A second presentation was given by the Department of Administrative Services. DAS presented a status quo budget to the committee. This presentation highlighted the implementation and success of energy conservation and efficiency improvements for DAS facilities. Through these improvements, significant funding has been saved, in the area of $62,000/year, thus allowing the budget to remain status quo.

New DAS facilities are in progress with the design goal of high performance while still achieving energy conservation and efficiency. These new facilities are being considered for ground source, geothermal heating capabilities. It was made clear that employees of these new facilities would also be held accountable and properly educated in achieving the DAS goal of energy conservation and efficiency.
