lished in a local newspaper, in which he criticised Judge Lairy for suspension of two young offenders, which, according to a newspaper report, had been done under promise that they join the army and navy.

Just before the case was scheduled for trial late yesterday Ryan submitted a statement saying that he sought only to defend the reputation of the army and navy and regretted having hastily acted on an unfair published statement. The apology was accepted.

Judge Lairy reiterated his grounds for consenting on certain occasions to stay charges against first offenders under certain circumstances, subject to their proving acceptable to recruiting officers.

Newton Yount, a resident of Anamosa 27 years ago was a caller at the Journal office Wednesday. He is the eldest son of John N. Yount, an old time resident of Anamosa. Newt has been in the theatrical business as an acrobat for 21 year and has made the vaudeville circuit under the stage name of Harvey Reese.

Concert.

A most delightful concert is promised the people of Anamosa next Tuesday night, when Messrs. Leo, Paar, and Schaneker of Cedar Rapids will give a program at the High School auditorium at eight o'clock Tuesday evening, May 11.

The program is to be given under the auspices of the Apollo Club and will be free to members of that organization whose dues are paid for this year. Of all others an admission fee of 25 cents will be asked.

The program will comprise both vocal and piano numbers. Mr. Leo has sung this year from coast to coast with signal success; his beautiful baritone voice and artistic interpretation have made him a prime favorite with Anamosans. Mr. Paar scored a big hit when he sang here last winter on the Club's guest night program, as did Mr. Schaneker with his wonderful work as pianist.

Three in combination will furnish one of the best musical entertainments ever given in Anamosa.

THE NEW BOARD OF PAROLE.

Source: Iowa Territorial and State Legislators Collection compiled by volunteers and staff at the State Historical Society of Iowa Library, Des Moines, Iowa.
With the completion of the hearings at Anamosa last week, Senator W. H. Berry of Indianola, terminates

Dr. S. Druet.

Samuel Druet was born in Ohio, August 20, 1844, and died at his home in Anamosa, May 2, 1915., aged 70 year, 8 months and 12 days.

He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. James Druet, was a veteran of the Civil war and a member of Fred Steele Post, G. A. R., being one of its most efficient and faithful officers for many years.

For many years he was a physician at Marysville, Marion county, Iowa, from which county he was selected as State Senator of the 15th Senatorial District and served the state in that capacity during the 26th and 27th General assemblies, including the extra session of the 26th General Assembly when the present Code was adopted. After the expiration of his term as Senator he was called to Anamosa to accept the position of State physician which he acceptably filled for many years besides attending to a large private practice which he built up in this community.

Dr. Druet built a comfortable home in the best part of the city and was always foremost in every matter looking to the welfare of the city. But it was socially an as a neighbor and friend that he endeared himself to the people of Anamosa. He was an active worker among the old comrades of the army, but to all he brought a smile and a cheering word and it is safe to say that he did not have an enemy in the city of his adoption.

The remains were taken to Knoxville, Iowa, where burial took place on Wednesday, May 5th.

He is survived by a wife and several children and leaves to them the priceless heritage of a well spent life in the service of his country and mankind in general.

DEATH OF DR. S. DRUET

A Highly Esteemed Citizen Enters into Rest After a Long Illness.

Dr. Samuel Druet was born at Piqua, Ohio, August 20th, 1844, and died in Anamosa, Iowa, May 2d, 1915. When he was but eleven years of age both his father and mother, who were natives of Virginia, passed away and the subject of this sketch was taken in charge by his brother John, a physician. In 1856 his family removed to Bloomfield, Davis county, Iowa, and after acquiring a common school education Samuel learned the tinner's trade. When the war broke out he returned to Ohio to be with his sister, whose husband had entered the service. His patriotic example was soon followed by Samuel who enlisted May 2d, 1864, and joined Company I, 161st Ohio infantry, and remained until mustered out with his regiment at Camp Chase, Ohio.

