ending March 19th, 1877:
Hiram W. Gilman, Andrew Gunder,
Salle Hawley, F. H. McAllister,
Miss Sarah Ruble, Melinda Webster.
ALONZO SHAW, P. M.

ALL persons having improved farms for sale in Jones, Johnson, Linn and Cedar county, can have the same advertised free of charge by calling on Chas. E. Wheeler, Mechanicsville, Iowa. 9-4w

$20,000 TO LOAN on real estate in sums of $500 or upward, on five years time. Address Daymude, Preston & Co., Davenport, or inquire, at Fleming house, Tipton, of 8-4w. pd. R. N. INGERSOLL.

$20 is our price for an entire upper set of the very best quality of teeth, guaranteed strictly first class in every particular. A liberal reduction made where teeth are already extracted. GARBER BROS., Dentists.

BRICK.—Wm. Kettell, one mile southwest of Tipton, has now on hand 250,000 No. 1 brick, for sale low in large or small quantities. Can be delivered at any time so that farmers can take advantage of winter leisure and good roads. 3m49

FRESH COWS FOR SALE.—J. Agne will sell at private sale, at his place, six miles west of Tipton, thirty head of first class milch cows, several of which are half breeds and extra good milkers. Fresh cows now on hand. 10-8w J. AGNE.

Those having unpaid accounts at Hick's Bazar, will please call and settle now. Don't think because your bill is small or because we have never dunned you that you are not called on. We mean everybody who owes us. 11 3w G. S. HICKS.

If you have anything you wish to advertise before the farmers of Cedar county, space in the Premium List for the next annual Fair—1,500 of which will be published next month—may be obtained on very reasonable terms at this office. Send in applications at once. 9-6w Quorum Advertiser.—I see that you have an item in your last paper stating that barley in Santa Barbara, California, is from two to three inches high. That may be "high" in Santa Barbara, but here in Napa we measure by feet. I send you a few stalks taken from my field yesterday. Please straighten them out and measure. Yours &c., JOHN R. COE.

We did "straighten out and measure" somewhat shrunken, the application of the rule showed a clear three feet and four inches of growth above the ground. Viewing the snow-clad landscape to be seen from the windows o'er once more, and then another glance at that three feet of California verdure—and one begins to realize the actual frigidity of Iowa climate.

DEATH OF S. A. BISSELL.—"Judge Bissell," who early and late, seven days in a week, could have been seen on the streets of Tipton almost without interruption for nearly forty years, is no more. No man of all the citizens of the town would be more surely or more distinctly remembered by the transient visitor or the former resident than S. A. Bissell. His death, which occurred at ten o'clock last Sunday evening, removes a landmark, and most forcibly reminds us how a generation is passing from among us. The County Bar Association, which assumed the management of the funeral services on Tuesday, appointed a committee to whom we may no doubt look for the fuller biographical sketch which should accompany a formal obituary. The burial, as indicated, occurred at two P. M. on Tuesday, Rev. J. K. Bloom officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Adam Lybe, of Cresco, the latter a sister of the deceased, and Mr. Myron Childs, a son-in-law, were in attendance, as also was almost the entire bar of the county and numerous citizens. Messrs. L. L. Sweet, W. M. Knott, R. Swartzlander, Robert Adams, H. Hammond, M. Bunker, Wm. Fraseur and Saml. Wampler, acted as pall bearers.

"BUCKSKIN JOE" occupied the City Hall Friday and Saturday evenings with lectures upon life among, and the habits and traditions of American Indians. "Washakosha," or "Buckskin" Joe, is the Indian, or frontier name of Joseph Phillips, a man about thirty-five years of age and a native of Cascade, Dubuque county, in this State. At the age of not quite ten years, he was with the Flathead apaches while on the way to California with a party of thirty-one—all but

And in addition to the common is earnestly hoped that the par the school will generally in sufficient interest to attend a some part of the time.

AN UPPER SET OF TEETH For those desiring such, we can a full upper set of artificial teeth to the palate, and equal in appearance and finish to any set of teeth made in or west of New city.

We regret to add in any low priced teeth—and hitherto not dealt in them—regarding it detrimental to ourselves as well those desiring dental services. there seems to be an urgent demand for that class of dentistry, in which we be obliging, we accept the situation and await the censure that will inevitably follow.

WIDE AWAKE for April give graceful contributions to Easter nature. Elizabeth Stuart Phelps tributes one of her finest poems. Miss Farman has a funny poem verse entitled "Mamma's Story."

