Mr. Frank M. Flem- Celebrates Birthday

On Saturday, January 23, the birthday of Mr. Frank M. Flem- at the old homestead where with his daughter, Mrs. W. son, and family, and held a happy family reunion. One of the most satisfying features be- all of his children were present on the occasion.

A delicious chicken dinner with accompanying viands was served at noon. The table was beautifully decorated for the occasion, the chief adornment being a beautiful cake which was the gift of the Relief Corps of Wellman. A very happy feature of the day was the arrival of Mr. Flem- ing, Mrs. Wray Fuqua, of Wellman, who came to help celebrate.

Gifts, cards and flowers were received.

Fleming has been a resident of Washington county for over fifty years and he has a host of friends in this community that he has won by his genial disposition and bright life.

Only sixteen years of age, he joined with the Union in the war, and fought in a number of important battles. He was discharged at St. Louis, the close of the war. He is one of the few remaining members of the Lincoln Post G. A. R. This devotion to the Union is especially noticeable since his parents were natives of southern states, his father from Virginia, and his mother from Tennessee. After their marriage they moved to Madison county, where the subject of this article was born on Jan. 23, 1845. Fleming is a veteran and State Legislator. Collection compiled by volunteers and staff at the State Historical Society of Iowa Library, Des Moines, Iowa.

H. H. Wilson Dead

The news that H. H. Wilson had passed away last Thursday evening was a shock to many of his friends, for only a few knew that his condition was so critical, since he had not been confined to his bed for a very long time. He died in Mercy hospital in Iowa City. The cause of his death was heart trouble.

His passing removes another of the old landmarks of this community, for this particular Wilson family have been residents of Washington county for four generations.

Horace H. was the son of James Monroe and Eliza (Moon) Wilson, and was born on the Wilson homestead Jan. 26, 1854, and at the time of his death was aged 71 years, 11 months and 21 days.

His parents in company with his paternal grandparents came to Iowa in 1843. His grandfather entered land in Cedar township, where he followed farming and stock raising and also operated a saw mill on his farm. He was an influential democrat, and served as a member of the 4th General Assembly when the state capital was at Iowa City.

Soon after coming to Iowa the parents of the deceased settled on the farm south of Wellman that for many years was their home. (We believe the homestead is still owned by B. L. Wilson.) Here the deceased grew to manhood and became familiar with the work of farming. In common with the boys of his time, he helped with the crops during summer and attended district school during the winter months. He supplemented this education by attending the Washington academy, a former well-known educational institution. Later he taught school for a number of terms.

In 1879 he was united in marriage to Miss Eva Runyan of the Lexington community, and together they founded their home on the new- ly purchased farm south of town,

Pleasantly Surprised

Twenty-five neighbors and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Yoder gave them a very pleasant surprise party Saturday evening, Jan. 16.

Games of different kinds provided the entertainment for the evening and delicious refreshments were served. Before departing, Francis Longwell, in behalf of the assembled company, presented them with a thermos jug as a token of the esteem in which their neighbors hold them. Mrs. Yoder responded with a nice talk, expressing their regret at leaving so fine a neighborhood.

Although regretting that the occasion was a farewell to these fine young people who are leaving this community, all unite in wishing them happiness and prosperity in their new home.

Washington Aid Ladies Entertain

The Washington Ladies' Aid Society had a pleasant afternoon at the Washington church parlors Thursday.

A delicious two-course dinner was served by the hostesses: Bert Dill, Mrs. Everette Sigler, Mrs. Jake Sigler. A collection of yellow and white was made for the table decorations. The menu, which consisted of: a king, mashed potatoes, gravy, banana salad, brick oven cake, coffee, mints.

The business meeting, which included entertainment committees, Morton Emde, Mrs. C. E. and Mrs. Wade Gardner, a recipe exchange. Many recipes, varying from old-fashioned to the new, were read and noted.

ly purchased farm south of town, where they continued to reside until moving to Wellman in 1903.

One daughter, Georgia Runyan, was born to them. She became the wife of Dr. F. C. Carlo in 1904, and died a year later. Her death was a heavy blow to her parents, from which they never entirely recovered. Soon after their death they gave up housekeeping, and spent their time in various places, principally at Wellman, Iowa City and with their son-in-law at Garrison.

Mr. Wilson was an extensive reader and was much interested in politics, and in party preference he was an ardent democrat. He represented Washington county for two terms at the state legislature, serving the 30th and 31st assemblies. He also held other minor offices which denoted his popularity as an official.

