cases of eminent domain. The pipeline company shall provide a copy of the statement to the landowner.

95 Acts, ch 192, §54

479B.28 Negotiated fee.

In lieu of a one-time lump sum payment for an easement or other property interest allowing a pipeline to cross property or allowing underground storage of hazardous liquids, a landowner and the pipeline company may negotiate an annual fee, to be paid over a fixed number of years. Unless the easement provides otherwise, the annual fee shall run with the land and shall be payable to the owner of record.

95 Acts, ch 192, §55

479B.29 Particular damage claims.

1. Compensable losses shall include, but are not limited to, all of the following:

a. Loss or reduced yield of crops or forage on the pipeline right-of-way, whether caused directly by construction or from disturbance of usual farm operations.

b. Loss or reduced yield of crops or yield from land near the pipeline right-of-way resulting from lack of timely access to the land or other disturbance of usual farm operations, including interference with irrigation.

c. Fertilizer, lime, or organic material applied by the landowner to restore land disturbed by construction to full productivity.

d. Loss of or damage to trees of commercial or other value that occurs at the time of construction, restoration, or at the time of any subsequent work by the pipeline company.

f. Erosion on lands attributable to pipeline construction.

g. Damage to farm equipment caused by striking a pipeline, debris, or other material reasonably associated with pipeline construction while engaged in normal farming operations as defined in section 480.1.

2. A claim for damage for future crop deficiency within the easement strip shall not be precluded from renegotiation under section 6B.52 on the grounds that it was apparent at the time of settlement unless the settlement expressly releases the pipeline company from claims for damage to the productivity of the soil. The landowner shall notify the pipeline company in writing fourteen days prior to harvest in each year to assess crop deficiency.

479B.30 Determination of construction damages.

1. The county board of supervisors shall determine when construction of a pipeline or underground storage facility has been completed in that county for the purposes of this section. Not less than ninety days after the completion of construction and if an agreement cannot be made as to damages, a landowner whose land was affected by the construction of the pipeline or underground storage facility or the pipeline company may file with the board of supervisors a petition asking that a compensation commission determine the damages arising from construction of the pipeline.

2. If the board of supervisors by resolution approves the petition, the landowner or pipeline company shall commence the proceeding by filing an application with the chief judge of the judicial district for the county for the appointment of a compensation commission as provided in section 6B.4. The application shall contain all of the following information:

a. The name and address of the applicant and a description of the land on which the damage is claimed to have occurred.

b. A description of the nature of the damage claimed to have occurred and the amount of the damage claimed.

c. The name and address of the pipeline company claimed to have caused the damage or the name and address of the affected landowner.

3. After the commissioners have been appointed, the applicant shall serve notice on the pipeline company or the landowner stating all of the following:

a. That a compensation commission has been appointed to determine the damages caused by the construction of the pipeline or underground storage facility.

b. The name and address of the applicant and a description of the land on which the damage is claimed to have occurred.

c. The date, time, and place when the commissioners will view the premises and proceed to appraise the damages and that the pipeline company or landowner may appear before the commissioners.

If more than one landowner petitions the county board of supervisors, the application to the chief judge, notice to the pipeline company, and appraisal of damages shall be consolidated into one application, notice, and appraisal. The county attorney may assist in coordinating the consolidated application and notice, but does not become an attorney for the landowners by doing so.

5. Chapter 6B applies to this section to the extent it is applicable and consistent with this section.

6. The pipeline company shall pay all costs of the assessment made by the commissioners and reasonable attorney fees and costs incurred by the landowner as determined by the commissioners if the award of the commissioners exceeds one hundred ten percent of the final offer of the pipeline company prior to the determination of damages; if the award does not exceed one hundred ten percent, the landowners shall pay the fees and costs incurred by the pipeline company. The pipeline company shall file with the sheriff an affidavit setting forth the most recent offer made to the landowner. Commissioners shall receive a per diem of fifty dollars and actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their official duties. The pipeline company shall also pay all costs occasioned by the appeal, including reasonable attorney fees to be taxed by the court, unless on the trial of the appeal the same or a lesser amount of damages is awarded than was allowed by the commission from which the appeal was taken.

7. As used in this section, "damages" means compensation for damages to the land, crops, and other personal property caused by the construction of a pipeline and its attendant structures or underground storage facility but does not include compensation for a property interest, and “landowner” includes a farm tenant.

8. The provisions of this section do not apply if the easement provides for any other means of negotiation or arbitration.

479B.31 Subsequent tiling.

All additional costs of new tile construction caused by an existing pipeline or underground storage facility shall be paid by the pipeline company. To receive compensation under this section, the landowner or agent of the landowner shall either present an invoice specifying the additional costs caused by the presence of the pipeline which is accompanied by a written verification of the additional costs by the county engineer or soil and water conservation district conservationist or reach an agreement with the pipeline company on the project design and share of the cost to be paid by the pipeline company during the planning of the tiling project.

479B.32 Reversion on nonuse.

1. If a pipeline right-of-way, or any part of the pipeline right-of-way, is wholly abandoned for pipeline purposes by the relocation of the pipeline, is not used or operated for a period of five consecutive years, or if the construction of the pipeline has been commenced and work has ceased and has not in good faith resumed for five years, the right-of-way may revert as provided in this section to the person who, at the time of the abandonment or nonuse, is the owner of the tract from which such right-of-way was taken. For purposes of this section, a pipeline or a pipeline right-of-way is not considered abandoned or unused if it is transporting product or is being actively maintained with reasonable anticipation of a future use.

2. To effect a reversion on nonuse of right-of-way, the owner or holder of purported fee title to such real estate shall serve notice upon the owner of such right-of-way easement and, if filed of record, successors in interest and upon any party in possession of the real estate. The written notice shall accurately describe the real estate and easement in question, set out the facts concerning ownership of the fee, ownership of the right-of-way easement, and the period of abandonment or nonuse, and notify the parties that such reversion shall be complete and final, and that the easement or other right shall be forfeited, unless the parties shall, within one hundred twenty days after the completed service of notice, file an affidavit with the county recorder of the county in which the real estate is located disputing the facts contained in the notice.

3. The notice shall be served in the same manner as an original notice under the Iowa rules of civil procedure, except that when notice is served by publication an affidavit shall not be required before publication. If an affidavit disputing the facts contained in the notice is not filed within one hundred twenty days, the party serving the notice may file for record in the office of the county recorder a copy of the notice with proofs of service attached and endorsed, and when so recorded, the record shall be constructive notice to all persons of the abandonment, reversion, and forfeiture of such right-of-way.

4. Upon reversion of the easement, the landowner may require the pipeline company to remove any pipe or pipeline facility remaining on the property. Provisions of this chapter relating to damages shall apply when the pipeline is removed.

5. Unless otherwise agreed to in writing by the landowner and the pipeline company, if a pipeline right-of-way is abandoned for pipeline use, but the pipe is not removed from the right-of-way, the pipeline company shall remain subject to section 479B.33, shall remain responsible for the additional costs of subsequent tiling as provided for in section 479B.31, shall mark the location of the line in response to a notice of proposed excavation in accordance with chapter 480, and shall remain subject to the damage provisions of this chapter in the event access to or excavation relating to the pipe is required. The landowner shall provide reasonable access to the pipeline in order to carry out the responsibilities of this subsection.

479B.33 Farmland improvements.

A landowner or contractor may require a representative of the pipeline company to be present on site, at no charge to the landowner, at all times during each phase and separate activity related to a farmland improvement within fifty feet of either side of a pipeline. If the pipeline company and the landowner or contractor constructing the farmland improvement mutually agree that a representative of the pipeline company is not required to be present, the requirements of this section are waived in relation to the farmland improvement which would have otherwise made the requirements of this section applicable. A farmland improvement includes, but is not limited to, the terracing of farmland and tiling.

CHAPTER 480

UNDERGROUND FACILITIES INFORMATION

480.1	Definitions.	480.5	Damage to underground facility — report to operator.
480.1A	Applicability — prohibition.	480.6	Civil penalties.
480.2	Public deposit of location information. Repealed by 92 Acts, ch 1103, §11, 12.	480.7	Injunction.
480.3	Notification center established — participation.	480.8	Local ordinances and regulations unaffected.
480.4	Required notice — location and marking of underground facilities — exception.	480.9	Liability for owner of farmland.

480.1 Definitions.

1. “Board” means the board of directors of the notification center.

2. “Damage” means any impact with, destruction, impairment, or penetration of, or removal of support from an underground facility, including damage to its protective coating, housing, or device.

4. “Excavation” means an operation in which a structure or earth, rock, or other material in or on the ground is moved, removed, or compressed, or otherwise displaced by means of any tools, equipment, or explosives and includes, but is not limited to, grading, trenching, tiling, digging, ditching, drilling, augering, tunneling, scraping, cable or pipe plowing, driving, and demolition of structures.

“Excavation” does not include normal farming operations, residential, commercial, or similar gardening, the opening of a grave site in a cemetery, normal activities involved in land surveying pursuant to chapter 542B, operations in a solid waste disposal site which has planned for underground facilities, the replacement of an existing traffic sign at its current location and at no more than its current depth, and normal road or highway maintenance which does not change the original grade of the roadway or the ditch.

5. “Excavator” means a person proposing to engage or engaging in excavation.

6. “Normal farming operations” means plowing, cultivation, planting, harvesting, and similar operations routine to most farms, but excludes chisel plowing, sub-soiling, or ripping more than fifteen inches in depth, drain tile excavating, terracing, digging or driving a post in a new location other than replacing a post while repairing a fence in its existing location, and similar operations.

7. “Notification center” means the statewide notification center established in section 480.3.

8. “Operator” means a person owning or operating an underground facility including, but not limited to, public, private, and municipal utilities.

An operator does not include a person who owns or otherwise lawfully occupies real property where an underground facility is located only for the use and benefit of the owner or occupant on the property.

9. “Person” means a person as defined in section 4.1, subsection 20.

10. “Underground facility” means an item of personal property owned or leased by the operator which is buried or placed below ground for use in connection with the storage or conveyance of, or the provision of services supplying water, sewage, electronic, telephonic, or telegraphic communications, electric energy, hazardous liquids, or petroleum products including natural gas or other substances, and includes, but is not limited to, pipes, sewers, conduits, cables, valves, lines, wires, man-holes, and attachments to such property but does not include sanitary sewer laterals, storm sewer laterals, and water service lines providing service to abutting private properties.

480.1A Applicability — prohibition.

This chapter applies to any excavation unless otherwise provided by law. A person shall not engage in any excavation unless the requirements of this chapter have been satisfied.

92 Acts, ch 1103, §2

480.2 Public deposit of location information. Repealed by 92 Acts, ch 1103, § 11, 12.480.3 Notification center established — participation.

1. a. A statewide notification center is established and shall be organized as a nonprofit corporation pursuant to chapter 504A. The center shall be governed by a board of directors which shall represent and be elected by operators, excavators, and other persons who participate in the center.

The board, with input from all interested parties, shall determine the operating procedures and technology needed for a single statewide notification center and establish a notification process. In addition, the board shall either establish a competitive bidding procedure to select a vendor to provide the notification service or retain sufficient and necessary staff to provide the notification service. If a vendor is selected, terms of the agreement for the notification service may be modified from time to time by the board, and the agreement shall be reviewed, with an opportunity to receive new bids, no less frequently than every three years. If the board retains staff to provide the notification service, the board, at the board's discretion, may review the notification service at any time and make a determination to use the competitive bidding procedure to select a vendor.

b. Upon the selection of a vendor pursuant to paragraph "a", the board shall notify the chairperson of the utilities board in writing of the selection. The board shall submit an annual report to the chairperson of the utilities board including an annual audit and review of the services provided by the notification center and the vendor.

c. The board is subject to chapters 21 and 22.

2. The board shall implement the latest and most cost-effective technological improvements for the center in order to provide operators and excavators with the most accurate data available and in a timely manner to allow operators and excavators to perform their responsibilities with the minimum amount of interruptions.

3. Every operator shall participate in and share in the costs of the notification center. The financial condition and the transactions of the notification center shall be audited at least once each year by a certified public accountant. The notification center shall not provide any form of aid or make a contribution to a political party or to the campaign of a candidate for political or public office. In addition to any applicable civil penalty, as provided in section 480.6, a violation of this section constitutes a simple misdemeanor.

480.4 Required notice — location and marking of underground facilities — exception.

1. a. Except as otherwise provided in this section, prior to any excavation, an excavator shall contact the notification center and provide notice of the planned excavation. This notice must be given at least forty-eight hours prior to the commencement of the excavation, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays. The notification center shall establish a toll-free telephone number to allow excavators to provide the notice required pursuant to this subsection.

b. A notice provided pursuant to this subsection for a location within a city shall include the following information:

- (1) A street address or block and lot numbers, or both, of the proposed area of excavation.
- (2) The name and address of the excavator.
- (3) The excavator's telephone number.
- (4) The type and extent of the proposed excavation.
- (5) Whether the discharge of explosives is anticipated.
- (6) The date and time when excavation is scheduled to begin.
- (7) Approximate location of the excavation on the property.
- (8) If known, the name of the housing development and property owner.

c. A notice provided pursuant to this subsection for a location outside a city shall include the following information:

- (1) The name of the county, township, range, and section.
- (2) The name and address of the excavator.
- (3) The excavator's telephone number.
- (4) The type and extent of the proposed excavation.
- (5) Whether the discharge of explosives is anticipated.
- (6) The date and time when excavation is scheduled to begin.
- (7) Approximate location of the excavation on the property.
- (8) If known, the quarter section, E911 address and global positioning system coordinate, name of property owner, name of housing development with street address or block and lot numbers, or both.

d. For purposes of the requirements of this section, an excavation commences the first time excavation occurs in an area that was not previously identified by the excavator in an excavation notice.

2. The notification center, upon receiving notice from an excavator, shall immediately transmit the information contained in the notice to each operator in the area of the proposed excavation and provide the names of all operators in that area to the excavator. The notification center shall assign an inquiry identification number to each notice and shall maintain a record of each notice for at least six years from the date the notice is received. The notification center shall not assess an operator who requests in writing not to receive a notification of its own excavations for any portion of the costs associated with such excavations.

3. a. (1) An operator who receives notice from the notification center shall mark the horizontal location of the operator's underground facility and the excavator shall use due care in excavating in the marked area to avoid damaging the underground facility. The operator shall complete such locating and marking within forty-eight hours after receiving the notice, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays, unless otherwise agreed by the operator and the excavator. The locating and marking of the underground facilities shall be completed at no cost to the excavator. If, in the opinion of the operator, the planned excavation requires that the precise location of the underground facilities be determined, the excavator, unless otherwise agreed upon between the excavator and the operator, shall hand dig test holes to determine the location of the facilities unless the operator specifies an alternate method.

(2) The marking required under this subsection shall be done in a manner that will last for a minimum of five working days on any nonpermanent surface, or a minimum of ten working days on any permanent surface. If the excavation will continue for any period longer than such periods, the operator shall remark the location of the underground facility upon the request of the excavator. The request shall be made through the notification center.

b. An operator who receives notice from the notification center and who determines that the operator does not have any underground facility located within the proposed area of excavation shall notify the excavator concerning this determination prior to the indicated date of commencement of excavation.

c. For purposes of this chapter, the “horizontal location of any underground facility” is defined as including an area eighteen inches on either side of the underground facility.

4. An excavator is responsible for preserving the markings required in subsection 3 at all times during the excavation. If the markings will be destroyed or otherwise altered during the excavation, the excavator must establish suitable reference points which will enable the excavator to locate the underground facility at all times during the excavation.

5. The operator shall mark the location of any underground facility to conform with the uniform color code established by the American public works association’s utility location and coordination council.

6. The only exception to this section shall be when an emergency exists. Under such conditions, excavation operations can begin immediately, provided reasonable precautions are taken to protect the underground facilities. The excavator shall notify the notification center of the excavation as soon as practical.

92 Acts, ch 1103, §4; 98 Acts, ch 1049, §2

480.5 Damage to underground facility — report to operator.

An excavator shall as soon as practical notify the operator when any damage occurs to an underground facility as a result of an excavation. The notice shall include the type of facility damaged and the extent of the damage. If damage occurs, an excavator shall refrain from backfilling in the immediate area of the underground facilities until the damage has been investigated by the operator, unless the operator authorizes otherwise.

If the damage results in an emergency, the excavator shall take all reasonable actions to alleviate the emergency including, but not limited to, the evacuation of the affected area. The excavator shall leave all equipment situated where the equipment was at the time the emergency was created and immediately contact the operator and appropriate authorities and necessary emergency response agencies.

480.6 Civil penalties.

1. A person who violates a provision of this chapter is subject to a civil penalty as follows:

a. For a violation related to natural gas and hazardous liquid pipelines, an amount not to exceed ten thousand dollars for each violation for each day the violation continues, up to a maximum of five hundred thousand dollars.

b. For a violation related to any other underground facility, an amount not to exceed one thousand dollars for each violation for each day the violation continues, up to a maximum of twenty thousand dollars.

2. The attorney general, upon the receipt of a complaint, may institute any legal proceedings necessary to enforce the penalty provisions of this chapter.

3. All amounts collected pursuant to this section shall be remitted to the treasurer of state, who shall deposit the amount in the general fund of the state.

92 Acts, ch 1103, §6

480.7 Injunction.

Any affected person may make application to the district court for injunctive relief from any violation of this chapter.

92 Acts, ch 1103, §7

480.8 Local ordinances and regulations unaffected.

This chapter does not affect or impair any local ordinances or other provisions of law requiring permits to be obtained before excavation. However, a permit issued by any governing body does not relieve the excavator from complying with the requirements of this chapter, unless the governing body is the excavator and the governing body and the operator have agreed in writing to waive notification under this chapter. However, such an agreement shall not be considered in the issuance of any required permit.

480.9 Liability for owner of farmland.

An owner of farmland used in a farm operation, as defined in section 352.2, who complies with the requirements of this chapter shall not be held responsible for any damages to an underground facility, including fiber optic cable, if the damage occurred on the farmland in the normal course of the farm operation, unless the owner intentionally damaged the underground facility or acted with wanton disregard or recklessness in causing the damage to the underground facility. For purposes of this section, an “owner” includes a family member, employee, or tenant of the owner.

CHAPTER 480A

PUBLIC UTILITIES IN PUBLIC RIGHTS-OF-WAY

480A.1 Purpose.
480A.2 Definitions.
480A.3 Fees.

480A.4 In-kind services.
480A.5 Arbitration.
480A.6 Franchise ordinance not superseded.

480A.1 Purpose.

The general assembly finds that it is in the public interest to define the right of local governments to charge public utilities for the location and operation of public utility facilities in local government rights-of-way.

98 Acts, ch 1148, §3, 9

480A.2 Definitions.

As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. “Local government” means a county, city, township, school district, or any special-purpose district or authority.

2. “Management costs” means the reasonable costs a local government actually incurs in managing public rights-of-way.

3. “Public right-of-way” means the area on, below, or above a public roadway, highway, street, bridge, cartway, bicycle lane, or public sidewalk in which the local government has an interest, including other dedicated rights-of-way for travel purposes and utility easements. A public right-of-way does not include the airwaves above a public right-of-way with regard to cellular or other non-wire telecommunications or broadcasts service or utility poles owned by a local government or a municipal utility.

4. “Public utility” means a person owning or operating a facility used for furnishing natural gas by piped distribution system, electricity, communications services not including cable television systems, or water by piped distribution system, to the public for compensation.

480A.3 Fees.

A local government shall not recover any fee from a public utility for the use of its right-of-way, other than a fee for its management costs. A local government may recover from a public utility only those management costs caused by the public utility’s activity in the public right-of-way. A fee or other obligation under this section shall be imposed on a competitively neutral basis. When a local government’s management costs cannot be attributed to only one entity, those costs shall be allocated among all users of the public rights-of-way, including the local government itself. The allocation shall reflect proportionately the costs incurred by the local government as a result of the various types of uses of the public rights-of-way.

This section does not prohibit the collection of a franchise fee as permitted in section 480A.6.

480A.4 In-kind services.

A local government, in lieu of a fee imposed under this chapter, shall not require in-kind services by a public utility right-of-way user, or require in-kind services as a condition of the use of the local government’s public right-of-way.

98 Acts, ch 1148, §6, 9

480A.5 Arbitration.

2. Upon affirmation by the governing body of the denial, revocation, or fee imposition, the public utility may do either of the following:

a. With the consent of the governing body, have the matter finally resolved by binding arbitration. Binding arbitration must be before an arbitrator agreed to by both the local government and the public utility. If the parties are unable to agree on an arbitrator, the matter shall be resolved by a three-person arbitration panel made up of one arbitrator selected by the local government, one arbitrator selected by the public utility, and one arbitrator selected by the other two arbitrators. The cost and expense of a single arbitrator shall be borne equally by the local government and the public utility. If a three-person arbitration panel is selected, each party shall bear the expense of its own arbitrator and the parties shall jointly and equally bear the cost and expense of the third arbitrator, and of the arbitration. Each party to the arbitration shall pay its own costs, disbursements, and attorney fees.

b. Bring an action in district court to review a decision of the governing body made under this section.

98 Acts, ch 1148, §7, 9

480A.6 Franchise ordinance not superseded.

This chapter does not modify or supersede the rights and obligations of a local government and the public utility established by the terms of any existing or future franchise granted, approved, and accepted pursuant to section 364.2, subsection 4. A city which collects a city franchise fee from an entity pursuant to section 364.2, subsection 4, under an existing or future franchise, shall not also collect a fee from that entity under section 480A.3.

481A.1 Definitions.

Words and phrases as used in this chapter and chapters 350, 456A, 456B, 457A, 461A through 461C, 462A, 462B, 463B, 464A, 465A through 465C, 481B, 482, 483A, 484A, and 484B and such other chapters as relate to the subject matter of these chapters shall be construed as follows:

1. “Alien” shall not be construed to mean any person who has applied for naturalization papers.

2. “Amphibian” means a member of the class Amphibia.

3. “Aquaculture” means the controlled propagation, growth, and harvest of aquatic organisms, including, but not limited to fish, amphibians, reptiles, mollusks, crustaceans, gastropods, algae, and other aquatic plants, by an aquaculturist.

4. “Aquaculture unit” means all private waters for aquaculture with or without buildings, used for the purpose of propagating, raising, holding, or harvesting aquatic organisms for commercial purposes.

5. “Aquaculturist” means an individual involved in producing, transporting, or marketing aquatic products from private waters for commercial purposes.

6. “Bag limit” or “possession limit” is the number of any kind of game, fish, bird or animal or other wildlife form permitted to be taken or held in a specified time.

7. “Bait” includes, but is not limited to, minnows, green sunfish, orange-spotted sunfish, gizzard shad, frogs, crayfish, salamanders, and mussels.

8. “Biological balance” means that condition when the number of animals present over the long term is at or near the number of animals of a particular species that the available habitat is capable of supporting.

9. “Bird” means a member of the class Aves.

10. “Buy” means to purchase, offer to purchase, barter for, trade for, or lease.

11. “Closed season” is that period of time during which hunting, fishing, trapping or taking is prohibited.

12. “Commercial purposes” means selling, giving, or furnishing to others.

13. “Commission” means the natural resource commission.

14. “Contraband” as used in the laws pertaining to the work of the commission shall mean anything, the possession of which was illegally procured, or the possession of which is unlawful.

15. “Department” means the department of natural resources.

16. “Director” means the director of the department or the director’s designee.

17. “Fish” means a member of the class Pisces.

18. “Frog” means a member of the order Anura.

19. “Fur-bearing animals” means the following which are declared to be fur-bearing animals for the purpose of regulation and protection under the Code: beaver, badger, mink, otter, muskrat, raccoon, skunk, opossum, spotted skunk or civet cat, weasel, coyote, bobcat, wolf, groundhog, red fox, and gray fox. This chapter does not apply to domesticated fur-bearing animals.

20. “Game” means all of the animals specified in this subsection except those designated as not protected, and includes the heads, skins, and any other parts, and the nests and eggs of birds and their plumage.

a. The Anatidae: such as swans, geese, brant, and ducks.

b. The Rallidae: such as rails, coots, mudhens, and gallinules.

c. The Limicolae: such as shorebirds, plovers, surfbirds, snipe, woodcock, sandpipers, tattlers, godwits, and curlews.

d. The Gallinae: such as wild turkeys, grouse, pheasants, partridges, and quail.

e. The Columbidae: such as mourning doves and wild rock doves only.

f. The Sciuridae: such as gray squirrels and fox squirrels.

g. The Leporidae: cottontail rabbits and jackrabbits only.

h. The Cervidae: such as elk or deer, other than farm deer. As used in this paragraph, “farm deer” means an animal belonging to the cervidae family and classified as part of the dama species of the dama genus, commonly referred to as fallow deer; part of the elaphus species of the cervus genus, commonly referred to as red deer or elk; or part of the nippon species of the cervus genus, commonly referred to as sika. However, a farm deer does not include any unmarked free-ranging elk.

21. “Measurement of fish” is the length from end of nose to longest tip of tail.

22. “Minnows” means chubs, suckers, shiners, dace, stonerollers, mud minnows, redbreast, bluntnose, and fathead minnows.

23. “Mussels” means the pearly fresh water mussels, clams or naiads, and their shells.

24. “Open season” is that period of time during which hunting, fishing, trapping or taking is permitted.

25. “Person” shall mean any person, firm, partnership or corporation.

26. “Possession” is both active and constructive possession and any control of things referred to.

27. “Private waters for aquaculture” means waters confined within an artificial containment, such as man-made ponds, vats, tanks, raceways, and other indoor or outdoor facilities constructed wholly within or on the land of an owner or lessee and used for aquaculture.

28. “Reptile” means a member of the class Reptilia.

29. “Sell” or “sale” is selling, bartering, exchanging, offering or exposing for sale.

30. “Spawn” means any of the eggs of any fish, amphibian, or mussel.

31. “Take” or “taking” or “attempting to take” or “hunt” is any pursuing, or any hunting, fishing, killing, trapping, snaring, netting, searching for or shooting at, stalking or lying in wait for any game, animal, bird, or fish protected by the state laws or rules adopted by the commission whether or not such animal be then subsequently captured, killed, or injured.

32. “Transport” or “transportation” is all carrying or moving or causing to be carried or moved.

33. “Turtle” means any member of the order Testudines.

34. “Wild animal” means a wild mammal, bird, fish, amphibian, reptile, or other wildlife found in this state, whether game or nongame, migratory or nonmigratory, the ownership and title to which is claimed by this state.

35. “Wild mammal” means a member of the class Mammalia.

481A.5 State game refuges.

1. The commission may establish state game refuges or sanctuaries on any land owned by the state of Iowa suitable for this purpose when necessary for the preservation of biological balance pursuant to the provisions of section 481A.39, for the protection of public parks, for the protection of the public health, safety and welfare, or to effect sound wildlife management.

2. In emergency situations when the maintenance of the biological balance as provided in section 481A.39 is threatened, the director may establish temporary state game refuges in conformity with sound wildlife management. The establishment of a temporary refuge shall be accomplished by posting notices in conspicuous places around the refuge. The establishment of a temporary refuge by the director shall be effective until five days after the next meeting of the commission or for such longer time as the commission may determine is necessary to maintain a biological balance as provided in section 481A.39 and to effect sound wildlife management.

481A.14 Dams — fishways.

It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, or corporation to place, erect, or cause to be placed or erected, any dam or other device or contrivance in such manner as to hinder or obstruct the free passage of fish up, down, or through such waters, except as otherwise provided in this chapter. Dams for manufacturing or other lawful purposes may be erected across the waters of the state. No permanent dam or obstruction across such waters shall be erected or maintained which is not provided with a fishway, except by written approval of the director, nor shall any pumping station or plant except sand pumping and dredging machines, in or connected with such waters be constructed or operated except by written approval of the director, which is not provided with screens to prevent fish from entering the pumping station or plant. Such fishways and screens shall be constructed and used according to the plans and specifications prepared and furnished by the director. Any dam, obstruction, or pumping plant which is not so constructed is a public nuisance and may be abated accordingly.

481A.22 Field and retriever meets — permit required.

All officially sanctioned field meets or trials and retriever meets or trials where the skill of dogs is demonstrated in pointing, retrieving, trailing, or chasing any game bird, game animal, or fur-bearing animal shall require a field trial permit. Except as otherwise provided by law, it shall be unlawful to kill any wildlife in such events. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 481A.21 it shall be lawful to hold field meets or trials and retriever meets or trials where dogs are permitted to work in exhibition or contest whereby the skill of dogs is demonstrated by retrieving dead or wounded game birds which have been propagated by licensed game breeders within the state or secured from lawful sources outside the state and lawfully brought into the state. All such birds must be released on the day of trials on premises where the trials are held.

Such birds released may be shot by official guns after having secured a permit as herein provided.

Such permits may be issued by the director of the department upon proper application and the payment of a fee of two dollars for each trial held. A representative of the department shall attend all such trials and enforce the laws and regulations governing same.

The person or persons designated by the committee in charge to do the shooting for such trials shall be known as the official guns, and no other person shall be permitted to kill or attempt to kill any of the birds released for such trials.

Before any birds are released under this section, they must each have attached a tag provided by the department and attached by a representative of the department at a cost of not more than ten cents for each tag. All tags are to remain attached to birds until prepared for consumption.

It is unlawful for any person to hold, conduct, or to participate in a field or retriever trial before the permit required by this section has been secured or for any person to possess or remove from the trial grounds any birds which have not been tagged as herein required.

481A.24 Use of mobile radio transmitter prohibited — exceptions.

1. For the purposes of this section:

a. “One-way mobile radio transmitter” means a radio capable of transmitting a signal only but not capable of transmitting a voice signal. The signal may be tracked or located by radio telemetry or located by an audible sound.

b. “Two-way mobile radio transmitter” means a radio capable of transmitting and receiving voice messages including, but not limited to, a citizen band radio or a cellular telephone.

2. Except as otherwise provided in this section, a person who is hunting shall not use a one-way or two-way mobile radio transmitter to communicate the location or direction of game or fur-bearing animals or to coordinate the movement of other hunters. This subsection does not apply to the hunting of coyotes except during the shotgun deer season as set by the commission under section 481A.38.

3. A licensed falconer may use a one-way mobile radio transmitter to recover a free-flying bird of prey properly banded and covered on the falconry permit.

4. A person hunting with the aid of a dog may use at any time a one-way mobile transmitter designed to track or aid in the recovery of the dog.

PROPAGATION AND PROTECTION OF FISH, GAME, WILD BIRDS, AND ANIMALS

481A.38 Prohibited acts — restrictions on the taking of wildlife — special licenses.

It is unlawful for a person to take, pursue, kill, trap or ensnare, buy, sell, possess, transport, or attempt to so take, pursue, kill, trap or ensnare, buy, sell, possess, or transport any game, protected nongame animals, fur-bearing animals or fur or skin of such animals, mussels, frogs, spawn or fish or any part thereof, except upon the terms, conditions, limitations, and restrictions set forth herein, and administrative rules necessary to carry out the purposes set out in section 481A.39, or as provided by the Code.

1. The commission may upon its own motion and after an investigation, alter, limit, or restrict the methods or means employed and the instruments or equipment used in taking wild mammals, birds subject to section 481A.48, fish, reptiles, and amphibians, if the investigation reveals that the action would be desirable or beneficial in promoting the interests of conservation, or the commission may, after an investigation when it is found there is imminent danger of loss of fish through natural causes, authorize the taking of fish by means found advisable to salvage imperiled fish populations.

The commission shall adopt a rule permitting a crossbow to be used only by individuals with disabilities who are physically incapable of using a bow and arrow under the conditions in which a bow and arrow is permitted. The commission shall prepare an application to be used by an individual requesting the status. The application shall require the individual's physician to sign a statement declaring that the individual is not physically able to use a bow and arrow.

2. If the commission finds that the number of hunters licensed or the type of license issued to take deer or wild turkey should be limited or further regulated the commission shall conduct a drawing to determine which applicants shall receive a license and the type of license. Applications for licenses shall be received during a period established by the commission. At the end of the period a drawing shall be conducted. The commission may establish rules to issue licenses after the established application period. If an applicant receives a deer license which is more restrictive than licenses issued to others for the same period and place, the applicant shall receive a certificate with the license entitling the applicant to priority in the drawing for the less restrictive deer licenses the following year. The certificate must accompany that person's application the following year, or the applicant will not receive this priority. Persons purchasing a deer license for the gun season under this section and under section 483A.1 are not eligible for a gun deer hunting license under section 483A.24, except as authorized by rules of the department. This subsection does not apply to the hunting of wild turkey on a hunting preserve licensed under chapter 484B.

3. The commission shall issue a special turkey hunting license to either the owner or the tenant of a farm unit or a member of the owner's or tenant's immediate family if the person makes a written application to the commission and pays the fee provided for the regular turkey hunting license. The special license is valid only for hunting on the farm unit of the owner or tenant. Only one special license may be issued for a farm unit. The application must contain the consent of the owner if the tenant or tenant's family member applies for the license. A person purchasing a regular turkey hunting license is not eligible to purchase a special license under this subsection. Applications for the special turkey licenses must be received by the commission at least thirty days prior to the opening of the turkey hunting season. The special turkey hunting licensees are subject to all other laws regarding the hunting of turkeys.

4. The department and the commission shall exercise regulatory authority regarding seasons, bag limits, possession limits, locality, the method of taking, or the taking of fish and wildlife by members of the Sac and Fox tribe of the Mississippi in Iowa within the boundaries of the Sac and Fox tribe settlement in Tama county only to the extent provided in a written agreement between the tribal council of the Sac and Fox tribe of the Mississippi in Iowa and the department. The written agreement shall not be construed to supersede or impair the regulatory authority exercised by the commission pursuant to the federal Migratory Bird Treaty Act, the federal Migratory Bird Stamp Hunting Act, the federal Endangered Species Act, or other federal law. The department and the commission shall not unreasonably fail to enter into an agreement and shall pursue such an agreement in an expedient manner. This subsection shall become effective upon signing of the written agreement by the director of the department and the chairperson of the Sac and Fox tribe of the Mississippi in Iowa.

However, nongame does not include game, fish that may be taken pursuant to regulations established under the Code or departmental rule, fur-bearing animals, turtles, or frogs, as defined in this chapter. The commission shall designate by rule those species of nongame which by their abundance or habits are declared a nuisance, and these species shall not be protected. Rules adopted shall include, but are not limited to, a provision that states that any bat, except for the Indiana bat, which is found within a building that is occupied by human beings is not a protected nongame species.

It shall be unlawful except as otherwise provided for any person, firm or corporation, to bring into the state of Iowa for the purpose of propagating or introducing, or to place or introduce into any of the inland or boundary waters of the state, any fish or spawn thereof that are not native to such waters, or introduce or stock any bird or animal unless application is first made in writing to the commission for a permit therefor and such permit granted. Such permit shall be granted only after the commission has made such investigation or inspection of the fish, birds or animals as it may deem necessary to determine whether or not such fish, birds or animals are free from disease and whether or not such introduction will be beneficial or detrimental to the native wildlife and the people of the state, and may or may not approve such planting, releasing or introduction according to its findings. Nothing in the above shall prohibit licensed game breeders from securing native or exotic birds or animals from outside the state and bringing them into the state and they shall not be required to have a permit as provided above when such birds or animals are not released to the wild but are held on the game breeder's premises as breeding stock.

TERRITORIES, OPEN SEASONS, BAG AND POSSESSION LIMITS FOR GAME

481A.48 Restrictions on game birds and animals.

No person, except as otherwise provided by law, shall willfully disturb, pursue, shoot, kill, take or attempt to take or have in possession any of the following game birds or animals except within the open season established by the commission: Gray or fox squirrel, bobwhite quail, cottontail or jack rabbit, duck, snipe, pheasant, goose, woodcock, partridge, coot, rail, ruffed grouse, wild turkey, pigeons, or deer. The seasons, bag limits, possession limits and locality shall be established by the department or commission under the authority of sections 456A.24, 481A.38, and 481A.39.

The commission may adopt rules for the taking and possession of migratory birds which are subject to the federal "Migratory Bird Treaty Act" and "Migratory Bird Stamp Hunting Act" during the time and in the manner permitted under those federal Acts. The commission shall not adopt a rule for the taking or possession of a migratory bird for which an open season is not authorized by another paragraph of this section.

The commission may by rule permit the taking and possession of designated raptors and crows during the time and in the manner permitted under the federal "Migratory Bird Treaty Act".

The commission shall establish methods by which pigeons may be taken which may include, but are not limited to, the use of trapping, chemical repellants, or toxic perches.

The commission shall establish one or more pistol or revolver seasons for hunting deer as separate firearm seasons or to coincide with one or more other firearm deer hunting seasons. Any pistol or revolver firing a magnum three hundred fifty-seven thousandths of one inch caliber or larger, centerfire, straight wall ammunition propelling an expanding-type bullet is legal for hunting deer during the pistol or revolver seasons. The commission shall adopt rules to allow black powder pistols or revolvers for hunting deer. The rules shall not allow pistols or revolvers with shoulder stock or long-barrel modifications. The barrel length of a pistol or revolver used for deer hunting shall be at least four inches. The rules may limit types of ammunition. A person who is sixteen years of age or less shall not hunt deer with a pistol or revolver. A person possessing a prohibited pistol or revolver while hunting deer commits a scheduled violation under section 805.8, subsection 5, paragraph "h".

However, the animals when pursued to a tree or den shall not be further chased or removed in any manner from the tree or den. A person having a hunting license may train a dog on coyote or groundhog.

Only a pistol, revolver, or other gun shooting blank cartridges shall be used while training dogs during closed season except as provided in subsection 2 of this section.

2. Any pen-raised game bird may be used and may be shot in the training of bird dogs. Before any bird is released or used in the training of dogs, the bird shall have attached a band procured from the commission. The commission may charge a fee for such bands but the fee shall not exceed ten cents for each band.

3. A call back pen or live trap may be used for the purpose of retrieving banded birds when released in the wild for training purposes. Any bird not so banded when taken in a call back pen or trap shall be immediately returned unbanded to the wild. All call back pens or live traps when in use shall have attached a metal tag plainly labeled with the owner's name and address. Conservation officers shall have authority to confiscate such traps when found in use and not properly labeled.

4. The commission shall have the power to adopt rules prohibiting the training of any hunting dog on any game bird, game animal, or fur-bearing animal in the wild at any time when it has been determined that such training might have an adverse effect on the populations of these species.

GAME BREEDERS

481A.60 Raising game — rulemaking authority.

A person shall not raise or sell game or fur-bearing animals of the kinds protected by this chapter, except rock doves and pigeons, without first procuring a game breeder's license as provided by law. The commission may adopt rules which ensure that all game birds, game animals, and fur-bearing animals handled and confined by licensed game breeders are provided with humane care and treatment. A violation of a rule adopted by the commission is a cause for license revocation. This section does not apply to governmental zoos and exhibits.

481A.61 Licensed game breeders — marketing game — penalty.

1. Except as otherwise provided by law, a licensed game breeder whose original stock is obtained from a lawful source may possess any game bird, game animal, or fur-bearing animal, or any of their parts. Possession and use of the game birds, game animals, or fur-bearing animals obtained from a licensed game breeder are lawful.

2. Fur-bearing animals shall not be acquired for breeding or propagating purposes from any source unless they have been pen-raised for at least two successive generations.

3. A game breeder's license is not a license to possess, breed, propagate, sell, or dispose of any species which is defined as endangered or threatened under state law unless the species is listed on the license. Its possession, breeding, propagation, sale, and disposal are subject to all applicable state and federal statutes.

4. A licensed game breeder shall not acquire protected live game animals, game birds, their eggs, or fur-bearing animals taken from the wild within this state.

5. Game birds or game animals may be sold for food only under the following conditions:

a. The licensed game breeder shall file with the commission a facsimile of a stamp of similar type to that used by the United States department of agriculture in grading meat.

b. Licensed game breeders may sell dressed game birds or game animals to markets for resale providing each game bird or game animal has affixed upon it in a conspicuous and legible manner the imprint of the game breeder's stamp.

c. The stamp shall bear the name and number of the game breeder in letters of at least twelve-point type size.

6. Markets selling stamped game shall:

a. Maintain the stamp on each game bird or game animal until the bird or animal is disposed of or sold.

b. Keep a record showing the total number of game birds or game animals sold together with the name and address of the game breeder from whom purchased and the number of game birds and animals in each purchase.

7. Markets selling stamped game, together with their records, are subject to inspection by an authorized representative of the commission at any reasonable time.

8. Violation of a provision of this section may be cause for license revocation.

481A.62 Records — reports — inspection.

1. A holder of a game breeder's license shall keep the records and make the reports required by this section on forms provided by the department. The records shall be open for inspection at any reasonable time by the department or its authorized agents.

2. At the time of every sale or conveyance of an animal, animal parts, or products, the licensee shall complete a game breeder's sales receipt on forms provided by the department. The forms shall require the following information:

a. The name, address, county, and license number assigned to the breeder.

b. The name and address of the purchaser.

c. The number, species, sex, and age of the animals or birds conveyed.

3. Licensees shall maintain business records for all species in an annual report record book. The records shall include the following information:

a. For each animal acquired other than by birth on the licensee's game farm, the sex and species, the date of acquisition, the number acquired, and the name and address of the source from which acquired.

b. For each animal born on the licensee's game farm, the sex, species, date of birth, and number of any band, tag, or tattoo subsequently attached to the animal.

c. For each animal sold or disposed of other than by death the same information required by the game breeder's sales receipt.

d. For each animal which dies, disappears, or is destroyed on the licensee's game farm, the sex, species, date of death, and the number of any band, tag, or tattoo attached to the animal.

The licensee's copies of the required sales receipts shall be kept with the record book and are considered a part of it.

Records required by this section shall be entered in the annual report record book within forty-eight hours of the event.

4. Each licensee shall file an annual report with the commission on or before January 31. The report shall detail the game breeder's operations during the preceding license year. The original report shall be forwarded to the department and a copy shall be retained in the breeder's file for a period of three years from the date of expiration of the breeder's last license issued. Failure to keep or submit the required records and report are grounds for a refusal to renew a license for the succeeding year.

5. An on-site inspection of facilities shall be conducted by an officer of the commission prior to the initial issuance of a game breeder's license. The facilities may be reinspected by an officer of the commission at any reasonable time.

6. Any officer of the commission may enter any place where any game bird, game animal, or fur-bearing animal is at the time located, or where it has been kept, or where the carcass of such animal may be, for the purpose of examining it in any way that may be necessary to determine whether it was or is infected with any contagious or infectious disease.

7. For the purpose of this section, infectious and contagious disease includes rabies, hoof-and-mouth disease, leptospirosis, blackhead, or any other communicable disease so designated by the commission.

8. The commission may regulate or prohibit the importation into the state and exportation from the state of any species of game bird, game animal, or fur-bearing animal, domesticated or not, which in its opinion, for any reason, is determined to be detrimental to the health of animals within or without the state.

9. The commission may quarantine or destroy any game bird, game animal, or fur-bearing animal which is found to be infected with any contagious or infectious disease.

10. A licensed game breeder or other person having control of any game bird, game animal, or fur-bearing animal shall not knowingly offer for sale, sell, or barter such birds or animals which have an infectious or contagious disease, or allow those birds or animals to run at large or come in contact with any other game birds, game animals, or fur-bearing animals.

SCIENTIFIC COLLECTING

481A.65 Licenses.

The director, after investigation, may issue to any person a scientific collector's license, a wildlife salvage permit, educational project permit, or a wildlife rehabilitation permit. A scientific collector's license will authorize the licensee to collect for scientific purposes only, any birds, nests, eggs, or wildlife. A wildlife salvage permit will authorize the permittee to salvage for educational purposes, any birds, nests, eggs, or animals according to the rules of the department. An educational project permit authorizes the permittee to collect, keep, or possess for educational purposes birds, fish, or wildlife which are not endangered, threatened, or otherwise specially managed according to the rules of the department. A wildlife rehabilitation permit will authorize the permittee to possess for rehabilitation purposes only, any orphaned or injured wildlife according to the rules of the department. A person to whom a license or permit is issued shall not dispose of any birds, nests, eggs, or wildlife or their parts except upon written permission of the director. The application for such licenses and permits shall be made upon blanks furnished by the department. The commission shall establish, by rule, the tenure and applicable fee for each permit authorized in this section. Each holder of a license or permit shall, by January 31 of each year, file with the department a report showing all specimens collected or possessed under authority of the license or permit. Upon a showing of cause the department may enter and inspect the premises and collections authorized by this section. A license or permit may be revoked by the director, after due notice, at any time for cause.

ANGLING LAWS

481A.67 Seasons and limits.

It is unlawful for a person, except as otherwise expressly provided, to take, capture, or kill fish, frogs, or turtles except during the open season established by the commission. It is unlawful during open season to take in any one day an amount in excess of the daily catch limit designated for each variety or each locality, or have in possession any variety of fish, frog, or turtle in excess of the possession limit, or have in possession any frog, fish, or turtle at any time under the minimum length or weight. The open season, possession limit, daily catch limit, and the minimum length or weight for each variety of fish, frog, or turtle shall be established by rule of the department or commission under the authority of sections 456A.24, 481A.38, 481A.39 and 482.1.

1. As used in this section, “tip-up fishing device” means an ice fishing mechanism with an attached flag or signal to indicate fishing action, used to hold a fishing rod or pole with line and hook.

2. A person shall not use more than three tip-up fishing devices for fishing in the waters of the Mississippi river and its connected backwater. A person may use two or three hooks on the same line, but the total number of hooks used by each person shall not exceed three. Each tip-up fishing device used in fishing shall have attached a tag plainly labeled with the owner’s name and address. A person shall not use a tip-up fishing device for fishing within three hundred feet of a dam or spillway or in a part of the river which is closed or posted against use of the device. Three tip-up fishing devices may be used in addition to the two lines with no more than two hooks per line, as specified in section 481A.72.

3. An untagged tip-up fishing device found in use shall be confiscated by any officer appointed pursuant to section 456A.13 or 456A.14.

481A.92 Traps — disturbing dens — tags for traps.

A person shall not use or attempt to use colony traps in taking, capturing, trapping, or killing any game or fur-bearing animals except muskrats as determined by rule of the commission. Box traps capable of capturing more than one game or fur-bearing animal at each setting are prohibited. A valid hunting license is required for box trapping cottontail rabbits and squirrels. All traps and snares used for the taking of fur-bearing animals shall have a metal tag attached plainly labeled with the user's name and address. All traps and snares, except those which are placed entirely under water, shall be checked at least once every twenty-four hours. Officers appointed by the department may confiscate such traps and snares found in use that are not properly labeled or checked.

Except as otherwise provided, a person shall not use chemicals, explosives, smoking devices, mechanical ferrets, wire, tool, instrument, or water to remove fur-bearing animals from their dens. Humane traps, or traps designed to kill instantly, with a jaw spread, as originally manufactured, exceeding eight inches are unlawful to use except when placed entirely under water.

Conibear type traps and snares shall not be set on the right-of-way of a public road within two hundred yards of the entry to a private drive serving a residence without the permission of the occupant.

A snare when set shall not have a loop larger than eight inches in horizontal measurement except for a snare set with at least one-half of the loop under water. A snare set on private land other than roadsides within thirty yards of a pond, lake, creek, drainage ditch, stream, or river shall not have a loop larger than eleven inches in horizontal measurement.

All snares shall have a functional deer lock which will not allow the snare loop to close smaller than two and one-half inches in diameter.

FUR DEALERS

481A.94 Definition.

The term “fur dealer” as used in this chapter shall mean any person, firm, partnership, or corporation engaged in the business of buying, bartering, trading or otherwise obtaining raw hides or skins of fur-bearing animals.

481A.95 License — reciprocity.

A license shall be required of each fur dealer and each employee, agent, or representative of a fur dealer except when the employee, agent, or representative is operating solely on the premises of a licensed fur dealer. A fur dealer shall conduct business only at the location specified on the dealer’s license, at an established fur auction, at the nonadvertised residence of a licensed fur harvester, or at the place of business specified on the license of any fur dealer. A nonresident licensed fur dealer may purchase location permits to operate at locations other than at the location specified on the fur dealer’s license. A resident licensed fur dealer may obtain location permits without fee. Each location permit shall be valid only for the one location specified on the location permit and shall entitle the fur dealer and employee, agent, or representative of the licensed fur dealer to operate at that location. The commission shall, upon application and the payment of the required license fee, if any, furnish the proper license and location permits to the dealer.

A resident of another state shall pay the fee provided by statute for the nonresident fur dealer’s license unless that state has a reciprocity agreement with this state. The reciprocity agreement must provide that each state will charge nonresidents from the other state the same fee for the nonresident fur dealer’s license and the fee under the agreement must be less than the statutory fee of this state for nonresidents and higher than the statutory fee of this state for residents.

481A.123 Prohibited hunting near buildings, feedlots.

1. A person shall not discharge a firearm or shoot or attempt to shoot a game or fur-bearing animal within two hundred yards of a building inhabited by people or domestic livestock or within two hundred yards of a feedlot unless the owner or tenant has given consent. However, within the corporate limits of a city, a person may take deer with a firearm within fifty yards of a building inhabited by people or domestic livestock, or a feedlot pursuant to an approved special deer population control plan, if the person obtains permission of the owner or tenant of the building or feedlot.

2. As used in this section, "feedlot" means a lot, yard, corral, or other area in which livestock are present and confined, for the purposes of feeding and growth before slaughter. The term does not include areas which are used for the raising of crops or other vegetation and upon which livestock are allowed to graze or feed.

481A.125 Intentional interference with lawful hunting, fishing, or fur-harvesting activities — penalties.

1. As used in this section, "interfere with hunting, fishing, or fur-harvesting activities" means one or more of the following:

a. To intentionally place oneself in a location where a human presence may affect the behavior of a fur-bearing animal, game, bird, or fish or the feasibility of killing or taking a fur-bearing animal, game, bird, or fish with the intent of obstructing or harassing another person who is lawfully hunting, fishing, or fur harvesting.

b. To intentionally create a visual, aural, olfactory, or physical stimulus for the purpose of affecting the behavior of a fur-bearing animal, game, bird, or fish with the intent of obstructing or harassing another person who is lawfully hunting, fishing, or fur harvesting.

c. To intentionally affect the condition or alter the placement of personal property used for the purpose of killing or taking a fur-bearing animal, game, bird, or fish with the intent of obstructing or harassing another person who is lawfully hunting, fishing, or fur harvesting.

2. A person shall not interfere with the lawful hunting, fishing, or fur-harvesting activities of another person in an area where hunting, fishing, or fur harvesting is authorized by a custodian of public property or an owner or lessee of private property.

3. A person who commits:

a. A first offense of interfering with hunting, fishing, or fur-harvesting activities is guilty of a simple misdemeanor.

b. A second or subsequent offense is punishable as a serious misdemeanor.

4. If a person who commits interfering with hunting, fishing, or fur-harvesting activities possesses a license, certificate, or permit issued by the department, the license, certificate, or permit is subject to suspension or revocation pursuant to section 481A.134.

5. This section shall not prohibit a landowner, tenant, or an employee of a landowner or tenant from performing normal agricultural operations or a law enforcement officer from performing official duties.

TAXIDERMISTRY

481A.126 Taxidermy.

1. "Taxidermist" as used in this section means a person engaged in the business of preserving or mounting game, fish, or fur-bearing animals as defined in this chapter.

2. A license is required for the practice of taxidermy. The commission, upon application and payment of the required license fee, shall furnish proper certificates to the applicant. The director may revoke the license for good cause.

3. A licensed taxidermist may possess at any time game, fish, or fur-bearing animals which have been lawfully taken.

4. A taxidermist shall keep accurate records of its transactions showing the numbers and kinds of specimens received for preserving, the date of acquisition, and the name and address of the owner of the specimens.

5. A person shall not put or leave any game, fish, or fur-bearing animal in the custody of another person for the purpose of having taxidermy services performed unless each specimen has a tag attached which is signed by the possessor and states the address of the possessor, the total number and species of the specimens and the date the specimens were killed.

6. All transactions, tags, and specimens left in the custody of the taxidermist by another person shall be open to inspection by a conservation officer at any reasonable hour.

CIVIL DAMAGES — SUSPENSIONS

481A.130 Damages in addition to penalty — animals — ginseng.

1. In addition to the penalties for violations of this chapter and chapters 350, 461A, 481B, and 482, a person convicted of unlawfully selling, taking, catching, killing, injuring, destroying, or having in possession any animal, shall reimburse the state for the value of such as follows:

a. For each elk, antelope, buffalo, or moose, two thousand five hundred dollars.

b. For each wild turkey, two hundred dollars.

c. For each bird or animal or the raw pelt or plumage of such bird or animal for which damages are not otherwise prescribed, fifty dollars.

d. For each fish, reptile, mussel, or amphibian, fifteen dollars.

e. For each beaver, mink, otter, red fox, gray fox, or raccoon, two hundred dollars.

f. For each animal classified by the commission as an endangered or threatened species, one thousand dollars.

g. For each antlered deer during September, October, November, or December before the regular gun season, two thousand dollars and eighty hours of community service or, in lieu of the community service, a total of four thousand dollars.

h. For each deer, except as provided in paragraph “g”, and for each swan or crane, one thousand five hundred dollars.

2. In addition to any other penalty, a person convicted of unlawfully harvesting wild ginseng in violation of section 456A.24 shall reimburse the state at one hundred fifty percent of the ginseng's market value, as determined by the department.

481A.131 Judgment — execution.

In each case of conviction of unlawfully taking, catching, killing, injuring, destroying or having in possession any fish, game or fur-bearing animal, the court shall enter a judgment in favor of the state of Iowa for liquidated damages in an amount as provided in section 481A.130, and it shall be the duty of the commission and the prosecuting attorney or attorney general, to collect the liquidated damages by execution or otherwise. If two or more persons who have acted together are convicted of the unlawful taking, catching, killing, injuring, destroying or having possession of any fish, game or fur-bearing animal, the judgment shall be entered against them jointly. Any liquidated damages received under this section and section 481A.130 shall be remitted to the treasurer of state who shall credit such damages to the state fish and game protection fund.

The return of any uninjured fish, game or fur-bearing animal which has been unlawfully taken, caught, or possessed, to the place where taken or caught or to any other place approved by the commission, shall constitute the discharge of any liquidated damages provided under section 481A.130.

Civil suits for the collection of judgments may be prosecuted by the attorney general or by county attorneys.

The licenses, permits, and certificates, and the privileges associated with them shall remain suspended until the assessed damages and any accrued interest are paid or a payment schedule is established by the court. Upon payment of the assessed damages and any accrued interest, the suspension shall be lifted. If a payment schedule is established, the suspension shall be lifted and remain so unless the person fails to make a payment pursuant to that schedule. Failure to make a payment shall cause the suspension to be renewed.

SUSPENSIONS, REVOCATIONS, AND PENALTIES

481A.134 Authority to suspend or revoke license — point system.

The department shall establish rules pursuant to chapter 17A providing for the suspension or revocation of licenses issued by the department. For purposes of determining when to suspend or revoke a license issued by the department under this section, the department shall adopt a point system pursuant to chapter 17A for the purpose of weighing the seriousness of violations of the provisions of this chapter or chapter 481B, 482, 483A, 484A, or 484B. The weighted scale may be amended from time to time as experience dictates.

481A.135 Repeat offender — records, enforcement, and penalties.

1. The commission shall establish by rule, a recordkeeping system and other administrative procedures necessary to administer this section.

2. A person who pleads guilty or is convicted of a violation of any provision of this chapter or chapter 481B, 482, 483A, 484A, or 484B while the person's license or licenses are suspended or revoked is guilty of a simple misdemeanor if the person has no other violations within the previous three years which occurred while the person's license or licenses have been suspended or revoked.

3. A person who pleads guilty or is convicted of a violation of any provision of this chapter or chapter 481B, 482, 483A, 484A, or 484B while the person's license or licenses are suspended or revoked is guilty of a serious misdemeanor if the person has one other violation within the previous three years which occurred while the person's license or licenses have been suspended or revoked.

4. A person who pleads guilty or is convicted of a violation of any provision of this chapter or chapter 481B, 482, 483A, 484A, or 484B while the person's license or licenses are suspended or revoked is guilty of an aggravated misdemeanor when the person has had two or more convictions within the previous three years which occurred while the person's license or licenses have been suspended or revoked.

1. A person shall not buy or sell a wild animal or part of a wild animal if the wild animal is taken, transported, or possessed in violation of the laws of this state, or a rule adopted by the department.

2. A person violating subsection 1 is guilty of a serious misdemeanor.

92 Acts, ch 1186, §3

481A.137 Abandonment of dead or injured wildlife.

1. While taking or attempting to take game or fur-bearing animals, a person shall not abandon an injured game or fur-bearing animal without making a reasonable effort to retrieve the animal from the field. A person shall not leave a useable portion of game or a fur-bearing animal in the field.

2. A person violating subsection 1 is subject to a scheduled fine as provided in section 805.8.

3. As used in this section, "useable portion" means the following:

a. For game, that part of an animal which is customarily processed for human consumption.

b. For a fur-bearing animal, the fur or hide of the animal.

4. This section does not apply to pigeons or crows.

AQUACULTURE

481A.141 Aquaculture — license required.

1. A person shall not engage in the business of aquaculture until that person has applied for and has been issued an aquaculture unit license from the department. The application period extends from January 1, or the date of the application, through December 31. A license shall not be issued to operate an aquaculture unit on private or nonmeandered lakes and streams and ponds that may become stocked with fish from public waters or natural migration. A pond stocked by the department pursuant to section 481A.78 shall not be used for aquaculture purposes.

2. The following persons must obtain an aquaculture unit license:

a. A person who, for commercial purposes, rears or maintains live animals or plants for food, bait, or for stocking in waters of the state.

b. An owner or operator of a pond where guests or customers are allowed to fish for a fee, or allowed to take fish without regard to angling licenses, seasons, gear restrictions, or bag limits.

3. The cultivation and sale of tropical fish species or ornamental aquatic plants or animals, not utilized for human consumption or bait purposes, but maintained in closed systems and utilized by the pet industry or hobbyists are exempt from license requirements.

92 Acts, ch 1216, §3

481A.142 Licensed aquaculture units — activities allowed.

A holder of an aquaculture unit license may:

1. Possess, propagate, buy, sell, deal in, and transport the aquatic organisms produced from breeding stock legally acquired, including minnows.

2. Sell fish for stocking purposes within or outside the state. Fish which are nonindigenous to Iowa shall not be received or sold in the state unless the aquaculture unit has obtained an importation permit from the department. The department shall establish, by rule, requirements governing importation, and shall include a list of approved aquaculture species. Failure to comply with this subsection will result in loss of license and a violator is subject to the scheduled fine provided in section 805.8.

3. Hold, feed, and sell carp, buffalofish, and other fish legally taken by commercial fishers.

4. Harvest aquatic life on land under control of the aquaculture unit with commercial devices without obtaining any permits for the devices.

5. Sell bait, including minnows, frogs, and clams, propagated or raised within the licensed unit without having to obtain a bait dealer's license. However, aquaculture units wishing to take bait from areas other than their licensed units must also obtain a bait dealer's license.

6. Take any gull, tern, or merganser within the bounds of the unit. An owner or operator of the licensed aquaculture unit, however, must first obtain a permit for this activity from the department or the United States fish and wildlife service. Each permittee shall file an annual report with the department which itemizes the birds taken during the period covered by the permit, and dispose of birds taken according to methods established by the department. The department shall not issue a subsequent permit to any person failing to file this report.

481A.143 Licensed aquaculture units — requirements.

1. Each licensed aquaculture unit shall prepare an annual report of all fish bought, sold, and shipped. The records shall include species name as well as the weight, volume, or count of fish involved. Reports shall be filed on or before December 31 of each year for the preceding year. The department may refuse to renew a unit license if the annual report is not provided.

2. Each licensed aquaculture unit shall secure its breeding stock from licensed aquaculture units or licensed aquaculturists in the state or from lawful sources outside the state. An aquaculture unit shall not secure stock in any other manner.

3. A shipment of fish must be accompanied by a duplicate of the sales invoice showing the name and address of the producer, date of shipment, the species being transported, the weight, volume, or count of each species being shipped and the name and address of the consignee. A duplicate of the sales invoice must be retained by the aquaculture unit or aquaculturist for one year following the sale.

4. A licensed aquaculture unit shall comply with all state laws pertaining to possession, taking, or selling of bait which it handles. The director may revoke the unit license of any person violating this subsection or a rule adopted by the department.

5. Minnow and bait boxes and tanks within licensed aquaculture units shall be open for inspection by the department at all times.

6. Aquaculture units shall not import live fish, viable eggs, or semen of any species of the salmonid family (trout, salmon, or char) and ictalurid family (catfishes and bullheads), including hybrids, unless the owner or operator possesses a fish importation permit. For the species listed in this subsection only, importation permits shall not be issued unless the fish, eggs, or semen have been inspected by the department and found to be free of disease detrimental to the state's fishery resources. The owner or operator of an aquaculture unit must provide a statement certifying the fish listed in this subsection or their eggs or semen to be disease free, and include the date of inspection. Certification is not required for other fish species, but the department may require inspection at any time. The department shall establish, by rule, those diseases detrimental to the state's fishery resources and the location of authorized certified pathologists for inspection.

481A.144 Licensed bait dealers — requirements.

1. A person shall not sell minnows, frogs, crayfish, salamanders, and mussels for fish bait without first obtaining a bait dealer's license from the department upon payment of the license fee. A licensee shall comply with all laws pertaining to taking, possessing, and selling of bait handled by the licensee. If convicted of violating a provision of this chapter or a rule adopted pursuant to this chapter, a licensee shall forfeit the licensee's bait dealer license upon demand of the director.

2. When taking bait from lakes and streams, bait dealers shall take only the size of bait which they can use, and shall return all small minnows and frogs to the water immediately.

3. A minnow and bait box and a tank shall be open to inspection by the department at all times. A licensee shall have tanks and bait boxes of sufficient size and with proper aeration to keep the bait alive and prevent substantial loss.

4. A person shall not take or attempt to take minnows for commercial purposes from any waters of the state or shall not transport minnows without first obtaining a bait dealer's license. However, a person taking or transporting minnows for personal use is not required to have a bait dealer's license.

481A.145 Taking and selling of minnows and other bait — regulations.

1. Except for species listed as threatened or endangered under chapter 481B, a licensed bait dealer may take sufficient bait from lakes and streams of this state that are not closed to the taking of bait, to supply the licensee's customers for hook and line fishing if the licensee is present while the bait is being taken.

2. Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, a person shall not carry, transport, ship, or cause to be carried, transported, or shipped, any minnows for the purpose of sale beyond the boundaries of the state. Minnows which are bred, hatched, propagated, or raised on a licensed aquaculture unit may be transported outside the state.

3. A person shall not transport, use, sell or offer to sell for bait or introduce into any inland waters of this state or into any waters from which the waters of the state may become stocked, any minnows or fish of the carp, quillback, gar, or dogfish species. Fish of the carp, quillback, gar, or dogfish species may be returned to the waters from which they are taken. A person shall not possess live gizzard shad at any lake in this state.

4. Minnow traps not exceeding thirty-six inches in length may be used when the taking of minnows is allowed. Each trap, when in use, shall have a metal tag attached plainly labeled with the owner's name and address.

5. A person shall not use a minnow dip net which exceeds four feet in diameter, a cast net which exceeds ten feet in diameter, or a minnow seine which exceeds twenty feet in length or has a mesh size smaller than one-quarter inch bar measure. Licensed bait dealers may obtain a permit from the department to use minnow seines longer than twenty feet, but not exceeding fifty feet in length.

6. The department may designate certain lakes and streams, and parts of them, from which minnow populations should be protected for the best management of the lakes or streams. If an investigation of a lake or stream or a portion of a lake or stream by the department indicates that the minnow population should be protected, the lake or stream or a portion of the lake or stream shall be closed to the taking of minnows for a period of time deemed advisable by the department.

481B.1 Definitions.

As used in this chapter:

1. "Commission" means the natural resource commission.
2. "Director" means the director of the department of natural resources.
3. "Endangered species" means any species of fish, plant life, or wildlife which is in danger of extinction throughout all or a significant part of its range. "Endangered species" does not include a species of insecta determined by the commission or the secretary of the United States department of interior to constitute a pest whose protection under this chapter would present an overwhelming and overriding risk to humans.
4. "Fish or wildlife" means any member of the animal kingdom, including any mammal, fish, amphibian, mollusk, crustacean, arthropod, or other invertebrate, and includes any part, product, egg, or offspring, or the dead body of parts thereof. Fish or wildlife includes migratory birds, nonmigratory birds, or endangered birds for which protection is afforded by treaty or other international agreement.
5. "Import" means to bring into, or introduce into, or attempt to bring into, or attempt to introduce into, any place subject to the jurisdiction of this state.
6. "Person" means person as defined in section 4.1, subsection 20.
7. "Plant" or "plant life" means any member of the plant kingdom, including seeds, roots, and other parts thereof.
8. "Species" includes any subspecies of fish, plant life, or wildlife and any other group of fish, plants, or wildlife of the same species or smaller taxa in common spatial arrangement that interbreed or cross-pollinate when mature.
9. "Take", in reference to fish and wildlife, means to harass, harm, pursue, hunt, shoot, wound, kill, trap, capture, collect and it includes an attempt to engage in any such conduct.
10. "Take", in reference to plants, means to collect, pick, cut, dig up or destroy in any manner.
11. "Threatened species" means any species which is likely to become an endangered species within the foreseeable future throughout all or a significant portion of its range.

86 Acts, ch 1245, §1856, 1857

481B.2 Co-operation with federal government.

The commission shall perform those acts necessary for the conservation, protection, restoration, and propagation of endangered and threatened species in co-operation with the federal government, pursuant to Public Law 93-205, and pursuant to rules promulgated by the secretary of the interior.

[C77, 79, 81, §109A.2]

481B.3 Investigations.

The director shall conduct investigations on fish, plants, and wildlife in order to develop information relating to population, distribution, habitat needs, limiting factors, and other biological and ecological data to determine management measures necessary for their continued ability to sustain themselves successfully. On the basis of these determinations and other available scientific and commercial data, which may include consultation with scientists and others who may have specialized knowledge, learning, or experience, the commission shall pursuant to chapter 17A promulgate a rule listing those species of fish, plants, and wildlife which are determined to be endangered or threatened within the state.

The commission shall review the state list of endangered and threatened species at least every two years and may amend the list.

[C77, 79, 81, §109A.3]
C93, §481B.3

481B.4 Programs.

The director shall establish programs, including acquisition of land or aquatic habitat, necessary for the management of endangered or threatened species.

In carrying out the programs authorized by this section, the commission may enter into co-operative agreements with federal and state agencies, political subdivisions of the state, or with private persons for the administration and management of any area or program established under this section or for investigation as outlined in section 481B.3.

481B.5 Prohibitions.

Except as otherwise provided in this chapter or by rule, a person shall not take, possess, transport, import, export, process, sell or offer for sale, buy or offer to buy, nor shall a common or contract carrier transport or receive for shipment, any species of fish, plants, or wildlife appearing on the following lists which shall be adopted by rule of the commission:

1. The list of fish, plants, and wildlife indigenous to the state determined to be endangered or threatened within the state pursuant to section 481B.3.

2. The United States list of endangered or threatened native fish and wildlife as contained in the Code of Federal Regulations, Title 50, part 17 as amended to December 30, 1991.

3. The United States list of endangered or threatened plants as contained in the Code of Federal Regulations, Title 50, part 17 as amended to December 30, 1991.

4. The United States list of endangered or threatened foreign fish and wildlife as contained in the Code of Federal Regulations, Title 50, part 17 as amended to December 30, 1991.

WILD ANIMAL DEPREDAATION PROCEDURES

481C.1 Wild animal depredation unit.
481C.2 Duties.

481C.3 Funding.

481C.1 Wild animal depredation unit.

A wild animal depredation unit is established within the fish and wildlife division of the department of natural resources. The unit shall be comprised of two wild animal depredation biologists. The biologists shall serve under the director of the department of natural resources.

97 Acts, ch 180, §2

481C.2 Duties.

The director of the department of natural resources shall enter into a memorandum of agreement with the United States department of agriculture, animal damage control division. The wild animal depredation unit shall serve and act as the liaison to the department for the producers in the state who suffer crop and nursery damage due to wild animals. The department shall issue depredation permits to any landowner who incurs crop and nursery damage of one thousand dollars or more due to wild animals. The criteria for issuing depredation permits shall be established in administrative rules in consultation with the farmer advisory committee created in section 481A.10A.

The administrative rules adopted pursuant to this section shall not require a producer to erect or maintain fencing at a cost exceeding one thousand dollars as a requisite for receiving a deprecation permit or for participation in a deprecation plan.

481C.3 Funding.

The revenue from nonresident deer and wild turkey hunting licenses shall be used to pay the salaries, support, and maintenance of the wild animal deprecation unit established pursuant to section 481C.1.

482.1 Authority of the commission.

The natural resource commission shall observe, administer, and enforce this chapter. The natural resource commission may adopt and enforce rules under chapter 17A as necessary to carry out this chapter.

The natural resource commission may:

1. Remove or cause to be removed from the waters of the state any aquatic species that in the judgment of the commission is an underused renewable resource or has a detrimental effect on other aquatic populations. All proceeds from a sale of these aquatic organisms shall be credited to the state fish and game protection fund.

2. Issue to any person a permit or license authorizing that person to take, possess, and sell underused, undesirable, or injurious aquatic organisms from the waters of the state. The person receiving a permit or license shall comply with the applicable provisions of this chapter.

3. Authorize the director to enter into written contracts for the removal of underused, undesirable, or injurious organisms from the waters of the state. The contracts shall specify all terms and conditions desired. Sections 482.4, 482.6, and 482.14 do not apply to these contracts.

4. Prohibit, restrict, or regulate commercial fishing, commercial turtle fishing, and commercial mussel fishing in any waters of the state.

5. Revoke the license of a licensee and the licensee's designated operators for up to one year if the licensee or any designated operator has been convicted of a violation of chapter 481A, 482, or 483A.

6. Regulate the numbers of commercial fishers, commercial turtle fishers, and commercial mussel fishers and the amount, type, seasonal use, mesh size, construction and design, manner of use, and other criteria relating to the use of commercial gear for any body of water or part thereof.

7. Establish catch quotas, seasons, size limits, and other regulations for any species of commercial fish, turtles, or mussels for any body of water or part thereof.

8. Designate by listing species as commercial fish, turtles, or mussels.

9. Designate any body of water or its part as protected habitat and restrict, prohibit, or otherwise regulate the taking of commercial fish, turtles, and mussels in protected habitat areas.

Employees of the commission may lift and inspect any commercial gear at any time when being used and may inspect commercial catches, commercial markets, and landings, and examine catch records of commercial fishers, commercial turtle fishers, and commercial mussel fishers upon demand.

Officers of the commission may seize and retain as evidence any illegal fish, turtles, or mussels, or any illegal commercial gear, or any other personal property used in violation of any provision of the Code, and may confiscate any untagged or illegal commercial gear as contraband.

482.2 Definitions.

As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. “Boundary waters” means the waters of the Mississippi, Missouri, and Big Sioux rivers.
2. “Commercial fisher” means a person who is licensed to take and sell fish from waters of the state.
3. “Commercial fishing” means taking, attempting to take, or transporting of fish for the purpose of selling, bartering, exchanging, offering, or exposing for sale.
4. “Commercial gear” means the capturing equipment used by commercial fishers, commercial turtle fishers, and commercial mussel fishers.
5. “Commercial mussel fisher” means a person who is licensed to take and sell freshwater mussels from waters of the state. A resident commercial mussel license holder must have resided in this state for one year preceding the person’s application for a commercial mussel fishing license.
6. “Commercial mussel fishing” means taking, attempting to take, or transporting of freshwater mussels for the purpose of selling, bartering, exchanging, offering, or exposing for sale.
7. “Commercial species” means species of fish, turtles, and freshwater mussels which may be lawfully taken and sold by commercial fishers, commercial turtle fishers, and commercial mussel fishers, as established by rule by the commission.
8. “Commercial turtle fisher” means a person who is licensed to take and sell turtles from the waters of the state.
9. “Commercial turtle fishing” means taking, attempting to take, or transporting of turtles for the purpose of selling, bartering, exchanging, offering, or exposing for sale.
10. “Constant attendance” means the presence of a commercial fisher or a designated operator whenever commercial gear is in use.
11. “Director” means the director of the department of natural resources, and the director’s duly authorized assistants, deputies, or agents.
12. “Game fish” means all species and size categories of fish not included as “commercial species” or minnows.
13. “Inland waters of the state” means all public waters of the state excluding the boundary waters of the Mississippi, Big Sioux, and Missouri rivers.

14. “Licensed commercial gear” means any commercial gear that is licensed as provided in this chapter and that, when in use, has attached the proper tags as provided by this chapter.

15. “Nonresident or alien” means a person who does not qualify as a resident of the state of Iowa either because of a bona fide residence in another state or because of citizenship of a country other than the United States. However, “alien” does not include a person who has applied for naturalization papers.

16. “Resident” means a person who is legally subject to motor vehicle registration and driver’s license laws of this state, or who is qualified to vote in an election of this state.

17. “Waters of the state” means all of the waters under the jurisdiction of the state.

482.4 Commercial licenses and gear tags.

1. A person shall not use or operate commercial gear unless at least one individual at the site where the commercial gear is being operated possesses an appropriate valid commercial license, or a designated operator’s license. A license is valid from the date of issue to January 10 of the succeeding calendar year.

2. A commercial fisher may designate a person as a designated operator to lift and to fish with any licensed commercial fishing gear owned by the commercial fisher. A commercial fisher shall not have more than five designated operators. A designated operator’s license shall be assigned to not more than three operators during a year and a designated operator’s license shall be valid for use only by an operator who possesses the license and has signed the license. The signature of any preceding designated operator who possessed the license shall be crossed out. A designated operator shall not lift or fish any commercial fishing gear without possessing a designated operator’s license which is signed by the operator. A designated operator’s license which is not signed by the operator in possession of the license is forfeited to the state.

3. A boundary water annual sport trotline license permits the licensee to use a maximum of four trotlines with two hundred hooks in the aggregate. All boundary water sport trotlines shall be tagged with the name and address of the licensee on a metal tag affixed above the waterline.

4. Commercial fishers and turtle fishers shall purchase gear tags from the commission to be affixed to each piece of gear in use. Notwithstanding the fee rates for gear tags of subsection 7, the minimum fee for a gear tag is five dollars. All tags are valid for ten years from the date of issue. In addition to the gear tags, all gear shall be tagged with a metal tag showing the name and address of the licensee and whether the gear is fish or turtle gear.

5. All numbered fish gear tags are interchangeable among the different types of commercial fishing gear.

6. Annual license fees are as follows:

a. Commercial fishing, resident	$ 200.00
b. Commercial fishing, nonresident	$ 400.00
c. Designated operator, resident	$ 50.00
d. Designated operator, nonresident	$ 100.00
e. Commercial turtle, resident	$ 50.00
f. Commercial turtle, nonresident	$ 100.00
g. Commercial mussel fisher, resident	$ 100.00
h. Commercial mussel buyer, resident	$ 1,000.00
i. Commercial mussel buyer, nonresident ..	$ 5,000.00
j. Boundary water sport trotline, resident ..	$ 10.00
k. Boundary water sport trotline, nonresident ..	$ 20.00
l. Commercial mussel fisher, nonresident ..	$ 2,500.00
m. Commercial mussel helper, resident	$ 50.00
n. Commercial mussel helper, nonresident ..	$ 200.00

7. Commercial fish gear tags are required on the following units of commercial fishing gear at the listed fee:

a. Seine, resident, one gear tag for each 100 feet or fraction thereof	$ 1.00
b. Seine, nonresident, one gear tag for each 100 feet or fraction thereof	$ 2.00
c. Trammel net, resident, one gear tag for each 100 feet or fraction thereof	$ 1.00
d. Trammel net, nonresident, one gear tag for each 100 feet or fraction thereof ...	$ 2.00
e. Gill net, resident, one gear tag for each 100 feet or fraction thereof	$ 1.00
f. Gill net, nonresident, one gear tag for each 100 feet or fraction thereof	$ 2.00
g. Entrapment nets, resident, one gear tag per net	$ 1.00

h. Entrapment nets, nonresident, one gear tag per net

i. Commercial trotline, resident, one gear tag for each 50 hooks or less

j. Commercial trotline, nonresident, one gear tag for each 50 hooks or less

8. Turtle trap gear tags are not interchangeable with other commercial gear. Turtle trap gear tag fees are as follows:

a. Commercial turtle trap, resident, one gear tag per trap

b. Commercial turtle trap, nonresident, one gear tag per trap

482.5 Commercial gear.

It is lawful for a person who is legally licensed to commercial fish to use the commercial fishing gear of a design, construction, size, season and all other criteria established by the commission for taking those species of fish and turtles designated by the commission by rule.

86 Acts, ch 1141, §5
C87, §109B.5

482.6 Tagging of commercial gear.

Each trotline shall have the tags affixed to one end. Each hoop net, slat net, trap net, and turtle trap shall have the appropriate tag affixed to the end nearest the pot. Each gill net and each trammel net shall have the tags affixed to the float line nearest the shore stake, but when fished under ice, the tags shall be affixed to the float line nearest the take-out hole. Each seine shall have the tags affixed to one end.

86 Acts, ch 1141, §6
C87, §109B.6
C93, §482.6

482.7 Gear attendance.

The licensee or a designated operator must be present when lifting commercial gear. Commercial gear shall be lifted and emptied of catch as provided by the rules of the commission. Constant attendance by the licensee or a designated operator of seines, trammel nets, and gill nets is required when the gear is fished by driving, drive-seining, seining, floating, or drifting methods. Officers of the commission shall grant a reasonable extension of gear attendance intervals in cases of inclement weather or unsafe conditions.

86 Acts, ch 1141, §7
C87, §109B.7

482.8 Baits.

1. It is lawful for licensed commercial fishers, designated operators, commercial turtle fishers, and licensed sport trotline fishers to pursue, take, possess, and transport any commercial fish or their parts, bait fish, turtles, frogs, salamanders, leeches, crayfish, or any other aquatic invertebrates for bait unless otherwise prohibited by law.

2. It is lawful to use any member of the following families as bait fish in boundary waters: Cyprinidae, the minnows; Catostomidae, the suckers; Umbridae, the mudminnows; Clupeidae, the herrings; Hiodontidae, the mooneyes; Amiidae, the bowfin unless otherwise prohibited by law.

3. It is lawful to use green sunfish, Lepomis cyanellus, and orange-spotted sunfish, Lepomis humilis, for bait fish.

4. It is lawful to use minnow seines for taking bait in the boundary waters. Minnow seines may not exceed fifty feet in length and eight feet in depth.

86 Acts, ch 1141, §8
C87, §109B.8
C93, §482.8

482.9 Unlawful methods.

It is unlawful:

1. To use commercial gear which is not in accordance with this chapter or the rules of the commission.

2. To use commercial gear within nine hundred feet from a navigation dam on the boundary waters.

3. To use commercial gear within three hundred feet from the mouth of a tributary stream emptying into the boundary waters.

4. For a person to lift or to fish licensed commercial gear of another person, except by the licensee and the licensee's designated operators.

5. To employ chemicals, electricity, or explosives into the water for taking fish, turtles, or freshwater mussels except as authorized by the director.

6. To have in one's possession game fish or other fish, turtles, or mussels deemed illegal by other provisions of law while engaged in commercial activities. A fish caught in commercial fishing that is not lawful to possess shall be handled with wet hands and immediately released under water with as little injury as possible.

7. To block or inhibit navigation through channels with commercial fishing gear unless a minimum of three feet of water depth is maintained over float lines of any entanglement gear or leads to trap nets. Gear shall not block over one-half the width of a navigable channel if there is less than three feet of water over the gear.

86 Acts, ch 1141, §9
C87, §109B.9

482.10 Sale of commercial fish.

1. A person possessing a commercial fishing license or designated operator's license may possess and sell any commercial fish, turtles, or freshwater mussels, or their parts, which have been lawfully taken.

2. All intrastate and interstate shipments of commercial fish or turtles must be accompanied by a label which shows the name and address of the seller and the kinds and pounds of the catches being sold. Individuals purchasing fish, turtles, or mussels from a commercial fisher, turtle fisher, or mussel fisher need not possess a license.

86 Acts, ch 1141, §10
C87, §109B.10
C93, §482.10

482.11 Turtles.

1. A person shall not take, possess, or sell turtles from the waters of the state without an appropriate license.

a. A valid sport fishing license entitles a person to take and possess a maximum of one hundred pounds of live turtles or fifty pounds of dressed turtles. The sale of live or dressed turtles is not permitted with a sport fishing license.

b. A commercial turtle license is required to take and possess more than one hundred pounds of live or fifty pounds of dressed turtles. The holder of a commercial turtle license may sell live or dressed turtles.

c. A commercial fishing license or a designated operator's license entitles fishers to operate any licensed commercial fishing gear for taking, possessing, or selling turtles.

d. An individual possessing a valid commercial turtle license may have the assistance of one unlicensed individual in the commercial taking of turtles.

2. It is unlawful to take, possess, or sell any species of turtles except those designated by the commission by rule.

3. The method of taking turtles shall only be by hand, turtle hook, turtle trap, licensed commercial fishing gear, or other means designated by commission rules. Sport fishers may also use hook-and-line in catching turtles.

4. Any unattended fishing gear used to take turtles on a sport fishing license shall have affixed a metal tag provided by the owner bearing the owner's name and address.

482.12 Freshwater mussels.

1. A person shall not take, possess, or sell freshwater mussels from the waters of the state without an appropriate license.

a. A sport fishing license entitles a person to take and possess a maximum of twenty pounds of mussels or shells daily. The possession limit for each licensee is twenty pounds of live mussels or shells. Sale of mussels or shells is not permitted with a sport fishing license.

b. A commercial mussel license is required to take more than twenty pounds of mussels or shells daily, or possess more than twenty pounds of mussels or shells. The holder of a commercial mussel license may sell mussels or shells.

c. A commercial mussel buyer license is required to buy mussels or shells.

d. A commercial mussel helper license is required to assist commercial mussel fishers in the possessing, processing, or transporting of commercial freshwater mussels. The taking or sale of mussels or shells is not permitted with a commercial mussel helper license.

2. A person may take all species of freshwater mussels, or their parts, except where otherwise prohibited by rules of the commission.

3. The method of taking freshwater mussels shall only be by hand, by diving, or by crowfoot bar, a device designed to catch mussels by inserting hooks between the shells, or by other means designated by rules of the commission. A crowfoot bar shall not exceed twenty feet in length and a licensee shall not fish more than three bars.

As used in this chapter unless the context otherwise requires:

1. “Commission” means the natural resource commission.

2. “Department” means the department of natural resources created under section 455A.2.

3. “Director” means the director of the department.

4. “Resident” means a natural person who meets any of the following criteria:

a. Has physically resided in this state at least thirty consecutive days immediately before applying for or purchasing a resident license under this chapter and has been issued an Iowa driver’s license or an Iowa nonoperator’s identification card.

b. Is a full-time student at an educational institution located in this state and resides in this state while attending the educational institution. A student qualifies as a resident pursuant to this paragraph only for the purpose of purchasing any resident license specified in section 483A.1 or 484A.2.

c. Is a nonresident under eighteen years of age whose parent is a resident of this state.

d. Is a member of the armed forces of the United States serving on active duty, claims residency in this state, and has filed a state individual income tax return as a resident pursuant to chapter 422, division II, for the preceding tax year.

e. Is registered to vote in this state.

483A.3 Wildlife habitat fee.

1. A resident or nonresident person required to have a hunting or fur harvester license shall not hunt or trap unless the person has paid the wildlife habitat fee. This section shall not apply to residents who have permanent disabilities or who are younger than sixteen or older than sixty-five years of age. Wildlife habitat fees shall be administered in the same manner as hunting and fur harvester licenses except all revenue derived from wildlife habitat fees shall be used within the state of Iowa for habitat development and shall be deposited in the state fish and game protection fund, except as provided in subsection 2. The revenue may be used for the matching of federal funds. The revenues and any matched federal funds shall be used for acquisition of land, leasing of land, or obtaining of easements from willing sellers for use as wildlife habitats. Notwithstanding the exemption provided by section 427.1, any land acquired with the revenues and matched federal funds shall be subject to the full consolidated levy of property taxes which shall be paid from those revenues. In addition the revenue may be used for the development and enhancement of wildlife lands and habitat areas. Not less than fifty percent of all revenue from wildlife habitat fees shall be used by the commission to enter into agreements with county conservation boards or other public agencies in order to carry out the purposes of this section. The state share of funding of those agreements provided by the revenue from wildlife habitat fees shall not exceed seventy-five percent.

2. Up to sixty percent of the revenues from wildlife habitat fees which are not required under subsection 1 to be used by the commission to enter into agreements with county conservation boards or other public agencies may be credited to the wildlife habitat bond fund as provided in section 483A.53.

483A.4 “Permanent disability” defined.

For the purpose of obtaining a license, a person has a permanent disability if any of the following apply:

1. The person has been found under the provisions of the federal Social Security Act, Title II, or any other public or private pension system to have a total, permanent physical or mental condition which prevents that person from engaging in the person’s occupation or qualifies that person for retirement.

2. The person has a severe physical disability and has qualified for a special license under section 483A.24.

483A.6 Trout fishing fee.

Any person required to have a fishing license shall not possess trout unless that person has paid the trout fishing fee. The proceeds from the fee shall be used exclusively for the trout program designated by the commission. The commission may grant a permit to a community event in which trout will be stocked in water which is not designated trout water and a person may catch and possess trout during the period and from the water covered by the permit without having paid the trout fishing fee.

483A.7 Wild turkey license and tag.

1. A resident hunting wild turkey who is required to have a license must have a resident hunting license in addition to the wild turkey hunting license and must pay the wildlife habitat fee. Upon application and payment of the required fees for archery-only licenses, a resident archer shall be issued two wild turkey licenses for the spring season.

2. The wild turkey hunting license shall be accompanied by a tag designed to be used only once and separable into two parts. If a wild turkey is taken, the wild turkey shall be tagged with one part of the tag and both parts of the tag should be dated.

3. A nonresident wild turkey hunter is required to have only a nonresident wild turkey hunting license and pay the wildlife habitat fee.

The commission shall annually limit to two thousand licenses the number of nonresidents allowed to have wild turkey hunting licenses. The number of nonresident wild turkey hunting licenses shall be determined as provided in section 481A.38. The commission shall allocate the nonresident wild turkey hunting licenses issued among the zones based on the populations of wild turkey. A nonresident applying for a wild turkey hunting license must exhibit proof of having successfully completed a hunter safety and ethics education program as provided in section 483A.27 or its equivalent as determined by the department before the license is issued.

483A.8 Deer license and tag.

2. The deer hunting license shall be accompanied by a tag designed to be used only once and separable into two parts. When a deer is taken, the deer shall be tagged with one part of the tag and both parts of the tag shall be dated.

3. A nonresident hunting deer is required to have a nonresident deer license and must pay the wildlife habitat fee. The commission shall annually limit to seven thousand five hundred licenses the number of nonresidents allowed to have deer hunting licenses. Of the first six thousand nonresident deer licenses issued, not more than thirty-five percent of the licenses shall be bow season licenses and, after the first six thousand nonresident deer licenses have been issued, all additional licenses shall be issued for antlerless deer only. The number of nonresident deer hunting licenses shall be determined as provided in section 481A.38. The commission shall allocate the nonresident deer hunting licenses issued among the zones based on the populations of deer. However, a nonresident applicant may request one or more hunting zones, in order of preference, in which the applicant wishes to hunt. If the request cannot be fulfilled, the applicable fees shall be returned to the applicant. A nonresident applying for a deer hunting license must exhibit proof of having successfully completed a hunter safety and ethics education program as provided in section 483A.27 or its equivalent as determined by the department before the license is issued.

4. The commission may provide, by rule, for the issuance of an additional antlerless deer license to a person who has been issued an antlerless deer license. The rules shall specify the number of additional antlerless deer licenses which may be issued, and the season and zone in which the license is valid. The fee for an additional antlerless deer license shall be ten dollars for residents.

483A.14 Duplicate licenses and permits.

When any license, certificate, or permit, for which a fee has been set, has been lost, destroyed, or stolen, the director, the county recorder, or the license depository, may issue a replacement license, if evidence is available to demonstrate issuance of the original license and a fee of two dollars is paid, to be placed in the fish and game protection fund. If, on examination of the evidence, the director, the recorder, or the license de-positary as the case may be, is satisfied that the license has been lost, destroyed, or stolen, the director, the recorder, or the license depository shall issue a duplicate license which shall be plainly marked "duplicate" and the duplicate shall serve in lieu of the original license and it shall contain the same information and signature as the original. The license depository may charge and retain a writing fee of one dollar for each duplicate license issued pursuant to this section.

483A.21 Revocation or suspension.

Upon the conviction of a licensee of any violation of chapter 481A, or of this chapter, or of any administrative order adopted and published by the commission, the magistrate may, as a part of the judgment, revoke the license of the licensee, or suspend it for any definite period.

The magistrate shall revoke the hunting license or suspend the privilege of procuring a hunting license for a period of one year of any person who has been convicted twice within a year of trespassing while hunting. If the hunting privileges of a hunting and fishing combined license are revoked, the fishing privileges of the license shall still be valid and the magistrate shall enter on the license that the hunting privileges are revoked. A person shall not purchase a license for a privilege that was revoked or suspended during the period of revocation or suspension.

In addition to other civil and criminal penalties imposed for illegally taking or possessing an elk, antelope, buffalo, or moose, the court shall revoke the hunting license of a violator. The violator shall not be allowed to procure a hunting license for the next two calendar years.

483A.24 When license not required — special licenses.

1. Owners or tenants of land, and their juvenile children, may hunt, fish or trap upon such lands and may shoot by lawful means ground squirrels, gophers, or woodchucks upon adjacent roads without securing a license so to do; except, special licenses to hunt deer and wild turkey shall be required of owners and tenants but they shall not be required to have a special wild turkey hunting license to hunt wild turkey on a hunting preserve licensed under chapter 484B.

2. a. As used in this subsection:

(1) "Family member" means a resident of Iowa who is the spouse or child of the owner or tenant and who resides with the owner or tenant.

(2) "Farm unit" means all parcels of land, not necessarily contiguous, which are operated as a unit for agricultural purposes and which are under the lawful control of the owner or tenant.

(3) "Owner" means an owner of a farm unit who is a resident of Iowa and who is one of the following:

(a) Is the sole operator of the farm unit.

(b) Makes all of the farm operation decisions but contracts for custom farming or hires labor for all or part of the work on the farm unit.

(c) Participates annually in farm operation decisions or cropping practices on specific fields of the farm unit that are rented to a tenant.

(d) Raises specialty crops on the farm unit including, but not limited to, orchards, nurseries, or tree farms that do not always produce annual income but require annual operating decisions about maintenance or improvement.

(e) Has all or part of the farm unit enrolled in a long-term agricultural land retirement program of the federal government.

An "owner" does not mean a person who owns a farm unit and who employs a farm manager or third party to operate the farm unit, or a person who owns a farm unit and who rents the entire farm unit to a tenant who is responsible for all farm operations. However, this paragraph does not apply to an owner who is a parent of the tenant and who resides in this state.

(4) "Tenant" means a person who is a resident of Iowa and who rents and actively farms a farm unit owned by another person. A member of the owner's family may be a tenant. A person who works on the farm for a wage and is not a family member does not qualify as a tenant.

b. Upon written application on forms furnished by the department, the department shall issue annually without fee one deer or one wild turkey license, or both, to the owner of a farm unit or to a member of the owner's family, but not to both, and to the tenant or to a member of the tenant's family, but not to both. The deer hunting license or wild turkey hunting license issued shall be valid only on the farm unit for which an applicant qualifies pursuant to this subsection and shall be equivalent to the least restrictive license issued under section 481A.38. The owner or the tenant need not reside on the farm unit to qualify for a free license to hunt on that farm unit. A free deer hunting license issued pursuant to this subsection shall be valid during all shotgun deer seasons.

c. In addition to the free deer hunting license received, an owner of a farm unit or a member of the owner's family and the tenant or a member of the tenant's family may purchase a deer hunting license for any option offered to paying deer hunting licensees.

d. If the commission establishes a deer hunting season to occur in the first quarter of a calendar year that is separate from a deer hunting season that continues from the last quarter of the preceding calendar year, each owner and each tenant of a farm unit located within a zone where a deer hunting season is established, upon application, shall be issued a free deer hunting license for each of the two calendar quarters. Each license is valid only for hunting on the farm unit of the owner and tenant.

3. The director shall provide up to twenty-five nonresident deer hunting licenses for allocation as requested by a majority of a committee consisting of the majority leader of the senate, speaker of the house of representatives, and director of the department of economic development, or their designees. The licenses provided pursuant to the subsection shall be in addition to the number of nonresident licenses authorized pursuant to section 483A.8. The purpose of the special nonresident licenses is to allow state officials and local development groups to promote the state and its natural resources to nonresident guests and dignitaries. Photographs, videotapes, or any other form of media resulting from the hunting visitation shall not be used for political campaign purposes. The nonresident licenses shall be issued without application upon payment of the nonresident deer hunting license fee and the wildlife habitat fee. The licenses are valid in all zones open to deer hunting. The hunter safety and ethics education certificate requirement pursuant to section 483A.27 is waived for a nonresident issued a license pursuant to this subsection.

4. The director shall provide up to twenty-five nonresident wild turkey hunting licenses for allocation as requested by a majority of a committee consisting of the majority leader of the senate, speaker of the house of representatives, and director of the department of economic development, or their designees. The licenses provided pursuant to the subsection shall be in addition to the number of nonresident licenses authorized pursuant to section 483A.7. The purpose of the special nonresident licenses is to allow state officials and local development groups to promote the state and its natural resources to nonresident guests and dignitaries. Photographs, videotapes, or any other form of media resulting from the hunting visitation shall not be used for political campaign purposes. The nonresident licenses shall be issued without application upon payment of the nonresident wild turkey hunting license fee and the wildlife habitat fee. The licenses are valid in all zones open to wild turkey hunting. The hunter safety and ethics education certificate requirement pursuant to section 483A.27 is waived for a nonresident issued a license pursuant to this subsection.

5. A resident of the state under sixteen years of age or a nonresident of the state under fourteen years of age is not required to have a license to fish in the waters of the state. However, residents under sixteen years of age and nonresidents under fourteen years of age must pay the trout fishing fee to possess trout or they must fish for trout with a licensed adult who has paid the trout fishing fee and limit their combined catch to the daily limit established by the commission.

6. A license shall not be required of minor pupils of the state school for the blind, state school for the deaf, or of minor residents of other state institutions under the control of an administrator of a division of the department of human services. In addition, a person who is on active duty with the armed forces of the United States, on authorized leave from a duty station located outside of this state, and a resident of the state of Iowa shall not be required to have a license to hunt or fish in this state. The military person shall carry the person's leave papers and a copy of the person's current earnings statement showing a deduction for Iowa income taxes while hunting or fishing. In lieu of carrying the person's earnings statement, the military person may also claim residency if the person is registered to vote in this state. If a deer or wild turkey is taken, the military person shall immediately contact a state conservation officer to obtain an appropriate tag to transport the animal. A license shall not be required of residents of county care facilities or any person who is receiving old-age assistance under chapter 249.

7. A resident of the state under sixteen years of age is not required to have a hunting license to hunt game if accompanied by the minor's parent or guardian or in company with any other competent adult with the consent of the minor's parent or guardian, if the person accompanying the minor possesses a valid hunting license; however, there must be one licensed adult accompanying each person under sixteen years of age. The minor must have a deer hunting license to hunt deer and a wild turkey hunting license to hunt wild turkey.

8. A person having a dog entered in a licensed field trial is not required to have a hunting license or fur harvester license to participate in the event or to exercise the person's dog on the area on which the field trial is to be held during the twenty-four hour period immediately preceding the trial.

9. The commission shall issue without charge a special fishing license to residents of Iowa sixteen years or more of age who the commission finds have severe mental or physical disabilities. The commission is hereby authorized to prepare an application to be used by the person requesting the special license, which would require that the person's attending physician sign the form declaring that the person has a severe mental or physical disability and is eligible for exempt status.

10. No person shall be required to have a special wild turkey license to hunt wild turkey on a hunting preserve licensed under chapter 484B.

11. A lessee of a camping space at a campground may fish on a private lake or pond on the premises of the campground without a license if the lease confers an exclusive right to fish in common with the rights of the owner and other lessees.

12. The department may issue a permit, subject to conditions established by the department, which authorizes patients of a substance abuse facility, residents of health care facilities licensed under chapter 135C, and persons cared for in juvenile shelter care homes as provided for in chapter 232 to fish without a license as a supervised group.

13. Upon payment of the fee of thirty dollars for a lifetime hunting and fishing combined license, the department shall issue a hunting and fishing combined license to a resident of Iowa who is a veteran, as defined in section 35.1, who was disabled or was a prisoner of war during that veteran's military service. The department shall prepare an application to be used by a person requesting a hunting and fishing combined license under this subsection. The commission of veterans affairs shall assist the department in verifying the status or claims of applicants under this subsection. As used in this subsection, "disabled" means entitled to compensation under the United States Code, Title 38, chapter 11.

14. The department shall issue without charge a special annual fishing or combined hunting and fishing license to residents of this state who have permanent disabilities and whose income falls below the federal poverty guidelines as published by the United States department of health and human services or residents of this state who are sixty-five years of age or older and whose income falls below the federal poverty guidelines as published by the United States department of health and human services. The commission shall provide for, by rule, an application to be used by an applicant requesting a special license. The commission shall require proof of age, income, and proof of permanent disability.

483A.27 Hunter safety and ethics education program — license requirement.

1. A person born after January 1, 1967, shall not obtain a hunting license unless the person has satisfactorily completed a hunter safety and ethics education course approved by the commission. A person who is eleven years of age or more may enroll in an approved hunter safety and ethics education course, but a person who is eleven years of age and who has successfully completed the course shall be issued a certificate of completion which becomes valid on the person's twelfth birthday. A certificate of completion from an approved hunter safety and ethics education course issued in this state since 1960, by another state, or by a foreign nation, is valid for the requirements of this section.

2. A certificate of completion shall not be issued to a person who has not satisfactorily completed a minimum of ten hours of training in an approved hunter safety and ethics education course. The department shall establish the curriculum for the first ten hours of an approved hunter safety and ethics education course offered in this state. Upon completion of the ten-hour curriculum, each person shall pass an individual oral test or a written test provided by the department. The department shall establish the criteria for successfully passing the tests. Based on the results of the test and demonstrated safe handling of a firearm, the instructor shall determine the persons who shall be issued a certificate of completion.

3. The department shall provide a manual on hunter safety education which shall be used by all instructors and persons receiving hunter safety and ethics education training in this state.

4. The department shall provide for the certification of persons who wish to become hunter safety and ethics instructors. A person shall not act as an instructor in hunter safety and ethics education as provided in this section without first obtaining an instructor's certificate from the department.

5. An officer of the department or a certified instructor may issue a certificate to a person who has not completed the hunter safety and ethics education course but meets the criteria established by the commission.

7. A hunting license obtained under this section by a person who gave false information or presented a fraudulent certificate of completion shall be revoked and a new hunting license shall not be issued for at least two years from the date of conviction. A hunting license obtained by a person who was born after January 1, 1967, but has not satisfactorily completed the hunter safety and ethics education course or has not met the requirements established by the commission, shall be revoked.

8. The commission shall adopt rules in accordance with chapter 17A as necessary to carry out the administration of this section.

9. The initial hunter safety certificate shall be issued without cost. A duplicate certificate shall be issued at a cost of three dollars.

10. A person under eighteen years of age who is required to exhibit a valid hunting license, shall also exhibit a valid certificate of completion from a state approved hunter safety and ethics education course upon request of an officer of the department. A failure to carry or refusal to exhibit the certificate of completion as provided in this subsection is a violation of this chapter. A violator is guilty of a simple misdemeanor as provided in section 483A.42.

1. Reciprocal fishing privileges are contingent upon a grant of similar privileges by another state to residents of this state.

2. The commission may negotiate fishing reciprocity agreements with other states.

3. When another state confers upon fishing licensees of this state reciprocal rights, privileges, and immunities, a fishing license issued by that state entitles the licensee to all rights, privileges, and immunities in the public waters of this state enjoyed by the holders of equivalent licenses issued by this state, subject to duties, responsibilities, and liabilities imposed on its own licensees by the laws of this state.

CONTRABAND ARTICLES

483A.32 Public nuisance.

Any device, contrivance, or material used to violate a rule adopted by the commission, or any other provision of this chapter or chapter 481A, 481B, 482, 484A, or 484B, is a public nuisance and may be condemned by the state. The director, the director's officers, or any peace officer, shall seize the devices, contrivances, or materials used as a public nuisance, without warrant or process, and deliver them to a magistrate having jurisdiction. An automobile shall not be construed to be a public nuisance under this section.

483A.33 Disposition of property seized as public nuisance.

The disposition of property seized pursuant to section 483A.32 shall be conducted as follows:

1. The officer taking possession of property seized as a public nuisance shall make a written inventory of the property and deliver a copy of the inventory to the person from whom the property was seized. The inventory shall include the name of the person taking custody of the seized property, the date and time of seizure, location of the seizure, and the name of the seizing public agency. Property which has been seized shall be safely secured and stored by the public agency which caused its seizure unless directed otherwise by the county attorney of the county where the property was seized or by the attorney general.

2. a. The county attorney or attorney general may file with the clerk of the district court for the county in which the property was seized a notice of condemnation which shall include a description of the property claimed to be condemned by the state, the grounds upon which the state claims that the property has been condemned, the date and place of seizure, and the name of the person from whom the property was seized.

b. The notice shall be filed not later than six months after the property was seized. Failure to file within the time limit terminates the state's right to claim a condemnation of the property.

c. The state shall give notice of condemnation to the person from whom the property was seized and any person identified as an owner or lien holder, by certified mail, personal service, or publication.

3. a. The person from whom the property was seized may make application for its return in the office of the clerk of the district court for the county in which the property was seized. The application shall be filed within thirty days after the receipt of the notice of condemnation. Failure to file the application within this time period terminates the interest of the person and the ownership of the property shall be transferred to the state.

b. The application for return of condemnable property shall be written and shall state the specific item or items sought, the nature and the source of the claimant's interest in the property, and the grounds upon which the claimant seeks to avoid condemnation. The ownership of property is not sufficient grounds for its return. The written application shall be specific and the claimant shall be limited at the judicial hearing to proof of the grounds set forth in the application for return. The fact that the property is inadmissible as evidence or that it may be suppressed is not grounds for its return. If specific grounds for return are not provided in the application for return, or the grounds are insufficient as a matter of law, the court may enter judgment on the pleadings without further hearing.

4. If an application for return of condemnable property is timely and of sufficient grounds, the claim shall be set for hearing. The hearing shall be held not less than ten nor more than thirty days after the filing of the claim. The proceeding shall be conducted by a magistrate or a district associate judge. All claims to the same property shall be heard in one proceeding, unless it is shown that the proceeding would result in prejudice to one or more of the parties.

5. a. Upon a finding by the court that the property is condemnable, the court shall enter an order transferring title of the property to the state, and placed at the disposal of the director, who may use or sell the property, depositing the proceeds of the sale in the state fish and game protection fund.

b. Upon a finding by the court that the property should not be condemned, the property shall be returned to the person from whom it was seized. If the property is necessary for use as evidence in a criminal proceeding, the property shall not be returned until its use as evidence is no longer required.

An appeal from a denial of an application for return of condemnable property, or from an order for return of condemnable property, shall be made within ten days after the entry of a judgment order and shall be conducted in the same manner as an appeal in a small claims action. The appellant, other than the state, shall post a bond of a reasonable amount as the court may fix and approve, conditioned to pay all costs of the proceedings if the appellant is unsuccessful on appeal.

WILDLIFE HABITAT BONDS

483A.50 Definitions.

When used in this division, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Bonds" means negotiable wildlife habitat bonds of the commission issued pursuant to this division and includes all bonds, notes, and other obligations issued in anticipation of these bonds or as refunding bonds pursuant to this division.

2. "Treasurer" means the treasurer of state of the state of Iowa.

3. "Wildlife habitat bond fund" means the fund created by section 483A.53.

86 Acts, ch 1231, §2

C87, §110.50

483A.51 Bonds issued by the commission.

1. The commission may issue its negotiable bonds in principal amounts as, in the opinion of the commission, are necessary to provide funds for the acquisition of real property for the development and enhancement of wildlife lands and habitat areas, the payment of interest on its bonds and all other expenditures of the commission incident to and necessary or convenient to carry out the acquisition. However, the commission shall not have a total principal amount of bonds outstanding at any time in excess of eight million dollars. The bonds shall be deemed to be investment securities and negotiable instruments within the meaning of and for all purposes of chapter 554, the uniform commercial code.

2. Bonds issued by the commission are payable solely and only from the revenues credited to the wildlife habitat bond fund. Taxes or appropriations shall not be pledged for the payment of the bonds. Bonds are not an obligation of this state or any political subdivision of this state other than the commission within the meaning of any constitutional or statutory debt limitations, but are special obligations of the commission payable solely and only from the sources provided in this division, and the commission shall not pledge the general credit or taxing power of this state or any political subdivision of this state or make its debts payable out of any moneys except those of the wildlife habitat bond fund.

3. Bonds must be authorized by a resolution of the commission. However, a resolution authorizing the issuance of obligations may delegate to an officer of the commission the power to negotiate and fix the details of an issue of bonds or notes by an appropriate certificate of the authorized officer.

4. The bond proceedings shall provide for the purpose of the bonds, principal amount and principal maturity or maturities, the interest rate or rates or the maximum interest rate, the date of the bonds and the dates of payment of interest on the bonds, their denomination, the terms and conditions upon which parity bonds may be issued, and the establishment within or without the state of a place or places of payment of principal of and interest on the bonds. The purpose of the bonds may be stated in the bond proceedings in terms describing the general purpose or purposes to be served. The commission may cause to be issued a prospectus or official statement in connection with the offering of the bonds. Bonds may be issued in coupon or in registered form, or both. Provision may be made for the registration of bonds with coupons attached as to principal alone, or as to both principal and interest, their exchange for bonds so registered, and for the conversion or reconversion into bonds with coupons attached of any bonds registered as to both principal and interest, and for reasonable charges for registration, exchange, conversion, and reconversion. Bonds shall be sold in the manner and at the time determined by the commission. Chapter 75 and sections 73A.12 through 73A.16 do not apply to these bonds. The bonds are negotiable instruments. The bond proceedings may contain additional provisions as to:

a. The redemption of bonds prior to maturity at the option of the commission at the price and on the terms and conditions provided in the bond proceedings.

b. Other terms of the bonds and concerning execution and delivery of the bonds.

c. The delegation of responsibility for any act relating to the issuance, execution, sale, redemption, or other matter pertaining to the bonds to any other officer, agency of the state, or other person or body.

d. Additional agreements with the bondholders relating to the bonds.

e. Payment from the proceeds of the sale of the bonds of all legal and financial expenses incurred by the commission in the issuance, sale, delivery, and payment of the bonds.

f. Other matters, alike or different, which may in any way affect the security of the bonds and the protection of the bondholders.

5. The power to issue bonds includes the power to issue obligations in the form of bond anticipation notes or other forms of short-term indebtedness and to renew these notes by the issuance of new notes. The holders of notes or interest coupons of notes have a right to be paid solely from those revenues credited to the wildlife habitat bond fund which were pledged to the payment of the bonds anticipated, or from the proceeds of those bonds or renewal notes, or both, as the commission provides in the bond proceedings authorizing the notes. The notes may be additionally secured by covenants of the commission to the effect that the commission will do those acts authorized by this division and necessary for the issuance of the bonds or renewal notes in appropriate amount, and either exchange the bonds or renewal notes for the notes, or apply the proceeds of the notes, to the extent necessary, to make full payment of the principal of and interest on the notes at the time contemplated, as provided in the bond proceedings. For this purpose, the commission may issue bonds or renewal notes in a principal amount and upon terms as authorized by this division and as necessary to provide funds to pay when required the principal of and interest on the outstanding notes. All provisions for and references to bonds in this division are applicable to notes authorized under this subsection to the extent not inconsistent with this subsection.

6. The commission may authorize and issue bonds for the refunding, including funding and retirement, and advance refunding with or without payment or redemption prior to maturity, of bonds previously issued by the commission. These bonds may be issued in amounts sufficient for payment of the principal amount of the prior bonds, any redemption premiums on the prior bonds, principal maturities of bonds maturing prior to the redemption of the remaining bonds on a parity with them, interest accrued or to accrue to the maturity date or dates of redemption of the bonds, and project costs including expenses incurred or to be incurred in connection with this issuance, refunding, funding, and retirement. Subject to the bond proceedings, the portion of proceeds of the sale of bonds issued under this subsection to be applied to principal of and interest on the prior bonds shall be credited to the appropriate account for the prior bonds. Bonds authorized under this subsection shall be deemed to be issued for those purposes for which the prior bonds were issued and are subject to the provisions of this division pertaining to other bonds. Refunding bonds may be issued without regard to whether or not the bonds to be refunded are payable on the same date or different dates or due serially or otherwise.

483A.52 Additional powers of commission.

In connection with the issuance of the bonds or in order to secure the payment of the bonds and interest on the bonds, the commission may by resolution:

1. Provide that the bonds be secured by a first lien on the revenues and receipts received or to be received into the wildlife habitat bond fund from income from the investment of the wildlife habitat bond fund, from moneys received from the sale of bonds, and from any other moneys which are available for the payment of bond service charges.

2. Pledge for the benefit of the bondholders any part of the receipts in the wildlife habitat bond fund. The pledge shall be effective without physical delivery or further act and moneys in the fund may be applied for the purposes as pledged without the necessity of an Act of appropriation.

3. Establish, authorize, set aside, regulate, and dispose of reserves and sinking funds.

4. Provide that sufficient amounts of the proceeds of the sale of the bonds may be used to fully or partially fund any and all reserves or sinking funds set out by the bond resolution.

5. Prescribe the procedure, if any, by which the terms of any contract with bondholders may be amended or abrogated, the amount of the bonds whose holders must consent thereto, and the manner in which the consent may be given.

6. Purchase bonds, out of funds available for that purpose, which shall be canceled, at a price not exceeding either of the following:

a. If the bonds are then redeemable, the redemption price then applicable plus accrued interest to the next interest payment date.

b. If the bonds are not then redeemable, the redemption price applicable on the first date after the purchase upon which the bonds become subject to redemption plus accrued interest to that date.

483A.53 Payment of bonds.

A wildlife habitat bond fund is created in the state treasury. At the direction of the commission as provided in the bond proceedings or pursuant to section 483A.52, subsection 1 or 2, and as certified by the director, the treasurer of state shall credit to the wildlife habitat bond fund from the revenues received from the sale of wildlife habitat stamps a sum at least sufficient to pay interest on the bonds in each fiscal year and principal on the bonds that mature during each fiscal year. In each fiscal year after July 1, 1986 and after bonds are issued, and until all the bonds issued have been retired, in order to provide for the payment of principal of the bonds issued and sold and the interest on them as the same become due and mature, there is pledged and annually appropriated out of the revenues to be credited to the wildlife habitat bond fund an amount sufficient to pay principal and interest on the bonds issued for each of the years the bonds are outstanding. The director shall annually certify to the treasurer the amount of funds required to pay interest on the bonds in the ensuing fiscal year and the principal on the bonds that mature during the ensuing fiscal year.

86 Acts, ch 1231, §5
C87, §110.53

483A.54 Nonliability of the state and its officials.

Bonds issued are special limited obligations of the commission and are not a debt or liability of the state or any other political subdivision within the meaning of any constitutional or statutory debt limitation and are not a pledge of the state's credit or taxing power within the meaning of any constitutional or statutory limitation or provision and, except as provided in this division, an appropriation shall not be made, directly or indirectly, by the state or any political subdivision of the state for the payment of bonds. The bonds are special obligations of the commission payable solely from the wildlife habitat bond fund. Funds from the general fund of the state shall not be used to pay interest or principal on the bonds if revenues deposited in the wildlife habitat bond fund are insufficient.

The members of the commission or other person executing the bonds is not personally liable for the payment of the bonds. The bonds are valid and binding obligations of the commission notwithstanding the fact that before the delivery of the bonds any of the officers whose signatures appear on the bonds cease to be officers of the state. From and after the sale and delivery of the bonds, they shall be incontestable by the commission.

483A.55 Bonds as legal investments.

Bonds are securities in which all public officers and bodies of the state and all municipalities and political subdivisions of this state, all insurance companies and associations and other persons carrying on an insurance business, all banks, bankers, trust companies, savings banks, and savings associations, including savings and loan associations, building loan associations, investment companies, and other persons carrying on a banking business, all administrators, guardians, executors, trustees, and other fiduciaries and all other persons who are now or may be authorized to invest in bonds or other obligations of this state may properly and legally invest funds including capital in their control or belonging to them. The bonds are also securities which may be deposited with and may be received by all public officers and bodies of the state and all municipalities and legal subdivisions of this state for any purpose for which the deposit of bonds or other obligations of the state is now or may be authorized.

86 Acts, ch 1231, §7

483A.56 Rights of bondholders.

The bond proceedings may provide that a holder of bonds or a trustee under the bond proceedings, except to the extent that the holder's rights are restricted by the bond proceedings, may by legal proceedings, protect and enforce any rights under the laws of this state or granted by the bond proceedings. These rights include the right to compel the performance of all duties of the commission required by this division or the bond proceedings; to enjoin unlawful activities; and in the event of default with respect to the payment of any principal of or interest on bonds or in the performance of a covenant or agreement on the part of the commission in bond proceedings, to apply to a court to appoint a receiver to receive and administer the funds which are pledged to the payment of bonds or which are the subject of the covenant or agreement, with full power to pay and to provide for payment of any principal of or interest on bonds and with powers accorded receivers in general equity cases, excluding power to pledge additional funds or other income or moneys of the commission, the state, or governmental agencies of the state to the payment of the bonds.

484B.2 Rules.

The commission may adopt rules under chapter 17A as necessary to carry out this chapter.

92 Acts, ch 1160, §2

484B.3 Authority of the director.

The director shall develop, administer, and enforce hunting preserve programs and requirements within the state which implement the provisions of this chapter and the rules adopted by the commission.

92 Acts, ch 1160, §3

484B.4 Application and license requirements.

1. A person who owns or controls by lease or otherwise for five or more years, a contiguous tract of land having an area of not less than three hundred twenty acres, and who desires to establish a hunting preserve, to propagate and sell game birds and their young or unhatched eggs, and shoot game birds and ungulates on the land, under this chapter or the rules of the commission, shall make application to the department for an operator’s license. The application shall be made under oath of the applicant or under oath of one of its principal officers if the applicant is an association, corporation, or copartnership. Under the authority of this license, any property or facilities to be used for propagating, holding, processing, or pasturing of game birds or ungulates shall not be required to be contained within the contiguous land area used for hunting purposes. The application shall be accompanied by an operator’s license fee of two hundred dollars.

2. Upon receipt of an application, the department or its authorized agent shall inspect the proposed hunting preserve and facilities described in the application. If the department finds that the proposed hunting preserve meets the following requirements, the department may approve the application and issue a hunting preserve operator’s license for the operation of the property and facilities described in the application with the rights and subject to the limitations in this chapter and the rules adopted by the commission:

a. The proposed hunting preserve contains at least three hundred twenty acres but not more than two thousand five hundred sixty acres.

b. The area of the proposed hunting preserve is contiguous.

c. The total area of all licensed hunting preserves and the proposed hunting preserve will not exceed three percent of the land area of the county.

d. The game birds or ungulates released on the preserve will not be detrimental to wildlife.

e. The proposed hunting preserve will not interfere with the normal activities of migratory birds.

3. All hunting preserve operator's licenses shall expire on March 31 of each year.

484B.5 Boundaries signed — fenced.

Upon receipt of a hunting preserve license, the licensee shall promptly sign the licensed property with signs prescribed by the department. A licensee holding and releasing ungulates shall construct and maintain boundary fences prescribed by the department so as to enclose and contain all released ungulates and exclude all ungulates which are property of the state from becoming a part of the hunting preserve enterprise.

92 Acts, ch 1160, §5

484B.6 Game birds released.

The licensee of a licensed hunting preserve may take, or authorize to be taken within the season, the numbers of game birds as provided in this section:

1. A licensed hunting preserve may take up to eighty percent of the total number of pheasant and quail released. One hundred percent of all other game birds released may be taken.

2. A minimum of five hundred game birds shall be released during the hunting preserve season by each licensed hunting preserve authorized to release game birds.

3. A licensee operating two or more licensed hunting preserve areas shall release a cumulative minimum of eight hundred game birds during the hunting preserve season.

4. If hen ring-necked pheasants are shot on the licensed hunting preserve, no less than thirty-five percent of all ring-necked pheasants released shall be hens.

92 Acts, ch 1160, §6

484B.7 Records — reports — inspections.

1. Each hunting preserve licensee shall keep the records and make the reports required on forms prepared and provided by the department. All records shall be open for inspection at any reasonable time by the department or its authorized agents.

2. Each licensee shall file an annual report with the department on or before April 30. The report shall detail the hunting preserve operations during the preceding license year. The original report shall be forwarded to the department and a copy shall be retained in the hunting preserve's file for three years from the date of expiration of the hunting preserve's last license issued. Records required by this section shall be entered in the annual report record within twenty-four hours of the event. Failure to keep or submit the required records and reports is grounds for refusal to renew a license for the succeeding year. An on-site inspection of property and facilities shall be conducted by an authorized agent of the department prior to the initial issuance of a hunting preserve license. The hunting preserve may be reinspected by an agent of the department at any reasonable time. A licensed hunting preserve shall maintain adequate facilities for all designated birds and ungulates held under the hunting preserve license.

484B.8 Game bird transportation tags — markings.

The department shall prepare transportation tags suitable for use upon the legs of game birds described in this chapter. The tags shall be of a type which are not removable without breaking and mutilating the tag. The tags shall be used to designate all game birds taken by hunters upon a licensed hunting preserve. The department shall provide licensees with the tags. All dead game birds removed from a licensed hunting preserve shall have a hunting preserve tag affixed to one leg prior to being transported from the licensed hunting preserve, except as otherwise provided by rule of the commission. All mallards released for hunting purposes shall be physically marked by the removal of the hind toe from the right foot at not more than four weeks of age, so as to provide for permanent identification. Game bird tags issued to a hunting preserve are not transferable.

484B.9 Ungulate transportation tags — markings.

The department shall prepare transportation tags suitable for use upon the carcass of ungulates described in this chapter. The tags shall be used to designate all ungulates taken by hunters upon a licensed hunting preserve. The department shall provide licensees with the tags. All ungulates taken on a licensed hunting preserve shall be tagged with a numbered tag prior to being removed from the hunting preserve. The hunter shall tag the ungulate taken in accordance with the rules as determined by the department. The tag shall remain attached to the carcass of the dead ungulate until processed for consumption. The hunter shall be provided with a bill of sale by the licensee. The bill of sale shall remain in the possession of the hunter. Ungulate tags issued to a hunting preserve are not transferable.

484B.10 Season — hunting license.

1. A person shall not take a game bird or ungulate upon a hunting preserve, by shooting in any manner, except during the established season or as authorized by section 481A.56. The established season shall be September 1 through March 31 of the succeeding year, both dates inclusive. The owner of a hunting preserve shall establish the hunting season for nonnative, pen-reared ungulates on the hunting preserve.

2. Waterfowl shall not be shot over any area where pen-reared mallards may serve as live decoys for wild waterfowl. All persons hunting game birds or ungulates upon a licensed hunting preserve shall secure a hunting license to do so in accordance with the game laws of Iowa, with the exception that an unlicensed person may secure an annual hunting preserve license restricted to hunting preserves only for a license fee of five dollars. All persons who hunt on hunting preserves shall pay the wildlife habitat fee.

484B.11 Health requirements — game birds.

All game birds, including breeders and non-breeders; or their chicks or unhatched eggs either purchased, propagated, confined, released, or sold by a licensed hunting preserve shall be free of diseases considered significant for wildlife, poultry, or livestock and shall comply with all game bird, mallard, and turkey requirements as designated by the national poultry improvement plan (NPIP) and in accordance with the United States department of agriculture and requirements of the Iowa department of agriculture and land stewardship. 92 Acts, ch 1160, §11

484B.12 Health requirements — ungulates.

All ungulates which are purchased, propagated, confined, released, or sold by a licensed hunting preserve shall be free of diseases considered significant for wildlife, poultry, or livestock.

92 Acts, ch 1160, §12; 2000 Acts, ch 1038, §4
Section amended

484B.13 License refusal.

The department may either refuse to issue, refuse to renew, or suspend or revoke a hunting preserve license if the department finds that the licensed area or the operator or employees of the licensed area are not in compliance with this chapter, or that the property or area is operated in violation of this chapter or administrative rules adopted under this chapter.

92 Acts, ch 1160, §13

484B.14 Penalties.

A person who violates a provision of this chapter or a rule adopted under this chapter is guilty of a simple misdemeanor.

b. The notification is duly delivered at the person's place of business or at any other place held out by the person as a place for receiving communications.

5. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 6, a person other than an individual knows, has notice, or receives a notification of a fact for purposes of a particular transaction when the individual conducting the transaction knows, has notice, or receives a notification of the fact, or in any event when the fact would have been brought to the individual's attention if the person had exercised reasonable diligence. The person exercises reasonable diligence if the person maintains reasonable routines for communicating significant information to the individual conducting the transaction and there is reasonable compliance with the routines. Reasonable diligence does not require an individual acting for the person to communicate information unless the communication is part of the individual's regular duties or the individual has reason to know of the transaction and that the transaction would be materially affected by the information.

6. A partner's knowledge, notice, or receipt of a notification of a fact relating to the partnership is effective immediately as knowledge by, notice to, or receipt of a notification by the partnership, except in the case of a fraud on the partnership committed by or with the consent of that partner.

486A.103 Effect of partnership agreement — nonwaivable provisions.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, relations among the partners and between the partners and the partnership are governed by the partnership agreement. To the extent the partnership agreement does not otherwise provide, this chapter governs relations among the partners and between the partners and the partnership.

2. The partnership agreement shall not do any of the following:

a. Vary the rights and duties under section 486A.105 except to eliminate the duty to provide copies of statements to all of the partners.

b. Unreasonably restrict the right of access to books and records under section 486A.403, subsection 2.

c. Eliminate the duty of loyalty under section 486A.404, subsection 2, or 486A.603, subsection 2, paragraph “c”, except as follows:

(1) The partnership agreement may identify specific types or categories of activities that do not violate the duty of loyalty, if not manifestly unreasonable.

(2) All of the partners or a number or percentage specified in the partnership agreement may authorize or ratify, after full disclosure of all material facts, a specific act or transaction that otherwise would violate the duty of loyalty.

d. Unreasonably reduce the duty of care under section 486A.404, subsection 3, or 486A.603, subsection 2, paragraph “c”.

e. Eliminate the obligation of good faith and fair dealing under section 486A.404, subsection 4, but the partnership agreement may prescribe the standards by which the performance of the obligation is to be measured, if the standards are not manifestly unreasonable.

f. Vary the power to dissociate as a partner under section 486A.602, subsection 1, except to require the notice under section 486A.601, subsection 1, to be in writing.

g. Vary the right of a court to expel a partner in the events specified in section 486A.601, subsection 5.

h. Vary the requirement to wind up the partnership business in cases specified in section 486A.801, subsection 4, 5, or 6.

i. Vary the law applicable to a limited liability partnership under section 486A.106, subsection 2.

j. Restrict rights of third parties under this chapter.

98 Acts, ch 1201, §3, 79, 82

486A.104 Supplemental principles of law.

1. Unless displaced by particular provisions of this chapter, the principles of law and equity supplement this chapter.

2. If an obligation to pay interest arises under this chapter and the rate is not specified, the rate is that specified in section 535.3.

98 Acts, ch 1201, §4, 79, 82

486A.105 Execution, filing, and recording of statements.

1. A statement may be filed in the office of the secretary of state. A certified copy of a statement that is filed in an office in another state may be filed in the office of the secretary of state. Either filing has the effect provided in this chapter with respect to partnership property located in or transactions that occur in this state.

2. A certified copy of a statement that has been filed in the office of the secretary of state and recorded in the office for recording transfers of real property has the effect provided for recorded statements in this chapter. A recorded statement that is not a certified copy of a statement filed in the office of the secretary of state does not have the effect provided for recorded statements in this chapter.

3. A statement filed by a partnership must be executed by at least two partners. Other statements must be executed by a partner or other person authorized by this chapter. An individual who executes a statement as, or on behalf of, a partner or other person named as a partner in a statement shall personally declare under penalty of perjury that the contents of the statement are accurate.

4. A person authorized by this chapter to file a statement may amend or cancel the statement by filing an amendment or cancellation that names the partnership, identifies the statement, and states the substance of the amendment or cancellation.

5. A person who files a statement pursuant to this section shall promptly send a copy of the statement to every nonfiling partner and to any other person named as a partner in the statement. Failure to send a copy of a statement to a partner or other person does not limit the effectiveness of the statement as to a person not a partner.

6. The secretary of state may collect a fee for filing or providing a certified copy of a statement. The county recorder may collect a fee for recording a statement.

486A.106 Governing law.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, the law of the jurisdiction in which a partnership has its chief executive office governs relations among the partners and between the partners and the partnership.

2. The law of this state governs relations among the partners and the partnership and the liability of partners for an obligation of a limited liability partnership.

98 Acts, ch 1201, §6, 79, 82

486A.107 Partnership subject to amendment or repeal of chapter.

A partnership governed by this chapter is subject to any amendment to or repeal of this chapter.

98 Acts, ch 1201, §7, 79, 82

ARTICLE 2

NATURE OF PARTNERSHIP

486A.201 Partnership as entity.

1. A partnership is an entity distinct from its partners.

2. A limited liability partnership continues to be the same entity that existed before the filing of a statement of qualification under section 486A.1001.

98 Acts, ch 1201, §8, 79, 82

486A.202 Formation of partnership.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, the association of two or more persons to carry on as co-owners a business for profit forms a partnership, whether or not the persons intend to form a partnership.

2. An association formed under a statute other than this chapter, a predecessor statute, or a comparable statute of another jurisdiction is not a partnership under this chapter.

