Des Moines, March 15.—The standpat organization planned while here last week to take the rooms in the Savery which Ed Hunter used when the notorious fight was made on behalf of the broads three years ago, financed thru in S. Runnells and his associates in Chicago; but the selection of headquarters was deferred until word could be secured from Washington as to the amount of money forthcoming, and an express was at once dispatched to confer with Congressman McKinley, "street car magnate, in regard to the prices. The Savery headquarters are very expensive, much more than any headquarters ever maintained by the state committees or by candidates.

The standpatters are confident that they will be financed almost as well as three years ago and two years ago, the word from Washington having been quite favorable. A Washington dispatch of the 11th told of the return of airman McKinley from New York and of the rejoicing there was among the standpatters, that he "brought back word that campaign contributions are to be large and generous for the forthcoming elections," that after he had talked with Joe Cannon "that elderly statesman showed a coltish disposition he had not manifested in weeks," and then, according to the dispatch:

"The money Mr. McKinley is getting word of is to be used in the preliminary campaign for 'party regularity' and before the nominations are made. Albeit it can be taken for granted that it will be used only on behalf of the 'regulars.' After the nominations, Mr. McKinley says, the committee will help insurgents, if the insurgents ask for help.
What asking part is a very fine point.
The insurgents will not ask."

It is now claimed that the entire responsibility for the standpat conference is to be assumed by F. D. Jackson and Sld Foster, president and secetary respectively, of a big life insurance company which has had unusual success from state officials in the past and may want more in the future. But it is also recognized that James G.

Berryhill, millionaire speculator, lumber magnate and promoter of western mine stocks and investments, was the moving spirit of the little gathering in the very House. Berryhill has been in closer touch with McKinley than anybody else because he represented the street car promoter in the effort to get a wide open franchise, and both felt very much hurt because the franchise was not granted just as demanded.

It is believed that a considerable amount of money can be raised here, for a campaign, unless it is from say he has been a good state official.

HON. D. J. PATTON DEAD

Former Member of Legislation and Prominent Franklin County Farmer Passes Away—Was Popular Citizen.

Special to Times-Republican.

Hampton, March 15.—Hon. D. J. Patton, twice a representative from this county to the state legislature, a pioneer settler of the county, and one whom his fellow citizens had many times honored, died at the home of his son, Frank Patton, about four miles north of this city, at 5 o'clock Monday evening. Mr. Patton had been in poor health for some time, and during the past few days his condition has been such that the end was not unexpected.

Daniel John Patton was born in Fayette county, Pennsylvania, Jan. 27, 1836. He came to this county in 1869, locating in what is now Ingham township. Ten years later—in 1879—he bought a farm in Mott township that has remained in his possession and been his home until a few years ago when it was turned over to the boys and they in turn are making of it homes for themselves and families.

In the year 1855 he was married to Miss Sarah E. Gopen, also a native of Pennsylvania. Six children were born to this union, two of whom are dead.
The living are George C., Frank L., Lena B., now Mrs. T. S. Hamer, of Winnebago, Ill., and Fred S. The boys all live in this vicinity, and are engaged in farming and stock raising.
The wife and mother died nearly eight years ago.

Uncle Dan Patton, as he was familiarly known, was one of the best of men and citizens. His farm in Mott township was a model of neatness, and under his skillful care did not fail to supply himself and his with an abundant of its products. Mr. Patton held many offices of trust in his community and was careful and painstaking in the discharge of the duties of each. In the year 1900 he went to the state legislature as a representative from this county, and served acceptably and was re-elected and served a second term.
Following this public service, himself and wife soon after moved from the farm to this city. In a few weeks and before the couple had become settled Mrs. Patton died. The daughter, Miss Lena Belle, kept house for him for some time. Following her marriage and removal from this county, he has made his home with his sons.

BIG MUSICAL EVENT
First Annual Festival at Iowa City

Special to Times-Republican.

Cedar Rapids, March 15.—A school election that threatened to become exciting and which called out hundreds of women, was pulled off in Cedar Rapids yesterday. An incipient feud between east and west sides, over high school matters, has been raging for some time. Yesterday there were submitted to the voters seven propositions involving tax levies or bond sales.

One of the propositions called for vocational high school to be built on the west side, and the diversion to that purpose of $60,000 previously voted for an addition to the present high school located on the east side. The west side women have been holding night mee-ings for two weeks and organizing to carry their proposition. Yesterday morning at the opening of the polls they were informed by one of the directors that they did not have the right to vote upon a question of the transfer of funds. This aroused them to a fighting pitch, and they decided to go even with the east side by voting against a badly needed grade school in a rapidly growing section of the east side. Before the feud had gone far, however, the fight was called off around, and all the propositions carried by good majorities. It is claimed, however, by the opponents of the vocational high school that funds once voted for a definite purpose can not be diverted from that purpose, and it is expected that the matter will get into the courts. If the vocational high school proposition is thus defeated, it is not improbable that a feud equal to the one which has divided the sides of Winterpool will be staged in this afore-time peaceful city.

The City Primary.

The city primary election yesterday brought out a trifle over half the voting strength. There were only two candidates in the field for mayor, a while both were of course nominated, no matter what their vote, an effort was made by each to make a good showing, for the sake of the bearing the result would have on the general election. Mayor Miles, who has held the office since the death of John Carmody last August, and John Barry, a well known lumber dealer, were pitted against each other. Mayor Miles, backed by a perfect political organization, completely overshadowed Barry, the latter receiving only 1, votes to 3,010 for Miles.

