LAWYER HERE 34 YEARS IS DEAD AT 65

Cancer of the Liver Fatal After Eight Months.

Announcement of the death yesterday at 9 a. m. of T. P. Harrington shocked city and county.

Mr. Harrington had for nearly a year been in somewhat poor health, but he did not become seriously sick till early March. It was thought that he suffered from gall bladder trouble, and on March 11 at the University hospital, Iowa City, an operation was performed.

The surgeons found that the disease was cancer of the liver. The cancer could not be removed, so the wound was closed and Mr. Harrington was sent home.

Mr. Harrington knew the end was near, but he insisted on attention to his law practice as long as he was able to come up town.
His last day at the office was April 29. Fate decreed that ambition to keep at work till his son Robert was graduated from the Iowa City law college this month and took over the practice could not be gratified.

Prominent in County.

Thus ended in the 66th year a life intimately associated with the history of Kossuth county for 34 years. Born and reared on the farm, Mr. Harrington rose by his own efforts to leadership in law and politics and became a figure of importance in the state.

Mr. Harrington was the youngest of six sons and the youngest but one of nine children born to John P. and Margaret O'Leary Harringfrom Ireland to America and fought rington was married. He and his wife came to New Diggings, Wis., and there on December 17, 1867,

Ingham Sees 'Muss' In Iowa If Amendment Is Voted Out

Harvey Ingham was in the prime of life when the liquor issue was stirring Iowa to the depths in the 80's.

There were once saloons in Al-gona, and Mr. Ingham's memory goes back to that period.

Mr. Ingham was against liquor then, and he has not changed. He is hearing the turmoil of a half cenwill have to be fought all over

Mr. Sorensen is making the trip to check up on an estate recently left to him by an uncle. Among assets is a machine works. A re-at first expected.

Mr. Christiansen had planned a

 December.

Timothy grew up there, obtained a common and high school educacourse at Cedar Rapids, and then entered the University College of Law. In 1899 he was graduated, and that summer he began the practice of law here with L. J.

 Dickinson as partner. They prospered from the start, soon had a profitable practice, and almost at once became politically prominent.

Since election to congress Mr.
 Dickinson had not been active in the firm, but the partnership was never publicly dissolved.

Mr. Harrington was elected county attorney in 1902 and served two terms. Then and for years afterwards he was legal adviser in drainage matters to the board of supervisors.

In 1902 Mr. Harrington was elected to the school board, on which he served 28 years, or till two years ago. After J. W. Sullivan's resignation he was president.
 The new high school building cost him untold labor in planning and looking after details, legal and oth-monument to his memory.

A group of high school students from Hayfield held a junior-senior picnic at the Ambrose A. Call state park Saturday. They told Custodian Wille that in previous years the students had patronized a Ma-expected to leave right after din-entire evening at the park. They ate at the Ambrose A. Call State House, after which they played games.

On the 13th of March, 1889, Mr. Andrews was married to Mrs. Olive R. Brown, who was born in Norway, November 16, 1864, but was reared in America, having emigrated to this country with her parents, Hans and Carren (Evensen) Anderson, when a child of two and a half years. The father, who was a farmer, first located in the vicinity of Rochester, Minnesota, but in 1870, he removed to Kossuth county, settling in Seneca township, where he continued his agricultural pursuits until his death on July 17, 1902. The mother, who is still living, now makes her home in Minnesota. Mrs. Andrews is the eldest of the eight children born to her parents, the others being as follows: Carrie, the wife of Anton Bakke, of Ledyard, Iowa; Albert L., who is residing in Seneca; Lee, who lives in Todd county, Minnesota; Louise, who became the wife of Fred Schultz, of Jefferson, Iowa; Nora, who married Walter Grinell, of Minnesota; and Hannah Louise and Hilma Caroline, both of whom are deceased. At the age of sixteen years, in 1880, the lady who now bears the name of Mrs. Andrews, became the wife of John Brown, and to them were born three children: Emma Jane, deceased; Effie, the wife of Harry Austin, of Harlan, Iowa; and Lawrence J., who is a resident of Washington county, Colorado. The family of Mr. and Mrs. Andrews numbers nine: Achsah R.; Fay Lloyd; Howard V.; Ruth A.; Susan C.; Glenford J., deceased; Lounora M.; Calphurnia; and James Dean.

