has been commenced.

—Miss Mable Montgomery commenced her spring term of school near Dumont Monday.

—Mrs. Plin Hotchkiss and little son are here this week visiting Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Hotchkiss.

—We enjoyed a short visit last Wednesday from Mr. L. D. Rowley, our cousin, of New Hampton.

—Misses Nellie Birney and Lizzie Montgomery visited at Rockford and Nora Springs last week.

—Mr. Shepard of Clarksville, visited last Saturday in Greene with his brother-in-law J. D. Shook and family.

—Mrs. F. W. Huckins of Minneapolis, is expected down to-day for a visit with her parents and old friends.

—May is among the best months of the year to "hang on to your winter flannels." They cost less than doctor bills.

—Dr S. K. Rice, dentist, will be in Greene from the 22d to the evening of the 29th of each month. Office over A. Price's store.

—A new twenty foot bridge set on piling will be put in across the sluice way leading to Thorp's new addition to the city of Greene.

—Cole's Chicken Cholera Cure prevents and cures Chicken Cholera. Keep it on hand now, as spring is the time when chickens are the most liable to take cholera.

—The ladies' aid society of the Presbyterian church, will meet with Mrs. Gates to sew Wednesday afternoon, May 4. Sec'y.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Cole received a pleasant visit from their granddaughters Vera and Margaret Wilcox of Greene, last week.--Waverly Republican.

—The Carlton programme rendered by members of the Epworth twirlers of the sphere down this way.

—Word from Ruluf Packard, who is playing ball with the Hastings, Neb., club, contains the gratifying news that he won the first game he pitched this season. The game was with Grand Island, and the score 6 to 7. Ted Reddy is playing with Grand Island and Harry Howe and Edinger with Beatrice. They have a strong league, and are playing great ball.

—Ed Clark of Marble Rock, while in town yesterday displayed to us a handsome black eye he received while playing "biffity plunk" with one of the Marble Rock sluggers at the gymnasium the other evening. If he would get both eyes knocked out of his head and a smashed nose he should try the same game with some of our fistie thumpers.

—Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Soesbe accompanied by Dr. and Mrs. V. C. Birney, went to Chicago last Wednesday, the object of the trip being to consult one of the eminent physicians there regarding Mr. Soesbe's ailment. Mr. and Mrs. S. returned Friday, but Mr. and Mrs. Birney remained a day or so longer sight-seeing. The Chicago physician's opinion of Mr. Soesbe's disease was similar to that agreed to by physicians here, that his liver was badly diseased, causing a general debilitation of his system, but hoped with the warm weather soon to come, that he would recover.

ALLISON.

J. R. Smith of Waverly, was in town yesterday.

Miss Gertie Martin commenced her school Monday.

HON. S. W. SOESBE DEAD.

The end came at last, and all that was mortal of S. W. Soesbe passed peacefully away at his home in this city, the final moment being about nine o'clock last Thursday evening.

It has been known that the end was near ever since his return from California a few weeks back, and all was done that skilled physicians and the tender nursing of a devoted wife and loving children could do to make the last hours with them on this earth peaceful and happy.

The dread disease that sapped out his vitals clung to him with a never ceasing grasp, daily conquering, till his constitution could resist it no longer.

The funeral was held at the Methodist church on Saturday afternoon at three o'clock, the funeral sermon being delivered by Rev. Taylor and the burial services under the direction of the Masonic lodge, of which he was a member.

Notwithstanding the bad weather, the church was crowded with sorrowing friends who had gathered to take the last sad farewell of our honored and esteemed townsman, and many were the eyes dimmed with tears as they beheld all that remained of he who had been their friend and neighbor through the many years of trials and tribulations.

S. W. Soesbe was born in Jones county, Iowa in Sept. 1844, was united in marriage to Miss Ella L. Newell, at Mount Auburn, in 1871, and in Sept. of the same year moved to Greene where he has since lived. He helped to build the first house in town, and erected the first residence on the West side.

He was united with the Baptist church at the age of 20 years and has always been a God fearing and conscientious follower of church and home. He represented Butler county in the 23rd General assembly of Iowa and creditably filled his office of trust. He was public spirited and did much toward the building up of our little city. He has left an honored name, and his memory will ever live and be fondly cherished by those he has gone before.

The deepest sympathy of the entire community is extended to the bereaved family.

Card of Thanks

We do most heartily extend our fullest and deepest appreciation to those who so kindly and thoughtfully assisted in so many ways in our deep affliction during the illness and burial of our beloved husband and father. May God bless and keep you all is our prayer.

POWERSVILLE.

The sun shines on us once more. W. J. Neal has sold his cream route to Tom Crane.

Mrs. Bell Newton has returned from her trip to Lenox.

Invitations are out for a "scrubbing bee." Guess where?

Ask Mrs. B. Newton when she expects to move to Kansas.

Why can't we have a church in Powersville and a R. R. too.

The farmers are busy planting corn, with but little hopes of a crop.

P. H. Powers went to Chicago Saturday, with a carload of fat cattle.

Mrs. Widel is so much improved as to be able to sit out in the open air.

J. W. Arnott called in Powersville Sunday evening. Come again Jim.

Mrs. I. Newton who has been sick most of the winter is very much improved.

The gardens this year will be rather late as some of the ground is not yet plowed.

Miss Minnie Blandin Sundayed in town again last week. There must be some attraction over this way.

The sewing society meets with Miss Louise Goodhue this week. They sewed last week for Mrs. J. Newton and did good work.

One of the greatest events of the season occurred the other evening at the residence of P. H. Powers. It was a "green picking over."