3. In determining whether a partnership is formed, the following rules apply:

a. Joint tenancy, tenancy in common, tenancy by the entirety, joint property, common property, or part ownership does not by itself establish a partnership, even if the co-owners share profits made by the use of the property.

b. The sharing of gross returns does not by itself establish a partnership, even if the persons sharing them have a joint or common right or interest in property from which the returns are derived.

c. A person who receives a share of the profits of a business is presumed to be a partner in the business, unless the profits were received in payment of or for any of the following:

- (1) Of a debt by installments or otherwise.
- (2) For services as an independent contractor or of wages or other compensation to an employee.
- (3) Of rent.
- (4) Of an annuity or other retirement or health benefit to a beneficiary, representative, or designee of a deceased or retired partner.
- (5) Of interest or other charge on a loan, even if the amount of payment varies with the profits of the business, including a direct or indirect present or future ownership of the collateral, or rights to income, proceeds, or increase in value derived from the collateral.

(6) For the sale of the goodwill of a business or other property by installments or otherwise.

98 Acts, ch 1201, §9, 79, 82

486A.203 Partnership property.

Property acquired by a partnership is property of the partnership and not of the partners individually.

98 Acts, ch 1201, §10, 79, 82

486A.204 When property is partnership property.

1. Property is partnership property if acquired in the name of any of the following:

- a. The partnership.
- b. One or more partners with an indication in the instrument transferring title to the property of the person's capacity as a partner or of the existence of a partnership but without an indication of the name of the partnership.

2. Property is acquired in the name of the partnership by a transfer to any of the following:

- a. The partnership in its name.
- b. One or more partners in their capacity as partners in the partnership, if the name of the partnership is indicated in the instrument transferring title to the property.

3. Property is presumed to be partnership property if purchased with partnership assets, even if not acquired in the name of the partnership or of one or more partners with an indication in the instrument transferring title to the property of the person's capacity as a partner or of the existence of a partnership.

4. Property acquired in the name of one or more of the partners, without an indication in the instrument transferring title to the property of the person's capacity as a partner or of the existence of a partnership and without use of partnership assets, is presumed to be separate property, even if used for partnership purposes.

98 Acts, ch 1201, §11, 79, 82

ARTICLE 3

RELATIONS OF PARTNERS TO PERSONS DEALING WITH PARTNERSHIP486A.301 Partner agent of partnership.

Subject to the effect of a statement of partnership authority under section 486A.303:

1. Each partner is an agent of the partnership for the purpose of its business. An act of a partner, including the execution of an instrument in the partnership name, for apparently carrying on in the ordinary course the partnership business or business of the kind carried on by the partnership binds the partnership, unless the partner had no authority to act for the partnership in the particular matter and the person with whom the partner was dealing knew or had received a notification that the partner lacked authority.

2. An act of a partner which is not apparently for carrying on in the ordinary course the partnership business or business of the kind carried on by the partnership binds the partnership only if the act was authorized by the other partners.

98 Acts, ch 1201, §12, 79, 82

486A.302 Transfer of partnership property.

1. Partnership property may be transferred as follows:

a. Subject to the effect of a statement of partnership authority under section 486A.303, partnership property held in the name of the partnership may be transferred by an instrument of transfer executed by a partner in the partnership name.

b. Partnership property held in the name of one or more partners with an indication in the instrument transferring the property to the partners of their capacity as partners or of the existence of a partnership, but without an indication of the name of the partnership, may be transferred by an instrument of transfer executed by the persons in whose name the property is held.

c. Partnership property held in the name of one or more persons other than the partnership, without an indication in the instrument transferring the property to the partners of their capacity as partners or of the existence of a partnership, may be transferred by an instrument of transfer executed by the persons in whose name the property is held.

2. A partnership may recover partnership property from a transferee only if it proves that execution of the instrument of initial transfer did not bind the partnership under section 486A.301 and if one of the following applies:

a. As to a subsequent transferee who gave value for property transferred under subsection 1, paragraphs “a” and “b”, proves that the subsequent transferee knew or had received a notification that the person who executed the instrument of initial transfer lacked authority to bind the partnership.

b. As to a transferee who gave value for property transferred under subsection 1, paragraph “c”, proves that the transferee knew or had received a notification that the property was partnership property and that the person who executed the instrument of initial transfer lacked authority to bind the partnership.

3. A partnership shall not recover partnership property from a subsequent transferee if the partnership would not have been entitled to recover the property, under subsection 2, from any earlier transferee of the property.

4. If a person holds all of the partners’ interests in the partnership, all of the partnership property vests in that person. The person may execute a document in the name of the partnership to evidence vesting of the property in that person and may file or record the document.

98 Acts, ch 1201, §13, 79, 82

486A.303 Statement of partnership authority.

1. A partnership may file a statement of partnership authority as provided in this subsection.

a. The statement of partnership authority must include all of the following:

- (1) The name of the partnership.
- (2) The street address of its chief executive office and of one office in this state, if there is one.
- (3) The names and mailing addresses of all of the partners or of an agent appointed and maintained by the partnership for the purpose of subsection 2.
- (4) The names of the partners authorized to execute an instrument transferring real property held in the name of the partnership.

b. The statement of partnership authority may state the authority, or limitations on the authority, of some or all of the partners to enter into other transactions on behalf of the partnership and any other matter.

2. If a statement of partnership authority names an agent, the agent shall maintain a list of the names and mailing addresses of all of the partners and make it available to any person on request for good cause shown.

3. If a filed statement of partnership authority is executed pursuant to section 486A.105, subsection 3, and states the name of the partnership but does not contain all of the other information required by subsection 1, the statement nevertheless operates with respect to a person not a partner as provided in subsections 4 and 5.

4. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 7, a filed statement of partnership authority supplements the authority of a partner to enter into transactions on behalf of the partnership as follows:

a. Except for transfers of real property, a grant of authority contained in a filed statement of partnership authority is conclusive in favor of a person who gives value without knowledge to the contrary, so long as and to the extent that a limitation on that authority is not then contained in another filed statement. A filed cancellation of a limitation on authority revives the previous grant of authority.

b. A grant of authority to transfer real property held in the name of the partnership contained in a certified copy of a filed statement of partnership authority recorded in the office for recording transfers of that real property is conclusive in favor of a person who gives value without knowledge to the contrary, so long as and to the extent that a certified copy of a filed statement containing a limitation on that authority is not then of record in the office for recording transfers of that real property. The recording in the office for recording transfers of that real property of a certified copy of a filed cancellation of a limitation on authority revives the previous grant of authority.

5. A person not a partner is deemed to know of a limitation on the authority of a partner to transfer real property held in the name of the partnership if a certified copy of the filed statement containing the limitation on authority is of record in the office for recording transfers of that real property.

6. Except as otherwise provided in subsections 4 and 5 and sections 486A.704 and 486A.805, a person not a partner is not deemed to know of a limitation on the authority of a partner merely because the limitation is contained in a filed statement.

7. Unless earlier canceled, a filed statement of partnership authority is canceled by operation of law five years after the date on which the statement, or the most recent amendment, was filed with the secretary of state.

486A.304 Statement of denial.

A partner or other person named as a partner in a filed statement of partnership authority or in a list maintained by an agent pursuant to section 486A.303, subsection 2, may file a statement of denial stating the name of the partnership and the fact that is being denied, which may include denial of a person's authority or status as a partner. A statement of denial is a limitation on authority as provided in section 486A.303, subsections 4 and 5. 98 Acts, ch 1201, §15, 79, 82

486A.305 Partnership liable for partner's actionable conduct.

1. A partnership is liable for loss or injury caused to a person, or for a penalty incurred, as a result of a wrongful act or omission, or other actionable conduct, of a partner acting in the ordinary course of business of the partnership or with authority of the partnership.

2. If, in the course of the partnership's business or while acting with authority of the partnership, a partner receives or causes the partnership to receive money or property of a person not a partner, and the money or property is misapplied by a partner, the partnership is liable for the loss. 98 Acts, ch 1201, §16, 79, 82

486A.306 Partner's liability.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsections 2 and 3, all partners are liable jointly and severally for all obligations of the partnership unless otherwise agreed by the claimant or provided by law.

2. A person admitted as a partner into an existing partnership is not personally liable for any partnership obligation incurred before the person's admission as a partner.

3. An obligation of a partnership incurred while the partnership is a limited liability partnership, whether arising in contract, tort, or otherwise, is solely the obligation of the partnership. A partner is not personally liable, directly or indirectly, by way of contribution or otherwise, for such an obligation solely by reason of being or so acting as a partner. This subsection applies notwithstanding anything inconsistent in the partnership agreement that existed immediately before the vote required to become a limited liability partnership under section 486A.1001, subsection 2. 98 Acts, ch 1201, §17, 79, 82

486A.307 Actions by and against partnership and partners.

1. A partnership may sue and be sued in the name of the partnership.

2. An action may be brought against the partnership and, to the extent not inconsistent with section 486A.306, any or all of the partners in the same action or in separate actions.

3. A judgment against a partnership is not by itself a judgment against a partner. A judgment against a partnership shall not be satisfied from a partner's assets unless there is also a judgment against the partner.

4. A judgment creditor of a partner shall not levy execution against the assets of the partner to satisfy a judgment based on a claim against the partnership unless the partner is personally liable for the claim under section 486A.306 and one or more of the following apply:

a. A judgment based on the same claim has been obtained against the partnership and a writ of execution on the judgment has been returned unsatisfied in whole or in part.

b. The partnership is a debtor in bankruptcy.

c. The partner has agreed that the creditor need not exhaust partnership assets.

d. A court grants permission to the judgment creditor to levy execution against the assets of a partner based on a finding that partnership assets subject to execution are clearly insufficient to satisfy the judgment, that exhaustion of partnership assets is excessively burdensome, or that the grant of permission is an appropriate exercise of the court's equitable powers.

e. Liability is imposed on the partner by law or contract independent of the existence of the partnership.

5. This section applies to any partnership liability or obligation resulting from a representation by a partner or purported partner under section 486A.308. 98 Acts, ch 1201, §18, 79, 82

486A.308 Liability of purported partner.

1. If a person, by words or conduct, purports to be a partner, or consents to being represented by another as a partner, in a partnership or with one or more persons not partners, the purported partner is liable to a person to whom the representation is made, if that person, relying on the representation, enters into a transaction with the actual or purported partnership. If the representation, either by the purported partner or by a person with the purported partner's consent, is made in a public manner, the purported partner is liable to a person who relies upon the purported partnership even if the purported partner is not aware of being held out as a partner to the claimant. If partnership liability results, the purported partner is liable with respect to that liability as if the purported partner were a partner. If no partnership liability results, the purported partner is liable with respect to that liability jointly and severally with any other person consenting to the representation.

to bind the persons to the same extent and in the same manner as if the purported partner were a partner, with respect to persons who enter into transactions in reliance upon the representation. If all of the partners of the existing partnership consent to the representation, a partnership act or obligation results. If fewer than all of the partners of the existing partnership consent to the representation, the person acting and the partners consenting to the representation are jointly and severally liable.

3. A person is not liable as a partner merely because the person is named by another in a statement of partnership authority.

4. A person does not continue to be liable as a partner merely because of a failure to file a statement of dissociation or to amend a statement of partnership authority to indicate the partner's dissociation from the partnership.

5. Except as otherwise provided in subsections 1 and 2, persons who are not partners as to each other are not liable as partners to other persons. 98 Acts, ch 1201, §19, 79, 82

ARTICLE 4

RELATIONS OF PARTNERS TO EACH OTHER AND TO PARTNERSHIP

486A.401 Partner's rights and duties.

1. Each partner is deemed to have an account subject to the following:

a. The account is credited with an amount equal to the money plus the value of any other property, net of the amount of any liabilities, the partner contributes to the partnership and the partner's share of the partnership profits.

b. The account is charged with an amount equal to the money plus the value of any other property, net of the amount of any liabilities, distributed by the partnership to the partner and the partner's share of the partnership losses.

2. Each partner is entitled to an equal share of the partnership profits and is chargeable with a share of the partnership losses in proportion to the partner's share of the profits.

3. A partnership shall reimburse a partner for payments made and indemnify a partner for liabilities incurred by the partner in the ordinary course of the business of the partnership or for the preservation of its business or property, if such payments were made or liabilities incurred without violation of the partner's duties to the partnership or the other partners.

4. A partnership shall reimburse a partner for an advance to the partnership beyond the amount of capital the partner agreed to contribute.

5. A payment or advance made by a partner which gives rise to a partnership obligation under subsection 3 or 4 constitutes a loan to the partnership which accrues interest from the date of the payment or advance.

6. Each partner has equal rights in the management and conduct of the partnership business.

7. A partner may use or possess partnership property only on behalf of the partnership.

8. A partner is not entitled to remuneration for services performed for the partnership, except for reasonable compensation for services rendered in winding up the business of the partnership.

9. A person may become a partner only with the consent of all of the partners.

10. A difference arising as to a matter in the ordinary course of business of a partnership may be decided by a majority of the partners. An act outside the ordinary course of business of a partnership and an amendment to the partnership agreement may be undertaken only with the consent of all of the partners.

11. This section does not affect the obligations of a partnership to other persons under section 486A.301.

98 Acts, ch 1201, §20, 79, 82

486A.402 Distributions in kind.

A partner has no right to receive, and shall not be required to accept, a distribution in kind.

98 Acts, ch 1201, §21, 79, 82

486A.403 Partner's rights and duties with respect to information.

1. A partnership shall keep its books and records, if any, at its chief executive office.

2. A partnership shall provide partners and their agents and attorneys access to its books and records. It shall provide former partners and their agents and attorneys access to books and records pertaining to the period during which the former partners were partners. The right of access provides the opportunity to inspect and copy books and records during ordinary business hours. A partnership may impose a reasonable charge, covering the costs of labor and material, for copies of documents furnished.

3. Each partner and the partnership shall furnish to a partner, and to the legal representative of a deceased partner or partner under legal disability, all of the following:

a. Without demand, any information concerning the partnership's business and affairs reasonably required for the proper exercise of the partner's rights and duties under the partnership agreement or this chapter.

b. On demand, any other information concerning the partnership's business and affairs, except to the extent the demand or the information demanded is unreasonable or otherwise improper under the circumstances.

486A.404 General standards of partner's conduct.

1. The only fiduciary duties a partner owes to the partnership and the other partners are the duty of loyalty and the duty of care set forth in subsections 2 and 3.

2. A partner's duty of loyalty to the partnership and the other partners is limited to the following:

a. To account to the partnership and hold as trustee for the partnership any property, profit, or benefit derived by the partner in the conduct and winding up of the partnership business or derived from a use by the partner of partnership property, including the appropriation of a partnership opportunity.

b. To refrain from dealing with the partnership in the conduct or winding up of the partnership business as or on behalf of a party having an interest adverse to the partnership.

c. To refrain from competing with the partnership in the conduct of the partnership business before the dissolution of the partnership.

3. A partner's duty of care to the partnership and the other partners in the conduct and winding up of the partnership business is limited to refraining from engaging in grossly negligent or reckless conduct, intentional misconduct, or a knowing violation of law.

4. A partner shall discharge the duties to the partnership and the other partners under this chapter or under the partnership agreement and exercise any rights consistently with the obligation of good faith and fair dealing.

5. A partner does not violate a duty or obligation under this chapter or under the partnership agreement merely because the partner's conduct furthers the partner's own interest.

6. A partner may lend money to and transact other business with the partnership, and as to each loan or transaction the rights and obligations of the partner are the same as those of a person who is not a partner, subject to other applicable law.

7. This section applies to a person winding up the partnership business as the personal or legal representative of the last surviving partner as if the person were a partner.

486A.405 Actions by partnership and partners.

1. A partnership may maintain an action against a partner for a breach of the partnership agreement, or for the violation of a duty to the partnership, causing harm to the partnership.

2. A partner may maintain an action against the partnership or another partner for legal or equitable relief, with or without an accounting as to partnership business, to do any of the following:

a. Enforce the partner's rights under the partnership agreement.

b. Enforce the partner's rights under this chapter, including any or all of the following:

(1) The partner's rights under section 486A.401, 486A.403, or 486A.404.

(2) The partner's right on dissociation to have the partner's interest in the partnership purchased pursuant to section 486A.701 or enforce any other right under article 6 or 7.

(3) The partner's right to compel a dissolution and winding up of the partnership business under section 486A.801 or enforce any other right under article 8.

c. Enforce the rights and otherwise protect the interests of the partner, including rights and interests arising independently of the partnership relationship.

3. The accrual of, and any time limitation on, a right of action for a remedy under this section is governed by other law. A right to an accounting upon a dissolution and winding up does not revive a claim barred by law.

98 Acts, ch 1201, §24, 79, 82

486A.406 Continuation of partnership beyond definite term or particular undertaking.

1. If a partnership for a definite term or particular undertaking is continued, without an express agreement, after the expiration of the term or completion of the undertaking, the rights and duties of the partners remain the same as they were at the expiration or completion, so far as is consistent with a partnership at will.

98 Acts, ch 1201, §25, 79, 82

ARTICLE 5

TRANSFEREES AND CREDITORS OF PARTNER

486A.501 Partner not co-owner of partnership property.

A partner is not a co-owner of partnership property and has no interest in partnership property which can be transferred, either voluntarily or involuntarily.

98 Acts, ch 1201, §26, 79, 82

486A.502 Partner's transferable interest in partnership.

The only transferable interest of a partner in the partnership is the partner's share of the profits and losses of the partnership and the partner's right to receive distributions. The interest is personal property.

98 Acts, ch 1201, §27, 79, 82

486A.503 Transfer of partner's transferable interest.

1. A transfer, in whole or in part, of a partner's transferable interest in the partnership is or does all of the following:

- a. Is permissible.
- b. Does not by itself cause the partner's dissociation or a dissolution and winding up of the partnership business.
- c. Does not, as against the other partners or the partnership, entitle the transferee, during the continuance of the partnership, to participate in the management or conduct of the partnership business, to require access to information concerning partnership transactions, or to inspect or copy the partnership books or records.

2. A transferee of a partner's transferable interest in the partnership has a right to all of the following:

- a. To receive, in accordance with the transfer, distributions to which the transferor would otherwise be entitled.
- b. To receive upon the dissolution and winding up of the partnership business, in accordance with the transfer, the net amount otherwise distributable to the transferor.
- c. To seek under section 486A.801, subsection 6, a judicial determination that it is equitable to wind up the partnership business.

3. In a dissolution and winding up, a transferee is entitled to an account of partnership transactions only from the date of the latest account agreed to by all of the partners.

4. Upon transfer, the transferor retains the rights and duties of a partner other than the interest in distributions transferred.

5. A partnership need not give effect to a transferee's rights under this section until it has notice of the transfer.

6. A transfer of a partner's transferable interest in the partnership in violation of a restriction on transfer contained in the partnership agreement is ineffective as to a person having notice of the restriction at the time of transfer.

486A.504 Partner's transferable interest subject to charging order.

1. On application by a judgment creditor of a partner or of a partner's transferee, a court having jurisdiction may charge the transferable interest of the judgment debtor to satisfy the judgment. The court may appoint a receiver of the share of the distributions due or to become due to the judgment debtor in respect of the partnership and make all other orders, directions, accounts, and inquiries the judgment debtor might have made or which the circumstances of the case may require.

2. A charging order constitutes a lien on the judgment debtor's transferable interest in the partnership. The court may order a foreclosure of the interest subject to the charging order at any time. The purchaser at the foreclosure sale has the rights of a transferee.

3. At any time before foreclosure, an interest charged may be redeemed by or with any of the following:

- a. By the judgment debtor.
- b. With property other than partnership property, by one or more of the other partners.
- c. With partnership property, by one or more of the other partners with the consent of all of the partners whose interests are not so charged.

4. This chapter does not deprive a partner of a right under exemption laws with respect to the partner's interest in the partnership.

5. This section provides the exclusive remedy by which a judgment creditor of a partner or partner's transferee may satisfy a judgment out of the judgment debtor's transferable interest in the partnership.

ARTICLE 6

PARTNER'S DISSOCIATION

486A.601 Events causing partner's dissociation.

A partner is dissociated from a partnership upon the occurrence of any of the following events:

1. The partnership's having notice of the partner's express will to withdraw as a partner or on a later date specified by the partner.

2. An event agreed to in the partnership agreement as causing the partner's dissociation.

3. The partner's expulsion pursuant to the partnership agreement.

4. The partner's expulsion by the unanimous vote of the other partners if any of the following apply:

a. It is unlawful to carry on the partnership business with that partner.

b. There has been a transfer of all or substantially all of that partner's transferable interest in the partnership, other than a transfer for security purposes, or a court order charging the partner's interest, which has not been foreclosed.

c. Within ninety days after the partnership notifies a corporate partner that it will be expelled because it has filed a certificate of dissolution or the equivalent, its charter has been revoked, or its right to conduct business has been suspended by the jurisdiction of its incorporation, there is no revocation of the certificate of dissolution or no reinstatement of its charter or its right to conduct business.

d. A partnership, limited partnership, or limited liability company that is a partner has been dissolved and its business is being wound up.

5. On application by the partnership or another partner, the partner's expulsion by judicial determination because of any of the following:

a. The partner engaged in wrongful conduct that adversely and materially affected the partnership business.

b. The partner willfully or persistently committed a material breach of the partnership agreement or of a duty owed to the partnership or the other partners under section 486A.404.

c. The partner engaged in conduct relating to the partnership business which makes it not reasonably practicable to carry on the business in partnership with the partner.

6. The partner's actions constituting any of the following:

a. Becoming a debtor in bankruptcy.

b. Executing an assignment for the benefit of creditors.

c. Seeking, consenting to, or acquiescing in the appointment of a trustee, receiver, or liquidator of that partner or of all or substantially all of that partner's property.

d. Failing, within ninety days after the appointment, to have vacated or stayed the appointment of a trustee, receiver, or liquidator of the partner or of all or substantially all of the partner's property obtained without the partner's consent or acquiescence, or failing within ninety days after the expiration of a stay to have the appointment vacated.

7. In the case of a partner who is an individual any of the following:

a. The partner's death.

b. The appointment of a general guardian or general conservator for the partner.

c. A judicial determination that the partner has otherwise become incapable of performing the partner's duties under the partnership agreement.

8. In the case of a partner that is a trust or is acting as a partner by virtue of being a trustee of a trust, distribution of the trust's entire transferable interest in the partnership, but not merely by reason of the substitution of a successor trustee.

9. In the case of a partner that is an estate or is acting as a partner by virtue of being a personal representative of an estate, distribution of the estate's entire transferable interest in the partnership, but not merely by reason of the substitution of a successor personal representative.

10. Termination of a partner who is not an individual, partnership, corporation, trust, or estate.

486A.602 Partner's power to dissociate — wrongful dissociation.

1. A partner has the power to dissociate at any time, rightfully or wrongfully, by express will pursuant to section 486A.601, subsection 1.

2. A partner's dissociation is wrongful only if any of the following applies:

a. It is in breach of an express provision of the partnership agreement.

b. In the case of a partnership for a definite term or particular undertaking, before the expiration of the term or the completion of the undertaking if any of the following occur:

(1) The partner withdraws by express will, unless the withdrawal follows within ninety days after another partner's dissociation by death or otherwise under section 486A.601, subsections 6 through 10, or wrongful dissociation under this subsection.

(2) The partner is expelled by judicial determination under section 486A.601, subsection 5.

(3) The partner is dissociated by becoming a debtor in bankruptcy.

(4) In the case of a partner who is not an individual, trust other than a business trust, or estate, the partner is expelled or otherwise dissociated because it willfully dissolved or terminated.

3. A partner who wrongfully dissociates is liable to the partnership and to the other partners for damages caused by the dissociation. The liability is in addition to any other obligation of the partner to the partnership or to the other partners.

486A.603 Effect of partner's dissociation.

1. If a partner's dissociation results in a dissolution and winding up of the partnership business, article 8 applies; otherwise, article 7 applies.

2. Upon a partner's dissociation all of the following apply:

a. The partner's right to participate in the management and conduct of the partnership business terminates, except as otherwise provided in section 486A.803.

b. The partner's duty of loyalty under section 486A.404, subsection 2, paragraph "c", terminates.

c. The partner's duty of loyalty under section 486A.404, subsection 2, paragraphs "a" and "b", and duty of care under section 486A.404, subsection 3, continue only with regard to matters arising and events occurring before the partner's dissociation, unless the partner participates in winding up the partnership's business pursuant to section 486A.803.

98 Acts, ch 1201, §32, 79, 82

ARTICLE 7

PARTNER'S DISSOCIATION WHEN BUSINESS
NOT WOUND UP486A.701 Purchase of dissociated partner's interest.

1. If a partner is dissociated from a partnership without resulting in a dissolution and winding up of the partnership business under section 486A.801, the partnership shall cause the dissociated partner's interest in the partnership to be purchased for a buyout price determined pursuant to subsection 2.

2. The buyout price of a dissociated partner's interest is the amount that would have been distributable to the dissociating partner under section 486A.807, subsection 2, if, on the date of dissociation, the assets of the partnership were sold at a price equal to the greater of the liquidation value or the value based on a sale of the entire business as a going concern without the dissociated partner and the partnership were wound up as of that date. Interest must be paid from the date of dissociation to the date of payment.

3. Damages for wrongful dissociation under section 486A.602, subsection 2, and all other amounts owing, whether or not presently due, from the dissociated partner to the partnership, must be offset against the buyout price. Interest must be paid from the date the amount owed becomes due to the date of payment.

4. A partnership shall indemnify a dissociated partner whose interest is being purchased against all partnership liabilities, whether incurred before or after the dissociation, except liabilities incurred by an act of the dissociated partner under section 486A.702.

5. If no agreement for the purchase of a dissociated partner's interest is reached within one hundred twenty days after a written demand for payment, the partnership shall pay, or cause to be paid, in cash to the dissociated partner the amount the partnership estimates to be the buyout price and accrued interest, reduced by any offsets and accrued interest under subsection 3.

6. If a deferred payment is authorized under subsection 8, the partnership may tender a written offer to pay the amount the partnership estimates to be the buyout price and accrued interest, reduced by any offsets under subsection 3, stating the time of payment, the amount and type of security for payment, and the other terms and conditions of the obligation.

7. The payment or tender required by subsection 5 or 6 must be accompanied by all of the following:

a. A written statement of partnership assets and liabilities as of the date of dissociation.

b. The latest available partnership balance sheet and income statement, if any.

c. A written explanation of how the estimated amount of the payment was calculated.

d. Written notice that the payment is in full satisfaction of the obligation to purchase unless, within one hundred twenty days after the written notice, the dissociated partner commences an action to determine the buyout price, any offsets under subsection 3, or other terms of the obligation to purchase.

9. A dissociated partner may maintain an action against the partnership, pursuant to section 486A.405, subsection 2, paragraph "b", subparagraph (2), to determine the buyout price of that partner's interest, any offsets under subsection 3, or other terms of the obligation to purchase. The action must be commenced within one hundred twenty days after the partnership has tendered payment or an offer to pay or within one year after written demand for payment if no payment or offer to pay is tendered. The court shall determine the buyout price of the dissociated partner's interest, any offset due under subsection 3, and accrued interest, and enter judgment for any additional payment or refund. If deferred payment is authorized under subsection 8, the court shall also determine the security for payment and other terms of the obligation to purchase. The court may assess reasonable attorney's fees and the fees and expenses of appraisers or other experts for a party to the action, in amounts the court finds equitable, against a party that the court finds acted arbitrarily, vexatiously, or not in good faith. The finding may be based on the partnership's failure to tender payment or an offer to pay or to comply with subsection 7.

486A.702 Dissociated partner's power to bind and liability to partnership.

1. For two years after a partner dissociates without resulting in a dissolution and winding up of the partnership business, the partnership, including a surviving partnership under article 9, is bound by an act of the dissociated partner which would have bound the partnership under section 486A.301 before dissociation only if at the time of entering into the transaction all of the following apply:

a. The other party reasonably believed that the dissociated partner was then a partner.

b. The other party did not have notice of the partner's dissociation.

c. The other party is not deemed to have had knowledge under section 486A.303, subsection 5, or notice under section 486A.704, subsection 3.

2. A dissociated partner is liable to the partnership for any damage caused to the partnership arising from an obligation incurred by the dissociated partner after dissociation for which the partnership is liable under subsection 1.

486A.703 Dissociated partner's liability to other persons.

1. A partner's dissociation does not of itself discharge the partner's liability for a partnership obligation incurred before dissociation. A dissociated partner is not liable for a partnership obligation incurred after dissociation, except as otherwise provided in subsection 2.

2. A partner who dissociates without resulting in a dissolution and winding up of the partnership business is liable as a partner to the other party in a transaction entered into by the partnership, or a surviving partnership under article 9, within two years after the partner's dissociation, only if the partner is liable for the obligation under section 486A.306 and at the time of entering into the transaction all of the following apply:

a. The other party reasonably believed that the dissociated partner was then a partner.

b. The other party did not have notice of the partner's dissociation.

c. The other party is not deemed to have had knowledge under section 486A.303, subsection 5, or notice under section 486A.704, subsection 3.

3. By agreement with the partnership creditor and the partners continuing the business, a dissociated partner may be released from liability for a partnership obligation.

4. A dissociated partner is released from liability for a partnership obligation if a partnership creditor, with notice of the partner's dissociation but without the partner's consent, agrees to a material alteration in the nature or time of payment of a partnership obligation.

98 Acts, ch 1201, §35, 79, 82

486A.704 Statement of dissociation.

1. A dissociated partner or the partnership may file a statement of dissociation stating the name of the partnership and that the partner is dissociated from the partnership.

2. A statement of dissociation is a limitation on the authority of a dissociated partner for the purposes of section 486A.303, subsections 4 and 5.

3. For the purposes of section 486A.702, subsection 1, paragraph "c", and section 486A.703, subsection 2, paragraph "c", a person not a partner is deemed to have notice of the dissociation ninety days after the statement of dissociation is filed.

486A.705 Continued use of partnership name.

Continued use of a partnership name, or a dissociated partner's name as part of a partnership name, by partners continuing the business does not of itself make the dissociated partner liable for an obligation of the partners or the partnership continuing the business.

98 Acts, ch 1201, §37, 79, 82

ARTICLE 8

WINDING UP PARTNERSHIP BUSINESS

486A.801 Events causing dissolution and winding up of partnership business.

A partnership is dissolved, and its business must be wound up, only upon the occurrence of any of the following events:

1. In a partnership at will, the partnership's having notice from a partner, other than a partner who is dissociated under section 486A.601, subsections 2 through 10, of that partner's express will to withdraw as a partner, or on a later date specified by the partner.

2. In a partnership for a definite term or particular undertaking if any of the following occur or are present:

a. The expiration of ninety days after a partner's dissociation by death or otherwise under section 486A.601, subsections 6 through 10, or wrongful dissociation under section 486A.602, subsection 2, unless before that time a majority in interest of the remaining partners, including partners who have rightfully dissociated pursuant to section 486A.602, subsection 2, paragraph "b", subparagraph (1), agree to continue the partnership.

b. The express will of all of the partners to wind up the partnership business.

c. The expiration of the term or the completion of the undertaking.

3. An event agreed to in the partnership agreement resulting in the winding up of the partnership business.

4. An event that makes it unlawful for all or substantially all of the business of the partnership to be continued, but a cure of illegality within ninety days after notice to the partnership of the event is effective retroactively to the date of the event for purposes of this section.

5. On application by a partner, a judicial determination that concludes any of the following:

a. The economic purpose of the partnership is likely to be unreasonably frustrated.

b. Another partner has engaged in conduct relating to the partnership business which makes it not reasonably practicable to carry on the business in partnership with that partner.

c. It is not otherwise reasonably practicable to carry on the partnership business in conformity with the partnership agreement.

6. On application by a transferee of a partner's transferable interest, a judicial determination that it is equitable to wind up the partnership business at any of the following times:

a. After the expiration of the term or completion of the undertaking, if the partnership was for a definite term or particular undertaking at the time of the transfer or entry of the charging order that gave rise to the transfer.

b. At any time, if the partnership was a partnership at will at the time of the transfer or entry of the charging order that gave rise to the transfer.

486A.802 Partnership continues after dissolution.

1. Subject to subsection 2, a partnership continues after dissolution only for the purpose of winding up its business. The partnership is terminated when the winding up of its business is completed.

2. At any time after the dissolution of a partnership and before the winding up of its business is completed, all of the partners, including any dissociating partner other than a wrongfully dissociating partner, may waive the right to have the partnership's business wound up and the partnership terminated. In that event all of the following apply:

a. The partnership resumes carrying on its business as if dissolution had never occurred, and any liability incurred by the partnership or a partner after the dissolution and before the waiver is determined as if dissolution had never occurred.

b. The rights of a third party accruing under section 486A.804, subsection 1, or arising out of conduct in reliance on the dissolution before the third party knew or received a notification of the waiver shall not be adversely affected.

486A.803 Right to wind up partnership business.

1. After dissolution, a partner who has not wrongfully dissociated may participate in winding up the partnership's business, but on application of any partner, partner's legal representative, or transferee, the court, for good cause shown, may order judicial supervision of the winding up.

2. The legal representative of the last surviving partner may wind up a partnership's business.

3. A person winding up a partnership's business may preserve the partnership business or property as a going concern for a reasonable time, prosecute and defend actions and proceedings, whether civil, criminal, or administrative, settle and close the partnership's business, dispose of and transfer the partnership's property, discharge the partnership's liabilities, distribute the assets of the partnership pursuant to section 486A.807, settle disputes by mediation or arbitration, and perform other necessary acts.

486A.804 Partner's power to bind partnership after dissolution.

Subject to section 486A.805, a partnership is bound by a partner's act after dissolution that meets any of the following criteria:

1. Is appropriate for winding up the partnership business.

2. Would have bound the partnership under section 486A.301 before dissolution, if the other party to the transaction did not have notice of the dissolution.
98 Acts, ch 1201, §41, 79, 82

486A.805 Statement of dissolution.

1. After dissolution, a partner who has not wrongfully dissociated may file a statement of dissolution stating the name of the partnership and that the partnership has dissolved and is winding up its business.

2. A statement of dissolution cancels a filed statement of partnership authority for the purposes of section 486A.303, subsection 4, and is a limitation on authority for the purposes of section 486A.303, subsection 5.

3. For the purposes of sections 486A.301 and 486A.804, a person not a partner is deemed to have notice of the dissolution and the limitation on the partners' authority as a result of the statement of dissolution ninety days after it is filed.

4. After filing and, if appropriate, recording a statement of dissolution, a dissolved partnership may file and, if appropriate, record a statement of partnership authority which will operate with respect to a person not a partner as provided in section 486A.303, subsections 4 and 5, in any transaction, whether or not the transaction is appropriate for winding up the partnership business.

486A.806 Partner's liability to other partners after dissolution.

1. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2 and section 486A.306, after dissolution a partner is liable to the other partners for the partner's share of any partnership liability incurred under section 486A.804.

2. A partner who, with knowledge of the dissolution, incurs a partnership liability under section 486A.804, subsection 2, by an act that is not appropriate for winding up the partnership business is liable to the partnership for any damage caused to the partnership arising from the liability.

486A.807 Settlement of accounts and contributions among partners.

1. In winding up a partnership's business, the assets of the partnership, including the contributions of the partners required by this section, must be applied to discharge its obligations to creditors, including, to the extent permitted by law, partners who are creditors. Any surplus must be applied to pay in cash the net amount distributable to partners in accordance with their right to distributions under subsection 2.

2. Each partner is entitled to a settlement of all partnership accounts upon winding up the partnership business. In settling accounts among the partners, profits and losses that result from the liquidation of the partnership assets must be credited and charged to the partners' accounts. The partnership shall make a distribution to a partner in an amount equal to any excess of the credits over the charges in the partner's account. A partner shall contribute to the partnership an amount equal to any excess of the charges over the credits in the partner's account, but excluding from the calculation charges attributable to an obligation for which the partner is not personally liable under section 486A.306.

3. If a partner fails to contribute the full amount required under subsection 2, all of the other partners shall contribute, in the proportions in which those partners share partnership losses, the additional amount necessary to satisfy the partnership obligations for which they are personally liable under section 486A.306. A partner or partner's legal representative may recover from the other partners any contributions the partner makes to the extent the amount contributed exceeds that partner's share of the partnership obligations for which the partner is personally liable under section 486A.306.

4. After the settlement of accounts, each partner shall contribute, in the proportion in which the partner shares partnership losses, the amount necessary to satisfy partnership obligations that were not known at the time of the settlement and for which the partner is personally liable under section 486A.306.

5. The estate of a deceased partner is liable for the partner's obligation to contribute to the partnership.

6. An assignee for the benefit of creditors of a partnership or a partner, or a person appointed by a court to represent creditors of a partnership or a partner, may enforce a partner's obligation to contribute to the partnership.

98 Acts, ch 1201, §44, 79, 82

ARTICLE 9

CONVERSIONS AND MERGERS

486A.901 Definitions.

In this article:

1. "General partner" means a partner in a partnership and a general partner in a limited partnership.

2. "Limited partner" means a limited partner in a limited partnership.

3. "Limited partnership" means a limited partnership created under chapter 487, predecessor law, or comparable law of another jurisdiction.

4. "Partner" includes both a general partner and a limited partner.

98 Acts, ch 1201, §45, 79, 82

486A.902 Conversion of partnership to limited partnership.

1. A partnership may be converted to a limited partnership pursuant to this section.

2. The terms and conditions of a conversion of a partnership to a limited partnership must be approved by all of the partners or by a number or percentage specified for conversion in the partnership agreement.

3. After the conversion is approved by the partners, the partnership shall file a certificate of limited partnership in the jurisdiction in which the limited partnership is to be formed. The certificate must include all of the following:

a. A statement that the partnership was converted to a limited partnership from a partnership.

b. Its former name.

c. A statement of the number of votes cast by the partners for and against the conversion and, if the vote is less than unanimous, the number or percentage required to approve the conversion under the partnership agreement.

4. The conversion takes effect when the certificate of limited partnership is filed or at any later date specified in the certificate.

5. A general partner who becomes a limited partner as a result of the conversion remains liable as a general partner for an obligation incurred by the partnership before the conversion takes effect. If the other party to a transaction with the limited partnership reasonably believes when entering the transaction that the limited partner is a general partner, the limited partner is liable for an obligation incurred by the limited partnership within ninety days after the conversion takes effect. The limited partner's liability for all other obligations of the limited partnership incurred after the conversion takes effect is that of a limited partner as provided in chapter 487.

486A.903 Conversion of limited partnership to partnership.

1. A limited partnership may be converted to a partnership pursuant to this section.
 2. Notwithstanding a provision to the contrary in a limited partnership agreement, the terms and conditions of a conversion of a limited partnership to a partnership must be approved by all of the partners.
 3. After the conversion is approved by the partners, the limited partnership shall cancel its certificate of limited partnership.
 4. The conversion takes effect when the certificate of limited partnership is canceled.
 5. A limited partner who becomes a general partner as a result of the conversion remains liable only as a limited partner for an obligation incurred by the limited partnership before the conversion takes effect. Except as otherwise provided in section 486A.306, the partner is liable as a general partner for an obligation of the partnership incurred after the conversion takes effect.
- 98 Acts, ch 1201, §47, 79, 82

486A.904 Effect of conversion — entity unchanged.

1. A partnership or limited partnership that has been converted pursuant to this article is for all purposes the same entity that existed before the conversion.
 2. When a conversion takes effect all of the following apply:
 - a. All property owned by the converting partnership or limited partnership remains vested in the converted entity.
 - b. All obligations of the converting partnership or limited partnership continue as obligations of the converted entity.
 - c. An action or proceeding pending against the converting partnership or limited partnership may be continued as if the conversion had not occurred.
- 98 Acts, ch 1201, §48, 79, 82

486A.905 Merger of partnerships.

1. Pursuant to a plan of merger approved as provided in subsection 3, a partnership may be merged with one or more partnerships or limited partnerships.
2. The plan of merger must set forth all of the following:
 - a. The name of each partnership or limited partnership that is a party to the merger.
 - b. The name of the surviving entity into which the other partnerships or limited partnerships will merge.
 - c. Whether the surviving entity is a partnership or a limited partnership and the status of each partner.

- d. The terms and conditions of the merger.
 - e. The manner and basis of converting the interests of each party to the merger into interests or obligations of the surviving entity, or into money or other property in whole or part.
 - f. The street address of the surviving entity's chief executive office.
3. The plan of merger must be approved as follows:
 - a. In the case of a partnership that is a party to the merger, by all of the partners, or a number or percentage specified for merger in the partnership agreement.
 - b. In the case of a limited partnership that is a party to the merger, by the vote required for approval of a merger by the law of the state or foreign jurisdiction in which the limited partnership is organized and, in the absence of such a specifically applicable law, by all of the partners, notwithstanding a provision to the contrary in the partnership agreement.

4. After a plan of merger is approved and before the merger takes effect, the plan may be amended or abandoned as provided in the plan.

5. The merger takes effect on the later of any of the following:
 - a. The approval of the plan of merger by all parties to the merger, as provided in subsection 3.
 - b. The filing of all documents required by law to be filed as a condition to the effectiveness of the merger.
 - c. Any effective date specified in the plan of merger.
- 98 Acts, ch 1201, §49, 79, 82

486A.906 Effect of merger.

1. When a merger takes effect all of the following apply:
 - a. The separate existence of every partnership or limited partnership that is a party to the merger, other than the surviving entity, ceases.
 - b. All property owned by each of the merged partnerships or limited partnerships vests in the surviving entity.
 - c. All obligations of every partnership or limited partnership that is a party to the merger become the obligations of the surviving entity.
 - d. An action or proceeding pending against a partnership or limited partnership that is a party to the merger may be continued as if the merger had not occurred, or the surviving entity may be substituted as a party to the action or proceeding.
2. The secretary of state of this state is the agent for service of process in an action or proceeding against a surviving foreign partnership or limited partnership to enforce an obligation of a domestic partnership or limited partnership that is a party to a merger. The surviving entity shall promptly notify the secretary of state of the mailing address of its chief executive office and of any change of address. Upon receipt of process, the secretary of state shall mail a copy of the process to the surviving foreign partnership or limited partnership.

3. A partner of the surviving partnership or limited partnership is liable for all of the following:

a. All obligations of a party to the merger for which the partner was personally liable before the merger.

b. All other obligations of the surviving entity incurred before the merger by a party to the merger, but those obligations may be satisfied only out of property of the surviving entity.

c. Except as otherwise provided in section 486A.306, all obligations of the surviving entity incurred after the merger takes effect, but those obligations may be satisfied only out of property of the surviving entity if the partner is a limited partner.

4. If the obligations incurred before the merger by a party to the merger are not satisfied out of the property of the surviving partnership or limited partnership, the general partners of that party immediately before the effective date of the merger shall contribute the amount necessary to satisfy that party's obligations to the surviving entity, in the manner provided in section 486A.807 or in chapter 487 or under the law of the jurisdiction in which the party was formed, as the case may be, as if the merged party were dissolved.

5. A partner of a party to a merger who does not become a partner of the surviving partnership or limited partnership is dissociated from the entity, of which that partner was a partner, as of the date the merger takes effect. The surviving entity shall cause the partner's interest in the entity to be purchased under section 486A.701 or another statute specifically applicable to that partner's interest with respect to a merger. The surviving entity is bound under section 486A.702 by an act of a general partner dissociated under this subsection, and the partner is liable under section 486A.703 for transactions entered into by the surviving entity after the merger takes effect.

486A.907 Statement of merger.

1. After a merger, the surviving partnership or limited partnership may file a statement that one or more partnerships or limited partnerships have merged into the surviving entity.

2. A statement of merger must contain all of the following:

a. The name of each partnership or limited partnership that is a party to the merger.

b. The name of the surviving entity into which the other partnerships or limited partnership were merged.

c. The street address of the surviving entity's chief executive office and of an office in this state, if any.

d. Whether the surviving entity is a partnership or a limited partnership.

3. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 4, for the purposes of section 486A.302, property of the surviving partnership or limited partnership which before the merger was held in the name of another party to the merger is property held in the name of the surviving entity upon filing a statement of merger.

4. For the purposes of section 486A.302, real property of the surviving partnership or limited partnership which before the merger was held in the name of another party to the merger is property held in the name of the surviving entity upon recording a certified copy of the statement of merger in the office for recording transfers of that real property.

5. A filed and, if appropriate, recorded statement of merger, executed and declared to be accurate pursuant to section 486A.105, subsection 3, stating the name of a partnership or limited partnership that is a party to the merger in whose name property was held before the merger and the name of the surviving entity, but not containing all of the other information required by subsection 2, operates with respect to the partnerships or limited partnerships named to the extent provided in subsections 3 and 4.

486A.908 Nonexclusive.

This article is not exclusive. Partnerships or limited partnerships may be converted or merged in any other manner provided by law.

98 Acts, ch 1201, §52, 79, 82

ARTICLE 10

LIMITED LIABILITY PARTNERSHIP

486A.1001 Statement of qualification.

1. A partnership may become a limited liability partnership pursuant to this section.

2. The terms and conditions on which a partnership becomes a limited liability partnership must be approved by the vote necessary to amend the partnership agreement except, in the case of a partnership agreement that expressly considers obligations to contribute to the partnership, by the vote necessary to amend those provisions.

3. After the approval required by subsection 2, a partnership may become a limited liability partnership by filing a statement of qualification. The statement must contain all of the following:

a. The name of the partnership.

b. The street address of the partnership's chief executive office and, if different, the street address of an office in this state, if any.

c. The address of a registered office and the name and address of a registered agent for service of process in this state, which the partnership is required to maintain as provided in section 486A.1211.

d. A statement that the partnership elects to be a limited liability partnership.

e. A deferred effective date, if any.

4. The statement shall be executed by one or more partners authorized to execute the statement on behalf of the partnership.

5. The status of a partnership as a limited liability partnership is effective on the later of the filing of the statement or a date specified in the statement. The status remains effective, regardless of changes in the partnership, until the statement is canceled pursuant to section 486A.105, subsection 4.

6. The status of a partnership as a limited liability partnership and the liability of its partners is not affected by errors or later changes in the information required to be contained in the statement of qualification under subsection 3.

7. The filing of a statement of qualification establishes that a partnership has satisfied all conditions precedent to the qualification of the partnership as a limited liability partnership.

8. An amendment or cancellation of a statement of qualification is effective when it is filed or on a deferred effective date specified in the amendment or cancellation.

486A.1002 Name.

The name of a limited liability partnership must end with “Registered Limited Liability Partnership”, “Limited Liability Partnership”, “R.L.L.P.”, “L.L.P.”, “RLLP”, or “LLP”.

98 Acts, ch 1201, §54, 79, 82

ARTICLE 11

FOREIGN LIMITED LIABILITY PARTNERSHIP

486A.1101 Law governing foreign limited liability partnership.

1. The law under which a foreign limited liability partnership is formed governs relations among the partners and between the partners and the partnership and the liability of partners for obligations of the partnership.

2. A foreign limited liability partnership may not be denied a statement of foreign qualification by reason of any difference between the law under which the partnership was formed and the law of this state.

3. A statement of foreign qualification does not authorize a foreign limited liability partnership to engage in any business or exercise any power that a partnership may not engage in or exercise in this state as a limited liability partnership.

98 Acts, ch 1201, §55, 79, 82

486A.1102 Statement of foreign qualification.

1. Before transacting business in this state, a foreign limited liability partnership must file a statement of foreign qualification. The statement must contain all of the following:

a. The name of the foreign limited liability partnership which satisfies the requirements of the state or other jurisdiction under whose law it is formed and ends with “Registered Limited Liability Partnership”, “Limited Liability Partnership”, “R.L.L.P.”, “L.L.P.”, “RLLP”, or “LLP”.

b. The street address of the partnership’s chief executive office and, if different, the street address of an office of the partnership in this state, if any.

c. If there is no office of the partnership in this state, the name and street address of the partnership’s agent for service of process.

d. A deferred effective date, if any.

3. The status of a partnership as a foreign limited liability partnership is effective on the later of the filing of the statement of foreign qualification or a date specified in the statement. The status remains effective, regardless of changes in the partnership, until it is canceled pursuant to section 486A.105, subsection 4.

4. An amendment or cancellation of a statement of foreign qualification is effective when it is filed or on a deferred effective date specified in the amendment or cancellation.

486A.1103 Effect of failure to qualify.

1. A foreign limited liability partnership transacting business in this state may not maintain an action or proceeding in this state unless it has in effect a statement of foreign qualification.

2. The failure of a foreign limited liability partnership to have in effect a statement of foreign qualification does not impair the validity of a contract or act of the foreign limited liability partnership or preclude it from defending an action or proceeding in this state.

3. A limitation on personal liability of a partner is not waived solely by transacting business in this state without a statement of foreign qualification.

4. If a foreign limited liability partnership transacts business in this state without a statement of foreign qualification, the secretary of state is its agent for service of process with respect to a right of action arising out of the transaction of business in this state.

486A.1104 Activities not constituting transacting business.

1. Activities of a foreign limited liability partnership which do not constitute transacting business for the purpose of this article include all of the following:

- a. Maintaining, defending, or settling an action or proceeding.
- b. Holding meetings of its partners or carrying on any other activity concerning its internal affairs.
- c. Maintaining bank accounts.
- d. Maintaining offices or agencies for the transfer, exchange, and registration of the partnership's own securities or maintaining trustees or depositories with respect to those securities.
- e. Selling through independent contracts.
- f. Soliciting or obtaining orders, whether by mail or through employees or agents or otherwise, if the orders require acceptance outside this state before they become contracts.
- g. Creating or acquiring indebtedness, with or without a mortgage, or other security interest in property.
- h. Collecting debts or foreclosing mortgages or other security interests in property securing the debts, and holding, protecting, and maintaining property so acquired.
- i. Conducting an isolated transaction that is completed within thirty days and is not one in the course of similar transactions.
- j. Transacting business in interstate commerce.

2. For purposes of this article, the ownership in this state of income-producing real property or tangible personal property, other than property excluded under subsection 1, constitutes transacting business in this state.

3. This section does not apply in determining the contracts or activities that may subject a foreign limited liability partnership to service of process, taxation, or regulation under any other law of this state.

98 Acts, ch 1201, §58, 79, 82

486A.1105 Action by attorney general.

The attorney general may maintain an action to restrain a foreign limited liability partnership from transacting business in this state in violation of this article.

98 Acts, ch 1201, §59, 79, 82

ARTICLE 12

FILING PROVISIONS

486A.1201 Filing requirements.

1. A document shall satisfy the requirements of this section, and of any other section that adds to or varies these requirements, to be entitled to filing.

2. The document shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state.

3. The document shall contain the information required by this chapter. The document may contain other information as well.

4. The document shall be typewritten or printed. The typewritten or printed portion shall be black. Manually signed photocopies, or other reproduced copies, including facsimiles or other electronically or computer-generated copies of typewritten or printed documents may be filed.

5. The document shall be in the English language. A limited partnership name need not be in English if written in English letters or arabic or roman numerals.

6. Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, the document shall be executed by one of the following methods:

- a. By two or more partners.
- b. By a person authorized under this chapter, the partnership agreement, or other law to execute the document.
- c. If the partnership is in the hands of a receiver, trustee, or other court-appointed fiduciary, by such receiver, trustee, or fiduciary.
- d. If the document is that of a registered agent, by the registered agent, if the person is an individual, or by a person authorized by the registered agent to execute the document, if the registered agent is an entity.

7. The person executing the document shall sign it and state beneath or opposite the person's signature, the person's name and the capacity in which the person signs. The secretary of state may accept for filing a document containing a copy of a signature, however made.

8. If, pursuant to any provision of this chapter, the secretary of state has prescribed a mandatory form for the document, the document shall be in or on the prescribed form.

9. The document shall be delivered to the office of the secretary of state for filing and shall be accompanied by the correct filing fee.

10. The secretary of state may adopt rules for the electronic filing of documents and the certification of electronically filed documents.

486A.1202 Fees.

1. The secretary of state shall collect fees for documents described in this subsection which are delivered to the secretary's office for filing as follows:

DOCUMENT	FEE
a. Statement of qualification	$ 50
b. Statement of foreign qualification	$100
c. Amendment to statement of qualification	$ 20
d. Amendment to statement of foreign qualification	$ 20
e. Cancellation of statement of qualification	$ 20
f. Cancellation of statement of foreign qualification	$ 20
g. Application for certificate of existence or qualification	$ 5
h. Any other statement or document required or permitted to be filed	$ 5

2. The secretary of state shall collect a fee of five dollars each time process is served on the secretary under this chapter. The party to a proceeding causing service of process is entitled to recover this fee as costs if the party prevails in the proceeding.

3. The secretary of state shall collect fees for copying and certifying the copy of any filed document relating to a domestic or foreign partnership as follows:

- a.* One dollar a page for copying.
 - b.* Five dollars for the certificate.
- 98 Acts, ch 1201, §61, 79, 82

486A.1203 Effective time and date of documents.

1. Except as provided in subsection 2 and section 486A.1204, subsection 3, a document accepted for filing is effective at the later of the following:

- a.* At the time of filing on the date it is filed, as evidenced by the secretary of state's date and time endorsement on the original document.
- b.* At the time specified in the document as its effective time on the date it is filed.

2. A document may specify a delayed effective time and date, and if it does so the document becomes effective at the time and date specified. If a delayed effective date but no time is specified, the document is effective at the close of business on that date. A delayed effective date for a document shall not be later than the ninetieth day after the date it is filed.

486A.1204 Correcting filed documents.

1. A partnership may correct a document filed by the secretary of state if the document satisfies one or both of the following:

- a.* The document contains an incorrect statement.
- b.* The document was defectively executed, attested, sealed, verified, or acknowledged.

2. A document is corrected by complying with both of the following:

a. By preparing a statement of correction that satisfies all of the following:

(1) The statement describes the document, including its filing date, or a copy of the document is attached to the statement.

(2) The statement specifies the incorrect statement and the reason it is incorrect or the manner in which the execution was defective.

(3) The statement corrects the incorrect statement or defective execution.

b. By delivering the statement to the secretary of state for filing.

3. Statements of corrections are effective on the effective date of the document they correct except as to persons relying on the uncorrected document and adversely affected by the correction. As to those persons, statements of correction are effective when filed.

486A.1205 Filing duty of secretary of state.

1. If a document delivered to the office of the secretary of state for filing satisfies the requirements of section 486A.1201, the secretary of state shall file it and issue any necessary certificate.

2. The secretary of state files a document by stamping or otherwise endorsing "filed", together with the secretary of state's name and official title and the date and time of receipt, on both the document and the receipt for the filing fee. After filing a document, and except as provided in sections 486A.304 and 486A.1213, the secretary of state shall deliver the document, with the filing fee receipt, or acknowledgment of receipt if no fee is required, attached, to the domestic or foreign partnership or its representative.

3. If the secretary of state refuses to file a document, the secretary of state shall return it to the domestic or foreign partnership or its representative within ten days after the document was received by the secretary of state, together with a brief, written explanation of the reason for the refusal.

4. The secretary of state's duty to file documents under this section is ministerial. Filing or refusing to file a document does not do any of the following:

- a.* Affect the validity or invalidity of the document in whole or part.

b. Relate to the correctness or incorrectness of information contained in the document.

c. Create a presumption that the document is valid or invalid or that information contained in the document is correct or incorrect.

486A.1206 Appeal from secretary of state's refusal to file document.

1. If the secretary of state refuses to file a document delivered to the secretary of state's office for filing, the domestic or foreign partnership may appeal the refusal, within thirty days after the return of the document, to the district court for the county in which the partnership's principal office is located or, if none is located in this state, for the county in which its registered office is or will be located. The appeal is commenced by petitioning the court to compel filing the document and by attaching to the petition the document and the secretary of state's explanation of the refusal to file.

2. The court may summarily order the secretary of state to file the document or take other action the court considers appropriate.

3. The court's final decision may be appealed as in other civil proceedings.

486A.1207 Evidentiary effect of copy of filed document.

A certificate attached to a copy of a document filed by the secretary of state, bearing the secretary of state's signature, which may be in facsimile, and the seal of the secretary of state, is conclusive evidence that the original document is on file with the secretary of state.

486A.1208 Certificates issued by secretary of state.

1. The secretary of state shall issue to any person, upon request, a certificate that sets forth any facts recorded in the office of the secretary of state.

2. A certificate issued by the secretary of state may be relied upon, subject to any qualification stated in the certificate, as prima facie evidence of the facts set forth in the certificate.

98 Acts, ch 1201, §67, 79, 82

486A.1209 Penalty for signing false document.

1. A person commits an offense if that person signs a document the person knows is false in any material respect with intent that the document be delivered to the secretary of state for filing.

2. An offense under this section is a serious misdemeanor punishable by a fine not to exceed one thousand dollars.

98 Acts, ch 1201, §68, 79, 82

486A.1210 Secretary of state powers.

The secretary of state has the power reasonably necessary to perform the duties required of the secretary of state by this chapter.

486A.1211 Registered office and registered agent.

Each partnership that is qualified under section 486A.1001 shall continuously maintain in this state the following:

1. A registered office.

2. A registered agent, who is one of the following:

a. An individual who resides in this state and whose business office is identical with the registered office.

b. A domestic corporation whose business office is identical with the registered office.

c. A foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state whose business office is identical with the registered office.

98 Acts, ch 1201, §70, 79, 82

486A.1212 Change of registered office or registered agent.

1. A partnership may change its registered office or registered agent by delivering to the secretary of state for filing a statement of change that sets forth all of the following:

a. The name of the partnership.

b. The street address of its current registered office.

c. If the registered office is to be changed, the street address of the new registered office.

d. The name of its current registered agent.

e. If the registered agent is to be changed, the name of the new registered agent and the new registered agent's written consent to the appointment, either on the statement of change or in an accompanying document.

f. That, after the change or changes are made, the street addresses of its registered office and of the business office of its registered agent will be identical.

2. If a registered agent changes the street address of the registered agent's business office, the registered agent may change the street address of the registered office of any partnership for which the registered agent is the registered agent by giving written notice to the partnership of the change and executing, either manually or in facsimile, and delivering to the secretary of state for filing a statement of change that complies with the requirements of subsection 1 and recites that notice of the change has been given to the partnership.

486A.1213 Resignation of registered agent.

1. The registered agent of a partnership may resign the agency by delivering to the secretary of state for filing a statement of resignation, which shall be accompanied by two exact or conformed copies of such statement. The statement of resignation may include a statement that the registered office is also discontinued.

2. After filing the statement of resignation, the secretary of state shall deliver one copy to the registered office of the partnership and the other copy to the chief executive office of the partnership.

98 Acts, ch 1201, §72, 79, 82

486A.1214 Service on partnership.

2. If a partnership has no registered agent, or the registered agent cannot with reasonable diligence be served, the partnership may be served by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, addressed to the partnership at its chief executive office. Service is perfected under this subsection at the earliest of the following:

a. The date the partnership receives the process, notice, or demand.

b. The date shown on the return receipt, if signed on behalf of the partnership.

c. Five days after mailing.

3. This section does not prescribe the only means, or necessarily the required means, of serving a partnership.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

487.101 Definitions.

As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. “Certificate of limited partnership” means the certificate referred to in section 487.201, and the certificate as amended or restated.

2. “Contribution” means cash, property, services rendered, or a promissory note or other binding obligation to contribute cash or property or to perform services, which a partner contributes to a limited partnership in the partner’s capacity as a partner.

3. “Event of withdrawal of a general partner” means an event that causes a person to cease to be a general partner as provided in section 487.402.

4. “Foreign limited partnership” means a partnership formed under the laws of a state other than this state and having as partners one or more general partners and one or more limited partners.

5. “General partner” means a person who has been admitted to a limited partnership as a general partner in accordance with the partnership agreement and named in the certificate of limited partnership as a general partner.

6. “Limited partner” means a person who has been admitted to a limited partnership as a limited partner in accordance with the partnership agreement.

7. “Limited partnership” and “domestic limited partnership” mean a partnership formed by two or more persons under the laws of this state and having one or more general partners and one or more limited partners.

8. “Partner” means a limited or general partner.

9. “Partnership agreement” means a valid agreement, written or oral, of the partners as to the affairs of a limited partnership and the conduct of its business.

10. “Partnership interest” means a partner’s share of the profits and losses of a limited partnership and the right to receive distributions of partnership assets.

11. “Person” means as defined in section 4.1.

12. “State” means a state, territory, or possession of the United States, the District of Columbia, or the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

[C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9806; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §545.1; 82 Acts, ch 1103, §101]

C93, §487.101

97 Acts, ch 188, §1, 2

487.102 Name.

The name of each limited partnership as set forth in its certificate of limited partnership:

1. Shall contain the words “limited partnership” or the abbreviation “L.P.”.

2. Shall not contain the name of a limited partner unless either or both of the following apply:

a. That name is also the name of a general partner or the corporate name of a corporate general partner.

b. The business of the limited partnership had been carried on under that name before admission of that limited partner.

3. Shall be distinguishable upon the records of the secretary of state from the name of a registered limited liability partnership, corporation, limited liability company, or limited partnership organized under the law of this state or licensed or registered as a foreign registered limited liability partnership, foreign corporation, foreign limited liability company, or foreign limited partnership in this state or a name the exclusive right to which is, at the time, reserved in the manner provided in this chapter, without the written consent of the registered limited liability partnership, corporation, limited liability company, or limited partnership, which consent shall be filed with the secretary of state, and provided the name is not identical.

4. Shall not contain either the word “corporation” or the word “incorporated” or an abbreviation of either.

5. This chapter does not control the use of fictitious names. However, a limited partnership which uses a fictitious name in this state shall deliver to the secretary of state for filing a copy of the resolution of the limited partnership certified by its general partners, adopting the fictitious name.

487.103 Reservation of name.

1. The exclusive right to the use of a name may be reserved by any of the following:

a. A person intending to organize a limited partnership under this chapter and to adopt that name.

b. A domestic limited partnership or a foreign limited partnership registered in this state which, in either case, intends to adopt that name.

c. A foreign limited partnership intending to register in this state and adopt that name.

d. A person intending to organize a foreign limited partnership and intending to have it register in this state and adopt that name.

2. The reservation shall be made by filing with the secretary of state an application to reserve a specified name. If the secretary of state finds that the name is available for use by a domestic or foreign limited partnership, the secretary shall reserve the name for the exclusive use of the applicant for a period of one hundred twenty days. The right to the exclusive use of a reserved name may be transferred to any other person by filing in the office of the secretary of state a notice of the transfer, executed by the applicant for whom the name was reserved and specifying the name and address of the transferee.

487.104 Specified office and agent — service of process.

1. A limited partnership shall continuously maintain in this state both of the following:

a. An office, which may, but need not be, a place of its business in this state. The records required to be maintained by section 487.105 shall be kept at the office.

b. An agent for service of process on the limited partnership. The agent shall be either an individual resident of this state, a domestic corporation, or a foreign corporation authorized to do business in this state.

3. An agent for service of process may resign as agent by signing and delivering to the secretary of state an original statement of resignation for filing in accordance with section 487.108. The agent shall send a copy of the statement of resignation by certified mail to the limited partnership at its principal place of business. The agent shall certify to the secretary of state that the copy has been sent to the limited partnership, including the date the copy was sent. The appointment of the agent terminates on the date on which the statement is filed by the secretary of state.

4. If a limited partnership fails to appoint or maintain an agent for service of process or if its agent cannot with reasonable diligence be found at the address of the agent recorded with the secretary of state, then the secretary of state is an agent of the limited partnership upon whom any process, notice, or demand may be served. Service may be made by delivering to the secretary of state duplicate copies of the process, notice, or demand. If the process, notice, or demand is served on the secretary of state, the secretary of state shall immediately cause one of the copies to be forwarded by certified mail, addressed to the limited partnership at its principal place of business. A limited partnership served in accordance with this subsection is not in default until thirty days have elapsed following the service on the secretary of state.

The secretary of state shall keep a record of all processes, notices, and demands served upon the secretary of state under this subsection, and shall record the time of the service and the action taken.

This subsection does not limit or affect the right to serve any process, notice, or demand required or permitted by law to be served upon a limited partnership in any other manner permitted by law.

487.104A Change of registered office or registered agent.

1. A limited partnership may change its registered office or registered agent by delivering to the secretary of state for filing a statement of change that sets forth all of the following:

a. The name of the limited partnership.

b. If the current registered office is to be changed, the street address of the new registered office.

c. If the current registered agent is to be changed, the name of the new registered agent and the new agent's written consent, either on the statement or attached to it, to the appointment.

3. If a registered agent changes the registered agent's business address to another place, the registered agent may change the business address and the address of the registered agent by filing a statement as required in subsection 2 for each limited partnership, or a single statement for all limited partnerships named in the notice, except that it need be signed only by the registered agent or agents and need not be responsive to subsection 1, paragraph "c", and must recite that a copy of the statement has been mailed to each limited partnership named in the notice.

4. A document delivered to the secretary of state for the purpose of changing a limited partnership's registered agent or registered office may be executed by a general partner.

487.105 Records to be kept.

A limited partnership shall keep at the office required under section 487.104, subsection 1, all of the following:

1. A current list of the full name and last known business address of each partner, separately identifying the general partners and the limited partners, each list being in alphabetical order.
2. A copy of the certificate of limited partnership and all certificates of amendment to the certificate of limited partnership, together with executed copies of any powers of attorney pursuant to which any certificate has been executed.
3. Copies of the limited partnership's federal, state, and local income tax returns and reports, if any, for the three most recent years.
4. Copies of any currently effective written partnership agreements and of any financial statements of the limited partnership for the three most recent years.
5. Unless contained in a written partnership agreement, a writing setting out all of the following:
 - a. The amount of cash and a description and statement of the agreed value of the other property or services contributed by each partner and which each partner has agreed to contribute.
 - b. The times at which or events on the happening of which any additional contributions agreed to be made by each partner are to be made.
 - c. Any right of a partner to receive, or of a general partner to make, distributions to a partner which include a return of all or any part of the partner's contribution.
 - d. Any events upon the happening of which the limited partnership is to be dissolved and its affairs wound up.

Records kept under this section are subject to inspection and copying at the reasonable request and at the expense of any partner during ordinary business hours.

Subsection 1, NEW paragraphs 1–q and former paragraph 1 redesignated as r

487.110 Effective time and date of documents.

1. Except as provided in subsection 2 and section 487.112, subsection 3, a document accepted for filing is effective at the later of the following times:

a. At the time of filing on the date it is filed, as evidenced by the secretary of state's date and time endorsement on the original document.

b. At the time specified in the document as its effective time on the date it is filed.

2. A document may specify a delayed effective time and date, and if it does so the document becomes effective at the time and date specified. If a delayed effective date but no time is specified, the document is effective at the close of business on that date. A delayed effective date for a document shall not be later than the ninetieth day after the date it is filed.

487.111 Correcting filed documents.

1. A domestic or foreign limited partnership may correct a document filed by the secretary of state if the document satisfies one or both of the following requirements:

a. Contains an incorrect statement.

b. Was defectively executed, attested, sealed, verified, or acknowledged.

2. A document is corrected by preparing articles of correction that satisfy all of the following requirements:

a. Describe the document, including its filing date, or attach a copy of it to the articles.

b. Specify the incorrect statement and the reason it is incorrect or the manner in which the execution was defective.

c. Correct the incorrect statement or defective execution.

3. Articles of correction are effective on the effective date of the document they correct except as to persons relying on the uncorrected document and adversely affected by the correction. As to those persons, articles of correction are effective when filed.

487.112 Filing duty of secretary of state.

1. If a document delivered to the office of the secretary of state for filing satisfies the requirements of section 487.108, the secretary of state shall file it.

2. The secretary of state files a document by stamping or otherwise endorsing "filed", together with the secretary's name and official title and the date and time of receipt, on both the document and the receipt for the filing fee. After filing a document, and except as provided in section 487.104A, subsection 3, and section 487.909, the secretary of state shall deliver the document, with the filing fee receipt, or acknowledgment of receipt if no fee is required, attached, to the domestic or foreign limited partnership or its representative.

3. If the secretary of state refuses to file a document, the secretary of state shall return it to the domestic or foreign limited partnership or its representative within ten days after the document was received by the secretary of state, together with a brief, written explanation of the reason for the refusal.

4. The secretary of state's duty to file documents under this section is ministerial. Filing or refusing to file a document does not do any of the following:

- a. Affect the validity or invalidity of the document in whole or part.
- b. Relate to the correctness or incorrectness of information contained in the document.
- c. Create a presumption that the document is valid or invalid or that information contained in the document is correct or incorrect.

487.113 Appeal from secretary of state's refusal to file document.

1. If the secretary of state refuses to file a document delivered to the secretary's office for filing, the domestic or foreign limited partnership may appeal the refusal, within thirty days after the return of the document, to the district court for the county in which the limited partnership's principal office or, if none in this state, its registered office is or will be located. The appeal is commenced by petitioning the court to compel filing the document and by attaching to the petition the document and the secretary of state's explanation of the refusal to file.

2. The court may summarily order the secretary of state to file the document or take other action the court considers appropriate.

3. The court's final decision may be appealed as in other civil proceedings.

97 Acts, ch 188, §14

487.114 Evidentiary effect of copy of filed document.

A certificate attached to a copy of a document filed by the secretary of state, bearing the secretary of state's signature, which may be in facsimile, and the seal of the secretary of state, is conclusive evidence that the original document is on file with the secretary of state.

97 Acts, ch 188, §15

487.115 Certificate of existence.

1. Anyone may apply to the secretary of state to furnish a certificate of existence for a domestic limited partnership or a certificate of registration for a foreign limited partnership.

2. A certificate of existence or a certificate of registration shall set forth all of the following:

- a. The domestic limited partnership's name or the foreign limited partnership's name used in this state.
- b. That one of the following applies:

(2) If it is a foreign limited partnership, that it is authorized to transact business in this state.

c. That all fees required by this chapter have been paid.

d. That a certificate of cancellation has not been filed.

e. Other facts of record in the office of the secretary of state that may be requested by the applicant.

3. Subject to any qualification stated in the certificate, a certificate of existence or certificate of registration issued by the secretary of state may be relied upon as conclusive evidence that the domestic or foreign limited partnership is in existence or is registered to transact business in this state.

97 Acts, ch 188, §16

487.116 Penalty for signing false document.

1. A person commits an offense if that person signs a document the person knows is false in any material respect with intent that the document be delivered to the secretary of state for filing.

2. An offense under this section is a serious misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not to exceed one thousand dollars.

97 Acts, ch 188, §17

487.117 Secretary of state — powers.

The secretary of state has the power reasonably necessary to perform the duties required of the secretary of state by this chapter.

487.202 Amendment to certificate.

1. A certificate of limited partnership is amended by filing a certificate of amendment to the certificate of limited partnership in the office of the secretary of state. The certificate of amendment shall set forth both of the following:

- a. The name of the limited partnership.
- b. The amendment to the certificate.

2. Within thirty days after the happening of any of the following events, an amendment to a certificate of limited partnership reflecting the occurrence of the event shall be filed:

- a. The admission of a new general partner.
- b. The withdrawal of a general partner.
- c. The continuation of the business under section 487.801 after an event of withdrawal of a general partner.

3. A general partner who becomes aware that any statement in a certificate of limited partnership was false when made or that any arrangements or other facts described have changed, making the certificate inaccurate in any respect, shall promptly amend the certificate.

4. A certificate of limited partnership may be amended at any time for any other proper purpose the general partners determine.

5. A person is not liable because an amendment to a certificate of limited partnership has not been filed to reflect the occurrence of any event referred to in subsection 2 if the amendment is filed within the thirty-day period specified in subsection 2.

6. A restated certificate of limited partnership may be executed and filed in the same manner as a certificate of amendment. The restated certificate must contain the information required in section 487.201 and may set forth any other provision consistent with law.

487.204 Execution of certificates.

1. Each certificate required by this chapter to be filed in the office of the secretary of state shall be executed in the following manner:

a. A certificate of limited partnership shall be signed by all general partners.

b. A certificate of amendment shall be signed by at least one general partner and by each other general partner designated in the certificate as a new general partner.

c. A certificate of cancellation shall be signed by all general partners.

2. A person may sign a certificate by an attorney-in-fact.

3. The execution of a certificate by a general partner is the making of a statement under oath or affirmation in a matter in which statements under oath or affirmation are required, within the meaning of section 720.2.

LIMITED PARTNERS

487.301 Admission of limited partners.

1. A person becomes a limited partner at either of the following times:

a. At the time the limited partnership is formed.

b. At any later time specified in the records of the limited partnership for becoming a limited partner.

2. After the filing of a limited partnership's original certificate of limited partnership, a person may be admitted as a new limited partner under the following conditions:

a. In the case of a person acquiring a partnership interest directly from the limited partnership, upon compliance with the partnership agreement or, if the partnership agreement does not so provide, upon the written consent of all partners.

b. In the case of an assignee of a partnership interest of a partner who has the power, as provided in section 487.704, to grant the assignee the right to become a limited partner, upon the exercise of that power and compliance with any conditions limiting the grant or exercise of the power.

C83, §545.302

487.303 Liability to third parties.

1. Except as provided in subsection 4, a limited partner is not liable for the obligations of a limited partnership unless the limited partner is also a general partner or, in addition to the exercise of the limited partner's rights and powers as a limited partner, the limited partner participates in the control of the business. However, if the limited partner participates in the control of the business, the limited partner is liable only to persons who transact business with the limited partnership reasonably believing, based upon the limited partner's conduct, that the limited partner is a general partner.

2. A limited partner does not participate in the control of the business within the meaning of subsection 1 solely by doing one or more of the following:

a. Being a contractor for or an agent or employee of the limited partnership.

b. Being a contractor for or an agent, employee, manager, member, director, officer, or shareholder of or a limited partner of a general partner, or a partner in a limited liability partnership that is a general partner.

c. Consulting with and advising a general partner with respect to the business of the limited partnership.

d. Acting as surety for the limited partnership or guaranteeing or assuming one or more specific obligations of the limited partnership.

e. Taking any action required or permitted by law to bring or pursue a derivative action in the right of the limited partnership.

f. Requesting or attending a meeting of partners.

g. Proposing, approving, or disapproving, by voting or otherwise, one or more of the following matters:

(1) The dissolution and winding up of the limited partnership.

(2) The sale, exchange, lease, mortgage, pledge, or other transfer of all or substantially all the assets of the limited partnership.

(3) The incurrence of indebtedness by the limited partnership other than in the ordinary course of its business.

(4) A change in the nature of the business.

(5) The admission or removal of a general partner.

(6) The admission or removal of a limited partner.

(7) A transaction involving an actual or potential conflict of interest between a general partner and the limited partnership or the limited partners.

(8) An amendment to the partnership agreement or certificate of limited partnership.

(9) Matters related to the business of the limited partnership not otherwise enumerated in this subsection, which the partnership agreement states in writing may be subject to the approval or disapproval of limited partners.

h. Winding up the limited partnership pursuant to section 487.803.

i. Exercising any right or power permitted to limited partners under this chapter and not specifically enumerated in this subsection.

3. The enumeration in subsection 2 does not mean that the possession or exercise of any other powers by a limited partner constitutes participation by the limited partner in the business of the limited partnership.

4. A limited partner who knowingly permits the limited partner's name to be used in the name of the limited partnership, except under circumstances permitted by section 487.102, subsection 2, is liable to creditors who extend credit to the limited partnership without actual knowledge that the limited partner is not a general partner.

487.304 Erroneous belief of limited partner status — effect on liability as general partner.

1. Except as provided in subsection 2, a person who makes a contribution to a business enterprise and erroneously but in good faith believes that the person has become a limited partner in the enterprise is not a general partner in the enterprise and is not bound by its obligations by reason of making the contribution, receiving distributions from the enterprise, or exercising any rights of a limited partner, if, on ascertaining the mistake, the person does either of the following:

a. Causes an appropriate certificate of limited partnership or a certificate of amendment to be executed and filed.

b. Withdraws from future equity participation in the enterprise by executing and filing in the office of the secretary of state a certificate declaring withdrawal under this section.

2. A person who makes a contribution of the kind described in subsection 1 is liable as a general partner to a third party who transacts business with the enterprise before either of the following:

a. The person withdraws and an appropriate certificate is filed to show the withdrawal.

b. An appropriate certificate is filed to show that the person is not a general partner.

However, in either case referred to in paragraph "a" or "b", the person is liable as a general partner only if the third party actually believed in good faith that the person was a general partner at the time of the transaction.

487.305 Information.

Each limited partner may:

1. Inspect and copy the partnership records required to be maintained by section 487.105 and any of the partnership books.

2. Obtain from the general partners upon reasonable demand the following:

a. True and full information regarding the state of the business and financial condition of the limited partnership.

b. Copies of the limited partnership's federal, state, and local tax returns.

c. Other information regarding the affairs of the limited partnership as is just and reasonable.

GENERAL PARTNERS

487.401 Admission of additional general partners.

After the filing of a limited partnership's original certificate of limited partnership, additional general partners may be admitted as provided in writing in the partnership agreement or, if the partnership agreement does not provide in writing for the admission of additional general partners, with the written consent of all partners.

C93, §487.401

97 Acts, ch 188, §27

487.402 Events of withdrawal.

Except as approved by the specific written consent of all partners at the time, a person ceases to be a general partner of a limited partnership upon the happening of any of the following events:

1. The general partner withdraws from the limited partnership as provided in section 487.602.

2. The general partner ceases to be a member of the limited partnership as provided in section 487.702.

3. The general partner is removed as a general partner in accordance with the partnership agreement.

4. Unless otherwise provided in writing in the partnership agreement, the general partner does any of the following:

a. Makes an assignment for the benefit of creditors.

b. Files a voluntary petition in bankruptcy.

c. Is adjudicated a bankrupt or insolvent.

d. Files a petition or answer seeking for the general partner reorganization, arrangement, composition, readjustment, liquidation, dissolution, or similar relief under any statute, law, or regulation.

e. Files an answer or other pleading admitting or failing to contest material allegations of a petition filed against the general partner in a proceeding of a nature specified in paragraph "d".

f. Seeks, consents to, or acquiesces in the appointment of a trustee, receiver, or liquidator of the general partner or of all or a substantial part of the general partner's properties.

5. Unless otherwise provided in writing in the partnership agreement, upon the expiration of the following time periods:

a. One hundred twenty days after the commencement of a proceeding against the general partner seeking reorganization, arrangement, composition, readjustment, liquidation, dissolution, or similar relief, under any statute, law, or regulation, if the proceeding has not been dismissed within that time.

b. Ninety days after the appointment without the general partner's consent or acquiescence of a trustee, receiver, or liquidator of the general partner or of all or a substantial part of the general partner's properties, if the appointment is not vacated or stayed within that time.

c. If an appointment of the nature specified in paragraph "b" is stayed and if the appointment is not then vacated, ninety days after the expiration of the stay.

6. If the general partner is a natural person when either of the following occur:

a. The general partner dies.

b. The district court finds the general partner incapable of managing the general partner's person or property.

7. If the general partner is acting as a general partner by virtue of being a trustee of a trust, when the trust terminates. Substitution of a new trustee is not termination of the trust.

8. If the general partner is a separate partnership, the dissolution and commencement of winding up of the separate partnership.

9. If the general partner is a corporation, the filing of a certificate of dissolution, or its equivalent, for the corporation or revocation of the corporation's charter.

10. If the general partner is a limited liability company, the filing of a certificate of dissolution, or its equivalent, for the limited liability company or revocation of the limited liability company's charter.

11. In the case of an estate, the distribution by the fiduciary of the estate's entire interest in the partnership.

FINANCE

487.501 Form of contribution.

The contribution of a partner may be in cash, property, or services rendered, or a promissory note or other obligation to contribute cash or property or to perform services.

[C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9810; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §545.5; 82 Acts, ch 1103, §501]

487.502 Liability for contribution.

1. A promise by a limited partner to contribute to the limited partnership is not enforceable unless set out in a writing signed by the limited partner.

2. Except as provided in the partnership agreement, a partner is obligated to the limited partnership to perform any enforceable promise to contribute cash or property or to perform services even if the partner is unable to perform because of death, disability, or any other reason. If a partner does not make the required contribution of property or services, the partner is obligated at the option of the limited partnership to contribute cash equal to that portion of the value, as stated in the partnership records required to be kept pursuant to section 487.105, of the stated contribution which has not been made.

3. Unless otherwise provided in the partnership agreement, the obligation of a partner to make a contribution or return money or other property paid or distributed in violation of this chapter may be compromised only by consent of all partners. Notwithstanding the compromise, a creditor of a limited partnership who extends credit or otherwise acts in reliance on that obligation after the partner signs a writing which reflects the obligation and before the amendment or cancellation of such obligation to reflect the compromise may enforce the original obligation.

C93, §487.502

487.503 Sharing of profits and losses.

The profits and losses of a limited partnership shall be allocated among the partners, and among classes of partners, in the manner provided in writing in the partnership agreement. If the partnership agreement does not so provide in writing, profits and losses shall be allocated on the basis of the value, as stated in the partnership records required to be kept pursuant to section 487.105, of the contributions made by each partner to the extent the contributions have been received by the partnership and have not been returned.

ARTICLE 6

DISTRIBUTIONS AND WITHDRAWALS

487.601 Interim distributions.

Except as provided in this article, a partner is entitled to receive distributions from a limited partnership before the partner's withdrawal from the limited partnership and before the dissolution and winding up of the partnership to the extent and at the times or upon the happening of the events specified in the partnership agreement.

487.602 Withdrawal of general partner.

A general partner may withdraw from a limited partnership by giving written notice to the other partners, but, if the withdrawal violates the partnership agreement, in addition to its other remedies the limited partnership may recover from the withdrawing general partner damages for breach of the partnership agreement and offset the damages against the amount otherwise distributable to the partner.

[82 Acts, ch 1103, §602]
 C83, §545.602

487.603 Withdrawal of limited partner.

A limited partner may withdraw from a limited partnership only at the time or upon the happening of events specified in writing in the partnership agreement.

[C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9827; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §545.22; 82 Acts, ch 1103, §603]

C93, §487.603

487.604 Distribution upon withdrawal.

Except as provided in this article, upon withdrawal a partner is entitled to receive any distribution to which the partner is entitled under the partnership agreement and, if not otherwise provided in the agreement, the partner is entitled to receive, within a reasonable time after withdrawal, the fair value of the partner's interest in the limited partnership as of the date of withdrawal, based upon the partner's right to share in distributions from the limited partnership.

[82 Acts, ch 1103, §604]
 C83, §545.604

487.605 Distribution in kind.

Except as provided in writing in the partnership agreement, a partner, regardless of the nature of the partner's contribution, has no right to demand and receive any distribution from a limited partnership in any form other than cash. Except as provided in writing in the partnership agreement, a partner shall not be compelled to accept a distribution of any asset in kind from a limited partnership to the extent that the percentage of the asset distributed to the partner exceeds a percentage of that asset which is equal to the percentage in which the partner shares in distributions from the limited partnership.

C93, §487.605
 97 Acts, ch 188, §36

487.606 Right to distribution.

When a partner becomes entitled to receive a distribution, the partner has the status of a creditor of the limited partnership and is entitled to all remedies available to a creditor with respect to the distribution.

[82 Acts, ch 1103, §606]
 C83, §545.606

487.607 Limitations on distribution.

A partner shall not receive a distribution from a limited partnership to the extent that, after giving effect to the distribution, all liabilities of the limited partnership, other than liabilities to partners on account of their partnership interests, exceed the fair value of the partnership assets.

C93, §487.607
 97 Acts, ch 188, §37

487.608 Liability upon return of contribution.

1. If a partner has received the return of a part of the partner's contribution without violation of the partnership agreement or this chapter, for one year after the return, the partner is liable to the limited partnership for the amount of the returned contribution to the extent necessary to discharge the limited partnership's liabilities to creditors who extended credit to the limited partnership during the period the contribution was held by the partnership.

3. A partner receives a return of the partner's contribution to the extent that a distribution to the partner reduces the partner's share of the fair value of the net assets of the limited partnership below the value, as set forth in the partnership records required to be kept pursuant to section 487.105, of the partner's contribution which has not been distributed to the partner.

ARTICLE 7

ASSIGNMENT OF PARTNERSHIP INTERESTS

487.701 Nature of partnership interest.

A partnership interest is personal property.

[C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9834; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §545.29; 82 Acts, ch 1103, §701]

487.702 Assignment of partnership interest.

Except as provided in the partnership agreement, a partnership interest is assignable in whole or in part. An assignment of a partnership interest does not dissolve a limited partnership or entitle the assignee to become or to exercise any rights of a partner. An assignment entitles the assignee to receive, to the extent assigned, only the distribution to which the assignor would be entitled. Except as provided in the partnership agreement, a partner ceases to be a partner upon assignment of all the partner's partnership interest.

C93, §487.702

97 Acts, ch 188, §39

487.703 Rights of creditor.

A judgment creditor of a partner may bring an action in the district court charging the partnership interest of the partner with payment of the unsatisfied amount of the judgment. To the extent the court so charges, the judgment creditor has only the rights of an assignee of the partnership interest. This chapter does not deprive a partner of the benefit of exemption laws applicable to the partner's interest.

487.704 Right of assignee to become limited partner.

1. An assignee of a partnership interest, including an assignee of a general partner, may become a limited partner if and to the extent that either of the following applies:

a. The assignor gives the assignee that right in accordance with authority described in the partnership agreement.

b. All other partners consent.

2. An assignee who has become a limited partner has, to the extent assigned, the rights and powers, and is subject to the restrictions and liabilities, of a limited partner under the partnership agreement and this chapter. An assignee who becomes a limited partner also is liable for the obligations of the assignor to make and return contributions as provided in articles 5 and 6 of this chapter. However, the assignee is not obligated for liabilities unknown to the assignee at the time the assignee became a limited partner.

3. The fact that an assignee of a partnership interest has become a limited partner does not release the assignor from the assignor's liability to the limited partnership under sections 487.207 and 487.502.

487.705 Power of estate of deceased or incompetent partner.

If a partner who is an individual dies or a court of competent jurisdiction adjudges the partner incapable of managing the partner's person or property, the partner's executor, administrator, guardian, conservator, or other legal representative may exercise all the partner's rights for the purpose of settling the estate or administering the property, including any power the partner had to give an assignee the right to become a limited partner. If a partner is a corporation, trust, or other entity and is dissolved or terminated, the powers of that partner may be exercised by its legal representative or successor.

ARTICLE 8

DISSOLUTION

487.801 Nonjudicial dissolution.

1. A limited partnership is dissolved and its affairs shall be wound up when any of the following occur:

a. When events specified in the certificate of limited partnership occur.

b. When events specified in the partnership agreement occur.

c. When all partners consent in writing to the dissolution.

d. When a general partner withdraws unless at the time there is at least one other general partner and the provisions of the partnership agreement permit the business of the limited partnership to be carried on by the remaining general partner and the remaining partner does so.

e. When a decree of judicial dissolution is entered under section 487.802.

2. When a general partner withdraws, the limited partnership is not dissolved and is not required to dissolve under either of the following conditions:

a. If all partners previously have consented to the designation of a person as a general partner as provided in section 487.401.

b. If all partners, within ninety days after the withdrawal, agree in writing to continue the business of the limited partnership and to the appointment of one or more additional partners as necessary or desired.

[C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9841; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §545.36; 82 Acts, ch 1103, §801]

97 Acts, ch 188, §41

487.802 Judicial dissolution.

On application by or for a partner, the district court for the county in which the office described in section 487.104 is located may decree dissolution of a limited partnership whenever it is not reasonably practicable to carry on the business of the limited partnership in conformity with the partnership agreement.

487.803 Winding up.

Except as provided in the partnership agreement, the general partners who have not wrongfully dissolved a limited partnership or, if none, the limited partners, may wind up the limited partnership's affairs. Also, upon application of a partner, a partner's legal representative, or a partner's assignee, the district court for the county in which the office described in section 487.104 is located may wind up the limited partnership's affairs.

487.804 Order of distribution of assets.

Upon the winding up of a limited partnership, the assets shall be distributed in the following order:

1. To creditors, including partners who are creditors, to the extent permitted by law, in satisfaction of liabilities of the limited partnership other than liabilities for distributions to partners under section 487.601 or 487.604.

2. Except as provided in the partnership agreement, to partners and former partners in satisfaction of liabilities for distributions under section 487.601 or 487.604.

3. Except as provided in the partnership agreement, to partners first for the return of their contributions and secondly respecting their partnership interests, in the proportions in which the partners share in distributions.

487.805 through 487.809 Reserved.

487.810 Grounds for administrative dissolution.

The secretary of state may commence a proceeding under section 487.811 to administratively dissolve a limited partnership if any of the following apply:

1. The limited partnership is without a registered agent or registered office in this state for sixty days or more.

2. The limited partnership does not notify the secretary of state within sixty days that its registered agent or registered office has been changed, that its registered agent has resigned, or that its registered office has been discontinued.

97 Acts, ch 188, §42

487.811 Procedure for and effect of administrative dissolution.

1. If the secretary of state determines that one or more grounds exist under section 487.810 for dissolving a limited partnership, the secretary of state shall serve the limited partnership with written notice of the secretary of state's determination under section 487.104.

2. If the limited partnership does not correct each ground for dissolution or demonstrate to the reasonable satisfaction of the secretary of state that each ground determined by the secretary of state to exist does not exist within sixty days after service of the notice is perfected under section 487.104, the secretary of state shall administratively dissolve the limited partnership by signing a certificate of dissolution that recites the ground or grounds for dissolution and its effective date. The secretary of state shall file the original of the certificate and serve a copy on the limited partnership under section 487.104.

3. A limited partnership administratively dissolved continues its existence but shall not carry on any business except that necessary to wind up and liquidate its business and affairs under section 487.803.

4. The administrative dissolution of a limited partnership does not terminate the authority of its registered agent.

5. The secretary of state's administrative dissolution of a limited partnership pursuant to this section appoints the secretary of state the limited partnership's agent for service of process in any proceeding based on a cause of action which arose during the time the limited partnership was authorized to transact business in this state. Service of process on the secretary of state under this subsection is service on the limited partnership. Upon receipt of process, the secretary of state shall serve a copy of the process on the limited partnership as provided in section 487.104. This subsection does not preclude service on the limited partnership's registered agent, if any.

487.812 Reinstatement following administrative dissolution.

1. A limited partnership administratively dissolved under section 487.811 may apply to the secretary of state for reinstatement within two years after the effective date of dissolution. The application must meet all of the following requirements:

a. Recite the name of the limited partnership at its date of dissolution and the effective date of its administrative dissolution.

b. State that the ground or grounds for dissolution have been eliminated.

c. State a name that satisfies the requirements of section 487.102.

2. If the secretary of state determines that the application contains the information required by subsection 1, and that the information is correct, the secretary of state shall cancel the certificate of dissolution and prepare a certificate of reinstatement that recites the secretary of state's determination and the effective date of reinstatement, file the original of the certificate, and serve a copy on the limited partnership under section 487.104. If the limited partnership's name in subsection 1, paragraph "c", is different than the limited partnership's name in subsection 1, paragraph "a", the certificate of reinstatement shall constitute an amendment to the articles of limited partnership insofar as it pertains to the limited partnership's name.

3. When the reinstatement is effective, it relates back to and takes effect as of the effective date of the administrative dissolution as if the administrative dissolution had never occurred.

487.813 Appeal from denial of reinstatement.

1. If the secretary of state denies a limited partnership's application for reinstatement following administrative dissolution, the secretary of state shall serve the limited partnership under section 487.104 with a written notice that explains the reason or reasons for denial.

2. The limited partnership may appeal the denial of reinstatement to the district court within thirty days after service of the notice of denial is perfected. The limited partnership appeals by petitioning the court to set aside the dissolution and attaching to the petition copies of the secretary of state's certificate of dissolution, the limited partnership's application for reinstatement, and the secretary of state's notice of denial.

3. The court may summarily order the secretary of state to reinstate the dissolved limited partnership or may take other action the court considers appropriate.

4. The court's final decision may be appealed as in other civil proceedings.

ARTICLE 9

FOREIGN LIMITED PARTNERSHIPS

487.901 Law governing.

The laws of the state under which a foreign limited partnership is organized govern its organization and internal affairs and the liability of its limited partners. A foreign limited partnership shall not be denied registration by reason of a difference between those laws and the laws of this state.

[82 Acts, ch 1103, §901]

C83, §545.901

487.902 Registration.

Before transacting business in this state, a foreign limited partnership shall register with the secretary of state. In order to register, a foreign limited partnership shall submit to the secretary of state an application for registration as a foreign limited partnership, signed and sworn to by a general partner and setting forth all of the following:

1. The name of the foreign limited partnership and, if different, the name under which it proposes to register and transact business in this state.

2. The state and date of its formation.

3. The name and address of an agent for service of process on the foreign limited partnership. The agent shall be either an individual resident of this state, a domestic corporation, or a foreign corporation having a place of business in and authorized to do business in this state.

4. A statement that the secretary of state is the agent of the foreign limited partnership for service of process if the registered agent has resigned and an agent has not been appointed under subsection 3 or, if appointed, the agent's authority has been revoked, or if the agent cannot be found or served with the exercise of reasonable diligence.

5. The address of the office required to be maintained in the state of its organization by the laws of that state or, if such an office is not required, the address of the principal office of the foreign limited partnership.

6. The name and business address of each general partner.

7. The address of the office at which is kept a list of the names and addresses of the limited partners and their capital contributions, together with an undertaking by the foreign limited partnership to keep those records until the foreign limited partnership's registration in this state is canceled or withdrawn.

487.903 Issuance of registration. Repealed by 97 Acts, ch 188, § 74. See § 487.112.

487.904 Name.

A foreign limited partnership may register with the secretary of state under any name that could be registered by a domestic limited partnership even if it is not the name under which it is registered in its state of organization.

[82 Acts, ch 1103, §904]
 C83, §545.904

487.905 Amended registration.

1. A foreign limited partnership registered to transact business in this state shall obtain an amended certificate of registration from the secretary of state if either of the following conditions exist:

a. A statement in the application for registration was false when made.

b. An arrangement or other fact described in the application for registration has changed making the application inaccurate in any respect.

2. The requirements of section 487.902 for obtaining an original certificate of registration apply to obtaining an amended certificate under this section.

487.906 Cancellation of registration.

A foreign limited partnership may cancel its registration by filing with the secretary of state a certificate of cancellation signed and sworn to by a general partner. A cancellation does not terminate the authority of the secretary of state to accept service of process on the foreign limited partnership with respect to causes of action arising out of the transaction of business in this state.

[82 Acts, ch 1103, §906]
 C83, §545.906

487.907 Transaction of business without registration.

1. A foreign limited partnership transacting business in this state shall not maintain a proceeding in the courts of this state until the partnership has registered in this state.

2. The failure of a foreign limited partnership to register in this state does not impair the validity of a contract or act of the foreign limited partnership or prevent the foreign limited partnership from defending a proceeding in the courts of this state.

3. A limited partner of a foreign limited partnership is not liable as a general partner of the foreign limited partnership solely by reason of having transacted business in the state without registration.

4. A foreign limited partnership, by transacting business in this state without registration, appoints the secretary of state as its agent for service of process with respect to causes of action arising out of the transaction of business in this state.

 C83, §545.908

487.909 Resignation of agent for service of process.

An agent for service of process of a foreign limited partnership may resign as agent by signing and delivering to the secretary of state an original statement of resignation for filing in accordance with section 487.108. The agent shall send a copy of the statement of resignation by certified mail to the foreign limited partnership at its principal place of business. The agent shall certify to the secretary of state that the copy has been sent to the limited partnership, including the date the copy was sent. The appointment of the agent terminates on the date on which the statement is filed by the secretary of state.

487.910 Service of process on foreign limited partnership.

If a foreign limited partnership registered with the secretary of state fails to appoint or maintain an agent for service of process in this state or if its agent cannot with reasonable diligence be found, then service of process may be made upon the secretary of state in accordance with section 487.104, subsection 4.

86 Acts, ch 1173, §18
 C87, §545.910
 C93, §487.910

487.911 Change of registered office or registered agent.

1. A foreign limited partnership may change its registered office or registered agent by delivering to the secretary of state for filing a statement of change that sets forth all of the following:

a. The name of the foreign limited partnership.

b. If the current registered office is to be changed, the street address of the new registered office.

c. If the current registered agent is to be changed, the name of the new registered agent and the new agent's written consent to the appointment, either on the statement or attached to the statement.

4. A document delivered to the secretary of state for the purpose of changing a foreign limited partnership's registered agent or registered office may be executed by a general partner.

ARTICLE 10

DERIVATIVE ACTIONS

487.1001 Right of action.

A limited partner has standing to bring an action to recover a judgment in the limited partnership's favor if general partners with authority to bring the action have refused to do so or if an effort to cause those general partners to bring the action is not likely to succeed.

[C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §9857; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §545.52; 82 Acts, ch 1103, §1001]

C93, §487.1001

487.1002 Proper plaintiff.

In a derivative action, the plaintiff must be a partner at the time of bringing the action and either must have been a partner at the time of the transaction of which the partner complains or must have acquired the status of partner by operation of law or pursuant to the terms of the partnership agreement from a person who was a partner at the time of the transaction of which the partner complains.

ARTICLE 12

MERGERS

487.1201 Merger.

1. Any one or more limited partnerships may merge with or into any one or more limited partnerships, limited liability companies, or corporations, provided that no limited partner of a limited partnership that is a party to the merger will, as a result of the merger, become personally liable for the liabilities or obligations of any other person or entity unless that limited partner approves the plan of merger or otherwise consents to becoming personally liable.

profits of the domestic limited partnership owned by all of the limited partners. If more than one class or group of limited partners exists, the merger must be approved by the limited partners in each class or group who own more than fifty percent of the then current percentage or other interest in the profits of the domestic limited partnership owned by all of the limited partners of such class or group.

3. In connection with a merger under this section, rights or securities of, or interests in, a limited partnership, limited liability company, or corporation which is a constituent party to the merger may be exchanged for or converted into cash, property, rights, or securities of, or interest in, a limited partnership, limited liability company, or corporation which is the surviving entity or, in addition to or in lieu of such cash, property, rights, securities, or interests, may be exchanged for or converted into cash, property, rights, or securities of, or interest in, a limited partnership, limited liability company, or corporation other than the surviving entity.

487.1202 Plan of merger.

1. Each constituent party to the merger must enter into a written plan of merger, which must be approved in accordance with section 487.1203.

2. The plan of merger must set forth all of the following:

a. The name of each constituent party to the merger and the name of the surviving entity into which each other constituent party proposes to merge.

b. The terms and conditions of the proposed merger.

c. The manner and basis of converting the interests in each constituent party to the merger into interests, shares, or other securities or obligations of the surviving entity, or of any other entity, or, in whole or in part, into cash or other property.

d. Such amendments to the certificate of limited partnership of a limited partnership, articles of organization of a limited liability company, or articles or certificate of incorporation of a corporation, as the case may be, of the surviving entity as are desired to be effected by the merger, or that such changes are not desired.

e. Other provisions relating to the proposed merger as are deemed necessary or desirable.

487.1203 Action on plan.

1. A proposed plan of merger complying with the requirements of section 487.1202 shall be approved in the manner provided by this section:

a. A limited partnership which is a party to a proposed merger shall have the plan of merger authorized and approved in the manner and by the vote required in section 487.1201.

b. A limited liability company which is a party to a proposed merger shall have the plan of merger authorized and approved as required by chapter 490A.

c. A corporation which is a party to a proposed merger shall have the plan of merger authorized and approved in the manner and by the vote required by chapter 490.

2. After a merger is authorized, unless the plan of merger provides otherwise, and at any time before articles of merger as provided for in section 487.1204 are filed, the plan of merger may be abandoned subject to any contractual rights, in accordance with the procedure set forth in the plan of merger or, if none is set forth, in one of the following ways:

a. By the limited partners of any limited partnership that is a constituent party as provided in section 487.1201.

b. By the majority consent of the members of each limited liability company that is a constituent party, unless the articles of organization or an operating agreement of such limited liability company provides otherwise.

c. In the manner determined by the board of directors of any corporation that is a constituent entity.

98 Acts, ch 1098, §3

487.1204 Articles of merger — effective date of merger.

1. After a plan of merger is approved as provided in section 487.1203, the surviving entity shall deliver to the secretary of state for filing articles of merger duly executed by each constituent party setting forth all of the following:

a. The name of each constituent party.

b. The plan of merger.

c. The effective date of the merger if later than the date of filing of the articles of merger.

d. The name of the surviving entity.

e. A statement that the plan of merger was duly authorized and approved by each constituent party as provided in section 487.1203.

2. A merger takes effect upon the later of the effective date of the filing of the articles of merger or the date set forth in the plan of merger.

98 Acts, ch 1098, §4

487.1205 Effect of merger.

When a merger takes effect all of the following apply:

1. Every other constituent party merges into the surviving entity and the separate existence of every constituent party except the surviving entity ceases.

2. The title to all real estate and other property owned by each constituent party is vested in the surviving entity without reversion or impairment.

3. The surviving entity has all liabilities of each constituent party.

4. A proceeding pending against any constituent party may be continued as if the merger did not occur or the surviving entity may be substituted in the proceeding for the constituent party whose existence ceased.

5. The articles or limited partnership agreement of the surviving entity are amended to the extent provided in the plan of merger.

6. The shares or interests of each constituent party that are to be converted into shares, obligations, or other securities of the surviving or any other entity or into cash or other property are converted, and the former holders of the shares or interests are entitled only to the rights provided in the articles of merger except for dissenters' rights provided by law.

7. Except as provided by agreement with a person to whom a general partner of a limited partnership is obligated, a merger of a limited partnership that has become effective shall not affect any obligation of liability existing at the time of such merger of a general partner of a limited partnership which is merging.

8. If a limited partnership is a constituent party to a merger that becomes effective, but the limited partnership is not the surviving entity of the merger, a judgment creditor of a general partner of such limited partnership may not levy execution against the assets of the general partner to satisfy a judgment based on a claim against the surviving entity of the merger unless any of the following applies:

a. A judgment based on the same claim has been obtained against the surviving entity of the merger and a writ of execution on the judgment is returned unsatisfied in whole or in part.

b. The surviving entity of the merger is a debtor in bankruptcy.

c. The general partner agrees that the creditor need not exhaust the assets of the limited partnership that was not the surviving entity of the merger.

d. The general partner agrees that the creditor need not exhaust the assets of the surviving entity of the merger.

e. A court grants permission to the judgment creditor to levy execution against the assets of the general partner based on a finding that the assets of the surviving entity of the merger that are subject to execution are clearly insufficient to satisfy the judgment, that exhaustion of the assets of the surviving entity of the merger is excessively burdensome, or that the grant of permission is an appropriate exercise of the court's equitable powers.

f. Liability is imposed on the general partner by law or contract independent of the existence of the surviving entity of the merger.

487.1206 Merger with foreign entity.

1. Any one or more limited partnerships of this state may merge with or into one or more foreign limited partnerships, foreign limited liability companies, or foreign corporations, or any one or more foreign limited partnerships, foreign limited liability companies, or foreign corporations may merge with or into any one or more limited partnerships of this state, if all of the following apply:

a. The merger is permitted by the law of the state or jurisdiction under whose law each foreign constituent party is organized or formed and each foreign constituent party complies with that law in effecting the merger.

b. The foreign constituent party complies with section 487.1204 if it is the surviving entity.

c. Each domestic constituent party complies with the applicable provisions of sections 487.1202 and 487.1203 and, if it is the surviving entity, with section 487.1204.

2. Upon a merger involving one or more domestic limited partnerships taking effect, if the surviving entity is to be governed by the law of any state other than this state or of any foreign country, the surviving entity shall agree to both of the following:

a. That it may be served with process in this state in any proceeding for enforcement of any obligation of any constituent party to the merger that was organized under the law of this state, as well as for enforcement of any obligation of the surviving entity arising from the merger.

b. To irrevocably appoint the secretary of state as its agent for service of process in any such proceeding, and the surviving entity shall specify the address to which a copy of the process shall be mailed to it by the secretary of state.

3. The effect of the merger shall be as provided in section 487.1205, if the surviving entity is to be governed by the law of this state. If the surviving entity is to be governed by the law of any jurisdiction other than this state, the effect of the merger shall be the same as provided in section 487.1205, except insofar as the law of the other jurisdiction provides otherwise.

ARTICLE 13

LIMITED LIABILITY LIMITED PARTNERSHIPS

487.1301 Limited liability limited partnership.

1. A limited partnership may become a limited liability limited partnership pursuant to this section.

2. The terms and conditions on which a limited partnership becomes a limited liability limited partnership must be approved by the vote necessary to amend the limited partnership agreement except, in the case of a limited partnership agreement that expressly considers obligations to contribute to the limited partnership, by the vote necessary to amend those provisions.

3. After the approval required by subsection 2, a limited partnership may become a limited liability limited partnership by filing a statement of qualification. The statement must contain all of the following:

a. The name of the limited partnership.

b. The street address of the limited partnership's chief executive office and, if different, the street address of an office in this state, if any.

c. The address of a registered office and the name and address of a registered agent for service of process in this state, which the limited partnership is required to maintain as provided in section 487.104.

d. A statement that the limited partnership elects to be a limited liability limited partnership.

e. A deferred effective date, if any.

4. The filing of a statement of qualification establishes that a limited partnership has satisfied all conditions precedent to the qualification of the limited partnership as a limited liability limited partnership.

5. A limited liability limited partnership continues to be the same entity that existed before the filing of the statement of qualification under subsection 3.

6. Section 486A.306, subsection 3, and section 486A.307, subsection 4, apply to both general and limited partners of a limited liability limited partnership in the same manner as those provisions apply to a partnership and a partner under chapter 486A.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

PART A

490.101 Short title.

This chapter is entitled and may be cited as the “Iowa Business Corporation Act”.
 89 Acts, ch 288, §1

490.102 Reservation of power to amend or repeal.

The general assembly has the power to amend or repeal all or part of this chapter at any time and all domestic and foreign corporations subject to this chapter are governed by an amendment or repeal.

89 Acts, ch 288, §2

490.103 through 490.119 Reserved.

PART B

490.120 Filing requirements.

1. A document must satisfy the requirements of this section, and of any other section that adds to or varies these requirements, to be entitled to filing.

2. The document must be filed in the office of the secretary of state.

3. The document must contain the information required by this chapter. It may contain other information as well.

4. The document must be typewritten or printed.

5. The document must be in the English language. A corporate name need not be in English if written in English letters or Arabic or Roman numerals, and the certificate of existence required of foreign corporations need not be in English if accompanied by a reasonably authenticated English translation.

6. Except as provided in section 490.1622, subsection 2, the document must be executed by one of the following methods:

a. The chairperson of the board of directors of a domestic or foreign corporation, its president, or another of its officers.

b. If directors have not been selected or the corporation has not been formed, by an incorporator.

c. If the corporation is in the hands of a receiver, trustee, or other court-appointed fiduciary, by that fiduciary.

7. The person executing the document shall sign it and state beneath or opposite the person's signature, the person's name and the capacity in which the person signs. The document may, but need not, contain:

a. The corporate seals.

b. An attestation by the secretary or an assistant secretary.

c. An acknowledgment, verification, or proof.

The secretary of state may accept for filing a document containing a copy of a signature, however made.

8. If the secretary of state has prescribed a mandatory form for the document under section 490.121, the document must be in or on the prescribed form.

9. The document must be delivered to the office of the secretary of state for filing and must be accompanied by the correct filing fee.

10. The secretary of state may adopt rules for the electronic filing of documents and the certification of electronically filed documents.

89 Acts, ch 288, §3; 90 Acts, ch 1205, §16

490.121 Forms.

1. The secretary of state may prescribe and furnish on request forms including but not limited to the following:

a. A foreign corporation's application for a certificate of authority to transact business in this state.

b. A foreign corporation's application for a certificate of withdrawal.

c. The biennial report.

If the secretary of state so requires, use of these listed forms prescribed by the secretary of state is mandatory.

2. The secretary of state may prescribe and furnish on request forms for other documents required or permitted to be filed by this chapter but their use is not mandatory.

89 Acts, ch 288, §4; 96 Acts, ch 1170, §2; 97 Acts, ch 171, §5

490.122 Filing, service, and copying fees.

1. The secretary of state shall collect the following fees when the documents described in this subsection are delivered to the secretary's office for filing:

2. The secretary of state shall collect a fee of five dollars each time process is served on the secretary under this chapter. The party to a proceeding causing service of process is entitled to recover this fee as costs if the party prevails in the proceeding.

3. The secretary of state shall collect the following fees for copying and certifying the copy of any filed document relating to a domestic or foreign corporation:

a. $1.00 a page for copying.

b. $5.00 for the certificate.

89 Acts, ch 288, §5; 90 Acts, ch 1205, §17; 97 Acts, ch 171, §6

Filing fee for biennial report; §490.1622

Authority to refund fees; 2000 Acts, ch 1231, §32

490.123 Effective time and date of documents.

1. Except as provided in subsection 2 and section 490.124, subsection 3, a document accepted for filing is effective at the later of the following times:

a. At the time of filing on the date it is filed, as evidenced by the secretary of state's date and time endorsement on the original document.

b. At the time specified in the document as its effective time on the date it is filed.

2. A document may specify a delayed effective time and date, and if it does so the document becomes effective at the time and date specified. If a delayed effective date but no time is specified, the document is effective at the close of business on that date. A delayed effective date for a document shall not be later than the ninetieth day after the date it is filed.

89 Acts, ch 288, §6

490.124 Correcting filed documents.

1. A domestic or foreign corporation may correct a document filed by the secretary of state if the document satisfies one or both of the following requirements:

a. Contains an incorrect statement.

b. Was defectively executed, attested, sealed, verified, or acknowledged.

2. A document is corrected by complying with both of the following:

a. By preparing articles of correction that satisfy all of the following requirements:

(1) Describe the document, including its filing date, or attach a copy of it to the articles.

(2) Specify the incorrect statement and the reason it is incorrect or the manner in which the execution was defective.

(3) Correct the incorrect statement or defective execution.

b. By delivering the articles to the secretary of state for filing.

3. Articles of correction are effective on the effective date of the document they correct except as to persons relying on the uncorrected document and adversely affected by the correction. As to those persons, articles of correction are effective when filed.

89 Acts, ch 288, §7

490.125 Filing duty of secretary of state.

1. If a document delivered to the office of the secretary of state for filing satisfies the requirements of section 490.120, the secretary of state shall file it.

2. The secretary of state files a document by stamping or otherwise endorsing "filed", together with the secretary's name and official title and the date and time of receipt, on both the document and the receipt for the filing fee. After filing a document, except the biennial report required by section 490.1622, and except as provided in sections 490.503 and 490.1509, the secretary of state shall deliver the document, with the filing fee receipt, or acknowledgment of receipt if no fee is required, attached, to the domestic or foreign corporation or its representative.

3. If the secretary of state refuses to file a document, the secretary of state shall return it to the domestic or foreign corporation or its representative, together with a brief, written explanation of the reason for the refusal.

4. The secretary of state's duty to file documents under this section is ministerial. Filing or refusing to file a document does not:

a. Affect the validity or invalidity of the document in whole or part.

b. Relate to the correctness or incorrectness of information contained in the document.

c. Create a presumption that the document is valid or invalid or that information contained in the document is correct or incorrect.

490.126 Appeal from secretary of state's refusal to file document.

1. If the secretary of state refuses to file a document delivered to the secretary's office for filing, the domestic or foreign corporation may appeal the refusal, within thirty days after the return of the document, to the district court for the county in which the corporation's principal office or, if none in this state, its registered office is or will be located. The appeal is commenced by petitioning the court to compel filing the document and by attaching to the petition the document and the secretary of state's explanation of the refusal to file.

2. The court may summarily order the secretary of state to file the document or take other action the court considers appropriate.

3. The court's final decision may be appealed as in other civil proceedings.

89 Acts, ch 288, §9

490.127 Evidentiary effect of copy of filed document.

A certificate attached to a copy of a document filed by the secretary of state, bearing the secretary of state's signature, which may be in facsimile, and the seal of the secretary of state, is conclusive evidence that the original document is on file with the secretary of state.

89 Acts, ch 288, §10; 90 Acts, ch 1205, §18

490.128 Certificate of existence.

1. Anyone may apply to the secretary of state to furnish a certificate of existence for a domestic corporation or a certificate of authorization for a foreign corporation.

2. A certificate of existence or authorization must set forth all of the following:

a. The domestic corporation's corporate name or the foreign corporation's corporate name used in this state.

b. That one of the following apply:

(1) If it is a domestic corporation, that it is duly incorporated under the law of this state, the date of its incorporation, and the period of its duration if less than perpetual.

(2) If it is a foreign corporation, that it is authorized to transact business in this state.

c. That all fees required by this chapter have been paid.

d. That its most recent biennial report required by section 490.1622 has been filed by the secretary of state.

e. If it is a domestic corporation, that articles of dissolution have not been filed.

f. Other facts of record in the office of the secretary of state that may be requested by the applicant.

3. Subject to any qualification stated in the certificate, a certificate of existence or authorization issued by the secretary of state may be relied upon as conclusive evidence that the domestic or foreign corporation is in existence or is authorized to transact business in this state.

490.129 Penalty for signing false document.

1. A person commits an offense if that person signs a document the person knows is false in any material respect with intent that the document be delivered to the secretary of state for filing.

2. An offense under this section is a serious misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not to exceed one thousand dollars.

89 Acts, ch 288, §12

490.130 Recording of documents with county recorder. Repealed by 91 Acts, ch 211, § 13. See § 9.7.

490.131 through 490.134 Reserved.

PART C

490.135 Secretary of state — powers.

The secretary of state has the power reasonably necessary to perform the duties required of the secretary of state by this chapter.

89 Acts, ch 288, §14

490.136 through 490.139 Reserved.

PART D

490.140 Definitions.

In this chapter, unless the context requires otherwise:

1. "Articles of incorporation" include amended and restated articles of incorporation and articles of merger.

2. "Authorized shares" means the shares of all classes a domestic or foreign corporation is authorized to issue.

3. "Conspicuous" means so written that a reasonable person against whom the writing is to operate should have noticed it. For example, printing in italics or boldface or contrasting color, or typing in capitals or underlined, is conspicuous.

4. "Corporation" or "domestic corporation" means a corporation for profit, which is not a foreign corporation, incorporated under or subject to this chapter.

5. "Deliver" includes mail delivery.

6. "Distribution" means a direct or indirect transfer of money or other property, except its own shares, or incurrence of indebtedness by a corporation to or for the benefit of its shareholders in respect of any of its shares. A distribution may be in the form of a declaration or payment of a dividend; a purchase, redemption, or other acquisition of shares; a distribution of indebtedness; or otherwise.

7. "Effective date of notice" is defined in section 490.141.

8. "Employee" includes an officer but not a director. A director may accept duties that make the director also an employee.

9. "Entity" includes corporation and foreign corporation; not-for-profit corporation; profit and not-for-profit unincorporated association; business trust, estate, partnership, trust, and two or more persons having a joint or common economic interest; and state, United States, and foreign government.

10. "Foreign corporation" means a corporation for profit incorporated under a law other than the law of this state.

11. "Governmental subdivision" includes authority, city, county, district, township, and other political subdivision.

12. "Includes" denotes a partial definition.

13. "Individual" includes the estate of an incompetent, a ward, or a deceased individual.

14. "Means" denotes an exhaustive definition.

15. "Notice" is defined in section 490.141.

16. "Person" means a person as defined in section 4.1.

17. "Principal office" means the office, in or out of this state, so designated in the biennial report, where the principal executive offices of a domestic or foreign corporation are located.

18. "Proceeding" includes civil suit and criminal, administrative, and investigatory action.

19. "Record date" means the date established under division VI or VII on which a corporation determines the identity of its shareholders for purposes of this chapter.

20. "Secretary" means the corporate officer to whom the board of directors has delegated responsibility under section 490.840, subsection 3, for custody of the minutes of the meetings of the board of directors and of the shareholders and for authenticating records of the corporation.

21. "Share" means the unit into which the proprietary interests in a corporation are divided.

22. "Shareholder" means the person in whose name shares are registered in the records of a corporation or the beneficial owner of shares to the extent of the rights granted by a nominee certificate on file with a corporation.

23. "State", when referring to a part of the United States, includes a state and commonwealth and their agencies and governmental subdivisions, and a territory and insular possession and their agencies and governmental subdivisions, of the United States.

24. "Subscriber" means a person who subscribes for shares in a corporation, whether before or after incorporation.

25. "United States" includes a district, authority, bureau, commission, department, and any other agency of the United States.

26. "Voting group" means all shares of one or more classes or series that under the articles of incorporation or this chapter are entitled to vote and be counted together collectively on a matter at a meeting of shareholders. All shares entitled by the articles of incorporation or this chapter to vote generally on the matter are for that purpose a single voting group.

490.141 Notice.

1. Notice under this chapter must be in writing unless oral notice is reasonable under the circumstances.

2. Notice may be communicated in person; by telephone, telegraph, teletype, or other form of wire or wireless communication; or by mail or private carrier. If these forms of personal notice are impracticable, notice may be communicated by a newspaper of general circulation in the area where published; or by radio, television, or other form of public broadcast communication.

3. Written notice by a domestic or foreign corporation to its shareholder, if in a comprehensible form, is effective when mailed, if mailed postpaid and correctly addressed to the shareholder's address shown in the corporation's current record of shareholders.

4. Written notice to a domestic or foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state may be addressed to its registered agent at its registered office or to the corporation or its secretary at its principal office shown in its most recent biennial report or, in the case of a foreign corporation that has not yet delivered a biennial report, in its application for a certificate of authority.

5. Except as provided in subsection 3, written notice, if in a comprehensible form, is effective at the earliest of the following:

a. When received.

b. Five days after its deposit in the United States mail, as evidenced by the postmark, if mailed postpaid and correctly addressed.

c. On the date shown on the return receipt, if sent by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, and the receipt is signed by or on behalf of the addressee.

6. Oral notice is effective when communicated if communicated in a comprehensible manner.

7. If this chapter prescribes notice requirements for particular circumstances, those requirements govern. If articles of incorporation or bylaws prescribe notice requirements not inconsistent with this section or other provisions of this chapter, those requirements govern.

89 Acts, ch 288, §16; 97 Acts, ch 171, §10

490.142 Number of shareholders.

1. For purposes of this chapter, any of the following identified as a shareholder in a corporation's current record of shareholders constitutes one shareholder:

a. Three or fewer co-owners.

b. A corporation, partnership, trust, estate, or other entity.

c. The trustees, guardians of the property, custodians, or other fiduciaries of a single trust, estate, or account.

2. For purposes of this chapter, shareholdings registered in substantially similar names constitute one shareholder if it is reasonable to believe that the names represent the same person.

89 Acts, ch 288, §17

DIVISION II

INCORPORATION

490.201 Incorporators.

One or more persons may act as the incorporator or incorporators of a corporation by executing and delivering articles of incorporation to the secretary of state for filing.

89 Acts, ch 288, §18

490.202 Articles of incorporation.

1. The articles of incorporation must set forth all of the following:

a. A corporate name for the corporation that satisfies the requirements of section 490.401.

b. The number of shares the corporation is authorized to issue.

c. The street address of the corporation's initial registered office and the name of its initial registered agent at that office.

d. The name and address of each incorporator.

2. The articles of incorporation may set forth any or all of the following:

a. The names and addresses of the individuals who are to serve as the initial directors.

b. Provisions not inconsistent with law regarding:

(1) The purpose or purposes for which the corporation is organized.

(2) Managing the business and regulating the affairs of the corporation.

(3) Defining, limiting, and regulating the powers of the corporation, its board of directors, and shareholders.

(4) A par value for authorized shares or classes of shares.

(5) The imposition of personal liability on shareholders for the debts of the corporation to a specified extent and upon specified conditions.

c. Any provision that under this chapter is required or permitted to be set forth in the bylaws.

d. A provision consistent with section 490.832.

3. The articles of incorporation need not set forth any of the corporate powers enumerated in this chapter.

89 Acts, ch 288, §19

490.203 Incorporation.

1. Unless a delayed effective date or time is specified, the corporate existence begins when the articles of incorporation are filed.

2. The secretary of state's filing of the articles of incorporation is conclusive proof that the incorporators satisfied all conditions precedent to incorporation except in a proceeding by the state to cancel or revoke the incorporation or involuntarily dissolve the corporation.

89 Acts, ch 288, §20

490.204 Liability for preincorporation transactions.

All persons purporting to act as or on behalf of a corporation, knowing there was no incorporation under this chapter, are jointly and severally liable for all liabilities created while so acting.

89 Acts, ch 288, §21

490.205 Organization of corporation.

1. After incorporation:

a. If initial directors are named in the articles of incorporation, the initial directors shall hold an organizational meeting, at the call of a majority of the directors, to complete the organization of the corporation by appointing officers, adopting bylaws and carrying on any other business brought before the meeting.

b. If initial directors are not named in the articles, the incorporator or incorporators shall hold an organizational meeting at the call of a majority of the incorporators to do one of the following:

(1) Elect directors and complete the organization of the corporation.

(2) Elect a board of directors who shall complete the organization of the corporation.

2. Action required or permitted by this chapter to be taken by incorporators at an organizational meeting may be taken without a meeting if the action taken is evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken and signed by each incorporator.

3. An organizational meeting may be held in or out of this state.

89 Acts, ch 288, §22

490.206 Bylaws.

1. The incorporators or board of directors of a corporation shall adopt initial bylaws for the corporation.

2. The bylaws of a corporation may contain any provision for managing the business and regulating the affairs of the corporation that is not inconsistent with law or the articles of incorporation.

89 Acts, ch 288, §23

490.207 Emergency bylaws.

1. Unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise, the board of directors of a corporation may adopt bylaws to be effective only in an emergency defined in subsection 4. The emergency bylaws, which are subject to amendment or repeal by the shareholders, may make all provisions necessary for managing the corporation during the emergency, including:

a. Procedures for calling a meeting of the board of directors.

b. Quorum requirements for the meeting.

c. Designation of additional or substitute directors.

2. All provisions of the regular bylaws consistent with the emergency bylaws remain effective during the emergency. The emergency bylaws are not effective after the emergency ends.

3. Corporate action taken in good faith in accordance with the emergency bylaws has both of the following effects:

a. The action binds the corporation.

b. The action shall not be used to impose liability on a corporate director, officer, employee, or agent.

4. An emergency exists for purposes of this section if a quorum of the corporation's directors cannot readily be assembled because of some catastrophic event.

89 Acts, ch 288, §24

DIVISION III

PURPOSES AND POWERS

490.301 Purposes.

1. A corporation incorporated under this chapter has the purpose of engaging in any lawful business unless a more limited purpose is set forth in the articles of incorporation.

2. A corporation engaging in a business that is subject to regulation under another statute of this state may incorporate under this chapter only if permitted by, and subject to all limitations of, the other statute.

89 Acts, ch 288, §25

490.302 General powers.

Unless its articles of incorporation provide otherwise, a corporation has perpetual duration and succession in its corporate name and has the same powers as an individual to do all things necessary or convenient to carry out its business and affairs, including without limitation power to do all of the following:

1. Sue and be sued, complain, and defend in its corporate name.

2. Have a corporate seal, which may be altered at will, and use it, or a facsimile of it, by impressing or affixing it or in any other manner reproducing it.

3. Make and amend bylaws, not inconsistent with its articles of incorporation or with the laws of this state, for managing the business and regulating the affairs of the corporation.

4. Purchase, receive, lease, or otherwise acquire, and own, hold, improve, use, and otherwise deal with, real or personal property, or any legal or equitable interest in property, wherever located.

5. Sell, convey, mortgage, pledge, lease, exchange, and otherwise dispose of all or any part of its property.

6. Purchase, receive, subscribe for, or otherwise acquire, own, hold, vote, use, sell, mortgage, lend, pledge, or otherwise dispose of, and deal in and with shares or other interests in, or obligations of, any other entity.

7. Make contracts and guarantees, incur liabilities, borrow money, issue its notes, bonds, and other obligations, which may be convertible into or include the option to purchase other securities of the corporation, and secure any of its obligations by mortgage or pledge of any of its property, franchises, or income.

8. Lend money, invest and reinvest its funds, and receive and hold real and personal property as security for repayment.

9. Be a promoter, partner, member, associate, or manager of any partnership, joint venture, trust, or other entity.

10. Conduct its business, locate offices, and exercise the powers granted by this chapter within or without this state.

11. Elect directors and appoint officers, employees, and agents of the corporation, define their duties, fix their compensation, and lend them money and credit.

12. Pay pensions and establish pension plans, pension trusts, profit sharing plans, share bonus plans, share option plans, and benefit or incentive plans for any or all of its current or former directors, officers, employees, and agents.

13. Make donations for the public welfare or for charitable, scientific, or educational purposes.

14. Transact any lawful business that will aid governmental policy.

15. Make payments or donations, or do any other act, not inconsistent with law, that furthers the business and affairs of the corporation.

89 Acts, ch 288, §26

490.303 Emergency powers.

1. In anticipation of or during an emergency as defined in subsection 4, the board of directors of a corporation may do either or both of the following:

a. Modify lines of succession to accommodate the incapacity of any director, officer, employee, or agent.

b. Relocate the principal office, designate alternative principal offices or regional offices, or authorize the officers to do so.

2. During an emergency defined in subsection 4, unless emergency bylaws provide otherwise:

a. Notice of a meeting of the board of directors need be given only to those directors whom it is practicable to reach and may be given in any practicable manner, including by publication and radio.

b. One or more officers of the corporation present at a meeting of the board of directors may be deemed to be directors for the meeting, in order of rank and within the same rank in order of seniority, as necessary to achieve a quorum.

3. Corporate action taken in good faith during an emergency under this section to further the ordinary business affairs of the corporation shall both:

a. Bind the corporation.

b. Not be used to impose liability on a corporate director, officer, employee, or agent.

4. An emergency exists for purposes of this section if a quorum of the corporation's directors cannot readily be assembled because of some catastrophic event.

89 Acts, ch 288, §27

490.304 Ultra vires.

1. Except as provided in subsection 2, the validity of corporate action is not challengeable on the ground that the corporation lacks or lacked power to act.

2. A corporation's power to act may be challenged in any of the following proceedings:

a. By a shareholder against the corporation to enjoin the act.

b. By the corporation, directly, derivatively, or through a receiver, trustee, or other legal representative, against an incumbent or former director, officer, employee, or agent of the corporation.

c. By the attorney general under section 490.1430.

89 Acts, ch 288, §28

DIVISION IV

NAMES

490.401 Corporate name.

1. A corporate name:

a. Must contain the word "corporation", "incorporated", "company", or "limited", or the abbreviation "corp.", "inc.", "co.", or "ltd.", or words or abbreviations of like import in another language.

b. Shall not contain language stating or implying that the corporation is organized for a purpose other than that permitted by section 490.301 and its articles of incorporation.

2. Except as authorized by subsections 3 and 4, a corporate name must be distinguishable upon the records of the secretary of state from all of the following:

a. The corporate name of a corporation incorporated or authorized to transact business in this state.

b. A corporate name reserved or registered under section 490.402, 490.403, or 504A.7.

c. The fictitious name adopted by a foreign corporation or a not-for-profit foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state because its real name is unavailable.

d. The corporate name of a not-for-profit corporation incorporated or authorized to transact business in this state.

