LAUDS LIFE OF USEFULNESS

REV. B. L. BRITLIN SPEAKS IN APPRECIATION OF DAVID D. SABIN, WHOSE REMAINS WERE LAID AT REST YESTERDAY.

The funeral services of the late D. D. Sabin were held at the family home on East Lincoln avenue Thursday afternoon.

Rev. B. L. Britlin, pastor of the Presbyterian church, conducted the services and Mrs. Carolyn Nutting Stone, sang the hymn, "How Firm a Foundation."

Many friends were in attendance. The banks of the city were closed during the time of the service. The officers and directors of the Second National, of which the deceased had been president for a number of years, were present in a body and those of the other banks were represented. The elders of the church also came in a body. The flowers from the relatives and friends were in much profusion and very beautiful.

Rev. Britlin's remarks were prefaced by the reading of the 43rd chapter of Isaiah. A short comment on the lesson of the chapter was made in connection with the reading membership with his cousin, P. R. Sabin, and entered the dry goods business in Belvidere, in 1865. P. R. Sabin was succeeded in the firm by H. B. Sykes and this partnership was ended in 1886. Upon Mr. Sabin's retirement the business was conducted by his sons.

During his residence in Iowa he was a member of the legislature of that state.

After returning to Illinois he had served on the board of trustees of the Illinois University at Urbana, and was deputy U. S. Marshal for the Northern District of Illinois, being appointed to that office by Hon. Jesse Hildrup. He was for many years president of the Boone County Sun-bank of this city, and continued on the board of directors until his death.

He was active in church and Sunday school work, his membership in the Presbyterian church extending over a period of 45 years and his service as elder twenty years. He served as superintendent of the Sunday school for a year but was obliged to decline continuance in the position. He was for many years president of the Boone County Sunday School association. He was one of the charter members of Kishwaukee Chapter, No. 99, R. A. M.

In April, 1907, he was married to Miss Harriet Poote, who survives him.

Of his children Eugene F., resides in Belvidere; Sidney A., died in Denver in September of this year; Mrs. J. C. Anderson lives in Auburn, N. Y., and Mrs. Fred K. Houston in of the fifth verse, a part of which is: "Fear not, for I will be with thee", and was in substance that it showed God's power to gather his people together and to care for and protect them.

The text of the discourse was the 18th verse of the 20th chapter of 1st Samuel: "Then Jonathan said to David, Tomorrow is the new moon; and thou shalt be missed, because thy seat will be empty." The friend who had gone, said the speaker, would be missed. He would be missed by those among whom he had moved for many years because they had prized his friendship and companionship, because his influence was always for good, because he had nobly and constantly fulfilled the duties of service and helpfulness crowding upon him.

The speaker would not say much of his personal life, for many or most of those present knew even better than he did what that had been, how it had been fruitful in good works. In the church that he loved he had been one of the forces that had most effectively carried on the work of the Master.

There was another thought that the speaker wished to present and that was that it is not what a man has but what he is that counts most. Neither wealth or position weighed so much as worth, and all but this are forgotten when the true estimate and value are made. And upon this basis was the estimate of the friend who had gone formed. It was so with Jonathan, who lost sight of the crown which was to be David's and realized only the loss of his friend.

The address of the friend and pastor in memory of one beloved and esteemed was not long, but it was a fitting eulogy and appreciative tribute. Only a brief reference has been given above.

The interment was made in the Belvidere cemetery, a large line of carriages being in the cortege. The bearers were: E. F. Sabin, J. C. Anderson, David Sabin, Potter Sabin, Fred K. Houston, E. W. Engstrom.

David Dickey Sabin was born in Spencer, N. Y., December 31, 1830. Coming west he gained his first experience in the dry goods line at Janesville, Wis., afterwards going to business at New Oregon, (now Cresco,) Iowa.

He was married here March 26, 1853, to Miss Frances M. Avery, who passed away in October, 1894. Returning to Illinois he formed a part-

A few weeks ago some Rockford parties, five in number, were arrested for seining the Kishwaukee river, and fined $10 and costs apiece, amounting to some ninety odd dollars. Mr. A. D. Hale has submitted the question to the attorney general as to who is entitled to that money. He will wait for that before making any further move. He thinks the school fund has a share in it, as he understands the law. His son John was the informant, entitled to one-half the fine, but prejudiced his rights by not making his complaint in writing in due form, and then they come back on John by trumping up a charge that he had been snaring fish. Mr. Hale is going to see this thing through.

and worry over financial difficulties.