The long stories of the number evidently designed to captivate boys, being "The First Hunt J. H. Woodbury, and "That N. Lower Eddy," by G. M. S. of the N. Y. Tribune. "Little Gins' Brother" will delight the boys, and also their little "Quinnebasset Girls," the story of Sophie May deepens in interest. "Good for Nothing Polly," the of Miss Farman's, serial never interesting as now, promises to appointment of thousands of old and young, to close his life in the next number. The "Adventure of Millades Paul" in which he loses his capital. Mrs. Helen Tracy gives a valuable paper relating "Sweeping the Carpet," which commend to all house-keepers.

But the chief feature to the boys and girls all over the subscribers and non-subscribers. Wide Awake, is the article "The Society of Wide Awakes." This Society arranged the ton-Dolls' Fair last season, and article their work for 1877, is laid with rules and prize-list. Only $3.00 per annum. Ellis Editor, P. Lothrop & Co. Fishers, Boston.

The lecture itself is charged in no small degree from the one on the same subject delivered by him previous years; and the revision is in keeping with the purpose of the speaker to make everything tend to such a revelation of the truer character of Mr. Lincoln as can only be gathered by a glimpse at his every-day life, as well as knowledge of his pure aims and great achievements. We hope Mr. C. may be called upon often to repeat it, as few listeners, especially young men, can fail to have awakened within them thereby higher aspirations and more elevated standards.

HAMMOND'S NEW BANK. At last Mr. Charles Hammond is ready to occupy his new room in the south half of the fine brick block which he erected, in company with Messrs. Whan & Adams, last season. The building we described at the time of its completion. It is forty-two feet front and sixty-five feet deep, with two very high stories. The brick, which are as good as any ever laid in the place, and laid enough for that matter, were made by Mr. Wm. Kettel, in his yard a mile south-west of town. Mr. James Ripley had in charge the wood work on Hammond's half and has felt it to testify that he understands his business.

In fitting up his room for business Mr. H. has not only spared no expense, but he has taken his time, and the consequence is that he has a complete, convenient and finely furnished bank as can be found in the State, and has made an addition to the business facilities of the town which "does us proud." The room is 19x65 in the clear. The front is full-sized French plate glass, set off by such use of the brush on adjacent wood and iron as only Hugman can do. Inside the finish is hard white and dark oak—the plaster by Golden and paint by Dugman—with ash and walnut floor. The roomy fire-proof vault, of the softest and most approved kind, rises against the north wall to within about three feet of the ceiling. The glass-surmounted counter, alone involving an expense of over $700, is of the latest. It joins with the vault and extends a glass-floor partition across the room, thence running angling forward some sixteen feet it turns to the north wall, enclosing roomy space for business. It is a marvel of cabinet work in French and native walnut, and has all the conveniences in the way of plate glass windows for teller, cashier, etc., as well as the more practical desk and drawer room within.

The only thing remaining to complete the establishment is to get in place those four little paying stones which lodged a car from Anamosa. This done, we suppose Charley will retire to the inside, invest in a shiny new silk tie, and generally maintain the dignity incumbent upon him.

Dr. A. L. Gibson concludes his beautifully illustrated paper on the Atlantic Islands.

Mary Treat contributes one of her chapters of gospel about birds, in another illustrated article.

In "Shoemaker and Naturalist," also illustrated, S. S. Conant gives us a charming narrative of the adventures of Thomas Edward, a Scotch Naturalist.

Dr. John W. Deaper continues his very interesting description of remarkable experiments made by him—this time in connection with flame and the combustion of substances. The experiments are fully illustrated.

In Fiction this Number is one of marked interest. Besides the two best—social—novels of the season, "A Women Hater" and "Erema," there are four very excellent short stories by John Estlin Cooke, A. P. C., T. L. McCready, and Rebecca Harding Davis. Mr. Cooke's story is effectively illustrated by Abbey, and Mr. McCready's, humorous narrative, entitled "Uncle Zeke's Conscience," receives added interest from Mr. Sol Eytinge's admirable illustrations.

Henry W. Longfellow contributes a poem, entitled "Victoria Columna." Elizabeth Stuart Phelps is the author of another poem, entitled "A Song of the Garden."

Anna C. Brackett, in a brief but vigorous article, makes a strong plea for the Liberal Education of Women, and Edward Howland, in an able paper, traces the development of our Public Libraries.

The Editorial Departments are full of interesting matter, and the Deaver is especially amusing, and contains seven illustrations.

MARRIED.

At the residence of the bride's father near Tipton, by Rev. Chas. Axten, on Wednesday, March 21st, 1877, Mr. JAMES D. BOLTON and Miss M. J. KINSEY, both of this place.

