Pioneer Resident Of Dyersville Dies

HON. HENRY TEGELER

WELL KNOWN LOCAL WOMAN WAS CALLED

Death Tuesday Terminated Long Illness of Mrs. Margaret Goerd.

Mrs. Margaret Goerd, 71 years of age passed away Tuesday morn- ing, July 12th at 1:15 o'clock after a lingering illness of six months. Death was due to compli- cations, and occurred at her home on West DeWitt street. Mrs. Goerd was first taken seriously ill about six months ago, gradually grow- ing worse despite every effort made to restore her health and avoid the inevitable. She finally succumbed at the time stated above death comin as an angel of mercy to end her suffering.

Mrs. Margaret Goerd, nee Mar- garet Holscher, was born on Feb. 2, 1861, in Dyersville and had spent her entire life time in and around this city. She was the dau- ghter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Hy- molscher, the former being one of the pioneer business men. Her early education was received in St. Francis school in this city and on April 19, 1882, just fifty years ago, she was united in marriage to Mr. Herman Goerd the late Rev. Fa- ther, Kortenkamp performing the ceremony in St. Francis church of this city.

Following their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Goerd settled on a farm near Dyersville and engaged in the pursuit of agriculture for about 22 years until 1904 when Mr. Goerd preceded her in death. She then moved to Dyersville to her home on West DeWitt street where she had resided ever since.

Surviving her are the following children: Charles of Dyersville; Frank of Cedar Rapids; Martha, Mrs. William McGowan of Dyersville; Emma Goerd of Dyersville and Henrietta, Mrs. Lawrence Oehr- le of Dyersville. Three children, Bernard, Clara and Henry prece- ded her in death. Also two brothers, Bernard and Henry Holscher, as well as two sisters, Mrs. L. A. Friedman and Mrs. Summer. The following brothers and sisters, also survive: Kathryn, Mrs. J. C. Dornes of Miami, Florida; Teresa, Mrs. Jacob Reiff of Dyersville; Frank Holscher of Dyersville; An- na, Mrs. John Schulte of Minne- apolis, Minn.; five grandchildren and other relatives also survive.

Mrs. Goerd's passing is a sad blow to the immediate family and she was ever, had the pleasure of knowing her. A devoted Christian mother and a staunch Catholic, she was a worthy daughter of the pioneers who went before her. Always possessed of a cheerful dis- position, a kind and pleasant na- ture, she was a true and devoted wife and mother. Her death is a loss to her family and to those who have known her, as a neighbor who will be an irrepar- able blow. As a member of the Catholic church she was always

HON. HENRY TEGELER DIED SUDDENLY ON FRIDAY LAST WEEK

HEART ATTACK FATAL TO PIONEER AND LEGISLATOR.

Was 79 Years of Age But Death Was Unexpected; Buried On Monday.

Death came with startling sud- denness Friday evening of last week to rob Dyersville of one of its most outstanding and beloved pioneer citizen. Hon. Henry Tegeler. A heart attack which visited the 79 year old pioneer in the early hours of the evening at his home proved fatal and in spite of all efforts to prolong life he passed away within a short time, fortified with the last rites of the church. Despite his advanced age Mr. Tegeler had generally been considered to be in good health and when the news spread that he had suddenly been summoned, it cast a pall of sor- row over the entire community.

Mr. Tegeler's life is closely iden- tified with the history of the com- munity in which he lived. Born at Quincy, Illinois, on September 19, 1852, he came to this country with his parents when still a small child, and spent his youthful days in the pioneer surroundings. His parents settled on a farm at Pine Hollow in Liberty township, Du- buque county living in a log cabin located on a forty acre tract of land owned by Mr. Tegeler's fa- ther, Gerhard. The building dis- appeared some years ago but Mr. Tegeler was always fond of his youthful associations and loved to visit the scene of his early home located about two miles west of Luxemburg.

