The free traders are already showing signs of their fears that the republicans will put wool back on the tariff list. But it will be done all the same.

Mr. Sovereign has done several things which did not indicate the possession of a massive intellect, but the national bank note boycott order is the silliest thing he ever did.

The sensational newspapers are making the Spanish minister quite a busy summer. He apparently becomes every cock and bull story he hears about volunteers for Cuba.

Senator Sherman says Mr. Cleveland's cabinet officers let him make a mere clerk. They do, Senator, do. And we have an idea that is what they were selected for.

Mr. Smith is hard at work trying to ascertain how big a political boss he is. In saying that the Georgia republicans will stand by silver, ex-Speaker Crisp was indirectly sneering at Mr. Smith.

It is now in order to add the antic to the executive, legislative and judicial branches of the government, and the addition, according to the controller Bowler, is the greatest antic to the quartette.

OBITUARY.

Samuel B. Lindsay.

The death angel entered the sick chamber of Samuel B. Lindsay, on Tuesday morning, July 30th, at a few minutes after 9 o'clock and gently wafted his spirit to a better land. Mr. Lindsay had been confined to his bed for several weeks and the end had not been entirely unexpected. His son W. F., of McCook, Neb., came in on the morning train from the south and arriving at the bedside aroused his parent from a peaceful sleep; asked him if he knew him and a peaceful smile passed over the countenance was the only answer and in an instant the eyes were closed in death.

Samuel B. Lindsay was born in Jefferson county, Ohio, April 2, 1821, of Scotch-Irish parents, and was the youngest of ten children, and the last living of the family. At an early age his parents moved to a farm in Genesee County, Ohio, between the villages of Fairview and Londonderry where the early years of his life were spent upon a farm. The father died when deceased was quite young, leaving him to assist with the care of the mother and children. He was married to Maria Bratton (widest), of Fairview, Ohio, October 22nd, 1844, and soon thereafter engaged in the mercantile business in that village. In 1850 he moved to Londonderry, Ohio, where he again engaged in the mercantile business and became one of the leading citizens of that village, residing there until 1856, when he moved overland to Rock Island county, Ill. His family consisted of R. Jennie, now the wife of Samuel McElroy; W. F., of McCook, Neb.; Rev. S. S., of St. Louis, Mo.; and J. F., of North Tonawanda, N. Y. During their residence in Illinois there was born to them Martha Harriet, who became the wife of J. L. Browne, and who died in this city May 10, 1890, and Charles B., of St. Louis, Mo., who has been at the bedside of his father during his last illness. Mr. Lindsay and family moved to Warren county two years later, becoming a resident of the immediate vicinity of Indianola in 1865. He became a member of the Associate Church when 18 years of age and has been a member of the United Presbyterian Church since its organization. For the past 44 years he has been a ruling elder of the U. P. Church and was a member of three General Assemblies of that church. In 1863 he was elected to the legislature by the republican party of Warren county and served one year with honor to himself and credit to his constituents, after which he resigned in response to the call for troops and became 2nd Lieutenant of Co. F., 25th Iowa Volunteer and served until the close of the war. Mr. Lindsay was a life long republican; a faithful conscientious christian. A man of strong impulses; warm friendship for his fellow-men, and an advocate of all that was pure, noble and elevating in its character. Funeral services were held at the U. P. Church Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock conducted by his pastor, Rev. Dr. Calhoun, and interment was had in Indianola cemetery. Rev. Andrew McCartney, who had known deceased in his boyhood and who was associated with him in his earlier years in church and Sunday School work, spoke very feelingly of him at a short service held at his late residence before the remains were taken to the church.

Died, Saturday July 27, 1895, of cholera infantum, Leota, youngest daughter of B. F. and Ella Young.

Hydrophobia, or Rabies.

An accident having recently occurred to a little daughter of the writer, giving rise to very much anxiety, and attended with serious danger he feels impelled to present the following information in regard to this most terrible disease. The subject is one of such importance that he hopes that this information, in some form may be published in every county paper in the United States, for the further instruction of the laity who seem to have some very erroneous views regarding it.

There is a genuine disease, known as rabies or hydrophobia. It is as distinct from mental influence as locomotor ataxia or any other recognized disease. It is a disease affecting especially the central nervous system, the brain and spinal cords. It is an infectious disease, always arising from inoculation of animals or man suffering from the disease. This being true, intelligent and determined efforts, extending over the entire country, would result in its final total extermination. For this purpose, all unnecessary dogs or cats should be humanely put to death. All stray dogs or cats, having no responsible ownership, should also be put to death. All necessary ones should be properly tagged, for ready identification when required for safety. A high dog-tax is one of the most beneficial forms of taxation ever proposed. It relieves the community to that extent from the necessity of other forms of taxation, and helps to eliminate surplus dogs. The owner will willingly pay the tax on those animals that are really useful, while those that are not worth the tax ought to be put out of the way.

