

Standard Form For Members of the Legislature

Name of Representative _____ Senator Jenkins, Jeremiah H. - Represented Jackson County, Mo.

1. Birthday and place 1825 New York

2. Marriage (s) date place

3. Significant events for example:

A. Business Member of the Kansas City Bar Association

B. Civic responsibilities G.A.R.;

C. Profession Attorney

4. Church membership _____

5. Sessions served 6th, 7th General Assembly 1856, 1858

6. Public Offices

A. Local _____

B. State _____

C. National _____

7. Death 24 June 1903 Kansas City

8. Children U. H.; M. G.

9. Names of parents _____

10. Education _____

11. Degrees _____

12. Other applicable information _____

- He came west in the early 1850's settling at Magnolia, Iowa
- Military service - Civil War - 31st Iowa Regiment attaining rank of Colonel
- After the war he moved to Kansas City where he began practicing law
- He returned to Magnolia, Iowa in 1890 to give the Decoration Day address and again in May 1900 to give the address at the unveiling of the Civil War Soldiers Monument

Sources Log For Legislation Entries

Applicability

Source Non Applicable Applicable Information obtained

- Obituary - The Jackson Sentinel, Muscatine, Iowa
July 2, 1903, p. 7 col. 3, 4

what year? - History of Jackson County, Iowa p. 68, 76, 87, 103, 142, 143, 169, 201-202, 233, 600, 603, 615

mont; C. A. Huston, Cedar Rapids; J. W. Johnson, Albia; Prof. C. E. Curtiss, Ames; W. W. Morrow, Afton; M. M. O'Donald, Guthrie; Henry Haag, Jefferson; Henry Harlow, Onawa

The Executive Committee have vested in Secretary Lyons full power to call meetings for county and local organizations. This work is in progress and the desire is to push it rapidly.

All correspondence should be addressed to D. B. Lyons, Secy., Youngerman Building, Des Moines.

A new monthly publication will be launched in July, devoted especially to the work of the Association. While the work devolving upon those in direct charge of the movement will be arduous and will draw to the utmost on their public spirit, they are encouraged to feel that sufficient financial support will be forthcoming to enable the work to go forward.

This will come from small county appropriations and from subscriptions to the Journal, and membership fees. Each of the latter items being but one dollar per annum.

The Good Roads movement will expect to make itself felt in future elections and at our coming legislature.

The Governmental Department at Washington is making splendid progress and is co-operating fully with our State Association. Pres. Roosevelt has already awarded a contribution to the columns of the first issue of the Monthly. Many men, prominent in National and State affairs will contribute to this and future issues.

The office of the Secretary at Des Moines is a busy place. As fast as letters can be sent out, every friend of the movement in the state is being enlisted to active service.

A Surgical Operation

is always dangerous—do not submit to the surgeon's knife until you have tried DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. It will cure when everything else fails—it has done this in thousands of cases. Here is one of them: I suffered from bleeding and protruding piles for twenty years. Was treated by different specialists and used many remedies, but obtained no relief until I used DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Two boxes of this salve cured me eighteen months ago and I have not had a touch of the piles since.—H. A. Tisdale, Sumner, S. O. For blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles no remedy equals DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Sold by Young & Schelb

The One Sure Thing.

'Tis not the girl with reddish hair

Whose disposition's sunniest;

'Tis not the man who always jokes

Whose stories are the funniest;

'Tis not the richest millionaire

Perhaps who eats the most;

'Tis not the babe that has the finest care

May soon give up the ghost.

She may not be the sweetest girl

Who has the waist that's slenderest;

The largest ox may not yield up

The steak that is the tenderest;

The man who holds his head up high

Above the toiling crowd

THE DEATH OF COL. J. W. JENKINS.

Aged Veteran of the 31st Iowa Dies in Kansas City.

The following extract from a Kansas City paper of June 24, 1903, gives this information:

"Col. J. W. Jenkins, for thirty-seven years an attorney in this city, a veteran of the civil war, died this morning at his home, 120 Wabash avenue. Mr. Jenkins was 78 years old. His death, it is believed was hastened by injuries which he had received within a year. While walking to his home late at night about a year ago a robber crept up behind Col. Jenkins and struck him with a club, knocking him unconscious to the ground. He also robbed him of his watch and money. A few months later Mr. Jenkins fell from a street car near his home and was slightly injured. These injuries, the physicians say, were indirectly the cause of his death.

