Pay Tribute to Senator Shinn

Andrew Jackson Shinn, eldest child of George and Martha Buckner Shinn, was born November 7, 1866 in Mills county, Iowa, and died at his home near Woodbine April 8, 1928, aged 61 years, 5 months and 1 day.

In 1889 he moved with his parents to Harrison county where he resided until his death.

March 17, 1889 he was united in marriage with Maggie R. Whitesides and to this union two daughters were born.

In 1901 he was elected sheriff of Harrison County and served three terms. In 1922 he was elected to the State Senate and was serving his second term at the time of his death.

He is survived by his wife, two daughters, Mrs. H. H. Brown, of New Haven, Conn. and Mrs. E. C. Ellwanger, of Los Angeles, Calif., two brothers, Otis and Allen, of Woodbine, and one sister, Mrs. George Hitch, of Beaver Crossing, Nebr.

Funeral services were held at the Christian church Tuesday at 11:00 a. m. Rev. G. H. Sutton the pastor in charge. Burial was in the Woodbine cemetery, Charter Oak Lodge, A. F. & A. M., of which the deceased was a member, having charge of the ceremony at the grave.

In the death of Senator A. J. Shinn Woodbine, Harrison county and the state of Iowa have lost an honorable and upright citizen, a man who had his own opinions on things of a public nature and a man who fought for what he thought was right.

While Senator Shinn and the writer belonged to the same political faith there were times when we did not agree. But there has never been a time when we did not respect the senator and his opinions, though they were different than ours.

Here is an example of Senator Shinn's fearlessness in fighting for what he thought was right: A few years ago, before the present gasoline tax law was enacted, the Commercial Club invited Senator Shinn to address that body and explain the law. Senator Shinn was present and his opening words were: "I suppose every man but myself in this gathering is in favor of the gasoline tax. To make myself understood in the matter I want to say that I am opposed to the law," and he then went on and told why he was opposed to the gas tax law. That took courage, but Senator Shinn had it.

He was opposed to Harrison county issuing road bonds and fought the proposition to the best of his ability. He was opposed to calling a state near Woodbine October 26, 1870, and to this union four children were born, three boys and a girl as follows: Earnest A. of Laramie, Wyo.; Ethan of Laurens, Iowa; Clifford of Woodbine and Mrs. Blanche Wacker who died several years ago. His wife died November 3, 1899. Besides the children he leaves four brothers to mourn his death: Joseph of Buck Grove, Iowa; Charley, Fred and Bert of Woodbine. For the past year he has made his home with his son Clifford, where after a brief illness he passed away. He was a good and upright citizen and highly respected by those who knew him.

Funeral services were held at the Presbyterian church Saturday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Jackson Giddens, pastor Methodist church, and the mortal remains laid to rest in the Woodbine cemetery.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Last Sunday was a great day with us despite the cold weather and bad roads. The attendance at the church hour was very gratifying and the cantata was well received. It is further proof of what can be done when individuals co-operate.

Special music will be featured from time to time in the future, and with Dr. Mayne's strong sermons you can be assured of very attractive services. Get the church-going habit, it yields big returns. Attend church somewhere, and if you are not attending anywhere come and worship with us. You are welcome.

Sunday school meets at 10 o'clock. Preaching at 11 o'clock. We are sure of a good sermon next Sunday. Come and hear him.

MEETING ANNOUNCED

The Harrison County organization of the American Legion and Auxiliary was to have had a meeting here Thursday, April 12, but same has been cancelled by the weather and the roads.

HIGHWAY AND OVERHEAD LOCATED

A. W. Gaines for the Highway Commission was here Tuesday and a hearing was held before the town council regarding the location of the overhead crossing at Logan and the route of the Lincoln highway through town. The route is east and west on Seventh street, the overhead to be located at the Short Course building. The council by a vote of four to one approved this location. The line of travel from the entrance into town will be west on Seventh street to the corner at J. M. Foutch's then south bearing west to come out at the S. L. Frazier place and join the new grade as at present located.

