THINGS THAT OTHER PAPERS TELL

From Corydon Times-Republican:
... grand jury of Appanoos

... dropped or dismissed investigations again two Wayne county men this week, according to the Centerville Iowegian.

E. G. Bull of Allerton was charged with obtaining money by false pretense. It was claimed that he had bought livestock from two different individuals in Appanoos county and had given checks for same, one for $500 and one for $282, but the checks came back unpaid.

no indictment was voted in either case. Bull made a showing that the checks were good at the time they were written, but all of the money he had in his account at Allerton had been checked out by the time the checks got around through the clearing house.

M. A. Scott of Corydon was charged with obtaining a loan on an insurance policy which he represented as being paid up. He obtained a loan of $900 from Mrs. M. C.

Hooser of Centerville on a supposedly paid up two thousand dollar life insurance policy and was bro't before the grand jury. No indictment was voted but the court ordered that the defendant be held under bond and that the case be submitted to the next grand jury.

The case of Wester Brothers & Smith vs. Bull and Wells et al, that with other cases growing out of the Bull failure was to have been heard in the March term of court in Corydon have been postponed because of a restraining order from the Federal court to give that court time to decide if the cases shall be heard in Federal or district court. They were given thirty days in which to decide.

From weekly Lineville Tribune:
Discovery of a broken railroad rail on the Rock Island right of way, by Clone Duncan probably saved a railroad wreck lost Tuesday.

The lives of the president of the Rock Island and a number of the other "big shots" of the company were at stake. They were riding in two extra cars on No. 30 train.

The rail had become broken a few minutes previously by No. 31 passenger train, southbound.

Clone said he discovered the latter thought he was kidding broken rail at the crossing in front of his home, while making his milk route. He immediately raced the oncoming train in his car to the crossing and switch, about a mile and a half or so south of town where he found the block man at work on the switch. Duncan said at first when he yelled at him to stop the train, but when he saw that Clone was serious he helped with the flagging, Clone using his coat.

The rail was so badly broken that it seemed very unlikely that the engine could have gotten by the spot without jumping the track and perhaps killing or injuring a number of persons on the train.

PIONEER DOCTOR DIED SUNDAY EVENING

Dr. Geo. McCulloch in 88th Year

Death called Dr. George McCulloch about 7:15 Sunday evening after several days illness with a cold and pneumonia. Not many knew of his illness and few thought it so serious, but it became apparent about midday Sunday that his condition was precarious, and from remarks he made it is considered that the doctor himself realized it.

Dr. McCulloch came here a young man about the year 1874, having recently obtained his diploma. He attended Rush College and was in Chicago at the time of the great Chicago fire. He was one of the first residents of the town of Humeston which had only two or three houses at his coming, but he threw in his lot with the few people here and saw the place grow to a town of more than a thousand inhabitants, with another railroad, with mercantile buildings equal to any in this country at that time, grain elevators, a mill schools and churches, the Central Normal University, town water-works and paving. In all these ad-but like many other pioneer doctors he was a "friend in need" to many and for more than fifty years his skill was at the call of hundreds who looked to him for help in time of sickness or injury. The past several years, however, his services have been limited to a few in the town and vicinity who were loath to change their allegiance to another physician.

Dr. McCulloch was a strong partisan in the Republican party and took a great interest in the affairs of his party, both locally and nationally. He was elected from Wayne county a representative in the Iowa legislature in the 19th, 31st and 32nd General Assemblies and again as senator from the Wayne-Lucas district in the 33rd and 34th sessions. He was looking forward to the national convention at Cleveland, Ohio in June and hoped to be able to attend and to visit his brother residing there.

By investment at various times, he acquired a number of farms throughout this section of Iowa

UPT. ELECTION ON MAY 12

In the announcement by Miss Kerns of Corydon that she is a candidate for a second term as county superintendent of schools, a number of candidates appear for position.

Cunningham, who has been superintendent of city schools at Humeston, Iowa, for thirteen years, is expected to interview the members of the Humeston board of education. The presidents of the various boards of education of the county will convene at Corydon on May 12 and elect a county superintendent who will take office in November.

Cunningham, a son of Mitchell Cunningham, attended school at Humeston in Jefferson township, eleven miles south of Humeston. His higher education was obtained at Tarkio College and the University of Chicago with some at the Teachers College of Columbia University.

JESSIE BROWN

CANDIDATE FOR RECORDER

In our published candidates for county office is that of Mrs. Jessie Brown of Seymour who asks the rate voters for the nomination for county recorder. Mrs. Brown is a widow, the daughter of Mrs. George Smith, well known and highly respected resident of Corydon. After completing school work at Corydon she spent her teaching and was thus employed several years. She is recommended as being capable, conscientious and courteous and qualified for the duties of the office she seeks. Mrs. Brown will make a tour of the county and meet as many as possible before the privances and improvements Dr. Mc-Culloch had a hand, lending encouragement and along with other enterprising residents contributing financial aid to get some established; he was a member of the town council in some of those earlier years and had a hand in shaping the future of the town.

