WELCOME MOWRY CALLED.

Brave Soldier, Companionable Neighbor and an Honest Man Gone

Col. Welcome Mowry has fought his last battle and it ended in defeat. He reached the end of his earthly career last Sunday night at Excelsior Springs, Mo., where he went several weeks ago in the hope of securing benefit for stomach trouble with which he had been afflicted the past year. He was a great sufferer through the winter and no physician seemed to know what was the matter with him or could give him relief. Some characterized it cancer, others cataarrh, others holding both were wrong. A post mortem examination was held and a growth was found in the stomach which seriously affected the liver. In fact that organ was found hard and inactive. Had the nature of the trouble been known he could not have been helped. He failed steadily for three months, feeling all the time his case was hopeless. His wife has been with him at the Springs and on Friday his daughter, Alzada, was called there, as it was evident the end was near.

For forty years Colonel Mowry has been a resident of Tama county and one of her best known and most honored citizens. He was a native of Illinois, having been born in Putnam county, April 3, 1842. He was educated in the common schools. On the first represented Tama county in the Twentieth General assembly and was a Presidential elector in 1896. In 1898 he was elected railroad commissioner of Iowa and it was admitted by all that he made a fair, conservative and able officer. He was a candidate for a second term. He was defeated in the convention by E. C. Brown, of Sheldon, by a political combination in the interest of candidates for other offices. Some of his pretended friends in his home district betrayed him and he felt the defeat keenly, yet remained a loyal Republican as he had been from the birth of the party. He seldom if ever missed a Republican county convention and never an election. He was always ready to aid the ticket on the stump and often campaigned over the State as well as in his home county. He was a vigorous speaker. His last effort as orator in Traer on last Memorial day will be well remembered. He was a favorite at all gatherings of old soldiers and was much beloved by his comrades of '61-'65.

It is most lamentable that Colonel Mowry should be stricken just as he had left the cares of the farm and entered upon a quiet life that he had held in mind many years past. His demise will carry sorrow into every neighborhood of Tama county. He was a man who gave more to his country than he could afford, but he felt it a duty. He

call for troops in 1861 he enlisted for the war, but on his arrival at Springfield the quota was found to be full and he returned home, enlisting again a few months later in Co. D, 7th Kansas cavalry. He joined "Lane's Brigade," and served with that regiment until the expiration of his enlistment. He participated in many important engagements including the battles of Corinth, Tupelo and Coffeeville, and was discharged in the fall of 1864. The following February he enlisted again and went to Dalton, Georgia, Atlanta and Americus, being discharged Jan. 24, 1866, after enlisting three times and serving four years. The next year he came to Tama county and bought eighty acres of land in Oneida township. Here he and his family lived forty years, until retiring last fall in the hope of enjoying a few years of quiet life in Traer. Mr. Mowry was one of the foremost breeders of Shorthorn cattle in the county, and although he was working out of the business, intending to hold a closing out sale next fall, he had some fifty head of blooded animals on his farm near Clutier at the time of his death.

Deceased was married in 1866 to Miss Lucina Sapp, who survives. Three children were born to them, all of whom are living. They are Lorena Kinner, who lives with her children on the Heller farm near Traer, Burdette F., a resident of South Dakota, and Miss Alzada B., who has been a teacher in the Des Moines schools several years, but who intended making her home in Traer with her parents.

Politically Colonel Mowry was known all over Iowa. In his home township he held the office of secretary of the school board thirteen years. He was for ten years justice of the peace. He held the highest respect of his neighbors. He was an honest man. He did what he thought was right. His memory will long be cherished by those who knew him as he was.

The funeral was held on Wednesday at the M. E. church at 2 p. m. It was in charge of the G. A. R. and the attendance of members and of citizens was large. The Nevin Ladies' quartet sang several selections charmingly. B. F. Thomas spoke feelingly in behalf of the post. Railroad Commissioner Palmer was present and made a short address, referring especially to Mr. Mowry's good work on the commission and his unswerving integrity under all circumstances. Rev. Smith gave an eloquent and thoughtful address, one of the best of his many able efforts in Traer. Many old friends were present from Elberon, Clutier, Dysart and Toledo. The body was interred in Buckingham cemetery.

OBITUARY OF CLIFFORD THOMP- SON.

Clifford Moulton Thompson was born July 9th, 1876, near Andrew, Iowa. He was the second child of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Thompson. His moth- er died when he was only eight years of age and the home was broken up. From that time he made his home with his uncles and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Hammond, until he grew to manhood. He was always frail and never had good health since childhood. This compelled him to live in a western climate and during the last twelve years he lived in the States of Montana and North Dakota.