He received his early education in a rural school near that place, where among others, Mr. Henry Vorwald of this city, was his school mate. Later he attended St. Francis Teachers' College at Milwau- kee, Wis. Concerning the log build- ing in which he lived, Mr. Tegeler often related that Indians were fre- quent visitors in the days of his youth and deer and other wild game was plentiful enough. Mr. Tegeler was an exceptional scholar and after he had completed his education in the rural school and spent more time assisting his par- ents with the work about the farm he became, at the age of 21 years, a school teacher, commencing his first term as teacher in the one- room rock school house located 2 miles northeast of Dyersville in the year 1874. This school has an interesting history which goes back three quarters of a century. Until his death Mr. Tegeler was the oldest living teacher of this school.

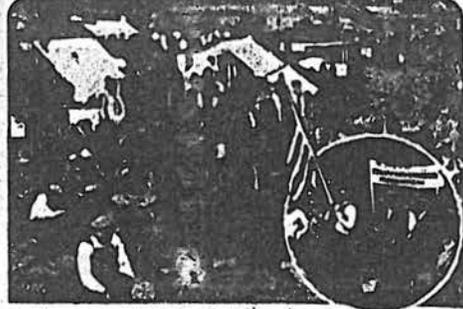

On October 18, 1877, the deced- ed was united in marriage to Miss Anna Burkle in the old St. Francis church building in this city. Rev. Father Kortenkamp perform- ed the ceremony. Mrs. Tegeler, now 73 years of age, who is the daughter of Ralph Burkle, first teacher in the Dyersville parochial school and the frat. organist of St. Francis church. This fall the couple would have celebrated their 55th wed- ding anniversary.

Following their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Tegeler took up the pur- suit of agriculture on a farm east of this city where success came to them after many years of hard toil and they eventually retired and came to this city to live. In 1908 Mr. Tegeler was elected state representative and served a term in the legislature at Des Moines. He served twelve years as town- ship clerk of New Wine township and in recent years was justice of the peace in this community.

In community affairs he was ex- ceedingly active and a member of the Iowa Agricultural College legis- lators' collection. He was for many years a member of the local Commercial club and identified himself with every civic

NATURE STEPS INTO GRASSHOPPER FIGHT

Disease Kills the Pest.—Gather Dead Insects, Spread Disease.

A special from Chamberlain, S. Dakota says that hundreds of farm- ers from all over this grasshopper infested area were flocking Mon- day to the Crow Creek section where it is reported hoppers are dying by the millions, being sud- denly infected with a plague that promises to rid that community of its pests in short order.

Farmers visiting the Crow Creek community were collecting dead and diseased hoppers in large quantities and taking them back to their fields to be scattered among healthy hoppers in the hope that they too will become infected and further spread the disease.

Persons who have visited the Crow Creek section say that dead hoppers are found on stalks of corn or grain where they had been eating and had apparently been suddenly stricken. It is said that the stench arising from the dead insects can be smelled a consider- able distance. It was this stench that first attracted attention to the wholesale death of the pest.

WILL HAVE HARVEST HOME PICNIC HERE

August 10th Date Set for Event to Take Place of $1000 Days.

At a meeting of the board of Directors of the Dyersville Com- mercial club held here last night, it was definitely decided not to stage the annual $1000 days celebra- tion this year. Instead however it was voted to have an old fash- ioned harvest home picnic which will be held at the Dyersville park on Wednesday August 10th.

While no details as to arrange- ments have as yet been made, there will in all probability be a baseball game in the afternoon with other amusements to follow, and dancing in the evening.

The departure from the usual $1000 days is of course necessitated because of economic conditions and while the event had to be postponed this year, the Commercial Club hopes that they will be able to fall back in line and put on the big show again next year. Full details regarding the Harvest Home picnic will be announced in due time in the Commercial.