Along with his civic responsibilities Dr. McCulloch was much occupied with a widespread practice in medicine and surgery throughout all this region which required long rides on horseback or in his road cart, winter and summer, with roads almost impassable at times and it is said his holdings ran to more than two thousand acres in Wayne county; he also had a number of dwelling properties in Humeston and the McCulloch Block at the corner of Broad and Second streets—a brick building in the upper story of which he had his offices for twenty years or more and other business places.

Dr. McCulloch has been a part of this community for so long that it will be difficult for some to think of the town going on without him; but he has had a long and useful life among us and no one should wish him back.

A TRIBUTE

When the annals of the pioneers of any community are completed, well at the top of the list must be placed the name of the general practitioner—the "Country Doctor". When that community ceases to be classified as frontier through the advent of increased population when the medical profession is aided and abetted by well-equipped hospitals and scientific research, with its attendant discoveries thereby allotting each organ and each ailment to certain and well-defined specialists, then does this general practitioner become more or less of a legend. But in the minds of many, this friend and counselor—in the time of trial is still the individual—and probably the only individual—who can alleviate their ills.

In Dr. George McCulloch, such a man existed. For well over half a century, he was a familiar figure and leader, not only in his own profession but in the world of politics, in the field of agriculture, in banking circles and also on account of his philosophical discernment into the problems of his fellow-man.

When the grim reaper takes his toll, those who are left behind like to recall many little homely incidents of the life of the deceased.
True it is that many who can recall these tales of long ago have preceded Dr. McCulloch into eternity, but the stories live, they have come down through many channels, they are a part of Humeston's history. One remembers that George McCulloch said goodbye to his widowed mother and his brothers and sisters, as well as the hills of his native Ohio, to enter medical school. One recalls that he had to eventually discard a burdensome trunk in order to save himself, a young medical student in Rush Medical School, leaving the Chicago Ave. One pictures this young physician stopping in a southern Iowa prairie settlement for a drink of water and electing to remain there for the rest of his life.

Here he later brought his bride from the east and here he raised his family. Here for many decades, he sat by the bedsides of hundreds of patients, extending over a vast country-side. Here he was President of one of Humeston's banks.
Here he amassed a sizable fortune and many acres of land, land that rolled—and produced—for many miles. From here, he journeyed year after year to Iowa's capitol, as a member of both branches of Iowa's legislature. Here he advanced in age and outlived most of associates, including all but one of his own many brothers and sisters.
Here he died and now again it is here that leaves behind an honored name. Here the residents do not nietely sympathize with his son but instead, they join with him in sorrow for the passing of one whose influence in his town, his county and his state, was ever a vital, vigorous, forceful and lasting influence.

OBITUARY

George McCulloch was born in Holmes county, Ohio, Oct. 24, 1848, was the son of Joseph and Nancy Miller McCulloch, natives of Pennsylvania. He departed this life Apr.
12, 1936 at his home in Humeston at the age of 87 years. His father died when Mr. McCulloch was seven years of age and his mother passed away at the age of seventy.
In their family were thirteen children, eleven of whom preceded him in death.

On Nov. 22, 1879 Dr. McCulloch was married to Miss Drusilla Maxwell, also of Holmes county, Ohio.
To this union were born two children one of whom died in infancy, the other a son Milan who now resides in Humeston.

Dr. McCulloch acquired his early education in Holmes county, Ohio and later studied at both the Michigan State University and at Rush Medical College of Chicago from which institution he graduated in came a successful physician, for which work he was especially fitted for in his character ready sympathy and quickness of perception combined with a broad and comprehensive knowledge of the principles of medical science.

Dr. McCulloch's fine business and executive ability have been called forth in his work in banking circles, with which he was closely connected. He was judicious in his business investments and wise in the use of the opportunities that presented themselves.

In the Iowa house of representatives of which Dr. McCulloch was a member he proved himself at all times high in his ideals of public service and incorruptible in his integrity. As a senator his work for the four years was that of a loyal conscientious and high minded
man.

He had extensive fraternal relations, being a member of the Masonic, Odd Fellows and other fraternal orders.

Dr. McCulloch's illness was of short duration. He was confined to his home for a few days with a cold which developed into pneumonia. With his passing Iowa loses one of its oldest citizens, who has had much to do with her growth and development.

Lincoln in his Gettysburg address spoke of the unfinished work. Dr.
McCulloch has left his unfinished task to his son and to the citizens of this part of the country, and from this honored citizen "we take increased devotion" to the work to which he gave a full measure of devotion.

He is survived by one son, a brother, other relatives and a host of friends.

sided. His farm now contains 370 acres of as good land as can be found in the township, and is under a high state of cultivation. He has a substantial two-story dwelling, 20 x 40 feet, comfortably furnished, and his barns and outbuildings are noticeably good. He has one of the best orchards in the county, which contains 260 fruit trees of the best varieties. In connection with his general farming Mr. Kelso devotes his attention to the raising of cattle and horses. Mr. Kelso was married March 5, 1864, to Fannie E. Marshall, of Woodford County, Illinois, formerly of Lamoille County, Vermont, where she was born October 5, 1845, a daughter of Charles H. and Melvina (Marsh) Marshall. Her mother was a daughter of Perry Marsh, who served as a soldier in the war of 1812. Mr. and Mrs. Kelso have six children—Inez F., Esther M., Nancy M., Jessie A., Charles D., and Mareness D. Mr. Kelso is one of the enterprising citizens of Howard Township, and during his long residence here has won the confidence of the entire community by his honest and upright dealings with his fellow-citizens. He has held almost all the township offices, and in 1882 was elected supervisor, holding that office three years.

