MARION FLOYD STOOKEY

Marion Floyd Stookey was born in Kosciusko county, Indiana, March 19, 1846, and died at his home in Leon, Iowa, April 2, 1919, aged 73 years and 13 days. With his parents he moved from Indiana to Linn county, Iowa, in the fall of 1857 and settled on a farm. His education was acquired in the district school supplemented by a term in the high school at Cedar Rapids and a year at Western College. He followed the occupation of teaching for several years, teaching during the winter months and working on a farm during the summer. He enlisted in Company C, Forty-seventh Iowa, during the Civil War and served until that regiment was discharged.
 He graduated from the law department of the State University in 1877 and immediately settled in Leon, Iowa, where he has since continued the practice of law. Shortly after his location in Leon he formed a partnership with E. W. Haskett which terminated several years later when Mr. Haskett was appointed U. S. district attorney for Alaska.
 As a lawyer the deceased was known throughout the country as a safe counselor and he soon developed a broad and deep comprehension of the fundamental principles of the law. He always enjoyed a lucrative practice which furnishes evidence of his integrity and ability. He has served as mayor and City Attorney of Leon and also county attorney of Decatur county. He was elected to the senate in 1903 and served during the Thirtieth, Thirty-First and Thirty-Second General Assemblies.
 On September 1, 1881, he was married to Miss Elizabeth Brooks at Leon, Iowa, who with their daughter, Mrs. Marion E. Wasson, of Des Moines, and his brothers, Nelson, of Palo, and Charles of Shellsburg, and his sister, Mrs. Margaret Lightfoot, of Palo, survive him. For over forty years Mr. Stookey has been an honored resident of Leon during which time he has served both city, county and state in honored positions. He was a man of exemplary character marked for his quiet and even tempered disposition. His life speaks louder than any words that could be spoken in his praise.

For many years he was one of the owners of the Decatur County Journal. Under his influence and management the paper prospered and its sphere of usefulness was greatly extended. The editorials were widely quoted and it became one of the ablest and strongest defenders of the principles of the republican party in the eighth congressional district. The deceased believed in the fundamental principles of christianity. He believed that religion is essential and indispensable to the welfare of men and governments. To one who had known him for many years he once remarked: "The greatest message ever delivered to mankind is contained in the words of the Master, "I am the resurrection and the Life."

Marion F. Stookey was a patriotic American and loved his country. He was devoted to his party but that devotion to party was superinduced by his love of his country. He was always prominent in the councils of his party and "we shall meet but we will miss him"

He was sick for over nine weeks gradually growing weaker and weaker, until the end came. The funeral services were held from the home Friday afternoon, April 2nd, and were in charge of Rev. C. H.
 Miller, pastor of the Leon M. E.
 Church, assisted by Rev. Brooks, of Colfax, and also the Masonic fraternity of which he was for many years a prominent member.

The Leon Chamber of Commerce held a fine meeting Monday evening of this week at the Civic Club rooms. A splendid banquet was served by the ladies of the Civic club after which the business session was held. Many things of interest to the community and to the county were discussed and headway made. The ice plant committee reported everything going along well with the new plant and expected that ice could be delivered by the last of May. The park committee made reports that were satisfactory. The matter of paving was also up and the committee on that matter reported that progress was being made and that it seemed that more paving would be an assured fact in the near future. The Jefferson Highway committee that had been appointed to secure Leon's quota of memberships, went over the top with more than the required number. The question of band concerts was also taken up and the committee was instructed to arrange for a leader to come here and with the talent already here with the addition of a few outside players when needed, to form a band for the summer. It is their purpose to take in beginners and as fast as they are ready to do so, make them members of the band. Among other measures the articles of association drawn up by the Decatur County Community Club committee, were unanimously adopted by the Chamber of Commerce. The booster committee was instructed to take immediate steps to co-operate with the business men of the other towns in the county to form a county wide business men's association in accordance with the approved plans. The meeting was a good one and the attendance was large. The matter of telephone service was another matter that received attention and the organization of a company to put in another system is under consideration.

measures which were largely due to the force of James A. Smith. He maintained during his latter days at Pasadena, California, a beautiful winter home, where it was my privilege to visit him. It was one of the finest homes in Pasadena and it was there he died. He was taken sick with pneumonia, lived only a very few days and died in that place in California a year ago last fall.

Senator Proudfoot spoke as follows:

I regret very much to prolong this session, but I do not want the occasion to go by without a word from me in relation to Senator Smith. He sort of took me under his wing because he was a leader on this floor. I think the most animated debate I ever took part in was with Senator Smith. He was one of those sarcastic, clean-cut, able gentlemen from the east, polished and well educated and knew exactly what he wanted and how to go about it to get it.

