Death of Chas. W. McCune.

Johnshn county lost another of its prominent citizens, in the death on Sept 30, at his home near Solon of Hon. Chas. W. McCune whose sickness we have heretofore noticed. He was a brother of John P. McCund, whose sudden death we recorded last week. It is mentioned as a singular coincidence that of four brothers, Burt, Jason, John and Chas., they all died at the same hour of the day and almost the same minute, the latter having died at 7:10 in the evening. He was born in Jefferson county New York, Oct. 16th 1824, and in 1833 moved to Summit county Ohio, and came to Iowa in 1841, and settled in Big Grove town-ship, where he took a claim and has lived ever since, except a year spent in California in 1850-51. After his return he engaged in buying and shipping stock, and for several years was the heaviest dealer in the county. In 1876 he bought some fine imported short-horns, and has been engaged ever since in the breeding of fine stock, being among the pioneers of that great interest in Johnson county.

Mr. McCune was a man of wide infor-mation and took an active interest in public affairs. In 1876 he was elected a member of the legislature, represent-ing the county one term. In 1882, Gov. Kirkwood, then Secretary of the Inter-ior appointed him land agent and as-signed him to duty in Minnesota, but he only served in that capacity four months when he resigned.

He was married to Phoebe L. Sutliff, July 5th, 1846. They had a family of nine children, five sons and four daugh-ters.

Mr. McCune was a man highly es-teemed by a wide circle of friends for his many good qualities of mind and heart, and his death will leave a vacancy in the community which will long be felt and regretted.