ALBERT E. ALLEN, of the firm of P. Allen & Sons, dealers in clothing, dry-goods, groceries, boots, shoes, etc., was born in Centerville, Appanoose County, Iowa, the date of his birth being April 2, 1858. His education was obtained at the common schools and at his home. His early life was passed in assisting in his father's store and mill. The mercantile firm of which he is a member carries a larger stock of general merchandise than any other business house in Wayne County, their trade being second to none in the county. Mr. Allen was united in marriage, November 1, 1884, to Ella Glasner, a daughter of William Glasner, a resident of Wayne County. They are the parents of one child, a daughter, named Beulah.

DON. GEORGE McCULLOCH, M. D., was born in Benton, Holmes County, Ohio, October 24, 1848, a son of Joseph and Nancy (Miller) McCulloch, who were both natives of Pennsylvania. Our subject was reared on his father's farm, receiving his education in the schools of his neighborhood, and at Millersburg and Hayesville. After completing his education he began the study of medicine with Dr. C. E. Rayburn, of Brooklyn, Iowa, he having come to this State in 1870. In the fall of 1871 he entered Rush Medical College, Chicago, Illinois, with the intention of attending lectures, but the great fire which devastated that city in October of that year destroyed the college. After witnessing this, one of the greatest fires, he removed to Michigan, attending lectures in the medical department of the Michigan State University at Ann Arbor. The following year he entered Rush Medical College, of Chicago, Illinois, from which institution he graduated February 19, 1873, with the degree of M. D. On leaving his Alma Mater he went to Malcolm, Poweshiek County, Iowa, remaining there but a short time. In the fall of the same year he came to Humeston, Wayne County, being the pioneer physician of this city, where he is still engaged in the practice of his chosen profession. Possessed of rare mental abilities he is unusually skilled in the knowledge of his profession, and among the medical men of this and the southwest part of Iowa he ranks with the highest. The Doctor was married October 14, 1879, to Drucilla D. Maxwell, a native of Millersburg, Holmes County, Ohio, and this union has been blessed with one child—Milan E., born January 5, 1883. Dr. McCulloch served as a member of the Nineteenth General Assembly of Iowa, having been elected on the Republican ticket. He is the owner of 440 acres of land in Richman Township, which is a part of 800 acres of land which his father entered in an early day. He is interested in fine graded cattle, and has started a herd of Poll-Angus stock on his farm. He is also a partner of Captain J. D. Hasbrouck in the Home Bank of Humeston. Dr. McCulloch is a prominent member of Fidelity Lodge No. 228, A. F. & A. M., and of Chappaqua Lodge, No. 121, I. O. O. F., of Humeston.

CHARLES SNYDER has been a resident of Wayne County, Iowa, since 1866, when he settled on his present farm on section 26, Corydon Township. He was born in Baden, Germany, December 3, 1830, a son of Henry Snyder, who died when our subject was fourteen years old. Charles Snyder was drafted into the German army for a period of six years, but after serving his country for three years he resolved to come to America, and made good his escape, reaching New York City, December 24, 1854. He immediately went to Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, where he worked for a time. He was then employed on a farm thirty miles west of Chicago, where he remained three years, after which he was engaged in a livery stable at Burlington, Iowa, about eight months. He then located in Fulton County, Illinois, where he was married to Catherine Efland, a native of Germany. He removed from Fulton County to Wayne County, Iowa, in 1866, where his wife died in 1869, leaving three children—Milton, Catherine and Caroline, of whom Caroline is now deceased.

For his second wife Mr. Snyder married Lovina Shottsman, a native of Ohio, who died October 25, 1882. To this union were born seven sons and one daughter, of whom one son, Eli, is deceased. Mr. Snyder has a fine farm of eighty acres where he resides. Politically he is a Democrat.

NATHAN TROGDON, who is numbered among the pioneers of Wayne County, Iowa, is a native of North Carolina, where he was born in 1814. In 1829, when he was fifteen years of age, he went with his parents, Samuel and Elander Trogdon, to Edgar County, Illinois, they being among the early settlers of that county. There the father died many years ago, the mother and one of her sons still residing in that county, the former aged nearly ninety years. Nathan Trogdon was reared to manhood in Edgar County, and was there married in 1835 to Elizabeth Hodgkin, who was born in North Carolina in 1818, a daughter of William and Mary Hodgkin, with whom she removed to Illinois, her parents living in that State till their death. Mr. and Mrs. Trogdon have had fifteen children born to them of whom eight still survive—Samuel A., Melinda J., Solomon C., Matilda M., James A., Viola D., Milard F. and Lincoln L. Those deceased are—William J.; Cynthia M., married T. C. York and died aged thirty-two years; the remainder died in childhood. William J. served as a soldier in the late war, enlisting in the one hundred days' service. He died at Keokuk on the last day of his term of service. Solomon and Samuel also served in the late war. Mr. Trogdon removed with his family to Buchanan County, Iowa, in 1846, Iowa being then a Territory, Mr. Trogdon helping to organize Buchanan County. Five years later they returned to Illinois, remaining there until a profit to the Mexicans. On the way he passed through Los Angeles, then a town of about 3,000 people, mostly Mexicans. In Arizona he acquired a half interest in a blacksmith and wagon shop and he also cashed time checks of the Vulture Mining Company. When he left Arizona, in the fall, he sold his cabin for $150, on credit. A stage carried him to Los Angeles and the stage that immediately followed was fired upon, seven of the nine passengers being killed. It was on this stage journey, while camped one night in Arizona, that the news arrived of the great Chicago fire of October, 1871. On the night Mr. Chamberlain reached Los Angeles there occurred a great riot, resulting in the hanging of eighteen Chinamen. From Los Angeles he made the trip up the coast to San Francisco by steamer and then went inland to Salt Lake City, and here he worked for the last time on a salary basis, for his former acquaintance Gen. Edward P. Connor, who was town site promoter. He was engaged as general manager of some of Connor's operations during the next nine months.

