Death of Dr. L. F. Summers.

The community was saddened Sunday morning at the announcement of the death of Dr. L. F. Summers. It was not unexpected, as for several weeks past it was known the doctor could not recover, although loved ones had done everything possible to stay the ravages of disease, he gradually grew weaker until the lamp of life went out and he was free from pain and suffering. In the death of Dr. Summers, Milton loses one of its most honored citizens, one who has been identified with the best interest of the town for over thirty-five years, whose influence for its upbuilding will be felt for long years to come. Many have gone to him for counsel and profited by his words of advice. He was physician and friend, and his passing away is felt as a personal loss to friends as well as to relatives.

Dr. Summers was representative from this district 1903-06 and while in the legislature introduced a bill for the appropriation of funds to build a sanitarium for Iowa tuberculosis victims. The bill was passed and as a result, in Iowa City stands a sanitarium where consumptive patients are given the care best suited for that disease. It will be a lasting monument to the memory of Dr. Summers with whom the thought originated.

Dr. Summers commenced to fail in health a few years ago, and since last summer his decline was gradual. The past two months he suffered greatly from a complication of diseases, until death brought relief.

SKETCH OF HIS LIFE.

L. F. Summers, M. D. was born in Scotland Co., Mo. Aug. 17, 1849, and is the son of David and Alice Summers, who resided for many years near Memphis, Mo.

Dr. Summers is the object of a ness man, as a citizen, for he filled this relation well. But let's thank God for our christian faith. He has been wanted for a long time in heaven; he has been already welcomed there, and he shall never be missed from Our Father's circle.

The funeral was held in the presence of a large concourse of friends, at the M. E. church on Tuesday, Feb. 6, 1911 conducted by Rev. O. G. Orcutt, assisted by Rev. D. R. Martin, of Albia, Ia., Rev. Duty, pastor of Presbyterian church and Elder Holloway of Christian church. Rev. Martin preached a short sermon, from John 14: 2 and was followed by Rev. Orcutt who preached from Rev. 14:13. A double quartette furnished the music. Messrs. Geo. Weiny, J. Q. Hargrove, H. C. Hill, C. E. Baird, Geo. Kays and T. H. Dye, old time friends of Dr. Summers were honorary pall bearers and Messrs R. N. Parks, A. R. Norman, Lamar Rowland, Gene Connell, Maurice Atkins and W. G. Edmondson were pall-bearers. The casket was covered with beautiful floral emblems and a profusion of cut flowers sent by friends were banked on tables and arranged in vases. The remains were laid to rest in Milton Sunnyside cemetery.

SKETCH OF HIS LIFE.

L. F. Summers, M. D. was born in Scotland Co., Mo. Aug. 17, 1849, and is the son of David and Alice Summers, who resided for many years near Memphis, Mo.

Dr. Summers is the eldest of a family of ten children, four being born of the first marriage and six from the marriage of Mrs. Summers to Mr. John Rice, all of whom are living.

Dr. Summers received his primary education in the public schools after which he pursued a course in Memphis College. He chose the practice of medicine for his life profession and graduated from the Keokuk Medical College in the Class of 1876. He had already chosen as the place of his practice, Milton, Ia., and upon graduation he entered his practice and business career and for 35 years he has labored in our midst conscientiously, incessantly persistently, his labors crowned with a deserving and abundant degree of success.

On the 7th of March, 1876, Dr.
Summers was united in marriage to Miss Nettie Bell, who was born near Delphos, Ohio, and is a daughter of Freedman Bell. There were born to them four children, Mable Folker of Farmington, Jessie Harbin Mt.
Sterling, Etta Catherine Short and Lloyd Summers of Milton, Iowa, all of whom were present at their father's demise.

Dr. Summers was converted when quite a young boy at the Pleasant Hill school house near his father's home where preaching was held.
He united with the Methodist Episcopal church at that time under the pastorate of Brother Walcott and has since lived an active Christian life. There is not a higher pride the things that are going on in Milton. The revival will do much good; and then I am glad that you are putting into tangible shape plans for a Y. M. C. A. there. That is something needed much. As I look back and study my boyhood and young manhood, I would like to have now all the time I wasted standing at the lunch counters, talking to the fellows and eating stuff I had no need of and for what?

Just this, because I had no place else to go when I was away from home at night. I wasted enough time in those seven or eight years to have mastered three languages.
I have noted the advance of the Y.
M. C. A. all over the world and I note that it is taking up the slogan "Conservation of men." We hear a good deal about conserving forests and land, but how are we hearing about saving mankind? A young man can go to the altar and repent of his sins, and that is good, but if the community does not have a decent place for him to go when he has a vacant hour or evening, ten chances to one he will go to the devil before Summer.