"Mr. Jenkins was born in New York in 1825. He came west in the early '50s and settled at Maquoketa, Ia. At the outbreak of the civil war he enlisted in the Union army and later became colonel of the Thirty-first Iowa regiment. He served as colonel until the close of the war, a greater part of his time being spent in fighting General Price's army.

"After the close of the war he came to Kansas City and began the practice of law. His office for a number of years had been in the Long building. In 1868 he was elected judge of the court of common pleas which was later abolished. He was a member of the Kansas City Bar association, the Old Men's association and of the Thomas-Farragut post of the G. A. R.

"He is survived by two sons, H. H. Jenkins of Shreveport, La., and M. G. Jenkins of this city."

Col. Milo P. Smith of Cedar Rapids says: "I knew Colonel Jenkins well. He entered the military service of the United States in the summer of 1862 as Lieutenant colonel of the regiment in which I served, to-wit: the 31st Iowa volunteer infantry. His home was at the time of entering the service at Maquoketa, Jackson county, Iowa. He had lived there several years and stood high as a citizen, and ranked well as a lawyer.

"He had represented his district at one time in the state senate, if I am not mistaken. He was a leading citizen of Jackson county, and was very instrumental in arousing the patriotic feelings of the people there when the rebels made the assault on the government at Washington, and Governor Kirkwood recognized him as a strong man in the state.

"There were three companies of the regiment raised in that county, and the governor ordered with the lieutenant colonelcy of the first regiment, which he took off his regimentals, and took up the duties of a private citizen, soon locating in Kansas City, where he practiced his profession with success for many years. But since the death of his wife several years ago he has lived in retirement, coming to Iowa occasionally to attend reunions of his regiment. He made a splendid officer and was a good soldier. "He was brave and steady under fire. He had red hair and always wore eye glasses. He had an "artillery look" as the boys used to say, when in battle, that meant fight. He afterwards became a steady and consistent Christian, I am told. But he has passed over to the other camp, bearing his scars and his wounds with him, whether the trumpets sound or not.

"No remaining member of the old 31st will learn of the death of Col. Jenkins without recalling his good qualities, as a man—his splendid courage as a soldier, and his gallant leadership of the regiment."

Colonel Jenkins was well known to most of the old soldiers as well as many of the old settlers about Maquoketa and was a man highly esteemed as a citizen, a brave and loyal commander and was rated a man of exceptional ability. In 1890 he delivered the decoration day address in this city and again in 1900 he delivered the address upon the occasion of the unveiling of the soldiers monument, May 30th, which was his last visit to this community. He was related to the Jenkins families formerly residing in south settlements and also in this city, and had a host of friends here who will mourn his demise.

A CASE OF IT.

Many More Like It in Maquoketa.

The following case is but one of the many similar occurring daily in Maquoketa. It is an easy matter to verify its correctness. Surely you cannot ask for better proof than such a conclusive evidence.

E. H. Battles, retired farmer, of 310 S. Eliza St., says: For a number of years I was troubled with a urinary weakness which greatly disturbed my rest at night and also caused much embarrassment in the day time. The secretions were not only irregular but quite often scalded and on remaining over night deposited a sediment like brick dust. Although I doctored and used remedies advertised as sure cures for such troubles I was never able to notice any beneficial effects: I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and so well recommended that I was induced to go to D. N. Loose & Co.'s drug store and get a box. The first few doses greatly relieved me, but I continued the treatment and found on taking the second box that the secretions had assumed a natural color, were not irregular and had in every way come back to a normal condition."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

What of our streets? Might have done for automobile now, fast but interrupted by has got to make us two speeding the whole bush

There seems in base ball no towns are going becoming more parently and town without our town is no gard. However or the county some purses for be an interest largely in swel occasion. Lost ton, Sabula, L towns would t pete for the p respectable siz and second enough to deft feated club. fitably spent i would bring Why not take fair or county people some li er up, Barne good time this

Very comfort days. one car watch the wo piece, our no may the donor and admiratio Those of us w the civil war, efforts to educ and thus do a another such a ance largely d

I understand to the amaters and I would s give some of t otherwise, po make our res this end, we p occasional drib f

Who is the s "Behold the mal She's fair whit Upon whom the May write his -pains."