His remains were brought here Monday and the services held in the M. E. church at 2:00 p. m., conducted by Rev. Rex. The following extract is taken from the obituary notice read by Rev. Rex at these services, and speaks eloquently of the esteem in which he was held by his friends:

"Mr. Wilson spent the greater part of his active life on the farm in which he proved his efficiency as a helpful neighbor as well as a farmer.

"He was a member of the B. P. O. Elks lodge of Iowa City, and was always devoted to better interests of the order.

"He was a man of strict integrity, honest and upright in all his dealings with his fellowmen; a good neighbor and a dutiful husband. His friendly spirit and good word for others will not soon be forgotten. He was a friend of the ministry and frequently was found in the church service.

"Besides his devoted wife, he leaves one brother, B. L. Wilson and one sister, Mrs. Lewis Vorel, both of Wellman community, with one nephew and many friends, who will greatly miss him."

He was interred in the Wellman cemetery by the side of his much loved daughter.

On last Saturday, Jan. 18, while Mrs. Frank Rugg was still in Wellman caring for her little injured son, Lawrence, a number of her neighbor ladies went to the Frank Rugg home, taking with them well filled baskets, and with the assistance of Mrs. Rugg, prepared and served a splendid dinner to the shredders who were working for Frank.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Rugg are grateful for this kind act of sympathy and helpfulness.

The ladies who helped were: Mrs. S. H. Henderson, Mrs. Louis Eckhardt, Miss Nellie Eckhardt, Mrs. Bud Nickel, Mrs. Mae Wetrich and Mrs. Arthur Jones.

Wed In the Golden State

The marriage of two former Iowans that will no doubt surprise many of our readers is the wedding of Miss Ona Dorrance to Cecil Oldaker, at San Francisco, California, on Jan. 13.

We understand they will make San Francisco their home, where Cecil has a good position in a grocery store.

Both young people have many friends in and around Wellman who extend best wishes for their future happiness and prosperity.

VO BASKETBALL CONTESTS TONIGHT

GLS PLAY COTTER AND BOYS
MEET OTTUMWA AT HIGH SCHOOL—FIRST AT 7:30

With two games on the calendar, of them with George Yount and Ottumwa quintet, the largest of the season is expected at the school gymnasium this evening. It will be one of the biggest basketball programs of the year in Washington. The first game is scheduled to start promptly at 7:30 and the Washington and Cotter girls' teams will furnish the attraction. Unless the Cotter girls prove stronger than they were in the game between the two teams last week, the Washington sextet should have rather an easy time of it. The boys' game will be a different story, for Yount will bring his outfit here expecting to win without much trouble, after fumbling Muscatine, 18 to 10, last week. The best Washington could do against Muscatine was to lose 14 to 15. However, the team played at Muscatine, last week. The Muscatine-Ottumwa contest at Ottumwa last week. They haven't looked any good in practice this week. The Washington team are expected to give the Yount team quite a cordial reception, and if they get into the ha-

Former Legislator Is Dead at Iowa City

H. H. Wilson, who several years ago represented this county in the state legislature and was one of the most important democrats in the county, died last night in Iowa City, according to word received by friends in Washington today. He had been declining in health for the last two months, suffering from a chronic ailment with which he had been troubled for several years. Funeral services will be held at Iowa City Sunday afternoon at two o'clock and Monday afternoon at Wellman at the same hour, with burial in the Wellman cemetery.

Mr. Wilson was born in this county January 26, 1854. He lived on a farm in the vicinity of Wellman for many years, later moving to that town in 1903.

He was active in county politics, being nominated for auditor on the democratic ticket and suffering defeat by only 85 votes. Later he was elected to the state legislature and served two terms. He was well known in Washington and leaves many intimate friends in this community.

ORDERS FROM MADISON

Next Monday evening Troop 1133 Cavalry will put on a drill, with no orders given by Captain Phil Chad or either of his lieutenants. Instead, all commands will be given over the radio by an officer in the broadcasting room of the University of Wisconsin at Madison. Every National Guard unit in Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota and Iowa will receive orders in the same way at the same time and go through the same maneuvers. There are at least fifty units in this state, and not more than three hundred in the four states.

The bugle calls and the music of the band will all come over the radio, as well as the commands. Spectators will be taken to have the best position as close as possible.