The first symptom of the disease in a dog or other animal is a tendency to roam. Hence every stray dog is a suspicious character, and should be looked after. If he has not bitten any animal or person, and no owner be found for him, he should be killed. However, if he has bitten any person or animal, he should not on any account be killed, even although he is supposed to be mad. By thus killing him you remove the only certain means of diagnosis you have as to whether he was rabid or not, and, consequently, the only element of prognosis you have as to the likelihood of those bitten by him to develop the disease. The importance of this cannot be overestimated. Be not too quick with the gun or club. Capture the dog and chain or pen him up. If he has rabies he will soon distinctly show it, and will be dead within ten days. This will end the uncertainty, and all the animals bitten by him should be killed, and the persons bitten should be at once put under the specific treatment. If he proves not to be rabid, a great anxiety is relieved, and the wounds may be regarded as ordinary lacerated and punctured.

THE IOWA REPUBLICAN

We, the representatives of the republican party of Iowa, in assembled, reaffirm our great principles which our party from the birth has proclaimed in the face of shifting foe. We congratulate the people of this country upon the success of returning progress in each instance employed, wages restored by re-established upon a basis in the record of our industries under the policy, their paralysis of economic power and their repudiation of the party and the dissolution of the Democratic house of representatives elected upon the platform of the Republican vindication of the policy of its complete. The Democratic is convicted of obtaining 1892 under false pretenses platform it declared the protection to be unconstitutional in its campaign it denounced as robbery. But with power in its hands it have utterly failed to carry policy to which they were it is a farcical pretense for the party to claim credit for a measure from which nine of its president withheld his and denounced as an abandonment of their example. The senate bill, which the Republican party then it reduces the revenues, a method of levy more than any income tax; it is a restriction to sugar, a necessity home; it reduces the wages many industries in which their element of cost but it in many of its parts the which the Democratic party to be unconstitutional. credit under it is to claim abandoning its own policy of the principle which is pronounced.

We deplore the fact that the Democratic party, while professing interest in enlargement of trade, has destroyed the arrangements established by the republican administration. Freedom for foreign trade has been inhibited only in the admission of goods to our market obtaining any reciprocal trade with foreign nations. We believe in policy of reciprocity as the practical affairs, and the admission of foreign traders to the rich of the United States should our people equal opportunity in foreign markets.

We believe that the competition of labor is the true gauge of production, and the welfare of the people has been the constant care of the republican party from its birth are unalterably opposed to the American workman to competition in our own market poorly paid labor of the world. We denounce the doctrine that it should be levied with a revenue only, and reaffirm the principle which has wrought in the most marvelous industrial development ever known in the world. The doctrine of protection is a failure.

We believe in maintaining the highest wage rate for the laborer, and the welfare of the people is the result.

We affirm the declaration of the Republican National platform.

court house a few days ago to file a homestead entry on south-west quarter of south-west quarter of section 35, Virginia township. This land has long been occupied and has passed from man to man by warranty deed. A. L. Thompson has for a number of years held the warranty title, and lives on the land. It is said to be an excellent and valuable lot worth $2,500 to $3,000. Mr. Thompson has been served with notice to vacate. He says he will not undertake to fight the United States. If Mr. Hull has a title that is better than his he will quit the premises and ask his grantor to make good his damages, but he will not be in a hurry to vacate. We hear that there are other tracts of land in the county that have never been lawfully entered till very recently, and that now some shark speculators have picked them up and will make trouble for the supposed owners.

SAMUEL B. LINDSAY died at his home in Indianola Tuesday a. m., after a lingering and painful illness of a complication of diseases. For many years Father Lindsay had lived on his farm near Indianola, the quiet, retired, laborious life of a farmer. However he took an active interest in public affairs and at one time represented his county in the State legislature. He was born in Jefferson county, Ohio, April 6, 1821, of Scotch-Irish parentage and came to Iowa in the early days. The prominent feature of his life was his zeal for Christianity and the church of his choice. He was a member of the United Presbyterian church from its first organization and had been for a third of a century a prominent member and officer in it. He took especial pleasure in commending his church and the Christian religion and was looked upon by his neighbors as a humble, faithful and consistent Christian, one whose faith was ever manifested in his daily walk and conversation. During the severe ordeal of his last painful illness he was constantly bearing testimony that his Saviour was ever present with him to comfort and sustain him, and death found him at peace with man and God, and ready for the final summons. The funeral services were held at the U. P. church at 2 o'clock yesterday p. m., conducted by Dr. Calhoun, assisted by Rev. McCartney. Both speakers pronounced high encomiums on the deceased as a husband and father, citizen and Christian, a man of the highest moral character, and abounding in good words and works. The funeral was very largely attended, the church being thoroughly crowded with those who came to pay their last respects to the deceased.

Immediately after the adjournment of the convention the county central committee met and elected H. P. Shepherd chairman for the ensuing year.

THE TICKET

nominated to-day is an exceptionally good one throughout. Each candidate is well and favorably known and are well qualified to fill the several offices to which they are nominated. Every Democrat in the county can conscientiously support this entire ticket with both his work and his vote. He can take pleasure in commending it to his dissatisfied Republican neighbors who feel that they have been humiliated by some of the nominations made by their own party. Democrats should go to work in earnest and secure the largest possible vote for the ticket. We shall have more to say of the respective candidates later.
