

4.8 Irreconcilable statutes.

If statutes enacted at the same or different sessions of the legislature are irreconcilable, the statute latest in date of enactment* by the general assembly prevails. If provisions of the same Act are irreconcilable, the provision listed last in the Act prevails.

[C73, 75, 77, 79, 81, §4.8]

*See Attorney General opinion, May 16, 1973; §2B.13(1)(h)

Intent of general assembly that §7E.6 govern compensation of members of boards, committees, commissions, or councils; see §7E.6(7)