Illness of Week Fatal To Reynolds

Had Been Active in Labor Union, Politics, Church Here and in Mahaska county.

John W. Reynolds, veteran member and former president of the United Mine Workers of America in Iowa, died at 4:30 this morning at his home on Eleventh avenue west in Albia after an illness of a week with a liver ailment. He was 78 years old.

The body was removed to Downs funeral home pending funeral arrangements, which will be made as soon as relatives arrive.

Born in Durham county, England Mr. Reynolds came to the United States about 50 years ago, settling first at Excelsior in Mahaska county and later moving to Beacon in the same county.

President in 1894

He was closely associated with the early history of United Mine Workers in Iowa. He was vice president of the Iowa Miners association under John T. Clarkson when the state organization supplanted U. M. W. of A. about 1890.

When the United Mine Workers was reorganized in the state he became the organization's president in 1894, serving until the summer of 1895. There was no district headquarters at the time and Mr. Reynolds conducted official business from his home in Beacon.

About 1900 he served one term as international board member.

Active in Politics

He was active in the democratic party for many years and was once state representative from Mahaska

held May Breakfast—

The Philathea class of the Methodist church held their annual May breakfast at the Imperial cafe, Sunday morning with twenty members and the teacher, Mrs. Alf Hjort, attending. The tables were beautiful with spring colors and snapdragons were the favors.

Three charter members who attended the first breakfast, twenty-five years ago were present and gave interesting short talks. They were Miss Clara Peterson, Mrs. Isabelle Elmore and Miss Maude McLaughlin. Mrs. Ann Noble, the first teacher, who was unable to be present was presented with flowers.

Mrs. Mae Perrin, Mrs. Elizabeth Turner and Miss Jessie Boyer had charge of the affair.

Young Ladies' Council Will Not Meet This Week—

There will be no meeting of the Young Ladies' council this week. On May 23, the council and the Loyal Gleaners' class of the Christian church will have a garden party at home of Mrs. Bern Arnold on South Main street.

Albia Credit Body Is Not Relief Organization

Correcting an impression that seems to be common in this vicinity, Clarence, Pickard, secretary-treasurer of the Albia Production Credit Association of Albia, Iowa, said that the association is not a temporary "emergency" or "relief" organization and does not loan government funds.

According to Mr. Pickard, some persons here have confused the PCA with the county emergency crop and feed loan office.

The secretary-treasurer explained that the Albia Production Credit Association is intended to provide for the farmers of this territory a permanent source of low-interest, short-term credit for agricultural purposes. The interest rate is 5 per cent a year. Funds are obtained from private investors through the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank Omaha.

King George V, on the British throne for 25 years in the most trying period of modern history, addressed his subjects throughout the world Monday night and expressed his deep gratitude for their loyal belief and support.

LONDON, ENGLAND (AP)—

While millions of loyal subjects throughout the British empire celebrated his silver jubilee in mingled carnival and solemnity, King George V knelt in prayers of thanksgiving Monday for completion of 25 years on the throne.

Both the king and Queen Mary were plainly thrilled by the nation's fervent outpouring of love and devotion as they entered St. Paul's cathedral to worship amid scenes of medieval pageantry.

Outside the ancient edifice, cheering thousands, many of whom had stood all night for the opportunity to pay tribute to their sovereign,

Message

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—President Roosevelt Monday dispatched the following message to King George V of Great Britain on his silver jubilee:

"The people of the United States join with me today in extending most sincere congratulations on the twenty-fifth anniversary of your majesty's accession to the throne.

"It is gratifying to contemplate the wise and steadfast influence which your majesty has exerted for a quarter of a century.

"The many traditions which we in the United States have in common with the British people permit us to understand how deeply stirring today's anniversary must be to your majesty's subjects. We share in their rejoicing."

ammended the route of the royal procession from Buckingham palace to St. Paul's.

A single untoward incident marred the triumphal march. Midway a Communist banner was unfurled at Ludgate circus at the at Hooking, Ia., two miles from the Manley farm. He returned Monday morning and the quarrel was resumed, Mrs. Hogan said.

Threatens Her.

After the shot, according to Mrs. Hogan, her brother stood guard with his rifle and would not let her call officers. At one time when she made an attempt to call, he leveled the rifle at her and threatened her, she said.

About an hour after the shooting, Mrs. Hogan added, her brother left the house saying he would commit suicide. He took the rifle with him and entered woods nearby.

Officers then called by Mrs. Hogan found an empty cartridge near the house.

Reynolds, 78, Dies in Albia

Former Iowa Mine Workers Chief.

(The Tribune's Iowa News Service.)

ALBIA, IA.—John W. Reynolds, former Iowa president of United Mine Workers of America, died at his home here Monday morning after a week's illness. He was 78.

Born in England, Mr. Reynolds came to Mahaska county, Iowa, 50 years ago, living at Excelsior and Beacon. He was president of Iowa United Mine Workers from 1894 to 1895 and international board member in 1900.

He was former state representative from Mahaska county and once served as pastor of the Methodist church at Beacon, Ia. Surviving are his widow, two daughters, four sons and two brothers.

Cutting Death Opens Gap in Liberal Ranks

One of Handful Who Bolted G.O.P. to Back F. R.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The death of Senator Bronson Cutting (Rep., N. M.) in an airplane crash Monday opened a gap in the front rank of American political liberals.

Cutting was an effective member of the powerful senate progressive group which has been forcing successive administrations toward policies denounced by conservative statesmen as radical.

Background of Wealth.

Cutting went to southwestern journalism and ultimately politics from a background of wealth in the east. He inherited a fortune and, like President Roosevelt, was educated at Groton school and Harvard.