He is harmless in them but eccentric and clearly incapable of transacting business. Financial matters with him were not desperate, and no doubt but for this attack he would have closed out his winter stock, and paid his indebtedness, as he has always done a good trade. Matters are now in the hands of his creditors, and the situation is to be lamented. Geo. B. Ames has been appointed conservator and will close out the stock. He is now taking an invoice of stock, assisted by Charlie Banwell.

Funeral of Mrs. D. D. Sabin.

The funeral services of Mrs. D. D. Sabin were held at the home last Thursday at 3:30, and were attended by a large concourse of sorrowing friends. A profusion of beautiful floral offerings betokened the love of many for the deceased. Dr. Hill of Austin, spoke tenderly of the beautiful attributes of this loved one, who was to be laid to rest and Dr. Pierce made a most impressive and comforting prayer.

Frances Maria, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Avery, was born in Edmeston, N. Y., March 27, 1830. The family removed to Belvidere in the Spring of 1845, and she had resided here for these intervening years, with the exception of a few years spent in Iowa in her early married life.

She was married to David Dickey Sabin in 1857, and leaves besides her husband four children,—Eugene, Helen, Sidney and Mary.

She was a devoted member of the Presbyterian church of which she had been a member from childhood. Her education was completed at the Rockford seminary, and was a teacher in that institution for a number of years, and many of her early seminary friends have risen with the passing of any size where they are organized for the purpose of securing and bringing in the women's vote.

The women of Belvidere are behind their more progressive sisters in witness the exciting contest of the directors last spring. It is impressed upon your minds the fact that you cannot vote unless you are registered. The time for registration will close on Oct. 30, at the latest, and it is hoped that the women in Boone county will be registered so that they can vote Nov. 6th.

County Clerk I have been instructed to furnish ballot boxes for the election, do so notwithstanding the effect that will be given by Attorney General's opinion that we must furnish their own.

There are nineteen women in the field. The women are Mrs. Lucy M. Dr. Julia Howe and Mrs. Amalia Rena Michaels At

They are all women, who we think they might be candidates can be they be men or you wish to vote at place a cross in of the ticket, but in the circle and of your candidate mind that you are candidates.

Let us hope to see them in the front in this contest and appreciate the them of voting

Boston and will remain some time. Dan White is taking his place.

A company to be known as the Temperance Guards is being organized among the young men of the different churches, and a drum corps will be connected with the organization.

Mrs. E. A. Jarvis is very ill with congestion of the lungs at her home near the ford, and is not expected to live.

Later—Mrs. Jarvis died at 9:30 last night.

Mrs. M. A. Adams of Capron, was badly burned with gasoline last Thursday evening. She was cleaning cloth and while ironing it with a hot flat the gas ignited, and had it not been for her presence of mind the house would no doubt have burned.

The official ballot which the voter in Illinois must cast at the polls next November will be a large document. There are three full state, legislative and county tickets, the Democratic, Republican and Prohibitionist, while the Populist have state, congressional and legislative tickets.

Rev. W. B. Culliss, of Chicago, formerly pastor of the Belden Ave. church, but now an evangelist, spoke at the South Baptist church last evening and gave a fine discourse. Mr. Culliss has been invited to remain over Sunday, and will give a series of meetings at the church, commencing this afternoon. Meetings will be held every afternoon and evening, except Saturday.

At the regular meeting of Big Thunder Lodge No. 28, I. O. O. F., last Saturday evening the following officers were installed:

D. P. Greenlee, Noble Grand.
J. W. Goodwin, Rec. Sec.
A. Weston, Warden.
F. M. Leach, Conductor.
M. Andrews, I. G.

Refreshments were then served followed by a season of social enjoyment and handshaking.

Gone to the Haven of Rest

Mrs. D. D. Sabin passed away suddenly Monday evening about 6:30 o'clock at her home on South State street, her death being unexpected to her many friends or even the members of the family, although she had been in poor health for some time. Mrs. Sabin had been in declining health for a number of years, and during the past few months had been a great sufferer, though always uncomplaining. The loss of this dear one comes very hard to the afflicted family, as the deceased was always their tender counselor and guide, and her sweet influence and example, though it will live afterward will be sadly missed in the home circle.

