A complete list of the unemployed in Sheldon has been received by Ted Jones, Hartley, from the National Reemployment Service at Primghar. It is announced that the remainder of the labor, the men on the county relief roll have been given work, will be selected from this list. In many cases, it is pointed out, men on county relief roll cannot qualify to receive work on the hangar. Men who are not physically fit to perform heavy labor and many of them in the semi-skilled or skilled

H. B. WYMAN, 84, DIES MONDAY

Passed Away At Los Angeles, Calif.; Had Been A Mason Here For 58 Years

Masonic leaders here received word Monday of the death of H. B. Wyman, 84 years of age, of Los Angeles, California, who was a charter member of the Mistletoe Lodge, A. F. and A. M., in Sheldon.

It was announced that Mr. Wyman will be buried in California.

Mr. Wyman was admitted to the local lodge in 1876 and served as its first Master. He moved to Sheldon from Wabasha, Minnesota, where he had become a Mason in 1873.

Mr. Wyman has been a member of the Mistletoe Lodge here for 58 years. He received his 50-year certificate from the Grand Lodge of Iowa on March 7, 1925, and was a life member since that time.

During the time that Mr. Wyman resided in Sheldon he was in the grain business. He took an active part in all Masonic work.

Mr. Wyman was born in Hartford, Connecticut, April 26, 1850. He was instrumental in establishing the Union Bank in 1882, this being the first incorporated State bank in Sheldon. The bank building was built in 1882 on the corner of Ninth street and Third avenue. He was a member of the school board and was the first mayor of Sheldon in 1876, and served four years. He again served one year in 1882.

Mr. Wyman was married June 3, 1878, to Miss Clara E. Albright of Primghar.

Olson of Sioux City at a price of $6,918.66 was announced last Wednesday by the state highway commission in Ames.

Bruno and Otto Boll and Hubert Schultz spent the week end at the six months protection was $35, the charges revealed.

Turns Check In

A Paullina Service Station owner, whose name was not disclosed by county authorities, turned over to Sheriff Edw. Leemkuil a cashed check for $35, and a receipt for the amount signed by Butner, after he had become suspicious of Butner.

According to information filed against Butner, he had stated to merchants that he was a representative of the liquor commission and was working as an "undercover" man for Sheriff Leemkuil. He had promised merchants, stated one merchant approached, that he would give them four or five days notice before a raid which would permit them to get rid of their merchandise.

Made Many Arrests

It was discovered by county officers that Butner, after this "protection" campaign, had been hired by the liquor commission and is said to have been responsible for the arrest of over twenty persons in Davenport and six or seven druggists in Des Moines for illegal liquor sales.

The liquor commission sent Leslie Francis, an attorney, and another representative to Primghar Thursday to investigate the case. Butner was turned over to the county authorities on Friday.

Blame Youths For Defacing Signs

Gold signature letterings on the display windows at Scott's drug store, Lohr's studio, and Matson's jewelry store were partially marred by mischief makers Friday night. Two or three letters from the two signs on Scott's drug store window were completely defaced. The other two signs had letters missing.

Police believe it was the work of youths.

Henry Romberg Buys 80 Acres

Frederick Walker, in Berlin under George Ferguson, in Paris under Vergenet, and in Chicago under Gottschalk. He was a tenor soloist with leading choral and oratorio societies, including the Apollo Club of Chicago, the Theodore Thomas Orchestra, Pittsburg Orchestra, Cincinnati Orchestra, Boston Festival, etc. He taught singing and interpretation in the American Conservatory of Music, Chicago, 1897-1900; in the Sherwood School of Music, 1900-02; and was a private teacher, 1902-09. With this background of experience and culture, in 1909 he accepted the position of dean of the College of Fine Arts and teacher of singing in Drake University, Des Moines. During his twenty-five years at Drake some 5,000 students were trained in music under him. One of his outstanding accomplishments was his ability to lead community singing which was demonstrated on numberless occasions in city affairs and in congregations, but especially at Camp Dodge during the World War where for eighteen months thousands of soldiers followed his inspirational leadership in song. Those who heard him will long remember the beauty of the tones of his vibrant voice.