In 1865 he returned to Bloomfield and went into the tin and hardware business. He was married March 27, 1866, to Miss Rosetta Abbott, whose faithfulness and devotion all these years, and particularly during the long months of wearisome illness of her husband, beginning with partial paralysis last September, have exemplified to a marked degree the singularly affectionate and helpful relations that characterized their pilgrimage together for more than forty-nine years.

After taking a regular medical course Dr. Druet commenced the practice of medicine in 1874 and followed that profession for about twenty-two years in Marysville and vicinity. In 1895 he was elected to the State Senate from the Monroe-Marion county district, and for three successive winters at Des Moines rendered faithful and efficient assistance in the important work of revising the code. In June, 1898, he was appointed prison physician for the penitentiary at Anamosa and performed acceptable service in that position for twelve years under Wardens Hunter and Barr.

Dr. and Mrs. Druet united with the Methodist Episcopal church at Bloomfield in 1866. They removed to Marysville in 1876 and he was a valuable member of the official boards of those churches and later with the official board of the Anamosa church.

Dr. Druet's children are: John T., of Albia, Monroe county; Mrs. Ella V. Manhardt, of Knoxville; Charles H., of Anamosa; and Mrs. M. J. Druet, of Anamosa.

The funeral services were held at the residence Tuesday at 2:30 p. m., and at Knoxville on Wednesday afternoon at the same hour, with interment in the cemetery at that city. Rev. P. Shaffer, of the M. E. church, was in charge here and the order was as follows: Reading selections from the Scriptures, including the 23d Psalm, a favorite with the deceased; hymn, "Jesus, Lover of my Soul," by Rev. Shaffer; reading from the 90th Psalm and from the 15th of I. Cor. by Rev. Felix H. Pickworth, for many years rector of St. Mark's Episcopal church and chaplain at the reformatory during Dr. Druet's official connection with the institution; reading of the above historical sketch by Rev. Shaffer, followed by prayer and the sermon based on I. Cor., 15:57—"But thanks be to God who giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ."

Rev. Shaffer delivered an unusually vigorous and impressive discourse on the above suggestive theme. This, he said, is an expression of gratitude and triumph in the presence of the most important question that comes to humanity. On this issue human philosophy and science fall short and there is nothing positive and reliable except that which comes through divine revelation. There is victory over death. There is resurrection from the dead. It is sublime to hear a man like our friend say, "I do not expect to recover, yet I have gone through the most wonderful and satisfying experience of my life since this sickness came upon me." Now was he conquered? Did he lose out in the fight? By no means. He was a victor, and he went forward, even into the dark valley, with courage, assurance, faith, strength, and overcame disease, weakness and death itself, and heard the glad welcome to the mansions which Christ has prepared for those who love him.

We can make only brief reference to the sermon, which carried an important lesson to all present. Rev. Shaffer then sang "Nearer, my God to Thee," and closed with the Lord's ice in that position for twelve years under Wardens Hunter and Barr.

Dr. and Mrs. Druet united with the Methodist Episcopal church at Bloom- field in 1866. They removed to Marys- ville in 1876 and he was a valuable member of the official boards of those churches and later with the official board of the Anamosa church.

The children of this union are John T., of Albia, Monroe county; Mrs. Ella V. Manhardt, of Knoxville; Charles H., residing in California; Wm. S., of Ottumwa; Dr. Arthur L., of Larch- wood, Lyon county; Frederick, of Burl- ington; and Mrs. Julia D. Buell, of Independence. All the children, ex- cept the son in California, have assist- ed the mother at different times in caring for their father in his sickness.

Dr. Druet was the last of a family of nine children although his was the first death in his own immediate fam- ily. He has long been affiliated with the Masonic and Odd Fellow orders, the Grand Army of the Republic and local medical societies, and being a fluent and graceful speaker was called on frequently for addresses on public occasions.

