

21—91.4(203) Grain dealer license not transferable. A grain dealer license is not transferable between different legal entities. A grain dealer license may be amended to cover a name change of the same legal entity. The licensee shall give the bureau notice of a proposed name change. The bureau shall confirm the name change with the secretary of state or other governmental agency prior to amending the license.

This rule is intended to implement Iowa Code section 203.7.