The printers were handsomely remunerated, and took their slice of happiness in the calm consciousness that the donors were so fully supplied they would never miss it.

At the house of the bride's father in Clarence, Iowa, March 21st, by Rev. J. T. Spay, Mr. DAVID B. AGNEW, of Arcadia, Carroll Co., Iowa, to Miss FLORENCE L. SIMPSON, of Clarence, Cedar Co., Iowa.

OBITUARY.

Samuel Augustus Bissell was born in Otsego county, N. Y., in 1813, and died at Tipton, Cedar county, Iowa, on the 18th day of March, 1877, in the sixty-fourth year of his age.

He was the son of a well known physician of considerable practice and good repute, who, while Samuel A. was yet a child, removed to Montrose, Susquehanna county, Pa., where he and his family resided many years, and where some of his descendants still remain.

Samuel A. was the eldest of a family of twelve children, and was always considered a bright intellectual boy. He was educated at Easton, Pa., and studied medicine with the intention of following the profession of his father; but some intervening obstacle, of which little is known, so wrought on his mind, that he left home and kindred, for the free and boundless prairies of the far west. After various changes of location, he settled in Muscatine County, Iowa, where, on the 16th of November, 1839, he was united in marriage to Miss Abbie M. Bennett, the daughter of a highly respected citizen of that county, who still survives him. He came to Cedar

A Terrible Cough.

How often we hear the above remark during these extreme changes of weather. Colds, Coughs and Sore Throats were never more prevalent among children than now. Now we are going to urge you to try a remedy which has excited comments by physicians all over the country, who acknowledge their surprise at the wonderful and happy results from its use. That remedy is the well-known preparation, HALE'S COUGH CORDIAL. Your own druggist, J. W. Tutbill, will tell you that it is the best cough medicine he ever sold; or will warrant a cure or return your money to you in case of a failure after using half the bottle. It is very pleasant to the taste, making it a very desirable remedy for children. 40-6m

GEORGE D. EVANS, of the firm of G. D. Evans & Son, Implement dealers, Clarence, Tipton and Mechanicville, can be found at the express office in Tipton and will take pleasure in showing all in need of any kind of farm machinery their stock in Tipton.

THE PROCEEDINGS from Mr Colfax' lecture, if any, it was previously announced by Rev. S. A. Lee, through whose efforts alone his coming was secured, would be devoted to procuring some good reading for the young people of Tipton. Fortunately there was a net profit of forty dollars—not a very large sum, but much better than nothing. And as there has, as yet, been no definite plan agreed upon for the application of this financial cause to the desired literary effect; and as several plans have been suggested, some of them including an effort to resuscitate the old Tipton library and fit up a reading room—it has been thought best to appoint a meeting to consider the matter. All interested, therefore, are requested to meet at the hall over P. Dean's store Saturday morning at nine o'clock—directly after the morning prayer meeting.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE.—The numbers of The Living Age for the weeks ending February 24th and March 3d contain The Life of the Prince Consort, by Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Church Quarterly Review; Forel on Review; Magazine-Literature, Church Quarterly; Goethe in his Old Age, by Edward Barrington de Fonblanque, New Quarterly; Mediterranean Delights, Edinburgh Review; Weimar under Schiller and Goethe, Contemporary Review; The "Dreadful People" who go to Court, Truth; Wit in Court, Leisure Hour; The Eastern Polar Basin, by Augustus Petermann, Macmillan; How it Happened, by Narissa Rosayo, Victoria Magazine; Mariuscia, Fraser; an instalment of "The Marquis of Lossie," by George MacDonald, and of William Black's new serial, together with choice poetry and miscellany.

The back numbers containing the first instalments of MacDonald's new serial are still sent gratis to new subscribers for 1877. For fifty-two numbers, of sixty-four large pages each (or more than 3000 pages a year), the subscription price $8. is low; while for $10.50 the publishers offer to send any one of the American $4 monthlies or weeklies with The Living Age for a year, both postpaid. Littell & Gay, Boston, are the publishers.

THE SOUTHWESTERS.—The C. C. & W. case came up for hearing before Judge Hayes yesterday, on an application to restrain the Receiver from issuing any more certificates until the suit for the foreclosure of $50,000 of certificates already issued is heard at the next term of Court, was settled by a compromise between the contesting parties, on the basis of which Judge Hayes made his decision.—The compromise permits the Receiver to issue $100,000 more of the certificates in order to complete the Clinton end of the road to the Davenport & Northwestern connection, and the Iowa City end from Lenox to Tipton, which we understand will be done as soon as we understand will be done as soon as the Receiver has the enough for the five miles section on the Clinton end and iron enough for both sections, he being only entitled to secure a part.

county in 1841, residing at first in what was known as the Walton Settlement on Sugar Creek, but not long afterward removed to Rochester, and was appointed postmaster of that place. He remained there for several years until he took up his abode in Tipton, where he afterward constantly resided until his death.