Mr. Chamberlain then engaged in the stage business, acquiring 300 head of horses and a large amount of equipment, and he used fifty-four horses regularly in operating the stage line from Ophir to Salt Lake. This was his business for three years. The stage fare over his route was five dollars and stages were run daily and by contract carried mail and Wells Fargo express.

After leaving the stage business Mr. Chamberlain went to Los Angeles and was in the grocery business in that city until 1878. However, he made another Arizona venture, in the new mining camp at Tombstone, where he put men to work securing a water supply, and conducted a profitable business for a time, selling water at two dollars a barrel. The largest mine in the district was the Contention, a million dollar property, and Mr. Chamberlain and the mine manager, a Mr. Ogden, lived together, hiring a cook, and they utilized their leisure in many enjoyable hunting excursions.

In 1872 Mr. Chamberlain's brother Lowell had started a patent medicine business at Marion, Iowa, and Mr. Chamberlain bought one-half of the business of his brother Lowell Chamberlain and in 1880 moved it to Des Moines. His brother died at Pasadena, California, in 1922.

Forty years ago this was a very modest enterprise, and it has been the result of the Chamberlain brothers' genius as manufacturers and business promoters that the Chamberlain Medicine Company has grown to be one of the largest patent medicine concerns in the United States. This business was sold March 1, 1930, to William R. Warner Company, of New York City, who also have an establishment at St. Louis, Missouri, to which plant they removed the medicinal part of the Chamberlain business. The laboratory equipment and real estate were reserved, and are now occupied by the Chamberlain Laboratories, manufacturers of the famous Chamberlain Hand Lotion and other cosmetic articles.

Mr. Chamberlain married in 1874 Juliet Cooley, daughter of Judge Cooley, of Utah. She died in October, 1878, leaving one child, Dr. L. H. Chamberlain, who is a graduate of the Jefferson Medical College of Philadelphia and the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy. He is a reserve captain in the chemical warfare division at Washington. For a time he practiced medicine in Denver but is now actively associated with his father's business. Doctor Chamberlain married Gertrude Moritz, of Riverside, New Jersey, and they have a son, Davis S., II, and a daughter, Juliet. Davis S., II, married Helen Staib, of East Orange, New Jersey, and Juliet is the wife of Horace Haight, of Des Moines. Davis S., II, and wife have a son Davis S., III, and Juliet, a daughter, named Gertrude Virginia.

In 1892 Mr. Chamberlain married Lydia C. Roberts, of Jefferson, Iowa. There were no children by this marriage. She died in 1922.

Mr. Chamberlain has long been active in Masonry and was largely instrumental in securing the establishment of the Scottish Rite Consistory at Des Moines, and in recognition of his services the supreme honorary thirty-third degree was conferred upon him. He did his first voting as a Democrat but is now a staunch Republican. He had charge of the relief work in the State of Iowa for Mr. Hoover, then in charge of the Belgian relief situation. Mr. Chamberlain was the executive chairman of the Belgian Relief Association of Iowa, and as such it was mainly through his untiring efforts that the association secured from the people in every county of the state their liberal and patriotic support which resulted in a contribution of 156 car loads of food, which was all delivered in New York City, free of any freight charges by the railroads.

GEORGE McCULLOCH. The respect and esteem paid to Dr. George McCulloch, of Humeston, is readily understood when it is recalled that he has been a physician and surgeon in that community for fifty-seven years. He did all the work of a pioneer country doctor, and has also responded to the modern demands upon his professional skill. He has gone steadily about his work through all the years, and is a wonderful example of the family practitioner and he ranks as one of the oldest practicing physicians in Southern Iowa.

Doctor McCulloch was born in Holmes County, Ohio, October 24, 1848. He is a son of Joseph and Nancy (Miller) McCulloch. The McCulloch family came originally from Edinburgh, Scotland. His father, Joseph McCulloch, was an Ohio farmer, and managed his business affairs very successfully. In 1856 he came out to Iowa and bought 800 acres of land from the Government at $1.25 an acre. This was an investment, and while he held the land he never made his home in this state. Four hundred acres of this tract is still in the family, the possession of Doctor McCulloch, who has the patent to the tract signed by President Franklin Pierce. Doctor McCulloch through all the years of his professional work has been interested in land and agriculture, and his farm, two miles southwest of Humeston, has afforded an opportunity for his son, a scientific agriculturist, to work out his plans. It is one of the model farms of Wayne County.