3. A corporation may apply to the secretary of state for authorization to use a name that is not distinguishable upon the secretary's records from one or more of the names described in subsection 2. The secretary of state shall authorize use of the name applied for if one of the following conditions applies:

a. The other corporation consents to the use in writing and submits an undertaking in form satisfactory to the secretary of state to change its name to a name that is distinguishable upon the records of the secretary of state from the name of the applying corporation.

b. The applicant delivers to the secretary of state a certified copy of the final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction establishing the applicant's right to use the name applied for in this state.

4. A corporation may use the name, including the fictitious name, of another domestic or foreign corporation that is used in this state if the other corporation is incorporated or authorized to transact business in this state and the proposed user corporation submits documentation to the satisfaction of the secretary of state establishing one of the following conditions:

a. Has merged with the other corporation.

b. Has been formed by reorganization of the other corporation.

c. Has acquired all or substantially all of the assets, including the corporate name, of the other corporation.

5. This chapter does not control the use of fictitious names; however, if a corporation or a foreign corporation uses a fictitious name in this state it shall deliver to the secretary of state for filing a copy of the resolution of its board of directors, certified by its secretary, adopting the fictitious name.

490.402 Reserved name.

1. A person may reserve the exclusive use of a corporate name, including a fictitious name for a foreign corporation whose corporate name is not available, by delivering an application to the secretary of state for filing. The application must set forth the name and address of the applicant and the name proposed to be reserved. If the secretary of state finds that the corporate name applied for is available, the secretary of state shall reserve the name for the applicant's exclusive use for a nonrenewable one hundred twenty day period.

2. The owner of a reserved corporate name may transfer the reservation to another person by delivering to the secretary of state a signed notice of the transfer that states the name and address of the transferee.

89 Acts, ch 288, §30

490.403 Registered name.

1. A foreign corporation may register its corporate name, or its corporate name with any addition required by section 490.1506, if the name is distinguishable upon the records of the secretary of state from the corporate names that are not available under section 490.401, subsection 2, paragraph "b".

2. A foreign corporation registers its corporate name, or its corporate name with any addition required by section 490.1506, by delivering to the secretary of state for filing an application:

a. Setting forth its corporate name, or its corporate name with any addition required by section 490.1506, the state or country and date of its incorporation, and a brief description of the nature of the business in which it is engaged.

b. Accompanied by a certificate of existence, or a document of similar import, from the state or country of incorporation.

3. The name is registered for the applicant's exclusive use upon the effective date of the application.

4. A foreign corporation whose registration is effective may renew it for successive years by delivering to the secretary of state for filing a renewal application which complies with the requirements of subsection 2 between October 1 and December 31 of the preceding year. The renewal application renews the registration for the following calendar year.

5. A foreign corporation whose registration is effective may thereafter qualify as a foreign corporation under that name or consent in writing to the use of that name by a corporation thereafter incorporated under this chapter or by another foreign corporation thereafter authorized to transact business in this state. The first registration terminates when the domestic corporation is incorporated with that name or the foreign corporation qualifies or consents to the qualification of another foreign corporation under the registered name.

89 Acts, ch 288, §31

DIVISION V

REGISTERED OFFICE AND AGENT — SERVICE

490.501 Registered office and registered agent.

Each corporation must continuously maintain in this state both of the following:

1. A registered office that may be the same as any of its places of business.

2. A registered agent, who may be any of the following:

a. An individual who resides in this state and whose business office is identical with the registered office.

b. A domestic corporation or not-for-profit domestic corporation whose business office is identical with the registered office.

c. A foreign corporation or not-for-profit foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state whose business office is identical with the registered office.

89 Acts, ch 288, §32

490.502 Change of registered office or registered agent.

1. A corporation may change its registered office or registered agent by delivering to the secretary of state for filing a statement of change that sets forth all of the following:

a. The name of the corporation.

b. If the current registered office is to be changed, the street address of the new registered office.

c. If the current registered agent is to be changed, the name of the new registered agent and the new agent's written consent, either on the statement or attached to it, to the appointment.

4. A corporation may also change its registered office or registered agent in its biennial report as provided in section 490.1622.

490.503 Resignation of registered agent.

1. A registered agent may resign the agent's agency appointment by signing and delivering to the secretary of state for filing the signed original statement of resignation. The statement may include a statement that the registered office is also discontinued. The registered agent shall send a copy of the statement of resignation by certified mail to the corporation at its principal office and to the registered office, if not discontinued. The registered agent shall certify to the secretary of state that the copies have been sent to the corporation, including the date the copies were sent.

89 Acts, ch 288, §34; 96 Acts, ch 1170, §6

490.504 Service on corporation.

1. A corporation's registered agent is the corporation's agent for service of process, notice, or demand required or permitted by law to be served on the corporation.

2. If a corporation has no registered agent, or the agent cannot with reasonable diligence be served, the corporation may be served by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, addressed to the secretary of the corporation at its principal office. Service is perfected under this subsection at the earliest of:

a. The date the corporation receives the mail.

b. The date shown on the return receipt, if signed on behalf of the corporation.

c. Five days after its deposit in the United States mail, as evidenced by the postmark, if mailed postpaid and correctly addressed.

89 Acts, ch 288, §35; 96 Acts, ch 1170, §7

DIVISION VI

SHARES AND SHAREHOLDERS' RIGHTS

PART A

490.601 Authorized shares.

1. The articles of incorporation must prescribe the classes of shares and the number of shares of each class that the corporation is authorized to issue. If more than one class of shares is authorized, the articles of incorporation must prescribe a distinguishing designation for each class, and, prior to the issuance of shares of a class, the preferences, limitations, and relative rights of that class must be described in the articles of incorporation. All shares of a class must have preferences, limitations, and relative rights identical with those of other shares of the same class except to the extent otherwise permitted by section 490.602.

2. The articles of incorporation must authorize both of the following:

a. One or more classes of shares that together have unlimited voting rights.

b. One or more classes of shares, which may be the same class or classes as those with voting rights, that together are entitled to receive the net assets of the corporation upon dissolution.

3. The articles of incorporation may authorize one or more classes of shares that have any of the following qualities:

a. Have special, conditional, or limited voting rights, or no right to vote, except to the extent prohibited by this chapter.

b. Are redeemable or convertible as specified in the articles of incorporation in any of the following ways:

(1) At the option of the corporation, the shareholders, or another person or upon the occurrence of a designated event.

(2) For cash, indebtedness, securities, or other property.

(3) In a designated amount or in an amount determined in accordance with a designated formula or by reference to extrinsic data or events.

c. Entitle the holders to distributions calculated in any manner, including dividends that may be cumulative, noncumulative, or partially cumulative.

d. Have preference over any other class of shares with respect to distributions, including dividends and distributions upon the dissolution of the corporation.

4. The description of the designations, preferences, limitations, and relative rights of share classes in subsection 3 is not exhaustive.

89 Acts, ch 288, §36

490.602 Terms of class or series determined by board of directors.

1. If the articles of incorporation so provide, the board of directors may determine, in whole or part, the preferences, limitations, and relative rights, within the limits set forth in section 490.601, of either of the following:

a. Any class of shares before the issuance of any shares of that class.

b. One or more series within a class before the issuance of any shares of that series.

2. Each series of a class must be given a distinguishing designation.

3. All shares of a series must have preferences, limitations, and relative rights identical with those of other shares of the same series and, except to the extent otherwise provided in the description of the series, with those of other series of the same class.

4. Before issuing any shares of a class or series created under this section, the corporation must deliver to the secretary of state for filing articles of amendment, which are effective without shareholder action, that set forth all of the following:

a. The name of the corporation.

b. The text of the amendment determining the terms of the class or series of shares.

c. The date it was adopted.

d. A statement that the amendment was duly adopted by the board of directors.

89 Acts, ch 288, §37

490.603 Issued and outstanding shares.

1. A corporation may issue the number of shares of each class or series authorized by the articles of incorporation. Shares that are issued are outstanding shares until they are reacquired, redeemed, converted, or canceled.

2. The reacquisition, redemption, or conversion of outstanding shares is subject to the limitations of subsection 3 and to section 490.640.

3. At all times that shares of the corporation are outstanding, one or more shares that together have unlimited voting rights and one or more shares that together are entitled to receive the net assets of the corporation upon dissolution must be outstanding.

89 Acts, ch 288, §38

490.604 Fractional shares.

1. A corporation may:

a. Issue fractions of a share or pay in money the value of fractions of a share.

b. Arrange for disposition of fractional shares by the shareholders.

c. Issue scrip in registered or bearer form entitling the holder to receive a full share upon surrendering enough scrip to equal a full share.

2. Each certificate representing scrip must be conspicuously labeled "scrip" and must contain the information required by section 490.625, subsection 2.

3. The holder of a fractional share is entitled to exercise the rights of a shareholder, including the right to vote, to receive dividends, and to participate in the assets of the corporation upon liquidation. The holder of scrip is not entitled to any of these rights unless the scrip provides for them.

4. The board of directors may authorize the issuance of scrip subject to any condition considered desirable, including:

a. That the scrip will become void if not exchanged for full shares before a specified date.

b. That the shares for which the scrip is exchangeable may be sold and the proceeds paid to the scrip holders.

89 Acts, ch 288, §39

490.605 through 490.619 Reserved.

PART B

490.620 Subscription for shares before incorporation.

1. A subscription for shares entered into before incorporation is irrevocable for six months unless the subscription agreement provides a longer or shorter period or all the subscribers agree to revocation.

2. The board of directors may determine the payment terms of subscriptions for shares that were entered into before incorporation unless the subscription agreement specifies them. A call for payment by the board of directors must be uniform so far as practicable as to all shares of the same class or series, unless the subscription agreement specifies otherwise.

3. Shares issued pursuant to subscriptions entered into before incorporation are fully paid and nonassessable when the corporation receives the consideration specified in the subscription agreement.

4. If a subscriber defaults in payment of money or property under a subscription agreement entered into before incorporation, the corporation may collect the amount owed as any other debt. Alternatively, unless the subscription agreement provides otherwise, the corporation may rescind the agreement and may sell the shares if the debt remains unpaid more than twenty days after the corporation sends written demand for payment to the subscriber.

5. A subscription agreement entered into after incorporation is a contract between the subscriber and the corporation subject to section 490.621.

89 Acts, ch 288, §40

490.621 Issuance of shares.

1. The powers granted in this section to the board of directors may be reserved to the shareholders by the articles of incorporation.

2. The board of directors may authorize shares to be issued for consideration consisting of any tangible or intangible property or benefit to the corporation, including cash, promissory notes, services performed, contracts for services to be performed, or other securities of the corporation.

3. Before the corporation issues shares, the board of directors must determine that the consideration received or to be received for shares to be issued is adequate. That determination by the board of directors is conclusive insofar as the adequacy of consideration for the issuance of shares relates to whether the shares are validly issued, fully paid, and nonassessable.

4. When the corporation receives the consideration for which the board of directors authorized the issuance of shares, the shares issued for that consideration are fully paid and nonassessable.

5. The corporation may place in escrow shares issued for a contract for future services or benefits or a promissory note, or make other arrangements to restrict the transfer of the shares, and may credit distributions in respect of the shares against their purchase price, until the services are performed, the note is paid, or the benefits received. If the services are not performed, the note is not paid, or the benefits are not received, the shares escrowed or restricted and the distributions credited may be canceled in whole or in part.

89 Acts, ch 288, §41

490.622 Liability of shareholders.

1. A purchaser from a corporation of its own shares is not liable to the corporation or its creditors with respect to the shares except to pay the consideration for which the shares were autho-alized to be issued under section 490.621, or specified in the subscription agreement authorized under section 490.620.

2. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, a shareholder of a corporation is not personally liable for the acts or debts of the corporation.

89 Acts, ch 288, §42

490.623 Share dividends.

1. Unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise, shares may be issued pro rata and without consideration to the corporation's shareholders or to the shareholders of one or more classes or series. An issuance of shares under this subsection is a share dividend.

2. Shares of one class or series shall not be issued as a share dividend in respect of shares of another class or series unless one or more of the following conditions are met:

- a. The articles of incorporation so authorize.
- b. A majority of the votes entitled to be cast by the class or series to be issued approve the issue.
- c. There are no outstanding shares of the class or series to be issued.

3. If the board of directors does not fix the record date for determining shareholders entitled to a share dividend, it is the date the board of directors authorizes the share dividend.

89 Acts, ch 288, §43

490.624 Share options.

A corporation may issue rights, options, or warrants for the purchase of shares of the corporation. The board of directors shall determine the terms upon which the rights, options, or warrants are issued, their form and content, and the consideration for which the shares are to be issued.

89 Acts, ch 288, §44

490.624A Poison pill defense authorized.

The terms and conditions of stock rights or options issued by the corporation may include, without limitation, restrictions or conditions that preclude or limit the exercise, transfer, or receipt of such rights or options by a person, or group of persons, owning or offering to acquire a specified number or percentage of the outstanding common shares or other securities of the corporation, or a transferee of the offeror, or that invalidate or void such stock rights or options held by an offeror or a transferee of the offeror.

490.625 Content of certificates.

1. Shares may be, but need not be, represented by certificates. Unless this chapter or another section expressly provides otherwise, the rights and obligations of shareholders are identical whether or not their shares are represented by certificates.

2. At a minimum each share certificate must state on its face all of the following:

- a. The name of the issuing corporation and that it is organized under the law of this state.
- b. The name of the person to whom issued.
- c. The number and class of shares and the designation of the series, if any, the certificate represents.

3. If the issuing corporation is authorized to issue different classes of shares or different series within a class, the designations, relative rights, preferences, and limitations applicable to each class, the variations in rights, preferences, and limitations determined for each series, and the authority of the board of directors to determine variations for future series must be summarized on the front or back of each certificate. Alternatively, each certificate may state conspicuously on its front or back that the corporation will furnish the shareholder this information on request in writing and without charge.

4. Each share certificate:

a. Must be signed either manually or in facsimile by two officers designated in the bylaws or by the board of directors.

b. May bear the corporate seal or its facsimile.

5. If the person who signed, either manually or in facsimile, a share certificate no longer holds office when the certificate is issued, the certificate is nevertheless valid.

89 Acts, ch 288, §46

490.626 Shares without certificates.

1. Unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws provide otherwise, the board of directors of a corporation may authorize the issue of some or all of the shares of any or all of its classes or series without certificates. The authorization does not affect shares already represented by certificates until they are surrendered to the corporation.

2. Within a reasonable time after the issue or transfer of shares without certificates, the corporation shall send the shareholder a written statement of the information required on certificates by section 490.625, subsections 2 and 3, and, if applicable, section 490.627.

89 Acts, ch 288, §47

490.627 Restriction on transfer of shares and other securities.

1. The articles of incorporation, bylaws, an agreement among shareholders, or an agreement between shareholders and the corporation may impose restrictions on the transfer or registration of transfer of shares of the corporation. A restriction does not affect shares issued before the restriction was adopted unless the holders of the shares are parties to the restriction agreement or voted in favor of the restriction.

2. A restriction on the transfer or registration of transfer of shares is valid and enforceable against the holder or a transferee of the holder if the restriction is authorized by this section and its existence is noted conspicuously on the front or back of the certificate or is contained in the information statement required by section 490.626, subsection 2. Unless so noted, a restriction is not enforceable against a person without knowledge of the restriction.

3. A restriction on the transfer or registration of transfer of shares is authorized for any of the following purposes:

a. To maintain the corporation's status when it is dependent on the number or identity of its shareholders.

b. To preserve exemptions under federal or state securities law.

c. For any other reasonable purpose.

4. A restriction on the transfer or registration of transfer of shares may do any of the following:

a. Obligate the shareholder first to offer the corporation or other persons, separately, consecutively, or simultaneously, an opportunity to acquire the restricted shares.

b. Obligate the corporation or other persons, separately, consecutively, or simultaneously, to acquire the restricted shares.

c. Require the corporation, the holders of any class of its shares, or another person to approve the transfer of the restricted shares, if the requirement is not manifestly unreasonable.

d. Prohibit the transfer of the restricted shares to designated persons or classes of persons, if the prohibition is not manifestly unreasonable.

5. For purposes of this section, "shares" includes a security convertible into or carrying a right to subscribe for or acquire shares.

89 Acts, ch 288, §48

490.628 Expense of issue.

A corporation may pay the expenses of selling or underwriting its shares, and of organizing or reorganizing the corporation, from the consideration received for shares.

PART C

490.630 Shareholders' preemptive rights.

1. Unless section 490.1704 is applicable to the corporation, the shareholders of a corporation do not have a preemptive right to acquire the corporation's unissued shares except to the extent the articles of incorporation so provide.

2. A statement included in the articles of incorporation that "the corporation elects to have preemptive rights", or words of similar import, means that the following principles apply except to the extent the articles of incorporation expressly provide otherwise:

a. The shareholders of the corporation have a preemptive right, granted on uniform terms and conditions prescribed by the board of directors to provide a fair and reasonable opportunity to exercise the right, to acquire proportional amounts of the corporation's unissued shares upon the decision of the board of directors to issue them.

b. A shareholder may waive the shareholder's preemptive right. A waiver evidenced by a writing is irrevocable even though it is not supported by consideration.

c. There is no preemptive right with respect to:

(1) Shares issued as compensation to directors, officers, agents, or employees of the corporation, its subsidiaries, or its affiliates.

(2) Shares issued to satisfy conversion or option rights created to provide compensation to directors, officers, agents, or employees of the corporation, its subsidiaries, or its affiliates.

(3) Shares authorized in articles of incorporation that are issued within six months from the effective date of incorporation.

(4) Shares sold otherwise than for money.

d. Holders of shares of any class without general voting rights but with preferential rights to distributions or assets have no preemptive rights with respect to shares of any class.

e. Holders of shares of any class with general voting rights but without preferential rights to distributions or assets have no preemptive rights with respect to shares of any class with preferential rights to distributions or assets unless the shares with preferential rights are convertible into or carry a right to subscribe for or acquire shares without preferential rights.

f. Shares subject to preemptive rights that are not acquired by shareholders may be issued to any person for a period of one year after being offered to shareholders at a consideration set by the board of directors that is not lower than the consideration set for the exercise of preemptive rights. An offer at a lower consideration or after the expiration of one year is subject to the shareholders' preemptive rights.

3. For purposes of this section, "shares" includes a security convertible into or carrying a right to subscribe for or acquire shares.

89 Acts, ch 288, §50

490.631 Corporation's acquisition of its own shares.

1. A corporation may acquire its own shares and, except as may be otherwise provided pursuant to section 490.632, shares so acquired constitute authorized but unissued shares.

2. If the articles of incorporation prohibit the reissue of acquired shares, the number of authorized shares is reduced by the number of shares acquired, effective upon amendment of the articles of incorporation.

3. The board of directors may adopt articles of amendment under this section without shareholder er action, and deliver them to the secretary of state for filing. The articles must set forth all of the following:

- a. The name of the corporation.
- b. The reduction in the number of authorized shares, itemized by class and series.
- c. The total number of authorized shares, itemized by class and series, remaining after reduction of the shares.

89 Acts, ch 288, §51; 90 Acts, ch 1205, §23

490.632 Required shares as issued but not outstanding shares.

1. A corporation which, as of December 30, 1989, treated any of its shares which it had reacquired as issued but not outstanding shares may continue to treat those shares as issued but not outstanding shares.

2. If a corporation reacquires its own shares after December 30, 1989, but before January 1, 1991, those shares constitute issued but not outstanding shares as of and after their reacquisition if either of the following is applicable:

a. When the shares are reacquired, the articles of incorporation contain a provision specifying that reacquired shares constitute issued but not outstanding shares.

b. Prior to January 1, 1991, the board of directors adopts a resolution specifying that shares reacquired after December 30, 1989, and prior to January 1, 1991, constitute issued but not outstanding shares.

3. If a corporation reacquires its own shares after December 31, 1990, those shares constitute issued but not outstanding shares if, at the time they are reacquired by the corporation, either of the following is applicable:

a. The articles of incorporation contain a provision specifying that reacquired shares constitute issued but not outstanding shares.

b. The board of directors has adopted a resolution specifying that reacquired shares constitute issued but not outstanding shares.

4. Unless otherwise provided in its articles of incorporation, a corporation may at any time, by resolution adopted by its board of directors, cancel or otherwise restore to the status of authorized but unissued shares any of its shares which it has previously reacquired and treated as issued but not outstanding shares.

90 Acts, ch 1205, §24; 91 Acts, ch 97, §54

490.633 through 490.639 Reserved.

PART D

490.640 Distribution to shareholders.

1. A board of directors may authorize and the corporation may make distributions to its shareholders subject to restriction by the articles of incorporation and the limitation in subsection 3.

2. If the board of directors does not fix the record date for determining shareholders entitled to a distribution, other than one involving a repurchase or reacquisition of shares, it is the date the board of directors authorizes the distribution.

3. No distribution may be made if, after giving it effect either of the following would result:

a. The corporation would not be able to pay its debts as they become due in the usual course of business.

b. The corporation's total assets would be less than the sum of its total liabilities plus, unless the articles of incorporation permit otherwise, the amount that would be needed, if the corporation were to be dissolved at the time of the distribution, to satisfy the preferential rights upon dissolution of shareholders whose preferential rights are superior to those receiving the distribution.

4. The board of directors may base a determination that a distribution is not prohibited under subsection 3 either on financial statements prepared on the basis of accounting practices and principles that are reasonable in the circumstances or on a fair valuation or other method that is reasonable in the circumstances.

5. The effect of a distribution under subsection 3 is measured:

a. In the case of distribution by purchase, redemption, or other acquisition of the corporation's shares, as of the earlier of:

(1) The date money or other property is transferred or debt incurred by the corporation.

(2) The date the shareholder ceases to be a shareholder with respect to the acquired shares.

b. In the case of any other distribution of indebtedness, as of the date the indebtedness is distributed.

c. In all other cases, as of:

(1) The date the distribution is authorized if the payment occurs within one hundred twenty days after the date of authorization.

(2) The date the payment is made if it occurs more than one hundred twenty days after the date of authorization.

6. A corporation's indebtedness to a shareholder incurred by reason of a distribution made in accordance with this section is at parity with the corporation's indebtedness to its general, unsecured creditors except to the extent subordinated by agreement.

89 Acts, ch 288, §52

DIVISION VII

MEETINGS — NOTICE — VOTING

PART A

490.701 Annual meeting.

1. A corporation shall hold annually, at a time stated in or fixed in accordance with the bylaws, a meeting of shareholders.

2. Annual shareholders' meetings may be held in or out of this state at the place stated in or fixed in accordance with the bylaws. If no place is stated in or fixed in accordance with the bylaws, annual meetings shall be held at the corporation's principal office.

3. The failure to hold an annual meeting at the time stated in or fixed in accordance with a corporation's bylaws does not affect the validity of any corporate action.

89 Acts, ch 288, §53

490.702 Special meeting.

1. Except as provided in subsection 5, a corporation shall hold a special meeting of shareholders upon the occurrence of either of the following:

a. On call of its board of directors or the person or persons authorized to call a special meeting by the articles of incorporation or bylaws.

b. If the holders of at least ten percent of all the votes entitled to be cast on any issue proposed to be considered at the proposed special meeting sign, date, and deliver to the corporation's secretary one or more written demands for the meeting describing the purpose or purposes for which it is to be held.

2. If not otherwise fixed under section 490.703 or 490.707, the record date for determining shareholders entitled to demand a special meeting is the date the first shareholder signs the demand.

3. Special shareholders' meetings may be held in or out of this state at the place stated in or fixed in accordance with the bylaws. If no place is stated or fixed in accordance with the bylaws, special meetings shall be held at the corporation's principal office.

4. Only business with the purpose or purposes described in the meeting notice required by section 490.705, subsection 3, may be conducted at a special shareholders' meeting.

5. Notwithstanding subsections 1 through 4, a corporation which has a class of voting stock that is listed on a national securities exchange, authorized for quotation on the national association of securities dealers automated quotations—national market system, or held of record by more than two thousand shareholders, is required to hold a special meeting only upon the occurrence of either of the following:

a. On call of its board of directors or the person or persons authorized to call a special meeting by the articles of incorporation or bylaws.

b. If the holders of at least fifty percent of all the votes entitled to be cast on any issue proposed to be considered at the proposed special meeting sign, date, and deliver to the corporation's secretary one or more written demands for the meeting describing the purpose or purposes for which it is to be held.

89 Acts, ch 288, §54; 97 Acts, ch 117, §1, 2

490.703 Court-ordered meeting.

1. The district court of the county where a corporation's principal office, or, if none in this state, its registered office, is located may summarily order a meeting to be held either:

a. On application of any shareholder of the corporation entitled to participate in an annual meeting if an annual meeting was not held within the earlier of six months after the end of the corporation's fiscal year or fifteen months after its last annual meeting.

b. On application of a shareholder who signed a demand for a special meeting valid under section 490.702 if either:

(1) Notice of the special meeting was not given within thirty days after the date the demand was delivered to the corporation's secretary.

(2) The special meeting was not held in accordance with the notice.

2. The court may fix the time and place of the meeting, ascertain the shares entitled to participate in the meeting, specify a record date for ascertaining shareholders entitled to notice of and to vote at the meeting, prescribe the form and content of the meeting notice, fix the quorum required for specific matters to be considered at the meeting or direct that the votes represented at the meeting constitute a quorum for action on those matters, and enter other orders necessary to accomplish the purpose or purposes of the meeting.

89 Acts, ch 288, §55

490.704 Action without meeting.

1. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, any action required or permitted by this chapter to be taken at a shareholders' meeting may be taken without a meeting or vote, and, except as provided in subsection 5, without prior notice, if one or more written consents describing the action taken are signed by the holders of outstanding shares having not less than ninety percent of the votes entitled to be cast at a meeting at which all shares entitled to vote on the action were present and voted, and are delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records.

2. A written consent shall bear the date of signature of each shareholder who signs the consent and no written consent is effective to take the corporate action referred to in the consent unless, within sixty days of the earliest dated consent delivered in the manner required by this section to the corporation, written consents signed by a sufficient number of holders to take action are delivered to the corporation.

3. If not otherwise fixed under section 490.703 or 490.707, the record date for determining shareholders entitled to take action without a meeting is the date the first shareholder signs the consent under subsection 1.

4. A consent signed under this section has the effect of a meeting vote and may be described as such in any document.

5. If this chapter requires that notice of proposed action be given to shareholders not entitled to vote and the action is to be taken by consent of the voting shareholders, the corporation must give all shareholders written notice of the proposed action at least ten days before the action is taken. The notice must contain or be accompanied by the same material that, under this chapter, would have been required to be sent to shareholders not entitled to vote in a notice of meeting at which the proposed action would have been submitted to the shareholders for action.

6. Prompt notice of the taking of corporate action without a meeting by less than unanimous written consent shall be given to those shareholders who have not consented in writing. If the taking of that corporate action requires the giving of notice under section 490.1320, subsection 2, the notice of the action shall set forth the matters described in section 490.1322.

490.705 Notice of meeting.

1. A corporation shall notify shareholders of the date, time, and place of each annual and special shareholders' meeting no fewer than ten nor more than sixty days before the meeting date. Unless this chapter or the articles of incorporation require otherwise, the corporation is required to give notice only to shareholders entitled to vote at the meeting.

2. Unless this chapter or the articles of incorporation require otherwise, notice of an annual meeting need not include a description of the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called.

3. Notice of a special meeting must include a description of the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called.

4. If not otherwise fixed under section 490.703 or 490.707, the record date for determining shareholders entitled to notice of and to vote at an annual or special shareholders' meeting is the close of business on the day before the first notice is delivered to shareholders.

5. Unless the bylaws require otherwise, if an annual or special shareholders' meeting is adjourned to a different date, time, or place, notice need not be given of the new date, time, or place if the new date, time, or place is announced at the meeting before adjournment. If a new record date for the adjourned meeting is or must be fixed under section 490.707, however, notice of the adjourned meeting must be given under this section to persons who are shareholders as of the new record date.

490.706 Waiver of notice.

1. A shareholder may waive any notice required by this chapter, the articles of incorporation, or bylaws before or after the date and time stated in the notice. The waiver must be in writing, be signed by the shareholder entitled to the notice, and be delivered to the corporation for inclusion in the minutes or filing with the corporate records.

2. A shareholder's attendance at a meeting:

a. Waives objection to lack of notice or defective notice of the meeting, unless the shareholder at the beginning of the meeting or promptly upon the shareholder's arrival objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting.

b. Waives objection to consideration of a particular matter at the meeting that is not within the purpose or purposes described in the meeting notice, unless the shareholder objects to considering the matter when it is presented.

490.707 Record date.

1. The bylaws may fix or provide the manner of fixing the record date for one or more voting groups in order to determine the shareholders entitled to notice of a shareholders' meeting, to demand a special meeting, to vote, or to take any other action. If the bylaws do not fix or provide for fixing a record date, the board of directors of the corporation may fix a future date as the record date.

2. A record date fixed under this section shall not be more than seventy days before the meeting or action requiring a determination of shareholders.

3. A determination of shareholders entitled to notice of or to vote at a shareholders' meeting is effective for any adjournment of the meeting unless the board of directors fixes a new record date, which it must do if the meeting is adjourned to a date more than one hundred twenty days after the date fixed for the original meeting.

4. If a court orders a meeting adjourned to a date more than one hundred twenty days after the date fixed for the original meeting, it may provide that the original record date continues in effect or it may fix a new record date.

89 Acts, ch 288, §59

490.708 through 490.719 Reserved.

PART B

490.720 Shareholders' list for meeting.

1. After fixing a record date for a meeting, a corporation shall prepare an alphabetical list of the names of all its shareholders who are entitled to notice of a shareholders' meeting. The list must be arranged by voting group and within each voting group by class or series of shares, and show the address of and number of shares held by each shareholder.

2. The shareholders' list must be available for inspection by any shareholder beginning two business days after notice of the meeting is given for which the list was prepared and continuing through the meeting, at the corporation's principal office or at a place identified in the meeting notice in the city where the meeting will be held. A shareholder, or a shareholder's agent or attorney, is entitled on written demand to inspect and, subject to the requirements of section 490.1602, subsection 3, to copy the list, during regular business hours and at the person's expense, during the period it is available for inspection.

3. The corporation shall make the shareholders' list available at the meeting, and any shareholder, or a shareholder's agent or attorney, is entitled to inspect the list at any time during the meeting or any adjournment.

4. If the corporation refuses to allow a shareholder, or a shareholder's agent or attorney, to inspect the shareholders' list before or at the meeting, or copy the list as permitted by subsection 2, the district court of the county where a corporation's principal office or, if none in this state, its registered office, is located, on application of the shareholder, may summarily order the inspection or copying at the corporation's expense and may postpone the meeting for which the list was prepared until the inspection or copying is complete.

5. Refusal or failure to prepare or make available the shareholders' list does not affect the validity of action taken at the meeting.

490.721 Voting entitlement of shares.

1. Except as provided in subsections 2 and 3 or unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise, each outstanding share, regardless of class, is entitled to one vote on each matter voted on at a shareholders' meeting. Only shares are entitled to vote.

2. Absent special circumstances, the shares of a corporation are not entitled to vote if they are owned, directly or indirectly, by a second corporation, domestic or foreign, and the first corporation owns, directly or indirectly, a majority of the shares entitled to vote for directors of the second corporation.

3. Subsection 2 does not limit the power of a corporation to vote any shares, including its own shares, held by it in a fiduciary capacity.

4. Redeemable shares are not entitled to vote after notice of redemption is mailed to the holders and a sum sufficient to redeem the shares has been deposited with a bank, trust company, or other financial institution under an irrevocable obligation to pay the holders the redemption price on surrender of the shares.

89 Acts, ch 288, §61

490.722 Proxies.

1. A shareholder may vote the shareholder's shares in person or by proxy.

2. A shareholder may appoint a proxy to vote or otherwise act for the shareholder by signing an appointment form, either personally or by the shareholder's attorney-in-fact.

3. An appointment of a proxy is effective when received by the secretary or other officer or agent authorized to tabulate votes. An appointment is valid for eleven months unless a longer period is expressly provided in the appointment form.

4. An appointment of a proxy is revocable by the shareholder unless the appointment form conspicuously states that it is irrevocable and the appointment is coupled with an interest. Appointments coupled with an interest include, but are not limited to, the appointment of:

a. A pledgee.

b. A person who purchased or agreed to purchase the shares.

c. A creditor of the corporation who extended it credit under terms requiring the appointment.

d. An employee of the corporation whose employment contract requires the appointment.

e. A party to a voting agreement created under section 490.731.

5. The death or incapacity of the shareholder appointing a proxy does not affect the right of the corporation to accept the proxy's authority unless notice of the death or incapacity is received by the secretary or other officer or agent authorized to tabulate votes before the proxy exercises the proxy's authority under the appointment.

6. An appointment made irrevocable under subsection 4 is revoked when the interest with which it is coupled is extinguished.

7. A transferee for value of shares subject to an irrevocable appointment may revoke the appointment if the transferee did not know of its existence when the transferee acquired the shares and the existence of the irrevocable appointment was not noted conspicuously on the certificate representing the shares or on the information statement for shares without certificates.

8. Subject to section 490.724 and to any express limitation on the proxy's authority appearing on the face of the appointment form, a corporation is entitled to accept the proxy's vote or other action as that of the shareholder making the appointment.

89 Acts, ch 288, §62

490.723 Shares held by nominees.

1. A corporation may establish a procedure by which the beneficial owner of shares that are registered in the name of a nominee is recognized by the corporation as the shareholder. The extent of this recognition may be determined in the procedure.

2. The procedure may set forth:

- a. The types of nominees to which it applies.
 - b. The rights or privileges that the corporation recognizes in a beneficial owner.
 - c. The manner in which the procedure is selected by the nominee.
 - d. The information that must be provided when the procedure is selected.
 - e. The period for which selection of the procedure is effective.
 - f. Other aspects of the rights and duties created.
- 89 Acts, ch 288, §63

490.724 Corporation's acceptance of votes.

1. If the name signed on a vote, consent, waiver, or proxy appointment corresponds to the name of a shareholder, the corporation if acting in good faith is entitled to accept the vote, consent, waiver, or proxy appointment and give it effect as the act of the shareholder.
2. If the name signed on a voted consent, waiver, or proxy appointment does not correspond to the name of its shareholder, the corporation if acting in good faith is nevertheless entitled to accept the vote, consent, waiver, or proxy appointment and give it effect as the act of the shareholder if:
 - a. The shareholder is an entity and the name signed purports to be that of an officer or agent of the entity.
 - b. The name signed purports to be that of an administrator, executor, guardian of the property, or conservator representing the shareholder and, if the corporation requests, evidence of fiduciary status acceptable to the corporation has been presented with respect to the vote, consent, waiver, or proxy appointment.
 - c. The name signed purports to be that of a receiver or trustee in bankruptcy of the shareholder and, if the corporation requests, evidence of this status acceptable to the corporation has been presented with respect to the vote, consent, waiver, or proxy appointment.
 - d. The name signed purports to be that of a pledgee, beneficial owner, or attorney-in-fact of the shareholder and, if the corporation requests, evidence acceptable to the corporation of the signatory's authority to sign for the shareholder has been presented with respect to the vote, consent, waiver, or proxy appointment.
 - e. Two or more persons are the shareholder as co-tenants or fiduciaries and the name signed purports to be the name of at least one of the co-owners and the person signing appears to be acting on behalf of all the co-owners.
3. The corporation is entitled to reject a vote, consent, waiver, or proxy appointment if the secretary or other officer or agent authorized to tabulate votes, acting in good faith, has reasonable basis for doubt about the validity of the signature on it or about the signatory's authority to sign for the shareholder.

4. The corporation and its officer or agent who accepts or rejects a vote, consent, waiver, or proxy appointment in good faith and in accordance with the standards of this section are not liable in damages to the shareholder for the consequences of the acceptance or rejection.
 5. Corporate action based on the acceptance or rejection of a vote, consent, waiver, or proxy appointment under this section is valid unless a court of competent jurisdiction determines otherwise.
- 89 Acts, ch 288, §64

490.725 Quorum and voting requirements for voting groups.

1. Shares entitled to vote as a separate voting group may take action on a matter at a meeting only if a quorum of those shares exists with respect to that matter. Unless the articles of incorporation or this chapter provides otherwise, a majority of the votes entitled to be cast on the matter by the voting group constitutes a quorum of that voting group for action on that matter.
 2. Once a share is represented for any purpose at a meeting, it is deemed present for quorum purposes for the remainder of the meeting and for any adjournment of that meeting unless a new record date is or must be set for that adjourned meeting.
 3. If a quorum exists, action on a matter, other than the election of directors, by a voting group is approved if the votes cast within the voting group favoring the action exceed the votes cast opposing the action, unless the articles of incorporation or this chapter require a greater number of affirmative votes.
 4. An amendment of articles of incorporation adding, changing, or deleting a quorum or voting requirement for a voting group greater than specified in subsection 2 or 3 is governed by section 490.727.
 5. The election of directors is governed by section 490.728.
- 89 Acts, ch 288, §65

490.726 Action by single or multiple groups.

1. If the articles of incorporation or this chapter provide for voting by a single voting group on a matter, action on that matter is taken when voted upon by that voting group as provided in section 490.725.
2. If the articles of incorporation or this chapter provide for voting by two or more voting groups on a matter, action on that matter is taken only when voted upon by each of those voting groups counted separately as provided in section 490.725. Action may be taken by one voting group on a matter even though no action is taken by another voting group entitled to vote on the matter.

89 Acts, ch 288, §66

490.727 Greater quorum or voting requirements.

1. The articles of incorporation may provide for a greater quorum or voting requirement for shareholders or voting groups of shareholders than is provided for by this chapter.

2. An amendment to the articles of incorporation that adds, changes, or deletes a greater quorum or voting requirement must meet the same quorum requirement and be adopted by the same vote and voting groups required to take action under the quorum and voting requirements then in effect or proposed to be adopted, whichever is greater.

89 Acts, ch 288, §67

490.728 Voting for directors — cumulative voting.

1. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, directors are elected by a majority of the votes cast by the shares entitled to vote in the election at a meeting at which a quorum is present.

2. Shareholders do not have a right to cumulate their votes for directors unless the articles of incorporation so provide.

3. A statement included in the articles of incorporation that “[all] [a designated voting group of] shareholders are entitled to cumulate their votes for directors”, or words of similar import, means that the shareholders designated are entitled to multiply the number of votes they are entitled to cast by the number of directors for whom they are entitled to vote and cast the product for a single candidate or distribute the product among two or more candidates.

490.729 Reserved.

PART C

490.730 Voting trusts.

1. One or more shareholders may create a voting trust, conferring on a trustee the right to vote or otherwise act for them, by signing an agreement setting out the provisions of the trust, which may include anything consistent with its purpose, and transferring their shares to the trustee. When a voting trust agreement is signed, the trustee shall prepare a list of the names and addresses of all owners of beneficial interests in the trust, together with the number and class of shares each transferred to the trust, and deliver copies of the list and agreement to the corporation’s principal office.

2. A voting trust becomes effective on the date the first shares subject to the trust are registered in the trustee’s name. A voting trust is valid for not more than ten years after its effective date unless extended under subsection 3.

3. All or some of the parties to a voting trust may extend it for additional terms of not more than ten years each by signing an extension agreement and obtaining the voting trustee’s written consent to the extension. An extension is valid for ten years from the date the first shareholder signs the extension agreement. The voting trustee must deliver copies of the extension agreement and list of beneficial owners to the corporation’s principal office. An extension agreement binds only those parties signing it.

490.731 Voting agreements.

1. Two or more shareholders may provide for the manner in which they will vote their shares by signing an agreement for that purpose. A voting agreement created under this section is not subject to section 490.730.

2. A voting agreement created under this section is specifically enforceable.

89 Acts, ch 288, §70

490.732 through 490.739 Reserved.

PART D

490.740 Procedure in derivative proceedings.

1. A person shall not commence a proceeding in the right of a domestic or foreign corporation unless that person was a shareholder of the corporation when the transaction complained of occurred or unless that person became a shareholder through transfer by operation of law from one who was a shareholder at that time.

2. A complaint in a proceeding brought in the right of a corporation must be verified and allege with particularity the demand made, if any, to obtain action by the board of directors and either that the demand was refused or ignored or why the complainant did not make the demand. Whether or not a demand for action was made, if the corporation commences an investigation of the charges made in the demand or complaint, the court may stay any proceeding until the investigation is completed.

3. A proceeding commenced under this section shall not be discontinued or settled without the court’s approval. If the court determines that a proposed discontinuance or settlement will substantially affect the interest of the corporation’s shareholders or a class of shareholders, the court shall direct that notice be given the shareholders affected.

4. On termination of the proceeding the court may require the plaintiff to pay any defendant’s reasonable expenses including attorney fees incurred in defending the proceeding if it finds that the proceeding was commenced without reasonable cause.

5. For purposes of this section, “shareholder” includes a beneficial owner whose shares are held in a voting trust or held by a nominee on the beneficial owner’s behalf.

89 Acts, ch 288, §71

DIVISION VIII

DIRECTORS AND OFFICERS

PART A

490.801 Requirement for and duties of board of directors.

1. Except as provided in subsection 3, each corporation must have a board of directors.

2. All corporate powers shall be exercised by or under the authority of, and the business and affairs of the corporation managed under the direction of, its board of directors, subject to any limitation set forth in the articles of incorporation.

3. A corporation having fifty or fewer shareholders may dispense with or limit the authority of a board of directors by describing in its articles of incorporation who will perform some or all of the duties of a board of directors.

89 Acts, ch 288, §72

490.802 Qualifications of directors.

The articles of incorporation or bylaws may prescribe qualifications for directors. A director need not be a resident of this state or a shareholder of the corporation unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws so prescribe.

89 Acts, ch 288, §73

490.803 Number and election of directors.

1. A board of directors must consist of one or more individuals, with the number specified in or fixed in accordance with the articles of incorporation or bylaws.

2. If a board of directors has power to fix or change the number of directors, the board may increase or decrease by thirty percent or less the number of directors last approved by the shareholders, but only the shareholders may increase or decrease by more than thirty percent the number of directors last approved by the shareholders.

3. The articles of incorporation or bylaws may establish a variable range for the size of the board of directors by fixing a minimum and maximum number of directors. If a variable range is established, the number of directors may be fixed or changed from time to time, within the minimum and maximum, by the shareholders or the board of directors. After shares are issued, only the shareholders may change the range for the size of the board or change from a fixed to a variable-range size board or vice versa.

4. Directors are elected at the first annual shareholders’ meeting and at each annual meeting thereafter unless their terms are staggered under section 490.806.

89 Acts, ch 288, §74; 91 Acts, ch 211, §5

490.804 Election of directors by certain classes of shareholders.

If the articles of incorporation authorize dividing the shares into classes, the articles may also authorize the election of all or a specified number of directors by the holders of one or more authorized classes of shares. Each class, or classes, of shares entitled to elect one or more directors is a separate voting group for purposes of the election of directors.

89 Acts, ch 288, §75

490.805 Terms of directors generally.

1. The terms of the initial directors of a corporation expire at the first shareholders’ meeting at which directors are elected.

2. The terms of all other directors expire at the next annual shareholders’ meeting following their election unless their terms are staggered under section 490.806.

3. A decrease in the number of directors does not shorten an incumbent director’s term.

4. The term of a director elected to fill a vacancy expires at the next shareholders’ meeting at which directors are elected.

5. Despite the expiration of a director’s term, the director continues to serve until a successor for that director is elected and qualifies or until there is a decrease in the number of directors.

89 Acts, ch 288, §76

490.806 Staggered terms for directors.

The articles of incorporation may provide for staggering the terms of directors by dividing the total number of directors into two or three groups, with each group containing one-half or one-third of the total, as near as may be. In that event, the terms of directors in the first group expire at the first annual shareholders’ meeting after their election, the terms of the second group expire at the second annual shareholders’ meeting after their election, and the terms of the third group, if any, expire at the third annual shareholders’ meeting after their election. At each annual shareholders’ meeting held thereafter, directors shall be chosen for a term of two years or three years, as the case may be, to succeed those whose terms expire.

490.807 Resignation of directors.

1. A director may resign at any time by delivering written notice to the board of directors, its chairperson, or to the corporation.

2. A resignation is effective when the notice is delivered unless the notice specifies a later effective date.

89 Acts, ch 288, §78

490.808 Removal of directors by shareholders.

1. The shareholders may remove one or more directors with or without cause unless the articles of incorporation provide that directors may be removed only for cause.

2. If a director is elected by a voting group of shareholders, only the shareholders of that voting group may participate in the vote to remove that director.

3. If cumulative voting is authorized, a director shall not be removed if the number of votes sufficient to elect that director under cumulative voting is voted against the director's removal. If cumulative voting is not authorized, a director may be removed only if the number of votes cast to remove that director exceeds the number of votes cast not to remove the director.

4. A director may be removed by the shareholders only at a meeting called for the purpose of removing the director and after notice stating that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is removal of the director. A director shall not be removed pursuant to written consents under section 490.704 unless written consents are obtained from the holders of all the outstanding shares of the corporation entitled to vote on the removal of the director.

490.809 Removal of directors by judicial proceeding.

1. The district court of the county where a corporation's principal office or, if none in this state, its registered office is located may remove a director of the corporation from office in a proceeding commenced either by the corporation or by its shareholders holding at least twenty percent of the outstanding shares of any class if the court finds that both of the following apply:

a. The director engaged in fraudulent or dishonest conduct with respect to the corporation.

b. Removal is in the best interest of the corporation.

2. The court that removes a director may bar the director from reelection for a period prescribed by the court.

3. If shareholders commence a proceeding under subsection 1, they shall make the corporation a party defendant.

89 Acts, ch 288, §80

490.810 Vacancy on board.

1. Unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise, if a vacancy occurs on a board of directors, including a vacancy resulting from an increase in the number of directors, the vacancy may be filled in any of the following manners:

a. The shareholders may fill the vacancy.

b. The board of directors may fill the vacancy.

c. If the directors remaining in office constitute fewer than a quorum of the board, they may fill the vacancy by the affirmative vote of a majority of all the directors remaining in office.

2. If the vacant office was held by a director elected by a voting group of shareholders, only the holders of shares of that voting group are entitled to vote to fill the vacancy if it is filled by the shareholders.

3. A vacancy that will occur at a specific later date, by reason of a resignation effective at a later date under section 490.807, subsection 2 or otherwise, may be filled before the vacancy occurs but the new director shall not take office until the vacancy occurs.

89 Acts, ch 288, §81

490.811 Compensation of directors.

Unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws provide otherwise, the board of directors may fix the compensation of directors.

89 Acts, ch 288, §82

490.812 through 490.819 Reserved.

PART B

490.820 Meetings.

1. The board of directors may hold regular or special meetings in or out of this state.

2. Unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws provide otherwise, the board of directors may permit any or all directors to participate in a regular or special meeting by, or conduct the meeting through the use of, any means of communication by which all directors participating may simultaneously hear each other during the meeting. A director participating in a meeting by this means is deemed to be present in person at the meeting.

89 Acts, ch 288, §83

490.821 Action without meeting.

1. Unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws provide otherwise, action required or permitted by this chapter to be taken at a board of directors' meeting may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all members of the board. The action must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by each director, and included in the minutes or filed with the corporate records reflecting the action taken.

2. Action taken under this section is effective when the last director signs the consent, unless the consent specifies a different effective date.

3. A consent signed under this section has the effect of a meeting vote and may be described as such in any document.

89 Acts, ch 288, §84

490.822 Notice of meeting.

1. Unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws provide otherwise, regular meetings of the board of directors may be held without notice of the date, time, place, or purpose of the meeting.

2. Unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws provide for a longer or shorter period, special meetings of the board of directors must be preceded by at least two days' notice of the date, time, and place of the meeting. The notice need not describe the purpose of the special meeting unless required by the articles of incorporation or bylaws.

89 Acts, ch 288, §85

490.823 Waiver of notice.

1. A director may waive any notice required by this chapter, the articles of incorporation, or bylaws before or after the date and time stated in the notice. Except as provided by subsection 2, the waiver must be in writing, signed by the director entitled to the notice, and filed with the minutes or corporate records.

2. A director's attendance at or participation in a meeting waives any required notice to that director of the meeting unless the director at the beginning of the meeting or promptly upon the director's arrival objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting and does not thereafter vote for or assent to action taken at the meeting.

490.824 Quorum and voting.

1. Unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws require a different number, a quorum of a board of directors consists of either:

a. A majority of the fixed number of directors if the corporation has a fixed board size.

b. A majority of the number of directors prescribed, or, if no number is prescribed the number in office immediately before the meeting begins, if the corporation has a variable-range size board.

2. The articles of incorporation or bylaws may authorize a quorum of a board of directors to consist of no fewer than one-third of the fixed or prescribed number of directors determined under subsection 1.

3. If a quorum is present when a vote is taken, the affirmative vote of a majority of directors present is the act of the board of directors unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws require the vote of a greater number of directors.

4. A director who is present at a meeting of the board of directors or a committee of the board of directors when corporate action is taken is deemed to have assented to the action taken unless one or more of the following occurs:

a. The director objects at the beginning of the meeting or promptly upon the director's arrival to holding it or transacting business at the meeting.

b. The director's dissent or abstention from the action taken is entered in the minutes of the meeting.

c. The director delivers written notice of the director's dissent or abstention to the presiding officer of the meeting before its adjournment or to the corporation immediately after adjournment of the meeting.

The right of dissent or abstention is not available to a director who votes in favor of the action taken.

89 Acts, ch 288, §87

490.825 Committees.

1. Unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws provide otherwise, a board of directors may create one or more committees and appoint members of the board of directors to serve on them. Each committee may have two or more members, who serve at the pleasure of the board of directors.

2. The creation of a committee and appointment of members to it must be approved by the greater of either:

a. A majority of all the directors in office when the action is taken.

b. The number of directors required by the articles of incorporation or bylaws to take action under section 490.824.

3. Sections 490.820 through 490.824, which govern meetings, action without meetings, notice and waiver of notice, and quorum and voting requirements of the board of directors, apply to committees and their members as well.

4. To the extent specified by the board of directors or in the articles of incorporation or bylaws, each committee may exercise the authority of the board of directors under section 490.801.

5. A committee shall not, however:

a. Authorize distributions.

b. Approve or propose to shareholders action that this chapter requires be approved by shareholders.

c. Fill vacancies on the board of directors or on any of its committees.

d. Amend articles of incorporation pursuant to section 490.1002.

e. Adopt, amend, or repeal bylaws.

f. Approve a plan of merger not requiring shareholder approval.

g. Authorize or approve reacquisition of shares, except according to a formula or method prescribed by the board of directors.

h. Authorize or approve the issuance or sale or contract for sale of shares, or determine the designation and relative rights, preferences, and limitations of a class or series of shares, except that the board of directors may authorize a committee or a senior executive officer of the corporation to do so within limits specifically prescribed by the board of directors.

6. The creation of, delegation of authority to, or action by a committee does not alone constitute compliance by a director with the standards of conduct described in section 490.830.

89 Acts, ch 288, §88

490.826 through 490.829 Reserved.

PART C

490.830 General standards for directors.

1. A director shall discharge that director's duties as a director, including the director's duties as a member of a committee in conformity with all of the following:

a. In good faith.

b. With the care an ordinarily prudent person in a like position would exercise under similar circumstances.

c. In a manner the director reasonably believes to be in the best interests of the corporation.

2. In discharging the director's duties a director is entitled to rely on information, opinions, reports, or statements, including financial statements and other financial data, if prepared or presented by any of the following:

a. One or more officers or employees of the corporation whom the director reasonably believes to be reliable and competent in the matters presented.

b. Legal counsel, public accountants, or other persons as to matters the director reasonably believes are within the person's professional or expert competence.

c. A committee of the board of directors of which the director is not a member if the director reasonably believes the committee merits confidence.

3. A director is not acting in good faith if the director has knowledge concerning the matter in question that makes reliance otherwise permitted by subsection 2 unwarranted.

4. A director is not liable for any action taken as a director, or any failure to take any action, if the director performed the duties of the director's office in compliance with this section, or if, and to the extent that, liability for any such action or failure to act has been limited by the articles of incorporation pursuant to section 490.832.

89 Acts, ch 288, §89

490.831 Director conflict of interest.

1. A conflict of interest transaction is a transaction with the corporation in which a director of the corporation has a direct or indirect interest. A conflict of interest transaction is not voidable by the corporation solely because of the director's interest in the transaction if any one of the following is true:

a. The material facts of the transaction and the director's interest were disclosed or known to the board of directors or a committee of the board of directors and the board of directors or committee authorized, approved, or ratified the transaction.

b. The material facts of the transaction and the director's interest were disclosed or known to the shareholders entitled to vote and they authorized, approved, or ratified the transaction.

c. The transaction was fair to the corporation.

2. For purposes of this section, a director of the corporation has an indirect interest in a transaction if either:

a. Another entity in which the director has a material financial interest or in which the director is a general partner is a party to the transaction.

b. Another entity of which the director is a director, officer, or trustee is a party to the transaction and the transaction is or should be considered by the board of directors of the corporation.

3. For purposes of subsection 1, paragraph "a", a conflict of interest transaction is authorized, approved, or ratified if it receives the affirmative vote of a majority of the directors on the board of directors or on the committee, who have no direct or indirect interest in the transaction, but a transaction may not be authorized, approved, or ratified under this section by a single director. If a majority of the directors who have no direct or indirect interest in the transaction vote to authorize, approve, or ratify the transaction, a quorum is present for the purpose of taking action under this section. The presence of, or a vote cast by, a director with a direct or indirect interest in the transaction does not affect the validity of any action taken under subsection 1, paragraph "a", if the transaction is otherwise authorized, approved, or ratified as provided in that subsection.

4. For purposes of subsection 1, paragraph "b", a conflict of interest transaction is authorized, approved, or ratified if it receives the vote of a majority of the shares entitled to be counted under this subsection. Shares owned by or voted under the control of a director who has a direct or indirect interest in the transaction, and shares owned by or voted under the control of an entity described in subsection 2, paragraph "a", shall not be counted in a vote of shareholders to determine whether to authorize, approve, or ratify a conflict of interest transaction under subsection 1, paragraph "b". The vote of those shares, however, is counted in determining whether the transaction is approved under other sections of this chapter. A majority of the shares, whether or not present, that are entitled to be counted in a vote on the transaction under this subsection constitutes a quorum for the purpose of taking action under this section.

490.832 Personal liability — directors.

The articles of incorporation may contain a provision eliminating or limiting the personal liability of a director to the corporation or its shareholders for monetary damages for breach of fiduciary duty as a director, provided that the provision does not eliminate or limit the liability of a director for a breach of the director's duty of loyalty to the corporation or its shareholders, for acts or omissions not in good faith or which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law, for a transaction from which the director derives an improper personal benefit, or under section 490.833. A provision shall not eliminate or limit the liability of a director for an act or omission occurring prior to the date when the provision in the articles of incorporation becomes effective.

490.833 Liability for unlawful distribution.

1. Unless the director complies with the applicable standards of conduct described in section 490.830, a director who votes for or assents to a distribution made in violation of this chapter or the articles of incorporation is personally liable to the corporation for the amount of the distribution that exceeds what could have been distributed without violating this chapter or the articles of incorporation.

2. A director held liable for an unlawful distribution under subsection 1 is entitled to contribution from both of the following:

a. Every other director who voted for or assented to the distribution without complying with the applicable standards of conduct described in section 490.830.

b. Each shareholder for the amount the shareholder accepted knowing the distribution was made in violation of this chapter or the articles of incorporation.

89 Acts, ch 288, §92

490.834 through 490.839 Reserved.

PART D

490.840 Required officers.

1. A corporation has the officers described in its bylaws or appointed by the board of directors in accordance with the bylaws.

2. A duly appointed officer may appoint one or more officers or assistant officers if authorized by the bylaws or the board of directors.

3. The bylaws or the board of directors shall delegate to one of the officers responsibility for preparing minutes of the directors' and shareholders' meetings and for authenticating records of the corporation.

4. The same individual may simultaneously hold more than one office in a corporation.

89 Acts, ch 288, §93

490.841 Duties of officers.

Each officer has the authority and shall perform the duties set forth in the bylaws or, to the extent consistent with the bylaws, the duties prescribed by the board of directors or by direction of an officer authorized by the board of directors to prescribe the duties of other officers.

89 Acts, ch 288, §94

490.842 Standards of conduct for officers.

1. An officer with discretionary authority shall discharge the officer's duties under that authority in conformity with all of the following:

a. In good faith.

b. With the care an ordinarily prudent person in a like position would exercise under similar circumstances.

c. In a manner the officer reasonably believes to be in the best interests of the corporation.

2. In discharging the person's duties an officer is entitled to rely on information, opinions, reports, or statements, including financial statements and other financial data, if prepared or presented by either:

a. One or more officers or employees of the corporation whom the officer reasonably believes to be reliable and competent in the matters presented.

b. Legal counsel, public accountants, or other persons as to matters the officer reasonably believes are within the person's professional or expert competence.

3. An officer is not acting in good faith if the officer has knowledge concerning the matter in question that makes reliance otherwise permitted by subsection 2 unwarranted.

4. An officer is not liable for any action taken as an officer, or any failure to take any action, if the officer performed the duties of the officer's office in compliance with this section.

89 Acts, ch 288, §95

490.843 Resignation and removal of officers.

1. An officer may resign at any time by delivering notice to the corporation. A resignation is effective when the notice is delivered unless the notice specifies a later effective date. If a resignation is made effective at a later date and the corporation accepts the future effective date, its board of directors may fill the pending vacancy before the effective date if the board of directors provides that the successor does not take office until the effective date. A resignation may be orally communicated provided that the resignation is effective only if written notice of the resignation is delivered within twenty-four hours of such oral communication.

2. A board of directors may remove any officer at any time with or without cause.

89 Acts, ch 288, §96; 91 Acts, ch 211, §7

490.844 Contract rights of officers.

1. The appointment of an officer does not itself create contract rights.

2. An officer's removal does not affect the officer's contract rights, if any, with the corporation. An officer's resignation does not affect the corporation's contract rights, if any, with the officer.

89 Acts, ch 288, §97

490.845 through 490.849 Reserved.

PART E

490.850 Definitions.

As used in this part of this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Corporation" includes any domestic or foreign predecessor entity of a corporation in a merger or other transaction in which the predecessor's existence ceased upon consummation of the transaction.

2. "Director" means an individual who is or was a director of a corporation or an individual who, while a director of a corporation, is or was serving at the corporation's request as a director, officer, partner, trustee, employee, or agent of another foreign or domestic corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other enterprise. A director is considered to be serving an employee benefit plan at the corporation's request if the director's duties to the corporation also impose duties on, or otherwise involve services by, that director to the plan or to participants in or beneficiaries of the plan. "Director" includes, unless the context requires otherwise, the estate or personal representative of a director.

3. "Expenses" include counsel fees.

4. "Liability" means the obligation to pay a judgment, settlement, penalty, fine, including an excise tax assessed with respect to an employee benefit plan, or reasonable expenses incurred with respect to a proceeding.

5. "Official capacity" means:

a. When used with respect to a director, the office of director in a corporation.

b. When used with respect to an individual other than a director, as contemplated in section 490.856, the office in a corporation held by the officer or the employment or agency relationship undertaken by the employee or agent on behalf of the corporation.

"Official capacity" does not include service for any other foreign or domestic corporation or any partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other enterprise.

6. "Party" includes an individual who was, is, or is threatened to be made a named defendant or respondent in a proceeding.

7. "Proceeding" means any threatened, pending, or completed action, suit, or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative, or investigative and whether formal or informal.

89 Acts, ch 288, §98

490.851 Authority to indemnify.

1. Except as provided in subsection 4, a corporation may indemnify an individual made a party to a proceeding because the individual is or was a director against liability incurred in the proceeding if all of the following apply:

a. The individual acted in good faith.

b. The individual reasonably believed:

(1) In the case of conduct in the individual's official capacity with the corporation, that the individual's conduct was in the corporation's best interests.

(2) In all other cases, that the individual's conduct was at least not opposed to the corporation's best interests.

c. In the case of any criminal proceeding, the individual had no reasonable cause to believe the individual's conduct was unlawful.

2. A director's conduct with respect to an employee benefit plan for a purpose the director reasonably believed to be in the interests of the participants in and beneficiaries of the plan is conduct that satisfies the requirement of subsection 1, paragraph "b", subparagraph (2).

3. The termination of a proceeding by judgment, order, settlement, conviction, or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent is not, of itself, determinative that the director did not meet the standard of conduct described in this section.

4. A corporation shall not indemnify a director under this section in either of the following circumstances:

a. In connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the corporation in which the director was adjudged liable to the corporation.

b. In connection with any other proceeding charging improper personal benefit to the director, whether or not involving action in the director's official capacity, in which the director was adjudged liable on the basis that personal benefit was improperly received by the director.

5. Indemnification permitted under this section in connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the corporation is limited to reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the proceeding.

89 Acts, ch 288, §99

490.852 Mandatory indemnification.

Unless limited by its articles of incorporation, a corporation shall indemnify a director who was wholly successful, on the merits or otherwise, in the defense of any proceeding to which the director was a party because the director is or was a director of the corporation against reasonable expenses incurred by the director in connection with the proceeding.

89 Acts, ch 288, §100

490.853 Advance for expenses.

1. A corporation may pay for or reimburse the reasonable expenses incurred by a director who is a party to a proceeding in advance of final disposition of the proceeding if any of the following apply:

a. The director furnishes the corporation a written affirmation of the director's good faith belief that the director has met the standard of conduct described in section 490.851.

b. The director furnishes the corporation a written undertaking, executed personally or on the director's behalf, to repay the advance if it is ultimately determined that the director did not meet that standard of conduct.

c. A determination is made that the facts then known to those making the determination would not preclude indemnification under this part.

2. The undertaking required by subsection 1, paragraph "b", must be an unlimited general obligation of the director but need not be secured and may be accepted without reference to financial ability to make repayment.

3. Determinations and authorizations of payments under this section shall be made in the manner specified in section 490.855.

89 Acts, ch 288, §101

490.854 Court-ordered indemnification.

Unless a corporation's articles of incorporation provide otherwise, a director of the corporation who is a party to a proceeding may apply for indemnification to the court conducting the proceeding or to another court of competent jurisdiction. On receipt of an application, the court after giving any notice the court considers necessary may order indemnification if it determines either of the following:

1. The director is entitled to mandatory indemnification under section 490.852, in which case the court shall also order the corporation to pay the directors reasonable expenses incurred to obtain court-ordered indemnification.

490.855 Determination and authorization of indemnification.

1. A corporation shall not indemnify a director under section 490.851 unless authorized in the specific case after a determination has been made that indemnification of the director is permissible in the circumstances because the director has met the standard of conduct set forth in section 490.851.

2. The determination shall be made by any of the following:

a. By the board of directors by majority vote of a quorum consisting of directors not at the time parties to the proceeding.

b. If a quorum cannot be obtained under paragraph "a", by majority vote of a committee duly designated by the board of directors, in which designation directors who are parties may participate, consisting solely of two or more directors not at the time parties to the proceeding.

c. By special legal counsel:

(1) Selected by the board of directors or its committee in the manner prescribed in paragraph "a" or "b".

(2) If a quorum of the board of directors cannot be obtained under paragraph "a" and a committee cannot be designated under paragraph "b", selected by majority vote of the full board of directors, in which selection directors who are parties may participate.

d. By the shareholders, but shares owned by or voted under the control of directors who are at the time parties to the proceeding shall not be voted on the determination.

3. Authorization of indemnification and evaluation as to reasonableness of expenses shall be made in the same manner as the determination that indemnification is permissible, except that if the determination is made by special legal counsel, authorization of indemnification and evaluation as to reasonableness of expenses shall be made by those entitled under subsection 2, paragraph "c" to select counsel.

89 Acts, ch 288, §103

490.856 Indemnification of officers, employees, and agents.

Unless a corporation's articles of incorporation provide otherwise all of the following apply:

1. An officer of the corporation who is not a director is entitled to mandatory indemnification under section 490.852, and is entitled to apply for court-ordered indemnification under section 490.854, in each case to the same extent as a director.

2. The corporation may indemnify and advance expenses under this part to an officer, employee, or agent of the corporation who is not a director to the same extent as to a director.

3. A corporation may also indemnify and advance expenses to an officer, employee, or agent who is not a director to the extent, consistent with law, that may be provided by its articles of incorporation, bylaws, general or specific action of its board of directors, or contract.

89 Acts, ch 288, §104

490.857 Insurance.

A corporation may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of an individual who is or was a director, officer, employee, or agent of the corporation, or who, while a director, officer, employee, or agent of the corporation, is or was serving at the request of the corporation as a director, officer, partner, trustee, employee, or agent of another foreign or domestic corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other enterprise, against liability asserted against or incurred by that individual in that capacity or arising from the individual's status as a director, officer, employee, or agent, whether or not the corporation would have power to indemnify that individual against the same liability under section 490.851 or 490.852.

89 Acts, ch 288, §105

490.858 Application of part E.

Except as limited in section 490.851, subsection 4, paragraph "a" and subsection 5 with respect to proceedings by or in the right of the corporation, the indemnification and advancement of expenses provided by, or granted pursuant to, sections 490.850 through 490.857 are not exclusive of any other rights to which persons seeking indemnification or advancement of expenses are entitled under a provision in the articles of incorporation or bylaws, agreements, vote of shareholders or disinterested directors, or otherwise, both as to action in a person's official capacity and as to action in another capacity while holding the office. However, such provisions, agreements, votes, or other actions shall not provide indemnification for a breach of a director's duty of loyalty to the corporation or its shareholders, for acts or omissions not in good faith or which involve intentional misconduct or knowing violation of the law, for a transaction from which the person seeking indemnification derives an improper personal benefit, or for liability under section 490.833.

DIVISION IX

SPECIAL CLASSES

490.901 Foreign-trade zone corporation.

A corporation may be organized under the laws of this state for the purpose of establishing, operating, and maintaining a foreign-trade zone as defined in 19 U.S.C. § 81(a). A corporation organized for the purposes set forth in this section has all powers necessary or convenient for applying for a grant of authority to establish, operate, and maintain a foreign-trade zone under 19 U.S.C. § 81(a), et seq., and regulations promulgated under that law, and for establishing, operating, and maintaining a foreign-trade zone pursuant to that grant of authority.

490.902 Foreign insurance companies becoming domestic.

The secretary of state, upon a corporation complying with this section and upon the filing of articles of incorporation and upon receipt of the fees as provided in this chapter, shall issue an acknowledgment of receipt of document as of the date of the filing of the articles of incorporation with the secretary of state. The acknowledgment of receipt of document shall state on its face that it is issued in accordance with this section. The secretary of state shall then notify the appropriate officer of the state or country of the corporation's last domicile that the corporation is now a domestic corporation domiciled in this state. This section applies to life insurance companies, and to insurance companies doing business under chapter 515.

DIVISION X

AMENDMENT OF ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION AND BYLAWS

PART A

490.1001 Amendment of articles of incorporation — authority to amend.

1. A corporation may amend its articles of incorporation at any time to add or change a provision that is required or permitted in the articles of incorporation or to delete a provision not required in the articles of incorporation. Whether a provision is required or permitted in the articles of incorporation is determined as of the effective date of the amendment.

2. A shareholder of the corporation does not have a vested property right resulting from any provision in the articles of incorporation, including provisions relating to management, control, capital structure, dividend entitlement, or purpose or duration of the corporation.

89 Acts, ch 288, §109

490.1002 Amendment by board of directors.

Unless the articles of incorporation provide otherwise, a corporation's board of directors may adopt one or more amendments to the corporation's articles of incorporation without shareholder action for any of the following purposes:

1. To extend the duration of the corporation if it was incorporated at a time when limited duration was required by law.

2. To delete the names and addresses of the initial directors.

3. To delete the name and address of the initial registered agent or registered office, if a statement of change is on file with the secretary of state.

4. To change each issued and unissued authorized share of an outstanding class into a greater number of whole shares if the corporation has only shares of that class outstanding.

5. To change the corporate name by substituting the word “corporation”, “incorporated”, “company”, “limited”, or the abbreviation “corp.”, “inc.”, “co.”, or “ltd.”, for a similar word or abbreviation in the name, or by adding, deleting, or changing a geographical attribution for the name.

6. To make any other change expressly permitted by this chapter to be made without shareholder action.

89 Acts, ch 288, §110

490.1003 Amendment by board of directors and shareholders.

1. A corporation’s board of directors may propose one or more amendments to the articles of incorporation for submission to the shareholders.

2. For the amendment to be adopted both of the following must occur:

a. The board of directors must recommend the amendment to the shareholders unless the board of directors determines that because of conflict of interest or other special circumstances it should make no recommendation and communicates the basis for its determination to the shareholders with the amendment.

b. The shareholders entitled to vote on the amendment must approve the amendment as provided in subsection 5.

3. The board of directors may condition its submission of the proposed amendment on any basis.

4. The corporation shall notify each shareholder, whether or not entitled to vote, of the proposed shareholders’ meeting in accordance with section 490.705. The notice of meeting must also state that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is to consider the proposed amendment and contain or be accompanied by a copy or summary of the amendment.

5. Unless this chapter, the articles of incorporation, or the board of directors acting pursuant to subsection 3 requires a greater vote or a vote by voting groups, the amendment to be adopted must be approved by both of the following:

a. A majority of the votes entitled to be cast on the amendment by any voting group with respect to which the amendment would create dissenters’ rights.

b. The votes required by sections 490.725 and 490.726 by every other voting group entitled to vote on the amendment.

89 Acts, ch 288, §111

490.1004 Voting on amendments by voting groups.

1. The holders of the outstanding shares of a class are entitled to vote as a separate voting group, if shareholder voting is otherwise required by this chapter, on a proposed amendment if the amendment would do any of the following:

a. Increase or decrease the aggregate number of authorized shares of the class.

b. Effect an exchange or reclassification of all or part of the shares of the class into shares of another class.

c. Effect an exchange or reclassification, or create the right of exchange, of all or part of the shares of another class into shares of that class.

d. Change the designation, rights, preferences, or limitations of all or part of the shares of the class.

e. Change the shares of all or part of the class into a different number of shares of the same class.

f. Create a new class of shares having rights or preferences with respect to distributions or to dissolution that are prior, superior, or substantially equal to, the shares of the class.

g. Increase the rights, preferences, or number of authorized shares of any class that, after giving effect to the amendment, have rights or preferences with respect to distributions or to dissolution that are prior, superior, or substantially equal to the shares of the class.

h. Limit or deny an existing preemptive right of all or part of the shares of the class.

i. Cancel or otherwise affect rights to distributions or dividends that have accumulated but not yet been declared on all or part of the shares of the class.

2. If a proposed amendment would affect a series of a class of shares in one or more of the ways described in subsection 1, the shares of that series are entitled to vote as a separate voting group on the proposed amendment.

3. If a proposed amendment that entitles two or more series of shares to vote as separate voting groups under this section would affect those two or more series in the same or a substantially similar way, the shares of all the series so affected must vote together as a single voting group on the proposed amendment.

4. A class or series of shares is entitled to the voting rights granted by this section although the articles of incorporation provide that the shares are nonvoting shares.

89 Acts, ch 288, §112

490.1005 Amendment before issuance of shares.

If a corporation has not yet issued shares, its incorporators or board of directors may adopt one or more amendments to the corporation's articles of incorporation.

89 Acts, ch 288, §113

490.1006 Articles of amendment.

A corporation amending its articles of incorporation shall deliver to the secretary of state for filing articles of amendment setting forth:

1. The name of the corporation.
2. The text of each amendment adopted.
3. If an amendment provides for an exchange, reclassification, or cancellation of issued shares, provisions for implementing the amendment if not contained in the amendment itself.

4. The date of each amendment's adoption.

5. If an amendment was adopted by the incorporators or board of directors without shareholder action, a statement to that effect and that shareholder action was not required.

6. If an amendment was approved by the shareholders:

a. The designation, number of outstanding shares, number of votes entitled to be cast by each voting group entitled to vote separately on the amendment, and number of votes of each voting group indisputably represented at the meeting.

b. Either the total number of votes cast for and against the amendment by each voting group entitled to vote separately on the amendment or the total number of undisputed votes cast for the amendment by each voting group and a statement that the number cast for the amendment by each voting group was sufficient for approval by that voting group.

490.1007 Restated articles of incorporation.

1. A corporation's board of directors may restate its articles of incorporation at any time with or without shareholder action.

2. The restatement may include one or more amendments to the articles. If the restatement includes an amendment requiring shareholder approval, it must be adopted as provided in section 490.1003.

3. If the board of directors submits a restatement for shareholder action, the corporation shall notify each shareholder whether or not entitled to vote, of the proposed shareholders' meeting in accordance with section 490.705. The notice must also state that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is to consider the proposed restatement and contain or be accompanied by a copy of the restatement that identifies any amendment or other change it would make in the articles.

4. A corporation restating its articles of incorporation shall deliver to the secretary of state for filing articles of restatement setting forth the name of the corporation and the text of the re-stated articles of incorporation together with a certificate setting forth:

a. Whether the restatement contains an amendment to the articles requiring shareholder approval and, if it does not, that the board of directors adopted the restatement.

b. If the restatement contains an amendment to the articles requiring shareholder approval, the information required by section 490.1006.

5. Duly adopted restated articles of incorporation supersede the original articles of incorporation and all amendments to them.

6. The secretary of state may certify restated articles of incorporation, as the articles of incorporation currently in effect, without including the certificate information required by subsection 4.

89 Acts, ch 288, §115

490.1008 Amendment pursuant to reorganization.

1. A corporation's articles of incorporation may be amended without action by the board of directors or shareholders to carry out a plan of reorganization ordered or decreed by a court of competent jurisdiction under federal statute if the articles of incorporation after amendment contain only provisions required or permitted by section 490.202.

2. The individual or individuals designated by the court shall deliver to the secretary of state for filing articles of amendment setting forth all of the following:

a. The name of the corporation.

b. The text of each amendment approved by the court.

c. The date of the court's order or decree approving the articles of amendment.

d. The title of the reorganization proceeding in which the order or decree was entered.

e. A statement that the court had jurisdiction of the proceeding under federal statute.

3. Shareholders of a corporation undergoing reorganization do not have dissenters' rights except as and to the extent provided in the reorganization plan.

4. This section does not apply after entry of a final decree in the reorganization proceeding even though the court retains jurisdiction of the proceeding for limited purposes unrelated to consummation of the reorganization plan.

89 Acts, ch 288, §116

490.1009 Effect of amendment.

An amendment to articles of incorporation does not affect a cause of action existing against or in favor of the corporation, a proceeding to which the corporation is a party, or the existing rights of persons other than shareholders of the corporation. An amendment changing a corporation's name does not abate a proceeding brought by or against the corporation in its former name.

89 Acts, ch 288, §117

490.1010 through 490.1019 Reserved.

PART B

490.1020 Amendment of bylaws by board of directors or shareholders.

1. A corporation's board of directors may amend or repeal the corporation's bylaws unless either of the following apply:

a. The articles of incorporation or this chapter reserve this power exclusively to the shareholders in whole or part.

b. The shareholders in amending or repealing a particular bylaw provide expressly that the board of directors shall not amend or repeal that bylaw.

2. A corporation's shareholders may amend or repeal the corporation's bylaws even though the bylaws may also be amended or repealed by its board of directors.

89 Acts, ch 288, §118

490.1021 Bylaw increasing quorum or voting requirement for shareholders.

1. If authorized by the articles of incorporation, the shareholders may adopt or amend a bylaw that fixes a greater quorum or voting requirement for shareholders or voting groups of shareholders than is required by this chapter. The adoption or amendment of a bylaw that adds, changes, or deletes a greater quorum or voting requirement for shareholders must meet the same quorum requirement and be adopted by the same vote and voting groups required to take action under the quorum and voting requirement then in effect or proposed to be adopted, whichever is greater.

2. A bylaw that fixes a greater quorum or voting requirement for shareholders under subsection 1 shall not be adopted, amended, or repealed by the board of directors.

89 Acts, ch 288, §119

490.1022 Bylaw increasing quorum or voting requirement for directors.

1. A bylaw that fixes a greater quorum or voting requirement for the board of directors may be amended or repealed:

a. If originally adopted by the shareholders, only by the shareholders.

b. If originally adopted by the board of directors, either by the shareholders or by the board of directors.

2. A bylaw adopted or amended by the shareholders that fixes a greater quorum or voting requirement for the board of directors may provide that it may be amended or repealed only by a specified vote of either the shareholders or the board of directors.

3. Action by the board of directors under subsection 1, paragraph "b" to adopt or amend a bylaw that changes the quorum or voting requirement for the board of directors must meet the same quorum requirement and be adopted by the same vote required to take action under the quorum and voting requirement then in effect or proposed to be adopted, whichever is greater.

89 Acts, ch 288, §120

DIVISION XI

MERGER AND SHARE EXCHANGE

490.1101 Merger.

1. One or more corporations may merge with or into any one or more limited liability companies or corporations if the board of directors of each corporation adopts and its shareholders, if required by section 490.1103, approve a plan of merger and if the members of each limited liability company approve a plan of merger.

2. The plan of merger must set forth all of the following:

a. The name of each corporation or limited liability company planning to merge and the name of the surviving corporation or limited liability company into which each other corporation or limited liability company plans to merge.

b. The terms and conditions of the merger.

c. The manner and basis of converting the shares or interests of each corporation or limited liability company into shares, obligations, or other securities of the surviving or any other corporation or limited liability company or into cash or other property in whole or part.

3. The plan of merger may set forth:

a. Restated articles or amendments to the articles of incorporation of the surviving corporation or restated articles or amendments to the articles of organization of the surviving limited liability company.

b. Other provisions relating to the merger.

4. One or more business entities organized under this title or Title XIII may merge with or into a corporation organized under this chapter, and a corporation organized under this chapter may merge with or into such business entity or entities, if the entity or entities are authorized to merge with such corporation pursuant to the chapter under which the entity or entities are organized. Except as otherwise provided, this division applies to such mergers.

89 Acts, ch 288, §121; 97 Acts, ch 117, §3; 97 Acts, ch 171, §12

490.1102 Share exchange.

1. A corporation may acquire all of the outstanding shares of one or more classes or series of another corporation if the board of directors of each corporation adopts and its shareholders, if required by section 490.1103, approve the exchange.

2. The plan of exchange must set forth all of the following:

a. The name of the corporation whose shares will be acquired and the name of the acquiring corporation.

b. The terms and conditions of the exchange.

c. The manner and basis of exchanging the shares to be acquired for shares, obligations, or other securities of the acquiring or any other corporation or for cash or other property in whole or part.

3. The plan of exchange may set forth other provisions relating to the exchange.

4. This section does not limit the power of a corporation to acquire all or part of the shares of one or more classes or series of another corporation through a voluntary exchange or otherwise.

5. One or more business entities organized under this title or Title XIII may acquire all of the outstanding shares of one or more classes or series of a corporation organized under this chapter, and a corporation organized under this chapter may acquire all of the outstanding ownership interests in such business entity or entities, if the entity or entities are authorized to enter into such share exchange with such corporation pursuant to the chapter under which the entity or entities are organized. Except as otherwise provided, this division applies to such exchange.

490.1103 Action on plan.

1. After adopting a plan of merger or share exchange, the board of directors of each corporation party to the merger, and the board of directors of the corporation whose shares will be acquired in the share exchange, shall submit the plan of merger, except as provided in subsection 7, or share exchange for approval by its shareholders.

2. For a plan of merger or share exchange to be approved both of the following must occur:

a. The board of directors must recommend the plan of merger or share exchange to the shareholders, unless the board of directors determines that because of conflict of interest or other special circumstances it should make no recommendation and communicates the basis for its determination to the shareholders with the plan.

b. The shareholders entitled to vote must approve the plan.

3. The board of directors may condition its submission of the proposed merger or share exchange on any basis.

4. The corporation shall notify each shareholder, whether or not entitled to vote, of the proposed shareholders' meeting in accordance with section 490.705. The notice must also state that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is to consider the plan of merger or share exchange and contain or be accompanied by a copy or summary of the plan.

5. Unless this chapter, the articles of incorporation, or the board of directors acting pursuant to subsection 3 require a greater vote or a vote by voting groups, the plan of merger or share exchange to be authorized must be approved by each voting group entitled to vote separately on the plan by a majority of all the votes entitled to be cast on the plan by that voting group.

6. Separate voting by voting groups is required:

a. On a plan of merger if the plan contains a provision that, if contained in a proposed amendment to articles of incorporation, would require action by one or more separate voting groups on the proposed amendment under section 490.1004.

b. On a plan of share exchange, by each class or series of shares included in the exchange, with each class or series constituting a separate voting group.

7. Action by the shareholders of the surviving corporation on a plan of merger is not required if all of the following apply:

a. The articles of incorporation of the surviving corporation will not differ, except for amendments enumerated in section 490.1002, from its articles before the merger.

b. Each shareholder of the surviving corporation whose shares were outstanding immediately before the effective date of the merger will hold the same number of shares, with identical designations, preferences, limitations, and relative rights, immediately after.

c. The number of voting shares outstanding immediately after the merger, plus the number of voting shares issuable as a result of the merger, either by the conversion of securities issued pursuant to the merger or the exercise of rights and warrants issued pursuant to the merger, will not exceed by more than twenty percent the total number of voting shares of the surviving corporation outstanding immediately before the merger.

d. The number of participating shares outstanding immediately after the merger plus the number of participating shares issuable as a result of the merger, either by the conversion of securities issued pursuant to the merger or the exercise of rights and warrants issued pursuant to the merger, will not exceed by more than twenty percent the total number of participating shares outstanding immediately before the merger.

8. As used in subsection 7:

a. "Participating shares" means shares that entitle their holders to participate without limitation in distributions.

b. "Voting shares" means shares that entitle their holders to vote unconditionally in elections of directors.

9. After a merger or share exchange is authorized, and at any time before articles of merger or share exchange are filed, the planned merger or share exchange may be abandoned, subject to any contractual rights, without further shareholder action, in accordance with the procedure set forth in the plan of merger or share exchange or, if none is set forth, in the manner determined by the board of directors.

89 Acts, ch 288, §123

490.1104 Merger of subsidiary.

1. A parent corporation owning at least ninety percent of the outstanding shares of each class of a subsidiary corporation may merge the subsidiary into itself without approval of the shareholders of the parent or subsidiary.

2. The board of directors of the parent shall adopt a plan of merger that sets forth both of the following:

a. The names of the parent and subsidiary.

b. The manner and basis of converting the shares of the subsidiary into shares, obligations, or other securities of the parent or any other corporation or into cash or other property in whole or part.

3. The parent corporation shall mail a copy or summary of the plan of merger to each shareholder of the subsidiary who does not waive the mailing requirement in writing.

4. The parent corporation shall not deliver articles of merger to the secretary of state for filing until at least thirty days after the date it mailed a copy of the plan of merger to each shareholder of the subsidiary who did not waive the mailing requirement.

5. Articles of merger under this section shall not contain amendments to the articles of incorporation of the parent corporation except for amendments enumerated in section 490.1002.

89 Acts, ch 288, §124

490.1105 Articles of merger or share exchange.

1. After a plan of merger or share exchange is approved by the shareholders, or adopted by the board of directors if shareholder approval is not required, the surviving or acquiring corporation shall deliver to the secretary of state for filing articles of merger or share exchange setting forth all of the following:

a. The plan of merger or share exchange.

b. If shareholder approval was not required, a statement to that effect.

c. If approval of the shareholders of one or more corporations party to the merger or share exchange was required, both of the following:

(1) The designation, number of outstanding shares, and number of votes entitled to be cast by each voting group entitled to vote separately on the plan as to each corporation.

(2) Either the total number of votes cast for and against the plan by each voting group entitled to vote separately on the plan or the total number of undisputed votes cast for the plan separately by each voting group and a statement that the number cast for the plan by each voting group was sufficient for approval by that voting group.

2. A merger or share exchange takes effect upon the effective date of the articles of merger or share exchange.

89 Acts, ch 288, §125

490.1106 Effect of merger or share exchange.

1. When a merger takes effect all of the following apply:

a. Every other corporation party to the merger merges into the surviving corporation and the separate existence of every corporation except the surviving corporation ceases.

b. The title to all real estate and other property owned by each corporation party to the merger is vested in the surviving corporation without reversion or impairment.

c. The surviving corporation has all liabilities of each corporation party to the merger.

d. A proceeding pending against any corporation party to the merger may be continued as if the merger did not occur or the surviving corporation may be substituted in the proceeding for the corporation whose existence ceased.

e. The articles of incorporation of the surviving corporation are amended to the extent provided in the plan of merger.

f. The shares of each corporation party to the merger that are to be converted into shares, obligations, or other securities of the surviving or any other corporation or into cash or other property are converted, and the former holders of the shares are entitled only to the rights provided in the articles of merger or to their rights under division XIII.

2. When a share exchange takes effect, the shares of each acquired corporation are exchanged as provided in the plan, and the former holders of the shares are entitled only to the exchange rights provided in the articles of share exchange or to their rights under division XIII.

89 Acts, ch 288, §126

490.1107 Merger or share exchange with foreign corporation.

1. One or more foreign corporations may merge or enter into a share exchange with one or more domestic corporations if:

a. In a merger, the merger is permitted by the law of the state or country under whose law each foreign corporation is incorporated and each foreign corporation complies with that law in effecting the merger.

b. In a share exchange, the corporation whose shares will be acquired is a domestic corporation, whether or not a share exchange is permitted by the law of the state or country under whose law the acquiring corporation is incorporated.

c. The foreign corporation complies with section 490.1105 if it is the surviving corporation of the merger or acquiring corporation of the share exchange.

d. Each domestic corporation complies with the applicable provisions of sections 490.1101 through 490.1104 and, if it is the surviving corporation of the merger or acquiring corporation of the share exchange, with section 490.1105.

2. Upon the merger or share exchange taking effect, the surviving foreign corporation of a merger and the acquiring foreign corporation of a share exchange is deemed:

a. To appoint the secretary of state as its agent for service of process in a proceeding to enforce any obligation or the rights of dissenting shareholders of each domestic corporation party to the merger or share exchange.

b. To agree that it will promptly pay to the dissenting shareholders of each domestic corporation party to the merger or share exchange the amount, if any, to which they are entitled under division XIII.

3. This section does not limit the power of a foreign corporation to acquire all or part of the shares of one or more classes or series of a domestic corporation through a voluntary exchange or otherwise.

89 Acts, ch 288, §127

490.1108 Consideration of community interests in consideration of acquisition proposals.

1. A director, in determining what is in the best interest of the corporation when considering a tender offer or proposal of acquisition, merger, consolidation, or similar proposal, may consider any or all of the following community interest factors, in addition to consideration of the effects of any action on shareholders:

a. The effects of the action on the corporation's employees, suppliers, creditors, and customers.

b. The effects of the action on the communities in which the corporation operates.

2. If on the basis of the community interest factors described in paragraph 1, the board of directors determines that a proposal or offer to acquire or merge the corporation is not in the best interests of the corporation, it may reject the proposal or offer. If the board of directors determines to reject any such proposal or offer, the board of directors has no obligation to facilitate, to remove any barriers to, or to refrain from impeding, the proposal or offer. Consideration of any or all of the community interest factors is not a violation of the business judgment rule or of any duty of the director to the shareholders, or a group of shareholders, even if the director reasonably determines that a community interest factor or factors outweigh the financial or other benefits to the corporation or a shareholder or group of shareholders.

89 Acts, ch 288, §128

490.1109 Qualified merger — corporation and cooperative association.

A corporation and a cooperative association organized under chapter 499 may merge as provided in section 499.69A.

97 Acts, ch 17, §1

490.1110 Business combinations with interested shareholders.

1. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, a corporation shall not engage in any business combination with an interested shareholder for a period of three years following the time that the shareholder became an interested shareholder, unless any of the following apply:

a. Prior to the time the shareholder became an interested shareholder, the board of directors of the corporation approved either the business combination or the transaction which resulted in the shareholder becoming an interested shareholder.

b. Upon consummation of the transaction which resulted in the shareholder becoming an interested shareholder, the interested shareholder owned at least eighty-five percent of the voting stock of the corporation outstanding at the time the transaction commenced, excluding, for purposes of determining the number of shares outstanding, those shares owned by persons who are directors and officers, and by employee stock plans in which employee participants do not have the right to determine confidentially whether shares held subject to the plan will be tendered in a tender or exchange offer.

c. At or subsequent to the time the shareholder became an interested shareholder, the business combination is approved by the board of directors and authorized at an annual or special meeting of shareholders by the affirmative vote of at least sixty-six and two-thirds percent of the outstanding voting stock which is not owned by the interested shareholder. Such approval shall not be by written consent.

2. This section does not apply in any of the following circumstances:

a. The corporation does not have a class of voting stock that is listed on a national securities exchange, authorized for quotation on the national association of securities dealers automated quotations—national market system, or held of record by more than two thousand shareholders, unless any of the foregoing results from action taken, directly or indirectly, by an interested shareholder or from a transaction in which a person becomes an interested shareholder.

b. The corporation's original articles of incorporation contain a provision expressly electing not to be governed by this section.

c. The corporation, by action of its board of directors, adopts an amendment to its bylaws by no later than September 29, 1997, expressly electing not to be governed by this section, which amendment shall not be further amended by the board of directors.

d. The corporation, by action of its shareholders, adopts an amendment to its articles of incorporation or bylaws expressly electing not to be governed by this section, provided that, in addition to any other vote required by law, such amendment to the articles of incorporation or bylaws must be approved by the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares entitled to vote. An amendment adopted pursuant to this paragraph is effective immediately in the case of a corporation that has never had a class of voting stock that falls within any of the three categories set out in paragraph "a" and has not elected by a provision in its original articles of incorporation or any amendment to such articles to be governed by this section. In all other cases, an amendment adopted pursuant to this paragraph is not effective until twelve months after the adoption of the amendment and does not apply to any business combination between the corporation and any person who became an interested shareholder of the corporation on or prior to such adoption.

An amendment to the bylaws adopted pursuant to this paragraph shall not be further amended by the board of directors.

e. A shareholder becomes an interested shareholder inadvertently and both of the following apply:

(1) As soon as practicable the shareholder divests itself of ownership of sufficient shares so that the shareholder ceases to be an interested shareholder.

(2) The shareholder would not, at any time within the three-year period immediately prior to a business combination between the corporation and such shareholder, have been an interested shareholder but for the inadvertent acquisition of ownership.

f. (1) The business combination is proposed prior to the consummation or abandonment of and subsequent to the earlier of the public announcement or the notice required in this paragraph of a proposed transaction which satisfies all of the following:

(a) Constitutes a transaction described in subparagraph (2).

(b) Is with or by a person who either was not an interested shareholder during the previous three years or who became an interested shareholder with the approval of the corporation's board of directors or who became an interested shareholder during the time period described in paragraph "g".

(c) Is approved or not opposed by a majority of the members of the board of directors then in office who were directors prior to any person becoming an interested shareholder during the previous three years, or who were recommended for election or elected to succeed such directors by a majority of such directors.

(2) A proposed transaction under subparagraph (1) is limited to the following:

(a) A merger of the corporation, other than a merger pursuant to section 490.1104.

(b) A sale, lease, exchange, mortgage, pledge, transfer, or other disposition, in one or more transactions and whether as part of a dissolution or otherwise, of assets of the corporation or of any direct or indirect majority-owned subsidiary of the corporation, other than to a direct or indirect wholly owned subsidiary of the corporation or to the corporation itself, which has an aggregate market value equal to fifty percent or more of either the aggregate market value of all of the assets of the corporation determined on a consolidated basis, or the aggregate market value of all the outstanding stock of the corporation.

(c) A proposed tender or exchange offer for fifty percent or more of the outstanding voting stock of the corporation.

(3) The corporation shall give no less than twenty days' notice to all interested shareholders prior to the consummation of any of the transactions described in subparagraph (2), subparagraph subdivision (a) or (b).

g. The business combination is with an interested shareholder who becomes an interested shareholder of the corporation at a time when the corporation is not subject to this section pursuant to paragraph "a", "b", "c", or "d".

Notwithstanding paragraphs "a" through "d", a corporation may elect under its original articles of incorporation or any amendment to such articles to be subject to this section. However, such amendment shall not apply to restrict a business combination between the corporation and an interested shareholder of the corporation if the interested shareholder became such prior to the effective date of the amendment.

3. As used in this section, unless the context otherwise requires:

a. "Affiliate" means a person that directly, or indirectly, through one or more intermediaries, controls, or is controlled by, or is under common control with, another person.

b. "Associate", when used to indicate a relationship with a person, means any of the following:

(1) A corporation, partnership, unincorporated association, or other entity of which the person is a director, officer, or partner or is, directly or indirectly, the owner of twenty percent or more of any class of voting stock.

as to which such person serves as trustee or in a similar fiduciary capacity.

(3) A relative or spouse of the person, or any relative of the spouse, who has the same residence as the person.

c. "Business combination", with respect to a corporation and an interested shareholder of such corporation, means any of the following:

(2) A sales, lease, exchange, mortgage, pledge, transfer, or other disposition, in one transaction or a series of transactions, except proportionately as a shareholder of such corporation, to or with the interested shareholder, whether as part of a dissolution or otherwise, of assets of the corporation or of any direct or indirect majority-owned subsidiary of the corporation which assets have an aggregate market value equal to ten percent or more of either the aggregate market value of all the assets of the corporation determined on a consolidated basis or the aggregate market value of all the outstanding stock of the corporation.

(3) A transaction which results in the issuance or transfer by the corporation or by any direct or indirect majority-owned subsidiary of the corporation of any stock of the corporation or of such subsidiary to the interested shareholder, except for the following:

(a) Pursuant to the exercise, exchange, or conversion of securities exercisable for, exchangeable for, or convertible into stock of the corporation or such subsidiary which securities were outstanding prior to the time that the interested shareholder became an interested shareholder.

(b) Pursuant to a merger under section 490.1104.

(c) Pursuant to a distribution paid or made, or the exercise, exchange, or conversion of securities exercisable for, exchangeable for, or convertible into stock of such corporation or any such subsidiary, which stock is distributed pro rata to all holders of a class or series of stock of the corporation subsequent to the time the interested shareholder became an interested shareholder.

(d) Pursuant to an exchange offer by the corporation to purchase stock made on the same terms to all holders of the stock.

(e) Any issuance or transfer of stock by the corporation, provided, however, that in no case under subparagraph subdivisions (c) and (d) and this subparagraph subdivision shall there be an increase in the interested shareholder's proportionate share of the stock of any class or series of the corporation or of the voting stock of the corporation.

(4) A transaction involving the corporation or any direct or indirect majority-owned subsidiary of the corporation which has the effect, directly or indirectly, of increasing the proportionate share of the stock of any class or series, or securities convertible into the stock of any class or series, of the corporation or of any such subsidiary which is owned by the interested shareholder, except as a result of immaterial changes due to fractional share adjustments or as a result of any purchase or redemption of any shares of stock not caused, directly or indirectly, by the interested shareholder.

d. "Control", including the terms "controlling", "controlled by", and "under common control with", means the ability, directly or indirectly, to direct or cause the direction of the management and policies of a person, whether through the ownership of voting stock, by contract, or otherwise. A person who is the owner of twenty percent or more of the outstanding voting stock of any corporation, partnership, unincorporated association, or other entity is presumed to have control of such entity, in the absence of proof by a preponderance of the evidence to the contrary. Notwithstanding this paragraph, a presumption of control shall not apply where a person holds voting stock, in good faith and not for the purpose of circumventing this section, as an agent, bank, broker, nominee, custodian, or trustee for one or more owners who do not individually or as a group have control of such entity.

e. "Interested shareholder" means any person, other than the corporation and any direct or indirect majority-owned subsidiary of the corporation, that is the owner of ten percent or more of the outstanding voting stock of the corporation, or is an affiliate or associate of the corporation and was the owner of ten percent or more of the outstanding voting stock of the corporation at any time within the three-year period immediately prior to the date on which it is sought to be determined whether such person is an interested shareholder, and the affiliates and associates of such person. "Interested shareholder" does not include a person whose ownership of shares in excess of the ten percent limitation is the result of action taken solely by the corporation, provided that such person is an interested shareholder if, after such action by the corporation, the person acquires additional shares of voting stock of the corporation, other than as a result of further corporate action not caused, directly or indirectly, by such person.

For purposes of determining whether a person is an interested shareholder, the outstanding voting stock of the corporation does not include any other unissued stock of the corporation which may be issuable pursuant to any agreement, arrangement, or understanding, or upon exercise of conversion rights, warrants, or options, or otherwise.

f. “Owner”, including the terms “own” and “owned” when used with respect to any stock, means a person that individually or with or through any of such person’s affiliates or associates satisfies any of the following:

(1) Beneficially owns such stock, directly or indirectly.

(2) Has the right to do either of the following:

(a) Acquire such stock, whether such right is exercisable immediately or only after the passage of time, pursuant to any agreement, arrangement, or understanding, or upon the exercise of conversion rights, exchange rights, warrants, or options, or otherwise. However, a person is not deemed the owner of stock tendered pursuant to a tender or exchange offer made by such person or any of such person’s affiliates or associates until such tendered stock is accepted for purchase or exchange.

(b) Vote such stock pursuant to any agreement, arrangement, or understanding. However, a person is not deemed the owner of any stock because of such person’s right to vote such stock if the agreement, arrangement, or understanding to vote such stock arises solely from the revocable proxy or consent given in response to a proxy or consent solicitation made to ten or more persons.

(3) Has any agreement, arrangement, or understanding for the purpose of acquiring, holding, voting, or disposing of such stock with any other person who beneficially owns, or whose affiliates or associates beneficially own, directly or indirectly, such stock. However, an agreement, arrangement, or understanding for the purpose of voting such stock does not include voting pursuant to a revocable proxy or consent under subparagraph (2), subparagraph subdivision (b).

g. “Person” means any individual, corporation, partnership, unincorporated association, or other entity.

h. “Stock” means, with respect to any corporation, capital stock and, with respect to any other entity, any equity interest.

i. “Voting stock” means, with respect to any corporation, stock of any class or series entitled to vote generally in the election of directors and, with respect to any entity that is not a corporation, any equity interest entitled to vote generally in the election of the governing body of such entity.

4. The articles of incorporation or bylaws shall not require, for any vote of shareholders required by this section, a greater vote of shareholders than that specified in this section.

DIVISION XII

SALE OF ASSETS

490.1201 Sale of assets in regular course of business and mortgage of assets.

1. A corporation may, on the terms and conditions and for the consideration determined by the board of directors do any of the following:

a. Sell, lease, exchange, or otherwise dispose of all, or substantially all, of its property in the usual and regular course of business.

b. Mortgage, pledge, dedicate to the repayment of indebtedness, whether with or without recourse, or otherwise encumber any or all of its property whether or not in the usual and regular course of business.

c. Transfer any or all of its property to a corporation all the shares of which are owned by the transferring corporation whether or not in the usual course of business.

2. Unless the articles of incorporation require it, approval by the shareholders of a transaction described in subsection 1 is not required.

89 Acts, ch 288, §129

490.1202 Sale of assets other than in regular course of business.

1. A corporation may sell, lease, exchange, or otherwise dispose of all, or substantially all, of its property, with or without the good will, otherwise than in the usual and regular course of business, on the terms and conditions and for the consideration determined by the corporation’s board of directors, if the board of directors proposes and its shareholders approve the proposed transaction.

2. For a transaction to be authorized both of the following must occur:

a. The board of directors must recommend the proposed transaction to the shareholders unless the board of directors determines that because of conflict of interest or other special circumstances it should make no recommendation and communicates the basis for its determination to the shareholders with the submission of the proposed transaction.

b. The shareholders entitled to vote must approve the transaction.

3. The board of directors may condition its submission of the proposed transaction on any basis.

4. The corporation shall notify each shareholder, whether or not entitled to vote, of the proposed shareholders’ meeting in accordance with section 490.705. The notice must also state that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is to consider the sale, lease, exchange, or other disposition of all, or substantially all, the property of the corporation and contain or be accompanied by a description of the transaction.

5. Unless the articles of incorporation or the board of directors acting pursuant to subsection 3 require a greater vote or a vote by voting groups, the transaction to be authorized must be approved by a majority of all the votes entitled to be cast on the transaction.

6. After a sale, lease, exchange, or other disposition of property is authorized, the transaction may be abandoned subject to any contractual rights without further shareholder action.

7. A transaction that constitutes a distribution is governed by section 490.640 and not by this section. 89 Acts, ch 288, §130

DIVISION XIII

DISSENTERS' RIGHTS

PART A

490.1301 Definitions for division XIII.

In this division:

1. "Beneficial shareholder" means the person who is a beneficial owner of shares held by a nominee as the record shareholder.

2. "Corporation" means the issuer of the shares held by a dissenter before the corporate action, or the surviving or acquiring corporation by merger or share exchange of that issuer.

3. "Dissenter" means a shareholder who is entitled to dissent from corporate action under section 490.1302 and who exercises that right when and in the manner required by sections 490.1320 through 490.1328.

4. "Fair value", with respect to a dissenter's shares, means the value of the shares immediately before the effectuation of the corporate action to which the dissenter objects, excluding any appreciation or depreciation in anticipation of the corporate action unless exclusion would be inequitable. With respect to a dissenter's shares that are the shares of a corporation that is a bank holding company as defined in section 524.1801, the factors identified in section 524.1406, subsection 3, paragraph "a", shall also be considered.

5. "Interest" means interest from the effective date of the corporate action until the date of payment, at the average rate currently paid by the corporation on its principal bank loans or, if none, at a rate that is fair and equitable under all the circumstances.

6. "Record shareholder" means the person in whose name shares are registered in the records of a corporation or the beneficial owner of shares to the extent of the rights granted by a nominee certificate on file with a corporation.

7. "Shareholder" means the record shareholder or the beneficial shareholder.

89 Acts, ch 288, §131; 2000 Acts, ch 1211, §2

Subsection 4 amended

490.1302 Shareholders' right to dissent.

1. A shareholder is entitled to dissent from, and obtain payment of the fair value of the shareholder's shares in the event of, any of the following corporate actions:

a. Consummation of a plan of merger to which the corporation is a party if either of the following apply:

(1) Shareholder approval is required for the merger by section 490.1103 or the articles of incorporation and the shareholder is entitled to vote on the merger.

(2) The corporation is a subsidiary that is merged with its parent under section 490.1104.

b. Consummation of a plan of share exchange to which the corporation is a party as the corporation whose shares will be acquired, if the shareholder is entitled to vote on the plan.

c. Consummation of a sale or exchange of all, or substantially all, of the property of the corporation other than in the usual and regular course of business, if the shareholder is entitled to vote on the sale or exchange, including a sale in dissolution, but not including a sale pursuant to court order or a sale for cash pursuant to a plan by which all or substantially all of the net proceeds of the sale will be distributed to the shareholders within one year after the date of sale.

d. An amendment of the articles of incorporation that materially and adversely affects rights in respect of a dissenter's shares because it does any or all of the following:

(1) Alters or abolishes a preferential right of the shares.

(2) Creates, alters, or abolishes a right in respect of redemption, including a provision respecting a sinking fund for the redemption or repurchase, of the shares.

(3) Alters or abolishes a preemptive right of the holder of the shares to acquire shares or other securities.

(4) Excludes or limits the right of the shares to vote on any matter, or to cumulate votes, other than a limitation by dilution through issuance of shares or other securities with similar voting rights.

(5) Reduces the number of shares owned by the shareholder to a fraction of a share if the fractional share so created is to be acquired for cash under section 490.604.

(6) Extends, for the first time after being governed by this chapter, the period of duration of a corporation organized under chapter 491 or former chapter 496A and existing for a period of years on the day preceding the date the corporation is first governed by this chapter.

e. Any corporate action taken pursuant to a shareholder vote to the extent the articles of incorporation, bylaws, or a resolution of the board of directors provides that voting or nonvoting shareholders are entitled to dissent and obtain payment for their shares.

2. A shareholder entitled to dissent and obtain payment for the shareholder's shares under this chapter is not entitled to challenge the corporate action creating the shareholder's entitlement unless the action is unlawful or fraudulent with respect to the shareholder or the corporation.

89 Acts, ch 288, §132

490.1303 Dissent by nominees and beneficial owners.

1. A record shareholder may assert dissenters' rights as to fewer than all the shares registered in that shareholder's name only if the shareholder dissents with respect to all shares beneficially owned by any one person and notifies the corporation in writing of the name and address of each person on whose behalf the shareholder asserts dissenters' rights. The rights of a partial dissenter under this subsection are determined as if the shares as to which the shareholder dissents and the shareholder's other shares were registered in the names of different shareholders.

2. A beneficial shareholder may assert dissenters' rights as to shares held on the shareholder's behalf only if the shareholder does both of the following:

a. Submits to the corporation the record shareholder's written consent to the dissent not later than the time the beneficial shareholder asserts dissenters' rights.

b. Does so with respect to all shares of which the shareholder is the beneficial shareholder or over which that beneficial shareholder has power to direct the vote.

89 Acts, ch 288, §133

490.1304 through 490.1319 Reserved.

PART B

490.1320 Notice of dissenters' rights.

1. If proposed corporate action creating dissenters' rights under section 490.1302 is submitted to a vote at a shareholders' meeting, the meeting notice must state that shareholders are or may be entitled to assert dissenters' rights under this part and be accompanied by a copy of this part.

2. If corporate action creating dissenters' rights under section 490.1302 is taken without a vote of shareholders, the corporation shall notify in writing all shareholders entitled to assert dissenters' rights that the action was taken and send them the dissenters' notice described in section 490.1322.

89 Acts, ch 288, §134

490.1321 Notice of intent to demand payment.

1. If proposed corporate action creating dissenters' rights under section 490.1302 is submitted to a vote at a shareholders' meeting, a shareholder who wishes to assert dissenters' rights must do all of the following:

a. Deliver to the corporation before the vote is taken written notice of the shareholder's intent to demand payment for the shareholder's shares if the proposed action is effectuated.

b. Not vote the dissenting shareholder's shares in favor of the proposed action.

2. A shareholder who does not satisfy the requirements of subsection 1, is not entitled to payment for the shareholder's shares under this part.

89 Acts, ch 288, §135

490.1322 Dissenters' notice.

1. If proposed corporate action creating dissenters' rights under section 490.1302 is authorized at a shareholders' meeting, the corporation shall deliver a written dissenters' notice to all shareholders who satisfied the requirements of section 490.1321.

2. The dissenters' notice must be sent no later than ten days after the proposed corporate action is authorized at a shareholders' meeting, or, if the corporate action is taken without a vote of the shareholders, no later than ten days after the corporate action is taken, and must do all of the following:

a. State where the payment demand must be sent and where and when certificates for certificated shares must be deposited.

b. Inform holders of uncertificated shares to what extent transfer of the shares will be restricted after the payment demand is received.

c. Supply a form for demanding payment that includes the date of the first announcement to news media or to shareholders of the terms of the proposed corporate action and requires that the person asserting dissenters' rights certify whether or not the person acquired beneficial ownership of the shares before that date.

d. Set a date by which the corporation must receive the payment demand, which date shall not be fewer than thirty nor more than sixty days after the date the dissenters' notice is delivered.

e. Be accompanied by a copy of this division.

89 Acts, ch 288, §136; 91 Acts, ch 211, §8

490.1323 Duty to demand payment.

1. A shareholder sent a dissenters' notice described in section 490.1322 must demand payment, certify whether the shareholder acquired beneficial ownership of the shares before the date required to be set forth in the dissenters' notice pursuant to section 490.1322, subsection 2, paragraph "c", and deposit the shareholder's certificates in accordance with the terms of the notice.

2. The shareholder who demands payment and deposits the shareholder's shares under subsection 1 retains all other rights of a shareholder until these rights are canceled or modified by the taking of the proposed corporate action.

3. A shareholder who does not demand payment or deposit the shareholder's share certificates where required, each by the date set in the dissenters' notice, is not entitled to payment for the shareholder's shares under this division.

89 Acts, ch 288, §137

490.1324 Share restrictions.

1. The corporation may restrict the transfer of uncertificated shares from the date the demand for their payment is received until the proposed corporate action is taken or the restrictions released under section 490.1326.

2. The person for whom dissenters' rights are asserted as to uncertificated shares retains all other rights of a shareholder until these rights are canceled or modified by the taking of the proposed corporate action.

89 Acts, ch 288, §138

490.1325 Payment.

1. Except as provided in section 490.1327, at the time the proposed corporate action is taken, or upon receipt of a payment demand, whichever occurs later, the corporation shall pay each dissenter who complied with section 490.1323 the amount the corporation estimates to be the fair value of the dissenter's shares, plus accrued interest.

2. The payment must be accompanied by all of the following:

a. The corporation's balance sheet as of the end of a fiscal year ending not more than sixteen months before the date of payment, an income statement for that year, a statement of changes in shareholders' equity for that year, and the latest available interim financial statements, if any.

b. A statement of the corporation's estimate of the fair value of the shares.

c. An explanation of how the interest was calculated.

d. A statement of the dissenter's right to demand payment under section 490.1328.

e. A copy of this division.

89 Acts, ch 288, §139; 91 Acts, ch 211, §9

490.1326 Failure to take action.

1. If the corporation does not take the proposed action within one hundred eighty days after the date set for demanding payment and depositing share certificates, the corporation shall return the deposited certificates and release the transfer restrictions imposed on uncertificated shares.

2. If after returning deposited certificates and releasing transfer restrictions, the corporation takes the proposed action, it must send a new dissenters' notice under section 490.1322 as if the corporate action was taken without a vote of the shareholders and repeat the payment demand procedure.

89 Acts, ch 288, §140; 91 Acts, ch 211, §10; 97 Acts, ch 171, §13

490.1327 After-acquired shares.

1. A corporation may elect to withhold payment required by section 490.1325 from a dissenter unless the dissenter was the beneficial owner of the shares before the date set forth in the dissenters' notice as the date of the first announcement to news media or to shareholders of the terms of the proposed corporate action.

2. To the extent the corporation elects to withhold payment under subsection 1, after taking the proposed corporate action, it shall estimate the fair value of the shares, plus accrued interest, and shall pay this amount to each dissenter who agrees to accept it in full satisfaction of the dissenter's demand. The corporation shall send with its offer a statement of its estimate of the fair value of the shares, an explanation of how the interest was calculated, and a statement of the dissenter's right to demand payment under section 490.1328.

490.1328 Procedure if shareholder dissatisfied with payment or offer.

1. A dissenter may notify the corporation in writing of the dissenter's own estimate of the fair value of the dissenter's shares and amount of interest due, and demand payment of the dissenter's estimate, less any payment under section 490.1325, or reject the corporation's offer under section 490.1327 and demand payment of the fair value of the dissenter's shares and interest due, if any of the following apply:

a. The dissenter believes that the amount paid under section 490.1325 or offered under section 490.1327 is less than the fair value of the dissenter's shares or that the interest due is incorrectly calculated.

b. The corporation fails to make payment under section 490.1325 within sixty days after the date set for demanding payment.

c. The corporation, having failed to take the proposed action, does not return the deposited certificates or release the transfer restrictions imposed on uncertificated shares within sixty days after the date set for demanding payment.

2. A dissenter waives the dissenter's right to demand payment under this section unless the dissenter notifies the corporation of the dissenter's demand in writing under subsection 1 within thirty days after the corporation made or offered payment for the dissenter's shares.

89 Acts, ch 288, §142

490.1329 Reserved.

PART C

490.1330 Court action.

1. If a demand for payment under section 490.1328 remains unsettled, the corporation shall commence a proceeding within sixty days after receiving the payment demand and petition the court to determine the fair value of the shares and accrued interest. If the corporation does not commence the proceeding within the sixty-day period, it shall pay each dissenter whose demand remains unsettled the amount demanded.

2. The corporation shall commence the proceeding in the district court of the county where a corporation's principal office or, if none in this state, its registered office is located. If the corporation is a foreign corporation without a registered office in this state, it shall commence the proceeding in the county in this state where the registered office of the domestic corporation merged with or whose shares were acquired by the foreign corporation was located.

3. The corporation shall make all dissenters, whether or not residents of this state, whose demands remain unsettled parties to the proceeding as in an action against their shares and all parties must be served with a copy of the petition. Nonresidents may be served by registered or certified mail or by publication as provided by law.

4. The jurisdiction of the court in which the proceeding is commenced under subsection 2 is plenary and exclusive. The court may appoint one or more persons as appraisers to receive evidence and recommend decision on the question of fair value. The appraisers have the powers described in the order appointing them, or in any amendment to it. The dissenters are entitled to the same discovery rights as parties in other civil proceedings.

5. Each dissenter made a party to the proceeding is entitled to judgment for either of the following:

a. The amount, if any, by which the court finds the fair value of the dissenter's shares, plus interest, exceeds the amount paid by the corporation.

b. The fair value, plus accrued interest, of the dissenter's after-acquired shares for which the corporation elected to withhold payment under section 490.1327.

6. Notwithstanding the provisions of this division, if the corporation is a bank holding company as defined in section 524.1801, fair value, at the election of the bank holding company, may be determined as provided in section 524.1406, subsection 3, prior to giving notice under section 490.1320 or 490.1322. The fair value as determined shall be included in any notice under section 490.1320 or 490.1322, and section 490.1328 shall not apply.

89 Acts, ch 288, §143; 2000 Acts, ch 1211, §1

NEW subsection 6

490.1331 Court costs and counsel fees.

1. The court in an appraisal proceeding commenced under section 490.1330 shall determine all costs of the proceeding, including the reasonable compensation and expenses of appraisers appointed by the court. The court shall assess the costs against the corporation, except that the court may assess costs against all or some of the dissenters, in amounts the court finds equitable, to the extent the court finds the dissenters acted arbitrarily, vexatiously, or not in good faith in demanding payment under section 490.1328.

2. The court may also assess the fees and expenses of counsel and experts for the respective parties, in amounts the court finds equitable, for either of the following:

a. Against the corporation and in favor of any or all dissenters if the court finds the corporation did not substantially comply with the requirements of sections 490.1320 through 490.1328.

b. Against either the corporation or a dissenter, in favor of any other party, if the court finds that the party against whom the fees and expenses are assessed acted arbitrarily, vexatiously, or not in good faith with respect to the rights provided by this chapter.

3. If the court finds that the services of counsel for any dissenter were of substantial benefit to other dissenters similarly situated, and that the fees for those services should not be assessed against the corporation, the court may award to these counsel reasonable fees to be paid out of the amounts awarded the dissenters who were benefited.

DIVISION XIV

DISSOLUTION

PART A

490.1401 Dissolution by incorporators or initial directors.

A majority of the incorporators or initial directors of a corporation that has not issued shares or has not commenced business may dissolve the corporation by delivering to the secretary of state for filing articles of dissolution that set forth all of the following:

1. The name of the corporation.

2. The date of its incorporation.

3. Either of the following:

a. That none of the corporation's shares has been issued.

b. That the corporation has not commenced business.

4. That no debt of the corporation remains unpaid.

5. That the net assets of the corporation remaining after winding up have been distributed to the shareholders, if shares were issued.

6. That a majority of the incorporators or initial directors authorized the dissolution.

89 Acts, ch 288, §145

490.1402 Dissolution by board of directors and shareholders.

1. A corporation's board of directors may propose dissolution for submission to the shareholders.

2. For a proposal to dissolve to be adopted both of the following must apply:

a. The board of directors must recommend dissolution to the shareholders unless the board of directors determines that because of conflict of interest or other special circumstances it should make no recommendation and communicates the basis for its determination to the shareholders.

b. The shareholders entitled to vote must approve the proposal to dissolve as provided in subsection 5.

3. The board of directors may condition its submission of the proposal for dissolution on any basis.

4. The corporation shall notify each shareholder, whether or not entitled to vote, of the proposed shareholders' meeting in accordance with section 490.705. The notice must also state that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is to consider dissolving the corporation.

89 Acts, ch 288, §146

490.1403 Articles of dissolution.

1. At any time after dissolution is authorized, the corporation may dissolve by delivering to the secretary of state for filing articles of dissolution setting forth all of the following:

a. The name of the corporation.

b. The date dissolution was authorized.

c. If dissolution was approved by the shareholders, both of the following:

(1) The number of votes entitled to be cast on the proposal to dissolve.

(2) Either the total number of votes cast for and against dissolution or the total number of undisputed votes cast for dissolution and a statement that the number cast for dissolution was sufficient for approval.

d. If voting by voting groups was required, the information required by paragraph "c" must be separately provided for each voting group entitled to vote separately on the plan to dissolve.

2. A corporation is dissolved upon the effective date of its articles of dissolution.

89 Acts, ch 288, §147

490.1404 Revocation of dissolution.

1. A corporation may revoke its dissolution within one hundred twenty days of its effective date.

2. Revocation of dissolution must be authorized in the same manner as the dissolution was authorized unless that authorization permitted revocation by action of the board of directors alone, in which event the board of directors may revoke the dissolution without shareholder action.

3. After the revocation of dissolution is authorized, the corporation may revoke the dissolution by delivering to the secretary of state for filing articles of revocation of dissolution, together with a copy of its articles of dissolution, that set forth all of the following:

a. The name of the corporation.

b. The effective date of the dissolution that was revoked.

c. The date that the revocation of dissolution was authorized.

d. If the corporation's board of directors or incorporators revoked the dissolution, a statement to that effect.

e. If the corporation's board of directors revoked a dissolution authorized by the shareholders, a statement that revocation was permitted by action by the board of directors alone pursuant to that authorization.

f. If shareholder action was required to revoke the dissolution, the information required by section 490.1403, subsection 1, paragraph "c" or "d".

4. Revocation of dissolution is effective upon the effective date of the articles of revocation of dissolution.

5. When the revocation of dissolution is effective, it relates back to and takes effect as of the effective date of the dissolution as if the dissolution had never occurred.

89 Acts, ch 288, §148

490.1405 Effect of dissolution.

1. A dissolved corporation continues its corporate existence but shall not carry on any business except that appropriate to wind up and liquidate its business and affairs, including any of the following:

a. Collecting its assets.

b. Disposing of its properties that will not be distributed in kind to its shareholders.

c. Discharging or making provision for discharging its liabilities.

d. Distributing its remaining property among its shareholders according to their interests.

e. Doing every other act necessary to wind up and liquidate its business and affairs.

2. Dissolution of a corporation does not do any of the following:

a. Transfer title to the corporation's property.

b. Prevent transfer of its shares or securities, although the authorization to dissolve may provide for closing the corporation's share transfer records.

c. Subject its directors or officers to standards of conduct different from those prescribed in division VIII.

d. Change quorum or voting requirements for its board of directors or shareholders; change provisions for selection, resignation, or removal of its directors or officers or both; or change provisions for amending its bylaws.

e. Prevent commencement of a proceeding by or against the corporation in its corporate name.

f. Abate or suspend a proceeding pending by or against the corporation on the effective date of dissolution.

g. Terminate the authority of the registered agent of the corporation.

89 Acts, ch 288, §149

490.1406 Known claims against dissolved corporation.

1. A dissolved corporation may dispose of the known claims against it by following the procedure described in this section.

2. The dissolved corporation shall notify its known claimants in writing of the dissolution at any time after its effective date. The written notice must do all of the following:

a. Describe information that must be included in a claim.

b. Provide a mailing address where a claim may be sent.

c. State the deadline, which may not be fewer than one hundred twenty days from the effective date of the written notice, by which the dissolved corporation must receive the claim.

d. State that the claim will be barred if not received by the deadline.

3. A claim against the dissolved corporation is barred if either of the following occur:

a. A claimant who was given written notice under subsection 2 does not deliver the claim to the dissolved corporation by the deadline.

b. A claimant whose claim was rejected by the dissolved corporation does not commence a proceeding to enforce the claim within ninety days from the effective date of the rejection notice.

4. For purposes of this section, "claim" does not include a contingent liability or a claim based on an event occurring after the effective date of dissolution.

89 Acts, ch 288, §150

490.1407 Unknown claims against dissolved corporation.

1. A dissolved corporation may also publish notice of its dissolution and request that persons with claims against the corporation present them in accordance with the notice.

2. The notice must meet all of the following requirements:

a. Be published one time in a newspaper of general circulation in the county where the dissolved corporation's principal office or, if none in this state, its registered office is or was last located.

b. Describe the information that must be included in a claim and provide a mailing address where the claim may be sent.

c. State that a claim against the corporation will be barred unless a proceeding to enforce the claim is commenced within five years after the publication of the notice.

3. If the dissolved corporation publishes a newspaper notice in accordance with subsection 2, the claim of each of the following claimants is barred unless the claimant commences a proceeding to enforce the claim against the dissolved corporation within five years after the publication date of the newspaper notice:

a. A claimant who did not receive written notice under section 490.1406.

b. A claimant whose claim was timely sent to the dissolved corporation but not acted on.

c. A claimant whose claim is contingent or based on an event occurring after the effective date of dissolution.

4. A claim may be enforced under this section in either of the following ways:

a. Against the dissolved corporation, to the extent of its undistributed assets.

b. If the assets have been distributed in liquidation, against a shareholder of the dissolved corporation to the extent of the shareholder's pro rata share of the claim or the corporate assets distributed to the shareholder in liquidation, whichever is less, but a shareholder's total liability for all claims under this section shall not exceed the total amount of assets distributed to the shareholder in liquidation.

490.1408 through 490.1419 Reserved.

PART B

490.1420 Grounds for administrative dissolution.

The secretary of state may commence a proceeding under section 490.1421 to administratively dissolve a corporation if any of the following apply:

1. The corporation has not delivered a biennial report to the secretary of state in a form that meets the requirements of section 490.1622, within sixty days after it is due, or has not paid the filing fee as determined by the secretary of state, within sixty days after it is due.

2. The corporation is without a registered agent or registered office in this state for sixty days or more.

3. The corporation does not notify the secretary of state within sixty days that its registered agent or registered office has been changed, that its registered agent has resigned, or that its registered office has been discontinued.

4. The corporation's period of duration stated in its articles of incorporation expires.

89 Acts, ch 288, §152; 96 Acts, ch 1170, §9, 10; 97 Acts, ch 171, §14

490.1421 Procedure for and effect of administrative dissolution.

1. If the secretary of state determines that one or more grounds exist under section 490.1420 for dissolving a corporation, the secretary of state shall serve the corporation with written notice of the secretary of state's determination under section 490.504.

2. If the corporation does not correct each ground for dissolution or demonstrate to the reasonable satisfaction of the secretary of state that each ground determined by the secretary of state does not exist within sixty days after service of the notice is perfected under section 490.504, the secretary of state shall administratively dissolve the corporation by signing a certificate of dissolution that recites the ground or grounds for dissolution and its effective date. The secretary of state shall file the original of the certificate and serve a copy on the corporation under section 490.504.

3. A corporation administratively dissolved continues its corporate existence but shall not carry on any business except that necessary to wind up and liquidate its business and affairs under section 490.1405 and notify claimants under sections 490.1406 and 490.1407.

4. The administrative dissolution of a corporation does not terminate the authority of its registered agent.

5. The secretary of state's administrative dissolution of a corporation pursuant to this section appoints the secretary of state the corporation's agent for service of process in any proceeding based on a cause of action which arose during the time the corporation was authorized to transact business in this state. Service of process on the secretary of state under this subsection is service on the corporation. Upon receipt of process, the secretary of state shall serve a copy of the process on the corporation as provided in section 490.504. This subsection does not preclude service on the corporation's registered agent, if any.

490.1422 Reinstatement following administrative dissolution.

1. A corporation administratively dissolved under section 490.1421 may apply to the secretary of state for reinstatement within two years after the effective date of dissolution. The application must meet all of the following requirements:

a. Recite the name of the corporation at its date of dissolution and the effective date of its administrative dissolution.

b. State that the ground or grounds for dissolution have been eliminated.

c. State a corporate name that satisfies the requirements of section 490.401.

d. State the federal tax identification number of the corporation.

2. a. The secretary of state shall refer the federal tax identification number contained in the application for reinstatement to the department of revenue and finance. The department of revenue and finance shall report to the secretary of state the tax status of the corporation. If the department reports to the secretary of state that a filing delinquency or liability exists against the corporation, the secretary of state shall not cancel the certificate of dissolution until the filing delinquency or liability is satisfied.

b. If the secretary of state determines that the application contains the information required by subsection 1, and that a delinquency or liability reported pursuant to paragraph "a" of this subsection has been satisfied, and that the information is correct, the secretary of state shall cancel the certificate of dissolution and prepare a certificate of reinstatement that recites the secretary of state's determination and the effective date of reinstatement, file the original of the certificate, and serve a copy on the corporation under section 490.504. If the corporate name in subsection 1, paragraph "c", is different than the corporate name in subsection 1, paragraph "a", the certificate of reinstatement shall constitute an amendment to the articles of incorporation insofar as it pertains to the corporate name.

4. Notwithstanding the reinstatement period established in subsection 1, a corporation administratively dissolved after December 31, 1984, which files an application for reinstatement prior to January 1, 1996, containing the information required under subsection 1, shall be treated as if its application had been timely filed under subsection 1. In this case, the secretary of state shall process the application pursuant to subsection 2 and, if a certificate of reinstatement is issued, the provisions of subsection 3 shall apply.

490.1423 Appeal from denial of reinstatement.

1. If the secretary of state denies a corporation's application for reinstatement following administrative dissolution, the secretary of state shall serve the corporation under section 490.504 with a written notice that explains the reason or reasons for denial.

2. The corporation may appeal the denial of reinstatement to the district court within thirty days after service of the notice of denial is perfected. The corporation appeals by petitioning the court to set aside the dissolution and attaching to the petition copies of the secretary of state's certificate of dissolution, the corporation's application for reinstatement, and the secretary of state's notice of denial.

3. The court may summarily order the secretary of state to reinstate the dissolved corporation or may take other action the court considers appropriate.

4. The court's final decision may be appealed as in other civil proceedings.

89 Acts, ch 288, §155

490.1424 through 490.1429 Reserved.

PART C

490.1430 Grounds for judicial dissolution.

The district court may dissolve a corporation in any of the following ways:

1. A proceeding by the attorney general, if it is established that either of the following apply:

a. The corporation obtained its articles of incorporation through fraud.

b. The corporation has continued to exceed or abuse the authority conferred upon it by law.

2. A proceeding by a shareholder if it is established that any of the following conditions exist:

a. The directors are deadlocked in the management of the corporate affairs, the shareholders are unable to break the deadlock, and either irreparable injury to the corporation is threatened or being suffered, or the business and affairs of the corporation can no longer be conducted to the advantage of the shareholders generally, because of the deadlock.

b. The directors or those in control of the corporation have acted, are acting, or will act in a manner that is illegal, oppressive, or fraudulent.

c. The shareholders are deadlocked in voting power and have failed, for a period that includes at least two consecutive annual meeting dates, to elect successors to directors whose terms have expired.

d. The corporate assets are being misapplied or wasted.

