 mission of a prohibition amendment to the constitution. Nebraska has been on the ragged edge of that proposition several times, and when it comes up in the next legislature, as it will inevitably, it is pretty sure to pass, and, as human nature is hugood majority.

DEATH OF SENATOR PLATT WICKS

Hon. Platt Wicks, resident of Harlan from 1869 up to 1890, and a member of the Iowa legislature for two terms, died at his home in Pueblo, Colo., Thursday of last week, after a paralytic illness lasting five years. He was born in Dearborn county, Ind., August 1859.
 He was admitted to the bar in 1880. In 1890 he moved to Pueblo, Colo., where he resided to his death. He served two terms as senator from the Pueblo district.

Mr. Wicks was a whig at the beginning of his political career, became a republican with the founding of that party and supported W. J. Bryan when the silver question became an issue. During his residence in Iowa he was recognized as one of the ablest lawyers in the state, and a shrewd politician of indomitable will.

During more than twenty years he lived in Harlan he took an active part in its growth. He built the home block south of the square occupied by the Moore hospital and planted the row of fine hard maple trees which are a feature of the property. He leaves a widow and one son, Edward B. Wicks.

The fiercest exhibition of grand stand politics that has been presented to the public in many a day, is the removal of the sheriff of Alexander county, Illinois, by Governor Dineen, for alleged failure to do his duty at the lynching of a negro fiend and a white murderer at Cairo, in that county. At the same time he sent a thousand soldiers into the city to preserve order. The mob was composed of ten thousand men, many of them locally prominent, and the governor pretends to say he thinks the sheriff could have controlled a situation which he deems a thousand troops none too large a body to command. Why not proceed against the leaders of the mob instead of making a scapegoat of the sheriff? Because the mob as well as the negroes, have votes. The governor is playing for a pot shot.

A Right Start in the College Enterprise Will be Made—Property Owners From all Over Shelby County Should be Here—Public Exercises Will be of Large Interest.

Next Saturday will be a day of great importance in the history of the city of Harlan and Shelby county. It is a day when a proper financial start, will be given the Inter-State Associated Colleges, the educational enterprise from which so much is expected.

The exercises of the day will begin at 12:01 a. m., at which time registration for the free lot to be given away will begin. Registration will be commenced in the office of the correspondence schools in the opera house block; will be continued there until 7:30, and then will be kept going until 11 at the house on the college grounds. The drawing for the lot will be held at some hour during the day not mentioned. The holder of the successful number must be present when his number is called, else the lot will go to the first number drawn later which shall be present. The object of making the time of the drawing of the lot indefinite is to secure a good attendance of interested people at all the exercises of the day.

At 11:10 o'clock ground will be broken for the main college building. This exercise will, of course, be held on the college campus.

At 1 o'clock in the afternoon the public exercises of the day will be held. A speaker of prominence will be in attendance, and these will be held indoors if the weather shall be unpleasant, which seems likely. Following the public exercises the lot sale will be held, at such time and in such manner as shall be determined by the auctioneer.

The lots will be put on sale at a specified price, and the first bidder will get the lot. There ought to be a whole lot of rivalry for the extra choice lots.

Some fifty-five mercantile and business firms have agreed to close their business places from 12 to 3, and people generally will strive to give the enterprise a good start.

People from all over western Iowa who are looking for a place in which to settle where all the conditions for building a desirable home are best should be here for this sale. Local capitalists, who are looking for good investments, should also be on hand. It is felt that lots will sell readily, two years later, at an advance of from 25 to 50 per cent above the price asked. Streets will be brought to grade, water mains will be laid, sidewalks will be built, trees will be planted, and the lots will be sold

DEATH OF HON. PLATT WICKS.

Hon. Platt Wicks, a pioneer resident and legislator of Shelby county, died at his home in Pueblo, Colo., Thursday of last week. We are permitted to get particulars concerning him from a copy of the Pueblo Chief-tain loaned us by Forest Gibbs.

Mr. Wicks' last illness was of long duration. It began with an attack of typhoid fever May 4, 1904, which was followed by a stroke of paralysis Jan. 20, 1905. Since then he has been confined to his home, and much of the time to his bed.

