camp from which Americans were recently liberated by a group headed by Major Robert Lapham of Davenport, but Heyda was no longer there. It is presumed that he was taken to Japan or elsewhere, as were many others held at that camp for a time.

The Heydas have been in the Philippines for five years, three of them being spent as internees under the Japanese.

PRAISES WORK TURNED OUT BY SMALL FACTORIES

Praising the work turned out by small plants, F. A. Lindquist, manager of the Davenport district, Small War Plants Corp., said that the contribution made by these secondary war plants is providing the marginal needs that will insure final victory.

In a six-week period just ended, contracts have been let to small plants designated by the local office of SWPC which total $6,399,615. Of these, $6,020,631 were prime contracts going to 26 firms and $378,984 were subcontracts granted to 24 firms.

A tabulation indicated that of the 24 subcontracts placed, 13 went to firms with less than 25 employes and four to firms with over 100 workers.

Services Held Saturday For H. A. Darting

Mr. Darting came to Glenwood in 1912 to operate the Glenwood Canning Company in partnership with Mr. McGavern, a banker of Missouri Valley. That industry was supervised by Mr. Darting for a few years, but was dissolved shortly after the death of Mr. Mc-Gavern in an accident north of Glenwood. Subsequently, Mr.
Darting entered the automobile business here.

In the earlier years of residence in Glenwood, Mr. Darting served a number of terms as mayor of the city.

In the year 1920, he was elected State Senator from the 8th District of Iowa, and reelected 4 years later, serving for a total of eight years. Mr. Darting ably represented our District in his legislative service and became prominent and well-known throughout the state. As chairman of the important committee on Insurance he contributed a leading part in passing several important and valuable enactments which were of lasting value to the state, affecting insurance problems.

At the expiration of his last legislative term, Mr. Darting was appointed to serve on the State Highway Commission by Governor John Hammill. The great paving program of Iowa was in its first stages of development, and on the Commission Mr. Darting rendered valuable service to the entire state. Vital questions of legislation for important state and federal roads were calling for settlement which, with the letting of paving contracts, demanded tremendous activity and attention by the Highway Commission continually. Indicative of the many problems then confronting themselves, for example, the entrance to Sioux City, which was then to be relocated. Mr. Darting and other members of the Commission found it necessary to tramp for many days over rugged hills of that territory with engineers until the present, nearly-perfect route, almost as direct as an air line, was laid out from the south, passing the Floyd Monument. Southwest Iowa received great benefit from the service of Mr. Darting, relative to highways, as did the entire state.

At the time that his health failed a few months ago, he was in charge of the horticultural division of Glenwood State School, a position especially well trained and fitted.
Mr. Darting's wife died soon