Mrs. Sabin was beloved by all who knew her, and her sweet christian character shone out in good deeds and kind words to all who came in contact with her daily life. Her death will be mourned by many and the sympathy of countless hearts goes out to the husband and children.

The funeral services will be held from the house tomorrow at 8:30 o'clock, Rev. Dr. Pierce officiating. Many relatives and friends are expected from abroad to attend the services. The oldest daughter, Mrs. Helen Brown, is expected from Denver tomorrow.

DAVID DICKEY SABIN.

No history of the development of the commercial interests of the city of Belvidere and of that fine trade area centering in that city would be complete without some special reference to the part the late David Dickey Sabin took in that development. For many years the name of Sabin was a household word in a mercantile sense throughout that section of the Rock River valley, nor has it been forgotten. Though it now is more than fifteen years since the passing of the veteran merchant, David D. Sabin, the good memory left by that sturdy and dependable citizen is still cherished in the community and it is but proper that in this definite history of the region he did so much to develop there should be set out some slight tribute to that memory. As was written concerning him following his passing in 1909: "Reliable and progressive in business, loyal and determined in citizenship, faithful in public office, holding friendship inviolable and regarding the relations of home and family as most sacred—the salient elements in the life record of David D. Sabin were such as placed his name high on the roll of Illinois' most valued and honored citizens. There was nothing spectacular in his career, but his worth was recognized by all and his example is one that cannot easily be forgotten."

In this same connection one of the local newspapers observed concerning the passing of Mr. Sabin that "he was always prominent as a business man and member of the community through the many years of his residence in Belvidere. He was by nature a leader, invariably optimistic and striving for the betterment of things. His genial personality made him many friends, the circle continually widening and the ties becoming more and more strengthened. He was among the foremost to support any project to advance the best interests of the city and county and contributed largely in various ways to forward and maintain them. His uprightness, his conspicuous ability in the positions he was called to fill and his high ideals formed a character that exerted a powerful influence for good. He was another of those passing on who can ill be spared from the activities of business, church and social life in any community." The directors of the Second National Bank of Belvidere, of which board Mr. Sabin was a member, passed a series of resolutions in which they bore testimony to the high character of one who "entertained close business and social relations with the members of this community for a period of more than forty years" and voiced "their recognition of the careful and conscientious service performed by their late associate in wisely and prudently discharging the duties devolving upon him." It was further written of Mr. Sabin that "as a business man he was resourceful, sagacious and enterprising, but his activities did not stop with his accomplishments in the business world although they were most creditable. He stood for all that was highest and best in citizenship in its broadest sense, seeking to promote civic virtue and civic pride, endeavoring to awaken in others a recognition of man's responsibilities to his fellowmen and seeking also to instill those Christian principles and teachings which find their exemplification in the lives of those whom the world most highly honors. He stood as a man among men and all who knew him felt a sense of personal bereavement when he was called from this life. In all of his business dealings he never deviated from a course which he believed to be right and just between his fellowmen and himself, but held to the highest standards of commercial ethics and ever endeavored to follow the Golden Rule. Prosperity attended him because his methods had their root in energy, sound judgment and irreproachable business integrity. He extended his activities to the field of banking and for many years was president of the Second National Bank of Belvidere, of which he remained a director until his demise."

David D. Sabin was a native of the old Empire state but his heart was in the development of this midwestern country, of which he had been a resident since the days of his young manhood. He was born in the village of ^{Columbus} Spencer in Tioga county, New York, December 31, 1830, and was there reared, receiving his schooling and acquiring an acquaintance with the essential details of the mercantile business. As a young man he decided to cast his fortune with that of the then rapidly developing middle west country and came out here to the Rock River valley, locating at Janesville, where he became connected with the dry goods trade. From that place he presently moved to the village of New Oregon, now the city of Cresco, seat of Howard county, Iowa, where he became engaged in the mercantile business and also took a prominent part in local civic affairs, not long after his settlement there being elected to represent that district in the general assembly of the state of Iowa. In 1865, following the close of the Civil war, Mr. Sabin closed out his interests in Iowa and returned to the Rock River valley and at Belvidere, in association with his cousin, P. R. Sabin, became engaged in the dry goods business, the Sabin store at that place being opened for business in February, 1866. In the next year, 1867, P. R. Sabin retired from the firm, selling his interest to H. B. Sykes, who remained a member of the firm until in 1886. In the meantime Mr. Sabin's sons, Sidney A. and Eugene F. Sabin, were "growing up" in the business and in 1894, upon the retirement of the elder Sabin, these sons became the sole proprietors of the business which they thereafter carried on under the name of Sabin Brothers until the death of the elder brother in September, 1909. The surviving brother, Eugene Francis Sabin, who was born in 1858, is now living in Los Angeles, California, where he has long been engaged in the insurance business.