The grand drill will be put on twice, the first time at 8:10 and the second time at 8:30. It lasts at least fifteen minutes and there will be fifteen minutes intermission between the two drills. It is something new and it is hoped that the experiment will work out with-land, and began in earnest the battle of life. He at once undertook general farming, and in addition to that, formed the nucleus for raising fine stock, which has since grown to considerable proportions. He has made a specialty of Short-horn cattle, and is now turning his attention to the breeding of Hambletonian and Bashaw horses. In his undertakings, both as farmer and stock-raiser, he has been so eminently successful during the short time he has so engaged, that his farm has grown from eighty to 195 acres, and the improvements thereon have increased and bettered in about the same ratio. These are tangible evidences of success which cannot be gainsaid, and they have come as the result of unremitting toil and judicious management, as well as from proper investments at proper times. In his earlier life Mr. Wilson engaged in school teaching, for which vocation he is peculiarly fitted by nature and education. He has taught successfully and satisfactorily nine terms of school in the county in which he resides, and in the profession stood deservedly high, and earned the popularity which he enjoyed. In this line of business he displayed the same good judgment which has characterized him in other pursuits.

It is but natural in one of his temperament and active brain, that Mr. Wilson should take a lively interest in political affairs, a field which affords excitement and recreation from the cares of business. His affiliations are with the Democratic party, and a good gauge of his popularity is that in a township that gives a Republican majority, he has been elected to the office of Assessor five terms. He was honored by his party with the nomination for Auditor of Washington County, and although the county is reliably Republican by 400 majority, Mr. Wilson was defeated by only eighty-five votes. These are tests which cannot be disregarded, when men are tried in the balance of public estimation. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson have one child, a bright little boy, who was born on the 22d of November, 1880, in whom they place much store. He is not yet old enough to have made much progress in the school, but it is their determination to afford him every facility possible for obtaining a good and complete education. Mrs. Wilson is a devoted member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and enthusiastically engaged in such work as will enhance the interests of the congregation to which she belongs. She and her husband are highly respected and esteemed members of society, and right cordially do they support all the movements inaugurated for the betterment of the condition of their neighborhood. Mr. Wilson is a man of infinite resources, untiring energy, and much ability, and these have enabled him to succeed well up to the present time, and are the guarantees of future success.

L ENOX DAYTON. Three-quarters of a century is a long time to live, and fewer men of the new generation than of the old will reach that age. We live faster than did the pioneers who blocked out and built up the West, and like a clock that is wound up to run a given time, if we go faster than was intended we will run down sooner than the Maker calculated. That is what the present generation is doing, but there does not seem to be any help for it. The men like the subject of this sketch, who go slow but sure, using as much conservatism as possible in their business affairs and husbanding their strength for the latter end of life, are those who grow to a ripe old age. For forty-seven years Mr. Dayton has been a resident of Iowa, coming here when what is now a blooming prairie State was one vast, unbroken country, whose inhabitants were few and far between. He has seen the State grow from a frontier post of civilization to be one of the foremost and proudest in the Union, not only in material matters, but in intelligence and progressiveness, and he has the satisfaction of knowing that he has borne a hand in this work of transformation. Mr. Dayton has lived a life filled with good deeds and compensating achievements. He has reared a family of which any father might be proud, and in this contribution to the world lies his chiefest joy in his seventy-fifth year.

Lenox Dayton was born on the 12th of November, 1812, in the State of Maryland, near the Virginia line. He is the son of John and Ellen (Mallory) Dayton, also natives of Maryland, and

HON. H. H. WILSON

MR SPEAKER: Your committee appointed to prepare resolutions commemorating the life and services of the Honorable H. H. Wilson, late of Washington county, Iowa, beg leave to submit the following:

Horace H. Wilson was born in Washington county, Iowa, January 26, 1854, and died at Iowa City, Iowa, January 21, 1926. He was the son of James Monroe and Eliza (Moon) Wilson. In common with the boys of his time he worked on the farm during the winter months. He also attended the Washington Academy and later taught school for a number of terms. In 1879 Mr. Wilson was united in marriage to Miss Eva Runyan and together they founded their home on a farm south of Wellman. One daughter, Georgia Runyan, was born to them. She became the wife of Dr. F. C. Carle in 1904, and died a year later. Soon after her death they gave up housekeeping and spent their time at various places. Mr. Wilson spent the greater part of his active life on the farm and proved his efficiency as a farmer as well as a helpful neighbor.

He was a member of the B. P. O. Elks lodge of Iowa City and was always devoted to the better interests of the order. He was a man of strict integrity, honest and upright in all his dealings with his fellowmen; a good neighbor and dutiful husband. Mr. Wilson was much interested in politics, and in party preferences he was an ardent Democrat. He represented Washington county for two terms in the state legislature, serving in the Thirtieth and Thirty-first Assemblies. He also held other more minor offices which denoted his popularity as an official. Mr. Wilson leaves, besides his devoted wife, one brother, B. L. Wilson, and one sister, Mrs. Lewis Vorel, both of the Wellman community.