O' city dadel en I wish to speak On Main St whee Needs fixin bad. You' and you' at Moines, Iowa's Shoe store has n

Who has the waist that's slenderest;
The largest ox may not yield up
The steak that is the tenderest;
The man who holds his head up high
Above the tolling crowd
May have less cause than you or I,
In fact, for feeling proud.

The deacon with the pious air
May not be quite the holliest;
The child that's born in poverty
May not remain the lowliest;
But this is sure—as sure as fate—
The one who boldly asks Gets more than those who hope and wait

And just perform their tasks.
—S. E. Kiser, in Chicago Record-Herald.

—The funniest thing in town yesterday in the mud and rain was an old fashioned lady trying to hold her skirts the new fashioned way and showing just above her shoe tops the old fashioned white garment in two sections, with lace trimmings on them. Some of the young men didn't know what they were, so old fashioned were they.

MRS. CECILIA STOWE,
Orator, Entre Nous Club.

176 Warren Avenue,
CHICAGO, ILL., Oct. 22, 1902.
For nearly four years I suffered from ovarian troubles. The doctor insisted on an operation as the only way to get well. I, however, strongly objected to an operation. My husband felt disheartened as well as I, for home with a sick woman is a disconsolate place at best. A friendly druggist advised him to get a bottle of Wine of Cardui for me to try, and he did so. I began to improve in a few days and my recovery was very rapid. Within eighteen weeks I was another being.

Cecilia Stowe

Mrs. Stowe's letter shows every woman how a home is saddened by female weakness and how completely Wine of Cardui cures that sickness and brings health and happiness again. Do not go on suffering. Go to your druggist today and secure a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui.

WINE OF CARDUI

... and a Governor Kirkwood recognized him as a strong man in the state.

"There were three companies of the regiment raised in that county, and the governor tendered him the lieutenant-colonelcy of the first regiment, which he accepted, Judge Wm. Smyth of Marion was made colonel and Ezekiel Cutler of Anamosa was appointed major. The regiment was a very large one and soon took the field and did as good service as any that left the state. It did not fight Price's army at all but did all of its campaigning east of the Mississippi, except the capture of Arkansas Post in January, 1863. It belonged to the immediate command of Gen. Sherman, and served with him to the close of the war. Vicksburg, Lookout Mountain, Mission Ridge, the Atlanta campaign and the march to the sea—are indications of the fields of its service. Col. Jenkins commanded the regiment the most of the time as Col. Smyth was on detached service a good deal.

"Upon the latter's resignation, he was in the early fall of 1864 promoted to the colonelcy.

"In the assault on the works of Vicksburg on the 22d of May, 1863, Col. Jenkins was badly wounded in the leg and when he was able to travel compelled to go home for a while on leave of absence. He returned to take command in the fall of 1863, and marched from Memphis to Chattanooga on the 22d of November and on the 24th he led his men gallantly through the battle of Lookout Mountain, and on the next day headed the charges on Mission Ridge.

"When the Atlanta campaign opened the next spring, Jenkins assumed his place with the column, which was projected by Gen. Sherman through Snake Creek Gap, on Resacca under the command of Gen. McPherson.

"In the first engagement at Resacca the colonel was badly wounded again while accompanying the regiment in a charge on the enemy's works. He was this time struck on the shoulder by a piece of shell. From this wound he never fully recovered. I saw him a few years ago in Kansas City and noticed the droop of the shoulder, and he told me it pained him at times yet. Again he was compelled to go to the rear, but courageous as ever he returned to the front as soon as he was able, which was about the time of the fall of Atlanta. He commanded the regiment thence on to the close of the war, and had the pleasure of leading it, not only in the famous march to the sea, but in the grand parade or review at Washington.

