Captain Ira Shipley, a son of Lewis and Elizabeth Shipley, was born in Baltimore county, Maryland, in September, 1826. His parents both dying when he was about thirty-eight years of age, he entered a woolen mill, where he acquired that line of business. This was the mill of John Wetherhead, near Baltimore. After working in the mill about three years, he moved to Pennsylvania and worked at his trade for about six months, when he returned to his home in 1846, and attended school at Franklin academy, Baltimore county, Maryland. In the spring of 1847 he went to Carroll county, Maryland, and was employed in the woolen mill about two years, during which time he was married to Miss Adeline Miller, a daughter of David Miller. They moved to East Berlin, Pennsylvania, where he rented and carried on the manufacture of woolen goods until 1857, when he sold out, and was appointed postmaster at Round Hill, and bought the store of A. Sawyer, and kept the store and post-office until the breaking out of the civil war. In 1862 he raised a company of one hundred men, and offered their services to the government. He was appointed first lieutenant, and was made captain of Company I, 127th Pennsylvania infantry. He participated in several skirmishes, and in the battle of Fredericksburg. He afterward was discharged on account of disability contracted in line of duty. In the latter part of June, 1863, the rebels crossed the Potomac, entering the state of Pennsylvania, burning Chambersburg, thence east to Gettysburg. They destroyed and took away about $10,000 worth of property for which he has never received one cent. He was appointed first lieutenant and raised a company of one hundred and thirty men, becoming ready for duty in about ten days. He was assigned to company I, 205th Pennsylvania infantry, and was made captain of his company. After being discharged from the military service he entered into private life once more as a farmer in Adams county, Pennsylvania, until 1869, when he removed to Richland township, Guthrie county, where he bought two hundred and forty acres of land, which he improved and now occupies it as his farm. He carries on general farming and stock-raising. Mr. Shipley has eight children—David L., Laura M., married to John Niester; Henry F., Sara A., married to J. Olliver, now residing in Green county, Iowa; Ira R., Ulysses G., married to Margaret Rolland, now living in Center View, Missouri; Emma E., married to S. G. Weigle; Louise Bell. The subject of this sketch is a member of the Charles Baker Post, G. A. R.

Peter D. Neister, a farmer on section 15, was born in Williams county, Ohio, December 29, 1846. He is the fourth of a family of seven children, and was reared on a farm in his native state. In 1868, he came to Marshall county, Iowa, and in the spring of the next year he came to Guthrie county. In 1871, he settled on his present place where he owns eighty acres, and on section 14 owns eighty acres,
