ON SUMMER TRIP.

Next week we expect to leave in company with our family, for Winona Lake, Ind., at which place it is our intention to stay for a month or six weeks. We do not call it a vacation, we never took a vacation, but are going with the hopes that getting away from the office may prove beneficial to our health which has been declining for several years, not in the way of losing flesh but a specialist says it is nerves and spinal trouble. We are today fleshier than we ever were, but our pedals will not work and we are going to try a change of surroundings in the hopes that it may prove beneficial. The routine of publishing a paper and being at the office in the early morning until 10 to 12 o'clock at night for nearly eleven years has overtaxed us and we realize that there must be a change or we must quit the business. We have no aches or pains but have lost the use of our lower limbs.

The office will be left in charge of our excellent office force and you will be given a better paper than at present and the job and ad department will be carefully looked after. While gone we expect to fish and any orders left for a shipment of the finny tribe will be attended to and promptly filled. When we return we expect to be proficient enough in telling fish stories to gain admission to the Ananias club. During our absence it would be a good time to quit reading your neighbors FREE PRESS and come in and donate $1.50 to a good cause. You would feel better, be better and we would be happy. Be happy by making others happy.

The Risk is Ours.

HON. G. C. CALKINS CALLED.

One of the Best Known and Public Spirited Citizens Gone—Long a Prominent Resident.

On Wednesday about 4:30 p. m. at a Creston hospital occurred the death of one of the oldest and most prominent residents of Adams county when the spirit of Hon. George C. Calkins returned to Him who gave it. Mr. Calkins had been at the hospital two weeks, going there at the urgent solicitation of friends in the hopes that his fast declining condition might be improved. The cause of his death is pronounced sarcoma, a form of cancer, from which he had been suffering for several months. By some it is thought the trouble started from an injury he received in a runaway about two years ago when he was thrown against a telephone pole and quite severely injured.

George Conde Calkins was born in Glenville, Schenectady county, N. Y., October 4, 1835, and at the time of his death was aged 75 years, 8 months and 24 days. He grew to manhood in his native state and came to Illinois when 21 years of age and located at Sterling, where he was married in 1863 to Miss Mary Taylor Scott, who survives him. They remained in

Who died at a Creston hospital Wednesday in his 76th year.

Illinois until in the spring of 1871 when they came to Iowa and located in this county which has since been his home and where he has done so much to assist in the development of the county. To Mr. and Mrs. Calkins were born six children, three sons and three daughters, all living and all were present at the funeral. They are C. C. Calkins, Burlingame, Kan.; N. W. Calkins, Pueblo, Colo.; Frank Calkins, O'Neill, Nebr.; Mrs. W. J. Frederick, Lincoln township; Mrs. E. M. Cain, Corning, and Mrs. H.

For a number of years Mr. Calkins resided in Corning where he was en-paraded what he had done in this respect. He preferred that the one hand not know what the other hand doeth. He was a man to whom many went for advice on important questions of the day and his advice was always considered good. He was the owner of over a section of land in Lincoln township, had land in Nebraska, a large amount of personal property and was a man of considerable means, his estate being worth probably $75,000 to $100,000.

It is thought his last sickness was hastened by the fact that during the spring he did a great deal of farm work, such as harrowing and discing because he was unable to secure help. This kind of work was very hard on one of his age and his condition.

In speaking of the life of Mr. Calkins, Hon. W. H. Robb, editor of the Creston American, who was a life-long friend, had the following comment on the character of the subject of this sketch:

George C. Calkins was a man of high ideals, sturdy honesty, persevering, and untiring energy. He was one of Adams county's most progressive stockmen and farmers, and a large property holder. He was a natural leader of men and inspired confidence in all with whom he did business and his friends were numbered by his acquaintances. In the movement for legislative reforms he took an active part in the Grange and helped to formulate sentiment out of which grew the populist party, the principles of which he so ably espoused, and which are maturing into anti-trust laws, and measures for curbing the greed and avarice of corporations. He was twice elected to the legislature from Adams county on the democratic ticket notwithstanding the county has a normal republican majority of from 300 to 700 serving in the 32 and 33rd general assemblies.

In the death of George C. Calkins, the people lose an able champion and defender and the progressive democracy loses a man whose watchword was always upward and onward for the cause of the common people.

The deceased was also a member of the Elk lodge at this place, and was well known to many Creston people, who in this hour of grief, will extend their warmest sympathies to the bereaved wife and family.

The editor of this paper has known Mr. Calkins for some thirty-four or five years, and has been with him in many of the hard fought campaigns of southwestern Iowa, and he can bear testimony of the honest, upright character of the man and his unswerving devotion to the people whose cause he so long espoused. Popular government loses an able champion in the death of George C. Calkins.

There is not much to say about the special election next Friday on the question of the city bonds for the purchase of a $15,000 electric light plant, further has been said and what more can be said in this issue. The report that the ladies will not get to vote is untrue. All who want to vote will not have to be attired in formal clothes in order to vote, no more have to have their hair curled up in their every day clothes. It suggests that our readers who are interested look up the article in this issue and they will furnish the information. As we have said before, we believe the city should own the plant and the committee pointed to appraise the same it was reasonably worth the money asked.