3. A proceeding by a creditor if it is established that either of the following apply:

a. The creditor's claim has been reduced to judgment, the execution on the judgment returned unsatisfied, and the corporation is insolvent.

b. The corporation has admitted in writing that the creditor's claim is due and owing and the corporation is insolvent.

4. A proceeding by the corporation to have its voluntary dissolution continued under court supervision.

89 Acts, ch 288, §156

490.1431 Procedure for judicial dissolution.

1. Venue for a proceeding by the attorney general to dissolve a corporation lies in Polk county. Venue for a proceeding brought by any other party named in section 490.1430 lies in the county where a corporation's principal office or, if none in this state, its registered office is or was last located.

2. It is not necessary to make shareholders parties to a proceeding to dissolve a corporation unless relief is sought against them individually.

3. A court in a proceeding brought to dissolve a corporation may issue injunctions, appoint a receiver or custodian pendente lite with all powers and duties the court directs, take other action required to preserve the corporate assets wherever located, and carry on the business of the corporation until a full hearing can be held.

89 Acts, ch 288, §157

490.1432 Receivership or custodianship.

1. A court in a judicial proceeding brought to dissolve a corporation may appoint one or more receivers to wind up and liquidate, or one or more custodians to manage, the business and affairs of the corporation. The court shall hold a hearing, after notifying all parties to the proceeding and any interested persons designated by the court, before appointing a receiver or custodian. The court appointing a receiver or custodian has exclusive jurisdiction over the corporation and all its property wherever located.

2. The court may appoint an individual or a domestic or foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state as a receiver or custodian. The court may require the receiver or custodian to post bond, with or without sureties, in an amount the court directs.

3. The court shall describe the powers and duties of the receiver or custodian in its appointing order, which may be amended from time to time. Among other powers:

a. The receiver may do either or both of the following:

(1) Dispose of all or any part of the assets of the corporation wherever located, at a public or private sale, if authorized by the court.

(2) Sue and defend in the receiver's own name as receiver of the corporation in all courts of this state.

b. The custodian may exercise all of the powers of the corporation, through or in place of its board of directors or officers, to the extent necessary to manage the affairs of the corporation in the best interests of its shareholders and creditors.

4. The court during a receivership may redesignate the receiver a custodian, and during a custodianship may redesignate the custodian a receiver, if doing so is in the best interests of the corporation, its shareholders, and creditors.

5. The court from time to time during the receivership or custodianship may order compensation paid and expense disbursements or reimbursements made to the receiver or custodian and the receiver's or custodian's counsel from the assets of the corporation or proceeds from the sale of the assets.

490.1433 Decree of dissolution.

1. If after a hearing the court determines that one or more grounds for judicial dissolution described in section 490.1430 exist, it may enter a decree dissolving the corporation and specifying the effective date of the dissolution, and the clerk of the court shall deliver a certified copy of the decree to the secretary of state, who shall file it.

2. After entering the decree of dissolution, the court shall direct the winding up and liquidation of the corporation's business and affairs in accordance with section 490.1405 and the notification of claimants in accordance with sections 490.1406 and 490.1407.

89 Acts, ch 288, §159

490.1434 through 490.1439 Reserved.

PART D

490.1440 Deposit with state treasurer.

Assets of a dissolved corporation that should be transferred to a creditor, claimant, or shareholder of the corporation who cannot be found or who is not competent to receive them shall be reduced to cash and deposited with the treasurer of state or other appropriate state official for safekeeping. When the creditor, claimant, or shareholder furnishes satisfactory proof of entitlement to the amount deposited, the treasurer of state or other appropriate state official shall pay the creditor, claimant, or shareholder or that person's representative that amount.

89 Acts, ch 288, §160

DIVISION XV

FOREIGN CORPORATIONS

PART A

490.1501 Authority to transact business required.

1. A foreign corporation shall not transact business in this state until it obtains a certificate of authority from the secretary of state.

a. Maintaining, defending, or settling any proceeding.

b. Holding meetings of the board of directors or shareholders or carrying on other activities concerning internal corporate affairs.

c. Maintaining bank accounts.

d. Maintaining offices or agencies for the transfer, exchange, and registration of the corporation's own securities or maintaining trustees or depositories with respect to those securities.

e. Selling through independent contractors.

f. Soliciting or obtaining orders, whether by mail or through employees or agents or otherwise, if the orders require acceptance outside this state before they become contracts.

g. Creating or acquiring indebtedness, mortgages, and security interests in real or personal property.

h. Securing or collecting debts or enforcing mortgages and security interests in property securing the debts.

i. Owning, without more, real or personal property.

j. Conducting an isolated transaction that is completed within thirty days and that is not one in the course of repeated transactions of a like nature.

k. Transacting business in interstate commerce.

3. The list of activities in subsection 2 is not exhaustive.

89 Acts, ch 288, §161

490.1502 Consequences of transacting business without authority.

1. A foreign corporation transacting business in this state without a certificate of authority shall not maintain a proceeding in any court in this state until it obtains a certificate of authority.

2. The successor to a foreign corporation that transacted business in this state without a certificate of authority and the assignee of a cause of action arising out of that business shall not maintain a proceeding based on that cause of action in any court in this state until the foreign corporation or its successor obtains a certificate of authority.

3. A court may stay a proceeding commenced by a foreign corporation, its successor, or assignee until it determines whether the foreign corporation or its successor requires a certificate of authority. If it so determines, the court may further stay the proceeding until the foreign corporation or its successor obtains the certificate.

4. A foreign corporation is liable for a civil penalty of not to exceed a total of one thousand dollars if it transacts business in this state without a certificate of authority. The attorney general may collect all penalties due under this subsection.

5. Notwithstanding subsections 1 and 2, the failure of a foreign corporation to obtain a certificate of authority does not impair the validity of its corporate acts or prevent it from defending any proceeding in this state.

89 Acts, ch 288, §162

490.1503 Application for certificate of authority.

1. A foreign corporation may apply for a certificate of authority to transact business in this state by delivering an application to the secretary of state for filing. The application must set forth all of the following:

a. The name of the foreign corporation or, if its name is unavailable for use in this state, a corporate name that satisfies the requirements of section 490.1506.

b. The name of the state or country under whose law it is incorporated.

c. Its date of incorporation and period of duration.

d. The street address of its principal office.

e. The address of its registered office in this state and the name of its registered agent at that office.

f. The names and usual business addresses of its current directors and officers.

2. The foreign corporation shall deliver the completed application to the secretary of state, and also deliver to the secretary of state a certificate of existence or a document of similar import duly authenticated by the secretary of state or other official having custody of corporate records in the state or country under whose law it is incorporated which is dated no earlier than ninety days prior to the date the application is filed with the secretary of state.

89 Acts, ch 288, §163; 96 Acts, ch 1170, §14

490.1504 Amended certificate of authority.

1. A foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state must obtain an amended certificate of authority from the secretary of state if it changes any of the following:

a. Its corporate name.

b. The period of its duration.

c. The state or country of its incorporation.

2. The requirements of section 490.1503 for obtaining an original certificate of authority apply to obtaining an amended certificate under this section.

89 Acts, ch 288, §164

490.1505 Effect of certificate of authority.

1. A certificate of authority authorizes the foreign corporation to which it is issued to transact business in this state subject, however, to the right of the state to revoke the certificate as provided in this chapter.

2. A foreign corporation with a valid certificate of authority has the same but no greater rights and has the same but no greater privileges as, and except as otherwise provided in this chapter is subject to the same duties, restrictions, penalties, and liabilities now or later imposed on, a domestic corporation of like character.

3. This chapter does not authorize this state to regulate the organization or internal affairs of a foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state.

89 Acts, ch 288, §165

490.1506 Corporate name of foreign corporation.

1. If the corporate name of a foreign corporation does not satisfy the requirements of section 490.401, the foreign corporation, to obtain or maintain a certificate of authority to transact business in this state, may do either of the following:

a. Add the word “corporation”, “incorporated”, “company”, or “limited”, or the abbreviation “corp.”, “inc.”, “co.”, or “ltd.”, to its corporate name for use in this state.

b. Use a fictitious name to transact business in this state if its real name is unavailable and it delivers to the secretary of state for filing a copy of the resolution of its board of directors, certified by its secretary, adopting the fictitious name.

2. Except as authorized by subsections 3 and 4, the corporate name, including a fictitious name, of a foreign corporation must be distinguishable upon the records of the secretary of state from all of the following:

a. The corporate name of a corporation incorporated or authorized to transact business in this state.

b. A corporate name reserved or registered under section 490.402 or 490.403.

c. The fictitious name of another foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state.

d. The corporate name of a not-for-profit corporation incorporated or authorized to transact business in this state.

3. A foreign corporation may apply to the secretary of state for authorization to use in this state the name of another corporation incorporated or authorized to transact business in this state that is not distinguishable upon the secretary of state’s records from the name applied for. The secretary of state shall authorize use of the name applied for if either of the following apply:

a. The other corporation consents to the use in writing and submits an undertaking in form satisfactory to the secretary of state to change its name to a name that is distinguishable upon the records of the secretary of state from the name of the applying corporation.

b. The applicant delivers to the secretary of state a certified copy of a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction establishing the applicant's right to use the name applied for in this state.

4. A foreign corporation may use in this state the name, including the fictitious name, of another domestic or foreign corporation that is used in this state if the other corporation is incorporated or authorized to transact business in this state and the foreign corporation has filed documentation satisfactory to the secretary of state of the occurrence of any of the following:

a. The foreign corporation has merged with the other corporation.

b. The foreign corporation has been formed by reorganization of the other corporation.

c. The foreign corporation has acquired all or substantially all of the assets, including the corporate name, of the other corporation.

5. If a foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state changes its corporate name to one that does not satisfy the requirements of section 490.401, it shall not transact business in this state under the changed name until it adopts a name satisfying the requirements of section 490.401 and obtains an amended certificate of authority under section 490.1504.

89 Acts, ch 288, §166; 96 Acts, ch 1170, §15

490.1507 Registered office and registered agent of foreign corporation.

A foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state must continuously maintain in this state both of the following:

1. A registered office that may be the same as any of its places of business.

2. A registered agent, who may be any of the following:

a. An individual who resides in this state and whose business office is identical with the registered office.

b. A domestic corporation or not-for-profit domestic corporation whose business office is identical with the registered office.

c. A foreign corporation or foreign not-for-profit corporation authorized to transact business in this state whose business office is identical with the registered office.

89 Acts, ch 288, §167

490.1508 Change of registered office or registered agent of foreign corporation.

1. A foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state may change its registered office or registered agent by delivering to the secretary of state for filing a statement of change that sets forth:

a. Its name.

b. If the current registered office is to be changed, the street address of its new registered office.

d. That after the change or changes are made, the street addresses of its registered office and the business office of its registered agent will be identical.

3. A corporation may also change its registered office or registered agent in its biennial report as provided in section 490.1622.

490.1509 Resignation of registered agent of foreign corporation.

1. The registered agent of a foreign corporation may resign the agency appointment by signing and delivering to the secretary of state for filing the signed original statement of resignation. The statement of resignation may include a statement that the registered office is also discontinued. The registered agent shall send a copy of the statement of resignation by certified mail to the corporation at its principal office and to the registered office, if not discontinued. The registered agent shall certify to the secretary of state that the copies have been sent to the corporation, including the date the copies were sent.

490.1510 Service on foreign corporation.

1. The registered agent of a foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state is the corporation's agent for service of process, notice, or demand required or permitted by law to be served on the foreign corporation.

2. A foreign corporation may be served by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, addressed to the secretary of the foreign corporation at its principal office shown in its application for a certificate of authority or in its most recent biennial report if the foreign corporation meets any of the following conditions:

a. Has no registered agent or its registered agent cannot with reasonable diligence be served.

b. Has withdrawn from transacting business in this state under section 490.1520.

c. Has had its certificate of authority revoked under section 490.1531.

3. Service is perfected under subsection 2 at the earliest of:

a. The date the foreign corporation receives the mail.

b. The date shown on the return receipt, if signed on behalf of the foreign corporation.

c. Five days after its deposit in the United States mail, as evidenced by the postmark, if mailed postpaid and correctly addressed.

4. A foreign corporation may also be served in any other manner permitted by law.

89 Acts, ch 288, §170; 97 Acts, ch 171, §16

490.1511 through 490.1519 Reserved.

PART B

490.1520 Withdrawal of foreign corporation.

1. A foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state shall not withdraw from this state until it obtains a certificate of withdrawal from the secretary of state.

2. A foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state may apply for a certificate of withdrawal by delivering an application to the secretary of state for filing. The application must set forth all of the following:

a. The name of the foreign corporation and the name of the state or country under whose law it is incorporated.

b. That it is not transacting business in this state and that it surrenders its authority to transact business in this state.

c. That it revokes the authority of its registered agent to accept service on its behalf and appoints the secretary of state as its agent for service of process in any proceeding based on a cause of action arising during the time it was authorized to transact business in this state.

d. A mailing address to which the secretary of state may mail a copy of any process served on the secretary of state under paragraph "c".

3. After the withdrawal of the corporation is effective, service of process on the secretary of state under this section is service on the foreign corporation. Upon receipt of process, the secretary of state shall mail a copy of the process to the foreign corporation at the mailing address set forth under subsection 2.

89 Acts, ch 288, §171; 96 Acts, ch 1170, §18

490.1521 through 490.1529 Reserved.

PART C

490.1530 Grounds for revocation.

The secretary of state may commence a proceeding under section 490.1531 to revoke the certificate of authority of a foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state if:

1. The foreign corporation does not deliver its biennial report to the secretary of state in a form that meets the requirements of section 490.1622 within sixty days after it is due.

2. The foreign corporation is without a registered agent or registered office in this state for sixty days or more.

3. The foreign corporation does not inform the secretary of state under section 490.1508 or 490.1509 that its registered agent or registered office has changed, that its registered agent has resigned, or that its registered office has been discontinued within sixty days of the change, resignation, or discontinuance.

4. An incorporator, director, officer, or agent of the foreign corporation signed a document that person knew was false in any material respect with intent that the document be delivered to the secretary of state for filing.

5. The secretary of state receives a duly authenticated certificate from the secretary of state or other official having custody of corporate records in the state or country under whose law the foreign corporation is incorporated stating that it has been dissolved or disappeared as the result of a merger.

89 Acts, ch 288, §172; 90 Acts, ch 1205, §27; 96 Acts, ch 1170, §19; 97 Acts, ch 171, §17

490.1531 Procedure for and effect of revocation.

1. If the secretary of state determines that one or more grounds exist under section 490.1530 for revocation of a certificate of authority, the secretary of state shall serve the foreign corporation with written notice of the secretary's determination under section 490.1510.

2. If the foreign corporation does not correct each ground for revocation or demonstrate to the reasonable satisfaction of the secretary of state that each ground determined by the secretary of state does not exist within sixty days after service of the notice is perfected under section 490.1510, the secretary of state may revoke the foreign corporation's certificate of authority by signing a certificate of revocation that recites the ground or grounds for revocation and its effective date. The secretary of state shall file the original of the certificate and serve a copy on the foreign corporation under section 490.1510.

3. The authority of a foreign corporation to transact business in this state ceases on the date shown on the certificate revoking its certificate of authority.

4. The secretary of state's revocation of a foreign corporation's certificate of authority appoints the secretary of state the foreign corporation's agent for service of process in any proceeding based on a cause of action which arose during the time the foreign corporation was authorized to transact business in this state. Service of process on the secretary of state under this subsection is service on the foreign corporation. Upon receipt of process, the secretary of state shall mail a copy of the process to the secretary of the foreign corporation at its principal office shown in its most recent biennial report or in any subsequent communication received from the corporation stating the current mailing address of its principal office, or, if none is on file, in its application for a certificate of authority.

5. Revocation of a foreign corporation's certificate of authority does not terminate the authority of the registered agent of the corporation.

490.1532 Appeal from revocation.

1. A foreign corporation may appeal the secretary of state's revocation of its certificate of authority to the district court within thirty days after service of the certificate of revocation is perfected under section 490.1510. The foreign corporation appeals by petitioning the court to set aside the revocation and attaching to the petition copies of its certificate of authority and the secretary of state's certificate of revocation.

2. The court may summarily order the secretary of state to reinstate the certificate of authority or may take any other action the court considers appropriate.

3. The court's final decision may be appealed as in other civil proceedings.

89 Acts, ch 288, §174

DIVISION XVI

RECORDS AND REPORTS

PART A

490.1601 Corporate records.

1. A corporation shall keep as permanent records minutes of all meetings of its shareholders and board of directors, a record of all actions taken by the shareholders or board of directors without a meeting, and a record of all actions taken by a committee of the board of directors in place of the board of directors on behalf of the corporation.

2. A corporation shall maintain appropriate accounting records.

3. A corporation or its agent shall maintain a record of its shareholders in a form that permits preparation of a list of the names and addresses of all shareholders in alphabetical order by class of shares showing the number and class of shares held by each.

4. A corporation shall maintain its records in written form or in another form capable of conversion into written form within a reasonable time.

5. A corporation shall keep a copy of the following records:

a. Its articles or restated articles of incorporation and all amendments to them currently in effect.

b. Its bylaws or restated bylaws and all amendments to them currently in effect.

c. Resolutions adopted by its board of directors creating one or more classes or series of shares, and fixing their relative rights, preferences, and limitations, if shares issued pursuant to those resolutions are outstanding.

d. The minutes of all shareholders' meetings, and records of all action taken by shareholders without a meeting, for the past three years.

e. All written communications to shareholders generally within the past three years, including the financial statements furnished for the past three years under section 490.1620.

f. A list of the names and business addresses of its current directors and officers.

g. Its most recent biennial report delivered to the secretary of state under section 490.1622.

89 Acts, ch 288, §175; 97 Acts, ch 171, §19

490.1602 Inspection of records by shareholders.

1. A shareholder of a corporation is entitled to inspect and copy, during regular business hours at the corporation's principal office, any of the records of the corporation described in section 490.1601, subsection 5, if the shareholder gives the corporation written notice of the shareholder's demand at least five business days before the date on which the shareholder wishes to inspect and copy.

2. A shareholder of a corporation is entitled to inspect and copy, during regular business hours at a reasonable location specified by the corporation, any of the following records of the corporation if the shareholder meets the requirements of subsection 3 and gives the corporation written notice of the shareholder's demand at least five business days before the date on which the shareholder wishes to inspect and copy any of the following:

a. Excerpts from minutes of any meeting of the board of directors, records of any action of a committee of the board of directors while acting in place of the board of directors on behalf of the corporation, minutes of any meeting of the shareholders, and records of action taken by the shareholders or board of directors without a meeting, to the extent not subject to inspection under subsection 1 of this section.

b. Accounting records of the corporation.

c. The record of shareholders.

3. A shareholder may inspect and copy the records described in subsection 2 only if:

a. The shareholder's demand is made in good faith and for a proper purpose.

b. The shareholder describes with reasonable particularity the shareholder's purpose and the records the shareholder desires to inspect.

c. The records are directly connected with the shareholder's purpose.

4. The right of inspection granted by this section shall not be abolished or limited by a corporation's articles of incorporation or bylaws.

5. This section does not affect either of the following:

a. The right of a shareholder to inspect records under section 490.720 or, if the shareholder is in litigation with the corporation, to the same extent as any other litigant.

b. The power of a court, independently of this chapter, to compel the production of corporate records for examination.

89 Acts, ch 288, §176

490.1603 Scope of inspection right.

1. A shareholder's agent or attorney has the same inspection and copying rights as the shareholder the agent or attorney represents.

2. The right to copy records under section 490.1602 includes, if reasonable, the right to receive copies made by photographic, xerographic, or other technological means.

3. The corporation may impose a reasonable charge, covering the costs of labor and material, for copies of any documents provided to the shareholder. The charge shall not exceed the estimated cost of production or reproduction of the records.

4. The corporation may comply with a shareholder's demand to inspect the record of shareholders under section 490.1602, subsection 2, paragraph "c" by providing the shareholder with a list of its shareholders that was compiled no earlier than the date of the shareholder's demand.

490.1604 Court-ordered inspection.

1. If a corporation does not allow a shareholder who complies with section 490.1602, subsection 1, to inspect and copy any records required by that subsection to be available for inspection, the district court of the county where the corporation's principal office or, if none in this state, its registered office is located may summarily order inspection and copying of the records demanded at the corporation's expense upon application of the shareholder.

2. If a corporation does not within a reasonable time allow a shareholder to inspect and copy any other records, the shareholder who complies with section 490.1602, subsections 2 and 3 may apply to the district court in the county where the corporation's principal office or, if none in this state, its registered office is located for an order to permit inspection and copying of the records demanded. The court shall dispose of an application under this subsection on an expedited basis.

3. If the court orders inspection and copying of the records demanded, it shall also order the corporation to pay the shareholder's costs, including reasonable counsel fees, incurred to obtain the order unless the corporation proves that it refused inspection in good faith because it had a reasonable basis for doubt about the right of the shareholder to inspect the records demanded.

4. If the court orders inspection and copying of the records demanded, it may impose reasonable restrictions on the use or distribution of the records by the demanding shareholder.

89 Acts, ch 288, §178

490.1605 through 490.1619 Reserved.

PART B

490.1620 Financial statements for shareholders.

A corporation shall prepare annual financial statements, which may be consolidated or combined statements of the corporation and one or more of its subsidiaries, as appropriate, that include a balance sheet as of the end of the fiscal year and an income statement for that year. Upon written request from a shareholder, a corporation, at its expense, shall furnish to that shareholder the financial statements requested. If the annual financial statements are reported upon by a public accountant, that report must accompany them.

490.1621 Other reports to shareholders.

1. If a corporation indemnifies or advances expenses to a director under sections 490.851 through 490.854 in connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the corporation, the corporation shall report the indemnification or advance in writing to the shareholders with or before the notice of the next shareholders' meeting.

2. If a corporation issues or authorizes the issuance of shares for promissory notes or for promises to render services in the future, the corporation shall report in writing to the shareholders the number of shares authorized or issued, and the consideration received by the corporation, with or before the notice of the next shareholders' meeting.

89 Acts, ch 288, §180

490.1622 Biennial report for secretary of state.

1. Each domestic corporation, and each foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state, shall deliver to the secretary of state for filing a biennial report that sets forth all of the following:

a. The name of the corporation and the state or country under whose law it is incorporated.

b. The address of its registered office and the name of its registered agent at that office in this state, together with the consent of any new registered agent.

c. The address of its principal office.

d. The names and addresses of the president, secretary, treasurer, and one member of the board of directors.

2. Information in the biennial report must be current as of the first day of January of the year in which the report is due. The report shall be executed on behalf of the corporation and signed as provided in section 490.120 or by any other person authorized by the board of directors of the corporation.

3. The first biennial report shall be delivered to the secretary of state between January 1 and April 1 of the first even-numbered year following the calendar year in which a domestic corporation was incorporated or a foreign corporation was authorized to transact business. Subsequent biennial reports must be delivered to the secretary of state between January 1 and April 1 of the following even-numbered calendar years. A filing fee for the biennial report shall be determined by the secretary of state. For purposes of this section, each biennial report shall contain information related to the two-year period immediately preceding the calendar year in which the report is filed.

5. The secretary of state may provide for the change of registered office or registered agent on the form prescribed by the secretary of state for the biennial report, provided that the form contains the information required in section 490.502 or 490.1508. If the secretary of state determines that a biennial report does not contain the information required by this section but otherwise meets the requirements of section 490.502 or 490.1508 for the purpose of changing the registered office or registered agent, the secretary of state shall file the statement of change of registered office or registered agent, effective as provided in section 490.123, before returning the biennial report to the corporation as provided in this section. A statement of change of registered office or agent pursuant to this subsection shall be executed by a person authorized to execute the biennial report.

DIVISION XVII

TRANSITION PROVISIONS

490.1701 Application to existing corporations.

1. Except as provided in this subsection or chapter 504 or 504A, this chapter does not apply to or affect entities subject to chapter 504 or 504A. Such entities continue to be governed by all laws of this state applicable to them before December 31, 1989, as those laws are amended. This chapter does not derogate or limit the powers to which such entities are entitled.

2. Unless otherwise provided, this chapter does not apply to an entity subject to chapter 174, 176, 497, 498, 499, 499A, 524, 533, or 534 or a corporation organized on the mutual plan under chapter 491, or a telephone company organized as a corporation under chapter 491 qualifying pursuant to an internal revenue service letter ruling under Internal Revenue Code § 501(c)(12) as a nonprofit corporation entitled to distribute profits in a manner similar to a chapter 499 corporation, unless such entity voluntarily elects to adopt the provisions of this chapter and complies with the procedure prescribed by subsection 3 of this section.

3. The procedure for the voluntary election referred to in subsection 2 is as follows:

a. The corporation shall amend or restate its articles of incorporation to indicate that the corporation adopts this chapter and to designate the address of its initial registered office and the name of its registered agent or agents at that office and, if the name of the corporation is not in compliance with the requirements of this chapter, to change the name of the corporation to one complying with the requirements of this chapter.

b. The instrument shall be delivered to the secretary of state for filing and recording in the secretary of state's office, and shall be filed and recorded in the office of the county recorder. The corporation shall at the time it files the instrument with the secretary of state deliver also to the secretary of state for filing in the secretary of state's office any biennial report which is then due.

If the county of the initial registered office as stated in the instrument is one which is other than the county where the principal place of business of the corporation, as designated in its articles of incorporation, was located, the corporation shall forward to the county recorder of the county in which the principal place of business of the corporation was located a copy of the instrument and the corporation shall forward to the recorder of the county in which the initial registered office of the corporation is located, in addition to a copy of the original instrument, a copy of the articles of incorporation of the corporation together with all amendments to them as then on file in the secretary of state's office. The corporation shall, through an officer or director, certify to the secretary of state that a copy has been sent to each applicable county recorder, including the date each copy was sent.

c. Upon the filing of the instrument by a corporation all of the following apply:

(1) All of the provisions of this chapter apply to the corporation.

(2) The secretary of state shall issue a certificate as to the filing of the instrument and deliver the certificate to the corporation or its representative.

(3) The secretary of state shall not file the instrument with respect to a corporation unless at the time of filing the corporation is validly existing and in good standing in that office under the chapter under which it is incorporated. The corporation shall be considered validly existing and in good standing for the purpose of this chapter for a period of three months following the expiration date of the corporation, provided all biennial reports due have been filed and all fees due in connection with the biennial reports have been paid.

d. The provisions of this chapter becoming applicable to a corporation voluntarily electing to be governed by this chapter do not affect any right accrued or established, or any liability or penalty incurred, under the chapter under which it is incorporated prior to the filing by the secretary of state in the secretary of state's office of the instrument manifesting the election by the corporation to adopt the provisions of this chapter as provided in this subsection.

4. Except as specifically provided in this chapter, this chapter applies to all domestic corporations in existence on December 31, 1989, that were incorporated under any general statute of this state providing for incorporation of corporations for profit if power to amend or repeal the statute under which the corporation was incorporated was reserved.

5. A corporation subject to this chapter which does not have a registered office or registered agent or both designated on the records of the secretary of state is subject to all of the following provisions:

a. The office of the corporation set forth in its first biennial report filed under this chapter shall be deemed its registered office until December 31, 1990, or until it files a designation of registered office with the secretary of state, whichever is earlier.

b. The person signing the first biennial report of the corporation filed under this chapter shall be deemed the registered agent until December 31, 1990, or a statement designating a registered agent has been filed with the secretary of state, whichever is earlier.

c. Section 490.502 does not apply to the corporation until December 31, 1990, or until the corporation files a designation of registered office and registered agent at that office with the secretary of state, whichever is earlier.

6. A corporation subject to this chapter is not subject to chapter 491, 492, 493, or 495.

89 Acts, ch 288, §182; 93 Acts, ch 126, §9; 97 Acts, ch 107, §6; 97 Acts, ch 171, §21–24

490.1702 Application to qualified foreign corporations.

A foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state on December 31, 1989, is subject to this chapter but is not required to obtain a new certificate of authority to transact business under this chapter.

89 Acts, ch 288, §183

490.1703 Savings provisions.

1. Except as provided in subsection 2, the repeal of a statute by 1989 Iowa Acts, chapter 288, does not affect:

a. The operation of the statute or any action taken under it before its repeal.

b. Any ratification, right, remedy, privilege, obligation, or liability acquired, accrued, or incurred under the statute before its repeal.

c. Any violation of the statute, or any penalty, forfeiture, or punishment incurred because of the violation, before its repeal.

d. Any proceeding, reorganization, or dissolution commenced under the statute before its repeal, and the proceeding, reorganization, or dissolution may be completed in accordance with the statute as if it had not been repealed.

2. If a penalty or punishment imposed for violation of a statute repealed by 1989 Iowa Acts, chapter 288, is reduced by 1989 Iowa Acts, chapter 288, the penalty or punishment if not already imposed shall be imposed in accordance with this chapter.

490.1704 Preemptive rights for existing corporations.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, a corporation which was incorporated under, or which elected to be governed by, former chapter 496A prior to December 31, 1989, shall be governed by the following until December 31, 1992:

Except to the extent limited or denied by this section or by the articles of incorporation, shareholders have a preemptive right to acquire unissued shares or securities convertible into such shares or carrying a right to subscribe to or acquire shares.

Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation:

1. No preemptive right exists:
 - a. To acquire any shares issued to directors, officers, or employees pursuant to approval by the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the shares entitled to vote thereon or when authorized by and consistent with a plan approved by such a vote of shareholders.
 - b. To acquire any shares sold otherwise than for cash.
 - c. To acquire treasury shares of the corporation.
2. Holders of shares of any class that is preferred or limited as to dividends or assets are not entitled to any preemptive right.
3. Holders of shares of common stock are not entitled to any preemptive right to shares of any class that is preferred or limited as to dividends or assets or to any obligations, unless convertible into shares of common stock or carrying a right to subscribe to or acquire shares of common stock.
4. Holders of common stock without voting power have no preemptive right to shares of common stock with voting power.
5. The preemptive right is only an opportunity to acquire shares or other securities under such terms and conditions as the board of directors may fix for the purpose of providing a fair and reasonable opportunity for the exercise of the right.
89 Acts, ch 288, §185

490.1705 Reinstatement of corporations existing prior to December 31, 1989.

1. A corporation subject to this chapter, whose certificate of incorporation was canceled pursuant to former section 496A.130 after December 30, 1981, and before December 31, 1989, may apply to the secretary of state for reinstatement pursuant to section 490.1422 on or before December 31, 1991.
2. A corporation whose certificate of incorporation was canceled pursuant to former section 496A.130 after December 30, 1979, and before December 31, 1981, may apply to the secretary of state for reinstatement pursuant to section 490.1422 at any time within ten years of the date of the issuance of the certificate of cancellation.
3. A corporation whose corporate rights have been canceled and forfeited in the manner provided in former section 496.9 prior to December 31, 1989, or which has a right to renew pursuant to sections 491.25 through 491.28, may apply to the secretary of state for reinstatement pursuant to section 490.1422 on or before December 31, 1991.
4. This section applies to all reinstatements delivered to the office of the secretary of state for filing on or after December 31, 1989.

PART 2

490A.120 Filing requirements.

1. A document must satisfy the requirements of this section, and of any other section that adds to or varies these requirements, to be entitled to filing.

2. The document must be one that this chapter requires or permits to be filed with the secretary of state.

3. The document must contain the information required by this chapter. It may contain other information as well.

4. The document must be typewritten or printed. The typewritten or printed portion shall be in black. Manually signed photocopies, or other reproduced copies, including facsimiles and other electronically or computer-generated copies of typewritten or printed documents may be filed.

5. The document must be in the English language. A limited liability company name need not be in English if written in English letters or Arabic or Roman numerals. The articles of organization, duly authenticated by the official having custody of the applicable records in the state or country under whose law the limited liability company is formed, which are required of foreign limited liability companies, need not be in English if accompanied by a reasonably authenticated English translation.

6. The document must be executed by one of the following persons:

a. A manager, or if no managers have been selected, by any member of the limited liability company.

b. If the limited liability company has not been formed, by the person forming the limited liability company.

c. If the limited liability company is in the hands of a receiver, trustee, or other court-appointed fiduciary, that fiduciary.

7. The person executing the document shall sign it and state beneath or opposite the person’s signature the person’s name and the capacity in which the person signs.

8. If, pursuant to any provision of this chapter, the secretary of state has prescribed a mandatory form for the document, the document shall be in or on the prescribed form.

9. The document must be delivered to the secretary of state for filing and must be accompanied by the correct filing fee.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §11

490A.121 Filing duty of secretary of state.

1. If a document delivered to the office of the secretary of state for filing satisfies the requirements of section 490A.120, the secretary of state shall file it and issue any necessary certificate.

2. The secretary of state files a document by stamping or otherwise endorsing “filed”, together with the secretary of state’s name and official title and the date and time of receipt, on both the document and the receipt for the filing fee, and recording the document in the records of the secretary of state. After filing a document, and except as provided in section 490A.503, the secretary of state shall deliver the document, with the filing fee receipt, or acknowledgment of receipt if no fee is required, attached, to the domestic or foreign limited liability company or its representative.

3. If the secretary of state refuses to file a document, the secretary of state shall return it to the domestic or foreign limited liability company or its representative within ten days after the document was received by the secretary of state, together with a brief, written explanation of the reason for the refusal.

4. The secretary of state's duty to file documents under this section is ministerial. Filing or refusing to file a document does not:

- a. Affect the validity or invalidity of the document in whole or part.
- b. Relate to the correctness or incorrectness of information contained in the document.
- c. Create a presumption that the document is valid or invalid or that information contained in the document is correct or incorrect.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §12

490A.122 Effective time and date of documents.

1. Except as provided in subsection 2 and section 490A.123, subsection 3, a document accepted for filing is effective at the later of the following times:

a. At the time of filing on the date it is filed, as evidenced by the secretary of state's date and time endorsement on the original document.

b. At the time specified in the document as its effective time on the date it is filed.

2. A document may specify a delayed effective time and date, and if it does so the document becomes effective at the time and date specified. If a delayed effective date but no time is specified, the document is effective at the close of business on that date. A delayed effective date for a document shall not be later than the ninetieth day after the date it is filed.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §13

490A.123 Correcting filed documents.

1. A domestic or foreign limited liability company may correct a document filed by the secretary of state if the document satisfies one or both of the following requirements:

- a. Contains an incorrect statement.
- b. Was defectively executed, attested, sealed, verified, or acknowledged.

2. A document is corrected by complying with both of the following:

a. By preparing articles of correction that satisfy all of the following requirements:

- (1) Describe the document, including its filing date, or attach a copy of it to the articles.
- (2) Specify the incorrect statement and the reason it is incorrect or the manner in which the execution was defective.
- (3) Correct the incorrect statement or defective execution.

b. By delivering the articles to the secretary of state for filing.

3. Articles of correction are effective on the effective date of the document they correct except as to persons relying on the uncorrected document and adversely affected by the correction. As to those persons, articles of correction are effective when filed.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §14

490A.124 Fees.

1. The secretary of state shall collect the following fees when documents described in this subsection are delivered to the secretary's office for filing:

x. Application for certificate of existence or authorization	$ 5
y. Any other document required or permitted to be filed by this chapter	$ 5

2. The secretary of state shall collect a fee of five dollars each time process is served on the secretary under this chapter. The party to a proceeding causing service of process is entitled to recover this fee as costs if the party prevails in the proceeding.

3. The secretary of state shall collect the following fees for copying and certifying the copy of any filed document relating to a domestic or foreign corporation:

- a. One dollar a page for copying.
 - b. Five dollars for the certificate.
- 92 Acts, ch 1151, §15; 93 Acts, ch 39, §21

490A.125 Forms.

1. The secretary of state may prescribe and furnish on request forms including but not limited to the following:

- a. An application for a certificate of existence.
- b. A foreign limited liability company's application for a certificate of authority to transact business in this state.
- c. A foreign limited liability company's application for a certificate of withdrawal.

If the secretary of state so requires, use of these listed forms prescribed by the secretary of state is mandatory.

2. The secretary of state may prescribe and furnish on request forms for other documents required or permitted to be filed by this chapter but their use is not mandatory.

490A.126 Appeal from secretary of state's refusal to file document.

1. If the secretary of state refuses to file a document delivered to the secretary's office for filing, the domestic or foreign limited liability company may appeal the refusal, within thirty days after the return of the document, to the district court for the county in which the limited liability company's principal office or, if none in this state, its registered office is or will be located. The appeal is commenced by petitioning the court to compel filing the document and by attaching to the petition the document and the secretary of state's explanation of the refusal to file.

2. The court may summarily order the secretary of state to file the document or take other action the court considers appropriate.

3. The court's final decision may be appealed as in other civil proceedings.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §17

490A.127 Evidentiary effect of copy of filed document.

A certificate attached to a copy of a document filed by the secretary of state, bearing the secretary of state's signature, which may be in facsimile, and the seal of the secretary of state, is conclusive evidence that the original document is on file with the secretary of state.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §18

490A.128 Certificate of existence.

1. Anyone may apply to the secretary of state to furnish a certificate of existence for a domestic limited liability company or a certificate of authorization for a foreign limited liability company.

2. A certificate of existence or authorization must set forth all of the following:

- a. The domestic limited liability company's name or the foreign limited liability company's name used in this state.

- b. That one of the following applies:

- (1) If it is a domestic limited liability company, that it is duly organized under the law of this state, the date of its organization, and the period of its duration.

- (2) If it is a foreign limited liability company, that it is authorized to transact business in this state.

- c. That all fees required by this chapter have been paid.

- d. That articles of dissolution have not been filed.

- e. Other facts of record in the office of the secretary of state that may be requested by the applicant.

3. Subject to any qualification stated in the certificate, a certificate of existence or authorization issued by the secretary of state may be relied upon as conclusive evidence that the domestic or foreign limited liability company is in existence or is authorized to transact business in this state.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §19

490A.129 Penalty for signing false document.

1. A person commits an offense if that person signs a document the person knows is false in any material respect with intent that the document be delivered to the secretary of state for filing.

2. An offense under this section is a serious misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not to exceed one thousand dollars.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §20

490A.130 Secretary of state — powers.

The secretary of state has the power reasonably necessary to perform the duties required of the secretary of state by this chapter.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §21

SUBCHAPTER II

PURPOSES AND POWERS

490A.201 Purposes.

1. A limited liability company organized under this chapter has the purpose of engaging in any lawful business unless a more limited purpose is set forth in the articles of organization.

2. A limited liability company engaging in a business that is subject to regulation under another er statute of this state may organize under this chapter only if permitted by, and subject to all limitations of, the other statute.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §22

490A.202 Powers.

Unless its articles of organization provide otherwise, a limited liability company has the same powers as an individual to do all things necessary or convenient to carry out its business and affairs, including without limitation power to do all of the following:

1. Sue and be sued, complain, and defend in its name.

2. Transact its business, carry on its operations, and have and exercise the powers granted by this chapter in any state and in any foreign country.

3. Purchase, receive, lease, or otherwise acquire, and own, hold, improve, use, and otherwise deal with, real or personal property, or any legal or equitable interest in property, wherever located.

4. Sell, convey, transfer, mortgage, pledge, lease, exchange, and otherwise dispose of all or any part of its property.

5. Purchase, receive, subscribe for, or otherwise acquire and hold, to sell, mortgage, lend, pledge, or otherwise dispose of, and deal in and with, shares or other interests in, or obligations of any other person.

6. Make contracts and guaranties, incur liabilities, borrow money, issue its notes, bonds, and other obligations, which may be convertible into or include the option to purchase other securities of the limited liability company, and secure any of its obligations by mortgage, deed of trust, or pledge of any of its property, franchises, or income.

7. Lend money, invest and reinvest its funds, and receive and hold real and personal property as security for repayment.

8. Elect and appoint managers, employees, and agents of the limited liability company, define their duties, fix their compensation, and lend them money and credit.

9. Pay pensions and establish pension plans, pension trusts, profit sharing plans, and benefit and incentive plans for all or any of its current or former members, managers, employees, and agents.

10. Make donations for the public welfare or for religious, charitable, scientific, or educational purposes.

11. Make payments or donations, or do any other act, not inconsistent with law, that furthers the business and affairs of the limited liability company.

12. Cease its activities and dissolve.

13. Be a promoter, stockholder, partner, member, associate, agent, or manager of any corporation, partnership, limited liability company, joint venture, trust, or other entity.

14. Make and amend operating agreements, not inconsistent with its articles of organization or with the law of this state, for the administration and regulation of its affairs.

15. Transact any lawful business that a corporation, partnership, or other entity may conduct under the law of this state subject, however, to any and all laws and restrictions that govern or limit the conduct of such activity by such corporation, partnership, or other entity.

16. Have and exercise all powers necessary or convenient to effect any or all of the purposes for which the limited liability company is organized.

17. Indemnify and hold harmless a member, manager, or other person against a claim, liability, or other demand, as provided in an operating agreement.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §23; 93 Acts, ch 39, §22; 95 Acts, ch 138, §1; 97 Acts, ch 188, §54

SUBCHAPTER III

FORMATION

490A.301 Formation.

One or more persons may form a limited liability company by executing and delivering articles of organization to the secretary of state for filing. Such person or persons need not be members of the limited liability company after formation has occurred.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §24

490A.302 Liability.

All persons purporting to act as or on behalf of a limited liability company, knowing there is no organization under this chapter, are jointly and severally liable for all liabilities created while so acting.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §25

490A.303 Articles of organization.

1. The articles of organization must set forth all of the following:

a. A name for the limited liability company that satisfies the requirements of section 490A.401.

b. The street address of the limited liability company's initial registered office and the name of its initial registered agent at that office.

c. The street address of the principal office of the limited liability company, which may be the same as the registered office, but need not be within this state.

d. The period of its duration, which may be perpetual.

2. The articles of organization may set forth any other provision not inconsistent with law, including, but not limited to, a statement of whether there are limitations on the authority of members to bind the limited liability company.

3. The articles of organization need not set forth any of the powers enumerated in this chapter.

4. The articles of organization or an operating agreement may provide that a member's interest in a limited liability company may be evidenced by a certificate of membership interest issued by the limited liability company and may also provide for assignment or transfer of any membership interest represented by such a certificate and make other provisions with respect to such a certificate.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §26; 97 Acts, ch 188, §55

490A.304 Conversion of certain entities to a limited liability company.

1. As used in this section, the term "other entity" means a corporation, business trust or association, real estate investment trust, common-law trust, or any other unincorporated business, including any partnership, whether general or limited, or a foreign limited liability company.

2. Any other entity may convert to a domestic limited liability company by complying with subsection 8 and filing in the office of the secretary of state both of the following:

a. Articles of conversion to a limited liability company executed by one or more authorized persons.

b. Articles of organization executed by one or more authorized persons.

3. The articles of conversion to a limited liability company shall state all of the following:

a. The date on which, and jurisdiction where, the converting entity was first created, formed, incorporated, or otherwise came into being and, if it has changed, its jurisdiction immediately prior to its conversion to a domestic limited liability company.

b. The name of the converting entity immediately prior to the filing of the articles of conversion to a limited liability company.

c. The name of the limited liability company.

d. The future effective date or time certain of the conversion to a limited liability company if it is not to be effective upon the filing of the articles of conversion and the articles of organization.

4. Upon the filing in the office of the secretary of state of the articles of conversion and the articles of organization or upon the future effective date or time of the articles of conversion and the articles of organization, the converting entity shall be converted into a domestic limited liability company and the limited liability company, from that date or time, is subject to this chapter, except that the existence of the limited liability company is deemed to have commenced on the date the converting entity commenced its existence in the jurisdiction in which the converting entity was first created, formed, incorporated, or otherwise came into being.

5. The conversion of an entity into a domestic limited liability company does not affect any obligations or liabilities of the other entity incurred prior to its conversion to a domestic limited liability company, or the personal liability of any person incurred prior to such conversion.

6. When a conversion is effective, for all purposes of the laws of this state, all of the rights, privileges, and powers of the converting entity, and all property, real, personal, and mixed, and all debts due to the converting entity, as well as all other things and causes of action belonging to such entity, are vested in the domestic limited liability company and are the property of the domestic limited liability company as they were of the converting entity. The title to any real property vested by deed or otherwise in the converting entity shall not revert or be in any way impaired by reason of this chapter, and all rights of creditors and all liens upon any property of such other entity are preserved unimpaired, and all debts, liabilities, and duties of the converting entity shall attach to the domestic limited liability company, and may be enforced against it to the same extent as if the debts, liabilities, and duties had been incurred or contracted by the domestic limited liability company.

7. Unless otherwise agreed, or as required under the laws of a jurisdiction other than this state, the converting entity is not required to wind up its affairs or pay its liabilities and distribute its assets, and the conversion does not constitute a dissolution of the converting entity.

8. Prior to filing the articles of conversion to a limited liability company with the office of the secretary of state, an operating agreement must be approved in the manner provided for by the documents, instrument, agreement, or other writing, as the case may be, governing the internal affairs of the converting entity and the conduct of its business or by applicable law, as appropriate.

9. This section shall not be construed to limit the ability to change the law governing, or the domicile of, a converting entity to this state by any other means provided for in an operating agreement or as otherwise permitted by law, including by the amendment of an operating agreement.

490A.305 Series of members, managers, or membership interests.

1. An operating agreement may establish or provide for the establishment of designated series of members, managers, or membership interests having separate rights, powers, or duties with respect to specified property or obligations of the limited liability company or profits and losses associated with specified property or obligations, and, to the extent provided in the operating agreement, any such series may have a separate business purpose or investment objective.

2. Notwithstanding contrary provisions of this chapter, the debts, liabilities, and obligations incurred, contracted for, or otherwise existing with respect to a particular series shall be enforceable against the assets of that series only, and not against the assets of the limited liability company generally, if all of the following apply:

a. The operating agreement creates one or more series.

b. Separate and distinct records are maintained for the series and the assets associated with the series are held and accounted for separately from the other assets of the limited liability company, or from any other series of the limited liability company.

c. The operating agreement provides for such limitation on liabilities.

d. Notice of the limitation on liabilities of a series is set forth in the articles of organization of the limited liability company. Filing of articles of organization containing a notice of the limitation on liabilities of a series in the office of the secretary of state constitutes notice of the limitation on liabilities of such series.

3. Notwithstanding section 490A.601, or a contrary provision in an operating agreement, a member or manager may agree to be obligated personally for any or all of the debts, obligations, or liabilities of one or more series.

4. An operating agreement may provide for classes or groups of members or managers associated with a series having such relative rights, powers, and duties as the operating agreement may provide. The operating agreement may provide for the future creation of additional classes or groups of members or managers associated with the series having such relative rights, powers, and duties as may from time to time be established, including rights, powers, and duties senior to existing classes and groups of members or managers associated with the series. An operating agreement may provide for the taking of an action, including the amendment of the operating agreement, without the vote or approval of any member or manager or class or group of members or managers, including all action to create under the provisions of the operating agreement a class or group of the series of membership interests that was not previously outstanding. An operating agreement may provide that any member or class or group of members associated with a series have no voting rights.

5. An operating agreement may grant to all or certain identified members or managers or a specified class or group of the members or managers associated with a series the right to vote on any matter separately or with all or any class or group of the members or managers associated with the series. Voting by members or managers associated with a series may be on a per capita, number, financial interest, class, group, or other basis.

6. Unless otherwise provided in an operating agreement, the management of a series shall be vested in the members associated with such series in proportion to the then-current percentage or other interest of members in the profits of the series owned by all of the members associated with such series. The decision of members owning more than fifty percent of the series or other interest in the profits shall control. However, if an operating agreement provides for the management of the series, in whole or in part, by a manager, the management of the series, to the extent so provided, is vested in the manager who shall be chosen as provided in the operating agreement. The manager of the series shall also hold the offices and have the responsibilities accorded to managers as set forth in the operating agreement. A series may have more than one manager. A manager shall cease to be a manager with respect to a series as provided in the operating agreement. Except as otherwise provided in the operating agreement, an event under this chapter or identified in an operating agreement that causes a manager to cease to be a manager with respect to a series, by itself, shall not cause the manager to cease to be a manager of the limited liability company or with respect to any other series of the limited liability company.

7. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, except subsections 8 and 11 and unless otherwise provided in an operating agreement, at the time a member associated with a series that has been established pursuant to subsection 1 becomes entitled to receive a distribution with respect to such series, the member has the status of, and is entitled to, all remedies available to a creditor of the series with respect to the distribution. An operating agreement may provide for the establishment of a record date with respect to allocations and distributions with respect to a series.

8. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, a limited liability company may make a distribution with respect to a series that has been established pursuant to subsection 1. However, a limited liability company shall not make a distribution with respect to a series that has been established pursuant to subsection 1 to the extent that at the time of the distribution, after giving effect to the distribution, all liabilities of such series, other than liabilities to members on account of their membership interests with respect to such series and liabilities for which the recourse of creditors is limited to specified property of such series, exceed the fair value of the assets associated with such series. However, the fair value of an asset of the series that is subject to a liability for which the recourse of creditors is limited shall be included in the assets associated with such series only to the extent that the fair value of that asset exceeds that liability. A member who receives a distribution in violation of this subsection, and who knew at the time of the distribution that the distribution violated this subsection, is liable for the amount of the distribution. Subject to section 490A.807, which applies to any distribution made with respect to a series under this subsection, this subsection shall not affect any obligation or liability of a member under an agreement or other applicable law for the amount of a distribution.

9. Unless otherwise provided in the operating agreement, a member shall cease to be associated with a series and to have the power to exercise any rights or powers of a member with respect to such series upon the assignment of all of the member's membership interest with respect to such series. Except as otherwise provided in an operating agreement, an event under this chapter or identified in an operating agreement that causes a member to cease to be associated with a series, by itself, shall not cause such member to cease to be associated with any other series or terminate the continued membership of a member in the limited liability company.

10. Subject to section 490A.1301, except to the extent otherwise provided in the operating agreement, a series may be terminated and its affairs wound up without causing the dissolution of the limited liability company. The termination of a series established pursuant to subsection 1 shall not affect the limitation on liabilities of such series provided by subsection 2. A series is terminated and its affairs shall be wound up upon the dissolution of the limited liability company under section 490A.1301 or otherwise upon the first to occur of the following:

- a. At the time specified in the operating agreement.
- b. Upon the happening of events specified in the operating agreement.
- c. Unless otherwise provided in the operating agreement, upon the written consent of all members associated with such series.
- d. The termination of such series under subsection 10.

11. Notwithstanding section 490A.1303, unless otherwise provided in the operating agreement, any of the following persons may wind up the affairs of the series:

- a. A manager associated with a series who has not wrongfully terminated the series.
- b. If there is no manager of a series, the members associated with the series or a person approved by the members associated with the series.
- c. If there is more than one class or group of members associated with the series, then by each class or group of members associated with the series, in either case, by members who own more than fifty percent of the then-current percentage or other interest in the profits of the series owned by all of the members associated with the series or by the members of each class or group associated with the series.

However, if the series has been established pursuant to subsection 1, the district court of the county in which the limited liability company has its principal place of business, upon cause shown, may wind up the affairs of the series upon application of any member associated with the series or the member's legal representative or assignee, and in connection with such winding up, may appoint a liquidating trustee. The persons winding up the affairs of a series, in the name of the limited liability company and for and on behalf of the limited liability company and such series, may take all actions with respect to the series as are permitted under section 490A.1303. The persons winding up the affairs of a series shall provide for the claims and obligations of the series as provided in section 490A.1304 and distribute the assets of the series as provided in section 490A.1304. Actions taken pursuant to this subsection shall not affect the liability of members and shall not impose liability on a liquidating trustee.

12. On application by or for a member or manager associated with a series established pursuant to subsection 1, the district court in the county in which the limited liability company has its principal place of business may enter an order for dissolution of such series if it is not reasonably practicable to carry on the business of the series in conformity with the operating agreement.

13. A foreign limited liability company that is registering to do business in this state under this chapter which is governed by an operating agreement that establishes or provides for the establishment of designated series of members, managers, or membership interests having separate rights, powers, or duties with respect to specified property or obligations of the foreign limited liability company, or profits and losses associated with the specified property or obligations, shall indicate that fact on the application for registration as a foreign limited liability company. In addition, the foreign limited liability company shall state on the application whether the debts, liabilities, and obligations incurred, contracted for, or otherwise existing with respect to a particular series, if any, are enforceable against the assets of such series only, and not against the assets of the foreign limited liability company generally.

490A.306 Admission of members.

1. In connection with the formation of a limited liability company, a person is admitted as a member of the limited liability company upon the later to occur of the following:

- a. The formation of the limited liability company.
- b. The time provided in, and upon compliance with, the operating agreement or, if the operating agreement does not so provide, when the person's admission is reflected in the records of the limited liability company.

2. After the formation of a limited liability company, a person is admitted as a member of the limited liability company as follows:

- a. In the case of a person who is not an assignee of a membership interest, including a person acquiring a membership interest directly from the limited liability company and a person to be admitted as a member of the limited liability company without acquiring a membership interest in the limited liability company, at the time provided in and upon compliance with the operating agreement or, if the operating agreement does not so provide, upon the consent of all members and the person's admission being reflected in the records of the limited liability company.

b. In the case of an assignee of a membership interest, as provided in section 490A.903 and at the time provided in and upon compliance with the operating agreement, or if the operating agreement does not so provide, when any such person's permitted admission is reflected in the records of the limited liability company.

c. Unless otherwise provided in an agreement of merger, in the case of a person acquiring a membership interest in a surviving or resulting limited liability company pursuant to a merger approved pursuant to section 490A.1203, at the time provided in and upon compliance with the operating agreement of the surviving or resulting limited liability company.

3. A person may be admitted to a limited liability company as a member of the limited liability company and may receive a membership interest in the limited liability company without making a contribution or being obligated to make a contribution to the limited liability company. Unless otherwise provided in an operating agreement, a person may be admitted to a limited liability company as a member of the limited liability company without acquiring a membership interest in the limited liability company.

490A.307 Classes and voting.

1. An operating agreement may provide for classes or groups of members and the relative rights, powers, and duties of such members, and may provide for the future creation of additional classes or groups of members having such relative rights, powers, and duties as may from time to time be established, including rights, powers, and duties senior to existing classes and groups of members. An operating agreement may provide for taking action, including the amendment of the operating agreement, without the vote or approval of any member or class or group of members, including an action to create a class or group of membership interests that was not previously outstanding. An operating agreement may provide that any member or class or group of members has no voting rights.

2. An operating agreement may grant to all or certain identified members or a specified class or group of the members the right to vote separately or with all or any class or group of members or managers on any matter. Voting by members may be on a per capita, number, financial interest, class, group, or any other basis.

3. An operating agreement which grants a right to vote may set forth provisions relating to notice of the time, place, or purpose of any meeting at which any matter is to be voted on by any members, waiver of any notice, action by consent without meeting, the establishment of a record date, quorum requirements, voting in person or by proxy, or any other matter with respect to the exercise of any such right to vote.

97 Acts, ch 188, §59

SUBCHAPTER IV

NAMES

490A.401 Name.

1. A limited liability company name must contain the words "Limited Company" or "Limited Liability Company" or the abbreviation "L.C." or "L.L.C." or words or abbreviations of like import in another language.

2. A limited liability company name shall not contain any of the following:

a. The words "Corporation", "Incorporated", "Limited Partnership" or the abbreviations "Corp.", "Inc." or "L.P." or words or abbreviations of like import in another language.

b. Any word or phrase the use of which is prohibited by law for such a limited liability company.

3. Except as authorized by subsections 4 and 5, a limited liability company name must be distinguishable upon the records of the secretary of state from all of the following:

a. The name of a limited liability company, limited partnership, or corporation organized under the law of this state or registered as a foreign limited liability company, foreign limited partnership, or foreign corporation in this state.

b. A name reserved in the manner provided under the law of this state.

c. The fictitious name adopted by a foreign corporation, foreign limited partnership, or foreign limited liability company authorized to transact business in this state, because its real name is unavailable.

d. The corporate name of a nonprofit corporation incorporated or authorized to transact business in this state.

4. A limited liability company may apply to the secretary of state for authorization to use a name that is not distinguishable upon the secretary's records from one or more of the names described in subsection 3. The secretary of state shall authorize use of the name applied for if one of the following conditions applies:

a. The other entity consents to the use in writing and submits an undertaking in form satisfactory to the secretary of state to change its name to a name that is distinguishable upon the records of the secretary of state from the name of the applying limited liability company.

b. The applicant delivers to the secretary of state a certified copy of the final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction establishing the applicant's right to use the name applied for in this state.

5. A limited liability company may use the name, including the fictitious name, of another entity that is used in this state if the other entity is formed under the law of this state or is authorized to transact business in this state and the proposed user limited liability company meets one of the following conditions:

- a. Has merged with the other entity.
- b. Has been formed by reorganization of the other entity.
- c. Has acquired all or substantially all of the assets, including the name, of the other entity.

6. This chapter does not control the use of fictitious names; however, if a limited liability company uses a fictitious name in this state it shall deliver to the secretary of state for filing a certified copy of the resolution of the limited liability company adopting the fictitious name.

490A.402 Reserved name.

1. A person may reserve the exclusive use of a limited liability company name, including a fictitious name for a foreign limited liability company whose limited liability company name is not available, by delivering an application to the secretary of state for filing. The application must set forth the name and address of the applicant and the name proposed to be reserved. If the secretary of state finds that the limited liability company name applied for is available, the secretary of state shall reserve the name for the applicant's exclusive use for a nonrenewable one hundred twenty-day period.

2. The owner of a reserved limited liability company name may transfer the reservation to another person by delivering to the secretary of state a signed notice of the transfer that states the name and address of the transferee.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §28

SUBCHAPTER V

REGISTERED OFFICE AND AGENT

490A.501 Registered office and registered agent.

Each limited liability company must continuously maintain in this state each of the following:

- 1. A registered office that may be the same as any of its places of business.
- 2. A registered agent who may be any of the following:
 - a. An individual who is a resident of this state and whose business office is identical with the registered office.

b. A domestic corporation, domestic limited liability company, or not-for-profit domestic corporation whose business office is identical with the registered office.

c. A foreign corporation, foreign limited liability company, or not-for-profit foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state whose business office is identical with the registered office.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §29

490A.502 Change of registered office or registered agent.

1. Each limited liability company may change its registered office or registered agent by delivering to the secretary of state for filing a statement of change that sets forth the following:

- a. The name of the limited liability company or foreign limited liability company.
- b. If the current registered office is to be changed, the street address of the new registered office.

c. If the current registered agent is to be changed, the name of the new registered agent and the new agent's written consent either on the statement or attached to it, to the appointment.

d. That after the change or changes are made, the street address of its registered office and the business office of its registered agent will be identical.

2. A statement of change shall forthwith be filed in the office of the secretary of state by a limited liability company whenever its registered agent dies, resigns, or ceases to satisfy the requirements of section 490A.501.

4. The change of address of a registered office or the change of registered agent becomes effective upon the filing of such statement by the secretary of state.

490A.503 Resignation of registered agent — discontinuance of registered office — statement.

1. A registered agent may resign the agent's agency appointment by signing and delivering to the secretary of state for filing an original statement of resignation. The statement may include a statement that the registered office is also discontinued. The registered agent shall send a copy of the statement of resignation to the registered office, if not discontinued, and to the limited liability company at its principal office. The agent shall certify to the secretary of state that the copy has been sent to the limited liability company, including the date the copy was sent.

2. The agency appointment is terminated, and the registered office discontinued if so provided, on the date on which the statement is filed by the secretary of state.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §31; 97 Acts, ch 107, §9

490A.504 Service on limited liability company.

1. A domestic or foreign limited liability company's registered agent is the limited liability company's agent for service of process, notice, or demand required or permitted by law to be served on the limited liability company.

2. If a limited liability company has no registered agent, or the agent cannot with reasonable diligence be served, the limited liability company may be served by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, addressed to the limited liability company at its principal office. Service is perfected under this subsection at the earliest of:

a. The date the limited liability company receives the mail.

b. The date shown on the return receipt, if signed on behalf of the limited liability company.

c. Five days after its deposit in the United States mail, as evidenced by the postmark, if mailed postpaid and correctly addressed.

3. This section does not prescribe the only means, or necessarily the required means, of serving a domestic or foreign limited liability company.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §32

SUBCHAPTER VI

RELATIONSHIP OF A LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANY AND ITS MEMBERS TO THIRD PERSONS

490A.601 Liability to third parties.

Except as otherwise provided by this chapter or as expressly provided in the articles of organization, no member or manager of a limited liability company is personally liable for the acts or debts of the limited liability company.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §33

490A.602 Parties to actions.

A member of a limited liability company is not a proper party to a proceeding by or against a limited liability company, except where either of the following applies:

1. The object is to enforce a member's right against or liability to the limited liability company.

2. As provided in subchapter X.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §34

490A.603 Liability of members.

1. Except as otherwise provided in this chapter or by written agreement of a member, a member or manager of a limited liability company is not personally liable solely by reason of being a member or manager of the limited liability company under any judgment, or in any other manner, for any debt, obligation, or liability of the limited liability company, whether that liability or obligation arises in contract, tort, or otherwise.

2. A member of a limited liability company is personally liable under a judgment or for any debt, obligation, or liability of the limited liability company, whether that liability or obligation arises in contract, tort, or otherwise, under the same or similar circumstances and to the same extent as a shareholder of a corporation may be personally liable for any debt, obligation, or liability of the corporation, except that the failure to hold meetings of members or managers or the failure to observe formalities pertaining to the calling or conduct of meetings shall not be considered a factor tending to establish that the members have personal liability for any debt, obligation, or liability of the limited liability company.

3. Nothing in this section shall be construed to affect the liability of a member of a limited liability company to third parties for the member's participation in tortious conduct.

97 Acts, ch 188, §60

SUBCHAPTER VII

RELATIONSHIP OF MEMBERS TO EACH OTHER

490A.701 Voting rights of members.

1. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement, the members of a limited liability company shall vote in proportion to their capital contributions to the limited liability company, as adjusted from time to time to reflect any additional contributions or withdrawals.

2. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement, a majority vote shall be required to approve the following matters:

a. The dissolution and winding up of the limited liability company.

b. The sale, exchange, lease, mortgage, pledge, or other transfer of all or substantially all of the assets of the limited liability company other than in the ordinary course of business.

c. Merger of the limited liability company with another entity.

3. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement, a unanimous vote shall be required to approve an amendment to the articles of organization or operating agreement.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §35; 93 Acts, ch 39, §23, 24

490A.702 Management of limited liability company.

1. Unless the articles of organization or an operating agreement provides for management of a limited liability company by a manager or managers, management of a limited liability company shall be vested in its members.

2. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization and except as provided in subsection 3, every member is an agent of the limited liability company for the purpose of its business or affairs. The act of any member, including, but not limited to, the execution in the name of the limited liability company of any instrument, for apparently carrying on in the ordinary course the business or affairs of the limited liability company shall bind the limited liability company, unless the member so acting has, in fact, no authority to act for the limited liability company in the particular matter, and the person with whom the member is dealing has knowledge of the fact that the member has no such authority.

3. If the articles of organization provide that management of the limited liability company is vested in a manager or managers the following apply:

a. A member, acting solely in the capacity as a member, is not an agent of the limited liability company.

b. Every manager is an agent of the limited liability company for the purpose of its business or affairs, unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement. The act of any manager with agency authority, including, but not limited to, the execution in the name of the limited liability company of any instrument, for apparently carrying on in the ordinary course the business or affairs of the limited liability company shall bind the limited liability company, unless the manager so acting has, in fact, no authority to act for the limited liability company in the particular matter, and the person with whom the manager is dealing has knowledge of the fact that the manager has no such authority.

4. Except as provided in subsection 5, the validity of an act of a limited liability company is not challengeable on the ground that the limited liability company lacks or lacked the power or authority to act.

5. A limited liability company's power to act may be challenged in the following proceedings:

a. In an action by a member against the limited liability company to enjoin an unauthorized act.

b. In an action by the limited liability company against an incumbent or former manager, employee, or agent of the limited liability company, either directly, derivatively, or through a receiver, trustee, or other legal representative.

c. By the attorney general under section 490A.1409.

6. In a member's proceeding under subsection 5, paragraph "a", to enjoin an unauthorized act, the court may enjoin or set aside the act if equitable and if all affected persons are parties to the proceeding. The court may award damages, other than anticipated profits, for loss suffered by the limited liability company or another party as a result of the unauthorized act being enjoined.

7. An act of a manager or member in contravention of a restriction on authority shall not bind the limited liability company to persons having knowledge of the restriction.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §36; 93 Acts, ch 39, §25; 95 Acts, ch 138, §3, 4; 97 Acts, ch 188, §61, 62; 2000 Acts, ch 1041, §1

Subsection 8 stricken

490A.703 Operating agreement.

1. The members of a limited liability company may enter into an operating agreement to establish or regulate the affairs of the limited liability company, the conduct of its business and the relations of its members. An operating agreement may contain any provisions regarding the affairs of a limited liability company and the conduct of its business to the extent that such provisions are not inconsistent with law or the articles of organization.

2. An operating agreement must initially be agreed to by all of the members. Unless the articles of organization specifically permit otherwise, an operating agreement shall be in writing.

3. a. A written operating agreement or other writing may provide for a person to be admitted as a member of a limited liability company, or to become an assignee of a limited liability company membership interest or other rights or powers of a member, to the extent that either of the following occurs:

(1) If the person, or a representative authorized by the person orally, in writing, or by other action such as payment for a limited liability company interest, executes the operating agreement or any other writing evidencing the intent of such person to become a member or assignee.

(2) Without execution of the operating agreement or similar writing, if the person or such authorized representative of the person complies with the conditions for becoming a member or assignee as set forth in the operating agreement or any other writing and requests orally, in writing, or by other action such as payment for a limited liability company interest, that the records of the limited liability company reflect such admission or assignment.

b. A written operating agreement or another written agreement or writing is not unenforceable by reason of its not having been signed by a person being admitted as a member or becoming an assignee, or the member's or assignee's representative, as provided in paragraph "a".

4. A court may enforce an operating agreement by injunction or by other relief that the court determines to be fair and appropriate in the circumstances. As an alternative to injunctive or other equitable relief, when the provisions of section 490A.1302 are applicable, the court may order dissolution of the limited liability company.

490A.704 Withdrawal of member.

A member may withdraw from a limited liability company at the time or upon the happening of events specified in writing in the articles of organization or an operating agreement. If the articles of organization or an operating agreement does not specify in writing the time or the events upon the happening of which a member may withdraw, a member may withdraw upon not less than six months' prior written notice to each member at the member's address on the books of the limited liability company. The articles of organization or an operating agreement may prohibit withdrawal by a member.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §38; 93 Acts, ch 39, §26

490A.704A Resignation or withdrawal of member.

1. a. This section applies to a limited liability company whose original articles of organization are filed with the secretary of state on or after July 1, 1997.

b. This section applies to a limited liability company whose original articles of organization are filed with the secretary of state and effective on or prior to June 30, 1997, if such company's operating agreement provides that it is subject to this section.

c. If no provision is made in the operating agreement, a limited liability company whose original articles of organization were filed with the secretary of state and effective on or prior to June 30, 1997, is subject to section 490A.704.

2. A member may resign or withdraw from a limited liability company only at the time or upon the happening of an event specified in an operating agreement and pursuant to the operating agreement.

nization or operating agreement that is adopted over the member's written dissent adversely affects the rights or preferences of the dissenting member's membership interest in any of the ways described in paragraphs "a" through "e". A resignation or withdrawal in the event of such dissent and adverse effect is deemed to have occurred as of the effective date of the amendment, if the member gives notice to the limited liability company not more than sixty days after the date of the amendment. In valuing the member's distribution pursuant to this subsection, any depreciation in anticipation of the amendment shall be excluded. An amendment that does any of the following is subject to this subsection:

a. Alters or abolishes a member's right to receive a distribution.

b. Alters or abolishes a member's right to voluntarily withdraw or resign.

c. Alters or abolishes a member's right to vote on any matter, except as the rights may be altered or abolished through the acceptance of contributions or the making of contribution agreements.

d. Alters or abolishes a member's preemptive right to make contributions.

e. Establishes or changes the conditions for or consequences of expulsion.

4. A member withdrawing under this section is not liable for damages for the breach of any agreement not to withdraw.

5. An operating agreement may provide that a membership interest may be assigned prior to the dissolution and winding up of the limited liability company.

97 Acts, ch 188, §64

490A.705 Management of a limited liability company by a manager or managers.

1. The articles of organization or an operating agreement of a limited liability company may apportion responsibility for managing a limited liability company among one or more managers who may be, but need not be, members.

2. The articles of organization or an operating agreement may prescribe qualifications for managers.

3. The number of managers shall be fixed by or in the manner provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement. The number of managers may be increased or decreased by amendment to, or in the manner provided in, the articles of organization or an operating agreement.

4. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement, managers shall be elected by the majority vote of the members.

5. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement, any vacancy occurring in the office of manager shall be filled by a majority vote of the members.

6. All managers or any lesser number may be removed in the manner provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement. If the articles of organization or an operating agreement does not provide for the removal of managers, then all managers or any lesser number may be removed with or without cause by a majority vote of the members.

7. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement, if the limited liability company has more than one manager, all decisions of the managers shall be by majority vote of the managers.

8. Unless the articles of organization or an operating agreement require a different number, a quorum for a meeting of managers consists of a majority of the managers.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §39

490A.705A Classes of managers and voting.

1. An operating agreement may provide for classes or groups of managers having such relative rights, powers, and duties as the operating agreement may provide, and may make provision for the future creation of additional classes or groups of managers having such relative rights, powers, and duties as may from time to time be established, including rights, powers, and duties senior to existing classes and groups of managers. An operating agreement may provide for taking action, including the amendment of the operating agreement, without the vote or approval of any manager or class or group of managers, including an action to create a class or group of membership interests that was not previously outstanding.

3. An operating agreement which grants a right to vote may set forth provisions relating to notice of the time, place, or purpose of any meeting at which any matter is to be voted on by any manager or class or group of managers, waiver of any such notice, action by consent without a meeting, the establishment of a record date, quorum requirements, voting in person or by proxy, or any other matter with respect to the exercise of any such right to vote.

490A.706 General standards of conduct for managers.

1. A manager shall discharge that manager's duties as a manager in good faith, with the care an ordinary prudent person in a like position would exercise under similar circumstances, and in a manner the manager believes to be in the best interests of the limited liability company.

2. In discharging the manager's duties, a manager is entitled to rely on information, opinions, reports, or statements, including financial statements and other financial data, if prepared or presented by any of the following:

a. One or more managers or employees of the limited liability company whom the manager reasonably believes to be reliable and competent in the matters presented.

b. Legal counsel, public accountants, or other persons as to matters the manager reasonably believes are within the person's professional or expert competence.

c. A committee of managers of which the manager is not a member if the manager reasonably believes the committee merits confidence.

3. A manager is not acting in good faith if the manager has knowledge concerning the matter in question that makes reliance otherwise permitted by subsection 2 unwarranted.

4. A manager is not liable for any action taken as a manager or any failure to take any action, if the manager performed the duties of the manager's office in compliance with this section, or if, and to the extent that, liability for any such action or failure to act has been limited by the articles of organization pursuant to section 490A.707.

490A.707 Limitation of liability of managers.

The articles of organization may contain a provision eliminating or limiting the personal liability of a manager to the limited liability company or to its members or of the members with whom the management of the limited liability company is vested pursuant to section 490A.702, to the limited liability company or to its members for monetary damages for breach of fiduciary duty as a manager or a member with whom management of the limited liability company is vested, if the provision does not eliminate or limit the liability of a manager or a member with whom management of the limited liability company is vested for any of the following:

1. Breach of the manager's or member's duty of loyalty to the limited liability company or to its members.

2. Acts or omissions not in good faith or which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law.

3. Transaction from which the manager or member derives an improper personal benefit or a wrongful distribution in violation of section 490A.807.

A provision shall not eliminate or limit the liability of a manager or member with whom management of the limited liability company is vested for an act or omission occurring prior to the date when the provision in the articles of organization becomes effective.

490A.708 Business transactions of managers with the limited liability company.

1. A conflict of interest transaction is a transaction with the limited liability company in which a manager of the limited liability company has a direct or indirect interest. A conflict of interest transaction is not voidable by the limited liability company solely because of the manager's interest in the transaction if any one of the following is true:

a. The material facts of the transaction and the manager's interest were disclosed or known to the managers or a committee of managers and the managers or a committee of managers authorized, approved, or ratified the transaction.

b. The material facts of the transaction and the manager's interest were disclosed or known to the members entitled to vote and they authorized, approved, or ratified the transaction.

c. The transaction was fair to the limited liability company.

2. For purposes of this section, a manager of the limited liability company has an indirect interest in a transaction if either:

a. Another entity in which the manager has a material financial interest or in which the manager is a general partner is a party to the transaction.

b. Another entity of which the manager is a director, officer, manager, or trustee is a party to the transaction and the transaction is or should be considered by the limited liability company.

subsection 2, paragraph "a", shall not be counted in a vote of members to determine whether to authorize, approve, or ratify a conflict of interest transaction under subsection 1, paragraph "b". The vote of those members, however, is counted in determining whether the transaction is approved under other sections of this chapter. Members, whether or not present, that are entitled to be counted in a vote on the transaction under this subsection constitute a quorum for the purpose of taking action under this section.

490A.709 Information and records.

1. Each limited liability company shall keep at its principal office the following:

a. A current list of the full name and last known business address of each member and manager.

b. A copy of the articles of organization and all articles of amendment thereto.

c. Copies of the limited liability company's federal, state, and local income tax returns and reports, if any, for the three most recent years.

d. Copies of any then-effective written operating agreement and of any financial statements of the limited liability company for the three most recent years.

e. Unless contained in a written operating agreement, a writing setting out:

(2) The times at which or events on the happening of which any additional contributions agreed to be made by each member are to be made.

(3) Any right of a member to receive, or of the limited liability company to make, distributions to a member which include a return of all or any part of the member's contribution.

(4) Any events upon the happening of which the limited liability company is to dissolve and its affairs be wound up.

2. Each member has the right for any purpose reasonably related to the member's interest as a member of the limited liability company, upon reasonable request and subject to reasonable standards as may be set forth in an operating agreement, to do any of the following:

a. Inspect and copy any of the limited liability company records required to be maintained by this section; and

b. Obtain from the manager or managers, or if the limited liability company has no manager or managers, from any member or other person with access to such information, from time to time upon reasonable demand any of the following:

(1) True and full information regarding the state of the business and financial condition of the limited liability company.

(2) Promptly after it becomes available, a copy of the limited liability company's federal, state, and local income tax returns for each year.

(3) Other information regarding the affairs of the limited liability company as is just and reasonable.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §43; 97 Acts, ch 188, §66

490A.710 Delegation of rights and powers to manage.

Unless otherwise provided in the operating agreement, a member or manager of a limited liability company may delegate to one or more other persons the member's or manager's rights and powers to manage and control the business and affairs of the limited liability company, including to agents and employees of a member or manager of the limited liability company, and to delegate by a management agreement or another agreement with other persons. Unless otherwise provided in the operating agreement, such delegation by a member or manager of a limited liability company shall not cause the member or manager to cease to be a member or manager of the limited liability company.

490A.711 Contractual appraisal rights.

An operating agreement or an agreement of merger may provide that contractual appraisal rights with respect to a membership interest or another interest in a limited liability company are available for any class or group of members or membership interests in connection with an amendment of an operating agreement, a merger in which the limited liability company is a constituent party to the merger, or the sale of all or substantially all of the limited liability company's assets. The district court of the county in which the limited liability company has its principal place of business has jurisdiction to hear and determine any matter relating to such appraisal rights.

97 Acts, ch 188, §68

490A.712 Cessation of membership.

A person ceases to be a member of a limited liability company upon the occurrence of any of the following events:

1. The person withdraws or resigns from the limited liability company.

2. The person is removed as a member pursuant to the operating agreement.

3. Unless otherwise provided in the operating agreement or with the consent of all other members, the person does any of the following:

a. Makes an assignment for the benefit of creditors.

b. Files a voluntary petition in bankruptcy.

c. Is adjudged bankrupt or insolvent or has entered against the person an order for relief in any bankruptcy or insolvency proceeding.

d. Files a petition or answer seeking for that person any reorganization, arrangement, composition, readjustment, liquidation, dissolution, or similar relief under any statute or rule.

e. Seeks, consents to, or acquiesces in the appointment of a trustee, receiver, or liquidator for the member or for all or any substantial part of the member's properties.

f. Files an answer or other pleading admitting or failing to contest the material allegations of a petition filed against the person in any proceeding described in this subsection.

4. Unless otherwise provided in the operating agreement, or with the consent of all other members, the continuation of any proceeding against the person seeking reorganization, arrangement, composition, readjustment, liquidation, dissolution, or similar relief under any statute or rule for one hundred twenty days after the commencement of such proceeding, or the appointment of a trustee, receiver, or liquidator for the member or for all or any substantial part of the member's properties without the member's agreement or acquiescence, which appointment is not vacated or stayed for one hundred twenty days or, if the appointment is stayed, for one hundred twenty days after the expiration of the stay during which period the appointment is not vacated.

5. Unless otherwise provided in the operating agreement or with the consent of all other members, in the case of a member who is an individual, the individual's death or adjudication by a court of competent jurisdiction as incompetent to manage the individual's person or property.

6. Unless otherwise provided in the operating agreement or with the consent of all other members, in the case of a member who is acting as a member by virtue of being a trustee of a trust, the termination of the trust.

7. Unless otherwise provided in the operating agreement or with the consent of all other members, in the case of a member that is a partnership or another limited liability company, the dissolution and commencement of winding up of the partnership or limited liability company.

8. Unless otherwise provided in the operating agreement or with the consent of all other members, in the case of a member that is a corporation, the dissolution of the corporation or the revocation of its articles of incorporation.

9. Unless otherwise provided in the operating agreement or with the consent of all other members, in the case of a member that is an estate, the distribution by the fiduciary of the estate's entire interest in the limited liability company.

97 Acts, ch 188, §69

SUBCHAPTER VIII

FINANCE

490A.801 Contributions — penalties.

1. The contributions of a member to a limited liability company may be in cash, property, or services rendered, or a promissory note or other binding obligation to contribute cash or property or to perform services.

3. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement, the obligation of a member to make a contribution or return money or other property paid or distributed in violation of this chapter may be compromised only by consent of all the members. Notwithstanding the compromise, a creditor of a limited liability company who extends credit or otherwise acts in reliance on the original obligation may enforce the original obligation.

4. An operating agreement may provide that the interest of any member who fails to make a contribution that the member is obligated to make is subject to specified penalties for, or specified consequences of, such failure. The penalty or consequence may take the form of reducing or eliminating the defaulting member's proportionate interest in a limited liability company, subordinating the member's membership interest to that of a nondefaulting member, a forced sale of the member's membership interest, forfeiture of the member's membership interest, the lending by other members of the amount necessary to meet the member's commitment, a fixing of the value of the member's membership interest by appraisal or by formula and redemption, or sale of the member's membership interest at such value or other penalty or consequence.

490A.802 Sharing of profits and losses.

The profits and losses of a limited liability company shall be allocated among the members, and among classes of members, in the manner provided in writing in the articles of organization or an operating agreement. If the articles of organization or an operating agreement do not so provide in writing, profits and losses shall be allocated on the basis of their respective capital contributions, as adjusted from time to time to reflect any additional contributions or withdrawals.

490A.803 Sharing of distributions.

Distributions of cash or other assets of a limited liability company shall be allocated among the members, and among classes of members, in the manner provided in writing in the articles of organization or an operating agreement. If the articles of organization or an operating agreement do not so provide in writing, distributions shall be made on the basis of their respective capital contributions, as adjusted from time to time to reflect any additional contributions or withdrawals.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §46

490A.804 Interim distributions.

Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, a member is entitled to receive distributions from a limited liability company before the member's withdrawal from the limited liability company and before the dissolution and winding up of the company to the extent and at the times or upon the happening of the events specified in the articles of organization or an operating agreement.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §47

490A.805 Distribution upon withdrawal.

Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, upon withdrawal, a withdrawing member is entitled to receive any distribution to which the member is entitled under the articles of organization or an operating agreement. If not otherwise provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement, the member is entitled to receive, within a reasonable time after withdrawal, the fair value of the member's membership interest as of the date of withdrawal, based on the member's right to share in distributions from the limited liability company.

490A.806 Distribution in kind.

Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement, a member, regardless of the nature of the member's contribution, has no right to demand and receive any distribution from a limited liability company in any form other than cash. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement, a member shall not be compelled to accept a distribution of any asset in kind from a limited liability company to the extent that the percentage of the asset distributed to the member exceeds the percentage of the member's membership interest in the limited liability company.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §49

490A.807 Restrictions on making distribution.

1. A distribution shall not be made if, after giving it effect, either of the following would result:

a. The limited liability company would not be able to pay its debts as they became due in the usual course of business.

b. The limited liability company's total assets would be less than the sum of its total liabilities plus, unless the articles of organization or an operating agreement permit otherwise, the amount that would be needed, if the limited liability company were to be dissolved at the time of the distribution, to satisfy the preferential rights upon dissolution of members whose preferential rights are superior to the rights of members receiving the distribution.

2. The limited liability company may base a determination that a distribution is not prohibited under subsection 1 of this section on either of the following:

a. Financial statements prepared on the basis of accounting practices and principles that are reasonable in the circumstances.

b. A fair valuation or other method that is reasonable in the circumstances.

3. The effect of a distribution under subsection 1 of this section is measured as of one of the following:

a. The date the distribution is authorized if the payment occurs within one hundred twenty days after the date of authorization.

b. The date the payment is made if it occurs more than one hundred twenty days after the date of authorization.

4. A limited liability company's indebtedness to a member incurred by reason of a distribution made in accordance with this section is at parity with the limited liability company's indebtedness to its general unsecured creditors, except to the extent subordinated by agreement.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §50

490A.808 Liability upon wrongful distribution.

If a member has received a distribution in violation of the articles of organization or an operating agreement or in violation of section 490A.807 of this chapter, then the member is liable to the limited liability company for a period of five years thereafter for the amount of the distribution wrongfully made.

490A.809 Right to distribution.

Subject to sections 490A.807 and 490A.1304, and unless otherwise provided in an operating agreement, at the time a member becomes entitled to receive a distribution, the member has the status of, and is entitled to all remedies available to, a creditor of the limited liability company with respect to the distribution. An operating agreement may provide for the establishment of a record date with respect to allocations and distributions by a limited liability company.

97 Acts, ch 188, §71

SUBCHAPTER IX

RIGHTS OF AND ASSIGNMENT BY MEMBERS

490A.901 Nature of interest in limited liability company.

A membership interest in a limited liability company is personal property.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §52

490A.902 Assignment of interest.

Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement, a membership interest in a limited liability company is assignable in whole or in part. An assignment of an interest in a limited liability company does not dissolve the limited liability company. Except as provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement, an assignment does not entitle the assignee to participate in the management and affairs of the limited liability company or to become or to exercise any rights of a member. Except as provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement, an assignment entitles the assignee to receive, to the extent assigned, only the distribution to which the assignor would be entitled. Except as provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement, a member ceases to be a member upon assignment of the member's entire membership interest.

Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement, the pledge of, or granting of a security interest, lien, or other encumbrance in or against, any or all of the membership interest of a member shall not cause the member to cease to be a member and shall not deprive the member of the power to exercise any rights or powers of a member.

Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement and except to the extent assumed by agreement, until an assignee of a membership interest becomes a member, the assignee shall have no liability as a member as a result of the assignment except for liability for a wrongful distribution to the assignee described in section 490A.808.

490A.903 Right of assignee to become member.

1. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement, an assignee of an interest in a limited liability company may become a member only if the other members unanimously consent. The consent of a member may be evidenced in any manner specified in the articles of organization or an operating agreement. In the absence of such specification consent shall be evidenced by a written instrument, dated and signed by the requisite number of members, or evidenced by a vote taken at a meeting of members called for that purpose.

2. An assignee who has become a member has, to the extent assigned, the rights and powers, and is subject to the restrictions and liabilities, of a member under the articles of organization, an operating agreement, and this chapter. An assignee who becomes a member is liable for any obligations of the member's assignor to make and return contributions as provided in subchapters VII and VIII. However, an assignee who becomes a member is not obligated for liabilities of the assignor unknown to the assignee at the time the assignee became a member, and which could not be ascertained from the articles of organization or an operating agreement.

3. If an assignee of an interest in a limited liability company becomes a member, the assignor is not released from liability to the limited liability company under sections 490A.801 and 490A.808. 92 Acts, ch 1151, §54

490A.904 Rights of creditor.

On application to a court of competent jurisdiction by any judgment creditor of a member, the court may charge the interest of the member in the limited liability company with payment of the unsatisfied amount of the judgment with interest. To the extent of the amounts so charged, the judgment creditor has only the rights of an assignee of the interest in the limited liability company. This chapter does not deprive any member of the benefit of any exemption laws applicable to the member's interest in the limited liability company. 92 Acts, ch 1151, §55

490A.905 Powers of estate of a deceased or incompetent member.

If a member who is an individual dies or a court of competent jurisdiction adjudges the member to be incompetent, the member's executor, administrator, guardian, conservator, or other legal representative may exercise all of the member's rights for the purpose of settling the member's estate or administering the member's property, including any power under the articles of organization or an operating agreement of an assignee to become a member. If a member is a corporation, trust, or other entity and is dissolved or terminated, the powers of that member may be exercised by its legal representative or successor. 92 Acts, ch 1151, §56

SUBCHAPTER X

DERIVATIVE ACTIONS

490A.1001 Right of member to bring derivative action.

A member may bring an action in the right of the limited liability company to recover a judgment in its favor if all of the following conditions are met:

1. Either management of the limited liability company is vested in a manager or managers who have the sole authority to cause the limited liability company to sue in its own right or management of the limited liability company is reserved to the members but the plaintiff does not have the authority to cause the limited liability company to sue in its own right under the provisions of the articles of organization or an operating agreement.

2. The plaintiff has made demand on those managers or those members with such authority requesting that such managers or such members cause the limited liability company to sue in its own right.

3. The members or managers with such authority have wrongfully refused to bring the action or, after adequate time to consider the demand, have failed to respond to the demand.

4. The plaintiff is a member of the limited liability company at the time of bringing the action and was a member of the limited liability company at the time of the transaction of which the plaintiff complains, or the plaintiff's status as a member of the limited liability company thereafter devolved upon the plaintiff pursuant to the terms of the articles of organization or an operating agreement from a person who was a member at such time.

5. The plaintiff fairly and adequately represents the interests of the members in enforcing the right of the limited liability company. 92 Acts, ch 1151, §57

SUBCHAPTER XI

AMENDMENT OF ARTICLES OF ORGANIZATION

490A.1101 Amendment of articles of organization.

1. A limited liability company may amend its articles of organization at any time to add or change a provision that is required or permitted in the articles of organization or to delete a provision not required in the articles of organization by delivering articles of amendment to the secretary of state for filing. Whether a provision is required or permitted for the articles of organization is determined as of the effective date of the amendment.

2. To amend its articles of organization, a limited liability company shall deliver to the secretary of state for filing articles of amendment setting forth all of the following:

- a. The name of the limited liability company.
- b. The text of each amendment adopted.
- c. The date of each amendment's adoption.
- d. A statement that the amendment was adopted by a vote of the members in accordance with this chapter.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §58

490A.1102 Restated articles of organization.

1. A limited liability company may restate its articles of organization at any time.

2. The restatement may include one or more amendments to the articles. The restatement must be adopted by a vote of the members as provided by this chapter.

3. A limited liability company restating its articles of organization shall deliver to the secretary of state for filing articles of restatement setting forth the name of the limited liability company and the text of the restated articles of organization together with a certificate setting forth the information required by section 490A.1101, subsection 2.

4. Duly adopted restated articles of organization supersede the original articles of organization and all amendments to them.

5. The secretary of state may certify restated articles of organization, as the articles of organization currently in effect, without including the certificate information required by subsection 3.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §59

490A.1103 Amendment pursuant to reorganization.

1. A limited liability company's articles of organization may be amended without action by the members to carry out a plan of reorganization ordered or decreed by a court of competent jurisdiction under federal statute if the articles of organization after amendment contain only provisions required or permitted by section 490A.303.

2. The individual or individuals designated by the court shall deliver to the secretary of state for filing articles of amendment setting forth all of the following:

- a. The name of the limited liability company.
- b. The text of each amendment approved by the court.
- c. The date of the court's order or decree approving the articles of amendment.
- d. The title of the reorganization proceeding in which the order or decree was entered.
- e. A statement that the court had jurisdiction of the proceeding under federal statute.

3. This section does not apply after entry of a final decree in the reorganization proceeding even though the court retains jurisdiction of the proceeding for limited purposes unrelated to consummation of the reorganization plan.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §60

490A.1104 Effect of amendment.

An amendment to articles of organization does not affect a cause of action existing against or in favor of the limited liability company, a proceeding to which the limited liability company is a party, or the existing rights of persons other than members of the limited liability company. An amendment changing a limited liability company's name does not abate a proceeding brought by or against the limited liability company in its former name.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §61

SUBCHAPTER XII

MERGER

490A.1201 Merger.

Any one or more limited liability companies may merge with or into any one or more limited liability companies, limited partnerships, or corporations, provided that no member of a limited liability company that is a party to the merger will, as a result of the merger, become personally liable for the liabilities or obligations of any other person or entity unless that member approves the plan of merger or otherwise consents to becoming personally liable.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §62

490A.1202 Plan of merger.

1. Each constituent entity must enter into a written plan of merger, which must be approved in accordance with section 490A.1203.

2. The plan of merger must set forth all of the following:

a. The name of each constituent entity in the merger and the name of the surviving entity into which each other constituent entity proposes to merge.

b. The terms and conditions of the proposed merger.

c. The manner and basis of converting the interests in each constituent entity in the merger into interests, shares, or other securities or obligations of the surviving entity, or of any other entity, or, in whole or in part, into cash or other property.

d. Such amendments to the articles of organization of a limited liability company, articles or certificate of incorporation of a corporation, or certificate of limited partnership of a limited partnership, as the case may be, of the surviving entity as are desired to be effected by the merger, or that no such changes are desired.

e. Other provisions relating to the proposed merger as are deemed necessary or desirable.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §63

490A.1203 Action on plan.

1. A proposed plan of merger complying with the requirements of section 490A.1202 shall be approved in the manner provided by this section:

a. A limited liability company which is a party to a proposed merger shall have the plan of merger authorized and approved as required by section 490A.701.

b. A corporation which is a party to a proposed merger shall have the plan of merger authorized and approved in the manner and by the vote required by chapter 490.

c. A limited partnership which is a party to a proposed merger shall have the plan of merger authorized and approved in the manner and by the vote required by its partnership agreement and in accordance with chapter 487.

2. After a merger is authorized, unless the plan of merger provides otherwise, and at any time before articles of merger as provided for in section 490A.1204 are filed, the plan of merger may be abandoned subject to any contractual rights, in accordance with the procedure set forth in the plan of merger or, if none is set forth, in one of the following ways:

a. By the majority consent of the members of each limited liability company that is a constituent entity, unless the articles of organization or an operating agreement of any such limited liability company provides otherwise.

b. In the manner determined by the board of directors of any corporation that is a constituent entity.

c. By the limited partners of any limited partnership that is a constituent entity by the vote, if any, required by its limited partnership agreement and in accordance with the law of this state.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §64; 93 Acts, ch 39, §28

490A.1204 Articles of merger.

1. After a plan of merger is approved as provided in section 490A.1203, the surviving entity shall deliver to the secretary of state for filing articles of merger duly executed by each constituent entity setting forth all of the following:

a. The name of each constituent entity.

b. The plan of merger.

c. The effective date of the merger if later than the date of filing of the articles of merger.

d. The name of the surviving entity.

e. A statement that the plan of merger was duly authorized and approved by each constituent entity in accordance with section 490A.1203.

2. A merger takes effect upon the later of the effective date of the filing of the articles of merger or the date set forth in the plan of merger.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §65

490A.1205 Effect of merger.

When a merger takes effect all of the following apply:

1. Every other constituent entity merges into the surviving entity and the separate existence of every constituent entity except the surviving entity ceases.

2. The title to all real estate and other property owned by each constituent entity is vested in the surviving entity without reversion or impairment.

3. The surviving entity has all liabilities of each constituent entity.

4. A proceeding pending against any constituent entity may be continued as if the merger did not occur or the surviving entity may be substituted in the proceeding for the constituent entity whose existence ceased.

5. The articles or limited partnership agreement of the surviving entity are amended to the extent provided in the plan of merger.

6. The shares or interests of each constituent entity that are to be converted into shares, obligations, or other securities of the surviving or any other entity or into cash or other property are converted, and the former holders of the shares or interests are entitled only to the rights provided in the articles of merger except for dissenters' rights provided by law.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §66

490A.1206 Merger with foreign entity.

1. Any one or more limited liability companies of this state may merge with or into one or more foreign limited liability companies, foreign corporations, or foreign limited partnerships, or any one or more foreign limited liability companies, foreign corporations, or foreign limited partnerships may merge with or into any one or more limited liability companies of this state, if all of the following apply:

a. The merger is permitted by the law of the state or jurisdiction under whose law each foreign constituent entity is organized or formed and each foreign constituent entity complies with that law in effecting the merger.

b. The foreign constituent entity complies with section 490A.1204 of this division if it is the surviving entity.

c. Each domestic constituent entity complies with the applicable provisions of sections 490A.1202 and 490A.1203 and, if it is the surviving entity, with section 490A.1204.

2. Upon a merger involving one or more domestic limited liability companies taking effect, if the surviving entity is to be governed by the law of any state other than this state or of any foreign country, then the surviving entity shall agree to both of the following:

a. That it may be served with process in this state in any proceeding for enforcement of any obligation of any constituent entity, who was a party to the merger, that was organized under the law of this state, as well as for enforcement of any obligation of the surviving entity arising from the merger.

b. To irrevocably appoint the secretary of state as its agent for service of process in any such proceeding, and the surviving entity shall specify the address to which a copy of the process shall be mailed to it by the secretary of state.

3. The effect of the merger shall be as provided in section 490A.1205, if the surviving entity is to be governed by the law of this state. If the surviving entity is to be governed by the law of any jurisdiction other than this state, the effect of the merger shall be the same as provided in subsection 2 of this section, except insofar as the law of the other jurisdiction provides otherwise.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §67; 93 Acts, ch 39, §29

SUBCHAPTER XIII

DISSOLUTION

490A.1301 Dissolution — general provisions.

A limited liability company organized under this chapter is dissolved and its affairs shall be wound up upon the happening of the first to occur of the following events:

1. At the time or on the happening of an event specified in this chapter or in the articles of organization or an operating agreement to cause dissolution.

2. Upon the unanimous written consent of the members.

3. The entry of a decree of judicial dissolution under section 490A.1302.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §68; 93 Acts, ch 39, §30, 31; 95 Acts, ch 138, §5; 96 Acts, ch 1170, §22; 97 Acts, ch 188, §73

490A.1302 Judicial dissolution.

On application by or for a member, the district court of the county in which the registered office of the limited liability company is located may decree dissolution of a limited liability company if it is not reasonably practicable to carry on the business in conformity with the articles of organization and any operating agreement.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §69

490A.1303 Winding up.

Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement, members who have not wrongfully dissolved a limited liability company may wind up the limited liability company's affairs; but the district court of the county in which the registered office of the limited liability company is located, on cause shown, may wind up the limited liability company's affairs on application of any member, member's legal representative, or member's assignee.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §70

490A.1304 Distribution of assets upon dissolution.

Upon the winding up of a limited liability company, the assets of the limited liability company shall be distributed in the order as follows:

1. To creditors, including members who are creditors, to the extent permitted by law, in satisfaction of liabilities of the limited liability company other than for distributions to members under section 490A.803 or section 490A.805.

2. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement, to members and former members in satisfaction of liabilities for distributions under section 490A.803 or section 490A.805.

3. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement, to members first for the return of their capital contributions and second with respect to their interests in the limited liability company, in the proportions in which the members share in distributions.

490A.1305 Articles of dissolution.

1. Upon the completion of winding up of the limited liability company, articles of dissolution shall be delivered to the secretary of state for filing. The winding up of a limited liability company shall be completed when all debts, liabilities, and obligations of the limited liability company have been paid and discharged or reasonably adequate provision therefor has been made, and all of the remaining property and assets of the limited liability company have been distributed to the members. The articles of dissolution shall set forth all of the following:

a. The name of the limited liability company.

b. The date of filing of the articles of organization and each amendment thereto.

c. The reason for filing the articles of dissolution.

d. The effective date of dissolution if it is not to be effective on the filing of the articles of dissolution.

e. Any other information the members or managers determine to include.

2. The limited liability company is dissolved upon the effective date of its articles of dissolution.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §72

490A.1306 Known claims against dissolved limited liability companies.

A dissolved limited liability company may dispose of the known claims against it in accordance with this section.

1. The dissolved limited liability company shall notify its known claimants in writing of the dissolution at any time after its effective date. The written notice must do all of the following:

- a. Describe information that must be included in a claim.
- b. Provide a mailing address where a claim may be sent.
- c. State the deadline, which may not be fewer than one hundred twenty days from the effective date of the written notice, by which the dissolved limited liability company must receive the claim.
- d. State that the claim will be barred if not received by the deadline.

2. A claim against the dissolved limited liability company is barred if either of the following occurs:

- a. A claimant who was given written notice under subsection 1 does not deliver the claim to the dissolved limited liability company by the deadline.
- b. A claimant whose claim was rejected by the dissolved limited liability company does not commence a proceeding to enforce the claim within ninety days from the effective date of the rejection notice.

3. For purposes of this section, “claim” does not include a contingent liability or a claim based on an event occurring after the effective date of dissolution.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §73

490A.1307 Unknown claims against dissolved limited liability company.

1. A dissolved limited liability company may also publish notice of its dissolution and request that persons with claims against the limited liability company present them in accordance with the notice.

2. The notice shall meet all of the following requirements:

a. Be published one time in a newspaper of general circulation in the county where the dissolved limited liability company’s principal office or, if none in this state, its registered office is or was last located.

b. Describe the information that must be included in a claim and provide a mailing address where the claim may be sent.

c. State that a claim against the limited liability company will be barred unless a proceeding to enforce the claim is commenced within five years after the publication of the notice.

3. If the dissolved limited liability company publishes a newspaper notice in accordance with subsection 2, the claim of each of the following claimants is barred unless the claimant commences a proceeding to enforce the claim against the dissolved corporation within five years after the publication date of the newspaper notice:

a. A claimant who did not receive written notice under section 490A.1306.

b. A claimant whose claim was timely sent to the dissolved limited liability company but not acted on.

c. A claimant whose claim is contingent or based on an event occurring after the effective date of dissolution.

4. A claim may be enforced under this section in either of the following ways:

a. Against the dissolved limited liability company, to the extent of its undistributed assets.

b. If the assets have been distributed in liquidation, against a member of the dissolved limited liability company to the extent of the member’s pro rata share of the claim or the limited liability company assets distributed to the member in liquidation, whichever is less, but a member’s total liability for all claims under this section shall not exceed the total amount of assets distributed to the member in liquidation.

SUBCHAPTER XIV

FOREIGN LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANIES

490A.1401 Law governing.

The law of the state or other jurisdiction under which a foreign limited liability company is formed governs its formation and internal affairs and the liability of its members and managers. A foreign limited liability company shall not be denied registration by reason of any difference between those laws and the laws of this state. A foreign limited liability company holding a valid registration in this state shall have no greater rights and privileges than a domestic limited liability company. The registration shall not be deemed to authorize the foreign limited liability company to exercise any of its powers or purposes that a domestic limited liability company is forbidden by law to exercise in this state.

490A.1402 Registration.

A foreign limited liability company may apply for a certificate of authority to transact business in this state by delivering an application to the secretary of state for filing. An application for registration as a foreign limited liability company shall set forth all of the following:

1. The name of the foreign limited liability company and, if different, the name under which it proposes to register and transact business in this state.

2. The state or other jurisdiction in which the foreign limited liability company was formed and the date of its formation.

3. The street address of the registered office of the foreign limited liability company in this state, the name of the registered agent at the office, and a statement that the registered office and registered agent comply with the requirements of section 490A.501.

4. The address of the office required to be maintained in the state or other jurisdiction of its formation by the law of that state or jurisdiction or, if not so required, of the principal office of the foreign limited liability company.

5. A copy of the articles of organization filed in the foreign limited liability company's state or other jurisdiction of formation authorizing it to do business in that state or other jurisdiction, duly authenticated by the proper officer of the state or other jurisdiction of its formation.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §76; 93 Acts, ch 39, §32

490A.1403 Service on foreign limited liability company.

1. The registered agent of a foreign limited liability company authorized to transact business in this state is the limited liability company's agent for service of process, notice, or demand required or permitted by law to be served on the foreign limited liability company.

2. A foreign limited liability company may be served by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, addressed to the foreign limited liability company at its principal office shown in its application for a certificate of authority if the foreign limited liability company meets any of the following conditions:

a. Has no registered agent or its registered agent cannot with reasonable diligence be served.

b. Has withdrawn from transacting business in this state under section 490A.1406.

c. Has had its certificate of authority revoked under section 490A.1410.

3. Service is perfected under subsection 2 at the earliest of:

a. The date the foreign limited liability company receives the mail.

b. The date shown on the return receipt, if signed on behalf of the foreign limited liability company.

c. Five days after its deposit in the United States mail, as evidenced by the postmark, if mailed postpaid and correctly addressed.

4. A foreign limited liability company may also be served in any other manner permitted by law.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §77

490A.1404 Name.

A certificate of registration shall not be issued to a foreign limited liability company unless the name of the limited liability company satisfies the requirements of section 490A.401. To obtain or maintain a certificate of registration the company shall comply with the following:

1. The foreign limited liability company shall add the words "Limited Company" or the abbreviation "L.C." to its name for use in this state.

2. If its real name is unavailable in this state, the foreign limited liability company shall use a fictitious name that is available, and which satisfies the requirements of section 490A.401, and shall inform the secretary of state of the fictitious name.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §78; 94 Acts, ch 1023, §59

490A.1405 Change and amendment.

If any statement in the application for registration of a foreign limited liability company was false when made or any arrangements or other facts described have changed, making the application inaccurate in any respect, the foreign limited liability company shall promptly deliver to the secretary of state for filing articles of correction correcting such statement as required by section 490A.123.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §79

490A.1406 Cancellation of certificate of authority.

1. A foreign limited liability company may cancel its certificate of authority by delivering to the secretary of state for filing a certificate of cancellation which shall set forth all of the following:

a. The name of the foreign limited liability company and the name of the state or other jurisdiction under whose jurisdiction it was formed.

b. That the foreign limited liability company is not transacting business in this state and that it surrenders its registration to transact business in this state.

c. That the foreign limited liability company revokes the authority of its registered agent to accept service on its behalf and appoints the secretary of state as its agent for service of process in any proceeding based on a cause of action arising during the time it was authorized to transact business in this state.

d. A mailing address to which the secretary of state may mail a copy of any process served on the secretary of state under paragraph "c" of this subsection.

e. A commitment to notify the secretary of state in the future of any change in the mailing address of the foreign limited liability company.

2. The certificate of registration shall be canceled upon the filing of the certificate of cancellation by the secretary of state.

490A.1407 Authority to transact business required.

1. A foreign limited liability company shall not transact business in this state until it obtains a certificate of authority from the secretary of state.

2. The following activities, among others, do not constitute transacting business within the meaning of subsection 1:

a. Maintaining, defending, or settling any proceeding.

b. Holding meetings of the members or managers or carrying on other activities concerning internal company affairs.

c. Maintaining bank accounts.

d. Maintaining offices or agencies for the transfer, exchange, and registration of the foreign limited liability company's own securities or maintaining trustees or depositories with respect to those securities.

e. Selling through independent contractors.

f. Soliciting or obtaining orders, whether by mail or through employees or agents or otherwise, if the orders require acceptance outside this state before they become contracts.

g. Creating or acquiring indebtedness, mortgages, and security interests in real or personal property.

h. Securing or collecting debts or enforcing mortgages and security interests in property securing the debts.

i. Owning, without more, real or personal property.

j. Conducting an isolated transaction that is completed within thirty days and that is not one in the course of repeated transactions of a like nature.

k. Transacting business in interstate commerce.

3. The list of activities in subsection 2 is not exhaustive.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §81; 93 Acts, ch 39, §34; 94 Acts, ch 1023, §61

490A.1408 Consequences of transacting business without authority.

1. A foreign limited liability company transacting business in this state without a certificate of authority shall not maintain a proceeding in any court in this state until it obtains a certificate of authority.

2. The successor to a foreign limited liability company that transacted business in this state without a certificate of authority and the assignee of a cause of action arising out of that business shall not maintain a proceeding based on that cause of action in any court in this state until the foreign limited liability company or its successor obtains a certificate of authority.

3. A court may stay a proceeding commenced by a foreign limited liability company, its successor, or assignee until it determines whether the foreign limited liability company or its successor or assignee requires a certificate of authority. If it so determines, the court may further stay the proceeding until the foreign limited liability company or its successor or assignee obtains the certificate.

4. A foreign limited liability company is liable for a civil penalty not to exceed a total of one thousand dollars if it transacts business in this state without a certificate of authority. The attorney general may collect penalties due under this subsection.

5. Notwithstanding subsections 1 and 2, the failure of a foreign limited liability company to obtain a certificate of authority does not impair the validity of its official acts or prevent it from defending any proceeding in this state.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §82

490A.1409 Actions by attorney general.

The attorney general may bring an action to restrain a foreign limited liability company from transacting business in this state in violation of this chapter.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §83

490A.1410 Revocation of certificate of authority.

1. The certificate of authority of a foreign limited liability company to transact business in this state may be revoked by the secretary of state upon the occurrence of any of the following:

a. The foreign limited liability company has failed to:

(1) Pay any fees or penalties prescribed by this chapter.

(2) Appoint and maintain a registered agent as required under section 490A.1402.

(3) Deliver for filing to the secretary of state a report upon any change in the name or address of the registered agent.

(4) Deliver to the secretary of state for filing articles of correction required under section 490A.1405.

b. A misrepresentation has been made of any material matter in any application, report, affidavit, or other documents submitted by the foreign limited liability company under this subchapter.

2. A certificate of registration of a foreign limited liability company shall not be revoked by the secretary of state, unless both of the following apply:

a. The secretary of state has given the foreign limited liability company not less than sixty days' notice thereof by mail addressed to its registered office in this state or, if the foreign limited liability company fails to appoint and maintain a registered agent in this state, addressed to the office required to be maintained pursuant to section 490A.1402.

b. During the sixty-day period, the foreign limited liability company has failed to pay such fees or penalties prescribed by this chapter, to file a report of change regarding the registered agent, to file any necessary articles of correction, or to correct any such misrepresentation.

3. Upon the expiration of sixty days after the mailing of the notice, the authority of the foreign limited liability company to transact business in this state shall cease.

SUBCHAPTER XV

PROFESSIONAL LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANIES

490A.1501 Definitions.

As used in this subchapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. “Employees” or “agents” does not include clerks, stenographers, secretaries, bookkeepers, technicians, or other persons who are not usually and ordinarily considered by custom and practice to be practicing a profession nor any other person who performs all that person’s duties for the professional limited liability company under the direct supervision and control of one or more managers, employees, or agents of the professional limited liability company who are duly licensed in this state to practice a profession which the limited liability company is authorized to practice in this state. This chapter does not require any such persons to be licensed to practice a profession if they are not required to be licensed under any other law of this state.

2. “Foreign professional limited liability company” means a limited liability company organized under laws other than the laws of this state for a purpose for which a professional limited liability company may be organized under this chapter.

3. “Licensed” includes registered, certified, admitted to practice, or otherwise legally authorized under the laws of this state.

4. “Profession” means the profession of certified public accountancy, architecture, chiropractic, dentistry, physical therapy, psychology, professional engineering, land surveying, landscape architecture, law, medicine and surgery, optometry, osteopathy, osteopathic medicine and surgery, accounting practitioner, podiatry, speech pathology, audiology, veterinary medicine, pharmacy, nursing, and marriage and family therapy, provided that the marriage and family therapist is licensed under chapters 147 and 154D.

5. “Professional limited liability company” means a limited liability company subject to this subchapter, except a foreign professional limited liability company.

6. “Regulating board” means any board, commission, court, or governmental authority which, under the laws of this state, is charged with the licensing, registration, certification, admission to practice, or other legal authorization of the practitioners of any profession.

7. “Voluntary transfer” includes a sale, voluntary assignment, gift, pledge, or encumbrance; a voluntary change of legal or equitable ownership or beneficial interest; or a voluntary change of persons having voting rights with respect to any membership interest, except as proxies; but does not include a transfer of an individual’s membership interest or other property to a guardian or conservator appointed for that individual or the individual’s property.

490A.1502 Purposes and powers.

A professional limited liability company shall be organized only for the purpose of engaging in the practice of one specific profession, or two or more specific professions which could lawfully be practiced in combination by a licensed individual or a partnership of licensed individuals, and for the additional purpose of doing all lawful things which may be incidental to or necessary or convenient in connection with the practice of the profession or professions. The articles of organization of a professional limited liability company shall state in substance that the purposes for which the professional limited liability company is organized are to engage in the general practice of a specified profession or professions, or one or more specified branches or divisions thereof, and to do all lawful things which may be incidental to or necessary or convenient in connection with the practice of the profession or professions.

490A.1503 Name.

The name of a professional limited liability company, the name of a foreign professional limited liability company or its name as modified for use in this state, and any fictitious name or trade name adopted by a professional limited liability company or foreign professional limited liability company shall contain the words “Professional Limited Company” or the abbreviation “P.L.C.,” and except for the addition of such words or abbreviation, shall be a name which could lawfully be used by a licensed individual or by a partnership of licensed individuals in the practice in this state of a profession which the professional limited liability company is authorized to practice. Each regulating board may by rule adopt additional requirements as to the corporate names and fictitious or trade names of professional limited liability companies and foreign professional limited liability companies which are authorized to practice a profession which is within the jurisdiction of the regulating board.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §87

490A.1504 Who may organize.

One or more individuals having capacity to contract and licensed to practice a profession in this state in which the professional limited liability company is to be authorized to practice, may organize a professional limited liability company.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §88; 99 Acts, ch 208, §37

490A.1505 Practice by professional limited liability company.

Notwithstanding any other statute or rule of law, a professional limited liability company may practice a profession, but may do so in this state only through members, managers, employees, and agents who are licensed to practice the same profession in this state. In its practice of a profession, no professional limited liability company shall do any act which could not lawfully be done by individuals licensed to practice the profession which the professional limited liability company is authorized to practice.

490A.1506 Professional regulation.

A professional limited liability company shall not be required to register with or to obtain any license, registration, certificate, or other legal authorization from a regulating board in order to practice a profession. Except as provided in this section, this subchapter does not restrict or limit in any manner the authority or duties of any regulating board with respect to individuals practicing a profession which is within the jurisdiction of the regulating board, even if the individual is a member, manager, employee, or agent of a professional limited liability company or foreign professional limited liability company and practices the individual's profession through such professional limited liability company.

490A.1507 Relationship and liability to persons served.

This subchapter does not modify any law applicable to the relationship between an individual practicing a profession and a person receiving professional services, including, but not limited to, any liability arising out of such practice and any law respecting privileged communications. This chapter does not modify or affect the ethical standards or standards of conduct of any profession, including, but not limited to, any standards prohibiting or limiting the practice of the profession by a limited liability company or prohibiting or limiting the practice of two or more professions in combination. All such standards shall apply to the members, managers, employees, and agents through whom a professional limited liability company practices any profession in this state, to the same extent that the standards apply to an individual practitioner.

490A.1508 Issuance of membership interests.

Membership interests of a professional limited liability company shall be issued only to individuals who are licensed to practice in any state a profession which the professional limited liability company is authorized to practice. Membership interests of a professional limited liability company shall not at any time be issued in, transferred into, or held in joint tenancy, tenancy in common, or any other form of joint ownership or co-ownership. The Iowa uniform securities Act shall not be applicable to nor govern any transaction relating to any membership interests of a professional limited liability company.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §92

490A.1509 Assignment of membership interests.

A member or other person shall not make a voluntary assignment of a membership interest in a professional limited liability company to any person, except to the professional limited liability company or to an individual who is licensed to practice in this state a profession which the limited liability company is authorized to practice. The articles of organization or operating agreement of the professional limited liability company may contain any additional provisions restricting the assignment of membership interests. Unless the articles of organization or an operating agreement otherwise provide, a voluntary assignment requires the unanimous consent of the members.

490A.1510 Convertible membership interests — rights and options.

A professional limited liability company shall not create or issue any interest convertible into a membership interest of the professional limited liability company. The provisions of this subchapter with respect to the issuance and transfer of membership interests apply to the creation, issuance, and transfer of any rights or options entitling the holder to purchase from a professional limited liability company any membership interests of the professional limited liability company. Rights or options shall not be transferable, whether voluntarily, involuntarily, by operation of law, or in any other manner. Upon the death of the holder, or when the holder ceases to be licensed to practice a profession in this state which the professional limited liability company is authorized to practice, the rights or options shall expire.

490A.1511 Voting trust — proxy.

A member of a professional limited liability company shall not create or enter into a voting trust or any other agreement conferring upon any other person the right to vote or otherwise represent any membership interests of a professional limited liability company, and no such voting trust or agreement is valid or effective. Any proxy of a member of a professional limited liability company shall be an individual licensed to practice a profession in this state which the professional limited liability company is authorized to practice. Any provision in any proxy instrument denying the right of the member to revoke the proxy at any time or for any period of time is not valid or effective. This section does not otherwise limit the right of a member to vote by proxy, but the articles of organization or operating agreement of the professional limited liability company may further limit or deny the right to vote by proxy.

490A.1512 Required purchase by professional limited liability company of its own membership interests.

1. Notwithstanding any other statute or rule of law, a professional limited liability company shall purchase its own membership interests as provided in this section; and the members of a professional limited liability company and their executors, administrators, legal representatives, and successors in interest, shall sell and transfer the membership interests held by them as provided in this section.

2. Upon the death of a member, the professional limited liability company shall immediately purchase all membership interests held by the deceased member.

3. In order to remain a member of a professional limited liability company, a member shall at all times be licensed to practice in this state a profession which the professional limited liability company is authorized to practice. When a member does not have or ceases to have this qualification, the professional limited liability company shall immediately purchase all membership interests held by that member.

4. When a person other than a member of record becomes entitled to have membership interests of a professional limited liability company transferred into that person's name or to exercise voting rights, except as a proxy, with respect to membership interests of the professional limited liability company, the professional limited liability company shall immediately purchase the membership interests. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, this section shall be applicable whether the event occurs as a result of appointment of a guardian or conservator for a member or the member's property, transfer of membership interests by operation of law, involuntary transfer of membership interests, judicial proceedings, execution, levy, bankruptcy proceedings, receivership proceedings, foreclosure or enforcement of a pledge or encumbrance, or any other situation or occurrence. However, this section does not apply to any voluntary transfer of membership interests as defined in this chapter.

5. Membership interests purchased by the professional limited liability company under this section shall be transferred to the professional limited liability company as of the close of business on the date of the death or other event which requires purchase. The member and the member's executors, administrators, legal representatives, or successors in interest, shall promptly do all things which may be necessary or convenient to cause transfer to be made as of the transfer date. However, the membership interests shall promptly be transferred on the books and records of the professional limited liability company as of the transfer date, notwithstanding any delay in transferring or surrendering the membership interests or certificates representing the membership interests, and the transfer shall be valid and effective for all purposes as of the close of business on the transfer date. The purchase price for such membership interests shall be paid as provided in this chapter, but the transfer of membership interests to the professional limited liability company as provided in this section shall not be delayed or affected by any delay or default in making payment.

6. Notwithstanding subsections 1 through 5, purchase by the professional limited liability company is not required upon the occurrence of any event other than death of a member, if the professional limited liability company is dissolved within sixty days after the occurrence of the event. The articles of organization or operating agreement of the professional limited liability company may provide that purchase is not required upon the death of a member, if the professional limited liability company is dissolved within sixty days after the date of the member's death.

7. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of organization or an operating agreement of the professional limited liability company or in an agreement among all members of the professional limited liability company all of the following apply:

a. The purchase price for membership interests shall be their book value as of the end of the month immediately preceding the death or other event which requires purchase. Book value shall be determined from the books and records of the professional limited liability company in accordance with the regular method of accounting used by the professional limited liability company, uniformly and consistently applied. Adjustments to book value shall be made, if necessary, to take into account work in process and accounts receivable. A final determination of book value made in good faith by an independent certified public accountant or firm of certified public accountants employed by the professional limited liability company for the purpose shall be conclusive on all persons.

b. The purchase price shall be paid in cash as follows:

(1) Upon the death of a member, thirty percent of the purchase price shall be paid within ninety days after death, and the balance shall be paid in three equal annual installments on the first three anniversaries of the death.

(2) Upon the happening of any other event referred to in this section, one-tenth of the purchase price shall be paid within ninety days after the date of the event, and the balance shall be paid in three equal annual installments on the first three anniversaries of the date of the event.

c. Interest from the date of death or other event shall be payable annually on principal payment dates, at the rate of six percent per annum on the unpaid balance of the purchase price.

d. All persons who are members of the professional limited liability company on the date of death or other event, and their executors, administrators, and legal representatives, shall, to the extent the professional limited liability company fails to meet its obligations under this section, be jointly liable for the payment of the purchase price and interest in proportion to their percentage of ownership of the professional limited liability company's membership interests, disregarding membership interests of the deceased or withdrawing member.

e. The part of the purchase price remaining unpaid after the initial payment shall be evidenced by a negotiable promissory note, which shall be executed by the professional limited liability company and all members liable for payment. Any person liable on the note shall have the right to prepay the note in full or in part at any time.

f. If the person making any payment is not reasonably able to determine which of two or more persons is entitled to receive a payment, or if the payment is payable to a person who is unknown, or who is under disability and there is no person legally competent to receive the payment, or who cannot be found after the exercise of reasonable diligence by the person making the payment, it shall be deposited with the treasurer of state and shall be subject to the provisions of section 490.1440 with respect to funds deposited with the treasurer of state upon the voluntary or involuntary dissolution of a business corporation.

8. Notwithstanding the other provisions of this section, no part of the purchase price shall be required to be paid until the certificates, if any, representing the membership interests have been surrendered to the professional limited liability company.

9. Notwithstanding the other provisions of this section, payment of any part of the purchase price for membership interests of a deceased member shall not be required until the executor or administrator of the deceased member provides any indemnity, release, or other document from any taxing authority, which is reasonably necessary to protect the professional limited liability company against liability for estate, inheritance, and death taxes.

10. The articles of organization or an operating agreement of the professional limited liability company or an agreement among all members of a professional limited liability company may provide for a different purchase price, a different method of determining the purchase price, a different interest rate or no interest, and other terms, conditions, and schedules of payment.

490A.1513 Certificates representing membership interests.

Each certificate representing membership interests of a professional limited liability company shall state in substance that the certificate represents membership interests in a professional limited liability company and is not transferable except as expressly provided in this chapter and in the articles of organization or an operating agreement of the professional limited liability company.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §97

490A.1514 Management.

All managers of a professional limited liability company shall at all times be individuals who are licensed to practice a profession in this state which the limited liability company is authorized to practice. A person who is not licensed shall have no authority or duties in the management or control of the limited liability company. If a manager ceases to have this qualification, the manager shall immediately and automatically cease to hold such management position.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §98

490A.1515 Merger.

A professional limited liability company shall not merge with any entity except another professional limited liability company subject to this subchapter or a professional corporation subject to chapter 496C. Merger is not permitted unless the surviving or new professional limited liability company is a professional limited liability company which complies with all requirements of this subchapter.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §99

490A.1516 Dissolution or liquidation.

Violation of any provision of this subchapter by a professional limited liability company or any of its members or managers shall be cause for its involuntary dissolution, or liquidation of its assets and business by the district court, as provided in section 490A.1302. Upon the death of the last remaining member of a professional limited liability company, or when the last remaining member is not licensed or ceases to be licensed to practice a profession in this state which the professional limited liability company is authorized to practice, or when any person other than the member of record becomes entitled to have all membership interests of the last remaining member of the professional limited liability company transferred into that person's name or to exercise voting rights, except as a proxy, with respect to such membership interests, the professional limited liability company shall not practice any profession and it shall be promptly dissolved. However, if prior to dissolution all outstanding membership interests of the professional limited liability company are acquired by two or more persons licensed to practice a profession in this state which the professional limited liability company is authorized to practice, the professional limited liability company need not be dissolved and may practice the profession as provided in this subchapter.

490A.1517 Foreign professional limited liability company.

A foreign professional limited liability company may practice a profession in this state if it complies with the provisions of this chapter and this subchapter. The secretary of state may prescribe forms for this purpose. A foreign professional limited liability company may practice a profession in this state only through members, managers, employees, and agents who are licensed to practice the profession in this state. The provisions of this subchapter with respect to the practice of a profession by a professional limited liability company apply to a foreign professional limited liability company. This subchapter does not prohibit the practice of a profession in this state by an individual who is a member, manager, employee, or agent of a foreign professional limited liability company, if the individual could lawfully practice the profession in this state in the absence of any relationship to a foreign professional limited liability company. The preceding sentence applies regardless of whether or not the foreign professional limited liability company is authorized to practice a profession in this state.

490A.1518 Limited liability companies organized under other laws.

This chapter does not apply to or interfere with the practice of any profession by or through any professional limited liability company organized after July 1, 1992, under any other law of this state or any other state or country, if the practice is lawful under any other statute or rule of law of this state. Any such professional limited liability company may voluntarily elect to adopt this subchapter and become subject to its provisions, by amending its articles of organization to be consistent with all provisions of this subchapter and by stating in its amended articles of organization that the limited liability company has voluntarily elected to adopt this subchapter. Any limited liability company organized under any law of any other state or country may become subject to the provisions of this subchapter by complying with all provisions of this subchapter with respect to foreign professional limited liability companies.

490A.1519 Conflicts with other provisions of this chapter.

The provisions of this subchapter shall prevail over any inconsistent provisions of this chapter.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §103

SUBCHAPTER XVI

PROPERTY TITLE RECORDS

490A.1601 Property title records.

When by merger or amendment to the articles of organization the name of any domestic or foreign limited liability company is changed, a certificate reciting the change or succession shall be issued by the secretary of state upon request and payment of any applicable fee and the certificate may be admitted to record upon payment of any applicable fee in any recording office within the jurisdiction of which any property of the limited liability company is located in order to maintain the continuity of title records, but no transfer tax shall be due thereon. If a limited liability company or other entity is not a domestic limited liability company or other entity or a foreign limited liability company or other entity authorized to do business in this state, a similar certificate by any competent authority of the state of organization or formation of the limited liability company or other entity may be admitted to record in any recording office within the jurisdiction of which any property of the limited liability company or other entity is located in order to maintain the continuity of title records upon payment of any applicable fee, but no transfer tax shall be due thereon.

92 Acts, ch 1151, §104

this chapter. All domestic corporations shall be organized under chapter 490, except as expressly provided otherwise in chapter 490.

491.3 Powers.

Among the powers of such corporations are the following:

1. To have perpetual succession.
2. To sue and be sued by its corporate name.
3. To have a common seal, which it may alter at pleasure.
4. To render the interests of the stockholders transferable.
5. To exempt the private property of its members from liability for corporate debts, except as otherwise declared.
6. To make contracts, acquire and transfer property — possessing the same powers in such respects as natural persons.
7. To establish bylaws, and make all rules and regulations necessary for the management of its affairs.

8. A corporation organized under or subject to this chapter may make indemnification as provided in sections 490.850 through 490.858.

491.5 Articles adopted and filed.

Before commencing any business except their own organization, they must adopt articles of incorporation, which must be signed and acknowledged by the incorporators. Said articles shall then be forwarded to the secretary of state. Upon the filing of such articles, the secretary of state shall issue a certificate of incorporation and record said articles in a book kept for that purpose.

Such articles shall contain:

1. Name of corporation and its principal place of business.
2. The objects for which it is formed.
3. The amount of authorized capital stock, the classes of stock and number of shares authorized, with the par value and conditions of each class of such shares, and the time when and conditions under which it is to be paid in.
4. The time of commencement and existence of the corporation.
5. The names and addresses of the incorporators and the officers or persons its affairs are to be conducted by, and the times when and manner in which such officers will be elected.
6. Whether private property is to be exempt from corporate debts.
7. The manner in which the articles may be amended.

491.6 Filing or refusal to file.

When articles of incorporation are presented to the secretary of state for the purpose of being filed, if the secretary is satisfied that they are in proper form to meet the requirements of law, that their object is a lawful one and not against public policy, that their plan for doing business, if any be provided for, is honest and lawful, the secretary shall file them; but if the secretary is of the opinion that they are not in proper form to meet the requirements of the law, or that their object is an unlawful one, or against public policy, or that their plan for doing business is dishonest or unlawful, the secretary shall refuse to file them.

491.7 Question of legality submitted.

Should a question of doubt arise as to the legality of the articles, the secretary of state shall submit them to the attorney general whose duty it shall be to forthwith examine and return them with an opinion in writing touching the point or points concerning which inquiry has been made of the attorney general.

[S13, §1610; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8345; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §491.7]

491.8 Action on opinion.

If such opinion is in favor of the legality of the articles, and no other objections are apparent, they shall then, upon payment of the proper fee, be filed and otherwise dealt with as the law provides. If, however, such opinion be against their legality they shall not be filed.

[S13, §1610; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8346; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §491.8]

491.9 Submission to executive council.

Upon the rejection of any articles of incorporation by the secretary of state, except for the reason that they have been held by the attorney general to be illegal, they shall, if the person or persons presenting them so request, be submitted to the executive council, which shall, as soon as practicable, consider the said articles and if the council determines that the articles are in proper form, of honest purpose, not against public policy, nor otherwise objectionable, it shall so advise the secretary of state in writing, whereupon the secretary shall, upon the payment of the proper fees, file the same and proceed otherwise as the law directs; but if the council sustains the previous action of the secretary of state in rejecting said articles, such decision by the council shall be reported to the secretary of state in writing, and the secretary shall then return said articles to the person or persons presenting them with such explanation as shall be proper in the case.

491.10 Interpretative clause.

[S13, §1610; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8348; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §491.10]

491.11 Incorporation fee.

Corporations organized for a period of years shall pay the secretary of state, before a certificate of incorporation is issued, a fee of fifty dollars.

[C97, §1610; S13, §1610; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8349; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §491.11]

See §491.28

491.12 Exemption from fee. Repealed by 93 Acts, ch 126, § 35.

491.13 Place of business.

Any corporation organized under the laws of this state shall fix upon and designate in its articles of incorporation its principal place of business which must be in this state, and if outside the limits of a city then its post-office address must be given. The place of business so designated shall not be changed except through an amendment to its articles of incorporation.