The doctor built a pleasant home on South Ford street soon after locating in Anamosa, and one of his delights, aside from the practice of his profes- sion, was the care of a large garden, whose products combined the useful and ornamental and often found their way to the homes of neighbors and friends of the generous doctor.

Seldom indeed has a community been blessed with a citizen of the ra- dian, cheery and optimistic character possessed by Dr. Druet. His open- hearted, open-handed cordiality seemed to flow out to every man, no matter what his calling, and with it went the assurance of a genuineness and good will that won a like spirit of respon- siveness and sympathy and held with enduring friendship all with whom he came in contact. Though life, its achievements, its philosophy and its destiny were always matters of pro- found interest to Dr. Druet, yet, even in the midst of disappointments and discouragements, he never lost his happy spirit, and the "school-boy whistle" in which he now and then indulged seemed like the sparkle of rip- pling waters in the glow of perpetual sunshine.

On several occasions when the writer visited the doctor during his long illness, and the same was true, no doubt, with many others, he ex- pressed this characteristic cheerful- ness and at the same time his firm portant lesson to all present. Rev. Shaffer then sang "Nearer, my God to Thee," and closed with the Lord's

... destiny were always matters of profound interest to Dr. Druet, yet, even in the midst of disappointments and discouragements, he never lost his happy spirit, and the "school-boy whistle" in which he now and then indulged seemed like the sparkle of rippling waters in the glow of perpetual sunshine.

On several occasions when the writer visited the doctor during his long illness, and the same was true, no doubt, with many others, he expressed this characteristic cheerfulness and at the same time his firm, unshaken faith in the verities of the Word and his hope for the future. As the weeks passed and the weakness and the weariness increased, and the ordinary interests of life were slipping away, his chief desire and concern, aside from the love of his devoted wife and family, found expression with growing frequency and fervor in the words, "I want to go." This wish was gratified in the breaking dawn of the 2d of May, the fifty-first anniversary of his enlistment in the service of his country, when his peaceful soul passed from the scenes of the church militant and joined the victorious armies of the church triumphant above.

In a visit to the doctor last winter a friend gave him the following poem, "Ultima Veritas," by Washington Gladden, which the doctor read many times during his days of journeying toward sunset, and the lines are expressive not only of his faith but also of his fine poetic taste.

In the bitter waves of woe,
 Beaten and tossed about
 By the sullen winds that blow
 From the desolate shores of doubt.

While the anchors that faith had cast
 Are dragging in the gale,
 I am quietly holding fast
 To the things that cannot fail.

I know that right is right;
 That it is not good to lie;
 That love is better than spite,
 And a neighbor than a spy;
 * * * * *

In the darkest night of the year,
 When the stars have all gone out,
 That courage is better than fear,
 That faith is truer than doubt.

And, fierce though the fiends may fight,
 And long though the angels hide;
 I know that Truth and Right
 Have the universe on their side;

And that somewhere, beyond the stars,
 Is a Love that is better than Fate;
 When the night shall be black,
 I shall see Him, and I will wait.

The funeral services were held at the residence Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. and at Knoxville on Wednesday afternoon at the same hour, with interment in the cemetery at that city. Rev. F. P. Shaffer, of the M. E. church, was in charge here and the order was as follows: Reading selections from the Scriptures, including the 23d Psalm, a favorite with the deceased; hymn, "Jesus, Lover of my Soul," by Rev. Shaffer; reading from the 90th Psalm and from the 15th of I. Cor. by Rev. Felix H. Shaffer, followed by prayer and the sermon based on I. Cor., 15:57—"But thanks be to God who giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ."

Rev. Shaffer delivered an unusually vigorous and impressive discourse on the above suggestive theme. This, he said, is an expression of gratitude and triumph in the presence of the most important question that comes to humanity. On this issue human philosophy and science fall short and there is nothing positive and reliable except that which comes through divine revelation. There is victory over death. There is resurrection from the dead. It is sublime to hear a man like our friend say, "I do not expect to recover, yet I have gone through the most wonderful and satisfying experience of my life since this sickness came upon me." He was a victor, and he went forward, even into the dark valley, with courage, assurance, faith, strength, and overcame disease, weakness and death itself, and heard the glad welcome to the mansions which Christ has prepared for those who love him.