The building of this overhead at Logan is an important concession to the demands made for such an improvement here. There are many grade crossings in Iowa, but not many that are more dangerous than the crossings at Logan have been. Two railroads at one point only a few rods apart and at the other point not more than a quarter of a mile apart are a menace to the traveling public that will be largely abated by the overhead. The construction of the overhead will mean the employment of a number of men and the spending of a good many hundred dollars in Logan. In a business way, too, it means quite a sum to the merchants of the town for the very fact that people who go right through a town are a lot more apt to spend money there than those who pass the town, even though but a short distance away from the business section.—Observer.

Heavy Snow Storm Does Much Damage

One of the worst April snow in history visited western Iowa day night and around 10 in heavy, wet snow fell during the night and Friday.

Telephone and electric wire poles broke under the weight of snow, roads were blocked, trails late and things were tied generally.

The Boyer Valley Telephone company and the Iowa-Nebraska and Power company were losers from the effects of the storm. Telephone service was held several days while the men cut the lines. Electric service was without lights, heat or power in families who use electric stoves eat cold meals or cook on neighbors' ranges. Some of the fortunate enough to be invited for a meal or two.

Cuts were drifted full of being seven or eight feet deep, place west of Woodbine. It was most impossible to get a car with a car or to communicate the outside world except by graph.

The snow left the roads in condition for several days. Graders started work on the highway just south of town. Road was blocked, making necessary for autoists to detour to corn field to the west of the and just south of the cemetery. At one time six cars were in the mud there Saturday.

The writer was riding with them and had to wade out field and through the mud to town. Were coming by Logan, where we heard a boost of his fight in the mud for mud roads several miles.

We wish he had the Suddick and yours truly had to wade out of this mud.

Council Bluffs and Omaha had hit by the storm and cars, electricity and telephone were all knocked out. Associated Press used radio WOW at Omaha, WHO at Des Moines and WDAF at Kansas City news dispatches to daily private messages were broadcast procedure was quite a no listeners in.

The weather has been cold the snow storm, especially in and there is fear that the fruit has been injured. W. P. C. local orchardist, does not think apple crop and small fruit is ed, although apricots, peaches and plums may be killed.

Farmers say the snow was a dreadful thing for the soil and untold good to crops this year.

law. That took courage, but Senator

He was opposed to Harrison county issuing road bonds and fought the

He was opposed to calling a state election for the purpose of issuing $100,000,000 road bonds and went to Des Moines a few weeks ago to attend the special session of the legislature and fight the proposition. But he was taken ill the first day the legislature was in session and had to return home.

The inclination to struggle for what he thought was right, was there but the fire had burned out.

A TRIBUTE

By N. C. Gray, Blencoe, Iowa
In the death of Andy Shinn, Iowa loses one of its good citizens. It was a privilege of the writer, while engaged in the newspaper work to know, intimately, this man.

Andy Shinn stood for the things he thought was right. The position he took on various questions often was in the minority but in all things and in all decisions Andy Shinn thought and believed that he was voting according to the dictates of his own conscience.

While many people differed with him on questions of public interest, he voted as he believed. He was always considerate of the rights of his fellowmen.

In his passing, the district loses a senator who always tried to protect the interests of his constituents.

The sympathy of the entire district goes out to his bereaved family in their sad hour. He was devoted to his family and being devoted to his family, he was devoted to his state.

I have observed him on many different occasions when people were in trouble and needed some assistance or aid on different matters, and he was always charitable and considerate and I feel that Iowa has lost a great man in the passing of Senator Hogue. His work as Budget Director he took very seriously.

He gave of his strength willingly and gladly and I feel that his work taxed him more than is perhaps known to the public generally.

He has given and contributed to this state a great deal and I feel that we have lost in him a very distinguished citizen.

MR. PRESIDENT, I move the adoption of the report."

The resolution was unanimously adopted by a rising vote.

ANDREW J. SHINN.