Dyersville Fire Dept. Surely Not Getting Breaks

When it comes to not "getting the breaks" as they say in base- ball, the Dyersville Fire depart- ment and its chief Ed. Cunningham are surely anything but lucky. Witness what happened Tuesday evening of this week. For two time the motor in the truck had needed repairing and Fire chief Cunningham, himself a mechanic by trade, was for a long time re- luctant about taking the truck into the garage and starting to overhaul it because he was afraid that a fire might break out just when the truck would be unable to answer the call. So the chief put things off for a while but finally decided something had to be done so he brought the truck to the Ford garage where he is employed and Tuesday afternoon began work- ing on the motor. Sure enough, just when he had everything about the fire siren fixed, for the first time in several months and there the chief was, apparently "right short". He had however played "Safety First" and prepared for just such an emergency and only a minute or so after the siren had been set off, spectators were treat- ed to the novel sight of a fire truck being towed down a street by the garage wrecker. So the boys were all set, just the same as it turned out, however, the fire was of no consequence any-

MR. JOS. HANNON DROWNED HARTWIG TUESDAY EVENING

WAS SPENDING VACA- TION AT SUMMER RESORT.

Body Was Recovered One Hour Later.—Removed to His Home.

A sad accident occurred at the summer resort at Hartwig last Tuesday evening, when Mr. Jos. Hannon of Langworth drowned in the river about 5:45 o'clock. Mr. Hannon had gone out to fish in a boat which he built himself, and in it he had a motor which he had rented from the proprietor of the cottages at Hartwig. The boat unexpectedly turned over and Mr. Hannon fell into the water, never coming to the top again. The accident occurred near the bank of the river, and the water was about 15 ft. deep.

A man from Earlville who hap- pened to be there summoned some divers, but all was in vain. Later Sheriff Penney and a crew of men arrived from Manchester and after a diligent search his body was recovered one hour later at the bottom of the river. His remains have been shipped to Langworth where the funeral will be held. Accompanying his wife is their little daughter two years of age, who was with them on the vaca- tion trip.

overrated in that kind of a board's action meets with the approval of the state director of the budget. At the same time the budget director will rule on the board's resolutions also adopted Tuesday transferring other funds to the poor fund and to the widows' pension fund.

The primary road improvement fund, which the board seeks to transfer to the poor fund, totals $70,095.66. This is the amount left of approximately $80,000 raised in 1924 by a levy for primary road bond redemption and interest.

When, in the following year, the state assumed all primary road indebtedness the attorney general's office ruled that this fund in Dubuque county was a "dead fund" and could be transferred to the county's general fund.

The board left the fund undisturbed as a sort of an insurance for some future emergency. This year when the demands upon the poor fund by far exceeded anything before in the history of the county, board members considered the advisability of transferring this money to the poor fund.

The report of County Treasurer Frank J. Hickson and County Auditor Peter J. Kies revealed that on June 1, the poor fund was overdrawn $69,522.00. With these reports before them Tuesday, the board adopted a resolution transferring the primary road bond fund to the general fund and then a second resolution transferring that amount from the general fund to the poor fund.

The increase in the poor fund, if the transfer is authorized by the budget director, will meet the overdraft of June 1, but will be insufficient to meet current and future demands on the fund. To further increase the fund the board adopted another resolution transferring $1,000 from the emergency fund, established to meet overdrafts of the poor fund, to the poor fund.

Another resolution adopted by the board Tuesday, which now goes to the budget director for his approval, provides for the transfer of $12,500 from the emergency fund to the widows' pension fund. This fund was $7,052.68 overdrawn on June 1.

The reports of the auditor and treasurer show that on that date the soldiers' and sailors' relief fund was overdrawn $1,070.53.