When a corporation changes its principal place of business from one county to another, an amendment for this purpose shall be filed with the secretary of state, recorded in the office of the recorder of deeds of the county of the previous place of business, and then said amendment together with the articles of incorporation and all amendments thereto shall be filed with the recorder of deeds of the county to which said corporation's principal place of business is changed.

491.14 Custody of office — business maintained.

Its place of business shall be in charge of an agent of the corporation and shall be the place where it shall hold its stockholders' meetings, keep a record of its proceedings and its stock and transfer books. The board of directors may designate by resolution some other place in the county where business of the corporation is transacted as the place for holding a stockholders' meeting if notice is mailed to the stockholders at least twenty days prior to each meeting informing the stockholders of the place, date, and hour of the stockholders' meeting.

491.15 Service of original notice — secretary of state.

Any corporation organized under the laws of this state that does not maintain an office in the county of its organization may file with the secretary of state a certified copy of a resolution of the board of directors of said corporation giving name and address in Iowa of a resident agent on whom the service of original notice of civil suit in the courts of this state may be served, or file with the secretary of state a written instrument duly signed and acknowledged authorizing the secretary of state to acknowledge service of notice or process for and in behalf of such corporation in this state and consenting that service of notice or process may be made upon the secretary of state. Failing which, or in the event such agent may not be found within the state, service of such process may then be made upon said corporation through the secretary of state by sending the original and two copies thereof to the secretary, and the secretary shall immediately upon its receipt acknowledge service thereon in behalf of the defendant corporation by writing thereon, giving the date thereof, and shall immediately return such notice or process by certified mail to the clerk of the court in which the suit is pending, addressed by the clerk's official title, and shall also forthwith mail a copy with a copy of the secretary's acknowledgment of service written thereon, by certified mail addressed to the corporation at the address of its principal place of business as shown by the records in the secretary of state's office, and shall retain the second copy for the secretary's files.

491.17 Notice of incorporation.

A notice must be published once each week for four weeks in succession in some newspaper as convenient as practicable to the principal place of business, which must contain:

1. The name of the corporation and its principal place of business.
2. The general nature of the business to be transacted.
3. The amount of capital stock authorized, and the times and conditions on which it is to be paid in.
4. The time of the commencement and existence of the corporation.
5. By what officers or persons its affairs are to be conducted, and the times when and manner in which they will be elected.
6. Whether private property is to be exempt from corporate debts.

491.20 Amendments — fees.

Amendments to articles of incorporation making changes in any of the provisions of the articles may be made at any annual meeting of the stockholders or special meeting called for that purpose, and they shall be valid only when recorded, approved and published as the original articles are required to be, except where the amendment provides for changing the principal place of business from one county to another, in which event said amendment shall be published in both the counties of the former and new place of business. Publication shall be by notice setting out the substance of the amendment and, in the case of amended and substituted articles, said notice shall contain the matters and things required to be published by section 491.17, relating to original incorporations. If no increase is made in the amount of capital stock, a certificate fee of one dollar and a recording fee of fifty cents per page must be paid. Where capital stock is increased the certificate fee shall be omitted but there shall be paid a recording fee of fifty cents per page and in addition a filing fee which in case of corporations existing for a period of years shall be one dollar per thousand of such increase and in case of corporations empowered to exist perpetually shall be one dollar and ten cents per thousand of such increase. Corporations providing for perpetual existence by amendment to its articles shall, at the time of filing such amendment, pay to the secretary of state a fee of one hundred dollars together with a recording fee of fifty cents per page, and, for all authorized capital stock in excess of ten thousand dollars, an additional fee of one dollar ten cents per thousand.

Its articles of incorporation to the contrary notwithstanding, if three-fourths of the voting stock of any corporation organized under the provisions of this chapter, with assets of the value of one million dollars or more, is owned by individuals owning not more than one share each of the voting stock thereof, said articles may be amended at any regular or special meeting of stockholders, when a notice in writing of the substance of the proposed amendment has been mailed by ordinary mail to each voting stockholder of such corporation not more than ninety nor less than sixty days prior to said meeting, by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the voting stock represented at said meeting when said amendment is approved by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the members of the board of directors at a meeting prior to the mailing of said notice.

If such corporation is renewed under the provisions of section 491.25, the voting stock of dissenting stockholders or any portion thereof may be purchased by the corporation at its option as provided in said section.

491.23 Dissolution — notice — filing with secretary of state.

A corporation may be dissolved prior to the period fixed in the articles of incorporation, by unanimous consent, or in accordance with the provisions of its articles, and notice thereof must be given in the same manner and for the same time as is required for its organization; provided, however, that the notice of such dissolution shall be deemed sufficient if signed by the officers of such corporation and published as required by law. Notice thereof shall also be given by the filing in the office of the secretary of state the proof of publication of notice of dissolution and said proof shall be recorded by the secretary of state in the same manner as the recording of amendments, and a recording fee of one dollar shall apply thereto.

491.24 Duration.

Corporations for the construction and operation, or the operation alone, of steam railways, interurban railways, and street railways, or for the transaction of the business of life insurance, may be formed to endure fifty years; those for other purposes, not to exceed twenty years; provided, however, that in addition to the power herein granted to incorporate for a period of years, corporations hereafter organized or now existing may have perpetual existence by so providing in the articles of incorporation or by amendment thereto pursuant to section 491.20.

491.25 Renewal — conditions.

Corporations existing for a period of years may be renewed from time to time for the same or shorter periods, or may be renewed to exist perpetually, upon compliance with the provisions of this section and other applicable statutes.

The right of renewal is vested in the stockholders and shall be exercised by a resolution thereof adopted at any regular meeting or at any special meeting called for that purpose. Such resolution must be adopted by a majority of all the votes cast at such meeting, or by such other vote as is authorized or required in the company's existing articles of incorporation.

If the renewal instrument in proper form and the necessary fees are tendered to the secretary of state for filing three months or less either prior or subsequent to the corporation's expiration date, such renewal shall take effect immediately upon the expiration of the corporation's previous period of existence, and in such case, the corporate existence shall be considered as having been extended without interruption. If the renewal is filed more than three months before or after the expiration date, such renewal shall take effect upon the date such renewal with necessary fees is accepted and filed by the secretary of state; and in cases where filed more than three months after the expiration date, shall not be in legal effect a renewal unless the procedure provided for and the additional fees provided for in section 491.28 are fully complied with and paid.

In all cases of renewal, those stockholders voting for such renewal must purchase at its real value the stock voted against such renewal, and shall have three years from the date such action for renewal was taken in which to purchase and pay for the stock voting against such renewal, which purchase price shall bear interest at the rate of five percent per annum from the date of such renewal action until paid.

491.26 Stock of dissenting holders.

The provisions of section 491.25 shall not apply to any renewal voted before July 4, 1951, but all rights of any corporation described or referred to in the last two paragraphs of section 491.20 to purchase stock of dissenting stockholders or any portion thereof are preserved to said corporation both before and after this section becomes operative.

491.27 Execution of renewal — record required.

After the action of the stockholders for the renewal of any corporation, a certificate, showing the proceedings resulting in the renewal, sworn to by the president and secretary of the corporation, or by other officers as may be designated by the stockholders, together with the articles of incorporation, which may be the original articles of incorporation or amended and substituted articles, shall be filed with the secretary of state and be recorded by the secretary in a book kept for that purpose.

[S13, §1618; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8367; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §491.27]
94 Acts, ch 1055, §6

491.28 Filing with secretary of state — fees — certificate of renewal.

Upon filing with the secretary of state the said certificate and articles of incorporation, and upon the payment to the secretary of state of the fees prescribed by section 491.11 for newly organized corporations, the secretary of state shall issue a proper certificate for the renewal of the corporation.

Whenever, after timely notice has been received that its articles of incorporation will expire and the corporate existence of any corporation has expired and not been renewed within the period prescribed by statute, said corporation thereafter files with the secretary of state amended and substituted articles of incorporation for the purpose of renewing and extending its corporate existence, the secretary of state shall cause said corporation to file satisfactory proof that no judgments against said corporation or the stockholders thereof are outstanding which may be liens against said corporation and that there is no pending litigation involving said corporation or the corporate existence of said corporation. Upon the filing of said proof the secretary of state may acknowledge and file for record the amended and substituted articles of said corporation and issue a certificate of renewal upon the payment of the renewal fees required by statute, however, the secretary of state shall charge and collect an additional ten percent of said renewal fees for each month or major fraction thereof said corporation was delinquent in renewal of its corporate existence as a penalty, but in no instance shall such additional delinquency fee be less than one hundred dollars and not more than one thousand dollars. Said certificate of renewal when issued shall have the same force and effect as though issued upon proper and timely application by said corporation and it shall date from the expiration of the corporate period which it succeeds.

491.29 Erroneous certificate — correction.

In all cases wherein the secretary of state has prior to April 10, 1931 issued to a corporation organized or purporting to have been organized under the laws of this state a certificate renewing and extending its corporate existence from an erroneous date or for a period of time in excess of that provided by law, the secretary of state shall, upon the surrender of such certificate, issue to such corporation a new certificate, extending and renewing the corporate existence thereof from the correct date or for the period of time provided by law.

491.30 Perpetual corporations — periodic fees. Repealed by 93 Acts, ch 126, § 35.

491.31 Exemption from fee. Repealed by 93 Acts, ch 126, § 35.

491.32 Notice of renewal — publication.

Within three months after the filing of the certificate and articles of incorporation with the secretary of state, the corporation so renewed shall publish a notice of renewal. Said notice shall be published once each week for four weeks in succession in a newspaper as convenient as practicable to the principal place of business of the corporation, and proof of publication filed in the office of the secretary of state, and shall contain the matters and things required to be published by section 491.17, relating to original incorporations.

491.33 Foreign insurance companies becoming domestic.

The secretary of state upon a corporation complying with the provisions of this section and upon the filing of articles of incorporation and upon receipt of the fees as provided in this chapter shall issue a certificate of incorporation as of the date of the corporation's original incorporation in its state of original incorporation. The certificate of incorporation shall state on its face that it is issued in accordance with the provisions of this section. The secretary of state shall then notify the appropriate officer of the state or country of the corporation's last domicile that the corporation is now a domestic corporation domiciled in this state. This section applies to life insurance companies, and to insurance companies doing business under chapter 515.

491.36 Foreign-trade zone corporation.

A corporation may be organized under the laws of this state for the purpose of establishing, operating and maintaining a foreign-trade zone as defined in 19 United States Code, § 81(a). A corporation organized for the purposes set forth in this section has all powers necessary or convenient for applying for a grant of authority to establish, operate and maintain a foreign-trade zone under the provisions of 19 United States Code § 81(a), et seq., and rules promulgated thereunder, and for establishing, operating and maintaining a foreign-trade zone pursuant to that grant of authority.

[C81, §491.36]

491.37 Repealed by 69 Acts, ch 273, § 1830. See § 524.106.

491.38 Consolidation of interstate bridge companies.

Any corporation heretofore or hereafter organized under the laws of this state for the purpose of constructing and/or operating a bridge, one extremity of which shall rest in an adjacent state, may merge and/or consolidate the stock, property, rights, franchises, privileges, assets and liabilities of such corporation with the stock, property, rights, franchises, privileges, assets and liabilities of a corporation organized for a similar purpose under the laws of such adjacent state, upon such terms not in conflict with law as may be mutually agreed upon, and thereafter such merged and/or consolidated corporations shall be one corporation with such name as may be agreed upon, and shall have all of the property, rights, privileges, assets and franchises, and be subject to all of the liabilities, of the merging or consolidating corporations.

491.39 Legislative control.

The articles of incorporation, bylaws, rules and regulations of corporations hereafter organized under the provisions of either Title XII, subtitles 2 through 5, or Title XIII, subtitle 1 or 2, or whose organization may be adopted or amended thereunder, shall at all times be subject to legislative control, and may be at any time altered, abridged or set aside by law, and every franchise obtained, used, or enjoyed by such corporation may be regulated, withheld, or be subject to conditions imposed upon the enjoyment thereof, whenever the general assembly shall deem necessary for the public good.

Constitution, U. S., Art. I, §10

491.40 Fraud — penalty for.

Intentional fraud in failing to comply substantially with the articles of incorporation, or in deceiving the public or individuals in relation to their means or their liabilities, shall be a fraudulent practice. Any person who has sustained injury from such fraud may also recover damages therefor against those guilty of participating in such fraud.

491.41 Diversion of funds — unlawful dividends.

The diversion of the funds of the corporation to other objects than those mentioned in its articles and in the notice published, if any person be injured thereby, and the payment of dividends which leaves insufficient funds to meet the liabilities thereof, shall be such fraud as will subject those guilty thereof to the penalties of section 491.40; and such dividends, or their equivalent, in the hands of stockholders, shall be subject to such liabilities. If the directors or other officers or agents of any corporation shall declare and pay any dividend when such corporation is known by them to be insolvent, or any dividend the payment of which would render it insolvent, or which would diminish the amount of its capital stock, all directors, officers, or agents knowingly consenting thereto shall be jointly and severally liable for all the debts of such corporation then existing, but dividends made in good faith before knowledge of the occurring of losses shall not come within the provisions of this section.

491.42 Forfeiture.

Any intentional violation by the board of directors or the managing officers of the corporation of the provisions of sections 491.40 and 491.41 shall work a forfeiture of the corporate privileges, to be enforced as provided by law.

[C51, §690; R60, §1167; C73, §1074; C97, §1622; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8379; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §491.42]

491.43 Keeping false accounts.

The intentional keeping of false books or accounts shall be a fraudulent practice on the part of any officer, agent, or employee of the corporation guilty thereof, or of anyone whose duty it is to see that such books or accounts are correctly kept.

491.44 and 491.45 Repealed by 51 Acts, ch 180, § 1.

491.46 Books to show names of stockholders.

The books of the corporation shall be kept to show the amount of capital stock actually paid in, the number of shares of stock issued, the original stockholders, and all transfers of shares of stock, and there shall be entered upon the books of the corporation the name of the person by and to whom stock is transferred, the numbers or other designations of the shares of stock and the date of transfer. This section does not create any rights or impose any duties inconsistent with the provisions of chapter 554.

491.47 Names exhibited at meetings.

It shall be the duty of the officer or agent of any corporation organized under the laws of the state of Iowa, or any foreign corporation qualified to do business in the state of Iowa and holding a meeting of its stockholders in the state of Iowa, who has charge of the stock records of such corporation to prepare and make, at least ten days before the holding of such meeting, a complete list of the stockholders entitled to vote thereat, arranged in alphabetical order. Such list shall be open and available at the place where said meeting is to be held for said ten days to the examination of any stockholder, and shall be kept at the time and place of meeting during the whole time thereof, and subject to the inspection of any stockholder who may be present at said meeting. The original or duplicate stock ledger of the corporation shall be the only evidence as to who are the stockholders entitled to examine such list or the books of the corporation or to vote in person or by proxy at such meeting. Failure to comply with the requirements of this section shall not affect the validity of any action taken at such meeting. An officer or agent having charge of the transfer books who shall fail to prepare the list of stockholders, or keep the same on file for a period of ten days, or produce and keep the same open for inspection at the meeting, as provided in this section, shall be liable to any stockholder suffering damage on account of such failure, to the extent of such damage.

491.48 Stock certificates — signing.

A corporation organized and existing under the laws, either general or special, of this state, may designate in its articles or bylaws the officer or officers who shall be empowered to sign stock certificates issued by the corporation. If the articles or bylaws provide for the signature of a registrar or the signature or countersignature of a transfer agent on stock certificates issued by it, the corporation may likewise provide in the articles or bylaws that in lieu of the actual signature of the officer or officers authorized to sign stock certificates, the facsimile thereof may be either engraved or printed thereon.

[C31, 35, §8385-d1; C39, §8385.1; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §491.48]

491.49 Repealed by 65 Acts, ch 413, § 10102.

491.50 Examination by stockholder.

Any person who shall be a stockholder of record of any corporation organized under the laws of the state of Iowa or any foreign corporation authorized to transact business in the state of Iowa and maintaining its books and records in the state of Iowa shall have the right to examine in person or by duly authorized agent or attorney at any reasonable time or times and for any proper purpose the stock records, minutes and records of stockholders' meetings, and the books and records of account and to make extracts therefrom.

The provisions of sections 491.46 and 491.47 and this section shall not apply to building and loan associations, savings and loan associations, deposit, loan and investment records of banks and trust companies, or insurance companies organized under the laws of the state of Iowa, and to whom the provisions of this chapter would otherwise be applicable.

491.51 to 491.53 Repealed by 65 Acts, ch 413, § 10102.

491.54 Liability of collateral holder.

No holder of stock as collateral security shall be liable for assessments on the same.

[C97, §1626; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8390; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §491.54]

491.55 Right to vote stock — attachment.

Every executor, administrator, guardian, or trustee shall represent the stock in the person's hands at all corporate meetings, and may vote the same as a stockholder.

Every person who shall pledge the person's stock, in the absence of a written agreement to the contrary, may represent the same at all such meetings and vote accordingly.

The owner of corporate stock levied upon by attachment or other proceeding shall have the right to vote the same at all corporate meetings, until such time as the owner shall have been divested of title thereto by execution sale.

Nothing contained in this section shall in any manner conflict with any provision in the articles of incorporation, or the bylaws of the corporation issuing the stock.

[S13, §1641-a; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8391; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §491.55]

491.56 Expiration and closing of business.

Corporations whose charters expire by limitation or the voluntary act of the stockholders may nevertheless continue to act for the purpose of winding up their affairs.

491.57 Sinking fund and loaning thereof.

For the purpose of repairs, rebuilding, enlarging, or to meet contingencies, or for the purpose of creating a sinking fund, the corporation may set apart a sum which it may loan, and take proper securities therefor.

491.58 Liability of stockholders.

Neither anything in this chapter contained, nor any provisions in the articles of corporation, shall exempt the stockholders from individual liability to the amount of the unpaid installments on the stock owned by them, or transferred by them for the purpose of defrauding creditors; and execution against the company may, to that extent, be levied upon the private property of any such individual. The foregoing provisions shall not apply to building and loan associations, and savings and loan associations.

[C51, §695; R60, §1172; C73, §1082; C97, §1631; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8394; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §491.58]

491.59 Levy on private property.

In none of the cases contemplated in this chapter can the private property of the stockholders be levied upon for the payment of corporate debts while corporate property can be found with which to satisfy the same; but it will be sufficient proof that no property can be found, if an execution has issued on a judgment against the corporation, and a demand has been thereon made of some one of the last acting officers of the body for property on which to levy, and the officer neglects to point out any such property.

[C97, §1631; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8395; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §491.59]

491.60 Suit by creditor — measure of recovery.

In suits by creditors to recover unpaid installments upon shares of stock against any person who has in any manner obtained such stock of the corporation, the stockholder shall be liable for the difference between the amount paid by the stockholder to the corporation for said stock and the face value thereof.

[C97, §1631; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8396; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §491.60]

491.61 Corporate property exhausted.

Before any stockholder can be charged with the payment of a judgment rendered for a corporate debt, an action shall be brought against the stockholder, in any stage of which the stockholder may point out corporate property subject to levy; and, upon the stockholder's satisfying the court of the existence of such property, by affidavit or otherwise, the cause may be continued, or execution against the stockholder stayed, until the property can be levied upon and sold, and the court may subsequently render judgment for any balance which there may be after disposing of the corporate property; but if a demand of property has been made as contemplated in section 491.59, the costs of said action shall, in any event, be paid by the company or the defendant therein, but the stockholder shall not be permitted to controvert the validity of the judgment rendered against the corporation, unless it was rendered through fraud and collusion.

491.62 Indemnity — contribution.

When the property of a stockholder is taken for a corporate debt, the stockholder may maintain an action against the corporation for indemnity, and against any of the other stockholders for contribution.

[C51, §698; R60, §1175; C73, §1085; C97, §1633; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8398; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §491.62]

491.63 Franchise sold on execution.

The franchise of a corporation may be levied upon under execution and sold, but the corporation shall not become thereby dissolved, and no dissolution of the original corporation shall affect the franchise, and the purchaser becomes vested with all the powers of the corporation therefor. Such franchise shall be sold without appraisalment.

491.64 Production of books.

In proceedings by or against a corporation or a stockholder to charge the stockholder's private property, or the dividends received by the stockholder, the court may, upon motion of either party, upon cause shown for that purpose, compel the officers or agents of the corporation to produce the books and records of the corporation.

491.66 Dissolution — receivership.

Courts of equity shall have full power, on good cause shown, to dissolve or close up the business of any corporation, and to appoint a receiver therefor, who shall be a resident of the state of Iowa. An action therefor may be instituted by the attorney general in the name of the state, reserving, however, to the stockholders and creditors all rights now possessed by them.

[C97, §1640; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8402; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §491.66]

491.67 Repealed by 79 Acts, ch 133, § 13. See § 567.2.

491.68 False statements or pretenses.

Every director, officer, or agent of any corporation or joint-stock association, who knowingly concurs in making, publishing, or posting, either generally or privately to the stockholders or other persons, any written report, exhibit, or statement of its affairs or pecuniary condition, or book or notice containing any material statement which is false, or any untrue or willfully or fraudulently exaggerated report, prospectus, account, statement of operations, values, business, profits, expenditures, or prospects, or any other paper or document intended to produce or give, or having a tendency to produce or give, the shares of stock in such corporation a greater value or a less apparent or market value than they really possess, is guilty of a fraudulent practice.

491.69 to 491.71 Repealed by 75 Acts, ch 57, § 17.

491.72 to 491.100 Reserved.

CORPORATION MERGER OR CONSOLIDATION

491.101 Definitions.

1. "Merger" means the uniting of two or more corporations into one corporation in such manner that the corporation resulting from the merger retains its corporate existence and absorbs the other constituent corporation or corporations which thereby lose their or its corporate existence.

2. "Consolidation" means the uniting of two or more corporations into a single new corporation, all of the constituent corporations thereby ceasing to exist as separate entities.

491.101A Poison pill defense authorized.

The terms and conditions of stock rights or options issued by the corporation may include, without limitation, restrictions or conditions that preclude or limit the exercise, transfer, or receipt of such rights or options by a person, or group of persons, owning or offering to acquire a specified number or percentage of the outstanding common shares or other securities of the corporation, or a transferee of the offeror, or that invalidate or void such stock rights or options held by an offeror or a transferee of the offeror.

491.101B Consideration of community interests in consideration of acquisition proposals.

1. A director, in determining what is in the best interest of the corporation when considering a tender offer or proposal of acquisition, merger, consolidation, or similar proposal, may consider any or all of the following community interest factors, in addition to consideration of the effects of any action on shareholders:

a. The effects of the action on the corporation's employees, suppliers, creditors, and customers.

b. The effects of the action on the communities in which the corporation operates.

2. If on the basis of the community interest factors described in subsection 1, the board of directors determines that a proposal or offer to acquire or merge the corporation is not in the best interests of the corporation, it may reject the proposal or offer. If the board of directors determines to reject any such proposal or offer, the board of directors has no obligation to facilitate, to remove any barriers to, or to refrain from impeding, the proposal or offer. Consideration of any or all of the community interest factors is not a violation of the business judgment rule or of any duty of the director to the shareholders, or a group of shareholders, even if the director reasonably determines that a community interest factor or factors outweigh the financial or other benefits to the corporation or a shareholder or group of shareholders.

89 Acts, ch 288, §188

491.102 Procedure for merger.

Any two or more corporations whether heretofore or hereafter organized may merge into one of such corporations in the following manner:

The board of directors of each corporation shall, by resolution adopted by a majority vote of the members of each such board, approve a plan of mergers setting forth:

1. The names of the corporations proposing to merge, and the name of the corporation into which they propose to merge, which is hereinafter designated as the surviving corporation.

2. The terms and conditions of the proposed merger.

3. The manner and basis of converting the shares of each merging corporation into shares or other securities or obligations of the surviving corporation.

4. A statement of any changes in the articles of incorporation of the surviving corporation to be effected by such merger.

5. Such other provisions with respect to the proposed merger as are deemed necessary or desirable.

[C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §491.102]

491.103 Procedure for consolidation.

Any two or more corporations whether heretofore or hereafter organized may consolidate into a new corporation in the following manner:

The board of directors of each corporation, shall, by a resolution adopted by a majority vote of the members of each such board, approve a plan of consolidation setting forth:

1. The names of the corporations proposing to consolidate, and the name of the new corporation into which they propose to consolidate, which is hereinafter designated as the new corporation.

2. The terms and conditions of the proposed consolidation.

3. The manner and basis of converting the shares of each corporation into shares, or other securities, or obligations of the new corporation.

4. With respect to the new corporation, all of the statements required to be set forth in articles of incorporation for corporations organized under this chapter.

5. Such other provisions with respect to the proposed consolidation as are deemed necessary or desirable.

491.104 Meetings of shareholders.

The board of directors of each corporation, upon approving such plan of merger or plan of consolidation, shall, by resolution, direct that the plan be submitted to a vote at a meeting of shareholders, which may be either an annual or a special meeting. Written or printed notice shall be delivered not less than twenty days before such meeting, either personally or by mail, to each shareholder of record entitled to vote at such meeting. Such notice shall state the place, day, hour and purpose of the meeting, and a copy or a summary of the plan of merger or plan of consolidation, as the case may be, shall be included in or enclosed with such notice.

491.105 Approval by shareholders.

At each such meeting, a vote of the shareholders entitled to vote thereat shall be taken on the proposed plan of merger or consolidation. The plan of merger or consolidation shall be approved upon receiving the affirmative vote of the holders of at least two-thirds of the outstanding shares entitled to vote at such meeting, of each of such corporations, unless any class of shares of any such corporations is entitled to vote as a class in respect thereof in which event, as to such corporation, the plan of merger or consolidation shall be approved upon receiving the affirmative vote of the holders of at least a majority of the outstanding shares of each such class of shares entitled to vote as a class in respect thereof and two-thirds of the total outstanding shares entitled to vote at such meeting. Any class of shares of any such corporation shall be entitled to vote as a class if the plan of merger or consolidation, as the case may be, contains any provision which, if contained in a proposed amendment to articles of incorporation, would entitle such class of shares to vote as a class.

491.106 Articles of merger or consolidation.

Upon such approval, articles of merger or articles of consolidation shall be executed in duplicate by each corporation by its president or a vice president, and verified by that person, attested by its secretary or an assistant secretary, and shall be acknowledged and shall set forth:

1. The plan of merger or the plan of consolidation.
2. As to each corporation, the number of shares outstanding, and the number of shares entitled to vote, and, if the shares of any class are entitled to vote as a class, the designation of each such class and the number of outstanding shares thereof entitled to vote.
3. As to each corporation, the number of shares voted for and against such plan respectively, and, if the shares of any class are entitled to vote as a class, the number of shares of each such class voted for and against such plan, respectively.

491.107 Filing articles of merger or consolidation.

A duly executed and acknowledged copy of the articles of merger or consolidation shall be forwarded to the secretary of state for filing and recording as provided in section 491.5.

The procedure set forth in sections 491.6 to 491.9 of this chapter shall be applicable to the filing of articles of consolidation or merger.

If as the result of a consolidation a new Iowa corporation is formed then the fees provided for in section 491.11 shall be applicable. If as the result of a merger an existing Iowa corporation becomes the survivor the articles of merger shall be deemed an amendment to its articles of incorporation and section 491.20 shall be applicable.

94 Acts, ch 1055, §8

491.108 Effective date of merger or consolidation.

Upon the payment of all fees and charges and upon the filing of the articles of consolidation or merger with the secretary of state the secretary of state shall issue to the corporation or its representative a certificate of consolidation or a certificate of merger and upon the issuance of said certificate the merger or consolidation shall be effected.

491.109 Notice.

Notice of the articles of consolidation or merger shall be given as provided in section 491.17.

[C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §491.109]

491.110 Effect of merger or consolidation.

When such merger or consolidation has been effected:

1. The several corporations parties to the plan of merger or consolidation shall be a single corporation, which, in the case of a merger, shall be that corporation designated in the plan of merger as the surviving corporation, and, in the case of a consolidation, shall be the new corporation provided for in the plan of consolidation.

2. The separate existence of all corporations parties to the plan of merger or consolidation, except the surviving or new corporation, shall cease.

3. Such surviving or new corporation shall have all the rights, privileges, immunities and powers and shall be subject to all the duties and liabilities of a corporation organized under this chapter.

5. Such surviving or new corporation shall thenceforth be responsible and liable for all the liabilities and obligations of each of the corporations so merged or consolidated; and any claim existing or action or proceeding pending by or against any of such corporations may be prosecuted to judgment as if such merger or consolidation had not taken place, or such surviving or new corporation may be substituted in its place. Neither the rights of creditors nor any liens upon the property of any such corporation shall be impaired by such merger or consolidation.

6. In the case of a merger, the articles of incorporation of the surviving corporation shall be deemed to be amended to the extent, if any, that changes in its articles of incorporation are stated in the articles of merger; and, in the case of a consolidation, the statements set forth in the articles of consolidation and which are required or permitted to be set forth in the articles of incorporation of corporations organized under this chapter shall be deemed to be the articles of incorporation of the new corporation.

7. The aggregate amount of the net assets of the merging or consolidating corporations which was available for the payment of dividends immediately prior to such merger or consolidation, to the extent that the amount thereof is not transferred to stated capital by the issuance of shares or otherwise, shall continue to be available for the payment of dividends by such surviving or new corporation.

491.111 Merger or consolidation of domestic and foreign corporations.

One or more foreign corporations and one or more domestic corporations whether heretofore or hereafter organized may be merged or consolidated in the following manner, provided such merger or consolidation is permitted by the laws of the state under which each such foreign corporation is organized:

1. Each domestic corporation shall comply with the provisions of this chapter with respect to the merger or consolidation, as the case may be, of domestic corporations and each foreign corporation shall comply with the applicable provisions of the laws of the state under which it is organized.

2. If the surviving or new corporation, as the case may be, is to be governed by the laws of any state other than this state, it shall comply with the provisions of the statutes of the state of Iowa with respect to foreign corporations if it is to do business in this state, and in every case it shall file with the secretary of state of this state:

a. An agreement that it may be served with process in this state in any proceeding for the enforcement of any obligation of any domestic corporation which is a party to such merger or consolidation and in any proceeding for the enforcement of the rights of a dissenting shareholder of any such domestic corporation against the surviving or new corporation.

b. The appointment of a resident agent as provided for in section 490.501.

c. An agreement that it will promptly pay to the dissenting shareholders of any such domestic corporation the amount, if any, to which they shall be entitled under the provisions of this division with respect to the rights of dissenting shareholders.

Insofar as the state of Iowa is concerned, the effect of such merger or consolidation shall be the same as in the case of the merger or consolidation of domestic corporations, if the surviving or new corporation is to be governed by the laws of this state. If the surviving or new corporation is to be governed by the laws of any state other than this state, the effect of such merger or consolidation shall be the same as in the case of the merger or consolidation of domestic corporations except insofar as the laws of such other state provide otherwise.

[C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §491.111]

491.112 Rights of dissenting shareholders.

If a shareholder of a corporation which is a party to a merger or consolidation shall file with such corporation, prior to or at the meeting of shareholders at which the plan of merger or consolidation is submitted to a vote, a written objection to such plan of merger or consolidation, and shall not vote in favor thereof, and such shareholder, within twenty days after the merger or consolidation is effected, shall make written demand on the surviving or new corporation for payment of the fair value of the shareholder's shares as of the day prior to the date on which the vote was taken approving the merger or consolidation, the surviving or new corporation shall pay to such shareholder, upon surrender of the certificate or certificates representing said shares, such fair value thereof. Such demand shall state the number and class of the shares owned by such dissenting shareholder. Any shareholder failing to make demand within the twenty-day period shall be conclusively presumed to have consented to the merger or consolidation and shall be bound by the terms thereof.

If within thirty days after the date on which such merger or consolidation was effected the value of such shares is agreed upon between the dissenting shareholder and the surviving or new corporation payment therefor shall be made within ninety days after the date on which such merger or consolidation was effected, upon the surrender of the certificate or certificates representing said shares. Upon payment of the agreed value the dissenting shareholder shall cease to have any interest in such shares or in the corporation.

If within such period of thirty days the shareholder and the surviving or new corporation do not so agree, then the dissenting shareholder may, within sixty days after the expiration of the thirty-day period, file a petition in any court of competent jurisdiction within the state and judicial subdivision thereof in which the registered office or the principal place of business of the surviving or new corporation is situated, asking for a finding and determination of the fair value of such shares, and shall be entitled to judgment against the surviving or new corporation for the amount of such fair value as of the day prior to the date on which such vote was taken approving such merger or consolidation, together with interest thereon at the rate of five percent per annum to the date of such judgment. The action shall be prosecuted as an equitable action and the practice and procedure shall conform to the practice and procedure in equity cases. The judgment shall be payable only upon and simultaneously with the surrender to the surviving or new corporation of the certificate or certificates representing said shares. Upon payment of the judgment, the dissenting shareholder shall cease to have any interest in such shares, or in the surviving or new corporation. Such shares may be held and disposed of by the surviving or new corporation as it may see fit. Unless the dissenting shareholder shall file such petition within the time herein limited, such shareholder and all persons claiming under the shareholder shall be conclusively presumed to have approved and ratified the merger or consolidation and shall be bound by the terms thereof.

The right of a dissenting shareholder to be paid the fair value of the shareholder's shares as herein provided shall cease if and when the corporation shall abandon the merger or consolidation.

Shares acquired by the corporation pursuant to the payment of the agreed value thereof or to the payment of judgment entered therefor as in this section provided may be held and disposed of by the corporation as it shall see fit.

491.113 Issuance of stock.

All stock issued in connection with such merger or consolidation shall be issued pursuant to the provisions of chapter 492 and nothing in this amendment shall be construed as eliminating the requirements of said chapter.

[C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §491.113]

491.114 Amana stock.

Notwithstanding anything contained in this chapter and chapters 492 and 502, a corporation organized under the laws of the state of Iowa having assets of the value of one million dollars or more, the articles of which provide that an individual may not vote more than one share of the common voting shares of stock of the corporation, and which give to children of the owners of shares of the common voting stock the right to purchase one common voting share of stock in the corporation upon attaining majority or within a fixed period thereafter, and which authorize the issuance, sale and delivery of not to exceed one share of the common voting stock to any one individual, may issue, sell and deliver its shares of common voting stock, whether held by it as treasury stock or whether issued as an original issue, for the following considerations and upon the following terms and conditions, and with the following limitations:

1. Such common voting stock may be issued, sold and delivered by the corporation either for cash or upon credit or time payments or installment payments or for a consideration evidenced in part or in whole by the written agreement of the purchaser thereof to pay for the same, payment of said purchase price to be secured by a lien on said stock.

2. No such stock shall be issued, sold and delivered for a price less than the par value thereof at the time of such issuance, sale and delivery.

3. Not more than one share of said stock shall be so issued, sold and delivered to any one individual, but when issued, sold and delivered, said stock may be voted by the owner thereof, if the articles of incorporation or bylaws of such corporation, whether now in effect or hereafter adopted or amended, so provide, although a part or all of the price to be paid therefor may be owing to the corporation under said written agreement of the purchaser to pay for the same.

CHAPTER 492

CAPITAL STOCK

- 492.1 Endorsement of amount paid.
- 492.2 Effect of violation.
- 492.3 Penalties.
- 492.4 Certain corporations excepted.
- 492.5 Par value required.
- 492.6 Payment in property other than cash.

- 492.7 Executive council to fix amount.
- 492.8 Elements considered in fixing amount.
- 492.9 Certificate of issuance of stock.
- 492.10 Cancellation of stock — reimbursement.
- 492.11 Dissolution — distribution of assets.
- 492.12 Violation.

492.1 Endorsement of amount paid.

No certificate or shares of stock shall be issued, delivered, or transferred by any corporation, officer or agent thereof, or by the owner of such certificate or shares without having endorsed on the face thereof what amount or portion of the par value has been paid to the corporation issuing the same, and whether such payment has been in money or property.

492.2 Effect of violation.

Any certificate of stock issued, delivered, or transferred in violation of section 492.1 when the corporation has not received payment therefor at par in money or property at a valuation approved by the executive council, shall be void, and the issuance, delivery, or transfer of each certificate shall be considered a separate transaction.

[C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8409; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §492.2]

492.3 Penalties.

Any person violating the provisions of sections 492.1 and 492.2, or knowingly making a false statement on such certificate, shall be guilty of a fraudulent practice.

[C97, §1627; S13, §1627; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8410; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §492.3]

492.4 Certain corporations excepted.

Sections 492.1 to 492.3 shall not apply to railway or quasi-public corporations organized before October 1, 1897.

[S13, §1627; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8411; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §492.4]

492.5 Par value required.

No corporation organized under the laws of this state, except building and loan associations, shall issue any certificate of a share of capital stock, or any substitute therefor, until the corporation has received the par value thereof.

[S13, §1641-b; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8412; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §492.5]

492.6 Payment in property other than cash.

If it is proposed to pay for said capital stock in property or in any other thing than money, the corporation proposing the same must, before issuing capital stock in any form, apply to the executive council of the state for leave so to do. Such application shall state the amount of capital stock proposed to be issued for a consideration other than money, and set forth specifically the property or other thing to be received in payment for such stock, providing that the foregoing provision shall not apply to trust companies or insurance companies organized under the laws of this state.

Any insurance company proposing to issue capital stock for property or any thing other than money, before issuing the capital stock in any form, shall apply to the commissioner of insurance for leave so to do. Such application to the commissioner of insurance shall state the amount of capital stock proposed to be issued for a consideration other than money and set forth specifically the property or other thing to be received in payment for such stock.

492.7 Executive council to fix amount.

The executive council or the commissioner of insurance as the case may be, shall make investigation, under such rules as it may prescribe, and ascertain the real value of the property or other thing which the corporation is to receive for the stock. It shall enter its finding, fixing the value at which the corporation may receive the same in payment for capital stock; and no corporation shall issue capital stock for the said property or thing in a greater amount than the value so fixed.

[S13, §1641-b; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8414; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §492.7]

492.8 Elements considered in fixing amount.

For the purpose of encouraging the construction of new steam or electric railways, and manufacturing industries within this state, the labor performed in effecting the organization and promotion of such corporation, and the reasonable discount allowed or reasonable commission paid in negotiating and effecting the sale of bonds for the construction and equipment of such railroad or manufacturing plant, shall be taken into consideration by said council as elements of value in fixing the amount of capital stock that may be issued.

[S13, §1641-b; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8415; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §492.8]

492.9 Certificate of issuance of stock.

It shall be the duty of every corporation, except corporations qualified under chapter 534, to file a certificate under oath with the secretary of state, within thirty days after the issuance of any capital stock, stating the date of issue, the amount issued, the sum received therefor, if payment be made in money, or the property or thing taken, if such be the method of payment. If the corporation fails to file said certificate of issuance of stock within the thirty-day period herein provided, it may thereafter file the same upon first paying to the secretary of state a penalty of ten dollars when the said certificate is offered for filing. Provided further that the penalty herein provided for is first paid and provided the said report contains the specific information required by this section as to the issuance of any capital stock not previously reported, then the first annual report filed by such corporation following such failure to comply with the provisions of this section, shall be received by the secretary of state as a compliance with this section.

[S13, §1641-c; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8416; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §492.9] 93 Acts, ch 126, §12

492.10 Cancellation of stock — reimbursement.

The capital stock of any corporation issued in violation of the terms and provisions of sections 492.5 to 492.8 shall be void, and in a suit brought by the attorney general on behalf of the state in any court having jurisdiction, a decree of cancellation shall be entered; and if the corporation has received any money or thing of value for the said stock, such money or thing of value shall be returned to the individual, firm, company, or corporation from whom it was received, and if represented by labor or other service of intangible nature, the value thereof shall constitute a claim against the corporation issuing stock in exchange therefor.

[S13, §1641-d; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8417; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §492.10]

492.11 Dissolution — distribution of assets.

Any corporation violating the provisions of sections 492.5 to 492.8 shall, upon the application of the attorney general, in behalf of the state, made to any court of competent jurisdiction, be dissolved, its affairs wound up, and its assets distributed among the stockholders other than those who have received the stock so unlawfully issued.

[S13, §1641-e; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8418; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §492.11]

492.12 Violation.

Any officer, agent or representative of a corporation who violates any of the provisions of sections 492.5 to 492.8 shall be guilty of a simple misdemeanor.

[S13, §1641-f; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8419; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §492.12]

CHAPTER 493

STOCK WITHOUT PAR VALUE

- 493.1 Authorization.
- 493.2 Par value — method of stating.
- 493.3 Amount of stock.
- 493.4 Sale value.
- 493.5 Liability of holder.
- 493.6 Status of stock.

- 493.7 Certificates of stock.
- 493.8 Number of shares.
- 493.9 Change in stock.
- 493.10 Convertibility.
- 493.11 Incorporation fee — computation.
- 493.12 Applicability of statutes.

493.1 Authorization.

Any corporation, heretofore or hereafter organized for pecuniary profit under the laws of this state, except state banks, trust companies, building and loan associations and insurance companies, may create one or more classes of stock without any nominal or par value, with such rights, preferences, privileges, voting powers, limitations, restrictions and qualifications thereon not inconsistent with law as shall be expressed in its articles of incorporation, or any amendment thereto. Stock without par value which is preferred as to dividends, or as to its distributive share of the assets of the corporation upon dissolution, may be made subject to redemption at such times and prices as may be determined in such articles of incorporation, or any amendment thereto. In the case of stock without par value which is preferred as to its distributive share of the assets of the corporation upon dissolution, the amount of such preference shall be stated in the articles of incorporation, or any amendment thereto.

493.2 Par value — method of stating.

In any case, in which the par value of the shares of stock of a corporation shall be required to be stated in the articles of incorporation, or any amendment thereto, or in any other place, it shall be stated in respect to shares without par value that such shares are without par value, and when the amount of such stock authorized, issued or outstanding shall be required to be stated, the number of shares thereof authorized, issued or outstanding, as the case may be, shall be stated, and it shall also be stated that such shares are without par value.

[C31, 35, §8419-c2; C39, §8419.02; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §493.2]

493.3 Amount of stock.

For the purpose of any rule of law or of any statutory provision relating to the amount of capital stock issued and represented by shares of stock without par value except as otherwise provided in this chapter such amounts shall be taken to be the amount of money or the actual value of the consideration, as fixed by the directors or otherwise, in accordance with law, as the case may be, for which such shares of stock shall have been issued. In any such case in which stock having a par value shall have been issued with stock without par value for a specified combined consideration, in determining the amount of the capital stock issued and represented by shares of stock without par value the then book value of such stock having a par value shall first be deducted from the amount of the money or actual value of the consideration determined as aforesaid, and the excess thereof, if any, shall be taken to be the amount of capital stock represented by the shares of stock without par value so issued.

[C31, 35, §8419-c3; C39, §8419.03; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §493.3]

493.4 Sale value.

Subject to any limitations and restrictions set forth in the articles of incorporation, or amendment thereto, any such corporation may issue its authorized capital stock without par value for such consideration as may be prescribed in the articles of incorporation, or amendment thereto, or, if not prescribed, then for such consideration as may be fixed by resolution passed by the stockholders of such corporation at any annual meeting thereof, or at any special meeting thereof duly called for that purpose, or by the board of directors acting under authority of such stockholders given in like manner. In the absence of fraud in the transaction, the judgment of the board of directors in fixing and determining such sale value shall be conclusive as to the creditors and stockholders. Nothing in this chapter shall be so construed as to repeal the law as it now appears in sections 492.6, 492.7, and 492.8.

[C31, 35, §8419-c4; C39, §8419.04; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §493.4]

493.5 Liability of holder.

Any and all shares without par value issued for the consideration as prescribed or fixed in section 493.4 shall be deemed fully paid and nonassessable and the holder of such shares shall not be liable to the corporation or to its creditors in respect thereto.

[C31, 35, §8419-c5; C39, §8419.05; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §493.5]

493.6 Status of stock.

Except as to any preferences, rights, limitations, privileges and restrictions, lawfully granted or imposed with respect to any stock or class thereof, shares of stock without nominal or par value shall be deemed to be an aliquot part of the aggregate capital of the corporation issuing the same and equal to every other share of stock of the same class.

[C31, 35, §8419-c6; C39, §8419.06; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §493.6]

493.7 Certificates of stock.

Each stock certificate issued for shares without nominal or par value shall have plainly written or printed upon its face the number of shares which it represents, and the number of such shares the corporation is authorized to issue, and no such certificate shall state any nominal or par value of such shares or express any rate of dividend to which it shall be entitled in terms of percentage of any par or other value.

[C31, 35, §8419-c7; C39, §8419.07; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §493.7]

493.8 Number of shares.

The number of authorized shares of stock without par value may be increased or reduced in the manner and subject to the conditions provided by law for the increase or reduction of the capital stock of a similar corporation having shares with par value. All other statutory provisions relating to stock having a par value shall also apply to stock without par value, so far as the same may be legally, necessarily or practically applicable to, and not inconsistent with, the provisions of this chapter.

[C31, 35, §8419-c8; C39, §8419.08; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §493.8]

493.9 Change in stock.

Any such corporation may, by appropriate amendments to its articles of incorporation, adopted by a two-third affirmative vote of each class of stock then issued and outstanding and affected by such amendment, change its stock (common or preferred) having a par value to an equal, greater or less number of shares of stock having no par value, and, in connection therewith, may fix the amount of capital represented by such shares of stock without par value.

[C31, 35, §8419-c9; C39, §8419.09; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §493.9]

493.10 Convertibility.

The articles of incorporation, or any amendment thereto, of any such corporation may provide that shares of stock of any class shall be convertible into shares of stock of any other class upon such terms and conditions as may be therein stated.

493.11 Incorporation fee — computation.

For the purpose of computing the statutory fee for incorporating or for any other statutory provision based on the par value of shares of stock, but for no other purpose, each share of stock without par value shall be considered equivalent to a share having a nominal or par value of one hundred dollars.

[C31, 35, §8419-c11; C39, §8419.11; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §493.11]

493.12 Applicability of statutes.

Except as otherwise provided by this chapter, such corporations issuing shares without par value, under the provisions hereof, shall be and remain subject to the laws of this state, now or hereafter in force, relating to the formation, regulation, consolidation, or merger, rights, powers and privileges of corporations organized for pecuniary profit, and all other laws applicable thereto.

All acts or parts of acts providing for the incorporation, organization, administration and management of the affairs of corporations organized for pecuniary profit and having shares of stock with a par value are hereby made applicable to corporations having shares of stock without par value, except where the same are inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter.

496B.1 Title of Act.

This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the “Iowa Economic Development Act”.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §496B.1]

496B.2 Definitions.

As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires, the term:

1. “Board of directors” means members of the board of directors of a development corporation constituted under section 496B.13 in office from time to time.

2. “Department” means the Iowa department of economic development of the state of Iowa, or any agency which succeeds to the functions of the Iowa department of economic development.

3. “Development corporation” means any corporation organized pursuant to this chapter and for the purpose of developing businesses, industries, and enterprises in the state of Iowa by the loaning of money thereto and investing money therein, and otherwise organizing for the purposes in section 496B.5.

4. “Financial institution” means any bank, trust company, savings and loan association, insurance company or related corporation, partnership, foundation or other institution licensed to do business in the state of Iowa and engaged primarily in lending or investing funds.

5. “Loan limit” means, for any member, the maximum amount permitted to be outstanding at any one time on loans made by any such member to a development corporation, as determined herein.

6. “Member” means any financial institution which shall undertake to lend money to a development corporation upon its call and in accordance with the provision of section 496B.9.

496B.3 Authorized corporations.

There is hereby authorized to be incorporated under the Iowa business corporation Act,* development corporations which meet and comply with the requirements of this chapter. Such corporations shall be subject to and have the powers and privileges conferred by the provisions of this chapter and those provisions of the Iowa business corporation Act which are not inconsistent with and to the extent not restricted or limited by the provisions of this chapter. No corporation shall be deemed incorporated pursuant to and under the provisions of this chapter unless the same is approved by the department and unless its articles of incorporation provide that it is incorporated pursuant to this chapter. To assure a broad base from which development corporations may obtain loans from members, the department at its discretion may limit the number of development corporations organized and existing pursuant to this chapter to one or more such corporations.

*See chapter 490

496B.4 Offices.

A development corporation may have offices in such places within the state of Iowa as may be fixed by the board of directors.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §496B.4]

496B.5 Purposes.

The purposes of a development corporation shall be limited to those provided in this section and shall be to promote, stimulate, develop and advance the business prosperity and economic welfare of the state of Iowa and its citizens; to encourage and assist through loans, investments, or other business transactions, the location of new business and industry in the state; to rehabilitate and assist existing business and industry in this state; to stimulate and assist in the expansion of any kind of business activity which would tend to promote business development and maintain the economic stability of this state, provide maximum opportunities for employment, encourage thrift, and improve the standard of living of the citizens of this state; to co-operate and act in conjunction with other organizations, public or private, in the promotion and advancement of industrial, commercial, agricultural, and recreational development in this state; and to provide financing for the promotion, development, and conduct of all kinds of business activity in this state.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §496B.5]

496B.6 Powers.

Any development corporation shall, subject to the restrictions and limits herein contained, have the following powers:

1. To make contracts and incur liabilities for any of the purposes of the development corporation; provided that no development corporation shall incur any secondary liability by way of guaranty or endorsement of the obligations of any person, firm, corporation, joint stock company, association or trust, or in any other manner.

2. To borrow money either from its members or pursuant to lending arrangements entered into under the authority granted in subsection 7 of this section, or both from its members and pursuant to said lending arrangements, and to issue therefor its bonds, debentures, notes or other evidences of indebtedness, whether secured or unsecured, and when necessary to secure the same by mortgage, pledge, deed of trust, or other lien on its property, franchises, rights and privileges of every kind and nature, or any part thereof or interest therein, without securing shareholder or member approval; provided, that no loan to a development corporation shall be secured in any manner unless all outstanding loans to such corporation, and for which loan or loans no subordination agreement has been entered into between the respective loan maker and the development corporation, shall be secured equally and ratably in proportion to the unpaid balance of such loans and in the same manner.

3. To make loans to any person, firm, corporation, joint stock company, association or trust and to establish and regulate the terms and conditions with respect to any such loans, and the charges for interest and service connected therewith.

4. To acquire the good will, business, rights, real and personal property, and other assets, or any part thereof, or interest therein, of any persons, firms, corporations, associations or trusts, and to assume, undertake, or pay the obligations, debts and liabilities of any such person, firm, corporation, association or trust; to acquire, construct or reconstruct, alter, repair, maintain, operate, sell, convey, transfer, lease, or otherwise dispose of industrial plants and business establishments.

5. To co-operate with and avail itself of the facilities of the department and to co-operate with and assist and otherwise encourage organizations in the various communities of the state of Iowa in the promotion, assistance and development of business prosperity and economic welfare of such communities or of this state or any part thereof.

6. To do all acts and things necessary or convenient to carry out the powers expressly granted in this chapter and such other powers not in conflict herewith granted under the Iowa business corporation Act.

7. To enter into lending arrangements with state and federal agencies or instrumentalities whereby the development corporation may participate in lending operations or secure guarantees or qualify under applicable laws to further state or federal lending programs by becoming a participant therein.

496B.7 Stock — limitations.

Capital stock shall be issued only on receipt by each development corporation of cash in such amount not less than the par value thereof as may be determined by the board of directors. No shareholder of any development corporation shall be entitled as of right to purchase or subscribe for any unissued or treasury shares of the corporation, and no such shareholder shall be entitled as of right to purchase or subscribe for any bonds, notes, certificates of indebtedness, debentures, or other obligations convertible into shares of the development corporation.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §496B.7]

496B.8 Stockholders' privileges.

Notwithstanding any rule at common law or any provision of any general or special law or any provision in their respective articles of incorporation, agreements of association, or trust indentures:

1. Any person, as defined in the Iowa business corporation Act, is hereby authorized to acquire, purchase, hold, sell, assign, transfer, mortgage, pledge or otherwise dispose of any bond, security or other evidences of indebtedness created by, or the shares of the capital stock of, development corporations, and while owners of said shares to exercise all the rights, powers and privileges of ownership, including the right to vote thereon, all without the approval of any regulatory agency of this state.

2. Any financial institution is hereby authorized to become a member of a development corporation and to make loans to such corporation.

3. Any financial institution which does not become a member of a development corporation shall not be permitted to acquire any shares of the capital stock of such development corporation.

4. Each financial institution which becomes a member of a development corporation is hereby authorized to acquire, purchase, hold, sell, assign, mortgage, pledge, or otherwise dispose of, any bonds, securities or other evidences of indebtedness created by, or the shares of the capital stock of, the development corporation, of which it is a member and while owners of such shares to exercise all rights, powers and privileges of ownership, including the right to vote thereon, all without the approval of any regulatory agency of this state; provided that the amount of the capital stock of any development corporation which may be acquired by any member pursuant to the authority granted herein, shall not exceed ten percent of the loan limit of such member. The amount of capital stock of a development corporation which any member is authorized to acquire pursuant to the authority granted herein, is in addition to the amount of capital stock in other corporations which such member may otherwise be authorized to acquire.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §496B.8]

496B.9 Loan procedures.

A financial institution may request membership in a development corporation by making application to the board of directors thereof on such form and in such manner as such board of directors may require, and membership shall become effective upon acceptance of such application by said board. Each member of any development corporation shall make loans to such development corporation as and when called upon by that corporation to do so on such terms and conditions as shall be approved from time to time by the board of directors subject to the following:

1. All loan limits shall be established at the thousand dollar amount nearest the amount computed in accordance with the provisions of this section.

2. No loan to a development corporation shall be made if immediately thereafter the total amount of the obligations of the development corporation calling for the loan would exceed ten times the amount then paid in on the outstanding capital stock of such corporation.

3. The total amount outstanding at any one time on loans to a development corporation made by a member thereof when added to the amount of the investment in the capital stock of such corporation and held by such member, shall not exceed the lesser of:

a. Twenty percent of the total amount then outstanding on loans to such development corporation by all members thereof, including in said total amount outstanding amounts validly called for loan but not yet loaned.

b. The limit, to be determined as of the time such member becomes a member, on the basis of the audited balance sheet of such member at the close of its fiscal year immediately preceding its application for membership, as follows:

(1) Banks and trust companies — two percent of the paid-in capital, surplus, and undivided profits.

(2) Savings and loan associations — two percent of the general reserve account, surplus and undivided profits.

(3) Stock life insurance companies — one percent of capital and unassigned surplus.

(4) Mutual life insurance companies — one percent of the unassigned surplus.

(5) All other insurance companies — one-tenth of one percent of the assets.

(6) Other financial institutions — such limits as may be approved by the board of directors of the development corporation.

Provided that the lending limit of any one member shall not exceed two hundred fifty thousand dollars.

4. Each call for loan shall be prorated among the members in substantially the same proportion that the adjusted loan limit of each member bears to the aggregate of the adjusted loan limits of all members. The adjusted loan limit of a member shall be the amount of such member's loan limit, reduced by the balance of outstanding obligations of the corporation to such member and the investment in capital stock of the corporation held by such member at the time of such call.

5. All loans to a development corporation by a member shall be evidenced by registered bonds, debentures, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness of the development corporation, which shall be freely transferable by the registered holder thereof on the books of the corporation.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §496B.9]

496B.10 Duration of membership.

Membership in any development corporation shall be for the duration of the respective development corporation; provided, however, that upon written notice given to the development corporation five years in advance a member thereof may withdraw from membership in such corporation at the expiration date of such notice. Provided that a financial institution may at any time withdraw from membership without such notice in the event of its merger with another financial institution, after commencement of proceedings for voluntary or involuntary dissolution, receivership, or reorganization pursuant to or by operation of federal or state law or in the event of conversion from a state financial institution to a federal financial institution or the reverse. If there shall be a legislative amendment of this chapter affecting the rights and obligations of the members and shareholders or otherwise affecting the articles of incorporation of such corporation which shall not have been approved by the members and shareholders within the time set forth and in the manner provided in this chapter, any member not approving such amendment may immediately withdraw from membership upon giving written notice to the corporation not later than ninety days from the effective date of the amendment. A member shall not be obligated to make any loans to a development corporation pursuant to calls made subsequent to the withdrawal of said member therefrom.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §496B.10]

496B.11 Powers of shareholders.

The shareholders and the members of the development corporation shall have the following powers of such corporation:

1. Those powers granted in the Iowa business corporation Act which are not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter.
2. To determine the number and elect directors as provided herein.
3. To amend the articles of incorporation as provided herein.
4. To dissolve the corporation as provided herein.
5. To exercise such other of the powers of the corporation as may be conferred on the shareholders and the members by the bylaws. As to all matters requiring action by the shareholders and the members of the corporation, such shareholders and such members shall vote separately thereon by classes and, except as may be otherwise herein provided, approval of such matters shall require the affirmative vote of a majority of the votes to which the shareholders present or represented at the meeting are entitled, and the affirmative vote of a majority of the votes to which the members present or represented at the meeting are entitled. Each shareholder shall have one vote, in person or by proxy, for each share of capital stock held by the shareholder, and each member shall have one vote, in person or by proxy, except that any member having a loan limit of more than one thousand dollars shall have one additional vote, in person or by proxy, for each additional one thousand dollars which such member is authorized to have outstanding on loans to the corporation at any one time as determined herein.

496B.12 Articles amended.

The articles of incorporation of any development corporation may be amended by the votes of the shareholders and the members thereof voting separately by classes. Any amendment shall require approval by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the shareholders shall be entitled and two-thirds of the votes to which the members shall be entitled. No amendment, however, shall be made which: (1) is inconsistent with this chapter; (2) authorizes any additional class or classes of shares of capital stock; (3) eliminates or curtails the authority of the department with respect to the corporation. Without the consent of each of the members affected, no amendment shall be made which: (1) increases the obligation of a member to make loans to the corporation; (2) makes any change in the principal amount, interest rate, maturity date, or in the security or credit position of any outstanding loan of a member to the corporation; (3) affects a member's right to withdraw from membership, as provided herein, or (4) affects a member's voting rights in the corporation. Within thirty days after any meeting at which amendment of any such articles has been adopted, articles of amendment signed and sworn to by the president, secretary and majority of the directors, setting forth such amendment and the due adoption thereof, shall be submitted to the director of the department who shall examine them, and if the director finds that they conform to the requirements of this chapter, shall so certify and endorse the director's approval thereof. Thereupon, the articles of amendment shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state in the manner set forth and as provided in the Iowa business corporation Act and no such amendment shall take effect until such articles of amendment shall have been approved and filed as aforesaid. Within sixty days after the effective date of any legislative amendment affecting the rights and obligations of the members and shareholders or otherwise affecting the articles of incorporation, the approval of such legislative amendments shall be voted on by the shareholders and the members of the development corporation at a meeting duly called for that purpose. If such legislative amendment is not approved by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which such shareholders shall be entitled and two-thirds of the votes to which such members shall be entitled, any such member voting against the approval of such legislative amendment shall have the right to withdraw from membership as provided in this chapter. Within thirty days after any meeting at which a legislative amendment affecting the articles of incorporation of a development corporation has been voted on, a certificate filed and sworn to by the secretary or other recording officer of such corporation setting forth the action taken at such meeting with respect to such amendment shall be submitted to the director of the department and upon receipt of such approval shall be filed in the office of the secretary of state.

496B.13 Board of directors.

The board of directors shall consist of such number not less than fifteen as shall be determined in the first instance by the incorporators and thereafter annually by the members and the shareholders at each annual meeting or at any special meeting held in lieu of the annual meeting. At each annual meeting or at any special meeting held in lieu of the annual meeting, the members of each corporation shall elect two-thirds of the board of directors and the shareholders shall elect the remaining directors. The directors shall hold office until the next annual meeting of the corporation or special meeting held in lieu of the annual meeting after their election, and until their successors are elected and qualify unless sooner removed in accordance with the provisions of the bylaws. Any vacancy in the office of a director elected by the members shall be filled by the directors elected by the members, and any vacancy in the office of a director elected by the shareholders shall be filled by the directors elected by the shareholders.

Notwithstanding any provisions of law to the contrary, officers and directors of insurance companies and other financial institutions may be members of the board of directors of any corporation organized for the purposes of this chapter to which the insurance company or other financial institution may make a loan or may make an investment.

496B.14 Earned surplus set aside.

Each year each development corporation shall set apart as earned surplus not less than ten percent of its net earnings for the preceding fiscal year until such surplus shall be equal in value to one-half of the amount paid in on the capital stock then outstanding. Whenever the amount of surplus established herein shall become impaired, it shall be built up again to the required amount in the manner provided for its original accumulation.

Net earnings and surplus shall be determined by the board of directors, after providing for such reserves as said directors deem desirable, and the directors' determination made in good faith shall be conclusive on all persons.

496B.15 Deposit of funds.

No development corporation shall deposit any of its funds in any financial institution unless such institution has been designated as a depository by a vote of a majority of the directors present at any authorized meeting of the board of directors exclusive of any director who is an officer or director of the depository so designated. No development corporation shall receive money on deposit.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §496B.15]

496B.16 Reports to department of economic development.

Each development corporation is subject to the examination of the department and shall make reports of its condition not less than annually to the department. The department shall make copies of the reports available to the commissioner of insurance and the superintendent of banking. Each development corporation shall also furnish other information as the department may require. The department may request the superintendent of banking to examine the condition of a development corporation and to submit a report on the examination to the department and the commissioner of insurance.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §496B.16]

83 Acts, ch 103, §1

496B.17 Certificate to do business.

Upon the approval of the department as required in this chapter and the issuance of a certificate as provided in the Iowa business corporation Act, a development corporation shall then be authorized to commence business and to issue stock thereof to the extent authorized in its articles of incorporation.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §496B.17]

496B.18 Repealed by 79 Acts, ch 120, § 18. See § 502.202(13).

496B.19 Dissolution.

A development corporation may be dissolved upon the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes to which the shareholders thereof shall be entitled and two-thirds of the votes to which the members shall be entitled. Upon any dissolution of a development corporation, none of the corporation's assets shall be distributed to the shareholders until all sums due the members of the corporation as creditors thereof have been paid in full.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §496B.19]

496B.20 State credit not available.

Under no circumstances is the credit of the state of Iowa pledged herein.

496C.2 Definitions.

For words used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions contained in the Iowa business corporation Act, chapter 490, apply, and:

2. “Foreign professional corporation” means a corporation organized under laws other than the laws of this state for a purpose for which a professional corporation may be organized under this chapter.

3. “Licensed” includes registered, certified, admitted to practice, or otherwise legally authorized under the laws of this state.

4. “Profession” means the profession of certified public accountancy, architecture, chiropractic, dentistry, physical therapy, psychology, professional engineering, land surveying, landscape architecture, law, medicine and surgery, optometry, osteopathy, osteopathic medicine and surgery, accounting practitioner, podiatry, speech pathology, audiology, veterinary medicine, pharmacy and the practice of nursing.

5. “Professional corporation” means a corporation subject to this Act, except a foreign professional corporation.

6. “Regulating board” means any board, commission, court, or governmental authority which, under the laws of this state, is charged with the licensing, registration, certification, admission to practice, or other legal authorization of the practitioners of any profession.

7. “Voluntary transfer” includes any sale, voluntary assignment, gift, pledge, or encumbrance; any voluntary change of legal or equitable ownership or beneficial interest; or any voluntary change of persons having voting rights with respect to any shares, except as proxies; but does not include any transfer of an individual’s shares or other property to a guardian or conservator appointed for such individual or the individual’s property.

496C.3 Applicability of Iowa business corporation Act.

The Iowa business corporation Act shall be construed as part of this chapter and shall apply to professional corporations, including, but not limited to, their organization, reports, fees, authority, powers, rights, and the regulation and conduct of their affairs. The provisions of the Iowa business corporation Act on foreign corporations shall apply to foreign professional corporations. The provisions of this chapter shall prevail over any inconsistent provisions of the Iowa business corporation Act or any other law.

496C.4 Purposes and powers.

A professional corporation shall be organized only for the purpose of engaging in the practice of one specific profession, or two or more specific professions which could lawfully be practiced in combination by a licensed individual or a partnership of licensed individuals, and for the additional purpose of doing all lawful things which may be incidental to or necessary or convenient in connection with the practice of the profession or professions. The articles of incorporation shall state in substance that the purposes for which the corporation is organized are to engage in the general practice of a specified profession or professions, or one or more specified branches or divisions thereof, and to do all lawful things which may be incidental to or necessary or convenient in connection with the practice of the profession or professions. Each professional corporation, unless otherwise provided in its articles of incorporation or unless expressly prohibited by this chapter, shall have all powers granted to corporations by the Iowa business corporation Act.

496C.5 Corporate name.

The corporate name of a professional corporation, the corporate name of a foreign professional corporation or its name as modified for use in this state, and any fictitious name or trade name adopted by a professional corporation or foreign professional corporation shall contain the words "professional corporation" or the abbreviation "P.C.", and except for the addition of such words or abbreviation, shall be a name which could lawfully be used by a licensed individual or by a partnership of licensed individuals in the practice in this state of a profession which the corporation is authorized to practice. Each regulating board may by rule or regulation adopt additional requirements as to the corporate names and fictitious or trade names of professional corporations and foreign professional corporations which are authorized to practice a profession which is within the jurisdiction of the regulating board.

[C71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §496C.5]
90 Acts, ch 1205, §32

496C.6 Who may incorporate.

One or more individuals having capacity to contract, each of whom is licensed to practice in this state a profession which the professional corporation is to be authorized to practice, may act as incorporators of a professional corporation.

[C71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §496C.6]

496C.7 Practice by professional corporation.

Notwithstanding any other statute or rule of law, a professional corporation may practice a profession, but may do so in this state only through shareholders, directors, officers, employees, and agents who are licensed to practice the same profession in this state.

In its practice of a profession, no professional corporation shall do any act which could not lawfully be done by individuals licensed to practice the profession which the professional corporation is authorized to practice.

496C.8 Professional regulation.

No professional corporation shall be required to register with or to obtain any license, registration, certificate, or other legal authorization from any regulating board in order to practice a profession. Except as provided in this section, nothing in this chapter shall restrict or limit in any manner the authority or duties of any regulating board with respect to individuals practicing any profession which is within the jurisdiction of the regulating board, even if the individual is a shareholder, director, officer, employee, or agent of a professional corporation or foreign professional corporation and practices the individual's profession through such corporation.

[C71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §496C.8]

496C.9 Relationship and liability to persons served.

This chapter does not modify any law applicable to the relationship between an individual practicing a profession and a person receiving professional services, including, but not limited to, any liability arising out of such practice and any law respecting privileged communications.

This chapter does not modify or affect the ethical standards or standards of conduct of any profession, including, but not limited to, any standards prohibiting or limiting the practice of the profession by a corporation or prohibiting or limiting the practice of two or more professions in combination. All such standards shall apply to the shareholders, directors, officers, employees, and agents through whom a professional corporation practices any profession in this state, to the same extent that the standards apply to an individual practitioner.

Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, the liability of the shareholders of a professional corporation, as shareholders, shall be limited in the same manner and to the same extent as in the case of a corporation organized under the Iowa business corporation Act.

[C71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §496C.9]

496C.10 Issuance of shares.

Shares of a professional corporation may be issued, and treasury shares may be disposed of, only to individuals who are licensed to practice in this state, or in any other state or territory of the United States or in the District of Columbia, a profession which the corporation is authorized to practice.

Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation or bylaws, the affirmative vote or consent in writing of all of the outstanding shareholders entitled to vote, or such lesser proportion as may be provided in the articles or bylaws, is necessary in order to authorize the issuance of any shares or the disposal of any treasury shares, and to fix the consideration for shares or treasury shares.

No shares of a professional corporation shall at any time be issued in, transferred into, or held in joint tenancy, tenancy in common, or any other form of joint ownership or co-ownership.

The Iowa securities law shall not be applicable to nor govern any transaction relating to any shares of a professional corporation.

[C71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §496C.10]

496C.11 Transfer of shares.

No shareholder or other person shall make any voluntary transfer of any shares in a professional corporation to any person, except to the professional corporation or to an individual who is licensed to practice in this state a profession which the corporation is authorized to practice.

Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation or bylaws, the affirmative vote or consent in writing of all of the outstanding shareholders entitled to vote, or such lesser proportion as may be provided in the articles or bylaws, is necessary in order to authorize any voluntary transfer of any shares of a professional corporation.

The articles of incorporation or bylaws may contain any additional provisions restricting the transfer of shares.

[C71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §496C.11]

496C.12 Convertible securities — stock rights and options.

No professional corporation shall create or issue any securities convertible into shares of the professional corporation. The provisions of this chapter with respect to the issuance and transfer of shares and disposal of treasury shares apply to the creation, issuance, and transfer of any rights or options entitling the holder to purchase from a professional corporation any shares of the corporation, including treasury shares. Rights or options shall not be transferable, whether voluntarily, involuntarily, by operation of law, or in any other manner. Upon the death of the holder, or whenever the holder ceases to be licensed to practice in this state a profession which the corporation is authorized to practice, the rights or options shall expire.

496C.13 Voting trust — proxy.

No shareholder of a professional corporation shall create or enter into a voting trust or any other agreement conferring upon any other person the right to vote or otherwise represent any shares of a professional corporation, and no such voting trust or agreement is valid or effective. Any proxy of a shareholder of a professional corporation shall be an individual licensed to practice in this state a profession which the corporation is authorized to practice. Any provision in any proxy instrument denying the right of the shareholder to revoke the proxy at any time or for any period of time is not valid or effective. This section does not otherwise limit the right of a shareholder to vote by proxy, but the articles of incorporation or bylaws may further limit or deny the right to vote by proxy.

496C.14 Required purchase by professional corporation of its own shares.

Notwithstanding any other statute or rule of law, a professional corporation shall purchase its own shares as provided in this section; and the shareholders of a professional corporation and their executors, administrators, legal representatives, and successors in interest, shall sell and transfer the shares held by them as provided in this section.

The corporation may validly purchase its own shares even though its net assets are less than its stated capital, or even though by so doing its net assets would be reduced below its stated capital.

Upon the death of a shareholder, the professional corporation shall immediately purchase all shares held by the deceased shareholder.

In order to remain a shareholder of a professional corporation, a shareholder shall at all times be licensed to practice in this state a profession which the corporation is authorized to practice. Whenever any shareholder does not have or ceases to have this qualification, the corporation shall immediately purchase all shares held by that shareholder.

Whenever any person other than the shareholder of record becomes entitled to have shares of a corporation transferred into that person's name or to exercise voting rights, except as a proxy, with respect to shares of the corporation, the corporation shall immediately purchase such shares. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, this section shall be applicable whether the event occurs as a result of the appointment of a guardian or conservator for a shareholder or the shareholder's property, transfer of shares by operation of law, involuntary transfer of shares, judicial proceedings, execution, levy, bankruptcy proceedings, receivership proceedings, foreclosure or enforcement of a pledge or encumbrance, or any other situation or occurrence. However, this section does not apply to any voluntary transfer of shares as defined in this chapter.

Shares purchased by the corporation under the provisions of this section shall be transferred to the corporation as of the close of business on the date of the death or other event which requires purchase. The shareholder and the shareholder's executors, administrators, legal representatives, or successors in interest, shall promptly do all things which may be necessary or convenient to cause transfer to be made as of the transfer date. However, the shares shall promptly be transferred on the stock transfer books of the corporation as of the transfer date, notwithstanding any delay in transferring or surrendering the shares or certificates representing the shares, and the transfer shall be valid and effective for all purposes as of the close of business on the transfer date. The purchase price for such shares shall be paid as provided in this chapter, but the transfer of shares to the corporation as provided in this section shall not be delayed or affected by any delay or default in making payment.

Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section, purchase by the corporation is not required upon the occurrence of any event other than death of a shareholder, if the corporation is dissolved within sixty days after the occurrence of the event. The articles of incorporation or bylaws may provide that purchase is not required upon the death of a shareholder, if the corporation is dissolved within sixty days after the death.

Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation or bylaws or in an agreement among all shareholders of the professional corporation:

1. The purchase price for shares shall be their book value as of the end of the month immediately preceding the death or other event which requires purchase. Book value shall be determined from the books and records of the professional corporation in accordance with the regular method of accounting used by the corporation, uniformly and consistently applied. Adjustments to book value shall be made, if necessary, to take into account work in process and accounts receivable. Any final determination of book value made in good faith by any independent certified public accountant or firm of certified public accountants employed by the corporation for the purpose shall be conclusive on all persons.

2. The purchase price shall be paid in cash as follows: Upon the death of a shareholder, thirty percent of the purchase price shall be paid within ninety days after death, and the balance shall be paid in three equal annual installments on the first three anniversaries of the death. Upon the happening of any other event referred to in this section, one-tenth of the purchase price shall be paid within ninety days after the date of such event, and the balance shall be paid in three equal annual installments on the first three anniversaries of the date of the event.

3. Interest from the date of death or other event shall be payable annually on principal payment dates, at the rate of six percent per annum on the unpaid balance of the purchase price.

4. All persons who are shareholders of the professional corporation on the date of death or other event, and their executors, administrators, and legal representatives, shall, to the extent the corporation fails to meet its obligations hereunder, be jointly liable for the payment of the purchase price and interest in proportion to their percentage of ownership of the corporation's shares, disregarding shares of the deceased or withdrawing shareholder.

5. The part of the purchase price remaining unpaid after the initial payment shall be evidenced by a negotiable promissory note, which shall be executed by the corporation and all shareholders liable for payment. Any person liable on the note shall have the right to prepay the note in full or in part at any time.

6. If the person making any payment is not reasonably able to determine which of two or more persons is entitled to receive a payment, or if the payment is payable to a person who is unknown, or who is under disability and there is no person legally competent to receive the payment, or who cannot be found after the exercise of reasonable diligence by the person making the payment, it shall be deposited with the treasurer of state and shall be subject to the provisions of the Iowa business corporation Act with respect to funds deposited with the treasurer of state upon the voluntary or involuntary dissolution of a corporation.

7. Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, no part of the purchase price shall be required to be paid until the certificates representing such shares have been surrendered to the corporation.

8. Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, payment of any part of the purchase price for shares of a deceased shareholder shall not be required until the executor or administrator of the deceased shareholder provides any indemnity, release, or other document from any taxing authority, which is reasonably necessary to protect the corporation against liability for estate, inheritance, and death taxes.

The articles of incorporation or bylaws or an agreement among all shareholders of a professional corporation may provide for a different purchase price, a different method of determining the purchase price, a different interest rate or no interest, and other terms, conditions, and schedules of payment.

The articles of incorporation or bylaws or an agreement among all shareholders of a professional corporation may provide for the optional or mandatory purchase of its own shares by the corporation in other situations, subject to any applicable law regarding such purchase.

496C.15 Certificates representing shares.

Each certificate representing shares of a professional corporation shall state in substance that the certificate represents shares in a professional corporation and is not transferable except as expressly provided in this chapter and in the articles of incorporation and bylaws of the corporation.

[C71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §496C.15]

496C.16 Management.

All directors of a professional corporation and all officers of a professional corporation except assistant officers, shall at all times be individuals who are licensed to practice in this state a profession which the corporation is authorized to practice. No person who is not licensed shall have any authority or duties in the management or control of the corporation. If any director or any officer ceases to have this qualification, the director or officer shall immediately and automatically cease to hold the directorship or office.

[C71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §496C.16]

496C.17 Bylaws.

The initial bylaws of a professional corporation shall be adopted by its board of directors. The power to alter, amend, or repeal the bylaws or adopt new bylaws is reserved to and vested in the shareholders unless granted to the board of directors by the articles of incorporation.

[C71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §496C.17]

496C.18 Merger or consolidation.

No professional corporation shall merge or consolidate with any other corporation except another professional corporation subject to this chapter. Merger or consolidation shall not be permitted unless the surviving or new corporation is a professional corporation which complies with all requirements of this chapter.

[C71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §496C.18]

496C.19 Dissolution or liquidation.

Violation of any provision of this chapter by a professional corporation or any of its shareholders, directors, or officers, shall be cause for its involuntary dissolution, or liquidation of its assets and business by the district court, as provided in the Iowa business corporation Act. Upon the death of the last remaining shareholder of a professional corporation, or whenever the last remaining shareholder is not licensed or ceases to be licensed to practice in this state a profession which the corporation is authorized to practice, or whenever any person other than the shareholder of record becomes entitled to have all shares of the last remaining shareholder of the corporation transferred into that person's name or to exercise voting rights, except as a proxy, with respect to such shares, the corporation shall not practice any profession and it shall be promptly dissolved. However, if prior to such dissolution all outstanding shares of the corporation are acquired by one or more persons licensed to practice in this state a profession which the corporation is authorized to practice, the corporation need not be dissolved and may practice the profession as provided in this chapter.

496C.20 Foreign professional corporation.

A foreign professional corporation may practice a profession in this state if it complies with the provisions of the Iowa business corporation Act on foreign corporations. The secretary of state may prescribe forms for such purpose.

A foreign professional corporation may practice a profession in this state only through shareholders, directors, officers, employees, and agents who are licensed to practice the profession in this state. The provisions of this chapter with respect to the practice of a profession by a professional corporation apply to a foreign professional corporation.

The certificate of authority of a foreign professional corporation may be revoked by the secretary of state as provided in the Iowa business corporation Act, if the foreign professional corporation fails to comply with any provision of this chapter.

This chapter shall not be construed to prohibit the practice of a profession in this state by an individual who is a shareholder, director, officer, employee, or agent of a foreign professional corporation, if the individual could lawfully practice the profession in this state in the absence of any relationship to a foreign professional corporation. The preceding sentence shall apply regardless of whether or not the foreign professional corporation is authorized to practice a profession in this state.

[C71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §496C.20]

496C.21 Biennial report.

Each biennial report of a professional corporation or foreign professional corporation shall, in addition to the information required by the Iowa business corporation Act, set forth:

1. The name and address of one shareholder.
2. In the case of a professional corporation, a statement under oath whether or not all shareholders, directors, and officers, except assistant officers, of the corporation are licensed to practice in this state a profession which the corporation is authorized to practice, and whether or not all employees and agents of the corporation who practice a profession in this state on behalf of the corporation are licensed to practice the profession in this state.
3. In the case of a foreign professional corporation, a statement under oath whether or not all shareholders, directors, officers, employees, and agents who practice a profession in this state on behalf of the corporation are licensed to practice the profession in this state.
4. Additional information necessary or appropriate to enable the secretary of state or regulating board to determine whether the professional corporation or foreign professional corporation is complying with this chapter.

Information shall be set forth on forms prescribed and furnished by the secretary of state.

A corporation subject to the provisions of this chapter shall pay the biennial filing fee and make the biennial report in a form and manner and at the time specified in chapter 490.

496C.22 Corporations organized under other laws.

This chapter shall not apply to or interfere with the practice of any profession by or through any corporation hereafter organized under any other law of this state or any other state or country, if such practice is lawful under any other statute or rule of law of this state.

Any corporation subject to the provisions of the Iowa business corporation Act may voluntarily elect to adopt this chapter and become subject to its provisions, by amending its articles of incorporation to be consistent with all provisions of this chapter and by stating in its amended articles of incorporation that the corporation has voluntarily elected to adopt this chapter.

Any corporation organized under any law of any other state or country may become subject to the provisions of this chapter by complying with all provisions of this chapter with respect to foreign professional corporations.

497.1 Purposes of cooperative.

Any number of persons, not less than five, may associate themselves as a cooperative association, society, company, or exchange, for the purpose of conducting any agricultural, dairy, ethanol production, mercantile, mining, manufacturing, or mechanical business on the cooperative plan. For the purposes of this chapter, the words “association”, “company”, “corporation”, “exchange”, “society”, or “union”, shall be construed to mean the same.

497.2 Articles of incorporation.

They shall sign and acknowledge written articles which shall contain the name of said association and the names and residences of the persons forming the same. Such articles shall also contain a statement of the purposes of the association, and shall designate the city or village where its principal place of business shall be located. Such articles shall also state the amount of capital stock, the number of shares, and the par value of each.

497.3 Filing — certificate of incorporation.

The original articles of incorporation of associations organized under this chapter shall be filed with the secretary of state, and be by the secretary recorded in a book kept for that purpose; and if such articles comply with the provisions of sections 497.1 and 497.2, the secretary shall issue a certificate of incorporation to the association. No publication of notice of the incorporation of such an association shall be required.

[SS15, §1641-r3; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8461; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §497.3] 94 Acts, ch 1055, §9

497.4 Fee.

For filing the articles of incorporation of associations organized under this chapter, there shall be paid to the secretary of state ten dollars, and for the filing of an amendment to such articles, five dollars; provided that when the capital stock of such corporation shall be less than five hundred dollars, such fee for filing either the articles of incorporation or amendments thereto shall be one dollar. In all cases there shall be paid a recording fee of fifty cents per page.

497.5 Board of directors.

Every such association shall be managed by a board of not less than five directors, who shall be elected by and from the stockholders at such time and for such term of office as the bylaws may prescribe, and shall hold office for the time for which elected and until their successors are elected and qualify.

497.6 Removal.

A majority of the stockholders shall have the power at any regular or special stockholders' meeting, legally called, to remove any director or officer for cause, and fill the vacancy, and thereupon the director or officer so removed, shall cease to be a director or officer of said corporation.

[SS15, §1641-r5; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8464; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §497.6]

497.7 Officers.

The officers of every such association shall be a president, one or more vice presidents, a secretary, and a treasurer, who shall be elected annually by the directors, and each of said officers must be a director of the association. The offices of secretary and treasurer may be combined, and when so combined the person filling the office shall be secretary-treasurer.

497.8 Amending articles.

The association may amend its articles of incorporation by a majority vote of its stockholders at any regular stockholders' meeting, or at any special stockholders' meeting called for that purpose, on ten days' notice to all stockholders. Said power to amend shall include the power to increase or diminish the amount of capital stock and the number of shares; provided the amount of the capital stock shall not be diminished below the amount of paid-up capital at the time the amendment is adopted.

497.9 Record of amendments.

Within thirty days after the adoption of an amendment to its articles of incorporation, an association shall cause a copy of the amendment adopted to be recorded in the office of the secretary of state.

[SS15, §1641-r6; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8467; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §497.9] 94 Acts, ch 1055, §11

497.10 Powers.

An association created under this chapter shall have power to conduct any agricultural, dairy, mercantile, mining, manufacturing, or mechanical business, on the cooperative plan, and may buy, sell, and deal in the products of any other cooperative company heretofore or hereafter organized under the provisions hereof.

[SS15, §1641-r7; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8468; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §497.10]

497.11 Ownership of shares and voting power limited.

No stockholder in any such association shall own shares of a greater aggregate par value than five thousand dollars, except as hereinafter provided, nor shall a stockholder be entitled to more than one vote.

[SS15, §1641-r8; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8469; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §497.11]

497.12 Stockholding.

At any regular meeting, or any regularly called special meeting, at which at least a majority of all of its stockholders shall be present, or represented, an association organized under this chapter, may by a majority vote of the stockholders present or represented, subscribe for shares and invest its reserve fund, not to exceed twenty-five percent of its capital, in the capital stock of any other cooperative association.

[SS15, §1641-r9; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8470; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §497.12]

497.13 Issue of shares as payment.

Whenever an association created under this chapter shall purchase the business of another association, person, or persons, it may pay for the same in whole or in part by issuing to the selling association or person shares of its capital stock to an amount, which at fair market value as determined by the executive council, would equal the fair market value of the business so purchased as determined by the executive council as in cases of other corporations.

[SS15, §1641-r10; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8471; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §497.13]

Payment in property other than money, §492.6 et seq.

497.14 May act as trustee.

In case the cash value of such purchased business exceeds one thousand dollars, the directors of the association are authorized to hold the shares in excess of one thousand dollars in trust for the vendor, and dispose of the same to such persons, and within such times, as may be mutually satisfactory to the parties in interest, and to pay the proceeds thereof as currently received to the former owner of said business.

497.15 Paid-up stock — right to vote.

Certificates of stock shall not be issued to any subscriber until fully paid, but the bylaws of the association may allow subscribers to vote as stockholders; provided part of the stock subscribed for has been paid in cash.

[SS15, §1641-r11; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8473; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §497.15]

497.16 Voting by mail.

At any regularly called general or special meeting of the stockholders, a written vote received by mail from any absent stockholder, and signed by that stockholder, may be read in such meeting, and shall be equivalent to a vote of each of the stockholders so signing, provided the stockholder has been previously notified in writing by the secretary of the exact motion or resolution upon which such vote is taken, and a copy of same is forwarded with and attached to the vote so mailed by the stockholder.

[SS15, §1641-r12; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8474; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §497.16]

497.17 Reserve fund.

The board of directors, subject to revision by the association at any general or special meeting, shall each year set aside not less than ten percent of the net profits for a reserve fund, until an amount has accumulated therein equal to fifty percent of the paid-up capital stock.

[SS15, §1641-r13; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8475; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §497.17]

497.18 Educational fund — dividends.

The board may each year, out of remaining net profits, subject to the approval of the association at any general or special meeting:

1. Provide an educational fund to be used in teaching cooperation, not exceeding five percent of the net profits.

2. Declare and pay a dividend on the stock, not exceeding ten percent.

[SS15, §1641-r13; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8476; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §497.18]

497.19 Additional dividends.

The remainder of said net profits shall be distributed by uniform dividends upon the amount of purchases of shareholders, and upon the wages and salaries of employees. In producing associations, such as creameries, canneries, elevators, factories, and the like, dividends shall be on raw material delivered instead of on goods purchased. In case the association is both a selling and a producing concern, the dividends may be on both raw material delivered and goods purchased by patrons.

[SS15, §1641-r13; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8477; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §497.19]

497.20 When dividends distributed.

The profits or net earnings of such associations shall be distributed to those entitled thereto, at such times as the bylaws shall prescribe, which shall be as often as once in twelve months.

[SS15, §1641-r14; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8478; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §497.20]

497.21 Dissolution.

If such association, for five consecutive years, shall fail to declare a dividend upon the shares of its paid-up capital, five or more stockholders, by petition, setting forth such fact, may apply to the district court of the county wherein is situated its principal place of business in this state, for its dissolution. If, upon hearing, the allegations of the petition are found to be true, the court may adjudge a dissolution of the association.

[SS15, §1641-r14; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8479; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §497.21]

497.22 Biennial report — penalty.

Sections 504A.83 and 504A.84 apply to a cooperative association organized under this chapter in the same manner as those sections apply to a corporation organized under chapter 504A. In addition to the information required to be set forth in the biennial report under section 504A.83, the cooperative association shall also set forth the total amount of business transacted, number of members, total expense of operation, total amount of indebtedness, and total profits or losses for each calendar or fiscal year of the two-year period which ended immediately preceding the first day of January of the year in which the report is filed.

A cooperative association which fails to comply with this section before April 1 of the year in which the report is due is subject to a penalty of ten dollars.

[SS15, §1641-r15; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8480; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §497.22]

97 Acts, ch 171, §26

497.23 Exemption from report.

Any corporation organized under the provisions of this chapter after the first day of January shall be exempt from the provisions of section 497.22 for the year in which incorporated, after which it shall, however, be subject to all of the provisions of said section.

[C27, 31, 35, §8480-a1; C39, §8480.1; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §497.23]

497.24 List of delinquents.

In the month of April of each year the secretary of state shall prepare a list of all delinquent corporations and file the same in the secretary of state's office.

[C27, 31, 35, §8480-a2; C39, §8480.2; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §497.24]

497.25 Notice to delinquents.

On or before the first day of May of the year the report is due the secretary of state shall mail to each delinquent association a notice of such delinquency and of the penalties provided in section 497.22.

[C27, 31, 35, §8480-a3; C39, §8480.3; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §497.25]
97 Acts, ch 171, §27

497.26 Cancellation.

If the biennial report required is not filed and penalties paid on or before the last day of June the secretary of state shall, on the first day of July following, cancel the name of any delinquent corporation from the list of live corporations in the secretary of state's office, and enter such cancellation on the proper records.

[C27, 31, 35, §8480-a4; C39, §8480.4; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §497.26]
2000 Acts, ch 1022, §6
Section amended

497.27 Effect of cancellation.

When so canceled the corporate rights of any such corporation shall be forfeited and its corporate period terminated on the date such cancellation shall have been entered on the records of the secretary of state's office.

497.28 Reinstatement of corporation.

Any corporation whose corporate rights have been canceled and forfeited in the manner provided herein may, however, before September 1 following such cancellation, make application to the secretary of state for reinstatement and upon being furnished good and sufficient reasons for not having filed its report the secretary shall, upon the filing of such report and the payment of the penalty, reinstate said corporation and the decree of cancellation shall be annulled and the corporation shall be entitled to continue to act as a corporation for the unexpired portion of its corporate period as fixed by its articles of incorporation and the limitations prescribed by law.

497.29 Chapter extended to former companies.

All cooperative corporations, companies, or associations heretofore organized and doing business under prior statutes, or which have attempted to so organize and do business, shall have the benefit of all the provisions of this chapter and be bound thereby, on filing with the secretary of state, amended and substituted articles of incorporation drawn in accordance with the provisions of this chapter and a written declaration, signed and sworn to by the president and secretary to the effect that said cooperative company or association has by a majority vote of its stockholders decided to accept the benefits of and to be bound by the provisions hereof.

[SS15, §1641-r16; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8481; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §497.29]

497.30 Use of term "cooperative" restricted.

No corporation or association organized after July 4, 1915, shall be entitled to use the term "cooperative" as part of its corporate or other business name or title, unless it has complied with the provisions of this chapter, and any corporation or association violating the provisions of this section may be enjoined from doing business under such name at the instance of any stockholder of any association legally organized under the provisions of this chapter.

[SS15, §1641-r17; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8482; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §497.30]

497.31 Use of funds.

None of the funds of any association organized under the provisions of this chapter shall be used in the payment of any promotion; as commissions, salaries or expenses of any kind, character, or nature whatsoever.

[SS15, §1641-r18; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8483; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §497.31]

497.32 Private property exempt.

The private property of the stockholders shall be exempt from execution for the debts of the corporation.

[SS15, §1641-r19; C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8484; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §497.32]

497.33 Personal liability.

Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, a director, officer, employee, or member of the corporation is not liable on the corporation's debts or obligations and a director, officer, member, or other volunteer is not personally liable in that capacity, for a claim based upon an act or omission of the person performed in the discharge of the person's duties, except for a breach of the duty of loyalty to the corporation, for acts or omissions not in good faith or which involve intentional misconduct or knowing violation of the law, or for a transaction from which the person derives an improper personal benefit.

87 Acts, ch 212, §6

497.34 Indemnification.

A cooperative association operating under this chapter may indemnify any present or former director, officer, employee, member, or volunteer in the manner and in the instances authorized in sections 490.850 through 490.858, provided that where sections 490.850 through 490.858 provide for action by shareholders the sections are applicable to action by voting members of the cooperative association, and where sections 490.850 through 490.858 refer to the corporation organized under chapter 490 the sections are applicable to the cooperative association organized under this chapter, and where sections 490.850 through 490.858 refer to the director the sections are applicable to a director, officer, employee, member, or volunteer of the cooperative association organized under this chapter.

497.35 Statement to estate of stockholder.

The board of directors, upon receiving actual notice of a stockholder's death, shall provide a statement to the administrator or executor of the stockholder's estate, or to the attorney representing the stockholder's estate. The statement shall describe agricultural products owned by the stockholder which are in the possession of the association.

This section shall not require an association to conduct a search of the status of its stockholders. The association shall exercise reasonable diligence in determining to whom the statement must be delivered. The statement shall be delivered to the administrator, executor, or attorney, within thirty days following a determination as to whom the statement must be delivered. A statement is not required to be prepared or delivered, if the association is not notified of the stockholder's death within one year after the date of death, or by the date that the stockholder's estate is closed, whichever is later.

498.1 Nature.

Associations organized under the provisions of this chapter are declared to be not for pecuniary profit.

[C27, 31, 35, §8485-b1; C39, §8485.1; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §498.1]

498.2 Purposes of cooperative — limitation.

Any number of persons, not less than five, may associate themselves as a cooperative association, without capital stock, for the purpose of conducting any agricultural, livestock, horticultural, dairy, ethanol production, mercantile, mining, manufacturing, or mechanical business, or the constructing and operating of telephone and high tension electric transmission lines on the cooperative plan and of acting as a cooperative selling agency. Cooperative livestock shipping associations organized under this chapter shall do business with members only.

92 Acts, ch 1099, §8

498.3 Terms defined — products of nonmembers.

For the purpose of this chapter, the words “association”, “exchange”, “society”, or “union”, shall be construed to mean the same and are defined to mean a corporate body composed of actual producers or consumers of the given commodity handled by the association, whose business is conducted for the mutual benefit of its members and not for the profit of stockholders, and control of which is vested in its members upon the basis of one vote to each member. Associations shall not deal in the products of nonmembers to an amount greater in value than such as are handled by it for members.

498.4 Articles — personal liability.

They shall sign and acknowledge written articles, which shall contain the name of the association and the names and residences of the incorporators. Such articles shall also contain a statement of the purposes of the association, the amount of the membership fee, and shall designate the city or village where its principal place of business shall be located, and the manner in which such articles may be amended, and any limitation which the members propose to place upon their personal liability for the debts of the association.

498.5 Filing — certificate of incorporation.

The original articles of incorporation shall be filed for record with the secretary of state. Upon approval of such articles, the secretary of state shall issue a certificate of incorporation.

[C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8489; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §498.5]

498.6 Fees.

For filing the articles of incorporation of associations organized under this chapter, there shall be paid to the secretary of state five dollars, and for the filing of an amendment to such articles, two dollars. In all cases there shall be paid a recording fee of fifty cents per page.

[C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8490; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §498.6]

498.7 Amendments.

Within thirty days after the adoption of any amendment to its articles of incorporation, the association shall cause a copy of such amendment to be recorded in the office of the secretary of state.

[C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8491; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §498.7]

498.8 Board of directors — removals.

Every such association shall be managed by a board of not less than five directors, who shall be elected by and from the members at such time and for such term of office as the articles may prescribe. They shall hold office until their successors are elected and qualify; but a majority of the members shall have the power at any regular or special meeting of the association legally called, to remove any director or officer for cause, and fill the vacancy.

498.9 Officers.

The officers of every such association shall be a president, one or more vice presidents, a secretary, and treasurer, who shall be elected annually by the directors, from amongst their own number. The offices of secretary and treasurer may be held by the same person.

498.10 Admission of members.

Under the terms and conditions prescribed in its bylaws, an association may admit as members persons engaged in the production of the products, or in the use or consumption of the supplies, to be handled by or through the association, including the lessors and landlords of lands used for the production of such products, who receive as rent part of the crop raised on the leased premises.

[C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8494; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §498.10]

498.11 Membership certificates.

Membership certificates in due form shall be issued to all charter members and to such others as shall subsequently be admitted by the association in accordance with its articles and bylaws.

[C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8495; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §498.11]

498.12 Certificates nontransferable — surrender.

No such certificate shall be transferable by the member to any other person, but shall be surrendered to the association in case of the member's voluntary withdrawal.

498.13 Automatic cancellation — revocation.

It shall become void upon the member's death, or may be revoked by the directors upon proof duly made that the member has ceased to be a producer of products handled by or through the association, in the case of producing or selling associations or has ceased to be the user of products handled by or through the association in case of stores and supply associations, or for failure to observe its bylaws or the member's contractual obligations to it.

498.14 Conditions printed on certificates.

The conditions of membership specified in sections 498.12 and 498.13 shall be printed upon the face of every membership certificate.

[C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8498; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §498.14]

498.15 Combinations of local associations.

Likewise, associations may be formed under this chapter whose membership shall consist of other associations formed under the provisions of this chapter, the purpose being to federate local associations into central cooperative associations for the more economical and efficient performance of their marketing or other operations.

[C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8499; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §498.15]

498.16 Powers of central associations.

Such central associations may enter into contracts, agreements and arrangements with their member associations. Each member association in such federated associations shall have an official representative chosen by its own board of directors, who shall cast one vote and no more at all business meetings of the federated association.

[C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8500; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §498.16]

498.17 Voting power.

Each member of an association shall be entitled to one vote and no more upon all questions affecting the control and management of the affairs of the association and in the selection of its board of directors.

[C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8501; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §498.17]

498.18 Proxies — voting by mail.

No vote by proxy shall be permitted, but a written vote received by mail from any absent member, and signed by that member, may be read and counted at any regular or special meeting of the association, provided that the secretary shall notify all members in writing of the exact motion or resolution upon which such vote is to be taken, and a copy of same shall be forwarded with and attached to the vote so mailed by the member.

498.19 Power to compel sales and purchases — liquidated damages.

The association may require members to sell all or a stipulated part of their specifically enumerated products exclusively through the association or to buy specifically enumerated supplies exclusively through the association, but in such case, a reasonable period during each year shall be specified during which any member, by giving notice in prescribed form, may be released from such obligation thereafter. Where it is desired to enter into the exclusive arrangement provided in this section, the association shall execute a contract with each such member setting forth what goods or wares are to be handled and upon what terms. In order to protect itself in the necessary outlay, which it may make for the maintenance of its services, the association may stipulate that some regular charge shall be paid by the member for each unit of goods covered by such contract whether actually handled by the association or not, and in order to reimburse the association for any loss or damage which it or its members may sustain through the member's failure to deliver the member's products to or to procure the member's supplies from the association.

In case it is difficult or impracticable to determine the actual amount of damage suffered by the association or its members through such failure to comply with the terms of such a contract, the association and the member may agree upon a sum to be paid as liquidated damages for the breach of the member's contract, said amount to be stated in the contract.

498.20 Financial power.

Every association may borrow money necessary for the conduct of its business, and may issue notes, bonds, or debentures therefor, and may give security in the form of mortgage or otherwise for the repayment thereof.

[C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8504; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §498.20]

498.21 Personal liability.

Members of such association may limit their personal liability to the amount of their membership fee as provided in their articles of incorporation.

[C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8505; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §498.21]

498.22 Cost of service — dues.

Associations formed under this chapter shall perform services on a basis of the lowest practicable cost, and may provide for meeting the cost thereof through dues, assessments, or service charges, which shall be prescribed in the bylaws. Such charges shall be set high enough to provide a margin of safety above current operating costs and fixed charges upon borrowed capital.

[C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8506; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §498.22]

498.23 Reserve and educational funds — patronage dividends.

Out of any surplus remaining in any given year, the directors shall each year set aside not less than ten percent of such savings for the accumulation of a reserve fund until such reserve shall equal at least forty percent of the invested capital of the association, not less than one percent nor more than five percent for a permanent educational fund from which expenditures shall be made annually at the discretion of the directors for the purpose of teaching co-operation, and the remainder to be returned to the members as a patronage dividend prorated on a uniform basis to each member upon the value of business done by that member through the association.

498.24 Biennial report — penalty.

Sections 504A.83 and 504A.84 apply to a cooperative association organized under this chapter in the same manner as those sections apply to a corporation organized under chapter 504A. In addition to the information required to be set forth in the biennial report under section 504A.83, the cooperative association shall also set forth the total amount of business transacted, number of members, total expense of operation, total amount of indebtedness, and total profits or losses for each calendar or fiscal year of the two-year period which ended immediately preceding the first day of January of the year in which the report is filed.

A cooperative association which fails to comply with this section before April 1 of the year in which the report is due is subject to a penalty of ten dollars.

[C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8508; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §498.24]

97 Acts, ch 171, §28

498.25 Exemption from report.

Any corporation organized under the provisions of this chapter after the first day of January shall be exempt from the provisions of section 498.24 for the year in which incorporated, after which it shall, however, be subject to all of the provisions of said section.

[C27, 31, 35, §8508-a1; C39, §8508.1; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §498.25]

498.26 List of delinquents.

In the month of April of each year the secretary of state shall prepare a list of all delinquent corporations and file the same in the secretary of state's office.

[C27, 31, 35, §8508-a2; C39, §8508.2; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §498.26]

498.27 Notice to delinquents.

On or before the first day of May of the year the report is due the secretary of state shall mail to each delinquent association a notice of such delinquency and of the penalties provided in section 498.24.

[C27, 31, 35, §8508-a3; C39, §8508.3; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §498.27]

97 Acts, ch 171, §29

498.28 Cancellation.

If the biennial report required is not filed and penalties paid on or before the last day of June the secretary of state shall, on the first day of July following, cancel the name of any delinquent corporation from the list of live corporations in the secretary of state's office, and enter such cancellation on the proper records.

[C27, 31, 35, §8508-a4; C39, §8508.4; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §498.28]

2000 Acts, ch 1022, §7

Section amended

498.29 Effect of cancellation.

When so canceled the corporate rights of any such corporation shall be forfeited and its corporate period terminated on the date such cancellation shall have been entered on the records of the secretary of state's office.

498.30 Reinstatement of corporation.

Any corporation whose corporate rights have been canceled and forfeited in the manner provided herein may, however, before September 1 following such cancellation, make application to the secretary of state for reinstatement and upon being furnished good and sufficient reasons for not having filed its report the secretary shall, upon the filing of such report and the payment of the penalty, reinstate said corporation and the decree of cancellation shall be annulled and the corporation shall be entitled to continue to act as a corporation for the unexpired portion of its corporate period as fixed by its articles of incorporation and the limitations prescribed by law.

498.31 Chapter extended to former associations.

All corporations, or associations heretofore organized and doing business under prior statutes, or which have attempted so to organize and do business cooperatively, shall have the benefit of all the provisions of this chapter and be bound thereby, on filing with the secretary of state amended and substituted articles of incorporation drawn in accordance with the provisions of this chapter and a written declaration signed and sworn to by the president and secretary, to the effect that said company or association has, by a majority vote of its stockholders, decided to accept the benefits of and to be bound by the provisions of this chapter.

498.32 Use of term “cooperative” — injunction.

No corporation or association hereafter organized shall be entitled to use the term “cooperative” as part of its corporate or other business name or title, unless it has complied with the provisions of this chapter or of chapter 497, and any corporation or association violating the provisions of this chapter may be enjoined from doing business under such name at the instance of any stockholder of any association legally organized under the provisions of this chapter.

498.33 Use of funds — promotion expenses.

None of the funds of any association shall be used for purposes of any promotion as commissions, salaries, or expenses of any kind, character, or nature whatsoever, except that in the case of associations operating in more than one county, if the par value of securities to be sold is in excess of one hundred thousand dollars, a sum not to exceed five percent of the par value of bonds or debentures sold may be used by committees elected by the members for selling or soliciting for the sale of such securities or for hiring responsible salaried solicitors for that purpose.

498.34 Duration of incorporation — renewal.

Associations formed under the provisions of this chapter shall continue for a period of twenty-five years, unless earlier dissolved by order of its members or by other processes as by law provided, and the term of its existence may be renewed by the filing of new articles of association, as by law provided.

[C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8512; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §498.34]

498.35 Personal liability.

Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, a director, officer, employee, or member of the association is not liable on the association's debts or obligations and a director, officer, member, or other volunteer is not personally liable in that capacity, for a claim based upon an act or omission of the person performed in the discharge of the person's duties, except for a breach of the duty of loyalty to the association, for acts or omissions not in good faith or which involve intentional misconduct or knowing violation of the law, or for a transaction from which the person derives an improper personal benefit.

87 Acts, ch 212, §7

498.36 Indemnification.

A cooperative association operating under this chapter may indemnify any present or former director, officer, employee, member, or volunteer in the manner and in the instances authorized in sections 490.850 through 490.858, provided that where sections 490.850 through 490.858 provide for action by shareholders the sections are applicable to action by voting members of the cooperative association, and where sections 490.850 through 490.858 refer to the corporation organized under chapter 490 the sections are applicable to the cooperative association organized under this chapter, and where sections 490.850 through 490.858 refer to the director the sections are applicable to a director, officer, employee, member, or volunteer of the cooperative association organized under this chapter.

498.37 Statement to estate of stockholder.

The board of directors, upon receiving actual notice of a member's death, shall provide a statement to the administrator or executor of the member's estate, or to the attorney representing the member's estate. The statement shall describe agricultural products owned by the member which are in the possession of the association.

This section shall not require an association to conduct a search of the status of its members. The association shall exercise reasonable diligence in determining to whom the statement must be delivered. The statement shall be delivered to the administrator, executor, or attorney, within thirty days following a determination as to whom the statement must be delivered. A statement is not required to be prepared or delivered, if the association is not notified of the member's death within one year after the date of death, or by the date that the member's estate is closed, whichever is later.

499.79 Statement to estate of members and stockholders.
 499.80 Member information.
 499.81 through 499.84 Repealed by 77 Acts, ch 127, §9.

499.1 Applicable.

This chapter applies only to cooperative associations as defined in section 499.2. All such associations formed from and after July 4, 1935 must be organized under this chapter.

[C35, §8512-g1; C39, §8512.01; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.1]

499.2 Definitions.

“Agricultural associations” are those formed to produce, grade, blend, preserve, process, store, warehouse, market, sell, or handle an agricultural product, or a by-product of an agricultural product; to produce ethanol; to purchase, produce, sell, or supply machinery, petroleum products, equipment, fertilizer, supplies, business services, or educational service to or for those engaged as bona fide producers of agricultural products; to finance any such activities; or to engage in any cooperative activity connected with or for any number of these purposes.

“Agricultural products” include horticultural, viticultural, forestry, dairy, livestock, poultry, bee and any other farm products.

“Association” means a corporation formed under this chapter.

A “cooperative association” is one which deals with or functions for its members at least to the extent required by section 499.3; and which distributes its net earnings among its members in proportion to their dealings with it, except for limited dividends or other items permitted in this chapter; and in which each voting member has one vote and no more.

paid in cash to the association by other cooperative organizations of which the association is a member. However, if the board of directors fails to make a determination with respect to a deceased member’s deferred patronage dividends prior to the member’s death, then “local deferred patronage dividends” means that portion of the member’s deferred patronage dividends which is proportional to the deferred patronage dividends described in section 499.30 less the amount of undistributed net earnings which have been allocated to the association by other cooperative organizations of which the association is a member, compared to all deferred patronage dividends of the association.

“Local deferred patronage preferred stock” of an association means preferred stock, if any, of an association which has been issued in exchange for local deferred patronage dividends. If preferred stock has been issued in exchange for deferred patronage dividends prior to the time the board of directors of the association has determined the portion of each member’s deferred patronage dividend which represents local deferred patronage dividends, then the board of directors may reasonably determine what portion of the preferred stock was issued in exchange for local deferred patronage dividends and the portion which was issued for other deferred patronage dividends.

“Member” refers not only to members of non-stock associations but also to common stockholders of stock associations, unless the context of a particular provision otherwise indicates.

86 Acts, ch 1196, §1; 88 Acts, ch 1026, §1; 92 Acts, ch 1099, §9

499.3 Dealing with nonmembers.

A nonstock livestock shipping association shall not handle livestock of any nonmembers.

Any association may limit its dealings or any class thereof to members only.

No association shall, during any year, deal or function with or for nonmembers to an extent exceeding one-half of the value of business done. This provision shall not apply to its sales or services to municipal or governmental bodies; nor to agricultural associations' purchases from or sales to corporate landowners who are not primarily engaged in the business of farming.

499.4 Use of term “cooperative” restricted.

No person or firm, and no corporation hereafter organized, which is not an association as defined in this chapter or a cooperative as defined in chapter 501, shall use the word “cooperative” or any abbreviation thereof in its name or advertising or in any connection with its business, except foreign associations admitted under section 499.54. The attorney general or any association or any member thereof may sue and enjoin such use.

[C35, §8512-g4; C39, §8512.04; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.4]
97 Acts, ch 23, §56

499.5 Permissible organizers.

1. Five or more individuals, or two or more associations, may organize an association.

2. All individual incorporators of agricultural associations must be engaged in producing agricultural products, which phrase includes landlords and tenants as specified in section 499.13.

3. A nonprofit water utility organized under chapter 357A or 504A may elect to become an association under this chapter upon majority vote of its members by filing with the secretary of state a statement confirming the election and appropriate articles of incorporation. However, the association is subject to the service limitation provisions contained in sections 357.1A and 357A.2.

4. A telephone company organized as a corporation under chapter 491 and qualifying pursuant to an internal revenue service letter ruling under Internal Revenue Code § 501(c)(12) as a nonprofit corporation entitled to distribute profits in a manner similar to an association under this chapter may reorganize as an association under this chapter upon the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes cast by the shares entitled to vote in an election at a meeting at which a majority of all shares entitled to vote cast a vote.

88 Acts, ch 1172, §3; 90 Acts, ch 1164, §1; 96 Acts, ch 1044, §1

499.5A Water utilities — members of federated associations.

Notwithstanding section 499.13, a water utility organized under this chapter, a municipal water utility, or a water district organized under chapter 357, 357A, or 504A may be a member of a federated association.

88 Acts, ch 1172, §4; 94 Acts, ch 1137, §2

499.6 Purposes.

A cooperative association may be organized under this chapter for any lawful purpose or purposes.

[C35, §8512-g6; C39, §8512.06; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.6]

88 Acts, ch 1026, §2; 88 Acts, ch 1172, §5

499.7 Powers.

Except as expressly limited in its articles, each association has the following powers:

1. To conduct business, carry on operations, establish and operate offices, and exercise all powers granted by this chapter in or outside this state.

2. To borrow any amounts of money, and give any form of obligation or security therefor.

3. To make advances to patrons or members, or members of member-associations, and take any form of obligation or security therefor.

4. To acquire, hold, transfer or pledge any obligation or security representing funds actually advanced or used for any cooperative activity; or stock, memberships, bonds or obligations of any cooperative organization dealing in any product handled by the association, or any by-product thereof.

5. To make any contract, endorsement or guaranty it deems desirable incident to its transfer or pledge of any obligation or security.

6. To acquire, own or dispose of any real or personal property deemed convenient for its business, including patents, trademarks and copyrights.

7. To exercise any power, right or privilege suitable or necessary for, or incident to, promoting or accomplishing any of its powers, purposes or activities, or granted to ordinary corporations, save such as are inconsistent with this chapter.

8. To exercise any of its powers anywhere. No association organized under this chapter shall engage in the business of banking.

[C35, §8512-g7; C39, §8512.07; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.7]

88 Acts, ch 1026, §3

499.8 Contracts authorized.

An agricultural association may contract with any member for the member's exclusive sale to or through it, of all or any part of the member's agricultural products or other designated commodities. Such contracts may permit the association to take and sell the property without acquiring title thereto, and pay the member the sale price less costs and expenses of selling, which may include the member's pro rata portion of the association's annual outlay for overhead, interest, preferred dividends, reserves or other specified charges. Such contracts must be for a specified time, not less than one year. Each contract shall fix a period of at least ten days during each year after the first, within which either party may terminate it without affecting any liability previously accrued.

499.9 Penalties — performance — injunction — arbitration.

Contracts permitted by section 499.8 may provide that the member pay the association any sum, fixed in amount or by a specified method of computation, for each violation thereof; also all the association's expenses of any suit thereon, including bond premiums and attorney's fees. All such provisions shall be enforced as written, whether at law or in equity, and shall be deemed proper measurement of actual damages, and not penalties or forfeitures.

The association may obtain specific performance of any such contract, or enjoin its threatened or continued breach, despite the adequacy of any legal or other remedy.

If the association files a verified petition, showing an actual or threatened breach of any such contract and seeking any remedy therefor, the court shall, without notice or delay but on such bond as it deems proper, issue a temporary injunction against such breach or its continuance.

The parties to such contracts may agree to arbitrate any controversy subsequently arising thereunder, and fix the number of arbitrators and method of their appointment. Such agreements shall be valid and irrevocable, except on such grounds as invalidate contracts generally. If they specify no method for appointing arbitrators, or if either party fails to follow such method, or if for any reason arbitrators are not named or vacancies filled, either party may apply to the district court to designate the necessary arbitrator, who shall then act under the agreement with the same authority as if named in it. Unless otherwise agreed, there shall be but one arbitrator.

499.10 Cooperative agreements.

Any association may make any agreement or arrangement with any other association or cooperative organization for the cooperative or more economical carrying on of any of its business. Any number of such associations or organizations may unite to employ or use, or may separately employ or use, the same methods, means or agencies for conducting their respective businesses.

[C35, §8512-g10; C39, §8512.10; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.10]

499.11 Legality declared.

No association, contract, method or act which complies with this chapter shall be deemed a conspiracy or combination in restraint of trade or an illegal monopoly, or an attempt to lessen business or fix prices arbitrarily, or to accomplish any improper or illegal purpose.

[C35, §8512-g11; C39, §8512.11; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.11]

499.12 Exemption of private property.

The private property of the members or stockholders shall be exempt from execution for the debts of the corporation.

[C35, §8512-g12; C39, §8512.12; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.12]

499.13 Membership — eligibility.

A membership or share of common stock shall not be issued to, or held by, any person unless the person is eligible for membership in the association under its articles. A person may be eligible only if the person is engaged in producing a product marketed by the association, the person customarily consumes or uses the supplies or commodities that the association handles, or the person uses the services that the association renders. A farm tenant or landlord who receives a share of agricultural products as rent may be eligible for membership in an agricultural association as a producer. A cooperative association engaged in any directly or indirectly related activity may be eligible for membership. An association may be formed which includes among its members cooperative associations or restricts its membership to cooperative associations.

[C35, §8512-g13; C39, §8512.13; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.13]

499.14 Membership in nonstock associations.

Membership in associations without capital stock may be acquired by eligible parties in the manner provided in the articles, which shall specify the rights of members, the issuing price of memberships, and what, if any, fixed dividends accrue thereon. If the articles so provide, membership shall be of two classes, voting and nonvoting. Voting members shall be agricultural producers, and all other members shall be nonvoting members. Nonvoting members shall have all the rights of membership except the right to vote.

[C35, §8512-g14; C39, §8512.14; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.14]

499.14A Electric cooperative association memberships.

An electric generation and transmission cooperative association may have one or more classes of members. Qualifications, requirements, methods of acceptance, terms, conditions, termination, and other incidents of membership shall be set forth in the bylaws of the association. An electric utility as defined in section 476.22 and a person who generates or transmits electric power for sale at wholesale to an electric utility may become a member in accordance with the bylaws.

93 Acts, ch 94, §1

499.15 Contents of certificates.

The association shall issue certificates of membership or stock, each of which states the fixed dividend, if any, and the restrictions or limitations upon its ownership, voting, transfer, redemption or cancellation.

[C35, §8512-g15; C39, §8512.15; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.15]

499.16 Subscriptions — issuing certificates.

If permitted by the association's articles of incorporation, any eligible subscriber for common stock or membership may vote and be treated as a member, after making part payment for the common stock or membership in cash, giving the subscriber's note for the balance, and satisfying any other requirement for the subscription as set forth in the articles. A subscription may be forfeited as provided in section 499.32. Stock or a membership certificate shall not be issued until payment for the stock or membership certificate is fully made. A subscriber shall not hold office until the subscriber's certificate has been issued.

[C35, §8512-g16; C39, §8512.16; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.16]

97 Acts, ch 17, §3

499.17 Transfer of stock or membership.

No common stock shall be transferable, unless the articles expressly provide for transfer to others eligible for membership. Such provision may require that the transfer be preceded by an offer to the association, or be otherwise restricted. No nonstock membership shall be transferable, and all certificates thereof shall be surrendered to the association on the member's voluntary withdrawal.

[C35, §8512-g17; C39, §8512.17; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.17]

499.18 Expulsion of members.

The directors may expel any member if the member has attempted to transfer that member's membership or stock in violation of its terms, or has willfully violated any article or bylaw which provides for such penalty.

[C35, §8512-g18; C39, §8512.18; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.18]

499.19 Cancellation of membership or stock.

If a common stockholder or member dies, or becomes ineligible, or is expelled, that person's stock or membership shall forthwith be canceled. In cases of expulsion the association shall pay the stockholder or member its value as shown by the books on the date of cancellation, but not more than its original issuing price, within sixty days thereafter. In cases of death or ineligibility, it shall pay such value to the stockholder or member or the stockholder's or member's personal representative within two years thereafter, without interest.

[C35, §8512-g19; C39, §8512.19; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.19]

499.20 Withdrawal of members.

The articles may permit and regulate voluntary withdrawal of members and the resulting cancellation of their common stock and memberships.

[C35, §8512-g20; C39, §8512.20; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.20]

499.21 Obligations not affected.

The death, expulsion or withdrawal of a member shall not impair the member's contracts, debts, or obligations to the association.

[C35, §8512-g21; C39, §8512.21; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.21]

499.22 Capital stock.

An association with capital stock may divide the shares into common and preferred stock. Par value stock shall not be issued for less than par. The general corporation laws shall govern the consideration for which no-par stock is issued. If the articles so provide, common stock may be issued in two classes, voting and nonvoting. Voting stock shall be issued to all agricultural producers and nonvoting stock to all other members. Voting stock or nonvoting stock may be issued to a cooperative association as provided in the articles of incorporation of the association issuing the stock. Nonvoting stock shall have all privileges of membership except the right to vote. Preferred stock held by nonmembers shall not exceed in amount that held by members.

[C35, §8512-g22; C39, §8512.22; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.22]

97 Acts, ch 17, §4; 98 Acts, ch 1100, §67

499.23 Dividends on common stock.

Unless the articles provide that common stock shall receive no dividends, the directors may declare noncumulative dividends thereon at such rate as they may fix, not exceeding eight percent per annum.

[C35, §8512-g23; C39, §8512.23; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.23]

499.24 Preferred stock.

Preferred stock shall bear cumulative or noncumulative dividends as fixed by the articles, not exceeding eight percent per annum. It shall have no vote. It shall be issued and be transferable without regard to eligibility or membership, and be redeemable on terms specified in the articles and as provided for in this chapter. The directors shall determine the time and amount of its issue.

[C35, §8512-g24; C39, §8512.24; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.24]

499.25 Issuing preferred stock in purchases.

An association may discharge all or any part of obligations incurred in purchasing any business, property or stock, or an interest therein, by issuing its authorized preferred stock in an amount not exceeding the fair market value of the thing purchased. Issuance of such stock shall be upon the fair market value of the property purchased, as determined through an appraisal made by the directors or a competent appraiser employed by the directors. Such preferred stock shall be valid as though paid for in cash.

[C35, §8512-g25; C39, §8512.25; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.25]

90 Acts, ch 1164, §2

499.26 Service charges.

Unless the articles otherwise provide, the bylaws or the directors may prescribe charges to be made to each member for services rendered the member or upon products bought from or sold to the member, and the time and manner of their collection.

[C35, §8512-g26; C39, §8512.26; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.26]

499.27 Meetings.

Regular meetings of members shall be held at least once each year, the first of which shall be on the date specified in its articles. Unless otherwise provided in the articles or bylaws, subsequent meetings shall be on the same date in each succeeding year.

Unless otherwise provided in the articles, the directors may call special meetings of members, and must do so upon written demand of twenty percent of the members.

Unless the member waives it in writing, each member shall have ten days' written notice of the time and place of all meetings, and of the purpose of all special meetings. Such notice shall be given to the member in person or by mail directed to the member's address as shown on the books of the association, or if the articles so provide, by publication in a regular publication of general circulation among its members, or a newspaper of general circulation published at the principal place of business of the association.

[C35, §8512-g27; C39, §8512.27; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.27]

Articles of incorporation, §499.40

499.28 Number of votes.

No member may own more than one membership or share of common stock. Each voting member shall be entitled to one vote and no more at all corporate meetings.

[C35, §8512-g28; C39, §8512.28; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.28]

499.29 Manner of voting.

Votes shall be cast in person, and not by proxy. The vote of a member-association shall be cast only by its representative duly authorized in writing. If the articles or bylaws permit, a member may cast that member's vote, in advance of the meeting, upon any proposition of which the member has been previously notified in writing.

[C35, §8512-g29; C39, §8512.29; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.29]

96 Acts, ch 1115, §1

499.30 Distribution of earnings.

The directors shall annually dispose of the earnings of the association in excess of its operating expenses as follows:

1. To provide a reasonable reserve for depreciation, obsolescence, bad debts, or contingent losses or expenses.

2. a. To the extent that the cooperative association is operating on a pooling basis, the board of directors of the cooperative association shall determine the portion of the remaining earnings derived from the pool that will be added to the surplus. The cooperative association is operating on a pooling basis, if the association markets, sells, or handles an agricultural product and all of the following apply:

(1) The product is a pool composed by commingling units of the same kind of product which are contributed to the cooperative association by its members.

(2) The earnings of the association are computed without deducting a charge for products delivered by members of the association who are contributing units to be commingled in the product pool.

The board of directors may provide an advance payment to the members of the association contributing units of the product to be commingled in the product pool during the contribution period.

b. To the extent that the cooperative association is not operating on a pooling basis as provided in this subsection, at least ten percent of the remaining earnings must be added to surplus until surplus equals either thirty percent of the total of all capital paid in for stock or memberships, plus all unpaid patronage dividends, plus certificates of indebtedness payable upon liquidation, earnings from nonmember business, and earnings arising from the earnings of other cooperative organizations of which the association is a member, or one thousand dollars, whichever is greater. No additions shall be made to surplus when it exceeds either fifty percent of the total, or one thousand dollars, whichever is greater, without the approval of the membership by a majority of votes cast.

3. Not less than one percent nor more than five percent of earnings in excess of reserves may be placed in an educational fund, to be used as the directors deem suitable for teaching or promoting cooperation.

4. After disposing of earnings as provided in subsections 1 and 2, the cooperative association shall pay any fixed dividends on stock or memberships.

5. Notwithstanding an association's articles of incorporation, for each taxable year of the association, the association shall allocate all remaining net earnings to the account of each member, including subscribers described in section 499.16, ratably in proportion to the business the member did with the association during that year. The directors shall determine, or the articles of incorporation or bylaws of the association may specify, the percentage or the amount of the allocation to be currently paid in cash. However, for a cooperative association other than a public utility as defined in section 476.1, the amount to be currently payable in cash shall not exceed twenty percent of the allocation during any period when unpaid local deferred patronage dividends of deceased members for prior years are outstanding. Notwithstanding the twenty percent allocation limitation, the directors of a cooperative association or the articles of incorporation or bylaws of the association may specify any percentage or amount to be currently paid in cash to the estates of deceased natural persons who were members. All the remaining allocation not paid in cash shall be transferred to a revolving fund as provided in section 499.33 and credited to the members and subscribers. The credits in the revolving fund are referred to in this chapter as deferred patronage dividends.

86 Acts, ch 1196, §2, 3; 94 Acts, ch 1058, §1; 95 Acts, ch 106, §1; 96 Acts, ch 1115, §2

499.31 Control of allocation by members.

The members may at any meeting control the amount to be allocated to surplus or educational fund, within the limits specified in section 499.30, or the amount to be allocated to reserves.

[C35, §8512-g31; C39, §8512.31; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.31]

499.32 Patronage dividends of subscribers.

Patronage dividends to subscribers whose stock or membership is not fully paid in cash shall be applied toward such payment until it is completed. If the articles or bylaws so provide, subscriptions not fully paid within two years may be canceled and all payments or patronage dividends thereon forfeited.

[C35, §8512-g32; C39, §8512.32; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.32]

499.33 Use of revolving fund.

1. The directors may use a revolving fund to pay the obligations or add to the capital of the association or retire its preferred stock. In that event the deferred patronage dividends credited to members constitute a charge on the revolving fund, on future additions to the revolving fund, and on the corporate assets, subordinate to existing or future creditors and preferred stockholders. Except as otherwise provided in subsection 2, deferred patronage dividends for any year have priority over those for subsequent years.

2. a. Prior to other payments of deferred patronage dividends or redemption of preferred stock held by members, the directors of a cooperative association, other than a cooperative association which is a public utility as defined in section 476.1, shall pay local deferred patronage dividends and redeem local deferred patronage preferred stock of deceased natural persons who were members, and may pay deferred patronage dividends or may redeem preferred stock of deceased natural persons who were members or of members who become ineligible, without reference to the order of priority.

b. The directors of a cooperative association which is a public utility as defined in section 476.1 may pay deferred patronage dividends and redeem preferred stock of deceased natural persons who were members, and may pay all other deferred patronage dividends or redeem preferred stock of members without reference to priority.

3. Payment of deferred patronage dividends or the redemption of preferred stock shall be carried out to the extent and in the manner specified in the bylaws of the association.

[C35, §8512-g33; C39, §8512.33; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.33]

86 Acts, ch 1196, §4; 95 Acts, ch 106, §2

499.34 Patronage dividend certificates.

If its articles or bylaws so provide, an association may issue transferable or nontransferable certificates for deferred patronage dividends.

[C35, §8512-g34; C39, §8512.34; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.34]

499.35 Time of payment.

Credits or certificates referred to in sections 499.33 and 499.34 shall not mature until the dissolution or liquidation of the association, but shall be callable by the association at any time in the order of priority specified in section 499.33.

[C35, §8512-g35; C39, §8512.35; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.35]

499.36 Directors.

1. The affairs of each association shall be managed by a board of directors.

2. a. A director must be a member of the association or an officer or a member of a member-association. A director shall be elected by the members as prescribed by the association's articles of incorporation.

b. At least five directors shall serve on the association's board. The number of directors shall be established in accordance with the association's articles of incorporation or bylaws. If a board has the power to fix or change the number of directors, the board may increase or decrease by thirty percent or less the number of directors last approved by the members. Only the members may increase or decrease by more than thirty percent the number of directors last approved by the members.

c. The articles of incorporation may establish a variable range for the size of the board by fixing a minimum and maximum number of directors. If a variable range is established, the number of directors may be fixed or changed from time to time, within the minimum and maximum number, by the members or the board. After shares are issued, only the members may change the range for the size of the board, change from a fixed to a variable-range-size board, or change from a variable-size to a fixed-size board.

3. a. Unless the articles or bylaws otherwise provide, if a vacancy occurs on the board, including a vacancy resulting from an increase in the number of directors, the vacancy may be filled by any of the following:

- (1) The shareholders.
- (2) The board.

(3) If the directors remaining in office constitute fewer than a quorum of the board, the directors may fill the vacancy by the affirmative vote of all the directors remaining in office.

b. A vacancy that will occur at a specific later date, by reason of a resignation effective at a later date, may be filled before the vacancy occurs. The new director shall not take office until the vacancy occurs.

4. The articles or bylaws may permit the directors to select an executive committee from their own number; and may prescribe its authority, which may be coextensive with that of the whole board.

5. Directors shall be elected by districts, if the articles specify the districts, the number of directors from each district, the manner of nomination, redistricting, or reapportionment, and whether directors are to be directly elected by the members or by delegates chosen by them. Districts shall be formed and redistricting shall be ordered, from time to time, so that the districts contain as nearly as possible an equal number of members. The bylaws shall describe the district boundaries currently in effect.

6. Unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws provide otherwise, the board of directors may permit any or all directors to participate in a regular or special meeting through the use of any means of communication by which all directors participating are able to simultaneously hear each other during the meeting. A director participating in a meeting pursuant to this subsection is deemed to be present in person at the meeting.

