BRITISH SHUT OUT

CLEMENTON, N. J., Sept. 4—Great Britain's hopes of winning the Walker Cup lay buried among the pines of Pine Valley last night. Answering the challenge of the youngest team ever to represent the British Isles in the international amateur team match series, the American forces not only beat the visitors, but shut them out, 9 to 0, for the first time since the matches opened fourteen years ago. All his majesty's forces got out of the wreckage were two halved foursomes and a halved singles match, gained by Harry Bentley with George T. Lunlap Jr., former national amateur champion.

ness in his hands. For nine years he served in that capacity when he was admitted to partnership, a relation which has continued for eleven consecutive years with good feeling on both sides, while from a financial standpoint it has also been a success. In connection with his interest in the business, Mr. Graham is also the owner of eighty acres of land, comprised in the old homestead. He may truly be called a self-made man, who by his own efforts has gained a comfortable competence for which he deserves no little credit. As a supporter of the Republican party, for many years he cast his ballot but in later years has identified himself with the Prohibitionists. He has been honored with the offices of Mayor and Councilman of Birmingham, which he filled with credit to himself and satisfaction to his constituents. Mr. and Mrs. Graham are members of the Free Methodist Church, in which he holds the office of Trustee, and in the Sunday-school he serves as Superintendent. His public and private life are alike above reproach, commending him to the confidence of all with whom he comes in contact. The home of himself and his worthy wife is noted for its hospitality and their friends in the community are many.

FRANKLIN P. MOWERY, an intelligent and progressive farmer and stock-raiser of Jefferson County, resides on section 30, Polk Township, and is a representative of one of the highly respected families of the community. His parents, David and Sarah (Dial) Mowery, were natives of Ohio, where their marriage was celebrated and whence they came to Jefferson County in 1845. Mr. Mowery settled upon the farm in Polk Township, where our subject now resides, and entered four hundred acres of land, which farm he afterwards increased by subsequent purchase. He was well pleased with his new home in the West and continued here to live until life's journey was ended. He passed away in 1877, and his wife died in 1886. He faithfully discharged all his duties of citizenship, lived an upright and useful life, and it was therefore an occasion of deep regret on the part of many friends when the news of his death reached them.

F. P. Mowery, whose name heads this sketch, was the tenth in order of birth in a family of twelve children. He was liberally educated, his primary course of training being supplemented by two years attendance at the Axline Academy, of Fairfield, and a two years course in the Iowa Business and Normal College, of Des Moines. For some eighteen months he then engaged in real-estate dealing in Des Moines, but at the end of that time returned to Jefferson County and resumed the occupation to which he had been reared. In 1877, he led to the marriage altar Miss Cora Kirby. The lady was born in Warren County, Ill., and is a daughter of John and Anna (Osborn) Kirby, who removed from Illinois to Jefferson County, Iowa, in 1870. For some time they made their home in Polk Township, but are now residents of Fairfield. Mr. Kirby was born in Pennsylvania, and in Illinois, in 1856, wedded Miss Osborn, who was a native of the Empire State, whence she had removed to Illinois with her parents in girlhood. To Mr. and Mrs. Mowery have been born four children—Gaylord, Paul, Carrie and Earl, and the family circle yet remains unbroken.

This worthy couple began their domestic life upon the farm on which they still make their home. It now comprises two hundred and seven acres, divided into fields of convenient size which are well kept and improved. In the barns are found some fine specimens of Kentucky Short-horn cattle, of which he makes a specialty, together with other good grades of stock. The secret of his success in life is contained in the one short word, work. He is now numbered among the substantial citizens of the community, possessing a competence which furnishes him with all the comforts of life, together with many of its luxuries. He takes an active interest in political affairs and on questions of national importance casts his ballot with the Democratic party, but at local elections his support is given to the man whom he thinks will best fill the position. He has served both as Treasurer and Secretary of the School Board, and has done not a little for the advancement of the cause of education in this community. He is an honored member of both the Odd Fellows society and Masonic fraternity, belonging to Abingdon Lodge, No. 468, I. O. O. F., of which he has been Commander and Inside Guard, and also belongs to Abingdon Lodge, No. 104, A. F. and A. M., of which he is now Secretary. He and his wife hold a high position in the social world due to their worth and intelligence, and are people whom any community might be proud to claim as citizens.

JAMES A. FOWLER, a self-made man and highly respected citizen of Van Buren County, owns two hundred and seventeen and one-half acres of the fine farming land of Southeastern Iowa. His home farm comprises one hundred and fifty seven and one-half acres on section 9, Vernon Township, while a quarter section of land in Henry Township also pays to him a golden tribute. His parents, Henry and Mary (Moore) Fowler, are numbered among the pioneers of Van Buren County. In 1843 they made a settlement near Bonaparte, but shortly afterwards the father was drowned in the Des Moines River during a flood, being carried over the dam near Bonaparte. His wife survived him about ten years, when she too was called to her final rest. In their family were five children, but only three of the number grew to mature years: Catherine, wife of Thomas Minshall, of Huston County, Minn.; Lucretia, deceased wife of Joseph Doffelenge; and James A., of this sketch.

Our subject was born in Indiana in 1842, and at the age of twelve years was left an orphan. Two years later he began life for himself as a farm hand, working in that capacity for about seven years or until the fall of 1862, when he responded to his country's call for troops, enlisting on the 15th of September, as a member of Company D, Thirtieth Iowa Infantry, under Capt. Charles J. McGinnis. He was mustered into service at Keokuk and the regiment was assigned to the First Division, Fifteenth Corps of the Army of the Tennessee. After spending a few weeks at Benton Barracks, Mo., the troops were sent down the Mississippi River to Helena, Ark., where for the first time Mr. Fowler was surrounded by the leaden hail and became acquainted with the horrors of war. Afterwards he participated in the Black River expedition and with his regiment took part in many of the famous and hard fought battles of the war, including the engagements at Vicksburg, Jackson, Miss., Arkansas Post, Big Black River, the siege of Vicksburg, the battles of Port Hudson, Little Rock, Ark., Brownville, Miss., Dalton, Ga., Chattanooga, Tenn., Cane Creek, Ala., Lookout Mountain, Mission Ridge, Ringgold, Ga., Kenesaw Mountain, Lone Mountain, Buzzard's Roost, Taylor Ridge, Ga., Decatur, Ala., Resaca, and Dallas, Ga., the battle of New Hope Church, Marietta, Big Shanty, the two battles of Atlanta, Jonesboro, Griswoldville and the siege of Savannah. He accompanied Gen. Sherman on the celebrated March to the Sea, and then returned participating in the Carolina campaign to Richmond, Va. At Resaca he received a gunshot wound in the left leg just above the ankle joint, but as he was color-bearer of his regiment he remained at his post and carried the banner forward to victory. His service was an arduous one, in which he encountered great risks but he was ever found at his post of duty, valiantly defending the old flag but at the close of the war he was honorably discharged and was mustered out in Washington, D. C., on the 5th of June, 1865.

When his country no longer needed his services, Mr. Fowler returned to his home and once more engaged in work as a farm hand. In 1867, he was united in marriage with Miss Amanda Perkins, daughter of William and Mary (Myers) Perkins. They have two children, a son and daughter: William, who is married and operates his father's farm in Vernon Township; and Anna M., at home, and Bertha, who died when about five years old. Mr. Fowler purchased and moved to his farm in Vernon Township in the spring of 1874. It comprises
