GEO. ORDWAY DIES IN WEST

Former Prominent Attorney of this City

Expires Yesterday.

Had Been Seriously Ill for Some Time.

Well Known Here.

Mrs. C. P. Hunt received a telegram today announcing the death at Los Angeles, Calif., yesterday afternoon of George Ordway, a former well known Waterloo attorney, who for several years has resided at 4951 Pasadena avenue, Los Angeles.

The message did not state the cause of death, but it has been known here for some time that Mr. Ordway had been seriously ill for a number of months and that for the past seven months his illness had been of a serious nature.

Deceased was one of Waterloo's pioneer lawyers, having been admitted to the practice of law in this county in 1851. He was born in Stafford, N. H., Aug. 1, 1829. He was married to Salome E. Fowler, at Springfield, Ill., Oct. 6, 1852. He had moved west settling in Springfield in 1843. He studied law in Illinois and was admitted to the bar at Freeport, Ill., Oct. 13, 1851, his certificate of admittance to the practice of law being issued by Judge J. D. Caton, of Ottawa.

For a number of years he was one of Waterloo's leading legal practitioners. He left Waterloo about 20 years ago, moving first to Winfield, Kansas, afterwards to California for the benefit of his failing health.

Mr. Ordway built the residence at the corner of Jefferson and Park avenue, occupied until recently by James Klinefelter as a residence. He also owned some valuable farm lands in this county, located near Waterloo.

Mr. Ordway will be remembered by a number of the old time residents of Waterloo, all of whom will be pained at the news of his death.

The message to Mrs. Hunt gave no information in regard to the funeral but the funeral and interment will undoubtedly be held at Los Angeles.

ness, biliousness, female ills., colds, grippe and general debility. We urge a fair trial at once. Avoid substitutes.

Funeral services over the remains of the late Hon. George Ordway, who passed away at Pasadena, Calif., last Wednesday, were held from the residence, 4951 Pasadena avenue at 1:30 o'clock last Saturday afternoon. Interment was in Rosedale cemetery.

And she wouldn't if the kidneys were well.

Doan's Kidney Pills make well kidneys.

Here is a Waterloo woman who endorses this claim:

Mrs. A. M. Brash of Strawberry avenue, near end of Fifth St., west side, says: "I was doing work to which I was unaccustomed, overexerting myself and brought on backache. There was a regular aching pain in the small of my back, so severe and depressing as to make me sick. My daughter was having the same experience from the same cause.

WATERLOO THEATRE, THURSDAY.

BRAND CAPTAIN

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Perrin of Waterloo attended the O. E. S. banquet Wednesday evening and remained over for the concert given by her niece, Miss Mabel Kellogg, at the auditorium Thursday evening.

Mrs. Wm. Jacobs was given a happy surprise and a fine dinner by twenty-five of her relatives at her home Sunday, it being her 52nd birthday. She was presented a fine set of dining room chairs.

Miss Cadwallader attended the funeral of her grandfather at Waterloo Thursday.

Clare Leeper is now in the University hospital at Iowa City for heart trouble. He has been attending school there.

Mr. Orway of Cedar Falls was a visitor here Sunday with Prof. Hoyman.

Fred Rains of Marshalltown visited his parents Friday and Saturday.

Mrs. Sarah Boston visited Waterloo friends from Friday until Tuesday.

Miss Genevieve Madigan visited relatives in Waverly Saturday.

The electric light plant boiler is being overhauled and repaired and the city is without lights part of the time.

This locality suffered its first killing frost Sunday night, but it was not a very heavy one.

The Ben Hur picture show and lectures will be given at the M. E. church next Thursday evening.

George Atkinson fell from a ladder while painting his house Wednesday and hurt his left shoulder very badly and is still compelled to carry his arm in a sling.

The O. E. S. banquet Wednesday evening was a success there being forty to participate in the social hour and partake of the delicious refreshments provided.

A new time card on the C. G. W. is scheduled to go into effect soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Greenlee drove down from Charles City Sunday.

Mrs. Alva Titter and son, Edward, returned to their home at Cedar Rapids Friday after spending a week here with relatives.

Three leads of the W. C. T. U. employed a pleasant and profitable meeting at the home of Mrs. Ed. Sadler Thursday afternoon.

Rev. Mr. Sinclair drove to Greene Sunday to exhort preachers with Rev. Mr. Fisher, whose sermon here was very much enjoyed by all who heard him.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Solts entertained a small company Friday night in honor of Miss Mabel Kellogg of Charles City, who favored the guests with some exceptionally fine violin music.

Charles Strum has bought the Bradley Mill barn and is having it moved to his residence property near the old cemetery. George Keller is doing the work.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Gilbert were driving past the E. X. Doty place Thursday with a cow tied behind the buggy. A dog ran out frightening the cow and she upset the buggy, throwing Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert out, but fortunately they were unhurt.

Miss Mabel Kellogg of Charles City gave a musicale at the auditorium Thursday evening that was considered fine by those who attended. Unfortunately the light plant was out of commission owing to repairs being made and the city was without lights causing many to remain at home who otherwise would have attended.

Hugh Champlain, who works in the Iowa Cement Factory at Cedar Rapids, fell from a third story door to a second story roof then onto a tank Thursday, sustaining serious injury to his head, hurting his hand and breaking two ribs. He was taken to the E. W. Virden home where he was well cared for and at last reports was doing as well as could be expected. His parents live at Athol, Ia.

DEATH SUMMONS EARLY PIONEER

MRS. GEORGE ORDWAY DIES IN CALIFORNIA

Settled in Waterloo in 1834 and Resided Here Thirty Years.