S. Septer, of Lincoln township.

For a number of years Mr. Calkins resided in Corning where he was engaged in the hardware and other business enterprises and was also an auctioneer. While a resident of Corning he always took an active part in the welfare of the city and was a member of the school board and always took an active part in school matters. While a resident of Corning he was elected a member of the board of supervisors on the democratic ticket from the district composed of Quincy township, although it was largely republican. He served one term and for a time was chairman of the board and it has been freely commented on that Adams county never had a more proficient officer. Mr. Calkins was the nominee of the greenbacks and democrats for state senator in the Cass, Adair and Adams district against Hon. L. Young and although the district was strongly republican he was defeated by a small majority. He was a candidate for the same office on the democratic ticket against Finn in the Taylor-Adams district and again made a strong race. In 1906 he was nominated by the democrats for the office of member of the legislature from Adams county, and although the county was strongly republican, he was elected by over 300, and was again elected in 1908. He was the oldest member of the lower house of the Iowa legislature. Although several times a candidate the subject of this sketch was not an avowed candidate but his friends made him make the race. Every time he was a candidate he carried his home township, Lincoln, a township about 2 to 1 republican and his majorities were always large, showing how he was regarded by his home people and neighbors. Mr. Calkins was a man who always had strong convictions and never failed to express them. He was outspoken and there never was a time when his position on a public question was not known or could be ascertained. He made friends by his open frankness.

The remains were brought to Corning on No. 9 on Thursday and were taken to the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. M. Cain, where the funeral was held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and was largely attended, conducted by his old neighbor and friend, Rev. A. Y. Cupp, assisted by Rev. S. F. Gutelius. Interment was made in Walnut Grove cemetery, the order of Knights of Pythias, of which he had long been a member, having charge of the services at the grave. The deceased was also a member of the order of Elks, holding his membership at Creston. During the funeral the stores of Corning closed out of respect to his memory and for his long continued usefulness. There never has been a more charitable person in Adams county and many have been financially assisted by Mr.

Not long ago one, Joe Edwards blew into Corning, probably by the "side-door sleeper" route and secured employment at the ballast pit, rooms at the residence of E. S. Johnson and was soon at home. Joe was about 22 years of age and did not have as many good clothes as some of our young men. On or about June 4 he went to the rooms of Frank Akin and Art Lytle, who had rooms at the same place, and from the former he appropriated a good coat, a pair of pumps (going to dance), Masonic pin, sox and other articles of wearing apparel. From the latter he took a pair of pants, belt, suit of underclothes, shirt and other articles. Then Joe started to the tall timber. He left a coat hanging in his room and in the coat was a love letter from a girl at Dacona, Colo., postmarked at Frederick, Colo., in which she said all kinds of nice things about Joe, how she loved him and how she hoped he would reciprocate the love, but feared he would not. The letter is dated May 30 and addressed the said Joe as "My Dear Sweetheart Joe." The letter is signed "Sarah," and is closed with a lot of love and kisses. Then all the vacant places on the paper is marked with crosses which she says are kisses and would be enough to supply the ordinary Corning girl a week. Sheriff Hull took the letter and at once got in communication with an officer at Dacona. Soon Joe showed up with the clothes on, putting on more style than a nigger with a red necktie. He was arrested, but refused to return without the necessary state papers. While he broke up two $30 suits it was feared the value could not be placed high enough for grand larceny, and as he had a room at the house the theft could not be charged to breaking and entering, and unless the amount could be shown to be more than $20 it would only be petty larceny, and on advice of County Attorney Gibson, the accused was released and he is probably now with Sarah, happy and

The Corning band probably not furnish music for the celebrations and the many the various places, where going to observe the day they have passed up one of musical organizations in the band that will furnish that will please. They do a class of music that is all "tee tum tum," neither do and render something that not master, but they have catchy and popular music to please. We are sorry the going to Grant, largely on the disappointment it will friend Williams, who raised kind of Poland-China hogs, tells his usual Arkansas yarn passengers on the morning Fourth on the Anna Nanna route he can go home and the balance of the day can entertain the boys and the other.

He was elected as a member of the Twenty-fifth General Assembly, being a Democrat in political faith.

HON. GEORGE CONDE CALKINS.

MR. SPEAKER—Your committee appointed to draft resolutions commemorative of the life and service of the late Honorable George C. Calkins, a former member of this House, respectfully submit the following:

The Honorable George Conde Calkins was born in Glenville, Schenectady County, New York, of American born parentage, October 4, 1835, and departed this life June 28th, 1911.

He received his education in the common schools of Schenectady County and in Kingsborough Academy.

During the year of 1859, in keeping with the spirit of that time, he sought a new field of usefulness in the western state of Illinois. The first few years of his sojourn in that state were spent in teaching school. He then took up farming and auctioneering as his life work.

In the year of 1863 he was married to Miss Mary Taylor Scott, who survives him.

Mr. Calkins remained in Illinois until the spring of 1871, when he came to Iowa and located in Adams County, where he continued to exert a telling influence in all public matters up until the time of his death.

To Mr. and Mrs. Calkins were born six children, three sons and three daughters, all living. They are: C. C. Calkins, N. W. Calkins, Frank Calkins, Mrs. W. J. Frederick, Mrs. E. M. Cain and Mrs. H. S. Septer.

HON. ZENO H. GURLEY.

Mr. SPEAKER—Your committee, appointed to draft resolutions commemorative of the life, character and public service of Honorable Zeno H. Gurley beg leave to submit the following:

Reverend Zeno H. Gurley was born at Laharp, Hancock County, Illinois, February 24, 1842. He was for many years a leading minister in the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, and from 1874 to 1885 one of the twelve apostles of that body.

He served in the Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth sessions and Twenty-sixth extra session of the General Assembly, which position he filled with credit to himself and his constituency. He also served the state as Deputy Warden of the penitentiary at Anamosa. Always maintained a moral character above reproach, and was a man of much more than ordinary ability, especially as a public speaker.

He died at his home in Canton, Missouri, November 22, 1912.

Whereas, The long and honorable career of this honorable citizen should command our respect and goad us on to nobler achievements in this life; therefore be it