7. Unless the articles of incorporation or bylaws provide otherwise, an action required or permitted by this chapter to be taken at a board of directors' meeting may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all members of the board. The action must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by each director, and filed with the corporate records reflecting the action taken. An action taken under this subsection is effective when the last director signs the consent, unless the consent specifies a different effective date. A consent signed under this subsection is deemed to have the same effect as a meeting vote and may be described as such in any document.

499.37 Officers and employees.

The directors shall select from their own number a president, one or more vice presidents, a secretary-treasurer or a secretary and a treasurer, and shall fill vacancies in such offices. Unless the articles or bylaws otherwise provide, said officers shall be chosen for annual terms at the close of the first regular meeting of members in each year.

The directors shall also choose and may remove such other officers and employees as they deem proper, or as the articles or bylaws may prescribe.

[C35, §8512-g37; C39, §8512.37; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.37]

499.38 Removal of officers and directors.

At any meeting called for that purpose, any officer or director may be removed by vote of a majority of all voting members of the association. A director chosen under section 499.36, subsection 5, may likewise be removed by vote of a majority of all members in the director's district.

[C35, §8512-g38; C39, §8512.38; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.38]

499.39 Referendum.

If provided for in the articles of incorporation, any action of directors shall, on demand of one-third of the directors made and recorded at the same meeting, be referred to a regular or special meeting of members called for such purpose. Such action shall stand until and unless annulled by a majority of the votes cast at such meeting, which vote shall not impair rights of third parties previously acquired.

[C35, §8512-g39; C39, §8512.39; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.39]

499.40 Articles.

Articles of incorporation must be signed and acknowledged by each incorporator. They may deal with any fiscal or internal affair of the association or any subject hereof in any manner not inconsistent with this chapter. All articles must state in the English language:

1. The name of the association, which must include the word “cooperative”; and the address of its principal office.
2. The purposes for which it is formed, and a statement that it is organized under this chapter.
3. Its duration, which may be perpetual.
4. The name, occupation and post-office address of each incorporator.
5. The following information regarding the directors:
 - a. Their number.
 - b. Whether there is a fixed number or a variable range as provided in section 499.36. If a variable range is established, the information shall include the minimum and maximum number.
 - c. Their qualifications.
 - d. Their terms of office.
 - e. How they shall be chosen and removed from office.
6. Who are eligible for membership, how members shall be admitted and membership lost, how earnings shall be distributed among members, how assets shall be distributed in liquidation, and, in addition, either:
 - a. That the association shall have capital stock; the classes, par value and authorized number of shares of each class thereof; how shares shall be issued and paid for; and what rights, limitations, conditions and restrictions pertain to the stock, which shall be alike as to all stock of the same class; or
 - b. That the association shall have no capital stock, and what limitations, conditions, restrictions and rights pertain to membership; and if the rights are unequal, the rules respecting them shall be specifically stated.
7. The date of the first regular meeting of members.
8. The name and street address of the association’s initial registered agent.

[C35, §8512-g40; C39, §8512.40; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.40]

499.41 Amendments.

Notwithstanding the provisions of the articles of incorporation of any association pertaining to amendment thereto now in effect, any association may amend its articles of incorporation by a vote of sixty-six and two-thirds percent of the members present, or represented by mailed ballots, and having voting privileges, at any annual meeting or any special meeting called for that purpose, provided that at least ten days before said annual meeting or special meeting a copy of the proposed amendment or summary thereof be sent to all members having voting rights; or said articles of incorporation may be amended in accordance with the amendment requirements contained in the articles or bylaws of said association that are adopted subsequent to July 4, 1963, or are in effect on or after July 4, 1964, provided said amendment requirements in the articles or bylaws are not less than established in this section.

Amendments shall be executed and filed as provided in section 499.44.

499.42 Renewal.

An association may extend its duration perpetually, or for any definite time, by resolution adopted by a majority of all its members, or any different vote for which the articles may provide, at a meeting called for that purpose and held before its original expiration.

Unless the association has meanwhile wound up, its duration may be extended in like manner within three years after its original expiration, with the same effect as if done prior thereto, by a vote of two-thirds of all its members.

The resolution must state the name of the association, its original expiration date, and for how long thereafter its duration is extended, and must also adopt, and designate officers to execute, renewal articles of incorporation containing the things required in section 499.40.

The renewal articles shall be executed and filed as required by section 499.41. Renewal shall not relieve the association from fees, charges, or penalties which may have accrued against it.

[C35, §8512-g42; C39, §8512.42; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.42]

499.43 Existing corporations — option.

An existing Iowa cooperative corporation organized pursuant to chapter 497, by a majority vote of all its members, at a meeting called for that purpose and held before its present articles expire, may amend its articles to comply with this chapter and section 499.40, which may extend its corporate duration. The amended articles shall be executed and filed, and a certificate of incorporation issued, as required by section 499.44. Upon issuance of the certificate, the corporation shall be deemed an association under this chapter.

Any such existing corporation whose present articles have now expired, or will expire before January 1, 1938, may adopt this chapter as above provided at any time before that date, with the same effect as though done before such articles expired.

If any shareholder or member of such corporation vote against such amendment, those voting for it shall purchase that person's stock or interest at its real value, within two years from the date of such vote, paying interest thereon at the rate of six percent until paid. The association may retire the stock or interest thus purchased.

If any shareholder or member of such corporation shall not be eligible to continue membership under such amendment, the association shall within two years after the amendment is filed purchase and retire that person's stock or membership for its real value.

It shall be presumed that the real value of such stock or interest is its proportionate share of the corporate assets at book value less liabilities as shown by its books.

499.43A Existing cooperatives organized under chapter 498 — option.

A cooperative association organized under chapter 498 may elect to be governed by and to comply with the provisions of this chapter. The election shall be governed by the following procedures:

1. The board of directors and members must adopt a resolution reciting that the cooperative association elects to be governed by and to comply with this chapter. The cooperative association, to the extent necessary, shall change its name to comply with the provisions of this chapter. The resolution shall be adopted according to the same procedures as provided in section 499.41. Upon the adoption of the resolution, the cooperative association shall execute an instrument on forms prescribed by the secretary of state. The instrument must be signed by the president and secretary and verified by one of the officers signing the instrument. The instrument shall include all of the following:

a. The name of the cooperative association, before and after this election.

b. A description of each resolution adopted by the cooperative association pursuant to this section, including the date each resolution was adopted.

2. The instrument shall be filed with the secretary of state. The cooperative association shall amend its articles of incorporation pursuant to section 499.41 to comply with the provisions of this chapter. The secretary of state shall not file the instrument unless the cooperative association is in compliance with the provisions of chapter 498 at the time of filing. A cooperative association shall file a biennial report which is due pursuant to section 499.49. Upon filing the instrument with the secretary, all of the following shall apply:

a. The cooperative association shall be deemed to be organized under this chapter and the provisions of this chapter shall apply to the cooperative association.

b. The secretary of state shall issue a certificate to the cooperative association acknowledging that it is deemed to be organized under this chapter.

3. The application of this chapter to the cooperative association does not affect a right accrued or established, or liability or penalty incurred pursuant to chapter 498, prior to the filing of the instrument with the secretary of state.

Subsection 2, unnumbered paragraph 1 amended

499.44 Execution and filing of documents.

1. The secretary of state shall record all documents submitted to and required to be filed with the secretary under this chapter.

2. A document required to be filed with the secretary of state pursuant to this chapter must be executed. The person executing the document must be the association's presiding officer of the board of directors, or the association's president or other officer. However, if the board of directors has not been selected or the association has not been formed, the document must be signed by an incorporator of the association. If the association is under the control of a person acting as a fiduciary of the association, including a trustee or receiver, the document must be signed by the fiduciary.

A document required to be executed shall contain the printed name of the person executing the document and the capacity in which the person serves the association. The signature of the person must appear above or opposite the person's printed name and capacity. In the discretion of the secretary of state, a document containing a copy of the person's signature may be accepted for filing. The document may also contain a corporate seal, an attestation by the secretary of state or person charged by the secretary, or an acknowledgment, verification, or proof that the execution is valid.

3. Articles of incorporation, amendments to articles, or renewal of articles must be filed with the secretary of state, and recorded in the county where the association has its principal place of business, as required by the general corporation laws. The association's corporate existence shall begin upon approval by the secretary of state of the articles and issuance of the certificate of incorporation.

4. A document required to be filed with the secretary of state pursuant to this chapter is effective at the later of the following times:

a. The time of filing on the date it is filed, as evidenced by the secretary of state's date and time endorsement on the original document.

b. The delayed effective time and date specified in the document. If a delayed effective date but no time is specified in the document, the document is effective at the close of business on that date. A delayed effective date for a document shall not be later than the ninetieth day after the date it is filed.

5. A document filed under this section may be corrected if the document contains an incorrect statement or the execution of the document was defective. A document is corrected by filing with the secretary articles of correction which describe the document to be corrected, including its filing date or a copy of the document. The articles must specify the incorrect statement or defective execution, and correct the incorrect statement or defective execution.

Articles of correction are deemed to be effective on the date that the document corrected took or takes effect. However, as applied to persons relying upon the uncorrected document or adversely affected by the articles of correction, the effective date of the articles of correction is the date that the articles are filed.

499.46 Bylaws.

The directors, by a vote of seventy-five percent of the directors, may adopt, alter, amend, or repeal bylaws for the association, which shall remain in force until altered, amended, or repealed by a vote of seventy-five percent of the members present or represented having voting privileges, at any annual meeting or special meeting of the membership, provided that at least ten days' prior written notice of the impending membership vote has been mailed to all members of the association with a copy or summary of the proposed adoption, alteration, amendment, or repeal of the bylaws. Proposals by members to adopt, alter, amend, or repeal bylaws by vote of the membership shall be presented to the association's registered office for mailing to the membership by the association at least twenty days prior to the meeting at which the proposed change is to be considered. Bylaws shall be kept by the secretary subject to inspection by any member at any time. Bylaws may deal with the fiscal or internal affairs of the association or any subject of this chapter in any manner not inconsistent with this chapter or the articles.

499.47 Dissolution.

1. An association whose duration has expired, or which is sooner dissolved by voluntary act of its members, shall continue to exist for the purpose of winding up its affairs until its complete liquidation under subsection 3 hereof.

2. An association may be dissolved by two-thirds of all votes cast at any meeting called for that purpose at which a majority of all voting members vote.

3. Upon the expiration or voluntary dissolution of an association, the members shall designate three of their number as trustees to replace the officers and directors and wind up its affairs. The trustees shall have all the powers of the board, including the power to sell and convey real or personal property and execute conveyances. Within the time fixed in their designation, or any extension of that time, the trustees shall liquidate the association's assets, pay its debts and expenses, and distribute remaining funds among the members. Upon distribution of remaining assets the association shall stand dissolved and cease to exist. The trustees shall make and sign a duplicate report of the dissolution. One copy of the report shall be filed with the secretary of state and one copy of the report shall be filed with the recorder of the county where the articles were recorded.

4. The trustees and their successors in office shall be chosen, and the time for their action fixed and extended, by a majority of all votes cast at any meeting called for such purpose.

499.47A Sale or other disposition of assets in regular course of business and mortgage or pledge of assets.

The sale, lease, exchange, or other disposition of the property and assets of a cooperative association, when made in the usual and regular course of the business of the cooperative association, and the mortgage or pledge of any or all of the property and assets of the cooperative association, may be made upon such terms and conditions and for such consideration, which may consist in whole or in part of money or property, real or personal, including shares of any other corporation or cooperative association, domestic or foreign, as authorized by its board of directors; and in such case no authorization or consent of the members shall be required.

87 Acts, ch 88, §1

499.47B Sale or other disposition of assets other than in regular course of business.

A sale, lease, exchange, or other disposition of all, or substantially all, the property and assets, with or without the good will, of a cooperative association organized under this chapter, if not made in the usual and regular course of its business, may be made upon the terms and conditions and for such consideration, which may consist in whole or in part of money or property, real or personal, including shares of any other cooperative association organized under this chapter, as may be authorized in the following manner:

1. The board of directors shall adopt a resolution recommending the sale, lease, exchange, or other disposition and directing the submission thereof to a vote at a meeting of the membership, which may either be an annual or a special meeting.

2. Written or printed notice shall be given to each member of record entitled to vote at the meeting within the time and in the manner provided in this chapter for the giving of notice of meetings of members, and, whether the meeting be an annual or a special meeting, shall state that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is to consider the proposed sale, lease, exchange, or other disposition of substantially all of the property and assets of the cooperative association.

3. At the meeting the membership may authorize the sale, lease, exchange, or other disposition and may fix, or may authorize the board of directors to fix, any or all of the terms and conditions thereof and the consideration to be received by the cooperative association. Such authorization shall be approved if two-thirds of the members vote affirmatively on a ballot in which a majority of all voting members participate.

4. After such authorization by a vote of members, the board of directors nevertheless, in its discretion, may abandon the sale, lease, exchange, or other disposition of assets, subject to the rights of third parties under any contracts relating thereto, without further action or approval by the members.

87 Acts, ch 88, §2

499.47C Sale or other disposition of assets in exchange for common stock.

In addition to the requirements of section 499.47B, in any case where a cooperative association issues its common stock or membership, or subscriptions for common stock or membership, or both, as a part or all of the consideration for the sale, lease, exchange, or other disposition of all, or substantially all, the property and assets of another cooperative association, the issuance of such common stock or membership, or subscriptions for common stock or membership, or both, shall be authorized by the issuing cooperative association in the following manner:

1. The board of directors shall adopt a resolution recommending the issuance of the common stock or membership, or subscriptions for common stock or membership, or both, and directing the submission thereof to a vote at a meeting of the membership, which may be either an annual or special meeting.

2. Written or printed notice shall be given to each member of record entitled to vote at the meeting within the time and in the manner provided in this chapter for the giving of notice of meetings to members, and, whether the meeting be an annual or a special meeting, shall state that the purpose, or one of the purposes of the meeting, is to consider the proposed issuance of common stock or membership, or subscriptions for common stock or membership, or both, as consideration for all or a part of the property and assets of the other cooperative association.

3. At the meeting the membership may authorize the issuance and may fix, or may authorize the board of directors to fix, any or all of the terms and conditions thereof and the property and assets to be received as consideration. Such authorization shall be approved if a majority of the voting members present vote in the affirmative.

4. After such authorization by a vote of members, the board of directors nevertheless, in its discretion, may abandon the issuance, without further action or approval by the members.

If a cooperative association, in connection with its acquisition of property or assets of another cooperative association, agrees to solicit common stock or membership, or subscriptions for common stock or membership to the members of the cooperative association selling such property or assets, the agreement shall not itself constitute the issuance of common stock or membership, or subscriptions for common stock or membership as described in this section. This section shall not apply to a merger as defined in section 499.61.

87 Acts, ch 88, §3

499.48 Distribution in liquidation.

On dissolution or liquidation, the assets of the association shall be used to pay liquidation expenses first, next the association's obligations other than patronage dividends or patronage dividend certificates which it has issued, and the remainder shall be distributed in the following priority:

1. To pay to each person the full amount originally paid by that person in cash for stock or other equity interest in the association.

2. To pay to each person in proportion to the total of each person's revolving fund, stock, or other equity interest in the association remaining after the payment under subsection 1.

In applying subsections 1 and 2, all classes of stock, all revolving funds, and all other equity interests in the association shall be treated equally based on their stated values. However, an association may establish its own method of distributing the assets remaining, after paying liquidation expenses and obligations other than patronage dividends or patronage dividend certificates which it has issued, in articles of incorporation adopted, amended, or restated after July 1, 1986.

499.54 Foreign associations.

Any foreign corporation organized under generally similar laws of any other state shall be admitted to do business in Iowa upon compliance with the general laws relating to foreign corporations and payment of the same fees as would be required under section 490.122 if the foreign cooperative corporation is a foreign corporation for profit seeking authority to transact business in Iowa under chapter 490. Upon the secretary of state being satisfied that the foreign corporation is so organized and has so complied, the secretary shall issue a certificate authorizing the foreign corporation to do business in Iowa.

Such a foreign corporation thus admitted shall be entitled to all remedies provided in this chapter, and to enforce all contracts theretofore or thereafter made by the foreign corporation which any association might make under this chapter.

If such a foreign corporation amends its articles it shall forthwith file a copy of the amendment with the secretary of state, certified by the secretary or other proper official of the state under whose laws it is formed, and shall pay the fees prescribed for amendments by section 490.122. Foreign corporations shall also file statements and pay fees otherwise prescribed by section 490.122.

MERGER AND CONSOLIDATION

499.61 Definitions.

When used in this division, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Consolidation" means the uniting of two or more cooperative associations into one cooperative association, in such manner that a new cooperative association is formed, and the new cooperative association absorbs the others, which cease to exist as separate entities.

2. "Merger" means the uniting of two or more cooperative associations into one cooperative association, in such manner that one of the merging associations retains its corporate existence and absorbs the others, which cease to exist as corporate entities. "Merger" does not include the acquisition, by purchase or otherwise, of the assets of one cooperative association by another, unless the acquisition only becomes effective by the filing of articles of merger by the associations and the issuance of a certificate of merger pursuant to sections 499.67 and 499.68.

3. "New association" is the cooperative association resulting from the consolidation of two or more cooperative associations.

4. "Qualified corporation" means a corporation organized and existing under chapter 490, which is structured and operated on a cooperative basis pursuant to 26 U.S.C. § 1381(a)(2) and which meets the definitional requirements of an association as provided in 12 U.S.C. § 1141j(a) or 7 U.S.C. § 291.

5. "Qualified merger" means the uniting of one or more cooperative associations with one or more qualified corporations to form one cooperative association or qualified corporation, in such a manner that one entity participating in the merger continues to exist and absorbs the others, with the others ceasing to exist as cooperative or corporate entities.

6. "Qualified survivor" means the cooperative association or qualified corporation which continues to exist after a qualified merger.

7. "Surviving association" is the cooperative association resulting from the merger of two or more cooperative associations.

87 Acts, ch 88, §4; 97 Acts, ch 17, §7

499.62 Merger.

Any two or more cooperative associations may merge into one cooperative association in the following manner:

The board of directors of each cooperative association shall, by resolution adopted by a majority vote of all members of each board, approve a plan of merger which shall set forth:

1. The names of the cooperative associations proposing to merge and the name of the surviving association.

2. The terms and conditions of the proposed merger.

3. A statement of any changes in the articles of incorporation of the surviving association.

4. Other provisions deemed necessary or desirable.

[C71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.62]

499.63 Consolidation.

Any two or more cooperative associations may be consolidated into a new cooperative association in the following manner:

The board of directors of each cooperative association shall, by resolution adopted by a majority vote of all members of each board, approve a plan of consolidation setting forth:

1. The names of the cooperative associations proposing to consolidate and the name of the new association.

2. The terms and conditions of the proposed consolidation.

3. With respect to the new association, all of the statements required to be set forth in articles of incorporation for cooperative associations.

4. Other provisions deemed necessary or desirable.

[C71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.63]

499.64 Vote of members.

The board of directors of a cooperative association, upon approving a plan of merger or consolidation, shall, by motion or resolution, direct that the plan be submitted to a vote at a meeting of members, which may be either an annual or special meeting. Written notice shall be given not less than twenty days prior to the meeting, either personally or by mail to each voting member and shareholder of record. The notice shall state the time, place, and purpose of the meeting, and a summary of the plan of merger or consolidation shall be included in or enclosed with the notice.

At the meeting, a ballot of the members who are entitled to vote in the affairs of the association shall be taken on the proposed plan of merger or consolidation. The plan of merger or consolidation shall be approved if two-thirds of the members vote affirmatively on a ballot in which a majority of all voting members participate. Voting may be by mail ballot notwithstanding any contrary provision in the articles of incorporation or bylaws.

97 Acts, ch 17, §8

499.65 Objection of members — purchase of shares upon demand.

If a voting member or voting shareholder of a cooperative association which is a party to a merger or consolidation files with the cooperative association, prior to or at the meeting of members at which the plan is submitted to a vote, a written objection to the plan of merger or consolidation, and votes in opposition to the plan, and the member or shareholder, within twenty days after the merger or consolidation is approved by the other members, makes written demand on the surviving or new association for payment of the fair value of that member's or shareholder's interest as of the day prior to the date on which the vote was taken approving the merger or consolidation, the surviving or new association shall pay to the member or shareholder, upon surrender of that person's certificate of membership or shares of stock, the fair value of that person's interest as provided in section 499.66. A member or shareholder who fails to make demand within the twenty-day period is conclusively presumed to have consented to the merger or consolidation and is bound by its terms.

In the event that a dissenting member or shareholder does business with the surviving or new association before payment has been made for that person's membership or stock, the dissenting member or shareholder is deemed to have consented to the merger or consolidation and to have waived all further rights as a dissenting member or shareholder.

86 Acts, ch 1196, §7; 92 Acts, ch 1147, §2

499.66 Value determined.

1. As used in this section:

a. "Dissenting member" means a voting member who votes in opposition to the plan of merger or consolidation and who makes a demand for payment of the fair value under section 499.65.

b. "Old association" means the association in which the member owns or owned a membership.

c. "New association" means the surviving or new association after the merger or consolidation.

d. "Issue price" means the amount paid for an interest in the old association or the amount stated in a notice of allocation of patronage dividends.

e. "Fair market value" means the cash price that would be paid by a willing buyer to a willing seller, neither being under any compulsion to buy or sell.

2. Within twenty days after the merger or consolidation is effected, the new association shall make a written offer to each dissenting member to pay a specified sum deemed by the new association to be the fair value of that dissenting member's interest in the old association. This offer shall be accompanied by a balance sheet of the old association as of the latest available date, a profit and loss statement of the old association for the twelve-month period ending on the date of this balance sheet, and a list of the dissenting member's interests in the old association. If the dissenting member does not agree that the sum stated in this notice represents the fair value of the member's interest, then the member may file a written objection with the new association within twenty days after receiving this notice. A dissenting member who fails to file this objection within the twenty-day period is conclusively presumed to have consented to the fair value stated in the notice.

If the surviving or new association receives any objections to fair values, then within ninety days after the merger or consolidation is effected, the new association shall file a petition in the Iowa district court asking for a finding and determination of the fair value of each type of equity. The action shall be prosecuted as an equitable action.

The fair value of a dissenting member's interest in the old association shall be determined as of the day preceding the merger or consolidation by taking the lesser of either the issue price of the dissenting member's membership, common stock, deferred patronage dividends, and preferred stock, or the amount determined by subtracting the old association's debts from the fair market value of the old association's assets, dividing the remainder by the total issue price of all memberships, common stock, preferred stock, and revolving funds, and then multiplying the quotient from this division by the total issue price of a dissenting member's membership, common stock, preferred stock, and revolving fund interest.

3. The new association shall pay to each dissenting member in cash within sixty days after the merger or consolidation the amount paid in cash by the dissenting member for that member's interest in the old association. The new association shall pay the remainder of each dissenting member's fair value in ten annual equal payments. The final payment must be made not later than fifteen years after the merger or consolidation. The value of the deferred patronage dividends and preferred stock shall be considered a liability of the new association as reflected in the accounts of the new association until the value of the patronage dividends or preferred stock is paid in full to the dissenting member. A dissenting member who is a natural person who dies before receiving the fair value shall have all of the person's fair value paid with the same priority as if the person was a member at the time of death.

499.67 Articles of merger or consolidation.

Upon approval, articles of merger or articles of consolidation shall be executed by each cooperative association as provided in section 499.44. The articles must include the following:

1. The plan of merger or the plan of consolidation.
2. As to each cooperative association, the number of individuals or cooperative associations entitled to vote.
3. As to each cooperative association, the number of individuals or cooperative associations who voted for and against the plan at the meeting called for that purpose.

The articles of merger or articles of consolidation shall be delivered to the secretary of state for filing.

The secretary of state, upon the filing of articles of merger or articles of consolidation, shall issue a certificate of merger or a certificate of consolidation, and send the certificate to the surviving or new association, or to its representative.

90 Acts, ch 1164, §8, 9; 94 Acts, ch 1055, §14

499.68 When effective — effect.

A merger or consolidation shall become effective upon the date that the certificate of merger or the certificate of consolidation is issued by the secretary of state, or the effective date specified in the articles of merger or articles of consolidation, whichever is later.

When a merger or consolidation has become effective:

1. The several cooperative associations which are parties to the plan of merger or consolidation shall be a single cooperative association, which, in the case of a merger, shall be that cooperative association designated in the plan of merger as the surviving association, and, in the case of consolidation, shall be that cooperative association designated in the plan of consolidation as the new association.

2. The separate existence of all cooperative associations which are parties to the plan of merger or consolidation, except the surviving or new association, shall cease.

3. The surviving or new association shall have all the rights, privileges, immunities, and powers and shall be subject to all the duties and liabilities of a cooperative association organized under the laws of this state.

4. The surviving or new association shall possess all the rights, privileges, immunities, and franchises, public as well as private, of each of the merging or consolidating cooperative associations.

5. All property, real, personal, and mixed, and all debts due on whatever account, including subscriptions to shares, and all other choses in action, and all and every other interest, of or belonging to or due to each of the cooperative associations merged or consolidated, shall be transferred to and vested in the surviving or new association without further act or deed. The title to any real estate, or any interest in real estate vested in any of the cooperative associations merged or consolidated, shall not revert or be in any way impaired by reason of the merger or consolidation.

6. A surviving or new association shall be responsible and liable for all obligations and liabilities of each of the cooperative associations merged or consolidated.

7. Any claim existing or action or proceeding pending by or against any of the cooperative associations merged or consolidated may be prosecuted as if the merger or consolidation had not taken place, or the surviving or new association may be substituted for the merged or consolidated association. Neither the rights of creditors nor any liens upon the property of any cooperative association shall be impaired by a merger or consolidation.

8. In the case of a merger, the articles of incorporation of the surviving association shall be deemed to be amended to the extent that changes in its articles of incorporation are stated in the plan of merger. In the case of a consolidation, the statements set forth in the articles of consolidation which are required or permitted to be set forth in the articles of incorporation of cooperative associations organized under the laws of the state of Iowa shall be deemed to be the original articles of incorporation of the new cooperative association.

9. The aggregate amount of the net assets of the merging or consolidating cooperative associations which was available for the payment of dividends immediately prior to the merger or consolidation, to the extent that the amount is not transferred to stated capital by the issuance of shares or otherwise, shall continue to be available for the payment of dividends by the surviving or new association.

97 Acts, ch 65, §2

499.69 Foreign and domestic mergers or consolidations.

One or more foreign cooperative associations and one or more domestic cooperative associations may be merged or consolidated in the following manner, if such merger or consolidation is permitted by the laws of the state under which each foreign cooperative association is organized:

1. Each domestic cooperative association shall comply with the provisions of this division with respect to the merger or consolidation of domestic cooperative associations, and each foreign cooperative association shall comply with the applicable provisions of the laws of the state under which it is organized.

2. If the surviving or new association is to be governed by the laws of any state other than this state, it shall comply with the provisions of the laws of this state with respect to the qualifications of foreign cooperative associations if it is to transact business in this state, and in every case it shall file with the secretary of state of this state:

a. An agreement that it may be served with process in this state in any proceeding for the enforcement of any obligation of any domestic cooperative association which is a party to the merger or consolidation, and in any proceeding for the enforcement of the rights of a dissenting shareholder of any such domestic cooperative association, against the surviving or new association.

b. An irrevocable appointment of the secretary of state of this state as its agent to accept service of process in any proceeding.

c. An agreement that it will promptly pay to the dissenting shareholders of any domestic cooperative association the amount to which they are entitled under the provisions of this division with respect to the rights of dissenters.

The effect of such merger or consolidation shall be the same as the effect of the merger or consolidation of domestic cooperative associations, if the surviving or new association is to be governed by the laws of this state. If the surviving or new association is to be governed by the laws of any other state, the effect of merger or consolidation shall be the same as in the case of the merger or consolidation of domestic cooperative associations, except as the laws of the other state otherwise provide.

[C71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.69]

499.69A Qualified mergers.

1. One or more cooperative associations and one or more qualified corporations may participate in a qualified merger as provided in this section.

2. Each participating cooperative association and qualified corporation must approve a written plan of qualified merger.

a. The plan shall set forth all of the following:

(1) The name of each cooperative association and qualified corporation participating in the qualified merger, and the name of the qualified survivor.

(2) The terms and conditions of the qualified merger.

(3) The manner and basis of converting the interests, including shares or other securities, and obligations in each nonsurviving cooperative association or qualified corporation into the interests and obligations of the qualified survivor.

(4) Any amendments to the articles of incorporation of the qualified survivor as are desired to be effected by the qualified merger, or a statement that no amendment is desired.

(5) The date that the qualified merger becomes effective, if the date is different than the date when a certificate of merger is to be issued for a cooperative association, or if the date is different than the date when the articles of merger are filed with the secretary of state for a qualified corporation.

(6) Other provisions relating to the qualified merger as are deemed necessary or desirable.

b. A proposed plan for a qualified merger complying with the requirements of this section shall be approved as follows:

(1) For a cooperative association which is a party to the proposed qualified merger, the cooperative association shall approve the plan as provided in this chapter.

(2) For a qualified corporation which is a party to the proposed qualified merger, the qualified corporation shall approve the plan as provided in chapter 490.

c. After the proposed plan for the qualified merger is approved, a cooperative association or qualified corporation may abandon the merger in the manner provided in the plan, prior to the filing of the articles of merger.

3. After a proposed plan of the qualified merger is approved, the qualified survivor shall deliver articles of merger for the qualified merger to the secretary of state for filing. The articles of merger shall be executed by each cooperative association and qualified corporation which is a party to the qualified merger. The articles of merger shall set forth all of the following:

a. The name of each cooperative association and qualified corporation which is a party to the qualified merger.

b. The plan for the qualified merger.

c. The effective date of the qualified merger, if later than the date of filing the articles of merger.

d. The name of the qualified survivor.

e. A statement that the plan for the qualified merger was approved by each participating cooperative association and qualified corporation in a manner required for the cooperative association and qualified corporation as provided in this section.

4. For a surviving cooperative association, a qualified merger becomes effective upon the filing of the articles of merger with the secretary of state and the issuance of a certificate of merger pursuant to section 499.68 or the date stated in the articles of merger, whichever is later. For a surviving qualified corporation, a qualified merger becomes effective upon the filing of the articles of merger with the secretary of state pursuant to section 490.1105 or the date stated in the articles, whichever is later.

5. The effect of a qualified merger for a qualified survivor which is a cooperative association shall be as provided for in this chapter. The effect of a qualified merger for a qualified survivor which is a qualified corporation shall be as provided for corporations under chapter 490.

6. The provisions governing the right of a shareholder or member of a cooperative association to object to a merger or the right of a member to dissent and obtain payment of the fair value of an interest in the cooperative association in the case of a merger as provided in this chapter shall apply to a qualified merger. The provisions governing the right of a shareholder of a corporation to dissent from and obtain payment of the fair value of the shareholder's shares in the case of a merger as provided in division XIII of chapter 490 shall apply to a qualified merger.

7. A foreign cooperative association may participate in a qualified merger as provided in this section, if the foreign cooperative association complies with the requirements for a cooperative association under this section and the requirements for a foreign cooperative association under section 499.69. A foreign corporation may participate in a qualified merger as provided in this section if it complies with the requirements of a qualified corporation under this section and the requirements for a foreign corporation under section 490.1107.

97 Acts, ch 17, §9

499.70 Abandonment before filing.

At any time prior to the filing of the articles of merger or consolidation, the merger or consolidation may be abandoned pursuant to provisions set forth in the plan of merger or consolidation.

[C71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.70]

499.71 Other laws applicable.

The provisions of this division shall also apply to cooperative associations organized under chapters 497 and 498.

[C71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499.71]

REGISTERED OFFICE AND REGISTERED AGENT

499.72 Registered office and registered agent.

Each association must continuously maintain in this state both of the following:

1. A registered office that may be the same as any of its places of business.

2. A registered agent, who may be any of the following:

a. An individual who resides in this state and whose business office is identical with the registered office.

b. A domestic corporation or not-for-profit domestic corporation whose business office is identical with the registered office.

c. A foreign corporation or not-for-profit foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state whose business office is identical with the registered office.

93 Acts, ch 126, §19

499.73 Change of registered office or registered agent.

1. An association may change its registered office or registered agent by delivering to the secretary of state for filing a statement of change that sets forth all of the following:

a. The name of the association.

b. The street address of its current registered office.

c. If the current registered office is to be changed, the street address of the new registered office.

d. The name of its current registered agent.

e. If the current registered agent is to be changed, the name of the new registered agent and the new agent's written consent, either on the statement or attached to it, to the appointment.

f. That after the change or changes are made, the street addresses of its registered office and the business office of its registered agent will be identical.

2. If a registered agent changes the street address of the registered agent's business office, the registered agent may change the street address of the registered office of any association for which the person is the registered agent by notifying the association in writing of the change and signing, either manually or in facsimile, and delivering to the secretary of state for filing a statement that complies with the requirements of subsection 1 and recites that the association has been notified of the change.

3. If a registered agent changes the registered agent's business address to another place, the registered agent may change the business address and the address of the registered agent by filing a statement as required in subsection 2 for each association, or a single statement for all associations named in the notice, except that it need be signed only by the registered agent or agents and need not be responsive to subsection 1, paragraph "e", and must recite that a copy of the statement has been mailed to each association named in the notice.

4. An association may also appoint or change its registered office or registered agent in its biennial report.

 Subsection 4 amended

499.74 Resignation of registered agent.

1. A registered agent may resign the agent's agency appointment by signing and delivering to the secretary of state for filing the signed original and two exact or conformed copies of a statement of resignation. The statement may include a statement that the registered office is also discontinued.

2. After filing the statement the secretary of state shall mail one copy to the registered office, if not discontinued, and the other copy to the association at its principal office.

93 Acts, ch 126, §21

499.75 Service on association.

1. An association's registered agent is the association's agent for service of process, notice, or demand required or permitted by law to be served on the association.

2. If an association has no registered agent, or the agent cannot with reasonable diligence be served, the association may be served by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, addressed to the secretary of the association at its principal office. Service is perfected under this subsection at the earliest of any of the following:

- a. The date the association receives the mail.
- b. The date shown on the return receipt, if signed on behalf of the association.

c. Five days after its deposit in the United States mail, as evidenced by the postmark, if mailed postpaid and correctly addressed.

3. This section does not prescribe the only means, or necessarily the required means, of serving an association.

93 Acts, ch 126, §22

ADMINISTRATIVE DISSOLUTION

499.76 Grounds for administrative dissolution.

The secretary of state may commence a proceeding under section 499.77 to administratively dissolve an association if any of the following apply:

1. The association has not delivered a biennial report to the secretary of state in a form that meets the requirements of section 499.49, within sixty days after it is due.

2. The association is without a registered agent or registered office in this state for sixty days or more.

3. The association does not notify the secretary of state within sixty days that its registered agent or registered office has been changed, that its registered agent has resigned, or that its registered office has been discontinued.

4. The association's period of duration stated in its articles of incorporation expires.

93 Acts, ch 126, §23; 97 Acts, ch 171, §32; 2000 Acts, ch 1022, §11

Subsection 1 amended

499.77 Procedure for and effect of administrative dissolution.

1. If the secretary of state determines that one or more grounds exist under section 499.76 for dissolving an association, the secretary of state shall serve the association by ordinary mail with written notice of the secretary of state's determination pursuant to section 499.75.

2. If the association does not correct each ground for dissolution or demonstrate to the reasonable satisfaction of the secretary of state that each ground determined by the secretary of state does not exist within sixty days after service of the notice is perfected pursuant to section 499.75, the secretary of state shall administratively dissolve the association by signing a certificate of dissolution that recites the ground or grounds for dissolution and its effective date. The secretary of state shall file the original of the certificate and serve a copy on the association pursuant to section 499.75.

3. An association administratively dissolved continues its existence but shall not carry on any business except that necessary to wind up and liq-update its business and affairs and notify claimants.

4. The administrative dissolution of an association does not terminate the authority of its registered agent.

93 Acts, ch 126, §24

499.78 Reinstatement following administrative dissolution.

1. An association administratively dissolved under section 499.77 may apply to the secretary of state for reinstatement within two years after the effective date of dissolution. The application must meet all of the following requirements:

a. Recite the name of the association at its date of dissolution and the effective date of its administrative dissolution.

b. State that the ground or grounds for dissolution have been eliminated.

2. If the secretary of state determines that the application contains the information required by subsection 1 and that the information is correct, the secretary of state shall cancel the certificate of dissolution and prepare a certificate of reinstatement that recites the secretary of state's determination and the effective date of reinstatement, file the original of the certificate, and serve a copy on the association pursuant to section 499.75.

3. When the reinstatement is effective, it relates back to and takes effect as of the effective date of the administrative dissolution as if the administrative dissolution had never occurred.

93 Acts, ch 126, §25; 97 Acts, ch 171, §33

499.78A Appeal from denial of reinstatement.

1. If the secretary of state denies an association's application for reinstatement following administrative dissolution, the secretary of state shall serve the association pursuant to section 499.75 with a written notice that explains the reason or reasons for denial.

2. The association may appeal the denial of reinstatement to the district court within thirty days after service of the notice of denial is perfected. The association appeals by petitioning the court to set aside the dissolution and attaching to the petition copies of the secretary of state's certificate of dissolution, the association's application for reinstatement, and the secretary of state's notice of denial.

3. The court may summarily order the secretary of state to reinstate the dissolved association or may take other action the court considers appropriate.

4. The court's final decision may be appealed as in other civil proceedings.

93 Acts, ch 126, §26

OTHER MATTERS

499.79 Statement to estate of members and stockholders.

The board of directors, upon receiving actual notice of the death of a member or stockholder, shall provide a statement to the administrator or executor of the member's or stockholder's estate, or to the attorney representing such estate. The statement shall describe agricultural products owned by the member or stockholder which are in the possession of the association.

This section shall not require an association to conduct a search of the status of its members or stockholders. The association shall exercise reasonable diligence in determining to whom the statement must be delivered. The statement shall be delivered to the administrator, executor, or attorney, within thirty days following a determination as to whom the statement must be delivered. A statement is not required to be prepared or delivered, if the association is not notified of the member's or stockholder's death within one year after the date of death, or by the date that the member's or stockholder's estate is closed, whichever is later.

499.80 Member information.

If a member of a cooperative association intends to distribute information to other members of a cooperative association and the member does not have a list of the members of the cooperative association, the member may request the board of directors to distribute the information for the member.

The board of directors shall adopt a policy which permits the distribution of materials or information to members of a cooperative association by request of a member when the purpose of the request concerns directly the action of the board of directors of the cooperative association.

The board of directors shall distribute for a member such material or information requested, provided that the board of directors may charge the member for the mailing costs incurred by the cooperative association in distributing the information.

Cooperative associations subject to regulation under chapter 476 are exempt from the provisions of this section.

SUBCHAPTER I

499A.1 Articles.

Any two or more persons of full age, a majority of whom are citizens of the state, may organize themselves for the following or similar purposes: Ownership of residential, business property on a cooperative basis. A corporation is a person within the meaning of this chapter. The organizers shall adopt, and sign and acknowledge the articles of incorporation, stating the name by which the cooperative shall be known, the location of its principal place of business, its business or objects, the number of directors to conduct the cooperative's business or objects, the names of the directors for the first year, the time of the cooperative's annual meeting, the time of the annual meeting of its directors, and the manner in which the articles may be amended. The articles of incorporation shall be filed with the secretary of state who shall, if the secretary approves the articles, endorse the secretary of state's approval on the articles, record the articles, and forward the articles to the county recorder of the county where the principal place of business is to be located, and there the articles shall be recorded, and upon recording be returned to the cooperative. The articles shall not be filed by the secretary of state until a filing fee of five dollars together with a recording fee of fifty cents per page is paid, and upon the payment of the fees and the approval of the articles by the secretary of state, the secretary shall issue to the cooperative a certificate of incorporation as a cooperative not for pecuniary profit.

Amendments to the articles shall be filed and receive approval as provided in this chapter for articles, and the fee for amendments shall be five dollars in each instance. An amendment is not effective until the amendment is approved and the fee is paid.

91 Acts, ch 30, §1

499A.2 Powers — duration.

Upon filing such articles the persons signing and acknowledging the same and their associates and successors shall become a body corporate with the name therein stated and shall have power:

1. To have perpetual succession by its name, unless a limited period of duration is stated in its articles of incorporation, or they are sooner dissolved by three-fourths vote of all the members thereof, or by act of the general assembly or by operations of law.

2. To sue and be sued in its corporate name.

3. To build and construct apartment houses or dwellings.

4. To purchase, take, receive, lease as lessee, take by gift, devise or bequest, or otherwise acquire, and to own, hold, use and otherwise deal in and with any real or personal property or any interest therein.

5. To sell, convey, mortgage, pledge, lease as lessor, and otherwise dispose of all or any part of its property and assets.

6. To make contracts and incur liabilities which may be appropriate to enable it to accomplish any or all of its purposes; to borrow money for its corporate purposes at such rates of interest as the cooperative may determine, to issue its notes, bonds and other obligations; and to secure any of its obligations by mortgage, pledge, or deed of trust of all or any of its property.

7. To elect or appoint officers and agents of the cooperative, and to define their duties and fix their compensation.

8. To make and alter bylaws not inconsistent with its articles of incorporation or with the laws of this state, for the administration and the regulation of the affairs of the cooperative.

9. To cease its cooperative activities and surrender its cooperative franchise.

10. To have and exercise all powers necessary or convenient to effect any or all of the purposes for which the cooperative is organized.

91 Acts, ch 30, §16

499A.2A Bylaws.

The initial bylaws of the cooperative shall be adopted by the cooperative's board of directors. Prior to the admission of members to the cooperative, the power to alter, amend, or repeal the bylaws or adopt new bylaws is vested in the board of directors. Following the admission of members to the cooperative, the power to alter, amend, or repeal the bylaws or adopt new bylaws is vested in the members in accordance with the method set forth in the bylaws.

The bylaws may contain any provisions for the regulation and management of the affairs of the cooperative not inconsistent with law or the articles of incorporation. However, the bylaws must provide for:

1. The number of members of the board of directors and the term of the members.

2. The election of a president, vice president, treasurer, and secretary by the board of directors.

3. The qualifications, powers and duties, terms of office, and manner of electing and removing board members and officers and filling vacancies of such members.

4. The method of amending the bylaws.

91 Acts, ch 30, §7

499A.3 Members.

A cooperative shall have only one class of members. The designation of that class and the rights of the members of the class shall be set forth in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws. The cooperative must issue membership certificates evidencing the ownership interest of each member of the cooperative.

[C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499A.3]

499A.3A Meetings of members.

Meetings of members may be held at such places as may be provided in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws, or as may be fixed from time to time in accordance with the provisions of the articles or the bylaws. In the absence of any such provision, all meetings shall be held at the registered office of the cooperative.

An annual meeting of the members shall be held at such time as may be provided in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws. Failure to hold the annual meeting at the designated time shall not work a forfeiture or dissolution of the cooperative.

Special meetings of the members may be called by the president or by the board of directors. Special meetings of the members may also be called by such officers or persons, or by a number or proportion of members as may be provided in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws. In the absence of a provision fixing the number or proportion of members entitled to call a meeting, a special meeting of members may be called by members having one-twentieth of the votes entitled to be cast at the meeting.

91 Acts, ch 30, §8

499A.3B Notice of members meetings.

Unless the articles of incorporation or the bylaws otherwise provide, written notice stating the place, day, and hour of the meeting and, in the case of a special meeting, the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be delivered no less than ten nor more than fifty days before the date of the meeting, either personally or by mail, by or at the direction of the president, the secretary, or the officer or persons calling the meeting, to each member entitled to vote at the meeting. If mailed, notice is deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail addressed to the member at the member's address as it appears on the records of the cooperative, with postage prepaid.

499A.3C Voting.

Each member is entitled to one vote on each matter submitted to a vote of the members. A membership interest in the cooperative jointly owned by two or more persons is nevertheless entitled to one vote.

A member entitled to vote may vote in person or by proxy in the manner prescribed in the bylaws. 91 Acts, ch 30, §10

499A.4 Dividends.

A dividend or distribution of property among the members shall not be made until dissolution of the cooperative.

499A.5 Trustees or managers. Repealed by 91 Acts, ch 30, §17, 18.

499A.6 Election of officers. Repealed by 91 Acts, ch 30, §17, 18.

499A.7 Reorganizing prior to expiration of term.

The directors or members of any cooperative organized under this chapter may reorganize the cooperative, and all the property and rights of the cooperative shall vest in the cooperative as reorganized.

91 Acts, ch 30, §4

499A.8 Reorganizing after expiration of term.

When the term of a cooperative organized under this chapter has expired, but the organization has continued to act as such cooperative, the directors or members thereof may reorganize, and the property and rights therein shall vest in the reorganized cooperative for the use and benefit of all of the members in the original cooperative.

[C50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499A.8]
91 Acts, ch 30, §16

499A.9 Amendments of articles.

Any cooperative organized under this chapter may change its name or amend its articles of incorporation by a vote of a majority of the members, in such manner as may be provided in its articles; but if no such provision is made in the articles the same may be amended at any regular meeting or special meeting called for that purpose by the president or secretary or a majority of the board of directors. Notice of any meeting at which it is proposed to amend the articles of incorporation, shall be given by mailing to each member at the member's last known post-office address at least ten days prior to such meeting, a notice signed by the secretary setting forth the proposed amendments in substance, or by two publications of said notice in some daily or weekly newspaper in general circulation in the county wherein said cooperative has its principal place of business. The last publication of said notice shall be not less than ten days prior to the date of said meeting. There shall be paid to the secretary of state at the time of the filing of such change or amendment a recording fee of fifty cents per page.

499A.10 Record — effect.

The change or amendment provided for in section 499A.9 shall be recorded as the original articles are recorded. From the date of filing such change or amendment for record, the provisions of said section having been complied with, the change or amendment shall take effect as a part of the original articles, and the cooperative thus constituted shall have the same rights, powers and franchises, be entitled to the same immunities, and liable upon all contracts to the same extent, as before such change or amendment.

91 Acts, ch 30, §16

499A.11 Ownership — certificate of membership.

The cooperative has the right to purchase real estate for the purpose of erecting, owning, and operating apartment houses or apartment buildings. The interest of each individual member in the cooperative shall be evidenced by the issuance of a certificate of membership. The certificate of membership is coupled with a possessory interest in the real and personal property of the cooperative, entitling each member to a proprietary lease with the cooperative under which each member has an exclusive possessory interest in an apartment unit and a possessory interest in common with all other members in that portion of the cooperative's real and personal property not constituting apartment units, and which creates a legal relationship of landlord and tenant between the cooperative and member. The certificate of membership shall be executed by the president of the cooperative and attested by its secretary in the name and in the behalf of the cooperative.

499A.18A Upkeep of the cooperative.

It is the duty of the cooperative to maintain generally all portions of the cooperative's real property other than the apartment units. The maintenance, repair, and replacement costs of the cooperative's real property shall be contributed to by each of the members in accordance with the proration formula set forth in the bylaws. Each member is responsible for maintenance and repair of the person's apartment unit in the manner provided for in the bylaws and as prescribed by each member's proprietary lease.

91 Acts, ch 30, §11

499A.19 Election of directors.

The directors shall be elected by the members of the cooperative. The election of officers shall be made by the board of directors. The annual election of the directors shall be held during the month of January of each year, and they shall serve until their successors are elected and qualified.

The board of directors shall elect as officers, a president, a vice president, a secretary, and a treasurer.

It is the duty of the secretary to keep the records of the cooperative, and a correct list of the members, and all such records shall be submitted to any member upon demand at any reasonable time.

499A.21 Execution exemption. Repealed by 91 Acts, ch 30, § 17, 18. See § 499A.22(6).

499A.22 Lien for assessments.

A lien under this section is prior to all other liens and encumbrances on a member's cooperative interest except liens and encumbrances on the cooperative's real property which the cooperative creates, assumes, or takes subject to, and liens for real estate taxes and other governmental assessments or charges against the cooperative or the member's cooperative interest.

2. The cooperative, upon a member's nonpayment of carrying charges and assessments and the cooperative's compliance with this section, may sell the defaulting member's cooperative interest. Sale may be at a public sale or by private negotiation, and at any time and place, but every aspect of the sale, including the method, advertising, time, place, and terms must be reasonable. The cooperative shall give to the member and any sublessees of the member reasonable written notice of the time and place of a public sale or, if a private sale is intended, of the intention of entering into a contract to sell and of the time after which a private disposition may be made. The same notice shall also be sent to any other person who has a recorded interest in the defaulting member's cooperative interest which would be extinguished by the sale. The notices required by this paragraph may be sent to any address reasonable under the circumstances. Sale may not be held until five weeks after the sending of the notice. The cooperative may buy at a public sale, and, if the sale is conducted by a fiduciary or other person not related to the cooperative, at a private sale.

3. The proceeds of a sale under the preceding paragraph shall be applied in the following order:

- a. The reasonable expenses of sale.
- b. The reasonable expenses of securing possession before sale, and the reasonable expenses of holding, maintaining, and preparing the cooperative interest for sale. These expenses include, but are not limited to, the payment of taxes and other governmental charges, premiums on liability insurance, and to the extent provided for by agreement between the cooperative and the member, reasonable attorneys' fees and other legal expenses incurred by the cooperative.
- c. Satisfaction of the cooperative's lien.
- d. Satisfaction in the order of priority of any subordinate claim of record.
- e. Remittance of any excess to the member.

Unless otherwise agreed, the member is liable for any deficiency.

4. If a cooperative interest is sold pursuant to this section, a good faith purchaser for value acquires the member's interest in the cooperative free of the debt that gave rise to the lien under which the sale occurred, and free of any subordinate interest.

5. At any time before the cooperative has disposed of the cooperative interest or entered into a contract for its disposition under the power of sale, the member or the holder of any subordinate security interest may cure the member's default and prevent sale or other disposition by tendering the performance due, including any amounts due arising from the exercise of the rights under this section, plus the reasonable expenses of proceeding to foreclosure incurred to the time of tender, including reasonable attorneys' fees of the creditor.

6. The property of a member other than the member's membership interest in the cooperative is not subject to claims of the cooperative's creditors, whether or not the member's membership interest is subject to those claims.

 - 3. "Authority" means a local housing authority created pursuant to section 499A.102.
 - 4. "Low income" means the income of "very low income families" as defined in section 16.1, subsection 40.
 - 5. "Partner" means a low-income sweat equity member of the association, and member of the sweat equity partners' committee.
 - 6. "Sweat equity" means any contribution made by a partner to the operations of the association, including but not limited to physical labor.
- 90 Acts, ch 1120, §1

499A.102 Local housing authority.

1. A local housing authority may be created to encourage and assist the formation of housing cooperatives under this chapter. The following persons are authorized to form an authority, separately, or in combination with other authorized persons:

- a. A city.
- b. A county.
- c. A nonprofit community organization.
- d. A nonprofit religious organization.

2. The local housing authority shall be funded from the following sources:

- a. State grants, loans, or other appropriations administered by the Iowa finance authority.
- b. Funds solicited from third parties by the local housing authority.
- c. Local government appropriations to the local housing authority.
- d. Any other available sources, including but not limited to bequests, devises, and federal moneys.

3. The Iowa finance authority may provide assistance for initial organization of local housing authorities.

90 Acts, ch 1120, §2

499A.103 Low-income participants.

The local housing authority shall recruit low-income persons to participate as sweat equity partners in a housing cooperative association organized by the local housing authority.

90 Acts, ch 1120, §3

499A.104 Sweat equity housing cooperative association.

1. The local housing authority may form one or more sweat equity housing cooperative associations under this chapter. A sweat equity housing cooperative association shall operate as a multiple housing cooperative association under subchapter I, except as specifically provided otherwise under this subchapter.

2. A sweat equity housing cooperative association shall meet the following additional conditions:

a. A sweat equity partners' committee shall be established, with each partner entitled to one vote on the committee.

b. The sweat equity committee shall hold twenty-five percent of the stock of the association upon incorporation of the association.

c. An advisory committee shall be established, made up of equity investors, skill contributors, and other community representatives including, but not limited to:

- (1) Tradesperson volunteers.
- (2) Community college trade representatives and business educators.

(3) Financial and legal advisors to association management.

d. The advisory committee shall hold seventy-five percent of the stock of the association upon incorporation of the association.

3. The association shall be controlled by the board of directors, with representation of partners and advisors on the board proportional to each group's equity interest at the time of the last election of directors to the board.

4. An association shall do all of the following:

a. Acquire existing housing or small business building stock in need of rehabilitation.

b. Establish a rehabilitation plan, which shall include, but not be limited to all of the following elements:

- (1) Statement of purpose.
- (2) Financial plan.
- (3) Construction timetable.
- (4) Materials schedule.
- (5) Construction training program schedule for partners. The program shall involve, to the greatest extent possible, persons participating as dislocated workers under the federal Job Training Partnership Act as provided in section 7B.1. If a contract is executed with a person to perform skilled labor or to supervise skilled work, the person must be certified by an organization recognized as representing a membership of persons with common skills.

(6) Financial and managerial training program for partners.

(7) Bylaws of the association.

(8) A contract between the partners and advisors including the terms of transfer of stock from the advisory committee to the partners' committee.

c. Establish a program to ensure that partners are equipped with skills necessary for full participation in society.

d. Encourage participation by partners in the activities of the community.

90 Acts, ch 1120, §4

499A.105 Association financing.

1. Organizational and construction phase. Upon incorporation, and after adoption of a rehabilitation plan pursuant to section 499A.104, the association may apply to the Iowa finance authority or other sources for financial assistance. The Iowa finance authority shall review the rehabilitation plan, and subject to the availability of monies, may approve for the association state grants, loans, or other appropriations administered by the Iowa finance authority.

2. Stock transfer. Advisory committee stock shall be transferred to the partners' committee for distribution to partners in accordance with the terms of the rehabilitation plan contract.

3. Operational phase. Upon completion of the rehabilitation plan and implementation of the contract, the association shall be wholly owned by partners. The partners shall rent space only to other association partners. New partners may be admitted subject to completion of required partner training programs and sweat equity contributions, as required by the association's bylaws. Partners shall make mortgage payments in proportion to their equity interest in the property, with total payments sufficient to repay the mortgage loan, maintain the property, and accumulate a capital reserve fund for future repairs and improvements. The capital reserve fund and enforcement of partner obligations is the responsibility of the board of directors.

90 Acts, ch 1120, §5

499A.106 Reimbursement of sweat equity contribution.

The association shall establish criteria for the reimbursement of a partner terminating membership in the association, in accordance with the partner's sweat equity contribution.

499B.1 Short title.

This chapter shall be known as the “Horizontal Property Act.”

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499B.1]

499B.2 Definitions.

Unless it is plainly evident from the context that a different meaning is intended, as used herein:

1. “Apartment” means one or more rooms occupying all or a part of a floor or floors in a building of one or more floors or stories and notwithstanding whether the apartment be intended for use or used as a residence, office, for the operation of any industry or business or for any other use not prohibited by law.

2. “Building” means and includes one or more buildings, whether attached to one or more buildings or unattached; provided, however, that if there is more than one building, all such buildings shall be described and included in the declaration, or an amendment thereto, and comprise an integral part of a single horizontal property regime.

3. “Co-owner” means a person, corporation, or other legal entity capable of holding or owning any interest in real property who owns all or an interest in an apartment within the building.

4. “Council of co-owners” means all the co-owners of the building. The business and affairs of the council of co-owners may be conducted by organizing a corporation not for pecuniary profit of which the co-owners are members.

5. “General common elements”, unless otherwise provided in the declaration or lawful amendments thereto, means and includes:

a. The land on which the building is erected.

b. The foundations, basements, floors, exterior walls of each apartment and of the building, ceilings and roofs, halls, lobbies, stairways, and entrances and exits or communication ways, elevators, garbage incinerators and in general all devices or installations existing for common use.

c. Compartments or installations of central services for public utilities, common heating and refrigeration units, reservoirs, water tanks and pumps servicing other than one apartment.

d. Premises for lodging of service personnel engaged in performing services other than services within a single apartment.

6. “Limited common elements” means and includes those common elements which are specified in or determined under the declaration to be reserved for the use of one or more apartments to the exclusion of the other apartments, such as special corridors, stairways and elevators, sanitary services common to the apartments of a particular floor, and the like.

7. “Majority of co-owners” or “percent of co-owners” means the owners of more than one-half or owners of that percent of interest in the building irrespective of the total number of co-owners.

8. “Property” includes the land whether committed to the horizontal property regime in fee or as a leasehold interest, the building, all other improvements located thereon, and all easements, rights and appurtenances belonging thereto.

9. All pronouns used herein include the male, female and neuter genders and include the singular or plural numbers, as the case may be.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499B.2]

499B.3 Recording of declaration to submit property to regime.

When the sole owner or all of the owners, or the sole lessee or all of the lessees of a lease desire to submit a parcel of real property upon which a building is located or to be constructed to the horizontal property regime established by this chapter, a declaration to that effect shall be executed and acknowledged by the sole owner or lessee or all of such owners or lessees and shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county in which such property lies.

If the declaration is to convert an existing structure, the declarant shall file the declaration of the horizontal property regime with the city in which the regime is located or with the county if not located within a city at least sixty days before being recorded in the office of the county recorder to enable the city or county, as applicable, to establish that the converted structure meets appropriate building code requirements as provided in section 499B.20. However, if the city or county, as applicable, does not have a building code, the declarant shall file the declaration with the state building code commissioner instead of the applicable city or county at least sixty days before the recording of the declaration to enable the commissioner to establish that the converted structure meets the state building code.

2000 Acts, ch 1142, §1, 5
NEW unnumbered paragraph 2

499B.4 Contents of declaration.

The declaration provided for in section 499B.3 shall contain:

1. A description of the land.
2. A description of the building, stating the number of stories and basements, the number of apartments and the principal materials of which it is or is to be constructed.
3. The apartment number of each apartment, and a statement of its location, approximate area, number of rooms, an immediate common area to which it has access, and any other data necessary for its proper identification.
4. A description of the general common elements and facilities.
5. A description of the limited common elements and facilities, if any, stating to which apartments their use is reserved.
6. The fractional or percentage interest which each apartment bears to the entire horizontal property regime. The sum of such shall be one if expressed in fractions and one hundred if expressed in percentage.
7. The provision as to the percentage of votes by the apartment owners which shall be determinative of whether to rebuild, repair, restore, or sell the property in the event of damage or destruction of all or part of the property.
8. Any further details in connection with the property which the person executing the declaration may deem desirable to set forth consistent with this chapter.

9. The method by which the declaration may be amended, consistent with the provisions of this chapter.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499B.4]

499B.5 Contents of deeds of apartments.

Deeds of apartments shall include the following particulars:

1. Description of land as provided in section 499B.4, including the book, page and date of recording of the declaration.
2. The apartment number of the apartment in the declaration and any other data necessary for its proper identification.
3. The percentage of undivided interest appertaining to the apartment in the common areas and facilities.
4. Any further details which the grantor and grantee may deem desirable to set forth consistent with the declaration and this chapter.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499B.5]

499B.6 Copy of the floor plans to be filed.

There shall be attached to the declaration, at the time it is filed, a full and an exact copy of the plans of the building, which copy shall be entered of record along with the declaration. The plans shall show graphically all particulars of the building including, but not limited to, the dimensions, area and location of common elements affording access to each apartment. Other common elements, both limited and general, shall be shown graphically insofar as possible and shall be certified to by an engineer, architect, or land surveyor, either of which is registered or licensed to practice that profession in this state.

499B.7 Interest in common elements — reference to them in instrument.

1. The fractional or percentage interest in the general common elements and the fractional or percentage interest in the limited common elements where such exist are hereby declared to be appurtenant to each of the separate apartments.
2. Any conveyance, encumbrance, lien, alienation or devise of an apartment under a horizontal property regime by any instrument which describes the land and apartment as set forth in section 499B.4, shall also convey, encumber, alienate, devise or be a lien upon the fractional or percentage interest appurtenant to each such apartment under section 499B.4, subsection 6, to the general common elements, and the respective share or percentage interest to limited common elements where applicable, whether such general common elements or limited common elements are described as in section 499B.4, subsections 4 and 5, by general reference only, or not at all.

499B.8 Removal from provisions of this chapter.

1. All of the apartment owners may remove a property from the provisions of this chapter by an instrument to that effect, duly recorded, provided that the holders of all liens affecting any of the apartments consent thereto or agree, in either case by instruments duly recorded, that their liens be transferred to the percentage of the undivided interest of the apartment owner in the property as hereinafter provided.

2. Upon removal of the property from the provisions of this chapter, the property shall be deemed to be owned in common by the apartment owners. The undivided interest in the property owned in common which shall appertain to each apartment owner shall be the percentage of undivided interest previously owned by such owner in the common area and facilities.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499B.8]

499B.9 Removal no bar to subsequent re-submission.

The removal provided for in section 499B.8 shall in no way bar the subsequent resubmission of the property to the provisions of this chapter.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499B.9]

499B.10 Individual apartments and interest in common elements are alienable.

When real property containing a building is committed to a horizontal property regime, each individual apartment located in the building and the interests in the general common elements and limited common elements if any, appurtenant thereto, shall constitute for all purposes a separate parcel of real property and shall be as completely and freely alienable as any separate parcel of real property is or may be under the laws of this state, except as limited by the provisions of this chapter.

Section amended

499B.11 Real property tax and special assessments — levy on each apartment.

1. All real property taxes and special assessments shall be assessed and levied on each apartment and its respective appurtenant fractional share or percentage of the land, general common elements and limited common elements where applicable as these apartments and appurtenances are separately owned, and not on the entire horizontal property regime. The fair market value determined for an apartment includes the value of its appurtenant share or percentage of the land, general common elements, and limited common elements.

2. An apartment meeting either of the following conditions shall be classified as follows:

a. An apartment used for human habitation on January 1, 1999, or an apartment intended for use for human habitation in a horizontal property regime pursuant to a declaration submitting a parcel of real property to a horizontal property regime pursuant to section 499B.3, which was recorded prior to January 1, 1999, shall be classified as residential real estate as long as the apartment is used for human habitation.

b. An apartment intended for use for human habitation included in a development plan for a horizontal property regime which was approved by the city or county having jurisdiction over the real property included in the development plan prior to January 1, 1999, and which is included substantially in accordance with the development plan in an extension of a horizontal property regime established pursuant to a declaration submitting a parcel of contiguous real estate to a horizontal property regime pursuant to section 499B.3, which was recorded prior to January 1, 1999, shall be classified as residential real estate as long as the apartment is used for human habitation.

c. This subsection is repealed December 31, 2004.

3. Any exemption from taxes that may exist on real property or the ownership thereof shall not be denied by virtue of the registration of the property under the provisions of this chapter.

Subsection 1 amended

499B.12 Liens against apartments — removal from lien — effect of part payment.

1. Subsequent to recording the declaration provided for in section 499B.3, and while the property remains enrolled in a horizontal property regime, no lien shall thereafter arise or be effective against the property. During such period liens or encumbrances shall arise or be created only against the individual apartment and the general common elements and limited common elements where applicable, appurtenant to such apartment, in the same manner and under the same conditions in every respect as liens or encumbrances may arise or be created upon or against any other separate parcel of real property subject to individual ownership.

2. In the event a lien against two or more apartments becomes effective, the owners of the separate apartments may remove their apartment and the general common elements and limited common elements where applicable appurtenant to such apartment from the lien by payment of the fractional or proportional amounts attributable to each of the apartments affected. Such individual payments shall be computed by reference to the fractions or percentages appearing on the declaration provided for in section 499B.4, subsection 6. Subsequent to any such payment, discharge or other satisfaction the individual apartment and the general common elements and limited common elements applicable appurtenant thereto shall thereafter be free and clear of the lien so paid, satisfied or discharged. Such partial payment, satisfaction or discharge shall not prevent the lienor from proceeding to enforce the lienor's rights against any apartment and the general common elements, limited common elements where applicable appurtenant thereto not so paid, satisfied or discharged.

499B.13 Limitation upon availability of partition — exception as to limitation of partition by joint ownership.

1. The provisions of chapter 651, relating to partition of real property shall not be available to any owner of any interest in real property included within a regime established under this chapter as against any other owner or owners of any interest or interests in the same regime, so as to terminate the regime.

2. Nothing contained in the chapter shall be construed as a limitation on partition by joint owners of one or more apartments in a regime as to individual ownership of such apartment or apartments without terminating the regime, or as to ownership of such apartment or apartments and lands outside the limits of the regime.

499B.14 Bylaws.

The administration of every property shall be governed by bylaws, a true copy of which shall be annexed to the declaration and made a part thereof. No modification of or amendment to the bylaws shall be valid unless set forth in an amendment to the declaration and such amendment is duly recorded.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499B.14]

499B.15 Contents of bylaws.

The bylaws must provide for at least the following:

1. The form of administration, indicating whether this shall be in charge of an administrator or of a board of administration, or otherwise, and specifying the powers, manner of removal, and, where proper, the compensation thereof.

2. Method of calling or summoning the co-owners to assemble; what percentage, if other than a majority of apartment owners, shall constitute a quorum; who is to preside over the meeting and who will keep the minute book wherein the resolutions shall be recorded.

3. Maintenance, repair and replacement of the common areas and facilities and payments therefor including the method of approving payment vouchers.

4. Manner of collecting from the apartment owners their share of the common expenses.

5. Designation and removal of personnel necessary for the maintenance, repair and replacement of the common areas and facilities.

6. The percentage of votes required to amend the bylaws.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499B.15]

499B.16 Disposition of property — destruction or damage.

If within thirty days of the date of the damage or destruction to all or part of the property, it is not determined by the council of co-owners to repair, reconstruct or rebuild, then and in that event:

1. The property shall be deemed to be owned in common by the apartment owners;

2. The undivided interest in the property owned in common which shall appertain to each apartment owner shall be the percentage of undivided interest previously owned by such owner in the common areas and facilities;

3. Any liens affecting any of the apartments shall be deemed to be transferred in accordance with the existing priorities to the percentage of the undivided interest of the apartment owner in the property as provided herein; and

4. The property shall be subject to an action for partition at the suit of any apartment owner, in which event the net proceeds of sale, together with the net proceeds of the insurance on the property, if any, shall be considered as one fund and shall be divided among all the apartment owners in a percentage equal to the percentage of undivided interest owned by each owner in the property, after first paying out of the respective shares of the apartment owners, to the extent sufficient for the purpose, all liens on the undivided interest in the property owned by each apartment owner.

499B.17 Lien against owner of unit.

All sums assessed by the council of co-owners but unpaid for the share of the common expenses chargeable to any apartment shall constitute a lien on such apartment prior to all other liens except only (1) tax liens on the apartment in favor of any assessing unit and special district, and (2) all sums unpaid on a first mortgage of record. Such lien may be foreclosed by suit by the council of co-owners or the representatives thereof, acting on behalf of the apartment owners, in like manner as a mortgage of real property. In the event of any such foreclosure, the apartment owner shall be required to pay a reasonable rental for the apartment if so provided in the bylaws, and the plaintiff in such foreclosure shall be entitled to the appointment of a receiver to collect the same. The council of co-owners or the representatives thereof, acting on behalf of the apartment owners, shall have power, unless prohibited by the declaration, to bid in the apartment at foreclosure sale, and to acquire and hold, lease, mortgage and convey the same. Suit to recover a money judgment for unpaid common expenses shall be maintainable without foreclosing or waiving the lien securing the same.

499B.18 Common expenses before foreclosure.

Where the mortgagee of a first mortgage of record or other purchaser of an apartment obtains title to the apartment as a result of foreclosure of the first mortgage, such acquirer of title, the acquirer's successors and assigns, shall not be liable for the share of the common expenses or assessments by the council of co-owners chargeable to such apartment which became due prior to the acquisition of title to such apartment by such acquirer. Such unpaid share of common expenses or assessments shall be deemed to be common expenses collectible from all of the apartment owners including such acquirer, the acquirer's successors and assigns.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §499B.18]

499B.19 Common expenses after voluntary conveyance.

In a voluntary conveyance the grantee of an apartment shall be jointly and severally liable with the grantor for all unpaid assessments against the latter for the grantor's share of the common expenses up to the time of the grant or conveyance, without prejudice to the grantee's right to recover from the grantor the amounts paid by the grantee therefor. However, any such grantee shall be entitled to a statement from the council of co-owners or its representatives, setting forth the amount of the unpaid assessments against the grantor and such grantee shall not be liable for, nor shall the apartment conveyed be subject to a lien for, any unpaid assessments against the grantor in excess of the amount therein set forth.

499B.20 Conversions to meet building codes.

After April 25, 2000, an existing structure shall not be converted to a horizontal property regime unless the converted structure meets local city or county, as applicable, building code requirements in effect on the date of conversion or the state building code requirements if the local city or county does not have a building code. For purposes of this section, if the structure is located in a city, the city building code applies and if the structure is located in the unincorporated area of the county, the county building code applies.

CHAPTER 500

COLLECTIVE MARKETING

- 500.1 Authorization.
- 500.2 Liquidated damages.

- 500.3 Applicability of chapter.

500.1 Authorization.

Persons engaged in the conduct of any agricultural, horticultural, dairy, livestock, mercantile, mining, or manufacturing business in the manner provided in section 500.3 may act together in associations, corporate or otherwise, for the purpose of collectively producing, processing, preparing for market, handling, and marketing the products of their members. Such persons may organize and operate such associations, and such associations may make the necessary contracts and agreements to effect that purpose, any law to the contrary notwithstanding.

[C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8513; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §500.1]

500.2 Liquidated damages.

Contracts and agreements entered into between associations and the members thereof may, where damages that may be sustained for the breach thereof are difficult of ascertainment, provide for such penalties as may be agreed upon, which penalties, if the parties thereto so agree, shall be construed as liquidated damages and be enforceable in the full amount thereof both at law and in equity.

[C24, 27, 31, 35, 39, §8514; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §500.2]

500.3 Applicability of chapter.

The provisions of this chapter shall apply:

1. To corporations organized under the provisions of chapter 497.
2. To other incorporated associations or companies organized without capital stock, not for pecuniary profit and for the mutual benefit of their members.

For purposes of this subsection, "not for pecuniary profit" includes but is not necessarily limited to an incorporated association organized to assist its members to make profits for themselves as producers by the means authorized in section 500.1, but not to make income or profit for distribution to its members, directors, or officers, except as provided in chapter 504A.

501.102 Purposes and powers.

1. A cooperative organized under this chapter has the purpose of engaging in any lawful business unless a more limited purpose is set forth in the articles.

2. Unless its articles provide otherwise, a cooperative has perpetual duration and succession in its cooperative name and has the same powers as an individual to do all things necessary or convenient to carry out its business and affairs, including, but not limited to, all of the following:

a. Sue and be sued, complain, and defend in its name.

b. Have a seal, which may be altered at will, and use it, or a facsimile of it, by impressing or affixing it or in any other manner reproducing it.

c. Make and amend bylaws, not inconsistent with its articles of association or with the laws of this state, for managing the business and regulating the affairs of the cooperative.

d. Purchase, receive, lease, or otherwise acquire, and own, hold, improve, use, and otherwise deal with, real or personal property, or any legal or equitable interest in property, wherever located.

e. Sell, convey, mortgage, pledge, lease, exchange, and otherwise dispose of all or any part of its property.

f. Purchase, receive, subscribe for, or otherwise acquire, own, hold, vote, use, sell, mortgage, lend, pledge, or otherwise dispose of, and deal in and with shares or other interests in, or obligations of, any other entity.

g. Make contracts and guarantees, incur liabilities, borrow money, issue its notes, bonds, and other obligations, which may be convertible into or include the option to purchase other interests of the cooperative, and secure any of its obligations by mortgage or pledge of any of its property, franchises, or income.

h. Lend money, invest and reinvest its funds, and receive and hold real and personal property as security for repayment.

i. Be a promoter, partner, member, associate, or manager of any partnership, joint venture, trust, or other entity.

j. Conduct its business, locate offices, and exercise the powers granted by this chapter within or without this state.

k. Elect directors and appoint officers, employees, and agents of the cooperative, define their duties, fix their compensation, and lend them money and credit.

l. Pay pensions and establish pension plans, pension trusts, profit-sharing plans, bonus plans, and benefit or incentive plans for any or all of its current or former directors, officers, employees, and agents.

m. Make donations for the public welfare or for charitable, scientific, or educational purposes.

n. Transact any lawful business that will aid governmental policy.

o. Make payments or donations, or do any other act, not inconsistent with law, that furthers the business and affairs of the cooperative.

96 Acts, ch 1010, §4; 98 Acts, ch 1152, §7, 69

501.103 Permissible members — limited farming activities.

1. Notwithstanding section 9H.4, any person or entity, subject to the limitations set forth in section 501.305, and subject to the cooperative’s articles and bylaws, is permitted to own interests, including voting interests, in a cooperative.

2. Notwithstanding section 9H.4, a cooperative may, directly or indirectly, acquire or otherwise obtain or lease agricultural land in this state, for as long as the cooperative continues to meet the following requirements:

a. Farming entities own sixty percent of the interests and are eligible to cast sixty percent of the votes at member meetings.

b. Authorized persons own at least seventy-five percent of the interests and are eligible to cast at least seventy-five percent of the votes at member meetings.

c. The cooperative does not, either directly or indirectly, acquire or otherwise obtain or lease agricultural land, if the total agricultural land either directly or indirectly owned or leased by the cooperative would then exceed six hundred forty acres.

3. A cooperative that claims that it is exempt from the restrictions of section 9H.4 pursuant to subsection 2 shall file an annual report with the secretary of state on or before March 31 of each year on forms supplied by the secretary of state. The report shall be signed by the president or the vice president of the cooperative and shall contain the following:

- a. The cooperative's name and address.
- b. A certification that the cooperative meets both of the requirements of subsection 2.
- c. The number of acres of agricultural land owned, leased, or held by the cooperative, including the following:
 - (1) The total number of acres in the state.
 - (2) The number of acres in each county identified by county name.
 - (3) The number of acres owned.
 - (4) The number of acres leased.
 - (5) The number of acres held other than by ownership or lease.
 - (6) The number of acres used for the production of row crops.

4. The president or the vice president of the cooperative who falsifies a report is guilty of perjury as provided in section 720.2.

5. In the event of a transfer of an interest in a cooperative by operation of law as a result of death, divorce, bankruptcy, or pursuant to a security interest, the cooperative may disregard the transfer for purposes of determining compliance with subsection 2 for a period of two years after the transfer.

Suspension of filing requirement, §10B.4A

501.104 Name.

The name of a cooperative organized under this chapter must contain the word "cooperative", "coop", or "co-op", and the name must be distinguishable from the names of cooperatives organized under this chapter or another chapter, or foreign cooperatives authorized to do business in this state.

96 Acts, ch 1010, §6

501.105 Execution and filing of documents.

1. The secretary of state may prescribe and furnish on request forms for the proper administration of this chapter. If the secretary of state has prescribed a mandatory form for a document, then that form must be on the prescribed form.

2. Articles must be signed by all of the organizers; and all other documents filed with the secretary of state must be signed by one of the cooperative's officers. The printed name and capacity of each signatory must appear in proximity to the signatory's signature. The secretary of state may accept a document containing a copy of the signature. A document is not required to contain a seal, an acknowledgment, or a verification.

3. The secretary of state shall collect the following fees:

- a. Twenty dollars upon the filing of original or amended articles or articles of merger.
- b. Five dollars upon the filing of all other required documents.

c. Five dollars per document and fifty cents per page for copying and certifying a document.

4. A document is effective at the later of the following times:

a. The time of filing on the date it is filed, as evidenced by the secretary of state's date and time endorsement on the original document.

b. The delayed effective time and date specified in the document. If a delayed effective date but no time is specified in the document, the document is effective at the close of business on that date. A delayed effective date for a document shall not be later than the ninetieth day after the date it is filed.

5. A document filed under this section may be corrected if the document contains an incorrect statement or the execution of the document was defective. A document is corrected by filing with the secretary of state articles of correction which describe the document to be corrected, including its filing date or a copy of the document. The articles must specify and correct the incorrect statement or defective execution. Articles of correction are effective on the effective date of the document it corrects except as to persons relying on the original document and adversely affected by the correction. As to those persons, articles of correction are effective when filed.

6. The secretary of state shall forward for recording a copy of each original, amended, and restated articles, articles of merger, articles of consolidation, and articles of dissolution to the recorder of the county in which the cooperative has its principal place of business, or in the case of a merger or consolidation, to the recorders of each of the counties in which the merging or consolidating cooperatives have their principal offices.

96 Acts, ch 1010, §7; 98 Acts, ch 1152, §9, 69

501.106 Registered office and registered agent.

1. A cooperative must continuously maintain in this state a registered office that may be the same as any of its places of business, and a registered agent, who may be any of the following:

a. An individual who resides in this state and whose business office is identical with the registered office.

b. A domestic corporation or not-for-profit domestic corporation whose business office is identical with the registered office.

c. A foreign corporation or not-for-profit foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state whose business office is identical with the registered office.

2. A cooperative may change its registered office or registered agent by delivering to the secretary of state for filing a statement of change that sets forth all of the following:

- a. The name of the cooperative.
- b. The street address of its current registered office.

c. If the street address of the current registered office is to be changed, the street address of the new registered office.

d. The name of its current registered agent.

e. If the current registered agent is to be changed, the name of the new registered agent and the new agent's written consent, either on the statement or attached to it, to the appointment.

3. a. If a registered agent changes the street address of the registered agent's business office, the registered agent may change the street address of the registered office of any cooperative for which the person is the registered agent by notifying the cooperative in writing of the change and signing, either manually or in facsimile, and delivering to the secretary of state for filing, a statement that provides for a registered office and a registered agent as provided in this section, and which recites that the cooperative has been notified of the change.

b. If a registered agent changes the registered agent's business address to another place, the registered agent may change the business address and the address of the registered agent by filing a statement as required in paragraph "a" for each cooperative, or a single statement for all cooperatives named in the notice, except that it need be signed only by the registered agent or agents or be responsive to subsection 2, paragraph "e". The statement must recite that a copy of the statement has been mailed to each cooperative named in the notice.

4. A cooperative may also change its registered office or registered agent in its biennial report.

5. a. A registered agent may resign the agent's agency appointment by signing and delivering to the secretary of state for filing the signed original statement of resignation. The statement may include a statement that the registered office is also discontinued. The registered agent shall send a copy of the statement of resignation by certified mail to the cooperative at its principal office and to the registered office, if not discontinued. The registered agent shall certify to the secretary of state that the copies have been sent to the cooperative, including the date the copies were sent.

b. The agency appointment is terminated, and the registered office discontinued if so provided, on the date on which the statement was filed.

6. a. A cooperative's registered agent is the cooperative's agent for service of process, notice, or demand required or permitted by law to be served on the cooperative.

b. If a cooperative has no registered agent, or the agent cannot with reasonable diligence be served, the cooperative may be served by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, addressed to the secretary of the cooperative at its principal office. Service is perfected under this paragraph at the earliest of any of the following:

(1) The date that the cooperative receives the mail.

(2) The date shown on the return receipt, if signed on behalf of the cooperative.

(3) Five days after its deposit in the United States mail, as evidenced by the postmark, if mailed postpaid and correctly addressed.

c. A cooperative may be served pursuant to this section or as provided in other provisions of this chapter, unless the manner of service is otherwise specifically provided for by statute.

96 Acts, ch 1010, §8; 98 Acts, ch 1152, §10, 11, 69; 2000 Acts, ch 1022, §12

Subsection 4 amended

501.107 Records and reports. Repealed by 98 Acts, ch 1152, §68, 69. See §501.701 et seq.

501.108 Quo warranto.

The attorney general alone shall have the right to inquire into whether a cooperative has the right to exist or continue under this chapter. If the secretary of state is informed that a cooperative is not functioning as a cooperative, the secretary of state shall notify the attorney general. If the attorney general finds reasonable cause that the cooperative is not functioning as provided under this chapter, the attorney general shall bring action to wind up the affairs of the cooperative.

96 Acts, ch 1010, §10

SUBCHAPTER II

ARTICLES AND BYLAWS

501.201 Incorporation.

Three or more individuals may organize a cooperative under this chapter by executing and delivering articles to the secretary of state.

96 Acts, ch 1010, §11

501.202 Articles of incorporation.

1. The initial articles must set forth all of the following:

a. The name, address, and occupation of each organizer.

b. The names and addresses of the initial directors.

c. The street address of the cooperative's initial registered office and the name of its initial registered agent at that office.

2. The articles must set forth all of the following:

a. The name that satisfies the requirements of section 501.104.

b. A statement that it is organized under this chapter.

c. Its duration, which may be perpetual.

d. The classes of interests and the authorized number of interests of each class.

e. The quorum required for each member meeting.

f. The member voting rules.

3. The articles may set forth any other provision consistent with law.

96 Acts, ch 1010, §12; 98 Acts, ch 1152, §12, 13, 69

501.203 Amended and restated articles of incorporation.

1. A cooperative may amend its articles at any time to add or change a provision that is required or permitted in the articles or to delete a provision not required in the articles.

2. A cooperative may restate its articles at any time. A restatement of the articles must contain the information required by section 501.202, subsection 2, and may set forth any other provision consistent with law.

3. If the board recommends the amendment or restatement to the members, the amendment or restatement must be adopted by the members by a vote of two-thirds of the votes cast.

4. If the board does not recommend the amendment or restatement to the members, then the amendment or restatement must be adopted by the members by a vote of two-thirds of the votes cast on a ballot in which a majority of all votes are cast.

96 Acts, ch 1010, §13

501.204 Bylaws.

The board may adopt or amend the cooperative's bylaws by a vote of three-fourths of the board. The members may adopt or amend the cooperative's bylaws by a vote of three-fourths of the votes cast on a ballot in which a majority of all votes are cast. A bylaw provision adopted by the members shall not be amended or repealed by the directors.

96 Acts, ch 1010, §14

SUBCHAPTER III

MEMBERS

501.301 Liability of members.

A member is not personally liable for the acts or debts of the cooperative.

96 Acts, ch 1010, §15

501.302 Calling and notice of meetings.

1. A cooperative shall hold an annual member meeting at a time and place fixed in accordance with the bylaws.

2. The board may call special member meetings, and the board shall call a special member meeting upon the written demand of twenty percent of the members.

3. A cooperative shall give each member at least ten days' advance notice of the time, place, and the issues to be considered at each member meeting. This notice may be given in person or by mail to the last known address of the member, or the notice requirement may be met by the member waiving the notice.

4. The record date for determining the members entitled to notice of and to vote at a member meeting is the close of business on the day before the first notices for the meeting are delivered or mailed.

96 Acts, ch 1010, §16

501.303 Conduct of meetings.

1. Only those issues included in the notice of a member meeting may be considered at that meeting.

2. A member may vote at a member meeting in person or by signed absentee ballot that specifies the issue and the member's vote on that issue. If the board makes available an absentee ballot form, then that form must be used to cast an absentee ballot on that issue.

96 Acts, ch 1010, §17

501.304 Member information.

1. Within ten days from receiving a demand of a member, the cooperative shall produce and furnish the member with the names and addresses of all members of the cooperative.

2. The board shall adopt a policy which permits the distribution of information to all of the members upon the request of a member when the purpose of the request concerns directly the action of the board. Upon receipt of the information and the request of a member, the board shall distribute the information to all of the members. The cooperative may charge the requesting member the costs incurred by the cooperative in distributing the information.

96 Acts, ch 1010, §18

501.305 Multiple membership prohibited.

A person who is a member owning fifteen percent or more of a cooperative shall not be eligible to be a member of any other cooperative organized under this chapter. A person violating this section is subject to a civil penalty of not more than one hundred dollars. The person's membership in a cooperative shall terminate if the person's acquisition of an interest in that cooperative caused the person to be in violation of this section.

96 Acts, ch 1010, §19

501.306 Number of votes.

A person who is a member shall not own more than one membership. The person shall be entitled to cast not more than one vote regarding any matter in which a vote is conducted, including any matter subject to a vote during a cooperative meeting.

96 Acts, ch 1010, §20; 98 Acts, ch 1152, §14, 69

501.307 Financial information.

The cooperative shall make available financial information to its membership by doing either of the following:

1. Preparing and providing to its members a financial statement for the cooperative's last fiscal year.

a. The financial statement must be based upon an unqualified opinion based upon an audit performed by a certified public accountant licensed in this state. However, a qualification in an opinion is valid, if it is unavoidable by any audit procedure that is permitted under generally accepted accounting principles. An opinion that is qualified because of a limited audit procedure or because the scope of an audit is limited is invalid for purposes of this section.

b. The financial statement must disclose the assets, liabilities, and net worth of the cooperative. The financial statement must be prepared according to generally accepted accounting principles. Assets must be shown at original cost less depreciation, or based upon a valuation in accordance with a competent appraisal. Unpriced contracts for agricultural commodities or products must be shown as a liability and valued at the applicable current market price of the agricultural commodities or products as of the date the financial statement is prepared.

2. Honoring a demand to provide access at all reasonable hours at its offices to the books, records, accounts, papers, documents, and computer programs or other recordings relating to the property, assets, business, and financial affairs of the cooperative. The demand shall be in writing and signed by at least fifty percent of all the members of the cooperative. The cooperative shall honor the demand within one day from its receipt. Upon receipt of the demand, the cooperative must provide access to one or more persons selected by the fifty percent of the members to conduct the examination.

96 Acts, ch 1010, §21

SUBCHAPTER IV

DIRECTORS, OFFICERS, AND AGENTS

PART 1

GENERAL PROVISIONS

501.401 Number and election.

1. The affairs of a cooperative shall be managed by a board of not less than three directors.

2. The members shall elect the directors as prescribed in the articles or bylaws.

3. Each director shall serve the term prescribed in the articles or bylaws. The terms may be staggered.

96 Acts, ch 1010, §22

501.402 Vacancies.

1. A director may resign at any time by delivering written notice to the board chairperson or the board secretary. A resignation is effective when the notice is delivered unless the notice specifies a later effective date.

2. The members may remove one or more directors with or without cause unless the articles provide that directors may be removed only for cause.

3. The articles may authorize the board to remove a director for a cause specified in the articles.

4. Unless the articles or bylaws provide otherwise, the board shall fill each vacancy until the members elect a director to fill the vacancy at the next scheduled meeting of the members. If the directors remaining in office constitute fewer than a quorum of the board, they may fill the vacancy by the affirmative vote of a majority of all the directors remaining in office.

96 Acts, ch 1010, §23

501.403 Board action.

1. The board may hold regular or special meetings in or out of this state. A quorum of the board consists of a majority of the directors.

2. Unless the articles or bylaws provide otherwise:

a. Regular board meetings may be held without notice of the date, time, place, or purpose of the meeting.

b. Special board meetings must be preceded by at least two days' notice of the date, time, and place of the meeting; but the notice need not describe the purpose of the special meeting.

c. The board may create one or more committees composed of directors, and specify the duties and authority of each committee.

d. The board may permit any number of directors to participate in a regular or special meeting by, or conduct the meeting through, the use of any means of communication by which all directors participating may simultaneously hear each other during the meeting.

e. Action required or permitted by this chapter to be taken at a board meeting may be taken without a meeting if the action is taken by all members of the board. The action must be evidenced by one or more written consents describing the action taken, signed by each director, and included in the minutes or filed with the cooperative's records reflecting the action taken. Action taken under this section is effective when the last director signs the consent, unless the consent specifies a different effective date. A consent signed under this section has the effect of a meeting vote and may be described as such in any document.

3. A director may waive any notice required by this chapter, the articles, or the bylaws before or after the date and time stated in the notice. The waiver must be in writing, signed by the director entitled to the notice, and filed with the minutes or records of the cooperative. A director's attendance at or participation in a meeting waives any required notice to that director of the meeting unless the director at the beginning of the meeting or promptly upon the director's arrival objects to holding the meeting or transacting business at the meeting and does not thereafter vote for or assent to action taken at the meeting.

501.404 Director conflict of interest.

1. A conflict of interest transaction is a transaction with the cooperative in which a director has a direct or indirect interest. A director shall be deemed to have a conflict of interest in a matter concerning a transaction between the cooperative and another entity, if the director owns a twenty-five percent or greater ownership interest in the other entity. A conflict of interest transaction is not voidable by the cooperative solely because of the director's interest in the transaction if any one of the following is true:

a. The material facts of the transaction and the director's interest were disclosed or known to the board or a board committee and the board or committee authorized, approved, or ratified the transaction. For purposes of this paragraph, a conflict of interest transaction is authorized, approved, or ratified if it receives the affirmative vote of a majority of the directors on the board or on the committee who have no direct or indirect interest in the transaction, but a transaction may not be authorized, approved, or ratified under this section by a single director. If a majority of the directors who have no direct or indirect interest in the transaction vote to authorize, approve, or ratify the transaction, a quorum is present for the purpose of taking action under this paragraph. The presence of, or a vote cast by, a director with a direct or indirect interest in the transaction does not affect the validity of any action taken under this paragraph, if the transaction is otherwise authorized, approved, or ratified as provided in this paragraph.

b. The material facts of the transaction and the director's interest were disclosed or known to the members entitled to vote and they authorized, approved, or ratified the transaction. For purposes of this paragraph, a conflict of interest transaction is authorized, approved, or ratified if it receives a majority of the votes entitled to be counted under this paragraph. Voting interests owned by or voted under the control of a director who has a direct or indirect interest in the transaction, and voting interests owned by or voted under the control of an entity described in subsection 2, paragraph "a", shall not be counted in a vote of members to determine whether to authorize, approve, or ratify a conflict of interest transaction under this paragraph. The vote of those voting interests, however, is counted in determining whether the transaction is approved under other sections of this chapter. A majority of the votes, whether or not the members are present, that are entitled to be counted in a vote on the transaction under this paragraph constitutes a quorum for the purpose of taking action under this paragraph.

c. The transaction was fair to the cooperative.

2. For purposes of this section, a director of the cooperative has an indirect interest in a transaction if either:

a. Another entity in which the director has a material financial interest is a party to the transaction.

b. Another entity of which the director is a director, officer, or trustee is a party to the transaction and the transaction is or should be considered by the board.

501.405 Officers.

A cooperative shall have officers described in its bylaws or appointed by the board in accordance with the bylaws. The bylaws or the board shall delegate to one of the officers responsibility for preparing minutes of the directors' and members' meetings and for authenticating records of the cooperative. Each officer has the authority and shall perform the duties set forth in the bylaws or, to the extent consistent with the bylaws, the duties prescribed by the board. The same individual may simultaneously hold more than one office.

96 Acts, ch 1010, §26

501.406 Standards of conduct.

1. A director or officer shall discharge the director's or officer's duties in conformity with all of the following:

a. In good faith.

b. With the care an ordinarily prudent person in a like position would exercise under similar circumstances.

c. In a manner the director or officer reasonably believes to be in the best interests of the cooperative.

2. In discharging duties by a director or officer, the director or officer is entitled to rely on information, opinions, reports, or statements, including financial statements and other financial data, if prepared or presented by any of the following:

a. One or more officers or employees of the cooperative whom the director or officer reasonably believes to be reliable and competent in the matters presented.

b. A person, including but not limited to a legal counsel or public accountant, regarding a matter that the director or officer reasonably believes is within the person's professional or expert competence.

c. A committee of the board of which the director or officer is not a member if the director or officer reasonably believes the committee merits confidence.

3. A director or officer is not acting in good faith if the director or officer has knowledge concerning a matter in question that makes reliance otherwise permitted by subsection 2 unwarranted.

4. A director or officer is not liable for any action taken as a director or officer, or the failure to take action, if the director or officer performs the duties of the office in compliance with this section or if, and to the extent that, liability for the action or failure to act has been limited by the articles pursuant to section 501.407.

96 Acts, ch 1010, §27

501.407 Personal liability.

The articles may contain a provision eliminating or limiting the personal liability of a director, officer, or interest holder of the cooperative for monetary damages for breach of a fiduciary duty as a director, officer, or interest holder, provided that the provision does not eliminate or limit liability for any of the following:

1. A breach of the duty of loyalty to the cooperative or its interest holders.

2. An act or omission not in good faith or which involves intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law.

3. A transaction from which the director, officer, or interest holder derives an improper personal benefit.

4. An act or omission occurring prior to the date when the provision in the articles becomes effective.

96 Acts, ch 1010, §28; 98 Acts, ch 1152, §18, 19, 69

501.408 Indemnification. Repealed by 98 Acts, ch 1152, §68, 69. See §501.411 et seq.

PART 2

INDEMNIFICATION

501.411 Definitions.

As used in this part, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. “Cooperative” includes any domestic or foreign predecessor entity of a cooperative in a merger or other transaction in which the predecessor’s existence ceased upon consummation of the transaction.

2. “Director” means an individual who is or was a director of a cooperative or an individual who, while a director of a cooperative, is or was serving at the cooperative’s request as a director, officer, partner, trustee, employee, or agent of another foreign or domestic cooperative, corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other enterprise. A director is considered to be serving an employee benefit plan at the cooperative’s request if the director’s duties to the cooperative also impose duties on, or otherwise involve services by, that director to the plan or to participants in or beneficiaries of the plan. “Director” includes, unless the context requires otherwise, the estate or personal representative of a director.

3. “Expenses” includes counsel fees.

4. “Liability” means the obligation to pay a judgment, settlement, penalty, fine, including an excise tax assessed with respect to an employee benefit plan, or reasonable expenses incurred with respect to a proceeding.

5. “Official capacity” means:

a. When used with respect to a director, the office of director in a cooperative.

b. When used with respect to an individual other than a director, as contemplated in section 501.417, the office in a cooperative held by the officer or the employment or agency relationship undertaken by the employee or agent on behalf of the cooperative.

“Official capacity” does not include service for any other foreign or domestic cooperative or any corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other enterprise.

6. “Party” includes an individual who was, is, or is threatened to be made a named defendant or respondent in a proceeding.

7. “Proceeding” means any threatened, pending, or completed action, suit, or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative, or investigative and whether formal or informal.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §20, 69

501.412 Authority to indemnify.

1. Except as provided in subsection 4, a cooperative may indemnify an individual made a party to a proceeding because the individual is or was a director against liability incurred in the proceeding if all of the following apply:

a. The individual acted in good faith.

b. The individual reasonably believed either of the following:

(1) In the case of conduct in the individual’s official capacity with the cooperative, that the individual’s conduct was in the cooperative’s best interests.

(2) In all other cases, that the individual’s conduct was at least not opposed to the cooperative’s best interests.

c. In the case of any criminal proceeding, the individual had no reasonable cause to believe the individual’s conduct was unlawful.

2. A director’s conduct with respect to an employee benefit plan for a purpose the director reasonably believed to be in the interests of the participants in and beneficiaries of the plan is conduct that satisfies the requirement of subsection 1, paragraph "b", subparagraph (2).

3. The termination of a proceeding by judgment, order, settlement, conviction, or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent is not, of itself, determinative that the director did not meet the standard of conduct described in this section.

4. A cooperative shall not indemnify a director under this section in either of the following circumstances:

a. In connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the cooperative in which the director was adjudged liable to the cooperative.

b. In connection with any other proceeding charging improper personal benefit to the director, whether or not involving action in the director's official capacity, in which the director was adjudged liable on the basis that personal benefit was improperly received by the director.

5. Indemnification permitted under this section in connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the cooperative is limited to reasonable expenses incurred in connection with the proceeding.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §21, 69

501.413 Mandatory indemnification.

Unless limited by its articles of association, a cooperative shall indemnify a director who was wholly successful, on the merits or otherwise, in the defense of any proceeding to which the director was a party because the director is or was a director of the cooperative against reasonable expenses incurred by the director in connection with the proceeding.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §22, 69

501.414 Advance for expenses.

1. A cooperative may pay for or reimburse the reasonable expenses incurred by a director who is a party to a proceeding in advance of final disposition of the proceeding if any of the following applies:

a. The director furnishes the cooperative a written affirmation of the director's good faith belief that the director has met the standard of conduct described in section 501.412.

b. The director furnishes the cooperative a written undertaking, executed personally or on the director's behalf, to repay the advance if it is ultimately determined that the director did not meet the standard of conduct described in section 501.412.

c. A determination is made pursuant to section 501.416 that the facts then known to those making the determination would not preclude indemnification under this part.

2. The undertaking required by subsection 1, paragraph "b", must be an unlimited general obligation of the director but need not be secured and may be accepted without reference to financial ability to make repayment.

3. Determinations and authorizations of payments under this section shall be made in the manner specified in section 501.416.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §23, 69

501.415 Court-ordered indemnification.

Unless a cooperative's articles of association provide otherwise, a director of the cooperative who is a party to a proceeding may apply for indemnification to the court conducting the proceeding or to another court of competent jurisdiction. On receipt of an application, the court after giving any notice the court considers necessary may order indemnification if it determines either of the following:

1. The director is entitled to mandatory indemnification under section 501.413, in which case the court shall also order the cooperative to pay the director's reasonable expenses incurred to obtain court-ordered indemnification.

501.416 Determination and authorization of indemnification.

1. A cooperative shall not indemnify a director under section 501.412 unless authorized in the specific case after a determination has been made that indemnification of the director is permissible in the circumstances because the director has met the standard of conduct set forth in section 501.412.

2. The determination shall be made by any of the following:

a. By the board of directors by majority vote of a quorum consisting of directors not at the time parties to the proceeding.

b. If a quorum cannot be obtained under paragraph "a", by majority vote of a committee duly designated by the board of directors, in which designation directors who are parties may participate, consisting solely of two or more directors not at the time parties to the proceeding.

c. By special legal counsel.

(1) The special legal counsel shall be selected by the board of directors or its committee in the manner prescribed in paragraph "a" or "b".

(2) If a quorum of the board of directors cannot be obtained under paragraph "a" and a committee cannot be designated under paragraph "b", the special legal counsel shall be selected by majority vote of the full board of directors, in which selection directors who are parties may participate.

d. By the members, but voting interests owned by or voted under the control of directors who are at the time parties to the proceeding shall not be voted on the determination.

3. Authorization of indemnification and evaluation as to reasonableness of expenses shall be made in the same manner as the determination that indemnification is permissible, except that if the determination is made by special legal counsel, authorization of indemnification and evaluation as to reasonableness of expenses shall be made by those entitled under subsection 2, paragraph “c”, to select counsel.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §25, 69

501.417 Indemnification of officers, employees, and agents.

Unless a cooperative’s articles of association provide otherwise, all of the following apply:

1. An officer of the cooperative who is not a director is entitled to mandatory indemnification under section 501.413, and is entitled to apply for court-ordered indemnification under section 501.415, in each case to the same extent as a director.

2. The cooperative may indemnify and advance expenses under this part to an officer, employee, or agent of the cooperative who is not a director to the same extent as to a director.

3. A cooperative may also indemnify and advance expenses to an officer, employee, or agent who is not a director to the extent consistent with law that may be provided by its articles of association, bylaws, general or specific action of its board of directors, or contract.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §26, 69

501.418 Insurance.

A cooperative may purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of an individual who is or was a director, officer, employee, or agent of the cooperative, or who, while a director, officer, employee, or agent of the cooperative, is or was serving at the request of the cooperative as a director, officer, partner, trustee, employee, or agent of another foreign or domestic cooperative, corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan, or other enterprise, against liability asserted against or incurred by that individual in that capacity or arising from the individual’s status as a director, officer, employee, or agent, whether or not the cooperative would have power to indemnify that individual against the same liability under section 501.412 or 501.413.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §27, 69

501.419 Application of this part.

Except as limited in section 501.412, subsection 4, paragraph “a”, and subsection 5 with respect to proceedings by or in the right of the cooperative, the indemnification and advancement of expenses provided by, or granted pursuant to, sections 501.411 through 501.418 are not exclusive of any other rights to which persons seeking indemnification or advancement of expenses are entitled under a provision in the articles of association or bylaws, agreements, vote of the members or disinterested directors, or otherwise, both as to action in a person’s official capacity and as to action in another capacity while holding the office. However, such provisions, agreements, votes, or other actions shall not provide indemnification for a breach of a director’s duty of loyalty to the cooperative or its interest holders, for acts or omissions not in good faith or which involve intentional misconduct or knowing violation of the law, or for a transaction from which the person seeking indemnification derives an improper personal benefit.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §28, 69

SUBCHAPTER V

CAPITAL STRUCTURE

501.501 Issuance and transfer of interests.

1. A cooperative may issue the number of interests of each class authorized by its articles. A cooperative may issue fractional interests. Interests may be represented by certificates or by entry on the cooperative’s interest record books.

2. A member shall not sell or otherwise transfer voting interests to any person. A member may be restricted or limited from selling or otherwise transferring any other class of interests of the cooperative as provided by the cooperative’s articles of association or bylaws or an agreement executed between the cooperative and the member.

3. A cooperative may acquire its own interests, and interests so acquired constitute authorized but unissued interests.

96 Acts, ch 1010, §30; 97 Acts, ch 16, §1; 98 Acts, ch 1152, §29, 69

501.502 Termination of membership.

1. A membership shall terminate upon the death of the member.

2. The articles or bylaws may authorize the board to terminate a membership for any of the following reasons:

a. The member has attempted to transfer any interest to a person who is not a member and has not been approved for membership.

b. The member has failed to meet the member’s commitment to provide products to the cooperative or to buy the cooperative’s products.

c. The member is no longer an authorized person.

d. The member is no longer a farming entity.

3. A member’s right to vote at member meetings shall cease upon termination of the membership.

4. The cooperative shall redeem, without interest, the voting interest of a terminated member within one year after the termination of the membership for the fair market value of the interest. If the amount originally paid by the member for the voting interest was less than ten percent of the total amount the member paid for all classes of interests, the cooperative may redeem the voting interest for its issue price if the cooperative's articles of association grant the cooperative this authority.

5. The cooperative shall redeem, without interest, all of the terminated member's allocated patronage refunds and preferred interests originally issued as allocated patronage refunds for the issue price as follows:

a. If a terminated member's current equity is less than two percent of the cooperative's total members' equity, the cooperative shall either redeem the terminated member's equity within one year after the termination of the membership or redeem the terminated member's equity in annual amounts of not less than twenty percent of the total amount provided that the entire amount must be redeemed within five years after the termination of the membership.

b. If a terminated member's current equity equals or exceeds two percent of the cooperative's total members' equity, the cooperative shall redeem the terminated member's equity in annual amounts of not less than fifteen percent of the total amount provided that the entire amount must be redeemed within seven years after the termination of the membership.

501.503 Distribution of net savings.

The board shall annually dispose of the cooperative's earnings in excess of its operating expenses as follows:

1. If the articles authorize the payment of distributions on a class of interests, then the directors may declare a distribution pursuant to the articles. Distributions shall not exceed eight percent of the value of the interest in each fiscal year. The members may control the amount that is allocated under this subsection.

2. To provide a reasonable reserve for depreciation, obsolescence, bad debts, or contingent losses or expenses. The members may control the amount that is allocated under this subsection.

3. To increase the cooperative's retained savings to the extent determined by the board to be necessary based on its evaluation of the future needs and the competitive position of the cooperative.

4. The cooperative shall have an unconditional binding obligation to distribute to the members all remaining net savings as determined under the United States Internal Revenue Code. These net savings shall be allocated to each member in proportion to the business the member did with the cooperative during the preceding fiscal year. The net savings may be separately calculated for two or more categories of business, and allocated to the members on the basis of business done within each of these categories. Net savings shall be distributed in the form of cash or interests, or a combination of cash and interests, as determined by the board.

SUBCHAPTER VI

CONVERSION, SALE, MERGER, AND CONSOLIDATION

PART 1

CONVERSION OF EXISTING ASSOCIATIONS AND SALE OF ASSETS

501.601 Existing associations.

1. As used in this section:

a. "Dissenting member" means a voting member who votes in opposition to the plan of conversion and who makes a demand for payment as provided in this section not later than the deadline for members to cast ballots on the vote to approve the plan of conversion.

b. "Issue price" means the amount paid for an interest in the association or the value stated in a notice of allocation of patronage refunds.

2. An association organized under chapter 497, 498, or 499 may adopt this chapter pursuant to the following procedures:

a. The board must adopt a plan of conversion that specifies the changes in the articles to comply with this chapter, the effect of the conversion on the association's outstanding members' equity, and the option or options available to the equity holders who do not want to continue their investment in the association.

b. The members must approve the plan of conversion by the vote of two-thirds of the votes cast on a ballot in which a majority of all votes are cast.

3. a. The cooperative shall redeem all of the members' equity held by dissenting members at its issue price within one year after the conversion to this chapter is effective.

b. An equity holder who is not a voting member shall have the same rights as a dissenting member if the equity holder makes a demand for payment pursuant to paragraph "a" not later than the deadline for members to cast ballots on the vote to approve the plan of conversion.

c. The association shall notify all equity holders of their rights pursuant to paragraph "a" at the same time the association notifies the members of the member meeting to vote on the plan of conversion.

96 Acts, ch 1010, §33

501.602 Merger and consolidation. Repealed by 98 Acts, ch 1152, § 68, 69. See § 501.611 et seq.

501.603 Sale of assets.

1. A cooperative may, on the terms and conditions and for the consideration determined by the board, mortgage, pledge, or otherwise encumber any or all of its property.

2. A cooperative may sell, lease, exchange, or otherwise dispose of all, or substantially all, of its property, with or without the good will, on the terms and conditions and for the consideration determined by the board, which consideration may include the interests of another cooperative, if the board recommends the proposed transaction to the members, and the members approve it by the vote of two-thirds of the votes cast on a ballot in which a majority of all votes are cast. The board may condition its submission of the proposed transaction on any basis.

98 Acts, ch 1010, §35; 98 Acts, ch 1152, §34, 69

501.604 Dissolution. Repealed by 98 Acts, ch 1152, § 68, 69. See § 501.801 et seq.

501.605 through 501.610 Reserved.

PART 2

MERGER AND CONSOLIDATION

501.611 Definitions.

When used in this part, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. "Consolidation" means the uniting of two or more cooperatives organized under this chapter into one cooperative organized under this chapter, in such manner that a new cooperative is formed, and the new cooperative absorbs the others, which cease to exist as separate entities.

2. "Dissenting member" means a voting member who votes in opposition to the plan of merger or consolidation and who makes a demand for payment of the fair value under section 501.615.

3. "Fair value" means the cash price that would be paid by a willing buyer to a willing seller, neither being under any compulsion to buy or sell.

4. "Issue price" means the amount paid for an interest in the old cooperative or the amount stated in a notice of allocation of patronage distributions.

5. "Merger" means the uniting of two or more cooperatives organized under this chapter into one cooperative organized under this chapter, in such manner that one of the merging associations continues to exist and absorbs the others, which cease to exist as entities. "Merger" does not include the acquisition, by purchase or otherwise, of the assets of one cooperative by another, unless the acquisition only becomes effective by the filing of articles of merger by the cooperatives and the issuance of a certificate of merger pursuant to sections 501.617 and 501.618.

6. "New cooperative" is the cooperative resulting from the consolidation of two or more cooperatives organized under this chapter.

7. "Old cooperative" means the cooperative in which the member owns or owned a membership prior to merger or consolidation.

8. "Surviving cooperative" is the cooperative resulting from the merger of two or more cooperatives organized under this chapter.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §35, 69

501.612 Merger.

Any two or more cooperatives may merge into one cooperative in the manner provided in this section. The board of directors of each cooperative shall, by resolution adopted by a majority vote of all members of each board, approve a plan of merger which shall set forth all of the following:

1. The names of the cooperatives proposing to merge and the name of the surviving cooperative.

2. The terms and conditions of the proposed merger.

3. A statement of any changes in the articles of association of the surviving cooperative.

4. Other provisions deemed necessary or desirable.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §36, 69

501.613 Consolidation.

Any two or more cooperatives may be consolidated into a new cooperative as provided in this section. The board of directors of each cooperative shall, by resolution adopted by a majority vote of all members of each board, approve a plan of consolidation setting forth:

1. The names of the cooperatives proposing to consolidate and the name of the new cooperative.

2. The terms and conditions of the proposed consolidation.

3. With respect to the new cooperative, all of the statements required to be set forth in articles of association for cooperatives.

4. Other provisions deemed necessary or desirable.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §37, 69

501.614 Vote of members.

1. The board of directors of a cooperative, upon approving a plan of merger or consolidation, shall, by motion or resolution, direct that the plan be submitted to a vote at a meeting of members, which may be either an annual or special meeting. Written notice shall be given not less than twenty days prior to the meeting, either personally or by mail, to each voting member of record. The notice shall state the time, place, and purpose of the meeting, and a summary of the plan of merger or consolidation shall be included in or enclosed with the notice.

2. At the meeting, a ballot of the members who are entitled to vote in the affairs of the association shall be taken on the proposed plan of merger or consolidation. The plan of merger or consolidation shall be approved if two-thirds of the members vote affirmatively on a ballot in which a majority of all voting members participate. Voting may be by mail ballot notwithstanding any contrary provision in the articles of association or bylaws.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §38, 69

501.615 Objection of members — purchase of interests upon demand.

1. If a member of a cooperative which is a party to a merger or consolidation files with the cooperative, prior to or at the meeting of members at which the plan is submitted to a vote, a written objection to the plan of merger or consolidation, and votes in opposition to the plan, and the member, within twenty days after the merger or consolidation is approved by the other members, makes written demand on the surviving or new cooperative for payment of the fair value of that member's interest as of the day prior to the date on which the vote was taken approving the merger or consolidation, the surviving or new cooperative shall pay to the member, upon surrender of that person's certificate of membership or interests in the cooperative, the fair value of that person's interest as provided in section 501.616. A member who fails to make demand within the twenty-day period is conclusively presumed to have consented to the merger or consolidation and is bound by its terms.

2. In the event that a dissenting member does business with the surviving or new cooperative before payment has been made for that person's membership, the dissenting member is deemed to have consented to the merger or consolidation and to have waived all further rights as a dissenting member.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §39, 69

501.616 Value determined.

1. Within twenty days after the merger or consolidation is effected, the surviving or new cooperative shall make a written offer to each dissenting member to pay a specified sum deemed by the surviving or new cooperative to be the fair value of that dissenting member's interest in the old cooperative. This offer shall be accompanied by a balance sheet of the old cooperative as of the latest available date, a profit and loss statement of the old cooperative for the twelve-month period ending on the date of the balance sheet, and a list of the dissenting member's interests in the old cooperative. If the dissenting member does not agree that the sum stated in the notice represents the fair value of the member's interest, then the member may file a written objection with the surviving or new cooperative within twenty days after receiving the notice. A dissenting member who fails to file the objection within the twenty-day period is conclusively presumed to have consented to the fair value stated in the notice.

2. If the surviving or new cooperative receives any objections to fair values, then within ninety days after the merger or consolidation is effected, the surviving or new cooperative shall file a petition in district court asking for a finding and determination of the fair value of each type of equity. The action shall be tried as an equitable action.

3. The fair value of a dissenting member's interest in the old cooperative shall be determined as of the day preceding the merger or consolidation by taking the lesser of either the issue price of the dissenting member's membership, deferred patronage, and any other interests in the cooperative, or the amount determined by subtracting the old cooperative's debts from the fair market value of the old cooperative's assets, dividing the remainder by the total issue price of all memberships, deferred patronage, and all other interests, and then multiplying the quotient from this division by the total issue price of a dissenting member's membership, deferred patronage, and other interests.

4. The surviving or new cooperative shall pay to each dissenting member in cash within sixty days after the merger or consolidation the amount paid in cash by the dissenting member for that member's interest in the old cooperative. The surviving or new cooperative shall pay the remainder of each dissenting member's fair value in ten annual equal payments. The final payment must be made not later than fifteen years after the merger or consolidation. The value of the deferred patronage or interests issued to evidence deferred patronage shall be considered a liability of the surviving or new cooperative as reflected in the accounts of the surviving or new cooperative until the value of the deferred patronage or interests issued to evidence deferred patronage is paid in full to the dissenting member. A dissenting member who is a natural person who dies before receiving the fair value shall have all of the person's fair value paid with the same priority as if the person was a member at the time of death.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §40, 69

501.617 Articles of merger or consolidation.

Upon approval, articles of merger or articles of consolidation shall be executed by each cooperative as provided in section 501.105. The articles must include the following:

1. The plan of merger or the plan of consolidation.
2. As to each cooperative, the number of members.

3. As to each cooperative, the number of members who voted for and against the plan at the meeting called for that purpose.

The articles of merger or articles of consolidation shall be delivered to the secretary of state for filing.

The secretary of state, upon the filing of articles of merger or articles of consolidation, shall issue a certificate of merger or a certificate of consolidation and send the certificate to the surviving or new cooperative, or to its representative.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §41, 69

501.618 Effective date — effect.

A merger or consolidation shall become effective upon the date that the certificate of merger or the certificate of consolidation is issued by the secretary of state, or the effective date specified in the articles of merger or articles of consolidation, whichever is later.

When a merger or consolidation has become effective:

1. The several cooperatives which are parties to the plan of merger or consolidation shall be a single cooperative, which, in the case of a merger, shall be that cooperative designated in the plan of merger as the surviving cooperative, and, in the case of consolidation, shall be that cooperative designated in the plan of consolidation as the new cooperative.

2. The separate existence of all cooperatives which are parties to the plan of merger or consolidation, except the surviving or new cooperative, shall cease.

3. The surviving or new cooperative shall have all the rights, privileges, immunities, and powers and shall be subject to all the duties and liabilities of a cooperative organized under this chapter.

4. The surviving or new cooperative shall possess all the rights, privileges, immunities, and franchises, public as well as private, of each of the merging or consolidating cooperatives.

5. All property, real, personal, and mixed, and all debts due on whatever account, including all choses in action, and all and every other interest, of or belonging to or due to each of the cooperatives merged or consolidated, shall be transferred to and vested in the surviving or new cooperative without further act or deed. The title to any real estate, or any interest in real estate vested in any of the cooperatives merged or consolidated, shall not revert or be in any way impaired by reason of the merger or consolidation.

6. A surviving or new cooperative shall be responsible and liable for all obligations and liabilities of each of the cooperatives merged or consolidated.

7. Any claim existing or action or proceeding pending by or against any of the cooperatives merged or consolidated may be prosecuted as if the merger or consolidation had not taken place, or the surviving or new cooperative may be substituted for the merged or consolidated cooperative. Neither the rights of creditors nor any liens upon the property of any cooperative shall be impaired by a merger or consolidation.

8. In the case of a merger, the articles of association of the surviving cooperative shall be deemed to be amended to the extent that changes in its articles of association are stated in the plan of merger. In the case of a consolidation, the statements set forth in the articles of consolidation which are required or permitted to be set forth in the articles of association of a cooperative shall be deemed to be the original articles of association of the new cooperative.

9. The aggregate amount of the net assets of the merging or consolidating cooperative which was available for the payment of distributions immediately prior to the merger or consolidation, to the extent that the amount is not transferred to stated capital by the issuance of interests or otherwise, shall continue to be available for the payment of distributions by the surviving or new cooperative.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §42, 69

501.619 Abandonment before filing.

At any time prior to the filing of the articles of merger or consolidation, the merger or consolidation may be abandoned pursuant to provisions set forth in the plan of merger or consolidation.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §43, 69

SUBCHAPTER VII

RECORDS AND REPORTS

PART 1

RECORDS

501.701 Records.

1. A cooperative shall keep as permanent records minutes of all meetings of its members and board of directors, a record of all actions taken by the members or board of directors without a meeting, and a record of all actions taken by a committee of the board of directors in place of the board of directors on behalf of the cooperative.

2. A cooperative shall maintain appropriate accounting records.

3. A cooperative or its agent shall maintain a record of its interest holders in a form that permits preparation of a list of the names and addresses of all interest holders in alphabetical order by class of interests showing the number and class of interests held by each.

4. A cooperative shall maintain its records in written form or in another form capable of conversion into written form within a reasonable time.

5. A cooperative shall keep a copy of the following records:

a. Its articles or restated articles of association and all amendments to them currently in effect.

b. Its bylaws or restated bylaws and all amendments to them currently in effect.

c. Resolutions adopted by its board of directors creating one or more classes or series of interests, and fixing their relative rights, preferences, and limitations, if the interests issued pursuant to those resolutions are outstanding.

d. The minutes of all members' meetings, and records of all action taken by members without a meeting, for the past three years.

e. All written communications to interest holders generally within the past three years, including the financial statements furnished for the past three years under section 501.711.

f. A list of the names and business addresses of its current directors and officers.

g. Its most recent biennial report delivered to the secretary of state under section 501.713.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §44, 69; 99 Acts, ch 96, §42; 2000 Acts, ch 1022, §13

Subsection 5, paragraph g amended

501.702 Inspection of records by interest holders.

1. An interest holder of a cooperative is entitled to inspect and copy, during regular business hours at the cooperative's principal office, any of the records of the cooperative described in section 501.701, subsection 5, if the interest holder gives the cooperative written notice of the interest holder's demand at least five business days before the date on which the interest holder wishes to inspect and copy.

2. An interest holder of a cooperative is entitled to inspect and copy, during regular business hours at a reasonable location specified by the cooperative, any of the following records of the cooperative if the interest holder meets the requirements of subsection 3 and gives the cooperative written notice of the interest holder's demand at least five business days before the date on which the interest holder wishes to inspect and copy any of the following:

a. Excerpts from minutes of any meeting of the board of directors, records of any action of a committee of the board of directors while acting in place of the board of directors on behalf of the cooperative, minutes of any meeting of the members, and records of action taken by the members or board of directors without a meeting, to the extent not subject to inspection under subsection 1 of this section.

b. Accounting records of the cooperative.

c. The record of interest holders.

3. An interest holder may inspect and copy the records described in subsection 2 only if:

a. The interest holder's demand is made in good faith and for a proper purpose.

b. The interest holder describes with reasonable particularity the interest holder's purpose and the records the interest holder desires to inspect.

c. The records are directly connected with the interest holder's purpose.

4. The right of inspection granted by this section shall not be abolished or limited by a cooperative's articles of association or bylaws.

5. This section does not affect either of the following:

a. The right of a member to obtain information under section 501.304 or the right of an interest holder to obtain information, if the interest holder is in litigation with the cooperative, to the same extent as any other litigant.

b. The power of a court, independently of this chapter, to compel the production of cooperative records for examination.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §45, 69; 99 Acts, ch 96, §43

501.703 Scope of inspection right.

1. An interest holder's agent or attorney has the same inspection and copying rights as the interest holder the agent or attorney represents.

2. The right to copy records under section 501.702 includes, if reasonable, the right to receive copies made by photographic, xerographic, or other technological means.

3. The cooperative may impose a reasonable charge, covering the costs of labor and material, for copies of any documents provided to the interest holder. The charge shall not exceed the estimated cost of production or reproduction of the records.

4. The cooperative may comply with an interest holder's demand to inspect the record of interest holders under section 501.702, subsection 2, paragraph "c", by providing the interest holder with a list of its interest holders that was compiled no earlier than the date of the interest holder's demand.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §46, 69

501.704 Court-ordered inspection.

1. If a cooperative does not allow an interest holder who complies with section 501.702, subsection 1, to inspect and copy any records required by that subsection to be available for inspection, the district court of the county where the cooperative's principal office or, if none in this state, its registered office is located may summarily order inspection and copying of the records demanded at the cooperative's expense upon application of the interest holder.

2. If a cooperative does not within a reasonable time allow an interest holder to inspect and copy any other records, the interest holder who complies with section 501.702, subsections 2 and 3, may apply to the district court in the county where the cooperative's principal office or, if not in this state, its registered office is located for an order to permit inspection and copying of the records demanded. The court shall dispose of an application under this subsection on an expedited basis.

3. If the court orders inspection and copying of the records demanded, it shall also order the cooperative to pay the interest holder's costs, including reasonable counsel fees, incurred to obtain the order unless the cooperative proves that it refused inspection in good faith because it had a reasonable basis for doubt about the right of the interest holder to inspect the records demanded.

4. If the court orders inspection and copying of the records demanded, it may impose reasonable restrictions on the use or distribution of the records by the demanding interest holder.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §47, 69

501.705 through 501.710 Reserved.

PART 2

REPORTS

501.711 Financial statements for interest holders.

A cooperative shall prepare annual financial statements, which may be consolidated or combined statements of the cooperative and one or more of its subsidiaries, as appropriate, that include a balance sheet as of the end of the fiscal year and an income statement for that year. Upon written request from an interest holder, a cooperative, at its expense, shall furnish to that interest holder the financial statements requested. If the annual financial statements are reported upon by a public accountant, the report must accompany the financial statements.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §48, 69

501.712 Other reports to interest holders.

1. If a cooperative indemnifies or advances expenses to a director under sections 501.412 through 501.415 in connection with a proceeding by or in the right of the cooperative, the cooperative shall report the indemnification or advance in writing to the members with or before the notice of the next members' meeting.

2. If a cooperative issues or authorizes the issuance of interests for promissory notes or for promises to render services in the future, the cooperative shall report in writing to the members the number of interests authorized or issued, and the consideration received by the cooperative, with or before the notice of the next members' meeting.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §49, 69

501.713 Biennial report for secretary of state.

1. Each cooperative authorized to transact business in this state shall deliver to the secretary of state for filing a biennial report that sets forth all of the following:

a. The name of the cooperative.

b. The address of its registered office and the name of its registered agent at that office in this state, together with the consent of any new registered agent.

c. The address of its principal office.

d. The names and addresses of the president, secretary, treasurer, and one member of the board of directors.

2. Information in the biennial report must be current as of the first day of January of the year in which the report is due. The report shall be executed on behalf of the cooperative and signed as provided in section 501.105 or by any other person authorized by the board of directors of the cooperative.

3. The first biennial report shall be delivered to the secretary of state between January 1 and April 1 of the first even-numbered year following the calendar year in which a cooperative was organized. Subsequent biennial reports must be delivered to the secretary of state between January 1 and April 1 of the following even-numbered calendar years. A filing fee for the biennial report shall be determined by the secretary of state.

4. If a biennial report does not contain the information required by this section, the secretary of state shall promptly notify the reporting cooperative in writing and return the report to the cooperative for correction.

5. The secretary of state may provide for the change of registered office or registered agent on the form prescribed by the secretary of state for the biennial report, provided that the form contains the information required in section 501.106. If the secretary of state determines that a biennial report does not contain the information required by this section but otherwise meets the requirements of section 501.106 for the purpose of changing the registered office or registered agent, the secretary of state shall file the statement of change of registered office or registered agent, effective as provided in section 501.105, before returning the biennial report to the cooperative as provided in this section. A statement of change of registered office or agent pursuant to this subsection shall be executed by a person authorized to execute the biennial report.

SUBCHAPTER VIII

PART 1

GENERAL PROVISIONS

501.801 Dissolution by organizers or initial directors.

A majority of the organizers or initial directors of a cooperative that has not issued interests or has not commenced business may dissolve the cooperative by delivering to the secretary of state for filing articles of dissolution that set forth all of the following:

1. The name of the cooperative.
2. The date of its organization.
3. Either of the following:
 - a. That none of the cooperative's interests have been issued.
 - b. That the cooperative has not commenced business.
4. That no debt of the cooperative remains unpaid.
5. That the net assets of the cooperative remaining after winding up have been distributed in accordance with this chapter and the articles of association of the cooperative.
6. That a majority of the organizers or initial directors authorized the dissolution.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §51, 69

501.802 Dissolution by board of directors and members.

1. A cooperative's board of directors may propose dissolution for submission to the members.
2. For a proposal to dissolve to be adopted both of the following must apply:
 - a. The board of directors must recommend dissolution to the members unless the board of directors determines that because of conflict of interest or other special circumstances it should make no recommendation and communicates the basis for its determination to the members.
 - b. The members entitled to vote must approve the proposal to dissolve as provided in subsection 5.
3. The board of directors may condition its submission of the proposal for dissolution on any basis.
4. The cooperative shall notify each member of a meeting to consider dissolution in accordance with section 501.302. The notice must also state that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of the meeting is to consider dissolving the cooperative.
5. Unless the articles of association or the board of directors acting pursuant to subsection 3 require a greater vote or a vote by voting groups, the proposal to dissolve must be approved by a majority of all the votes entitled to be cast on that proposal in order to be adopted.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §52, 69

501.803 Articles of dissolution.

1. At any time after dissolution is authorized, the cooperative may dissolve by delivering to the secretary of state for filing articles of dissolution setting forth all of the following:

- a. The name of the cooperative.
- b. The date dissolution was authorized.
- c. If dissolution was approved by the members, both of the following:
 - (1) The number of votes entitled to be cast on the proposal to dissolve.
 - (2) Either the total number of votes cast for and against dissolution or the total number of undisputed votes cast for dissolution and a statement that the number cast for dissolution was sufficient for approval.

2. A cooperative is dissolved upon the effective date of its articles of dissolution.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §53, 69

501.804 Revocation of dissolution.

1. A cooperative may revoke its dissolution within one hundred twenty days of the effective date of the dissolution.

2. Revocation of dissolution must be authorized in the same manner as the dissolution was authorized unless that authorization permitted revocation by action of the board of directors alone, in which event the board of directors may revoke the dissolution without member action.

3. After the revocation of dissolution is authorized, the cooperative may revoke the dissolution by delivering to the secretary of state for filing articles of revocation of dissolution, together with a copy of its articles of dissolution, that set forth all of the following:

- a. The name of the cooperative.
- b. The effective date of the dissolution that was revoked.
- c. The date that the revocation of dissolution was authorized.
- d. If the cooperative's board of directors or organizers revoked the dissolution, a statement to that effect.
- e. If the cooperative's board of directors revoked a dissolution authorized by the members, a statement that revocation was permitted by action by the board of directors alone pursuant to that authorization.

f. If member action was required to revoke the dissolution, the information required by section 501.803, subsection 1, paragraph "c".

4. Revocation of dissolution is effective upon the effective date of the articles of revocation of dissolution.

5. When the revocation of dissolution is effective, it relates back to and takes effect as of the effective date of the dissolution as if the dissolution had never occurred.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §54, 69

501.805 Effect of dissolution.

1. A dissolved cooperative continues its existence but shall not carry on any business except that appropriate to wind up and liquidate its business and affairs, including any of the following:

- a. Collecting its assets.
- b. Disposing of its properties that will not be distributed in kind in accordance with this chapter and the cooperative's articles of association.
- c. Discharging or making provision for discharging its liabilities.
- d. Distributing its remaining property in accordance with this chapter and the cooperative's articles of association.
- e. Doing every other act necessary to wind up and liquidate its business and affairs.

