Exemption Board Expects July Call for 18,000 Men to Take All of Class One

The local exemption board has not received any orders or information as yet regarding the call for 18,000 men from Iowa for July, except that such a call has been made. The quota for Crawford county has not been made known nor the date for their leaving. Basing the quota for this county on the past quotas called, they say it may take anywhere from 180 to 200 men from here. The call is for July 22 but those from this county may go a day or two or three later than that. Five thousand of these men from Iowa will go to Georgia direct, to enter Camp Gordon and the rest will go from here direct to Camp Pike, Ark. It is expected this call will exhaust class one for this county, unless the exemption board now working changes a good many from other classes to the first class.

There was a call last week for one man from this county to go to Armour Institute in Chicago for instruction in technology, and Edwin Christenson of Astor was the lucky volunteer to get this prize. He leaves here next Sunday to report for duty.

There are two more calls for Iowa, one for 103 men to go to Mooseheart, Ill., for instruction and service in cement work, and 180 men to report at Sioux City for instruction in camp telegraphy and radio operating. These calls are open till July first for volunteers.

Re-Classifying Many Men

During the past week the legal advisory board of this country and other counties in the state have been going over the entire lot of questionnaires to recommend what men should be taken from their first classification in other than class one, and to change these men to the first class for call in their turn. We understand the board here has found a large lot of such men who had been placed in deferred classes by either the district or local board who come under the first class now because of the governments orders that men who were married since June 5th, 1917, are not to be deferred because of that fact, but all must go into class one unless certain family complications prevent. Thus quite a few men who thought they were far down in the list of eligibles for army service will soon be wearing the uniform of a soldier.

HON. CHAS. BULLOCK CALLED TO REST

PROMINENT EARLY SETTLER OF
DENISON QUIETLY DEPARTS
ON LAST LONG TRIP

At Over 80 Years Pioneer Citizen and Friend is Laid to Rest On the Hill

Hon. Charles Bullock died at his home in Denison last Friday morning, June 21, at eight o'clock, after a lingering illness due more than anything else to old age. He had been for some time failing so fast as to warn his friends that the end was near, and Louie Pankow and wife, who have so faithfully and tenderly cared for Mr. Bullock in the past few years, could only do all possible to make him comfortable. The end came peacefully from sheer weakness of the body.

The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at the residence and under the auspices of the Masonic lodge at the cemetery. Rev. Hamilton of the Baptist church conducted the services at the house, and R. Shaw Van, who was one of the pioneer friends of deceased, made a short address. The regular form of Masonic burial service was conducted at the grave.

The death of Mr. Bullock marks the end of another of the pioneers who wrote the history of this city and county in its earliest settlement. He was born at Macomb, Ill., Mar. 8, 1838 thus being over 80 years old when death came to him. He was one of seven children and lived at Macomb till young manhood's ambitions led him to work for himself, teaching school and as book keeper for a mercantile concern. Thus he gained a splendid experience for a successful career in later life. He was married at Brooklyn, Ill., on the 17th of Apr., 1865, to Miss Eliza W. Hill, who was spared to him and remained his faithful companion till her death on July 1, 1915. Two children were born to the couple, but unfortunately death robbed them of both in infancy.

Mr. and Mrs. Bullock came to Denison in 1867, when the town was a mere village, and the country a wide expanse of hills and prairie with seldom a house or settlement. Mr. Bullock conducted a general store and later went into the drug business, occupying the old brick building that fell down three years ago and killed is the title of a cartoon on the war by J. N. Ding, of Des Moines. It shows American people sitting easily reading their papers while pretending to hold the doors of this country against the German invasion. At the same time it shows every man, woman and child in Germany battering down the doors with guns, knives and fists in the effort to get into America and ravage her houses and business as she has done in other countries.

Use Both Hands

Now, it is time that every American should understand that this war must stop its easy methods and use both hands to win this war. We have seen our boys go to the army service and with our prayers and flags we have wished them good luck and a safe return. A large number of them are now in France and hundreds of them will never return. They have found this is war and they are crying back to the people at home to get busy and use both hands. It is becoming noticeable that the young men of the country are gone; every town shows the scarcity of the bright and active fellows in business, in schools, in every line of activity. Now, many of our old men fit for service are gone, and a year from now will see the great majority of those who are left much tied down go into the hospital in some capacity or other. We are going to use both hands. What are the rest of us going to do? Sit down and complain and fret and wish the war

Time to Use Both Hands

Above is the title of a cartoon published in the Register, Des Moines. It shows American people sitting easily reading their papers while preparing to hold the doors of this country against the German invasion. At the same time it shows every man, woman and child in Germany battered with guns, and knives and fists knocking at the door in the effort to enter America and ravage her houses and business as she has done in other countries.

Clearly, it is time that every American should understand that this country must stop its easy methods and use both hands to win this war. Usually we have seen our boys go to the army service and with their hands on flags we have wished good luck and a safe return. A number of them are now in France and hundreds of them will never return.

They have found this is war, not a game, and they are crying back to the people at home to get busy and use both hands. It is becoming notable that the young men of the country are gone; every town shows the scarcity of the bright and active fellows in business, in schools, in every line of activity. Now, many of the older men fit for service are left in, and a year from now will be a great majority of those who are so much tied down go into the service in some capacity or other. We are going to use both hands.

Now, what are the rest of us going to do? Sit down and complain and worry and fret and wish the war over? Or, are we going to use both hands at home. Use both hands to make money and do our work better to help feed and clothe all the boys in the service. Use both hands to keep the home fires burning. Use both hands to save coal and necessities. Use both hands to get ready and supplies across the water. Use both hands to stamp out disloyalty and to prevent encouragement given to the enemy. Use both hands to keep America going at the top speed in every department.