While living on a claim in North Dakota, last summer he became very sick with peritonitis from the effects of which he never fully recovered. A few months ago he returned home for medical treatment and went to Iowa City, where he underwent a surgical operation for his ailment. He re- turned to Elberon a few weeks ago, without having been helped and his condition grew worse. This dread disease had such a hold on him that all medical skill and tender nursing were of no avail and he died at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Pace, in Elberon, Mon- day forenoon, April 15th, at half past eleven o'clock, at the age of thirty years, nine months and six days.

Cliff., as he was commonly called, possessed all the qualities which make a sweet and loving disposition. He was a favorite with all who knew him and of him it may be said, he had no enemies. He was kind hearted and willing to make any sacrifice for the sake of helping another. During his long suffering he was the embodiment of patience and seemed more concerned about the trouble he thought his illness gave those who cared for him than about his own condition. He made a brave fight to live and hoped to re- cover until a very short time before the end came and he was ready to go.

Most of his life he spent out of doors, partially because of his health and partially because he liked to listen to the voice of nature of whom he was a child and a diligent student. He possessed a knowledge of nature which few people enjoy and it was interest- ing to speak with him about these things. He was a lover of literature and would often recite selections from the grand poets and was fond of humor. He himself was ever cheerful and in- spired others to be the same.

Both of his parents preceded him in death, his father having died three years ago in the State of Nevada. He was born in the town of Montour, Iowa, besides a number of uncles and aunts and cousins, all of

WELCOME MOWRY.

Des Moines Capital: "On Sunday there passed away Hon. Welcome Mowry, of Tama county. He had served his country in war and peace. He leaves an honored name. He had been honored by the Republican party. He had been a member of the legisla- ture. He had also been a member of the State board of railroad commis- sioners. In the memorable Republi- can State convention held in 1901 at Cedar Rapids he was defeated for re- nomination. He was denied a second term. The politicians made out a slate and Colonel Mowry had to be dropped, for no reason outside of politics. The disappointment to him was so poignant that he never recovered. His friends know that he never was the same man afterward. Figuratively speaking, his heart was broken. He felt that the great Republican party had been un- fair to him. He was so cast down that he frequently talked to his friends in regard to it. He believed up to the time of his death that the party would make amends by conferring some honor upon him. But in this respect he was also disappointed. Colonel Mowry de- served a renomination. He was one of Iowa's best men."

Marshalltown Times Republican: "Welcome Mowry, of Tama county, whose death occurred in Excelsior Springs, on Sunday, was one of the famous "Jayhawker regiment" of Kansas cavalry, and it is a matter of history that he was one of five sol- diers out on a scouting duty to stam- pede a whole army and take possession of a town."

Charles E. Stearns came from Canada and settled on section 27. He is a carpenter by trade and spends much of his time from home. His family still live on the farm.

A. H. Loveland settled on section 28, where he still lives. He came from Bureau county, Illinois.

W. Thomas was formerly from Canada, and on coming to Oneida township, settled on section 27. He lived here until 1879, then sold and went to Kansas.

In order that the reader may gain some knowledge of those who settled here in an early day, of their characters, and of their prosperity, personal sketches are here presented of a number who have been intimately connected with the welfare and growth of the township.

Welome Mowry came to Oneida in 1867, and located on section 28, where he has since lived. Mr. Mowry was born in Putnam county, Illinois, April 3, 1842. In 1851, his parents removed to Bureau county, same State, where Welcome received his education in the common schools. Later he attended the Dean academy one term. On the first call for troops, made in 1861, he enlisted into the service; but on the arrival of the company at Springfield, the quota was found to be full and he returned home. He enlisted again in August of the same year, in Company D, 7th Kansas Cavalry. He joined "Lane's Brigade," and served with the regiment until the expiration of his term of enlistment. He participated in many engagements, including the battles of Corinth, Tupelo and Coffeerville, and was honorably discharged September 24, 1864. He re-enlisted February 14, 1865, in the 151st Illinois, was mustered in as Sergeant, and went to Dalton, Georgia, Atlanta and Americus. He was discharged January 24, 1866, and returned to Illinois, having enlisted three times and served over four years. In 1867, he came to Tama county, and purchased 86 acres of land on section 28. He at once built a house and commenced improving his land. Since that time he has worked into stock and is now engaged quite extensively in stock raising, keeping on an average 200 head of cattle, and about as many hogs. Mr. Mowry has one of the finest stock farms in the township. He now owns 700 acres, part improved and part pasture land, and has two sheds for stock, one 140 and 150 feet long. Mr. Mowry was the first in the township to use the tile drain for draining his land. He was married in 1866 to Miss Lucina Lapp, who has borne him three children: Lorena C., Burdette F. and Alzada B. Mr. Mowry has held various offices of trust in the township, and is the present Secretary of the School Board, which office he has held for thirteen years. He has also held the office of Justice of the Peace for ten consecutive years. In 1881, Mr. Mowry was elected Colonel of the Tama County Veterans, and was re-elected in 1882. Mr. Mowry is a genial, open-hearted gentleman, and is respected by all who know him.