Dr. George McCulloch grew up in Holmes County, Ohio, attended school at Millersburg and Haysville, and when a young man came out to Iowa, partly because of his father's landed investments here. While at Brooklyn he worked in a drug store and began the study of medicine with E. Rayburn. In the fall of 1871 he entered Rush Medical College of Chicago, and was graduated from that institution in 1873. Doctor McCulloch was in Chicago at the time of the great fire which started in October, 1871.

With his medical diploma he returned to Iowa and in the same year began his professional career at Humeston. For many years he had a large practice that taxed his full strength and energy to attend to it. Along with his medical practice he has been interested in business and public affairs. Including the land originally acquired by his father he owns about 1,700 acres of Iowa farming land. In business he has always been conservative, and he takes considerable pride in the fact that he never signed a mortgage for all his extensive land ownership. Since 1880 he has been engaged in banking at Humeston and is now president of the Citizens State Bank of that town. He is local surgeon for the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railway.

Doctor McCulloch has for many years been a leader in the Republican organization of his county. He has been a member of the Humeston City Council and for several terms was a faithful legislator. He was a member of the House of Representatives in the Nineteenth Assembly, this being the last session held in the old capitol building in 1882. A number of years later he was elected to the House, serving in the Thirtieth and Thirty-first sessions, and was a member of the State Senate in the Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth Assemblies. Doctor McCulloch has for fifty-seven years been a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, and his Masonic membership covers a period of forty-eight years. His many interests and activities have probably done much to prolong his life and keep his interests keen, so that at the age of eighty-one he is younger in attitude than many men a score of years his junior.

Doctor McCulloch married in 1880 Miss Druscilla Maxwell, of Holmes County, Ohio. She died at Humeston in March, 1929, when they had been married nearly half a century.

Doctor McCulloch's son, Milan E. McCulloch, is an Iowa authority on agricultural science. He graduated from the Iowa State College at Ames, and is also a graduate of the Chicago Law School. He has won numerous honors in agriculture, particularly as a soil specialist, and has served as soil inspector of Iowa.

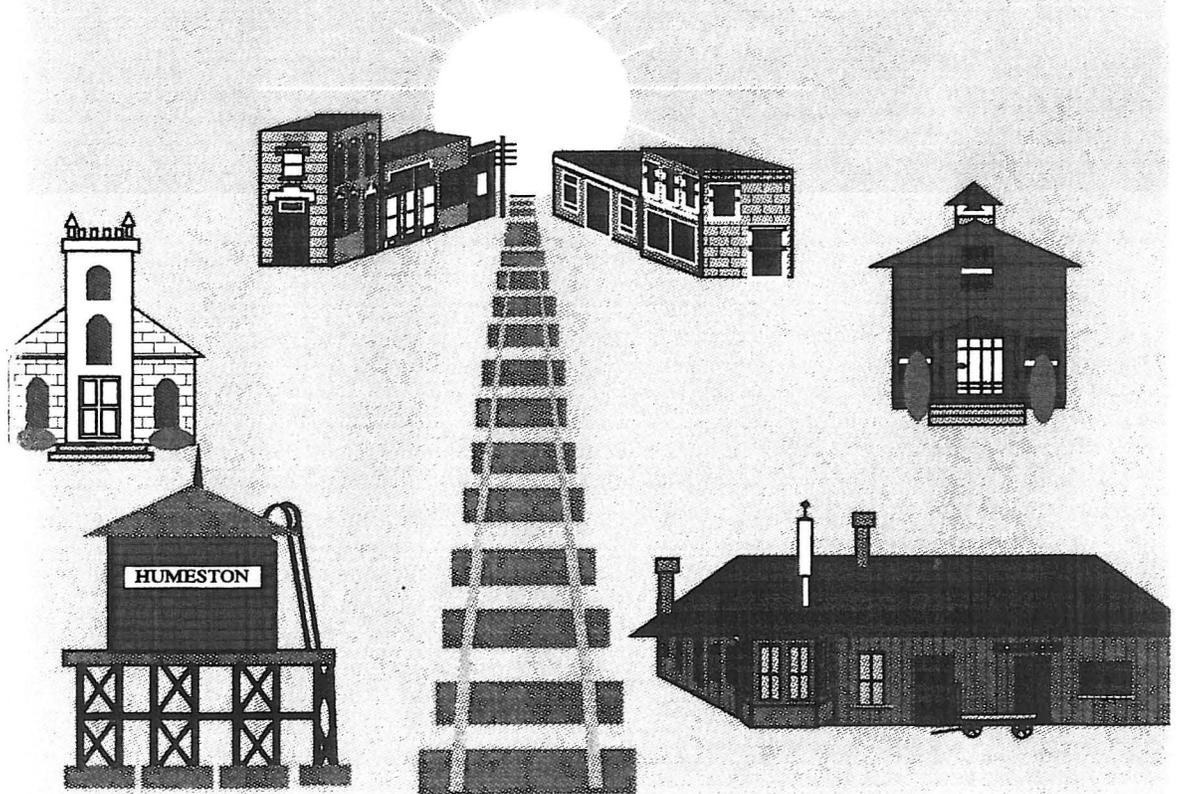

ROY E. STEVENS. Wapello County has been the home of the Stevens family through four generations. They were a pioneer family, and their contributions to the welfare and progress of this section of Iowa have been numerous and important. For many years one of the largest establishments handling shoes in Southern Iowa has been owned and controlled by members of the Stevens family, the present proprietor being Roy E. Stevens, whose name is familiarly associated with well directed efforts and influence as a broad minded citizen.