"He brought the regiment back to Davenport whence it started, and happily responded to the speech of welcome made by Hon. J. T. Lane. When it was mustered out shortly afterward, he quiet-

... way come back to a normal condition."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

ORIGINAL NOTICE.

In the District Court of Iowa, in and for Jackson County.
John Rubel,

Plaintiff, vs.
Frederick Kalmann and the unknown claimants of the land hereinafter described, Defendants.

To the above named defendants:
You and each of you are hereby notified that there is now on file with the Clerk of the District Court of Iowa, in and for Jackson County, the petition of plaintiff herein, alleging that a certain real estate mortgage, dated the tenth day of October, A. D., 1879, to secure the sum of eleven hundred and fifty ($1150.00) dollars and signed by Phillip Weber and Anna Catharine Weber upon the following described premises, to wit: The northwest quarter of the southwest quarter, and the west half of the northwest quarter, and the west quarter of the southwest of the southwest quarter of section one (1), and the southeast quarter of the northeast quarter and the northeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section two (2) all in township eighty-five (85), north and range four (4) east of the fifth (5) P. M. has been fully paid; and said petitioner will ask that the Court by decree order the same cancelled of record and decreeing that the lien of said mortgage be discharged from said described premises and that the said defendants and the unknown assignees, heirs or legatees be forever barred and estopped from having or setting up any claim to said premises adverse to plaintiff. And unless you or either of you appear thereto and defend before noon of the second day of the next term of the said District Court which will be begun and holden at the Court-House in the City of Maquoketa, Ia., on the eighth day of September, 1903, default will be entered against you and judgment rendered thereon in accordance with the prayer of said plaintiff.

Dated at Maquoketa, Ia., this 22nd day of June, 1903.
F. D. KELSEY,

Attorney for Plaintiff.
After having carefully examined the petition and the above notice, and finding the same to be in accordance with law, I do herewith approve the same this 22nd day of June, 1903, and said notice is ordered to be published in the Jackson Sentinel of Maquoketa, Ia., once each week for six consecutive weeks, the first publication of which shall be on the 23th day of June, 1903, and continued on the dates following, July 2, 9, 16, 23 and 30th, 1903. In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand this 22nd day of June, 1903.
A. J. HOUSS, Judge.

Catarrh of the Stomach

When the stomach is overloaded; when food is taken into it that fails to digest, it decays and inflames the mucous membrane, exposing the nerves and causes the glands to secrete mucus, instead of the natural juices of the digestion. This is called Catarrh of the Stomach, caused by indigestion. Doctors and medicines failed to benefit me until I used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure.—J. R. Rhea, Coppell, Tex. Sold by Young & Schell.

—On a pleasant Sunday afternoon, recently, an unusually large number of visitors put in an appearance at the Klondike or electric light dam. Engineer Patterson, who, on most occasions, is very cordial as well as hospitable, seemed quite shy, in fact, declined to have anything to do with his numerous guests, who were swarming about the power house and making themselves quite at home. In fact, they have been there ever since and Mr. Patterson hopes to get a good supply of honey as rental for the space the big swarm of bees occupy under the eaves of the power-house.

O' city duds!
I wish to speak
On Main St. w/
Needs fixin ba
You' and you'
Any one pass
Shoe store has
In the sidewalk
To the peace
If you are not
You are liable
And end your
We don't like
It is a diagrac
To the safety
On you for a Properly leve
The quiet and
While the yot
In hopes of a Wont lose his
That piece of
Will have it r
Trust. So'bc
Blown up a p
We retire bow

mR Schwel
ma'
I got you back pay ive only too and i paid y
how often d payin in an pop paper a sheet, but i the big fat sent me a d jest stop ser kan get a p feller evry
When i sell dollar or ten eny more c nuther. you felt.

The Nourishme life—strengt one great me and digestive transform al that nourish sues. Kodol Nature does and all disor tive organs a Sold by Your
G. A. E. I Coast for this Fall
A great de tioned Encar gust, and th never visited of the low ra
The Pacific
for its hospit
ing preparat
geous scale, will be most announced k in the state i visit the var
The passag
North-West
$50.00 for the Francisco an ingly low rat other points.
—Have y
Jackson-co