A telegram received by Miss Anna Sanborn last evening brings the sad news of the death of Mrs. George Ordway, one of the early pioneers of Waterloo, and a woman beloved and honored for her noble Christian character and many kindly deeds. She passed away yesterday afternoon at her home in Los Angeles, Cal., after an illness extending over several weeks. The exact cause of her death is not known. Many old friends here will regret to learn of her passing.

Deceased, whose maiden name was Salome E. Fowler, was born in Springfield, Ill. August 22, 1823, and was a little past her seventy-sixth birthday when death summoned her. She was married October 5, 1852, at the age of nineteen, to Mr. George Ordway, a young attorney residing in Springfield. On April 22, 1854, the young couple, with their two-month-old baby girl, took up their residence in the little village of Waterloo. Of those interesting experiences Mrs. Ordway wrote most entertainingly in an article published in the Courier's anniversary edition in January.

Their first home was a long cabin on Commercial street, which was crude in every way but was the only unoccupied house in the town. Soon, however, they bought a home on the west edge of the river. Mr. Ordway established a nursery and made the first wagon track out on Park avenue west. Both Mr. and Mrs. Ordway were very active in Christian work in those earliest days and had in their home a room which they called "the prophets' chamber," which they kept for all passing ministers. This interest in Christian work, and especially in the Presbyterian church, which she was instrumental in founding in Waterloo, continued until her death and it was only a few years ago that Mrs. Ordway, then a resident of California, presented to the First Presbyterian church of Waterloo a handsome individual communion service as a memorial to her husband, who passed away several years ago.

During the war Mrs. Ordway and other women of the town helped as they could to make the lot of the soldiers more comfortable by collecting rags and preparing them for use in the hospitals.

The home Mrs. Ordway and her husband occupied longest was on the corner of Jefferson and Park avenue west. They moved away from Waterloo in 1855, going first to Winfield, Kan., and later to California.

Mr. and Mrs. Ordway buried two children while in Waterloo. One daughter, Mrs. Caro Ordway-Baker, now resides in Los Angeles. Mrs. D. W. Foote, her sister, is also a resident of Los Angeles. Her brother, P. E. Fowler, was one of the pioneers of Waterloo.

Mr. and Mrs. Ordway were both members of the Black Hawk County Early Settlers' association. Mrs. Ordway and her daughter were in attendance at the annual gathering at Cedar River park three years ago and

Mr. Ordway was back to attend one of the annual meetings only a year before his death. Mrs. Ordway was a woman of beautiful character, kindly manner and true and devoted to her friends. She always cherished the fondest recollections of Waterloo, in which thirty of her best years were spent, and always enjoyed her visits among her old friends.

AMUSEMENTS

Vaudeville Tonight. Friends in the Syndicate theatre this week playing to big houses at every performance. This week's bill is headed by Karl Emory's Yack, a dog act which is splendid. The little canine actors do no end of wonderful stunts in the delight of all. The balance of the bill is composed of Adams and Alden, Dick Croesus and Co., Al. H. Tyrrell, Winnie Crawford and Chas. May. Adams and Alden contribute much to the success of the show in their splendid singing act. The act is exceedingly clever and never fails to bring down the house at each performance. Dick Croesus and company present a splendid one act play entitled "Sherry," which abounds with good comedy and is headed by the big hits upon the program. Al. H. Tyrrell, the monarch of the bill, is a most entertaining while Winnie Crawford is clever in male impersonation. Chas. May is illustrated songs and the Edengraph complete the bill. It's one of the best bills yet offered the patrons of the local theatre and is proving a great drawing card.

Wm. Owen, Thursday. Wm. Owen's company will be the attraction at the Waterloo theatre both afternoon and evening Thursday of this week. Mr. Owen will play "As You Like It" for the matinee offering while in the evening "The Merchant of Venice" will hold the boards. Little need be said of Mr. Owen's ability to present these master pieces as he is too well known to the better class of theatre goers in this city. This year's company is by far the best ever sent upon the road in support of Mr. Owen and the double offering of the day will no doubt be greeted by large houses.

Sain A. Seribner's Big Burlesque Show Friday and Saturday. Sain A. Seribner's big burlesque company comes to the Waterloo theatre Friday and Saturday of the present week presenting a special matinee upon Saturday. The company numbers some people who are said to be the best in the burlesque field. The program is large and splendidly drilled while the costumes and scenic efforts are most elaborate. Some sixteen numbers are being staged during the act of the two burlesques and lovers of this style of entertainment will find it one of the most enjoyable offerings of the season. Prices will be 50c and 75c for the matinee. Night 25c, 50c and 75c.

DISCUSSION OF BASE BALL NEWS

Discussion of the action of the Central Base Ball association in ousting Waterloo was freely discussed on the streets today, but nowhere was there heard any intimation that Waterloo should drop the fight. Attorneys E. H. McCoy and F. S. Merriau, who attended the meeting at Burlington yesterday and prepared the papers for service in the temporary injunction suit, expressed every confidence this morning that Waterloo would be allowed to remain in the league. Some of the attorneys of the city expressed the opinion that the Waterloo Base Ball association would be in a much better position had the writ of temporary injunction been issued before the vote on ousting the city had been taken.

Description:

This database is an index to individuals enumerated in the 1900 United States Federal Census, the Twelfth Census of the United States. Census takers recorded many details including each person's name, address, relationship to the head of household, color or race, sex, month and year of birth, age at last birthday, marital status, number of years married, the total number of children born of the mother, the number of those children living, birthplace, birthplace of father and mother, if the individual was foreign born, the year of immigration and the number of years in the United States, the citizenship status of foreign-born individuals over age twenty-one, occupation, and more. Additionally, the names of those listed on the population schedule are linked to actual images of the 1900 Federal Census. Learn more...