2. Dissolution of a cooperative does not do any of the following:

- a. Transfer title to the cooperative's property.
- b. Prevent transfer of its interests, although the authorization to dissolve may provide for closing the cooperative's interest transfer records.
- c. Subject its directors or officers to standards of conduct different from those prescribed in section 501.406.
- d. Change quorum or voting requirements for its board of directors or members; change provisions for selection, resignation, or removal of its directors or officers or both; or change provisions for amending its bylaws.
- e. Prevent commencement of a proceeding by or against the cooperative in its name.
- f. Abate or suspend a proceeding pending by or against the cooperative on the effective date of dissolution.
- g. Terminate the authority of the registered agent of the cooperative.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §55, 69

501.806 Distribution of assets.

Upon the cooperative's dissolution, the cooperative's assets shall first be used to pay expenses necessary to carry out the dissolution and liquidation of assets, then be used to pay the cooperative's obligations other than the payment of deferred patronage or interests issued as deferred patronage, and the remainder shall be paid in the manner set forth in the cooperative's articles of association.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §56, 69

501.807 Known claims against dissolved cooperative.

1. A dissolved cooperative may dispose of the known claims against it by following the procedure described in this section.

2. The dissolved cooperative shall notify its known claimants in writing of the dissolution at any time after the effective date of the dissolution. The written notice must do all of the following:

- a. Describe information that must be included in a claim.
- b. Provide a mailing address where a claim may be sent.
- c. State the deadline, which shall not be fewer than one hundred twenty days from the effective date of the written notice, by which the dissolved cooperative must receive the claim.
- d. State that the claim will be barred if not received by the deadline.

3. A claim against the dissolved cooperative is barred if either of the following occur:

- a. A claimant who was given written notice under subsection 2 does not deliver the claim to the dissolved cooperative by the deadline.
- b. A claimant whose claim was rejected by the dissolved cooperative does not commence a proceeding to enforce the claim within ninety days from the effective date of the rejection notice.

4. For purposes of this section, "claim" does not include a contingent liability or a claim based on an event occurring after the effective date of dissolution.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §57, 69

501.808 Unknown claims against dissolved cooperative.

1. A dissolved cooperative may also publish notice of its dissolution and request that persons with claims against the cooperative present them in accordance with the notice.

2. The notice must meet all of the following requirements:

- a. Be published one time in a newspaper of general circulation in the county where the dissolved cooperative's principal office or, if not in this state, its registered office is or was last located.
- b. Describe the information that must be included in a claim and provide a mailing address where the claim may be sent.

c. State that a claim against the cooperative will be barred unless a proceeding to enforce the claim is commenced within five years after the publication of the notice.

3. If the dissolved cooperative publishes a newspaper notice in accordance with subsection 2, the claim of each of the following claimants is barred unless the claimant commences a proceeding to enforce the claim against the dissolved cooperative within five years after the publication date of the newspaper notice:

- a. A claimant who did not receive written notice under section 501.807.
- b. A claimant whose claim was timely sent to the dissolved cooperative but not acted on.

c. A claimant whose claim is contingent or based on an event occurring after the effective date of dissolution.

4. A claim may be enforced under this section in either of the following ways:

a. Against the dissolved cooperative, to the extent of its undistributed assets.

b. If the assets have been distributed in liquidation, against an interest holder of the dissolved cooperative to the extent of the interest holder's pro rata share of the claim or the cooperative assets distributed to the interest holder in liquidation, whichever is less, but an interest holder's total liability for all claims under this section shall not exceed the total amount of assets distributed to the interest holder in liquidation.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §58, 69

501.809 and 501.810 Reserved.

PART 2

ADMINISTRATIVE DISSOLUTION

501.811 Grounds for administrative dissolution.

The secretary of state may commence a proceeding under section 501.812 to administratively dissolve a cooperative if any of the following apply:

1. The cooperative has not delivered a biennial report to the secretary of state in a form that meets the requirements of section 501.713, within sixty days after it is due, or has not paid the filing fee as determined by the secretary of state, within sixty days after it is due.

2. The cooperative is without a registered agent or registered office in this state for sixty days or more.

3. The cooperative does not notify the secretary of state within sixty days that its registered agent or registered office has been changed, that its registered agent has resigned, or that its registered office has been discontinued.

4. The cooperative's period of duration stated in its articles of association expires.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §59, 69; 2000 Acts, ch 1022, §16
Subsection 1 amended

501.812 Procedure for and effect of administrative dissolution.

1. If the secretary of state determines that one or more grounds exist under section 501.811 for dissolving a cooperative, the secretary of state shall serve the cooperative with written notice of the secretary of state's determination under section 501.106.

2. If the cooperative does not correct each ground for dissolution or demonstrate to the reasonable satisfaction of the secretary of state that each ground determined by the secretary of state does not exist within sixty days after service of the notice is perfected under section 501.106, the secretary of state shall administratively dissolve the cooperative by signing a certificate of dissolution that recites the ground or grounds for dissolution and its effective date. The secretary of state shall file the original of the certificate and serve a copy on the cooperative under section 501.106.

3. A cooperative administratively dissolved continues its existence but shall not carry on any business except that necessary to wind up and liquidate its business and affairs under section 501.805 and notify claimants under sections 501.807 and 501.808.

4. The administrative dissolution of a cooperative does not terminate the authority of its registered agent.

5. The secretary of state's administrative dissolution of a cooperative pursuant to this section appoints the secretary of state the cooperative's agent for service of process in any proceeding based on a cause of action which arose during the time the cooperative was authorized to transact business in this state. Service of process on the secretary of state under this subsection is service on the cooperative. Upon receipt of process, the secretary of state shall serve a copy of the process on the cooperative as provided in section 501.106. This subsection does not preclude service on the cooperative's registered agent, if any.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §60, 69

501.813 Reinstatement following administrative dissolution.

1. A cooperative administratively dissolved under section 501.812 may apply to the secretary of state for reinstatement within two years after the effective date of dissolution. The application must meet all of the following requirements:

a. Recite the name of the cooperative at its date of dissolution and the effective date of its administrative dissolution.

b. State that the ground or grounds for dissolution have been eliminated.

c. State a name that satisfies the requirements of section 501.104.

d. State the federal tax identification number of the cooperative.

2. a. The secretary of state shall refer the federal tax identification number contained in the application for reinstatement to the department of revenue and finance. The department of revenue and finance shall report to the secretary of state the tax status of the cooperative. If the department reports to the secretary of state that a filing delinquency or liability exists against the cooperative, the secretary of state shall not cancel the certificate of dissolution until the filing delinquency or liability is satisfied.

fied, and that the information is correct, the secretary of state shall cancel the certificate of dissolution and prepare a certificate of reinstatement that recites the secretary of state's determination and the effective date of reinstatement, file the original of the certificate, and serve a copy on the cooperative under section 501.106. If the name of the cooperative as provided in subsection 1, paragraph "c", is different than the name in subsection 1, paragraph "a", the certificate of reinstatement shall constitute an amendment to the articles of association insofar as it pertains to the name.

3. When the reinstatement is effective, it relates back to and takes effect as of the effective date of the administrative dissolution as if the administrative dissolution had never occurred.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §61, 69

501.814 Appeal from denial of reinstatement.

1. If the secretary of state denies a cooperative's application for reinstatement following administrative dissolution, the secretary of state shall serve the cooperative under section 501.106 with a written notice that explains the reason or reasons for denial.

2. The cooperative may appeal the denial of reinstatement to the district court within thirty days after service of the notice of denial is perfected. The cooperative appeals by petitioning the court to set aside the dissolution and attaching to the petition copies of the secretary of state's certificate of dissolution, the cooperative's application for reinstatement, and the secretary of state's notice of denial.

3. The court may summarily order the secretary of state to reinstate the dissolved cooperative or may take other action the court considers appropriate.

4. The court's final decision may be appealed as in other civil proceedings.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §62, 69

501.815 through 501.820 Reserved.

PART 3

JUDICIAL DISSOLUTION

501.821 Grounds for judicial dissolution.

The district court may dissolve a cooperative in any of the following ways:

1. A proceeding by the attorney general, if it is established that either of the following apply:

a. The cooperative obtained its articles of association through fraud.

b. The cooperative has continued to exceed or abuse the authority conferred upon it by law.

2. A proceeding by a member if it is established that any of the following conditions exist:

a. The directors are deadlocked in the management of the cooperative's affairs, the members are unable to break the deadlock, and either irreparable injury to the cooperative is threatened or being suffered, or the business and affairs of the cooperative can no longer be conducted to the advantage of the interest holders generally, because of the deadlock.

b. The directors or those in control of the cooperative have acted, are acting, or will act in a manner that is illegal, oppressive, or fraudulent.

c. The members are deadlocked in voting power and have failed, for a period that includes at least two consecutive annual meeting dates, to elect successors to directors whose terms have expired.

d. The cooperative's assets are being misapplied or wasted.

3. A proceeding by a creditor if it is established that either of the following apply:

a. The creditor's claim has been reduced to judgment, the execution on the judgment returned unsatisfied, and the cooperative is insolvent.

b. The cooperative has admitted in writing that the creditor's claim is due and owing and the cooperative is insolvent.

4. A proceeding by the cooperative to have its voluntary dissolution continued under court supervision.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §63, 69

501.822 Procedure for judicial dissolution.

1. Venue for a proceeding by the attorney general to dissolve a cooperative lies in Polk county district court. Venue for a proceeding brought by any other party named in section 501.821 lies in the county where a cooperative's principal office or, if not in this state, its registered office is or was last located.

2. It is not necessary to make interest holders parties to a proceeding to dissolve a cooperative unless relief is sought against them individually.

3. A court in a proceeding brought to dissolve a cooperative may issue injunctions, appoint a receiver or custodian pendente lite with all powers and duties the court directs, take other action required to preserve the cooperative's assets wherever located, and carry on the business of the cooperative until a full hearing can be held.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §64, 69

501.823 Receivership or custodianship.

1. A court in a judicial proceeding brought to dissolve a cooperative may appoint one or more receivers to wind up and liquidate, or one or more custodians to manage, the business and affairs of the cooperative. The court shall hold a hearing, after notifying all parties to the proceeding and any interested persons designated by the court, before appointing a receiver or custodian. The court appointing a receiver or custodian has exclusive jurisdiction over the cooperative and all its property wherever located.

2. The court may appoint an individual or a domestic or foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state as a receiver or custodian. The court may require the receiver or custodian to post bond, with or without sureties, in an amount the court directs.

3. The court shall describe the powers and duties of the receiver or custodian in its appointing order, which may be amended from time to time.

a. Among other powers, the receiver may do any of the following:

(1) Dispose of all or any part of the assets of the cooperative wherever located, at a public or private sale, if authorized by the court.

(2) Sue and defend in the receiver's own name as receiver of the cooperative in all courts of this state.

b. The custodian may exercise all of the powers of the cooperative, through or in place of its board of directors or officers, to the extent necessary to manage the affairs of the cooperative in the best interests of its interest holders and creditors.

4. The court during a receivership may redesignate the receiver a custodian, and during a custodianship may redesignate the custodian a receiver, if doing so is in the best interests of the cooperative, its interest holders, and creditors.

5. The court from time to time during the receivership or custodianship may order compensation paid and expense disbursements or reimbursements made to the receiver or custodian and the receiver's or custodian's counsel from the assets of the cooperative or proceeds from the sale of the assets.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §65, 69

501.824 Decree of dissolution.

1. If after a hearing the court determines that one or more grounds for judicial dissolution described in section 501.821 exist, it may enter a decree dissolving the cooperative and specifying the effective date of the dissolution, and the clerk of the district court shall deliver a certified copy of the decree to the secretary of state, who shall file it.

2. After entering the decree of dissolution, the court shall direct the winding up and liquidation of the cooperative's business and affairs in accordance with section 501.805 and the notification of claimants in accordance with sections 501.807 and 501.808.

98 Acts, ch 1152, §66, 69

501.825 through 501.830 Reserved.

PART 4

DEPOSIT OF ASSETS

501.831 Deposit with state treasurer.

Assets of a dissolved cooperative that should be transferred to a creditor, claimant, or interest holder of the cooperative who cannot be found or who is not competent to receive them shall be reduced to cash and deposited with the treasurer of state or other appropriate state official for safekeeping. When the creditor, claimant, or interest holder furnishes satisfactory proof of entitlement to the amount deposited, the treasurer of state or other appropriate state official shall pay the creditor, claimant, or interest holder or that person's representative the amount.

PART I

SHORT TITLE AND DEFINITIONS

502.101 Short title.

This chapter may be cited as the “Iowa Uniform Securities Act”.

[C31, 35, §8581-c1; C39, §8581.01; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, §502.1; C77, 79, 81, §502.101]

502.102 Definitions.

When used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. “Administrator” means the commissioner of insurance or the deputy appointed pursuant to section 502.601.

2. An “affiliate” of, or a person “affiliated” with, a specified person, means a person who directly, or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, controls, is controlled by, or is under common control with, the person specified.

3. “Agent” means any individual other than a broker-dealer who represents a broker-dealer or issuer in effecting or attempting to effect purchases or sales of securities. “Agent” does not include an individual who represents:

a. An issuer in doing any of the following:

(1) Effecting transactions in a security exempted by section 502.202, subsection 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 10, 11, 12, 13, or 16, or a security issued by an industrial loan company licensed under chapter 536A.

(2) Effecting transactions exempted by section 502.203.

(3) Effecting transactions in a federal covered security as described in sections 18(b)(3) and 18(b)(4)(D) of the Securities Act of 1933 as amended in Pub. L. No. 104-290.

(4) Effecting transactions with an existing employee, member, manager, partner, or director of the issuer if no commission or other remuneration is paid or given directly or indirectly for soliciting any person in this state.

b. A broker-dealer in effecting a transaction in this state which is limited to a transaction provided in section 15(h)(2) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

“Agent” also does not include any other individual who is not within the intent of this subsection whom the administrator by rule or order designates. A partner, member, manager, officer, or director of a broker-dealer or issuer, or a person occupying a similar status or performing similar functions, is an agent only if such person otherwise comes within this definition.

4. “Agricultural cooperative association” means any one of the following:

a. An association of persons organized pursuant to chapter 497 for purposes of conducting an agricultural or dairy business on a cooperative plan, as described in section 497.1.

b. A cooperative association organized pursuant to chapter 498 for purposes of conducting an agricultural, livestock, horticultural, or dairy business on a cooperative plan and acting as a cooperative selling agency, as described in section 498.2.

c. An agricultural association as defined in section 499.2, and organized pursuant to chapter 499.

d. Any other entity which is organized on a cooperative basis under the laws of this state for the purpose of engaging in the activities of an agricultural association as defined in section 499.2.

5. “Broker-dealer” means any person engaged in the business of effecting transactions in securities for the account of others or for such person’s own account. “Broker-dealer” does not include:

a. An agent;

b. An issuer;

c. A bank when acting on its own account or when exercising trust or fiduciary powers permitted for banks under applicable state or federal laws and regulations providing for the organization, operation, supervision, and examination of such banks;

d. An insurance company which effects transactions in its own accounts;

e. Other persons not within the intent of this subsection whom the administrator by rule or order designates.

6. “Federal covered adviser” means a person who is registered under section 203 of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, 15 U.S.C. § 80(b) et seq. “Federal covered adviser” does not include a person who is excluded from the definition of “investment adviser” as provided in subsection 11, paragraph “c”, subparagraphs (1) through (7).

7. “Federal covered security” means any security that is a covered security under section 18(b) of the Securities Act of 1933 or rules or regulations adopted under the Securities Act of 1933.

8. “Fraud”, “deceit” and “defraud” are not limited to common law deceit.

9. “Guaranteed” means guaranteed as to payment of principal, interest or dividends.

10. “Interest at the legal rate” means the interest rate for judgments specified in section 535.3.

11. a. “Investment adviser” means any person who, for compensation, does any of the following:

(1) Engages in the business of providing investment advisory services by advising others, either directly or through publications or writings, as to the value of securities or as to the advisability of investing in, purchasing, or selling securities.

(2) As a part of a regular business, issues or promulgates analyses or reports concerning securities.

b. “Investment adviser” includes a financial planner or other person who, as an integral component of other financially related services, does either of the following:

(1) Provides investment advisory services to others for compensation and as part of a business.

(2) Holds oneself out as providing investment advisory services to others for compensation.

c. "Investment adviser" does not include a person who is any of the following:

(1) An investment adviser representative.

(2) A bank, savings institution, or trust company.

(3) An attorney licensed to practice law in this state, a certified public accountant licensed pursuant to chapter 542C, a professional engineer licensed pursuant to chapter 542B, or a certified teacher, if the person's performance of these services is solely incidental to the practice of the person's profession.

(4) An attorney licensed to practice law in this state or a certified public accountant licensed pursuant to chapter 542C who does not do any of the following:

(a) Exercise investment discretion regarding the assets of a client or maintain custody of the assets of a client for the purpose of investing the assets, except when the person is acting as a bona fide fiduciary in a capacity such as an executor, administrator, trustee, estate or trust agent, guardian, or conservator.

(b) Accept or receive directly or indirectly any commission, fee, or other remuneration contingent upon the purchase or sale of any specific security by a client of such person.

(c) Provide advice regarding the purchase or sale of specific securities. However, this subparagraph subdivision (c) shall not apply when the advice about specific securities is based on a financial statement analysis or tax considerations that are reasonably related to and in connection with the person's profession.

(5) A broker-dealer or its agent whose performance of these services is solely incidental to the conduct of its business as a broker-dealer and who receives no special compensation for them.

(6) A publisher of any bona fide newspaper, news column, newsletter, news magazine, or business or financial publication or service, whether communicated in hard copy form, or by electronic means, or otherwise, that does not consist of the rendering of advice on the basis of the specific investment situation of each client.

(7) A person who is excluded from the definition of "investment adviser" under section 202(a)(11) of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940.

(8) A person who is a federal covered adviser.

(9) A person not within the intent of this subsection as the administrator may by rule or order designate.

d. As used in this subsection, "compensation" does not include a commission, fee, or a combination of a commission and a fee, which is paid to an insurance agent licensed under chapter 522, if the insurance agent receives the commission, fee, or the combination of a commission and a fee, for the sale of insurance as regulated pursuant to Title XIII, subtitle 1.

12. a. "Investment adviser representative" means an individual including but not limited to a partner, officer, director, or an individual occupying a similar status or performing similar functions as a partner, officer, or director, except clerical or ministerial personnel, if both of the following apply:

(1) The individual is employed by or associated with an investment adviser that is registered or required to be registered under this chapter, or who is employed by or associated with a federal covered adviser.

(2) The individual does any of the following:

(a) Makes any recommendations or otherwise renders advice regarding securities.

(b) Manages accounts or portfolios of clients.

(c) Determines which recommendation or advice regarding securities should be given.

(d) Solicits, offers, or negotiates for the sale of or sells investment advisory services.

(e) Supervises employees who perform any of the functions in subparagraphs (a) through (d).

b. "Investment adviser representative" does not include any other person not within the intent of this subsection as the administrator may by rule or order designate.

13. "Issuer" means any person who issues or proposes to issue any security, except that

a. With respect to certificates of deposit, voting trust certificates, or collateral trust certificates, or with respect to certificates of interest or shares in an unincorporated investment trust not having a board of directors or persons performing similar functions or of the fixed, restricted management, or unit type, the term "issuer" means the person or persons performing the acts and assuming the duties of depositor or manager pursuant to the provisions of the trust or other agreement or instrument under which the security is issued; and

b. With respect to a fractional undivided interest in an oil, gas, or other mineral lease or in payments out of production under a lease, right, or royalty, the term "issuer" means the owner of an interest in the lease or payments out of production under a lease, right, or royalty, whether whole or fractional, who creates fractional interests for the purpose of sale.

c. With respect to a viatical settlement contract, "issuer" means a person involved in creating, transferring, or selling to an investor any interest in such a contract, including but not limited to fractional or pooled interests, but does not include an agent or a broker-dealer.

14. "Nonissuer" means not directly or indirectly for the benefit of the issuer.

15. "Person" means an individual, a corporation, a limited liability company, a partnership, an association, a joint stock company, a trust, a fiduciary, an unincorporated organization, a government, or a political subdivision of a government.

16. a. “Sale” or “sell” includes every contract of sale of, contract to sell, or disposition or exchange of, a security or interest in a security for value.

b. “Offer” or “offer to sell” includes every attempt or offer to exchange or dispose of, or solicitation of an offer to buy, a security or interest in a security for value.

c. A security given or delivered with, or as a bonus on account of, a purchase of a security or any other thing is offered and sold for value as part of the subject of the purchase.

d. A purported gift of assessable stock is considered to involve an offer and sale.

e. Except to the extent that the administrator provides otherwise by rule or order, an offer or sale of a security that is convertible into or entitles its holder to acquire another security of the same or another issuer is an offer also of the other security, whether the right to convert or acquire is exercisable immediately or in the future.

f. The terms defined in this subsection do not include:

(1) Any bona fide pledge or loan; or

(2) Any stock split, other than a reverse stock split, or security dividend payable with respect to the securities of a corporation in the same or any other class of securities of such corporation, provided nothing of value, including the surrender of a right or an option to receive a cash or property dividend, is given by security holders for the security dividend.

17. “Securities Act of 1933”, “Securities Exchange Act of 1934”, “Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935”, “Investment Advisers Act of 1940”, “Investment Company Act of 1940”, “Internal Revenue Code”, and “Agricultural Marketing Act” mean the federal statutes of those names.

18. “Securities and exchange commission” means the United States securities and exchange commission as established pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 78(d).

19. “Security” means any note; stock; treasury stock; bond; debenture; evidence of indebtedness; certificate of interest or participation in a profit sharing agreement; collateral trust certificate; preorganization certificate or subscription; transferable share; investment contract; viatical settlement contract, or any fractional or pooled interest in such contract; voting trust certificate; certificate of deposit for a security; fractional undivided interest in an oil, gas, or other mineral lease or in payments out of production under such a lease, right, or royalty; an interest in a limited liability company or in a limited liability partnership or any class or series of such interest, including any fractional or other interest in such interest; or, in general, any interest or instrument commonly known as a “security”, or any certificate of interest or participation in, temporary or interim certificate for, receipt for, guarantee of, or warrant or right to subscribe to or purchase, any of the foregoing. “Security” does not include an insurance or endowment policy or annuity contract under which an insurance company promises to pay money either in a lump sum or periodically for life or for some other specified period. “Security” also does not include an interest in a limited liability company or a limited liability partnership if the person claiming that such an interest is not a security proves that all of the members of the limited liability company or limited liability partnership are actively engaged in the management of the limited liability company or limited liability partnership; provided that the evidence that members vote or have the right to vote, or the right to information concerning the business and affairs of the limited liability company or limited liability partnership, or the right to participate in management, shall not establish, without more, that all members are actively engaged in the management of the limited liability company or limited liability partnership.

20. “State” means any state, territory or possession of the United States, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico.

21. “Viatical settlement contract” means an agreement for the purchase, sale, assignment, transfer, devise, or bequest of any portion of the death benefit or ownership of a life insurance policy or contract, for consideration which is less than the expected death benefit of the life insurance policy or contract.

22. For the purposes of sections 502.211 through 502.218, unless the context otherwise requires:

a. “Associate” means a person acting jointly or in concert with another for the purpose of acquiring, holding or disposing of, or exercising any voting rights attached to the equity securities of a target company.

b. “Beneficial owner” includes, but is not limited to, any person who directly or indirectly, through any contract, arrangement, understanding, or relationship, has or shares the power to vote or direct the voting of a security or has or shares the power to dispose of or otherwise direct the disposition of the security. A person is the beneficial owner of securities beneficially owned by any relative or spouse or relative of the spouse residing in the home of the person, any trust or estate in which the person owns ten percent or more of the total beneficial interest or serves as trustee or executor, any corporation or entity in which the person owns ten percent or more of the equity, and any affiliate or associate of the person.

c. “Beneficial ownership” includes, but is not limited to, the right, exercisable within sixty days, to acquire securities through the exercise of options, warrants, or rights or the conversion of convertible securities. The securities subject to these options, warrants, rights, or conversion privileges held by a person are outstanding for the purpose of computing the percentage of outstanding securities of the class owned by the person, but are not outstanding for the purpose of computing the percentage of the class owned by any other person.

d. "Equity security" means any stock or similar security, and includes the following:

(1) Any security convertible, with or without consideration, into a stock or similar security.

(2) Any warrant or right to subscribe to or purchase a stock of similar security.

(3) Any security carrying a warrant or right to subscribe to or purchase a stock or similar security.

(4) Any other security which the administrator deems to be of a similar nature and considers necessary or appropriate, according to rules prescribed by the administrator for the public interest and protection of investors, to be treated as an equity security.

e. "Offeree" means the beneficial owner, who is a resident of this state, of equity securities which an offeror offers to acquire in connection with a takeover offer.

f. "Offeror" means a person who makes or in any manner participates in making a takeover offer. It does not include a supervised financial institution or broker-dealer loaning funds to an offeror in the ordinary course of its business, or any supervised financial institution, broker-dealer, attorney, accountant, consultant, employee, or other person furnishing information or advice to or performing ministerial duties for an offeror, and who does not otherwise participate in the takeover offer.

g. "Takeover offer":

(1) Means the offer to acquire any equity securities of a target company from a resident of this state pursuant to a tender offer or request or invitation for tenders, if after the acquisition of all securities acquired pursuant to the offer either of the following are true:

(a) The offeror would be directly or indirectly a beneficial owner of more than ten percent of any class of the outstanding equity securities of the target company.

(b) The beneficial ownership by the offeror of any class of the outstanding equity securities of the target company would be increased by more than five percent. However, this provision does not apply if after the acquisition of all securities acquired pursuant to the offer, the offeror would not be directly or indirectly a beneficial owner of more than ten percent of any class of the outstanding equity securities of the target company.

(2) Does not include the following:

(a) An offer in connection with the acquisition of a security which, together with all other acquisitions by the offeror of securities of the same class of equity securities of the target company, would not result in the offeror having acquired more than two percent of this class of securities during the preceding twelve-month period.

(b) An offer by the target company to acquire its own equity securities if such offer is subject to section 13(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

(c) An offer in which the target company is an insurance company or insurance holding company subject to regulation by the commissioner of insurance, a financial institution subject to regulation by the superintendent of banking or the superintendent of savings and loan associations, or a public utility subject to regulation by the utilities division of the department of commerce.

h. "Target company" means an issuer of publicly traded equity securities which has at least twenty percent of its equity securities beneficially held by residents of this state and has substantial assets in this state. For the purposes of this chapter, an equity security is publicly traded if a trading market exists for the security. A trading market exists if the security is traded on a national securities exchange, whether or not registered pursuant to the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, or on the over-the-counter market.

PART II

REGISTRATION OF SECURITIES

502.201 Registration requirement.

It is unlawful for any person to offer or sell any security in this state unless one of the following applies:

1. It is registered under this chapter.

2. The security or transaction is exempted under section 502.202 or 502.203.

3. It is a federal covered security.

[C31, 35, §8581-c6; C39, §8581.06; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, §502.6; C77, 79, 81, §502.201] 97 Acts, ch 114, §5

502.202 Exempt securities.

The following securities are exempted from sections 502.201 and 502.602:

1. Any security, including a revenue obligation, issued or guaranteed by the United States, any state, any political subdivision of a state, or any agency or corporate or other instrumentality of one or more of the foregoing; or any certificate of deposit for any of the foregoing. However, this exemption shall not include any revenue obligation payable from payments to be made in respect of property or money used under a lease, sale or loan arrangement by or for a nongovernmental industrial or commercial enterprise, unless such payments are or will be made or unconditionally guaranteed by a person whose securities are exempt from registration under this chapter by (a) subsection 7, 8, or 17, or (b) subsection 9, provided the issuer first files with the administrator a written notice specifying the terms of the offer and the administrator does not by order disallow the exemption within fifteen days thereafter.

2. Any security issued or guaranteed by Canada, any Canadian province, any political subdivision of any such province, any agency or corporate or other instrumentality of one or more of the foregoing, or any other foreign government with which the United States currently maintains diplomatic relations, if the security is recognized as a valid obligation by the issuer or guarantor.

3. Any security issued by and representing an interest in or a debt of, or guaranteed by, any bank organized under the laws of the United States, or any bank or trust company organized and supervised under the laws of this state.

4. Any security issued by and representing an interest in or a debt of, or guaranteed by, any federal savings and loan association, or any savings and loan or similar association organized and supervised under the laws of this state.

5. Any security issued by and representing an interest in or a debt of, or guaranteed by, any insurance company organized under the laws of this state and authorized to do business in this state.

6. Any security issued or guaranteed by any federal credit union or any credit union or similar association organized and supervised under the laws of this state.

7. Any security issued or guaranteed by a public utility or holding company which is any of the following:

a. A registered holding company under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 or a subsidiary of such a company within the meaning of that Act.

b. Regulated in respect of its rates and charges by a governmental authority of the United States or any state.

c. Regulated in respect of the issuance or guarantee of the security by a governmental authority of the United States, any state, Canada, or any Canadian province.

8. Any security listed or approved for listing upon notice of issuance on the New York Stock Exchange, the American Stock Exchange, or any other national securities exchange registered under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and designated by rule of the administrator; any other security of the same issuer which is of senior or substantially equal rank; any security called for by subscription rights or warrants so listed or approved; or any warrant or right to purchase or subscribe to any of the foregoing.

9. Any security issued by any person organized and operated not for private profit but exclusively for religious, educational, benevolent, charitable, fraternal, social, athletic or reformatory purposes, or as a chamber of commerce or trade or professional association; provided the issuer first files with the administrator a written notice specifying the terms of the offer and the administrator does not by order disallow the exemption within fifteen days thereafter.

10. Commercial paper which is a promissory note, draft, bill of exchange, or banker's acceptance which satisfies the following criteria:

a. It evidences an obligation to pay cash within nine months after the date of issuance, exclusive of days of grace.

b. It is issued in denominations of at least fifty thousand dollars.

c. It receives a rating in one of the three highest rating categories from a nationally recognized statistical rating organization.

The exemption under this subsection applies to a renewal of an obligation under this subsection which is likewise limited, and to a guarantee of such an obligation or of a renewal.

11. A security issued in connection with an employee stock purchase, option, savings, pension, profit sharing or similar benefit plan.

12. A stock or similar security, including a patronage refund certificate, issued by:

a. A cooperative housing corporation described in paragraph 1 of subsection "b" of section 216, of the Internal Revenue Code, if its activities are limited to the ownership, leasing, management, or construction of residential properties for its members, and activities incidental thereto; or

b. A mutual or cooperative organization, including a cooperative association organized in good faith under and for any of the purposes enumerated in chapters 497, 498, 499, and 501 that deals in commodities or supplies goods or services in transactions primarily with and for the benefit of its members, if:

(1) Such stock or similar security is part of a class issuable only to persons who deal in commodities with, or obtain goods or services from, the issuer;

(2) Such stock or similar security is transferable only to the issuer or a successor in interest of the transferor who qualifies for membership in such mutual or cooperative organization; and

(3) No dividends other than patronage refunds are payable to holders of such stock or similar security except on a complete or partial liquidation.

13. A security issued by an agricultural cooperative association, provided the following conditions are satisfied:

a. A commission or remuneration must not be paid or provided either directly or indirectly for the sale, except as permitted by the administrator by rule or by order issued upon written application showing good cause for allowance of a commission or other remuneration.

b. If the securities to be issued are notes or other evidences of indebtedness and are issued after

July 1, 1991, the issuer must file with the administrator a written notice specifying the name of the issuer, the date of the issuer's organization, the name of a contact person, a copy of the issuer's current audited financial statement, the types of security or securities to be offered, and the class of persons to whom the offer will be made in accordance with such rules as prescribed by the administrator.

14. Any security issued by a corporation formed under chapter 496B.

15. Any security issued by the agricultural development authority under chapter 175.

16. Any security representing a membership camping contract which is registered pursuant to section 557B.2 or exempt under section 557B.4.

17. On or after January 1, 1989, a security designated or approved for designation upon notice of issuance on the national association of securities dealers automated quotations — national market system (NASDAQ/NMS); any other security of the same issuer which is of senior or substantially equal rank; a security called for by subscription rights or warrants designated or approved for designation upon notice of issuance on the NASDAQ/NMS; or a warrant or right to purchase or subscribe to any of the foregoing categories in this subsection.

18. Any security representing a time-share interval as defined in section 557A.2.

19. A viatical settlement contract, or fractional or pooled interest in such contract, provided any of the following conditions are satisfied:

a. The assignment, transfer, sale, devise, or bequest of a death benefit of a life insurance policy or contract, is made by the viator to an insurance company as provided under Title 13, subtitle 1.

b. The assignment, transfer, sale, devise, or bequest of a life insurance policy or contract, for any value less than the expected death benefit, is made by the viator to a family member or other person who enters into no more than one such agreement in a calendar year.

c. A life insurance policy or contract is assigned to a bank, savings bank, savings and loan association, credit union, or other licensed lending institution as collateral for a loan.

d. Accelerated benefits are exercised as provided in the life insurance policy or contract and consistent with applicable law.

e. The assignment, transfer, sale, devise, or bequest of the death benefit or ownership of a life insurance policy or contract made by the policyholder or contract owner to a viatical settlement provider, if the viatical settlement transaction complies with chapter 508E, including rules adopted pursuant to that chapter.

Subsection 19, NEW paragraph e

502.203 Exempt transactions.

The following transactions are exempted from sections 502.201 and 502.602:

1. Any isolated nonissuer transaction, whether effected through a broker-dealer or not.

2. Any nonissuer distribution of an outstanding security if:

a. A recognized securities manual approved by the administrator contains the names of the issuer's officers and directors, a balance sheet of the issuer as of a date within eighteen months, and a profit and loss statement for either the fiscal year preceding that date or the most recent year of operations;

b. The security was issued by an issuer which has a class of securities subject to registration under section 12 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, and has been subject to the reporting requirements of section 13 or 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 for not less than ninety days before the transaction;

c. The security was issued by an issuer which has had or currently has a class of securities registered under this chapter, or under chapter 502 of the Code as it existed prior to January 1, 1976; or

d. The security was issued by an issuer which is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940.

3. Any nonissuer transaction effected by or through a registered broker-dealer pursuant to an unsolicited order or offer to buy; but the administrator may by rule require that the customer acknowledge that the sale was unsolicited in accordance with provisions of such rule.

4. Any transaction between the issuer or other person on whose behalf the offering is made and an underwriter, or among underwriters.

5. A sale of bonds or notes directly secured by a real estate mortgage, security interest, deed of trust, or agreement for the sale of real estate or chattels, if the entire mortgage, security interest, deed of trust, or agreement, together with all the bonds or notes secured thereby, is offered and sold as a unit; provided that the entire mortgage, security interest, deed of trust or agreement, together with all of the bonds or notes secured thereby, shall not be deemed to be sold as a unit if:

a. Such bonds or notes are part of a single issue including other bonds or notes secured by interests in real estate or chattels owned or developed by the same person or by persons affiliated with such person; or

b. Such bonds or notes are offered or sold with any right to have substitution by or recourse against, or with guarantee by, the real estate developer or any person other than the person primarily obligated on the bond or note.

6. Any judicial sale or any transaction executed by an executor, administrator, sheriff, marshal, receiver, trustee in bankruptcy, guardian, custodian or conservator without any purpose of evading this chapter.

7. Any transaction executed by a bona fide pledgee without any purpose of evading this chapter.

8. An offer or sale to a bank, savings and loan association, credit union, trust company, insurance company, investment company as defined in the Investment Company Act of 1940, pension or profit sharing trust, or other financial institution or institutional buyer, or to a broker-dealer, whether the purchaser is acting for itself or in a fiduciary capacity. However, the administrator, by rule or order, may grant this exemption to a person or class of persons based upon the factors of financial sophistication, net worth, and the amount of assets under investment.

9. The sale, as part of a single issue, of securities by the issuer of the securities if all of the following conditions are satisfied:

a. Within any period of twelve consecutive months, sales are made to less than thirty-six purchasers in this state, exclusive of purchases by bona fide institutional investors for their own account for investment.

b. Unless permitted by the administrator by rule, or by order issued upon written application showing good cause for the allowance of the sale, the issue is not an issue of:

(1) Fractional undivided interests in oil, gas, or other mineral leases, rights, or royalties.

(2) Interests in a partnership organized under the laws of or having its principal place of business in a foreign jurisdiction.

c. The issuer reasonably believes that all the buyers in this state are purchasing for investment.

d. Commission or other remuneration is not paid or given, directly or indirectly, for the sale, except as may be permitted by the administrator by rule, or by order issued upon written application showing good cause for allowance of commission or other remuneration.

e. The issuer or a person acting on behalf of the issuer does not offer or sell the securities by any form of general solicitation or advertising.

10. Any offer or sale of a preorganization certificate or subscription if:

a. No commission or other remuneration is paid or given directly or indirectly for soliciting any prospective subscriber;

b. The number of subscribers does not exceed ten;

c. No payment is made by any subscriber; and

d. No public advertisement of the offer is made.

11. Any transaction pursuant to an offer to existing security holders of the issuer, including persons who at the time of the transaction are holders of convertible securities, nontransferable warrants, or transferable warrants, exercisable within not more than ninety days of their issuance, if:

a. A commission or other remuneration (other than a standby commission) is not paid or given directly or indirectly for soliciting a security holder in this state; or

b. The issuer first files a notice specifying the terms of the offer and the administrator does not by order disallow the exemption within the next ten days.

12. An offer, but not a sale, of a security for which a registration statement has been filed under this chapter or a written notice has been filed pursuant to section 502.202, subsection 1, 9, or 11 if no stop order or suspension or denial order is in effect and no proceeding is pending under this chapter.

13. Any transaction incident to a vote by security holders of a person or incident to a written consent or resolution of some or all security holders of a person, pursuant to the articles of incorporation of such person, or pursuant to the applicable corporate statute or other statute governing such person, or pursuant to such person's partnership agreement, declaration of trust, or trust indenture, or pursuant to any agreement among security holders of such person, on a reclassification of securities, reverse stock split, reorganization involving the exchange of securities, merger, consolidation, or sale of assets, in consideration, in whole or in part, of the issuance of securities of such person or of any other person, if:

a. The securities to be distributed are registered under the Securities Act of 1933 before the consummation of the transaction; or

b. The securities to be distributed are not required to be registered under the Securities Act of 1933, written notice of the transaction, a filing fee of fifty dollars, and a copy of the materials by which approval of the transaction will be solicited, are given to the administrator at least ten days before the consummation of the transaction, and the administrator does not disallow, by order, the exemption within the next ten days.

14. Any transaction incident to a judicially approved reorganization in which a security is issued in exchange for one or more outstanding securities, claims or property interests, or partly in such exchange and partly for cash.

15. The distribution of securities as a dividend, where the corporation distributing the dividend is the issuer of the securities distributed, if the only value given by shareholders for the dividend is the surrender of a right to a cash or property dividend when each shareholder may elect to take the dividend.

a. In cash or property, or

b. In such securities.

16. The administrator may create by rule a limited offering transactional exemption which furthers the objectives of compatibility with federal exemptions and uniformity among the states and provides criteria to determine and assure the suitability of investors.

17. The offer or sale of securities by a small business investment company under the federal Small Business Investment Act of 1958 if:

a. The securities are offered or sold in compliance with 17 C.F.R. § 230.601 through 230.610a; and

b. The issuer has filed with the administrator the offering document to be used in connection with the offer and sale of the securities not later than the first use of the offering document in this state, the issuer has filed with the administrator a copy of the notification of form "1-E" required by 17 C.F.R. § 230.604 to be filed with the federal securities and exchange commission, and the issuer has paid the administrator a fee of one hundred dollars.

18. Any other security or transaction or class of securities or transactions exempted, by the administrator by rule, from requirements provided in section 502.201 or 502.602.

502.204 Denial and suspension of exemptions.

The administrator may by order deny or revoke any exemption specified in sections 502.202 and 502.203 with respect to a specific security or transaction. No such order may be entered without appropriate prior notice to all interested parties, opportunity for hearing, and written findings of fact and conclusions of law, except that the administrator may by order summarily deny or revoke any of the specified exemptions pending final determination of any proceeding under this section. Upon the entry of a summary order, the administrator shall promptly notify all interested parties that it has been entered and of the reasons therefor and that within fifteen days of the receipt of a written request the matter will be set down for hearing. If no hearing is requested and none is ordered by the administrator, the order will remain in effect until it is modified or vacated by the administrator. If a hearing is requested or ordered, the administrator, after notice of and opportunity for hearing to all interested persons, may modify or vacate the order or extend it until final determination. No order under this section may operate retroactively. No person may be considered to have violated section 502.201 or 502.602 by reason of any offer or sale effected after the entry of an order under this section if such person sustains the burden of proof that such person did not know, and in the exercise of reasonable care could not have known, of the order.

502.205 Burden of proof.

In any proceeding under this chapter, the burden of proving an exemption or an exception from a definition is upon the person claiming it.

[C31, 35, §8581-c15; C39, §8581.19; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, §502.19; C77, 79, 81, §502.205]

502.206 Registration by coordination.

1. Registration by coordination may be used for any offering for which a registration statement has been filed under the Securities Act of 1933, or for any proposed sale pursuant to the exemption contained in subsection "b" of section 3 of such Act where such registration statement or notification of proposed sale has not become effective.

2. A registration statement under this section shall contain the following information and be accompanied by the following documents in addition to the information specified in section 502.208, subsection 3, and the consent to service of process required by section 502.609:

a. Two copies of the most recent preliminary prospectus or offering circular filed under the Securities Act of 1933.

b. If the administrator by rule requires, a copy of the articles of incorporation and bylaws or their substantial equivalents currently in effect, a copy of any agreements with or among underwriters, a copy of any indenture or other instrument governing the issuance of the security to be registered, and a specimen or copy of the security.

c. If the administrator requests, any other information, or copies of any documents, filed under the Securities Act of 1933.

d. An undertaking to forward to the administrator all future amendments to the federal prospectus or offering circular, other than an amendment which merely delays the effective date of the registration statement, not later than the first business day after they are forwarded to or filed with the securities and exchange commission, or such longer period as the administrator permits.

3. Unless waived by a registrant, a registration statement under this section automatically becomes effective at the moment the federal registration statement or notification becomes effective if:

a. No stop order is in effect in this state and no proceeding is pending under section 502.209;

b. The registration statement has been on file with the administrator for at least twenty days;

c. A statement of the maximum and minimum proposed offering prices and the maximum underwriting discounts and commissions has been on file for not less than two full business days, or such shorter period as the administrator permits; and

d. The offering is made within these limitations.

4. The registrant shall notify the administrator promptly in writing, which may be by electronic, telegraphic, or facsimile transmission, of the date and time when the federal registration statement became effective and the content of the price amendment, if any, and shall file a post-effective amendment promptly containing the information and documents in the price amendment. “Price amendment” means the final federal amendment which includes a statement of the offering price, underwriting and selling discounts or commissions, amount of proceeds, conversion rates, call prices and other matters dependent upon the offering price. Upon failure to receive the required notification and post-effective amendment with respect to the price amendment, the administrator may enter a stop order, without notice or hearing, retroactively denying the effectiveness to the registration statement or suspending its effectiveness until compliance with this subsection is effected, if the administrator promptly notifies the registrant of the issuance of such order. If the registrant proves compliance with the requirements of this subsection as to notice and post-effective amendment the stop order shall be vacated as of the time of its entry. The administrator may by rule or order waive any of the conditions specified in subsection 2 or 3.

5. If the federal registration statement becomes effective before all conditions in this section are satisfied and they are not waived, the registration statement automatically becomes effective as soon as all the conditions are satisfied. If the registrant advises the administrator of the date when the federal registration statement is expected to become effective, the administrator shall promptly advise the registrant by telephone or telegram, at the registrant’s expense, whether all the conditions are satisfied and whether the administrator then contemplates the institution of a proceeding under section 502.209 but this advice by the administrator does not preclude the institution of such a proceeding at any time.

502.206A Federal covered securities.

1. The administrator, by rule or order, may require the filing of any or all of the following documents with respect to a federal covered security under section 18(b)(2) of the Securities Act of 1933:

a. Prior to the initial offer of a federal covered security in this state, all documents that are part of a current federal registration statement filed with the United States securities and exchange commission under the Securities Act of 1933, together with a consent to service of process signed by the issuer and a filing fee calculated as specified in section 502.208, subsection 2.

b. After the initial offer of a federal covered security in this state, all documents that are part of an amendment to a current federal registration statement filed with the United States securities and exchange commission under the Securities Act of 1933.

c. To the extent necessary to compute fees, an annual or periodic report of the value of the federal covered securities offered or sold in this state together with the applicable filing fee, if any, calculated as specified in section 502.208, subsection 2.

2. With respect to any security that is a federal covered security under section 18(b)(4)(D) of the Securities Act of 1933, the administrator, by rule or otherwise, may require the issuer to file a notice on Form D as promulgated by the securities and exchange commission and a consent to service of process signed by the issuer not later than fifteen days after the first sale of the federal covered security in this state together with a filing fee, as established by rule adopted by the administrator.

3. The administrator, by rule or otherwise, may require the filing of any document filed with the securities and exchange commission under the Securities Act of 1933 with respect to a federal covered security under section 18(b)(3) or (4) of the Securities Act of 1933, together with a filing fee established by rule adopted by the administrator which shall not be more than one hundred dollars.

4. The administrator may issue a stop order suspending the offer and sale of a federal covered security, except a federal covered security under section 18(b)(1) of the Securities Act of 1933, if the administrator finds that both of the following apply:

a. The order is in the public interest.

b. The person against whom the stop order is issued has failed to comply with a requirement provided in this section.

5. The administrator, by rule or otherwise, may waive any requirement of this section if the administrator finds good cause that the requirement is not necessary in order to carry out the purposes of the section.

97 Acts, ch 114, §7

502.207 Registration by qualification.

1. Any security may be registered by qualification.

2. A registration statement under this section shall contain the following information and be accompanied by the following documents in addition to the information specified in section 502.208, subsection 3 and the consent to service of process required by section 502.609:

a. With respect to the issuer and any significant subsidiary: Its name, address and form of organization; the state or foreign jurisdiction under which it is organized; the date of its organization; the general character and location of its business; a description of its physical properties and equipment; and a statement of the general competitive conditions in the industry or business in which it is or will be engaged.

b. With respect to every director and officer of the issuer, or person occupying a similar status or performing similar functions: Such person's name, address, and principal occupation for the past five years; the amount of securities of the issuer held by such person as of a specified date within thirty days of the filing of the registration statement; the amount of the securities covered by the registration statement to which such person has indicated an intention to subscribe; and a description of any material interest in any material transaction with the issuer or any significant subsidiary effected within the past three years or proposed to be effected.

c. With respect to persons covered by paragraph "b": The remuneration paid during the past twelve months and estimated to be paid during the next twelve months, directly or indirectly, by the issuer together with all predecessors, parents, subsidiaries and affiliates to all those persons in the aggregate.

d. With respect to any person owning of record, or beneficially if known, five percent or more of the outstanding shares of any class of equity security of the issuer: The information specified in paragraph "b" of this subsection other than occupation.

e. With respect to every promoter if the issuer was organized within the past three years: The information specified in paragraph "b" of this subsection, any amount paid within that period, or intended to be paid, to such person, and the consideration for any such payment.

f. With respect to any person on whose behalf any part of the offering is to be made in a nonissuer distribution: Such person's name and address; the amount of securities of the issuer held as of the date of the filing of the registration statement; a description of any material interest in any material transaction with the issuer or any significant subsidiary effected within the past three years or proposed to be effected; and a statement of reasons for making the offering.

g. The capitalization and long-term debt (on both a current and pro forma basis) of the issuer and any significant subsidiary, including a description of each security outstanding or being registered or otherwise offered, and a statement of the amount and kind of consideration, whether in the form of cash, physical assets, services, patents, goodwill, or anything else, for which the issuer or any subsidiary has issued any of its securities within the past two years or is obligated to issue any of its securities.

from at which any proportion of the offering is to be made to any person or class of persons other than the underwriters, with a specification of any such person or class; the basis upon which the offering is to be made if otherwise than for cash; the estimated aggregate underwriting and selling discounts or commissions and finders' fees, including separately cash, securities, contracts, or anything else of value to accrue to the underwriters or finders in connection with the offering, or, if the selling discounts or commissions are variable, the basis of determining them and their maximum and minimum amounts; the estimated amounts of other selling expenses, including legal, engineering and accounting charges; the name and address of every underwriter and every recipient of a finder's fee; a copy of any underwriting or selling-group agreement pursuant to which the distribution is to be made, or the proposed form of any such agreement which terms have not yet been determined; and a description of the plan of distribution of any securities which are to be offered otherwise than through an underwriter.

i. The estimated cash proceeds to be received by the issuer from the offering; the purposes for which the proceeds are to be used by the issuer; the amount to be used for each purpose; the order or priority in which the proceeds will be used for the purposes stated; the amounts of any funds to be raised from other sources to achieve the purposes stated; the sources of any such funds; and, if any part of the proceeds is to be used to acquire any property including goodwill otherwise than in the ordinary course of business, the names and addresses of the vendors, the purchase price, the names of any persons who have received commissions in connection with the acquisition and the amounts of any such commissions and any other expense in connection with the acquisition (including the cost of borrowing money to finance the acquisition).

j. A description of any stock options or other security options outstanding, or to be created in connection with the offering, together with the amount of any such options held or to be held by every person required to be named in paragraphs "b", "d", "e", "f", or "h" of this subsection, and by any person who holds or will hold ten percent or more in the aggregate of any such options.

k. The dates of, parties to, and general effect concisely stated of, every management or other material contract made or to be made otherwise than in the ordinary course of business if it is to be performed in whole or in part at or after the filing of the registration statement or was made within the past two years, together with a copy of every such contract; and a description of any pending litigation or proceeding to which the issuer is a party and which materially affects its business or assets, including any such litigation or proceeding known to be contemplated by governmental authorities.

l. A copy of any prospectus, pamphlet, circular, form letter, advertisement, or other sales literature intended as of the effective date to be used in connection with the offering.

m. A specimen or copy of the security being registered; a copy of the issuer's articles of incorporation and bylaws, or their substantial equivalents, as currently in effect; and a copy of any indenture, or other instrument covering the security to be registered.

n. A signed or conformed copy of an opinion of counsel as to the legality of the security being registered, with an English translation if it is in a foreign language, which shall state whether the security when sold will be legally issued, fully paid, and nonassessable, and, if a debt security, a binding obligation of the issuer.

o. The written consent of any accountant, engineer, appraiser, or other person whose profession gives authority to a statement made by such person, if any of the foregoing persons is named as having prepared or certified a report or valuation, other than a public and official document or statement, which is used in connection with the registration statement.

p. A balance sheet of the issuer as of a date within four months prior to the filing of the registration statement; a profit and loss statement and statement of changes in financial position for each of the three fiscal years preceding the date of the balance sheet and for any period between the close of the last fiscal year and the date of the balance sheet, or for the period of the issuer's and any predecessor's existence if less than three years, and, if any part of the proceeds of the offering is to be applied to the purchase of any business, the same financial statements which would be required if that business were the registrant, or such other financial statements as may be required pursuant to section 502.607, subsection 3.

q. Such other additional information as the administrator requires by rule or order.

3. Except as provided in this subsection, registration under this section shall become effective when the administrator so orders. If a registration statement has been on file for at least thirty days and all information required by the administrator has been furnished, the person filing the statement may at any time file a written request that the administrator, within ten days following the filing of such request, order that the registration statement become effective or deny or postpone effectiveness pursuant to section 502.209. If a request is filed, and the administrator fails to act thereon within such period, the registration shall become effective at the end of the ten-day period.

502.207A Expedited registration by filing for small issuers.

1. A security meeting the conditions set forth in this section may be registered by filing as provided in this section.

2. In order to register under this section, the issuer must meet all of the following conditions:

a. The issuer must be a corporation, limited liability company, or partnership organized under the laws of one of the states or possessions of the United States which engages in or proposes to engage in a business other than petroleum exploration or production mining or other extractive industries.

b. The securities must be offered and sold only on behalf of the issuer, and must not be used by any selling security holder to register securities for resale.

3. In order to register under this section, all of the following conditions must be satisfied:

a. The offering price for common stock, the exercise price if the securities are options, warrants, or rights for common stock, or the conversion price if the securities are convertible into common stock must be equal to or greater than five dollars per share. The issuer must not split its common stock, or declare a stock dividend, for two years after effectiveness of the registration, except that in connection with a subsequent registered public offering, the issuer may upon application and consent of the administrator take such action.

b. A commission, fee, or other remuneration shall not be paid or given, directly or indirectly, for the sale of the securities, except for a payment to a broker-dealer or agent registered under this chapter, or except for a payment as permitted by the administrator by rule or by order issued upon written application showing good cause for allowance of a commission, fee, or other remuneration.

c. The issuer or a broker-dealer offering or selling the securities is not or would not be disqualified under rule 505, 17 C.F.R. § 230.505 (2)(iii), adopted under the federal Securities Act of 1933.

d. The aggregate offering price of the offering of securities by the issuer within or outside this state must not exceed one million dollars, less the aggregate offering price for all securities sold within twelve months before the start of, and during the offering of, the securities under rule 504, 17 C.F.R. § 230.504, in reliance on any exemption under section 3(b) of the federal Securities Act of 1933 or in violation of section 5(a) of that Act; provided, that if rule 504, 17 C.F.R. § 230.504, adopted under the Securities Act of 1933, is amended after April 26, 1990, the administrator may by rule increase the limit under this paragraph to conform to that increased amount.

e. An offering document meeting the disclosure requirements of rule 502(b)(2), 17 C.F.R. § 230.502(b)(2), adopted under the Securities Act of 1933, must be delivered to each purchaser in the state prior to the sale of the securities, unless the administrator by rule or order provides for disclosure different from that rule.

f. The issuer must file with the administrator an application for registration and the offering document to be used in connection with the offer and sale of securities.

g. The issuer must pay to the administrator a fee of one hundred dollars and is not required to pay the filing fee set forth in section 502.208, subsection 2.

4. Unless the administrator issues a stop order denying the effectiveness of the registration, as provided in section 502.209, the registration becomes effective on the fifth business day after the registration has been filed with the administrator, or earlier if the administrator permits a shorter time period between registration and effectiveness.

5. In connection with an offering registered under this section, a person may be registered as an agent of the issuer under section 502.301 by the filing of an application by the issuer with the administrator for the registration of the person as an agent of the issuer and the paying of a fee of ten dollars. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, the registration of the agent shall be effective until withdrawn by the issuer or until the securities registered pursuant to the registration statement have all been sold, whichever occurs first. The registration of an agent shall become effective when ordered by the administrator or on the fifth business day after the agent's application has been filed with the administrator, whichever occurs first, and the administrator shall not impose further conditions upon the registration of the agent. However, the administrator may deny, revoke, suspend, or withdraw the registration of the agent at any time as provided in section 502.304. An agent registered solely pursuant to this section is entitled to sell only securities registered under this section.

6. This section is not applicable to any of the following issuers:

a. An investment company, including a mutual fund.

b. An issuer subject to the reporting requirements of section 13 or 15(d) of the federal Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

c. A direct participation program, unless otherwise permitted by the administrator by rule or order for good cause.

d. A blind pool or other offering for which the specific business or properties cannot now be described, unless the administrator determines that the blind pool is a community development, seed, or venture capital fund for which the administrator permits a waiver.

7. Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, the administrator shall not deny effectiveness to or suspend or revoke the effectiveness of a registration under this section on the basis of section 502.209, subsection 1, paragraph "h", and the administrator shall not impose the conditions specified in section 502.208, subsection 8, subsection 9, paragraph "b", or subsection 12. The administrator may issue a stop order pursuant to section 502.209 to filers under this section for any of the following additional reasons:

a. The issuer's principal place of business is not in this state.

b. At least fifty percent of the issuer's full-time employees are not located in this state.

c. At least eighty percent of the net proceeds of the offering are not going to be used in connection with the operations of the issuer in this state.

d. If the issuer is a seed or venture capital fund, at least fifty percent of the moneys received from the sale of the securities will not be used to make seed or venture capital investments in this state.

502.207B Legislative review and oversight.

The director of revenue and finance and the administrator of the securities bureau of the insurance division shall each report on an annual basis to the senate's and house of representatives' committees on ways and means concerning the expedited filing by registration system provided by section 502.207A.

90 Acts, ch 1196, §4; 97 Acts, ch 23, §59

502.208 Provisions applicable to registration generally.

1. A registration statement or a notice filing made pursuant to section 502.206A may be filed by the issuer, any other person on whose behalf the offering is to be made, or a registered broker-dealer.

2. a. Except as provided in subsection 13 and section 502.207A, subsection 3, paragraph "g", a person who files a registration statement or a notice filing shall pay a filing fee of one-tenth of one percent of the proposed aggregate sales price of the securities to be offered to persons in this state pursuant to the registration statement or notice filing. However, except as provided in paragraph "c" of this subsection, subsection 13, and section 502.207A, subsection 3, paragraph "g", the annual filing fee shall not be less than fifty dollars or more than one thousand dollars.

b. The administrator shall retain the filing fee even if the notice filing is withdrawn or the registration is withdrawn, denied, suspended, revoked, or abandoned.

c. A person who is the issuer of a federal covered security under section 18(b)(2) of the Securities Act of 1933 shall initially make a notice filing and annually renew a notice filing in this state for an indefinite amount or a fixed amount. The fixed amount must be for two hundred fifty thousand dollars. A notice filer shall pay a filing fee when the notice is filed. If the amount covered by the notice is indefinite, the notice filer shall pay a filing fee of one thousand dollars. If the amount covered by the notice is fixed, the notice filer shall pay a filing fee of two hundred fifty dollars, and the following shall apply:

(1) The notice filer shall file a sales report with the administrator or pay an additional filing fee of one thousand two hundred fifty dollars within ninety days after the notice filing's annual renewal date. If the notice filer files a sales report with the administrator, the notice filer shall pay an additional filing fee of one-tenth of one percent of the amount of securities sold in excess of two hundred fifty thousand dollars. The additional filing fee must be paid within ninety days after the notice filing's annual renewal date.

(2) The notice filing covering the additional securities shall be effective retroactively as of the effective date of the notice filing that is being amended.

3. Every registration statement shall specify:

a. The amount of securities to be offered in this state;

b. The states in which a registration statement or application in connection with the offering has been or is to be filed; and

c. Any adverse order, judgment or decree entered in connection with the offering by the regulatory authorities in any state or by any court or the securities and exchange commission, or any withdrawal of a registration statement or application relating to the offering.

4. Any document filed under this chapter or a predecessor act within five years preceding the filing of a registration statement or notice filing may be incorporated by reference in the registration statement or notice filing to the extent that the document is currently accurate.

5. The administrator may by rule or otherwise permit the omission of any item of information or document from any registration statement or notice filing.

6. In the case of a nonissuer distribution, information may not be required under section 502.207, or subsection 9, paragraph "b" of this section, unless it is known to the person filing the registration statement or to the persons on whose behalf the distribution is to be made, or can be furnished by them without unreasonable effort or expense.

7. The administrator may by rule or order require as a condition of registration that any security issued within the past three years or to be issued to a promoter for a consideration substantially different from the public offering price, or to any person for a consideration other than cash, be deposited in escrow; or that the proceeds from the sale of the registered security in this state be impounded until the issuer receives a specified amount from the sale of the security either in this state or elsewhere; or the administrator may impose both such requirements. The administrator may by rule or order determine the conditions of any escrow or impounding required hereunder, but the administrator may not reject a depository solely because of location in another state.

8. The administrator may by rule require that registered securities of designated classes shall be issued under a trust indenture containing such provisions as the administrator determines.

9. a. A registration statement or notice filing shall remain effective for one year from its effective date unless it is renewed, extended, or amended by rule or order of the administrator. An initial notice filing or a renewal or amendment of a notice filing becomes effective on the date received by the administrator, or, if requested by the issuer, on the date that the initial notice filing, renewal, or amendment is effective with the securities and exchange commission. All outstanding securities of the same class as a registered security or a security for which a notice filing has been made are considered to be registered or covered by a notice filing for the purpose of any transaction by or on behalf of a person who is not the issuer, and who is not in control of the issuer or controlled by the issuer or under common control with the issuer, so long as the registration statement or notice filing is effective, unless otherwise prescribed by order. A registration statement or notice filing shall not be withdrawn after its effective date if any of the securities has been sold in this state, unless permitted by rule or order of the administrator. A registration statement is not effective during the time a stop order is in effect under section 502.209. A notice filing is not effective during the time that a stop order issued pursuant to section 502.206A is in effect. A registration statement which never became effective may be withdrawn without prejudice to the issuer upon request and for good cause as determined at the discretion of the administrator.

b. During the effective period of a registration statement, the administrator may by rule or order require the person who filed the registration statement to file reports, not more often than quarterly, to keep reasonably current the information contained in the registration statement and to disclose the progress of the offering. If any of the securities registered has been sold in this state, the administrator may by rule or order extend the period for filing the reports for an additional period not exceeding two years from the date the registration became effective or from the date of its last amendment or extension.

10. The administrator may by rule or order require as a condition of registration by qualification, and at the expense of the applicant or registrant, that a report by an accountant, engineer, appraiser, or other professional person be filed. The administrator may also designate one or more em-employees of the securities bureau to make an examination of the business and records of an issuer of securities for which a registration statement has been filed by qualification, at the expense of the applicant or registrant.

11. Registration statements may be amended during the registration period to increase the amount of registered securities to be offered for sale to persons in this state.

a. The amendment to the registration statement becomes effective on the date ordered by the administrator.

b. Filing fees shall be calculated as specified by subsection 2, paragraph "a", and subsection 13.

12. The administrator may by rule or order require as a condition of registration under this chapter that a prospectus containing any designated part of the information specified in section 502.207, subsection 2, or the final prospectus or offering circular required by section 502.206, subsection 2, be delivered to each person to whom an offer is made before or concurrently with

a. The first written offer made to the offeree otherwise than by means of a public advertisement by or for the account of the issuer or any other person on whose behalf the offering is being made, or by any underwriter or broker-dealer who is offering part of an unsold allotment or subscription taken as a participant in the distribution;

b. The confirmation of any sale made by or for the account of any such person;

c. Payment pursuant to any such sale; or

d. Delivery of the security pursuant to any such sale, whichever first occurs.

13. A registrant who sold securities to persons in this state in excess of the amount of securities registered in this state at the time of the sale may file an amendment to its registration statement to register the additional securities. The following requirements shall apply:

a. If a registrant proposes to sell securities to persons in this state pursuant to a registration statement that is currently effective in this state in an amount that exceeds the amount registered in this state, the registrant must do both of the following:

(1) File an amendment to register the additional securities.

(2) Pay an additional filing fee in the same amount as specified by subsection 2, paragraph "a", as though the amendment constitutes a separate issue.

b. If a registrant sold securities to persons in this state in excess of the amount registered in this state at that time, the registrant must do both of the following:

(1) File an amendment to register the additional securities.

(2) Pay an additional filing fee that is three times the amount specified in subsection 2, paragraph "a", as though the amendment constitutes a separate issue.

c. The administrator may order the amendment effective retroactively as of the effective date of the registration statement that is being amended.

502.209 Denial, suspension and revocation of registration.

1. The administrator may issue a stop order denying effectiveness to, or suspending or revoking the effectiveness of, any registration statement if the administrator finds that the order is in the public interest and that:

a. The registration statement as of its effective date or as of any earlier date in the case of an order denying effectiveness, or any amendment filed under either subsection 9 or subsection 11 of section 502.208 as of its effective date, or any financial statement or report required under section 502.208, subsection 9 is incomplete in any material respect or contains any statement which was, in the light of the circumstances under which it was made, false or misleading with respect to any material fact;

b. Any provision of this chapter or any rule, order or condition lawfully imposed under this chapter has been willfully violated, in connection with the offering, by:

(1) The person filing the registration statement;

(2) The issuer;

(3) Any partner, officer or director of the issuer, or any person occupying a similar status or performing similar functions;

(4) Any affiliate of the issuer, but only if the person filing the registration statement is an affiliate of the issuer; or

(5) Any broker-dealer;

c. The securities registered or sought to be registered are the subject of an administrative stop order or similar order or a permanent or temporary injunction of any court of competent jurisdiction entered under any other federal or state Act applicable to the offering; but the administrator may not institute a proceeding against an effective registration statement under this section more than one year from the date of the order or injunction relied on, and the administrator may not enter an order under this section on the basis of an order or injunction entered under any other state Act unless that order or injunction was based on facts which would currently constitute a ground for a stop order under this section;

d. The issuer's enterprise or method of business includes or would include activities which are illegal where performed;

e. The issuance or sale of the securities has worked or tended to work a fraud upon purchasers or would so operate;

f. The offering has been or would be made with unreasonable amounts of underwriters' and sellers' discounts, commissions, or other compensation, or promoters' profits or participation, or unreasonable amounts or kinds of options;

g. Advertising has been used in connection with the offering contrary to the provisions of section 502.602;

h. The financial condition of the issuer affects or would affect the soundness of the securities, except that applications for registration of securities by companies which are in the development stage shall not be denied based solely upon the financial condition of the company. For purposes of this rule, a "development stage company" is defined as a company which has been in existence for five years or less.

i. A person who is an issuer, correspondent, or applicant, as listed on the uniform application to register securities form known as "Form U-1", failed to pay the proper filing fee. The administrator may enter only a denial order pursuant to this paragraph, and shall vacate any such order when the deficiency has been corrected.

j. A person who is an issuer, correspondent, or applicant, as listed on the uniform application to register securities form known as "Form U-1", has abandoned the registration statement. The administrator may enter an order pursuant to this paragraph if a notice of abandonment is sent to the last known address of each person, and the person fails to take corrective action within the time specified by the administrator. The notice of abandonment shall state the reasons for the administrator's action, specify the corrective action required, and specify the time period for submitting a response. However, the time specified shall not be less than fifteen days.

k. A person who is an issuer, correspondent, or applicant has failed to file a sales report with the administrator within ninety days after the registration statement's annual anniversary of its effectiveness or latest renewal.

2. The administrator may not institute a stop order proceeding against an effective registration statement on the basis of a fact known to the administrator when the registration statement became effective unless the proceeding is instituted within thirty days after effectiveness.

3. The administrator may issue a summary order revoking, withdrawing, postponing, suspending, or denying the effectiveness of a registration statement pending a final determination. Upon the entry of the order, the administrator shall promptly notify persons who are the issuer, correspondent, and applicant by restricted certified mail, sent to the last known address of each person. The notice shall state that the order has been entered, the reasons for the administrator's action, and that the matter will be set down for a hearing within fifteen days after the receipt of a written request, if the request is received by the administrator within fifteen days after receipt of the notice by the persons. The hearing shall be held within forty-five days after the date of the notice of hearing unless continued by the administrative law judge for good cause with at least fifteen days' notice to the parties. If a hearing is requested or ordered, the administrator, after notice of an opportunity for a hearing to each of the persons, may modify, extend, or vacate the order. If a hearing is not requested or ordered by the administrator, the order will remain in effect until it is modified or vacated by the administrator.

4. No stop order may be entered under any part of this section except the first sentence of subsection 3 without compliance with the Iowa administrative procedure Act.

5. The administrator may vacate or modify a stop order upon a finding that the conditions which promoted its entry have changed or that it is otherwise in the public interest to do so.

502.211 Registration requirements — hearing.

1. It is unlawful for a person to make a takeover offer or to acquire any equity securities pursuant to the offer unless the offer is valid under this section and sections 502.212 through 502.218. A takeover offer is effective when the offeror files with the administrator a registration statement containing the information prescribed in subsection 6. Not later than the date of filing of the registration statement, the offeror shall deliver a copy of the registration statement by certified mail to the target company at its principal office and publicly disclose the material terms of the proposed offer. Public disclosure shall require, at a minimum, that a copy of the registration statement be supplied to all broker-dealers maintaining an office in this state currently quoting the security.

2. The registration statement shall be filed on forms prescribed by the administrator, and shall be accompanied by a consent by the offeror to service of process and filing fee specified in section 502.216, and contain the following information:

a. All information specified in subsection 6.

b. Two copies of all solicitation materials intended to be used in the takeover offer, and in the form proposed to be published, sent, or delivered to offerees.

c. Additional information as prescribed by the administrator by rule, pursuant to chapter 17A, prior to the making of the offer.

3. Registration shall not be considered approval by the administrator, and any representation to the contrary is unlawful.

4. Within three calendar days of the date of filing of the registration statement, the administrator may, by order, summarily suspend the effectiveness of the takeover offer if the administrator determines that the registration does not contain all of the information specified in subsection 6 or that the takeover offer materials provided to offerees do not provide full disclosure to offerees of all material information concerning the takeover offer. The suspension shall remain in effect only until the determination following a hearing held pursuant to subsection 5.

5. A hearing shall be scheduled by the administrator for each suspension under this section, and the hearing shall be held within ten calendar days of the date of the suspension. The administrator's determination following the hearing shall be made within three calendar days after the hearing has been completed, but not more than sixteen days after the date of the suspension. The administrator may prescribe different time periods than those specified in the subsection by rule or order.

If, based upon the hearing, the administrator finds that the registration statement fails to provide for full and fair disclosure of all material information concerning the offer, or that the takeover is in violation of any of the provisions of this section and section 502.212 through 502.218, the administrator shall permanently suspend the effectiveness of the takeover offer, subject to the right of the offeror to correct disclosure and other deficiencies identified by the administrator and to reinstate the takeover offer by filing a new or amended registration statement pursuant to this section.

6. The form required to be filed by subsection 2, paragraph "a", shall contain all of the following information:

a. The identity and background of all persons on whose behalf the acquisition of any equity security of the target company has been or is to be effected.

b. The source and amount of funds or other consideration used or to be used in acquiring any equity security including, if applicable, a statement describing any securities which are being offered in exchange for the equity securities of the target company and, if any part of the acquisition price is or will be represented by borrowed funds or other consideration, a description of the material terms of any financing arrangements and the names of the parties from whom the funds were or are to be borrowed.

c. If the offeror is other than a natural person, information concerning its organization and operations, including the year, form and jurisdiction of its organization, a description of each class of equity security and long-term debt, a description of the business conducted by the offeror and its subsidiaries and any material changes in the offeror or subsidiaries during the past three years, a description of the location and character of the principal properties of the offeror and its subsidiaries, a description of any pending and material legal or administrative proceedings in which the offeror or any of its affiliates is a party, the names of all directors and executive officers of the offeror and their material business activities and affiliations during the past five years, and financial statements of the offeror in a form and for periods of time as the administrator may, pursuant to chapter 17A and prior to the making of the offer, prescribe.

d. If the offeror is a natural person, information concerning the offeror's identity and background, including business activities and affiliations during the past five years and a description of any pending and material legal or administrative proceedings in which the offeror is a party.

e. If the purpose of the acquisition is to gain control of the target company, the material terms of any plans or proposals which the offeror has, upon gaining control, to liquidate the target company, sell its assets, effect its merger or consolidation, change the location of its principal executive office or of a material portion of its business activities, change its management or policies of employment, materially alter its relationship with suppliers or customers or the community in which it operates, or make any other major changes in its business, corporate structure, management or personnel, and other information which would materially affect the shareholders' evaluation of the acquisition.

f. The number of shares or units of any equity security of the target company owned beneficially by the offeror and any affiliate or associate of the offeror, together with the name and address of each affiliate or associate.

g. The material terms of any contract, arrangement, or understanding with any other person with respect to the equity securities of the target company by which the offeror has or will acquire any interest in additional equity securities of the target company, or is or will be obligated to transfer any interest in the equity securities to another.

h. Information required to be included in a tender offer statement pursuant to section 14(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and the rules and regulations of the securities and exchange commission issued pursuant to the Act.

502.212 Filing of solicitation materials.

Copies of all advertisements, circulars, letters, or other materials disseminated by the offeror or the target company, soliciting or requesting the acceptance or rejection of a takeover offer shall be filed with the administrator and sent to the target company or offeror not later than the time the solicitation or request materials are first published, sent, or given to the offerees. The administrator may prohibit the use of any materials deemed false or misleading.

87 Acts, ch 53, §4

502.213 Fraudulent, deceptive or manipulative acts and practices prohibited.

It is unlawful for an offeror, target company, affiliate or associate of an offeror or target company, or broker-dealer acting on behalf of an offeror or target company to engage in a fraudulent, deceptive, or manipulative act or practice in connection with a takeover offer. For purposes of this section, an unlawful act or practice includes, but is not limited to, the following:

1. The publication or use in connection with a takeover offer of a false statement of a material fact, or the omission of a material fact which renders the statements made misleading.

2. The purchase of any of the equity securities of an officer, director, or beneficial owner of five percent or more of the equity securities of the target company by the offeror or the target company for a consideration greater than that to be paid to other shareholders, unless the terms of the purchase are disclosed in a registration statement filed pursuant to section 502.211.

3. The refusal by a target company to permit an offeror who is a shareholder of record to examine or copy its list of shareholders, pursuant to the applicable corporation statutes, for the purpose of making a takeover offer.

4. The refusal by a target company to mail any solicitation materials published by the offeror to its security holders with reasonable promptness after receipt from the offeror of the materials, together with the reasonable expenses of postage and handling.

5. The solicitation of any offeree for acceptance or rejection of a takeover offer, or acquisition of any equity security pursuant to a takeover offer, when the offer is suspended under section 502.211, provided, however, that the target company may communicate during a suspension with its equity security holders to the extent required to respond to the takeover offer made pursuant to the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

[C79, 81, §502.213]
87 Acts, ch 53, §5

502.214 Limitations on offers and offerors.

1. A takeover offer shall contain substantially the same terms for shareholders residing within and outside this state.

2. An offeror shall provide that any equity securities of a target company deposited or tendered pursuant to a takeover offer may be withdrawn by or on behalf of an offeree within seven days after the date the offer has become effective and after sixty days from the date the offer has become effective, or as otherwise determined by the administrator pursuant to a rule or order issued for the protection of the shareholders.

3. If an offeror makes a takeover offer for less than all the outstanding equity securities of any class and, within ten days after the offer has become effective and copies of the offer, or notice of any increase in the consideration offered, are first published or sent or given to equity security holders, the number of securities deposited or tendered pursuant to the offer is greater than the number of securities that the offeror has offered to accept and pay for, the securities shall be accepted pro rata, disregarding fractions, according to the number of securities deposited or tendered for each offeree.

4. If an offeror varies the terms of a takeover offer before the offer's expiration date by increasing the consideration offered to equity security holders, the offeror shall pay the increased consideration for all equity securities accepted, whether the securities have been accepted by the offeror before or after the variation in the terms of the offer.

5. An offeror shall not make a takeover offer or acquire any equity securities in this state pursuant to a takeover offer during the period of time that an administrator's proceeding alleging a violation of this chapter is pending against the offeror.

6. An offeror shall not acquire, remove, or exercise control, directly or indirectly, over any target company assets located in this state pursuant to a takeover offer during the period of time that an administrator's proceeding alleging a violation of this chapter is pending against the offeror.

7. An offeror shall not acquire from a resident of this state an equity security of any class of a target company at any time within two years following the last purchase of securities pursuant to a takeover offer with respect to that class, including, but not limited to, acquisitions made by purchase, exchange, merger, consolidation, partial or complete liquidation, redemption, reverse stock split, recapitalization, reorganization, or any other similar transaction, unless the holders of the equity securities are afforded, at the time of the acquisition, a reasonable opportunity to dispose of the securities to the offeror upon substantially equivalent terms as those provided in the earlier takeover offer.

[C79, 81, §502.214]
87 Acts, ch 53, §6

502.215 Administration — rules and orders.

1. The administrator shall make and adopt rules and forms as the administrator determines are necessary to carry out the purposes of sections 502.211 through 502.218.

2. The administrator may by rule or order exempt from any provision of sections 502.211 through 502.218 the following:

a. A proposed takeover offer or a category or type of takeover offer which the administrator determines does not have the purpose or effect of changing or influencing the control of a target company.

b. A proposed takeover offer for which the administrator determines that compliance with the sections is not necessary for the protection of the offerees.

c. A person from the requirement of filing statements.

3. In the event of a conflict between the provisions of chapter 17A and the provisions of sections 502.211 through 502.218, the provisions of sections 502.211 through 502.218 shall prevail.

[C79, 81, §502.215]
87 Acts, ch 53, §7

502.216 Fees.

The administrator shall charge a nonrefundable filing fee of two hundred fifty dollars for a registration statement filed by an offeror.

87 Acts, ch 53, §8

502.217 Nonapplication of corporate takeover law.

If the target company is a public utility, public utility holding company, national banking association, bank holding company, or savings and loan association which is subject to regulation by a federal agency and the takeover of such company is subject to approval by the federal agency, sections 502.211 through 502.218 do not apply.

87 Acts, ch 53, §9

502.218 Application of securities law.

All of the provisions of this chapter which are not in conflict with sections 502.211 through 502.217 and this section, apply to any takeover offer involving a target company.

PART III

REGISTRATION OF BROKER-DEALERS AND AGENTS

502.301 Registration requirement.

1. It is unlawful for any person to transact business in this state as a broker-dealer or agent unless at least one of the following conditions is satisfied:

a. The person is registered under this chapter.

b. The person is a broker-dealer who has no place of business in this state and the broker-dealer satisfies one of the following requirements:

(1) The broker-dealer effects transactions in this state exclusively with or through the issuers of the securities involved in the transaction, other broker-dealers, banks, trust companies, insurance companies, or investment companies as defined in the Investment Company Act of 1940, pension or profit sharing trusts, or other financial institutions, whether acting for themselves or as trustees;

(2) During any period of twelve consecutive months the broker-dealer does not effect transactions in this state in any manner with more than three persons other than those specified in subparagraph (1), whether or not the offeror or any of the offerees is then present in this state; or

(3) The administrator designates the broker-dealer as exempt from these requirements by either rule or order.

2. It is unlawful for any broker-dealer or issuer to employ an agent in this state unless the agent is registered. The registration of an agent is not effective during any period when the agent is not associated with a specified broker-dealer registered under this chapter or a specified issuer. Unless permitted by order of the administrator, no agent shall at any time represent more than one broker-dealer or issuer, except that where organizations affiliated by direct or indirect common control are registered as broker-dealers or are issuers of securities registered under this chapter, an agent may represent any such organization. When an agent begins or terminates employment with a broker-dealer or issuer or begins or terminates the activities which makes such person an agent, the agent as well as the broker-dealer or issuer shall promptly notify the administrator.

3. It is unlawful for any person to transact business in this state as an investment adviser or as an investment adviser representative unless one of the following applies:

a. The person is registered under this part.

b. The person has no place of business in this state, and either of the following applies:

(1) The person's only clients in this state are investment companies as defined in the Investment Company Act of 1940, other investment advisers, federal covered advisers, broker-dealers, banks, trust companies, savings and loan associations, insurance companies, employee benefit plans with assets of not less than one million dollars, and governmental agencies or instrumentalities, whether acting for themselves or as trustees with investment control, or other institutional investors as are designated by rule or order of the administrator.

(2) During the preceding twelve-month period the person has had no more than five clients, other than those specified in subparagraph (1), who are residents of this state.

4. It is unlawful for any of the following persons to do the following:

a. An investment adviser required to be registered to employ an investment adviser representative unless the investment adviser representative is registered under this chapter, provided that the registration of an investment adviser representative is not effective during any period when the investment adviser representative is not employed by an investment adviser registered under this part.

b. A federal covered adviser to employ, supervise, or associate with an investment adviser representative having a place of business located in this state, unless the investment adviser representative is registered under this chapter, or is exempt from registration.

When an investment adviser representative begins or terminates employment or association with an investment adviser, the investment adviser in the case of paragraph “a”, or the investment adviser representative in the case of paragraph “b”, shall promptly notify the administrator.

5. Every registration or notice filing under this section expires December 31, unless renewed.

6. Except with respect to advisers whose only clients are those described in section 502.301, subsection 3, paragraph “b”, it is unlawful for any federal covered adviser to conduct advisory business in this state unless such person complies with the provisions of section 502.302, subsection 2.

502.302 Registration and notice filing procedures.

1. A broker-dealer, agent, investment adviser, or investment adviser representative may obtain an initial or renewal license by filing with the administrator, or an organization which the administrator by rule designates, an application together with a consent to service of process pursuant to section 502.609 and the appropriate filing fee. The application shall contain information the administrator requires by rule concerning the applicant’s form and place of organization, proposed method of doing business and financial condition, and the qualifications and experience of the applicant. In the case of a broker-dealer or investment adviser, the application shall include the qualifications and experience of any partner, officer, director or controlling person, any injunction or administrative order or conviction of a misdemeanor involving securities and any conviction of a felony, and any other matters which the administrator determines are relevant to the application. In addition, in the case of an investment adviser, the application shall include any information to be furnished or disseminated to any client or prospective client, and any other information which the administrator determines is relevant to the application. If no denial order is in effect and no proceeding is pending under section 502.304, registration becomes effective at noon of the sixtieth day after a completed application or an amendment completing the application is filed, unless waived by the applicant. The administrator may by rule or order specify an earlier effective date.

2. Except with respect to federal covered advisers whose only clients are those described in section 502.301, subsection 3, paragraph “b”, a federal covered adviser shall file with the administrator, prior to acting as a federal covered adviser in this state, such documents as have been filed with the securities and exchange commission as the administrator, by rule or order, may require.

3. Every applicant for initial or renewal registration as a broker-dealer or investment adviser shall pay a filing fee of two hundred dollars. Every applicant for initial or renewal registration as an agent or investment adviser representative shall pay a filing fee of thirty dollars. However, an investment adviser representative is not required to pay a filing fee if the investment adviser is a sole proprietorship or the substantial equivalent and the investment adviser representative is the same individual as the investment adviser. A filing fee is not refundable. Every person acting as a federal covered adviser in this state, except with respect to federal covered advisers whose only clients are those described in section 502.301, subsection 3, paragraph “b”, shall pay an initial and renewal notice filing fee of one hundred dollars.

4. A registered broker-dealer, federal covered adviser, or investment adviser may file an application for registration of a successor, whether or not the successor is then in existence, for the unexpired portion of the year. There shall be no filing fee.

5. The administrator may by rule or order require a minimum capital for broker-dealers subject to the limitations of section 15 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. The administrator by rule or order may also establish minimum financial requirements for investment advisers, subject to the limitations of section 222 of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, which may include different requirements for those investment advisers who maintain custody of client funds or securities or who have discretionary authority over client funds or securities and those investment advisers who do not.

6. The administrator may by rule or order require investment advisers who have custody of or discretionary authority over client funds or securities to post bonds in amounts as the administrator may prescribe, subject to the limitations of section 222 of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 and may determine conditions on the bonds. A bond shall not be required of any investment adviser whose minimum financial requirements, which may be defined by rule, exceed the amounts required by the administrator. Every bond shall provide for suit on the bond by the person who has a cause of action under this chapter and, if the administrator by rule or order requires, by any person who has a cause of action not arising under this chapter. Every bond shall provide that a suit shall not be maintained to enforce liability on the bond unless brought within the time limitations of section 502.504.

7. The administrator may by rule or order impose such other conditions in connection with registration under this chapter as are deemed appropriate, in the public interest or for the protection of investors.

502.303 Post-registration provisions.

1. Every registered broker-dealer and investment adviser shall make and keep accounts, correspondence, memoranda, papers, books, and other records as the administrator may prescribe by rule or order, except as provided by section 15 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in the case of a broker-dealer, and section 222 of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 in the case of an investment adviser. All records required, with respect to an investment adviser, shall be preserved for a period as the administrator prescribes by rule or order.

2. With respect to investment advisers, the administrator may require that certain information be furnished or disseminated to clients or prospective clients as necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors and advisory clients. To the extent determined in the administrator's discretion, information furnished to clients or prospective clients of an investment adviser that would be in compliance with the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 and the rules under that Act may be used in whole or in partial satisfaction of this requirement.

3. Every registered broker-dealer and investment adviser shall file such financial reports as the administrator prescribes by rule or order, not to exceed the limitations provided in section 15 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 in the case of a broker-dealer, and section 222 of the Investment Advisers Act of 1940 in the case of an investment adviser.

4. If the information contained in any document filed with the administrator is or becomes inaccurate or incomplete in any material respect, the registrant or federal covered adviser shall file a correcting amendment promptly if the document is filed with respect to a registrant, or when such amendment is required to be filed with the securities and exchange commission, if the document is filed with respect to a federal covered adviser, unless notification of the correction has been given under section 502.301, subsection 2.

5. The administrator may make examinations, within or without this state, of the business and records of each registered broker-dealer or investment adviser, at the times and in the scope as the administrator determines. The examinations may be made without prior notice to the broker-dealer or investment adviser. The administrator may copy all records the administrator believes are necessary to conduct the examination. The expense reasonably attributable to an examination shall be paid by the broker-dealer or investment adviser whose business is examined, but the expense so payable shall not exceed an amount which the administrator by rule prescribes. For the purpose of avoiding unnecessary duplication of examinations, the administrator may cooperate with securities administrators of other states, the securities and exchange commission, and any national securities exchange or national securities association registered under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. The administrator shall not make public the information obtained in the course of examinations, except when a duty under this chapter requires the administrator to take action regarding a broker-dealer or investment adviser or to make the information available to one of the agencies specified in this section, or except when the administrator is called as a witness in a criminal or civil proceeding.

502.304 Denial, revocation, suspension, and withdrawal of registration.

1. The administrator may by order deny, suspend, or revoke a registration or may censure, impose a civil penalty upon, or bar an applicant, registrant, branch manager, assistant branch manager, supervisor, or any officer, director, partner, or person occupying a similar status or performing similar functions for a registrant. A person barred under this subsection may be prohibited by the administrator from employment with a registered broker-dealer or investment adviser. The administrator may restrict the person barred from engaging in any activity for which registration is required. Any action by the administrator under this subsection may be taken if the order is found to be in the public interest and it is found that the applicant or registrant or, in the case of a broker-dealer or investment adviser, a partner, an officer, or a director, a person occupying a similar status or performing similar functions, or a person directly or indirectly controlling the broker-dealer or investment adviser, or a branch manager, assistant branch manager, or supervisor:

a. Has filed an application for registration which as of its effective date, or as of any date after filing in the case of an order denying effectiveness, was incomplete in any material respect or contained any statement which was, in light of the circumstances under which it was made, false or misleading with respect to any material fact;

b. Has willfully violated or willfully failed to comply with any provision of this chapter or a predecessor act or any rule or order under this chapter or a predecessor act;

c. Has been convicted within the past ten years of

(1) Any misdemeanor involving a security or any aspect of the securities business, or

(2) Any felony;

d. Is permanently or temporarily enjoined by any court of competent jurisdiction from engaging in or continuing any conduct or practice involving any aspect of the securities, insurance, or commodities business;

e. Is the subject of an order of the administrator denying, suspending, or revoking registration as a broker-dealer, agent, investment adviser, investment adviser representative, or insurance agent;

f. Is the subject of an adjudication or order entered after notice and opportunity for hearing, within the past ten years by a securities or commodities agency, an administrator of another state, or a court of competent jurisdiction, that reflects that the person has violated the Securities Act of 1933, the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, the Investment Company Act of 1940, or the Commodity Exchange Act, a securities or commodities law of any other state, or a United States postal service fraud order. However, the administrator may not do either of the following:

(1) Institute a revocation or suspension proceeding under this paragraph more than one year from the final agency order relied on or, if the order has been appealed, the final court decision.

(2) Enter an order under this paragraph on the basis of an order under another state law unless that order was based on facts which would currently constitute a ground for an order under this section.

g. Has engaged in dishonest or unethical practices in the securities business;

h. Is insolvent, either in the equity or bankruptcy sense; but the administrator may not enter an order against a broker-dealer or investment adviser under this paragraph without a finding of insolvency as to the broker-dealer or investment adviser;

i. Is not qualified on the basis of such factors as training, experience and knowledge of the securities business;

j. Has failed reasonably to supervise an agent or employee in the case of a broker-dealer, or an investment adviser representative or employee in the case of an investment adviser;

k. Has been denied the right to do business in the securities industry, or the person's authority to do business in the securities industry has been revoked for cause by another state, federal, or foreign governmental agency or by a self-regulatory organization; or

l. Has been the subject of a final order in a criminal, civil, injunctive, or administrative action for securities, commodities, or fraud-related violations of the laws of this state or another state, federal, or foreign governmental unit.

m. Does any of the following:

(1) Has willfully violated the law of a foreign jurisdiction governing or regulating any aspect of the business of securities or banking.

(2) Within the past five years, has been the subject of an action of a securities regulator of a foreign jurisdiction denying, revoking, or suspending the right to engage in the business of securities as a broker-dealer, agent, investment adviser, or investment adviser representative.

(3) Is the subject of an action of any securities exchange or self-regulatory organization operating under the authority of the securities regulator of a foreign jurisdiction suspending or expelling such person from membership in such exchange or self-regulatory organization.

n. Does either of the following:

(1) Refuses to allow or otherwise impedes the securities bureau from conducting an audit, examination, inspection, or investigation as provided under section 502.303 or 502.603, including by withholding or concealing records or refusing to furnish records, if the records are required to be kept either under this chapter or under rules adopted under this chapter or by the securities bureau acting under this chapter.

(2) Refuses securities bureau access to any of office or location within an office to conduct an audit, examination, inspection, or investigation.

2. The administrator may not institute a suspension or revocation proceeding under subsection 1, paragraphs "c" through "f", on the basis of a fact known to the administrator when registration became effective unless the proceeding is instituted within ninety days after the effective date.

3. The administrator may by order summarily postpone or suspend registration pending final determination of any proceeding under this section. Upon the entry of the order, the administrator shall promptly notify the applicant or registrant, as well as the employer or prospective employer if the applicant or registrant is an agent or investment adviser representative, that it has been entered and of the reasons therefor and that within fifteen days after the receipt of a written request the matter will be set down for hearing. If no hearing is requested and none is ordered by the administrator, the order will remain in effect until it is modified or vacated by the administrator. If a hearing is requested or ordered, the administrator, after notice of and opportunity for hearing, may modify or vacate the order or extend it until final determination.

4. a. If the administrator finds that any registrant or applicant for registration is no longer in existence or has ceased to do business as a broker-dealer, agent, investment adviser, or investment adviser representative, or is subject to an adjudication of mental incompetence or to the control of a committee, conservator, or guardian, or cannot be located after search, the administrator may by order revoke the registration or application.

b. If the administrator finds that the applicant or registrant for registration has abandoned the application or registration, the administrator may enter an order of abandonment, and limit or eliminate further consideration of the application or registration, as provided by the administrator. The administrator may enter an order under this paragraph if notice is sent to the applicant or registrant, and either the administrator does not receive a response by the applicant or registrant within forty-five days from the date that the notice was delivered, or action is not taken by the applicant or registrant within the time specified by the administrator in the notice, whichever is later.

5. Withdrawal from registration as a broker-dealer, agent, investment adviser, or investment adviser representative becomes effective thirty days after receipt of an application to withdraw or within such shorter period of time as the administrator may by order determine, unless a proceeding to deny, suspend, or revoke a registration is pending when the application is filed or a proceeding to deny, suspend, or revoke a registration, or to impose conditions upon the withdrawal is instituted within thirty days after the application is filed. If a proceeding is pending or instituted, withdrawal becomes effective at such time and upon such conditions as the administrator by order determines. If no proceeding is pending or instituted and withdrawal automatically becomes effective, the administrator may nevertheless institute a revocation or suspension proceeding under subsection 1 within one year after withdrawal became effective and enter a revocation or suspension order as of the last date on which registration was effective.

6. A person who directly or indirectly controls a broker-dealer or agent is subject to the same sanctions applicable to an applicant or registrant under this section, unless the person proves that the person did not know, and was not grossly negligent in failing to know, of the existence of facts by reason of which the liability is alleged to exist.

7. No order may be entered under any part of this section except the first sentence of subsection 3 without compliance with the Iowa administrative procedure Act.

8. A civil penalty levied under subsection 1 shall not exceed one thousand dollars per violation per person and shall not exceed one hundred thousand dollars in a single proceeding against any one person. All administrative fines received shall be deposited in the general fund of the state.

502.305 Examination of investment adviser representative and exemption from examination.

The administrator may adopt rules requiring the passage of an examination by an individual who is required to be registered under this chapter as an investment adviser representative. However, a person who is registered as an investment adviser representative between January 1, 1999, and December 31, 1999, shall not be required to pass an examination for as long as the person maintains a continuous registration.

PART IV

PROHIBITION OF FRAUDULENT PRACTICES

502.401 Offers, sales and purchases.

It is unlawful for any person, in connection with the offer to sell, offer to purchase, sale or purchase of any security in this state, directly or indirectly:

1. To employ any device, scheme, or artifice to defraud;

2. To make any untrue statement of a material fact or to omit to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements made, in the light of the circumstances under which they are made, not misleading; or

3. To engage in any act, practice, or course of business which operates or would operate as a fraud or deceit upon any person.

[C31, 35, §8581-c17; C39, §8581.21; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, §502.21; C77, 79, 81, §502.401]

502.402 Trading on inside information.

It is unlawful for any person who is or was an officer, director or affiliate of an issuer or any other person whose relationship to the issuer or to any of the foregoing persons gives or gave such person access, directly or indirectly, to material information which is of decisive importance about the issuer or the security not generally available to the public, to purchase or sell any security of the issuer in this state at a time when that person knows such information about the issuer or the security gained from such relationship, which information

1. Would significantly affect the market price of that security;

2. Is not generally available to the public; and

3. Such person knows is not intended to be so available, unless that person has reason to believe that the other party to such transaction is also in possession of such information.

[C77, 79, 81, §502.402]

502.403 Market manipulation.

It is unlawful for any person, directly or indirectly, in this state:

1. For the purpose of creating a false or misleading appearance of active trading in a security or a false or misleading appearance with respect to the market for a security:

a. To effect any transaction in the security which involves no change in the beneficial ownership thereof; or

b. To enter any order or orders for the purchase (or sale) of the security with the knowledge that an order or orders of substantially the same size, at substantially the same time, and at substantially the same price for the sale (or purchase) of the security have been or will be entered by or for the same or affiliated persons;

2. To effect, alone or with one or more other persons, a series of transactions in any security creating actual or apparent active trading in the security or raising or depressing the price of the security for the purpose of inducing the purchase or sale of the security by others; or

3. To induce the purchase or sale of any security by the circulation or dissemination of information to the effect that the price of the security will or is likely to rise or fall because of market operations of one or more persons conducted for the purpose of raising or depressing the price of the security, if that person is receiving a consideration, directly or indirectly, from any such person, or is selling or offering to sell or purchasing or offering to purchase the security.

502.404 Prohibited transactions of broker-dealers and agents.

A broker-dealer or agent shall not effect a transaction in, or induce or attempt to induce the purchase or sale of, any security in this state by means of any manipulative, deceptive or other fraudulent scheme, device, or contrivance, fictitious quotation, or in violation of this chapter or any rule or order hereunder. A broker-dealer or agent shall not recommend to a customer the purchase, sale or exchange of a security without reasonable grounds to believe that the transaction or recommendation is suitable for the customer based upon reasonable inquiry concerning the customer's investment objectives, financial situation and needs, and other relevant information known by the broker-dealer.

502.405 Misleading filings.

It is unlawful for any person to make or cause to be made, in any document filed with the administrator or in any proceeding under this chapter, any statement of a material fact which is, at the time and in the light of the circumstances under which it is made, false or misleading, or, in connection with such statement, to omit to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements made, in the light of the circumstances under which they are made, not misleading.

[SS15, §1920-u19; C24, 27, §8577; C31, 35, §8581-c21; C39, §8581.26; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, §502.26; C77, 79, 81, §502.405]

502.406 Misrepresentations of government approval.

1. It is unlawful for any person registered as a broker-dealer, agent, investment adviser, or investment adviser representative under this chapter to represent or imply in any manner whatsoever that such person has been sponsored, recommended, or approved or that the person's abilities or qualifications have in any respect been passed upon by the administrator. Nothing in this subsection prohibits a statement other than in a paid advertisement that a person is registered under this chapter, if such statement is true in fact and if the effect of such registration is not misrepresented.

2. a. The fact that an application for registration or notice filing under part III or a registration statement or a notice filing has been filed under this chapter or the fact that a person or the statement has become effective does not constitute a finding by the administrator that any document filed under this chapter is true, complete, or not misleading. Any such fact or the fact that an exemption is available for a security or a transaction does not mean that the administrator has passed in any way upon the merits or qualifications of, or has recommended or given approval to, any person, security, or transaction.

b. It is unlawful to make, or cause to be made, to any prospective purchaser, customer, client, or any other person, any representation inconsistent with paragraph "a".

3. No state official or employee of the state shall use such person's name in an official capacity in connection with the endorsement or recommendation of the organization or the promotion of any issuer or in the sale to the public of its securities, nor shall anyone use the stationery of the state or of any official thereof in connection with any such transaction.

[C24, 27, §8580; C31, 35, §8581-c24; C39, §8581.29; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, §502.29; C77, 79, 81, §502.406]

502.407 Misstatements in publicity prohibited.

It is unlawful for any person to make or cause to be made, in any public report or press release, or in other information which is either made generally available to the public or used in opposition to a tender offer, any statement of a material fact relating to a target company or made in connection with a tender offer which is, at the time and in the light of the circumstances under which it is made, false or misleading, if it is reasonably foreseeable that such statement will induce other persons to buy, sell or hold securities of the target company.

[SS15, §1920-u21; C24, 27, §8579; C31, 35, §8581-c23; C39, §8581.28; C46, 50, 54, 58, 62, 66, 71, 73, 75, §502.28; C77, 79, 81, §502.407]

87 Acts, ch 53, §11

502.408 Advisory activities.

1. It is unlawful for any person who receives, directly or indirectly, any consideration from another person for advising the other person as to the value of securities or their purchase or sale, whether through the issuance of analyses or reports or otherwise, to do any of the following:

a. Employ any device, scheme, or artifice to defraud the other person.

b. Engage in any act, practice, or course of business which operates or would operate as a fraud or deceit upon the other person.

c. Engage in dishonest or unethical practices as the administrator may define by rule.

2. In the solicitation of advisory clients, it is unlawful for a person to make any untrue statement of a material fact, or omit to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements made, in light of the circumstances under which they are made, not misleading.

3. Except as may be permitted by rule or order of the administrator, it is unlawful for any investment adviser to enter into, extend, or renew any investment advisory contract unless it provides in writing all of the following:

a. That the investment adviser shall not be compensated on the basis of a share of capital gains upon or capital appreciation of the funds or any portion of the funds of the client.

b. That no assignment of the contract may be made by the investment adviser without the consent of the other party to the contract.

c. That the investment adviser, if a partnership, shall notify the other party to the contract of any change in the membership of the partnership within a reasonable time after the change.

4. Subsection 3, paragraph "a", does not prohibit an investment advisory contract which provides for compensation based upon the total value of a fund averaged over a definite period, or as of definite dates or taken as of a definite date. "Assignment", as used in subsection 3, paragraph "b", includes any direct or indirect transfer or hypothecation of an investment advisory contract by the assignor or of a controlling block of the assignor's outstanding voting securities by a security holder of the assignor. However, if the investment adviser is a partnership, no assignment of an investment advisory contract is considered to result from the death or withdrawal of a minority of the members of the investment adviser having only a minority interest in the business of the investment adviser, or from the admission to the investment adviser of one or more members who, after admission, will be only a minority of the members and will have only a minority interest in the business.

5. It is unlawful for any investment adviser to take or have custody of any securities or funds of any client if any of the following applies:

a. The administrator by rule prohibits custody.

b. In the absence of rule, the investment adviser fails to notify the administrator that it has or may have custody.

6. The administrator may by rule or order adopt exemptions from the requirements of subsection 1, paragraph "c", and subsection 3, paragraphs "a", "b", and "c", where such exemptions are consistent with the public interest and within the purposes fairly intended by the policy and provisions of this chapter.

PART V

CIVIL LIABILITY

502.501 Violation of registration and related requirements.

1. Any person who:

- a. Violates section 502.201, subsection 1 or 2, or section 502.208, subsection 12, or section 502.406, subsection 2, paragraph "b", or
- b. Violates any material condition imposed under section 502.208, or
- c. Violates section 502.301, or
- d. Commits a material violation of any order issued by the administrator under this chapter, shall be liable to the person purchasing the security offered or sold in connection with such violation, who may sue either at law or in equity to recover the consideration paid for the security, together with interest at the legal rate from the date of payment, costs and reasonable attorneys' fees, less the amount of any income or distributions, in cash or in kind, received on the security, upon the tender of the security, or for damages if the purchaser no longer owns the security. Damages shall be the amount that would be recoverable upon a tender less

(1) The value of the security when the purchaser disposed of it and

(2) Interest on said value at the legal rate from the date of disposition.

Any person on whose behalf an offering is made and any underwriter of the offering, whether on a best efforts or a firm commitment basis, shall be jointly and severally liable under this section, but in no event shall any underwriter be liable in any suit or suits authorized under this section for damages in excess of the total price at which the securities underwritten by it and distributed to the public were offered to the public. Tender requires only notice of willingness to exchange the security for the amount specified. Any notice may be given by service as in civil actions or by certified mail addressed to the last known address of the person liable.

2. Any person who violates section 502.211 shall be liable to the person selling the security to such violator, which seller may sue either at law or in equity to recover the security, costs and reasonable attorney's fees, plus any income or distributions, in cash or in kind, received by the purchaser thereon, upon tender of the consideration received, or for damages if the purchaser no longer owns the security. Damages shall be the excess of the value of the security when the purchaser disposed of it, plus interest at the legal rate from the date of disposition, over the consideration paid for the security. Tender requires only notice of willingness to pay the amount specified in exchange for the security. Any notice may be given by service as in civil actions or by certified mail to the last known address of the person liable.

3. In addition to other remedies provided in this chapter, in a proceeding alleging a violation of sections 502.211 through 502.218 the court may provide that all shares acquired from a resident of this state in violation of any provision of this chapter or rule or order issued pursuant to this chapter be denied voting rights for one year after acquisition, that the shares be nontransferable on the books of the target company, or that during this one-year period the target company have the option to call the shares for redemption either at the price at which the shares were acquired or at book value per share as of the last day of the fiscal quarter ended prior to the date of the call for redemption, which redemption shall occur on the date set in the call notice but not later than sixty days after the call notice is given.

502.502 Fraudulent practices.

1. Any person, other than an underwriter, who offers or sells a security in connection with an offering of securities (i) registered under section 502.207 or under the Securities Act of 1933, or (ii) pursuant to an exemption from registration under section 3(b) of the Securities Act of 1933, in violation of section 502.401, the purchaser not knowing of the violation, shall be liable to the purchaser, who may sue either at law or in equity to recover the consideration paid for the security, together with interest at the legal rate from the date of payment, costs and reasonable attorneys' fees, less the amount of any income or distributions, in cash or in kind, received on the security, upon the tender of the security, or for damages if the purchaser no longer owns the security. Damages shall be the amount that would be recoverable upon a tender less:

a. The value of the security when the purchaser disposed of it; and

b. Interest on said value at the legal rate from the date of disposition.

The persons on whose behalf an offering is made shall be jointly and severally liable under this subsection. Tender requires only notice of willingness to exchange the security for the amount specified. Any notice may be given by service as in civil actions or by certified mail addressed to the last known address of the person liable.

2. Any underwriter and any person, other than a person on whose behalf an offering described in subsection 1 is made, who offers or sells a security in violation of section 502.401, the purchaser not knowing of the violation, and who fails to sustain the burden of proof that the underwriter or person did not know and in the exercise of reasonable care could not have known of the violation, shall be liable to the purchaser, who may sue either at law or in equity to recover the consideration paid for the security, together with interest at the legal rate from the date of payment, costs and reasonable attorneys' fees, less the amount of any income or distributions, in cash or in kind, received on the security, upon the tender of the security, or for damages if the purchaser no longer owns the security. Damages shall be the amount that would be recoverable upon a tender less:

a. The value of the security when the purchaser disposed of it; and

b. Interest on said value at the legal rate from the date of disposition.

Any person liable under this subsection on whose behalf an offering is made and any underwriter of the offering, whether on a best efforts or a firm commitment basis, shall be jointly and severally liable under this subsection, but in no event shall any underwriter be liable in any suit or suits authorized under this subsection for damages in excess of the total price at which the securities underwritten by it and distributed to the public were offered to the public. Tender requires only notice of willingness to exchange the security for the amount specified. Any notice may be given by service as in civil actions or by certified mail addressed to the last known address of the person liable.

3. Any person who offers to purchase or purchases a security in violation of section 502.401, the seller not knowing of the violation, and who fails to sustain the burden of proof that the person did not know and in the exercise of reasonable care could not have known of the violation, shall be liable to the seller, who may sue either at law or in equity to recover the security, costs, and reasonable attorney's fees, plus any income or distributions, in cash or in kind, received by the purchaser thereon, upon tender of the consideration received, or for damages if the purchaser no longer owns the security. Damages shall be the excess of the value of the security when the purchaser disposed of it, plus interest at the legal rate from the date of disposition, over the consideration paid for the security. Tender requires only notice of willingness to pay the amount specified in exchange for the security. Any notice may be given by service as in civil actions or by certified mail to the last known address of the person liable.

4. Any person who willfully and knowingly participates in any act or transaction in violation of section 502.403, 502.404, 502.405, or 502.407 shall be liable to any other person who purchases or sells any security (but not a mere holder thereof) at a price which was affected by the act or transaction for the damages sustained as a result of such act or transaction. Damages shall not exceed the difference between the price at which the other person purchased or sold securities and the market value which the securities would have had at the time of such purchase or sale in the absence of the act or transaction, plus interest at the legal rate, costs and reasonable attorneys' fees.

5. Any person, referred to in this subsection as the "defendant", who violates section 502.402 shall be deemed to be unjustly enriched and liable to any person, referred to in this subsection as the "plaintiff", who purchased or may have purchased a security from, or sold or may have sold a security to, the defendant in connection with such violation, for damages equal to the difference between the price at which such security was purchased or sold and the market value which such security would have had at the time of the purchase or sale if the information known to the defendant had been publicly disseminated prior to that time and a reasonable time had elapsed for the market to absorb the information, plus interest at the legal rate, costs and reasonable attorneys' fees, unless the defendant proves that the plaintiff knew the information or that the plaintiff would have purchased or sold at the same price even if the information had been revealed to the plaintiff.

6. Any person who is aggrieved by a violation of section 502.407 may bring an action in the district court to enjoin the acts complained of and, upon proper showing, to require that correcting material be disseminated, and such person may be awarded costs and reasonable attorney's fees.

7. A copy of any suit or arbitration action filed under this section shall be served upon the administrator within twenty days of the filing in the form and manner prescribed by the administrator by rule or order, provided that the failure to comply with this provision shall not invalidate the action which is the subject of the suit.

502.502A Advisory misconduct.

1. A person shall be held civilly liable for doing any of the following:

a. Engaging in the business of advising others, for compensation, either directly or through publications or writings, as to the value of securities or as to the advisability of investing in, purchasing, or selling securities, or who, for compensation and as a part of a regular business, issues or promulgates analyses or reports concerning securities in violation of section 502.301, subsection 3 or 4; section 502.406, subsection 2; section 502.408; or of any rule or order under section 502.602.

b. Receiving directly or indirectly any consideration from another person for advice as to the value of securities or their purchase or sale, whether through the issuance of analyses, reports, or otherwise and employs any device, scheme, or artifice to defraud such other person or engages in any act, practice, or course of business which operates or would operate as a fraud or deceit on such other person. The person acting in violation of this section is liable to the other person who may sue either at law or in equity to recover the consideration paid for such advice and any loss due to such advice, together with interest at the legal rate per year from the date of payment of the consideration plus costs and reasonable attorney's fees, less the amount of any income received from such advice.

2. A person shall not base the civil action on a contract, if the person did any of the following:

a. Engaged in the performance of the contract in violation of any provision of this chapter, or any rule adopted or order issued under this chapter.

b. Acquired any purported right under the contract with knowledge of the facts by reason of which its making or performance was in violation of any provision of this chapter or any rule adopted or order issued under this chapter.

502.503 Joint and several liability; contribution; indemnity.

1. Affiliates of a person liable under section 502.401, 502.501, 502.502, 502.502A, or 502.604, partners, principal executive officers or directors of such person, persons occupying a similar status or performing similar functions for such person, persons (whether employees of such person or otherwise) who materially aid and abet in the act or transaction constituting the violation, and broker-dealers or agents who materially aid and abet in the act or transaction constituting the violation, are also liable jointly and severally with and to the same extent as such person, unless one of the following applies:

a. With respect to section 502.501, section 502.502, subsections 1 and 5, or section 502.502A, a person liable under this subsection proves that the person did not know, and in the exercise of reasonable care could not have known, of the existence of the facts by reason of which the liability is alleged to exist.

b. With respect to section 502.401, section 502.502, subsections 2 and 3, and section 502.604 a person liable under this subsection proves that the person did not know, and was not grossly negligent in failing to know, of the existence of the facts by reason of which the liability is alleged to exist.

2. Any person liable under this chapter shall have a right of indemnification against any affiliate whose willful violation of any provision of this chapter gave rise to such liability. Any person liable under this chapter shall have a right of contribution against all other persons similarly liable, except that no person whose willful violation of any provision of this chapter has given rise to any civil liability shall have any right of contribution against any other person guilty merely of a negligent violation.

502.504 Time limitations on rights of action.

1. No action shall be maintained to enforce any liability created under either section 502.501 or section 502.503, subsection 1 insofar as it relates to section 502.501 unless brought within two years after the violation upon which it is based.

2. No action shall be maintained to enforce any liability created under either section 502.502 or section 502.503, subsection 1, insofar as it relates to section 502.502, unless brought within the shorter of the following two periods:

a. Five years after the act or transaction constituting the violation; or

b. Two years after the plaintiff receives actual notice of, or upon the exercise of reasonable diligence should have known of, the facts constituting the violation.

3. No action shall be maintained to enforce any right of indemnification or contribution created by section 502.503, subsection 2, unless brought within one year after final judgment based upon the liability for which the right of indemnification or contribution exists.

4. No purchaser may commence an action under section 502.501, 502.502 or 502.503 if:

a. Before suit is commenced, the purchaser has received a written offer:

(1) Stating in reasonable detail why liability under such section may have arisen and fairly advising the purchaser of the purchaser's rights;

(2) Offering to repurchase the security for cash, payable on delivery of the security, equal to the consideration paid, together with interest at the legal rate from the date of payment, less the amount of any income or distributions, in cash or in kind, received thereon or, if the purchaser no longer owns the security, offering to pay the purchaser upon acceptance of the offer an amount in cash equal to the damages computed in accordance with section 502.502, subsection 1; and

(3) Stating that the offer may be accepted by the purchaser at any time within a specified period of not less than thirty days after the date of receipt thereof, or such shorter period as the administrator may by rule prescribe; and

b. The purchaser has failed to accept such offer in writing within the specified period.

5. No seller may commence an action under section 502.501, 502.502 or 502.503 if:

a. Before suit is commenced, the seller has received a written offer:

(1) Stating in reasonable detail why liability under such section may have arisen and fairly advising the seller of the seller's rights;

(2) Offering to return the security plus the amount of any income or distributions, in cash or in kind, received thereon upon payment of the consideration received, or, if the purchaser no longer owns the security, offering to pay the seller upon acceptance of the offer an amount in cash equal to the damages computed in accordance with section 502.502, subsection 2; and

(3) Stating that the offer may be accepted by the seller at any time within a specified period of not less than thirty days after the date of receipt thereof, or such shorter period as the administrator may by rule prescribe; and

b. The seller has failed to accept the offer in writing within the specified period.

6. Offers under subsection 4 or 5 shall be in the form and contain the information the administrator by rule prescribes. Every offer under either subsection shall be delivered to the offeree personally or sent by certified mail addressed to the offeree at the offeree's last known address. If an offer is not performed in accordance with its terms, suit by the offeree under section 502.501, 502.502 or 502.503 shall be permitted without regard to subsections 4 and 5 of this section.

7. This section shall not apply to actions filed by the administrator pursuant to section 502.604.

502.505 Limitation on implied liability.

Except as explicitly provided in this chapter, no civil liability in favor of any person shall arise against any person by implication from or as a result of the violation of any provision of this chapter or any rule or order hereunder. Nothing in this chapter shall limit any liability which might exist by virtue of any other statute or under common law if this chapter were not in effect.

[C77, 79, 81, §502.505]

502.506 No waiver of right of action.

Any condition, stipulation or provision binding any person to waive compliance with any provision of this chapter or any rule or order hereunder is void.

[C77, 79, 81, §502.506]

502.507 Enforceability of illegal contracts.

It shall be a defense to an action based on a contract for the purchase or sale of a security that the plaintiff or the plaintiff's assignor entered into the transaction which gave rise to the contract under circumstances which would subject the plaintiff or the assignor to liability under section 502.501, 502.502, or 502.503.

PART VI

ADMINISTRATION AND ENFORCEMENT

502.601 Administration.

1. This chapter shall be administered by the commissioner of insurance of the state of Iowa. The administrator shall appoint a deputy administrator who shall be exempt from the merit system provided for in chapter 19A. The deputy administrator is the principal operations officer of the securities bureau and is responsible to the administrator for the routine administration of the chapter and the management of the securities bureau. In the absence of the administrator, whether because of vacancy in the office, by reason of absence, physical disability, or other cause, the deputy administrator shall be the acting administrator and shall, for the time being, have and exercise the authority conferred upon the administrator. The administrator may by order from time to time delegate to the deputy administrator any or all of the functions assigned to the administrator in this chapter. The administrator shall employ officers, attorneys, accountants, and other employees as needed for the administration of the chapter.

2. It is unlawful for the administrator or any officer or employee of the securities bureau to use for personal benefit any information which is filed with or obtained by the administrator and which is not made public. This chapter does not authorize the administrator or any such officer or employee to disclose any such information except among themselves or to other securities administrators, regulatory authorities, or governmental agencies, or when necessary or appropriate in a proceeding or investigation under this chapter. This chapter neither creates nor derogates from any privileges which exist at common law or otherwise when documentary or other evidence is sought under a subpoena directed to the administrator or any officer or employee of the securities bureau.

502.602 Filing of sales and advertising literature.

The administrator may by rule or order require the filing of any prospectus, pamphlet, circular, form letter, advertisement, or other sales literature or advertising communication addressed or intended for distribution to prospective investors, including clients or prospective clients of an investment adviser, unless the security is a federal covered security or the transaction relates to a federal covered security or the security or transaction is exempted by section 502.202 or 502.203. The administrator may by rule or order prohibit the publication, circulation, or use of any advertising deemed false or misleading.

502.603 Investigations and subpoenas.

1. The administrator may

a. Make such public or private investigations within or outside of this state as the administrator deems necessary to determine whether any person has violated or is about to violate any provision of this chapter or any rule or order hereunder, or to aid in the enforcement of this chapter or in the prescribing of rules and forms hereunder;

b. Require or permit any person to file a statement in writing, under oath or otherwise as the administrator determines, as to all the facts and circumstances concerning the matter to be investigated; and

c. Notwithstanding chapter 22, keep confidential the information obtained in the course of an investigation. However, if the administrator determines that it is necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors, the administrator may share information with other securities administrators, regulatory authorities, or governmental agencies or may publish information concerning a violation of this chapter or a rule or order under this chapter.

2. a. For the purpose of any investigation or proceeding under this chapter, the administrator or any officer designated by the administrator may administer oaths and affirmations, subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, take evidence, and require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, agreements or other documents or records which the administrator deems relevant or material to the inquiry, all of which may be enforced in accordance with chapter 17A.

b. The administrator may issue and bring an action in district court to enforce subpoenas in this state at the request of a securities agency or administrator of another state, if the activity constituting an alleged violation for which the information is sought would be a violation of this chapter had the activity occurred in this state.

3. No person is excused from attending and testifying or from producing any document or record before the administrator, or in obedience to the subpoena of the administrator or any officer designated by the administrator, or in any proceeding instituted by the administrator, on the ground that the testimony or evidence required, whether documentary or otherwise, may tend to incriminate such person or subject such person to a penalty or forfeiture; but no individual may be prosecuted or subjected to any penalty or forfeiture for or on account of any transaction, matter, or thing concerning which such person is compelled, after claiming the privilege against self-incrimination, to testify or produce evidence, whether documentary or otherwise, except that the individual testifying is not exempt from prosecution and punishment for perjury or contempt committed in testifying.

502.603A Cooperation with other agencies.

1. To encourage uniform interpretation and administration of this chapter and effective securities regulation and enforcement, the administrator may cooperate with the securities agencies or administrators of any state, Canadian province or territory, another country, the securities and exchange commission, the commodity futures trading commission, the securities investor protection corporation, any self-regulatory organization, any national or international organization of securities officials or agencies, and any governmental law enforcement or regulatory agency.

2. The cooperation authorized by subsection 1 may include, but is not limited to, the following:

a. Establishing a central depository for licensing or registration under this chapter and for documents or records required or allowed to be maintained under this chapter.

b. Making a joint examination or investigation.

c. Holding a joint administrative hearing.

d. Filing and prosecuting a joint civil or administrative proceeding.

e. Sharing and exchanging personnel.

f. Sharing and exchanging information and documents subject to restriction of confidentiality in section 502.603, subsection 1.

g. Formulating, in accordance with chapter 17A, rules or proposed rules on matters such as statements of policy, guidelines, and interpretive opinions.

91 Acts, ch 40, §32

502.604 Summary orders — injunctions.

If it appears to the administrator that a person has engaged or is about to engage in an act or practice constituting a violation of this chapter or any rule or order adopted or issued pursuant to this chapter, the administrator may do either or both of the following:

1. Issue a summary order directed at the person requiring the person to cease and desist from engaging in such act or practice or to take other affirmative action as in the judgment of the administrator is necessary to comply with the requirements of this chapter.

a. If a hearing is not timely requested, the summary order becomes final by operation of law. The order shall remain effective from the date of issuance until the date the order becomes final by operation of law or is overturned by a presiding officer or court following a request for hearing. A person who has been issued a summary order under this subsection may contest the order by filing a request for a contested case proceeding as provided in chapter 17A and in accordance with rules adopted by the administrator. However, the person shall have at least thirty days from the date that the order is issued in order to file the request. Section 17A.18A is inapplicable to a summary order issued under this subsection.

b. A person violating a summary order issued under this subsection shall be deemed in contempt of that order. The administrator may petition the district court to enforce the order as certified by the administrator. The district court shall adjudicate the person in contempt of the order if the court finds after hearing that the person is not in compliance with the order. The court shall assess a civil penalty against the person in an amount not less than three thousand dollars but not greater than ten thousand dollars per violation, and may issue further orders as it deems appropriate.

2. Bring an action in the district court to enjoin the act or practice and to enforce compliance with this chapter or a rule or order adopted or issued pursuant to this chapter. Upon a proper showing, the court may do all of the following:

a. Grant a permanent or temporary injunction, restraining order, asset freeze, accounting, writ of attachment, writ of general or special execution, writ of mandamus, or other equitable or ancillary relief.

b. Appoint a receiver or conservator for the defendant or the defendant's assets.

c. Order the administrator to take charge and control of a party's property, including but not limited to managing rents and profits, collecting debts, and acquiring and disposing of property.

d. Order the rescission, restitution, or disgorgement directed at any person who has engaged in an act constituting a violation of this chapter, or a rule or order adopted or issued pursuant to this chapter.

e. Order the payment of prejudgment and postjudgment interest.

The administrator shall not be required to post a bond.

502.604A Court action.

If a person fails or refuses to file any statement or report or to produce any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, agreements, or other documents or records, or to obey any subpoena issued by the administrator, the administrator may refer the matter to the attorney general, who may apply to a district court to enforce compliance. The court may order any or all of the following:

1. Injunctive relief, restricting or prohibiting the offer or sale of securities.

2. Revocation or suspension of any license or registration.

3. Production of documents or records, including but not limited to books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, or agreements.

4. Such other relief as may be required.

Such an order shall be effective until the person files the statement or report or produces the documents requested, or obeys the subpoena.

502.605 Criminal penalties.

1. a. Except as provided in paragraph "b", a person who willfully and knowingly violates any provision of this chapter, or any rule or order under this chapter, is guilty of a class "D" felony.

b. A person who willfully and knowingly violates section 502.401, 502.402, or 502.403, or section 502.408, subsection 1 or 2, resulting in a loss of more than ten thousand dollars is guilty of a class "C" felony.

2. The administrator may refer such evidence as is available concerning violations of this chapter or of any rule or order hereunder to the attorney general or the proper county attorney who may, with or without such a reference, institute the appropriate criminal proceedings under this chapter.

3. Nothing in this chapter limits the power of the state to punish any person for any conduct which constitutes a crime under any other statute.

502.606 Judicial review of orders.

Judicial review of actions of the administrator may be sought pursuant to the Iowa administrative procedure Act, upon execution of a bond in the penal sum of one thousand dollars to the state of Iowa, with sufficient surety, to be approved by the clerk of the court conditioned upon the faithful prosecution of such petition for judicial review, and the payment of all costs adjudged against the petitioner.

502.607 Rules, forms, orders and hearings.

1. Pursuant to chapter 17A, the administrator may from time to time make, amend, and rescind such rules, forms, and orders as are necessary to carry out the provisions of this chapter, including rules and forms governing registration statements, notice filings, applications, and reports, and defining any terms, whether or not used in this chapter, insofar as the definitions are not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter. For the purpose of rules and forms, the administrator may classify securities, persons, and other relevant matters, and prescribe different requirements for different classes.

2. No rule, form or order may be made, amended or rescinded unless the administrator finds that the action is necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors and consistent with the purposes fairly intended by the policy and provisions of this chapter. In prescribing rules and forms the administrator may co-operate with the securities administrators of the other states, the securities and exchange commission, and national securities exchanges and national securities associations registered under the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934, with a view to effectuating the policy of this statute to achieve maximum uniformity in form and content of registration statements, applications, and reports wherever practicable.

3. The administrator may by rule or order prescribe

a. The form and content of financial statements required under this chapter,

b. The circumstances under which consolidated financial statements shall be filed, and

c. Whether any required financial statements shall be certified by independent or certified public accountants. All financial statements shall be prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles.

4. No provision of this chapter imposing any liability applies to any act done or omitted in good faith in conformity with any rule, form or order of the administrator, notwithstanding that the rule, form or order may later be amended or rescinded or be determined by judicial or other authority to be invalid for any reason.

5. Every hearing in an administrative proceeding shall be public unless, in the exercise of discretion, the administrator grants a request joined in by all the respondents that the hearing be conducted privately.

502.608 Administrative files and opinions.

1. A document is filed when it is received by the administrator, except that documents required to be filed under sections 502.202 and 502.203 shall be deemed to be filed with the administrator:

a. On the date received by the administrator.

b. If it has not been received by the administrator prior to the date by which the document must be filed, on the date the document is mailed with the United States postal service by registered or certified mail addressed to the administrator's office in Des Moines, Iowa.

2. The administrator shall keep a register of all applications for registration, notice filings, and registration statements which are or have been effective under this chapter and predecessor laws, and all censure, denial, suspension, or revocation orders which have been entered under this chapter and predecessor laws. All records may be maintained in an electronic or microfilm format or any other form of data storage. The register shall be open for public inspection.

3. The information contained in or filed with any registration statement, application, notice filing, or report may be made available to the public under such rules as the administrator prescribes.

4. Upon request and at such reasonable charges as may be prescribed, the administrator shall furnish to any person photostatic or other copies, certified if requested, of any entry in the register or any document which is a matter of public record. In any proceeding or prosecution under this chapter, any copy so certified is prima facie evidence of the contents of the entry or document certified.

5. The administrator may honor requests from interested persons for interpretative opinions.

502.609 Service of process.

1. Every applicant for registration under this chapter, and every issuer which proposes to offer a security in this state, unless exempt under section 502.202 or 502.203 and the administrator by rule or order waives the filing, shall file with the administrator, in such form as the administrator by rule prescribes, an irrevocable consent appointing the administrator or the administrator's successor in office to be such person's attorney to receive service of any lawful process in any noncriminal suit, action or proceeding against such person or the successor, executor or administrator of such person which arises under this chapter or any rule or order hereunder after the consent has been filed, with the same validity as if served personally on the person filing the consent. The consent need not be filed by a person who has filed a consent in connection with a previous registration or notice filing which is then in effect. Service may be made by leaving a copy of the process in the office of the administrator, but it is not effective unless the plaintiff, including the administrator when acting as such does the following:

a. Promptly sends notice of the service and a copy of the process by registered or certified mail to the defendant or respondent at such person's last known address or takes other steps which are reasonably calculated to give actual notice; and

b. Files an affidavit of compliance with this subsection in the case on or before the return day of the process, or within such time as the court allows.

2. When any person, including any nonresident of this state, engages in conduct prohibited or made actionable by this chapter or any rule or order hereunder, has not filed a consent to service of process under subsection 1, and personal jurisdiction over such person cannot otherwise be obtained in this state, that conduct shall be considered equivalent to the appointment by such person of the administrator or the administrator's successor in office to be that person's attorney to receive service of any lawful process in any noncriminal suit, action or proceeding against that person or the successor, executor or administrator of that person which arises out of that conduct and which is brought under this chapter or by any rule or order hereunder, with the same validity as if served personally. Service may be made by leaving a copy of the process in the office of the administrator, and it is not effective unless the plaintiff, including the administrator when acting as such,

a. Promptly sends notice of the service and a copy of the process by registered or certified mail to the defendant or respondent at such person's last known address or takes other steps which are reasonably calculated to give actual notice; and

b. Files an affidavit of compliance with this subsection in the case on or before the return day of the process or within such time as the court allows.

3. When process is served under this section, the court, or the administrator in a proceeding before the administrator, shall order such continuance as may be necessary to afford the defendant or respondent reasonable opportunity to defend.

502.610 Scope.

1. The provisions of this chapter concerning sales and offers to sell apply when a sale or an offer to sell is made in this state or when an offer to purchase is made and accepted in this state. The provisions concerning purchases and offers to purchase apply when a purchase or an offer to purchase is made in this state or an offer to sell is made and accepted in this state.

2. For the purpose of this section, an offer to sell or an offer to purchase is made in this state, whether or not either party is then present in this state, when the offer originates from this state or is directed by the offeror to this state and received by the offeree in this state, but for the purpose of section 502.201 an offer to sell which is not directed to or received by the offeree in this state is not made in this state.

3. For the purpose of this section, an offer to purchase or to sell is accepted in this state when acceptance is communicated to the offeror in this state, and has not previously been communicated to the offeror, orally or in writing, outside this state; and acceptance is communicated to the offeror in this state, whether or not either party is then present in this state, when the offeree directs it to the offeror in this state reasonably believing the offeror to be in this state and it is received by the offeror in this state.

4. Except when made in connection with a tender offer, an offer to sell or to purchase is not made in this state when made by means of either of the following:

a. Any bona fide newspaper or other publication of general, regular and paid circulation which is not published in this state, or

b. A radio or television program originating outside this state which is received in this state.

5. Section 502.301, subsection 3, and section 502.408, and section 502.406 so far as investment advisers and investment adviser representatives are concerned, apply when any act instrumental in effecting prohibited conduct is done in this state, whether or not either party is then present in this state.