Deceased was born in Dearborn county, Ind., in August, 1833. He grew up on a farm, and got a collegiate education from a Baptist college in his native state. Having completed his college course, he read law in an office at Shelbyville, and then entered the practice at Greenville.

In June, 1859, he was united in marriage to Miss Margaret S. Furke. She has been his companion in the more than half century of their married life, and survives him, along with their only child and son, E. B. Wicks, who also lives in Pueblo.

In 1869 the family moved to Harlan and made their home here until 1890. He was a leading member of the western Iowa bar. Represented the county in the legislature, in the sessions of 1879 and 1881, and for many years was a trustee of the Iowa State College. He built the home which is now the Moore hospital. Was considered a leading citizen during all the time of his residence here.

After moving to Colorado he was chosen a member of the legislature of that state, representing Pueblo county in the Ninth general assembly. He was considered a leading member of that body.

He was quite successful in his investments in the west and leaves a considerable estate. He was able to direct his affairs all through his long illness.

He became a Mason at Manchester, Ind., in 1855, dimitted to Iowa, and then to Colorado. Was also a member of the chapter. Became a member of the M. E. church shortly after his settlement in Harlan, and transferred his membership to First church, Pueblo.

Mr. Wicks was a large man, physically and intellectually. He did not possess the magnetism which makes men popular with all; but to those who knew him well he was the embodiment of good fellowship and good friendship.

SCHOOL NOTES.

The Turner Art Exhibit will be open as follows:

Tuesday, 3:00-5:30 p. m., for all high school pupils and the public.

Tuesday, 7:30-10:30 p. m., for the general public.

Wednesday, 10:00-12:00 a. m., pupils of first, second, third and fourth grades.

Wednesday, 3:00-3:30 p. m.; pupils of the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades, and the general public.

Wednesday, 7:30-10:30 p. m., the general public.

Thursday, 7:30-10:30 p. m., the general public.

Literary program in connection with the exhibit:

Thursday evening, "A Bachelor's Reveries." High school and grammar grade pupils.

Wednesday evening, "An Old-fashioned Album." Pupils from high school, grammar and intermediate grades.

Thursday evening, "Come to Breakfast." Pupils from intermediate and primary grades.

In addition to the above, local talent, not of the schools, has promised to assist in the entertainment.

MONROE.

Cuppy's Grove school will begin Monday, the 22nd.

The Sahl girls of near Harlan were out in Monroe sewing last week.

Herb Frampton was lucky in drawing a claim in the land drawing in Dakota.

Naomi Vinding has improved so that she can walk some with assistance.

No Sunday school was held at Cuppy's Grove Sunday on account of the few in attendance.

Mrs. Samuels underwent an operation at her home Friday. She is getting along nicely.

Miss Sadie Ray came home last week from a three weeks visit with friends and relatives in Nebraska.

Miss Florence Edwards came home from Omaha last week and visited a few days with her parents in Monroe. Miss Edwards is a teacher in the Douglas County Detention School in Omaha.

The river was out over its banks so that passage over the bridges was impossible for several days the past week. It is feared that corn piled up on the ground will be ruined since the heavy rain.

DEATH OF MRS. PLATT WICKS
 Lady Active In Harlan Affairs Twenty Years Ago Expires At Pueblo, Colorado
 Pueblo Chieftain

Yesterday morning, Mrs. Margaret B. Wicks, widow of the late Hon. Platt Wicks, who died November 11, 1909, of this city, was apparently in her usual good health and attending to her accustomed duties about her home at 2922 Colfax avenue, and last night at 9 o'clock she was dead.

It has been the custom of her son to call on his mother each morning before he come down town to his business, and yesterday morning he called on her at her home as usual. She was up and around, but told Mr. Wicks she was not feeling well. He insisted on her going to bed and urged the calling of the family physician at once, but she said she did not think it necessary to call the doctor. She was in pain, however, and her son called the physician. When he came he diagnosed the case as one of acute indigestion and a severe billious attack. He prescribed and she went to bed at her son's urgent solicitation and the doctor's advice. She appeared to grow better at first, but the improvement was apparently only temporary, for later in the day she grew worse and her son, who had remained with his mother all day, again called the physician. He came and again prescribed, but about 8 o'clock she began to grow worse and at 9 o'clock despite all that could be done she breathed her last, the attending physician attributing her death to the causes above assigned and heart failure.

