CHICAGO:
CHAPMAN BROTHERS,
1887.

1849, in Montgomery County, Ind. Six children have been born to them, as follows: William A., Sept. 24, 1868; Avis V., Dec. 1, 1869; Fannie M., born July 28, 1871, died Oct. 5, 1872; Mary Myrtle, born Nov. 28, 1873; Nellie, born March 5, died June 20, 1882; Thomas Harry, born Oct. 13, 1885.

Mr. Emmert has made life a success in a business way, by reason of superior ability, careful management, and honorable and upright dealings, and these have been his characteristics since he has settled here. Honesty is the best policy in all things, and rarely fails to bring to him who believes and practices it not only success in life, but the highest regard and esteem of his fellow-men.

MAHLON STANTON, Postmaster at New Sharon, was born in Belmont County, Ohio, Feb. 21, 1819, but at the time of his birth his parents were residents of Jefferson County, and were temporarily living in Belmont County, where the father was at the time teaching school. His father, Benjamin Stanton, was born in North Carolina, but removed with his parents when quite young to the State of Ohio, and there was united in marriage with Hannah Penrose, a native of Ohio. She died in 1827, leaving six children. Benjamin Stanton afterward edited an anti-slavery newspaper, and took a very active part in the discussion of that question, during the early years of its agitation, but as he died about the year 1848 he did not see his expectations realized in this particular.

Mahlon Stanton, the subject of this sketch, received the best possible education afforded by the common schools of his day. He had intended entering Oberlin College, but was compelled to abandon the idea because of the lack of means. He engaged in the occupation of farming, and in 1845 married Penelope Williams, a native of Logan County, Ohio, and a daughter of Silas and Susana Williams. In the fall of 1850 they came to Iowa and settled in Jefferson County, where he followed farming for two years, and then came to this county, locating near Oskaloosa, where he engaged in farming, and also dealt largely in live-stock. He was at one time a very large landholder in this county, owning over 2,000 acres. In the years 1873-74-75, he owned in partnership with James Hurst a large number of cattle, and by reason of the decline in prices of live-stock, he lost the large and valuable property which he had worked so many years and so hard to accumulate. In 1884 Mr. Stanton located at New Sharon, and Jan. 1, 1886, succeeded David Vail as Postmaster at that place. His wife died in Jefferson County, in 1852, leaving three children: Lewis, a farmer in this county; Andrew W. resides at Oskaloosa; Elma married Robert McAllister, who is in the employ of the Government in Indian Territory. She died there in January, 1884. Mr. Stanton was married a second time, in 1855, to Arabella Wilson, a native of Licking County, Ohio, and by this union there is one child, Benjamin W., born June 25, 1860.

Mr. Stanton was for many years a member of the I. O. O. F. Politically he was early identified with the anti-slavery movement, and was one of the men assisting in the organization of the Republican party in this county, and he continued to be an active supporter of its principles until the close of the late Civil War, since which time he has affiliated with the National Greenback party. He represented this county in the General Assembly of Iowa at the extra session of 1861. Mr. Stanton has been a long-time resident of the county, and in these years has established for himself a character upon which there is neither spot nor blemish.

JOHN STEWART was one of the pioneer millers of Mahaska County. He is a native of Virginia, and when a young man removed with his parents to Indiana, and were among the earliest settlers of Johnson County in that State, and there he learned the business of milling.

In the year 1835 Mr. Stewart was married to Martha Park, a native of Pennsylvania. In 1843 he started to Iowa, making the journey by team, stopping during the winter of 1843-44 near Springfield, Ill., and in the spring of 1844 renewed their
