Advices received today from Fred P. Bemis, who went to St. Louis Saturday morning, is of the most gratifying nature. Mr. Bemis is in the hands of a family friend, Dr. J. C. Hughes, one of the very foremost neurologists of America, and the diagnosis of Dr. Hughes is complete nervous prostration, for which the indicated remedy is a change of scene and complete rest for a time. OBITUARY

Sunderbruch.
Aug. H. Sunderbruch has received a telegram from Savannah, Ga., announcing the death of his brother George. The deceased had recently been operated on and never rallied after the operation. He was superintendent of a steel works there. The funeral took place there today.

Jensen.
At noon Sunday, at the Scott county hospital, aged 72 years, occurred the death of William Jensen, who was born in Germany and came here when a boy, residing here ever since. He is survived by several children.

The funeral will be held from the Nissen & Hartwig undertaking establishment at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, with interment at Fairmount cemetery.

Langbehn.

At the Scott County infirmary on Sunday occurred the death of Ernst Langbehn, at the age of 44 years. The remains have been conveyed to the Boles undertaking parlors and will be held there pending the funeral arrangements.

The Bawden Funeral.

It was a fine tribute to a worthy life, brought all too soon to an end, that was paid to the late George W. Bawden Sunday afternoon. The home at 511 Kirkwood boulevard would not hold all of those who joined in paying respect to his memory. Nearly a score of business men from Clinton came down via the interurban line which he had been so largely instrumental in building. The business and legal circles of Muscatine, his home for a time several years ago, were also well represented in spite of poor Sunday train service. The Scott County Bar association attended en masse, and the gathering filled the house and lawn.

Rev. J. B. Donaldson, D. D., paid eloquent tribute to the sterling qualities of the deceased which make his death such a loss to this city and to the home in which he had been an especially loving and loved husband and father. He referred to the pathetic incident of the father having been taken from the home without knowing of the recent dangerous illness of his youngest son, now recovering from an operation at Mercy hospital, and of the fact that the boy does not yet know that he will never again see his father in this life. Mr. Bawden was declared an example in all the walks of life after whom his sons and his former associates in the business community may well pattern. There was comfort for the bereaved relatives and for his friends in the manner in which he had discharged life's duties and the degree in which he had achieved success in carrying out the best aims of life before he was called away.

The choir of the First Presbyterian church, Mrs. Amalia Schmidt Gobble, Miss Elizabeth Nott, Harry E. Downer and Dr. A. Atkinson, sang "Heaven is My Home," and "In the Hour of Trial." The interment at Oakdale was private. The pallbearers were Dr. C. R. Baker, W. E. Saldor, Joe R. Lane, Benj. W. Gartside, Wils McClellan and Henry Thibodeau, Jr.

The funeral of the late Ed Eldridge was held Sunday afternoon in Rock Island under the auspices of the Tri-

ROGGE-FREUND

Gottfried Rogge, my great-grandfather, was born in Beberstedt, Germany in 1803. In 1849 he brought his wife and children to America. One of those children, Lorenz Rogge, my grandfather, married Dorothea Meinhardt in 1864. They resided in Sheridan Township, Section 34. They had four children: Philip who married Catherine Freund, Anna Dorothea (my mother) who married John Adam Freund (my father), Geneveta who married Ignatz Freund, and Louisa who married Albert Freund. All of these Friends were the children of Peter Freund and Margaret Krause Freund.

Children of Lorenz Rogge

Peter Freund, my grandfather, was born in 1825 in the village of Goldbach, in Ashafenberg, Bavaria, Germany, about 30 miles from Lake Constance and the Swiss border.

He was educated in the common schools of his country. Until 21 years of age, he farmed with his father and then enlisted in the army of Bavaria for 6 years.

In 1853 he emigrated to America, sailing on the "Ferriere" from Havre, France, docking in New York on June 4. He arrived in Davenport with 25 cents in his pocket. He worked as a farm hand and in 1854 he married Margaret Krause of Bavaria.

After purchasing 80 acres in Pleasant Valley Township at the southwest corner of Middle Road and Devil's Glen Road, they erected a house and made it their home until 1876. They then purchased 309 acres on Middle Road. The farm was on the east side of Duck Creek adjacent to where Wachter School was located.

The family of Peter Freund consisted of six boys and two girls. They were George K. Wachter Freund, John Adam, Ignatz, Albert, Joseph, Edward, Frances, and Catherine. A nephew, John Baptist Freund, lived across Middle Road. Mrs. Eldon (Jack) Freund and Richard Freund still live on Middle Road on part of the original Peter Freund farm. Eldon's and Richard's father was Edward, youngest son of Peter Freund.

Grandfather Peter Freund died in 1897. Margaret Krause Freund died in 1898.

John Adam Freund was born in 1862 and married Anna Dorothea Rogge who was born in 1868. They had seven children, four boys and three girls. They were Eleanora (Nora), Harry, Peter, Fred, Lorenz, Rose, and Julia (Sister Mary Jean).

The John Adam Freund family lived on a 240 acre farm between Devil's Glen Road and the road west of it from which there was an access road to the home and farm buildings. Part of the farm was along Duck Creek and 40 acres were south of Duck Creek on the road giving access to the property.

Before World War I, the Davenport Rifle Club rented land south of the farm home on which they built five bunks of varying heights and a cellar from which two large targets could be raised and lowered. The cellar was at the base of a high and sharp embankment near Devil's Glen Road. During the war the government of the arsenal rented the range and sent 60 soldiers to camp in the field and to practice at the range. Groups were changed every few weeks. Three of the Freund boys, Harry, Peter, and Lorenz were drafted.

In 1920 the farm was divided and rented. Harry had 160 acres and the old buildings. A new house and barn were built for Fred. In 1920, their parents, Eleanora, Peter, Fred, Rose, and Julia moved to 815 (717) West Grant Street in Bettendorf. Eleanora lived there until 1955. Harry was married in 1920. Fred, Lorenz, and Rose were married in 1921. Lorenz lived on Uncle Albert's farm on Devil's Glen Road. Ignatz Freund also lived on Devil's Glen Road. Julia (Sister Mary Jean, B.V.M.) entered Mt. Carmel, Dubuque, in 1925.

John Adam Freund died in 1922. Anna Rogge Freund died in 1934. This information is from Sister Mary Jean Freund's research. Submitted by Patricia Freund Cepican, niece of Sister Mary Jean