502.611 Statutory policy.

This chapter shall be so construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact the "Uniform Securities Act" and to co-ordinate the interpretation and administration of this chapter with the related federal regulation.

subject to this chapter, especially small businesses.

502.612 Prior law.

1. Chapter 502, Code 1973, as amended by chapters 1090 and 1238, Laws of the Sixty-fifth General Assembly, 1974 Session, referred to in this section as “prior law”, exclusively governs all suits, actions, prosecutions, or proceedings which are pending or may be initiated on the basis of facts or circumstances occurring before the effective date of this chapter, except that no civil suit or action may be maintained to enforce any liability under prior law unless brought within any period of limitation which applied when the cause of action accrued.

2. All effective registrations under prior law, all administrative orders relating to such registrations, and all conditions imposed upon such registrations remain in effect so long as they would have remained in effect if this chapter had not been passed. They are considered to have been filed, entered, or imposed under this chapter, but are governed by prior law.

3. Prior law applies in respect of any offer or sale made within six months after the effective date of this chapter pursuant to an offering begun in good faith before its effective date on the basis of an examination available under prior law.

4. Judicial review of all administrative orders as to which review proceedings have not been instituted by the effective date of this chapter are governed by section 502.606, except that no review proceeding may be instituted unless the petition is filed within any period of limitation which applied to a review proceeding when the order was entered and in any event within sixty days after the effective date of this chapter.

PART VII

JOINT INVESTMENT TRUSTS

502.701 Public joint investment trusts.

1. A joint investment trust organized pursuant to chapter 28E for the purposes of joint investment of public funds is subject to the jurisdiction and authority of the administrator, including all requirements of this chapter, except the registration provisions of section 502.201 and 502.218.

2. The administrator may make examinations within or without the state, of the business and records of each joint investment trust, at the times and in the scope as the administrator determines. The administrator shall have the authority to contract for outside professional services in the conduct of examinations. The examinations may be made without prior notice to the joint investment trust or the trust’s investment advisor. The administrator may copy all records the administrator feels are necessary to conduct the examination. The expense reasonably attributable to the examination shall be paid by the joint investment trusts whose business is examined. For the purpose of avoiding unnecessary duplication of examinations, the administrator may cooperate with other regulatory authorities.

SUBCHAPTER I

502A.1 Definitions.

For purposes of this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

1. “Administrator” means the administrator of the securities bureau of the insurance division of the department of commerce.

2. “Board of trade” means a person or group of persons engaged in buying or selling any commodity or receiving the same for sale on consignment, whether the person or group of persons is characterized as a board of trade, exchange, or other form of marketplace.

3. “CFTC rule” means a regulation or order of the commodity futures trading commission in effect on July 1, 1990, and all subsequent amendments, additions or other revisions to the regulation or order, unless the administrator, within ten days following the effective date of the amendment, addition, or revision, disallows the application to this chapter in whole or in part by rule or order.

4. “Commodity” means, except as otherwise specified by the administrator by rule or order: an agricultural, grain, or livestock product or by-product; a metal or mineral, including a precious metal; a gem or gemstone, whether characterized as precious, semiprecious or otherwise; a fuel, whether liquid, gaseous or otherwise; a foreign currency; and all other goods, articles, products, or items of any kind.

The term commodity does not include any of the following:

a. A numismatic coin whose fair market value is at least fifteen percent higher than the value of the metal it contains.

b. Real property or any timber, agricultural, or livestock product grown or raised on real property and offered or sold by the owner or lessee of such real property.

c. Any work of art offered or sold by art dealers, at public auction, or offered or sold through a private sale by the owner of the work of art.

5. “Commodity contract” means an account, agreement, or contract for the purchase or sale, primarily for speculation or investment purposes and not for use or consumption by the offeree or purchaser, of one or more commodities, whether for immediate or subsequent delivery or whether delivery is intended by the parties, and whether characterized as a cash contract, deferred shipment or deferred delivery contract, forward contract, futures contract, installment or margin contract, leverage contract, or otherwise. A commodity contract offered or sold, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, shall be presumed to be offered or sold for speculation or investment purposes. A commodity contract does not include a contract or agreement which requires, and under which the purchaser receives, within twenty-eight days from the payment in good funds of any portion of the purchase price, physical delivery of the total amount of each commodity to be purchased under the contract or agreement.

6. “Commodity Exchange Act” means the federal Commodity Exchange Act, as amended to July 1, 1990, codified at 7 U.S.C. § 1, et seq., and all subsequent amendments, additions, or other revisions to the Act, unless the administrator, within ten days following the effective date of the amendment, addition, or revision, disallows its application to this chapter in whole or in part by rule or order.

7. “Commodity futures trading commission” or “CFTC” means the independent regulatory agency established by the United States Congress to administer the Commodity Exchange Act.

8. “Commodity merchant” means any of the following as defined or described in the Commodity Exchange Act or by CFTC rule:

a. A futures commission merchant.

b. A commodity pool operator.

c. A commodity trading adviser.

d. An introducing broker.

e. A leverage transaction merchant.

f. An associated person of any of the persons listed in paragraphs “a” through “e”.

g. A floor broker.

h. Any other person, other than a futures association, required to register with the commodity futures trading commission.

9. “Commodity option” means an account, agreement, or contract giving a party to the account, agreement, or contract the right but not the obligation to purchase or sell one or more commodities or one or more commodity contracts, whether characterized as an option, privilege, indemnity, bid, offer, put, call, advance guaranty, decline guaranty or otherwise, but shall not include an option traded on a national securities exchange registered with the United States securities and exchange commission.

10. “Financial institution” means a bank, savings institution, or trust company organized under, or supervised pursuant to, the laws of the United States or of any state.

11. “Offer” includes every offer to sell, offer to purchase, or offer to enter into a commodity contract or commodity option.

12. “Person” means a person as defined in section 4.1, but does not include a contract market designated by the commodity futures trading commission or any clearinghouse of the CFTC or a national securities exchange registered with the securities and exchange commission, or any employee, officer, or director of a contract market, clearinghouse, or exchange acting solely in that capacity.

13. “Precious metal” means one or more of the following in either coin, bullion, or other form:

a. Silver.

b. Gold.

- c. Platinum.
- d. Palladium.
- e. Copper.
- f. Such other items as the administrator may specify by rule or order.

14. "Sale" or "sell" includes every sale, contract of sale, contract to sell, or disposition, for value.

90 Acts, ch 1169, §1

502A.2 Unlawful commodity transactions.

Except as otherwise provided in section 502A.3 or 502A.4, a person shall not sell or purchase, or offer to sell or purchase, a commodity under a commodity contract, or under a commodity option, or offer to enter into, or enter into as seller or purchaser, a commodity contract or commodity option.

90 Acts, ch 1169, §2

502A.3 Exempt person transactions.

The prohibitions in section 502A.2 do not apply to a transaction in which any of the following persons, or any employee, officer, or director of a listed person acting solely in that capacity, is the purchaser or seller:

1. A person registered with the commodity futures trading commission as a futures commission merchant or as a leverage transaction merchant whose activities require such registration.
2. A person registered with the securities and exchange commission as a broker-dealer whose activities require such registration.
3. A person affiliated with, and whose obligations and liabilities under the transaction are guaranteed by, a person referred to in subsection 1 or 2.
4. A person who is a member of a contract market designated by the commodity futures trading commission, or any CFTC clearinghouse.
5. A financial institution.
6. A person registered under the laws of this state as a securities broker-dealer whose activities require such registration.

This exemption provided by this section does not apply to any transaction or activity which is prohibited by the Commodity Exchange Act or CFTC rule.

90 Acts, ch 1169, §3

502A.4 Exempt transactions.

1. Section 502A.2 does not apply to any of the following:

a. An account, agreement, or transaction within the exclusive jurisdiction of the commodity futures trading commission as granted under the Commodity Exchange Act.

b. A commodity contract, offered or sold by a qualified seller as defined in subsection 2, for the purchase of one or more precious metals which requires, and under which the purchaser receives, within twenty-eight days from the payment in good funds of any portion of the purchase price, physical delivery of the quantity of the precious metals purchased by the payment. For purposes of this paragraph, physical delivery shall be deemed to have occurred if both of the following conditions are satisfied:

(1) Within twenty-eight days, the required quantity of precious metals purchased by the payment is delivered, whether in specifically segregated or fungible bulk form, into the possession of a depository, other than the seller, which is any of the following:

- (a) A financial institution.
- (b) A depository the warehouse receipts of which are recognized for delivery purposes for any commodity on a contract market designated by the commodity futures trading commission.
- (c) A storage facility licensed or regulated by the United States or any agency of the United States.
- (d) A depository designated by the administrator.

(2) The depository or a qualified seller issues and the purchaser receives, a certificate, document of title, confirmation, or other instrument evidencing that the required quantity of precious metals has been delivered to the depository and is being and will continue to be held by the depository on the purchaser's behalf, free and clear of all liens and encumbrances, other than liens of the purchaser, tax liens, liens agreed to by the purchaser, or liens of the depository for fees and expenses, which have previously been disclosed to the purchaser.

c. For the purposes of paragraph "b", a depository other than the seller shall not include a financial institution which makes loans to enable the borrower to finance the purchase of one or more precious metals if any of the following apply:

(1) The financial institution knows that the seller arranged for a commission, brokerage, or referral fee for the extension of credit by the financial institution.

(2) The financial institution is a person related to the seller, unless the relationship is remote or is not a factor in the transaction.

(3) The seller guarantees the loan or otherwise assumes the risk of loss by the financial institution upon the loan.

(4) The financial institution directly supplies the seller with the contract document used by the borrower to evidence the loan, and the seller has knowledge of the credit terms and participates in the preparation of the document.

(5) The loan is conditioned upon the borrower's purchase of the precious metals from a particular seller, but the financial institution's payment of proceeds of the loan to the seller does not in itself establish that the loan was so conditioned.

(6) The financial institution otherwise knowingly participates with the seller in the sale. The fact that the financial institution takes a security interest in the precious metals sold or makes the proceeds of the loan payable to the seller does not in itself constitute knowing participation in the sale.

d. A commodity contract solely between persons engaged in producing, processing, using commercially or handling as merchants, the commodity which is the subject of the contract, or any by-product of the commodity.

e. A commodity contract under which the offeree or the purchaser is a person under section 502A.3, an insurance company, an investment company as defined in the federal Investment Company Act of 1940, or an employee pension and profit sharing or benefit plan other than a self-employed individual retirement plan, or individual retirement account.

2. For the purposes of subsection 1, paragraph "b", a qualified seller is a person who satisfies all of the following conditions:

a. Is a seller of precious metals and has a tangible net worth of at least five million dollars, or has an affiliate who has unconditionally guaranteed the obligations and liabilities of the seller and the affiliate has a tangible net worth of at least five million dollars.

b. Has stored precious metals with one or more depositories on behalf of customers for at least the previous three years.

c. Prior to any offer, files with the administrator a sworn notice of intent to act as a qualified seller under subsection 1, paragraph "b", and annually files a new notice. A notice of intent to act as a qualified seller must contain all of the following:

(1) The seller's name and address, names of its directors, officers, controlling shareholders, partners, principals, and other controlling persons.

(2) The address of its principal place of business, state and date of incorporation or organization, and the name and address of seller's registered agent in this state.

(3) A statement that the seller, or a person affiliated with the seller who has guaranteed the obligations and liabilities of the seller, has a tangible net worth of at least five million dollars.

(4) Depository information including all of the following:

(a) The name and address of the depository or depositories that the seller intends to use.

(b) The name and address of each and every depository where the seller has stored precious metals on behalf of customers for the previous three years.

(c) Independent verification from each and every depository named in subparagraph subdivision (b) that the seller has in fact stored precious metals on behalf of the seller's customers for the previous three years and a statement of total deposits made during this period.

(5) Financial statements for the seller, or the person affiliated with the seller who has guaranteed the obligations and liabilities of the seller, for the past three years, audited by an independent certified public accountant, together with the accountant's reports.

(6) A statement describing the details of all civil, criminal, or administrative proceedings currently pending or adversely resolved against the seller or its directors, officers, controlling shareholders, partners, principals, or other controlling persons during the past ten years including all of the following in subparagraph subdivisions (a) through (d), or if not applicable, subparagraph subdivision (e):

(a) Civil litigation and administrative proceedings involving securities or commodities violations, or fraud.

(b) Criminal proceedings.

(c) Denials, suspensions, or revocations of securities or commodities, licenses, or registrations.

(d) Suspensions or expulsions from membership in, or associations with, self-regulatory organizations registered under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, or the Commodities Exchange Act.

(e) A statement that there were no such proceedings.

d. Notifies the administrator within fifteen days of any material changes in the information provided in the notice of intent.

e. Annually furnishes to each purchaser for whom the seller is then storing precious metals, and to the administrator, a report by an independent certified public accountant of the accountant's examination of the seller's precious metals storage program.

3. The administrator may, upon request by the seller, waive any of the exempt transaction requirements of this section, conditionally or unconditionally.

4. The administrator may, by order, deny, suspend, revoke, or place limitations on the authority to engage in business as a qualified seller under subsection 1, paragraph "b" if the administrator finds that the order is in the public interest and that the person, the person's officers, directors, partners, agents, servants or employees, a person occupying a similar status or performing similar functions, a person who directly or indirectly controls or is controlled by the seller, or any of them, the seller's affiliates or subsidiaries meets any of the following conditions:

a. Has filed a notice of intention under subsection 2 with the administrator or the designee of the administrator which was incomplete in any material respect or contained any statement which was, in light of the circumstances under which it was made, false or misleading with respect to any material fact.

c. Has been permanently or temporarily enjoined by any court of competent jurisdiction from engaging in, or continuing, any conduct or practice which injunction indicates a lack of fitness to engage in the investment commodities business.

d. Is the subject of an order of the administrator denying, suspending, or revoking the person's license as a securities broker-dealer, sales representative, or investment adviser.

e. Is the subject of any of the following orders which are currently effective and which were issued within the last five years:

(1) An order by the securities agency or administrator of another state, Canadian province or territory, the securities and exchange commission, or the commodity futures trading commission, entered after notice and opportunity for hearing, denying, suspending, or revoking the person's registration as a futures commission merchant, commodity trading adviser, commodity pool operator, securities broker-dealer, sales representative, or investment adviser, or the substantial equivalent of those terms.

(2) Suspension or expulsion from membership in, or association with, a self-regulatory organization registered under the federal Securities Exchange Act of 1934 or the Commodity Exchange Act.

(3) A United States postal service fraud order.

(4) A cease and desist order entered after notice and opportunity of hearing by the administrator or the securities agency or administrator of any other state, Canadian province or territory, the United States securities and exchange commission, or the commodity futures trading commission.

(5) An order entered by the commodity futures trading commission denying, suspending, or revoking registration under the Commodity Exchange Act.

f. Has engaged in an unethical or dishonest act or practice in the investment commodities or securities business.

g. Has failed reasonably to supervise sales representatives or employees.

5. If the public interest or the protection of investors so requires, the administrator may, by order, summarily deny or suspend the exemption for a qualified seller. Upon the entry of the order, the administrator shall promptly notify the person claiming such status that an order has been entered and the reasons for the order and that within thirty days after the receipt of a written request the matter will be set for hearing. Section 502A.20 applies with respect to all subsequent proceedings.

6. If the administrator finds that any applicant or qualified seller is no longer in existence or has ceased to do business or is subject to an adjudication of mental incompetence or to the control of a committee, conservator, or guardian, or cannot be located after reasonable search, the administrator may, by order, deny or revoke the exemption for a qualified seller.

7. The administrator may issue rules or orders prescribing the terms and conditions of all transactions and contracts covered by this chapter which are not within the exclusive jurisdiction of the commodity futures trading commission as granted by the Commodity Exchange Act, exempting and conditionally or unconditionally and otherwise implementing this chapter for the protection of purchasers and sellers of commodities.

90 Acts, ch 1169, §4

502A.5 Unlawful commodity activities.

1. A person shall not engage in a trade or business or otherwise act as a commodity merchant unless the person is either of the following:

a. Registered or temporarily licensed with the commodity futures trading commission for each activity constituting the person as a commodity merchant and the registration or temporary license has not expired, been suspended, or revoked.

b. Exempt from such registration by virtue of the Commodity Exchange Act or of a CFTC rule.

2. A board of trade shall not trade, or provide a place for the trading of, any commodity contract or commodity option required to be traded on or subject to the rules of a contract market designated by the commodity futures trading commission unless the board of trade has been so designated for the commodity contract or commodity option and the designation has not been vacated, suspended, or revoked.

90 Acts, ch 1169, §5

502A.6 Fraudulent conduct.

A person shall not directly or indirectly do any of the following in or in connection with the purchase or sale of, the offer to sell, the offer to purchase, the offer to enter into, or the entry into of, a commodity contract or commodity option subject to section 502A.2, 502A.3, 502A.4, subsection 1, paragraph "b", or section 502A.4, subsection 1, paragraph "d":

1. Cheat or defraud, or attempt to cheat or defraud, another person or employ any device, scheme, or artifice to defraud another person.

2. Make a false report or enter a false record.

3. Make an untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements made, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading.

4. Engage in a transaction, act, practice, or course of business, including, without limitation, any form of advertising or solicitation, which operates or would operate as a fraud or deceit upon any person.

5. Misappropriate or convert the funds, security, or property of another person.

90 Acts, ch 1169, §6

502A.7 Liability of principals, controlling persons, and others.

1. The act, omission, or failure of an official, agent, or other person acting for an individual, association, partnership, corporation, or trust within the scope of the person's employment or office shall be deemed the act, omission, or failure of the individual, association, partnership, corporation, or trust, as well as of the person.

2. A person who directly or indirectly controls another person liable under this chapter, a partner, officer, or director of the other person, a person occupying a similar status or performing similar functions, and an employee of such other person who materially aids in the violation, is liable jointly and severally with and to the same extent as the other person, unless the person who is liable by virtue of this provision sustains the burden of proof that the person did not know, and in exercise of reasonable care could not have known, of the existence of the facts by reason of which the liability is alleged to exist.

502A.8 Securities laws unaffected.

This chapter does not impair, derogate, or otherwise affect the authority or powers of the administrator under chapter 502 or the application of any provision of chapter 502 to a person or transaction subject to that chapter.

90 Acts, ch 1169, §8

502A.9 Purpose.

This chapter may be construed and implemented to effectuate its general purpose to protect investors, to prevent and prosecute illegal and fraudulent schemes involving commodity contracts and to maximize coordination with federal and other states' laws and the administration and enforcement of those laws. This chapter is not intended to create any rights or remedies upon which actions may be brought by private persons against persons who violate this chapter.

90 Acts, ch 1169, §9

502A.10 Reserved.

SUBCHAPTER II

502A.11 Investigations.

1. The administrator may make investigations, within or without this state, as the administrator finds necessary or appropriate to do either or both of the following:

a. Determine whether any person has violated, or is about to violate this chapter or any rule or order of the administrator.

b. Aid in enforcement of this chapter.

2. The administrator may publish information concerning a violation of this chapter or any rule or order of the administrator.

3. For purposes of an investigation or proceeding under this chapter, the administrator or any officer or employee designated by rule or order, may administer oaths and affirmations, subpoena witnesses, compel their attendance, take evidence, and require the production of any books, papers, correspondence, memoranda, agreements, or other documents or records which the administrator finds to be relevant or material to the inquiry.

4. a. If a person does not give testimony or produce the documents required by the administrator or a designated employee pursuant to an administrative subpoena, the administrator or designated employee may apply for a court order compelling compliance with the subpoena or the giving of the required testimony.

b. The request for order of compliance may be addressed to either of the following:

(1) The Polk county district trial court or the district court where service may be obtained on the person refusing to testify or produce, if the person is within this state.

(2) The appropriate court of the state having jurisdiction over the person refusing to testify or produce, if the person is outside this state.

90 Acts, ch 1169, §10

502A.12 Enforcement of chapter.

1. If the administrator believes, whether or not based upon an investigation conducted under section 502A.11, that a person has engaged or is about to engage in an act or practice constituting a violation of this chapter or a rule or order issued under this chapter, the administrator may do any or all of the following:

a. Issue a cease and desist order.

b. Issue an order imposing a civil penalty in amount which may not exceed ten thousand dollars for a single violation or one hundred thousand dollars for multiple violations in a single proceeding or a series of related proceedings.

c. Initiate any of the actions specified in subsection 2.

2. The administrator may institute any or all of the following actions in the appropriate courts of this state, or in the appropriate courts of another er state, in addition to any legal or equitable remedies otherwise available:

- a. A declaratory judgment.
 - b. An action for a prohibitory or mandatory injunction to enjoin the violation and to ensure compliance with this chapter or a rule or order of the administrator.
 - c. An action for disgorgement.
 - d. An action for appointment of a receiver or conservator for the defendant or the defendant's assets.
 - e. An action for restitution.
- 90 Acts, ch 1169, §11

502A.13 Power of court to grant relief.

1. a. Upon a proper showing by the administrator that a person has violated, or is about to violate, this chapter or a rule or order of the administrator, a court of competent jurisdiction may grant appropriate legal or equitable remedies.

b. Upon showing of violation of this chapter or a rule or order of the administrator, the court, in addition to traditional legal and equitable remedies, including temporary restraining orders, permanent or temporary prohibitory or mandatory injunctions, and writs of prohibition or mandamus, may grant any or all of the following special remedies:

(1) Imposition of a civil penalty in amount which may not exceed ten thousand dollars for any single violation or one hundred thousand dollars for multiple violations in a single proceeding or a series of related proceedings.

- (2) Disgorgement.
- (3) Declaratory judgment.
- (4) Restitution to investors wishing restitution.
- (5) Appointment of a receiver or conservator for the defendant or the defendant's assets.

c. Appropriate remedies when the defendant is shown only about to violate this chapter or a rule or order of the administrator shall be limited to any or all of the following:

- (1) A temporary restraining order.
- (2) A temporary or permanent injunction.
- (3) A writ of prohibition or mandamus.
- (4) An order appointing a receiver or conservator for the defendant or the defendant's assets.

2. The court shall not require the administrator to post a bond in any official action under this chapter.

3. a. Upon a proper showing by the administrator or securities or commodity agency of another state that a person, other than a government or governmental agency or instrumentality, has violated, or is about to violate, the commodity code of that state or a rule or order of the administrator or securities or commodity agency of that state, the district court may grant appropriate legal and equitable remedies.

b. Upon showing of a violation of the securities or commodity act of the foreign state or a rule or order of the administrator or securities or commodity agency of the foreign state, the court, in addition to traditional legal or equitable remedies including temporary restraining orders, permanent or temporary prohibitory or mandatory injunctions and writs of prohibition or mandamus, may grant either or both of the following special remedies:

- (1) Disgorgement.
- (2) Appointment of a receiver, conservator, or ancillary receiver or conservator for the defendant or the defendant's assets located in this state.

c. Appropriate remedies when the defendant is shown only about to violate the securities or commodity act of the foreign state or a rule or order of the administrator or securities or commodity agency of the foreign state shall be limited to any or all of the following:

- (1) A temporary restraining order.
- (2) A temporary or permanent injunction.
- (3) A writ of prohibition or mandamus.
- (4) An order appointing a receiver, conservator, or ancillary receiver or conservator for the defendant or the defendant's assets located in this state.

90 Acts, ch 1169, §12

502A.14 Criminal penalties.

1. A person who willfully violates either of the following shall, upon conviction, be fined not more than twenty thousand dollars or be imprisoned not more than ten years, or both, for each violation.

- a. This chapter.
- b. A rule or order of the administrator under this chapter.

2. A person convicted of violating a rule or order under this chapter may be fined, but may not be imprisoned, if the person proves the person had no knowledge of the rule or order.

4. This chapter does not limit the power of the state to proceed against a person for conduct which constitutes a breach of duty, a crime, or a violation under common law, rule, or another statute. An action pursuant to this chapter is not an election of remedies, and an aggrieved person or the state retains any other common law or statutory causes of action which may exist against a person alleged to have violated this chapter or against a person convicted of such a violation.

90 Acts, ch 1169, §13

502A.15 Administration of chapter.

1. This chapter shall be administered by the administrator of the securities bureau of the insurance division of the department of commerce.

2. The administrator or any employees of the administrator shall not use any information which is filed with or obtained by the administrator which is not public information for personal gain or benefit, and the administrator or any employees of the administrator shall not conduct any securities or commodity dealings based upon any such information, even though public, if there has not been a sufficient period of time for the securities or commodity markets to assimilate such information.

3. a. Except as provided in paragraph "b", all information collected, assembled, or maintained by the administrator is public information and is available for the examination of the public as provided by chapter 22.

b. The following are exceptions to paragraph "a" and are confidential:

(1) Information obtained in an investigation pursuant to section 502A.11, unless published pursuant to section 502A.11, subsection 2.

(2) Information made confidential by chapter 22.

(3) Information obtained from federal agencies which cannot be disclosed under federal law.

c. The administrator in the administrator's discretion may disclose any information made confidential under paragraph "b" to persons identified in section 502A.16, subsection 1.

d. This chapter does not create or derogate any privilege which exists at common law, by statute or otherwise when documentary or other evidence is sought under subpoena directed to the administrator or any employee of the administrator.

90 Acts, ch 1169, §14

502A.16 Cooperation with other agencies.

1. To encourage uniform application and interpretation of this chapter and securities regulation and enforcement in general, the administrator and the employees of the administrator may cooperate, including bearing the expense of the cooperation, with the securities agencies or administrator of another jurisdiction, Canadian province or territory or such other agencies administering this chapter, the commodity futures trading commission, the United States securities and exchange commission, any self-regulatory organization established under the Commodity Exchange Act or the federal Securities Exchange Act of 1934, any national or international organization of commodities or securities officials or agencies, and any governmental law enforcement agency.

2. The cooperation authorized by subsection 1 shall include, but need not be limited to, any or all of the following:

a. Making joint examinations or investigations.

b. Holding joint administrative hearings.

c. Filing and prosecuting joint litigation.

d. Sharing and exchanging personnel.

e. Sharing and exchanging information and documents.

f. Formulating and adopting mutual regulations, statements of policy, guidelines, proposed statutory changes, and releases.

g. Issuing and enforcing subpoenas at the request of the agency administering this chapter in another jurisdiction, the securities agency of another jurisdiction, the commodity futures trading commission or the United States securities and exchange commission if the information sought would also be subject to lawful subpoena for conduct occurring in this state.

90 Acts, ch 1169, §15

502A.17 General authority to adopt rules, forms, and orders.

1. In addition to specific authority granted elsewhere in this chapter, the administrator may adopt rules and forms, pursuant to chapter 17A, and issue orders as are necessary to administer this chapter. Rules or forms to be adopted shall include, but need not be limited to, the following:

a. Rules defining any terms, whether or not used in this chapter, insofar as the definitions are not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter.

b. For the purpose of rules or forms, the administrator may classify commodities and commodity contracts, persons, and matters within the administrator's jurisdiction.

2. Unless specifically provided in this chapter, a rule, form, or order shall not be adopted or issued unless the administrator finds that the action is both of the following:

a. Necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors.

b. Consistent with the purposes fairly intended by the policy of this chapter.

3. All rules and forms of the administrator shall be published as provided in chapter 17A.

4. A provision of this chapter imposing any liability shall not apply to an act done or omitted in good faith in conformity with a rule or form adopted or order issued by the administrator, notwithstanding that the rule, order, or form may later be amended, or rescinded, or be determined by judicial or other authority to be invalid for any reason.

90 Acts, ch 1169, §16

502A.18 Consent to service of process.

When a person, including a nonresident of this state, engages in conduct prohibited or made actionable by this chapter or any rule or order of the administrator, the conduct shall constitute the appointment of the administrator as the person's attorney to receive service of any lawful process in a noncriminal proceeding against the person, a successor, or personal representative, which grows out of that conduct and which is brought under this chapter or any rule or order of the administrator with the same force and validity as if served personally.

90 Acts, ch 1169, §17

502A.19 Chapter scope.

1. Sections 502A.2, 502A.5, and 502A.6 apply to a person who sells or offers to sell when either of the following occurs:

- a. An offer to sell is made in this state.
- b. An offer to buy is made and accepted in this state.

2. Sections 502A.2, 502A.5, and 502A.6 apply to a person who buys or offers to buy when either of the following occur:

- a. An offer to buy is made in this state.
- b. An offer to sell is made and accepted in this state.

3. For the purpose of this section, an offer to sell or to buy is made in this state, whether or not either party is then present in this state, when either of the following occurs:

- a. The offer originates from this state.
- b. The offer is directed by the offeror to this state and received at the place to which it is directed, or at any post office in this state in the case of a mailed offer.

4. For the purpose of this section, an offer to buy or to sell is accepted in this state when the acceptance satisfies both of the following conditions:

- a. The acceptance is communicated to the offeror in this state.
- b. The acceptance has not previously been communicated to the offeror, orally or in writing, outside this state; and acceptance is communicated to the offeror in this state, whether or not either party is then present in this state, when the offeree directs it to the offeror in this state, reasonably believing the offeror to be in this state and it is received at the place to which it is directed, or at any post office in this state in the case of a mailed acceptance.

5. An offer to sell or to buy is not made in this state when either of the following occurs:

- a. The publisher circulates or there is circulated on the publisher's behalf in this state any bona fide newspaper or other publication of general, regular, and paid circulation which is not published in this state, or which is published in this state but has had more than two-thirds of its circulation outside this state during the past twelve months.

b. A radio or television program originating outside this state is received in this state.

90 Acts, ch 1169, §18

502A.20 Effect of pending judicial review.

The filing of a petition for judicial review pursuant to chapter 17A does not, unless specifically ordered by the court, operate as a stay of the administrator's order, and the administrator may enforce or ask the court to enforce the order pending the outcome of the review proceedings.

90 Acts, ch 1169, §19

502A.21 Pleading exemptions.

It is not necessary for the state to plead the absence of an exemption under this chapter in a complaint, information, or indictment, or a writ or proceeding brought under this chapter. The burden of proof of a claimed exemption is upon the party claiming the exemption.

90 Acts, ch 1169, §20

502A.22 Affirmative defense.

It is an affirmative defense in a complaint, information, indictment, writ, or proceeding brought under this chapter alleging a violation of section 502A.2 based solely on the failure in an individual case to make physical delivery within the applicable time period under section 502A.1, subsection 5, or section 502A.4, subsection 1, paragraph "b" if both of the following apply:

1. Failure to make physical delivery was due solely to factors beyond the control of the seller, the seller's officers, directors, partners, agents, servants, or employees, every person occupying a similar status or performing similar functions, every person who directly or indirectly controls or is controlled by the seller, or any of them, the seller's affiliates, subsidiaries, or successors.

2. Physical delivery was completed within a reasonable time under the applicable circumstances.

504A.1 Short title.

This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the "Iowa Nonprofit Corporation Act."
[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.1]

504A.2 Definitions.

As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires, the term:

1. "Articles of incorporation" means the original or restated articles of incorporation and all amendments thereto, and includes articles of merger.

2. "Board of directors" means the person or group of persons vested with the management of the affairs of the corporation irrespective of the name by which such person or group is designated.

3. "Bylaws" means the code or codes of rules adopted for the regulation or management of the affairs of the corporation irrespective of the name or names by which such rules are designated.

4. "Corporation" or "domestic corporation" means a nonprofit corporation subject to the provisions of this chapter, except a foreign corporation.

5. "Foreign corporation" means a nonprofit corporation organized under laws other than the laws of this state.

6. "Insolvent" means inability of a corporation to pay its debts as they become due in the usual course of its affairs.

7. "Member" means a person as herein defined having membership rights in a corporation in accordance with the provisions of its articles of incorporation or bylaws.

8. "Nonprofit corporation" means a corporation no part of the income or profit of which is distributable to its members, directors or officers except as provided in this chapter.

9. "Person" means an individual, a corporation (domestic or foreign, whether nonprofit or for profit), a partnership, an association, a trust or a fiduciary.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.2]

504A.3 Purposes.

Subject to the provisions of section 504A.100, subsection 1, corporations may be organized under this chapter for any lawful purpose or purposes not for pecuniary profit.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.3]

504A.4 General powers.

Each corporation, unless otherwise stated in its articles of incorporation, shall have power:

1. To have perpetual succession by its corporate name unless a limited period of duration is stated in its articles of incorporation.

2. To sue and be sued, complain and defend, in its corporate name.

3. To have a corporate seal which may be altered at pleasure, and to use the same by causing it, or a facsimile thereof, to be impressed or affixed or in any other manner reproduced.

4. To purchase, take, receive, lease, take by gift, devise or bequest, or otherwise acquire, own, hold, improve, use and otherwise deal in and with real or personal property, or any interest therein, wherever situated.

5. To sell, convey, mortgage, pledge, lease, exchange, transfer and otherwise dispose of all or any part of its property and assets.

6. To lend money to its employees other than its officers and directors, and otherwise assist its employees, officers and directors.

7. To purchase, take, receive, subscribe for, or otherwise acquire, own, hold, vote, use, employ, sell, mortgage, lend, pledge, or otherwise dispose of, and otherwise use and deal in and with, shares or other interests in, or obligations of, other domestic or foreign corporations, whether for profit or not for profit, associations, partnerships or individuals, or direct or indirect obligations of the United States, or of any other government, state, territory, governmental district or municipality or of any instrumentality thereof.

8. To make contracts and guaranties and incur liabilities, borrow money at such lawful rates of interest as the corporation may determine, issue its notes, bonds, and other obligations, and secure any of its obligations by mortgage or pledge of all or any of its property, franchises and income, and to guarantee the obligations of other persons.

9. To lend money for its corporate purposes, invest and reinvest its funds, and take and hold real and personal property as security for the payment of funds so loaned or invested.

10. To conduct its affairs, carry on its operations, and have offices and exercise the powers granted by this chapter in any state, territory, district, or possession of the United States, or in any foreign country.

11. To elect or appoint officers and agents of the corporation who may be directors or members, and define their duties and fix their compensation, and to pay pensions and establish pension plans, pension trusts, and other incentive, insurance and welfare plans for any or all of its directors, officers and employees.

12. To make and alter bylaws, not inconsistent with its articles of incorporation or with the laws of this state, for the administration and regulation of the affairs of the corporation.

13. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, to make donations for the public welfare or for charitable, religious, eleemosynary, benevolent, scientific or educational purposes; and in time of war to make donations in aid of war activities.

14. A corporation operating under this chapter may indemnify any present or former director, officer, employee, member, or volunteer in the manner and in the instances authorized in sections 490.850 through 490.858.

15. To cease its corporate activities and surrender its corporate franchise.

16. To have and exercise all powers necessary or convenient to effect any or all of the purposes for which the corporation is organized.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.4]

87 Acts, ch 212, §10; 90 Acts, ch 1205, §33

504A.5 Defense of ultra vires.

No act of a corporation and no conveyance or transfer of real or personal property to or by a corporation shall be invalid by reason of the fact that the corporation was without capacity or power to do such act or to make or receive such conveyance or transfer, but such lack of capacity or power may be asserted:

1. In a proceeding by a member or a director against the corporation to enjoin the doing or continuation of unauthorized acts, or the transfer of real or personal property by or to the corporation. If the unauthorized acts or transfers sought to be enjoined are being or are to be, performed pursuant to any contract to which the corporation is a party, the court may, if all of the parties to the contract are parties to the proceeding and if it deems the same to be equitable, set aside and enjoin the performance of such contract, and in so doing may allow to the corporation or the other parties to the contract, as the case may be, compensation for the loss or damage sustained by either of them which may result from the action of the court in setting aside and enjoining the performance of such contract, but anticipated profits to be derived from the performance of the contract shall not be awarded by the court as a loss or damage sustained.

2. In a proceeding by the corporation, whether acting directly or through a receiver, trustee, or other legal representative or through members in a representative suit, against the incumbent or former officers or directors of the corporation for exceeding their authority.

3. In a proceeding by the attorney general, as provided in this chapter, to dissolve the corporation, or in a proceeding by the attorney general to enjoin the corporation from performing unauthorized acts, or in any other proceeding by the attorney general.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.5]

504A.6 Corporate name.

1. A corporate name shall not contain language stating or implying that the corporation is organized for a purpose other than that permitted by its articles of incorporation.

2. Except as authorized by subsections 3 and 4, a corporate name must be distinguishable upon the records of the secretary of state from all of the following:

a. The corporate name of a nonprofit corporation or business corporation incorporated or authorized to conduct affairs or do business in this state.

b. A corporate name reserved under section 504A.7, or reserved or registered under the Iowa business corporation Act.

c. The fictitious name of a foreign business or nonprofit corporation authorized to transact business or conduct affairs in this state because its real name is unavailable.

3. A corporation may apply to the secretary of state for authorization to use a name that is not distinguishable upon the secretary's records from one or more of the names described in subsection 2. The secretary of state shall authorize use of the name applied for if one of the following conditions applies:

a. The other corporation consents to the use in writing and submits an undertaking in a form satisfactory to the secretary of state to change its name to a name that is distinguishable upon the records of the secretary of state from the name of the applying corporation.

b. The applicant delivers to the secretary of state a certified copy of the final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction establishing the applicant's right to use the name applied for in this state.

4. A corporation may use the name, including the fictitious name, of another domestic or foreign corporation that is used in this state if the other corporation is incorporated or authorized to conduct affairs or transact business in this state and the proposed user corporation meets one of the following conditions:

a. Has merged with the other corporation.

b. Has been formed by reorganization of the other corporation.

c. Has acquired all or substantially all of the assets, including the corporate name, of the other corporation.

5. This chapter does not control the use of fictitious names; however, if a corporation or a foreign corporation uses a fictitious name in this state it shall deliver to the secretary of state for filing a copy of the resolution of its board of directors, certified by its secretary, adopting the fictitious name.

83 Acts, ch 144, §6, 7; 88 Acts, ch 1077, §1; 89 Acts, ch 288, §189; 90 Acts, ch 1205, §34

504A.7 Reserved name.

The exclusive right to the use of a corporate name may be reserved by filing in the office of the secretary of state an application to reserve a specified corporate name, executed by the applicant. If the secretary of state finds that such name is available for corporate use, the secretary shall reserve the same for the exclusive use of such applicant for a period of one hundred twenty days.

The right to the exclusive use of a specified corporate name so reserved may be assigned by filing in the office of the secretary of state a notice of such assignment, executed by the person for whom such name was reserved and specifying the name and address of the transferee.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.7]

504A.8 Registered office and registered agent.

Each corporation shall have and continuously maintain in this state:

1. A registered office which may be, but need not be, the same as its principal office.

2. A registered agent or agents who may be either an individual or individuals resident in this state, the business office of whom shall be identical with such registered office, or a domestic corporation, whether for profit or not for profit, or a foreign corporation, whether for profit or not for profit, authorized to transact business or conduct affairs in this state, having an office identical with such registered office.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.8]

504A.9 Change of registered office or registered agent.

1. A corporation may change its registered office or registered agent by delivering to the secretary of state for filing a statement of change that sets forth all of the following:

a. The name of the corporation.

b. If the current registered office is to be changed, the street address of the new registered office.

2. The statement shall be delivered to the secretary of state for filing in the secretary of state's office.

3. If a registered agent changes the agent's business address to another place within the same county, the agent may change the address of the registered office of any corporations of which that person is a registered agent by filing a statement as required in subsection 1 for each corporation, or a single statement for all corporations named in the statement, except that the statement need be signed only by the registered agent and need not be responsive to subsection 1, paragraph "c", but must recite that notification of such change has been mailed to each corporation named in the statement.

4. The change of address of registered office or the change of registered agent becomes effective upon the filing of such statement by the secretary of state.

5. A registered agent of a corporation may resign as such agent by signing and delivering to the secretary of state for filing an original statement of resignation. The statement of resignation may also include a statement that the registered office is also discontinued. The registered agent shall send a copy of the statement of resignation by certified mail to the corporation at its principal office and to the registered office, if the registered office is not discontinued. The appointment of the agent terminates on the date on which the statement is filed by the secretary of state. If the statement of resignation contains a statement that the registered office is discontinued, such office is discontinued on the date on which the statement of resignation is filed by the secretary of state.

6. The secretary of state may provide for the change of registered office or registered agent on the form prescribed by the secretary of state for the biennial report pursuant to section 504A.83, provided that the form contains the information required in this section. If the secretary of state determines that a biennial report does not contain the information required by section 504A.83 but otherwise meets the requirements of this section for the purpose of changing the registered office or registered agent, the secretary of state shall file the statement of change of registered office or registered agent before returning the biennial report to the corporation pursuant to section 504A.84. A statement of change of registered office or registered agent pursuant to this paragraph shall be executed by a person authorized to execute the biennial report.

504A.10 Service of process on corporation.

The registered agent so appointed by a corporation shall be an agent of such corporation upon whom any process, notice or demand required or permitted by law to be served upon the corporation may be served.

Whenever a corporation shall fail to appoint or maintain a registered agent in this state, or whenever its registered agent cannot with reasonable diligence be found at the registered office, then the secretary of state shall be an agent of such corporation upon whom any such process, notice, or demand may be served. Service on the secretary of state of any such process, notice, or demand shall be made by delivering to and leaving with the secretary, the secretary's deputy, or with any person having charge of the corporation department of the secretary of state's office, duplicate copies of such process, notice or demand. In the event any such process, notice or demand is served on the secretary of state, the secretary shall immediately cause one of the copies thereof to be forwarded by registered or certified mail, addressed to the corporation at its registered office. No corporation served in accordance with the procedure provided for by this paragraph shall be in default until thirty days have elapsed following such service on the secretary of state.

The secretary of state shall keep a record of all processes, notices and demands served upon the secretary under this section, and shall record therein the time of such service and the secretary's action with reference thereto.

Nothing herein contained shall limit or affect the right to serve any process, notice or demand required or permitted by law to be served upon a corporation in any other manner now or hereafter permitted by law.

504A.11 Members.

A corporation may have one or more classes of members or may have no members. If the corporation has one or more classes of members, the designation of such class or classes, the manner of election or appointment and the qualifications and rights of the members of each class shall be set forth in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws. If the corporation has no members, that fact shall be set forth in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws. A corporation may issue certificates evidencing membership therein.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.11]

504A.12 Bylaws.

The initial bylaws of a corporation shall be adopted by its board of directors. The power to alter, amend or repeal the bylaws or adopt new bylaws shall be vested in the board of directors unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation. The bylaws may contain any provisions for the regulation and management of the affairs of a corporation not inconsistent with law or the articles of incorporation.

The board of directors of any corporation may adopt emergency bylaws, subject to repeal or change by action of the members, which shall, notwithstanding any different provision elsewhere in this chapter or in the articles of incorporation or bylaws, be operative during any emergency, in the conduct of the affairs of the corporation resulting from an attack on the United States or any nuclear or atomic disaster. The emergency bylaws may make any provision that may be practical and necessary for the circumstances of the emergency including provisions that:

1. A meeting of the board of directors may be called by any officer or director in such manner and under such conditions as shall be prescribed in the emergency bylaws;

2. The director or directors in attendance at the meeting, or any greater number fixed by the emergency bylaws, shall constitute a quorum; and

3. The officers or other persons designated on a list approved by the board of directors before the emergency, all in such order of priority and subject to such conditions and for such period of time (not longer than reasonably necessary after the termination of the emergency) as may be provided in the emergency bylaws or in the resolution approving the list, shall, to the extent required to provide a quorum at any meeting of the board of directors, be deemed directors for such meeting.

The board of directors, either before or during any such emergency, may provide, and from time to time modify, lines of succession in the event that during such an emergency any or all officers or agents of the corporation shall for any reason be rendered incapable of discharging their duties.

To the extent not inconsistent with any emergency bylaws so adopted, the bylaws of the corporation shall remain in effect during any such emergency and upon its termination the emergency bylaws shall cease to be operative.

Unless otherwise provided in emergency bylaws, notice of any meeting of the board of directors during any such emergency may be given only to such of the directors as it may be feasible to reach at the time and by such means as may be feasible at the time, including publication or radio.

To the extent required to constitute a quorum at any meeting of the board of directors during any such emergency, the officers of the corporation who are present shall, unless otherwise provided in emergency bylaws, be deemed, in order of rank and within the same rank in order of seniority, directors for such meeting.

No officer, director or employee acting in accordance with any emergency bylaws shall be liable except for willful misconduct. No officer, director or employee shall be liable for any action taken by that person in good faith in such an emergency in furtherance of the ordinary affairs of the corporation, even though not authorized by the bylaws then in effect.

504A.13 Meetings of members.

Meetings of members may be held at such places, either within or without this state, as may be provided in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws, or as may be fixed from time to time in accordance with the provisions thereof. In the absence of any such provision, all meetings shall be held at the registered office of the corporation.

An annual meeting of the members shall be held at such time as may be provided in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws. Failure to hold the annual meeting at the designated time shall not work a forfeiture or dissolution of the corporation.

Special meetings of the members may be called by the president or by the board of directors. Special meetings of the members may also be called by such other officers or persons or number or proportion of members as may be provided in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws. In the absence of a provision fixing the number or proportion of members entitled to call a meeting, a special meeting of members may be called by members having one-twentieth of the votes entitled to be cast at such meeting.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.13]

504A.14 Notice of members' meetings.

Unless the articles of incorporation or the bylaws otherwise provide, written notice stating the place, day and hour of the meeting and, in case of a special meeting, the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called, shall be delivered no less than ten nor more than fifty days before the date of the meeting, either personally or by mail, by or at the direction of the president, the secretary, or the officer or persons calling the meeting, to each member entitled to vote at such meeting. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be delivered when deposited in the United States mail addressed to the member at the member's address as it appears on the records of the corporation, with postage thereon prepaid.

504A.15 Voting.

The right of the members, or any class or classes of members, to vote may be limited, enlarged or denied to the extent specified in the articles of incorporation or, if the articles of incorporation so provide, by the bylaws. Unless so limited, enlarged or denied, each member, regardless of class, shall be entitled to one vote on each matter submitted to a vote of members.

A member entitled to vote may vote in person or, unless the articles of incorporation or the bylaws otherwise provide, may vote by proxy executed in writing by the member or by the member's duly authorized attorney-in-fact. No proxy shall be valid after eleven months from the date of its execution, unless otherwise provided in the proxy. Where directors or officers are to be elected by members the bylaws may provide that such elections may be conducted by mail.

The articles of incorporation may provide that in all elections for directors every member entitled to vote shall have the right to cumulate the member's vote and to give one candidate a number of votes equal to the member's vote multiplied by the number of directors to be elected, or by distributing such votes on the same principle among any number of such candidates.

If a corporation has no members or its members have no right to vote, the directors shall have the sole voting power.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.15]

504A.16 Quorum.

The bylaws may provide the number or percentage of members entitled to vote represented in person or by proxy, or the number or percentage of votes represented in person or by proxy, which shall constitute a quorum at a meeting of members. In the absence of any such provision, members holding one-tenth of the votes entitled to be cast on the matter to be voted upon represented in person or by proxy shall constitute a quorum. A majority of the votes entitled to be cast on a matter to be voted upon by the members present or represented by proxy at a meeting at which a quorum is present shall be necessary for the adoption thereof unless a greater proportion is required by this chapter, the articles of incorporation or the bylaws.

504A.17 Board of directors.

The affairs of a corporation shall be managed by a board of one or more directors. Directors need not be residents of this state or members of the corporation unless the articles of incorporation so require. The articles of incorporation or the bylaws may prescribe other qualifications for directors.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.17]

504A.18 Number and election of directors.

The number of directors shall be fixed by the bylaws, except as to the number constituting the initial board of directors, which number shall be fixed by the articles of incorporation. The number of directors may be increased or decreased from time to time by amendment to the bylaws, unless the articles of incorporation provide that a change in the number of directors shall be made only by amendment of the articles of incorporation. No decrease in number shall have the effect of shortening the term of any incumbent director. In the absence of a bylaw fixing the number of directors, the number shall be the same as that stated in the articles of incorporation.

The directors constituting the first board of directors shall be named in the articles of incorporation and shall hold office until the first annual election of directors or for such other period as may be specified in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws. Thereafter, directors shall be elected or appointed in a manner and for the terms provided in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws. In the absence of a provision fixing the term of office, the term of office of a director shall be one year.

Directors may be divided into classes and the terms of office of the several classes need not be uniform. Each director shall hold office for the term for which the director is elected or appointed and until the director's successor shall have been elected or appointed and qualified.

A director may be removed from office pursuant to any procedure therefor provided in the articles of incorporation.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.18]

504A.19 Vacancies.

Any vacancy occurring in the board of directors and any directorship to be filled by reason of an increase in the number of directors may be filled by the affirmative vote of a majority of the remaining directors, though less than a quorum of the board of directors unless the articles of incorporation or the bylaws provide that a vacancy or directorship so created shall be filled in some other manner, in which case such provision shall control.

Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws, a director so elected or appointed shall be elected or appointed for the unexpired term of the director's predecessor in office or the full term of such new directorship.

504A.20 Quorum of directors.

A majority of the number of directors fixed by the bylaws, or in the absence of a bylaw fixing the number of directors, then of the number stated in the articles of incorporation, shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws; but in no event shall a quorum consist of less than one-third of the number of directors so fixed or stated. The act of the majority of the directors present at a meeting at which a quorum is present shall be the act of the board of directors, unless the act of a greater number is required by this chapter, the articles of incorporation or the bylaws.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.20]

504A.21 Committees.

If the articles of incorporation or the bylaws so provide, the board of directors, by resolution adopted by a majority of the full board of directors, may designate from among its members an executive committee and one or more other committees each of which, to the extent provided in such resolution or in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws of the corporation, shall have and may exercise all the authority of the board of directors; but no such committee shall have the authority of the board of directors in reference to amending the articles of incorporation, adopting a plan of merger or consolidation, recommending to the members the sale, lease, exchange or other disposition of all or substantially all the property and assets of the corporation, recommending to the members a voluntary dissolution of the corporation or a revocation thereof, or amending the bylaws of the corporation. The designation of any such committee and the delegation thereto of authority shall not operate to relieve the board of directors, or any member thereof, of any responsibility imposed by law.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.21]

504A.22 Place and notice of directors' meetings.

Meetings of the board of directors, regular or special, may be held either within or without this state, and upon such notice as the bylaws may prescribe. Attendance of a director at any meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice of such meeting except where a director attends a meeting for the express purpose of objecting to the transaction of any business because the meeting is not lawfully called or convened. Neither the business to be transacted at, nor the purpose of, any regular or special meeting of the board of directors need be specified in the notice or waiver of notice of such meeting unless required by the bylaws.

Unless otherwise restricted by the articles of incorporation or bylaws, members of the board of directors of any corporation, or any committee designated by the board of directors, may participate in a meeting of the board or committee by conference telephone or similar communications equipment. All persons participating in the meeting shall be able to hear each other, and participation in a meeting pursuant to this provision shall constitute presence in person at the meeting. Records of the meeting shall be kept as required in section 504A.25.

504A.23 Officers.

The officers of a corporation shall consist of a president, one or more vice presidents, a secretary, a treasurer and such other officers and assistant officers as may be deemed necessary, each of whom shall be elected or appointed at such time and in such manner and for such terms as may be prescribed in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws. In the absence of any such provision, all officers shall be elected or appointed annually by the board of directors. Any two or more offices may be held by the same person.

The articles of incorporation or the bylaws may provide that any one or more officers of the corporation shall be ex officio members of the board of directors.

The officers of a corporation may be designated by such additional titles as may be provided in the articles of incorporation or the bylaws.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.23]

504A.24 Removal of officers.

Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, any officers elected or appointed may be removed by the persons authorized to elect or appoint such officer whenever in their judgment the best interests of the corporation will be served thereby. The removal of an officer shall be without prejudice to the contract rights, if any, of the officer so removed. Election or appointment of an officer or agent shall not of itself create contract rights.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.24]

504A.25 Books and records.

Each corporation shall keep correct and complete books and records of account and shall keep minutes of the proceedings of its members, board of directors and committees having any of the authority of the board of directors; and shall keep at its registered office or principal office in this state a record of the names and addresses of its members entitled to vote. All books and records of a corporation may be inspected by any member, or the member's agent or attorney, for any proper purpose at any reasonable time.

504A.25A Availability of certain information of nonprofit corporations and agencies.

A corporation organized pursuant to this chapter, or any other nonprofit agency, which receives federal or state funding, shall provide to any person, upon request, a list of the names of the members of the corporation's or agency's board of directors, and the salary of each officer and director's fee of each director of the corporation or nonprofit agency.

91 Acts, ch 135, §1

504A.26 Shares of stock and dividends prohibited.

A corporation shall not have or issue shares of stock. No dividend shall be paid and no part of the income or profit of a corporation shall be distributed to its members, directors or officers. A corporation may pay compensation in a reasonable amount to its members, directors or officers for services rendered, may confer benefits upon its members in conformity with its purposes, and upon dissolution or final liquidation may make distributions to its members as permitted by this chapter, and no such payment, benefit or distribution shall be deemed to be a dividend or a distribution of income or profit.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.26]

504A.27 Loans to directors and officers prohibited.

No loans shall be made by a corporation to its directors or officers. Any director or officer who assents to or participates in the making of any such loan shall be liable to the corporation for the amount of such loan until the repayment thereof.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.27]

504A.28 Incorporators.

One or more persons as defined in this chapter having capacity to contract may act as incorporators of a corporation by signing and delivering to the secretary of state articles of incorporation for the corporation.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.28]

94 Acts, ch 1023, §66

504A.29 Articles of incorporation.

The articles of incorporation shall set forth:

1. The name of the corporation and the chapter of the Code or session laws under which incorporated.

2. The period of duration if for a limited period, but in the absence of any statement in the articles all corporations organized hereunder shall have perpetual duration.

3. The purpose or purposes for which the corporation is organized.

4. Any provision, not inconsistent with law, which the incorporators elect to set forth in the articles of incorporation for the regulation of the internal affairs of the corporation, including any provision for distribution of assets on dissolution or final liquidation.

5. The address of its initial registered office including street and number, if any, the name of the county in which the registered office is located, and the name of its initial registered agent or agents at such address.

6. The number of directors constituting the initial board of directors and the names and addresses of the persons who are to serve as the initial directors.

7. Any provision not inconsistent with law or the purposes for which the corporation is organized, which the incorporators elect to set forth; or any provision limiting any of the corporate powers enumerated in this chapter.

8. The date on which the corporate existence shall begin, which may be any date identified by year, month and day not more than ninety days in the future. In the absence of any statement in the articles as to date of beginning of corporate existence, such existence shall commence on the date on which the secretary of state issues the certificate of incorporation.

9. The name and address of each incorporator.

It shall not be necessary to set forth in the articles of incorporation any of the corporate powers enumerated in this chapter.

Unless the articles of incorporation provide that a change in the number of directors shall be made only by amendment to the articles of incorporation, a change in the number of directors made by amendment to the bylaws shall be controlling. In all other cases, whenever a provision of the articles of incorporation is inconsistent with a bylaw, the provision of the articles of incorporation shall be controlling.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.29]

504A.30 Filing and recording of articles of incorporation.

The articles of incorporation shall be delivered to the secretary of state for filing and recording in the secretary of state's office. The secretary of state upon the filing of such articles shall issue a certificate of incorporation and send the certificate to the corporation or its representative.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.30]
93 Acts, ch 109, §4

504A.31 Effect of issuance of certificate of incorporation.

Upon the issuance of the certificate of incorporation, the corporate existence shall begin unless the certificate in conformity with a provision in the articles provides that it shall begin on a stated day in the future in which event the corporate existence shall without further action by either the incorporators or the secretary of state begin on the day so stated. Such certificate of incorporation shall be conclusive evidence that all conditions precedent required to be performed by the incorporators have been complied with and that the corporation has been incorporated under this chapter except as against this state in a proceeding to cancel or revoke the certificate of incorporation or for involuntary dissolution of the corporation.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.31]

504A.32 Procedure for filing and recording of documents.

1. If in this chapter, it is required that any document be:

a. Filed in the office of the secretary of state, the secretary of state, when the secretary finds that such document conforms to law and when all fees and taxes due the secretary have been paid as in this chapter prescribed, shall endorse on such document, the word "Filed", and the month, day and year of the filing thereof and file the same in the secretary of state's office;

b. Recorded in the office of the secretary of state, the secretary of state, upon filing thereof, shall record the same.

2. Except for a statement of change of registered office or registered agent filed pursuant to section 504A.9 or 504A.73, and a biennial report filed pursuant to section 504A.83, any instrument required to be filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state only, shall be returned by the secretary to the corporation or its representative.

3. A document that is filed in the office of the secretary of state shall be executed:

a. By the presiding officer of the board of directors of the corporation or the foreign corporation, its president, or another of its officers.

b. If directors have not been selected or the corporation has not been formed, by an incorporator.

c. If the corporation is in the hands of a receiver, trustee, or other court-appointed fiduciary, by that fiduciary.

4. The person executing the document shall sign it and state beneath or opposite the signature, the person's name and the capacity in which the person signs. The secretary of state may accept for filing a document containing a copy of a signature, however made. The document may, but need not, contain:

- a. The corporate seal.
 - b. An attestation by the secretary or an assistant secretary.
 - c. An acknowledgment, verification, or proof.
5. The secretary of state may adopt rules permitting the electronic filing of documents in the office of the secretary of state, and for the certification of copies of electronically filed documents.

504A.32A Correcting filed documents.

1. A domestic or foreign corporation may correct a document filed by the secretary of state if the document satisfies one or both of the following requirements:

- a. The document contains an incorrect statement.
- b. The document was defectively executed, attested, sealed, verified, or acknowledged.

2. A document is corrected by complying with both of the following:

a. By preparing articles of correction that satisfy all of the following requirements:

- (1) Describe the document, including its filing date, or attach a copy of it to the articles.
- (2) Specify the incorrect statement or manner in which the execution was defective.
- (3) Correct the incorrect statement or defective execution.

b. By delivering the articles of correction to the secretary of state for filing.

3. Articles of correction are effective on the effective date of the document they correct except as to persons relying on the uncorrected document and adversely affected by the correction. As to persons relying on the uncorrected document and adversely affected by the correction, the articles of correction are effective when filed by the secretary of state.

90 Acts, ch 1164, §14

504A.33 Organization meetings.

After the issuance of the certificate of incorporation an organization meeting of the board of directors named in the articles of incorporation may be held, either within or without this state, at the call of a majority of the incorporators, for the purpose of adopting bylaws, electing officers, if necessary, and the transaction of such other business as may come before the meeting. The incorporators calling the meeting shall give at least three days' notice thereof by mail to each director so named, which notice shall state the time and place of the meeting.

A first meeting of the members may be held at the call of the directors, or a majority of them, upon at least three days' notice, for such purposes as shall be stated in the notice of the meeting.

504A.34 Right to amend articles of incorporation.

A corporation may amend its articles of incorporation, from time to time, in any and as many respects as may be desired, so long as its articles of incorporation as amended contain only such provisions as are lawful under this chapter.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.34]

504A.35 Procedure to amend articles of incorporation.

Amendments to the articles of incorporation shall be made in the following manner:

1. Where there are members entitled to vote thereon, the board of directors shall adopt a resolution setting forth the proposed amendment and directing that it be submitted to a vote at a meeting of members entitled to vote thereon which may be either an annual or a special meeting. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation, upon the written request of at least five percent of the members entitled to vote on amendments to articles of incorporation, the board of directors shall adopt a resolution setting forth the amendment proposed by such members and directing that it be submitted to the next meeting of the members entitled to vote thereon held not less than ninety days after the date of the filing of the request of the members with the secretary of the corporation. Written notice setting forth the proposed amendment or a summary of the changes to be effected thereby shall be given to each member entitled to vote at such meeting within the time and in the manner provided in this chapter for the giving of notice of meetings of members. The proposed amendment shall be adopted upon receiving at least two-thirds of the votes which members present at such meeting or represented by proxy are entitled to cast.

2. Where there are no members, or no members entitled to vote thereon, an amendment shall be adopted at a meeting of the board of directors upon receiving the vote of a majority of the directors in office.

Any number of amendments may be submitted and voted upon at any one meeting.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.35]

504A.36 Articles of amendment.

The articles of amendment shall be executed by the corporation and shall set forth:

1. The name of the corporation.
2. The amendment so adopted.
3. Where there are members entitled to vote thereon, (a) a statement setting forth the date of the meeting of members at which the amendment was adopted, that a quorum was present at such meeting, and that such amendment received at least two-thirds of the votes which members present at such meeting or represented by proxy were entitled to cast, or (b) a statement that such amendment was adopted by a consent in writing signed by all members entitled to vote with respect thereto.

4. Where there are no members, or no members entitled to vote thereon, a statement of such fact, the date of the meeting of the board of directors at which the amendment was adopted, and a statement of the fact that such amendment received the vote of a majority of the directors in office.

90 Acts, ch 1164, §15; 97 Acts, ch 171, §37

504A.37 Filing of articles of amendment.

The articles of amendment shall be delivered to the secretary of state for filing and recording in the secretary of state's office. The secretary of state upon the filing of the articles of amendment shall issue a certificate of amendment and send the certificate to the corporation or its representative.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.37]

93 Acts, ch 109, §6

504A.38 Effect of certificate of amendment.

Upon the issuance of the certificate of amendment by the secretary of state, the amendment shall become effective and the articles of incorporation shall be deemed to be amended accordingly.

No amendment shall affect any existing cause of action in favor of or against such corporation, or any pending action to which such corporation shall be a party, or the existing rights of persons other than members; and, in the event the corporate name shall be changed by amendment, no suit brought by or against such corporation under its former name shall abate for that reason.

504A.39 Restated articles of incorporation.

A domestic corporation may at any time restate its articles of incorporation, which may be amended by such restatement, so long as its articles of incorporation as so restated contain only such provisions as might be lawfully contained in original articles of incorporation at the time of making such restatement, by the adoption of restated articles of incorporation, including any amendments to its articles of incorporation to be made thereby, in the following manner:

1. Where there are members having voting rights, the board of directors shall adopt a resolution setting forth the proposed restated articles of incorporation, which may include an amendment or amendments to the corporation's articles of incorporation to be made thereby and directing that such restated articles, including such amendment or amendments be submitted to a vote at a meeting of members having voting rights, which may be either an annual or a special meeting.

2. Written or printed notice setting forth the proposed restated articles or a summary of the provisions thereof shall be given to each member entitled to vote at such meeting within the time and in the manner provided in this chapter for the giving of notice of meetings of members. If the restated articles include an amendment or amendments to the articles of incorporation to be made thereby, the notice shall separately set forth such amendment or amendments or a summary of the changes to be effected thereby.

3. The proposed restated articles shall be adopted upon receiving at least two-thirds of the votes which members present at such meeting or represented by proxy are entitled to cast, unless such restated articles include an amendment to the articles of incorporation to be made thereby which, if contained in a proposed amendment to the articles of incorporation to be made without restatement of the articles of incorporation, would entitle a class of members to vote as a class thereon, in which event the proposed restated articles shall be adopted upon receiving the affirmative vote of at least two-thirds of the members of each class entitled to vote thereon as a class, and of the total members entitled to vote thereon.

4. Where there are no members, or no members having voting rights, proposed restated articles of incorporation, which may include an amendment or amendments to the corporation's articles of incorporation to be made thereby shall be adopted at a meeting of the board of directors upon receiving the vote of a majority of the directors in office.

Upon approval, restated articles of incorporation shall be executed by the corporation and shall set forth, as then stated in the corporation's articles of incorporation and, if the restated articles of incorporation include an amendment or amendments to the articles of incorporation to be made thereby, as so amended:

- a. The name of the corporation;
- b. If its duration is for a limited period, the date of expiration;
- c. The purpose or purposes for which the corporation is organized;
- d. If the members are divided into classes, the designation of each class and a statement of the preferences, voting rights, if any, limitations and relative rights in respect of the members of each class;
- e. Any other provisions, not inconsistent with law or the purposes which the corporation is authorized to pursue, which are to be set forth in articles of incorporation; except that it shall not be necessary to set forth in the restated articles of incorporation any of the corporate powers enumerated in this chapter nor any statement with respect to the chapter of the Code or session laws under which the corporation was incorporated, its registered office, registered agent, directors, or incorporators, or the date on which its corporate existence began.

The restated articles of incorporation shall also set forth a statement that they correctly set forth the provisions of the articles of incorporation as amended and that they have been duly adopted as required by law.

The restated articles of incorporation shall be delivered to the secretary of state for filing and recording in the secretary of state's office.

The secretary of state upon filing the restated articles of incorporation shall issue a restated certificate of incorporation and send the same to the corporation or its representative.

Upon the issuance of the restated certificate of incorporation by the secretary of state, the restated articles of incorporation, including any amendment or amendments to the articles of incorporation made thereby, shall become effective and shall supersede the original articles of incorporation and all amendments thereto.

504A.40 Procedure for merger.

Any two or more domestic corporations may merge into one of such corporations, pursuant to a plan of merger approved in the manner prescribed by this chapter.

Each corporation shall adopt a plan of merger setting forth:

1. The names of the corporations proposing to merge, and the name of the corporation into which they propose to merge, which is hereinafter designated as the surviving corporation.

2. The terms and conditions of the proposed merger.

3. A statement of any changes in the articles of incorporation of the surviving corporation to be effected by such merger.

4. Such other provisions with respect to the proposed merger as are deemed necessary or desirable.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.40]

504A.41 Procedure for consolidation.

Any two or more domestic corporations may consolidate into a new corporation pursuant to a plan of consolidation approved in the manner prescribed by this chapter.

Each such corporation shall adopt a plan of consolidation setting forth:

1. The names of the corporations proposing to consolidate, and the name of the new corporation into which they propose to consolidate, which is hereinafter designated as the new corporation.

2. The terms and conditions of the proposed consolidation.

3. With respect to the new corporation, all of the statements required to be set forth in articles of incorporation for corporations organized under this chapter.

4. Such other provisions with respect to the proposed consolidation as are deemed necessary or desirable.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.41]

504A.42 Approval of merger or consolidation.

A plan of merger or consolidation shall be adopted by each domestic corporation in the following manner:

1. Where the members of any merging or consolidating corporation are entitled to vote thereon, the board of directors of such corporation shall adopt a resolution approving the proposed plan and directing that it be submitted to a vote at a meeting of members entitled to vote thereon, which may be either an annual or a special meeting. Written notice setting forth the proposed plan or a summary thereof shall be given to each member entitled to vote thereon at such meeting within the time and in the manner provided in this chapter for the giving of notice of meetings of members. The proposed plan shall be adopted upon receiving at least two-thirds of the votes which members present at each such meeting or represented by proxy are entitled to cast.

2. Where any merging or consolidating corporation has no members, or no members entitled to vote thereon, a plan of merger or consolidation shall be adopted at a meeting of the board of directors of such corporation upon receiving the vote of a majority of the directors in office.

After such approval, and at any time prior to the filing of the articles of merger or consolidation, the merger or consolidation may be abandoned pursuant to provisions thereof, if any, set forth in the plan of merger or consolidation.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.42]

504A.43 Articles of merger or consolidation.

Upon approval, articles of merger or articles of consolidation shall be executed by each corporation and shall set forth:

1. The plan of merger or the plan of consolidation.

2. Where the members of any merging or consolidating corporation are entitled to vote thereon, then as to each such corporation (a) a statement setting forth the date of the meeting of members at which the plan was adopted, that a quorum was present at such meeting, and that such plan received at least two-thirds of the votes which members present at such meeting or represented by proxy were entitled to cast, or (b) a statement that such amendment was adopted by a consent in writing signed by all members entitled to vote with respect thereto.

3. Where any merging or consolidating corporation has no members, or no members entitled to vote thereon, then as to each such corporation a statement of such fact, the date of the meeting of the board of directors at which the plan was adopted and a statement of the fact that such plan received the vote of a majority of the directors in office.

The articles of merger or articles of consolidation shall be delivered to the secretary of state for filing and recording in the secretary of state's office.

The secretary of state upon the filing of the articles of merger or articles of consolidation shall issue a certificate of merger or a certificate of consolidation and send the same to the surviving or new corporation as the case may be, or to its representative.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.43]
90 Acts, ch 1164, §17; 93 Acts, ch 109, §8

504A.44 Effect of merger or consolidation.

Upon the issuance of the certificate of merger or the certificate of consolidation by the secretary of state, the merger or consolidation shall be effected.

When such merger or consolidation has been effected:

1. The several corporations parties to the plan of merger or consolidation shall be a single corporation, which, in the case of a merger, shall be that corporation designated in the plan of merger as the surviving corporation, and, in the case of consolidation, shall be the new corporation provided for in the plan of consolidation.

2. The separate existence of all corporations parties to the plan of merger or consolidation, except the surviving or new corporation, shall cease except as provided in subsection 5.

3. Such surviving or new corporation, if to exist under the laws of this state, shall have all the rights, privileges, immunities and powers and shall be subject to all the duties and liabilities of a corporation organized under this chapter.

4. Such surviving or new corporation shall thereupon and thereafter possess all the rights, privileges, immunities, and franchises, as well of a public as of a private nature, of each of the merging or consolidating corporations; and all property, real, personal and mixed, and all debts due on whatever account, and all other choses in action, and all and every other interest, of or belonging to or due to each of the corporations so merged or consolidated, shall be taken and deemed to be transferred to and vested in such single corporation without further act or deed; and the title to any real estate, or any interest therein, vested in any of such corporations shall not revert or be in any way impaired by reason of such merger or consolidation.

5. A devise, bequest, gift or grant contained in a will or other instrument, made before or after the merger or consolidation, to or for the benefit of any of the merging or consolidating corporations, shall inure to the benefit of the surviving or new corporation. So far as is necessary for that purpose, the existence of each merging or consolidating corporation shall be deemed to continue in and through the surviving or new corporation.

6. Such surviving or new corporation shall thenceforth be responsible and liable for all the liabilities and obligations of each of the corporations so merged or consolidated; and any claim existing or action or proceeding pending by or against any of such corporations may be prosecuted as if such merger or consolidation had not taken place, or such surviving or new corporation may be substituted in its place. Neither the rights of creditors nor any liens upon the property of any such corporation shall be impaired by such merger or consolidation.

7. In the case of a merger, the articles of incorporation of the surviving corporation shall be deemed to be amended to the extent, if any, that changes in its articles of incorporation are stated in the plan of merger; and, in the case of consolidation, the statements set forth in the articles of consolidation and which are required or permitted to be set forth in the articles of incorporation of corporations organized under this chapter shall be deemed to be the original articles of incorporation of the new corporation.

504A.45 Merger or consolidation of domestic and foreign corporations.

One or more foreign corporations and one or more domestic corporations may be merged or consolidated in the following manner, if such merger or consolidation is permitted by the laws of the state under which each such foreign corporation is organized:

1. Each domestic corporation shall comply with the provisions of this chapter with respect to the merger or consolidation, as the case may be, of domestic corporations and each foreign corporation shall comply with the applicable provisions of the laws of the state under which it is organized.

2. If the surviving or new corporation, as the case may be, is to be governed by the laws of any state other than this state, it shall comply with the provisions of this chapter with respect to qualification of foreign corporations if it is to conduct affairs in this state, and in every case it shall file with the secretary of state of this state:

a. An agreement that it may be served with process in this state in any proceeding for the enforcement of any obligation of any domestic corporation which is a party to such merger or consolidation; and

b. An irrevocable appointment of the secretary of state of this state as its agent to accept service of process in any such proceeding.

The effect of such merger or consolidation shall be the same as in the case of the merger or consolidation of domestic corporations, if the surviving or new corporation is to be governed by the laws of this state. If the surviving or new corporation is to be governed by the laws of any state other than this state, the effect of such merger or consolidation shall be the same as in the case of the merger or consolidation of domestic corporations except insofar as the laws of the other state provide otherwise.

At any time prior to the filing of the articles of merger or consolidation, the merger or consolidation may be abandoned pursuant to provisions therefor, if any, set forth in the plan of merger or consolidation.

504A.46 Sale, lease, exchange, or mortgage of assets.

A sale, lease, exchange or other disposition of all, or substantially all, the property and assets of a corporation may be made upon such terms and conditions and for such consideration, which may consist in whole or in part of money or property, real or personal, including shares of any corporation for profit, domestic or foreign, as may be authorized in the following manner:

1. Where there are members entitled to vote thereon, the board of directors shall adopt a resolution recommending such sale, lease, exchange or other disposition and directing that it be submitted to a vote at a meeting of members entitled to vote thereon, which may be either an annual or a special meeting. Written notice stating that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of such meeting is to consider the sale, lease, exchange or other disposition of all, or substantially all, the property and assets of the corporation shall be given to each member entitled to vote at such meeting, within the time and in the manner provided by this chapter for the giving of notice of meetings of members. At such meeting the members may authorize such sale, lease, exchange or other disposition and may fix, or may authorize the board of directors to fix, any or all of the terms and conditions thereof and the consideration to be received by the corporation therefor. Such authorization shall require at least two-thirds of the votes which members present at such meeting or represented by proxy are entitled to cast. After such authorization by a vote of members, the board of directors, nevertheless, in its discretion, may abandon such sale, lease, exchange or other disposition of assets, subject to the rights of third parties under any contracts relating thereto, without further action or approval by members.

2. Where there are no members, or no members entitled to vote thereon, a sale, lease, exchange or other disposition of all, or substantially all, the property and assets of a corporation shall be authorized upon receiving the vote of a majority of the directors in office.

3. Unless otherwise provided in the articles of incorporation a mortgage or pledge of any or all property and assets of the corporation may be made upon such terms and conditions and for such consideration, which may consist in whole or in part of money or property, real or personal, including shares of any other corporation, domestic or foreign, as shall be authorized by its board of directors; and in such case no authorization or consent of the members shall be required.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.46]

504A.47 Voluntary dissolution.

A corporation may dissolve and wind up its affairs in the following manner:

1. Where there are members entitled to vote thereon, the board of directors shall adopt a resolution recommending that the corporation be dissolved, and directing that the question of such dissolution be submitted to a vote at a meeting of members entitled to vote thereon, which may be either an annual or a special meeting. Written notice stating that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of such meeting is to consider the advisability of dissolving the corporation, shall be given to each member entitled to vote at such meeting, within the time and in the manner provided in this chapter for the giving of notice of meetings of members. A resolution to dissolve the corporation shall be adopted upon receiving at least two-thirds of the votes which members present at such meeting or represented by proxy are entitled to cast.

2. Where there are no members, or no members entitled to vote thereon, the dissolution of the corporation shall be authorized at a meeting of the board of directors upon the adoption of a resolution to dissolve by the vote of a majority of the directors in office.

Upon the adoption of such resolution by the members, or by the board of directors where there are no members or no members entitled to vote thereon, the corporation shall cease to conduct its affairs except insofar as may be necessary for the winding up thereof, shall immediately cause a notice of the proposed dissolution to be mailed to each known creditor of the corporation, and shall proceed to collect its assets and apply and distribute them as provided in this chapter.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.47]

504A.48 Distribution of assets.

The assets of a corporation in the process of dissolution shall be applied and distributed as follows:

1. All liabilities and obligations of the corporation shall be paid and discharged, or adequate provision shall be made therefor;

2. Assets held by the corporation upon condition requiring return, transfer or conveyance, which condition occurs by reason of the dissolution, shall be returned, transferred or conveyed in accordance with such requirements;

3. Assets received and held by the corporation subject to limitations permitting their use only for charitable, religious, eleemosynary, benevolent, educational or similar purposes, but not held upon a condition requiring return, transfer or conveyance by reason of the dissolution, shall be transferred or conveyed to one or more domestic or foreign corporations, societies or organizations engaged in activities substantially similar to those of the dissolving corporation, pursuant to a plan of distribution adopted as provided in this chapter;

4. Other assets, if any, shall be distributed in accordance with the provisions of the articles of incorporation or the bylaws to the extent that the articles of incorporation or bylaws determine the distributive rights of members, or any class or classes of members, or provide for distribution to others;

5. Any remaining assets may be distributed to such persons, societies, organizations or domestic or foreign corporations, whether for profit or non-profit, as may be specified in a plan of distribution adopted as provided in this chapter.

504A.49 Plan of distribution.

A plan providing for the distribution of assets, not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter, may be adopted by a corporation in the process of dissolution and shall be adopted by a corporation for the purpose of authorizing any transfer or conveyance of assets for which this chapter requires a plan of distribution, in the following manner:

1. Where there are members entitled to vote thereon, the board of directors shall adopt a resolution recommending a plan of distribution and directing the submission thereof to a vote at a meeting of members entitled to vote thereon, which may be either an annual or a special meeting. Written notice setting forth the proposed plan of distribution or a summary thereof shall be given to each member entitled to vote at such meeting, within the time and in the manner provided in this chapter for the giving of notice of meetings of members. Such plan of distribution shall be adopted upon receiving at least two-thirds of the votes which members present at such meeting or represented by proxy are entitled to cast.

2. Where there are no members, or no members entitled to vote thereon, a plan of distribution shall be adopted at a meeting of the board of directors upon receiving a vote of a majority of the directors in office.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.49]

504A.50 Revocation of voluntary dissolution proceedings.

A corporation may, at any time prior to the issuance of a certificate of dissolution by the secretary of state, revoke the action theretofore taken to dissolve the corporation, in the following manner:

1. Where there are members entitled to vote thereon, the board of directors shall adopt a resolution recommending that the voluntary dissolution proceedings be revoked, and directing that the question of such revocation be submitted to a vote at a meeting of members entitled to vote thereon, which may be either an annual or a special meeting. Written notice stating that the purpose, or one of the purposes, of such meeting is to consider the advisability of revoking the voluntary dissolution proceedings, shall be given to each member entitled to vote at such meeting, within the time and in the manner provided in this chapter for the giving of notice of meetings of members. A resolution to revoke the voluntary dissolution proceedings shall be adopted upon receiving at least two-thirds of the votes which members present at such meeting or represented by proxy are entitled to cast.

2. Where there are no members, or no members entitled to vote thereon, a resolution to revoke the voluntary dissolution proceedings shall be adopted at a meeting of the board of directors upon receiving the vote of a majority of the directors in office.

Upon the adoption of such resolution by the members, or by the board of directors where there are no members or no members entitled to vote thereon, the corporation may thereupon again conduct its affairs.

504A.51 Articles of dissolution.

If voluntary dissolution proceedings have not been revoked, then when all debts, liabilities, and obligations of the corporation have been paid and discharged, or adequate provision has been made for them, and all of the remaining property and assets of the corporation have been transferred, conveyed, or distributed in accordance with this chapter, articles of dissolution shall be executed by the corporation. The articles of dissolution shall set forth:

1. The name of the corporation.

2. Where there are members entitled to vote thereon, (a) a statement setting forth the date of the meeting of members at which the resolution to dissolve was adopted, that a quorum was present at such meeting, and that such resolution received at least two-thirds of the votes which members present at such meeting or represented by proxy were entitled to cast, or (b) a statement that such resolution was adopted by a consent in writing signed by all members entitled to vote with respect thereto.

3. Where there are no members, or no members entitled to vote thereon, a statement of such fact, the date of the meeting of the board of directors at which the resolution to dissolve was adopted and a statement of the fact that such resolution received the vote of a majority of the directors in office.

4. That all debts, obligations, and liabilities of the corporation have been paid and discharged or that adequate provision has been made therefor.

5. A copy of the plan of distribution, if any, as adopted by the corporation, or a statement that no plan was so adopted.

6. That all the remaining property and assets of the corporation have been transferred, conveyed or distributed in accordance with the provisions of this chapter.

7. That there are no suits pending against the corporation in any court, or that adequate provision has been made for the satisfaction of any judgment, order or decree which may be entered against it in any pending suit.

90 Acts, ch 1164, §18

504A.52 Filing of articles of dissolution.

Such articles of dissolution shall be delivered to the secretary of state for filing and recording in the secretary of state's office.

The secretary of state upon filing the articles of dissolution shall issue a certificate of dissolution, and send the same to the representative of the dissolved corporation. Upon the issuance of such certificate of dissolution the existence of the corporation shall cease, except for the purpose of suits, other proceedings and appropriate corporate action by members, directors and officers as provided in this chapter.

93 Acts, ch 109, §9

504A.53 Involuntary dissolution.

A corporation may be dissolved involuntarily by a decree of the district court in an action filed by the attorney general when any of the following are established:

1. The corporation has failed to file its biennial report within the time required by this chapter.
2. The corporation procured its articles of incorporation through fraud.
3. The corporation has continued to exceed or abuse the authority conferred upon it by law.
4. The corporation has failed for ninety days to appoint and maintain a registered agent in this state.
5. The corporation has failed for ninety days after change of its registered agent to file in the of-file of the secretary of state a statement of such change.

97 Acts, ch 171, §39

504A.54 Notification to attorney general. Repealed by 97 Acts, ch 171, §49.

504A.55 Venue and process.

Every action for the involuntary dissolution of a corporation shall be commenced by the attorney general in the district court of the county in which the registered office of the corporation is situated. Original notice shall be served as in other civil actions. If process is returned not found, the attorney general shall cause publication to be made as in other civil cases in some newspaper published in the county where the registered office of the corporation is situated, containing a notice of the pendency of such action, the title of the court, the title of the action, and the date on or after which default may be entered. The attorney general may include in one notice and in one petition the names of any number of corporations against which actions are then pending in the same county. The attorney general shall cause a copy of such notice to be mailed to the corporation at its registered office within ten days after the first publication thereof. The certificate of the attorney general of the mailing of such notice shall be prima facie evidence thereof. Such notice shall be published at least once each week for two successive weeks, and the first publication thereof may begin at any time after the original notice has been returned. Unless a corporation shall have been served with original notice, no default shall be taken against it earlier than thirty days after the last publication of such notice.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.55]

504A.56 Jurisdiction of court to liquidate assets and affairs of corporation.

Courts of equity shall have full power to liquidate the assets and affairs of a corporation:

1. In a suit by a member or director when it is established:
 - a. That the directors are deadlocked in the management of the corporate affairs and that irreparable injury to the corporation is being suffered or is threatened by reason thereof, and either that the members are unable to break the deadlock or there are no members having voting rights; or
 - b. That the acts of the directors or those in control of the corporation are illegal, oppressive or fraudulent; or
 - c. That the members entitled to vote in the election of directors are deadlocked in voting power and have failed for at least two years to elect successors to directors whose terms have expired or would have expired upon the election of their successors; or

d. That the corporate assets are being misapplied or wasted; or

e. That the corporation is unable to carry out its purposes.

2. In an action by a creditor:

a. When the claim of the creditor has been reduced to judgment and an execution thereon has been returned unsatisfied and it is established that the corporation is insolvent; or

b. When the corporation has admitted in writing that the claim of the creditor is due and owing and it is established that the corporation is insolvent.

3. Upon application by a corporation to have its dissolution continued under the supervision of the court.

4. When an action has been filed by the attorney general to dissolve a corporation and it is established that liquidation of its affairs should precede the entry of a decree of dissolution.

Proceedings under this section shall be brought in the county in which the registered office or the principal office of the corporation is situated.

It shall not be necessary to make directors or members parties to any such suit or proceedings unless relief is sought against them personally.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.56]

504A.57 Procedure in liquidation of corporation by court.

In proceedings to liquidate the assets and affairs of a corporation the court shall have the power to issue injunctions, to appoint a receiver or receivers pendente lite, with such powers and duties as the court, from time to time, may direct, and to take such other proceedings as may be requisite to preserve the corporate assets wherever situated, and carry on the affairs of the corporation until a full hearing can be had.

After a hearing had upon such notice as the court may direct to be given to all parties to the proceedings and to any other parties in interest designated by the court, the court may appoint a liquidating receiver or receivers with authority to collect the assets of the corporation. Such liquidating receiver or receivers shall have authority, subject to the order of the court to sell, convey and dispose of all or any part of the assets of the corporation wherever situated, either at public or private sale. The order appointing such liquidating receiver or receivers shall state their powers and duties. Such powers and duties may be increased or diminished at any time during the proceedings.

The assets of the corporation or the proceeds resulting from a sale, conveyance, or other disposition thereof shall be applied and distributed as follows:

1. All costs and expenses of the court proceedings and all liabilities and obligations of the corporation shall be paid, satisfied and discharged, or adequate provision shall be made therefor;

2. Assets held by the corporation upon condition requiring return, transfer or conveyance, which condition occurs by reason of the dissolution or liquidation, shall be returned, transferred or conveyed in accordance with such requirements;

3. Assets received and held by the corporation subject to limitations permitting their use only for charitable, religious, eleemosynary, benevolent, educational or similar purposes, but not held upon a condition requiring return, transfer or conveyance by reason of the dissolution or liquidation, shall be transferred or conveyed to one or more domestic or foreign corporations, societies or organizations engaged in activities substantially similar to those of the dissolving or liquidating corporation as the court may direct;

4. Other assets, if any, shall be distributed in accordance with the provisions of the articles of incorporation or the bylaws to the extent that the articles of incorporation or bylaws determine the distributive rights of members, or any class or classes of members, or provide for distribution to others;

5. Any remaining assets may be distributed to such persons, societies, organizations or domestic or foreign corporations, whether for profit or not for profit, specified in the plan of distribution adopted as provided in this chapter, or where no plan of distribution has been adopted, as the court may direct.

The court shall have power to allow, from time to time, as expenses of the liquidation compensation to the receiver or receivers and to attorneys in the proceeding, and to direct the payment thereof out of the assets of the corporation or the proceeds of any sale or disposition of such assets.

A receiver of a corporation appointed under the provisions of this section shall have authority to sue and defend in all courts in that person's own name as receiver of such corporation. The court appointing such receiver shall have exclusive jurisdiction of the corporation and its property, wherever situated.

504A.58 Qualification of receivers.

A receiver shall in all cases be a citizen of the United States or a corporation for profit authorized to act as receiver, which corporation may be a domestic corporation or a foreign corporation authorized to transact business in this state, and shall in all cases give such bond as the court may direct with such sureties as the court may require.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.58]

504A.59 Filing of claims in liquidation proceedings.

In proceedings to liquidate the assets and affairs of a corporation the court may require all creditors of the corporation to file with the clerk of the court or with the receiver, in such form as the court may prescribe, proofs under oath of their respective claims. If the court requires the filing of claims it shall fix a date, which shall be not less than four months from the date of the order, as the last day for the filing of claims, and shall prescribe the notice that shall be given to creditors and claimants of the date so fixed. Prior to the date so fixed, the court may extend the time for the filing of claims. Creditors and claimants failing to file proofs of claim on or before the date so fixed may be barred, by order of court, from participating in the distribution of the assets of the corporation.

504A.60 Discontinuance of liquidation proceedings.

The liquidation of the assets and affairs of a corporation may be discontinued at any time during the liquidation proceedings when it is established that cause for liquidation no longer exists. In such event the court shall dismiss the proceedings and direct the receiver to redeliver to the corporation all its remaining property and assets.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.60]

504A.61 Decree of dissolution.

In proceedings to liquidate the assets and affairs of a corporation, when the costs and expenses of such proceedings and all debts, obligations, and liabilities of the corporation shall have been paid and discharged and all of its remaining property and assets distributed in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, or in case its property and assets are not sufficient to satisfy and discharge such costs, expenses, debts, and obligations, and all the property and assets have been applied so far as they will go to their payment, the court shall enter a decree dissolving the corporation, whereupon the existence of the corporation shall cease.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.61]

504A.62 Filing of decree of dissolution.

In case the court shall enter a decree dissolving a corporation, it shall be the duty of the clerk of such court to cause certified copies of the decree to be filed with and recorded by the secretary of state.

93 Acts, ch 109, §10

504A.63 Deposit with state treasurer.

1. Upon the voluntary or involuntary dissolution of a corporation the portion of the assets distributable to any person who is known, or who is under disability and there is no person legally competent to receive such distributive portion, or who cannot be found after the exercise of reasonable diligence by the person or persons responsible for the distribution in liquidation of the corporation's assets, shall be reduced to cash and deposited with the state treasurer, together with a statement giving the name of the person, if known, entitled to such fund, that person's last known address, the amount of that person's distributive portion, and such other information about such person as the state treasurer may reasonably require, whereupon the person or persons responsible for the distribution in liquidation of the corporation's assets shall be released and discharged from any further liability with respect to the funds so deposited. The state treasurer shall issue the treasurer of state's receipt for such fund and shall deposit same in a special account to be maintained by the treasurer.

2. On receipt of satisfactory written and verified proof of ownership of or right to such fund within twenty years from the date such fund was so deposited, the state treasurer shall certify such fact to the director of revenue and finance, who shall issue proper warrant therefor drawn on the state treasurer in favor of the person or persons then entitled thereto. If no claimant has made satisfactory proof of right to such fund within twenty years from the time of such deposit, the state treasurer shall then cause to be published in one issue of a newspaper of general circulation in the county of the last registered office of the corporation, as shown by the records of the secretary of state, a notice of the proposed escheat of such fund, giving the name of the person apparently entitled thereto, that person's last known address, if any, the amount of the fund so deposited, and the name of the dissolved corporation from whose assets such fund was derived. If no claimant makes satisfactory proof of right to such fund within two months from the time of such publication, the fund so unclaimed shall thereupon automatically escheat to and become the property of the general fund of the state.

504A.64 Survival of rights and remedies after dissolution or expiration.

The dissolution of a corporation or the expiration of its period of duration, shall not take away or impair any remedy available to or against such corporation, its directors, officers, or members, for any right or claim existing, or any liability incurred, prior to such dissolution or expiration, if action or other proceeding thereon is commenced within two years after the date of such dissolution or expiration. Any such action or proceeding by or against the corporation may be prosecuted or defended by the corporation in its corporate name. The members, directors and officers shall have power to take such corporate or other action as shall be appropriate to protect such remedy, right or claim. If the period of duration of a corporation has expired, it may amend its articles of incorporation at any time within five years after the date of such expiration so as to extend its period of duration.

A corporation which has been dissolved or the period of duration of which has expired by limitation or otherwise, may nevertheless continue to act for the purpose of conveying title to its property, real and personal, and otherwise winding up its affairs.

504A.64A Reincorporation. Repealed by 95 Acts, ch 188, § 3.

504A.65 Admission of foreign corporation.

No foreign corporation shall have the right to conduct affairs in this state until it shall have procured a certificate of authority so to do from the secretary of state. No foreign corporation shall be entitled to procure a certificate of authority under this chapter to conduct in this state any affairs which a corporation organized under this chapter is prohibited from conducting. A foreign corporation shall not be denied a certificate of authority by reason of the fact that the laws of the state or country under which such corporation is organized governing its organization and internal affairs differ from the laws of this state, and nothing in this chapter contained shall be construed to authorize this state to regulate the organization or the internal affairs of such corporation.

Without excluding other activities which may not constitute conducting affairs in this state, a foreign corporation shall not be considered to be conducting affairs in this state, for the purposes of this chapter, by reason of carrying on in this state any one or more of the following activities:

1. Maintaining or defending any action or suit or any administrative or arbitration proceeding, or effecting the settlement thereof or the settlement of claims or disputes.
2. Holding meetings of its directors or members or carrying on other activities concerning its internal affairs.
3. Maintaining bank accounts.
4. Creating evidences of debt, mortgages or liens on real or personal property.
5. Securing or collecting debts due to it or enforcing any rights in property securing the same.
6. Soliciting funds.
7. Conducting its affairs in interstate commerce.
8. Granting funds.
9. Distributing information to its members.
10. Conducting an isolated transaction completed within a period of thirty days and not in the course of a number of repeated transactions of like nature.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.65]

504A.66 Powers of foreign corporation.

A foreign corporation which shall have received a certificate of authority under this chapter, shall, until a certificate of revocation or of withdrawal shall have been issued as provided in this chapter, enjoy the same, but no greater, rights and privileges as a domestic corporation organized for the purposes set forth in the application pursuant to which such certificate of authorization is issued; and, except as in this chapter otherwise provided, shall be subject to the same duties, restrictions, penalties and liabilities now or hereafter imposed upon a domestic corporation of like character.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.66]

504A.67 Name of a foreign corporation.

1. If the corporate name of a foreign corporation does not satisfy the requirements of section 504A.6, the foreign corporation, to obtain or maintain a certificate of authority to conduct affairs in this state, may use a fictitious name to transact business in this state if its real name is unavailable and it delivers to the secretary of state for filing a copy of the resolution of its board of directors, certified by its secretary, adopting the fictitious name.

2. Except as authorized by subsections 3 and 4, the corporate name, including a fictitious name, of a corporation must be distinguishable upon the records of the secretary of state from all of the following:

a. The corporate name of a nonprofit or business corporation incorporated or authorized to conduct affairs or to transact business in this state.

b. A corporate name reserved under section 504A.7 or section 490.402, or registered under section 490.403.

c. The fictitious name of another foreign business or nonprofit corporation authorized to transact business or conduct affairs in this state.

3. A foreign corporation may apply to the secretary of state for authorization to use in this state the name of another corporation, incorporated or authorized to transact business or conduct affairs in this state, that is not distinguishable upon the records of the secretary of state from the name applied for. The secretary of state shall authorize use of the name applied for if one of the following conditions applies:

a. The other corporation consents to the use in writing and submits an undertaking in a form satisfactory to the secretary of state to change its name to a name that is distinguishable upon the records of the secretary of state from the name of the applying corporation.

b. The applicant delivers to the secretary of state a certified copy of a final judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction establishing the applicant's right to use the name applied for in this state.

4. A foreign corporation may use in this state the name, including a fictitious name, of another domestic or foreign business or nonprofit corporation that is used in this state if the other corporation is incorporated or authorized to transact business or conduct affairs in this state and the foreign corporation meets one of the following conditions:

- a. Has merged with the other corporation.
- b. Has been formed by reorganization of the other corporation.
- c. Has acquired all or substantially all of the assets, including the corporate name, of the other corporation.

5. If a foreign corporation authorized to conduct affairs in this state changes its corporate name to one that does not satisfy the requirements of section 504A.6, it shall not conduct affairs in this state under the changed name until it adopts a name satisfying the requirements of section 504A.6 and obtains an amended certificate of authority.

504A.68 Change of name by foreign corporation.

Whenever a foreign corporation which is authorized to conduct affairs in this state shall change its name to one under which a certificate of authority would not be granted to it on application therefor, the certificate of authority of such corporation shall be suspended and it shall not thereafter conduct any affairs in this state until it has changed its name to a name which is available to it under the laws of this state.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.68]

504A.69 Application for certificate of authority.

A foreign corporation, in order to procure a certificate of authority to conduct affairs in this state, shall make application therefor to the secretary of state, which application shall set forth:

1. The name of the corporation and the state or country under the laws of which it is incorporated.
2. The date of incorporation and the period of duration of the corporation.
3. The address of the principal office of the corporation in the state or country under the laws of which it is incorporated.
4. The address of the proposed registered office of the corporation in this state, and the name of its proposed registered agent or agents in this state at such address.
5. The purpose or purposes of the corporation which it proposes to pursue in conducting its affairs in this state.
6. The names and respective addresses of the directors and officers of the corporation.
7. Such additional information as may be necessary or appropriate in order to enable the secretary of state to determine whether such corporation is entitled to a certificate of authority to conduct affairs in this state.

The application shall be made on forms prescribed and furnished by the secretary of state and shall be executed by the corporation.

504A.70 Filing of application for certificate of authority.

The application of the corporation for a certificate of authority, together with a certificate of good standing or existence, duly certified by the proper officer of the state or country under the laws of which it is incorporated, shall be delivered to the secretary of state for filing in the secretary of state's office.

Upon the filing of the application the secretary of state shall issue a certificate of authority to conduct affairs in this state to which the secretary shall affix the application, and send the same to the corporation or its representative.

504A.71 Effect of certificate of authority.

Upon the issuance of a certificate of authority by the secretary of state, the corporation shall be authorized to conduct affairs in this state for those purposes set forth in its application, subject, however, to the right of this state to suspend or to revoke such authority as provided in this chapter.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.71]

504A.72 Registered office and registered agent of foreign corporation.

Each foreign corporation authorized to conduct affairs in this state shall have and continuously maintain in this state:

1. A registered office which may be, but need not be, the same as its principal office.
2. A registered agent or agents which may be either an individual resident in this state whose business office is identical with such registered office, or a domestic corporation, whether for profit or not for profit, or a foreign corporation, whether for profit or not for profit, authorized to transact business or conduct affairs in this state, having an office identical with such registered office.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.72]

504A.73 Change of registered office or registered agent of foreign corporation.

A foreign corporation authorized to conduct affairs in this state may change its registered office or change its registered agent or agents, or both office and agent or agents, upon filing in the office of the secretary of state a statement setting forth:

1. The name of the corporation.
2. The address of its then registered office.

3. If the address of its registered office be changed, the address to which the registered office is to be changed.

4. The name of its then registered agent or agents.

5. If its registered agent or agents are changed, the name of its successor registered agent or agents, and the new agent's or agents' written consent, either on the statement, or by attaching the agent's consent to the appointment.

6. That the address of its registered office and the address of the business office of its registered agent or agents, as changed, will be identical.

Such statement shall be executed by the corporation by its president or a vice president, and verified by that person, and delivered to the secretary of state. If the secretary of state finds that such statement conforms to the provisions of this chapter, the secretary shall file such statement in the secretary of state's office, and upon such filing the change of address of the registered office, or the appointment of a new registered agent or agents, or both, as the case may be, shall become effective.

If a registered agent or agents change the agent's or agents' business address to another place within the same county, the agent or agents may change such address and the address of the registered office of any corporations of which that person is registered agent by filing a statement as required above for each corporation, or a single statement for all corporations named therein, except that it need be signed only by the registered agent or agents and need not be responsive to subsection 5 above, and must recite that notification of such change has been mailed to each such corporation. Such statement executed and filed by a registered agent shall become effective upon the filing thereof in the manner as required above for statements executed by the foreign corporation.

Any registered agent of a foreign corporation may resign as such agent upon filing a written notice thereof, executed in duplicate, with the secretary of state, who shall forthwith mail a copy thereof to the corporation at its principal office in the state or country under the laws of which it is incorporated. The appointment of such agent shall terminate upon the expiration of thirty days after receipt of such notice by the secretary of state.

The secretary of state may provide for the change of registered office or registered agent on the form prescribed by the secretary of state for the biennial report pursuant to section 504A.83, provided that the form contains the information required in this section. If the secretary of state determines that a biennial report does not contain the information required by section 504A.83 but otherwise meets the requirements of this section for the purpose of changing the registered office or registered agent, the secretary of state shall file the statement of change of registered office or registered agent before returning the biennial report to the corporation pursuant to section 504A.84. A statement of change of registered office or registered agent pursuant to this paragraph shall be executed by a person authorized to execute the biennial report.

504A.74 Service of process on foreign corporation.

Each registered agent so appointed by a foreign corporation authorized to conduct affairs in this state shall be an agent of such corporation upon whom any process, notice or demand required or permitted by law to be served upon the corporation may be served.

Whenever a foreign corporation authorized to conduct affairs in this state shall fail to appoint or maintain a registered agent in this state, or whenever any such registered agent cannot with reasonable diligence be found at the registered office, or whenever the certificate of authority of a foreign corporation shall be suspended or revoked, then the secretary of state shall be an agent of such corporation upon whom any such process, notice or demand may be served. Service on the secretary of state of any such process, notice or demand shall be made by delivering to and leaving with the secretary, the secretary's deputy, or with any person having charge of the corporation department of the secretary of state's office, duplicate copies of such process, notice or demand. In the event any such process, notice or demand is served on the secretary of state, the secretary shall immediately cause one of such copies thereof to be forwarded by registered or certified mail, addressed to the corporation at its principal office in the state or country under the laws of which it is incorporated. Process, notice or demand served on the secretary of state upon a foreign corporation which has withdrawn from this state shall be mailed in the manner provided by this section to the corporation at the address set forth in its application for withdrawal. Any service so had on the secretary of state shall be returnable in not less than thirty days.

The secretary of state shall keep a record of all processes, notices and demands served upon the secretary under this section, and shall record therein the time of such service and the secretary's action with reference thereto.

Nothing herein contained shall limit or affect the right to serve any process, notice or demand, required or permitted by law to be served upon a corporation in any other manner now or hereafter permitted by law.

504A.76 Merger of foreign corporation authorized to conduct affairs in this state. Repealed by 86 Acts, ch 1173, § 20.

504A.77 Amended certificate of authority.

A foreign corporation authorized to conduct affairs in this state shall procure an amended certificate of authority in the event it changes its corporate name, or desires to pursue in this state other or additional purposes than those set forth in its prior application for a certificate of authority, by making application therefor to the secretary of state.

The requirements in respect to the form and contents of the application, the manner of its execution, the filing of the application with the secretary of state, the issuance of an amended certificate of authority and the effect thereof, shall be the same as in the case of an original application for a certificate of authority.

504A.78 Withdrawal of foreign corporation.

A foreign corporation authorized to conduct affairs in this state may withdraw from this state upon procuring from the secretary of state a certificate of withdrawal. In order to procure such certificate of withdrawal, such foreign corporation shall deliver to the secretary of state an application for withdrawal, which shall set forth:

1. The name of the corporation and the state or country under the laws of which it is incorporated.
2. That the corporation is not conducting affairs in this state.
3. That the corporation surrenders its authority to conduct affairs in this state.
4. That the corporation revokes the authority of its registered agent or agents in this state to accept service of process and consents that service of process in any action, suit or proceeding based upon any cause of action arising in this state during the time the corporation was authorized to conduct affairs in this state may thereafter be made on such corporation by service thereof on the secretary of state.
5. A post office address to which the secretary of state may mail a copy of any process against the corporation that may be served on the secretary.
6. Such additional information as may be necessary or appropriate in order to enable the secretary of state to determine and assess any unpaid fees payable by such foreign corporation as in this chapter prescribed.

The application for withdrawal shall be made on forms prescribed and furnished by the secretary of state and shall be executed by the corporation.

90 Acts, ch 1164, §22

504A.79 Filing of application for withdrawal.

The application for withdrawal shall be delivered to the secretary of state. If the secretary of state finds that such application conforms to the provisions of this chapter, the secretary shall, when all fees due the secretary have been paid as in this chapter prescribed:

1. Endorse on each of such duplicate originals the word "Filed", and the month, day and year of the filing thereof.
2. File one of such duplicate originals in the secretary of state's office.
3. Issue a certificate of withdrawal to which the secretary of state shall affix the other duplicate original.

The certificate of withdrawal, together with the duplicate original of the application for withdrawal affixed thereto by the secretary of state, shall be returned to the corporation or its representative. Upon the issuance of such certificate of withdrawal, the authority of the corporation to conduct affairs in this state shall cease.

504A.80 Revocation of foreign corporation's certificate of authority.

The certificate of authority of a foreign corporation to conduct affairs in this state may be revoked by the secretary of state upon the conditions prescribed in this section upon the occurrence of any of the following:

2. The corporation has failed to appoint and maintain a registered agent in this state as required by this chapter.
3. The corporation has failed, after change of its registered office or registered agent, to file in the office of the secretary of state a statement of such change as required by this chapter.
4. A misrepresentation has been made of any material matter in any application, report, affidavit, or other document submitted by the corporation pursuant to this chapter.

A certificate of authority of a foreign corporation shall not be revoked by the secretary of state unless the secretary has given the corporation not less than sixty days' notice by mail addressed to the principal office of the corporation in the state or country under the laws of which it is incorporated, and the corporation fails prior to revocation to file the biennial report, or pay the fees or penalties, or file the required statement of change of registered agent or registered office, or correct the misrepresentation.

504A.81 Issuance of certificate of revocation.

Upon revoking any such certificate of authority, the secretary of state shall:

1. Issue a certificate of revocation in duplicate.
2. File one of such certificates in the secretary of state's office.
3. Mail to such corporation at the principal office of the corporation in the state or country under the laws of which it is incorporated a notice of such revocation accompanied by one of such certificates.

Upon the issuance of such certificate of revocation, the authority of the corporation to conduct affairs in this state shall cease.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.81]

504A.82 Conducting affairs without certificate of authority.

No foreign corporation which is conducting affairs in this state without a certificate of authority shall be permitted to maintain any action, suit or proceeding in any court of this state until such corporation shall have obtained a certificate of authority. Nor shall any action, suit or proceeding be maintained in any court of this state by any successor or assignee of such corporation on any right, claim or demand arising out of the conduct of affairs by such corporation in this state, until a certificate of authority shall have been obtained by such corporation or by a corporation which has acquired all or substantially all of its assets.

The failure of a foreign corporation to obtain a certificate of authority to conduct affairs in this state shall not impair the validity of any contract or act of such corporation, and shall not prevent such corporation from defending any action, suit or proceeding in any court of this state.

A foreign corporation which conducts affairs in this state without a certificate of authority shall be liable to this state, for the years or parts thereof during which it conducted affairs in this state without a certificate of authority, in an amount equal to all fees which would have been imposed by this chapter upon such corporation had it duly applied for and received a certificate of authority to conduct affairs in this state as required by this chapter and thereafter filed all reports required by this chapter, plus all penalties imposed by this chapter for failure to pay such fees. The attorney general shall bring proceedings to recover all amounts due this state under the provisions of this section. If any foreign corporation shall conduct affairs in this state without a certificate of authority, it shall by conducting such affairs be deemed thereby to have appointed the secretary of state its attorney for service of process.

504A.83 Biennial report of domestic and foreign corporations.

Each domestic corporation, and each foreign corporation authorized to conduct affairs in this state, shall file, within the time prescribed by this chapter, a biennial report setting forth:

1. The name of the corporation and the state or country under the laws of which it is incorporated.
2. The address of the registered office of the corporation in this state, and the name of its registered agent or agents in this state at such address, and, in the case of a foreign corporation, the address of its principal office in the state or country under the laws of which it is incorporated.
3. The names and addresses of the president, secretary, treasurer, and one member of the board of directors.

The biennial report shall be made on forms prescribed and furnished by the secretary of state, and the information contained in the report shall be given as of the date of the execution of the report. It shall be executed by the corporation by a representative duly authorized by the board of directors, or, if the corporation is in the hands of a receiver, trustee, or assignee for benefit of creditors, it shall be executed on behalf of the corporation by the receiver, trustee, or assignee.

504A.84 Filing of biennial report of domestic and foreign corporations.

The first biennial report of a domestic or foreign corporation shall be delivered to the secretary of state between January 1 and April 1 of the first odd-numbered year following the calendar year in which a domestic corporation was incorporated or a foreign corporation was authorized to transact business. Subsequent biennial reports must be delivered to the secretary of state between January 1 and April 1 of the following odd-numbered calendar years. A filing fee for the biennial report shall be determined by the secretary of state. For purposes of this section, each biennial report shall contain information related to the two-year period immediately preceding the calendar year in which the report is filed.

The report shall be deemed filed within the required time if deposited in the United States mail with postage prepaid in a sealed envelope, properly addressed and postmarked on or prior to the thirty-first day of March of the year the report is due. If the secretary of state finds that the report conforms to the requirements of this chapter, the secretary shall file the report. If a biennial report does not contain the information required by this section, the secretary of state shall promptly notify the reporting domestic or foreign corporation in writing and return the report to the corporation for correction.

The secretary of state shall charge and collect for:

1. Filing articles of incorporation and issuing a certificate of incorporation, twenty dollars.
2. Filing statement of election to accept the chapter, five dollars.
3. Filing articles of amendment and issuing a certificate of amendment, ten dollars.
4. Filing restated articles of incorporation, twenty dollars.
5. Filing articles of merger or consolidation and issuing a certificate of merger or consolidation, twenty dollars.
6. Filing an application to reserve a corporate name, ten dollars.
7. Filing a notice of transfer of a reserved corporate name, ten dollars.
8. Filing articles of dissolution, five dollars.
9. Filing an application of a foreign corporation for a certificate of authority to conduct affairs in this state and issuing a certificate of authority, twenty-five dollars.
10. Filing an application of a foreign corporation for an amended certificate of authority to conduct affairs in this state and issuing an amended certificate of authority, twenty-five dollars.
11. Filing an application for withdrawal of a foreign corporation and issuing a certificate of withdrawal, five dollars.
12. Filing any other statement or report, except a statement of change of registered office or registered agent, of a domestic or foreign corporation, five dollars.

504A.86 Miscellaneous charges.

The secretary of state shall charge and collect:

1. For furnishing a certified copy of any document, instrument, or paper relating to a corporation, one dollar per page and five dollars for the certificate and affixing the seal thereto; and for furnishing an uncertified copy, one dollar per page.
2. At the time of any service of process on the secretary of state as resident agent of a corporation, ten dollars, which amount may be recovered as taxable costs by the party to the suit or action causing such service to be made if such party prevails in the suit or action.

3. For a certificate of good standing, five dollars.

504A.87 Grounds for administrative dissolution.

The secretary of state may commence a proceeding under section 504A.87A to administratively dissolve a corporation if any of the following apply:

1. The corporation does not pay within sixty days after they are due any franchise taxes or penalties imposed by this chapter or other law.
2. The corporation has not delivered a biennial report to the secretary of state in a form that meets the requirements of section 504A.83, within sixty days after it is due.
3. The corporation is without a registered agent or registered office in this state for sixty days or more.
4. The corporation does not notify the secretary of state within sixty days that its registered agent or registered office has been changed, that its registered agent has resigned, or that its registered office has been discontinued.

5. The corporation's period of duration stated in its articles of incorporation expires.

504A.87A Procedure for and effect of administrative dissolution.

1. If the secretary of state determines that one or more grounds exist under section 504A.87 for dissolving a corporation the secretary of state shall serve the corporation by ordinary mail with written notice of the secretary of state's determination.

2. If the corporation does not correct each ground for dissolution or demonstrate to the reasonable satisfaction of the secretary of state that each ground determined by the secretary of state does not exist within sixty days after the date of the notice, the secretary of state shall administratively dissolve the corporation by signing a certificate of dissolution that recites the ground or grounds for dissolution and its effective date. The secretary of state shall file the original of the certificate and serve a copy on the corporation.

3. A corporation administratively dissolved continues its existence but shall not carry on any business except that necessary to wind up and liquidate its business and affairs and notify claimants.

4. The administrative dissolution of a corporation does not terminate the authority of its registered agent.

93 Acts, ch 126, §28

504A.87B Reinstatement following administrative dissolution.

1. A corporation administratively dissolved under section 504A.87A may apply to the secretary of state for reinstatement within two years after the effective date of dissolution. The application must meet all of the following requirements:

a. Recite the name of the corporation at its date of dissolution and the effective date of its administrative dissolution.

b. State that the ground or grounds for dissolution either did not exist or have been eliminated.

2. If the secretary of state determines that the application contains the information required by subsection 1 and that the information is correct, the secretary of state shall cancel the certificate of dissolution and prepare a certificate of reinstatement that recites the secretary of state's determination and the effective date of reinstatement, file the original of the certificate, and serve a copy on the corporation.

3. When the reinstatement is effective, it relates back to and takes effect as of the effective date of the administrative dissolution as if the administrative dissolution had never occurred.

93 Acts, ch 126, §29

504A.87C Appeal from denial of reinstatement.

1. If the secretary of state denies a corporation's application for reinstatement following administrative dissolution, the secretary of state shall serve the corporation with a written notice that explains the reason or reasons for denial.

2. The corporation may appeal the denial of reinstatement to the district court within thirty days after service of the notice of denial is perfected. The corporation appeals by petitioning the court to set aside the dissolution and attaching to the petition copies of the secretary of state's certificate of dissolution, the corporation's application for reinstatement, and the secretary of state's notice of denial.

3. The court may summarily order the secretary of state to reinstate the dissolved corporation or may take other action the court considers appropriate.

4. The court's final decision may be appealed as in other civil proceedings.

93 Acts, ch 126, §30

504A.88 Penalties imposed upon officers and directors.

Each director and officer of a corporation, domestic or foreign, who willfully fails or refuses within the time prescribed by this chapter to answer truthfully and fully reasonable and proper interrogatories propounded to the director or officer by the secretary of state in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, or who signs any articles, statement, report, application or other document filed with the secretary of state which is known to such officer or director to be false in any material respect, shall be deemed to be guilty of a simple misdemeanor.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.88]

504A.89 Interrogatories by secretary of state.

The secretary of state may propound to any corporation, domestic or foreign, subject to the provisions of this chapter, and to any officer or director thereof, such interrogatories as may be reasonably necessary and proper to enable the secretary to ascertain whether such corporation has complied with all the provisions of this chapter applicable to such corporation. Such interrogatories shall be answered within thirty days after the mailing thereof, or within such additional time as shall be fixed by the secretary of state, and the answers thereto shall be full and complete and shall be made in writing and under oath. If such interrogatories be directed to an individual they shall be answered by that individual, and if directed to a corporation they shall be answered by the president, vice president, treasurer, assistant treasurer, secretary or assistant secretary thereof. The secretary of state need not file any document to which such interrogatories relate until such interrogatories be answered as herein provided, and not then if the answers thereto disclose that such document is not in conformity with the provisions of this chapter. The secretary of state shall certify to the attorney general, for such action as the attorney general may deem appropriate, all interrogatories and answers thereto which disclose a violation of any of the provisions of this chapter.

504A.90 Information disclosed by interrogatories.

Interrogatories propounded by the secretary of state and the answers thereto shall not be open to public inspection nor shall the secretary of state disclose any facts or information obtained therefrom except insofar as required in the performance of the secretary of state's official duties.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.90]

504A.91 Powers of secretary of state.

The secretary of state shall have the power and authority reasonably necessary to enable the secretary to administer this chapter efficiently and to perform the duties therein imposed upon the secretary.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.91]

504A.92 Judicial review.

If the secretary of state shall fail to approve any articles of incorporation, amendment, merger, consolidation or dissolution, or any other document required by this chapter to be approved by the secretary of state before the same shall be filed in the secretary of state's office, the secretary shall, within ten days after the delivery thereof to the secretary, give written notice of the secretary's disapproval to the person or corporation, domestic or foreign, delivering the same, specifying the reasons therefor. Judicial review of the acts of the secretary of state may be sought in accordance with the terms of the Iowa administrative procedure Act. Notwithstanding the terms of said Act, petitions for judicial review may be filed in the district court of the county in which the registered office of such corporation is, or is proposed to be, situated by filing with the clerk of such court a petition setting forth a copy of the articles or other document sought to be filed and a copy of the written disapproval thereof by the secretary of state; whereupon the matter shall be tried de novo by the court, and the court shall either sustain the action of the secretary of state or direct the secretary to take such action as the court may deem proper.

If the secretary of state shall revoke the certificate of authority to conduct affairs in this state of any foreign corporation, pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, judicial review may be sought of such action in accordance with the terms of the Iowa administrative procedure Act. Notwithstanding the terms of said Act, petitions for judicial review may be filed in the district court of the county where the registered office of such corporation in this state is situated.

504A.93 Certificates and certified copies to be received in evidence.

All certificates issued by the secretary of state in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, and copies of all documents filed or recorded in the secretary of state's office in accordance with the provisions of this chapter when certified by the secretary, shall be taken and received in all courts, public offices, and official bodies as prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated. A certificate by the secretary of state under the seal of the secretary of state's office, as to the existence or nonexistence of the facts relating to corporations which would not appear from a certified copy of any of the foregoing documents or certificates shall be taken and received in all courts, public offices, and official bodies as prima facie evidence of the existence or nonexistence of the facts therein stated.

504A.94 Forms to be furnished by secretary of state.

All reports required by this chapter to be filed in the office of the secretary of state shall be made on forms which shall be prescribed and furnished by the secretary of state. Forms for other documents to be filed in the office of the secretary of state may be furnished by the secretary of state on request therefor, but the use thereof, unless otherwise specifically prescribed in this chapter, shall not be mandatory.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.94]

504A.95 Voting requirements.

Whenever, with respect to any action to be taken by the members or directors of a corporation, the articles of incorporation or bylaws require voting by classes of members or the vote or concurrence of a greater or lesser proportion of the directors or members or any class of members, as the case may be, than required by this chapter with respect to such action, the provisions of the articles of incorporation or bylaws, as the case may be, shall control.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.95]

504A.96 Waiver of notice.

Whenever any notice is required to be given to any member or director of a corporation under the provisions of this chapter or under the provisions of the articles of incorporation or bylaws of the corporation, a waiver thereof in writing signed by the person or persons entitled to such notice, whether before or after the time stated therein, shall be equivalent to the giving of such notice.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.96]

504A.97 Informal action by members or directors.

Any action required by this chapter to be taken at a meeting of the members or directors of a corporation, or any action which may be taken at a meeting of the members or directors or of a committee of directors, may be taken without a meeting if a consent in writing setting forth the action so taken, shall be signed by all of the members entitled to vote with respect to the subject matter thereof or all of the directors or all of the members of the committee of directors, as the case may be. Such consent shall have the same force and effect as a unanimous vote and may be stated as such in any articles or document filed with the secretary of state under this chapter. The provisions of this section shall be applicable whether or not this chapter requires that an action be taken by resolution.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.97]

504A.98 Unauthorized assumption of corporate powers.

All persons who assume to act as a corporation without authority so to do shall be jointly and severally liable for all debts and liabilities incurred or arising as a result thereof.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.98]

504A.99 Reservation of power.

The general assembly shall at all times have power to prescribe such regulations, provisions and limitations as it may deem advisable, which regulations, provisions and limitations shall be binding upon any and all corporations subject to the provisions of this chapter, and the general assembly shall have power to amend, repeal or modify this chapter at pleasure.

[C66, 71, 73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504A.99]

504A.100 Application to existing corporations.

1. Except for this subsection, this chapter shall not apply to or affect corporations subject to the provisions of chapters 176, 497, 498, 499, or 512B. Such corporations shall continue to be governed by all laws of this state heretofore applicable thereto and as the same may hereafter be amended. This chapter shall not be construed as in derogation of or as a limitation on the powers to which such corporations may be entitled.

2. This chapter shall not apply to any domestic corporation heretofore organized or existing under the provisions of chapter 504 of the Code nor, for a period of two years from and after July 4, 1965, to any foreign corporation holding a permit under the provisions of said chapter on the said date, unless such domestic or foreign corporation shall voluntarily elect to adopt the provisions of this chapter and shall comply with the procedure prescribed by the provisions of subsection 3 of this section.

3. Any domestic corporation organized or existing under the provisions of chapter 504, Code 1989, may voluntarily elect to adopt the provisions of this chapter and thereby become subject to its provisions and, during the period of two years from and after the effective date of this chapter, any foreign corporation holding a permit under the provisions of said chapter on said date may voluntarily elect to adopt the provisions of this chapter and thereby become subject to the provisions of this chapter. The procedure for electing to adopt the provisions of this chapter shall be as follows:

a. A resolution reciting that the corporation voluntarily adopts this chapter and designating the address of its initial registered office and the name of its registered agent or agents at that address and, if the name of the corporation does not comply with this chapter, amending the articles of incorporation of the corporation to change the name of the corporation to one complying with the requirements of this chapter, shall be adopted by the procedure prescribed by this chapter for the amendment of articles of incorporation. If the corporation has issued shares of stock, the resolution shall contain a statement of that fact including the number of shares authorized, the number issued and outstanding, and a statement that all issued and outstanding shares of stock have been delivered to the corporation to be canceled upon the adoption of this chapter by the corporation, or will be canceled upon receipt by the corporation, and that from and after the effective date of adoption the authority of the corporation to issue shares of stock is terminated. As to foreign corporations, a resolution shall be adopted by the board of directors, reciting that the corporation voluntarily adopts this chapter, and designating the address of its registered office in this state and the name of its registered agent or agents at that address and, if the name of the corporation does not comply with this chapter, setting forth the name of the corporation with the changes which it elects to make in the name conforming to the requirements of this chapter for use in this state.

b. Upon adoption of the required resolution or resolutions, an instrument shall be executed by the corporation which shall set forth both of the following:

(1) The name of the corporation.

(2) Each such resolution adopted by the corporation and the date of its adoption.

c. As to domestic corporations such instrument shall be delivered to the secretary of state for filing and recording in the secretary of state's office.

d. As to foreign corporations, such instrument shall be delivered to the secretary of state for filing in the secretary of state's office and the corporation shall at the same time deliver also to the secretary of state for filing in the secretary of state's office any biennial report which is then due.

e. The secretary of state shall not file such instrument with respect to a domestic corporation unless at the time thereof such corporation is validly existing and in good standing in that office under the provisions of chapter 504, Code 1989. If the articles of incorporation of such corporation have not heretofore been filed in the office of the secretary of state, but are on file in the office of a county recorder, no such instrument of adoption shall be accepted by the secretary of state until the corporation shall have caused its articles of incorporation and all amendments duly certified by the proper county recorder to be recorded in the office of the secretary of state. Upon the filing of such instrument the secretary of state shall issue a certificate as to the filing of such instrument and deliver such certificate to the corporation or its representative.

Upon the issuance of such certificate by the secretary of state:

(1) All of the provisions of this chapter shall thereafter apply to the corporation and thereupon every such foreign corporation shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges applicable to foreign corporations procuring certificates of authority to conduct affairs in this state under this chapter, and shall be subject to all the limitations, restrictions, liabilities, and duties prescribed herein for foreign corporations procuring certificates of authority to conduct affairs in this state under this chapter.

(2) In the case of any corporation with issued shares of stock, the holders of such issued shares who surrender them to the corporation to be canceled upon the adoption of this chapter by the corporation becoming effective, shall be and become members of the corporation with one vote for each share of stock so surrendered until such time as the corporation by proper corporate action relative to the election, qualification, terms and voting power of members shall otherwise prescribe.

4. Any domestic corporation which elects to adopt the provisions of this chapter by complying with the provisions of subsection 3 of this section may, at the same time, amend or restate its articles of incorporation by complying with the provisions of this chapter with respect to amending articles of incorporation or restating articles of incorporation, as the case may be.

5. The provisions of this chapter becoming applicable to any domestic or foreign corporation shall not affect any right accrued or established, or any liability or penalty incurred, under the provisions of chapter 504, Code 1989, prior to the filing by the secretary of state in the secretary of state's office of the instrument manifesting the election of such corporation to adopt the provisions of this chapter as provided in subsection 3 of this section.

6. Except for the exceptions and limitations of subsection 1 of this section, this chapter shall apply to: all domestic corporations organized after the date on which this chapter became effective; domestic corporations organized or existing under chapter 504, Code 1989, which voluntarily elect to adopt the provisions of this chapter and comply with the provisions of subsection 3 of this section; all foreign corporations conducting or seeking to conduct affairs within this state and not holding, July 4, 1965, a valid permit so to do; foreign corporations holding, on the date the chapter becomes effective, a valid permit under the provisions of chapter 504, Code 1989, which, during the period of two years from and after said date, voluntarily elect to adopt the provisions of this chapter and comply with the provisions of subsection 3 of this section; and, upon the expiration of the period of two years from and after July 4, 1965, all foreign corporations holding such a permit on July 4, 1965.

7. Upon the expiration of a period of two years from and after the date on July 4, 1965, except for the exceptions and limitations of subsection 1 of this section, this chapter shall apply to every foreign corporation holding a valid permit to do business within this state or seeking to conduct affairs within this state. Every foreign corporation holding a valid permit to do business within this state on July 4, 1965, which has not meanwhile adopted this chapter by complying with the provisions of subsection 3 of this section, shall at the expiration of two years from and after said date be deemed to have elected to adopt this chapter by not voluntarily withdrawing from the state, and thereupon every such foreign corporation, subject to the limitations set forth in its certificate of authority, shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges applicable to foreign corporations procuring certificates of authority to conduct affairs in this state under this chapter, and shall be subject to all the limitations, restrictions, liabilities, and duties prescribed herein for foreign corporations procuring certificates of authority to conduct affairs in this state under this chapter.

8. Within eight months after this chapter becomes applicable to any foreign corporation pursuant to the provisions of subsection 7, the board of directors of such foreign corporation shall adopt a resolution designating the address of its registered office in this state and the name of its registered agent or agents at such address and, if the name of the corporation does not comply with this chapter, setting forth the name of the corporation with the changes which the board elects to make to the name conforming to the requirements of this chapter for use in this state.

Upon adoption of the required resolution or resolutions, an instrument or instruments shall be executed by the foreign corporation by its president or a vice president and by its secretary or assistant secretary and verified by one of the officers signing such instrument, which shall set forth the name of the corporation, each resolution adopted as required by the provisions of this subsection, and the date of the adoption of each resolution. The instrument shall be delivered to the secretary of state for filing in the secretary of state's office. Upon the filing of such instrument by a foreign corporation the secretary of state shall issue a certificate as to the filing of the instrument and deliver the certificate to the corporation or its representative. The secretary of state shall not file any biennial report of any foreign corporation subject to this subsection unless and until the corporation has fully complied with the provisions of this paragraph and, in such event, the foreign corporation is subject to the penalties prescribed in this chapter for failure to file the report within the time as provided in this chapter.

9. No corporation to which the provisions of this chapter apply shall be subject to the provisions of chapter 504, Code 1989.

10. The provisions of sections 504A.96 and 504A.97 shall apply to any action required or permitted to be taken under this section.

11. Except as otherwise provided in this section, existing corporations shall continue to be governed by the laws of this state heretofore applicable thereto.

12. Corporations existing under chapter 504, Code 1989, shall be subject to this chapter on July 1, 1990, except that the corporations shall be subject to sections 504A.8 and 504A.83 on January 1, 1997. A corporate existence of a corporation that is not in compliance on the records of the secretary of state with sections 504A.8 and 504A.83 on June 30, 1997, is terminated, effective July 1, 1997. A corporation whose existence is terminated pursuant to this subsection may be reinstated. When the reinstatement is effective, it relates back to and takes effect as of the effective date of the termination of its corporate existence as if such termination had never occurred. The secretary of state shall adopt rules governing the reinstatement of a corporation pursuant to this subsection.

CHAPTER 504B

NONPROFIT CORPORATIONS AND FEDERAL TAX LIABILITY

504B.1 Corporations applicable.

504B.2 Articles of incorporation — contents.

504B.3 Avoiding tax liability.

504B.4 Construction.

504B.5 Internal Revenue Code updated.

504B.6 Certain powers not limited.

504B.1 Corporations applicable.

This chapter shall apply to every corporation organized under chapter 504 or 504A, which corporation is deemed to be a private foundation as defined in section 509 of the Internal Revenue Code, which is incorporated in the state of Iowa after December 31, 1969, and as to any such corporation organized in this state before January 1, 1970, it shall apply only for its federal taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1972.

[C73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §504B.1]

504B.2 Articles of incorporation — contents.

The articles of incorporation of every such corporation shall be deemed to contain provisions forbidding the corporation to:

1. Engage in any act of self-dealing, as defined in section 4941(d) of the Internal Revenue Code, which would give rise to any liability for the tax imposed by section 4941(a) of the Internal Revenue Code;

2. Retain any excess business holdings, as defined in section 4943(c) of the Internal Revenue Code, which would give rise to any liability for the tax imposed by section 4943(a) of the Internal Revenue Code;

3. Make any investment which would jeopardize the carrying out of any of its exempt purposes, within the meaning of section 4944 of the Internal Revenue Code, so as to give rise to any liability for the tax imposed by section 4944(a) of the Internal Revenue Code; and