Mr. Lewis was so light headed the other day, that he could not bare the weight of his hat, so he hung it on the fence and let the cooling breezes play among his locks.

The first lawyer to locate at Greene was C. M. Failing, Esq., who had formerly lived in Jones county, and commenced practice in Greene in 1872. He only remained a few years when he returned to Jones county. He is now in the southern part of the State, engaged in publishing a newspaper.

J. W. Gilger located at Greene early in the seventies. He was a native of New York State, and was admitted to the bar here, in Butler county. He had a fair practice, and was a good lawyer. In 1880 he removed to Hampton, where he is yet in practice.

D. J. Marts, of Pennsylvania, a man of good general education, but not very well read in law, was admitted to the bar and commenced practice in Greene late in the seventies, but did not continue long. He had been living upon a farm near Greene, and had taught school considerable prior to his admission. He is now in Nebraska. John Jamison, son of W. R. Jamison, Esq., of Dumont, was another attorney, who located in Greene, remaining here with a very fair practice for about one year, from 1876 to 1877. John Jamison was a native of Ohio, where he was born in 1845, coming to Iowa early in the fifties with his father. He was admitted to the bar at Butler Center, and after practicing at Greene as above stated, he went to Shell Rock, and from there to Belmond, Iowa, where he still follows his profession. He is a very well read lawyer, and good speaker.

William M. Foote, attorney and justice of the peace, also present county coroner, of Butler county, was born in Shelby county, Ohio, in 1822; studied law in Dart county; was admitted to the bar in 1858, at Greenville, where he resided till 1864, when he removed to Clayton county, Iowa, where he was engaged in farming, and also occasionally engaged in attending to a law case. He went to Marble Rock, Floyd county, in 1870; came to Greene the following year. He has done something at the practice of law since he came here, but was elected a justice of the peace in 1872, and has held that office constantly since, the duties of which require most of his time. He was elected coroner in the fall of 1881. Mr. Foote has been twice married; his first wife was Miss Rhoda Swisher, born in Ohio, and died in Clayton county, May 13, 1870. His present wife was Miss Sarah A. Moore, born in Carroll county, Indiana. Mr. Foote had twelve children by his first wife, seven of whom are living. Has two children by second wife.

Soesbe Brothers, attorneys, have been in practice at Greene since 1877. This is a well-known firm. They came here when Greene was in its earliest infancy, and are the oldest practicing lawyers in the town. S. W. Soesbe was born near Mechanicsville, Jones county, Iowa, September 24, 1844. His father, William Soesbe, settled in Burlington, from Indiana, in 1840, but soon after located in Jones county. He died in Anamosa in 1880. Previous to engaging in the practice of law, S. W. Soesbe, Esq., was for a time engaged in bridge building with A. Spaulding & Co., who were afterward known as the "Dubuque Bridge Company." He came to Greene in 1871 and engaged in the real estate business. In the meantime he turned his attention to the study of the law, and was admitted in Judge D. S. Wilson's court, at Waterloo, January 5, 1877, and at once entered into the practice of his profession here. His wife was Ella L. Newell, daughter of Lorenzo Newell, an early settler of Benton county.

E. W. Soesbe, Esq., was born near Anamosa, November 11, 1851. He read law with his brother at Waverly; was admitted in that city in March, 1877; married Miss Carrie Cross, whose father, J. J. Cross, was an early settler of Fremont township.

The Soesbe Brothers are good lawyers, intelligent and popular gentlemen. They have a large, increasing business, both in legal practice and real estate business.

W. A. Lathrop, of the firm of Lathrop & Davis, also of the abstract firm of Lathrop, Hyde & Levis, is one of the oldest practitioners in Butler county; in fact, with but one exception—that of Captain Roszell, of Clarksville, who came to the county about the same time—has been longer in practice in this county than any other attorney. Mr. Lathrop is a native of New London county, Connecticut, where he was born in 1826. He is of the old Puritan stock, tracing his lineage back to the Rev. John Lathrop, who came over from England, and settled at Scituate, Massachusetts, September 28, 1634. From this Rev. John Lathrop descended all the Lathrops of this country. One branch of the family settled in Bozrah, New London county, Connecticut, and from this branch of the family the subject of our sketch sprung. He acquired in the common schools of his native State such education as they afforded, after which he took a thorough academical course at Leicester Academy, Worcester county, Massachusetts. He studied law with Judge Dwight Loomis, of the Supreme Court of Connecticut, and was admitted to the bar in 1854. He went to Illinois the same year and engaged in the practice of law in Elmwood, Peoria county, where he remained two years, when he returned to his native State and engaged in teaching. He came to Butler county in 1860, settled at Butler Center, and resided there in the practice of his profession until the removal of the county seat to Allison, when he took up his residence there. Mr. Lathrop is a well-educated gentleman and a successful lawyer. His twenty-two years' practice at the county seat has given him a large experience and a thorough knowledge of the various branches of his profession. He was county superintendent of the public schools of Butler county for four years, two years by appointment of county board and two years by election. He was also a member of the Tenth General Assembly of Iowa, representing the counties of Butler, Franklin and Grundy. Mrs. Lathrop was formerly Miss Adelaide Hyde, a native of Connecticut. They have one daughter, Ethel, wife of Mr. Charles W. Levis, the junior member of the firm.

In 1858 a number of accessions were made to the bar. Among them were J. W. Davis, Z. Graves, L. A. Orvis, and Alonzo Converse.

James W. Davis is a native of Oneida county, New York, where he was born October 28, 1826. He went to Lake county, Illinois, in 1853, where he engaged in teaching until 1856, when he removed to Clarksville, Iowa, and worked at carpen-
