LOCAL BANKER PASSES AWAY

HON. W. A. MCINTIRE DIED AT THE FAMILY RESIDENCE EARLY THIS MORNING.

While recent reports of the serious illness of W. A. McIntire have, in a measure, prepared the public for this announcement, yet the news of his death, which occurred at 2 o'clock Saturday morning will evitable cause a shock. It has been generally known for many days past that the end was rapidly approaching and that the dreaded Bright's disease from which he has suffered since August 1907, would terminate only with his life, nevertheless it will be very difficult for the public to realize that his active life, which has been so important a factor in the affairs of the community for so many years, is ended.

Born in 1849.

William Anderson McIntire was born in Keokuk township in this county on April 11, 1849. He was raised on a farm and attended the country schools of his township. Later he attended the public schools of Ottumwa and subsequently went to the Iowa State college at Ames, where he remained for two years. In 1874 he was married to Clara Goldsberry, who survives him.

In 1877 he was nominated by the Democrats of Wapello county for the office of superintendent of schools of the county. He was elected and was re-elected subsequently four times to that office and at the expiration of his ten years' service declined subsequent nominations that were tendered him. The fact of his life more clearly indicates the esteem in which he was held by the people of this county. The office is not merely a political place. It is recognized as a position in the filling of which personal character and personal worth weigh more heavily than any other considerations. No man in the community possessed in more marked degree the confidence, good will and esteem of the people.

VETERAN RAILROAD MAN DIES

W. B. ARMSTRONG, AFTER WEEKS OF SUFFERING, PASSES AWAY.

After a long and useful life, almost a half century of which was spent in this city and during which time he saw and was a part of the building up of two of the railroads that pass through Ottumwa, William B. Armstrong, one of the older pioneers of the city and among the most respected of the community passed away in death at the Ottumwa hospital Friday evening at 7:15 o'clock at the advanced age of 77 years.

Death came as a relief to sufferings which Mr. Armstrong has endured for sometime past in a patient and an uncomplaining manner. Notwithstanding his advanced age, Mr. Armstrong until two months ago might be seen each day going to his office at the Burlington union depot, where he for several years acted in the capacity of commercial agent. His rugged nature threw off the weakness of his fast growing years, and he was not content to be idle while able to perform a task.

Went to Chicago.

But as even the strongest must finally succumb to the inevitable, so with Mr. Armstrong, who after a struggle for the maintenance of that wonderful vitality that kept him ever at his post for more than half a century, he finally was compelled to give up his office work and on April 17 left for Chicago. In hope of getting the relief his impaired health needed. Going to Chicago he entered the Wellesley hospital and underwent an operation as the only resort to continue his useful life. From this operation he gradually recovered until a few weeks ago he was able to return to his home at 441 North Jefferson street. After a few days at home he was able to go about a little every day, but his recovery to the former condition of his ruggedness, did not seem to proceed by slow signs of healing. A few days ago he was removed to the hospital in this city in order to obtain surgical aid but his race was well nigh county, with the Keokuk, Ft. Des Moines and Minnesota railroad, he drifted along with that road and was soon in a similar position at Bentonport. This was in the spring of 1860, and in September 1861, Mr. Armstrong came to Ottumwa as agent for the same road and continued as such for eleven years. This road is now a part of the Rock Island system.

During the long service of Mr. Armstrong with the railroads he has kept many souvenirs, one of which is the first way bill ever made out on the Keokuk, Ft. Des Moines and Minnesota railroad, which was issued in the fall of 1860 at Croton, and another is a general order issued from the office of the assistant general superintendent, and general freight agent at Burlington, for the Burlington and Missouri River Railroad company.

General Order.

The order reads as follows: Burlington, Iowa, November 1, 1872. Mr. W. B. Armstrong has been appointed general agent at Ottumwa for this company, vice James A. Wentz, to take effect this date. Mr. Armstrong is authorized to countersign trip passes. Signed by William B. Strong, assistant general superintendent. Approved by C. E. Perkins, general superintendent.