Upon his retirement from the dry goods store David D. Sabin gave his attention to his banking and other interests in and about Belvidere and there spent the remainder of his life, his death occurring December 13, 1909, he then lacking but a few days of being seventy-nine years of age. Mr. Sabin was well known as an exemplary member of the Masonic fraternity and was one of the charter members of Kishwaukee Chapter No. 90, Royal Arch Masons, at Belvidere. He believed in the teachings and tenets of this ancient craft concerning the brotherhood of man and ever followed its principles of mutual helpfulness and brotherly kindness, but, as has been written of him, "he adhered, however, to principles still higher than the moral teachings of Masonry and found the motive springs of his conduct in his Christian faith. He was a most active and helpful factor in church and Sunday school work and for more than forty-five years was a faithful member of the Presbyterian church and one of its elders for two decades. He was also at one time Sunday school superintendent and for many years was president of the Boone County Sunday School Association. He felt that one of the most essential features in the higher civilization was the training of the young, and hence his unflagging zeal and interest in Sunday school work." Mr. Sabin's interest in social and civic affairs prompted him to give his intelligent attention to these matters at all times and he had rendered useful public service, for some time deputy United States marshal for the northern district of Illinois and for years a member of the board of trustees of the University of Illinois. It has been written in this connection that "with him a public office was a public trust and it is a well known fact that no trust reposed in him was ever betrayed in the slightest degree."

David D. Sabin was twice married. On March 26, 1856, he was united in marriage to Miss Frances Maria Avery, daughter of Sidney and Mary (Dickey) Avery of Columbus in Chenango county, New York, and who died at her home in Belvidere in October, 1894. To that union were born five children: Three sons, Eugene Francis and Sidney Avery Sabin, mentioned above; and Luther Gleason Sabin, the last named of whom died in childhood — and two daughters, Helen Louise, who married J. C. Anderson and is now living in Auburn, New York; and Mary Asenath, who married Fred K. Houston and is living in Los Angeles. Eugene F. Sabin has four sons: David D., Henry P., Eugene F. and Raymond, the two elder of whom rendered service in the navy during the World war. The late Sidney A. Sabin is survived by three children: Two sons, Henry P. and Gerould, also veterans of the World war, the former serving with a major commission and said to have been the youngest major in the army; and a daughter, Miss Margaret Frances Sabin. On April 1, 1907, David D. Sabin married Miss Harriet Foote, who survives him and who since the death of her husband has continued to make her home at Belvidere, where she is very pleasantly situated, residing at 509 East Lincoln avenue, and is one of the city's prominent social factors. Mrs. Sabin is a daughter of the late Hon. John J. Foote, in his generation one of the most conspicuous and influential figures in the civic, industrial and commercial life of the Rock River valley and concerning whom further and fitting mention is made elsewhere in this work.

ROBERT AARON REEDY, M. D.

Dr. Robert Aaron Reedy, a general medical practitioner of Rockford and a member of the staff of St. Anthony's Hospital in that city, is a native of the old Buckeye state, born in the city of Miamisburg, Montgomery county, Ohio, August 3, 1879, a son of Andrew and Mary Reedy, the former of whom was a substantial farmer and landowner in the immediate vicinity of that city.

Reared on the home farm, Robert Aaron Reedy attended the local public administered until a change from a Whig to a Democratic administration took place, when he was made a member of the Democratic party. He was township treasurer for two years during the incumbency of the postoffice at Lower Salem. In the spring of 1866 he, with his family, removed to Cherry Valley, Ill., where they have since resided. Soon after settling in Cherry Valley, Mr. Hovey embarked in the hardware business and was quite successful until he was burned out in the year 1869. After this he tried the grocery and provision business, and during the war of the rebellion did an immense business, but at the close of the war, having a heavy stock of merchandise on hand, purchased at "war" prices, upon which there was some indebtedness, and values so suddenly and largely declined that he was forced to the wall.