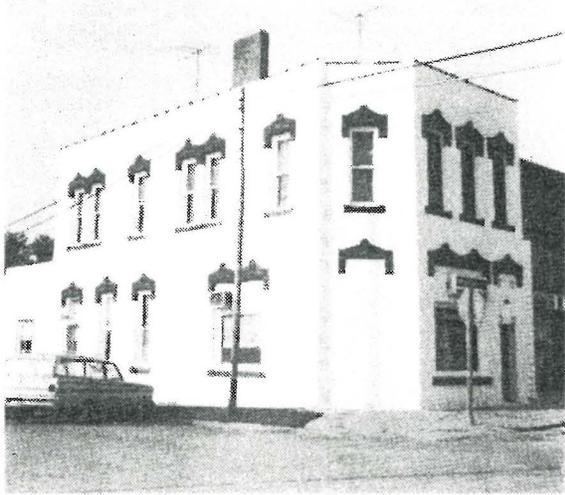

It was in the late 1840s that the Stevens family arrived in Wapello County, having made the journey from the East in a prairie schooner. The oldest member of the family at that time was Jacob Stevens, who came accompanying his son, Dr. Abraham V. Stevens. Doctor Stevens was born in 1815, and was a fine type of the old-time country doctor. He practiced medicine in Wapello County for over forty years, doing that work before the advent of good roads, telephones or other improvements that have so much lightened the burdens of country medical practice. On coming to Iowa Doctor Stevens entered a tract of Government land. This land has been in the family ownership ever since and is now occupied by his son, Orlando C. Stevens, who lives at his country home near Highland Center. Orlando C. Stevens was for many years engaged in business as a shoe merchant at Ottumwa, continuing until 1902. He married Ella Buckner. Orlando Stevens was the youngest of a family of fourteen children born to his mother, Catherine (Peckenpaugh) Miller Stevens.

Roy E. Stevens, son of Orlando C. and Ella (Buckner) Stevens, was born in Wapello County in 1878. After the local schools he attended the John O'Bryan Business College in Ottumwa. From boyhood he had a round of duties in his father's business, and when his father retired in 1902 the son bought the business and for over a quarter of a century has continued it, with expansion of its facilities and service so that it is now one of the largest concerns of its kind in Southern Iowa, employing fifteen sales people. Another store is conducted at Oskaloosa, with a force of five sales people. Mr. Stevens was one of the organizers of the Iowa Retail Shoe Association, serving twice as its president, and for nine years has been a director for Iowa in the National Shoe Retailers of America.

Mr. Stevens has a broad conception of his civic responsibilities. He was one of the first promoters of hard surfaced roads for Wapello County and Southern Iowa. For the past six years he has been chairman of the good roads committee of Wapello County and a member of the executive committee of the Iowa State Good Roads Association. Much of his thought and effort are directed toward the betterment and improvement of country life conditions. He owns and operates several farms, has closely studied agricultural conditions, and in general is always willing to lend his support and coopera-

MCCULLOCH BUILDING
 1952 Trim on coping

One of the few buildings that has not been razed is the McCulloch building which now is Snyder's Jewelry Store. It is on the corner of Eaton & Broad and was the first brick building built in Humeston and remains in 1997.

The Home State Bank organized in 1880 by Dr. McCulloch & J.D. Hasbrouck and was located north of what is now Wojo's.

This small frame building was destroyed by fire and in 1884 this brick building was erected by McCulloch.

The first telephone exchange was established over the bank. Hasbrouck was president until his death in January 1905.

September 1938 the new office room built on the rear of the building was completed and was occupied by W.R. and Helen Richard in connection with the insurance agency they had.

In 1910 McCulloch had constructed a new concrete sidewalk, that was a novelty in this section. The cement was black in color.

You can still see the painted outline "C.L. Hart, Clothing", on the top and outside of the Variety Store building. This was probably painted about 1933 when Robert Linton withdrew from Hart and Linton and took his cleaning and pressing equipment further west in the block.

Since 1894 Hart had been a part of the business with different partners, and for a time left and went out west for his wife's health. In 1923 he returned and purchased it again.

After Linton withdrew. Farris Hat Shop located in the front part of the store.

Hart closed the business in 1936 after about 42 years.

Ralph King leased the building and put in a Variety Store; other owners were Higbees, Kinnears and in 1962 Hoyt and Reva Snyder purchased the building.

Previously they had a business on the north side east of Eaton. The first business they had established a radio and TV sales and service, watch repair and a small appliance business repair. They soon added jewelry and gifts.

This "little old - fashioned store" is a giant in its own right. From the beautiful ceilings to the shelves which are stocked with housewares, toys, school supplies, hardware and camera film and developing to renting the Rug Doctor and Frankoma pottery.

Snyders purchased the Lintons Clothing Store in the late 60's when they retired.