Many is using both hands and feet, and every resource the government can control. The command is not only all the men of fighting age, but the women and children, five years, was Mayor two terms, was Township Clerk one year, has been a Notary Public for the past six years, and has been Postmaster of Battle Creek since February, 1890. He is one of the active Republicans of this part of the State. Socially, he is a member of the K. of P., Olympic Lodge, No. 257, in which he has passed all the chairs. He is also a member of the I. O. O. F., Echo Lodge, No. 119.

Mr. Cheney was married February 7, 1882, to Miss Anna McKown, a native of Missouri and a daughter of Amos V. and Sophia (Hoyt) McKown. They have three children: Clara B., Harry and Louis D. Mrs. Cheney is a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

GEORGE HUTCHINSON, of Crawford county, was born in Rock Island county, Illinois, February 21, 1859, a son of Thomas Hutchinson, a native of Fermanna, Ireland. The latter came to Rock Island county, Illinois, when a young man, and was there married to Susan Ramsey, also a native of Ireland, but who came with her parents to Illinois when a babe. Mr. and Mrs. Hutchinson were the parents of ten children, seven sons and three daughters, and six still survive: George, William, Thomas, Anna, James and Samuel. The deceased are: Bessie, Jane, Maggie, Joseph and Robert. The parents still reside on the old farm in Rock Island county, the father aged seventy-five years, and the mother sixty-three. The former has been a farmer all his life, is a Republican in his political views, and religiously, is a member of the Episcopal Church.

George, the second son, was reared and educated in his native place, and in March, 1882, in company with his brother Robert, he came to this county. He now owns a fine farm, a good dwelling, 16 x 24 feet, with an L of the same dimensions, and has a grove and orchard of ten acres. He was married at Viola, Mercer county, Illinois, at the age of twenty-three years, to Alice Johnson, who was born, reared and educated in that county, a daughter of Robert and Alice (Lipton) Johnson, natives of Ireland. The father is deceased, and the mother still resides on the old home farm. Mr. and Mrs. Hutchinson have had three children: George Marion, aged eight years; Florence Susan, six years; and Thomas Clarence, three years. Mrs. Hutchinson is a member of the Methodist Church.

Robert, the eldest son of Thomas Hutchinson, was born in Rock Island county in 1856, and in 1882 came to this place. He owned a beautiful home, a grove and orchard of two acres, and everything about the place shows the thrift and prosperity of its owner. He was married March 24, 1891, to Frances Petty, a native of Johnson county, Iowa, and a daughter of William Petty. He died December 14, 1892, of rheumatism and lung trouble. His wife and son, Thomas Alfred, born February 4, 1892, still reside at their home in Milford township, Crawford county.

The Hutchinson brothers were among the well-known and successful farmers of Crawford county. They owned a fine farm of 240 acres of rich land, which George still manages, being extensively engaged in stock-raising. He is a Republican in politics, and one of the progressive and popular men of the county. He is now president of the School Board.

DON. CHARLES BULLOCK, one of the pioneers of Denison, Crawford county, Iowa, came to this city in the spring of 1867. His life has been one of great activity and usefulness, and he is still prominently identified with business interests here.

Mr. Bullock was born in Macomb, Illinois, in March, 1838, son of Thomas and Nancy (McCabe) Bullock, and is of Scotch-Irish extraction. He was reared in his native State, and at the age of eighteen began teaching school. For three years he taught school in winter and farmed in summer. Then he was employed as manager by his brother-in-law, who was in the milling and lumber business, and remained with him several years. After that he was engaged in the wool carding business two years, and then turned his attention to fire insurance for a while.

Coming to Iowa, he engaged in the dry-goods business at Denison under the firm name of Hillis, Cassady & Co. Twelve months later he disposed of his interest in that company and became associated in the drug business with James Greenough. They continued together twelve years and then sold out. A year later Mr. Bullock purchased a half interest in the same store, and under the firm name of Bullock & McAhren did a successful business two years, when he again sold out. Since that time he has been engaged in business in the mercantile line outside of Denison, and is also doing a real-estate business. While he was associated with Mr. Greenough they owned all the drug stores in Crawford and Ida counties. They were also largely engaged in the cattle business, purchasing large herds, grazing them on the range in summer, and in the fall shipping the beeves to Chicago and disposing of the rest to feeders. Mr. Greenough looked after the stock while Mr. Bullock managed the drug business.

One incident in connection with Mr. Bullock's business career will not be forgotten by him: This was when a circus, composed of the very roughest characters, was in Denison. The roughs attempted to "do the town" and made an especial raid on his drug store. The plucky proprietors, however, were prepared for them, and the result was that seven of the gang were shot, and, although the store was considerably demolished, the intruders were routed.

Since 1883 Mr. Bullock has been doing an extensive business in real estate in Crawford county and Sioux City. He formed his present partnership with J. B. Dunbar, in the spring of 1892, in the real-estate and collecting business.

Politically, he is a staunch Democrat. In 1869 he was nominated for County Treasurer. The county was at that time almost wholly Republican, but he made the race and was defeated by only about eighty votes. He has served as Assessor and Town Clerk, holding these offices when the district was largely Republican. In 1883 he was elected to the office of Assemblyman of his district, and served one term.

Mr. Bullock was married in Illinois, April 17, 1865, to Miss Elida W. Hill, a native of Kentucky, and a daughter of Flemming and Mariam (DuVall) Hill. They worship at the Presbyterian and Baptist Churches. Mr. Bullock is a Mason and a Knight of Pythias, having his membership in the A. F. & A. M., No. 507, and the K. of P., No. 90, both of Denison.