This article is not intended as a rebuke or parallel for our friends from Dubuque who attended the local celebration and noted the changes. But the fact that Jackson Square at Dubuque, one of the most convenient parks in the city for the downtown visitor, was once a cemetery, is something to think about when one considers the "radical" change discussed above. It came to our attention early this week when we were paging through a history of early Dubuque county. The Jackson square located at the northern end of

HON. W. TEGELER DIED SUDDENLY ON FRIDAY

(Continued from Page One) enterprise. The passing of Mr. Tegeler means to Dyer'sville the loss of one of its most outstanding citizens. A man whose character was unquestioned and whose concern in the welfare of community and state made him a citizen of which Dyer'sville could rightfully feel proud. Mr. Tegeler was honest, upright and fairminded in all his dealings. His enemies were few and his friends were legion in number. As a justice of the peace where he administered the law, he established in all who came to know him, a lasting confidence and respect for his high sense of honor. As a devoted member of the Roman Catholic church he adhered strictly to its teachings and his religion is reflected in his children. He was a member of the local council Knights of Columbus for many years, being a Past Grand Knight of the society. Here too, as in every other organization or movement in which he was a part, he never failed to distinguish himself by his devotion to duty. His chief interest in life, however, centered in his family and those close about him. He was a kindly man who endeared himself to his neighbors and all who came to know him through his acquaintance. His many kind deeds and good works were to some extent, brought to light after his death when friends from all over this section, from every walk of life, called at the Tegeler home to pay their last respects. Some of them were his former pupils of the days when he taught school in the old rock school house. Others were men and women, who through him, had secured positions or won other favors because of his influence. His passing will be greatly missed by the entire community in which he lived, but especially by the members of his family who remain to survive him. Surviving, besides his sorrowing wife are the following thirteen children, all of whom were present at the funeral, Nellie, Mrs. Joe Beckman of Dyer'sville, Aloysius of Nashua, Frank of Dubuque, A. HENRY TEGELER, residing on a farm of 200 acres in New Wine township, is a native of Illinois, born at Quincy, September 19, 1852, and is the son of Gerhard and Antonetta Tegeler. The parents came to the United States in 1844 and first located at Quincy, where for a time the father followed his trade as plasterer. They then came to Dubuque county, Iowa, and settled on a farm of forty acres in New Wine township. The land was rough and unbroken and no buildings were to be found on it, but Mr. Tegeler set to work with a will and by degrees brought his property to a high state of cultivation. By hard work and careful saving of his money he gradually prospered and became one of the foremost farmers in this section of the county. He was deeply in debt upon arrival in America, having had to borrow money for the ocean voyage, and also borrowed to buy his land in New Wine township, but he honorably met all obligations at the proper times and accumulated a competency. Mr. Tegeler died December 27, 1900, aged seventy-three years, followed by his wife December 9, 1901, at the age of seventy-six, and both were buried in the family lot in the cemetery at Dyersville. Henry Tegeler attended the district schools of New Wine township until twelve years old, and the following thirteen years remained on the old homestead assisting his father. He farmed rented land for a year, and then bought eighty acres, on which he paid $10 as a first installment. As time passed he prospered, and in 1891 he sold his farm and the following year bought his present tract of 200 acres. This is regarded as one of the finest farms in New Wine township, and Mr. Tegeler is engaged in general farming and extensive cattle raising. He is also a stockholder in the Farmers' State Bank. As a Democrat in politics he has served twelve years as township clerk and in 1908 was elected to the Lower House of the State Legislature. Socially he is identified with the Knights of Columbus, the Catholic Order of Foresters, and in religious views is an adherent of the Roman Catholic faith. October 18, 1877, at Dyersville, he was united in marriage with Miss Anna Burkle, daughter of Ralph and Mary Burkle. Her father was the first teacher in the parochial school at Dyersville, was also a carpenter, and later bought a farm of 190 acres near that city, where he has since resided. To Mr. and Mrs. Tegeler the following named family of children have been born: Nettie, who married Joe Bechman, farming in New Wine township; Louis, a mechanic at Nashua, Iowa; Frank, government inspector of irrigation at Boise, Idaho; Anthony, carpenter at Waterloo, Iowa; Annie, at home; Leo, teaching school; Hago and Victor, assisting on the farm at home; Irene, at home; Eleanora, at home; Hildegard, attending school; Modesta, at school, and Waldemar, also at school. Mr. Tegeler has always taken great interest in local affairs of importance and is one of the county's representative citizens.