We can make only brief reference to the sermon, which carried an important lesson to all present. Rev. Shaffer then sang "Nearer, my God to Thee," and closed with the Lord's prayer and the benediction.

In spite of the very threatening weather there was a good attendance of friends at the obsequies, among them members of the Masonic and Eastern Star and Odd Fellow orders and the G. A. R. At the close of the services opportunity was given for viewing the peaceful face of our departed friend. Many floral offerings graced the casket and beautified the room, elaborate designs provided by the Masonic and Eastern Star lodges and Relief Corps being very expressive.

The remains were taken to the station and placed on board the seven o'clock passenger going west, accompanied by Mrs. Druet, John and Fred Druet and Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Buell and their little son. The pall-bearers from the Masonic order were J. H. Ramsey, L. A. Miller, W. K. Pearson, Louis Gardner, J. E. Tyler and J. W. Goodman. Honorary pall-bearers designated by the G. A. R. were J. A. Weiss, I. H. Meek, John Birk, David Heisey, A. F. Loomis and Mr. McEvoy.

At the funeral services held at Knoxville the pall-bearers were four sons and two sons-in-law; and all the other members of the family, except the absent one in California, were expected to be present, and with them numerous old friends in that part of the state who have known Dr. Druet in the business and social relationships of the years of the past.

On behalf of Mrs. Druet and the family we extend to the many friends in Anamosa their most sincere thanks for their great kindnesses to Dr. and Mrs. Druet during his long illness, and for every expression of sympathy and helpful aid at the funeral obsequies.

A I REMI EV

held in Des Moines, Saturday, June 5, 1915.

Mr. Forbes has arranged to carry out the districts of the state for the purpose of preparing the various first aid camps in the different mining communities who are to compete for state supremacy at Des Moines on the above mentioned date.

The meet at Chariton ended last Saturday. This week they have been at Rathburn, where the meeting ends tomorrow. The following named are the camps still on the list for visits:

Mystic, May 7-10.
Hocking, May 10-13.
Hiteman, May 13-15.
Buxton, May 16-20.
Seevers, May 20-24.
Boone, May 24-26.
Avery, May 26-29.
Centerville, May 29-June 2.

The victorious team of this state will represent the state of Iowa in the Interstate Meet which is to be held in Kansas City, Mo., the latter part of June or the forepart of July, 1915. However, there has been no definite date set for the Interstate Meet up to the present writing.

Governor Clarke re-appointed Wm. Holland as district mine inspector for district number thirteen. Mr. Holland's term would not have expired under his former appointment until 1917, but owing to an irregularity in the enrolling of a bill passed by the 35th general assembly, the term to which the appointment was made was in doubt and to correct the error the 36th assembly passed a correcting bill, which will make the term of appointment four years from July 4th. The new law also provides for the bi-annual report to be made for the calendar year, while the former report was made for the fiscal year, ending June 30. The first report made under the new law will be for the eighteen months ending December 31, 1915, and thereafter every two year period ending December 31.

DR. SAMUEL DRUET DIED AT ANAMOSA

OLD TIME MARION COUNTY PHYSICIAN AND LEGISLATOR
DIED LAST MONDAY.

WAS FORMER STATE SENATOR

Several Years Prison Physician At Anamosa—Remains Brought To Knoxville for Burial.

Dr. Samuel Druet, who for 25 years was well known as one of the most prominent citizens and physicians of Marion county, with residence at Marysville, died at his home in Anamosa, Ia., Monday, May 3, 1915, aged 70 years, 8 months, 13 days. Death resulted from a complication of ailments after an extended sickness.

