

223—23.2(303) Categories of historical markers. The society may erect markers to commemorate or memorialize Iowa history in any of three categories.

1. Persons or organizations from all walks of life whose contributions or notoriety in their communities, counties, or the state as a whole merit widespread recognition;
2. Sites such as historic buildings, avenues of transportation, or other places where important events have occurred; or
3. Events which have state or regional significance.
