Administrative rule discussed

Henry County Auditor Doris Sharp and Marjorie, Burden, county treasurer, met with the Henry County Board of Supervisors during its regular meeting to discuss accounting system changes that have been ordered by the state auditor and comptroller's offices.

The state offices have passed an administrative rule which requires all counties in Iowa to report finances on an accrual basis, as costs are incurred not when they are paid. This is a change from the current county practice of recording the flow of cash in and out using a cash basis accounting system.

Ms. Sharp explained the change to the supervisors and said that Henry County will have to make the change