Samuel Druet was born in Findley, Ohio, August 20, 1844; removed to Iowa early in life and settled in Davis county. At Bloomfield he was united in marriage with Miss Rosetta Abbott, and in 1875 removed his family to Marysville, where he became the leading physician and surgeon of the southeastern part of the county, his practice also extending into Monroe, Mahaska and Lucas counties.

In the year 1895 Dr. Druet was elected State Senator from the Marion-Monroe district and served with distinction in both the 26th and 27th general assemblies, being succeeded in the 28th general assembly by Hon. Fred Townsend of Albia.

After finishing his term as a legislator he was chosen prison physician for the penitentiary at Anamosa and removed his family from Marysville to that city in 1898. In that capacity Dr. Druet served the state acceptably for a period of twelve years—till 1910—when he resigned on account of poor health.

THE PRIZE BASHFUL MAN

So Excited That He Slept in Wrong Bed First Night After Marriage.

A bashful young man from a neighboring town recently got married, and a few days afterwards he delivered himself to a sympathizing friend:

"You know how bashful I am; the girls just bother the life out of me. When I stood up to get married they all giggled, and when the minister asked me if I'd take this woman to be my wedded wife, I said 'prty well, thankee,' and when he pronounced us man and wife and said: 'What God has joined let no man rip apart,' I hawled. Oh, it was horrible! But that's nothing to what's to come. 'Bout 11 o'clock that night the old men, sez he, 'Jim, your room's at the head of the stairs.' I was so skeered, that when I tried to stand, my legs got all tangled up, and I fell over the dog and got bit in three places. I waited until everybody had gone to bed, and crawled up the stairs like a spoon thief. I was arraid to go in and sat on the stairs and shivered. It's no use, says I, what's got to be has to be, so I took off my clothes in the dark and shut my eyes tight and made a break for the door. I found the bed after groping around for a while and crawled in and pulled the cover clear up over my head and laid on the side rail all night long. In the morning I peeked out through my fingers to see if I could dress before my wife woke up. She was in bed with me, and she was with the old man and old woman. Oh, I can't go back."

In the year 1895 Dr. Druet was elected State Senator from the Marion-Monroe district and served with distinction in both the 26th and 27th general assemblies, being succeeded in the 28th general assembly by Hon. Fred Townsend of Albia.

After finishing his term as a legislator he was chosen prison physician for the penitentiary at Anamosa and removed his family from Marysville to that city in 1898. In that capacity Dr. Druet served the state acceptably for a period of twelve years—till 1910—when he resigned on account of poor health.

To Doctor and Mrs. Samuel Druet, seven children were born, five sons and two daughters. Their names and present places of residence is given in the following: John T. Druet, Albia, Ia.; Ella V. wife of J. W. Manhardt, Knoxville, Ia.; Charles Druet, Oregon; Dr. A. L. Druet, Larchwood, Ia.; Will S. Druet, Ottumwa, Ia.; Fred Druet, Burlington, Ia., and Julia, wife of S. K. Buell, Independence, Ia. The wife and mother also still survives.

Dr. Druet was a man of more than ordinary ability, push, vim, courage and general intelligence. As a very young man (scarcely more than a boy) he served his country faithfully as a soldier in the civil war. Later he surmounted all difficulties encountered in his efforts to become a physician and surgeon, graduating with honors. He was a man of fine appearance and commanding presence and won friends rapidly in all the communities in which he came in touch with the people. He was a Mason and Odd Fellow and had belonged to the M. E. church since boyhood—really a Christian gentleman combining all the principles of good fellowship. He possessed a rare knowledge of human nature which led to success in his medical practice, his social relations and in the field of politics.

The remains were brought to Knoxville yesterday, Wednesday and taken to the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. W. Manhardt on West Main street, where the funeral services were held at 3 o'clock the same afternoon, conducted by Rev. J. F. Robertson. The Masonic fraternity had charge of the services at the cemetery. Burial in Graceland.
