in California, he crossed the plains to the Pacific coast, where he engaged in mining for five years. Returning then to the Mississippi valley, he resumed farming, which he carried on until 1864, when death ended his labors. His wife still survives and resides on the old homestead. Both were worthy and exemplary members of the Lutheran church. Unto Mr. and Mrs. Schultize were born four children: Henry, who is living in Fremont county; Lizzie, now Mrs. Magel; John, of Des Moines county; and Mary, the wife of William Diehl. After the death of her first husband Mrs. Schultize became the wife of N. Helt, also a native of the fatherland, and they had seven children: Kate; Anna, the deceased wife of William Brown; Christina, the wife of I. Avery; Emma, the wife of H. Kingsolver; George, a farmer; Julia, the wife of E. Baumgardner; and William, who is yet at home.

The marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Magel has been blessed with six interesting children: William C., George, Lee, Lulu, Grover, and Freddie, all still with their parents. Mr. and Mrs. Magel are earnest members of the Methodist church. He was reared in the faith of the Democracy but is now a Republican. He, however, does not seek office, preferring to give his attention to his farm work, which has brought to him an excellent financial return, so that he is now numbered among those who may well be proud of their success, as it has come to him through his own labors, his keen enterprise and his perseverance.

SEYMORE T. RHODE.

The history of Randolph would be incomplete without the mention of Seymore T. Rhode, who is a representative of an honored pioneer family and is one of the most prominent and influential business men of the town, being the senior member of the firm of S. T. Rhode & Company. His birth occurred on the 23d of June, 1852, in the county which is still his home, his parents being Joseph and Elizabeth (Gray) Rhode, both of whom were natives of Warren county, Indiana, in which place they were reared and married. The paternal grandfather, Jonathan Rhode, was born in Ohio and was of German descent, his father having come from Germany to America. He located first in South Carolina, where he served under General Marion in the commissary department in the Revolution. He was a farmer, operating his plantation by the aid of the slaves that he owned, but becoming disgusted with the slave traffic he disposed of his interests in the south and went to Ohio.

Jonathan Rhode, the grandfather of our subject, was reared to agricultural pursuits in the Buckeye state, and at an early period in the development of Indiana he became a resident of that state, where he carried on farming. He married and became the father of seven children, namely: Daniel A.; Elsa, the wife of William Cobb; and John, both of whom were agriculturists; Joseph, the father of our subject; Hannah, the wife of R. McCord; Caleb, and Seymour. The parents were both members of the Society of Friends, and the kindly spirit so characteristic of that sect was exemplified in their lives.

Joseph Rhode, the father of our subject, was married in Indiana and there began farming, and subsequently he and his family accompanied his father's family on their removal to northwest Arkansas, in 1840. A few years later, however, they returned to Indiana and in 1851 they came to Fremont county, Iowa, where Joseph Rhode entered land from the government, developing and improving the farm upon which he remained throughout the remainder of his days. He became an extensive agriculturist and stock-raiser and dealer, being one of the leaders in this line of business in the community.

In politics he was a stalwart Republican and was recognized as one of the leaders of the party in his portion of the state, his influence being used with telling effect in support of the principles in which he believed. He took a deep interest in the war, but ill health prevented him from going to the front. His fellow townsmen, recognizing his worth and ability, frequently called him to public office and he was chosen to represent Fremont county in the state legislature. He also served as a member of the county board for a number of years and filled many minor offices, exercising his official prerogatives in support of every measure which he believed would contribute to the general good. He was instrumental in securing the passage of the act for an assessment upon vacant lands owned by speculators. Of strong mentality, he viewed each question that came up for consideration, not only from the standpoint of to-day but of the future as well, desiring that all his official acts should prove of not only immediate good, but of continued benefit. He was liberal, charitable, enterprising and public-spirited, and his life—in purpose and in act—commanded the confidence and genuine regard of all with whom he was associated. He died January 17, 1886, and the community thereby lost one of its most valued citizens, his neighbors a faithful friend and his family a considerate father. His wife had passed away many years before, her death occurring in 1863. She was a daughter of John Gray, who settled in Lawrence county, Indiana, in the pioneer days. His father was killed at the battle of King's Mountain in the Revolutionary war. The Gray family is of Scotch-Irish descent, and John Gray died in Lawrence county, leaving ten children, namely: William, Jacob, Lidia, Dorothea, Wesley, Ephraim, James, Mrs. Elizabeth Rhode and Hamilton.

