

Standard Form For Members of the Legislature

Name of Representative Mansour, Ibrahim Senator _____ Represented Webster County, Iowa

1. Birthday and place 1852 Rathfrilandagh, New Castle West, Ireland

2. Marriage (s) date place

Mary Broderick 1882

3. Significant events for example:

A. Business Served as division superintendent in the agricultural department of the World's Fair in 1893

B. Civic responsibilities

C. Profession Farmer; grain business; grocery business

4. Church membership Catholic

5. Sessions served 24th General Assembly 1892

6. Public Offices

A. Local Just Dodge, deputy postmaster

B. State

C. National

7. Death 26 Aug 1897 Just Dodge, Iowa; buried

8. Children May; Maud

9. Names of parents

10. Education Educated in schools in his neighborhood in Ireland

11. Degrees _____

12. Other applicable information Democrat

- He came to Fort Dodge, Iowa around 1883 from Chicago and lived on a farm north of Fort Dodge, needing to live in the country.
- He taught school for 2 years in Ireland.
- He then studied for a government position in Ireland, but he failed to pass the required examination and being barred from trying again by the government, he decided to come to America.
- He came to America at age 22. He stayed 6 months in New York and then moved to Chicago.
- He entered the grocery business and was successful. During his last 3 years in Chicago he owned a store in the neighborhood of the stockyards giving him a very large trade.
- The last 2 years of his life he and his family lived in Fort Dodge.
- He had financial problems and committed suicide.

Best Stock
Hosiery
Corsets is at
W. K. Gates.

ad.
by Dry Goods Co.
MESSAGES.

is directed to ad of opening sale.
see Hatcher ad in this interest poultry raisers.

by is reported quite her home on First ave-

Train building on Sevreceiving some exterior

Greene is quite dan-she is being cared for at e home.

kman has traded his of the city for several in Arkansas.

Boehm, of State Cen-at the Habenicht and with her sisters.

bank has concluded
it at the F. E. Roper ned to Sioux City.

sel and Fred Lumpkin ng the local order of united gathering in Al-

DEATH BY STRYCHNINE

J. D. FLANAGAN TAKES HIS OWN LIFE BY MEANS OF A DEADLY DRUG.

Temporary Insanity Together With Despondency Over Business Matters Causes Him to Take His Own Life—Regrets Having Taken the Drug and Assists in a Vain Effort to Have It Removed—Was a Successful Farmer and Grain Buyer—His Friends Were Legion.

The suicide of J. D. Flanagan occurred at his home on Twelfth street between the hours of 10 and 11 o'clock Thursday evening. Temporary insanity coupled with business troubles is responsible for self-destruction.
Strychnine was the drug used. Deceased took enough to have killed twenty men and all efforts to save him availed nothing.

One of the most sudden and sad deaths THE MESSENGER has been obliged to chronicle in a long time is the suicide of J. D. Flanagan. A man in the prime of life; with a beautiful home and a loving family; a man whose joke and hearty laugh was the greeting for everyone. Apparently he was as cheerful and happy as any man could possibly be. He would be almost the last one who would be expected to seek to destroy his own life. But such he did and the entire community is shocked at the sudden act. His friends, who are legion, unite in sympathy for the wife and children.

For the past few days the more intimate of Mr. Flanagan's friends have noticed that his actions were peculiar.

He seemed to be weighted down with

FOUND DEAD IN BI

Michael O'Boyle Passes Away In Clare While Aslee

News was received in this day of the sudden death O'Boyle, an aged resident He retired at the usual hour night, and Wednesday morn-found dead in bed. He cumbered to heart failure and evidently claimed its victim was peacefully slumbering, was no evidence of a struggle.

Deceased was aged about and was father of Thomas postmaster in Clare. He lived near Manson in Lizard but in recent years he lived Mr. O'Boyle was a highly and honorable citizen. He dear of Webster county and and favorably known. Besias, there were two other chila wife who survive him, Conlee, of Manson, and Collins, of Gilmore City.