Mr. Hovey never took the benefit of the Bankrupt Act, but, with his wife, bravely battled against the reverses of fortune until he conquered; and by his own exertions and indomitable will force paid off an indebtedness of some $12,000, and is now blessed with a fair competence. In the spring of 1880 he became connected with the Land Department of the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad Company, in which capacity he is now (August, 1886,) acting, and has during this time sold and disposed of about four hundred and fifty thousand ($450,000) dollars worth of the lands of that corporation. In the spring of 1885 he was elected to the office of justice of the peace. Mr. Hovey's family consists of one son and seven daughters in the following order: Edwin H., born December 8, 1861, Mary F., Minnie F., Josephine L., Esther C., Nellie H., Clara, and Nina Dlanche.

His second son, James H., was burned to death on the 6th of July, 1860, at the age of four years.

A. H. BRADLEY, deceased, was born in Albany County, N. Y., Sept. 20, 1799. He moved with his parents to Onondaga County, near the city of Syracuse, and engaged his education at Onondaga Academy, and engaged in book keeping and gaining a general knowledge of the mercantile business. Eventually he became a partner of E. Lawrence, the firm being Lawrence & Bradley. He was justice of the peace several years, school-director and trustee. Mr. Bradley moved from Syracuse to Chicago in January, 1840. Being a ready and easy penman he obtained employment as book-keeper and continued at that until he engaged in the sale of dry goods with James H. Carpenter, coming to Belvidere with Mr. Carpenter in 1847. He continued in that business for several years and finally entered into partnership with L. H. Maghr, the firm being Maghr & Bradley. Mr. Bradley was elected clerk of Boone County in the fall of 1867, re-elected in 1861, and altogether held the office for eight years. He was married in Chicago, Dec. 5, 1840, to Miss Amelia J. Miller from Attica, Wyoming County, N. Y., formerly from East Aurora, Erie County, near Buffalo. Mr. Bradley was an invalid for ten years, the result of hard and continuous writing, and died July 8, 1877. Honest and reliable in all his dealings, he merited and obtained the esteem of all with whom he was associated.

JOHN COHOON was born in the town of Milo, Yates Co., N. Y., March 20, 1812, and with his father in March, 1820, moved with an ox team to Erie County, Pa. His father, Beward Cohoon, then and there commenced a farm in the deep woods of Erie County, with a large family and small means. John Cohoon was married to Miss Fanny, Walt Feb. 10, 1831, not being quite nineteen years old. They then, with a large amount of muscle, pluck, energy and economy for their capital stock in trade, built their little log house on a little fifty acres of big woods land in the same county, preparatory to hewing their way through life.

There were three children born unto them, all now living: Orville S. Cohoon, born Oct. 20, 1838; Justina M. Cohoon, born Dec. 18, 1844, and Arlington R. Cohoon born Aug. 24, 1858.

He cleared up, fenced, built and lived on said farm until April 24, 1852. From there he moved with his family to Porter County, Ind., where he purchased a large farm and put it in good order, and in December, 1858, made a successful sale of same and moved to Belvidere, Boone Co., Ill., in the month of January, 1854. There he took an active part in forming the south part of the town by purchasing land, laying out town plots and building quite extensively thereon, after which he retired to his farm in April, 1867, and lived in a quiet way until Oct. 2, 1876, when his wife, Mrs. Fanny Cohoon, suddenly died at the age of seventy years. John Cohoon was again married to Mrs. M. J. Wilson on the 12th day of September, 1877, and they now still live on the same farm in the town of Flora, Boone Co., Ill.

LEWIS E. WHEELER was born in Madison County, N. Y., August 19, 1830. In 1856 he moved to Boone County, Ill., with his parents, who purchased the farm of 120 acres where Mr. Wheeler now lives. Mr. Wheeler has been married three times. His first wife was Sarah Sheffield, of Madison County, N. Y., who only lived three months. His second wife was Margaret Saxton, of Belvidere. They had two sons, Frank and Ernest, and two daughters, Clara and Sarah. He married his present wife, Mary Ames, of Belvidere, Dec. 10, 1878. They have two children, Walton Ames, born Feb. 27, 1877, and Lewis Laymond, born Feb. 25, 1883.