When a handful of progressive Republican senators bolted the then President Hoover in 1932, Cutting was among them. With Senator Norris (Rep., Neb.) and Senator La Follette (Prog., Wis.), Cutting went over into the New Deal camp.

Not Indorsed.

Mr. Roosevelt, however, did not indorse Cutting's re-election last fall.

Now the senate elections committee is studying Cutting's victory over Dennis Chavez, Demo-that important department in its formative period. Mr. Foster, working all his life under physical handicaps, showed wonderful courage and perseverance. Courteous and industrious, capable and resourceful, his greatest equipment was his integrity and character. He was an honor to his community as a business man and an example of high and devoted purpose as a servant of the state.

HERMAN KNAPP was born in Poultney, Rutland County, Vermont, December 28, 1863, and died in Ames, Iowa, March 22, 1935. Interment was in the State College burying grounds. He was brought by his parents, Seaman A. and Maria E. (Hotchkiss) Knapp, in their removal to Vinton, Iowa, in 1867. He received his preparatory education at Tilford Academy, Vinton, and entered Iowa State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts at Ames as a freshman in 1880 and received the degree of B. S. A. in 1883. The same year he became deputy treasurer of the college. In 1884 he was secretary to the president, in 1885 was assistant professor of agriculture, and in 1886 was placed in charge of the department of agriculture of the college. In 1887 he became treasurer and registrar. He was acting president of the college during absences of President Raymond A. Pearson between 1920 and 1926, and from the time of Dr. Pearson's resignation in 1926 until the appointment of Raymond M. Hughes in 1927. He was then made vice president. He was captain of the college cadet corps as early as 1883. During the Spanish-American War he had charge of all cadet corps recitations and drills in the absence of General James Rush Lincoln. Professor Knapp was in military service in the Iowa National Guard as well as with the cadet corps at the college. In 1905 he became captain of Company C, Fifty-fifth Regiment, the company having quarters in the Armory at the college. In 1909 he was promoted to major and appointed adjutant general of the First Brigade, and was honorably discharged December 31, 1913. He was a member of the Ames School Board from 1903 to 1906, and was also a member of the Ames Library Board. He was a member of the Sons of the American Revolution and served as president of the State Society in 1903. In 1928 he was awarded the honorary degree of LL. D. by the State University of Iowa. His unbroken and efficient service of a full half century as instructor and administrator of his alma mater caused his friends to give a dinner in his honor in the hall of the Memorial Union November 19, 1933, which was attended by about 300, most of whom were alumni of the college.

JOHN W. REYNOLDS was born in Sunderland, Durham County, England, August 6, 1857, and died in Albia, Iowa, May 6, 1935. Burial was in Oak View Cemetery, Albia. His parents were John and Mary Ellen Reynolds. He began working in coal mines when nine years old and was engaged in coal mining all his life. His education was got in night schools in England and in this country, and in private study. He emigrated to the United States in 1879, locating first in Plymouth, Pennsylvania, and shortly afterward at mining towns in Mahaska County, Iowa. For years he was a mine foreman and later a mine superintendent in some of the big mines of Mahaska and Monroe counties, such as Beacon, and the Ramsey mine. He was active in organizing miners' unions, and led with John T. Clarkson of Albia in the organization in Iowa of the United Mine Workers of America, and was its state president in the year 1894-95 which was in its formative period in this state. In 1897 he was elected representative from Mahaska County and served in the Twenty-seventh General Assembly. Politically he was a Democrat. During the last twenty years or so of his life he resided in Monroe County. In early life he became a member of the Methodist Episcopal church through conversion and was active in religious work all his life. By private study he qualified and passed the course prescribed by his church and was licensed to preach, though was never ordained as a minister, as providing for his family of wife and eight children seemed to require him to keep his business position, yet for fifteen or twenty years, mostly in Mahaska County, he supplied as a lay preacher, holding many regular appointments, and often speaking two or three times each Sunday. He was sincere, able and loyal to his adopted country. His criticisms were always constructive. He actively advocated the world court in which to settle differences between governments rather than by a resort to arms. Among those with whom he associated he exercised a positive influence for good.

LEWIS HENRY MAYNE was born near Ogdensburg, New York, September 2, 1858, and died in Emmetsburg, Iowa, April 3, 1935. Burial was in Evergreen Cemetery, Emmetsburg. His parents were Thomas and Jane Mayne. In 1863 the family removed to Mendota, Illinois, and in 1876 to a farm in Adair County, Iowa. In 1881 he attended the Northern Indiana University at Valparaiso and studied one year, and later attended Eureka College, Eureka, Illinois. He then spent several years teaching, and was four years in the United States railway mail service. In 1892 he became connected with the Algona Republican at Algona, Iowa. In 1894 he became publisher and editor of the Emmetsburg Reporter and retained the ownership of the paper until 1925, and most of the time was its editor. From 1902 to 1910 and again from 1922 to 1933 he was postmaster at Emmetsburg, eighteen years in all. In 1918 he was elected representative and was re-elected in 1920, and served in the Thirty-eighth and Thirty-ninth general assemblies. In the Thirty-ninth he was chairman of the Printing Committee. Mr. Mayne enlisted in Company K, Fifty-second Regiment Iowa Volunteer Infantry, on April 26, 1898, and was mustered May 25, 1898. The regiment rendezvoused at Des Moines and on May 25, 1898, was mustered into the service of the United States. Soon thereafter the regiment proceeded by railroad to Chattanooga, Tennessee, and remained in camp there until August 29, when it was returned to Des Moines. He was mustered out October 30, 1898. He prized highly the comradeship of