William Whitmore settled in Oneida township, in 1867, and made this his home until his death. His son Joshua, a prominent farmer, is still a resident of the township. Joshua Whitmore was born in Oneida, Canada, November 13, 1851. His parents were William and Margaret Whitmore, the former a na-

life. They have not sought any public notoriety, but have attended to their own affairs and brought up a respectable and successful family of children. Mrs. Haley is known as a good mother and wife, and what more need be said? They were born in Ireland, and all their ancestors lived in the Emerald Isle. Their son, F. E. Haley, received his early education in the public schools and in Howe's academy in Mt. Pleasant. But some of the best lessons of his boyhood were those of industry and economy, which were taught him on his father's farm. He began early in his youth to support himself and learn to depend upon his own efforts. After leaving school in 1883 he was at once elected principal of the public schools of New London, Iowa, and in this capacity he was uniformly successful. Four years of his life were spent in this work. In the fall of 1886 he became associated with the Iowa State Register. In this line of work he at once achieved success as traveling representative for the paper, and built up a large and valuable acquaintance all over the state. He increased the business of the paper and did well for himself at the same time. While employed as a traveling man he became interested in the Iowa State Traveling Men's association, which was first organized partly for social intercourse and partly for a mutual accident insurance association. He devoted himself with all his accustomed energy to building up this association, and secured several hundred new members for it. In 1890 he was elected secretary and treasurer and very shortly gave up his work on the road to put all his time into the development and management of the association, which had, in the fall of 1891, grown to a large and substantial membership. Mr. Haley has been re-elected each year since that time and has rarely had any opposition. Under his administration the organization has grown and developed into one of the largest and strongest accident insurance associations in the United States, paying out annually something like $100,000 in benefits and death losses. Their membership has steadily increased, although the restrictions have been multiplied until now no one but an actual traveling man, who has been selling goods on the road by sample for more than one year, can become a member. It now has, in 1899, 10,500 members. The members fully appreciating the value of Mr. Haley's services, and being nearly all business men themselves, consider that it is only a plain business matter in which they are all interested to retain the services of Mr. Haley as chief administrative officer.

Mr. Haley was married in Burlington, Iowa, January 29, 1895, to Miss Katherine A. Norton. They have a family of two children, Mary and Katherine, both bright, interesting girls. Mr. Haley has been successful in business ventures. He is conservative in his dealings, both in the management of the corporation he represents as its chief officer and in his personal business transactions. Besides being energetic and aggressive, he is particularly courteous, and no young business man in Des Moines stands higher in the estimation of the general public than the subject of this sketch. Whatever degree of success he may achieve, to his own personal efforts, strength of character and honesty of purpose can the credit be given. His highest ambition is to faithfully perform every duty and to live the life of a good and upright citizen.