WILLIAM GRAHAM. The history of William Graham, lawyer and citizen of Dubuque, is one which exemplifies all those good qualities which form the character of the self-made man, and as such it conveys its own lesson to every young man who may read it. This article will commend itself to all citizens of Dubuque as an honest, though imperfect, attempt to tell them something of the life of one who, in official and private life, has patriotically striven to do his whole duty and in so doing has become eminent as an honest man and an able attorney. He was born March 2, 1831, in Montgomery, Orange county, New York, the third son of William and Hannah (Houston) Graham. The father was a farmer and a man of influence and prominent in Orange county. He served as a member of the Lower House of the State Legislature, and declined the office of State Senator and the nomination for Congress. His mother was a graduate of Miss Pierce's school at Litchfield, Connecticut, and both were descended from old Scotch-Irish families of the Presbyterian faith. Their son, William Graham, the immediate subject of this memoir, was educated in the Orange county public schools and the Montgomery Academy, later by examination entering the junior class at Union College. Upon entering he stood seventieth in his class, but at graduation ranked third, the class ranking higher in scholarship than any previously graduated from that institution. Many of this same class have made names for themselves in the various walks of life and have attained prominence in public affairs. Succeeding his graduation Mr. Graham entered the office of Hon. John J. Monell, Newburgh, New York, and there read law for three years, and was admitted to practice before the New York bar on January 8, 1856. While thus employed he also was manager of the Newburgh Gas & Light Company, using the means thus procured to further his education. In August, 1856, he removed to Bellevue, Iowa, and was admitted to the Bar of Iowa on September 8 of that year, and then formed a partnership with Hon. John B. Booth, ex-judge of the district bench, which continued until the death of the latter in 1869. In Following service in World War II, he joined the DYERSVILLE NATIONAL BANK as assistant cashier and became one of the original officers of the Dubuque County Bankers' Association which was organized at that time. Tegeler returned to the State Bank of Worthington in 1953 when he and his wife, Verla Sue TEGELER, purchased controlling interest. He also purchased an insurance agency. Tegeler was cashier of the bank until 1956 when, after the death of President Herman J. Burger, he assumed the title of president and chairman-of-the-board. He retained these positions until March 9, 1991, when the Tegelers sold the bank and the insurance agency.

Tegeler served as president of the Worthington Commercial Club when the land was purchased to build the Worthington Memorial Baseball Field, dedicated on July 17, 1949, to veterans of World War I and II. TELEGRAPH HERALD. The last afternoon daily newspaper published in DUBUQUE. Beginning on Monday, September 16, 1996, the newspaper became a morning publication, following a trend in newspaper publishing which had seen more than 225 daily newspapers in the United States make a similar switch in the previous two decades. The Telegraph Herald was the successor of many earlier newspapers published in DUBUQUE. When it was first published on July 5, 1870, the Telegraph was managed by J. P. Quigley. John S. MURPHY was the city editor. Among the colorful people associated with the paper were Dennis A. MAHONY and later Patrick J. QUIGLEY. Mergers continued as the Telegraph and the Democrat joined in 1884 to briefly form the Telegraph-Democrat. On November 1, 1901, when the renamed Telegraph joined with the Herald. The paper relocated from rented offices at 7th and Main into new surroundings at 5th and Main. Under the leadership of Fred W. WOODWARD, the successor of Quigley, the Telegraph-Herald merged with the Times Journal in 1927. The first issue of the newspaper printed from its present office at 8th and Locust appeared on July 14, 1930. The Woodward family purchased total control of the paper from the Quigley family in 1965. In 1966, the Telegraph Herald became the first newspaper to use the Goss Metro Offset double-wide press. In 1997, the newspaper was a division of WOODWARD COMMUNICATIONS, INC.