The funeral services were the Catholic church of Cl-o'clock Thursday and the buried in the Lizard ceme-

J. I. Case Sulky Pl

The J. I. Case Sulky Pl be on exhibition Satur-tember 4th, on the A.
farm, one mile southwest The exhibition will consiman pulling the plow an-ing a furrow 16 inches w-6 inches deep. Everyone ted to come and see the tion which will be at 2:30 afternoon. These plows sale at the Ford agri-house.

of the city for several in Arkansas.

Boehm, of State Cent the Habenicht and her sisters.

Blank has concluded at the F. E. Roper ed to Sioux City.

and Fred Lumpkin the local order of ited gathering in Aln has returned from e has been in the in- iss & Larson dry goods nsa Investment com- to A. M. Felts lot 2 in er & Morrison's addi- tion $500, is back from a ten business and pleasure sota. He made the d feels benefitted by urke is home from an Des Moines and Col- een greatly benefitted and returns to work ates store much imon of Miss Zella Whit- ably im- proved Thurs- en in a dangerous con- cl- days caused by being stomach by a horse, as ago.

ullivan is now aspiring hip of Boston. Mayor now in power refused with him and the pu- ballot box as a mode of orer out.

reaching the ice harbor or which an appropria- was made, has been ac- ced. The winter has been a menace to steam- three years almost the last one who would be expected to seek to destroy his own life. But such he did and the entire community is shocked at the sudden act. His friends, who are legion, unite in sympathy for the wife and children.

For the past few days the more intimate of Mr. Flanagan's friends have noticed that his actions were peculiar. He seemed to be weighted down with business affairs. Although he tried to throw off the gloom when with his friends, they knew that he was despondent. The evening of the suicide he was down town and met a large number of friends who conversed with him. At about 10 o'clock he went home, and at 10:15 he took the fatal dose. He had provided himself with two vials of strychnine. With his knife he removed the cork from one and emptied the contents into his mouth. This was no sooner done than he regretted the act and he at once notified his wife what he had done. Word was sent to neighboring friends, and Doctors Evans, Ristine and Saunders were called. When they arrived they did all they could for the unfortunate man, but their efforts were futile. He was conscious to the last and assisted in every way to get rid of the poison, but it had penetrated his system to such an extent that nothing could be done, and inside of an hour from the time he took the drug, he was dead. He told his friends he was sorry for his act and instructed them as to what he desired them to do,

Previous to taking the poison, he had written a note. This while not addressed to any one in particular, was

The exhibition will consist man pulling the plow and ing a furrow 16 inches wi 6 inches deep. Everyone ted to come and see the tion which will be at 2:30 afternoon. These plows sale at the Ford agric house.

Elkhorn Township.

Notice to the republican There will be a caucus in the school house September 10 o'clock p.m., to select four to the county convention to be Fort Dodge September 11th; township committee, and a business that may come up be caucus.

A. B. HANG

Chairman Rep. Twi

Cooper Township Caucus

A caucus of the republican of Cooper township will be held Rogers school house at 8 o'clock Saturday evening, Sept. 4th, 189 select six delegates to the county convention, Sept. 1 and to transact other important business. It is earnestly desired every republican in the township out. By order of

TOWNSHIP RE

REMEMBER the grand fall o Weiss & Larson's Thursday,

IS A CREDIT TO THE CI

The Haire Clothing Store Open Elegant New Quarters Under Auspices.

No one who paid a visit to Clothing store Wednesday on sion of its opening can dis- magnificence of the store, entrance to the extreme rear, floor to the ceiling, it is a clothing and gents' furnis-

REMEMBER the grand fall op Weiss & Larson's Thursday, 8

IS A CREDIT TO THE CIT

The Haire Clothing Store Open Elegant New Quarters Under I Ausplces.