MOWRY, WELCOME, member of the state board of railroad commissioners, makes his home on his 700 acre farm in Tama county, where he has lived since 1867. His parents were George A. and Nancy Jack Mowry, and he was born in Putnam county, Ill., April 3, 1842. His father was born in Rhode Island and his mother in Maryland. They were both members of the Society of Friends and Mr. Mowry often preached for them. They came to Bureau county, Ill., in 1841, and later went to Putnam county to educate their children, and then returned to Bureau county, where Mr. Mowry died in 1889. Their son, Welcome, was educated in the common schools and attended Dover academy. At the age of 17 he began supporting himself, working on a farm at $10 per month. In the spring of 1861 he made his first effort to enlist in the union army at Wyanett, Ill., and went with his company to Springfield, but as the quota of Illinois on the first call had been filled, he returned home after about a month. In August of that year he enlisted under C. S. Merriman and went with his company to Fort Leavenworth, which became Company D of the Seventh Kansas Volunteer cavalry. They spent the first winter in Missouri keeping down the guerrillas, and in the spring of 1862 went to Tennessee, spending the next two and a half years in Tennessee, Mississippi and Alabama. They participated in the battles of Corinth, Coffeyville, Tupelo, and the soldier of whom we write was under fire, in addition to the above, at Iuka, Coldwater, Abbeville, Holly Springs, Oxford, Water Valley and Jackson, Tenn., and at Rippey, Miss. While following Price through Mississippi, he with four others was sent to reconnoiter Price's position. It was a perilous undertaking in the night, wading streams and taking all hazards. They ran onto the enemy's camp guard and then fell back. The enemy, not knowing the size of the force opposing them, soon evacuated the town. This is probably the only instance where five men started a whole army. "He was frequently on duty as scout or courier in hazardous enterprises," says one of his commanders, "where his unflinching bravery, quick intelligence, sound judgment were signally displayed, winning for him the praise of commanding officers. He was our ideal of a soldier." Being honorably discharged at St. Louis, September 27, 1864, he returned home and went to school for a short time, but re-enlisted February 13, 1865, in Company F, One Hundred Fifty-first Illinois Volunteer infantry, and on account of previous service was made drill sergeant, and in a competitive drill was placed in command of the headquarters guard of General Judea, which he held under Generals Judea and H. F. Sickles, until the close of his enlistment. He was discharged the last time in February, 1866, and returned at once to Wyanett, Ill., and resumed peaceful pursuits. He was married September 5, 1866, to Miss Lucina Sapp, daughter of Hezekiah and Mary J. Bosket Sapp, who were both natives of Delaware. They have three children, Lorena C., born December 18, 1868, Burdette F., born April 22, 1870, and Alzad B., born October 10, 1873. In the following spring the young couple started in a covered wagon for Iowa, and settled in Oneida township, Tama county, on the same farm where they now reside. He commenced with eighty acres, and now has 700 acres of Iowa's most productive soil. Although the land is gently rolling he has laid over four miles of tiling under it.

Colonel Mowry has always been an active republican, casting his first vote for Abraham Lincoln in 1864, and has never missed an election since he came to Iowa. He was justice of the peace for ten years. In 1873 he was placed on the republican ticket for supervisor but the anti-monopoly movement was then at its height and he was defeated by thirty-seven votes in the county. In 1875 he began taking part in speaking campaigns and in every year since then he has stumped either the county, the district or the state. In 1883 he was elected to represent his county in the legislature, and took an active part in the business of the session. Believing that laws were too often changed he spent more time in defeating what he considered bad measures, than he did in securing the enactment of new laws. He, however, secured the passage of the measure to reduce the penalty on delinquent taxes to 1 per cent a month. He took the ground that if the state did not allow an individual to collect more than 6 per cent interest, the state should be satisfied with 12. He received special credit from the farmers for the defeat of the bill to abolish independent and subdistricts in the country, making no change in the school laws applying to cities and towns. This bill was championed by State Superintendent Akers and Senator L. R. Bolter, and supported by the representatives of the cities. In 1892, when the Fifth congressional district was democratic, Colonel Mowry was urged to become a candidate for congress, but was defeated in the convention by R. G. Cousins, the present member. Colonel Mowry immediately took the stump for his successful rival and worked for Mr. Cousins until he was elected. In 1896, without being a candidate, Colonel Mowry was unanimously selected republican candidate for presidential elector in the Fifth district, and made twenty-five speeches throughout the state in that campaign. He was elected by the largest vote of any elector, except Major Conger, elector at large. Colonel Mowry's long service to the republican party and his eminent business qualifications were recognized by the party in 1898, when he was nominated for railroad commissioner by the republican state convention in Dubuque. He received on the first ballot 242½ more votes than his strongest competitor and more than 100 majority over all. He was elected by 62,883 plurality. He is now filling the office with the good sense and industry that have brought him such a large measure of success in all that he has undertaken in life.

About FamilySearch Pedigree Resource File

The Pedigree Resource File is a new lineage linked database of records available on compact disc containing family history records submitted by individuals through FamilySearch Internet Genealogy Service. Family information is organized in family groups and pedigrees and includes submitted notes and sources. Many charts and reports can be printed from this data. Each disc contains about 1.1 million names. With the publication of every five discs, a master index for those discs will be published and packaged with that set of discs. With the publication of every 25 discs, a master index for those discs will also be published and packaged with that volume of discs. Discs may be purchased as sets or volumes.

Please Note

Submitter information is provided to help in the coordination of personal family history research. Use of this information for any other purpose, including marketing, advertising, or commercial solicitation, is strictly prohibited.