The first franchise was granted to Dubuque-Jerrold in 1954, and the first subscriber was linked to the system in May 1955. A series of new owners included regional and local companies. In 1972, Teleprompter, the first national multiple system owner, purchased the Dubuque franchise. Four years later, Dubuque became one of the nation's first systems to offer Home Box Office. During the same year, the cable operator constructed the first satellite-receiving station in Iowa. In 1981, Westinghouse bought Teleprompter and renamed the system Group W. Be-

Theophilus Crawford

Honorable Theophilus Crawford was born in Vermont in 1806. He was one of the earliest Yankee Settlers who chose land around the head waters of Hewitt Creek, North East of Dyersville. He spent his earliest days at McKee settlement, than at Dyersville, where he was justice of the peace in 1856. In later life he moved to a farm one mile west of Peosta where he died in 1877.

Not much is known of his personal life but his active life as a public servant gives us a record of his outstanding service to residents of this area. He was a member of the Territorial Land Commission of Iowa in 1844, whose principal work was to lay out State Lines and boundaries.

He was a State Senator, representing Dubuque County in 1846 and 1848. State Representative: 1850, 1858, and 1876. County Supervisor: 1865, 1867, 1868, 1869, 1873, and 1874.

John Christoph

John Christoph was born in Bavaria, May 2, 1832, son of Michael and Anna Barbara Christoph and came with the first Bavarian group in 1846 at the age of 14 years. It is true that his school days ended when he left Germany, but during the first short stay at McKee settlement, John struck an acquaintance with Mr. Crawford (see Biography of Theo. Crawford) who was a lawyer. As he had been a good student in Germany, Michael allowed his promising son to pursue a home course in law under the tutelage of this lawyer.

Although principally engaged in farming, Mr. Christoph held many public offices. He held all township offices, serving as Justice of the Peace from 1862 to 1866. His Justice office was located in the vicinity of the present Emporium store.

In 1860 he was the County Superintendent of Schools. He was a member of the Iowa Legislature for four terms 1864, 1870, 1872 and 1873. Mr. Christoph was attending a General Assembly in Des Moines in 1872, when his eldest son, John Jr. died at home of typhoid fever.

Mr. Christoph married Anna Marie Schweitzer in 1855. They had the following children: Anna (Mrs. Henry Meyer), William, Caroline, and Teresa (died in infancy), Elizabeth, died while a novice in the Convent at St. Donatus, south of Dubuque, Rose (Mrs. Joe Weber) Valentine, Caecelia, (Mrs. John Steger), Agatha (Mrs. Mike Stoeckl) and Pauline, who died young. Mr. Christoph died from appendicitis Aug. 30, 1883 and his wife died March 16, 1891.

Anthony H. Limback

Anthony H. Limback, was born in Wheeling, West Virginia. He came to this territory in 1857. He held many offices of public trust in Dyersville during the years 1873 to 1876. In 1888 he served as State Representative from Dubuque County to the 22nd General Assembly.

On April 28, 1863, he married Josephine Botsford. Their children were: John A., Joseph B., Eva J. (Mrs. Conrad May), Henry, and several other children who died in infancy. Mr. Limback died Sept. 19, 1907 and his wife died in 1909.

Henry Tegeler

Henry Tegeler was born at Quincy, Illinois, in 1852. He came to Dixon Settlement about 1854 with his parents and in 1865 moved again with them to McKee Settlement. Henry taught school for several years after pursuing a higher education at the St. Francis Seminary, Milwaukee.

Although farming was his principal occupation, he served as a member of the 33rd General Assembly of the Iowa State Legislature as Representative from Dubuque County in 1909. On the home front, he was one of the organizers of the Golden Star Creamery Company of Dyersville.