No one who paid a visit to the Clothing store Wednesday on the sion of its opening can disj magnificence of the store, F entrance to the extreme rear, floor to the ceiling, it is fl clothing and gents' furnishin the bulk of which is entir stock and of the latest styl Haire Clothing store, which ha held a front place in the pro the city, is better able than fore to accommodate its custo give full value for money rece is a store of which the city feel proud. It is metropolitan out. The management is c and shows the same attentio In the future as in the past i to cater to the wants of the Webster county. No pains spared to please. In the old stock was too large for the everything was crowded and i lent. But now with nearly th the store room, customers wil ed upon to better advantag will not be the fault of the ment and the efficient clerks not pleased.

The opening of the Haire store in its elegant new quart nesday was a grand affair. I ed by far the expectations of agement and delighted all in attendance. It was an which over one thousand im visit this elegant store. T were opened at 10 o'clock. T a crowd in waiting and fr until late in the evening the threwed did all they could for the unfortunate man, but their efforts were futile. He was conscious to the last and assisted in every way to get rid of the poison, but it had penetrated his system to such an extent that nothing could be done, and inside of an hour from the time he took the drug, he was dead.

He told his friends he was sorry for his act and instructed them as to what he desired them to do,

Previous to taking the poison, he had written a note. This while not addressed to any one in particular, was evidently intended for his wife. It told of his different life insurance policies and stated that there would be sufficient to pay all his debts. He also wrote that he expected a draft from Armour of Chicago, and to use that in defraying the expenses.

J. D. Flanagan was aged 45 years.
He was a man without an enemy. Intentionally he would do no one any harm and always had a kind word or a joke for every one. For years he lived on his large farm north of the city, but for the past few years has made his home in Fort Dodge where he built a beautiful residence. He represented Webster county in one term of the legislature and was widely known over the state. A wife and two daughters survive him, May aged about 14, and Maud aged 11 years.

Arrangements for the funeral are not yet perfected, but the services will no doubt be held in Corpus Christi tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

THE PLYMOUTH AT HOME.

lar Clothing Firm.

About 5,000 people attended the proved Thurs-

a dangerous con-days caused by being stomach by a horse, ago.

is now aspiring ip of Boston. Mayor ow in power refused with him and the pu-ballot box as a mode of nor out.

edging the ice harbor which an appropri-was made, has been aced. The sandbar to be en a menace to steam-three years.

clothing store has a kite which is attract-attention. It is the l pattern and was seen e in these parts this ch for it over their er num has distribut-and attractive shoe ersection of the princito the city. The signs ing and a shoe clinched n such a manner as to

n. The scheme is orig-complimentary to Mr.
enterprise.

of T. A. Laughlin were surprised one evening number of their friends.
is spent with music and Ice cream and cake er which the company ey hope their friends a another of the same ature time.

ournal: Harry Adams, of Lake City met with a a accident while on Dayton Monday. As
oached the bridge over river he stuck his head low, striking the bridge ch force that his skull ota, where he has purchased a oat meal mill. Mr. Russell's family will remain here until spring.

ue y at the home of the bride's ents occurred the marriage of Miss tha Guth to Mr. Frank Croden, Zeurrer of the German Lutheran ch officiating. The young people o many friends here who join with CHRONICLE in extending congratulations.

he Wenner from shoe store always ue and original in advertising, has istributed through the county a very stic sign board with a large shoe ited thereon and the firm name on er side, making one of the most hy and unique signs ever set up by of our merchants.

ounty Missionary Calkins will cont religious services in the school se at Border Plains, Sunday, Aut 29, at 10:30 a. m., and at the nchard school house at 3:00 p. m. e day. There will be a Sunday oc vention in the M. E. church vauston, Sunday September 5th, mencing at 10:30 a. m.

he condition of the corn crop, as reted last Saturday from every station he Dubuque division of the Illinois tral railroad from Dubuque to Fort ge, and from Cedar Rapids to Lyle, n., shows that the crop is looking ndid; has not been injured by frost is within thirty or forty days of urity.

rs. John Mallinger departed Friday rnoon with her son Joe for Mount mel, Ill., where Joe will enter the ool at that point. Before returning s. Mallinger will visit her former e in Wisconsin and renew acquaintes made before she came to Iowa as wife of our popular County Super- or, John Mallinger.

ne of the finest signs ever put up his city was hung over the Ply- at Clothing House Wednesday. sign is forty-two feet long and two t wide. In the center are raised ers covered with gold leaf on a ck ground. The sign is made of gal- et numbers in aluminum. The n cost $80, and is the work of C. E.