Dr. Summers was converted when quite a young boy at the Pleasant Hill school house near his father's home where preaching was held. He united with the Methodist Episcopal church at that time under the pastorate of Brother Walcott and has since lived an active christian life. There is not a higher sphere of service that may be rendered than that of a christian doctor in a community. And thus for the people of Van Buren and adjacent counties who knew the doctor, many of whom he has ministered unto in the sick room, many of whom he has aided across the threshold of life, and for those also whose dying hands he has held and breathed a silent prayer for their passing souls; would we lift his life to its rightful place a position which he chose for himself, a place which he has well earned by an untiring and faithful ministry in which he gave the strength of his years, a service than which there is none more lofty--a christian family physician and doctor.

The end came peacefully, Sunday, February 5th at about seven thirty of the clock in the morning. A christian's death is a sleep. The doctor fell asleep. He shall be missed in the home, we will never know how much. He shall be missed as a relative, as a neighbor, as a busi-

That has all been opened by the Y. M. C. A. Men like religion, but they will not stand for getting on their knees all the time, and I doubt if the Almighty wants it. He wants us to make the most of ourselves, and the Y. M. C. A. comes in to fill out that chance. I shall watch with much pleasure the success of the movement, trusting that the smoke will get thinner in the loafing places, and that the young men, and older ones will support the institution.

brought forward for the same position and came out triumphant. As he has always been a prompt, honorable and conscientious man in his own business affairs, it need not be feared that he will neglect those of the people.

LF. SUMMERS, M. D., physician and surgeon of Milton and the senior partner of the firm of Summers & Rice, druggists, is also a member of the Milton Hardware Company. It will readily be seen that he is one of the leading and representative business men of Milton and as such we are pleased to record his sketch in this volume. He was born in Scotland County, Mo., August 17, 1849, and is a son of David and Alice (Stevens) Summers. His father was a native of Greenbrier County, Va., born about the year 1812, and in early life went to Missouri. He was a millwright by trade and erected one of the first grist mills in Scotland County, and for many years also engaged in farming. Mrs. Summers, the mother of our subject, was born in Decatur, Ill., in 1825, and removed with her parents to Missouri in girlhood, becoming acquainted with Mr. Summers in Scotland County, where their marriage was celebrated and where she still resides. They were parents of four children, two sons and two daughters, of whom the eldest is the Doctor; Lois E., is the wife of J. C. Yenter, of Washington; Amanda L., is the wife of James Douglas, of Scotland County, Mo.; David, married Laura Hammond and is a farmer of Scotland County.

Mr. Summers continued to reside in that county until his death which occurred in 1852. His wife survives her husband and is still a resident of that county. She was married again in 1858, to John Rice, a farmer by occupation, and of the second marriage six children were born, five sons and a daughter. Clora A., the eldest, is the wife of Chipman A. Van Dyke, of Oregon; Charles H., married Ellen Beswick, and resides near Memphis, Mo.; William H. is single and makes his home in the same place; John A., wedded Miss Mary Graves and is a member of the drug firm of Summers & Rice, of Milton; Albert A., married Miss Arwilda Ruse, and resides near Memphis, Mo.; Grant, who completes the family, is a member of the Milton Hardware Company. Mr. Rice Sr., father of the above named children, was a soldier in the Union Army during the late war, serving in Company M, Twelfth Missouri Cavalry, and died in the hospital in Indianapolis, Ind., in 1864.

Dr. Summers received his primary education in the public schools, after which he pursued a partial course in the Memphis College, of Memphis, Mo. Having determined to make the practice of medicine his life work, in 1872 he became a student in the Keokuk Medical College, but did not complete the course. The same year he spent six months in practice in the Marine Hospital, at St. Louis. The following year he came to Milton and opened an office but subsequently returned to the Keokuk Medical College, and after a course of study was graduated in the class of 1876. He continued practice in Milton and in 1878 opened a drug store in that place which he carried on alone until 1880, when J. A. Rice was admitted to partnership, a connection which continues until the present writing in the fall of 1890. In 1888, the Doctor became associated with others in the organization of the Milton Hardware Company, which is now one of the important mercantile houses in the county. In addition to his other business interests he is proprietor of a fine stock farm of two hundred and forty acres lying two miles southwest of Milton. He breeds sheep and horses extensively, making a specialty of road horses.

On the 7th of March, 1876, in Milton, Dr. Summers, was united in marriage with Miss Nettie Bell, who was born near Delphos, Ohio, and is a daughter of Freeman Bell. Four children were born of their union, three daughters and a son—Mabel Alice, Jessie Bell, Etta Catherine and Loyd Freeman. Mrs. Summers, is a member of the Methodist Church and a lady of culture, having many friends in the community. The Doctor is a Republican in politics. He is an enterprising and successful business man, who by his own efforts has accumulated a valuable property, and in his profession he has won a prominent place as physician and surgeon and has built up an extensive practice. For seventeen years Dr. Summers has been known to the people of Van Buren and adjacent counties, and during that time his course has been such as to win the respect and esteem of all with whom he has had business or social relations.