And what elegant mirrors in the fitting rooms!

Many visitors are surprised at having so much under one roof and finding something without having to walk through a mile of shops and aisles.

DR. GEORGE McCULLOCH

Dr. George McCulloch was born in Holmes county, Ohio, Oct. 24 1848 and died in Humeston, 1936.

McCulloch acquired his early education in Ohio and moved to Brooklyn, Iowa where he began the study of medicine. In that same year, 1871, he entered medical college in Chicago. After a fire at Rush Medical College, he attended Michigan State University, later graduated from Rush in the class of 1873.

He came to Humeston in 1873 and remained here until his death.

He first came to this section in order to look after 8 hundred acres of choice land in Richman township entered by his father, and established residence here.

Dr. McCulloch had attained unusual success in the business world. He stood as a central figure in banking circles, being president of the Home State Bank.

The Home State Bank of Humeston was founded as a private institution in 1880 by Mr. Hasbrouck and Dr. McCulloch, who conducted it in its original form until it incorporated in 1898.

He had other important business interests and extensive property holdings, owning about 1224 acres of choice land in Wayne county.

Upon the farms he carried on the breeding and raising of high grade stock, having a herd of two hundred head of registered Angus cattle.

On one of his tracts, in section 21 Richman township, the state of Iowa experiment station was established. (See Wayne Co. map on page two.).

He was married to Miss Drucilla A. Maxwell in 1880 in Ohio. They had two children, one died in infancy the other Milan was born in Humeston on January 6, 1883 and graduated from Humeston High School

Dr. McCulloch was in the Iowa house of representatives, and elected state senator.

He built the round barn pictured on the next page, which was at the south edge of town just south of the school house

In 1911 he won a case in court permitting withdrawal of his farm from the incorporated limits of the town.

Milan McCulloch was reported as putting up a big grain and seed storage building on his farm adjoining the schoolhouse in 1949.

HOLE IN ONE

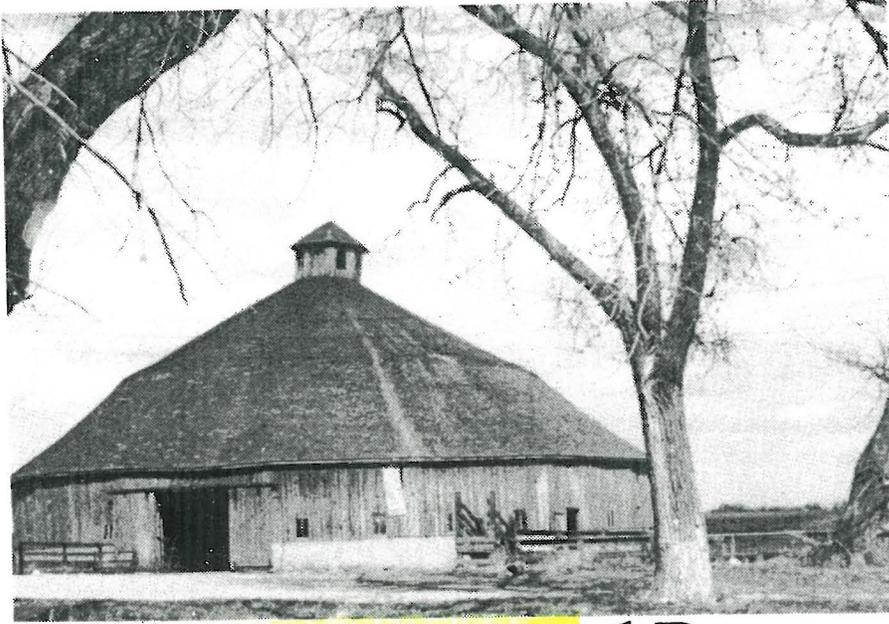

C.L. Hart got front page mention in the The New Era by having made a hole in one on the golf link southwest of town.

BASEBALL GROUND

A baseball ground was being graded in Dr. McCulloch's pasture near the Tourist Park.

ROADS

Harry Buell drove his car from Chicago to Chariton in under 14 hours, including an hour of stops, "fast work" - for 1924.

McCulloch Round Barn

BOSWELL ELEVATOR

BROOM FACTORY

W. H. Chestnutt had his broom factory a block east of what is now the Humeston Livestock Auction.

In 1968 Front St. was barricaded as a Des Moines crew was to reset all manholes to fit a three-inch planned resurfacing of #65 through town. Work also had begun to widen the highway to Humeston from its junction with # 2.

TOURIST PARK

A free tourist camp grounds was established in 1922 by the businessmen at the south edge of town. They had a ten year lease from Dr. McCulloch for the 75 x 350 foot area and pulled out hedge. The Blue J Trail, which formerly ran to Des Moines, by way of Allerton Corydon and Chariton was rerouted to Des Moines through Humeston, Derby and Chariton - a savings of 20 miles. They said a dozen cars had already used this way now hundreds more would be coming.

1956 Kenneth Boswell of Lamoni opened a grain business south of the school. The business was to be located in a cement block building on the former McCulloch ground.

In 1964 Lew Reese, Manager, of Farm Service Co., announced plans for expansion with the purchase of the building site and property from Harold Roe, known as Boswell Brother Grain and Feed Operation.