AN HONORED CITIZEN GONE.

J. D. Flanagan Takes His Life by His Own Hand—A Shock to the Community.

No event in recent years shocked this community as much as the announcement of the terrible death of J. D. Flanagan, which occurred at 11:15 p. m. Thursday caused by a dose of strychnine administered by his own hand with suicidal intent, while laboring under a fit of despondency caused by financial troubles.

He was around town until about 9:30 in the evening and seemed somewhat worried and excited at times. All day he was receiving dispatches as to prices of grain in Chicago, and it is understood he tried to borrow money to carry some purchases he had made. Meeting C. W. Maher about 9:30 o'clock he walked home with him and continued to talk about his financial matters. Mr. Maher went with him to within a block of his home. About ten o'clock he told his family that he had taken poison. Friends and surgeons were called at once. Doctors Evans, Saunders and Ristine labored for about an hour but to no avail. He had taken about ten grains and was beyond medical aid. He purchased the poison about 9 o'clock, saying he was going to kill rats. It has been understood for some time that Mr. Flanagan was interested in some grain deals and was losing money.

His death is a great shock as no one was better or more favorably known. He left a short letter as to his property and saying he could not live any longer. His wife and two young daughters are crushed under the appalling blow. Prior to his death he asked for Father Burke, and bitterly repented of his rash act. He urged the doctors to save him. Father Burke arrived in time to administer the rites of his church, and, forgiving everybody and asking forgiveness for himself, whole soul and good natured John Flanagan was no more.

Mr. Flanagan came to Fort Dodge

A SUCCESSFUL FIRM.

The Plymouth Opening a Grand Success—Increase of Business Demand Larger Quarters.

The enchanter's wand was wielded with effect in the Plymouth Clothing House Thursday morning while doors were closed and when reopened a fascinating scene was disclosed that is seldom equaled. Decorating was done by Mr. Larson of the Kellenberger floral firm, and evidenced the artistic taste possessed by the decorator. Windows, show cases, shelves and every cranny of the store had been artistically arranged so as to show up to the best advantage and present the best possible appearance. Green plants had been placed in various parts of the room and smilax cut to every projection, giving a pleasing relief of color. One could have no slight idea of the immense stock of goods carried by the Plymouth store without seeing it as it is now exhibited in their magnificent store room. The stock completely fills the entire store but in such a manner as to permit an easy exhibition of every article in the store.

The opening was first announced by the Concordia Band which marched along Central avenue, returning last to the Plymouth corner. Here a large crowd had already gathered and as soon as the doors were swung open the stream of people began to flow in at one door and out of the other, continuing all day.

The visitors upon their entrance were given a souvenir of the occasion and conducted along through the store to the rear end where, on a raised platform, Messrs. Johnson and Williams entertained an interested audience playing on various instruments.

In the evening the scene was repeated, the electric lights shedding a brilliancy upon the scene that made things appear even more interesting than in the forenoon. Everyone felt that they had been more than rees made before she came to Iowa as wife of our popular County Superior, John Mallinger.

One of the finest signs ever put up in this city was hung over the Plymouth Clothing House Wednesday. It is forty-two feet long and two feet wide. In the center are raised letters covered with gold leaf on a black ground and on each end are the set numbers in aluminum. The sign cost $80, and is the work of C. E. Howell.

Col. C. W. King will be a candidate for the position of Adjutant General, now occupied by General Wright, next year. Col. King has been connected with the national Guard for many years and is one of the best educated men on military affairs in the state. Col. King's candidacy will be supported by the leading men of the district and his chances of success ought to be good.

The barn of James Sultzbaugh in the west part of the city was entered Thursday and his riding horse together with his bridle and saddle was stolen. The barn door was found open in the morning with no clue to the identity of the thief or thieves. Suspicion was directed towards a boy who is described in the cards sent out by Sheriff Polsey, as 19 years old, smooth face, light complexion, weighs about 140 lbs, 5 feet 8 inches tall.

