

CHAPTER 133
IV-A EMERGENCY ASSISTANCE PROGRAM

PREAMBLE

This chapter defines and structures the department of human services' IV-A emergency assistance program. This program is designed to extend a menu of services to children who are victims or at risk of abuse or neglect, at risk of out-of-home placement, or in need of care or treatment. These rules define emergency assistance services as family-centered services, family preservation services, foster care, protective day care and wrap-around services. The rules further outline an application process, eligibility criteria, methods of service provision, and duration of service.

The family assistance fund provides assistance in meeting basic needs of a child and a child's family such as housing, which may be needed to prevent homelessness, transportation, clothing and food.

“Family-centered services” means services which utilize a comprehensive approach to address the problems of individual family members within the context of the family.