Today Campbell and Tait own the property.

BLACKSMITH JOHNSON

A school building was moved from Cambria by A.H. Palmer, and set down north of Tourist Park for Blacksmith Johnson. Later in 1926 he and his son moved to Derby.

Phillips 66 STATION

In 1934 Jimmie Yates had purchased the Phillips 66 Station at the south edge of town.

it for several years. He was appointed by Governor Cummins a member of his military staff in 1909, and was reappointed by each succeeding governor, including Governor Herring, remaining on the staff until his death. Both in the Spanish American War and in the World War he did patriotic duty on home committees. Politically he was Republican but his friends were of all parties. He loved the beauties of nature, loved his fellow men, and was loved by them in return.

HORACE M. REBOK was born at Chippensburg, Pennsylvania, April 2, 1864, and died in Santa Monica, California, April 10, 1936. Burial was in Woodlawn Cemetery, Santa Monica. When he was in his teens his father, the Reverend Henry Rebok, a clergyman of the United Brethren Church, removed with his family to Toledo, Iowa, where Horace entered Western College, then located at Toledo. He went to Otterbein University, Westerville, Ohio, for the last two years of his liberal arts and was graduated from there. He taught school one year at Dysart, Iowa, then for five years was principal of the schools at Tama. President Cleveland appointed him agent of the Sac and Fox Indians located near Tama which position he had from October 1, 1894, to January 28, 1899. He won the friendship of the Indians and was successful in teaching them farming as practiced by modern methods, and interested them in schools and education. In addition to his work as Indian agent he edited the Tama County Democrat, published at Toledo. On finishing his work as Indian agent he removed to California, and took postgraduate work at Leland Stanford University. This he followed by becoming editor and publisher of The World Review, Chicago, an enterprise not proving profitable. After two years he returned to California and took a position as head of the oral expression department in Los Angeles High Schools, remaining there until 1907 when he became superintendent of schools at Santa Monica. While filling that position he was chosen president of the Southern California Schoolmasters' Club, president of the southern section of the California Teachers' Association, and was made a member of the State Council of Education. He led the campaign that brought a branch of the State University to Southern California. He won a high place in the educational field of the state.

GEORGE McCULLOCH was born at Benton, Holmes County, Ohio, October 24, 1848, and died in Humeston, Iowa, April 12, 1936. His parents were Joseph and Nancy (Miller) McCulloch. He was reared on his father's farm and acquired his early education in the schools near his place of birth. He removed to Iowa in 1870 and began the study of medicine with Dr. C. E. Rayburn of Brooklyn. In the fall of 1871 he entered Rush Medical College, Chicago, but soon thereafter the great Chicago fire destroyed the building of that college, and he left Chicago and entered the Medical Department of Michigan State University at Ann Arbor. In 1872 he returned to Rush Medical College and was graduated February 19, 1873. He then located at Malcom, Iowa, and began practice, but in the fall of 1873 he removed to Humeston where he successfully practiced his profession for over half a century. He acquired a large practice in town and the surrounding country, was a typical country doctor, a general practitioner, relieving the sufferings of the people and becoming friend and counsellor of all. He did his full share in helping build up the town, was a man of good judgment and made wise investments, acquired some 2,000 acres of Wayne County land, and several town properties. He took an interest in political matters and as a Republican was elected representative in 1881, serving in the Nineteenth General Assembly, the first one held in the new Capitol, and was again elected representative in 1903, serving in the Thirtieth and Thirty-first general assemblies. In 1908 he was elected senator and served in the Thirty-third and Thirty-fourth general assemblies.

MARION BROOKS was born in Whiteside County, Illinois, February 8, 1842, and died in a hospital in Des Moines, Iowa, May 23, 1936. Burial was in the Peoples Center Church Cemetery, Peoples Township, Boone County. His parents were Alphonso and Eliza Brooks. He grew to manhood in the neighborhood of his birth, was educated in public school, then engaged in farming. He enlisted as a private in the Union Army September 20, 1861, at Spring Hill, Illinois, but as the Illinois regiments were complete at that time, his company was made Company A, Eighth Kansas Infantry, which became a part of the Army of the Cumberland. He served in this regiment until January 1, 1864, when he veteranized and continued in the same regiment until the close of the war. He was promoted to first lieutenant January 30, 1862, and to captain of his company July 8, 1864. At different times his regiment was under command of Sherman, Grant, and Thomas. He was honorably discharged in February, 1866. On returning home he resumed farming, but in the spring of 1867 removed overland to Boone County, Iowa, and settled on section 16, Peoples Township, where he acquired land and developed a good farm. Besides farming and the rearing of livestock, he became a successful auctioneer. He served as justice of the peace, township clerk, secretary of the school board, and in 1891 was elected representative, and was re-elected in 1893, serving in the Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth general assemblies.

CHARLES ERNEST HEARST was born on a farm near Cedar Falls, Iowa, October 18, 1869, and died in a hospital in Cedar Falls March 8, 1936. Burial was in Fairview Cemetery, Cedar Falls. His parents were James and Maria Debora (Dane) Hearst. He grew to young manhood on the farm and for two years was a student in Iowa State Teachers College. He adopted farming as his vocation and after marriage established a farm of his own southwest of Cedar Falls near the place
