ELKADER, Iowa (AP) — A 67-year-old Garnavillo woman died Friday when her car was struck by a semi-trailer truck. The accident sent the truck out of control and into two buildings.

Irma Blume was southbound on Iowa 13 around 2:30 p.m. when she attempted to make a left turn, said the Iowa State Patrol. Her car was struck by a northbound truck, driven by Christopher Hepker, 21, of Oelwein, officials said.

After striking Blume's car, the truck hit a utility pole and traveled through the Elkader Auto and Electric building. Authorities said the semi then hit an unoccupied pickup truck and crashed into the Elkader Diesel Service building, where it ended up inside.

History magazine free to fifth graders

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa (AP) — Iowa’s history-for-kids magazine, the Goldfinch, will increase its circulation 40 fold next year when all of the state’s fifth graders get complimentary subscriptions.

The gift comes from the Iowa Sesquicentennial Commission, which donated $100,000 of the money raised through the sale of special license plates.

The Goldfinch, a publication of the State Historical Society, has built a subscription of about 1,000 since it began in 1978. There will be about 40,000 fifth graders next year.