Margaret B. Wicks was the daughter of Henry Smith Burke and Dorinda Burke, and was born in Decatur county, Indiana, November 28, 1839, and at the time of her death was 72 years of age. She was one of a family of ten children, four brothers, and six sisters and of her family there are still living one brother, Rev. Wm. F. Burke of Newkirk, Oklahoma; and three sisters, Mrs. W. H. Ramsey of Minneapolis, Minn., Mrs. Annie B. Elser, and Mrs. C. M. Robbins both of Rocky Ford, Colorado.

In 1890 Mr. and Mrs. Wicks came to Colorado from Iowa, and the family has made Pueblo its home ever since, both taking an active part in the public social and religious life of the city until their death.

On June 22, 1859, deceased was married to Platt Wicks, and one son, Edgar B. Wicks, of this city, survives that happy union.

The interment was made in the family lot at Roselawn, along side the husband of the deceased, the ceremony at the grave being the simple but impressive commitment service of the church which she loved and of which she had so long been a member and earnest worker in the cause of Christ.

The Woman's Union will meet with Mrs. W. L. Paup Tuesday afternoon.

COMPETITION FROM ARGENTINE

CORRESPONDENT'S LETTER ELICITS ITS STRANGE CONDITIONS

Wallace' Farmer Argues We Must Have A Tariff On Cattle To Prevent Competition With American Packers

An Iowa subscriber writes: "I have been a reader of your paper for many years, and without flattery I may say that I have considered your ideas on the tariff sound, especially in relation of farm products. You have taught me that the farmer gets little or nothing more for his wheat than the Canadian, for the reason that when we have a surplus, more than we consume, the foreigner fixes the price. This seems logical. I have noticed that wheat commands as much in the Winnipeg markets as it does in the Omaha and Duluth markets, transportation making up for the difference in price. Now we have a surplus of beef products that we ship abroad; and yet I see in Wallace's Farmer that Australia, the Argentine and Mexico would ruin our markets for such if we were to have free trade in such products as an engine on which I want some light. If I understand the matter aright, we have no ship lines between this country and the ports of the countries above mentioned. If this is true it would take considerable time to establish freight lines from these countries, which would lessen the possibilities of competition."

It is true that as yet we have no regular lines of steamers between Argentine and our Gulf or Atlantic ports, nor will there be unless there is traffic for them. The business is now done by "tramp" ships. Notwithstanding this fact frozen meat has come in from Australia and we think also from South America, has paid the tariff, and been sold in the markets of New York. The profit, however, was slight; but had it not been for the tariff, it would have been considerable. No chilled beef has as yet been shipped from Argentina either to the United States or Great Britain, except an experimental shipment or two, for the shipment of chilled beef across the equator is difficult. Frozen beef is frozen solid, and must be used soon after it is thawed out. Chilled beef is simply kept at the freezing point, but not frozen hard.

Corn was shipped from Argentina to New York in 1909 and 1910, paid the duty, and was manufactured into products for export, as the papers at the time stated, at a cost of seven and a half cents less per bushel than it could have been procured from Chicago.

We are now legislating for the far future and not solely for the immediate present. The interests that our States have a large interest, and in some cases control of the packing business by the Argentine.

DEATH OF HAROLD L. COX
 Mitchell, S. D. Republican

A telegram to Mrs. Laura Cox, from the commanding officer of the U. S. S. Philadelphia, at the Navy Yards at Bremerton, Washington, informs her of the death of her son, Harold L. Cox, due to the ship's hatch falling on him while on duty. The body is now on its way to this place for burial and will arrive Sunday or Monday.

Harold L. Cox was a resident of Sioux Falls when he enlisted at Sioux City, Feb. 1, 1907. He was attached to the U. S. Flagship, Tennessee, on which he qualified as a first class gun pointer.

After cruising for a number of months in Atlantic waters, he went with the fleet around the Horn and was transferred to the station ship Philadelphia at Bremerton, Washington, and completed his service and received his discharge May 13, 1910. He had but recently re-enlisted when the accident befell him.