HLATT HUFFMAN, a lumber dealer of Birmingham, is one of the few pioneers left to tell the story of Van Buren County as it was fifty-three years ago. He is also numbered among the early settlers of the State, for Iowa's citizens were then numbered among the population of the Territory of Wisconsin, and in numbers they were few, living mostly along the Mississippi river, or where a waterway would serve to connect them in some degree with the outside world. The greatest gratitude from the people of to-day, and from coming generations is due those honored pioneers who laid the foundation upon which was reared the vast structure now known as Iowa, a State which is on a par in many respects with the oldest States of the East, and of which its citizens are justly proud.

Mr. Huffman is a native of New Albany, Ind., and a son of Burke and Mary (Miller) Huffman. His paternal grandfather emigrated from Germany, and settled at an early day in North Carolina, where his father was born in 1791. When a young man the latter emigrated westward, locating in New Albany, Ind. He wedded Mary Miller, a native of Kentucky, who was about ten years his junior. Her parents were of Scotch-Irish extraction. Having married, Mr. Huffman devoted himself to farming in Indiana, which he followed until 1836, when, accompanied by his family he started for Iowa, proceeding down the Ohio and up the Mississippi River to Ft. Madison. The following March he made a location in what is now Lick Creek Township, Van Buren County, where he took a claim of two hundred and eighty acres, which he entered as soon as it came into market. The Indians were far more numerous than the white settlers, and the noted chief, Black Hawk, was often a visitor at his home. He had to go to Rock River to mill, the nearest market was on the Mississippi, and other disadvantages of a similar nature formed a part of his pioneer experience. Until 1855 Mr. Huffman was a Democrat, but among the first that espoused the Republican principles he identified himself with the party and continued to support it with his ballot until his death, which occurred in 1859. The following year his wife, who was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, was called to her final rest. They led quiet yet useful lives, and reared a family of eleven children who became respected and valued members of the community in which they made their homes. Barbara A., the eldest of the nine who grew to mature years, married Moses Stanley, now deceased, and resides at Unionville, Iowa; James M., is a hotel-keeper in Montana; Samuel served in the Second Iowa Infantry, was wounded at Ft. Donelson, and after his return died from a cold; George W. is a fruit-grower of California; Hiatt is the next younger; Mrs. Mary E. Bishop is said to have been the first white girl born in Van Buren County; Capt. John W., who is now engaged in mining in Custer City, Idaho, served in the late war, was taken prisoner at Missionary Ridge and incarcerated in the Libby prison; Fred B., is followed by Robert, the youngest, who served in the Fifth Iowa Infantry, was also captured at Missionary Ridge, and died in Andersonville prison.

We now come to the personal history of our subject who was reared as a farmer lad, acquiring his education in the pioneer schools of that day, and at the age of eighteen years began life for himself. Those who sought homes on a frontier were usually not in very prosperous circumstances, and could give their children little assistance. So it was with Mr. Huffman, who from the time he left the parental roof was dependent upon his own exertions. On the 19th of February, 1877, having chosen Miss Vitula R. Goodall as a helpmate on life's journey, he led her to the marriage altar. She was born in Van Buren County, August 11, 1838, her father being William Good-

MR. SPEAKER: Your committee appointed to prepare and present suitable resolutions of respect to the life, character, and public service of the late Hon. L. F. Summers, a member of the House of the Thirtieth and Thirty-first General Assemblies beg leave to report the following:

The subject of this sketch was born in Scotland county, Missouri, August 17, 1849, and was the son of David and Alice Summers, who resided for many years near Memphis, Missouri. He received his primary education in the public schools of Memphis after which he pursued a course in Memphis college. His inclinations tended toward a professional life and he chose the profession of medicine for his life work and graduated with honors from the Keokuk Medical college in the class of 1876.

After his graduation he located at Milton, Iowa, for the pursuance of his profession and for thirty-five years was engaged in active practice, where he labored conscientiously and incessantly. He was also engaged in mercantile business, conducting a drug store for years in his home town and also was interested in agricultural pursuits, owning several farms in the immediate vicinity.

On the seventh of March, 1876, he was united in marriage to Miss Nettie Bell of Delphos, Ohio. To this union was born four children, Mrs. Mabel Folker, Mrs. Jessie Harbin, Mrs. Etta Catherine Short and Lloyd Summers, all of whom were present at their father's bedside during his last illness, administering such assistance as loving hands could render.

He represented Van Buren county in the Thirtieth and Thirty-first General Assemblies and without seeking distinction as a legislator or political leader he discharged the duties of the office with honesty and fidelity to his constituents and the public, and was at all times and under all circumstances an honest, sincere and faithful public servant.

He introduced a bill for the building of a sanitarium for tuberculosis victims and as a result there has been created at Oakdale, a sanitarium for the treatment and cure of consumptives, which will be a lasting monument to the memory of our lamented statesman.

In his early boyhood he united with the Methodist Episcopal church and always lived an active Christian life, honored and respected by all who knew him.

Resolved, That as his life and character command our respect and esteem we extend his relatives and friends our sympathy in their sorrow, and that this memorial be entered upon the Journal of the House, and an engrossed copy be presented to the bereaved family of the deceased.