Mr. Tegeler married Anna Burkle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raphael Burkle (early teacher of Dyersville). They had the following children: Antoinette (Mrs. Joseph Beckmann), Alton, Frank, Anthony, Anna (Mrs. John Drees), Leo, Hugo, Victor, Irene, Eleanor (Mrs. H. Honorable
John Christoph

Telegram from Mr. John Culver who is our present Congressman and although not a native son, has visited this area often and has our interests at heart.

Congressman John Culver
May 23, 1972

Robert Sack
Dyersville, Iowa

My warmest congratulations on your appointment as director of the activities for the One-Hundredth Anniversary of Dyersville Incorporation.

I would like to take this opportunity to commend you as well as all others who, through history, have contributed to the community, growth and change in Dyersville during the last 100 years.

Here in Northeast Iowa, we have long realized the importance of developing rural America - to keep our young men and women with their talents, their energies, and their education - here at home where they can continue the vigorous and sound development which their parents and grandparents started.

The strength of Dyersville since first founded in 1837 has been the local spirit consisting of solid rural character blended with the prosperity of the town's business growth.

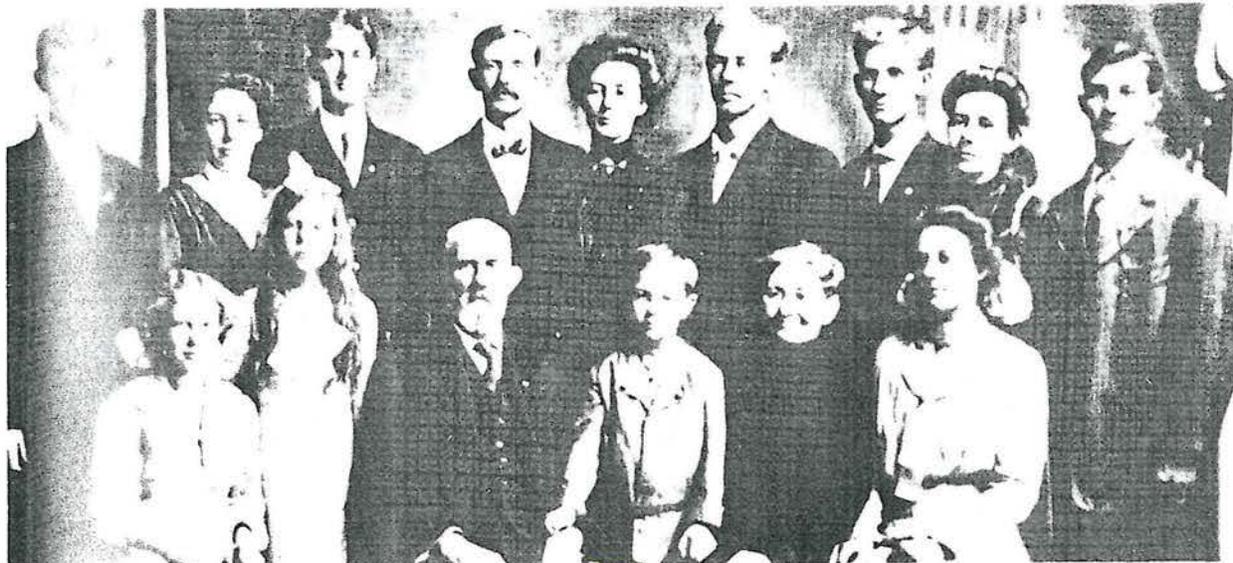

We must not forget the tradition and great accomplishments of the past which have formed the unique heritage of Dyersville, while at the same time recognizing new opportunities for future years.

My best wishes for a most enjoyable celebration and for continued progress.

CONGRESSMAN JOHN C. CULVER

Mr. and Mrs. John Manley