Mr. Armstrong's employment with the company began with this order and has continued ever since. January 1, 1873, the name of the road was changed to Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad company, and Mr. Armstrong continued as general agent until the building of the present union depot when he continued as freight agent, while the passenger department was attended to by his son, the late William Armstrong.

Was Commercial Agent.

In June, 1902, the position of commercial agent was created, due to the enormous growth of the freight business in this city on the Burlington, and Mr. Armstrong was assigned to this position in which he has continued to serve, with headquarters at the union depot.

"I have seen considerable alteration and changes in the railroad business in my forty-seven years of service," said Mr. Armstrong to a reporter some months ago, "and although I am 77 years of age I am able to drive along at it for awhile yet."

Married in 1858.

In 1858 Mr. Armstrong was united in marriage Miss Virginia Thorne at Athens, Mo. Mrs. Armstrong is a native of Kentucky and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Thorne of Athens. To this union were born four children, of which but two daughters, Mrs. Mary Fetzner and Mrs. Anna Smith, with Mrs. Armstrong, survive.

W. B. Armstrong was a member of the Masonic fraternity, blue lodge, chapter and commandery, being a charter member. He was the first treasurer of the commandery. In politics he was a staunch Republican and has been honored with various local offices during his life. He was a member of the city council for several terms and was treasurer of the city several years. He also served as a school director for six years. He has at different times been identified with business enterprises and at all times lent his encouragement to every worthy object that tended toward the welfare of the city.

Democrats of Wapello county for the office of superintendent of schools of the county. He was elected and was re-elected subsequently four times to that office and at the expiration of his ten years' service declined subsequent nominations that were tendered him.

Fact of his life more clearly indicated the esteem in which he was held by the people of this county. The office is not merely a political place. It is recognized as a position in the filling of which personal character and personal worth weigh more heavily than any other considerations. No man in the community possessed in more marked degree the confidence, good will and esteem of the people than he.

In 1888 he engaged in the hardware business, his firm being known as W. A. McIntire & Co., in which concern he retained his interest to the time of his death. In 1897 he was elected state senator from Wapello county, and served four years. As a member of the senate he was recognized as a leader of the minority and served with distinction and honor.

Bank President.

In 1903 he organized the South Ottumwa Bank and he has been president of that institution since it was founded. Probably no effort of his life gave him more satisfaction than did the remarkable success of this bank. His great personal popularity and his unquestioned integrity and ability made the institution a remarkable success from the start and since 1903 his time and attention were practically absorbed in the management of the bank.

He was a director of the Ottumwa Savings Bank and of the Ottumwa Gas, Light, Heat and Power Co. He served one term as trustee of the State Normal School at Cedar Falls and was re-elected by the last general assembly to that position. For many years he was a member of the local school board and at the time of his death was a member of the board of directors of the Ottumwa Public Library and also of the Commercial club. He was a member of the Presbyterian church and was active in all the associations and movements for the upbuilding of the material and moral interests of the community.

Funeral Monday Afternoon.

The funeral services will be held on Monday afternoon, June 15, at 3 o'clock, at the residence, 216 West Fifth street and interment will take place in the Ottumwa cemetery.

A Successful Career.

The above reference to the facts of his life are descriptive of a most active and successful career. It is not an exaggeration to say that for a quarter of a century past no enterprise looking to the advancement of the interests of Ottumwa have been undertaken without his solicited advice and counsel. He was a man of pronounced convictions and was most tenacious of his opinions, but no man ever possessed the faculty in a greater degree than he of retaining the love and admiration of his adversaries. No man in Wapello county possessed a wider acquaintance than he and it is very doubtful whether the acquaintance of any other man approached his in ex-struggle for the maintenance of that wonderful vitality that kept him ever at his post for more than half a century, he finally was compelled to give up his office work and on April 17 left for Chicago, in hope of getting the relief his impaired health needed. Going to Chicago he entered the Wellesley hospital and underwent an operation as the only resort to continue his useful life. From this operation he gradually recovered until a few weeks ago he was able to return to his home at 441 North Jefferson street. After a few days at home he was able to go about a little every day, but his recovery to the former condition of his ruggedness, did not seem to progress, but rather after a time he seemed to show signs of falling. A few days ago he was removed to the hospital in this city in order to obtain surgical aid but his race was well nigh run and he finally died at 7:15 o'clock last evening.