JOHN HEFFELFINGER was born in Chester County, Pennsylvania, April 17, 1843, and died in Grundy Center, Iowa, June 12, 1934. He was with his parents, Dr. Lewis and Mary (Miles) Heffelfinger when they removed with their family to Carrol County, Illinois, in 1857. In the early part of the Civil War he was for a short time in Company I, Thirty-fourth Illinois Infantry, the company of which his father was captain. On May 15, 1864, he enlisted in Company G, One Hundred and Forty-second Illinois Infantry, was given the rank of sergeant and was honorably discharged October 26, 1864. In 1867 he removed to a farm three miles northwest of Grundy Center, Iowa, but in 1877 located in Grundy Center where during most of his life thereafter he conducted an insurance business. In 1888 he removed to Des Moines and for a time was an employee in the office of treasurer of state, but soon returned to his insurance business at Grundy Center. Although never being a candidate for an elective office it is said he was probably more closely associated with the politics of Grundy County than any other man. He also became a well-known figure in Republican state politics, principally by reason of his attendance at sessions of the General Assembly as doorkeeper or sergeant at arms. In the Twenty-second General Assembly, 1888, he was doorkeeper of the House, and for the next forty-one years he was present as a doorkeeper or a sergeant at arms in either the Senate or the House during sixteen regular sessions and two important extra sessions. From 1904 to 1929 he only missed one session, 1909. He was a charter member of the Grundy Center Grand Army post and remained to see all the members excepting one laid away.

HERBERT B. WYMAN was born in Hartford, Connecticut, April 26, 1850, and died in Los Angeles, California, July 28, 1934. His parents were Charles D. and Mary A. (Bartlet) Wyman. The family removed to Wabashaw, Minnesota, in 1856. Herbert B. obtained his early education in public school, and later attended Shattuck College, Faribault, Minnesota. He early entered the employ of Hamilton & Holmes at Wabasha as clerk in their warehouse and express business, following that by buying grain on his own account. A year later he became a salesman for a nursery company in Minneapolis which he continued for four years. In 1873 he removed to Sheldon, Iowa, and with his brother Frank E. engaged in the grain business. At the time of Sheldon's incorporation in 1876 he was elected mayor, and altogether served six terms in that office. He was instrumental in establishing the Union Bank of Sheldon in 1882, and was president of it for some time in its early history. Disposing of his banking interests he wrote insurance for the Northwestern Mutual Life Company. He took an active part in politics, was a presidential elector in 1888 and in 1889 was elected representative and served in the Twenty-third General Assembly, the session of the famous deadlock in the organization of the House. About 1899 he removed to Des Moines, was president of the Merchants Savings Bank of that city, but later sold his Des Moines interests and removed to Los Angeles where he lived in retirement, although retaining farming interests in Iowa and Minnesota.

COELLA ORLANDO BOLING was born in Holmes County, Ohio, August 28, 1867, and died in Tipton, Iowa, June 20, 1934. Burial was in Masonic Cemetery, Tipton. He was with his parents, John and Harriet Hoyman Boling, in their removal to Cedar County, Iowa, in 1869. He spent the early years of his life on his parents' farm near Stanwood. He attended rural school, was graduated from Cornell College, Mount Vernon, in 1892, and from the College of Law of Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois, in 1894. In 1894 he began the practice of law at Tipton, occupying the law office of Robert G. Cousins who the previous year had begun his congressional career. He continued in active practice until shortly before his death, Miss Edith Hill being associated with him during his last few years. He was county attorney of Cedar County from January, 1897, to January, 1903, and was city solicitor of Tipton for eight years. For a number of years he was chairman of the Cedar County Chapter of the American Red Cross. While Mr. Boling was keenly interested in the civic, political and educational life of the community and gave generously of his time and thought to those interests, his great work was in the practice of his profession. His ability, honor and integrity aided him in winning a high place as a lawyer and a citizen.

SHELDON AREA CENTENNIAL

SHELDON, IOWA

Several early historians have recorded the facts concerning Sheldon's early days. Sheldon, the largest town in O'Brien County, started when the Sioux City and St. Paul Railway (now the Chicago and Northwestern) reached the town site on July 3, 1872. The railroad surveyors had laid out the town the summer before. On this day the construction train, laying rails, reached the appointed spot, having come from the north. Its destination was Sioux City, which it never reached, as will be described elsewhere in this book. When the town was laid out by the land department of the S. C. & St. P. R. R., it was named Sheldon after Israel Sheldon, a stockholder in the railroad company who lived in New York City. Only days after the first train arrived, carloads of lumber followed, and construction of town buildings began. The day following the train's arrival, July 4th, was celebrated with enthusiasm.

A Mr. Highly of Storm Lake built the first building, a saloon. The railroad brought its own lumber for a depot building, which was soon constructed. The next building was built by H. C. Lane for a lumber office. His yard was opened about July 10, 1872. In a few days S. S. Bradley followed with a second lumber yard. The third to handle lumber was James Wyckoff. Later in July the general store of W. A. Fife was completed and stocked with goods at once. The availability of lumber made a hardware store a necessity and soon B. E. Bushnell erected a store to supply the hardware. Following this the law office of D. A. W. Perkins was put up, followed by the warehouse of Benjamin Jones. Soon afterward Jones built a house, the first in Sheldon.