MR. PRESIDENT: Your committee named to draft suitable resolutions commemorating the life, character and public service of the late Andrew J. Shinn, beg leave to submit the following:

Andrew J. Shinn was born in Pottawattamie County, November 7, 1866. In February, 1880, he moved with his parents to a farm in Harrison County where he resided until his death. He received his education in the rural schools and was a farmer by occupation. In 1901 he was elected sheriff of Harrison County and in 1922 was elected to the Senate representing Harrison, Crawford and Monona counties. He died on the eighth day of April, 1928.

Senator Shinn has left a worthy record in this body. He was a man of unquestioned honesty and integrity and whatever he believed he espoused courageously and openly. He typified and was one of the pioneer blood that moulded the commonwealth of Iowa. He loved this State, believed in it and fought for its welfare as he saw such welfare. Men such as he have rendered and will render invaluable service to the State and are needed and wanted in the deliberative and legislative bodies that minister to its service. He has left to those who knew and loved him, a record of unselfish and honest service to his fellow citizens.

Therefore, Be It Resolved, That in the death of Senator Andrew J. Shinn the state and community where he lived have suffered the loss of an influential and honored citizen; a man of strong character and unselfish devotion to duty in public and private life; and the Senate of Iowa would tender by this Resolution its sympathy to the widow and children who survive.

Be It Further Resolved, That a copy of these Resolutions be spread upon the journal of the Senate as the expression of the life and worth of the deceased, and an engrossed copy thereof be transmitted to the widow.

O. P. BENNETT,
O. E. GUNDERSON,
WM. E. MCLELAND,

Committee.

Former Senator Pitt spoke as follows:

MR. PRESIDENT: A few moments ago, Senator Bennett asked me if I would say a word for Senator Shinn. It has been my position since leaving the Senate not to embarrass you with addresses, but this seems like a personal duty. Had I been the one to go and Andy Shinn had been asked to say a word for me I know he would have gone through "No Man's Land" and stood there for me.

It is a great thing when the Senate of Iowa, or the Congress of the United States, will stop a moment and give attention to the memory of the honored dead. You must, as a Senate, have memory and forecast, and as long as the Senate will stop to talk over and commemorate the memories of those gone before who have served their public life and pick from their services those sound things that constitute great statesmen, then our republic is safe, and upon such homes as was the home of Andy Shinn, rests the future security of this republic.

I will say for Andy Shinn that his grandfather died in a covered wagon. He was a Methodist minister who came to teach the Word of God. From that stock Andy Shinn was born—born in poverty. Through every vicissitude of life, the burnished banner of honor that Andy Shinn carried was ever without a stain.

Any one knowing him as I have known him, must feel that no matter what is in the future—I don't know, you don't know, and it isn't for mere man to pierce the veil of futurity—but when the name of Andy Shinn is called, he will be there to answer.

The resolution was unanimously adopted by a rising vote.

JOHN E. WICHMAN

MR. PRESIDENT: Your committee which was appointed to report resolutions commemorating the life, character and services of the late John E. Wichman, begs leave to submit the following report and moves its adoption:

John E. Wichman was born in Galena, Illinois, April 16, 1859. He lived in Galena until 21 years of age. After finishing the public schools he entered the Northwestern German English college, an institution owned by the German Methodist Church, which was then situated at Galena, but later removed to Charles City, Iowa, and in still later years merged with Morningside college at Sioux City. He graduated from the normal department of this school in 1876. After his graduation he taught school and in 1881 came to Iowa, settling near Garner, Hancock County, where he worked on a farm during the summer and taught school during the rest of the year.

He began the study of law at Garner in the spring of 1882, in the office of A. C. Ripley, remaining with him a year and then pursuing his studies in the office of H. H. Bush, of Garner, with whom he formed a partnership which continued for six years. He was admitted to the bar in 1884.

He had practiced law in Garner continuously from that time until the time of his decease. For the past fifteen years he had been in partnership with I. C. Hastings. He was an able and successful practitioner of his profession and was held in the highest esteem by his colleagues.

He served Hancock County in the State Legislature in the Thirty-

1880 United States Federal Census
