From a team which was cutting up. He did not see the approaching car, and ran backwards directly in front of it, although Miss Teale had just sounded the horn on the car. He was struck by the bumper on the front of the car and knocked to the pavement, the car passing entirely over him, but fortunately none of the wheels struck him, but three small gashes were cut in his scalp, which bled profusely. Frank Stanley who was standing near at the time of the accident picked the boy up and carried him to Dr. Layton's office, where his wounds were dressed and he was able to be taken home in a short time, and aside from being a little sore the next day, was a pretty lively lad. It was reported that Ted was seriously injured, but this rumor was soon set at rest. Many children are very careless in regard to playing in the streets, and some of them take great chances by running in front of the autos. In this case there was no one to blame, it being one of those unavoidable accidents, and everybody is happy over the lad's escape.

A Small Fire at Produce House.

There was a small fire at J. Statzell's produce house on the east side of the square last Friday evening at 5 o'clock. A match was dropped in some excelsior in the curtained dark room used to candle eggs, and it flashed up quickly and set fire to the curtains around the egg booth, but the fire was soon whipped out, and the fire company did not have to throw any water at the fire. The damage to the produce house was not great, but Harry Statzell had some of his household goods stored there and these were damaged some. In beating out the fire J. J. Evans burned his right hand and wrist quite severely but not deep. Mr. Statzell had no insurance on his produce house, and Harry Statzell while having his household goods insured did not have the policy transferred when the goods were stored.

Arrested a White Slaver.

Deputy United States marshal Wm. W. Exline, of Creston, last Thursday arrested a young man named Leonard Lewis, who was employed with the Des Moines Bridge & Iron Works gang who are putting in a county concrete bridge three miles west of Dallas, Texas, on the charge of White Slavery. It being alleged that he enticed a woman named Theresia Potter, of Dallas, Texas, to Tulsa, Oklahoma, for immoral purposes. Lewis was one of the men who worked on the new concrete bridge recently built over Possum creek at the foot of rain so the new road can be dragged and surfaced up, the county bridge will be moved north to the new road and it will be thrown open for use. It is one of the biggest and best pieces of road work ever done in Decatur county, and we know everyone will be pleased with it. Mr. Smith is an artist in road building, and he knows how to move dirt and put it in the right place, so that it does not have to be handled but once. And he is working in the interest of the taxpayers too, and he has completed this big job with a great deal less expense than anyone thought it could be done. It was variously estimated that the building of this road around the hill would cost from $2,000 to $2,400, but Mr. Smith informs us that he will complete the road at a total cost of less than $600. Of course this does not include the price paid for the land or the moving of the bridge, which is a separate item. Mr. Smith has made a great reputation as a road builder and we hope he will continue right along in this capacity.

A fire originating in the egg candling department at the J.