For councilmanic nominations, that of the present councilmen were successful. Keffer, at present commissioner of parks, won with a big vote while Councilmen Sherman of the department of public safety, and Hus-of the streets and walks department of the Society of our own citizens, who were escaping defeat. City Engineer Sm-entered the race for councilmanic

Mr. Patton is extensively engaged as a stock farmer in addition to the ordinary business of an agriculturist. He has been the incumbent of several township offices and is at present trustee. He was born in Fayette Co., Penn., Jan. 27, 1836. His parents, G. R. and Ruth (Johns) Patton, were natives of the keystone State; and, in 1848, came to Green Co., Wis. EDWIN C. McMILLAN was born in Columbiana county, Ohio, June 8, 1839; he died at Keokuk, Iowa, December 9, 1909. He removed to Indiana where he enlisted in the Sixth Indiana Cavalry, gallantly serving for three years, and when discharged was captain of Company F. At the close of the war, Capt. McMillan engaged in the practice of dentistry at Bowling Green, Indiana, from which place he removed to Albion, Marshall county, Iowa. He served as sheriff of Marshall county for a number of years. In 1878 he was appointed warden of the penitentiary at Ft. Madison, serving in that capacity for six years, and again, after an interval for four years. He was a resident of Marshall county the greater part of his life, but for four years had made his home in Keokuk.

DANIEL JOHN PATTON was born in Fayette county, Pa., January 27, 1836; he died near Hampton, Iowa, March 14, 1910. He removed to Franklin county, Iowa, in 1869, locating in what is now Ingham township. Ten years later he purchased a farm in Mott township, and there resided for the greater part of the remainder of his life. He was a leading farmer and stock raiser in his county, a strong force in the moulding of opinion and the up-building of his community in every way. It was in these shops that the inventor, Stephenson, built his first locomotive, and a portion of the work on it was done by Mr. Entwistle. When Stephenson took the locomotive for its trial trip, he had Mr. Entwistle attend him as fireman. The "Rocket" drew the first train between Manchester and Liverpool, and for two years Mr. Entwistle as engineer, made two round trips daily. He was transferred on his own request to a coasting steamer owned by the Duke of Bridgewater, and as its engineer remained in that service until he was twenty-two years of age, when he migrated to America. He ran steamboats on the Hudson river, and on the Great Lakes until 1856, when he came to Des Moines, where his home remained the rest of his life. On the 13th of September, 1855, he was married at Juda, Wisconsin, to Sarah E. Gapen. To this union six children were born. He moved to Franklin County, Iowa, in 1869 where he continued to reside to the time of his death, which occurred March 14, 1910, surviving his wife about eight years.

Though a farmer by occupation he was always interested in public affairs and held many offices of trust in his community and was careful and painstaking in the discharge of the duties of each.

Mr. Patton was always a strict party adherent and in 1900, having received the Republican nomination for representative, he was elected to the Twenty-eighth, and two years later to the Twenty-ninth General Assemblies, discharging the duties imposed thereby in an honorable, faithful and impartial manner.

Faithful to every obligation, loyal to his friends, contributing to the happiness of others he was accorded the gratitude of a wide circle of acquaintances.

His home life was commendable to a degree; he was a good husband, a kind and indulgent father, ever on the alert for the welfare of his family.

Although he was active in public and political affairs his methods were such that he gained the confidence and respect, the esteem of his neighbors, friends and all who were associated with him in every walk in life.

Ripe in experience, sound in judgment, wise in the application of good common sense, he discharged every obligation to his family, society, and the state with fidelity and honor, therefore be it

Resolved, That the foregoing memorial be adopted by this House and entered upon the Journal thereof and that an engrossed copy duly authenticated by the Speaker and Clerk of the House be sent to the members of his family.

HON. EDMUND HOMAN. R-18

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee appointed to draft suitable resolutions of respect in honor of the Honorable Edmund Homan, beg leave to offer the following for adoption:

Whereas, An All-Wise Providence has taken unto Himself, on the thirteenth day of December, 1910, Honorable Edmund Homan, of Prescott, Adams County, Iowa, a member of the House of Representatives in the Eighteenth General Assembly.

Edmund Homan was born in Kentucky, March 6th, 1827, and was taken the same year by his parents to Indiana where he grew to manhood. His father was Mark Homan of Virginia. His mother was Nancy Burson of West Virginia.

In 1856 he was married to Miss Caroline E. Ramsay of Parke County, Indiana, and the same year he moved to Adams County, Iowa, where he resided until his decease. To Mr. and Mrs. Homan were born eleven children, of whom five sons and two daughters are still living. Mrs. Homan also survives her husband.

In 1847-8 Mr. Homan attended Wabash College at Crawfordsville, Indiana, and afterward taught school for many years. farmed

His first purchase of land in Washington Township, Adams County, was at the government price of $1.25 an acre. He belonged to the sturdy pioneer element who came to this country and by diligence, foresight and economy transformed it into a land of plenty.

He was the "Soul of Honor," a kind husband, a loving father and a faithful friend. He was an earnest Christian, having been a member of the Missionary Baptist denomination for about forty years and for seventeen years was Sunday school superintendent.

Resolved that we mourn his loss, extend our sympathy to the family of the deceased and commend him as an example for future generations; also,

Resolved that a copy of this memorial and resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased, also to the Prescott Argus, the Adams County Union Republican, the Adams County Free Press and the Nodaway Valley News, papers published in Adams County, Iowa.

Respectfully submitted,

GORDON HAYES,
D. P. HOGAN,
EDGAR H. SMITH,

Committee.

Adopted.