Pennsylvanian.

William B. Armstrong was born in Pike county, Penn., August 10, 1830. His parents were William and Mary (Pellett) Armstrong, his father being a farmer in early life and afterwards engaged extensively in milling. When but a small child his parents moved to Sussex county, N. J., and there William was reared and received a fair common school education. His grandfather held a major's commission in the revolutionary army and enjoyed the acquaintance and confidence of General George Washington. Being a man of great force of character and ability, he represented his district in the legislature.

Came West.

William B. Armstrong, in 1851, being 21 years of age determined to see something of the western country. Starting for the west, he crossed the father of waters, locating first in St. Louis, where he was employed as a clerk in a commission house. The following year he went to Athens, where he continued his occupation as a clerk, and leaving that position, became engaged in railroad.

Pioneer Railroader.

Perhaps the oldest man in railroad service in this city was W. B. Armstrong, whose career in the freight and traffic department of railroad life covers half a century, and most of which time, with the exception of about four years has been spent in this city. He came here at a time when much that is now considered antique, was then unknown.

Station Agent.

Beginning his career in railroad circles as freight and passenger agent at Croton, a small station in Lee tent; no man in the county could number more friends who rejoiced in his political triumphs and his business success. The loss to the community is more than the loss of an active factor in many of its enterprises and all of its interests. The general esteem in which he was held is such that in his death probably more personal friendships have been severed than would have resulted from the death of any other man in the entire community and no stronger testimony of worth could be produced of any man.

About forty-five members of Co. G together with the members of the 54th regimental band, will participate in the Fourth of July celebration at Fairfield company M will pitch covered tents in the city park. As there will be forty-five members from each of the out of town companies and sixty members of the Fairfield company, it will give the people an idea of how troops go into camp in the field. The companies, together with the Fifty-fourth regimental band and the Fifty-fourth trumpet corps, will march in a parade in the morning and in a dress parade in the evening. Fairfield promises to have one of the best celebrations ever pulled off in the city. The company and band will leave on the morning of the fourth at about 7:35 o'clock and will return in the evening.

Company in Demand.

Bloomfield also wanted the company for the Fourth, but the communication was received too late to be considered this year. The company has a full membership now, which is 55 members, and was never in better condition in the history of the guard. With the new military law it put the company second to the regular army, which is very pleasing to the members of the guard. The new law gives the national guard an appropriation of $4,000,000, $2,000,000 of which is for equipment, and the balance is paid in money. The local company is now practicing with the new Springfield guns and some extra good records have been made.

Mr. Trisler is a veteran of the Civil War, having enlisted upon the first call for volunteers, in 1861, in Company D, 10th Reg., Mo. Vol. Inf., as Iowa had at that time filled her quota. He served throughout the war as a private, participated in many important engagements, and, although wounded at Iuka, still remained in the ranks. He was in the battles of Corinth and Iuka, the campaign of Vicksburg, and the engagements at Raymond, Jackson and Champion Hills. He was finally transferred to the Veterans Reserve Corps on account of disability, incurred in the siege of Vicksburg. His regiment guarded prisoners at Rock Island, Illinois, just before being mustered out, at Milwaukee, August 22, 1864. He joined the G. A. R. shortly after its organization, and is a member of Tuttle Post, No. 497. He has served two terms as commander and held all other offices. His wife is a prominent member of the W. R. C. Religiously, they belong to the Christian church. In politics, he is a Republican, and has served as township trustee, and in other offices.