In the fall of 1872 a number of buildings made their appearance; among them was one by H. C. Lane which Geo. Colcord occupied for a drug store, an office for the Sheldon Mail, and a residence building by James Wyckoff. Also in the fall, A. J. Donovan purchased the law office building erected by Mr. Perkins and in it, started a store of boots and shoes and gent's furnishing goods. He advertised himself as the "Live Yankee from Boston." Ed. Parkhurst started a coal yard that fall.

On January 1, 1873, Sheldon was 6 months old and numbered about thirty inhabitants. On this date the first issue of the Sheldon Mail was printed.

The year 1873 was a somewhat progressive one. Several new business firms were added and additional residences and business buildings gave more to the appearance of a town. Among the professional men who established themselves during the year were Barrett and Allen, lawyers, C. Lonshore, physician, and J. T. Stearns, real estate. Fred Frank put in a blacksmith shop, C. Smith, a harness shop, Gibbs & Mattocks, a restaurant; Husted, Crawford & Co. opened an extensive general store, C. S. Stewart & Co., lumber, Nash Bros., farm machinery; Jones & Parkhurst had united their business; and Shinski & Gavin opened a store of groceries, provisions, and dry goods. H. B. Wyman established himself in the grain business. Husted & Pryor succeeded to the Bushnell grocery and dry goods, and called it the "Farmer's Store." In 1873 J. A. Brown built the Sheldon Hotel.

1874 was a reasonably busy year, although the business outlook was discouraging because of the grasshoppers.

Application was made for incorporation in 1875. A commission was appointed by the court. The election for incorporation was held April 19, 1875, but the incorporation was defeated, with nine voting for incorporation and eleven against. In March, 1876, another election was held; this time the incorporation was endorsed, forty-nine in favor, eleven against. May 1, 1876, was the date of the first election for city officers. It was a hotly contested election and much bitterness engendered. H. B. Wyman beat J. C. Elliott for mayor by 46 to 39. L. F. Bennet was elected recorder over A. W. Husted. Councilmen elected were J. M. Stevenson, J. Wyckoff, Scott Harrington, George Boutelle, and Charles Allen.

FIRSTS

The first child born in Sheldon was Inez Wyckoff, born July 11, 1873.

The first school teacher was Columbia Robison, daughter of Thomas Robison.

As described elsewhere in this book, the town of Sheldon was incorporated in 1876 with H. E. Wyman elected as Mayor. Many of the prominent citizens of Sheldon followed as Mayor. The interesting aspects of the history of our city government can best be seen by reading some of the ordinances and proceedings of the council through the years. Some of these ordinances can be seen elsewhere in this book. The following are some of the earliest dated ordinances:

Ordinance No. 4, June 16, 1876

That the erecting, occupying, or using of any building or other place within the limits of the incorporation, or the exercising of any trade, employment or manufacture therein, which by occasioning noxious exhalations or offensive smells or any other annoyances becomes injurious or dangerous to the health, comfort or property of individuals, or the public, and the causing or suffering of any offal or water or filth or noisesome substances to be collected or to remain in any place to the prejudice or danger of others or to their health, comfort or property of individuals or of the public, and the obstructing or encumbering by fences, buildings, structures, or oth-

Ordinance No. 5, June 23, 1876

That if any person or persons shall ride or drive or procure to be rode or driven any horse or horses, mule or mules, at a furious or immoderate rate within the limits of this corporation, such person or persons shall be decreed guilty of disorderly conduct and be fined the sum of $10.00. Sec. 3: That any person who, within the limits of this incorporation, shall cruelly beat or torture any horse, mule, ox, or other beast, whether belonging to himself or another or shall willfully fail to provide any such animal in his charge with proper food, drink, shelter or protection from the weather, or shall cruelly drive or work the same, when unfit for labor shall be declared guilty of disorderly conduct and be fined $10.00.

In 1893 the town of Sheldon (incorporated) was changed to that of a city of the second class. The city was divided into three wards (same wards remained until a recent change). E. Y. Royce was elected mayor.

LAW ENFORCEMENT

Typical of law enforcement officers in the early 1900's was George Hudson, Sr. A respected man among his peers and by the local citizens, he took his job seriously. He was Marshal in Sheldon from 1894 until after W.W.I. He had many experiences apprehending thieves, murderers, and disturbers of the peace. He always carried his cane and with it split many heads. Mr. Hudson was a close friend of the Ringling Bros. of circus fame, having spent his boyhood in Baraboo, Wisconsin. His family has continued to contribute much to Sheldon's civic life.
