In his political views Mr. Collin has always been a stalwart republican since age conferred upon him the right of franchise and from 1889 until 1895 he was county attorney of Worth county, having been elected on the republican ticket. He was also a delegate in 1896 to the republican national convention which was held in St. Louis, Missouri, and in 1911 and 1912 he was representative of his district in the general assembly of Iowa. His fraternal relations are with the Masons and his religious faith is evidenced by his membership in the Baptist church. In these connections are found the rules which have governed his life and made him a most honorable man, respected and esteemed by all with whom he has come in contact.

H. H. SCHULTE.

The business enterprise and ability of H. H. Schulte readily places him in the front rank among the foremost citizens of Worth county. He is actively identified with farming on section 26, Danville township, and he is equally well known in banking circles. What he undertakes he accomplishes. His plans are founded upon common sense and notably keen sagacity and are executed with marked promptness and efficiency, producing results which are of benefit to the community at large as well as a source of profit to himself. He was born in Clayton county, Iowa, November 19, 1863, and is a son of John Henry and Justina (Otting) Schulte. The father came to the United States in 1844, when a little lad of but seven summers, in company with his parents, who after remaining for a brief period in Cincinnati, Ohio, covering the fall and winter, continued their journey westward to Iowa and took up their abode in Clayton county. The mother's parents did not come to America until nine years later and they also located for a time in Cincinnati, Ohio, where they remained for a number of years and then removed westward to Clayton county, Iowa. John H. Schulte was for many years a well known and representative farmer of Clayton county, Iowa, where he passed away. His widow is still living and resides with a daughter on the old homestead in Clayton county.

H. H. Schulte was reared at home and acquired a common school education. He was the eldest of five sons and on reaching his twentieth year he went to work at the carpenter's trade, which claimed his attention for about five years. The work, however, was not to his liking and after his marriage, which was celebrated February 28, 1889, he removed to Worth county and took up his abode in Danville township, where he now resides. The previous year he had purchased eighty acres of land, which he at once began to cultivate and improve, and to his farm he has added from time to time as his financial resources have increased until he is now the owner of three hundred and sixty acres of the most valuable farm land in Worth county. His work has been carefully prosecuted and his fields brought under a high state of cultivation, so that he annually gathers abundant harvests. He studies the nature of the soil, practices the rotation of crops and in fact uses all modern scientific methods to facilitate his work and promote desirable results. He has also been a member of the Farmers' Cooperative Creamery Company of Manly for twenty years and he was one of the organizers of the Farmers Bank of Manly, of which he has been the president for the past seven years.

As previously stated, Mr. Schulte was married February 28, 1889, the lady of his choice being Miss Margaret Bierbaum, of Clayton county, Iowa, and to them have been born four children: Gertrude, the wife of Frank Works, living in Hector, Minnesota; Louise, the wife of Harold Mc Kercher, of Lincoln township, Worth county, and Oscar and Frederick, both at home.

In his political views Mr. Schulte maintains an independent course. He has been called to several local offices, serving as a member of the township board of trustees for several years, while at the present writing he is acting as its president. He is also township secretary of the school board. He and his wife are members of the German Evangelical church and are much interested in its work and in those activities which tend to advance moral progress in the community.

EDWARD G. JOHNSON.

Edward G. Johnson, a resident farmer of Danville township whose home is on section 13, has spent almost his entire life in Worth county, although he was born near Willmar, Minnesota, on the 3d of February, 1877. He is a son of Martin S. and Frances (Myrtle) Johnson, the former a native of Norway, while the latter was born in Minnesota. The father came to the United States in young manhood and settled near Willmar, where he cultivated land, while later he removed to Danville township, Worth county, Iowa, and began the development of a rented farm. As his financial resources increased he made investment in property, becoming owner of the farm upon which Edward G. Johnson now resides. He purchased one hundred and sixty acres, to which he added as opportunity offered until within the boundaries of his farm were comprised three hundred and twenty acres. He continued to further develop and improve his land to the time of his death, which occurred in 1906. For a decade he had survived his wife, who passed away in 1896. His political endorsement was always given to the republican party and although not an office seeker he was an earnest champion of its principles. His religious faith was that of the Lutheran church.

Edward G. Johnson spent his boyhood largely upon the home farm on which he yet resides and pursued his education in the local schools of Danville township. Through the summer months he assisted his father in the work of the farm, which he continued to further develop and improve after his father's death. He removed to the three hundred and twenty acre tract and lived thereon for three years, after which he returned to the old homestead, which he now owns and occupies. Everything about the place is indicative of his careful supervision and progressive methods. He has always devoted his time and energies to farming and he has ever kept in touch with the most advanced standards. Modern improvements and equipment are seen upon his place, including the best machinery and substantial buildings, and his crop production is indicative of his untiring industry.

In 1912 Mr. Johnson was united in marriage to Miss Hannah Hermanson, a daughter of Iver and Carrie (Nelson) Hermanson. Mrs. Johnson was born in