I served two sessions with Senator Smith and a more polished, splendid, frank, open, direct man I never knew.

MARION F. STOOKEY.

Senator Stephenson, from a special committee, submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

MR. PRESIDENT—Your committee appointed to draft resolutions commemorative of the life, character and services of Honorable Marion F. Stookey, beg leave to submit the following report:

Honorable Marion Floyd Stookey was born in Kosciusko county, Indiana, March 19, 1846, and died at his home in Leon, Iowa, April 2, 1919, aged 73 years and 13 days.

With his parents he moved from Indiana to Linn county, Iowa, in the fall of 1857, and settled on a farm. His education was acquired in the district, supplemented by a term in the high school at Cedar Rapids and a year at Western College. He followed the occupation of teaching for several years, teaching during the winter months and working on a farm during the summer. He enlisted in Company C. He was elected to the Senate in 1903 and served during the Thirtieth, Thirty-first and Thirty-second General Assemblies.

On September 1, 1881, he was married to Miss Elizabeth Brooks, at Leon, Iowa, who with their their daughter, Mrs. M. E. Wasson, of Des Moines, and his brothers, Nelson of Palo, and Charles of Shellsburg, and his sister, Mrs. Margaret Lightfoot, of Palo, survive him.

He was a man of exemplary character, marked for his quiet and even tempered disposition. His life speaks louder than any words that could be spoken in his praise.

For many years he was one of the owners of the Decatur County Journal. Under his influence and management the paper prospered and its sphere of usefulness was greatly extended. Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be printed in the journal of the Senate, and that the Secretary of the Senate, be directed to forward an engrossed copy to the family of the deceased.

J. A. STEPHENSON,
T. A. KINGLAND,
JNO. R. PRICE.

The resolutions were adopted unanimously by a rising vote.

In moving the adoption of the resolutions, Senator Stephenson spoke in part as follows:

There are several things I would like to say in regard to Senator Stookey, although I never had a personal acquaintance with him. but I have always understood that he was well respected and well loved by his friends and business associates.

I believe there is only one Senator in the Senate at the present time who knew Senator Stookey and that is the Senator from Clayton, and I yield the floor to the Senator from Clayton.

Senator Newberry said in part:

It seems only yesterday since I sat here in the Senate chamber with Senator Stookey, and we have here tonight a resolution, paying tribute to his memory.

Senator Stookey served in the Thirty-first and Thirty-second General Assemblies. He was a good lawyer, an admirable friend, and able legislator. He did not introduce so many bills as some, but one bill which bears his name is the Stookey bill, an educational bill which provides that the diploma of any of the accredited colleges of the state,—some seventeen independent colleges, are on the accredited list. This bill provided that any diploma should have the same force and effect as far as teaching is concerned as a diploma from the state college or state teachers' college, and that is the law today, known as the Stookey Law. He was a very genial man and well beloved by his friends.

JOSEPH H. SWENEY.

Senator Kingland, from a special committee, submitted the following report and moved its adoption:

Mr. PRESIDENT—Your committee appointed to prepare resolutions commemorating the life, character and public services of Joseph Henry Sweney beg leave to submit the following report.

Joseph Henry Sweney was born in Warren County, Pennsylvania, October 2nd, 1845. He was educated in the public schools of Pennsylvania and Iowa. He finished his education in the State University of Iowa, where he graduated. He was early admitted to the bar and engaged in the practice of law and was engaged also in his early active career at farming. He early enlisted in the Union army and served as sergeant in Company K, Twenty-seventh Regiment of Iowa Infantry. He was later made colonel of the 6th Regiment, Iowa National Guard for four years and also held the position of Brigadier and Inspector General of the state. He was a member of the Iowa Senate in the twentieth, twenty-first, and twenty-second general assemblies. He was president pro tempore of the Senate in the session of 1886 and was elected and served as a member of the fifty-first congress.

The above recited facts of the public career of Colonel Sweney evidences the esteem and confidences in which he was held by his fellowmen. In all capacities in which he served, both in public and private, he served with honor and distinction to himself and rendered faithful service to those whom he served. He was unassuming and the positions of honor and trust which he occupied during his life were due to the worth and ability of the man rather than to any self-seeking on his part, and it may be said of him that the office sought the man rather than the man the office.

He spent his entire active life in Osage, Mitchell County, Iowa, where he practiced law as his occupation when not holding office and the esteem and confidence he enjoyed from his fellowmen and colleagues is well attested by the following extract from the memorial resolutions offered by Mitchell County Bar Association at its meeting held December 6th, 1891, which resolutions were spread upon the record of the district ed, That it is our judgment that in the death of our brother, ary Sweney, the citizens of this county and state have lost a to many severe tests with honor, patience and confidence in