Unto Joseph and Elizabeth (Gray) Rhode were born ten children: Mary, who became the wife of L. O. Baker and died in 1880; Harriet, the wife of S. P. McCormick; Dorothea S., who became Mrs. Reed and died in 1882; John, who died in childhood; Mrs. Martha F. Loveland; Seymore T., of this review; Mrs. Esther R. Hurst; Sarah, who is the widow of Dr. William Matthews, and is living in Colorado; Charles H., of Cass county, Iowa; and Elizabeth A., of California. After the death of his first wife Joseph Rhode, the father of our subject, married Mrs. West, a widow and a daughter of Deacon Kinney, of Ohio. Their children were Edith, who became the wife of A. A. Failing, and Mrs. Lucy Stevens. Their mother having passed away, Mr. Rhode married Mrs. Snow, a widow and a daughter of D. M. Paul, of Thurman, Iowa. Two children graced this marriage, Guy and Ray, who are living on the old homestead with their mother.

Seymore T. Rhode has spent his entire life in Fremont county. He remained under the parental roof throughout the period of his minority and acquired a common-school education. He afterward rented a farm for two years and then purchased a half interest in a drug store at Tabor, conducting the enterprise for eighteen months, when he sold out and became an equal partner in a hardware and grocery store of that place. Again, after two years, he sold out and then came to Randolph, where he spent a year and a half as a salesman in a general store, owned by Mr. Barbour. On the expiration of that period he went to Silver City, Mills county, Iowa, where he followed clerking for a year and a half in a hardware and grocery store. He was married in 1880, and the following year he came to Randolph, where he purchased an interest, with Mr. Ashbaugh, in a hardware and implement business. The following year that association was discontinued and Mr. Rhode entered into partnership with Isaac Johnson, in the conduct of a hardware, lumber and agricultural implement business, which they carried on until 1893, when Mr. Rhode purchased Mr. Johnson's interest and incorporated the business under the style of S. T. Rhode & Company. The firm now buys and ships grain and does a general trading business of considerable volume.

On the 24th of October, 1880, Mr. Rhode was united in marriage to Miss Violet Alensworth, who was born in Ohio, February 17, 1854, a daughter of John and Mary Alensworth, who came to Mills county, Iowa, in 1875. Her father was a farmer, but after coming to this state retired from active business and died in Mills county in 1879. His wife, who was a consistent member of the Methodist church, survived him until 1893. The father was twice married and the children of the first union were William, James, Anna, Kate and Rebecca; while of the second marriage the following were born: Albert, who is now an engineer in Nebraska; Violet; Lewis, a farmer of Mills county; Estella, the wife of W. Adamson; and Emma, the wife of S. H. Earl. Unto Mr. and Mrs. Rhode have been born six children; Elsie, born February 20, 1881; Ethel, born July 6, 1883; Joseph, born August 8, 1886; John, born March 22, 1888; Edward, born June 28, 1892; and Dorothea, born September 22, 1896.

Mrs. Rhode is a consistent and worthy member of the Methodist Episcopal church; while socially Mr. Rhode is a Mason, belonging to both the blue lodge and the chapter. In politics he is a stalwart Republican, unwavering in his allegiance to the party, but he has never sought office. His attention has been exclusively given to his business affairs, and through the legitimate channels of trade he has acquired a handsome competence. There are no startling or exciting chapters in his life record, but his history is that of a man who has ever been faithful to his duty, to his family, to his neighbor and to his country.

JOSEPH A. McINTIRE.

The efficient postmaster at Sidney, who in the discharge of his duties has manifested a most business-like spirit, is Joseph A. McIntire, who was born in Keokuk county, Iowa, August 25, 1848. His father, Alexander McIntire, was a native of Fairfield county, Ohio, whence he removed to Indiana and subsequently to Iowa, locating in this state in its territorial days. He married Lovina Hiatt, who was born about twelve miles from Indianapolis, Indiana, in 1826. Their wedding was celebrated in 1846, and their marriage was blessed with six children, of whom four sons and a daughter reached mature years, namely: Jo-

The first ancestor of the Rhode family to come to America was John Rhode, who came from Germany before the Revolutionary War. He lived in South Carolina and then Ohio. Three Rhode sons were among the earliest pioneers in Fremont County: Daniel, John and Joseph. Daniel A. arrived first, moving to a location near Hamburg in 1847. In 1850, he settled in Green Township west of where Tabor now stands. In 1851, John and Joseph drove overland from their homes in Indiana and settled near their brother.

Daniel married his first wife in 1837, Mary McCord. She died December 24, 1857, after bearing these children: Jonathan (killed by lightning July 18, 1854), Harriet A. and Joseph (killed by Indians in Wyoming) Dermarius, David, Ellen and Eleanor (d 24 Jun 1854, age 2 yr 9 mo 4 da). All were deceased by 1881. Only Henry W. survived. Mr. Rhode's second wife was Mrs. Eliza Pattent-m 30 Aug 1860 d 1874. Mr. Rhode d 1 Sep 1882 and is buried in the family plot west of Tabor which bears his name.