It has been well said that he was a landmark of the place, and it is doubtless true that of all the citizens of Tipton, from its organization to the present time, none were more universally known, or whose absence would be more generally missed.

In politics an uncompromising democrat, he was elected by his party to a number of important and responsible positions, among them: Judge of Probate, Member of the Constitutional Convention, State Senator, and County Judge; and it is probable that still higher honors might have been added to the list, had they been desired by him, and the ordinary political means been used to obtain them; but lack of ambition was a singular trait in his character. Energy of purpose and determined will appeared to have been completely submerged in a placid contentment with any and every situation in life where circumstances placed him, regardless whether ease or hardship predominated, either want being alike met by him with cheerful indifference.

He was, with one exception, the oldest member of the bar in the county, having been a practicing attorney in our Courts for some thirty years, during which time no complaint of extortion or unprofessional conduct was ever made against him. He was strictly honest and conscientious in his dealings; and his genial temperament and affability, coupled with an extensive general knowledge of men and things, made him a pleasant and instructive conversationalist; while his retentive memory of facts and statistics, was often appealed to in disputed matters and was unquestioned.

Kind rendered to all, he had no enemy but himself. In the inscrutable wisdom of Divine Providence he has been taken from our midst, and we need

"No farther seek his merits to disclose,
Or draw his frailties from their dread abode;
(There they alike in trembling hope repose)
The bosom of his Father and his God."

MEETING OF MEMBERS OF THE BAR.

At a meeting of the members of the bar in Tipton, on Monday, March 19th, 1877, for the purpose of making suitable and proper arrangements for the funeral obsequies of Samuel A. Bissell Esq., one of the oldest practitioners of law in Cedar county, a committee was appointed to prepare an appropriate expression of the sense of the meeting, who reported the following preamble and resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, The Almighty Ruler of the universe, in his infinite wisdom, has removed from this earthly sphere, one of the oldest members of our legal fraternity, therefore

Resolved, That in the death of our brother in the profession, Samuel A Bissell, we recognize and feel the importance of the great trial to which we are all summoned, and in which no demurrer or dilatory plea of ours can prevail.

Resolved, That in our association with the deceased, we have ever found him to be a man of large and generous heart, honest purpose and kindly disposition, and remembering our own faults and imperfections, we leave all that he may have had with that Supreme Judge, whose rulings and decrees are ever controlled by charity and tempered with mercy.

Resolved, That we sincerely join in regretting his departure, and in remembering respectfully tender to his relatives our cordial sympathy in their sad bereavement. Attest.

Knowledge is Power.

This is a nation of enlightened freemen. Education is the corner-stone and foundation of our government. The people are free to think and act for themselves, and that they may act wisely it is necessary that they be well informed. Every individual gain increases public gain. Upon the health of the people is based the prosperity of a nation, by it every value is increased, every joy enhanced. Health is essential to the accomplishment of every purpose; while sickness thwarts the best intentions and lofliest aims. Unto us are committed important health trusts, which we hold not merely in our own behalf but for the benefit of others. In order that we may be able to discharge the obligation of our trusteeship and thus prove worthy of our generous commission, it is necessary that we study the art of preserving health and prolonging life. It is of paramount importance to every person not only to understand the means for the preservation of health, but also to know what remedies should be employed for the alleviation of the common ailments of life. Not that we would advise every man under all circumstances to be his own physician but we entreat him to acquire sufficient knowledge of his system and the laws that govern it, that he may be prepared to take care of himself properly, and thereby prevent sickness and prolong life. In no text book will the people find the subject of physiology and hygiene, or the science of life and the art of preserving health, more scientifically discussed or more plainly taught than in "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," by R. V. Pierce, M. D., of Buffalo, N. Y. It is a volume of over nine hundred large pages, illustrated by over two hundred and eighty-two engravings and colored plates, is elegantly bound in cloth and gilt, and is sent, post-paid to any address by the author at the low price of one dollar and fifty cents a copy. Nearly one hundred thousand copies have already been sold, and the present edition, which is revised and enlarged and more especially adapted to the wants of the family, is selling very rapidly. It treats of all the common diseases and their remedies, as well as of anatomy, physiology, hygiene, human temperaments, and many other topics of great interest to all people, and is truly what its author styles it, "Medicine Simplified."