The family attend the local Protestant churches, Mrs. Andrews being a member of the Presbyterian church. He accords allegiance in political matters to the republican party, but has never been an office holder. Mr. Andrews is one of the citizens of Wesley township whose success is largely due to unremitting diligence, persistently applied in the execution of carefully planned and well defined methods. He is highly regarded in his community, as he has conducted his transactions in an honorable and upright manner, and has proven himself to be trustworthy and thoroughly reliable in all relations of life.

TIMOTHY P. HARRINGTON.

One of the old established law firms of Algona is that of Harrington & Dickinson, which was organized July 1, 1899, and has since been in continuous existence. The prominence and capability of its members are attested by the extensive clientage accorded them, connecting them with much of the important litigation tried in the courts of the district. Algona has been the scene of Mr. Harrington's entire professional service and in a calling where advancement depends entirely upon individual merit he has worked his way steadily upward. He was born December 17, 1867, at New Diggins, Wisconsin, a son of John P. and Margaret (O'Leary) Harrington, both of whom were natives of Ireland. The father was a sailor in early life and, having come to America in boyhood, he enlisted in the United States navy and served during the Mexican war. Subsequently he was married in Massachusetts and removed to Wisconsin, where he reared a large family of six sons and three daughters, of whom Timothy P. Harrington was the youngest son and the next youngest in order of birth in the family. The mother died in Wisconsin in 1872 and ten years later the father removed to Wright county, Iowa, his death occurring in Winnebago county, this state, in 1899.

Timothy P. Harrington was educated in the common schools of Wright county, supplementing the work he had already done in the schoolroom in Wisconsin. He was fourteen years of age at the time of the removal to this state and after he left the public schools he entered upon a law course in the University of Iowa, from which he was graduated with the class of 1899, winning the degree of LL. B. He then came to Algona and organized the firm of Harrington & Dickinson on the 1st of July, 1899. This relationship has since been maintained and the firm is regarded as one of the strongest practicing at the bar of Kossuth county. Mr. Harrington's devotion to his clients' interests is proverbial and this devotion includes careful preparation of his cases and strong presentation of his facts before court or jury. His reading is broad, his reasoning logical and his deductions sound.

Mr. Harrington has always been closely identified with the city of Algona and the county of Kossuth, in their growth and substantial upbuilding. He was a member of the city council for a number of years and now belongs to the school board. He is also a member of the library board and is the present secretary of the Kossuth County Agricultural Society—associations which indicate much of the nature of his interests and the breadth of his activities. He filled the office of county attorney from January 1, 1903, until January 1, 1907, and in politics has always been a stalwart republican, giving unfaltering allegiance to the party and its principles.

In 1902 Mr. Harrington was united in marriage to Miss May Johnson, of Algona, a daughter of Mrs. E. V. Swetting, of this city, and they have two children: Howard, who was born January 22, 1906; and Robert J., whose birth occurred May 6, 1909. Mr. Harrington and his wife hold membership in the Congregational church and are active in support of various projects for the moral progress of the community. He is in thorough sympathy with the fraternal spirit that underlies the Knights of Pythias organization, holding membership in Algona Lodge, No. 174, in which he has filled all the chairs. He is likewise a member of Algona Lodge of the Yeomen of America. He has a wide and favorable acquaintance in this city, in which he has now lived for thirteen years, and he stands high both socially and professionally.

Mr. Harrington was a man of splendid personality. He was always interested in public affairs, and had the courage of his convictions. His popularity is evidenced by his being made for twenty years, member of the Algona school board. He served for many years on the Library board and City Council. He served as County Attorney of Kossuth county for several terms.

In 1916 Mr. Harrington was elected to the Iowa House of Representatives and served two terms. As member of the House he served as chairman of the Judiciary Committee. He, with J. B. Weaver, led the fight for the ratification of the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States.