Another case of hog cholera has been reported. The disease made its appearance among the hogs of J. Schmoker and several hogs have died from it. J. Schmoker purchased a case of the alleged remedy which was being sold at the time but this was ineffective. Mr. Stole examined Mr. Schmoker's hogs and told him he needed more medicine. Mr. Schmoker refused to take any unless Mr. Stole guaranteed a cure. This was refused, and likewise the remedy.

Sioux City Journal: Word has been received in this city from Algona that private James Dally, of Company F, 1st regiment, I. N. G., who was seriously injured at Camp Wilkins by the premature discharge of a cannon, getting along as well as could be expected, and very much better than was first hoped. Dr. Morse now believes that he will not lose even a finger.

any longer. His wife and two young daughters are crushed under the appalling blow. Prior to his death he asked for Father Burke, and bitterly repented of his rash act. He urged the doctors to save him. Father Burke arrived in time to administer the rites of his church, and, forgiving everybody and asking forgiveness for himself, whole souled and good natured John Flanagan was no more.

Mr. Flanagan came to Fort Dodge about fourteen years ago from Chicago and for some years lived upon his farm north of the city. He was elected to the lower house of the state legislature about six years ago and served one term. He then served as division superintendent in the agricultural department of the World's Fair in 1893. Returning to Fort Dodge he engaged in the grain business after serving one year as deputy postmaster. He leaves a large farm somewhat encumbered and about $12,000 life insurance.

J. D. Flanagan was one of the best known citizens of Webster county and had a very large acquaintance all over Iowa. He was whole souled, genial, generous to a fault, and everybody's friend. He had faults. Who has not? But there was in him a charity for his fellow men, a kind word to the unfortunate, and a ready purse for the needy. Everyone who knew him, and they are thousands, will regret his most untimely death and extend to him the charity he knew so well to extend to others. We all mourn for him because, in a moment of despondency he erred, and rejoice that he lived to regret it. There will be many a tear shed over his grave and many a prayer that he may have found rest in that unknown world where all of us shall be judged. He was forty-six years old and leaves a wife and two daughters. He was buried from Corpus Christi church at 10 a. m. today.

In the sudden and deplorable death of John D. Flanagan, Fort Dodge loses an honored citizen and a friend to all mankind. To his afflicted wife and daughters the CHRONICLE tenders the heartfelt sympathy of the public.

Such a Li'l' Fellow.

Such a li'l' fellow, en he settin' up so wise. Say he like his dady, but he got his mammy's eyes; and conducted along through the to the rear end where, on a platform, Messrs. Johnson and W. entertained an interested audience playing on various instruments.

In the evening the scene was repeated, the electric lights shedding brilliancy upon the scene that things appear even more interesting than before. Everyone left feeling that they had been more than repaid for coming, and that the Plymouth management was all that could be desired.

Mr. Armstrong has been in business here for eleven years. During that time the progress of his business has been steadily upward. The wisdom of a change from a credit to a cash basis has been justified by the evenness of the business of the firm has outgrown its old quarters. In order to enable himself to carry a metropolitan business and to give the best of satisfaction to his customers, Mr. Armstrong has made the present change in quarters.

Strict business integrity and business energy has made this firm popular as any in the city. Their success in the past justifies their present enlargement of their business and with the reputation that they now enjoys, there is no doubt that their business will be in proportion to their increased opportunities.

Mother and Daughter.

"My mother was afflicted with granular lids and she received treatment without result. Then she concluded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla and a few bottles effected a permanent cure. I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla after it with excellent results." Florence E. Rock Branch, Iowa.

Hoods Pills are the favorite family remedy, easy to take, easy to operate.

Good Service for St. Louis and St. Paul.