A. J. MILLER, farmer, Sec. 9, of Boone Tp., was born in Bradford County, Penn., in 1837. He moved with his parents to Boone County in 1843. In 1870, Mr. Miller was married to Mrs. Arletta Stevens, of New York State. That year he purchased his present farm of ninety acres. A view of the residence appears in this work. Mr. Miller has one son, Elmer A., by a former marriage.

JOHN LAWRENCE was born at Ashby, Middlesex Co., Mass., March 8, 1788. He spent most of his early days in Maine and in Groton, Mass. When about twenty years old he moved with his parents to Pompeii, Onondaga Co., N. Y. He was married on his nineteenth birthday to Miss Lydia Sweet, of Pompeii. They then settled in the township of Germantown, Onondaga Co., and from there moved to Adelphi, Onondaga Co. In 1823 they moved to Cuba; Allegany Co., N. Y., where they remained until 1827, when they again moved and settled in Boone County, on the farm now owned by his son, A. O. He was elected first justice of the peace in what is now Boone Township, and held that office nineteen years, when he declined further election. They had eleven children, eight of whom are still living. Mr. L. died November 21, 1870, and his wife October 27, 1878, having lived together sixty-six years and eight months. He was a prominent member of the Baptist church until the time of his death.

WILLIAM PULS was born in Germany, in 1838, and came to America in 1857. He first settled in Kingston Township, DeKalb County, Ill., where he lived until 1884, when he purchased his present home from F. Wrate in Belvidere Township. He has 212 acres with handsome residence and outbuildings. Mr. Puls has four children, two boys and two girls. He was married in 1864 to Anna Stuenkel, a native of Germany.

JOHN PLANE, the pioneer hardware man, was born in Woodnoton, England, in 1822, and came to this country in 1880. He located at Geneseo, N. Y., where he learned the tinners' trade, after completing which he came farther west, finally locating at Belvidere, Ill., in 1842, where he has since resided. He immediately started business for himself, working at the bench and attending customers, when he soon found business increasing, requiring more help.

He had followed the ups and downs of a business life with increased success until 1867, when he with others lost heavily in the crash at that time.

His push and go-aheadativeness, however, would not keep him down, and he soon established himself again in business on the South Side, where he has built up a magnificent store, one of the finest in the county, and he enjoys a good share of trade.

He is a live business man and one who is always ready to interest himself in the welfare of his city.

FRANK W. PLANE was born in Belvidere, Ill., in 1840, and consequently is in his fortieth year. He has always resided at Belvidere, attending school until the age of twenty, when he entered his father's store as clerk, where he was employed until about the year 1880, when he established the manufacture of screen doors and window screens, in addition to which he does a jobbing business in wire cloth, hinges, springs, screws, and hardware specialties. Starting in a small way, he has increased the business from 2,500 doors in 1880 to 80,000 doors in 1886, with all goods in connection in proportion.

Twenty-five men and boys have been employed in the manufacture of his goods, who receive weekly from $200 to $300 cash, helping the city to this extent.

He will increase his business at least 25 per cent the coming season, which means increased force of help. By the perseverance of Mr. Plane the telephone exchange was established at Belvidere, which sustains forty instruments.

He is a hard worker, attending strictly to business, and is sure of the success he deserves.

JAMES A. BENNETT was born in Massachusetts in 1830 and came to Boone County in 1839 with his parents. His father, a few years later, purchased the farm on Section 25 of 137 acres, where he lived until the time of his death, which occurred August 20, 1869, being one of the oldest settlers. His widow is still living on the old place. Her son, James A., lives with her. He owns a farm on Section 24 of Belvidere Township. Views of both places appear in the atlas.

D. D. SABIN was born in Chenango County, N. Y., on December 31, 1830. In 1860 he entered business in Belvidere, where he has since resided.

The First Swedish Evangelical Lutheran Church, Rockford, Illinois.

1852. About the year 1852 Scandinavians began to settle in and around Rockford. They came both from the old countries directly as also from Chicago.) Rev. G. Uonnius, of the Protestant Episcopal Church, was, as it seems, the first Swedish clergyman who visited the Swedes in Rockford, but he preached to them but once.