A. T. Cox, father of the deceased, arrived from Draper, S. D., where he is publisher of the Democrat. The following telegram of condolence by the crew of the Philadelphia, was received this morning:

Mrs. Laura Cox, Mitchell, S. D.
 The crew of the United States Ship Philadelphia extend to you their heartfelt sympathy in the loss of your son Harold. Although absent he will not be forgotten by his late shipmates who esteemed him highly."

The family formerly resided in Harlan. Mr. Cox was at that time editor of the American, Harlan was the younger of two sons in the navy.

WEATHER CROP BULLETIN
 Des Moines, Iowa.
 For the week ending May 28, 1911 the past week was ideal for farm work and the growth of vegetation. The average temperature was 64 to 10

Without accident. The program at the cemetery was full of interest, but was marred by the inability of most of those present to hear. If some genius in that line could figure out a formation which would assemble a crowd of that magnitude so that all could see and hear, it would add much to the pleasure of such gatherings. The post recited the usual to the memory of the unknown soldier, Herbert Hammer delivered Lincoln's Gettysburg address, and G. W. Allison made a ten-minute address, speaking largely of the soldier who was reported missing, when the war was over and who sleeps, his friends know not where, his fate being the saddest of all who were the victims of the great rebellion.

The afternoon program was begun at 2 and was not closed until after 4. It was too long, but the committee, having a wealth of attractions to select from, had not the heart to cut out anything further. By far the larger part of those present remained throughout and seemed to be intensely interested. Miss Olive Schell, who can hardly be more than twelve years of age, recited a poem, "The American Flag," singing in costume for the occasion, and in response to hearty applause, gave Walt Whitman's "My Captain." Both actions were fully appropriate to the occasion, and were much appreciated.

Alfred Boysen repeated the declaration which he gave earlier in the season at the school contest, "The Battle of Gettysburg," and succeeded in making his rendition so effective that one could almost see the participants in that, one of the great battles of our history.

Rev. Frank S. Shankland of Des Moines was the orator of the day, and delivered an address that was a model of condensation, and at times reached the heights of real oratory. He sketched the history of our country from the date of its settlement to the present. The work was appreciated by all. We were requested by members of the Grand Army to extend thanks to all for such assistance as each rendered in making preparation for what the members of that organization consider to have one of the best observances of the day ever held here. But we suggested to the veterans that thanks were not necessary. Every participant in and contributor to the occasion did his or her part willingly and gladly. Indeed, one who would not do what he could to show appreciation of Memorial Day and what it stands for would best have his patriotism polished and painted. It is a little rusty and needs refurbishing.

MRS. PLATT WICKS DEAD.

Margaret B. Wicks, widow of the late Platt Wicks, died at her home in Pueblo, Colorado, Sunday of last week. She was in usual health on the morning of her death and passed away about 9 o'clock in the evening. Her death was caused by an attack of acute indigestion which caused heart failure.

The funeral was held Tuesday, May 23, in the First Methodist church of Pueblo, of which organization she had been a member since going to that city. Among the relatives present were Mes. Annie B. Elser, C. M. Robbins and Mrs. John Burke, the two first named being sisters, all of Rocky Ford, Colorado, and all well known in Harlan. Mrs. W. H. Ramsey of Minneapolis and Rev. W. F. Burke of Newkirk, Oklahoma, are the other surviving brother and sister, and these could not be present at the funeral.

Mrs. Wicks will be remembered by old residents of Harlan, as she lived here many years, herself and husband having their home in what is now the Moore hospital. She was a daughter of H. S. Burke, also an old-time resident of the city, whose body lies in the Harlan cemetery.

From what the Pueblo papers say of her, we dare say she continued the same excellent woman there as here. One son, Edgar B. Wicks, is the sole survivor of the Wicks family.

AROUND HARLAN.

The Harlan Art Studio and China Store will close next Tuesday for the remainder of the summer. Order work will be done at their homes by Mrs. Paup and Mrs. Custer just as before, however. Those interested in this work will be pleased to know that this is true. The extreme heat makes it impracticable to retain the studio down town. Henry Custer desires to express his