The C. R. I. & P. make direct connections at Des Moines for St. Louis, Mo., and at St. Louis for Hot Springs, New Orleans and all points south and southwest. Through tickets on our also tourist round trip tickets to the west territory. For further information see W. U. Turpin, Agent.

the raise of rates.
ers of these estab-ading as much as for furnishing all ome, while others their doors open a f as much as $1 ey say business is there are other oc-thful than running n a philanthropic of their boarders to argue they sim-
e market reports, pare them with the ix months ago.
keeper is no doubt s of all staple ar-advanced during it is the boarding is noted the rise in The boarding-is shrewd buys in m the wholesaler and is thus enabled ole money which into the till of the
the market rises
g-house keeper als quick to appre-
er people who der grocery for the d who make small
st ones to feel the ile the small steak
y to the boarding-le is just as tough 10 to 15 per cent
ear ago. But the ow all this. He s at all, that eggs o 8 cents more a ere when he first eals with his landou'er he spreads it recently raised nants who come in large number of
bers is John Sexton

JOHN D. FLANAGAN,

John D. Flanagan, whose tragic death has created so much sympathy and grief, was born in Rathfreedagh, New Castle West, Ireland, forty-five years ago. There were thirteen children in the family, five sisters and one brother being now alive in this country and one brother and sister and his venerable father living at the old home in Ireland. As a young man he received a good education and for two years he taught school. He afterwards studied for a government position, but failing to pass the required strict examination and being debarred from trying again by the age limit, he decided to emigrate to America. He was then twenty-two years old and after staying six months in New York he came to Chicago and remained there up to the time of his coming to this county. He entered the grocery trade and with his education and good business faculties pushed rapidly to the front. During the last years of his stay in Chicago he owned a large store in the neighborhood of the stock yards and controlled the largest trade of any similar establishment in that part of the city. He was married in 1882 to Mary Broderick, of Bloomington, Illinois. Two children were born to them, May, now 14 years old, and Maud, 13.

Thirteen years ago he decided to get into the country and liking this part of Iowa bought a section of land, which was still in his possession immediately north of Fort Dodge. He lived on this place up to a short time ago and in all that time "Flanagan farm" was the headquarters of hospitality and open-hearted welcome. No one ever called there who did not go away charmed with the host and in love with his sociability and kindness. In 1892 he represented Webster county in the Iowa legislature and in filling this post of distinction the interests of his constituents were always zealously safe-guarded, his abilities proving signally valuable in promoting this end. He was considered one of the most influential men in the house of representatives. In 1893 he was appointed assistant director of the agricultural building at the world's fair and served in that place of honor throughout the months of the exposition. He won the hearty respect of his colleagues there and the regard of all who were brought in contact with him. To Iowa people especially he devoted his energies in entertaining and the number of people placed under obligations to him were legion. The last couple of years he has been a resident of this city, having built a beautiful residence on Twelfth street, and his time has been devoted to grain buying.

he has a Dunlap he is well dress There is something about a Dun which identifies it over all other hats is superior to all others because of quality and style. Nothing but best material is used in the manu ture of the Dunlap. The block is patterned after other styles, but Dunlap makes the style and all ot hats fall in line. It is for these well as numerous other forcible reas that the Dunlap is acknowledged leader in style and the popular hat the day.

The Haire clothing store with usual enterprise captured the age for the Dunlap. Every spring fall an opening sale is held in ev city where there is an agency. T sale comes on the same day and agent is permitted to sell a hat for coming season before that date. and after that date agents may sel their will, but must adhere to the price. The Dunlap manufact fixes the price and there are no de tions. As has been stated above sales on the Dunlap hat have increa with each opening. Patrons in I Dodge are becoming educated up the point of knowing that the Dun represents style. Manager Haire been well pleased with former oper sales and the general demand for D laps the year round. He is confid that the sale which opens Wednes morning will surpass every former fort. The fall and winter styles d considerably from the spring and s mer styles, and there is expected t a great demand to keep up with times. If you are expecting to chase a hat this fall get into the cession which starts for the H clothing store Wednesday morning

DEATH OF HENRY REECK.