1854. In January, 1854, Rev. Erland Carlsson, of Chicago, now President of the Evangelical Lutheran Augustana Synod, president Board of Directors of Augustana College, Rock Island, Ill., and also general manager of said college, visited the Swedes in Rockford and organized on January 15 the first Swedish Evangelical Lutheran Church with a membership of seventy-seven, of which forty-five were communicating members. Before he came here the Swedes in and around Rockford sent a delegate to the Swedish Lutheran conference, held at Chicago, the first days in January, with an urgent appeal that a Lutheran clergyman be sent to them to minister to their spiritual wants. On this appeal he came to Rockford, and organized the church, as before stated. John Peterson and Jonas Larson were elected as deacons, and John Lund and Joseph Lindgren as trustees. Rev. Erl. Carlsson promised to visit the church four Sundays during the year, when communion should be held, and also every first Monday of each month, when divine services should be held in the afternoon and evening.

1855. The first annual meeting of the church was held March 5, 1855. The incomes during the first year had been $10.40 and outlays $4.50. On June 30 it was decided to erect a suitable church building as soon as possible. A committee for that purpose was elected, the corner lot on N. First and Rock Streets bought for $325.00, and a building, 28x46, erected on said lot for $775.00. On November 23, the church was solemnly dedicated, and was considered the finest of all the Swedish churches in America.

1850. Rev. A. Andrén became the pastor of the church and served it until the latter part of 1860, when he accepted a call to the church at Attica, Indiana, and moved thither. The next pastor was Rev. A. W. Dahlsten. He served the church from 1861 to the end of 1863, when he accepted a call to the Swedish Evangelical Lutheran Church, of Galesburg, Ill.

On August 10, 1868, Rev. G. Peters was called with a salary of $400.00 a year. He accepted the call and began his long and important services of twenty-two and a half years, on New Year's day, 1864. At the date of his arrival the congregation consisted of 180 communicating members with a total membership of 250. From January 1, 1864, to July 1, 1885, a period of twenty-one and a half years Rev. Peters has been the pastor, during which time he has baptized 1,098 children, confirmed 610, officiated at 418 weddings, and performed the last sad rites over 400 persons.

During his pastorate he has received into the communion of the church, by letter and on confession, 1,050 members, and dismissed 1,200.

In 1864 the total expenses of the congregation amounted to less than $1,000; in 1884, $23,500 were expended for various purposes.

For charitable purposes the congregation has collected during these years the following sums: To the beneficiary fund of Augustana College, $8,910; for missions, $4,150; other charitable purposes, such as Orphans' Home, etc., $7,780; for the current expenses of the church, $110,804. Under his efficient efforts the handsome new church was erected, a building that will remain for years to come as a memorial to his work.

In the foregoing accounts of Rev. Peters' work, his last year, from July, 1885, to July, 1886, is not counted.

The church building on N. First Street soon became too small to accommodate the constantly increasing number of people who came to worship there. At the annual meeting, Jan. 8, 1867, preparatory steps were, therefore, taken for building a new church. On Feb. 22 the beautiful northwest corner of Third and Oak Streets was decided upon as the site of the new church. Three lots were bought for $8,800. During the summer of 1868 work was commenced on the new church, a brick building, 55x105, with basement. Aug. 28, Rev. Prof. T. N. Hasselquist, president of the Augustana Synod, laid the cornerstone. He was assisted by several clergymen, and among them by the founder of the church, Rev. Erl. Carlsson. Jan. 1, 1870, this large and beautiful building was dedicated. But even this large church soon became too small, and was, therefore, in 1888, torn down in order to give room on the same beautiful spot for the present magnificent building, which is 80x121, with a seating capacity of 2,000. It was dedicated Dec. 7, 1884. Much material of the former church was used in erecting this new one, but still it costs about $55,000.

The present number of communicating members of the church is over 1,100, and the whole membership about 2,000. The Sunday school is divided into forty-five classes. Its present superintendent is Mr. John Z. Rydberg. The whole school numbers about 600. School is held twelve months in the year and in session every Sunday afternoon from half past two till four o'clock, and is progressing steadily through the instrumentalities of a corps of faithful teachers.

Description:

This database is an index to individuals enumerated in the 1900 United States Federal Census, the Twelfth Census of the United States. Census takers recorded many details including each person's name, address, relationship to the head of household, color or race, sex, month and year of birth, age at last birthday, marital status, number of years married, the total number of children born of the mother, the number of those children living, birthplace, birthplace of father and mother, if the individual was foreign born, the year of immigration and the number of years in the United States, the citizenship status of foreign-born individuals over age twenty-one, occupation, and more. Additionally, the names of those listed on the population schedule are linked to actual images of the 1900 Federal Census. Learn more...