HON. WILLIAM A. McINTIRE, state senator from this district, and for many years county superintendent of schools, is a resident and business man of Ottumwa, Iowa. He was born in Wapello county, April 11, 1849. His father, William Clark McIntire, was born and reared in Clark county, Ohio. In 1843, the latter married Eliza A. Myers and immediately moved to Iowa, locating in Keokuk township, Wapello county. He took up a claim of government land, engaged actively in its improvement and cultivation, and continued in that vocation until his death, January 30, 1881. Being one of the pioneers of the state, he lived in a log cabin, and endured all the hardships incident to a new country, but was possessed of that energy which conquered adversity and brought him success. He always took an active interest in educational matters, and bestowed upon his children a good education. The family consisted of six children, namely: Caroline C., who died at the age of five years; Joseph, who died at thirty years of age; John, who was sheriff of Wapello county, and is deceased; Frank, a member of the Harper & McIntire Company, wholesale and retail dealers in hardware; Harriett F. (Davis), deceased; and William A. The widow of William Clark McIntire died July 1, 1882.

William A. McIntire was reared on his father's farm and received his early mental training in the primitive log school-house. He continued to reside upon the old homestead until he reached his majority, having had in the meantime the privilege of attending the high school at Ottumwa two years. In 1870-71, he attended the agricultural college at Ames, Iowa, and on finishing the sophomore course engaged in teaching school in Taylor county. In the fall of 1877, he was elected to the office of superintendent of the public schools of Wapello county. In 1879, he was defeated for that position, but in the fall of 1881 he was elected again, and reelected in 1883, 1885 and 1887, serving in that capacity ten years.

In 1888, Mr. McIntire established himself in the hardware business in Ottumwa, under the firm name of W. A. McIntire & Company. He has followed that line ever since.

In the fall of 1897, he was chosen by the Democratic party to represent his party in the state senate for the term expiring January 1, 1902.

Mr. McIntire was married March 26, 1874, to Clara M. Goldsberry. She was born in Ross county, Ohio, July 15, 1849. Socially, Mr. McIntire is a member of the K. of P., holding fellowship with the Wapello Lodge, No. 12; he is also identified with the Modern Woodmen of America.

The subject of this sketch has been connected with the People's Building & Savings Association since 1894, and is now serving as president of the organization. He is a member, and now president, of the Iowa Retail Hardware Association. He belongs to the Iowa's State Teachers' Association and is president of the school directors' section of that association. He has done much to advance the cause of education throughout the county, as well as the state, and still maintains an interest in school affairs. He is now a member of the Ottumwa school board, on which he has served since 1895. He is also a member of the board of directors of the Ottumwa Public Library Association. His portrait is shown on a preceding page, in proximity to this.

S S. STYRE, junior member of the firm of G. E. Styre & Brother, proprietors of the Excelsior coal mine, in Center township, Wapello county, Iowa, is one of the prominent young business men of the county. He was born in Nebraska, in 1876, and is a son of G. W. and Celina (Sickman) Styre.

G. W. Styre was born in Pennsylvania, and when about eight years old went with his parents to Ohio, where he was reared to manhood. He was engaged in farming and in the dairy business. When the Civil War broke out he enlisted in the 71st Reg., Ohio Vol. Inf.; he served in two regiments. After the war, he removed to Michigan, and later to Nebraska, where he engaged in farming. In 1878 he settled in Kirkville, Wapello county, Iowa, and farmed there until 1888, when he located in Center township, on section 1, township 71, range 14. He is engaged in farming, and is one of the best known men in that township. He married Celina Sickman, who was born in Wayne county, Ohio, and their union resulted in the birth of six children, namely: B. F., who lives at home; G. E., senior member of the firm of G. E. Styre & Brother, who lives in South Ottumwa; S. S., the subject of this sketch, who lives at home with his parents; Kate (Pickens), of Cedar county, Iowa; D. A., who lives at home; and Mabel C. (Porter), who lives in Medina, Ohio.

S. S. Styre was reared and schooled near Kirkville, in Wapello county. He assisted his father in farming and the dairy business, only giving this up to become associated with his