We are requested to give place t corrected statement of the sudden mise of Mr. Reeck of Deer Creek.
varies in a few instants the money which

 into the till of the
 the market rises
 house keeper al-
 s quick to appre-
 er people who der ocery for the d who make small
 st ones to feel the

 ile the small steak
 to the boarding-e is just as tough 10 to 15 per cent
 ear ago. But the w all this. He at all, that eggs 8 cents more a re when he first als with his land-utter he spreads t recently raised ants who come in large number of

 er's John Sexton is ue who hears notes of the scale.
 lain wherein the board was justihe market report gan to quote the hat can be found boarding-houses.
 said Mr. Sexton.
 ouse must have they are worth 35 el now than they Look at prunes.
 a cent and 2 cents apples are also ent a pound higher ell, beans that sold go are now selling There has been a corn meal, and a ce in the prices ds. Mackerel has barrel, and codfish t a pound. The up-to-date landlady

Maud, 13.
 Thirteen years ago he decided to get into the country and liking this part of Iowa bought a section of land, which was still in his possession immediately north of Fort Dodge. He lived on this place up to a short time ago and in all that time "Flanagan farm" was the headquarters of hospitality and open-hearted welcome. No one ever called there who did not go away charmed with the host and in love with his sociability and kindness. In 1892 he represented Webster county in the Iowa legislature and in filling this post of distinction the interests of his constituents were always zealously safe-guarded, his abilities proving signally valuable in promoting this end. He was considered one of the most influential men in the house of representatives. In 1893 he was appointed assistant director of the agricultural building at the world's fair and served in that place of honor throughout the months of the exposition. He won the hearty respect of his colleagues there and the regard of all who were brought in contact with him. To Iowa people especially he devoted his energies in entertaining and the number of people placed under obligations to him were legion. The last couple of years he has been a resident of this city, having built a beautiful residence on Twelfth street, and his time has been devoted to grain buying.
 He was practically the founder of the town of Industry on the Mason City road, where his shipping was done.
 He has handled a very large amount of business there and was considered a successful grain dealer. Without doubt he has had some reverses but it is believed that it was the constant, mind-racking strain of the business which is inevitable, no matter on how legitimate lines it is conducted, rather than any considerable losses which induced the despondency that caused him to take his own life.
 It is impossible to review the life of John Flanagan—the genial "J. D." as everybody called him—and see anything but his good qualities. His very faults were the outcome of his noble nature, and harmed only himself.
 He was warm-hearted, whole-souled, and true as steel. He liked everybody and there was nobody but could like him. It is sad to think that a man who did nothing but cheer others along his pathway should himself have become despondent at the end. Before the judgment seat that reckons the good and evil that men do, J. D. Flanagan will receive the charity he never withheld from a fellow being.

COLLEGE NOTES

Tobin College Opens Its Fall Term With

price. The Dunlap manufacfixes the price and there are no de-
 tions. As has been stated above
 sales on the Dunlap hat have increawith each opening. Patrons in F Dodge are becoming educated up
 the point of knowing that the Dun-
 represents style. Manager Haire been well pleased with former open sales and the general demand for D
 laps the year round. He is confid-
 that the sale which opens Wednes-
 morning will surpass every former fort. The fall and winter styles di-considerably from the spring and sumer styles, and there is expected to a great demand to keep up with
 times. If you are expecting to
 chase a hat this fall get into the
 cession which starts for the H
 clothing store Wednesday morning

DEATH OF HENRY REECK.

We are requested to give place to corrected statement of the sudden
 mise of Mr. Reeck of Deer Creek.
 varies in a few particulars from the already published:

Henry Reeck, one of the oldest most highly respected residents Deer Creek township, was found at his home Monday noon. There nothing suspicious about his death an examination by physicians nounced it a clear case of heart fail-

Mr. Reeck helped do the chore the morning, afterwards assisted of the boys in grinding a sickle worked about as usual. About o'clock he went into the house and a lunch. After eating he went under a shade tree by the house was speaking with his wife. She w about preparing the dinner, and on turning a few minutes later found dead. Deceased was aged about years. He leaves a wife and th children to mourn his loss.

Mr W G Berry made hay near J on Saturday and he will